Culliton Succeeds McCarthy As Commerce College Dean

New Development Program Organized

Dean James E. McCarthy has been appointed Dean Emeritus of the College of Commerce and Dr. James W. Culliton has succeeded him as Dean, according to an announcement by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president. In his new post McCarthy will be in charge of the College of Commerce development program. Culliton has been a member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1951.

During Dean McCarthy's 32-year tenure, commerce school enrollment has grown from less than 400 to more than 1,500 students, making it the largest college at the University. At the same time the college's curriculum and faculty were greatly expanded.

"Notre Dame men everywhere are indebted to Dean McCarthy for his generous and devoted service for so many years," Father Hesburgh stated. "We wish him continued success as dean emeritus in promoting the College of Commerce development, which will make possible the full fruition of his life's work: the presence everywhere in industrial affairs of highly competent Notre Dame men whose knowledge is matched by integrity of purpose and dedication to a better America.

"At this moment in the historical development of Notre Dame's College of Commerce, the University is fortunate in having Dean Emeritus McCarthy dedicate himself to this newest step forward towards the fullest development of the College of Commerce whose growth he has guided from its earliest years," Father Hesburgh emphasized.

The establishment of a College of Commerce development program was recommended by Dean McCarthy and his faculty in a recent report, Father Hesburgh said. The report stressed the need for developing new and increased sources of financial support so that the college may reach its full internal development, he explained. He cited improved facilities, a library and faculty development as essential to the continued academic improvement of the college.

Dean Emeritus McCarthy is a director of the First Bank and Trust Company and the Associates Investment Company, South Bend; the Advertising Council, Inc., New York; and the Gerity-Michigan Corporation, Adrian, Mich. He is a trustee of the Foundation for Economic Education; a member of the American Marketing Association, the National Association of Cost Accountants and the American Institute of Management, and he is associated in an advisory capacity with Junior Achievement, Inc.

Born in Holyoke, Mass., he graduated from Columbia in 1916 and joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1921 as an instructor in foreign trade. He is the author of The Physical Assets of the State of Indiana and The Earnings and Distribution of Income of Indiana Corporations.

During the past three years Culliton has been director of Notre Dame's Program for Administrators, which integrates a broad liberal arts education with specialized training.

From 1937 to 1941 and again from 1944 to 1951 Dr. Culliton was an associate professor at Harvard University, where he received his master's degree and doctorate. He took his undergraduate work at Canisius College, Buffalo, N. Y. During World War II he was executive director of the Post War Readjustment Committee of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He also taught for one year at Boston College (1941-42).

Dr. Culliton is the author of several publications of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. Among them are Writing Business Cases, The Management of Marketing, The Use and Disposition of Ships and Shipyards at the End of World War II, and Make or Buy. A native of Buffalo, N. Y., Culliton is married to the former Jane K. Hogan of that city. They have four sons.

Corporations Ask: Do Your Alumni Support N. D.?

Slightly more than fifty percent of Notre Dame alumni took part in the Annual Alumni Fund for 1954-55. That was a good record, notably good compared with the showings of the alumni of many other colleges and universities.

If, percentage-wise, the participation of Notre Dame alumni in the Annual Fund could be increased, the effect for Notre Dame, just now, would be incalculable. One very large foundation is trying to decide the particular educational institutions which will receive parts of one of the greatest sums ever to be given away. This foundation is circulating questionnaires among universities and colleges. Significantly, this foundation wants to know, How many alumni are supporting your institution?

Of all university and college alumni, certainly Notre Dame's are among the most loyal. When they sense an opportunity for the University, they are likely to take advantage of it. But a large part of our alumni are young. Some 65 percent of them have been graduated since 1940. This means that 65 percent are under 36 years of age. A large number are raising families, sending sons and daughters to school, helping build churches, schools and hospitals, obligating themselves for insurance as protection for their loved ones.

These alumni are saying to themselves, "In a few years, I shall do my part for Notre Dame. I cannot do it now."

If, however, participation of Notre Dame alumni can be advanced from fifty to ninety percent—or 100 percent—it is almost inevitable that corporations, non-alumni supporters, and foundations will take even a more generous and lively interest in the programs of Notre Dame. The number of alumni who participate in supporting the University, by a gift of one dollar or even fifty cents, is important today, not only in itself but in what it will influence others to do.

Because of this fact, Foundation Week was started on the campus last year. Foundation Week was conducted by the students themselves. They wanted a large response from the student body. So one of the rules they established was this: No student is permitted to give more than five cents. Nearly every student on the campus was approached. The results were remarkable. Ninety-two percent of the student body on campus gave to the Foundation. This was an expression of each student that he assumed some responsibility in the work of the Foundation, that he understood what the Foundation was trying to do, and that he heartily endorsed the Foundation Program.

The importance now placed upon the number of alumni and students who assist the University is likely to be continued for many years. By this direct appeal to alumni and by the Foundation Week, we hope to instill in Notre Dame men the habit of giving what they can every year. If the alumnus gives one dollar, and this is all that his budget permits, he may derive merit as great as another who gives one thousand dollars. Not only that, but his dollar may be multiplied by several times, through the influence his participation will have upon corporations, foundations, and non-alumni friends of Notre Dame.

The Class of 1906 will celebrate its Golden Jubilee next June.

What is it that, through the years, has made it one of the unique and one of the great Classes?

Sixty-six Senior pictures in the first DOME — the year-book founded by this Class.

Fifty-eight degrees awarded!

Perhaps it was the impetus of the first year of the golden presidency of the late Rev. John W. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., whose oratory and personality raised the focus of Notre Dame from the Midwest to the world.

Undoubtedly it was in part the historic giants, the pillars of learning and tradition whose pictures as administrators and faculty graced that first DOME.

When you start to name names, you are always in trouble. But asking the indulgence of those who may be omitted, let me call some of the names of that Class of 1906, inscribed in the history of the past and the present of Notre Dame, and still pushing pioneer paths into the future.

Twelve members of the Class remained as priests of the Congregation of Holy Cross and two became secular priests—can you picture the Church today if those same percentages prevailed? And the caliber of the men!

Father Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., priest, poet, World War I chaplain, president of Notre Dame 1928-1934, builder, scholar. Fathers Jim Gallagan, Gene Burke, Charles Doremus, Ed Finnegan, Con Hagerty, John Mc Ginn, John Ryan—all authors of pages of Notre Dame history as administrators, teachers, prefects, but mostly as personalities.

The Cushing Hall of Engineering—gift of the late John F. Cushing whose Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co. development included great contributions by engineering Classmates Feeley and Dubbs, and later many more men of Notre Dame.

The Morris Inn—gift of the late

Jim Armstrong

E. M. Morris, long-time Trustee and advisor of Notre Dame's development.

T. B. Cosgrove, another valued Lay Trustee of the University, outstanding Los Angeles attorney and leader of Notre Dame interests.

Arthur Funk, LaCrosse, Wis., manufacturer, whose interest in Notre Dame was translated into his estate with a $50,000 bequest this year, but whose family and activities contributed to Notre Dame all through his active life.

Frank "Shag" Shaughnessy, a pillar of athletic integrity and international friendship, as long-time president of the International League, a baseball great.

John F. Shea, who, with his brother Rev. Michael Shea, '04, is remembered by Notre Dame men everytime their "Victory March" is played, from the Notre Dame campus to the farthest corners of the world.

Those of us whose Classes passed 100 (for the first time in 1917), who watched the awarding of degrees climb to the 300s in the 1920s, and to the 1,000s in the 1940s and 1950s, can reflect on what Notre Dame can be, if at our Golden Jubilee our Class record is only a reasonable fraction of the spiritual, educational, national, and financial record of that Class of 1906, whose parting words in that first DOME were:

"With hearts full of confidence we set our faces toward the future, awaiting that day when our Alma Mater, still lifting far toward the Indiana blue the massive golden dome from which the Virgin Queen looks down benediction on Notre Dame du Lac, shall be and shall be so considered by all, one of the great universities of the world."

This was their faith—their dream at the beginning. Our inadequate summary and roll call capture in small measure the accompanying works of 50 years—works that have gone farther than any similar group of alumni to make their dream come true.

It is a text, a challenge, and an inspiration for all other Classes.

Grants Assist N.D. Research Projects

Notre Dame has received grants totalling $49,556 from the National Institutes of Health for research at its Lobund Institute and its departments of biology and chemistry.

The Lobund Institute was awarded a grant of $29,814 for research directed by Professor James A. Reyniers on "The Rearing and Study of Germ-free Animals." Reyniers is the founder and director of the Institute which has developed the germfree animal as a unique tool in biological and medical research.

Professor Charles E. Brambel, head of Notre Dame's biology department, received a grant of $12,193 in support of his research on "Blood Coagulation Inhibitors." A grant of $4,358 was awarded to Dr. Donald T. Chalkley, assistant professor of biology, for research on "The Differentiation in Vitro of Regeneration Blastema."

Rev. Thomas J. Lane, C.S.C., and Dr. James V. Quagliano, both of the chemistry department faculty, will share a $3,191 grant for "Studies of Aminoacid and Protein Metal Complexes."

This magazine is published bi-monthly by the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind. Entered as second class matter Oct. 1, 1930, at the Postoffice, Notre Dame, Ind., under the act of Aug. 24, 1912.

George Meany Receives 1955 Laetare Medal in Washington

For his "conspicuous leadership in the ranks of labor" and his "practical Christian life," George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor, was presented with the 1955 Laetare Medal. Notre Dame formally awarded the medal to Meany October 18 at a dinner in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C.

The Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, archbishop of Washington, conferred the medal upon the veteran labor official in the presence of Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame, and 200 guests of the University. Thomas E. Murray, a member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and the Laetare Medalist of 1952, served as toastmaster.

Meany is the first labor leader to receive the Laetare Medal since it was established in 1883. It is generally regarded as the most significant annual award made to Catholic laymen in the United States.

In a major address on "The Church and Labor," Archbishop O'Boyle hailed Meany as "the most important and most influential labor leader in the world." It is indeed fortunate, the Washington prelate declared, "that the number one labor leader in the free world is a religious-minded man, a man who firmly believes in God and in God's moral law and is proud to be identified as a loyal communicant of his own Church."

Archbishop O'Boyle noted that

Catholic workingmen "have always been extremely well represented in the ranks of organized labor and have probably produced more than their proportionate share of outstanding labor leaders." He attributed this, in part, to "the friendly attitude of the Church in America to the cause of trade unionism."

The Archbishop of Washington emphasized that the Church "has no ulterior motives in the field of organized labor. . . . On the contrary, her only motive has been to promote the cause of justice and charity by encouraging her members to practice these virtues at every possible opportunity in cooperation with all other men of good will."

The Church believes unions are desirable and necessary, Archbishop O'Boyle said, "not only for the protection and advancement of the worker's interests, but, even, more important, for the development of a sound social order."

TV Station Dedication Honors David Sarnoff

WNDU-TV, Notre Dame's new television station, was formally dedicated October 1, during a weekend of ceremonies which also included a special convocation and a network telecast from the campus.

At the academic convocation September 30, an honorary Doctor of Science degree was bestowed on Brigadier General David Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corporation of America. General Sarnoff, a pioneer of the American radio and television industry, delivered the principal address at the convocation.

Also on Friday evening, singer Eddie Fisher's popular television program, "Coke Time," was broadcast from the campus over the NBC network.

At the formal dedication ceremonies the following day, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame president, blessed the station's new studio-office building, constructed this summer immediately north of the Drill Hall on the campus.

WNDU-TV, which transmits on UHF channel 46, actually signed on the air and began operations July 15.

(Ed. Note: Notre Dame magazine will publish a full-length feature article on the TV Station dedication in the Winter, 1955 issue.)

Father Hesburgh looks on approvingly as Archbishop O'Boyle pins the 1955 Laetare Medal on AF of L President George Meany in Washington, D.C., October 18.

Chicagoans Begin Series of Lectures

In the May-June issue of ALUMNUS, Jim Armstrong wrote a thought-provoking editorial on the need for intellectual activities on alumni clubs' calendars of events.

Coincidentally, the Notre Dame Club of Chicago had long been considering such an activity, and shortly before the article was published the club had arranged a series of informal lectures by representatives of the University.

The series began October 9 with Rev. Charles E. Sheedy, C.S.C., dean of the College of Arts and Letters, speaking on "Liberal Education Today: Its Curriculum and Objectives." The second lecture in the series was held November 13.

Conducted at the Sheraton Hotel in Chicago, the informal series is open to wives and friends as well as alumni. No fee is charged, although voluntary contributions are asked to defray the low costs of the lectures. "We don't hope for anything too lofty or far-reaching in this program," say Chairman Maurice Lee and Club President Joe McCabe. "In fact, the attempt at anything monumental would defeat the whole purpose of the activity—to do something to encourage the intellectual life of the club.

"We know that many of our members belong to Great Books courses, study clubs and the like. We feel that a closer contact with the men who either supervise or participate in student instruction at the University will be invaluable in increasing interest in intellectual matters.

"We're hoping for the best—but keeping the pressure off."

CIVIC DINNER CELEBRATES ST. MARY'S CENTENNIAL

A civic testimonial dinner honored St. Mary's College, October 13, on its 100th anniversary. Sponsoring organizations included the South Bend-Mishawaka Committee of 100, South Bend Association of Commerce and the Mishawaka Chamber of Commerce. About 600 people attended the affair held in LeMans Hall on the St. Mary's campus. The principal speaker was Dr. Frederick L. Hovde, president of Purdue University. Others on the

Plan Field Work For Penologists

Students enrolled in Notre Dame's graduate Correctional Administration Program will receive full-time field work experience in selected correctional agencies throughout the country beginning next Spring.

Experienced personnel in probation, parole and other correctional agencies will supervise the students' work during the Spring semester. The field work will supplement courses such as Criminology, Juvenile Delinquency, Social Case Work Theory, Probation and Parole, and the Administration of Correctional Institutions which will be offered at the University during the Fall and Summer. In addition, the students will be required to attend two in-service training workshops on the campus in June.

Notre Dame first offered special training in the fields of probation, parole and prison administration in 1929. It is believed that this was the first training of this type offered at any American university. The course of studies which evolved through the years was discontinued temporarily during World War II and formally organized in a new Correctional Administration Program in 1947. Since that time 74 Notre Dame students have received master's degrees in this specialized field.

Robert E. Pollitt of the Wisconsin Bureau of Probation and Parole has been appointed director of the Correctional Administration Program. Serving as advisors to the Program are Dr. Frank T. Flynn, University of Chicago; Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh, New York Department of Correction; Hugh P. O'Brien, chairman, Indiana Board of Correction; Russell G. Oswald, Director of Corrections, Wisconsin Department of Public Welfare; and Dr. J. P. Shalloo, University of Pennsylvania.

program were: Sister M. Madeleva, C.S.C., president of St. Mary's College; Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C.; John A. Scott, '38, Mayor of South Bend, and Albert L. Doyle, Mayor of Mishawaka. Dr. Alex Jardine, superintendent of schools in the city of South Bend, served as toastmaster.

Demonstration Trial on Campus

Washington Hall took on the atmosphere of a courtroom October 8 when the Notre Dame Law School presented a demonstration trial in the campus theater.

Judge F. Kenneth Dempsey of the Superior Court of St. Joseph County (Ind.) presided. A jury of Law School freshmen delivered the verdict after hearing the evidence brought out by South Bend Attorneys Roland Obenchain, Jr., and George Beamer, '29, representing the plaintiff and defendant respectively.

Purpose of this demonstration trial, according to Dean Joseph O'Meara of the Notre Dame College of Law, "was to galvanize the interest of the students at the threshold of the school year, and to enable them to bring to their studies the greater insight afforded by seeing for themselves, at first hand, how the judicial process works."

New Students From 18 States

The First Year Class this fall has in many respects a varied background. They come from 18 states and territories and from 30 colleges and universities. Their ages extend from 20 to 30, with their average age 23.4. One-third of the class are veterans and one-sixth are married. Three of the students have advanced degrees: one PH.D. and two M.A.'s.

The 18 states and territories represented are: New York, Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey, Ohio, Hawaii, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Michigan, Connecticut, Texas, Florida, California, Tennessee, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, and Washington.

The 30 colleges include: Notre Dame (less than half the students come from here), Canisius, Yale, University of Michigan, St. Peter's, Michigan State, UCLA, Seton Hall, Bridge-water State Teachers' College, Union, Baldwin-Wallace, University of Hawaii, Minnesota State Teachers' College, Loras, University of Kansas, Trinity, The Citadel, St. Mary's, Columbia, John Carroll, Aquinas, Duquesne, Lafayette, Xavier, University of Dayton, LaSalle, Providence, Ottawa, University of Detroit, and Michigan State Normal.

Luna Joins Faculty, Edits Forum

Dr. Antonio de Luna has been appointed visiting professor of natural law at Notre Dame and acting editor of The Natural Law Forum, the new publication of the Notre Dame Law School.

An authority on both natural and international law, Professor Luna has been a faculty member at the University of Madrid since 1932. He is one of several internationally recognized figures appointed to the Notre Dame faculty under the University's Distinguished Professors Program.

The Natural Law Forum, which Professor Luna will edit, will publish articles of the highest scholarship on natural law in the context of today's world. The publication will feature reports on developments in the field of natural law and is expected to make Notre Dame the international center of information on the subject.

(Ed. Note: This is the initial presentation of ALUMNUS news devoted exclusively to activities of the Law School and the Notre Dame Law Association. Preparation of material was through the cooperation of Dean Joseph O'Meara).

Add Kellenberg, Broden on Leave

A new fulltime member of the Notre Dame law faculty is Assistant Prof. Conrad L. Kellenberg, formerly associated with the prominent New York law firm of Spencer and Iserman.

Professor Kellenberg earned his bachelor of arts degree in 1949 at St. John's University and his LL.B. from Columbia University in 1952. That year he was admitted to practice in New York, and in 1953 he joined Spencer and Iserman.

Assistant Prof. Thomas F. Broden, '49, has been granted a two-year leave of absence to accept an appointment as counsel for the Committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives. He has been serving in that capacity since February.

Clark Presides over Moot Court

Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark was one of three federal judges presiding at the sixth annual Moot Court Competition of the Notre Dame Law School October 25.

Also hearing the final arguments of a hypothetical case were Judge Potter Stewart of the U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, Cincinnati, and Judge W. Lynn Parkinson of the U.S. District Court for Northern Indiana, South Bend.

The four Notre Dame law student finalists in the campus competition were: Ronald P. Mealey, Ridgewood, N. J.; Edward J. Griffin, Knoxville, Tenn.; William P. Fagan, Newark, N. J., and Edward F. Broderick, Jr., Morristown, N. J.

Mealey and Broderick, who were winners in the finals, received the Manion Award, and the right to represent the Law School in the regional round of National Moot Court Competition in Chicago, November 17-19.

Oklahoma City Club Names 'ND Boy Of the Year'

Something different in the way of awards was initiated this year by the Notre Dame Club of Oklahoma City. While most alumni clubs have Man of the Year awards, the Sooner State club has also chosen a Notre Dame Boy of the Year for Oklahoma, and will make a similar presentation annually hereafter.

The 1955 winner is David Anthony Brown of Mount St. Mary's High School, Oklahoma City. He was selected from a group of ten boys enrolled in Catholic high schools in the state who have been rated as outstanding by their respective school principals.

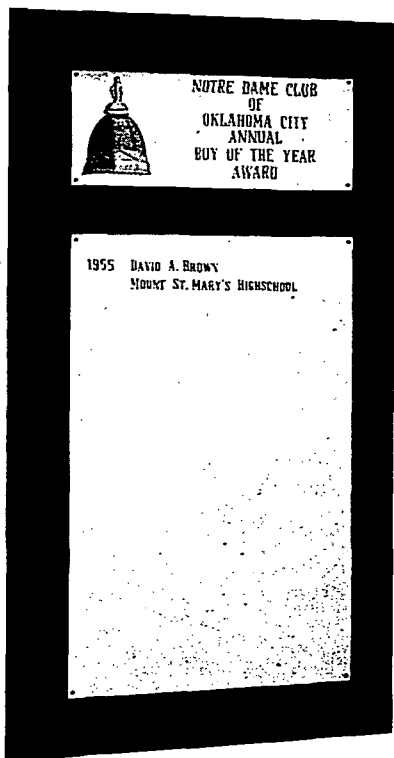

A gold plaque with the dome in relief was presented to young Mr. Brown and to his school by Robert McFarland, past president of the alumni club, at Mount St. Mary's commencement exercises.

The plaque, inscribed with the name of the winner and his school, will be

The  of Notre Dame Club Oklahoma City

hereby declares that it recognizes as the Notre Dame Boy of the Year for *who has, by his intelligent, Christian leadership and his fine scholastic standing proved himself capable of

Alumni.*

The club's Boy-of-the-Year presentation is a new feature of alumni program in Oklahoma City. Gold plaque is retained for one year by winner and high school he attended.

retained by the school until next year's recipient is selected.

Brown also received a scroll naming him Notre Dame Boy of the Year for 1955 "who has, by his intelligent, Christian leadership and his fine scholastic standing proved himself capable of further achievements of the type deemed so valuable by Notre Dame Alumni."

Each candidate for the award was given a small Notre Dame lapel pin.

The club submitted application forms to the various Catholic high schools in the state for completion by the school principal. Each was asked to name a candidate, "selected by a committee of teachers who have instructed him during his high school years," as the school's official entry, and to comment on the applicant's qualifications. The application stressed intelligence, religion, character, leadership, general behavior, appearance and outside activities as the points upon which the award winner is chosen.

Candidates are not obliged to be prospective Notre Dame students, and their collegiate affiliations are not a factor in the judging.

After the applications are received from the high schools, a committee of four Notre Dame alumni pass on the applicants. The announcement of the winner is made at the club's Notre Dame dinner each year.

Oklahoma City Club President Ed Kavanaugh reports that the program, organized by Foundation City Chairman Haskell Askew and Dr. Al Drescher "had such an enthusiastic reception that we have high hopes this activity will become one of the features of our club."

AMPHITHEATER HONORS MEMORY OF MARINE

Dedication of the amphitheater in Notre Dame's Student Center October 1 paid tribute to an alumnus who gave his life for his country and his earthly goods to the University.

Second Lt. Elmore Smith, USMCR, '50, was killed in action September 16, 1951 on the central front in Korea. In his will, the Marine left all his possessions toward the rebuilding of the Student Center.

Not long after this initial donation, work was begun on converting the Old Science Building into a center for student activities. A gift from Joseph LaFortune of Tulsa, Okla., member of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees, enabled the Center to be completed in 1954.

A native of the Bronx, N. Y., Lt. Smith received his commission upon graduation from Notre Dame and was called to active duty in October 1950. After training at the Marine Corps School at Quantico, Va. and service at Camp Lejeune, N. C., he requested combat duty and was attached to the First Marine Division in Korea.

The Smith Amphitheater seats 100 and is used as a television viewing room by the students and as the meeting place for the Student Senate.

A portrait of the lieutenant who remembered his fellow students now hangs in the amphitheater.

Engineers in Self-Study

Notre Dame is conducting a self-study of its College of Engineering to determine the type of education most likely to develop both the student's professional competence and those attributes which would prepare him for leadership in other areas of life.

The study, which will continue through May 1956, has been made possible by a $35,000 grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

To be explored are the proportion of liberal arts to technical courses, the relationship between the physical sciences and engineering subjects, and the proper balance between general and specialized undergraduate education.

The Self-Study Committee is headed by Dr. Ernest J. Wilhelm, associate professor of chemical engineering, and composed of other engineering professors. The College of Science and the College of Arts & Letters are represented on sub-committees.

FR. MURPHY CELEBRATES GOLDEN JUBILEE MASS

Fifty years in the priesthood were commemorated by Rev. Timothy R. Murphy, C.S.C., '01, in a Mass of Thanksgiving July 10 at St. Joseph's Church in the town of his birth, St. Joseph, Mich. Rev. Thomas Brennan, C.S.C., delivered the sermon at the Jubilee Mass.

Rev. Timothy R. Murphy, C.S.C.

On July 5, the anniversary of his ordination, Father Murphy celebrated a Mass of Thanksgiving for members of the Holy Cross community in Sacred Heart Church on the Notre Dame campus.

Father Tim spent several years at Notre Dame, serving as rector of Sorin Hall from 1905 to 1907 and as prefect of discipline from 1907 to 1910.

He has done parish work in New Orleans, La., Austin, Tex., Portland, Ore., and Kalamazoo, Mich. He has also been chaplain at St. Mary's College and at the Holy Cross Brothers' Columba Hall.

He is now retired and living at the Community Infirmary at Notre Dame.

Father Tim was a student at Notre Dame from 1896 to 1901 and also studied at Catholic University.

An Idea and Example

This letter speaks for itself:

Notre Dame Foundation
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, Indiana

Dear Sir;

Enclosed you will find my twenty-dollar contribution to the 1955 Foundation Fund Campaign. It is in keeping with my fond wish so long as I am able, to increase my contribution yearly by five dollars.

It is even with more pleasure I contribute this year knowing a brother will receive the full benefits of the Foundation by enrolling as a freshman in September.

With every best wish for continued success.

Very Truly Yours

Notre Dame Grad, Native of Guam, Fulfills Dream of Joining Marines

The sharp commands and the clean cut appearance of the drill instructor impressed the youngster. Some day he, too, would be a Marine.

He was only six years old . . . a native of Guam. Since he could remember he had watched the Marine sentinel walk post near his father's home and at the Beachmaster's Office where his father was Chief Custom Inspector for many years. The young Guamian had decided on the near impossible; he would go to America and join the Marines when he was older.

At the age of six he was a member of a Marine-coached drill team performing the Old Corps' "squads right" drill in the Plaza de Espana in the capital city of Agana. This was an annual event in which drill teams from every village competed. However, the drills and the young boy's dreams ended abruptly in 1941 when the Japanese captured Guam, but both ripened to maturity at a later date.

Today this Guamian, Captain Vincente T. Blaz, a 1951 Notre Dame graduate, is "Baker" Battery Commander, 10th Marine Regiment, and Marine Division. His story is one of success, patriotism, and devotion to the Marine Corps.

When the Japanese forces landed on Guam, young Blaz had finished the sixth grade in one of the American-run island schools. For the next two years he was forced, along with other natives, to attend the Japanese-sponsored schools to learn the Japanese language and customs and to forget American ways.

The American forces returned to Guam several years later and Vincente Blaz watched the Marines retrain and leave for the Iwo Jima campaign.

Following the Iwo Jima operation

the youthful Blaz met a Guamian among the battle-hardened Marines who stopped at Guam on their way to the States. Sergeant Major Henry A. Herrero, 3rd Division sergeant major, who left Guam in the 1920's and later joined the Marines, had paused in war-torn Agana to inquire about relatives.

In the rebuilt American school, young Blaz studied hard to re-learn the English grammar he had forgotten. His big chance came in 1947 with the announcement by the Bishop of Guam that competitive examinations would be given to select natives for study in American universities. The young Guamian's dreams were beginning to come true; he won a scholarship to Notre Dame.

Arriving in San Francisco on the first leg of his journey to Notre Dame, a bewildered Blaz revealed his lack of geographical knowledge of the United States and an affinity for taxi cabs; he directed a "cabbie" to drive him to the university. The obliging driver deposited his fare across the bay at Oakland's Notre Dame School for Girls where he received a brief geography lesson and the information that it was a three day train trip to his destination.

Chicago was the end of the line and Vincente, still relying on taxi cabs, ordered another driver to take him to Notre Dame. Commenting on the ride, Capt. Blaz jovially says, "About 97 miles and 35 dollars later I was at my destination."

In 1950 Congress passed legislation to grant American citizenship to all natives of Guam. The following year when Blaz graduated from Notre Dame with a Bachelor of Science in biology, he reported for active duty with the Marine Corps as a 2nd Lieutenant.

Assignment as assistant legal officer at Camp Pendleton, Calif., followed his attendance of the Naval School of Justice. Transferred to Japan, he served as provost marshal with the 9th Marine Regiment. Later he went to Korea where he served nine months as a company commander with the 5th Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division. He returned to the United States with the division earlier this year.

When Capt. Blaz reported to the 10th Marine Regiment at Camp Lejeune from the Army Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla., former Sgt. Maj. Herrero, now a commissioned warrant officer and the Tenth's personnel officer, received the captain's orders and welcomed his fellow Guamian aboard.

Captain Vincente T. Blaz, '51, (standing) and CWO Henry A. Herrero are members of the 10th Marine Regiment. Both men are natives of Guam and first met on liberated Guam during World War II when Blaz was a 15-year-old boy.

Dates to Remember 1955-56

HAYES DISCUSSES HISTORIAN'S ROLE

Carlton J. H. Hayes, the noted historian and diplomat, delivered a series of six lectures at Notre Dame during October on the role of the historian and the importance of history in modern culture.

Hayes is a professor emeritus at Columbia University, where he taught for 43 years, and the author of several historical works. From 1942 to 1945 he served as United States ambassador to Spain. An honorary alumnus of Notre Dame, he received the University's Laetare Medal in 1946.

Subjects of the Hayes' lectures were "The Making of a Historian," "The Profession of Historian," "Some Uses and Abuses of History," "History and Humanities," "History, Science and Religion" and "Is Clio a Lost Lady?"

The lectures were sponsored by Notre Dame's history department.

When he received the Laetare Medal, Hayes was cited "for his brilliant discharge of a wartime diplomatic mission that called for extraordinary tact and forthrightness."

Among his better known works are A Generation of Materialism, United States and Spain, Essays on Nationalism, and Contemporary Europe Since 1870.

Faculty Appointments for 1955-56 Include 4 New Department Heads

New department heads at Notre Dame for 1955-56 include: department heads Dr. Charles B. Brambel, biology; Dr. G. Frank D'Alelio, chemistry; Captain Thomas L. Greene, U.S.N., naval science; and Rev. Carl Hager, C.S.C., music.

Ivan Mestrovic, the celebrated sculptor; Gerhart Niemeyer, political science; Thomas G. Ward, who joins the Lobund Institute staff January 1st; Christopher L. Wilson, research professor of chemistry, are new fall professors.

Dr. Antonio de Luna has been visiting professor of law and acting editor of The Natural Law Forum, to be published by the Notre Dame Law School. Others appointed visiting professors are: Rev. I. M. Bochenski, O.P., and Edward F. Caldin, philosophy; and Michael P. Fogarty, economics. New visiting lecturers are: Frederick Bagemihl in mathematics and Ennio Canino in art and architecture.

Three new faculty members have been designated associate professors. They are Lt. Col. Paul A. Eckstein, U.S.A., military science; Edward W. Jerger, mechanical engineering; and Giuseppe Parravano, chemical engineering.

After a year's absence, Robert F. O'Brien has returned to the campus as director of the Notre Dame bands and assistant professor of music. Robert E. Pollitt, assistant professor of sociology, is the new director of the Correctional Administration Program.

Other new assistant professors include Donald N. Barrett, sociology; Joseph Bobik and Rev. Henri DuLac, philosophy; Joseph X. Brennan and Richard J. Schoeck, English; James E. Findlay, engineering drawing; Irving L. Glicksberg and William M. Huebsch, mathematics; Isidore Hodes, electrical engineering; and Jerome J. Judge, economics.

Also, David W. Juenker, physics; Conrad L. Kellenberg, law; Capt. Joseph F. Kleinsmith, U.S.A.F., air science; James P. Kohn, chemical engineering; Rev. John P. Lynch, C.S.V., Rev. William J. Price, Rev. John Quinlan, and Rev. John E. Williams, C.S.V., religion; Rev. Philip J. Mitchell, C.S.C., history; Sherman Shapiro, finance; Stan S. Thomas and Kwang-tzu Yang, mechanical engineering; Bernard S. J. Wostmann, Lobund Institute; and Edmund D. Urbanski, modern languages.

Instructors appointed this year are: David H. Battenfeld, Paul R. Baumgartner, Ross C. Brackney, Jr., Robert A. Rauch and John E. Semens, English; Rudolph S. Bottei, chemistry; Rev. William Dalton, Rev. Charles H. Henkey, Rev. George G. Kahle, C.S.C., Rev. Wilfred A. Menard, C.S.C., religion; John D. Donoghue, sociology; John J. Fargen, education; Peter P. Grande, testing and guidance; Mario B. Gutierrez, mathematics; Knight P. Leonard and James J. Manion, biology; Jan Z. Krasnowiecki, law; Joseph J. McGraw, architecture; Ralph M. McInerney and Arthur H. Schrynmakers, philosophy; Richard Stevens, developmental reading program; and Lt. John H. Sullivan, U.S.N., naval science.

Judge F. Kenneth Dempsey, Robert A. Grant and Graham W. McGowan, all South Bend attorneys, are serving as lecturers in the Notre Dame Law School this year. James J. Cavanaugh has been named a research assistant in the law school.

Carlton J. H. Hayes, prominent historian and former U. S. ambassador to Spain, discusses the lecture series he gave at Notre Dame this Fall with Father Thomas McAvoy, C.S.C., head of History Department.

Coach Brennan's 1955 Staff

Now in his second season as Notre Dame's head football coach, Terry Brennan has surrounded himself with an able staff of assistants of his own choosing, three of whom have joined him this year.

One sure candidate as the most successful assistant coach in the nation would be Notre Dame End Coach Johnny Druze. The former end and captain of Fordham's "Seven Blocks of Granite" team in 1937 was end coach and chief scout for Boston College in 1939 and 1940. He handled similar duties at Notre Dame in 1941 and after four years of Navy service returned to the University in 1946. In his 12 years of coaching, the teams he was associated with won 100 games, lost only 11 and tied six. He is the only Irish assistant remaining from Frank Leahy's staff.

Irish linemen cannot fail to be inspired by the record of Line Coach Bill Fischer, now in his second year as assistant to his old teammate Terry Brennan. "Moose" started his Irish football career in 1945 as a tackle but was shifted to guard the following year. Bill was consensus All-American in '47 and '48 and even made some A.A. first teams in his sophomore year. He put in five years with the Chicago Cardinals and one in the hotel business before returning to Notre Dame.

John Druze

Bill Fischer

Newest addition to Brennan's staff is Bernie Witucki, former head coach at Tulsa University and now assisting Terry with the Irish backs. Bernie entered Notre Dame in 1930 but transferred to George Washington University in '32, where he played varsity football. Next stop was coaching South Bend's Washington High School, where he amassed a record of 60 wins against six ties and only ten losses. After three years in the Navy, he directed the Evansville, Ind. Memorial High School teams through two successful seasons and served one year on the staff of the professional Chicago Rockets before moving on to Tulsa.

Line Coach Bill Walsh was an "iron man" teammate of Brennan and Fischer from 1945 through '48, playing in all 38 games during that tenure and starting in 27 of them. His reputation for heavy duty was maintained in the professional ranks during six seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers. He was starting center in every game during his pro career. Although Bill helped tutor the Irish centers during 1954 Spring practice, this is his first season as a coach.

The number of sophomores in Terry Brennan's lineup this season attests to the importance of the freshman coaching job. The man picked by Brennan to develop next year's varsity candidates is Jack Landry, three-year monogram winner at fullback for the Irish during the 1948, '49 and '50 campaigns.

Jack Landry

Jack picked up a reputation as a workhorse and a "mudder" in the Northwestern game in 1948 and maintained that distinction by his performance during the two following seasons. He was in government work for the past four years.

SIX MONOGRAM CAGERS RETURN

Coach Johnny Jordan will open his fifth season at the basketball helm at Notre Dame with six monogram returnees, four of them regulars from last year's squad.

Returning starters are: Seniors Lloyd Aubrey, center; John Fannon, forward and Junior Forward John Smyth.

Aubrey was second in team scoring last season, Captain Fannon is an outstanding rebound man, and Smyth, another rebound specialist, was third scorer last year. At guard, Weiman developed into a defensive star and spectacular passer near the close of the 1954-55 season.

Coach Jordan's main problem is filling the other guard spot, vacated by last year's captain and top point-maker, Jack "Junior" Stephens.

Fighting for the slot will be three juniors, monogram winners Lee Ayotte and Paul Hornung and reserve Joe Morelli, and a pair of sophomores, Bob Devine and Ed Gleason. Devine, a leading candidate, is a sharp defensive man and a skilled passer.

Other sophs include John McCarthy, Don McNeill, Jr., and Jim Williams. Spelling Aubrey at center will be Jack Bedan, tallest member of the squad.

High points for the Irish cagers this season will be the trip to New Orleans to defend their Sugar Bowl crown, the annual eastern tour, games with DePaul and Loyola in Chicago Stadium, and eight with Big Ten quintets.

Grid Mark .830 in 65 Years

Notre Dame began the 1955 season—its 66th of collegiate football competition—with an all-time won-lost record showing 415 wins, 85 losses and 34 ties. This is a winning percentage of .830, exclusive of ties. The Fighting Irish have enjoyed 18 undefeated seasons and ten undefeated, untied campaigns.

Home Games Sold Out Early

All four Notre Dame home games this season were sold out as of August 31. This marks the first time since the 1947 football season that all of the home games have been sold out prior to the start of the season.

Shaw Named First Air Academy Coach

Lawrence T. "Buck" Shaw, '22, has been appointed the first head football coach of the new U. S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo., under a five-year contract effective January 1, 1956. He will also be athletic advisor and counsellor to the Air Force Academy Athletic Association during that time.

"Buck" Shaw

Shaw, one of Rockne's earliest stars, began his career as a line coach at the University of Nevada after his graduation from Notre Dame. He was also head coach at North Carolina State, Santa Clara and the University of California. He piloted the professional San Francisco 49ers for nine years before coming to the Academy last Summer as civilian consultant to the football staff.

The Academy's initial season consists of an eight game schedule against freshman football teams from the Rocky Mountain region. From this inauspicious beginning, "Buck" will have the task of building a team eventually strong enough to challenge its service rivals Army and Navy—and some day perhaps Notre Dame.

First Game Is Game of Firsts

The Notre Dame-Southern Methodist game September 24 was the occasion for some "firsts" in N.D. football history. The Irish took the field in white jerseys for the first time, and this was the initial contest played on the newly-seeded Notre Dame stadium turf. When Paul Hornung kicked a 38-yard field goal against S.M.U., it was the first three-pointer he had ever kicked as a high school or college gridder. It was also the first Irish field goal since the 1953 Purdue game.

Simonich Sped Lemek Along

Irish Captain Ray Lemek is one of many Notre Dame athletes who were coached in high school by Fighting Irish alumni. Former N.D. Fullback Ed Simonich, '39, tutored Lemek at Heelan High in Sioux City.

Noted Diplomats Lecture On International Affairs

Distinguished diplomats and political scientists from the United States and abroad are participating in a new Notre Dame lecture series on "Diplomacy in a Changing World." According to Dr. Stephen Kertesz, head of the University's Committee on International Relations, all the lectures will be published in the form of a symposium at the conclusion of the series.

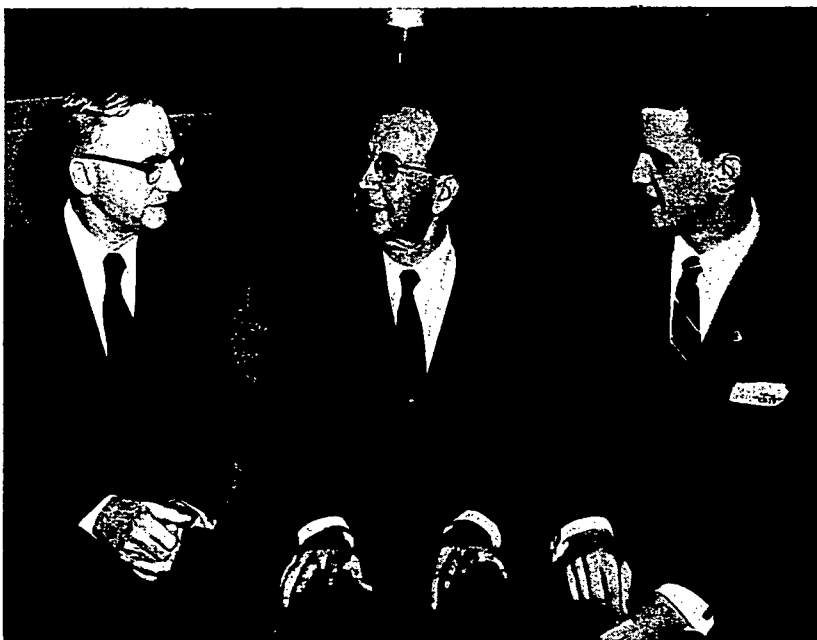

First speaker in the series was Professor Hans J. Morganthau of the University of Chicago, who discussed the merits of "The Permanent Values in the Old Diplomacy" on October 4. He was followed on October 31 by Professor J. B. Duroselle of the University of Paris, speaking on "The Role of French Diplomacy in the Postwar World."

Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, and Chester Bowles, former American ambassador to India, are among the foreign affairs specialists who will appear at Notre Dame. Others scheduled to speak include Professors Philip E. Mosely of Columbia University, Hans Kohn of the City College of New York, Louis J. Halle of the University of Virginia and Antonio de Luna, Universities of Madrid and Notre Dame.

Notre Dame's Committee on International Relations has published ten books and conducted numerous campus symposia since it was established in 1948. Research during the next five years, supported jointly by the Rockefeller Foundation and the University, will deal largely with American foreign policy.

Civil Engineers Hear Bridge Builder

Grattan Studios Famous For Engraved Diplomas

In this age of speed, automation and mass production, the deliberate skill and time-consuming labor of the true craftsman has become a rarity. But machines have not superseded all the manual arts.

Of those surviving, one of the most exacting—and most familiar to any college graduate—is the art of engraving. And one of the most exacting engravers—one who may well be known to Notre Dame alumni in the educational field—is Henry Grattan, '33.

Most graduates are so relieved at the sight of their name on a diploma that little thought is paid to the craftsmanship of the scroll itself. Yet an engraving from the hands of skilled artisans such as those of the Henry Grattan Studios well merits closer inspection.

The Grattan Studios are located in East Orange, N. J. at 14 Washington St., where Henry also maintains a religious articles store, the largest in suburban New Jersey.

Behind and beneath the store, Grattan and his staff not only design and engrave dies and plates and print from the engraved dies, but also perform the complete manufacture of diploma cases. They are the only Catholic firm operating on a national basis with complete facilities for die-stamping, engraving, binding or case-making and letterpress printing.

Internationally Known

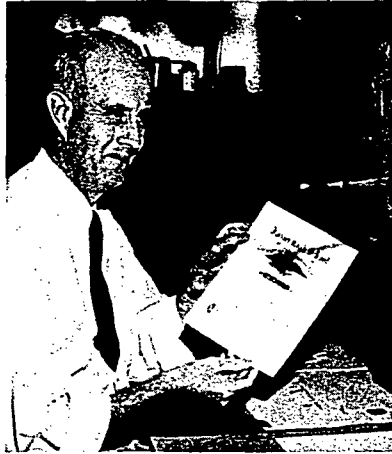

They manufacture diplomas and cases for parochial schools throughout the nation, including all those for the archdiocese of New York and Washington, D. C. and the dioceses of Richmond, Raleigh, Wheeling and Youngstown. The Grattan Studios have also served schools in four other nations and Notre Dame's own Holy Cross Seminary.

Since Grattan's customer potential includes the Church hierarchy, which might need the services of one skilled in heraldic and liturgical design, he has found it wise to display his own family crest as an example of his workmanship.

The Grattan crest was handed down from Henry's great grandfather, the Right Hon. Henry Grattan, a Protestant who fought for the Catholic cause as a representative of Ireland in both the English and Irish parliaments.

The crest, however, is used only as

Henry Grattan, '33, is one of the nation's outstanding engravers of parochial school diplomas.

Continue Fr. Moreau Beatification Process

The body of Very Rev. Basil Anthony Moreau, founder of the Congregation of Holy Cross, was exhumed recently at Le Mans, France, as part of the process leading toward his beatification. French and Vatican prelates as well as representatives of the various provinces of the Holy Cross priests, Brothers and Sisters throughout the world attended the rites.

Medical experts verified the remains as those of the French priest who died at Le Mans in 1873. The next step in the beatification process is the re-examination of the life and virtues of Father Moreau by a tribunal at Le Mans acting on the authority of the Holy See. The introduction of Father Moreau's cause for beatification was approved by the Sacred Congregation of Rites on March 15th. The decree officially introducing his cause was signed by Pope Pius XII on May 12th. Father Moreau served as superior general for thirty years and visited Notre Dame and nearby St. Mary's College in 1857.

an advertising gimmick and reflects no lordly pretensions on the part of its bearer. His business beginnings were much more humble. When the Henry Grattan Studios were established in 1937, "my office," Grattan recalls, "was under my hat."

Although engraving diplomas forms the bulk of the firm's business, its wares include educational, ecclesiastical and industrial jewelry, class rings, pins, medals, plaques, awards, graduation and wedding gifts, steel engravings, trophies, business and social stationery, precious stones and bindery work.

Thus Henry Grattan has developed a highly respectable business from his craftsman's skill, as well as a widely respected reputation as an engraver, in a field in which the pushbutton has yet to replace the deft touch.

NOTED CHEMIST COMPLETES ANNUAL REILLY LECTURE SERIES

America's colleges and universities must train scientists of the next generation to work as a team without stifling "individual effort, originality and independent thinking," according to Professor Herman Mark, a noted specialist in polymer chemistry who recently completed the annual P. C. Reilly Lectures in chemistry at Notre Dame. He is the author of several books and a faculty member at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute.

Cooperative Research

Research that used to take one man five years is now completed by five men in one year, Professor Mark observed. Such cooperative effort is "inevitable," he said, if scientific progress is to be accelerated. Today's educators, he continued, must accept this fact and instill in our future scientists the conviction that cooperation "can be just as satisfying as single individual effort." Impersonalization, he said, does not detract from "the importance, necessity or mental satisfaction" of scientific research.

Within the past 30 years, Professor Mark noted, the natural sciences have developed many new and complex methods. Whereas one or at most two persons formerly would carry out a scientific investigation from beginning to end, as many as six or eight men are often needed to complete a project today, he said.

Eddie Mahon Provides Chemicals and Kindness

By JAMES E. MURPHY

A genial Irishman who remembers Knute Rockne more as a chemistry instructor than a football coach is beginning his 43rd year in charge of the chemistry department supply room at Notre Dame.

He is Eddie Mahon who parcels out 3,500 varieties of chemicals and laboratory equipment to more than 1,400 students currently enrolled in chemistry classes at the University.

Mahon has presided over the chemistry stock room during the administration of eight Notre Dame presidents. He has served under five chemistry department heads in five different locations on the campus. He has seen many Notre Dame men, including five present members of the faculty, enroll in freshman chemistry and a few years later receive their Ph.D.

How Eddie Mahon came to Notre Dame nearly a half-century ago is a story in itself. Eddie was working in a Dublin publishing house, he relates when a priest came in to order some books. The priest took some of the books with him, but asked that the others be shipped to him at Notre Dame. The priest, Rev. John W. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., then president of Notre Dame, (1905-1919) asked the young Irishman if he ever thought about coming to America. Within the year Mahon sailed for the United States, came directly to see the only American he had met, and has been at Notre Dame ever since.

In his early years at Notre Dame, Mahon was known around the campus as an accomplished dancer. He appeared in several campus shows and recalls that Rockne himself was no stranger behind the footlights. Eddie often appeared professionally on the stage in Ireland and more than once was on the same program with singer John McCormack, who, like Mahon, came from Athlone. One of Eddie's fondest memories is the occasion in 1933 when his fellow townsman McCormack came to Notre Dame to receive the Laetare Medal.

When Mahon arrived at Notre Dame in 1911, he worked in the students accounts office and later had charge of the waiters in the old refectory before taking over his present post. Literally thousands of Notre Dame men have passed through the University's chemistry laboratories during Mahon's tenure. Eddie has never taken a chemistry course and claims to know nothing about the subject. But his patience and kindness have helped many a student who was discouraged when a complicated experiment went wrong.

Mahon requires that all laboratory apparatus be returned to the supply room "clean and dry." Generations of Notre Dame chemistry students have tried to return equipment that was otherwise, but few have succeeded. Occasionally, a glass vessel loaned to a student will break, and sometimes the student will claim the equipment was defective to begin with. According to a veteran faculty member, Eddie Mahon will listen to the student's story with remarkable sympathy and patience—and then charge him for the broken item!

The Mahons are a Notre Dame family if there ever was one. Eddie married Annie Monahan in the campus church and their four children were baptized and confirmed there. Their son Joe is employed at Notre Dame's Lobund Institute. A daughter, Sister Mary Mellita, R.S.M., teaches at Grand Haven, Michigan. Another daughter, Mrs. John Loritsch, is married to the manager of General Electric's chemical division who received his Ph.D. at Notre Dame.

Tragedy came to the Mahon family in 1951 when another son, Maury, a 1950 Notre Dame graduate and an FBI agent, died in a plane crash. But even in recalling such a sad occasion, Eddie Mahon can still smile. It was then that he received letters of sympathy from scores of Notre Dame men in every part of the country who came to know and admire the little Irishman in the chemistry stock room.

Faculty members, students and alumni agree that Notre Dame's chemistry department wouldn't be the same without Eddie Mahon. It is men of his character, spirit and devotion who in their own lifetime have helped transform Notre Dame from a small obscure school in northern Indiana to a university famous the world over.

WORLD TRADE CONFERENCE DRAWS 150 FROM MIDWEST

More than 150 midwest businessmen engaged in exporting and allied activities attended the 8th Annual World Trade Conference at Notre Dame on Oct. 11

Panel members who discussed the U. S. trade potential between now and 1960 were: Robert Riordan, American Wheelabrator and Equipment Corp. export division, Mishawaka, Ind., chairman; Raymond J. Sadlier, vice-president, Johnson and Johnson International, New Brunswick, N. J.; Jack L. Camp, vice-president for foreign operations, International Harvester Co., Chicago; and Bryan Doble, general manager of the international division, H. D. Hudson Manufacturing Co., Chicago.

Dean James E. McCarthy of the College of Commerce presided over a second panel whose members predicted foreign trade developments in the fields of finance, advertising and freight forwarding. Serving on the panel were: T. Graydon Upton, vice president, Philadelphia National Bank; John A. Miguel, Jr., manager of Zenith Radio Corporation's international division, Chicago; and Charles Collins, vice president, National Carloading Corp., Chicago. Prof. Wesley Bender was Conference Chairman.

Notre Dame conferred an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on His Beatitude Maximos IV, Patriarch of Antioch and All the East at a special convocation in Sacred Heart Church, on October 20. The spiritual leader of Melkite Catholics of the Byzantine rite was cited as "a living sign of the unity, holiness, apostolic character and catholicity of the Church." Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame president, conferred the degree.

University Awards Honorary Degree To Maximos IV, Patriarch of Antioch

Notre Dame awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree October 21 to His Beatitude Maximos IV, Patriarch of Antioch and All the East.

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame president, conferred the degree at ceremonies in Sacred Heart Church on the campus.

Under the Holy Father, Maximos IV is the spiritual shepherd of approximately 150,000 Melkites of the Byzantine Rite of the Catholic Church. The Melkites use the Arabic language in their liturgical functions. The jurisdiction of Maximos IV extends to all the faithful of his church living in the lands of the old Turkish empire (as of 1894) and Egypt.

Approximately 20,000 Melkites have emigrated to the United States. They are served by priests subject to the local American bishop.

The Melkites derive their name from the Syrian word for "king" because they proclaimed the orthodoxy of their emperor after the Council of Chalcedon in 451. The name is often used without qualification to designate Catholic Byzantines of Syria and Egypt.

While the patriarchate of Antioch has relatively few spiritual subjects, it is important historically and ecclesiastically because of the large number of its patriarchs and bishops who remained in communion with Rome after the Byzantine schism of 1054.

New Appointments For C.S.C. Brothers

Their far-flung installations bring the Brothers of Holy Cross into frequent contact with fellow alumni in several city clubs, making possible many a reunion among former classmates.

Alumni will find new faces—possibly some of them familiar—behind the superiors' desks in a dozen institutions operated by the Congregation throughout the country.

New superiors include Brother Dominic Elder, '36, at the new military school in Watertown, Wis.; Brother Peter Goodman, '54, at the St. Joseph Juniorate in Valatie, N. Y.; Brother Gerontius McCarthy, '44, master of novices at St. Joseph Novitiate in Rolling Prairie, Ind.; Brother Giles Martin, '35, principal of Vincentian Institute, Albany, N. Y.; Brother John W. Donoghue, '43, principal of Holy Cross High School in Flushing, N. Y.

Brothers Conduct 41 Institutions

Other new superiors are: Brother Alfonso Comeau, '44, of Gilmour Academy, Gates Mills, Ohio; Brother Barry Lambour, '46, of St. Edward High School, Lakewood, Ohio; Brother Donatus Schmitz, '41, principal of the new St. Francis High School in Mountain View, Calif., near San Francisco; Brother Reinald Duran, '42, principal of Holy Cross High School in New Orleans; Brother Eudes Hartnett, '44, principal of Msgr. Coyle High School in Taunton, Mass.; Brother Pacificus Halpin, '43, principal of Notre Dame High School, West Haven, Conn.; Brother Theodosius Flynn, '42, superior of Vincent Hall, St. Edward's University, Austin, Tex.

In Rome, Italy, Brother Loyola Christoph, '35, has been appointed headmaster of the Notre Dame International School for Boys.

In all, the Brothers of Holy Cross conduct 32 educational institutions in the U. S.—including 12,100 students—one each in Rome and Brazil, and seven, with a total of 2,658 students, in East Pakistan.

Two of these, the high school in Mountain View and the military academy (fifth to eighth grades) in Watertown, were opened this September.

Catholicism and the Writer

by REV. LEO L. WARD, C.S.C.

Extracts from an address to the Notre Dame Writers' Conference by the Rev. Leo L. Ward, C.S.C., are reprinted in the following piece. The manuscript, published in AMERICA, was discovered among his papers after his death in 1953. For many years, Father Ward was head of the Department of English at Notre Dame.

One of the most accurate and realistic definitions of Notre Dame that I have come across is that it is a place where you had better be sure to keep your shoes tied, because somebody is always ready to give you a gentle but effective leg-pulling. Some of my benign confreres—Messrs. Hasley, Frederick, Sullivan and Nims—are capable, let me warn you, of this very mischievous Christian virtue. In other words, in appearing before you this evening, I feel as though I am the victim of a very genteel frame-up. These very fine gentlemen, while working out the details of the conference, have indulged in a highly refined form of flattery. In assigning my subject and my title, "Catholicism and the Writer," I need not tell you that they have handed me a difficult problem, and one that is very confused by the endless discussion which it has provoked—an old potato that is already badly over-boiled. If I burn my fingers a little, I know you will be more sympathetic than hostile.

Is the whole question of "Catholic Writing" or of the "Catholic Writer" just a specious lollipop for pious people with no valid meaning for critical minds? It would seem so, if we take the word "writer" to mean strictly the skilled workman or artist. That is certainly what the writer is first of all, strictly and essentially. But accidentally, he happens to be also a man, a human being with all the potential nobility and grossness of our common human condition. Perhaps he is a shambling, careless, myopic, balding fellow who won't quite give up some quality or vision in his confused, wistful notions of what he was born to be and to do. Or—much more rarely—he may be a man of profound, controlled vision and the character and purpose which give sustained support to the skill that translates his vision into splendid patterns of firm, sharp words and images.

We are now faced with the question of what a Catholic really is. I shall not try to provide a comprehensive definition, I assure you. I shall be quite content to point up two characteristic aspects of Catholicism which seem to have special relevance for our general question. Catholicism seems to me to be especially or even peculiarly marked by two habits of mind: a sacramental and a sacrificial habit of mind, and both are inseparably united.

But Catholicism is marked, as I have said, by another aspect of special importance in any discussion of our question. Christ's life was one of utter sacrifice, ending on the Cross. The Cross has been the special and pre-eminent symbol of Catholicism. And the Mass—the unbloody sacrifice of the Cross—has always been central in Catholic worship. The shadow of the Cross lies over all things Catholic, and it is that shadow which makes bearable all other shadows.

But darkness and pain are not the primary or central note of sacrifice; they are not even essential. Sacrifice consists essentially in an offering, an oblation. That we offer our gift to God and give with it something of ourselves—there is the main and indispensable element of sacrifice. To offer not only our sufferings, but our joys, our very lives, back to God; to give our gift up to Him really; to keep none of it privately for ourselves alone—this is a Christlike attitude which, I think, is of the genius of Catholicism, and which I have called the sacrificial habit of mind.

For the writer, this will appear not in any particular technique, but in his spirit and attitude. Nothing of the writer, as a private profiteer, or entrepreneur, remains in his work; it is a pure, if imperfect, gift, because it belongs to God. No artistic arrogance or fastidiousness or false, selfish anxiety or wilful private purpose appears, because his work is a holocaust, a burnt offering which reflects the face of Christ and is, always, the product of a sacrificial habit of mind.

But I have said that the sacramental and the sacrificial habits of mind are inseparable in the truly Catholic writer. Perhaps this can be put concisely by saying that for the Catholic mind all things of earth and sky are not only signs of God, steeped in His holiness, simply because they have their being; but also, and especially, they await the priestly action of man's mind and heart which alone can offer them back, as pure gifts, as burnt offerings, to God—to "beauty's self, and beauty's giver."

(Ed. Note: "Men in the Field," a collection of short stories by the Rev. Leo L. Ward, C.S.C., will be published in December, 1955, by the University Press, Notre Dame, Ind. Price: $3.50.)

S.W. CONNECTICUT CLUB LAUDS BISHOP SHEHAN

WHEREAS, our Alma Mater, THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME, an outstanding institution for the promotion of human knowledge, and Catholic principles and ideals, taught us that for man to be complete, he must have an understanding not only of his relationship with his fellow man and his environment, but more importantly of his relationship to God, and

Whereas, The Notre Dame Alumni Club of Southwestern Connecticut was organized and exists for the purpose of promulgating devotion to God and country by a well informed populace, and

Whereas, his Excellency, THE MOST REVEREND LAWRENCE J. SHEHAN, Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, by his leadership and inspiration is advancing the opportunities for Catholic education to the children of Fairfield County,

Now Therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Southwestern Connecticut, hereby acknowledge our sincere appreciation for the magnificent endeavor and splendid achievement of his Excellency, the Bishop of Bridgeport, and pledge him our unanimous and unqualified support.

Unusual Gift Aids Golf and Bridge

A gift of $5,000 to stimulate interest in bridge and golf among its undergraduate students has been donated to Notre Dame by James Gerity, Jr., an Adrian, Michigan, industrialist and a member of the University's College of Commerce Advisory Council.

The newly established fund will be used to underwrite bridge and golf instruction on the campus. Charles Goren, the noted bridge authority, was the first expert to lecture at Notre Dame under the fund's auspices.

Gerity said he made the unusual benefaction because he is convinced that knowing how to play bridge and golf well is an important asset to the business or professional man.

Allen Tate Will Teach at ND in '57

Professor Allen Tate, currently with Department of English at the University of Minnesota, has accepted appointment from Notre Dame to serve as visiting professor of English for the Spring 1957 semester, under the Distinguished Professors Program. During the past two years this program has enabled the University to add several outstanding men to its faculty, as visitors or permanent appointees, in a number of fields.

Educational Conference on Campus

"The Role of Faith in University Education" was the theme of an Educational Conference of the Priests of Holy Cross held at Notre Dame in July. Representatives of seven colleges and universities operated by the Holy Cross Fathers in this country and abroad were in attendance.

Speakers and their subjects include: Rev. Robert Pelton, C.S.C., "The Problem of the Teaching Authority of the Church;" Rev. Howard J. Kenna, C.S.C., "The Role of the University in the Application of Dogma;" Rev. Thomas McDonagh, C.S.C., "Extent of the Church's Authority in the Social Sciences;" and Rev. Louis J. Putz, C.S.C., "Freedom of Learning and the Church."

Officers of this year's conference were: Rev. Mark J. Fitzgerald, C.S.C., president; Rev. Raymond F. Cour, C.S.C., vice president; and Rev. Joseph McCartney, C.S.C., secretary.

ND Site of Catholic Theatre Meet

Sister M. Angelita, B.V.M., of Immaculate Conception Academy, Davenport, Iowa, was elected president of the Catholic Theatre Conference at the close of the organization's 10th biennial convention at Notre Dame. Rev. Robert Johnston, S.J., of St. Louis University, was named vice president.

A number of plays were produced and virtually every phase of theatrical work was discussed during the sessions which were attended by more than 1,500 teachers, directors and students of the drama from Catholic colleges, high schools and community theatre groups throughout the country.

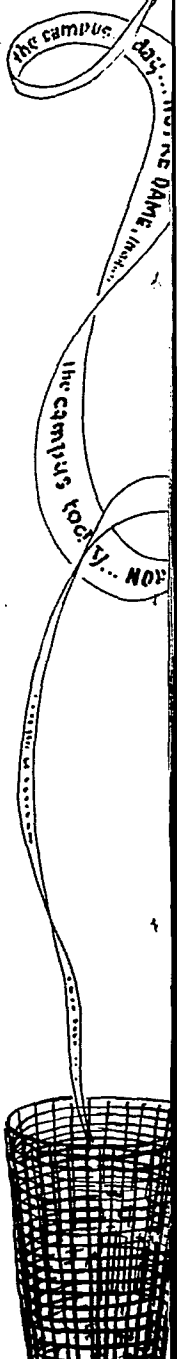

CSMC Convention to Return Here

The Catholic Students' Mission Crusade has chosen the University of Notre Dame as the site for its 17th national convention to be held August 23-26, 1956. Arrangements for the biennial sessions were recently completed by University officials and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward A. Freking, national secretary of the CSMC. The 1956 conclave will be the fifth consecutive CSMC convention to be held at Notre Dame. More than 3,500 young people attended the sessions in 1954.

O'Brien Books Published Abroad

Books and pamphlets by the Rev. John A. O'Brien, author-in-residence at the University of Notre Dame, are being used to spread the truths of Catholicism throughout the world.

According to word recently received here, Father O'Brien's book, The Faith of Millions, has just been published in Italian by the Pious Society of St. Paul in Rome. The volume, which presents the credentials of the Catholic faith, is being used throughout Italy to counteract the proselyting of Protestant missionaries who are becoming very active among the traditionally Catholic Italian people. With more than 300,000 copies printed in the United States, The Faith of Millions has also been published in German, French, Hungarian, Japanese, Spanish and Malayalam in India. A British edition also came off the press recently.

Burns Scholarships to 9 Students

Nine students in seven states have been awarded Rev. James A. Burns Memorial Scholarships at Notre Dame. The Burns scholarships, which are awarded on a competitive basis, provide $650 for the freshman year and $300 each year thereafter.

Statuette Atop TV Antenna

A statuette of the Virgin Mary has been placed atop the 570-foot antenna of WNDU-TV, the new television station operated by Notre Dame. The UHF station, which is affiliated with the NBC Television Network, began operations in July.

The 18-inch statuette is a replica of the figure of the Blessed Virgin on the Golden Dome. Made of aluminum and contemporary in design, it was executed by Robert Zale, Wauwatosa, Wis., an Arts and Letters senior at Notre Dame. The aluminum figure has been anodized to protect it from the elements.

Reyniers Speaks in Europe

Professor James A. Reyniers, director of Lobund Institute, addressed two international scientific conferences in Europe recently.

The meetings were held in Brussels, Belgium, the first week of August, and at the International Medical Congress in Verona, Italy, early in September.

Smelser Co-authors History Text

Dr. Marshall Smelser, associate professor of history at the University of Notre Dame, is co-author of Conceived in Liberty, a new American history text designed expressly for use in Catholic high schools and academies. Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, head of the history department at Loyola College of Baltimore, collaborated with Smelser on the book which was published recently by Doubleday and Company.

Bandmasters Compare Notes Here

The National Catholic Bandmasters' Association held its third annual convention at the University of Notre Dame, recently. Band directors from more than sixty high schools and colleges attended the sessions.

Raymond Dvorak, director of the University of Wisconsin bands, addressed the convention banquet, and other speakers were: Forrest L. McAllister, editor and publisher of SCHOOL MUSICIAN; composer Harold Walters; William Sandburg, president of Educational Music, Inc.; and T. P. Kexel, educational director of the Holton Instrument Co.

Morality in Business Stressed

Dr. Herbert Johnston, Notre Dame professor, keynoting the national conference of the Catholic Business Education Association at the Palmer House, said that too many students "show a nearly complete lack of ability" to comprehend any moral implications in business life. There are some, he said, who are convinced that no such implications exist.

Courses in moral theology or moral philosophy, taught in terms of abstract principles and isolated from the rest of the curriculum, have relatively little impact on the student, Professor Johnston contended. "We should teach them business ethics, or moral theology in its business applications," he said. "Anything less will run the serious risk of leaving our students' moral knowledge and business knowledge just two parallel lines that never meet."

Newman Club Leaders Meet at ND

More than sixty Newman Club leaders and their chaplains from secular colleges throughout the country met at Notre Dame this past summer to attend the fourth annual Newman School of Catholic Thought. The sessions were designed to develop informed Catholic leadership on the campus of non-Catholic colleges and universities.

NROTC Group Office to Fr. Lochner

Rev. Robert J. Lochner, C.S.C., assistant to the vice-president for academic affairs, was recently elected vice-president of the Association of Naval ROTC Colleges. The Association, comprised of representatives of some 52 universities, meets periodically to discuss problems common to Naval ROTC.

Missionaries Ready for Pakistan

Eleven priests and Brothers, all Notre Dame graduates, recently pronounced their foreign mission vows prior to leaving for Pakistan where they will serve in parishes, schools and other institutions operated by the Congregation of Holy Cross.

The Most Rev. Lawrence L. Graner, C.S.C., Archbishop of Dacca, in whose archdiocese the missionaries will serve, preached at the departure ceremony in Sacred Heart Church. Rev. Theodore J. Mehling, C.S.C., provincial of the Holy Cross Fathers, received the missionaries' vows in behalf of the Very Rev. Christopher J. O'Toole, C.S.C., superior general of the Congregation.

Indiana Scientists Convene Here

More than three hundred scientists attended the seventy-first annual meeting of the Indiana Academy of Science at Notre Dame on Oct. 14. Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., addressed the opening session in Washington Hall. Dr. Charles Brambel, head of Notre Dame's biology department, also spoke at the general session.

PR Man Gives O'Hara Lecture

The first of this year's Archbishop O'Hara Seminar lectures at Notre Dame was given October 18 by R. H. Collacott, director of public relations for the Standard Oil Co. of Cleveland, Ohio.

Alumni Clubs

Akron

Club officers this year are: WILLIAM J. O'NEIL, president; JOHN THORPE, JR., vice-president; JAMES COULTER, secretary; and TOM O'NEIL, JR., treasurer. The election was held on UND Night which featured TOM BYRNE as guest speaker and the award of the Man-of-the-Year scroll to FRANK E. STEEL.

We have held for the last three or four years a get-together of alumni, present students, incoming students and their fathers before ND students return to the campus. We find that these meetings have been very successful as far as incoming freshmen may be concerned. It affords them the opportunity to meet the students now at Notre Dame. We had about 45 present. Monsignor Calip from the Philippines was present and gave a good pep talk.

Aurora

The recipient of the first Aurora Notre Dame Club scholarship was John Ambre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambre of 441 Iowa Avenue, Aurora, Illinois. John graduated with honors from Marmion Military Academy in Aurora and entered Notre Dame as a freshman this fall.

The club held a very enjoyable chicken fry July 20, with about 45 alumni, wives and friends attending. JOHN RILEY, '44, was chairman of this event, being assisted by DICK REEDY, '44, who capably handled the mosquito disposal problem.

The club's annual Golf Outing was held August 10 at the Woodridge Golf Club. Over 30 members and friends enjoyed a beautiful day of golf plus a sizzling steak dinner. The outing turned out to be a "gold benefit" for the Hanks family with LYNN HANKES, '58, taking the first place prize, and his father, BILL, taking the second. ED STARE, SR., walked off with the third-place prize. HANK WANNER, '52, was the chairman of this fine event.

The latest club activity was our football ticket raffle. An all-expense trip to Miami with two tickets for the Miami-Notre Dame game was won by Shirley Nielson of Aurora. Chairman ROY O'NEIL, '49, and Club President TED WIEST, '27, attributed the success of the raffle to the combined efforts of all the alumni members and many friends.

Future club activities include a Communion Sunday to be held December 11, with ROBERT THUMM, '44, as chairman, and a Christmas dance.

JOHN ORSO, Secy.

Baltimore

Our annual family picnic was held on Sunday, July 17, 1955 at "Anchors Aweigh" on the Magoth River. This was the fifth straight year that we have been invited to this lovely private estate of our friends, Mr. and Mrs. John E. LaVeck. In attendance were 150 alumni, their families and friends who gathered to celebrate this wonderful family day.

Credit for the success of our picnic goes to GREG HALPIN, '49, PETE HAJEWSKI, '34, JOE DUKERT, '51, DON O'CONNELL, '49, and to many others who contributed their time and efforts in making this our finest picnic.

At our last meeting of the spring held at Bernie Lee's Irish Pub, the membership voted unanimously to conduct an all-expense raffle to the Notre Dame-Miami game. Proceeds from the raffle went into our Scholarship Fund.

Featured at the September 30 meeting was the showing of exclusive color movies of the World Championship Cleveland Browns-Detroit Lions game of last fall, courtesy of the Miller Brewing Company.

We are most proud of our Club Secretary, JOE DUKERT, '51, who, in national competition, won a fellowship to the University of Bologna. Joe and his lovely wife left for Italy at the end of August.

—WILLIAM W. HARTMAN, Pres.

Boston

The club's annual picnic was held at CHARLIE CROWLEY's home, Rivers End Farm, on June 19. BILL STEWART and ANDY SCOFATI had charge of arrangements. On September 13 the annual party for Notre Dame students and their fathers was held at the Smith House.

Buffalo

JIM ARMSTRONG was our guest for the first meeting of the 1955-56 year held on September 6. His talk on the future of private education in America exposed a serious problem for us. At the present time 40 to 45 per cent of all students are educated in private schools. The supporters of private education will have to expend great efforts in order to maintain this percentage in view of the large increase in population in the United States. In a lighter vein Jim said he was proud of the family of Alumni Clubs. Wherever he goes, to any part of the country, the Alumni Clubs make him feel at home.

Chairman JACK CONSIDINE succeeded in bringing out about 120 members and guests for the meeting. Besides Jim Armstrong, our special guests for the evening were new freshmen, members of the Class of 1959. Does that make you feel old, you '49ers??? There were 12 freshmen present, evenly divided between the schools of Engineering and Commerce. The Buffalo Campus Club also had a good representation at the meeting.

JOE RYAN got his raffle books distributed to everybody present. We are having a drawing in November of an all-expense trip for two persons to the ND-S. Cal. game in Los Angeles, Nov. 26. The raffle should be our best money-maker of the year and it looks like it will go over the top.

A Sports Night under the chairmanship of JACK LAVIGNE and NICK WILLETT is scheduled for late November at the Buffalo K. of C. clubhouse. This is a big undertaking and Jack and Nick are having their trials. Tentative plans call for MOOSE KRAUSE and some of the varsity football players to be here. Highlight of the evening will be presentation of the Notre Dame Cup to the championship Catholic High School football team of the area. The co-chairmen are shooting high and they should come up with something good on this one. It will be the first Sports Night the Buffalo Club has sponsored for many years.

FATHER BILL GARTLAND, C.S.C., has been transferred to Stonehill College in Massachusetts. We will miss him greatly. When it came to planning any kind of function Father Bill's advice and help was always offered and accepted. FATHER SIMEON GARDINER, C.S.C., also from Father Baker High School, has been selected to fill Father Gartland's shoes. It is a big job but we are sure he can do it.

DICK and MARY LEOS have accepted the chairmanship of our annual Christmas Dance. They are in the process of forming their committees at this writing. Their aim is to fill the Statler's main ballroom.

The events of last summer are gone but not forgotten. Our Family Picnic at Akron State Park had the largest turnout in our history. There were about 60 families present and about 200 people including the kids, of course. Not a bad average family!!!! ANN WATSON of the Alumwives was chairman. The Alumwives always run this affair.

MAURY QUINN finally retired the Buffalo Club's Golf Trophy. He is undisputed Club champion. RUS PHEIL had charge of the Golf Outing.

The men's Stag Reunion at Cook's Grove was a huge success in the eyes of all those who attended. TOM RICHARDS and AL KEMNITZER, co-chairmen, had a good committee working for them and it turned into a genuine old-fashioned reunion. About half of us took home a prize.

LOU ALMASI directed a theater party at the Lakeshore Playhouse in Derby during the summer. Tickets were good for 10 nights. The Club retained a certain percentage of each ticket we sold and the net proceeds for the club amounted to about $1300. This is a good start for President JACK SHINE's 1955-56 program.

BUFFALO—Officers and members of the Board of Directors of the Buffalo Club pose with Alumni Secretary Jim Armstrong, principal speaker, at party for N.D. students. (Left to right, seated) Frank Bennett, Treasurer Ralph Else, President Jack Shine, Armstrong, Rev. Simeon Gardiner, C.S.C., chaplain, Vice-President Cy Rickard, Jack Considine; (standing) Jim Moulder, Frank Gaglione, Dick Leos, Maury Quinn, Bus Pheil, Nick Willett and Secretary Paul Allwein.

Calumet District

The Calumet District alumni enjoyed a golf stag at Lake Hills Country Club on July 26. Committee members included JAMES MORRISON, ERNIE HUFFMAN, WILLIAM RILEY, JACK OGREN, JERRY GAINER, TOM CLIFFORD, JAMES PURCELL and TOM RADIGAN.

FATHER THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C., associate director of the Notre Dame Foundation, was celebrant of the Mass and guest speaker at the annual Communion Breakfast held on October 9.

Capital District

The Capital District Club held a meeting on the evening of August 9 at the University Club, Albany. President C. F. REGAN, JR., presided. Guest speaker was JOHN S. MACCAULEY, ND Foundation representative for the Northeastern U. S. Mr. MacCauley spoke on "What's Going on at ND Today," an entertaining and enlightening talk, stressing the progress and growth of ND and the importance of the ND Foundation. The resultant volunteer solicitors for the Foundation in this area are WALT O'BRIEN, JOE CONLON, CHARLEY STETTMAN, JIM DRESSER, BOB SHAFER, DON ANTHONY, TOM CLEMENTE and BILL IVIMEY. Mr. JOHN CAMPBELL will continue as City Chairman.

At an earlier meeting of June 20 a full discussion was had on the question of having a summer outing. The president appointed the following committee to handle the affair: WILLIAM J. BURKE, chairman, FRANCIS X. DISNEY, GUS O'BRYAN and a present student at the University, GARRETT A. ROCHE. The efforts of this committee resulted in a tremendously enjoyable picnic on Saturday, August 27, at the Holy Cross Novitiate grounds at Valatie, N. Y. Approximately 45 members and their families attended. The proverbial good time was had by all.

The next project under consideration is the Holiday Banquet and dance.

—WILLIAM H. IVIMEY, Secy.

Central California

The local club held a going-away party for Notre Dame students which featured a steak barbecue in the home of JOHN B. CELLA II. Officers of the club who entertained the students included Cella, HAROLD A. BAIR, JOHN GROVES, JAMES PAGLIASOTTI, JAY GIBSON and M. J. KEYES. Among the students were Jack Bair and Charles Vanoncini of Fresno, sophomores; Will DeCanio, Sanger, sophomore, and Don Thompson, Fresno, senior. Bernie Allard, Fresno, star high jumper at Notre Dame, was unable to attend.

—JAMES PAGLIASOTTI, '36, Secy.

Central New York

The club's annual golf party was on July 13 at the Auburn Country Club. Reservations were handled by MIKE RYAN.

The club's annual student sendoff was held on September 8 at the Troop K Cavalry Club. DON KLEE and MIKE RYAN were in charge of arrangements. A ball game was staged at 6 p.m. followed by dinner several hours later.

The Ladies' Auxiliary recently received an interesting write-up in the local paper regarding their activities. They met for the first time in March, 1954, and have been very active in the club program since then. Last year the auxiliary joined the men's group at the Communion Breakfast on December 8. The ladies' telephone committee has proved invaluable in reminding alumni members of club events. Mrs. EDWIN W. KENEFACE has been re-elected to serve a second term as president. Assisting her are the following: Mrs. EDMUND P. CLEARY, vice-president; Mrs. FRANK KANE, secretary; and Mrs. THEODORE E. DEMMERLE, JR., treasurer. Mrs. THOMAS M. RYAN heads the group's telephone committee while Mrs. EUGENE W. DALY, JR., is in charge of publicity.

Chicago

There's a unique fitness about our calendar year—the Chicago Club's activities go from Universal Notre Dame Night to Universal Notre Dame Night . . . and often to a club president it seems as if his nights are universally dedicated to Notre Dame.

Which is as it should be, I suppose. There are few things that are more of a privilege than being named president of an organization devoted to Notre Dame, especially when it's an association numbering more than 2,000 men.

It is a characteristic of human nature that each succeeding president hopes to make his year the best ever . . . to get the most members active (paying dues, attending events, etc.) Yet I think if you gathered all proxies together, and gave us scopolamine, or whatever they call that truth serum, we'd all confess that at the bottom of our hearts there is one common desire: to do the best we can for Notre Dame and the Notre Dame men in Chicago.

There's something else we share in common, too: an acknowledgment that here or there, in large or small, we all make mistakes. But that's a fairly human failing. So here's apologies in advance if this administration offends in any way . . . and let it go at that. We promise we'll do our best.

It seems to me as we draw near the half way mark of the term that it's about time some credit was given to the boys who really run the machine: the other officers and members of the Board of Governors. ROBERT EMMETT WRIGHT of Palos Park, is first vice-president, and it will be his voice you'll hear next over this microphone, in 1956.

FRANK MILLIGAN of Glenview is second vice-president, TOM BROGAN of Oak Park secretary and BILL DWYER of the South Side is treasurer. DANIEL J. O'CONNOR, North Side member of the class of 1905 (beat THAT if you can!) is honorary president.

There are our teammates for 1955—and I'd like to lead a big "He's a Man" for all of them. As I go through the activities of the club year, you'll see why . . .

First item on the agenda back in April was, of course, Universal Notre Dame Night. BOB WRIGHT pitched in and did a fine job as chairman. Our guests were Rear Admiral Daniel V. Gallery, USN, and the popular Chicago Daily News "Town Crier" Tony Weitzel, who runs one of the very best columns this old newspaperman ever read. We had a good turnout of about 250, and went only slightly into the red.

The next project undertaken—and that's a good choice of words, it almost becomes an undertaker's business when a chairman finishes the job—is the club directory. The board voted this year, after a thorough study of the subject, to switch the publication to another firm—Chicago's Catholic Service Bureau. BILL KENNEDY, who as vice-president of Hensley Company, one of the best direct mail houses in the country, is versed in matters publicational, lowered his neck bravely to the block and consented to act as chairman. He has done a TERRIFIC job. Bill has kept me informed on all the ins and outs of the job, and believe me, he has had to burn the candle at both ends to keep it rolling . . . and I refer to a votive candle.

Our golf tournament was held back in July. With true McCabe timing, I picked the night before the All-Star baseball game in Milwaukee, which drained all the top sportswriters out of the city—usually they are guests and/or guest speakers, with a corresponding benefit to our publicity. (But FRED JOYCE put his muscle behind the story and got it in the papers and over the radio—incidentally, Fred has done a great job for us for news stories and publicity.)

It's a gag I've used too often this year, but it will always be a true statement as far as I'm concerned: DON HOGAN (not Ben) was our Man of the Year. He was chairman of the golf tourney, and came through with a really great job, despite the handicap mentioned in the preceding paragraph. The weather was wonderful, the dinner great, and we had a fine crowd. To top it all, we made over $500.

And it's about time I remedied what has been an oversight too long—the club owes a great debt of gratitude to Mr. FRED SNITE, SR., who has allowed us the use of his Elmwood Country Club for years for free—we have paid only the price of the dinner, and from the excellence of the meal I suspect that we get a break on the food, too. Mr. Snite is of course the father of the world-renowned—and universally loved—"Boiler Kid," the late FRED SNITE, JR. The club is planning to take steps to express its gratitude in tangible form—more on this later.

An annual event that may not get as much notice as it deserves is the Freshmen-Dads meeting. GIL SEAMAN, who you will remember as a fine president two years back, took over as chairman in wonderful fashion. FATHER GENE BURKE, one of Notre Dame's most loved priests for many years, headed a fine team that came up from the university to speak to the entering Chicago freshmen and their fathers. Others from ND speaking were Alumni Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG and MOOSE KRAUSE. BILL CAREY of the Foundation, also gave an inspiring talk, as did JIM MARTIN, class of '23 and former honorary president. What everyone present considered as the largest crowd in the history of the event was present—some 350 freshmen and dads. The affair is held to give the boys a preliminary view of what is ahead for them under the Dome, and to give them an early start on forming friendships with future schoolmates. Also to interest them in becoming loyal members of the Chicago club when they graduate, too, of course!

Activities hard ahead—though they may have taken place when you read this—are the fall informal dance and the opening lecture in our series of talks by university representatives.

The dance is being held on the night of the telecast of the Miami game, and at the same hotel, the Sheraton. It is not in connection with the telecast, however. Profits are to go to the club's scholarship foundation, which has to-date helped nine worthy young men to attend Notre Dame. It's hoped that somewhere in the neighborhood of 200 couples will be in the neighborhood.

You'll read elsewhere in this issue about the series of informal lectures which the club is holding this year. It's been a pet brainchild of the undersigned for many years—I remember Gil Seaman making an earnest effort to work it into his schedule two years ago. FATHER CHARLES SHEEDY, C.S.C., dean of the college of Arts and Letters, has kindly consented to begin the series on October 9 with a talk on Liberal Education Today. This event, too, is at the Sheraton.

There will be another lecture at the Sheraton on November 13, subject and speaker to be named later.

On December 4, at the new St. Peter's church, our most uplifting event of the year will be held—the annual Club Mass. It will be followed by our Communion Breakfast at the Hotel LaSalle. PHIL FACCENDA is doing a fine job as chairman of this memorable event. He was so taken with Father Gene Burke's fine talk at the Freshmen-Dads' meeting, where Phil served as an usher, that he got Father's promise to talk at the breakfast also. I don't think any words of mine are needed or would add anything to the value of attending the breakfast. Again the Mass will be dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary, our beloved patroness, and it will be offered for the welfare and intentions of all club members.

Later in the year we are hoping to have a formal dance, where pop and mom can get out their toppers and tinsel from the mothbag and show junior a thing or two about stepping out.

That sums up the year's program of activities. As you can see, we've tried to touch all the bases—social, spiritual, and something new—intellectual. It's up to you whether or not the year is a success . . . and needless to say, we'll be interested to see.

One more thing about this matter of covering all angles. The informal dance of October 7 is priced as low as we can possibly get an event in the Loop, at a representative meeting place. It's only $5 a couple. It was purposely staged that way, for this reason: for years we have been told on all sides that our social events were too expensive—that there was a large segment of the younger club members who were eager to attend these functions if we priced them right. This should prove whether or not this line of thought is correct, or is only a line of thought.

Another important innovation is being launched this year. As you know, the size of the membership and the extent of the area covered makes it impractical to plan meetings per se. We try to get the business of the club covered through decisions of the board of governors—and then inform the general membership of these decisions by club-wide letters. These solutions are far from ideal, however—they are too cold to enkindle or fan the spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm every club needs to stay alive. After much discussion we decided to make an effort to form "branch" clubs in the various sections of the city.

The South Side has long had such a group, composed of men who lived too far out to get to club affairs very often, but who wanted to gather under the name Notre Dame and discuss the school and school doings. We therefore asked board member KEN ENRIGHT to be our representative in this group, to tell us of their needs and wishes and what events they plan. ROGER WHITE volunteered to attempt the formation of a similar group on the North Side and WALTER KIOLBASA on the West Side.

Ken reports that South Side events have been well attended. Rog White has taken the step of planning an informal dance for the North Side to be held at the Michiana Shores country club on the night of December 2—and all club members are invited. Walter Kiolbasa is planning a meeting soon of interested West Siders to get that section launched.

Another project of the club, which your 'umble servant headed up several years ago and which is now very ably directed by FRANK MILLIGAN, is the Prep School committee. Frank and his aides have done a great job at this assignment of representing the university at "college days" held in high schools around the city and neighboring suburbs, telling interested and eligible youths the cold facts and the warm truths about Notre Dame. Perhaps the biggest facet of the job was the carefully prepared report which Frank has just completed, telling the objectives and background of the committee. In closing, I quote from it in part:

REPORT OF NOTRE DAME CLUB OF CHICAGO PREP SCHOOL COMMITTEE 1953-1955

I. Purposes in establishing the Prep School Committee of the Notre Dame Club of Chicago were in part: To broaden and better the sources from which Notre Dame draws its students by bringing information about the University to each year's senior classes in Chicago area high schools and by informing the administrations of these high schools (particularly the counselling departments) of the opportunities and courses afforded by Notre Dame for its students.

II. Initially, high schools in the area were separated into four categories: 1) High schools already having college day programs to which Notre Dame is invited, and which we would like to attend. 2) High schools already having college day programs to which Notre Dame is invited and which we feel would be unproductive because of their past history of not sending alumni to Notre Dame. 3) High schools presently having college day programs to which Notre Dame is not being or has not been invited. 4) High schools presently not having college day programs, but having a student body that we would like to contact for Notre Dame.

Thus far in our operation, we have accomplished adequate handling of categories 1 and 2 above. We have made some progress in category 3 and hope to have progress to report on category 4 this Fall.

III. Our committee is composed of 20 alumni from the Chicago area. These men are asked to give a maximum of three evenings each year to the work of the Committee.

IV. In our first year of operation, we appeared at 20 college day programs at as many high schools. In our second year, we appeared at six additional high school college day programs. While this does not represent a large increase, it does represent the beginning of close association with school administrations and student counsellors that can be very important in helping us bring the Notre Dame story to outstanding students at these schools.

V. A brief description of our tools and training follows. The pamphlet "Facts for Freshmen," available from the University, constitutes our major implement because it includes nearly all the information which each committee member needs to have at his command. Each man, in addition, carries with him to each program a complete set of the college bulletins of the University for the current year. To each senior who indicates interest, the committee representative is prepared to distribute a copy of the small descriptive background folder also available from the University, an application blank for admission, and a postcard request for the appropriate college bulletin in which the senior is interested. Our committee member then collects these cards and forwards them to our Committee chairman for statistical needs before sending them on to Father Thornton for appropriate action in forwarding these bulletins. This collection by the committee representative forestalls the psychological barrier that may exist because of normal human procrastination in failing to mail these cards.

VI. Finally, for general public relations benefit to the University and to the Committee, the Notre Dame Club of Chicago has hosted, at the invitation of its Prep School Committee, the principals of the boys' Catholic High Schools of the area at our Universal Notre Dame Night celebration in 1954 and 1955.

Well, that's the commercial for this issue, men. I hope it hasn't been so long you tuned us out, or failed to get the message. Actually, I can sum up the message for you very quickly, in very few words:

We, your officers and board of governors, are doing everything we can to make the Notre Dame

DALLAS — James P. Swift received the club's Man of the Year award from Father Hesburgh.

Club of Chicago a good club, an organization you'll be proud of . . . if you have suggestions, let us know (at 38 South Dearborn, ANDover 3-6063) . . . or if generally speaking you like what we're doing—come along and help us do it. See you at the next event!

—JOE McCABE, '33, Pres.

Cincinnati

On July 30, the Club held its annual summer dance at the Maketewah Country Club. JOHN FEAD was responsible for the successful affair.

A luncheon was given on September 15 at the University Club in honor of the Freshmen who are attending Notre Dame this year and their fathers.

—DICK A'HEARN, '44, Secy.

Cleveland

The following men were elected to offices for the 1955-1956 term: CREIGHTON E. MILLER, '44, President; FRANCIS J. McGRODER, JR., '41, Vice-President; ARTHUR J. WOOD, JR., '52, Secretary; AUGUSTINE A. STEFANEK, '52, Treasurer.

Immediately thereafter the officers appointed the following men to the Board of Governors: ALFRED GRISANTI, '31, Chairman of the Board, FRANCIS GAUL, '49, JOHN MATOUSEK, '33, ROBERT O'MALLEY, '50, GUY GALLARDO, '53, ROBERT STACK, '41, VINCENT DeCRANE, '50, JACK DOYLE, '44, and THOMAS BYRNE, '28.

The Board's first official action was to appoint REV. BERNARD FLYNN, '38, of St. Catherine's Parish as Chaplain, and JOHN CHAPLA, '23, as Honorary President.

Plans have been made for the various spiritual and social activities which the 600 alumni participate in each year. It is the intention of the club and its officers to bring to Cleveland nationally prominent figures in the fields of religion, education, politics and sports to serve as guest speakers at the activities staged for the alumni, their families and friends.

This year there have been two new committees established which we think will do a great deal of good. The first is the publicity committee which will be made up of men in the advertising and public relations field.

The other new committee will be called the "Old and New Members Committee" and its function will be to get new members and recent graduates acquainted with the present members of the club. This committee will be headed by FRANK McGRODER.

Another successful outing was held at CHUCK ROHR's farm on June 26. Those attending included students, alumni and their guests. FATHER LOUIS THORNTON, C.S.C., was present from the University. After those present had participated in baseball, horseback riding and a fine meal, the climax of the day was the recitation of the rosary at Chuck's beautiful grotto. FRANK GAUL served as chairman and was assisted by FRANK PAYNE, BOB LALLY, T. BRUNER, LEO MURPHY, BILL BEARGIE and EDDIE KILLEEN.

FRED FRIEND and JOHN CHAPLA co-chaired another successful golf party on July 21 at the Elyria Country Club. BILL WALSH and JACK LANDRY were guests from the University.

In conjunction with the ND-Miami game closed TV circuit the club had a pre-game get-together for alumni and friends at the Cleveland Hotel.

BOB DOWD and BOB O'MALLEY were co-chairmen of this year's annual scholarship raffle. Plans have been formulated for the Family Communion Breakfast to be held on December 11 with FRANK PAYNE as chairman. The Statler Hotel will be the scene of the annual Christmas dance on December 30. Arrangements are being made by JIM UPRICHARD and ART CAREY.

The club was saddened by the death of two members and the brother of another: CYRIL P. ENTRUP, '33; DR. HIRAM J. McCARTHY, '09, and Ed Prokop, brother of JOE PROKOP, '41.

—ART WOOD

Columbus

The annual family picnic was held this year on Sunday, July 31. A large attendance of Notre Damers, young and old, were present.

On September 7 the annual stag outing was held at the Falter Farm several miles south of Columbus. Some 40 young men including eight freshmen were given a sendoff for the new school year. A softball game ended in a tie but it did develop an appetite for the food and refreshments that followed. The committee of BOB MURPHY, HARRY NESTER and JOHN FLENZ saw to it that everyone had a good time.

The winner of the Florida Vacation raffle was Mr. Joseph F. Schrenk, 163½ West Wheeling St., Lancaster, Ohio. Our thanks to BOB ECHENRODE, the chairman, and to all those alumni who assisted in this project.

At the present writing it looks as though we will have another successful football special. This year we go to the Navy game October 29 and chairman AL EICHENLAUB reports a lively sale.

—LARRY STEMBER, Secy.

Connecticut Valley

Our second annual Freshman Supper for this year's incoming Connecticut Valley freshmen was held Monday evening, September 12, at the Hartford Club. Following a chicken dinner, FATHER CARL SCHERER, our newly chosen chaplain from St. Gabriel's Church in Windsor, gave an excellent talk concerning the Virgin Mary. A short film on the origin of the Victory March and some colorful slides of the campus gave the new men an insight into campus life and recalled many pleasant memories for the club members.

On Monday evening, September 19, the Waverly Inn was the scene of a statewide testimonial dinner for FATHER HESBURGH. Due to an unavoidable conflict, however, Father Hesburgh was unable to attend, and FATHER JOYCE was the principal speaker. Although the threat of a hurricane kept many away, a sizeable gathering of alumni and friends enjoyed the roast beef dinner and Father Joyce's enlightening talk about the University.

—LOU BERGERON, Secy.

Dallas

The Notre Dame Club of Dallas is comparable to the television business in that it no longer recognizes the "summer slump." Alumni business goes on as usual regardless of the weather, the season—and in our case the status of Southern Methodist's football aggregation.

Which brings to mind the Dallas-to-South Bend Special Train which did not go as a strictly 100 percent SMU group. There were just enough ND alumni to remind the SMU contingent that their opening season game was tough.

With football in the air—it just naturally looms as our Club's top activity. So—on October 16 we gathered at the Lakewood Country Club and through that fine medium of television (sometimes known as radio with illustrations) we watched the ND-Michigan State game. The wives were in attendance and, as has been the case in the past, these TV-gatherings develop into very pleasant and memorable occasions. (Above the din of the TV you can hear voices, female ones, swapping menus and child-rearing ideas!)

To more or less launch our '55-'56 season, we held a Father-Son-New Student Gathering last August at the Lakewood Country Club.

LARRY COOKE of nearby Ennis, Texas, and a current varsity quarterback, gave us a rundown as well as narrated a film of '54 football highlights. New students were thus sent off to campus with our blessings.

Neil Lamping, the club's first scholarship awardee, is now living under the Dome and his progress and activities are a fine source of conversation among Dallas alumni.

A Communion Supper, which events have been so successful in the past, is scheduled for December 4.

There are rumblings of some pretty sizeable activities by the distaff side of our club—but more of that later when the Ladies' Auxiliary reveals its plans.

—BUDDY GOLDMAN, Publicity Chairman

Dayton

Our regular smoker took place at the Gibbons Hotel September 14, at which time we discussed the Navy game trip being sponsored by our local alumni. Also, our first recipient of the Bob Raney scholarship fund, is now enrolled in the fall term.

—HARRY WORMAN, Secy.

Dearborn

The club's family picnic was held on June 17 at GERRY WAYNO's place. Arrangements were in charge of JOHN KILBANE, JOE KRAMER, BILL HOLDEN, BILL FURY and EARL FUHRMAN. The summer dance was staged in Wayno's Gardens (i.e., our president's back yard) on July 23. Members of the committee were Rita Wayno, Pat Sarb and Rosemary Dolan.

The second annual golf party was on August 27 at the Birch Hill Country Club. JOHN SCHAEFER served as chairman.

Delaware

The Annual Summer Picnic was held recently at the New Castle farm of TOM DILLON, '37. Some 20 families attended, totaling approximately 65 persons.

Our mailing list boasting of its largest total since Club was "chartered," is 60 strong. We are looking forward to a most active Fall.

—ALEX PETRILLO, Secy.

Denver

At the Denver Notre Dame Club summer picnic held in August approximately 65 club members, wives and children participated. After a fast game of volleyball athletic contests were held. Winners in the children's divisions were: Dan Smith, Gregory Roberts, Jean Ryan, Larry Robidoux, Michael Ryan, Mary Ann Gargan, Bernie Clarke, Nancy Clarke, Ted Clarke, Paul Clarke, Cathy Shea, Don Robidoux, Mary Ann Wynne. After an exciting treasure chest hunt the prize was shared by all the children. DR. PHIL CLARKE proved to be the club's fastest runner. The women's shoe kicking contest, which has fast become a tradition of the annual picnic, was won this year by TINA GARGAN. She joins the ranks of such notables as Mrs. JOHN COYNE, Mrs. TONY POJMAN, and Mrs. PHIL CLARKE.

Door prizes were won by the following club members' families: AL O'MEARA, DR. O'DEA, BILL BRADLEY, ELMER WYNNE, FRANK CONWAY, DR. JIM MONAGHAN, GERRY SHEA, LEO ROBIDOUX, JACK RYAN and TOM CURRIGAN.

BOB FLYNN, general chairman, was assisted by DR. JIM MONAGHAN who handles the public address system; TOM GARGAN, GENE O'MEARA, JACK RYAN, DR. PHIL CLARKE, GERRY SMITH, GERRY SHEA handled the athletic events.

A dinner meeting of the Denver Notre Dame Club was held Thursday, September 15, at Ernie's Supper Club, 2915 W. 44th Ave. Notre Dame Club Alumni, wives and guests attended this affair.

LAWRENCE T. "BUCK" SHAW, newly-appointed head football coach at the Air Force Academy, was guest speaker for the evening. He is a graduate of Notre Dame (1922). Buck was a former star tackle on ND football teams from 1919 to 1921. He has coached at: North Carolina State, Nevada University, Santa Clara, California University, and the San Francisco 49ers professional football teams.

The club's annual Christmas dance is scheduled for December 29 at the Town House Supper Club in Aurora, Colo. Eddie Santangelo and his quartet have been engaged for this affair.

The Denver club sponsored a special football train to the Notre Dame-Navy game in co-operation with the Burlington Railroad. JIM HANLON was chairman of the committee and proceeds from the trip go for the club scholarship fund.

—TOM GARGAN, Publicity Director

Detroit

The club's golf party was held on June 21 at the Glenn Oaks Country Club with BOB WINK as chairman. A new event on the club program was "A Day at the Races" on July 13. Through the courtesy of the Michigan Racing Association and its vice-president, Mr. Paul Chandler, the members were invited to a cocktail party and luncheon at the Detroit race track. Arrangements were in charge of JIM BYRNE, chairman.

The second annual summer festival was held in the Botsford Inn on August 13 with a buffet supper followed by dancing. LARRY SMITH and ED HICKEY composed the committee in charge of arrangements.

The third annual "Friendly Foes" pre-season kickoff party was staged on September 8 in the Veterans' Memorial. Under the co-chairmanship of ED RONEY, JR., and GUS CIFELLI, the feature of the evening was a talk by MOOSE KRAUSE and a showing of the 1954 Football Highlights. Alumni, Notre Dame students and their fathers attended the affair. JOHN ANHUT was in charge of the club party at the closed circuit television show of the Miami-Notre Dame game on October 7. The party took place at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Eastern Kansas

A joint meeting between the Eastern Kansas Alumni Club and the Hayden Booster Club was held on July 13. The Highlights of 1954 football film was shown to the group. About 150 people attended the movie. PAUL HURD, JACK PARRY and FRANCIS DeBACKER handled arrangements.

Msgr. Eugene F. Valley is chaplain of our club.

El Paso

A dinner-dance was held in July with JAIME MORA as host at the Gun Club in Juarez, Mexico. Over 40 members, their wives and guests had an enjoyable evening. After two years in the Army, ED JENNINGS and JOSE NAVAR, both of the Class of '53, have returned to the ND Club of El Paso. Ed is employed in the publicity department of the El Paso Natural Gas Company and was married to the former Gina Clare Gilmore of Huntington Park, Calif., on September 10.

Erie

The big event of the summer was the annual Notre Dame picnic which was held on Sunday, September 4, at Lake Pleasant. The Erie Club on campus handled the picnic—RAYMOND LEGLER,

DETROIT — Reports of UND Night are still being received. Above group participated in the gala occasion sponsored by Detroit alumni. Left to right: Wm. A. Mayberry, pres., National Bank of Detroit; Arthur D. Cronin, ND Club pres.; Irving A. Duffy, vice-pres. of Ford Motor Co.; Father John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., Notre Dame Foundation director and guest speaker; E. C. Quinn, vice-pres. of Chrysler Corp.; Joseph H. Carey, Club Secy., and dinner chairman; and Frank Walker, pres. of S. S. Kresge Co.

JR., chairman, and FRED STRASSER, co-chairman, both of the class of 1957. They did a fine job, planned games, dancing, prizes and an excellent dinner. I might mention that they were ably assisted by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. RAYMOND LEGLER, SR., and Mr. and Mrs. FRED STRASSER, SR. JOHN GOULD's mother also gave the boys a hand when it came to the cooking! These chairmen not only planned and took care of the entire picnic but they also visited each alumnus in the area to make sure they were invited and that they received their tickets. Needless to say, the alumni were well represented and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. There were 110 Notre Dame alumni, students, and friends at the picnic.

Some of the alumni seen at the picnic were Attorney and Mrs. JOSEPH BARBER (AB 1936) and their three children; RICHARD McCORMICK (1955) and his fiancée Miss Maryann Nash; Attorney and Mrs. MAURICE COUGHLIN (Law 1929); LEO CARNEY (1930) and his daughter; Mr. and Mrs. TONY ZAMBROSKI (1952); JIM MAHONEY (1951); Mr. and Mrs. JOHN McCORMICK (1951); Mr. and Mrs. MICHAEL YARBENT (1947), who have recently moved into their new home at 4211 Trask Avenue in Erie; Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT WENSCHER (1949), who is with the American Sterilizer in Erie.

Our alumni president in Erie, JOE HIPP (1949), entered the priesthood recently at St. Bonaventure's College in Olean, New York.

ENNS TOM YOUNG (1953) has finished his service with the Navy and leaves for Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, this month.

BILL GRANT (Commerce 1945) is currently seen on our local TV station—part of his being Assistant Sales and Advertising Manager of Fitch Baking Company. Bill and Mary Agnes now have three boys, the last one, Christopher, was born last February.

JOHN and Maryann YOUNG (Engineering 1951) visited Mary Pat and KEN THOREN (Journalism 1951) in New York over the Labor Day week end. They also saw BOB EDMONSON (Engineering 1951).

DR. FRED GABRIEL (BS 1936) is closing his office in Erie and is going to study Radiology for one year in St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie and then one year post-graduate in Philadelphia.

Attorney and Mrs. JOSEPH MacKRELL (Law 1952) welcomed a new daughter this summer.

DON BUSECK (Law 1955) married the former Miss Frances Quinn in June and they are living in Snyder, New York, where Don works for Weed and Company.

—THOM MCCARTHY, Secy.

Fort Lauderdale

The Notre Dame Club of Fort Lauderdale has met regularly every month throughout the summer and each meeting proved a tremendous success. Many plans were made for the big weekend of the Notre Dame-Miami game. The club sponsored a cocktail party and dinner preceding the game with the entire local contingent going to the Orange Bowl in chartered buses.

The club extends a cordial invitation to all visiting alumni who are in the Fort Lauderdale vicinity to visit with them at the regular meetings on the second Thursday of each month. Full information regarding club get-togethers can be obtained by contacting GEORGE GORE, secretary, who is listed in the Fort Lauderdale telephone directory.

Fort Wayne

The annual stag picnic was held on September 8 at Voigts Retreat with about 40 club members and on-campus students attending. JACK SOSEMEIMER was Chairman of the picnic and ARTIE HOFFMAN, BOB KEARNEY and JACK PALMER helped out. Again the volley ball court got a good working over, and others played baseball, basketball, cards and horseshoes. As usual, refreshments and food were good and plentiful, and everyone had a good time.

During the business portion of the meeting new officers were elected for the next two years. They are: J. THOMAS O'REILLY, President; ROBERT E. O'REILLY, Vice-President; ROBERT J. KLINGENBERGER, Secretary; and JOHN B. PALMER, Treasurer. It was also announced that ROY E. GRIMMER, JR., has been appointed the new City Chairman by the Notre Dame Foundation.

Retiring officers are: ROBERT E. KEARNEY, President; MORRIS J. DeWALD, Vice-President; GERALD F. PUTNAM, Secretary; and KENNETH L. SEYMOUR, Treasurer. These fellows have done a fine job as officers and the club gave them a good round of applause as testimony of the fact.

—ROBERT KLINGENBERGER, Secy.

Flint

The first annual Notre Dame Club of Flint Family Picnic was held on the HERB JOHNSON farm on West Mt. Morris Road on June 26 from 2 to 5 p.m. Sixty members and guests with 55 children were in attendance and had a hilarious time. Through the courtesy of Mr. JOHN GERITY, JR., of Channel 5, Bay City, Zig and Vivian Baker entertained with guitar, violin and animal balloons for the children. TOM JOHNSON was chairman and BILL MINARDO, master of ceremonies. The prize of a 10-pound ham for the largest family present went to Mr. and Mrs. PERCY J. SHAGANE with a family of seven. Mrs. PETER GIAMINADA of California received a prize for coming the furthest distance to the picnic. Miss C. S. Minardo won the door prize of a dozen Notre Dame water glasses. The youngest child was Anthony Campanelle, two months old, who received two silver dollars for his bank. The combined ages of the oldest couple was won by Mr. and Mrs. ARCHIE CAMPBELL.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson offered the hospitality of their beautiful farm for a repeat performance next year, and those who attended were enthusiastic about coming again.

To our knowledge, the first football excursion from Flint to Notre Dame was sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of Flint. With the help of the Flint Chapter of the Knights of Columbus, who assisted in selling tickets and in aiding in the provision of food and beverages on the train, 350 enthusiasts, including the wives, from Flint and environs left Flint Saturday morning, September 24, at 8:30 a.m. for Notre Dame. They toured the grounds of the University, witnessed the thrilling game with Southern Methodist, and returned to Flint at 9:15 p.m., extremely happy with their experiences of the day.

Monsignor Mayotte of St. John Vianney Church and Chaplain of the Knights of Columbus Council, accompanied the group. Notre Dame and Southern Methodist blankets were raffled off on the train and the winners were Mr. C. Kavanaugh of 1401 Hughes Street, Flint, and Mrs. Stanley McAlpine of 1022 Maxine, Flint.

In charge of arrangements for the Notre Dame Club were AL S. FUHRMAN and DONALD F. McDONALD.

Grand Rapids

The Notre Dame Club of Grand Rapids held its annual golf outing on Wednesday, September 14, at Cascade Hills Country Club. Guests for the day were BISHOP ALLEN J. BABCOCK of the Grand Rapids Diocese, FATHER SHEEDY, and the old master himself EDWARD "MOOSE" KRAUSE. The outing consisted of 18 holes of golf in the afternoon followed by a New York Strip Sirloin Steak dinner. Following the dinner, golf and door prizes were awarded. The low gross trophy went to BOB LINSEY, who circled the 18 holes in 80 blows. Bishop Babcock and Moose Krause successfully defended their team championship for the second straight year carding an 87 and 83 respectively. The only misfortune which occurred was that Father Sheedy spent most of the afternoon adding up his partner's score, who, incidentally, won the low gross trophy last year. Everyone enjoyed himself and is looking forward to next year's outing.

Coming events for the Grand Rapids Club are the Fall Smoker and get-together at 8:30 on October 11 at the K. of C. Clubrooms, 50 Ransom Street NE, and the Notre Dame vs. Navy football excursion on October 29.

—GERALD HOUSEMAN, Secy.

Harrisburg

The stillness of the summer was broken on August 2 by President JOHN DAVIS with an outdoor buffet supper at his home for the Membership and Activities Committee. It was also an occasion to welcome FRANK McSORLEY, '25, of Pittsburgh—the new chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. CHARLES DOUGHERTY, '26, a former club member, is back in town also.

On August 30 the club held a "College Get-Together" party at the K. of C. Club which turned out, as planned, to be a mutual benefit gathering. Guests were students, the five new boys from this area who entered this fall, and their fathers. Campus movies were shown—many questions were asked with answers of assorted wisdom—all topped off with good food.

—J. R. GRAHAM, '26, Secy.

Hawaii

The Notre Dame Club of Hawaii held its annual reunion and Aloha party for returning and new students on September 4, 1955. An enjoyable evening was spent by the members and their guests at the home of RAY PETROUS, the scene of the party.

On November 26 the members, in a group, will listen to the Notre Dame-USC game with JOE BOLAND narrating.

Plans are being made for the club to hold its Universal Notre Dame Communion Breakfast on December 11.

—HARRY A. MEDEIROS, '53, Secy.

Houston

HERB JONES was a guest of the club on September 1 at a luncheon in the Rice Hotel. Herb was in town to attend the wedding of his daughter. The club's annual pre-school picnic was held on September 12 at the Memorial Drive Country Club with TED POWERS as chairman.

Indianapolis

The annual Summer Golf Tournament was held at Highland Country Club on July 20. JIM ROGAP was chairman and he and the committee did an outstanding job providing prizes for everyone. There was a total of 120 golfers present and TOM MATEY took low gross honors with a score of 68, barely nosing out JOHN FOLEY. Guest speakers at the banquet, attended by 175 former Notre Dames and their friends, were His Excellency ARCHBISHOP SCHULTE, Athletic Director MOOSE KRAUSE, Freshman Coach JACK LANDRY, and Indiana Coach BERNIE CRIMMINS.

Among the coming events this Fall will be a special train to South Bend for the Notre Dame-Navy game. This is an annual event for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund. At the Communion Breakfast on December 11, FATHER ANTHONY LAUCK, C.S.C., the noted Notre Dame sculptor and art teacher, will be guest speaker.

—DICK McCALLEY, Secy.

Jackson

The Notre Dame Club of Jackson held its second annual picnic on September 1, 1955, at a local industry's picnic site after being postponed by Michigan dew.

LES WISDA was chairman of the gala affair, ably assisted by DAVE DALY, BILL DOTTERWEICH, LYMAN HILL and BLAIR MCGOWAN. The picnic meal served on a potluck basis was well consumed by the more than 50 in attendance, and washed with a hop beverage chased by coffee.

Not partaking, naturally, in all of the above, but enjoying themselves none the less were TOM UTTER and ROBERT ESCH, current enrollees at the University.

Communal singing, horseshoes, shuffleboard and Hoop-x rounded out the event.

We are currently laying plans for another football trip with JIM MORTELL in charge of arrangements.

—JOHN E. LINDBERG, Secy.

Kalamazoo

The Kalamazoo Alumni Club held its annual golf outing at the Gull Lake Country Club on July 26 with an attendance of approximately 175. Several of the coaching staff attended from Notre Dame including MOOSE KRAUSE, TERRY BRENNAN, BILL FISCHER, JAKE KLINE, BILL WALSH and JACK LANDRY. Also from the University were FATHER TOM BRENNAN, business manager HERB JONES and BOB CAHILL. Guests from Michigan State were basketball coach Fordy Anderson, his assistant Jack Bennington and TOM KING, '18, Dean of Men.

The club ran football excursions this fall to the Southern Methodist, Michigan State and Navy games.

—JOHN PRIHODA, Secy.

Kansas City

Terrence L. Hartigan was the club's scholarship winner this year. Named in honor of William Rockhill Nelson, the grant of $1600 is to be used in four years at the University. Hartigan was chosen from 27 applicants from seven public and parochial schools. C. CRAIG WHITAKER served as chairman and ROBERT J. METZLER, treasurer.

NORTH FLORIDA—The 'Friendly Foes' party proved a popular event on the club program. It was held in Jacksonville on Sept. 9, with alumni representatives from opponent schools.

Los Angeles

The club had a picnic on August 28 at the St. Vincent de Paul Ranch Camp. Alumni, their wives, children and Notre Dame students attended. Danny Thomas is slated to be master of ceremonies at the football rally on Friday, November 25, at 8 p.m. in the Biltmore Hotel. Reservations may be obtained by contacting GENE CALHOUN, 704 South Spring St., Los Angeles—the price is $3 per person.

The annual retreat was held at Manresa Retreat House on the weekend of October 21. The annual sports dinner was staged on October 27 at Pabst Brewery.

Miami

The club held a rally on the day prior to the Notre Dame-Miami game at the Hotel Shelborne in Miami Beach. A reception and dance was staged on October 8 at 8 p.m. at the Hotel Shelborne.

Mid-Hudson Valley

The Notre Dame Club of the Mid-Hudson Valley recently elected the following officers: JOSEPH A. RORICK, '42, president; ANTHONY J. BUONO, '43, vice-president; JAMES J. FLANAGAN, '38, treasurer; and ANDREW D. HUFNAGEL, '36, secretary.

The club celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner in Kingston, N. Y. The principal speaker was the Rev. Anthony D. Botti, S.J., chaplain of the club. The club also held a picnic for the members' families on the grounds of the Cardinal Farley Military Academy, Rhinecliff, N. Y., on July 10.

The club plans a full program for the coming year including a Communion Breakfast and a Christmas dance. It also hopes to get a program of Catholic Action under way.

—ANDY HUFNAGEL, Secy.

Mohawk Valley

Our organization had a clambake on September 14, 1955, at August's Grove just outside the city of Utica.

The purpose of the bake was to have the undergraduates and the new students matriculating to Notre Dame as our guests and to have them meet with one another before returning to school.

We also had the fathers of the young lads at the bake and all had a most enjoyable evening.

MIKE MCGUIRL put the bake on for us. His son, Mike, Jr., was graduated in 1952. Young Mike is now in Syracuse studying for his Master's degree in social studies.

DICK BLOOM sent his regrets that he and his son and friend John Mackin could not attend. The two young fellows are entering ND this fall.

TONY GIRUZZI, the president of the club, was there, as was VIN FLETCHER, BOB FITZGERALD, FRANK DONALTY who is running for City Assessor on the Republican ticket, CHARLIE HITZELBERGER, RAMSY COLLIS, DR. FRANK MARINO, DR. DON GAVAGAN from Herkimer, CHARLES OTT, advertising manager of Munger's Store at Herkimer, LOU CLARK and yours truly.

DR. DAN SHAUGHNESSY could not attend because of the meeting at Herkimer. FRANK CONNORS and JIM CURTISS also sent their regrets as did BOB PURCELL and GEORGE RICHTER.

ED DENN, JIM MURPHY, BOB NICKNISH, BOB FLETCHER were among the undergraduates present and also present was a Burdick boy from Clinton who also enters ND this fall.

ART MCGEE of the class of 1932, stopped off in the city on the way to ND where his son, Tim, begins his sophomore year and his other son, Ned, enters as a freshman. Art is now manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance office in Meridan, Conn., and lives in Wallingford, Conn.

The affair was such a success that arrangements were made to have a similar affair on August 8, 1956.

The annual Communion Breakfast was discussed at the meeting and it is planned to hold the affair as we have always done in the past years.

Also was discussed the Christmas dance which the undergraduates hold annually and which all of the alumni attend. It is quite an affair and all are looking forward to it.

NICK DENN, father of Ed, now in attendance at ND and also of Jim, who is studying for the priesthood at ND, assisted us greatly in making the bake a success. ROY NICKNISH, JIM FLETCHER, CARROL MURPHY, JOHN BURDICK were among the fathers present.

—ED SWEENEY, Secy.

Muskegon

The club held a fall smoker on September 27 at the Doo Drop Inn. MIKE CORGAN showed pictures of Central Catholic's victory over Cadillac. About 20 members attended. BILL TARDANI was chairman in charge of the smoker.

Stephen Harvath is the recipient of the scholarship award. The committee composed of DR. RALPH AUGUST, GEORGE CANNON, JR., and J. FRANK OEHLHOFFEN made the selection on the basis of scholarship and need.

—LEO L. LINCK, Secy.

Naugatuck Valley

REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president, was guest speaker at a statewide alumni dinner held recently in the Waverly Inn, Cheshire. Three hundred alumni and guests attended the affair. Father Joyce cited improvements at the University and told those attending about the new television station which has been in operation since mid-July. Rev. John J. Sullivan was toastmaster while NORBERT HENEBERY served as chairman and JAMES J. SCIGLIANO was co-chairman. Introductory speaker was Rev. Terrence P. McMahon, executive editor of the Catholic Transcript. The Naugatuck Valley Club sponsored the dinner.

New Haven

Officers for the current year are: president, JOSEPH P. BURNS; vice-president, EDWARD A. BYRNE; secretary-treasurer, WALTER LEE. The board of directors is composed of JOHN A. WARNER, LAURENCE CULLINEY, DR. JOHN O'NEIL, JOSEPH BENOIT and JOHN ZDANOWICZ.

New Jersey

Officers for this year are: President: DR. PHILIP M. PROVISSIERO, '30; vice-president: ROBERT J. JOYCE, '30; Treasurer: ROBERT S. LARKIN, '45; Secretary: THOMAS R. FARLEY, '50.

On Monday, September 12, at the Military Park Hotel in Newark, the Club held its annual Freshman Welcome. This affair, always a success, is designed to allow matriculating freshmen to meet one another, and to briefly indoctrinate them on life at the campus. About 45 freshmen accompanied by their Dads attended, and were among the 150 present. The function was under the able direction of TOM GREEN.

DOC PROVISSIERO, Club prexy, welcomed the guests. HARVEY FOSTER, past president of the National Alumni, and presently in charge of the Newark F.B.I. office, related many points of interest on the physical and spiritual values of student life at Notre Dame. JOHN HOGAN of the Campus club, also spoke. In all, the affair was a good start for the club year.

Among those present, and seen by this reporter, were: ERNIE MASINI, JACK LONG, DAN HALLOREN, BOB JOYCE, JIM GILLIS, ELMER MATTHEWS, JERRY HALLIGAN, DOC HAYES, DAN O'NEIL, JOE BYRNE III, ART MULHERN, JIM SEBOLD, JACK PINDAR, PAUL HUSSAR, JACK KELLY, ED VON HOENE, JACK WINBERRY, DAN PARISI and ANGELO BERTELLI.

The club ran a train trip to the Penn game on November 5. The perennial co-chairmen, PETE QUINN and DAN O'NEIL, handled accommodations. This event is one of the mainstays of the Club treasury.

—TOM FARLEY, '50, Secy.

New Mexico

The Fall meeting of the Notre Dame Club of New Mexico was held on October 10 in Albuquerque. Plans were formulated for the Annual Communion Breakfast and for a club trip to the Notre Dame-Southern California game. Newly elected president LOU LUJAN, presided. Other officers elected at the summer meeting are: GEORGE A. SCHREIBER, Vice-President; WILLIAM P. HARVEY, Secretary; and FRANK P. HUDSON, Treasurer.

—WILLIAM P. HARVEY, Secy.

New Orleans

With the advent of the 1955 football season the Notre Dame Club of New Orleans sponsored a shrimp boil in late October. PETE HILBERT, our local president, was in charge of the affair.

Tentative plans have also been made to welcome the Notre Dame basketball team, defending Sugar Bowl Champions, by honoring them with a luncheon at Arnaud's Restaurant. Expectations are high that the luncheon will be just as successful as it was last year during the team's stay.

—EDWARD D. MCCARTHY, Secy.

New York City

The club enjoyed the third annual Notre Dame Night at Ebbets Field on June 28 and watched the Dodgers play the Giants. The golf outing was held on August 16 at the Ardsley Country Club in Westchester. Arrangements were in charge of WILLIAM TALBOT. The New York Club awarded the annual scholarship this year to Karl G. Mangold, Jr., White Plains, N. Y. The 1955 scholarship is in memory of the late WILLIAM R. DOOLEY, placement director at Notre Dame until his death last December. DANIEL P. HIGGINS, JR., was chairman of the committee.

FATHER THOMAS BRENNAN, C.S.C., Notre Dame's well-known philosophy professor, has accepted the club's invitation to be guest speaker at the Communion Breakfast to be held on December 11 at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Northern California

New officers elected on August 3 are: president, RICHARD J. AMES, '45; vice-president, JOHN TALLETT, '43; secretary, ED MANSFIELD, '34; treasurer, GEORGE P. SEALY, '48.

A dinner-dance sendoff party for Notre Dame students was held at Sabella's Restaurant in San Francisco on September 10. Other events on the club program include: October 15, All-Opponent get-together (Michigan State game); November 7, trip to the USC game; December, the Shrine dinner for East All-Stars; December 23, Christmas dance; February, pre-Lenten party; March, club retreat; April, UND Night; June, dinner-dance.

North Florida

The primary interest of the club's membership during the past few months has been our special train excursion trip to Miami for the Notre Dame-Miami football game. Our train departed from Jacksonville with an expected capacity crowd, on the morning of Friday, October 7, arriving in the Sunshine City early in the afternoon. Club President FRED J. RAHAIM, '31, and DICK BRODEUR, '50, worked diligently to make this activity a great success.

On September 9, our club played host to the Jacksonville area alumni of the 10 schools on the Notre Dame 1955 football schedule at a "Friendly Foe" Smoker. An encouragingly large and enthusiastic crowd, with representation of all schools, enjoyed a showing of the 1953 and 1954 football highlights, together with a lively discussion of past and future football events. The affair was held at Jacksonville's Hotel Roosevelt, and was so well received that we plan to make it an annual event.

Representatives of the club were present at the airport to meet the Chicago Bears' football team upon their arrival in town for an exhibition game with the Chicago Cardinals. We enjoyed very much renewing acquaintances with Notre Dame alumni on the Bears' team.

His many friends will be interested to know that CAPT. JOHN F. LANAHAN, USMCR, '43, was recently named Executive Officer of the 2nd Amphibian Tractor Company, a Marine Reserve Unit here.

—BILL KIRCHNER, Secy.

Oklahoma City

The Notre Dame Man-of-the-Year award which has not been reported previously in the ALUMNUS, was given to John Eberle, a Catholic lawyer who has been active in this area in fighting the principles of communism. He is a graduate of Oklahoma University. The club's Notre Dame Boy-of-the-Year program is being featured in another section of this issue.

The annual picnic was held on August 22 at the McFarland's country home. About 45 alumni, wives and children attended the affair. The chairman was CHARLES BRADLEY, '49.

—ED KAVANAUGH, Secy.

Peoria

The Peoria Notre Dame Club held a "going away" party on September 14 for those students presently attending school and also the new freshmen. Through the courtesy of FRANK H. MURPHY, '18, Public Relations Manager of Pabst Brewing Co., we were able to hold the meeting in the "Blue Ribbon" room of the brewery. DR. CLARENCE V. WARD, JR., '45, club president, welcomed the incoming freshmen and inducted them into the "Spirit of Notre Dame."

Plans for the coming year were discussed and chairmen appointed for each function. JERRY WOMBACHER, '51, club treasurer, was appointed chairman of the committee making arrangements for our Communion Sunday, December 11. LEO SCHRALL, '29, baseball coach and line coach at Bradley University, asked for the support of local Notre Dame alumni in attending Bradley's athletic events and was given the job of securing a block of basketball tickets for the Notre Dame-Bradley basketball game next winter.

Several of the alumni whom we had not seen in a long time were in attendance, including DR. PAUL ROARK, '37, and ROGER GUSTAFSON and DICK MASTERSON, who was with his son, Jim, an incoming freshman.

JOHN E. CASSIDY, SR., '17, was given a signal honor in being named to the Association of Trial Lawyers at a dinner in Washington, D. C.

—J. J. LANGTON, Secy.

Philadelphia

ATTENTION MEMBERS: Regular club meetings are held the second Tuesday evening of every month at 8:30 p.m. in the Philopatrian Club, 1923 Walnut Street.

The club was one of the first organizations in Philadelphia to be invited to inspect the new Bulletin plant. On July 26 we were shown how the largest evening paper in America is produced. The initial meeting of the current year was held on September 8 at the Robinson Chevrolet agency showrooms. This company sponsors the Notre Dame football games over the Irish Network. Refreshments were served by the agency to over 150 members and guests. Many undergraduates and freshmen were in the group.

Plans are being formulated before this magazine goes to press for the big rally and cocktail party to be held on the weekend of the ND-Penn game. The club is making plans for the annual Communion Breakfast to be held on December 11.

Three of the club officers, BILL BURNS, TOM DEMPSEY and the writer were guests at the University of Pennsylvania's Man-of-the-Year dinner in honor of Bert Bell, professional football commissioner.

—JOHN MOORHEAD, Secy.

Phoenix

The Notre Dame Club of Phoenix held its first meeting of the new season on September 15. Activities for the coming year, including the N.D.-S.C. game, were discussed.

—E. V. O'MALLEY, JR., Secy.

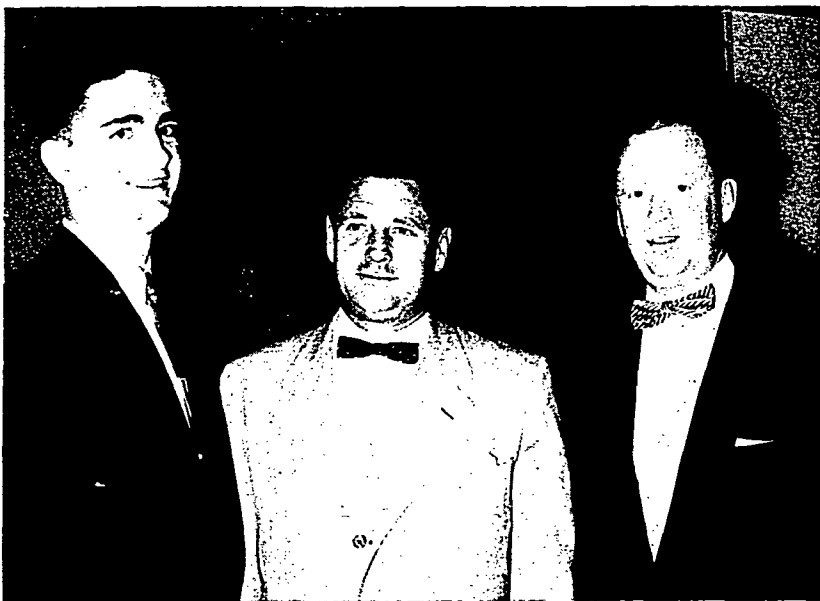

Pittsburgh

The annual Golf Outing of the Notre Dame Club of Pittsburgh was held on September 7 at the Butler Country Club, Butler, Pa. There were 79 people in attendance including members and their guests. GENE COYNE was once again chairman of this fine event, and did an exceptionally fine job. Smokey, as we all call him here, has been chairman of this event for the last several years, and each year the party gets better and better.

JOHN HUDAK presented a trophy for competition. The trophy will be known as the LEO D. O'DONNELL trophy, and will be given as a permanent remembrance to the person who wins the tournament three times. The first winner of this fine trophy was PAUL HUDAK who won a low gross of 75. The other winners were CHARLIE TOTTON with a gross of 78, John Hudak and CHARLES DILLON tying for low net with 74's. No handicaps will be mentioned here.

After a very fine golf day, the dinner served by the Butler Country Club was again one of the features of the outing. Prizes were given for many different golf events and also as door prizes.

NEW YORK CITY — The Notre Dame Club of New York has announced that its 1955 scholarship will be in memory of the late William R. Dooley, '26, former University Placement Director who died last December. Left to right: Karl G. Mangold, scholarship recipient; Daniel P. Higgins, Jr., Committee Chairman; and John A. Hoyt, Jr., Chairman of the Club's Trust Fund Committee.

Friends and members who donated prizes for this event were: ART ROONEY, President of Pittsburgh Steelers, BILL SCHNEIDER, VINCE SWEENEY, AL DIEBOLD, JOE AIKENS of Fort Pitt Brewing Company, FRITZ WILSON, BILL O'BRIEN, JERRY SULLIVAN and GEORGE KINGSLEY.

One of the highlights of the evening was the drawing for the winner of the raffle, prize for which was two tickets and an all-expense trip to the Navy-Notre Dame game. This fine prize was won by a Mr. James Finn, and needless to say, he will be rooting for Notre Dame that afternoon.

Among the sport celebrities who attended were Deacon Palmer, pro at the Latrobe Country Club and father of Arnold Palmer, former Amateur Champion of the United States, and Ottie Cochran, who at present is developer of young ball players, and official of various sports in this area.

This about takes care of this particular event. Needless to say, everyone had a very enjoyable time and Gene Coyne went home smiling and happy.

The Board of Governors and officers of the club recently met to confirm various dates and future events, and we are looking forward to a very full season from now until Universal Notre Dame Night.

—GEORGE KINGSLEY, Secy.

Rochester

We have a lot of ground to cover this time. A big event last spring was the appearance of the University's Concert Band in the Auditorium. President ROBERT ODENBACH appointed as co-chairmen JACK NYE DUFFEY, CHARLES O'BRIEN and representing the Ladies Auxiliary Mrs. PETER J. CONNELLY. The affair was assured success by BILL BELL heading the Patrons Committee. A lot of hard work was done by JACK HEAGNEY heading up a large ticket committee, LEO WESLEY handling publicity with JOHN BURKE and BILL O'TOOLE, AL ROCHE and JIM GLEASON the out-of-town and CHARLEY ZIMMER the Auditorium. Mrs. Connelly directed the Program aided by Mrs. CHARLES BRAGG, Mrs. CLARK WALLACE, Mrs. JOHN NOLAN and Mrs. LEE HASTINGS. Rosemary and DICK KLEE did a wonderful job with the reception. The food was supplied by the ladies of the Auxiliary. We also had help from Mr. and Mrs. RALPH MURPHY, whose son, John Murphy, played in the band and Mr. and Mrs. JOHN J. MOORE, whose daughter, Barbara, arranged for the usherettes from Nazareth College.

Universal Notre Dame Night was observed at the Rochester Club with TOM HIGGINS, VIC DeSIMON, WILLIAM HEAGNEY and CONNIE SKIPWORTH handling the details. The new officers were installed with BOB ODENBACH turning the gavel over to AL ROCHE. The new Vice-President is JIM GLEASON, JACK DUFFEY followed BOB SKIPWORTH as Secretary and LEO WESLEY continued as treasurer. JIM GLEASON, last year's Man-of-the-Year, made a very popular presentation of the 1955 Man-of-the-Year Award to RICHARD T. SULLIVAN. JERRY FLYNN, toastmaster par excellence, introduced REV. ALFRED MENDEZ, C.S.C., from the Campus, who gave us one of the best talks we ever had.

DAVE DAVIN, new president of the Campus Club, arranged for a summer meeting with the incoming students. The members did a good job of explaining campus background and customs and counselors were appointed for each of the new students.

CHARLEY O'BRIEN called a dinner meeting of the Foundation committee at Locust Hill this summer. JOHN S. MacCAULEY from the campus, reviewed the Foundation objectives for the year to contact as many alumni as possible.

JOE CATTALANI arranged for the Autumn Sports Dance at Brooklee Country Club. Then due to the death of his father, MARTIN LALLY took over the chairmanship.

Two members passed away this year: DONALD SCONFETTI after a long illness and CHARLES CROWLEY of Albion quite suddenly.

EUGENE MYLER married Shirley VanBilliard this summer and moved to California for a year. We are pleased to have JOHN WHEELER back with us.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held an election of officers at their September meeting. Mrs. PETER CONNELLY turned the leadership over to Mrs. RAYMOND MEAD. Other new officers are Vice-President Mrs. CLARK J. WALLACE; Secretary Mrs. JOHN R. (DICK) KLEE; Corresponding Secretary Mrs. JOHN HEAGNEY and Treasurer Mrs. JOSEPH GERAGHTY.

Rock River Valley

The club sponsored a football trip this fall to the ND-SMU game. About 100 alumni and friends were in the party. Club president BOB McDONNELL, JOE BITTORF, DON DEWEY and PAUL LONG helped to make arrangements for the trip.

St. Joseph Valley

The fourth Annual Monday Quarterback Luncheon Club had its first meeting at the Oliver Hotel on October 10, with TERRY BRENNAN as the principal speaker and 300 members in attendance. Other headliners for subsequent meetings are John Carmichael, Jack Brickhouse, "Biggie" Munn, Con McColl, humorist from Connorsville, Pa., BERNIE CRIMMINS, Stu Holcomb, "MOOSE" KRAUSE and BILL FOX. High school coaches from South Bend and Mishawaka comprised the All-American Board of Strategy, with a different coach appearing as a principal speaker at each session.

PAUL FERGUS is doing a fine job as chairman with help from PAUL NEVILLE, PAUL BOEHM, JOE DOYLE, VINCE DOYLE, JOE BOLAND and BOB HOLMES.

—JERRY HICKEY, Secy.

St. Louis

The Notre Dame Club of St. Louis started off its year of activities with the annual picnic held on July 31, at Leasure Lea in Chesterfield, Mo. Approximately 150 alumni and guests attended along with an equal number of children to enjoy a beautiful day in the country. Swimming and other organized contests filled the day's activities. The feature event of the day was the "hole-in-one" tourney. This event was won by our vice-president, GENE FEHLIG, when he dropped his shot 15 inches from the cup. The picnic this year was handled by DAN SULLIVAN, chairman, along with his committee of TOM McGUIRE and WARREN HELLRUNG.

The monthly alumni luncheons are being held the second Tuesday of each month at various locations throughout the city so that each month alumni that work in these localities will find it convenient to attend without taking a great deal of time away from their work.

On September 8 the Notre Dame Club of St. Louis gave its annual "Going to ND luncheon," in honor of the new freshmen entering ND and their fathers. Present students from the area were also invited as guests of the alumni. Approximately 100 people attended this affair. Features of the luncheon were short talks with words of advice from our present man of the year FRED McNEILL, the president of the St. Louis Club of Notre Dame, Al Vitt and from the chaplain of the club on campus, FATHER BOARMAN, C.S.C. Arrangements for this luncheon were handled by HENRY PAYNE with his committee of BOB TORRANCE and BOB HELLRUNG.

At the present time JOHN HUCKSTEP and his committee of GENE FEHLIG and BILL TOBIN are gathering information on all local alumni for the new roster which should be ready for publication early in November.

Our football trip for this year was the Navy game. GEORGE CONY, JOE GOLOBOWSKI and JACK GRIFFIN worked hard to promote this trip for the benefit of our scholarship program.

—JOHN F. HIGGINS, JR., Secy.-Treas.

Salina

New officers of the club include R. A. MAULIFFE, '36, president, and ALBERT J. SCHWARTZ, '37, secretary.

San Antonio

The club's annual picnic was held September 9 in the German Beer Garden, Lone Star Brewery, and a great time was had by alumni and guests.

San Diego

The Notre Dame Club of San Diego completed one of its most active summer programs on Sept. 25 with a picnic at Lindo Lake Park in nearby Lakeside. The picnic climaxed a schedule which included a Communion breakfast, a beach party and a retreat.

San Diego alumni and their families opened the summer activities on June 19 by attending Mass in a group at the Mission San Diego de Alcala, the senior link in California's chain of missions. Very Rev. James T. Booth, chancellor of the diocese of San Diego, celebrated the Mass. A patio breakfast for 32 followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. HARRY E. MONAHAN, JR., '50.

The Communion breakfast gave the club a chance for a quick business meeting at which time it was decided the club would not handle sale of tickets to the Notre Dame-Southern California football game in November. Thanks to Ticket Manager BOB CAHILL, a substitute plan was arranged so San Diego alumni and their friends could make direct application to the University for tickets.

After nearly crashing head-on into a municipal celebration, the club executed a dignified retreat to more secluded shores and held a successful beach party on July 24. PHILIP P. MARTIN, JR., '45, directed plans for the party assisted by JOHN SULLIVAN, '48, and BILL VANGEN, '49. About 50 adults and small fry attended the LaJolla Shores event.

A small group attended one of the regular summer retreats at Immaculate Heart Seminary in El Cajon on Aug. 12-14. Arrangements were made by R. JERRY McCARTY, '45.

WALT GEUDTNER, '50, did an encore as chairman of the club's annual picnic and handled the details of the September event at Lakeside.

Early in the summer Secretary HARRY MONAHAN prepared a new club directory. Final compilation showed 60 Notre Dame alumni registered in the San Diego area.

From a questionnaire returned by 39 alumni, the club conjured up the average Notre Dame alumnus in San Diego county: He is a 1946 graduate, married, father of two children and works for the Convair division of General Dynamics. (The directory lists 13 Convair employees as the largest career group.)

Old grads in San Diego had a chance to get caught up on campus doings this summer as several of the seven San Diego county boys now attending Notre Dame—which probably is some sort of record for this Southwest corner of the U. S.—participated in the club's summer activities.

—HARRY MONAHAN, Secy.

Sandusky

The Notre Dame Club of the vacationland area held a country picnic on the C. J. Ruffing farm, Norwalk, Ohio, on Sunday, July 24. Thirty families representing Sandusky, Oak Harbor, Port Clinton, Fremont, Bellevue, Clyde, and Norwalk attended. Activities of the afternoon featured a softball game between the alumni and their sons, and a badminton contest for the wives and daughters. Numerous games and contests were also conducted for the children. The festivities ended with food and refreshments.

Schenectady

Our big event this fall was the student sendoff party held September 10 at the Edison Club. Each year for the past five the alumni club has staged this affair to enable new students to meet the alumni. An exceptionally fine buffet supper preceded talks by FATHER HEINZER, C.S.C., club chaplain, and by DR. PHILLIPS, club president. BILL LEONARD served as chairman and toastmaster. About 15 new students from this area are starting their first year at the University.

A new C.S.C. priest has become a member of our club. FATHER LAMBOUR was recently transferred here by the community to assist at St. Madeleine Sophies Parish.

The club is planning the annual Communion Breakfast for December.

—TOM HOWLEY, Publicity Chairman

Southern Cook County

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of Southern Cook County, Illinois, has recently been organized and the officers are as follows: president, JOHN G. ZARANTE, '48; vice-president, WILLIAM E. MARTIN, '49; secretary, WILLIAM F. KELLY, JR., '52; treasurer, DONALD R. GRANT, '42; board of directors, DR. FRANCIS J. ARMBRUSTER, '30, and HARMON N. SPINA, '43.

Southwest. Connecticut

The club recently passed a resolution and presented a copy of it to the Bishop of Bridgeport for his constructive action in the building of new Catholic schools in this diocese.

Some of the members attended the state-wide alumni meeting held September 19 which featured FATHER JOYCE as principal speaker.

DICK SCANNELL, '38, club secretary, has moved to White Plains, N. Y., to form a new Lincoln-Mercury dealership. His position as club secretary has been filled by FRANCIS KOWALSKI.

—VINCENT A. GORMAN, M.D., Pres.

South Jersey

The club held a beach party on July 27 for alumni and families at Shipbottom-by-the-Sea.

Regular monthly meetings have been held at Kenney's Restaurant in Camden.

Tri-Cities

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of the Tri-Cities held their annual Family Picnic at the Springbrook Country Club, Dewitt, Iowa, on Saturday, June 25. JOHN BRAET, '50, was chairman for the picnic, which was attended by approximately 40 Notre Damers and their families.

The club's annual Fish Fry was held at Little's Grove, Davenport, Iowa, on Friday, August 19, and was attended by 150 persons. GEORGE VANDER VENNETT was chairman of this event. The two Notre Dame-Iowa football tickets which were raffled at the Fish Fry were won by JACK BUSH, '52.

The Notre Dame wives held a dance on October 21 at the Saddle Club Barn, Mt. Joy, Iowa. Mrs. WALTER DRAY was chairman of the dance.

Washington, D. C.

The Club held a regular membership meeting on Tuesday, June 7, at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel. Significant business of the evening was a presentation by the president, HOWARD J. SCHELLENBERG, JR., of the proposed program for 1955-1956. Through the courtesy of BILL GIBSON, local distributor for Miller High Life beer, and BILL McGLOON, area representative for the brewery, the membership enjoyed films of the 1954 Pro Football championship game.

The Annual Retreat at Holy Cross College from June 10th through June 12th was enjoyed by those able to attend. JOHN T. CASEY acted as chairman, and his committeemen were M. F. BAGAN, RICHARD M. COLASURD, TOM FLYNN, WALT GREER, CHARLES HELLMUTH and LARRY MOORE.

Monday, July 25, found many club members and guests enjoying the Annual Golf Outing at Kenwood Country Club. The 19th hole was enjoyed by all before being seated for dinner. The club felt particularly honored by having the Honorable PAUL M. BUTLER, Notre Dame Alumnus and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, act as toastmaster and guest speaker. Incidentally, Mr. Butler has not missed a Notre Dame home game for 37 years. Another interesting fact that he mentioned that evening was his encouragement to the University officials to permit political clubs on the campus to the end that the principles of Christian leadership should have a place in the field of politics. Chairman of the golf outing, DR. MATT SULLIVAN, presented trophies and other prizes to the following:

HAL RODDY, first low gross; WALT MURPHY, second low gross; DR. JIM CORCORAN, first low net; VAL DEALE, second low net; DR. GEORGE GREENE, longest drive; HOWARD J. SCHELLENBERG, JR., second longest drive; MIGGS REILLY (Catholic University basketball coach), third longest drive; DR. GEORGE GREENE, closest to hole; DON KENNEDY, second closest to hole; BOB D'ORSEY, most fours; NEIL O'BRYAN, most sevens. Among those winning door prizes were: TIGHE WOODS, SAM BORZILLERI, PAUL O'BRYAN (Neil's dad), BILL STURBITTS, CLIFF LETCHER.

Many of these prizes were of the liquid variety and were donated by BILL GIBSON, BILL McGLOON and ED FENLON. Assisting MATT SULLIVAN in arrangements for the successful outing were: NORM DUKE, JOE FITZMAUR-

ICE, BILL KLIMA, JACK LETHBRIDGE, BERNIE LIENHARD, NEIL O'BRYAN.

August 28 was the date of the Annual Family Picnic. It was held at Fort Hunt picnic area just south of Alexandria, Va., and was attended by approximately 200 people. Pony rides and games, supervised by JIM CURRAN, were the biggest attractions for the children. Other committeemen assisting Chairman BILL HOPKE were JODI STAVINOHA, DON STOCKING and JOHN BRADDOCK. The softball teams for the day were captained by ED FENLON and PAUL TULLY. The club president's father, Howard J. Schellenberg, Sr., was the recipient of a raffle prize donated by Ken Hanlon. The highlight of the day was towards the close of the picnic when Jim Curran lost his car keys but was not seriously inconvenienced since FATHER NEFF, Club Chaplain, was able to cross the wires, enabling Jim to drive.

On September 13 the club joined the Advertising Club of Washington in a "Welcome Home Luncheon" for the Redskins football team. Notre Dame, of course, is well represented in the Redskins by coach JOE KUCHARICH, RALPH GUGLIELMI, CHET OSTROWSKI and MIKE DAVLIN. Among local club members attending were HOWARD J. SCHELLENBERG, JR., BILL McGLOON, SAM BORZILLERI, GAYLORD P. HAAS, GEORGE HOWARD, DON KENNEDY, KEN HANLON, COL. McNALLY and JAMES P. O'LAUGHLIN.

At a general membership meeting of the Club on September 15 plans for the events of the coming year were reviewed by the president. This first Fall meeting was most interesting and attended by well over 100 members.

The Board of Governors meeting, presided over by Chairman VAL DEALE, was held on September 21 at which time club policies, etc., were reviewed by club officers and other members of the board.

The club once again sponsored a special train trip to Philadelphia for the Notre Dame-Pennsylvania game on November 5. Bill McGloon was chairman of the trip, and his committee included JIM CASEY, DAN DUGGAN, DON FIDLER, CHARLES HELLMUTH, FRANCES KEENAN, CHARLES KREBS and JACK McGRATH.

WHY NOT JOIN OTHER CLUB MEMBERS FOR LUNCH EACH TUESDAY AT 12:30 P.M. AT THE TOUCHDOWN CLUB, 1414 EYE STREET, N.W.?

West Virginia

The Notre Dame Club of West Virginia held its annual family picnic at Timberlake on August 25.

The arrangements were under the direction of president VINCE REISHMAN and MICHAEL O'CONNOR. Games for young and old were supervised by GENE RYAN.

—CORNELIUS T. DESMOND

Western Washington

The Notre Dame Club of Western Washington held its first fall smoker on October 18. BERT HALL served as chairman of the affair. Plans are already under way for the annual Communion Mass and Breakfast in December. Some of the alumni met recently at breakfast with PAUL BUTLER, '27, national Democratic chairman, when he visited Seattle.

—BERNARD J. LENOUE, Secy.

Youngstown

Fifty men attended a golf outing at the Trumbull Country Club, Warren, Ohio, on August 18. The group was a very representative one, composed of alumni, students, fathers of students and a few guests. LOU COLLERAN, LEE GARVEY, and JOE DRAY saw to all arrangements and did an excellent job. FRANK GUARNIERI, a student from Warren, helped with the chores. HAROLD VAN HUFFEL, also from Warren, was most helpful in securing the use of the Country Club for us. This was the first golf party in several years and really one of our high spots in the year's activity.

The club had a "small" gathering of students and alumni before the boys left for school. This affair needs more support and emphasis.

BILL LYDEN, JR., promoted an excursion to the Miami game the week of October 3. Round trip by air, several nights in a Miami Beach Hotel, and the game were all included in the package. The Athletic Department was very cooperative in this venture.

Monthly dinner meetings were resumed on October 20 at the Colonial House in Youngstown. Plans are being made to have this meeting held in Warren in alternate months.

FRANK MASTRIANA was quite ill with a heart ailment earlier this spring, but is now on his feet again.

BILL LYDEN, JR., and his wife, Donna, have added another "fullback" to their training table.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to CHARLIE BUTLER whose father passed away in Chicago recently.

Mack's son for the team. Mr. Foley was hit in the hip by a pitched ball during the season and became paralyzed. He suffered from the effects for the next 46 years and was confined to his home for the past 16 years. His wife, Marie Reyniers Foley, formerly of Mishawaka, Ind., died two years ago. Mr. Foley was one of the original St. Joe Hall occupants, having entered Notre Dame in the fall of 1909. He is survived by his son, James W., Jr., and three daughters, Eleanor, Antoinette and Mary Jo. A funeral Mass was held at St. Edward's Church in Chicago and burial was in Mishawaka, Ind.

BURT L. ROBERTS, '16, of Little Rock, died February 6. He had been instrumental in organizing Notre Dame alumni in Arkansas.

DELMAR J. EDMONDSON, '18, of Los Angeles, died there May 29. He received his master's degree from the University in 1921.

VICTOR S. MERSCH, '19, clerk of the United States Tax Court, died September 15. After two years at Notre Dame, he went on to Georgetown University; in 1929 he received his master of laws degree from George Washington University. Mr. Mersch was formerly register of wills for the District of Columbia and a member of the Georgetown law faculty.

HARRY A. RICHWINE, '20, South Bend lawyer, died June 23 after a sudden illness. Mr. Richwine received his LL.M. degree from Notre Dame in 1922. He was active in the Elks and in the American Legion.

D. WORTH CLARK, '22, former U. S. senator from Idaho, died suddenly June 19 in Los Angeles. He was 53. A Democrat, Mr. Clark was an Idaho representative in Congress from 1934 and senator from 1938 to 1944.

JAMES R. DOOLEY, '22, of North Andover, Mass., died June 9. He played first-string tackle for the Irish under Rockne in 1919-21, during which time the team won 28 games and lost only one. Mr. Dooley practiced law in South Bend from 1923 to 1929, then returned to North Andover and operated a coal concern.

DANIEL HULL, '22, former head of the Notre Dame Department of Physics, died recently. Born in 1860, Professor Hull came to the University in 1921, received a master of science degree in 1922 and remained on the faculty until 1935. During World War II, at the age of 82, he came out of retirement to teach mathematics to Air Force cadets at Notre Dame.

MICHAEL F. SEYFRIT, '23, prominent attorney in Carlinville, Ill., was killed instantly Sept. 1 in an auto accident near Bloomington, Ill. The car in which he was riding was struck head-on by one driven in the wrong lane by an inebriate. Ironically, Mike Seyfrit was a former director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety and had campaigned vigorously against drunken drivers. He served overseas in World War II with the Red Cross and was also active in the state government and the Democratic party.

CHARLES F. SOLLIO, '25, died recently. He was a lawyer from Moline, Ill.

MICHAEL A. NEEDHAM, '26, died June 13 of a heart attack in Sinton, Tex. He had been an auto dealer and city commissioner in Corpus Christi, had served on the Sinton City Council and at the time of his death held an auto dealership in Sinton.

ANTHONY J. MAUCIERI, '29, died Feb. 26. A legal counselor in New York City, he had attended Notre Dame from 1925 to 1927.

JOSEPH J. GAVIN, '31, was tragically killed on May 31 in Dayton, Ohio. Joe was conducting a business transaction in one of the city's banks when an armed bandit entered and shot him and another bystander. Joe died instantly. For a number of years Joe Gavin was head football coach at the University of Dayton. While a student at Notre Dame, he was captain of the basketball team and a member of the varsity football squad.

CHARLES SCHMIED, '31, of Columbus, Wis., died May 11.

JOHN C. COLE, '32, died July 3. He was manager of the Cole Brothers department store in Parsons, Kansas.

ROBERT J. BYRNE, '33, for many years a civilian field engineer at Fort George G. Meade, Md., died recently.

CYRIL P. ENTRUP, '33, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, was killed Aug. 10 in an automobile accident.

WILLIAM J. MARTERSTECK, '33, was accidentally killed July 23 in Hollywood, Fla. He was electrocuted while using an electric edger. Mr. Marterstick served overseas during World War II as a Naval Reserve officer.

JOHN GRAHAM DOWLING, '34, was killed June 17 in the crash of a Brazilian airliner in Paraguay. A veteran newspaperman, he was "Time" magazine's bureau chief in Buenos Aires. As a war correspondent he had covered the Asian fronts for The Chicago Sun from 1941 to 1948. He joined "Time" in 1950 and managed its Singapore bureau before being transferred to South America. He was the son of actor Eddie Dowling.

HOMER E. STRICKLER, '36, editor of "Flagship News," an American Airlines publication, and formerly assistant city editor of the New York Sun, died of cancer in Freeport, N. Y., September 26 after a long illness. During World War II he was a war correspondent for the Sun in Europe, where he covered the Nuremberg trials after the war. He was a brother of George Strickler, assistant sports editor of the Chicago Tribune.

C. DONALD SCONFETTI, '37, an accountant in Rochester, N. Y., died May 24.

WILLIAM R. CROWLEY, '41, of Beaumont, Tex., died July 16 of electrical shock from an electric saw while working on his new home. He was a stevedoring and steamship agent for the P. C. Pfeiffer Co., Inc., and an active member of the Knights of Columbus.

The remains of CURTIS J. KIESLING, '49, were returned to Chicago July 20 for a military funeral. As reported in an earlier ALUMNUS, Marine Corporal Kiesling was killed in action Nov. 28, 1950, in North Korea while on a volunteer mission, for which he was posthumously awarded the Silver Star and the Purple Heart.

CAPT. THOMAS DAEMS, class of 1950, a student at Notre Dame in 1946-47, was killed in the crash of his jet plane at a gunnery show at Nellis Field, Las Vegas, September 30. Funeral services were held in his home town, Bozeman, Mont., and burial was in Arlington Cemetery on October 10. Word was received from RICHARD NASH, '23, whose son, Jack, was Tom's roommate at Notre Dame.

DAVID F. KENNEDY, '52, was killed in a jet plane crash near Las Vegas July 18. Entering the Air Force after his graduation, Dave, a native of Minneapolis, served in Korea and in Okinawa. He had been a flight leader, adjutant and gunnery instructor at Nellis A.F.B. in Nevada following his overseas duty. His F-86 Sabrejet crashed on Timber Mountain after making a firing pass at a gunnery range.

GEORGE W. DESMET, '53, was killed June 5 in the crash of a single-engine attack bomber from El Toro Marine Base. He was pilot of the plane, returning from a routine cross-country instrument and training flight when the accident occurred. He was the son of Louis DeSmet, '23.

FOSTER PAKCARD, '54, a Navy diver, was accidentally killed in July.

Two Notre Dame undergraduates, PHILIP L. VEESART of Chicago and CHESTER A. WYNNE, JR., of Oak Park, Ill. (son of Irish grid star Chet Wynne, '22), were killed in an airplane crash at Chicago's Midway Airport July 17.

HOMER Q. EARL, South Bend attorney and associate professor of law at Notre Dame from 1929 to 1942, died June 23 after a sudden illness. He had for many years been prominent in Republican politics in the South Bend area.

In a letter to REV. CHARLES M. CAREY, C.S.C., prefect of religion at Notre Dame, comes this reminiscence from a student who scaled the heights at the University to make a permanent name for himself. Writes C. S. MITCHELL, '94, of La Ward, Tex., about an incident that took place in September, 1892:

"... Some six or seven of us students ran a race to see who could reach the top of the steeple (then under construction) before it was closed in. I won, and one FRANK BOLTON handed me a soft black pencil, and I marked our names, and date, on a smooth timber—200 feet up. Mine leading, of course, so I could claim the honor, and truthfully so, that my name C. S. MITCHELL, stood higher at Notre Dame than any other man who ever went there, not excepting the founders themselves. I guess the record still stands. Ahem!"

Too late for the July ALUMNUS was this note from DANIEL L. MURPHY, Peoria, Ill.:

"Dear Mr. Armstrong:

"The medal commemorating our 50th Reunion was duly received. . . .

"I'm glad I can say I regard it not merely attractive and impressively complete in every detail of design, but as well a gracious, dignified token with which the University through the Association so becomingly marks the occasion.

"I assure you and, through you, all who are in any way responsible that it will always be treasured for all that it symbolizes. As an aside I might add an appreciative daughter has already asked that I make it a specific item in my will. . . ."

CHARLES T. McDERMOTT writes from his home at 431 S. Pine St. in Santa Maria, Calif.:

"Dear Mr. Armstrong:

"I want to thank you for the very fine class pin of '05 you sent me. I shall always treasure it.

"I was very sorry I could not get back for the reunion but it was impossible; however, I think I will be able to get back to Notre Dame some time this fall to take in a few football games. . . ."

An operation kept GEORGE M. MAYPOLE of Lake Villa, Ill., from attending the reunion, much to his regret, reports his wife. He will be convalescing for some time, she adds, "and a prayer will help."

LOUIS J. SALMON of Neversink Rd., Liberty, N. Y., writes:

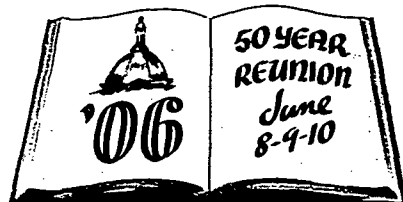

"Dear Jim:

"The medal arrived and it is really beautiful and I like having it very much. . . .

"I would like very much to see Notre Dame again and a visit with old classmates would be like a tonic. However, I will not be able to make the reunion."

ED STORY was a visitor in the Alumni Office on July 18. Ed is one of those ND men who have quietly and modestly built the Notre Dame spirit in the world away from the campus.

For many years he was active in the hotel business in Elk City, Okla. "The Five Story Hotel That Is Two Stories High." Recently, with enough Storys to carry on, Ed retired. But only from the active hotel business.

He travels extensively, in this country and Europe, taking color photographs that, on slides, bring entertainment and culture to many fraternal, civic and religious groups. The Church gains from the rich understanding of the national and international churches and shrines which are a part of Ed's trips.

But possibly the most significant among the modest enterprises which came from a casual conversation—and a possible example for other alumni and Churchmen—was the fact that from September to the Easter holidays, Ed Story teaches three regular classes in the parochial school, without salary, as a personal gift to God and his fellow men. Quite a Story in himself.

WILLIAM E. COTTER, JUDGE WILLIAM J. GRANFIELD, BYRON HAYES, HARRY J. KIRK AND JAMES W. O'HARA.

WILLIAM E. COTTER received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at St. Michael's College's recent Golden Jubilee commencement. The citation read in part:

"William Edward Cotter, distinguished graduate of the Law School of the University of Notre Dame, few members of your profession have given so much of their time and their talents to serve without recompense the demands of Church and country. You have been an intelligent and progressive leader in almost every conceivable effort to relieve human misery and to promote the civic and cultural advancement of your fellow-citizens of all races and creeds."

Mr. Cotter, counsel for Union Carbide and Carbon Corp. and a Papal Knight, was cited further for his "voluntary service as counselor to a half-dozen American colleges and universities and for the extraordinary range of your contributions to American culture."

REUNION REGISTRANTS
THOMAS B. CURRY AND POYNTELLE DOWNING.

It's no secret that Notre Dame graduated an unusual number of talented and successful lawyers in '14. TIM DOWNEY and CHARLES FAHY are on the Federal bench; RAY MILLER heads up one of Cleveland's outstanding law firms; TOM CURRY at Hartford, POYNT DOWNING at Decatur, BILL CUSACK at Los Angeles, SIM FLANAGAN whose International practice takes him all over the world, ED LARNEY at Chicago, FRANK HOGAN at Fort Wayne, JIM ROBINS, Mayor of Nogales, and WALT CLEMENS of South Bend and the State of Kentucky have all distinguished themselves, and their class.

Now comes word that CHARLIE VAUGHAN of Lafayette has just won a bitterly-contested libel suit, and a judgment for $100,000, against a government contractor who allegedly libeled Charlie's law firm. We saw Charlie a day or two ago and he was very happy; his only regret that room couldn't be found at ND for his son, also studying law.

By natural corollary, some of today's top engineers, architects, scientists and scholars must be '14 graduates. Let's have their names, and we'll help spread their fame!

TWOMEY CLIFFORD is coming from Camden, Arkansas, for the Purdue game. We forgot to mention that Twomey attended the class reunion a year ago; he seldom misses.

FATHER MATTHEW WALSH, our beloved Chaplain, recently attended a Cleveland dinner which brought together many men of our day, including RAY, WALT, DON and JERRY MILLER, HUGH O'NEILL, STAN COFALL, JOE SMITH, GENE KANE, JIM DEVITT, PETE CHAMPION and others.

Keep news of '14 coming in, a postcard will do it!

(Ed. Note: Ron O'Neill, being the modest pro that he is, failed to mention that he received a Master of Arts degree in English at Notre Dame's summer school commencement. Up to now at least, Ron hasn't demanded that the Alumni Office change his class-year from '14 to '55.—John Cackley.)

REUNION COMMITTEE:

ED FOLEY—Chairman

JOE BYRNE, JR. RAY J. KELLY
AL KUHLE LD KEESLAR
HARRY MORLEY JIM SANFORD

The committee, under the able chairmanship of ED FOLEY, turned in an excellent job and judging from the letters received by the members, our attendance would have been doubled had not circumstances beyond their control prevented others from coming. I wish we could print all the letters but space will not permit so we will do our best to choose a few excerpts so that all the members will continue their interest and return to Notre Dame in 1960 or before, whenever possible.

GEORGE N. SHUSTER—"I have read your message about the reunion with profound nostalgia. . . . This occasion coincides with the peak of our academic year so cannot get away. Please extend my very best wishes to all those who do come."

ART CARMODY made it, thanks to his "prayers to the ghosts of Sorin, Corby and Farley." He also wrote "the mention of Fathers Walsh, Schumacher, Steiner, Doremus, Healy, Irving and many others is enough for one to begin a long hitch hike back to the University."

JIMMY MATTHEWS—"I can't make it this year according to my doctor . . . nothing too wrong but I want to make it in 1960."

HAROLD MADDEN—"Those same three days my youngest son is getting a Ph.D. at Michigan. How I would like to see the old 1915 bunch. By the time some of my 17 grandchildren get to ND I may make it."

JIM LAWLER—"Believe me I am heartstuck for I have been looking forward to the reunion for months. I underwent serious surgery at Rochester, Minn., and am not up to making the trip. Will you please extend to all present, classmates and clergy my kindest regards."

ALVIN BERGER was unable to come; he had written, "I intend to be there to see the oldsters of our day and tell them—you're looking well—you don't show your age—where is the fount of youth?"

EMMET LENIHAN—"Unfortunately I have a case set for trial June 7 which we were unable to continue. Please express my regrets and give personal regards to all the faithful."

LARRY LAJOIE—"Please convey to all the fellows my deep regrets and my sincere hope that we will meet soon again."

OWEN MURPHY—"Looking forward to the reunion with delight." But he could not be present. Likewise HARRY MORLEY who served as a member of our committee. JOE BYRNE, due to the sudden illness of his wife, had written that he could not come but was able to spend a few hours on the campus and then hurry back to his wife's bedside.

FATHER PAT DOLAN from St. Bernard's Church was able also to join us for a few hours.

BOB ROACH—family bereavement and business responsibilities prevented him from attending. He had written, "I have recently been appointed Notre Dame Foundation Governor for Iowa which gives me an additional incentive to spend several days at Notre Dame." We missed him greatly.

RAY KELLY wrote a few days after the reunion, so we will close with his beautiful letter, which expresses eloquently the sentiments of those who came and those, living and dead, whose spirits surrounded us during those previous days.

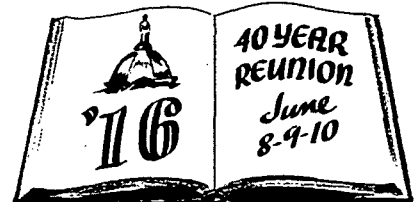

"You asked for a short letter to give you my impression of our 40th Reunion at Notre Dame this past week end.

"Well, Jim, I have tried to find an expression to describe the splendid three-day Reunion of our Class of 1915. The best I can do is to describe it as 'a Fellowship Retreat.'"

"Although we attended Mass each morning and received Our Lord in Holy Communion, the gathering was in no sense a religious retreat. While we, of course, also gathered much peaceful comfort from our visits to the many sacred spots which inspired our youthful days at Our Lady's University—the Grotto, the Main Church, the Chapels and all the rest—the outstanding feeling which will remain with me was the joy I experienced in just meeting together with my fellow classmates and reviving once more many almost forgotten memories of our happy, youthful, student days; the pleasure we got from just being together once more and for a few short days gazing in retrospect through the stained glass windows of Life, contemplating our 40 years of struggle with the problems of the world and reliving our fondest memories of those early days with those who shared them. "That, Jim, is my picture of our 'Fellowship retreat.' May God spare us all 'til we meet again."

The other day I happened by chance to pick up a copy of the DOME and was astounded to see how handsome everybody was at the time.

We learn belatedly with regret of the passing of HERBERT C. HELLRUNG on November 6, 1952.

Word just came to us that he died of a heart attack. Herbert was at Notre Dame with us, but left to enter the armed forces before graduation. His home was in Alton, Ill. His many friends will join in extending their sympathy to the family, and we will all remember him in our prayers.

JAMES P. LOGAN, P.H.B. in journalism, is now executive vice-president of Mountain States Employers Council, Inc. of Denver. He is making a success of his business and raising a fine family. Jim reports he has three daughters and one son, but most important, eight grandchildren. His father, a real old timer (80 years in Denver), passed away July 3 at the age of 96. We join with the family in our prayers for a fine pioneer. (Ed. Note: Jim Logan is a "Spotlight Alumnus" featured in this issue. J.C.)

By the way, we wrote 30 letters to get news. Responses, two, plus six returned—moved, no address. Are we getting too old to care?

CHET GRANT has moved—chronologically, at least. He's found a home in the Class of 1920. Chet explains his travels in time this way:

"By my request, based on what process of reasoning I don't recall, Jim Armstrong recorded me as of the '21 class—a sort of compromise between the fact that the spring of 1922 was my fourth at Notre Dame, but my first dated back to 1916, and I had never been graduated. Belatedly, it occurred to me that the 1920 class would include more mates who took time out for the war as I did. So—"

Welcome, Chet, welcome. Our regrets to the Classes of 1921 and 1922. (See '22 Class Notes.)

For the 1922 section of the ALUMNUS this time we are going to publish two letters from classmates. This first is from TOM S. McCABE, addressed to your secretary, which reads as follows:

"Just finished reading the ALUMNUS and your customary contribution. I had hoped before this that you would have been recalled from the outpost of civilization in St. Paul to take charge of the Chicago Office of your firm. Each year I work harder and harder at that place in Elmhurst (Illinois) trying to get it in shape for your promised inspection and keep thinking—Well, the Kid will surely be here this year, and the years go on and you have not yet shown. Believe me, G.A., it is discouraging to get out there and dig out the dandelions and shine up the brass on the front door and to cut, curry and shampoo that lawn, to water the onion patch and still no Ashe. After all, I am not getting any younger. Why don't you slide down to Chicago some weekend? I can promise you that I will produce at least a half-dozen members of '22 to greet you, viz—HAROLD McKEE, JERRY DIXON, JOHNNY RAHE, CHET WYNNE and maybe even BIG BRUCE HOLMBERG. We have ample accommodations now that young Tom has snipped those apron strings, or at least, stretched them far. He is now a lieutenant in the Marine Corps, assigned to the First Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and living in San Clemente, so he does not get home many weekends. Let me know in advance so I can 'round up' the boys."

Col. Sherwood Dixon, '20, U.S. Army, Retired, (Center), admires the award received by his son, Henry L. Dixon, at Ft. Campbell ROTC Summer Camp. Henry is a senior at Notre Dame. Accompanying Sherwood was Major-General Harry Bolen, U.S. Army, Retired, former commander of the 44th Infantry Division.

Many thanks to you, Tom. Be assured I am anxiously awaiting that next Chicago visit with you and all of my other '22 classmates thereabouts.

The second letter promised for publication was written by FRANK OTT from Herkimer, N. Y., to AARON HUGUENARD, our class president, who resides in South Bend. Frank writes under letterhead of H. G. Munger and Company, Inc., as follows:

"Dear Aaron:

"BE IT KNOWN:

"—that I was flattered to read in our class notes that you had carried a thought of me up into the Land of Lakes of Minnesota;

"—that our worthy Secretary was proven a true Son of '22 with on-the-spot-information as to my address;

"—that I am following his directive and writing to you;

"—and that I consider the directive so important (written with a capital "I," you note) that I am having this letter delivered by special messenger (blonde) to the law sector in South Bend and deposited in a mail box not too far from your swivel chair and Blackstone. You will note the South Bend postmark, in evidence.

"At this point, I am not sure whether I should pursue the blonde introduced in the paragraph above or just let the whole thing hang with any number of conclusions for you to choose from. I'll take it under advisement.

"At any rate, it was something like 18 months ago (correction—30 months ago) that you gathered at the Weber Hacienda and polished the golden dome again, being the 30TH ANNIVERSARY OF OUR CLASS. That was the time I was going to put your name in nomination for governor and DR. MANION's name for the Supreme Bench.

But duties left me stranded on the banks of the Hudson while you were threading your way along the banks of the St. Joe to the Diamond Lake Ranch.

"Then I wrote that I would stop and see you on my way to California in the summer of '33. Now this brings me to the tough going (long pause to consider an easy way out).

"I'll have to say that I did get into South Bend one hot summer day; that I encamped at the Morris Inn and rushed on with Mrs. Ott to keep a date in Chicago and get the Vista Dome to the golden state, taking with me a resolution to 'see Aaron' on my return.

"That brings me to ANTHONY JACKSON, one of the boys over in Brownson, in a sailor uniform. He was the first fellow I met when I slinked into Notre Dame in 1918. I was a lone wolf from the Ohio watershed, but Jackson was with his dad. I met him at the gravel walk by the post office, and together we three marched on the Administration Building and a new era. He belonged in our class, but scarlet fever, which along with the flu, was running right and left, got him and he dropped back a year.

"(You can see the length I am taking to work up a case for myself; you can see also I am going to need a good lawyer to do it.)

"Continue: Now Jackson had taken to himself a Mishawaka blonde (Hilda Van Der Walle, if I remember rightly) and in a period of '30 years had 6-11ths of a football team and 3 St. Mary's cheerleaders, while I had only one daughter who had run afoul and went to St. Rose of Albany, which is practically next door to the Brothers of Holy Cross who run St. Vincent's Institute . . . and is also the headquarters of Father Peyton.

"I thought I should talk this whole thing over with Jack and Hilda, so we arranged a 30-year meeting at the Inn . . . just the four of us . . . no kids around.

"And that's how I missed out on your call I had looked forward to. Of course it doesn't excuse me in any way. In the back of my mind I had heard of what heights you had reached, and I hesitated to break into your family circle of an evening, because I wasn't downtown in South Bend to drop into your office.

"However, be it resolved . . . come California

REV. JAMES B. CORRIGAN, S.J., '35

New president of Campion Jesuit High School in Prairie du Chien, Wis., is the Very Rev. James B. Corrigan, S.J., '35. Father will also serve as rector of the 51-member Jesuit community at the well-known boys' academy.

Four years after earning his A.B. degree in journalism at Notre Dame, Father Corrigan entered the Society of Jesus at Florissant, Mo. He received his master's degree in history from St. Louis University in 1945 and was ordained in 1949.

He was assigned to retreat work during the next two years and in 1951 was appointed assistant principal of St. Louis University High School. He was principal there for the past two years.

Father's appointment to Campion brings him closer to his native Milwaukee where his mother and two sisters still reside. Father Jim's twin brother, John, also a 1935 N.D. graduate, lives in Philadelphia with his wife and twin daughters.

At Campion, Father Corrigan succeeds the Rev. Augustine F. Giunta, S.J., who was named first director of the year-old Wisconsin province. Father Jim's appointment was made by the Very Rev. John Baptist Janssens, S.J., Jesuit superior general.

Campion has an enrollment of 490 boarders and 35 day students. Among its alumni are many Notre Dame men.

again, I will stop and check your weight. "And you, too, don't miss this Beautiful Mohawk Valley where that history Prof. Manion so well taught us, was made. I could give you a beautiful whirl in this part of the country.

"While I still live in ALBANY AT 233 S. MAIN AVENUE, I have been up here in Herkimer about a year, and commute on the Thruway about three times a week (75 miles in 75 minutes). Am still doing the advertising and promotion work, and in addition am merchandising ready-to-wear, and look after a branch store at Boonville. This store here is a little gem; a one-karat compared to Robertson's four-karat, but a perfect blue-white.

"Just at the next door is DR. GAVAGAN, a Notre Dame lad who is going to fill my tooth in one hour and 15 minutes. DR. O'SHAUGHNESSY is just around the corner, another ND'er. And the Notre Dame Club here at Utica is a live one. Had a Communion Breakfast last Sunday. So you'll be right at home when you get into your Cadillac, turn right onto route 20, pick up the Thruway at Depew, N. Y., and come to Exit 30, Herkimer or Exit 26, Albany.

"Now, having considered the matter of the blonde, I will put the third sheet of paper into the ancient Remington No. 12 of the Teddy Roosevelt vintage, and tell you that she is our millinery buyer who was born in Niles and who used to lead the hat parade at 'good old Ellsworth's' (with one or two I's). This will give you an idea that she began to star in the time of Rockne, and carries nothing of the double threat of Marilyn. Your letter is safe in her hands and I expect it to reach its destination via Pacemaker just before you close the law books, sign the last brief, and pack up to go home to Christmas.

"Excuse my errata. I couldn't very well put this letter in the hands of the secretary, so I had to let the Remington carry on."

Your secretary had a very fine visit with DAN YOUNG and wife Loretta up at their home located at Hoyt Lakes, Minn. For information of those who have not previously heard about it, Dan is general manager for Foley Brothers Construction Company, which is building for Erie Mining Company a taconite project at cost of $300,000,000 to process low grade iron ores for the Pickens Mather financial group. Construction includes a huge taconite plant near Aurora, Minn., a harbor on Lake Superior, a railroad approximately 90 miles long connecting the plant and harbor, power plants, and highways. The Dan Youngs are having a son graduated from St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia this June and they are hoping to be present for the occasion.

Earlier we mentioned that we were going to publish two letters from classmates. Well, here is an added starter fresh from the pen of FRANK BLOEMER of Louisville, written in late May. Frank says:

"Will you please excuse the formality of this letter. I am down at the office early this morning as our Notre Dame Club of Kentucky is going to take off today for our annual retreat at Gethsemani and I do want to catch up on a lot of my long overdue correspondence.

"I was all wrong about the date in South Bend that I spoke about in my last letter. I had forgotten that they now separate the graduation and the reunion programs. Tommy, our daughter Ruth's husband, will get his degree on June 5. He finished in February his engineering course but they are going back to the graduation and I am quite certain that the proud mother-in-law and father-in-law are going to be present.

"I was on the campus last Saturday with a Louisville lad, in fact a cousin of Tommy's, who is quite a basketball player. He graduates this year from one of our Louisville high schools. I feel sure he is going to select Notre Dame to further both his academic and athletic career, and I do hope that he will make a very good man for JOHNNY JORDAN. JOEY VIVIANO stands 6 feet five inches tall and is very aggressive on the basketball court and carried away All-State honors this year, which should give him quite a nice recommendation, and Johnny was very happy to hear that he was interested in Notre Dame.

"I see CORNIE and ED PFEIFFER quite regularly and always they ask to be remembered to you, and all of us hope in the not too distant future your work will bring you into Louisville for a stay so that we can have a few old-time get-togethers. Lots of good luck, Kid, and remember all of us in your prayers."

Many thanks to you, Frank, Eddie and Cornie. Nothing on the present horizon seems to indicate an early visit to Louisville, but stranger things have happened and I eagerly await that next trip to Louisville. EDDIE GOTTRY said you all were wonderful to him on the occasion of his recent visit. By the way, Eddie is now back in New York City and his address is the Hotel George Washington.

Other news from 'Twenty-twos: the E. BRADLEY BAILEYS married off their daughter, Joan, to Patrick Joseph McCormick, II, October 1 in Jenkintown, Pa. . . . J. C. WALTER has been made manager of communications engineering of the Engineering Products Division, Radio Corporation of America. . . . FRANK B. BLOEMER, JR. has resigned as president of the Bloemer Food Sales Company in Louisville—he continues as a director—to launch a food brokerage business. Frank would like to hear from anyone with a tip that might lead to a good brokerage account in the Louisville market. His new business address is Frank B. Bloemer Jr. Co., Inc., 915 S. Seventh St., Louisville 3, Ky.

We learn with much sorrow that two of our classmates have died recently—HON. D. WORTH CLARK, former U. S. senator from Idaho who had moved this year from his native Idaho to Los Angeles, and JAMES R. DOOLEY of North Andover, Mass. As this is being written, we do not have any details concerning Jim Dooley's death. We of '22 are very sorry to lose these fine men, and we do tender our loving sympathy and prayers to the widows and families of the deceased.

FRANCIS NEITZEL, '23, of Boise, Idaho, a long-time friend and schoolmate of Worth Clark, very thoughtfully sent us details of Worth's death. He tells us that Worth died June 19 in his 53rd year at his Los Angeles home of a massive coronary thrombosis. His wife, Virgil, and daughter, Dorothy, were with him at the time.

Worth was born in Idaho Falls and was graduated from Notre Dame and Harvard Law School. He practiced law in Pocatello and was assistant attorney general of Idaho before going to Washington to serve two terms as congressman.

He was elected to the U. S. Senate in 1940. Four years later, Worth lost the Democratic nomination to Glen Taylor; he won from Taylor in the 1950 primary only to lose to Republican Senator Herman Welker in the general election.

Worth at the time of his death held financial interests in radio stations KGIL, Van Nuys, Calif.; KJRS, San Francisco; KULA, Honolulu, and also in a Las Vegas bank.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, Virgil, and daughter, Dorothy, are his mother, Mrs. Nellie Clark of Boise, and two married daughters, Mrs. Thomas Barber of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. William Wurzbarger of Baltimore.

Possibly by the next issue CHARLES "CHUCK" CROWLEY of greater Boston, who was a close friend and football teammate of Jim Dooley, will have furnished details concerning Jim's recent doings and death. We personally knew Jim in his ND campus days as a very fine gentleman. We regret that we had not visited with him since our 25th-anniversary class reunion at ND.

Every member of our class was shocked to hear the very sad news of the death of CHESTER A. WYNNE, JR., age 21, of Oak Park, Ill.

Young Chet, a law senior at Notre Dame, was returning from a southern Air Force base where he had served with his R.O.T.C. unit, when he was killed in an airplane accident July 17 at the Chicago airport.

We tender our sincere sympathy to the sorrowing parents and also to the parents of another ND boy, PHILIP VEESART, who was traveling with the younger Wynne and was killed in the same accident.

Congratulations to Mrs. CHARLES J. HIRSHBUHL of Portland, Ore., for the arrival of her fourth grandson on May 26. The proud parents, whom we also felicitate, are the Bradley Quinns of Fresno, Calif. Mrs. Hirschbuhl, better known as Pat, reported a grand Spring visit to La Paz, Mexico, where the marlin were biting. Also, she greatly enjoyed graduation exercises and dinner at the University of Portland.

REV. GEORGE FISCHER, C.S.C., reports a very enjoyable reunion in Syracuse, N. Y., with LEO KELLY and GEORGE "DUKE" KINNEY. DR. HENRY S. ATKINSON and wife, Evelyn, made a telephone report to your scribe this Summer of a Green Bay, Wis., visit by DR. and Mrs. DANIEL SEXTON of St. Louis, who were motoring to northern Wisconsin for a vacation-period stay.

By the way, HEARTLEY "HUNK" ANDERSON seems to have lost none of his know-how and cunning in developing first-class football lines, as witness the wonderful performance of the All-

Star college team in their mid-August battle with the Cleveland Browns. Hunk, Curley Lambeau and others did exceptionally well in their coaching assignment.

Congratulations to MR. and Mrs. EDWIN J. BYRNE of Natchez, Miss., upon the occasion of the marriage of their daughter, Sarah Ilene, to Mr. Joseph Peyton Parker of Monroe, La., on June 11 in St. Mary's Cathedral in Natchez. The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy, Cullman, Ala., and of Louisiana State University, where she majored in elementary education. The bridegroom was graduated from L.S.U. Law School in January '55 and is now practicing law in Baton Rouge. We heartily congratulate the Joseph Parkers and send our best wishes.

There were also wedding bells ringing down Jenkintown, Pa., way when Joan Regina Bailey, daughter of the E. BRADLEY BAILEYS, was married to Mr. Patrick Joseph McCormick II in the Church of the Immaculate Conception on October 1. The wedding breakfast was held in the Curtis Arboretum, Wyncote, Pa. Congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds and special regards to the mother and dad of the bride—Joan and Ed have raised and reared a wonderfully large family.

MICHAEL F. SEYFRIT of Carliaville, Illinois, was killed September 1 in an automobile accident. Details are given in his obituary at the beginning of the Class Notes section of this ALUMNUS.

Mike was prominent in Illinois Democratic party politics and had held positions as president of the Macoupin County Bar association, state chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, state public safety director, and the state parole and pardon board. He is survived by his wife, the former Helen R. Clifford. They had no children.

A postcard from Paris, France, came many weeks ago from HARRY FLANNERY. Harry wrote: "Wonderful trip—first time in company with Ruth and Pat. Been to Italy, Germany, Austria. Ahead are England, Scotland, Ireland." Harry is editor of the weekly AFL News-Reporter in Washington.

The KEN KRIPPENE Kronicle is rapidly assuming the status of a private file folder in my desk, as further mail and incidents are added. LYLE MILLER wrote in May to let me know that "Ken and his wife, Jane, were waiting for me at my office last Friday noon and much to the surprise of all, I called him by name after all these years . . . they were on their way to Chicago from Miami for a lecture tour and then headed west to Hollywood, where their new picture 'Green Hell on the Amazon' is to be produced."

Then there was in August, a lengthy letter from TOM LEAHY, North Miami reator:

"I read your notes about Ken Krippene and I wrote to him at the Miami address you gave. As a result he and his wife called at my office a couple of weeks ago and we had a nice visit. . . . He informed me he plans to stay in Miami for a couple of months more and then go on a lecture tour through the East during the winter months. . . . I invited Ken to attend the next meeting of the ND Club of Greater Miami. . . . He promised to show some motion pictures of the jungle at a meeting in the near future. . . . He told some rather tall tales about tall mahogany trees in the jungle . . . opportunities to make profit to anyone able to set up a sawmill. . . . As a result several members of this Club are showing some interest in taking a trip into the jungles. . . .

"You will note from this letterhead that I have given up racket busting and am now in the real estate business. . . . You might tell any of the '23 members that if they come to the Miami area, I would like to hear from them. . . . I will also be glad to help them acquire choice morsels of Florida real estate." Tom's business address is 12486 N.E. 7th avenue, North Miami, Florida.

EMERY TOTH, whose name appears on the City of Toledo, Ohio, letterhead as "Real Estate Attorney," was in South Bend around the first of August with his wife and daughter, Sue. They had spent Emery's vacation and an unnamed amount of money at a lake resort in Michigan and were headed home for Toledo. They stopped at South Bend to satisfy Sue's curiosity about Notre Dame, and sweltered out the night at Morris Inn on the campus. The visit came just before 4:30 p.m. so I telephoned JOE NYIKOS, who tossed off his jurist's robes and came over to join the coffee clatch.

A note left on my desk June 11 said "Mr. Shea, Mr. Nash and Mr. Dugan were in to see you." I am sorry I was out and to my own shame I must report that I did not attend the Commencement activities which, without doubt, were the reason for the presence in town of RED SHEA, DICK NASH and the alleged "Dugan."

A. SOMMER, FRANK STEEL, MORT STETTAUER, JOHN S. STOKELY, HARRY STUHLREHER, RAY L. TILLMAN, J. J. TOOLEN, JOHN P. TRAYNOR, FRED UHL, BILL VOOR, HAROLD WATSON, JAMES W. WRAPPE, HENRY C. WURZER AND REV. CLARENCE J. YEAGER.

It just doesn't seem possible that three decades have passed since fellows like WALTER J. "BUTCH" HAECKER and JOHN "DOC" STOKELY have come back to the campus and swapped yarns with their classmates. Maybe there were more who had never been back for a '25 reunion but those two, I know, made their first reunion. It was a great one in every respect. I'm going to let CACKLEY or ARMSTRONG list officially those who did come back.

I want to take this opportunity to again thank

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JAMES P. LOGAN, '18

"That labor problems be thought out, not fought out" is the slogan and guiding principle of the Mountain States Employers Council, whose activities have been directed since its founding in 1939 by James P. Logan, '18, currently executive vice-president of MSEC.

A native of Denver, Mr. Logan received his Ph.B. in journalism and economics from Notre Dame, then served as a tank corps sergeant in World War I. He took post-graduate work in economics and labor relations at Dublin's Trinity College and later studied at the Wharton School.

After a time as a New York broker, he returned to Denver as owner of the Logan Moving & Storage Co., which he sold in 1945 to devote full time to Council duties.

As representative of the Transfer and Warehouse industry, Mr. Logan was instrumental in the formation of the Colorado Employers Council and was appointed its first managing director. This group, now known as Mountain States Employers Council and representing some 500 employees in Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico, has as its objective a better understanding between management and labor.

Mr. Logan has also been chairman of the Industrial Relations Group of the National Industrial Council and Industry chairman for both the Regional War Labor Board and the Regional Wage Stabilization Board.

my classmates for their cooperation in making this "the biggest and bestest 30th reunion any class has had." Wasn't it wonderful when Jim Armstrong was presented with that $7,500 and he said "It's tough being Irish and Scotch. My Irish eyes are misty with tears of gratitude and my Scotch hands hate to pick up the check"? I too want to thank DON MILLER, his committee and the class for the beautiful plaque presented to your secretary—it's more than I deserve but I appreciate receiving it. Thanks also to EVARD KOHL for getting the canes and his donation to this cause. We have some to sell at our Navy Football Reunion, October 29.

Before going into the details of the weekend I'm going to mention the wonderful letters and wires I received from fellows who couldn't come.

JOE MENDER sent a swell letter and gave us information about the fellows deep in the heart of Texas. Joe writes "Sorry I can't make the 30th Class reunion but it is impossible. The greatest thing that happened down here in Texas in 30 years was JIM ARMSTRONG's visit to San Antonio last April. It was mighty nice seeing him. Give my best wishes to all the fellows for a very successful reunion." He adds a postscript. "As for the fellows of our Class '25, MIKE NEEDHAM is with the Buick Company at Sinton, Texas (Mike died June 13; his obituary appears in this issue), and in his neighboring town is Chief FRANCIS W. LEARY, district supervisor of the Alice Office of the Humble Pipe Line Company. He married one of the South Bend girls—Ethel Bickel.

"A letter from JOSEPH D. SHELLY, vice-treasurer, Chicago Title & Trust Company, says he's keeping quite busy.

"JOHN W. SNAPARD sent a Christmas card from the American Airlines Office in New York. Haven't heard from ALBERT J. de LORENZI, Dallas, lately.

"WILLIAM V. DIELMANN is busy in the insurance business here in San Antonio while LEONARD M. HESS, who lives here, spends much time at his Marathon Ranch, 300 miles west.

"ARTURO GONZALES was last heard of years ago in Laredo. TONY GONZALES of the Philippine Islands, passed through San Antonio last month enroute from Houston to Honolulu, where he is in the insurance business. His boy is a student at Notre Dame. Tony phoned me between planes and we had a lovely visit."

BROTHER HYACINTH writes from Brothers of Holy Cross, Saint Joseph of Holy Cross, Valatie, the Class (1925) reunion at Notre Dame, on June 10 to 12. "Should like very much to attend, but we are right now having our annual retreat and I shall not be free until after the 12th, which would make it far too late. During the few years of my assignment to Gilmour Academy in Gates Mills, Ohio, I met several members of our class. During the four years of this work of relations, publicity, and seeking new personnel for the Congregation throughout the New England States, I have not seen seeing many members of our class, but I do, however, meet many University Alumni. I was hoping to make this reunion, but circumstances will not allow. As a substitute for what I shall be missing, I hope to meet some of you people in my travels through New England. Best wishes for a Happy Reunion for the entire group."

JOHN KILKENNY of Kilkenny & Fabre, Attorneys at Law, Pendleton, Ore., writes: "My son's graduation from the University of Oregon on June 12 prevents my returning to the 30th anniversary of the graduation of my class. I shall make every attempt to be present on the 33th anniversary. My regards to all. Kil."

Congratulations to you and your son, Kil, and we sure missed you—will be looking forward to seeing you on our 33th.

HAROLD HALL addressed his wire to Class of '25 Skid & Skive Champs, Sorin Hall—"Just checking up to be sure everybody is in by 12 o'clock, especially BARTLEY. Regards, Harold Hall."

CHARLIE DONAHUE wired: "Greetings and salutations. Hope to be with all of you in 1960."

JOHN A. YUNG wired LEN HESS: "Had expected to fly up tomorrow with my 13-year-old to meet you and your family. Regards to them and to BILL HURLEY and our other friends of the class. Tell all our friends who haven't seen me that I look just like I did when we graduated." Only a Texan would say that!

LEN HESS and his wonderful wife and family again made our 30th. This charming letter came before our reunion and Mrs. Hess made good her promise. She knows more classmates by their first name than your secretary does. Mary didn't need a guide to show Mark around. She knows her Notre Dame!

"Far be it from me to let that cordial invitation pass unanswered! It was a real surprise and the loveliest compliment the girls and I have ever received from a Notre Dame man. We are making plans for the trip in June and God willing, we'll be there—that is—Leonard and I will. The younger of our daughters, Ruth Marie, has been married two years and lives in Lincoln, Neb. Claire finished college in June '54 and has a wonderful position with United Service Automobile Association, and as her vacation time doesn't come up until October she doubts that she will take time off for a trip in June. However, we are bringing our eldest son, Mark, who expects to be a student at Notre Dame in the Fall of '56. We think it an excellent opportunity for him to become acquainted with Notre Dame—just hope we can find a guide to show us around while you boys are busy with the reunion. It will be wonderful seeing all of you again."

LARRY CASEY writes—with a footnote by JOE HAGERTY, his old pal who did make the reunion: "I returned yesterday from my son's graduation at Notre Dame. Received your card and am sorry I cannot make it. Best regards to all. P.S.: Hope the Lake Water holds out."

JIM WARGIN wired: "Sorry I cannot attend class reunion. My sincere and best wishes for a very fine class get together and hope to make it next time." Jim, we too hope you can make our 35th.

GEORGE LUDWIG and STEVE CORBOY's wire had a sobering effect on the gang. You can be sure your classmates remembered your son, George, and your mother, Steve, in their prayers. (George's son was ill, Steve's mother died.)

ERV FLEMING wired from Aransas Pass, Tex.: "Sorry I cannot join you. Tell the class of 1925 that I am down on the Gulf fishing. Having a wonderful time; wish you were here," as did ED O'TOOLE from Chicago: "Sorry I am absent. Have fun but remember your age."

FRANK REESE wired from Robinson, Ill.: "Trust you all are having an enjoyable 30th reunion. Sorry I could not make it because of business. Regards to everyone." We missed you, Frank.

ED POLHOUS wired from Dearborn, Mich.: "Had hoped to be on hand. Surely regret not getting to see all the fellows."

DR. CHARLES G. GUTH wired from Cleveland: "Congratulations to classmates attending 30th reunion. Family activities and responsibility of new position prevents my attending. God willing, I'll be at the 35th in 1960. Good luck."

Good "Old" JOHN RYAN of the Class of '26 wired: "May you old birds of '25 have as happy a 30th reunion in '55 as we young guys of '26 hope to have in '56." Thanks, John, for remembering us, and I'm sure '26 will have a great reunion because they have a swell "Sec."

JOHN R. MORAN of Denver was the first to write AFTER the reunion. "It was a great pleasure to see you and all those 25'ers at the reunion and I am looking forward to the next one. By that time I will be over the bed sores I got from old Sorin's Spartan comforts. Best to you and the family." Thanks, John. It was great being with you, too.

One of the things we DID decide on was to have an annual reunion during each football season. This year it will be Navy on October 29. We will all meet in the 19th hole in Morris Inn after the game. This time your family and friends are invited.

PAUL KOHOUT holds a record—can any of you fellows beat this? Paul mentioned that he had nine grandchildren. It seems that Paul might be leading the class in this regard.

Finally, for the information of those who were not at the reunion meetings, a South Bend committee headed by JOHN DROEGE will investigate a possible project on the campus for the class of '25.

BERNIE LEY is president of the Akron Real Estate Board.

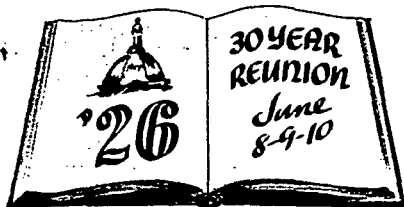

CHARLES C. COLLINS did a commendable job in getting out the Chicago alumni for the Laymen's Retreat this summer.

At the Ohio University commencement exercises in June, MOST REV. JOHN KING MUS-SIO, bishop of the Steubenville diocese, delivered the baccalaureate sermon on the subject "A Graduate Looks Forward."

BILL HURLEY, national qualifications award committee chairman for the National Life Underwriters Association, received an award from the national association as agent who has combined high standards of ethical conduct and insurance business production.

GEORGE B. SHEEHE missed the reunion because of the critical illness of his mother.

KARL J. CONNELL writes that business kept him from attending. He's with the United States Department of Agriculture, Farmers Home Administration, in Lake Andes, So. Dak.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

JOHN W. BRENNAN AND ROME DUGAN.

G. P. SCHILDER, a product of the mechanical engineering department, has developed four airplanes that positively won't fly. They are trainers—constructed of steel plate and resting on beams sunk into a concrete foundation—used for teaching firemen how to handle crashes. G. P. is employed in the equipment laboratory at the Wright Air Development Center, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, and was project engineer on the trainers. He now lives at 605 Corona Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

REUNION REGISTRANT

J. PATRICK CANNY.

The Class of '28 lost one of its distinguished members in the death of DR. ARTHUR STENIUS on May 24 in Detroit. Art, who was born in Sweden, was head of Wayne University's Audio-Visual Materials Consultation Bureau and a recognized authority on audio-visual education. He wrote extensively on the subject and studied in 10 European countries.

He had been ill for almost two years with cancer and had lost his leg at the hip in March. He was back at work and driving his car before a month had passed and continued his activities until a few weeks before his death, after cancer had invaded both lungs.

Art is survived by his wife and two children, ages 13 and 10. His brother, George Seaton, Hollywood director, recently won an Academy Award for the film "Country Girl."

Art was very interested in the class and prepared script to be used at our reunion in connection with a sound film. We intend to use it for our 30th reunion in 1958.

Art was also the one who advised me of his roommate JOHN LEITZINGER's fine large family and the death of his roommate FRANK STROHM.

I wish to thank WALT LAYNE, LOU NORMAN and BILL JONES for sending me clippings on Art's death. WALT LAYNE is Editor of the "Master Detective" magazine.

ED QUINN advises that his old roommate MAURICE SONDERMAN died in August of cancer in Shelby, Ind. "Sonny" was formerly president of a Shelby furniture manufacturing company. He is survived by a wife and two grown children.

I wish to extend our sympathy to BILL PLUCHEL, who lost his only brother recently. Bill, who is director of mail and express for Trans-World Airlines, had an audience with the Holy Father this year.

Congratulations to FRANK J. DONOVAN on his receipt of the 1955 Man-of-the-Year award from the Muskegon, Mich., ND Club, and to JOHN ROBINSON and CARL PETERSCH, who received similar awards from the New Haven, Conn., ND Club.

I noted articles recently by several '28 men. JOE BREIG, our most prolific writer with articles in almost every magazine I read, had the honor of having the Catholic Literary Foundation select his latest book, "Life With My Mary," as its August selection. The story of his 25 years of marriage is Joe's seventh book.

FATHER FITZGERALD's article on "Power Struggle at Hell's Canyon," which appeared in "America" on May 21, 1953, was reprinted in the Congressional Record on June 7.

I noted an article in "The Catholic Mind" for August 1955 by AL FRANTZ on "Automation and Catholic Social Thought." Al, who is judge of the District Court in Denver, delivered an address on this subject at the convention of the Colorado Knights of Columbus.

A business trip to Buffalo gave me an opportunity to see several classmates. I met BERNIE BIRD, deputy treasurer of Erie County, accidentally while walking from my hotel to a meeting. Bernie, who served as treasurer of the City of Buffalo from 1949 to 1954, is very active in Republican politics. He has a son at Canisius College and another in high school.

I had a good dinner session with MARTY RYAN, who is still a bachelor and is with the Railway Express. GUS JENKINS, Vice-President of Dun Welding Company, and one of the owners of the Airways Hotel at the Buffalo Airport, joined us later.

Gus stopped recently to see ART SLAVIN at his nursery in Elbridge, N. Y. Gus reports that DON CORBETT's son roomed with his son at Notre Dame. Don is an attorney in Rochester and was a member of the state legislature a few years ago. Gus sees DICK GREEN in Syracuse. Dick is with the Crouse Hinds Corporation there doing electrical experimental work.

While in Buffalo, I stopped in at the Buffalo Courier-Express where GORDON BENNETT is secretary and assistant business manager. Gordon has four sons, the oldest being a senior at ND.

I had a session with BILL DOWDALL, who is president of the Federal Market Company, a retail meat market chain. I was pleased to hear that Bill's daughter's heart operation, performed by DR. HUFNAGEL, '37, in Washington, D. C., was very successful. My grandson has a similar heart condition, so Bill and I exchanged medical notes. Bill's daughter is now attending the University of Buffalo and his son is a freshman at Notre Dame.

While in Washington, BILL DOWDALL visited BILL JONES, who served as chairman of the Administrative Law Section of the District of Columbia Bar Association last year and is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Bar Association for the District of Columbia.

I stopped in Peoria for a visit with JOE LANGTON, who is vice-president and treasurer of Cummins and Emerson. They deal in wholesale automobile parts. Joe, who has two daughters and a son, is secretary of the Peoria Notre Dame Club.

Joe mentioned that BILL MURPHY had visited him this summer.

AL GURY, who owns the Illinois Valley Awning and Tent Company in Peoria, was out of town when I was there. Al, who has a son four years of age, is also vice-president of the G & G Distributors, Inc. Al is Faithful Navigator, 4th Degree Knights of Columbus and is chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals in Peoria.

DR. DAN BRADLEY reports that his showing of the class reunion film was a terrific success. ED BRENNAN and JOE KISSLING were present for the affair. Dan tells me that JACK LAVELLE spoke at a Communion breakfast given by the Catholic Physicians Guild of Nassau and Suffolk Counties which Dan helped to organize and of which he is the first president. It is my understanding that Dan is president of the Medical Board and chief of the Pediatric Service in a new Catholic hospital near Amityville, N. Y.

It is a pleasure to be able to give you news about a number of classmates whose names have not appeared in this column for years.

TOM LAVELLE tells me that JOE DORAN—of the Kirby and Doran team—and his wife visited in Anderson recently. Joe is still with Sears and lives at 333 W. Harrison Ave., Wheaton, Ill. He is national retail sales manager in the farm fence department. Joe is married and has one adopted daughter.

TOM LAVELLE, as you know, is president of the Lavelle Gray Iron Foundry Corporation in Anderson, Ind. He has five children, ages 3 to 12. I am indebted to Tom for information about JOE DORAN as several classmates have recently inquired about him, including FRANK DONOVAN and TURK MEINERT.

ED RAFTER advises that AL WALZER is a buyer in the plumbing division of Montgomery Ward & Company in Chicago. Al has a son at Knox College and a daughter in high school.

JOHN LEITZINGER, who had inquired about AL WALZER, wrote that PHIL LITTLE underwent a successful cataract operation this summer. Phil is still single and is an industrial engineer with the Pennsylvania Electric Company, Meadville, Pa. John reports that his six boys and five girls are all O.K.

ED CARRINGER is a partner in the Associated Building Specialty Company and has an insurance agency in Jackson, Mich.

GEORGE BYRNE is a supervisor in the structural department of Foster Wheeler Corporation in New York City. The firm designs and manufactures power plants, oil and chemical plants. He has three children ages 12 to 15. George lives in Levittown, Long Island, N. Y.

ST. LOUIS—Alumni line-up at the picnic table include (left to right): Tom McGuire, Dan Sullivan, Norm Mueller and Bill Ruoff. This is an annual club event.

Ralph Guglielmi, '55, Notre Dame's All-American quarterback and now with the Washington Redskins, signed for a 13-week advertising series over the University's new station WNDU-TV, Channel 46 as representative of his company's product, Guglielmi's Italian Dressing. Left to right: Wm. T. Hamilton, sales mgr., WNDU-TV; Guglielmi; Louis C. Murphy, '33, general manager of the Guglielmi Co.; and Jack Gordon, '42, food distributor.

JOHN T. SCHMITZ is with the Oregon-Washington-California Pear Bureau and is located at Atlanta, Ga. He is in sales promotion work on fresh pears in the states of Alabama, Georgia, North and South Carolina and Florida. John's daughter was graduated from Beloit College in 1953.

BOB MADDEN, who was with our class in 1924-25, is city freight agent for the Northern Pacific Railway Company in Minneapolis. Bob has three children. He reports that E. A. KINSEY lives at 303 Murphy, Sebastopol, Calif.

SYLVESTER N. MOBILY, who lives in Brecksville, Ohio, is a pharmacist and manager of the Standard Drug Store, East 131st and Miles, in Cleveland. His first wife died in 1942. He remarried in 1952. Sylvester has three children, ages 14 to 26, and one grandchild.

FRED RUIZ reports from LaJolla, Calif., that LES HEGELE is rounding out his first year as associate editor of the Southern Cross, his diocesan paper. Fred, who teaches in high school in San Diego, California, now has four grandchildren. He celebrated his silver wedding anniversary in June.

LES HEGELE went to the Southern Cross in a "straight player deal" with the Union-Tribune Publishing Company of San Diego; at the same time Hegele left his post as news editor of the San Diego Evening Tribune, WALTER STEFFEN, '40, former Southern Cross associate editor, took over as editor of the Sunday Leisure and Fine Arts section of the San Diego Union.

BOB WARD, who is still single, is practicing law in his home town of Marshall, Mich. HAROLD E. STEINBACHER, '30, is one of the Circuit Judges in Bob's circuit.

JOHN BUSCHEMEYER is administrator of the Louisville General Hospital. He has three children, the oldest a senior at Ursuline College. John is president of the Kentucky State Hospital Association.

GERALD LUDWIG of Kalamazoo, is chief engineer with the Latex Compounds, Inc. of Schoolcraft, Mich. His son is a freshman at ND this year, and he has a younger daughter.

ART SCHEBERLE of Oak Park, Mich., is a designer with the Detroit Edison Company in Detroit. Art is single. He is a representative of the Executive Board of the Federated Provinces of the Third Order of St. Francis in the U. S. and Canada.

FRANK BRANSON, executive assistant of the National Confectioner's Association, lives in Oak Park, Ill. He has three children, ages 10 to 17. His oldest boy is a midshipman in the 4th class at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

EUGENE SCHILTZ is in the coal, heating equipment and oil business in Newark, N. Y., with his son. His secondary interests are income tax accounting and real estate. Eugene has three children.

JOSEPH BRAUNSDORF visited his brother-in-law, JIM BERRY, in Stanley, N. Y., on his 460-acre farm. Jim has four children. The oldest is teaching in Lyons, N. Y. JOE BRAUNSDORF is district engineer for the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company. He has one son.

GEORGE SARGUS visited DON BUTLER in Phoenix. It is the first I have heard about Don since he was with us in Freshman Hall.

The lawyers will be interested in knowing that ED DEAN's brother, Paul, was made dean of the Georgetown Law School in 1954.

JOE DEBOTT reports that he saw TOM CANTY, who has a daughter at St. Mary's of Notre Dame. JOE DEBOTT is now assistant cashier, Geneva Federal Savings & Loan Association in Geneva, N. Y. I noticed TOM MAHON's picture in a recent issue of Columbia. He has been re-elected State Deputy of the Knights of Columbia in Minnesota.

DR. FRANCIS W. FORD is practicing medicine now in Billings, Mont. He received his M.D. degree from Tufts Medical School and did post-graduate work in surgery at Northwestern University from 1948 to 1952. Frank has three children, ages 7 to 14.

He mentioned that he saw CHARLES ROSS of Anthon, N. D., and he informed Frank that his brother, LEWIS ROSS, was killed in a car accident about three years ago.

WILLIAM F. BROWN, JR., is secretary and business manager and acting superintendent of schools in Orange, N. J. "Wee" received his LL.B. from Rutgers Law School in 1933. His son, who was graduated from Princeton University in June, is now in the armed services in Western Germany. Bill is also vice-president of Breb Sales Corp., manufacturing representatives. He celebrates his 25th wedding anniversary December 28, one day after JOE S. MORRISSEY and one day before mine.

Speaking of wedding anniversaries reminds me that HENRY MASSMAN celebrates his October 15. BOB NICHELLS November 1. CHRISTIE FLANAGAN November 24 and RON RICH September 30.

ANDY KANE is attorney and senior clerk for the City of Boston. Andy, who was with our class for two years, received his LL.B. degree from Boston University in 1929.

JOE NORTON is head of staff electrical engineers for design and construction at Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co., South Charleston, W. Va. Joe has two sons, ages 17 and 23. Joe also celebrates his silver wedding anniversary this year. "BERNIE" SCHUH is property administrator with the Navy Department in Fort Wayne, Ind. He has one child.

ED FINN, who is manager of the Golden Rule Mercantile Co. in Salida, Colo., reports the death of FRANCIS (BUD) WINSLOW of Gunnison, Colo., late in the fall of 1954. Bud was a Freshman "Day Dog" with our class in 1924.

GREG HOLBROCK, who was with our class in 1924-25, is an attorney in Hamilton, Ohio. Greg finished his undergraduate work at Xavier University and received a law degree from the University of Cincinnati. He was a member of the U. S. House of Representatives in 1941 and 1942. He served as a presidential elector in Ohio in 1948, and has been county chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee since 1949. Greg is married and has three children, ages 10 to 14.

He reports that CLEM PATER practices law on the same floor with him and has done so for over 24 years.

JOHN HERBERT reports that JOHN McMANNON is conducting a nursery business on the Lowell-Laurence Highway in Massachusetts. John saw Mac recently as he was directing a crew of workers doing the landscaping at St. Joseph's Hospital in Boston.

WALLACE MACDONALD is assistant treasurer of the Hartford Gas Co. Wallace has five children. HOWIE PHALIN saw "MICKY" FLANAGAN at the airport in Scranton. He is practicing law in Pittston, Pa., and is still single.

Florence Gallagher (Miss Chicago and third in the nation in the contest for Miss America) is the daughter of JIGGS GALLAGHER, who was with us at Notre Dame and played on the K. of C. basketball team. She was Howie Phalin's secretary for two years. Howie, as you know, is now vice-president of Field Enterprises, Inc.

JUDGE JOHN LYONS tells me that DAVID McCracken of River Forest, Ill., is employed with the Illinois Secretary of State. GEORGE CRAVEN is a practicing attorney in Chicago. Judge Lyons is now hearing civil jury cases as judge of Superior Court of Cook County.

BILL O'HARA is with the Connecticut Power Company in Middletown. Bill, who lives in Manchester, Conn., has two children, ages 16 and 21.

LARRY CULLINEY saw GENE (RED) MORIARTY in his own insurance company in Williamamantic, Conn.

I wish to express our sympathy to KENNETH J. POWER on the death of his father on June 25, 1955. Kenneth, who is deputy county clerk and deputy supreme court clerk in Rochester, was recently elected to membership in the State Committee of the New York Republican Party.

ROGER BRESLIN reports that TOM PURCELL, who lives in Belmar, N. J., practices law in New York City. HENRY CLEMENT is a lawyer and magistrate of Plainfield, N. J. Roger's brother-in-law, JACK WINGERTER, is still with Louis DeRochemont. Roger practices law in Hackensack, N. Y., has five children, ages 8 to 18. Roger also advises me that RUSSELL RILEY is mayor of Orange, N. J.

According to JOHN ROBINSON, JAMES E. HAYES died several years ago while living in New York. Jim received his A.B. with us in 1928 and was from New Britain, Conn. Can anyone give me more particulars on Jim's death? John, as you know, is headmaster of the Robinson School, 18 Highland St., West Hartford, Conn. He has five children of his own, ages 8 to 18.

BILL JONES, in a Chicago luncheon session with JIM ALLAN and me, mentioned that JERRY RAYBURN is a safety engineer with the Herlihy Construction Company and is now working on the Staten Island-Brookland tunnel in New York. Jim was recently appointed manager of the Workmen's Compensation Claim Department for Lumbermans Mutual Casualty Co. in Chicago.

As far as I have been able to determine, only two classmates became fathers during the past year. JOE GRIFFIN had a son this year. He now has five children, ages one to 16. Joe is a partner in the law firm of Henshaw, Culbertson, Moelmann and Hoban in Chicago. He is also a lecturer at DePaul College of Law. DR. BERNIE CROWLEY had his first child a year ago. Bernie is assistant chief of dentistry at the V.A. center in Wichita, Kans. I was sorry to hear of the death of Bernie's brother recently.

J. HARVEY DALY has twin daughters, 17 months old. Harvey established his own firm of management consultants recently in Washington, D. C. How about a report on later births by classmates?

I understand that BOB GRANT is teaching a class in legislation at the Notre Dame Law School this year.

Several of our classmates have daughters who recently entered a convent. The oldest of AL DAVIS' six children is a novice with the Sister Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. BILL BROWN of Milwaukee and Epworth, Iowa, has a daughter, Sister Mary Gregoria, O.P., at St. Clara's Convent, Sinsinawa, Wis.

According to my latest returns, BOB MADDEN has the most grandchildren with six. JOE DOYLE and FRED RUIZ are close seconds with four each. ED QUINN, ANTHONY DISTIFANO,

ED McCLARNON, JOHN LAHEY each have three grandchildren. JOE NORTON and your class secretary have two and the following have one grandchild each: SYLVESTER MOBILY, BILL MAHON, FRANK HOLDAMPE, BILLY WOOD, FRANK DONOVAN, JOHN CARROLL, CHRISTIE FLANNAGAN and JOE BREIG. Please bring me up to date on these vital statistics.

VINCE WALSH tells me he took FATHER JIM McSHANE, S.J., to Notre Dame this summer where he said a Mass for the Class of '28 in the basement chapel. FATHER ANDY MULREANY, C.S.C., also offered a Mass for the class in June. They will each offer Masses for the deceased members of the class in November.

FRANK CREADON reports the following attended the ND-So. Methodist game: JACK LAVELLE, JERRY DeCLERCO, RAY MULLIGAN, ART KORZEN, JOHN CARROLL, DICK PHELAN, BILL KEARNEY, JOHN McSORLEY and MIKE RICKS.

Incidentally, our president, FRANK CREADON, was appointed insurance consultant with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Frank is also active in the American Mosquito Control Association. He is advertising manager of the Mosquito News and is chairman of the Illinois Legislative Committee of the Association.

Our classmate, FATHER GEORGE P. BENAGLIA, C.S.C., is now president of King's College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Father George served as president of Stonehill College in 1948-49 and as superior of the Seminary of Our Lady of Holy Cross, 1943-1949.

On the basis of reports received from my September mailing, the following classmates have sons at the colleges indicated: Notre Dame: JOHN CULLEN, BILL DOWDALL, WILLIAM McGEE, HAYES MURPHY, AL SCHNURR, RON RICH, PETE GALLAGHER, GERALD LUDWIG, GORDON BENNETT, JOHN LEITZINGER, DICK PHELAN, MARCUS FARRELL, FRANCIS SCHROEDER, BOB GRAHAM, JOHN WOLFE, CHARLES SCHUESSLER, ED McCLARNON, TOM BYRNE and ROGER BRESLIN; Indiana University: GEORGE BEAMER and MIKE HOGAN; St. Louis University: ED DEAN; Dartmouth: RALPH NOLAN; John Carroll College: RAY LUSSON; Purdue: RON RICH; Reed College: BILL MAHIN; University of Pennsylvania: BILL MAHIN; U. S. Naval Academy: FRANCIS BRANSON; U. S. Merchant Marine Academy: CHARLEY SHELANSKEY; Potsdam (N. Y.) Thanks for the excellent cooperation given your class secretary as the result of my last mailing. I am grateful to JIM ALLAN and BILL KIRWAN for picking up the check for the whole mailing and printing costs.

I trust the few who failed to complete the forms for biographical data and news will do so at once, so my incomplete report in this issue will be supplemented by your response in the next issue.

My reporter, ED RAFTER, advises that BERNIE CONDON is the fashion supervisor at the Harlem Avenue Sears store in Chicago. Bernie is married. He also reported that JIM QUIGLEY who is an artist in Chicago, just returned from Europe. Jim lives at the Alexandria Hotel in Chicago and is single. Ed tells me that HAL REYNOLDS has returned to Chicago where he practices law after completing a Washington assignment. Hal, by the way, became a father for the first time recently.

Pulitzer prize winner EDWARD J. MOWERY has joined the New York Herald Tribune staff. Reporter Ed won the coveted journalism award in 1933 for his efforts in vindicating a man wrongly convicted of murder.

Congratulations are also in order, though somewhat belated, for A. F. DAVIS, recently promoted to director of engineering and manufacturing for the Diesel Equipment Division of General Motors. Al's new post required a family movement to Grand Rapids. HANK WOLTERS, '30, is plant engineer for the G.M. division there.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

BERNARD BOWLING, '44

Bernard Bowling, '44, owner and operator of Plehn's Bakery in Louisville, Ky., was elected president of the Associated Retail Bakers of America at the organization's recent convention in Miami Beach.

Previously he had served as president of the Louisville and the Kentucky Bakers Associations and as a director of the national association.

Bernie majored in Civil Engineering while at Notre Dame and spends his spare time working with the family's contracting business.

Quite the family man, he is the father of six children.

law practice in New York. Each was vacationing in Europe. Each was dining at a Lisbon restaurant. Each had American and Portuguese flags at his table. Each toasted Old Glory. That was when each discovered the other was from ND. This old orb gets smaller by the minute.

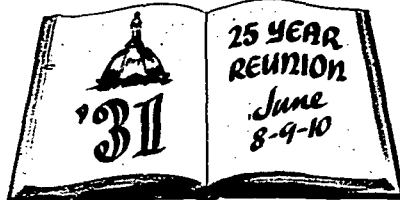

FRANK X. O'NEIL of 6133 Myrtle Ave., North Long Beach, Calif., is another overseas traveler, accompanied by his wife and daughter on a jaunt to Waikiki in September. The O'Neils won the free trip in the Von Grocery Company's "Hawaii-an Holiday" contest and appeared on Horace Heidt's coast-to-coast television show.

Back in the states, two other Notre Dame and General Motors men found themselves reunited. H. H. WOLTERS was promoted in May to plant engineer for G.M.'s Diesel Equipment Division in Grand Rapids. Meanwhile A. F. DAVIS, '28, assumed directorship of engineering and manufacturing at the Grand Rapids plant. Hank and Al were both Detroiters before their respective promotions.

DR. JAMES A. REYNIERS of Notre Dame's LOBUND laboratories, was one of 12 nationally known leaders in the veterinary medicine and public health field to receive special Centennial Awards from Michigan State College in June. The awards were conferred for "outstanding contributions to society, for achieving distinction in their endeavors and for setting the highest standards of accomplishment."

If DR. FRANCIS J. HAND has college on the brain, it's no wonder. Frank's son David is enrolled at Notre Dame, daughter Ellen is at New Rochelle, daughter Dorothy will enter college next year and then, concludes Frank, "two more to go."

The 1931 column in the last issue of ALUMNUS was a bit on the barren side. Due to circumstances beyond my control about the time of the May 20 deadline, I was unable to forward any news for the recent issue.

However, most of you apparently felt that I needed a rest as I have not received any complaints. Actually I thought it might spur a few of you into complaining and sending some dope.

The most important thing to talk about first, last and always for the next eight months will be the TWENTY-FIFTH REUNION of the CLASS OF 1931 which will probably be held June 8-10 of next year.

Many of you have indicated that you will be present. However, it would be helpful if everyone would send a card or letter, preferably with some news, so that the names of those planning on attending can be published in each issue of ALUMNUS.

A group of Chicago '31 men are planning a meeting in early October to start the ball rolling. Many of you in various sections of the country will be called upon for active help just as soon as a promotional program is decided upon.

Another item which will assume increasing importance as time goes on is the MASS AND REUNION FUND. Get on the wagon and send a contribution if you have not already done so. Recent contributions were received from JIM MULVANEY, NICK BOHLING, GENE VALLEE, FRANK SEWARD, GIL SEAMAN and BUD TOUHY. Mass offerings have been sent to the families of HAROLD J. O'CONNOR, FRANK DITTOE, JOE GAVIN and CHARLEY SCHMIED. This is one of the finest things our class can do, and it is the duty of each of us to support this worthy program.

Marie McQuaid, wife of JIM McQUAID of Vincennes wrote last month telling of his new Drive-In Magazine Rack.

"Jim has asked me to write you of our change of address. We have moved and Jim likes his new place very much. The building was an unoccupied filling station which we converted to a shop for him. It is very convenient and the walking and driving traffic is much greater than at the other place, so say a little prayer that the move may prove beneficial in all ways, for him.

"The other day Jim was looking out the window and who should he see but JACK ELDER, who came for dinner that night, and for once I must say, I hardly said a word, but sat entranced with their conversation of recalling their days at Notre Dame . . . starting back in the '20's and '30's. . . . It was a wonderful evening.

"However, even though I admire Jack and his athletic background, to me his most wonderful honor is being the father of nine wonderful children. He and his wife Kay should be very proud of that honor. Believe me, it was an evening which we hated to see come to an end, and now I am looking forward to meeting Kay Elder, as Jack has promised to bring her down soon.

"We had a visit from another ND man, JOHN PETTY, who was stationed at nearby George Field during World War II and whom we met at that time.

"While at the Layman's Retreat this past August I had much time to visit with VAN WALLACE and WALT DUPRAY, both from Mt. Clemens, Mich. Van is always an inspiration to the other men attending the Retreat. His smile and wonderful acceptance of the cross which the good Lord has given him make him truly one of God's chosen people. Walt Dupray brought his wife down, so she and I did the campus while the men polished their halos.

"Jim and I are going up to the Navy game this October and will be in the usual place, on the armchair platform, so we will be happy to see any of our friends who might be there.

"Please remember us to your wife, and Jim joins in sending greetings to classmates."

It is always wonderful to get a letter from the McQuaids. Be sure to remember Jim with your subscription business at home or office. If Jim can get a note to me occasionally, how about a few others doing it?

EDDIE RYAN had a visit from NICK BOHLING, genial Chicago Alderman and Republican prod in our independent Council, and his wife at Eagle River this summer.

BERT MALONEY and his family were at the Red Feather Lodge and managed to get in some golf with his campus pals. Bert plans on making the Reunion.

GIL SEAMAN did an excellent job chairmanning the local club's Father and Son meeting for new freshmen, which was held early this month at the Chicago Athletic Club.

I had a card from TOM ASHE, our Chicago luncheon guest of last November. . . . Unfortunately he flew nonstop this trip and missed a visit to the campus and Chicago. His wife, Kathie, was recovering from a serious operation and Tom decided it was best to go straight through. I am hoping Tom will be one of the west coast operators on our reunion program.

The Alumni office sent me a clipping and picture of ED McCLANNAN, JR., who was appointed to the Rutland, Vt., Municipal Court in January. AMBROSE STOEPLER was appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue in Ohio. He lives in Mt. Washington, Cincinnati, and is the father of four children.

JOHNNY BURNS corresponds with JIM MULVANEY and Jim in turn sends me his letters, so now I have two Burns news specials on hand. His latest note was giving us the razz on our White Sox this summer.

John mentioned spending some time with the BILL KELLY's and RICHIE BARBER after his vacation. He said something about Barber still being the winner and I'll leave that for John to talk about at the Reunion. TIM TOOMEY has relocated and is still in the insurance business. ED CUNNINGHAM is located at Camp La Guardia for the present.

John suggests that I get started on the reunion soon. To make a prompt and good start. John, you will be one of the boys to round up the New York area '31ers for next June.

JOHN CARLTON SULLIVAN sent a note from JIM RUDOLPH informing him that CHARLEY SCHMIED, Columbus, Wis., passed away May 11. Charley played in the band and was an engineer. He is survived by his widow, a married daughter and boy and girl twins, aged 13.

Another shock was the tragic and sudden death of JOE GAVIN who was in the line of fire of a berserk gunman while visiting in one of the Dayton, Ohio, banks May 31.

As mentioned earlier, this is where your contributions to the Mass and Reunion Fund are spent. I remember Joe at our 20-year reunion in 1951 and he will be sorely missed next year. Please remember them in your prayers.

A few days after sending news last March I received word of the death of HAROLD J. O'CONNOR, Rockford, who had been in a local hospital recuperating from pneumonia. This was a shock to many of us in Chicago, who had seen him last November at a Chicago luncheon. I received lovely notes from Mrs. O'Connor and Mrs. Dittoe thanking the class for their Mass Offerings.

This summer I saw DR. TOM SABOW of Pittsburgh, who is a good friend of EARL BRIEGER. He told me that Tex had bought a new station wagon for a transcontinental trip this summer. I am sure that Tex managed to visit several of his campus pals, so I am looking forward to a letter soon.

Our sympathy goes to VINCE PONIC in the loss of his father and wife during the past several months.

TOM MONAHAN phoned while in Chicago on business last June. He will be on hand for the Navy and Iowa games.

M. CLAY ADAMS, who did such a fine job on the "Victory at Sea" telecasts of a few years ago, is now assistant producer on the Sgt. Bilko program on CBS, starring Phil Silvers. Last June

I met the father of BOB, FRED and FITZ GORE, who was in Chicago to attend the funeral of one of his associates. He mentioned that the boys were well and that Bob manages to spend one day every week fishing on the keys. We can look forward to some tall stories from Bob next June. Mr. Gore mentioned that the statewide Notre Dame Alumni of Florida meeting held at the Sea Ranch was a huge success and will be held again next year.

JIM GRIFFIN, safety co-ordinator for the board of education, looked very handsome in the Chicago Tribune as he was handing out safety awards to winners.

The Alderman NICHOLAS J. BOHLING Gold Day was held Aug. 31 at the Southmoor Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. ALFRED C. STEPAN, JR., were invested as Knight and Lady of the Holy Sepulchre September 27 at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

BUD TOUHY sent an interesting letter with his contribution to the Mass Fund:

"The lack of news on my part regarding '31ers has thus far delayed my dropping you a note, for I have long wanted to add my voice to the many which have already complimented you on the fine job you have been doing as class secretary. I still lack news, but I did want to pass along the enclosed check for the Mass and Reunion Fund, and at the same time tell you that I think you have really made ALUMNUS a real pleasure with your accounts of members of our class.

"I see ED FLYNN regularly for he is with Republic Aviation Corp., where I still hold forth as Director of Security. He and I are both active in the activities of the recently formed ND Club of Long Island. To give us something more in common, we each have sons we hope to see start at Notre Dame a year from now.

"Several months ago, while eating in the dining room of the Carlton Hotel, Washington, D. C., none other than JOE DEEB happened to have the next table. We had a brief, but enjoyable chat. He seems to be much happier in the private practice of law than he was as U. S. Attorney for Southern Michigan."

JOHN BRODERICK reports that JOE DEEB has been appointed chairman of the Michigan State Board of Law Examiners by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, being nominated for the post by the Michigan Supreme court.

"JOHN RYAN, ex-'32, is counsel and vice-president of Republic, so I see him practically every day. He has a son entering his sophomore year at ND.

"I manage to speak over the phone every year with BUS RICH and my old (said advisedly) roommate, BOB FENDERGAST, while I am changing trains or planes in Chicago en route to the West Coast. Some day we hope to be able to stage a minor reunion when I am in Chicago.

"This about concludes my contacts from our class. Last month, while flying to Europe, I managed to sit next to EUGENE LYDON, '27, President of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co. of Chicago. He proved a great story teller, and as a result I never did get to sleep that night.

"I am looking forward to next June and our 25th reunion. In the event I can be of any help to you on Long Island, do not hesitate to call upon me. Best wishes."

From FATHER BOURKE MOTSETT: "The Masses for Red O'Connor and Frank Dittoe will be sung before the first of June. May God have mercy on their souls. I remember them both as fine fellows and I shall continue to remember them in my daily Masses. Thanks very much for sending these offerings to me.

"I am sorry to be late in sending these cards, but I was in Cincinnati for three days. The people have not got wise to me yet, and I am still plugging along—and I do mean plugging, as we are starting a drive for $150,000 today for the grade school and we still have a debt of $200,000 on the high school; but Danville is booming, so we have great hopes.

"Haven't heard from any of our classmates lately. Our local Notre Dame Club observed UND night and RALPH DALTON was re-elected treasurer of our Alumni Club. JOHN BELTON is still a great help with our Boy Scout troop.

"With kindest regards to all the members of our class. I hope to see all of them at our Reunion next June."

MULVANEY, AL STEPAN, RAY COLLINS, MARTIN DOWNEY, DON O'TOOLE, BERT METZGER, GIL SEAMAN, DON PARTLAND. FATHER HAROLD RILEY, superior of Holy Cross Seminary in 1931, was the principal speaker of the evening.

FRANK SEWARD sent a note recently from Catholic University: "I was reading your column tonight in the midst of correcting exams. Students are still the same as when we were in school—some get A's, some flunk, and the rest are in between. Just the faces change. And the kids are always between 18 and 22.

"Only the teachers get older, but I think being on campus all the time even slows that down. Last year one of my students found my picture in her father's '31 DOME. Of course, I threatened to flunk her if she ever brought it around here.

"Here's a mite for the Mass Fund, and I'll probably see you next year."

Well men, if your sons and daughters try to tell you school is different from the time you were there, here is the answer direct from the feedback.

The Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corporation has elected FRANK LEAHY vice-president for trade relations. Louis E. Wilson is president and board chairman of the firm.

Breadwinners beware! A grim future for TV fans is predicted by DAN HALPIN, general sales manager for the DuMont Laboratories. Says Dan: "Inlaws and the maid, or both, may require the homeowners of the future to have three or four sets in his home." Wishful thinking? Two years ago he predicted that more and more homes would have two sets. Now 10 percent of American homes have a second receiver.

"JUMPIN'" JOE SAVOLDI's son, Joe, Jr., has been named captain of the Michigan State track team. He's also rated a top decaathlon candidate for the 1956 Olympics.

After seven years as work unit conservationist in Washington County, Ky., JOHN BAUER has resigned from the Soil Conservation Service, a branch of the Department of Agriculture, to return to the Moorman Feed Manufacturing Co. in Quincy, Ill.

The Fort Lauderdale Daily News was the first place winner in the general excellence category of the National Editorial Association's "Better Newspapers Contest for 1955." The NEA has a membership of some 5200 newspapers and this year's prize winners represented 31 states. BOB GORE is treasurer of the Daily News.

F. X. MURPHY finally got the prod from the last few issues of the ALUMNUS and came through with a note. It seems as though I was the last correspondent in October 1954. F. X. has a Marine son who was at Camp Pendleton who came out of boot camp the Honor Man in his company. One of his girls is at school in Manitowoc and the younger one is still home to help. F. X. and Johnnie keep up to date on jive talk and jitterbugging. He is still traveling the Pecos Valley and West Texas and asks for his bosom pal, RED O'CONNELL. I saw Red recently, a little grayer, but you can still hear him a block away.

Let's all get cooking on the Reunion and get your reservation in early together with a check to help defray promotional expenses. I promise not to charge any expense accounts to this.

Let me know whom you run into at any of the football games.

Full details of the start of the TWENTY-FIVE-YEAR REUNION of the CLASS of 1931 will be carried in the next ALUMNUS. Those of you who will be selected as area chairmen will be expected to do a good job.

Out of approximately 470 or so graduated, we were able in 1941 to get about 240 of our class back for that reunion. If you missed it then make up for it by being on campus next June. If you were there, I am sure no urging is necessary.

JOSEPH R. STEWART, '22

The American Red Cross National Fund Chairman for the 1955-56 campaign is Joseph R. Stewart, '22, of Kansas City, Mo.

An active member for 15 years, Joe Stewart has served the Red Cross in many capacities, including membership on the National Board of Governors and chairmanship of the 1952 national convention.

He is a recognized authority on disaster operations. As president of the Kansas City-Jackson County chapter in 1951, he directed Red Cross operations during the big flood.

Stewart received his LL.B. from the University of Kansas City School of Law in 1925 and has been with the Kansas City Life Insurance Company 27 years. He has served as its associate general counsel since 1942.

Joe is also a director of several companies in the area.

In addition to his Red Cross activities, Stewart has served the Kansas City community in many ways. He has been active in Boy Scout work, was traffic division superintendent for the Kansas City Auxiliary Police, an active member of the Democratic party and chairman of the mayor's Civil Defense Planning Council. He is also president and director of the Ozanam Boy's Home Association.

Joe is a former city chairman of the Notre Dame Foundation and is currently a director of the Notre Dame Club of Kansas City.

the McCabe monologue which I have to run to fill up a little space under the 1933 heading in most issues. But this child is not looking a gift contributor in the mouth—so let's go with the guest artists:

First of all is a letter from down St. Louis way where CHARLIE FARRIS is executive director of the Land Clearance for Redevelopment Authority, and I quote that so you will know where to reach him. Here's Charlie's contribution (and before I forget, thanks a million, comrade!):

"I was in Washington and New York last week and attempted to reach GEORGE ROHRS without any success. Inasmuch as I was in New York just for the day, it was touch and go. In Washington, I did get to see JACK KENKEL, who is employed with the Urban Renewal Administration and, in addition, is a country squire with a home in the country and two automobiles. I don't know how it goes with you but all my friends seem to have two automobiles. Me—I'm lucky to have one! I tried to get in touch with JOE BORDA, who is with the National Association of Manufacturers but he was out of town.

"During the summer, BERNIE LENAHAAN and I had several conversations and I had hoped that they were coming up to St. Louis to spend some time with us, particularly to see the Cardinals, but in the meantime, things got rather busy. Mrs. Farris had an operation and Bernie's own schedule was such that it wouldn't permit him to leave Vincennes.

LY, the 'Rochester Flash.' Since we all worked LY, the 'Rochester Flash.' Since we all worked like dogs getting his bag packed for him at the 20th year class reunion, I thought the scoundrel would at least drop a note during the five-year period between the 20th and the 25th year reunion.

"It seems a shame that you haven't been able to stir up some activity with respect to our class fund for our 25th year reunion. I'm all for doing something about it and will be only too willing to go along with any suggestion or suggestions upon which the officers decide. Why not firm up some approach and let's get going? Otherwise, I'm afraid the class of '33 is going to be plenty embarrassed insofar as the amount of the activity is concerned at our reunion. If there is anything that you want me to do, let me know."

Not to be outdone by St. Louis, Oklahoma comes through in the person of LUCIEN KEMPF of Lindsay—and thanks, Lucien:

"Just a line to say hello and let you know I received your note. Appreciate your kind invitation and will call whenever I get to Chicago. Don't expect to be there, though, until about the first week in December.

"FATHER JIM DONNELLY stopped by on his trip home to Lampasas, Texas, where he has a terrific job in a very poor parish. He had with him JOHN CAHILL's boy or rather young giant of 14. What a kid. He sure looked like end material for ND in the near future.

"One word you should pass on to the gang is that I still believe we ought to start canvassing each member for a $10 bill and in this way build up our war chest for '58. One won't miss a small donation, say, twice a year, and in our last year we could fill in where needed. So much for now and best regards to all the gang. Would like to hear from fellows like JIM ROSS, ED ECHERT, HAROLD POHLMAYER, ED GAUSSELIN and a host of others.

Perhaps the best of all, inasmuch as it came first, was a swell note from our West Coast correspondent (ah, there, Les) LES RADDATZ. If I haven't written you it's because I've really been snowed, Les—but I'll get to it! Here is the Raddatz memo:

"June turned out to be Class of '33 reunion month out here. ART BECVAR wrote that he was going to be here, and one evening when I was waiting to hear from him the phone rang and it turned out to be JERRY ROACH, in town with his wife for just one day. Except for being gray and much thinner (that's a switch!), he hasn't changed a bit.

"BecVar turned up a couple of days later. He has changed less than anybody I have seen. Only a slight touch of gray at the temples to show for the passage of the years.

"To top the month off, REV. LLOYD TESKE, C.S.C., called. He was on vacation from the University of Portland, doing relief duty at a local parish.

"My query about ROGER BIERNE some time back brought a very amusing letter from JOE DEMPSEY, who tells me that Roger is alive and well. Joe neglected to mention what he is doing, though.

"I left NBC last November to join the staff of RALPH EDWARDS. During the winter and spring, I wrote and produced a children's show called "Funny Boners," and now I am writing on "Place the Face."

"It's a lot of fun, and I trust that all Notre Dame alumni will watch the show so that, the rating will go up and the sponsor renew.

"My old roommate, FRED MACBETH, received a nice promotion late last year. He is now with Canadian Bell in Montreal. And, except for a most pleasant evening with the REV. JAMES McDONALD, C.S.C., who is chaplain at Notre Dame High School here, that completely exhausts the old college try as far as I am concerned."

I also received a couple of swell letters from ED DAILEY of Burlington, Iowa. Ed is practicing law there and extends a cordial invitation to all classmates to say hello when going through or near Burlington.

HUGH COLOPY, Archbishop O'Hara's former secretary, has just terminated a year in office as president of the Akron Bar Association.

JOHN PICK, professor of English at Marquette University, has been appointed visiting lecturer under the Fulbright Act at the Royal University of Malta for 1954-56. Last summer he was visiting professor at Harvard.

GEORGE AUG, JR., is now associated with the Western Hills, Ky., office of Robert A. Cline, Inc. He has been in the dairy by-products business with his father.

Among new faculty additions to the University of San Diego this fall is the REV. JOHN D.

GALLAGHER, who is teaching philosophy and music courses at both the College for Men and College for Women at the University. Father Gallagher resides at St. Philomena Church, Rt. 1, Box 48-K, Alpine, California.

Well, in the belief that when I've got somebody better to talk, I'll shut up, I'm going to close here with the reminder that you, too, can get your name in this column—just drop us a line . . . or, in the old ND spirit, get some other Notre Dame guy to write about YOU.

I feel it wouldn't be right to close without a word about the Rosary, inasmuch as October is approaching. Of all the devotions given Catholics, outside the Mass and Communion, the Rosary probably symbolizes our faith to outsiders most of all.

There's a reason for it—the universal use of this great prayer down through the ages, in all lands and by all races.

We of Notre Dame have a special claim to this devotion—and a special duty to be faithful to it. Keep your Rosary handy—in a pocket ready to hand, or, where possible—in your hand itself!

You might call it our spiral staircase . . . going around and around, and up and up, to Home.

Well, gang, the 20th has come and gone; 157 of us got back, along with six men from assorted nearby classes who wished to identify themselves with the '35ers.

It was a terrific party and clicked off like a precision machine. We heard only compliments from the returnees and the University staff. The only thing that spoiled the weekend, and this to a very small degree, was the weather.

Our committee had done everything humanly possible to make the Reunion weekend a gala success.

Of course, there was the little matter of running

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

THOMAS P. CARNEY, '37

Thomas P. Carney, '37, has been elected vice-president of research, development and control for Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis. He was formerly director of the company's organic chemistry division.

Carney is chairman of the Indiana Section of the American Chemical Society, vice-chairman of the national Medicinal Division and chairman of the national symposium of the American Chemical Society. He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon, the Society of the Sigma Xi and the New York Academy of Sciences. In addition, he is serving as chairman of a civilian advisory committee to the Army Chemical Corps.

He obtained his degree from Notre Dame in chemical engineering and his doctorate in organic chemistry from Pennsylvania State University. He also attended the University of Wisconsin on a Lilly fellowship for post-doctorate studies in organic chemistry.

In his career with the Lilly pharmaceutical firm, Carney has held a variety of positions in the research, development and control fields.

He has written the book Laboratory Fractional Distillation, is a contributing author of four others and has been a frequent contributor to scientific journals.

Carney also holds a number of patents on chemical products and on chemical and distillation processes.

out of rooms so that we were split up, but we understand that in the future the Alumni Office is going to take our committee seriously when we tell them how many '35ers will show up.

There were tons of food, barrels of beer and gallons of cocktails. What more could anyone ask? And that Friday night buffet dinner was something which all of us will rave about for the next five years.

While we overflowed* into Lyons and Howard when the Morrissey room ran out, we had plenty of room to roam around in the Rockne Memorial. It was utter luxury.

And while we're on the Rockne Memorial, mention must be made of the tremendous welcome sign which the Committee hung from one end of the building to the other, one floor deep. Yes, sir, no one on campus that weekend could miss knowing that the '35ers were back for their 20th Reunion.

To DAN YOUNGERMAN and his whole Committee (BILL RYAN, CHET CHLEBOWSKI, KURT SIMON, PAUL FERGUS, FAL HARRIS, ED SMITH, FRANK MAXWELL and TOM HICKEY, JR.) go the sincere thanks of everyone of us who was privileged to enjoy their hospitality. How they did it on the money we gave them will continue to be the miracle of the year. And not only that, but as you will learn later on in this column, they came out with a balance in the black. Just to give you an idea of the happy state of the 157 returnees, you will find in this issue a picture taken at the "Volcano" on the night of June 11, where 11 of our men gathered. That lovely lady is GERRY DOYLE's wife, Kay Belle.

Now, let's get to a few statistics. We received questionnaires from 196 men. Of this number, 145 said they would definitely return and 32 said they might return. So we had a possible or probable 177 to work on out of the 196 questionnaires.

Only 82 of the 145 who were sure of coming actually showed, and only six of the probables came back.

That meant that 63 didn't show up who said they would definitely come and 26 probables never made it.

However, 69 men rolled in unexpectedly—69 from whom we never received questionnaires. They came from all over the country.

The roll call of states looked like this: Illinois, 36; Indiana, 24; New York, 23; Michigan, 11; Pennsylvania, nine; Wisconsin and Ohio, five each; Connecticut and New Jersey, four each; Tennessee and Missouri, three each; Louisiana, California, Iowa, Texas, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, New Mexico, two each; Virginia, Oklahoma, Massachusetts, Washington, Rhode Island, Utah, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Canal Zone, and Venezuela, one each.

If you add to the 157 who showed up the 63 who said they would definitely be there but didn't make it, and the 26 who thought they might be there but couldn't make it, we might have had 246 at Reunion, which would have been a record-breaking crowd. It would have represented better than 50 per cent of the living members of the class.

Let's start now working on our 25th and try to bring out AT LEAST 50 per cent of the Class of '35.

So much for mass statistics. Now let's get down to the vital statistics.

Three men came from out of the country: TOM FLYNN from Hawaii, MIKE SHEEDY from Venezuela and JOHN PETTINGILL from the Canal Zone.

The prize for the longest distance would have again gone to TOM FLYNN, but since he took it five years ago, he relinquished the honor this year and the prize went to MIKE SHEEDY.

Once again GENE O'REILLY took the honors for having the most children. Gene rode in on his white charger with 10.

NATE LERMAN rang the bell with the most boys and CAMILLE GRAVEL got the Oscar for the most girls.

The prizes were sets of cuff links, tie clips and wallets.

And while we're talking about prizes, your scribe wishes to formally express to all of you his sincere thanks for the gift which he received at the Reunion. For those of you who did not attend, may we say that it is a beautiful Cyma boudoir alarm clock set in a frame and face of Gorham Sterling Silver.

We said to the crowd at the cocktail party that the clock was something that we could immediately turn over to Mama, only to discover that was precisely what the Committee had in mind. Or to put it in the words of your general chairman, DAN YOUNGERMAN, "We figured that it was time Clara Ann got something for putting up with us and you for all these years."

May we say that Clara Ann wishes us to express to all of you her very sincere appreciation for your thoughtfulness. The clock is on her night table and is used faithfully.

At the Reunion our practice of publishing a Memorial Bulletin with the pictures of all the deceased '35ers was continued. We had the pictures of 27 men. Two others were unobtainable. In addition to these, we discovered at the Reunion that one more had died. He was AL ANDREONI. We ask that you add his name to your prayers in the coming years. Our Memorial Mass on Saturday morning, celebrated by FATHER VINCE THILMAN, was well attended and the Communions were impressive.

Several questionnaires raised queries regarding a financial report from the 1950 Reunion. While we are sure that those raising the questions had only an inquisitive interest in the matter, to put everyone's mind at rest regarding the 1955 Reunion, we have asked the Committee for their financial statement.

There were total receipts of $1,064 and total disbursements of $950.32. Of the $1,064 in receipts, $931 represented fees paid by 174 men. The remaining $133 was collected as miscellaneous contributions at the Reunion.

To make the financial report complete, we think it should be observed that there were five attending the 1935 Class 20th Reunion party who did not make their $5 class contribution. Of these, four were '35ers and one was from a bordering class. These figures were obtained by comparing the Class roster in the Rockne Memorial Lounge with the official University roster at the registration desk in the Law Building.

Here is the Expense Statement for the '35 Reunion.

TOTAL EXPENSES, $950.32

Photographer	$ 27.00
Engraving for Memoriam cuts	65.39
Framed Memoriam picture	8.75
Class Sign	18.00
Rope for Sign	2.00
Bartenders	40.00
"Rock" Custodian	25.00
Food	521.95
Florist	10.00
Liquor	136.48
Glass and Dish Rental	12.85
Prizes	42.00
Miscellaneous (including postage)	40.70

The balance of $113.68 has been placed in a class treasury to start the ball rolling for the next five years.

This brings us up to possibly the most important piece of business of the Reunion—that of electing the class officers for the next five years. They are as follows: President, JIM HAMILTON; vice-president for the East, ANDY MAFFEI; vice-president for the South, CAMILLE GRAVEL; vice-president for the Midwest, ED VAN HUESSELING; vice-president for the West, PHIL PURCELL. Your treasurer is DAN YOUNGERMAN, and your scribe has been re-elected for another 5-year term.

It is your Class officers' wish to begin promoting the 1960 Reunion NOW. With this thought in mind, your president and your four vice-presidents are seriously considering an annual dues of $2 for the next five years, which would mean that everyone would be painlessly in the till for $10.

These funds, in addition to providing a cushion for 1960, will be used to carry on the Memorial Masses for our deceased classmates and their immediate families, as well as for necessary incidental expenses such as stationery and postage for the operation of such a collection program.

Surely, all of you can appreciate the necessity for this kind of a dues plan. We hope to keep you posted on further developments of your Class organization in the near future. In addition to what we are able to tell you in the column, you will be getting a Class mailing within the next few months.

Just so you may know who your vice-president is, we list their states. ANDY MAFFEI, whose address is 20 S. Broadway, Yonkers, N. Y., has the following states: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

CAMILLE GRAVEL, whose address is 611 Murray Street, Alexandria, La., has: Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas.

KANSAS CITY — Craig Whitaker (R) chairman of the ND Club's William Rockhill Nelson Scholarship Fund congratulates winner Terrence Hartigan. Club President Russ Farrell looks on.

ED VAN HUESSELING, whose address is 250 W. Grantley Avenue, Elmhurst, Ill., has the states of: Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

PHIL PURCELL, whose address is 320 E. 4th Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, has the states of: Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and California.

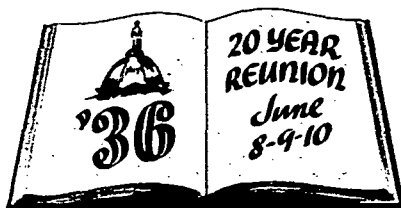

The vice-presidents have received a map from JIM HAMILTON, showing the breakdown of the country by their territory. We have one for our own files. JIM HAMILTON'S address, incidentally, is 3340 Chatham Street, Racine, Wis.

After indoctrinating the State of Virginia with Notre Dame news and lore as state publicity chairman for ND, TOM HILS has gone south—to Florida. Formerly on the staff of the Richmond News Leader, he is now news editor for the Lakeland Ledger and has volunteered to handle Notre Dame brainwashing in that area.

We have purposely not attempted to report on any of the men returning for Reunion in this trip to press. We feel that over the past year we have given you a rundown on almost 200 men who returned their questionnaires. Frankly, we didn't take a note at Reunion because we tried to have a little fun, too. We hope you don't begrudge us this luxury. Instead of giving you personal reports, we have attempted to review the total Reunion for you and to sketch plans for the next five years.

Beginning with the next issue, we will be back on the beam with personal notes as we receive them from you. Let's keep the pot boiling and the column long and interesting during the next five years.

As a closing note we want you to know that we are gratified with our re-election. Rather than considering it a chore we view it as an honor and only hope that we may be able to round out 25 consecutive years of service to you as faithfully as we have attempted to serve the past 20. Give us the material and we'll try our best to discharge our responsibilities.

DR. JAMES K. STACK, '26

Dr. James K. Stack, '26, has assumed the presidency of the Passavant Memorial Hospital Medical Staff for 1955-56.

After receiving a B.A. degree from Notre Dame, he entered Northwestern University Medical School, earning his M.D. in 1931. He became a member of the Medical School faculty in 1933 and since 1949 has held the rank of Associate Professor of Orthopedic Surgery. He has been on the attending staff of Chicago's Passavant Hospital since 1934 and at Cook County Hospital since 1946.

During World War II he was on active duty in the U. S. Navy.

Dr. Stack has served as chief surgeon for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, as a member of the Committee of Direction of the Medical and Surgical Section of the Association of American Railroads and as recorder for the American Association of Railway surgeons.

Other positions held by Dr. Stack include membership on several committees of the American College of Surgeons, on the Board of Directors of Chicago Latin School and on the editorial boards of the Quarterly Bulletin of Northwestern University Medical School and of the Journal of Industrial Surgery. He is also secretary of the American Association of the Surgery of Trauma.

Dr. Stack has written 48 published papers and was co-author of the fifth edition of Fractures.

REV. GEORGE BERNARD.

GERALD A. SMITH has been appointed an assistant professor of English at Canisius College. He had previously taught at the University of Rochester, Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland.

DICK PADESKY recently suffered an attack of polio. He is recuperating at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, O., and would appreciate hearing from all of his friends.

JOHN C. YAVORSKY is currently on the law school faculty at the University of San Diego.

DICK CORNWELL received a Master of Science in Electrical Engineering degree from Notre Dame at Summer commencement.

Treasurer DON HELTZEL reports a light, though far-flung, response to our appeal to the class for a buck-a-man to build a Mass stipend fund on campus. It is not our intention to name donors other than to thank them for kicking off the fund. And to make another appeal to others to donate one buck clipped to a business card. Send it to Donald T. Heltzel, North Main Street, Niles, Ohio. Do it today!

Heltzel, incidentally, has started a new company, General Road Machines, Inc., in Niles, Ohio. CLAIR LAMBERT writes from Chicago that he is now a dealer for Packard Motor Company.

DON and Mary Lee MILLER's fifth child and their third daughter, Marya, arrived August 17. Lt. Cdr. GEORGE "BUD" HAYES is now assistant Naval Attache at the United States Embassy in Cairo, Egypt. George, his wife and three daughters have been in Cairo since early July.

JACK HARRIGAN is now engineer in the Electric Division of the Public Service Department of the City of Burbank, Calif. BOB WEBB is practicing law in Santa Ana, Calif.; he was away at a convention when I attempted to contact him by telephone.

BOB CARVER is an Educational Adviser at the Army Educational Center, Camp Kokura, APO 3, Kyushu. You can phone him at 5-5192 if you get real happy some evening.

CHARLIE CALLAHAN who is "MOOSE" KRAUSE's tub thumper, wrote a nice article about BILL EARLEY and his family in a June issue of Our Sunday Visitor. Bill is coaching the backfield of the Toronto (Canada) Argonauts. And, teammate WALLY ZIEMBA is a line coach under BERNIE CRIMMINS at Indiana. Another in the print recently was our prexy, BUD DUDLEY, whose Villanova promotions earned a report in the Saturday Evening Post.

DUDLEY K. SMITH, now a resident of Pasadena, Calif., is sales manager of the George S. Thompson Corporation, manufacturers of a line of ceramic pepper and coffee mills, salad fork sets, etc., which are marketed under the name Olde Thompson. Not to be confused, friend with Old Forester, etc. Dud's line is available at gift shops, not package stores.

The members of our class who attended the 10-year reunion in June of last year unanimously adopted a resolution that a committee be appointed to begin plans for a DOME honoring our class and chronicling events during our undergraduate days and down through the years to the present time.

BILL TALBOT, JOHN LYNCH, and JOHN O'CONNELL became the members of that committee, and several months ago a questionnaire was mailed to each 'Her soliciting information and inviting comments on the project. These were to be returned to TALBOT at 300 Main Street, White Plains, N. Y.

If you did not receive a questionnaire, drop Bill a postcard with your correct address; if you did, and have not taken the time to reply, please do so immediately. The future editors of this undertaking, Messrs. TALBOT, LYNCH and O'CONNELL, need your cooperation so they can report to Class "Presy" JACK THORNTON the advisability of continuing with the project.

So that all may be informed of the initial response of the membership to the inquiry, and with the hope and desire of inspiring further comments ("reaction to the reaction"), TALBOT has furnished a lengthy report, dated September 23, and I am happy to pass it along to you:

"As for the DOME inquiry forms, 137 replies were received from the period August 26 through September 22, 1955. Divide by the class enrollment, and you have the percentage. (Ed. note: about 25 per cent.)

"Three class members will not buy the DOME; three will send their pictures for publication but will not buy a copy; four are uncertain about buying a copy; 18 took an extra moment to praise the project; three took time to write a note deprecating the project; one said it left him cold; another thought we were poking in cold ashes; and still another was unable to manifest enthusiasm.

"Of the 137 replying, 128 said they would submit 2x2 photos; and one sent his along with the questionnaire. There was a misunderstanding on this point, as a few wondered if the picture was to be a "then" or "now" one; as some others advocated both a "then" and a "now" photograph; and as still others wanted to know how soon the photographs should be sent. I had not thought of a "then" photograph, for in many instances this would be hard to come by. I would recommend simply a present-day photograph. Photographs should not be sent until requested, at a later date.

"Twenty-five class members volunteered to send a total of 88, plus two severals, plus two somes, plus a couple photographs taken of classmates from 1940 to the present.

"The prices the fellows were willing to pay varied as follows: $5 and under: nine; $10 and under: 40; $15 and under: 16; $20 and under: 11; over $20: 18; unspecified: 33.

"Fourteen agreed to advertise in or patronize the yearbook; and four others listed themselves as possibilities. One replied to the question, 'Would you advertise in the DOME?': 'Love to! But Bar would not permit it.' This, it seems to me, is a strangely unfraternal attitude; and I would suggest he patronize another bar.

"Another said that his company would advertise 'if given enough advance notice so we can increase production adequately to fill the added demand.' This is not only noble, but 100 per cent American. One made a common-sense objection to advertisements, which the editors cannot overlook.

"A number of those replying made suggestions on which the membership might wish to express an opinion. . . .

"FRANK CARVER: suggests a family picture rather than a personal picture. He also adds that since the DOME 'was promised to us as part of the cost of admission to the university, the administration might be willing to defray all or part of the cost of the project.'

"EARL ENGLERT: suggests publishing a list of names of missing classmates and requesting help in locating them.

"BOB FUNSCH: suggests 'that each man, in

BRO. HILARION BREZIK, C.S.C., '38

Boys are the chief concern of Brother Hilarion Brezik, C.S.C., a 1938 Notre Dame graduate now in his seventh year as superior and director of Boysville in Michigan.

Brother Hilarion taught at Cathedral High School in Indianapolis for four years, prior to his eight years at St. Charles Boys Home in Milwaukee, where he served a three-year term as superior and director. From Milwaukee he assumed his present duties in Macon, Mich., in 1949.

Since that time Brother has taken an active interest in the services available to Michigan boys with a problem. Almost 500 have come under his guidance at Boysville.

He has worked closely both with the bishops of the five Michigan dioceses and the State Council, Knights of Columbus in promoting the cause of the establishment and development of the unique school which the bishops inaugurated in 1948 and which the Michigan Knights of Columbus maintain.

Boysville now numbers 140 boys and 11 buildings.

In connection with his efforts in this direction, he is co-editor of The Boysville Journal, circulated among the 55,000 Michigan members of the Knights of Columbus.

Brother was active in student theater work while in Indianapolis and in Milwaukee. He is also a painter and illustrator.

addition to the prosaic statistics and photographs, he invited to submit a short essay or message of not over 25 or 30 words, in which he is to make a personal prediction concerning himself at the 25th anniversary; where he will be, what he will be doing, humorous or serious, but pertinent—it might be worth a thought.'

"BUZZ" HASSETT and BOB SCHRAMM both recall a special edition of the SCHOLASTIC published for the class: HASSETT, one in October '44; SCHRAMM, one in June (year unspecified), edited partially by him and RAY SMITH.

"TOM KELLY: suggests the 'then' and 'now' picture.

"BOB NELSON: suggests donating the money and effort to the University for a more useful purpose.

"DAN STEVENS and several others offered to help. For which, many sincere thanks.

'Additionally, there were some personal notes:

"VINCE DUNCAN: 'Haven't seen anybody from the halls of ND since the reunion. Made a couple of football games last fall but nothing startling happened. No big blasts. No great problems out here in the Midwest and specifically southern Illinois that we can't handle. Hope everyone else is living it up also.'

"EARL ENGLERT reports that DR. BERNIE SCHOO lives at 2612 Whittier Ave., Louisville. 'He'll be a neighbor after I get moved. Give my best to the gang at the Met Club when you see them, especially DUFFY, MONOHAN, ZOILA, and O'CONNOR.'

"HAL HALEY: 'The Haleys just moved to Chicago after five years in Boston. In Boston there were many pleasant experiences with '44 people—CHUCK PATTERSON, DICK HERLIHY, BILL HEALY, BILL O'BRIEN, MATT O'BRIEN. I've just joined the Loyola faculty and will be practicing and teaching surgery and doing some research.'

"HARRY LAVERY sent best wishes on the stationery of the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois.

"BEN MAXIMA: 'Just spent a couple of days in Philly for the National Elks Convention.'

"BLACK JOHN" MURPHY: 'Give my best to all.'

"REV. JOHN REARDON, O.P.: 'It has been nearly 14 years since I saw any of the lads from school. However, I have been in touch through ALUMNUS. I was ordained a Dominican in June of 1949, and was sent to the University of New Mexico as assistant Newman Club chaplain in the Fall of 1950. Three years later I was assigned to Holy Rosary, and for the last two years have been teaching the gamut of philosophy (logic, cosmology, rational psychology, and all of metaphysics) to the lovely girls at the College of St. Catherine, St. Paul. There is no telling where I could be sent this Fall, but if there is a change of address, I'll let you know. Had a bit of a chuckle in filling out the questionnaire. Hope the answers won't throw you too much. Give my regards to the boys in New York, and if I am able to make it East this summer, will give you a call.'

"FRANK STUMPF: 'I have a picture of about 12 of our classmates who were at Wellesley College when we received our degree by proxy. We held a mock graduation ceremony in the beer hall the same night. I believe the story would be of interest in the proposed DOME.' (As, indeed, it would.)

"BILL WALDRON: 'Saw BOB THUMM in Atlantic City when he was there with the Lions International.'

"HARRY YEATES: 'Had lunch last week with JOHN LYNCH in South Bend—'tis always fun to be with him and his wife and five kids. See a number of the ND people around town now and then, TOM O'CONNOR in particular.' Harry reports he is also still single.

"BOB METZLER: 'I think the idea of our class having a DOME is excellent, and you can certainly count me in for supporting this in whatever way that I may help. . . . Everyone here in Kansas City is fine, and I hope you receive the questionnaire from VAN DYKE, FINUCANE, McKELVY, ZIEGLER and DUNN and some of the other K.C. fellows. I will be glad to appoint myself to the committee of assisting you in rounding up any information that you might need in our area or about any of the classmates in the Missouri Valley district.'

"TALBOT would like to thank those who sent personal greetings on the questionnaire, and expressed his regret in not being able to answer each individually."

That's Bill's report to date. It is requested

ROBERT E. SULLIVAN, '40

Of particular interest to Notre Dame law graduates is the appointment of Robert E. Sullivan, '40, as dean of the Montana State University Law School. He had been assistant dean at M.S.U. since July 1954, before which time he was an associate professor of law in the Notre Dame faculty.

A native of Helena, Mont., Bob interrupted his law studies at Notre Dame to enter the Air Force as a private. He served in the European Theater of Operations and was discharged in 1945 with the rank of major. Returning to the University, he earned his LL.B. in 1946. He practiced in Ohio for a year before joining the law faculty.

While at Notre Dame, Sullivan spent his summers as a research associate with the Warren Petroleum Company in Tulsa and as an oil-and-gas legal consultant for a North Dakota law firm. From 1952 through 1954 he was a member of the Legal Committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission representing Indiana. He now represents Montana in a similar capacity.

Dean Sullivan's Handbook of Oil and Gas Law, most of which was written while he was at Notre Dame, was published this Spring by Prentice-Hall, Inc.

He and his wife, Eleanor, have a son and four daughters.

that '44ers analyze the comments above-quoted and note the results of the survey.

Now, where do we go from here? Mail your reactions—pro or con the DOME project—to BILL TALBOT, 300 Main Street, White Plains, N. Y., or to the address at the head of this column.

You can well appreciate the task that confronts the editors; but they stand ready to proceed if a majority of our roll favors and will support it, and will cooperate!

Digging into your secretary's mailbag, I find a welcome letter from ED KEMPF from Evansville. "George, it is a long time from '44 to '55 and I will not even attempt to highlight the years—just a few lines to give marital status, job conditions and personnel report of the Evansville gang.

"Beginning with the marital status, I have been associated with my bride for 11 years and we have three girls to bless our union and tear up our house. There is nothing, absolutely nothing, like four women running around the confines so tenderly called home. Aforementioned bride and this writer spent five wonderful days in South Bend last fall for the So. Cal. weekend. We are planning to spend this year's vacation footballing—a week in South Bend for the Navy game and the following week in Philly for the Penn game.

KEN BROWN writes from the Maine Maritime Academy (Castine, Maine):

"Just a note to bring you up to date on my doings and to help you pad the column of the class of '44. For the past seven years I have been teaching Spanish at this Academy and serving as interpreter and athletic director on our annual three-months' winter training cruise to Latin America and the Caribbean area.

"Last winter I was granted sabbatical leave to work on my master's degree in Mexico City at Mexico City College. While there I tried and tried, but in vain, to locate DICK 'CACTUS' LEON. Outside of seeing CESAR MUNECAS in Havana I haven't been lucky enough to run into any of the Class of '44.

"I have two children, Dave, age 4, and Chris, age 2, and we are expecting another soon. I hope to see something of the doings of JOHNNY BAUM, BILL SCHEUCH, STRATTE COORLAS, et al in future '44 columns."

A report from BOB MILFORD's wife informs us that they have just had their fourth child, Lucia Marie, which makes two boys and two girls.

She also tells us that Bob and his brother, George, hope to break ground this fall for their own office building in Marion, Ind. They have a small loan company (signature only?) as well as their law practice.

Early this summer Bob spent some time fishing and camping at Trout Lake and Echo Bay, not far from Sault Ste. Marie. The Milfords expect to be in South Bend for a game this fall.

New Hampshire's attorney general has appointed JOSEPH F. GALL as his special assistant in charge of the state investigation of subversive activities. Joe is a former special agent of the F.B.I. and a member of the District of Columbia Bar Association. He lives with his wife and three children at 128 Amherst St. in Hashua, N. H.

New York Attorney JOE GALLAGHER, while vacationing in Europe, chanced to meet JOE APODACA, '30, (former ND prof) in a Lisbon restaurant. They first discovered that they were both Americans, then that they were both Notre Dame grads.

JOHN R. RYAN, an agent in the Duluth office of Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, has qualified for Israel Putnam, highest division of the company's honor roll for agents. He is also a member of the President's Club, top prestige group for agents based on quality of service to clients and on outstanding sales performance. The Ryans—including wife, Nancy, sons, John R. Jr. and Patrick, and daughters, Kathleen and Claudia Mary—live at 3530 Second Avenue West, in Hibbing, Minn.

CAPT. JACK P. LAWLER of Tampa, who has served with the Judge Advocate General Corps since 1949, has been assigned to the Staff Advocate section at Fort Dix. His wife and three sons are living with him at the army post.

REV. WILLIAM GRAHAM, C.S.C., earned M.S. in chemistry at ND this summer.

REV. WILLIAM R. LYONS, principal of Delone Catholic High School at McSherrystown, Pa., was re-elected president of the Pennsylvania Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association.

And that brings us to the end of another news roundup. I'm still begging for your letters and postcards to help me in my search for '44 news.

And a reminder again to write Bill or myself about the DOME project. What do YOU think about the idea?

WHAT A TIME!!

Our 10-year reunion was a smashing success. Over 80 sturdy men of the class got together for a three-day fun-packed weekend which none of us will ever forget. We were only sorry that all of you weren't there.

Our "home" was Howard Hall, with activity centered around the lounge and bar set up in the basement. Friday night we had our class dinner, with after-dinner speeches and class elections. Saturday the strong were out on the golf course and the stronger were close to "home" keeping the bar-bos busy, and enjoying box lunches on the lawn. Saturday evening was the Alumni Dinner with an address by Father Hesburgh, and the awarding of golf prizes. A class smoker in the Golfers' Lounge of the Morris Inn followed. Everyone was happy to see FATHER CAREY, FRANK O'MALLEY and PAUL FENLON, who visited with us.

All too soon after this was the '45 Memorial Mass Sunday morning, with our own FATHER BILL BEVINGTON as celebrant. Father Bevington had travelled from Nashville for the occasion.

The Memorial Breakfast was the finale to a wonderfully enjoyable and truly satisfying weekend with old pals.

THANK YOU

To all the men who helped—to BILL KLEM and his most able local staff of VINCE LAURITA, BOB RIORDAN, BOB SNEE and DON CLAEYS—sincere "thank you" for a job well done. The late JACK TREACY, God rest his soul, had been a member of the Committee, too. Without their careful and hard work, their follow-up on details, and their complete cooperation, the reunion would not have been the whopping success it was.

Thank you also to the men who came. You who were here know what a time we had, and I guess you are each more than happy that you made it.

And to all you who contributed to the surprise gift for yours truly from the class, many, many thanks of true appreciation. The sets of Notre Dame beer glasses, cocktail glasses, and hi-ball glasses have arrived and are the feature of the bar in the basement of my home. Any member of the class passing this way is invited to examine personally this lovely gift and contents; it will be a pleasure to see you and to talk over class news. So thank you again for this gift; I shall prize it always.

CLASS OFFICERS

The class elections were held and the heavy jobs were banded around until the following seven men finally ended up with the class headaches for the next five years. It is hoped that each officer does more than his share so that class growth, class unity, and class spirit will continue at the high level it has these past few years.

Officers for the class until our next reunion in 1960 are:

West vice-president, PHIL MARTIN, 4574 58th Street, San Diego, Calif.

North Central vice-president, BILL KLEM, 528 Manchester, South Bend, Ind.

Treasurer, BILL MOORE, 720 Irving Place, Plainfield, N. J.

RUDY ANDERSON, ED BALL, JOE BRADY, FATHER BILL BEVINGTON, FATHER GEORGE BERNARD, JIM BROWN, JIM BUTLER, JOHN CARON, DAVE CARTWRIGHT, JOHN CASTELL, DAVE CHAMPION, DON CLAYS, JIM CLYNES, LOU COLLERAN, FRANK CULHANE, DES CURRIER, FATHER DAN CURTIN, HERB DAIKER, JIM DONNELLY, JIM DUGAN.

CLASS DUES ARE THE BACKBONE OF OUR WORK

Needless to go into a long explanation of the "whys" and "wherefores" of class finances. To keep ourselves together, to send out newsletters, to send Mass cards or flowers to families of deceased members, to keep any of our programs active, all require funds, stamps, stationery—all obtained with MONEY. So we are asking for a donation to the class treasury.

BILL MOORE is our banker, so send what you can afford to Bill (address in this column) in the name of class progress and as a vote of confidence in the work we are doing.

It's a one-time thing; if you send something right away, you'll save us the expense of a follow-up, and you won't have to contribute again until 1960. Get a check off to Bill right away, please.

'LETTERS FROM' DEPARTMENT:

From Barbara SNEE: "Just finished reading the latest ALUMNUS and thought you might be interested to know that the Snee family has some news of note. Bob has been made assistant manager of the J. C. Penney store in Muskegon, Mich. We've found a house up there and hope to be settled before August 1. Since you saw Bob at the reunion, you probably know we'll have another baby announcement due around Christmas—number four." (Dear Barbara, congratulations and good luck to you and Bob on both counts—A.L.)

From BROTHER ISAAC JOGUES MOTZ, C.S.C.: "Dear classmates of '45,

"Greetings to you all and may the Peace of Christ be in your hearts! I hope the 10-year reunion is a tremendous success in every way—spiritually, mentally, socially, and physically. May you enjoy recalling many good memories of the days which you spent at Notre Dame in the early forties.

"Here at Columba Hall we are making our retreat, hence I won't be able to join you in the reunion before Sunday morning. We close our annual retreat Sunday morning with an early Community Mass, Communion, and Renewal of Vows. Therefore, I plan to be with you all at the 10 o'clock reunion Mass in Sacred Heart Church. God be with you all." (Brother, by the way, received his master's in religion from ND this summer, as did FATHER DUNSTAN MORRISSEY, O.S.B.)

From A. L. ANDERSEN, JR.: "I am sorry I couldn't make the reunion. Things came up at the very last minute that prevented me from making it back.

"I would, if possible, like a group picture of the class if one was taken. Just send the picture and the damages due on them. Any other information, if any, would be appreciated about the reunion." (Dear Art, sorry you couldn't make it. The picture was in the last issue of the ALUMNUS. You can get an 8x10 glossy by sending $1.00 to Bruce Harlan, University Photographer, Notre Dame, Ind.)

From PHIL MARTIN: "Say hello to everyone for me, please. Couldn't arrange a business trip at this time. Maybe if the American Bar Association has a convention in Chicago in 1960 just before or after the reunion, I'll be able to make the 15-year reunion.

"Still at the bank here, as trust-tax counsel. Passed the California Bar a couple of years ago. Scheduled to teach taxation in the new University of San Diego Law School. (Ed. note: Phil is on the faculty there now.) Still just have two children, Anne 7 and Michael 5.

"You sure have been doing a wonderful job as class secretary. I don't see how you do it all, but you've always had a limitless supply of energy. Drop in and tell the others to drop in if they get close to San Diego. This is a good place to come on vacation."

From ERNIE RAUSCHER: "Just a note to let you know that I for one had a wonderful time at our reunion last week. I doubt if there is any question in your mind, from the vote of confidence you received, that you've done an excellent job over the past five years and we all appreciate it very much.

"All things being considered, I'm sure you agree that we had a fine turnout. I sincerely hope that it won't take another five-year reunion for us to get together.

"Once again, congratulations on the beautiful job on our reunion and the trouble it took to make it so enjoyable." (Dear Ernie, thank you for the kind words. The reunion was well worth any effort we put in, and we all were tremendously pleased. Sure hope to catch you soon. Al.)

From GEORGE DESPOT: "I hope that you and the boys had a fine time at the reunion. The meeting had slipped my mind altogether, although I had it marked on my calendar and intended to go.

"I was home sound asleep in bed Saturday night, when about 2:30 in the morning the phone rang and, sure enough, it was long distance calling from South Bend, Ind. Apparently someone (Editor's note: EVERYONE) was having a good time, from the noise coming through on the other end.

"I certainly hated to miss the reunion, so I guess I will have to look forward to the 15-year reunion. Most of all, however, I want to apologize to you for telling you I would be there and then not showing up.

"We have been so busy here in the office that everything that doesn't apply to business has just slipped past.

"We have, incidentally, formed an Alumni Club here. Although our membership is very small, it looks as though we will have a very successful little group. Hope I may get a chance to see you in New York this fall."

(Dear George, we missed you, but thanks to the ingenuity of one of our more forward members, and to the convenience of modern communications, we managed to wake you and a few others throughout the country and hear your happy voices. Please excuse the joke, but I know your absence really hurt. Hope the bill wasn't too high. Sure do hope you get up this way soon. That goes for the whole class, too. Al.)

CONGRATULATIONS

Your new vice-president—South, CHUCK SAR-

SPOTLIGHT-ALUMNUS

FRANK J. CONBOY, '32

Frank J. Conboy, '32, was the only New York State playwright to see two of his works performed at the New York State Fair. The plays were selected in a statewide competition, with winning entries being performed by community theater and college drama groups.

Conboy was represented by "The Floor," which won the New York State Regional Playwriting Contest a year ago, and a new play titled "The Auction."

Frank lives at 403 East Buffalo Street in Ithaca, N. Y., and is an employee of the New York State Gas and Electric Company. The theater is his avocation.

Besides his playwriting, Frank is set designer for most of the Ithaca Community Players' productions and a member of their board of directors. He has also been active in community theater groups in Geneva and Auburn and is a former vice-president of the Ithaca Players.

Conboy has taken several prizes in playwriting contests. His plays have also been performed by a number of community theaters and at statewide theater conferences.

While at Notre Dame, Frank served on the staffs of The Dome, The Scholastic and The Juggler (then the campus humor magazine).

TORE, is about to take on still another serious obligation. Congratulations to Chuck from us all on his coming marriage to Miss Jane Evelyn Ferber on November 12, 1955, in Sacred Heart Church, Memphis, Tenn. Good luck to both of you on your marriage and on your new home. And congratulations to Pat and J. D. USINA on the birth of Joseph Timothy on August 6, weighing a little under eight pounds. Good luck to you, Joey, with that Old Salt of a dad. Hope he doesn't make you become a sailor.

CLIPPINGS DEPARTMENT:

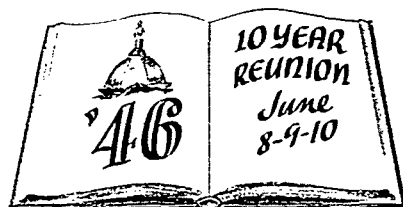

JOSEPH F. MENEZ, who received his doctorate from Notre Dame in '45, is a member of the Loyola University faculty in Chicago. Joe is well known as a lecturer and writer on current affairs.

A REMINDER:

Don't put this column down and close the magazine until next issue, so YOU do your part, too. Follow the easy rules:

1. Get a small contribution off to our treasurer, BILL MOORE.
2. Get a letter off to me, telling me what's been going on since last we heard from you.

So long now, Al.

newest member of the JOHN ABENS household in Chicago.

DON N. KERSTEN, his wife and three children have moved to Dubuque, Iowa, where Don is practicing law with the law firm of O'Connor, Thomas, McDermott and Wright. His home address there is 930 Langworthy.

Thanks to FRANK ZAGORE, we have the following information on ANTHONY PANDOLFO. After his graduation from ND, he entered the Congregation of Holy Cross, where in 1951, at Moreau Seminary, he studied philosophy while at the same time he received his master's degree in political science. At present, he resides at the Holy Cross Foreign Mission Seminary, Washington 17, D. C., where he is studying theology. With the completion of his theological studies, he is expected to return to ND, where he will do further research in political science. After that he hopes to sail for East Pakistan. There, in addition to missionary activities, he will head the Department of Political Science at Notre Dame College.

BRAD BENNETT fit all this on a postcard. He sees RUDY KEMPTER frequently. The Kempters have two boys. Brad recently had a visit from the GENE LEFAVES of Granada Hills. The Bennetts' third girl, Maura Rose, arrived on January 30. Their address is 2129 Mardina, West Covina, Calif.

RICHARD P. ELLIOTT has started a new job with Frigidaire, in Sales Planning, here in Dayton. His new address is 2151 Moler Avenue. Welcome to the city beautiful, Dick.

Another newcomer to Dayton is JOSEPH D. KENNEDY, now a member of the patent department of Monsanto Chemical Company's Research and Engineering Division here. Joe had been with the U. S. Patent Office in Washington, D. C., since 1953 and before that worked at the Army Chemical Center in Maryland. He earned his law degree from George Washington University this year.

JOHN M. ALVAREZ, JR., received a master's degree from Harvard at June commencement exercises.

PHILIP P. MUNNING, of 60 East Wilson Circle, Country Club Estates, Middletown, N. J., has been appointed district sales manager for Monmouth County by the State Farm Insurance Companies. Phil has charge of hiring, training and supervising of the local sales force.

DR. STEPHEN J. GALLA, '49, sent in items on his fellow alumni at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore. ND men of '48 there are RAY SRSIC and DR. DAVID MOSIER (Johns Hopkins, '50). Ray has entered his third year at the medical school after spending the summer doing research at the Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh. Now doing research in pediatric endocrinology under a Public Health fellowship, Dave was at the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles for two years in a pediatric residency. His home address is 1916 Woodbourne Ave., Baltimore 14, Md.

JOHN SULLIVAN took a busman's holiday from managing Sullivan's Triangle Van and Storage in San Diego this summer—and moved. The Sullivan family is now located at 5318 Saxon St., San Diego.

JOHN J. DUNNE received his doctorate in mathematics and PHIL McCORMICK his in physics at Notre Dame's June commencement. O. E. DUNN earned the Professional Degree of Electrical Engineer.

JOE HERRINGTON has recently been named telegraph editor of the Indianapolis News. He joined the News staff in September, 1950, as a copy editor and his most recent position has been assistant state editor. Joe will be in charge of editing national and international news from the wires of the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service. He resides with his parents at 852 North Rural Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Columbia University has awarded the Armstrong Fellowship in Law for 1955-56 to Attorney EDWARD G. COLEMAN of Springfield, Ill. It was granted to Coleman on the basis of scholarly ability, professional background and general practice in nationwide competition. As Armstrong Fellow, Ed will be admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of the Science of Jurisprudence.

From 1950 to 1952 Ed served as a special agent with the F.B.I. in New York and New England. Upon his return to the Midwest in 1952 he joined the faculty of Springfield Junior College as an instructor in business and joined the law firm of Curran, Dressendorfer, Friedman and Coleman as a partner.

He is president of the Notre Dame Club of Central Illinois.

The arrival June 3 of William Scott Holmes, 5 lbs., 7 oz., kept RALPH HOLMES from the reunion. Congratulations to Mamma Rosemary and Poppa Ralph, who is teaching school in Superior, Wis. Their address: 1923 Wisconsin Ave.

JOSEPH M. SHANNON, Indiana Securities Administrator, was elected national secretary of the National Association of Security Administrators at its annual convention in Canada late this summer.

One of three new research associates named to the Metallurgy and Ceramics Department of the General Electric Research Laboratory in Schenectady is FRANK VERSNYDER, transferred from the Small Aircraft Engine Department of G.E. in Lynn, Mass. In 1954 Frank received the Henry Marion Howe Award from the American Society of Metals. He, his wife and two young daughters are living at 1845 Becker St., Schenectady.

ROBERT J. SLOCUM received a master's degree in business administration from Harvard at June commencement exercises. The State University of Iowa bestowed a master of science degree on EUGENE L. EMERSON in June. AND OWEN P. LAYDEN earned his master's from Rutgers at Spring graduation.

WILLIAM J. ENGLISH, JR., now holds the degree of Master of Automotive Engineering after two years of study at the Chrysler Institute of Engineering in Detroit, the auto industry's only graduate engineering school.

Included in the graduating class of the Navy's Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I., was WILLIAM D. GORDON. Bill underwent a four-month "pressure" course—the same offered NROTC students over a four-year period.

J. THEODORE SCHWARTZ, who received a master of science degree in mechanical engineering from Notre Dame, is now a doctor—the medical variety. Ted earned his M.D. from the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia this June.

Army Reserve 2nd Lt. BOB HAYDEN put in his two weeks to the cause this summer at Fort Dix with the 119th Replacement Training Center.

Delaware Club President CHARLIE WOLFE just completed a successful season with the Delaware semi-pro champions, hitting well over .300. After five years, he still maintains the old form.

PATRICK A. DOUGHERTY, vice-president of Packers & Processors Sales, Inc., in Minneapolis, journeyed all the way to Monterrey, Mexico, Oct. 7 to address the Texas Canners Association convention.

Notre Dame bestowed advanced degrees on four men of '50 at June commencement and on one in August. June grads: M.A.'s REV. JOSEPH L. LENNON, O.P., and ERNEST LEHMAN; M.S.'s HAROLD SHIRAWAKA and BOB HOCHMAN. This Summer JOHN GRUENEFELDER, who earned his M.A. in '50, added an M.S. in mathematics.

WALT GEUDTNER found time this summer between his duties at the Convair division of General Dynamics and planning picnics for the Notre Dame Club of San Diego to pack up the household belongings and acquire a new address, 5311 Regulus Street, San Diego 11.

Jim also writes that JIM VOGEL left the Navy in September of '54 and returned to work with his father at the Interstate Equipment Corporation. Jim writes:

"I heard from TOM BOLAND, who lives with his wife and daughter in Columbus, Ohio, and JOE STACK (married in July, 1954), who is now working in Kentucky on some Hush Hush project.

"My roommate PHIL 'BEAR' FACENDA has been going to law school along with JIM JENNINGS at Loyola in Chicago.

"Occasionally I meet DON 'BUNNY' WELSCH here in Youngstown. He is an industrial engineer with Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co."

Thanks for all the news, Jim; see you in June of '56.

TOM CARROLL—business address is care of the Dumore Company, 1300 Seventeenth St., Racine, Wis.—writes that he has been selling metal-working machinery for the last couple of years and has been doing quite a bit of traveling.

In July, he writes, he and GERRY KEARNS took a joint vacation, meeting in Las Vegas (not intending to win much, and they didn't) and then going to Long Beach, Calif., to visit Tom's folks. In Las Vegas Tom saw BILL MCGEE, who was with us in the first year and then went to Texas and Oklahoma. Tom says that in talking they were wondering as to the whereabouts of BEN DAMIANI, JACK MALADY, BERNIE LAVINS, ANDY WALSH and a lot of others. (We've been wondering, too; how about a word, fellows?)

Tom also writes that while in Louisville he stayed with JIM HENNESSY and his wife, Barbara. While there, he saw DON GROBMYER, who is working in Cincinnati, and BOB NUNNELLEY, who is working in Louisville.

Tom gets to South Bend every now and then and generally stays with TOM SHEEHAN who is working there with his dad in managing several parking lots. Also, JOHN HALEY is back in South Bend, after being released from the Marine Corps.

While there, Tom writes, "I usually see DAVE NAUGHTON and his wife, Lois, GENE JOHNSON and JOE EGER, all of whom are in Law School. (The way we "heard" it, JOE EGER received the degree Master of Science in Chemical Engineering from ND in August.)

"I always look up JIM FRICK and BUDDY POWERS. Those guys certainly deserve a round of applause for the great job they're doing for the Alumni-Foundation.

"Here in Racine are a couple of guys from '51. There's JOHN WHALEY, who's going to law school at the University of Wisconsin. Another is JOE CHANIGA, who just recently was a major cog in organizing a really good Alumni club for this area.

"In Chicago I always see 'JOCKO' MULDOON, in his last year of law school. Also run into CHARLIE MURPHY, PHIL FACENDA, HARRY HANIGAN and JERRY HANK.

"In Texas I ran into DICK CULLEN, who is a lawyer in Victoria, and GENE MYLER, who was recently married to a Rochester, N. Y., girl and has moved to San Francisco. He is working in the accounting department of Kodak Corp.

"Hear from BILL ANHUT, who is getting his law degree from the University of Michigan."

Thanks for all the news, Tom.

BILL NORTON has been appointed deputy county prosecutor by Mr. Melvin Thornburg, Madison County prosecutor in Indiana. Bill got his legal education at Georgetown University, receiving his LL.B. in 1954 and his LL.M. in 1955.

PHIL CANTWELL, whose address is Mary Star of the Sea High School, Eighth and Cabrillo Sts., San Pedro, Calif., is athletic director of this school and living in San Pedro with his wife, Cathie, who was a nurse in St. Joseph's Hospital in South Bend, and his three children, the latest being Mary Margaret, age 12 months.

Phil writes that TOM CARTER is now head coach at St. Augustine High School in San Diego. He had held a similar post at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana. The Carters now reside at 867 Diamond St., San Diego. Tom is the third ND alumnus on the St. Augustine staff, joining DICK MARTIN, '45, and MAJOR JOHN DALY. (Phil, the only address I have for BILL WHITESIDE is 729 Germantown Pike, Lafayette Hill, Pa.)

TED O'MALLEY, whose address is 3002 N. Evergreen, Phoenix, Ariz., writes that he is in the real estate end of the O'Malley Investment and Realty Co., and enjoys it very much. Ted writes that they have two children, and will be on hand for the Reunion.

Ted sent FRANK BROPHY's address: 46 W. Monroe, Phoenix, Ariz. He is a student at the

* Congratulations to HANK MADDEN and his wife, Sally, on the birth of Kathleen Anne, a playmate for Lynn Marie, on August 22.

Congratulations to JOHN CORCORAN and his wife on the birth of Coleen Catherine, May 10. John was married on October 4, 1952, and they had their first child, Mary Eloise, on September 2, 1953. He is now working with his father in South Bend. John's current address is 517 Oakmont Park North Drive, South Bend 17, Ind.

ART GOLDKAMP, 910 S. Mattis Ave., Champaign, Ill., writes that after leaving ND he got his M.S. in biochemistry at Loyola University in Chicago. While in Chicago he met and married Ginny Stuart from Maywood, Ill. Currently he is working for his Ph.D. degree in organic chemistry at the University of Illinois. They have a son, Robert Christopher, who is two years old.

* ROGER NANOVIC is married, has a son and is currently in the Army at Camp Chaffee, Ark., and living in Fort Smith, Ark. After leaving ND he attended Dickinson Law School in Carlisle, Pa., and received his law degree in June, 1954.

On behalf of the class, I would like to offer our sincere sympathy to WILLIAM KLEE on the death of his mother on June 24. Bill, we will certainly remember your mother in our prayers.

PAUL KOMORA has recently moved to Fort Wayne, Ind., with his family and is a salesman with the Great Lakes Distributing Co.

JIM SCHMITT, 810 Palmer, Youngstown 2, Ohio, writes that he spent 35 months in the Navy aboard the light cruiser Manchester and was separated in May, 1954. In June he started work as a trainee in the accounting department of U. S. Steel in Gary, Ind. Last Fall he was transferred to Youngstown and on April 16 married Miss Diane Parr of Long Beach, Calif. His best man was TOM CARROLL, the bride's cousin. Also JIM VOGEL from Pittsburgh was in the wedding party. Congratulations, Jim, and best wishes.

Harold A. Foecke, (R), ass't. professor of electrical engineering at Notre Dame, presented a paper which received top honor at the Young Engineering Teachers' meeting held on the Pennsylvania State College campus. Second place winner was Prof. D. R. Lamb, (L), Univ. of Wyoming.

University of Arizona Law School and will graduate in June.

I saw BILL PUETZ, who is a regional manager for Travelers Insurance Co. and is now working out of the Sherland Building in South Bend.

Bill told me that JIM MCGUIRE is working with his father in the real estate business in Holstein, Iowa, and is married and has one child. DAVE O'LEARY is married, living in Manson, Iowa, and is in the clothing business.

DENNY RADFORD was released from the service lately, is married and selling life insurance for the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. in Omaha, Neb.

MATT MARSHALL is working with Standard Oil of Indiana in South Bend and is still batching it. MARTY O'CONNOR is living in Vetville, is married, has a couple of children and attending Notre Dame Law School. And DAN O'CONNELL is married, received his master's and is on the faculty now of Valparaiso University.

TOM LOGAN was released from the Army after serving 15 months in Korea. He now has a teaching fellowship at Indiana University Law School. His address is 645 N. College, Bloomington, Ind.

PHIL FINNEGAN, 300 Alexander, Apt. O-2, Rochester, N. Y., writes that he married Mary Teresa McDonald of Atlanta over a year ago. TOM CARROLL was his best man and PETE GREEN and FRANK GROVO were ushers. Phil is a sales representative for Owens-Illinois Glass Co., working out of his Rochester branch office. Phil writes that on July 9 GENE MYLER and Miss Shirley Van Bullard were married. JACK CURRAN was a guest at the wedding.

GERRY KERNS, whose address is 215 East 12th St., Vancouver, Wash., writes that he is still foot-loose and fancy free and is still employed by the Western Wax Paper Division of Crown Zellerbach Corp. in Portland, Ore.

Also, I'd like to report my wife's and my firstborn, Jerome John, on September 10, 1955.

ROBERT P. ANDERSON recently completed work toward his Ph.D. at Harvard and is doing research in physical-organic chemistry in the Chemistry Department of the General Electric Research Laboratory in Schenectady, N. Y.

GORDON BRICKSON became the 13th Notre Dame alumnus currently on the staff of the Convair Division of General Dynamics when he moved to San Diego this summer. His new mailing address is 471 Clairemont Drive.

SISTER M. AELRED POTTINGER, O.S.B., and P. L. KNIGHT, JR., who earned their master's at N.D. in '51, received their doctorates in biology from the University in June.

LEONARD M. CALL, JOHN K. MOORE and ROBERT J. EDMONDSON received master's degrees from Harvard at commencement exercises on June 16.

The men of '51 were busy on other educational fronts as well, other degree-earners this June:

Doctors of Medicine: JOSEPH G. BURGER, University of Pittsburgh; JOHN J. BOEHM, Northwestern University Medical School; JOSEPH A. BETTENCOURT, JR., Georgetown University; GEORGE M. HALEY, Stritch School of Medicine, Loyola University of Chicago. Joe Burger, his wife, and their three children will continue to live in Pittsburgh while he serves his internship at St. Francis Hospital there.

Master of Business Administration: JOHN J. MCCELVEY, from Rutgers. John's address is 72 Danforth Ave., Jersey City.

Master of Chemical Engineering: LEE F. BROWN, of 451 S. Kenilworth Ave., Elmhurst, Ill. Lee's degree is from the University of Delaware.

Master of Automotive Engineering: JAMES P. MELOCHE, from the Chrysler Institute of Engineering after a two-year course. Jim earned a master's in chemical engineering from ND in August of '52.

The Navy's Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I., graduated two men of '51 this summer. JOHN VANKER won his reserve commission in May; JOE COLEMAN was commissioned in September. Both had completed a stepped-up four-month "pressure" course.

ALUMNUS recently mentioned the non-C.S.C. ordination of three ND men this year, but REV. EDGAR J. MISCH, C.S.C., informs this publication that they overlooked two '51 men of the cloth. REV. DONALD H. KREBS was ordained June 11 in the Crookston Diocese and REV. JOHN F. O'BRIEN June 5 in the Green Bay Diocese.

From California comes word that GEORGE STROHMAYER is now football and baseball coach at Junipero Serra High School in Gardena, a Los Angeles suburb.

By now we've all received our first notice of the reunion, and it's time to start bringing all our news up to date on class members and making plans to return to the campus June 8, 9 and 10, 1956.

DICK STUBBING is in the Navy, stationed in Turkey, where he will remain for two years. He and his wife, Pat, had quite a trip through Germany on their way over.

JOE GARGAN was married to Betty Ann Hurst on September 17 at Sacred Heart Church, with a reception at the Morris Inn.

TOM KING of Toledo graduated from law school in June, passed the Ohio bar exam with flying colors and at present is scheduled for the service in November.

JIM "CONNIE" HIGGINS is at present manager of the Higgins Wholesale Grocery Company in Beckley, W. Va.

DON STRASSER was married June 4 to Mary McDonald at St. Kieran's Church, Chicago.

JIM MANNING signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers and was scheduled to play with Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Notre Dame's June graduating class included Ph.D.'s CLIFF BARKER, JOHN IVORY, PAUL KRUSE and REV. CYRIL A. REILLY, all of whom earned their masters' in '52.

JERRY BURLAGE, HANK CUSHING, JOE DANIEL, JOHN GREEN, TOM KIETLY, JOHN NEUMAYER, NORM PODELL, HUGH SCHADLE and ED WEHRLE all received M.A.'s from ND in June, while CHARLES McCABE earned his Master of Music Education degree and TOM MURRAY his M.S. in chemistry.

SERAFINO P. MAZZA, JR., and STANLEY A. BRONS received law degrees from Harvard at June commencement exercises. JOSEPH P. BELON and HARRY C. NESTOR are other new bachelor of laws—Joe received his degree from St. John's University in June, while Harry earned his LL.B. at Ohio State.

After graduating from Notre Dame's College of Law in June, PETER J. DONAHUE joined the attorney ranks in the Justice Department's Internal Security Division, under the Attorney General's 1955 program for law honor graduates.

TOM ROEMER has opened a law office at 404 National Bank Building, 112 W. Jefferson Blvd. in South Bend. He is associated with the firm of Goheen, Earl and Eichler.

PAUL SCHLICHTA has a year's fellowship in chemistry at the California Institute of Technology under a grant of the Shell Companies Foundation, Inc. The fellowship will enable him to complete work of his doctorate. Paul can be reached at 1307 Cedaredge Ave., Eagle Rock, Calif.

DICK MANSFIELD, 56 Greenfield Ave., Saratoga Springs, N. Y., has been awarded a Monsanto Chemical Company fellowship leading to a doctorate degree at the University of Maryland.

EUGENE PLY has joined the staff of the Whiting Research Laboratories of Standard Oil in Indiana. LEO SMITHSON has left Westinghouse and is now with the field engineering staff of Hughes Aircraft Company, Culver City, Calif.

The College of St. Thomas in Saint Paul, Minn., has added JOHN IVORY to its faculty as assistant professor of physics. John received his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Notre Dame.

A trio of '52 men received their Navy commissions in May after a four-month "pressure" course at Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I.: BILL SCHULTHEIS, GEORGE GLASER and BOB TREHEARNE. JOHN MORAN completed a similar course at the school in September.

ED ALTHERR graduated from the U. S. Naval Pre-Flight School in Pensacola and is now assigned to the Whiting Field U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Milton, Fla., for primary flight training.

VICTOR STEPKA is now in St. Louis University's School of Dentistry.

JIM GRAHAM is with the U. S. Department of Justice in Kansas City, Mo.

Way down yonder in New Orleans, JOHN MAZUR is coaching Tulane's backfield. John served two years as a Marine lieutenant and then played pro football in Canada.

BILL TOOHEY is now at Sacred Heart Novitiate in Jordan, Minn. PHIL ANDERSON is back at ND for graduate work in education.

That's all the news I have at this writing. See you again in a few months.

1953 Eugene D. Fanning

Aurora, Illinois

A few familiar faces of '53 are still to be seen on campus. JERRY SMITH, for one, is in his last year of law school. MIKE MCKINSTRA is back for a semester before entering the seminary.

DON CARBONE has returned to ND on a scholarship to try for his master's in the new Program in American Studies, a combination of American literature, history and political science. Don says the only resemblance between this and the past two years of advertising copywriting, sales promotion and house-organ editing is the complete lack of time to get everything done. That may be because he's working part-time in the Alumni Office. His job includes ghost-writing class notes. So if you hear any chains rattling in this column, don't blame your secretary. The page is haunted.

Don reports that BILL COAKER, who started out as a '53 man but by prodigious effort graduated in August of '52, plans to be married June 16 to Miss Mark Blank in the Log Chapel at ND. Bill is a senior at the Stritch School of Medicine, Loyola University, Chicago.

DAN COLLINS and MIKE HUSSEY are juniors at Loyola Med, while JOHN FLYNN is similarly situated at Northwestern Medical School. How about a progress report from all you other med students?

The same goes for all '53 men in or just out of law and graduate schools hither and yon. Not that FANNING Chevrolet isn't booming, but your secretary does have time to read your letters! (Ditto-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o—the Ghost.)

JOHN SCHAFER and JOHN PORTA received master's degrees from Harvard in June. JOHN

HOUCK got a law degree from Notre Dame and a bride from South Bend.

BILL SANTORO of "Zulu Warrior" fame left Northwestern Med a year ago to go after his master's in English lit at Columbia. Now he's back in New York working toward his doctorate.

Valedictorian ERNIE BARTELL and baritone GENE GORSKI deserted the Windy City area for the Congregation of Holy Cross. At ND this summer they brushed up their Latin and are now at Sacred Heart Novitiate in Jordan, Minn. Gene earned his Master of Music degree in August, while Ernie holds a master's in economics from the University of Chicago.

DICK WEINACHT earned his Navy commission at Newport, R. I.'s Officer Candidate School in May; JIM FLAHERTY and ED HADERER completed a similar four-month "pressure" course there in September.

October sees JOHN LEONARD separated from the Army and back home from the Canal Zone. He and wife, Barbara, have returned to 1648 Seminole Rd. S.E., Grand Rapids, Mich.

BILL KILMINSTER informs us that he returned from Korea in August, along with DICK WOLFGAM and JERRY KELLY. Bill is now working on his master's at the Cornell Graduate School of Business & Public Administration and is living at 1425 East 16th St., Brooklyn 30, N. Y., home of dem Woild Champen Bums.

WALT SWIFT has been named coach of dramatics at Canisius College. Walt was earlier awarded a graduate scholarship by the speech and drama department of the Catholic University of America and has completed work for his master's degree. At Canisius he is also an instructor in the English department. Before joining the faculty he was a member of the Valley Players in Holyoke, Mass.

MICHAEL PETRICK, who earned his master of science degree in chemical engineering at ND, is working toward his doctorate at Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, on a fellowship from Standard Oil of Indiana. He spent the summer in research at Argonne National Laboratory.

BOB TOMBRINCK received his M.A. in education from ND this summer.

In June, JIM NOONAN earned a master's in correctional administration.

Seen at either of the season's first two home football games: GEORGE HIGGINS, who is out of service and back with the Kroger Company in Kansas City; TOM FOOTE, who is out of the Marines (he almost hated to leave Florida) and looking for the right job; JOHN HOUCK (see above); JOE DESAUTELES.

Our Ghost adds that the class has already progressed half way toward its five-year reunion, so keep us posted on your social, educational, business and geographical status.

With my deadline for this material just 24 hours away and my present position about 3,000 miles from JOHN CACKLEY's ALUMNUS desk, I'll limit my opening remarks to a reminder to all that the Annual Alumni Drive is still in progress and that donations for this year's drive are recorded until the first of the year. Let's not forget Notre Dame.

The following material might seem like history to some, but with this being the first copy since the Spring deadline, I'll pass it all on for the information of others.

Pvt. MARION LESZCZYNSKI can be found at the following address: Student Company 22--TSESS, Camp Gordon, Ga., where he is going through a high-speed radio operators' school there with BOB CRISPIE and CARL FARAH. Marion reports that DICK GERCKEN and DICK ROBINSON are in training at Fort Riley, Kan.; LARRY LeBLANC is in Puerto Rico doing Army administrative work; MIKE McGRATH and PAT McDONOUGH are at Temple Med School; AL WALTER is working for New York Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

GEORGE KOCH dropped me a line while waiting for a flight to France through the courtesy of the Army. He is a graduate of the Army Engineering School at Fort Belvoir and serving as an engineering officer with an Engineering Company in the afore-mentioned area.

News around the old lot comes from PAT FOLEY who is finishing up his last year of Law School up there with such luminaries as RON MEALEY, ED WHITE, LARRY DOLAN, ED

FRANK J. MCCARTHY, '25

Frank J. McCarthy, '25, a native of Indianapolis, has been appointed vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Washington, it was announced October 2, 1955, by James M. Symes, president. Frank, who will report to Mr. Symes, has been assistant vice-president since 1951.

Mr. McCarthy is the son of Frank E. and Margaret (Rogers) McCarthy. Both his father and grandfather were railroad men, the former having been foreman of the finishing department of the locomotive shops at Beach Grove, Indiana.

Upon graduation from grade and high schools in Indianapolis, he attended Notre Dame, and was graduated from Indiana University with an LL.B. degree. After 12 years of railroad experience in Indianapolis, he became vice-chairman of the Associated Railways of Indiana in 1938, advancing to chairman in 1942.

On January 1, 1945, he joined the Pennsylvania Railroad as special assistant in the legal department, at Washington, and on November 16, 1951, was advanced to assistant vice-president.

Mr. McCarthy was made a Knight of the Holy Sepulchre by Pope Pius XII two years ago. He is a member of the newly-formed Advisory Council of Notre Dame's School of Law.

BRODERICK, JIM CORCORAN, BERRY REECE, BILL FAGAN, JACK "PUBLICITY" ROSSHIRT, JOE JOYCE and CARL ECK. Pat reports that JIM MURRAY was honored by the appointment as editor-in-chief of the Notre Dame LAWYER.

Am also informed by Pat that PHIL WALKER has earned his wings as an air observer at Ellington AFB; JIM GREENWELL is working for Arco Steel in Middletown, Ohio, while MEL JIGANTI is attending DePaul Law School.

Pvt. ROBERT RICH, US 56248494, Co. B, 1st Bn, QMSR, Fort Lee, Va., reports that he is permanently stationed at the above address where he is working in the art and training aid department. Before entering the Army, Bob completed an industrial engineer's training course with Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Bob passes on some info on MIKE "THE BARBER" CELESTE, telling me that he was the proud poppa of a baby girl in April and had been working with Bell Aircraft Corporation in Lockport, N. Y., until he received a recent call from Uncle Sam.

HERMAN L. KRIEGSHAUSER, 2nd Lt., USAF, reports that he was married to the former Miss Blanche Jeanne Rechten on May 14, and after his graduation from the St. Louis College of Mortuary Science in June he embarked on a three-year hitch with the Air Force.

JOHN SCHLOEGEL reports seeing ANDY CORRAO in Milwaukee this summer with his fiancée, Marie Dolan. Pfc. JOHN CASEY, Svc Co. 61st Inf. Regt., Fort Carson, Colo., reports a desk job out there in the foot of the Rockies, where he is the mainstay of the personnel office. Also stationed at Carson are "shavetails," as John describes them, second Johns VINSITINE and BIERBUSE.

BILL (COMMERCE) FAGAN is stationed at Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago. No doubt he runs into that celebrated Chicago convention-goer, SMOKE BERRY.

Second Lt. DICK MARTIN can be reached at OMR Box 141, Maxwell AFB, Ala., where he is base athletic officer. Dick came up with a good question: where would be a good place for the '54s to get together before the Miami game?

Couldn't come up with anything concrete because I knew that this was going to come out after the game was over. However, it brings a good point up. We can use this column for such arrangements if the word gets to me in time from some interested person in the concerned locale.

Might try as a starter the USC game this year. The last copy of ALUMNUS lists a rally for Friday, Nov. 25, at 8 p.m. at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles. See you there?

Dick passed on quite a bit of dope about some of the other fly boys out of our class, saying BILL FAIMAN is a 2nd John at Stewart AFB in Tenn.; JACK REUBA, 2nd Lt. at Brookley AFB, Ala.; JERRY KEATING is at Carswell AFB in Texas; MINNIE MAVRAIDES is at Bolling AFB in Washington, D. C.; JACKIE LEE and BOB BURNS are at Lackland AFB, Texas, for pre-flight; JERRY KIEFER is stationed at Kelly AFB in Texas.

If any of you Air Force men are located around Wright-Patterson, drop in on my folks anytime at 200 Squirrel Road in Dayton and say hello.

BOB and Betty McGLYNN of 634 N. Main St., South Bend, Ind., keep me well supplied with info, the last note reading: "... announcing the arrival of a daughter, Elizabeth Anne, on August 19, 1955." Congratulations.

Betty writes that Bob is doing his year of residency at Memorial Hospital in South Bend for the completion of his master's degree in Hospital Administration.

They see BOB SWANSON occasionally and report that he has finished his master's degree in English at school and is now working at WNDU-TV as a cameraman.

Received the following copy in the mail not long ago. "Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leland Dalbey announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Louise, to Mr. THOMAS JEFFERY NOLAN, JR., on Wednesday, the 15th of June, 1955, Des Moines, Iowa."

MIKE MAHONEY, Lt. j.g. of the USS Guadalupe (AO-32), FPO, San Francisco, Calif., reports two cruises to the Orient aboard his "grease dock" and a discharge date of February, '56, after which he plans to head to Michigan Law School. Negative, Mike, you heard wrong regarding my shipping over.

Pfc. TOM KNOTT, RA11278165, Field Station

NEW ORLEANS — Father Fred Digby was the club's Man of the Year selection. Seated are Father Digby and Father Alfred Mendez, C.S.C., guest speaker from campus. Standing (L to R): William Johnston, immediate past club pres.; Peter Hilbert, new pres.; James E. Smith, v-p; and Edward D. McCarthy, secy-treas.

8610 DU, Box 241, APO 9, San Francisco, Calif., sends along his address for future correspondence.

Another recent bit of correspondence in the mail reads as follows, "Mr. and Mrs. Meco Filipich request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Jeannette Dolores, to Mr. MATTHEW F. KULUZ on Saturday, the 11th of June, 1955, at St. Michael's Church, Biloxi, Miss."

RAY SALVINO reports that he married the former Miss Dolores Mayer on July 2 in Chicago, and he is presently continuing his dental studies at the University of Illinois.

BILL GUILFOILE has his usual fine supply of information on hand for me this deadline. In spite of great odds, too, I might add. At the present time he is aboard the USS Tanner (AGS-15), c/o FPO, New York, N. Y., and in the midst of a survey cruise in the North Atlantic.

His description seems worth quoting and reads: "... at the moment we are doing survey work off the coast of Baffin Island, north of the Arctic Circle. This is a strange country with no darkness, snow covered mountains, little vegetation, icebergs, seals, polar bears and Eskimos. We've been up here over a month now with a good six weeks more to go. As you can imagine there is little to be offered in the way of extra-curricular activities. The absence of mail and radio reception have almost completely isolated us ..."

Sounds like choice duty, Bill. Here follows some of the dope that Bill passed on from his icy perch. RAY KUROWSKI is aboard the USS Proton (AKS-28), c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif. JOHN KELSCH is out this way as a disbursing officer at North Island, NAS, in San Diego. JOE GIOVININI is also a D.O. on the USS Markab, c/o FPO, New York, N. Y.

JOHN GROSPIETCH is working in the advertising department of a Steel Company in Milwaukee. (You're sure that's a STEEL company in MILWAUKEE, Bill?) Pvt. SMOKE BERRY is at Fort Bliss working on "NIKE," while 2nd Lt. DAN HAMMER is doing counter intelligence work in Austria. JIM DURKIN and LEROY BAZANY are stationed at Camp Chafee, Ark. 2nd Lt. PHIL BOLIN is with the First Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea.

GENE HOWLEY reports that he had an encounter with the deck while flying last May. He was his usual brief and rapid self in the letter in which he told of doing some damage to his arm. He has been given some recuperation leave and reports back to his duty station this fall. He can be reached at his home address in Austin, Minn. Best of luck to you, Gene.

Activity out on this coast and poonth farther west has been quite rapid, so I hear from MILT BEAUDINE and JAKE NOONAN, who are currently in West Pac.

Brau has the distinction of serving on the USS Diachenko (APD-123), which was the last ship to leave Haiphong before it fell to the Reds. He reports a definite drop in the morale of the Japanese female since he left that area, but this was balanced by the opposite effect on the morale of the American females since his arrival on this coast October 1.

Jake wrote me from Hong Kong and reported a tremendous visit there and a new wardrobe of strictly cashmere upon leaving. Am counting on taking in the USC game with him, in that he'll be back on November 23.

I have seen quite a bit of JIM BOESEN out here on the coast. He can be reached at the following address: "C" Btry, 1st AAA AWBn FMF, MCIC, 29 Palms, Calif. Had the pleasure of meeting his fiancée out here a few weeks ago and look forward to taking in the wedding in Des Moines the last part of December.

Also ran into another 29 Palms Marine, FRANK LEX, when he came aboard out here with a school party to see what this sea-going navy is like. JOHN KEEMAN is the XO of a Marine Company up at Pendleton.

Spent two weeks of school out here with CHRIS MALONE this summer in the Fleet Gunnery School. Chris since then has taken the big step and become engaged to the very charming Miss Tony Schilder of New Jersey. Chris is presently holding down the duty of Personnel Officer on the brand new USS Tulare (AKA-112), c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

He tells me that LEN DURV is with the Marines in Japan and quite a hand with a 4.2 mortar.

Lt. PHIL BREHM, Box 245 OMS, Dover AFB, Dover, Del., writes that after receiving his navigator's wings, he was assigned to the 40th Air Transport Squadron of the M.A.T.S. Atlantic Division.

BOB CHUCKEY comments on the death of GEORGE DeSMET, '33, in a jet crash at El Toro in early June. "It was quite a shock," writes Bob, "to the ND boys out here (about four of us). George had only been flying here at El Toro for about a month. We all trust that George was in the 'graces' of God when he left us. I'm sure that as an ND man he was in the best shape with Our Lady."

About himself, Bob had this to report: "I haven't had too much trouble finding employment, as you can see. I have been in the Marine Corps almost a year now (his letter was dated June 18), most of that time spent at Quantico, Va. I came to El Toro about four months ago and have assumed the duties as supply officer for Service Squadron.

"I have been following things at school pretty closely through copies of the SCHOLASTIC. That name 'Notre Dame' is a miracle word . . . wherever you go. Now is when I realize how lucky I was to be able to attend such a wonderful school."

JON BAKER writes from 1262 17th St., San Diego: "On the 18th of June I was married at Holy Cross in South Bend to Jeanne Nemeth (St. Mary's, '54) and we then moved to San Diego. I am in the Navy (tension), assigned to the USS Wantuck (APD 125) out here."

BOB GRAHAM, '26, Harrisburg Alumni Club secretary, reports that 2nd Lt. JOHN M. LYONS is watching the world go by from a jet at Webb Air Force Base, Big Springs, Texas.

The Navy's Officer Candidate School at Newport, R. I., commissioned BOB ROSS and JOE COSGROVE in May and BERNIE RANDALL in September. All had survived a four-month "pressure" course which crammed in everything the NRO does in four years at ND.

JIM ZAVATONE is in service in Germany. Prior to his assignment Jim attended Language school.

Speaking of school, JOHN J. LYON has been awarded a fellowship in history at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., to study for his doctorate.

At Notre Dame this summer, DICK LYON, BOB BELLENGEE, DAVE HUMM, DON BEDEL and BOB SWANSON all received masters' degrees.

FRAN MEANEY is an ensign stationed on the USS Brant. He was best man at his brother Jack's wedding in California recently. Ushers included JOE DAIGNEAULT and HILARY RAUCH. He expects to be getting another ship (presently on a mine-sweeper) in October. Fran's address is Ens. Francis X. Meaney, USN, U.S.S. Brant (MSC09-43), c/o P.O. NNSV, Portsmouth, Va.

Pvt. JIM BUCKENMYER (US52383761, Medical Detachment, 5027SU, U. S. Army Hospital, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.) sends in a clipping from The Observer, weekly newspaper for personnel at Fort B. H. The banner headline on page one reads: "Gallagher Triumphs in Singles Playoff," referring to the tennis exploits of Pvt. CHUCK GALLAGHER in the 13th Finance Disbursing Section.

Referring to Gallagher's outstanding play, the paper reports: "Baker (LIEUTENANT Baker, that is) was working him close in on the net when he slammed one slightly to (PRIVATE) Gallagher's left. Gallagher made a hinging backhand chop at the ball and dropped it just over the net to catch Baker completely out of position."

And again: "... Gallagher's steady game and remarkable returns wore down the resistance of his opponent." Look out, Trabert, here comes Chuck!

Second Lt. JOHN F. WALLACE sends his regards from Wright-Patterson AFB in Ohio, where he's flying a desk in the Office of Information Services of the Wright Air Development Center.

A recent letter from Ens. JOHN GRINDELL, USS Tawasa (ATF-92), c/o P.O. San Francisco, Calif., brings a message of grief that I save until last so that the possibility of it not being remembered in your prayers is nil.

He very sadly reports that his diving partner at Bayonne, N. J., FOSTER PAKCARD, drowned during his training on July 11. Speaking for the Class of '54, I express our deep sympathy to his family on the loss of a fine man and friend of all of us and assure them of our continued prayers for the repose of his soul.

1955 Ens. Thomas F. O'Malley
6738 Kenwood
Kansas City, Missouri

I begin my first column on a note of sadness. We were all shocked to learn of the untimely death of one of our fellow graduates in the class of '55, CHET WYNNE.

It is a certainty that Chet will always be remembered by those of us who knew and admired him for what he was—a perfect example of what a Notre Dame man should be. The class of '55 extends its prayers and deepest sympathy to Chet's family.

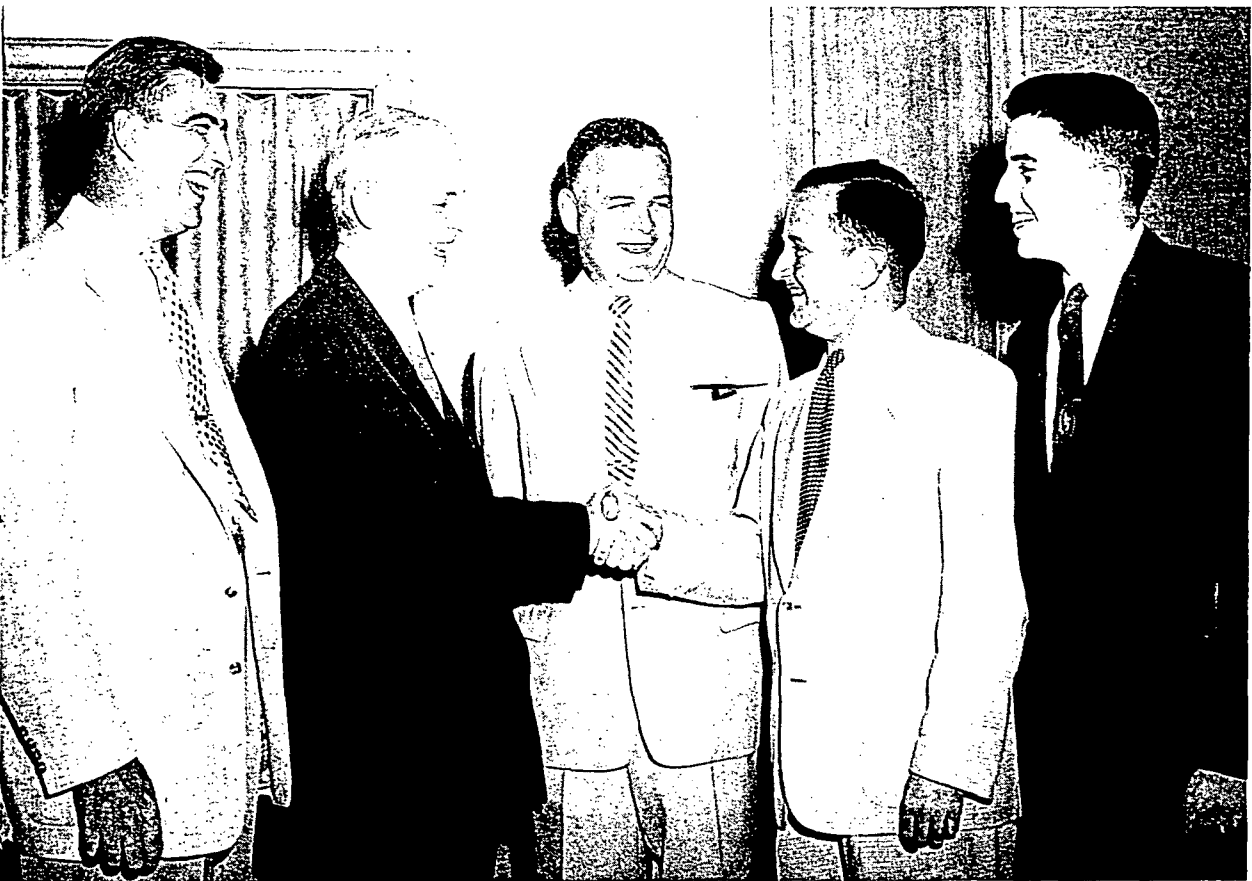

Notre Dame was more than well represented in the deep south during the Summer months as 19 of us in the Supply Corps found ourselves slaving in the hot Georgia sun. The occasion was the three-month course at the Navy supply school in Athens.

The life was quite plush and the base was replete with swimming pool and air-conditioned officers' club. We did find time to study while we were sunbathing.

I still say that CHUCK BENNETT should have bought stock in the cool "O" club before he even arrived. They were sorry to see him leave when he received orders to the U.S.S. Denebola (AF-56), P.O. New York, N. Y.

ED KELLY and TOM PETTERSCH also found

their stay at Athens agreeable and felt that it had been worth it when they were both ordered to the Naval Air Station in Michigan. They both said that they regretted the fact that the Navy didn't have a place for them in Formosa.

Our group of bachelors dwindled to 16 as three of our partners in supply were married before we departed from the southland.

GUY PIERCE tied the knot with the former Miss Pat Centlivre while he was stationed at Athens. Guy then received orders to the Naval Ammunition Depot at Earle, N. J.

Before reporting to Athens, FRANK BURKE married the former Miss Ann Marshall in New York on June 11. Frank was ordered to the U.S.S. Wisconsin to serve as disbursing officer.

To round out the nuptial trio, JOE HENEHAN married the former Miss Eileen Green, and they both will now live in California as Joe has been ordered to the Treasure Island Naval Station in San Francisco.

JIM CAHILL has been ordered from Athens to the Navy Area Audit Office in Boston and will spend his two years of service as a cost inspector for the Navy. Jim says that it's time to break out the unfinished practice sets.

FRANK GUNNINGHAM has been ordered to the Naval Supply Depot at Bayonne, N. J., and I have a feeling that his home town of Bound Brook, N. J., will be seeing more of him than they had hoped.

The prize for choicest sea duty goes to ED DEMPSEY, although I'm not sure that he would agree. Ed reports to the U.S.S. Duxbury Bay (AVP-38), FPO, New York, N. Y., and should see Europe from top to bottom during his two-year tour.

JIM DUFFY, who has a yearning for a warm climate, should find the Naval Air Station at Alameda, Calif., much to his liking.

The fact that the accounting majors garnered the shore duty seems rather evident as JOHN HAMILTON reports to the Naval CIG Officers School at the Naval Air Station in Glenview, Ill. He seems a sure bet for football weekends in South Bend.

It looks like JOHN WEITHERS will be watching the Irish eleven in spirit only, since it's a long way from the Naval Station at Key West, Fla., where John is to assume the duties of Navy exchange officer. Since the uniform of the day in the Keys area is Bermuda shorts, I'm taking bets that John will be sporting the most suntanned legs in the class.

HAL WILLENBORG is also a candidate for the most travelled ensign in the navy, as he will be stationed aboard the U.S.S. Alstede (AF-48), FPO, New York, N. Y. Hal tells me that his ship is due for a trip to Cuba and Europe during the next year.

The salt air is already beginning to tarnish the gold on PHIL SHERIDAN's uniform, as he prepares for a prolonged cruise aboard the U.S.S. Hancock (CVA-19), FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

DICK O'ROURKE found a home in the deep south, and the Navy obliged by sending him to the Naval Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. Relax, Dick never felt better in his life, but it happens that they need supply officers at hospitals, too. Last and not least, yours truly is stationed at the Naval Air Station at Olathe, Kan.

I omitted one name from the supply group for a special reason. As the saying goes, "Orchids to JACK SORRANO."

As you probably remember, Jack was selected to represent Notre Dame at an advertising convention in New York over the Easter vacation. At the completion of the convention, each candidate was to submit a report which was to be used as the basis for an award presented by the sponsors of the meeting.

Jack recently received word that he had been awarded the title of "Outstanding Advertising Student in America." Jack is to be congratulated for the fine work that he has done and for the honor that he has brought to the University.

Looking over my notes, I see that I neglected to tell you of the fate of two of our other cohorts who spent the summer in Athens also.

GEORGE SHELTON is stationed aboard the pride of the Atlantic fleet, by name, the U.S.S. Taconic (AGC-17), FPO, New York, N. Y. George wouldn't admit it, but I have a feeling that this is the type of ship that is welded to the dock.

The finances of the Navy are in good hands in the Norfolk, Va., area at least, as JERRY ROE assumes the duties of central disbursing officer at the Naval Supply Center. This brings to mind a story about money lenders in the temple.

Enough about the Navy for a time and on to those lucky enough to still be civilians.

Received a letter from PAUL FULLMER telling me that he is working for the Aurora Beacon-

News and pounds the typewriter for both the news and sports section.

He also reports that he heard from FRANK MAIER who is in naval officer training at Newport, R. I. Frank is to be married to Miss Ginny Ryan on November 12, and from what I hear, DICK BURKE, FRANK LOLLI and JOHN RYAN are going to be there to give Frank some needed moral support.

Paul also mentioned that DICK BEEMAN and Miss Sue Carroll were to be married on or about September 10.

As a final note he tells me that JOE CONNOLLY is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Through the grapevine I hear that MAX ROESLER is putting that accounting degree to work with Peat, Marwick, an accounting firm in Chicago.

I've heard very little from the Air Force but I understand that BILL STOUTENBURGH, GEORGE GIST, JOFF FLYNN and WALT KAVANAUGH are stationed at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. With that flight pay a good time should be had by all.

On the Army side of the ledger, TOM MAY is stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis.

JACK STEPHENS married the former Miss Dula Kallman on September 17 and I understand that he plans to play professional basketball with St. Louis.

The news has filtered down that DICK NORTON is working for Allied Chemical and is hitting the books again at C.G.N.Y. night school. The quest for knowledge goes on.

A domesticated life became the direct result of being a football manager, as PHIL STUMP and the former Miss Louise Mintrone were married on September 17. Much akin to this, JIM PORCARI married the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Davis on the 17th of September.

A June wedding was in order for CONNIE TROGOLO and the former Miss Donna Thompson on the 12th of the month.

No, OWEN DUGAN wasn't married, but his first love has become the Navy, as he is attending Officer's Candidate School in Newport. I hear that when he is finished there, he plans to continue his military vacation at the Navy Supply Corps School in Athens. Sound judgment, to say the least.

The legal picture takes shape as DON ROBINSON again switches on the neon desk lamp at Columbia Law School. I see a Clarence Darrow in the making. Following the legal trail we find TOM GALLIGAN attending DePaul Law School.

Because of the vastness of the subject, I feel that DICK BURKE should again be mentioned. The last I heard was that Dick planned to attend the University of Chicago Law School, and if I'm in error I'll expect an immediate reply from the presidential "Walking Laugh."

MIKE JACKMAN is working for his M.A. in Education at Michigan State.

HARRY EDELSTEIN, EMMET ROOT, JIM CARROL, DICK GAUTHIER, and GENE WAGNER are also learning the ins and outs of those new fangled jets.

The law schools of the nation will further notice the influx of ND students, as BUTCH WALLACE starts anew at Fordham and brushes up on his court procedure. RON MOTTL is attending the Notre Dame Law School along with CHUCK DOHERTY, and by this time they should know their way around the campus pretty well. RON TAGLER is cracking the volumes at DePaul Law School, while JOHN RUSSO is burning the midnight oil at Columbia. Not to be outdone, TOM CAREY and JOHN HARTIGAN are both enrolled at Northwestern Law School and at the same time are not missing any contacts in the Windy City.

I hear that JOE HOST is trying his hand at the advertising game in Grand Rapids. DAN SHANNON was the man of the day as he married the former Miss Kitty Hughes on September 18.

We're back to the accounting majors as we report that GEORGE MEYERS is working with an accounting firm in Chicago. Arthur Anderson accounting firm in St. Louis claims BOB McAULIFFE as one of their new employees.

Spending some time with Uncle Sam we find BILL TICE who is in training at Fort Bliss, Texas. DON FREUND is also learning the new developments in ships, shoes and sealing wax at the Naval Officers Candidate School in Newport. JOHN MANIX wears the Air Force blue at Lackland and was able to enjoy a fine summer vacation since he didn't report until September 30.

P. J. SHEEHAN was married to the former Miss Helen McDermott on September 11.

JOHN M. PATTON, '27

After his graduation from Notre Dame's College of Commerce, John M. Patton, '27, returned home to Mitchell, S. Dak. and The Mitchell National Bank. He's been there ever since.

Jack began as assistant cashier, later became vice-president and in 1948 was elected to the presidency of the bank.

Jack is also state vice-president of the National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers and a director of the Financial Public Relations Association, Chicago.

In 1952 he completed a course sponsored by the association at Northwestern University, his thesis on "A Small Bank's Public Relations Program" being accepted for the association library.

Active in the affairs of the American Bankers Association, he has served as a member of its Installment Credit Committee and is at present a member of the ABA's Bank Management Commission. He has also been president and vice-president of the South Dakota Bankers Association.

Patton's part in community affairs has included service as director and president of the Mitchell Chamber of Commerce.

Married to the former Gertrude Kennedy since 1935, he has two daughters—the oldest a sophomore at St. Mary's of Notre Dame—and a son.

LOU CENTLIVRE, at the last report, was surviving basic training at Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri.

JOHN MARCHAL is attending law school at Notre Dame.

After growing oranges in Florida during the summer, TED LAUGHLIN has entered Georgetown Medical School along with DICK REAMER. Sears Roebuck and Co. never had it so good, at least in the Chicago area, until TIM SHEA went to work for them after graduation. I received a letter from Tim asking me to open a Sears charge account, but I was turned down. Could it be that the Navy doesn't pay me enough?

I also heard from DAVE METZ during the summer, and he said that he had applied for a commission in the Navy. I think that Dave would make a good "salt."

ROBERT W. GREENE, who contracted polio last fall while school was underway and had to withdraw, is living in Bethlehem, Pa., and is associated with his father in business (Greene Light Company). Bob attended the SMU game in a wheelchair and enjoyed being back on campus.

From the Reading, Pa., Eagle comes word that WILLIAM J. MORRIS of 2609 Cumberland Ave., Mount Penn, has at the ripe old age of 21 been appointed county deputy sheriff. Bill replaces the chief deputy, who resigned but whose duties were split up among the other deputies. Eventually it is planned that Bill take over as real estate deputy.

JOHN KRIEG, 759 East Drive, Oradell, N. J., has joined the staff of the Esso Research and Engineering Company's process research division. EMIL BANAS, who earned his Ph.D. in physics at ND last June, is now with the Whiting Research Laboratories staff of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In Texas City, Texas, L. R. REINHART has become a member of the process section of the engineering department of Monsanto Chemical Company's Plastics Division. Monsanto Plastics engineering department in Springfield, Mass., includes WALTER J. MINGS.

Newcomers to the Guided Missiles engineering staff of Bendix Aviation Corporation in South Bend are DON BURKHART and MAURY POZZI, JR. BOB BOLGER was awarded the 1955-56 Westinghouse Educational Foundation fellowship in electrical power systems engineering at Illinois Institute of Technology. In three semesters, he'll have his M.S.E.E. degree.

RALPH GUGLIELMI was one of 32 sports champions and enthusiasts who met with President Eisenhower in July to "plan ways to spur more young Americans to take part in competitive sports" as a means of improving physical standards and reducing juvenile delinquency.

Ralph also distinguished himself in Chicago on the evening of August 12, as everybody probably has heard. "Goog" was the only offensive quarterback used by the All-Stars against the Cleveland Browns and was voted the game's outstanding player for leading the Stars to their upset victory.

BOB ZEIS is now in the advertising department of the Denver Post.

DON HUML reports that he is now located at 442 N. Norton, Tucson, Ariz., and is head football coach at the Salpointe High School in Tucson. I've got a list of the fellows who graduated from the Navy unit at school and also included in the list are the ships and stations to which they were assigned.

However, the names only wouldn't do any of you much good, because I'm not sure which fleet their ships are operating in. They wouldn't be able to get the mail if this weren't included.

So, I'm counting on you Navy people to notify me of the FPO address, and I'll pass the information along in the next column. Just sit down with a cup of coffee in the wardrobe and it shouldn't take you but a few minutes.

JIM HESBURGH took time out from his military duties to marry the former Miss Mary Teresa Kelly on September 17. The wedding took place in Manlius, N. Y.

At this point I have to offer an apology to JOE FONTANA. I received a letter from Joe which contained some choice tidbits of class news. I was given the letter while sitting in class at Athens and when I left three hours later for lunch, the note was nowhere to be found. Keep the notes coming, Joe, and I promise that I'll guard them with my life the next time.

Well, that just about does it for this time. I've only heard from a few of you but I realize that you've been pretty busy. The length of the column depends on you and as you report it, I'll write it. Good luck!

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JOHN W. O'BRIEN, '48

From bookkeeper to bank officer in less than seven years is the progress made by John W. O'Brien, '48, since graduating from Notre Dame. The board of directors of the St. Joseph Bank & Trust Co. of South Bend recently appointed O'Brien vice-president in charge of the Commercial Loan Department.

John has the distinction of having entered Notre Dame three times—each in a different college. He first enrolled in 1941 as an engineering student. After a semester of school and one of working, he returned to N.D. in 1942 as an arts & letters student.

A member of the Army Reserve, he was called to duty in 1943 and served as a radio operator during the Italian campaign. Reentering the University in February 1946, this time in the College of Commerce, he was graduated in August 1948.

O'Brien began in the South Bend bank's bookkeeping department, progressed through various other departments and was elected assistant vice-president, the post he held prior to his latest advancement.

He and his wife, the former Nancy Lee Henderson of South Bend, and their four children live at 2516 S. Twyckenham Drive, South Bend.

His father, the late John J. O'Brien, was a trustee of the University and board chairman of the South Bend Lathe Works.

The Alumni Association

Fellow Alumni:

November 5, 1955

Since the last communication we have seen many remarkable changes on the campus, the Pangborn Residence Hall, Notre Dame Book Store, Sculpture Studio and WNDU-TV Station.

The Pangborn Residence Hall is located between Fisher Hall and The Rockne Memorial. The Notre Dame Book Store is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Romy Hammes; it is located between the Post-Office and Badin Hall. The Sculpture Studio, the result of another generous contribution by the O'Shaughnessys of $75,000, is adjacent to the Liberal and Fine Arts Building. The Sculpture Studio was built for the special use of the internationally renowned sculptor, Professor Ivan Mestrovic. WNDU-TV is located immediately north of the Navy Drill Hall. In the near future ground will be broken for another refectory and two residence halls.

The Congregation of Holy Cross Fathers are making every effort to accommodate all the students on campus; thus fulfilling one of the essential objectives of the University. One misses the atmosphere so essential to Notre Dame life, if not a member of the campus student body.

The additions to the University plans are directed towards one goal, to accommodate comfortably the undergraduates and graduate students in residence and class room, to give the student the most advanced facilities for a thorough education both materially and spiritually. The tirelessness of the members of the Congregation of Holy Cross to achieve these objectives is always a source of amazement to the Alumni.

The Alumni Board met the week-end of the Notre Dame-Indiana game. It discussed many problems that concern all alumni.

The Board attended the President's luncheon, the dedication of the television station WNDU-TV, and the conclave, at which meeting the University conferred the degree of Doctor of Science on General David Sarnoff. The general's speech of acceptance was impressive. My inference was that the most important impact that could be made upon the world at this time is Sound Morality. A very appropriate subject in an appropriate atmosphere, because nowhere has that subject been so intensely treated as at our Alma Mater.

The Alumni Board brings to your attention constantly two essential and related subjects, Prestige and Public Relations. Each helps to solve many of the problems of financial support and enrollment for the University. They are the unlimited challenge to Alumni. It is the Alumni Board's earnest prayer that the individual alumnus nourishes them constantly that we may enhance our Association's standing; thus assisting Notre Dame's every objective.

Sincerely,

Leo D. O'Donnell
