UNIVERSAL NOTRE DAME NIGHT, 1959

(Right) PHILADELPHIA—John Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C., '11, Archbishop of Philadelphia, received the annual Man-of-the-Year award of the Notre Dame Club of Philadelphia at this year's Universal Notre Dame Night in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of the University, was principal speaker.

(Below) CHICAGO—Here is a portion of the 700 Notre Dame alumni and friends gathered at the massive U.N.D. Night ceremonies in Chicago's Sheraton Hotel. Laetare Medalist Robert D. Murphy and Father Hesburgh were among the distinguished guests. For a complete Universal Notre Dame Night report see the Notre Dame Club section.

Editorial Comments from your Alumni Secretary

Flexibility!

In an era of organization, plan, conformity, and structure, I find myself face to face with good Club presidents, Class secretaries, event chairmen, Foundation contributors, or general correspondents, who feel politely or more firmly that our Alumni Association policy is not possessed of the familiar charts and instructions to which their corporate, civic or parochial life is accustomed.

James E. Armstrong

Even your Alumni Board, with total three-year turnover, tends to a little justifiable exasperation, as does the University administration and faculty, that our programs and our response in our alumni world seem to fluctuate, or to lack the predictability of actuarial tables or All-American teams.

I have suspected, even without outside suggestion, that 33 years might produce resistance to change; that old age might produce a weariness with routine; that the bright light of inspiration might be a kerosene holdover. So I have been unusually objective in my analysis of our flexibility. Because we are flexible!

I still find it not only good but essential.

Basic argument for avoiding rigid structure is the fact that we work almost with a completely voluntary organization in our Club and Class programs. And without economic incentive, reward, or sanction, results — no matter how carefully planned — essentially fluctuate. We have kept our patterns flexible so that they will shape with the fluctuation, not crack.

For almost ten important years — 1929 to 1939 — our organization expansion was handicapped by an independent Association budget based on dues that did not permit either staff or mechanics to do more than move with the amazing but varying tides of volunteer activities.

The next ten years — 1940 to 1950 — were largely occupied with the unprecedented adaptation of our programs to years of war, and years of post-war adjustment, that taxed every resource to keep within even our flexible pattern.

During the post-World War II years we suddenly found our Alumni Association growing, through record graduating Classes, by percentages that doubled membership in a decade.

One young Class in this new era created a mailing problem almost as substantial as the total Reunion mailing problems of a decade earlier.

Reunion attendance, once almost lost in the Commencement week end, now brings a thousand alumni back to the campus on a totally different week-end pattern.

Two magazines for alumni suddenly emerged from the Foundation and Alumni programs of 1948, to join a growing volume of correspondence.

Clubs, some of them literally wiped out by World War II and its drain of young men, resumed and mushroomed in new areas after the War. (From 97 in 1948 to 170.)

In addition to this great physical growth we have encountered a brand new set of circumstances — men are more serious in their organizational approach, and the competition for time has jeopardized many older fraternal customs. "Lodge night" has gone out the window, and a meeting now must have more purpose.

Even more significant in our study of the desirability of flexibility is the study of today's college student — the alumnus of tomorrow. The survey says he is serious about his identity and his life. He is not attracted to organization. He is not moved by tradition. He fears conformity. He wants only limited success, not the top stop in his business or profession.

When you consider, as I hope you will, the number of times we would have had to take our structure completely apart had it been rigid; how unable we are to say now what will be our most effective blueprint for a decade ahead; how even the gospels that experience has written for Club and Class are subject to the varying talents and zeals of officers — I hope you will recognize that over the years the Alumni Office has not ignored practical progress, but has definitely hesitated to trade an effective pliability for a speculative rigor mortis.

Three at N.D. Celebrate 50 Years in Priesthood

In the nature of the priesthood and the Congregation of Holy Cross, it is difficult to evaluate one member over another. You are not supposed to.

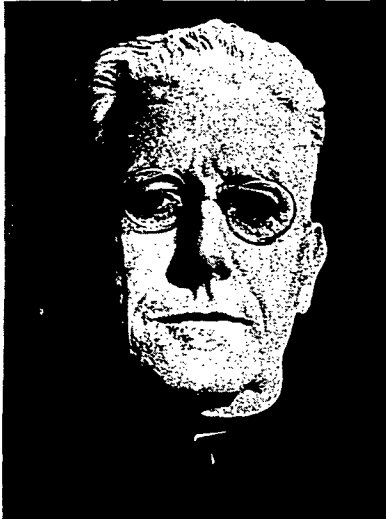

But occasionally time and personality, office or genius, will demand some special notice. This is one of those occasions. From the Province Review:

"On June 26, 1909, in Sacred Heart Church at Notre Dame, the Most Rev. Herman Alerding, then Bishop of Fort Wayne, ordained one of the — up to that time — largest number of Holy Cross priests to be ordained in this province. There were nine of them. Six of those priests have already died. They were Fathers Joseph Burke, George McNamara, Ernest Davis, John Ryan, John Delaunay and Albert Blin. The three who survive are Fathers Thomas Irving, Eugene Burke, and Cornelius Hagerty."

In that one paragraph is so much of the history of Notre Dame during the last fifty years, so much of the obvious answer to Notre Dame's success — dedication, personality, competence, leadership, and the complete example of the rich relationships that develop daily where religion and education, as Cardinal Newman enjoins, are "found in one and the same place and exemplified in the same persons."

Of the three jubilarians remaining, they are an editorial problem. First of all, they can tell far more about Notre Dame alumni than the ALUMNUS can tell about them. Secondly, their multiple virtues and talents defy our space limitations. And thirdly, a book will be written about each of them, which should not be delayed by any effort at proper description in these limited pages. Nevertheless, just the occasion (and the fact that many alumni are younger) calls for a hopelessly inadequate but suggestive sketch of three of the great men of Notre Dame.

FATHER BURKE

Father THOMAS P. IRVING was born in Wisconsin, one of eleven children. He was graduated from Notre Dame in 1904 and received his doctorate in physics from Catholic University. He joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1909 and was later appointed superior of the Holy Cross Seminary. Teaching, a term as director of studies, and two terms as superior of Moreau Seminary, filled Father Irving's earlier years. He served also as assistant Superior General under Father James W. Donahue, and later headed the department of religion at Notre Dame. He has acted as student counselor and a member of the Provincial Council.

In all of this you must see one common factor that spotlights the great talent Father Irving has devoted to his work — the counseling of young men. When Brother Andre, the miracle worker of Montreal, told him in 1920 that St. Joseph would cure him of incipient tuberculosis, it was not only indicative of how close God and St. Joseph were to Brother Andre, but how generous they have been to Notre Dame.

Father EUGENE P. BURKE, one of six children, is a native of Chicago. He fell under the spell of the late Father John W. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., and he and his brother, now Father Tom Burke, became two of the great contributions Father Cavanaugh made to the Congregation and the University. Father Gene was graduated from Notre Dame in 1906 and studied Holy Scripture at Catholic U. where he received his doctorate and taught at Holy Cross College there. He returned to the Notre Dame faculty in 1914. In 1919 he went to Columbia (now the U. of Portland) as president. He returned to Notre Dame in 1928 where he became assistant provincial and aided and then succeeded Father Daniel Hudson as editor of the Ave Maria. In 1933 he joined the Notre Dame faculty as head of the English department and later the Department of Religion. He directed campus radio, arranged programs in Washington Hall, preached inspiring sermons and all those other varied and vital things that never seem to begin to give you the picture of a great, a good, an inspiring, and a most pleasant priest.

Father CORNELIUS J. HAGERTY is one of the natives of South Bend, a veteran of St. Patrick's parish and the

1959 FOOTBALL TICKET INFO FOR ALUMNI

By

ROBERT CAHILL, '34

Athletic Ticket Manager

As we round out our twenty-fifth year in the Athletic Department, and begin our nineteenth season as Ticket Manager, we sympathize with you fellow alumni. You must tire of reading our annual rubrics, just as we vainly seek a fresh approach to the same old stuff. We're buoyed up each year though, in a negative sort of way, when we again become aware (as the season progresses) that many of you don't read this anyway. Thus heartened by the fact that we apparently annoy only a segment of you each year, we give you once again the framework of alumni ticket distribution policy and methods. Who knows — maybe everybody will read it this year!

1. Contributors to the Sixteenth Annual Alumni Fund in 1958, religious and honorary degree holders, plus the June Class of 1959, are eligible for Advance Sale order forms for the 1959 football season. PLEASE NOTE that a contribution SINCE January 1, 1959 assures ticket preference for 1960, but NOT for this current year of '59.

2. Alumni Advance Sale opens June 20, closes July 15.

3. Advance Sale order forms are clearly identified as such by the words "ALUMNI ADVANCE SALE" in bold type along the left edge of the form. These should be in the hands of eligible alumni prior to June 20. If you have not received them by then and you are CERTAIN you qualify under Point 1 above, notify the Ticket Manager at once. All Alumni order forms are addressed by the Alumni Office, but prepared and mailed by the Ticket Office. We shall gladly correct an error promptly upon notification. However, once a game is sold out, correction can become a knotty problem, regardless of where or how the error occurred. Don't delay if you think you've been improperly passed over (most of you don't — I assure you).

4. Advance Sale forms are limited to two tickets per game, are not transferable, will be honored until July 15 or until the ticket supply is exhausted.

Seats are allotted in accordance with date received. Orders arriving BEFORE opening day (June 20) are integrated at random with opening day orders. Then all applications are thoroughly shuffled at the close of June 20 business, DRAWN BY LOT AND ASSIGNED A SEQUENCE NUMBER to establish the order of seat assignment for the first day's sale. Thus, since three or four thousand orders for each of the more popular games will arrive for processing on June 20 (covering six or eight thousand tickets) it is obvious that a first-day order for any such game could be on the fifty or beyond the goal line. DEPENDING ON THE LUCK OF THE DRAW. After Monogram and Season tickets are withdrawn, THERE ARE ONLY ABOUT 4,000 TICKETS BETWEEN THE GOAL AND THE FIFTY IN THE ALUMNI SECTION (see diagram).

5. General Use applications for most games will be sent to ALL alumni the latter part of July. It is probable there will not be a General Use sale for the Michigan State game, and possible that California may also be claimed by Advance Sale. At this writing (April) these appear to be the only two that may be gone by July 15. General Use forms are transferable and usually valid for more than two tickets. They may be used by the contributing alumnus to order additional tickets; and are a source of tickets for the non-contributor slightly in advance of public sale. They do not carry any locational preference, for all such orders are filled AFTER Advance Sale purchases.

6. Public sale opens annually on August 1. The Ticket Committee will gladly send public order forms to anyone as long as tickets are available. We urge alumni to take advantage of this method for friends or business connections. Instruct us to send them order forms directly, or ask us to send you a supply for distribution. This procedure often gets alumnus off the hook gracefully by letting our own mailing pieces explain to the general public applicant why his seats must be behind the goal line.

7. An Alumni Club planning on a bloc of tickets must file a request with the Ticket Manager BY JUNE 20. Accommodation of Club requests is entirely contingent upon the total Advance sales which close July 15. No definite decisions regarding bloc requests can be reached until that time, but a tentative reservation will be made; then, in the event of shortage, a Club will always be given preference over non-alumni groups. As to GROUP SEAT LOCATIONS, PLEASE, REMEMBER THIS: BLOC ORDERS ARE ASSIGNED FROM SEATS REMAINING AFTER ALL INDIVIDUAL ORDERS ARE

(Ed. Note: If you can't get a seat on the 50-yard line don't complain—the fellow who sold you the ticket can't either. Ticket Manager Bob Cahill, who wrote this article, seldom sees the Fighting Irish in action although he sells thousands of ducats each Fall to alumni. On home game week ends, his job is so confining at Gate 14 that there isn't much leisure time to watch the touchdown parade.)

BOB CAHILL

NOTRE DAME STADIUM

FILLED. THIS MEANS END ZONE SEATS, without exception.

8. More and more Alumni Clubs are requesting two or more seats in "choice location" for raffle or fund-raising prizes. With the preferred seat situation so acute (see again Point 4), the Ticket Committee could furnish "choice" locations only by poaching on the already inadequate Alumni sections. We think this unjust, and unless a Club member surrenders his Advance Sale privilege for the game in question, tickets for prizes must be of the general public variety.

At the NCAA convention last January our College Athletic Business Managers Association was treated to a very interesting (but frightening) talk about the use of Digital Computers in the athletic ticket business. Automation will one day be with us but I sure hope I'm still around the first time the President of the Notre Dame Club of East Euphoria addresses his first irate letter to an IBM 704! That'll be the day . . .

NOTRE DAME LAW SCHOOL

SYMPOSIUM ON DESEGREGATION

"The Problem and Responsibilities of School Desegregation" was the subject of a symposium at the Notre Dame Law School on May 8 and 9. In opening the Symposium, Dean O'Meara said "We have no intention of debating the merits or demerits of the Supreme Court's decisions, which we support. Nor are we interested in platitudes or generalities. Our purpose is to concentrate on the practical problems arising from the Court's decisions and on the responsibilities, in relation to these problems, of the churches, of educators and school administrators, of public officials, of the Negro community and of the legal profession.

"There are two ways of approaching a problem: one is to treat it as an insuperable road block, the other as a challenge. Our Symposium has been planned on the assumption that the latter is the approach that should be made. It has been planned on the assumption that, if we stop calling names long enough to take a hard look at the practical problems involved in desegregation, and to assess our responsibilities in respect thereto, we will find a viable way out of the present calamitous situation and thus be able to face the challenge of a thermonuclear world as a united and a free people."

Participants in the Symposium, each of whom addressed himself to the problems and responsibilities of the group he represented, were: representing the churches, Bishop Vincent S. Waters of Raleigh, North Carolina, Rev. J. J. Murray, visiting professor at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, and former moderator of the Virginia Synod of the Presbyterian Church, and Reverend Albert T. Mollegen of the faculty of the Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Virginia; representing public officials, Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, former Governor Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, and Mayor William B. Hartsfield of Atlanta; representing educators and school administrators, Professor Harvey Wheeler of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia, Dr. Carl F. Hansen, Superintendent of Schools of the District of Columbia, and Dr. Omer Carmichael, Superintendent of Schools of Louisville, Kentucky; representing the Negro Community, Dr. Rufus Clement, President of Atlanta University, Atlanta, Georgia, and former Dean George M. Johnson of Howard University School of Law, Washington, D. C.; representing the legal profession, Mr. Howard C. Westwood of the firm of Covington & Burling, Washington, D. C.

A PLEASANT ECHO

Last year's Symposium on the Role of the Supreme Court in the American Constitutional System is still attracting favorable attention. The paper contributed to the Symposium by Mr. Carl McGowan, a member of the Chicago law firm of Ross, McGowan and O'Keefe, and General Counsel of the Chicago and North Western Railroad, was reprinted in condensed form last fall in the Washington Star. Reprints of that condensation have now been sent by the U. S. Information Service to all of its offices in foreign countries for distribution and further republication (in English and in translation) throughout the world.

LAW HONOR BANQUET

The President of the American Bar Association, Mr. Ross L. Malone of Roswell, New Mexico, was the featured speaker at the Law Honor Banquet on Wednesday evening, May 6. This annual affair affords an opportunity to salute the members of the graduating class and, at the same time, to recognize the achievements of all members of the student body who have distinguished themselves in one way or another. This year, in addition, it was the occasion for a joint observance of LAW DAY U.S.A. by the Notre Dame Law School and the St. Joseph County Bar Association.

Mr. Malone's predecessor as president of the American Bar Association, Mr. Charles S. Rhyne of Washington, D. C., addressed last year's Law Honor Banquet; and his successor, who will be formally installed as president of the ABA at the annual meeting in Miami in August, Mr. John D. Randall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will be the featured speaker in 1960.

MOOT COURT

The judges who will hear the final arguments in the Annual Moot Court Competition next October are:

- Honorable Harold H. Burton, Supreme Court of the United States
- Honorable Alfred P. Murrah, United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit

Honorable Paul C. Weick, United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

This carries forward the tradition of having on the court for the final arguments a member of the Supreme Court of the United States. Last fall the Supreme Court was represented by Justice Sherman Minton.

The following students will participate in the final arguments:

- Mr. William B. F. Custer, Fredonia, N. Y.
- Mr. Don R. Gardner, Cincinnati, Ohio
- Mr. Paul H. Titus, Bradford, Pa.
- Mr. Lawrence D. Wichmann, Erlanger, Ky.

They were selected by the following judges, sitting in the semi-final round of the Competition held on May 1:

- Honorable Bernard M. Decker of the Circuit Court of Illinois
- Honorable James O. Monroe, Jr., of the Circuit Court of Illinois
- Honorable Arthur J. Murphy of the Appellate Court of Illinois
- Honorable Jack Murray of the Indiana Circuit Court.

STUDENTS APPOINTED

Notre Dame is on the list of law schools visited annually by a representative of the Attorney General of the United States in connection with the Attorney General's Recruitment Program for Honor Law Graduates. An offer of employment, under this program, was received by Mr. Patrick F. McCartan of Youngstown, Ohio, Editor-in-Chief of the Notre Dame Lawyer. He, however, had already accepted appointment as law clerk for Justice Charles E. Whittaker of the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Robert P. Gorman '57 L, one of Mr. McCartan's predecessors as editor-in-chief of the Lawyer, spent the year following his graduation as law clerk for Justice Tom C. Clark.

AN IMPORTANT POINT

A generous contribution to the Law Scholarship Fund has been received from the Farmers Insurance Group of Los Angeles. In his letter of transmittal Mr. T. E. Leavey, President of the Farmers Insurance Group, made an important point. "One of the significant American traditions," he said, "is educational opportunities for young people with outstanding talent but with limited finances. Another is the position of the independent universities, which among our institutions of higher learning are uniquely American in their freedom from government support and control."

To all who have contributed to the Law Scholarship Fund warm thanks are extended by the National Chairman of the Notre Dame Law Association's Scholarship Program, Mr. Oscar John Dorwin, Senior Vice President and General Counsel of The Texas Company.

Those who have not yet contributed are urged to do so promptly.

• Eve of Reunions Comes Too Soon

Commencement and the 1959 Class Reunions may seem late by the calendar this year, but they came so soon after the last observations of Universal Notre Dame Night that there was no time to publish adequate advance information.

As this issue of the ALUMNUS goes to press a thousand alumni are converging on the campus for the reunion week end and another thousand are departing with degrees after commencement exercises that featured, among other things, the appearance of two European Cardinals of international stature. The Alumni Association Board of Directors are meeting on matters of great concern to the University and her graduates. These events will be covered in detail in the next issue, but for now, on the eve of reunions, we must be content with a brief summary of the week-end festivities. They include:

Thursday, June 11. Monogram Day. Headquarters: Alumni Hall. Golf all day. On Thursday evening, cocktails, dinner and the annual business meeting of the Monogram Club.

Friday, June 12. Opening of the Alumni Golf Tournament. General registration in the Law Building. Class registration in the halls. Classes of 1909 (Golden Jubilee), 1914, 1919 and 1924, Dillon Hall. Class of 1929, Howard Hall. Silver Jubilee Class of 1934, Lyons Hall. Classes of 1939 and 1944, Morrissey Hall. Classes of 1949 and 1954, Alumni Hall. On Friday night, the Class dinners: Classes of 1909, 1914 and 1919, Golfer's Lounge, Morris Inn; Class of 1924, Mahogany Room, Morris Inn. Class of 1929, private dining rooms, Morris Inn; Class of 1934, Silver Jubilee Dinner in the Faculty Dining Room, South Dining Hall; Classes of 1939 and 1944, buffets on the Morrissey Lawn; Classes of 1949 and 1954, buffets in the Alumni-Dillon Courtyard.

Saturday, June 13. Class Memorial Masses in each hall chapel. Golf Tournament continues all day. President's Luncheon for the Class of 1934 in the North Dining Hall. College luncheons of some classes in the Morris Inn. Box lunches for all other classes at the halls. Class pictures. Campus tours at 3:30 p.m., the College Hours: open house in the Colleges of Arts & Letters, Commerce, Engineering, Science and Law, with special meetings called by the deans at 4 p.m. After 4:30, cocktail parties, etc. At 6 p.m., the Annual Alumni Banquet, featuring reports to the alumni by Father Hesburgh, president of the University, and William E. Cotter, Jr., president of the Alumni Association; Athletic Director Ed Krause introducing the coaches, including Joe Kuharich and his football staff; and a special ovation for the three golden jubilarians honored in this issue, Fathers Burke, Hagerty and Irving.

Sunday, June 14. Annual Alumni Mass, 9:00 a.m., Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes. Campus tours, etc., and departure.

YOUNGSTOWN—Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, C.S.C., guest speaker, checks the list of alumni attending the Youngstown Club 35th anniversary dinner and U.N.D. Night observance. With him are (seated, from left) Thomas Kerrigan, Club president; Charles B. Cushwa, Foundation chairman; (standing) Joseph G. Vaschak, banquet ticket chairman; William Bord, secretary-treasurer, and Charles McCrudden, arrangements chairman.

Special Grotto Indulgences Continued

GROTTO OF OUR LADY OF LOURDES

Catholics who visit the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes at Notre Dame will continue to receive the special indulgences granted by the Church during the Lourdes Centennial Year.

According to Rev. Philip Schaerf, C.S.C., a plenary indulgence (total remission of the temporal punishment due to sin) may be obtained by members of any group (four or five) visiting the campus shrine. Those who visit the Grotto as individuals will receive a partial indulgence. Father Schaerf is director of the Confraternity of the Immaculate Conception of Our Lady of Lourdes, whose headquarters are on campus.

The special indulgences were extended for a period of seven years by the Tribunal of the Sacred Penitentiary at the Vatican. They are renewable for successive seven-year periods.

The Confraternity of Our Lady of Lourdes was established at Notre Dame in 1874, 16 years after the appearance of Our Lady to St. Bernadette. The Grotto, a replica of the shrine at Lourdes, France, was erected in 1896 and has been the center of devotion to Our Lady of Lourdes and distribution of Lourdes water ever since.

GOLDEN JUBILIANS

local A.O.H., one of seven children. He was graduated from Notre Dame in 1906 and received his doctorate in philosophy at Catholic University in 1911. The next ten years he taught philosophy at Notre Dame. He taught at Portland and at St. Edward's, but his teaching has largely been at Notre Dame, and in the field of his great love, Thomistic philosophy. The priestly qualities of Father Hagerty practically shine through, and radiate a youthfulness out of keeping with the connotations of a Golden Jubilee. Possibly part of this radiance stems from his long love of outdoor life, his frequent canoe trips and long hikes. Father Ha-gerty's most memorable characteristic is a forthrightness of opinion and an unwillingness to compromise with truth. For several years he has been chaplain of the Brothers of Holy Cross in Du-jarie Hall. The tribute which the Hibernians paid him on their annual banquet night this year was only one of hundreds that groups and individuals would gladly add for his deep and spiritual dedication.

When you wonder sometimes the miracle of Notre Dame, recall that many of its advances have come from the miracle of the concentration and devotion of men like these over the years.

ENGINEERS STAGE 'PROJECT TOMORROW'

The students of the engineering college held their annual Engineering Open House April 24-26. This year's Open House, entitled "Project Tomorrow," was chaired by Bob O'Shea, a senior metallurgy major from Chicago, Illinois.

The inaugurating event was the Engineering Show which featured Mr. David Rossin of Argonne National Laboratory speaking on "The Economic Aspect of Atomic Power."

The principal exhibit of the Auto Show, held in the Navy Drill Hall, was Ford's Levacar. This amazing experimental automobile rides on jets of compressed air instead of tires. A four-foot "Levascooter," operating on the same principle as the Levacar, gave demonstration rides to the spectators.

On Saturday afternoon, the Chariot Race was held on Cartier Field after the contesting chariots were scrutinized by Fr. Lawrence Broestl to determine the soundness of their construction and design. The aeronautical engineers won the race, breaking a three-year string of victories by the architects.

With the cooperation of the South Bend Civil Air Patrol, the well-attended Air Show highlighted a "spot landing" contest and a variety of aerial acrobatics.

The departmental displays were many and varied again this year and, for the most part, were quite instructive as well as intriguing. Featured by the aeronautical engineers was a student-built, operating wind tunnel. The civil engineering display was centered around a scale model of the Mackinac Straits Bridge. A pyrotechnic display given by the metallurgists was their thermite welding demonstration. Polyurethane foam production, stop-watch reactions and a rocket fuel exhibit were the core of the chemical engineering department's open house.

The well-deserved prize for the best department displays were presented to the electrical engineers. A few of the myriad of interesting displays they offered were: gyroscope control systems, sonar, closed circuit TV, digital computers, solar batteries and stereophonic sound. The exhibit meriting the best individual display award, was an architectural exhibit outlining the steps taken from the initial sketches to the final drawings of an office building.

The Open House was considered quite successful by everyone concerned after it was learned that over 6,000 persons viewed the displays during the three-day period.

BOOK REVIEW

THE CONFEDERATE INVASION OF NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA, 1861-1862. By Robert Lee Kerby, '55. Los Angeles: Westernlore Press, 1958. 159 pp. $7.50.

The popular image of the American Civil War has been one of battles fought in Virginia and neighboring states with but a few skirmishes west of the Mississippi. Robert Kerby's well documented monograph, based largely on primary sources, is a genuine contribution to Civil War historiography: it sets forth in detail a little known but important phase of the war west of the Mississippi and one which has been relatively neglected by Civil War historians. Actually the campaign for the control of the southwest was, in the author's words "bound more closely to the whole tragic problem of slavery's expansion;" the New Mexican was "not a mere sideshow of the rebellion."

The Confederacy in some ways had the initial advantage in the area. There was a considerably large nucleus of Southern support among the residents of the area and in the early phases of the war there was significant desertion of soldiers and officers to the Southern cause. Among the deserters was Col. H. H. Sibley, who went to Richmond to present to President Davis the arguments in favor of full scale invasion of New Mexico and who eventually led the main contingent of Confederate forces in the area.

The arguments which Sibley set forth in favor of his plan were impressive: the southwest contained many anxious to join the Confederacy and would thus prove a good recruiting ground for the South; its possession would provide more room for the expansion of slavery; the vast mineral wealth of the area would help remedy the dangerous inflation under which the South was laboring; the greater accessibility of California would bring nearer to realization the Confederate hopes for a Pacific coastline.

The author's portrayals of the leaders of Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky (second from right) and former Governor Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland (extreme right) were among twelve speakers at a Notre Dame Law School symposium on school desegregation May 8-9. Also participating in the sessions were (left to right) Father Hesburgh, a member of the Civil Rights Commission, and Dean Joseph O'Meara, symposium chairman.

both sides and his account of the campaign itself are sufficiently detailed and very readable. The Southern forces made considerable gains at first and at one point Sibley's troops succeeded in raising the Confederate flag in Albuquerque. However, by July of 1862 the Union Col. J. Slough had secured New Mexico from the enemy forces with the result that Confederate authority along the Rio Grande gradually evaporated. In his analysis of the Southern failure the author admits that Sibley's forces were inadequate for the undertaking. Many of the settlers in the southwest were suspicious of the Southern cause and many others were alienated by the wholesale plundering indulged in by the Confederate forces. Moreover, besides a proneness to drink which impaired his capacity for leadership, Col. Sibley had serious inadequacies as a military tactician.

Robert Kerby is at present an Air Force lieutenant and this work originally appeared as a master's essay written at Notre Dame in 1956. The book is illustrated by the author and has a very attractive format.

Alumni

APPOINTMENTS

Alumni appointed to advisory councils of the University include William C. Schmitt, '10, board chairman of Schmitt Steel, Inc., Portland, Ore., just named president of the Monogram Club, to the Advisory Council for Science and Engineering; Paul J. Cushing, '31, president of Hydraulic Dredging Co., Ltd., Oakland, Calif., a Knight of Malta and a director of the Alumni Association, also to the Science and Engineering Council; and Henry Barnhart, '23, vice president of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corporation, Lima, Ohio, to Notre Dame's Advisory Council for Liberal and Fine Arts.

LIGHT IN DARKNESS

Stephen J. Rogers, Jr., '56, is an inspiration at Harvard University, where he has been teaching English composition while studying for a Ph.D. in comparative literature. Stephen has been blind since he was two years old, but it didn't keep him from participating in wrestling and swimming at Notre Dame, which he chose for its Spartan atmosphere and high intellectual standards. He accomplishes his gigantic tasks at Harvard with no other help than a reader and a long cane named "Matilda." In the course of his studies Stephen has read Braille in five languages.

DETERMINED TEACHER

Another miracle in the Boston area is the recovery of William G. O'Hare, Jr., '40, from a polio attack that threatened to cripple him hopelessly for life. Bill was stricken in 1955 while he was dean of the College of Commerce at St. Edward's University (C.S.C.), Austin, Tex., and spent a year in an iron lung before fighting back to work as a teacher, first at St. Ed's and now teaching government at the University of Massachusetts besides serving as assistant director of its bureau of government research. Nursed back to activity by his wife Edna, he gets about on crutches, fishes with his sons Greg and William III. A China-Burma-India veteran, Bill was a magna cum laude at N.D. and taught at Boston U.

PROFESSORSHIPS GROW

The list of alumni-sponsored professorships and "living chairs" lengthens with the announcement that Edward P. "Slip" Madigan, '20, and his son Edward E., '54, are establishing a professorship in Arts and Letters in honor of Rev. Eugene P. Burke's golden jubilee in the priesthood. Alumni with full professorships now in process include: Charles Cushwa, '31; Neil Hurley, '32 (Commerce); John A. McGuire, '39 (Engineering); Francis J., '22, William J., '28, and Hugh M. O'Neill, '17; and C. M. Verbiest, '20 (Commerce).

LAVELLE FUND CONTINUES

The West Point Society of New York, the Yale Club, the New York Giants, etc., have continued to support the fund for the widow and children of the late great Jack Lavelle, spurred by warm tributes from Red Smith, Arthur Daley and other leading sport scribes. The fund has been coordinated by the N.D. Club of New York.

PAPAL KNIGHTHOODS

In the past few months a number of Notre Dame men have been invested as knights in the military orders of the Church by representatives of Pope John XXIII. Among these are M.E. Walter, '14, of Houston, Tex., editor of The Houston Chronicle, invested in the Order of Malta by Francis Cardinal Spellman on Jan. 19 in New York's St. Patrick's Cathedral; Richard C. Muckerman, '20, of St. Louis, businessman and former owner of the St. Louis Browns, also made a Knight of Malta, who died shortly thereafter; and Harry J. Kirk, '13, of Washington, D. C., presented with the insignia of knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great by Archbishop O'Boyle March 8 in Washington's St. Matthew's Cathedral.

PERSEVERANCE PAYS

James W. Cullen, '28, of Sayre, Pa., is now Common Pleas Judge of Bradford County, Pa., but his victory over Republican Andrew S. Moscrip cost 436 days of recounts, recriminations and appeals in what may be the longest hassle and the greatest farce in the history of the American electoral system. The 436-day ordeal began on Nov. 5, 1957, election day, with an apparent 80-vote lead for Moscrip, but 70 votes appeared to be missing. This led to a series of recounts in which all tallies were changed, several ballots were voided and the Moscrip lead steadily dwindled. Finally a three-judge panel declared Cullen the loser by one vote, but the decision was overruled by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, which judged the contest a tie and ordered the candidates to cut a law book to determine the winner. The decision was protested by Jim Cullen, who charged the court had "substituted a dice box for the scales of justice." But it was the law, and on Jan. 16, 1959, Cullen won the cut, became judge and ended the 15-month rhubarb.

CHUCK ROHR DIES

Alumni Association Director Charles E. Rohr, '30, died April 3 in Cleveland, Ohio. His widow and four children survive.

Rev. Cornelius J. Hagerty (left), celebrating his golden jubilee in the priesthood (with Rev. Eugene P. Burke, C.S.C., and Rev. Thomas P. Irving, C.S.C., received a gold watch at the annual banquet of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in South Bend on St. Patrick's Day. Making the presentation was Clarence E. Manion, dean emeritus of the Law School.

ROMAN HOLIDAYS

Mentioned but not remarked in the last issue's report on the elevation of Cardinal O'Hara were several well-known alumni who have appeared in Rome in recent months. Ray Durst, '26, of Chicago, a vice president of the N.D. Alumni Association, was one of a handful of Americans to witness the funeral rites of the late Pope Pius XII, and he prepared a detailed report on the solemnities for distribution to his friends. Lawrence A. "Moon" Mullins, '31, athletic director of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., after a disastrous football season and before a brilliant N.C.A.A. basketball stand, had an exciting stay in the Eternal City, witnessing the ordination of his son Lawrence A. Jr., '55, and the subsequent marriage of his daughter Mary Ellen with her brother officiating, then returned to Milwaukee for the marriage of another son, Michael, '56, on Jan. 10. John H. Neeson, Jr., '35, of Philadelphia, former Alumni Association president, had a thrill during an audience with Pope John XXIII when the Pontiff singled out his two sons, Peter and Richard, bestowing an apostolic benediction on the pilgrims "and above all the children of America as represented by these two who are with us."

LAW SCHOOL

Other members of the Editorial Staff of the Lawyer who have received law clerkships are Mr. Robert E. Curley, Jr., of Evanston, Illinois, who will be law clerk for Judge John C. Lewe of the Appellate Court of Illinois; Mr. William J. Harte of Chicago, Illinois, who will be law clerk for Judge Roger J. Kiley of the Appellate Court of Illinois; Mr. John E. Kennedy of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who will be law clerk for United States District Judge Howard E. Devitt of Minneapolis; and Mr. Richard D. Schiller of Aurora, Illinois, who will serve as law clerk for Judge Luther M. Swygert of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Indiana.

The Director of the Moot Court, Mr. James A. Durkin of Rockford, Illinois, has also received a law clerkship. He will serve in that capacity for Judge W. Lynn Parkinson of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

NATURAL LAW FORUM

The fourth issue of the Natural Law Forum came off the press late in April. The Forum is published, under the auspices of the Natural Law Institute, by an editorial board composed of the following distinguished scholars:

Editor-in-Chief

Professor A. H. Chroust, Notre Dame Law School

Associate Editors

Professor Vernon J. Bourke, St. Louis University

Mr. George W. Constable, Baltimore, Md.
Professor W. J. Curran, Boston University School of Law

Professor A. P. d'Entreves, Turin University, Italy

Professor C. J. Friedrich, Harvard University

Professor Lon L. Fuller, Law School of Harvard University

Professor Wilber G. Katz, The University of Chicago Law School

Dean Edward H. Levi, The University of Chicago Law School

Professor Antonio de Luna, University of Madrid, Spain

Professor Myres S. McDougal, Yale University Law School

Professor F. S. C. Northrop, Yale University Law School

Professor H. A. Rommen, Georgetown University

Professor John Wild, Harvard University

Professor Joseph P. Witherspoon, University of Texas School of Law

ASSOCIATION MEETINGS

Since the last issue of the ALUMNUS the Notre Dame Law Association has sponsored successful luncheon meetings at Pittsburgh, on March 12, in connection with the Upper Ohio Valley Regional Meeting of the American Bar Association, and at Peoria, on April 30, in connection with the annual meeting of the Illinois State Bar Association. Dean O'Meara spoke at the Pittsburgh meeting, at which Judge Hugh C. Boyle, '24 presided. The Chairman of the Peoria meeting was Mr. William B. Wombacher, '51 L.

CONGRATULATIONS

Notre Dame lawyers recently appointed to the bench include the Honorable John F. Kilkenny and the Honorable John C. Mowbray. Judge Kilkenny has been appointed to the United States District Court for Oregon. He received his LL.B. from the Notre Dame Law School in 1925 and is a former president of the Oregon State Bar Association. Judge Mowbray has been appointed to the Eighth Judicial District Court at Las Vegas, Nevada. He received his LL.B. from Notre Dame Law School in 1949.

PRIZE WINNERS

The Lawyers Title Award, provided annually by The Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia, to the student selected by the faculty for excellence in the law of real property, was presented this year to Mr. Robert P. Mone of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Mone also received the Hoynes Award, founded in 1916 by former Dean Hoynes.

The Farabaugh Prize, given annually by Honorable Gallitzen A. Farabaugh, L'07, was awarded to Mr. Patrick F. McCartan of Youngstown, Ohio.

The Harry English Award, established under the will of the late Harry English of Decatur, Illinois, was presented to Mr. Richard C. Clark of River Forest, Illinois.

The Law Week Award, provided by the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., Washington, D. C., went to Mr. William J. Harte of Chicago, Illinois.

GRAY'S INN

Gray's Inn, a student organization founded in 1954, devoted a recent highly successful meeting to the timely subject of Urban Planning and Redevelopment. Both legal and non-legal aspects of this subject were considered by a panel consisting of Professor Jan Krasnowiecki, Professor T. Brooks Brademus and Mr. Henry Sucher. Professor Krasnowiecki is a member of the Faculty of the Notre Dame Law School; Professor Brademus is the head of a consulting firm on city planning and is Visiting Professor of City Planning at The University of Notre Dame; Mr. Sucher is associated with the Redevelopment Commission of South Bend.

FACULTY NOTES

Dean Joseph O'Meara will participate in a conference on legal education to be held at Ann Arbor in June under the auspices of the University of Michigan Law School. Dean O'Meara has been appointed as a consultant to the Public Affairs Program of The Ford Foundation. He will serve as a member of the Advisory Committee for the Law Faculty Fellowship Program.

Professor Wagner has received a Fulbright Award to lecture in France at the Universities of Paris and Rennes for nine months, beginning next October. His topic will be comparative law with emphasis on American legal method, organization of courts, and the relationship between the Federal and State judiciaries.

Professor Broden read a paper on "The Straw Man of Legal Positivism and Freedom Through Law," before the May meeting of the Round Table, a group of South Bend business and professional leaders.

Assistant Dean Broderick spoke before the Terre Haute Notre Dame Club on Universal Notre Dame Night.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

Mr. James T. Finlen of Butte, Montana, and Fort Lauderdale, Florida, has been appointed to the Law Advisory Council. Until his recent retirement, Mr. Finlen was Western General Counsel of the Anaconda Copper Company.

Other members of the Advisory Council are:

Honorable Hugh C. Boyle, '24, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. John E. Cassidy, '17 L, Peoria, Ill.
Honorable Charles S. Desmond, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Oscar John Dorwin, '17, New York, N. Y.

Honorable Charles Fahy, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Harold S. Foley, '21, Vancouver, British Columbia

Mr. Paul F. Hellmuth, '40, Boston, Mass.
Mr. John T. Higgins, '22, Detroit, Mich.
Mr. Aaron H. Huguennard, '22 L, South Bend, Ind.

Mr. H. Clay Johnson, '32, '34 L, New York, N. Y.

Honorable Harry F. Kelly, '17 L, Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Robert F. Kennedy, Washington, D. C.

Honorable Roger J. Kiley, '23 L, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Thomas F. McDonald, St. Louis, Mo.
Mr. J. W. Mullin, Jr., Los Angeles, Calif.

Honorable Walter V. Schaefer, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Ross D. Siragusa, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Edmund A. Stephan, '33, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Bernard J. Voll, '17, South Bend, Ind.

Mr. A. Harold Weber, '22, South Bend, Ind.

FOREIGN STUDY OPPORTUNITIES

Two hundred fellowships for graduate study in 15 foreign countries will be offered by foreign governments and universities through the Institute of International Education for the academic year 1960-61.

The Institute announced today that applications for the fellowships will be accepted until November 1, 1959.

The scholarships cover tuition and varying amounts of maintenance in universities in Austria, Denmark, France, Germany, Iran, Israel, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland, Canada, Brazil and Mexico. Students applying for Italian university awards or Austrian, Danish, French, German or Netherlands Government awards may apply for a Fulbright travel grant to supplement their scholarships. Two additional awards, offered by an American foundation, are for any country in the Far East, South or Southeast Asia and Africa.

General eligibility requirements are United States citizenship, a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent before departure, language ability sufficient to carry on the proposed study, and good health. A good academic record and demonstrated capacity for independent study are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not had extensive foreign experience. While married persons are eligible for most of the above described awards, the stipends are geared to the needs of single graduates.

For further information and application forms, prospective applicants should write to the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, N.Y.

ALUMNI CLUBS

The 36th annual Universal Notre Dame Night proved what we have known for several years, that the "Night" is one of the great public relations channels of the University, bringing the story of Notre Dame into the community by a locally spotlighted program. Because of this evolution to the local spotlight instead of the once-projected centralized program, the success has been multiplied by extending the observation at local option to dates on either side of the official "Monday after Easter Monday."

This year of 1959 your Alumni Secretary, partly by design and partly by happy accident, covered his new high record of U.N.D. Night meetings — Rochester, Olean, Syracuse, Utica and Buffalo, N.Y.; Harrisburg and Erie, Penn.; Birmingham, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga.; Jacksonville, Fla., and the Florida State Convention at Ft. Lauderdale, representing the half-dozen Notre Dame Clubs in Florida. These Clubs will have their own equal time for reporting the individual meetings.

I would, however, like to say, for the benefit of all Clubs and all who read, that John Neeson, Sr., Alfred C. Ryan, Jr., and the Rev. Matthew Walsh, C.S.C., who launched the first Notre Dame Night in 1924 as alumni president, alumni secretary, and University president respectively, would glory in the development of their inspiration.

Once in a while you encounter a little nostalgia for the good old days when the boys got together to reminisce, and this is not to be discouraged — it should be recognized by Clubs either in some phase of U.N.D. Night or in a special meeting to cover nostalgia. But in my opinion, formed over 34 of the 36 years the Night has existed, the present growth of Notre Dame public relations owes a large part of its stature to the expansion of the Club programs to include the wives of members, the parents of present students, prominent religious, civic, industrial and educational leaders in the community.

All of us at Notre Dame are impressed by the successful programs which have become truly universal. We are happy that this year so many campus representatives took part in these programs. Their contribution to Notre Dame is immeasurable. —J.E.A.

Akron

Universal Notre Dame Night April 16 in Akron's Sheraton Hotel featured the appearance of several former Notre Dame football stars as guests of the Akron Club to pay homage to the University's excellence in the academic arena. Present were Club President BOB KAPISH and GENE KAPISH, '32, of Barberton, O., former ends; STAN COFALL, captain of the 1916 Irish, now president of the National Solvent Co., Cleveland, O.; JOE BOLAND, '27, South Bend radio-television sports commentator, formerly a tackle; DON MILLER, '25, famed quarterback of the Four Horsemen and former U. S. district attorney in Cleveland, and STEVE SITKO, '40, of Akron, a famous N. D. quarterback.

Named Notre Dame Man of the Year was WILLIAM G. BURKHARDT, '35, president of Burkhardt Consolidated Corp., honored for his civic service, his efforts for Catholic Charities, the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts and the Akron Club as well as his exemplary personal life. JOSEPH KRAKER was toastmaster of the affair.

Officers elected for 1959 are: JOHN L. DARAGO, '54, president; JOHN B. HUMMEL, '49, vice-president; BRUCE RAFF, JR., '49, secretary, and JOSEPH WEIBEL, '56, treasurer.

Alabama

The "oldest living amateur in alumni organizations" — as JAMES ARMSTRONG described himself — helped the infant Notre Dame Club of Alabama celebrate its first Universal Notre Dame Night in Birmingham, April 21.

Armstrong told the Alabama group that more and more Notre Dame graduates are moving to the Southeast and more and more boys from the area are going to Notre Dame for their education.

He said it would be a good idea for the Alabama Club to organize small chapters in areas of the state where a number of alumni live. These would supplement the main chapter which has been functioning in Birmingham.

The Purdue Club of Alabama invited Notre Dame and Indiana Club members and their families to come along on an outing May 9. One of the Purdue men, a paper mill executive, has arranged for the group to use the company's yacht for an all-day cruise on the Warrior River.

The Alabama Notre Dammers are also working on plans to come as a group to the Georgia Tech game next Nov. 7.

Next meeting of the club will be in August.

—ED DAILEY, Secy.

Atlanta

On April 22 the Notre Dame Club of Atlanta held the fifth annual Universal Notre Dame Night with Alumni Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG as guest speaker. Among local dignitaries attending were Mayor William B. Hartsfield of Atlanta and Judge James C. Davis of the U. S. House of Representatives. AL ABRAMS, Georgia's leading supporter of Notre Dame, was selected as the recipient of this year's Man-of-the-Year award, and Club President DICK DONNELLY was honored with a certificate of appreciation for his unceasing efforts in behalf of Notre Dame and the Club. Dick is being transferred to Dallas, and new officers will be announced in the next issue. Coach HARRY MEHRE was toastmaster, and REV. VINCENT P. BRENNAN, S. M., gave the invocation as Club chaplain. Other officers of the past year were JAMES E. BARNARD, vice-president and secretary, and MEL-VILLE S. RUMMEL, treasurer. KENNETH G. DAVIS, JR., was chairman of the program.

Boston

The Notre Dame Club of Boston celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night April 13 with an attendance of approximately 120. Among the guests were Bishop Minnihan, several distinguished priests and monsignori and DEAN JAMES W. CULLITON of the Notre Dame College of Commerce, who spoke on the theme "Tomorrow's Student." BILL DACEY was installed to succeed DICK HYLAND as Boston Club president.

Buffalo

The following Notre Dame men made a week-end silent Retreat at the St. Columban Retreat House, Darby, N.Y.: MAURICE QUINN, '35, (chairman); President JOHN LAVIGNE, '49; newly-elected President for 1959-60 HENRY BALLING, JR., '52; FRANK GAGLIONE, '39; RAY RUSEK, '38; DON JACOBI, '35; JOE RYAN, '38; JOHN ENDERS, JR., '53; JEROME TERHAAR, '50; RALPH ELSE, '34; BERNARD BIRD, '28; RICHARD WAGNER, '53; PAUL CARROLL, SR.; ANTHONY BRICK, JR., '30; JOHN EGAN, '47; HARRY QUINN, '49; EDWARD T. FLANIGAN, '38; JOSEPH MARCIN, '43, and JOHN MADDEN, '50.

Under the chairmanship of JOHN DOERR, '43, and MAURY QUINN, '35, the Buffalo Club was host to the Notre Dame Basketball team while they were in town to play Canisius College. At a pre-game luncheon WILLIAM LAWLESS, '41, representing Mayor Sedita, presented the key to the City of Buffalo to Coach JOHN JORDAN. This was a Father-and-Son Luncheon and all the sons that attended were presented with autographed pictures of the team. After the game many club members and their friends attended a post-game Buffet at the Hotel Lenox.

At our latest club meeting Chairman TONY BRICK, '30, of the Notre Dame Foundation reported that 47.2% of the current membership are currently contributing to the Foundation. This is a direct result of Tony's consistent work on the foundation program. Now Tony has all his legal associates talking up that $1,000.00 per year deduction for the Law School scholarship program. If it can be done Tony will be the man to do it.

Buffalo was host to Jim Armstrong as guest speaker for Universal Notre Dame night in Buffalo. Chairman HARRY QUINN, '49, Chairman DONALD SEIFERT, '49, and committee established April 13, 1959, as Universal Notre Dame Night in Buffalo in order to agree with JIM ARMSTRONG'S itinerary.

On the program Jim Armstrong assisted in the installation of the following newly elected directors: HARRY QUINN, '49; THOMAS KELLY, '49; EUGENE COYLE, '31, and ARTHUR STATUTO, '48. Newly-elected officers of the Notre Dame Club of Buffalo for 1959-60 also seated on this night were: President HENRY BALLING, JR., '52; Vice-President JOHN F. ENDERS, JR., '53; Treasurer THOMAS KELLY, '49; Financial Secretary JOHN BOLAND, '48, and Secretary DON JACOBI, '35. There was an unusually large turnout of Notre Dame men and their friends in attendance at the Hotel Lafayette for this night, the opening of the spring and summer season of the Notre Dame Club of Buffalo, N.Y.

At a meeting of the directors preliminary plans were made for the Notre Dame Night at Buffalo Raceway, the summer Stag outing, and the Golf Tournament for the Mary A. Quinn Trophy. JACK BOLAND and his committee for the Notre Dame handicap at Buffalo Raceway have established, with the cooperation of James J. Dunnigan, President of Buffalo Trotting association, Tuesday, July 7, 1959, as the night for the Notre Dame Pace. All Notre Dame men and their friends are invited to the clubhouse preceding the race, for the dinner party.

Both Notre Dame football trophies were presented at Universal Notre Dame night dinner. JOSEPH RYAN, '38, presented the Western New York Junior Notre Dame Football Trophy. St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute retired the king-size Notre Dame High School Football Trophy by winning their third leg of the current series.

Calumet Region

The Calumet Club's annual observance of Universal Notre Dame Night was held on Monday, April 13, at Phil Smidt's Restaurant. Representing the University was Rev. CHARLES McCARRAGHER, C.S.C., special assistant to Notre Dame's vice-president for student affairs, who spoke on "The Spiritual Side of the Students' Education." An additional feature was the appearance of His Excellency ANDREW G. GRUTKA, Bishop of the Gary Diocese, who, though strictly an alumnus of the "subway" variety, was honored in a surprise feature as Notre Dame Man of the Year. EDWARD L. BURKE was chairman of the affair.

CHICAGO—Gathered at gala Universal Notre Dame Night ceremonies in Chicago's Sheraton Hotel are Ray Durst, general chairman; Deputy Under Secretary of State Robert D. Murphy, principal speaker; Father Hesburgh, President of the University, and George Connor, toastmaster.

Notre Dame Coach JOE KUCHARICH and members of his staff were special guests at the Club's Sports-Stag-Smoker held May 18 at St. Michael's Hall, Hammond.

Canton

Rev. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, associate director of the Notre Dame Foundation, was the guest speaker April 9 when the Canton (Ohio) Club of Notre Dame observed Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner at the Holiday Inn Motel. Twenty-five Notre Dame men and a number of their wives were on hand. Father O'Donnell spoke on the obligations of the alumni to their school and urged the graduates to continue their educational process, primarily through reading, even though they have completed their formal years of classroom work. He emphasized the instilling in the minds of their children the desire to learn through reading. As a result of Father O'Donnell's talk the organization of a reading-discussion seminar is in the planning stage.

The next activities on tap for the Club are the Summer Communion Breakfast early in June with the N. D. students from this area and the annual picnic which will be held August 1 at 38th Street Park.

—ED MACHUGA, Secy-Treas.

Cedar Rapids

A large number of alumni, parents and students gathered at the Sheraton-Montrose Hotel for Cedar Rapids' third annual Universal Notre Dame Night.

Father RICHARD J. GRIMM, C.S.C., Religious Superior at Notre Dame spoke on the student of tomorrow. He told the group that "a well read boy, one that has read beyond the minimum high school requirements makes the best student." Many questions were raised about the best way to prepare a youth for college.

Msgr. Maurice Sheehy (Vice Admiral USN, ret.) introduced Father Grimm. Many Notre Damers probably recognize the "Admiral" as he spent 25 years at Catholic U. and spoke at various Washington, D. C., Notre Dame gatherings.

Guests included: The Rev. Mr. CARL LEVELLING, '50, Mt. St. Bernard Seminary, Dubuque, Ia.; Mr. CY LOCHER and family of Monticello, Ia.; Mr. CHAS. CASH and family, Anamosa, Ia.; Mr. M. W. O'REILLY, Mr. CHAS. SCHWINN and Mr. JOHN PALUKA, and Mr. and Mrs. BRUCE MAJERUS.

Congratulations to Mr. GEORGE BENNING on his recent promotion to Group Leader in the Research and Development Division of Collins Radio Co.

Central Florida

Notre Dame men of the Orlando area were invited to take part in Universal Notre Dame Night ceremonies at the Florida State Convention in Fort Lauderdale, featuring Executive Vice-President Rev. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., and Alumni Secretary JAMES E. ARMSTRONG as guests from the campus.

Central New Jersey

The two major social events of the Central Jersey Club since the last report emanated from the Garden State were the Christmas Dance in Perth Amboy on December 20 and Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner Dance on April 11 in Plainfield.

TONY GUIFFRE, chairman of the dance, displayed his characteristic flair for providing a most enjoyable evening with danceable music and a highly delectable buffet. "Pres." DAN GRACE proved the master of cordiality, by some very proficient table hopping.

Central New Jersey's pair of Veeps, JOE SIMONS and ED SADOWSKI, co-chairmanned the U. N. D. night, attended by 120 members, wives, and friends at the Park Hotel. The success of the affair was assured with the presence of Father EDMUND JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president of the University, as the honored guest and principal speaker. JACK REAGER was presented with the "Man of the Year" award for his outstanding contributions, over the years, to the club and his community. The entire Club is proud of Jack's accomplishments. Giving able assists to Joe and Ed were DAN GRACE, JACK McKENNA, KEN BUCK, JACK DOYLE, TONY GUIFFRE, CHRIS LARSEN, and JOE SEPKOSKI.

Many of the members took advantage of the opportunity to hear the Notre Dame Glee Club in their appearance in Sommerville Easter Sunday evening.

The Club is temporarily losing the services of KEN BUCK who is spending a three-month sojourn in Uncle Sam's forces at Fort Monmouth.

The Club would like to express, through these pages, its deepest sympathy to JACK McKENNA for the loss of his parents who died in an automobile accident recently.

—JOE SEPKOSKI, Secy.

Central New York (Syracuse)

The Notre Dame Club of Central New York celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night on April 8, 1959, at the Bellevue Country Club. The Club had a dinner dance, and Alumni Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG, was the main speaker. Jim gave a very inspiring talk, which was well received by the Club. JACK McAULIFFE was general chairman and he was assisted by BILL BISER, DAN KELLEY, BOB McAULIFFE, PHIL SHEAN, JIM WELTER, and ACK VARNEY. About ninety people attended the affair. Our third annual Man-of-the-Year award was won by JACK TERRY, who is now serving on Governor Rockefeller's administrative staff.

The Club honored LEO T. EAGAN, President of Eagan Real Estate, and ROBERT C. TYO, President of Porter-Cable Machinery Company, as outstanding local businessmen.

REV. JOHN HARRISON gave the invocation and REV. FRANCIS SHEEDY, a guest, gave the benediction. BILL BISER presented the Man-of-the-Year award and Club President J. GARVEY JONES also briefly addressed the group. It was announced that the Club, in conjunction with the Ladies Auxiliary, would make a donation to the Library Association drive in the name of MONSIGNOR TOOHEY. Mrs. RALPH TAYLOR is president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

On April 13 the Syracuse Parochial League had its annual dinner. Main speaker was JIM CROWLEY, one of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame.

The Central New York N. D. Club presented its Playoff Trophy to Sacred Heart High school. President J. GARVEY JONES made the presentation. About 400 attended the dinner and JIM CROWLEY was a tremendous hit.

Our schedule for the coming months is as follows: meeting, May 28, Casey's, DeWitt, N.Y.; family picnic, July 12, Green Lakes State Park; golf party and student sendoff, Sept. 10, place undecided.

—J. GARVEY JONES, Pres.

Central Pennsylvania

Rev. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C., was principal speaker at Universal Notre Dame Night ceremonies of the Central Pennsylvania Club in Johnstown, Pa. Present were the new officers of the Club: Dr. GEORGE W. KATTER, '41, president; EDWIN E. SLICK, Jr., '30, vice-president, and CHARLES G. HASSON, '42, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Katter and E. E. Slick are from Johnstown, while Chas. Hasson is an attorney in Ebensburg, Pa.

Chattanooga

The officers for the year 1959 of the Chattanooga

Notre Dame Alumni Club are: HERBERT J. HAILE, JR., '55, Chattanooga, Tenn.; president; MATT R. McINERNEY, '37, Signal Mountain, Tenn.; vice-president; HENRY T. MADDEN, '51, Signal Mountain, secretary-treasurer, and EDWARD F. DAVIS, '43, Chattanooga, entertainment chairman.

Chicago

Deputy Under Secretary of State ROBERT D. MURPHY, LL.D., '38, was the main speaker at the Notre Dame Club of Chicago's annual Universal Notre Dame Night dinner, held Monday, April 13, in the Sheraton hotel and attended by 700 Notre Dame men and guests.

On March 7, Murphy was named the 1959 recipient of the Laetare Medal, awarded annually by Notre Dame since 1883 to outstanding American Catholic laymen. The medal is generally regarded as the most significant honor conferred upon Catholic laymen in the United States.

National Alumni Director RAYMOND W. DÜRST, River Forest, was general chairman of the Chicago Club's dinner this year.

W. JOSEPH MALONEY, a pioneer organizer of retreats for Catholic laymen, was named Chicago's "Notre Dame Man of the Year."

Maloney, a former public utility executive, has been active in arranging Notre Dame's summer retreat for laymen for nearly 40 years. This retreat annually draws hundreds of Chicago area men. Since 1940, Maloney has been chief organizer of this retreat and for the past three years also has arranged week-end retreats at the University's new Our Lady of Fatima Retreat House.

He has been an usher at St. Barnabas Church for 30 years and active in that parish's Holy Name Society.

KENNETH G. ENRIGHT, JR., chairman of the awards committee, said, "The committee felt that Mr. Maloney's many years of devoted work both in his parish and in the retreat movement best exemplifies the University's motto of 'For God, For Country, For Notre Dame,' which is the standard that guides our selections."

Nominations for the award were sought from more than 100 Chicago area alumni.

Maloney is married and the father of eight children. One son is a Maryknoll brother and another is studying for the priesthood at the Claretian Missionary Father House of Studies in Washington, D. C.

Among the many distinguished Notre Dame men present were: FATHER HESBURGH, University President, who imparted Pope John's blessing (arranged by VINCE McALOON of the Notre Dame Club of Rome); Rev. GLENN BOARMAN, C.S.C., prefect of religion, who gave the invocation; Retiring President JACK MORLEY, introducing the new officers, President PHIL FACENDA, Vice-Presidents GEORGE MENARD and JOSEPH PAGLIARI, Secretary ART CONRAD, Treasurer JIM DOYLE and the past and present honorary presidents, HON. NORMAN BARRY and HON. RAYMOND DRYMALSKI. GEORGE CONNOR was toastmaster.

Cincinnati

Club President STEVE HEEKIN visited the campus recently bearing a check for $2,000 to supplement the $25,000 endowed scholarship fund which Cincinnati area alumni have invested with the University. The check represented the proceeds from the recent Cincinnati Club Scholarship Ball. The scholarship fund is one of the two largest alumni club capital funds established at Notre Dame.

Cleveland

FRANK LEAHY was the principal speaker at the annual Rockne Communion Breakfast held April 12 at the Statler Hotel. MONSIGNOR GALLAGHER was the Mass celebrant at St. John's Cathedral. More than two hundred and fifty fathers and sons turned out to honor Our Lady and KNUTE ROCKNE. DAN DUFFY once again sparked the breakfast as toastmaster. The Man of the Year award for 1959 was presented to RAY T. MILLER, '14, for his outstanding contributions to the organizations and support of the Cleveland Alumni Club over the years. The Club's congratulations are extended to JIM UPRICHARD and DICK MILLER for their excellent job of making the Communion Breakfast a success.

On April 30 the Club held its annual meeting for the elections of new officers for 1959. Unanimously elected were the following: PAUL LILLIS, president; LEO BURBY, vice-president; ROBERT WALLACE, secretary, and WILLIAM SKELLY, treasurer. Paul Lillis was formerly vice-president of the Metropolitan Club of New York City. JOHN P. COYNE was appointed to the new position of recording secretary, and the office of the Cleveland Club was changed to:

Notre Dame Club of Cleveland, 612 Bulkley Building, Cleveland 15, Ohio, Ph. MAin 1-0389.

The Club's heartiest congratulations were extended to the outgoing officers, RAY T. MILLER, JR., GERALD McGRATH, JOHN P. COYNE, and GEORGE HAMMER for their efforts on behalf of the Club during the past year. A check was presented by the outgoing treasurer to Clayton Leroux, chairman of the Scholarship Committee as a further contribution to complete the Club's second scholarship fund. CLAYTON LEROUX announced that presently four local students were receiving three- or four-year scholarships from the Cleveland Club and that both the demand and quality of applicants for scholarships for the coming year were the best in several years. The only other order of business at this meeting was a constitutional change raising the amount of the dues to $5.00 per year.

Mrs. Agnes M. Smith, wife of EARLE C. SMITH of Cleveland wishes to announce that the Women's Advisory Council of the University has selected "the needs of the University Library" as its special project this year and has organized the Notre Dame Library Association to help handle this problem. It is hoped that all Cleveland Alumni members and their friends will act enthusiastically on the literature to be sent them regarding the University Library.

IN MEMORIAM

On April 3, 1959, the University of Notre Dame and the Cleveland Club of Notre Dame lost a dear friend with the passing of CHARLES ROHR. A true son of Our Lady, Chuck Rohr gave of his time and his resources continually throughout his career as a Cleveland restaurateur for the betterment and enjoyment of the Cleveland Alumni and friends of Notre Dame. The annual picnic held at Rohr's Farm will never be the same without the presence of our host in his white apron and chef's hat. The Cleveland Club of Notre Dame extends their prayers and deepest sympathy to Mrs. Charles

ALABAMA—Reunion of these three members of the Class of '25 took place when the Notre Dame Club of Alabama celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night April 21 in Birmingham. They are (l. to r.) Joseph M. Hagerty of Bessemer, Ala.; James E. Armstrong, Alumni Association executive secretary, and S. Eugene Sullivan of Birmingham, president of the Alabama Club.

Rohr, and to his children Charles, Jr., Thomas, James, Mary Ann and Loretta Rohr.

—JOHN P. COYNE, Recording Secy.

Columbus

The Hon. SAMUEL L. DEVINE, U. S. Representative from the Ohio Twelfth Congressional District and graduate of the Notre Dame Law School, and the REV. STANLEY PARRY, C.S.C., Chairman of the Department of Political Science, were speakers at the Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner presented by the Columbus, Ohio, Alumni Club. The subjects discussed were the practical and theoretical aspects, respectively, of American Politics.

The annual Notre Dame Man of the Year award was presented at the dinner to DR. JOSEPH HUGHES, who was recently re-elected as president of the Columbus chapter. In addition to Dr. Hughes, the other newly-elected officers of the chapter were introduced to the gathering. They were BOB ECHENRODE, vice-pres.; MIKE CANTWELL, secretary; PAT CANTWELL, treasurer; and JACK GORDON, AL FRERICKS, and JOHN IGOF, trustees.

Best wishes to JAMES PRICE, former secretary, now working in the Newark, N. J., school system.

Connecticut Valley

About sixty alumni and wives were on hand for the Connecticut Valley N. D. Club's Universal Notre Dame Night in Hartford. Dean JAMES W. CULLITON of the Notre Dame College of Commerce spoke on problems of present and future students.

Dallas

Notre Dame men were very much in evidence at the St. Patrick's Day Dance of the Ancient Order of Hibernians (Tex-Erin Division).

Texas Attorney General Bill Wilson was a special guest at the Notre Dame Communion Breakfast March 15 at Dallas University. MARTY O'CONNOR was chairman.

With two boys studying at Notre Dame on Dallas Club scholarships, another scholarship for $2,400 is being offered. JOHN MORAN is chairman of the scholarship committee.

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated April 2 at the Downtown Club in Dallas. A special guest was ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE, Notre Dame athletic director. Chairman of the dinner was EMMET O'NEILL.

Dayton

On February 9 we had about 45 members and guests present at a smoker meeting held at Suttmiller's Restaurant. ED (Red) SHEA, '23, was the guest of honor as we celebrated his election to the Board of Directors of the Notre Dame Alumni Association. Ed, who is generally conceded to be Notre Dame's foremost representative in the Dayton area, was very happy to receive the honor which he so fully deserves. Despite the journalistic furore created by the change of football coaches shortly before his election, Ed found that the students seemed to be in sympathy with the turn of events, similar to the attitude expressed in the Scholastic editorial published in the March ALUMNUS. Another featured speaker at our smoker was Wally Post, former slugger of the Cincinnati Reds and now an outfielder with the Philadelphia Phillies. Wally gave a brief talk about his baseball experiences and then graciously answered baseball questions for an hour without ducking any of them. Wally said that he thought the hiring of TERRY BRENNAN as a physical conditioning specialist by Gab Paul, General Manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was a good idea because football required more thorough conditioning than baseball and Terry's football background might help to introduce new ideas into the conditioning program of the baseball team. A film covering the World Series Highlights of 1958 concluded the meeting.

A luncheon meeting of the outgoing officers and Board of Directors was held on February 23 in the Biltmore Hotel Dining Room to make final arrangements for Universal Notre Dame Night, to complete other business activities for the year, and to select a roster of candidates for the Club offices and two seats on the Board of Directors.

On March 17 Father PHILIP SCHAEFER, C.S.C., pastor of Sacred Heart Church on the Notre Dame campus and National Director of the Confraternity of the Immaculate Conception of Our Lady of AKRON—From left, Joe Boland, '27, sportscaster and former lineman, congratulates Man-of-the-Year William G. Burkhardt, '35, Akron industrialist, as Club President Bob Kapish and toastmaster Joseph Kraker second the motion at Akron's U.N.D. Night.

Lourdes, was the principal speaker for the St. Patrick's Day Dinner at the Avondale Club, sponsored by the Ancient Order of Hibernians. A native of Dayton, Father Schaefer gave an inspiring address recounting his experiences in an Irish environment throughout his years as a priest. He also spoke of his recent trips to Rome and Ireland. Members of the Notre Dame Club of Dayton renewed acquaintances with Father Schaefer at the dinner. A novel aspect of the occasion was the serving of green beer to symbolize "The Wearin' (and drinkin') of the Green."

Our Club celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night on April 8 with an excellent prime rib dinner at the Gibbons Hotel (SAM GIBBONS, '35, made the cuisine arrangements), attended by 75 members and guests. ED SHEA presented the "Man of the Year" award to our outgoing president, PAUL LAMMERS, '48, for the considerable effort he expended in keeping the Club rolling in high gear during the past year.

The Universal Notre Dame Night address was delivered by Dr. THOMAS GARNEY, Vice-President in charge of research and development at the Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis. Dr. Carney, who received his bachelor's degree from Notre Dame in 1937 and his master's and doctor's degrees from Pennsylvania State University and who did additional graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, discussed the role of science in modern education. Dr. Carney explained that as consultant to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, he assisted in a survey of the curricula in grade schools, high schools, and colleges and universities. He discovered that the trend in some modern schools is to operate a type of educational cafeteria permitting young students to select courses at random without proper guidance. As a result, some students choose all "dessert" courses instead of having a few of such courses properly offset by a heavier schedule of "meat and potato" courses. Dr. Carney asserted that although science is very important, it is but one part of culture. We must remember, he stressed, that science, art, and philosophy are interrelated and that philosophy is the parent of science.

Paul Lammers announced that the following members had been elected to office for the coming year: President: HERMAN A. ZITT, '48; Vice-President: WALTER J. GEREND, '39; Secretary: GEORGE A. PFLAUM, JR., '54; and Treasurer: ANDREW AMAN, JR., '30. Andy deserves the title of "Mr. Moneybags" for being re-elected Treasurer for the "umpteenth" time. The two members newly-elected to our Board of Directors are JAMES A. BOSCO, '34, and WILLIAM W. MacMILLAN, JR., '52. Other members of the Board of Directors are: LEO J. (Bud) CONDRON, '49; PAUL LAMMERS, who, as retiring President, automatically becomes a member of the Board; TOM LANDGREEN, '49; FRANK E. McBRIDE, JR., '50; and EDWARD (It's a girl!) STEINER, '44. Ed's daughter, Mary Alice, comes as a welcome addition to the family, having been preceded by four boys.

ED SHEA, who is also Dayton Chairman of the Notre Dame Foundation, received from Paul Lammers $500.00 which constitutes the Dayton Club's gift to the Notre Dame Foundation. In accepting the gift, Ed announced that he had recently received notice from the University that more than 57% of the Dayton Club members had contributed to the Notre Dame Foundation in 1958 — appreciably above the national average.

Paul Lammers also gave a check of $300.00 to JACK O'BRIEN, '41, our outgoing Vice-President who accepted it on behalf of Archbishop Alter's Fund established for the purpose of erecting Catholic high schools in the Greater Dayton area.

The thanks of the Club were proffered to Mrs. WALT (Louise) GEREND, who quarterbacked the information gathering service for our new Club Directory, and Mrs. BOB (Charlotte) HOLLEN-CAMP, who arranged for the printing. Other members of the Women's Auxiliary who served on the Directory team are: Mrs. DICK (Betty) BOHN, Mrs. JIM (Thelma) BOSCO, Mrs. TOM (Suzanne) LANDGREEN, and Mrs. HANK (Leila) ROHL.

Ed Shea also mentioned that Miss Adelaide Tyler of Dayton was deserving of a special word of praise from the Dayton Club for her remarkably successful efforts in selling tickets for our Club activities through the years and for being one of the most loyal boosters of Notre Dame to be found anywhere.

The new co-chairwomen of the Women's Auxiliary of the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Dayton for 1959 are Mrs. WALTER T. (Alma Beth) GRADY and Mrs. WILLIAM R. (Rita) PLATT. The women have been making plans for a baseball excursion, a square dance, and a Christmas dinner-dance.

The University of Notre Dame is well represented on the faculty and staff of the University of Dayton, operated by the priests and brothers of the Society of Mary. HARRY BAUJAN, '17, is Director of Athletics; WILLIAM (Bud) KERR, '40, is Head Football Coach; Dr. EDWARD A. HUTH,

'28, is Professor of Sociology; Dr. RICHARD BAKER, '31, is Professor of Philosophy; Dr. JOSEPH PAPPALARDO, '49, is Professor of Chemistry; and RAYMOND STITH, '54, is Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering.

Harry Baujan was honored recently by being included among the 50 nominees for the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame for 1959 announced by the Honor Court of the Foundation located at Rutgers University. Ten of the 50 were coaches and the rest were outstanding players. Selection of 10 persons from the 50 nominees to the Hall of Fame, which now numbers 162, will be made at a later date. Harry coached football at Dayton from 1923 to 1946.

On February 22, Dr. Pappalardo joined other members of the University of Dayton faculty in conducting a science program, entitled "The Science of Fuels," on Television Station WLW-D, Dayton.

Life has many oddities. Having an allergy is one of them. Some people are allergic to certain foods; other people are allergic to certain forms of plant life. But our HANK ROHL, '40, had to be different. He is allergic to his job! Hank, who is a top-notch aeronautical design engineer at the U. S. Air Force Wright Air Development Center in Dayton, has found that when he fingers blueprint papers too frequently, the chemicals in the paper produce a rash on his hands. So Hank, who must analyze blueprints, is forced to use ingenuity to keep his hands a respectful distance from his work.

—WALTER J. GEREND, '39, Vice-Pres.

Dearborn

A general meeting of the Dearborn Club was held March 20 at the home of JACK COURTNEY, featuring nominations for the 1959 officers and a showing of the football highlights of 1957. AL DOLAN did the honors.

Elected as the new officers of the Notre Dame Club of Dearborn for 1959-60 were: JOHN FISH, president; JIM KING, vice-president, and JOE BYRNE, secretary-treasurer. The three new directors until 1962 are JACK FISCHER, JERRY GASS and DICK KING. The next general meeting was held April 24 at Dick King's home. Notre Dame Communion Sunday was observed May 24 at St. Bernadette's Church, with breakfast following at the Dearborn Inn. John Fish was chairman. Jerry Gass will host a general meeting June 12, and a family picnic will be held on June 28.

Decatur

A. C. MORAN, JR., was chairman of a St. Patrick's Day Party on March 17, while Universal Notre Dame Night was held on April 22, with A. F. LANDOLT as chairman and Assistant Law Dean JOHN BRODERICK as guest speaker. Next event will be the annual Stag on July 16, with J. F. FOY as chairman. Officers of the Decatur Club are: BERNARD A. MARTY, president; ROBERT R. UHL, vice-president; GEORGE H. HUBBARD, treasurer; MILTON J. BEAUDINE, secretary, and REV. ARTHUR D. LeBRETON, chaplain. Directors are BERNARD B. LIVERGOOD, SY L. RAPIER, and AMBROSE C. MORAN, JR.

Delaware

REV. GEORGE BERNARD, C.S.C., Notre Dame's Vice-President for Student Affairs, was a guest speaker at the Delaware Club's Universal Notre Dame Night in Wilmington in April. Father Bernard was a particularly qualified speaker on this year's U.N.D. Night theme, "Tomorrow's Student."

Denver

The Denver Notre Dame Club celebrated its twentieth anniversary of Universal Notre Dame Night, and did its part in celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of Colorado's Rush to the Rockies of 1859 in the biggest way possible by having FATHER THEODORE HESBURGH, the University's President, as its guest of honor at the dinner-dance on April 6, 1959 at the Lakewood Country Club. The Denver area was greatly honored in this first visit of a University President this far west in some time. Approximately 300 people turned out to welcome him, to celebrate Universal Notre Dame Night, and to listen to his inspiring talk. Other dignitaries included Archbishop Urban J. Vehr, the Catholic Governor, Steve McNichols, and Mayor of Denver W. R. Nicholson. Other speakers of the evening included honored guests Father Lucas Cervantes, S. J., outstanding educator of Regis College, and Father Jones, superintendent of the Denver Catholic Schools. The Committee was chairmanned by President JIM SHEEHAN and included LEON ARCHER, BOB ZEIS, BOB DELINE, RAY TRITZ, JIM HANLON and CARL EIBERGER.

The recently elected new officers and directors for the 1959-1960 year were introduced at the dinner. These included President LEON ARCHER, Vice-President CARL EIBERGER, Secretary BOB ZEIS, and Treasurer for another year, GERARD SMITH. The Club directors include the outgoing President, JIM SHEEHAN, who is to be greatly lauded for the fine job and many wonderful activities accomplished through his direction this past year, RAY RISTOW, FRANK CONWAY, ART GREGORY and LOUIE HOUGH.

Also introduced at the dinner was Eugene Blish, Jr., the Club's 1959 Scholarship winner to Notre Dame. Gene had an outstanding academic, athletic and extracurricular activity in high school and will be a fine representative to Notre Dame from this area. He is the son of 1943 alumnus, EUGENE BLISH, SR., who has continually done so much for Notre Dame and the Denver Club and has been instrumental in getting many boys back to Notre Dame. The Scholarship Committee, who had a difficult time in choosing between the many fine applicants, included TOM GARGAN and FRANK CONWAY, co-chairmen, and ROBERT FLYNN, AL O'MEARA, TONY POJMAN, and CARL EIBERGER. Father Hesburgh was guided around the city by Jim Sheehan during his two-day visit. He appeared on numerous TV and radio programs and attended a special luncheon of Catholic laymen. During his last day he was a guest of the Archbishop. He received Denver's highest award, the Silver Dollar award from a representative of the mayor.

Another "big" visitor from Notre Dame recently was ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE who spoke to the Catholic Parent-Teachers' League Annual Convention in Denver on the subject, "Our Educational Commitment to the Future." Many club members turned out to hear his talk and then later attended a cocktail party in his honor arranged by LEON ARCHER. Following the party, JOHN DEE, alumnus and former basketball coach at Notre Dame and now coach of the Denver-Chicago Truckers, reserved seats for the Club and their friends and families at Fans Appreciation Night which celebrated the victory of his team in winning the N.I.B.L. crown. Moose Krause attended the game with the Governor of Colorado.

Another recent social event was the showing of the film highlights of the 1958 football season for the Club members and their wives at the Wilshire Country Club following an excellent dinner there. The films were later shown to many parish groups by Jim Hanlon and Jim Sheehan, Club President.

At Christmas time the alumni joined with the present students at the annual Christmas Dance held at the Wolhurst Country Club. The dance was well attended by both groups. The chairman was JIM COUGHLIN.

JOHN MORAN, JR., has been busy preparing a new club roster. More and more alumni are moving into this fast growing area. Included are newcomers FRANK LEAHY, former football coach, and his large family who love the City of Denver. Frank finds many of his new business activities are concentrated in this area.

Des Moines

On April 25 the Notre Dame Club of Des Moines, Ia., celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a banquet. A guest from the campus was REV. RICHARD J. GRIMM, C.S.C., Religious Superior of the University.

Detroit

WILLIAM C. RONEY, JR., and JOHN W. ANHUT were co-chairmen of the Annual Dinner March 5 at the Botsford Inn. There was a special tribute to the past presidents of the Detroit Club.

The following officers were elected to serve during the 1959-1960 season: DON HERRON, president; LOU CONROY, first vice-president; WILLIAM RONEY, second vice-president; THOMAS J. VERBIEST, treasurer, and WARREN J. ASHLEY, secretary. Directors through 1962 are PETER KERNAN, TOM VERBIEST, WILLIAM CARROLL, EDWARD HICKEY, JOSEPH CAREY and JERRY ASHLEY.

The 36th annual Universal Notre Dame Night was observed in Detroit on April 8 at the Latin Quarter. REV. THEODORE M. HESBURGH, C.S.C., president of the University, was the principal speaker. LOU CONROY and RAY J. BONINI were chairmen of the event.

Eastern Indiana

WILLIAM F. CRAIG, SR., vice-president of Tri-City Radio Corporation, Muncie, was chosen as its Man of the Year by the Eastern Indiana Notre Dame Club April 21. A dinner celebrating Universal Notre Dame Night was held at 67 Supper Club.

JOHN LAUGHLIN, managing editor of the Notre Dame ALUMNUS, was the speaker. Toastmaster was JOHN C. HYNES, 1938-39 president of the club. The award cited Craig for his devotion to his church, his family, his life work and his community.

For 1959-60 the club elected the following officers: WILLIAM F. CRONIN, Hartford City, president; JOSEPH MAHER, New Castle, vice-president; RICHARD A. GREENE, Muncie, secretary, and FRANCIS SCHWEIER, Hartford City, treasurer. Directors will be: JAMES LUKEN, Richmond; ROBERT CRONIN, Hartford City; THOMAS A. CANNON, Muncie; KENNETH MEYERS, Dunkirk; PHIL KELLY, Marion; ED SMITH, Anderson, and FRED LYSHOIR, Portland.

Notre Dame men and guests from Muncie, New Castle, Richmond, Dunkirk, Plymouth, and South Bend attended.

Honors for the longest-time graduate of Notre Dame went to CHARLES F. VOGT, of Muncie, Class of 1900. Mr. Vogt is a past president of the club.

—DICK GREENE, Secy.

El Paso

ED KRAUSE, Athletic Director of Notre Dame, visited El Paso on April 7 and helped us celebrate Universal Notre Dame Night. A banquet was held at the Hilton Hotel and along with the Notre Dame Alumni and their guests, some of the St. Mary's Alumnae living in the El Paso area were present for the festivities.

The St. Mary's representatives were Mrs. Grace Beck Goodell, Mrs. Jeannette Trautshold Brown, Mrs. Mary Jo Brown Holik and Mrs. Mary Ryan Darling.

Notre Dame men present were ED KRAUSE, our guest of honor and W. GORMAN BROCK, '49; DR. ED T. ETTL, '41; TOMMY FOY, '39; ED HERSKOWITZ, '34; JACK HADDON, '51; ED JENNINGS, '33; REV. FATHER IRVING KLISTER, '39; GUS MOMSEN, '49; R. F. MOMSEN, '28; CHARLES METZGAR, '45; NASH NAVAR, '53; RICHARD O'MALLEY, '44; HUGH O'DONNELL, '41; ROBERT REUSCHER, '57; JAMES RYAN, '53, and RICHARD SMITH, '37.

JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, executive secretary of the Notre Dame Alumni Association and assistant director of the Notre Dame Foundation, was the principal speaker. REV. EDWARD J. WOZNAK, S.V.D., and REV. JOHN CARTER of the Erie diocese, also spoke. JOHN J. McCORMICK, JR., president of the Club, was toastmaster.

Evansville

The 36th annual Universal Notre Dame Night was observed by the Evansville Club on April 23. The theme of the program was "Tomorrow's Student," and the guest speaker was FATHER DE-NEEN, Superintendent of Schools for the Diocese of Evansville. The following newly-elected officers were installed: DON HALLER, president; GENE JOHNSON, vice-president, and Charlie Manion, secretary-treasurer. The scene was cocktails and dinner at Smitty's. GENE JOHNSON was in charge of reservations, and the ceremony was conducted by E. FRED THEIS, retiring president.

Flint

The annual meeting of the University of Notre Dame Club of Flint was held Monday, Feb. 16 at the Elks Club.

Following reports of the various committees the members voted to contribute $500 to the University of Notre Dame Foundation.

ARTHUR T. PARADIS, '49, was elected president succeeding JAMES J. SHERRY, JR. Other officers elected were VICTOR E. GEORGE, '53, first vice-president, ROBERT J. MacDONALD, '36, second vice-president, and HAROLD R. STINE, '36, secretary-treasurer.

The following were elected to the Board of Directors: THEODORE MANSOUR, JAMES J. SHERRY, JR., LAWRENCE SAXE, JOSEPH E. OKOPIEN, WILLIAM F. MINARDO, and EMERY A. SHERWOOD.

Committee chairmen for the next year's activities including the annual football excursion were appointed.

Dean LAWRENCE H. BALDINGER of Notre Dame's College of Science was guest speaker at the Universal Notre Dame Night meeting of the Flint Club at the Knights of Columbus Hall on April 23. He spoke on the theme, "Tomorrow's Student." MONSIGNOR SHERIDAN was honored as Notre Dame Man of the Year. At least 200 were present for the dinner.

Fort Lauderdale

Notre Dame families from all over Florida gathered at the Florida State Convention in Fort Lauderdale the week end of April 24-26. Center of the festivities was the fabulous Sea Ranch Motel. The State Convention featured a Universal Notre Dame Night dinner April 25. REV. EDMUND JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president of Notre Dame, and JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, were special guests at the convention.

Fort Wayne

Notre Dame Freshman Coach HUGH DEVORE was featured speaker and DICK ROSENTHAL was toastmaster of the Central Catholic High Letterman's Banquet.

JACK SCHENKEL and JIM SCHENKEL were co-chairmen of the Fort Wayne Club's annual Retreat at Sacred Heart Seminary March 15. REV. JOSEPH FICHTER, O.S.C., was retreat master for a score of Notre Dame men who took part in the all-day exercise.

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated on April 15 at the Orchard Ridge Country Club. Guest speaker was JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, executive secretary of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, who spoke on "Tomorrow's Student" to the 200 alumni and guests. JOSEPH P. COLLIGAN, Fort Wayne businessman and humanitarian, was honored as "Notre Dame Man of the Year." DONELLY P. McDONALD, JR., who made the award, told of his ten children and his activities with the St. Vincent de Paul Society. LOUIS NIEZER was chairman of the award committee and DICK ROSENTHAL was chairman and toastmaster.

Golden Circle

More than forty alumni, parents and guardians of students, and guests heard Jim Armstrong speak at the first meeting of the Golden Circle Club held in more than five years. The dinner meeting took place at the Castle in Olean, N.Y., on Universal Notre Dame Night.

Toastmaster was JAMES F. McVAY, '43. Also at the head table were the Very Rev. Brian Lhota, O.F.M., president of St. Bonaventure University, the Rev. Frederick Reilly, assistant pastor of St. Bernard Church, Bradford, Pa.; DR. RUSSELL J. JANDOLI, '40, dinner chairman, and Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. McVay, and Mrs. Jandoli. In an election held as part of the program, JIM McVAY was named president, Prof. NICHOLAS J. AMATO, '44, vice-president, and NICHOLAS J. ASH, '49, secretary-treasurer.

Others present were JOSEPH W. FITZPATRICK, '43, and his wife Margery; GERALD FITZPATRICK, '49, and his wife Jean; DANA G. FITZPATRICK, '52, and his wife Bernice; LEO E. HUMMERICH, JR., '52, and his wife Judith; BRENT T. STEUERWALD, '56, and his wife Barbara; WILLIAM D. FOTE, JR., '52, and his guest, Miss Elizabeth Knafelc; JOSEPH C. COSTANZO, '53, his wife Marilyn, and mother, Mrs. Rena Costanzo; JOHN E. RITZENTHALER, '34; ROBERT J. FLINT, '33; H. EDWARD NESTLERODE; JOSEPH P. THELEN, '39 and wife Mary Ruth. Others included Miss Mary L. Ryan, Miss Mary T. Moran, Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Peterson, Miss Jane Farley, Mrs. George L. O'Donner and Mrs. Joseph M. McGinnis, most of whom are parents or guardians of students.

Grand Rapids and Western Michigan

Professor JOHN BRODERICK, assistant dean of the Notre Dame Law School, was guest speaker at the Universal Notre Dame Knight meeting of the N. D. Club of Grand Rapids and Western Michigan April 15.

Green Bay

CLYDE R. BUNKER was named Man of the Year by the Green Bay club at Universal Notre Dame Night, April 6. Bunker is a past-president of the Green Bay Holy Name Deanery, his parish society and a former three-state president of the Sulphite and Mill Workers Union.

BILL EARLEY, former backfield coach under FRANK LEAHY, outlined the 1959 prospects for JOE KUCHARICH's team and cleared up the mud on the TERRY BRENNAN dismissal.

Some 75 alumni and guests heard DICK CONLEY's interesting and informative slide-talk on his "Two-Year Trip Around the World On a Shoestring." Dick and a partner spent 22 months traveling completely around the globe. Dick said one of the highlights of the trip was a visit to the Bengal Missions in India where he heard of the Notre Dame victory over Oklahoma in 1957, 7-0.

Retiring president JOE NEUFELD introduced WALLY CHRISTMAN, incoming president. Serving with Wally are TOM MURPHY, vice-president; BOB SCHAEFER, Secretary and DR. DAN SHEA, treasurer.

New faces at the 36th annual affair included BOB NICKODEM, up from his bank in Sheboygan; LARRY RYAN, recent transfer from Milwaukee;

CHUCK KING, who moved from Beloit; JACK STONEMAN, down from Sturgeon Bay; JOHN HOFF, late of Milwaukee.

—TOM MURPHY, Vice-Pres.

Harrisburg

JIM ARMSTRONG, executive secretary of the Notre Dame Alumni Association and assistant director of the Foundation, addressed the Notre Dame Club of Harrisburg April 7 in the Penn-Harris Hotel. Officers present were DONALD R. MEEK, president; RICHARD D. CROWLEY, JR., vice-president; ROLAND H. BERGER, JR., secretary, and EDWARD R. ECKENRODE, JR., treasurer.

Hawaii

The University of Notre Dame Club of Hawaii celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night at a gathering held on April 17, 1959. It was a highly successful affair with more than 47 alumni and friends attending. The program included the installation of the 1959 officers and the introduction of all new members to the club. REV. FRANCIS D. BRIDENSTINE, C.S.C., chaplain at Schofield Barracks, was the guest of honor and the principal speaker for the evening. He spoke on the "Value of a Notre Dame Education." WALTER TAGAWA, '52, DON MACHADO, '50, and NEIL VASCONCELLOS, '54, were installed as president, vice-president, and treasurer, respectively. I was elected as secretary to fill the vacancy left by VAL CHUN, '54.

—RICHARD LEONG, Secy.

Hiawathaland

BILL EARLEY, former player and backfield coach under FRANK LEAHY, was guest speaker at Universal Notre Dame Night festivities of the Hiawathaland Club April 4 in Escanaba, Mich.

Houston

ED (MOOSE) KRAUSE was on hand for the Houston Club's Universal Notre Dame Night, at the River Oaks Country Club April 1, even though his plane arrived in Houston nearly three hours late. Nearly 150 attended the banquet. PAUL DOYLE, '36, was honored as Notre Dame Man of the Year and received a plaque. LEIGHTON YOUNG, outgoing president, gave a short talk, and CONROY SCOGGINS, master of ceremonies, introduced the new officers. They are: LARRY KELLY, president; JERRY ODDO, LEO LINBECK and DON McCRORY.

Indianapolis

A record crowd of over 400 was on hand for this year's Universal Notre Dame Club night in Indianapolis. The crowd gathered on April 7 at the Columbia Club to hear JOE KUCHARICH, head football coach, discuss university policy in regard to athletics and education. In the afternoon Coach Kuharich attended a press conference where he met many of the newspaper reporters in town. Joe made a lot of friends in Indianapolis and we certainly hope he returns very soon.

Much of the credit for a very successful N. D. night goes to TOM BULGER, vice-president, who was general chairman. TOM GARNEY, last year's recipient of our Man-of-the-Year award, was the toastmaster and he did a wonderful job.

New officers were elected. They are BOB WELCH, president; PAT FITZGERALD, vice-president; BILL MCGOWAN, secretary, and DICK OWENS, treasurer. Dick is the only incumbent and the only man in Indianapolis who can keep the club in black. The new officers will be helped by the addition of TOM CARNEY, LARRY TURNER, and LEO BARNHORST to the Board of Directors.

The other big highlight of the night was the announcement by JOHN ROCAP, of this year's recipient of the Indianapolis Man-of-the-Year award—JOHN O'CONNOR. Certainly no one more deserves the honor than John, who has served the local club in almost every capacity and who is a leader of civic, religious and political affairs in this part of the country. Significantly, he is serving this year on the National Alumni Board.

BACHLE, JR., was toastmaster and made the presentation of a "Man-of-the-Year" award to Chief R. V. Gray and the Jackson Police Department, represented at the dinner by Chief Gray and Officer O'Shaughnessy of the force. The police were honored for their many services to the people of Jackson, symbolized by a few spectacular savings of life and property.

Kankakee Valley

REV. CHARLES E. SHEEDY, C.S.C., dean of Notre Dame's College of Arts and Letters, was a guest speaker at Universal Notre Dame Night ceremonies of the Kankakee Valley Club on April 12.

Kansas City

With Lent following shortly after the Christmas season, the local club's activities were rather sparse from the Christmas Dance until the Universal Notre Dame Night function.

The annual Christmas Dance, this year being its seventh, was again held at the President Hotel in Kansas City. Starting at the usual 7:30 time, the bar was opened for "all you wanted" until 8:30, when the blinking lights signalled the beginning of the dinner hour. The 300 people, plus or minus a few, gathered to celebrate adjourned to the Grand Ballroom where they feasted on roast beef, and were entertained to the music of Les Copley and his orchestra. Highlight of the after dinner speeches was the presentation of a framed letter and tickets to the Duke-Notre Dame game to ROBERT METZLER, chairman of the annual Football Trip. Bob served as chairman this past year, and had the embarrassing task of trying to rid himself of a few extra tickets. It seems that it was too late to return them to the University, as set forth by BOB CAHILL, so the club framed them with the letter and presented it to him. The evening was ended around 1 a.m. after much enjoyable dancing.

After surviving the holidays as best possible, the club took a brief respite before showing the Hi-lites of 1958 early in February. About 40 ardent N. D. supporters jammed the basement of the Dan Hogerty Cocktail Lounge. Dan, being a good N. D. supporter himself, was more than glad to have the group, who also turned out to be pretty good supporters of Dan himself!

Lent then set in, and the members took to more serious matters, most of them being found at daily Mass throughout the city. Of course, as always, the St. Patrick's birthday party interrupted the solemnity of the season, as many of the members were found at the Famous and Hogerty Cocktail Lounges sipping the yearly version of green beer. This was the one day that all alumni really became Irish.

During the Lenten season, however, the officers and committeemen were not inactive, as plans were laid for the annual Universal Notre Dame Night affair that always highlights the years' activities. This year's guest was Mr. DICK BOWES, an official of the Notre Dame Foundation, and also a

CINCINNATI—The place is obviously Notre Dame, but Stephen P. Heckin (center), president of the Notre Dame Club of Cincinnati, presents the Club's check for $2,000 to Rev. Thomas J. past president of the Notre Dame Club of Kansas City, before being grabbed up by the University. Dick was able to once again renew old friendships here and gave a good insight to many of the more pressing questions presented to him by the local alumni. The affair was held on April 13 at the Black Angus Steak House in the south part of town. This year's affair was restricted to the male side of the alumni, and a nice crowd of approximately 75 were present.

Preceding Universal Notre Dame Night, ballots were sent to all members for the new officers, who are replaced every two years. The officers elected for the coming term were: President, JOHN T. MASSMAN, '56; Vice-Pres., JAMES H. DECOURSEY, '54; Secretary, GEO. J. HIGGINS, JR., '53; Treasurer, HAROLD SOLOMON, '47. Their plans were briefly stated at the Universal Notre Dame Night affair, and retiring President ED. AYLWARD was presented with a memento of his tenure.

Also coming fast to the front is the finals of the Scholarship Award of the William Rockhill Nelson Scholarship made each year during the latter part of the summer. Next time we hope to have the results.

Kentucky

On Sunday, March 1, the Notre Dame Club of Kentucky held a Communion Breakfast at St. Mary Magdalen Church in Louisville.

At our regular monthly meeting on March 24, Kentucky alumni were pleased to have as our guest MR. JAMES FRICK of the Foundation. Mr. Frick presented a most interesting and informative talk, and also brought with him movies of the highlights of last season's football games. BOB WILLENBRINK, '49, arranged to have a projector and screen available, and a very enjoyable evening was had by all.

The Club gathered on Universal Notre Dame Night at the Provincial House in Louisville on April 18, for an enjoyable dinner dance. Brother Thomas More, C.F.X., principal of Saint Xavier High School in Louisville, was our guest speaker. The approximately 85 couples who attended helped to make the affair a fine success, and our thanks go to DICK WILLENBRINK, '50, and LEO BROWN, '50, who handled the arrangements.

Our annual retreat to the Abbey of Our Lady of Gethsemani in Trappist, Ky., was scheduled for May 22 and 23 this year. Arrangements were handled by FRANK BLOEMER.

Mr. ED BOSLER, a prominent Catholic layman in Louisville, and father of Air Force Captain BOB BOSLER, '50, died recently. The Club gathered to say the rosary for the repose of his soul.

La Crosse

Our Universal Notre Dame Night celebration was held April 7 at the Cerise Club before a splendid turnout of members, their wives and guests. FATHER LOUIS PUTZ, C.S.C., of the University delivered the main address, which was enthusiastically received. It was a real pleasure to have Father Putz as our guest, and the many friends he has in this area welcomed the opportunity to visit with him. FREDERICK FUNK turned in an excellent performance as toastmaster, and JERRY HEBERLEIN, who recently took over the Cerise Club, did a splendid job of handling the affair.

In June we are holding our second annual summer dinner-dance at the Country Club. Engineered very capably again by JOHN (Pete) RAU, chairman, the function has proven itself a successful means of early summer relaxation for members and friends, and has also won for Pete a steady position as head of the gala event.

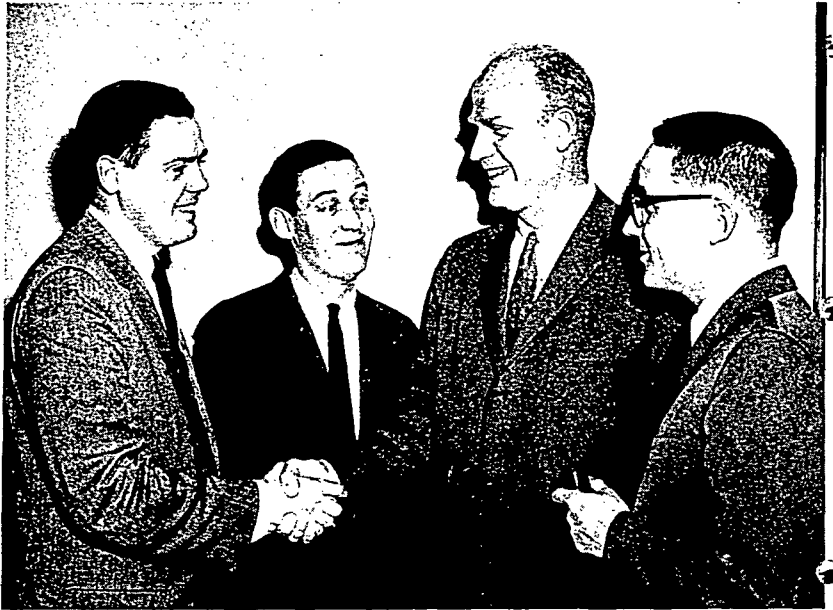

Congratulations were in order for president, JIMMY KRONER, on his announcement of a new addition to the Kroner household; regrets but best wishes to GENE SMITH, District Manager of Equitable Life Insurance Company, on his transfer to the Milwaukee office.

Members next point to the steak fry in September.

Lehigh Valley

For the third straight year the Universal Notre Dame Night celebration was a huge success. Over 200 alumni, students, and guests gathered for a Holy Hour at St. Catherine of Siena parish in Allentown on Saturday, April 4. Fr. EDWARD O'LOUGHLIN, pastor of St. Catherine's and new club chaplain, conducted the ceremonies. Following the Holy Hour, the group moved to the Hotel Traylor in Allentown for a dinner-dance.

Features of the evening included an address by Fr. GEORGE BERNARD, C.S.C., Vice-President of Student Affairs and the awarding of the "Notre Dame Man of the Year" award to Dr. LOUIS T. GABRIEL, JR., past president.

Fr. Bernard's address concerned the general theme of this year's Universal Notre Dame Night, "Tomorrow's Student."

Los Angeles

April 9 was the date of Los Angeles' Universal Notre Dame Night. That very famous gentleman who has stirred up the "Big Controversy" in Los Angeles, Dodger President, Walter O'Malley, was guest speaker. The Dodgers didn't open in Los Angeles until April 14 but Mr. O'Malley returned to Los Angeles early in order to speak to the Notre Dame Alumni. In the entertainment department there were some wonderful surprises. Top Hollywood personalities were lined up. Last, but not least by no means, we bestowed our Notre Dame Man-of-the-Year award for 1958 to that well-known and widely respected Notre Dame National Alumni Board Member and Bank of America Vice-President, GENE KENNEDY. The only business conducted that night was a very brief report on events of the past year and coming 1959 events, with special emphasis on the progress of our scholarship fund.

Maine

On April 2 we were privileged to sponsor the University Glee Club in the high school auditorium here in Lewiston. This being our first big venture, we were more than pleased with the results. The concert was sponsored for the benefit of our scholarship fund and was a financial success as well as a very enjoyable evening for those in attendance. A buffet supper was held at the home of RAY GELGER after the concert at which time the boys sang informally much to the delight of everyone.

The previous night a concert was held in Bangor, which this year is celebrating its centennial. This trip was the first by any Notre Dame Glee Club to Maine. The boys were certainly a credit to themselves and to the University and we in the Notre Dame Club of Maine look forward to another such trip in the not too distant future.

Incidentally, during the Lewiston concert a group of six Bates college girls known as "The Merry-manders," sang a group of popular songs.

—LEN TOBIN, Secy.

Memphis

On March 28 Memphis Club members turned out handsomely for a concert of the Notre Dame Band on its Easter trip.

Miami

The Miami Notre Dame Club had a highly successful special dinner-meeting on Monday, Feb. 23 in the University Club of the Urmeey, to honor a visit from the "wheels" of the University. Approximately sixty alumni and guests attended the stag affair at which we were honored in having Father TOM O'DONNELL, C.S.C., Assoc. Director of the Foundation, as principal speaker; JIM FRICK, Foundation Director District III; and MOOSE KRAUSE, Director of Athletics.

The following members of the Greater Miami Foundation Committee were on hand: FARIS COWART, State Governor; I. I. PROBST, City Chairman; ED HANLY, JR., HENRY KEEL, ED KELLY, CHARLIE MAHER, DAN ROWLANDS, JIM SMITH, BILL WELCH, and MIKE ZOROVICH, Father Tom gave us a very informative and inspiring talk on the Foundation and its aims for Notre Dame in the next ten years. He covered the plans for the use of the 66 million dollars the Foundation hopes to procure, stressing such items as endowment for increased faculty salaries to obtain the best possible teaching staff, research, student aid, new buildings, etc., AND the all-important item of alumni participation in the drive.

With considerable persuasion we managed to get Moose off the subject of how to catch sailfish (he boasts a 6'6" sail was "caught" by Big Moose who is only a couple inches shorter) — how the fencing team fared, the cross-country team, the tennis team — etc., etc., — to talk about a subject "known as" Football — and he didn't fence with the question about football coaches and related items — those of you who were there "got the word" — and I am sure enjoyed the past, present and future prospects of the Irish who will be here to meet Miami in '60 and perhaps in other years to follow. And, speaking of the Irish, we wound up the evening viewing the Highlights of 1958 season, which JIM FRICK was kind enough to bring along.

Among the guests were Dr. CHARLES MANNIN, J. F. WAGNER, GEORGE LEWIS, JUDGE RAY NATHAN, DEAN RICHARDS, '57, of N.Y.C., and a very special guest WILLIAM D. JAMIESON, Class of 1905 who honored us at the head table. . . a few of the alumni included JAMES F. X. O'BRIEN, CLAYTON DUERR, JIM BOYLE, P. M. SCHAFER, ED J. PISTRY, ANDY MCKAY, BILL HUNTLEY, DAVID A. RUSSELL, RALPH MARIANI.

At the January meeting your club viewed the full length movie of the N. D.-So. Cal. game. . . projection equipment courtesy of "Silent Sadowski with chief splicer Kelly at the controls. . . BOB HALPIN, BOB HANDTE, CHARLIE DONAHUE, JOHN WAGNER, JIM WILSON, BILL STREETER and other confederates joined in backing the Irish whilst guests Dr. CHARLES MONNIN and CHARLOS VASQUEZ held down the cheering end for their Southern Cal.

On Sunday, Jan. 18 your club celebrated one of the most important events of its yearly calendar. . . that of annual Communion Sunday. It is a credit to all of you who attended in that we had the largest turnout in the club's history. . . a huge success brought about by the fact that His Excellency BISHOP COLEMAN F. CARROLL, the first Bishop of the new Diocese of Miami, honored us in the saying of the Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral, and in his speaking to us at our breakfast at the Top O'The Columbus. We are most appreciative of the time His Excellency took from his demanding schedule, and we likewise thank Fr. Joseph McLaughlin, the Bishop's Secretary, who also attended the affair. We are indeed pleased at the photo coverage given us by The Florida Catholic, and by the North Dade Journal. The editor of the soon-to-be-published The Voice, weekly Catholic paper of the new Miami Diocese is JOHN WARD, a fellow alumnus of Notre Dame.

The highlights of the April meeting were the awarding of the Notre Dame Club of Greater Miami annual Most Valuable Player Trophy to Steve Kolski, a tackle on the Archbishop Curley team, and the awarding of engraved gold footballs to Ed McCormick (tackle) and Guy Carboneau (end), both from Curley, and to Jim Ellison (back) of Christopher Columbus High. These four lads from the Miami area drew four of the eleven positions on the All-Florida Catholic Football Team for 1958, according to a poll of coaches and sports writers by our Club Selection committee, headed by ED KELLY. The presentation of the gold footballs was made by President Charlie Maher at the dinner given the boys at the University Club. The presentation of the Most Valuable Player award was made jointly by MONTY STICKLES and GEORGE IZO of the Notre Dame Varsity, who were honored guests of the occasion. Presentations of gold footballs to the other seven selectees will be made in their respective areas.

Both Stickles and Izo gave us splendid reports on the players view of Notre Dame's football prospects for the '59 season, and we expect to hear great things of these lads to add to their already fabulous achievements on the gridiron.

On March 17th your officers and directors attended, as guests of the Committee of 100, a special St. Patrick's Day affair at the Committee of 100 Clubhouse on Miami Beach. The speaker of the evening was Father JOYCE, Executive Vice-President of the University. Also attending was JIM FRICK.

We extend our sincerest sympathy to the PAUL GLASS family on the death of their daughter, Missy.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. BERNIE LYONS on their recent marriage.

Among the guests was a former member of our Club — AL KESSING of the Jacksonville Club. It's always a pleasure to have you, Al. Other guests included DOUGLAS G. COCHENNOUR, TOM O'HOLLORAN, TOM SOMMA; and of the forty in attendance we spotted D. L. TOKER, RAY McADAMS, DON JARRETT, MACK SCHAEFER, BOB HANDTE, GEORGE KENNARD, JOHN LEWIS, BOB REILLY, MIKE O'NEIL, I. I. PROBST, MIKE ZELLER, JOHN KOTTE, BILL STREETER, JIM WILSON, BILL McSHANE, DAN ROWLANDS, BILL WELCH, MIKE ZOROVICH, ART BERGEN, and TOM KAYLOR.

Cousins, we wound up the evening with an election that would have been a stumper for the author of Roberts Rules of P. P. — but when the smoke cleared away, CHARLIE MAHER announced the results as follows: New Directors — ED KELLY (3-year term); HENRY KEEL, (2-year term); JERRY HOLLAND, FRED PIOWATY, and JOHN THORNTON (each for a one-year term). Hold-over Directors are MIKE ZOROVICH and ED HANLEY. To the newly-elected: "Salute!"

Also a duly-executed amendment to the By-Laws was passed in which the term of office for Club Officers is changed from two years to one year, elections to be in January.

Michigan City

The Notre Dame Club of Michigan City observed Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner for the members, their wives, and guests on Saturday, April 4.

Guest speaker of the evening was Mr. DAVE SLATTERY, executive secretary to JOE KUHA-RICH. In keeping with this year's theme, Mr. Slattery gave a very informative and timely speech entitled "Tomorrow's Athlete at Notre Dame." In his speech he outlined the guiding principles and subsequent results of the true relationship between athletics and academics at Notre Dame and how this relationship would be carried on by the new football coaching staff.

Mr. Slattery was introduced by J. EMMETT MILLER and a short welcoming address was given by Mayor FRANCIS G. FEDDER, both of the local club.

On March 4 an organizational meeting for the coming year was held. Chairmen and committees were appointed by the new officers for the year's coming events. It was also decided that barring any unforeseen difficulties the club would sponsor its biennial train trip to the Notre Dame-Purdue game this fall. All Notre Dame (and Purdue) supporters in the area are welcomed to participate in the trip.

—W. C. ZEHNPFENNIG, Secy.

Midland-Odessa

Athletic Director EDWARD "MOOSE" KRAUSE was the guest of honor at Universal Notre Dame Night dinner-dance of Notre Dame Club of Midland-Odessa, held at the Midland Country Club on April 4. The meeting was conducted by Club President JOHN BUCKLEY of Midland, and BYRNE O'NEILL was in charge of arrangements.

Milwaukee

On April 14 the Universal Notre Dame Night meeting of the Notre Dame Club of Milwaukee featured a talk by DR. MARIO GOGLIA, new dean of the Notre Dame College of Engineering. Also in town was ALLAN POWERS of the Notre Dame Foundation.

Mississippi

Mississippi Notre Dammers made a pilgrimage to New Orleans on March 29 for a concert of the Notre Dame Band.

Mohawk Valley

The annual Universal Notre Dame Night observance of the Notre Dame Club of the Mohawk Valley was held Saturday evening, April 11, at The Beeches in Rome, N.Y.

Approximately 130 guests attended the dinner-dance affair and heard principal speaker JIM ARMSTRONG, '25, secretary of the alumni association, state that "most colleges today are interested in the solid, all-around boy who wants to share the benefits of his college education with his community."

TONY GIRUZZI, '36, served as chairman of the event. JAMES T. GRIFFIN, '34, prominent Rome attorney, did a terrific job as toastmaster, while FATHER FRANCIS WILLENBURG, head of the Catholic Charities in Utica, gave the invocation.

Speaking on the topic, "Tomorrow's Student," Armstrong stressed the idea that a well-prepared youth today need not worry about being a genius to get into college. "Today's college student has more seriousness than yesterday's," he said, "and less tendency to bury himself. He doesn't want to succeed for success itself but to achieve a place in life." Because of this changing goal, Armstrong said, it is necessary for parents and counsellors to step in early to aid young men in their college preparation.

Area committee members assisting Giruzzi were BILL LYNCH, '54, Rome; DR. DANIEL C. SHAUGHNESSY, '30, and DR. DONALD A. GAVAGAN, '42, Herkimer; JOHN J. McCANN, '50, Iliou; ROBERT BLOOM, '54, Oneida; LOUIS P. CLARK, '34, Yorkville; L. DANIEL CALLAN, '50, New Hartford; FRANK W. DONALTY, '32, EDWARD A. REAGAN, '42, and EDWARD J. SWEENEY, '30, all of Utica.

DANIEL WATERBURY, '44, club president, and his wife were also at the speakers' table along with treasurer ROGER LEMKE, '58, and Mrs. Lemke.

On Sunday morning JIM ARMSTRONG and his charming wife attended Mass and had breakfast in Utica with KEN MURPHY, '54, club secretary, and Mrs. Murphy. The Armstrongs then left for the remainder of their eastern swing.

Congratulations, incidentally, are in order for two brand new fathers in the club. BILL LYNCH, '54, and ROGER LEMKE, '58, were each presented with baby daughters recently. Both are doing fine (the fathers, we mean).

—KENNETH F. MURPHY, Secy.

Muskegon

FRANCIS X. (TIM) BRADLEY, assistant dean of the Graduate School in charge of research and former acting director of Lobund Institute, was the guest speaker at Universal Notre Dame Night festivities of the Notre Dame Club of Greater Muskegon, Mich., April 6.

DENVER—Universal Notre Dame Night with the Denver Notre Dame Club at Lakewood Country Club April 6 featured such guests (l. to r.) as Steven L. McNichols, Governor of Colorado; Most Rev. Urban J. Vehr, Archbishop of Denver, and Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., President of Notre Dame.

Naugatuck Valley

Notre Dame men in the Waterbury, Conn., area, gathered in Hamden with New Haven alumni for a joint celebration of Universal Notre Dame Night on April 21. Yale Professor Emeritus Dr. Albert E. Burke was the featured guest. WILLIAM R. DWYER, Waterbury, a celebrated architect and citizen, was named Naugatuck Valley's Notre Dame Man of the Year.

New Haven

EDWARD A. BYRNE, a New Haven school teacher, was honored as the Man of the Year for 1959 by the New Haven Alumni Club of Notre Dame University at its annual Universal N.D. Night held at the Carriage Drive Inn, Hamden, on April 21.

He was presented with a scroll from the University by JOSEPH BENOIT, president of the local club.

WILLIAM R. DWYER, a Waterbury architect employed in New Haven, was similarly honored by the Naugatuck Valley Club who co-sponsored the event.

Dr. Albert E. Burke, noted TV personality, was the main speaker.

New Haven, Waterbury and Hartford area graduates and friends were among the 150 who attended the affair.

Mr. Byrne graduated from N.D. with Class of 1926, cum laude and is immediate past president of the New Haven Club. He recently was elected to the Board of Directors for five years and has been active in many civic and political circles for many years. He and his family are active parishioners of St. Aedan's Church, New Haven.

Byrne is married to the former Miss Teresa Farrell of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and the father of two daughters. He is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y.

New Jersey

On April 6 the New Jersey Club was host to JOE KUCHARICH, head football coach, and REV. CHESTER A. SOLETA, C.S.C., vice-president for academic affairs at the University, for Universal Notre Dame Night.

New Mexico

Governor John B. Burroughs helped the Notre Dame Club of New Mexico celebrate Universal Notre Dame night by attending our banquet Friday, April 10. Judging from the way he put the University's athletic director on the spot for a pair of good tickets to a future Notre Dame game, he seems to be one of our loyal "subway alumnus."

Nearly 200 alumni and friends of Notre Dame greatly enjoyed the lobster tail dinner and the entertaining and moving talk delivered by the principal speaker of the evening, "MOOSE" KRAUSE.

A bouquet of thanks is also due to TONY DE-COLA, political editor of the Albuquerque Tribune, for his admirable performance as master of ceremonies.

The "Man of the Year" award went to Paul W. Salazar, former juvenile probation officer for Bernalillo County.

Even more important than the fact that the banquet was a financial success, was the fact that those in attendance enjoyed the evening immensely and took home a better appreciation of the aims and status of the University of Notre Dame.

New Orleans

The Notre Dame Club of New Orleans had two visits from the campus within two weeks. First the Notre Dame Band, under the direction of ROBERT F. O'BRIEN, visited New Orleans on March 29, then went on to Alexandria. A little more than a week later the Club celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night on April 7. JIM FRICK of the Notre Dame Foundation was the guest speaker, evaluating the performance of Notre Dame in the academic arena with his standards of a great university. The toastmaster was Club President JIM SMITH, who, with the other officers, will guide the Club for another year.

New York

The annual Communion Breakfast was held on Sunday, December 7, at the Park Lane Hotel. Over two hundred Notre Dame men and their families and friends enjoyed this always pleasant affair which, this year, was chairmanned by GORDON FORESTER.

Club members, as were all Notre Damers, were saddened by the untimely death of one of the University's most popular personalities, the beloved JACK LAVELLE. They join all those who knew Jack in offering their sincere sympathy to Jack's family. (The Board of Governors voted a $500.00 contribution to the Jack Lavelle Fund. Any club or alumnus wishing to make a contribution may do so by mailing it to "The Jack Lavelle Fund, c/o Notre Dame Club of New York, 1600 Broadway, New York 19, New York.")

The annual meeting of the General Membership was held on Jan. 15 at the New York Athletic Club. The Board of Governors elected the following officers to serve for 1959: President—JAMES MACDEVITT, JR.; Executive Vice-President—GORDON FORESTER; Secretary—WILLIAM V. CUDDY; Treasurer—JAMES SPELLMAN; Vice-President, Long Island—JOSEPH WURZLER; Vice-President, Westchester—FRED CARIDEO; Vice-President, Catholic Action—EDWARD NEAHER; Vice President, Notre Dame Foundation—WILLIAM MURPHY; Vice-President, Trust Fund—JAMES SHEILS; Vice-President, Trust Fund—HUBERT SCHAFLY; Vice-President, Placement—GEORGE FRAZIER; Vice-President, Career Clinic—JOHN DUNLAVEY; Vice-President, Public Relations—DONN DUFFY; Ass't. Secretary, Manhattan—MICHAEL MALLARDI; Ass't. Secretary, Long Island—JOHN KEARNEY; Ass't. Secretary, Westchester—JOSEPH DURKIN; Ass't. Treasurer—JOSEPH DERRICO; Chaplain—REV. CHARLES LEE.

The 1959 Country Squire Station Wagon which was given away at the annual meeting was won by Philip Ochsner of Levittown. JOHN BOYLE sold the winning ticket. The seller's prize of a $500.00 U. S. Savings Bond was won by JOHN THOMAS, JR., '58. Proceeds from the raffle were deposited with the Club's Trust Fund.

The Long Island Chapter sponsored a very successful dance on February 8th at the Garden City Hotel honoring JOHN B. KANALEY, '09.

A group of club members saw Notre Dame overwhelm Army (on the basketball court) on February 9 at West Point. Proceeds from the sale of tickets went to the Jack Lavelle Fund.

Two successful retreats were held this year: one in February at the Loyola Retreat House, and one in March at the Bishop Malloy Retreat House.

The affair of the year, Universal Notre Dame Night at the Park Lane Hotel, was, as usual, a great success. Co-chairmen this year were BUD MULVEY and DAN CUNNINGHAM. The principal speakers were REV. JOHN P. KELLY, Executive Director of N.C.C.S., and FATHER SOLETA, Vice-President in Charge of Academic affairs at the University.

JIM SHEILS, '35, was honored as the "Notre Dame Man of the Year."

Jim has been an active member of the New York Club for over twenty years. He is a former Club President and is presently a member of the National Alumni Board.

Jim, who served as Commissioner of Investigations of New York City for several years, is a partner of Gregory & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange. He and his wife, the former Margaret Lambert, together with their nine children, reside in Jackson Heights, N.Y.

A special word of thanks to BUD MULVEY for his work on this affair, as well as for his accomplishments as last year's President.

Two Spring Smokers were held, one on May 13 at the Garden City Hotel, and one on May 14 at the Westchester Country Club. JOE KUCHARICH was the principal speaker on both occasions.

Other coming events include a pool party on Long Island and a Golf Outing in Westchester.

—WILLIAM V. CUDDY, Secy.

North Carolina

On April 4 the Notre Dame Club of North Carolina had its first full-fledged event since reorganization when REV. THOMAS J. BRENNAN, C.S.C., flew down to Greensboro, N.C., April 4 for Universal Notre Dame Night. A group consisting mainly of the Board of Directors met Father Brennan at the airport and met in the afternoon at the home of E. A. "BUZZ" HASSETT, where Father Brennan was elected honorary chaplain of the Club. Dinner was at the Plantation Supper Club, arranged by Vice-President JOE SHEA. President JOHN O'CONNELL also took part in the program. Father Tom said Sunday Mass at Our Lady of Grace Church, celebrated a Children's Mass on Monday and also talked to students at Notre Dame High School before departing for a meeting in Virginia.

North Florida

President FRED BAUMER and other officers welcomed Alumni Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG for U.N.D. Night at the Air Station in Jacksonville, Fla., on April 23.

Oklahoma City

The Notre Dame Club of Oklahoma City staged its annual Universal Notre Dame Night banquet on April 1, 1959, at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club. It was attended by approximately 160 alumni and friends. In attendance was His Excellency, the Most Reverend Victor J. Reed, Bishop of Oklahoma City and Tulsa. WALTER DUNCAN was the Master of Ceremonies, and BUCKY O'CONNOR did a magnificent job of being the Banquet Chairman. Our special guest, Mr. JOE KUCHARICH, made the principal address which was enjoyed and appreciated by all in attendance.

The "Man of the Year" award was given to Mr. F. C. LOVE of Kerr-McGee Oil Co. Mr. Love, unfortunately, was in Australia at the time, and the plaque was accepted by Mrs. Love, on his behalf, after a splendid presentation by Monsignor Murtaugh, St. Francis Church, Oklahoma City. Mr. Love was given this award for his very outstanding services to the Church and to civil affairs in Oklahoma.

As is our custom here in Oklahoma City, a selection was made for the most outstanding Catholic boy in the Catholic schools of Oklahoma, and it was awarded to Richard L. Schiltz of St. Mary's School in Ponca City. Richard possesses marvelous all-around outstanding characteristics of which all Notre Dame men like to be proud.

The publicity for this occasion was exceedingly well handled by Mrs. Gloria Bremkamp. The following TV and Radio stations were on hand with pen and camera for this fine event: The Associated Press, the United Press, WKY-TV, KWTW, KOCO-TV, KTOK Radio, KOMA, Oklahoman and Times, The Southwest Courier, and the Advertiser. There was a general release press conference at 2:30 in the afternoon preceding the banquet, held in Mr. Walter Duncan's office, in which Mr. Kuharich was interviewed for television and the newspapers by many of the above mentioned.

All members of the Notre Dame Club of Oklahoma City are to be especially commended for the excellent work performed in making this the most outstanding Universal Notre Dame Night ever attained in the Oklahoma City area.

Orange County

A graduate N. D. lawyer now guides the young but progressive Orange County Club. DICK MURPHY, '53, took the gavel from outgoing presy BILL VANGEN, '49, at the 2nd annual U.N.D. Night festivities at the Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim, Calif., April 13.

Others installed on U.N.D. Night were: RALPH DIXON, '51, as a Veep, replacing JACK MAHON, '42, WALLY ANDREWS, '46, will take over the money matters from JOHN GLAAB, '47, and DICK COURY, '51, highly successful football and baseball coach of Mater Dei High School, will try to sandwich in time to write this column for BADEN POWELL, '32.

"Either the Disneyland Hotel expands its spacious dining rooms or we should plan on moving next year to larger quarters!" So KEENE FITZPATRICK, '13, was heard to say.

More than doubling last year's attendance, alumni associate members and friends were hard pressed to find seats due to the overflow crowd. Arrangements had been made for "slightly more than 100" according to DICK MURPHY, '53, a real 4-star general chairman who was perspiring profusely when the 125th cash customer walked in a good half hour before BILL VANGEN, '49, president, asked the crowd to be seated.

Murphy, young and energetic, deserves "the Laetare Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters" for his exceptional work. He left little doubt in the minds of those present that he would do another great job as Club President for 1959-60. But while a young man led them it was the "old timers" who drew the crowd and stole the show.

MAURICE "CLIPPER" SMITH, '22, Rock's original watch charm guard who opened the holes for the immortal GEORGE GIPP, far surpassed press notices as a "brilliant after dinner speaker" and sold the crowd on N. D.

Southern Californians refer to LEO WARD, '22, as "Mr. Notre Dame" and as our unncee he left no doubt about it. Leo came down from Los Angeles to meet old and new friends and, we think, get away from the smog for a few hours.

LOU RYMUS, '43, line coach of the professional L. A. Rams also had a few noteworthy comments to make. It was strictly a typical N. D. football gathering and immensely enjoyed by all.

A special highlight of the affair was a telephone conversation between BILL VANGEN and FATHER HESBURGH, C.S.C., speaking from his office on the campus. Father Hesburgh won many new friends for himself and the University with his timely comments on activities at school. Some day we hope Father or one of his official representatives can join us for one of our big functions.

Local highlight of the night was awarding our first annual "Man of the Year" award to a humble but very deserving young man named DICK COURY, '51, highly successful coach of Mater Dei High School in Santa Ana. Dick and his football and baseball teams have won so many parochial titles in the past three years the other schools in the league are probably praying for the day for Mater Dei to become strictly a girls' school.

Father Michael Hanlon, principal of Mater Dei, in giving the award, summed up the feelings of all when he said: "If Dick should quit coaching tomorrow we would do everything possible to keep him on at Mater Dei because of the powerful influence he has on the student body."

Club Chaplain FATHER ROBERT ROSS, C.S.C., of Blessed Sacrament Parish, Westminster, opened and closed the dinner with his blessing.

Dancing followed until the wee hours to the enchanting music of the Dick Carey Trio.

Among those on hand we chatted with ALEX SHELLGUS, Dr. LEO TURGEON, LEO WARD, LOU RYMUS, BILL HOUSTON, TONY SCHAFER, all good paying members of the Los Angeles Club. BOB MATTOCK, soon to return to his coaching job in Regina, Sask., Canada, and JIM MARTIN, more than upheld their own as "members of the team" but we can't understand why the "Clipper" admitted he was glad that he wasn't playing against young fellows like Martin, WALLY FRAMPTON (another import from L.A.) and Rymkus. After all Clipper weighed in at "about 160, wringing wet and burdened with medals and Rock's foot on the scale" in those other days.

All in all it was a tremendous affair. One that will live long in the memory of all in Orange County.

Okay Mr. Coury, Man of the Year for 1959, this is your baby now!

Oregon

Sixty-six alumni, wives, parents, and friends met at the Multnomah Hotel, Portland, to celebrate Universal Notre Dame Night in Oregon. Long-distance attendance honors went to RAY MARTIN and wife from Roseburg. Ray has headed the Knights of Columbus' participation in the National Organization for Decent Literature. Making their first Universal Night appearance since coming to Oregon were FRANK J. TREWELLER, '32, and wife, JOHN T. MYSER, '58, and wife, and MIKE DILLEY, '47. Frank is a berry farmer "down the Willamette Valley." John is sales rep for Minnesota Mining's Scotch Tape division. Mike is with a leading local grocery and variety chain. We hope they all will continue to be active in Oregon N.D. affairs.

REV. JOHN T. BIGER, C.S.C., all dressed up in Chaplain's uniform, led us in grace at meals. President CHARLIE SLATT, '32, told us of his three visits to the campus during his first year in office. We "furriners," so far from N. D., like to hear first-hand accounts of present-day conditions and attitudes there. One reason, he said, for nomination of a majority of the officers and board of the Club from among young alumni is to keep strong the ties with Notre Dame. Elected to office were the following: Vice-Pres., JUSTIN L. MORAN, '34; Treas., PAUL NEWMAN, '55; Secy., TOM MAGEE, '32. Named to Board of Directors were: JAMES CARR MORAN, '56; VICTOR T. NEAL, '48, and JOHN J. SACOMANO, '52. All have been active in the events scheduled by Pres. Slatt and the Club expects a good year under their leadership.

Overheard among the highballs: TOM TRIXLER, '47, and family will soon be leaving us as Tom is moving his brokerage business headquarters to San Francisco. His brother, PETE TRIXLER, '48, will be returning from Georgia to take over the branch here. Oregon's loss is Cal's gain — best of luck, Tom! "JUDD" MORAN has been named Secy-Treas. of the Oregon unit of the National Assn. of Oil Jobbers. He and brother JIM MORAN are breaking into the family fuel oil business. OTIS JORDAN, '51, recently landed several sizeable road-building contracts for his Pacific Concrete Co. JIM MALETIS, '50, (vividly remembered by Oliver Hotel management) serves as legal advisor to Otis. Jim and his pretty wife are expecting their second child. Other recent family additions: on March 25, Angela, number five for MIKE CARVER, '43; on Feb. 7, Louis Hunt Moran II to JUDD MORAN and wife Carol. Judge FRANK LONERGAN, '04, is recovering nicely from the serious auto injuries received last month. He will welcome visitors at Providence Hospital. Postmaster ALBERT M. "DUKE" HODLER, '23, his traveling companion, was less seriously hurt. In Oregon — roses to the ladies: Mrs. PETER C. MURPHY, SR., Mrs. LOUIS H. MORAN, and Mrs. ARTHUR L. STEVENS for their wonderful work on the Club's Christmas Dance. Passing thought: How about a Notre Dame Day at our Oregon Centennial, gang?

—TOM MAGEE, '32, Secy.

Palm Beach County

Back in March application was made to the Alumni Office for the reorganization of a Notre Dame Club in Palm Beach, Fla., after a meeting of local alumni assembled by REV. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL and JIM FRICK of the Notre Dame Foundation. The trustees appointed to found the Club are WILLIAM B. MADDEN, '42; JOHN P. HOSINSKI, '35, and TIMOTHY D. O'HARA, '54.

Peoria

The Notre Dame Club of Peoria has had a full schedule of events since the last report. In November a Football Smoker was held at Holy Family Auditorium and was attended by 150 members and guests. The "Highlights of 1957" were shown and narrated by CORWIN CLATT, '47, former Notre Dame All-American. A second film titled "Rockne of Notre Dame" was also shown. Food and refreshments were served following the movies.

On December 21 the annual Christmas Dance was held and was attended by 80 members and their wives and dates.

INDIANAPOLIS—Some of the headliners of the Indianapolis Club's U.N.D. Night were Tom Bulger, '37, chairman and retiring vice president; Joe Kuharich, '38, Notre Dame head football coach and guest speaker of the evening; Leo Barnhorst, '49, outgoing president, and Tom Carney, '37, toastmaster.

A St. Patrick's Day Dance was held on March 17 at the Country Club of Peoria. The affair was attended by 100 members, guests, and their wives and dates. A cocktail hour preceded the dance. The success of this affair assured a permanent spot on the Peoria Club calendar for this event.

On April 6 Universal Notre Dame Night was observed by the Peoria Alumni at Vonachen's Junction. BILL "RED" GLEASON, feature sports writer for the Chicago American, was the principal speaker and entertained the audience of 90 persons with his interpretation of the "Brennan story" and prospects for the coming year. Mr. Gleason's talk was preceded by a cocktail hour and dinner.

The success of this year's club activities definitely re-establishes the Notre Dame Club of Peoria as one of the area's leading groups of this kind. The greater share of the credit for the success and revival of the club this past year is due to the continued efforts of our president, WILLIAM CLARK, '47, who spearheaded most of the functions personally.

The Club met in May at Pabst Brewery's "33" Room to elect the officers for the coming year.

—JOHN R. POWERS, JR., '53, Secy.

Philadelphia

April was a busy month in Philadelphia. On April 8, Laetare Sunday, the Philadelphia Club made its traditional presentation of vestments to a local pastor, this time to Father McHale of St. Elizabeth's Parish. The Malvern Retreat took place on April 10, and on April 14 was celebrated the 36th annual edition of Philadelphia's own Universal Notre Dame Night.

JOHN FRANCIS CARDINAL O'HARA, C.S.C., Archbishop of Philadelphia, former president of the University, was honored as "Notre Dame Man of the Year" at a U.N.D. Night dinner-dance at the Bellevue-Stratford, "because of his accomplishments and for making Notre Dame known throughout America."

"I'm a little too old to be out during the day, and a little too young to be out late at night." Thus the Cardinal apologized for his early departure with a blessing before the ceremony was completed.

FATHER HESBURGH, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame, was with the Cardinal during a standing ovation from the 400 guests at the affair. Father Hesburgh gave the principal address in which he listed the values a Notre Dame man should pursue. The black-tie affair began with cocktails and was followed by dancing.

JOHN F. MOORHEAD was inducted as president for 1959, succeeding WALTER J. GROTHAUS, JR. Other new officers are WILLIAM A. WHITESIDE, vice president; BARTON B. JOHNSON, treasurer, and GEORGE V. MITCHELL, JR., secretary.

AMBROSE F. "BUD" DUDLEY was toastmaster. JAMES B. LEYDON, outgoing secretary, did a magnificent job as general chairman, aided by committee chairmen JOHN H. NEESON, JR.; JOHN P. DEMPSEY, L. ELLENTERI, BARTON JOHNSON, WILLIAM A. WHITESIDE, CLIFFORD E. PRODEHL, GERALD A. VOIT, GEORGE MITCHELL and WILLIAM G. BURNS. Special thanks also were due to Mrs. Neeson and the Women's Committee. The event was matched by superb decorations, food, etc., and by beautifully printed announcements and souvenir programs.

On May 22 a luncheon was held at the Barclay honoring CHARLIE DOUGHERTY on his appointment as Secretary of Revenue for the State of Pennsylvania by Governor Lawrence.

Phoenix

Athletic Director EDWARD W. KRAUSE was a guest of the Notre Dame Club of Phoenix April 8 for Universal Notre Dame Night. The dinner was held in the Corral Room of the Hotel Westward Ho and was arranged by ROBERT D. KENDALL, DR. DALE STANNARD and ALBERT A. FICKS, under the direction of Club President JOHN R. DOLAN.

Pittsburgh

The thirty-sixth Annual Universal Notre Dame Night was commemorated April 7 at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. The Most Reverend John J. Wright, D.D., the Bishop of Pittsburgh, was the guest of honor and the main speaker. JAMES BEYMER was the chairman for the dinner and DR. LEO D. O'DONNELL was the toastmaster.

EL PASO—Notre Dame men, St. Mary's alumnae and friends who attended the Universal Notre Dame celebration of the El Paso Club, in the Hilton Hotel April 7, surround guest Ed Krause, athletic director at Notre Dame.

Prior to commencing his address, His Excellency appointed FATHER THOMAS KIRBY, Class of 1952, as Chaplain for the Club. His Excellency also explained that he was given an Honorary Degree from the University in June of 1955 when he gave a commencement address.

Bishop Wright's talk on the rights, privileges, and duties of the Catholic Alumni was very well received by the 150 members and guests in attendance.

This year's dinner was the most successful in recent years.

Mr. John Deedy, the recently appointed Editor of the Pittsburgh Catholic and Reverend Daniel Brennan, the Executive Editor, were also guests of honor at the Universal Notre Dame Night affair.

—DONALD W. BEBENEK, Secy.

Rhode Island and S. E. Massachusetts

The Notre Dame Club of Rhode Island and Southeastern Massachusetts held its observance of Universal Notre Dame Night on Wednesday, April 8, at the I. J. Bouffard Council, Knights of Columbus Home in North Providence. The event was a dinner dance attended by over 100 persons. Guest speakers were REV. CHESTER A. SOLETA, C.S.C., Vice-President in charge of Academic affairs, and ADAM WALSH, Captain of Notre Dame's 1924 Four Horsemen football team. Chairman of the event was DR. LEO COLEMAN, who was assisted by JAMES McMULLEN, ANDREW McMAHON, PHILIP TOOLE, EDWARD DENNING, PAUL HOFFLER, JOHN McLAUGHLIN and JOSEPH McDONALD, JR. Others who spoke at the affair were Rhode Island's Lieutenant Governor, John A. Notte, Jr. and Cornelius C. Moore, a leading Rhode Island attorney.

The Club's annual Man of the Year Award was presented to club member JAMES E. MURPHY, '49, by Past President PAUL HOFFLER. Jim, an attorney by profession, is a past president of the Club, having served two terms, and presently is a member of the Board of Directors. He is married to the former Corinne O'Brien and by reunion time this year will be the father of three children. Over the years, he has been an active supporter of all club functions. In January of 1958 he brought credit to his University and himself when, as a delegate to a Rhode Island Convention, he brought to the attention of the Convention a flaw in the wording of a proposed constitutional amendment which apparently had been missed by the other 199 delegates.

New club officers, elected at a previous meeting and installed at the dinner, were JAMES McMULLEN, '36, president; JOHN P. MAGUIRE, '42, vice-president; PHILIP B. TOOLE, '52, treasurer, and EDWARD P. DENNING, '50, secretary.

—EDWARD P. DENNING, Secy.

Rochester

JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, was a guest speaker at the Rochester Club's Universal Notre Dame Night dinner-dance April 4 at the Oak Hill Country Club.

Installed as president to succeed JOHN R. KLEF was JOHN F. BURKE of Brighton. CHARLES J. O'BRIEN was honored as Rochester's Notre Dame Man of the Year. Mr. and Mrs. RICHARD T. SULLIVAN and Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT C. ODENBACH were co-chairmen of the event.

Saginaw Valley

The Notre Dame Club of the Saginaw Valley celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a purely local get-together, one feature of which was a showing of the Notre Dame Football Highlights.

St. Joseph Valley

Since the last issue and the Monogram Banquet the St. Joe Valley Club has celebrated three traditional events. First, the annual Rockne Communion Breakfast was held on campus April 5. Immediately following the Rockne Memorial Mass held at Sacred Heart Church members met at the Morris Inn for breakfast. Sportscaster VINCE DOYLE was master of ceremonies and introduced President JOHN CACKLEY to a short business meeting, during which BURNIE BAUER, JOE HANNAN, DON FISHER and DICK RILEY were nominated for the board of directors and CHARLIE CALLAHAN was named to fill an unexpired term. JOE KUCHARICH and BILL CERNEY were the programmed speakers, describing the effects of KNUTE ROCKNE'S example on their lives and coaching careers. The members prayed for DICK MIGELI, recently deceased sports writer for the South Bend Tribune, and discussed returning the Rockne Mass to its traditional site in the Dillon Hall Chapel, then adjourned to Highland cemetery to pay respects at the graves of departed coaches KNUTE ROCKNE, JOHN NICHOLSON and GEORGE KEOGAN.

Secondly, Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated in the St. Joseph Valley on April 21. The University's executive vice president REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., was the principal speaker, and FRANK E. SULLIVAN, '49, was awarded a scroll as Notre Dame Man of the Year, "outstanding Notre Dame alumnus in the community." Making the award was the chairman of the selection committee, HERBERT E. JONES,

Notre Dame's athletic business manager. A life member of the insurance honor group, the Million Dollar Round Table, Frank Sullivan was named last year as the Outstanding Young Man by the South Bend Jaycees. He was general chairman of the 1958 United Fund Torch Drive and has participated in many other community projects, the hospital drive, Moreau Seminary drive, etc.

JOHN CACKLEY, outgoing president, was toastmaster and officiated in the installation of 1959-60 officers and introducing them to the 125 members and wives at the meeting. The officers include: R. A. GOEPPFRICH, president; E. J. MEEHAN, JR., vice-president; FRANK A. DEITLE, secretary, and JOSEPH E. HICKEY, treasurer; CLARENCE J. (JAKE) KLEIN, N.D. baseball coach, honorary president, and REV. JOHN REEDY, C.S.C., editor of AVE MARIA magazine, chaplain. A part of the program was a report by trust officer ALBERT W. MCGANN on the state of the Valley Club's leading scholarship trust fund.

The third project of the Club, the annual spring Varsity-Old Timers game for the benefit of the scholarship fund, was an exciting preview of the 1959 football season, with JOE KUCHARICH's varsity piling up a two-touchdown lead over the alumni players.

Rome

The chief occasion to report is the Second Annual St. Patrick's Day Party. "Bright and Early" on the "Night itself" we had the Scoglio Restaurant "painted green" with the usually red-clad musicians in Kelly green. This year we added a harpist to our soloists, basso TOM O'LEARY and tenor, SGT. CHARLES BYRNE, and enjoyed a rare treat of having Father Celestine, S.A. of the Graymoor Friars on the Hudson, perform Irish jigs on his little squeezebox until half the two hundred guests were "up AND AT IT." The menu as usual was green: Fighting Irish Emerald Green Punch, Gaelic Green Lasagna, Irish Mulligan (Italian Gypsy Style), Kelly Green Salad, Dublin Ice Cream with Green Whipped Cream. The adventure of the evening was the M.C. He was no less than Dr. Wilmot, of the British Embassy in Rome! Nothing went wrong!!

The N.D. Club provided a trophy for second place at the First Annual Notre Dame International School Invitational Basketball Tournament in which six schools (American) from Italy and Turkey took part; and Notre Dame, Rome won the N.D. Club trophy!

Our annual guests arrived at Easter again: The Notre Dame and St. Mary's Juniors who are studying in Vienna. Joining with other NDer visitors and "natives" at the Scoglio, we all made merry.

Other ND guests currently and recently: Dr. and Mrs. O. C. STEGMEIER, '40, here to celebrate anniversary; CHARLES F. SPICKA, '54, of Dayton, O., with USAF in Eureux, France; GERALD B. GOETZMANN, '38, Engr. of St. Louis, Mo.; LARRY PELTON, '58, Engr.; TOM SWEDORFF, '46, Short Hills, N. J.; AL BAILEY, '51, of Paterson, N. J., teaching school for USAF in England; TIERNRY O'ROURKE, '30, and wife.

ND supporters reported in on: BERNARD COWLING, '43, Mayor of St. Matthew's, Ky., and his brother Joe, circa, '52 by their sister Martha; PROF. CECIL BIRDER by his daughter, Mrs.

Col. Theodore Michel, St. Mary's, '43. Finally arrived Mr. and Mrs. KARL VOGELHEIM, '33, and son Karl of Rogers City, Mich.; Bernard F. Smith reported in on his brother ART J. SMITH, JR., M.A. in Physics, Jan. '59; Paul J. Mahalski for Dick Eisgruber a Junior in Business Admin. at N.D.

Local gains and losses: Our ace chaplain, FATHER EDWARD L. HESTON, C.S.C., is back after surgery in the U.S.; CHRIS COCHRANE, '46, has come to live in Rome for a tour of duty. He helps to compensate for the losses of JOHN KRUGER, who is now with Stars and Stripes in Darmstadt, Germany, and for CAPT. FRANCIS BON, USN, who has been transferred from Naples to San Bruno, California. Likewise we have lost our unique "lady" member, MOTHER M. ALOYSI, S.N.D. who has returned to the U. S.

All comers to Rome, or your friends, remember our address: Notre Dame International School, Via Aurelia 796, telephone 621500 or our rendezvous, Scoglio Di Frisio Restaurant, Via Merulana 256, telephone 487619. Everyone is welcome!

—VINCE McALOON, '34, Secy.

St. Louis

The St. Louis Club held its observance of the 36th annual Universal Notre Dame Night on Monday, April 20. The occasion was marked with a cocktail party and dinner at the Tiara Room of the Park Plaza Hotel. Some 200 alumni and friends of the University attended.

Our guest speaker for the night was FATHER FRANK GARTLAND, C.S.C., editor of THE CATHOLIC BOY. His talk was both entertaining and enlightening.

In keeping with tradition we also took the occasion of U.N.D. Night to present our Notre Dame Man of the Year Award. This year's recipient was CHARLES L. FARRIS ('33), executive director of the St. Louis Land Clearance and Housing Authority. The presentation was made by A. J. RAVARINO ('35), who received the award in 1957. In his introductory remarks Ravarino pointed out that Farris has done more in his five years as director of the St. Louis authority to rejuvenate the city than any one individual has done since the turn of the century.

New officers for the 1959-60 Club year were announced to the members at the close of the U.N.D. Night observance. They are:

President, J. DONALD RATCHFORD, '50; Secretary-Treasurer, ROBERT F. CHICKEY, '54; Vice President, Activities, JAMES A. PUDLOWSKI, '52; Vice President, Committees, JOHN M. KANE, '54; and Vice President, Relations, HERMAN L. KRIEGSHAUSER, '54.

THOMAS J. McGUIRE ('49), retiring president, will be Chairman of the Board.

The new members of the Board of Directors are: DR. RICHARD F. HUCK ('47), ROBERT F. TORRENCE ('47), JOHN M. KANE ('52), and JAMES A. PUDLOWSKI ('54). Appointed to fill an unexpired term on the board was HERMAN L. KRIEGSHAUSER ('54).

The next activities on our calendar of events are the annual Club Golf Tournament in June and the Family Picnic in July. The Golf Tourney will be handled by WARD DRISCOLL ('49) and the Picnic by HERM KRIEGSHAUSER ('54).

DON RATCHFORD, Pres.

San Antonio

On March 20 the San Antonio Club held its annual business meeting in the Milam Building. The meeting featured a report by President JOHN O'CONNELL and the election of officers for the coming years.

The first week end of April was a busy time for Notre Dame men in San Antonio. On April 4 the "Fifing Irish" of the N.D. Concert Band, under the direction of ROBERT F. O'BRIEN, presented a joint concert with the Incarnate Word College Choral in the Incarnate Word auditorium. Mayor Kuykendall proclaimed Notre Dame Day, and President O'Connell presented Director O'Brien with a 10-gallon hat as a souvenir of the visit. A hospitality and housing committee was composed of Club members and wives, who escorted the band on a tour of the mission, etc., and treated them to a Mexican dinner. The band also entertained at Lackland Air Force Base and joined Incarnate Word students for a dance after the evening concert.

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated April 6 with a dinner at the Menger Hotel. EDWARD KRAUSE, director of athletics at Notre Dame, was the principal speaker, and WILLIAM F. MARKEY was installed as president to succeed JOHN O'CONNELL.

San Diego

The annual election meeting of the San Diego Club was held at the Town and Country Club on February 26. RICHARD DERENTHAL was elected to succeed FRANCIS J. DAVIS as president. The new officers are RICHARD DERENTHAL, '51, president; RICHARD MARTIN, '45, vice president; ANTHONY M. MITCHELL, '36, secretary; THOMAS LAUERMAN, '48, treasurer; GENERAL FRANCIS P. MULCAHY, '14, board member at large, and RT. REV. MSGR. FRANCIS C. OTT, '18, chaplain.

The Notre Dame Club of San Diego held a Universal Notre Dame Night dinner and entertainment April 6 in the Ward Room of the U. S. Grant Hotel. RICHARD DERENTHAL presided.

Howard Dattan, dean of the School of Law at San Diego University, was the guest speaker. His talk on the aims of education befitting the academic theme of the evening. The program also included showing of films on Luband and Notre Dame's Colleges of Science, Commerce, Law, Arts and Letters, and Engineering.

Past President FRANCIS DAVIS was awarded a Man-of-the-Year scroll. Forty-five members and wives enjoyed the dinner party.

—ANTHONY M. MITCHELL, Secy.

Schenectady

REV. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, associate director, and JOHN MACCAULEY, area director of the Notre Dame Foundation, were special guests at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner of the Notre Dame Club of Schenectady, N. Y., April 16, at which President LEON ST. PIERRE presided.

Scranton

Northeastern Pennsylvania's alumni heard FATHER THOMAS O'DONNELL of the Notre Dame Foundation at Universal Notre Dame ceremonies in Scranton on April 11.

Southeastern Wisconsin

Technical developments are demanding better and better teaching staffs in the University, MARIO J. GOGLIA, dean of Notre Dame's College of Engineering, told Racine-Kenosha area alumni on March 30. The occasion was the Universal Notre Dame Night meeting of the Notre Dame Club of Southeastern Wisconsin, at which Dean Goglia and ALLAN J. POWERS of the Notre Dame Foundation were guests. EDWIN E. RAYMOND, JR., the outgoing president, was master of ceremonies. JOHN V. WHALEY was installed as president and named chairman of a future Club event for the benefit of the building fund at Racine's Dominican College.

Spokane

Members of the Notre Dame Club of Spokane, their wives and friends, gathered in the Desert Hotel on Tuesday evening, April 7, to observe Universal Notre Dame Night. The green decor of the Nile Room was a fitting background for the Notre Dame banner and colors with which the walls and tables were adorned. Despite an extensive "flu" cick list the attendance was almost record breaking.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. James M. Ribble, Diocesan Director of Vocations, who followed in his speech the theme of this year's programs, "Tomorrow's Student." Father Ribble, an unusually fine speaker, held the rapt attention of all with his very interesting and perceptive interpretation of the theme and its application to the duties, responsibilities and sacrifices to be expected of Notre Dame graduates.

MONK ALBO, '35, Club president, was an excellent master of ceremonies, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the affair with his witty remarks and introductions. TOM LALLY, '06, the Club's grand ole timer, green tie and all, delighted the gathering with his anecdotes of the Notre Dame of long ago.

The Club presented Father Ribble with a check for use in connection with his work at Bishop White Preparatory Seminary. One of the seminarians, Robert Murphy, son of DON V. MURPHY, '37, was present as a special guest of the Club.

The Club officers made up the committee arranging for the affair. The Club committee chairmen were announced: Retreats and Religious Activities, FRANK HAGENBARTH, '27; Scholarships, DR. ROBERT MAHER, '35; and Summer Activities, FRANK HERRON, '35.

In attendance at the dinner, with their wives, were: MONK ALBO, '35, president; MARK MARQUELING, '50, vice president; TOM LALLY, '06; DR. BOB MAHER, '35; DR. DENNIS C. HIGGINS, '49; FRANCIS FLANNERY, '31; FRANK HAGENBARTH, '27; BOB MERZ, '47; BOB ROTCHFORD, '49; JOE ROWAN, '50; JIM LYNCH, '40; DON MURPHY, '37; CHARLES A. MYERS (father of GARY MYERS, '59); Robert Jones (Gonzaga); Lou Barbieri (Gonzaga); and Lou Batchelor (Gonzaga).

—JOSEPH WALSH, Secy.

Syracuse (See Central N. Y.)

Terre Haute

JOHN BRODERICK, assistant to Dean O'Meara of the Notre Dame Law School, was a guest speaker at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner of the Terre Haute Club on April 6. JOHN F. P. MURPHY, '44, was honored as the Terre Haute, Ind., area's Notre Dame Man of the Year.

Toledo

The N.D. Club of Toledo held the annual Communion Breakfast on April 5. Mass was at St. Francis de Sales Church at 9:30 a.m., and the Breakfast was at the Toledo Club about one-half hour after the end of the Mass.

FATHER THOMAS O'DONNELL, C.S.C., of the Notre Dame Foundation, was the guest speaker. Also the new officers for the coming year of the N.D. Club of Toledo were introduced at the Breakfast. JOE KALBAS, '56, was the General Chairman for this affair.

The new directors of the N.D. Club of Toledo, who were elected by the membership in a recent mail ballot for a term of three years, are JOHN HURLEY, '25, and GEORGE KORHUMEL, '49. They replace URBAN GRADEL and DICK KOPF, '49, whose terms expired this year.

Plans were made for Universal Notre Dame Night which was held during the month of May. Details next issue. JIM MALONE, '44, was the General Chairman for this function.

—MARSHALL R. DESMOND, '54, Secy.

Tri-Cities

REV. RICHARD J. GRIMM, C.S.C., religious superior at the University, was the guest speaker at the Tri-Cities Club's Universal Notre Dame Night celebration April 5 in Davenport, Iowa.

Tulsa

The Notre Dame Club of Tulsa has been very busy lately.

On Sunday, March 8, the Club held its annual retreat at the Benedictine Heights College. Father John Sullivan of Guthrie, Oklahoma, was our retreatmaster and gave us a very fine and inspiring retreat.

The following Tuesday the Club held a luncheon at the Mayo Hotel honoring Mr. ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE who was visiting in Tulsa. Moose gave us an informal but very informative talk. The Club certainly enjoyed and appreciated "Moose's" visit.

On Tuesday, March 31, the Club held its Universal Notre Dame Banquet at the Tulsa Club. This Banquet is traditionally our ladies' night activity. Over 200 club members, wives and guests were present. Our group was honored by the presence of his Excellency Bishop Victor J. Reed, Bishop of the Oklahoma City-Tulsa Diocese. Of special interest was the scheduling of Mr. JOE KUCHARICH as our feature speaker. Everyone was very pleased and very much impressed with Joe's talk. He talked right from his heart and everyone felt a real impact from his fine speech. His soft spoken and easy manner made his talk even more effective.

These three events have kept our Club very busy recently.

—JACK MOHATT, Secy.

Twin Cities

Minneapolis-St. Paul alumni observed Universal Notre Dame Night on April 13. The guest speaker was DEAN MARIO GOGLIA of the Notre Dame College of Engineering, and ALLAN J. POWERS of the Notre Dame Foundation was also a guest of the Club.

Virginia

On April 6 the Notre Dame Club of Virginia celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night in Richmond, Va., with REV. THOMAS J. BRENNAN, C.S.C., Notre Dame's revered professor of philosophy, as guest speaker. Outgoing President CHARLES G. LaFRATTA was the surprise recipient of a Man-of-the-Year scroll for his service to Notre Dame men of the area. Installed as new officers were: ANDREW E. O'KEEFE, president; LEO F. BURKE, vice president; EDWARD M. FARLEY, secretary, and LOUIS J. MATT, treasurer.

Washington, D. C.

The annual election of officers and directors for the Washington Club was held at a St. Patrick's Day meeting of the Club on March 17 at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel. Elected were: JOSEPH L. FITZMAURICE, '36, president; CHARLES T. HELLMUTH, '30, vice-president; JOHN A. SANDERS, '49, secretary; JOSEPH P. MALONEY, '54, treasurer, and to the Board of Governors, ROBERT W. SCHELLENBERG and 1958-59 president JOHN A. McGRATH.

Universal Notre Dame Night was observed in Washington on April 6 at the Willard Hotel. Representing the University was REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice president of Notre Dame. The principal speaker was Senator Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, who spoke on the provocative subject of a Catholic president. DR. MATT SULLIVAN was general chairman of the event. Other events were the Holy Cross Mission Club's 33th annual Benefit Bridge for the Foreign Mission Seminary, attended by many Notre Dame wives at the Shoreham on April 15, and the first meeting of the 1959-60 season at the Sheraton-Carlton on May 15, at which HARRY J. KIRK was presented with a Man-of-the-Year scroll.

West Virginia

The Notre Dame Club of Charleston, West Virginia, observed Universal Notre Dame Night on Wednesday, April 8, 1959, with a banquet at Humphrey's Pine Room. President JOSEPH M. FALLON served as toastmaster for the affair, while REV. EDMUND F. WEINHEIMER was the main speaker.

Elections were held, at which time the following were elected to office for 1959: JOHN F. KEMMERER, president; C. M. REICH, vice president; and RUDOLPH L. DITRAPANO, secretary-treasurer. Past officers of the organization are JOSEPH M. FALLON, president, ROLAND F. HART, vice president, and LOUIS R. TABIT, secretary-treasurer.

It is with deep regret that I must report the death of one of our members, Mr. DAVID B. MONCRIFF, '41, of Charleston, who expired on April 27.

—LOUIS R. TABIT, Retiring Secy.

Western Washington

President TED CUMMINGS officiated at Universal Notre Dame Night on May 25 at the Cascade Plaza Room of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Seattle. REV. HOWARD KENNA, C.S.C., president of Portland University, was the featured speaker. A new club directory has been prepared by BEN LENOUE.

Wichita

RICHARD J. BOWES, area director of the Notre Dame Foundation, was the featured speaker at Universal Notre Dame Night ceremonies of the Wichita Club on April 14.

Youngstown

The Youngstown Notre Dame Club held a most successful Universal Notre Dame Night celebration. A banquet was held at the Youngstown Country Club with FATHER TOM O'DONNELL, C.S.C., as guest speaker. About 110 persons attended the dinner which also marked the 35th anniversary of the Youngstown Area Club.

THOMAS KERRIGAN, president of the Youngstown Club, presided, CHARLES B. CUSHWA, JR., director of the Notre Dame Foundation in the Youngstown area, introduced Father O'Donnell. Attorney PAUL GUARNIERI of Warren was toastmaster.

Congratulations to IVAN R. WOLF, '29, and LOUIS C. COLLERAN, '45, on recent promotions! Lou Colleran is Vice President in Charge of Sales of Roll Formed Products Company and Ivan Wolf is General Superintendent of the Youngstown Unit of A & P Stores.

The entire Club expresses its deepest sympathy to JIM, '42, and MARTY BRUTZ, '49, on the loss of their mother.

—BILL BORD, '54, Secy.

KANSAS CITY—Mayor H. Roe Bartle presents Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., with several mementos of a recent visit to Kansas City, including a Key to the City, miniature Hereford steer, ten-gallon hat and handshake.

CLUB

Happy news this issue about some birthdays and Golden Jubilees. Three well-known priests of the Congregation of Holy Cross will celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of Ordination this June. REV. EUGENE P. BURKE, C.S.C., will offer his Golden Jubilee Mass in Sacred Heart Church on the campus on June 26. On the same day REV. THOMAS IRVING, C.S.C., will celebrate Mass commemorating fifty years as a priest on the campus of St. Mary's College. A third Golden Jubilee Mass will be said by REV. CORNELIUS J. HAGERTY, C.S.C., in Sacred Heart Church on June 28. Long an enthusiastic supporter of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the South Bend area, Father Hagerty received a gold watch in commemoration of his anniversary at the annual St. Patrick's Day banquet of the Irish fraternal organization.

An open house honoring HUGO C. ROTHERT of the Class of 1887 on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday was held March 14 in Little Rock, Ark., by his children, Dr. Frances C. Rothert (St. Mary's, '17), M. H. ROTHERT, '25, and Mrs. W. J. Gatling. His daughter, Frances, received an honorary doctorate from St. Mary's last year. Mr. Rothert is in good health and has a great interest in life. He loves to travel and had just finished visiting the Gatlings in Memphis, Tenn.

Another birthday, the eighty-eighth, was celebrated by JAMES J. COONEY of the Class of 1893 in Toledo, Ohio, March 4. Mr. Cooney, the oldest Notre Dame alumnus in the Toledo area, was feted by the officers of the local Notre Dame Club.

On hand at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner of the Notre Dame Club of Eastern Indiana was CHARLES F. VOGT, of Muncie, a former president of the Eastern Indiana Club and an alumnus for sixty years.

Requiescent in pace: WILLIAM F. MONTAVON, '98, and JAMES B. QUINN, LL.B., '97. Mr. Quinn's daughter, Mary, reported his "intense and constant loyalty to Notre Dame."

Solemn Requiem Mass for WILLIAM F. MONTAVON, Class of 1898, a pioneer in the work of the National Catholic Welfare Conference and director of its Legal Department for a quarter century, was offered Feb. 19 in the Shrine of the Blessed Sacrament, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Montavon died February 15 at a local hospital after a prolonged illness of several years.

Honored by popes and lauded by cardinals, archbishops and bishops for his years of zeal, prudence and ability, Mr. Montavon retired as director of the NCWC Legal Department in 1951 after serving in that post since 1925.

Born on July 14, 1874, near Portsmouth, Ohio, Mr. Montavon also attended St. Edward's College in Ontario; St. Charles' College in Maryland, and the Institute de Ste. Croix near Paris, France. He received his doctorate from the Catholic University of America.

At that time the Catholic University was called upon by the U. S. government to supply a teacher for work in the Philippines and Mr. Montavon was selected for the assignment. In 1915, he became superintendent of schools for the Province of Tayabas, largest in the islands.

He returned to the United States at a time when the U. S. Department of Commerce was organizing its foreign service. Appointments of 10 commercial attaches of the department were authorized by Congress. In a competitive examination with 123 candidates, Mr. Montavon won first place and was named U. S. Commercial Attache in Lima. His territory covered Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia. When the Inter-Allied Board on Enemy Trading was formed in Lima during World War I, Mr. Montavon was chosen as secretary, and chairman of its committee on investigations.

After World War I, Mr. Montavon left the government service and took a post with an American corporation in Peru. He returned to this country in 1923, continued in the service of the corporation until 1925 when he was named director of the NCWC Legal Department.

He accompanied the late Msgr. John J. Burke, C.S.P., first NCWC general secretary, on a mission to Mexico at the height of vicious persecution of the Church in that country. A short time after the two conferred with the then President Calles of Mexico, a modus vivendi was reached and the persecution began to abate.

In 1929, Pope Pius XI conferred Knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great upon Mr. Montavon in recognition of his work with the NCWC and his efforts in the Mexican situation. A year later, Mr. Montavon made another trip to Mexico, during which he was honored by members of the Mexican Hierarchy and by Catholic societies of the nation.

In 1930, President Herbert Hoover named Mr. Montavon to accompany the Forbes Commission on a mission to Haiti, where he rendered important service to the commission as well as to the Haitian Hierarchy. The same year, Dayton University conferred an honorary doctorate of laws upon Mr. Montavon and the following year he was named for the Catholic Action Medal by St. Bonaventure (N. Y.) University.

In subsequent years, Mr. Montavon served in a number of advisory posts for the U. S., principally in Latin American affairs, while continuing as head of the NCWC Legal Department.

A second papal honor came to him in 1945 when Pope Pius XII named him a Knight Commander of St. Gregory the Great.

Mr. Montavon's wife died several years ago. On the occasion of his retirement from the NCWC, Mr. Montavon received the paternal blessing of Pope Pius XII and tributes from scores of members of the U. S. hierarchy. He also was lauded by the National Health and Welfare Retirement Association for his efforts in establishing a retirement system for members of the NCWC staff and for his services as a trustee in the organization.

Members of the hierarchy in this country and in Mexico praised the service rendered to the Church by Mr. Montavon as he was laid to rest in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington presided at the Solemn Requiem Mass. Bishop Howard J. Carroll of Altoona-Johnstown, former general secretary of the NCWC, and Auxiliary Bishop John M. McNamara of Washington were in the sanctuary, as were a number of monsignori and priests.

Msgr. Paul F. Tanner, NCWC general secretary, was celebrant of the Mass. Priests on the NCWC headquarters staff filled the other offices of the Mass.

The death of Mr. Montavon calls not only for an expression of sympathy to relatives and friends, but also "for an expression of thanks to Almighty God for having raised up among us a man of such deep faith, sincere devotion to the interests of the Church and generous dedication of his unusual talents to the welfare of his fellow men." Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati said in a message read by Msgr. Tanner.

The chairman of the NCWC administrative board added that the Conference "gratefully acknowledges its indebtedness to his wise counsel, generous self-sacrifice and highly efficient service in the Legal Department over a period of many years. He was a pioneer in the formation of our traditions."

Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans said Mr. Montavon "merited the gratitude of our Catholic hierarchy by his constant dedication and profound understanding" in connection with the NCWC office.

Mr. Montavon was a distinguished Catholic "who gave his most valued services to the NCWC," said Archbishop Francis P. Keough of Baltimore.

Service rendered by Mr. Montavon toward the settlement of the persecution waged against the Church in Mexico in the time of President Calles was recalled by a telegram from Archbishop Miguel Dario Miranda y Gomez of Mexico. The Archbishop, then a young priest, worked with Mr. Montavon in seeking a settlement of the persecution.

"From the bottom of my heart," said Archbishop Miranda, "I join NCWC mourning with my prayers for Mr. Montavon whose long and faithful service of our Holy Mother the Church we all admire and praise."

Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of Youngstown, episcopal chairman of the NCWC Legal Department, recalled that for over a quarter of a century Mr. Montavon "filled with great distinction the onerous office of director of the Legal Department and was one of the key figures in NCWC." "His great gifts of mind and heart aided mightily in building up the ability of NCWC to serve the Church."

Bishop Carroll said Mr. Montavon's services to the Church "were manifold, vast in their scope and of inestimable significance . . ." "His uncommon background of scholarship and experience, his vision and his fine Catholic sensibilities were a Providential blessing to the Legal Department of the NCWC in its difficult formative years," the Bishop added. "As a pioneer in the establishment of that department he had a large role in laying the solid base upon which it has risen to eminence and esteem."

In Portland, Ore., Multnomah County Circuit Judge FRANK J. LONERGAN, '04, was treated for a dislocated hip in February after an automobile collision. Judge Loneragan recovered satisfactorily and said he was thankful his injuries were not more serious.

Since this has been a jubilee issue we shouldn't forget the anniversaries of two well-known Brothers of Holy Cross on March 19, 50 years for BRO. GREGORY KACZYNSKI, C.S.C., and an amazing 60 years for BRO. BERNARD GERVAIS, C.S.C.

JUNE 12-13-14

Back on February 8 the Long Island Division of the Notre Dame Club of New York City held its second annual Golden Anniversary Cocktail Dance in honor of JOHN B. KANALEY. One of the highlights was the reading of congratulatory messages from CARDINAL O'HARA, FATHER HESBURGH and Alumni Secretary JAMES E. ARMSTRONG.

A note from LEO C. McELROY, vice president of L. E. McGivena & Co., Inc., Advertising, 44 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y. "Mac" writes: "I have so rarely seen an item in the ALUMNUS Magazine relating to a member of the Class of 1910, it was a pleasure to read in the March issue that HARRY MILLER and BILL SCHMITT had a reunion in Baltimore last fall.

"So there are at least three of our Class still living. I wonder about the others. Is there no way you could get some sort of report from them?"

"As you well know, I am still doddering along, still crusading for a blue-shirted football team and probably making a nuisance of myself in doing so, though I think logic and tradition are all on my side.

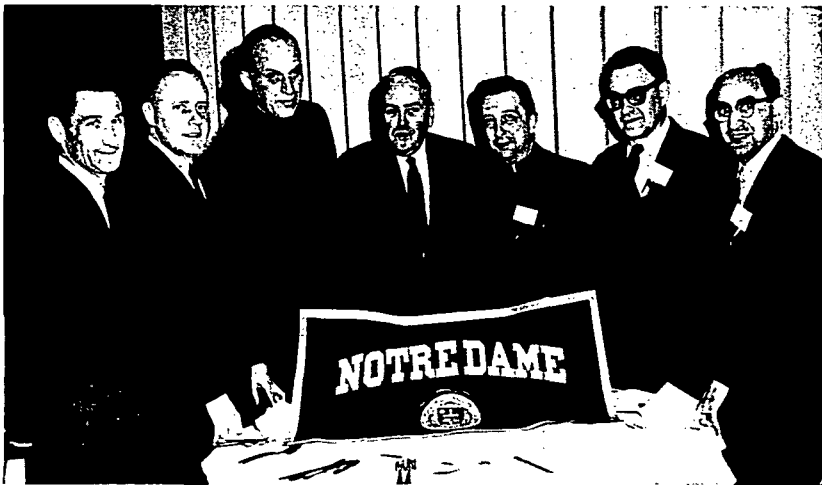

"Perhaps if you publish this note in the magazine, some of the other '10ers will crawl out of their caves and let me hear from them.

"I might even hear from some of my friends in the later classes, like (Fr.) BERNIE LANGE, the weightlifter, who was also a pretty good cartoonist. He helped us get out the 1910 DOME. And handsome, plump and friendly CLYDE BROUSSARD of Beaumont, Texas, who crashed the 1913 Class notes in March."

Late congratulations to BILL SCHMITT on his appointment to the University's Advisory Council for Science and Engineering.

1911 Fred L. Steers
105 S. LaSalle St.
Chicago 3, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:
CLYDE BROUSSARD, '13, reports: "I have just received information of the death in Brussels, Belgium, of PIERRE de LUNDEN on November 6, 1938. Pierre and his brother, CHARLES de LUNDEN, were students of Electrical Engineering at Notre Dame between 1907 and 1911. . . . Pierre was awarded honors for service during World War I, the Croix du Feu and the Croix de l'Yser. Pierre had lived for many years in the home which was occupied by him during his student days at Notre Dame. The address is 72 Avenue de l'Armee, Brussels, Belgium. His wife, four children and grandchildren survive him."

GOLDEN CIRCLE—More than forty alumni and friends of Notre Dame heard James E. Armstrong, executive alumni secretary, speak at the Castle in Olean, New York, on Universal Notre Dame Night. Present were (l. to r.) Prof. Nicholas J. Amato, '44, newly-elected vice president of the Golden Circle Club of southwestern New York and northwestern Pennsylvania; James F. McVay, '43, president; the Very Rev. Brian Lhota, O.F.M., president of St. Bonaventure University; Mr. Armstrong; the Rev. Frederick Reilly, assistant pastor, St. Bernard Church, Bradford, Pa.; Dr. Russell J. Jandoli, '40, dinner chairman, and Nicholas J. Ash, '49, secretary-treasurer.

From the Alumni Office:

WALTER DUNCAN was on the campus during the last week of May for a meeting of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees and passed along a hello to his classmates.

1913 Paul R. Byrne
360 Warner Ave.
Syracuse 5, N. Y.

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM E. COTTER, who died in August of 1937, would be pleased at his son's election to the presidency of the Alumni Association, which he headed twenty years ago, just as Jim Keenan, Jr., who died in 1941, would certainly have loved to live in the residence hall dedicated as his memorial by his dad, JAMES F. KEENAN.

Classmates will be happy to hear that Pope John XXIII has conferred Knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great on HARRY J. KIRK for his many efforts in behalf of the Church. The insignia was presented by Archbishop Boyle at Washington's St. Matthew's Cathedral in March.

1914 Ron O'Neill
1350 N. Black Oak Dr.
South Bend 17, Ind.

From the Alumni Office:

Class Secretary and Commerce Prof RON O'NEILL is still on leave of absence, recuperating from successful throat surgery which has temporarily hindered his ability to conduct a class or this column. His classmate and fellow lawyer, WALTER CLEMENTS, has graciously consented to serve as Acting Secretary of the Class of '14 and Local Chairman of its Reunion in June. Walter and several other locals—like FATHER SALVATOR FANELLI and LEO ZGODZINSKI—will be on hand to host the festivities at Dillon Hall and the Morris Inn. They hope to see many friends.

Among those who have already indicated their determination to attend are CHARLIE VAUGHAN, from Lafayette, Ind.; JOHN HYNES, Des Moines, Iowa; FRANK KIRCHMAN, all the way from Denver, Colo.; and JOE WALSH from 'way, 'way out in Spokane, Washington, where he toils as Secretary-Treasurer of the local Notre Dame Club, wrote, "I am planning on being back for the 45th Reunion, God willing."

1915 James E. Sanford
Chicago 40, Ill.

From the Alumni Office:
DR. GEORGE N. SHUSTER, the Class' hardest headline-grabber, has been at it again. In February his address to 700 Hunter College alumnae at New York's Astor Hotel rated a couple of columns in the Sunday Times for its frank appraisal of U.S. education. Then he announced that he would resign next January as president of Hunter to devote more time to writing. (He has published a score of books and been an editor of Commonweal for years.) Then on April 21 he was awarded Fordham University's Insignia Medal for "extraordinary distinction in the service of God through excellent professional performance."

1916 Grover F. Miller
612 Wisconsin Ave.
Racine, Wisconsin

On the campus recently for a meeting of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees, JOE LaFORTUNE confided a little about his labors in behalf of Catholic education in the Tulsa area but only hinted at his part in the construction of a beautiful chapel for a local women's college. Joe probably didn't take the time to inspect the results of spring housecleaning in the Notre Dame Student Center that bears his name.

Seventeeners in the news: SAM FEIWELL, recent candidate for the judiciary, representing South Bend property owners in recent civil litigation; DR. D. M. NIGRO, president of Kansas City's Rockne Club, whose annual testimonial in March honored, among many celebs, DR. EDDIE ANDERSON, '22, for his service to football, CHARLIE CALLAHAN, '38, as "Publicity Director of the Year" and NICK PIETROSANTE, '39, as "Football Player of the Year"; LEO VOGEL, who succeeded O. J. DORWIN as Fund Vice-President of the Alumni Association, and BERNIE VOLL, seen squiring his bride to recent events on campus.

After a long and distinguished career as Superintendent of Schools, at Escanaba, Mich., Class President JOHN A. LEMMER, will retire as of June this year. John hopes to devote an increasing amount of time to Rotary, of which he is District Governor, a division which includes no less than 39 Rotary clubs.

Sadness has hit GEORGE E. HARBERT, long our class secretary up to a year ago, with the untimely death of his oldest son, Richard, who was killed in an airplane accident. Richard was 32 years old, and left a wife and three young children. The tragic death was preliminary to a heart attack suffered by Mrs. Harbert, which shortly proved fatal.

JOHN VOELKERS, who has been retired at St. Augustine, Fla., presently plans to move to Orlando, Fla., which he refers to as a much more progressive community. John was in South Bend for one of its worst snowstorms last Winter, to visit his brother, and he reports he could not get back to Florida quick enough to enjoy the warmth.

LEO GAUSS, who recalls with pleasure that he spent some time in Bronson Hall third floor dormitory, is completing 30 years in the Fire and Casualty Insurance business. He enjoys getting back to the campus for an occasional football game.

TOM KING, the Michigan State University Dean of Students, is lyrical about his recent trip to Ireland. His father was born in Galway. This may account for Tom's fine disposition at all times except when he was the smashing end on two or three of Rockne's great football teams.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

RAY T. MILLER, '14
Clearly, a Clevelander

On April 12, 1959, at the Cleveland Club's Rockne Communion Breakfast, the title "Notre Dame Man of the Year" for 1959, highest award to a Cleveland alumnus, was bestowed on Ray T. Miller for his outstanding contributions to Cleveland alumni as an original organizer of the Cleveland Club; for serving as the Club's first president, and for his continuous support over the many years.

A graduate of the Notre Dame Law School and a practicing lawyer for 45 years, Ray Miller has served as prosecuting attorney of Cuyahoga County and mayor of Cleveland, and is known as one of Cleveland's outstanding citizens. He is still actively engaged in politics by serving as chairman of the Democratic Party of Cuyahoga County (Cleveland), a position he has held since 1938. He is a familiar figure at all Democratic National Conventions.

At present Ray serves as a director of Catholic Charities Corporation. He has long had a devoted interest in the Knights of Columbus, an interest which began during his college days. He has served as Grand Knight, State Deputy and member of the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus from 1934 to 1946. In 1947 he was chosen as the Cleveland Catholic Man of the Year.

Besides his extensive law practice, Ray finds time to serve as chairman of the board of Cleveland Broadcasting, Inc., of which he is the principal stockholder; president of Fiberglass-Ohio, Inc., and Searles Lake Chemical Corporation.

A true Notre Dame man, Ray is one of five brothers all of whom attended Notre Dame and played on the varsity football teams. His wife, Ruth, has long been active in Catholic women's organizations of Cleveland. He has two daughters and four sons, all graduates of the University. With 16 grandchildren born to date, Notre Dame has not seen the last of Ray's family.

Ordinarily it is not a difficult task to gather together and consolidate a few notes of interest for reading by our classmates, except when they concern the death of our wonderful campus companions of long ago, and especially so when such friends have been extremely loyal over the years in supporting the Class of '22. It is indeed a very sad task to mention that two very fine gentlemen of '22 can no longer answer the roll call of future reunion conclaves on this earth but they do greatly augment our Chapter in Heaven. God in His Wisdom summoned from this world, on Dec. 27, STEPHEN E. CARMODY of Carlinville, Ill., and on Feb. 18, EDWIN J. BYRNE of Natchez, Miss. We cannot comment on them separately because each had much admiration for the other, also because they have left us almost hand-in-hand. Whenever men of this Class gather in the future it is quite unlikely they will not be thinking of Steve Carmody and Eddie Byrne, both of whom could count every classmate as a close personal friend. The fine qualities of each should inspire us greatly. I do rejoice that I had remembered to send Christmas greetings to Steve and Eddie to take on their journey. Our very deep sympathy to Mrs. Carmody and Mrs. Byrne, to their children and other relatives. We exert all to remember the deceased in your prayers.

CHARLES "RED" CROWLEY, former thrush of the Notre Dame Glee Club, assumed the role of spectator-critic when the current edition of the Glee Club visited John Hancock Hall in Boston March 31. CLIPPER SMITH, please note!

Last fall sports editor Jimmy Powers devoted a whole column to our EDDIE ANDERSON, head football coach at Holy Cross. Among other things, Jimmy referred to Eddie as the nation's Dean of coaches — the senior major college coach, who was voted by college coaches themselves the no. 1 coach in the East for all-round skills, personality and ethics. "All things considered," said Jimmy, "—player, coach, physician and surgeon — Eddie Anderson is quite an hombre." We second the motion.

The above slogan for the 1963 Reunion of the Class of 1923 was received in the mail, apparently in response to the announced contest for the best such slogan. Ostensibly it came from our erstwhile prof, but it was typed on stationery of the U.S.O. and bore a Kansas City postmark, clues which point to the identity of FOD COTTON as the author of the suppliant gem. To Fod would go the announced prize of two unused tickets to the Purdue football game last fall, but since the award is of such exceeding value, it is being withheld lest any better ideas come in a later mail.

Happily, there are no deaths of classmates to report, although sadness dogs the lives of several of our boys with deaths in the family or their own serious sicknesses. JULIUS T. HERZOG lost his wife Julia on May 29, 1958. This office had no inkling of his bereavement until ED KREIMER told me that Julie had made a notation to that effect on a Christmas card he sent to Ed. Besides the husband, a married daughter, Mary Frances, survives. I am sure I speak for the Class in offering belated but sincerest sympathy to the survivors.

Also relayed to me by JIM ARMSTRONG was the news of the death of the mother of FRANCIS X. DISNEY on January 11. She was remembered in a special Mass on the campus on Saturday, February 7. Our sympathy and prayers, also, Frank.

Our popular Reunionist of last summer, DAN NOLAN, suffered a heart attack on December 6 and was in Latrobe, Pennsylvania, Hospital for three weeks, according to a note from Mrs. Nolan dated Dec. 15. "If everything goes well," she wrote, "Dan may be home for Christmas. . . . He is still planning on the '63 reunion." And so are we, Mrs. N.

LINUS GLOTZBACH at last report continues on the sick list. JACK NORTON relayed a letter to me from Mrs. G. in which she reported, as of Dec. 29, that Linus had been operated on again.

Whether your voting or my mail campaign was decisive is not clear, but I am glad to report that W. EDMUND SHEA, 1923, Dayton, Ohio, attorney, was elected to the Alumni Board of Directors, according to an announcement appearing in the South Bend Tribune, Jan. 13. Bucking the voting strength of the more populous newer classes, Red was elected along with JAMES J. BYRNE, '43, PAUL J. CUSHING, '31, and WALTER L. FLEMING, JR., '40. Congratulations, Red. Now our classmates can write to you for 50-yard line seats, instead of to me.

Between-the-line-reading JOHN BYRNE scribbled me a red-ink (?) note on a scrap of paper stapled to a sheet torn out of Time magazine: "Have we an Ambassador in our Class?" The Time article was page 14 of the issue dated Dec. 29, showing a picture of Peru's ambassador FERNANDO BERCKEMEYER.

Move over, RED SHEA and HANK BARNHART and FATHER CAVANAUGH and FRANK WALLACE, et al.

"Old Faithful" KID ASHE, '22, sent me a note in February: "an enclosing a Christmas card from AL FICKS. It has some news tid-bits for '23. . . many thanks for sending me your bulletins." The card, Ficks to Ashe to Bruggner, says: "Spent the summer in Japan, Hong Kong and the Philippines. Flew both ways, had wonderful time, our weather has been wonderful here. BILL VOSS was in town — talked to him on phone — did not get to see him. His son works out here."

HY HUNT single-spaced two typewritten pages on hotel stationery from Charles City, Iowa, in November: "In territory tonight and realized I had not paid the bank charges on Class of '23 checking account, so here is check. . . since I left the Reunion the last I have seen of any N. D. man was PAUL CASTNER."

Another greatly-prized picture came in December from FRANK S. DORIOT of the Doriot Distributing Co., Huntington, W. Va., showing him shaking hands with ARTHUR "HECTOR" GARVEY. Both men are grinning from ear to ear which bears out information in Frankie's letter: "Hector Garvey had a state convention here in Huntington. . . . and he did it up brown. . . . a real show, plenty of everything. . . . hasn't changed much after 38 years — still possessed of a great memory and is an exceptionally good entertainer. . . ."

A clipping from the Marinette, Wis., Eagle-Star dated Jan. 15 announces the formation by Ansul Chemical Company of a foreign-based subsidiary, Ansul International Corporation, S. A. with L. T. PLOUFF as Vice-President and General Manager. A tip of the hat to Tom, whose picture graced the newspaper article.

The clipping arrived on this desk through the alertness of HENRY J. LAUERMAN who, in a now-it-can-be-told paragraph, explained that the groundwork for this reorganization of the chemical combine is what took Tom to Europe last spring, after he had made plans to attend our Reunion. An enigmatic sentence added: "I am happy to report that my recovery, while not complete, is progressing daily and I will continue to look forward to our 40th." Was ya sick, Hank?

"Jane and I just returned (Nov. 19) a few weeks ago from an extended stay in Morocco," writes KEN KRIPPENE. . . . "Jane spent five weeks in a harem. . . I was not invited. . . spent my time in Tangier. . . side trips into the Sahara. . . Jane's new book to be published in the spring. . . She tells me some of the wives (numbering three) and concubines (12) were not only unusual but very beautiful. . . the harem book should be of particular interest to LYLE MILLER. . . . We are returning shortly to Ecuador where we have a small coffee plantation and in December Jane is meeting with six other girls for a new expedition."

In November the Blue Circle at N.D. impromptu JACK NORTON for early information on the birth and growth of the said B.C. Who founded it? Why founded? What committees operated? etc. "The answer was simple," opined Jack, "The class of 1923 put the Boosters (now the Blue Circle) on the map."

Said MERLIN ROLWING at our Reunion last June: "There was a lad named Unverferth in our Class. . . what's become. . ." At hand is a letter from E. B. UNVERFERTH from the law offices of Unverferth & Unverferth, Ottawa, Ohio, dated Dec. 30, to wit: "Dear Louis, NELSON J. CALLAHAN handed to us recently your letters styled "Make It a Date in '38," and these were a revelation after thirty-odd years."

From the Alumni Office:

Portland, Ore., Postmaster AL HODLER had a busy February. He was elected chairman of the Multnomah County chapter of the March of Dimes and was injured (not seriously) in an automobile accident along with JUDGE FRANK LONERGAN, '04.

Crawford County, Ill., State's Attorney J. STANLEY BRADBURY, whose busy schedule dashed his hopes of attending last year's reunion with LYLE MILLER and BILL FITZGERALD, received a double commendation in a resolution adopted by the convention of the Illinois State's Attorneys' Association praising his work with delinquent children as president of the state's Big Brothers and Sisters Association.

Secretary JIM MEEHAN enlisted the help of Goshen's BOB RINK in arranging for a great 35th Reunion June 12-14. Planning a program that will start with a dinner and get-together in the Mahogany Room of the Morris Inn, Jim and Bob picked a committee of coordinators to bring the '24 grads back to the campus, including: JUDGE TOM DONOVAN, Chicago; EDDIE McLAUGHLIN, Detroit; CLIFF NOONAN, Wilmette, Ill.; FARRELL JOHNSTON, Dayton, O.; DICK MILLER, Sayville, N.Y.; TEX RICKARD, Los Angeles; FATHER TOM KELLY, Portland, Ore.; TIM

A note from REV. CIRIACO PEDROSA, O.P., reveals that he has been in the Philippines for many years and is presently Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Santo Tomas, the Catholic University of the Philippines, in Manila. Concurrently Father Pedrosa is serving as head of the physics and mathematics departments and is Vice-Rector of the University, a variety of jobs that would seem to call for a universal genius. Father Pedrosa wrote: "I still hope I will not die without seeing again Notre Dame. May God grant me that little thing."

R. C. MILLER, in town for a football game last fall, passed on an item about R. F. GIBBONS, variously known as "Mike" and "Dick," to Secretary JIM MEEHAN. California's Pacific Switchgear Div. of Federal Pacific Electric profiled Dick as manager of Pacific's Product Engineering Sub-section. In the electric game on the Coast all but a few years since graduation, he has been chief engineer, general manager, etc., of various divisions of Federal Pacific. The piece pictured Dick as athlete, chess player, Irish fan, husband of Dorothy, father of Dick, Mike and Mary Martha in Saratoga, Calif.

1925 John P. Hurley 2085 Brookdale Road Toledo 6, Ohio

Congratulations fellows. . . the class of '25 was second only to the class of '07 in percentage of participation in your contributions to the Notre Dame Foundation. Keep up the good work and we will be on top! Since the Christmas letter I have seen very few of the '25ers. I did see WARD McCARON. While in Ft. Lauderdale for a few weeks in March, Mrs. Hurley and I were attending Mass and who came along to take up the collection? . . . You guessed it. Ward himself. He really looks good and after Mass we had a chance for a few minutes chat. Ward is a permanent citizen of Lauderdale and it certainly agrees with him. I also had a pleasant visit with BOB GORE, class of '31. Bob and his brothers just about run that whole Lauderdale area. They are doing a fine Notre Dame job too. I was sorry to miss one of the N. D. Club's dinner parties which was held the Tuesday before Lent. Also sorry to have missed seeing STEVE CORBOY, who is associated with Town and Country Properties of Boca Raton, Fla. We wrote about Steve's doings just a year ago. JOE TOOLEN is over on the West Coast and some mutual friends have told us he is in very good health despite the rumors that made the rounds at our cocktail party last fall.

Speaking of cocktail parties you might as well know now that October 31 will be the next one when Notre Dame will play Navy. We will have to name this one The RIP MILLER cocktail party and we will see that he is there. . . win or lose.

Just in case I failed to mention it before ROBERT D. "SLICK" O'NEIL, CE '25, died last August 22. Slick lived at 5325 South Peoria St., Chicago, Ill. We were also shocked to learn of the death of HARRY "HES" AMBROSE of Washington, D.C., and EMMET GRINAGER of Clear Lake, Minn. Masses for these fellows have been taken care of by HANK WURZER out of our Mass Fund. Keep up those prayers for those classmates. Some time ago I received a letter from a well-known member of the class of '26. It came from MARK E. MOONEY who is Vice-President of the Typhoon Air Conditioning Co. of Brooklyn, N.Y. I don't believe I ever mentioned hearing from Mark. He wrote, in part: "Every time I receive my copy of the ALUMNUS I look for your letter describing what's happening in the class of 1925. Sometimes it's good news, and sometimes it's very sad." He mentioned that he was shocked to learn of the deaths of BOB COONEY and RAY CUNNINGHAM. It brought to my mind that BOB COONEY's father, who was 88 a few weeks ago, had a birthday party and the officers of the Toledo Notre Dame Club were there. A picture was taken which will be in this issue. JIM COONEY is the oldest Notre Dame Alumnus in Toledo, with GEORGE COVERT, SR., running a close second. They are both very active. JIM COONEY has been ill since Christmas but he told me last Sunday that he would make our Communion Breakfast next Sunday. I thought MARK MOONEY would like to have that word on Bob's father. JIM COONEY knew Father Sorin and there isn't a man in Toledo more interested in Notre Dame affairs. . . He is a terrific bridge player today. Let that be a lesson to you fellows who think you should spend the rest of your life in rocking chairs. ORDER

THOSE NAVY TICKETS AND COME ON OVER TO THAT COCKTAIL PARTY HONORING RIP MILLER Oct. 31.

From the Alumni Office:

JOHN F. KILKENNY was appointed as a Federal Judge in February. President Eisenhower named John to the U. S. District Court for Oregon. Well known for his record as a trial attorney in Pendleton, Ore., John is a former President of the Oregon State Bar Association.

1926 Rudy Goepfrich 1109 N. Cleveland Ave. South Bend 28, Indiana

I am sorry to report that most of the news for this issue concerns the deaths of our classmates. Seventy-three members of our Class have now passed on to their reward. Let's remember all of them in our prayers.

Recent deaths have been ALLEN M. FOLEY, JOHN F. O'DONNELL, VICTOR G. YAWMAN, and LEO P. ST. JOHN. All of them have been enrolled in the Purgatorial Society of the Holy Cross Foreign Missions.

We were also sorry to learn of the death of Armin A. Suder, father of ARTHUR H. SUDER, our Class Vice-President.

ANDREW F. CONLIN, who lived in LaGrange, Ill., when he was at Notre Dame, is now Executive Vice-President of the Crerar Clinch Coal Company in Chicago. In 1932 Andy married Dorothy F. Fleming; they have one daughter, Sheila Ann, who was graduated from St. Mary's College in 1957, and one grandchild. Andy is Vice-President of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association and a member of the Itasca Country Club and the Lake Shore Athletic Club. He expects to attend our 35th reunion in 1961.

PHILIP M. DONOVAN has moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he is Division Sales Manager of Recordak Corporation, a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Company. Phil's wife was Josephine McCarthy; they have a son, Michael, 13. Phil says he sees JOE SHEA occasionally at New York's Statler Hotel. We can expect to see Phil at our 35th.

Incidentally, our next reunion is only two years away. Preliminary reports seem to indicate that we will have a good turnout for it. If any of you have any ideas which you believe would be appropriate for this affair, we would like to hear about them.

TOM FARRELL, our Eastern Vice-President, is to be congratulated for the fine showing he made (even as a reluctant candidate) in the elections for the Alumni Association Board of Directors. Tom can be expected to show up in '61, if only to campaign against his own re-election.

Further inquiry into LEO ST. JOHN's death revealed that he died in a Tampa hospital on Jan. 28 and that his mother, who is 83 years old, survives him. Leo's wife died several years ago; they had no children.

JOHN C. BULGER writes that he will be at our 35th reunion. John is a representative for the Manhattan Refrigerating Company in Chicago. His wife is the former Rose O'Leary, whom he married in 1942.

JOHN RYAN, our President, writes that RAY DURST, our Past President (now a Vice-President of the Alumni Assn.), was appointed chairman of Universal Notre Dame Night for the Chicago N. D. Club this year. We know that this will have been a successful affair.

John also says: "Perhaps while there are still some of us around, it might be a good idea to appoint some committees for our 35th reunion, with instructions to the appointees that their first duty is to take care of themselves so as to be on hand in June of '61."

From the Alumni Office:

Pennsylvania Secretary of Revenue CHARLES M. DOUGHERTY is married to the former Edna Ryan; is a veteran of 22 years in state and federal government and is famed in Harrisburg for his fondness for Shakespeare.

It was revealed in March that VIC YAWMAN, beside providing for his widow and four children, relatives, employees and the Holy Cross Foreign Missions, had bequeathed $15,000 to the University.

1927 Clarence J. Ruddy 32 S. River St. Aurora, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

Mishawaka Mayor ALBERT L. DOYLE is apparently firm in his decision not to run for reelection. He backed another candidate in the primaries. Al and local politicians of all colorations joined in an April 29 testimonial to Democratic chieftain PAUL BUTLER. Paul was presented with a Studebaker Lark.

How many are aware that '27 has a Castro too? However, Mexican power and light man H. FRANCISCO CASTRO hasn't claimed any relationship to Cuban liberator Fidel.

Back to the locals, BILL BRODERICK, as auditor and investment officer at the University, is still the man to see about tips on the market, and sportscaster JOE BOLAND is likely to pop up anywhere from California to Florida on the banquet or ball game trail.

N.D. Athletic Business Manager HERB JONES was a member of the large contingent from the campus at the funeral of Alumni Director CHUCK ROHR, '30.

1928 Louis F. Buckley 135 Blue Hills Parkway Milton 86, Mass.

The wife of PAUL BRUST died shortly after our 30th reunion last June. She was a 1933 graduate of Mount Mary College. She left four daughters and four sons, ranging from four to seventeen years of age. Paul has our sincere sympathy. He has been practicing architecture in Milwaukee since 1928. He originally worked for his father, then with him and Paul's brother, John, '32. Since their dad's death in 1946 Paul and John have had an interesting variety of large and small, public and private, building commissions. Paul has been active in the Serra Club for some time. He occasionally sees CHARLES O'NEILL, '27, just back from the Far East for N.C.W.C., and Dean R. C. Seitz of Marquette Law.

JOE LANGTON explained why he missed our class cocktail party last fall after the Army game. He was undergoing an operation at the time which involved the removal of one lung. Joe has made a satisfactory recovery. He advised that he has lost 25 lbs.—back to his streamline figure of college days. Joe is president of the Langton Auto Supply Co. in Peoria. His oldest daughter is a freshman at Mt. St. Scholastica College in Atchison, Kansas. We are looking forward to seeing Joe again at the Class of '28 cocktail party on October 24 after the Northwestern game next fall.

My attention was called to several important omissions in my list of 21 bachelors among '28 men which appeared in the December Newsletter. ED RAFTER reported that WILLIAM H. MURPHY and MARTY RYAN should be retained on the list of most eligible bachelors in Chicago and Buffalo respectively. Both ED and PAT VARREVETO became quite concerned over the absence of DAVE SMITH from the list, thinking that he may have deserted the ranks of bachelors, as did Pat a few years ago. When this was called to the attention of Dave, he responded in his usual cooperative spirit as follows: "What do you think would be the better course to pursue at this time — for me to marry so that your list will be correct or for you to add my name to the group?" Pat also called my attention to the omission of ARNOLD THOMAS from the list. Incidentally, Arnold spent some time with DAVE SMITH at Dave's home in Lake Worth, Fla. Dave, who sees GEORGE COURY occasionally, expressed the feeling that it is the duty of everyone of our class to see that George does not do any loafing, but continues to work strenuously so that he can amass a goodly share of loot and repeat his generous act of last June.

I am pleased to report that we have reduced our "Lost Men" list by one. LES FLEWELLING, who received his M.A. with us in 1928, lives at 10519 Rhodessa, Sunland, Calif. He is executive secretary of the Southern California State Dental Laboratory Society. He is president of the Sunland Democratic Club. Les was married in 1933 and has a son, age 24, and a daughter, age 12. CHARLES DUCHEY, roommate of Les at N. D. 1926-28, and now with the K. of C. Supreme Council, sent Les my December Newsletter. Les commented that the Newsletter raised some nostalgic thoughts. He mentioned that the late BERT HAVEN was their neighbor in Walsh Hall and operated a "commercial" (fee, 10c) golf putting green through their suite, his own and the hallway. I forwarded a letter from Les to EUGENE FARRELL, Editor of The Jersey Journal. Gene mentioned how pleased he was to hear from Les and commented, "because he was always on the list of missing persons when you were out digging names and addresses, I feared possibly he had been lost somewhere in the war." Les mentioned that JEROME HIGGINS is probation officer with the State Adult Authority in Oakland, Calif., and TERENCE HALLERAN is Regional Director, N.C.C.M. & U., of U.S.O., Santa Ana, Calif. Les indicated he would like to hear from JOHN CODY, PETE MERLONI, and WM. R. MURPHY. JOHN CODY and WM. R. MURPHY are on our "Lost Men" list. Can anyone send me their addresses?

GEORGE KELLEY has an excellent article entitled "The Priest and the Secular Press" which appeared in "The Homiletic and Pastoral Review," November 1958. The N.C.W.C. Bureau of Information considered the article so significant that they have issued reprints which are available at 5c each from their headquarters in Washington, D. C. George, as you know, is assistant managing editor of the Youngstown Vindicator. The late JACK LAVELLE wrote commenting on the reunion promotional mailings issued last year by several classmates, including GEORGE KELLEY, as follows: "The fellows do a terrific job — the latest being one of the best editorial men in the country, GEORGE KELLEY of the Youngstown Vindicator."

QUENTIN WILDERMAN is in business for himself as a public accountant in Altoona, Pa. His son, who was the first son of a "28er" to graduate from Notre Dame, now is with R.C.A. Whirlpool in St. Joseph, Michigan. His daughter is in Arlington, Va. It was great to see Quentin at our 30-year reunion.

roe, Wis., advised that HUGH HAYES, '29, who practiced law at Oregon, Wis., died very suddenly the past summer of a heart attack. Earl sees JOHN VOSS of Elkhorn, Wis., occasionally.

BERNIE GARBER, who has a keen eye for spotting '28 news items, sent a clipping from a New York paper regarding a civil suit involving a famous actor before Superior Judge MERVIN AGGELER in Santa Monica, Cal. Bernie commented that the court proceedings should not be dull.

Comments regarding our 30th reunion are still being received. The latest, from SWEDE SCHROEDER who practices law at Detroit Lakes, Minn., was as follows: "A person would have to be overly gifted in semantics to come up with an adequate expression about the 30th reunion. In my humble way I can only say that it was terrific — so terrific that I will be present at all reunions as long as the good Lord permits." Swede also inquired about the "cocktail game" for 1959, which will be the Northwestern game. Swede continued, "My two girls are at St. Catherine's in St. Paul. At the Army game '28 class cocktail party while visiting with VINCE GARNEY and his wife, I learned that they too have a daughter at St. Kate's. That's not unusual, but to later discover that one of my girls and Vince's daughter are inseparable friends (indeed they were out together at the very moment Vince and I were talking about them) demonstrated once again what a small world it is, for they never even dreamed that Vince and I knew each other. Later I had an opportunity to take all the girls out for an evening — at the risk of bragging I must admit that they raise them much nicer nowadays." Swede also advised that he attended the funeral of the father of DENNY DALY and a proceeding which the Bar Association conducted before the Court in memory of Denny's father.

Father JIM McSHANE, S.J., who is at St. Malachy's Church in St. Louis, was with VINCE WALSH in Monticello, Ill., for Christmas. Jim had just returned from giving retreats in Kansas City, Aberdeen, St. Louis and Decatur. The St. Louis retreat was given for hoboes. BILL KIRWAN also dropped me a note as he was visiting Vince at the time my December Newsletter arrived. I understand that Vince expected to have another eye operation.

Father ANDY MULREANEY, C.S.C., wrote from St. Patrick's Rectory in South Bend, Indiana, after he had returned from New Orleans and Galveston where he spent the Christmas holidays. Father Andy mentioned that Judge BOB GRANT is doing his usual good work on the Federal bench. He commented on JACK LAVELLE as follows: "Jack was not only a great Notre Dame man, but a real booster for the Class 1928, as evidenced by his help in our 30th reunion. We shall miss him. May God take this great soul to Himself."

I made a check of the current N. D. student directory and spotted 43 sons of '28 men. Two classmates, Dr. MARCUS FARRELL and DICK PHELAN, each have two sons there. The list of classmates, with the number in parentheses indicating the year in college, having sons at N. D. is as follows:

In Arts and Letters: JIM ALLAN (3); JOE BAIRLEY (4); GORDON BENNETT (1); ROGER BRESLIN (4); DON CORBETT (3); BILL CROBIN (2); BOB GRAHAM (4); ALBION GRIFFIN (4); GUY LORANGER (1); JOHN McMAHON (2); ORVILLE MURCH (2); DICK PHELAN (3) and (4); BUD TOPPING (2); MIKE RICKS (2); LEO ROZUM (2); WALT TOUSSAINT (4).

In Science: BERNIE BIRD (2); HENRY HASLEY (4); MARCUS FARRELL (2) and (4); EARL LAMBOLY (1).

In Commerce: FRANK CREADON (3); EMMET DOHANY (3); BILL DOWDALL (4); CHRISTIE FLANNAGAN (3); PETE GALLAGHER (1); JOE HILGER (3); GUS JENKINS (4); BILL KEARNEY (2); ED McKEOWN (3); JOHN McSORLEY (1).

In Engineering: JACK CANIZARO (2); CHARLIE CASH (3); JIM KEARNS (3); GERALD LUDWIG (3); JOE MORRISSEY (2); ED PHILBIN (1); GEORGE SCHEUER (2); CHARLES SCHUESSLER (4); DICK TRANT (4).

In Law: FRANCIS BEGGAN (deceased) (2).

Please let me know if any names were inadvertently omitted.

A friend of mine from Connecticut reports that CHARLES DUCHEY is still with the Knights of Columbus in New Haven, Conn. He is also a partner in an arena skate shop in New Haven. His daughter, who has degrees from Goucher College and Yale University, is now a research assistant at Yale University. Charley is very active in community organizations, having served as president of the New Haven Community Chest, and the Travelers' Aid Society and Chairman of the Hamden Library Board.

I noted in a publication of St. Joseph's College Institute of Public Relations in Philadelphia a picture of CHARLES SHORT who teaches "The Law of Industrial Relations" there. The comment is made that "Mr. Short is not only an able attorney, but a sound ethical philosopher, alert to account for psychological and sociological factors."

In America under the caption "Top Writer," I noted that JOSEPH A. BREIG, assistant managing editor of the Cleveland Universe-Bulletin won a first in the "running news story" category for his reporting of the "Right-to-Work" amendment debated in Ohio last November. The Cleveland Newspaper Guild makes awards each year for the best newspaper work appearing in newspapers published in Cleveland. Two years ago Joe received the award for the "best single news story." Congratulations, Joe, and best wishes for continued success.

FRANK CREADON and JIM ALLAN reported that they saw the following fellow classmates at the Junior Class Parents week end at Notre Dame in March: JIM KEARNS, JOE HILGER, ED McKEOWN, and DICK PHELAN. FRANK CREADON also mentioned that his son and BILL DOWDALL's boy are to be in Boston with the Notre Dame Glee Club for a concert soon. Frank was in the hospital with a heart condition when I was in Chicago a few months ago. ED BRENNAN is another Chicagoan who was hospitalized recently. VINCE CARNEY has been ill also. The latest report I have is that Frank, Ed, and Vince are back on the job.

I had good sessions in Washington recently with BILL JONES and BILL COYNE. Bill Jones, who practices law in Washington, has a daughter at Newton College of the Sacred Heart in the Boston area. Bill Coyne, who is with Housing and Home Finance, has a son who is graduating at the University of Maryland in June. He expects to continue there in the medical school.

PAT CANNY reported that he met the following Notre Dame men at JACK LAVELLE's funeral: Fathers LOUIS THORNTON, C.S.C. and FRANCIS J. BOLAND, C.S.C.; RAY MOCK, VIC FISCHER, JOE ABBOTT, BILL (TURK) KELLY, BERNIE GARBER, "BUS" REDGATE, JIM DWYER, RED SMITH, JIM QUINN, JOHN LAW, GEORGE ROHRS, TIM TOOMEY, JOE SHEA, JIM CARROLL, HENRY FREY, DAN HALPIN, TIM O'ROURKE, WALTER KENNEDY, JOE WHITE, GEORGE WINKLER, JOE FRIEL, JOE BYRNE, Sr., JOE BYRNE, Jr., JOHN ANTUS, WARREN FOGEL, JIM MCGOLDRICK, TOMMY FARRELL, Dr. JERRY HAYES, GREG RICE, and HUGH DEVORE. Pat commented "Jack was a faithful friend to all of us and unquestionably had more sincere life-long friends than anyone that I've ever known. We will all miss him, especially his wonderful family." Pat concluded as follows: "I had been to the football game with Jack when he scouted the Cleveland Browns and the Washington Red Skins here in Cleveland on the Sunday just prior to his death. He appeared in good health and, of course, in good spirits. As you probably know, he had just gone to Confession in preparation for First Friday only a few hours before he died. As a matter of fact, the same priest who heard his Confession about 4:00 p.m. gave him the last rites at 9:10 p.m. that evening. Wouldn't we be lucky if all of us could be assured of being so blessed? I think that the good Lord was in need of a masterful M.C. at some of his special banquets in heaven which is probably the reason He took Jack up with Him so early. I hope that all of his friends continue to remember him in their prayers as I know Jack will remember all of us."

Thanks to BERNIE GARBER, I believe you all received a letter from the Jack Lavelle Fund, 1600 Broadway, Room 300, New York 19, N.Y. It is not too late to contribute to this fund. Bernie advised that the proceeds from the Army-Notre Dame basketball game were donated to the Lavelle Fund. TIM TOOMEY reports that Jack's son John, age 11, will spend the summer at the camp of the New York Giants football team.

I had a good session with our Class President, JIM ALLAN, in Boston recently. Jim purchased Addressograph plates for the class for use in our mailings. Thanks, Jim, for this favor. He mentioned the great job done by JOE MORRISSEY in getting the names of all those who attended the very crowded Army game class cocktail party last year. The number attending these parties has been increasing each year. Jim has made arrangements for adequate space in the private Faculty Dining Room on the campus for our next '28 class cocktail party to be held October 24 following the Northwestern game. Make plans now for attending by ordering tickets for the Northwestern game. Families and guests of '28 men who accompany them to the game are invited to join them at the party.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

WILLIAM F. CRAIG, '29
Off-Camera Citizen

Voted Eastern Indiana's Notre Dame Man of the Year 1959 was William F. Craig, Sr., an intensely active citizen of Muncie, Ind., for more than two decades.

Bill is vice-president, commercial manager, film buyer, etc., for the Tri-City Radio Corporation, which operates WLBC Radio and Television in Muncie, maintaining a high level of family entertainment with such public services as educational programming with local college personnel and telecasting Little League baseball from a station-owned field.

He has been general chairman of the United Fund of Delaware County twice, including the 1958 campaign when Bill's direction was so successful that the goal was oversubscribed by $60,000 in spite of a business recession and the loss of an executive secretary in mid-campaign. At present he is serving as chairman of a new Chamber of Commerce committee looking to Muncie's urban development.

Bill is a member of St. Lawrence Church; Past Navigator of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus; a member of the Delaware Country Club, Muncie Club, the Rotary, Elks and Moose. He is past director of the Indiana Broadcasters' Association, vice-president and director of the Muncie Chamber of Commerce and works hard as a city chairman for the Notre Dame Foundation.

His family consists of his wife Ann and 10 children: Bill, Jr. (father of three boys); Marjorie (Mrs. Allen) Steinke, Denver, Colo.; Patricia (Mrs. Robert) Stough, Muncie; and Mike, Bob, Tom, Joe, Don, Jim and Tim Craig. With all these responsibilities Bill seeks relaxation as an airplane pilot and dedicated golfer.

These parties are very popular, as they are our only class get-togethers which include the wives of classmates.

The Notre Dame Club of New York City wishes to thank those members of the Class of '28 who have contributed to the Jack Lavelle Fund, as it wasn't possible to write each one individually. As of April 1 the '28 contribution totaled $1250.00.

Our President, JIM ALLAN, commented as follows on the Class report on Foundation contributions during 1958 which appeared in the Spring issue of Notre Dame magazine: "It looks as though the '28ers stack up pretty well with the rest of the classes as regards both the percentage of donors and the amount contributed. There are only six classes with a better percentage than ours and six with a greater total. I hope we will be first in both categories when the report comes out for 1959."

HENRY HASLEY, master of Indiana's Northern District K. of C., came up to South Bend from Fort Wayne to preside at two-day exemplification ceremonies where 104 received the Fourth Degree. ED KRAUSE, '34, toastmastered the closing dinner.

JOE DEBOTT advised me of the death of JOSEPH A. HANEY (Obligato) of Newark, N.Y., on April 16 following an operation in Rochester, N.Y. Joe had been a practicing attorney in Newark, for a number of years and served for six years as Wayne County District Attorney from 1951-1957. Joe, who was 51 years of age, served in the U. S. Army and U. S. Navy from 1943 to 1945. He received his law degree from Fordham University in 1930. Joe was past president of the Wayne County Bar Association. His only survivors are two brothers, George and Thomas. Joe was always interested in the Class of 1928 and returned for our 25-year reunion. He was most cooperative whenever I called upon him for news. The last time I heard from Joe he indicated he would like to hear from RUSSELL RILEY and TOM TRAUGHBER. Joe roomed with DON HENNESSEY, '29, while an undergraduate at Notre Dame. I have asked our treasurer, TOM HART, to arrange with Father MULREANY, C.S.C., to offer a Mass for Joe. Please remember him in your prayers.

EDWARD P. MCGUIRE, who received his LL.B. with us in 1928, died in Chicago on April 2, 1959, after having been ill for three months. I used to see Ed regularly when I lived in Chicago, as he was an attorney for the Securities and Exchange Commission in the same building with me at 105 W. Adams Street. Ed was always interested in the class and attended our 20-year reunion. He is survived by his wife Alice and a son and a daughter. Ed's sister, Dr. M. Ruth McGuire, died just two weeks prior to Ed's death. DICK QUINLAN advised me of Ed's death and represented the Class of '28 at the funeral home. Ed is the third 1928 LL.B. man who has died within the last nine months. The others are MAURICE COUGHLIN and BERT HAVEN. I am asking our Treasurer, TOM HART, to arrange to have a Mass offered for Ed by Father Jim McShane, S.J.

1929 Larry Stauder
Notre Dame, Indiana

"Larry, I expect to attend our 30th Reunion. It will be my first since graduation, I regret to say," writes JACK P. FARR, 80 Harrison Ave., Baldwin, N.Y. He continues: "I will call several other Long Islanders. . . I would like to meet with Band members and B.C.S. course members." Jack is with the American Tobacco Co., 150 E. 42nd St., N.Y.

JOE LENIHAN visited the campus recently and as usual had several excellent ideas on Class activities. He, WALT MULFUR and others have suggested that the presence of REV. CHRISTOPHER J. O'TOOLE, C.S.C., Superior General, and JOHN F. CARDINAL O'HARA, C.S.C., on the campus at the time of our Class Reunion, would add immeasurably to its success. Your Secretary agrees, but unfortunately the contents of a recent letter from Rome is partially as follows: "It was thoughtful of you to send on information about the 1939 Class Reunions. I still remember with great joy the reunion of the Class of '29 in 1934. Unfortunately, it appears, at the present time, that it would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, for me to attend the reunion which you are planning for June. In any case, you will know that, although absent from Notre Dame, I am most keenly interested in everything which concerns the Class of 1929." (Signed) CHRISTOPHER O'TOOLE, C.S.C.

Thank you sincerely, Father, for your interest. We will continue to hope that you will be with us. The Alumni Office relays the sad news of the June 19, 1938, death of PAUL L. (BUD) CLARK, Mrs. Clark resides at 205 Cochran Road, Lexington 18, Ky. We will remember Paul in our prayers.

FRANK HEUPEL has followed up reunion promotion for the Ph.B.'s and Ph.D.'s by a letter which has, I trust, by now brought him numerous replies. One proposal made is that this group have a Saturday luncheon together.

JOE NASH, like FRANK HEUPEL, from Chicago, is working similarly for the Ph.B.C.'s. If the interest of these '29ers is duplicated by others we will have an excellent attendance. Should you wish to contact Joe, phone him or write him at 4920 Washington Blvd., Chicago 44.

We hear periodically from DR. JOHN VAICHELIS of the Chicago Board of Health. John frequently visits with his son (who has been accepted by the U. of Chicago School of Medicine in the fall) on the N. D. campus and is usually contributing to Notre Dame of his time and energy by way of encouraging good high school students to make application for admission.

We regret that BILL SIDENFADEN of Suburban Gas Service, Pomona, Calif., has a conflict which will prevent attendance at the reunion. We will miss you, Bill. Among those who do plan to attend are: ROBERT ALT, vice-president of Mcnerney Spring and Wire Co., Grand Rapids 2, Mich.; DICK HAUGH, who orders a size 7 1/2 cap; PAUL HOLAHAN of Cleveland; LOUIS CLEMENTS of Owensboro, Ky.; REV. OTIS WINGHESTER, pastor of St. Agnes' Church, Elyria, O.; also J. HARVEY DALEY, management consultant, of Washington, D.C., who will contact LARRY MOORE and JOHN HINKEL.

News from insurance man FRANCIS J. BUSKLEY of Canonsburg, Pa., is likewise that he will be present in June. EDWARD DONOHUE, employed by J. A. Kindel Co., Cincinnati, plans to attend, as do HANK BURNS of the Ranburn Co., Inc., Tonawanda, N.Y., and BOB WILLIAMS of Washington, D.C., and ED DEBAENE of Detroit. CLYDE BUNKER of Green Bay, Wis., has hopes (as do we) that events will favor his attendance at its 30th reunion.

We quote from REV. JAMES E. NORTON, C.S.C., in a recent letter: "I deeply appreciate receiving the material on the 1939 Reunion. . . . From the way it looks now, I will not have the pleasure of being with you. You know how much I would like to share this reunion with you and with the other members of our class. Even though I may not be able to be with you, all of you will share in my prayers, especially during these days of reunion."

PETE MORGAN, track coach at Princeton, writes: "At the moment I cannot make definite plans for attending the Class Reunion. The National Collegiate Track Championships are in Lincoln, Neb., that week end. I may have a quarter-mile which will qualify to compete. My plans will be influenced by this conflict."

Others expected in June are CLAUDE HORNING, LOUIS HANEY, JOHN COLANGELO, ED GARRITY, JAMES P. KENNEDY, OLIVER SCHELL, JOHN BROWN and FRED WAGNER.

CHARLES HAYES SMITH and Mrs. Smith, formerly of Los Angeles, Calif., have for reasons of his illness returned to Denver, Colo., where Charles is in a sanatorium. You may address correspondence to 1117 S. Vine St., Denver 10; please remember him in your prayers. It was necessary for Charles to give up his position with the Internal Revenue Bureau in Hollywood.

We extend to ANGELO P. GALDABINI, Mrs. Galdabini and son James and Thomas the sympathy of the Class of '29 for the March 29 death of Pvt. John E. Galdabini, 22, at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., of spinal meningitis. John was the nephew of GENE GALDABINI.

REV. LOUIS THORNTON, C.S.C., and GAYLORD HAAS were among the '29ers who attended the April funeral of CHARLES ROHR, '30, in Cleveland. Charles had many close friends in our class. His passing was a shock to us. We will remember him and his family in our prayers.

JIM KENNEDY of Sola Electric Co., Chicago, writes this news of his family of twelve: "The two oldest sons have been graduated, one is in the Army and the other doing graduate work at De Paul. Elizabeth is a senior at Lewis College (Lockport, Ill.) working toward a B.S. in Industrial Arts—aviation. She is a licensed pilot as well as participating in other extracurricular activities. Second oldest daughter is in third year of nurses training at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Chicago. Tom is in his third year at Holy Cross Seminary, La Crosse, Wis. Bob is in his first year at Quigley Preparatory Seminary. Five are in grade school at St. Margaret Mary, Chicago, and Kevin, 3, is too young for school, too old to be confined in a play pen, too active to be on his own. Swell little fellow, but quite a problem."

If you are on the point of planning which home football game you will attend next fall you might like to know that tentative plans for a get-together of '29ers and wives are already being considered for immediately after the Navy game. Most of those who attended the after-Army game reception last fall have indicated a preference of the Navy game for any proposed repeat of a Class of '29 get-together.

"Public Administration" is the title of a new book by PAUL C. BARTHOLOMEW, professor of political science at Notre Dame.

Contrary to the rosters, BERNARD E. LOSBOUGH has been back from New Delhi, India, for years and is head man at ACTION-Housing, Inc., Number One Gateway Center, Pittsburgh 22, Pa.

Congratulations to BILL CRAIG, a "Spotlight Alumnus" in this issue.

HUGH J. McMANIGAL has again come through for us. He has mailed some 130 letters to classmates promoting attendance at the June reunion. Thank you, Hugh. Regards, LARRY STAUDER, Class Secretary.

1930 Devere Plunkett O'Shaughnessy Hall Notre Dame, Indiana

From the Alumni Office:

His classmates deeply grieve the death of CHUCK ROHR, popular Cleveland restaurateur, a selfless patron and promoter of Notre Dame activities in his home town and a director of the Alumni Association.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his widow and children, and your continuing prayers are appreciated.

Congratulations to ANDREW LOVE, recently appointed as vice-president of Western Union Telegraph Company. He will continue as comptroller of the company, a position he has held since 1937.

A week after an unusual and closely contested election in which proxy voting was permitted for the first time, JOSEPH LORDI, former N. D. second baseman and 1937 national squash champion, was installed as president of the New York Athletic Club in January. Joe, who owns the Petroleum Heat and Power Co. of Newark, N. J., joined the Winged Foot Club as an athletic member 28 years ago. It is the second time in the 91-year history of the club that a former athletic member achieved the presidency. Joe had been vice-president for three years.

On Sunday, March 15, 1939, the sting of defeat for the University's quiz team at the hands of some highly cerebral lasses from Columbia's Barnard College on the CBS-TV "College Bowl" was softened somewhat by the appearance of another Notre Dame man, DR. RAYMOND J. SPAHR, with a fascinating scientific development on the same network's "What's My Line." Ray, who followed up his Bachelor of Science in 1930 with a Ph.D. in chemistry in 1933, puzzled the panel with his specialty, research on a pinless diaper.

1931 James T. Doyle 902 Oakton St. Evanston, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

Dame, Portland and St. Edward's Universities, had as his last obedience the difficult office of Director of Admissions at Notre Dame, which he performed with cool efficiency. Last year he accepted with marvelous resignation the news that he had an incurable malignancy which numbered his days on earth. His last weeks were miracles of edifying courage and cheer. Sympathy is extended to Father Murphy's brother and sister in his native Anderson, Indiana.

Double congratulations to PAUL CUSHING on his election in January to the Board of Directors of the N. D. Alumni Association and his subsequent appointment to the University's Advisory Council for Science and Engineers. Since 1939 Paul, a civil engineer, has been president of Oakland's Hydraulic Dredging Co., Ltd., having previously served the firm as chief engineer. He has been on campus frequently to visit his student son.

LEO J. KLETZLY, SR., profiled in this issue, has reason for pride in his two N. D. sons, Ernest, '57, married in April, and Lee, '58, soon to be graduated from St. Charles Seminary and assigned to the American College in Rome. Leo and others are keeping up a Class tradition by patronizing the magazine subscription service of JIM McQUAID, P.O. Box 21, Vincennes, Ind.

REV. MAURICE FITZGERALD, C.S.P., is striving mightily at the Paulist Fathers Home Study School (21 E. Van Buren St., Chicago 3, Ill.), but his thoughts and prayers often return to Alma Mater.

Serving as director of personnel for New Departure Division of General Motors Corporation is JOSEPH H. ROBINSON. Joe was graduated from Notre Dame with an L.L.B. degree in 1931.

He became a member of Blue Circle, University honorary society.

A member of the Notre Dame Club of Connecticut Valley, Joe is active in several organizations in Connecticut, including the Knights of Columbus and Bristol Chamber of Commerce.

Married and the father of two children he has his home at 14 Ridgebrook Drive, West Hartford, Conn.

DONALD O'TOOLE, president of the Pullman Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, and head of the Calumet Region Congress, was elected president of the Mississippi Valley Association February 3 at its 40th annual convention in St. Louis, Mo.

It is the first time in the 40-year history of the association that a Chicagoan was elected to the post. The action is interpreted as recognition of the importance of the forthcoming opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Don is also president of the Standard State Bank, Chicago, State Bank of Blue Island, Blue Island, Ill., and a director of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry.

He had formerly served on the executive committee and was co-chairman of the Great Lakes Division of the MVA. Don's interest and knowledge of the inland waterways system and of Lake Calumet Harbor have aided greatly in the development of Chicago as an international trans-shipment point.

1932 James K. Collins 3336 Kenmore Road Shaker Heights, Ohio

We were saddened to learn of the death of Father VINCENT P. BRENNAN on March 24. He had been in the Pittsburgh Diocese since his ordination in 1936, and at the time of his death he was pastor of the Holy Sepulcher Church in Glade Mills, Pa. As well as being a fine priest, he was a wonderful fellow and friend. A former member of the Alumni Board of Directors, he continued being active in University affairs until recently. He is greatly missed by his classmates and parishioners.

DON RYAN writes that his only daughter, Lani, has entered the Convent and is now in California. Don expects her to be transferred to the Mother house in Philadelphia this spring where, in addition to her religious work, she will continue her studies of medicine.

It was good to see DICK MAHONEY at the Rockne Communion Breakfast in Cleveland after so many years. He is living in a suburb of Cleveland, Timberlake, and is an executive at Thompson Ramo Wooldridge, Inc. Dick has not changed much but has taken on some weight; even BILL VAN ROOY referred to him as Fatty, and MIKE CRAWFORD prescribed what he should do about it.

Among the recent changes of addresses are: PETE STREB to 183 Crestview Drive, Massillon, Ohio; REV. MERLE V. BALDWIN, S.J., to Holy Face Church, Great Mills, Md.; GEORGE KASSIS to 4240 Lush Drive, Sacramento 25, Calif.; LEO NEWMAN to 220 E. Jefferson, South Bend; DR. CHARLIE NASH to 508 W. Milwaukee Street, Janesville, Wis.; MURRAY RUSSELL to 625 Madison Ave., New York 22, N.Y.; TOM FEELY to 800 S. Ridge Road, Lake Forest, Ill.; ED M. O'CONNOR to 420 Walter Ave., Buffalo, N.Y.; AL BRASSEUR to 140 N. Varsity Drive, South Bend; and LOU PSENCIK to 1109 Cecelia St., Taylor, Texas. JACK CARNEY's mail addressed to 17 Evergreen Ave., Hartford, Conn., has been returned unclaimed.

From the Alumni Office:

DR. DONALD B. KILLIAN has been appointed an assistant director of sales for the Du Pont Pigments Department. He joined Du Pont in 1936 as a chemist in the Research Division of the Ammonia Department at the Experimental station near Wilmington.

In 1941 Dr. Killian moved to Newark, N. J., as a chemist in the Pigments Department's plant there, and in 1945 he became a group leader in research. He was appointed manager of the color research section in 1949 and, two years later, was promoted to sales manager for pigment colors. In 1956 he was transferred to white pigments as sales manager.

In 1936 he received a degree of doctor of philosophy in organic chemistry. He lives at 1407 Gilpin Avenue, Wilmington.

RAY GEIGER, the Maine manufacturer (paper specialties) and president of the state's N. D. Club, is a busy man. Activities include sponsorship of an N. D. Glee Club concert in Maine; appearances as editor of the Farmers Almanac on the Art Linkletter, Jack Paar and Don McNeill shows; and a trip to Europe this month, where Ray hopes the rural origins of Pope John XXIII may reflect in a papal blessing on his Farmer's Almanac.

GILBERT P. AUGUSTINE has served as chairman of the Human Relations Commission of Perth Amboy, N. J., since its organization in 1951. Formerly a personnel man for the American Smelting and Refining Co., Gil assisted in the assimilation of 5,000 Puerto Ricans in his community of 42,000; served as special consultant to the Dept. of Education for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and other groups with minority problems. He has written several pamphlets, the last being reports on training programs he has conducted at the Detention Home and Workhouse in Middlesex County.

1933 Joseph A. McCabe 2215 Lincoln Evanston, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

Out East AL DOMBROWSKY, a faithful reader of the ALUMINUS, writes that reading it "is almost like a visit on campus." Al was unable to make the Silver Jubilee Reunion last year but visited with his family two summers ago and "was truly amazed at the wonderful changes. Progress sure is a reality." Al wrote that the family "will make another trip to Chicago this coming August, God willing, to visit our daughter, Sister Mary Alfredine, S.S.C., and hope to spend a day or so on campus."

MICHAEL R. KOKEN has been named vice-president in charge of the steel division of Tucker Freight Lines, Inc., in South Bend. Mike has been with Tucker 20 years, most recently as general sales manager. He played on the 1929-30 national championship football teams, also coached and played with the pros. He was wounded in France serving in artillery in World War II.

PADRE INNOCENCIO STACCO, O. Cist., "attached to an Austrian community for missionary work in an abandoned part of Bolivia," sees no Americans for years at a time, likes to read about his old friends. His address is Convento de los Cistercienses, Apolo, Caupolican, Bolivia.

1934 T. Edward Carey
18843 Inglewood Ave.
Rocky River 16, Ohio

From the Alumni Office:

After numerous conferences Secretary ED CAREY and Local Chairman BOB CAHILL think they have a wonderful program lined up for the 25th Reunion. The Silver Jubileers will start with a cocktail party and jubilee dinner in the faculty facilities upstairs in the old South Dining Hall. There will be a brief speaking program (if somebody can muzzle ED KRAUSE), then sandwiches and small talk into the wee hours in Lyons Hall. The Class Memorial Mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Lyons Chapel by Father JIM MOSCOW, Senior Class President and now Director of Catholic Hospitals, Archdiocese of Chicago. Father MIESBURGH will host a President's Luncheon for the Class on Saturday in the midst of golf, guzzling and gatherings in the Colleges. All this plus the Saturday night Alumni Banquet and Sunday Mass at the Grotto.

All hope that DR. JAMES EDWARD McMANAMON will be there on his way back to Knox College. Jim, an associate professor of modern languages at Knox, has enjoyed a year's leave to teach at the Technical Institute of Monterey, Mex. He has an M.A. from Washington and a Ph.D. from Illinois. Also expected is ED FITZMAURICE, recently made vice-president of the Perkins Division of General Foods Corporation.

Word was just received on the death of JOHN J. O'CONNOR in Kansas City on April 24. Remember him in your prayers and at the Reunion Mass.

From the Alumni Office:

Sad tidings concerning the families of two loyal '35ers who have served long and faithfully with the Notre Dame Clubs. The deepest sympathy of all their classmates will go out to ARMOND "MONK" ALBO, who lost his 11-year-old daughter Nancy Alice in January following an operation for correction of a heart defect, and to TOM HILS, whose mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hils, died in March at the age of 78 in the Scotia, N.Y., home of his sister Mrs. Charles Luckhurst, leaving two other brothers, Frank and William of Schenectady, N.Y. Monk is president of the Spokane Club and Tom is a mainstay and former "Man of the Year" of the New Haven, Conn., group.

1935 may be the clubbiest class in the N.D. system; the remaining news, in a happier vein, concerns the triumphs of other all-round organization men. Class Secretary FRANK HOCHREITER, a perennial toiler for the Baltimore Club, may still be recovering from the Navy game rally he staged last fall and the Class questionnaire he distributed in the spring, but it hasn't slowed his other activities, viz., a new title (Chief, Progress Control, Renewal Operations, Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency) and a new show (directing and playing a police inspector in the Vagabond Players production of the French chiller "Monique") with rave reviews from all the Balto critics, natch.

Bouquets are also in order, on several counts, for genial JIM SHELLS. Long famed as a fabulous family man, a pillar of the N.D. Club of New York and since last year a director of the national Alumni Association, Jim was honored as New York's "Notre Dame Man of the Year" at the Club's Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner Dance at the Park Lane Hotel in April. Since January 1 lawyer-broker Jim has been a full partner in the Wall Street firm of Gregory & Sons.

Well known to Notre Dame in Houston, Texas, is Father TOM CEMON, pastor of St. Michael's Church. Maybe you saw Dale Francis' Our Sunday Visitor story, condensed in the Catholic Digest, on Father Tom. Called "Still Kneeling in the Bean

LEO J. KLETZLY, '31
Tribute to a Tireless Trucker

In an article called "Kudo for Kletzly" the Suburbanews magazine announced that the board of directors for Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., had elected general traffic manager Leo J. Kletzly of Columbus, Ohio, to a vice-presidency, the second man to achieve that office in 43 years.

A native of Wheeling, W. Va., Leo has been in trucking since graduation (cum laude), first with a Wheeling local carrier. Joining Suburban in 1939, he was successively a rate clerk, office manager and manager of the Wheeling terminal before transfer to the Columbus home office in 1944. Appointed traffic manager four years later, he became a special accounts representative and general traffic manager of both firms when Suburban acquired Liberty Highway Co. two years ago.

The article noted Leo's gregarious charm, his tirelessness and his "passion for lending himself to movements in the interest of underprivileged children," but it could list only a fraction of his quiet efforts for Church, family and community: charter membership and recent vice-presidency in the Serra Club (his work for vocations is matched by pride in his son, brother, aunts, etc., in the religious life); parish chairmanship and board membership in the Retreat League; labors in drives for Catholic orphanages and high schools; the Big Brother Association (his first "little brother" is now an N.D. grad); perennial activity in the United Appeal, and local trusteeship in the Kiwanis, all this (which made him Columbus "N.D. Man of the Year" a few years ago) he assumes is the minimum to be expected of a Notre Dame man. A close friend confides: "You cannot know him without being a little better yourself."

Married 25 years, Leo and Marcelle Kletzly have three children: Ernest, '57, recently married; Lee, '58, a seminarian bound for Rome, and Marceline, a soph at Marian College.

Patch," it tells how Tom Cemon returned as a priest to the same land he tended as a boy because of the example and encouragement of several other priests, among them JOHN CARDINAL O'HARA.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary BOB ERVIN wants the Class to know that this edition of the '36 news is thin because his deadline came and went before the last ALUMNUS issue was circulated. Conscientious Bob reports difficulty "getting the guys to write unless they have a column to stimulate them." You could remedy this situation by dropping Bob a line about you and your buddies whenever the spirit moves you. WILLIAM R. BOWES has joined the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. Bill is a representative in the Chicago office. WILLIAM L. STRUCK teamed up with three other Dayton attorneys in April. The new partnership is Demann, Wasserman, Miller & Struck, Suite 702, Harries Bldg., Dayton, O. Bill followed up his B.C.S. with an LL.B. in '37. From the freshman year you may remember a Milwaukeean named FREDERICK HEIDER whose yen to be an actor made him quit to join Chicago's Goodman Theater. He has made quite a name for himself since as producer of ABC-TV's "Voice of Firestone," the man who made the controversial decision to switch the famous musical program to a mixture of classical and popular music. Last — but a long way from least — congratulations to fabulous footballer BILL SHAKESPEARE on his election to a vice-presidency of Cincinnati Rubber Manufacturing Co. Another '36 football ace, KEN STILLLEY, is dividing his time between chores as mayor of Clairton, Pa., and manager of player personnel for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

1937 Joseph P. Quinn
P. O. Box 275, Lake Lenape
Andover, N. J.

Your Secretary is proud to add some new names to his correspondents this time. Follows the column hasn't been able to report on for a long time.

BILL MULRENAN of Remington Rand Electric Shaver leads the list this time with a fine letter from Bridgeport, Conn. Bill reports in with three boys and one gal. His contacts over the last year have been with JACK BAKER, who is executive vice-president of the Holmes Dept. Store in New Orleans; his old roommate DICK SCANNELL who also lives in Fairfield, Conn.; also FRAN HERB who is with a business machine company in Baltimore; and Dr. MIKE SCULLY who is a surgeon at St. Vincent's Hospital in Bridgeport, Conn. It's nice to know that Scully is around because the Secretary has written to him for every column and nary an answer as yet. To think I used to let him crawl in our window in Alumni Hall. DICK SCANNELL reported that he had been in contact with DON HANNING, who is still with the FBI, and DAN SULLIVAN, both of whom live in Washington, D.C.

An old neighbor from Freshman Hall days, PHIL BONDI, writes from Dayton, Ohio, and the Standard Cash Register Co., that he has an investment at the University in the Junior Class who claims the place is a lot tougher now than it was when his dad was a gleaming light in Dean McCarthy's class, and running for many of the political offices on the campus. Bondi reports many bouts with the medical corps and hospitals since '37 and hopes (and we all do) that good health is his at last. He heard from our mutual roommate BOB RUSSELL, who is now with Miller High Life as last reported and recommended for the reunion committee. Phil gets the usual cards from ED CROTTY, TOM HUGHES, ELMER ZENNER, and JOE SCHILLING at Christmas time. To go with the big N.D. boy Phil also has another boy and girl, plus the middle age secretarial spread that has plagued so many of the boys after '37.

V.-P. AL SCHWARTZ comes through with a by-line on BILL SHAKESPEARE, who has been elected a V.-P. of Cincinnati Rubber Mfg. Co., a div. of Thor Power Tool Co. Bill had previously been associated with the export division of Thor and has traveled all over the world and served as export sales manager. Bill's picture appeared in the Thor Scoreboard and now sports a mustache (glasses too, which we knew about). He hangs his hat in a Cincy suburb and has two children.

JOHN COLLINS of Republic Moulding Co.,

formerly of Chicago, has now been transferred to Rochester, N.Y. FRANK "PINKY" CARROLL, Al's in-law, has deserted the East Coast and now lives, of all places, in Manhattan, Kansas, where he is the business manager of St. Mary's Hospital now in the process of a three-million-dollar building program. "Pinky" should have been associated with the hospital before when he was raising the family.

A real good correspondent is now heading back East — JACK GILLESPIE is being transferred to New York City for the domestic company, Mobil Oil Co. (Socony), in charge of public relations after having the same department on a smaller scale in the Midwest. Jack will join the delayed New Haven commuters this summer in the Fairfield County area.

FRANK LESSELLYONG, sales manager of Tonka Toys, checked into the Toy Show in New York in mid-February and we had a date which I was unable to keep. Frank and Jack were roommates and finally got together the last year. Tonka Toy has kept Lessellyong on the go all over the country.

Father JOYCE, C.S.C., acknowledged his freak eye accident and stated that the vacation came in handy once he learned of no impaired vision. (Fr. Ned stepped on a plank, that sprung up and hit him in the eye, for your info.—likely story). He also reports that the best winter in South Bend history has just been completed.

GORDON MURPHY, V.P. of American National Bank, reports in from Cheyenne, Wyo., that the Air Force leaving Cheyenne and now the missile program moving in with Convair have changed the present economy of the area. Business can't be too bad, as the bank expects to put a new building up in the area.

JAMES W. DOWNEY, M.D., general practitioner, of Kansas City, Mo. (domicile K.C., Kan.) has taken up farming on the side (subsidy program no doubt) and a little expensive golf game. He sees BILL SHARP, GRAHAM OWENS, TOM "FROG" HIGGINS and EDDIE REARDON. For a real shock we heard from "Rid-West," a product of Relax-A-Cizor, Inc., in the person of the administrative assistant to the vice-president—none other than PETE JOHNEN, Chicago. The adv. material stated that this wonderful machine is used on the sub "Seawolf" for relaxing purposes and was a feature in Esquire Mag. Pete is bolder than ever if this is possible (GENE LING please note). He sees ARCH GOTT once in awhile. Arch has shifted from Intl. Harvester to Elgin Corporation after many years. From the deep southwest "TEX" POWERS writes from the Humble Oil Company, Baytown area. "Tex" spent some time here in New Jersey but is now a commuter from the Houston area. He didn't like the N.Y.C. commuting and now has to suffer the Texas way. One address has been changed and I believe the vacation bound boys will want this one. JACK McAULIFFE, architecture '37, has moved from Lanikai, Hawaii, to Kailua, Hawaii. When visiting the new state be sure to look up the Quinns (Gov.) and Jack.

Many thanks to my correspondents, but the per-

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

WILLIAM V. SHAKESPEARE, '36
Still Winning in Ohio

William V. (Bill) Shakespeare, All-American hallback of 1935 whose last-minute pass beat Ohio State 18-13 that year in one of the most memorable comeback victories in Irish grid annuals, has just been elected a vice president of Cincinnati Rubber Manufacturing Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, a division of Thor Power Tool Company of Aurora, Ill. Bill has been assistant to the president since 1956 and has been in the Thor organization since his graduation.

Fans most frequently recall Bill's role in the remarkable comeback win over a mighty Ohio State team. The Irish were down 13-0 going into the final quarter and were that close only because of Shakespeare's excellent punting.

Sparked by Andy Pilney, Notre Dame scored twice but still trailed 13-12 with a minute to play.

With the clock ticking off the final seconds, Shakespeare faded all the way to Ohio's 38 and let loose a pass which Wayne Millner grabbed in the end zone.

Bill Shakespeare entered Thor Power Tool Company's Export Division after his graduation and has been in the Thor organization ever since. He traveled extensively throughout Central and South America, Africa, and the Far East before becoming Thor's export sales manager, headquartered at New York City, from 1951-56. He moved to the Cincinnati Rubber Manufacturing Company division of Thor in 1956.

Bill resides with his wife and two sons, Bill, Jr. and Warren, at Kenwood, Ohio. During World War II, as an Infantry captain, he was awarded a Bronze Star for gallantry during the Battle of the Bulge.

centage is still very low on returns. Some letters I didn't get to sign and I apologize for the oversight.

From the Alumni Office:

All kinds of news concerning one of the Class' most famous people, DR. CHARLES A. HUFNAGEL, heart surgeon and inventor of the "Hufnagel valve" for defective aortas. Charley was honored in February by the Indiana Society of Washington, D.C., as "Hoosier of the Year" and was also lauded on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives and in the Congressional Record by Congressman Adair. In March he gave the 1959 Kober lecture at Georgetown, and recent Russian medical papers on the possibility of heart transplants recalled that Dr. Hufnagel has been talking about that possibility for years.

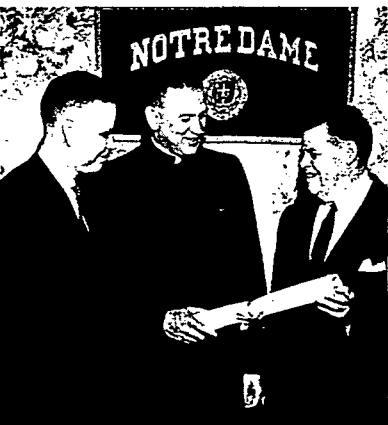

A. M. "TONY" BAYOT has been appointed assistant general manager of Shriro (Philippines), Inc., according to a March 27 story in the Manila Bulletin. Tony has been in the steamship business in New York, San Francisco and his native Manila ever since graduation except for distinguished service as an officer in North Africa and Europe during World War II and the Korean conflict.

REV. JOSEPH ENGLISH, M.M., is with the Maryknoll Fathers in South America. Address: Casilla 893, Temuco, Chile.

1139 Western Ave.
South Bend, Indiana

If you read South Bend's greatest (and only) daily newspaper, The Tribune, any day since the beginning of the year, you'd likely find something about the Class of '38 in it. Most of it, of course, is a play by play account of JOE KUHARICH's return to his alma mater and home town. Biggest event so far was the dinner given Joe by his local classmates March 16, after being snowed out on a previous date in February. Joe's Badin Hall roommate, CHUCK BOROWSKI; the Professor, ED CRONIN, and protocol expert DON FISHER were co-chairmen of the event, at which luminaries included, besides the new official staff of assistant coaches, the following unofficial staff of coaches from our class: ex-All-American CHUCK SWEEZEY; ex-bachelor BILL GIBBONS; ex-villager JOHN MONAHAN; ex-colonel from Paducah LOUIE ANDERSON, ex-W.C.T.U. moderator NELSON VOGEL; ex-mayor of South Bend JACK SCOTT, and X. FRANCIS SCHAEFER. Also present but hard to account for were piano masseur ED HAGER; Niles, (Mich.) best informed (at least on football) druggist PETE KRAJCI; night life's gift to radio, FRANK CROSIAR, Kansas City's gift to the N. D. Foundation DICK BOWES, and the man who invented the phrase: "Who said they're cheaper by the dozen?" CELLY BALL. Celly knows whereof he speaks, having welcomed offspring no. 12, a boy, Dominic, last January. Score now for Celly and Lynette Ball is 8 boys and 4 girls which makes Celly prime target for JOE KUHARICH's recruiting service.—Also there, especially in spirits, were BOB DUBOIS, factory manager in the off-golfing season; lumberman JIM LAHEY, cup-bearer JAKE BURKE; steel and hardware tycoon JIM BEAUDWAY; dapper DON HICKEY, chuckling CHARLIE CALLAHAN; clear-headed (I admit I met him early in the evening) CLARENCE SCHUMACHER, and diligent (never let a glass remain empty) DON SMITH. Emcee was JOHNNY MURPHY, who, it was announced by Kuharich that night, will assist Hugh Devore as Freshman coach while continuing with South Bend School City. Murphy retired from coaching high school football in South Bend last fall after compiling a brilliant record. On John's freshman squad next fall will be his son Dennis who was all-city end for two years at South Bend's John Adams High School. Guests from lesser classes of N. D. included STEVE COUGHLIN ('37), HERB JONES ('27), BOB CAHILL ('34), "MOOSE" ED KRAUSE ('34), DAVE SLATTERY ('48), KUHARICH's executive secretary; HUGH DEVORE ('34) and JOE BOLAND ('27).

More good news. BILL COSTELLO has recovered completely from his heart attack last fall and is back at his desk in the hi-fi field in Chicago. TOM FITZGERALD had his picture, which looked suspiciously like his Dome picture — a strictly discouraging procedure to us with eroding hairlines — in the Indianapolis paper announcing his appointment as general manager of the electronics division of P. R. Mallory & Co. of Indianapolis. This news was sent in by our old Presxy JOHN O'CONNOR who also said Joe Kuharich was to be their Notre Dame Night speaker in Indianapolis this year.

John has two more years to go as an Alumni Association director. HARVEY FOSTER, FBI-ing in New York, was quoted in the papers and appeared on Dave Garroway's program in connection with the kidnapping of a baby in New York. A card postmarked Vatican City from Major (Doctor) DAN MONAGHAN, Army Medical Corps, to CHARLEY CALLAHAN said: "Had audience with Pope John XXIII yesterday and attended reception for new American Cardinals at North American College (for clergy only) last night. Talked to Spellman, Cushing, and Apostolic Delegate. O'Hara was sick and did not attend but he stopped and beamed during procession in consistory this morning when I screamed 'Notre Dame' at him. Most disappointed not to see anyone from N. D.—Boston here in droves to salute Cushing." Well, after all, Dan, Boston is closer to Rome than N. D., besides I am sure a Denver Monaghan could keep up with any number of Bostonians especially if he is a class of '38-er!

A nice letter from GEORGE McDERMOTT who recently moved with his wife, Elizabeth (Zibby) and four children, Milton, Beth, Cathy and Johnny, from Oklahoma City to 6815 Gaston Ave., Dallas, Texas. This was not George's first move. George traveled New York state as a social worker after graduation until the Air Force gave him a three-year tour. He then became a salesman for the Hickok Mfg. Co. in Rochester, N.Y., until 1951, when he went into the construction business in Shreveport, La. A very enjoyable and profitable 18 months illness on the part of his partner decided George to terminate the experience and enter the stock brokerage business, which he is still as a partner and general manager of the Dallas and Oklahoma City office of Wiles and Company. George wants all of the lads to look him up when they get near Dallas. That's an order, men!

My predecessor CHARLEY CALLAHAN has mentioned hearing from the following this past winter: ED BRENNAN, TOM MULLIGAN, JOE CALLAHAN, JERRY CLIFFORD, PAUL LEAHY, TOM WUKOVITS, HUB KIRCHMAN, SCOTT REARDON, HAL LANGTON and BILL MAHONEY who, not so incidentally, has nine children, we're glad to hear.

RAY MEYER visited with JOE KUCHARICH at the N. D.-DePaul basketball game flanked — and man, what flanks! — by TOM JORDAN and CHUCK BOROWSKI.

Change of addresses but, sad to say, no other word came in from GREG KEEGAN, Room 202, 4253 Surphur, St. Louis 9, Mo.; EMIL RUGE, 235 West Commercial Ave., Lowell, Ind.; BROTHER HILARION, C.S.C., who moved from Boy's Ranch at Bedford, Texas, to St. Edward's U. in Austin, and JAMES RUSSELL CALLAHAN, 22665 S. Woodland Rd., Cleveland 22, Ind. If any of you influential men in the class can persuade the above mentioned to send in a few words as to their activities you will receive the everlasting gratitude of your old rounder-up of the news — typewriter cowboy "Swede" Bauer, the sage of Western avenue. Adios.

From the Alumni Office:

R. P. "BOB" LEONARD of Kingston, N. C., chief supervisor of yarn operations at DuPont's Kingston plant, has been transferred to Wilmington, Del., as assistant to the production manager of the Dacron-Textile Rayon Mfg. Division.

ANDREW H. PISECK writes: "I suppose some of the old LL.B. classmates have wondered where I have been during the past years. Well, since graduation it could best be written in a book, but to make things brief let's say 4½ years in the Army, 2 years in the European Theater of operations.

"Army service started with the 4th Armored Division and concluded with the O.S.S. in Germany; travels included N. Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

"Presently I am in the Inspector General's Office with the Air Force at Roama, Rome, N.Y." Andy hopes to take his wife to a home football game in October and will look up his classmates.

Detroit 4, Michigan

This is the last issue of the Alumnus before the Class Reunion on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 12, 13 and 14, 1959. As your secretary I add my own cordial invitation to the one sent out by the University, for you to attend our 20th Reunion. It will not be a success unless YOU attend. Your president, Chuck Reddy and myself are trying to plan a very interesting, relaxing and enjoyable week end for you. The University has kept the cost down to a bare minimum, because they want all of you to return. The first men to accept our invitation were PAUL DONOVAN of Elmira, N.Y., and JACK McDONALD of Cleveland, Ohio, but there have been many since.

The following are the new addresses of '39ers: THOMAS BARNETT, 8368 Parkside Drive, San Bernardino, Calif.; ROBERT J. BIRKENHAUER, 1024 Anne Drive, Kingston, N. C.; THOMAS R. BULGER, 5921 Washington Blvd., Indianapolis 20, Ind.; JOHN J. CAREY, 3590 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis 8, Indiana; LAWRENCE A. DOYLE, 25 Crestwood Road, Morristown, N. J.; RICHARD J. GARAB, 193 Constant Drive, Flushing, Mich.; WALTER H. JOHNSON, JR., Senior Vice-President, Marketing, Capitol Airlines, National Airport, Washington, D. C.; JOSEPH E. McDERMOTT, 10200 Fairfield, Chicago, Ill.; JOSEPH C. MASON, 2998 Estates Avenue, Pinoli, Calif.; DR. DANIEL M. MURPHY, 339 E. Church St., Marion, Ohio; EDWARD FRANCIS O'MALLEY, 44 Glenview, Belleville, Ill.; JOSEPH A. PEDRUCCI, 118 Circle Drive, Springfield, Ill.; GERARD A. PURCELL, 518 Lincoln Bldg., Seranton, Pa.; LEE S. READ, JR., 5605 Apache Road, Louisville, Ky.; ROBERT T. RENDLEN, 33 Cedarbrook, St. Louis, Mo.; STEWART J. ROCHE, Oceana Co. Savings Bank Bldg., Hart, Mich.; JOHN E. RYAN, 3924 Marcia, Redlands, Calif.; PATRICK R. SHEA, 1509 Omeotha Knoll, S. Pasadena, Calif.; JOHN L. SUTTON, Lt. Col. U.S.A.F. Dept. of History, U.S.A.F. Academy, Colorado; FRANCIS S. TUCK, 8418 Ruthby, Houston 17, Texas; ROBERT F. VOELKER, Box 492, Stephenson, Mich.

Received a very nice Christmas card from the Gerend harem, on which WALTER GEREND had pictured his five "charmers" — Carol, Patty, Betty, Kathy and Jean. You have a very handsome looking family, Walter, and you'd better buy a strong bat to keep the boys from breaking down the doors.

We were indeed very sorry to learn of the death of CARL PICK, father of ROBERT PICK, our classmate. Also the death of Monsignor JOSEPH B. TOOMEY, whose brother, JOHN J. TOOMEY, was our classmate.

JERRY GREEN is the office manager of the Bendix Missiles, Mishawaka, Ind. He lives with his wife Stella, son Jim, Jr., and daughter Cora Ann, in Niles, Mich. We are counting on you, Jerry, to be present at the Reunion.

CHARLES W. EPHGRAVE is Vice-President and partner of a petroleum company in Chicago, Ill., where he lives with his wife Kathryn (her maiden name was Clifford, and she was a St. Mary's girl of '39), and their two daughters—Kathy Ann, 7, and Mary Alice, 6.

GEORGE R. MALOY is a General Insurance Agent in Clyde, N.Y., where he lives with his wife Anne and their two daughters Suzanne, 9, and Nancy, 5.

NEAL P. COCHRAN is Chief, Ind. Engr. Div., Rocky Mtn. Arsenal, and has recently moved to Aurora, Colo. His wife, Ann, and their daughters

Checking my records, I find that many of these news items have been in my file for 6 or 8 months. I have tried to space the information so that we could have something in the ALUMNUS each time. A good example of this is a letter from PAUL M. DONOVAN (see note above), practicing attorney in Elmira, N.Y., where he lives with his wife Helen and their children—Matthew, 15, Katie, 14, Michael, 11, William, 8, Mary, 5, and Paul, 2.

MERVYN J. GORMAN, JR., is an advertising executive with Grant Advertising in Caracas, Venezuela. His wife Ruth, daughters Sheila, Laurel and Martha, and sons Timothy and Steven, all enjoy the bongo music as well as the warm climate. Mervyn would like to hear from JIM WALSH, FRANK CUNNINGHAM, DICK ANTON, JOE HARRINGTON and ALFONSO URIBE, and he would also like to know the whereabouts of Father KELLY, C.S.C., who was rector in Lyons Hall.

Just received a very nice brochure from JOE HARRINGTON, in Colon, Panama, in which Joe explains the recent changes in Panama's Fiscal Code. Joe is resident manager in Panama for the Charles Pfizer Corporation.

My apologies to FRED E. SISK for postponing the information which he sent me some months ago. Fred is an attorney located in Las Animas, Colo., where he and his wife Jean and their four children—Chuck, Kathy, Bill and Libby, as well as three dogs and one cat, live very happily. In addition to being a lawyer, Fred is District Attorney of the 16th Judicial District of Colorado. He has been elected County Attorney and also has served as President of the Colorado District Attorneys' Association. Fred occasionally sees JOE DUNN who is a successful livestock operator and "gentleman" farmer. I hope that both you, Fred and Joe, will be back this coming June. Fred would like to hear from JOE DRAY, FRANK FITCH, VINCE DECOURSEY, and BOB PICK. Thank you very much, Fred, for your excellent letter, and I promise that I will be more prompt in the future.

FRED J. FROMHART owns a Bowling Alley in Moundsville, W. Va. His wife, Betty has presented him with three children during the past few years—David, 11, Jeffrey, 9, and Gregory, 3/2. Fred would like to hear from LEO KENNEDY of Cleveland and JOHN McMAHON of Indianapolis.

My apologies to PAUL F. KLUDING, DANIEL P. FALSIONI, JOE JUDGE, ALFRED O. KIEFEN, ROBERT M. ORTALE, LAWRENCE J. PETROSHIUS, PETER REPETTI, ALPHONSE RESPONDEK, TOM ROCHE, STANLEY SHEERAN, LARRY SUTTON, CHUCK THEISEN, PAUL TULLY, ARTHUR VERHOESTRA, JOHN WESSELS, JOE ZUENDEL, ED VON HOENE and FRANCIS MASTOPIETRO, for not including their information in the last three or four issues of the ALUMNUS Magazine, which was intentional on my part to try to spread the information I received over a period of a year or so, but, unintentionally it got away from me to a point where I am now 12 to 14 months behind time.

In the July-August issue I will have the balance of the copy as well as all the information on our reunion. My farewell message is that I would love to buy the next beer for our entire class of 538 men, and I sincerely hope that as many of you as physically and financially possible will be on the campus on June 12.

VITO VICTOR BELLINO has been appointed manager of the patent liaison section of Wyeth Laboratories. For the last eight years Dr. Bellino has been a laboratory supervisor for the Barrett Division of Allied Chemical Corp. He represented the firm as associate member of the analytical research committee of the American Petroleum Institute.

He began his career in chemistry with the Reilly Tar and Chemical Corp., Newark, N.J., following his graduation. He remained with that company for nine years and advanced to the position of chief chemist.

Dr. Bellino received his M.A. degree from Columbia University and his Ph.D. from Notre Dame. Later he studied law at Temple University and earned his LL.B. degree in 1937. He is presently a member of the Bar of the U.S. Court for the District of Columbia. He is a fellow of the American Institute of Chemists and chairman of that organization's Pennsylvania Section Legislation Com-

JOHN R. ZERBST, '38
Private Point Four

In his thirteen years in Brazil Jack Zerbst has conducted a private Point Four program which has possibly brought more U. S. "know-how" to South American business and industry than a dozen Pan-American trade conferences.

In 1946, following service in World War II, Jack was sent to Brazil as a sales representative for the foreign department of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation with all of Brazil as his territory. In 1948 he founded Union Carbide do Brasil S.A. as the first Union Carbide foreign unit. This company was the sales agent for Eveready Products as well as chemicals and plastics. During that year he also promoted stock participation of Union Carbide in S.A. White Martins, the leading Brazilian company engaged in oxygen and acetylene products and distribution.

In 1950 he founded National Carbon do Brasil S.A. as the manufacturing subsidiary of Union Carbide do Brasil, making Eveready flashlight cases and batteries. In 1951 Union Carbide became part owner of BAKOL and entered the polystyrene business, building the first polyethylene plant in Latin America near Santos, Brazil. In 1958 he further diversified his interests by forming a new company, CODIM, to explore mineral reserves in Brazil.

All the above Jack has done acting as president of Union Carbide do Brasil, but he has mixed his Brazilian business career with continuous civic and charitable activity, including positions on the board of directors of the American grade school and the American Chamber of Commerce in São Paulo, where he lives with his wife Elizabeth and 13-year-old son John.

mittee. He is also a member of the American Chemical Society and the Franklin Institute. A native of Elizabeth, N. J., Dr. Bellino now makes his home in Abington, Pa.

GEORGE J. NEUMANN is now assistant national sales director for the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. What a site George could have provided for the 20th reunion!

1940 James G. Brown 625 Madison Ave. New York, New York

From the Alumni Office:

JAMES F. SHIELY, president of the Winton Lumber Sales Co., of Minneapolis, was elected president of Ponderosa association's recent annual meeting in Chicago. PPW is an association of lumber producers and manufacturers of wood windows, panel doors, and kitchen cabinets.

Jim joined Winton Lumber as president in 1952. He also has been associated with the Rock Island Lumber Co., of St. Paul, and served with the Army Air Corps in World War II.

Jim lives at 1416 Goodrich St., St. Paul, with his wife and five children. He was Fire King of the 1955 St. Paul Winter Carnival, and last fall coached St. Paul's championship Little League football team.

Coach BUD KERR had about 60 candidates in uniform April 1 when he opened spring drills for his University of Dayton football team. Bud has some veterans in the line, but his big hope for next fall is a collection of speedy freshman backs.

The deepest sympathy of classmates will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. PAUL GLASS, 12925 Cherry Rd., North Miami, Fla., on the death of their 13-year-old daughter Maureen ("Missy") of nephritis this spring. Paul has been a member of the Miami Foundation Committee.

From the Alumni Office:

Some quick trips to Universal Notre Dame Nights held by Midwestern N. D. Clubs convinced ye editor that 1941, besides being packed with accountants, is pretty strong in the club officer department. At the Eastern Indiana celebration in Muncie, Ind., April 21, JOE MAHER, who has served the Club faithfully as a director for New Castle, was installed as Vice-President. In Jackson, Mich., WILSON "BILL" CRANDELL, a refugee from Kalamazoo, stays on as Secretary.

At last notice GERALD FISHER of Niles, Mich., was Secretary of the Berrien County Club. DR. GEORGE KATTER of Johnstown, Pa., is now at the helm of the N. D. Club of Central Pennsylvania, while E. J. ETTL is Vice-President in El Paso, Texas. Last year JIM CARBERRY was announced as President in Boise, Idaho, and JIM WALSH took office in April as top man for the N. D. Club of the Lehigh Valley.

We have received a letter from our Class President, JIM O'NEAL, who is with the D'Arcy Advertising Co., 430 Park Ave., New York. He reports: "My Notre Dame activities have been fairly minimized due to office transfers between New York, St. Louis and back to New York within ten months. . . with six daughters, it's a little trying. Now we are firmly re-established in the giant metropolis, and are tremendously happy with our latest addition. . . a son, born December 3! Poor guy probably won't have a chance of getting to Notre Dame with all those sisters draining the cookie jar dry. About a month ago, your anemic friend and mine, tiny LARRY KELLEY, showed up in town. . . with the pace he sets, I couldn't begin to relate the ground we covered. Anyway, he's hale and hearty and still utterly amazed that anyone

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

ROBERTO M. BENAVIDES, '39
Cow-Punching Judge

Roberto Benavides' taking the gavel in January had all the elements of a TV western.

Elected last fall as Judge of Webb County (Laredo and surrounding area), Texas, on the banks of the Rio Grande, Bob Benavides established a record by being victorious without any kind of party affiliation.

Since Bob graduated cum laude with an LL.B. he has divided most of his time between law practice and ranching. Over the past two years he has been elected and re-elected Grand Knight of Knights of Columbus Council 2304, is Chairman of the Laredo Red Cross for the second straight year, and is Chairman of the Laredo City Planning Commission.

A native of Laredo, he has long been active in civic and religious work, and is also one of the disappearing breed who are at home just as much in the saddle on a ranch pony as in a living room.

Bob is married and resides at 1420 Corpus Christi Street, Laredo, Texas.

tion of American Societies for Experimental Biology, April 14.

Dr. Blohm and his colleagues reported that a new drug discovered in the pharmaceutical laboratories of The Wm. S. Merrell Co., Cincinnati, will inhibit the production of cholesterol.

Mead Johnson & Company, nutritional and pharmaceutical manufacturer, announces the promotion of JOHN R. CORRIGAN, Ph.D., to assistant department director of the Synthetic Organic Chemistry Department in the firm's Research Division.

Dr. Corrigan, with Mead Johnson since 1955, had been a group leader in synthetic organic chemistry. He is a native of Spokane, Wash.

From the Alumni Office:
Class Treasurer JIM MADIGAN has reported to Secretary JACK WIGGINS some indications that the class' ambitious "Buck-a-Week" pledge plan may increase the class gift to the N. D. Foundation substantially, but that most of the Class has yet to follow up on the plan in any modification. Jim would like to remind everyone that the $52 is only a standard of the mean contribution that might be expected of a class 15 years removed and moderately prosperous. A pledge of any amount is appreciated; with most '43 men it would probably be less than a buck a week, but with a few it could be much, much more.

ED RONEY is in and out of Detroit, presumably still trying to work out a Notre Dame tour of European shrines, particularly Lourdes and Rome.

On campus Father BOB PELTON, C.S.C., moderated the swimming club until it took on varsity team status. Now rector of Morrissey Hall, Father Pelton has been editing a Spanish-language catalog of American Catholic colleges and universities for distribution abroad, particularly in Latin America. Father GEORGE BERNARD, C.S.C., Notre Dame's vice-president for student affairs, was on the banquet trail in the East recently for Universal Notre Dame Night.

DR. ROBERT P. NENNO was recently named a professor and chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at Seton Hall College of Medicine. Bob was formerly assistant director of the Department of Psychiatry at Georgetown University School of Medicine, where he founded a Retarded Children's Clinic and a psychiatric residency program. DALAS A. MILAM, who has been with the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. for several years, has been promoted from commercial and industrial sales supervisor to administrative assistant of the South Bend Division. Dallas was also recently elected to the board of directors of the South Bend Association of Commerce. JOHN McHALE agreed to take over as general manager and vice-president of the National League Champion Milwaukee Braves. Since 1957 John had been general manager of the Detroit Tigers, who went into a slump as soon as he left. He spent 18 years with the Tigers and at 37 is one of the youngest top executives in baseball. He played with various Tiger farm clubs, batted .313 and collected 22 homers with Buffalo in 1945.

Within a very short time after this column is published, the men of '44 will be trekking back to the campus for their fifteenth reunion. Will you be there? Local chairmen JOHN LYNCH and BOB LEHMAN have been hard at work these past months in close liaison with the Alumni office, preparing the many memorable events scheduled for that important week end in June. Class headquarters for '44 men will be Morrissey Hall, and the $20 package deal for the full week end is a real bargain (covering lodging, meals, "refreshments galore," and many "extras"). These reunion gatherings are few and far between, and for that reason alone we should all make sure we're there. Those who were back for our 5th in '49 and our 10th in '54 will certainly want to make this one. Those who may have missed our last two reunions "shouldn't let it happen again." It shapes up as a real wonderful time for all, a great opportunity to "catch up" on all the gang, and a perfect chance to revisit the old haunts and to inspect the many changes at N. D. since our heyday.

To the class roster you have already received, please add the following men who headed our call and notified the Alumni office to continue them on the '44 class roster, though most finished in another year:

JOSEPH F. DILLON, 2615 Marine St., South Bend, Ind.; J. BARRETT GUTHRIE, 116 E. Marion St., South Bend, Ind.; RAYMOND J. HOFFMAN, JR., 4924 Smith St., Fort Wayne, Ind.; JOSEPH P. PATRUCCO, 216 Columbus Ave., Meriden, Conn.; THEODORE F. SMITH, 2306 West 12th St., Anderson, Ind.; GERALD E. STANTON, 1005 South Delphia Ave., Park Ridge, Ill.;

could possibly live any place but Texas. Larry came through with a daughter about twelve hours earlier than our new boy. Incidentally, on that St. Louis trip, Mary and I had a very pleasant visit with FRANK POLLNOW, GEORGE CONVY and their wives and, naturally as the evening gained momentum, had to check in with two of our old buddies who have recently left St. Louis. . . . ED GRIESEDECK, now running the Falstaff Brewing operation out of Ft. Wayne, and TOM HENNINGAN, who has gone into the floor covering business for himself in Phoenix. Both reported in as very happy with their new locations and their businesses. As you may have heard, Ed also welcomed his first son about five or six weeks before ours so we're counting on their being classmates come 1976. If you ever get up this way, please be sure to call me: Plaza 8-2600, 430 Park Avenue."

Also, we have a note from ROY MURRAY, who lives at 1301 West Platinum, Butte, Mont.: "Way out here in Montana I don't get much chance to see any of the fellows from '42. Can't say when I last saw a member of our class. Keep saying I will either attend a reunion or a football game, but so far—no go. I was in Chicago in January attending the National Automobile Dealers Convention, and hoped I might make some contact but that failed. I did talk to DAN SHOVLIN in Springfield, Ohio, on the phone but we couldn't make contact. Dan and I are married to classmates from Emmanuel College in Boston, and it was through Dan I met my wife. We both have three children. Dan is with Bauer Brothers in Springfield. I am the Chevrolet Dealer here in Butte. Made a note of the luncheon deal you fellows have in Chicago and if I'm ever there long enough will try to attend. Should I in the future make contact with more members of our class, I'll drop you a line."

CHARLIE KIRBY, who lives at 123 Forest Avenue, New Rochelle, N.Y., writes: "First, after junketing around the Caribbean for a year and a half with the Grace Company, I returned to my first love, publishing (U. S. News and World Report Magazine) last fall. Fourth child—David Nicholas Kirby, arrived last April. Have recently seen the following from '42. . . . FRED PAULMANN and TOM FITZHARRIS, neighbors in New Rochelle; JACK GARVEY and GUS HARDART, nearby. BUD CONCANNON also in evidence and with expanding family. DON CONNORS, not Big Red, downtown N.Y.C. in law firm. JIM O'NEAL here at D'Arcy, handling Olin Mathieson account."

BILL "SCOOP" SCANLAN has just been awarded a Certificate of Commendation by his employer, The Pullman Banking Group of Chicago, as recognition of outstanding service above normal responsibility, primarily for his representation of the banking groups before trade organizations and other groups explaining the development of the St. Lawrence-Mississippi Waterway system and the personal service he extended to bank customers in handling their foreign affairs.

From the Alumni Office:

Former St. Joseph County, Indiana, Prosecutor GRAHAM W. MCGOWAN has been selected to be general counsel of the Federal Housing Administration. Graham has also served as assistant U. S. attorney for the Northern District of Indiana and special assistant to the general counsel for the Commerce Department. He's married to the former Alice Schaefer of South Bend.

The promotion of THOMAS J. SUELZER to the position of manager of meal and oil sales was announced by Central Soya Company, Inc., of Fort Wayne, Ind. Tom will cover the sale of both soybean meal and oil from processing operations located at Decatur and Indianapolis, Ind.; Gibson City and Chicago, Ill.; Marion, Ohio; and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Tom joined Central in the accounting department in 1946. In 1948, he was named manager of the company's insurance department, and in 1954, became a member of Central Soya's Meal and Oil Sales Staff in Fort Wayne. He will continue to make his headquarters in the company's executive offices in Fort Wayne.

NORVAL P. TRIMBORN, JR., 735 S. East Ave., Oak Park, Ill.; DON J. TROTTER, 604 Ludington St., Escanaba, Mich.; PAUL F. CARR, 43 Oberlin Dr., Warwick, Rhode Island; JOHN C. CROWLEY, 50 W. Bellevue Ave., San Mateo, Calif.; JOSEPH A. RIGNEY, Box 315, Wickford, R. I.; VICTOR S. COLLETTI, 2223 Wignall Ave., Fort Arthur, Texas; KELLY F. COOK, Route 3, Old Lystra Rd., Chapel Hill, N. C.; CHARLES J. PATTERSON, 34 Little Tree Lane, Framingham Center, Mass.; JOHN F. SLATER, 1570 N. Lafontaine, Huntington, Ind.; JOHN D. MURPHY ("Red John"), 825 Gregory Ave., Wilmette, Ill.

Most of the foregoing have already indicated they expect to be at our reunion in June. If there are any other '44 men who are reading this column but who have not been receiving reunion literature and have not yet received a class roster, I suggest they make this known to the Alumni office immediately and double-check that the office has their name listed on the '44 master roster.

Also add to your roster ROBERT A. MACDONELL (10030 Hazelton Ave., Detroit, Mich.) Bob assures us that he and JOHN H. MORRIS will both be down from Detroit for the reunion in June.

"Black John" MURPHY passes along news from Terre Haute that he had a recent letter from JACK WHITELY (who is now exec. v-p of W. R. Grace & Co.). Jack says he will be at the reunion "with bells on and golf clubs in hand."

Class "presy" JACK THORNTON has been holding pre-reunion meetings for '44 men in the Chicago area. The initial gathering included JACK SEGERSON, (Dr.) HAROLD HALEY, ED MONAHAN, MILT FLYKE, JIM LANDGREN, JACK WITOUS, GEORGE WENDT, BILL KENNY and ELMER SILHA. Some bits of news Thornton passes along. . . . "(Dr.) AL THOMETZ is listed on our roster; he passed away in June, 1956. . . . WALTER "MOX" ROGERS lost his mother in January. . . . JIM PLATT has become a landlord, and janitor. . . . JACK MORAN keeps promising to call. . . . FRANK TRUNK's mother assured me she will help baby sit if he goes to the reunion. . . . MILT FLYKE will attempt rapport with his engineering colleagues. . . . (Dr.) HAROLD HALEY is bucking for K.S.G. . . . KENNY and SEGERSON are carpooling in the Hammond, Ind., area. . . . Witous and Wendt are still an entry. . . . Ed Monahan insists he likes our town. . . . Landgren and Silha have all the money (what Kenny doesn't have)."

EMMETT ("Buzz") HASSETT is now sales manager for WFMY-TV, Greensboro, N. C.

We learned that BILL KELLY was recently assigned overseas and his new address is EO-ARDC, Shell Bldg., 47 Rue Kantersteen, Brussels, Belgium.

We received quite a complete rundown on the New York gang from JOHN DUFFY, and without paraphrasing or deleting we herewith quote his report:

"ANDY BARBIERE: Andy is now living in Baldwin, and is presently in charge of the Brooklyn office, Fire Loss Division, of the America Fore Insurance Group. He and Grace now have two lovely little girls.

"BILL O'CONNOR: Bill is now with the Fiber Glass Division of Burlington Industries. He is doing very well and has five little ones.

"JIM GIBBONS: I think he has applied for Mexican citizenship. When we see him, which is infrequent, we call him Jose. He is selling fiber glass for one of Bill O'Conner's competitors.

"DAN CASEY: Dan is now a big wheel at the United States Lines. I see him quite regularly in business and socially. He lives in Jersey and has three children.

"BOB CASEY: Bob is with Swift & Co., selling meat and other products. He also lives in Jersey and is a regular at all the Alumni affairs.

"BILL TALBOT: Bill is still single, and hasn't yet finished the great play, but he is trying. He still works for the publishing house, and continues to be the Bon Vivant of the Class, the last of the Big Spenders.

"ED MONAHAN: Ed left Westbury, and the FBI and is now operating his own security business in Chicago (I believe). We see Ed every great once in a while when he comes into town on business.

"PAUL McCABE: I met Paul two or three years ago when he was in town for a convention. Last I heard he had turned Republican and was elected District Attorney for Utica County.

"JACK SULLIVAN: (McCabe's roommate) I had a Christmas card note from Jan Sullivan asking me to get her husband out to the reunion, and I intend to drop him a line in that regard. As far as I know, Jack is still in Starkey, N.Y., running the Ford Agency.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNI

JOHN HART TERRY, '44
To Albany, a Boy from Syracuse

Soon after New York's Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller announced the appointment of John Hart Terry, of Syracuse, New York, to the important post of appointment officer on his new staff, John was elected by the Syracuse Jaycees as the city's outstanding young man for 1958.

Active in the N.D. Alumni Club of Central New York, John has served as president, secretary, treasurer and director. He was general chairman of Universal Notre Dame Night in 1957 when Father Hesburgh addressed the group in Syracuse.

John is a member of the Board of Founders of Bishop Foery Foundation, Inc., and chairman of the board of CYO of the Diocese of Syracuse. Associate general chairman of the $600,000 school fund drive of Most Holy Rosary Parish in Syracuse, he was president of the Holy Name Society for two years.

A prominent Syracuse lawyer, John is with the firm of Smith and Sovik, a member of the American and New York State Bar Associations. To accept his new position, he will relinquish his 11-year position as supervisor of the 12th ward in Syracuse and his membership on the Board of Supervisors of Onondaga County, where he enjoys the distinction of being the youngest person ever to be elected to membership in that group.

He is retiring as president of the U.S.O. of Syracuse and Onondaga County (N.Y.) He has also served the county on the Mental Health Board, Committee on Alcoholism and Citizens Committee of Childrens Court. He received his law degree at Syracuse University after serving in the Army in W. W. II, winning four battle stars in the European Theater as well as the Bronze Star with cluster and the Purple Heart.

John will occupy offices in Albany and New York City but will maintain his home in Syracuse where his wife Jean, and three daughters, Jean, Lynn and Susan, will continue to reside.

Jack is now the Eastern sales manager for a firm that supplies equipment for manufacturing pens. He travels a great deal but since his office is nearby we do see each other frequently. Jack has five children, all about the same age as mine.

"I think Jack will have the top story at the Reunion. That is about the night we received a phone call at 2:00 a.m. It was JOE FARMER, calling from Idlewild Airport. He and JIM KANE had just arrived from Chicago. It seems they stopped for a cocktail after work, and about four hours later decided to have their nightcap in New York with their old friend Rocky. The story goes on from there—long into the night, but Jack can have that honor in June.

"BILL ROGERS: Bill sells all of us our insurance now. We see quite a bit of him, naturally. Bill also has five, but his oldest is now in High School!

"JACK KELLY: Jack left the attorney general's office and is now very successful in insurance law. Among others, he represents ANDY BARBIERE's Company. Jack promised me that he would work hard this year to have a pre-reunion dinner.

"JOHN KEARNEY: We very seldom see John, but he keeps in touch with JACK KELLY. I really do not know what he is doing, but I understand he is still single.

"ED DOWLING: We very seldom ever see Ed—as a matter of fact, we never see Ed. He is still with the purchasing department of Pan-American Airways, and still lives in New Hyde Park.

"EARL ENGLERT: We used to see Earl regularly until he went back to Louisville. He worked closely with JIM FINNERAN who was an old classmate of mine at Chaminade. Jim, like Earl, is an Engineer working here in New York.

"TONY BILOTTI (Boom Boom): is with the American Chicle Company. I do not see much of Tony but I should since his company is one of our larger customers.

"RICHIE NIEMERA: I was in Chicago last year and talked with our old friend Richie. He was coaching basketball at Weber High and at that time he was on his way to the city championship.

"BUD AHEARN: Last we heard Buddy was assistant principal at Foxboro High School, and still single.

"JIM TORPEY: We haven't seen Jim since his wedding, but every time we get together, we always raise at least one for Old Trop. The last we did hear, Jim was teaching in the New York School System assigned to a special school, I believe, in Yonkers or vicinity. Sure would like to see him again.

"LYLE JOYCE: We see Lyle every time his brother comes to speak at an Alumni affair. He is now living in New York and teaching speech at St. John's University.

"FRANK ENGLISH: Frank was running the family Chrysler Dealership in New Rochelle, but I haven't seen him in almost two years. He also has five or six children.

"BOB McAULIFFE: I haven't seen Bob since the last reunion, but as you know, he is practicing law in Syracuse.

"ANGELO BERTELLI: I usually see Angelo at all the athletic events, football dinners, etc. I don't think he has changed at all except possibly the shape of his head, which seems to be thinning out at the top. Bert is running two or three "Package Shops" in Jersey in addition to doing the radio on Rutgers and Princeton football games and making speeches at banquets. He also likes the All-Havana cigars now rather than the old 3 for 10c type.

BILL BOSS and BILL HARTFORD are both recent arrivals in town but we haven't seen much of them."

"Thanks, Duffy, for all of the news. You gave "the column" a real assist this trip!

And now without fear of repetition, I again (and for the last time!) urge each and every '44 man to stand up and be counted on June 12 at N. D.! I personally guarantee a memorable experience.

See you at the reunion!
GEORGE

P. S. A few last minute reunion notes: Now it can be told. . . Those mysterious postcards from England, Italy, Germany, Hawaii, etc., were the brainchild of TOM ROLFS, the West Bend, Wis., leather king, who mailed them from his overseas sales outlets. . . Reaction has been just as wild, e.g., a note to "Hawaiian Herman" from "Gustav" suggesting "a three-day layover here" on a picture postcard showing DICK MILLER's Rochester, N.Y., funeral home. . . We hope to see FR. ALVAN HEURING, a '44 M.A., who recently lectured to the N.C.C.M. convention in Detroit on finances of his St. Nicholas parish in Evansdale, Iowa. . . From REV. MARK G. McGRATH, C.S.C., St.

Father Boorman has added the "circus" makeup and off-beat art of a big city tabloid and kept some of the trenchant commentary made famous by CARDINAL O'HARA and his successors, including REV. CHARLES M. CAREY, C.S.C.

Congratulations from the Class of '47, with which he graduated, to JOHN McHALE, new general manager of the Milwaukee Braves; the highly-regarded Johnny no longer claims us as his own, but I know your good wishes go with him.

(If you are a Giant, Pirate, Red, Cardinal, Cub, Dodger, or Phillies fan, of course, the wishes are necessarily modified to some degree!)

RIO REPORT

Another deserter from his graduating class, MAJ. JOHN REGAN, '43, was in South Bend visiting his in-laws recently (he married the former Vicki Kie-rein in 1945); he is ending a 38-month tour of duty in Rio de Janeiro with paratroops and expects to return stateside later this summer.

The need for medical attention was about the only thing that brought John and Vicki back from fabulous Rio prematurely, and many's the hour John will dream of Sugar Loaf, in all probability, while desk-confined in his next assignment.

He asked particularly to be remembered to NOEL DIGBY and to JACK HUFF; the latter was last heard from with Sears & Roebuck in Seattle, but he belies his journalist training by his continued refusal to write even a Hupfy note to this old classmate of his. Come on, Jack. . . I'll give you a free copy of John Regan's address in exchange for a line or two from you.

FROM BUENOS AIRES

This edition is liable to end up in Spanish, for another report has filtered northward from South America. When the snow was deepest and the temperature the lowest during our past severe winter, cometh a postcard from SAM ADELO "enjoying the wonderful summer sunshine" in the Argentine capital of Buenos Aires. Thanks a lot, Sam!

REQUIESCAT. . .

Word reaches us of the death earlier this year in Albuquerque of the wife of PAUL DELKER, '49; Paul started at Notre Dame with many of us in 1944, and in your names I extend to him our deepest sympathy and assurance of prayers for the repose of her soul.

COLLEGE BOWL

No one was more elated when Notre Dame's quartet won the GE College Bowl championship recently, nor more dejected when it blew the duke to a feminine contingent from Barnard a week later in Washington Hall, than Public Info Director JIM MURPHY.

Jim had envisioned all sorts of gratuitous publicity as the Irish team stayed on the program for several consecutive weeks, but it was not to be. Murphy was in charge of arrangements for the single telecast, however, and did his usual competent job.

LOTTERY "WINNER"

Although deadline for this column is too close to receipt of the March ALUMNUS to know if we're going to hear from DICK DEEB in response to last issue's plea, we're pulling another name from the hat.

This time our fumbling fingers come up with the name BOB MACDONNELL; how are things with you and the rest of the Detroiters, Bob? We'll look forward to hearing from you. (Ed. Note: This may kill you, Jack, but Bob is another deserter — to the ranks of reunioning '44.)

NEW ADDRESSES

ALVARO V. LESMEZ, '45
Gyro Genius

Alvaro V. Lesmez has been promoted to the new position of publications superintendent in the Countermeasures Division of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Great Neck, N. Y. His duties will include complete responsibility for all Countermeasures publications, handbooks, reports, etc.

Al joined the company in 1950, as a technical writer in the Air Armament section of the Publications Department. In 1953, he was promoted to senior technical writer, and in 1954 he became associated with the Aeronautics section as a group leader. He was promoted to publications production supervisor in the Aeronautical Equipment Division in 1955, assuming responsibility for all types of publications including the typing, technical illustrating and associated layout, and internal and external printing. In 1957 he was appointed to the new position of reports supervisor in the Air Armament Division.

Before joining Sperry he was an assistant operations engineer for Pan-American World Airways. In addition to his flight and engineering duties, Al wrote the flight manuals used in PAA commercial flights.

An aeronautical engineer at Notre Dame, Al earned a master's degree in industrial engineering in 1949 from New York University. He has taught evening courses at Adelphi College and has also been active in adult education programs.

He is a member of the American Ordnance Association, the I. A. S., the Society of Technical Writers and Editors, and is editor of the Notes, a news monthly of the New York STWE Chapter. His extracurricular activities include being Class Secretary for the Class of '45, an officer of the Notre Dame Club of New York and chairman of its Trust Fund. He is active in the Citizens' Recreation Committee in Garden City, N. Y.

Al lives in Garden City with his wife Betty, formerly of Bayside and Flushing.

JIM CUNNINGHAM won't have quite so far to come, but he's no longer in Chicago; having practically rebuilt the South Side as executive director of the Hyde Park-Kenwood Community Conference, Jim has moved to Pittsburgh to become associate director for community organization of Action-Housing, Inc., the Smoky City's urban renewal project, under another N. D. man, executive director BERNARD E. LOSHBOUGH. . . . JOE DILLON, mentioned above as back in the fold and reunion-bound, has supplemented his vice-presidency of Great Lakes Distributing Corp., by election to the board of directors of the Upton Co., Lockport, N. Y., wood products manufacturer. . . . Ex-New Yorker MIKE ZOROVICH, who went to Florida for a "winter" that has lasted 13 years and four children, is now the second largest ready-mixed concrete operator on the "Gold Coast" with his own quarry, nine plants, 70 trucks and a "business" plane that gets him to home football games and reunions; he'll pick up JERRY GAFFNEY (with Martin Aircraft in Baltimore) and swoop into South Bend June 12; Mike is very active in the Miami N. D. Club, invites all vacationing classmates to partake of their hospitality. . . . GENE SLEVIN reports back in as vice-president of Marvin Hult Associates, a Peoria ad agency; was recalled for Korea; now has a wife and daughter, and expects to join us on the campus. . . . WARREN "DUKE" LEARY is checked in by his wife Pat; he is publisher of the Rice Lake, Wis., Chronotype, northern Wisconsin's largest weekly; is a bank director, cubmaster and church league softball coach; but Warren's biggest news is his sixth heir, Sheila Margaret, who joined Jim, Mike, Anne, Clare and Kit in February. . . . And the Ft. Lauderdale club secretary reports JACK HOUGHTELING and PAUL GLASS, '40, are partners in the Sorin Hall Advertising Agency in that city. Obviously, memories of Notre Dame days linger on with Jack and Paul.

WORD TO THE WISE. . .

If you don't write, you're wrong. A few words of news from YOU may start a chain reaction of news items from your friends. So who'll volunteer to be detonator and write the first letter?

From the Alumni Office:

FRANK R. BEAUDINE has been appointed industrial engineering manager, Montgomery Ward & Co. Frank will be responsible for the development and administration of a company-wide industrial engineering program. He was formerly a consultant with McKinsey & Co., a national management consulting firm, and industrial engineering manager of the U. S. Rubber Co. plant at Mishawaka, Ind. Frank lives with his wife and four children at 2928 Lothair Way, Long Beach, Ind.

DONALD J. HEREFORD, JR., was recently advanced in rank to lieutenant commander in the U. S. Navy while serving aboard the attack carrier Hancock after two tours of the Far East. Don, his wife Betty and their two children make their home in California for the time being.

HARRY FORD, JR., because of his name, is remarkable enough as a senior project engineer for General Motors' Detroit Diesel Engine Division, but he has also co-authored an article on fuel economy with improved Diesel engines in the GM Engineering Journal.

The news of EARL MULLEN's death in Minneapolis came as a shock. He died January 11 of leukemia. Surviving are his wife, Janet, four children, his parents, and two sisters. Earl, a war veteran, was employed by General Electric in Sioux Falls and Minneapolis. Those of you who want to have Masses said and wish to notify the widow can do so at 6029 Kellogg Avenue, South, Minneapolis 24, Minnesota.

JOHN YONAKOR has been appointed superintendent of the general labor department of Republic Steel Corporation's Cleveland plant. He joined the company in 1956. After winning an All-American berth as a right end in 1943, he served with the Marines in the South Pacific. He played pro football with the old New York Yankees and with the Washington Redskins, as well as with Canadian teams.

LAWRENCE E. TURNER III donned the old school tie for this preview of things to come 'long about 1977. Papa LARRY TURNER, JR., or "Bud" to his buddies, is practicing law in Indianapolis.

SPOTLIGHT-ALUMNUS

JOHN R. PANELLI, '49
Pep in the Presidency

In recent months Monogram Club President John Panelli is rumored to have been so busy that his family referred to him as a boarder in transit. The principal activity was breaking in a new sales force for his burgeoning business, an activity quite different from that of ten years ago.

In January, 1949, the same month he was graduated, John broke through the Western line often enough to be voted the most valuable player in that year's East-West Shrine football game. He signed for professional football and distinguished play for the Detroit Lions and Chicago Cardinals until 1953, combined with law studies at Notre Dame and off-season work in the brokerage and securities business.

In 1954 John entered the construction equipment business for a local distributor in Detroit. He displayed such enterprise and leadership that manufacturers encouraged him to open his own equipment house. Thus the J. R. Panelli Equipment Co., Inc., was founded in 1957, with John as president. Representing a dozen leading manufacturers of construction and industrial equipment, the Panelli Co. sells, rents and services everything from tiny tools and accessories to huge earthmovers, cranes and mixers.

Elected president of the N.D. Monogram Club last summer, John has been active for many years in the Notre Dame Club of Detroit and is presently on the board of directors.

"Pep," as John is commonly known, returned to the campus in July of 1950 for marriage in Sacred Heart Church to Margaret Ann Petrass, alumna of St. Mary's and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Petrass of South Bend. With their three children, John Andrew, Andrew Petrass and Velma Marguerite, the Panellis hold camp at 1991 S. Bates, Birmingham, Mich.

old hand at this sort of thing, came through with a few suggestions to ease the tribulations of your class secretary despite all the furor of getting himself ready for the ceremony. He says it would be interesting to know, now that new stars are or about to be added to the flag for Alaska and Hawaii (July 4), if anyone of you is residing in these new states; he also wonders if any of you will be celebrating Father's Day for the first time this year.

Recently promoted within the engineering organization of New Departure Division, General Motors Corporation, is PETER J. BAKER. A native of Rockville, Conn., Pete has been affiliated with New Departure for the past 11 years. In his new assignment with the ball bearing firm he is in charge of project assignment and test report control in product engineering. He is married, has five children, and resides at 181 Sherwood Road, Bristol, Conn.

Two well-known classmates are back on campus as members of the faculty and staff, having distinguished themselves out in the cold and cruel. They should be around for a long, long time. Parasitologist DR. RALPH THORSEN is back as head of the biology department of the College of Science and, as such, director of the newly-integrated Lobund Institute (that's Laboratories of Bacteriology, U.N.D., for Liberal Arts and Commerce men). In the last 11 years Ralph has been an instructor at Johns Hopkins, a researcher for American Cyanamid, an assistant, associate and full professor at Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn). DAVE SLATTERY has joined the staff of Coach JOE KUCHARICH, '38, as his executive secretary. Dave is a former Washington, D. C., sports scribe. Welcome aboard, men.

Henri, Hurst & McDonald, Inc., Chicago advertising agency, announces the appointment of JOHN B. McKEON as director of the business research department, a new position. The department will provide trade research, market analyses and business counsel for agency clients.

Formerly with management consulting and appliance firms, John holds a Master of Business Administration and Marketing degree from the University of Michigan. He and his wife and two children reside at 2032 Central Avenue, Wilmette, Illinois.

The last issue of the ALUMNUS was hardly off the press when old Simon Legree, no other than JOHN LAUGHLIN, started cracking the whip at the class secretaries to get their copy in by April 1. That accounts to some degree for the skimpiness of the '48 column. In the next few weeks a questionnaire will be mailed, but only to a part of the class at intervals to avoid an avalanche of returns from the entire class at one time. Whether you are among the first or last to get the questionnaire, please give with the vital statistics. And if you have any news before you get the questionnaire, send it in without waiting for the questionnaire.

From the Alumni Office:

Appointed local chairman of the 10-Year Reunion of the Class of '49 was CARLOS CORONA, son of modern languages Professor JOSE CORONA, and personnel-placement whiz for the Bendix missile division in Mishawaka. Carlos has consulted with former chairman FRANK SULLIVAN and can promise a gala week end. The Class will hang out at highly accessible Alumni Hall and dine Friday night either in the new North Dining Hall or the Alumni-Dillon courtyard. Saturday morning a Memorial Mass will be said for all departed '49ers by FATHER JIM SHILTS, a well known physicist, priest of the Congregation of Holy Cross and the Class of '49, son of civil engineering Professor WALTER SHILTS. With all these campus ties — plus golf, college meetings, campus tours, the Alumni Banquet, box lunches and plenty of foamy liquid refreshment — the week end couldn't help but be a success. Carlos is expecting you on June 12.

Orchids are in order for the several '49ers, perhaps first for JOHN MOWBRAY, the Las Vegas lawyer, appointed district judge in April. Named by Nevada's Governor Grant Sawyer to the eighth judicial district court in Clark County, John officially took the bench on April 20.

Already a "Spotlight Alumnus," John had been serving as federal referee in bankruptcy since 1937 and previously had served as chief deputy to the district attorney. He was named to succeed the late Judge Ryland Taylor.

John took his pre-law at Northwestern. A W.W. II veteran, he served with the U. S. government in post-war Korea. His wife is the former Kathryn Hammes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Romy Hammes. They have four children.

DICK FRIEND, head football coach at South Bend's St. Joseph High School for the past two years, resigned to accept a position on the staff of Colorado State College in Greeley, Colo., and will complete graduate work toward a doctorate in education. Dick's two-year record at St. Joe shows nine victories and 10 defeats. In six seasons (the other four at Loras College, Dubuque, Ia.; Monterey Peninsula College, Monterey, Calif., and Tarentum, Pa., High) his teams have posted 40 wins and 16 losses. His teams have won three conference crowns. Dick and his wife Irene will move to Colorado in August.

FRANK SULLIVAN, mentioned above, is a winner on several counts. Frank was general chairman of a highly successful United Fund Torch Drive in St. Joseph County last fall. Also, as South Bend agency manager for American United Life Insurance Co., he has been awarded the professional designation of chartered life underwriter (C.L.U.) by the American College of Life Underwriters. The designation is achieved through passing a five-year study course with annual examinations under the supervision of the college. He is a five-year member of the Million Dollar Round Table of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters. Frank's latest honor was being named Notre Dame Man of the Year by the Notre Dame Club of the St. Joseph Valley on Universal Notre Dame Night, celebrated April 21.

The O'Brien Corporation, paint manufacturer, announces that BERNARD M. ELL of Hartford, Conn., was the single winner in a special sales quota contest conducted among the O'Brien sales organization during the year 1958.

As a reward for his superlative selling effort last year, Mr. and Mrs. Ell have been awarded an all-paid expense trip to Bermuda.

The technical division of Pennsalt Chemicals Corporation has hired DR. RALPH L. HERBST, JR., as Supervisor of Market Development.

A World War II Army veteran, Dr. Herbst has held academic, industrial and laboratory management posts, most recently as head of monomer and polymer market development for Borden Chemical Co. for four years. He is the author of four research papers and has fifteen patent assignment applications to his credit. He is a member of the American Chemical Society and Research Society of America. Dr. Herbst makes his home at 2410 Edgehill Road, Huntington Valley, Pa., with his wife, Mary, and four children, Ralph, III; Jonathan, Paula, and Heather.

ALLAN S. MILLER has been promoted to staff physicist in the semiconductor device department of the IBM Product Development Laboratory at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., where he is now investigating the photosensitive properties of semiconductors. Dr. Miller joined IBM as an associate physicist in April, 1957.

A veteran of three years service with the U. S. Navy, he is a member of the American Physical Society. Dr. and Mrs. Miller, who are parents of two daughters, reside at 36 Shamrock Circle, Poughkeepsie.

BILL EGGBEER is back in South Bend again as assistant director of the public relations division of MacDonald-Cook Company, South Bend and Chicago advertising agency.

Having worked as a salesman at Ellsworth's Department Store in South Bend during his college years, Bill accepted a job as credit manager of that store upon graduation. But after a year's stay, he was beckoned again by the Marine Corps and served another tour of duty during the Korean War.

Back home again in Indiana in 1951, Bill took a job as managing editor of the Argos Reflector. In 1952 he purchased the paper from RONALD S. O'NEILL, who joined the Notre Dame faculty. (O'Neill now teaches advertising in the marketing school, College of Commerce.)

ORANGE COUNTY—From left, Maurice "Clipper" Smith, '22, beams approval as Dick Coury, '51, receives 1st annual "Man of the Year" from N.D. Club of Orange County (Calif.) upon presentation by Father Michael Hanlon, principal of Mater Dei High where Dick teaches and coaches and has brought several Parochial League titles in the past few years. Coury was also named incoming secretary of the club for 1959-1960. "Clipper" was the principal speaker for the dinner-dance.

of MacDonald-Cook Company as assistant director.

Bill and his artist-wife, the former Jeri Franklin, have three children, two boys and a girl. The family currently live in Argos, Ind., but plan to move to South Bend in the near future.

1950 Richard F. Hahn 47 Emerson Road Glen Rock, New Jersey

Since friend husband is still on the merry-go-round (and probably will stay there as long as these five little bodies running around need to eat and be clothed) I take typewriter in hand once again in my capacity as ghost alumnus.

No great deluge of mail makes my task any easier so I am forced to resort to ancient history once again. Rummaging around in the "active" file I ran across a couple of letters that I missed for the last "catch-up" column.

JOHN MACHINCHICK wrote, in November of '57, that he and his wife Kit "have two monsters, I mean youngsters. Kathy 4½ and Jimmy 3. Jimmy's built like a running guard and I'm feeding him vitamins to make him grow and jumping beans to make him faster."

Back then John was a "section supervisor in machinery engineering at the (Ford) Dearborn Stamping Plant and slowly but steadily going nuts in a maze of presses, welders and portable guns."

Again, it was November of '57 when we received a nice note from JOHN DUGAN and Ann announcing the birth of their first child a girl, Ann Lee, in Evanston, Ill. John was then associated with the Chicago division of the Permutit Co. as a sales engineer.

That really is the end of the news we've been keeping under wraps so long. The next issue will be filled (we trust) with new and newsy news.

GENE PHILLIPS and his wife had a daughter, their first child, whom they named Therese Ellyn, born on Nov. 11, 1958. Gene is an engineer with the National Machinery Co. of Tiffin, Ohio.

El and IVO FATIGATI are two souls after my own heart. We received a Christmas card from them in January with a note saying they had just been too busy getting ready for the holy day to get the cards out before Christmas. They have two little characters sitting in their laps in the picture who are Greg and their new addition, Ann Therese.

Post-Christmas mail also brought a letter from Sweetie and BOB MURPHY which we enjoyed so much we shall quote at great length from same.

Sweetie writes "the vilest statistic of the year was our no. 4 Child of God, Clare Louise, who came into our realm April 9. At 8 months, she is one of those blessed babies who do Nothing—doesn't crawl, teethe, creep, stand. Not sensational, mind you, but most enjoyable!

"As for the other children (Jean, Mark, and Muffin) at ages 1½, 2½, 4½ years, they are all addicted to unlaced shoes, band-aids, wakefulness, the refrigerator light, Ajax, toothpaste tubes, switches of all types, raisins, the other fellow's toys, and the fascinating aspects of water on the loose.

"While waiting for Mr. Wm. Allen (Pres. of Boeing & Co.) to retire Bob is working on an experimental weather plane. (We refer to him as Balloon Boy.) His domestic accomplishments include finishing the basement wreckreation room, painting the exterior of the house, and building a play house for the children. In his spare time he goes around trying to convince people that the Franciscan Third Order is an order intended for young people. (It is locally referred to as the Sunset Club.)"

We would like to ask your prayers for Pat Murphy and her children. Pat is a sister-in-law of DAVE MURPHY, '48; DON MURPHY, '49; BOB MURPHY, '50, and FRANK MURPHY, '58. Their brother Edward recently died of leukemia.

Another birth announcement received tells of the birth of Janis Elaine Weigand on March 4, 1959, to Jackie and BERNIE WEIGAND.

In an enclosed note Jackie writes, "Bernie has just received his Ph.D. in chemistry from Western Reserve in Cleveland. In October we moved here to Whittier (Calif.) where Bernie is employed by American Potash. Now with the arrival of our fourth child we are still at the 'trying to get settled' stage."

That is all the words I have to transmit this time. With your help, next issue should be bulging.

From the Alumni Office:

BERNARD LEE WEIGAND picked up a chemistry Ph.D. in February from Western Reserve. HARRY MONAHAN, who was runner-up by an eyelash in the Alumni Board elections, wrote to thank us for promoting him. "Somebody left out an important word in listing my position with the San Diego Union," wrote Harry. "I am a sports makeup editor—there are four of us on The Union's staff—not the sports editor. . . Please don't consider this a complaint. I wrestle daily with the same typo and deadline problems here and I've put in some time in the Ave's composing room—so you've got my deepest sympathies." Harry, please consider this the "small correction notice" you requested. Rev. MR. CARL LOVELING writes from St. Bernard Seminary, Dubuque, Ia.: "My ordination will be in Davenport at the Sacred Heart Cathedral, on Saturday, June 6, at 10 a.m. . . for the Davenport diocese by Bishop Ralph L. Hayes."

Carl's first Mass will be at his home church, St. Mary's in Fort Madison, Ia., a second at 6 p.m. at St. Joseph's in the same town. Carl invites any and all classmates for his first blessing at a reception in Sacred Heart Hall the afternoon of June 7. ED FOLEY's wife recently presented him with a seventh heir in South Bend. The secret of Ed's quick progress is a set of triplets a couple of years ago. CHARLES W. STANLEY, a grad student with the class, is now the senior nuclear chemist with the Midwest Research Institute in Kansas City, Mo., and gave a major address on the uses of isotopes at the Midwest Industrial Isotopes Conference sponsored by the AEC and Kansas State College. Special congratulations to JAMES CONWAY, named McPherson, Kas., outstanding young man and winner of the Jaycees Distinguished service award. Jim is a builder of homes, an officer and industrial development chairman for his Chamber of Commerce and a leader in several community projects.

Appointed to the staff of Midwest Research Institute was NG CHUNG-WAH as assistant analyst in the mathematics and physics division. He is a mechanical engineer. DR. JAMES H. GRIESMER, celebrated in the last issue, has already been transferred by IBM as staff mathematician in the information research department at the Lamb Estate Research Center. He will continue in the research mentioned last time. We don't know how the elections turned out, but in Chicago's city ballot this spring WALTER J. TURNER had the all-out support of the Chicago Daily News in his bid for alderman of the 18th Ward. Walter puts out a string of South Side business directories, runs an ad agency and is a former newspaper publisher. REV. RUDOLPH V. CARCHIDI, C.S.C., chairman of the boy's unit math department at Notre Dame High in Bridgeport, Conn., has received a National Science Foundation grant to do advanced work in math at Harvard. An active member of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Father Carchidi got an A.B. at N. D., also studied at Portland and Fordham Universities, was ordained in 1955 and also taught at Father Baker High in Buffalo, N.Y. JOHN J. MCKELVEY has been promoted to research consultant by the Prudential Insurance Co., Newark, N. J. John has an M.B.A. from Rutgers, is married and lives at 115B Hastings Ave., Rutherford, N. J.

Surviving beside Duke, are his widow Margaret and two other children, Michael and Mary Margaret, plus four grandchildren, two brothers and a sister. Incidentally, Duke and his wife Lee now live at 1030 East Roma, Scottsdale, Ariz.

It is again my sad duty to begin this column by reporting the death of another of our classmates. LT. ANDREW FRANZONI, JR., was killed in a plane crash near Cherry Point, N.C., on March 6, 1959. May I speak for his classmates and friends in assuring his parents that he will always be remembered in our prayers.

The class also extends its sympathy to LARRY CORBETT on the death of his father, Lawrence Patrick, Sr.

This promises to be a pretty skimpy column unless I'm deluged with many sacks of mail in the next three hours. I might remind all those who have never written, to write. And to those who have written, write again. Meanwhile, I'll pass along the handful of information I've received since last time. One last thing, start making plans for the reunion now — June of 1960. Tell your wives that next year's convention is to be held in Joers Auditorium, South Bend.

Had a very welcome visit from DICK O'DONNELL who is working for Benton & Bowles Advertising agency in New York. Dick was passing through after a business trip to the West Coast. We both donned our gray flannel suits, slipped into a dry martini, and spent the evening heckling the town's biggest attraction in many months, Ted (When My Baby Smiles at Me) Lewis. When Dick got back to Madison Avenue, he passed on the following news. DICK RUTLEDGE is working for his master's degree at the Univ. of California. LEE NEMECHEK is managing a supermarket in the San Diego area, and sees to it that Mother Hubbard's cupboard is far from bare. Tell me Lee, is

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary GEORGE PFLAUM, JR., and Local Chairman CONNIE SZUBERT have said just about all they can about the 5-Year Reunion. All that remains to be said is the above. The shearing of Con's Fidel Castro beard (surviving is a neat moustache) must symbolize the completion of reunion preparations. See you there.

JACK HOBLITZELL is still selling many Chevrolets, and has recently added to his inventory one little pink Corvette, by name, Jackie, Jr.

CHRIS LARSEN is working for the Worthington Corp. and still finds time to attend New York Univ. grad school at night.

What ever happened to — JOHN MUSOLINO, DICK NORTON, BILL McCULLOUGH, BOB KUNZE, JIM HOPP, DON HUML, GEORGE HALKIAS, JIM WALLER, PAUL SOWA, DAVE BECK, BOB BROWN, KAY ALEXANDER, JOE GLUSSERATH, and WALT ZOTTER?

The REV. MR. JOHN McMANMON, C.S.C., sent a letter from Holy Cross College in Washington, D.C., and did a good job of bringing me up to date on the grads who are soon to be, or already have been ordained in the order. JOE O'DONNELL, C.S.C., is in his third year of theology at Holy Cross College also, and he passed on the information that REV. LARRY "MOON" MULLINS, president of our freshman class, was ordained to the Priesthood a few days before Christmas. He will be assigned to the Diocese of Davenport, Ia., when he returns from the North American College in Rome, where he is taking theology. His first Mass was offered in the chapel of the Sisters of Holy Cross in Rome. His second Mass was a nuptial Mass, at which his sister was married. Father Mullins' parents and other members of his family attended the ceremonies in Rome.

GEORGE COULON, C.S.C., and BERNIE CLARK, C.S.C., were both ordained in Le Mans, France, last June. BOB AUSTGEN, C.S.C., and

JIM SIMONSON, C.S.C., were ordained in Rome this past December. All four of those mentioned above who were recently ordained are finishing out their studies in the Holy Cross theologate in Rome. They will probably be back in the states by the beginning of the next school year.

In April, two members of the class of '55 will be ordained Holy Cross Fathers in Santiago, Chile. They are MALCOLM JOHNSON, C.S.C., and TOM ENGLISH, C.S.C. They will probably be back in this country sometime next winter for their first Solemn Masses.

In June, seven other members of the class of '55 will be ordained to the priesthood in ordination ceremonies at Sacred Heart Church on the N. D. Campus. They are JIM McGRATH, C.S.C., ROLLAND STAIR, C.S.C., JACK KEEFE, C.S.C., BILL MELODY, C.S.C., JIM BLANTZ, C.S.C., JOHN FORD, C.S.C., and JOHN McMANMON, C.S.C., who supplied all of this news.

JOE O'DONNELL, C.S.C., and NIC AYO, C.S.C., hope to be ordained in the Holy Cross order next year. Nic will be ordained in Rome in November or December of 1959, and Joe at Notre Dame in June of 1960.

MIKE DUCEY, S.J., will finish his course in philosophy at West Baden College this year, and hopes to take his theology and be ordained in India, in the Jesuit Patna missions.

JOE O'BRIEN called while passing through Kansas City on his way to Salt Lake City. He's working for Link Aviation.

BOB ARRIX is also to be included among the list of Kansas City visitors. Bob spent several weeks here in his capacity as Assistant Products Manager for Johnson & Johnson — baby oil division. Bob and his wife recently added a daughter's name to the mailbox. We planned to have dinner together, but he was called unexpectedly to Chicago on business. I'll give you a rain check, Bob. While I'm at it, let me extend an open invitation to any grads passing through to give me a call at my home.

What ever happened to: JOE SHILTS, JACK PINTER, BOB KRANZKE, BOB HANRAHAN, TOM FEELEY, RALPH GUGLIELMI, JOE PSAR-TO, JOHN NICHOLSON, BILL LYNCH, CAS KROPKOWSKI, FRED KRACKLAUER, AL GERMAIN, JOHN CLEMENCY, and SAMMY CRINGE.

From down in Memphis, Tenn., news filtered through the Union lines from SONNY COWLES. After spending two years in the Army, Sonny is now working as a salesman and promotion manager in the wholesale electronic parts business. Enclosed in his letter was a card announcing the arrival of a daughter, Colleen Kelly, who was born on January 7 and weighed in at 7 lbs., 2 ozs. Sonny tells me that CHARLIE NAJJAR is going to be the godfather.

I received an announcement stating that BILL STOUTENBURGH has become a member of the New York Stock Exchange and will be located at the office of Hayden, Stone, and Co. Anyone finding loose change under the cushions of the divan might call Bill at Digby 4-6700.

LEE CREAM and his wife, Mary, sent a card announcing the arrival of Kevin Patrick who was born on March 10. Congratulations to you both

Not to be outdone, FRANK BURKE and his wife, Ann, just added a third to the clan on the 22nd of March, Kathryn Aileen. Again, congratulations are in order. Frank is working for the Lybrand Co. and he and Ann are living in Saddle River, N.J.

JIM CURTIN sent a welcome contribution and mentions that AMEEL RASHID is finishing med school this year at Stritch School of Medicine in Chicago. He also tells me that SILVIO PICCINI was critically injured by falling debris during a Florida windstorm. Here's hoping that you'll be up and around soon, Silvio.

The southern influence makes itself felt again, and welcome it was, in the form of a letter from DICK CONNELLY. He is living with his wife and daughter in Memphis where he is a reporter on the Commercial Appeal. Dick previously served in the Air Force and combines a little military and civilian news to help fill out the column. The following items are from his letter. JOHN LOCHTEFELD is living in Hawaii with his wife and two sons. He received his MA degree in Fine Arts at the University of Hawaii and when last heard from, he was teaching art there.

BRIAN GAFFNEY has finished at Fordham School of Law and is awaiting a word of greeting from Uncle.

PETE WALSH completed his Army chores on a lonely Pacific isle and plans to attend law school in the near future. Rumor has it that he was recently married. Write and fill me in, Pete.

JOHN WILKINS, his wife, and his son and daughter are living at Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. He works in the wind tunnel division there.

TED BINTZ also served a little spare time in the Air Force and is now working for a Detroit department store. At last word, he's now the father of two.

JERRY HUGHES is still showing students the ins and outs of jet aircraft at Webb Air Force Base, Texas. Next time you fly over Kansas City, Jerry, drop a line to say you're feeling fine.

TOM CONLON is a roving auditor for General Electric and is still living in New Cumberland, W. Va.

BOB McGRATH is working as an electrical engineer for an aircraft company on the West Coast. The way, Bob, Dick Connelly would like to hear from you and all of the above at 1461 Walton Rd., Memphis, Tenn.

Well, I guess that it's about time to put the cork in the news jug for another few months. Again, a reminder that the reunion is closer than you think and we all should be making plans to attend. I'm going to start saving my money now and by next June I should have enough to make a call to the loan company. Thanks to those who sent the news this time because it's greatly appreciated. Congratulations to PAT McCARTAN, now a law clerk for Justice Whittaker of the Supreme Court of the United States.

An encouraging note on inter-alumni affairs. BILL MANCA has been elected treasurer of the Catholic Alumni Club of San Francisco. Bill is also a Northern California N. D. Club member.

JOHN COMITO, with an M.D. from Chicago's Stritch School of Medicine, is joining the intern staff of South Bend's St. Joseph Hospital.

The following was received by ART HALEY from THOMAS E. HOPKINS, the Sports Editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Honolulu, Hawaii, a Notre Dame alumnus:

"JOHN FANNON's Hawaii Marine basketball team won the Armed Forces League championship and finished first in the annual Territorial championship tournament. Fannon and BILL WEIMAN were two of the big stars of the club. Apparently the added coaching chores did not affect Fannon's playing ability.

"His team went back to the All-Marine tournament at Quantico, Va., finishing second to the host team in the finals. Fannon was one of two Hawaii players selected for the All-Marine tournament which competed in the All-Service and National A.A.U. tournaments.

"John leaves the service in the summer and plans to enter Wharton School of Business, University of Pennsylvania, in the fall."

I think that a good way to begin this fourth edition of "Roule's Remnants of Reminiscence" would be to wish one and all a happy anniversary. In case you haven't thought about it, it has now been a full year since we graduated and left the "land of learning." There are some of us, such as your secretary, who haven't gone very far in a year's time; but then again there are many who have been ranging far and wide across the map. There are undoubtedly some interesting tales to be told about the happenings of the past year; and I, for one, would like to hear them. (This is obviously becoming a not-too-subtle request for news). As the man says, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the . . . column!" So, cast aside all reticence, sit down, and write that letter or postcard that you have been intending to send.

The correspondence of the past two or three months has been somewhat limited but interesting. BOB PIVONKA wrote from Denver where he is studying medicine at the University of Colorado Medical Center. It appears that Bob is doing exceptionally well with the studies, which is not surprising. He reports also that he will be married on June 13, to Margaret Mary Hessburg. All in all, things are going well for Mr. Pivonka. DICK NEMECHER is sharing an apartment with Bob in Denver, and is working with the Martin Company.

While on the subject of travelers in the opening paragraph, perhaps I should have mentioned DON McNEILL, who recently returned from a semester of study in Vienna. According to an item in one of the Chicago papers, Don made quite a hit with the Europeans — playing on an Austrian basketball team in international competition. Don and his brother Tom returned to the U. S. by a roundabout route through the Middle-East, Asia, Japan and points east. From all reports, it was a fascinating trip. Don is now enjoying his tour of duty (two years) in the Army.

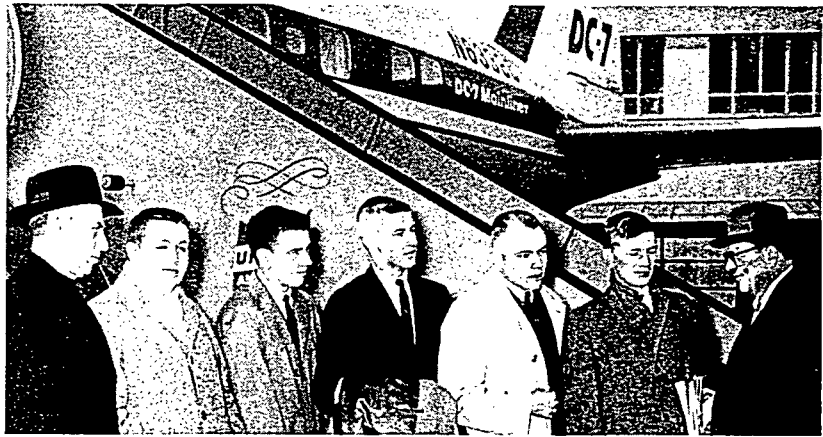

BILL QUINLAN dropped by recently on his way to San Francisco for subsequent transfer to Okinawa. Bill, a lieutenant in the Marine Corps, will be in Okinawa for fifteen months. Unfortunately, he was away when Bill dropped in so I missed him, but he left a note for me with the above information. Bill also remarked that he accepts our thanks for keeping America strong.

According to a letter from JIM MORRIS' mother, Jim signed a contract with the New York Yankee organization last summer. He played with Auburn, N. Y., last year and will be with Fargo, N. Dak., this summer. Jim married Susan Eck last October 11, in Springfield, Ill. AL ECK, who is working with the accounting firm of Kerber, Eck, and Braeckel of Springfield and St. Louis, is the proud father of a daughter, Catherine Anne, born last September.

I was happy to hear from BILL STURGIS on the eve of his being shipped overseas. Bill writes that he has a chance for one of the following assignments: Germany, France, Hawaii, Japan, Alaska, or Italy. From the 12th of January until April 27, Bill was stationed at Fort Lee, Virginia, in the Quartermaster School.

My old roommate, JIM POLEY, has written twice since the writing of my last column and has offered a bit of news concerning himself and a few of our other classmates. Jim interrupted his graduate work at the University of California for a six-month try at Army life at Fort Ord, Calif. He had entered California Graduate School almost immediately after our graduation last June and completed two sessions before taking up with Uncle Sam. Jim will resume his studies toward an M.B.A. next fall.

A few brief items forwarded by Mr. Poley, include the news that JOHN SENG is now in the Army (I feel a little guilty for not knowing more about John, since I have owed him a letter for several months — my apologies, John). JERRY

REEDY is working in some underwriting field in Sioux Falls. DAVE WOLL has become engaged to Miss Noel Tripp of Washington, D. C., and ROS BOTTUM was married December 27, to Miss Mary Husted in Wall, South Dakota.

PAUL LYNCH writes from Bainbridge Air Base, Georgia, that he has completed the first six months of a twelve month course in jet training. AL RIMKUS is in the same program at Marianna, Fla.

DON RONEY reports that he is having a really tough time at Fort Sill. Don is forced to put up with such things as private rooms, overlies to clean up after him and shine his shoes every morning, excellent food and other little trials while he is studying at officers' school. Others at the Fort Sill school are: JOHN BERNARD, CLAUDE HEATH, FRANK KUCHTA (recently married), JOHN LARKIN, and BILL MURPHY.

More matrimonial news: GENE TRIANO was married on the 18th of April to Claudette Trano, in Elizabeth, N. J. JOHN SULLIVAN is planning a wedding in August with Mary Anne Piper of Chicago. Sully, who is in the law combination program here at N. D., will be getting his undergraduate degree this June as will GORDON HO, JOHN DENARDO, HUGH McGUIRE, FRANK BRIDY, BOB HOUSE, GENE SALEM, TOM SULLIVAN, and LESTER MURPHY.

JOHN DUNN reports also that FRED CANNATA was married to Elizabeth Ann Pogozelski on May 9, in New Hyde Park, N.Y.

That seems to be the extent of the news for this time. Let us hope that this will prove to be one of the smallest editions of our column ever to be put into print. Have an enjoyable summer and keep us posted.

From the Alumni Office:

Law Dean JOSEPH O'MEARA has congratulated the Class for having the greatest number of grads in the Law School since 1950, namely 27 — 19 of whom are honor graduates: JOHN HIRSCHFELD, maxima cum laude; TOM CLUSSERATH, PAUL COFFEY, DAVE LINK, ROCCO PUNTURERI and PAUL SCHIERL, all magna cum laude; and cum laudes GERALD BRANN, JOHN DUNN, BILL GERARDO, JIM GOETHALS, JOE GUENTHER, ED HARDIG, LARRY HOWARD, JOHN MARTZELL, LARRY MEDOW, ROD METTE, JOHN MORELAND, MIKE O'TOOLE and ye Secretary ART ROULE.

Once again, it is time to spread a little news about those who have written.

BURTON GREENBERG writes that he had his first solo Circuit Court jury trial not long ago and that he was the winner therein. He and Phyl have purchased a home and they seem to be keeping the St. Louis area under control.

WALT WOLF is still clerking in a local Camden office. He will take the Bar June 11 and 12 and on the 30th will join Uncle Sam. He indicated that he had heard from the GENE GRIFFINS, and that they were doing well, though Gene would like to try a small office practice.

General WILLIAM ENGEL is at Ft. Bliss, Texas, as this column is written, and indicates that he is immensely enjoying his paid vacation with the government. He saw his first bull fight not long ago and decided it wasn't nearly as glamorous as the movies make it. He stated in his letter that JERRY CURRAN is at Fort Knox and that basic almost brought him back to life.

After a long period of silence from Kansas, TOM OGLEVIE finally wrote to tell me that he has been quite busy. He is representing several insurance companies, and among his non-business activities he is co-chairman for the March of Dimes and the Heart Fund Drive. He represents the Bishop in Northwest Kansas and is a local police judge and justice of the peace. He says that there is an opening for anyone who would like to partake of the paradise that Western Kansas offers.

JOHN MURRAY was recently in Indianapolis, where he was trying a case for Helvering. He seems to be enjoying his work, but indicated that the government has a hard time winning. He has been traveling extensively and indicated that his social life had taken a change for the better.

From New York, JACK ECONOMOU writes that he is with the firm of Langner, Parry, Card and Langner, 10 Columbus Circle, New York 19, N.Y. They specialize in international trademarks and copyright practice. Jack said that he is preparing to re-take the Bar exam and is presently working on his review. If any members of the class pass through his area, Jack extends an invitation to them to call him.

FROGGY DREXLER recently celebrated a quarter of a century of existence on this earth. He didn't send much other information, but from Murray I did find out that he is now wearing Brooks Brothers suits, complete with vest and homburg, as only a frog could. When I told him of my six months' deal with the Air Force, he indicated that he might join up, hoping to get in the missile development section.

TOM DARRAGH writes that he is still having trouble finding a job because of his health. He did not have much to say about himself, but indicated that Curran will soon be the sole legally trained person on the base and that he has been handling some cases. He also informed me that FRANK VARGAS continues to work in a law office while preparing for another shot at the Bar.

Yours truly does not have much to add to the letters that I have recently sent out except to say that the two cases that I was to try this month have both been settled. Of course, I am looking forward to my six months with the government, and perhaps I will have more to say after I have begun my rest. One exhortation in closing — those of you who have not written, please write.

Office of the President

The University of Notre Dame Alumni Association

Dear Fellow Alumni:

One of the considerations of your Alumni Board has been the desirability of impressing on all Notre Dame Alumni the responsibility they bear as Catholic laymen. The Board has adopted several recommendations in the past having to do with informing Alumni of the importance to Notre Dame of the part they play in Catholic and civic lay activities. You may recall many of the articles in the "Alumnus" spotlighting individual Alumni or advising us of the Catholic position in state and national affairs.

Certainly all Catholic laymen have such a responsibility. Is it not so, however, that a Catholic layman with benefit of a Notre Dame education has a greater than ordinary obligation in this respect? Fortunately, most Notre Dame Alumni recognize an obligation to themselves, their church, their country, and to Notre Dame, to use their education for reasons other than their material gain. Your Alumni Board encourages all Notre Dame men to consider the good they can accomplish by active participation in the variety of lay activities which every day seek the assistance of educated Catholic men.

The attention of the Board has also been directed towards assisting the University wherever possible in matters of student admissions. Many of our Notre Dame Clubs throughout the country are making a significant contribution to Notre Dame by working with the University Admissions Office in interviewing prospective students and advising candidates on the admission policy. We can all, acting as individuals or as club committee men, offer needed help to Notre Dame in this respect. In order to provide this help, we must, of course, be aware of the qualifications which Notre Dame seeks in a candidate for admission.

Everyone expects the best from Notre Dame in all of its undertakings. Therefore, Notre Dame tries to provide the best in its graduates. This does not mean, however, that all candidates to be admitted must be straight A in high school. It means, rather, that to be admitted, a student must have some proven scholastic ability, and must have shown some recognizable potential. Notre Dame seeks the well-balanced student, not the young man who is scholar only, or athlete only, or whose record shows an abundance of social activities alone. Being only a student is not enough, just as being only an athlete is not enough. The best applicant is one who has exhibited an interest in study, in play, in fun and in prayer—with an understanding of the relation of one to the other.

Once we know what Notre Dame wants in its applicants, we Alumni can be of real service to the University by advising interested candidates along these lines. And we can be of further service by seeking out the better high school students who we honestly believe are the kind of young men Notre Dame wants.

One of the recent mailings from the Notre Dame Foundation Office brought with it a small pamphlet entitled, "Notre Dame Makes the Honor Roll." If you read it, you will recall that Notre Dame ranks in the top ten of all private schools in Alumni support. As Alumni we can all be proud of this position. The record shows that in 1957-1958, 49.2% of all the Notre Dame Alumni actually contributed to Notre Dame's great need for assistance. It also means that at least one half of our Alumni did not consider the need. This is a surprising statistic, when we look at it in reverse. That percentage should be much closer to one hundred. Your Alumni Board urges you to do all you can to be part of Notre Dame in this respect, as in all others.

In his message in the 1959 spring issue of the magazine, "Notre Dame", Father Hesburgh spoke of the aroused interest in America today in the significance of education to our national welfare. He referred to the position of Catholic education and Notre Dame's place therein. He commented that "more and more, we are being asked what specific contribution our Alumni are making to solve the great problems that face us today". As Alumni we should accept the obvious challenge to help Father Hesburgh, and Notre Dame, answer that question. Some of the ways we can do this are by considering the thoughts mentioned above. All of you are encouraged to accept your obligation as Catholic laymen, to assist Notre Dame in its search for the better, well-balanced student, and to recognize the need Notre Dame has for whatever financial assistance you can give her.

Very best personal regards to all of you from all the members of the Notre Dame Alumni Board.

Very truly yours,

Bill Cotten

President
