THEME: PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Editorial Comment

from your Alumni Secretary

The struggle between God and Caesar is not new.

Its persistence stems from the fact that the two images are contemporary, and therefore the tributes cannot be conveniently segregated, but must be properly divided and defined.

I feel certain that more than four Notre Dame men in ten have an interest in the image of Notre Dame, and hold a genuine personal allegiance to the University.

And I know, and have often said, that the measure of this allegiance is not alone in the alumni contribution to the Annual Alumni Fund.

Yet the world asks the question, "How many alumni showed an interest in your school in 1960?"

And the only statistical answer we have is the participation of alumni in the Annual Alumni Fund (which makes no demand in any fixed amount). In 1960 this figure dropped to 39.5%.

You are not entirely to blame for this 1960 recession. The "Program for the Future," including the Memorial Library, shifted in both nature and time-table during the year, and one result was a lack of pressure and a lack of clear-cut goals for alumni giving.

I think also you were subconsciously waiting for what you felt would be a necessary appeal for special giving, a raising of the sights from previous annual gifts.

As I write this, it looks as though our general appeal to alumni will come in this fall of 1961.

Father Hesburgh has expressed the hope that, for three years at least, we might secure a minimum of $1,000,000 a year from alumni.

That sounds like an ambitious target. Actually it is modest in the light of our record. In 1960, for example, when our participation figure dropped to 39.5%, we still recorded $625,169.04 given by alumni to the University. This represented an average alumnus gift of $56.96.

To secure the projected $1,000,000, we have only to raise our participation to 65%, at the same average gift.

Dartmouth and Princeton have exceeded 70% participation. This goal for us is neither optimistic nor impractical, but a proved contemporary potential, and one well within the reach of a co-operative Notre Dame Alumni Association.

Or we could reach the $1,000,000 if only the same loyal minority persisted, but raised the average of their annual gifts to $91 plus.

It is my hope, and it is my belief, that when the University of Notre Dame presents its full and defined appeal to all alumni, the response will be forthcoming from twice as many alumni as are now responding to the Annual Fund appeal, and that each alumnus in this greater group will give not just the token small denomination gift that marks our present donor majority, but will recognize, with raised sights and an element of sacrifice, the tremendous opportunity that the Ford Foundation matching gift of $6,000,000 has given Notre Dame to accelerate the outstanding Program for the Future that its present leadership has evolved.

This is a sermon on money, isn't it?

Does it mean that we are worried or tricky in holding up this image of Caesar?

I don't think so, and I am sure you don't. It just means that in this age and place, the free and wonderful opportunity to superimpose the City of God in the City of Man requires the proper understanding and use of both images.

God's purposes have always been served by man's proper use of material things, his stewardship under God.

If we must on occasion stress the means, it is only because in our close association and privileged understanding we become so deeply convinced of the great ends such means will provide.

Think now of your own opportunity

Alumni Contributions Down From 1959 Both in Total and Percentage of Participation

Although alumni contributions dropped in amount and percentage of participation, the University of Notre Dame received $5,719,651 in gifts and grants during 1960. The record total represents an increase of $2,343,859 over the previous year.

Included in the overall figure is an initial grant of $1,075,000 from The Ford Foundation under terms of its new Special Program in Education. The philanthropic organization has awarded Notre Dame a $6,000,000 matching grant, to be remitted on the basis of one dollar for every two dollars which the University receives from alumni, friends, corporations and other non-governmental sources up to June 30, 1963. To meet this challenge, Notre Dame has spelled out a three-year, $18,000,000 nationwide fund-raising program including an $8,000,000 Notre Dame Memorial Library to be built beginning this summer.

Of the $5,719,651 total $613,410 was in gifts providing life income to the donor.

Alumni contributed $625,169 during 1960, and the gifts of honorary alumni accounted for $43,591. A total of $3,134,153 came from non-alumni sources including 486 corporations and foundations. Research grants and fellowships, principally from government agencies, totalled $1,916,737.

There were 10,976 alumni contributions averaging $56.96. For the second consecutive year, the class of 1928 contributed the largest amount to its alma mater, $69,967, while the class of 1949 had the largest number of contributions, 478, for the second year in a row.

Parents of 1,979 present and former students contributed 259,972 to their sons' school. This is an increase of 431 gifts and $73,785 over the previous year.

Football Ticket Information for Alumni

A murderous schedule faces the hopeful Irish, but hope won't be enough to come out on top of Oklahoma, Purdue, Southern Cal, Michigan State, Northwestern, Navy, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Iowa and Duke! What a lineup we face; but with very few graduation losses and some promising sophomores, even those topnotch teams will have their hands full with Notre Dame this year.

By ROBERT CAHILL, '34
Ticket Manager

We never set much store by that old saw about the "ill wind" until last football season. For once fellow alumni were so concerned over the losing record they completely forgot to give us the usual what-for for their poor seats! Truly, we felt just a bit neglected, and found ourselves wistfully recalling the days when we had to sneak into the stands in disguise. But now, with an entire year of respite, we'll be more than glad to see the alumni slings and arrows once more zeroing in on the Ticket Manager, nice and normal-like. We resent the football team hogging complaints that used to be exclusively ours. . . . ! Seriously, the ticket situation remains in status quo, and so . . . for the twenty-first year, we ask you to peruse our parliamentary procedure for football tickets, or Robert's Rules of Ordering:

1. Contributors to the Eighteenth Annual Alumni Fund in 1960, religious and honorary degree holders, plus the June Class of 1961, are eligible for advance sale order forms for the 1961 football season. NOTA BENE: A contribution SINCE January 1, 1961 assures ticket priority for 1962, but NOT for this current year of 1961.

2. Alumni Advance Sale opens June 20, closes July 15. It should be understood that this closing date means that an order filed after that date, regardless of the type of order form used, will be accorded general use treatment. Nor does it mean that an order filed before July 15 is guaranteed a preferred location (see Paragraph 4 for amplification).

3. Advance Sale order forms are readily identified by the words "Alumni Advance Sale" in bold type along the left edge of the form. These should be in the hands of eligible alumni prior to June 20. If you have not received them by then (jot this date on your desk calendar right now) and you are certain you qualify under Paragraph 1 above, notify the Ticket Manager at once. Envelopes for Alumni order forms are addressed by the Alumni Office but filled and mailed by the Ticket Office. Omissions will be corrected upon notification, but if notification arrives after a sellout has taken place, correction may be impossible. Usually the trouble lies with address changes. Therefore if your address differs from that used for this issue of the ALUMNUS or if it will change by June 1, forward that change at once to the Alumni Office.

4. Advance Sale forms are limited to two tickets per game, are not transferable, will be honored until July 15 or until the ticket supply is exhausted. SEATS ARE ALLOTTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH DATE RECEIVED, modified only as follows: Orders arriving BEFORE opening day (June 20) are integrated at random with those received on June 20. Then, at close of business June 20, all applications received at that point are thoroughly shuffled, DRAWN BY LOT AND ASSIGNED A SEQUENCE NUMBER to establish the order of seat assignment for each game for all orders on hand opening day. Since three or four thousand orders for each of the more popular games will arrive for processing on June 20 (accounting for six or eight thousand tickets), obviously even a first-day order for such games could be on the fifty or beyond the goal line, DEPENDING ON THE LUCK OF THE DRAW. This is the answer to the alumnus' question as to why, although he ordered for all games on the very first day, he may receive fine seats for one game, poor ones for another (or fine seats for all; or poor seats for all). After Monogram and Season ticket (more about Season tickets below) orders are satisfied, ONLY 4,000 TICKETS ARE AVAILABLE BETWEEN THE GOAL AND FIFTY IN THE ALUMNI SECTION. Hence, for the more popular games, it is readily seen that a first-day order could fare poorly; and an alumnus waiting to file his order until July 1 or after can look for nothing but seats behind the north goal (please look at the diagram).

5. General Use ticket applications are mailed annually to ALL alumni the latter part of July, prior to the August 1 opening of public sale. While it is possible that Advance Sale described above could claim our entire ticket supply, as of now we feel there will be public sale for all games. General Use forms are transferable and usually valid for unlimited quantity of tickets. The contributing alumnus who has already used his Advance Sale form for two tickets may place additional orders via the General form. Moreover, the General Use form is a convenient source of tickets for the non-contributing alumnus as well as a reminder to him that tickets are available. These General forms carry no locational preference, for all such orders are filled after Advance Sale purchases.

6. Public sale opens annually on August 1. The Ticket Committee will be glad to send public order forms to any addressee upon request as long as tickets are available.

7. Alumni Clubs planning on a block of tickets for an excursion must file a request with the Ticket Manager BY JUNE 20. Final action on block orders may not be taken until individual sale closes July 15, and then only if sufficient tickets remain. However, a tentative reservation will be made and an Alumni Club will be given preference in case of short supply; moreover, for some critical games, no groups EXCEPT Alumni Clubs are considered. But as to seat locations for groups, the following is de rigueur: BLOCK ORDERS ARE FILLED FROM SEATS REMAINING AFTER ALL INDIVIDUAL ORDERS HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED. THIS PERMITS ONLY END ZONE SEATS, INVARIABLY.

8. Alumni Clubs frequently ask for two or more seats in "choice location" for raffle or fund-raising awards. Because of the problems described in Paragraph 4, unless a Club member (or members) surrenders his Advance Sale privilege for the game desired, tickets for prizes must be of the general sale variety.

In Adjournment . . .

The 1961 schedule is a beauty, well balanced at home and away. Because of the attraction of all the home opponents, the advance interest seems quite evenly distributed. For the first time, too, Southern California plays at ND in October, rather than the biennial late-November appearances of the past. Plus the Trojans at home, we meet Oklahoma, Northwestern, Navy and Syracuse. We think this is truly one of our better home schedules.

Concerning Season Tickets. Each year, many alumni inquire as to whether it is to their advantage to use Alumni Advance order blanks, game by game, or buy a Season Ticket, which admits to all of the home games. The answer depends on what the alumnus wants. If two tickets meet his needs, then he should use his Alumni Advance privilege. Although this privilege doesn't guarantee preferred location (again see Paragraph 4), still the opportunity is there. With the Season Ticket, it is not. There is no alumni preference for Season Tickets, and only end zone seats are available. It is renewable automatically each May 1, however, and there is no quantity limit. Thus, if location is not paramount, an alumnus may assure himself of any quantity of tickets for each game renewable each year via the Season Ticket plan. Alumni might presume, after looking over the stadium diagram, that the Season Ticket locations shown in the alumni sections (Sections 8 and 9) are held by, and available to, alumni only. Such is not the case. These Season Tickets were assigned prior to 1943, when the alumni section was more than adequate, and because of the renewal feature of Season Tickets, removal of these patrons from alumni sections is a slow process. However, we have not sold any Season Tickets in Sections 8 or 9 SINCE 1942. The Season Ticket sale opens annually on May 1 and we shall be glad to send complete information upon request.

Some of you may be approached this year (we already have been) either sardonically or sincerely with the idea that "good" seats ought to be plentiful, in view of our past couple of seasons. Again glancing at the diagram — if we issued only 20,000 tickets to a home game, including 6,000 students, we still wouldn't have anything but end zone seats to offer anyone after we reached that figure of 20,000. So bear with us again if you're not on the fifty — or on the ten, for that matter. You've been a most understanding group over the years. . . .

A HOME IN ROME

OPENING OF NEW CLUB HEADQUARTERS,

INDUCTION OF ARCHBISHOP O'CONNOR,

LECTURE BY FATHER HESTON MARKED

UNIVERSAL SUNDAY IN ETERNAL CITY

This time the N.D. Club of Rome leads with an ALERT. We have a new home in Rome. In permanent quarters under the club's own "shingle", we are located just around the corner and across the street from our traditional rendezvous, the Scoglio Di Frisio Restaurant.

This is not a walk-out on Gus Rossi, the genial proprietor of the restaurant, an N.D. "catacomb alumnus" who has been unmeasurably kind to us during the past five years. All hands continue to dine at the Scoglio and woe betide any visiting "Irish" firemen who knowingly by-pass this diner's paradise. In fact, Signore Rossi has volunteered to act as the new club's "Administratore", or go-between in all contacts with Italian authorities and professional people. To boot, he has assisted us, no end, in opening the club at its present site.

As we have already written to all N.D. Club presidents, our new center is intended as an oasis of hospitality for all Notre Dame men, their families and friends. During the past five years, we have been happy to host literally thousands of the N.D. Family, but necessarily on a more or less hit-and-miss basis. Now it is time to anchor and stabilize our program and make it known to everyone concerned.

To quote our recent letter to all N.D. Club Prexies: "Besides luggage, visitors usually arrive weighed down with 101 weighty questions starting with: 'Can we see the Holy Father?' and ending with: 'Where can we get a decent cup of real American coffee!?' While we perk the "real" American coffee for you, the rather good availability of the Holy Father can be leisurely surveyed.

"We are particularly interested in helping to shape your stay in the Eternal City so that it may be thoroughly enjoyed on all levels and to rid Gaudreau, C.S.S.R., superior general of the Redemptorists; Most Rev. Martin J. O'Connor, LL.D. '60, rector of North American College, presiding; Rev. Raymond Miller, C.S.S.R., assistant general; Rev. Alexis Driscoll, O.P., socius of Dominicans.

GEORGE GLEASON, '36, president of the Rome Club, read a message from the Holy Father and introduced Father Heston, procurator-postulator general of Holy Cross and member of the Commission for Religious for the Vatican Council. Afternoon lecture on Universal N.D. Communion Sunday marked the opening of new Club Headquarters.

it of galloping-exhaustion and foundering-frustration over such items as the local language and the funny money, etc.

"As a Christmas gift, the N.D. Club of Rome offers you a New Year's Motto: St. Paul's famous words, 'I must see Rome.' Once you decide, St. Peter awaits you with the Keys to the Kingdom, and we have the Keys to the City. Should you write that you are coming — or sending 'Uncle Hen and Auntie Hat' or even 'friends of friends of . . . ' — we will be on the fraternal alert. And if there is any chore we can do for you in advance — short of scheduling a spaghetti-bowl game in the Colosseum — we will be happy to oblige, Notre Dame style."

The center was inaugurated on Notre Dame Annual Communion Day, December 11th. Mass and Communion was as usual at Holy Cross Seminary followed by coffee and coffee-cake during which George Gleason, '36, was installed as new President. In the absence of Chris Cochrane, '46, First Vice President, Joe DeLia, '47, Second Vice Pres. handed over the gavel of office in the name of retiring President, Jerry Ashley, '33.

The scheduled talk on the Second Vatican Council was held in the afternoon for the public in the new auditorium of the Accademia Alfonsiana (across from the new N.D. center), courtesy of the Very Reverend William P. Gaudreau, C.S.S.R., Superior General of the Redemptorist Fathers, (and uncle of ND's footballer, Bill Gaudreau).

To a packed house, our Chaplain,

Father Edward L. Heston, C.S.C., '30, Procurator-Postulator General of the Congregation of Holy Cross, gave an excellent lecture, His Excellency Most Rev. Martin J. O'Connor, '60, President of the Vatican Council's Secretariat for Communications Media, presiding. At the conclusion of the lecture, Archbishop O'Connor was awarded Honorary Membership in the Notre Dame Club of Rome.

Open House was then held at the club as Archbishop O'Connor led the way for a look-see at the new center.

So the welcome mat is out c/o:

Notre Dame Receives $5.7 Million

and foundations increased $1,286,501 due largely to the Ford Foundation grant. The roster of corporate contributors to Notre Dame reads like a Who's Who of American business and industry, but it also includes relatively small local and family-controlled firms.

The total of Notre Dame's research grants and fellowships, $1,916,737, was nearly a half-million dollars greater than in 1959. Principal sources of government support for research at the University included the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, the National Science Foundation, the National Institutes of Health, and the U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force.

During the past year Notre Dame received 368 gifts of $1,000 or more. Of these, 77 were for more than $5,000, and 11,334 were for $25 or less.

Illinois reared the greatest total of alumni gifts for 1960 with $141,606 and also had the greatest number of alumni contributors, 1,481. Other states ranking high in terms of alumni financial support were Indiana, Ohio, New York, Michigan, Iowa, California, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Missouri in that order.

Facts About Ford, Fund, Foundation

Because some confusion may have resulted from the article in the last 1960 issue on matching gift programs bearing the name "Ford," the following clarification may be in order.

There are three programs prefixed by "Ford" contributing to education, originated by three distinct corporations:

1. The Ford Motor Company of Detroit, Michigan, contributes to universities directly and through its new employee matching grant program, Ford Education AID (Assistance and Incentive Donation), which will grant up to $6,000 to match employee gifts up to $5,000 to private universities. The program was responsible for gifts of more than $2,000 in its first few months of operation.

2. The Ford Foundation, popularly (and confusingly) referred to as the "Ford Fund," especially in newspaper headlines, is an entirely separate institution (except for its capitalization in non-voting Ford Motor Company stock), established in 1936 with headquarters in New York City. A private foundation for the support of educational, scientific, cultural, civic and governmental projects, it contributed more than $3 million to Notre Dame's faculty development program and recently announced a contingent grant of $6 million over three years if the University can raise at least $12 million from other sources. The Foundation has also granted several hundred thousand dollars in recent years for Soviet studies, Arts and Letters, the education department, the University Press, etc.

3. The Ford Motor Company Fund is a non-profit company-sponsored corporation established by the Detroit company 10 years ago to support educational, scientific and charitable activities. It is not related to the Ford Foundation but is generally supported by annual cash contributions from the Ford Motor Company. The Fund makes direct grants to colleges and universities of its choice, to be used for whatever purpose the presidents of the schools deem best. It also sponsors the Ford Scholarship program.

The Ford article referred erroneously to Peter F. Kernan, Jr., '49, now with the College Recruitment Program of the Ford Motor Company, as a former employee of the Ford Foundation. Actually he is a former employee of the Ford Motor Company Fund. And Leo J. Brennan, Jr., '51, mentioned as a present Ford Foundation employee, is employed by the Civil Affairs office of the Public Relations Department of the Ford Motor Company.

LAWRENCE TIMOTHY SHAW '22 (better known as "Buck" or "the Silver Fox"), his hair a little whiter than in this 10-year-old portrait, is still the unique aristocratic gentleman of the professional football coaching profession after having wound up a distinguished career with a National Football League triumph for his Philadelphia Eagles. Buck will continue in private business in San Francisco.

'Rome Favors Lourdes Grotto at Notre Dame with Indulgences

INDULGENCES:

The Sacred Apostolic Penitentiary granted to the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes, at Notre Dame, Indiana the following indulgences:

(1) Plenary Indulgence to any group (of three or more), at any time, as often as they visit the Grotto and pray for the intention of the Holy Father and follow the usual conditions for gaining indulgences. Also, a Plenary Indulgence to any individual who visits the Grotto on the Feast of Our Lady of Lourdes and follows the usual procedure of gaining the indulgence. (February 11th).

Also a Partial Indulgence of 500 days for any individual as often as he visits the Grotto and prays for the intention of the Holy Father.

NOTRE DAME MEN REMEMBER THEIR GROTTTO.

1896 Fr. Thomas Carroll, of Oil City, Pa., a Notre Dame man, gave the finances to have the Grotto built and completed on the Feast of Our Lady of Snows. He also gave the first scholarship to the University.

1957 Jerry Ashley, another Notre Dame man, was instrumental in financing a beautiful reliquary in the form of the Golden Dome for the precious First Class Relic of St. Bernadette which is enthroned on the altar in Sacred Heart Church in front of the painting by Gregori (approx. 1880) of the Grotto scene of the Apparition to St. Bernadette.

1958 Thomas Hamilton of Racine, Wisconsin, another Notre Dame graduate, financed the blacktopping of the Grotto.

1960 Don S. Cisle of Hamilton, Ohio, another Notre Dame man, donated the beautiful aluminum plaques, reminding the people of the indulgences granted by Rome to the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes.

1960 Dec. 2nd, Hong Kong. Dr. Tom Dooley to Fr. Hesburgh.

In a letter to Fr. Hesburgh. . . Dr. Tom Dooley says: "But when the time comes, like now then the storm around me does not matter. The winds within me do not matter. Nothing human or earthly can touch me. A wilder storm of peace gathers in my heart. What seems unpossessable I can possess. What seems unfathomable, I fathom. What is unutterable, I can utter. Because I can pray. I can communicate. How do people endure anything on earth if they cannot have God?"

"But just now . . . and just so many times, how I long for the Grotto. Away from the Grotto Dooley just prays. . . " " . . . if I could go to the Grotto now then I think I could sing inside. . . "

ALUMINUM PLAQUES stating grotto indulgences are the gift of Don Cisle, an alumnus from Hamilton, O.

" . . . That Grotto is the rock to which my life is anchored. . . "

Cackley Resigns for Development Post at Fairleigh Dickinson

On March 1 John N. Cackley, Jr., '37, resigned his position as assistant director of the Notre Dame Foundation and editor of Notre Dame magazine to join Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, N. J., as director of development. Jerome Parker, '30, will fill his position at Notre Dame.

John Cackley

John had been with the Foundation since its establishment in 1947. He had helped to found the quarterly Notre Dame, serving as managing editor, and had been editor-in-chief for the past three years. He had previously served as American vice-consul in Marseilles, France, and with the U.S. Army in Italy in World War II. He had also served with the savings bond division of the U.S. Treasury Department and with General Motors Acceptance Corp. He and his wife Marguerite have eight children.

Parker was formerly advertising manager for Matson Steamship Lines in San Francisco, California, and American Airlines in New York City.

News of the NOTRE DAME LAW SCHOOL

Symposium

A Symposium on "Next Steps to Extend the Rule of Law" will be held at the Notre Dame Law School on April 29. Dean O'Meara has explained the theory and purpose of the Symposium as follows:

"To get anywhere it is necessary first of all to start out. This elementary truth seems to me to receive scant attention in the debate about how to preserve mankind from extinction. Moreover, whatever the institutions are which we finally succeed in achieving to keep the peace, they cannot possibly be blueprinted in advance. They must be and they will be the product of an evolutionary development. For this further reason the greatest contribution we can make, it seems to me, is always to press on with the next steps as they become discernable. What are now the next steps? The purpose of our Symposium is to explore and, if possible, to illuminate that problem."

The following have accepted an invitation to participate: Charles S. Rhyne, 400 Hill Bldg., Washington 6, D. C., Chairman of the American Bar Association's Committee on World Peace Through Law; Professor Arthur N. Holcombe, Chairman of the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, 345 East 46th St., New York 17, N. Y.; Dean Louis H. Mayo, Graduate School of Public Law, The George Washington University, Washington 6, D. C.; Professor Stanley D. Metzger, Georgetown University (Continued on page 16)

THE '500' CLUB FOR THE N. D. LAW SCHOOL

I have been asked to write a little piece about a new entity known as The "500" Club for the Notre Dame Law School — or The "500" Club for short. This organization was formed by the Board of Directors of the Notre Dame Law Association at the fall meeting last November. Its name derives from the target number of members set by the Board. The goal is to have it constituted by 500 alumni or friends who will agree to contribute $100 or more each year to the Scholarship Fund of The Law School.

Dean O'Meara must have at least $50,000 in order to attract a sufficient number (a handful isn't enough) of superior students. For the quality of a law school depends largely upon the caliber of its student. It is hoped that The "500" Club, supplemented by the annual scholarship drive, will supply all the funds necessary to make our Law School second to none in quality.

All who contribute $100 or more during the period from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 will be automatically considered charter members of The "500" Club unless they indicate otherwise. At this writing we have nearly 100 members. The membership drive only began on February 1st and we are therefore gratified at the results to date. However, we need 400 more!

I am sure that some who should have been specially invited to join The "500" Club were unintentionally overlooked. If you happen to be one of these, please forgive me and write Dean O'Meara of your desire to join.

The best way to tell you more about The "500" Club is to quote from a letter I recently wrote to 400 invitees:

Some of the perquisites of membership are these:

1. Each year, the "500" Club members will be specially invited to the campus in recognition of their demonstrated interest in the Law School to learn first-hand of the progress of Notre Dame and its Law School.
2. The members' names will appear on a scroll to be maintained in a prominent location in the Law Building.
3. The membership will be published annually in the Alumnus and also in Dean O'Meara's Annual Report which is widely distributed.
4. A certificate suitable for framing will be mailed to each member.

The Notre Dame Law School has reached a level of eminence that is not yet fully appreciated in some quarters. Praise and recognition have come from all directions: judges (including Justices of the United States Supreme Court), law schools, practicing lawyers. For example, recently Dean O'Meara was approached by a very successful Harvard lawyer who has a son now in pre-law training. This prominent attorney stated that he would like to have his son go to the Notre Dame Law School, and he asked the Dean to talk with his son and attempt to persuade him to enroll at Notre Dame.

The "Notre Dame method" was the subject of an article several years ago in the American Bar Association Journal. The essence of it is that, after the first year, the student devotes all of his time to actual legal problems, thus engaging in the practice of law: research, planning, advising, preparation of memoranda and opinions, trials, brief-writing, etc. Notre Dame therefore eliminates or at least minimizes the boredom, which as Dean Grisvold of Harvard has observed, sets in on law students after the freshman year:

"Students typically find great intellectual excitement in the first year of law school. But for some students stimulation appears to fall off in the later years and the rate of accomplishment seems lower." Harvard Law School, Dean's Report 1958-59, p. 3

He attributed it "to a lack of intellectual progression through the three years — too much of the sameness of method and objective in each year."

No law school can be great unless a large percentage of its students are of superior quality. The time has come, however, when the increasing complexities of the law and sky-rocketing costs of education have combined to make it impossible for most law students to finance their legal education without assistance. As Dean O'Meara stated in his Annual Report for 1959-60:

"The typical law student does not come from a well-to-do family. In point of fact, most law students can expect little if any help from their parents; they are on their own financially. In this situation the high cost of attending the Notre Dame Law School creates for many a problem that is simply insoluble unless we are able to provide financial assistance by way of scholarships and loans.

"There are some few who argue that a student should be able to put himself through law school. These people do not realize that times have changed. The pace in law school is not longer leisurely; it cannot be. The law has grown to such an extent, both in magnitude and in complexity, that getting a legal education has become, perforce a fulltime occupation. We expect our students to devote to it not less than 60 hours a week. That doesn't leave much time for a job. Indeed, we feel that a student cannot devote to a job more than 10 or 12 hours a week at the most without damage to his legal education.

PERRINE TO SERVE N.D. FOUNDATION

by Albert H. Monacelli, '34, President, N.D. Law Assn.

"Of course, law students can work in the summertime. So far as I know everyone of our students has summer employment. At best, though, there is a differential of between $500 and $1000 a year between what a student can earn and the cost of studying law at Notre Dame.

"There is only one answer. If we are to turn out our share of the lawyers so urgently needed to meet the momentous challenges of these ominous days — lawyers at once professionally competent and equipped for effective leadership in a world in crisis — we must have adequate funds to provide scholarships for promising students."

Each year the Notre Dame Law Association conducts a scholarship drive and while its results have been helpful, they have proved inadequate. This year the Dean felt compelled to commit more funds than are available.

Notre Dame cannot compete for top-quality students with the heavily endowed or state-financed schools. Former Dean Manion, in his letter initiating the current scholarship drive stated:

"I addressed the law student body at Harvard recently and talked afterward to a dozen brilliant young men who would have preferred to study law at Notre Dame, but could not afford to do so. Harvard gave each of them a full scholarship.

"Like the cost of everything else, the costs of a legal education at Notre Dame and elsewhere have soared since my days on the law faculty. If the Notre Dame Law School is to get its share of superior students now, it must bid for them with merit scholarships and this will require $30,000 a year."

One becomes a member of this unique organization by agreeing to donate $100 or more annually to the Law School Scholarship Fund. (This will not be an enforceable obligation and may be abandoned at any time a member chooses.) If you have already contributed to the current scholarship drive which began on July 1, 1960, this letter should not be construed as asking you to give more; it is written only because we thought that as a matter of fairness you should know of the "500" Club and your eligibility for membership. The payments to the "500" Club will, of course, be deductible for income tax purposes and, in the case of Notre Dame alumni, will count fully as a contribution to the University Foundation for all purposes. Thus they also qualify under the Ford Foundation offer to add 50 cents to every dollar collected by Notre Dame over a limited period of time. One hundred dollars from you, therefore, will mean $150 to the Scholarship Fund.

The Western World must have sound and brilliant leadership if it is to survive. Lawyers have traditionally furnished much of our leadership in the past. As Dean Manion stated in his letter:

"Our society is based upon a 'government of laws' which requires the strong leadership of conscientious, courageous, and competent lawyers. In times past, our best minds were attracted to the legal profession, precisely because it was the best and most obvious ladder for the continuous achievement of learning and leadership in our legally organized society. In recent years, the proportion of college graduates going into law schools have been diminishing. One reason for this is implicit in the ever increasing labor of the legal profession. Business executives can pass much of their work and many of their responsibilities over into their business 'organization', but the lawyer must still struggle, think and act for himself."

As Mr. John G. Hervey, Advisor to the American Bar Association's Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar, has said:

"We are convinced that the preservation of our form of government and the institutions which characterize Western society may well depend on the continued development of a strong legal profession and that the profession is obligated to make available men of first rank in character, integrity, and competence. Other disciplines, and more especially the sciences, have made heavy inroads upon the pool of superior students who have been interested [heretofore] in the legal profession, and the reversal of this trend is a serious necessity."

No school does a better job of training the whole man than Notre Dame. More and better superbly equipped lawyer-leaders are in our own self-interest.

Alfred J. Perrine, Jr., '41, was recently assigned as assistant director for the Notre Dame Foundation in New England and areas of New Jersey and New York State not served by the Foundation office in metropolitan New York.

Since joining the Foundation staff in September of last year, Al has been working closely with John S. MacCauley, '41, whose area now includes Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. He will base his activity in the New York City Foundation office operated by William F. Murphy, '38.

Al has an extensive background in charitable fund-raising, having served for the past three years as assistant national campaign director for the American Cancer Society. Previously he had been assistant to the director of the United Cerebral Palsy Association. He has also served as assistant to the education director of the National Sales Executives, business manager for the Psychological Corp., and purchasing agent for City College of New York.

A native New Yorker, Al attended St. Agnes Academy, College Point, N.Y., before matriculating in Notre Dame's College of Commerce. During World War II he was a Lieutenant Commander in the U.S. Navy, serving in the Pacific Theater.

The Notre Dame Foundation, founded in 1947 and now engaged in a three-year $18 million campaign including an $8 million Memorial Library as part of Notre Dame's "Program for the Future," is headed by Rev. John E. Walsh, C.S.C., '45. The addition of Perrine to the staff brings the number of area directors to six. Besides MacCauley and Murphy assistant directors include Richard J. Bowes, '38, whose territory extends from Chicago through the Southwest to California; James W. Frick, '51, whose area runs from Indiana south to Florida and Texas; and Allan J. Powers, '51, who serves the Northern States from Michigan to the Pacific Northwest.

THE 38th ANNUAL UNIVERSAL

"Personal Responsibility" Selected as Theme of Night to Spotlight Implementation, Through Leadership, of Reports of Catholic Bishops and Eisenhower Committee on National Goals (1960)

CARDINALS, ARCHBISHOPS AND BISHOPS OF THE U. S.

"The history and achievements of America stand as a monument to the personal responsibility of free men. . . . If our future is to be worthy of the past, if the fruit of America's promise is not to wither before it has reached full maturity, our present pre-eminent need is to reaffirm the sense of individual obligation, to place clearly before ourselves the foundation on which personal responsibility rests, to determine the causes of its decay and to seek the means by which it can be revived. . . .

"The foremost signs of the decline of personal responsibility are to be found in the family. . . .

"Equally conspicuous is the evidence of decline in the sense of responsibility within our industrial organization and in our general economic life. . . .

"Although personal responsibility and initiative have been our national characteristics, explaining in large measure our country's progress in human welfare, yet pressures are growing for a constantly greater reliance on the collectivity rather than on the individual. An inordinate demand for benefits, most easily secured by the pressures of organization, has led an ever-growing number of our people to relinquish their rights and to abdicate their responsibilities. . . .

"The tendency to delegate excessive responsibility to an organization is discernible also in the realm of international affairs: Some manifest no sense of personal responsibility in the affairs of the international community. . . .

"Our Holy Father has pointed out the capacity of the individual to face such problems. . . . 'For socialization is not the result of forces of nature acting according to determination that cannot be changed. It is the work of man, of a free being conscious of and responsible for his acts.' . . .

"What is personal responsibility in the context of man's relation to the world? It presupposes the acceptance of one's dignity as a son of God in whatever environment he may be placed and the acknowledgment of binding moral law. It requires the free and deliberate acceptance of one's obligations in the position he occupies — in the family, in the church, in the corporation, in the labor union, in the community, in the nation, in the family of nations. . . .

"The social pressures of today's complex life do not excuse from, but rather create a demand for, a greater exercise of personal responsibility. . . .

" . . . the social ideals and purposes of Modern Man, due to the declining influence of religious and moral convictions and the triumph of the material, tend in many subtle ways to efface the sense of responsibility . . . there is an excessive preoccupation with material security at the expense of spiritual well-being. . . . The correction of these basically moral evils and the restoration of a vigorous sense of personal responsibility belong primarily to the field of religion. . . ."

NOTRE DAME NIGHT, April 10

ED. NOTE: College graduates occupy a particularly strong position and are accordingly under particularly strong obligation to implement the appeal for personal responsibility reflected in the moral and secular approaches to American problems in 1961. The ALUMNUS presents a few selected highlights from both these significant documents, emphasizing their singular common goal.

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON NATIONAL GOALS

(HENRY M. WRISTON, Chairman; FRANK PACE, JR., Vice-Chairman)

"The paramount goal of the United States was set long ago. It is to guard the rights of the individual, to ensure his development, and to enlarge his opportunity. It is set forth in the Declaration of Independence. . . .

"In the 1960's every American is summoned to extraordinary personal responsibility, sustained effort, and sacrifice. For the nation is in grave danger, threatened by rulers of one-third of mankind, for whom the state is everything, the individual significant only as he serves the state. . . .

"The status of the individual must remain our primary concern. All our institutions — political, social, and economic — must further enhance the dignity of the citizen, promote the maximum development of his capabilities, stimulate their responsible exercise, and widen the range and effectiveness of opportunities for individual choice. . . .

"The great ideas that have moved the world have sprung from unfettered human minds. . . .

"We must bring up our young men and women to believe in the individual and to act on that belief. There are subtle and powerful pressures toward conformity in the economic, social and political world. . . .

"Respect for the individual means respect for every individual. Every man and woman must have equal rights before the law, and an equal opportunity to vote and hold office, to be educated, to get a job and to be promoted when qualified, to buy a home, to participate fully in community affairs. . . . Primary responsibility rests with individuals. . . .

"The democratic process functions only when the individual accepts his full responsibility as a citizen by forming considered opinions on public policy and by active participation in the choice of public representatives. . . .

"The development of the individual and the nation demand that education at every level and in every discipline be strengthened. . . . Greater resources — private, corporate, municipal, state and federal — must be mobilized. . . .

"The economic system must be compatible with the political system. . . . Too great concentrations of economic power in corporations, unions, or other organizations can lead to abuses and loss of the productive results of fair competition. Individuals should have maximum freedom in their choice of jobs, goods and services. . . . Corporations and labor unions must limit the influence they exert on the private lives of their members. . . .

"Whether nations will prefer freedom to totalitarianism is a vital issue. . . . Our goals abroad are inseparable from our goals at home. We must strive toward an open and peaceful world by making democracy ever more effective and individual life freer and more rewarding. . . .

"The very deepest goals for Americans relate to the spiritual health of our people. The right of every individual to seek God and the well-springs of truth, each in his own way, is infinitely precious. We must continue to guarantee it, for ours is a spiritually-based society. . . .

"From the first days of our history, every American has been responsible for his own life and livelihood, and for his family's and has shared responsibility for his neighbor's. . . . It is the responsibility of men and women in every walk of life to maintain the highest standards of integrity. . . . A basic goal for each American is to achieve a sense of responsibility as broad as his world-wide concerns and as compelling as the dangers and opportunities he confronts."

The Second Vatican Council and Notre Dame

by Rev. Robert S. Pelton, '45

An Associated Press news release of December third reported that the recent historic meeting of His Holiness John XXIII with the Archbishop of Canterbury "went well only as far as the threshold of great problems," but left hope for their eventual solution.¹

The fact of this historic meeting coupled with the planning of the coming ecumenical council should deeply interest Christians. It should serve to sharpen our thinking about the concept of "ecumenical".

The Meaning of Ecumenical

In Christianity today the word "ecumenical" has two specific meanings: 1. that which represents and/or binds the whole Church which is in communion with the Holy See; 2. that which gives evidence of a longing for and an awareness of the need to search for the full unity which Christ intended that His Church should have. The first meaning is Catholic in origin. The second is Protestant in origin. The first is present in the phrase "ecumenical council" as used by Catholics. The second is present in the phrase "ecumenical movement" as used by Protestants and adopted by Catholics.²

Purpose of the Coming Council

The meeting of the Holy Father with the Archbishop of Canterbury has deep meaning for the "ecumenical movement." At first many thought that reunion hopefully implied in such a meeting was the only goal of the proposed Council. Rather the purpose of the coming "ecumenical council" (to be called the second Vatican) will be to have the shepherds of the Church

... 1. . . . provide for the edification of Christian people; 2. (give) . . . an invitation to separated communities to seek unity; 3. to modify the Code of Canon Law.³

Thus the purpose of the council will not simply be concerned with ways of promoting Christian unity. Many other doctrinal and disciplinary points will be studied which can in turn internally prepare the Church as she seeks to heal the breach in Christendom.

The Official Members

For a council to be ecumenical, all the bishops who by their office have governing power in the Church must be called. Titular bishops do not have to be called, but they usually are. Once present they have a voice in the deliberations.

It is also the custom to call all Cardinals, abbots and other prelates who have special jurisdiction over a separate territory of the Church, the Abbots-General of various monastic groups, and the Superiors-General of religious Orders. All of these are members of the council in the strict sense. They take part in the discussions. They are given the right to vote on doctrinal and disciplinary matters.

Specialists in theology and canon law will be present in an advisory role. They will not vote.

In view of this there will be Holy Cross priests who are Notre Dame graduates who will have an official or advisory role in the council. The Superior General of the Congregation, the Very Reverend Christopher J. O'Toole, will be an official delegate. So will Archbishop Lawrence L. Graner of Pakistan. Bishop Alfred Mendez of Areceibo, Puerto Rico, along with Bishop Theotonius Ganguly of Pakistan, will likewise be invited. (Incidentally these two Notre Dame men were consecrated during the past few months.) The Most Reverend Paul J. Hallinan, the Ordinary of Charleston, South Carolina, a Notre Dame man and diocesan priest, will likewise be an official delegate, as will Most Rev. Loras Lane, Bishop of Rockford; Most Rev. John K. Mussio, Bishop of Steubenville; and Most Rev. Bernard J. Topel, Bishop of Spokane.

Already the following Holy Cross theologians have officially been asked for their counsel in the planning sessions: Monsignor William Doheny, Fathers Edward Heston, and Father Charles Corcoran of Washington.⁴

History of the Councils

There is a distinct character which has marked various groups of the councils.⁵ The first eight councils were held in the East. They were concerned chiefly with doctrinal matters. The second group of eleven — held in the West — were primarily interested in reform within the Church itself. This middle period ended with the historic Council of Trent. The new thread which began with the first Vatican Council of 1869 has a societal character. It would seem that the current intention is to foster a vital Christian society through the council. Thus the Church will be able to bring to bear in a corporate way the spirit of Christ in the modern world. One important means for strengthening this spirit will be through intellectually capable laymen.

Possible Points on the Agenda

There are many questions of interest to Notre Dame men which the council may well consider. For instance, there is a deepening commitment to the lay apostolate. In view of this it could be that the Council will provide legislation to increase this role of the layman. The official legislation of the Church does not spell out in detail this role. Yet the apostolate of the laity has burgeoned in recent years. It is relevant here to note that one of the prime movers of the lay apostolate in the United States has been Father Louis Putz, C.S.C., of the Notre Dame Theology Staff.

Means will probably be sought to bring about a deepening sense of corporate worship among the laity. When the Roman Instruction of the Sacred Congregation of Rites was issued on September 3, 1958, Notre Dame was prepared in many senses. The Summer Liturgical graduate work under the late Reverend Michael Mathis, C.S.C., has gained international renown. This has provided a scholarly center for a theoretical and practical study of the life of worship. This should have a strong influence upon the University Community and its graduates. Notre Dame is thus playing its part here in this growing sense of corporate worship.

The importance of ecumenical theology is becoming increasingly evident. The Church will need to develop a corps of men deeply conversant with non-Catholic theology. They in turn can aid the laity in developing the attitudes necessary in a modern pluralistic society. Providentially the United States may well have a key role in working out a sound doctrinal formula for the approach to such questions. Notre Dame should be in the midst of this.

At Notre Dame right now we do hold some private conversations with non-Catholic theologians in order to approach the threshold of understanding.

The Formal Sessions

The twenty-first ecumenical council will very likely open formally on January 25, 1962. This is the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul. It is the last of eight days of prayer which are devoted each year to seeking unity in Christendom. The official attendance should be over 1800. The language used will be Latin. Provisions — like those of the United Nations — will be made for the members of those Rites which do not use Latin.

Notre Dame Men and Prayer for the Council

That God's will may be completely carried out, all of us should pray deeply for the success of the council. In a special way our prayers during 1961 should be for this intention. The world sorely needs a united Christendom today. As Catholic university graduates we can contribute strongly to this end.

I should like to conclude with the official prayer for the success of the council.

O Divine Spirit who, sent by the Father in the name of Jesus, is present in the Church and guides it infallibly, benignly pour out Your gifts, we pray, upon the ecumenical council.

Grant that abundant fruits may come from this council; that the light and force of the Gospel may be increasingly propagated in the society of man; that Catholic religious and fervent missionary works may flourish with increased vigor; that a more profound knowledge of the teaching of the Church may be attained and that Christian customs may achieve salutary progress.

O sweet Guest of the Soul, make our minds firm in the truth and dispose our hearts to obedience, so that what is decided by the council may be welcomed with sincere respect and put into practice with a ready will.

We also pray to You for those sheep who do not belong to the one sheepfold of Christ, so that they too may ultimately achieve unity under the government of one single Shepherd and glory in the Christian name.

Renew Your wonders in our time, as though for a new Pentecost, and grant that the Holy Church, preserving unanimous and continuous prayer, together with Mary, the mother of Jesus, and also under the guidance of St. Peter, may increase the reign of the Divine Saviour, the reign of truth and justice, the reign of love and peace. Amen.⁶

MAN and the MOMENT

By Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, C.S.C., '41

A university education must be directed chiefly to inculcate the intellectual virtues. For anyone to hold that it is no business at all for a university to even contribute to the formation of moral virtues is in error. False thinking about values at high levels can topple all standards. There are those, who, under the pretense of free speech or liberty, care not at all for what the future holds. Spiritual values have a place in all of life and should have life in all of us. Read these words of a college president spoken over thirty years ago:

"College is not merely a school; it is a life. It is a school-life, of course, and the major emphasis, I affirm, is, as it ought to be, on study. . . . There are more things in heaven and earth — in the college heaven and earth, for it is a combination of the two — than are dreamed of in the philosophy of foundations for the advancement of college statistics. Man is not all mind; he is a creature of flesh and blood; he has a heart, and the heart, too, must be schooled in a curriculum which life itself supplies in those four years crowded with wonder which make up the college career of the student today. There are intangible realities, there are imperponderable values of which your carefullest statistician never in the nature of things can take account. Two and two make four, and the college student will learn that lesson through whatever complexities the formula may be extended. But there is another mathematics, a madder, wilder learning, more divine and nearer to the source of truth. It is that lesson which the heart learns of life itself — it is honor, it is chivalry, it is loyalty, it is love; it is dedication and consecration of self to an ideal and a cause. . . ."

A poet-priest and former president of Notre Dame, Father Charles O'Donnell, C.S.C., is the man who put the fire into those words.

Strong words they are as they point to the fact that those who had the privilege of higher education also have the obligation of being dedicated and consecrated to high ideals and honorable causes.

In what way did your school help you toward things spiritual? Notre Dame is unique in the many blessings it offers to her sons. The chapel in each hall has always been the proving ground of a boy about to be a man. No easy thing is it to be on deck each day and attend Holy Mass. A thousand excuses and a tired body with sleepy eyes can dangle thoughts of other things to do. Many of you can now look back with great joy to those days in the chapel. Others of you may regret your easy acceptance of thoughts that dangled. All of us, I'm sure, wish we had done more. It is so easy, in retrospect, to hope this way. We can see what splendid chances we had to build a storehouse of grace and prayer.

It is never so easy once we leave the campus to get to Mass and Communion. Now we know. Just to push a buzzer and be able "to hit the box!" Those days are gone. And the little red vigil lamp near the altar — gone, too. How many of those lights burn by day and night across the campus! Close your eyes and rerun a few stills, a few pictures in motion. See the halls you lived in. Hear again the loud shouts as a door slams and a radio blares. A would-be singer has volume without quality. And downstairs, off to the side, away from all the din of college restlessness, is the quiet of your chapel. Rest a while. Dreams you once dreamed when you were young have gone the way of most dreams to the waking.

The importance of the chapel in your life is only one of the many spiritual benefits. Next time we shall review a few other opportunities. You remember what they are. For the present — you are the man and the moment is now. We all had heights we hoped to climb. We all gave birth to great ambitions. And now, thank God, we live with what is in our range. Your parish Church is your chapel from the past. Trying to recapture the past is not too difficult if we take from the present all that we can.

A seed is just as huge a world
As any ball the sun has hurled.
There is, by God's swift reckoning,
A universe in everything.

'THE FIGHTING IRISH'

... defense of a tradition

(Reprinted from the Notre Dame Scholastic of April 7, 1933)

THE SCHOLASTIC's column "Splinters from the Press Box" last week carried what purported to be an explanation of the origin of the expression "Fighting Irish" as applied to the representatives of Notre Dame in the field of sports. Commenting upon an editorial in the Indianapolis News, the writer of the column placed the nickname as arising from an incident in the Michigan-Notre Dame game of 1909, and credited it to an alert newspaper correspondent.

The fact is, the expression derives its origin from no such casual occurrence and antedates 1909 by many years. The spirit out of which it grew was typical neither of any one time, nor any one place in this country. This spirit manifested itself often in open insult, not infrequently in destruction of property and almost invariably in social ostracism. Seared upon the pages of our history are examples of that spirit. Its concentration here in a name gave us a hallowed tradition. Indeed opposition to the founding of a Catholic institution in these parts found concrete expression in many ways. One of these still exists in the local town as a building which, intended for a college, is now part of a factory, and an adjoining street which is called "College."

From the very beginning games played an important part in the life of the students at Notre Dame. The natural impulse was to seek outside competition. At first this was reluctantly given. The events themselves were not always characterized by pleasantness. The receptions accorded did not always represent what we have come to know as sportsmanship. Advance notices referred to the "Notre Dame Catholics," the "Notre Dame Irish."

Even then, as now, the terms were not inclusive of the men on the teams. Dimmick, Philbrook, and Edwards, to mention only a few, were not Catholics. Eggeman, Neizer, Miller, Davila, among many others, were not of Irish blood. In point of fact, "Catholic" and "Irish" in those faroff days — not to speak of more recent ones — were synonymous, and either one stood for something which, to say the least, should be avoided. So with ribald jest, derisive taunt, and insulting phrase of all they held most sacred would the men be greeted on station platforms, in hotel lobbies, from the sidewalks and even from the side lines.

Professor Wagner

Professor W. J. Wagner has been granted a leave of absence for the first semester of next year to join a small group of International legal scholars working on an important project, at Cornell. The statute of the International Court of Justice and the constitution and laws of certain countries permit, and sometimes require, that, in deciding controversies, judges shall apply

"general principles of law recognized by civilized nations." No study has ever been undertaken, however, to ascertain what these principles are. The group of scholars working at Cornell, which Professor Wagner will join, has undertaken to remedy this situation.

Professor Wagner spent the academic year 1959-60 in France on a Fulbright lectureship.

Legal History

The Midwest Conference of the American Society for Legal History will meet at the Notre Dame Law School on Saturday, March 18. Among those appearing on the program will be Professors Francis A. Allen and Philip B. Kurland of the University of Chicago Law School, Professor Nathaniel Recognition came slowly and, strange irony, from afar. The qualifier 'Fighting' quite naturally was prefixed to 'Irish' and so it remained. The epithet of opprobrium to one generation became one of distinction to the next. The link between them all but unconsciously melted away. It was reformed by a new set of circumstances.

The war and post-war hysteria among other things centered upon the hyphenated American. Attempts were even made to tone down recorded history. Bunker Hill, Lexington, Ticonderoga henceforth should be symbols of an unfortunate misunderstanding to be condoned instead of symbols of a principle to be safeguarded. Catholics in particular were suspect. The frenzies that followed down to our own day need no recounting here. "Fighting Irish," thought some, should be dropped. Not quite so simply, however, is the course of history or of tradition to be changed. The Americanism of Notre Dame needs no such subterfuge.

The last decade might well be termed the era of slogans. Advertising experts stayed up nights to invent them. Manufacturers arranged contests to discover them. Sports writers tapped them out on the keys. Nor was Notre Dame immune. Dictionaries were bereft of adjectives to characterize the prowess of her men and, lo, there came forth the "Wanderers," the "Vikings," the "Nomads," the "Ramblers," and a multitude of others that had their brief vogue in the editorial rooms where they originated. Their justification was the fact that Notre Dame travelled so much, and that "Fighting Irish" was no longer appropriate since so many racial strains now composed her teams. We hope to have shown that the first was a contributing factor to the original name and the second as a determining element in the makeup of the teams never had any foundation in fact.

It has been well said that a people without traditions is already decadent. It is also true of institutions. No one can consciously sit down and say "let us create a tradition." It is something that unconsciously identifies itself, grows out of what is adequately described as the genius of a people. As such it is a sacred thing. To consciously ignore it partakes of the nature of a betrayal. Because of this we treasure and defend "Fighting Irish."

L. Nathanson of Northwestern University Law School and Professor Roger P. Peters of the Notre Dame Law School.

Dr. Dooley's Last Letter to Notre Dame

Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, '48, died on the evening of January 18 in a New York hospital. Five days before his death he was visited by Father Hesburgh, who relayed his request for prayers back to the Notre Dame campus. "The Splendid American" died just as the Notre Dame student body had completed three days of prayer in his behalf. A Solemn Mass of Requiem was celebrated for him January 20 in Sacred Heart Church.

In December Father Hesburgh had received a letter from Hong Kong, where Tom Dooley had been hospitalized for a recurrence of cancer that had attacked his spine. An eloquent expression of the faith that had overcome his terrible suffering and prompted his labors in Southeast Asia, a moving tribute to his beloved Notre Dame, the letter was distributed by Associated Press and printed throughout the world after Dooley's death. It is repeated here for the record:

Hong Kong, December 2, 1960

Dear Father Hesburgh,

They've got me down. Flat on the back . . . with plaster, sand bags and hot water bottles. It took the last three instruments to do it however. I've contrived a way of pumping the bed up a bit so that, with a long reach, I can get to my typewriter . . . my mind . . . my brain . . . my fingers.

Two things prompt this note to you, sir. The first is that whenever my cancer acts up . . . and it is certainly "acting up" now, I turn inward a bit. Less do I think of my hospitals around the world, or of 94 doctors, fund raising and the like. More do I think of one divine Doctor, and my own personal fund of grace. Is it enough?

It has become pretty definite that the cancer has spread to the lumbar vertebrae, accounting for all the back problems over the last two months. I have monstrous phantoms . . . as all men do. But I try to exorcise them with all the fury of the Middle Ages. And inside and outside the wind blows.

But when the time comes, like now, then the storm around me does not matter. The winds within me do not matter. Nothing human or earthly can touch me. A wilder storm of peace gathers in my heart. What seems unpossessable, I can possess. What seems unfathomable, I fathom. What is unutterable, I can utter. Because I can pray. I can communicate. How do people endure anything on earth if they cannot have God?

I realize the external symbols that surround one when he prays are not important. The stark wooden cross on an altar of boxes in Haiphong with a tortured priest . . . the magnificence of the Sacred Heart Bernini altar . . . they are essentially the same. Both are symbols. It is the Something else there that counts.

But just now . . . and just so many times, how I long for the Grotto. Away from the Grotto, Dooley just prays. But at the Grotto, especially now when there must be snow everywhere and the lake is ice glass and that triangular fountain on the left is frozen solid and all the priests are bundled in their too-large, too-long old black coats and the students wear snow boots . . . if I could go to the Grotto now, then I think I could sing inside. I could be full of faith and poetry and loveliness and know more beauty, tenderness and compassion. This is soggy sentimentalism, I know. Cold prayers from a hospital bed are just as pleasing to God as more youthful prayers from a Grotto on the lid of night.

But like telling a mother in labor, "It's okay, millions have endured the labor pains and survived happy . . . you will too." It's consoling . . . but doesn't lessen the pain. Accordingly, knowing prayers from here are just as good as from the Grotto doesn't lessen my gnawing, yearning passion to be there.

I don't mean to ramble. Yes, I do.

The second reason I write to you just now is that I have in front of me the Notre Dame ALUMNUS of September, 1960. And herein is a story. This is a Chinese hospital run by a Chinese division of the Sisters of Charity (I think). Though my doctors are British, the hospital is as Chinese as Shark's Fin Soup. Every orderly, corpsman, nurse and nun know of my work in Asia, and each has taken it upon themselves to personally "give" to the man they feel has given to their Asia. As a consequence, I'm a bit smothered in tender, loving care.

With a triumphant smile this morning, one of the nuns brought me some American magazines (which are limp with age and which I must hold horizontal above my head to read . . .) An old National Geographic, two older Times, and that unfortunate edition of Life . . . and with these, a copy of the Notre Dame ALUMNUS. How did it ever get here?

So Father Hesburgh, Notre Dame is twice on my mind . . . and always in my heart. That Grotto is the rock to which my life is anchored. Do the students ever appreciate what they have, while they have it? I know I never did. Spent most of my time being angry at the clergy at school . . . 10 p.m. bed check, absurd for a 19 year old veteran, etc., etc., etc.

Won't take any more of your time, did just want to communicate for a moment, and again offer my thanks to my beloved Notre Dame. Though I lack a certain buoyancy in my bones just now, I lack none in my spirit. I must return to the States very soon, and I hope to sneak into that Grotto . . . before the snow has melted.

My best wishes to the students, regards to the faculty, and respects to you.

Very sincerely,

Tom Dooley

ALUMNI CLUBS

Alabama

Our Club observed Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday on December 11th at St. Paul's Co-Cathedral in Birmingham. Monsignor WILLIAM R. HOUCK, Principal of John Carroll High School in Birmingham, spoke to the group of 21 at a breakfast meeting following the Mass and Holy Communion, and delivered an enlightening talk on ecumenical councils and, in particular, on the one to be held soon in Rome.

Our attendance, which is normally larger than this, was reduced because a number of our grads had to report for National Guard duty this weekend. However, we're pleased with the splendid participation in the club and are looking forward to a number of enjoyable gatherings and meetings in 1961.

The next scheduled meeting for the Alabama Club will be for the observance of Universal Notre Dame Night.

—TOM BOEHLING, '52

Baltimore

Notre Dame Communion Sunday was observed by 70 Club members and their families on Dec. 11. JACK OWENS was chairman of the event, a success in spite of the weather. On the evening of Feb. 24 the Notre Dame Club of Baltimore sponsored its first Theatre Party in several years. A benefit performance of the Vagabonds' production of "The Time of the Cuckoo" was held for the purpose of bolstering Club finances. The play, a comedy about an American spinster in Venice, originally starred Shirley Booth on Broadway. A 200-seat capacity was sold at $2 per ticket. Although he did not appear in the cast this time, FRANKLYN C. HOCHREITER was chairman of the benefit. The party was planned at a business meeting of the executive committee on January 17 at the home of President FRANK MURPHY. Among the planners were JUDGE GIL PRENDERGAST, GREG HALPIN, JIM MURRAY, and FRANK ROCHREITER plus officers FRANK MURPHY, DAN SULLIVAN and BILL GAUDREAU. REV. JAMES C. DONAHUE, superintendent of parochial schools in Baltimore, was scheduled to be the guest speaker at a noon luncheon meeting on March 14. GREG HALPIN is heading up the nominating committee for next year's officers, and a committee under JUDGE PRENDERGAST is examining the constitution for possible reforms.

Berkshire County

Three activities were held this fall in the Berkshires. A farewell cocktail party for Mary Ann and JIM ROEMER at President JIM O'BRIEN's home. Jim Roemer, of the South Bend Roemers, was the alumnus responsible for the establishing of the local club. Those attending presented them with an engraved serving tray. Jim is with the Contracts Dept. of Lockheed Missile and Space Division and is now at their Sunnyvale, Calif., location.

The first corporate Communion and Breakfast was held December 11 at the Jesuit Fathers' Novitiate, Lenox, Mass. DAVE KLINE chaired the committee, assisted by GEORGE and ROBERT NESBITT, and FRANK KELLY.

A late turnout of thirty alumni and sons greeted our new chaplain, REV. CHARLES VAN DUREN, rector of Dehon Seminary, Great Barrington.

Club treasurer, ED REAGAN, headed a committee of JIM O'BRIEN, FRANK LINEHAN, and ROBERT KELLY for our participation in the Pittsfield Catholic Youth Centers' College Information Night. The committee was ably assisted by JIM O'BRIEN, JR., a sophomore at school.

BILL FLAHERTY has been named to serve as chairman of Universal Notre Dame Night.

—FRANK LINEHAN, '45

The Boston Club observed Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday on December 11, 1960, by attending Mass at Blessed Sacrament Chapel, Holy Cross Cathedral. Our chaplain, RT. REV. CORNELIUS J. DONOVAN, '09, was celebrant. Breakfast at Red Coach Grille followed the Mass with Hon. John A. Volpe, K.M., newly elected governor of the Commonwealth, as principal speaker. Governor Volpe encouraged Notre Dame men to take an active part in their local government where leadership is so essential. REV. RICHARD H. SULLIVAN, C.S.C., '34, president of Stonehill College, gave an interesting report on the Ecumenical Council. Other guests included REV. JAMES LOWERY, C.S.C., '37; RT. REV. C. J. DONOVAN, '09; and DANIEL MARR, President W. E. DACEY, JR., '49, introduced ROBERT L. MARR, '58, breakfast chairman, who turned in a top-notch performance as toastmaster. Bob was assisted by four committee members: WILLIAM J. O'BRIEN, '44; RICHARD T. COLEMAN, '58; JAMES W. MURPHY, '56; and RICHARD WALWOOD, '58.

Newcomers residing in the Hub temporarily or permanently are asked to notify the club secretary of their residence here and their names will be added to our mailing list. The Club address is Box 887, Boston 3, Mass.

The Notre Dame Club of Boston extended sympathy to the family of FRED SOLARI, JR., '36, who died on Christmas day following injuries received in an automobile accident on December 23, 1960. Fred was a true blue Notre Dame man in every way, and the respect with which he was held by his fellow citizens was shown by the large numbers who visited the funeral parlor and the Requiem Mass at his parish church where 16 members of the clergy headed by our Chaplain, RT. REV. C. J. DONOVAN, '09, were in attendance. Fred leaves his wife, Cora, four daughters and a son. His Hobomock Inn in Pembroke was a gourmet's delight famed for good food and genial hospitality.

REV. FRANCIS BOLAND, C.S.C., second president of Stonehill College, (1950-1955) and former Dean of College of Arts and Letters at Notre Dame and a native of Everett, Mass., died in Veterans Hospital, New York City, on Dec. 31, 1960. He was buried in the Community Cemetery on the beautiful campus of the college he helped to found. The Club extends to his survivors and fellow religious profound sympathy and prayers.

Our standard bearer, BILL DACEY, '49, attended the Club Presidents Conference sponsored by the National Alumni Association held on the campus January 20-22, 1961.

Spread the fame of Notre Dame, and tell fellow alumni and friends to follow your own good example and contributed real big to the Foundation so that the University can be assured of sufficient funds to give the go ahead sign for construction of the finest Catholic library in the entire world.

Buffalo

After Notre Dame Communion Sunday the annual Notre Dame Christmas Dance, jointly sponsored by the Buffalo alumni, campus clubbers and alum-wives, was held in the Hotel Statler Hilton's Terrace Room on December 30, with music by the Tony Carnevale orchestra. Student organizers included HANK BURNS, JR., general co-chairman; President PETER J. CROTTY, JR., of the Campus Club, honorary reception chairman; and THOMAS RYAN, ticket co-chairman. General chairmen for the alumni were Mr. and Mrs. HARRY QUINN. Reception committee chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. RICHARD E. LEOSU; honorary chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN ENDERS, JR., Mr. and Mrs. ANTHONY C. ROCCO; committee, Mr. and Mrs. CLEMENT CROWE, Mr. and Mrs. HENRY L. BURNS, Mr. and Mrs. HENRY J. BALLING, SR., Mr. and Mrs. RALPH F. ELSE, Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM P. DOWDALL, Mr. and Mrs. CYRIL J. RICKARD, Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM B. LAWLESS, Mr. and Mrs. EUGENE C. COYLE, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES A. MOULDER. Other committee chairmen were: Mr. and Mrs. JOSEPH WATSON, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. JAMES AUSTIN, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. DON-ALD JACOBI, music; Mr. and Mrs. PAUL CARROLL, program. The table reservations committee under Mr. and Mrs. DANIEL WALKOWIAK included Mr. and Mrs. JOHN CONSIDINE, Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD FLANIGAN, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN MULLANE, Mr. and Mrs. FRANK FORGIONE. Ticket workers, besides those above, under Mr. and Mrs. JACK McMAHON included WILLIAM DOWDALL, JOHN FANNING, RICHARD WAGNER, GARY WEBSTER and, with their wives, PAUL BALLING, PAUL BESSER, PAUL CARROLL, WILLIAM CASS, JAMES CLAUS, JAMES DONOGHUE, FRANCIS GAGLIONE, GERALD KLEE, RICHARD KLEE, JACK LAVIGNE, DONALD MAHONEY, EUGENE MILLER, JOHN MULLANE, PATRICK NEVILLE, EUGENE O'CONNOR, RAYMOND RUSEK, THOMAS SCHAEFER, and JEROME TERHAAR.

The January 10 meeting at the Hotel Lenox featured reports on the Communion Breakfast and dance, plus plans for the Foundation Drive, Basketball Party, Club Directory, and Retreat. The First Friday Club met February 3 at the Knights of Columbus, and on Feb. 4 the N.D.-Canisius basketball game was followed by a cocktail party at the Hotel Lenox. The annual retreat was planned for the weekend of March 17-19 at the Columbian Retreat House, Derby, and Universal Notre Dame Night was announced for April 4, with Rev. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C., as guest speaker.

Burlington

The first fall meeting of the Southeast Iowa N.D. Club was held at the home of FRANK DELANEY. Dorothy and JACK DAILEY, '27, were elected president. Mary K. and FRANK DELANEY and Lucy and ED RILEY were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. The Daileys showed pictures of their recent European trip. Their son, Jim, completed his military service in Europe and joined them for a delightful trip.

The Burlington Golf Club was the setting for our October meeting hosted by our new president, JACK DAILEY. A small group attended.

In November, Dorothy and ED RILEY were our genial hosts for a buffet dinner.

The December meeting was at the home of Jane and DICK DELANEY. Attending were the VERNON BRINKS, JACK DAILEYS, JOE RIDGES, ED DAILEYS, ED RILEYS, ROLAND MARTELS and JOHN MUSSOLINO. John informed our group he is being transferred to Pittsburgh, Pa. Our next meeting was held at the Burlington Golf Club. Mary and ROLAND MARTEL were our host and hostess.

—(Mr. and Mrs.) FRANK DELANEY, JR., Secy.

Calumet Region

Following a successful Christmas dinner dance in Vogel's restaurant at Whiting, members pointed for the annual sports stag February 6 at Cesare Battisti Hall in East Chicago. Chairman TONY KUCHARICH signed his brother Joe, head football coach, as guest speaker.

President BEN DANKO pointed out that both the Christmas dance and the sports stag would help to swell the newly established scholarship fund. About 75 couples attended the holiday affair, under the chairmanship of DAVE OGREN. Four tickets to "Flower Drum Song," a musical playing in Chicago, were drawn for to start the scholarship fund, whose chairman is JIM GLENN. About 400 alumni and friends of the university were on hand to greet Coach Kuharich and several members of his staff at the sports stag. Two pairs of season tickets to next fall's home games and a football autographed by the coach and players were awarded, with proceeds going to the scholarship fund.

Secretary BOB WELSH, JR., needed a little help for this issue, having taken off with his father for a three-month tour of Europe, Asia and Africa. He promises something like a stuffed elephant for a door prize at the "Universal Notre Dame Night" dinner April 10.

Canton

December and January were busy months for the Canton (Ohio) Club.

The first big affair on the club agenda was the observance of Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday, Dec. 11. Forty men received Holy Communion in a body at St. Joseph's Church and then moved to the school cafeteria for breakfast served by the women of the parish.

Highlights of the program which followed the breakfast were the presentation of a certificate of achievement to Norman J. Nicola, co-captain of the local Central Catholic High School football team and election of new club officers.

Young Nicola, an all-city and Associated Press All-Ohio first team center selection, was praised for his leadership on the football team and in the classroom where he maintains one of the top averages in his class and is a member of the National Honor Society.

A similar award was made last year to his coach, John McVay. Coach McVay and the youth's father, George Nicola, were honored guests at the affair.

The certificate was presented by JAMES F. WEBER, '37, who stepped down following the meeting as president of the club.

New officers are: president, EDWARD A. MACHUGA, '55, with the dealer sales division of Diebold, Inc.; vice-president, THOMAS J. SEAMAN, '53, district manager of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., who may be remembered for his football prowess; and secretary-treasurer, CHARLES N. KOEHLER, EE '57, with the firm of Ballard & Mayfield Consulting Engineers.

Mr. Machuga had been secretary-treasurer of the club the last three years. Stepping down with Mr. Weber was the former vice-president, ROBERT A. RICHARD, '56. Both men now will serve on the board of advisors.

The club's major activity of the year—the annual Holiday Ball—was held Dec. 29 at the Onesto Hotel and was a rousing success. Profit were added to the scholarship fund which is expected to be activated soon in the form of a grant to a top local student.

The new and old club presidents, Machuga and Weber, and the new secretary-treasurer, Koehler were on hand Jan. 5 at Central Catholic High School representing N.D. at the Catholic College Night program.

N.D. was one of 31 Catholic institutions invited by the school to explain its program to junior and senior students and their parents. It might be noted that the N.D. representatives far outnumbered their competitors in the number of students and parents talked to. Ten boys from this area were accepted as freshmen at the university last September.

The club plans to begin making arrangements for the Universal N.D. night observance very soon.

Central New Jersey

President JOE SEPKOSKI was forced to forego a trip to the Club Presidents Council on the campus in January. The weather and the rail strike made a trip impossible.

To break up the monotony of the winter months the Central New Jersey Club held a cocktail party on February 5 at Oak Hills Manor in Metuchen. JACK MULLEN was in charge.

Universal Notre Dame Night was announced for April 15 at the Park Hotel, Plainfield, with Coach HUGH DEVORE as guest speaker. BOB ARRIX is chairman of the event.

Chattanooga

The Notre Dame Club of Chattanooga gathered for the Annual Communion Sunday Breakfast on December 11 at the St. Augustine's Church on Signal Mountain. Breakfast was served at the Chicago

Chicago's newspapers called the Knute Rockne Night Dinner, held Nov. 30, 1960, in the main dining room of the Illinois Athletic Club, the greatest Notre Dame sports gathering in the history of Chicago, and no one in the audience of 375 N.D. alumni and friends questioned the accolades.

Athletic Director ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE of Notre Dame, who was one of the featured speakers on the program, said that he could not recall a time when so many great names from Notre Dame football history had been together at one time.

The immortal Four Horsemen of Notre Dame—HARRY STUHLREHER, ELMER LEYDEN, JIM CROWLEY and DON MILLER—made one of their very rare joint appearances. News photographers from the Chicago papers and national wire services were on hand to record the events and send pictures across the country.

Among the former N.D. coaches on hand to honor Rockne were LAYDEN, HUNK ANDERSON, FRANK LEAHY and TERRY BRENNAN. Head Coach JOE KUCHARICH was the main speaker, and told the crowd that Notre Dame would regain its prominence in football as well as retain its "excellence in all phases of academic endeavor."

A special feature of the dinner, which was sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of Chicago, was the awarding of the Rockne Memorial trophy to Donald J. Hogan, Jr., all-state halfback of St. Ignatius High School. The trophy is awarded each year to the outstanding senior Catholic high school football player in the Chicago area. Prep sports writers from Chicago newspapers pick the winner on the basis of football ability, scholarship and leadership.

Each Catholic high school in the Chicago area nominated two boys for the award. The nominees, their coaches and principals, also were special guests of the Notre Dame Club of Chicago at the dinner.

JOHNNY LATTNER, one of N.D.'s all-time great stars and winner of both the Heisman and Maxwell trophies in 1953, presented the Rockne trophy to Hogan and medals to each of the nominees.

BILL DADDIO, HUGH DEVORE, DICK STANFEL, DON DOLL and BRAD LYNN also attended the big Rockne Night dinner. Track Coach ALEX WILSON and Boxing Coach DOMINIC NAPOLITANO also contributed to the night's festivities.

MYRON POTTIOS, captain of the 1960 Fighting Irish team; ED HOERSTER, former St. Rita star and most valuable player in the Notre Dame-Northwestern game; and BILL PFEIFFER, winner of last year's Rockne trophy while attending De Paul Academy and star of the freshman team at N.D. this fall, also were introduced.

GEORGE MENARD, president of the N.D. Club of Chicago, presented the "Most Valuable Player" trophy to Hoerster for his performance in the Northwestern game.

Others in the N.D. contingent from South Bend were REV. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C., Notre Dame Foundation office; HERB JONES, business manager; BOB CAHILL, ticket manager; CHARLIE CALLAHAN, publicity director; JOE DOYLE, sports editor of the South Bend Tribune, and BILL ETHERTON, commentator for the N.D. football film.

PHIL FACCENDA, immediate past president of the Club and chairman of the dinner, was toastmaster. Among the former Notre Dame stars he introduced were BERT METZGER, DAN SHANNON, DON SCHAEFER, JOE BERTRAND, ZIGGY CZAROSKI, KEN SCHUSTER, JIM MUNRO, BILL SULLIVAN and MAX BURNELL.

A number of prominent newspapermen also attended the Rockne dinner. Among them were DAVE CONDON, conductor of the "Wake of the News" column in the Chicago Tribune; Dick Hackenberg, sports editor of the Chicago Sun-

BOSTON—Head table participants at Universal N.D. Communion Sunday breakfast were: (l. to r.) W. E. Dacey, Jr., '49, Boston Club president; R. L. Marr, '58, breakfast chairman; Hon. John A. Cincinnati

The annual Communion Sunday dinner was held on December 11th. Mass was celebrated at 5:00 p.m. with dinner following thereafter. The speaker for the evening was Archbishop Karl J. Alter, who gave a very enjoyable and informative talk on the upcoming Ecumenical Council. The success of the affair was due in large measure to the efforts of co-chairmen JOHN MCCORMICK and JOHN CRONIN.

A toy drive was conducted for the benefit of underprivileged children at Christmas. A large number of gifts was collected by co-chairmen Paul Kelley and Mickey Schmitt.

The annual Scholarship Ball was held on December 26th. FRANK JOHNSON was chairman, and was ably assisted by BOB LEONARD and TOM ISPHORDING. As usual, it was the highlight of the Christmas season.

CHUCK LIMA presented Purcell High School with the Notre Dame trophy at their post-season banquet. It is presented annually to the winner of the Greater Cincinnati Catholic high school league.

Cleveland

The REV. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C., was the special guest of the Women's Committee of the Notre Dame Club of Cleveland at their annual cocktail dance held at the Terrace Room of the Statler Hilton Hotel on September 10, 1960. Mrs. LEO J. BURBY, wife of our club president, was Chairman of the Dance. In charge of ticket reservations were Mrs. JOHN J. REIDY, JR., and Mrs. ROBERT DOWD. Mrs. PAUL LILLIS was in charge of decorations and handling the entertainment was Mrs. PATRICK CANNON. The fine response by the members to this event enabled the Women's Committee to make their own personal contribution to the Scholarship Fund. The Officers wish to personally thank the women for their fine efforts in promoting this cocktail dance.

On September 13th, a quarterly business meeting was held at Rohr's Restaurant. Special guests of the Club were the new freshmen and their Dads. The Campus Club officers and students provided a one hour panel discussion on subjects of special interest to the new freshmen. The highlight of the meeting was the kick-off of the 1960 Scholarship Campaign with the announcement by Chairman TOM MULLIGAN that the prize for this year's scholarship drawing was an all expense paid weekend trip to the Notre Dame-Miami game on November 12th.

The drawing was held November 1st at Rohr's Restaurant. A large turnout by the club members enabled the chairman to present the Scholarship Fund with another large donation. The officers and members of the Club wish to commend TOM MULLIGAN, chairman, FRANK NOVAK and GARY VONDRAN, co-chairmen, for the extraordinary effort expended by them in making this campaign another huge success.

Another highly successful event of 1960 was the Annual Christmas Dance held at the Carter Hotel, Grand Ballroom, on Friday, December 30, 1960. JOHN P. COYNE and RICHARD H. MILLER were co-chairmen of this event. General program chairman was JOHN P. HRIBAR. Assisting the chairmen were LEO J. BURBY and DENNIS O'NEILL, JR. In charge of student reservations was the campus club president, ROBERT E. BREWKA. Nearly 600 people attended the sell-out affair with proceeds going to the Cleveland Club Scholarship Fund. A sizeable women's telephone committee headed by Mrs. JOHN COYNE and Mrs. RICHARD MILLER included the following: Mrs. LIONEL BALDWIN, Mrs. WILLIAM BEARGIE, Mrs. ROBERT BOUHALL, Mrs. THOMAS BREMER, Mrs. LEO J. BURBY, Mrs. PATRICK CANNON, Mrs. DAVID CARTWRIGHT, Mrs. ANTHONY DeBAGGIS, JR., Mrs. VINCENT DeCRANE, Mrs. JOHN E. DRAGOVITCH, Mrs. ROBERT E. DOWD, Mrs. GEORGE DURKIN, Mrs. FREDERICK FRIEND, Mrs. RICHARD E. GERBRACHT, Mrs. THOMAS McHALE, Mrs. RAY T. MILLER, JR., Mrs. RILEY MILLER, Mrs. ROBERT POWELL, Mrs. JOHN J. REIDY, JR., Mrs. AUGUSTINE A. STEFANEK, and Mrs. ROBERT W. WALLACE.

Connecticut Valley

Our Annual Communion Breakfast was held on Sunday, December 18, 1960, at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Hartford following Mass at St. Patrick's and St. Anthony's Church.

An innovation was established this year when we invited the wives and girl friends of the alumni to join us at the Breakfast.

The principal speaker at this affair was the Right Reverend Monsignor JOSEPH R. LACEY, Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Hartford. Monsignor Lacey gave us a history of the past Councils of the Church and an insight into the upcoming important Ecumenical Council called for by Pope John XXIII.

Dearborn

The first social meeting of 1961 was held January 10 at JERRY WAYNO's. The guest speaker was DR. DAVID BURKS, a State Department expert on Latin American problems.

The Dearborn Club's annual Dinner Dance was held on January 28 at the Botsford Inn. Cocktails and sirlin dinner were followed by dancing to the nation's top bands through the wonders of electronics. Early takers were the JERRY SARBS, GEORGE TOBINS, JIM KING'S, DICK KINGS, EMORY DAKOSKES, JERRY KELLYS, JERRY WAYNOS, JACK FISHES, RAY DeFAURVS, JOHN PANELLIS, and DON HICKSES—plus, of course, Chairman JERRY GASS and Ruth Mary.

Decatur

The Blue Mill Restaurant was the scene of our annual dinner meeting and election of officers. Elected to lead our club in 1961 were JAMES A. UHL, '53, president; GEORGE HUBBARD ('54), vice-president; GENE FORAN, '52, secretary and AMBROSE C. MORAN, JR., '48, treasurer. Directors elected were STEVE GRALIKER ('42), BILL DOWNING ('57), and RICH McDONALD ('55). A fine meal and a fine evening were had by all. RICH McDONALD was chairman of the event and did a fine job.

We are still holding our monthly luncheons at the Decatur Elks Club, 12:00 Noon on the 4th Wednesday of each month. Our December luncheon was pretty well attended—JIM UHL, BOB UHL, ALAN LANDOLT, BERNARD MARTY, GENE FORAN, RICH McDONALD, STEVE GRALIKER, MILT BEAUDINE (Sr. and Jr.). We haven't had any visitors since JIM RICHESON from St. Louis was with us in October.

GEORGE HUBBARD and Mary Ann are expecting another child in March (their 5th). George is still selling stocks for Tabor & Co. If George follows his own market advice he will be able to afford a dozen children. At this point everyone please cross your fingers and hope the price of soy beans and frozen eggs goes up.

BILL and Mary Liz DOWNING and FRANK and Kay LEX are also expecting the stock soon. The N.D. Family grows and grows. We are beginning to look forward again to another St. Patrick's Day dance. Financially these dances are a bust but that makes little difference to the spirit of the occasion. Maybe some of our N.D. neighbors from Springfield, Bloomington and Champaign can make it this year.

—MILT BEAUDINE

Des Moines

The Notre Dame Club of Des Moines held its annual Christmas Dance at the Hotel Savery, Des Moines, December 27, 1960, 9:00 P.M.—1:00 A.M. One hundred and seven couples attended, and it was a happy time for all. Keith Killinger and his band provided the music.

Chairman of the dance was PAUL EIDE, '52. Among the alumni attending were JIM BOESSEN, '54; JIM McCOMB, '54; JOE JOYCE, '54; JOHN PLANALP, '39; ROBERT DREY, '52; JOHN KURTZ, '55; and GEORGE J. PFLANZ III.

The following alumni also were present: DONALD BOSS, '41; JOSEPH CASEY, '41; JAMES DINNEN, '48; JOHN DREY, '50; WILLIAM FULTZ, '57; ROBERT KURTZ, '47; RICHARD ARKWRIGHT, '50; FRED J. NESBIT, '43; and CLEMENT R. SCHNOEBELE, '48.

On January 25, 1961, a luncheon meeting was held of the Des Moines Notre Dame Club to hear President JIM BOESSEN make his report on the Alumni Club President's meeting held at Notre Dame the weekend of January 21.

Luncheon was held at Hotel Fort Des Moines. In attendance to hear Jim Boessen were: JAMES DINNEN, '48; JOHN DREY, '50; TOM NOLAN, '54; HAROLD KLEIN, '26; JOSEPH BISIGNANO, '59; ROBERT CANNON, '50; CHARLES B. CONDON, '49; ROBERT DREY, '53; JAMES HAMMER, '52; JOE JOYCE, '54; GEORGE PFLANZ III, '43; KENNETH RENSTRAW, '30; PAUL EIDE, '52; and JOHN SWEENEY, '52.

On Saturday, February 11, 1961, the Notre Dame Club of Des Moines sponsored its annual Day of Recollection for married couples at the Dowling High School chapel in Des Moines. Father Damian of the Passionist Fathers conducted the services.

Alumni attending with their wives were JIM BOESSEN, HAROLD KLEIN, JOE BISIGNANO, JOE JOYCE, GEORGE FLANZ III and JIM McCOMB.

Detroit

The Detroit Club handled a block of tickets to the N.D.-Detroit Basketball game on February 11 the U. of D. Field House. JACK MURRAY is in charge of the distribution.

JIM MOTSCHALL withdrew from the directors and was replaced by JOHN O'NEILL.

The annual Weekend Retreat was held at Manresa Jesuit Retreat House, Bloomfield Hills, Feb.

17-19. MATT CARRIGAN was chairman and JIM MOTSCHALL was co-chairman.

Eastern Indiana

Universal Communion Sunday was observed Dec. 11 in Hartford City with Mass at the Marybrook Novitiate chapel. REV. LEO BLAIS celebrated High Mass with music furnished by the novitiate choir. Breakfast was served in the Riedman Memorial School dining room after Mass. President BILL CRONIN welcomed the guests, and REV. J. H. MORAN, pastor of St. John's Church, gave the invocation. Father Blais was the speaker on the Ecumenical Council, and JOE SCHEIDLER of the N.D. faculty was a special guest. Present were Mayor WILLIAM SMITH, Mr. and Mrs. C. U. BARABE, Mr. and Mrs. PATRICK LARKIN and family, JOE and JIM SCHEIDLER, Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS CANNON and family, Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM CRAIG, SR., and family, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES HALLIGAN and family, Mr. and Mrs. NORBERT HART and family, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN C. HYNES and family, and Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM McDONALD, plus representatives of the Schweier, Cronin and Wiley families.

Ecuador

We did it again! (No reference to Destry Rides Again). In February our famous Notre Dame alumni got together once more. This time the meeting was held at the Hotel Quinto, in the dining room called, "The Top of the World." It was quite pleasant, even though some of the alumni failed me at the last moment and others could not come for several reasons. Pictures were taken and in this issue you can see, from left to right: First Row, JOHN G. MOELLER, JOSE ANDRADE, ERNESTO ITURRALDE, FRANK PINTO, ALBERTO PEREZ, TEMISTOCLES TERAN and FERNANDO ESPINOZA. Second Row, from left to right: JAIME PINTO, Mrs. Pinto, Mrs. Perez, Mrs. Serrano, GALE SERRANO, Mrs. Teran, PHILIP AGEE, Mrs. Agee, Mrs. Moeller, Mrs. Frank Pinto and Mrs. Espinoza.

Members of the alumni who could not attend the dinner were: RAMIRO SAMANIEGO, OSWALDO ARROYO, LUIS GALVEZ, ANTONIO MORTENSEN (secretary and treasurer of the Club, who never works as secretary but does not let the little money we have go), GERMAN GRIJALVA, ALFREDO ESPINOZA, ALBERTO ENRIQUIZ, RAFAEL GARCIA, JAIME CARRASCO and ALEJANDRO VILLAVICENCIO.

A recent guest was Mr. ABDALLAH SAMUEL ADELO, Special Representative of Kendavis Industries Inc. Mr. Adelo received his A.B. in 1947 and his LL.B. in 1954. FRANK PINTO invited him for lunch at the Hotel Quinto and I had a small cocktail party in my home that evening, after which OSWALDO ARROYO invited him for dinner at the above mentioned Hotel. The following morning I had the pleasure of accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Adelo to the airport, where they caught the plane for Guayaquil and later on to Lima, where they were planning to see my good friend ENRIQUE LULLI.

Our next meeting will be either in my home or in the home of one of the Pinto brothers. There is always a better atmosphere in a private home than in a hotel. I will keep you posted as to these activities.

All of the Alumni wish me to express for them our sincere condolence to the University at the death of FATHER CUNNINGHAM. I was informed of this regrettable event by Professor WALTER LANGFORD of the Modern Language Department.

—JOHN G. MOELLER, Pres.

Flint

The Sixth Annual Notre Dame Club of Flint Communion Sunday was held at St. Joseph's Hospital Chapel on December 18, 1960. REV. JOHN J. CAVANAUGH, former president of Notre Dame, offered the Mass and gave a short talk. The Mass was followed by breakfast at Stedman's Restaurant. In attendance were: the EARL L. BEAU-CHAMP family, THOS. F. HALLIGAN family, RAYMOND J. KELLY family, TED MANYAK family, ARTHUR PARADISE family, DANIEL P. SHERRAN family, VICTOR GEORGE family, PAUL HUGHES family, ALFRED MANSOUR family, THEODORE MANSOUR, T. G. RANDALL family, JAMES J. SHERRY family and ROBERT J. SIBILSKY family.

Father Cavanaugh's talk included a fine report on the University. This was followed by a very interesting question-and-answer period.

President VICTOR E. GEORGE presented Father Cavanaugh with a check for $1000.00 from the Club. Our club had previously sent in $400.00 in February of 1960 making a total amount of $1400.00.

RAYMOND J. KELLY, JR., was in charge of arrangements. There was a total attendance of 80 at the Breakfast. The guests included Father Cavanaugh's sister Ann from Owosso, Mr. Joseph Mulhall and son Joseph (who is also a 1960 graduate) from Owosso. Honorary member A. R. Campbell, our Notre Dame Club Man of the Year, joined honorary member Claude O. Darby and Mrs. Darby, who arranged the breakfast at Stedman's. Other guests were the Thomas J. Smith and Edward G. Delehanty families.

JIM SHERRY, JR., TOM HALLIGAN and PAUL HUGHES have been appointed to the Special Gifts Committee for the Library Fund drive for this area.

Fort Lauderdale

Officers for the year 1961 are: THOMAS J. WALKER, '42, president; JOHN L. CALLAN, '21, vice president; THOMAS B. MAUS, '57, secretary; and EDWARD J. TROMBETTA, '60, treasurer.

The Seventh Annual Florida Convention will be sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of Fort Lauderdale at the Beach Club Hotel, Naples, Florida, on the week-end of April 21, 22 and 23, 1961.

The price of the three day week-end will be $70 per couple or $35 a person. The Beach Club is loaded with attractions, golf, tennis, bowling, swimming, pier and surf fishing, etc., plus all the features of past Notre Dame Conventions, cocktail parties, Monte Carlo night, style show and banquet.

In view of the wide response from other Clubs throughout the country, we again welcome reservations from outside the State. Call or write TOM MAUS, 710 E. Las Olas Blvd., Fort Lauderdale, Florida, phone Jackson 2-1473, for reservations or further information.

—BILL MAUS, JR., '53

Fort Wayne

In December the Fort Wayne Club elected a new president, ROBERT R. LUTHER, '49. Bob will serve a two-year term beginning in April, 1961. He anticipated the term by attendance at the Club Presidents Council on the campus in late January.

Hawaii

The Notre Dame Club of Hawaii has been busy with the following activities:

1. Communion Breakfast on December 11, 1960, with breakfast at Woody's at the International Marketplace following Mass and Communion at the Chapel of Chaminade College, our Catholic college here in Hawaii. FATHER ROBERT MACKEY, president of Chaminade, spoke to the Club on the Ecumenical Council.

2. Luncheon on January 7, 1961, at the Wilhows to honor JOE KUCHARICH, who came to Honolulu to coach one of the teams in our Hula Bowl on January 8. Coach Kuharich had a tight schedule, and we were happy that he could take some time out to visit.

3. Business meeting on January 19, 1961, at which the following officers were elected: DONALD C. MACHADO, president; NEIL VASCONCELLES, vice-president; ARTHUR NAKAMARU, secretary; and THOMAS FLYNN, treasurer. At this meeting an exciting decision was made. The Club is underwriting and sponsoring an evening course at Chaminade College on the Second Vatican Council, an eight-week course on various aspects of the council with lectures on the history, program and function of ecumenical councils, the laity, liturgical reform, and prospects for eventual unity with the Protestant and Orthodox Churches.

—DON MACHADO, Pres.

Indianapolis

AL SMITH, '34, of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, was chairman of the first annual "Hoosier Classic Luncheon" this past Christmas holiday. Our club, along with the alumni clubs of Purdue, Butler, and Illinois, sponsored the basketball teams of their schools during this well-attended sports gathering at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. We were able to watch the Jordanien break even for third place by beating Illinois and losing to Purdue. We all enjoyed spending a few days with JOHN JORDAN, JIM GIBBONS, CHARLEY CALLAHAN, FATHER BARRY and the rest of the traveling squad.

Also during the Christmas season the Indianapolis Campus Club held its Annual Candlelight Formal dance. TOM KURKER, '62, was the chairman for the student club, and DICK McNAMARA, '54, was the alumni representative. As usual, it was a huge success, with the renewing of old friendships along with "good cheer."

Our Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday was held on December 11. FATHER THOMAS JONES, C.S.C., was our excellent speaker for this annual father-and-son breakfast. His topic on the Ecumenical Council was indeed very timely, and the full house enjoyed every minute of his speech. LEO BARNHORST, '49, was the chairman and toastmaster. He introduced such guests as MOST REV. PAUL SCHULTE, our Archbishop; REV. WILLIAM SCHMIDT, S.J., superintendent of the new Jesuit Prep School in Indianapolis; REV. RAYMOND BOSLER, editor of the Archdiocesan paper; and BROTHER GILES, C.S.C., principal of Indianapolis Cathedral High School.

JACK RYAN, '41, was elected judge of the Indiana Appellate Court on the G.O.P. ticket last November. . . . Several new ND men in town: CHUCK PUNTILLO, '58, an ex-member of the football team, is now a student in the Indiana University School of Dentistry; DR. FRED POEHLER, M.D., '54, also an ex-football player, is practicing here.

Kentucky

The Notre Dame Club of Kentucky turned out in force at Freedom Hall in Louisville on December 7 to represent the University at the Notre Dame-University of Kentucky basketball game. The enthusiasm of the Club members and their friends was not enough, however, to provide the winning margin for Notre Dame. Our thanks to ROG HUTER who arranged for the tickets and did a tremendous job in distributing them. We hope to make this game an annual event and invite all Notre Dame Alumni in the area to plan to be with us next year.

The week of December 5 was an active one for all club members. The game on December 7 was followed by our annual Family Communion Supper on December 8. JOE BOWLING, '52, our Spiritual Committee Chairman, did an outstanding job in handling all the arrangements, and was rewarded by the fine turnout. The Mass was said in Pope Pius X Church. The Club was privileged to have FR. BOB GRAY as the speaker. Fr. Gray is a graduate of Notre Dame and the Club Chaplain. He spoke on the forthcoming Ecumenical Council.

The curtain was lowered on Notre Dame Club activities for 1960 with our annual Christmas dance on December 29. The dance, one of the most successful in recent years, was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Brown Hotel. Many new faces were on the scene to bid farewell to 1960 and give the New Year a premature welcome. Our thanks to all the club members who helped to make this dance a success—particularly JACK DAUGHERTY, '50, and PAUL MALONEY, '52.

—THOMAS A. BRAND, Secy.

La Crosse

The following men were elected officers of the Notre Dame Club of La Crosse, Wisconsin, for 1961: STEVE PAVELA, president; BILL MURPHY, vice-president; BERNIE LAVINS, secretary; and DON SIEGER, treasurer. President Pavela was on the campus for the Club Presidents Council January 20-22.

—BERNIE LAVINS, Secy.

Lansing

The Notre Dame Club of Lansing observed Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday on December 18. The Mass was celebrated in the chapel of the St. Vincent's Home, with our chaplain, MSGR. SLOWEY, officiating. After Mass alumni and families stayed on at St. Vincent's for a "continental" breakfast. Secretary JOHN POWERS handled the details.

Plans for a joint Catholic alumni Christmas dinner-dance were dropped for lack of interest, but work proceeded on subscriptions for the Library drive.

Late thanks to C. J. HESS for his handling of a fine smoker back in November. Another noteworthy November happening was the arrival of Jean Ann for Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT MOONEY, first daughter after seven consecutive sons.

First Monday luncheons continue in the dining room of the Capital Park Motor Hotel.

—JOHN POWERS, Secy.

McHenry County

The Notre Dame Club of McHenry County, Ill., observed Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday on Dec. 11 with a Mass, breakfast and commentary on the Ecumenical Council. We were able to use the facilities of our new Marion Central High School in Woodstock, and the Mass was offered in the student chapel there. Our speaker was FATHER CONSTANTINE, who is the superior of St. Mary's Seminary in Crystal Lake, formerly a chaplain in the United States Air Force with the rank of colonel and first chaplain of the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo. Father Constantine has traveled extensively and has a fine reputation as an educator and speaker. He delivered a scholarly commentary on the aims and probable results of the Ecumenical Council.

—JOSEPH A. CONERTY, JR., Pres.

Maine

Sad news from Maine indicates that JOHN F. LAUGHLIN, Class of '54, will be moving from Maine to Syracuse, New York the end of January. Since we have all too few alumni in the State we can ill afford to lose John.

The Notre Dame Concert Band will be playing in Lewiston on the Saturday after Easter, April 8th, and we look forward to a wonderful concert.

Maine is rather quiet for alumni activities this time of the year but we hope to continue to grow and be active as time and our limited membership permits.

—RAY GEIGER, Secy.

Mansfield

To round its 1960 activities, the Notre Dame Club of Mansfield, Ohio, held a Holiday Dance on December 28, at the Knights of Columbus Home. Approximately sixty couples—members and guests—enjoyed a social hour from 9 to 10 P.M. and dancing from 10 P.M. to 1 A.M.

Committees in charge of the affair were as follows: General Chairman, JOHN C. O'DONNELL, SR., '24; Hall, JAMES J. O'DONNELL, '51; Orchestra, RICHARD L. WALTER, '41; Refreshments, MARSHALL E. PRUNTY, JR., '50; Decorations, Mrs. GEORGE F. KAVANAUGH and Mrs.

JOHN C. O'DONNELL, SR.; Tickets and invitations, Mrs. RICHARD L. WALTER.

Miami

The Miami Notre Dame Club held its annual election in January, and the new officers took their posts at the February meeting. JIM SMITH was elected to a second term as president along with the following new officers: DR. BILL WELCH, first vice-president; DR. BILL McSHANE, second vice-president; GEORGE HERO, treasurer; and BOB PROBST, secretary. MIKE ZOROVICH, BILL STREETER, JIM WILSON, and JOHN CANANE were elected to the board of directors.

President Smith pointed out at the end of 1960 that the chief goal of the Club would be maximum participation with the Library Drive and the program of the Notre Dame Foundation. He stressed the importance of the Ford Foundation's pledge to match funds contributed by alumni and friends.

He also announced that the Florida State Convention held in past years at the Sea Ranch Hotel in Fort Lauderdale, will be moved and revitalized. The Miami, Fort Lauderdale, and West Palm Beach Club presidents arranged to have the convention at the Beach Club in Naples, Fla., April 21-23. At a cost of $33 per person, the planners believe that the facilities will make the 1961 Convention the best ever held. It will be under joint sponsorship, with the West Palm Beach Club handling Friday details, Fort Lauderdale arranging the Saturday night banquet, and Miami in charge of daytime activities all three days. As in the past, vacationing Irish and their wives are welcomed from all over the U.S.

Mid-Hudson Valley

On Saturday, November 12, the Mid-Hudson Valley Alumni and wives travelled to New York City for the Club's Theatre Party. The show was the Pulitzer Prize and New York Drama Critics Award winning musical, "Fiorello!" The show was followed by cocktails, dinner and a night on the town with everyone thoroughly enjoying this latest Club activity.

At the Newburgh City Club on November 17th, the Club heard Rev. George Croft, O.M.I., speak on "Thanksgiving and its Meaning to Catholic College Graduates." Main item of discussion on the business agenda was the recent $6,000,000 Ford Foundation gift to the University. Alumni attending a Club function for the first time were BRIAN K. O'SULLIVAN, '60 and ROBERT K. MILLER, '39. Brian is a native of Newburgh who returned home following graduation, while Bob is employed as a civil engineer on the construction of the new high school in neighboring Montgomery. Club Vice-Pres. CHARLIE BECK coordinated this meeting.

In observance of Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday, the annual Father-Son Communion Breakfast was held on December 11. Rev. Francis J. Fallon, S.J., Rector of St. Andrew-on-Hudson Seminary, was scheduled to celebrate the Mass and speak at the breakfast on "The Ecumenical Council," this year's common theme. At the very last moment Father Fallon was called out of town, and Father Pouthier, S.J., filled in as a replacement. Mass was celebrated in the Madonna Della Strada Chapel at St. Andrew-on-Hudson with the breakfast following at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie. Attending a Club activity for the initial time was CHARLIE MANERI, '60.

Flash! U.N.D. Night on April 8 will feature Coach HUGH DEVORE.

New Jersey

The 23rd annual Communion Breakfast of the Notre Dame Alumni Association of New Jersey on December 11 managed to beat out the State's first big snowstorm by a few hours. For the second straight year, the affair was held at the Robin Hood Inn, Clifton, following 10 o'clock Mass at St. Philip the Apostle Church, also in Clifton.

The family-style breakfast was highlighted by the presence of REV. JOHN A. O'BRIEN, dean of Seton Hall University-College, Newark and Jersey City, who gave a lively and informative talk on the "Ecumenical Council." Chairman BILL KIRCHNER and co-chairman PETE REGAN managed to corral a representative turnout for the occasion, including most of the "old reliables" who usually insure the success of each club function. However, "standing room only" was not the order of the day.

Among the familiar faces on hand, some with their family and friends, were ANGELO AMATO, "BERT" BERTELLI, SAL BONTEMPO, HANK BORDA, BOB BUTLER, JOSEPH M. BYRNE,

Prior to the Communion Breakfast, the Notre Dame Glee Club visited Newark on November 26 for a one-night stand at St. Benedict's High School auditorium, compliments of HARRY DURKIN who handled the arrangements. Another item, apparently lost in the shuffle, was that MICKEY DOYLE copped top honors at the club's annual golf outing at Glen Ridge Country Club with a neat 71. Not bad for a guy pushing thirty??

Your club officers, President JOE McKEON, Vice President BRUCE DOLD, Treasurer JACK SAND, and Secretary HANK BORDA, hope every member will strive to attend the upcoming "Universal Night" April 10 at the Mayfair Farms, West Orange. This is definitely the year's "biggest" New Jersey alumni event.

—JACK SAND, Treas.

New York

FRANK MCCULLOUGH was recently elected a Judge of the Supreme Court of the State of New York from Westchester County. Judge McCullough formerly served as a County Court judge and prior to that as an assemblyman from Westchester. We are justly proud of our fellow club member and we wish him all success.

Our Annual Communion Breakfast was again held this year at the Park Lane Hotel on Sunday, December 11th. The brunch was preceded by our Communion Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Mass was celebrated by Fr. EDMUND P. JOYCE who also gave the members and their guests a fine discourse on the accomplishments of our alma mater in 1960. Co-Chairmen GUS HARDART and TOM MURPHY did a fine job with the arrangements. Our guest speaker was PETER CAMPBELL BROWN, former Corporation Counsel of the City of New York. Recalling his days in Justice Dept., Mr. Brown warned of the growing menace of Communism and the subversion practiced here in our country. Pres. BILL CUDDY presented a check of $1000 to Fr. Joyce from the Club as a contribution to the Library Fund in memory of our late beloved FRANK C. WALKER. Mr. Walker's son Tom acknowledged the gift on behalf of his family.

BILL FALLON, former past President of the Club and for many years a devoted member of the Board of Governors was nominated and elected for the National Alumni Board. It is a singular honor to be nominated, a unique one to be elected. Bill will be a credit to the Board and bring honor to Notre Dame.

Due to the fact that seventeen inches of snow fell in N.Y. on Dec. 12th, the meeting of the Long Island Division scheduled for Dec. 13th had to be cancelled. LOU BUCKLEY, former professor at Notre Dame ad presently with the U.S. Dept. of Labor, was scheduled to address the meeting. Vice-Pres. TOM WALSH of Long Island is attempting to arrange for a new date.

All signs pointed towards Shrub Oak, N.Y., where Notre Dame men from the New York area gathered on Feb. 2nd in a group to begin a three day retreat. The Loyola Seminary under the guidance of the Jesuit Fathers was the Retreat House. Chairman GEORGE FRAZIER had been diligently working on this program for the past year. We hope he saw you there!

Stealing some items from JIM O'SHEA's Newsletter it is reported that JOE NORRIS, '43, of Long Island, died suddenly in December. Please remember him in your prayers. TIM CREMIN, '59, engaged to Miss Sonya Petronelli. BERNARD J. CONNOR, '54, now with Pepsi Cola in New York and recently announced plans to be married.

I am sure JIM O'SHEA, the editor of our Newsletter, won't mind my reporting the above. Jim has done a wonderful job with the Newsletter which we understand has become the model for other clubs to emulate.

TONY DIBARI and GENE MAGUIRE were the chairmen for the Westchester Division Cocktail party and dance held at the Larchmont Shore Club on November 13th. Approximately 60 couples attended and to the surprise of everyone, a prize was waiting each and all. BILL CUDDY won the basket of cheer, a real fix.

JIM POWERS, '52, is to be congratulated for the outstanding job he did as chairman of the Navy Football Trip to Philly. Over 1000 people made the trip on our special train. Jim even tried to get into the game itself but to no avail.

—BOB FINK, Secy.

Oklahoma City

The Notre Dame Club of Oklahoma City held its annual Communion Mass at the Cathedral of Our Lady of Perpetual Help on December 11th. A breakfast followed at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club. Rev. Charles Berton gave us an informative talk on the Ecumenical Council.

Wednesday, December 28th, our annual Christmas Dance was held at Twin Hills Golf and Country Club. This affair was one of the best we have enjoyed. Students and their guests were in good attendance along with a fine turnout of members and their guests. With good fellowship and music a really fine time was enjoyed by all.

Two of our members, ROBERT McFARLAND and CHARLES McFARLAND, were married at nuptial masses during December. Bob was married on Dec. 6 to Miss Joan Miller and Charles was married on Dec. 29 to Miss Ruth Hensley.

—AL R. DRESCHER, Pres.

Omaha & Council Bluffs

The Omaha Club recently sponsored a Square Dance, proceeds from which we proceeded to contribute to the Memorial Library Fund. Our efforts were greatly enhanced by the donation by LOUIS FINOCCHIO, JR., of a gallon of bourbon. Our expenses were minimum, and the charges for refreshments and admissions account for the good results. The success of the event was also due substantially to the officers of the Alumni Group, who contributed a good deal of time and effort. They are: D. HUGHES WILCOX, vice-president; WARREN YOUNGSTROM, secretary; and J. EMMET ROOT, treasurer.

On Sunday, December 11, we also held a Communion Breakfast in recognition of Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday. FR. ROBERT SOUTHARD gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on the subject of the forthcoming Ecumenical Council. He reviewed what prior Councils had done and illustrated their significance by reviewing the problems which the Church then faced, comparing them by illustration to the problems the Church faces today, and suggested, without being presumptuous, what might be done about them by this Council. Father Southard also discussed the mechanics involved in conducting a Council and its place in the Church. It was a most enjoyable and educational talk. Father Southard has a reputation for being one of the best speakers in this area. Accordingly, our Communion Breakfast was very successful.

Hughes' 57 variety of Christmas Dance—with ingredients of TOM HALEY and BOB BERSCHINSKI, both also '57, as co-chairmen—was a most palatable affair on Dec. 23 at the University of Portland Commons. Other hard-working committeemen were brother ED HUGHES, '55; BOB HEALEY, '53; TED MURPHY, '54; RUSS NIEHAUS, and old reliable PETE SANDROCK, '39. Co-Chairman Haley was really working under pressure—having become a papa on Dec. 20. Welcome to "Mr. Notre Dame of 1981!" And congratulations to Grandfather ART HALEY, campus publicist. Our thanks to the ladies, led by Mrs. Ed. Hughes, for the delightful decor of the dance.

Sorry to report BILL SCHMITT, '10, is still in hospital recovering from a hip operation. Football fan that he is, no doubt the Bowl games helped pass the year-end days for him. Speedy recovery, Bill!

Pres. CHARLIE SLATT, '33, reports receipt of a nice letter from FR. JOHN WILSON, C.S.C., retiring Foundation head, congratulating the Club on its high percentage of alumni participation in the '60 Foundation drive. Our 72 per cent is among the nation's highest. It would be higher if we did not include some "members" whom we've not heard from in years—but, like St. Monica, we keep praying for their return to the fold. Slatt was at the N.D. Presidents Meeting on campus January 19. Then on to New York and Boston for engineering group meetings. Hope you took your red flannels, Charlie!

Palm Beach County

The Notre Dame Club held a Christmas meeting on December 29, 1960. Those who attended were DAN and JIM DOWNEY, CHEATHAM HODGES, BILL MADDEN, WILLARD MAUS, BOB GORE, ROME HARTMAN, MIKE MAGAHEY, DR. J. F. COONEY, DR. BERNARD O'HARA, and TIM O'HARA. Associate members who were present were BILL and JOHN CLEARY.

Plans were discussed for the Florida State Convention to be held in Naples, Florida, on the weekend of April 21, 22, and 23, 1961. The Palm Beach County Club will be responsible for providing the entertainment for the Friday night opening of the convention.

The Club held an informal meeting on February 6, 1961, to discuss the plans for the Florida State Convention on April 21, 22, and 23.

A formal luncheon meeting was held on February 14, 1961. The Club was honored by the presence of FATHER O'DONNELL from the University. Father was accompanied by JIM FRICK and Mr. ACKERMAN. Father O'Donnell and Mr. Frick told the Club of the details of the new Ford Foundation Grant to Notre Dame.

The Club presented a farewell gift to President TIM O'HARA (Class of '50) who is moving to the State's Attorney's office in Chicago.

An election of officers was held. EDWARD D. LEWIS (Class of '54) was elected president; SAM BUDNYK (Class of '55) was elected vice-president; and DR. BERNARD F. O'HARA (Class of '48) was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Club is expanding due to the influx of northern residents and a tremendous increase in the Catholic population of Palm Beach County.

Also present at the meeting were DAN DOWNEY ('44), JAMES DOWNEY ('43), BILL MADDEN ('42), and DAN STACK. Associate members present were WILLIAM CLEARY, DENNIS CLEARY, and JAMES CLEARY, JR.

—EDWARD D. LEWIS, Pres.

Peoria

Peoria area Notre Dame alumni were treated to a visit by REV. ROBERT S. PELTON, C.S.C., on December 18, 1960, for the Annual Universal Notre Dame Communion Breakfast celebration. Head of the University's Department of Theology and assistant religious superior at Notre Dame, Father Pelton's address following the Breakfast was entitled "The Meaning of the Ecumenical Council to Notre Dame Men in Today's World." In his talk, Father explained the dramatic part that the University is playing in preparation for the Council called by Pope John for early 1962, and told of the participation of many Notre Dame men in the planning for this great Ecumenical Council. The complete text of Father Pelton's talk will be found in the ALUMNUS.

The Mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Cathedral by Father Pelton; host at the Cathedral was Monsignor M. V. Haas, Pastor. Breakfast was served at the Mecca Restaurant in Peoria. Co-chairmen for the event were BILL WOMBACHER, '50, and TOM ECKLAND, '53. Guests of the Club for the occasion were Football Coach Griff McDonald of Spalding Institute in Peoria, his wife, and All-State gridders, Fullback Steve Murphy and Quarterback Gene Abraham.

JACK POWERS, '53, was co-chairman of a Holiday Dance co-sponsored with the St. Ambrose College Alumni Club on Friday, December 23. Featuring the music of Walt Coughlin's orchestra at the Mount Hawley Country Club a gala crowd of alumni and students from both schools enjoyed the festive affair. Joe Waugh, President of the St. Ambrose group, was co-chairman with Jack.

Our best records show that the Notre Dame Club of Peoria include the following Monogram Club members: JOHN E. CASSIDY, JR., '48; FRANK E. FINNEGAN, JR., '60; JOHN J. JACOBS, '49; RALPH E. JOHNSTON, '30; ROBERT E. MANNING, JR., '60; JOHN A. NOPPENBERGER, '25; JOHN R. POWERS, JR., '53; LEO S. SCHRALL, '29; JOSEPH T. VOEGELE, '34; and JOHN F. WENDLAND, '25.

Our historical records also show that the Notre Dame Club of Peoria was founded in 1931 by the late DR. JOSEPH F. DUANE. Charter members included JERRY SHEHAN (dec.), DR. WM. WHALEN (dec.), MSGR. J. J. BURKE (dec.), GEORGE SPRINGER (dec.), LEO CAVANAUGH (dec.), SPALDING SLEVIN, SR., '00; JOHN E. CASSIDY, SR., '17; FRANK MURPHY, '18; J. C. DOLAN, '22; JOHN WENDLAND, '25; AL GURY, JR., WERNER HARTING, J. J. LANGTON, BILL MAY, all '28; LEO SCHRALL, ART FULTON, AL WELZENBACH, all '29; and JOHN RIDER, '30. These men were all from Peoria and formed the nucleus of the club along with several men from Bloomington and other Central Illinois towns. Presidents since Dr. Duane included: 1932, JOHN E. CASSIDY, SR., '17; 1933, J. J. LANGTON, '28; 1934, LEO CAVANAUGH, deceased; 1935, GEORGE SPRINGER, deceased; 1936, AL GURY, JR., '28; 1937, DON O'MEARA, '28; 1938, ERNEST HECKINGER, '32; 1939, WILLIAM J. MOTSETT, '34; 1940, JOHN F. SLOAN, '33; 1941, RALPH E. JOHNSTON, '30; 1942, ROBERT E. WARD, '34; 1943-46, inactive; 1947, DANIEL HECHT, '44; 1948, DONALD P. SMITH, '40; 1949, EUGENE SLEVIN, '44; 1950, JAMES KELLY, '43; 1951, LOUIS F. CRYSTAL, '36; 1952, B. J. GHIGLIERI, JR., '44; 1953-4, JOHN J. JACOBS, '49; 1954, DR. CLARENCE WARD, JR., '44; 1956, JOHN E. CASSIDY, JR., '45; 1957, RICHARD WALSH, '45; 1958, WILLIAM D. CLARK, '47; 1959, M. J. CICCIARELLI, '53; and 1960, JOHN F. MANION, '56.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. WARREN F. ASHBAUGH, '56, whose third child arrived late in January, and to Mr. and Mrs. TOM ECKLAND, '53, whose fourth, a daughter, came Feb. 2.

St. Patrick's Day was planned as the time of the annual St. Pat's Day dance, March 17, at the Peoria Country Club. BILL CLARK, '47, was named general chairman.

Universal Notre Dame Night will be the greatest of all time in Peoria, according to general chairman JOHN MANION. It will be celebrated at Mt. Hawley Country Club on April 12. The guest of honor will be Mr. EDWARD (MOOSE) KRAUSE, director of athletics at the University. Master of ceremonies will be B. J. GHIGLIERI, JR., '44. Awards Chairman H. A. PETE VON-ACHEN has announced that the Ennio Arboit Memorial Trophy will go for the fifth time to Manual Training High as the 1960 Peoria football champions. The coach and principal will be present to receive the award from JOHN P. NOPPENBERGER, '25.

—JOHN F. MANION, Pres.

Philadelphia

The 1960 Notre Dame Communion Breakfast was held in Philadelphia on December 11. FR. HUGH NOLAN of Immaculata College spoke on the Ecumenical Council, and the Club Trophy given for the outstanding Catholic high school football player was presented to St. James High, Chester, Pa. outstanding player Frank Gallagher, elected to the All-American High School Team as an end, received an engraved watch. The University speaker was Mr. BRAD LYNN, and JOSEPH M. WHITE, '49, was our chairman for the affair.

Universal Notre Dame Night will be held on April 15.

—BARTON B. JOHNSON, Pres.

Phoenix

In early August, 1960, a very successful afternoon of golf was followed by a banquet at the Phoenix Country Club. The banquet was to award two scholarships to Notre Dame, granted each year to outstanding students in the Phoenix area. We were happy to report that we had a number of well qualified high school seniors apply for Notre Dame scholarships and the men selected were outstanding.

In October, a universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday was very well attended. The breakfast following Mass was held at the Phoenix Country Club. A fine discussion of the Ecumenical Council was given by FATHER FRANCIS HARRINGTON, of Brophy High School.

Once again, the Christmas dance under the auspices of the women's Notre Dame Club was very successful. The dance was attended by 40 couples and was held at the Paradise Inn Lodge, in Scottsdale. Mrs. EDWIN CLEARY was in charge of this yearly affair.

It is anticipated that sometime in the spring the Phoenix Notre Dame Club will sponsor a visit of the Notre Dame glee club.

—WILLIAM J. DUNN, M.D., Secy.

Pittsburgh

The annual Christmas Ball at the University Club was one of the best. Over 200 alumni, students, and their ladies attended the frolic. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. BILL MCGOWAN, who worked so diligently, and to all the girls who made the phone calls. CARL LINK won the door prize, "a trip to Europe in a well furnished picnic basket."

The Retreat at St. Paul's Monastery took place the week end of January 5, with 92 retreatants taking part. JOHN BRILEY did a fine job in making the arrangements. HUGH IACOVETTI and President PETE FLAHERTY checked in Saturday afternoon for the short course.

N.D. Communion Sunday was scheduled for

March 5, a family event in the capable hands of BERNIE LYNCH. BISHOP CONNARE of Greensburg was scheduled as the speaker at breakfast in Webster Hall after Mass at St. Paul's Cathedral.

Rome

Following is an extract from a letter of Christmas greetings to all N.D. Clubs in the States: "Our warmest Christmas Greetings as we happily announce the inauguration of a Notre Dame alumni center in Rome where Notre Dame men, their families, and their friends are cordially welcomed and made to feel at home in Rome.

"As many alumni know, this hosting has been an N.D. project for the past five years. Thanks to the hospitality of the general proprietor of the Scoglio Di Frisio Restaurant, a horde of pilgrimaging Irish have been entertained and assisted there.

"With the increasing influx of 'our people' into Rome, it has become evident that we should acquire our own permanent home. So just around the corner from the Scoglio, we are now ensconced in attractive street-level rooms of the Palazzo Brancaccio in the very heart of Rome."

In tune with new developments, the roster of new members has lengthened notably: GORDEN DIRENZO, AB'56, MA'57, is here for a year of research toward his doctorate in sociology (and the first one to fall asleep in the new club); JOSEPH MARTELLARO (of N.D. faculty) and wife and three sons here on a Fulbright in Economics; ROYCE HUGHES studying Theology at the Angelicum; ORLANDO PROSPERI, Law '53, researching in legal medicine; BROTHER GABRIEL MURPHY, F.S.C., MA, Theology '60, stationed at General Curia of Christian Brothers. At North American College, JAMES SUCHOCKI, N.D. '53-55; MILES RILEY, summer '59; CLARANCE WAGUESPACK, summer '59; JOHN CARVILLE, '59-60; DOUGLAS BROUGHER, '58-59; DOUGLAS HENNESSY, '60. Subways there: JOE JAMES (brother of TOM O'CONNOR JAMES, '56); JOHN GROT (nephew of PHIL WALSH, '29); THOMAS DORAN (nephew of RAY DUERST, '26); LAWRENCE BOCK (plain subway); at the Passionist Fathers' house, FATHER A. SHEEHAN, C.P. (brother of JOHN SHEEHAN, '52); finally, DR. ENNIO CANINO, Italian architect who was in residence at N.D., and FATHER DAN CURTIN, C.S.C.

The Pilgrim Pad: BROTHER IVAN DOLAN, C.S.C.; BILL TULLY, '48, and wife; JIM KEEGAN, '59; PAUL CARRICO, '36; REV. ANTONIO BIANCO, CRSP. Ph.D. '61; HUGH MURPHY, '59; Ensign TOM FITZGERALD, '60; REV. BERNARD J. COUGHLIN, '26.

St. Joseph Valley

Most recent Club event since the record-breaking Football Testimonial Banquet reported last issue was a special testimonial dinner for JOHN N. CACKLEY, '37, attended by his many friends in South Bend and at the University. John, leaving South Bend after 13 years an assistant director of the N.D. Foundation and editor of the University magazine, is a past president of the St. Joe Valley Club with an illustrious record. He accepted the post of director of development for Fairleigh Dickinson University, four-time College Quiz Bowl champs, in Rutherford, N.J. A special song composed in John's honor by BOB CAHILL, '34, was rendered by a quartet composed of Bob, ART HALEY, '26; DICK BURKE, '40; and JOHN LAUGHLIN, '48. Among several nonsense gifts, John was presented with a set of matching luggage. BOB HOLMES, JOE HANNAH and others arranged the affair, and the toastmaster was President JOE HICKEY, '50.

Next events are the Rockne Memorial Communion Breakfast and Universal Notre Dame Night, featuring Alumni Secretary JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, '25, as the University guest.

St. Louis

An excursion to the Michigan State game, a visit by FATHER JOYCE, our Communion Breakfast and the annual Christmas Dance sum up the St. Louis Club's activities for the Fall and early Winter.

Over 100 alumni and friends made the special weekend trip to the Michigan State game. TOM MCGUIRE was in charge of details and was assisted by other officers and members of the board of directors.

FATHER JOYCE made an overnight stop in St. Louis to discuss details of the Ford Foundation grant with local alumni who will head the special St. Louis Fund Drive. DR. BERT COUGHLIN and ROLAND DAMES will head two special alumni units to contact local corporations and alumni.

Salina

New officers of the Salina, Kansas, Club are ALBERT J. SCHWARTZ, president, and NORB F. SKELLEY, secretary-treasurer. President Schwartz reported to the Club on his week end at the Club Presidents Council at Notre Dame. The Club planned a pre-Lenten dinner at the Brookville Hotel, Brookville, Kansas, on Feb. 11. HARRY STUHLREHER was a visitor in Salina last fall and visited with NORB SKELLEY and JIM FOLEY.

San Diego

Notre Dame and Syracuse got together sooner than expected on Jan. 19 here and honors were very evenly divided.

Athletic Director ED KRAUSE held forth here on Jan. 19 as master of ceremonies for the seventh annual Appreciation Night banquet and Floyd (Ben) Schwartzwalder, Syracuse University football coach, was the principal speaker. Among the 800 guests were more than 350 high school administrators and coaches of San Diego County who were the honored guests at this civic testimonial.

The banquet is sponsored by St. Augustine High School with five Notre Dame alumni serving on the committee. The Very Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A., St. Augustine principal, was banquet general chairman. Notre Dame men assisting him were: HOWARD BEILSTEIN, '47, invitations, programs and tickets; G. R. BILL, '29, principal speaker's schedule; THOMAS CARTER, '51, coaching clinic; RICHARD MARTIN, '43, decorations; and HARRY MONAHAN, '50, publicity, awards and special guests.

Martin, local alumni president, arranged a breakfast meeting to honor Krause. Some 30 alumni and friends took advantage of the opportunity to meet with the Moose.

Following the breakfast, Krause and Schwartzwalder exchanged views with local sports writers and television sportscasters. They then had lunch with a small group of prep coaches at St. Augustine. When Krause adjourned to his hotel suite to practice his ad lib, Schwartzwalder conducted a two-hour coaching clinic for about 100 area coaches.

At the banquet, Krause staked claim for Notre Dame to the collegiate football championship of California in view of Irish victories over California and Southern California.

Schwartzwalder explained the mistake Syracuse made when hiring him.

"They told the committee to get a big name coach," he said, "but they got confused and hired one with a long name."

The two speakers departed on the same plane from here, each attempting to pump something out of the other that might be useful on that arid date Notre Dame and Syracuse have on Nov. 18.

Krause is the second Notre Dame sports official to play a major role in this San Diego event. TERRY BRENNAN was the principal speaker at the first Appreciation Night banquet in 1953 following his first season as Irish head coach.

South Central Wisconsin

The first commemoration of Universal Notre Dame Sunday was held December 4th at the evening Mass at St. Dennis Church in Madison. WILLIAM GORGEN, JOHN TOBIN, KEN NIGLIS, JACK JAEGER and BERNARD MIXTACKI served on the program committee. Following the Mass, the club had a supper meeting at the Embers. FATHER RAYMOND KLAAS, vice official of the Madison Diocese addressed the group on some of the goals of the forthcoming Ecumenical Council scheduled during 1962 and also spoke on the history and accomplishments of other Councils.

Spokane

The Notre Dame Club of Spokane observed Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday on December 4th by attending Mass at the Cathedral of Our Lady of Lourdes. Following the Mass breakfast was enjoyed in the University Club on the Ridpath Roof. The guest speaker was Father Michael McAniff, of London, a visiting instructor in Theology and English at Gonzaga University. His talk was most informative and inspirational.

A special guest of the Club at the breakfast was Mike Lynch, sports writer for The Spokesman-Review, whom the Club honored for his loyalty to Notre Dame in consistently picking the team to win each week during the recent football season. Mike is a Gonzaga University alumnus and is responsible for the excellent coverage of Notre Dame sports events by his paper.

Club President BOB MERZ, '47, was toastmaster, and Vice President BERNIE SMYTH, '55, was in charge of arrangements. The following members and their wives attended: MONK ALBO, '35; DR. BOB DEAK, '53; FRANK HAGENBARTH, '27; FRANK HERRON, '35; TOM LALLY, '06; JIM LYNCH, '40, and son James; DR. BOB MAHER, '35; BOB MERZ, '47; BOB ROTCHFORD, '49; DICK ST. JOHN, '56; VINCE SLATT, '43, and son Philip; RALPH SCHULLER, '57; AL PETTIGREW (Gonzaga) and son; and JOE WALSH, '14.

The annual Holiday Party was enjoyed on December 28th by members, their wives, and by some of the undergraduates with their lovely dates. The delightful open house affair, arranged by the ladies, was held in the pleasantly hospitable home of JIM LYNCH, '40, and lasted into the wee small hours. By happy coincidence, it afforded GARY MYERS, '59, the opportunity to pass the cigars on the occasion of the birth of his first child, Molly Anne, who had arrived that morning. The following Club members and their wives attended: DR. BOB DEAK, '53; FRANK HERRON, '35; JIM LYNCH, '40; BOB MERZ, '47; GARY MYERS, '59; JOHN O'NEILL, '29; DR. JIM ROTCHFORD, '49; VINCE SLATT, '43; BERNIE SMYTH, '55; and JOE WALSH, '14. Special guests were undergraduates John Heskett, '63; Dennis Johnston, '61; Tim Kiehn, '61; Charles Tilford, '63; and prospective students, Ron Sageron, Pete Wander, and Jim Lynch, Jr., all seniors at Gonzaga Prep.

Tri-Cities

December 4th, 1960, we had our Communion breakfast and we were able to have MOST. REV. RALPH L. HAYES, Bishop of Davenport, as our main speaker.

December 24th, we had our Father and Son Luncheon with fifty some odd in attendance. GENE DUFFY spoke for the Alumni and Jim Naab for the students. TOM BRITT, '52, was in charge of the program.

Twin Cities

The Twin Cities Club held the annual Christmas Ball on December 13 in the Hall of States at the Lemington Hotel, Minneapolis. PETER J. CANNON, '56, was chairman of the ball.

Officers and directors of the Club are: JOSEPH T. O'NEILL, '53, president; EDWARD T. HAGERTY, '51, vice-president; EDWARD J. GORDON, '57, secretary; and PETER J. CANNON, treasurer. JAMES A. BYRNE, '40, is chairman of a board consisting of ROBERT E. CULLIGAN, '51; GEORGE F. HEIMEL, JR., '52; THOMAS F. McDONALD, '57; GERALD E. McKAY, '30; JOHN W. McMANUS, '53; THOMAS K. REIS, '41; J. PETER RITTEN, '55; and JOHN D. YEL-LAND, '30.

Washington, D.C.

In order to add a little merriment to the Christmas Season, the Washington Club planned a cocktail party on December 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. JOHN GAINE in Chevy Chase. Mr. Gaine is not an alumnus, but he is a parent and an active Notre Dame booster.

A revision of the mailing list and a dues drive were conducted recently by the treasurer, JOE MALONEY. Board Chairman CLIFF LETCHER announced the formation of two nominating committees; under chairman JOSEPH BORDA, WILLIAM MAY and EDWARD T. WALSH; under chairman JOSEPH DALEY, RICHARD SCHOENFELTER and EDWARD FENLOW. Candidates for president are incumbent ROBERT N. HUTCHINSON and JAMES J. GILLIS; vice-president, JAMES F. MARTEN and JOHN E. WOOD; secretary, ALBERT VIROSTK and JAMES L. SCHRADER; treasurer, THOMAS E. BAKER and JOSEPH P. MALONEY. Candidates for the board are DR. JAMES M. CORCORAN, PHIL MALONEY, JOHN L. KENKEL and CLIFF LETCHER.

A meeting February 14 at the Sheraton-Carlton featured a talk by ROBERT W. CAVANAUGH of the World Bank and discussion of the annual St. Patrick's Day Party, Universal Notre Dame Night (chairmen Dick Schoenfelter and Joe Borda, respectively), community service program (chairman JOHN DANIELS), and a report on the recent Club Presidents Council by President BOB HUTCHINSON.

Western Washington

Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday was held on Sunday, December 18. Mass was celebrated at St. James Cathedral, Seattle, and breakfast followed at the Washington Athletic Club. Guest of honor was ERNIE TIMPANNI, superintendent at the Washington State Reformatory, Monroe. FRED HOOVER was chairman.

A smoker was held February 9 at the College Club, featuring football movies, games, and refreshments. TOM MAY was chairman.

NEW YORK—At New York Club's Communion Brunch were (l. to r.) Gus Hardart, '42, co-chairman; Father Joyce from Notre Dame; Tom Walker, '42, son of the late Frank C. Walker, presenting $1,000 check from the Club in memory of his father; Peter Campbell Brown, guest speaker; and Tom Murphy, co-chairman.

Beauty in Exile

*Catholics Have Excommunicated Beauty From Their Lives
And Have Made the Artist a Stranger in Our Churches*

BY REV. ANTHONY JOSEPH LAUCK, C.S.C.

READING the eighth chapter of St. John's Gospel is like reading a story about our contemporary artists. The chapter, as you may know, tells about Our Lord teaching in the temple, and the hostility of the Jews and Sanhedrin there. The Lord tries to bring truth to them, but they reject it. In the same way the artist tries to bring beauty to the church in our day, and he, too, is often rejected. We might say the artist is cast out of the temple.

I hope that the reader will forgive the making of this parallel between the Holy One of God and poor, wretched artists. Nevertheless, there is a strong parallel, however vast the unlikeness. Our Lord was stoned and driven from the temple. Contemporary artists, too, have often been verbally stoned and their works literally cast out of the temples.

A few years ago a modern church was built in the East. An artist decorated the ceilings with a series of distinctive angel patterns, made from brass tubing. They were meant for decorations, not likenesses. (Likeness! Who ever photographed an angel?) Those who know about such things agreed that the angel patterns were handsome, animated decorations. But some of the parish people felt that they seemed to be caricatures. And so they were removed from the church.

A certain well-known sculptor carved and cast a large, simple statue of St. Jude for a church in New Jersey. To give the design more interest and variety, the artist shaped the body from a beautiful, dark tropical wood, and the head and hands in polished metal. It was not a realistic image of St. Jude. There were no crystal eyes or pink cheeks. It was a strong, virile sculpture. This St. Jude looked as though his prayers might have weight in heaven. However, some children in the school called the image "old steel-head"! I hope it was not because of a few irreverent children—but the image was taken from the temple.

There are other examples like these, but we need not elaborate further. The contemporary artist has been cast out of the temple many times and in many places. That is the point to be made. If his work has not been removed, perhaps it was never allowed inside.

How have artists reacted to this treatment? Many of them simply turn to secular subjects and sell to secular patrons. We have an example of this group in northern Indiana, Harriet Rex Smith. Mrs. Smith wrote her views in an excellent article, a few years ago, which appeared in the Catholic World. Zealous at first to put her talents to use for the church, she found nothing but resistance and discouragement for her efforts. Before we can put much beauty in a church, she said, we must take a lot of ugliness out of it. In most cases, that means taking almost everything out of it.

It was such an impossible task that Mrs. Smith for a long time abandoned the idea. She devoted what time she found from homemaking to secular art, such as landscape painting. Not long ago a large landscape of hers won the Grand Prize at the Indiana State Fair in Indianapolis. So far as I know, this artist has had few opportunities to add beauty to some church.

OTHER artists interested in religious subjects continue to produce them, but sell them to those outside the Church. In St. Louis a few years ago I met an artist from the South. She has set up a small shop there where she sells her own Father Lauck, a prize-winning sculptor and a member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1950, became head of the University's art department September 1, 1960. In addition to his sculpture in stone, wood and other materials, Father Lauck has specialized in stained and mosaic glass. He designed the stained glass walls for the chapel and library of the new Moreau Seminary on the Notre Dame campus.

A native of Indianapolis, Ind., Father Lauck received a professional diploma in fine arts as a layman from The John Herron Art Institute there in 1936. Before joining the Notre Dame faculty, he received a diploma in advanced sculpture from the Corcoran School of Art, Washington, D. C. He also has studied under Carl Milles, the late Swedish sculptor, and Ivan Mestrovic, who is now teaching at Notre Dame. Father Lauck has received many national and regional awards for his sculpture. His walnut sculpture, "St. John Beside the Cross," won the Fairmount Park Purchase Prize and can be seen at the Pennsylvania Academy of Art in Philadelphia. His "Monk at Prayer," a limestone sculpture, won the Widener Gold Medal. Other honors include the Leonard Cantor Award for Sculpture, the Myron Feinberg Prize for Sculpture, and the Distinguished Citation of the John Herron Art Institute.

Father Lauck has served as an art consultant and a member of several art juries. He has lectured on sacred art at several colleges and universities. He is a member of the Audubon Artists, the Indianapolis Art Association, the Provincetown Art Association and the Newport Art Association. He contributes to many periodicals, including Ave Maria magazine, from which much of this material is taken with the kind permission of the editors.

handicraft. It is religious work, but Catholics do not seem to appreciate its beauty. This no longer bothers the artist. "Catholics are asleep," she told me simply, "so I sell my work to Protestants."

There are many good painters and sculptors today who produce nothing of a sacred nature. Whether they are Catholic, Protestant, or pagan, some of them are capable of creating fine images, handsome designs appropriate for our churches, chapels or homes. But they do not. They have looked into church goods display windows and stores; they look into the churches of their towns, and they see little or nothing to indicate that the church is interested in art. They feel that the church is indeed asleep to the growing, blossoming movements in art today, asleep to the vast possibilities for putting new materials and new forms to work in the house of God.

Our best office buildings, bridges, homes, and even factories, are of the 20th century. Our churches, in most instances, are still of the 13th century! The artist is discouraged at this. In the great periods of art, it was religion that prodded beauty out of the artist for its temples. This was so in the grand periods of the Byzantine, Romanesque and Gothic. It was true earlier in the Egyptian and Chinese too. But today we are not even curious to visit the studios of the artist. We go to the corner store instead, and buy factory-made ware. So our artists are castaways. They go to church on Sunday and work for Mammon on Monday.

Some Catholic artists do not go to church any more. One such artist, whose name you know if you know your American art, belongs to this unfortunate group. He told me that his reason for falling away was that the Church seemed to hold a careless, antiquated attitude toward art and beauty. It is a silly reason perhaps, but it is the reason this man gives, and he is a serious man. Beauty to an artist, after all, is a serious purpose.

We tend to forget the artist's feelings on another score. We have heard people complain now and then that they cannot look at such and such a picture in a church. These people forget that there are many artists who go to church too. These artists must look at many a painting and statue and ornament there which makes them wince. They have had to look at these unlovely objects, denials of all their noblest ideals, for years. Let us hope the experience has not weakened their pity!

LEST we weep for unworthy victims, let us define the contemporary artist. The contemporary artist is one who is living in our times, and creating good vital work, work that is of our time. A contemporary work of art ought to reflect our way of life, and our way of treating matters spiritual and holy, our way of serving and loving God. In any sincere definition of a contemporary artist, there is the idea that he is genuine, creative, personal, original. What such an artist produces, I think, will be of our time, and will reflect our spirit. His character and his paints will somehow merge upon his canvas. Not every good artist of our time will become immortal in the annals of art history. He will not always possess that touch, that fingerprint of the muse, which sets him apart as genius. But if he is good, he will have judgment, taste and honesty. He will design well, draw with an understanding of structure, let his feelings overflow into his work, and produce painting or sculpture which stands up. This artist need not grow long hair or a beard. Instead of the traditional smock, he may wear overalls.

What is meant by "contemporary artist" may become clearer if we mention what he is not. He is not a man who paints from a pattern. He is not one who copies what someone else has done, no matter how accurately. You will seldom or never find him in the shops which produce church goods.

Where shall we find a good contemporary artist? You may have to search for him, but there are a few in almost any sizeable town. When you find him, he will probably be surprised that you want him—poor fellow. But he can be found. Perhaps he is not far away.

Placing the artist in the role of a castaway, we are, of course, taking to task those who have cast him out. Obviously, there are many works of art which have no place in the church, either because they are inferior as art, or inappropriate as sacred art. We do not blame anyone for the rejection of such work. The difficulty comes in deciding what is art and what is not, or what is fitting in the church and what is not. Of those who decide what shall be placed in the house of God, too many are not competent to make such decisions. Whether they are the reverend pastors, religious superiors, building committees, or altar societies, they may have no valid judgment in matters of art. They are too seldom willing to go forth in search of such authority.

Those who buy for the church or chapel usually take the simplest means. They go to the nearest store and select some ready-made bauble. This is why so few churches have character or distinction. St. Michael's looks pretty much like St. Agatha's or Holy Angels'. Now, without any doubt a church would have more character, more of a personality of its own, if the painting and sculpture that went into it were originals. And this is desirable for another reason, a more important reason: obedience to the Holy See.

In the Instruction on Sacred Art which came from Rome not long ago (July 1952), the Holy Office rules that there was to be no "stereotyped art" in the churches. If we go from church to church and find little or no difference between the statues of, say the Blessed Virgin, surely we must classify these statues as stereotyped. Hence they may be reprehensible in the eyes of the Holy See. The obedient buyer, who wishes to follow this direction from the Vatican, will deliberately seek out works of art which are original, especially created for it by first-rate artists, regardless of additional expense.

In nothing that I say, do I wish to imply that our good pastors and superiors are neglecting their churches. On the whole they are most solicitous. They are careful about furniture and furnishings, as well as the condition of decorations. They spend as much as, maybe more than, they can afford to keep the holy places tidy and trim. The linen, vesture, and furnishings are always of good quality—as they should be—and often the finest. But there is, of course, a difference between a well-kept building and a beautiful one. Expensive decoration is one thing. Beautiful decoration is quite another.

Who can decide whether a given painting or sculpture has any real artistic merit? Almost no one is competent to do this except artists, museum people, and perhaps a few experienced

1 connoisseurs and bona fide dealers in art. Surely if any house deserves the best, it is God's house. The best decoration belongs there today, just as it belonged there in the great ages before our time. Then it is surely wise and prudent to bring this matter of art selection to the attention of competent judges.

The buyer has been led to believe that church goods manufacturers know a work of art when they see one, and so he appeals to them. The best commentary on the dealers' judgment is what one finds in their windows and catalogues. These commodities reflect their want of discernment or taste.

2 IN speaking of the dealer in religious articles, I do not refer to the retail dealer, but rather to producers who design and market the multitude of sugar-coated horrors for us. The small dealer is manacled. Both the manufacturer and the customer have him handcuffed. He can buy only what is available to him. If the catalogues contain nothing but aesthetic rubbish, rubbish he must sell. The customer is often just as bad and blameworthy as the manufacturer. If the dealer found objects of beauty, the customer might not buy them anyhow. The customer is so habituated to seeing images of Our Lord, Our Lady, the saints and angels, which look like painted dolls, that he cannot imagine finding anything else there, much less asking to see it.

3 Is this rejection of the artist justified in our times? Is there good reason for refusing his work? In many cases there is not. Here are a few reasons for rejection that an artist often hears—his work is said to look unnatural, or it is accused of being awkward, or it is termed irreverent. Other causes for condemnation may boil down to these. Let us weigh these condemnatory words, "unnatural," "awkward," and "irreverent."

4 Is it wrong to allow a picture of some saint in our church which looks unnatural? An image is usually called unnatural when its proportions or features differ from normal anatomical ones. Maybe the eyes are larger than usual, the face a bit longer or flatter. But this is not what makes a painting bad. Too many of us still have the incorrect idea of the artist's function. It is not to copy nature. That is the proper function of the camera.

5 The artist's job, rather, is to see beyond the superficial appearances, to go beneath the surface, to probe into the substance of things. He may therefore distort, or exaggerate, or simplify his image. He emphasizes what seems important about his subject. He ignores and discards what seems irrelevant. If a hand is seven inches long, but his idea is better expressed with an eight-inch hand, he may stretch it. The idea is the thing, the expression, the design. On the walls of the catacombs, the early Christians used to love to paint Our Lord's eyes two or three times as large as normal eyes, to bring out the truth that nothing was hidden from His sight.

So long as we cling to the notion that our art must copy and imitate nature, we are cheating ourselves. We limit and cripple our appreciation of art. We are walling ourselves off from gardens that we might enjoy. And if we have anything to do with religious art, we are preventing beauty from entry into our church, our family shrines, or at least our religious thought. An artist can bring us a richer, more vivid existence. We ought not curb and restrain him. We ought not insist that every detail of art be a mathematical copy of nature, or the deceptive superficiality of many of its faces.

Decorations in the catacombs and ancient shrines were often symbols, simple patterns which signified something big and important to the Christian. They were a sort of code language, a doctrinal shorthand. We still use these symbols, like the fish or the Chi Rho. There would be nothing wrong with adding to our collection of symbols. It is natural in every age for old words to take on new meanings, or for new words to be added to the language. If a language is alive, it is always changing, developing, growing. Read a page of Shakespeare, or even an old newspaper from the "roaring 20's" and you will prove this to yourself. So too, if Christian art is to come alive and live in health, it must be permitted to change and develop and grow. Our artists today are brimming over with new thoughts, new ideas, new forms. Many of them might make living symbols, fresh figures, significant types and emblems to connote and indicate the truths of our Faith.

In this role of symbol-making, our artists of today may prove strongest of all. Perhaps it is in this category of the symbol or sign that contemporary art best fits. Contemporary art belongs somewhere in the church. It is too good to be totally cast out. These craftsmen have an exceptional command of geometric pattern and abstract design. They may create a series of lines and shapes which, while they do not exactly represent human anatomy, still do suggest and resemble. It is conceivable at least that such shapes and lines may be so drawn and related together in a pattern that they look very busy and alive and active and energetic. They might so suggest a saint who was busy, active, energetic to spread the word of God and the love of Christ to all nations. It is entirely possible that a well-arranged abstract design, composed of mere lines and shapes, might tell us a lot more about some saint than some of our pale pink, lifelike but lifeless, images of him. This geometric shorthand might leave a more lasting impression upon us, too.

The second reason given for rejecting contemporary art from the church is its apparent awkwardness. I am afraid we are talking about anatomy again, when we use the term "awkward" or "clumsy," lacking grace or ease of posture. Often it is not so much that the image lacks grace, as that our minds lack judgment about art. Either we have addicted ourselves to seeing certain poses and gestures in our church statuary, or we are too demanding upon physical grace in the attitudes of the human figure. But there is a grace and ease and rhythm in art, which has nothing to do with physical movements or pose. The artist may detach himself from the demands of anatomy—bones or muscles or body contours—and arrange his figure rather so that it forms a balanced design, a harmonious arrangement of parts, perhaps an arrangement which exalts the mind above nature.

LET us consider one more reason why the artist is rejected. His work seems irreverent. Maybe the work to be considered is a sculptured figure. All of us have seen paintings and sculpture which seems irreverent, which seemed to lack the dignity befitting sacred subjects. Some of these works did belong outside the church. They may be good but they belong in an art museum, rather than the house of God. It is true, however, that this quality of reverence is to some extent a personal thing and a local matter. For example, we may stand in a certain position which we consider noble or graceful, and a foreigner with his foreign background and customs might disagree with us. Again, the images one finds in the temples of India represent deities and noble personages to the Indian. To our eyes some of them are quite undignified or downright irreverent. Now it is well for us to put paintings and sculptures into our churches which show Our Lord, Our Lady, the saints and angels in a reverent and dignified way. But we may be too demanding, too confining. Perhaps we confuse affectation and formality with inherent dignity.

Sometimes the image of a saint possesses features or takes a pose that calls our attention to it insistently. We are accustomed to images so weak and dull, perhaps, that we never bother to look at them, once we know they are there. So, an image which jolts our consciousness, strikes our eyes, prods us, arrests our attention, disturbs us a little, may seem inappropriate in church. We are not used to this encroachment upon our private thoughts (and maybe our distractions) in church. But if we were more patient, perhaps such an image would profit us. What might at first appear merely disturbing might in time come to be a very effective and compelling image, effecting repeated remembrance of this holy personage, compelling prayers and petitions from us.

We must always remember the function of the image in the church. Why do we put images in church? Apparently the iconoclasts forgot the reason. Iconoclasts did a lot of damage, and marred a lot of beauty! The picture or statue in the church is not somebody, but an image of somebody. We are not praying to the picture. We are praying to the person it represents. The statue is a reminder, an aid to piety. It is not an idol.

What I am trying to suggest here is this. Most of us in the Church have misunderstood and neglected today's artists. The reasons for this neglect are not always good ones. In many cases the artist does not mind. But the Church is the loser. The artist has something to give to the Church. He is producing things of beauty. He could produce a lot more, specifically for the Church, if that institution would encourage him and show him sympathy.

How can we bring about a closer tie with religion and art? Who can help us? What shall we do? Three elements will be very helpful—books, works of art, and artists.

Books can help us a lot. Read more about art and artists. I do not suggest much biography. Those who write the life story of an artist feel constrained to look for neurotic or coarse interludes, incidents to suggest that the artist was especially odd or queer or indecent. An artist can be just as normal and sane as those in other walks of life. Read good books about art, or magazines, those which are profuse with pictures. Find the ones which discuss the work, and tell you about it. There are essays which tell you why a thing is good—or bad. Bernard Berenson is a good writer in this vein. So are Clive Bell and Roger Fry, Lewis Mumford and Alfred Barr. Some of the younger writers are less clear.

AFTER a few good books, you may find your interest growing. You may want to see some examples of art firsthand, not reproduced in the pages of a book but in the original—the real painting in oil hanging on a wall, the real bronze sculpture standing in space before you. Then you are ready, as never before, to go to an art museum! You will probably enjoy the experience. You can develop a fair judgment by visiting local museums, enjoying works of art by people in your own locality. I once heard a citizen of our town call it an "intellectual desert," a place barren of any appreciation of the finer things. I do not think that is true in our generation. There are good competent artists near to you and near to me. It is quite possible that some of them can create for us good creditable works of art for sacred purposes.

If you should enkindle a deep, live interest in art, reading about it in books, looking at good examples of it, you yourself could be useful to God as an instrument of beauty. In time you would refine in yourself the kind of selective judgment which can discern what is art from what is not. You could in time procure sacred art for your home at least, if not for the church. For in your pursuit of beauty you will have learned where you can find it, you will have become familiar with the names of certain artists of our time, with museum people, teachers of art, or those who possess a genuine love for the subject.

I do not mean to insist that you must go through a long, time-consuming process of study before you can get some beauty into your hands. Some of us are far too busy to open many books in a year. Some of us have few hours for the museums and galleries of art. But all of us can do a little. All of us can improve our interest in real art. All of us can find a friend or acquaintance whose judgment in art is better than our own, when the time comes to choose a religious picture or statue for our home, club, or church.

Suppose, for instance, you wanted a painting of St. Peter for your home. You have never seen one in an exhibition. With such people as I have mentioned, you can discuss your desire. You can outline the life of Peter to your artist, what impresses you most about him, and what you would like to see in his image. Of course, he is a saint. Somehow the statue ought to have a certain dignity, not sweetness or sentimentality. It ought to have an air of sanctity about it. From such a description, you and your friends might pick out an artist. And in time you may have something most desirable and most rare—a sacred subject which is also a work of art.

One thing more. We have tried to be practical in this article. To be eminently practical, we must mention also cost and expenses. A work of art is more expensive than factory-made ware. It costs an artist more, too, in thought and talent, in time and effort. The prices attached to paintings sometimes raise one's eyebrows. But the price is normally an honest one. When we consider how much has gone into it, we can realize the intrinsic value of such a work. Here is something more than a commodity off some production line. It is the careful, loving work of a person, a creation formed from the best that he has. Years of learning and feeling and labor are poured into a work of art. It is usually the only one of its kind. It will never take this same form again. It is, as the curator puts it, "an original." An artist gives something of himself to you with his handiwork, so intimately does his personality enter into what he has done. The ready-made statue can be flopped out of a mold and tinted in a few hours. A good painting may be labored over for a week or a year. The genuine artist cannot possibly compete with factory prices. But the factory cannot compete with the artist in the matter of quality.

Surely, anything as noble as art—above all, art in a sacred vein—is not to be measured in terms of price. Art is more like jewelry. If it is precious, it is also costly. And in a family home, a work of art should become one of the most treasured of heirlooms, passing down from generation to generation.

The artist is a kind of castaway in our time. He is either misunderstood or ignored. Our Lord once said the laborer was worthy of his hire. But this man's labor, a most refined and painstaking labor, is set at little value. Worse, he is simply not hired. He cannot compete with that monstrous maker of wares without beauty, the production line. He thirsts in a desert of frustration, while the church thirsts in a drought of ugliness. Only the artist can open the fountains of beauty. If only these two, the church and the artist, came closer together!

No doubt a happy ending can be added to this story one day. I hope we shall see this happy day, glorious day for art, when there comes a renaissance and awakening to true beauty, when the churches of America will be radiant with a lavish Easter of creative design, harmonious color, resplendent form, and expressive decoration.

Then, when we recite with the Psalmist, "I have loved the beauty of Thy house," its meaning will dawn upon us like the dawn of an Easter, and we shall say it with fervor and gladness!

WILLIAM F. BRAUCHLER, '04, of Canton, Ohio, died January 27, 1960, after an extended illness. Mr. Brauchler was chief engineer for a long period at the old Canton Steel Works and also assisted his father in the engineering field and built many Portland Cement Co. plants both in the United States and Canada. His survivors include his widow and a son.
G. A. FARABAUGH, A.B., '04, of South Bend, Indiana, died January 6, 1961. After receiving his law degree in 1907, he became associated with the law firm of Hubbard, Farabaugh and Pettengill. In 1910, he was elected to the bench in city court, where he was the first to make extensive use of the probation system for first offenders. At the time of his death, he was the senior member of the law firm of Farabaugh, Chappleau and Roper. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, and three sons.
MSGR. MAURICE GRIFFIN, '04, of Cleveland, Ohio, died January 26, 1961, according to word received in the Alumni Office. Msgr. Griffin also received an honorary degree from Notre Dame in 1922.
BYRON V. KANALEY, '04, of Chicago, Illinois, died December 4, 1960. He was former president of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America,

The Chicago Real Estate Board, and the Notre Dame Club of Chicago. In 1949, Mr. Kanaley received an honorary degree from the University. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, a son, a brother, fifteen grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

LESLIE P. FURLONG, '05, died in Tacoma, Washington, according to information received in the Alumni Office.

REV. WILLIAM F. CUNNINGHAM, C.S.C., '07, died January 19, 1961, in the Student Infirmary on the Notre Dame campus. At the time of his death, Father Cunningham was a professor of education and vice president of the National Catholic Educational Association. Except for a five-year period when he was dean and professor of education at the College of St. Thomas, Father Cunningham taught at Notre Dame. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree last August at commencement "for his valuable contributions to public and private education in North and South America."

EDWIN J. LYNCH, '10, of Toledo, Ohio, died December 22, 1960. While at Notre Dame, Mr. Lynch was named an All-American football center. 50-Year Club

CHARLES J. BAAB, '00, remains one of the most enthusiastic followers of Irish athletics, even as a semi-invalid after an accident in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. He writes: "I received the ALUMNUS football issue and want to congratulate you on a job well done. I have followed the N.D. football traditions since 1896, and that's 65 years. After completing four years at N.D. I entered the employ of Westinghouse at Pittsburgh and held various positions, the last that of construction engineer on plant installations . . . for some years, during which I scouted players. . . . In later years I returned home to take over my father's business and continued my interest in the welfare of N.D."

Mr. Baab believes "the continued success of N.D. teams is the 'Spirit of Notre Dame' — the players, the students, the alumni. As most of the students are on campus, the boys live together . . . and that same spirit remains in the heart of every true N.D. alumnus through the years. That . . . eliminates any serious interference, or pressure on the part of the alumni. . . ." Mr. Baab gives his best wishes to JOE KUCHARICH and HUGH DEVORE, to whom his help has been curtailed by an accident that has him on crutches, confined to his home. "At 83 one does not recover so quickly." We hope he will recover completely and soon.

This time we mourn the death of EDWARD P. MORAN, '94, back in November 1960. Deepest sympathy to Mrs. Moran, 2616 Frankfort Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Hardest hit was the Class of '04, with the death in less than two months of four outstanding and sorely missed alumni. Right REV. MSGR. MAURICE F. GRIFFIN, '04, LL.D. '22, died January 25 in Mercy Hospital, Miami, Florida, after a lifetime of devoted service to health, education and social justice. Founder of parishes and member of school and hospital boards in Youngstown, O., Msgr. Griffin became a national authority on hospitals, a pioneer of workman's compensation, co-author of the Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan, etc. BYRON V. KANALEY, '04, LL.D. '49, Chicago, died December 4, 1960. Few men have labored so long or so fruitfully for Notre Dame — as president of the Chicago Club, chairman of University's lay trustees, etc. He was also president and founder of many mortgage banking and real estate organizations, and nationally prominent in the field. Sincere sympathy to his widow and family. JUDGE G. A. FARABAUGH, '04, LL.B. '07, died January 6. Head of his Notre Dame Class for four years and youngest attorney ever elected as judge in South Bend, he became a leader of South Bend legal and civic affairs. A baseball catcher at N.D. and briefly in professional ball, he was an avid athlete and founded one of the local country clubs. He was an officer and director of several banks and other organizations, and his law firm handled many national corporate accounts, including the University. Sympathy to his widow and children. WILLIAM F. BRAUCHLER, '04, died January 27 in Canton, O. He was an electrical and construction engineer for many firms in Canton and throughout the U.S. and Canada, as well as the founder of his own electrical business. Deepest sympathy to his wife and son.

Word from the N.D. Club of Seattle lists LES-LIE P. FURLONG, '09, as deceased. The date of death is unknown, but prayers are requested for Mr. Furlong as for former footballer EDWIN J. LYNCH, LL.B. '10, Toledo attorney, former state senator and for eight years chairman of the Lucas County Democratic executive committee, who died December 22, 1960. An outstanding labor and criminal attorney, Mr. Lynch had been assistant county prosecutor, assistant U.S. attorney and assistant attorney general of Ohio. A candidate for mayor and local judgeships, he served from the 1930's through the 1950's in legal positions with the Workmen's Compensation Commission, H.O.L.C., O.P.A. and O.P.S. Sympathy to his widow, Mrs. Norine Lynch of Toledo.

HARRY W. ZOLPER, C.E., '04, wrote in from Rapid City, South Dakota: "God willing JOHN DUGGAN QUINN of Scranton, Pa., and I hope and pray that we will see you all in June, 1964, FATHER JOSEPH MCGUIRE, FATHER EUGENE BURKE, FATHER IRVING — oh! and FATHER TOM STEINER."

"In going over your last ALUMNUS (and I read every word in it) I was strongly reminded of our last fall's football team, of their efforts and plays. From what scant AP newspaper reports that we get I gather and think that the fellows played a great fine game of football." Mr. Zolper decries the stirring of "a few yellow-backs to go to Corby Hall with the song, 'We want football.' Would these come out on the scrubs to help practice? No! To me our men played great ball when they put their best efforts into the games."

In a note to CHARLIE CALLAHAN, '38, Mr. Zolper offers to help if he doesn't remember back far enough: "This country kid, 'the Dutchman,' first started to become interested in events during the McKinley campaign in '96," when "Chicago and Wisconsin were 'it' in football. . . . Staggs at Chicago and King at Madison were coaches just a bit ahead of time to this Mendota, Ill., newsboy. (I peddled six different Chicago papers.) Staggs had Hershberger and King had the Australian Pat O'Dea as football kickers. How they could punt, place-kick, and above all, drop-kick. Notre Dame had similar able men in Texan ANGUS McDONALD and left foot CHUCK FLEMING. I ask, why don't the boys develop into drop kickers? Our ball is as long as the old one, and the drop kicker gains one man for defense. What a pretty sight to see a lonesome fullback send a high drop kick between the goal posts from any angle. Only as late as '33, Navy's Bill Ingram won over Army with his drop. . . . We played football for fun at high school; and during my five seasons at the University of Notre Dame du lac, '99 to '04, and pulled an oar on the boat crew at St. Joe Lake."

"Your reference last fall to the N.D.-Northwestern game sent me to my diary. That was always a tough game. We lost the '02 game 2-0. The next season we tied them 0-0. The '03 game played at Wrigley Field, Chicago, was the first game which members of Notre Dame's student body were permitted to attend away from home. A hundred of us seniors had the permission of our parents and of President FATHER ANDREW MORRISSEY to attend. I still have a copy of the Chicago paper reporting the game in detail. Our captain and fullback, calm redheaded Lou Salmon, and Northwestern's fullback Dixie Fleager were the heroes. It was a pleasure to see the left end, stubby "FUZZY" McGLEW from Ireland (long since gone), speed and make yards around right; and right end "SHAG" SHAUGHNESSY, from Amboy, Ill., step around left. He was fast; red curly head, brown freckles all over his ruddy face; and bow-legged; and quick-tempered. And LOU SALMON with Polo, Ill.'s "HAPPY" LONERGAN, bucking the line. Believe LONERGAN is on the West Coast (Judge in Portland, Ore.). He has been Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks. "Shag" has been president of the International Baseball League up to a few months ago when he was retired. He was also our N.D. left fielder."

Thanks for the reminiscences, Mr. Zolper, and best wishes for a complete recovery from your recent illness.

In a profile entitled "Exit for Shag," the New York Times' Arthur Daley recently wrote: "Baseball's upper echelon is so filled with lightweight these days that it hardly can afford to lose one of its few heavyweights, FRANK (SHAG) SHAUGHNESSY (LL.B. '06); But the massive Shag has just retired as president of the International League and the sport will have to struggle along without one of its wisest and most dynamic figures. 'I'm tired,' announced Shag, in his booming voice. So he quit. . . . There is so much lusty vitality to Shag that it must have shocked most baseball men to learn that he is 77 years of age. He doesn't look it or act it. A one-time football tackle and captain at Notre Dame, he's built like a bull moose and can roar like one, too. He stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs some 220 pounds, a straight figure that's topped by a smiling red face and a shock of white hair. Strength ripples all over him, strength of body and character. . . ." Daley tells of many Shaughnessy stratagems that helped to save the minors and of his engineering the expansion plan "that may yet prove the salvation of major league baseball." Shag was baseball's choice to succeed Judge Landis as commissioner instead of Happy Chandler. He had been an outfielder for Washington and Philadelphia before managing in the minors, coaching hockey and Canadian football, revolutionizing the game while he was at McGill. "Shag has earned his rest and his retirement," Daley says. "He operated mostly in the minors but he was a big leaguer to the core."

REUNION RIME

Quite a few Jubileers have been torn, it appears
From their golden companions a full 30 years
So let's gather for fun in the summertime sun
June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty One!

From the Alumni Office:

Pray for ALBERT M. KELLY, who passed away in retirement from law practice in Zephyrhills, Fla., on January 28 after a long illness. "A great guy" in the summed-up testimony of brother-in-law CHARLES W. CALL, '18, Al played baseball at N.D. and was a right halfback on the national champion 1909 football team which beat Michigan in one of the most spectacular victories of the pre-Rockne era. After winning his LL.B. he engaged in private practice for a time and served 35 years with the legal department of International Harvester before moving to Florida, where he was active in civic and religious affairs. His widow Emily should know that classmates will gather for a Mass on June 10 for those who didn't quite make the Golden Jubilee. These will also include attorney HENRY KUHLE, JR., who died on January 2 in Sioux Falls, S.D.

B. J. "Ben" Kaiser
604 East Tenth St.
Berwick, Pa.

From the Alumni Office:

DONNELLY PATRICK McDONALD, SR., E.E., died January 9 in Fort Wayne, Ind., an exemplary Notre Dame man with a record of service to his community as a banker and citizen. Sympathy to sons Donnelly, Jr., '47, and Travers, '57, and all the family.

360 Warner Ave.
Syracuse 5, N. Y.

From the Alumni Office:

In spite of pressures of the "rice race," CLYDE BROUSSARD continues to keep the campus informed on N.D. people and events in the Beaumont, Tex., area. And the campus is very grateful. HENRY KUHLE, JR., Ph.B. '11, who received his LL.B. with the Class, died January 2 in Sioux Falls, S.D. Please pray for him.

623 Park Avenue
South Bend, Indiana

MARTIN EMMETT WALTER, who for 40 years has been with the Houston Chronicle (Texas' largest daily) and for several years now has been editor and vice-president, has resigned as editor but continues as vice-president and director. He has recovered from a recent go-around with an eye surgeon, and in the words of the Chronicle's president, "he will be an active advisor on policy and people but will bear a lighter load which his almost 40 years of dedicated service to the Chronicle have earned." A Knight of Malta and St. Gregory, Mr. Walter is an advisory trustee for the estate of the late Jesse Jones and is said to be one of the reasons for Houston's remarkable growth as an American metropolis.

Your Secretary thought he had learned that Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD J. LARNEY have moved from Chicago and taken up residence in Florida, but since the Alumni Office has not confirmed that fact, the Florida address for Ed may be a temporary one.

There is no doubt that GEORGE HANLON has changed his West Coast address to 1973 Newport, Costa Mesa, California.

Pray for the soul of attorney EDWARD F. MEE of Sterling, Ill. His death apparently just before the 45th anniversary reunion somehow went unreported until recently.

1429 W. Farragut Ave.
Chicago 40, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary JIM SANFORD, bouncing back from a pre-holiday indisposition, has struck out on several ventures, only a few of which he'll even mention. A most interesting project is Retirement Services Inc., 127 North Dearborn Street, Suite 905-907, Chicago. An employment service for executive talent wasted through untimely retirement, the company is looking for private support for its program to override all the usual employer objections to using able and experienced retired personnel. It has a particularly qualified salesman in Jim, with more than 40 years experience in career counseling, publishing and public relations.

Some of Jim's energy and recuperative powers may be due to the intercession of his late sister, SISTER MARY JEROME SANFORD, I.H.M. (M.A. '22) and her devotion to the Archangel St. Raphael. Inspired by study in the Notre Dame Library, the devotion has spread from her surroundings at Marygrove College, Detroit, with papal approval and promotion by the Immaculate Heart Sisters who call her "Herald of St. Raphael." The history of the devotion emphasizes Sister Jerome's "great beauty and spiritual dignity . . . her sweetness of personality and strong grace of character."

GEORGE SHUSTER has been simultaneously presenting an American educational program for Africa in UNESCO and working out a graduate humanities program at Notre Dame.

Sympathy to ALBERT A. KUHLE and his brother Otto on the loss of their brother Henry, Jr., '11, LL.B. '13. Details in the 1917 column.

From the Alumni Office:

If JOSEPH McCAFFERY can be prevailed upon again to chair the local operation for the 45th anniversary, his manpower near the campus would consist of FRANK HISS, NEIL ROBERTSON, and PROF. WILLIAM TURNER.

From the Alumni Office:

Deepest sympathy to OTTO KUHLE of Minneapolis and his brother Albert, '15, of LaGrange, Ill., on the loss of their brother HENRY J. KUHLE, JR., '11, January 2 in Toledo, O. A native of Salem, South Dakota, Mr. Kuhle was buried in Sioux Falls, S.D. His Ph.B. at Notre Dame had been followed by a law degree in 1913, and as an undergraduate he had been a roommate in Old College of the late JOHN CARDINAL O'HARA. Married in 1915 to Bernice Ryckman of Woonsocket, S.D., he was preceded in death by her 19 days before in the same hospital, Mercy of Toledo. He retired in December, 1959, after 17 years of federal service, 13 of them with the Social Security Administration. Other survivors are son Marc in Sioux Falls, a daughter in Columbus, O., and five grandchildren. We apologize for the necessary transfer of this information from the 1911 column.

JOHN J. VOELKERS opines that when he recently moved from St. Augustine, Fla., to Winter Park, Fla., he just zeroed in for the most devastating hurricane the Sunshine State has had in recent years. Outside of some minor inconveniences he came through it intact.

JOHN LEMMER, forensic star of our undergraduate days, has gone back to his Rotary circuit in Upper Michigan, full to overflowing with his experiences in a score of European countries gained on his recent trip with Mrs. Lemmer.

Summer school classmate SISTER M. MA-DELEVA (M.A., LL.D. '53) recently got a photograph of her book "My First Seventy Years" displayed in a Paris bookstall near the Seine, snapped by a passing priest and forwarded by VINCE McALOON, '34, from Rome.

MAXIMILIAN GREGORY KAZUS, who used his legal learning at Notre Dame to qualify himself for a lifetime of service in the Internal Revenue Department, long retired, was a recent visitor, with Mrs. Kazus, to the Notre Dame campus. His procedure in retirement is summed up by him as follows: "I have many things to do and plan on doing, some things are done and some of no consequence or importance are forgotten, so I am very busy doing nothing." Max says he keeps in touch with RT. REVEREND FRANCIS P. MONIGHAN, of St. Joseph's Church, Gregory, South Dakota, whom he refers to as the "all American altar boy."

A sad note is the death of our classmate in the Holy Cross Eastern Province, REV. FRANK J. BOLAND, C.S.C., on December 31 in the New York Veterans Administration Hospital where he had been Chaplain since 1955. First Eastern Province priest to pass away, Father Boland had served as President of Massachusetts' Stonehill College 1949-55 and earlier as vice-president of St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas. Before service as a chaplain in World War II he had been a professor, prefect of religion and dean at Notre Dame. Sincere sympathy to his brother Steve.

(Ed. Note: From his winter retreat in Winter Haven, Fla., Secretary Call sent word on his recuperation from surgery: "The 'eye' has fought the good battle. The retina operation was successful but soon was followed by a blood clot, and as that seems to have cleared it is now all jollied up with a cataract. Decision of eminent surgeons

Was deeply shocked to hear of JOE SUTTNER passing away Christmas Day. The announcement came in a letter from DAN ROBERTS of Greenbank, Wash.:

"Word has come to me from the family of JOSEPH M. SUTTNER, L.L.B. '19, that he passed away on Christmas after having undergone abdominal surgery.

"Joe was my roommate at Notre Dame, a lifelong friend and, as I recall, one of your fellow pole-vaulters on the track team.

"His home was in Glendale, California, and he had been for many years a deputy state corporation commissioner. He was about ready to retire.

"I trust that you and other classmates will remember him in your prayers."

Another of our lawyers, F. ARMAND SCHEL-LINGER, died in South Bend, January 22. In precarious health for 10 years, he was a former member of the St. Joseph County Tax Adjustment Board and had been active in St. Vincent de Paul.

These men had been friends to all their classmates and to Notre Dame. I am sure they will be remembered in all of our prayers.

Back from a January retreat with JOHN BARTLEY and FRANK McFADDEN, JOHN BALFE was off in a week or so to Argentina with Ann for the 40th Anniversary of his Master's Degree from the University of Buenos Aires. They planned to spend most of the time with the CHARLES O'GRADYS, who have a son at Notre Dame and two daughters at St. Mary's.

III.; GEORGE WITTERED, Chicago, etc. This could be something like the scene come June as it was five years ago at that time. DAVE HAYES won't breeze in from Connecticut, of course, nor will LEN LALLY be present any more. Many others who may have looked forward to the 40th will be on hand only in the Mass intentions. But how about Toledo industrialist JOE TILLMAN or Memphis attorney CHARLES MOONEY? Or RAY SCHUMMEHL, CHET GRANT, etc., near-by? It wouldn't take many like this to make it a memorable 40th.

From the Alumni Office:

The Detroit Free Press editorially tossed one of its rarest bouquets around Christmas time when it praised a veteran reported from a rival paper. The occasion was the appointment of RAY GIRARDIN, star reporter for the newly defunct Detroit Times, as chief probation officer for Recorder's Court, with jurisdiction over all Detroit criminal cases. Of its police reporter competitor the Free Press said: "Girardin is one of the most widely known and highly regarded newspapermen in Michigan. . . . His personal and reportorial rectitude were so generally recognized that he enjoyed the confidence and personal friendship of outlaws and law enforcement officials on an equal basis." Reviewing Ray's encyclopedic knowledge of criminology, penology, probation and parole, the paper concluded: "He is an ideal man for that complex job."

We of '22 have lost two more wonderful classmates by death in recent months: MARK STOREN, SR., prominent attorney of Michigan City, Ind., who died in late July; and DR. HENRY A. ATKINSON of Green Bay, Wisconsin, who departed from this life on October 30. The latter had been city doctor for Green Bay over a period of 25 years, and was a prominent surgeon. Hank, as he was affectionately called, took his pre-med at N.D. and his medicine at St. Louis University and Marquette. The entire Green Bay Packer football squad attended the Atkinson funeral. Also, about 40 doctors of the Green Bay area served as honorary pall bearers. Hank was buried on All Souls' Day. We extend our sympathy and prayers to all members of the Storen and Atkinson families. Also to DRS. DANIEL L. SEXTON and ELMER SEXTON of St. Louis on the death of their beloved mother, Magdalene Sexton, at age 88.

We are pleased to learn that EDDIE PFEIFFER has recovered from illness. Eddie was hospitalized in his native Louisville last July. TOM S. McCABE, of LaGrange, Ill., suffered some fractures as a result of an auto accident in mid-fall. He, too, is back on the firing line after hospitalization. RALPH CORYN, JERRY DIXON, CHET WYNNE, and JACK HIGGINS, who had surgery in 1960, have made fine recoveries. We regret to learn very recently that AARON HUGUENARD is in St. Joseph's Hospital, South Bend.

On December 26 at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, the football coaching career of LAWRENCE (BUCK) SHAW came to a glorious end, when his professional Philadelphia Eagles won the world's championship by defeating the Green Bay Packers with a score of 17 to 13. Buck began his football coaching career in 1922, and his career of directing, collegiate teams included: North Carolina State, Santa Clara, University of California, and the Air Force Academy. In professional football he coached the San Francisco '49ers for many seasons before transferring operations to Philadelphia. We of '22 do, indeed, congratulate Buck on his fine career of football coaching, and we rejoice that he is leaving the coaching profession at the very time that he has reached the highest pinnacle in the realm of football.

OLLIE SCHELL of Tyrone, Pa., tells us the football fans of his area are proud of the team turned out by Coach Shaw of the Eagles.

The football coaching career of Head Coach EDDIE ANDERSON of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., which began almost simultaneously with that of Buck Shaw, shows no signs of terminating in the near future. Eddie is the very last of the '22 football coaches still in service.

A most welcome message from Mrs. STEPHEN E. CARMODY of Carlinville, Ill., tells us that the Carmodys are well: Mary Jo is married and lives in South Bend; T P is practicing law in Carlinville; Chuck is a senior at College of Eastern Illinois; and Ann is in her last year of nursing school.

DAN YOUNG is headed for Dutch New Guinea early in '61.

JAMES V. JONES and wife of Rochester, N.Y., visited Europe last year.

Well, gentlemen, here's to the classmates and peers

Who'll return from an absence of 40 full years.

AL ABRAMS up from the Atlanta N.D. Club in the deep, deep South; BILL ALLEN blowing in on the "big wind" from Winnetka; HON. NORM BARRY, perhaps, accompanying him once he hits Chicago; and JOE BRANDY touching in from Ogdensburg, N.Y. (after help with Ohio J.P.'s on way from a Bellefontaine barrister, Judge A. T. BRAY); DAN DUFFY, of course, fleeing Cleveland commerce; LEO KELLEY making the scene from Syracuse, N.Y., along with JOHN KENNEY of Manhattan; HARRY McLELLAN and CALLIX MILLER among the local talent; plus VINCE NAGEL from Phoenix, Ariz.; TOM VAN AARLE, Saginaw, Mich.; BILL WHITE, Ottawa,

SAN DIEGO—Syracuse U. football coach Ben Schwartzwalder (seated, center) uses water glasses to explain a play to Very Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A., apparently unconcerned about a cordon of N.D. eavesdroppers: (from left) G. R. Bill, '29; Thomas Carter, '51; N.D. athletic director Edward Krause, '34; and Harry Monohan, '50. Schwartzwalder and Krause were speakers at San Diego's seventh annual Appreciation Night at St. Augustine High School, of which Father Aherne is principal.

There is another Hirschbuhl granddaughter, Ellen Quinn of Fresno, Calif., born to the Bradley Quinns on All Saints's Day. Mrs. PAT HIRSCHBUHL left to go to the Hawaiian Islands in January for a visit.

We are most grateful to all who sent Christmas and New Year greetings to your Class secretary. May the current year be a happy one for all of '22, and their families.

Congratulations to EUGENE MAYL of Dayton's Murphy & Mayl on his appointment to the University of Dayton's associate board of lay trustees. Gene attended U.D. prior to his law training at Notre Dame. He's already on hospital and Community Chest boards, former executive committee member of the Ohio Bar, former Chest and Toledo Bar Assn. president.

Judge THOMAS C. DONOVAN got a full-page treatment from the Chicago Tribune for his use of "heart and head" in the grim business of the "job nobody wants," judge of Chicago's sprawling Family Court. Formerly called "Juvenile Court," it was first of its kind in the U.S. and remains the largest in the world. The article describes a day in the life of this "Irish-American Solomon" whose six children qualify him as well as any man for the role of father to all Chicago's wayward youth. It's a day full of heartaches, only occasionally brightened by a brief gleam of kindness or nobility, and deserves a better retelling in a future ALUMNUS — especially since Tom is an unsung hero of past N.D. achievement of the Chicago Club.

I wish I could start my class notes like I did when I took over this job and tell you that "JACK SCALLAN has given up selling school textbooks and became Secretary to the President of the Pullman Co." or RAY CUNNINGHAM is with Moffet Studios . . . the same outfit that took care of your Dome pictures" or "RAY TILLMAN was the first to get married after our graduation" or "ELMER LAYDEN is coaching at Duquesne, HARRY STUHLREHER is at Villanova, JIM CROWLEY is at Michigan State, DON MILLER is at Georgia Tech, BILL CERNEY and CHUCK COLLINS are at North Carolina trying to find a Catholic Church in that deep southern area or that RIP MILLER has gone Navy while his brother-in-law has taken over as an assistant at Purdue, and ADAM WALSH is telling the boys in Maine how the "seven mules" opened up the line just a wee bit, so "the thin man" fullback could have his day of glory at Stanford or how ROCKNE told the Stanford boys that Elmer was taught to be at a certain spot when Stanford decided to take to the air and into Elmer's hands. Just in case you fellows start digging into the files I know you will come back with, "ADAM WALSH didn't start in Maine but at Santa Clara as the only member of our famous team who has accepted a place as HEAD coach." ED HUNT-SINGER recovered a Stanford fumble for a touchdown that day. Crowley scored the first touchdown and Stuhlreher, as little as he was, was sitting on top of Ernie Nevers when he carried the ball to the one yard line and best of all how those great "Seven Mules" as Rip Miller tagged them HELD. That was the climax of the day. Score, "as if you didn't remember," Notre Dame 27, Stanford 10."

TRI-CITIES—Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday observance in Davenport, Iowa, featured Most Rev. Ralph L. Hayes, Bishop of Davenport, as a speaker on the Ecumenical Council.

Sure some fellows stayed on with the same outfits, only in different jobs. JACK SCALLAN is president of Pullman instead of secretary to the president. AL PORTA is calling the signals at Studebaker as V.P. and the top executive there. RIP MILLER has been the liaison coach through all these years at Navy. VINCE HARRINGTON, one of Rockne's shock troops, went on to Washington as a member of the House of Representatives. Vince told me when I visited him in Washington that if he voted for war he would join the boys . . . and he did and went overseas . . . because of age it took a special call from President Roosevelt to get his wish. Vince died in London while serving with Uncle Sam and like another great Notre Dame man (Dr. Tom Dooley) did much in a short time and added great glory to our Alma Mater. I could go on and on . . . that rock and roll song fits your secretary: "You talk too much."

These are the sad facts, boys. Too many of the fellows mentioned have passed on, and as your secretary I must report that more have placed their hopes for eternal happiness in the hands of Our Lady. WALTER "BUTCH" HAECKER died on November 23, 1960. "Butch" died in his home at 6107 Hillsboro Rd., Nashville, Tenn. Butch had the greatest smile in the whole class of 1925. I can still see him and JERRY HOLLAND running all over the campus on that great day in June trying to pick up the caps and gowns from the fellows who thought the rental of $6.00 was the cost of the outfit. When "Butch" graduated from high school he opened his diploma while walking to his seat, "just to be sure it was signed." FRED UHL died between Christmas and New Year of a heart attack. Fred, as many of you know, was at our 35th reunion and was moving to Florida for his health. Fred lived at 4026 North 24th Ave., St. Petersburg, Fla. Both Fred and "Butch" left their wives and neither had children. Be sure to remember them in your prayers. Both were dear friends of mine even before our college days. Butch in Toledo and Fred in Notre Dame "prep" school. I feel sure Our Lady will take good care of these boys, but don't forget the prayers and Masses and the Mass Fund . . . before I get into that, I have another one to add to your list. EUGENE J. STEUERLE of 1439 Willow Ave., Louisville 4, Kentucky, died last July 10th. I didn't know Gene as well as the other two fellows, but I am sure many of you fellows did. High Masses are being or have been said for all three.

While Kennedy is giving you your "State of the Union" message I will pass on HANK WURZER'S "State of the Mass Fund message," in part. "As regards our fund, as I told you in a previous letter, there is on deposit at the University on the basis of $5.00 a Mass, a stipend, enough money to say the monthly Mass for all the deceased members of the class of 1925 until the next three or four years are passed. And I have on hand around $60 to take care of these individual Masses as the occasion arises, such as BUTCH HAECKER and FREDDIE UHL. You get around more than I do, and if you see any of the boys "con" them for a five or ten and send it to me, because I imagine over this next five years the individual Mass demand will step up considerably." You are so right, Hank. Let's not wait till Hurley gets around to putting the "touch" on you. Send it to Hank . . . Mr. Henry Wurzer, Executive Offices, Blackhawk Hotels Company, Davenport, Iowa. I believe it was Theo. Roosevelt who said "EVERY MAN OWES A PART OF HIS TIME AND MONEY TO THE BUSINESS, INDUSTRY OR SCHOOL (HURLEY ADDS THE CLASS OF '25) IN WHICH HE IS ENGAGED. NO MAN HAS A MORAL RIGHT TO WITHHOLD HIS SUPPORT FROM AN ORGANIZATION THAT IS STRIVING TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS WITHIN HIS SPHERE." If you can't send enough for a stipend in this "investment club," please say a lot of prayers to make up for the cash . . . only the good Lord and OUR LADY can figure out that "foreign exchange," but I am sure it will be O.K. by them and your deceased classmates.

With all the "chatter" before this I will add a bit of news from only one of the questionnaires. ADAM WALSH, P.O. Box 540, Brunswick, Maine, writes that he is no longer coaching after 34 years. He said he made no effort to continue after the 1958 season. His family consists of Dorothy, his wife; Adam, Jr.; Russel William; and Stella, who is in her teens, and he proudly advises that he has eight grandchildren. He says he hasn't seen too many of the '25ers except the Cleveland crowd when the 1924 team was all at the Communion Breakfast on April 3, 1960. He would like to hear from anyone who chooses to write. (So get the pen out, boys, because I am sure Adam will be happy to hear from you.) Adam, in one sentence, summarizes the philosophy of our Alma Mater's Alumni, for the most part, and I will close this "chapter" with it. "The greatest thing that has happened to me in my life. . . attending Notre Dame. All other things are relatively unimportant or insignificant. I am sorry that I cannot be at the reunion . . . my prayers and best wishes to all." Thanks . . . many thanks, Adam, and I hope you can be with us this fall for the post-football reunion.

From the Alumni Office:

ANTONIO GONZALEZ, president of the Insular Life-FGU Insurance Group in the Philippines, has stopped the company's mechanical practice of sending Christmas and New Year greeting cards to business contacts. "The amount that would have been spent in sending out the greeting cards this year is being put to good use. We are setting it aside to create a fund for educational scholarships for poor but deserving students. One of our scholars is already pursuing a course in higher physics. Another is taking a course in agriculture."

REUNION RIME

Twenty-sixers, three cheers for those gay cavaliers

We haven't laid eyes on for 35 years!

May we meet every one ere the set of the sun

On June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

After the Pitt game, Ona and JOHN RYAN and Mrs. G. and I met VINCE and Mrs. SOISSON and their son, Joe, who is now a student at Notre Dame. We had a real nice visit and met some of Vince's friends who were at the game. Afterwards John and Ona came to our house for highballs and sandwiches.

On the evening before the Pitt game, Frank Crosiar of one of our local radio stations interviewed Mrs. JOHN DEVEREAUX, who was down from Chicago with one of her schoolteacher friends for the game. This friend was a Mrs. Johnson, who has a son at Notre Dame.

Had a letter from CHARLIE MARGUET in which he pointed out some errors in our recently issued 1926 Class roster. These and other errors have now been corrected and a new roster will be mailed in the near future. Charlie also asked about LINSUNG HAHN, TONY CAVALLE, EM-MET ROHWER, MENOU and PATENAUDE, all of whom are on our "missing" list. Charlie also suggested that we might try to round up some old pictures and snapshots for the Reunion. If you will send these to me, properly identified and dated, I will see that they are properly mounted on a board.

On a recent visit to New York City, I stopped at the Statler Hotel and visited JOE SHEA, who is the resident manager there. Joe never married; he lives at the hotel. Over the years, he has met a number of Notre Dame alumni, among them some '26ers. He mentioned that he sees GERRY McDERMOTT, WARD LEAHY and DOC GELSON occasionally and that they would all be back for the reunion. Gerry is in the advertising business in Hartsdale, N.Y. I called DOC GELSON who lives in Summit, N.J., and we had a nice chat. Doc's son, James, was ordained a Jesuit priest last summer. DUCKY MILLER was in town with his wife and son, but we just missed him.

I had a nice dinner with JOE SHEA. Others he had seen from time to time were: TOM FARRELL, BERNIE WINGERTEK, TOM BURKE, TOM MERSMAN, BUD FINCH, FRED WHITE, SWEDE URBAN, DOC ARMINGTON, DICK CONNELLY, DR. JOE FOLEY and EDDIE BURKE. There are a few more '26ers in the New York area, but I did not have any luck contacting them on the phone.

By the time this gets into print, I will be off on a long business trip. I will leave the U.S. about the middle of January, will fly to Paris and spend about a week there with one of our affiliate companies. Then I will fly to Tokyo where I will spend about a month helping our licensee set up a brake manufacturing plant in Japan. Then home by boat. If, in this interim, you have any questions regarding the reunion, I suggest you write the Alumni Office or JOHN RYAN, our Class President.

From the Alumni Office:

Classmates getting a postcard signed "Rudy" from some exotic corner of the globe could be excused presuming it's a promotion gag for the 35th Anniversary reunion, but they'd be wrong. Secretary RUDY GOEPFRICH left the States in late January for a business trip to Japan, touched down first in Paris, then had a long (27 hours) flight to Tokyo, stopping at Rome, Athens, Teheran, New Delhi, Bangkok and Hong Kong on the way. Since then he's been moving through Japan on Bendix business but giving a lot of his spare time to reunion plans.

For Patent Lawyers, a Star in Bethlehem

Appointment of Albion Meade Griffin, formerly assistant chief patent attorney, to the position of chief patent attorney was announced in January by the vice-president in charge of research, Bethlehem Steel Company, Bethlehem, Pa.

Born in New York City, Al Griffin was graduated from Mt. Carmel High School in Chicago. Upon graduation from Notre Dame with a bachelor of laws degree, he worked in the legal department of an insurance company in Chicago for four years. Among student distinctions won on the campus was the Sullivan Prize in 1929.

He joined Bethlehem Steel in June 1934 as a patent engineer in the research department. There followed a series of patent law assignments. He was named a senior patent attorney in 1933 and assistant chief patent attorney in 1938.

Soon after coming to Bethlehem, Al met and married Margaret Louise Dodson. David Dodson Griffin was born in 1937, and James Gerald arrived in 1939.

A member of the Saucon Valley Country Club, Al resides at 54 E. Church St., Bethlehem.

ary 23 was a great loss to the Class and to the University. FATHER RILEY and FATHER MISCH of the Congregation of Holy Cross were present at the funeral in Cleveland.

Let's not forget to congratulate J. ARTHUR HALEY, the University's genial p.r. man, on his election to the board of directors of South Bend's First Bank.

From the Alumni Office:

The sports editor of the Louisville Times recently wrote a lyrical tribute to RED SMITH to introduce Red's syndicated column to the paper:

"Ask sports editors at the World Series, Kentucky Derby or Masters golf tournament who the top sports columnist in America is and the most frequent answer is Red Smith. Red heads my list because he can do more with the English language than any typewriter jockey I know. He is a master craftsman — the envy of his profession. Red is a sports writer's sports writer. Red has unparalleled imagination. . . . You'd never know it because he has the humility of an office boy. He toils over his stuff like a painstaking cub batting out a trial column for a hard-boiled editor. And he admits that the words 'come out like little drops of blood.' He gets little sympathy from fellow columnists who know that the result inevitably will be seemingly effortless prose embellished with dry wit, casual approach and fresh imagery. . . ."

Congratulations to THOMAS F. GREEN, JR., Houston, Tex., on the marriage of his daughter Margaret Joe to RALPH SAUER, '60, Nov. 26. Celebration was lavish for this first of Tom's eight children to be married (one son in the Seminary, one at N.D.).

I wish to extend sympathy to AL GURY on the death of his father on October 31, 1960, and to LARRY CULLINEY on the death of his mother on August 26, 1960 in Rutland, Vermont.

A good session was held with a number of classmates when I spoke recently in Buffalo before the Chamber of Commerce there. GORDON BENNETT, BERNIE BIRD and PETE WACKS, '30, attended the meeting where I spoke. GORDON BENNETT, who is with the Buffalo Courier-Express, was accompanied by his son who is married to a daughter of HENRY BURNS, '29. BERNIE BIRD is Deputy County Treasurer. PETE WACKS, '30, is Vice President of Bell Aero-systems Company in Buffalo. GUS JENKINS drove me to the Buffalo airport where he is a partner in the Airways Hotel, Inc. Gus has seven grandchildren. He is teaching English in high school and seems to be enjoying it very much after many years as Vice President in the Dunn Welding Company in Buffalo.

FATHER JIM McSHANE, S.J., is apparently adjusting to the rugged living and travel conditions he encounters as a missionary in Honduras. Please write Father Jim at Casa Cural, El Progreso, Yousou, Honduras, C. A. He wrote recently about how much he enjoyed reading this column.

FRANK PENDERGAST, '27, wrote from Cucamonga, California, in a reminiscing mood after reading the September Alumnus. Frank and his wife have two daughters, whom they adopted, 9 and 6 years ago. Frank said he was writing because so many of the names I "drop" touch a "hot button" in him connected with 33 years ago. Frank continued "I recall so many of the reprobates you call by name. I'd like to know about or hear from many of them. I plan to be in New York next spring and would really enjoy visiting with some of the boys I lived with 'years ago near Grant's tomb.' We are looking forward to Frank's visit to New York."

TOM LAVELLE reported that he saw AL DAVIS' picture in a General Motors brochure. Al is General Manager of Detroit Diesel. TOM LAVELLE has twin sons at Notre Dame this year. He has three younger children at home in Anderson. Tom concluded his note by mentioning how clean and neat SEXTON, BRANNON, WAGNER and I kept our room in Freshman Hall!

I have had a number of letters commenting on how much everyone enjoyed our '28 Cocktail Party at Notre Dame after the Michigan State game and at JIM ALLAN's following the Northwestern game. JOE LANGTON wrote that his wife and son said they hadn't realized before what a nice bunch of fellows were graduated with Joe. One of Joe's daughters is at Mt. St. Scholastica College in Acheson and another is at Fontbonne College in St. Louis. Joe is active in the K. of C. again and at present is head of the local Fourth Degree in Peoria. Joe is active also in the Automotive Wholesalers of Illinois, as he has the Langton Auto Supply Company in Peoria.

We are fortunate in having a Class President with the foresight of JIM ALLAN. He has arranged for '28 cocktail parties in the basement of O'Shaughnessy Hall after the Northwestern game at Notre Dame on October 28 in 1961 and after the Michigan State game on October 20 in 1962. Make your plans now to attend these cocktail parties which are becoming more popular each year. It gives us a chance to meet families of classmates, which we cannot do at regular reunions.

VINCE CARNEY mentioned the great time he had at the '28 cocktail party at JIM ALLAN's following the Northwestern game. It was the first visit he had had with FRANKLYN DOAN, '28, in many years. VINCE WALSH and BILL DWYER also reported on the success of Jim's party. BILL DWYER has one daughter at Clarke College in Dubuque and mentioned that his other daughter is following my daughter's footsteps as a student at Loyola University. Incidentally, my daughter, Paula, finds time with her five young children to do graduate work in Chicago. Speaking of footsteps reminds me that FRANK CREADON's son Pat, a recent Notre Dame graduate, sings with his father in the famous Paulist Choir in Chicago.

JOE GERAGHTY's oldest daughter is a nun in the Mercy order in Rochester. Joe is office manager at Geo. D. B. Boulright & Company, stockbrokers in Rochester. Joe sees PHIL O'CONNOR who is with Eastman Kodak and JOE DEBOTT who is with a savings bank in Geneva.

I was sorry to read of the death of our old teacher, Professor Henry Froning, on October 18, 1960, in South Bend at the age of 76.

BERNIE GARBER, whom I see frequently, came through with the following items: "At the Cardinal O'Hara dinner in NYC last spring, the names of those attending failed to include ED DUFFY of Essex Falls, N.J. Ed is a NY broker and one of his sons is a student in Maryknoll Seminary, Ossining, N.Y."

"DICK PARRISH and I had lunch during November in NYC. As editor of the Fairmont paper, 'The West Virginian,' he spear-headed an expose of bigotry literature in that state, previous to Kennedy carrying it for the presidency. His wife, Agnes Smith, had a book for children, 'The Edge of the Forest,' published by Viking and also in England by Gollancz."

"ART DENCHFIELD has been in Panama negotiating land leases for an airport. I hear his oldest son is a seminarian in St. John Vianney Seminary. Art's family lives in Miami."

"I talked with JACK WINGERTER while at Sea Girt for Thanksgiving. Jack is again with TIME magazine, having left deRochemont. He spends week ends at his home in Spring Lake. "Our favorite Freshman Hall prefect, JOHN BRENNAN, was at the PAUL BUTLER-PAT MANION Notre Dame Club forum in December. He is with American Standard and just transferred to the NY office, living in Westfield, N.J. Buckley and I will have lunch with him — when?"

"Thanks to DAN VERRILLI's new Impala, we had a pleasant trip to the Michigan State game, a visit with my freshman son, Brady, a happy time at the Allan-Carney cocktail party seeing, among many, Joe and Kae Griffin whose eldest daughter is a senior at Rosary College and a son in medical school at Georgetown; faculty member Bob Schultz whose charming wife is a South Bend girl and St. Mary's grad. Sunday mornings, had coffee and attended Mass with GEORGE SCHEUER."

I was pleased to note in the last Alumnus that HENRY HASLEY received the 1960 "Man of the Year" award given by the Fort Wayne Club. Congratulations, Henry.

We saw GEORGE CRONGEYER and STEVE SHERRY at the forum meetings of the Notre Dame Club of New York, in addition to BERNIE GARBER. Incidentally, these are excellent meetings. It was like old times hearing PAT MANION and PAUL BUTLER again.

FATHER ANDY MULREANY, C.S.C., who is pastor at St. Pius X parish, 15144 State Highway 23, Granger, Indiana, noted on his Christmas card that he sees BILL MURPHY. Bill has a summer place at one of the lakes in Southern Michigan. When visiting the cottage, Bill and his sister attend Mass at Father Andy's parish.

I spoke at the meetings of the allied economic associations in St. Louis, Missouri, at Christmas time and talked to ED DEAN who is General

FRANK "SPEED" GAUL, '36, stricken with incurable emphysema but showing the same indomitable spirit he displayed as a quarterback in 1935, goes through a scrapbook with his attractive family: (l. to r.) Barbara, Frank, Mike, Mrs. Jeanne Gaul, Jerry (with glasses), and Tom. Before his illness Frank coached at John Carroll and was Cleveland district manager for Anheuser-Busch Co.

Sales Manager for the Great Lakes Carbon Corporation, Missouri Coke & Chemical Division, there. Ed told me how much he enjoyed visiting with many of the old classmates at the '28 class cocktail party following the Michigan State game. Ed added, "Age may be changing our physical appearance, but it hasn't changed the warmth and friendliness of the N.D. men of '28." Ed has five children, ages 9 to 24, and became a grandfather recently. Ed calls on TOM LAVELLE, President of the Lavelle Grey Iron Foundry in Anderson, Indiana. He reports that Tom is still young looking and handsome as ever.

From the Alumni Office:

As if to set the pattern for the administration of his bosses Arthur Goldberg and JOHN F. KENNEDY (LL.D. '50), Bureau of Labor Statistics Regional Director LOU BUCKLEY has been the movingest and speakingest known alumnus in recent months. Latest publicized appearances: the December annual meeting of the Catholic Economic Assn. in St. Louis, at which he called for better education and job training for Negroes; New York's Citywide Youth Conference, where he discussed job opportunities for high school students; and in February, Omaha's Catholic Interracial Council banquet ("Racial Discrimination and the Manpower Needs of the 1960's") and Notre Dame's Ninth Annual Union-Management Conference ("Changing Composition of the Labor Force"). And the pace hasn't altered his column by a semicolon. Good going, Professor!

JOHN M. GILTMON writes: "May I personally thank you for the write-up of my change of address to 601 West Diversey Parkway on Chicago's North Side."

"After 30 years an alumnus, I am particularly elated to see my name in print for the first time in the column, and more so to have the ALUMNUS forwarded properly. I enjoyed particularly the Cardinal O'Hara Memorial Issue and again say a silent prayer for him. R.I.P." (John is an attorney at law, 111 West Washington Street, Chicago.)

Dear John: (and Ed and Jim and . . .) I have found a kindred spirit; some years ago I felt exactly the same way about not seeing my name in the column. It seemed that I saw the names of the same old roommates and former bridge partners of the Class secretary month after month. To some extent, human nature being what it is, this is still too true.

My greatest personal satisfactions as secretary have been witnessing the arrival of '29ers at the class reunions, and having new contributors to the column. In your case, John, I am not the only one who would like to know more about what thirty years have done to that head of red hair and the waistline, all about your family and your activities. I fortunately can thank our Class officers, FRANCIS JONES, JOE LENIHAN, JOE WHALEN, MICKEY McMAHON, SID SIDENFADEN, BOB VOGELWEDE as well as numerous others including HUGH MacMANIGAL, FATHERS THORNTON and BARRY for able and willing assistance. If the class manpower hasn't been exploited more fully, it is by omission on my part. Between us (or possibly in spite of us) and others we have had a number of recent additions, and need many more.

One means of keeping the class organization and the column alive between reunions has been the popular after-football game gathering. But more about that later.

'Til we hear from you, John, best wishes. Larry

Oklahoma comes to Notre Dame on September 30 to open the 1961 football season. The Class get-together of the '29ers has never been held so early in the season. However, several have suggested this date for the usual after-game gathering. Your secretary has received only a small sample of expressed opinion and may be drawing hasty conclusions.

He may be judging the Class reaction to the football situation as identical with his interpretation of the mood expressed by those who attended the football banquet at Notre Dame on December 12. The attendance at this annual testimonial football banquet was a new high, a full house of over a thousand. With speakers like Duffy Daugherty, Jimmy Conzelmann, and JACK QUINLAN, the program was an assured success. In spite of the attraction of this triple serving of genuine levity there was an even greater magnetism that brought this year's football friends of Notre Dame together. One sensed a real desire on the part of the patrons to express their appreciation to the members of "the team that didn't quit," and its coaches. There was a sense of hunger to know a bit more about them, of their numerous problems in the past season, and of their attitude toward the coming season. A reassuring mutual dedication and trust was apparent. The alumni, friends, administration, players, and coaches were looking purposefully ahead.

Your secretary will soon poll those who normally attend. He asks any newcomers to write him — and there is no better time than the present. This brings to mind a favorite observation of dear FATHER JOHN MILTNER, C.S.C., deceased: "You will never be stronger (in your resistance to sensual temptations) than at the very beginning." Your secretary trusts that "you", the Class of '29 reader, resolve to send him some news this year and that you will act early. Send it now; see it in the next issue.

BILL NEFF, superintendent of Public Schools, Mandan, North Dakota, has a new book, "Freedom Under Law" scheduled for release shortly after January 1, 1961. This is the second book in his social studies series. The previous volume published by Bruce in 1953 titled, "World History for a Better World," a functional approach to the teaching of world history in high school, was very well received. Bill spent two months of the past summer in Europe. He has some new public school buildings in process of completion to further contribute to a busy fall. He relays his "Hello" to all the gang.

Here is a quote from an early October note from GENE MILLIFF, 21040 West Lake Road, Rocky River, Ohio: "I am sorry to report that for the first time in over ten years I will not be able to visit the campus for a game. I am deeply involved with the Federal Aviation group in moving their headquarters from Cleveland Hopkins Airport to Oberlin, Ohio. With their vast network of communications, I have my hands full. I will miss seeing you and the rest of the fellows, but God willing, I'll be back again next year. Best of health and luck to all of you and have a couple martinis for my wife and me."

CLETE SCHNEIDER, Lakewood, Ohio, writes: "I see by the Wall Street Journal that SID SIDENFADEN's Suburban Gas Co. is really going places. GAYLORD HAAS was conspicuous by his absence last June — I suppose he will be around as usual for the after Michigan State game get-together. At the Cleveland Golf Parry I saw TOM KIENER and NORM McLEOD."

It seems that Ohio has taken over. JOHN COLANGELO tells that JOE DIRC, '28, has been over to visit with him. Joe, who is with the Ohio State Department of Highways, was working out of New Castle, Pennsylvania while maintaining his home in Oak Park, Illinois.

HAROLD A. BAIR writes, "even though Fresno is on the heavily traveled US 99 we rarely see anyone of the 1929 Class. There is no one of our Class living nearer us than San Francisco and Los Angeles, which are between two hundred and two hundred and fifty miles distant."

"Occasionally I hear from DICK NOWERY and JOE KRAKER. The latter came through here in the summer of 1959 and stayed overnight with his family. Needless to say, we had a great time yakking until about four in the morning. My wife and I and son, JACK, '58, expect to see the USC game in Los Angeles and probably will see BILL FORTIER and others there the night before the game."

From Minneapolis, LOU REGAN said: "I can think of nothing more pleasant than gathering at N.D. with you and the other '29ers (Oct. 15). Sorry that I can't make it this year. Even JOHNNY DORGAN's insults would be bearable. My best wishes to the gang."

From Green Bay, CLYDE BUNKER: "though I do not always have the opportunity to attend the class of '29 parties, I surely appreciate receiving the meeting notices and then reading about those who attended."

The JIM CURRY's of Great Neck, L.I., have been host to J. HAROLD DALY and to JERRY CROWLEY, who stopped by to relax from his vacation.

The JOE WHALEN's had plans for a Christmas vacation in Florida with the family of daughter-in-law Sue — St. Mary's, '54, and son JACK WHALEN, '53. There are three little Whalens.

From the Alumni Office:

FRAN CROWE reports a visit by the Crowes in January with BOB SCHULZE and wife Regina in California. Bob, a roommate and best man, hadn't been seen for 28 years. Fran also talked to EMMETT McCABE on the telephone and visited much of the Crowe Clan: daughter Nancy in San Francisco, expecting her fourth child and Fran's eleventh grandchild this month; brother Andrew, teaching and coaching at Mission High, San Gabriel; and four children of brother Clem in the L.A. area, sons Pat and Bob, daughters Joanne and Anne. The lightning trip also included the Rose Parade, Disneyland and other local wonders.

Congratulations (and more later) on the appointment of ALBION GRIFFIN as chief patent attorney for Bethlehem Steel.

BOB HELLRUNG, director of the St. Louis Medical Credit Bureau, wrote in recently: "Please excuse my delay in answering your letter regarding members of the class of '30 in or near St. Louis. However, the '30 boys are scarce in this area and they are not making much noise these days.

"GENE KILLOREN and I are the only ones in St. Louis proper. Gene is practicing law and doing very well. FRED ZIMMERMAN who graduated from the Engineering School is with the Granite City Steel Company across the river from us in Granite City, Illinois. He is personnel director. We haven't seen one another for years but occasionally we get together on the telephone.

"Sorry we don't have more news for you from St. Louis.

"By the way, Mrs. Hellrung has asked me to inquire about the picture that was taken of the small '30 reunion which followed the Michigan State Game last November. Would it be possible to get a copy of it? If so, will you please order one for me and let me know what the charge is."

For Bob and any others who'd like a copy of the picture printed in the last issue: The charge is $1 to BRUCE HARLAN, '49, Photo Lab, Notre Dame, Ind.

FRANK "MOON" EATON sent a note from Wisconsin: "Thank you for your Christmas Greetings. We had a most enjoyable and busy holiday season."

"I surely hated to miss our 30th Reunion with the gang this past summer as I had planned on making the event for the last five years. My oldest son Jim graduated from the eighth grade that same weekend so there went my Reunion."

"On our way to Mackinac Island this fall I stopped in Marinette and looked up BUCKY LANGRIL my old roommate, for a short gabfest. Hadn't seen each other since our 25th reunion."

Haven't much news on the Class of '30" as there aren't many of that vintage around here. I try to make the various Milwaukee N.D. Club functions and I am looking forward to Universal N.D. night. Say hello to FATHER GLUECKERT for me.

"Lots of good luck for '61."

BERNIE CONROY sent a few news items in: "Thanks for your note and congratulations on the good job of keeping the 1930 crowd together."

"DAN CANNON called me the other night and said he and JACK were going up to Cleveland to the funeral for BILL DORE who died on the 31st. The ranks are thinning out one by one."

"How did our candidate TIM TOOMEY make out? I hope we cornered enough votes to put him on the Board. (Almost enough — see below. Let's try a little harder next time. D.P.)"

"GEORGE "DUKE" KINGSLEY has not been well the past few months so JOHN BRILEY took over the chairmanship of the Annual Retreat this year. Duke has done a great job of getting the fellows out for the retreats for many years.

"Give my best to FATHER CHARLES and keep things perking with the 1930 boys.

"My nephew, Tom Conroy graduated from Pitt last summer and is working for Pittsburgh National Bank. He left N.D. about five years ago."

TIM TOOMEY again comes through with a newsy letter:

"A happy and prosperous New Year to you and all the lodge brothers. I wanted to let you know I did not do as well as other Massachusetts dignitaries in my quest for national office as a director of Alumni Association. A wire from Jim Armstrong brought news the election was closest in years. Four hundred votes separated high and low man in field of eight.

"As soon as I saw the remainder of the field I tossed in the sponge because most of the candidates were from cities with local alumni membership 4 to 6 times greater than the Boston Club enrollment.

"The pleasurable feeling about the entire procedure was the many wonderful letters, cards and notes I received from my gallant supporters in all the class groups that were at Notre Dame during the time I was a student. The words of encouragement and gratitude expressed by the Rifleman as a means of thanking me for some favor or for having remembered them in the class notes made me doubly proud I am a member of the Class of 1930, and some of these letters mean more to me than any distinction which might have been mine if I had been elected to the Board. To all my classmates for their support, my sincere thanks and greetings for the New Year.

"ED CONROY resigns his position as City Manager, Medford, Mass., on December 11, 1960, to take over another highly challenging assignment as coordinator of Urban Development, City of Youngstown, Ohio. We shall miss Ed very much around here. This here lad was a frequent guest at his home and those home cooked meals tasted mighty fine to a bachelor.

We saw PAT CONWAY, HAROLD DUKE, and DON SCHEITIG at the Navy game in Philly. The Boston Club sponsored an air junket to Miami for a 4 day sojourn in the Land of Sunshine. We had a chat with JERRY HOLLAND who lives there. Met FREDDIE RHEAUME, '31, who brought us news that TED TWOMEY is in Jacksonville and has left the liquid malt distributing field to enter business for himself. Some wag said yours truly weighs as much as Ted used to scale up at during his football games. At a football rally in Miami we chatted with ED KRAUSE, the 4 Horsemen, and JERRY OUELLETTE, '29, formerly of Lewiston, Me., but now in real estate business in Miami. We had a chat with BOB GORE, '31, and JIM SKAHAN. Had dinner with Bob at his hotel in Fort Lauderdale.

"I attended the wake of my former professor in economics and one of my prime ribbers as a student, but in passing years a dear friend, the late REV. FRANCIS J. BOLAND, C.S.C., who was buried in Holy Cross Community Cemetery at Stonehill College, North Easton, where he served as president from 1950-1955. Father Boland died of a sudden heart attack on 12/31/60 while serving as chaplain at Veterans Hospital, New York City."

From the Alumni Office:

It's not a very startling surprise, but JOE LORDI, the Jersey oil man, baseball monogrammer and 1937 national squash racquets champ, was elected to a third successive one-year term as president of the New York Athletic Club in January.

The Law Class lost heavily with the death of WILLIAM DORE at Christmas and ARNOLD LEVANDOSKI on January 22. Sympathy to their families.

REUNION RIME

What '31 seers can predict without fears
There'll be chances to gather for 30 more years?

If you haven't begun to make plans, get it done

For June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

A Happy New Year to all and by the time you receive this I should also add Happy Easter. Time is flying and I cannot seem to catch up with it. Starting with late fall activities I had a letter from the JIM McQUAIDS telling of their visit to the campus for the Michigan State game where they occupied the wheel chair platform next to JERRY WIGGINS and his wife. They enjoyed seeing many of their friends, many of whom were mentioned in my previous notes. Jim had a letter from FR. BERNARD RANSING, C.S.C., a member of our class, who is secretary general of the Holy Cross in Rome. While scheduled to return to the campus in June he hopes he might be able to get to the campus for our 30 Year Reunion this June. Jim and his always-present wife, Marie, plan to be on the campus in June. RAY COLLINS reports on BILL CHAWGO, the Aurora flash, whom he met at a Chicago Serra Club meeting recently.

I had a note from BILL BERNING enclosing a clipping and picture of our BERT MALONEY on the occasion of a new venture he helped promote in Austin, Texas. Bill heard from ART BERGAN, TEX BRIEGER and HARRY KENNEDY, who happened to be in the States for the holidays. Bill's son was married in Dallas last May. Among the sad news to report is the death of JIM GRIFFIN in Chicago, October 23, 1960. Many of us saw Jim at the Michigan State game and were greatly shocked to learn of his death. Please remember him in your prayers. Jim is survived by his widow, Dorothy, and eight children. He lived at 10508 S. Tripp Avenue, Oak Lawn, Illinois.

TOM ASHE spent some time in Chicago for a meeting and phoned twice. Having just returned from a vacation it was difficult to make plans to be with him at the airport the next day. Tom is well and will probably be back in June.

The Notre Dame Club of Chicago held its annual Knute Rockne Award dinner at the Illinois Athletic Club December 1st and a record crowd attended. Among the '31ers on hand were, CARL CRONIN, GIL SEAMAN, RAY COLLINS, BERT METZGER, TOM CONLEY, GENE VALLEE and FRANK LEAHY. My apologies to others who were there and I did not see. I saw FRANCIS and Vera HENNEBERGER this fall and had an altogether too short visit with them. They spent a few weeks in New Orleans with their son who is one of the basketball stars at Loyola of the South. BEN OAKES sent a Christmas note telling of the '29-'30 team reunion at the Michigan State game. He is planning on bringing his family to the June Reunion. They see Betty Neydon, widow of our classmate BOB NEYDON frequently.

I had a chance to visit with the FRED SWINTS in their new home in Nashville last fall. This was my first visit with a real close classmate in about ten years. Fred is well, has a son in first year college and a daughter in high school and keeps himself busy in a successful accounting practice. I am trying to persuade him to bring his family to Chicago in June and then spend the reunion weekend on the campus.

You will all soon be receiving Reunion announcements from the University and I hope that most of you will return for another successful meeting. We probably won't have all the activity of the twenty-fifth, as the campus isn't large enough to allow big promotions by every class. However, I am sure we will do well if everyone makes a sincere effort to be on hand. See you in June.

From the Alumni Office:

JIM WEBER of the Canton, O., Club reports that RAYMOND F. RYAN, 506 Fifth St. N.E., Massillon, O., has taken out nominating petitions for the Democratic primary in May for the office of mayor of Massillon. Ray, who operates Ryan's Emergency Drug Store, is a native Massillonian and a former general foreman of maintenance at Republic Steel's stainless division for 12 years. It's his first bid for public office. The Ryans have four children: Mrs. Patricia Heinrich, 21; Michael, 19; Timothy, 14; and Kathleen, 10.

Best wishes to REV. MAURICE M. FITZGERALD, C.S.P., on the Silver Jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood, Feb. 12, 1936. On that date in 1961 Father Fitzgerald sang his Anniversary Mass at Old St. Mary's Church, home of the Paulist Choristers and the most recent base of his tremendously successful operations with the free Paulist Catholic Home Study Course, advertised in transits, newspapers, etc.

Bouquets to JOHN E. RYAN, Notre Dame's cherished link with the National Catholic Welfare Conference news desk, for his most deserved recognition from Pope John XXIII. John has been awarded the Benemerenti Medal for distinguished service to the Church. He received the award from the hands of Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, Apostolic Delegate to the U.S., on Dec. 19.

A native of Streator, Ill., John reinforced his A.B. with grad work at Illinois and Georgetown. He has been with the NCWC press department since World War II, in which he served first as an NCCS-USO director, then with the U.S. Army in Europe, winning the bronze medal at Liege, Belgium. He lives at 2480 Sixteenth St., N.W., Washington, D.C., with his wife, the former Josephine Burnham, and they have an adopted son.

The Benemerenti medal has been given for almost two centuries by the Popes to reward special services. John's bears the picture and name of Pope John on one side and on the other a crown of laurel, symbolizing his achievement with the American Bishops' secretariat.

Deepest sympathy to the parents of EDMUND J. KNIGHT, who died December 15 in Bloomington, Ind. A South Bend architectural engineer, he was working for Indiana University at the time of his death.

Unfortunately, we did get one letter recently. It conveyed the sad news that one of our more colorful members has passed on, ED MORIARTY. No one feels more saddened about this than I do, as for some time Eddy and I lived together when we came to Chicago after graduation. He was the closest of friends and companions, but I cannot better eulogize him than to quote from a letter sent to me from one of his very closest friends, JACK BREEN, of Detroit.

"You may or may not be aware that our old chum Eddie Moriarty passed away on November 9th. He suffered a heart attack and died during his sleep in Springfield, Illinois, where he was doing an excellent job as Public Relations man for the Illinois State Highway Department.

"As you well know, Eddie was the all-time champion at making friends. Although he was located in Springfield less than a year, the State Officials insisted on a memorial service there. His body was then returned to Ann Arbor, Michigan, for funeral services at St. Thomas' Church (where he attended Grammar and High School) on November 14th. GRANGER WEIL and I were pallbearers. ERNIE GARGARO and TED FELDMAN also represented '33. Eddie is survived by his two sons and a sister.

"Since Ed was easily one of the best liked on the campus, I know this report will be a shocker. Since 1933 Eddie had lived and worked for long stretches in Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York. He also did a good Navy stint as a Lieutenant Commander on the carrier Bunker Hill. In each of these locales he cemented old friendships and made new ones. Whether at a jai-lai game in Miami or the Derby at Churchill Downs, Eddie was sure to bump into old acquaintances.

"I wish I had something more pleasant to report at this time."

I agree with Jack that I wish we had happier news to pass along. But in this light it behooves us to make the best of our time. As we go into 1961, we are only a couple of years away from our 30-year reunion.

What could be a better way of preparing for it than sending in news of yourselves and the other fellows from the class that you know or hear from — we promise that we will be back in business as a regular reporter. Just send your communiques to the above address.

In closing, as is appropriate at the time this is written — President JOHN O'SHAUGHNESSY joins me in wishing one and all the happiest of New Years.

Best regards,
JOE McCABE

Secretary ED CAREY has suggested a picture-feature treatment on classmate THOMAS F. DALTON of Ridgewood, N.J., and the motion has been seconded by a whole group of alert Easterners acting independently, enclosing clippings from the N.Y. Times, Brooklyn Tablet, etc. Caught without a picture, we'll get it in an early issue. The news stories concerned the installation of a ramp to the bench of the Bergen County District Court in the Hackensack Courthouse to enable Judge-designate Dalton to preside from his wheelchair, for TOM DALTON is a paraplegic. His paralysis dates from the suicide crash of a Kamikaze on the deck of the destroyer escort Rall off Okinawa when he was serving as gunnery officer. The story since then is one of dogged determination through law school, private and municipal practice, inspiration from his mother, wife Anita, daughters Patricia and Penelope. It's worth telling later in greater detail.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JAMES M. JAMES R., '34
N.D. Family, Calumet Construction Combo

James R. Morrison has been elected president and treasurer of Morrison Construction Co. Inc., Hammond, Ind. He had been executive vice president. His father, James M. Morrison, company founder, was advanced from president to chairman of the board of directors. The elder Morrison is a member of the Advisory Council for the College of Commerce.

James R., with the company for 23 years, has full charge of operations. Since 1925 the Morrisons have pioneered oil field construction techniques in the Midwest, built the Iowa and Illinois sections of the first Oklahoma-Chicago petroleum products pipeline, and in 1960 constructed installations for Union Carbide Chemicals Co., Northern Indiana Public Service Co., and the Chicago South Works of U.S. Steel Co. Employing about 1,500, the Morrison firm is the largest industrial contractor based in the Midwest, with pipeline, public utility, petrochemical and steel mill divisions, plus Morrison Inc., recently organized as a heating and plumbing division.

James M., and his wife live at 2042 E. 72nd Place, Chicago. He is president of the board of Hoosier Boys Town in Schererville, Ind., has affiliations in a number of contractors associations, and was the first recipient (1952) of the annual Man of the Year award given by the Calumet Region N.D. Club.

His son joined the company in 1937 after obtaining a C.P.A. certificate and working three years with an accounting firm in Chicago. He served as a lieutenant aboard destroyers during World War II, with most of his service in the Southwest Pacific. His ship fired the first shot of the Okinawa campaign, seven days before landing, and Morrison was awarded the Purple Heart medal for invasion wounds as well as a commendation for service in action.

He and his wife Margaret have three sons: James M., a junior in the College of Commerce; Kevin T., a sophomore at Campion Academy; and David, in the seventh grade at St. Thomas More school, Munster, Ind. Active in affairs of the Calumet Region Club, Jim served as its president and later as a director.

If you thought that your scribe had resigned, brace yourselves for another five years of his ramblings. He was re-elected, and he will carry on 'til the thirty marker is reached.

We apologize for our silence since the reunion last June, but we were caught in our own trap. First we decided to rest for one trip to press. And then, in the meantime, other projects came along and time slipped past only too quickly. So, here we are many months later trying to explain ourselves out of an unfortunate situation.

The silver anniversary of the Class of '35 was a tremendous success as you have read in the ALUMNUS. Once again "we did it!" It was a fabulous weekend as all 220 returnees can underscore. The local committee outdid themselves, as we knew they would.

To make certain that the thirtieth would be well planned and kept on the road to success, DAN YOUNGERMAN (the twenty-fifth spearhead) was elected class president. To keep the bank account close at hand, LARRY SMITH came out of the election as treasurer. Larry is in South Bend and will be readily available to Dan.

The four vice-presidents once again represent the country. For the far West we have: DR. VITTORIO G. ARCADI. In the South there is: B. THOMAS OWEN. The East will be the responsibility of: PHIL J. HEINLE. And the Mid-West has: WALTER J. O'BRIEN. Let's all give them our cooperation as they START NOW to work on 1963!

The tired old man drew another five-year term as secretary. What do you have to do to retire? Maybe they are grooming him for an honorary degree one of these days as the oldest class secretary in continuous operation.

At the Class dinner we received a beautiful 13 x 19 inch scroll mounted on a plaque. It reads: "TO FRANKLYN C. HOCHREITER in recognition of 25 years of devoted and outstanding service as secretary to the Notre Dame Class of 1935 — Silver Jubilee — June 10, 1960."

As we told the assembled multitude that Friday evening we would do — we hung it over our desk where it continues to draw attention from people coming into our office. We are very proud to have it on our wall! Thank you for your kind sentiments.

We will not attempt to tell the story of the weekend — it was very well handled in an earlier issue. But we think a few statistics might be of interest. We predicted in the class directory that about 250 men would likely return for reunion. Actually we were over enthusiastic since only 220 made it. That figure includes 212 who officially checked in and paid their fee at "The Rock" and 8 more who registered for our reunion only at Dillon Hall or the Law building.

Two hundred-fifteen men said on their questionnaires that they planned to return for the 25th. Only 153 of these actually did return. Five of 25 who were undecided also turned up. The remaining 62 come from "non-responding brethren" and "the lost brethren", as we classified those who did not answer the questionnaire or whose addresses we did not know. We had predicted that we would pick up a representative number from this group, and we did.

Incidentally, during reunion we were able to add 33 to our roster making a total of 638 on our living roll. Our "requiescant in pace" jumped one when JIM QUINLAN was added. Jim allegedly died in 1939. We would like confirmation.

You might be interested to know that a class directory was given to each returnee at reunion, regardless of whether he had sent back a questionnaire or not, and one was mailed to all who cooperated in the questionnaire survey but who could not make reunion. If you are among these two groups and did not get a directory please let us know.

And so we start to work on '65 when we would like to keep the record high with the Class of '35. Let's determine now to bring back at least 200!

Now that we are back on the beam, let's have some news! We can't write about you if we don't know what you are doing. This is still YOUR COLUMN — we just pass the word along. And, we have received nothing since last June from anyone! How about it gang, let's get back in stride.

A word about JIM McAVENEY. Jim was transferred to Baltimore by Addressograph-Multi-graph last fall and moved the family in from Hamden, Connecticut, for Thanksgiving. Shortly after the New Year Jim and Lola had several of us out for the evening with our wives. Saw GENE O'BRIEN from our crowd and FRANK MURPHY of the '36 class. Need we say that there was much reminiscing with a lot of name calling and face remembering. There should have been "burning ears" all over the country.

We did a fast show with Notre Dame of Maryland College last November. It was our first experience in college dramas and we felt like the old man we were supposed to be as "Dr. Haggett" in "The Late Christopher Bean", surrounded by college girls and Loyola college men.

That's it, gang! Keep the notes rolling in, please!

REUNION RIME

As our Jubilee nears, some silver appears
In our hair to remind us that 25 years
Their gamut have run. Let's be second to none

On June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

Our 25th will soon be here. It's the only Silver Anniversary Reunion we'll ever have, so don't miss it. If you've never returned since '36, if you don't expect to attend regularly in the future, if you haven't missed a one in the past — if you are in any of these or other categories, accept no excuse from yourself or anyone else for not coming back to your campus home this June. Our local committee and the Alumni office are making big plans for us. There'll be plenty of scheduled and unscheduled events. But most of all, the Class of 1936 — our Class, your Class — will be there and in large numbers. This is the heart of a Reunion; the chance to renew friendships; review the doings of our classmates in this tremendous quarter century since we graduated; revisit the campus scenes of happy memory and explore the many changes accomplished at Notre Dame in those years.

In an attempt to prevent anyone from saying, "I didn't know", "I forgot", "Nobody asked me" or "I didn't know who was returning", our President, JIM SHERRY, has appointed local chairmen in South Bend and area chairmen throughout the country. I've alerted you that JERRY VOGEL and MORRIE COOPER are heading up the South Bend group and I'm sure they'll add a postscript to this column when it reaches the Alumni office. Here's the list of area chairmen to whom Sherry will be writ-

Now, fellows, your job is to make sure that all '36ers in your vicinity are contacted personally, by phone or by mail to make sure they'll be back. Maybe ride pools can be arranged, buses chartered, pony expresses organized, or what have you.

But while we're planning such a joyful event, we are sad to announce the death of FRED SOLARI which occurred December 23. Fred was fatally injured in an automobile accident in his home town of Pembroke, Massachusetts. Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Solari and her five children.

As usual, not much correspondence since our last column. May the next secretary have better luck! GEORGE (SPIKE) CANNON called me from Muskegon just before Christmas to send greetings and chat about our Reunion coming up. It was real good to hear from you, Spike. Our most faithful correspondent, LARRY PALKOVIC, sent along a note that BILL SAFFA, JIM PAGLIASOTTI, and ALAN DONOVAN are coming to the 25th and he is working on JOE MAHAR and ANDY HUFNAGEL in his area to insure their return. Nice going, Larry. I'm sure you'll do a good job of recruiting in New York State.

Well, that's about it for now. There is still material from our survey but this spasm has been kind of long winded, and besides you'll get all the news first hand when you see the boys in June.

One of the assignments of reunion worker RAY DEELY in Washington, D.C., is to persuade one of the world's greatest tycoons to take a week end off June 9 from his killing responsibilities. JOHN S. GLEASON, JR., sixth administrator of the Veterans Administration since the establishment of the agency in 1930, is the youngest man ever to hold that title. He has an annual budget of more than $5 billion and a payroll of about 172,000 employees. Some of John's other responsibilities are: 446 field stations, including hospitals, regional and district offices, clinics, supply depots, veterans' homes, etc.; 6,000,000 insured veterans; 5,000,000 loans; 10,000,000 vets under the GI Bill educational program; 4,000,000 compensation and pension payments; and the largest medical program in the U.S. He should need some R. & R. by reunion time.

Nobody has ever been better qualified for the job: graduate work at the Harvard Business School and the Wisconsin U. School of Banking before his rise to vice-president of the First National Bank of Chicago; promotion from private to lieutenant colonel in the W.W. II Pacific campaign, with a bushel of decorations, and subsequently to major general and division commander in the Army Reserve; all manner of veteran activities, including national commander of the American Legion; and innumerable civic and charitable endeavors. All this and, with wife Mary Jane, six sons: Jack, 17; Dan, 13; Dick, 11; Tom, 9; Dave, 7; and Marty, 4.

The '36 football squad is making the ALUMNUS by platoons. Following BILL SHAKEPEARE, noted in the last issue as Sports Illustrated's pick for the Silver Jubilee All-America, come ANDY PILNEY and FRANK GAUL in this issue — a noted passing combination of the Ohio State tracas. Look for Pilney with a new Irish addition to his Tulane coaching staff and Gaul with his attractive family. And while you're at it, say a prayer for FRANK "SPEED" GAUL, a guest at one of Gleason's installations, slowed to a standstill by the ravages of emphysema in his lungs. Better still, write to Frank if you can at Brecksville Veterans Hospital, Broadview Heights, O., telling him you'll pray for him and remember him at the 25th reunion he can't attend.

Looks like Cooper will have competition from other pharmacists, including JOHN L. THRO of Mankato, Minn., who recently completed a beautiful new building for the drugstore founded by his grandfather after the Civil War.

From the Alumni Office:

Among the classmates meeting and planning at the homes of co-chairman JERRY VOGEL and MORRIE COOPER for the "Perfect '36" Silver Jubilee have been: GEORGE McNEILE, engineering wheel from Wheelabrator, courtesy of his wife Helen; JACK SCHOONOVER, the Whirlpool kid, thanks to spouse June; lawyer TED PREKOWITZ, through the kind cooperation of better half Gwendolyn; U.S. Rubber czar DALE LOVELL, courtesy of his mate Vera; and math prof. REV. JOHN C. BURKE, C.S.C., by special permission of the N.D. Fire Department which he serves as chaplain and honorary chief. Putting in the Alumni Office car has been JOHN LAUGHLIN, '48. Special thanks to Pauline, patient wife of Schiffer Drugs' MORRIS COOPER, and Leah Vogel, helpmate of River Park cinema king Jerry, for opening their homes to this pretzel-soaking horde.

Details of the program they have worked up will be presented in a series of special mailings to the Class. Suffice it to say that a small premium will take care of all food, drink, entertainment and gratuities for the entire week end; that the entire program will be relaxed and informal, at the urging of JIM SHERRY, BOB ERVIN and the Michigan delegation; in short, that it will be a reunion never to be forgotten. On hand to welcome the crowd at Lyons Hall, beside the above-named local and national committee members, will be others who have not been able to attend meetings but offered their weekend service, work permitting: for legal and transportation advice, trucker CHARLES PIERONI, whose daughters have long had a private telephone listing so that Pop and Virginia can get a word in edgewise; for free medical advice, DR. HENRY A. STAUNTON, if wife Clarisse will let him escape a houseful of boys; RAY HERRLY, if Mildred and U.S. Rubber permit; and many more.

The Class Secretary is writing this column from a nice easy chair with his foot all wrapped up in a cast over the knee. The "athlete" of the family took the boys skating just before Christmas, and after three large strides, figure eights, etc. managed to fracture his ankle in two places. So, now your Secretary is chairborne and still very little to report as far as correspondents are concerned. Must say that even the spirit of Christmas didn't move too many men. Remember, just two Junes from now and we will be celebrating our 25th reunion. The Committee will be sending you many forms, so please be ready to cooperate on vital info which we will be after.

JIM WALDRON heads the list this time from Trenton, N.J., where Jim practices law and at the present is serving his second term as president of the Mercer County Bar Assoc., is also chairman of the State Bar Assoc. Americanism Comm., and for his church work is on the Executive Comm. of the Diocese of Trenton and head of their Memorial Gift Comm. for the St. Francis Hospital. Our men manage to get all these good paying jobs. Jim's family includes two boys and two girls. He has a real connection now in Washington as his wife and Mr. Kennedy were old neighbors in Bronxville. Jim was formerly with the FBI in Honolulu, then went in service as a counter-intelligence agent for O.S.S. serving in French Indo-China, Formosa and Peiping. (May come in handy now.) Jim reported having lunch with ED HUISKING (Mt. Lakes N.J.), didn't say who had the fish hooks in the pockets, that he also corresponds with the relocated easterner, PINKY CARROLL, as manager of the big hospital in Manhattan, Kan. His ex-roomie, JACK McAULIFF has his own architectural firm in Hawaii. This is the first we have heard from Jack in a long time.

ANDY PILNEY, '36, head football coach at New Orleans' Tulane University, might be plotting the play whereby he'll get away to his 25th reunion to new assistant coach George Dickson, '50, who recently filled the backfield assignment at Tulane.

A chance meeting in Grand Central Station, N.Y., brought two letters from JACK GILLESPIE and JOE SCHILLING, first meeting since 1937. Joe didn't believe a man could look so young and still be as bald as JACK has grown. (Hard water in Conn.) Gillespie has a son with the Benedictine's at St. Bernard's, down in Alabama. (This is the long way to Indiana, but the scholarships are greater.) The Sales Manager of Callaway Mills, JOE SCHILLING, reported his activities through the carpeting field over the years since '37. From Bigelow-Sanford, to Beattie, to Fifth and now Callaway. His selling has taken him coast to coast and still about 60% of his time away from being a country squire in Conn. His son attends Denison U. in Ohio, and he has two daughters at home. TOM HUGHES keeps after Joe regarding N.D. affairs and news and Joe hopes to make the 25th reunion as the old gall bladder operation kept him from the 20th. PAUL SHEEDY checks in with a few notes to bring the class up to date on "Doan's Pills". These will be featured at the 25th replacing all the Wildroot we drank at the 20th. "Pablo" has a son, Brian, a soph at the U., joining many other sons of classmates. CORMIER, ED CROTTY, AL SCHWARTZ, BONDI, and HUGHES. Believe this list should be brought up to date. Pablo visited in Salina with the AL SCHWARTZ clan and reported No. 8 was well on the way to arriving at the Schwartz household. There must be a lot of $$ in the wholesale hardware business. RALPH CARDINAL had better adjust some of his policies to get in on this gravy train. By the time you read this the ballots will all be in and counted. Certainly hope you backed BILL FALLON to the hilt. Bill has been a driver for N.D. since leaving school, active in his N.Y. Club work and the Metropolitan area in general. (Bill, don't send the Secy a T-Bird, a Falcon will be all right.) By now you know that Bill is the sales manager for the Ford agency in New Rochelle. Again, you fellows make the news — so let the Secy know. The address appears at the head of the column. We will be needing plenty of news for the 25th reunion plans.

The banker from Wyoming, GORDON MURPHY, V.P., took in the sights of California over the Christmas Season, sending all these fine weather cards, etc. Murphy and Gillespie reported the election of JACK GALLIVAN as Publisher of the Salt Lake Tribune, and president of the parent organization. When "ZEKE" CACKLEY made a local alumni stop in Salt Lake, Gallivan handled all the details in fine fashion. This is the first the column has been able to come up with something on Gallivan, and the Secy used to check him in at Morrissey Hall along with the man from Juneau, BEN MULLEN, and the Madison Avenue flannel suit man, PAUL FOLEY.

I have just received a notice that JOHN LEVICKI died in Lakewood Heights, Cleveland, Ohio. Please pray for him.

JERRY CLAEYS reported spending the summer in northern Michigan, the fall in trying to hold things together in S.B. and looking after the Quinn relatives at St. Mary's. The Claeys Candy

Co., is still operated by Jerry and his brother Don. So, forget the calories and look for Claeys' Candy products. Remember — send the news — Box 275, Andover, N.J.

From the Alumni Office:

New distinctions for the class include Modern Medicine's 1961 award for distinguished achievement to DR. CHARLES A. HUFNAGEL, professor of surgery at Georgetown University and member of the N.D. Science and Engineering Council. Dr. Charlie cited for his development of surgical techniques for treating heart and great vessel disorders: developing the first successful method for freezing tissue grafts; cooling methods for cardiac arrest during surgery; artificial heart valves and aortic valves of plastic, etc. Charlie was also praised as an amateur sculptor and lapidary. Prof. EDWARD FISCHER of the N.D. communications arts department, received the Alumni Merit Award of St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind., and delivered the baccalaureate address at the school's January graduation ceremonies. Ed, who was cited for his work as a teacher and for his new book "The Screen Arts," told the graduates some of the characteristics of a truly educated man. WILLIAM PRENDERGAST of the O.S.S., Johns Hopkins and the Naval Academy, is still on the campaign trail as director of research for the Republican National Committee. It brought him to South Bend as speaker at the Lincoln Day Dinner sponsored by the St. Joseph County Republican Women's Assn.

This time we'll go from A to Z right off. ABE ZOSS just recently was named vice-president in charge of research, development and manufacturing of Photek, Inc., of Kingston, Rhode Island, a newly formed subsidiary of Textron, Inc. Before joining Photek Abe was with Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing in St. Paul as production manager of the Chemical Division. Abe was a well known Villager at N.D. who added a Master's and Doctor's degree in Chemistry after graduating with us. From 1941 he was with General Aniline & Film Corporation until joining M.M. and M. in 1957. Abe was a member of a joint U.S. govt.-Industry intelligence mission to Europe in 1946 and has 34 patents and publications in the vinyl polymers, high-pressure acetylene chemistry and plant management fields.

To make room for Abe and his family in the East, TOM QUINLAN and his family (2 boys and 3 girls with an equalizer hoped for in the spring) pulled up stakes in Connecticut last fall and started a new business, Mail Delivery Service Co., P.O. Box 90, in San Francisco. Tom still owns a summer hotel back at Lake Waramaug, Connecticut where for ten years he was known as Mr. G.O.P. and served three terms in the state legislature. Tom says he's willing to sell his hotel to any Democrats. Before escaping Kennedy's clutches Tom saw GEORGE BELANGER who lives in Whitehall, N.Y., where he is president and general manager of Champlain Spinners Co.; also TOM HARDART in Bronxville, N.Y., and TOM GRAVES in Greenwich, Connecticut. Tom won't be without a place to stay back East even if he does sell his hotel, as his brother FARRELL QUINLAN, '44, has one at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire.

More news about our eastern bretheren comes from BILL MURPHY who left N.D. after our Sophomore year but is now with the Notre Dame Foundation of Greater New York since 1958. Prior to that Bill was a salesman for a moving company for two years. From 1940 to 1956, Bill was in Civil Service in the New Rochelle, N.Y., fire department, except for a 3 1/2 year Navy stint during the war aboard baby flattop USS Guadalcanal. Bill's eldest of eight children, a girl, was just married last September. Bill says that BILL GALLIN lives in New Rochelle where he is in the construction business. He has seven children, one of whom is a sophomore at N.D. this year.

BILL MULLINS is another townsman of Bill's with the leak-proof plumbing business in New Rochelle and with four sons to help him. FOOTS ELLIOTT, in the meat distributing business in N.R., has three children. The last Bill heard of RED SCLAFANI was that he was a colonel in the army. JOE HOCTOR, too, was in the army as per most recent communique. CHARLIE GROSS was recently elected a city official (and helped carry Kennedy) in Tarrytown, N.Y.

Sad news came late last fall about the death of AL DREILING of a heart attack on October 28 at his folks home in Victoria, Kans., where he had gone with his wife, Ethel, to recover from a first heart attack in August. Al was president of the Kansas-Oklahoma club at N.D. and a member of the Political Science Academy. He received his law degree from Marquette and during the war was with the Federal Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division. After the war Al worked for Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., Shell Oil, and Marquette National Bank in Minneapolis, where he met his wife. They were married in 1955, after which he attended Georgetown for a year and then studied two years in Germany and Italy before returning to Georgetown U. Law School as a full time professor. Al attended summer sessions at the U. of Colorado and on the way thru South Bend always visited with BOB DUBOIS and DON FISHER. Al had planned to return to Europe to teach in Austria next summer. I received a wonderful letter from Al's widow written on his birthday, Dec. 6, describing his beautiful death in her arms and thanking us all for the prayers that we have offered and will offer up for the peaceful repose of his soul. On Dec. 3 Father Tom O'Donnell said a special mass for Al at N.D.

Among the Christmas cards was a missive from the Mexican missions in Austin, Texas, from FATHER VINCENT DELAVY, C.S.C., who is recuperating his strength after an operation last March on "my not so comely liver," so that he can return to East Pakistan. After waiting out passage to India during the war here on the "Home Mission," living-out-of-a-bag circuit and in the Texas-Mexican missions, he made it to India on a corn laden freighter in '46 and stayed 10 years. He had just returned to East Pakistan in '58 when he fell ill and was brought back for surgery. Anxious to get back Father wonders if he is the only foreign missionary in our class. Outside of JOE KUCHARICH, who was in Hawaii coaching College All-Stars (none from N.D., incidentally) last January, I don't know of any other.

Received a fine Christmas card pic of "BIG" JOHN SULLIVAN with wife and two boys and two girls from St. Paul; also, after a lapse of 20 years, a card from ED MANN and wife Mabel, 2059 E. 72nd St., Chicago 49.

Anticipating the move ahead in the sixties movement are TOM KAVANAUGH, now at 250 Martin St., Birmingham, Mich.; ART MAEHLER from La Mesa to 10440 Forallone, Cupertino, Calif.; and TOM ELDER, from Waynesburg, Va., to 1372 Ingles Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

In South Bend the architect for the new Co-Cathedral, St. Matthews, was DON SMITH.

From the Alumni Office:

The journealese of star reporter NICK LAMBERTO noted a typical quiet month in the Des Moines area: "We had a $2 million embezzlement at Sheldon, Ia., by a 58-year-old woman, daughter of bank president, respected in community, etc. Elliott Roosevelt involved through firm (Northern Biochemical) using bank money to operate. Much of the story still to come out. Then we had a bizarre kidnap-slaying-robbery. Convict steals car of youth, 16; youth catches him, is forced to accompany him to lonely spot, is shot; convict covers body with grass, comes back to Des Moines, robs two service stations, apprehended by police on routine check, fights with three of them; police check car ownership, find boy missing, find body next day; convict confesses. Right now we've got a police department scandal. One patrolman convicted of two burglaries, decides to talk just before going to state prison, implicates 20 other policemen." Sure is a dull life, Nick.

This is the last information that will appear in the class notes in the Class of 1939 unless some of you would be kind enough to send me the latest information concerning you and yours.

VINCE DECOURSEY is still the manager of a dairy plant in Kansas and he lives with his wife and six children: Vincent, Jr., Thomas, Robert, David, Stephen and John.

He said he had a great time at the last reunion and is looking forward to our 25th get-together.

JOHN B. CELLA II is vice-president of Cella Vineyards in Fresno, California where he lives with his wife Tina and three children: Barbara Ann, 12; John L., 11; and Peter M., 7.

Just a few days ago I received a letter from C. A. McNAMARA who was the bearer of unfortunate news that LOYD WORLEY, one of our classmates, died on October 9 in Phoenix, Arizona, from a heart attack. I hope that all of us will remember him in our prayers.

EDWARD J. FANNING is a Chevrolet automobile dealer in Aurora, Illinois, where he resides with his wife and three children: Edward, Jr., 16; Alice, 13; and Susan, 7.

Ed would like to hear from his old friend CHARLIE ENGLEHEARDT.

THOMAS B. HOGAN is a certified public accountant in Westfield, New Jersey. Tom and his wife Grace have a fine family of five who are: Nancy, 17; Kathleen, 15; Thomas, Jr., 13; John M., 9; and Joseph, 5.

Tom would like to hear from PAUL KLUDING and FRANK FITZPATRICK.

J. L. SUNDERLAND is an accountant for American Fork in Utah, where he resides with his wife Marvel and daughters: Pat, 18; Sue, 14; and Cora Lee, 10.

In the past 20 years he has seen JAKE KLINE but other than that has seen no one since the 15th reunion.

He would like to hear from BILL RICEY, CHUCK REDDY and HAROLD BLAKEMAN.

EUGENE F. MILBOURN is zone manager of American Motors (home base is here in Detroit). Gene lives in Denver, Colorado, with his wife Jean and daughter Sue and sons Rickey and Patrick.

Gene moved to Denver from Kansas City where he lived for some years and hopes to get back to Notre Dame occasionally to see a football game.

ALFRED KIEFER has a very fine pharmacy in Dade City, Florida, where his wife and sons Alfred, Jr., and Joe and daughter Pamela, have a great time in that sunny warm climate.

Al has a constant welcome mat for anyone coming through Florida on Highways 301 and 98.

WILLIAM W. RUNGE is an investigator for the U.S. Department of Labor. He lives in Crawfordsville, Indiana, with his wife Mary Elizabeth, sons Tom, Bill, and John and daughter Mary Frances.

Bill would like to hear from LARRY PETRO-SKIUS and GEORGE REEVES.

J. GREGORY RICE is an accountant living in River Edge, New Jersey, and his family consists of Gregory, Mary Jane, Michael Peter, and Patrick Joseph. Greg says there is no more running as he did in college except trying to keep up with his young brood.

He has officiated during the indoor season at Madison Square Garden. Greg would like to hear from MATT MERKLE, KEN COLLINS and JOE RIZZI.

FRANK TULLY recently was given the job of General Purchasing Agent for the Ralston Purina Co. and has four lovely daughters: Vickey Ann, Mary Grace, Elizabeth, and Catherine.

FRED SIMON, JR. is a manufacturer of brooms and mops called the Waco Broom and Mop Co. in Waco, Texas. He resides in Waco with his wife Elizabeth and family consisting of Diane, Susan, Fred III, Mark, Michael and Ralph and by now number seven which was due shortly after I received this letter which is now a year old, probably a pretty little girl.

Fred wanted to get to the 15th reunion but he couldn't and is planning to get with us on the 25th. He just finished a four-year term as member of City Council and was Mayor Pro Tem the last year. Because of these activities and having a large family he had a slight heart attack but has recovered and is doing fine "healthwise" at the present moment.

JOSEPH F. KINNEALEY lives in Milton, Massachusetts, and has a partnership in a wholesale meat business. At the time I received his letter he had a daughter, Jane Frances, and a son, Joseph, and was expecting a 3rd.

I would like to receive a letter bringing me up-to-date on the new addition and other happenings in your life in the past year or so.

Joe would like to hear from TOM POWERS, CARL FRICKE, DAN SCHMIDT and TOM KALMAN.

PHIL DAHAR is in the aluminum siding and contracting business in Dillonvale, Ohio, where he resides with his wife Mary and sons Philip, Jr., and Richard. Phil would like to hear from JAKE KOVALCIC and MARIO TONELLI.

In addition to weight lifting, where he nearly set the world's record, he has been athletic director in a C.Y.O. in Wheeling, West Virginia. Hope to see you back at our next reunion.

F. WIN. SCHULTE is a design engineer for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Los Angeles, California. His family consists of: Sharon, twins Victor and Thomas, and Heidi.

His daughter, Sharon, planned to enter the Sisters of Notre Dame in September of this past year and the twins are in the Salesians' Junior Seminary.

GEORGE T. WILLIAMS lives in Toronto, Canada, and works at the Creamette Co. of Canada, Ltd. He has a family consisting of Jim, Shane, Patrick and Michele Louise.

BERNARD J. FAGAN is a funeral director in Bath, New York, where he lives with his wife, Sally; James, who is now a student at Notre Dame; Patrick, and newly adopted Anne and Kevin. Bernie, that sure sounds like you have a fine family.

Bernie has seen PAUL DONOVAN of Elmira and would like to hear from ED SIMONICH and TOM POWERS.

JOHN S. CLARK, JR. is a builder and in the real estate business in Chicago, Illinois.

GEORGE M. O'NEIL, JR. is the owner of a Pepsi-Cola Bottling Plant in Mt. Vernon, New York. His family consists of Susan, Mike, John, Jane, and Ann.

HARVEY G. FOSTER is still an F.B.I. man in New York City where he lives with his wife Mable and sons John and Daniel.

EDWARD M. BROSCOE is a principal of a Junior High School in Syracuse, New York, where he lives with his wife Genevieve.

J. R. (PAT) GORMAN is a lawyer in Washington, D. C., where he lives with his wife Marge and his family, Kathy, Mickey, and Susan.

These are all of the letters and questionnaires that were sent to me this past year or year and a half. I would certainly appreciate hearing from any of you who have never written to me and any of the class who have further news in regard to family, position, new homes, etc., because it would be nice to have a large article in the coming issues of the ALUMNUS.

From the Alumni Office:

EDWARD J. HART, a veteran of 20 years' sales and engineering experience in electronics, has been appointed manager of the microwave department for R.C.A. Ed joined the company in 1953 as a microwave sales coordinator. In W.W. II he was a procurement officer for communications equipment with the Signal Corps. A native of Brooklyn, he'll remain in Moorestown, N. J., in his new post, supervising microwave marketing, engineering, and special projects.

JOHN P. HENEBRY, the Chicago businessman (investments) and Air Force Reserve general, has been named a deputy commander of the Military Air Transport Command (MATC). One of the '40 Class' foremost air heroes, both in W.W. II and Korea, John had been mentioned widely as President Kennedy's possible choice as administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency. MATC is the third largest Air Force command, and a line assignment seems more fitting for a man who flew more than 200 Pacific missions in W.W. II and was the youngest general in Korea, counting the Distinguished Service Cross and Medal among his decorations. He and Mary have five children, Patricia, 15; John, Jr., 12; Walter, 11; Mary, 7; and Jeanine, 2.

Cheers for HAROLD C. BLAKEMAN, who has been appointed associate counsel for Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. A native of Flint, Mich., Harold was a Commerce and Law grad, won the Farabaugh award, etc. Before joining Mass. Mutual, he was an attorney for the Treasury Dept. for five years and a mortgage and real estate attorney for another firm. Harold is married to the former Mary Bachtel of South Bend. They have seven children: David, 14; Carol, 11; Mark, 9; John, 8; Steven, 6; Sarah, 5; and James, 1.

An overdue salute to South Bend's BILL MCINERNEY, who was installed a few months ago as president of the St. Joseph County Bar Association.

In the short space of three months, we shall celebrate our 20th Reunion at Notre Dame. It hardly seems possible that two decades will have passed since we left the campus. Some of us, about 110, were most fortunate to be able to return for the 1956 Reunion; and all who did vowed to return five years hence, God willing.

BILL HOSINSKI and JIM HANNIGAN have been asked to supervise an extra-special class program on Friday night, and we'll have all the usual ingredients of golf, banqueting and general jollity on the Quad.

You will receive more complete information regarding the 20th Reunion, soon. This letter is merely a gentle reminder that it's later than you think. All too easily, we tend to drift apart, losing contact with one another and with the University. Some of our classmates have kept in touch with the Secretary, but far too few. The Reunion brings us back together physically, and helps bolster us spiritually as well.

In a more material theme, it would be a desirable goal to establish a Class Fund, of a permanent nature; this fund to have several worthy purposes, such as a mass celebration for our friends who have gone on before us; for a class directory such as has been accomplished by the '35 men; and for financing our next and future Reunions in a manner worthy of "old classmates". Your committee feels that the Fund can be started and maintained through yearly nominal dues; however

THOMAS M. FITZGERALD, JR., '38
President with capacity for capacitors

Thomas M. Fitzgerald was recently named president of Mallory Capacitor Company, a division of P. R. Mallory & Co. Inc., Indianapolis, Indiana, manufacturing military, commercial, industrial, and home electronic equipment.

As chief executive of Mallory Capacitor, with plants at Huntsville, Alabama, Crawfordsville, Greencastle and Indianapolis, Indiana, he is responsible for the performance of 1,100 people.

In July of 1953, Tom Fitzgerald joined Mallory as sales manager. His ability was recognized by the organization and he was promoted to general sales manager — the title he kept until his promotion to president.

In his senior year Tom was president of A.S.M.E. Awarded a B.S. in mechanical engineering, he worked with Caterpillar Tractor and General Motors' Allison division in engineering, purchasing, production engineering, sales and administration. Discharged a Lt. commander in January, 1946, after three years service with the Navy, Tom joined the Fabricast division of General Motors as sales manager and assistant to the director of sales and engineering. From 1951 to 1953 he was chief administrative engineer for Southwind division of Stewart Warner Corporation.

In addition to running the four Mallory Capacitor plants, and being active in E.I.A. (Electronic Industries Association), Tom is a past president of the Indianapolis Notre Dame Club. He is also a member of the American Management Association, a partner in Fitzgerald Company (with three brothers, Jim, '44; Don, '48; and Pat, '53) and an officer and director of Capital City and Supply Company.

Tom lives in Indianapolis with his wife and two sons age 7 and 9. His home and church are dear to him and he is a trustee of Immaculate Heart of Mary in Indianapolis.

to establish an immediate workable balance, it is suggested that we contribute five or ten dollars of whatever other amount you would like to give. The existence of this Fund will help us realize the desire of our Class to have a source from which we can carry out our future activities. Your checks should be mailed to JAMES F. SPELLMAN at the following address, 7 East 42nd St., New York 17, N.Y.

Start planning now, men, for the 20th Reunion scheduled for June 9, 10 and 11. Let us hear immediately about your plans, so that we can arrange a gala reception for all.

Sure an' SEAN MacCAULEY is gettin' in voice as the toastmaster of the annual St. Patrick's Day banquet of the South Bend Chapter of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. John is in training for regaling classmates with "Galway Bay" at the twenty-year reunion, and Foundation colleague AL PERLINE is commuting between South Bend and N.Y. as JIM SPELLMAN's contact with John, JIM HANNIGAN, BILL HOSINSKI, etc.

Don't have much news this time. Have word from ED HACKETT, who now lives at 2448 East Hammond Lake Drive, Pontiac, Michigan. He just moved into his new tri-level home to take care of the arrival of number eight which now puts the status at 5 boys and 3 girls. Ed is in the furniture business, the Pleasure & Leisure Shops. He recently was honored with the Furniture World Award of Merit and the plaque reads "In Recognition of Distinguished Service to the Furniture Industry, Edward F. Hackett, 1960." MIKE CARR and DON MARTIN are frequent visitors. Don Martin with his 10 children and Ed with his 8 must make enough noise to really create a headache.

LARRY KELLEY has moved to the Madre Mia Ranch, Route 1, Box 189, Hockley, Texas. The ranch is complete with cattle, chickens, swimming pool, etc., that are necessary for this existence.

R. EMMETT WRIGHT is now associated in the motion picture business with Wilding. His new address is 1136 Three Mile Road, Grosse Point, Michigan.

Just found a letter from BOB MULLANEY. He relates that some how or other he has not seen a classmate in over 10 years. He is temporarily living at 66 Dunster Rd., Needham Hgts., 94, Mass., with his wife and 4 children. Ever since getting out of the Navy as a dive bombing pilot in 1945 he has been employed by the Grumman Aircraft Eng. Corp. and is now in school at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, on the Sloan Fellowship program which is a one-year program for purposes of executive development. He hopes to return to Bellport, N.Y. in June.

From the Alumni Office:

DR. JOHN R. CORRIGAN has made another leap as a research chemist for Mead Johnson. This time he's become director of organic chemical development. A grad school classmate, he got his B.S. at Portland and master's and doctor's at N.D.

EUGENE F. HUNT has been promoted to creative supervisor at Ketchum, MacLeod & Grove, advertising and public relations agency in Pittsburgh, Pa. He coordinates art, copy and production in Pittsburgh headquarters and the Washington and Houston offices. He resides with wife Virginia and eight children in Westford, Pa.

Chicago Tribune writer TOM POWERS scored a double triumph recently. He won the Beck award for excellence in reporting, and Mrs. Powers presented him with a fifth daughter, Michelle.

CHARLES A. SHIRK has been appointed manager of the research division of the Austin Company, Cleveland-based engineering and construction firm. He's been with Austin for 13 years, designed a $25 million plant in the Chicago area and formerly served as assistant engineer in the Chicago district.

La Crescenta, Calif.

MARK PFALLER, registered architect, is secretary-treasurer of Mark F. Pfaller Associates, Elm Grove, Wisc. CHARLIE QUINLAN is district manager for Roux Hair Products, New York City. Pittsburgh manufacturers rep JACK EDWARDS writes that he is married, has 4 children and expects to make the 20th reunion in '63. BOB LEMENSE is associated with a Milwaukee law firm. He was asking about JOHN K. LEAHY. GENE HILKERT has been made New England District Manager of Koppers, Inc., chemical sales. DR. BRIAN McLAUGHLIN practices Ophthalmology in Milwaukee. Also from the Badger State, news that DON KOTZ continues selling for Kocour Co., manufacturers of buffing compounds. DR. LOU SPAGNUOLO practices osteopathy in Detroit. MIKE COMERFORD represents the State of Pennsylvania's Dept. of Commerce in its efforts to attract industrial development. BILL MCGOWAN is a Research Engineer at Langley Field, Va., NASA facility. DON POTTER is general manager of the Stewart Warner Electronics Division in Chicago. DR. DICK MURRAY practices plastic surgery in Youngstown, Ohio. JIM DOWNEY is a partner in a Palm Beach law firm. ART HIEGEL is a project engineer at Pratt & Whitney's Florida plant. CAROL KLOTZ is studying for his masters in Engineering at U.C.L.A. while laboring as flight test data supervisor at North American Aviation. JOHN POWERS drops a note from his Account Supervisor's office at J. Walter Thompson. BILL SHERER is a partner in an architectural firm.

JOHN SCHINDLER is a law partner in Mishawaka. BOB KASBERG heads the Planning Studies Dept. of Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis pharmaceuticals manufacturer. GEORGE BLACKMORE is a big insurance man in Pittsburgh. ED McNAMARA heads a real estate development concern in Indianapolis. Candle salesman BILL MIDDENDORF continues with Washington, D.C., as the base of operations. DICK McCORMICK represents Riker Labs, pharmaceuticals house. BOB CORRIGAN is an associate prof on the faculty of the Tower School, John Carroll, Cleveland, O. Gary, Ind., Chrysler dealer JOHN BOSAK announced the arrival of the second child last July. Petroleum exploration is the field of A. J. KOCHENDORFER, seismic party chief for Seismograph Service Corp., Tulsa. BOB DEGENHART works for Union Carbide in Marietta, Ohio. Another UCC employee, JOE CALLAHAN returned from Djakarta, Indonesia, for a training course in Niagara Falls during the Christmas holidays, then returned to Indonesia. Cake and ice cream is the business of JOE GOEKEN, president of the Alton, Ill., Noll Baking & Ice Cream Co. KEN KEMPF is an instructor in the Electrical Engineering Dept. at Notre Dame. GENE FEHLIG owns Fehlig Products Co., St. Louis and is a board member of Fehlig Bros. Box & Lumber.

Here comes another Union Carbide man, DICK LINDROTH, a department head of UCC Chemicals, Charleston, W. Va. BROTHER MARIUS WITTNER, C.S.C., teaches science at Akron's Archbp. Hoban H.S. MIKE GODFREY is a St. Louis law partner. BOB KUIPERS is Los Angeles district manager for Butterick Co. LOU RYMKUS, head coach of the A.F.L. Houston Oilers has taken the league championship, and was named A.F.L. Coach of the Year by UPI. Lou whacked his old boss, Coach Sid Gilman, in the championship game. BOB O'REILLY is v-p of the Fort Wayne office supply business bearing his name. Union Carbide seems to have employed the class of '43! May we now introduce FRANK SHORTSLEEVE, director of research at Niagara Falls? JOHN WUERTZ heads a Chicago employment agency. DICK POHL is a partner in a general contracting firm. Eastman Kodak claims BOB BLACKMUN as a development engineer. DICK KELLY, a member of the Young President's Organization, heads Bituminous Materials Co., Terre Haute, Ind. BOB GILLETTE is a sales engineer in the Newark area for G.E. BILL O'BRIEN is regional sales manager for

WCAX-TV, Burlington, Vt. STAN PYRITZ is office manager of General Advertising's Indianapolis branch. BUD DUDLEY, had a tough break from the weather as he promoted the Liberty Bowl football game last December in Philly. RAY FLYNN heads Culligan Water Conditioning of Greater Detroit. Ray did not comment on whether water conditioning business in Detroit had been hard or soft. BILL KEENAN has specialized in administrative law representing railroad transportation interests before the I.C.C. Bill is now assistant general counsel for Railway Express Agency, Inc. GEORGE THOMPSON, having been recalled into the Air Force in 1950, has decided to stick with it. He is NCO in charge of the Base Legal Office, Stead AFB, Nevada. Realtor-insurance man TOM WELCH writes from Indianapolis that he is the father of 6 girls and 3 boys. MAJOR JACK REGAN, after 3½ years in Rio, is now working on his masters in Bus. Ad. at U. of North Carolina. ALLAN CLARK heads the Public Relations for Schering Corp., New Jersey pharmaceutical manufacturer. GEORGE CONVEY heads the Convey Shoe Supply Co., St. Louis. TOM SWEENEY, assistant technical director of Ransburg Electro-Coating Corp., Indianapolis, has made a fine suggestion for the 1963 Reunion: keep after three classmates to attend with you. In fact, if enough of this is done in the New York area FRANK CONFORTI has a transportation scheme in mind to fly the bunch to South Bend.

You can be sure it's CHARLES DEIBEL in Westinghouse's Pittsburgh metallurgical engineering department. Big TONY GIROLAMI is Chicago's 28th Ward alderman and Democratic Ward committeeman. GEORGE COPPIN is sector chief flight engineer for Pan American World Airways, Seattle. George was flight engineer on the first commercial flight to the Antarctic in October, 1957. Our Class Treasurer, JIM MADIGAN, heads his own CPA firm in Little Rock. BLAIR MCGOWAN is general manager of Electric Wholesale Supply Co., Jackson, Mich. He must also be an at-home general manager, too, what with nine children. FATHER DICK O'BRIEN is director of Corpus Christi H.S. and chaplain at St. Mary's Hospital, Galesburg, Ill. LEO RITTER is superintendent of communications for the New York Central System.

It is with deep sadness that we report the death of JOE NORRIS last October. Please remember him in your prayers. We have arranged to have a Mass said for the repose of his soul; the Mass will be said by FATHER VIC CULLEN, S.J., missionary in the Philippines at Immaculate Conception Church, Impasugong, Bukidnon.

From the Alumni Office:

Early this year the top industrial design firm of Raymond Loewy Associates became Raymond Loewy and William Snaith, Inc., and EUGENE MCCARTHY became director of budgets and assistant vice-president of the Park Avenue Company. Gene has been on the staff since his discharge from the Air Force in 1946, has specialized in designing for department store branches of Lord & Taylor's, Gimbels, Peck & Peck, etc. He lives at 95 Aster Place, New Hyde Park, L. I.

ROBERT E. MORRILL of New Britain, Conn., was named a vice-president of Landers, Frary & Clark in January. He has been sales manager of national accounts since May of last year and will continue to be responsible for sales, merchandising and planning. Bob joined the company in 1946 after service as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps and has been in various managerial posts. He and his wife, the former Charlotte Haney, have three children and make their home at 166 Pendleton Road, New Britain.

Our Midwest vice president, "BLACK JOHN" MURPHY, has filed his ever-welcome report on activities in his geographical area, and from his various memos, etc., we glean the following:

On a recent trip to Chicago, he met TOM O'CONNOR, who is active in the J. Walter Thompson Agency, and "RED JOHN" MURPHY — both of whom owe this column a letter.

While in Detroit recently, he called BOB FAUGHT, who is with the A & P people and has four boys now. He further reports that CYRIL DESMET is the father of four and presently teaching chemistry and math in a Detroit suburban senior high school. He also attempted to reach CLEM CONSTANTINE in Detroit, but was met with a recorded message stating: "This number is no longer working." On his way home, "BLACK JOHN" stopped at Danville, Illinois, and 'phoned ERNIE "E BRACH" SEDLMAYR. You guessed it — Ernie has four, too!

During football season, "MURPH" met "RED JOHN", JIM KANE and BILL SHEA at the Northwestern fiasco. The Kanes had just had their ninth, a boy named John. ROCKY SULLIVAN turned up at the Purdue rout and then proceeded with his wife to Chicago to be Johnny Kane's godparents.

And a couple of final notes from "BLACK JOHN" — his missing roommate, JIM LLOYD, has been found in West Bend, Wisconsin, recently promoted by West Bend Aluminum . . . PAUL MARIETTA is heading the Terre Haute N.D. Club and doing a bang-up job.

The color film of our Fifteenth Reunion is now in circulation. You may be added to the list of subscribers (no charge) by dropping a request to JOHN MURPHY at 2600 Crawford Street, Terre Haute, Indiana.

A report from Class Treasurer, TOM ROLFS, (Amity Leather Products Company, West Bend, Wisconsin) brings us up to date on his far-flung travels. A customer of the company had Tom and his wife as guests during the Winter Olympics last year, and this was followed by a three week business sojourn to the Orient. Tom bemoans the fact that many of his domestic business trips do not allow him to renew old N.D. friendships because of time, but last season a weekend at N.D. for the Notre Dame-Iowa debacle brought reunions with VINCE DUNCAN and BILL LAWLESS. Tom also spent a few days pheasant hunting in South Dakota and recently called on JIM BURKE's father in Sioux Falls. Jim's father told Tom that Jim is married, with several children, and presently First Secretary of the American Consulate in Beirut, Lebanon.

At Christmas time we received the annual edition of LEARY TIMES, published by WARREN LEARY, JR., in Rice Lake, Wisconsin. It was an eventful year for the Learys, who managed a month's fabulous vacation in Europe this past fall after a busy time stumping for Kennedy in Wisconsin. Wife, Pat, managed to corner the new President when he was in Rice Lake during the Wisconsin primary long enough to have him autograph a copy of his "Profiles in Courage".

May we take this opportunity to thank all of you who were kind enough to send us Christmas Greetings. The cards came literally from all over the world, even as far away as Mexico City, with DICK LEON checking in with his annual report. He is now head of the sales department for Seepso, Mexico's largest plastic company.

JOHN LYNCH's survey is still receiving rare notices. Latest is from HENRY P. STREICHER, who is operating a bituminous cement and mixtures company in Toledo, Ohio. From Henry we learned that he recently had lunch with TOM HALLIGAN and spouse in Flint, Michigan, where Tom heads the Michigan Bowling Proprietors Association, and is the N.D. Foundation man in the area. Hank also reports that BEN MAMMINA sold his business in Benton Harbor in recent months and has re-located in Florida.

More applause for Lynch's compilation — this time from JOE GALL (Youngstown, Ohio). Only thing that disturbed him about the survey was trying to identify the two members of our class who were reported in the $50,000.00 plus class. He has it narrowed down to GENE SLEVIN, BILL WALDRON and BOB THUMM, his interest in the subject stemming from a memento he carried home with him from our '59 reunion — a "legally convenient slipped disc," which he states is ready for reactivation as soon as he confirms his theory.

GALL is searching for ED DOWLING. (Our records indicate he was last billeted at 28 N. 12th Street, New Hyde Park, New York.) He also reports seeing BILL MULLIGAN occasionally — Bill is a food broker working out of Cleveland. And Gall further advises that TOM KERRIGAN performed admirably as Notre Dame Club president in Youngstown. Joe promises to be at our reunion again in '64, provided Waldron again consents to be his bodyguard against the "Illinois Outlaws" — Slevin and Thumm.

Your scribe attended the Navy game in Philadelphia last fall. Caught a fleeting glance of BILL O'CONNOR. Am certain there were many more '44ers in the crowd, but most were bundled and huddled under umbrellas during the miserable weather.

My wife and I had a pleasant evening with ED DRINKARD when he was in town recently, representing his company (American Machine and Foundry) at an international convention of wire and cable people. The Drinkards were expecting their seventh at the time.

JOHNNY JOHNSON reports moving from Delaware, Ohio, to the outskirts of Columbus. John's territory includes Ohio and West Virginia, where he is sales representative for W. H. Hutchinson & Son, Inc. of Chicago (bottle caps). His oldest son is now a freshman at Bishop Watterson High School in Columbus. John and his wife recently attended the consecration of Father Mendez at Notre Dame.

And one final bulletin from your Secretary as we forward this column to the Editor for publication . . . on January 24, 1961, the Bariscillos became three, as Susan presented me with our first child, Cynthia Marie — a living doll, if I may say so myself.

From the Alumni Office:

Lawyer CREIGHTON MILLER of Cleveland has a new long-term contract as attorney for the National Football League Players Assn.

You can reach JAMES B. TREACEY at Breslauer Strasse 61, Heidelberg-Kirchheim, Germany. After 10 years with Pan American, one of them in Africa, Jim joined the Eclipse-Pioneer division of Bendix Aviation in Teterboro, N.J., where he was manager of B-38 systems. In January, 1960, he was sent to Germany to build and manage new plants for Teldix (a combination of Telefunken and Bendix). Jim and his wife Francesca now have four strapping sons.

We've heard that former classmate GEORGE A. REESE, JR., is still in Jackson, Mich., as assistant sales manager for Marine and Jobber sales with Sparton Corp., outboard manufacturers. George has represented Capitol Records and various TV manufacturers.

With the change of administration, there was a void in the mail being sent by our fellow '45ers. However, it is now coming and we hope it continues and increases in volume.

From the schools of higher learning, we hear from FATHER JOHN J. CONNELLY, Catholic chaplain at Rutgers University. Father Jack also is an assistant at St. Peter's Parish, New Brunswick, New Jersey, teaches at St. Peter's High School there, plus being chaplain to Council No. 257 Knights of Columbus. He says he gets the "feel" again of college life but nothing like N.D. From FATHER ED HENNESSEY, G.S.C., who is taking graduate work at St. John's U., Brooklyn, and is serving as chaplain at the Holy Cross High School, Flushing (conducted by G.S.C. Brothers), we hear that; FATHER WILLIAM DONAHUE, G.S.C., is new vice-president of King's College in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Congratulations; and FATHER MIKE MURPHY, G.S.C., is pursuing further studies at Columbia U. From high above Cayuga's waters we heard from PAT FILLEY. He is serving as assistant athletic director for the Big Red, not actively engaged in coaching but still sounding like one with the rough season Cornell had. He still does scouting for the football squad and crosses the paths and charts of fellow N.D.ers. He had ANGELO BERTELLI as a house guest for Princeton-Cornell weekend. With the change in coaches at Ithaca, we hope next season will be better for you, Pat.

From BOB THOMAS, LCDR, USN, we hear: "I regret I have been unable to attend a single reunion since I graduated with Oct. '45 R.O. Class. I am presently Commanding Officer of the U.S.S. Remora (SS-487). She is a high speed guppy submarine that claims San Diego as home port, and soon will join the Seventh Fleet in the Far East. As always submarining is an exciting business and I am elated to be a part of it. If any of the class happen to be in Southern California, I would be happy to escort them through the boat." Nancy, his wife, and their two daughters make their home in Coronado. Bob would like to hear from the "old" R.O. gang. His address: USS Remora (SS-487), Fleet Post Office, San Francisco.

DAVE CHAMPION writes from Cleveland, Ohio: "Missed our reunion due to my prime job of feeding my family, which necessitated attending a convention at that time. The children number 5 now, with the girls enjoying a 3 to 2 edge." Dave was able to make the Iowa game and saw some of the old gang, JOHN CARON, his wife Ann; Professor PAUL FENLON; Bill & Harriet Keyes, and Joe and Bea Mulligan.

From the world's greatest newspaper (Chicago Tribune) we hear from its Sports Editor, DAVE CONDON: "Pleading a busy schedule is no excuse for neglecting to send an occasional note to the class secretary, so I sat down today and here goes — I made two N.D. games this year, California and Iowa. I had reservations for the Miami game, too, but checked out at the last minute to cover Purdue at Minnesota. My roving around the country puts me in touch with lots of N.D. men, altho not too many from my Class. But I seem to be continually in the company of MOOSE KRAUSE and CHARLEY CALLAHAN.

"JOHN DRENDEL of Reno, a top attorney in Nevada, checks into Chicago frequently. I visited John out there and enjoyed an evening with his family (four kids). Missed connections with MIKE HINES in Las Vegas, Nev., but talked to him on the telephone the other day — TOM POWERS, former editor of the Scholastic, decided to telephone Mike at the expense of our newspaper.

"All of us were saddened by the death of JACK

● VAINISI. As soon as I got word I telephoned JERRY GROOM in Denver. The three of us had so many good times together. Jerry now has two kids, and the Condons are godparents of Cynthia. The boy is named David, after one of Groom's newspaper friends. The Grooms are godparents of our Colleen, youngest of six.

"I'm on the air once a week with JACK QUINLAN, who brought new glory to Notre Dame men in the communications business when he did the World Series. TERRY BRENNAN also broadcasts for our W-G-N and does a magnificent job.

"PHIL FACCENDA and PAUL FULLMER and all the gang did the greatest work in years for the Rockne Reunion at the Illinois Athletic Club. The Four Horsemen were there, and HUGH DEVORE, HUNK ANDERSON, FRANK LEAHY, TERRY BRENNAN, MOOSE KRAUSE, JOE KUCHARICH, ED MIESZKOWSKI, TONY MAZZIOTTI, MOTTS TONELLI, BILL STEINKEMPER, and so many others, including MAX BURNELL. BILL WIGHTKIN had to miss because it was his night to teach a weekly religion class in his parish in Bellwood. I can't give you a complete rundown because I had to duck out after the cocktail party to be toastmaster at Mayor Daley's party for Chicago High school coaches. A pleasant job there was introducing TOM CAREY, former quarterback, whose Mount Carmel team won the Chicago city championship a few days later by defeating Taft, the City league champions.

"And speaking of parties — University of Michigan's annual Chicago football party is masterminded by JOHN DENNISTON, a prominent attorney who was a buddy of so many in Frank O'Malley's English classes. Denniston took his law work at Michigan. (And I saw FRANK O'MALLEY and JOHNNY JORDAN and so many others on the Iowa week end).

"Spoke recently in Rockford and met up with JIM DUNN. Had a meeting with ZIGGY CZARROBSKI, who now works out of Milwaukee. I've had lots of speech dates lately, and did one in Milwaukee for MOON MULLINS (the 1930 full-back now is athletic director at Marquette), and for BILL FOX — Indiana's Mr. Notre Dame — in Indianapolis.

"OLEN PARKS has quit the Jack Kramer tennis troupe and is back in Chicago with Wilson and Company. BILL FAY does publicity for Chicago's new convention hall, McCormick Place. GEORGE CONNOR had to miss the Rockne Reunion, but I run into him often at the Lake Shore Club. The Sheraton Corporation has promoted TOM McDONALD to a post in Washington, and the Sheraton Towers in Chicago will miss him. DON MURPHY, originally from Maywood, is one of Chicago's most busy and successful publicity men. Don was in our class. He has tough competition in the publicity field, however, from Fay, JIM KEARNS, and JOE PETRITZ. And that's all for this time."

Although belated, our deepest sympathy to the family of FRANK M. CUSICK, who was killed on his 51st mission in 1945. May he rest in peace.

From 9804 Hillridge Drive, Kensington, Maryland, we hear from VINCE CUSHING: "Last May I started a small research and development endeavor here in the Washington area. Currently the size of the activity is such that it really amounts to being somewhere between consulting and actual project activity. And I suppose I'm going through the usual experience in that the start up was a much more drawn out process than I had expected (or naively hoped for) but during the past month a better kind of luck caught up with me and we now seem to be over the hump. The firm is Engineering-Physics Company, 3515 Randolph Road, Rockville, Maryland. On the family side I married Marie Donnelly in Evanston, Illinois, in 1945. Since then, what has happened: Joan, 14; Vincent, Jr., 12; Nancy, 11; David, 8; Brian, 7; Michael, 2½; and Daniel, 1. Up until about 18 months ago we had lived entirely in the Chicago area, then in the summer of '59, we moved to Huntington, L.I., while I attempted a turn with the aircraft industry. I won't burden you with the details of that period, but the upshot is that it looked like we'd all be happier if I struck out on my own. So, the family finally caught up with me here in Washington area about three months ago." To EPCC — Best wishes and success.

Our planned reunion after the Navy game fizzled. We learned the hard way, I guess, and if we try again sometime, we can look back on the lessons we learned.

● Although it was not the best game for moving around and seeing friends, we did spot JOHN BRESNAHAN, Lawrence, Massachusetts, talking to HUGH DEVORE. In speaking to John later, we found out he is the father of 10, a Democrat and member of the State Legislature of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He also serves as a "talent scout" for the Athletic Department. The next we hear he probably will be running for Congress. Best, Big John. Sat with JIM CLYNES, Ithaca, for the second half of the game — telling us all about his trip to Rome and the Olympics. Met JIM DONNELLY, class treasurer, at post game cocktail party. I guess we will be hearing from him regarding class dues soon. Played golf Sunday after the game with HARRY WALTERS and two Annapolis grads. There's still only one Harry. Harry is practicing law in the Bronx with offices at 369 East 149th Street.

To bring you up to date on your class officers, here are two more biographies: ART EDWARDS — Vice President-East: Art left the class of '45 hurriedly in 1944 for the Navy and was assigned to an LCT group and spent considerable time in the Orient. He was discharged in 1946 as a second class electronic technician. Returned to N.D. and graduated in '47 and spent a year at Carnegie Tech studying metallurgy. He then joined Union Carbide and is with one of their smaller divisions — Haynes Stellite Company. Art is in the advertising department and does most of the work for their corrosion-resistant alloys, trade name of Hastelloy alloys. His office is at 270 Park Avenue, New York City. Art is still a bachelor living at 127 Mt. Hebron Road, Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

The following is an autobiography of JIM DONNELLY, Class Treasurer: "The following will not be exciting reading material; in fact it will be rather pale compared to the recent spotlight column on JIM CLYNES in the Alumnus. Practically my entire business career has been with the Sinclair Refining Company in their accounting department. Previously, for less than a year, I had been with American Airlines. Except for two years in '52 and '53 at Sinclair's Houston, Texas refinery, I have been located in their New York City headquarters. I am presently Chief-Cost Accountant. I married Mary Lou McAree on May 5, 1956. We do not have any future Notre Dammers in the family but we do have three lovely girls — Susan Marie, 3; Cynthia Marie, 2; and Mary Beth, 8 months. We make our home in Old Bethpage, Long Island. I am a poor golfer, a fair gardener, but a good mixer at parties. Because of long hours spent at the office and commuting, I have had practically no time to devote to civic affairs — the most noteworthy is perhaps my being a teacher in Confraternity of Christian Doctrine classes. I have been a member of the N.D. Club at Houston and now, although not active, a member of N.D. Club of New York. I have from time to time participated both as a director and an actor in local amateur theater presentations. Curtain coming down on Life of JIM DONNELLY."

From the Alumni Office:
Much news of former secretary AL LESMEZ, some old, some new. For those who haven't heard, Al has founded A. Vincent Publications, Inc., specializing in advertising, brochures, etc., and became editor of Engineering Graphics, a brand new trade magazine. This is in addition to his full-time work at Sperry Gyroscope and such hobbies as his successful campaigning for BILL FALLON, '37, for the Alumni Board and his work for MEDICO. A recent note expressed Al's thanks to the Class: "I was sitting peacefully in my home the other day, when our new Class Treasurer, JIM DONNELLY, came to visit, bringing with him a great big SURPRISE from you. What lovely gifts, beautifully wrapped in gold paper and blue ribbon (our "national" colors). The gift-bearing treasurer enthusiastically presented the gifts in the name of the Class with a beautiful eulogy that I shall always recall, thanking me in the name of each of you who contributed to making this a memorable day for me. The Notre Dame chair (perfect size) will give me many hours of meditation and rest; the large Notre Dame plaque engraved with a Class "thank you" will always be close to my heart. A very sincere thank you to each of you of the Class who were so thoughtful as to remember a used-to-be Secretary." Flash! Your ex-Secretary was also the happy and lucky recipient of a brand new Ford Falcon, raffled by MEDICO. Al has been active with the organization in various capacities of publicity, brochure writing, and printing, as well as having worked closely with the late DR. TOM DOOLEY in connection with John Kim, a Notre Dame student who joined MEDICO's Laos team. Members of MEDICO and workers for MEDICO were delighted that "one of the team" won this car . . . and so was your ex-Secretary.

EDWARD K. HANDLAN of 16 Briarbrook Trail, Des Peres, Mo., is now contract sales manager of Emerson Electric, St. Louis. Formerly manager of the air conditioning and electric heat division, Ed will supervise electric heat and room air conditioner sales.

DR. A. BROCK LYNCH, after Yale medical school, internship at Western Reserve, training in pathology and surgery at the New England Medical Center, Tufts Medical School, the Sloan-Kettering Institute's Memorial Center for Cancer, etc., and Air Force surgery in the Korean War, has settled as a surgeon in his native Winchester, Mass.

DON CISLE, B.N.S. '45, B.S.C. '47, has added to the development of the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes on the Notre Dame campus. Several years ago, Don made a contribution toward the greatly appreciated black-topping of the space in front of the Grotto, and a recent contribution has enabled FATHER PHILIP SCHAEFER, C.S.C., director of the Confraternity, to install plaques describing the perpetual indulgences attached to the Grotto and visits to it.

REUNION RIME

So your rent's in arrears and the wife is in tears;

You've awaited reunions the past 15 years.
Let the landlady dun; tell the wife, "Spare me, hon,

June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!"

From the Alumni Office:

Next to last call for the 15th anniversary and here's another classmate you might hope to see.

THOMAS J. SEEDORFF has been appointed manager of public relations services of the Public Relations Society of America, a national organization of over 4,000 members of the public relations profession.

Tom was formerly vice-president in charge of public and professional relations of Taylor, Harkins and Lea, Inc., Philadelphia medical marketing research firm, where he played a major role in the development and operation of the National Disease and Therapeutic Index. Prior to that, he was associated with Reul Estill and Company, Inc., public relations and fund raising counsel, in New York.

A graduate of Columbia University (1948), Tom was originally a member of the '46 Class and served in the U. S. Naval Reserve during World War II.

He is a resident of 81 Oakview Terrace, Short Hills, N. J.

ONLY A YEAR OR SO TO GO

If anyone doubts the flying potential of Father Time, let him regard the imminence only 15 months hence of our 15-year reunion. Make sure June 8-10 is an open weekend on your '62 calendar.

The results of the questionnaire will be mailed to you before most of you pay your income tax; they are interesting, provocative, and not necessarily binding, but most important is their indication more of our classmates will attend the '62-do than combined to attend the previous romps.

BUT ONE MORE IS MISSING

The 15th of our classmates died Dec. 7: RAY O'CONNELL, only 37 and the father of four. He was treasurer of our graduating class, you will recall, and had been associated with his father in a Chicago automobile agency.

FATHER JOHN PATRICK DOLAN, C.S.C., sang a Requiem High Mass for the repose of Ray's soul in Dillon Hall Dec. 14, and in your behalf I promised Mary O'Connell, Ray's widow, our prayers for his happiness in the next life and for the solace of his loved ones in this one.

In case you don't think of and pray for them as often as you should, here are the others who have gone before us: PETER CASTELLI, WILLIAM DELANEY, WILLIAM DOUGHERTY, HERBERT FRIEND, NOEL GOTTESMAN, CLARE LESER, GEORGE SCHOTT, RUSSELL UNDERWOOD, LEONARD WALL, REV. MR. EDWARD WILLIAMS, WILLIAM PFISTER, JOHN FORSTER, FRANK PETERS, and JOHN DUCATO. Pray for them, and send Treasurer JOE SHARP a dollar or two for the Mass Fund.

Finally, your prayers are asked for the father of GEORGE GMITTER, who died in August and also the father of DON McDONALD.

GLEANINGS . . .

BROTHER IVAN DOLAN, C.S.C., was in town for the Iowa game weekend but our paths couldn't quite manage to get together. But he'll be back in town soon in the course of his second state-side sojourn in 14 years.

FRANK GILHOOLEY, the popular Toledo sports-spieler, returned his questionnaire with the notation he'll be here for the reunion.

A story in the Benton Harbor, Mich., newspaper recently reported that DON McGRATH, architect and member of the St. Joseph city planning commission, toured the Indiana Dunes area as member of a regional planning group seeking to resolve mutual problems of the Lake Michigan-bordering states.

BROTHER KERIC DEVER, C.S.C., has been transferred from Notre Dame High School in Biloxi, Miss., to Archbishop Curley High School in Miami.

ARNOLD CLEVELAND has moved clear across country from Kansas City, Mo., to Kansas City, Kans.

FATHER WALTER BOZEK has trekked from Bridgeport to Newtown within Connecticut's boundaries for assignment to St. Rose parish.

Thanks to BILL PECK, SAM ADELO, BOB MULCAHY, PAUL LIBASSI, and PHIL DELINCKE for Christmas cards.

JACK QUINLAN, our unanimously-praised All-Star game and World Series play-by-playboy, emceed the Notre Dame football banquet and did a fine job; in answer to those persistent rumors . . . no, he will not manage, coach, nor buy the Chicago Cubs!

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JAMES A. MURTAGH, '48

For Die Cast Veep, a "Die" Badly Cast

When the Alumni Office had last November's mail to James Murtagh in Toledo returned with the note "deceased" and a postal tracer failed to prove otherwise, the ALUMNUS published a three-line obituary reporting Jim dead "according to word received."

The report on Jim, administrative vice-president of Schultz Die Cast Co., was "greatly exaggerated." In fact—to pull a morbid pun on Jim's firm—for him to "die" would be poor "casting." Actually he had changed his residence and left no forwarding address.

Aside from chagrin at getting only a three-line notice, Jim has even been amused by letters, cards and telephone calls of sympathy to his brother William O. Murtagh, '49. Bill reports that "after I accept the condolence calls, Jim gets on the wire and reassures the caller he's not down yet."

By way of retraction we should report that Jim runs the Schultz operation with brother Bill, is on the Schultz board and also a director of Gerity Realty Co. and Rustic Park, Inc., Toledo. Before joining Schultz he was vice-president and general manager of Gerity-Michigan Corp. He invented, developed and patented a new type of metal-finishing machine that promises to revolutionize the metal finishing and glass polishing industry.

Active in local alumni activities, Jim was president of the Toledo N.D. Club for two terms. The correct address for the Murtagh family (including wife Janet, daughter Judy, and son Jim, Jr.) is 2308 Pemberton Drive, Toledo.

Bill reports his brother working hard to merit an obituary of "at least five lines, we hope many years from now."

And CHICK MAGGIOLI is the eater greeter at a local spaghetti house; during the football season, Chick enjoyed doing meat commercials on Notre Dame's TV station . . . he saw to it that all the props went to wait.

WE GET LETTERS

From SAM ADELO: "Another 'Navidad' is here — a time when we reminisce and think of all the amigos scattered about the country and even the globe.

"I have been very busy this year trotting back and forth to South America. In addition to my work for Kendavis Industries Int'l, I am holding down the presidency of the Ft. Worth Good Neighbor Council and giving lectures and periodic classes at SMU and TCU.

"Am now preparing for the Inter-American Bar Assn. conference to be held in Bogota in January and February; I have been asked to do the simultaneous interpreting on a United Nations-type system to be used at the conference."

From FATHER HAROLD ZINK, C.S.C., at St. Mary's Cathedral in Austin, Texas: "BROTHER ROMARD BARTHEL, C.S.C., a staff member of the Brothers Scholasticate for the past nine years and director of the Brothers choir for the past six years at St. Edward's University in Austin, has relinquished these jobs for the very important post of rector of Aadre Hall, a new residence hall named after our own famous Brother Andre, C.S.C., the continuation of whose cause for beatification was recently approved by POPE JOHN XXIII.

"BROTHER LASALLE WOELFEL, C.S.C., has recently been named head of the association of teachers of economics and is chairman of the Division of Business Administration at St. Edward's. He has received national recognition for two graphic studies, one a 50-page booklet entitled "Guides for Profit Planning," offered for sale by the U.S. Government Printing Office, and the other an article dealing with the fluctuations of religious prejudice in this country from colonial days to the present.

"The latter, entitled "The Oldest American Prejudice," appeared in the Sept. 24 issue of American and was quoted in the Sept. 26 issue of Newsweek."

From JERRY FARRON, '48: "As I was saying to you . . . on my way to California in '49, 'I'm on my way out there for a short visit.' That was a wife and seven children ago. I'm married to the former Helyn Doherty, a third generation San Franciscan and am going into my 10th year as a sales engineer for the Pipe Div. of Johns-Manville.

"Still singing soloist with a couple of choral groups in S.F. and doing casuals with a local band. Hope to get back to the next '48 reunion. Regards to RALPH THORSEN et al."

From JOHN MAHER, who through some oversight failed to receive the class questionnaire: "I feel slighted. I'm one of those Notre Dame people who regards his graduation from Notre Dame the greatest achievement in his life. Please send me a questionnaire."

Thanks for your interest, John; wish that some of those who did receive the questionnaires would show interest comparable to yours.

NEW ADDRESSES . . .

are on record in my not-at-all secret files for WALTER BARBU, DON BLASE, THURMAN COSS, BOB FOOS, VERN GUDKESE, JIM HARRIS, BILL HOLBROCK, JIM HUBARTT, GEORGE IRWIN, BILL JANN, GENE KANE, BOB KEENAN, RAY KELLIHER, BOB KILNEY, BILL KOCH, WARREN KRAMER, STAN KUDLACZ, LEONARD LUTZ, LEX MCCOY, DON MANDICH, BOB MEAGHER, BILL NELIGAN, BOB O'BRIEN, JOHN O'CONNOR, GERRY O'REILLY, GEORGE PARENT, MARVIN PROSCHE, BRUCE SILL, HENRY STICKELMAIER, and PAT WILSON.

A FINAL PLEA . . .

. . . to all owners of Eversharp or other automatic pencils: GET THE LEAD OUT AND LET US HEAR FROM YOU!

From the Alumni Office:

Congratulations to JAMES E. DURBIN, manager of the Pioneer Hotel in Tucson, Ariz., for his recent civic recognition in Tucson. In January Jim was selected as Tucson's 1960 "Man of the Year" for his leadership and progress in human relations as chairman of the Public Accommodations Industry Committee. Through his committee voluntary recognition of racial equality was obtained by almost the entire public hospitality business. The awards were based on "distinguished active support of community projects for aiding those persons less fortunate, and for living in a manner which inspires affection, respect and admiration." Judges said Jim's service deserves special recognition, for it required a high degree of courage and conscientious belief in moral rightness, which was asserted to be opposed to selfish interest or business promotion. The 34-year-old hotel executive, a member of numerous community organizations, came to Tucson in 1958 from Salt Lake City.

ROBERT S. O'BRIEN has defected to the Class of '45, with whom he was graduated in NROTC. Anchors aweigh, Bob.

JUAN MOELLER and his wife Rosemarie send greetings from Quito, Ecuador, for 1961. John is president of the N.D. Club of Ecuador, a swinging organization as can be seen in the Club Section.

From the Alumni Office:

There's little that can be said here about the death of DR. TOM DOOLEY in New York shortly after returning to the States in a brace. It's been said in newspapers, on radio and TV throughout the world. Perhaps Tom's attitude was best summarized in his letter to FATHER HESBURGH from Hong Kong, his "last will and testament" to Notre Dame, circulated widely by Associated Press and printed in this issue for any who missed it. Dooley is well on his way to becoming another Notre Dame legend, and the University won't forget him. Tom's mother, incidentally, will be issuing a picture book about his life this spring and his brother Malcolm is continuing his crusade.

The news seems to be uniformly sad this issue. ED AYLWARD wrote in from Kansas City, Mo., to advise that his grandmother, Katherine Aylward, passed away in K.C. January 21 at the age of 94. She had been in this country since she was 18. She had ten children, seven of whom are still living; 22 grandchildren, 60 great grandchildren, and two great great grandchildren. She was a native of Ireland as was her husband, who passed away in 1923. Three of her grandchildren went to Notre Dame: Ed, a lawyer and bachelor who has yet to contribute to the prodigy of her progeny; JAMES P. AYLWARD, '41 (Jim also practices law in K.C.); and W. ROBERT AYLWARD, '49 (Bob attended in 1945-46). Ed, Jim and Bob are cousins. Thanks, Ed, for the note on a "wonderful woman from the Old Sod." She'll be in classmates' prayers.

Another sad note from GERARD HEKKER in New York City, whose mother died on February 10 a few days after a paralyzing stroke. Deep sympathy to Jerry and his wife Corrine, who had recently presented her with a grandson. We hope Mrs. Hecker will also be remembered in Class prayers.

To wind up on a little brighter note, JOHN LUJACK has been the toast of the front pages since his nomination to the Football Hall of Fame in the company of Lou Little, Bulldog Turner, etc. Arthur Daley, in a New York Times profile entitled "Youthful Immortal," spotlights Johnny's innate skill ("a star wherever he played"), humility and perfectionism. Daley recounts John's tutelage under ANGELO BERTELLI and Sid Luckman that led to All-American and All-Pro honors; John's own story of a "lucky" tackle that supposedly caused FRANK LEAHY and JAKE KLINE to remember his name; the personality and charm that led to such success with his Chevrolet agency in Davenport, Ia., and in his TV sportscasting with Chris Schenkel; the agonies over intercepted passes that cloud his memories of a triumph over Doc Blanchard in the 1946 Army game, etc.

May we close with a plea? JOHN DEFANT has had plenty of time to recover from his mag-

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

ROBERT E. FITZPATRICK, '49
Personal Responsibility Personified

A 33-year-old Brooklynite who has spent 12 years helping underprivileged and handicapped children has been named "The Outstanding Young Man of Brooklyn for 1961" by the borough's Junior Chamber of Commerce. Bob Fitzpatrick, administrator of St. Vincent's Home for Boys, was honored by civic and business leaders at a banquet on February 9 and praised as an embodiment of personal responsibility by John E. McKeen, chairman and president of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., principal speaker.

As chief executive officer at St. Vincent's since 1951, Bob has assisted Msgr. William M. Casey in the care and guidance of some 250 boys—140 of them residents and more than 100 alumni who have embarked on careers. Msgr. Casey calls Bob "a gentleman whose loyalty, knowledge and dedication has served me and the boys in my charge unselfishly."

At St. Vincent's Bob has inaugurated psychiatric programs, a vocational guidance program and an after-care department designed to help the boys get started on useful careers; a program in remedial reading for retarded children in participation with the City of New York; recreational and athletic activities including a summer camp program in operation since 1954, participation in the Pop Warner Football League (rewarded last year by city-wide titles in the Junior and Peeewe divisions), and an Explorer Scout troop.

Bob spent two years with the Navy on destroyer duty in the Pacific. Capping his degree with grad work in correctional administration at N.D. and Fordham, he received an M.S. last year from Long Island U. and is active in a dozen professional, civic and religious organizations.

He and his wife, Eileen, have six youngsters of their own. They live at 1278 East 29th Street, Brooklyn.

From the Alumni Office:

ARTHUR VINCENT REGAN recently moved from Chicago to Cincinnati, O., and now lives at 571 Wellesley Dr., Cincinnati 24. Art is married to the former Alice Treacy of South Bend, and the Regans now have eight children, five boys and three girls including twins Tracey Jo and Carol Beth. Art is employed by Arthur Young Associates, the CPA firm.

Brooklyn's Young Man of the Year, ROBERT E. FITZPATRICK, was lauded as a man who recognizes that the "profound truths about man and his destiny are deeply personal truths that demand personal responsibility." Bob has spent the past 12 years helping underprivileged and handicapped children as administrator of St. Vincent's Home for Boys in Brooklyn. He has developed such things as a remedial reading program for the boys, a summer camp program, an Explorer Scout troop, and football teams that captured the Pee Wee and Junior titles in the Pop Warner League. Selected by Brooklyn Jaycees, Bob was feted by 300 civic and business leaders, eulogized by the chairman and president of Charles Pfizer & Co., and received his award from a Justice of the New York State Supreme Court. Congratulations, Bob.

Ford recruiter PETE KERNAN recently called in from South Orange, N.J., where he attended the funeral of his grandmother Mrs. August Struening. Sympathy and a pledge of prayers, Pete.

ROBERT M. CONNELLY recently moved to 1480 Tarrytown St., San Mateo, Calif., had a second child, Kathleen, June 1, 1960. Bob addressed a national meeting of his firm, Aetna Life, last June in Colorado Springs, and he's done very well with his sideline, a motels reservation center in L.A. and San Francisco.

DR. JAMES ROTCHFORD, after completion of post graduate work in New York City, has returned to Spokane, Washington, and commenced specialized practice in dermatology.

DR. D. CURRAN HIGGINS, following post graduate work at the Mayo Clinic, has commenced the practice of surgery in Spokane, Washington.

From the Alumni Office:

Alumni Association Director PATRICK A. DOUGHERTY of St. Paul, Minn., has been traveling extensively both on private and alumni business. Pat recently filled us in on the latest addition to the family, Michael Ignatius, third son, preceded by his only daughter. Mike checked in last Memorial Day at nine pounds, seven ounces, and is now pushing thirty pounds. Sounds like a prospect for JOE KUCHARICH.

JERRY TREACY, soon to be REV. JEROME F. TREACY, S.J., is now at West Baden College, West Baden Springs, Ind., taking his final theology. Jerry has been at John Carroll University, Milford, O. He will be ordained June 11 at West Baden. His first Solemn Mass will be celebrated at St. Matthew's Co-Cathedral in South Bend on June 18 at 11:45 a.m. All his classmates are invited.

JOHN M. PROOS, recently spotlighted as district manager of Layne-Northern's Indianapolis office and chairman of the board of Layne & Bowler, Memphis, Tenn., has been named executive secretary of Layne Associates, a newly formed national organization to promote progress in conservation of ground water and provide information through research and development. Layne Associates is composed of all the Layne well drilling firms and Layne & Bowler, pump manufacturers.

REUNION RIME

How the time disappears! We haven't cadged beers
With classmates at Joe's for 10 long years.
We can brag of our stunning new daughter or son
June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

All right — I'm sorry! My last set of notes were too late to be published in the last issue. However, none of you better even consider being late for the 10th REUNION.

MATTY O'DONNELL (Capt. M.B. O'D., J.A. Section, Hqr. VII Corps, APO 107, New York, N.Y.) has a good excuse — he's in Germany. However, he has promised to make No. 15. Matty has two girls and is saving his leave and money to see Dublin.

Haven't had a good excuse from anyone else. So start a chain reaction with your better friends among the Class and show up.

Received Christmas cards from the following: JOHN HALEY (7116 Penmoken Dr., Ft. Wayne, Ind.) and Nancy and their two girls.

RAY MILLER (2584 Wellington Rd., Cleveland Heights 18, Ohio), his wife, three girls and two boys.

JACK YOUNG (3846 Myrtle St., Erie, Pa.), his wife, Mary Ann, and their three girls.

TOM MULLEN (Box 14, Paoli, Pa.) and his wife, Julie, who are living back in Yankee Country after a spell in Florida.

DICK MacDONALD (1005 Highland, Lafayette, Ind.), his wife, Joey, their daughter and three boys.

BILL WHITESIDE (4073 Thompson Rd., Lafayette Hills, Pa.), his wife, Eileen, their daughter and three sons.

JOHN MOORE (672 Graefield Ct., Birmingham, Mich.) and his bride of a few months, Pat.

HARRY HANIGAN (9414 Laffin, Chicago, Ill.), his wife, Marie, their son, Brian and daughter, Mary Beth.

JIM FRICK (17746 Tanager, South Bend, Ind.), his wife Bonny, their three boys and two girls.

HARVEY O'NEILL (69 Hillcrest Dr., Peru, Ind.), his wife, Nancy, their daughter and two sons.

FATHER JIM MADDEN, C.S.C., (Catholic Church, Biroidakuni, P.O. Halmaghat, Dt. My-mensingh, East Pakistan). Father Jim thanks us for our prayers and any contributions that any of us want to make to the Missions, Father Jim would appreciate.

BOB (EASY ED) EDMONDSON, (60 E. 96th St., N.Y. 28, N.Y.), his wife, Mary, their son, John, and daughter, Amy.

PAT BARRETT, (2028 Seabury Ave., So., Minneapolis 6, Minn.), his wife, Pat, and son, Robert. Pat is practicing medicine in Minneapolis, loves it and will be at the reunion.

GEORGE LARSEN, (2436 Clarendon Ave., Louisville 5, Ky.), his wife, Rosemary, their three girls and three boys.

BUD HERR (Box H., Chatsworth, Ill.), his wife, Barbara, their two boys and daughter. Bud, we'll see you in June, won't we?

JIM GILLIS, (4315 Kentucky Dr., Bethesda, Md.), his wife, Jane, and four daughters. Jim left the F.B.I. last May and is now Executive Assistant, Television Code Affairs with the Television Code Review Board. Jim is planning on the reunion.

STEVE MARTIN, (1056 A Greenwith, San Francisco, Calif.), and his wife, Kathleen.

HANK MADDEN (20 Oakmont Lane, Signal Mountain, Tenn.), his wife, Sally, a son and two girls. Hank writes that DON SONDAG and his wife, Liz, visited them one weekend and that Don is taking a residency in Decatur, Ga. Hank also is planning to make the reunion.

KEN THOREN, (236 Central Ave., Rye, N.Y.), his wife, Pat, a son and a daughter. Ken reports having seen JACK YOUNG, TOM WOLFF, JIM VOGEL, JACK MURRAY, BOB EDMONDSON, ED MEAGHER, ANDY WALSH, DICK JORDAN, DON RODRIGUEZ, JOHN BRODERICK, and JERRY HALLIGAN at the Navy game and all are planning on the reunion.

BILL CAREY, (5007 Morse Ave., Skokie, Ill.), his wife, Helen, two boys and a daughter.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

EDWARD V. O'MALLEY, JR., '51
For an Old Phoenix Family, New Frontiers

E. V. (Ted) O'Malley, Jr., native Phoenician and business executive, today was elected to the board of directors of The Arizona Bank at the annual stockholder meeting January 25.

Member of a pioneer Arizona family, Ted is controller and assistant secretary of the O'Malley Lumber Co., one of the state's major suppliers with branches in 15 Arizona communities. He also is currently serving a first term on the Phoenix City Council.

Ted is the son-in-law of Herb Jones, business manager of Notre Dame athletics. He and his wife Jane have five children.

After attending New Mexico Military Institute, Ted graduated from Notre Dame with a degree in business administration. Before beginning his business career he served two years in the army finance corps and audit agency. In Phoenix Ted is active in many organizations, having served from 1955 to 1960 as an executive of the United Fund and youngest director on the U.F. Board. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, St. Francis Xavier Church, Phoenix Kiwanis Club, Arizona Club and the Thunderbirds. He has also served on the Board of directors of the Roosevelt Boy Scout Council and Valley of the Sun School for Handicapped Children.

His election brings to 18 the number of directors of The Arizona Bank, one of the nation's fastest-growing commercial banks with 32 branches throughout the state. With deposits of nearly $150 million, the bank ranks among the 200 largest in the United States.

PAT O'SULLIVAN, (307 Michigan National Bank Bldg., Port Huron, Mich.) and his wife, Maureen. Pat is definitely planning on being at N.D. in June.

JACK GARTLAND, (Box 17, Peru, Ind.), his wife, Ann, his son and two daughters.

AL GUARNIERI, (242 Overlook Dr., N.E., Warren, Ohio), his wife, Ann, three sons and a daughter. Al and Ann have just moved into a new home.

ED McCARTHY, Class of '50, (3917 Hickey St., Metairie, La.), his wife, Mary, one son and two girls.

TOM CARROLL, (17 Carlton Rd., Hutchinson, Kansas), his wife, Jane, one son and a daughter. A letter accompanied their card, stating that after a year in Kansas, they love it. Tom is playing golf twelve months a year, alternating between white and red balls and doing a lot of duck hunting. Tom, take Jane to Chicago in June and come down to the reunion.

With reference to the reunion, let me know of any ideas any of you have about making it a "good show." If you consider it worthwhile, we'll form a committee to accommodate wives off campus for those who have to bring them along. If you need any addresses, let me know.

From the Alumni Office:

PAUL CLARK EIDE is still operating an insurance agency in Des Moines, Ia. He and his wife, the former Rosemary Treacy, have three children, two boys and a girl. The address is 600 Fourteenth St., West Des Moines.

Congratulations to E. V. (TED) O'MALLEY, JR., Phoenix, Ariz., on his election to the board of directors of The Arizona Bank at the last stockholders' meeting. Member of a pioneer Arizona family. Ted is also active in lumber and politics. He and Mrs. O'Malley (daughter of N.D. Athletic Manager HERB JONES) have five children.

RALPH G. SCHULZ has become a member of the law firm of Whyte, Hirschboeck, Minahan, Harding & Harland in Milwaukee.

Once again your correspondent desperately sounds the clarion for more mail; you will note from the brevity of this column that the incoming volume has been somewhat less than overwhelming. Let's hear from some of you long lost brethren, lest this column shroud up into trivia about the author and a few seldom-seen midwesterners.

First item of news is the proud announcement of the arrival of son Andy on December 9, to join his sister Diane born a year ago.

One of the few messages I have received recently is from JOHN NOLAND, who is now Bro. Brian Noland, O.P. John is presently at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C. With his indulgence, I quote in part from his most welcome letter: "After our graduation I returned to N.D. for graduate study, but left in '55 to enter the novitiate of the Order of Preachers — the Dominicans. Three years of Philosophy followed the novitiate year. During that time I was at the House of Studies in Dover, Mass. . . . Finishing philosophy I headed toward Washington and the study of theology. First, though, came my solemn profession in the summer of '59; a very happy moment. I'm now in the second year of theology; was ordained a sub-deacon this past fall; will be ordained a deacon next fall and in the following spring, God willing, I'll be a priest forever." John reports further of some classmates: GENE GORSKI was ordained in Rome last fall, and is now studying at the Gregorium. ERNIE BARTELL is at the C.S.C. house in Washington, and hopes to be ordained next spring. LEO DIGIOIA is attending engineering classes at Catholic University in Washington. Many thanks, John, for a much appreciated report. Our thoughts and prayers are with you; please remember us in yours.

Other news: ART HENKEN is Principal of the Willow Grove School in Centralia, Illinois, is married and has 2½ children. JIM HUTCHINSON writes: "We are busy getting ready to add on to our 30 year old house to accommodate our expanding family and take care of both SMC and ND friends that pass on the pike only 14 miles South of us — all are welcome — we think of the 'Zoo' and wonder about everyone." Jim and wife Peggy live in Butler Pa., just North of Pittsburgh, and are busily populating western Pennsylvania with little Hutchinsons; four thus far. Jim operates Hutchinson's Dry Cleaner's in Butler. DAVE HENTGES is at the Stritch School of Medicine in Chicago finishing work toward a Ph.D. in Microbiology, as a predoctoral fellow, U.S. Public Health Service. DAVE HAYES is a Sculptor in Coventry, Connecticut, and has two small boys. A note from JOHN MURRAY informs us that he is now an M.D. practicing in Penn Square, Pa., just outside Norristown, and he and wife Joan have added to their family John — 2½, and Lizann — 1. John also sends along word that MARTY BRENNAN has his M.D. and is in the Navy stationed at Philadelphia Naval Hospital.

Another samaritan who has answered the crucial plea for news is JIM FLAHERTY, who has sent along the following message: "NED BREWER is an engineer at Hamilton Standard in Windsor Locks, Conn.; NEIL BUTLER is an engineer at Candel in Middletown, Conn.; TONY CARNEVALE is with Bendix, Teterboro, N.J. as a production engineer; JIM FLAHERTY is selling Beechcrafts for Atlantic Aviation in Hartford, Conn.; ED HADERER is in engineering with Metals and Controls in Attleboro, Mass.; JIM KEENAN is at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford in the engineering department; HANK MCGANN is a sales engineer in Hartford with an air-conditioning firm; DICK NAULT is with Minneapolis-Honeywell and living in Woodland Hills, Calif.; JOHN O'LAUGHLIN is in engineering at Combustion Engineering in Windsor, Conn.; DICK SCHREITMUELLER is an actuary at Aetna Life Cos., Hartford; JACK WILCZYNSKI is an engineer with G.E. (Schenectady) and living in Cohoes, N.Y." My heartfelt thanks, Jim, for your efforts. It's contributions such as this that keep the column alive, and without them it's content would be pitifully meager.

Best regards to all; hope to hear from you.

From the Alumni Office:

A triple triumph for Connecticut sculptor DAVID V. HAYES since his profile in a recent issue: the arrival of a second child, Brian James, doing very well; another one-man show in New York, this time in the Willard Gallery through February, with a highly complimentary review in the New York Times; and a projected trip to Europe on a Fulbright Scholarship. Good going, Dave.

DR. R. E. STEJSKAL now lives at 2863 Galtier St., St. Paul 17, Minn. He's currently in radiology residency on a fellowship at the University of Minnesota Hospital until 1964.

ANGELO TURCO of 525 E. Oakside, South Bend, has become a medical service representative for J. B. Roerig & Co., a pharmaceutical division of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc. He and his wife Mary Frances have two children, Lisa Ann, 3, and John Michael, 6 months.

A one time member of the Class, REV. BURTON SMITH, C.S.C., was recently the recipient of an unprecedented gift for his mission activities in Uganda, Africa, from a labor union. Local 263, Brewery Workers, Utica, N.Y., presented him with a check for $800 toward the construction of a church for the Holy Cross Foreign Missions.

Along with the calendar change for the New Year, please note that there has been a change in the office of class secretary. GEORGE PFLAUM has regrettably tendered his resignation as our class secretary due to increased business responsibilities. At this point I could go into flowery detail recalling the fine job that George has done for us but I believe that a job well done speaks for itself. Thanks, George, for everything, including your efforts towards making our 1st reunion a smashing success. George's recommendation, that I take over for him was accepted by the Alumni office so here I am trying to live up to the established standard of informative, well written articles. This will be pretty hard considering Engineers aren't supposed to be able to speak or write English, so try and overlook the grammatical errors. Even an English major, however, could not write an article without material so please get out your pens and drop me a line and fill me in on yourselves and any buddies you might run into. GEORGE PFLAUM passed on about 20 letters ranging from a week to 6 months old so here goes:

If you ever need N.Y. Yankee tickets contact BILL GUILFOILE at the Yankee office in N.Y. He is working in public relations there. If you can't reach him at the office, try 2201 West St., Brooklyn 23, N.Y. Bill reports seeing JOE and Annojan IMBRIACO from time to time. Joe is with a Newark law firm. BOB and Mildred WALLACE are living in Moorestown, N.J., where Bob is working for R.C.A. PHIL BOLIN is working in N.Y. for an advertising agency.

TONY GARRUTO is interning at Monmouth Medical Center, Long Branch, N.J. Tony and his wife Peggy have a daughter, Maria (Hi Tony). TOM GODFREY is in a Chicago law office and BOB GORMAN is in a Newark law office. TOM CALDER is working for a Cincinnati law firm. Now I ask you, how can I write an interesting article when all the news is about lawyers? ED LEWIS has become associated with the firm of Paty & Downey in the practice of law — West Palm Beach, Florida. JIM HARRINGTON has pole vaulted to Germany for Esso. That's good distance, Jim, good engineering too. JOSEPH P. MALONEY (CPA) announces the opening of his office, 317 Wyatt Bldg., 777 14th St. N.W., Washington 5, D.C. Best of luck, Joe! Received a nice Christmas card from LARRY and Andrew, Davey, Patricia, Melanie GOTUACO, P.O. Box 1254, Manila, Philippines.

Some of them may be a little old but under births: Christopher was born to Pat and FRANK RATH; Shawn Timothy was born to Peg and DICK McNAMARA; Maureen Ann was born to Mary Ann and TOM CAMPBELL; Jeanne Claire was born to Claire and ANDY BAUER (No. 5). BOB FROLICHER and spouse had No. 4, a son Eric John. (Bob is working for Crosley Broadcasting Co., Cincinnati). The GUILFOILES had a son Peter William; and the JACK PITTAS were blessed with Marc Alexander. Another card proudly announces the arrival of Anne Elizabeth to Karen and BILL MORLEY. RICH HOHMAN's announcement arrived, just like clockwork — a boy (No! You're not too late to enter the contest, Rich, but by 1964 it's going to take at least 8 to win). Pat and BILL REYNOLDS had a boy and PETE and Jean Ann SCHWENK had twin girls. OH! My wife, Marie, presented me with a boy — Robert Francis. HERMAN L. KRIEGS-HAUSER reports that his wife Blanche gave birth to their third son, Keith Martin, in November. They are settled at 11700 Serama Dr., Harwood Hills, St. Louis 31, Mo. Herm is associated with his family's funeral business. JIM ZAVATONE has been transferred to Germany and requests that any travelers look him up. Jim, with this address you might never hear from any of us — any way address all letters to: JIM ZAVATONE, Europa Carton Aktiengesellschaft, Hamburg/Wandsbek, Tilsiterstrasse 144, Germany (Time out for coffee). News from JUD MORAN, out Portland way, Jud is married, two children, and working with his father at the Moran Oil Co. His son Louie is a cinch for All American football in 1981 (you might get an argument there, Jud, unless AP and UPI elect a dozen or more All American footballbacks). Anyway, HUGH DEVORE please take note. Jud occasionally sees BOB HEALY and TED MURPHY. He asks that JOE D'ANTONI write more often. Also, from Jud, JOHN BIERBUSSE has moved from Muskegon to Indiana and is in the drawing supply business and that J. L. WIEGAND received a law degree from Georgetown and is working with his Dad in Wichita. From GEORGE OFFUTT, 93 Colonial Street, East Northport, N.Y., comes news that being married with two children he is busy working for Airborne Instruments Laboratory. Not to busy, though, to have run into STEVE PIPOLY, RAY ONOFRIO and JOHN FALLON. Ray and John are working for Hamilton Standard in Connecticut. BILL VALUS is an architect in Stratford, Conn. George must get around quite a bit because he reports running into TONY LAPASSO, JIM GAMBLETON, "SMITTY" MEEHAN, and ANDY CORRAO. Also, JOE HARRIS is working in Chicago. NORM WEINBERG is coaching in N.J., NICK KRALL is raising children in California, JOHN DARAGO is a big banker in Akron, JOHN ROCHE is crop dusting in Calif. and CHARLEY MINCK was intending to enter the Seminary. Thanks, George! A few letters like that each month would insure full articles each quarter. Received a Christmas card from CAPT. AL SUWALSKY USMC, Naval Clemency Bd., Navy Annex, Washington 25, D.C. He reports that SKIP DOYLE is a civilian again studying at the Wharton School of Finance at Penn., that KEN PATTERSON is at Camp Pendleton, Calif., TOM FIELD is at Harvard Law School, and that JACK KEENAN (Capt. USMC) is at Marine Basic School, Quantico, Va. Donna and JOE JOYCE have moved into their new home at 4708 S.W. 16th St. Des Moines, 15, Iowa. Joe was made a jr. partner in Sept. (another lawyer). BOB RAYMOND is Chem. Engrg. for Universal Oil Products, DesPlaines, Ill. JACK PITTAS is also with U.O.P., having recently moved from Washington D.C. where he received a law degree and passed the bar. Ran into Jack at O'Hare Airport between flights and we didn't pass the bar, just stopped at it for awhile.

At football games this fall besides running into PHIL VANHUFFLE, BOB WRIGHT, BILL BURKE, JOHN GROSSPITSCH, ED SEIM, "SKIP" CRANE, JERRY DIXON, I ran into "MIR TUNEDO", PAUL KELLY. At the Edge Water Beach after the ND-Norwestern game I ran into JOE BUSH, DICK ERR, and FRED MANGIALARDI. About football — it has been suggested that we have a class cocktail party this coming season. For it to be a success it takes some advance planning and a great deal of work. Anyone wishing to help please contact me soon. Since alumni ticket preference applications come out in June we quickly chose the NOTRE DAME-NAVY game so that you can all order tickets. Plan now to attend and talk it up so we will have a big crowd. More information later. Well that about covers 6 months of material so there's nothing for the March 29 Deadline. Please write.

Well, gentlemen, a lot of Christmas spirits have passed under the bridge since last time I reported to you. The news was good this time as it always is around the holidays. Before I go any further, I would like to wish all of you a very happy and prosperous New Year. If, by the time that you all read this, the baseball season is in full swing and the Fourth of July is just around the corner, remember that at least the thought was there. Imagine that you're all a little news-starved by now so I'll start swinging and hope that I can last the ten rounds.

The first little tidbit concerns myself, and I hope that you'll all forgive me for starting with it. I couldn't resist, after reporting news like this for the last five years. On last May 7th, the former Miss Jacqueline Howard and I were married and now are washing dishes at the new address listed above. To all of you, remaining single I have but three words of advice. TAKE THE LEAP! It was good to hear from BOB PHILLIPS again who has finally settled to earth after four fabulous years in the Air Force. He is now attending Harvard Business School and is looking forward to receiving his Masters very soon. HARRY NIEMANN writes that he and his wife had their second child, a boy, Michael Shawn. Congratulations. Harry is now living in Philadelphia. PAUL MURPHY and his wife Sandra are the proverbial proud parents of a daughter, Kimball Bolt. Paul was released from the Army April 25th, 1959, and is now working at Harrison Radiator Division of General Motors, Lockport, N.Y.

This announcement might be just in time for the celebration of her first birthday but Linda Ann McCarren wanted people to know that she was around. Actually, the word came via BOB MCCARREN and his wife Ann. Linda was born March 28th, 1960, and naturally congratulations are certainly the order of the day. Bob and his wife are living in Detroit.

Heard from JOHN HARTIGAN at Christmas with some news that I knew couldn't be too much longer in coming. John became engaged to Miss Mary Kathryn Carroll. Congratulations and best wishes to you both. Once I went, John, your days were numbered.

BILL TICE has made several business trips to K.C. and we had a chance to get together each time. Bill is working for the Olive Can Co. in Chicago and he and his wife, Pat, have recently bought a home in Elmwood Park, Ill. Come see us the next time in town, Bill. We'll have beans and franks just for you.

JERRY HUGHES is still in the Air Force and he and his wife Joan, and son Timmy are living in Big Spring, Texas. Jerry is working on his Masters now and hopes to receive it next September.

FRANK BURKE and his wife, Ann, send news of the fourth arrival in the family. Cristopher Durken was born October 2nd. Congratulations. This makes three boys and one girl for them and Frank mentions that he hasn't seen any news of the class that can top that total. Anybody with news to the contrary be sure to write in. Until we receive word, Frank, your title is safe. "Big Daddy of 1961".

Received a card from BILL STOUTENBURGH who is still holding forth on Wall Street. Even though Nikita and Fidel blame you boys for everything, we still don't believe a word of it, Bill. I've got a Christmas bonus burning a hole in my pocket, Bill, so if you have any good tips, pass them along. Fifty shares of IBM might be a good place to put it for the present time.

After seeing JOE NASSIF many times while he was stationed in the Army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., I lost track of him after he was released. He sent a Christmas card to say that he is married now and studying Architecture at North Carolina State College. Joe mentions something about civilian life being the thing for him. I can't understand what he means. You all seemed so happy in the service. Just think of those great buys at the P.X.

From Oklahoma City came news of JOHN HOBBS and his wife Jacque. They have two children now, Johnny and Susan. Thanks for the card, folks.

Orchids to DAVE METZ and his wife, Sandy. Michael David Metz arrived Sept. 27th and weighed in at 8 lbs., 8 oz. Dave is still with the Eastman Kodak Co. and they are living in Rochester, N.Y. There was a picture of Michael David enclosed with their Christmas card. Thank goodness he doesn't look like his old man.

ROY BELKNAP and his wife, Maureen, sent Christmas greetings from Morton Grove, Ill. Where did you say that was again, Roy? I remember something about Oak Park being a suburb of Morton Grove. Or was it Glenview?

I've waited five years for a letter from BOB "MO" MORRISON and it finally arrived in the form of a Christmas card and a note on the back. I had lost track of you, Bob, and it was great to hear from you again. Bob and his wife, Rita, are more than proud of their daughter, Jeanette, who was born Sept. 6th, 1959. Bob is now working for an accounting firm in San Diego and is very close to adding C.P.A. after his name.

TED LAUGHLIN, his wife Marjorie and their son, Teddy, sent greetings from Arlington, Va. where I understand Ted is in medical practice.

GEORGE SHELTON and his wife, Carol, bid Noel from the deep south, New Orleans, that is. George still hasn't forgiven me for not calling him when I was there on my honeymoon. But George, we couldn't find Bourbon Street!

HUGH SCHAEFER likes the air in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and as far as I know, still manages to stay single. We'd like to have you over if you ever get to K.C., Hugh. We all can go swimming at the Missouri Dunes.

The cold weather hasn't licked him yet so JIM RILEY still lives in Milwaukee. Hope things are going well for you, Jim, and that you're still able to fight the battle of the bulge that so many of us lost years ago. The battle, that is, not the bulge.

JACK SORANNO and his wife, Arlene, are now living in Needham, Mass. I'm told that this is actually a suburb of Boston. They were transferred there from California where Jack had been with the Gillette Co. for several years. He's still with Gillette but has moved more into sales promotion. Those "Supers" are still greater than ever, Jack.

PAUL FULLMER had some happy news the last time that I talked with him. He and Miss Sandra Clifford will be married April 22 in Chicago's Holy Name Cathedral. Sandra is the Mexican amateur golf champion and resides in Mexico City, but Paul met her last summer when she was in the Windy City for a tournament. He spent the holidays in Mexico with Sandra and her family.

Well, Gentlemen, this is about the last piece of news that I have to report except for one thing more. As I mentioned to many of you at the class reunion, I felt that after five years of being class secretary, we should let someone else have the opportunity of hearing from all of you. Also, recent changes in my work have made it practically impossible for me to devote enough time to the column to make it worth reading. I discussed this situation with many of you when we got together in June and, at that time, I asked for suggestions as to who you would like to have write the column in the future. PAUL FULLMER's name was mentioned often and those that I talked to felt that he would do a fine job. Paul has always been a regular contributor to the column and is well known by most of the class. After checking with the other class officers, I approached Paul with the idea and he graciously said that he would be honored to have the job. There is no question about his ability to write a fine and informative column if you all give him the help that you gave me. Remember, it's news about you that only you can tell us about. Unless, of course, your fame has spread to other grads who pass the word along.

Paul's current address is at the top of the column and all of your mail should be sent to him in the future. It's been a pleasure and an honor to be your class secretary for the last five years. I only hope that you all have enjoyed reading my rambling as much as I enjoyed rambling for you. Thank you for all of your help. Good luck.

From the Alumni Office:

GEORGE RICHARD DONAHUE, a Commerce grad, was graduated from Northwestern Law School in 1960. In September of last year he was admitted to the Indiana and Illinois Bar. He's now serving in a one-year appointment as law clerk to the Chief Justice of the Indiana Supreme Court.

Congratulations to JOHN AMAN of Canton, O., on his recent engagement.

Classmates who read the last December issue of the Saturday Evening Post noted that STEVE PREVOZNIK is mentioned prominently in connection with a new pain-killing drug.

MER, Carol and Elmer Allen LAYDON; and JOHN RUSSO. Many thanks.

As for the news-bearers, here are our scoops for this issue. BOB KOLOPUS writes that he is now married to the former Miss Mary Garber of Mt. Vernon, Ohio. Bob and Mary were wed last June; and are now living in Columbus, where Bob is a design engineer with the Bureau of Bridges of the Ohio Highway Dept.

FRANK HERIGSTAD reports from Dallas that he has recently had the enjoyable experience of terminating his tour of active duty with the U.S. Army. Frank was stationed at the Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso for 20 of his 24 months of Army life.

JOHN BERCHEM, another recent graduate of the service, reports that he is now in law school at De Paul, in Chicago. John spent two years in Bainbridge, Md. with the Navy. Among those recently encountered by Mr. Berchem are WALT HUURMAN, of Northwestern med school, and CAN LYNE, who is now also at Bainbridge.

A photograph Christmas card brought the news of the arrival of a husky TOM SABO, JR., on June 19th, 1960. Pappy Tom is in his third and final year of law studies at the Univ. of Montana. DICK MURPHY of Boston is another of our class's budding attorneys. He is at Boston Univ. Law School on a scholarship, after spending two years in the Navy and marrying Barb Buckley last summer at N.D. Dick was assistant football coach at Boston College High last fall and saw his team win the City of Boston title.

JIM POLEY, who is now in California, informs us that he is about to receive his Master's degree in business at the Univ. of California at Berkeley. In fact, by the time this is in print he will have already done so. Jim took time out in the middle of his graduate studies to take care of his military obligation. He also reports that BILL QUINLAN was married in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, on Dec. 31, 1960; and that DICK KWAK plans for nuptials this spring.

A letter dated last October from BOB SECKLER next strikes my eye. Bob became engaged to Miss Mary Carol Mahlstedt, of Baldwin, N.Y. last May. June 24, 1961 will see their marriage in Hempstead, Long Island. Bob is now studying for his Master of Finance degree at NYU in the evenings. In the meantime he is working for Metropolitan Life Insurance. Last May also saw the end of Bob's service tour.

I have two letters here brought to me from overseas through the courtesy of the Army-Air Force Postal Service. The first is from RUSS HOPKINS who is currently stationed near Muenchweiler, Germany, which is in the Southeast, near France. Russ teaches various military and medical subjects, which he is forced to learn during his spare time. (In this revelation, I suspect Mr. Hopkins of being a bit over-modest). Russ is also spending some time at the local Berlits school where he learns German and teaches English. His weekends are spent in such sites as Heidelberg, Saarbrücken, Karlsruhe, Baden-Baden, and Frankfurt. In another ten months or so, Russ will be returning to the U.S., where he is considering doing some graduate schooling.

Our other overseas correspondent is GERRY McCABE. He too is in Germany — Berlin. Gerry has been stationed in Berlin for upwards of 14 months as of this writing, and he further informs us that DENNY CONWAY is at the same location, sporting a promotion to SP/3. (Whatever that is).

JIM BRENNAN supplies us with a fine lot of news in his letter from Camp Lejeune, N.C. He was married June 14, 1958 to Priscilla Wright of North Attleboro, Mass. Colleen Mary, the first new Brennan was born on May 2, 1959. Her brother James Stephen arrived on the 25th of March, 1960. Jim's temporary occupation is with the U.S.M.C., until June, 1961. Included in Jim's letter is the following, which I think I shall quote directly since that would seem to be the simplest way to relate it. It goes as follows:

I've run into a number of '57 and '58 grads, both here and while at Quantico. Among them: JACK CARPENTER (still footloose and fancy free), JOHN HENNEY (got out of the Marine Corps last June, whereabouts now unknown), MIKE GLEASON (still in the M.D. — doing some cloak and dagger work — still single), BOB MCCARTHY (went through the O.C. program, then to Flight School in Florida — think he is completing training in Texas presently).

I've kept in touch with a few others via the mails — BOB McHALE (shipped over in the Army — now in Germany), BOB DUFFY (out of the Army, single, and working in N.Y.C. with the telephone company) DAVE McMAHON (married Colleen Phelan from Barat College — has one child), JOE BREIDENSTEIN (met him in Wash., D.C. in August — only briefly — can't remember what he's doing), JOHN MUGFORD (Jack didn't graduate with us but you might remember him).

Hearty thanks to you, Jim.

BUD TRAPP, who has been playing baseball in the Detroit organization, and is now back at N.D. studying for a Master's degree, writes that JIM MORRIS is teaching in Springfield, Illinois, and is also in the real estate business; that JOHN MURRAY is teaching in Virginia, Illinois; that AUBREY LEWIS is teaching and coaching in Patterson, New Jersey; that DICK PRENDERGAST is in dental school in Chicago; that DICK DIVINE is finishing his course in Physical Therapy at the Mayo Clinic; that CHARLIE KILB is in the USAF in New Jersey; that TOM SWIATOWSKI is married and making a career of the Air Force; that JOE DWYER is married and working in St. Louis; and that PETE MURPHY is working in Portland, Oregon.

WALT SMITHE writes from Indianapolis telling us that he is about to sever relations with the U.S. Army. Walt has been with computers and teaching their use while with the Army at Fort Benjamin Harrison. As a result of this experience he has been hired by General Electric for their new computer department, and the Smiths will be moving to Phoenix, Arizona. Walt mentions that BILL STURGIS is managing a post exchange in Alaska; BOB WATERS is in France with the Air Force.

NEIL O'BRYAN sent a postcard from the Canal Zone where he is with the 101st Airborne Division.

LT. J. G. GERRY DAHLE happily reports that he is being transferred from the radar picket ship U.S.S. Scanner to shore duty with Military Sea Transportation Service at Fort Mason, San Francisco. According to Gerry, nothing could be finer.

Greetings, one and all. From the typewriter of our old scrivener, comes another newsletter — the first of 1961. This is my first opportunity to wish you all a happy and successful new year, and I would like to express the hope that the coming year may see the accomplishment of whatever your particular goals may be. Yours truly owe to finally see the end of his present endeavor — that is the completion of law school. Then in the subsequent months he expects to begin in his military career, in one form or another (preferably another).

I was happy to receive a number of Christmas greetings in the past couple of weeks. Many of them were accompanied with short notes appraising me of the whereabouts and whatabouts of the unders. These of course were double appreciated. While on the subject of news-gathering let me say just one thing — we hereby expressly repudiate the doctrine that "No news is good news." to more need be said at this time.

Among the senders of Christmas greetings were the following: JOE KNOTT and family; the OM SABO's; JOHN BERCHEM; FRANK ERIGSTAD; PAUL and Chris PIKELL; Carol, AVE, Julie and Joe HOLTHOUSE; BILL CAILL; PAT, Katie, and Erin Anne DOLAN; OB and Mary KOLOPUS; HOOT WALSH; arb and DICK MURPHY. As for himself, Mr. Shearon is working as a development engineer at the Minneapolis-Honeywell Aeronautical Division in Minneapolis.

A letter from the West Coast brings the news that ROS BOTTUM and wife, Mary, are now living in Los Angeles where Ros is attending law school at Southern Cal. The Bottums have a daughter, Catherine Ann, age 9 months as of December.

Also at Southern Cal Law School are MIKE FITZPATRICK and PAT HUGHES. All three: Ros, Mike, and Pat, are in their third year. GENE LAVALLE is studying at Loyola Law School in Los Angeles.

The following all comes from Ros Bottum: JIM WALDRON is in the Navy and stationed in Long Beach. He has just returned from a tour of the Far East. DAN LAMONT is also in the Navy, and is stationed in San Diego. JERRY WILSON, after having been in the Army, is now in Los Angeles. DUANE VAN DYKE is attending grad school at USC and working for an export company. BOB MORETTI is working for an insurance company in Los Angeles. JERRY REEDY is teaching English while working for his master's at the U. of South Dakota. DICK SWETMAN, PAT HEALY, and PAT ROGERS are all in Sioux Falls, S.D.

JACK MARTZELL of the N.D. Law School has supplied me with a couple of items. RON BABCOCK is living in Suffern, N.Y., and working for the Arthur Anderson accounting firm in New York. JERRY SLATER is in the Navy somewhere in the vicinity of California. JERRY BRADY is at the U. of California Law School in Berkeley; he is married and has one child.

JOE KNOTT dropped in to South Bend during November, when he spoke to the A.I.C.H.E. on campus. Joe was about to move to Chicago where he is taking over a new sales territory. Unfortunately, I have forgotten the name of his company.

And finally, JOHN DUNN and DALE LARUE were both seen in the vicinity of St. Mary's during January.

That winds up this issue. I hope you have found it interesting and evocative of some warm memories. It has done so for me, but there is one thing missing. I don't see YOUR name in it.

So long for a couple of months. P.S. Here is your first notice. Our first reunion will be held in June of 1963. Start thinking about it now. If you do so, you will be firmly convinced, by two years hence, that you don't want to miss it.

From the Alumni Office:

The Peoria paper showed a picture of JOHN JACHMAN happily shoveling snow in front of his home. Reason for the joy: Ensign Jachman had escaped from the tragic fire that swept the aircraft carrier USS Constellation after a construction accident at a New York pier. "Let's get out of here," John snapped to his crew, and out they got, unlike 50 other workers who perished in the blaze. John lives at 2905 Heading Avenue, West Peoria.

C. J. STAFF, JR., a technical representative for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Wilmington, Del., was co-author of a technical paper delivered at the 46th annual meeting of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry (TAPPI) in late February in New York. The meeting was attended by more than 3,000 pulp and paper specialists from the U.S. and abroad. Staff lives at 30 A Court Drive, Wilmington 5.

Ohio State University awarded an M.S. degree to VIRGIL J. LUNARDINI, JR., at the December commencement.

TOMMY HARLE is presently engaged to Marlene Krapac and will be married in Calumet City in May, 1961. Honorary class member TEDDIE KURAK is still displaying his Irish hospitality to the members of the class of '59, so if you are close to the region near Chicago be sure and stop in to say hello.

MIKE DAFFY DUGAN is in his second year of law school at Creighton University doing quite well. His former Chicago blowouts are held down only through studious hours in the law library.

GEORGE SPAHN is stationed at the 325th Military Intelligence Group at Ft. Meade, Maryland. His M.O.S. carries his travels to Europe and Asia about every six months for a few weeks.

BUCKY BALL has recently joined the foot soldiers at Fort Benning, Georgia, for a six month tour of GI duty. His home is in Rye, New York.

MARK KESSEKICH is part of the 3rd Marine Division in Okinawa and will more than likely enjoy a long tour there. His growing god talents will probably be limited, but I am sure that rock ball will still be in effect.

HUGH MURPHY writes from Rome and says that he has visited all the countries in Western Europe. He has run into TOM JABLONSKI in Orleans, France, and LT. S. PIETROWICZ in Darmstadt, Germany.

RAY GRUBBLE was married on Sept. 3rd to Jean Kanp, a former student at St. Mary's. Ray is working for the Teletype Corporation, and he and his wife reside in Skokie, Illinois.

ED MEZZAPALLE married Alice Schmitt August 20, 1960, in Flushing, New York. Since graduation he spent two years at New York Univ., studying for his masters degree in Business Administration. In Sept., 1960, he entered the Air Force and is stationed at Hanscom Field, Bedford, Mass. His present address is 26-C Roberts Drive, Bedford, Mass.

JOHN BOYCE is in the second year of law at St. Louis University, I believe, and the law and Sully seem to be getting along fine.

MIKE TRESSEL was married on Nov. 12th to Anita Puchly at the Sacred Heart Church on the campus. Mike's parents were also married on the campus and recently celebrated their 24th anniversary. He has been working for the Sinclair Refinery in East Chicago as a Chemical Engineer since graduation.

JIM KEGAN is enjoying his second Navy cruise on the USS Intrepid along with JOHN HAYWARD, TY STEWART, JACK HOGAN and SHAKY LEWIS. The Sorin and Walsh crew had quite a time for themselves at the Notre Dame Club in Rome.

JOE MULLIGAN is in his second year of studies at Mt. St. Marys Seminary in Norwood, Ohio. Next year he will take up theology.

HOOT WALSH, notable class adviser to the boys of '59, is presently selling life insurance for Equitable Life. Help the kid out; he needs the money.

Congratulations to JOHN and Barbara FREY on the recent birth of their first child, Barbara Lynn.

ANDY SULLIVAN is in his second year of law at DePaul University in Chicago. Andy majored in Finance at School.

NORM SCHRUR is furthering his education in Mechanical Engineering at Ohio State University.

ROBERT STROBACH is in the second year of Med school at the Univ. of Kansas. PETE SHEPTAK is in Med school at the University of Pittsburgh.

JOHN FINN of Waco, Texas, is after his masters either in Education or Guidance at the University of Texas.

TIM GALVIN is in law school at the University of Michigan.

VITO NIGRELLI is with the U.S. Steel Corporation in Gary, Indiana.

JIM O'BRIEN is in Med school at Creighton University, and JOHN O'BRIEN is studying the same at Stanford.

From the Alumni Office:

JOHN DAVID TREACY is now a first lieutenant in the Air Force, stationed at Brazeau Air Force Station, Manitoba, Canada. Previously he was a second lieutenant at Caswell AFB, Limestone, Me.

Mechanical engineer JAY JONES was recently elected recording secretary of the Allis-Chalmers Engineers Society, a trainee organization in Milwaukee.

Ensign CHARLES F. DIETSCH has assumed the post of officer in charge of the Naval Reserve Training Center, Canton, O., after destroyer service overseas.

NICK PIETROSANTE, after a brilliant season with the Detroit Lions, is filling a lot of speaking engagements lately. Recently he was the principal speaker at a stag smoker at Fort Wayne's Orchard Ridge Country Club.

JOHN P. O'NEILL is at Stanford University studying for his Doctorate. He and his wife are living at Bldg. 309, Apt 3, Stanford Village, Stanford, California.

Since the writing of the last column, your reporter has been south of the border enjoying the culture and warm climate of Mexico. The greater part of my trip was spent with a family in Mexico City, who understandably, did not know a word of English. As one of the main objectives of my trip was to develop my speaking knowledge of Spanish, I was anxious to undergo such an ordeal. The language barrier wasn't nearly as unbearable as having to hear the vociferous and never-ending chatter of Lorenzo—an obnoxious, forty-year old parrot who was perched in the patio directly beneath my bedroom window. At any rate, that experience, perhaps never to be tried again, will always be an unforgettable one.

While on tour of the Castle of Emperor Maximilian in Mexico's capital city, it was a happy occasion for me to meet newlyweds Margaret and RALPH SAUER. Ralph and his bride were returning to Texas via Mexico City after an Acapulco honeymoon.

ED (T) KENNEDY sends us word that he and Eileen Kilday will take marriage vows come this June—and will honeymoon in Ireland. Ed is presently doing graduate work at the University of Chicago school of business.

Other nuptial notes . . . DICK BENKENDORF was married to Carol Ann Reed last November in Ottawa, Ill. . . . BILL ROTH, now at Purdue studying Industrial Administration, was married to the former Pat Gibson of South Carolina. . . . And Joe MCCARTHY and Terre Ann Grace were married on September 10, and are living at 2822 S. Lillie Ave., Fort Wayne, Indiana. Joe, by the way, is employed at Magnavox in Fort Wayne.

TONY BARTOLINI and RON BLUBAUGH have set up housekeeping together in Chicago. While Tony is completing his requirements for a master's at Loyola University, former Scholastic Editor-in-chief Blubaugh is keeping himself busy at Northwestern University's school of journalism.

From Illion, N.Y., comes the news that WARNER CONNICK has joined the staff of Vice President Lyndon Johnson. Warner, nonetheless, will continue with his studies in history at George Washington University.

DICK SAPP is on active duty with the U.S. Air Force and is working for a master's in Applied Statistics and Quality Control in the Department of Industrial Engineering at Stanford. . . . And thanks, Dick, for sending along the news of the following. . . . 2nd Lt. HARRY HENNING has been assigned to Craig Air Force Base for the completion of his flight training. . . . While stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, JOE TESSITORE is working for another degree in Aero Engineering. . . . MIKE FRANZ, a recipient of a National Defense Education Act Scholarship, is at Sanford studying German. . . . And Ensign CHARLIE RIEHM is working for Admiral Rickover in Washington, D.C.

A note from BOB BRANNON advises me that he has left Dennison, Iowa, to work for the Chicago Tribune. Bob's new address is 6040 N. Winthrop, Chicago, Ill. . . . Also in Chicago is former WSNB broadcaster JACK SHAUGHNESSY, who is working for an advertising firm plus studying accounting at Northwestern.

BOB EIDSHUN, Short Hills, N.J., has been quite active since graduation. Bob has been studying industrial design at the Pratt Institute of Brooklyn, and at the same time, has made quite a name for himself in the designing of automotive publications. Some of the magazines in which his articles and publications have appeared thus far are Cars, Sports Cars, Boating Industry, Field & Stream, and Argosy. Come this June Bob will be married to Dian Clifford, also of Short Hills.

While on a recent visit to Chicago, JOHN CARRETTA informed me that he is brokering with Merrill, Lynch . . . during the day, while at night he attends St. John's Law School. . . . A letter from the mother of ED BOYLE brings us the report that Ed is touring the Orient with the U.S. Navy. Stationed aboard the destroyer "Parsons," Ensign Boyle will visit various ports along the coasts of China, Korea, and Japan. Those who are collectors of Far Eastern curios can send your requests to Ed at this address . . . U.S.S. Parsons (D.D. 949), c/o FPO, San Francisco, California.

From DAN O'NEILL I received a lengthy letter on his activities in the Navy. Having recently completed Officers Candidate School, Ensign O'Neill complains that "there is plenty of marching, lots of shoe shining, loads of personnel inspections, and seemingly no time to study." Despite his grumbling, he seems to be enjoying it at that. Other soaring '60ers who graduated with Dan from OCS in Newport, R.I., were . . . SAN IAQUINTA (now in supply school at Athens, Ga.), DAVE OTTI, TOM "BRUISER" BRINKWORTH (stationed in Japan), GUINNESS McFADDEN, DAVE FAY, TOM MOYNAHAN, BILL MCCOY, and JIM HARRINGTON (now serving shore duty in San Juan, Puerto Rico).

Congratulations to Janet and DAN CRONIN who are now the proud parents of two children. Susan Margaret, a "healthy, rosy, girl" was born Oct. 15.

DAVE SANGER is earning a living as an accountant in the Monroe office of the Michigan Gas Utilities Company . . . and a message from TOM SHISHMAN indicates that he is enjoying his busy schedule in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Tom, another of our many energetic classmates, is a graduate student at the University of New Mexico when not otherwise occupied as an employee of the Biandia Corp.

BOB LOGAN is current whiling away his working hours in a bank in Milton, Mass., while FRED SEAMON has been with the Prudential Insurance Company in New Jersey prior to his entering the Army in February.

Sincere sympathy to FRANK CAUCHON, on the death of his father, Leon B. Cauchon. Also remember in your prayers the repose of the soul of

REV. ROCCO A. FAIOLA, MA '60, who died November 13.

After touring seven countries in Europe last fall, ED O'MALLEY has finally settled down with a position as an editor and reporter for the Emporia Gazette of Emporia, Kansas. During one of his weekend trips into Kansas City, Ed managed to see BILL NOYES and TERRY TEIDY, both serving their six-month active reserve at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Terry, however, has since been transferred to San Antonio for the remainder of his active duty.

More '60 grads who are studying jurisprudence in various spots of the country are . . . DENNY PHENEY, who is at the University of Detroit; JIM ALLEN, at Harvard; ED KEARSE and MIKE FELDMEIER, at Notre Dame; and JIM GOULD—plus DAVE DOOLEY—at Indiana; PAT CREADON at Loyola, and MARC MUSCARELLO at the University of Illinois. . . . Law Students in the Washington, D.C., area include JERRY O'MARA, JOHN WURSTA, and MIKE SCHAEFER.

Those who were present for JOE SCHAMBER'S wedding last summer were MARC BRAECKEL, JIM WELTER, KIRBY NEILL, GREG GILLIES, and ED McKEOWN. 2nd Lt. Schamber and wife Nancy are now located in California where Joe is stationed with the Marines. . . . JOE HILGER, after spending the summer in Europe, is studying for his MBA in accounting at Temple University in Pa. . . . and TOM BATES is now living in Pittsburgh where he works for Price Waterhouse Co.

Recent, but nebulous news places ROCKET O'NEILL at Fordham Law School. He's also working out at some gym called the New York Athletic Club. . . . Rumor has it, JIM THOMPSON has settled down to a life of marital bliss somewhere in Brooklyn Heights.

A letter from Bochoht, Westphalia, reports that KARL REMMEN (MA '60), who has recently completed university studies at Freiburg, aspires to a teaching career (on the "gymnasium" level) in native Germany. . . . And 2nd Lt. LARRY HANRAHAN is polishing brass at Aberdeen Proving Grounds—as are ART VELASQUEZ, DAVE MARESH, DEN BODZIONY, BOB PAUL, JERRY DELAY, and DICK PLUNKETT.

I was pleased to find that the publication of the last issue of the ALUMNUS has prompted many of you to write. And I do hope the column will continue to reflect class interest.

. . . Until the next report, best wishes to all.

From the Alumni Office:

JOHN J. ADAMS has been assigned as a sales engineer to The Trane Company sales office in Bethesda, Md. John finished a graduate engineers training program on the company's air conditioning, heating, ventilating, and heat transfer equipment in La Crosse, Wisconsin.

THOMAS M. BRADY joined the Sperry Gyroscope Company last June as an assistant engineer in the Land Armament Engineering Department, Surface Armament Division.

JOSEPH A. CLARK of Lancaster, Pa., has been awarded a Rotary Foundation Fellowship to study physics at a major European university in the coming year.

Grad school alumnus WILLIAM R. COULSON now lives at 1053-H Monroe St., Albany 6, Calif., with Mrs. Coulson and four children. Bill is doing work on his Ph.D. at the University of California, Berkeley.

RALPH H. SAUER was married to Margaret Joe Green, daughter of THOMAS F. GREEN, '27, in Houston last November with all the ceremony that might be expected in Texas. The numbers at River Oaks Country Club were so staggering that guest CLYDE BROUSSARD, '13, inquired whether the father of the bride had a tank car filled with champagne on a railroad siding near the club.

Office of the President

The University of Notre Dame Alumni Association

Dear Fellow Alumni:

During the many years of continued growth and development of Notre Dame—each Alumni Board has endeavored to add strength to the programs of the University administration. In the past two years, it has been my pleasure and honor to serve as a member of the Board. This indoc-trination has given me the opportunity to observe the accelerated progress of Notre Dame.

In this first message as President, I wish to sincerely thank all of you for the honor of serving as President this year, and especially to thank the present members of the Board for the confidence that has been placed in me. The administrations of Mike Layden, Bill Cotter, John O'Connor—and those who served with them—have all made valuable contributions to the strong foundations that had been firmly established by the Alumni Association in years past.

As you all know—Notre Dame has many annual and long-range objectives. For 1961, the primary objective is the fund for our New Library. As Alumni, we have an opportunity to help Notre Dame in its truly "greatest hour of need." I feel most sincerely that all Notre Dame Alumni and former students have received many advantages and opportunities in life that have not been so easily accessible to Alumni of most other universities. If this is true—and I know that most of you will agree that it is true—then we must recognize that we have accumulated an unwritten obligation.

We are all familiar with the generous Grant that is available to Notre Dame from the Ford Foundation. Notre Dame is already one of the greatest Universities—but in order to continue to compete against Universities with larger endowments, against the competition of State-financed Colleges—we must obtain the maximum possible from the Ford Foundation Grant. This year, more than ever before, Notre Dame must receive strong financial support from the Alumni.

In every section of the United States today, individual Catholic organizations are building needed facilities. Each of us are called upon to contribute to various parochial and diocesan campaigns—and countless others. Notre Dame men have a reputation for generosity and usually assume positions of leadership in all local fund raising drives for Catholic institutions. All of these projects are necessary and must continue. However, in consideration of the funds from the Ford Foundation, Notre Dame's great program for expansion should assume top priority for the contribution dollar of Alumni throughout the nation. We can and must not only raise our percentage of participation—but we must graciously make sacrificial gifts this year.

I have two sons at Notre Dame now and hope to have a daughter at St. Mary's this September. Like most Notre Dame Alumni, one of my greatest desires in life was to have my sons attend Notre Dame. I appreciate the fact that Notre Dame is rewarding every student with the opportunity for greater knowledge—the opportunity for greater financial success—the opportunity for greater family life—and, most of all, the opportunity for greater moral responsibility and spiritual benefits. This heritage can only be continued by generous support from the Alumni in this crucial year of 1961.

Best wishes from all the members of the Alumni Board.

Sincerely,

Walter Fleming

President
