Editorial Comment

from your
Alumni Secretary

The hopes for Notre Dame's future are high.

The plans for it are demanding, and fascinating.

As I write this, I have just come from the funeral of Father Kerndt Healy, C.S.C., '15. Father Healy was my Shakespeare teacher. When appreciation of the immortal prose palled, he would on occasion startle and delight us by reading an essay or two by Stephen Leacock, thereby endearing both Shakespeare and Leacock (and the teacher) to the class. Father Healy was an embodiment of the educated man. We thought then that it was the Harvard touch, because we hoped Notre Dame would do the same for us. Later we learned that there is an innate refinement, and gentleness, and love of culture, which schools welcome and cultivate, but cannot create. This is a radiation personality which, in the spiritual and intellectual fields of influence, is deserving of a study more intense than radiation chemistry. (I am not against radiation chemistry, but more people are exposed to personality.)

Two weeks ago we buried John Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C., '11, in Sacred Heart Church. Notre Dame men need to be told little about his life, though for the record a few of its highlights are in this ALUMNUS.

About the same time, Edward "Babe" Voorde, '36, mayor of South Bend, was killed in an auto accident, buried in Cedar Grove Cemetery on Notre Dame Avenue. A popular, helpful, loyal and civic-minded man, Babe Voorde represented the strong lay liaison that Notre Dame has enjoyed with its neighbors over the years.

I have also noted the rich record of achievement in the obituaries in the September ALUMNUS. Space seems so inadequate, yet what space could be adequate to tell strangers, for quick example, the stories of Father Michael Mathis, Ed Crowe, Father Norman Johnson, Bob Kirby, or Dr. Ted Just.

Here were personalities, ages, activities as varied as you could imagine.

And I read, with the same pang of regret over the inadequacy of the record, the 1960 retirement list of professors, laymen whose humility and dedication covered up the tremendous strength of character, and conviction of mind and soul, that it took to pursue these virtues. For example —

Cecil Bider, whose Gilbert and Sullivan enlivened Washington Hall, and enriched both the cultural and theater traditions of Notre Dame, while his talent and devotion in the teaching fields of speech and music furthered many young men; Ronald O'Neill, who died shortly after retirement, a man of talent and accomplishment who returned to the teaching profession at Notre Dame to share these assets with the aspiring young men in the College of Commerce, bringing with him also the background of a Notre Dame family of like talents and accomplishments, authors of pages in the history of the University that reflect its strength; William Roemer, whose philosophy reflected itself in his manner, in his activity on the lay faculty, in his family life and his identity in the civic and spiritual community in which he lived; William Turner, a quiet, gentle man, whose abilities as teacher of engineering drawing gave students in engineering a quarter century of developing early competence in their approach to their fields; George Wack, long time (1923) teacher in the Modern Languages, whose even pleasant temperament carried through vicissitudes of his profession, family and economic problems the constant unselfish competence of serious teaching.

All of these people were tributaries in the mainstream that is Notre Dame. It would be a wonderful, and I think better, world, if literature were to recognize that the biography of the well man, the happy man, the spiritual man, the unchanging man, is as sig-

NO GREATER LOVE

God Had Given Father O'Hara His Priesthood to Preach Courage to Boys

by Father Frank Gartland, C.S.C.

Editor of the CATHOLIC BOY and CATHOLIC MISS.
Reprinted from AVE MARIA Magazine.

A couple of weeks ago, the eminent Archbishop of Philadelphia died — John Francis Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C.

Today, Notre Dame men in every corner of the world are thankful that they once knew this great priest when he was simply Father John F. O'Hara, prefect of religion on the Notre Dame campus.

In those days — 1917 to 1933 — Notre Dame men spoke of Father O'Hara casually but affectionately as "the pope."

"Is the pope in his room?" (141 Sorin Hall, the front-tower room nearest Sacred Heart Church.)

"The pope's busy typing out tomorrow's BULLETIN." (The RELIGIOUS BULLETIN which he founded in 1921 and which has been quoted in every rectory, convent and school in the country for its down-to-earth spiritual wisdom and journalistic impact.)

"The pope has a class right now in the library basement, but you can catch up with him at 3 o'clock. He'll be down at the lake swimming."

It was an ordinary night if you found eight or ten boys ahead of you, queued up along the wall leading to his door, studying in the dim light of the Sorin corridor. But it was worth your waiting to get his counsel. He was the Curé d'Ars all over again — able to strike quickly at the heart of your problem, deft at binding your wounds and strong as God in his opposition to the devil. "The devil," he used to say, "made a specialty of trying to discourage boys from becoming men." But God had given Father O'Hara his priesthood to preach courage to boys.

Surely no priest in our time and country ever had greater love — or more effective love — for young men than Father John F. O'Hara.

Father O'Hara made Notre Dame "the City of the Blessed Sacrament." The stole that you saw hanging from his neck almost every time you saw him had two sides: purple for Penance, white for the Eucharist. He urged all Notre Dame men to receive Holy Communion daily. He secured permission to reserve the Real Presence in the chapel of every residence hall.

He got apostles like Fathers Tom Steiner, Charles Doremus and George Albertson (Friar Tuck) to hear confessions, as he himself did, in season and out of season, and all the hall rectors and prefects to distribute Communion before, during and after Mass. (His accent on Communion outside of Mass disturbed some liturgists; but happily, today Notre Dame is an outstanding liturgical center, thanks to the efforts of men like Fathers George Marr and Michael Mathis.)

Even now, on Sunday, in Sacred Heart Church the spontaneous rush of the whole congregation to the altar rail is a tribute to Father O'Hara's Eucharistic zeal. Back in the late 20's, when the tall, wiry priest sped along that rail distributing the little white Host, it was amusing to watch the ease with which he always ducked his head beneath the protruding, overhanging pulpit as he neared the Gospel end of the rail. It was uncanny how he missed knocking his head, as if by some magic radar!

Incidentally, all this devotion to the "box" and the "rail" he learned from the man who ordained him September 9, 1916 — Bishop Charrtrand. Old time parishioners of the Indianapolis cathedral recall how His Excellency shuffled back and forth between the confessional and the tabernacle!

About that RELIGIOUS BULLETIN Father founded in 1921: It came about by an accident. During the student mission, several boys lost rubbers or prayerbooks. The prefect of religion tapped out a notice and tacked it up on the bulletin board. He added a few light remarks, urged attendance at the mission, invited sinners to penance! The boys begged for regular BULLETINS.

His instructions on chastity and his exhortations to prepare wisely for marriage were priceless and are still quoted. For example, "It is the great desire of God that heaven be peopled with saints who will be happy with Him eternally; yet He makes the creation of a soul dependent on the will of a man and a woman . . . God is not mocked. A terrible judgment awaits the man or woman who tries to cheat God out of His share in His partnership."

Years later over NBC, addressing alumni scattered across the nation, he reminded them that God must have a share in all their actions. "Business is a relationship — not simply between a buyer and seller, but between buyer and seller and God. Government is a relationship — not merely between ruler and citizen, but between ruler and citizen and God. . . . Take God out of this picture, and the whole scale of values is changed."

It is no wonder that in 1939 Pope Pius XII chose Father O'Hara to be chaplain to the Catholic chaplains of the U.S. Army and Navy. Father O'Hara was a priests' priest, perfectly suited to minister to chaplains and to speak up with force when Army or Navy brass pressured for "common worship" or contraception.

It is no wonder that, after the war, as Bishop of Buffalo and Cardinal-Archbishop of Philadelphia this great priest concentrated on building Catholic schools and strengthening Christian family life.

I met Father O'Hara first on a hot, muggy day in mid-September, 1928. He said, "How about a swim tonight, down by the pier in St. Joe Lake at 10 o'clock?" It was a lucky meeting for me. Like many another, I owe my priesthood to the life and work of the late Cardinal.

On the Cover:

'IPSAM SEQUENS, NON DEVIAS'

(Following her, you will not go astray')

Excerpts from a sermon by Bishop-elect Francis J. Furey, D.D., at the pontifical requiem Mass for Cardinal O'Hara in Philadelphia: "One of St. Bernard's most famous sermons was on the Holy Name of Mary. . . . 'Following her, you will not go astray; praying to her, you will not lose hope; thinking of her, you will never make a mistake. If she is your support you will not fall; if she is your protectress, you have nothing to fear; if she is your guide, you will never grow weary; if she is on your side, you will reach your goal.' . . . How fitting that our late beloved Cardinal Archbishop should have chosen for his episcopal motto a phrase from St. Bernard's homily. . . .

"After the evening meal, visitors to his home would be invited to go with him to his chapel to recite the Rosary of Our Lady. After the Rosary, he himself would lead his small congregation in the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, which he knew by heart and which he loved to say. . . .

"To follow in his footsteps we must follow Mary. 'Ipsam sequens, non devias.'"

Meeting in Honduras were (from left): Fr. Pelton, '45; Miguel Facusse, '44; Fr. Hesburgh, '38; and Dr. Ramon Villeda Morales, president of the republic.

Central America Opened Hearts and Homes When Padres
From Notre Dame
Came to Visit

Our Family to the South

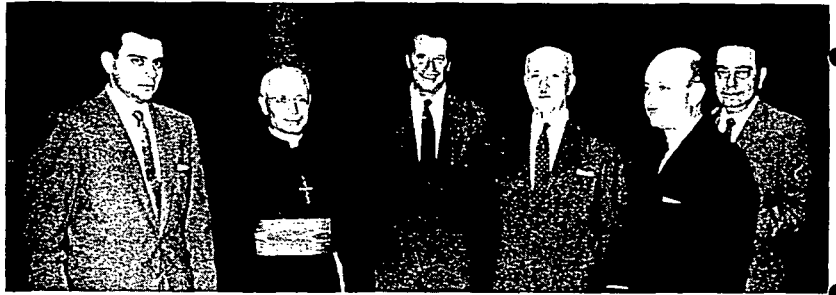

The Church's interest in the Spanish-speaking third of our hemisphere, once typified by the early efforts of Father John Zahm and the "good neighbor policy" of the late John Cardinal O'Hara, has received a new impetus from the travels of Notre Dame priests among alumni and friends in Latin America.

Father Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., accompanied by Father Robert Pelton, C.S.C., recently visited alumni throughout the Central American countries. Father Hesburgh was warmly entertained on Sunday, August 7, in Mexico City, and went from there to Guatemala, where he was joined by Father Robert Pelton.

In Guatemala the Notre Dame priests were the guests of a Notre Dame graduate, Adolfo Cordon, '53. A gathering of the entire Notre Dame family took place on August 10. At that time Father Hesburgh told of the many recent developments at Notre Dame. As was the case in each of the Latin American countries, brochures in Spanish describing the University were distributed and copies given to the outstanding prep schools of the country.

Mr. Enrique Sol, '55, and his family served as hosts in El Salvador. Messrs. Rolando, '47, and Napoleon Duarte, '48, very efficiently guided all arrangements. They saw to it that excellent press and television coverage was given to the visit. This took place in the other countries also.

The Notre Dame group had arranged a meeting with the then President of the Re-

Costa Rica held a Notre Dame reception in spite of conditions preventing a landing of the campus delegation. Present (l. to r.) were Juan Antonio Simon, '63; the Most Reverend G. Verolino, Apostolic Nuncio; Ambassador Willamer, U.S.A.; Calixto Fabrega, '20; Antonio Simon, father of Juan; and Miguel Yamuni, attache for Foreign Affairs.

public, Lieutenant Colonel Jose Maria Lemus. President Lemus knew all of the Notre Dame men. He had a cordial visit with the Notre Dame party and among other gifts he gave medals to the two Holy Cross priests. The Fathers were received in two of the finest high schools in the country. In the Lyceo, a special assembly was held in their honor. This provided the opportunity of describing American Catholic educational facilities, and also a special decoration was given to two priests.

In Honduras the Holy Cross priests were met by Notre Dame graduate Miguel Facusse, '44, as well as other dignitaries. The party immediately went to the Presidential House where it was received by the President of Honduras, Dr. Ramon Villeda Morales. Dr. Morales had a pleasant visit with the Fathers. Following this a reception was held in honor of the visitors. The leading ecclesiastical and educational dignitaries of the Republic were present. The Fathers had a very worthwhile visit the following day at the Institute of San Francisco which is directed by American Franciscans.

In Nicaragua the priests spent two memorable days. There is an excellent Notre Dame contingent there. Our graduates have distinguished themselves as newspapermen, lawyers, engineers, etc. Mr. and Mrs.

In Nicaragua, as throughout Central and South America, Fathers Hesburgh and Pelton were warmly received by alumni and friends.

Father Pelton pauses after Mass in San Juan, Puerto Rico, with part of the group of Notre Dame alumni, their wives and children.

Adolfo Calero, Jr., '53, were the hosts. Messrs. Maurice Pierson, '57, and Noel Palais, '49, carefully planned the various events. These included visits with General and Mrs. Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, the American Ambassador and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whelan, as well as a special meeting with the directors of the Catholic prep schools. A colorful departure was arranged during which all airport traffic stopped while the thirty-two Notre Dame men made the air ring with the Victory March and the Notre Dame cheers.

The airlines announced that bad weather conditions would prevent landing in Costa Rica. This made it impossible to hold a reunion in San Jose. The reunion had been advertised in the press.

In Panama the priests were enthusiastically received. Mr. Jorge F. Boyd, '60, carried out local arrangements with excellent success. Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGrath graciously served as hosts during the stay. Many dignitaries attended the reunion which provided a splendid opportunity to discuss Notre Dame growth. One of the alumni, Mr. Jose Cardenas, '45, has just been named Minister of Public Works.

After the Panamanian reunion, Father Hesburgh and Father Soleta attended a meeting of University rectors in Rio. Father Pelton went to Puerto Rico. The Del Valle family was in charge of local arrangements. Father Pelton likened them to the Kennedy family in terms of efficiency. An outstanding group turned out for the Puerto Rican reunion. Father Pelton gave a speech on Notre Dame and its regard for Latin America. He also celebrated Mass for the Notre Dame people.

The over-all impression obtained in Puerto Rico and other countries was of tremendous possibilities of influence on the part of men trained in the Christian tradition. Our graduates are most impressive from that point of view. During his stay, Father Pelton visited important places on that beautiful island. Included among these were Ponce, the Catholic University of Puerto Rico, Barranquitas, Arecibo (the new diocese of Bishop Alfred Mendez, C.S.C.), etc.

Significantly on the last day of the visit, the death of John Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C., was announced. It was this dedicated man who had done so much to foster a sound relationship between Notre Dame and Latin America. On the day of his demise, the news was all over the island.

MAN and the MOMENT

By Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, C.S.C., '41

On the bust of Moliere that stands in the French Academy are the carved penitential words: "Nothing is lacking to his glory; he is lacking to ours." This is a great tribute to a writer. It means he did masterful work and any lack of appreciation must be the fault of the readers.

You will recall we are treating some of the privileges and obligations that come to all of us as alumni. One of these we stated as learning. From this we got into the value of Adult Education discussion groups, the Great Books. One article is not enough to develop what should be said. This means we will have to be patient. We will touch briefly on each point, then, at another time, we will develop the points.

Mortimer Adler in one of his articles on Adult Education says that if he had his way he would use "schooling" to signify the development and training of the young; and "education" (without the word "adult" attached to it) to signify the learning done by mature men and women. He goes on to say that the brightest student in the best college under a most competent faculty after four years—even with the greatest study—is not an educated man. He says the obstacle to becoming educated is youth. This is so because the walls of an educational institution are protectors and tend toward an artificial life. As children, he says, we are spared pain, suffering and grief. But we pay for this protection by remaining immature, irresponsible and unserious.

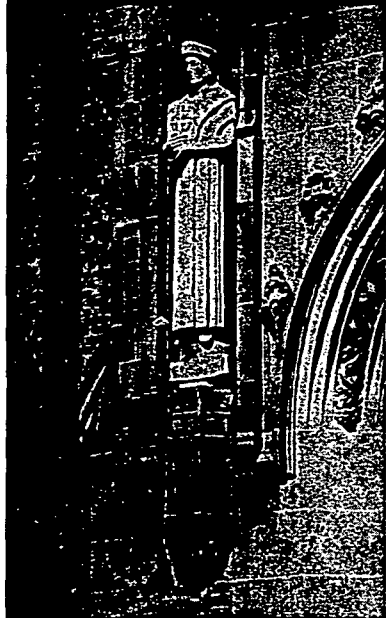

We are not supposed to remain children the rest of our lives. We are supposed to grow up, to become mature, responsible and serious. It is true to say that merely leaving the protective walls and halls of a school does not give us this maturity and responsibility. Age helps; sorrow helps. Yet some people grow old but never grow up. Some people have sorrow and pain for a lifetime, but never know the privilege of pain. I think it was Voltaire who said: "Ideas are like beards; men do not have them till they grow up."

As alumni we are away from the walls and halls. Now is the time when a due sense of value and proportion should regulate the care bestowed on every action. We are a busy group. This is true for the world around us. But if we are to give a due sense of value to our actions we should begin to get busy with the things that count. In this life it often happens that it is not what we take up but what we give up that makes us rich. And "rich" here is not meant in a financial sense. And what we take up is very often the unnecessary burdens that have a habit of dividing and growing bigger. In a word, we tend to clutter our lives with trifles. And every introduction of a speaker says "... who, in his very busy schedule, has taken time to be with us." How nice! We are rushing ahead in all directions and have forgotten the fine art of making time for our servant instead of ourselves the slaves of time.

As reasoning and intelligent alumni we ought to judge our day and our life. We ought to separate the important from the urgent, the necessary from the trivial. Only then will we begin to see that we must get back to reading and discussion. We must begin, as adults, to embrace the world of ideas. A Great Books group can be the solution to the development of our minds and keeping them alive. Our school days are over but our education should continue through all the years of our adult life.

How wonderful it would be if our Alumni Clubs across the country had a permanent committee on adult education and the Great Books! The Chairman of the committee would have to learn how to lead discussions of these books that represent a great fund of human wisdom. Then they would get the Club members to invite some of their neighbors and friends to join the group. This is the beginning. This is the job to be done. And if we take the responsibility on our shoulders we will leave no room for chips.

News of the NOTRE DAME LAW SCHOOL

NATURAL LAW

Dr. Margaret Mead, Associate Curator of Ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, and Adjunct Professor of Anthropology at Columbia University, delivered two lectures at the Notre Dame Law School October 14th.

The number as well as the quality of law students has been declining. To illustrate, in 1949 there were 47 law students in this country for each million of the population whereas, in 1959, the number had dropped to 24 per million of the population.

We have a heavy burden of responsibility, therefore, to take all suitable steps to improve our recruitment program. To that end, in each important population center, alumni committees are being appointed whose members will talk to outstanding prospective law students about the practice of law and the advantages of the Notre Dame Law School. Those invited to serve on these committees have responded enthusiastically and there is good reason to hope that the committees will be most helpful.

Another and very important step was taken with the appointment by Rev. Chester A. Soleta, C.S.C., Vice President for Academic Affairs, of Professor Richard M. Lyon as Pre-Law Advisor for the College of Commerce and Professor Robert L. Brannan as Pre-Law Advisor for the College of Arts and Letters. I have no doubt that this move will be fruitful.

Professor Mead, who currently is President of The American Anthropological Association spoke on the subject, "An Anthropologist Looks at Natural Law," in the Law Auditorium at 3 and 7:30 P.M.

Author or editor of eighteen books, Dr. Mead lived for many years among various South Seas peoples. Her book, New Lives For Old, published in 1956, describes the development of a New Guinea village in which she had lived twenty-five years earlier. Her other recent works include People and Places, An Anthropologist at Work and Childhood in Contemporary Cultures.

Currently Dr. Mead is studying changing conceptions of time and space. For many years she has specialized in education and culture, cultural change, mental health and family life. Educated at Barnard College and Columbia University, she has been awarded honorary doctorates by seven colleges and universities. She is visiting professor in the department of psychiatry at the University of Cincinnati and at the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kans. Through the years she has lectured at a number of educational institutions including Yale, Haverford, Columbia, Harvard, Stanford, Vassar, New York University and Wellesley.

Professor Mead is a director of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a Fellow of the American Ethnological Society and the American Orthopsychiatric Association.

MOOT COURT

Mr. Justice Stanley F. Reed of the Supreme Court of the United States presided over the court hearing the final argument in the annual Moot Court Competition on October 29. Other members of the court included: Honorable David L. Bazelon, United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia;

Honorable F. Ryan Duffy, United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit; Honorable Henry J. Friendly, United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit; and Honorable Clifford O'Sullivan, '20L, United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit.

The presence of Mr. Justice Reed marked the fifth consecutive year in which a member of the Supreme Court has sat for the final argument in the annual Moot Court Competition. Mr. Justice Douglas has agreed to preside next year.

The students who presented arguments before this distinguished tribunal were:

GOOD EXPERIENCE

More and more law firms, government departments and large industrial corporations are offering summer employment to law students between their second and third years. Among the firms which, last summer, employed Notre Dame students, after their second year of law study, are the following: Barnes, Hickam, Pantzer & Boyd, Indianapolis;

Covington & Burling, Washington, D.C.; Mayer, Friedlich, Spiess, Tierney, Brown & Platt, Chicago;

Shearman and Sterling and Wright, New York City; and Seebirt, Oare and Deahl, South Bend.

In addition, a Notre Dame Law student was employed in the Office of the General Counsel of the Ford Motor Company and of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

PRIZES OFFERED

Mr. A. Harold Weber, '22, has provided a further incentive to excellence in the form of several generous prizes. The winner in the annual Moot Court Competition will receive $150 in cash and the runner-up $100. The student adjudged by the Faculty to have written the best senior research paper will likewise receive $150 in cash and the student writing the second best senior research paper will receive $100.

THE FACULTY

Professor W. J. Wagner has returned to the Law School after a year of lecturing at the University of Paris and other European countries. He was the holder of a Fulbright Fellowship.

Mr. Richard C. Clark, '59L, has been appointed visiting assistant professor. He will teach Business Associations during the absence of Professor Rodes. The latter, who was awarded a Ford Foundation Law Faculty Fellowship, is spending the year at Oxford University in England.

Dean O'Meara was one of the American delegates at the 1960 Conference of British, Canadian and American Law Teachers in New York early in September.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Former Dean Clarence Manion has entered with enthusiasm upon the performance of his duties as National Chairman of the Notre Dame Law Association's Scholarship Program. He has written to every Notre Dame lawyer regarding The Law School's need for scholarships.

Area Chairmen have also been appointed and are undertaking a systematic follow-up of Dean Manion's letter.

Contributions received by mail in response to Dean Manion's letter will be credited to the area from which they come.

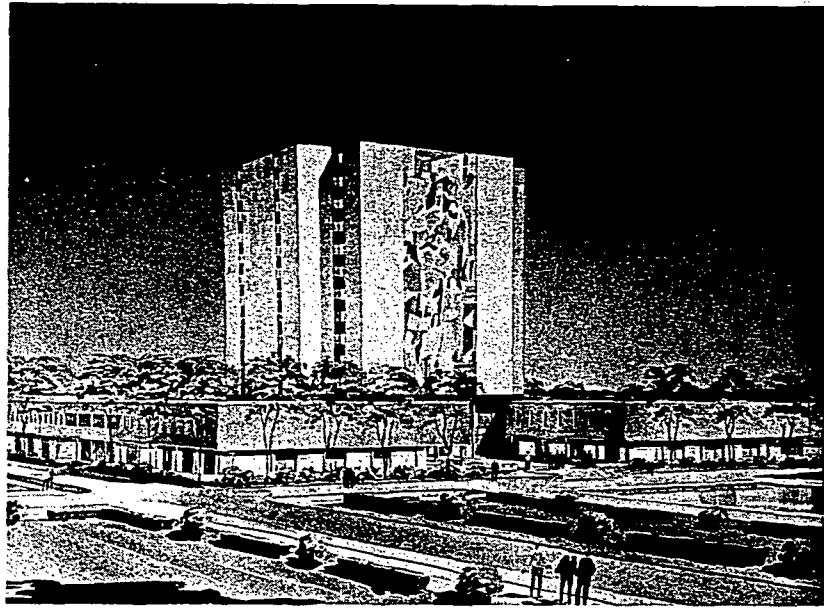

Thanks for your generous response and all best wishes.

Notre Dame's Memorial Library

The new Memorial Library, towering thirteen floors above ground, will be the largest and tallest structure ever to be erected on the campus of the University of Notre Dame. Reaching to a height of more than 180 feet, the library roof will be on approximately the same level as that of the Blessed Mother's statue surmounting the world-famed Golden Dome.

The library will be located on the East campus, near numerous post-World War II edifices including O'Shaughnessy Hall of Liberal and Fine Arts, the Nieuwland Science Center, Keenan and Stanford residence halls, the University's television and radio studios and the North Dining Hall. Building the new library here will necessitate moving the Navy Drill Hall and changing the baseball field, the track and the practice area for varsity football to other parts of Notre Dame's spacious 1,000-acre campus.

Ellerbe and Company, of St. Paul, Minnesota, designer of O'Shaughnessy Hall, Keenan and Stanford Halls, O'Shaughnessy Sculpture Studio and the North Dining Hall, has completed drawings and ground breaking is planned for next Spring or Summer.

Air conditioning throughout the building will be a boon to all who use the library, especially during Indiana's frequent hot spells, and will aid materially in the preservation of books. Plans call for the eleven floors in the "tower" section to be used primarily for research while the first two floors will be largely for undergraduate study. However, additional space in the tower as well as in the two ground floors and the basement will be allocated to an auditorium, the Maritain Center, the Mediaeval Institute, University Archives, the Notre Dame Library Association, the Committee on International Relations, a Treasure Room for rare books, the Notre Dame collection, technical services and audio-visual facilities. There will be special reading areas for the humanities, social and business studies, science and technology.

Much has happened at Notre Dame in the 44 years since the dedication of the present library. Not only has there been an increase in the number of students and faculty but there also has been a steady growth of the Graduate School, non-existent when the library was built. In the revision of curricula and in the development of new study programs there has been a trend to curtail the textbook-type course and to place more emphasis on reading and research. Most courses, therefore, depend on the availability of many books and references and consequently more extensive use is made of the library than ever before. All these elements have combined to overburden the structure beyond its resources.

It has often been said by learned scholars that a great university is marked by an excellent library—an "academic center" where students and faculty pursue intellectual activities in attractive surroundings and in an atmosphere conducive to intensive study. That a large, modern building for such a library is urgently needed at Notre Dame, the next step in the steady march toward ever-higher academic achievement, must be clearly apparent to all who have the University's best interests at heart, students, faculty, administration, alumni and other friends.

For this reason, the Memorial Library has been designated the "top priority" project in Notre Dame's multimillion dollar ten-year "Program for the Future," announced by Reverend Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., President, in 1958. It is the first major building for which funds are being sought during this decade.

Alumni are being asked to give $4 million as their share of the over-all cost, now estimated at $8 million, with the remaining $4 million to be contributed by non-alumni friends, corporations and foundations. Pledges, collected by volunteer workers in a personal solicitation campaign this Fall and next Winter, may be paid over a three-year period.

The University faces this challenge as she has so many others in her 118 year history: with great confidence that what must be done surely can be done with the help of God and the Blessed Mother and the loyal devotion of her many, many friends throughout the world.

Goodbye, Boys. God Bless You.

The typewriter is a bit rusty from disuse, and perhaps the fingers move more slowly than they once did, but the heart begs the Prefect of Religion for a chance to do one more Bulletin before the separation.

Shall it be done in retrospect? The mind wanders back easily, especially in the familiar surroundings of the Sorin Hall tower, with chains and medals all around, with the old San Xavier picture on the wall, and the blessing of Pope Pius XI, and in the drawer on the left the purple stole that is stained with the chrism of ordination and the tears of penitents. Yes, the mind can picture a line of penitents at the door, waiting to tell a story whether of ten years or ten hours—that will turn a soul from death to life, that will empower a boy once more to smile from his heart.

Yes, retrospect is easy—especially in three decades of work with Notre Dame men you can't recall one who was really evil. Retrospect is pleasant when you know that thousands of penitents have gone out with resolutions strong enough to withstand temptations, when you know that daily Communion has turned good intentions into good deeds, has made weak infants into strong men, and strong men into saints of God. Retrospect is inspiring when the priest, poor, weak mortal like anyone of you, learns daily lessons in humility from the great-hearted men who kneel to him who takes God's place in their lives.

But retrospect, while pleasant to nodding old men, is useful to your spiritual growth only so far as it gives you pitfalls to avoid and good example to emulate.

Your problem is of the present and of the future. It is yours to say whether Notre Dame shall be for your brother and your children and for your children's children, the Shrine of Our Blessed Lady, the haven of peace it has been to you.

The one thing that can insure your happiness, the one thing that can keep Notre Dame a holy place of goodness and clean fun, is the supernatural spirit of sacrifice. You will find happiness only in what you do for others—for God, or for your neighbor. Even the personal quest of salvation, to which you are obliged by justice and charity, gives the greatest happiness when you forget yourself in the love of God.

Daily Communion is the Food of Sacrifice—never let its tradition weaken or fade. Daily Mass is the sacred core of Sacrifice. Daily visits to Mary, the Mother of God—at the Grotto, telling your beads, in a goodnight smile to the Lady of the Dome—these means of grace keep you close to God.

To the students of today and tomorrow I entrust Notre Dame.

Goodbye, boys. God bless you.

nificant in our society as the biographies of the sick, the unhappy, the material, and the unstable. All of these Notre Dame men had conflict, tragedy, love, and colorful lives, yet fundamentally they had a persisting and dominant and intellectual stamina which gave them ultimate triumph.

Why did my thoughts turn from high hopes and the demanding and fascinating future of Notre Dame?

Because without the high hopes of older generations, and their contributions and planning, Notre Dame's future would be far less fascinating, far more demanding. There should always be time for a sincere, if inadequate, "thank you."

ALUMNI CLUBS

Baltimore

The Baltimore Club held a family picnic August 20 at Padonia Park Club, featuring swimming, games and a Dutch treat menu. A business meeting of the executive committee and officers was held Aug. 17 at the home of Pres. FRANK MURPHY. Events for the coming year were discussed, and student chairman DON GAYHARDT arranged for a parting get-together with two new students from the area.

On October 9, a Stag TV Party was held for the Colt-Packers game at the Hillendale Gridiron Club, with a buffet luncheon and unlimited refreshments. JOE RYAN was chairman. Coming events and chairmen include: Communion Breakfast, Dec. 11, JACK OWENS; Noon Luncheon, January 25, 1961, Secretary BILL GAUDREAU; Theater Party for the Vagabond Players' "Time of the Cuckoo," Feb. 24, 1961, FRANK HOCHREITER; Universal Notre Dame Night, April 10, 1961, FRANK MURPHY; and a Golf Outing in June, 1961, under DAVE SOLOMON.

Boston

The Officers and Directors sponsored a Freshman Party on September 7, 1960, at the University Club for Greater Boston boys entering Notre Dame as members of Class of 1961. An interesting talk to the young men and their parents was delivered by RT. REV. TIMOTHY F. O'LEARY, Director of Education, Archdiocese of Boston. Among the 46 young men entering are the three Cardinal Cushing Scholarship winners: Kevin Anthony Good of Malden Catholic High was selected as recipient of scholarship instituted this year by the Boston Club; Ralph Leo Kent and Gerard Louis Pieri, graduates of Boston College and Norwood High Schools respectively were awarded the Cardinal Cushing Scholarships established last December by His Eminence, RICHARD CARDINAL CUSHING, Archbishop of Boston.

The Notre Dame Club of Boston is extremely proud of the high honor bestowed upon one of its members, PAUL HELMUTH, '40, in his appointment by the University as a Lay Trustee of Notre Dame. Paul, an outstanding member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, was recipient of the Boston Man of the Year Award in 1956. He has always been a loyal and generous supporter of all Boston Club activities.

The Miami Game Football All Expense Plane Excursion over the week-end of November 10 to 13th is doing a brisk business according to Committee Chairman WILLIAM E. DACEY, JR., '49, Club Prexy. The air junket is the second one sponsored by the Club affording 4 days and 3 nights in Miami in addition to the game on November 12, 1960 at the famed Orange Bowl. Included in the unbelievably low all expense package deal are meals, hotel room, transportation, entertainment and gratuities. Club members are urged to take advantage of this wonderful chance to see beautiful Miami Beach, soak up a bit of sunshine and see a rousing good football game.

Chairman NEIL FOWLER, '47, of the Scholarship Fund Drive reports the early returns indicate the members are pushing the sale of tickets for 10 awards to be donated by Club at the Victory Dance on October 22, 1960. Included among coveted gifts to be given away is the All Expense Plane trip to Miami game for two persons.

Buffalo

"Notre Dame Nite at the Races" at Buffalo Raceway on June 14 kicked off the summer activities schedule of the Buffalo Club. ART STATUTO was this year's chairman and did an exceptionally fine job in handling arrangements which provided those in attendance with a delightful evening. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Notre Dame Blanket to the winner of the "Notre Dame Race" by President JACK ENDERS, '53. The winner's name escapes me;—as would be expected, several tout sheets were torn up in disgust before the evening ended.

ART STATUTO, a "transplant" in Western New York, has been a mainstay of the club for the several years he has been here. Art is taking on a new position in Pittsburgh as of September 1—the club generally and many, if not all, of the various events' chairmen specifically, will miss Art's enthusiasm and support. Pittsburgh Club—take note!

JIM DONOHUE, '48, headed up the committee which staged the annual stag outing on June 25, held again this year at HENRY BALLING'S country estate in the rolling hills at Styherville. Prizes were again awarded to winners (?) of various events by an unnamed committee, the spokesman for which persistently refuses to reveal the identity of the members. Club members feel they have a right to know the names of their accusers. Jim, assisted by perfect weather, gave us a most enjoyable afternoon, evening, etc.

The Lancaster Country Club again provided the setting for the Annual Golf Outing held this year on July 28 under the able chairmanship of MIKE REGAN. GEORGE FERRICK, '39, won the Mary Quinn Memorial Trophy which has been provided by MAURY QUINN in his mother's memory. GERRY MOORE, promotion manager, for the Boston Patriots of the new AFL, was the principal speaker at the dinner following golf.

JOHN RODGERS, '56, who has been appointed by President JACK ENDERS to fill the unexpired term of Director Art Statuto, is chairman of the Notre Dame-Navy game excursion to Philadelphia the weekend of October 28-30.

The September 13 meeting was a send-off for upper classmen returning to Notre Dame with the fathers of incoming freshmen as honored guests.

Plans are taking shape for the Christmas Dance on December 30, which will again be in Terrace Room of the Statler-Hilton.

—DON MAHONEY, '50, Secy.

Calumet Region

Twenty-eight golfers and 50 diners gathered for the annual golf outing at Woodmar Country Club. CHUCK NAU was among the prize winners. TIM KLEIN was chairman of the affair, assisted by BOB WELSH and the Club officers. President BEN DANKO presided at the dinner, awarding a pair of tickets to the Michigan State game in a pool that swelled the Club treasury.

—BOB WELSH, Secy.

Central California

A short meeting was held on September 16th, at the home of the secretary, at which time correspondence from various school and Alumni sources was read and commented upon.

The film "Notre Dame" was shown. Arrangements were made to show it to the Sisters of the Holy Cross at the various schools in the City of Fresno.

After the meeting was closed the following enjoyed a friendly game of cards: MIKE KEYES, DR. JOHN W. FRYE, JIM PAGLIASOTTI, JACK BAIR, DR. WADE BEUCLOTT, and associate members TOM MEEHAN and JOHN SIMON.

—HAROLD A. BAIR, '29, Secy.

Central Illinois (Springfield)

After several years of inactivity, the Notre Dame Club of Springfield has been reactivated in hopes of again having a club here in south central Illinois similar to the club that previously represented this area for so many years.

A dinner was held at "The Cliffs" in Springfield on Saturday evening, June 11, and officers for the year 1960-1961 were elected. The new officers elected to head the newly reactivated club were: THOMAS HAMILTON, '53, president; DR. GERALD RIORDAN, '43, vice-president; ROBERT GILDNER, '52, secretary; and LEE DONDANVILLE, '52, treasurer.

On July 16, the club held its first annual club picnic at the Columbian Gardens on Lake Springfield. Considering the time of the year and all, the turn out was very gratifying. Needless to say, all had an extremely enjoyable time.

As the second big function of the year, a football trip to South Bend for the Notre Dame-Michigan State game was planned. All indications at this writing show that the trip is well supported, and we now plan to have about twenty (20) couples on the trip. We are all looking forward to the trip and hoping to see a large number of our old classmates at the game.

—BOB GILDNER, Secy.

Central New Jersey

Our club had one affair last summer: A well attended picnic at Roosevelt Park in Metuchen, New Jersey. FRANK CUNNINGHAM, '55, headed up the program. Men from Class of '50 and before are still sore from the activities.

We have a full program in the fall with a freshman send-off in September, a trip to the Navy game in October, and a joint rally with Iowa Alumni in November.

Several members from the club attended the 1960 reunion and had a great time: TOM KENNEALLY, '35; CHRIS LARSEN, '55; JOHN HOBLITZEL, '55; WALTER KAVANAUGH, '55; FRANK CUNNINGHAM, '55; and yours truly. Chris was recently transferred to New Orleans with Worthington, but he still came all the way for his first reunion. More should have the same spirit.

Chicago

NOTRE DAME CLUB OF CHICAGO GOLF OUTING

Perfect summer weather and a star-studded Sports Night program combined to draw more than 315 Chicagoland alumni and friends—the largest turnout in the history of the event—to the annual Notre Dame Club of Chicago golf outing at Elmhurst Country Club on Aug. 8.

Coach JOE KUCHARICH highlighted the Sports Night program by reviewing the 1960 prospects for the Fighting Irish, with specific emphasis on his hopes for the squad members from the Chicago area.

WALLY PHILLIPS, Chicago's foremost disk jockey and radio-TV personality, who has built up a terrific following over Station WGN with his rapid-fire comments, was the hit of the evening in his toastmaster role.

REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president of the University, enjoyed a round of golf and spoke briefly at the Sports Night dinner. Other University officials present at the dinner were REV. JOHN WILSON, Foundation director; REV. THOMAS McDONAGH, head of the department of economics; and REV. MATTHEW DURBIN, assistant golf coach.

Host for the annual golf outing was COL. FRED B. SNITE, whose beautiful country club is a perfect backdrop for the Notre Dame outing. The Colonel awarded the FRED B. SNITE, JR., Memorial Trophy to ART ARQUILLA and JIM CELANO, who tied for low gross honors with sparkling 74s over the difficult Elmhurst layout.

Celano retired the Snite trophy last year with his third consecutive victory, and gained one leg on the new trophy with his 1960 effort.

GEORGE MENARD, '34, president of the Chicago Club, presided at the Sports Night dinner, and introduced toastmaster Phillips. Both are Chicago radio personalities. Menard is affiliated with WBBM; Phillips with WGN.

Bill Pfeiffer, winner of the club's annual KNUTE ROCKNE award as the outstanding Catholic League football player in the Chicago area, was introduced to the Sports Night audience. Bill, who garnered All-American high school honors while quarterbacking at DePaul Academy, now is a freshman at N.D. and a member of the yearling squad.

BILL REYNOLDS, '54, and PAUL FULLMER, '55, served as co-chairmen for the combination golf outing and Sports Night dinner. JOE PAGLIARI, '53, first vice-president of the club, helped the co-chairmen coordinate the various committees.

Committee chairmen included JOHN WEITHERS, '55; JOE MADIGAN, '54; STEVE REBORA, '55; CHUCK FALKENBURG, '52; PAT MONTROY, '53; JERRY PRASSAS, '55; and PAT SHANNON, '48.

More than 100 golf and door prizes were awarded during the Sports Night program, which followed a tremendous smorgasbord dinner.

—PAUL FULLMER, '55

(Ed. Note: Last issue's Notre Dame Night report, in an unfortunate garbling of radio manufacturers, coupled the name and firm of Foundation chairman RAY DURST with Chicago's 1960 N.D. Man of the Year ROBERT W. GALVIN. Apologies to Bob Galvin and equal time to Motorola, Inc. To set the record straight, Bob is president of Motorola, of Radio-TV-phonograph fame, while Durst and guest FRANK FOLSOM have been associated with other corporations. J.L.)

Cincinnati

At the June meeting, new officers were elected for the coming year. They are BERTRAND A. SCHLOEMER, president; BARRY SAVAGE, vice-president; JOHN R. LaBAR, secretary; CHUCK LIMA, treasurer.

On the 20th of July, a Notre Dame Golf Day was inaugurated for the first time. It was held at the Hyde Park Golf & Country Club and, under the chairmanship of PAUL KELLEY, proved to be a big success. Besides golf, a delicious dinner was served and prizes were awarded for both good and poor scores. It is intended that this will become an annual affair.

The annual picnic honoring freshmen entering Notre Dame from the Cincinnati area was held on Sept. 6th. JOHN McCORMICK was chairman and a large turnout was expected.

A football trip is being planned by WALLY NIENABER, probably to the Miami game, and possibly one other game.

JOHN R. LaBAR, Secy.

Cleveland

September was a busy month in Cleveland. The wives started off with a cocktail dance Sept. 10 at the Statler Hotel. On Sept. 13 a general meeting was held at Rohr's Restaurant with the primary purpose of introducing present students, new freshmen and their fathers. Highlight was an orientation discussion by the Campus Club officers and members, with a film and refreshments. But for members it was also the time of a dues drive and the kickoff for the annual Scholarship Drawing. The prize this year was an all-expense air trip for two to Miami and the Eden Roc hotel for the N.D.-Miami game. TOM MULLIGAN ran the drive, assisted by FRANK NOVAK and GARY VONDRAN. Drawing was held Nov. 1 at Rohr's.

Oct. 15 saw the running of a President's Special to the N.D.-Michigan State game on the campus. The trip was handled by J. E. UPRICHARD.

Colorado Springs

On Thursday, Sept. 22, 1960, BILL HEARN, '27, acting chairman for organizing a Notre Dame Club of Colorado Springs, called a meeting at the Officers Club, Ent Air Force Base. In attendance were DON ALEXANDER, JR., '29; JIM GARNAHAN, '57; BILL DONELAN, '29; BILL HEARN, '27; DR. JIM JOHNSON, '39; CHUCK LOUGHEREY, '33; and PAT SMID, '47. DAN McNAMARA, FRANK CUSACK and CHARLES CUSACK were not available. A survey was begun of Notre Dame men at the Air Force Academy and other military installations.

The following officers were elected: WM. J. DONELAN, JR., president; WM. G. HEARN, vice-president; DR. JAMES A. JOHNSON, secretary-treasurer. All of our membership, present and future, both active and associate, will be residents of the City of Colorado Springs, Colo., in accordance with the advice of REV. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C., who addressed a meeting of Notre Dame men and their friends last May, along with R. J. BOWES of the Foundation. A charter meeting was planned for Oct. 20.

—BILL DONELAN, Pres.

Columbus

About mid-September our Columbus Club held its annual pre-school gathering at Falter's Farm south of Columbus, Ohio. We were honored by the visit of U. S. Representative SAM DEVINE. Had several old of town friends, including DR. PAT HUGHES, '48, who was in town for the annual Convention of General Practitioners. In all, 62 were present including ten students and five of their fathers. JACK GORDON was chairman and he did an exceptional job.

AL EICHENLAUB and the writer have worked hard to make the Club's annual football special a success. At the present time, the number of tickets sold out of 400 is 381. Our train leaves for South Bend from the Union Depot at 6:00 A.M. and we all are hoping to see the Irish take off on Michigan State. Proceeds will be given over to our Club's scholarship fund.

Our first business meeting will be on October 25 at which time the winner of our drawing for the Miami-Notre Dame raffle will be completed.

I would like to use this time to invite any new adopted Buckeyes in our area to contact the writer for listing in our membership.

—RICHARD J. KASBERG, '48, Secy.

Connecticut Valley

This is a report on our annual going-away dinner for students of the Greater Hartford area who are attending Notre Dame for the first time this Fall.

Our "Freshman Dinner" was held on Tuesday evening, September 13, 1960, at the City Club in Hartford. There were approximately 50 people in attendance, including freshmen, fathers and alumni. A total of 15 freshmen from our area are matriculating at Notre Dame this year, the largest number for some time and probably the most ever.

Among the activities of the evening was the showing of the film "Notre Dame" which depicted the academic, athletic and social life at the University.

The next scheduled Alumni event for this area is our annual "Communion Breakfast" which this year will be held on Sunday, December 11, 1960 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Hartford.

—ROGER C. TREMBLAY, Secy.

Dallas

The annual Summer Party of the Notre Dame Club of Dallas was held at the Spring Valley Country Club on July 30. This most enjoyable event was very well attended. The additional program for late summer included a back-to-school smoker for students of the University from the Dallas area, which was planned for the early part of September.

—JOHN B. TOLLE, Secy.

Dearborn

The eleventh annual Communion Breakfast was held Sunday, May 22, after 9 o'clock Mass at St. Bernadette's, the Fairlane Inn Motel, with the entire family invited. Guest speaker and celebrant was FR. J. D. SCANLON, O.P., a former member of the faculty. President EMORY DAKOSKE made the arrangements. The 1960-61 season started with a meeting Sept. 9 at the JACK GRIFFIN home, planning the principal events of the year. On Sept. 13, the annual Golf Outing and Steak Dinner at Hawthorne Valley was attended by some surprise guests from the campus. EMORY DAKOSKE and JERRY KELLY handled the bus trip to the N.D.-Michigan State game on the campus.

Denver

The Denver Club's third annual sports luncheon was attended by several members and guests at the Onyx Room of the Brown Palace Hotel. June 27. Highlight of the activity was a twenty minute tape recorded telephone interview by CARL ELBERGER, club president, with athletic director MOOSE KRAUSE and coaches JOE KUCHARICH and JOHN JORDAN. Last year's sports records and the prospects for the coming year were discussed. Master of ceremonies JOHN DEE introduced MIKE GRANEY and KEN ADAMSON, captains of the varsity basketball and football teams last year. Mike will be playing for coach Dee and the Denver-Chicago Truckers this coming season. Ken will play pro football with the Denver Broncos in the newly organized American League. BOB HOWSAM, general manager of the Denver Broncos, attended the luncheon as a guest of the club and gave us information on prospects for the Broncos' coming season. Former Notre Dame star FRANK TRIPUCKA will be at quarterback for the Broncos.

A large turnout enjoyed the annual family picnic at Conway Park in the mountains west of Denver. An afternoon of games, races and mountain climbing provided ample activity for young and old alike. Families provided their own picnic lunch while liquid refreshments were supplied by BILL MAHONEY. Prizes were given to all children courtesy of GENE O'MEARA and the club.

Seventeen men enjoyed the August luncheon held at the Old Navarre restaurant. This function is becoming more popular and is held at noon on the first Wednesday of each month.

—RAY M. TRITZ, Jr., Secy.

Eastern Illinois

On Sunday, August 28, a picnic and farewell party were held at the farm of President ED LAYDEN outside of Hoopston, Illinois. DON FIGEL is departing from the Danville area to take over an insurance agency at Davenport, Iowa. About twenty alumni and wives gathered to wish Don well and enjoy a perfect day on the farm.

On Saturday, October 22nd, sixty alumni, wives and friends will journey to Evanston, Illinois to witness the Notre Dame-Northwestern football game. The trip will be made on a private car of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad. The trip from the Dearborn Station to Dwyer Stadium will be made by bus and return to the station after the game. Refreshments and lunch will be served aboard the train, and dinner in Chicago that night will be at Jack Diamond's Steak House.

On Sunday, December 4th, the annual Communion Sunday will be observed at Saint Paul's Church with the REV. CHARLES BOURKE MOTSETT, the pastor, officiating at the Mass. Breakfast and business meeting will be held after Mass at the Grier-Lincoln Hotel.

—RALPH J. DALTON, Secy.

Fort Wayne

Local students and prospective freshmen were guests at the Fort Wayne Club's Annual Stag Picnic at the Southwest Conservation Club on Sept. 14, featuring games of chance, fried chicken and refreshments. TERRY WARD was chairman.

Grand Rapids and Western Michigan

On August 2, the Grand Rapids Club held elections, and the victors are as follows: FRANK FALLON, '33, president; ROBERT KIRCHNER, '32, vice-president; ROBERT WOODHOUSE, '47, treasurer; and JOSEPH MEAD, '34, secretary. Frank Fallon started with a bang, scheduling a golf stag and excursion to the Michigan State game, with a Communion Breakfast, Christmas party and general membership meeting in the offing.

—J. T. MULVIHILL

Hawaii

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of Hawaii had a very successful Aloha brunch on Sunday, August 21, honoring two new incoming freshmen, Basil Ahakuelo and John Felix, both of Honolulu. The setting was truly Hawaiian with 51 persons sitting under a huge Banyan tree on Waikiki Beach at the Moana Hotel. We had one minor problem—talking above the crashing surf—but hearing such surf and watching the surfers was enjoyable.

DON MACHADO, Pres.

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Club's Annual Golf Outing was held at Highland Golf and Country Club Thursday, July 21, 1960. Chairmen were F. QUINN and GEORGE USHER. Toastmaster at the dinner was LEO BARNHORS. Guests at the head table were ARCHBISHOP PAUL C. SCHULTE (he shot an 86), Mayor CHARLES BOSWELT (scored 88), plus the officers.

TOM MATEY, captain of Notre Dame's golf team in '53, won top honors with a 69. Coach BILL DADDIO and DON WILLIAMS (who played at Notre Dame in '58) tied for second place with a 71. JOHN FOLEY, '53, another ex-Notre Dame golf captain and last year's winner, shot a 72 and took third place.

BILL DADDIO was the main speaker and gave us all some information about the Fighting Irish this season, but perhaps too much was released because coaches from all over the state were present, including Purdue's head coach, JACK MOLLENKOFF.

Prizes also went to the duffers as well as every golfer. JACK BRADSHAW, '53, won the low net handicap—115—32-68 (don't ask us to explain how, but that's it).

The alumni from Indianapolis have been keeping very busy with their activities even during the vacation season. Our golf tournament was most successful with a large turnout having a "bang up" time.

LOCAL N.D. MEN IN THE NEWS

The club held a testimonial luncheon for our National Alumni President, JOHN C. O'CONNOR, '38. . . . Now we find we have another honor for a local man from the University. JACK J. ELDER, '30, our "Man of the Year" winner, has been elected president of the National Monogram Club. Indianapolis had the prexy job sewed up, because Jack ran against our own LEO A. BARNHORST, '49. . . . This being a big political year, N.D. men on the local scene are very much in evidence on both sides of the fence. JAMES C. WELCH, '50, is seeking the post of County Commissioner on the Demo ticket, and State Senator JOHN C. RUCKELSHAUS, '52, is running for re-election on the G.O.P. ticket. . . . Many local alumni spent a great deal of time on the Archdiocesan Drive to build three new high schools. KARL JOHNSON, '29, was the city Associate Chairman, and CHARLES BROWN, '38, the architect. . . . Famous local golfers are just too numerous to mention, as are new arrivals to Notre Dame families. But we must tell of the 12th addition to the F. QUINN, '42, family. We don't feel the other proud fathers will object at all. Congratulations. . . . Weddings also seem to form an endless list. Several newweds are JOE DEZELAN, '58; JERRY MURPHY, '57; PETE MOOTZ, '60; and last but not least BILL MOONEY, '57. This last "boy" after a long wait, came thru with flying colors, except for one detail—a best man—this writer—served in that capacity, but was not what the word denotes. . . . Our club keeps growing with new men being transferred to our fair city. JOE BILL, '56, and TOM PALIGNOFF, '57, are newcomers. We welcome them, and miss such men as JACK BREZETTE, '54, and JOHN BRENNAN, '49, who were recently transferred to other sections of the country. . . . JOHN CARDINAL O'HARA is our last man in the news. We will all miss him very much. Indianapolis is proud to have been the adopted home of this distinguished religious leader, and we are sure that his family living here can justly be proud of their brother.

The club looks forward to large crowds this fall for two big occasions. The regular Thursday luncheons should be packed during the football season. The other event is the first annual "Fall Dance" at the I.A.C. October 8th, chairmanned by BILL MOONEY, JR. and the undersigned.

—BILL MCGOWAN, JR., '57, Secy.

Kansas City

It's fall, football time, and the Kansas City Alumni and their guests joined other Notre Dammers at the game of the year in Evanston. A group of seventy-five spent the weekend in Chicago and took time out to cheer the Irish at Evanston. The real winner as always, is the William Rockhill Nelson Scholarship fund. The group traveled under the Personal Supervision of ED AYLWARD and RUSS FARRELL. They performed in a manner befitting Thos. Cook and Sons. DAVE CROOKS, CRAIG WHITAKER, and BOB METZLER assisted with songs, cards and good cheer. Ed and Russ, through Club President JOHN MASSMAN, announced that next year's game trip will be Oklahoma and we are accepting reservations now.

Tradition plays a big part in Notre Dame History. It does in Club activities also. Each year we sponsor a dinner for the incoming freshman and their dads, JERRY KEATING chairmanned the affair and presented REV. GLEN BOARMAN, C.S.C., Notre Dame's prefect of religion, as our guest speaker. WALT O'TOOLE, Campus Club president, discussed his organization and its role in student activities. The dinner on September 7th, coming right after Labor Day, failed to limit the attendance as was predicted, and the Black Angus served Filet Mignon to the sixteen freshmen, their Dads and thirty-five members. Best of all, the boys entered Notre Dame knowing at least 15 other freshmen.

—GEORGE J. HIGGINS, Secy.

Kentucky

The Abbey of Our Lady of Gethsemani in Trap-pist, Kentucky was again the site for the annual retreat of the Notre Dame Club of Kentucky. The retreat was conducted on August 5-7 and was enjoyed by many club members. Our thanks to BILL WUETCHER, '52, who did an excellent job in making all the arrangements.

The traditional Notre Dame-Xavier University Alumni outing was held on August 31. The mid-week activities were a break from our normal week-end outing but the change was welcomed with increased enthusiasm by members of both clubs. The evening activities included the big Notre Dame vs. Xavier softball game, volleyball and pitch & putt golf—all culminated by a fried chicken dinner. Congratulations and thanks to PAUL MOLONEY, '52, and JACK DOUGHERTY, '50, for a fine outing.

J. G. HUTER, father of ROG HUTER, died during the month of August. The club met at the funeral home to cite the rosary for the repose of his soul.

—T. A. Brand, '53, Secy.

Lehigh Valley

Our annual fall "Getting Acquainted and Going Away" meeting for alumni, students and parents was scheduled for September 8. In conjunction with this program the films "Notre Dame" and "Football Highlights of 1953" were shown.

President JACK MAGILL, '54, having been called away from the Valley, Vice-President DAVE LANGLEY, '49, has succeeded to the presidency. and BOB DADAY, '52, has been elected to fill the remainder of Dave's term.

—DAVE NOLAN, '55, Secy.

Maine

The Notre Dame Alumni Association of Maine met on Saturday, September 10, at the Martha Washington Inn Boathouse in Winthrop, Maine and a rather large select group of Notre Dame Alumni, students and parents gathered to make it a most festive occasion. Among the alumni were PAUL SCULLY, '38 DOYLE, '42; RAY GEIGER, '32; LEN TOBIN, '38; MIKE SALTER, '54; ROLAND DECOTEAU, '37; and JOHN LAUGHLIN, '54. It is unfortunate that our State is so large not every one can attend these scattered functions. However, those who were unable to attend reported in and are participating in a raffle of two tickets to the Notre Dame-Miami football game for the benefit of our scholarship fund.

The officers for the coming year were re-elected as follows: J. LEONARD TOBIN, president; JOHN LAUGHLIN, vice-president; RAY GEIGER, secretary; JOE DOYLE, treasurer; ROLAND DECOTEAU, area vice-president; and MIKE SALTER, area vice-president.

The group was apprised of the new Foundation drive for 66 million dollars and RAY GEIGER, recently appointed as Foundation Governor for the State of Maine, stressed the importance of each alumnus giving his share to the University and soliciting those who could afford to give from outside of Notre Dame circles.

The alumni of Maine passed a resolution to continue its assistance to RICHARD BEAUREGARD to help him through his third year at Notre Dame and a check was ordered issued to him out of the scholarship fund monies.

Plans for the University Concert Band to come to Lewiston next April 8 were talked over and a committee will be set up to handle the details of this major project. Preliminarily it is expected that the band will be having its concert at the Lewiston High School Auditorium.

In the course of the afternoon a softball game was held with all including wives, students and girl friends playing—one ironic casualty, Ray Geiger pitching for the old folks caught a line drive on the tip of his small finger and dislocated it. A warning to the old timers to be more careful and wear a glove.

With the summer season over we are glad that some alumni from other parts of the country called on us to visit in our fair state. Among recent visitors were JIMMIE DAY, Class of '32 and FATHER LEONARD COLLINS, Dean of Students at Notre Dame, who spent a rewarding evening discussing Notre Dame lore at Ray Geiger's home. Remember Lewiston is in the southern part of the state and all Notre Dame men are welcome when passing this way.

—RAYMOND A. GEIGER, Secy.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Getting into orbit at the Capital Club's interplanetary Universal Notre Dame Night, held last spring at the Sheraton-Carlton hotel, were (l. to r.): John L. Kenkel, co-chairman; John A. Johnson, general counsel, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, who spoke on "The Exploration of Space"; Rev. John H. Wilson, C.S.C., N.D. Foundation director, who outlined the University's progress in scientific research; and Walter H. Johnson, Jr., co-chairman.

Manila, P.I.

Officers in the Philippines this year are President CONRADO SANCHEZ, JR., and Secretary-Treasurer LAWRENCE J. GOTUACO. The Club has just shipped some Philippine furniture to Los Angeles for the Family Theater of REV. PATRICK PEYTON, C.S.C., who was a guest at a meeting last November.

McHenry County

The Notre Dame Club of McHenry County had a very enjoyable dinner meeting Sept. 15 at McHenry, Illinois, to which we had invited our wives and a number of the clergy of the county and friends of Notre Dame. About 60 persons were in attendance.

Our special guest, FATHER THOMAS O'DONNELL, completely captivated the crowd with a very inspiring talk, and gave us just the needed spark to make the first official get-together a delightful success.

—JOSEPH A. CONERTY, JR., Pres.

Miami

A July 7 meeting was held at the Monte Carlo Hotel with wives and girl friends as special guests, featuring delayed refreshments and a misplaced wiener roast, courtesy of Pres. J. SMITH. A football week end planning meeting called for ED KELLY and MIKE ZOROVICH on August 5 at the Monte Carlo Club Room produced little planning but a good turnout of the faithful, including PAUL LESKO. The annual picnic was held August 20 at Grandon Park Cabanas with approximately 140 in attendance for a sumptuous repast of barbecued chicken and ribs, swimming, refreshments, and another wild softball game between the officer-directors and a determined group piloted by FRED PIOWATY, the former emerging triumphant 6-4 after six suspicious innings. ED KELLY and GEORGE HERO made the arrangements. A September 1 meeting furthered the N.D.-Miami Week End plans, featuring the distribution of game and post-game dance tickets, a limited Sweepstakes drawing for tickets and two nights at the Monte Carlo, and a Touchdown Club Luncheon at the Everglades featuring the Four Horsemen. The last meeting before the game was held Oct. 6 at the Monte Carlo.

Mid-Hudson Valley

The first New York Actors Equity strike in forty-one years caused cancellation of the Mid-Hudson Valley Notre Dame Club theatre party on June 11th. The show was the Pulitzer Prize and New York Drama Critics Award winning musical, FIORELLO!!! The theatre party has been rescheduled for November 12, 1960.

The Club lost its chaplain during the month of July. REV. ANTHONY D. BOTTI, S.J. was transferred from St. Andrews-on-Hudson to the St. Francis Xavier Military Academy in New York City. In addition, both JOHN HANIFAN and JOE RORICK were transferred to New York City by IBM.

On August 28th the Club held its annual family picnic on the grounds of Eymard Seminary in Hyde Park. For the second year in succession over one hundred alumni, their families, and guests participated. Attending a Club function for the first time was HENRY W. PLETCHER, '50, who recently moved into the area from Lafayette Hill, Pa. After all lunches were consumed and everyone had enjoyed a swim in the seminary's pool, the annual East Bank vs. West Bank (of the Hudson) softball game was held. Due to the inability of locating an unbiased umpire to officiate at this contest, numerous rubeisms occurred during the game involving such items as how many outs and runs that each side had made. Nevertheless justice prevailed and the East Bank squeezed out an 8 to 7 victory in seven innings. Alumni representing the East Bank were JACK DRUMGOULD, BILL GIBSON, AL MILLER, FRANK MAHAR, BRIAN O'NEILL and DON REYNOLDS. While TONY BUONO, ANDY HUFNAGEL, JOE MAHAR, and BOB ORTALE performed for the West.

Then as darkness was settling over the grounds, the day's activities were culminated with a toast and the singing (with a flat note here and there) of "Happy Birthday" to the Club's senior member, Mr. WILLIAM J. BLAKE, class of 1887, from Newburgh.

Milwaukee

Things are humming again for the Notre Dame alumni in Milwaukee. With the newly-elected officers on the job, many activities are being planned that we hope will interest everyone. Our president is GENE SCHUMAKER, '42. Gene is a native Milwaukeean, father of six, and operates the Adjustable Fixture Company. The vice-president and secretary are the same as last year — JACK WILKINSON, '51, and TOM HERMAN, '57, respectively. JIM O'BRIEN, '53, has filled the position of treasurer. Jim is employed by the Square D Company.

Sunday, August 21, we got together with our families at Greenfield Park for our annual picnic.

The day was a huge success (in spite of the mosquitoes) thanks to the work and planning of JOE MESEK and JIM O'BRIEN. The children competed in all varieties of races and games, including a watermelon-eating contest. Then the fathers took over the field for a game of softball. The hard-hitting team captained by FRANK EATON downed the team of CHARLIE O'NEILL, 7 to 2. TOM DIXON acted as umpire in the slug-fest and made a fairly good attempt at keeping the peace. The losers generously hosted the winners to a round of the already free beer.

New Jersey

The J. M. BYRNE Travel Service ran a special air trip to the Miami-N.D. game for New Jersey fans, including reservations at team headquarters in the Monte Carlo Hotel.

New Mexico

On July 31, the Notre Dame Alumni of New Mexico had a business-picnic at the Benedictine Abbey in Pecos. About 100 alumni, wives, and children attended the event. All that were there had a very joyous afternoon. Elected as new officers during the business meeting were: FRANK HUDSON, president; DICK EVERODE, vice-president; BILL HARVEY, secretary; and BILL BENEDICT, treasurer.

New York

The annual Spring Smoker was held on May 19th at the Seventh Regiment Armory. BOB SCHRAMM headed the hard working committee responsible for the large turnout. JOE KUCHARICH was guest of honor, and he sized up the football squad for the forthcoming campaign. JIM ARMSTRONG attended and as usual had some very interesting comments on the present day picture at N.D. JIM O'SHEA, '52, captured the door prize and went home with tickets to the Navy game.

GEORGE FRAZIER handled the details for the 29th Annual Retreat at the Jesuit retreat house in Shrub Oak, N.Y. The retreat was a three-day program which carried over the weekend of May 26th.

President BILL CUDDY, '52, presented the Jack Lavelle Memorial Trophy to Sacred Heart H.S. of Yonkers, winners of the annual CYO golf tournament. The setting was the Westchester C.C. on May 26th.

At a meeting on May 10th, the Board of Governors voted to pledge $1000 to the University Library Fund in memory of the late FRANK C. WALKER, former Postmaster General and Laetare Medal recipient. Mr. Walker was a dear friend and club member for years.

HAROLD J. MARSHALL, '29, presented to his classmate, FR. VINCE McCAULEY of the Holy Cross Missions, a set of Mass vestments to be used in the foreign missions. The presentation was made on June 17th at the Marshall home. The vestments were a gift from the Club.

The Huntington Crescent Club on Long Island was the scene for the annual Golf Outing on June 24th. This year the affair was sponsored by the Long Island Division. GORDON FORRESTER headed up the hard working committee. A large crowd was on hand to test the course and partake in the feast afterwards FR. GORMAN, C.S.C., chaplain of the Club for the past few years, was presented with a gift as a token of appreciation for the wonderful work he did in the Club. Father has been forced to resign due to a change of assignment.

The Long Island Division sponsored a dance at Guy Lombardo's club on July 22nd. Proceeds go to the Scholarship Fund. Among those who spearheaded the committee were JOE WURTZLER '48; JIM MacDEVITT, TOM WALSH, TOM MURPHY, '53, and ED FITZPATRICK, '54. The dance was a great success.

The Westchester Division sponsored a Picnic and Outing for the members of the area and their families on July 31st. The site was the Blind Brook Polo Club in Purchase, N.Y. The feature attraction was an outstanding polo match between two of our fine Eastern teams. Thanks to JACK GARVEY and his committee for a wonderful afternoon of fun.

LYNN MARSHALL, '50, son of Harold J. Marshall, has entered the Jesuit Order and is presently studying at Bellarmine College in Plattsburg, N.Y.

We in the Notre Dame Club of N.Y. extend our deepest sympathy to GEORGE BARSA, '48, and his family on the occasion of the recent death of his wife.

On the agenda for the Fall was the annual Kick-Off meeting of which GEORGE VERGARA, '25, is chairman. The meeting was scheduled for September 12th, the Four Horsemen as our guests. Chairmen for annual Freshman Smoker were ED PAULSEN, '60, and JACK ROBINSON. JIM POWERS, '52, headed the Committee working on details for the Navy game trip.

Oregon

Pres. Slatt having gone into hibernation for the summer, we've all had a chance to recuperate. But a telephone call the other day warns us he's ready to go again! Things will be a doin'.

Meantime, a few of the boys have been making news. BOB FRANZ, '49, did such a good job the first term, he's been re-elected president of the Independent Bankers Assn. of the 12th Federal Reserve District—and that includes some of those big banks in California! ED LEAVY—excuse me, Your Honor!—is a candidate for Lane County Circuit Judge, having survived the primary election in May. Hope you make it, Ed! OTIS JORDAN's Pacific Concrete Co. continues to get its share of big road-building contracts.

Speaking of politics: HUGH DACEY, JR., '45, recently caused a local tempest when his duck-hunting friends gave him an apparent write-in ballot victory for County Coroner. However, the state attorney-general has ruled that no Republican candidate was officially nominated and recently the party pundits have nominated another candidate.

Newcomer among us: TOM HALEY, '59, son of Art Haley, campus p.r. man. Hope you like the Northwest, Tom, and that we'll see lots of you at Club functions. Newcomers from Oregon to Notre Dame for '60-61: TIM ANDERSEN and TOM DUFF of Portland, BILL BARR and JIM PANGER of Salem, TOM TOMJACK of Medford, and MIKE MURPHY of Roseburg. Best of luck to you, boys! Yours Truly has been elected president of the Portland Life Underwriters Assn. for 1960-61.

TOM MAGEE, '32, Secy.

Palm Beach County

The Club held a meeting on July 7th, at ED LEWIS' house in West Palm Beach. Plans were laid for the purchase of tickets to the Notre Dame-Miami game. TIM O'HARA was elected President of the Club for the coming year.

A meeting was held on August 13th, at DAN DOWNEY's house. At this meeting orders for tickets to the game were taken and plans laid for the possible renting of a bus for group transportation to the game. This Club would appreciate hearing of any planned activities of any other Club or individual alumnus who plan to attend the Notre Dame-Miami game. Present at both meetings were JIM and DAN DOWNEY, ROME HARTMAN, JAMES A. HERBAUGH, RICHARD R. GORMAN, ED LEWIS, JAMES OENBRINK, TIM O'HARA, DR. BERNARD O'HARA, MIKE MCGAHEY, CHEATHAM HODGES and several others whose names escape me at this writing. If all arrangements come out as planned, this Club will sit on the South side of the upper deck during the game.

—EDWARD D. LEWIS, Secy.

Peoria

The Notre Dame Club of Peoria arranged for REV. JOHN LUBBERS, C.S.C., as guest of honor at a stag dinner meeting held September 14, 1960, at Vonachen's Junction. A theology professor, Father Lubbers was recently appointed assistant superior of the Community Infirmary at N.D. As a special added attraction, we secured the services of Mr. Jim McDonough for a slide presentation of a very unique trip to the University of Alaska via five national parks and the Alaskan Highway.

All present and incoming students at the University of Notre Dame were invited along with their fathers.

—JOHN F. MANION, Secy.

Philadelphia

The summer cocktail party raised $400 from the Philadelphia Club for the New Library. All new freshmen and their dads were invited to a "Back to Campus Party" on September 13, featuring "BUD" DUDLEY, sportscaster GENE KELLY and free refreshments. The Notre Dame Club furnished a 16-man honor guard for Philadelphia's tribute to JOHN CARDINAL O'HARA. October saw the regular monthly meeting on the 11th and the big N.D.-Navy week end of the 29th. JOHN MOORHEAD handled game ticket sales, while the Club sponsored a Friday night pep rally and a post-game cocktail party in the grand ballroom of the Ben Franklin Hotel, with proceeds going to the New Memorial Library. WALT GROTHAUS also arranged for a post-game dinner in a private dining room of the Franklin. On Nov. 10 chartered planes took members to Miami Beach and the Carillon Hotel for a sumptuous N.D.-Miami game week end. CHARLIE CONLEY, WALT GROTHAUS and BILL WHITESIDE were co-chairmen of the trip.

The Annual Notre Dame Communion Breakfast will take place on Dec. 11.

Phoenix

At one of the largest local alumni meetings ever held in Phoenix, the following officers were named for 1960-1961—ROBERT KENDALL, president (for the third time); EDWARD MURPHY, vice-president; DR. WILLIAM DUNN, secretary; and JACK SCHOUTEN, treasurer. Universal Notre Dame Night was held at the Phoenix Country Club. The main speaker was PAUL MATZ, former center and team captain, now residing in Tucson. The first scholarship to be awarded by the Phoenix club was given to ROBERT SCRIBNER, a graduate of Brophy Prep.

A get-together for the local club and their wives was held on September 14 at the A-1 Hall.

At the final meeting of the Women's Auxiliary last May, these women were named for the coming year: Mrs. EDMUND CLEARY, president; Mrs. EDWARD GANNON, vice-president; Mrs. WILLIAM DUNN, secretary and Mrs. WILLIAM HELME, treasurer.

—ED CLEARY, Retiring Secy.

Pittsburgh

The annual golf party and dinner was held September 7 at the Pittsburgh Field Club with nearly 100 in attendance. PAUL HUDAK and CHARLIE TOTTEN tied for the championship. The Scholarship Fund drive netted $684.10, with Mr. and Mrs. George Bope (a golf guest of JOE GASPARELLA) winning a trip to the N.D.-Pitt game. Among dinner guests were students, incoming freshmen and parents. Chairman GENE COYNE was ably assisted by JOHN VUONO, BILL ENGLE and BILL MCGOWAN, N.D. and Pitt alumni joined forces for a chartered Pennsylvania R.R. train to the Panther-Irish contest on campus. Executive Secretary BILL MCGOWAN put in long hours on a new Club Directory. Coming events include the N.D. Communion Breakfast on Dec. 11, with CARL ECK in charge; the Christmas Dance, Dec. 26, at the University Club; and the annual retreat at St. Paul's in January, with JOHN BRILEY as chairman.

Rochester

Not too much to report, as we are planning many functions for the remainder of the year but dates are not too definite as yet.

First off, though, our campaign on behalf of our N.D. Scholarship fund has been moving along very well under the capable hands of DICK KLEE. It was for two tickets to the N.D.-Navy game.

On September 6, a party was held welcoming the new freshmen, about 15, into the Notre Dame family. JIM WHELAN, President of the N.D. Club on campus for Rochester, and DON BOOTH, president of the Alumni Club, gave excellent talks on life at Notre Dame.

Our Family Communion Breakfast is in the planning stage with JERRY MOEDE as chairman. No date has been set as yet.

Our Christmas Dinner Dance is being planned but as yet no chairman announced or date.

—ED DEMPSEY, Secy.

Rockford

The Notre Dame Club of Rockford held its Annual Golf Stag this year on August 11. The stag was held at Freeport, Illinois and was well attended by members of the club, both alumni and associates. The event was well planned by the co-chairmen, DR. FELIX LOWNIK and CHARLES LUECKE.

with a large number of prizes to be won and splendid co-operation from the weather man.

Among heroes of the day were JIM GAULRAPP who won the prize for the straightest drive of the day, and DICK WILLSON, who won the prize for the longest drive of the day.

Many of those attending brought along their parish pastors, and those who came to the attention of the secretary were FR. PHILLIP O'NEIL and FR. ARTHUR O'NEIL.

The golf game was followed by a delicious meal, and the digestion of all was aided by the program of Toastmaster AL CARROLL and BOB SCHMELZE.

New officers for the Club are:

President — AL CARROLL; 1st Vice Pres. — CHUCK LUECKE; 2nd Vice Pres. — TOM KEEGAN; Secretary — BOB GOSDICK; Treasurer — JIM GAULRAPP; Board of Directors — JIM DUNN, JR., MIKE LORDEN, BILL LICHTENBERGER, and GEORGE O'LEARY.

—ROBERT GOSDICK, Secy.

Rome

Our temporary loss is the University's gain in the infirmity visit this summer of our Rome chaplain, FATHER ED HESTON, C.S.C. Eye-witnesses on campus saw the only thing that can hold Father Heston down: a cast. And yet his painful pilgrimage to N.D. was our gain in that he represented the Rome Club in matters of import with the Alumni Office.

More permanent losses here: BROTHER DONARD STEFFES, C.S.C., after eight years of pioneering the now flourishing Notre Dame International School for Boys, has been transferred to the Archbishop Hoban High School, Akron, Ohio. All Notre Dame and Holy Cross Romans appreciate the jobs (plural) Brother Donard accomplished in the Eternal City. Then after one year's residence we have lost MILDRED and CHARLIE ROBRECHT, '24. Esso Investors has transferred the Robrechts to Paris. Our special thanks to them for their generous participation in the club's hosting program.

But the Lord always provides: New members are these medical students at the University of Rome: LOU MAGGIORE, JOE DELIA ('47, with wife and family), and BILL MARTIN, who, although he is a grad of Villanova '58, qualifies with two brothers JIM MARTIN, N.D., '51, and DICK, '63. Finally, there is FATHER JOHN MARY WHITNEY who studied at Holy Cross Seminary on campus and is now a bearded priest of the Oriental rite, based at Nazareth, Palestine, and presently on the staff of the International Center of Pius XII for a Better World near Rome. In Naples under the watchful eye of our vice prexy, GEORGE GLEASON are LT. EUGENE FARLEY, U.S. Coast Guard, and CMDR. J. D. JOHNSON, surgeon at the Naval Hospital, and former N.D. Basketball captain.

Commencement exercises at the University this past June remind us that we must prepare to invite into the Rome club as "Eminent" and "Excellent" members those of the Hierarchy who received honorary degrees: Cardinal Montini, plus Cardinals Lercaro and Ottaviani who received degrees previously; and Archbishop O'Connor, rector of our North American College in Rome.

A special guest, awarded honorary membership was DR. TOM DOOLEY, who gave spirited talks before the club with American medical students of the University of Rome as guests. Dr. Tom also moved the students of Notre Dame International School to an altitude of enthusiasm no other speaker has succeeded in doing to these testy teenagers.

On the occasion of Dr. Dooley's visit officers of the club floored your reporter by presenting him with an International Man of the Year Award which had been clandestinely arranged with the Alumni Office. Allow us to use a line of this reporter's page to report our most sincere gratitude for this citation.

And now, in the order in which they "showed," here is the list of N.D. Family arrivals during the past few months: LEONARD J. BARBARISI, '58, now at Tufts Med School of Everett, Mass.; RICHARD T. BOONE, Reading, Pa., U.S. Navy; VERY REV. ALLAN NILES, '42, of Wild Rice, N. Dak.; ROBERT J. LYNCH, A.B., '49, Architecture, '53, with Walsh & Maginnis, Boston; ENS. ANTHONY J. St. Joseph Valley

A full schedule of summertime activities kept the St. Joseph Valley Alumni Club busy during the past months.

The annual "Old-Timers" game gave area fans

INDIANAPOLIS — At the annual golf tournament, (l. to r.), coaches Bernie Crimmins (Purdue) Wilbur Stevens (Indiana), and Hugh Devore (N.D.), abetted by Purdue's athletic director Guy "Red" Mackey, heckle a crucial putt by Notre Dame's Bill Daddio, who finished second with a dandy 71. Bill had the last laugh at the dinner as principal speaker and awardee of prizes.

a preview of the 1960 charges of JOE KUCHARICH, and the turnout of more than 12,000 spectators at South Bend's School Field while the Stadium was being resodded insured the continuing of the Club's scholarship fund to area students. For the record: Varsity, 27; Old-Timers, 13.

In June, more than 200 alumni and friends gathered at the N.D. Golf Course for the Club's annual golf outing. Also for the record, no course records were set.

President JOE HICKEY has also received a very encouraging report from Quarterback Luncheon Chairman JERRY HAMMES concerning the Fall program which features noon-time luncheons with famous Grid speakers at South Bend's LaSalle Hotel Bronzewood Room.

The entire package, four luncheons and guest speakers, retailed for $12.00. Plans called for Red Mackey, Purdue athletic director on Sept. 26; Red Grange, on Oct. 10; Biggie Munn, Michigan State athletic director, on Oct. 31; and Stu Holcomb, Northwestern athletic director, on Nov. 14.

In addition, Coach Kuharich is on hand on Oct. 10 to let us know whether the season would continue as begun.

Additional info and end-of-season reservations can be obtained from JERRY HAMMES, chairman of the New Downtown Quarterback Club.

South Central Wisconsin

Forty members and guests attended the club's University Notre Dame night celebration at the Embers in Madison. This was our first social event of any kind since a fall outing in 1958. DR. WILLIAM BURKE, director of the Office of Student Advisor, was our speaker and those in attendance were very appreciative of his frankness and the earnestness in providing us with information, regarding not only the physical layout but of the impact of the increasing number of prospective college students and how the University proposes to meet the challenge as to admission requirements and prospective expansion. We certainly wish to thank the Association for providing Dr. Burke as our speaker. Incidentally, TOM HAMILTON served as master of ceremonies.

The results of our club's postcard balloting for officers were announced by outgoing president TOM FROST during the business portion of the meeting. They were: F. LAWRENCE LENZ, 2502 Gregory, Madison, president; FRANK HAMILTON, Dodgeville, vice-president; and BERNARD MINTACKI, 5400 Flamingo Road, Madison, secretary-treasurer.

Twenty-four members and guests attended our summer outing and dinner at the Dodge Point Country Club. TOM HAMILTON sort of served as a one-man gang in charge of arrangements. During the business portion of the meeting, LARRY LENZ announced he was moving to Illinois and thus could not serve as president for the remainder of his term. WILLIAM GORGEN, of Mineral Point, was elected president for the interim. Our business meeting mostly consisted of looking ahead to 1961, when Notre Dame comes up this way to play the University of Wisconsin. KEN NIGLIS, of Madison, was named chairman of a dinner tentatively set up for some time in October. Though our attendance was not very big, the encouraging part was the interest shown by some of those who could not be present who informed us they could not attend.

Dr. Bernard Waldman, Professor of Physics at the University, who has been named director of the Midwestern Universities Research Association Laboratory here in Madison, has accepted our invitation to participate in the activities of our club. Also, in this area, TOM VEECH, '50, now a golf professional out of Milwaukee, came into Madison for the Capital Times open and walked away with second place among the pros. In the three prior years he has come in first so he sure has become acquainted with the folding money from this area.

—BERNARD MINTACKI, '50, Sec'y-Treas.

Spokane

Members of the Notre Dame Club of Spokane, their wives, children and some friends enjoyed the Annual Summer Outing of the Club on Sunday afternoon July 31st. FRANK HERRON, '35, chairman of the committee in charge, very kindly offered the use of his attractive home on the shores of Liberty Lake for the affair. It was a very happy afternoon for all present, concluding with a picnic supper for which the Club provided the liquid refreshments. A prize in the form of remission of his Club dues, was awarded to BOB MERZ, '47, for having the largest number of children present—that was six.

At the Summer Outing Club members elected BOB MERZ, '47, president to succeed MARK MARQUELING, '50, who has moved to Seattle; they also elected BERNIE SMITH, '53, as vice-president, succeeding Bob Merz.

Club members attended their Annual Retreat the week-end of September 24th at Immaculate Heart Retreat House, near Spokane. FRANK HAGENBARTH, '27, was in charge of arrangements.

Plans were also under way for a TV Football Party on October 22nd, with the Notre Dame-Northwestern game nationally televised. DICK ST. JOHN, '56, was chairman of the committee working on this annual event and promised a good time for all—including a victory this year.

—JOE WALSH, '14, Sec'y-Treas.

The September meeting under the chairmanship of FRANK PROX was a very interesting one. After the regular business meeting, FATHER CHARLES ZENGEL showed slides of his recent trip to Rome along with an excellent commentary.

A change of pace is planned for the November meeting under the guidance of RAY KEARNS. The wives have been asked to attend this meeting with a social planned after the meeting. JIM SULLIVAN will be in charge of this year's Communion Breakfast, and BERNIE BURDICK will be in charge of stag to be held the Friday before Lent.

THE SQUEEZE ON CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

by John J. Kane

NEITHER THE PAST nor present of Catholic education has been free of problems, criticisms and concern. In 1834 a Catholic girls' school in Charlestown, Massachusetts, was burned to the ground by an irate mob of bigots. Ten years later, a similar fate befell a parochial school and seminary in Philadelphia as a result of protests over reading the Protestant version of the Bible to Catholic students in public schools. A few years ago a publication of the National Education Association, "Public Schools and the Future of America" charged that Catholic schools were divisive and undemocratic. Last year thirty lawsuits were pending in Texas over nuns teaching in public schools. But the Catholic educational system has weathered these serious reverses and research here at Notre Dame has pretty much refuted the silly charge of divisiveness. When sixty-five public school superintendents throughout the nation were asked if the existence of parochial schools caused interreligious tensions within their communities, eighty-eight percent said, "No." But future problems and concerns of Catholic schools are an intra-Catholic matter and demand serious consideration. In fact, their very survival on the elementary and secondary level may be at stake.

Today, one out of every seven students in the United States enrolled in grammar school and high school is in a Catholic institution. Seven percent of all college and university students are in Catholic schools. Growth between 1945 and 1957 has been phenomenal: Catholic elementary schools increased 80%; secondary schools, 61%. But the past is nothing compared to what the future will be if population predictions even approximate accuracy. Conservative estimates claim that college enrollments will double by 1973, and if the present trend for more and more students to attend colleges continues, enrollments will triple by that year. If American Catholics of the future hope to educate the same proportion of their children in Catholic institutions as they do today, some hard facts must be faced realistically: how will they pay for the buildings, libraries, laboratories, other equipment and teachers' salaries?

The actual cost of Catholic education nationally is not readily determined but some approximation of it is feasible.

The late Cardinal O'Hara took the cost of educating pupils in public elementary and secondary schools in various regions of the country and then multiplied this by the number in Catholic parochial grade and high schools. He estimated that in the year 1956-57 American Catholics have saved the U. S. taxpayer, including themselves of course, almost one and a-half billion dollars. While this was not the actual cost to Catholics, largely because of minimum salaries paid to Nuns, Brothers, priests and lay persons on these faculties, the true cost probably approached a billion dollars. This does not include colleges and universities where relatively higher tuition is paid. Such tuition usually covers only about one-third of the instructional costs. Here the deficit is made up by gifts of alumni, friends, business and industry, and again costs are reduced by a teaching staff of nuns, Brothers, priests and relatively low salaries to lay faculty. When this expense is added to that of Catholic elementary and high schools, the total is staggering.

BUT THERE IS another problem which American Catholics must face about their school systems. Increased facilities are obviously needed. Efforts to provide them are being made but as costs spiral, there is always the danger that enforced

Dr. John J. Kane, professor of sociology, has headed the department at Notre Dame since 1953. A member of the faculty since 1948, he is a specialist on the family, racial and ethnic group relationships, and interreligious tensions. He received an A.B. from St. Joseph's College, an M.A. from Temple University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania, all in Philadelphia; and formerly taught in the Industrial Relations Institute at St. Joseph's. Dr. Kane's books include Marriage and the family: a Catholic Approach and Catholic-Protestant Conflicts in the U.S. He has written many articles for magazines and professional journals, and he is a former president of the American Catholic Sociology Society.

cutbacks may seriously impair instruction and the separate facilities of public and Catholic education could become grossly unequal. It would be a tragedy if the price of maintaining a Catholic school system cost children an adequate education.

No matter what the cost of Catholic education is today, these expenses will become greater in the future. This is true for all schools but acutely true for Catholic schools on the elementary and secondary level. The major reason for this is the necessity of employing more and more lay teachers. The National Catholic Welfare Conference in its biennial survey of 1956 stated that in the last ten years lay teachers had increased by 196%. The largest increase occurred in elementary schools, 409%. Actually, in the past there had been relatively few lay persons teaching in parish schools, so the percentage of increase, while startling, reflects the fact that many elementary schools have now added lay teachers. That they will have to add more in the future is a foregone conclusion. Vocations, generally, do not appear to be keeping pace with demand and if schools are to be staffed the only source is the laity. In 1956 there were 20,989 lay men and women teaching on the elementary and secondary level of Catholic schools. Estimating their average salary at $2700 annually, a dismally low income by today's standards, total cost was $575,000,000. By now it has well passed that mark.

But costs of Catholic education to parents do not end with payment of tuition and contributions to the church. In some states there are book purchases or book rentals, usually both. Annual raffles, dinner, photographs and other fund-raising devices are common. Extracurricular activities likewise cost money, and Kathryn Douglass found in her study of two private schools that boys spent $69.17, girls $22.12 yearly, only part of which was earned by the students.

Some extracurricular activities such as athletic teams and school bands also tax the resources of Catholics and most institutions have Fathers' Clubs, Mothers' Clubs or some similar organization dedicated largely to the raising of money for such equipment. While Catholic students do use the public library, some kind of school library is essential. The expense of building up and maintaining adequate facilities of this type today is really prohibitive. Finally, in many states Catholic parents watch public school children riding to and from classes in tax-supported buses for which they pay while they either drive their own youngsters to school or pay for public transportation out of their own pockets.

IN SUMMARY THEN, the problem is this. The Catholic birth-rate at all social-economic levels except the very lowest exceeds that of non-Catholics. Catholics generally have larger families, consequently more children to educate, less money with which to do it, and the added cost of a private and/or parochial school to maintain. They face the dismal prospect of an expansion of public education for which they have an obligation to pay as taxpayers and expansion of the Catholic system for which they want to pay as religious persons. Just how far and how long Catholic resources can be strained to continue the present pattern merits frank and serious consideration. Lutheran, Quaker and Presbyterian schools in some parts of the country folded long ago for this reason. Can Catholic schools survive?

Short of outright state subsidization, which is highly unlikely, certain changes in the Catholic school structure will fast become imperative. Just what form they take may vary from one diocese to another. However, among possible changes may be a reduction of the parochial school to four years with the other four years taken in a public school. Or Catholics may concentrate on the high school and college level, eliminating the grammar school entirely. These are drastic alterations and no decision should be made without thorough research. But whether this is the new look in Catholic education or not, two steps are still essential.

First, prayers for more vocations to the priesthood, Brotherhood and Sisterhood are indicated. Definite efforts should be made to encourage more young men and women to enter the teaching profession. Mothers, whose children are of school age and who have had the required education, should be given refresher courses to enable them to staff parochial schools and high schools. Second, even if all of these suggestions enjoy modest success, religious education within the Catholic home will have to be stepped up and Newman Clubs extended to public high schools. Until the wave of the future born during the late forties and early fifties reaches an age when it can give its financial support to Catholic education, there will be a serious lag. How serious this will be depends on how seriously American Catholics realize it today.

THE POPULATION PANIC

by Donald N. Barrett

THE CRIES of impending calamity due to "overpopulation" are rising to an almost irrational pitch. Faith in the automatic, mathematical formula for doom, enunciated by the "pessimistic parson," Thomas Malthus, has declined considerably, but a faith in population projections has grown apace. Gaining assurance for our faith and values from what is assumed to be science has not been unusual in America, but in the controversy over the "population explosion" science seems to be prostituted on all sides.

In a recent issue of the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists Charles Darwin plays the popular game of population "scare" projections by saying that in 1000 years the present rates of increase would mean "just about standing room" for the people on the earth's land surfaces. A widely read picture magazine several months ago preferred the estimate that in 730 years human beings will be "so tightly packed" that each person's estate will be only one foot in area. But the asserted dangers are not only quantitative, it seems, for, as Julian Huxley prophesies, "the quality of the population will without question go down." Presumably we can now predict the horrors of rising rates of mental deficiency, disease and other abnormalities, all due to population growth.

On the other side of the controversy we find very few literary and vocal protagonists. This lack of opposition gives rise to the impression that all the factual and scientific arguments are on the former side. The absence of intellectual vigor on the part of large numbers who oppose the "population explosion" thesis derives in part from what Bishop Dwyer of Reno has called "the danger of orthodoxy." Too many Christians, and also Catholics, would prefer to "believe" that their position is empirically tenable, rather than give respect and support to thorough research on the problem. In illustration of this preference to believe, rather than know, we may point to the facts that there are fewer than five trained Catholic demographers in the United States and also that no Catholic university or agency has sponsored or encouraged an on-going scientific study of population issues. Unfortunately today theology and philosophy tend to be unconvincing in the intellectual marketplace of contemporary problems, so non-Christian "answers" to such questions become powerful and persuasive by default of empirical research.

THE FEW CATHOLIC voices which are raised about the population question have often reached only a limited audience and generally have not been characterized by a high level of professional persuasiveness. In opposing certain family limitation methods a member of the staff of the National Catholic Welfare Conference was provoked into asserting the possibilities of interplanetary and interstellar travel to drain off the world's future growing population. Predictably an article appeared soon afterward in a scientific journal exploring this possibility. Therein we get figures that are overwhelming. At all favorable estimates, for example, it would cost about 9,000 billion dollars per year to take America's present excess of births over deaths to the nearest inhabitable star. The trip, by the way, would take only 350 years at an average speed of 7,000,000 miles per hour. Probably the most vocal of Catholic writers on this issue, a theologian, has been successful in reaching some Catholics. His pamphlet, having sold over 300,000 copies, sensitizes the reader to the moral implications and importance of certain aspects of population growth. Since his 1957 doctorate thesis on the population statements of Pius XII and the Japanese problem this theologian has ranged broadly in his writings through the statistical, economic, sociological and political technicalities of the problem. It has become clear that the weakest aspects of this writing are in these professional areas where only thorough training can help one avoid the pitfalls of inaccuracy and overgeneralization. To argue, for example, that the present rapid population growth is only temporary due to the slowing of decline in death rates is both misleading and fallacious in professional analysis.

The crucial feature of the current controversy, however, centers on policy decisions about population growth. The loudest, though not necessarily the most reasonable, policy urged upon the United States in its aid to "exploding" countries is family limitation. Since half of the more than 100,000,000 babies born this year will not have enough to eat, it is argued, the clear answer is to cut this number to more reasonable levels. India, for example, with a population increase of approximately 8,000,000 per year needs over two billion dollars of new capital annually to keep its living standard at its present somewhat low level. In a nation which is described as "resource poor" in certain minerals (iron, coal) and which has 75-80% illiteracy and a high proportion of unskilled workers, the prospects for economic improvement are dim indeed. The success of such "scientific" arguments for family limitation can be seen in the extensive birth control program now in operation in India, and especially in the policy of two of its states of paying 40 rupees to men who voluntarily submit to sterilization if they have had three children and lack means to support more. Closer to home we find that the same group of American population experts have persuaded the public health clinics in Puerto Rico, a predominantly Catholic land, to urge both contraception and sterilization. Where the culture is basically Catholic and yet literacy and training in the rules of the Church have not been vigorously implemented in the past, the arguments of such health advisers becomes persuasive, as attested by the statistic that over 19% of the women in Puerto Rico have been voluntarily sterilized. The great need is evident for Catholics to engage intelligently in policy-influencing argument about the whole of Latin America, the fastest growing area of the world. Despite the fact that a contraceptive program has never proven effective in an underdeveloped country, this is still being vigorously pushed. Such a program requires a certain literacy, technical intelligence and sympathy which are more often lacking in these countries, as the current ineffectiveness of the expensive program in India proves. Current opposition to America's direct contraceptive aid for such countries may be morally valid, but our current aid for other purposes permits these countries to reallocate millions in their own money to birth control. Japan in an intensive population control program has effected a fifty per cent decline in its birth rate in about ten years. This accomplishment, unique in modern times, has largely been accomplished by abortions, permitted for almost any economic or social reason. By a curious but indicative use of terms an American demographer calls this "nothing short of miraculous," about 1,400,000 abortions per year.

CONSTRUCTIVE OPPOSITION to endorsement of such policies must be based on rational argument. This, in turn, must be backed by such a depth of professional understanding that there is a compulsion for all to engage in the dialogue. As stated above, theological argument seems to be ineffective in America except as an appeal to the power of the vote by different religious groups. This, however, does not constitute a rational dialogue, for the simple taking of positions on an issue does not fulfill the democratic principle of intelligent citizen participation. We need to be able to understand all important sides, rather than first take a position, then attempt to rationalize it and anathematize the opposition.

Two broad levels of questions can be distinguished on the population explosion thesis. The first is fundamental and asks: what are the facts and scientific reasoning on population growth? It cannot be the pretense of this short essay to attempt a detailed answer to this question, but certain principles may be briefly proposed. Immediately it becomes clear that protagonists on both sides of the policy question have emphasized selected, supporting data and scientific studies and minimized embarrassing or contrary evidence. The favorite persuasion of pseudo-scientists is to project population trends 250, 500, or 1000 years into the future and thus obtain astronomical numbers, numbing numbers, to which the paralyzed mind presumably has no counter-argument. Yet it is a truism in all science that the more distant in time the event predicted, the less reliable the prediction. No responsible scientist would hazard any credence to projections beyond 50 or 100 years and even these have to be so guarded by stated assumptions that the 100 year projection becomes almost meaningless. Extremists in the controversy seldom suggest that it is necessary to project in a parallel way the figures on production, food consumption, etc., in order to give the population projections some real meaning. Yet man must plan for the future and for this he needs projections, or like the one-talent-man in the scriptural parable, life will catch up with him in an uncomfortable way. We cannot bury the population problem in a plethora of daydreams or by wishing it away, or by simply asserting that "God will provide." Many thousands, for example, are starving to death each day of the year in southeast Asia. They demand a solution and the golden webs of hope spun by communism are beginning to look better to them. Africa, both north and south of the Sahara, with so few in the labor force, is beginning to experience the pressure of population upon the means of subsistence. Latin America has more than doubled its population in the last thirty years and due to high fertility and lowering mortality will probably double again in about 25 years, thus far outstripping the countries north of the Rio Grande. In modern times this situation is unique and compelling of intellectual analysis. It may seem pure journalism to call this an "explosion," but there is little doubt that there has been a "sudden production of great pressure," an accepted definition of the term, explosion. The challenging feature of this deadly game of population numbers lies in the principle that total numbers in themselves are meaningless unless correlated with economic, political, sociological and biological data. Here is the rub. Scientists have not been able to agree on a formula which would include all these variables in defining over- or optimum population. There is agreement that the world is not overpopulated, but some nations are considered to be in this condition. Curiously, perhaps, we can say that none of these nations need to remain in this condition, no matter what measures thereof are taken. Using refined index numbers, the United Nations reports that world production of primary commodities (food, etc.) since 1938 has risen 32% (production of manufactured goods 69%), whereas population has risen only 24%. World exports of food, fuels and manufactured goods have also risen more than population. In the period

Donald N. Barrett, an assistant professor in the sociology department, joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1955. His particular interests are criminology and demography (the study of population). He has an A.B. from Georgetown University, a Ph. L. from St. Louis University, and an M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. Formerly on the faculty of LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Mr. Barrett is the author of several sociological papers, including the much-discussed Changing Catholic Population in the U.S. He is a member of the American and American Catholic Sociological Societies, the Society for Applied Anthropology, The American Population Assn., and Alpha Pi Omega fraternity.

1948-56 per capita product rose in India by 13%, in Japan by 55%, in Puerto Rico by 32%, in the United States by 22%. Latin America, Asia's eastern mainland and potentially Africa are the real sore spots. Nonetheless the conclusion appears clearly that the problem is basically one of distribution. How can two-thirds of the people of the world go from a status of poverty to reasonable levels without revolution and war. Other anomalies appear too, such as the current allegation that Puerto Rico is overpopulated, despite its slow population growth rate (0.8 in 1953-57 period), rising employment levels, hours worked, etc. Israel, however, is seldom considered in the same category, despite its high growth rate in population and its serious economic problems. Finally the "scare" writers emphasize the depletion of agricultural and mineral resources as a major present and future problem. Harrison Brown in The Challenge of Man's Future and many other scientists are by no means so pessimistic. The rising cost of iron and coal deposit exploitation creates pressure on man's ingenuity to develop such riches as aluminum, one of the world's most plentiful metals, and radio-active and solar power sources. It seems that if in the period 1850-1950 energy sources could change from 78.8% animal to 94% mineral fuels and water power, a similar change or an even faster one can occur in the next century. Thus many are more optimistic about man's creative potential in exploiting the riches of the earth than the pessimists would lead us to believe.

THE SECOND LEVEL of questions on the population explosion thesis may be summarized in the question: what policy best meets the problem? Two principles immediately suggest themselves: 1) since the problem is not completely defined scientifically or otherwise, a policy program cannot be developed with the certain conclusions and effects of a mathematical formula; 2) whatever program is decided upon, it must integrate the complexities of competing demands for attention. In much of the writing today it seems that simple solutions can be found in such policies as birth control or no birth control, in greater or less immigration or emigration, in more or less Mutual Security loans, in the growth of democratic governments. Such simple faiths need to be discouraged in favor of what President Eisenhower has called a manypronged integrated approach. One of the most powerful arguments by Catholics has been adduced by the recent statement of the American bishops on "population explosion", namely that contraception is based on a negative principle which is in direct opposition to the positive values of conception held by over two-thirds of the world. If contraception were the simple answer, then France should be the most economically and socially stable nation in the world. Actually France has regretted its negative policies under the Napoleonic codes. We have already emphasized the problem today as one of distribution among the nationalistic, face-saving countries. Further, it could have been foreseen that Belgium and Holland may have been conscious of the need for family limitation with their dense populations, but both found that a growing population is manageable when men concentrate on expanded trade and production, food development, etc. This faith and optimism in the cooperativeness and ingenuity-industry among men characterizes the greatest difference between the two sides of the population controversy. The scientific evidence is not compelling, despite its quantity favoring population restriction and paucity favoring other solutions. Most population analysts, it must be emphasized, wish intelligent discussion of the issues (see "An Inquiry concerning Some Ethical Principles Relating to Human Reproduction" by Lorimer, Bourgeois-Pichat and Kirk in Social Compass, vol. 4, numbers 5-6). No counter-charges against their "guess-timates" will resolve the issue.

At the present juncture of arguments concerning the contraceptive "pill", the sending of birth control aid to other nations and the cross-fire of charges and statistics, the constructive reaction can be found in the development of respectable research, such as the work of Zeegers in the International Catholic Institute for Social Ecclesiastical Research in Geneva and the work of deLeStapis in his recent La limitation des naissances. Importing specialists such as these will not generally aid the Non-Malthusian forces in America, for the simple reason that the professional environment of the controversy here is quite different and alienating to most Europeans. We have the universities, some scientists and many resources among Catholics in America to engage in intelligent argument, but when are we to do it?

REUNION RIME

Quite a few Jubileers have been torn, it appears,
From their golden companions a full 50 years.
So let's gather for fun in the summertime sun
June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

The BIGGEST AND BEST event in the last fifty years will occur on June 9, 10 and 11, 1961 — our Class Reunion. With the help of all the noble members of our group we can make this the largest and best Golden Reunion ever. Your humble secretary requests that you start right now corresponding with your buddies of fifty years ago and make a date with them for the occasion. It is our last and only chance to attend such an affair so make the best of it. I expect to meet you face to face June 9 next, so please be there and bring your classmates with you.

There'll be some sadness in our gathering. We might have looked forward to visiting with "Slats" O'Hara, the "professor" and classmate of our campus days, but CARDINAL O'HARA will be there in body and blessed memory. Who could imagine that the "drama" for which he gathered material would include 30 years of inspiring service to future students and a subsequent rise to the most exalted hierarchy of the Church? We can dedicate this gathering to "Father John" and visit His Eminence in Sacred Heart Church.

We have a large group still above the sod and with some effort and luck we should by far have the biggest golden jubilee reunion to date.

From the Alumni Office:

The passing of the Hon. J. ELMER PEAK last spring went unheralded in this column only because of the rush of other events. Judge Peak had been a South Bend institution since the early thirties when he first served on the bench. Long before that he had been a pillar of the Class. To his family go the sympathy and prayers of classmates who will miss his presence at the Golden Jubilee in 1962.

From the Alumni Office:

At the 43th reunion the Class was not aware that JAMES M. WARE had passed away the previous August, as close at Kewanna, Ind. It's sad to lose touch like that, and we hope it won't happen again. An Alumni Mass was said as soon as we learned of the death, for which classmates will wish to add their prayers.

From the Alumni Office:

From the rosters sent out over the summer it is apparent that there are sixty or seventy gents still in circulation who could make the 45th Reunion the biggest ever. It's also apparent that the Class of '16 is one of the most far-flung of all Notre Dame groups. If you have time to help organize attendance from your part of the country please write to GROVER MILLER at the address above and tell him whom you're going to bring next June 9. BILL BRADBURY and FATHER VINCE MOONEY were on hand twelve months early to check the terrain.

REUNION RIME

Well, gentlemen, here's to the classmates and peers

Who'll return from an absence of 40 full years.

From the '21-gun, a salute (that's a pun?)
To June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

From the Alumni Office:

Only a few months remain before the Class will be celebrating a 40th anniversary. Missing will be RAYMOND CONRAD and MICHAEL TIERNEY, whom God has called to a more important reunion; may God rest their souls. But more than a hundred men remain who could make the reunion a memorable one. Write to DAN DUFFY and tell him you'll be on hand.

FORT WAYNE — Henry Hasley holds the 1960 "Man of the Year" award presented to him by 1959 winner Joseph Colligan.

JOHN B. HENAUGHAN, Ph.B. For. Com., died at DeKalb, Ill., his home town, about July 1, according to belated word received from GEORGE A. PATTERSON, a classmate, this summer. Pat and Mrs. Pat were visiting friends in DeKalb and in that manner learned of John's decease. Pat reported that John left a widow but had no children.

Your secretarial sleuth slipped up on the big angle in the death of JAMES J. METCALFE, previously reported. The Alumni Office is authority for the fact that J.J.M. was a seminarian for a short time back in our school days and later as a newspaperman became famous for his "Poem Portraits" syndicated nationally in newspapers and published in several books. Frankly, I missed the connection, Metcalfe being legion, sorta.

MRS. GEORGE UHLMAYER died suddenly July 10 of a cerebral hemorrhage, according to word from George in Rock Island, Ill. She had been in good health, had accompanied her husband at the graduation of their son Dick, at N.D. in June, and had attended a picnic the day before her death. A married daughter, Jacqueline, also survives.

Globe-trotters of the Class of '23 this past spring and summer, include Mr. and Mrs. JOHN C. COCHRANE, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN CHAPLA, Mr. and Mrs. LAWRENCE STRABLE, Mr. and Mrs. WALTER F. RAUBER and possibly others, although these are all of the European travelers from whom I have heard.

The long loose ends of stray contacts between Classmates were gathered a little tighter in recent months through letters from or about DR. GERALD WILLIAMS BARRY, M.D., of Kansas City, Mo., E. B. "WHITEY" UNVERFERTH, Ottawa, Ohio attorney, and PLIN J. SWANSON, Brentwood, California, with whom GEORGE PATTERSON renewed mail contact through a mutual friend of his and Pete's.

This office, through the cooperation of class-mates, has secured N.D. Student Directories for the years 1919-1920 and 1922-1923. If I could now separate someone from their directories for the years 1920-1921 and 1921-1922, my valuable archives would be complete. Mrs. Marie Gould, widow of EDDIE GOULD, has filled me in with certain issues of the DOME, so that the '23 archives include the DOMES for 1920-1921-1922-1923-1924. In fact I have two copies of the 1921 issue, which I will trade for a copy of our own 1923 issue. Mrs. Gould's '23 copy went with her good wishes to WHITEY UNVERFERTH, who was looking for one.

It is August as I write this, but the election will be decided and some will say, "Maybe it won't be so bad having a Catholic for President after all" by the time you read this. I might as well wish all you '23ers a Very MERRY CHRISTMAS. You haven't read the news I sent in before the reunion. It is just one of those things the Alumni Office cannot help.

Just by coincidence on this August 24th I picked up a Chillicothe paper while waiting to see one of my furniture dealers. (Your "See" covers the state of Ohio in case you didn't know.) This was on the front page . . . "Hunsinger N.D. 'Mule' Dead." The article went on to say that ED HUNSINGER died at 5:30 P.M. on August 23rd in Philadelphia General Hospital after several hours illness. After playing end on that great team of '24, Ed was assistant coach at Fordham and he also coached at Villanova with Harry Stuhldreher and later at Niagara. During World War II he served in the Navy. In late years he was an engineer for a Philadelphia contracting firm. Ed never married.

I might say this was the first news I have had on Ed for 25 years as I don't believe he made any of our reunions.

I stayed over night in Chillicothe and called on his brother and sister. They had received a phone call during the night that Ed's death was sudden but he had the grace of the Last Rites of the Church. Our class is having the usual High Mass said and please add ED HUNSINGER to your list of classmates who have died and pray for him and them . . . often! I called HARRY STUHLREHER in Pittsburgh and he asked me to tell his sister that he would be at the funeral. I made some calls in Columbus so I am sure that Notre Dame was represented at his funeral. Word also came that JOHN G. FLEMING died in July. This was a letter from the Alumni office but there were no details. Just a letter addressed to Mrs. John Fleming, Sr., 3525 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas. I would like to express my sympathy to Mrs. Fleming and her family and that of the class in the loss of her husband.

There may be another tissue copy from the Alumni office awaiting me when I get in so I may have to add another so keep those MASS contributions coming to HANK WURZER, Treas., Blackhawk Hotels Inc., Davenport, Iowa.

Our reunion in June was a huge success. JAMES ELLIOT ARMSTRONG went all out as usual and our 35th was the best ever. We had a third of our class back and one of the nicest things happened at this reunion. I would say ANOTHER FIRST FOR '25. HOWARD SPENCER'S mother "gave" a lovely luncheon for the entire class in memory of Howard. It was held Saturday noon in the Lay Faculty dining room. The entire class signed a "thank you" note which was sent on to Mrs. Spencer. It's things like Harry's trip from Pittsburgh to Chillicothe and this luncheon that makes for "togetherness" of the class of '25.

I am sure there will be a list of the fellows who attended and I won't repeat the names again but it was wonderful talking to all our classmates again with plenty of "bull sessions" well into the night. Even after the affair I heard from so many fellows . . . to mention a few: JOHN BARTLEY, CHARLIE MOUCH, AL PORTA, FRANK McFADDEN and PAUL ROMWEBER sent a dandy picture of the two of us taken just before our class picture. The way those class pictures were ordered I am sure you all have a copy. Many thanks for your letters and you will get a note from me one of these days.

The boys came from all over the nation . . . JOE TOOLEN and STEVE CARBOY from Florida, JUDGE JOHN KILKENNY came from the far West as well as FATHER JOHN LYNCH, C.S.C., from California . . . some more "togetherness" on the part of GIL SCHAEFFER and JOHN TRAYNOR made that trip possible. WALTER CYR, FRANK McFADDEN, JOHN TRAYNOR, JUDGE LARRY CASEY, and JOHN BARTLEY represented the East. AL PORTA, BILL VOOR, CLARENCE HARDING, JOHN DROEGE and GEORGE ROHRBACK came all the way from South Bend too . . . and that is a feat it seems.

JUST IN CASE YOU MISSED THIS REUNION . . . don't wait for our 40th . . . let's make the football cocktail parties each year. The next one is Michigan State of October 15th. Don't say you didn't know . . . because it has been mentioned before.

Two more classmates whom I thought I mentioned in my last column have died. BION R. VOGEL of 6719 Vista St San Gabriel, California, died March 26 and FIRMAN D. FUSZ, M '25, died May 14th. Firm had been in touch with Frank McFadden and he had planned to be at the reunion but Our Lord had other plans . . . who knows maybe all those boys got together with Our Lady and really had a reunion . . . let's keep praying for the boys so there is no delay in that "last reunion."

From now on I will try to introduce a few letters in answer to the questionnaires. Here's one from JAMES W. WRAPPE: "I had planned to come to reunion and, in fact, had been looking forward to it for about three months. However, about 30 days ago, my godson, who is the son of my law partner, advised me that he was getting married on June 11th, and that I was a necessary adjunct to the wedding. I know that this reunion is going to be the greatest ever, despite the fact that so many of our friends are no longer with us, as is indicated by the Memorial Card. Every good wish for a wonderful reunion." Sorry you couldn't make it "Dubby" . . . try to make a game reunion. BROTHER HYACINTH, C.S.C., Brothers of the Holy Cross, St. Joseph Retreat House, Valatie, New York, writes that he is Director of Vocations for the Eastern Province and personnel procurement and Director of retreats for high school boys and week end retreats. "My family is getting larger every year—about 40 new members for the Congregation each year. We have a new Novitiate here in Valatie, for the Eastern Province, and the Superiors are very eager to keep it filled." "We have opened four new schools in the Eastern Province in recent years: two large high schools for boys, a home for retarded boys in the Archdiocese of New York, an English language high school (boarding) in Rome, Italy, and a teachers' college in Butiti, Uganda, Africa. This has caused quite a drain on our always-limited personnel, but giving me added incentive for effort."

Thanks Brother for that note and you can be sure your class is proud of the work you are doing. I saw a fine example of that splendid school in Rome in February. With such grand fellows as the headmaster Brother Loyola, and VINCENT McALOON of the class of '34 (who is the one man N.D. club of Rome), as an example of the teachers in that school . . . it is bound to be tops. RAY DURST, '26; CHRIS COCHRANE (who rates number two as a host to all Notre Dammers visiting Rome along with his charming wife) and myself, did our darndest to make Vince McAloon "THE INTERNATIONAL NOTRE DAME MAN OF THE YEAR." He really deserves the title. Well boys my carbon is wearing out and besides I have gone beyond the limit of words for a column so you will have to wait 'till later for more news about your classmates.

REUNION RIME

Twenty-sixers, three cheers for those gay cavaliers

We haven't laid eyes on for 35 years!

May we meet every one ere the set of the sun

On June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

We hope that by the time this issue of the ALUMNUS reaches you, we will have formulated some plans for our 35th reunion which will be held on June 9, 10, 11, 1961. JOHN RYAN, our Class President, is now setting up some committees to handle the details. We would like to have your opinions as to your likes and dislikes experienced in our previous reunions and suggestions for new things to try.

We have recently heard that James Stack, son of our DR. JAMES E. STACK, has been elected captain of the 1961 track team at Yale. I'm sure that our whole Class will feel proud and congratulate both you and your son on this fine honor.

Now retired from the U. S. Navy is CAPT. FRANCIS J. BON. He now lists his occupation as Attorney at Law-Business Counsel and his business address as Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Washington, D.C. The former was his home city while he was at Notre Dame. His secondary business is cattle and real estate. Captain Bon expects to attend our 35th reunion.

In June JOHN RYAN and I were going to lunch and bumped into RAY DURST, our past president on Michigan Avenue in Chicago. Ray was hurrying to a Notre Dame Foundation meeting. He is chairman of this organization in Chicago.

We were saddened to hear of the deaths of VINCENT D. (REX) O'MALLEY and VINCENT L. GOULET, our Class Treasurer. Both have been enrolled in the Holy Cross Mission Purgatorial Society. John Ryan has asked me to fill out Vince's unexpired term.

No doubt you have now received the fly-leaf on the 1961 reunion classes and our Class roster which was sent out by the Alumni Office in August. We noted some omissions and errors in the roster. We will send you the corrections in one of our mailings.

From the Alumni Office:

BOB CAREY, managing director of Chicago-land's Hawthorne racetrack and father of famed quarterback TOM CAREY, '37, was profiled recently by DAVE CONDON, '43, in the Chicago Trib's "Wake of the News" column, as an Irish football fanatic—when the track season closes.

Ellen Dooley, daughter of the late beloved BILL DOOLEY and his talented widow Kate, was married Sept. 4 to Franklin Cowperthwaite of Kents Hill, Me.

HAROLD KLEIN was promoted to senior vice-president of the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank, having been a v.p. since 1943. He's also a vice-president and director of Northwest Equity Corp., state chairman of the legislative council, American Bankers Assn., and a former Chamber of Commerce president.

Jim Stack, the new captain of the N.D. track team, comes by his speed of foot honestly, his father being JAMES K. STACK, M.D., a pretty good track man himself.

Except for the political conventions, the ferment in Cuba, the Congo and the Powers spy trial, this has been a quiet summer. One week was spent keeping in view a good deal of the time on television, the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. PAUL BUTLER, who retired after the convention. I am sure we all regret his departure. He certainly did serve as a link to politics on the National scale.

JACK DAILEY has spent the last two months touring Europe with his wife and son who has just been discharged from Army service. I suppose many other classmates have also gone to Europe at one time or another, but what makes this particular trip so newsworthy is the way Jack describes it. It has been my good fortune to read several letters sent to members of his family. He puts them out at regular intervals and has his law firm circulate them to various members of his family, somewhat like a news bulletin. These letters are remarkable for their detail. He not only recommends which hotel to stay at in any particular city, but recommends a particular room of the hotel from which to get the best view.

I ran into TOM DUNN the other day. He is now joining the roster of classmates to have a son at Notre Dame. Arthur will enter in September of this year.

When my own son returned from his freshman year in June, he brought a 1960 Dome with him. It has now taken its place with the Domes which were published when we were at school. The last one I have is 1927. There now seems to be a strange gap between that year and 1960. Whatever happened to the Domes of 1937, 1947 and 1957, and all the others? Somehow the current Dome seems to fit naturally next to those of more ancient date. When I compare the Annuals of the two periods, the truth is again borne out, that the characteristics of a school, or I suppose of the world, do not change, the faces only are different.

Our ranks have been thinned again since the last issue of the Alumnus. I received word recently of the deaths of SAM KEHOE, BSEE, and GLENN L. SMITH, BCS. Please remember them in your prayers.

News of the 1960 Class Reunion naturally direct our thoughts to our own Reunion, which will come, not in 1961, but the year after that. It is not too early to think about attending this one, which will be our 35th. Perhaps I do not need to say that as the years go by, each Reunion becomes more important than the one preceding it, so you had better begin to lay your plans.

VINCE WALSH telephoned the sad news of the death of the wife of BILL KIRWAN following a long illness. Bill has two children, a son with the armed forces in Germany and a daughter an air line hostess. Bill is in the furniture business in Iowa City, Iowa. I also extended the sympathy of the class to ED QUINN on the death of his mother, and to FATHER MARK FITZGERALD, C.S.C., on the death of his sister, a nun in Buffalo. We also regretted reading of the death of FATHER PATRICK HAGGERTY, C.S.C. Father "Pat" was a close friend of the class and always looked forward to joining us at our reunions. Please remember these relatives and friends of our classmates in your prayers.

FATHER JIM McSHANE, S.J., is now located in the Republic of Honduras where he is one of fifteen Jesuit missionaries. There are 400 children in the grade school, 300 in the high school, and about 40 in the prep seminary where he is located. Jim reports it is hot and dry, never below fifty degrees. Please drop Father Jim a note at Casa Cural, Progreso, Yoro, Republic of Honduras, C.A. I am sure Jim will continue the good work he has previously done in St. Louis and Denver, where he worked in colored and Mexican parishes.

One of the most interesting of chance meetings of '28 men reported in this column is that of GEORGE KELLY and "DUTCH" RIEDER in the dining room of the Hotel Europa at Rapallo, Italy. Dutch and his wife were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary July 10 when they recognized George and his wife at a nearby table. George reports that they spent the rest of the evening together. Dutch, who is managing the River Rouge power plant of Detroit Edison, was on his way to England to get their son who had been in England on an exchange high school fellowship. The Kellys, on a tour sponsored by The Youngstown Vindicator, had just come from Rome where they had the good fortune to take part in a semi private audience with Pope John XXIII. DICK GREENE of Muncie reported that he did not see any '28 men in Alaska where he visited this summer.

The Miami News for Sunday, July 3, 1960, devoted the cover and two additional pages of their "Florida Living" section to the GEORGE CORY family. The cover page pictured the two Cory daughters, age 10 and 13, in native Lebanese costumes. George and his lovely wife, Amelia, were pictured in their home in Miami. The story covered many phases of George's life, including his marriage, his progress from restaurant busboy to membership on the N.Y. Stock Exchange. The contribution he has made to Notre Dame and the work done for the people in Lebanon were described in the interesting human interest article.

GEORGE KELLY, Assistant Managing Editor of the Youngstown Vindicator, had an excellent article in the June 4, 1960 edition of America entitled "Catholics: In 1960 and Later." As the result of the current interest in this subject, news articles based on the article appeared in the New York Times and many papers throughout the country. Your Class Secretary had an article on "Our Manpower Future" published in the August 20, 1960 issue of the Ave Maria.

BILL ARMIN reports that JOHN BERSCHIED is working in the legal department of Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. Bill met John at their Universal Notre Dame Night in Birmingham, Alabama. Bill is a supervisory auditor with the U.S. Army Audit Agency there.

FRANK CREADON, Metropolitan Insurance consultant in Berwin, Illinois, reports that his son Pat contacted a number of '28 men in the South in connection with arranging for a Notre Dame

Glee Club trip, including FRANK J. QUINN, who is in the insurance business in Lexington, Kentucky; DR. SAM ROMANO of the Department of Surgery, Louisiana State University School of Medicine in New Orleans; and ANDY POWERS from Boynton Beach, Florida. JACK CANIZARO was active in arranging their concert in Jackson, Mississippi.

Your Class Secretary has seen a number of '28 men recently in New York. He had a good get-together at JOHN ANTUS' home in Manhasset, New York, this summer, which included BOB HAMILTON, BERNIE GARBER and BUD TOPPING, BOB HAMILTON, who is System Stores Manager of Pan American World Airways System, now a grandfather, has one daughter a nun and one daughter at home. BUD TOPPING, who is with Johns-Manville, has three sons. Bud's oldest son will be doing graduate work at Columbia University this year and another son is at Notre Dame. BERNIE GARBER, who is with Lyman T. Corbin Co., has five children. His oldest son will be entering Notre Dame this year. JOHN ANTUS practices law in New York City. He has three sons. The oldest is also entering Notre Dame this year. BUD TOPPING mentioned that he talked recently to DICK GREEN who is with Crouse-Hinds in Syracuse.

BILL CRONIN came in from Larchmont to have lunch this summer with BERNIE GARBER and your Class Secretary. Bill's son is a senior at Notre Dame this year. He has a married daughter and has two daughters at home. Bernie and I also had lunch with GEORGE CRONGEYER at the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company this summer just before George left for a vacation in Europe. I got together with DENNY DALY and his wife and two sons when they visited New York this summer. Denny, who practices law in St. Paul, Minnesota, and teaches law at Minnesota University, attended a course here in tax law, which is his specialty.

A very pleasant evening was spent at BERNIE GARBER's home in Bedford Hills, New York. LARRY CULLINEY and his wife from North Haven, Connecticut, joined us there. Larry has five children. His oldest son is entering Yale this year in a pre-medical course. Larry is an examiner in New England for Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., specializing on trust department examinations. Larry would like very much to know the whereabouts of SNUBBER (JOHN) MURPHY who was from Lowell, Mass. Please drop me a note if any of you have seen him.

FATHER MARK FITZGERALD, C.S.C., visited us after he had taught at Notre Dame for the summer and had served as chaplain on a Great Lakes cruise for a few weeks. I saw BILL JONES and BILL COYNE in Washington this summer. BILL JONES is busy practicing law there and BILL COYNE is in the legal department of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. BILL JONES has a daughter at Newton College and BILL COYNE'S son is in medical school at Maryland University.

JOE KANE is now with Bellevue Hospital in New York City. GEORGE CORY called me on his way to Canada. He mentioned that he enjoyed having JOHN FREDERICK and JIM CONMEY visit him in Miami. I had a good session with AL DUFFY who is in the legal department of the City of New York.

Our Class President, JIM ALLAN, reported that while attending the Notre Dame Commencement in June for his son's graduation he met the following '28 men with sons in the graduating class: FRANK CREADON, JOE HILGER, DICK PHELAN, ED MCKEOWN, DON CORBETT and CHARLIE CASH. DON CORBETT'S son was President of the senior class. JIM ALLAN also reported that HOWIE PHALIN was among those who attended the luncheon for President Eisenhower before the Commencement.

We are all looking forward to a great get-together at the '28 Class cocktail parties on October 15 following the Michigan State game at O'Shaughnessy Hall, and on October 22 following the Northwestern game at the home of our Class President, JIM ALLAN, 1423 Fargo Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. If you have not already done so, please drop JIM ALLAN or VINCENT CARNEY, Rochelle, Illinois, a note advising that you will attend either or both of these '28 affairs. I hope to see you all at both get-togethers.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary LOU BUCKLEY, as a leading economic scholar and East Coast boss of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, was the top-billed speaker at the 43rd annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce in October. JIM SHOCKNESSY, Ohio Turnpike chairman, has logged 57 million vehicles over 4½ billion miles of highway in his toll road's five-year history. GEORGE KELLEY sent in a moving editorial from his Youngstown Vindicator on the late loved CARDINAL O'HARA, '11, to whom this issue is dedicated.

If we had a survey similar to the Religious Survey of FATHER O'HARA with an invitation to comment on our recently deceased friend and beloved Cardinal, it would yield a flood of comments from the '29ers similar to those we have recently overheard:

"He was the campus personality about whom there was no disagreement, the 'pope' was tops."

"As a freshman, I met Father O'Hara in mid-September as did perhaps 600 others. I visited with him for about five minutes. A week later we met in Sorin Hall corridor. He called me by name and asked me how things were back in Hillsboro (my home town)."

"He had the rare gift of finding time to visit with you, to make you feel that your whims had priority over the profusion of urgent correspondence on his desk."

"Just a few months ago in a note to Cardinal O'Hara, I mentioned the date of my mother's 86th birthday and her place of residence in Missouri. A letter from him was the highlight of her birthday."

"We often worked late in the basement of Science Hall. It was a usual occurrence to have the then President O'Hara stop by. His devotion to Our Lady's University was matched by his interest in her sons."

"Those days, shared with Father O'Hara at the lake and with Rockne at Cartier Field and with both of them (and the rest) on the cinder paths of the campus . . . were the greatest."

It's a small world, — last spring FATHER LOUIS THORNTON received a wire from Convair Astronautics, San Diego, stating that they had a summer position open in the Trajectory Measurements and Radiation Central Group. Your secretary applied for and accepted the position. With wife Margaret and son Larry, age 16, now a junior at St. Joseph's High School, he drove to California for the summer.

Barely inside the entrance at Astro is DICK DONOGHUE, '30, in the purchasing department. Dick, the daddy of three fine sons, does considerable traveling in expediting parts for the Atlas.

Also at Convair is EMMET McCABE, former president of the S.A.C. and a co-administer of the grid graph and related projects. Others with Emmett were TOMMY RYAN, BILL KRIEG, and MANNY VEZIE. Emmett lived off-campus and, besides his extra-curricular activities, found time to work at Smith's Cafeteria and to do some paper correcting. He recalls his accounting classes with BROTHER "CYP" particularly his seat mate of those two years, SID SIDENFADEN. He still has many interests, one of which is working with Father Thornton in the placement of recent graduates. LARRY MOORE stopped by for a visit some months ago. Emmett and Mrs. McCabe have a daughter, Kathleen, 3, and a son, Patrick Emmett, age one.

While in San Diego, your secretary had the pleasure of a visit with JOHN SULLIVAN, '48, and Mrs. Sullivan and with JERRY BILL, '29, and wife Mary. The Bill's have three sons and a daughter. Tony will be a junior and John a freshman at Notre Dame this fall. Robert, age 14, will inherit the sailing chores of his older brothers and will qualify eminently, partly because of shipping to Peru, South America this summer.

JACK McCLAREN is another active '29er in San Diego. He represents Le Tourneau Westinghouse. The McClarens have two grandchildren, Julie and Charley, children of daughter Kay (North). Their son, Thomas is 20, and daughter Melissa and Martha are 8 and 6 respectively. Jack is recovering from an acute siege of pneumonia. He recalls a pleasant visit with Father O'Hara and others on the campus back in '33 while visiting at Notre Dame on his honeymoon. He had maintained a correspondence with the Cardinal.

Plans for a get-together of '29ers and their friends are being formalized at this writing. A site convenient to the stadium after the Michigan State game is much in demand, but we will probably have gathered in the Science Bldg.

MICHAEL J. O'KEEFE'S new address is Westwood Supper Club, State Road 2, St. Mary's Ohio. We couldn't imagine one with more promise to a hungry classmate.

JOHN GILTINSON'S new Chicago address is 601 West Diversey Parkway, while DON PERRY ALEXANDER now receives his mail at 14 East Espanola, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

THOMAS McNICHOLAS now resides at 2319 Cherry Wood Lane, Orlando, Florida.

The Class of 1929 extends sincere sympathy to JAMES T. GALLAGHER and family. Their son Timothy died August 17.

From the Alumni Office:

HAROLD MARSHALL was elected vice-president of the national division, American Bankers Assn., at the 86th annual convention in New York in September.

JOE LENIHAN recently became assistant vice-president of New York's Fromm & Sichel, Inc., wine distributors for the Christian Brothers.

LARRY COTTER has formed a new architectural firm, L. P. Cotter & Associates, 3329 Glenmore Av., Cincinnati, with JIM GALLAGHER, '42, as a partner.

At this writing the Michigan gubernatorial campaign is ancient history, but defeated Democratic candidate EDWARD D. CONNOR has campaigned long and hard, according to a profile in the Detroit Free Press which said in part: "The ruddy, energetic man has a slight accent when he expounds on the problems of our state government. It's an accent he picked up as a barefoot, raggy-pants Irish kid in Gary, Ind., where he played with the offspring of tough, plain-speaking steelworkers. . . . Councilman Connor has 25 years experience in government. . . . He's up at 5 a.m. every morning to greet workers entering plants. . . . Connor's voice is beginning to crack from his 20-hour-a-day campaigning. But he loves to campaign. He loves it because he has a great sense of humor. . . . He's one of the fastest readers around . . . he can read an average-sized book in 50 minutes . . . and he has a photographic mind. Once he's seen something whether it's loaded with complicated figures or not, he seldom forgets it. This trait has his campaign helpers half crazy. They think he's not interested in what they have prepared. But the fact is that with one glance he has it well in mind." Son MIKE CONNOR, '60, made up to 10 speeches a day for his father, while Ed, Jr., and daughter Patricia put in long hours at headquarters.

REUNION RIME

What '31 seers can predict without fears
There'll be chances to gather for 30 more years?

If you haven't begun to make plans, get it done

For June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

As I sit myself down to type a few notes to the men of 1931 it dawns on me that this time next year we will have had our THIRTY YEAR REUNION behind us. Little did we think that the beautiful campus we knew in 1927 would be the magnificent one it is today. For those of you who have not returned to a reunion or to other campus events, next June will be an excellent opportunity and perhaps the last time many of us can get together for a weekend.

I was out of town when our local club golf outing was held at Elmhurst Country Club and upon my return learned that a few of my trusty scouts missed it also so I am unable to report on those present this year. The Alderman NICK BOHLING golf day was held August 31st at Ceneagles C. C. I am sure Nick had a scattering of N.D. men among the hundreds who attend his affair every year. It was quite a surprise the morning of June 16th watching the Dave Garro-way program "TODAY" to see DR. ROBERT L. JACKSON, '30, in a conference telecast in connection with the 109th A.M.A. meeting held in Miami, Fla. I saw GIL SEAMAN and RAY COLLINS in July upon the occasion of the wedding of Ray's daughter Patricia. JERRY DESMOND'S wife was present but Jerry was unable to get away that weekend. I saw FRANK HOLAND and RED O'CONNELL recently and can report that both are doing very well for themselves. JOE KIRBY returned from Wichita, Kansas and is now at 315 James Avenue, Rockford, Illinois, which is not far from his old home town of Waukegan. JACK SCHMITT has forsaken city life and is now living in Park Ridge, Illinois. GEORGE MANGAN, formerly of Elgin, Illinois, is now living in Birmingham, Alabama. MIKE TEDERS, the Indiana flash, has been in Pittsburgh for some time. Mike, I wish you would work on the nucleus of 1931 men in that area and bring them all back next June. CLIFF FISHER, who has been in Kansas City, Mo., for the past few years is now in the Chicago area and living in Morton Grove, Ill. I had a letter from FREDDIE SWINT, who is now living at 4604 Toddington Drive, Nashville, Tenn. Fred has had a siege of illness the past year or so but is now on his feet and doing well again. Fred is in the accounting business and has two children to keep him on his toes. He plans on making the reunion in 1961. I had a wonderful letter from Marie and JIM McQUAID dated June 5th which was their 23rd wedding anniversary. Their Magazine Rack location was torn down because of new highways so they are operating the Old Post Bookstore in the Student Union Building at Vincennes University. Marie is taking a refresher course to go back to teaching and Jim hopes that with his teaching experience he can serve in guidance and limited coaching again. Both are planning on making the 1961 REUNION. They mention receiving subscriptions from ART McMANMON and LEO KLETZLY. Leo has a son in the seminary in Rome. Another of their faithful visitors is JACK ELDER, who always stops on his way through Vincennes. Another Reunion supporter is JIM MULVANEY, who said he had a letter from JOHN BURNS which indicated that he and TED TOOMEY would lead the New York contingent to the campus next June.

By now you should have received your pre-reunion mailing list sent out by the Alumni Office to all the Reunion classes. I will get together with a group in Chicago to select various regional committee members who will be asked to help in making this one of our best reunions. I am sure there is enough life in all of you to make this a memorable event.

From the Alumni Office:

JIM DOYLE was robbed of the announcements by an early deadline, but the reunion-bound can celebrate new distinctions for the Class of '31. The consecration of His Excellency the Most Reverend ALFRED F. MENDEZ, C.S.C., as Notre Dame's newest bishop, first shepherd of the new Puerto Rican Diocese of Arecibo took place Oct. 28 with Cardinal Spellman officiating and a host of American hierarchy in attendance on the campus. Sympathy to FRANK LEAHY on his recent illness; his appearance at the champion '30-'31 football squad reunion, evoking the departed Rockne glory, was the high point of the Michigan State Game Oct. 15. Congratulations to WILLIAM CHAWGO, business manager of the Aurora (Ill.) Beacon-News, on his being named a trustee of St. Procopius College.

From the Alumni Office:

RAY GEIGER, Farmer's Almanac and indefatigable secretary of the University's Maine Club, has been N.D.-conscious as ever, scheduling concerts of the student musical organizations in the pine tree country, recruiting local scholars, etc. Ray recently added famed Irish footballer ADAM WALSH, '25, to the sales organization of his advertising specialties firm.

The Class' famous Wilson boys have had a lot of local reunions on the road. Fathers JEROME WILSON (the University's business vice-president) and JOHN WILSON (N.D. Foundation chief) were all over the country last spring, as the Universal Notre Dame Night reports testify. If they haven't been in your locality yet they probably will be during the course of the library campaign.

REUNION RIME

As our Jubilee nears, some silver appears
In our hair to remind us that 25 years
Their gamut have run. Let's be second to none
On June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

Your secretary is writing this column before the September ALUMNUS has been distributed so there has been no playback to me from that issue. A number of us, however, have started to work on and talk about the most important reunion of our lives next June. Early in July, JIM SHERRY, ART CRONIN, HAL STINE and I spent a wonderful evening at GEORGE WOLF's home discussing the "old days" and trying to scheme up ways and means to influence all of you to attend our 25th next year. President Sherry is appointing a local committee in the South Bend area and also will ask some classmates to stir up interest in their regions. As soon as these are all lined up, we'll get out a special mailing to acquaint you with the plans. Already you have received from the Alumni Office the "kick off" announcement and a class roster. Get busy now to make sure your roommates, neighbors, friends and possibly foes from our class are gathered at Notre Dame June 9, 10 and 11.

Continuing our reports on the survey we ran last fall, here are some additional new news items from far and wide. BILL FLANNERY is an attorney with DeWitt, Nast & Diskin in New York. Bill is the father of three children but suffered the great tragedy of the death of his wife in 1956. Bill's law specialty is in libel, copyright and trademark, and he serves as a counselor to magazine publishers and newspapers. He expects to attend our 25th. JOE FOX is in Rochester, New York, where he is a financial administrator for the Ritter Company, manufacturers of dental and medical equipment. Joe has two children and expects to play a lot of golf during our next reunion.

BOB McCABE is chairman of the English Department of King's College in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, which is a school operated by the Holy Cross Fathers. Bob is the father of twin sons and states that he was one of the pioneer faculty members of this relatively new college. In commenting on our request for suggestions for improving class spirit, Bob writes as follows: "Hard to say—we are depression boys—war boys—maybe the reunion will be the spark needed—distance and time wreck havoc with old ties—but it is still Notre Dame for me."

PETE NEMETH is a lawyer in South Bend where his son is at Notre Dame, one daughter at St. Mary's Academy and two daughters at home. Pete has been kind enough to offer his assistance in any way that would be helpful in connection with the local arrangements and plans for the 25th reunion. FRED McNEILL is an architect and vice president of the Cunliff Company in St. Louis, Missouri. Fred has two daughters. He said he spent about three weeks in Mexico last summer where he saw quite a lot of ENRIQUE CREEL who is practicing architecture in Mexico City.

PAT MALLOY is in the general practice of law specializing in trial work in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Pat has three sons and a daughter. He suggests that we mail a questionnaire like the previous one once a year and also suggests that we put some additional questions with it. Thanks for the ideas, Pat. DICK SNOOKS is president of the Citizens Loan & Savings Company in St. Joseph, Missouri. Dick has four children, one of whom is at Notre Dame. JUSTIN O'TOOLE is also a banker, being vice president of the Standard State Bank in Chicago. Justin has three daughters and contends that three days of reunion activities ought to be more than enough.

JIM PAGLIASOTTI is an office furniture salesman for the Healey Company in Fresno, California. He has four daughters and sees no prospects for helping Kuharich's recruiting problems in the future. Jim is the only respondent to the survey who wants to do a lot of bowling during our reunion. He says that years ago he wrote several letters to a previous class secretary and never got them published. He, therefore, decided that they didn't want news from the western Indian country. He says that a boy by the name of Lamonica, a new quarterback from his part of the country, should make history at Notre Dame. Well, Jim, this will prove to you that we will try to publish letters even though we may be a little late.

MATT THERNES is head football coach and athletic director at the South Dade High School in Homestead, Florida. He has four children and expects to attend our reunion. TOM REARDON is general manager of Dakota Iron, a farm implement distributor in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Tom writes as follows: "Congratulations on the efforts of you and JIM SHERRY in sending out the enclosed questionnaire. It is a difficult job, I know, upon which you are embarked. Nonetheless, I question whether there are any of us that received the ALUMNUS but what regret the lack of contact as we read the column from the Class of '36. If there is anything on an individual basis that you two guys see I can be helpful upon, I would be more than delighted to lend a hand." Thanks, Tom, for the nice comments. I am sure that Jim Sherry will especially appreciate any help you can give on making sure your friends and yourself attend the reunion.

This is about all the space I am afraid the editor will let us have this time but you'll be hearing from us again with a special class letter; in fact, this letter may reach you even before this column is printed. Although the survey results, I am sure, are interesting, we would still like to publish letters or other news items of more current interest when any of you get the ambition to drop me a line.

From the Alumni Office:

The expected activity of RAY HERRLY on the local reunion committee must be curtailed slightly. Ray, manager of U.S. Rubber's Ball-Band plant since 1954, has been transferred to an important new post in charge of mechanical development in nine company units, including Ball-Band, involving manufacture of plastics for missile development. But veterans JERRY VOGEL and MORRIE COOPER hope to rally many more locals to help line up the most enjoyable Silver Anniversary week end ever.

Leisure time during the summer vacation didn't move too many men of '37 to write to the secretary.

We finally smoked out some news from VINCE McCOLLA, Director of Trainings, Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, Pa. Vince has been very active since leaving N.D., having completed graduate work at Scranton U. while teaching and coaching there, and also at Bucknell U., military service in the Pacific to Japan and ending up with a rank of captain. He also served with the Air Defense Command during the Korean Campaign. His family besides the missus consists of two sons and he now resides in Camp Hill, Pa. He is also a veteran speaker of the banquet circuit and has one of the most interesting brochures to submit to you lads who are on the entertainment committee of your clubs. Vince has been coast to coast and border to border, and can speak on all subjects save parlor rugby. He would like to hear from his old roommate, JACK BAKER of New Orleans (formerly N.Y.C.), and two New Englanders, BILL MULRENNAN and DICK SCANNELL.

The press relations man of Socony Mobil in New York, JACK GILLESPIE, came thru with some chairborne news. After travelling about 100 days each year and 35,000 miles for Socony, Jack now works with the other cliff dwellers at 150 East 42nd Street. His company rents 40% of this building on our gas money which he corrected me to know that the taxes are the main issue in the price of gas.

After many happy years in Jersey, then Western Springs, Ill., he now resides in New Canaan, Fairfield County (this means something), Conn., and fights the woes of the New Haven RR each day. Jack finally had to give up on his baseball career, but manages his tennis game. He has crossed paths with roommate, FRANK LESSELYONG, sales manager of Tonka Toys (Christmas is coming), and GEORGE CECALA, a transplant from Salt Lake City to Greenwich, Conn. George writes commercial and documentary scripts for industrial films.

FRANK REILLY was touring thru N.J. this summer and called the secretary. He hadn't run across any of the fellows lately. Believe Frank was showing his family the places where he used to camp here in Sussex County and also our famous Ginger Bread Castle. (Ginger Bread existed long before Disney and Freedland).

The asst. director of the Foundation, JOHN "ZEKE" CACKLEY has been in contact with some of the lads and forwards the news that Drum Major LOU ALAMAN stopped in at the office to say hello. Letters to his office from FATHER JOE ENGLISH, MMJ, that he expects to get back to the states from Chile, tour a bit and take in some games in the fall. Fr. Joe is an excellent correspondent. Cackley also reports on JACK PUTNAM, Lt. Col. Army Reserve, commanding a basic combat training battalion, Syracuse, N.Y. and he is also chief social worker in the Veterans Administration Syracuse Regional office. The Colonel and Mary Gertrude are proud parents of 7 (4 boys and 3 girls). Dist. V.P. AL SCHWARTZ reports on a visit to Kansas City, seeing ED REARDON and all the little redheads, and they agree along with a lot of us, that WIL KIRK is now a fully transplanted and full blown Texan. Eddie was convinced after talking to WIL in Dallas one day. Al is real proud of his No. 1 son who entered N.D. this fall on a Navy ROTC Scholarship, and also representing the third generation of Schwartz' at N.D. Probably brought his own radiators along. . . . Al also sent a picture of this fellow Lesselyong, working hard at a Tonka Toy convention in Miami. The Secretary can report the arrival of Margaret Catherine to the Quinn household to associate herself with 3 boys. The family is now complete. (Famous last words).

JERRY BESANCENEY, from Newark, Ohio, and Material Analyst for North American Aviation sent the Secretary a fine letter covering his last visit to school at reunion time, saw "IKE" among the crowds there. Jerry is all set for '62 after having seen what the Class of '35 came up with for a real time. He ran into VIG CARTON the old mail man from Dillon Hall, then had a talk with FATHER GLUECKERT, and PAUL GUARMERIE and finally had to settle with Cackley at the Foundation Office. Jerry has one son attending Augusta Military Academy in Virginia and wants to follow a military career after checking on his father's activities in the U.S. Navy. Jerry has promised to show up in '62 driving his auto bearing Ohio license ND-37, which has been his special number since '33. Another long lost name appears in the column this time from the Newport Festival Fiasco, at which well-to-do, misunderstood youths are trampled on by the local gendarmes, namely, DAN LEO SULLIVAN, director of training at the Newport Naval Base, and also officer-in-charge of the Naval Reserve Officers School at Newport. He refers to the latter group as "an organization of broken down Reserve Officers of WWII and Korea who once a week attempt to gather enough points for retirement." This type of description of my Supply Corps JG Rank at 175 pounds I object to. Good fast Navy men like NIENABER and JORDAN are also in this classification. Sully sums up the Jazz Festival of July 4th as a possible half million dollar law suit against the city. Many thanks for your report Sully, and I can report that Toots Shor sold the joint after we paid for most of the furnishings. That was tough duty at Pier 92.

The final report comes from one of my better correspondents, EDDIE HOYT. Ed now lives in East Paterson, N.J., a very active member of the Board of Education, a teacher evenings at City College of New York; and during the daylight hours he manages to make a living with U.S. Rubber Company. His brother was very close to Cardinal O'Hara and made the trip to Rome with his Excellency. Ed and his family planned to attend the services in Phila. (Class of '37 should all remember Cardinal O'Hara in their prayers.) During the summer months Ed kept busy running tours up and down the east coast for a large travel agency in N.Y.C.

Finally, my friends, we have a job to do for the 25th. I will be writing for more news, so please cooperate by sending back the information. One other thing, don't give me the line of "as I sit here drinking my martini or Scotch, I thought of you" stuff; I am running out of aspirin. . . .

From the Alumni Office:

ROBERT L. WALDECK, general manager of Overseas Operations, Ltd., Los Angeles, Calif., is one of the members of the first U.S. Trade Mission to East Africa on a six-week tour of cities in Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika from October through December.

You might remember the 1957 ALUMNUS story on WILLIAM J. O'SULLIVAN, JR., head of the space-vehicle group of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Langley Laboratory, Hampton, Va. Bill designed the highly successful Echo I communications balloon satellite which makes possible the transmission of electronic signals around the globe.

That big splash you heard July 23rd wasn't the Polaris missile, just NELSON VOGEL and DON FISHER hitting the breakers of Lake Michigan at CHARLEY DUKE's Long Beach home near Michigan City, where the South Bend class of '38 enjoyed their annual summer picnic this year. Duke moved up here last spring from New Orleans to become resident airport consultant at Chicago's O'Hare Field. In simple words, Charley's job is to keep peace among 16 airlines while they spend $120 million in an expansion program. Roaming Charley's three story lakeside cottage and rompin' on the beach were BILL GIBBONS, CHARLEY BOROWSKI, JAKE BURKE, DON HICKEY, MARCELLUS BALL, CLAYTON JODON, LOUIS ANDERSON, JIM LAHEY, CHUCK SWEENEY, STAN WHITE and ED CRONIN—all properly chaperoned by their wives. Unhappily absent was your class secretary who, with wife Helene and seven of the little Bauers, was on a trip to the Black Hills where eldest son Pat was employed as a guide in Bethlehem Cave. On the way we had lunch with SCOTT REARDON in Sioux Falls, S. Dak. and coming back visited with TOM BOHEN in St. Paul. Scott, as fit and peppery as when he was our Junior year class president, is in business with his father in the Dakota Iron Store, when not campaigning for Nixon whom he knew when he was in the FBI. However he does have a lovely wife, a spacious new home, a well-mannered son and a charming daughter to console him when the returns are in this November. Tom is also interested in the campaign but on the other side of the ticket, when he's not teaching at St. Thomas College. At least one of them will be happy when this is all over.

Speaking of splashing, CHARLIE WELSH, a suburban Philadelphian, toured the campus in mid-

August with his son, who was especially interested in Rockne Memorial Pool since he is on his high school swimming team. Charlie, a chemist, was given the VIP treatment by CHARLIE CALLAHAN who just returned with wife and son from a trip to Boston to visit his folks.

Speaking of politics, the voice of BILL "T-BONE" MAHONEY came thru loud and clear at the Democratic National Convention when he voted Arizona's delegation for Kennedy. Bill, a member of the Alumni Board, headed the Arizona Kennedy-for-President organization.

Speaking of Presidents, the class of thirty-eight has a few. TOM FITZGERALD is now President and General Manager of the Mallory Capacitor Company of Indianapolis where he lives with his wife and two boys age 7 and 8. Tom joined Caterpillar Tractor after graduation, then Allison Division of GMC and later Stewart-Warner Corporation interrupted by three years in the Navy you know when. Up in Kalamazoo GEORGE LAURE is President of the W-L Molding Company which he organized himself in 1945 after being with the Upjohn Company as chemical engineer for a number of years. George started his career after graduation in high spirits, joining Seagrams Distillery as chemical engineer in Lawrenceburg, Indiana and Louisville, Kentucky. Before going to Upjohns he served a term on the liquor tasting committee—which should qualify him for a chairmanship of some kind at our 25th reunion. George's business now extends throughout North and South America and he just recently opened a new branch plant in Meridian, Mississippi. George also has his own flying company, Lakala Aviation Inc., and is a licensed pilot himself. George and his wife have three children: Jim, 15; Barbara, 18, a freshman this year at Michigan State; and Shirley, 21, who is getting married this September.

Belated but happy congratulations to JOHN J. GORMAN, who deserted bachelorhood last December when he married the widow of JAMES P. CLEARY, class of 1940, the former Kathleen Rogers of Greenwich, Conn. and Trinity College, Washington, D.C. "We have 4 children. Two each from 15 to 2. A new life and a wonderful one!" says John, who is a manufacturer's representative and President of his own company too, The John J. Gorman Co. in the Fisher Building, Detroit. John's home address is 75 S. Deeplands, Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

So far only two thirty-eighters have reported sons entering Notre Dame this year. They are TOM WUKOVITS and BOB WITCOTTON. Tom Cavanaugh's son will be a Junior at N.D. this fall.

Maybe there's a recession but you wouldn't know it by the number of new homes that '38-ers are moving into. The following moved into the gold coast of their respective communities: JACK LEADBETTER to 801 W. College, Marquette, Michigan; BUNNY MCCORMICK to 1859 6th St., Livermore, Calif.; HARRY FOX to 11 West 60th St., New York; WALT HARRIS to 277 Harrison Ave., Jersey City 4; JOHN JUDGE WALSH to Beechwood Road, Norwalk, Conn.; CHUCK OSBORN to 7315 51st N.E., Seattle 15; CHUCK BEASLEY (who still has my half of the economics book we shared, which may account for his great success) to 705 W. Saddle River Rd., Hohokus, N.J.; and JOE LeBLANC to 8215 Dover, Houston 17, Texas. Father JOE RACE's new address is 1900 W. Bolivar Ave., Milwaukee 21.

OSCAR RYDELL's address has switched from Rangoon, Burma, to American Embassy, APO 271, New York, which means he may still be in Burma. And CLYDE MEES address has changed from Los Angeles to 10401 Limerick Ave., Chatsworth, Calif., which means he may still be in L.A. Write, you two, and set us straight! Father VINCENT DELAVY, C.S.C. came back from East Pakistan to San Jose Parish, Austin, Texas, which means that during last summer's hot spell he probably couldn't tell the difference.

Maybe if I am real patient and live long enough I may hear from all who call themselves graduates of '39 from Notre Dame. Slowly I hear from one or two, but as you can well appreciate if you don't send in the questionnaire (of which there were three) I can't make up the news. Please try to sit down today and drop me a card or a note so that your name will appear in the next issue of the ALUMNUS.

DALLAS — New officers were installed at last spring's U.N.D. Night dinner: (standing, l. to r.) Jack Schroeter, '44, outgoing president; John Tolle, '55, secretary; Vic Clesi, '58, 2nd vice-president; John Brogan, '49, president; Father Hesburgh, principal speaker; Richard La Joie, '42, treasurer; and (foreground) Marty O'Connor, '51, 1st vice-president.

WALTER J. SHORT is the Vice-President and Secretary of the Allegheny Airlines in Washington, D.C. Walt lives there with his wife Martha, and sons Charles W., 16; Robert A., 14; and a daughter, Debra Ann, 5. He sees quite often his classmates PAUL TULLY, PHIL MALONEY, VAL DEALE, PAT GORMAN and WALT JOHNSON. Walt would like to hear from PAUL RICE, BILL BRAUN, TOM MAHER (I read in the paper that Tom is with Ford Motor Company here in Dearborn, Michigan—I called him and we have a lunch date coming up). Walt tells me that his old roommate ART DAVIS is a college professor in New York where he lives with his wife and three or four children—How about a note direct, Art? Walt sees DICK O'MELIA, who is with the Civil Aeronautics Board; PAUL MORRISON who is with the F.B.I.; TOM ZIEGLER, who lives in Derry, Pennsylvania. Thanks, Walt, for the nice long letter; it was very pleasant hearing from you; if we should ever get to Washington I will contact you before we leave so we can have a drink or two together.

I know that we all learned not to volunteer when we were in service but "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their class."

I wrote to several men asking them to become Vice-Presidents of our class in different areas of our country. Thanks to the following men: GREG RICE in River Edge, New Jersey; JOHN B. CELLA II out in Fresno, California; JOE RYAN (who called me—Thank you, Joe) of Buffalo, N.Y.; and PAUL RICE of Chicago. We have the beginnings of our organization but I need help from other areas than those listed above—I am still waiting for a response from DICK O'MELIA, AL KIEFER, BILL HERRICK, FRED SIMON, JOE BENOIR and LARRY DOYLE.

PAUL RICE (remember "Good Old Paul" Walt?) writes to say he is living at 104 Woodbine Ave., Wilmette, Illinois, with his wife and 5 children. Paul is president of his own company, The Rice Petroleum Company. He would like to hear from WALT SHORT and WALT COTTON.

G. R. CAMPBELL, M.D., tells us that by the time we go to press he will have completed three years of not very lucrative residency and now has returned to 1607 Third Street in Beaver, Pennsylvania, where he will live with his wife and 6 children. Beginning September 1st, he will start practice as a physician (dermatologist). May we wish him the greatest of success. G. R. would like to hear from ED LONGHI, FRANK KELLY, and CHARLES RILEY.

JAMES A. YOUNG wants us to know that he is "First, Last and Always A Texan"; he comes from Houston, is still in Houston, and furthermore he likes Houston. Jim is in his father's insurance agency at 902 Chronicle Building (Where?) Houston 2, (Naturally) Texas. He lives in Houston with his wife and 5 children. Jim would like to hear from MARIO TONELLI; it so happens that we have heard from Mario: his address is Building and Zoning Bureau, County of Cook, 130 N. Wells Street, Chicago 6, Illinois. Mario is Violation Supervisor. He lives with his wife Mary and daughter Nancy. Mario would also like to hear from BILL HOFER, ED LONGHI, (Ed, why not write a note to your old friends), JAMES YOUNG and DR. HAMBLEY.

My thanks to FRANCIS "BUD" VALLEZ for sending in his questionnaire. Bud is sales manager for the Multi-Color Corporation in Detroit. He and his wife Virginia have adopted a girl, Jeanne Marie, who was three years old August 1. Bud is an ardent Civil War student, and would appreciate hearing from anyone who is interested in the same. He would also like to hear from VINCE KIERMAN, JOHN CLEMIENS, JOHN DAVIS, JOHN DOYLE, BILL LONG, JOHN PLANALP and TOM SENGON. Bud has three sisters who are graduates of Michigan State University and takes quite a thumping when N.D. is bested at football. Our best wishes to M.J. "Jim" Gorman, Jr. who says "We'll have a Notre Dame Club of Caracas this year as he is to be the only member." Jim is employed at Grand Advertising, S.A., as an Advertising Executive. He must have many interesting experiences to relate.

"Shorty" (WM. J. EBERHARDT) wants us to know that he has recently moved into a new home at 176 Stone Quarry Rd., Monaca, Pennsylvania with his wife Goldie and 2 daughters. He has his own real estate and insurance business, would like to hear from ALPHONSE URIBE who is living in Manizales, Columbia, South America, and from GEORGE MULLIGAN of Brooklyn, New York.

"Congratulations" to WILLIAM HERRICK who tells us that he has TEN "little Herricks." No. 10, whom they named Roch, was born a few months early and had a trying time, is now progressing fine. Bill owns and operates a supermarket and locker plant at Steelton, New Martinsville, West Virginia.

Hoping to hear from many more of you in the near future—Remember only four more years until our 25th.

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM J. METRAILER has been appointed an engineering associate at the Esso Research Laboratories in Baton Rouge, La. Formerly with the technical department of the Arkansas Ordnance Plant, Little Rock, Ark., Bill is a specialist in high octane fuels with many U.S. patents to his credit plus, with wife Anna Jane, five children: Billy, 16; Bob, 15; Betty, 11; twins Jane and Ann, 10. . . . T. PETER ZACHEK of South Bend, formerly sales promotion director of South Bend Tackle Co. and advertising manager of Associates Investment Co., has become a midwest account executive for Jim Moran Associates, New York and Hollywood public relations firm, handling p.r. for Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Please note the change of address for all correspondence to the class secretary.

The twentieth reunion of the class of 1940 was a very fine success. If you were unable to attend, your classmates missed you and hope that the time schedule will work out for everyone in 1965. We had about 125 men on hand and an excellent job of preparations by class president JIM DONOGHUE and his So. Bend Committee of DICK BURKE, JIM DELAHANTY, DON HOSINSKI and DICK STEFFANIAK, added much to the University program. We had the Rockne Memorial for our Friday night buffet and Saturday cocktail hour. A memorial Mass was celebrated Saturday morning by our own FATHER PAUL HACKMAN and was attended well enough to completely fill Morrissey Chapel. FATHER JOHN CAVANAGH gave a short talk after this Mass. The food was choice and the beverages plentiful. The class is considerably better organized than we have been in the post war era and the next one will be even better. As usual the various geographical locations were well represented: DICK LYNG, GEORGE MEEKER, REX ELLIS, and VIN RYAN were in from California. Dick and his family have been in the seed business for many years and lately he has been quite successful in the insurance business. Next time you are in Modesto, stop in on him. Vin, unfortunately, was taken ill on Saturday with some internal trouble and spent the remainder of the week-end in a So. Bend hospital. Rex is a practicing attorney out in that area. From Texas we had JOE SAITTA, WALT FLEMING, GEORGIE BECKER. You might be interested in knowing that Fleming now has two sons at N.D. A freshman and a sophomore. The Jersey clan was well represented by PINDAR, JOHN KELLY, JOE MCKEON, TOM FORD, ED HART and an old "skeeter" AL CALLAN, long since transplanted to the Pacific Northwest, Seattle. Al was on our floor in Alumni and I often wondered where he had wandered. He has been in Seattle since the war, married a nurse from the area and they have nine children which must be near tops for our class. Al is an attorney and drove back to Chicago with me after the reunion. He missed seeing his old hurdling crony, DAVE REIDY. Dave is now located in Washington, D.C. Several of the monogrammers, ZONTINI, KELLEHER, CRANE, HESTER and KELLY were on hand early for the Monogram meetings.

Saw a couple of fencers SMALLEY, SAYIA, GAVAN and GERRY DONOVAN sticking each other with tales of yesterday. BUD KOTTE and AL KESSING were in from Florida and ED BADDOUR from the near south. The up-state New Yorkers JIM SULLIVAN and KEVIN O'GORMAN, wondering where CHUCK MCCARTHY was. Had a long talk with PAUL HELLMUTH who, in addition to being a member of one of Boston's well known law firms, has of late been very closely associated with DR. TOM DOOLEY, an N.D. man who has been establishing medical teams in So. East Asia. This program is now taking on global aspects and Paul is assisting Dr. Dooley in the management of the whole program. Paul was made a trustee of the University this past June. The Chicago contingent was in evidence with TOM BRENNAN, LISTON, HENEBRY, HUSSEY and BERNIE MASTERSON. Tom had a little sickness last year but is back in shape. Liston is now president of Bergner & Co., a department store chain based in Peoria. The usual N.Y. crew was on hand, DOWD, JIM KELLY, CUMMINGS, MARTIN, SEXTON, CELLA; JIM ROGERS, who has been missing (spent some time with the Bureau in New Orleans recently); TUCKER (who has a son getting ready for N.D. . . . he hopes), OBERHOFER (now registering from Washington, D.C.), BILL O'BRIEN, and BUD O'DONNELL. And of course, the inseparable were on hand: BIG MCCARTHY and HUSHEK, SAEGERT and the incomparable GILLILAND.

Incidentally, I have a blurb from GERRY SAEGERT announcing a get-together of '40 men at the Pittsburgh game Nov. 5. Cocktails and possibly dinner after the game. South Bend was well represented by the above-named committee, as well as BUD TEAH and BOB FROST, transplanted from Hicksville, Long Island. The service sent JOHN MCINTYRE from the navy and DOUG BANGERT from the marines. On the way out I stopped in Cleveland on business and spent some time with BILL COLEMAN and his family. Bill was at the reunion on Saturday as his wife was expecting momentarily. This about recaps the 20th from memory. Please bear with the column if your name wasn't mentioned; it's difficult to get 125 names in one issue.

Above are represented two phases left behind in the career of John Gelston Smith, '49. Following 17 combat missions in Europe as a W.W. II pilot (inset), John was an honor student in Commerce and Law, a record-breaking hurdler, track captain and assistant coach. He joined the Chicago law firm of Lord, Bissell & Brook in 1950 and became a partner in 1958, having served as assistant Illinois attorney general in Springfield 1954-57. John, wife Jo Ann and family live in suburban Lake Bluff, Ill.

New twists to old get-togethers: BANGERT buzzed in the newest Marine jet equipment; MEEKER and MIZE MORRIS flew their own private planes in from Missouri and California and PATERNO streaked in from Jersey in a bright red convertible MG sportscar. Times are changing; only 20 years ago he was glad to ride in a Model A Ford that ROGERS, STAPLETON and I bought for $35.00 in South Bend. This is truly progress. Had a couple of interesting letters from DICK AMES and your old horn man, MIKE MANDJACK which I will save for the next session. We will resume with the questionnaire and I will try to concentrate on those fellows who were not at the reunion. Hate to close a reunion column with a sad note but the mortality table grinds on: just prior to the reunion GEORGE SHEA from Brooklyn passed away. I know you will remember him in your prayer.

COL. DOUG BANGERT, mentioned above in the reunion reporting, recently assumed command of Marine Aircraft Group 32 at the "Jet Stream" Station, Beaufort, S.C. The D.F.C. and Air Medal winner and wife Dorothy live in Laurel Bay, S.C., with children Betty Jane, 16, Doug, Jr., 14, and Patty Ann, 8.

REUNION RIME

A memory rears that both blesses and scars: Pearl Harbor's behind us by 20 long years. Come on, '41, let's get all the yarns spun June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One.

From the Alumni Office:

For help with national promotion and local operations of a gala Twentieth Anniversary Reunion, JIM SPELLMAN, the other officers and the local committee should be able to enlist the services of several classmates with a special pipeline to the Alumni Office and national alumni operations. Minnesota's BILL COTTER is immediate past president of the worldwide N.D. Alumni Assn. FATHER TOM O'DONNELL, associate director of the N.D. Foundation for years, is now alumni liaison officer. JOHN MACCAULEY and AL PERRINE represent the Foundation in eastern population centers. They'll have to combine the reunion and the library drive.

MILT PIEPUL, backfield coach at Brown U., Providence, R.I., can testify to that school's fondness for N.D. men. Having hired JACK ZILLY as end coach, Brown would probably be only too happy to take on JOE KUCHARICH and HUGHIE DEVORE after the next shakeup.

We have a nice letter from GEORGE CROWLEY who now lives at 22, Rose Walk, Purley, Surrey, England. He writes as follows: "After leaving school, as you no doubt know, I joined the General Electric Company and started work in Bridgeport, Connecticut, and transferred from there to Asheboro, North Carolina. Just last year I moved to England with my wife, Virginia, and our four daughters. I have set up a new English Company here for the General Electric under the name 'Monogram Electric Limited.' The reason for the different name is in order to eliminate confusion at market level with General Electric Company of England. The G.E.C. started in business several years before the General Electric Company was incorporated in the United States—therefore, for the time being, we are operating under a different name for our appliance business. The only classmate I have seen so far is TOM KENNEDY, who came to England several months ago on business."

We also hear from BOB DE MOSS, 645 N. Tampa Ave., Orlando, Florida who writes the following:

"If any of the N.D. boys are ever in Orlando, the welcome mat is out."

From CHET LAMPERT, 58 Warsaw Street, Rochester 21, New York, we hear the following: "In February, 1959, after a brief illness, my father died. In the same year I have been hospitalized because of a neuro-muscular ailment. (V.A. Hospital, Buffalo, N.Y.) I have made considerable progress, but I still have a disability. One result is I cannot get around much anymore. Presently, I'm housebound. However, in the past—during World War II—I was quite active. I have been with the U.S. Army Air Force, San Antonio, Texas. Later I was accepted into the Army Specialized Training Program, German-Area Section and trained at Bard College, Barrytown, New York. Thereafter I served with the European Civil Affairs Division in England, France and Germany. I was wounded in Normandy on July 31, 1944. Getting back to the present, I keep busy with a number of projects, which includes some writing; however, it's all on a limited basis. I am single. My mother and sister are still living. I live with them."

From ROBERT M. MILLETT, 501 Englewood Road, Middlesboro, Kentucky, comes the following: "After graduating from N.D. in December '42, I spent four years in the Navy (amphibious force, New Guinea and Philippines). Then studied law for four years at the University of San Francisco. During this same four year period, I was bailiff of the Supreme Court of California, serving under Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson. Then I worked for seven years for the Millett Hardwood Lumber Company at Middlesboro, Kentucky. The last two years, I have been employed as a walnut log buyer for the Chester B. Stem Veneer Co., of New Albany, Ind. I have three children: George, 15; Adrienne, 11; and Harold, 2. My wife was from San Francisco, California, Barbara Jeanne Ununger, a graduate of San Francisco College for Women, a school of the Religious of the Sacred Heart."

From JOHN J. GAVIN, 2612 Amherst, Wichita Falls, Texas, we hear the following: "It was a pleasure to hear from you and to know that you are still the long-suffering secretary of our illustrious group. It was also anything but a pleasure to be reminded that almost all of our friends from Notre Dame have not been seen for eighteen years. I moved to Wichita Falls, Texas, in 1949 in order to be associated in the ready-mix concrete business with my Freshman Hall roommate, TOM FOLEY. In the intervening years, Tom has become the leading citizen of this city of over 100,000 souls. We had a wonderful time building up a good business and raising our families. On March 31st of this year we sold out to a group from Dallas and I purchased a general insurance agency in order to be in business with my younger brother, Bob, who has just moved here from Indianapolis. We have high hopes for the future and we are enjoying our new association immensely. This is a wonderful place in which to live—the people are truly some of the finest that can be found. One of our few complaints is the scarcity of N.D. men. Besides Tom and me, the only ones I can think of here are JOE SAITTA, who has just announced the formation of a company to manufacture sporting goods, particularly the new football shoe that Joe has developed; LOUIS BROWN, who is superintendent of the large American Petrofina refinery. If there are others they are keeping quiet about it. As for family, the Gavins now have five children ranging in age from fifteen to six. The Foleys also have five, ranging from thirteen to six.

"It is either a sign of advancing age or a truly sedentary existence that I seem to have covered any items that may be of interest to our friends of 1942. We would enjoy hearing from some of them, if only to let us know that we are still remembered."

From the Alumni Office:

L. J. MASTERSON has transferred to U.S. Gypsum Chicago sales from a position with U.S.G.'s Lakeland Division.

DR. JOSEPH R. FELDMEIER, who took his Ph.D. with the Class, is now associate director of research for Philco Corp., searching for new scientific frontiers. Formerly with Westinghouse, St. Thomas College, Rutgers and M.I.T., he lives in Blue Bell, Pa., with Mrs. F. and five children.

From the Alumni Office:

RALPH VINCIGUERRA has joined Electric Auto-lite Co. as manager of national account sales after 14 years in sales and merchandising with Goodyear. Married, with a son, Ralph will live in Toledo.

DONALD A. POTTER, general manager of the Stewart-Warner Corp. electronics division since January of last year, has just been elected a vice-president of the corporation.

Golfer GENE FEHLIG of St. Louis became district amateur golf champ in July with the backing of his large family (brothers, sisters, wife and five children), which sportscribes likened to the Kennedy clan. Gene has won several tournaments in Missouri and Montana.

As the deadline date of August 25th rolls around, and this column is written, Class President JOHN LYNCH reports the 15-year survey is on the press and should be ready for distribution to each class member early this fall. We had the privilege of examining the final proofs and John has done a magnificent job, correlating the many statistical facts and data that appeared in the responses to the questionnaire. Nearly 50% of our class membership participated, and the results, therefore, represent a fairly accurate sampling of the class. I feel certain our survey will rank high with several others done by earlier N.D. classes and will serve as a valuable guide for some of the later classes. The results, which in many departments proved quite startling, I shall leave for your study and evaluation when the survey reaches you. On behalf of the class, a large vote of thanks to Lynch for a tremendous job!

CHICAGO — This year's Testimonial Dinner for retiring officers and board members at the Chicago Athletic association honored President Philip J. Faccenda, '51; Honorary President Raymond P. Drymalski, '29; Governors William S. Allen, '21; George L. Connor, '48; Edwin A. Gausselin, '33; Robert J. Geiman, '56; Daniel Hardin, '53; John F. Morley, '35; Frank J. Murnane, '49; and Robert K. Wilmouth, '50.

Faithful correspondent and midwest vice-presy JOHN ("BLACK JOHN") MURPHY, reports from Terre Haute a recent visit from RED JOHN MURPHY and spouse, Siel. Happy to learn that Red John is looking so well and at "fighting weight." The JIM KANES were also to have made the trip in from Chicago, but cancelled out due to babysitter failure. "Black John" reports that PAUL MARIETTA, a fellow townsman of his, has been elected president of the Notre Dame Club of Terre Haute, and that ERNIE "E BRACH" SEDLMYER, Danville, Illinois, was expecting his 4th heir.

Via Murphy we also have news of TOM O'REILLY and the crowd in Fort Wayne. BUTCH DEHNER, DICK DORMER, ROY GRIMMER, ARTIE HOFFMAN, JIM KEEFER, DONNELLY McDONALD, JACK WATERS and AL YOUNG-HAUS are all well and prosperous. O'Reilly recently opened a new office supply store in Fort Wayne that is the last word. He and his wife visit with OMER STURN and family a couple of times a year. Omer is general manager of the Jasper (Ind.) Table Company. Another office supply man Tom hears from is JOHN PRINCE in Jackson, Michigan. Last year while in Florida the O'Reillys visited MIKE ZOROVICH and enjoyed a ride in Mike's new 250 Piper Comanche, making an aerial inspection of Mike's cement company operations along the Gold Coast. Also on the Florida trip he reports seeing BEN BRUNETTI, who is still single, living in Fort Lauderdale and working in Miami. O'Reilly notes that some of the Commerce Forum boys will remember GAIL FITCH, '43. Gail is now living in Fort Wayne and a king-pin with the large Sears store in town.

"Black John" asks we report that the 8 mm. color movies he took of our 15th reunion (on a 200-ft. reel) are available for local showings. Anyone interested, write John Murphy at 2600 Crawford Street, Terre Haute, Indiana.

The sympathy of the class is expressed to

VERE TRINKLEY, who recently lost his father; ED CASHMAN, whose father also passed away in recent months; and HARRY YEATES, whose mother died this past summer.

Yeates has recently been transferred to the New York Office of Reuben H. Donnelly Corporation, where he is busy editing trade papers for the magazine publishing division of the Company.

We just learned that JOHN TUCKEY was promoted to Assistant Professor in the English Department of Purdue University. John received his M.A. and Ph.D. in English at N.D. between '47 and '53. Summer before last he and the family were out in Berkeley, California, where John did literary research in the Mark Twain papers.

JOHN LYNCH passes along news that JOE "ALGERNON" FLYNN, who starred in the Cashman-Lynch-Woelfle campus production of "Let's Get Going" (the original musical comedy produced in our senior year, has been appearing on the George Gobel show. We happened to catch Joe on the L.A. end of the recent TV Emmy Awards production. Joe is moving along fast as a bright, new comedian, and we understand he will be appearing in a regular weekly situation-comedy TV series this fall.

BILL WALDRON, our eastern vice-presy, advises that ANGELO BERTELLI and FRANK TRIPUCKA are now in partnership operating a package store in Bloomfield, N.J. Bill, with his lovely wife, Anna, and family, are spending the summer at the Jersey shore and had a recent visit with FRANK GARABALDI, who is also in our local area for the summer months. MYLES KELLY and Bill cross business deals occasionally. Kelly is selling roofing material to roofing contractors and Bill & co. build buildings under the roofs. Also, a report on the CASEY brothers. Dan is now at 26 N. Summit Avenue, Chatham, N.J. and brother Bob is living in Lyndhurst, N.J. And a final note from Waldron informs us JACK WHITLEY is Exec. V.P. for W. R. Grace & Co., concerned primarily with international operations. We understand Jack and his wife are enjoying the summer in Bermuda.

From Columbus, Ohio, we hear that GUIDO ALEXANDER and his brother, who operate the Desert Inn Restaurant, recently enlarged the establishment to include two large dining rooms, 3 public bars, 7 private dining rooms, swimming pool and patio; and their next venture will be in the motel line. A cordial invitation is extended to all '44ers passing through Columbus to drop in at the Desert Inn for refreshments on Guido.

It's at 3540 East Broad Street. Incidentally, the Columbus club held the last Universal N.D. night at Alexander's place. Guido asks that the person who took the pictures of the group of "Mafia" at our last reunion send along a print to him.

BOB BURNS of the Law Class of '49 (of which your secretary was a member) recently completed a voluminous survey of that class. Included were a number who were 'Hers as undergraduates. TED CUMMINGS is practicing in Seattle, Wash., and recently had visits with BOB LONDERGAN, who is assistant counsel for John Hancock in Boston and has been admitted to practice in Ohio, Indiana and Massachusetts, and NIBS TRIMBORN who is with Beacon's Moving and Storage Company in Chicago. . . . VICTOR A. DeSIMON is in private practice in Rochester and confidential clerk to Supreme Court Justice Daniel J. O'Mara. Vic has 7 children (5 daughters and 2 sons) . . . JOE DILLON is with Great Lakes Distributing Corporation, "V-P" in charge of sales and secretary of the corporation, which deals in wholesale lumber and building material in northern Indiana, etc. He is a director of the National Building Materials Distributors Assn. and a director of the Upson Company in Lockport, N.Y. . . . BOB McAULIFFE is a partner in the law firm of Smith and Sovik in Syracuse, N.Y., and with his wife, who is a physician, has done considerable work with the Family Life Bureau in pre-natal instructions. He just finished a term as President with the Fidelity and Casualty Co. at their home office in NYC and is living in Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y. . . . RICHARD R. Your secretary's desk is again cleared and ready to receive news for the next column. Won't you oblige, please?

Last May I received a phone call from BOB SCHRAMM who is now general manager of corporate and long range planning in the development section of Southern Nitrogen in N.Y. Bob was in the throes of last minute details for the N.D. Club of N.Y. Annual Sports Nite program, of which he was chairman. He reports that RAY SMITH is with a concern in N.Y. as director of purchasing for construction materials. Bob meets JOHN McCABE (Hastings-on-Hudson) at Steering Committee meetings of the N.Y. Our 15th Reunion is now history. All attending had a very enjoyable weekend renewing old acquaintances, seeking out and touring the new buildings and revisiting the Grotto, the Rock, Washington Hall, the Main Building and Sacred Heart Church. Too bad more of our class didn't make this pleasurable weekend. Let's plan now to be on deck for our 20th. Tremendous credit is due our retired Class Secretary, AL LESMIEZ and the local committee headed by BILL KLEM, assisted by DON CLAEYS, VINCE LAURITA and BOB RIORDAN for the grand job that was done in preparing for the 15th.

Officers elected for the next five years were: JIM RETTER, President; ART EDWARDS, Vice President—East; MIKE GARRY, Vice President—West; JOHN CARON, Vice President—Midwest; JOE HAGGAR, Vice President—South; JIM DONNELLY, Treasurer; and FRANK LINEHAN, Secretary. All have pledged their full support for five successful years.

NEWS BITS

BOB CRONIN sent his regrets that he couldn't make the reunion, he was awaiting the arrival of their fourth child, Nancy Suzanne, July 6th, their first girl—congratulations. . . . A few of the '45ers participated in the golf outing of the N.D. Club of Chicago: FRANK CULHANE, MARK CRONIN, JOHN LAVERY and JOHN CARON. From the reports the talking was better than the playing—none taking home a prize. . . .

DR. BILL MURRAY returned to his native Troy, New York, to open his practice. He graduated from Albany Medical College, interned at Grace Hospital, Detroit, Michigan, served three years as Captain in the Air Force, and completed surgical residencies at Kings County Hospital Center, Brooklyn and at Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases, New York City. Best of luck, Bill. . . .

HARRY WALTERS and his wife, Ann, spent an enjoyable weekend with us in the Berkshires. While stopping at Great Barrington, Mass., he ran into BILL "JUDGE" GRANFIELD, '46, and relived days at Sorin Hall. Bill, by the way, has a race horse and is training it for the Boston tracks.

Thought you would be interested in knowing more about our new officers. Our new president, JIM RETTER, is District Sales Manager for Union Carbide Chemical Company at Boston, Mass. Prior to his Boston assignment he was at Albany, New York, Detroit, Cleveland and New York City, all with Union Carbide. While in Cleveland, he did graduate work at John Carroll U. Recently, he served as Chairman for the Chemical Progress Week, in Boston. Jim is an active member of American Chemical Society, Society of Plastic Engineers, American Association of Textile Colorists and Chemists, and other professional societies in the Boston area. Also finds time to serve as Secretary of St. Bartholomew Holy Name Society. Married Florence McCarthy of New York City and they have five children, three boys and two girls.

"TEXAS JOE" HAGGAR, our Vice President—South, is Secretary-Treasurer of the Haggar Company of Dallas. Joe is a very active alumnus and businessman, past president of the N.D. Club of Dallas, trustee of Dallas N.D. Scholarship Fund, member of the Board of Directors of Texas Bank and Trust, past chairman of the Advisory Committee of St. Paul's School of Nursing. Recipient of "Manufacturer of Year" award in 1956 in Dallas. Joe is also active in Community Chest and other charitable drives in Dallas. He is active in Cub Scout leadership work. Joe has three children.

KEEP 'EM COMING . . .

The questionnaires we sent out in the summer have been cascading back at a surprisingly good rate: as of deadline date, Sept. 1, we had about 100 already.

Consensus about the questions asked will be the subject for a later newsletter, but it can be reported that 40 of our classmates have indicated they'll definitely be here for the 1962 reunion and 30 others have said "Maybe."

So, even this early, the 15-year get-together shapes up as our best yet and you are importuned to begin right now arranging your June, 1962, schedule so you'll be on campus for a wonderful time.

— GLEANINGS —

Sifting through the questionnaires, some of which were signed and a few of which bore additional memoranda, we learned that MIKE YARBENET is a CPA in Erie, Pa.; that FATHER DAVID SCHEIDER is teaching at Notre Dame High School in Batavia, N.Y.; that DON HAINES is a Lieutenant-Commander aboard the USS Renville, and that THURMAN L. COSS is Chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Religion at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn., and is the father of four children.

From JACK GALLOWAY in Albany, N.Y.: "I should have written many moons ago, but guess I needed this as a reminder. We were visiting FRANK KOWALSKI, '46, in Connecticut a short time ago; he has a little girl. We have four—three boys, one female.

"I see RAY PEETS occasionally; he's now a local stock broker and formerly an assistant warden at Sing-Sing. I read where WALT KENNEDY, '34, is Mayor of Stamford, Conn.; he's been around the circuit a few times since leaving the publicity office.

"BOB FITZPATRICK and EUGENE LUTZ were in Albany for a wedding not too long ago. They didn't graduate until '48 or '49 but used to hang around with Kowalski and myself. I have tickets for the N.D.-Navy game and plan to attend with the Kowalskis. BENNIE DUCLOS married my sister-in-law and lives in Watertown, N.Y.

"Have you heard from MOOSE MATTHEWS or BOB MULCAHY?" (Note: Indeed I have, about which more a few paragraphs later.) Thanks for the newsy missive, Jack.

PHIL DELINCKE writes: "Sorry I have been so negligent in my correspondence, but you might say I'm working days, nights, and weekends, too. My days are devoted to improving waste water and air pollution abatement practices for the Atlantic Refining Co. My nights are devoted to improving my technical background for increased value to Atlantic and myself through job security. And my weekends are devoted to improving the financial picture through magazine sales.

"Truly I would like nothing better than to attend our 15-year reunion but cannot. Perhaps we can swing it a few years later. . . . I often daydream myself back to those happy days under the Dome.

"Both Dot, my wife, and our daughter Sharon are well and looking forward to a four-day holiday at a Boardwalk hotel in Atlantic City this November. This will be our first completely independent vacation since polio. Previously, help was required to lift up steps or transport my hospital bed. At Haddon Hall neither are necessary. Will let you know how we make out."

Please do, Phil, and keep up the wonderful work.

TETE-A-TETES

During a trip East late this spring, we enjoyed long visits with MOOSE MATTHEWS and BOB MULCAHY, formerly the scourges of 335 Alumni Hall.

The former, New Jersey's youngest assemblyman, is also called by the Newark press the state's most eligible bachelor. You'll be reading about him in the SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS feature soon, but it suffices to say Elmer is doing well in politics, skips a 28-foot cruiser, and hasn't lost that boyish sense of humor.

No bachelor, Mulcahy: He lives with his wife, Doris, and their four children (three to one, favor of the boys) not far from Jones Beach; his law practice is in Mineola, and so rabid an outdoor chef is he that he has been observed bundled up in the dead of winter charcoaling supper for his brood waiting patiently and warmly inside.

Both intend to be here for the reunion, by the way, and this will be Bob's maiden return.

Just the night before deadline, JOHN REGAN, '43, stopped in for a long chat; he graduated with us, but his roots are in MR. WIGGINS' cabbage patch. Still in service, he is currently winding up his quest of a Master's degree at North Carolina, and expects to be assigned to Washington next summer.

He inquired specifically about JACK HUFF, but the old "silent-as-in-swimming" kid apparently cannot find a way to arch his news items over the Rockies.

Three N.D. grads received the habit as Holy Cross novices in August ceremonies at Sacred Heart Novitiate, Jordan, Minn. They are (l. to r.): Willoughby Marshall, '47, Apalachicola, Fla.; Robert Schoeneman, '59, Hawarden, Ia.; and Jerry Florant, '60, Michigan City, Ind. After a year they will pronounce first vows and continue their studies at Moreau Seminary on the campus, as has Don McNeill, '58 (not shown), Winnetka, Ill.

PERSONALS

JIM MURPHY, our academic tub-thumper extraordinaire, was named recently to the board of directors of the Indiana College Public Relations Assn.

Always a good news source, Jim passes along word that:

ED SWEENEY is with an insurance underwriting firm in Sealord, N.Y., and that he and his wife Charlotte were expecting No. 6 offspring in September.

Barbara and JIM KELLY have returned from Denmark, where Jim has been in the American Embassy, and are awaiting reassignment.

DAVE KORTY, manager of a branch bank in Lafayette, Ind., was a visitor on the campus late in July.

Another banker, DON McDONALD, and Murphy reminisced a bit in Fort Wayne during the summer; Don, executive vice president of a bank, is also a state representative, head of the urban renewal program in Fort Wayne, and mastermind of a recent hospital fund campaign which roared over the top.

A note from the Alumni Office reveals DR. JOE FINNEY is with the State Mental Health Dept. in Honolulu.

NEW ADDRESSES . . .

are obtainable but for the asking on BOB McKay, DAVE SWANSON, FATHER JOHN PATRICK DOLAN, C.S.C., FATHER WALTER O. BOZEK, RUSS STECHSCHULTE, PAT SMID, JOHN McCABE, BOB KOSLINSKI, KEVIN CARLEY, GERRY BARTA, BOB WELCH, JIM MCGURK, MARTIN KILSDONK, DICK DEEB, FATHER JOE CANNON, C.S.C., RED ALLMAN, BOB KELLY, DR. ED POLITOSKE, BILL CLARK, PAUL DEHMER, ALVIN FEUER, JOHN FORD, TED HAVELY, HENRY SMITH KEEL, VINCE LIERMAN, DON MANDICH, and BOB PALLADINO.

THIRTY-THREE YEARS . . .

. . . it has taken me to realize I am in the wrong profession!

I should have been a dentist, it develops, since it's like pulling teeth to get news out of you guys. Even with the questionnaires you returned, only a few bothered to jot a few pertinent data at the bottom or on the back.

If you haven't yet returned the questionnaire, please do so instant. And do everyone, yourself included, a favor by bringing us up-to-date on your activities, legal and extralegal. You may withhold the illegal didoes, of course.

From the Alumni Office:

In September ROBERT E. FLANNERY was named Milwaukee district manager for Formica Corp., the laminated plastics subsidiary of American Cyanamid Co. With Formica in his native Chicago since 1934, Bob can now be reached at 316 E. Spring Drive, Milwaukee.

Corinne and JERRY HEKKER have moved to 453 East 14th St., Apt. 10-C, New York 9, N.Y., apparently more convenient quarters for a family. That's right, the Hecker's first bambino, red-headed (of course) Gerard A. (for Abbazia), arrived Sept. 10, weighing in at 6 lbs., 4 oz.

LOUIS F. TWARDZIK has resigned as recreation consultant for the Tennessee Division State Parks to join Michigan State as an associate professor in park management. A 10-year veteran of state park service, Lou will also act as park and recreation consultant in Michigan. He's co-founder and president of the Tennessee Recreation Society, state liaison with a national commission, founder-editor of Tennessee's "Parks and Recreation Newsletter," associate editor of the American Recreation Society Bulletin, etc., and was a civic whirlwind in Donelson, Tenn. His brother Ted is a sporting goods manufacturer in their native Shenandoah, Pa.

Business briefs: accolades to JOHN B. McKEON, elected vice-president of Henri, Hurst & McDonald, Inc., Chicago ad agency for which he has headed the marketing and research department since coming from Booz, Allen and Hamilton two years ago (John'll combine these duties with service on the agency's planning board); also to John's wife in Wilmette and the two little McKeons; to PATRICK R. CONDON, who has joined Norma-Hoffman Bearings Corporation to handle the St. Louis-Southern Illinois territory, having been a purchaser for Caterpillar Tractor; and to Mrs. C. and their five children in Joliet, Ill.

Congratulations also to Chicago station WGN's Cub-caster JACK QUINLAN, who is reported to have named his new son Patrick Daniel Quinlan (call letters: PDQ); Jack's play-by-play reporting of the 1960 World's Series was universally admired.

Adding to the international reputation of the Class of '48 is lawyer DAVID SKORY, who opened his office in September as American legal consultant on Middle East and North African affairs. If you're interested in Arab oil, desert real estate, harem girls, etc.—or if you want to join the Foreign Legion—see Dave at Via Parigi 11, Rome, Italy.

The man who did the most to establish the international tradition, DR. TOM DOOLEY, was also recently in Rome (see Rocc Club report and picture in this issue). Tom is keeping up his hospital operations in Southeast Asia in spite of political upheavals in Laos and Viet Nam. His meeting with President Eisenhower at N.D. and a N.Y. testimonial by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge brought amazing results; the N.Y. Times reported a rumor (not denied by White House press aide Anne Wheaton) that Ike had solicited 100 friends for 100 contributions of $100 apiece to Medico. After a month of speeches and book autographing, he returned to Laos via Hong Kong—where he reported his cancer not cured but arrested—and Kuala Lumpur, where the Malayan government accepted his offer of medical personnel and supplies.

Had a pleasant surprise recently in the form of an unexpected but welcome phone call from our class presy, KERWIN FULTON. Ker was in town briefly for a wedding (not his) and briefed me on his recent activities. After completing Law School at Columbia, Ker took Horace Greeley's advice and found himself in Denver. He barely had his bags unpacked when Uncle Sam beckoned, but he is now re-settled in the Mile High City and is a member of the Colorado Bar, specializing in tax cases. Kerwin is still a bachelor, but indications are that he is "eligible." He also passed on the news that AL DE CRANE has his Law Degree from Georgetown, and is with Texaco's legal department in Houston, Texas.

News from elsewhere around the nation: AL and GERRY ELLSWORTH are both with Arthur Anderson & Co. in Chicago. Both are married. Gerry with 3 children, Al with 1. JIM GEAREN is living in Oak Park, Illinois, and is a field engineer with U.S. Electrical Motors. Jim is another of our remaining bachelors. JOE GILLES-

PIE is a sales administrator for the General Binding Corporation and lives in Skokie, Illinois with his wife and one small Gillespie. FRANK GERLITS is an attorney, practicing in Chicago with the firm of Kirkland, Ellis, Hodson, Chaffetz, and Masters. The Gerlits family of three small ones lives in Glencoe. DAVE FOX was recently promoted to assistant cashier at the Northern Trust Company in Chicago. Dave is married and has two children, and makes his home in suburban Clarendon Hills. Out in Rock Island, Illinois FRANK EDWARDS is an attorney with the firm of Marshall & Marshall, having graduated from the University of Illinois Law School in June '58. Frank is the father of three children.

Moving east, we hear that DAVE FLYNN is to be married to Paula Fry of Pittsburgh on September 3. Dave is a sales engineer with Basic, Inc. and is attending Duquesne University at night working toward an MBA. Also in the Iron City, CHRIS FALKENSTEIN is a sales engineer with Westinghouse. WALTER GUILTINAN has recently moved to Pittsburgh from Grand Rapids, Mich. Walt is a salesman for the Hanson, Van Winkle, Munning Company, and his growing family numbers four children at last count. GUS FRED is an asst. professor of metallurgical engineering at the U. of Pittsburgh. Out in eastern Pennsylvania, CHARLIE FLUEHR is a self-employed furniture dealer in the Philadelphia area. Has anyone seen JOHN MURRAY out there?

Received a letter recently from JACK ENDERS, in which he described his current activities as well as those of others in the Buffalo, New York area. Jack was commissioned in the Marine Corps after graduation and served in Japan and Korea until his return to civilian status in August 1955. He then joined his father's insurance firm and became president upon his Dad's death in 1956. Among his other activities, Jack is married and the father of two year old John Michael, and is President of the Notre Dame Club of Buffalo. He reports further: "Within the last year, several of our classmates have become active in our local alumni club. Included are: DICK WAGNER, single, lawyer. PAUL BALLING—married—Balling Bros. Construction Co. JOE BUCKHEIT—married—one on the way—Price Waterhouse Accounting. GERRY MARSHALL—married—two children—engineer in Lockport, N.Y. GERRY McCABE—trucking service salesman in Rochester, N.Y., who recently very tragically lost his wife to a kidney ailment—no children. JOHN FITZGERALD—married—two children, regional credit manager of Texas Company. PIERCE WALSH—married, two children, Niagara Falls area business extension for Manufacturer's & Trader's Trust Company of Buffalo." Thanks, Jack, for furnishing us with news from western New York state. We could use news like that from all over the country.

Out in California, PAUL FRY is a resident in Orthopedic Surgery at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco. Paul was formerly chief medical officer at the Federal Reformatory in Chillicothe, Ohio. His growing family includes four children at the most recent tabulation. MIKE GROZIER makes his home in Anaheim, California, and is currently a Navy LT (MC) aboard the USS Yorktown in the Far East. Mike married the former Betty Ann Curran and has a son Michael born June 1959. Reportedly, another Grozier is on the way. In San Diego, TOM FLECK is senior flight test engineer at Convair, and is the father of four. ED GIACOMINI received his law degree from the U. of California at Berkeley, is married, and has one child.

PAT GUNNING is a Lt. in the U.S. Navy, and after four years as a pilot stationed at NAS Moffet Field, California, has been recently instructing formation at NAAS Whiting Field. In May of this year Pat was assigned to the staff of the newly formed Non-pilot aviation officer's school at NAS Pensacola. Pat has two girls, aged 3 and 1. GENE GRIBBLE resides in Orlando, Florida, and is a flight test engineer with the Martin Co., working on the Pershing missile. Gene has one child, and with his wife Alice operates a dancing school in his spare time.

CLARENCE FAVRET, JR., is a New Orleans attorney, and has two children. BOB GIRARDOT is a technologist with the Shell Oil Co. in Norco, Louisiana. Has anyone heard from JOE DAVID down there in Creole country?

JIM COLLINGS is a mechanical engineer with Colgate Palmolive Co. in Louisville, and is three-fourths complete in his studies toward an LL.B. at the U. of Louisville. Jim has two children. PAT FITZGERALD is secretary of the Capital City Supply Co. in Indianapolis. D. RICHARD GILL recently graduated from the Indiana University Medical School, and will intern in Indianapolis. In the shadow of the Golden Dome, PAUL FARMER is an accountant with the Clark Equipment Company, has one child, and is a Lt. in the Navy Reserve. JIM GANNON is a radio-TV announcer with WSBT in South Bend.

DOM GENTILE received his M.D. at Georgetown, and after interning at Detroit Receiving Hospital, returned to Washington for a residency in internal medicine at the VA hospital. He now is studying under a fellowship there. BARTOLOMEO FERRARI has proven himself a prolific parent, and certainly must have the record family in our class. Bart has eight small Ferraris, and still going strong! Bart is an aerothermodynamicist (for the benefit of we Commerce majors, that means turbine design specialist) with General Electric in Evandale, Ohio. DICK FALTER lives in Columbus, Ohio, with his family of four, and manages the Herman Falter Meat Packing Company. JOE FINAN is a textile buyer with Columbus Coated Fabrics Corp., in Columbus. Joe has two children.

EARL FOSSELMAN is an attorney in Waterloo, Iowa, and I note that he has tied BART FERRARI for parenthood honors with eight. Earl is also district deputy for the K. of C. BILL (STEDE) GEORGE is a sales engineer with the P. D. George Co. in Florissant, Mo. Stede recently set up a marketing operation, specializing in sales of paint and related products to railroads and mining companies. ALAN FITZGIBBON is director of research for the Winus-Brandon Company, an advertising agency in University City, Missouri. Al is one of our rapidly diminishing group, the bachelors.

I am afraid that I must open this edition of the class news on a sad note. It is my sad duty to announce the death of another of our classmates, PETER BARRETT of South Bend. The sympathy of the Class was extended to Pete's family and a Mass was offered for him on campus by Father McAuliffe, the pastor of Sacred Heart Church. According to the report which I received, Pete was drowned while waterskiing in Lake Huron during the latter part of June. With the death of Pete Barrett, the number of our classmates who have passed away is six. Your secretary would like to take this occasion to announce the inauguration of an annual Memorial Mass for our departed classmates; the first such Mass will be arranged immediately and will hereafter be offered on the anniversary of our graduation, June 1. In case any of you readers missed the previous death notices here is the list of our deceased: ROGER KENNEY, TOM SULLIVAN, BILL RACHAC, TOM BARTLEY, BILL ROBERTSON, and PETER BARRETT. Please remember them all in your prayers.

I must apologize for the brevity of this column. There are a couple of mitigating factors in the case against me however. For one thing, I must submit this column immediately—I am fighting a deadline and am unable to wait for the influx of letters which always follows the mailing of an issue of the ALUNUS. Thus, since the issue current in preparation has not been received by all of you readers, I am caught with a shortage of news-bearing correspondence. I suggest a co-operative effort on all our parts to provide more news for next time. In other words, friends—

NEW YORK — It was obviously "Kiddies' Day" at the Westchester Division's midsummer picnic. Chairman of the affair was Harold Desnoyers, assisted by Mrs. Jean Maguire.

SEND ME SOME MATERIAL!

The little news which I do have consists of some notes concerned with family-type news. Just after the submission of my last column (in May) I received news from GENE KERVIN to the effect that he will be married in October. The bride-to-be is Miss Frances Oppe of Dallas. The wedding will be on October 28; in the meantime Gene is anticipating his release from the Army, at Fort Meade, Maryland. Congratulations, Gene. Please excuse the tardy reporting.

TOM EISENHauer is another prospective bridegroom who recently reported in. His wedding will be on October 1, and the blushing bride will be Miss Nancy Clark of Dayton (Tom's hometown). As for Tom's employment situation, he is with the Universal Pool Company and is being trained for personnel management.

And for our next item here is some news from the nursery. Carol and DAVE HOLTHOUSE have informed me of the birth of an addition to their family—namely Julia Catherine. The young lady weighed in at 7 pounds and 7 ounces and she brings the Holthouse population to a total of four.

Finally, here are some items which I received from JOE RYAN when I ran into him in South Bend last May. Joe was wed on August 20 to Miss Carol Cavanaugh. He is studying law at Detroit, having recently completed his Navy hitch. Joe also reported that ED HOURIGAN had been playing some basketball in the Navy (particulars are not available), and that LARRY PELTON has been accepted in submarining school after being graduated from Wharton business school at the University of Pennsylvania.

Well fans, that's the ball game for this time. Let me again express my regrets for its brevity, but all I can say is "Look thee to it!" or in less prosaic but more expressive terms "GET ON THE BALL-POINT AND WRITE!"

From the Alumni Office:

Word came from ART ROULE after deadline that ROBERT WOJCIK died after brain tumor surgery on Thursday, Sept. 15. Nothing written here can express the sympathy of the Class to Bob's wife, left with a child and expecting another. Nothing but prayer.

Erstwhile classmate WILLIAM GULLEY has joined the Worthington Corp., Harrison, N.J. Marine PAUL B. UNDERKOFER, JR., originally of Dallas, is training as a lieutenant at Quantico. IVAN ALVAREZ is a technical man with the National Development Institute of Nicaragua in Managua. Sept. 12 saw the wedding of PAUL BUTLER, JR., and South Bend's Nancy Oare on the campus.

Word on two grad school products: RAYMOND ROLVING is a math instructor at the U. of Cincinnati and living in Cincy with wife Nancy Jean and two daughters; REV. DAVID J. CLARK, C.M.F., is now at All Saints Church, Fort Worth, Tex.

The Dow Chemical Co. reports that G. R. MILLER, JAMES A. MOFFITT and OTTO CARL RASPOR have joined various Dow departments in the summer.

Not much additional news since the last edition of the ALUMNUS but the roster of marriages, birth, and graduate students continues to grow. With the coming of the 1960 Notre Dame Football season, many of you will be returning to the campus to see some of the games. In your spare moments you might stop in the Alumni Office to say hello and maybe relate your activities since graduation. The Alumni, together with the class of 1959, would like to hear from you. Best of luck to Joe Kuharich and the Fighting Irish of 1960 for a prosperous and no injury Red Mack, Gerry Gray, and Myron Pottios football season.

It is with deep regret and a saddened heart that I must begin this column with the report of the death of a classmate, GENE GEISLER, who died June 28. May you not fail to include in your prayers the repose of his soul. I am sure the Geisler Family will appreciate your spiritual generosity. Gene's home is 800 East Broadway, Midland, Texas. Expression of sympathy is also extended to Leo Dilling on the death of his father, LEO T. DILLING, '33.

Except for a few tidbits of news that I have scraped up from the bottom of my almost empty barrel of letters, this column does not promise to be a very "newsy" one. And unless your underburdened secretary is deluged with mail from every crook and cranny of the country in the weeks and months to come, I will be accused of Sectionalism and what-have-you. So, please, "Men of '60," send me a line in your moments of idleness and leisure and come to the aid of your (I hope not forgotten) Sec.

DAN O'NEILL writes that he is working for the San Jose Mercury in California. Being a true newspaper man Dan has helped me in tracing a few of your grads out on the West Coast. DENNY NOLAN, reports Dan, is trying to find a job in engineering. But it seems that no company will put up with him. JOE McBRIDE, who is a long way from his St. Louis, Mich. home, is experimenting with rockets at Edward's Air Force Base in California. Good luck and success, Joe, in your adventures in outer-space. MIKE HENDERSON is working at Aero-jet in Sacramento. Mike, you and I ought to get together.

JIM THOMPSON has surrendered partially to love and partially to Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith by leaving his native California for two years of training in New York. His girl lives in Ohio.

Both BILL KILLILEA and TOM WARD have enlisted in the Air Force OCS program.

JACK SALADINO is reported to be busy at Cranbrook Institute of Fine Arts in Detroit. During the past summer Jack worked as an interior designer for one of Kansas City's largest firms. Recently he and PETER J. QUINN (not to mention the III) visited friends in the business community of San Francisco, where Jack plans to practice in the future.

TONY BARTOLINI is furthering his education at Loyola U. of Chicago in the Department of Social and Industrial Relations. Tony hopes to receive his master's degree sometime next year.

Band-leader WALLY JONES is studying for a degree in music at Northwestern University. Perhaps Wally will be entertaining our children at the N.D. Victory Dances as a professional.

Received word from my former roommate AL GRIFFIN. The six weeks of summer camp at Fort Knox, says Al, was a "new and interesting experience." I certainly hope I will share mutual feelings when it's time for me to serve good ole Uncle Sam. Al has been accepted at St. John's Seminary in Boston where he will be diligently studying to be a diocesan priest.

JOE RANALLO, struggling young medical student, fighting the bondages of his old family tradition; is reported to be busily engaged in his medical studies at Temple University.

Congratulations and best wishes to BOB TOLAND and Sue O'Neil, who were married on June 25 in Evanston, Ill. Another classmate to be victimized by the love potions of cupid was CHARLES FARRELLY, who married Katherine Dill of Roanoke, Va., on the third of September. Charley's now quite a successful interior decorator in the Virginia area.

At this writing your secretary is visiting with our fellow classmate PAUL PRIEBE, Rochester, Minn. The Priebe family, having just returned from showing their horses at the Minnesota State Fair Horse Show, provided me with a trusty "steed" to ride while visiting the country. Although the horse is nearing old age, barely moves, is blind in one eye and is unable to see with the other, yours truly managed to take an eventful fall—the effects of which I am still experiencing.

Incidentally, Paul is busy preparing sections of his thesis on the political-economic aspects of agricultural price supports for publication in the Minneapolis Tribune. This, combined with his entering the University of Minnesota Law School and his building a motel in the loop area of Minneapolis, will keep this N.D. grad busy in the coming months.

The national political conventions were visited by several '60 grads. In Chicago our own president, DICK CORBETT, was seen covering that political scene. LARRY TURNER, Golden Beach, Florida, and BILL MAPOTHER, Louisville, Kentucky, took in the Republican Convention after travelling the eastern seaboard and making final plans for their September matriculation at the University of Virginia Law School. Incidentally, I understand Bill and his family hosted many a lively weekend for some of our "battle-worn" classmates stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky, this past summer.

Rumor has it, L. MARTIN TOPPING, White Plains, N.Y., spent much of his summer in the upstate New York area working on a novel, the publication of which we are anxiously awaiting. This and his newspaper activities in New York City have prepared Marty for his graduate studies at Columbia.

On Oct. 15 of this year, immediately after the Michigan State game, our class will hold an informal get-together in So. Bend. This, our first class reunion, should prove to be a very interesting and eventful one. So do try to make it.

The University of Notre Dame
Alumni Association

October 15, 1960

Fellow Alumni:

Since our last Alumni letter (January 31) there have been a number of developments worth reporting.

June was a particularly significant month. At the kind invitation of Father Hesburgh, I was privileged to represent all of the Notre Dame Alumni in the group that met President Eisenhower at a private luncheon on his visit to the campus in early June, when he received an honorary degree and addressed the graduates. Father Hesburgh's kind consideration on this occasion will long be remembered.

The following week end we attended the Reunion on the campus, made a report at the Alumni Banquet, at which well over 1,000 of us heard Father Hesburgh's remarkable address on Notre Dame today and the challenge to the University to become the leading center of influence and education in the world.

During the Reunion we were particularly impressed with the newly introduced Traditions Banquet held on Friday night in the Morris Inn for all Alumni whose reunion was the 35th or longer. This included the 1925 class of the Four Horsemen back to the class of 1900.

Concerning the Reunion, it would be most difficult for me to understand how any Alumnus could leave the campus, although fatigued, without feeling even a greater warmth for Notre Dame than when he left as a graduate.

Two committees of the Alumni Board have now completed the two slates for the four new members of the Board for 1961. This is a difficult task in selecting nominees by geographical location, and at the same time, by class grouping. Ballots should be in the mail shortly.

I know that all Notre Dame men share my sorrow at the death of His Eminence, our beloved John Cardinal O'Hara, whom many of us can best remember as the Prefect of Religion, when he edited the daily Religious Bulletin, and encouraged us in the reception of daily Communion. And again, of course, as one of Notre Dame's great presidents.

We have now all been informed as to Notre Dame's projected new thirteen-story library which Father Hesburgh terms "the University's most urgent and critical need." Father Hesburgh is relying upon the Alumni to contribute at least four million dollars in the next three years to help underwrite the project.

In the wake of the library announcement came the news of the Ford Foundation grant of $6,000,000 to Notre Dame during that same three-year period provided that the University receives $12,000,000 during that time from her Alumni and friends.

The Alumni Board members are particularly pleased at the University's decision to immediately apply a sizeable portion of the Ford grant toward a retirement plan for administration (non-academic) employees, which is a program that has long been among the University's high priority needs.

What may later be termed the Library Foundation Drive will begin in early 1961. Meetings are being held and plans are being made in all areas of the country for this most important Foundation Drive. Perhaps we should consider this challenge that the Ford Foundation has laid before us and agree that we should contribute to Notre Dame to the point of sacrifice.

Sincerely,

John O'Connor

President
