Present and Former Faculty Members Were Well Known

To Hundreds of Notre Dame Alumni

Six Holy Cross Priests Die in Six Weeks Period

In the space of six weeks, from late January to early March of this year, death has claimed six Holy Cross priests. Not since the cholera epidemic of 1854 has this band of religious been so greatly bereaved in such a brief period of time. With the exception of Father Norckauer, a Bengal missionary, the other five deceased Fathers were present or former faculty members at Notre Dame and known to hundreds of alumni.

Rev. Matthew A. Coyle, C.S.C.

Father Coyle, who died on Jan. 21, was assistant chaplain to the nuns at St. Mary's College and Convent for about nine years up until a few weeks before his demise at the age of 63. He had undergone an operation ten days earlier, rallied briefly, and then succumbed to complications.

Born in Rhineland, Wis., Jan. 23, 1893, Father Coyle spent most of his boyhood in Morris, Michigan, from whence he came to Holy Cross Seminary in 1911. Graduated from Notre Dame in 1918 with a Bachelor of Literature degree (he served as class poet), Father Coyle went to the novitiate and then to Holy Cross College in Washington, D. C., for his theology. He was ordained at Notre Dame on June 24, 1923 with five others: Fathers George Holderith, Raymond Clancy, Frank Boland, Leigh Hubbel and E. Vincent Mooney.

While studying in Washington, Father Coyle obtained an M.A. from Catholic University and added another Masters' degree from Yale in 1928.

He taught at St. Edward's University, University of Portland and Notre Dame. He also served for many years as a director of the University Theatre at N.D. In 1948, he was assigned to the position at St. Mary's.

Rev. William H. Molony, C.S.C.

The example of Father Molony's encounter with the ravages of a slow death will be long remembered by his fellow priests and associates who saw him patiently accept the inevitable. For Father Molony it was the end of a long and active life which at a much earlier stage had been threatened by tuberculosis. He had overcome this setback and lived to the age of 72 at the time of his death on Jan. 24.

A native of Crawfordsville, Indiana, Father Molony entered Holy Cross Seminary in 1900. After receiving a Bachelor of Literature degree from Notre Dame in 1907, he began his theological studies at Holy Cross College. In his third year there, he contracted tuberculosis and was strongly advised to give up his studies and go to Texas to regain his health. Appalled by the prospect of an indefinite delay of his ordination, Father Molony begged to be ordained before leaving for Austin and his request was granted. His cure was effected during a nine-year stay at St. Edward's U., where he taught physics regularly and chemistry and math occasionally. He also served as Director of Studies.

Father Molony returned to Notre Dame in 1919 and taught physics, for 15 years. In 1934, he was back at St. Ed's for another nine years, being re-assigned to Notre Dame's physics department in 1943, to remain here for the rest of his life.

Rev. Maurice J. Norckauer, C.S.C.

A veteran of 35 years in the Bengal Missions, Fr. Norckauer passed away on February 13, 1957 in the mission hospital at Tejgaon in Bengal, East Pakistan.

A native of Xenia, Ohio, Father Norckauer entered the Congregation of Holy Cross in June of 1914 at the age of 22, after receiving an A.B. degree. Three years later, he made his final Profession of Vows. Less than a year after ordination he was in Bengal to start his life's work with the Indian natives.

After a six-year assignment at the post of Narikelbari, he was transferred to Ranikhong, and served as Religious Superior of the Holy Cross missionaries in the Dacca archdiocese until 1932. From that time until his death he resumed his active crusade for the Faith.

A letter from Father Robert McKee in Bengal states:

"Today (Feb. 14) we buried Father at Tejgaon where he had been pastor for some fifteen years . . .

Clare Boothe Luce Selected to Receive N.D. Laetare Medal

Presentation at Commencement Exercises

Clare Boothe Luce

Clare Boothe Luce, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, has been named recipient of Notre Dame's Laetare Medal for 1957. She is the sixteenth woman to receive the award which has been presented annually since 1883 to an outstanding American Catholic.

Distinguished recipients have included educators, soldiers, diplomats, artists, industrialists, scientists, philanthropists and statesmen. It is the American counterpart of the "Golden Rose", a papal honor antedating the 11th Century.

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame president, in announcing the selection of the former Congresswoman, playwright and author, said:

"In her brilliant and singularly versatile career, Clare Boothe Luce has demonstrated talents and effectiveness altogether uncommon in the worlds of diplomacy, politics, the theater, and letters. Since her conversion to Catholicism a decade ago, her life and activities have been informed by a faith which she attributes to 'the inexhaustible generosity of Almighty God.' Because few American women, indeed, few women anywhere can approach her genius, the University of Notre Dame is proud to award to Mrs. Luce the Laetare Medal, highest honor within its power to bestow."

The Laetare Medal winner is named each year on Laetare Sunday, the fourth Sunday of Lent and an occasion of joy in the liturgy of the Church. General Alfred M. Gruenther, former NATO commander, received the award last year.

Mrs. Luce is the third woman to be honored with the Laetare Medal in the past fifteen years. Actress Irene Dunne was the recipient in 1949 and journalist Anne O'Hara McCormick was similarly honored five years earlier. Other recent Laetare Medalists who have held high diplomatic posts include Jefferson Caffery (1954), Carlton J. H. Hayes (1946) and G. Howland Shaw (1945).

U. S. Ambassador to Italy

President Eisenhower appointed Mrs. Luce as U. S. ambassador to Italy on February 8, 1953. She held that key diplomatic post for more than three-and-a-half years, submitting her resignation to the President on November 22, 1956. Mr. Eisenhower congratulated her "on a job superbly done" and expressed the hope "that your retirement to private life is only temporary and that your government may soon again have the benefit of your services." Before leaving Italy, Mrs. Luce received that country's highest decoration, the Grand Star of the Order of Merit of the Italian Republic, which had never before been conferred upon a woman.

Mrs. Luce was elected by Connecticut's 4th district to serve in the U. S. House of Representatives from 1943 to 1947. While a member of Congress, she became a convert to Catholicism in 1946. She was received into the Church on February 16th of that year by Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen, now Auxiliary Bishop of New York.

In 1952 she edited a book of biographies of saints, called Saints for Now, which received a Christopher Award.

Her credits as a playwright include "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," "Margin for Error," "The Women," and "Abide with Me." A native of New York City, Mrs. Luce is married to Henry R. Luce, well-known publisher.

TUITION INCREASE IS EFFECTIVE AT START OF SEPTEMBER TERM

A tuition increase of $150 annually will be effective at Notre Dame beginning in the Fall semester of 1957. In making the announcement, Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice president stated that the change in the tuition rate from $750 to $900, is because of "rising costs in all areas of the University."

Father Joyce

Father Joyce said there have been consistent increases in faculty salaries during the past few years and must continue if Notre Dame is to "attract and retain the most qualified people in the teaching profession."

Special Revolving Loan Fund

In order to help young men of limited means obtain a Notre Dame education, the University has decided upon an increase in stipends for student employment, Father Joyce disclosed. For example, students now earning $300 per year in campus jobs will earn $360 next year. He said that certain scholarship grants also will be increased proportionately.

Father Joyce also announced that the University is establishing a special revolving loan fund to help upperclassmen finance their education. Loans up to $100 per year will be made to qualified sophomores, juniors and seniors, he explained, in the hope that no student presently at Notre Dame will be forced to interrupt his education because of the increase in tuition rates.

Editorial Comments from your Alumni Secretary

Jim Armstrong

The problems of the University are sometimes difficult to know because each of us has a tendency to weigh them by our own era. I have just received the Academic Report for the first semester of 1956-57. Some of the highlights of this report are interesting, and perhaps revealing, in the light of our appeals for your help.

Undergraduate enrollment was 5,348; Law School 150; Graduate School 524, a total enrollment of 6,022. Drop-outs and semester completions, (102), have reduced the present enrollment to 5,742.

Catholics total 5,318 or 96.7%, a higher number than usual, in the undergraduate schools; the graduate students are only 79% Catholic.

Only 411 students are married.

Only 143 students come from other countries. There are 44 members of the yellow race listed, and 28 black.

All 48 States and the District of Columbia are represented, along with 36 foreign countries.

Illinois Leads Enrollment

The ten top States, in order of enrollment, are: Illinois, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, and California. Canada leads the other countries, with Puerto Rico second, Hawaii and Nicaragua tied for third.

Private prep schools supply 4,780 of the present undergraduate and Law students.

The report lists 4,094 students on-campus, 68% of the total, with 1,928 off-campus. On-campus includes those in the Seminary, Old College, etc.

There were only 71 withdrawals during the first semester, of which 46 were voluntary, 17 health, only 6 discipline, 1 military and 1 financial. (The last figure is particularly significant to those of us who feel present costs are high because they exceed the costs of our own era. Ed.)

Only 85 students were dropped for low scholarship in June, 1956, and 24 of these were re-instated on probation. (This statistic is significant in the face of the rumors that Notre Dame has become too rigid in its standards and that the average boy no longer has a chance. Ed.)

Science Students Attain 82.38%

The honor list numbered 542 students, with Science listing 27.5% of eligibles. Physical Education was low with only 8% of its eligibles. Physical Education was also low in its average scholastic standing (78.43); Science was high (82.38); Arts and Letters (81.71); Engineering (81.06), and Commerce (80.14), (indicating that standards are not too lax, nor is the campus overpopulated with genius. Ed.)

Chemistry and electrical engineering lead the majors in the Graduate, Schools with 64 each, with education third (49).

Over a 10-year period the total enrollment has jumped from 4,235 to 5,341 undergraduates, and from 319 to 483 graduate students. In the Law School, enrollment is presently down to 149 from the 1947-48 figure of 227, and the 10-year high of 300 (1949-50).

During the past 10 years the University has conferred 12,403 degrees (almost half our total alumni).

82 Holy Cross Priests on Faculty

Of 641 faculty members, 371 are lay faculty, 105 religious, and 165 teaching fellows. There are 121 professors, 117 associate professors, 152 assistant professors and 62 instructors among these.

There are 82 Holy Cross priests, 2 Holy Cross Brothers, and 21 non-Holy Cross priests on the present faculty.

Class totals presently are: Freshmen 1483; Sophomores 1339; Juniors 1298, and Seniors 1165.

There are 35 Departments in the 4 undergraduate Colleges, and 27 offering graduate work in these Colleges.

Increase in stature, and with it, inevitably, you can see, increase in problems.

WSND Will Observe Tenth Anniversary

The 'pioneer of radio' at Notre Dame student station WSND is now celebrating its tenth broadcasting year. By its carrier-current system radio station WSND has never been heard in South Bend. Its signal is fed into the power system of the university, and it can only be received in the campus halls.

WSND is a completely student run organization. Work is voluntary and is done without pay. The WSND staff is divided into eleven different departments, each with its own responsibility. The heads of each department along with the station manager form its administrative nucleus.

Beside the three broadcasting departments of announcing, news, and sports, there is much work done behind the scenes. The business, traffic, public relations, programming, record, and sales departments must work together to make the man in front of the mike a success. The engineering and technical engineering departments have the responsibility of keeping the announcer on the air.

WSND is housed in the tower of the I. A. O'Shaughnessy Hall of Liberal and Fine Arts. Two floors of studios and offices give it spacious and modern facilities. In the past year the installation of a new studio and a transmission system with individual hall amplifiers has given each room on campus a stronger, clearer signal than any other station.

Advertisers know that to reach the student they must do it through WSND. The station's sales have increased each year. Beside the numerous South Bend accounts WSND has national accounts such as Lucky Strike, Reader's Digest, North American Aviation, Lytton's department store of Chicago, and Sam Goody's Record Shop of New York.

As a community organization WSND has recently lent a helping hand to the South Bend Junior Achievement Program. The station has given a half hour a week of broadcast time to the high school students of South Bend. These students under the leadership of three WSND staff members sell, produce, and put on their own show.

This operation is a far cry from and currently Director of the N.D. Foundation. Berrigan has participated as director of the Moot Court and was one of a team of three students who competed in the national Moot Court finals held in New York City. Calder has the highest average of the senior law class and was associate editor of the Lawyer publication. Downing was a Moot Court participant.

Both Gorman and Calder received undergraduate degrees at Notre Dame in 1954 while Berrigan is an alumnus of Holy Cross College in Worcester, Mass., and Downing has an A.B. degree from Duke. Gorman is an officer of Gray's Inn, law student campus organization and was also vice president of The Bookmen. He intends to practice law in the Chicago area following the completion of his duties with Justice Clark. Calder is attending the University on a Notre Dame Law Association Scholarship. He was an officer of the Economic Round Table as an undergraduate and was active in Moot Court competition. Berrigan received a Law Association Scholarship and will join Judge Fahy's staff in August. Downing is a U. S. Navy veteran, having been in the Armed Forces during the period of 1952-54. His father is a member of Notre Dame's Class of 1914 and is a director of the N. D. Law Alumni Association.

Prof. Broden Returns to Faculty

Professor Thomas F. Broden, Jr. has returned to the Notre Dame Law School after a two-year leave of absence. He spent these two years as a member of the legal staff of the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives. He did excellent work there and made a fine impression in Washington. Professor Broden was appointed to the Law Faculty in 1950 after obtaining a J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School.

Notre Dame law students Robert Gorman (left) and Thomas Calder have recently received appointments as law clerks to federal judges. Calder holds the highest academic average in the Notre Dame Law School's 1957 graduating class and Gorman is editor of "The Notre Dame Lawyer."

Seniors Appointed Law Clerks

Dean Joseph O'Meara of Notre Dame's School of Law has announced the appointment of four senior law students as clerks to a group of the nation's most prominent jurists for one-year terms.

Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark has named Robert P. Gorman, Tiskilwa, Ill., as his law clerk, while Thomas S. Calder, Worcester, Mass., will serve as aide to Judge Potter Stewart of the U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, Cincinnati, O. Patrick J. Berrigan, Lewiston, N. Y., will join the staff of Judge Charles Fahy, U. S. Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia and William T. Downing, Decatur, Ill., will be law clerk to Judge Roger Kiley, '23, of the Appellate Court of Illinois.

These students were outstanding in academic and extra-curricular activities while studying at the University. Gorman is the editor of the "Notre Dame Lawyer" and was the first recipient of the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C. Law Scholarship, awarded in honor of Notre Dame's immediate past president

Holy Cross Priests

We have lost a wonderful missionary, a priest to whom many went for advice and encouragement . . . The end came quickly . . . His weak heart and the poison of the typhus which he had, drained all the strength from him in two days . . . On Tuesday night, Father Harrington anointed him. He died at 8:40 Wednesday morning, Feb. 13."

Rev. John J. Burke, C.S.C.

Father Burke, died February 16, at the age of 53. Since 1953, he had been Steward for the Indiana province of Holy Cross and a member of the Provincial Council.

A native of Ville-Saint-Pierre, near Montreal, Father Burke won a scholarship to McGill University in Montreal, but declined the offer. Instead, he went to Detroit to work in the Highland Park State Bank where he eventually became teller and cashier. After six-years, he entered Holy Cross Seminary, and was graduated with an A.B. degree from Notre Dame in 1932.

Fr. Burke was a member of the 1936 ordination class, and one year later he received a Master's degree in Economics from Catholic University.

He taught Economics at Notre Dame and became rector of Zahm Hall. He was appointed Prefect of Discipline in 1941 and held that position until he entered the service as a naval chaplain in 1944. Father Burke was on the battleship "Pennsylvania" when it was bombed by the Japanese. After the war he returned to Notre Dame, and served as vice-president in charge of Business Affairs until 1951. Fr. Burke was in Phoenix, Arizona for two years to regain his health. After returning to Notre Dame, he was assigned to the position which he held until his death.

In 1955, he visited Rome as an elected delegate to the General Chapter, touring Germany, France, Switzerland, and Italy on the way to the conclave.

Rev. Philip J. Mitchell, C.S.C.

A member of Notre Dame's department of History, Father Mitchell died unexpectedly on the morning of March 1, 1957. He was a native of St. John's, New Brunswick and graduated with an A.B. degree from St. John's College in 1937. He entered the eastern Novitiate of the Congregation at North Dartmouth, Mass., in November of the same year. His first vows came a year later, and he made his final profession in Washington after four more years. Because his parents and relatives were living in Canada, he was ordained in St. John's Cathedral, New Brunswick, on June 3, 1943.

After being assigned at the University of Portland as well as Notre Dame, Father Mitchell undertook advanced study at Catholic University. Although he had been afflicted with an impaired heart Father Mitchell continued to teach until the day before his death. He was anointed in the Student's Infirmary and died there after a brief two-day illness.

After the Solemn Requiem was celebrated by his brother, Father Paul Mitchell, the body was laid to rest in the Community Cemetery at Notre Dame on March 4.

Rev. Joseph A. Muckenthaler, C.S.C.

On March 8, Father Muckenthaler said Mass at 6:30 in the chapel of Dillon Hall, ate breakfast at Corby Hall with other members of the community, and then returned to his prefect's room in Dillon, where he suffered a fatal heart attack.

Father Muckenthaler was born in South Bend in 1898 and entered Holy Cross Seminary in 1914. After receiving his A.B. degree in 1923 from Notre Dame, he continued his studies at Holy Cross College in Washington, D. C.

The late Archbishop Noll of Fort Wayne ordained Father Muckenthaler on June 24, 1927. Others in his class

ROTC Memorial Mass

Thirteen hundred Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC students at Notre Dame participated in a solemn but colorful outdoor Memorial Service and attended a Military Mass in Sacred Heart Church on May 5.

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C. was the celebrant of the Mass, following the memorial rites in the university's main quadrangle. During the outdoor ceremonies, which were conducted by Rev. Robert Woodward, C.S.C., director of the Office of Military Affairs, a wreath honoring all of the University's war dead was placed at the memorial door of Sacred Heart Church. Father Woodward addressed the group of cadets and midshipmen.

were Fathers Joseph McAllister, Leo R. Ward, Leo L. Ward, Frank Cavanaugh, Joseph Brannigan, Casimir Witucki, Walter Conway, Norman DeGrace, and Raymond Murch.

After four years at the University of Portland, Father Muckenthaler returned to Notre Dame, where he spent the remainder of his years, with the exception of a brief period at Catholic University working for a Master's degree which he received in 1938. At Notre Dame, he taught German and served as both prefect and rector at different times. His warmth and friendliness, thinly camouflaged by a feigned gruffness, endeared him to hundreds of students down through the years.

Father Muckenthaler was buried on March 11 in the Community Cemetery at Notre Dame after a Solemn Requiem Mass.

Seminary Fund Gains Momentum

by Rev. John A. O'Brien

[Editor's Note: Rev. John A. O'Brien, author-in-residence at Notre Dame, addressed hundreds of volunteer workers in the South Bend area at the opening of the Moreau Seminary campaign. Notre Dame men everywhere will find his sermon to be stimulating and thought-provoking. It is for this reason that the ALUMNUS has obtained permission to reprint the text in the current issue. Father O'Brien is internationally-known as an author and lecturer. He has been at Notre Dame since 1940 coming to this campus after serving as chaplain of Catholic students at the University of Illinois for 23 years. He is a prolific writer and has published numerous pamphlets, books and magazine articles in apologetics, philosophy of religion and educational psychology. Father O'Brien received an undergraduate degree from Viator College, a master's from the same institution and a doctorate from Illinois. JC.]

A long time ago, as men count time, a few pioneer missionaries from France, Father Edward Sorin, C.S.C. and seven Brothers of Holy Cross, planted in the wilderness of northern Indiana the Cross of Christ. Along the shores of

Father O'Brien

St. Mary's Lake they erected a log chapel where the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was offered in the presence of a few white settlers and some Pottawatomini Indians. Then they erected a small building for the education of youth. Such was the modest beginning of the University of Notre Dame and the work of the Congregation of the Holy Cross in the New World.

In the hundred and fifteen years since then the acorn has grown into a mighty oak, with its branches reaching high into the sky and spreading in all directions. The four-room school has skyrocketed into a university of national and international renown. The little handful of students has grown into a mighty army of more than five thousand, who come from every state and from many foreign lands.

Atop the golden dome Our Lady smiles over a campus of seventeen hundred acres studded with sixty-four stately buildings: they include thirty-three chapels wherein our Eucharistic Lord dwells and the Sacrifice of Calvary is mystically reenacted. No wonder it was that our present Holy Father, when he visited here as Cardinal Pacelli, called the campus the "City of the Blessed Sacrament."

In little more than a century the rude pioneer school has grown into a university that has become one of the Seven Wonders of the Catholic World. Upon her have fallen some of the radiant beauty of Our Lady's countenance and some of the shining splendor from her golden mantle, vesting Notre Dame with a mystical glamour, a bewitching magic and a sort of iridescent glory, unique among the universities of our land.

From her loins have sprung Portland University, St. Edward's College in Austin, King's College in Wilkes-Barre and Stonehill College in North Easton. From her bosom have gone forth priestly sons to share with other members of the hierarchy the leadership of Christ's Church in America, in the Philippines and in India. From the motherhouse have gone out priests to staff the parishes, to establish missions among the Negroes and Mexicans in Texas, and missions in far-off Bengal and Chile.

From her busy press goes forth the Ave Maria, carrying into thousands of homes the teachings of Christ, while The Catholic Boy brings His tidings to the youth of America. From this center of Catholic life and culture went forth Father Peyton and his staff to carry the Family Rosary Crusade around the world.

Here is a record of achievement for Christ which is written by the recording angel in letters of gold. For a community of but five hundred members it is probably unsurpassed in the history of the Church in America. It has brought joy to the heart of God and made glad the song of the Seraphim and Cherubim who sing the divine praises before the great White Throne.

Back of all the achievements of Notre Dame and the far flung missions and parishes and schools are the Holy Cross Fathers and Brothers. Their story has been too long unheralded and unsung. They provide the vital energy for all these worldwide works. And back of them as a powerhouse is the seminary. Close the seminary and soon all the activities of the Fathers of Holy Cross will be crippled and ultimately terminated.

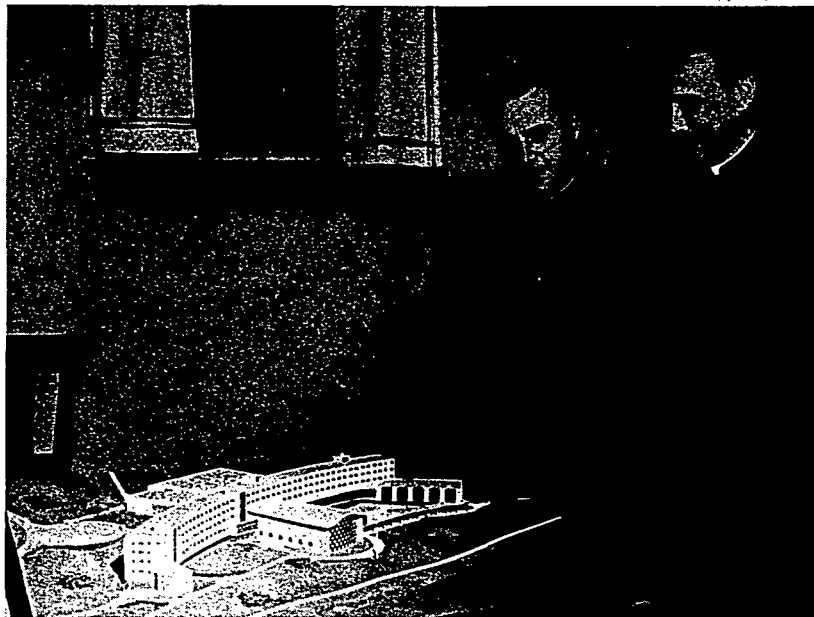

When the power plant supplying electricity to a community falters, the whole city is plunged into darkness. It makes every citizen more conscious of the source, often distant and rarely seen, from which he derives his light and power. So too it is with a seminary. It stands in the background, yielding the spotlight to all the other activities of the congregation, but providing them with power and light and life. The Holy Cross Fathers of the seminary are therefore the men behind Notre Dame and all the other institutions and works of the community.

In His infinite wisdom Almighty God has seen fit to make His religion hinge upon the priesthood. He could have chosen angels to be His ministers, but instead He chose men. "You have not chosen me," said Christ to His first priests, "but I have chosen you; and have appointed you, that you should go, and should bring forth fruit; and your fruit should remain." They are to continue His work of teaching men His truths, of sanctifying them with the graces of the sacraments, and leading them safely to heaven.

Of what sublime dignity is the office of the Christian priest who is thus privileged to act as the ambassador and the vice-regent of Christ on earth! That dignity and grandeur was proclaimed six hundred years before Christ by Isaiah when he said: "How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings and that preacheth peace; of him that showeth forth good, that preacheth salvation, that saith to Sion: Thy God shall reign." No wonder it is that the name which spiritual writers are especially fond of applying to the priest is "alter Christus", for the priest is and should be another Christ.

The Training of Priests

To prepare young men for such a sublime office is the task of the seminary: the most important and responsible work that can be given to scholarly and pious priests. Within those hallowed walls the young man must be trained to put off the old Adam and take on the new, to acquire the mind of Christ and thus achieve the closest possible union with the eternal High Priest Jesus Christ. In this holy cloister the clamorous voices of the world, the flesh and the devil are muted; through long years of prayer, meditation and study the seminarian learns to walk in the footsteps of holy men and to cherish only the company of God and His saints.

Privileged to live in the midst of the community, though wearing neither the cape nor the cross, I am in a position to bear impartial but willing testimony to the thoroughness with which this sacred task has been, and is being, performed. For nearly twenty years I have witnessed young men emerge from the seminary to take their places in the classroom and in the parish as scholarly and holy priests. They are sources of edification to all of us, as they carry on the proud traditions of Fathers Sorin, Corby and a host of others.

In view of the crucial importance of the proper training of priests, is it any wonder that our Holy Father has requested that the staff of a seminary be chosen with the greatest care so that the seminarians may learn the secret of holiness not only from the lectures of their teachers but also from their lives? Is it any wonder that Mother Church wants seminary quarters that will enable them to do their work efficiently and to achieve the maximum physical, intellectual and spiritual development?

Built for a maximum of eighty-five students, Moreau Seminary is now bursting with one hundred and six: two and even three are crowded into a single small room. In August 1958 it will have to accommodate one hundred and forty. Hence the need for a new and larger seminary is clamorous, urgent and inescapable. In deciding to

Fr. Cavanaugh Named to Commission

Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., director of the Notre Dame Foundation, is a member of the newly created Commission on Public Controls in Higher Education whose work is to be supported by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, a subsidiary of the Ford Foundation. The project is being initiated by the Fund at the request of the National Association of State Universities and the Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, is chairman of the new commission which consists of many prominent educators and business leaders. The group is concerned with a definitive study of the governmental controls increasingly being imposed on colleges and universities.

"Many educators across the country are deeply concerned with the growing tendency of state governments to impose executive or legislative controls upon public institutions of higher education," Dr. Eisenhower said in convening the commission. "Certainly state officials and the taxpayers of a state have a right to know that the funds appropriated for these institutions are being spent wisely and frugally, but there is a temptation in these times of rising costs of education for political officials to interfere in the free and independent administration of the educational programs for which these funds are provided," he asserted.

Smith Resigns as Commerce Asst. Dean

The resignation of Prof. Edmund A. Smith as assistant dean of Notre Dame's College of Commerce and the appointment of Prof. Thomas P. Murphy as his successor have been announced by Dean James W. Culliton.

Smith, who has served as assistant dean since 1945, will continue as a faculty member, teaching courses in insurance and business administration. Murphy, who has been director of the commerce school's Program for Administrators since November, 1955, will retain that post along with his new duties.

As assistant dean of the College of Commerce, Prof. Smith handled much of the administrative detail of Notre Dame's largest undergraduate college in the postwar years. In his teaching and research he has specialized in insurance and labor-management relations. Upon relinquishing his administrative duties, Prof. Smith intends to devote his total efforts to work in these two fields.

Murphy is a specialist in business finance and has been on the teaching staff of the Program for Administrators since 1952. Prof. Murphy was awarded undergraduate and master's degrees by Boston University and is a candidate for a doctorate at Notre Dame.

Bradley Is New Asst. Dean for Research

The appointment of Francis X. Bradley, Jr., to the newly created post of Assistant Dean for Research in the Notre Dame Graduate School has been announced by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C.

Bradley, who is both a lawyer and an engineer, will assist faculty members and departments in securing financial support for their research projects from business, industry, foundations and government agencies, Father Hesburgh said. He will also handle contractual arrangements for these projects and serve as a liaison between university researchers and the sponsoring organization.

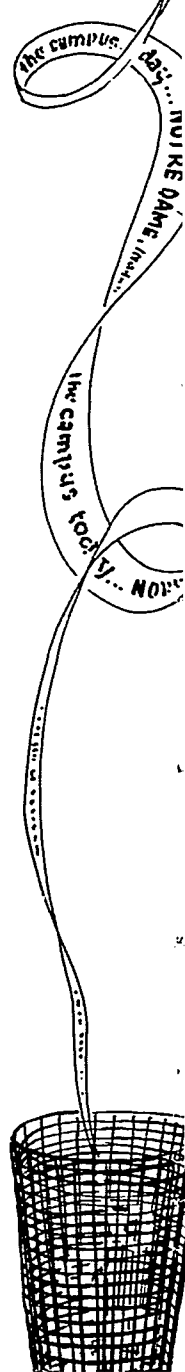

He was awarded a bachelor of science degree in aeronautical engineering at Notre Dame in 1939. Returning to the campus after the war, he received a master's degree in mathematics in 1946. He then enrolled in the Notre Dame Law School, receiving the degree of Juris Doctor in 1949. A year later he was awarded a master of laws degree by the Yale Law School.

Award Established by George W. Strake

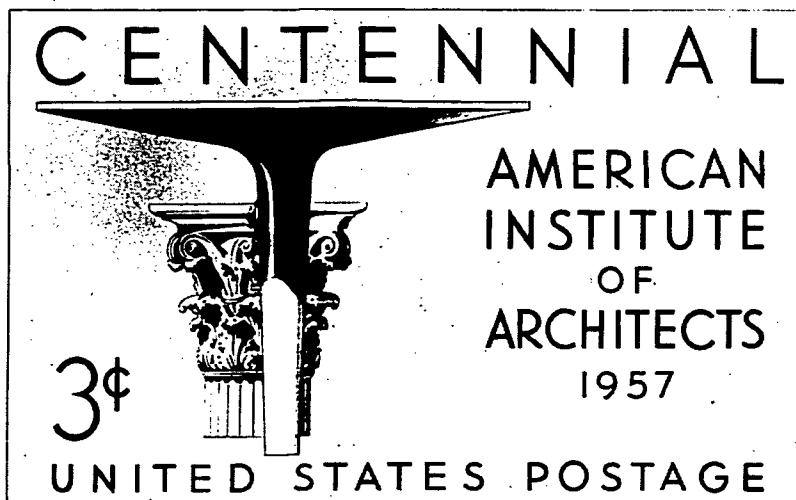

A new award to be presented annually to the most outstanding Navy ROTC midshipman of the Notre Dame senior class has been established by George W. Strake, Houston, Tex., businessman, according to an announcement by Captain T. L. Greene, U.S.N., professor of naval science at the University.

The award consists of a Naval or Marine Corps officer's sword, Captain Greene said. It will be presented to the senior with the best Navy ROTC record at the traditional class day exercises.

Mr. Strake is a member of Notre Dame's Associate Board of Lay Trustees and its College of Commerce Advisory Council. His son, George Strake, Jr., is president of this year's senior class.

Prof. Schultz Designs Stamp, Given National Prize Award

A new United States postage stamp, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the American Institute of Architects, has been designed by Robert J. Schultz, '40, associate professor of architecture at Notre Dame.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has authorized the printing of 120,000,000 of the 3-cent stamps which have already been placed on sale.

Schultz recently was awarded the $500 first prize for his stamp design in a nationwide competition sponsored by the AIA. Subsequently his design was officially adopted by the Post Office Department.

In addition to his teaching at Notre Dame, Professor Schultz is engaged in the professional practice of architecture in association with Frank Montana, head of the University's architecture department. They have designed several Notre Dame buildings including the university bookstore and the studios of WNDU-TV on the campus.

The central subject, which dominates the left portion of the stamp, is composed of a modern mushroom type head and shaft superimposed on a Corinthian style capital symbolizing the progress made in architecture during the last century. The word "Centennial" is arranged across the top of the stamp and "American Institute of Architects 1957," arranged in five lines, appears to the right of the columns. The denomination "3¢" is placed in the lower left corner and "United States Postage" across the bottom. The style of lettering further reflects the simplicity of line which the artist endeavored to portray.

Reveal Story of Lt. Hengel's Death During World War II

Lt. Robert L. Hengel, '42, one of Notre Dame's young alumni and a member of the United States Air Force, was killed in combat during World War II. An unusual story was revealed recently when Mr. and Mrs. Jose Gaston of Victoria, Los Negros, Philippine Islands, visited the University of Wisconsin where Mr. Gaston had attended school many years ago. Lt. Hengel's plane was shot down by Jap fighters and crashed on the plantation owned by Mr. Gaston. Mr. Gaston removed a crucifix and rosary from Lt. Hengel's body and had intended to send them to Mrs. Hengel, the deceased airman's mother, but misplaced the address.

Twelve years later the Gastons visited the United States and Mr. Gaston, by a coincidence, inquired of the Notre Dame Alumni office if Lt. Hengel had been a Notre Dame student. Upon being provided this information, he then contacted Mrs. Hengel and gave her the religious articles found on her son's body.

DR. HINTON, '30, CHOSEN FOR PHI BETA KAPPA HONOR

Henry D. Hinton, recipient of a doctorate degree at Notre Dame in 1930 and a member of the Chemistry department staff since 1928, has been chosen for Phi Beta Kappa alumni membership by Illinois College. He received a bachelor's degree from Illinois College and a masters from the University of Chicago.

The formal initiation was held on April 9, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the chapter's founding at I. C. Professor Hinton was selected for membership because of his excellent academic record while a student at Illinois College and in recognition of his subsequent distinguished career as scholar, teacher, lecturer, writer and scientist.

For the past 15 years Professor Hinton has lectured to various clubs and groups in all of the principal cities in this country. He is the author of two books, "General Experiments in Chemistry" and "Experiments in Chemistry for Engineering Students". He had an outstanding record in World War I with the Chemical Warfare Service and served as an aide to Major Conant, later president of Harvard and U. S. ambassador to West Germany.

Professor Hinton is a member of the American Chemical Society, is active in numerous South Bend civic organizations and is listed in "Who's Who in America". He is married to the former Ella Margaret King and they are the parents of two sons, Robert D., and William H., '56.

'Valiant Woman' ... A New Book

A small book that has had little fanfare but big impact is Valiant Woman, published recently by the Grail Press, St. Meinrad, Indiana.

Edited by Peg Boland (whose husband, Joe, has been a nationally known sportscaster for years) with a foreword by Loretta Young, it is a compilation of 15 essays, all written by women. Its theme is acceptance of the Will of God as a means to finding peace and contentment.

"Valiant Woman is a cross-section of every-day living by women who live in no ivory towers and seldom make the headlines," according to Mrs. Boland. "It is factual as we could make it, with no rattling of rosary beads or sticky piety; somewhere in the collection almost every reader will find himself."

The book is dedicated to Mary Agnes Boyle, late wife of Andrew Boyle, professor of Chemistry at Notre Dame. Author of The Long Journey, Mrs. Boyle wrote her story while she was dying of cancer.

Several wives of present and former Notre Dame faculty members are listed in the anthology, including a chapter by Gina O'Brien Manion, (Mrs. Clarence E. Manion) author of "The Eye of the Needle." The remaining essays include: The Hidden Gift, by Angela Hamill, (Mrs. William Hamill); A Half Acre of Ground, by Eileen Barry Nutting (Mrs. Willis Nutting); Two Loaves Have I, by Dorothy S. Riordan (Mrs. Robert Riordan); My Spiritual Will, by Rosaleen Giblin Crowley (Mrs. Jerome J. Crowley, Jr.); The Egg Heads and I, by Eleanor P. Engels (Mrs. Norbert Engels); Three Years in Santo Tomas, by Eve Foss Hoyt (Mrs. Neil Hoyt); The Back for the Burden, Helen Cartier Withey (Mrs. Paul Withey); Spiritual Truth Party, by Peg Boland (Mrs. Joe Boland); This Man is My Brother, Katherine Terry Dooley (Mrs. William Dooley); Full Circle Round, Alma Skellig; God's Planned Parenthood, by Jo Geissler (Mrs. Eugene Geissler); My Love is Blind, Correne Flavell Morrison (Mrs. John Morrison); You Can't Fight Prayer, the story of an alcoholic's wife told anonymously.

San Diego Alumni Sponsor Appreciation Night Dinner

Hailed by local newsmen and radio and television commentators as one of the finest sports dinners in the city's history, the third annual Appreciation Night Banquet, co-sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of San Diego and St. Augustine High School, featured Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty, Michigan

State University football coach, the principal speaker and Morris Frank, humorist and columnist for the Houston, Texas, Chronicle, as master of ceremonies.

Honored guests were the more than 300 high school coaches and administrators of San Diego County. More than 550 people attended the banquet which was under the chairmanship of Harry Monahan '50, immediate past president of the San Diego alumni group.

Sharing the speakers' platform with Daugherty and Frank were: Most Rev. Richard Ackerman, C.S.S.P., auxiliary bishop of San Diego, Mayor Charles Dail, officials from the county board of supervisors, Chamber of Commerce, city schools and county schools and Kenneth Fagans, commissioner of the Southern California Interscholastic Federation, high school athletic governing body.

Sports celebrities who joined in the tribute included Ralph Kiner and his wife, Nancy Chaffey Kiner, Ray Boone, Rev. Franklin Held and two men who wrote the records when professional wrestling was a sport, Jim Londos and Sam Stein.

Daugherty made the presentation of the trophy to the county's high school football "Coach of the Year," who was selected by a poll of the county grid coaches. A trophy for distinguished service to St. Augustine High School was presented by Very Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A., school principal, to

Public Relations Ideas For Notre Dame Clubs and Alumni

Report Submitted by Association Board

(The following report was presented to the Alumni Association Board of Directors, at its recent meeting, by the Committee on Prestige and Public Relations. Prepared by Joseph E. Whalen, chairman, and committee members John W. Brennan and Oscar J. Dorwin, the Report contains many excellent suggestions of special interest to all alumni.—JC)

A popular conception of the term "prestige" could be stated as—"the ability to command respect and esteem of other men, or other institutions, and to influence others as a result of superiority in reputation or of conspicuous excellence in achievements". The term has a superlative characteristic and connotation.

The possession of outstanding attributes of character and ability, or the accomplishment of noteworthy achievements do not in themselves establish prestige. Others must be informed of and know about these attributes.

The media for establishing prestige is public relations. The more effective the public relations—the greater the prestige.

The University and untold numbers of individual alumni have been honored and respected by the prestige they have earned in many fields. It is, however, the opinion of this Committee that the superior ability and noteworthy achievements of large numbers of the alumni have not been recognized in their proper relationship to the University of Notre Dame.

The present and recent administrations of the University have made excellent application of the tools offered through the media of good public relations in establishing a greater prestige. The dedicated zeal of these unselfish men is deeply appreciated by the alumni, but too often that appreciation has not been articulate—either in word or action. The cause must be further advanced at the "grass-root" levels. That is the responsibility of the Alumni Association and every alumnus, worthy of the name.

The public recognition of the outstanding ability or noteworthy achievements of an individual alumnus has little or no significance to the prestige of the University, nor to the alumni of the University, unless there is a statement of the individual's relationship to the University, as an alumnus. That relationship should be publicized.

Public announcements of corporate or personal grants, endowments, gifts, scholarships and financial assistance to the University program should be made at local levels when it is permissible. These announcements have a tendency to encourage others in similar action.

All alumni are deeply indebted to the administrations of the University for continued interest in the welfare and prestige of Notre Dame men and for the unselfish efforts of the University in extending its services for the benefit of alumni, wherever possible.

The alumni are also deeply indebted to the officers and staff of the Association, and to the editors of the ALUMNUS magazine, not only for outstanding services rendered to alumni, individually and collectively, but also for their enthusiastic efforts and untiring energy in promoting a greater degree of prestige for the University and its alumni throughout the world.

This Committee has little to offer in the way of new suggestions or recommendations to this Board. It does, however, feel that a reiteration of many of the aims and objectives of the Alumni Association would not be amiss at this time.

It is, therefore, the desire of the Prestige and Public Relations Committee to again call attention to many of the policies, suggestions and recommendations to the alumni and local clubs under which the Association has been functioning and to plead for renewed interest of all alumni, particularly the local clubs, to the end of achieving greater results:

1. That local alumni club secretaries be encouraged and urged to always report, to the Alumni Office, any news stories covering the public announcements of noteworthy achievements, appointments or activities of individual alumni;
2. That, without any feeling of vanity or egotism, every alumnus be urged to send news clippings to the Alumni Office of public announcements of his own personal activities;
3. That all Association members be urged to identify themselves as alumni of Notre Dame in their own biographical sketches, which might be used in public announcements, introductions and other recognitions. The following are actual examples of cases in point:—

A. (Taken from the Program of the 8th Annual National Convention of the National Association of Advertising Publishers):

Speaker: Mr. R. J. Tiernan, Sales Promotion and Merchandising Manager of Better Homes and Gardens.

Mr. Tiernan, who is a graduate of Notre Dame, has been associated with Meredith Publishing Company for many years, . . . etc.

B. (Local news announcement):

Harold P. Klein was elected Director and Senior Vice President of the Bank, at the annual Stockholders Meeting today. He has been associated with the Bank since his graduation from the University of Notre Dame in 1926, etc.

4. That the local alumni clubs be encouraged to develop, from among its own members, a speakers' bureau for the purpose of making qualified speakers available to local civic, religious or school groups, to tell the story of Notre Dame;
5. That every alumnus be urged to become active in parish activities and Catholic Action projects and to assume his full share of responsibility and action in civic and community affairs;
6. That all alumni be encouraged to establish and maintain cordial relationship with the local press, and to assist representatives of the University in getting news stories printed which would be helpful to University prestige;
7. That each alumnus be encouraged to assert his pride of the University by keeping his diploma framed and displayed in his office, where circumstances permit;
8. That all alumni keep themselves fully informed on the current policies of the University, particularly with respect to the matriculation of freshmen students, and be able to answer inquiries intelligently;
9. That renewed efforts be extended to get all local clubs to participate in the Man-of-the-Year award;
10. That all alumni conduct themselves in religious, family, social, business, political and personal life in a manner so as to bring credit and honor to themselves, to their fellow alumni and to the University.

In conclusion, the Prestige and Public Relations Committee would not presume to suggest that these recommendations are the ultimate, nor that they will be fully adopted by local clubs and individual alumni. However, we are of the opinion that more alumni participation in following these suggestions will do much for improved public relations and the enhancement of the prestige of the University and its alumni.

'PATRIOT OF THE YEAR' AWARD IS PRESENTED TO SENATOR KENNEDY

Senior Class Honors Distinguished Statesman

Senator John F. Kennedy, recipient of an honorary degree from Notre Dame and 12 other universities and colleges, was named 'Patriot of the Year' by the N. D. Senior Class and given the award on Feb. 22. The citation was inscribed as follows: "On this day with pride and confidence we address you, Sir, as an honorary alumnus, a renowned Catholic citizen who has greatly helped to make Washington's prophetic and powerful ideals prevail in our present society, still the palladium of political safety and prosperity . . ."

George W. Strake, Jr., Houston, Texas, president of the Senior Class, presented Senator Kennedy with the award before a capacity audience in the Drill Hall. Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice president of the University, accepted the new American flag from the Class, in behalf of the University.

Senator Kennedy's life has been one of continual dedication to the ideas of his country. After graduating from Harvard in 1940 with honors, he entered the Navy to serve as a Boat Commander in the South Pacific. During this tour of duty, Senator Kennedy was seriously injured when his PT Boat was rammed by a Japanese destroyer off the Solomon Islands. After his return to civilian life he was elected to the House of Representatives in 1946. He served in this capacity until the people of Massachusetts, in 1952, called him to be their Senator. In this election he received the highest vote ever given to a candidate in either party for the United States Senate in the history of Massachusetts. He is now a mem-the beginning of college radio at Notre Dame in 1947. A group of students who were members of an insignificant radio club decided to begin broadcasting on a small basis. Using the call letters of WND, broadcasting was done in the band room of Washington hall. They didn't stay there long. First the studios were moved to a radio booth of the stadium and then into a small cubicle of the fieldhouse. Conditions had improved during these moves, but the equipment and studios were still very crude.

Then on February 22, 1954 campus radio began broadcasting from its present location. This was possible by a university loan which was completely paid off by the station in less than two years. After going under the call letters of WNDU for these two years, the campus station offered these letters to the university for use in their commercial station, taking the present WSND call letters instead.

WSND has a great influence on student opinion. The station's popularity was disclosed in a recent survey which indicated that students listen 68.4% of the time to WSND in comparison to 31.6% of the time to all of the South Bend and Chicago stations combined.

'Flying Irish' Will Return to Campus for Reunion Weekend

"The Flying Irish" (2nd Unit) are returning to campus for their first post-war get-together during Class Reunion Weekend on June 7, 8 and 9. The group is composed largely of alumni in the 1942 Class, as well as several other 'nearby classes', who formed this contingent in World War II. Sparked by Steve Graliker, P.O. Box 133, Decatur, Ill., enthusiasm for a special luncheon on Friday, June 7 has created much interest.

Graliker has sent a report to the Alumni Office which describes the project as it has developed up to several weeks prior to press time of this issue:

The idea of a "Flying Irish" luncheon, June 7th, was first shared with Ed Mangelsdorf. He went for it like hayseed in the sunshine. A "test" note to Larry Hickey and Bill Grady resulted in an enthusiastic hour on the telephone with "Navy-Bill." He called from his home in Westford, Massachusetts. The idea was then posed to the others. Bob Raaf's was a return-mail response. He will be there. If it is his weekend to fly with the Naval Reserve, he will schedule his squadron's operations at South Bend. Simultaneously, Don O'Brien catapulted out of Houston, Texas. This letter is the result of his shoulder to the wheel. Bud Gavin immediately started to organize his family reunion in Indiana from Wichita Falls, Texas. And with this momentum we hope to see Tom Foley at the class reunion. Bob Levernier is prodding his Home Office (Lansing, Michigan) to schedule their annual meeting about that time. The wheels are rolling!!

Bill "Mongoose" McGrath shadow-boxed several weeks and is still doubtful about canceling a trip to Southern France. Otherwise, he will be there. Quentin Marshall "thought" he could make it until reminded of how borrowed his time really is. While flying with a classmate he was involved in shearing some pine trees off Stone Mountain. He's now "eyeballs out" for the luncheon. Ed McLaughlin launched an early acceptance and untrenched the Redhead who also affirmed. "Maccoot" McCourt and "Joints" Hackett marched right into this melee. Ed's letter should be quoted in its entirety: "Transmission received, wilco, out!" Lt. Col. Jack Maas has the Marine Corps alerted to his forthcoming absence. T. P. Carroll volunteered to shake out Ed Hughes, Dave Bagley and Charlie Kirby.

"Big E" Dunlavy accepted with an offer to bring a couch for flying-fault-analysis. He smoked out Daniel Duncan Dahill, '41, who is flying up in his West Virginia National Guard jet. The Biggest strongly encourage a Navy Jet's presence by Raaf, O'Brien, Maas or self to offset the ole Dunc. Quoting from Dahill's letter "—looking forward to meeting the survivors of the '29-N.D. —and one-from-Idaho Club!" Walt Kelly, '43, is doubtful about being absent from the annual market in N.Y.C. Joe "Sargent York" Gillespie, '41, sends a handful of bottom-land and a one-sentence note: "What time June 7th?"

Reverend Bob Stewart, Law '43, our authority on the two-pig litter, accepted immediately. "Uncle Joe" Hartzler, '40, Notre Dame's shining light from the bottom of the Okefenokee, "—doodled" his acceptance from Jacksonville, Florida.

The response is exhilarating. Ed Mangelsdorf took on the tough job of luncheon arrangements. In his thorough, scientific approach (he got us all through Celestial Navigation) he has started gathering loose ends. Reservations are necessary and he is hoping to hear from Lou Bauer, Mike Humphreys, Paul Kelley, George Saxon, Charlie Tobin, Harold Beal, John Hart, Jack Barry. Anyone for "S" turns to the circle?

INSTALL BISHOP PURSLEY IN FT. WAYNE DIOCESE TO SUCCEED ARCHBISHOP NOLL

Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley was recently installed as bishop of the Ft. Wayne, Indiana, diocese after having served as auxiliary bishop for six years to the late Archbishop John Francis Noll. Bishop Pursley is a frequent visitor on the Notre Dame campus and is the recipient of an honorary degree awarded by the University in 1951.

More than 350 priests and about 400 nuns witnessed the installation ceremony, while 30 bishops, led by Thomas Cardinal Tien, S.V.D., were present for the historic occasion. In brief remarks to those assembled, Bishop Pursley pledged "to administer the necessary temporal affairs and to promote the spiritual interests of the diocese".

Archbishop Paul C. Schulte of Indianapolis was the installing prelate while Msgr. Charles J. Feltes, vicar general of the diocese, read the official Vatican decrees appointing Bishop Pursley to the Fort Wayne See.

Bishop Pursley is a native of Indiana, having been born in Hartford City. He was educated at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Cincinnati, O., and ordained in 1927. He was chaplain of the Newman Club at Purdue and in 1937, he received the Newman Key, a national Federation Newman Clubs award. Bishop Pursley is well known as a lecturer, author and religious publisher.

O'MEARA TALKS TO N. D. LAW ALUMNI

Prominent Jurists and Public Officials Attend Dinner Meeting

Dean Joseph O'Meara, Jr., of the Notre Dame School of Law, was the principal speaker at the N. D. Law Alumni Association dinner in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. President Judge Hugh C. Boyle, '24, of the Orphans Court of Allegheny County, was chairman and toastmaster of the dinner. Attorney Earl W. Brieger, '31, was treasurer and Attorney Peter F. Flaherty, '51, served as secretary. The dinner was held in Dean O'Meara's honor and his address was received with great enthusiasm by the more than 200 distinguished jurists, public officials and other guests who were in attendance. had served 31 years with distinction in the legal profession. He had been a member of two law firms in Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio, and also served as associate counsel for the Western and Southern Life Insurance Company.

Rockne Communion Breakfast Featured by Cleveland Club

More than 600 alumni and guests honored the memory of the late Knute Rockne at a Communion Breakfast in Cleveland on March 24. Sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of Cleveland, the occasion featured many highlight events. Principal speaker of the breakfast was Larry "Moon" Mullins, former backfield star in the Rockne era and now director of athletics at Marquette University. Mullins paid tribute to Rockne for his "simplicity of training" and his stress on "the spirit of the thing." Rockne inspired his players to work "on their own" remarked Mullins. Commenting on the pressures of big time athletics, Mullins said, "Rockne would go out of coaching rather than operate with those 'on the fringe.'"

A scroll citing William J. Van Rooy as 'Man of the Year' was presented in the club's behalf by Dennis J. O'Neill who was given a similar honor in 1956.

Guests at the head table included the Rev. James E. Norton, C.S.C., vice-president of student affairs at Notre Dame; director of athletics Ed Krause; J. Patrick Canny, national president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association; and numerous members of Rockne's national championship teams of 1929 and 1930.

Father Norton told the assembled group: "What struck me most was not only his (Rockne) great capacity for leadership but the great respect men had for him. Were he here today, he would see Notre Dame grown in fame, esteem and prestige."

The two squads were guests at the breakfast and, as evidenced in the photo on this page, were well represented.

Archbishop Edward F. Hoban was celebrant of the Mass in St. John's Cathedral. The breakfast was served in the main ballroom of the Hollenden Hotel. Co-chairmen of the affair were Al Grisanti and Tom Mulligan.

A significant part of the Cleveland Club's Communion Breakfast event was a scroll presented to sportscaster Ted Husing who is critically ill in Los Angeles, Calif. Coy Williams, sports writer for the Los Angeles Mirror-News, gave the scroll to Husing as a representative of the club. The appreciation by the Cleveland Club to Husing, who for many years broadcast Fighting Irish football games, read (in part) as follows: "A tribute to All-American Ted Husing . . . in recognition of the warmth of your personality . . . the plays we saw through your eyes . . .".

Prominent guests at the Cleveland Club's Rockne Breakfast were: First row (left to right): John Malik, '29, Bellaire, Ohio; Al Grisanti, co-chairman; Pat Canny; John Quinn, football manager, 1929; and John Rogers, center, 1931. Second row (left to right): Jim Harris, guard, 1930, now assistant coach at Holy Cross; Joe Nash, center, 1928-1929; Ike Voedisch, end, 1925-26-27; Hunk Anderson; John Law, captain, 1929; and Jack Cannon, guard, 1927-28-29. Third row (left to right): Bernie Conroy, assistant manager, 1929; Tom Conley, captain, 1930; Mike Koken, halfback, 1930; Bert Metzger, guard, 1929-30; Dan Cannon, halfback, 1929; Larry (Moon) Mullins, fullback, 1929-30; Carl (Stumpy) Cronin, halfback, 1930; and Bob Terlaak, guard, 1930.

PUERTO RICO—Father Hesburgh was guest speaker at a gathering of alumni and friends during his visit to Puerto Rico.

Notre Dame President At Puerto Rico Meeting

Father Hesburgh Attends Conference, Inter-American Academic Problems

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., was one of the principal speakers at a three-day meeting in Ponce, Puerto Rico, to plan Inter-American academic collaboration. The conference was attended by presidents of 11 major Catholic universities in the United States, Canada and Latin America and held during the last week of February.

Two conclusions were reached by the participants: 1) the necessity and urgency of a truly objective study of the problems inherent in Inter-American relationships; and, 2) the importance and value of collaborative academic endeavor in the area of Inter-American relations and the necessity to take some interim practical steps, experimental in nature, to test the possibility of collaboration.

Father Hesburgh said, "because of the predominant, centuries-old and deep-seated Catholic tradition in the countries of Latin America, the Catholic universities of the United States feel that they have a special opportunity to serve the welfare of all the Americas in promoting intercultural understanding and therefore they agreed to study concrete ways to implement these goals through collaborative endeavor."

Other educators attending the meeting included: Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., Georgetown University; Msgr. Irene Lussier, University of Montreal; Rev. John Flynn, C.M. St. John's University; Rev. J. Kelly, O.S.A., Villanueva University in Havana, Cuba; Rev. Thomas Stanley, S.M., Catholic University of Puerto Rico; Rev. Edward Rooney, S. J., president of the Jesuit Educational Association; Rev. Louis Rongione, O.S.A., Villanova University; and Rev. William Ferree, S.M., general director of Marianist education.

Need Dining Hall Assistant Director

With the opening of the new Dining Hall in the fall, the University is in need of an Assistant Director of Dining Halls. The University Personnel Office is interested in receiving applications from Notre Dame graduates who are experienced in this field. Please write to Mr. Joseph F. O'Brien, Director of Personnel, Notre Dame, Indiana.

Appreciation Banquet

Cletus Gardner, county recreation director and former St. Augustine coach.

Notre Dame alumni serving on the committee under Father Aherne and Monahan were: Rt. Rev. Francis C. Ott '17, G. R. Bill '29, Richard Martin '45, Howard Beilstein '47, John Sullivan '48, W. R. (Bill) Vangen '49, Thomas Carter '51 and John Murphy '51.

This year's banquet was in the nature of a quiet victory celebration as the four years of combined efforts by school officials, Notre Dame alumni and civic leaders culminated last fall in the acceptance of St. Augustine High School into membership in the City Prep League for sports competition.

In addition to his banquet speech, Daugherty also presided at a football clinic in the afternoon preceding the dinner. All coaches in San Diego County were invited, including grammar, high school, college and military mentors. The clinic was held at St. Augustine High School with Saints Coach Tom Carter '51 in charge of arrangements.

Expression of Thanks

....., N. J.

Dear Fr. Hesburgh:

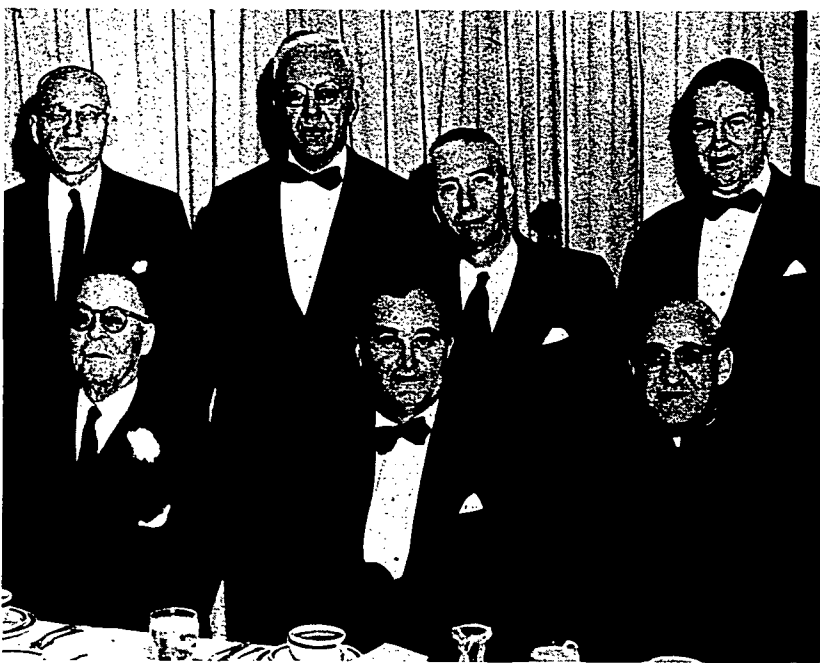

Enclosed please find a very trivial contribution to your work, but with it goes a very hearty "well done" for all the fine work you have done and continue to do. Would that I could add quite a few ciphers to the numeral but my young family consumes inordinate amounts of "wheaties" these days. Some day, please God, I may be able to give what I would like to be able to afford.

I wish it were in my talents to put the correct words together that I might thank all the many Fathers and men of Notre Dame for all it has given me. In the day-to-day hub-bub of life there are many times when I have listed only two assets that really add up—my family and Notre Dame—both being the reasons behind what one does in the long run.

Thanks so much for having shown the way to something solid in this messed up world.

Sincerely,

....., '51

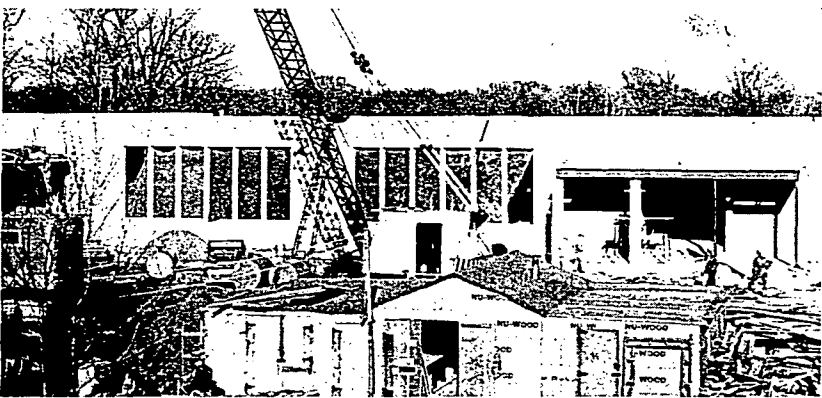

The Notre Dame Law Association dinner at the Carlton House, Pittsburgh, Pa., honoring Dean Joseph O'Meara, Jr., opened the new Carlton Room in grand style by attracting a capacity crowd of 200, including the most distinguished state jurists and public officials. Shown here seated, left to right: Pennsylvania Supreme Court Chief Justice Charles A. Jones; Judge Hugh C. Boyle, chairman of the dinner; and Reverend Phillip S. Moore, vice-president of academic affairs at Notre Dame. Standing, left to right: Ira S. Hill, Esq., president, Allegheny County Bar Association; Arthur Littleton, Esq., president, Pennsylvania Bar Association; Dean O'Meara, and David F. Maxwell, Esq., president of the American Bar Association.

Frank Semetko, '52, and his wife, Agnes, of Toledo, O., have probably established an 'all-time Notre Dame record' with two sets of twins born in less than 13 months. Susan Marie and Sally Ann 'arrived' on Feb. 4, 1956, while David Andrew and Daniel Martin were born on Jan. 18, 1957. Frank graduated from N.D. with a degree in Commerce and is employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., as a sales representative. Mrs. Semetko is an alumna of Mary Manse College in Toledo. The children are from left to right: Sally, Dave, Dan, Susan.

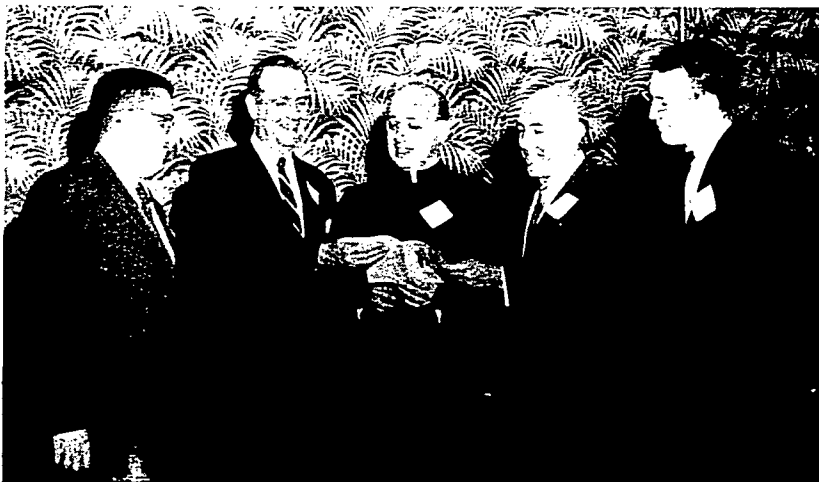

Rapid construction progress has been made at Notre Dame on two new residence halls and another dining hall. There is a likely possibility that the three buildings will be ready for the opening of school in September instead of in the spring of 1958 as originally scheduled.

John J. Broderick, assistant dean of Notre Dame's School of Law, represented the University at the Second Annual Career Conference Days held recently at Canisius College. The purpose of the Conference was to give students an insight into the requirements, advantages and disadvantages of various occupations and careers. William B. Lawless, Jr., '44, president of the City Council of Buffalo (N. Y.) also participated in the Conference. In the photo, left to right, are: Dr. Herman Szymanski, '52, head of the Chemistry department at Canisius; Lawless; Rev. Edward B. Gillen, S.J., general chairman of the meeting and Director of Student Personnel Services; Broderick; and Dr. David Keiffer, '56, faculty member at Canisius.

Fr. Thornton Surveys Student Summer Jobs

Ambitious college students no longer need spend the summer months in work unrelated to their future professional careers, according to Rev. Louis J. Thornton, C.S.C., placement director at Notre Dame.

Fr. Thornton

Instead of working as lifeguards, playground supervisors or construction laborers, collegians now have a good chance of finding summer employment within their own major field of interest and at salaries often large enough to pay their tuition for the following school year, Father Thornton said.

As a result of a recent survey, one hundred thirty-six business and industrial firms have listed summer job opportunities at Notre Dame's placement bureau. About five-sixths of the companies are primarily interested in engineering and science majors, Father Thornton said, but commerce and liberal arts students are in demand, too.

"A carefully selected summer job can be a valuable supplement to formal academic training in one's chosen field," Father Thornton stressed. "It enables the student to see textbook theory put in practice," he said, "and it orients the collegian as to what he can expect in the world of business and industry after graduation."

One Dollar Gift

....., North Carolina

Dear Father Cavanaugh:

My recent gift of one dollar represented just about all I could spare at present, and I had some misgivings about bothering you with so small an amount. So I was singularly pleased to receive your letter and your personal thanks.

Over the years my wife and I (she's a Saint Mary's graduate) hope to participate according to our ability in the work of Notre Dame. I came to N. D. with twenty-five dollars in my pocket and one semester's tuition paid; that was the limit of my financial reserve.

Sincerely in Our Lady,

N. D. Students Win $1,000 Design Prize

Two 21-year-old Notre Dame architecture students have won the $1,000 first prize in the 1957 national design competition sponsored by the Indianapolis Home Show.

They are Noel Blank, Toledo, Ohio and David Billmeyer, Wisconsin Rapids, Wisc. Their design of a single-story ranch house was judged the best of 225 entries submitted by professional architects and architecture students throughout the country. Leon Chate-lain, Jr., Washington, D. C., president of the American Institute of Architects, headed the jury which selected the prize winners.

The home designed by the two Notre Dame students will be built and featured at next year's Indianapolis Home Show, officials of the annual event said. Another Notre Dame student, Jaime Saenz of Cali, Columbia, designed the prize-winning home in 1954.

Specifications of the competition called for a home for an elderly retired couple. The Blank-Billmeyer home was selected, Home Show officials said, for its arrangement of space with hobby areas so situated that the husband and wife could be together even while busy at their own interests. It provides an area for a visiting daughter and her family so complete and removed from the parents that they would not be disturbed.

The prize-winning home provides 2,000 square feet of living area and is of wood post and lintel construction. It features a cantilevered terrace to the rear raised two feet above the ground. Also included are a sewing room, workshop, and protected garden space. A practice golf tee and green are also included in the architects' plans.

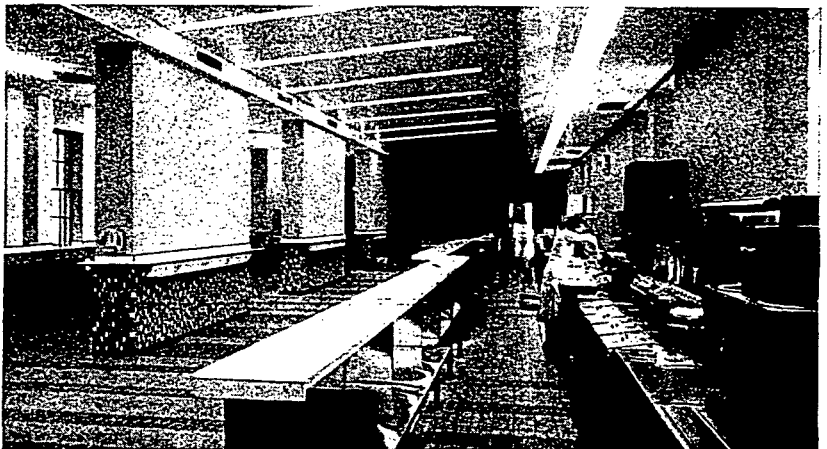

Noel Blank, who will receive his architecture degree at Notre Dame in June, was graduated from Central Catholic High School in Toledo. A member of the Notre Dame student chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Blank will be commissioned an Army second lieutenant. He expects to be assigned to the Army's Guided Missiles School.

Billmeyer will be graduated from Notre Dame's architecture school next January. He is a graduate of Lincoln High School in Wisconsin Rapids.

A recent innovation on Campus was moving The Huddle into a new wing of the LaFortune Student Center. Featuring an 'out of this world decor,' it is still a popular hangout for students during the between-class snack period.

Robert Miller (standing right), Grand Knight of the Notre Dame Council of the Knights of Columbus, presents a gift of $3,000 to the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame president, for the Holy Cross Fathers' Moreau Seminary Fund. The K. of C. contribution will be used for the purchase of a vestment case in the $3,000,000 seminary soon to be erected on the campus. Others taking part in the presentation are (left to right) Rev. Philip Schaerf, C.S.C., chaplain; Fred Freeman, financial secretary; and Robert Loeffler, recording secretary. The Notre Dame Council is the largest and oldest Knights of Columbus college council in the world.

TESTIMONIAL BANQUET FOR ELI SHAHEEN, '34

A testimonial banquet honoring Eli J. Shaheen, '34, was sponsored by the Notre Dame Council 1477 Knights of Columbus on April 6 in the South Bend K. of C. building. Shaheen has been a trustee of the Notre Dame Council for many years, as well as having served as Grand Knight of Niles, O., District Deputy of the Ohio Jurisdiction, Financial Secretary of the N. D. Council, District Deputy of the Indiana Jurisdiction and Chairman of the Indiana State Council Youth Committee.

Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice-president, represented the University on the speaking program while other participants included: Mr. Shaheen; Rev. Philip Schaerf, C.S.C., Chaplain, Notre Dame Council; James E. Armstrong, toastmaster; Supreme Director John T. Rocap, Indianapolis, Ind.; Timothy P. Galvin, Past Deputy Supreme Knight; and Charles Morgan, Supreme Director, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Fisher, Indianapolis, Ind., and their children form an extremely attractive group. Pat, a law graduate in '37, is Club Vice President of the Notre Dame Alumni Association. Besides Pat and his wife Carroll, the children are Patrick J., Joseph A., Michael Regan, Christopher John, Mary Marguerite, Ann Elizabeth, Frances Theresa and Grace Marie.

ATHLETICS

Notre Dame Has Great Record During 64 Years of Baseball

Baseball began at Notre Dame when Adrian (Pop) Anson, later a star with the Chicago Cubs, showed the students how to play the nine man game in 1887. It was similar to "rounders", which was played with a stick and ball by any number of boys. Thus, 13 years before the turn of the century, the national pastime was introduced to a school which was subsequently to send forth some of the outstanding college teams in the country and a creditable number of major league players.

Although considerable interest was shown in the game after Anson's introduction, no outside contests were scheduled until 1892, when the Irish defeated Michigan 6-4 in the only contest of the season.

From 1906 to 1908 Notre Dame had its greatest success on the diamond. In these three years the squad won 60 games and lost only nine. The Irish won 20 games each season, losing five in 1906, three in 1907, and only one in 1908. The latter was the best single year in Notre Dame history. That 1908 team made a swing through the East and won over such outstanding teams as Williams, Dartmouth, Boston, Fordham, Syracuse, and Georgetown. The University of Vermont handed the Irish their only loss in the middle of the trip.

The Irish enjoyed their best season in recent years in 1949, winning 18 and losing but six during the regular campaign. They were selected along with Western Michigan, Indiana, and Purdue to play for the District Four championship in the NCAA finals. Notre Dame defeated Purdue, 1-0, and Western Michigan defeated Indiana, 8-3, in the first round. Then the Irish whipped Western Michigan, 9-1, to take the District title. In the NCAA regional series, Wake Forest, champs of District Three, defeated Notre Dame two straight, 4-1 and 10-7. A year ago, in 1956, the Irish were again selected for the NCAA tourney. The selection came as a result of a strong stretch drive in the regular season. Coach Kline's men had won only two of their first seven games, but then proceeded to take six of the next eight. In the tournament, they were beaten in the mid-west playoffs, by Minnesota, two games to one. But it is noteworthy that Minnesota continued on to win the tournament and the NCAA title.

Among the best of the Irish diamond years were 1900, with 13 victories and six defeats; 1902, with 16 out of 20; 1903, with 17 out of 22; 1910, with 19 victories in 21 games; 1913, with 15 out of 18 and one tie; 1914, with 17 out of 22; 1916, with 16 wins in 19 starts; 1922, when the Irish won 19 of 23; 1936, when the record was 16-3; 1947, with 16 wins out of 21; and 1949, when, including the NCAA tourney, they won 20 and lost eight. Up until the present season, the Irish have won 751, lost 401, and tied 13 games in 64 years of baseball.

The bouts were originally sponsored by the Notre Dame SCHOLASTIC and Hurley, as editor, played a vital part in the beginning of organized boxing on the campus. In the past 25 years, proceeds have been given for the benefit of the Holy Cross foreign missionaries in Bengal. Neil Hurley is also a member of Notre Dame's Advisory Council for the College of Commerce.

Wilson Referees Relays

Coach Alex Wilson, '33, of the Notre Dame track team, served as referee of the 48th Drake Relays on April 26-27. Wilson, now in his seventh season as mentor of the Irish speedsters, is a former Olympic participant having competed for Canada in the 1928 and 1932 games. As an undergraduate at Notre Dame, he was undefeated in the quarter and half mile and set a national indoor record of 49.3 seconds for the 440-yard event. He still holds the indoor and outdoor records for the 440 at N.D.

Hardwood Team Plays in N.C.A.A. Tournament Games

Coach John Jordan Directs Irish To Impressive Season of 20 Victories

More points were scored than ever before, and more people watched the 1956-57 Notre Dame basketball team than any other in Irish basketball history. Also, Tom Hawkins, sophomore forward, set a new one season scoring record of 576 points breaking the mark established by Lloyd Aubrey, in 1956 of 539 points.

These were some of the highlights of the recently-concluded Notre Dame basketball season which saw Coach Johnny Jordan's quintet win 20 and lose but eight, including two wins in three N.C.A.A. tournament games.

The total points scored, 2,364 broke the former record of 1,896 points, tallied by the 1953-54 team. Nine times this year's outfit scored more than 90 points, and twice they equalled the previous one game high of 99 points. The 28 games were witnessed by a total of 188,922 fans, which topped the 1948-49 figure of 188,780.

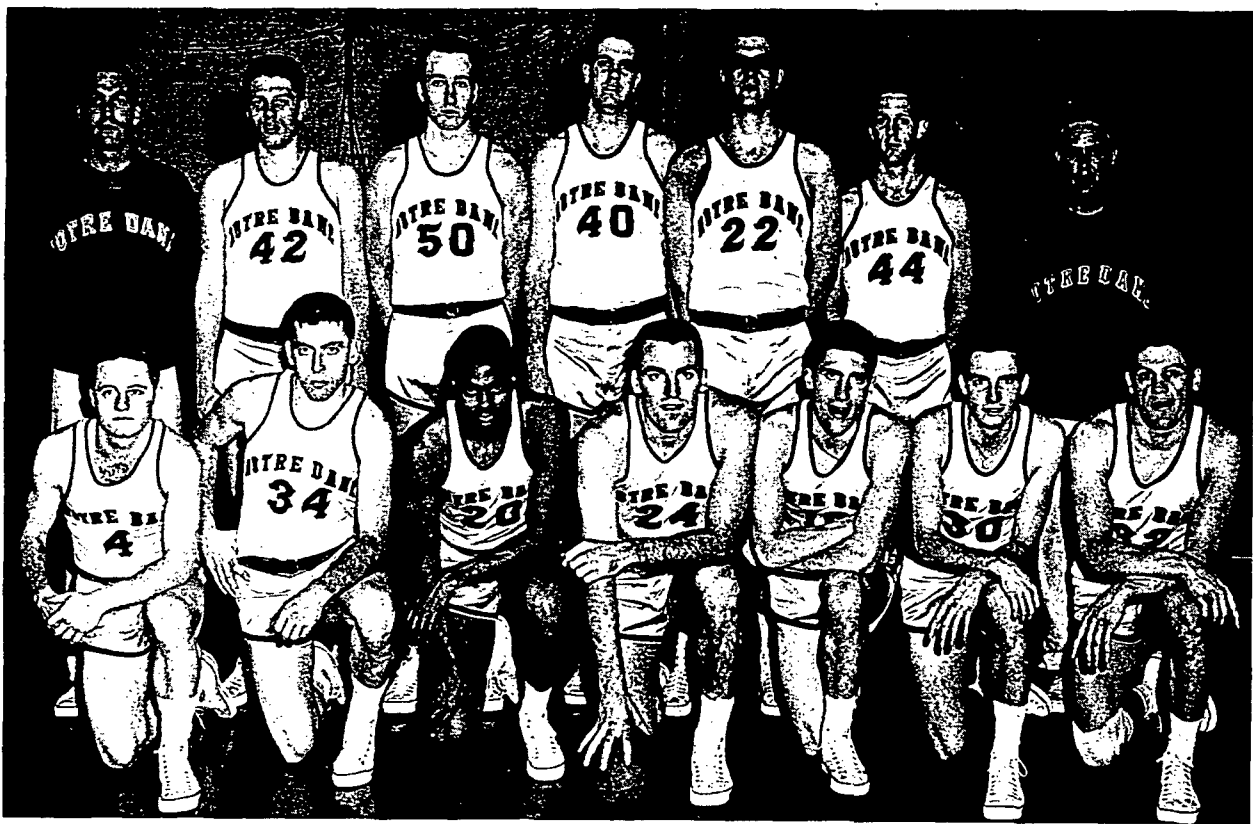

It was the sixth year that Jordan, captain of the 1934-35 Irish quintet, has coached the Notre Dame basketball team. And it was the third time in the last five seasons that he has had the honor of seeing his club selected to play in the N.C.A.A. tournament. For the six years, Jordan's teams have won 100 games and lost 51. Notre Dame ranked 7th nationally in scoring according to a report of the N.C.A.A.

Deserving of a major share of credit for the success of this year's team was Captain John Smyth, senior center. He was second to Hawkins in scoring with 534 points, which makes him holder of the third highest one-season total. In addition, his three year point-total of 1,236 has been topped only by Jack Stephens (1,251 in 1952-55). Smyth is also the only regular being graduated.

John McCarthy, a junior forward, was the third high scorer with 431 points, followed by Bobby Devine, junior guard, with 356. The above four were the only men to play in every game. Others who had starting assignments at various times were: Joe Morelli, senior forward-guard, 152 points; Ed Gleason, junior guard, 98; Gene Duffy, sophomore guard, 79, and Tommy Sullivan, senior guard, 55. Duffy was the fifth regular at the end of the season.

New assistant coaches Henry Stram (left) and Bernie Crimmins put backfield candidates through some tricky maneuvers on Cartier Field during spring drills.

Gridders Climax Drills In Annual Spring Game

Coach Terry Brennan climaxed spring practice sessions for his 1957 squad on April 13 with the annual Old Timers game. The ALUMNUS goes to press prior to the date that this contest is being played. In addition to working with last year's freshmen, Brennan and his staff have a nucleus of 22 monogram men for this fall's aggregation. Seasoned participants include: Gary Myers, Dick Prendergast, Dick Royer and Bob Wetoska, ends; Frank Gernemia, Bronko Nagurski and Don Lawrence, tackles; Al Ecuyer, Dick Cieselski, John McGinley, Bob Gaydos and Dick Shulsen, guards; Ed Sullivan and Frank Kuchta, centers; Bob Williams, quarterback; Dick Lynch, Frank Reynolds and Bobby Ward, halfbacks; Aubrey Lewis, Chuck Lima and Jim Just, fullbacks.

Monogram winners lost by graduation are Paul Hornung, All-American quarterback; Captain Jimmy Morse, halfback; Bob Scannell and Jim Munro, ends; Lou Loncaric, center; Larry Cooke, quarterback; Jim Milota and Dean Studer, halfbacks; Angelo Mosca, soph tackle, has withdrawn from school.

Coach Brennan has been using various combinations of player personnel during spring drills with many of the newcomers seeing lots of action on Cartier Field. Two additional members of the coaching staff are Bernie Crimmins, former Irish assistant and head coach at Indiana U., and Henry Stram, former assistant at Purdue and at Southern Methodist. Both will tutor the backfield, Bernie Witucki, one of the backfield coaches last year, will instruct the line in 1957. Other hold-over members of the staff include Bill Fischer, Bill Walsh and Jack Zilly.

All-Opponent Players

Four seniors and one sophomore were named to Notre Dame's 1956-57 all-opponent basketball team. The soph was John Green, Michigan State's jumping-jack center. Others named were Bill Ebben, Detroit, Charlie Tyra, Louisville, Dave Markey, Canisius, and Gerry Paulson, Manhattan.

Illinois was selected as the best team faced by the Irish players.

N.D. Swimmers Finish Successful Card With 7 Wins and 5 Losses

Hoping to gain recognition as a varsity sport in 1957-58, the Notre Dame Swimming Club finished second in the Midwest Invitational to close out a successful season. Annually considered an important meet in collegiate swim circles, the Irish competed against some of the strongest teams in this area.

Coached by Gil Burdick, swimming and life-saving instructor at Notre Dame for more than 20 years, the Club achieved an overall record of seven victories and five defeats. Opening with Western Michigan, the Irish won their first meet of the year by the impressive score of 58 to 28. Following a pair of losses to Central Michigan, Notre Dame won over the University of Chicago and upset highly favored Ohio University in the Rockne Memorial pool.

Other wins were at the expense of Loyola (Chicago), Western Michigan, Hillsdale, and Ball State. Bowling Green, champions of the Mid-America Conference; Miami of Ohio; and North Central College gained victories, with the latter forging ahead in the final event to take the meet.

Fr. Pelton Is Faculty Moderator

Outstanding swimmers on the Club were Jim Garrity of Yonkers, New York (backstroke), Dick Katis, Glen Ellyn, Illinois, (backstroke and freestyle), Tom Kennedy of Hartford, Conn. (sprints), Captain Mike Connelly of Naperville, Illinois, (220 and 440 freestyle), and Paul Chestnut of La Grange, Illinois, (diving).

The faculty moderator was Father Robert Pelton, C.S.C. Notre Dame had a well-balanced squad with at least two capable men in each event.

Since the Club is not a varsity sport, they relied upon two sources of income for trip expenses in five away-from-home meets: 1) an allotment from student government and 2) "contributions" from club members.

Only four members of the team will be lost by graduation in '57, with the nucleus of next year's group being composed of students who are currently sophomores and freshmen.

Irish Items

Although the Notre Dame football team didn't have an impressive record in 1956, Bob Cahill, Irish ticket manager, states that interest in securing ducats for next fall's campaign is as great as ever. The Army game, being played at Philadelphia, Oct. 12, is easily leading the field, among those making early requests, according to Cahill.

Four of the five regulars on this year's basketball team are from Chicago, as is Head Coach Johnny Jordan, and Assistant Coach Jimmy Gibbons. On the Celtic side, the roster includes Tommy Sullivan, John McCarthy, Bobby Devine, Gene Duffy, Ed Gleason and Mike Ireland.

As an undergrad at Notre Dame, Head Football Coach Terry Brennan was a philosophy major in the Arts and Letters school, and was graduated with honors. On the athletic side, he was a four year regular at left half (1945-48), and was the leading ground-gainer on the national championship 1946 and 1947 football teams. He was also a pole vaulter on the track team, and won the middleweight boxing championship of the school, as a sophomore.

Paul (Bucky) O'Connor, Notre Dame 177-pound sophomore wrestler, is the son of the famous Irish fullback of 1930. Paul O'Connor senior, is remembered for scoring the second touchdown on an 80 yard "perfect play" in the 27-0 Irish victory over Southern California at Los Angeles in 1930.

Notre Dame's perennial winning athletic team, namely the fencing squad, had a great season with 14 victories and only one loss—that to the University of Wisconsin. The Irish finished 9th in the N.C.A.A. tournament. Professor Walter Langford has attained tremendous success as coach of the Irish swordsmen.

Al Ecuyer, 200-pound sophomore starting guard on last fall's Notre Dame football team, is a two-sport participant inasmuch as he wrestles in the heavyweight division for the Irish wrestling team.

Jack Elder, star halfback on Rockne's 1928 and 1929 teams, was the main speaker at the Notre Dame Club of St. Joseph Valley's Rockne Communion

OUTSTANDING MEN ON 1957 TENNIS AND GOLF SQUADS

With one of the most balanced teams in recent years, Coach Tom Fallon, in his first year as Notre Dame tennis mentor succeeding Charlie Samson, has high hopes that this year's edition of the Irish tennis team will surpass last season's mark of seven wins, eight losses, and one tie. Unmarked by graduation, the Irish netmen have five returning monogram winners plus five promising sophomores from last year's freshman club.

Heading the list of promising performers is last year's captain, Harry Smith, a senior, and two sophomore netmen, Maxwell Brown and Ronald Schoenberg. Brown, who captured the Eastern Intercollegiate freshman crown at Cornell this summer, upset 1956 Davis Cup squad player, Barry MacKay, of the University of Michigan in a recent indoor round robin tournament held at the University of Chicago in March. Schoenberg has had the distinction of placing sixth in the National Boys' singles tourney finals. Opponents include: Chicago, Michigan State, Wisconsin, Western Michigan, Kentucky, Marquette, Northwestern, Iowa and Michigan as highlights of a 13-match schedule.

Five of the eight monogram winners from last season's golf squad are returning this spring to give the linksmen a solid nucleus of par-threatening veterans. Co-captains Joe Grace of Birmingham, Michigan and Charlie Thurn of South Bend will provide the 1-2 punch, backed up by Lloyd Syron of Pontiac, Michigan, Tom Garside of Davenport, Iowa, Stan Lorens of Galion, Ohio, and Joe Leslie of Whiting, Indiana. The team will engage in seven matches and then participate in the NCAA tournament at the Broadmoor Country Club in Colorado Springs from June 23 to 29. Father George Holderith, C.S.C., golf coach since 1933, will be seeking another winning season for his Irish linksmen.

Breakfast. Now an Indianapolis businessman, Elder is possibly best-remembered for a 98-yard runback with an intercepted pass for the touchdown that defeated Army, 7-0.

Chicago

At our luncheon February 4th, we were privileged to have TERRY BRENNAN as our guest speaker who favored us with a rundown on prospects for the 1957 season. The gathering had as its speaker Harry Creighton, prominent Chicago sports broadcaster who spoke on the prospects of the Major leagues talents and especially on the possibilities for the Cubs and White Sox. Our first out-of-town guest to attend the luncheon, held on the first Monday of every month at the Western Society of Engineers, was FRANK KELLEY, of Minneapolis.

This year's celebration of UND Night promises to be something special. One of our city's ablest executives, JIM GALLAGHER, '29, accepted the Chairmanship and has been hard at work since January. Jim has assembled a fast moving Committee composed in part of JACK MORLEY, '35, Tickets, BUD GODA, arrangements, BILL KENNEDY, '37, program. Their efforts have been very fruitful in producing a top flight program. FATHER HESBURGH has accepted the main speaker's chair which is especially fitting since Jim plans to make the entire evening a special fete to Father Ted. In line with this theme several of the Presidents from the local Universities will be in attendance together with leaders of the large corporations and institutions which help finance private education. The committee has secured the Lake Shore Athletic Club main dining room with their characteristically excellent bill of fare.

(Ed. Note: This issue went to press before UND Night—additional details in next edition.)

More active membership, bigger and better events, both formal and informal are a few of our goals in mind.

Fort Lauderdale

The club had a very successful February meeting which was held on St. Valentine's Day with our wives in attendance. The affair was held at the Governor's Club in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. It was a dinner dance and not only did we have our regular tasty menu but corsages were furnished the wives through the generosity of our club.

Since the meeting was a dance, no one bothered to take the attendance (the retiring Secretary was too exhausted from a full year's duty and the incoming Secretary had not yet assumed his obligations) but the members and guests were numerous and a good time was had by all. In addition, the outgoing President announced the results of our recent election and the following are our new slate

The Notre Dame Roman Legion had a healthy turnout for the Communion Sunday on December 9th. As with last year we were the guests of FATHERS RANSING and HESTON at Holy Cross Generalate and International College.

PHILIP DEVLIN, C.S.C., ND '53 as Sub-deacon. As a recessional a special choir of Holy Cross seminarians sang "Notre Dame Our Mother" with great eclat.

While we breakfasted informally a review of the year's visitors, correspondence and events was made. This revealed a goodly traffic and leads us to renew our word of welcome toward all NDers who are headed for Rome.

BILL JOHNSON, who graduated in 1929 in Chemical Engineering, passed away a month or so ago. Bill worked for Inland Steel ever since his graduation. He was married, had three children and lived in the vicinity of Indiana Harbor. His remains came here to Utica and he was buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery. CHARLIE HITZELBERGER, VIN. FLETCHER and myself were among the bearers. Incidentally his roommate CHARLIE McDERMOTT passed away a year ago.

Our Universal Communion Breakfast was a huge success. We had over 50 in attendance and the more remarkable as the Sunday morning of the breakfast we had a terrific blizzard. DOCTOR SHAUGHNESSY brought the assistant pastor of his Church in Herkimer, Father Guerra.

We had our annual Christmas dance at Trinkaus Manor in conjunction with the undergraduates. There were more than 200 people in attendance at that affair which by far is the best we have had in many years.

Recently while making an audit of a local firm I met BOB CUMMINGS, class of 1948, a partner in the accounting firm of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell; also BOB LOGAN, class of 1950, I believe, who is a supervisor with the same firm.

Our last meeting was one held with the wives of those men who could attend. We were amazed at the amount of business that was taken care of and also the grand assistance rendered by the fair sex. DOCTORS SHAUGHNESSY and GAVAGAN, CHARLIE HITZELBERGER, LOU CLARK, TONY GIRUZZI and myself were in attendance together with our wives.

Recently we had the Football Highlights of 1956 which were shown at the City Club through the courtesy of DOCTOR MARINO who operated his movie machine for the entertainment of all. CHARLIE HITZELBERGER had as his guest ART SESTITO who played center on the team around 1948 or thereabouts.

Also present were TONY GIRUZZI, VIN FLETCHER, RAY BELDEN, GEORGE HAMELINE, LOU CLARK, ED SWEENEY, BART O'SHEA, DOCTOR SHAUGHNESSY, DOCTOR MARION and DOCTOR GAVAGAN, TONY KAUFFMAN, FRANK DONALTY, MIKE MCGUIRL, DAN WATERBURY, BILL DINEEN, DON FULLEM and many friends and fathers of the undergraduates.

DOCTOR SHAUGHNESSY announced that he and his family are taking a European trip in April and will be gone six weeks.

New Jersey

On Tuesday, February 26, 1957, over 100 Notre Dame graduates and friends of Notre Dame gathered together for their general meeting and were guests of P. Ballantine and Sons, Newark, N. J.

This meeting was a tremendous success and through the cooperation of the Ballantine people an interesting tour of the plant was conducted, after which refreshments were served.

It was great to see such former athletes as ANGELO BERTELLI, FRANK TRIPUCKA, HARRY STEVENSON, BILL REGAN, JOE McKEON, FRANK McDERMITT, JOHN WINBERRY and others in attendance. Our chairman for this event, RAYMOND TROY, did a tremendous job and it appears that this will be an annual event.

Since the ALUNUS goes to press before UND Night details of this meeting will be published in another issue.

Overcoming such obstacles as statewide distribution of members, statewide communication, and the fact that the club is only one year old, the S. C. Club has grown rapidly in membership and activities.

Wabash Valley

Last fall we had a golf outing at the Fowler Country Club at Fowler, Indiana, under the co-chairmanship of PAUL KENNEDY and JO CAMPAGNA. There was golf, a fine dinner and the usual get-together in the evening. The turnout wasn't as good as was expected, but those that did show up had a fine time.

Then during the holiday season we had our annual dinner dance with the St. Mary's Alumnae from the area. The club officers, TED BUMBLEBURG, JIM GLASER, TOM FALLON and the writer served as the ND committee, ably assisted by JO MacDONALD, wife of RICHARD MacDONALD. Again we had a fine turnout for what has turned out to be our most successful event of the season. We had our session at the Elks Country Club in Lafayette, with everyone having a good time.

We are proud to announce that BOB MOHLMAN, our man of the year in 1955, was elected as a direct of the Greater Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.

We were saddened to hear of the death of the mother of DAVID KORTY.

A change was made in our constitution at a regular meeting in which we changed the election of officers from a January meeting to Universal Notre Dame Night. That should put us in line with the other clubs, and will probably generate a little more interest in who is guiding the club in the future.

Several of the members of the club have represented the University in local high school college day ceremonies to try to interest prospective students in the University.

Many of us around Lafayette were quite enthused over the appointment of Henry Stram to the coaching staff at the University, for the feeling is that he is a fine man and will do an excellent job.

Your secretary appreciated your acknowledgments of his Christmas card, reproducing the priest-poet's handwriting of that beautiful "A Christmas Wish," written by our old teacher and friend, FATHER PAT CARROLL, but he is more discouraged by than apologetic for the postscripts: "Why don't we have more news in the ALUMNUS about the class of '14?'"

The answer is simple, and I'm sure other secretaries will agree with me. We're not mind readers. All we can do is to print the news you send us. Had each of your postscripts mentioned a single item of news of your doings, or of one of our classmates, this column would have at least six news items!

Father Michael J. O'Connor, M.M., in front of the old Mission Church of Tien Chung, Formosa, with some small friends. Father O'Connor, a native of the Bronx, New York, was ordained at Maryknoll in 1944, and obtained a Master's degree in English at Notre Dame in 1946. After teaching in Maryknoll seminaries in Pennsylvania and New Jersey and spending a year on the staff of "Maryknoll: The Field Afar" magazine, he was assigned to the Orient in 1950. Since 1953 he has been pastor of the Tien Chung Mission in Central Formosa. The mission has increased from 900 Catholics to 3,000 in the past four years.

Quite a few of us attended the 1956 Alumni reunion. And everyone reported some bit of news that was duly printed later. Many of you had questions: "Whatever happened to GEORGE MASEY, or TIM DOWNEY, or BEN GUERRA. Most of you have secretaries. Next time you give her dictation, before you say "that's all," add this: "Take a short note to RON O'NEILL and tell him —!" Or drop a postcard. If you, and other old-timers will do this for me or your own class secretary, you'll find plenty of news about the men who were with us at Notre Dame.

I have had one important communication, relayed by WALT CLEMENTS, from CHARLIE VAUGHAN of LaFayette suggesting that our class try to arrange for a Mass to be said at Notre Dame each year on the anniversary of our graduation (June 15) for the souls of our deceased classmates, and, soon or late, for your soul and mine.

I think it's a splendid idea. I'm particularly intrigued by Charlie's suggestion that this Mass be "in perpetuity"—i.e., as long as there is a Notre Dame. For a trifling sum—$300 to $500—a trust fund could be created (without cost) which would provide an annual "honorarium" of $5 or $10 for such a mass. And to contribute to such a fund should not make it necessary for any of you to divert one penny from any more substantial donation you are planning to make for the many needs of the University. Will each of you drop me a line giving me your opinion on this matter, and any suggestions you may have. We could get this plan in operation by June 15 of this year!

From BILL SHERRY:

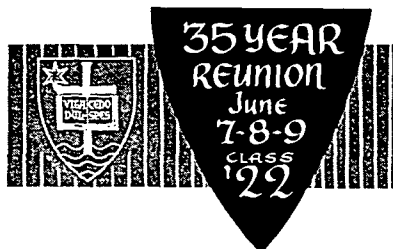

It was thoughtful of you to remember me in your letter of November 15, telling of DAVE HAYS' death. I was in New York that week and read about it in the paper.

I am enclosing Frank Graham's article that was in the New York Journal American. It was certainly a well written article. Dave was really a most unusual lad. I always enjoyed his reaction to things.

Again I want to tell you how much I regret not being able to make the June Re-Union.

My son, Bill, is a sophomore. He is in 308 Howard Hall. We have one more boy but he is only nine years old.

1922 Gerald A. Ashe
39 Cambridge St.
Rochester 7, N. Y.

We extend our loving sympathy to our fellow classmate MORGAN SHEEDY of Pittsburgh on the death of his youngest brother, H. SCOTT SHEEDY, '39, in Detroit, February 11. Also, we hope God will grant solace to all members of the Sheedy family.

Our good friend and classmate, GEORGE KERVER of Cleveland writes to tell us of the illness of classmate DR. PAT DORAN who is presently a patient in the Akron, Ohio, City Hospital. George Kerver asks us all to remember Doctor Pat in our prayers. Latter is anxiously hoping that it would be possible for him to attend our 35th Reunion in June, but many prayers are needed to have that wish fulfilled. Brother Kerver reports a recent visit with his oldest son, King, in Houston, Texas, also, says to count on him for our Reunion.

Already, great things are taking place in the South Bend area to assure success for our gala 35th Reunion in June. J. FRANK "RANGY" MILES has agreed to accept the position of Local Chairman to arrange for 1922 doings at reunion time. He will, of course, be ably guided and assisted by our class president AARON HUGUENARD, Midwest vice-president HAROLD WEBER, treasurer FRED DRESSEL and other dynamic locals such as GENE SMOGER, PAT MANION, BENNIE McCAFFERY, PAUL PADEN, PAUL SCHWERTLEY and WALTER SHILTS. From the officers of the Alumni Association—JIM ARMSTRONG and JOHN CACKLEY, JR.—our good friend Rangy will receive wonderful co-operation and expert advice based on years of experience. In fact, even now while the snow is still upon the ground, they have tentatively booked the 1922 class dinner in the Morris Inn Golfers Lounge for Friday evening, June 7. Other details will come to light as the time for our reunion comes closer.

JOHN PAUL CULLEN, who in the past has been a benefactor of the Notre Dame Library through the medium of first editions and other books of merit, has some more gifts in mind. It could be that these additions will be presented around reunion time.

DAN YOUNG and wife Loretta left the Minnesota Iron Range December 21 for a trip by plane to New York where they boarded a Grace Line steamship which took them to the north coast of Venezuela. They report that the city of Caracas is really fantastic.

LAWRENCE T. "BUCK" SHAW, head football coach at the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo., has been named a vice-president of the Royal Container Company which maintains general offices in San Francisco.

DR. DANIEL L. SEXTON, associate professor of clinical medicine at St. Louis University, was recently honored as a member of the faculty for 25 years.

We hope every '22 man will make a very special effort to attend our 35th Reunion starting June 7. Our past reunions have been successful because of large attendance and by hard work of the South Bend committees. Nothing pleases the South Benders more than a large influx of their classmates at reunion time. RANGY MILES, AARON HUGUENARD, HAROLD WEBER and the others are not going to like it if you do not show this coming June, also, N.D. will not be happy about it. Men of '22, we are calling you.

Death struck at the ranks of '23 men twice within two weeks during March, first taking FATHER JOSEPH A. MUCKENTHALER, C.S.C., a native of South Bend, and for many years instructor of German at the University. Father Joe was found dead on the bed of his room following his Holy Mass and breakfast on the morning of March 8. He had been a member of Holy Cross since 1914, after his graduation from grade school.

On March 21, DR. PATRICK C. DORAN, an orthopedic surgeon of Akron, Ohio, died following an illness of about three months with abdominal cancer. Classmates and friends who saw him at the 25th and 30th class reunions remember that he still wore the same wide, infectious grin which is visible in all of his pictures extant in the Domes of 1923 and thereabouts. "Chic" as we knew him was a Varsity track man in his student days.

Another death of concern to men of 1923 is that of Mrs. VINCENT D. ENGELS of Washington, D. C., on February 18, who was fatally injured in a fall down the stairs of her home. It is believed that a bad knee with which she had suffered caused her to fall the full length of the stairs. She was rushed to a hospital, but emergency surgery failed to save her from death from a brain hemorrhage. Classmates wishing to write to Vince may reach him at 3108 Winnitt Road, Chevy Chase, Maryland.

Welcome visitors to the haunts of your secretary and to the campus in recent months were CORNIE PFEIFFER, RED SHEA, DICK NASH, HANK LAUERMAN and COLONEL ELMER COLLINS, to which I might add welcome notes and longer communications from FRED STEELE, JOHN M. MONTAGUE, WILLIAM L. VOSS, Precie JACK

This reporter notes with some satisfaction that the Class of 1923, in the 1956 Report of the Foundation Office relative to Class contributions, ranks first in the amount of money contributed, among the Classes graduating from 1920 to 1926. These seven classes are those from which men of 1923 made acquaintances with either upper classmen when we were freshmen (or better) with underclassmen when we were seniors. We believe that this group of seven classes most fairly presents Classes comparable in numbers, economic state of life, etc. That we should outdo our friends from '20 to '26 is a source of great satisfaction.

DONALD W. SMITH has recently become a member of the firm Satterlee, Warfield and Stephens, New York City.

FATHER J. M. RICK, C.S.C., is now assigned to Boys Ranch in Bedford, Texas. He is also working as an assistant director of the Holy Cross Seminary Campaign Fund Drive. He was for many years assigned to the Foreign Missions in India.

The class extends sympathy to the families of: GERALD HASSMER of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, who died January 2 at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio, a victim of pneumonia and complications (this information relayed by JACK NORTON of the Class of '23) and DR. HARVEY F. BROWN, B.S., '24 who died January 13, in Detroit. Harvey was a stellar guard and Captain of the football team under Rockne.

(Ed. Note: To all the class except J. Hurley—Your secretary and ALUMNUS correspondent was a "distinguished speaker" at the St. Mary's College banquet on Parents Weekend in late March. That "deadline's" here again but I DO HAVE NEWS—all I have to do is find the time to get it off to Editor JOHN CACKLEY, so here goes.

JOHN A. NOPPENBERGER writes he lives at 2117 W. Heading Ave., Peoria, Illinois, and he's a teacher and real estate operator. His wife's name is Velma and has a daughter Nancy Ellen. "After twenty-five years of coaching they finally caught up with me, so I am 'building character' teaching social studies in the Junior High School here and attempting real estate swindles. I've been successful and happy. I'm enjoying good health but am aggravated at the fact that for the first time since leaving N.D. I have gotten beyond my playing weight of 190 pounds. I am up to 208 and it doesn't seem to want to come off. Perhaps I could 'write it off' to Ballantine's Ale. Regards and best wishes to yourself and the rest of a great class. 'Noppy.'

Thanks, Noppy, it was great hearing from you. ALBERT E. DASCHBACH, 2603 Shady Ave., Pittsburgh 17, Pa.—Al's an insurance broker. He has a wife and stepson Capt. R. O. Littell, West Point '49. He said he would like to hear from HANK WURZER and DUT GRIFFIN. He writes, "Since this note is being written the day after the Navy game I, like so many others, am asking 'what has happened?' (Al, see Armstrong's fine article in the last February-March issue, 1957). Am still a member of the insurance firm of Edwards, George & Co., Inc., in Pittsburgh. Can report family and myself well, comfortable and happy. God is good."

WARD McCARRON, 1501 S.E. 14th St., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.—Florence (wife) married 10-2-54 in Ft. Lauderdale. Ward has retired to his fishing, golfing and riding around in his Thunderbird. Ward writes "his first wife died of a heart condition in 1946 about the same time as CHARLIE STANHOPE. My two daughters were married in 1947 and 1948. In the summer of '46 we traveled the entire summer, Canada, Alaska and throughout the USA.

"Betty, the oldest daughter, has three boys. Patsy has two boys and one girl. I came to Florida in 1951, made a couple of nickels in land deals, married Mrs. George Fitzpatrick from Pelham Manor, N. Y., here 10-2-54. On our honeymoon we spent a few days at N.D. Saw JIM ARMSTRONG, JULIUS DANCH and in '55 met the gang at the class reunion. Florence's son George is in the Navy and is now in the Pacific area.

"If you want to catch a sailfish, come on down. I know just the spot. You bring the luck. Best regards—Ward."

Ward, I'll be down that way in a few weeks and I hope we can have a '25 reunion.

PAUL E. SAGSTETTER—"This questionnaire is a good idea, John. You will probably learn what a lot of the '25 classmen are doing. I'm still trying to sell tires or recapping for vehicles in the Fort Wayne area. It's hard to realize more than a year has passed since our last reunion and I hope to make the one in '60. If we get Sorin again let's hope there are new mattresses."

Since the above letter was received I saw Paul in Fort Wayne and if any of you '25ers need tires—good General Tires that is—Paul will take good care of you as he did me. We had a very pleasant visit.

HAROLD C. WATSON (273 N. Hackett Ave., Milwaukee 11, Wis.) is the same old "senator." As he says, he "insures everything but the hereafter. Besides his wife, Harold has three sons:

1) Thomas, age 21; 2) Denis, age 18; 3) James, age 15. Mine is a very busy life with my family—my business. I also teach evening classes of insurance at the University of Wisconsin (Milwaukee) and lots of speaking to convention groups, associations and to organizations and clubs such as Kiwanis, Rotary, etc. Living is not a boredom to me—Thank God. Kind personal regards, John, and may all be well with you. P.S.—We did have an impressive N.D. affair in Milwaukee several weeks ago. It was the unveiling of a large bronze plaque of GUS DORAIS in the Wisconsin Athletic Hall of Fame. I served as the M.C. for the event. Mrs. Dorais and family along with many sports celebrities were here for the event."

EDMUND C. ASHE, 6214 W. Manchester Blvd., Los Angeles 45, California—Ed's a sales engineer and manufacturer's representative of airborne equipment. He has a married daughter, Kathryn Armstrong, and a son Ed, Jr., age 23. "We have three grandchildren and expect a fourth momentarily. Son Ed, Jr., is single. My business is a partnership with my son-in-law under the name Ashe-Armstrong Company (aircraft and missile). My son joined the firm Oct. 15, 1956. Sorry I haven't crossed your path in the East. I have been making a couple of trips a year to Dayton, however, the closest I have come to Toledo is to fly over the town between Dayton and Detroit."

"J. HAYES FULLER is still living in Del Mar, Calif., P.O. Box 233, and is in the insurance business in San Diego.

"Someone told me they ran across 'RED' HERMANN in L.A. That was several years ago and whether he is still here and what he is doing is more than I know.

"BION VOGEL is a successful attorney and doesn't seem to age. He recently built a new home in San Marino with a swimming pool yet!

"'BILL' 'DOC' MOLONY is a well established grandpa now. He is one of our outstanding orthopedic physicians—Ed."

Thanks, Ed, for all the info. Let me know the next time you are in Dayton because I get there often. In fact, I'm writing this copy in Dayton. I cover all Ohio and Pittsburgh as a manufacturer's representative of fine furniture.

DR. FRANCIS L. KENNEDY, physician and surgeon, ear, nose and throat specialty—Nancy Mary, wife; Larry, 21; Mike, 19; and Pat, 16. Frank would like to hear from FRANK "TINY" MILLBAUER and FERDIE KREMP.

Frank writes, "I am amused when patients who see my diploma from Notre Dame ask if they had football there around 1925. My answer, 'Have you ever heard of the Four Horsemen?' My diploma reads Bachelor of Science in Agriculture. This seems a bit out of place in an otolaryngologist's office but I surely get a big kick out of it. John, good luck and God bless you. Frank."

I saw Frank at a Father and Daughter affair at Maryville College in St. Louis where my daughter Moira was a senior. Frank doesn't have any daughters but he had one that night—one of the "St. Louis Proxy Fathers." He looked great and was having a fine time dancing with the sweet young collegians—and the same went for yours truly.

G. FRANKLIN McSORLEY—Dorothea (wife), Mrs. Thomas Cox, Jr. (daughter) Mercedes Dorothea (daughter), G. Franklin McSorley, Jr. (son). Frank is still in Pittsburgh—in fact, one of the leading citizens although you wouldn't know it from the "info" he DIDN'T give me on his questionnaire. He's Chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and the builder of many fine apartment buildings in Pittsburgh. In fact, HARRY STUHLREHER is one of his tenants. I saw Frank and Harry at the Pitt game last fall. They both look great.

HARRY A. STUHLREHER, 4716 Ellsworth Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.—Executive, United States Steel; family, Harry, Jr., age 25, Michigan, '58; Michael, age 24, Yale, '53; John, age 21, Notre Dame, '56; Peter, age 19, Carnegie Institute of Technology, '59. Question—The last fellows he saw? Answer—ELMER LAYDEN, DON MILLER and JIM CROWLEY. You have been able to keep up pretty well on my activities because of my travels. It is interesting to have the chance to run into so many of the gang over the country. I will look forward to the reunion at the Navy game in '57."

True, I've seen more of Harry than any of the gang. He has been in Toledo many times and I've seen him at games at N.D. and Pittsburgh. He's a great plugger for the Class of 1925.

DR. WILLIAM R. MOLONY, JR.—Sharon (23), Terry (19) a sophomore at N.D., and Patricia (17). The last fellows he saw were ED ASHE (oil tycoon), DR. JIM WARGIN (delivering babies). Writes, "Saw a bunch of fellows at the last N.D. gathering last month (a beer bust). Nobody reached the point of busting but there was a lot of perspiration. Regards to all the 25ers."

WALTER J. CYR, Director Styled Contract Hardware Sales for Yale and Towne Manufacturing Company. Walt writes, "Sorry to have missed the party. I saw the Indiana game. Glad Terry B. is able to see these things philosophically! Would be very nice to lick Oklahoma but that's asking for a lot. Better luck next year! Walt."

Thanks Walt. Sorry we missed connections in Toledo some months ago—try again!

GEORGE E. LUDWIG, division manager of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Muskegon, Mich., has been recently elected president of the Rotary Club.

NORBERT F. SKELLEY, 109 No. Santa Fe, Salina, Kansas, pharmacist, manager-partner Low's Drugs. Norb writes, "The Salina N.D. Club of which there are 14 members ran a special train to the Oklahoma game with bar car and piano and a big jug for donations to our Scholarship Fund.

This will be our fourth special trip. We have had five years of drouth in this area of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Nebraska and Colorado. It is as dry as a bone now and farmers are even afraid to plant wheat. I live with my mother who was born in Salina 80 years ago. When she was born the Indians surrounded the house to see the white baby. I enjoyed the cocktail party last year. A great idea. The railroad agent with me from Topeka and Santa Fe could not believe it possible and was very much impressed. Enclosed check for Masses. Best regards to you."

Thanks, Norb, and bring your friend around for the Navy reunion this fall. November 2nd the date, Morris Inn the place. By the way, if you write ARCHBISHOP JOHN F. O'HARA, C.S.C., for that autographed picture—I'm sure it will be forthcoming.

MYRON E. HOOD, 2831 Rosebud Drive, Cincinnati 38, Ohio. (Alberta's age will be kept a secret Myron). And if there is any finer family than this—let him step forth. Daughters Doretta, 19; Juanita, 18; Barbara, 13; Jeanette, 12; Pauline, 9; and Lelitia, 4. Sons Donald, 16; Robin, 11; Albert, 8; David, 7; Gregory, 2, and Steven, 1.

Myron gave his occupation as "Salesman and you name it." I sure will—you're "The Father of the Class of 1925." We would like a picture of your grand family for the ALUMNUS. You are one up on GENE O'REILLY but as MOOSE KRAUSE once told me (O'Reilly's of the Class of 1935) and as Moose says of himself, "I'm still on the offensive."

Myron writes, "I expect to visit Toledo (on my way to Detroit) long enough to see BEN KESTING and JOHN HURLEY some time this spring. Will spill the 'all' then. Have had my nose too close to the grindstone to get any visiting done the past few years. Nope, didn't shorten my nose a bit! Hope to have the pressure of work start to ease up next year. Thanks for the invitation to the cocktail party. You have been doing a fine job for your class."

Thanks, Myron—you have been doing a fine job for your country and you and Alberta are to be congratulated on your fine family. Hope you do call when passing through Toledo—I'll try to contact you in Cincinnati as I get there quite often.

BION B. VOGEL, 6719 North Vista, San Gabriel, California, attorney-at-law. "Wife Eleanor (ageless), daughter Mrs. James W. Elliot stationed at Mather Field, Calif. Two grandchildren, a boy age 2 and a girl three weeks old. Our other daughter is Sister Mary Bernadine, a nun in Philadelphia with the order of Mother of the Holy Child. "We fortunately have now and have had for many years a very active Notre Dame Club in Los Angeles. More recently, those of us who were undergraduates at Notre Dame who took their law elsewhere, as I did at Loyola University Law School in Los Angeles, have recently formed an organization of those practicing in the L.A. area."

Bion, it was great hearing from you. We must compare notes on our daughters who are in the religious life. My daughter Moira entered the Maryknolls last September.

ANSELM D. MILLER, president, Virginia Metal Manufacturing Co., Inc., at Roanoke, Va.

"Family Anselm D., Jr., 26 (father of two daughters), John Marshall 22, Marshall Quinn 20, Ann Livingston 18 at Mary Baldwin College. John Marshall's at Hampden Sydney, Marshall Quinn is at Viand School. At present I am president of Virginia Metal Manufacturing Company, Inc., all of Roanoke, I am in good health but have given up many of my civic activities since taking on more business responsibilities which keep me pretty close to home and allows me little chance for travel. Remember me to the men of '25 whom I knew. Sure would like to get together with them again soon."

BRO. HYACINTH, C.S.C., St. Joseph Juniorate, Valatie, N. Y. Brother is Vocational promoter for the Brothers of Holy Cross in the East.

Brother writes, "After being stationed in many of our Community schools in the Midwest and far West, I am here now for five years recruiting candidates for the Congregation. I have done nothing spectacular but I am still trying to do things. Since the Brothers of Holy Cross are expanding so rapidly in the East, our problem of staffing our establishments is becoming greater—so my problem is becoming greater in proportion."

Thanks, Brother—you are very modest—among the many things that you must have done—the one I know about—was the grand job you did opening up Gilmour Academy at Gates Mills, Ohio, when you were the Principal at that School. It was nice of you to take the time to write to your classmates.

FIRMIN D. FUSZ, investment broker, Catherine (wife), Cathy, 14, Ann, 12, Ellen, 10. Firm would like to hear from GEORGE ROHRBACH, LEN DORSCHER and anybody in the class. "I feel bad about missing the reunion in 1955 and again about missing the 10-20-56 meeting—I was on the West Coast but will make a point of being at the first meeting I can."

Put THE NAVY GAME, NOV. 2, 1957, in red letters on your desk pad—order tickets early—we would all like to see you, Firm.

C. JOSEPH FOLEY, M.D., Waukegan, Ill., wife Jane, Helen 15, Joe, Jr. 13, Janey 11, Jim 10, Kathy 9, Tom 6, and Michael 2.

"Since service in the Medical Corps when I was in Europe and the Philippines, it seems that I go just from the house to the barn with the exception of medical meetings in various parts of the country. Usually there doesn't seem to be time enough to TERRE HAUTE—Members of the Notre Dame Club of Terre Haute and their guests attended the annual dance in the Pine Room of the Deming Hotel.

Gyorgy Koranyi (right), the first Hungarian refugee student to enroll at the University of Notre Dame, confers with Father Richard Murphy, C.S.C., director of admissions. Koranyi, who will major in mechanical engineering, is the recipient of one of four scholarships made available by the University to former Hungarian college students. The National Catholic Welfare Conference and the Institute of International Education arranged for Koranyi's matriculation at Notre Dame. Father Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., is vice-president of the Institute.

stop to see anyone anymore. My wife Jane is a graduate of Rosemont—Joe Foley."

Thanks, Joe—try to be with the gang this fall. Bring that grand family with you.

GEORGE KOCH, 1903 Marine St., South Bend, Dorothy (wife), Patricia Koch King, Jerry, Bob, Connie Jo. "Saw ELMER LAYDEN at the wedding of BILL SHEEHAN's daughter Jill. See CERNEY every week. We live two houses away. Would like to hear from BERNIE LIVERGOOD, ED POLHAUS and MORRIE BOLAND. My son Bob is entered in N.D. for September, '57. My daughter Pat married TOM KING, N.D. '52. He is football coach at Washington Clay High School (north of campus in Clay Township). He is a Hornell, N. Y., boy. I got my masters degree from N.D. in '48 (that wasn't easy). I do considerable speaking on K. of C. circuit in Indiana. Just retired as State Chairman of Catholic Affairs."

CHARLES M. MOUCH, 1503 Columbus Ave., Sandusky, Ohio. Construction-Residential Development. Family, Charles, Jr., age 28; Mary Ann, age 26; Frank, age 23; Barbara, age 16; and Christine, age 7.

Charlie would like to hear from AL SOMMERS as to why he has to go to South America to beat the landlord out of rent. Really must have had him on the book. I expect to see JOE TOOLEN in St. Pete this winter.

"Thirty years is quite a term so let's just say that everything is very nice in our family. Frank, my son, is in the seminary and will be ordained in 1958 (May). Charles, Jr., and Mary Ann are married and the former has a son and daughter, the latter a son (two jars of TNT in small packages)."

Charlie, it was great hearing from you. I had a long phone conversation with our mutual pal WALTER JOHN HAECKER a few weeks ago—in fact, he happened to call on Jan. 30th, our 25th wedding anniversary. ART SUDER, '26, and I tried my best to get him to come out to the house but he only had a few hours in Toledo and wanted to be with his father. "Butch" is great and sees HANK BARNHART, '23, quite often. I guess W. J. uses Hank's steam shovels.

I'm signing off this issue with JOE J. SCALISE. I'm getting writer's cramps—like the good old senior thesis—this is 30 pages long hand written and if JOHN GACKLEY can make this out he's a better man than I thought—and that's pretty good. (Ed. Note: What a man—this guy, Hurley, gets sharper every issue—really g-r-e-a-t.—JC) I usually type (or have this typed) but I'm "on the road" this week and the deadline is tomorrow—wouldn't it be awful to have a BLANK under 1925 with so much news available.

JOSEPH J. SCALISE, 2357 Eleventh St., Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. Accounting Department of Good-year Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio. Daughter Mrs. Lucille Smith, 23; Robert A. Scalise, 19; Joe's wife died in 1953.

Joe would like to hear from PAUL DOOLEY of Toledo. Joe says, "These cocktail parties should be decided on before we order tickets so we will know which one to plan on."

Joe, my boy, you must not read the '25 column—I mentioned that Michigan State game many times last year and it gives me one more chance to say BOYS ORDER TICKETS FOR NAVY, scheduled on NOVEMBER 2, 1957—you will be sorry if you don't just like Joe. Also keep praying for our classmates and send Hank your money for Masses.

The deadline for Class news for the ALUMNUS crept up on me and caught me short. Please help me, fellows, with some dope for the next issue.

I had a few enjoyable visits with JOHN RYAN, our Class President. He's still busy with the George M. Coale Company of Chicago, supplying hardwood lumber, mostly to the railroads. GEORGE HARTNETT is sojourning in Florida; a call to his office found his son George carrying on the business. George Sr. will be in Florida several more weeks. He has been there most of the winter recuperating from a recent illness. I had a short note from VINCE GOULET, our class treasurer. He has heard from JOHN KELLY of Philadelphia, who sent a welcome check to bolster our treasury.

We have learned of the recent death of one of our classmates, VICTOR LABEDZ. Let's remember him in our prayers.

Your secretary would like to know if any of you would be interested in some kind of get-together other than our regular five-year reunions. I note from the last ALUMNUS that the Class of '25 gets together annually for one of the football games. Last year they took in the Michigan State game and this year they are planning on the Navy game. Incidentally, I also note from the ALUMNUS that our ART SUDER crashed the '25 cocktail party last year. Any of you who are interested in such an affair, please let me know. Another possibility might be a summer retreat at the new Notre Dame Retreat House.

JOHN BRENNAN has recently been elected president of American Blower Division in Detroit, Mich., of the American-Standard Company. He was formerly vice-president—engineering and has been with the firm since 1928. John is a member of the Notre Dame Alumni Association Board of Directors and was elected class vice-president at the winter meeting on campus. He is a past president of the Notre Dame Club of Detroit, a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit, and a past chairman of the Detroit Section, American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Thanks to Mr. Cackley's efficient secretary, Irene Trippel, and ED QUINN, Head, Department of Guidance at Notre Dame, I am able to give you a report on the 42 sons of '28 men at Notre Dame. The letters after each name indicate the following colleges of the University in which the student is enrolled: (A) Arts and Letters, (C) Commerce, (E) Engineering, and (S) Science.

The following '28 men have sons in their freshman year at N.D.: JIM ALLAN (A), TOM BYRNE (A), DON CORBETT (A), DICK PHELAN (A), ED QUINN (A), FRANK CREADON (C), EMMET DOHANY (C), CHRISTIE FLANAGAN (C), JOE HILGER (C), JOHN LEITZINGER (C), ED MCKEOWN (C), JIM KEARNS (E), JOHN McMANMON (E), and CHARLEY TOPPING (S).

Classmates with sons in the sophomore class are the following: JOE BAIRLEY (A), ROGER BRESLIN (A), BOB GRAHAM (A), DICK PHELAN (A), ED PHILBIN (A), CHARLES SCHUESSLER (A), WALTER TOUSSAINT (A), GERALD LUDWIG (E), HAYES MURPHY (E), RON RICH (E), DICK TRANT (E), MARCUS FARRELL (S), and HENRY HASLEY (S).

The following eight classmates have sons in the junior class: DON CORBETT (A), JOHN McMAHON (A), JOHN CARLIN (C), JOE HERBERT (C), GUS JENKINS (C), HENRY MASSMAN (C), TOM NOON (E), and TOM RODGERS (S).

Eight classmates have sons in the senior class as follows: JACK SHEEDY (A), FRANK BEGGAN (C), PAT CANNY (C), PETER GALLAGHER (C), GEO. HANEY (C), JOHN LEITZINGER (C), JOHN WOLFE (C), and NORB SEIDENSTICKER (S).

You will note that DON CORBETT, JOHN LEITZINGER, and DICK PHELAN each have two sons at Notre Dame this year. Three of our deceased classmates, FRANK BEGGAN, JOE HERBERT, and JOHN McMAHON have sons in the above list.

Forty-three percent of the student-sons are registered in the college in the University from which their fathers were graduated. Exactly half of the sons of parents receiving Arts and Letters, Com-merit, and Science degrees were registered in the same college as their fathers. Only one-fourth of the engineers, however, have sons following in their footsteps. More sons of AB men are registered in Commerce than any college other than Arts and Letters.

I noted in the Indianapolis paper in January that BOB KIRBY had been appointed Democrat member of the Indiana Toll Road Commission. In response to my letter of congratulations, Bob suggested that I arrange for JIM SHOCKNESSY and him to get together at the 30th reunion for a coupon-clipping contest.

GEORGE LEPPIG returned from Korea a year ago and assumed duties as S-2 and Provost Marshal at Marine Corps Air Station, Miami. George is married and has two children in school at Hollywood, Florida, where they live. Believe it or not but I understand George is the president of the P.T.A. there.

JOHN WALLACE writes that contrary to CHARLIE LYNCH's report in the last ALUMNUS, he did not fall while skiing—nothing so glamorous as that. He fell while ice skating in the mountains last September and fractured his hip. John is in the mortgage loan business on Wilshire Blvd. (3571) in Los Angeles, just a few blocks from ART CANTY who, according to John, owns the Prudential Life Insurance Co. John's oldest daughter is a Holy Cross nun located in Seattle. Daughter No. 2 is an Immaculate Heart nun located nearby in Hollywood. Daughter No. 3 presented John and — is with their first grandchild in October. John will be back at N.D. this June to mingle with the Class of '27. He said he could be prevailed upon to return again in June of '58 if he can get FLANNIGAN, McMANMON and BILL DAILY to chip in for the plane fare.

ART CANTY reports that HAL HUDSON was formerly General Manager for Programming for CBS-TV, but left there a couple of years ago to make Zane Grey pictures which are being shown on TV now. Hal is at present a director of the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera Association.

EMMET DOHANY is in real estate sales at 600 Dime Building in Detroit. Emmet has three children. GEORGE HANEY is a furniture manufacturer at 1600 Berkey Ave. S.E., in Grand Rapids, Michigan. George has two daughters and one son. TOM RODGERS, who was with our class in 1924-25, is sales manager for the Penn-Dixie Cement Corp. at 3567 Lake Shore Road in Buffalo, N. Y. Tom has six children, two boys and four girls. ED PHILBIN, whose address is 68 Wilson Street, Clinton, Mass., has three sons.

I noted recently where C. A. SPORL, JR., of New Orleans was listed as a sponsor of the Manion Forum.

DAVE SMITH reports from 1111 N. Lakeside Drive, Lake Worth, Fla., where he now lives. Dave has his architects license in Florida and hopes to use it a bit. He mentioned that he met JERRY HOLLAND at the wake of GEORGE COURY's father in Miami.

RAY MULLIGAN remarked after reading the lengthy '28 column in the last issue of the ALUMNUS that they may have to change the name of the magazine to "Alumni—'28 and Other Years." I will need more continuing cooperation in submittal of news by '28 men if these columns are to continue to live up to that record. Ray visited LOU NORMAN on the occasion of a trip to the General Motors offices in Detroit. He had lunch with ART GLEASON in Akron after a visit to the B. F. Goodrich Company where Art is Superintendent of Plant 4. Ray reports that while having lunch with BERT KORZEN recently in Chicago they met DAN MOORE, who was made Superintendent of Industrial Relations for the Hawthorne Plant of Western Electric last fall. RAY MULLIGAN is Assistant Secretary of the Chicago Title and Trust Company in Chicago.

After a great deal of effort, I am able to give you some news on several fellows whose names have not appeared here in years, if ever.

Many of you will remember HENRY CLEMENT, who did a barbering business in our room in Freshman Hall. Henry was with us our freshman year only. He received his law degree from Rutgers in 1926. He now practices law in Plainfield, N. J., and has been municipal court magistrate there for 14 years. Henry is the Chairman of the Board of the Mid-City Trust Company and of the Suburban Trust Company, the Refractory & Insulating Corp. of New York, and the Pulva Corp. He is a member of the executive committee of the National Safety Council and President of the Plainfield Bar Association. Henry has been a lecturer at Seton Hall University and Rutgers University. You will find an article in the N. J. Law Journal, April 1953, on Chemical Tests in Drunken Driving and the F.B.I. Journal for June, 1946, on Car Thefts by Henry. He was married on January 1, 1943.

LOREE LAMAR CUNNINGHAM is the owner and president of the Business Institute of Milwaukee. Loree was married in 1930 and has one son and two grandchildren.

PETE BEEMSTERBAER is in sales with Frigid-air Division of G.M.C. at Dayton, Ohio. His son will enter St. Joseph's College next September. Pete is on the advisory committee of Sinclair College. I hope you stop to see me, Pete, the next time you are in your old home town.

HAROLD CANAVAN is senior parole officer in charge of the interstate bureau with the New York State Division of Parole in Albany, N. Y. He received his M.A. degree from New York University. Harold has three children, ages 16 to 21. His daughter is a senior at State Teachers College in Albany, N. Y. One of his sons is at St. Michael's College, Winooski, Vermont.

BOB BANNON is associate professor in metallurgy and consulting metallurgist at the Newark College of Engineering at Newark, N. J. Bob received his S.M. degree from M.I.T. in 1930. He was married August 18, 1931. He has four children, ages 13 to 24. His oldest son went to N.D. for two years, then into the Marine Corps. Another son is a freshman at Newark College of Engineering.

BERNARD CONNELLY is in the credit department of the Central Trust Company in Rochester, N. Y. Bob was married 25 years ago on April 2.

DICK TRANT is with the Mulcahy Lumber Co. in Tucson, Arizona. He is also interested in farming. Dick's son is a sophomore at N.D. in aeronautical engineering. Dick sees ELMER BESTON who also lives in Tucson.

ED McCORMACK is with Kastor, Farrell, Chesley & Clifford, Inc., 400 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. As Ed puts it, "I'm a copy writer on 'Ulcer Gulch,' Madison Avenue." Ed mentioned that he was distressed to learn of the death of JACK MULLEN who was also an ad writer in N. Y. and, like Ed, a former Chicago resident.

I noticed in my reading of Chamber of Commerce materials that BOB MOHLMAN conducts a "Third House" of the legislature in Lafayette, Indiana, for the Chamber there. I was not aware that Bob was a former State Legislator until I read it recently.

BERNIE GARBER reports that JACK WINGERTER went abroad in December for three months of supervision for De Rochemont films in Spain, Portugal, Italy, and South America. Jack is Vice-President and General Manager of Louis de Rochemont Associates, Inc., producers of motion pictures.

My list of changes of address indicates that TOM BOV has returned to his home town of Hamilton, Ohio. Tom has been chief engineer on M. S. Esso Little Rock, an oil tanker. FRANCIS DAVID has moved from N. Y. to Alexandria, La. ART HOLTON is back in Washington, D. C. Dr. BILL McGEE is now located in Riverdale, North Dakota.

Father MARK FITZGERALD, C.S.C., had another successful Union-Management Conference at Notre Dame on February 22nd.

JOHN FONTANA of Columbus, Ohio, sent me a clipping from the New York Times concerning the death of THOMAS P. RYAN, branch manager in Chicago for the Sylvania Sales Corporation. Tom, according to the report, died on January 23 in his home at LaGrange Park, Illinois. He was survived by his wife and two children.

I noticed in the paper recently where our Class President, FRANK CREADON, insurance consultant for the Metropolitan Life, was honored at a banquet marking his completion of 25 years of service with his company. Frank is now attending Metropolitan Life conventions in New Orleans and Florida in recognition of his sales record.

Your Class Secretary had an article in the February 16, 1957 issue of The Ave Maria on "How to Plan for Medical Care." JOE BREIG's article in that issue was "What Do You Mean—American?" Joe is a regular contributor to The Ave Maria.

May I conclude by urging that you send along some news. A year from now we will be getting ready to attend our 30-year reunion. Let's keep the '28 column full of class news at least until June, 1958.

From the Alumni office:

JOHN IGOE was selected as the 1956 Man-of-the-Year by the Catholic Men's Luncheon Club of Columbus.

1929 Donald J. Plunkett
Biology Department
Notre Dame, Indiana

1930 Devere Plunkett
O'Shaughnessy Hall
Notre Dame, Indiana

The class of 1930 is asked to remember in prayer JAMES E. CAMPAU who died in Brighton, Mich., Feb. 22, 1957, and WILLIAM H. MORAN of Tulsa, Okla., who died March 6, 1957. The latter is a brother of JOSEPH A. MORAN, '30.

JON BELJOU contributed some news from the Ohio beat:

The Henry T. Maddens, '51, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and their two daughters, Kathy and Lynn.

Received your note about news in the ALUMNUS. FRANK SVOBODA, JR., '30, dropped in to see me recently. He is an attorney in Dayton. He was with his father, Frank Svoboda, Sr., 84 years, who on January 7 presided at the opening of the House of Representatives in Columbus because he was the oldest member in the House.

CY MATHEWS is in charge of Cleveland's Public Auditorium traffic and parking facilities.

EUGENE SAWICKI was also elected to the House of Representatives and is now in Columbus in session. I lived off campus with him for a while. He is an attorney and also runs the Rusco Storm Window Company. Many of the class of '30 would remember him.

As for myself, I am still organist and choir director of Our Lady of Peace Church here in Cleveland. I have been here since 1930. Have six children: three boys and three girls—oldest 20 years and the youngest is 2½. I live on a farm in Aurora, Ohio, just outside of Cleveland.

JOHNNY MORAN, manager in White Plains, New York, for the All State Insurance Company, wrote recently:

In view of what you said about deadlines, this note is probably too late. At any rate, I am not a particularly good source of news due to the fact that I live and work sort of away from things. I am lucky in that I work in the suburbs as well as live there.

JOE KELLY, the pride of Brooklyn, is about the only classmate that I have any regular contact with. During the recent holidays, he and DR. GEORGE HEWSON spent an evening at our home and I, at least, enjoyed it very much. I hadn't seen George since we left school. TOM LANTRY is a local resident and businessman, but it's quite some time since I have seen him.

I haven't seen HARRY FRANCIS since our reunion. I would kind of like to get together with him.

Had a note from ART DENNEHY in New York recently:

I am now working with a former business (laboratory apparatus, equipment, and chemicals) competitor, i.e., I am now with Harshaw Scientific division of the Harshaw Chemical Company, Hastings-on-the-Hudson 6, New York. Incidentally, DR. JOHN PREECE, '30, was able to fly home to Nebraska for two weeks, notwithstanding his Trenton, New Jersey, practice and other medical interests. John has several 2-year-olds coming along at his home at Bridge Gate Farm, Newton, Pennsylvania.

BOB HELLRUNG reported things as quiet in St. Louis:

You asked for news regarding members of the class of 1930, and I was hoping to run into some. However, things here in St. Louis have been on the quiet side.

GENE KILLOREN is still practicing law here. Gene was always a quiet fellow, and he is still living quietly, so there is very little to report about him.

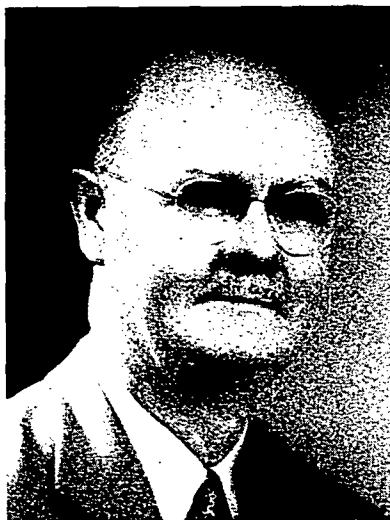

Gene and I are the only ones here from the class of '30. I am still in the medical and hospital credit and collection business, and we are busier than ever. 1956 was our 25th year in business, and was our most successful year from the standpoint of total business handled and total profit. In June of last year we were awarded an International Achievement Award for being the outstanding Collection Bureau in a metropolitan city. The award was made by the Collection Service Division of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America.

TIM TOOMEY, the class vice president for the Eastern area, sends in a full report on people of '30 or near '30 vintage: Since I last saw you a bit of ground was covered, and I met a lot of nice people.

It was good to see you and your frau at the Michigan State game and thank you for your kindness. My sister, brother-in-law and "yours truly" got off to a fine start with a wholesome meal with the PLUNKETTS on Friday evening before the "cloudburst", the Michigan State game.

We took in the pre-game rally at school, and had a short chat with an old friend, JIM McALLISTER, custodian of the athletic apparel department. DON MILLER, '25, and his wife extended greetings. The Oliver Hotel mezzanine was the next stop, and CHUCK ROHR was the genial host. It is easy to understand his success as a restaurateur; nothing disturbs his calm! Not even JACK CANNON playing the character of "Little Eva" in a playette about a Notre Dame widow seeking employment from a classmate of her late husband. It was tear rendering! Ask those who witnessed JACK'S bow to the world of the Barrymores, etc. The audience included his brother,

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JOSEPH R. SIMONIN, '28

On August 11, 1928, a few weeks after graduating from Notre Dame, Joseph R. Simonin was employed by the Detroit Edison Company in the firm's drafting and surveying department as a student engineer. He has been with the same company since that time and recently was promoted to Division Engineer in the Mechanical Division of the Design Engineering Department.

The Mechanical Division is responsible for the layout of all mechanical equipment except steam generators and their accessories in power plants, heating plants and other company properties.

A native of Hillsboro, Ill., Joe worked as a construction laborer, structural iron worker and millwright during the six year interval between receiving his high school diploma and the date he enrolled at Notre Dame.

He has been active in the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Detroit, in the Engineering Society and in Toastmasters International. Joe is a 'do it yourself' type and built his own hi-fi set.

Married to the former Julia A. Heinicke, they have three children: Joanne Marie, graduate of Mercy College; Martha Adelaide, a third year student at the University of Detroit; and, John Joseph, a member of the freshman class at St. Joseph's High School for Boys in Detroit.

DAN and wife, the BERNARD CONROYS, the JOHN QUINNS, NORDY HOFFMAN, HUNK ANDERSON, DR. "BUCKY" O'CONNOR, DR. "JERRY" HAYES, REGIS McNAMARA, and FATHER LOU THORNTON. CHUCK sure did a great job of making everyone feel at home in his suite.

On Saturday, we attended Mass at Dillon Hall, and wished TERRY BRENNAN well, but our kind words were to go for naught.

We had a short chat with PROF. PAUL FENLON, and FATHER RICHARD GRIM. CARL CRONIN, DAN CANNON, BERNIE CONROY and several others trekked to FATHER TOM BRENNAN'S room in Corby. The residents of "the palace by the sea" really are living it up! They have elevators to hoist them from floor to floor.

The next stop was the ATHLETIC OFFICE to see HERB JONES.

DAN CANNON met a kindly individual on the campus named HENESSY who needed tickets for the Iowa game. DAN told him not to worry about a thing, and sure enough he brought the Iowan to the right place—the Athletic office. Leave such matters to good old DAN!

We were able to get into the Monogram luncheon on the strength of our name—the ticket taker thought we might have been TED TWOMEY of everlasting fame. I guess we weigh nearly as much as the "Bad Man" did when he rocked 'em over with his deadly forearm shiver. Incidentally, we are happy to report TIMOTHY ALOYSISOS TWOMEY is doing right well as a Miller representative in Florida.

DAN HALPIN, JOE SAVOLDI, MOOSE KRAUSE, FATHER VINCENT MOONEY, and PAT CANNY, were those we met at the luncheon in the Navy Drill Hall.

We picked up the following bits of interesting news—the number of granddaddys in our class is increasing. JOHN QUINN has joined the priesthood, and he also has a son preparing for the priesthood. GIL PRENDERGAST wrote following the Navy game in Baltimore, and he informed us even a tour of the hotels the night before the game, failed to uncover any "men of 1930". He concludes age is taking toll. How right can a man be? GIL and his bride visited his son at school for the Oklahoma game, and he met JIM BURKE, who came on from Oklahoma City to witness the slaughter.

We had a chat with "BUS" REDGATE at the Giant-Cleveland Brown professional football game following Thanksgiving. He brought greetings from the Connecticut regions. ED DEMPSEY, JACK CASSIDY and MIKE BISCHO were at the Universal Notre Dame Communion Breakfast at the Waldorf-Astoria on December 8. All three had eligible sons in town, and were headed for FATHER MURPHY, the present Director of Admissions, to get a briefing on present requirements at the University.

TIM O'ROURKE is back at work after hospitalization and a lengthy convalescence, following semi-serious surgery. "HOOLEY" SMITH is still going great guns as athletic director and coach of Mt. St. Michael's Prep, here in the city.

At the last New York Club meeting, I met up with T. (for Timothy) LARRY CRONIN and he said he attended the basketball tourney during Christmas vacation at Madison Square Garden where the University quintet accredited themselves very well as runner-up to the local Manhattan College five. "BOB" MULHALL and GEORGE WINKLER attended the games with him.

JOHN DEA recently moved to our midst to assume his new duties as an executive assistant with the Texas Co. with local headquarters in the Chrysler Building.

DICK BLOOM, who gets to the campus now and then, reports on other visits in the midwest: I have been corresponding with GAYLORD HAAS and all of the news of him and his family is contained in the following paragraph which I take from his letter to me dated January 26:

"All the family are in fine health and trust yours are the same. We have only Germaine and Geoffrey at home. Gaylord is in his fourth year at Notre Dame and Gwendolyn is in her second year at St. John's Hospital School of Nursing in Cleveland, studying nursing. She tells us that she sees Mike Crawford frequently at the hospital. He practices obstetrics and gynecology and is doing quite well."

I also heard from AL SHIPACASSE during the fall. He wrote that he is now in a new home quite close to the new Ohio Thruway, asking me to drop in on my travels. Mrs. Bloom and I hope to take advantage of that invitation in the spring.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

Al's four children are growing up. His oldest daughter, Sue, is studying to be a nurse. Mary Kay is at St. Joseph's Convent. Linda and Johnny are home probably keeping their parents active and youthful.

There is a thread of coincidence thru these notes. Al Shipcassee's daughter is in the Convent. My younger son, Ron, is at Old College Seminary at Notre Dame very happy in his early studies, which he and we hope will lead to Priesthood in the C.S.C. Order.

My older son, Bob, a 1934 alumnus, is working for the same company that employs me and seems to be doing rather well in the Purchasing Department.

JACK ELDER dropped us a note a short time ago: I am probably too late with this note but nevertheless I wanted you to know that I received your letter and had good intentions even though they were side-tracked by time.

Haven't seen many of our gang but have run onto a couple of fellows in my wanderings: Had a nice visit with BUD BARR, an old trackman, from Chalmers, Ind. who is just sitting at home clipping coupons. Looks trim though so it must be a good job if you can get it. Had a nice but short visit with OONIE DONOVAN, Bedford's gift to the barrister ranks, recently. See JOHN ROCAP on occasions of importance. John and Jim recently lost their Mother. I have just come from Kentucky where I buried my Father on the 23rd. He died in California but we brought him home to Kentucky (Lebanon) and buried him beside my Mother who died in 1922. Please ask the gang to remember them in their prayers.

From DON SCHETTIG: I want to acknowledge your recent note in regard to class news but am afraid I can't be too helpful. BILL CLEAR of Altoona is now president of our Notre Dame Club of Central Pa., and manages one of his hometown radio stations. I also see ED SLICK of Johnstown frequently. I am still in the hardware business here in Ebensburg.

About a year ago we were actively engaged in a tremendous promotional activity to make our 25 year Reunion one of the greatest in the history of the University. Our efforts were so great that Congress pigeon-holed an attempt to raise the first class mail rate to four cents per ounce. Since that time the classnotes pipeline has been as dry as the Oklahoma-Texas dustbowl. Due to the pressure of other activities I had to forego any notes for the last ALUMNUS. A few days after delivery of the January-February ALUMNUS GEORGE COSTELLO and GENE VALLEE were talking about it and called me to find out if I had been ill. Incidentally, a new daughter was born to the George Costellos October 26, 1936. I believe this makes three boys and three girls for George. He also mentioned that MAURICE GOODEVE visited with him for two weeks after the Reunion and had quite a time talking it over.

The Notre Dame Club of Chicago has resumed a regular monthly luncheon meeting which is held at the Western Society of Engineers Club, 84 E. Randolph Street on the first Monday of each month at 12:30 p.m. If any out of town '31 men are in Chicago around that time please try to join us. EDDIE AGNEW and NICK BOHLING have been present to date and several others I have talked to had to miss it at the last moment. I talked to BERT METZGER recently and learned that he became a grandfather with the arrival of Bertram III this past January. AL STEPAN, I understand, was in the hospital for a short while in January. I saw his brother, Ed, recently and had fine time talking about GORDIE SALMON. RICHARD R. BAKER, now associate professor of philosophy at the University of Dayton since 1948, was one of the principal speakers at a regional congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine in Worcester, Mass., last November. Dr. Baker spoke at the general sessions of the congress on "Understanding the Child You Teach" and "So You're Going to Teach Religion". The topics were based on the subject matter of a booklet on the teaching

JOHN L. CASTELLANI, '51

One of the top college basketball coaching jobs of 1957 was done by John L. Castellani, '51, in his first year as head mentor of the Seattle University five. He was formerly an assistant to Johnny Jordan at Notre Dame. Throughout the season Seattle ranked in the 'first ten' of collegiate cage teams and participated in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

Coach Castellani developed one of the nation's most sensational stars, sophomore Elgin Baylor who was named to many All-American squads. The record at Seattle is all the more remarkable when it is realized that Castellani had only one regular player on which to start building his current varsity.

John succeeded Al Brightman at the Seattle school after the latter had won 180 games to 68 defeats and participated in six post-season national tournaments. It wasn't an easy period of adjustment for the new coach — particularly in view of the shortage of holdover players.

A native of New Britain, Conn., John Castellani is unmarried. In addition to coaching the Seattle five he is also Director of Athletics.

of religion which Dick wrote recently. I had a short note from TOM ASHE in January saying he was in Mexico for a few days and tried to get in touch with BILL MORPHY, who, unfortunately, was out of town at that time. Tom, I hope you will come through with a report on west coast activities for the next ALUMNUS. I have had a couple of notes from JIM and MARIE McQUAID who are anxiously awaiting their June departure to Lourdes. Word has been received of the death of RICHARD W. GIROU of Kensington, Maryland who died of cancer on January 7th. Dick had been hospitalized for several months previously. I understand that AUSTIN BARLOW of Salem, Oregon, passed away recently, but no further details are available at the moment. Mass offerings will be sent to their families with the sympathy of the Class. Please remember them in your prayers. Sympathy of the class is also extended to WALTER RIDLEY and his brother, John, '42 on the death of their mother, who died last December. Notre Dame and Northwestern will resume football relations with the first game at Evanston October 24, 1959. This should make for some interesting meetings of '31 men in the middle west. I have been talking with GIL SEAMAN, RAY COLLINS and EDDIE RYAN who are awaiting mid-semester visits from their sons this weekend. I would like information from other classmates who also have sons at Notre Dame.

Among other local '31ers seen recently are RED O'CONNELL, FRANK HOLLAND, WALT CAHILL and JIM MULVANEY who promised to send me some news he received from JOHNNIE BURNS. MATT GARRIGAN used to come through with a long letter occasionally, but he has fallen by the wayside. JOE DUNNE's long awaited letter has not arrived so far. Recently I talked with LOU BUCKLEY, '28 who was an instructor in some of our economics classes.

I hope many of you will take time to sit down and make good your promises of last June to send an occasional letter for our column.

MURRAY BOOTH recently wrote that he intended to be on campus for the reunion weekend. RAY PFEIFFER, Louisville, Ky., states that he will be present for the reunion and "don't worry about the whiskey and Scotch! I intend bringing Yellowstone and House of Lords to let a lot of guys from our class know what I'm selling." That should be just one of many reasons for all members of the 1932 Class to return for the Silver Jubilee festivities.

held numerous offices, and was very instrumental in the Rockne Memorial Communion breakfast this year. This could not have been given to a better or more deserving guy.

JOHN LITCHER was in Cleveland recently and talked of practically nothing but his only and very young grandson who was born just before Christmas. He did forget Junior long enough to say that he would be at the Reunion, and that IKE TERRY, ANDY MCGUAN, MAURY MURRAY and several others from Wisconsin have their plans all made.

NAPPY NAPOLITANO has agreed to handle all local details for the Reunion, and has been working closely with the Alumni Office to have everything in

From a recent edition of the Chicago Tribune:

NEIL C. HURLEY, JR. drove Monday morning from his home at 1338 Monroe Street, River Forest, to the Prudential building, Randolph Street east of Michigan Avenue and the trip required an hour in the heavy traffic.

That afternoon Hurley president of Thor Power Tool company, which has just opened new executive offices on the 30th floor of the new skyscraper, concluded an agreement with Helicopter Air Lift for daily copter pickup service and thereby became Chicago's first copter commuter.

Yesterday, riding with H. A. L. Pilot Jack de Vise, Hurley made the "portal to portal trip" in 19 minutes. This included a four minute drive from his home to the Maywood heliport, Madison Street east of First avenue, and eight minute flight to Meigs field on downtown Northerly island, and a five minute taxi ride to the entrance of his office building.

"My company has subscribed to the copter service for all its executives, for customers, for our engineers, as well as myself, on the annual basis," said Hurley. "Time for our top management is too valuable to waste it muddling along in Chicago's dense traffic jams."

Thor Power Tool is one of 32 major Chicago manufacturing or distribution corporations now subscribing to a "radio-copter" service similar but much faster than "radio-taxicabs." Hurley said costs to him are "very close to taxi fares anyhow—the ride from my home downtown would be $5 by cab and, under our contract, only $7 by copter."

Hurley said his company has plants in Aurora and in Cicero and is building a new plant in La Grange, all of them "within five to 15 minutes copter ride from our executive offices."

At the offset I want to thank all of you for sending in the news concerning yourself and family so promptly. As you can see our class news in the last issue was not only quantity, but quality. However, I still haven't heard from many of you and would appreciate it if you could do so not tomorrow, but today. Here is the info I received since the last issue.

Doctor FRANK R. KELLY, JR., lives in Richmond, Virginia, with his family of Frank R. III, 12, Michael 8, Mary Pat 6, Reid 4 and Colleen 1. He sees CHARLIE R. RILEY a surgeon in Richmond and PHIL MALONEY of Washington, D. C. DOCTOR FRANK, would like to hear from ED HUGHES and JACK GILMOUR.

CLARK VOLBERDING is a partner in a two-unit clothing store in Livingston, Montana, where he clothes his three fine boys Tom 4, Dan 2, Jim 3 months. CLARK would like to hear from JIM TORMEY and CHUCK NORTON. He has seen ED SIMONICH who is head football coach at Butte Central High School of Butte, Montana; and BOB CONVERSE, who is president of the Original Equipment Co. (auto parts) in Billings, Montana.

PETER F. SANDROCK is the plant engineer of the Pacific Tel & Tel Co. in Portland, Oregon. He has a fine son named Peter F. II. PETER was on the campus last June as the representative of the Portland N.D. Alumni Club at the President's Conference and had a marvelous time . . . his first trip back in 15 years. While there he had a fine visit with Father DOREMUS, who was his prefect in Sorin. The last classmate he saw was Father DAVID H. FOSSELMAN, who is teaching at the University of Portland.

PAUL H. RICE, JR., lives in Wilmette, Illinois, with his family consisting of Jean Ann 13, Paul 9, John 6, Pat 2½ and Mary Virginia 6 months. Congratulations on the last two since we were together. Paul is Vice-President of the Geo. C. Peterson Co. of Chicago. He sees DAVE HARRIS who is an envelope executive in Chicago, JOHN WESSELS the button king of Iowa and DAN RYAN, a leading lawyer of the windy city. Paul—you were my first friend on the campus and I hope you will always be my friend . . . after that crack about "the chauffeur" I am beginning to wonder!!! See you in a couple of years.

I am sorry to have to report the death of JIM ROCAP's mother . . . please remember her in your prayers. Also received the shocking news that our classmate HERMAN S. SHEEDY died on February 20th. Our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Herman Sheedy.

Our managing editor sent me a fine newspaper clipping and picture of THOMAS A. SULLIVAN who was just promoted to Vice-President of the First National Bank of Greenwich. Nice going Tom . . . how about hearing from you personally.

MICHAEL J. (MIKE) McGUIRE is a chemist at the Continental Can Company. Mike lives in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, with his fine family consisting of Michael Jr. 8, Mary 5, Martha 3, Maureen 2, Mark 1 and by now the new baby due in February. Mike would like to hear from JAMES H. Russ reports that he sees two of his classmates who reside in Richmond. ROBERT A. SHEPPARD and DR. FRANK R. KELLY JR., and hears from another one, DOCTOR RAYMOND J. TILLE of Findlay, Ohio. He would like to hear from DR. BYRON CASEY. Russ . . . Byron used to live here in Detroit where I met him at a Notre Dame party. Now he is teaching at Michigan State University in Lansing, Michigan. JACK RODGERS, Byron, myself and our wives met in Schulers after the last Michigan State-Notre Dame game.

Just made a retreat at Manresa here in the city, where I met TOMMY SHEEHAN. Was very pleasantly surprised a few weeks ago to receive a call from TOMMY McINTYRE who was visiting our fair city for a company he is working for in Tucson. (I hope I am correct, Tom) Tom is now a mining engineer having a wonderful time traveling and has two sweet daughters.

If you have enjoyed the last two issues with the news of yourself and your classmates, it was due entirely to you for being so helpful. It would be nice to continue on such a high plain, so, how about hearing from all who have not written in before as well as "new" news from the ones who have. Thanks again for your help.

Our sources of info are slowly responding. Have a fine letter from ED MATTHEWS with a few tidbits. Ed reminds me that it is just 20 years ago that we were across the hall from each other on the second floor of St. Ed's. That was before the advent of the A.C. with Gilliland and his motley crew. I certainly do remember it. BILL HOPKINS had a pair of leather basketball shoes which I borrowed for the B.B. that year. Cheapest pair of boxing shoes I ever had. Ed is a Field Assistant with the Equitable Life of N. Y. Incidentally, for you family men Equitable has one of the two or three best Whole Life contracts in the trade today. Ed is living in Evansville, Indiana, is married and has two children: Kevin Michael and a girl Shannon . . . real Irish all the way. Some of Ed's comments should interest all: JIM HUFNAGEL is a district representative for the Philco Corp. and at last report was in Philadelphia, Pa. Attended the S.M.U. game in Dallas last fall and met GEORGE BECKER, WALT FLEMING and JACK FINNERAN. I mentioned having seen these fellows at the reunion but for further clarification Finneran is in the oil business and is located in Midland, Texas. Also TAD HARVEY who is now living in Dallas. Things must be booming down there. JOCK HENEERY, late of the Air Force, now in the Air Lines business, also at the game. Ed is very kind in sending along his '40 scholarship fund contribution. Remember men the quicker we have the deposits, the faster the money is put to work and the greater the yield by the time the funds are needed. Incidentally, I will buzz one of the local committeemen and find out the funds are being accumulated.

Have an interesting letter and a very quick reply from one EDWARD HART of our class. If you remember in the last issue I mentioned that I had heard that Ed was bleeding badly after the Brooklyn debacle last fall and the recent Ranger plight. Shortly after the issue was delivered I received by roundabout means a letter with penmanship like you have never seen. Eddy must have written the letter on a bumpy flight. Or else he was so hot about my comments about Brooklyn that he had trouble getting everything on paper. The letter was sent to Newton, N. J., which must be near Ed who is living in Moorestown, N. J. Ed is NOT with R.C.A. as I erroneously reported, is not doing engineering work but is a sales manager for the Microwave Equipment Co. Well, it looks like I've found one way to get you fellows to write: just make a mountain of errors and the maligned reply in short order. I'll have to try this more often. In any case, we appreciate the news. Ed confirms news previously reported that TONY CELLA and his wife have become parents after a long wait. Congratulations. Also have a short note from the Law firm of Hale & Dorr in Boston signed by PAUL HELLMUTH. Next time Paul is in town we'll have lunch and I will have all the details. As of now it looks as though Paul is practicing up in Boston after attending Harvard Law school. This concludes the incoming letters and I repeat, fellows, let's have some word . . . even a penny postcard. If you aren't careful I am going to run a picture of my own family every issue just to fill up the column.

We'll revert to the year book and proceed with our alphabetical roll call. Incidentally, for you fellows who have turned in late or missed a few issues I am going through the year book looking for items on people who were at the reunion. This is the reunion of 1955 so don't worry if you are confused. We haven't had any since but I have to recall who was there and what I remember.

I see ROCH LE PAGE occasionally. He is with a steel exporting firm here in the city and lives over in N. J. EDDIE MAHER is a partner in a shipping firm and lives out on L. I. ED McLAUGHLIN is a physician out in Lynbrook, L. I. At last calling he had four boys. While I'm in the M's let's have a word from SAM McROBERTS, the Decatur flash. DICK METZGER lives out here on Long Island and was doing industrial designing of some sort at last hearing. TOM MINOGUE is with the F.B.I. Met him about two years ago at Belmont Park. If it wasn't for the races I'd never fill this column. JOHN MLYNSKY was at the reunion fraternizing with his old buddy JOHN FLYNN from Conn. JACK MORAN, an old high school buddy is now located in Alexandria, Virginia. Jack was doing some broadcasting out of Wheeling, W. Virginia, and was called back for the Korean situation. He is back out now, married to a girl from Wheeling and is selling radio time for station WPIK in Alexandria, Virginia. Jack and his wife have two children. Ole MIZE MORRIS was at the reunion. I do not have any vital statistics. JOE MULQUEEN, one of the co-ordinators of the '40 fund, is living and working in Philadelphia, Pa. Joe is with one of the national magazines and has about six children. We'll conclude with the usual appeal for some news from all of you.

JOSEPH W. LARKIN has been named sales supervisor for Massey-Harris-Ferguson, Inc., Racine, Wis. He was formerly with the Oliver Corporation and with MacCarthy-Ford Tractor Sales, Inc.

THOMAS M. TIERNEY has been appointed executive director of the Colorado Blue Cross. He has practiced law in Denver since 1946 and after graduating from Notre Dame received a law degree from the University of Denver. Tom and his wife and four boys live at 5533 Montview Blvd., Denver, Colo.

FRANCIS J. "BOODIE" ALBERT, star tackle on Fighting Irish teams in the late '30's, has been coach of Covington High School (Virginia) for a number of years. A recent write-up in a Roanoke, Virginia, newspaper praised Boodie's fine record as a coach and the great job that he has done with the city's recreation program.

I have lots to report since the last ALUMNUS. At the monthly meeting of the Notre Dame Club of New York City, January 23rd, I met WALT DESEL and GEORGE SHEA. Both are not 41ers, but are so close to our class that we shall adopt them! At that meeting, the Trust Fund of the ND Club of NYC conducted its most successful fund raising campaign; over $7000 was realized from the raffle of a car. That will help send several students to ND on a scholarship. JACK HOYT and his assistants are to be heartily congratulated for their wonderful work. Walt Desel is with Consolidated Natural Gas Co., NYC. Walt reports that NOEL WILKINS is teaching high school in Milford, Conn.; TONY BENEDESSO is with the Milford, Conn., Highway Dept.; FRED HOLSINGER in Chicago with Corn Products Co.; and JOHN MONAGHAN is at the Springfield (Mass.) Arsenal. Walt saw some of these boys at last New Year's Eve party. Finally, a call from LARRY BRACKEN that his new daughter has arrived. They named her Eileen. You will remember that I reported just after our Reunion that Larry

WILFRED B. KIRK, '37

His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman recently presided at ceremonies when Wilfred B. Kirk was invested in the Association of Master Knights of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

A graduate of the 1937 class, Wil is now a vice-president of the Texas Bank and Trust and a director of Nor-Tex Oil and Gas Corporation, both in Dallas, Texas. Prior to accepting his present position, he was a vice-president of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank in New York and before that was associated with the First National Bank in N. Y.

He completed a series of studies in the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1948 and is president of the Harvard Advance Management Club of Dallas-Ft. Worth. Prominent in Catholic activities, Wil is a member of the Serra Club and the National Council of Catholic Men. He is also treasurer of the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Dallas.

Wil and his wife, the former Miss Eleanor Schnell of New York, are the parents of five children and the family resides at 6238 Woodland Drive, Dallas, Texas.

Electronics Div., Carlstadt, N. J., since 1942. His present status is Industrial Relations Manager. Dick has had recent contact with LARRY WALSH. Larry, as many of you know, is the Personnel Placement Officer for Haskins and Sells in NYC. (LOU MacKENZIE is also with H & S). He, Dick, sees and his wife were expecting the baby at reunion time. Well, he DID call me!

Your secretary thought that a letter to the various members of the class might awaken some long-dormant interest; so 113 missiles were dispatched in January. The response has been wonderful. Please keep up the good work, men. Without further ado, here is the gist of the most welcome correspondence:

From DAN BRADLEY who is Secretary of the ND Club of Detroit. Dan has been married 11 years, has 4 children, 2 of each; is District Mgr. for the Shell Chemical Corp. in Detroit, 154 Bagley Ave. Has been with Shell 10 years this Sept. Likes his work very much. Dan was at the reunion last June and expects to be at the next one.

From DON CASSIDY, of Glen Ellyn, Ill.: Don moved into a new house in November. Best of luck, Don. Has three children, one boy, two girls. Don, also made the Reunion and enjoyed it immensely. Is employed as Staff Electrical Engr. of Crane Co., and has been with Crane for five years.

DICK DORA—is working in the Investment Dept. of Life and Casualty Ins. Co. in Nashville, Tenn. Is married and has two sons. Says that alumni activity is limited as there are too few ND men down there.

ROBERT J. FALLON—Practicing obstetrics and gynecology in Boston and Milton, Mass. Instructor in same fields at Boston U. Medical School and Tufts Medical School. Is married and has three children.

BEN FISHBURNE—Married and has six children. Engaged in private practice of law (patent law) with his father at 702 McLachlen Bldg., Wash., D. C. Lives at 3228 Klinge Rd. N.W., Wash. 8, D. C.

FRANK DOODY—a sales engr. for Farr Co. in Chicago. Is married and has seven children. Frank says he seldom sees any of our classmates. Thought we had a lot out Chicago way. Saw Frank at the Reunion.

ED GRAHAM—wants his address noted, 419 North Washington St., Butler, Pa. Sells industrial supplies in northwestern Pa. Has three children.

BOB BOYLE—1812 Gatewood, Okla. City, Okla. Bob is from Tyler, Texas. Made the reunion but hasn't seen any of the Hers since! Thanks for your encouragement, Bob.

JOHNNY GUBANICH—many thanks, John, for your complete letter. John was one of the less lucky alumni in not making the Reunion. We'll see him at the next one, I hope. John was in the middle of a large financing for General Waterworks Corp., 1306 Walnut St., Phila. 2, Pa., and couldn't take time off. He is Secretary and Treasurer of the company. Lives at 100 Galicia Drive, Mounted Route, Phoenixville, Pa. Is married, and has two sons. That is no small outfit for which Johnny works. It operates 86 water and telephone companies in 19 states. His duties cover financial and accounting matters for which he is most capable having attained his CPA. Was with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. after graduation. Left this accounting firm to go with his present employer, in 1955. Johnny and I have one thing in common—we were both with the Finance Dept., U. S. Army. I didn't run into him, however. Will look forward to your visit, John. Be sure to call me.

PAT PUTNAM—8338 Kendale Rd., Towson, Md., reports he has seen JIM MURRAY quite often. Jim is with Bethlehem Steel Co., Shipbuilding Division, Balt., Md., and has four "real nice children." BILL HARTMAN, JIM BARRETT, '40, and Pat were playing cards and reminiscing; (thought it took four to play bridge!) Bill is a Consultant Engr. in Balt.; Jim and Pat are FBI men. Pat saw JOHNNY ROSS last summer in Syracuse with Johnny's brother Jack of '37. Johnny is with the VA, in personnel. Has two children. Pat says he is looking forward to this column; wonders what has happened to AL FRERICKS, JOE PAPA, SAM YEZERSKI, the McLAUGHLIN twins, CHUCK CRIMMINS, SHORTY HOGAN and many others. What do you say fellows, are you going to let Pat and the rest of us know? Pat thanks TONY ROMEO for the Reunion card.

DICK EVERROAD—another long and interesting letter. Dick lives at 60 Kent Road, Glen Rock, N. J. I last saw Dick at one of our closed-circuit TV football games in 1953. Dick married a St. Mary's girl, Mary K. Thies, of '40. They have four children. Has been with Curtiss-Wright Corp.

Paul F. Koprowski, '31, has been appointed by the National Council of Catholic Men with headquarters in Washington, D. C., as National Chairman of the Committee on Family Life. After graduating from the University with an A.B. degree in 1931 and M.A. in 1933, he did social work in Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis. Paul also attended the School of Social Work at St. Louis University and Case Institute of Technology. He has been head of the Department of Sociology at the College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minn., for the past 13 years. Mr. and Mrs. Koprowski are the parents of six children, including Loran and Mary Clare (foreground), Janet, John, Philip and Paul, Jr.

JIM WHITE, JOHNNY KELLY, LARRY CRO-
NIN, JOE ABBOTT, PHIL PROVVISERRO and GREG RICE fairly regularly. Some of these boys are from the Class of '41, but ALL Notre Dames. One of Dick's co-workers is GERVASE A. FROELICK whose brother Gerry, a 41er, is a doctor in Newark. Other Curtiss-Wright ND men are: HUD HAUSMANN, Budget Director of the Wright Aeronautical Div., approx. class of '35, and FRANK DOYLE, of '50, Industrial Relations Mgr., Industrial & Scientific Products Div., in Caldwell, N. J. Dick compliments Frank as an extremely competent person who achieved a very quick success with Curtiss-Wright. Says that Frank has done much to enhance Notre Dame's prestige within the Company. Thanks Dick, keep me posted.

ART MADDALENA—Art retired as a Commander, USNR, in 1948, after serving as CO of various naval craft up to fleet tanker from Murmansk to Korea (saw some of that Murmansk run on Victory at Sea—real hazardous!) Art has several decorations, among which are the Silver Star and the Order of the Fatherland War by Russia. Is at present a realtor and government appraiser on Cape Cod. Married a "beautiful blonde" from Westfield during the war. They have three children. I should have looked you up, Art, as I spent a week in Hyannis last summer.

HOWIE SCHELLENBERG—Suite 511, 1025 Connecticut Ave. N.W., Wash. 6, D. C. Howie, too, reports a dearth of ND men in his neck of the woods. Where'd they all go? Saw Howie in Nov. 1953 at the Warwick, in Phila., Pa., after the Penn game. Also met his lovely wife. Howie reports DR. GEORGE W. GREENE is in town. Is with the Nat'l. Inst. of Pathology. BERNIE LIENHARD, Ex. '41, is a Navy Commander, stationed in the Pentagon. Mentions BEN FISHBURNE and ED FENLON. Lawyer Schellenberg practices law, specializing in Radio and TV and before the FCC. Says that DANNY STACK comes through Washington once in a while. Danny is a pilot for Capital Airlines and resides in Detroit. Howie's wife, by the way, is Sarah Jo Caudill, St. Mary's '44, sister of HANK CAUDILL, '41, Ensign USN, killed during World War II. I remember Hank as a most pleasant student. May he rest in Eternal Peace.

BOB POHL—Hi, Bob, wonderful to hear from you, way out there in Los Angeles. Bob's address is 16812 Sausalito Drive, Whittier, Calif., after Mar. 4. Very best in your new home, Bob. He has a good memory, too. Recalls my love for Florida, and that was way back in 1937. I still go there, at least once a year. Bob has been married nine years and has three boys and a girl. Was discharged from the armed forces in 1945 at San Luis Obispo. Is with Pacific Press, Inc., and has been since 1945. This company is engaged in manufacturing printing—magazines, catalogs and color work of all kinds. Also, are West Coast distributors for Time, Life, Newsweek and Sports Illustrated. Bob sells printing.

RAY KELLY, JR.—Ray likes the idea of my letter to the Class. Has five children, one of whom is in high school. You're getting old, Ray! Is Manager of the Wm. C. Roney & Company, Flint, Mich., a member of the N. Y. Stock Exchange. Ray is also a member of the County Board of Supervisors, and has just been elected Pres. of the ND Club of Flint. Congratulations, Ray. Reports he ran into PAUL SCHIAPPACASSE who is selling for the Imperial Rack Co. JOE OKOPIEN owns a trucking and moving business known as Johnny's Messenger. Joe has an office opposite the Fisher No. 1 plant in the south end of Flint. Ray gets to Detroit once in a while, and has seen VERN WITKOWSKI a few times. Vern runs a number of clothing stores; has six children. Ray has had some fine get-togethers with FATHER VICTOR DEAN, C.S.C., at Christmas. Ray, who attended the 15th Reunion, is already looking forward to the next. See you there, Ray.

HOWIE KORTH—a success story, richly deserved. Howie has just started a scheduled airline service for mail, express and cargo between New York, Atlanta and New Orleans. (Saw one of your planes being serviced on the hardstand at Moynihan Airport in N. O. last week, Feb. 24, but had no time to ascertain if you were there). Has an office at Idlewild, and promises to call me when he is in town. The name of his airline is AAXICO which stands for American Air Export & Import Company. The home office is PO Box 875, Miami Int'l. Airport Branch, Miami 48, Fla. May drop in and see you, some time in April, Howie, as I tentatively plan to fly there for a combination vacation and AFRES training flight. Howie started this airline just after the war. It owns 32 C-46's (I just flew to and from New Orleans in an AF C-46) and has a long-term contract with the USAF, carrying cargo between 20 AF bases from Texas to Seattle, and east to Alabama. He is President of and owner of the airline, but says he is everything from porter to chief exec! Has four children; his wife is from Michigan, and in his summer trips to Michigan he sees his roomie of Howard and Walsh Halls, TOM CARROLL. Tom is in the insurance business in Bay City, Mich. Howie attended retreat at ND in the summer of 1955, notes it was a wonderful experience. Stays in close touch with BILL HOYNE, at Dayton, and used to see RUBE MARQUARDT and BILL BURNS when they visited from Chicago. Good luck, Howie.

JIM MCCARTHY—1342 Suffolk Ave., Westchester, Ill. Jim reports the following: LARRY MAJEWSKI is President of a chain of gas stations west and northwest of Chicago. Resides in Oak Park, has six children. EMMET STRITCH, Jim's neighbor, is President of the Illinois Club for Catholic Men, is connected with a large Chicago Bank. The Stritches have five children. BILL MOULDER, also living in Westchester, Ill., father of three, is manager of the Int'l. Harvester Parts Depot in Broadview, Ill., making quite a name for himself. Emmet sees DICK O'CONNOR from time to time. (Sgt. O'Connor is our class President, gentlemen. He must have two broken arms!) TOM GRADY recently moved to Denver upon a transfer to a managerial position with Carbon and Carbide. Tom and his wife have two children. Jim Mc is a CPA, having spent about seven years in the accounting game (why?). Is connected with a glass manufacturer in Chicago, in charge of their financial problems (Does that include "how to make money"?). Jim has four sons, and has lived in Westchester since 1949. Will be sure to call you, Jim, next time I'm in your town.

FRANK MCGRODER—househunting in Syracuse at mid-February, having just been transferred there for Gen'l. Electric to represent the Laminated Prod. Dept. at Electronics Park. Very happy with the change of station. Had a new son born Dec. 31st (gets a full $600 exemption, too, for 1956) named Michael Francis. Says HAWLEY VAN SWALL is helping him find a home, in Fayetteville. Hey, Hawley, hows about some news from you? Frank asks Coppinger to get in touch with him. Use the address 416 Pine St., Coshocton, Ohio, unless you are sure Frank is in Syracuse at this writing. Frank says Cappy is with GE at 570 Lex. Ave., but I believe GE has moved into the new Socony-Mobil Bldg., corner 42nd & Lex. Come to think of it, Cappy, get in touch with me. We are close enough to use visual signals.

GERRY PAVEGLIO—on a fancy letterhead, with lots of color on the engraved stationery. Auto business must be good. How about that, PAUL PUGLIA? Had a swell ball session with Gerry and Paul at the Reunion 1-st summer. Both these 41ers are Buick auto dealers. Only Gerry's business includes Willys, Pontiac, GMC Trucks, and Chrysler and Plymouth. No Jaguar! Gerry has the true Alumni spirit. Says he enjoyed the reunion as well as anything ever, and wouldn't miss the next one if he was as far away as Hawaii. His family status—five children. Gerry's official business name is PAVEGLIO MOTORS. Carpenter at Woodward Ave., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

JOE GILLESPIE—who used to share a room next to mine on the top floor of Walsh with the late BOB FITZGERALD. Joe has his own welding shop and sales agency for welding products. Joe reports that JACK RYAN (athletic mgr. at ND) was recently named judge of Superior Court No. 1, in Indianapolis. Says he hears from JERRY RYAN every Christmas. Jerry has nine kids, and runs a string of grocery stores around Cincinnati. BOB ILIFF is in the anhydrous ammonia business. What's that? Bob's business is in Salinas, California. When I used to correct business law papers, Joe was an interested party. How else do you think he passed?

HARRY GOTTRON, JR.—Harry sends a notice of a brand new offspring, born Jan. 31, 1957, Harry Phillip Gottron, III. Very best wishes to you and Mrs., Harry. How about a bit of news before the next ALUMNUS?

BOB SAGAU has recently joined Lauson Engine Division where he will represent the company in contacting and selling special accounts.

That's all the data received up to March 2. Four letters were returned for one reason or another. JACK LUCAS, BOB OSTERMAN, FRANK KENNEDY and JOE GULTINAN. The given addresses for these and the other alumni are, for the most part, not correct. Please let me know your addresses. It would be nice to hear from all of you. I have no more material for the next ALUMNUS, so please don't let me starve.

From New York comes word that JOHN KIRBY has joined W. R. Grace & Co., Latin American Paper and Chemical Group as assistant director of marketing for that division.

Previously, he was publisher of Vision, a news magazine published in Spanish and Portuguese and devoted primarily to inter-American affairs and events. Earlier he had served the publication as advertising salesman and advertising manager. He became publisher in January, 1956.

Grace's newly-formed Latin American Paper and Chemical Group has begun an extensive expansion program in paper and chemicals in Latin America. Kirby received his early schooling in Peru and Chile before joining our class at N.D. His dad was formerly vice president and director of W. R. Grace & Co., prior to his retirement in 1953.

Nice going, John!

We have received notes of the death of the mother of JOHN J. RIDLEY, and also CURTIS R. SHOOK, a member of our class and a student at N.D. during the 1938-39 schoolyear. He died on October 26, 1956. We are happy to learn that FATHER O'DONNELL has said a special Mass for both.

From Boston comes word of the annual lecture-ship in memory of DR. ROBERT S. JOHNSON, JR., of our class. He was Senior Physician of the Boston State Hospital and died of poliomyelitis on October 27, 1955. Anyone desiring to remember Bob by participation in the annual memorial lecture-ship may do so by writing to The Robert S. Johnson, Jr. Memorial Lecture, Boston State Hospital, 591 Morton St., Boston 24, Mass.

From the Midwest, this time St. Louis, comes a report from ED MANGELSDORF, faithful contributor:

"JIM O'NEILL has returned to St. Louis after a tour of duty in New York. He is a vice president with the D'Arcy Advertising Agency. FATHER Q. O'CONNELL has passed with flying colors his studies in Washington, D. C., and STEVE GRALLER is looking forward to the Reunion of the Navy Flying Irish. He's still a bachelor!"

The Chicago edition of the Notre Dame club seems in good and capable hands with Prexy ROBERT EMMETT WRIGHT of our class, and such able Board members as DON HOGAN, JIM CONWAY, BILL HICKEY and TOM NASH.

EUGENE F. HUNT has been promoted to supervisor in the Pittsburgh copy department of Ketchum, MacLeod & Grove, Inc., Pittsburgh and New York advertising and public relations agency. He joined the agency in 1955 as a copy writer after serving as assistant copy chief in the Cleveland offices of the Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn agency.

CHARLES F. RALEY has been recently employed by the Dow Chemical Company, Midland, Mich. He is an organic chemist in the firm's Physical Research Laboratory.

We regret to announce the passing on February 9 of JOHN J. (JACK) WAHL. Please remember him in your prayers. John leaves his widow, Margaret, and a son, Brian. Our class was represented at the funeral by JACK EDWARDS, ART KARTHEISER and RAY (REGGIE) FLYNN. Through our Class Mass Fund we arranged to have a Mass celebrated on campus on March 18; celebrant was FATHER GEORGE BERNARD, C.S.C., rector of Breen-Phillips Hall, and a member of the Class of '43. Jack apparently had known of his illness for some time—even at the last reunion. His exemplary conduct should be an inspiration to all of us; he was certainly a credit to Notre Dame. The Notre Dame Club of Rockford (Illinois) has established the John J. Wahl Memorial Scholarship in honor of their former past president and member of the Board of Directors.

Thanks to JACK McCABE and FARRELL QUINLAN the column was saved for this issue!

McCABE, a member of the New York bar, practicing in New York City and residing in Hastings-on-Hudson, writes about reunions with New York area '44ers at football games in the East (Navy at Baltimore and Penn at Philadelphia) in recent years. "At these games and get-togethers after them," Jack reports, "I would invariably run into the following: JOE GALLAGHER, BILL O'CONNOR, JOHN DUFFY, JOE PONS, JOHN O'ROURKE, FRANK PARISE, CHARLEY DUNN, EMIL GAROFALO, JOE DALY, DAN O'CONNELL, JACK McGRATH, PHIL RUSSO, JIM SULLIVAN, JACK WHITELY, and PAT BRADLEY. I know I've probably left out quite a few names that should also be here, but this will give you a general idea."

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

RICHARD T. DOERMER, '44

The new president of Fort Wayne's (Ind.) Dime Trust and Savings Bank is Richard T. Doermer, a member of the 1944 class. He succeeds Harry G. Hogan, '04, former national president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, and first chairman and 'founding father' of the Notre Dame Foundation.

Dick is a native of Ft. Wayne and graduated with honors from the College of Commerce at Notre Dame as well as the Cornell University Law School. Prior to his association with the bank he was engaged in the practice of law and is a former Associate City Attorney. During World War II, he served three and a half years in the U. S. Navy and was honorably discharged as a lieutenant (jg).

Active in civic affairs, Dick was president of the Citizens Council of Allen County. He belongs to the Kiwanis Club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Friars Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and city, state and national bar associations. Dick is a past president of Notre Dame's 1944 class.

Married to the former Mary Louise McNabb, the Doermers reside at 4818 Stratford Road, in Fort Wayne, and they are the parents of two children.

Jack also writes about LARRY SCHATZLEIN's gala wedding last year when he was best man. AL ZOILLO and his lovely wife, Rita, were on hand to toss rice at Larry and his bride.

From Indian Cove Lodge at Sunapee, New Hampshire, FARRELL QUINLAN reports he is now in his fifth season in resort business at the lodge on Lake Sunapee that accommodates 140 guests. Off-season Farrell occupies his time as a director of the local board of trade and the New Hampshire Hotel Association. He and wife Eleanor are proud parents of three daughters and a son.

"There aren't many N.D. men around this part of New Hampshire," Farrell writes, "though I have spent some time with JOE GALL who is on the State's Attorney General's staff hunting out Communist subversives. I persuaded him to come and give our local Board of Trade a talk. You know he got a lot more out of those public speaking courses than I did. He was the toastmaster at the Universal N.D. night when we had Father Hesburgh as our guest in Dover, N. H.

"My brother, TOM QUINLAN, '38, and later law student at N.D. in '46, is a lawyer and hotel owner in Washington, Conn. He is serving his second term in the Legislature there and is Secretary of the Connecticut Hotel Association."

Commenting on recent ALUMNUS photos of ANGELO BERTELLI and TOM O'REILLY, Farrell observe that Angelo is keeping a trim waistline and most of his hair, and that Tom continues to be the most youthful-looking of the Class.

CREIGHTON MILLER is the attorney for an organization of professional football players. He still makes his home in Cleveland, Ohio.

JOHN A. LYNCH, a member of the technical writing staff of the Bendix Corporation in South Bend, is teaching a course in creative writing in the Indiana University Extension Center of South Bend.

Your secretary was advised by the editor that the deadline dates for the remaining issues of the ALUMNUS this year are: May 25 and August 25. If I am to be spared possible libel action for "manufacturing" news to fill this space, I will need some help from you. If you can spare 10 or 15 minutes to get off a note or postcard to me, I would be grateful and my task would be lightened. 'Nuff said.

A VISIT BACK

Yours truly was fortunate enough to make a trip recently to the University for purposes of recruiting some of the present engineering graduates, and since the stay was close to a week's duration, it gave me an opportunity to see many old friends and to revisit many of the wonderful spots on campus which are so dear to all of us. HAROLD ELLITHORN, Head of the EE Department, did a wonderful job of coordinating all the interviewing. It was nice sitting and talking to JOHN CACKLEY and JIM ARMSTRONG of the Alumni Office. Two happy occasions were short talks with FATHER CAVANAUGH, now Director of the Foundation, and with FATHER JOYCE, Executive Vice-President of the University.

THE SAME STORY

BILL MOORE, Class Treasurer, is still the most unhappy man of our class. He writes that a great percentage of the class is still in the "Why-Should-I-Cooperate" category. The $5 dues (for five years) which is asked of every member of the class, is a small amount but it is the sole source of support for the various efforts which of necessity must go into keeping the class growing, meeting its obligations, and free from becoming a burden on any one small group of enthusiasts.

A recent note from Bill Moore summarizes the sad situation and lists those of the class who have contributed. These men who have done THEIR SHARE are as follows: A. ANDERSEN, R. ANDERSON, R. BATEMAN, REV. W. BEVINGTON, R. BLACKHURST, J. BRADY, J. BROZO, J. BUTLER, J. CAHILL, L. CALLERAN, J. CARON, D. CARTWRIGHT, J. CASTELLI, D. CHAMPION, D. CLAEYS, J. CLEARY, J. CLYNES, R. CRONIN, F. WOLF, W. WRAPE.

This paragraph is directed to YOU—you who have not bothered to give us that much of your effort as a vote of confidence for the work we are doing. Please return your $5 dues to Bill Moore, 720 Irving Place, Plainfield, New Jersey. Make checks payable to: THE NOTRE DAME CLASS OF '45.

LETTERS FROM DEPARTMENT

From FRANK DELANEY, JR.: "Since I last wrote, Al, we have been blessed with a baby girl, Louise Anne Delaney, born last May 20th. This was the big event in our lives for the year 1956. Best wishes to you, Al, for 1957."

From JACK TERRY: "Heard some of the details of your European vacation from your brother-in-law, Art Kirchheimer. He is doing very well in Syracuse. Saw him last Sunday as a salesman at Xmas Tree Sale to Aid the Blind. You must have had a marvelous time in Europe. I flew over our Alma Mater on way to California on business recently—didn't get opportunity to stop, however. This certainly has been a marvelous year. With God's help, I certainly hope it will continue. Every best wish for a Happy and Holy New Year."

From BOB BLACKHURST: "Had a new boy this year. That makes three boys and one girl—the new member, along with the practice of medicine, makes ours a busy family. We appreciate hearing from you and hope soon to see you on campus."

From MRS. JAMES L. LAMB: "Our fourth son, Brian, was born August 13, 1956. The others are: Larry, age 6, David 4, Timmy 2 years. The law business in North Dakota keeps Jim very busy. From LOU LAUTH: "Out flutters a belated fiber for dues. Wish we had a return self-addressed envelope so we could just drop our stipend in, seal, and mail. It would catch a lot of slow Joes like me."

"I need the address of JOHN L. JOHNSON. He was a '45 NRO who went into the Marines. Came by a photo of him that I'd like to send along if he'd write me and tell me where he is now, or if you would. I sent him a letter that hit about every house in Michigan, but came back. Please advise." (Dear Lou . . . Thanks loads for your letter. That address you want is: John J. L. Johnson, 203 So. Final plans are now being made for the 10-year reunion of the Class of 1947 here on the campus June 7-8-9. The men of '47 will be housed in Morrissey Hall (convenient to the library, you know). The weekend's activities will get underway officially Friday evening with a class dinner featuring Dave Ford's favorite meatless recipes in the upstairs dining hall. For the balance of the evening the 10-year men will cluster about one of the portable rathskellers spotted around the campus by the Alumni Association.

Probably the "travelingest" member of the Class of '53 is LES HALSEMA (Lt. j.g.-Navy) who sailed with the Navy's "Operation Deepfreeze" to the Antarctica recently. Excerpts from Les' interesting and news-filled letter include the following:

"PAT COFFEY is married with two children and is still a Lt. j.g. in the navy and stationed in the Radio-TV Section of the Bureau of Naval Personnel here in Washington, D. C. He is living in Alexandria, Va. 'Yours truly' is also a Lt. j.g. and after a year at sea and two in the Pentagon, I'm soon leaving for the Antarctic and Operation Deepfreeze. I'm the Asst. Public Information Officer attached to Rear Admiral Dufek's staff and will probably be down there for about six months. This year we will land the first plane at the South Pole and will be the first Americans to ever be there. Also the first men since 1912. I was up at N.D. last June for graduation when I acted as escort, guide and aide to Adm. Burke. Was quite a thrill for me to return just three short years later as aide to the Chief of Naval Operations after being a runny nose midshipman for four long years at the land of the Golden Dome!

"Lt. j.g. TOM HASSENGER is with the Staff of Commander Air Fleet Japan in Atsugi (outside of Tokyo). This is his third and last year; Tom (and I) are still single. Lt. j.g. BILL CONROY got married some months ago to a Pensacola gal. Bill is in Naval Aviation at Sanford, Florida. JOE GORES is still at Stanford University studying for his master's degree in English. That's it for now. Hope to drop y'all a line real soon."

Received a note from JOHN ROY who recapped his activities since graduation. John entered Oberlin College in Ohio soon after our graduation and pursued a course leading to a degree in the field of Fine Arts. In 1954 he was called in Service and has spent most of his time at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, working with rehabilitation problems of military prisoners. John will be released very soon from the Army and plans to enter Michigan State with a graduate assistantship in the Graduate School of Administrative and Educational Services.

his wife (the former Marty Becker of St. Mary of the Woods) and daughter, Lynn, in LaJolla. Jack expects to remain in the San Diego area upon release and plans to work for Convair.

Serving in Okinawa on the staff of the Judge Advocate is LOU BASSO. Lou married the former Judith Anderson.

A letter from DICK WAGNER says in part: "After graduation from N.D. I entered the University of Buffalo Law School where I was Associate Editor of the Law Review. I passed my Bar exams and was admitted to the New York State Bar. As for my service hitch, I hope to resume the practice of Law in the Buffalo area. JERRY McCABE was married last spring and is a representative for the Endres Trucking Company in Rochester, New York. JACK ENDERS is in the insurance business in Buffalo and plans to be married in May (as for myself, I'm still very single.)"

DON CARBONE writes from Battle Creek, Michigan, that he is a "Management Intern" with the Federal Civil Defense Administration whose national headquarters are in Battle Creek's Percy Jones Army Hospital. Don says that his graduate work is completed except for his dissertation. When this is done, he'll have his M.A. Don mentions that BILL SANTORO received his M.A. in English at Columbia and is now at the Univ. of Ottawa Med. school. Also that BUCK HENNIGAN is at N.D. working for his master's degree in American Studies.

Whether it be those four years on the Scholastic at N.D. or just a God-given ability—Don is a real Newshawk. He has NEVER FAILED to drop us a note in time for each column and believe me—they're really appreciated. Keep 'em coming, Don.

BILL MacMILLAN writes that since graduation from N.D. he has been practicing law with the Dayton, Ohio, firm of Murphy and Mayl. In the Spring of 1955 he and another young attorney opened an evening office in Trotwood, Ohio, which is a suburb of Dayton. The two offices have kept both very busy. Bill was married to Miss Lois Leistschneider on October 13, 1956, and are presently living at 917 Richmond Avenue, Apt. 3, Dayton, Ohio. Incidentally, the name of Bill's firm is "Jones and MacMillan."

"MIKE TUCCI has been discharged from the Army. He served as a clinical psychologist in an Army prison at Lompoc, California. I saw him practically every weekend and he became quite the terror of the Hollywood starlet set. He has now returned to Michigan State to resume his graduate studies. In attendance at the N.D. rally prior to the Southern California game were DENNIS MORAN and JACK (BEAR) SULIK. Both are attending the University of Arizona Graduate School. DICK MOLOKIE, JACK DeCOURSEY and PAT SALAMIDA (all employed in the L.A. Area) and TOM JACKSON and PAT ROSS (both still under the exclusive management of the U. S. Navy) were also present at the Rally.

"Saw ED BUCZKIEWICZ and GEORGE PALUCK last month. They were in town for the annual Bankers Convention. Both looked very well and blended in nicely with the financial set. tioned at Lojes Field, Azores, and expects his wife and two children to join him. Joe is with the base legal office. I see him every trip and we have coffee and a talkfest. FRANK GERLITZ and his wife have two children and he is in his second year of Law in Chicago.

JERRY O'CONNOR (Lt. j.g. USNR) is resident officer in charge of construction at Alice-Orange Grove airfield near Corpus Christi, Texas.

JOHN STOELLER writes that he ran into DICK WOLFGRAM who will receive his MBA from Northwestern University this coming June. John's wife, Mary Ann, received her BA from Marymount in Los Angeles this past June but, John writes, "I am still a scholar. After receiving my MBA from UCLA, I accepted the position of Associate Coordinator of Lockheed Missile Systems Division's Advanced Study Program. I have recently had a promotion and am now Department Administrator for the Nuclear Physics and Engineering Department of the Research Branch. We are working on a contract for an auxiliary power unit for the satellite program currently and I find my new duties both interesting and challenging. As I said, I am still a scholar working toward a Ph.D. in Bus. Ad. at Stanford on a part-time basis. I have passed by first language requirement in French and am currently working on Russian for the second language requirement."

The letters we receive are really appreciated. This is the only way we can find out and pass on what you're doing and news of other "53'ers" you've seen. Keep the news coming—by letter or postcard.

With time and news being at a record minimum since the last issue of the ALUMNUS went to press, I find myself confronted, nevertheless, with another deadline. The timing which contributed to this plight might be a fiendish scheme on the part of our good editors to save some typesetting fees! We could easily turn the tables on them the next issue if you pass on your current activities to yours truly, the "Typesetters Friend"—keep me informed!!!

Received the following en toto from BOB GORMAN:

"I noted your appeal for more information on our class members in the most recent issue of alumni news so will send on the following:

"TOM CALDER, PAUL (MOOSE) KRAUSE, BOB MIHLBAUGH, GENE KUBICKI, and I are the '54 crew who will be gaining LLB degrees from the Notre Dame Law School this June. Right now nothing will ever look better to us than that little white scrap of manuscript.

"As you can see from the masthead, Tom and Paul and I are the associate editor, lead articles editor (as of the new semester), and editor-in-chief respectively of the "Notre Dame Lawyer." Tom has been running away from the rest of us recently for academic leadership of the class. Over and above his other laurels, he has just been appointed law clerk to Judge Potter Stewart of the United States Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, Cincinnati, Ohio. Not satisfied with acquiring a new job, he insists on acquiring a wife as well—the lucky lady is Miss Patricia Coffey of Worcester, Massachusetts, and the wedding is scheduled for July.

"I've been doubly fortunate, too. On June 8 I will marry Miss Genevieve Somers of South Orange, New Jersey (which proves that trips to the "Woods" do pay off after all), and a few weeks ago I received an appointment as law clerk to Mr. Justice Tom C. Clark of the United States Supreme Court, Washington, D. C.

"I've spent the past two summers in New Jersey (for reasons that should be obvious), and Gen and I have seen JOE IMBRIACO and Ann Joan Condorc. Joe graduates from Harvard Law School this June, goes to work with an excellent Wall Street law firm, and steps to the altar with Ann Joan in July.

"Last month I made the acquaintance of a young Irish lass who is cute as her name, Miss Mary Margaret Harrington, born January, 1937, first daughter of JIM HARRINGTON and wife Sally. Jim works with Standard Oil of New Jersey, and is continuing his pole-vaulting in what spare time he can find for it. In the recent New York indoor track season he was soaring over 14 feet again—shades of old college days!

"At last report, TOM GODFREY, who also graduates from Harvard Law School in June, is going to work with a law firm in the great Wild West, Denver, Colorado. Tom is enthusiastic about

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

C. CRAIG WHITAKER, '49

The new vice-president in charge of industrial sales at Whitaker Cable Corporation, North Kansas City, Missouri, is C. Craig Whitaker, a graduate of Notre Dame's 1949 class. Although he enrolled at the University in the summer of 1942, Craig was soon called into military service following a brief few months of studies on campus.

During World War II, he served the United States Air Force with distinction as a P-51 fighter pilot. Following an honorable discharge, Craig returned to Notre Dame and entered the College of Engineering. He was graduated with a degree in mechanical engineering in January, 1949. Craig and his wife were two of the first 'settlers' in Vetville, the University's special housing area for married students.

In the work he does for Whitaker Cable Corporation, Craig is associated with Original Equipment Manufacturers in supplying wiring harnesses made for electrical systems in the automotive and appliance fields.

He has been active in the Notre Dame Club of Kansas City and is chairman of the scholarship committee.

Craig and his wife are the parents of five children: Connie, Craig, Jan, Ted and Brian. His brother, Jack F. is a member of the 1936 class having graduated as an electrical engineer and his father serves on Notre Dame's Advisory Council for the College of Commerce.

the possibilities of life and law in Denver, and with just reason.

"JOE BERTRAND presently is serving Uncle Sam at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, and tells us that he has been assigned to "special services" in the basketball division.

"MIKE LONG is swinging into the last leg of his military career as a Marine jet pilot, presently stationed in a God-forsaken area of Texas.

"DAVE NOLAN, the indomitable one, is now just about the trimmest and slimmest member of the United States Army that you ever want to see. It's TRUE, by golly, for I saw Dave during this past Christmas vacation, and he really looks like the Army agrees with him. Right now he is stationed just outside Washington, D. C.

"More news in three more years, George!

"Sincerely, Bob."

MILT BEAUDINE reports in from 2271 N. Church St., Decatur, Illinois. He has been engaged in organizing a local alumni club there, continuing his notable basketball career and devoting some time to the Navy Reserve outfit in the area. He reports that on his first reserve training cruise all he did was "eat, sleep and play cards." Doesn't look like reserve duty for Milt is too easily distinguishable from his active duty as I saw it for him. Milt saw JOHN KEENAN recently in San Diego where John is stationed after "going regular" with the Corps. He also reports that FRANK WISNESKI enjoys flying Air Force jets out of Columbus, Ohio.

A recent official looking announcement proclaims—Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel Moynahan have the honor of announcing the marriage of their daughter Mary Alana to Mr. JOHN LEO ROSSHIRT on Saturday, the ninth of February, 1957, Saint Francis Xavier Church, La Grange, Illinois.

A recent Alumni Club meeting here in Dayton furnished me with some first hand information on some '54's right here in my own back yard. CLAIR TRINKLEY is at Wright-Patterson AFB as a civilian attorney in their contracts department. He can be found at 142 Skyway Lodge, Fairborn, Ohio. BOB STANTON enjoys the same city at 316 Lovington Drive, Apt. C. Bob is doing art work at the base, as another envied civilian. A little printed matter I received concerning others in this area reads as follows: "GENE HENRY, '54, and his wife, Alice, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, named Rebecca Ellen, born at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Hospital on December 28, 1956.

"Gene is currently assigned as a project engineer at the Base and is due to be discharged from active duty in June. Following his discharge he will either go back to school or into industry.

"TED BYRNE, '54, and his bride, the former Mildred Stevens of South Bend, are also living here in Dayton. Ted is a 1/Lt. in the Air Force and is due to be discharged in June."

BILL HOWLEY is an engineer with the Dayton Power and Light Co. He lives a few miles north of Dayton on 327 Vista Avenue in Vandalia, Ohio.

PAUL V. MARRONE received a master of science degree in aeronautical engineering from Princeton University recently.

ALEX PETRILLO is secretary-treasurer of the Notre Dame Club of Delaware and his address is 5 Edgemore Road, Wilmington.

THOMAS J. GODFREY, JR., has been awarded a scholarship to the Harvard Law School.

Well, gentlemen, it looks like the news is few and far between this time since I haven't heard from too many of you since the last column. I'm afraid that I'll have to be guilty of what the journalism majors call "padding." Why don't all of you make a resolution to send me a postcard as soon as you finish reading this column. Just a few words will do so that I have something to report the next time. Remember, the whole thing depends on you. Let's not dwindle this soon after graduation.

DICK CALLAHAN writes that he is Personnel Officer at the U. S. Naval Ordnance Missile Test Facility, White Sands, N. M. He was formally aboard the U.S.S. Union with San Diego as home port. Dick reports that TOM HARTZELL is in his second year at Buffalo University Law School. DAN WILSON is working for the Wilson Dairy Co. in Atlantic City, N. J. He married the former Miss Helen Bryan of Ventnor, N. J. They now have one young Wilson and another on the way. Drop me a line, Dan, and let me in on the news

Anthony S. Kuharich, chief U. S. probation officer of Northern Indiana, was recently given the Hammond Junior Chamber of Commerce 1957 "Good Government Award." This was in recognition "of outstanding meritorious service in the field of social rehabilitation." He graduated from Notre Dame in 1935 with an AB degree and also received a masters in '41.

when it happens. Please include poundage and all other vital statistics. JOE SAUNDERS, the old student senator, is now a PFC at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Joe is a sports writer for the post newspaper. Kansas City isn't too far away. Joe, so why not drop up and pay me a visit? FRANK OLAZABAL is attending second year of medical school at Johns Hopkins University. Our oriental ambassador is now the noted DICK NORTON, who is doing his best to maintain friendly relations in Japan. The Army refers to him as "the hostess with the mostest." PAUL "FUZZY" FAZZONE is now in Pensacola with the Navy and is awaiting further orders. Paul is also one of the elite to have made Lt. j.g. recently. HUGH SCHAEFFER is now working in Tulsa and if I hear from him in the near future, I'll be able to report the name of the company that presents him with his pay check. JACK GIBBONS recently received an "outstanding" citation from the War Department, plus a $200 bonus check, for his work as a research physicist. Congratulations, Frank.

I received a very interesting letter from JIM STEVENS who is stationed with the Army in Germany. Jim has been overseas since October and only has 11 more months to serve. He enclosed a running account of his adventures in Deutschland and I must admit that the whole deal sounds like an extended vacation. Jim is now the proud owner of a Volkswagen automobile and has gone on a diet involuntarily. Those cars weren't made for your long legs, Jim. He also mentions that any news that reaches them is usually three or four weeks old. Very few of the top tunes find their way to Germany. Is it possible that Herr Elvis hasn't gyrated the continent yet? Jim sends the news to follow and indicates that his address is PFC. J. B. Stevens, US 55 555 865, Hq 8th Inf Div-AG Sect., APO 111, New York, N. Y. BOB McGRATH is stationed with the Air Force at Wright Patterson field in Ohio. NEIL MASON is an office manager of a local automobile dealership in the Detroit area. He and his wife, Mary Jane, are the proud parents of a baby girl. JIM KORTE is also spending some time in Germany and is working for the AG section of USAREUR in Heidelberg. (Don't ask me what the initials stand for.) Jim can be reached by writing to him as US 55 555 252, AG Div, USAREUR Hq's, APO 403, New York, N. Y. DON DIXON is rumored to be in Germany also but he hasn't been heard from lately. DICK CONDIT is attending the University of Detroit Law School and plans to marry

Miss Martha Ecklin in August. Congratulations, Dick. BOB McCARREN is working for an accounting firm in Detroit. TOM SCHRITMUELLER is working for the General Motors Corp. and has served in the Army under the six-month plan.

Fresh from 16 months in Korea with the 969th Field Artillery Battalion, JIM BROUGHTON brought me up to date on his activities and those of other classmates. He mentions that he found his artillery duty very interesting but has been struck with the sobering thought that it costs the army more to shoot three rounds of ammunition than it does to employ his services for one month. If you had a pointed head and were filled with powder, Jim, you might be worth much more. He mentions that the "Notre Dame Club of Korea" is an ever growing organization. DON McKENZIE is still with the Military Armistice Commission. For a price, Don will give you a guided tour of the truce-talk area. TOM QUINN is Public Information officer with the 7th Division in Korea. DICK HUETHER is the Information and Education Officer with the 32nd Infantry Regiment. This is over Korea way also. Seen in the Seoul Snack Bar was DAVE COHEN who is in charge of Troop Information and Education with the 181st Signal Company. What is it with all of this information and education? Could it be that intelligence is becoming important in the Armed Forces? MIKE MOYER is doing cloak and dagger work with the CID in Tokyo. I'll bet that they even let him wear a trench coat.

PAUL MANSFIELD is now at Monterey, California, and will be there until July 1st. He enlisted in the Army in September of 1956 and took basic training at Fort Dix. He is presently at the Army Language School, Presidio of Monterey. I received a card from ED PREIN the other day and he brought me up to date on his activities. Ed took a teaching fellowship at Michigan State University and completed his M.S. in Structural Engineering in June of '56. Since then he has been working for an architect in Grand Rapids. He has also been teaching evenings at the M.S.U. Extension there. WAYNE KENT and his partner were recent winners of the 7th annual Moot Court Competition of the Notre Dame Law School. Congratulations, Wayne! I received a Coca-Cola soaked dispatch from Jacques Bar and Restaurant in Chicago. The signature at the bottom was none other than the renowned gourmet, EMMET ROOT. Emmet is still at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois, and seems to be recovering sufficiently from his pressing duties there. He mentions that he passed through Kansas City about 2:00 a.m. the morning of January 1st but didn't think that I would be in the moon for a phone call. For shame, Emmet, I was just watching the late-late show and would have been very pleased to chat with you. Why should that morning be different from any others? Be sure to call the next time. After losing track of BOB KUNZE for quite some time, I received a very welcome letter from him the other day. Bob finished school at Fort Monmouth in December and is now at Woodbridge, Virginia. His complete address is PFC Robert Kunze US-51373115 D/A Transmitting Station, Det. 1 9423d TSU ACACA, Woodbridge, Virginia. Bob will be at his present duty station until sometime in April and should then receive orders for South America. He became engaged to Miss Rita Senger last October but he's not quite sure of a definite date for the wedding. Congratulations, Bob, and be sure to keep me posted on all of the particulars. DICK NORTON is at Fort Monmouth with Signal Corps Intelligence. EMMET CASSIDY was also at Monmouth but has now moved to Aberdeen, Maryland, for further training. GEORGE ROONEY was married on February 16th to the former Miss Carolyn Wagner. Congratulations and best wishes to them both. DON DUFFY, BUTCH WALLACE and DON ROBINSON were planning to attend the wedding so I imagine that George got quite a send off. The shoe will be on the other foot in June as Don Robinson himself will marry Miss Leonore Salkind of New Jersey.

DAVE METZ was again punctual as ever with his letters and he is certainly one among many who has been a consistent correspondent. Dave is aboard the U.S.S. Hornet (CVA-12), which has been operating in the Far East. His letter was quite entertaining as he related his shore liberty experiences in Japan. I didn't realize that those Japanese libraries were as complete as you say they are, Dave. Did you enjoy your sightseeing tours of those oriental shrines? Dave's biggest news item is one entirely personal. He is engaged to Miss Sandra Quinn from St. Paul, Minn., and they plan to be married in September. Congratulations, Dave, and I'm sure it was those interesting sea stories that finally won her over. I hope that you didn't tell her that you own the Hornet. What a salesman! Dave mentions that he ran into JACK PINTER and BILL KREPPS in the officers' club in Yokosuka but didn't get a chance to talk with them at length. If he had, I'm sure that he would have discovered that the collateral duty thing in the Navy is pretty much "standard operating procedure." Dave is a Division Officer, Insurance Officer, Welfare Officer, Recreation Officer, Training Officer, and has charge of Voting Officer Bills. In his spare time he manages to pursue his primary duty of assistant air intelligence officer on an admiral's staff. The remaining twenty hours every day are spent on rest and relaxation. Write soon again, Dave, and keep me posted on your Naval capers.

I'm just about down to the bottom of the mail bag but I don't want to overlook a very newsy letter from JOHN RYAN. John is in Med school at Loyola University in Chicago and says that final exams are approaching. His most important final will take place next December 28th when he and Miss Renee Jelinek will be married in Oak Park. They have been engaged since Christmas. Mucho congratulations and best wishes to them both. The news to follow is from John's letter. TOM HAYES and the former Miss Carole Lindsay were married in Oak Park on February 2nd. Seen sampling the champagne and goodies were the following: CHARLEY CADWELL and RICH McDONALD who are both attending Georgetown Law School; BILL REALE who is working in Mansfield, Ohio, with the Tappan Stove Co.; and DANNY MOORE whose activities are unknown at this time. Drop me a line, Dan, and bring me up to date. Rumor has it that JERRY BRANSFIELD plans to attend law school when he is released from the Navy in June. FRED WHITFIELD is stationed in Washington, D. C., with the Navy. DAVE DISCHER is married and attending Medical school at the University of Illinois. ERNIE MAHER is attending Medical school at Georgetown University. JOHN CONNAUGHTON is in the Marines but his whereabouts are unknown. John Ryan's letter also contains a request to hear from people like JOHN JAHODA, BILL OTOOLE, TOM DORWIN, TOM HARTZELL, etc. I second the motion, John, and I might add that the etc. above includes every member of the class of '55 who has never written. TIM SHEA is still at Northwestern Law School but I haven't heard from him in some time. JIM WELTZIEN was married last fall to the former Miss Mary Ann Spencer. The marriage took place in Crystal Lake, Ill. Jim is in the Navy serving at Glenview Naval Air Station. DON SANTASCHI, JERE FREIDHEIM, DON GALLAGHER, AMEEL RASCHID, WARREN GIDDENS, and BILL WAHL are all attending Med school at Loyola. Ameel was recently elected House Manager at Phi Chi Fraternity and would like to take this opportunity to welcome any travelers to drop by anytime, whether he be seeking a sack, companionship, food or whatever. Also, because of the crisis in the Middle East, he would welcome contributions to the drinking fund for polydipsic Arab camels. Address: (for sake of travelers) 716 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill. Phone SE 3-9701. (The above is quoted verbatim from a recent broadcast of Radio Free Europe.) Thanks to John Ryan for his letter and he asks that I pass on his new address. It is as follows: 1127 Fair Oaks, Oak Park, Ill.

HUGO HARDT was working in New York after graduation until he entered Officers' Candidate School at New Port last November. He has had training at Jacksonville, Norfolk, and is now at Oceana, Virginia. His address is Ens. Hugo Hardt, VF82, Naval Air Station, Oceana, Virginia Beach, Va.

CHARLES J. GULDE is the engineering officer on board the U.S.S. Spangler. The ship, a destroyer escort, is based in San Diego.

JACK GIBBONS received an outstanding citation from the War Department and a bonus check for his work as a research physicist.

Lt. JOHN J. CONNAUGHTON is currently stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Well, honorable gentlemen, that just about does it for this time. The next column should be much longer, shouldn't it? Well, take pen in hand and . . . for the sake of self preservation, I won't risk repetition again. Just remember the words that a wandering gypsy once whispered into my ear, "People who live in gall bladders shouldn't throw stones." . . . Peace!

No. 2 Dromara Road
Ladue 24, Missouri

(Editor's Note: AL VITT is now attending Officers Candidate School in Newport, R. I., and will be graduated in June. According to information received from his father, Al plans to be married in July to Miss Janet Weber.)

BILL WARREN was married on February 8 to Miss Judith Ann Johnston of Gladstone, Mich. The ceremony took place in Mary, Star of the Sea Catholic Church at LaJolla, Calif. Bill is now an ensign in the U. S. Navy. Bill's latest address was Company "N," Naval Supply Corps, Athens, Georgia. His wife Judith has been teaching in the LaJolla school system.

From DAVE AUSTGEN:

Living out in the Los Angeles region and working for Northrop Aircraft are: JOHN NUTANT, MARTY KENAHAN, AL SZEWCZYK and myself. Al is planning to enter N.D.'s graduate school next fall and get his master's in mechanical engineering. In all probability, I will enter flight training this spring at Lackland AFB. John and Marty are both working on their master's degrees at Southern Cal. AL BUSTAMANT is living in Santa Monica and working for Douglas Aircraft. WALT GILL is also out here, working for Hughes Aircraft. DICK PRATHER visited us out here while he was working on the flight test program for the Crusader. He is employed by Chance Vought Aircraft in Dallas. SCOTTY LEWIS is enjoying Navy Flight Training in Florida and said he was to be married on February 23. DON CARLIN is attending law school at the University of Michigan. JOHN CLIFFORD is studying for a master's degree at Iowa State and TOM BOTT is also attending Iowa State. PETE CANNON and PAT POYNTON are both at Notre Dame taking graduate work in aeronautical engineering. JIM HESBURGH and AL PESTRICHELLA are in the Air Force and stationed at Scott Base, Rantoul, Ill. JACK FITZSIMONS is in the Army and the last I heard of him he was stationed on the West Coast in Washington. He planned to go overseas soon. My present address is 125 13th Street, Manhattan Beach, Calif.

JOHN CUPPER was married on November 26 and is now stationed at Bainbridge, Md. He planned to attend a Navy school beginning in the latter part of March.

From JIM "SPIKE" DALY: I saw BILL WEIMAN and JOHN FANNON recently—they are both second lieutenants and playing basketball for the Quantico Marines team. I am a second lieutenant here at Ft. Monmouth and am kept busy as a mess officer, Army emergency relief officer and division property officer. I'm also coaching the base track team. I was married last September. My address is 6 McKee Street, Floral Park, N. Y.

LELAND A. CROGHAN, of Deadwood, South Dakota, played a featured role in George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," staged this month by the Yale School of Drama. He is a first-year student at the Drama School.

T. E. KENNEL is a new member of the Development Department of the Carbide and Carbon plant, South Charleston, W. Va.

From BOB DUNEGAN:

Just a quickie from southern Indiana. Since I can fill in a few items, I've decided that it's time to report.

Until recently there was quite an outpost here in Columbus, Ind., all gainfully employed by Cummins Engine Company making diesel engines. At this time, however, the military has taken its toll.

TOM and LETTIE WAGEMAN left us last fall when Tom entered the military. JOHN CURRY, who was married in October, is now in basic training in Colorado. MIKE HOGAN, who at last report still remained a bachelor, entered the Army shortly after Christmas, while PAT SNYDER barely paid his respects before being whisked off to the Marines.

That leaves but me—from 8 to 5 an Application Engineer, thoroughly enjoying it, but fondly remembering the good old days of khaki wash pants, The Sack, and Tommy Dee the Dinner Winner. I may follow the gang to Newport soon.

But a bit more—TOM SWOPE is really pushing in Penn Law School. JOHN STETTLE is, he claims, loafing at M.I.T. Then there was the reunion that attended Ens. BILL BRENNAN's marriage to Barb Schettig over the holidays including BOB MULDOON, WALT McNAMARA, and WALT PEENEY. Needless to say, a good time was had by all. Barb and Bill are living in Athens, Georgia, (isn't everybody?) where Bill is attending Supply School.

Safaried north for Homecoming where the first face I encountered was JOHN ADAMS, still wearing that everpresent top-coat with the raglan sleeves, and still proclaiming the merit of the artwork in last year's "Scholastic." John is, I believe, with General Electric. (If he is not, this may produce some literary retaliation.)

The address of ENS. JOHN W. CORBETT, USNR, is Navy 3002, Box No. 7, c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

EUGENE MARTELL will join the University of Toledo football staff as assistant line coach in September, 1957. Currently Gene is directing Toledo's intramural program and teaching at Toledo Whitmer High School fulfilling requirements for a master's degree.

During his undergraduate days in journalism, he was class vice-president, a member of the Student Council and was elected into Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

He was in public information with the Navy's Submarine Force, Pacific Fleet, for two years. Verne and his wife, the former Lois Phillips, live at 445 W. Wellington Ave., Chicago.

Co-incidental with his appointment is Greyhound's return to network TV. The bus company will sponsor one-third of NBC-TV's Steve Allen Show starting April 7. Greyhound is the nation's largest inter-city carrier of passengers and top transportation advertiser.

The University of Notre Dame

Alumni Association

Cleveland, O.
May 15, 1957

Fellow Alumni:

If a first-time visitor to Notre Dame stays around long enough to get the feel of the place, one of the big things that strikes him is that the University has no tails wagging the dog.

Everything that's good and reasonable has a place in the University's program, but students, faculty and administration try to subordinate everything to one clear-cut goal—graduation classes filled with young men well on their way toward becoming fully developed human beings. The spiritual comes first; under that, everything else—academic, social, cultural and athletic—has its place and perspective.

There's a football stadium, for example, but there's also a Grotto and a Natural Law Institute and—beside the stadium—playing fields for the scores of intramural gridders who get the benefit of competitive football without the benefit of headlines.

The idea is that a man—or a University—can't overdevelop one phase of his personality without injuring others. To put a name on it, the quality Notre Dame stresses is balance.

Balance not only in the University's attitude toward studies and recreation, but also in the students' attitudes toward each other. As most alumni know well, students at ND don't care much how important you are at home or how much money your father has in the bank. Nor, for that matter, are they overly concerned with your talent or physical strength. Those things are good, and nobody begrudges them. But, for the moment, you're a Notre Dame student just like everybody else, and you get treated pretty much the same as everybody else. You're judged and accepted on your personality and accomplishments here and now.

One result of this is that the student begins early to learn maturity in judgment and self-confidence in his dealings with other people. To take, in other words, a balanced view of life.

One aim of the Alumni Association is to cultivate continuation of this balance both in its own program and in the graduate's personal life. The Association tries to recognize and promote its members' business and professional progress, cultural and social life, physical interest and spiritual life, so they'll remain and grow as "whole men."

Our emphasis will shift from time to time—from reunions to retreats to club parties to football tickets to reading lists to Communion breakfasts to job-placement problems. But no legitimate interest will be excluded, and none will be unreasonably promoted. The idea is to keep them all rolling at once and on an even keel. In a word, balance.

Sincerely,

"Pat" Canny
