

The Archives
of
The University of Notre Dame

607 Hesburgh Library
Notre Dame, IN 46556
574-631-6448

archives@nd.edu

Notre Dame Archives: Alumnus

the COLLEGE of
TOMORROW

*An alumnus speaks at commencement. See
"Christian Witness," pp. 6-7.*

*Silver Jubilee Class
Snapshots. See
"Reunion Sketches,"
pp. 14-19.*

*Also "Looking Back at Newman," by Fr.
Hesburgh on pp. 4-5.
1962 U.N.D. Night
Report, part 2. See pp. 21-79. Also
"N.D. Image," p. 2.*

New president of the American Alumni Council is bagpipied into office. See "Coronation in Canada," p.3 . Also "A Season of Leadership," pp. 7-8-9.

NOTRE DAME ALUMNUS

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Officers

WALTER L. FLEMING, JR., '40.....
.....Honorary President
WILLIAM P. MAHONEY, JR., '38.....President
MAURICE CARROLL, '19.....Class Vice-President
ROGER J. HUTER, '40.....Club Vice-President
HARRY J. MEHRE, '22.....Fund Vice-President
JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, '25.....
.....Executive Secretary

Directors to 1963

MAURICE CARROLL, '19
5743 Delmar Blvd.
St. Louis 12, Missouri
ROGER J. HUTER, '40*
Huter-Quest Co.
833 W. Main St.
Louisville, Kentucky
WILLIAM P. MAHONEY, JR., '38
U.S. Ambassador
Accra, Ghana
HARRY J. MEHRE, '22
3155 Arden Road, N.W.
Atlanta, Georgia

Directors to 1964

JOHN P. DEMPSEY, '49
Kidder, Peabody & Co.
123 Broad St., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
PATRICK A. DOUGHERTY, '50
P. O. Box 5672
Minneapolis 17, Minnesota
WILLIAM H. FALLON, '37
100 Pelham Road
New Rochelle, New York
OLIVER H. HUNTER, '43
F.B.I., P. O. Box 23
New Castle, Pennsylvania

Directors to 1965

ALBERT D. CASTELLINI, '24
506 First National Bank Bldg.
Cincinnati, Ohio
PHILIP J. FAGGENDA, '51
1510 Ogden
LaGrange, Illinois
PETER J. KERNAN, JR., '49
661 Washington Road
Grosse Pointe, Michigan
ADAM J. WALSH, '25
P. O. Box 349
Portland, Maine

*Appointed to fill unexpired term of George Connor, '48, who resigned under pressure of business.

Chairmen of the 1962 Committees

WILLIAM MAHONEY.....Executive
ROGER HUTER.....Club Activities
MAURICE CARROLL.....Class Activities
JOHN DEMPSEY.....
.....Alumni Fund, Foundation & Gifts
PATRICK DOUGHERTY.....Student Affairs
JOHN DEMPSEY.....Admissions
PETER KERNAN.....Placement & Job Counseling
ADAM WALSH.....Inter-Alumni Affairs
OLIVER HUNTER.....Public Relations
ALBERT CASTELLINI.....Religion & Citizenship
MAURICE CARROLL and ROGER HUTER.....
.....Nominations
PHILIP FAGGENDA.....Budget & Finance
WILLIAM FALLON.....Athletics

This magazine is published bi-monthly by the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind. Entered as second class matter Oct. 1, 1939, at the Post Office, Notre Dame, Ind. under the act of Aug. 24, 1912.

N.D. Night Reflections on The Notre Dame Image

By JAMES E. ARMSTRONG, '25, EDITOR

HAS NOTRE DAME broken with its traditions?

Is Notre Dame de-emphasizing athletics?

Are Notre Dame's entrance requirements unrealistic?

Is Notre Dame too big to reflect its origins and purposes as a small school?

Has money pushed other considerations out of proportion?

Have the long-hairs and the egg-heads taken over Notre Dame?

These are, in effect, the troubled questions that reflect some of the many worries that beset alumni and friends of the University of Notre Dame.

Why have these questions arisen at the same time that Notre Dame seems to enjoy unprecedented stature and progress?

Having lived in close community with the University for more than forty years, I am taking the liberty of expressing some personal views on the answers, because our larger responsibilities are handicapped by our lack of understanding.

To all who have known Notre Dame, the instant image of the University is the lovely golden figure on the Dome, the "woman clothed with the sun, with the moon at her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars."

This is as it should be. It was for this that Father Sorin dedicated his life in a strange country. It has been for this that all his successors have labored over the years. And it remains the purpose of Notre Dame today, and tomorrow—that young men, in the Christian tradition, grow in wisdom and grace under the guidance of Mary.

But because Notre Dame is also a working university, there has always been a secondary image. For many years, the education and the discipline and the goals were so easily translated into the primary purpose that there was no conscious separation, and no barrier to implicit faith in the validity of both images.

Suddenly, in one sense, Notre Dame has found itself changed from the simple beauty and imagery of its first century, into one of the great and complicated universities that are increasingly involved in new and diversified impacts with a great and complicated world.

I say "suddenly" but actually the transition was an uncontrolled one that began with World War I, suffered a frightening digression with the economic uncertainties of the thirties and was plunged into new crises with World War II. It has only been in the years following that period that the transition has been obvious.

And obvious as the new conditions are, even they have also been complicated by a surge upward in college population, an explosion of knowledge that has superimposed the problems of space on a world that was far from solving its problems within its own place in our universe. Constantly rising costs, new challenges to education, new demands on leadership, changed attitudes toward organizations and activities and traditions—all have been factors in creating a force that has fragmented the secondary image of Notre Dame as a working university.

Each of us, in the light of his experience, in the light of his traditions, in the light of his hopes, and in the light of his variously limited contacts, has begun to shape this secondary image as he wishes it to be. And by the same introduction of individual judgments he has begun to criticize what he assumes to be departures from this image that he associates as being the one closest to the persisting and primary image of Our Lady.

I. There are those whose image of Notre Dame is the intimate family campus where student knows student, and students know faculty and priests, where the "one great fraternity" spirit of Notre Dame is nurtured.

When this group hears that there are now some 6,500 students, living in seventeen residence halls, without morning check, with all night lights, with the possibility of choosing to stay in a hall throughout the undergraduate years, with fewer and fewer members of the Congregation of Holy Cross

Continued on page 20

PRESIDENT-ELECT James E. Armstrong, before his installation, considers a problem with his Alumni Office colleagues, Father Thomas J. O'Donnell (left) and John F. Laughlin, at the A.A.C. general conference at Banff, Alta., amid the Canadian Rockies.

'CORONATION' IN CANADA

A SKIRL OF BAGPIPES broke into the calm deliberations of the June 27 business meeting. The 700 delegates to the general conference of the American Alumni Council at Banff, Alberta, Canada, turned to see a quick-stepping procession of the organization's past presidents led by a kilted, banner-wirling C. M. Waldo Johnston, retiring A.A.C. president.

In an authentic Highland Scottish brogue Johnston introduced "past chieftains" Alfred MacGuest, George MacCooke, Joseph MacBell, Chesley MacWorthington, Howard MacMort, Kenyon MacCampbell, Loren MacHickerson, etc., gathered to salute the new "chief of the Clan MacAAC." As he conferred a tartan tam and a "dirk of leadership" on James MacArmstrong, calling on the assemblage to raise mace and claymore to the new chieftain, it dawned on the delegates that Jim Armstrong was being installed as president of the Council in the Scottish spirit and tradition of Western Canada. The ceremony was all the more appropriate for the fact that Armstrong and Johnston are of true "Scots" ancestry, hailing from neighboring border clans.

Jim Armstrong, genial executive secretary of the Notre Dame Alumni Association for the past 37 years, was hailed with particular warmth since he had returned the presidency of the continent-wide organization to the "West Country" for the first time in five years. He is the first Midwestern president since the 1956-57 term of Howard Mort of the University of Chicago. The past four presidents have been Easterners: Waldo Johnston of Yale, J. Alfred Guest of Amherst, George Cooke of Princeton, and Donald E. Smith of Rochester. The Western trend continues with the induction of Verne Stadtman, managing editor of the University of California alumni magazine, as president-elect to succeed President Armstrong next year.

Jim has completed a year on the A.A.C. executive board as president-elect and will serve for another year as past president after presiding at the Golden Jubilee Conference in Atlantic City next summer, at which time the organization will salute "The Individual Alumnus."

The American Alumni Council is an educational organization specializing in services in the field of alumni relations and educational fund raising. Its major purpose, as spelled out in its Constitution, is "to mobilize behind education the full strength of organized alumni support in all of its spiritual, moral, and practical manifestations." Membership in the Council is open to universities, colleges and secondary schools in good standing, and to nonprofit associations and organizations whose purposes and activities contribute to the advancement of education.

As a service organization, the Council aims to help their representatives to increase their professional competence and to raise the level of effectiveness of the alumni and fund-raising programs of its members. It strives also to make the interest of alumni in their own institutions more meaningful and to develop increased understanding and support of education at all levels.

In 1963, the Council will mark its 50th anniversary, commemorating the date in 1913 when the first of its parent organizations, the Association of Alumni Secretaries, was formed in Columbus, Ohio. Alumni Magazines Association came into existence in 1918; the Association of Alumnae Secretaries in 1919 (absorbed by the Association of Alumni Secretaries four years later); and the Association of Alumni Funds in 1925. In 1927 the three associations combined to form the American Alumni Council, with an initial membership representing 249 institutions.

Today, membership is held by 1,059 institutions and 16 organizations, represented by 2,274 individuals. Members are found in the fifty states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Mexico, eight Canadian provinces, Egypt, Japan, Lebanon, Turkey and the Philippine Republic. In 1951, the Council established a Central Office in the American Council on Education building in Washington, D.C. In November of 1961, the Council moved into its own headquarters building, located at 1707 N Street in northwest Washington.

The Canadian conference was a doubly auspicious occasion for A.A.C. President Armstrong. At Banff, just before the investiture, Jim and his wife Marian quietly observed their 35th wedding anniversary.

From banner-bearer Johnston, cushion-bearer Guest, new Chief receives bonnet and exits to "Bonny Laddie."

LOOKING BACK AT NEWMAN

By REV. THEODORE M. HESBURGH, C.S.C., '38

(Reprinted from America Magazine)

WHEN ANYONE WRITES about the idea of a Catholic university today, or any other day out of the last century, there is always the temptation to repeat in substance what Cardinal Newman said in his incomparable classic on the subject. To suggest that there is something new or important to be said is to lay oneself open to plenty of criticism and even denunciation.

I am about to take this risk, but before I do, let me say clearly that Newman happens to be one of my heroes, too. I cannot recall how many times I have read and admired his great essays on the idea of a university. Yet it did occur to me recently, while harried by the many developmental and administrative problems that face a university president today, that Newman, in fact, never did create the university he wrote about, nor did he have to administer it.

There are many historical reasons to explain this, but it remains a fact that it is easier to write about what a Catholic university should be than to create and administer one in reality — to bring the total idea into being.

There is another cold fact that is often overlooked by those content to concede the last word to Cardinal Newman. Think of what our world is today in comparison with the world in which Newman wrote. Newman foresaw trouble, but hardly could have imagined all the trouble that actually occurred. Politically, the Pax Britannica has been followed by two devastating world wars, and by a militant philosophy antithetical to all that Newman's world accepted. This same perverse philosophy now ruthlessly governs one-third of mankind and covers the rest. We have also seen another third of the world come to new political independence and strong nationalistic autonomy, with the revolution of rising expectations strong in the souls of millions. Then there is the Cold War, another modern reality that constantly erupts in local volcanic action, as widely separated as Cuba, the Congo and Vietnam.

Economically, we have had the Industrial Revolution and all of its aftermath. Scientifically, there has been yet another revolution which might successively be categorized as the motor and electric age, the nuclear and electronic age, and now, most recently, the space age. Space has shrunk, time is compressed: "around the world in eighty days" becomes around the world in eighty-odd minutes. Now for the first time in human history — again viewed not as a few thousand, but some hundreds of thousands of years — man can liberate himself from those ancient evils of ignorance, disease, grinding poverty, homelessness and hunger — or he can utterly destroy himself and all that he has created in the name of culture and civilization.

Let us not chide Cardinal Newman for writing in the middle of the 19th century instead of the middle of the 20th. But also let us not assume that what he had to say then, about a human institution in a particular historical situation, had absolute and unconditioned validity for all such institutions in all times.

Am I saying that the substance of the Catholic university changes from age to age? By no means. But I am saying that the mission of the Catholic university is also redemptive, and that what needs redeeming today is quite a different kind of world from Newman's. The man to be educated is the same, but what he must be prepared to face is a world unimagined in Newman's day. Newman is still with us, however, for he portrayed the university as "not a convent, not a seminary; it is a place to fit men of the world for the world."

Teaching and learning were most essential to Newman's university. They are still essential today, but what has been learned in certain areas since Newman would fill a new library with millions of volumes yet unwritten in his day. Research has grown by a factor of hundreds of thousands, if not millions. Over ninety per cent of all the scientists who have lived during the course of human history are living today. And practically all of the behavioral scientists in the world's history are still alive. Many legitimate new academic disciplines are born each decade, such as astrophysics and cybernetics.

Something else has taken place in recent years, almost without university people realizing it. The university has been drawn, through its faculty, administrators and students, into this new world in which we live. University people from America are scattered everywhere in the world today — founding new universities in Asia, Africa and Latin America; planning the ancient city of Calcutta's new development; beginning the first systematic research in rice in the Far East; testing the depth of the ice in Antarctica and the composition of the earth's crust in the ocean depths; studying native languages in New Guinea; planting new breeds of corn in Mexico, Colombia and Chile; digging up sub-human fossil remains in Tanganyika; advising a new Nigerian government on its legal system; and doing myriad other domestic and foreign tasks undreamed of in Newman's age.

Should we say that this is bad, that the ivory tower has been defiled, that the government should send all the university people back home? And when they get home, should they be forbidden to confront their students with the monumental and unprecedented problems that face modern man all across the world? Should we keep the university isolated from the changing times and restrict ourselves to developing the idyll of knowledge for knowledge's sake envisioned by Newman?

I am sure that there are some who would answer: "Yes, by all means." If you do not answer yes, then you have the difficult problem of balancing the university and the times without losing the university in the balance. If this can be done, then the university, especially the Catholic university, becomes one of the most important institutions of our day.

To justify this last statement, I must

... A New Idea of a University?

● reveal at least one assumption about the Catholic university with which Newman would heartily agree, as would some of his Anglican contemporaries, especially Dr. Pusey — and, it might be added, the present president of Harvard, who bears the same name. This assumption is that somehow, some way, theology and philosophy must effectively play an important role in the intellectual life of a university in our times.

Many ask in our day: Why a Catholic university? What unique contribution has it to offer? It is no mere chance that Newman, faced in his time with this same question, began to consider, first of all, three key subjects: theology as a branch of knowledge, the bearing of theology on other knowledge, and the bearing of other knowledge on theology. I shall not repeat what he had to say on these matters, but I do say that his remarks are relevant today, indeed even more relevant than they were in his own day, a century ago.

Someone asked me recently: "What is the great problem for the Catholic university in our modern pluralistic society?" I was obliged to answer that the modern Catholic university faces a dual problem. First, because everything in a pluralistic society tends to become homogenized, the Catholic university has the temptation to become like all other universities, with theology and philosophy attached to the academic body like a kind of vermiform appendix, a vestigial remnant, neither useful nor decorative, a relic of the past. If this happens, the Catholic university may indeed become a great university, but it will not be a Catholic university.

The second problem involves understanding that while our society is called religiously pluralistic, it is in fact, and more realistically, secularistic — with theology and philosophy relegated to a position of neglect or, worse, irrelevance. Against the strong tide, the Catholic university must demonstrate that all the human problems which it studies are at base philosophical and theological, since they relate ultimately to the nature and destiny of man. The Catholic university must strive mightily to understand the philosophical and theological dimensions of the modern problems that face man today, and once these dimensions are understood, it must show the relevance of the philosophical and theological approach if adequate solutions are to be found for these problems.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY commencement in June featured the awarding of an honorary degree to Father Hesburgh by Dr. Herman B. Wells (left), I. U. president, and Ralph L. Collins, vice-president and dean of faculties. Father Hesburgh also received an honorary doctorate from Massachusetts Institute of Technology as commencement speaker.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY President Frederick L. Hovde confers with Fathers Joyce and Hesburgh as a campus guest during the annual golf outing of the Purdue and Notre Dame athletic staffs. Scene is nineteenth hole in The Morris Inn's Mahogany Room.

It goes without saying that the Catholic university cannot fulfill this essential function in our day unless it develops departments of philosophy and theology as competent as its departments of history, physics and mathematics. We cannot adequately understand philosophical and theological dimensions unless we have in the university talented philosophers and theologians, fully skilled in their science, as cherished as other scholars on the faculty, and deeply involved in the full range of university intellectual endeavor. At this point, we might recall with gratitude that Newman did write a book on the development of dogma.

It has been alleged that the university is cheapened by contact with modern reality in all its complexity. I would agree, if this means that the university is looked upon as a kind of service station to train people in superficial skills like hair-dressing, fly-casting and folk-dancing. There are, however, modern realities that fully challenge the university as an institution dedicated to teaching and learning, in the context of the age in which it lives.

Continued on page 20

"You are not invited out of the world; you are invited into it. . . ."

TEXT OF THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Prepared for delivery by The Most Rev. Paul J. Hallinan, Archbishop of Atlanta, at the 117th Annual Commencement Exercises
University of Notre Dame, June 3, 1962

"I do not pray that Thou take them out of the world, but that Thou keep them from evil. They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. . . . Even as Thou hast sent Me into the world, so I also have sent them into the world."

John, 17, 15-18.

THE YEAR of your graduation, 1962, is not likely to be lost in the limbo of "just another year." Whether history will be kind or cruel to it is not ours to know, at least right now. The Second Vatican Council has already stamped it with greatness. The scientific break-through reminds us of 1492. The steady crumbling of racial barriers in our country may at last make effective what became merely legal in 1863. The recent events in the stock market have recalled uncomfortably the year of 1929. It is too early to place this year in the focus of world events. But it is never too early to examine the task of the educated man in terms of his times. It is always urgent for the Church to appraise her young leaders in the context of their decade, in the longer view of the century in which we live.

A Catholic bishop's view will always be chiefly pastoral; only by exception will it be academic or professional. But to call a bishop's concern pastoral is not to limit it to the diocese or the parish. It will always be apostolic in its origin, and universal in its horizons. Every Catholic bishop in the world is a successor to the Apostles, and the coming Council is only the historic occasion, not the fundamental cause, of our universality, our Catholic world-mindedness, our deep and lasting concern that our young leaders, our Catholic graduates, you of the Notre Dame class of 1962, are ready for the task.

Salvation on Main Street

Only a man who is devoid of Christian hope can look at the world today, and throw up his hands. Only a philosophy that is drained of all meaning can find expression today in a shudder, or worse, a tired yawn. The world into which Our Lord sends us is still the same world in which He makes His constant presence felt. It is a world inhabited by that human society which He Himself did not disdain; from which He refuses to take us, in which His prayer keeps us, not from contact, but only from evil. The flesh is still weak, and must be trained away from sin. The devil is still energetic, and must be exorcised from human hearts. But the world — that third source of moral trouble — is our world, our homes and our cities, our industry and our labor, our government and our responsibility. Our salvation is from Christ, His death, His Mass and His Sacraments. But we will save our souls, not in the sanctuary nor in the confessional. We will save them on Main St., and Wall St., and Madison Avenue, and every other thoroughfare in the world — or we will not save them at all.

That is the objective of our baptism: — grace enough to expel sin and to toughen the moral fiber of our being. That is the objective of our confirmation: strength and wisdom enough to grow to maturity as full-time Christians. That is the whole process of our liturgy: to offer God our human efforts, through the headship of His Son, Our Lord; and to draw from the experience of worship that totality of communion with God's presence, and cooperation with His saving power, that we may return to our duties, consecrated and sanctified, to continue our lives and to help the world.

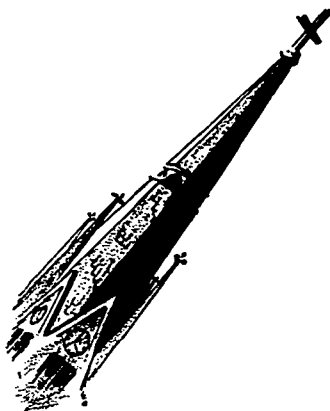

Your own personal responsibility in this division of churchly labor is well summed up in the term "Christian witness." That is what Christ called us to be — "You shall be witnesses for Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and even to the very ends of the earth." The word "witness" is almost a definition of the Catholic layman. In the third century, in the midst of a Christian community which was poor, uneducated, and without great influence, the great African bishop, St. Cyprian, proudly explained what the rudimentary Catholic society must be: "As for us, we are philosophers not in word, but in act; we do not say great things, but we do live them." Much more recently, a French missionary described the "pre-mission" stage of the Church in some areas: "We must be and do, before we talk." The hazards of much speaking and little Christian living were contained in Our Lord's warning to those who often said, "Lord, Lord," but failed to obey Him. The Christian witness must live his faith. There is an urgency about this today that comes only in a time of true crisis.

But if the Catholic layman is being repeatedly called to this role by popes and bishops today, does not the university man — the Catholic scholar, the partner in the Catholic intellectual elite, — have a special duty? We are entering, in the United States, the long-desired era of the Catholic university graduate. Two centuries of sacrifice and toil for Catholic education are drawing to a close, leaving a glorious record of courage, vision and generosity. That record is bearing fruit today in Catholic scholarship, cultural efforts, and intellectual leadership in our society. Our challenge — your challenge — is to continue to penetrate the world of science, and letters, and art, the world of government and trade and communication with Christian principles and with lives of authentic Christian charity. "The true scholar," said Etienne Gilson in 1927, "is essentially a man whose intellectual life is part and parcel of his moral life."

"The Joy of the Truth"

This imposes on the Catholic graduate a certain relationship to truth, and to his Church. The pursuit of truth, especially in a society accustomed to rather shabby handling of it, is a difficult occupation. It means much more than honesty in expense accounts and tax payments. It goes farther than basic honesty in our pronouncements on radicals and reactionaries, communists and fascists, and other people we do not like. The search for truth must go on at every humble level: in the laboratory, in books and newspapers, in political speeches,

The Christian Witness in
the World

By Most Rev. Paul J. Hallinan, D.D., '32

"The mind was not created to be bought and sold. . . ."

in our own secret thoughts. The mind is a power of the human soul, and because it is intended by God for a holy purpose, truth, it partakes of a sacred character itself. We know that simony is a grave crime because it is the buying and selling of sacred things. Are we as aware that the use of the intellect for any sordid purpose — the writing of a dishonest advertisement, the twisting of a sociological survey, the reading of an evil book — is a certain form of simony? The mind was not created to be bought and sold for unworthy gain; it was created by God to find out for men the truth about its Creator, and the truths about His creatures.

St. Augustine spoke of a "gaudium de veritate," the joy of the truth. This joy will warm your lives, and it will warm our world if we do what Augustine urges, "love the intelligence very much." Notre Dame has, by its instruction, its climate, and its dedication, given you years of specialized practice in the pursuit of truth. If you have come to savor the taste of truth, you will repay that debt by hunting for it, sharing it, living it.

As graduates of a Catholic university, all of you share this special relationship with truth. To the Catholic members of the class of 1962, I speak of your relationship to the Church. I have mentioned the term, Christian witness. That is our common role, but you as uncommonly educated men, bear the title more knowingly, more proudly, and at times, more painfully. To bring Christ into your office, your recreation, your home, is not to make a preacher of you — rather, a witness. It means that the great burden which Pope Pius XII placed upon the Catholic laity, the reconsecration of the world, rests proportionately upon your shoulders. Already the Catholic world is aware of the work of lay readers at Mass, lay teachers in our schools, lay catechists in our missions, lay editors and publishers, lay leaders in the St. Vincent de Paul societies and the Legion of Mary, laymen of influence in parish and diocesan administration, marriage counselling, interracial and economic conferences, and a score of other areas.

"The Inseparable Pair"

We are living, in this respect, as in any other great and exciting historical moment, in both optimism and tension. The optimism springs from the spirit of Pope John and his recent predecessors; from the Church's opportunities; but fundamentally from the providential breath of the Holy Spirit over our distracted and discouraged world. But there is a tension too. It rises from areas of uncertainty and lack of clear instruction, as well as from the inertia of old ways and a shortage of tact. If your entrance as a layman into the vital activities of the Church is made with deep faith and due competence, and above all, good humility and good humor, you will be welcomed and ultimately honored. But if it is made with arrogance and impatience, you will slow down the process that is surely taking place. The increase of the proper role of the laity today, explained and urged by our modern popes, is the result of the mutual efforts of what Cardinal Suhard called, "the inseparable pair — priest and laity, a kind of organic composite, the complete evangelist." None of us can say, in violation of St. Paul's counsel, "I have no need of thee." Pius XII warned us five years ago, "the tasks before the Church today are too vast to leave room for petty disputes." It is a time for mutual effort, each in his proper role, each with his proper grace. It is a time for the collaboration, in the Church, of that "inseparable pair," the Catholic priest and the Catholic layman.

Economic and political individualism should have died long ago. Intellectual individualism is almost a contradiction in terms. But individualism in the Mystical Body of Our Lord slows the growth and weakens the full vitality. A gifted English prelate, Bishop Andrew Beck of Salford, said four years ago, in a splendid address on Catholic higher education: "We need to be lifted out of our individualism to catch a glimpse of the grandeur of our work in the Church."

To find the truth is a social task beyond the scope of any single human mind. To reconsecrate the world, in the full sense of the phrase, is a mutual work for all concerned — men and women, scholars and workmen, bishops, priests and laity. The Church calls you in a very special way to this double task of finding truth and making holy the society in which we live. You are not invited out of the world; you are invited into it. You are not shielded from the struggle; you are armed and prepared for it. In His last formal prayer, Our Lord prayed for those whom He was sending into the world, to change it and to save it. He was praying for you and me.

A Season of Leadership: the Hierarchy Action in Atlanta

ARCHBISHOP PAUL J. HALLINAN of Atlanta, first of five Notre Dame priests elevated in the past five years, has achieved national recognition for his efforts in behalf of Catholics attending secular colleges and his concern for Negroes. The Archbishop has been active in Newman Club work for the past 16 years, and in June, 1962, announced that Atlanta archdiocesan schools would be desegregated in the fall of 1962.

Paul Hallinan was born in Painesville, Ohio, on April 8, 1911, the son of Clarence and Rose Jan (Laracy) Hallinan, now deceased. He attended Cathedral Latin School in Cleveland from 1924 to 1928, and in 1932 he received a B.A. degree from Notre Dame. While at the university he contributed to student literary publications, and in 1931 served as editor of the DOME. During his vacation periods he worked on the Painesville (Ohio) Telegraph.

After his ordination in St. John's cathedral in Cleveland on February 20, 1937, he served for five years as a curate at St. Aloysius parish, Cleveland. He then volunteered for service as a U.S. Army chaplain and served for three years with the 542nd Engineers Amphibian Regiment in the South Pacific area. He rose to the rank of captain and was decorated with the Purple Heart in New Guinea in June, 1944. Upon leaving military service in December, 1945, Father Hallinan was an assistant at St. John's cathedral, Cleveland, for two years. For the next 10 years he served part time on the faculty of Notre Dame College, South Euclid, Ohio, and St. John's College in Cleveland.

His interest in the Newman apostolate began in 1946 when he became Cleveland diocesan director of intercollegiate Newman Club activities. He held this post for the next 12 years, until his appointment as a bishop. He is a past president of the National Newman Club Chaplains Association and from 1952 to 1954 was chaplain of the National Newman Club Federation. From 1954 to 1958 he was a member of the advisory board of the Newman Honor Society. Despite his numerous Newman Club activities, Father Hallinan took graduate studies at John Carroll University, Cleveland, and received his M.A. in American history in 1953. He was working for his doctorate in American history at Western Reserve University in Cleveland when he was notified of his appointment September 9, 1958, as Bishop of Charleston, N. C.

He was consecrated in St. John's cathedral, Cleveland, on October 28, 1958, by Archbishop (now Cardinal) Amleto Cicognani, who was then Apostolic Delegate to the U.S., and was enthroned by Archbishop Francis P. Keough of Baltimore, on November 25, 1958, in St. John the Baptist cathedral, Charleston.

On February 21, 1962, Pope John XXIII announced establishment of the new ecclesiastical province of Atlanta, embracing the Dioceses of Atlanta, Raleigh, St. Augustine, Miami, Savannah, Charleston and Abbeys Nullius of Belmont, N. C. Bishop Hallinan was named the first Archbishop of the Metropolitan See of Atlanta. He was enthroned in the Cathedral of Christ the King in Atlanta on March 29, 1962, by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, Apostolic Delegate to the U.S.

GEORGE N. BEAMER, SR., '29, had a formidable cheering section of Hoosier legislators in his corner at congressional hearings on his appointment by President Kennedy as a Federal District Judge for Northern Indiana. Conferring (from left) are Rep. John Brademas of South Bend, Mrs. Beamer, Senator Vance Hartke, Judge Beamer, and Senator Homer Capehart. Judge Beamer has practiced law in Indiana for 33 years.

WILLIAM B. JONES, '28 (center), confers with Senators Mike Mansfield (left) and Lee Metcalf at hearings on Jones' appointment by President Kennedy to the Federal Court of the District of Columbia. Judge Jones has known both Montana Democrats since he was a football coach and lawyer in Helena.

STEPHEN J. ROTH, '28, was appointed by the President as U.S. Judge for the Eastern District of Michigan, serving in the Northern Division at Flint, Mich. A lawyer since 1935, Judge Roth served ten years as judge of Michigan's 7th Circuit, was also a prosecutor and attorney general of Michigan.

A Season of Leadership: The Judiciary who has practiced law in Indiana for 33 years "with honor, ethics, success and distinction." Judge Beamer has been a member of the South Bend law firm of Crumpacker, May, Beamer, Levy & Searer, with which his son, George, Jr., is associated. One of the partners is former Congressman Shep Crumpacker.

HON. WILLIAM B. JONES, A.B. '28, LL.B. '31, was confirmed by the Senate in April as a U.S. Judge for the District of Columbia. A guard and freshman football coach as a student, he went to Helena, Montana as coach for Carroll college, then as a full-time attorney, finally as special assistant attorney general. It was there that he met Montana's Senator Mansfield, now majority leader, then a history professor at the state university. He went to Washington in 1937 and served as an attorney for the Justice Department, the O.P.A. and the State Department. Since 1946 he has been a partner and trial specialist for the firm of Hamilton & Hamilton, and he is president of Washington's John Carroll Society. He and his wife Alice have a daughter, Barbara, just graduated from the Newton College of the Sacred Heart, Newton, Mass.

HON. STEPHEN J. ROTH, Ph.B. '31, was appointed U.S. District Judge for Eastern Michigan early in May. Born in Hungary, he came to the U.S. at the age of 5, completed his legal education at the University of Michigan. First a bank teller and automobile factory worker, he has been a lawyer since 1935. He was elected prosecutor in Flint, Mich., before service in North Africa and Italy during World War II. Returning, he alternated private practice and public service, served as attorney general of Michigan from 1948 to 1950, was appointed to the Genesee County Circuit Court by Governor Williams in 1952 and re-elected three times since then. In 1955 he was an unsuccessful nominee for the Supreme Court. He and wife Evelyn have five children, Diane, Susan, Kayla, Charles and Bradford.

AN IRISH 'RUN' on the FEDERAL COURTS

WITHIN A SHORT time last spring three more Notre Dame men were named by President Kennedy to the Federal Bench, quickly confirmed by the United States Senate, and added to an impressive list of alumni in the Federal Judiciary.

This form of national service promises to match the leadership that Notre Dame men already claim in such fields as national politics (Notre Dame men have been national chairmen of both major political parties) and national security (more graduates as agents of the Justice and Treasury Departments than any other school).

HON. GEORGE N. BEAMER, SR., LL.B. '29, was appointed Judge of the U.S. District Court of Northern Indiana. At Senate hearings under the chairmanship of Sen. Edward Long of Missouri, Sen. R. Vance Hartke (D-Ind.) urged approval of the Beamer nomination, calling him "a nominee of tremendous background and high caliber"

AHOY N. D. SAILORS: NOW HEAR THIS!

Would all the alumni who are now on active duty with the Navy please send their name, rank and present duty station to the Professor of Naval Science, NROTC Unit, University of Notre Dame? This information is needed for the purpose of establishing a list of Notre Dame alumni who are now in the Naval Service.

Literature

Pulitzer Prize for Fiction

WHEN EDWIN O'Connor, '39, was announced as the winner of the 1962 Pulitzer Prize for fiction with his novel The Edge of Sadness, a lot of readers were gladdened who had wondered how he could possibly have missed the award with a previous novel, the delightful Last Hurrah. The fiction prize was the first in that medium among Notre Dame men with Pulitzer credits, including a reporting prize for Ed Mowery, '28, and a drama prize for a play adapted from The Teahouse of the August Moon by Vern Sneider.

Ed O'Connor is a tall, ruggedly handsome Irishman. A native of Providence, R. I., he went from Notre Dame to work as a radio announcer in Providence, Palm Beach, Buffalo and Hartford. In World War II he served as a Coast Guard information officer, and since 1946 he has devoted all his time to writing books and contributing to newspapers, magazines, radio and television.

EDWIN O'CONNOR, '39
For "Edge of Sadness," the latest Hurrah

His first novel, The Oracle, was published in 1951. A satirical story about the world of radio, it won plaudits from the critics. The Last Hurrah, a robust fictional life of an Irish political boss in Boston, was a runaway best seller. It was made into a movie starring Spencer Tracy and Pat O'Brien. A bachelor, Ed lives on Boston's Beacon Street and continues writing fiction that glorifies rather than degrades humanity. "I happen to believe," he once said, "that we're all made in the image of God."

Cartoonist Al Capp, in a recent syndicated column, claimed to be the first to recognize O'Connor as Pulitzer material. Bitter about radio after being panned for a performance by a critic named Roger Swift ("I hoped to meet Roger . . . and give him something swift"), he was asked to review The Oracle, agreed with its comments on radio, and wrote: "Edwin O'Connor may yet be among the first names in American literature, and, not many novels from now, I predict the Pulitzer Prize." The editor deleted his prediction, but O'Connor soon showed up in Capp's Boston studio to thank him for the review and ask about the technicalities of cartooning for research on a new novel. Capp helped him and asked what he did besides writing novels. O'Connor replied, "I write radio reviews for a Boston newspaper under the name of Roger Swift."

Diplomacy

TROUBLE SHOOTER IN GHANA

THE PRESIDENT of the Notre Dame Alumni Association was absent from the annual Alumni Banquet in June and wired his regrets. William P. Mahoney, Jr., '38, approved by the Senate in May as the new U.S. ambassador to Ghana, was in Washington for a final briefing from President John F. Kennedy before his departure for Accra, capital of the five-year-old West African nation, to assume perilous duties in a strange new land.

Bill, his wife Alice and the Mahoneys' seven children made feverish preparations for their journey to Africa, which involved leaving their Arizona home, schools, and friendships for an unfamiliar life in the U.S. Embassy at Accra. Bill leaves a career as a Phoenix lawyer, choirmaster, political leader and public servant. The last two facets of his background had a part in his selection by President Kennedy and should serve him well in the new job.

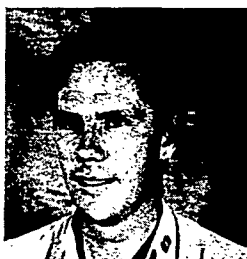

Manager of the Kennedy presidential campaign in Arizona, Bill is himself a veteran of the political wars. He served four years as Maricopa County Attorney and two as Assistant Attorney General of Arizona. Graduated from the Notre Dame Law School in 1940, the former Varsity athlete was the University's head track coach for two years and is expected to extend the Kennedy physical fitness program to West Africa. He served as a naval officer during World War II, ending as a prosecutor of Navy war crimes cases in the Pacific. A director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, he has served in many other civic and religious organizations. His legal reputation as a champion of the rights of minorities is said to be the determining factor in his appointment as ambassador to Ghana.

Bill succeeds Ambassador Francis Russell in Ghana, formerly the Gold Coast, an African member of the British Commonwealth of Nations. The country has a population of about five million and is sandwiched between Upper Volta, the Ivory Coast and Togo. It gained its independence in 1957, holds free elections and is ruled by a unilateral National Assembly, headed by Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, a U.S.-educated Marxist, and his cabinet. Two days after gaining independence, Ghana became the 81st member of the United Nations. It is a vital and sensitive area because of its leadership among neutral or "uncommitted" nations and its prime minister's ambitions for a united Africa.

Thus Ghana has joined Chile and other nations inhabited by N.D. Peace Corpsmen, in the University's diplomatic "sphere of influence."

HON. WILLIAM P. MAHONEY, JR., '38, new United States Ambassador to Ghana, as he appeared in three career stages (from left): Notre Dame track coach and fledgling Arizona lawyer; W.W. II naval officer and Pacific war crimes prosecutor; Arizona political leader for John F. Kennedy and president of the N.D. Alumni Association.

News of the NOTRE DAME LAW SCHOOL

The Notre Dame Law Association sponsored a conference on "The Trial Lawyer — 1962" from Wednesday to Friday of the Reunion Week End. The speakers included celebrated lawyers and judges from all over the country. Chief Judge Desmond of the New York Court of Appeals, a member of the Law Advisory Council, moderated the panel on the "Trial of Criminal Cases." The panelists were Edward Bennett Williams of Washington and Paul W. Williams of New York. Assistant Dean Broderick moderated the panel on "Preparation and Technique in the Trial of Negligence Actions" and participants included Emile Zola Berman of New York. The panel on the "Trial of Antitrust Suits" was headed by Mr. Lee Loevinger, Assistant United States Attorney General in charge of the Antitrust Division.

Father Hesburgh welcomed the panelists at dinner at the Morris Inn on Wednesday evening. Professor Charles W. Joiner of the University of Michigan Law School spoke at the luncheon on Thursday and Dean O'Meara addressed the closing luncheon on Friday.

The entire program was arranged by Judge William B. Lawless, '44L, of Buffalo, President of the Notre Dame Law Association, and two of the Association's directors, Mr. Valentine B. Deale, '39, of Washington and Mr. Camille F. Gravel, Jr., '35, of Alexandria, Louisiana.

LAW HONORS BANQUET

The President of the American Bar Association, Mr. John C. Satterfield, was the featured speaker at the Law Honors Banquet on May 7. This annual affair affords an opportunity to salute the members of the graduating class and to recognize the achievements of all members of the student body who have distinguished themselves in one way or another. In addition, as in each of the last three years, it was the occasion for a joint observance of LAW DAY USA by the Notre Dame Law School and the St. Joseph County Bar Association. Mr. Satterfield's visit marked the fifth consecutive year in which the Law Honors Banquet has been addressed by the President of the American Bar Association. Mr. Sylvester C. Smith of Newark, who will succeed Mr. Satterfield in the presidency of the American Bar Association, has agreed to address the Law Honors Banquet next year.

CONGRATULATIONS

William B. Jones, '31L, of Washington, D.C., and George N. Beamer, '29L, of South Bend, Indiana, have been appointed to the Federal District bench.

Mr. William P. Mahoney, '40L, of Phoenix, Arizona, has been appointed Ambassador to Ghana.

Law Review Conference

The Eighth National Conference of Law Reviews was held at Notre Dame in April. Conference members included all of the better law reviews of the country. Fifty law schools were represented at the meeting. The principal speaker at the annual banquet was Mr. Burke Marshall, Assistant United States Attorney General in charge of the Civil Rights Division.

Legal Careers Seminar

A Legal Careers Seminar sponsored by the Young Lawyers Section of the Indiana State Bar Association was presented at the Notre Dame Law School in March. Three members of the panel were Notre Dame Alumni, namely, Edward L. Burke, '54L, H. Charles Winans, '58L, and James Stewart Taylor, '60L.

FACULTY

Professor Thomas F. Broden has been elected President of the South Bend Deanship of the Catholic Interracial Council. Professor Broden is Chairman of the South Bend Fair Employment Practices Commission, appointed by the Mayor.

Assistant Dean Broderick addressed the Niles City Club in April.

Professor Wagner spoke on the Visiting Lecturers' Program of the Air Force Institute of Technology at Dayton. His lecture, delivered in April, was on "Peaceful Settlement of International Disputes."

Professor Harris L. Wofford, Jr., who is on leave of absence, resigned as Special Assistant to the President in May and was immediately appointed Special Representative for the Peace Corps in Africa. He will make his headquarters in Addis Ababa and will be in immediate charge of the Ethiopian Program, which involves 300 secondary school teachers. In addition, he will have over-all supervision of all Peace Corps projects in Africa.

Professor Noonan addressed a seminar on Modern Intellectual History at Barnard College in April. His subject was "Rules and Purposes: The Concept of Law in Natural Science and in Jurisprudence." In addition he gave the second in a series of lectures at the University of Chicago dealing with the Limits of Liberal Education. The title of his lecture was "The Responsibility of the College for the Values of Its Students."

Professor Ward and Dean O'Meara attended a meeting at the Supreme Court in May of the Advisory Committee on Appellate Rules of the Judicial Conference of the United States. Professor Ward is Reporter for the Committee, by appointment of Chief Justice Warren, and Dean O'Meara is a member. Later in the same month Dean O'Meara attended the National Law and Electronics Conference at UCLA. The three-day conference explored in depth the possible use of electronic data retrieving mechanisms in legal research.

MISCELLANEOUS

The 1961 Symposium Issue of the Lawyer, containing the papers presented at the Symposium on "Next Steps to Extend the Rule of Law," was favorably reviewed in the May, 1962, issue of the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists.

William A. Loy, '58L, of Covington, Indiana, has been made a member of the law firm of Wallace and Wallace in that city.

Watch for

The Story Everybody Will Want To Read:

JOE BOLAND — NOTRE DAME MAN

Edited by PEG BOLAND

A unique story of the man who was the Radio Voice of Notre Dame — ND tackle, honor student, football coach, radio and TV personality and one of the nation's top sportscasters.

Here is Joe Boland, personal and immediate as seen by his friends . . .

Richard Sullivan and Francis Wallace, novelists . . . Bing Crosby . . . Tim Cohane, Sports editor of LOOK magazine . . . Warren Brown, Sports editor of the CHICAGO AMERICAN . . . Harvey Foster, F.B.I., New York . . . Clarence Manion, Bud Wilkinson, Terry Brennan, and many others.

ca 200 pages, 12 illustrations

Price: $3.50

PUBLICATION DATE: SEPTEMBER 7

Send your orders now. If accompanied by your check, we'll send the book postage free.

Send me _____ copies of JOE BOLAND—NOTRE DAME MAN.

Name _____

Address _____

Check Enclosed ☐ Bill Me ☐

SOLD BY DIRECT MAIL ONLY

N. S. P. PUBLISHING CO. - 6225 Moraine Ave. - Hammond, Ind.

MAN and the MOMENT

By Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, C.S.C.

THE OLD PATRIARCH, Father Sorin, was only 59 years old in 1873.

A fellow countryman, Father Lemonnier, was the President of Notre Dame. The evidence seems to point, however, to Father Sorin as the man behind the scenes. He was the Oven Bird of those years. The Oven Bird, you will recall from Robert Frost, was "the singer everyone has heard . . . who makes the solid tree trunks sound again." This Father Sorin did. It was a great little community in those days — just as it is today — but the man with the long beard and piercing eyes was the master no matter what title someone else held. This was true in putting up the church. The old books say Father Alexis Granger built the church. So he did. It was to him that Father Sorin had committed the work. But when the old master decided he did not like the plans for the church — out they went. Father Granger had a man named Patrick Keely, a renowned architect, draw up the plans. He drew the plans after the Gesu in Rome. This would be Baroque. But Father Sorin, on a return trip from France, looked in the small money till and decided on a Gothic church that would cost only half as much.

It is not for me to propose old Father Sorin as the patron of fund raisers. I'm sure the centuries before him had more than enough. But he did have a way with him . . . a way of getting money away from others.

The question of the cost of the Tabernacle for the new church came up frequently. Some thought it was to cost too much. In a December issue of the Scholastic (1873) a man wrote an article and signed it E.S. That was the Oven Bird himself. "We have been asked how much the new Tabernacle would cost. We answer the question the more readily, from the fact that the price alone of this real monument of art and religion will be, to all our friends, a clear evidence that their contributions were not solicited for an ordinary object; common things we try to do ourselves; but when we call on our acquaintances for any aid or help, we mean to give them a just cause to feel proud of their co-operation and liberality."

I like the way he says that. And what he says is very true today: "common things we try to do ourselves." He was not content to let things go at that. Here are some excerpts: "When the numerous donors, whose names shall have been engraved on the gold plates, will see what has been accomplished by their personal, and comparatively moderate, subscriptions, in a joint effort, they will rejoice at a result so far above the reach of any solitary exertions."

"Such is the working of association; and a trifle which everyone spares with ease and pleasure, when multiplied by hundreds and thousands soon amounts to a surprising sum, sufficient to obtain wonderful effects. Let these feeble efforts be directed properly, and they will accomplish noble deeds and all share in their merits.

"Meanwhile we go on with our work of faith, without the least fear to hear on our way the old Judaic reproach: 'Ut quid perditio haec?' — 'Why this waste of money?' For we are told that whilst our Blessed Saviour was lying in a manger, the son of Herod reposed in a silver bed. We simply believe that it is time we should treat our Divine Redeemer differently, and that, to strengthen our hopes to be 'received by Him in His eternal Tabernacle' we should try to leave Him no longer on the straw of Bethlehem, but as far as in our power, to anticipate upon earth, something of the eternal residence Himself has revealed by His angel."

The Tabernacle is, indeed, beautiful. I have often thought of the many hands that have reached to open the Tabernacle doors and lift out a ciborium. Over the years thousands upon thousands of Hosts have come from within those doors to bring God's Body to thousands of Notre Dame men. Many a hand that reached for Him will reach for Him no more; and many a heart that welcomed Him has gone to that other shore. They built for us, these men of the past, so that we might carry on and have great dreams and build again. We of the present are the porters and the guardians of a great heritage. Each of us is a "porter of a little door no higher than a man's reach in the sky." Each of us, and each in his own way, is called upon to "make the solid tree trunks sound again."

WE ARE FREQUENTLY ASKED ABOUT HAVING MASSES OFFERED ON THE NOTRE DAME CAMPUS

Masses are promptly offered by Holy Cross Priests on the Notre Dame Campus in:

The Main Church — Sacred Heart Church

The many Chapels in the basement Church

The Altars in Corby Hall

In the chapels of 17 Residence Halls

Priests of the Congregation of Holy Cross are most happy to take care of your intentions.

Please send Mass intentions to:

Superior of Corby Hall
c/o Rev. Ferdinand Brown, C.S.C.
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame Indiana

or

Alumni Office
c/o Rev. T. J. O'Donnell, C.S.C.
University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, Indiana

Bridge Whiz Jacoby Picked up the Game Not from His Daddy But from Notre Dame

Jim Jacoby, '57, of Dallas, Texas, is one of the outstanding young stars in the world of tournament bridge. Despite his famous father's influence, Jim did not take up bridge until he became a student at Notre Dame. Interrupting his studies for a two-year hitch in the Army, he rapidly became a Life Master, the golden goal of bridge players, and since graduation has continued his winning ways to pile up more than 2,500 master points, currently ranking about 35th in that department among the bridge stars of the country. His wife Judy, a sister of Tom Mudd, '61, has lately taken up bridge also, and with Jim's father and mother she has won several important Team-of-Four titles in top-flight competition. She will also become a Life Master before very long.

Oswald Jacoby, Jim's father, is a familiar name wherever cards are played. He took part in the historic Culbertson-Lenz bridge battle of the early Thirties and has been a leading star ever since, even while popularizing the Latin American game canasta. Last year, for the second time he captured the coveted McKenney Trophy, awarded annually to the bridge player accumulating the most master points in a single year. Son Jim came in fifth in that race. Recently "Ozzie" took over the top spot in the master point rating of championship bridge players, breaking Charles Goren's 17-year grip on that position, when the Contract Bridge League announced the total number of master points at 6,530 for Jacoby to 6,510 for Goren.

THE WIZARDS OF "OZ" is an apt name for this formidable all-family team-of-four in the world of tournament of bridge, made up of Jim Jacoby, '57; his wife, Judy; his mother, Mary Zita; and his father and the top living bridge master, the legendary Oswald "Ozzie" Jacoby of Dallas, Tex.

Jim's mother Mary Zita, former Texas, Southwest and National public parks tennis champion, decided the distaff side could hold its own at bridge too, so she became a Life Master and more than holds her own as a member of the Jacoby team. The other Jacoby son, Jon, '59, after Navy Reserve officer duty, is pursuing studies at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. His bridge activities at this time are a deep secret.

MORE ALUMNI TO VIEW FRESHMAN 'CARD TRICKS'

This fall the spirited freshman card stunt section is moving to the north end zone of the stadium, thus enabling 95% of the Irish fans to see this colorful display of student spirit.

The show is performed by the rooters simultaneously flashing checkerboard-size cards which blend, when viewed from a distance, into a pre-conceived design. The stunts are first sketched on special graph paper (each square representing a person) and the instruction card for each seat is then stamped with the appropriate color. At half time the individual raises the indicated color upon the stunt director's signal. This procedure can be employed for animated effects by using various timing tricks and alternating the flash sequence of portions of the section. A variation last year for the Navy game had a Midshipman pictured slowly sinking as each row, starting from the bottom, successively flipped to blue. Some other eye catchers displayed were falling rain, the moon moving through its phases and a beer mug being filled from a tap.

The card stunts were first conceived three years ago by two freshmen, Tim Haidinger and Phil Amend. They overcame many initial difficulties and with much hard work made their 1960 debut an immense success. The fall of 1961 saw a much improved show due to refinements in organization and better co-operation from the student body.

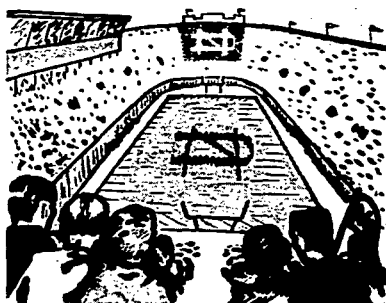

Just two years after conception, the committee felt that it had reached its full potential at its present site in the student area of the stadium. It now sought to find a place where the maximum number of fans could see the show, at the same time enlarging the section in size and presentation.

Initial plans were to have an integrated Notre Dame and St. Mary's cheering section. A poll was taken and the results showed that the majority of the upperclassmen at both schools preferred to remain in the traditional separated seating arrangement. Another round of meetings and planning sessions ensued this spring and finally a plan was approved by both administrations whereby the freshmen of the two schools would sit together in the new rooting section.

Permission was secured from Herb Jones, Athletic Department head, to use the north end zone of the stadium and to admit the students of a general seating plan. The section was expanded from 1,050 to 1,380 students and changed its shape from an unartistic square to a cinemascope rectangle.

The most significant change, engineered by Dick Stritter, the present chairman, and his committee, consists of using freshmen exclusively in the section.

Fr. Forrestal, '13
Modern Languages

Fenlon, '19
English

Schubmehl, '21
Engineering Mechanics

Fr. Ward, '23
Philosophy

Withey, '26
Communication Arts

Nastukoff
Mathematics

Kolupaila
Civil Engineering

Frederick
English

Bott
Marketing

UNIVERSITY HONORS NINE PROFESSORS AT RETIREMENT

The retirement of nine University of Notre Dame faculty members and the promotion of thirty-four others were announced in May. The University also honored nine men who are observing their 25th anniversary of teaching at Notre Dame.

Black and gold chairs, monogrammed with the Notre Dame emblem, were presented to those retiring from the University's classrooms. They are: Herbert J. Bott, marketing management; Paul I. Fenlon, English; Rev. Peter P. Forrestal, C.S.C., modern languages; John T. Frederick, English; Steponas Kolupaila, civil engineering; Paul M. Nastukoff, mathematics; Raymond J. Schubmehl, assistant dean of engineering; Rev. Leo R. Ward, C.S.C., philosophy; and James A. Withey, communication arts.

Ten men were elevated to full professorships. They are: Rev. Paul E. Beichner, C.S.C., dean of the Graduate School; Henry H. Carter, modern languages; Vincent P. De Santis, history; Stefan Drobot, mathematics; Alvan S. Ryan, English; Rev. Albert L. Schlitzer, C.S.C., theology; Rev. Charles E. Sheedy, C.S.C., dean, College of Arts and Letters; Thomas J. Stritch, communication arts; Bernard J. Ward, law; and Kwang-tsu-Yang, mechanical engineering.

Those promoted to the rank of associate professor include: Peter T. Brady, accountancy; Joseph X. Brennan, English; James J. Carberry, chemical engineering; Rev. Raymond F.

Cour, C.S.C., political science; Frederick J. Crosson, General Program; Sperry E. Darden, physics; Conrad L. Kellenberg, law; Robert P. McIntosh and Kenyon S. Tweedell, biology; Fredrick B. Pike, history; Francis H. Raven, mechanical engineering; Vincent R. Raymond, business organization and management; Sherman Shapiro, finance and business economics; Vincent J. Traynelis, chemistry; Robert J. Waddick, guidance and testing; and Stephan A. Worland, economics.

Promotions to assistant professor were announced for Thomas DeKonninck and A. Edward Hanier, philosophy; Frank J. Fahey, sociology; Robert C. Hayes and Rev. Joseph L. Walter, C.S.C., chemistry; Rev. William J. Hegge, C.S.C., theology; Randolph J. Klawiter, modern languages; and James E. Ward, history.

Honored for twenty-five years' service to Notre Dame were: Robert L. Anthony, physics; Brother Columba Curran, C.S.C., and Patrick A. McCusker, chemistry; James Dincolo and Bernard B. Finnan, accountancy; John James Fitzgerald, philosophy; Matthew A. Fitzsimons, history; Edward R. Quinn, guidance and testing; and Lawrence F. Stauder, electrical engineering.

DINING HALL CHIEF RETIRES

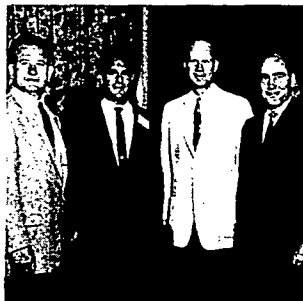

The University has announced the retirement of David C. Ford as its director of food service and dining halls and the appointment of Gilbert P. Volmi as his successor. Dave Ford joined the Notre Dame staff in 1943 after eighteen years' experience with Swift and Company. He has been responsible for the preparation and serving of approximately 15,000 meals daily on the campus. The University's food service numbers about 375 full-time employees, and these are augmented by approximately 250 part-time student workers during the regular school year. Ford is a graduate of Cornell University. Volmi, with degrees from Penn State and Florida State, has supervised dining at Tennessee, Maryland and Vanderbilt University.

DAVID C. FORD

Reunion Sketches

PRELIMINARIES included "The Trial Lawyer — 1962," three-day professional conference held by the N.D. Law Association (see Law News), and annual Monogram Day, shown here. At left, three great decades of Irish athletics are represented by Monogram Club officers (l.-r.): Sec'y.-Treas. Bill Earley, '43; Pres. Larry "Moon" Mullins, '31; Past Pres. Chuck Sweeney, '38; Vice-Pres. Frank "Rangy" Miles, '22.

REGISTRATION at Law School admitted alumni to hall class headquarters, golf tourney, bars, class dinners and a host of reunion events. Signing in a platoon of eager grads at lower right, Margaret Boggs, secretary to Jim Armstrong, and John H. Janowski, editor of NOTRE DAME Magazine, show new full color maps as guides to new campus.

GOLF DAY is primarily "nineteenth hole" for these former Notre Dame athletes, most of whom need no identification. Standouts in a crowd dominated by footballers are a mathematician turned baseball coach and a basketball star turned bank president.

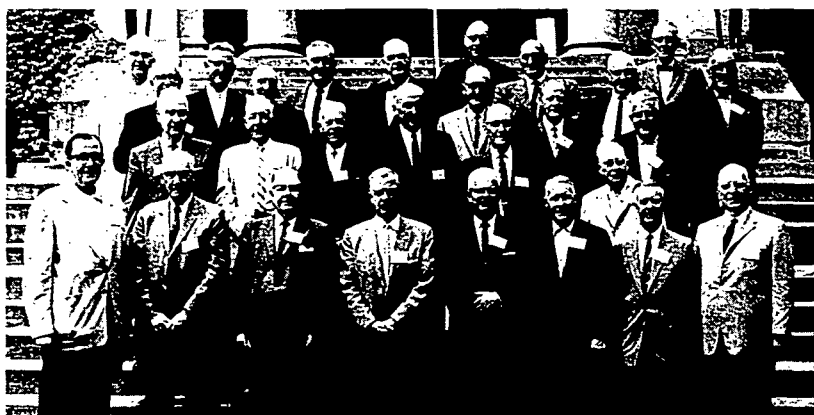

Notre Dame Men, as loyal and clannish as college men can get (witness 180 fantastically active volunteer alumni chapters around the world), are nonetheless supremely individualistic. They fit no mold, wear no uniform (externally or internally), tolerate no shibboleths or secret handshakes. And heaven help the outsider who measures them in stereotypes.

Similarly Notre Dame Classes, although tightly united in their loyalty to the Lady on the Dome, have distinct personalities. They will not be regimented into programmed conformity. This makes for a "loose" reunion schedule but some exciting individual Class expression. It is these Class "personalities" we will try to capture on these and subsequent pages, with a few words and a lot of pictures.

'12

THE GOLDEN GALLANTS, thanks principally to the relentless cajoling of Secretary Ben Kaiser, brought a "representative" handful, but their ranks were not supplemented by the usual 50-Year Clubbers. Missing were names like Ferstel, Jamieson, Mertes, etc., but there were toasts in the Golfers' Lounge, roll calls at the Library.

"MEN OF DISTINCTION" seemed always poised to pose for a Calvert ad, whether dining in bucolic serenity at the home of Bernie Voll or gathering their distinguished company for the traditional formal portrait on campus.

'17

The Classes

ELEGANT AND EXCLUSIVE were the arrangements of the able committee appointed by Secretary Kid Ashe, but the exuberance belied a forty-year absence as they dined a la carte at the Inn or refreshed in the privacy of corner suites upstairs.

'22

'27

HAUNTED BY GLORY, the famed 35-Year Class gathered to mourn such departed giants as the late Joe Boland and Paul Butler, and to rejoice in such enduring symbols as dauntless David Van Wallace, returning cheerful as ever after nearly forty years of enervating paralysis and appearing young enough to matriculate again. At left, Van and some fans converse at the Class Dinner Friday in the Inn's Trustees' Room.

Reunion Sketches

The Classes

HONORED BY HIERARCHY, the 30-year delegation enjoyed a unique distinction. With more high clergy in its ranks than any other reunion unit, it had the presence of newly enthroned Archbishop Paul Hallinan of Atlanta, shown at dinner in the Mahogany Room (right) and at center of class portrait. It also had its own edition of the Farmer's Almanac.

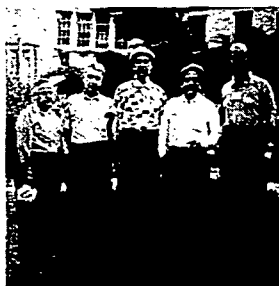

'32

SILVER JUBILEE CLASS was less formal than some 25-year groups of the past. At dinner (standing, l.-r.) workers Jerry Claeys, Joe Quinn, Harry Kochler, Mike Brias, Tim Waite, Tom Luckey, Al Schwartz and Karl King greet (seated: l.-r.) Father Joyce, favorite profs Lee Flatley, Wes Bender.

SHAMELESS SHUTTERBUGS cocktailed at the "Rock," snapped hundreds of Polaroid pix (like sampling below) as souvenirs and/or evidence.

'37

G.I. JOES of the 20-Year-Class lined up for their group photo (below) in semi-military fashion. They seemed to do almost everything the Army way, like picking "volunteers" (right) to help Secretary Bill Hickey with officer chores over the next five years. These and other "winners" will be announced.

'42

'47

"THE FRACTURED QUACKERS" were sparsely represented in spite of Secretary Jack Miles' brave effort to combat the schizophrenia of the first really postwar Class, apotheosized by their own mascot, "ThorNDike." A satire on the W. W. II "ruptured duck," the mangled mallard with a black thorn symbolized a combination of youthful verve and veterans' cynicism shown by the rollicking remnant here.

GOLFING GOURMETS mustered a percentage of their 200-plus for the Class picture but had a much larger delegation at the meals. Those culinary delights, as well as the midnight snacks and other refreshments, were the work of tireless local chairman Wally Purcell, who also promoted attendance.

'52

The Classes

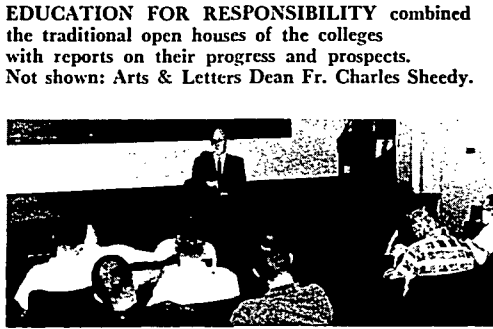

"FIVE-YEAR LOCUSTS" might have been a better name for the '57 varieties (left) as they swooped down on their picnic buffet in Dillon Court. They vied with their ten-year neighbors in many areas, edging them out in the suds consumption sweepstakes and in the golf department, 3-2. Effort in both categories explains the 30% turnout for the Class photo.

'57

DEAN ROSSINI OF SCIENCE

DEAN GAY OF ENGINEERING

DEAN CULLITON, BUS. ADMIN.

EDUCATION FOR RESPONSIBILITY combined the traditional open houses of the colleges with reports on their progress and prospects. Not shown: Arts & Letters Dean Fr. Charles Sheedy.

Reunion Sketches

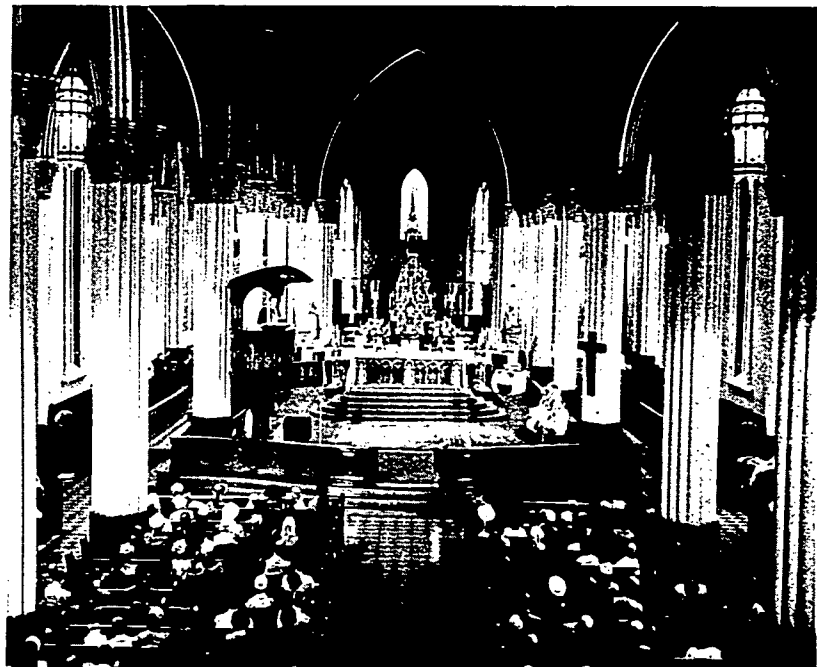

ALUMNI BANQUET joined front-and-center faculty and administration, wall-to-wall alumni, 1,000 strong.

CAMPUS "BRASS" surveying the throng (center) in split head table shot included (background, l.-r.): Jim Armstrong, Alumni Secretary; Fr. Edmund Joyce, Executive Vice-President; Fr. Charles McCarragher, Student Affairs Vice-President; Dr. Frederick Rossini, Dean of Science; Dr. James Culliton, Dean of Business Administration; Fr. George Holderith, Golf Pro; (at right) Dr. Norman Gay, Dean of Engineering; Fr. Chester Soleta, Academic Vice-President; Fr. Jerome Wilson, Business Vice-President; guest Harry Stuhldreher, and Fr. Hesburgh.

STUHLBREHER (inset) represented U. S. Steel and announced his company's $100,000 five-year grant in recognition of the university's present academic stature.

ALUMNI MASS, celebrated by Father Joyce, was held on Pentecost Sunday at Sacred Heart Church. The sermon was preached to alumni and Sacred Heart parishioners by Rev. William J. McAuliffe, C.S.C., '37, then pastor. Thus ended the 1962 Class Reunions.

Looking Back at Newman

Continued from page 5

Can the university, its faculty, students or administrators be indifferent to such problems as racial equality, demography, the world rule of law, the deteriorating relationship between science and the other humanities, the moral foundations of democracy, the true nature of communism, the understanding of non-Western cultures, the values and goals of our society, and a whole host of other human problems that beset mankind caught in its present dilemmas of survival or utter destruction, life or death, civilized advance or return to the Stone Age? These are real problems — of intellectual content, of urgent consequence, of frightening proportions. Where are they going to be studied in all of their dimensions, and where are truly ultimate solutions to be elaborated, if not in that one institution that is committed to the mind at work, using all the disciplines and intellectual skills available?

The truest boast of the Catholic university is that it is committed to adequacy of knowledge, which in effect means that philosophy and theology are cherished as special ways of knowing, of ultimate importance. If, then, philosophy and theology do not in fact give special life and vigor to the Catholic university of today, we will not be faithful either to the ideal that Newman so well enunciated, or to the very special challenges of our times. They are times which provide an unparalleled opportunity for the Catholic university really to come of age.

Notre Dame Image

Continued from page 2

readily available for companionship and counsel, it is inevitable that they feel their image of Notre Dame has been shattered.

The truth of the matter is that none of these changes imply any basic change in the nature or the spirit of Notre Dame. It does mean that what was once accomplished by natural association must now involve some deliberate planning and organized effort. It means that what once could be "all" must often now be only "some" but today's "some" can be more than yesterday's "all." For example, if I knew a third of my fellow students personally, it meant some 500 acquaintances, valuable and cherished as friends, and themselves unique educators in the ways of their various backgrounds. Today's student, though he may know only 10% of his fellow students, actually knows more Notre Dame men.

II. Athletics have played a tremendous part in the history of Notre Dame. In an institution for men, separated from the outside world by physical and disciplinary environment, endowed by a way of life with health and vigor, a major athletic program was the inevitable intelligent outlet which provided a physical factor that blended effectively with the intellectual and spiritual life that might otherwise have suffered substantial softening.

This program grew naturally to intercollegiate proportions, and because of its inherent strength, and the factors that added the role of underdog for many years, and the champions of a highly diversified following for many years thereafter, Notre Dame's image to many of us was somehow clothed in athletic uniforms and its voice echoed in victory and cheers.

Today, when the urgencies and the changes of our times begin to show an effect in our athletic programs that has altered our pattern of success, we feel that our image of Notre Dame has been lost, even though this same change is occurring wherever a similar circumstance has confronted a similar tradition.

The truth is that there is no essential reason for the absence of success in the proper programs of athletics that continue to provide a balance of physical development to complement the continuing intellectual and spiritual development of Notre Dame men. There are accidental changes that have entered the picture that must be adjusted and adapted. There are departures from some of the old traditions that have been unconsciously permitted. Recognition and adaptation can absorb the accidental changes and restore the traditions so that reasonable success against increasingly competitive opponents will return. The athletic image of Notre Dame has been altered, but by no means lost.

III. Alumni sons have been refused admission to Notre Dame. And young men of fine character have been turned away. For those of us whose image of Notre Dame was the open door of opportunity where a young man of good character or family background, even if he lacked financial resources, could always be admitted, it seems that this image has been buried.

In an era when the demand for college education is bringing thousands of applicants to the doors of every prestige university, the constantly open door is no longer a physical possibility. To assure the continuing image of competence, and to advance it toward excellence, Notre Dame has had no alternative but to close the door at a level that still has inched its way upward. But the door is not purposely closed to exclude sons of alumni, or young men of good character, or boys whose financial resources are limited.

The door is actually closed to preserve the strength of teaching and administration and purpose that will provide for those admitted the education they anticipate. While rising costs make the total subsidization of a student a most unlikely possibility on any general scale in the face of the budget, the fact is that costs to all students still remain at approximately two-thirds of the per capita cost of education to the University. And where relatively a few boys were additionally helped in years gone by, the University today employs more than 750 students; scholarship opportunities inside and outside the University are being increased annually; and University and National Defense Loan funds make the acquisition of an education more available to the determined young man today than it ever was in the past.

The enrollment represents a distribution based on broad geographical tradition, all 50 States and a growing number of foreign countries. It represents a balance of public and private preparatory schools. It contains a cross-section of racial backgrounds. It contains a cross-section of economic and family backgrounds. While the competitive demands of admission have raised the level of accomplishment for the entering freshmen, nothing has been lost and much gained in the continuing educational patterns that have stemmed over the years from the rich democracy of the campus population. Certainly nothing essential has been lost. Much that is new and valuable has been gained. Again, some elements of transition are lagging behind the facts of change. But we can be optimistic about conquering time, so long as we do not lose essentials.

IV. "The President of the University is away from the campus a great part of the time. The rectors and counselors in the residence halls don't have time to talk to the students and get acquainted with them. Notre Dame has lost its heart."

To those of us who remember the administration and some of the faculty sitting on the front porch of the Main Building after meals, or the hall rectors sitting on their hall porches exchanging banter with their tenants, it seems that the image of the small personal school has been shelved in favor of the production line and the efficiency expert, the social worker contact and the IBM identity.

Growing recognition of what Notre Dame has stood for over the years, and growing recognition of the priests and scholars who people the campus—achieved without any essential relation to size—have made many demands on the President not made on his predecessors. A particular personal magnetism and a universal interest and influence have, of course, added to this particular departure from the campus-contained administrations of the past. It might be added that there is no essential cause of alarm here if we recall the travels of Father Sorin, the national prestige of the eloquent Father John Cavanaugh the elder, and the world trips of Father Zahm.

Probably more to the point—since administration is more thorough and more delegated to better-trained men—is the questioning of the lack of time that the rectors and prefects have for the students.

As a matter of fact, without disparagement to the giants of the roster of rectors and prefects of the past, the reduction of time devoted to students stems from a smaller number of available priests and the double duty as teachers and scholars that the present rector and prefect must perform.

And an even sadder truth is that the modern student no longer has the same amount of time for the rector or prefect even if the latter were available. Student activities, student freedom, and student sophistication have combined to challenge the budgeted time of the student, particularly of those who pursue the increasingly significant suggestion that serious study is a primary purpose of college attendance.

Size is not penalizing the purposes or the people of today's Notre Dame. It provides a much larger frame, but for a much larger picture.

V. Money, so often a source of distortion, has not left the Notre Dame image untouched. The transition from years in which unremunerated services of religious were the major portion of the services involved naturally creates a different role for money in the University operation. To keep student costs in their traditional perspective—a deficit operation for each student—to provide competent lay faculty now in a ratio of six to one over religious, and to provide adequate physical facilities in an era of accelerated obsolescence—these are fiscal challenges of a new and major scope. But they are not new in essence. The deficit for student education always existed. New buildings were always in demand. And from its earliest days there were some lay faculty. The concern about the image of the simple uncomplicated and austere campus turning to luxury and money-raising stems from lack of knowledge of the truth. And the truth is that the very small endowment of Notre Dame (despite its growth from one million to almost thirty million in recent years) makes the increasing budget (which has grown from five million to nineteen million also in very recent years) a matter of annual concern, in which the increasing receipt of gifts and grants from alumni, friends, corporations and foundations must play a growing role. It is this increasing and generous response, with increasing news of such support, and the more obvious numbers of friends who enjoy the few small favors a grateful University can extend, that has caused some misconception of where the University's interest lies. Whatever the exigencies of fund-raising, in a growing competition for support of higher education, the essential image of Notre Dame remains unchanged; including purpose and nature. It is the necessity for increased support to preserve the primary purpose, the vital nature, and an adequate personnel to administer these ends, that has introduced a stronger money climate on the campus. The expanded total image of Notre Dame could not survive unless this new climate supported it.

VI. Have the long-hairs and the eggheads taken over Notre Dame? I suppose a quick supposition here would be to identify the questioner as one of those whose image of Notre Dame is

Continued on page 32

RHODE ISLAND—Rev. Louis Thornton, C.S.C. (center), director of placement at the University, is introduced to Jeanne Toole of Attleboro, Mass., by her husband Philip B. Toole, '52, president of the N.D. Club of Rhode Island and Southeastern Massachusetts. Others at Universal Notre Dame Night dinner in Providence were Jack Zilly, '46 (left), end coach at Brown University; Andrew J. McMahon, '35, of East Providence, past president of the Club, and his wife, Helen McMahon. (Providence Journal photo)

Clubs

Atlanta (Ga.)

Archbishop PAUL J. HALLINAN of the Atlanta Archdiocese and REV. JOHN E. WALSH, Director of the Notre Dame Foundation, addressed the May 6 meeting of the Atlanta Notre Dame Club at the Castleview Town and Country Club atop the Fulton National Bank Building.

Archbishop Hallinan discussed the Ecclesiastical Province of Atlanta, which was established in February. Father Walsh discussed programs for the expansion of the University.

Aurora

The Notre Dame Clubs of Aurora, Illinois, and the Fox River Valley celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner and awards program at the Sky Club of the Leland Hotel in Aurora on April 30. Approximately seventy alumni were in attendance, together with members of their families and friends of the University.

Guest speakers for the program were Rev. Terence Stanton, O.S.B., Chaplain of the local chapter, the HON. RAYMOND P. DRYMALSKI, newly-elected Judge of the Superior Court of Cook County and a graduate of Notre Dame. HUGH DEVORE, an assistant football coach under JOE KUCHARICH, and MIKE LIND, captain-elect of the 1962-63 football team.

Richard Weirich of Aurora, a senior student at Marmion Military Academy, was awarded the annual Aurora-Notre Dame Club Scholarship to the University. The scholarship was presented by WILLIAM CHAWGO, '31, of the Aurora Beacon News. VINCENT BUSCH, '31, received the Man-of-the-Year award in recognition of his outstanding service in the community and to the local organization. Mr. Busch is a partner in the Chicago printing firm of Busch & Schmitt, Inc. His award was presented by Attorney CLARENCE J. RUDDY, '27, vice-president of the local club.

Special honor was also given to Mrs. J. O. Goselin, the mother of three outstanding Notre Dame graduates in the community, WARD GOSSELIN, '27, WILLIAM GOSSELIN, '32, and JOHN S. GOSSELIN, '39.

The greetings of REV. THEODORE M. HESBURGH, C.S.C., President of the University, were conveyed to the gathering by EDWARD FANNING, '39, president of the local club. Also present were Attorney RICHARD D. SCHILLER, '56 and '59, Secretary, and Dr. THOMAS STARSHAK, '52, Treasurer.

—RICHARD D. SCHILLER, Secy

Baltimore

The sprawling city on Chesapeake Bay was busy preparing for the biggest springtime event since the great fire — Universal Notre Dame Night — 1962. Chairman TOM SHINE provided one of the most enjoyable commemorations of the annual event in the city's history.

Backed by the tremendous effort of all Notre Dame Clubbers throughout Baltimore, BILL KEARY and his hard-working committee combined their talents in staging one of the all-time great dances in Notre Dame Club of Baltimore history, Feb. 17. More than 260 couples danced, drank, watched some terrific entertainment and, most important, pushed the Club's scholarship fund over the $7,000 mark by adding some 650 of the green things to the kitty. Dance Chairman Keary did such an outstanding job that his services were volunteered for next year's dance, and the Club is going to try and push the scholarship fund up to $10,000 with that affair!

Berkshire County

The Club was very pleased with the turnout for our third Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner, on April 26, 1962. Approximately 100 attended and were treated to a fine dinner at the Yellow Aster Restaurant and talk by basketball coach, JOHNNY JORDAN. JACK DeMOSS ably performed as toastmaster.

The Father Hesburgh award was awarded to Mark Belanger, of Lancashire, Mass. Dr. JOE WILK and his committee, selected Mark on the basis of his outstanding performance scholastically and athletically at Pittsfield High School.

The Club's Officers for the next two years were installed at the Dinner. FRANK LINEHAN of Dalton takes over as President, FRANK KELLY of Lee as Vice President, RAY PAINLEY and AL BZDULA of Pittsfield as Secretary and Treasurer, respectively.

Committee appointments were made for the coming year and are headed up by the following: Summer Outing—RAY PAINLEY, Pittsfield; Communion Breakfast—BOB FRULLA, Lee; UND Night '63—ED REAGAN, Pittsfield; 1963 Father Hesburgh Award—DR. JOSEPH WILK, Cheshire; 1963 N.D.-Syracuse Game—DR. BERNIE AUGÉ & DAVE KLINE, Pittsfield; N.D. Foundation—JIM O'BRIEN, Retiring President.

—R. P. PAINLEY, Secy

Boston

WILLIAM E. DACEY, JR., '49, Local N.D. Foundation Chairman and past president of the Notre Dame Club of Boston, was named "Man of the Year" at the Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner-Dance observance at the Statler Hilton on April 28, 1962. The announcement of the award to Dacey by CHARLES PATTERSON, '44, a former award winner, was warmly greeted by the 150 royal rooters of our Club who were present to enjoy one of the finest parties sponsored by our local Club. Father LOU THORNTON, '29, from the University, ADAM WALSH, '25, National Alumni Board member, and EDWARD MCKEEVER, Coach at the University in 1944 and currently General Manager of the Boston Patriots, all gave interesting talks of the past and present greatness of our wonderful University. The Club officers are indebted to the 20 Club members who contributed an extra offering and by doing so we were able to entertain our guests and other friends at a delightful pre and post Dinner Cocktail party. The Club is especially indebted to JOHN McMANMON, '27, who donated the head table floral piece and also gave an orchid each to the wives of Past President POWERS, '43, and "Man of the Year" Dacey, '49, and to the young lady guest of the Campus Club president, AL CORRISI, '63. It is too bad so many of the brethren elected to stay away from the affair, because THOMAS L. REID, '25, and his Committee really put on a first-class party.

The first piece of mail from the University after the party was a note from Father Lou Thornton, again expressing his appreciation to our group for the fine time he had at our party, the other two guests also sent similar thank-you cards. All three of our guests made great personal sacrifices to be present, yet some of our local stay-at-homes wouldn't even come to the Statler on the Swan Boat if the distance was no greater than the width of the pond in the Boston Common. It is funny how some of our Alumni operate — maybe we'll find the reason some day. Believe me, folks, it was a wonderful party and we are sorry all of you didn't make it.

Your Club President and Board Members have tentatively outlined a schedule of interesting events for the 1962-63 season beginning with the Freshman Party early in September. In the past, this party has been limited to the incoming freshmen, their parents, the officers of the Campus Club and the Board of Directors of our own Club. After the Freshman Party, we hope to have a real football get-together in late September. ANGELO DABIERO, '62, and NICK BUONICONTI, '62, both regulars on last year's football eleven at the University and signed by the Boston Patriots, will be invited as our guests as will be other stand-out athletes from this area. We hope we can get some local Suds maker to sponsor this one. Don't leave! We'll have a Victory Dance in November and the Universal Communion Breakfast on December 10, 1962.

Keep all these events in mind when budgeting your social programs. If we can interest enough people we are considering a Cavalcade of buses from Boston with stopovers in New York City before and after the Navy game in Philadelphia on November 3, 1962. As soon as details are worked out we should have a round trip all inclusive expense trip in first-class scenic equipment that will give any other type of travel Number Two spot on the Hit Parade a right to the gate you enter at Municipal Stadium. Keep this one in mind. We are also toying with the possibility of a trip to the Campus for the Pittsburgh game, November 10, 1962 — a long week end. We need your assistance on all of the projects and others we hope to get off the ground.

A salute to ED O'CONNOR, '39, who was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for his novel, "The Edge of Sadness," the best in 1961. Your President attended the Club Presidents' Conference in New York City on May 17, 18 and 19. The gathering was held in conjunction with the National Alumni Board quarterly meeting and some 50 Club presidents from the East were guests of the University at a very interesting series of meetings. After listening to some of the talented Club presidents discuss their operations for fund raising, parties, scholarship drives and other civic enterprises, it is amazing the Boston Club has done as well as it has over the years. Some of the Club presidents are real operators but with one purpose to serve their fellow alumni and University in first-class fashion at all times. When you hear about six Alumni sponsoring the Campus Band and Glee Clubs in one year and making money for all concerned, you sometimes wonder if we are using the right formula here in Boston. If you are anxious to enroll your sons (ages 7 to 15) in the finest summer Camp in the country at Sebago Lake, Maine, under the supervision of Holy Cross Fathers and Brothers, contact Rev. J. W. Hanna, C.S.C., 835 Clinton Avenue, Bridgeport, Connecticut, for complete details. We have available some very beautiful enrollment cards for your living or deceased relatives or friends, and we will be glad to send them to our membership for the asking. These enrollment cards are for perpetual membership in the Pious Association and under the sponsorship of the Holy Cross Fathers at Notre Dame.

—TIM TOOMEY

COLUMBUS — At the Columbus Club's April 28 Universal Notre Dame Night ceremony (from left) Robert J. Kosydar, '53, was installed as president; Judge John Duffey was the principal speaker; and Richard Kasberg, '48, retired as 1961-62 president of the Club.

Buffalo

JOHN M. CONSIDINE, '49, was elected President of the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Buffalo for 1962-63 at our March meeting.

Other officers are: Vice-President, ROBERT C. WEBER; Financial Secretary, JOSEPH M. BUCKHEIT; Treasurer, JAMES F. DONOGHUE, and re-elected Secretary, JAMES F. CASEY. Elected Directors for three-year terms were: Messrs. CONSIDINE, WEBER, BUCKHEIT and JOHN J. McMAHON.

Our annual retreat was again held at St. Columban's Retreat House, Derby-On-The-Lake, N.Y., over the Passion Sunday week end. All who attended were very pleased with Father Waldron, our retreat master this year. MAURICE F. QUINN was again chairman.

WILLIAM B. LAWLESS, JR., '44, associate New York State Supreme Court Justice, and President of the Notre Dame Law Association, was named Buffalo Club "Man Of The Year" for 1961. A Buffalo Club Board of Directors member, Bill is local chairman of the special gifts division for the $18,000,000 challenge program.

REV. CHARLES E. SHEEDY, C.S.C., Dean of the School of Arts and Letters, was guest speaker at Universal Notre Dame Night, April 25, in the Hotel Lafayette. More than one hundred alumni, their wives and friends turned out to pay homage to Our Lady's School.

JOHN MAZUR, '52, Buffalo Bills' Backfield Coach, and LOU SABIN, Buffalo Bills' head coach, were honored guests. PAUL D. BALLING, Chairman, was assisted by RICHARD WAGNER. DONALD JACOBI did a masterful job as master of ceremonies.

President JACK CONSIDINE and his board have planned a full calendar of activity. The May meeting, an "Old Timers" night, will be held in Ham-burg, New York. A family picnic and a "Night at the Races" are anticipated during June.

The date and location for the annual golf out-ing will be announced.

—JAMES F. CASEY, Secy

Calumet Region

On Universal Notre Dame Night the annual N.D. Man of the Year Award was presented to AUSTIN BOYLE, past officer and present director of the Notre Dame Club of the Calumet Region. The Club's annual dinner honoring Universal Notre Dame Night by all of the Notre Dame Alumni Clubs throughout the United States was held on Monday, April 23, at a local Whiting Restaurant. This singular award is presented annually to a person who by virtue of his efforts on behalf of Notre Dame distinguishes himself in the fields of integrity, character, community service and loyalty to the University, its principles and ideals, and is considered amongst the highest honors bestowed upon any individual who by virtue of the foregoing honors the University. LAWRENCE F. GALLAGHER, Highland, was Chairman of the event. REV. JOHN REEDY, C.S.C., editor of Ave Maria magazine, was a representative of the University and principal speaker for the evening.

The Calumet Club Scholarship Award was presented to George Senko, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Senko of 7130 Catherine Street, Crown Point, a student of Merrillville High School, at a dinner meeting of the Club. The Scholarship was the first of such in a Scholarship Program embarked upon by the Calumet Club to a student who by virtue of his academic and activity high school record exemplifies the characteristics and virtues of a typical Notre Dame student.

Notre Dame stars, grads and athletic officials got together for the annual sports stag sponsored by the Notre Dame club of the Calumet Region and held at St. Michael's church hall in Hammond. Co-Chairmen were TONY KUCHARICH and DAVE OGREN. Guests included N.D. Athletic Director ED (MOOSE) KRAUSE, backfield star ANGELO DABIERO, Backfield Coach BRAD LYNN, Hammond Sportscaster JACK NAIMO and the Irish kicking specialist, JOE PERKOWSKI.

Canton

The University of Notre Dame, Canton, Ohio. Knute Rockne and Athletic Director EDWARD (MOOSE) KRAUSE were spotlighted nationally April 27.

On behalf of the University, Moose presented to Richard McCann, director of the National Professional Football Hall of Fame, a photograph of the late immortal coach which will be enshrined in the memorial building.

It was the first public presentation of a memento to the shrine and was witnessed by a crowd of 125 at the Congress Lake Club north of Canton.

The presentation was the highlight of the Universal Notre Dame Night observance of the ND Alumni Club of Canton.

Canton has been selected as the site for the football hall of fame which will be similar in nature to the baseball shrine at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Mr. McCann, who formerly was general manager of the Washington Redskins football team, recently was named its director. Construction of the modern-istic structure in the heart of Canton's beautiful park system is scheduled to be completed in the fall of 1963.

Moose was the main speaker for the dinner. He was his usual entertaining self with a handful of amusing anecdotes about his own experiences (in-cluding a few aimed at former classmates from Canton).

ROBERT C. (PETE) STREB, who played under "The Rock," also was a participant in the presenta-tion. Pete is chairman of the memoirs committee for the new hall.

The program was pretty much football centered which, oddly enough, is a rarity for the Canton club.

CANTON — At top (l-r.) Don Miller, Peter Streb, Dick McCann, director of the National Professional Football Hall of Fame, and Edward A. (Ned) Mahoney Jr., president of the Canton, Ohio, Club, look over a picture of Knute Rockne presented to the Hall of Fame by Moose Krause, shown below with past, present and future Irish from Ohio. Norm Nicola, center on the freshman squad, talks to Ken Ivan, All-Ohio end from Massillon, who will be enrolling at N.D. this fall. Listening in from behind are Tom Seaman, '53, former guard who graduated in 1953, and Moose. Tom and Norm both are from Canton.

At the same dinner it was announced that Ken Ivan, a 6'-1" all-state end from Massillon will be enrolling at ND this fall.

Ken and his parents attended the dinner, and Ken received some early indoctrination from Moose. NORM NICOLA, the top center on the freshman squad last season who is from Canton, and TOM SEAMAN, who played a lot of guard in the early '50s.

EDWARD A. (NED) MAHONEY, JR., our president, was master of ceremonies. BOB RICHARD, chairman. ED MACHUGA and CHUCK KOEHLER and members of the board served as the committee for the dinner.

We also were grateful for the brief appearance at the dinner of DON MILLER, one of the Four Horsemen, who dropped in with his son.

Plans are being made now for a golf stag.

—JIM WEBER, Secy

Central Florida

Universal Notre Dame Night was held Tuesday Night, April 24, in Orlando at the Cherry Plaza Hotel. Over 30 members and their wives from Central Florida attended. Our featured speaker was Dr. WILLIAM BURKE, Dean of Freshmen at the University, who gave us a talk on the new program for freshmen at the University. Rev. Vincent Smith, Editor of the Florida Catholic, talked about the value and standards of education at Catholic Col-leges, and praised local Notre Dame Alumni for their individual efforts in parish activities: Mr. Ed. McDonald, Director of Procurement at Martin Co., Orlando, also was a guest speaker. JIM MAHONEY was Toastmaster.

—W. H. RICKE, Secy

Chicago

Those members who attended the St. Patrick's Party, Communion Breakfast and Universal Notre Dame Night will realize, I think, that 1962 seems to be the year of extra special events. So get your clubs ready for the big golf outing at Elmhurst Country Club on Monday, Aug. 6. Our new starting system eliminates long waits at the first tee, and we promise another calorie-laden dinner and fast-moving program.

From comments received after UND Night, it seems that this year's steak dinner and all-ND program scored a big hit. There was an air of excitement in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House that night because BILL MAHONEY, president of the National Alumni Board and our main speaker, received his appointment as ambassador to Ghana from President Kennedy that morning. "Mr. Ambassador" gave a sparkling talk that will long be remembered. All of us in the Windy City certainly wish one of Notre Dame's most famous sons the very best in his new post.

THOMAS H. BEACON, '20, member of the University's board of lay trustees and prominent Chicagoan, received the club's "Man of the Year" award at the dinner. Mr. Beacon, nationally famous banker and long devoted to his alma mater, received a standing ovation from the gathering.

DR. JOHN W. TAYLOR, executive director for educational television station WTTW (Channel 11), accepted the club's "Decency in Entertainment" award on behalf of his "executive team." The award, which is now in its third year, already is becoming one of the most coveted honors among radio and television people in the Chicago area.

Alumni Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG, president of the anti-Metrecal club, gave us an up-to-the-minute rundown on the Notre Dame of 1962. FATHER JOHN WALSH, head of the Foundation, thanked Chicago and its alumni for a fine performance in the "Challenge" program.

GEORGE CONNOR, '48, former ND All-American and Chicago Bears captain, was a smooth quarterback for the evening's program. CLIFF NOONAN, '24, a close personal friend of Bill Mahoney, introduced the Ambassador. Father John Van Wolvear, assistant principal of Notre Dame High School, gave the invocation.

Retiring president JOE PAGLIARI, '53, turned the gavel over to JACK BARRY, '43, partner in the law firm of Rothschild, Hart, Stevens and Barry. EDWARD GARVEY, '08, will be honorary president of the club for 1962-63. ART CONRAD, '35, president of the Heritage Foundation and director of Traffic Education and Safety for the City of Chicago, is first vice president; PAUL FULLMER, '55, assistant to the president of the Lawrence H. Selz public relations firm, second vice president; BERT METZGER, '31, associate director of the Bowman Dairy Co., secretary; and PAT SHANNON, '48, attorney and tax consultant, treasurer.

New governors of the club include: JIM ALLAN, '28, second vice-president of Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Co.; JOE ARCHIBALD, JR., '50, advertising manager of Jefferson Electric Co.; JOE DELLA MARIA, '27, general superintendent of Nash Brothers Construction Co.; JERRY GATTO, '36, owner of Executive Consulting Services, Inc.; ANTHONY GIROLAMI, '43, Clerk of the Probate Court of Cook County; ED MORAN, '34, president of Moran Supply Co.; and LEN SKOGLUND, '38, president of Scully-Jones International.

In addition to the above, other members of the board of governors are: TERRY BRENNAN, '49; DICK BURKE, '55; CHUCK FALKENBERG, JR., '52; JOHN FOGARTY, '49; FRED CORE, '43; JIM MALOOLI, '55; JOE MERRION, '20; ED MIESZKOWSKI, '46; FRANK MURANE, '49; CLIFF NOONAN, '24; FRANK O'DOWD, '42; BILL REYNOLDS, '54; KEN SCHUSTER, '49; JOE ZWERS, '38, and immediate past president JOE PAGLIARI.

—PAUL FULLMER, '55, Secy

Cincinnati

The University of Notre Dame Alumni Association of Greater Cincinnati recognizes as Man of the Year ALBERT E. HEEKIN, JR., who has, by his unusual participation as a friend of Notre Dame, greatly helped the University in its efforts to meet the present-day challenges of higher education.

Cleveland

The Rockne Memorial Mass and Family Breakfast was held Sunday, April 1, 1962, at Immaculate Conception Church, the pastorate of our Chaplain Father Bernard Blatt. Chairman of this year's event was LEO J. BURBY, past president of the Cleveland Club, who is to be congratulated on the successful turnout of Alumni and Guests. DAN DUFFY, Toastmaster, introduced the guest speaker, Father Tom Brennan, who gave us a colorful and informative talk on a few of the "greats" of Notre Dame.

Highlight of the day was the Annual Man of the Year Award Presentation by JAMES P. COLLIER, AN, recipient of last year's Award, to FRANCIS M. PAYNE, Attorney at Law.

Colorado Springs

Last November 21 we had our annual business meeting at the El Paso Club, Colorado Springs, at which time we reviewed the first year of our being, took up dues from those present and made plans for the coming year. We appointed Captain MALHAM M. WAKIN, '52, assistant professor of philosophy at the United States Air Force Academy, to head a committee for Universal Communion Sunday, December 10, 1961. He and his fellow Notre Dame professors at the Academy, Captain OTTO HILBERT, '54, and Major KELLY COOK, '47, made all the arrangements for the Mass which was celebrated by our Club Chaplain, Very Rev. MONSIGNOR ROBERT F. HOFFMAN, pastor, St. Mary's Parish, Colorado Springs, at the Academy Community Center Catholic Chapel. In attendance along with about twenty of the Club members and their families were Brigadier General Robert F. McDermott, USAF, dean of the faculty at the Academy, Mrs. McDermott and their daughters. A brunch followed the 10 o'clock Mass at the Academy Officers' Club at which Club Vice-President William G. Hearn, '27, presided in the absence of yours truly, who was in Rochester, Minnesota, with Mrs. Donelan, who has been very ill for almost two years now.

Universal Notre Dame Night was held at the El Paso Club, Colorado Springs on the evening of May 3, 1962. It was not a large turnout but an enthusiastic one. We had about twenty in all counting the wives. Our speaker for the evening was Chaplain (Colonel) Stephen J. O'Connor, USAF, Chief of the Chaplain Corps at the Air Force Academy. Father O'Connor's topic was "The Religious Life of the Air Force Academy Cadet." It was most interesting and inspiring. It is good to know that the Cadets at the Air Force Academy are receiving strict training in religion, regardless of Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, or no faith represented within the Cadet Wing. During the course of the evening the Club presented Captain MAL WAKIN its Man of the Year Award for his outstanding contributions at the Academy to many areas of Catholic Action. Mal headed up a committee at the Academy to produce a "Living Rosary" during last October. All of the Catholic families assigned to the school participated. The children held lighted candles representing the beads of the five decades of the Rosary. It was a beautiful thing to behold. Then, as recounted above, Mal got together our Communion Sunday in December. During the period between April 17 and April 24, 1962, Mal worked very hard on a Seminar at the Academy in which there were three sections, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish. Outstanding men from each Faith were brought to the Academy to address the particular sections.

Our own FATHER CHARLES E. SHEEDY, C.S.C., Dean of the College of Arts and Letters at Notre Dame, was selected to address the Cadet Wing Philosophy students giving the Catholic side of the general topic, "The Ethics of the Various Religions." Mal rounded up about sixteen of us for luncheon with Father Sheedy at the Academy Officers' Club on Tuesday the 25th of April. Again, General McDermott was our guest.

—WM. J. DONELAN, JR., Pres.

Columbus

The Notre Dame Club of Columbus celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night on April 28 with a dinner at Presutti's Villa. Eighty-seven alumni, wives, and friends of the University attended. ART ULRICH, '48, chairman of the event, obtained the services of smiling JACK GORDON, '42, as M.C. and Judge John Duffey, presiding judge of our court of appeals, as principal speaker. Judge Duffey spoke on the encyclical, "Mater et Magistra."

Retiring president RICHARD KASBERG, '48, whose vigorous leadership rejuvenated the club this year, gave a characteristically modest farewell talk in which he thanked many of the members for their help. Dick paid special tribute to the retiring officers. JOHN FLENTZ, '57, vice president; PAT TONTI, '51, secretary; and MIKE CANTWELL, '58, treasurer. Dick also noted the fine work of AL RITCHER, '51, on the Christmas dance; AL EICHENLAUB on the football special to the Northwestern game; MARTY WEIDEMAN, who was publicity man, chairman of the Communion breakfast, and jack-of-all-trades; DR. TOM HUGHES, '38, who was chairman of the general appeal phase of our Foundation drive; JOHN IGOE, '28, our college night representative and chairman of the Foundation special gifts committee; ED CANTWELL, '24, who handled prospective student interviews; BOB KOSYDAR, '53, and JACK DILENSCHNEIDER, '53, of the Joyce scholarship committee; KEN MEYERS, '40, our Blatz distributor and perennial refreshment committee head; GUIDO ALEXANDER, '44, who catered the fall picnic, and ART ULRICH, chairman for Universal Notre Dame Night.

Incoming president BOB KOSYDAR introduced his new staff of officers: Vice-president MIKE SCANLON, '54, Secretary JACK DILENSCHNEIDER, and Treasurer DON WEILAND, '52, and announced that in addition to the normal club events, some new projects would be undertaken in the coming year including the publication of a club directory and the presentation of a high school football trophy.

"Early bird" prizes were awarded to those who made reservations before chairman ART ULRICH got ulcers, a date which Art previously announced would be a week before the event. Winners of ladies' hats from "Susie's Smart Shoppe" operated by HERM BITTNER, '24, were Bonnie Murphy, wife of JOHN MURPHY, '28, BOB KOLOPUS, '58, and Irish JOHN MURPHY himself. John declined a second lady's hat for the family and JOHN DEBITETTO, '41, won it on the redraw. Prizes donated by JIM CARROLL, importer of beverages, were won by student JOHN GLOCKNER, Mary Flentz, Mary Kolopus, Mrs. Glockner, wife of ALEXANDER GLOCKNER, '27, and GARY HALL. Boxes of ladies' shoes donated by HERM BITTNER were won by guest Bob Stricker, MARTY WEIDEMAN, DR. TOM HUGHES, guest Jess Howard, KEN MEYERS, JOHN FLENTZ, JACK GORDON, AL EICHENLAUB, Molly Ulrich, and JOHN RYAN. JACK CANNON, '30, owner of "Cannon's Flower Cart," donated candles won by PAT TONTI, PHIL CAREY, '40, and PHIL REGAN. Jack also donated table mats won by Mrs. Carol Kasberg, Tom Hughes, Jr., DON WEILAND and student GEORGE HUGHES. Mrs. Al Eichenlaub won a bottle cover and Judge Duffey won another dinner at Presutti's Villa.

Other alumni in attendance were TOM CANTWELL, '53, PAT CANTWELL, '52, T. J. FRER-

COLORADO SPRINGS — Capt. Malham M. Wakin (right), philosophy professor at the U.S. Air Force Academy, is presented a scroll as N.D. Man of the Year by Chaplain (Col.) Stephen J. O'Connor of the Academy at U.N.D. Night of the Colorado Springs Club, of which Bill Donelan (center) is president.

ICKS, AL FRERICKS, DR. JOE HUGHES, '31, CHARLIE WEILBACHER, '40, DAVE HAGANS, '55, LEO KLETZLY, '30, DICK DILLON, '32, GEORGE BLUBAUGH, '53, TOM ROCHE, '39, ED REGAN, CHARLES McMILLAN and JIM MONROE.

—JOHN DILENSCHNEIDER, '53, Secy

Connecticut Valley

The Notre Dame Club of the Connecticut Valley celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night at the Carriage Drive in Hamden with an attendance of more than 200 alumni. THOMAS B. CURRY, a Hartford attorney, received the annual Man of the Year award.

Dallas

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated April 26 at the Holiday Inn with REV. GLENN BOARMAN, C.S.C., as guest from the University. Approximately 120 alumni and friends were in attendance.

WALTER L. FLEMING, past president of the Alumni Association, received the annual Man of the Year award from chairman HAL TEHAN. Other speakers included Bishop Gorman, of the Dallas Diocese, and MARTY O'CONNOR, the outgoing president, who introduced the new club officers: DICK LAJOIE, President; DON HARRIS, Vice-President; MARK TOLLE, Secretary; and FRED EICHORN, Treasurer.

Dayton

Universal Notre Dame Night was observed with a dinner in the Van Cleve Hotel, May 7. DR. JOHN J. KANE, head of the Sociology Department, spoke on "Better Understanding between Christians and Jews."

DR. LOU HALEY, retiring president and toastmaster at the dinner, received the club's award as Dayton's Notre Dame Man of the Year.

ED SHEA, who is retiring as vice-president of the national Alumni Association and member of the board of directors, received a special plaque in recognition of his distinguished service to the alumni and the University. Ed announced at the dinner that the Dayton Challenge Drive, of which he is chairman, had been successful in meeting its quota.

New officers of the Dayton club are: President, WALT GRADY; President-Elect, PAT FOLEY; Secretary, JOHN DEFANT; and Treasurer, DREW AMAN. New members of the Board of Directors are GEORGE PFLAUM, JR., ROCKNE MORRISSEY, and LOU HALEY.

—JOHN DEFANT, Secy

Dearborn

A general meeting was held at the home of RICHARD KING on April 13, 1962, with the following newly elected officers presiding: RICHARD KING, President; EUGENE WAGNER, Vice-President; and GEORGE BALL, Secy-Treas.

The annual St. Patrick's Day Party was held at Warren Valley Golf Club, with GEORGE TOBIN as chairman of the event.

A schedule of club activities for 1962-63 was passed out to members. Plans were also discussed for the annual Communion breakfast to be held on May 20, at St. Bernadette's Church.

—GEORGE C. BALL, Secy-Treas.

Decatour

Out of the night on a late, late train appeared a star of alma mater. Claiming a lesser magnitude than reflected in a well-edited speech, our star made his delivery and forthwith invited questions. Wow! His response to questions both hot and varied stretched our imaginations. Had we been on campus we couldn't have envisioned more clearly an institution 120 years young. Thus did JOHN LAUGHLIN, managing editor of the ALUMNUS, keynote Universal Notre Dame Night in Decatur, Illinois, May 2, 1962, MILTON BEAUDINE, '54, chairman.

Our secretary, RICH McDONALD, '56, was unable to be present so our president, GEORGE H. HUBBARD, JR., '54, asked that we review above in preview our next meeting. Actually, it was a rally around the flag of the 19th hole of the country club of Decatur, June 19. Mulligan time was 1 p.m. and for those who refused to march shoulder to shoulder into the rough, 3:30 p.m., at the clubhouse, there was golf, cocktails, dinner and, traditionally, no speaker. We didn't need one. Only in Brooklyn are there more vocal (if not actual) authorities on Notre Dame football. We're constantly seeking new material from Central Illinois and the United States and Texas (Larry Kelly, please note). So if you were of the spirit, this was the mundane of infidels and you joined the mundane "what though the odds . . ."

—STEVE GRALIER

Denver

The Denver Club had a wonderful Universal Notre Dame Night dinner-dance at the Pinehurst Country Club. A social hour and prime rib dinner was followed by an interesting program at which FATHER PHILIP MOORE, Academic Assistant to the President, was the main speaker. The public responsibility theme of this year's tribute, especially as regards helping one's school and helping those who also desire a higher education, was emphasized by the attendance of representatives from Regis, Colorado and Denver Universities. D.U. was also the recipient of a Ford Foundation Grant, and Francis S. Van Derbur, noted Denver businessman and General Alumni Fund Chairman for D.U., spoke on the theme of helping one's school.

Notre Dame's need for additional student aid money was highlighted by the presentation of two Denver Club scholarships and by the recognition of the award of an $8,000 G.M. Scholarship through Notre Dame to Tom O'Hayre who was in the 99.5 percentile in the College Board Examinations. The Denver Club scholarship winners were John (Jay) Geiger of Walsenburg, Colorado, and George (Tony) LeMaire of Denver. The boys and their parents were honored at this time. GERRY SMITH, '27, reported that the Denver Club had achieved 120 per cent of its Alumni Fund goal but some alumni still had to send in their pledge cards. The Governor and Archbishop at the last minute were unable to attend. A report was also made of the loan of money by the Club to a worthy junior at school who had exhausted other resources.

The new club officers and directors were introduced as a finale. They are: ROBERT ZEIS, '55, President; JIM COUGHLIN, '57, Vice-President; MIKE HALLIGAN, '52, Treasurer; and JOHN SCHEIBELHUT, '52, Secretary. Directors are: CARL EIBERGER, '52 and '54, GENE BLISH, '54, TOM CURRIGAN, '41, and JIM SHEEHAN, '50.

The Chairman of this event was outgoing President, CARL EIBERGER, assisted by BOB ZEIS and the reservations committee: Mrs. Joyce Baier, Mrs. Barbara Moran whose husband John, '52, is running for the State House of Representatives, Lois Zeis, and Margarette and Madeleine Eiberger.

The last Discussion Club of the year listened to an interesting talk by Father Francis Malechek, noted authority on the subject of "Natural Law."

Election of officers was held at the March business meeting with the results indicated above.

In February a large turnout enjoyed a tour of the Coors Brewery which actually consisted of dancing, entertainment, movies, prizes and a buffet in addition to the tour. The Club during the last two years has had a major function every six weeks in addition to Discussion Club meetings about every two months and the monthly luncheons.

The Scholarship Committee had a very difficult job this year because of the high number and excellence of the applicants. It was so difficult that two awards were given for the first time in the Club's history. The school helped by giving an award to a third applicant. The Scholarship Committee also did the screening for the admissions office. These hard-working people were ART GREGORY, '35, and CARL EIBERGER, Co-Chairmen; TOM KLENE, '49, JOHN MORAN, CHUCK BAIER, '51, TOM CURRIGAN and MSGR. GEORGE EVANS, '44.

—CARL F. EIBERGER, Pres.

Des Moines

On April 28, 1962, the Notre Dame Club of Des Moines celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a banquet at Hotel Fort Des Moines. The Notre Dame track team with coach ALEX WILSON, in Des Moines for the Drake Relays, were honored guests. Father FRANCIS O. NEALY, associate professor of theology at the University, was principal speaker.

The annual award of Man of the Year was given by the club to JOSEPH E. WHALEN, prominent layman and civic leader in Des Moines. Mr. Whalen is manager of Hotel Fort Des Moines. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1929 with a B.S. Degree. He has served as a Director of the University of Notre Dame Alumni Association.

Among alumni attending, with their wives, were ROBERT E. DREY, '55, JOSEPH BISIGNANO, '59, THOMAS J. NOLAN, '54, HAROLD P.

ERIE — Universal Notre Dame Night was a family affair in Erie, Pa., with his wife and two alumni sons present to congratulate the Club's choice as 1962 N.D. Man of the Year: (from left) Richard T. McCormick, '55; John J. McCormick, Sr., holding his award; wife Frances and son John J. McCormick, Jr., '53.

KLEIN, PAUL EIDE, '52, JOSEPH E. WHALEN, '29, JOE JOYCE, '54, JAMES DINNEN, JOSEPH CASEY, JAMES BOESEN, '54, JOHN CORCORAN, JAMES BISIGNANO, '61, ANTHONY CRITELLI, '52, and DONALD BOSS.

Guest alumnus was DANIEL (JAKE) NOONAN, Sioux City, Iowa. Master of ceremonies was ANTHONY CRITELLI and student present was John Corcoran, Jr.

Other alumni contributing to the evening were JAMES C. SHAW, FREDERICK G. NEU, BEN CONDON, ROBERT BEH and CARLETON BEH, JR.

On May 2, 1962, JIM BISIGNANO and JOE JOYCE showed the movie, "Notre Dame," to the Dowling High School juniors.

—JOSEPH B. JOYCE, Secy

Detroit

On Tuesday night, May 8, at the Latin Quarter, the Detroit Club celebrated the 39th Annual Universal Notre Dame Night. Edward L. Cushman, vice-president of American Motors and director of the company's public relations department, was a guest speaker, as well as FATHER JOHN E. WALSH, director of the University of Notre Dame Foundation, and EDWARD "MOOSE" KRAUSE as toastmaster. Mr. Cushman brought his broad and diversified background in management and labor relations to bear on the social problems discussed in the Encyclical "Mater et Magistra." C.M. VERBIEST was chairman.

The Annual Golf Outing was held on Tuesday, June 26, at the beautiful Western Golf and Country Club, scene of recent Motor City and Western Championship tournaments. A wonderful day of golf and swimming was climaxed by dinner at the clubhouse. FATHER WALSH, "MOOSE" KRAUSE, JOE KUCHARICH and FATHER JEROME WILSON, vice-president of the University for business affairs, were among those invited.

Erie

Universal Notre Dame Night was held in Erie on Monday, April 30. REV. RICHARD O. POORMAN, C.S.C., assistant to Father Hesburgh, was our campus guest and speaker. Msgr. Wilfred J. Nash, President of Gannon College, also joined with us in the celebration and gave a short talk. JOHN J. MCCORMICK was honored as the "Man of the Year" for 1962. John is the father of JOHN J. JR., '53, RICHARD T., '55, and PATRICK MCCORMICK, presently a Sophomore at Notre Dame. Another son, Tim, also attended Notre Dame.

Among those in attendance for the affair which was enjoyed by all were Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT BARBER, '40, Mr. and Mrs. HOWARD ESSICK, '41, BOB WINSCHER, '51, Mr. and Mrs. RICH MCCORMICK, '55, Mr. and Mrs. JIM DWYER, '37, Mr. and Mrs. BOB LUKES, '49, BOB WESCHLER, '30, Dr. and Mrs. ROBERT ROCHE, '31, Mr. and Mrs. CHUCK DEGER, '55, Mr. and Mrs.

LARRY STADLER, '28, Mr. and Mrs. BILL GRANT, '45, HERB KERN, '54, Mr. and Mrs. LEO BRUGGER, '34, Mr. and Mrs. TOM GALLAGHER, '55, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN LOCHTEFELD, '55, TOM BATES, '60, and Barbara DeSantis, ED KERN, '56, FRANK RILEY and Mary Therese McCormick, daughter of the Man of the Year, Mr. and Mrs. HOOT SCULLY, Mr. and Mrs. JACK BERTGES, and Mr. and Mrs. HANK ANGELLOTTI. TONY ZAMBROSKI, '52, president of the club, and JOE BARBER, '56, chairman of the affair, are to be commended for the splendid affair. Also on the committee were LARRY STADLER, '28, ED KERN, '56, and BOB LUKES, '49.

JOHN JORDAN, Notre Dame basketball coach, was in Erie, May 8, to speak at the Gannon College Sports banquet. The affair was taken in by many Notre Dame alumni. Coach Jordan was well received by all in Erie and the banquet goers all seemed to enjoy immensely Jordan's talk. TOM BATES, '60, publicity director at Gannon College, was instrumental in getting Jordan to come to Erie and Tom is quite elated that Gannon will be playing Notre Dame in South Bend February 13, 1963. RICH MCCORMICK, '55, and MIKE MCCORMICK, '61, are already talking about going to Notre Dame for the game.

HOWARD ESSICK, '41, was pleased to meet HOOT SCULLY (father of 5 sets of twins) at the Universal Notre Dame Night shindig. Howard's Notre Dame roommate, MARTY SHEA, '41, married Hoot's sister and Hoot and Essick had never met before although both have been long-time residents of Erie. JOE BLAKE, '61, is working as a field engineer for the Federal government at the present time. He is planning to go to graduate school in the fall. MIKE MCCORMICK, '61, is also planning graduate work in the fall at the University of Buffalo. DR. ROCK MARTEL, '59, who has been in Erie only a short time, is getting well acquainted around the club and around the city. TOM GALLAGHER, '55, recently moved into his new home. Our club lost two officers recently when RAY LEGLER, '57, and BILL DWYER, '53, moved out of town. Ray moved to Pittsburgh and Bill to Chicago. TONY ZAMBROSKI, '52, moved up from Vice-President to take Ray's place, and JOHN J. MCCORMICK, JR., '53, is filling out the rest of Bill's term.

LARRY STADLER, '28, is looking fit as a fiddle. He spends a lot of time training his champion dogs and is always, it seems, at another dog show. RON SHUBERT, '61, is enjoying a respite from his medical studies this summer. JIM EHRMAN, '61, presently taking graduate work in Electrical Engineering at Notre Dame, is working at the Erie Resistor again this summer. LEO J. BRUGGER, JR., '61, presented Teresa Minadeo with an engagement ring March 23. Many of the local alumni are looking forward to the annual picnic at the summer home of LEO J. BRUGGER, SR., '34. It looks like both Leos will be busy shortly with the finishing up of mortuary school for Leo, Jr., and his forthcoming marriage. TOM BURICK, '58, became the proud father of number 5 last April. It was a boy again, and Tom and Jane now have four boys and one girl. DICK DALEY, '53, dropped into Erie from Chicago with his wife, son and daughter for a short visit recently. NORB "GOOTCH" LEWINSKI, '53, captain of the '52-'53 basketball club, his wife, Irene, and two daughters spent a week with Mickey and JOHN J. MCCORMICK, JR., '53. "Gootch" is now living in St. Louis.

JOHN LOCHTEFELD, '55, had quite a spread in the Erie Daily Times last spring. He had painted the murals in the new dormitory at Mercyhurst College where he is teaching in the art department. TOM BARBER, '24, is managing to get a little time off from his legal practice to tour the links this summer. RICH MCCORMICK, '55, is another who gets the golf gear out and plays 18 every chance he gets. LEW SHIOLENO, '49, is doing a good job on the Prep School Interview Committee here in Erie. Prospective students are really enthused about Notre Dame after talking to Lew. LEO CARNEY, '50, is really proud of his son, Timmy, who was given a trophy as the outstanding player on his junior high basketball team. PHIL HAGGERTY, '53, is among those happy to hear the news of the ordination last May 19 of MIKE MCKINSTRAL also of the class of 1953. Mike was ordained in Freeport, Illinois. ROBERT BARBER, '40, enjoyed a get-together with Coach Jordan while he was in town. JACK DAUT, '52, is with General Telephone in Erie. DICK CONSIDINE, '58, is enjoying a rest from his Penn State studies. BILL GRANT, '45, now selling insurance, is with Penn Mutual. FATHER JOE HIPPI, '49, is back in town this summer after being away studying. HERB KERN, '54, and family recently moved into their just-finished new home. GEORGE MEAD, '27, is looking forward optimistically to Notre Dame's football season. JOSEPH STADLER, '53, and wife, Nancy, recently welcomed their fourth child. JACK YOUNG, '51, has been having quite a little back trouble lately. BILL O'BRIEN, '34, and family are spending the summer at their home on Edinboro Lake again this year. CHUCK DEGER, '55, claims ED KERN, '56, will take the prize for high score at the annual golf outing this year but Ed denies it saying he's safe as long as Chuck is in the tournament.

—JOHN J. McCORMICK, JR., Secy

Flint

The annual meeting of the Flint Club was held at Cromer's Restaurant, May 9, 1962. Our President, LARRY SAXE, reported on the club activities during the year. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, WALTER NAGEL; Vice-President, Dr. WM. MACKSOOD; Vice-President, T. GERALD RANDALL; Secretary-Treasurer, JAMES RHADIGAN; Directors, VICTOR GEORGE, Dr. DAN SHEERAN, LARRY SAXE and TED MANOUR.

Committee Chairmen of activities were appointed and plans were made for a joint excursion with the Saginaw Valley Club to the N.D.-Michigan State game next fall.

—JERRY RANDALL, Retiring Secy-Treas.

Fort Lauderdale

The St. Patrick's Day Party of the Notre Dame Club of Fort Lauderdale was a huge success. Charlie Spivak and his orchestra provided the music for 220 Notre Dame friends and guests. The party started with a very lovely dinner prepared by the Governor's Club Hotel and, of course, green дерbies, clay pipes, shillelaghs, and the like were available in quantities sufficient for every guest. Dancing and entertainment followed dinner, and an Irish Jig contest was held and won by the lovely Irish wife of our Associate Member M. G. SANCHEZ.

The regular business meeting held on April 12, 1962, at the Governor's Club Hotel at which 33 members were present and enjoyed a very lovely Roast Long Island Duck Dinner complete with wine and all the trimmings. Our local member, PAT DADDEO, introduced his guest, MIKE GRAINEY, '60, who was in the Fort Lauderdale area enjoying some of our sunshine. Mike gave us a little insight into university life at present and recalled some of his memories as captain of the 1959-60 basketball team. WILLARD MOSS, our Foundation chairman, reported that the Notre Dame Club of Fort Lauderdale had pledged to date 118 per cent of its quota for the foundation and all members are duly pleased with the results of our local drive.

The Annual Florida Notre Dame Convention was held in Palm Beach on April 27, 28, and 29, and with the attendance of approximately 20 of our local members, the affair was a great success. FATHER JOYCE of the University was the honored guest at the Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner held at the convention and all those attending will long have pleasant memories of this fine week end.

As is our biannual custom, a directory of all members of the Notre Dame Club of Fort Lauderdale will be printed in the near future. The directory will list names, addresses, business associations, etc., of all regular, honorary, and associate members. Any Notre Dame friend throughout the nation desiring a copy of our directory is most welcome to it. If they would simply send their name and address requesting the directory to our club, we will be most happy to send one to them by return mail.

The Notre Dame Glee Club was in the Fort Lauderdale area over the Easter vacation and we were very honored to hear them sing at the 9:00 a.m. Mass on Easter Sunday at St. Anthony's Church. TOM WALKER, '42, was local chairman for Glee Club arrangements. Our congratulations go to Tom for a job well done.

We are eagerly looking forward to our giant 4th of July party to be held this year at the Palm-Aire Country Club in Pompano Beach. This will be a full day event consisting of golf, swimming, supervised activities for the children, and fireworks at night. We will have a barbecued steer for dinner and with the very attractive prices made available to us by GEORGE McFADDEN, President of Palm-Aire, we are quite certain a huge turnout will be guaranteed.

Tentative plans for the summer call for an August meeting honoring FRANK BUDKA, our local member whom all Notre Dame followers will be watching next Fall and at this time we hope to kick-off our annual football raffle for the benefit of the foundation. This year's raffle prize will be two tickets, round trip plane fare, and hotel reservations for both the Michigan State game at Notre Dame on October 20 and the Northwestern game at Evanston on October 27. We certainly anticipate it to be a great success. We always consider it a great opportunity to be able to offer such a fine prize to enable us all to see the team play each and every year.

That's it for this time, but as always the welcome mat is out for all Notre Dame friends whenever in the Fort Lauderdale area.

—DON DORINI, '53, Secy

Fort Wayne

JEROME J. O'DOWD, '41, LL.B. '42, city attorney of Fort Wayne, Ind., was selected as Notre Dame Man of the Year at the Fort Wayne Club's observance of Universal Notre Dame Night May 10 at the Orchard Ridge Country Club.

Commissioned a Navy officer at Notre Dame, Jerry saw action as a landing craft commander in the W. W. II Pacific campaign, winning the Navy Cross, Silver Star and various unit citations for his exploits on Iwo Jima, Tinian and Guam. Former Democratic city chairman, he was a former state officer of the Young Democrats and helped to found Fort Wayne's Naval training center.

President ROBERT LUTHER officiated at the dinner, and the guest speaker was BOB CAHILL, athletic ticket manager at Notre Dame and president of the Notre Dame Club of the St. Joseph Valley.

Greater Miami

The Miami Club, besides participating in the Notre Dame State Convention in Palm Beach, held its own Universal Notre Dame Night dinner-dance at the Miami Shores Country Club on May 1.

DR. WILLIAM M. BURKE, new dean of freshmen at the University, was a guest speaker from the campus. DR. WILLIAM J. McSHANE, Club president, of Coral Gables, presided at the affair, and JAMES A. SMITH, former president, was honored as Notre Dame Man of the Year. He received his award from CHARLES E. MAHER, another former president, now chairman of the Board of Directors of the Notre Dame Club of Greater Miami.

Houston

On April 25, 1962, the Houston Alumni Club celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night at the River Oaks Country Club. Father GLENN BOARMAN journeyed from the campus to dine with the club members and the wives and to address the group. TOM BRENNAN was awarded the plaque as the Houston Notre Dame Man-of-the-Year.

The Club took the occasion of the Universal Notre Dame Night gathering to announce the new list of officers only recently elected and the balloting completed a few days before the party. The roster of new officers includes AL DeCRANE as President, TED POWERS, Vice-President, with RALPH SAUER and DAVID MILLER continuing in their roles as Secretary and Treasurer respectively. The Houston Club is honored by a most active auxiliary club which works very closely with the men's organization, and the new officers of that club were also announced at the UND Night Party.

The DeCrane household will be extra busy since Joan DeCrane will lead the ladies' auxiliary for the coming year, assisted by Rita Metyko, Vice-President, Yvonne Powers, Treasurer, Helen Patterson, Corresponding Secretary, and Connie Linbeck, Recording Secretary.

Outgoing President GEORGE McHALE, showered with congratulations for an excellent performance during the past year, will continue in active service as a member of the joint group advisory council. He will serve along with Man-of-the-Year, Tom Brennan, and outgoing auxiliary President, Patti Ruth Linbeck.

—RALPH SAUER, Secy

Indianapolis

Universal Notre Dame night was observed Wednesday, April 25 with a dinner held at the Indianapolis Athletic Club ballroom. A record crowd of 350 persons heard head football coach JOE KUCHARICH as featured speaker. KARL F. JOHNSON, prominent industrialist and current Indiana governor of the Notre Dame Foundation, was named the club's N.D. Man of the Year. A surprise award of a lifetime club membership was made to THOMAS FITZGERALD, SR., long time Notre Dame booster, whose own ambition of attending Notre Dame was never realized but who saw a fulfillment of this ambition in the education of his five sons at the University. President WILLIAM S. SAHM closed out one of the club's most successful years in history by announcing the sum of $3,500.00 had been raised for the Scholarship Fund by club activities during the past twelve months.

The club elected as new President, DR. PAUL F. MULLER, '37, whose practice in Obstetrics includes the delivery of Notre Dame sons and daughters at a near-record clip. Other officers elected include TOM O'BRIEN, '53, Vice-President, and CHARLES G. WAGNER, '54, Secretary. GEORGE F. USHER, '45, was recently named permanent Executive Secretary. RICHARD K. OWENS, '42, was again rewarded for his many hours as Currency Commissioner by being re-elected unopposed to the post of Treasurer. New directors named were JOSEPH FITZGERALD, '44, WILLIAM McGOWAN, '57, immediate past President SAHM, '51, and FRANCIS B. QUINN, '42. Quinn is unquestionably the king of the club's baby derby with the recent birth of their thirteenth child, a boy, who was immediately tabbed by his father for a quarterback assignment in 1982-83.

Fresh from political victories in the May 8 primary elections, JOHN I. BRADSHAW, '53, and JAMES C. WELCH, '50, now are preparing their campaigns for election to the offices of State Senator and County Clerk respectively.

—CHARLES G. WAGNER, Secy

Kansas City

Our thirty-ninth annual Universal Notre Dame night was celebrated, Monday, April 23, at the Herford House in Kansas City, Missouri.

EDWARD "MOOSE" KRAUSE, the Athletic Director, was the principal speaker, and his inspirational Notre Dame theme included an optimistic prognostication regarding the football prospect for the coming year. JIM SCHAAF, who is very active in the Kansas City Athletic organization, was a speaker as also was JIM COONEY of the Foundation. RUSS FARRELL gave a financial report covering Kansas City's progress in the "Challenge Program" and ED AYLWARD presented Jim Cooney, the University representative, with a cashier's check for $16,300.00 to be applied toward our "Challenge" goal. We in Kansas City are proud, justifiably so we feel, of our progress to date in the program but will not rest on our laurels.

DAYTON — Head table for 1962 Universal Notre Dame Night in May at the Van Cleve Hotel included (l.-r.) Edmund W. (Red) Shea, retiring national vice-president and director; Msgr. Martin T. Gilligan, pastor of Sacred Heart Church; Dr. and Mrs. Louis M. Haley, retiring president of the Dayton Club; Dr. John J. Kane, N.D. sociology head and guest speaker; and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aman, Jr., retiring treasurer.

The "Man of the Year" award was presented to JAMES P. METZLER for his contributions in time and effort to community projects. JIM HIGGINS, who presided at the event, introduced the honored member.

The only damper to the evening's festivities was an announcement in the form of a letter by JOHN MASSMAN of his retirement from the office of Club President. John indicated that because of the pressing requirements of his business, particularly the travel aspect, he could not devote the time to club activities which he believes would be necessary in order for him to continue in office. John has effectively, conscientiously and vigorously served the club so we regret the need for his resignation. Certainly, we're sure we can count on him for any assistance his time will allow and we intend to call upon him. First Vice-President JIM HIGGINS succeeds to the Presidency and HAROLD SOLOMON will move to First Vice-President. Both Jim and Harold have been very active in promoting Club affairs and we have every reason to expect an outstanding job from both in their new assignments.

—CARL B. ERFFMEYER, '51, Secy

DALLAS — U.N.D. Night Chairman Hal Tehan (left) and guest speaker Rev. Glenn Boarman, C.S.C., from the University, congratulate Walter Fleming, past president of the national Alumni Assn., honored by the University and the Dallas Club for his service to all Notre Dame men and to his community respectively.

Los Angeles Club, elected to a two-year term, are BOB GERVAIS, '53, President; ED FOX, '55, Vice-President; GENE CALHOUN, '33, Secretary-Treasurer; and JIM NEWMAN, '26, Assistant Secretary. Elected to three-year terms as directors are Dr. LEO TURGEON, '42, and JOE SCOTT, '52.

Before the dinner was officially closed with the saying of grace by REV. A. J. HEINZER, C.S.C., '41, of the Family Theatre of the Air, the participants had enjoyed, in addition to the program, a delicious prime rib dinner. The food and service were tops, factors no doubt insured by the presence of JOHN W. KIRSCH, '36, manager of the Hollywood-Roosevelt. Among the large turnout enjoying the evening were the following members of the Los Angeles Club: DICK BOWES, '38, Assistant Director of the N.D. Foundation; HON. JOSEPH GORMAN, '24; MIKE TARR, '51; GENE KENNEDY, '22; JACK SKEEHAN, '32; JOHN McQUADE; BOB NEWGARD, '48; "JUDGE" JOHN CARBERRY, '35; NORM HARTZER, '29; HAROLD HAYES, '23; JIM O'NEIL, '52; BOB HAINE, '52; TOM FOOTE, '52; Dr. DAVE CARTY, '52; Dr. BARKING FARMER, '53; DAVID BRANDON, '56; DAVE DAVIN, '58; and DICK MILLER, '61.

On Sunday, the day before our Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner, the dinner-goers were feted at a cocktail party in honor of Father Joyce at the home of GENE CALHOUN, '33, and his gracious wife, Veronica. As is usual with all our social functions hosted by the Calhouns, the party was a huge success; attributable, of course, to the proper ingredients, good food, good drinks, and good people.

The recent death of TOM LIEB, '24, was very sad news for local alumni. Tom was a great Rockne tackle while at Notre Dame and also distinguished himself as an Olympic track athlete. For many years, he was a highly successful football coach at Loyola University in Los Angeles before moving on to the head coaching position at the University of Florida. In recent years, Tom had resided in Los Angeles and taught high school mathematics. An active supporter of the Los Angeles Alumni Club, Tom's presence will certainly be missed at our local activities. He will, however, be remembered in our thoughts and prayers.

—ED FOX, '55, Vice-Pres.

Maine

The Notre Dame Club of Maine is now in the process of planning a summer outing. Our main activity this winter has been to stimulate giving to the Notre Dame Foundation, and now that the winter is over we are hopeful of a couple of summer activities.

Again we invite anyone visiting Maine to come off the Maine Turnpike at Exit 13 to visit us at Geiger Bros.

—RAY GEIGER, Secy

Mansfield

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated by the club at the Mansfield-Leland Hotel on April 30, 1962. JOHN D. IGOE, '28, made a very inspiring talk on the role of the Catholic layman.

The new officers for the coming year are DICK WALTER, '41, President; SHERRY COLEMAN, '46, Vice-President; JACK O'DONNELL, '51, Treasurer; and MARSHALL PRUNTY, '50, Secretary. A meeting is planned in the near future to coordinate activities for the coming year.

—M. E. PRUNTY, JR., Secy

McHenry County

Our Notre Dame Club of McHenry County observed its second Universal Notre Dame Night on Wednesday, May 9, at Martinetti's Restaurant in Crystal Lake and there were fifty-two members and guests present. Mr. ALFRED STEPAN of your Board of Lay Trustees was our special guest and main speaker. Mr. Stepan stressed at length the many nonathletic achievements of Notre Dame and did his usual outstanding job. Our club felt highly honored to have a man of his stature and I can assure you he was very well received by everyone. I think too that Al enjoyed himself as he is a former resident of Crystal Lake and met many old friends.

In the business portion of the meeting PAUL MCCONNELL of Woodstock and DICK FREUND of McHenry were elected Directors. Officers for the coming year are: PAUL MCCONNELL, President; DON FREUND of Crystal Lake, Vice-President; and TOM PARSLEY of Crystal Lake, Secretary-Treasurer.

—GEORGE COSTELLO, Retiring Pres.

Midland-Odessa

The Notre Dame Club of Midland-Odessa, Texas, celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner-dance at the Midland Country Club. Outgoing President BYRNE O'NEILL installed JOHN O'HERN of Odessa, as the new President and JOHN BUCKLEY of Midland, as the new Vice-President of the Club. Father Kennedy of Midland spoke on the value of a Catholic education in the world today.

Among those present were DR. VINCENT SHERROD of Odessa, TOM O'BRIEN of Lubbock, JIM JENNINGS of Roswell, New Mexico, and others from surrounding areas.

—BYRNE O'NEILL, Retiring Pres.

Mohawk Valley

The ND Alumni Club of the Mohawk Valley observed Universal ND Night with a dinner at the Beeches in Rome. Principal speaker was WILLIAM MURPHY, Assistant ND Foundation Director of the Eastern area of the country including New York, New Jersey and New England. We had two Man of the Year Awards. One was presented to VINCENT FLETCHER, '32, who was Chairman of the local ND $18 million Challenge Drive recently completed. Vince worked long and hard to spearhead an over-the-quota result. The other was presented to RICHARD TROSSET, '53, Club Vice-President who has been Chairman for several years of the area's Student Screening Committee. He spends countless hours each year on this activity. Chairman for the event was JOHN WHOEPLE, '53, local high school coach. REV. JOHN MADDEN, '54, gave the Invocation. Club President KENNETH MURPHY, '54, presented the awards. Club Treasurer GERALD BACHMAN, '52 and Secretary DANIEL CALLAN, '50, also were at the speakers' table.

—L. DANIEL CALLAN, Secy

Monroe

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of Monroe climaxed its annual Universal Notre Dame Night dinner meeting for members and wives with the announcement of Dr. JOHN J. LABOE, as the Notre Dame Man of the Year.

The program preceding the presentation was a sound movie narrated by the Rev. T. M. HESBURGH, explaining the Notre Dame Foundation program.

Special guests included Brother Ambrose Nowak, C.S.C., principal of Catholic Central High School; Ronald LaBeau, CC Senior, and his parents.

ROBERT H. MAURER, secretary of the club, was chairman of arrangements for the affair and introduced officers of the club as well as the program.

The plaque awarded to Dr. Laboe was given by the local club through the University in recognition of his efforts for his church, community and the Notre Dame program. Presentation was made by HUGH LAUGHNA, president.

Muskegon

We had a very fine gathering of about forty for the observance of Universal Notre Dame Night in Muskegon with STAN TYLER, JR., in charge.

We enjoyed having Mr. and Mrs. JOSEPH O'BRIEN as guests from the University and his talk was very inspiring and served to keep us in touch with the progress and spirit at the University.

Thomas Robinson, a Senior from Muskegon Catholic Central High School, was awarded a $400.00 scholarship to help him in his freshman year.

Our faithful and conscientious treasurer of many years, WILLIAM TARDANI, was named "Man of the Year."

—LEO L. LINCK, Secy

New Haven

Universal Notre Dame Night this year for the New Haven Club was held jointly with the Hartford, Bridgeport and Waterbury Clubs of Connecticut.

A crowd of nearly one hundred Irish was on hand to hear FATHER LOUIS THORNTON, C.S.C., our guest speaker from the Campus. At the meeting, President JACK KENIGAN, '49, presented the New Haven "Man of the Year" award to CHARLIE DUCHEY, '30, for his work with the Knights of Columbus and extensive participation in civic and youth activities.

Club officers for the coming year were announced. They are: President, BOB WARNER, '33; Vice-President, PHIL FAUST, '52; Treasurer, BERNIE PELLEGRINO, '57; and Secretary, JOHN CLARK, '58, who we hope will be released by Uncle Sam this August.

—PHIL FAUST, Treas.

New Jersey

The Thirty-ninth Annual Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated by the Notre Dame Club of New Jersey on April 30 at the Bow and Arrow Restaurant in West Orange, New Jersey.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all three hundred who were fortunate to be present. Our President, BRUCE DOLD, and BILL KIRCHNER, Master of Ceremonies, inaugurated a dinner dance for this celebrated occasion with great success. The cocktail party preceding dinner allowed many to say hello to those they haven't seen for years!

Our guest of honor and only speaker of the evening was the principal reason why everyone was delighted he had come. Our beloved and devoted President of Notre Dame, FATHER THEODORE M. HESBURGH, spoke in his usual brilliant manner, of the great challenges for a university in these modern times. He illustrated this theme by revealing his recent experience with a Peace Corps group in Chile. This group had been trained at Notre Dame last summer under the personal guidance of Father Hesburgh and his selected staff. The group represented many colleges and university students besides those from the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's. Father Hesburgh, during Easter week, visited these dedicated young men and women in Chile. There he witnessed their difficult challenges. His description and observations of their accomplishments gave each of us a deep appreciation and understanding of what is possible for youth to effect when properly motivated and educated in our modern universities today.

We, the faithful in attendance at this 39th Annual Universal Notre Dame Night in New Jersey, wish to thank you again, Father Hesburgh, Bill Kirchner and Bruce Dold for a night long to be remembered as a tribute to Notre Dame Men and their families everywhere.

—PETER F. REGAN, '54, Secy

New Mexico

The Club's annual Universal Notre Dame Night Observance was held May 1 at the Albuquerque Country Club. Guest speaker, JIM FRICK, Executive Director of the Foundation, gave an enthusiastic picture of the University's goals and accomplishments.

Other pleasing news concerned Father Butler, Alumnus, Club Chaplain and head of the Newman Center at the University of New Mexico, who recently was selected as National Chaplain of the Newman Apostolate in the United States.

Club President, FRANK HUDSON, is currently forming a Nominating Committee to arrange the succession. Next on the agenda is the annual picnic and thirst quencher and we'll see you all then.

—BILL HARVEY, '32, Secy

New York

U.N.D. night at the Park Lane Hotel was one of the most notable in years with stimulating and dynamic addresses by FATHER HESBURGH and Governor Nelson Rockefeller. A well deserved award as "Man of the Year" was given to JIM MACDEVITT, '33.

A golf outing was scheduled for June 28th at the Cherry Valley Country Club, with TOM EARLEY, '47, as chairman.

The Long Island division, under vice-president BILL GARTRELL, '54, scheduled a pool party for July 7 and a Square Dance for October.

The Westchester division has a pool party scheduled for July.

—GEORGE P. KRUG, '35, Secy

Northern California

The space between the golden dome and the golden gate narrowed in San Francisco Universal Notre Dame Night for the ND Club of Northern California. Two firsts were involved: the REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., was a first-time guest on UND Night here, and the Presidio officers' club provided the scenery for the first time. (Presidio: one of the nation's oldest and most beautiful military posts, with roots in Spanish days; now 6th Army headquarters.)

Father Joyce brought about 70 alumni and some 30 wives up to date on university progress in faculty, facilities, and Foundation. This was the first opportunity for bay area alumni to visit with Father Joyce since he represented ND at the pregame rally and game when the Cal series opened in '59 at Berkeley. The program offered a social hour, Father Joyce's talk, and a brief presentation of a university plaque to PAUL CUSHING, SR., '31, for his national alumni board service. FRANK (BODIE) ANDREWS added warmth to the presentation as a long-time friend.

Music with a humorous twist ended the observance here. BOB KARY'S volunteer group surprised the audience with professional skill despite their daytime backgrounds as engineers, physicists, salesmen — and even musicians.

In addition to Father Joyce, the South Bend staff was represented by RICHARD J. BOWES of the Foundation, a temporary coast resident in L. A. to keep western chairmen and door knockers knocking. (After some foot-dragging, we're doing better, and Dick's suggestions, experience, and direct help are appreciated. His real secret aid came along with him: Mrs. Bowes.)

KANSAS CITY — Campus guest Moose Krause (center), Irish athletic director, looks over a plaque awarded to James P. Metzler, '40 (left), selected as Notre Dame Man of the Year in Kansas City. The presentation was made by Club President Jim Higgins, '53 (right), at the K.C. Universal Notre Dame Night observance last April 23.

BILL and MARTY DALY made the long run from Sacramento to represent that club and to visit their former club associates here.

BILL MCGOWAN assumed the president's job of introductions. JOE KERNAN was chairman, backed up by JOE BOVIN and BILL HOBAN. BILL SHERMAN and ED MANSFIELD produced and distributed the baywide publicity. JOE CONCANNON maintained his tradition of awarding a case of Concannon wine — ranked with a good state's best. Beyond ND night, bay area news includes the headline that LAWRENCE T. (BUCK) SHAW still makes headlines. The retired coach, out on top with the Eagles in '60, made Santa Clara's new Hall of Fame and had their new football field named for him. . . . Last year at this time, the paper executive (Royal Container v-p) was ND Night headliner, with an unusual club plaque, a golden memory book of letters spanning his college and coaching years, and a campus personal salute from visiting ED KRAUSE. . . . This latest Shaw tribute can go up next to his 1961 ND club plaque, which tells all who read a message every ND man would like to have on his wall: "You traveled your road of honor to the Golden Gate in the light of the Golden Dome. Your code of Personal Responsibility marked all who traveled with you. Your fellow alumni from Our Lady's school give you the title to which we all aspire: Buck Shaw, Notre Dame Man."

More news: WILLIAM HOBAN, another transplanted Midwesterner, shifted from a McGraw Electric exec spot to presidency of Incandescent Supply, one of the West's largest electrical wholesalers (soon 18 branches). . . . BOB TONEFF zips back each fall as fast as he removes his Washington Redskins warpaint, and is loyal to those certain Foundation-type products in selling for Geary Ford. . . . DAN GENTILE now here for RCA, from LA. . . . GENE DELAY, Nebraska gone westward, with internal revenue. . . . FRED ARMSTRONG after fine FBI background, under his own legal shingle now. . . . JOHN O'CONNOR added a new column to his editorial duties at the Monitor (archdiocesan). . . . KEVIN O'SHEA is still playing good offense/defense: offense with the San Francisco Saints (ABL) as general manager, defense with insurance for Breen, McKee, & O'Shea. . . . BOB CONNELLY won national insurance honors with Aetna. . . . BILL SHERMAN is helping golf grow via the National Golf Foundation. . . . GEORGE SEALY now with Utah Construction. . . . BILL MCGOWAN shifted from McMillen Mortgage to another mortgage firm in SF. . . . WARD McMULLEN of NCR still a leader with the SF Sales and Marketing Executives. . . . BOB TARVER balances law with much civic work — San Mateo Junior College, Hanna Boys' Home. . . . ED MASSA doesn't yearn for his legal-eagle days because of the progress of his industrial-commercial real estate. . . . PAUL LIMONT kept as trim as Leahy days with hard work for Crane (paper, not plumbing). . . . DON SEHL with state department of corrections, and staying youthful by ignoring the age of an Air Force son. . . . JEROME FARRON and Johns Manville still progressing together. . . . JIM ROWLAND sells for Simpson Lumber now. . . . Past President WILLIAM SHINE is with Walston & Co. and securities. . . . Other faces good to see ND Night were ED O'SULLIVAN, checking on missing FRED ARMSTRONG. . . . FRED PEAK, TOM McCAFFREY, LARRY O'LEARY, MIKE KIELY (excellent work with young athletes of the upper peninsula). . . . Plus a fine-looking crop of newcomer alumni who should make good committee fodder for the new officers, whoever and whenever they may be. . . .

And your note-taker, aimed and fired by DR. COONEY, wonders why we don't all realize that we should move Dartmouth out of No. 1 alumni fund participation ranking in the U.S. by signing up? We're trailing, says — ED MANSFIELD, '34.

Oklahoma City

On April 28, Universal Notre Dame Night was held at the Plaza Tower Hotel. Over 100 members and guests attended to hear REV. JOHN E. WALSH, C.S.C., of the Foundation, give a fine talk on the University's attempt to promote the name of the University. His Excellency Victor J. Reed, Bishop of the Oklahoma City Diocese, was also present and gave a short but astute talk following Father Walsh's talk. "BUCKY" O'CONNOR was master of ceremonies and it was certainly a fine evening. Msgr. A. A. Isenbart, head of Catholic Charities in this area, was awarded the Man-

OKLAHOMA GAME ACCOMMODATIONS

Doctors attending a medical convention in Oklahoma City this fall have been offered tickets to the Notre Dame-Oklahoma football game. The Oklahoma City Notre Dame Club has reserved the entire Plaza Tower Hotel for the week end of the game. We are having a rally on Friday night in the Hotel at $4.00 per person with all refreshments free. We are also providing bus service to and from the game on Saturday and box lunches for those desiring same. The hotel reservations must be for two nights at $12.00 per room, containing two large double beds. The Dallas club is taking one floor (12 rooms).

This new hotel is built in the shape of a hexagon and has 86 units available. We are hoping to fill the Plaza Tower Hotel with Notre Dame people and we are certain a good time will be had by those in attendance. Clubs and individuals wishing to secure reservations should contact WM. J. O'CONNOR, '48, 4400 N. Lincoln Blvd., Oklahoma City 5, Okla.

of-the-Year plaque, and Mr. Jack Siegrist of Henryetta, Oklahoma, was awarded the Boy-of-the-Year plaque.

Two days later on Monday, April 30, the Notre Dame Concert Band gave a very fine concert at McGuinness High School here in Oklahoma City. The band, under the direction of ROBERT O'BRIEN, played their usual fine and varied repertoire. The auditorium was full and very appreciative. EUGENE SCHMIT, vice-president of the Oklahoma City Notre Dame alumni, presented the band with an Oklahoma State flag which will hang in the bandroom at Washington Hall.

After the concert, a social hour was held for the band members sponsored by the alumni in this area. It was certainly an enjoyable evening and the band was well appreciated.

Plans are firming up for the Notre Dame-Oklahoma game to be held at Norman in September. Reservations are coming in, and anyone wishing them should contact the Plaza Tower Hotel as soon as possible. Feeling and spirit are beginning to run high here, and we'd like to see a good representation here for Notre Dame for the game.

—JIM DASCHBACH, Secy

Oregon

REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president of the University, was a guest at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner of the Oregon Club April 23 at the Benson Hotel. Father Joyce also addressed the Portland Rotary Club the following day. PAUL NEWMAN succeeded CHARLES SLATT as president of the Notre Dame Club of Oregon.

Palm Beach

The annual Florida State Convention of Notre Dame Clubs was held in Palm Beach at the Sea Breeze on the ocean, April 27-28-29, 1962. Sponsored by the Palm Beach Notre Dame Club under the able chairmanship of JAMES DOWNEY. Three days of relaxation and mildly competitive athletics (golf, tennis, Ping-pong, shuffleboard, etc.) were climaxed by the Universal Notre Dame Night Banquet on April 28. FATHER JOYCE, Mrs. Frank J. Lewis, Dr. William Burke, newly appointed Dean of Freshmen, and Mr. Phillip Lewis were honored guests. DAN DOWNEY served as toastmaster.

Two important events occurred at the banquet. First, DICK WHELEN, Fort Lauderdale, was honored by the Lauderdale Club as their Man of the Year. Secondly, in delivering the principal address, Father Joyce announced the gift of one million dollars to the University by the Lewis Foundation for the construction of a residence hall for student nuns.

Attending were: Dr. and Mrs. WILLIAM ABOOD, Mr. and Mrs. VINCENT AKRA, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN BOWEN, Mr. and Mrs. MARTIN CLYNES, Dr. and Mrs. JAMES COONEY, Mr. and Mrs. DAN DOWNEY, Mr. and Mrs. JIM DOWNEY, Mr. and Mrs. ROME HARTMAN, Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE HELOW, Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD LEWIS, Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM MEDDEN, Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD MARCUS, Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS MAUS, Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM MAUS, Mr. and Mrs. WILLARD MOSS, Mr. and Mrs. FRANK McDONOUGH, Mr. and Mrs. FRANK MCGINN, Mr. and Mrs.

MONROE — Dr. John J. Laboe, '48 (left), named Notre Dame Man of the Year at the Monroe, Mich., U.N.D. Night, accepts his award from President Hugh Laughna, '41.

JOHN MISSAELLEN, Dr. and Mrs. BERNARD O'HARA, Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE RUDOLPH, Mr. and Mrs. CHET SADOWSKI, Mr. and Mrs. R. SADOWSKI, Dr. and Mrs. HOWARD SERVICE, Mr. and Mrs. DONALD SMYTH, J. R. SMYTH, Dr. and Mrs. DAN STACK, DENNY STACK, Mr. and Mrs. TOM WALKER, Mr. and Mrs. DICK WHELEN, and Dr. and Mrs. BILL WELCH.

—BERNARD O'HARA, Secy

Panama

In March the Notre Dame Club of Panama had an election of directors; the following are the new officers of the Club: LORENZO ROMAGOZA, '45, president (Box 3393 Panama, Rep. of Panama); JOHN PETTINGIL, '35, vice-president; FREDERICO HUMBERT, JR., '35, treasurer; ANTONIO DOMINGUEZ, JR., '33, secretary — Panama; LEW KRZIZA, '40, secretary — Canal Zone; and BISHOP MARK McGRATH, advisor.

Panama participated in the reunion of N. D. graduates of Central America held in San José, Costa Rica, April 23-26. Father Hesburgh and Bishop McGrath were among those present.

—ANTONIO DOMINGUEZ, JR., Secy

Peoria

On June 20, 1962, the Notre Dame Club of Peoria had its annual election of officers. Elections were held at Pabst Brewing Company, in the Pabst "33" Room. Arrangements were made by Mr. FRANK H. MURPHY, '18, who is public relations director at Pabst.

Elected to office for the year of 1962 were: CHUCK PERRIN, president; JOHN SLEVIN, vice-president; JIM McCOMB, secretary; and GERRY CASHMAN, treasurer.

CHUCK PERRIN, '51, and wife, Marion, are the parents of 9 children (10th on the way). He is an attorney for the Chicago Motor Club in Peoria.

JOHN SLEVIN, '60, and wife, Mary, have just returned to Peoria. John has entered private law practice here. They now have 3 children.

JIM McCOMB, '54, and wife, Kay, (SMC, '56), have recently moved to Peoria from Des Moines, Iowa. Jim is the new Chevrolet dealer in Peoria. Jim and Kay have 3 little ones (4th on the way).

GERRY CASHMAN, '52, and wife, Phyllis, are residing at 930 N. Glen Oak. Gerry is claims representative for Central Illinois, working for Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

Philadelphia

The Notre Dame Club of Philadelphia announced the fourth air trip to a Notre Dame game, this time an all-expense trip via Chicago to the Michigan State game. FRANK GREEN, HENRY

HATHAWAY and CHARLES CONLEY are co-chairmen.

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated on Friday, May 4, at Overbrook Golf Club in Villanova. E.E. "RIP" MILLER of Annapolis was the special guest and principal speaker, and JOHN MACCAULEY represented the University. THOMAS C. McGRATH, JR., was the chairman, and President BARTON B. JOHNSON presented special awards to BILL BURNS, HENRY HATHAWAY and JACK HENRY for outstanding support of the Club over the years. WILLIAM AUSTIN MEEHAN, '48, was saluted as Notre Dame Man of the Year, and QUINT STURM was toastmaster.

Meetings were held in May and June, the first addressed by REV. JAMES DONNELLY, C.S.C., the Texas missionary.

Phoenix

We had a very successful Universal Notre Dame Night. ED BOYLE, director of the FBI in Arizona, was master of ceremonies. REV. JOHN E. WALSH, C.S.C., director of the Notre Dame Foundation, and FRANK LEAHY, former head football coach, were special guest speakers. Phoenix Man of the Year was JOE HERRIGAN, who organized the Notre Dame Scholarship Fund of Phoenix. The event was very well attended (nearly 100 people).

Back on February 11 FATHER HESBURGH gave an inspiring talk at a well attended Communion breakfast (over 80 people present).

New officers of the Notre Dame Club of Phoenix are DR. BILL DUNN, president; DR. GENE RYAN, vice-president; MIKE BOSCO, secretary; and JIM CORCORAN, treasurer.

—WM. J. DUNN, M.D., '47, Pres.

Pittsburgh

On Sunday, April 1, the Pittsburgh Club held a Family Communion at the Cathedral, followed by breakfast at Stouffer's Restaurant across the street. Speaker for the occasion was REV. JOSEPH CHRISTIE, S.J., a guest from Great Britain.

At the Communion Breakfast new officers were elected: DONALD W. BEBENEK to succeed PETER F. FLAHERTY as president; GEORGE WILLIAM BROWN following Bebenek as vice-president; HUGH C. BOYLE, JR., replacing Brown as secretary; and JAMES PETER FRIDAY, re-elected treasurer. Named to the Board of Governors were CHARLES L. CHRISTEN, JAMES F. VOGEL, GEORGE KINGSLEY, CARL APONE, FRANCIS SURPRENANT, and LEO O'DONNELL, JR.

The first activity of the new Club year was an informal summer dance at the South Hills Country Club on June 15, under the chairmanship of PETER FLAHERTY. Vacationing students were invited to add to the festivities.

Projected for August were the traditional Father-Son party for incoming freshmen and a possible family swimming party. Guests in Pittsburgh are urged to attend the Club's weekly luncheons, every Thursday noon in the Variety Club of the Pennsylvania Hotel.

Rhode Island & S.E. Mass.

Universal Notre Dame Night was observed in Providence with cocktails and dinner at the Wayland Manor on the evening of May 3. Guest from the University was REV. LOUIS THORNTON, C.S.C., Notre Dame's director of placement.

Rochester

The annual Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated at Ridgemont Country Club Thursday evening, April 26. The guest speaker for the evening was FATHER CHARLES SHEEDY, C.S.C., Dean of Arts and Letters at the University of Notre Dame. The event was well attended.

After Father Sheedy's talk, President WILLIAM DEMPSEY, introduced the officers for the coming year. They are: President, JOHN C. CASEY; Vice-President, LEO J. WESLEY; Secretary, THOMAS J. MURRAY; and Treasurer, THOMAS P. FENTON.

The "Man of the Year" award of the Notre Dame Club of Rochester was made to JACK NYE DUFFEY. Jack is general manager of Springfield Monarch Insurance Company here. This award is made annually to an outstanding area graduate for community and church-related activities.

—THOMAS MURRAY, Secy

Rome

Our high light activity this spring was the Ordination and First Mass of FATHER JACK ANTON, '38, of Chicago with his parents, brothers BILL and DICK, '39, and Chicago friends in attendance. Ordained at St. John Lateran Basilica on April 7, Father Jack offered his First Mass at Holy Cross Seminary with FATHER EDWARD L. HESTON, C.S.C., as Assistant Priest. The festival breakfast was held at Notre Dame International School and the reception at the ND Club. (See photo, this issue.)

The club's Hospitality Center gets gifts along with the guests: FRANK M. FOLSOM, Laetare medalist, has been sending handsome books to augment our library. JOHNNY McLAUGHLIN, '34, of Cumberland, R.I., arranged with U.S. Congressman John E. Fogarty to send us a magnificent new fifty-star American flag.

A Memorial Mass was offered in the name of the club at St. Peter's Basilica for Cardinal Gaetano Ciccognani, brother of our honorary member AMLETO G. CARDINAL CICCIGNANI.

Distinguished guest: SIR ARNOLD LUNN, ND faculty, '33 and his wife. Special guests, neighbors, and almost members are the 108 American students at the new Rome Center of Loyola University, Chicago.

Outstanding guest: BOB STEFANI, '64 (Brother LARRY, '65) of Cal. Bob with buddy rolling into Rome in a Volks camper, parked it every night in St. Peter's Square under John XXIII's window and slumbered in it, waking each morning whenever the Square became noisy enough to arouse them. One morning so awakened, Bob arose, slid back the roof of the Volks — stood up in his shorts — only to see Jackie Kennedy, our First Lady, whisk by on her visit to Papa John. No one knows if she saw Bob as Nature Boy among the splashing fountains.

Reminding all ND men, their families and friends that it's open house all day every day, this is the list of our current callers: JOSEPH SADOFSKI, Feb. '58, of Wughtdown, N.J., with Armed Forces in Chaumont, France, VINCE SHAW, '55-'57, St. Louis, JOE DWYER, JR., '58, BROTHER RONALD DRAKOZAL, C.S.C., en route to East Pakistan, PAUL TULLY, '39, JEROME TRAUTSCHOLD, '59, Waco, Texas, Msgr. Joseph C. Fenton, Catholic University, PAUL LYNCH, '58, MARC BAECKEL, '60, Webster Groves, Mo., FELIX PATOUT, Holy Cross High, '40, New Orleans, St. Edward's U., Austin, Texas, ex '42, friend of GREG LUKAS, '60, Sioux Falls, S.D., FATHER STANISLAUS BELCH, p.g. in Political Science, ND, parent of MELVIN BOLDT, '64, seminarian son of JOHN ROCAP, '30, of Indianapolis, BILL, '55, and Mrs. McFADDEN, N.Y.C. CAPT. JAMES SMITH, '49, USAF, LELAND CROGHAN, '56, Armed Forces, Germany, RAY JOYCE, '17-'18, brother of BOB, '27, Robert Smith, Kings College, Wilkes-Barre, brother of FATHER BURTON SMITH, C.S.C., DR. PAUL BUCKY O'CONNOR, '31, and wife en route to visit PAUL, JR., '39, and wife at University of Bologna Medical School, MAURICE, '35, and Mrs. TOMBRAGEL of Los Angeles, JOE BROUSSARD, II, '41, GREG HOLTZ, '61, Elkhart, BROTHER CYR, S.C., ex-summers, Flushing, N.Y., REV. MR. THEOTONIOUS GOMES, '61, Dacca, REV. MR. WASE, C.S.C., '60, PETER CROTTY, '61, Buffalo, signing for PAUL, '62, JIM, '64, and BOB, '66, PROF. ALVAN RYAN, English Dept., on location in Germany. JOHN CLARK, '58, New Haven with U.S. Forces in France, Father of JOE, '60, and JIM BISIGNANO, '61, Des Moines, BOB COTE, '60, Nashua, N.H., JIM MALONE, '58, and Sister ROXIE, '63, SMC. Jim is working for doctorate in Science U. of Freiburg, Germany, and Roxie year-abroad in Vienna, DICK AMARAL, '59, Dighton, Mass., MARY JO CONNELLY, '63, and ANNE MELIA, '63, of St. Mary's, and AMSLIE LYONS SMITH, '08, St. Mary's, mind you, staying with us for a month, parents of RICHARD, '57, and ROBERT VAN AUKEN, '58, Shaker Hts., Ohio, REV. THOMAS TAYLOR, '54, M.A., Davenport, Iowa, ANTHONY RIBAUDO, '39, St. Louis, with Armed Forces in France, and FATHER JACK KEEFE, C.S.C., '55, Uganda, East Africa.

—VINCE McALOON, '34, Secy

Saginaw Valley

Saginaw Valley Notre Dame Club met in a body with their families at the Holy Family Church on Sunday, April 1, and 145 were in attendance. A delicious breakfast was served after Mass in the school social hall by the Holy Family Altar Society. One minute of silence was observed in memory of ALFRED SLAGGERT, a Notre Dame graduate.

On May 1, the Notre Dame Club met at the Redeitcher Hotel in Freeland. Dick Davis of WKXX-TV and Radio showed a wildlife film, which was the feature of the evening. The dinner was a local observance of Universal Notre Dame night. Thirty University Alumni from Saginaw, Bay City and Midland attended.

—LAWRENCE A. SMITH, Secy

St. Joseph Valley

The 39th annual Universal Notre Dame Night of the St. Joseph Valley Club was a gala dinner May 1 at the Morris Inn on the Notre Dame campus.

Guest speaker was the chairman of the Republican National Committee, New York Congressman WILLIAM E. MILLER, '35 (not Dean of Freshmen William Miller Burke, as mistakenly reported in the last issue). Representing the University was DR. GEORGE N. SHUSTER, '15, assistant to the president of Notre Dame. The chaplain, REV. JOSEPH D. BARRY, C.S.C., '35, gave the benediction. Presiding was the retiring president, ROBERT CAHILL, '34.

ALBERT McGANN reported on the Scholarship Trust Fund, which had reached $65,000, and $5,000 in scholarship payments were turned over to the University to supplement $9,150 already turned over to the University as donations for the Challenge program. The Valley Club fund has helped 35 scholars to go to Notre Dame in the past 15 years. Treasurer JOSEPH F. DILLON also reported on the Club's finances.

New officers were introduced by President-elect GERALD G. HAMMES, who succeeds BOB CAHILL. THOMAS HANLON succeeds Hammes as vice-president; WILLIAM MEEHAN replaces Hanlon as secretary; and JOE DILLON was re-elected treasurer. New directors are TOM SHEEHAN, '51; ED GRAY, '52; DICK CLEARY, '50; CHARLIE MAGNER, '40; and JOHN O'BRIEN, '48. Retiring directors are DON FISHER, JOE HANNAN, BURNIE BAUER, and DICK RILEY. Continuing directors include BOB LEHMAN, BILL KLEM, WAYNE WAHL, TOM BATH, SAM EDER, AL LESKO, and FRANK SULLIVAN.

JOE HANNAN was honored for his long service to the Club with the Notre Dame Man of the Year Award. WAYNE F. WAHL was chairman for the event.

The annual Notre Dame Golf Day was held on the Burke Memorial Course June 12. TOM SHEEHAN was chairman.

St. Louis

On Tuesday evening April 24, 1962 the Notre Dame Club of St. Louis held its annual Universal WASHINGTON — Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut shared the podium with Father Hesburgh at the District of Columbia observance of U.N.D. Night last May 2.

Notre Dame Night at Stan Musial & Biggie's Restaurant. ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE was our guest, and Jack Buck, a prominent St. Louis personality and sportscaster, was our toastmaster. GEORGE CONVY was named Notre Dame "Man of the Year." He received his award from last year's recipient, DR. BERTRAND COUGHLIN.

Our new officers were named at the dinner. Next year's president is JAMES A. PUDLOWSKI. Vice-Presidents are BOB McAULIFFE, BILL HORMBERG and JERRY McGLYNN. Secretary-Treasurer is HERM KRIEGSHAUSER.

Newly elected members of the Board of Directors to serve four year terms are AL VITT, JERRY McGLYNN, MARK MALEY, and HERM KRIEGSHAUSER. Elected to fill two vacancies on the board were JOE ROHS and CONNIE LANE.

—HERMAN L. KRIEGSHAUSER, Secy.

St. Petersburg-Tampa

DR. WILLIAM M. BURKE, newly appointed dean of freshmen at the University, was the principal speaker when the Florida West Coast Chapter of the Notre Dame Alumni Association met for their part in the 39th annual observance of Universal Notre Dame Night. The dinner was held on Wednesday, April 25, at Moeck's in St. Petersburg.

San Antonio

Installation of the new officers took place here on our celebration of Universal Notre Dame Night on April 24, 1962. With a gathering of 52 people we were able to raise an additional $200.00 for the Notre Dame Foundation.

Our club officers for the 1962-63 year are: LEO J. PARADISE, '49, President; WILLIAM LAMM, '50, Vice-President; and JAMES CARROLL, '55, Secretary-Treasurer.

—LEO J. PARADISE, Pres

San Diego

JOHN CAWLEY, '49, research staff member of General Atomic, was elected president of the Notre Dame Club of San Diego at the annual business and election meeting. He succeeds FRED FOWLER.

Other officers elected include CHRIS COHAN, '54, vice-president; TOM HUGHES, '11, recording secretary; LES HEGELE, '28, corresponding secretary; JOHN MURPHY, '51, treasurer, and RT. REV. MSGR. FRANCIS C. OTT, '15, chaplain.

The club arranged to have MSGR. OTT offer a Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of FRED N. RUIZ of La Jolla, 1928 law graduate and member of the local Notre Dame club who died February 7.

The club also approved a $75 donation to the University's Foundation Drive, which is being directed in San Diego by JERRY BILL and JOHN SULLIVAN.

—LES HEGELE, Secy

San Fernando

At the February meeting of the Club, THOMAS DUNLAY, '32, JACK KELLY, '50, and DWAIN SPENCER, '56, were elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively for two-year terms.

Retiring officers are JOHN LEONARD, '34, president, EDWARD DOWLING, '38, vice-president, and GEORGE SCHNEIDER, '44, secretary-treasurer. A tremendous vote of thanks is due these men who carried the burden through the two formative years of the Club.

—DWAIN F. SPENCER, Secy-Treas.

Scranton

New officers of the Scranton Club are DICK MARSHALL, president; EARL HOLMES, vice-president; JOSEPH McDADE, treasurer; and BILL COMERFORD, secretary.

For July the Club planned its annual picnic with Holy Cross alumni.

South Central Wisconsin

On Sunday, April 29, 1962, the South Central Wisconsin Notre Dame Club observed Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner at Welch's Embers in Madison. Mr. Martin Croak, Special Investigator for the F.B.I. was our guest speaker.

Club president, JOHN W. ROACH, '27, unveiled the club's plans for celebrating the Notre Dame football team's victory over the University of Wisconsin in the Crystal Ballroom of the Loraine Hotel on Saturday, October 13. We hope that many of Notre Dame's friends will celebrate with us.

Arrangements for holding the annual summer outing at the Mt. Horeb Golf Bowl on July 27 are completed. Each club member is encouraged to bring guests to this affair.

The club expresses its thanks to the THOMAS W. FROST, '30, family for bringing FATHER GEORGE WELSH, C.S.C., of St. Bernard's church in Watertown, to our meeting.

—THOMAS M. HINKES, Secy

Spokane

Club members and their wives participated in the second annual Pot-Luck Supper on February 27. The event was in the nature of a Mardi Gras and was held in the Glacier Room of the Rainier Brewery. DR. JIM ROTCHFORD, '49, and his gracious wife, Mary, were in charge of the affair and, with the assistance of the other ladies, arranged a wonderfully satisfying smorgasbord. BERNIE SMYTH, '56, and GARY MYERS, '59, wrestled a piano into the room to provide means for much harmonizing as Bernie's lovely wife, Barbara, presided at the keys. During the evening the hat was passed for the benefit of the Bengal Bouts at the University. In addition to those previously mentioned, the following members and their wives attended: MONK ALBO, '35; ED BETHKE, '28; JIM CONNELLY, '48; FRANK HERRON, '35; BOB MERZ, '47; JOHN O'NEILL, '29; RAY PENLAND, '56; RALPH SCHULLER, '57; and JOE WALSH, '14.

Universal Notre Dame Night was observed on May 14, when the Club members, their wives and friends gathered in The Cotton Room of The Plantation Restaurant for a most enjoyable time. The tables were attractively decorated with unique centerpieces in gold and blue, designed and made by GARY MYERS, '59, wife, Jane. BERNIE SMYTH, '56, outgoing President, as Master of Ceremonies, added much to the pleasure of the evening. The principal speaker was Attorney Robert Dellwo, of the Spokane Bar Association, whose talk on the encyclical, "Mater et Magistra" and our personal exemplification of its principles, was most interesting and informative. Election of officers took place during the evening with these results: President, GARY MYERS, '59; Vice-President, DR. JIM ROTCHFORD, '49; and Secretary-Treasurer, JOE WALSH, '14. In addition to those mentioned above, the following were present: ED BETHKE, '28; JIM CONNELLY, '48; FRAN FLANNERY, '31; FRANK HAGENBARTH, '27; FRANK HERRON, '35; DR. CURRAN HIGGINS, '49; DR. BOB MAHER, '35; JOHN O'NEILL, '29; RAY PENLAND, '56; BOB ROTCHFORD, '48; DICK ST. JOHN, '56; and VINCE SLATT, '43.

—JOE WALSH, '14. Secy-Treas.

Terre Haute

The Notre Dame Club of Terre Haute celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night on Monday, April 30. A dinner dance was held in the Terre Haute House. The Terre Haute Club announced the Notre Dame "Man of the Year" as MYRON J. BUSBY, SR. Busby is an associate member of the Club. His son, MYRON BUSBY, JR., is a junior at the University of Notre Dame.

During the meeting new officers were also announced: President, JIM SULLIVAN, '55; Vice-President, BERNIE BURDICK; Secretary, JIM BOYER, '49; and Treasurer, CHARLES METZGER, '47.

—JIM BOYER, Secy

Toledo

The Notre Dame Club of Toledo was fortunate to have as its guest REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., at its annual Universal Notre Dame Night observance. This year's affair included a cocktail party and dinner at the Sylvania Country Club, May 15. Chairmen TOM WELLY, RICHARD MERKEL, and NOEL BLANK handled the festivities.

Father Joyce's topic was the Pope's encyclical "Mater et Magistra" and he stressed the personal and public responsibility of the Notre Dame man in our society.

URBAN F. GRADEL and RICHARD COLASURD were elected to the Board of Directors from nominations which included TOM WELLY, RICHARD MERKEL, and BLAINE WILEY.

URBAN F. GRADEL will chairman a summer golf outing this year.

—H. J. KALBAS, Secy

Tri-Cities

Our local club observed Universal Notre Dame Night on Monday, April 30, at the Plantation Club in Moline, Illinois, with the Reverend Francis O. Nealy being the featured speaker. The capsule comment from the club members and their wives was that Father Nealy sure did a great job. J. RALPH CORYN was chairman of this event and he was the most surprised man in the audience to find out, later in the evening, that he had been chosen Notre Dame "Man of the Year." This was only the fourth such award made by the Tri-City Club.

New officers were elected and they are as follows: President, JACK BUSH; Vice-President, BOB CORYN; Secretary-Treasurer, JOHN HERR; New Board Members, PETE LOUSBERG and MIKE UNDERWOOD; Hold-over Directors, DAN KEELER, GENE GERWE and JERRY CULLIGAN.

JACK BUSH has already indicated that he and the other officers are in the process of appointing chairmen for the forthcoming events.

—JAMES J. CORYN, Secy-Treas.

Triple Cities

The University of Notre Dame Alumni Club of the Triple Cities celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a sirloin tip dinner at the Carlton Hotel, Binghamton, N.Y., on Thursday evening, April 26. Speaker of the evening was JIM ARMSTRONG, National Alumni Secretary, who was accompanied by his wife. Mr. Armstrong brought to us an extremely interesting discussion of the Notre Dame of 1962, sharing with us his observations of Notre Dame's continued spiritual and physical development. His thoughtful remarks helped resolve many questions foremost in our minds.

REV. LEO SULLIVAN, C.S.C., Resident Missionary in Pakistan, gave the Invocation and Benediction.

The affair was attended by a total of 44 alumni, wives, students, future students, parents and friends and for our second venture since the club's reorganization was highly successful.

—JOHN J. O'ROURKE, '49. Secy

Tucson

Universal Notre Dame Night brought forth quite an array of alumni and friends in Tucson, Arizona. Those in attendance were doubly blessed by the appearance of FATHER JOHN WALSH, C.S.C., Foundation Director, and his mother (who did not "fall asleep" during her son's eloquent description of Notre Dame's past and her outlook for the future).

Upwards of 50 husbands, wives, bachelors, dignity and just plain people gathered at the Pioneer Hotel (general managed by alumnus JIM DURBIN) to partake of a sumptuous bit of culinary art prior to Father John's introduction by PAUL MATZ, local club presy.

Quite glibly did Father John both introduce his charming mother and at the same time request "an additional cup of coffee for her so I won't put her to sleep."

Indeed — everyone waxed most attentive as Father John depicted the University's quest for "greatness in all things." The resultant applause and question-answer period reflected the enthusiasm and sincerity of Father John's fine dissertation of the University's monumental strides forward in all phases of the academic life.

The good Father was presented with a "robust envelope" — a portion of Tucson's alumni contribution.

We are happy to report that during the past year or two — the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Tucson has been somewhat revitalized. It is "planning and meeting" rather than just "thinking."

We will also strive, through the columns of the ALUMNUS, to keep the general alumni aware of our individual and collective activities.

We should have much to talk about because our membership includes a plethora of lawyers including JOHN LINDBERG, a member of the U.S. Attorney's office!

Good luck . . . and when vacationing this summer . . . visit Tucson. We have cowboys, Indians . . . and Notre Dame alumni!

Tulsa

REV. JOHN E. WALSH, C.S.C., assistant to the president and director of the Notre Dame Foundation, was a guest at the Universal Notre Dame Night observance of the Notre Dame Club of Tulsa, held at the Cup Club on Thursday, April 26. President MARION BLAKE presided at the dinner.

Utah

The Utah Alumni Club played host to REV. PHILIP S. MOORE, C.S.C., Academic Assistant to the President, in its celebration of Universal Notre Dame Night, April 26. DON RONEY, Club President, presided over the dinner meeting while PHIL J. PURCELL, Utah Foundation chairman, reported that our State reached its financial goal.

The following day Father Moore spoke before the Salt Lake City Junior Chamber of Commerce on the very timely subject of the problems of education.

The Utah Club was greatly honored by Father Moore's visit.

—LEONARD J. DI GIACOMO, Secy

Washington, D.C.

The Annual Family Communion Breakfast was held last April 8 at Holy Cross College. Latin America's tremendous importance to the Church and to the United States was discussed in a talk by REV. RONAN HOFFMAN, OFM Conv., of Catholic University, a noted Latin-American expert. Also invited were such Latin-American authorities as MSGR. FRANCO BRAMBILLA, Apostolic Delegation; MSGR. JAMES F. MAGNER, Catholic U.; Ambassador SEVILLA SACASA, Nicaragua; Ambassador FERNANDO BERCKE-MEYER, Peru; and JAMES FONSECA, editor of Noticias Catolicas. JOHN V. HINKEL was chairman.

FATHER HESBURGH spoke on the University's Peace Corps effort in Chile, and Senator THOMAS DODD of Connecticut discussed the role of the educated Catholic layman in today's world on Universal Notre Dame Night, May 2 at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel. Chairman HARRY W. FLANNERY was assisted by GAYLORD HAAS. BILL KAVANAUGH was named Man of the Year.

The Club helped make arrangements for a joint concert of the Notre Dame and Trinity College Glee Clubs at Trinity on April 30. AL VIROSTEK and BOB HUTCHISON were in charge of a special N.D. section in the auditorium.

New officers were elected in April and installed on Universal Notre Dame Night. They are: WILLIAM B. MIDDENDORF, president; ALBERT A. VIROSTEK, vice-president; RICHARD I. SCHOENFELDER, secretary; JOSEPH P. MALONEY, treasurer; JOSEPH L. BORDA and retiring President ROBERT N. HUTCHISON, Board of Governors.

West Virginia

The Notre Dame Club of West Virginia celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night with a dinner in Charleston on April 28, 1962. MR. ED KRAUSE, Athletic Director of the University of Notre Dame, was the guest speaker. Mr. Krause gave a talk on the University's present and future plans before an enthusiastic audience.

The Notre Dame Man of the Year Award was presented to CY REICH. Cy was cited for his outstanding service to many civic and parish organizations in the area.

The following members and their wives were present at the dinner: JACK ALESSENDRI, WEB ARCENEAUX, JIM BECKMAN, RUDY DETRAPANO, JOE FALLON, LARRY HESS, JOHN KAEMMERER, TOM KENNEL, BILL KENNEY, DON LEIS, JOE NEENAN, BILL MINGES, CY REICH, BILL REISHMAN, VINCE REISHMAN, DICK SHAFER, FRANK SHEETS, PAT TONER, WALT TOUTISSANT, JOHN WELCH, GEORGE THOMPSON, and J. C. HIGGINS.

This year's Notre Dame Night dinner was one of the outstanding events in the history of the club.

—RICHARD J. SHAFER, Secy-Treas

Western Washington

Eighty members, wives, and guests of the Notre Dame Club of Western Washington attended the Universal Notre Dame Night on April 24, at the Washington Athletic Club, Seattle. REV. EDMUND JOYCE, C.S.C., was the campus guest and speaker. The Notre Dame Man of the Year award was given to DAN CONLEY, '28. The new officers for 1962-1964 were announced as: President, FRED HOOVER, '43, '47; Vice-President, AL TOTH, '49; Treasurer, TOM MAY, '55; Secretary, MILLARD BATTLES, '55, '56. New directors are: Seattle, AL TOTH, '49; BILL HERBER, '58; BUD DAVIS-COURT, '34; Tacoma, BOB MALLON, '55; and Western Washington, TOM BRENNAN, '51.

—MILLARD T. BATTLES, JR., Secy

UNIVERSAL NOTRE DAME Night award winners are congratulated by principals of Chicago's U.N.D. Night dinner at the Palmer House (l.-r.): Art Conrad, first vice-president; Paul Fullmer, second vice-president; Jim Armstrong, national secretary of the Alumni Assn.; Dr. John Taylor, executive director of educational television station WTTW, winner of the third annual "Decency in Entertainment" award; and Bert Metzger, Chicago Club secretary; (at right) Cliff Noonan, member of the board of governors; Thomas Beacom, named Notre Dame Man of the Year, member of the University's Board of Lay Trustees and prominent Chicago layman; Hon. William P. Mahoney, Jr., national alumni president and newly appointed ambassador to Ghana; Joe Pagliari, retiring president of the Chicago Club; and Jack Barry, installed as 1962-63 president.

GREATER MIAMI—At the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner-dance in May at the Miami Shores Country Club (l.-r.) Club President Dr. William McShane looks on as James A. Smith, former president, receives Miami's Man of the Year award from Charles E. Maher, another former president, now chairman of the board of directors.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Jack Siegrist, local high school student chosen as the Oklahoma City Club's seventh annual "Boy of the Year," appears at the U.N.D. Night rostrum with three honored guests, (from left) Father Walsh from Notre Dame, Monsignor Isenbart and Bishop Reed from the Diocese of Oklahoma City.

Notre Dame Image

Continued from page 21

athletic or social. Oddly, enough, this fear occurs more frequently among extremely intelligent and successful alumni and friends. To me this indicates that their image of Notre Dame is one of a center of intelligent stimulus, and serious purpose, but a carefully controlled intelligence in which common sense is the hard core, and its expansion is more inconspicuous than emblazoned in contests and recognitions.

I think the fear stems from the belief that too much emphasis on the unusual creates a climate in which the much greater attention and purpose embodied in the usual is jeopardized.

The truth of the situation is that while conditions in higher education generally have brought the spotlights into focus on academic competition in such areas as the Danforth and Wilson and Rhodes and Root scholarships and fellowships, and where College Entrance Board scores are a criterion of progress as they push higher and higher from a combination of selectivity and preparation, there is no essential penalty on the usual and the normal student. If anything, he prospers subconsciously. Just as the presence of championships and All-Americans sharpens the interest and the edge of the men and teams that play in their shadow, so the presence of academic achievement stimulates the interest and edge of the teachers and members of all the classes and courses.

Continued on page 49

Who will go to college—and where?
What will they find?
Who will teach them?
Will they graduate?
What will college have done for them?
Who will pay—and how?

the COLLEGE of TOMORROW

“WILL MY CHILDREN GET INTO COLLEGE?”
The question haunts most parents. Here is the answer:

Yes...

- ▶ If they graduate from high school or preparatory school with something better than a “scrape-by” record.
- ▶ If they apply to the college or university that is right for them—aiming their sights (and their application forms) neither too high nor too low, but with an individuality and precision made possible by sound guidance both in school and in their home.
- ▶ If America’s colleges and universities can find the resources to carry out their plans to meet the huge demand for higher education that is certain to exist in this country for years to come.

The if’s surrounding your children and the college of tomorrow are matters of concern to everyone involved—to parents, to children, to alumni and alumnae (whatever their parental status), and to the nation’s educators. But resolving them is by no means being left to chance.

- ▶ The colleges know what they must do, if they are to meet the needs of your children and others of your children’s generation. Their planning is well beyond the hand-wringing stage.

- ▶ The colleges know the likely cost of putting their plans into effect. They know this cost, both in money and in manpower, will be staggering. But most of them are already embarked upon finding the means of meeting it.
- ▶ Governments—local, state, and federal—are also deeply involved in educational planning and financing. Some parts of the country are far ahead of others. But no region is without its planners and its doers in this field.
- ▶ Public demand—not only for expanded facilities for higher education, but for ever-better quality in higher education—today is more insistent, more informed than ever before. With this growth of public sophistication about higher education, it is now clear to most intelligent parents that they themselves must take a leading role in guiding their children’s educational careers—and in making certain that the college of tomorrow will be ready, and good, for them.

This special report is in the form of a guide to parents. But we suspect that every reader, parent or not, will find the story of higher education’s future remarkably exciting.

Where will your children go to college?

LAST FALL, more than one million students enrolled in the freshman classes of U.S. colleges and universities. They came from wealthy families, middle-income families, poor families; from all races, here and abroad; from virtually every religious faith.

Over the next ten years, the number of students will grow enormously. Around 1964 the long-predicted "tidal wave" of young people, born in the postwar era and steadily moving upward through the nation's school systems ever since, will engulf the college campuses. By 1970 the population between the ages of 18 and 21—now around 10.2 million—will have grown to 14.6 million. College enrollment, now less than 4 million, will be at least 6.4 million, and perhaps far more.

The character of the student bodies will also have changed. More than half of the full-time students in the country's four-year colleges are already coming from lower-middle and low income groups. With expanding scholarship, loan, and self-help programs, this trend will continue strong. Non-white college students—who in the past decade have more than doubled in number and now compose about 7 per cent of the total enrollment—will continue to increase. (Non-whites formed 11.4 per cent of the U.S. population in the 1960 census.) The number of married students will grow. The average age of students will continue its recent rise.

The sheer force of this great wave of students is enough to take one's breath away. Against this force, what chance has American higher education to stand strong, to maintain standards, to improve quality, to keep sight of the individual student?

And, as part of the gigantic population swell, what chances have your children?

TO BOTH QUESTIONS, there are some encouraging answers. At the same time, the intelligent parent will not ignore some danger signals.

FINDING ROOM FOR EVERYBODY

NOT EVERY COLLEGE or university in the country is able to expand its student capacity. A number have concluded that, for one persuasive reason or another, they must maintain their present enrollments. They are not blind to the need of American higher education, in the aggregate, to accommodate more students in the years ahead; indeed, they are keenly aware of it. But for reasons of finance, of faculty limitations, of space, of philosophy, of function, of geographic location—or of a combination of these and other restrictions—they cannot grow.

Many other institutions, public and private, are expanding their enrollment capacities and will continue to do so:

Private institutions: Currently, colleges and universities under independent auspices enroll around 1,500,000 students—some 40 per cent of the U.S. college population. In the future, many privately supported institutions will grow, but slowly in comparison with publicly supported institutions. Thus the total number of students at private institutions will rise, but their percentage of the total college population will become smaller.

Public institutions: State and locally supported colleges and universities are expanding their capacity steadily. In the years ahead they will carry by far the heaviest share of America's growing student population.

Despite their growth, many of them are already feeling the strain of the burden. Many state institutions, once committed to accepting any resident with a high-school diploma, are now imposing entrance requirements upon applicants. Others, required by law or long tradition not to turn away any high-school graduate who applies, resort in desperation to a high flunk-out rate in the freshman year in order to whittle down their student bodies to manageable size. In other states, coordinated systems of higher education are being devised to accommodate students of differing aptitudes, high-school academic records, and career goals.

Two-year colleges: Growing at a faster rate than any other segment of U.S. higher education is a group comprising both public and independently supported institutions: the two-year, or "junior," colleges. Approximately 600 now exist in the United States, and experts estimate that an average of at least 20 per year will be established in the coming decade. More than 400 of the two-year institutions are community colleges, located within commuting distance of their students.

These colleges provide three main services: education for students who will later transfer to four-year colleges or universities (studies show they often do as well as those who go directly from high school to a four-year institution, and sometimes better), terminal training for vocations (more and more important as jobs require higher technical skills), and adult education and community cultural activities.

Evidence of their importance: One out of every four students beginning higher education today does so in a two-year college. By 1975, the ratio is likely to be one in two.

Branch campuses: To meet local demands for educational institutions, some state universities have opened branches in population centers distant from their main campuses. The trend is likely to continue. On occasion, however, the "branch campus" concept may conflict with the "community college" concept. In Ohio, for example, proponents of community two-year colleges are currently arguing that locally controlled community institutions are the best answer to the state's college-enrollment problems. But Ohio State University, Ohio University, and Miami University, which operate off-campus centers and whose leaders advocate the establishment of more, say that taxpayers get better value at lower cost from a university-run branch-campus system.

Coordinated systems: To meet both present and future demands for higher education, a number of states are attempting to coordinate their existing colleges and universities and to lay long-range plans for developing new ones.

California, a leader in such efforts, has a "master plan" involving not only the three main types of publicly supported institutions—the state university, state colleges, and locally sponsored two-year colleges. Private institutions voluntarily take part in the master planning, also.

With at least 661,000 students expected in their colleges and universities by 1975, Californians have worked out a plan under which every high-school graduate will be eligible to attend a junior college; the top one-third will be eligible for admission to a state college; and the top one-eighth will be eligible to go directly from high school to the University of California. The plan is flexible: students who prove themselves in a junior college, for example, may transfer to the university. If past experience is a guide, many will—with notable academic success.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY PEGGY SOUCHECK

THUS IT IS LIKELY that somewhere in America's nearly 2,000 colleges and universities there will be room for your children.

How will you—and they—find it?

On the same day in late May of last year, 33,559 letters went out to young people who had applied for admission to the 1961 freshman class in one or more of the eight schools that compose the Ivy League. Of these letters, 20,248 were rejection notices.

Not all of the 20,248 had been misguided in applying. Admissions officers testify that the quality of the 1961 applicants was higher than ever before, that the competition was therefore intense, and that many applicants who might have been welcomed in other years had to be turned away in '61.

Even so, as in years past, a number of the applicants had been the victims of bad advice—from parents, teachers, and friends. Had they applied to other institutions, equally or better suited to their aptitudes and abilities, they would have been accepted gladly, avoiding the bitter disappointment, and the occasional tragedy, of a turndown.

The Ivy League experience can be, and is, repeated in dozens of other colleges and universities every spring. Yet, while some institutions are rejecting more applications than they can accept, others (perhaps better qualified to meet the rejected students' needs) still have openings in their freshman classes on registration day.

Educators, both in the colleges and in the secondary schools, are aware of the problems in "marrying" the right students to the right colleges. An intensive effort is under way to relieve them. In the future, you may expect:

► Better guidance by high-school counselors, based on improved testing methods and on improved understanding of individual colleges and their offerings.

► Better definitions, by individual colleges and universities, of their philosophies of admission, their criteria for choosing students, their strengths in meeting the needs of certain types of student and their weakness in meeting the needs of others.

► Less parental pressure on their offspring to attend: the college or university that mother or father attended; the college or university that "everybody else's children" are attending; the college or university that enjoys the greatest sports-page prestige, the greatest financial-page prestige, or the greatest society-page prestige in town.

► More awareness that children are different from one another, that colleges are different from one another, and that a happy match of children and institutions is within the reach of any parent (and student) who takes the pains to pursue it intelligently.

► Exploration—but probably, in the near future, no widespread adoption—of a central clearing-house for college applications, with students stating their choices of colleges in preferential order and colleges similarly listing their choices of students. The "clearing-house" would thereupon match students and institutions according to their preferences.

Despite the likely growth of these practices, applying to college may well continue to be part-chaos, part-panic, part-snobishness for years to come. But with the aid of enlightened parents and educators, it will be less so, tomorrow, than it is today.

What will they find in college?

THE COLLEGE OF TOMORROW—the one your children will find when they get in—is likely to differ from the college you knew in your days as a student.

The students themselves will be different.

Curricula will be different.

Extracurricular activities will be different, in many respects, from what they were in your day.

The college year, as well as the college day, may be different.

Modes of study will be different.

With one or two conspicuous exceptions, the changes will be for the better. But for better or for worse, changes there will be.

THE NEW BREED OF STUDENTS

IT WILL COME AS NEWS to no parents that their children are different from themselves.

Academically, they are proving to be more serious than many of their predecessor generations. Too serious, some say. They enter college with an eye already set on the vocation they hope to pursue when they get out; college, to many, is simply the means to that end.

Many students plan to marry as soon as they can afford to, and some even before they can afford to. They want families, homes, a fair amount of leisure, good jobs, security. They dream not of a far-distant future; today's students are impatient to translate their dreams into reality, soon.

Like most generalizations, these should be qualified. There will be students who are quite far from the average, and this is as it should be. But with international tensions, recurrent war threats, military-service obligations, and talk of utter destruction of the race, the tendency is for the young to want to cram their lives full of living—with no unnecessary delays, please.

At the moment, there is little likelihood that the urge to pace one's life quickly and seriously will soon pass. This is the tempo the adult world has set for its young, and they will march doubletime to it.

Economic backgrounds of students will continue to grow more diverse. In recent years, thanks to scholarships, student loans, and the spectacular growth of public educational institutions, higher education has become less and less the exclusive province of the sons and daughters of the well-to-do. The spread of scholarship and loan programs geared to family income levels will intensify this trend, not only in low-tuition public colleges and universities but in high-tuition private institutions.

Students from foreign countries will flock to the U.S. for college education, barring a totally deteriorated international situation. Last year 53,107 foreign students, from 143 countries and political areas, were enrolled in 1,666 American colleges and universities—almost a 10 per cent increase over the year before. Growing numbers of African and Asian students accounted for the rise; the growth is virtually certain to continue. The presence of such students on U.S. campuses—50 per cent of them are undergraduates—has already contributed to a greater international awareness on the part of American students. The influence is bound to grow.

Foreign study by U.S. students is increasing. In 1959-60, the most recent year reported, 15,306 were enrolled in 63 foreign countries, a 12 per cent increase in a period of 12 months. Students traveling abroad during summer vacations add impressive numbers to this total.

WHAT THEY'LL STUDY

STUDIES ARE in the course of change, and the changes will affect your children. A new toughness in academic standards will reflect the great amount of knowledge that must be imparted in the college years.

In the sciences, changes are particularly obvious. Every decade, writes Thomas Stelson of Carnegie Tech, 25 per cent of the curriculum must be abandoned, due to obsolescence. J. Robert Oppenheimer puts it another way: nearly everything now known in science, he says, "was not in any book when most of us went to school."

There will be differences in the social sciences and humanities, as well. Language instruction, now getting new emphasis, is an example. The use of language laboratories, with tape recordings and other mechanical devices, is already popular and will spread. Schools once preoccupied almost entirely with science and technology (e.g., colleges of engineering, leading medical schools) have now integrated social and humanistic studies into their curricula, and the trend will spread to other institutions.

International emphasis also will grow. The big push will be related to nations and regions outside the Western World. For the first time on a large scale, the involvement of U.S. higher education will be truly global. This non-Western orientation, says one college president (who is seconded by many others) is "the new frontier in American higher education." For undergraduates, comparative studies in both the social sciences and the humanities are likely to be stressed. The hoped-for result: better understanding of the human experience in all cultures.

Mechanics of teaching will improve. "Teaching machines" will be used more and more, as educators assess their value and versatility (see Who will teach them? on the following pages). Closed-circuit television will carry a lecturer's voice and closeup views of his demonstrations to hundreds of students simultaneously. TV and microfilm will grow in usefulness as library tools, enabling institutions to duplicate, in small space, the resources of distant libraries and specialized rare-book collections. Tape recordings will put music and drama, performed by masters, on every campus. Computers, already becoming almost commonplace, will be used for more and more study and research purposes.

This availability of resources unheard-of in their parents' day will enable undergraduates to embark on extensive programs of independent study. Under careful faculty guidance, independent study will equip students with research ability, problem-solving techniques, and bibliographic savvy which should be of immense value to them throughout their lives. Many of yesterday's college graduates still don't know how to work creatively in unfamiliar intellectual territory: to pinpoint a problem, formulate intelligent questions, use a library, map a research project. There will be far fewer gaps of this sort in the training of tomorrow's students.

Great new stress on quality will be found at all institutions. Impending explosive growth of the college population has put the spotlight, for years, on handling large numbers of students; this has worried educators who feared that quality might be lost in a national preoccupation with quantity. Big institutions, particularly those with "growth situations," are now putting emphasis on maintaining high academic standards—and even raising them—while handling high enrollments, too. Honors programs, opportunities for undergraduate research, insistence on creditable scholastic achievement are symptomatic of the concern for academic excellence.

It's important to realize that this emphasis on quality will be found not only in four-year colleges and universities, but in two-year institutions, also. "Each [type of institution] shall strive for excellence in its sphere," is how the California master plan for higher education puts it; the same idea is pervading higher education at all levels throughout the nation.

WHERE'S THE FUN?

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITY has been undergoing subtle changes at colleges and universities for years and is likely to continue doing so. Student apathy toward some activities—political clubs, for example—is lessening. Toward other activities—the light, the frothy—apathy appears to be growing. There is less interest in spectator sports, more interest in participant sports that will be playable for most of a lifetime. Student newspapers, observes the dean of students at a college on the Eastern seaboard, no longer rant about band uniforms, closing hours for fraternity parties, and the need for bigger pep rallies. Sororities are disappearing from the campuses of women's colleges. "Fun festivals" are granted less time and importance by students; at one big midwestern university, for example, the events of May Week—formerly a five-day wingding involving floats, honorary-fraternity initiations, faculty-student baseball, and crowning of the May Queen—are now crammed into one half-day. In spite of the well-publicized antics of a relatively few roof-raisers (e.g., student rioters at several summer resorts last Labor Day, student revelers at Florida resorts during spring-vacation periods), a new seriousness is the keynote of most student activities.

"The faculty and administration are more resistant to these changes than the students are," jokes the president of a women's college in Pittsburgh. "The typical student congress wants to abolish the junior prom; the dean is the one who feels nostalgic about it: 'That's the one event Mrs. Jones and I looked forward to each year.' "

A QUEST FOR ETHICAL VALUES

EDUCATION, more and more educators are saying, "should be much more than the mere retention of subject matter."

Here are three indications of how the thoughts of many educators are running:

"If [the student] enters college and pursues either an intellectual smörgåsbord, intellectual Teutonism, or the cash register," says a midwestern educator, "his education will have advanced very little, if at all. The odds are quite good that he will simply have exchanged one form of barbarism for another . . . Certainly there is no incompatibility between being well-informed and being stupid; such a condition makes the student a danger to himself and society."

Says another observer: "I prophesy that a more serious intention and mood will progressively characterize the campus . . . This means, most of all, commitment to the use of one's learning in fruitful, creative, and noble ways."

"The responsibility of the educated man," says the provost of a state university in New England, "is that he make articulate to himself and to others what he is willing to bet his life on."

Who will teach them?

KNOW THE QUALITY of the teaching that your children can look forward to, and you will know much about the effectiveness of the education they will receive. Teaching, tomorrow as in the past, is the heart of higher education.

It is no secret, by now, that college teaching has been on a plateau of crisis in the U.S. for some years. Much of the problem is traceable to money. Salaries paid to college teachers lagged far behind those paid elsewhere in jobs requiring similarly high talents. While real incomes, as well as dollar incomes, climbed for most other groups of Americans, the real incomes of college professors not merely stood still but dropped noticeably.

The financial pinch became so bad, for some teachers, that despite obvious devotion to their careers and obvious preference for this profession above all others, they had to leave for other jobs. Many bright young people, the sort who ordinarily would be attracted to teaching careers, took one look at the salary scales and decided to make their mark in another field.

Has the situation improved?

Will it be better when your children go to college?

Yes. At the moment, faculty salaries and fringe benefits (on the average) are rising. Since the rise started from an extremely disadvantageous level, however, no one is getting rich in the process. Indeed, on almost every campus the real income in every rank of the faculty is still considerably less than it once was. Nor have faculty salary scales, generally, caught up with the national scales in competitive areas such as business and government.

But the trend is encouraging. If it continues, the financial plight of teachers—and the serious threat to education which it has posed—should be substantially diminished by 1970.

None of this will happen automatically, of course. For evidence, check the appropriations for higher education made at your state legislature's most recent session. If yours was like a number of recent legislatures, it "economized"—and professorial salaries suffered. The support which has enabled many colleges to correct the most glaring salary deficiencies must continue until the problem is fully solved. After that, it is essential to make sure that the quality of our college teaching—a truly crucial element in fashioning the minds and attitudes of your children—is not jeopardized again by a failure to pay its practitioners adequately.

THERE ARE OTHER ANGLES to the question of attracting and retaining a good faculty besides money.

► The better the student body—the more challenging, the more lively its members—the more attractive is the job of teaching it. “Nothing is more certain to make teaching a dreadful task than the feeling that you are dealing with people who have no interest in what you are talking about,” says an experienced professor at a small college in the Northwest.

“An appalling number of the students I have known were bright, tested high on their College Boards, and still lacked flair and drive and persistence,” says another professor. “I have concluded that much of the difference between them and the students who are ‘alive’ must be traceable to their homes, their fathers, their mothers. Parents who themselves take the trouble to be interesting—and interested—seem to send us children who are interesting and interested.”

► The better the library and laboratory facilities, the more likely is a college to be able to recruit and keep a good faculty. Even small colleges, devoted strictly to undergraduate studies, are finding ways to provide their faculty members with opportunities to do independent reading and research. They find it pays in many ways: the faculty teaches better, is more alert to changes in the subject matter, is less likely to leave for other fields.

► The better the public-opinion climate toward teachers in a community, the more likely is a faculty to be strong. Professors may grumble among themselves about all the invitations they receive to speak to women’s clubs and alumni groups (“When am I supposed to find the time to check my lecture notes?”), but they take heart from the high regard for their profession which such invitations from the community represent.

► Part-time consultant jobs are an attraction to good faculty members. (Conversely, one of the principal check-points for many industries seeking new plant sites is, What faculty talent is nearby?) Such jobs provide teachers both with additional income and with enormously useful opportunities to base their classroom teachings on practical, current experience.

BUT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES must do more than hold on to their present good teachers and replace those who retire or resign. Over the next few years many institutions must add to their teaching staffs at a prodigious rate, in order to handle the vastly larger numbers of students who are already forming lines in the admissions office.

The ability to be a college teacher is not a skill that can be acquired overnight, or in a year or two. A Ph.D. degree takes at least four years to get, after one has earned his bachelor’s degree. More often it takes six or seven years, and sometimes 10 to 15.

In every ten-year period since the turn of the century, as Bernard Berelson of Columbia University has pointed out, the production of doctorates in the U.S. has doubled. But only about 60 per cent of Ph.D.’s today go into academic life, compared with about 80 per cent at the turn of the century. And only 20 per cent wind up teaching undergraduates in liberal arts colleges.

Holders of lower degrees, therefore, will occupy many teaching positions on tomorrow’s college faculties.

This is not necessarily bad. A teacher’s ability is not always defined by the number of degrees he is entitled to write after his name. Indeed, said the graduate dean of one great university several years ago, it is high time that "universities have the courage . . . to select men very largely on the quality of work they have done and soft-pedal this matter of degrees."

IN SUMMARY, salaries for teachers will be better, larger numbers of able young people will be attracted into the field (but their preparation will take time), and fewer able people will be lured away. In expanding their faculties, some colleges and universities will accept more holders of bachelor's and master's degrees than they have been accustomed to, but this may force them to focus attention on ability rather than to rely as unquestioningly as in the past on the magic of a doctor's degree.

Meanwhile, other developments provide grounds for cautious optimism about the effectiveness of the teaching your children will receive.

THE TV SCREEN

TELEVISION, not long ago found only in the lounges of dormitories and student unions, is now an accepted teaching tool on many campuses. Its use will grow. "To report on the use of television in teaching," says Arthur S. Adams, past president of the American Council on Education, "is like trying to catch a galloping horse."

For teaching closeup work in dentistry, surgery, and laboratory sciences, closed-circuit TV is unexcelled. The number of students who can gaze into a patient's gaping mouth while a teacher demonstrates how to fill a cavity is limited; when their place is taken by a TV camera and the students cluster around TV screens, scores can watch—and see more, too.

Television, at large schools, has the additional virtue of extending the effectiveness of a single teacher. Instead of giving the same lecture (replete with the same jokes) three times to students filling the campus's largest hall, a professor can now give it once—and be seen in as many auditoriums and classrooms as are needed to accommodate all registrants in his course. Both the professor and the jokes are fresher, as a result.

How effective is TV? Some carefully controlled studies show that students taught from the fluorescent screen do as well in some types of course (e.g., lectures) as those sitting in the teacher's presence, and sometimes better. But TV standardizes instruction to a degree that is not always desirable. And, reports Henry H. Cassirer of UNESCO, who has analyzed television teaching in the U.S., Canada, Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia, and Japan, students do not want to lose contact with their teachers. They want to be able to ask questions as instruction progresses. Mr. Cassirer found effective, on the other hand, the combination of a central TV lecturer with classroom instructors who prepare students for the lecture and then discuss it with them afterward.

TEACHING MACHINES

HOLDING GREAT PROMISE for the improvement of instruction at all levels of schooling, including college, are programs of learning presented through mechanical self-teaching devices, popularly called "teaching machines."

The most widely used machine, invented by Professor Frederick Skinner of Harvard, is a box-like device with three windows in its top. When the student turns a crank, an item of information, along with a question about it, appears in the lefthand window (A). The student writes his answer to the question on a paper strip exposed in another window (B). The student turns the crank again—and the correct answer appears at window A.

Simultaneously, this action moves the student's answer under a transparent shield covering window C, so that the student can see, but not change, what he has written. If the answer is correct, the student turns another crank, causing the tape to be notched; the machine will by-pass this item when the student goes through the series of questions again. Questions are arranged so that each item builds on previous information the machine has given.

Such self-teaching devices have these advantages:

- Each student can proceed at his own pace, whereas classroom lectures must be paced to the "average" student—too fast for some, too slow for others. "With a machine," comments a University of Rochester psychologist, "the brighter student could go ahead at a very fast pace."
- The machine makes examinations and testing a rewarding and learning experience, rather than a punishment. If his answer is correct, the student is rewarded with that knowledge instantly; this reinforces his memory of the right information. If the answer is incorrect, the machine provides the correct answer immediately. In large classes, no teacher can provide such frequent—and individual—rewards and immediate corrections.
- The machine smooths the ups and downs in the learning process by removing some external sources of anxieties, such as fear of falling behind.

► If a student is having difficulty with a subject, the teacher can check back over his machine tapes and find the exact point at which the student began to go wrong. Correction of the difficulty can be made with precision, not gropingly as is usually necessary in machineless classes.

Not only do the machines give promise of accelerating the learning process; they introduce an individuality to learning which has previously been unknown. "Where television holds the danger of standardized instruction," said John W. Gardner, president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, in a report to then-President Eisenhower, "the self-teaching device can individualize instruction in ways not now possible—and the student is always an active participant." Teaching machines are being tested, and used, on a number of college campuses and seem certain to figure prominently in the teaching of your children.

Will they graduate?

S AID AN ADMINISTRATOR at a university in the South not long ago (he was the director of admissions, no less, and he spoke not entirely in jest):

"I'm happy I went to college back when I did, instead of now. Today, the admissions office probably wouldn't let me in. If they did, I doubt that I'd last more than a semester or two."

Getting into college is a problem, nowadays. Staying there, once in, can be even more difficult.

Here are some of the principal reasons why many students fail to finish:

Academic failure: For one reason or another—not always connected with a lack of aptitude or potential scholastic ability—many students fail to make the grade. Low entrance requirements, permitting students to enter college without sufficient aptitude or previous preparation, also play a big part. In schools where only a high-school diploma is required for admission, drop-outs and failures during the first two years average (nationally) between 60 and 70 per cent. Normally selective admissions procedures usually cut this rate down to between 20 and 40 per cent. Where admissions are based on keen competition, the attrition rate is 10 per cent or less.

FUTURE OUTLOOK: High schools are tightening their academic standards, insisting upon greater effort by students, and teaching the techniques of note-taking, effective studying, and library use. Such measures will inevitably better the chances of students when they reach college. Better testing and counseling programs should help, by guiding less-able students away from institutions where they'll be beyond their depth and into institutions better suited to their abilities and needs. Growing popular acceptance of the two-year college concept will also help, as will the adoption of increasingly selective admissions procedures by four-year colleges and universities.

Parents can help by encouraging activities designed to find the right academic spot for their children; by recognizing their children's strengths and limitations; by creating an atmosphere in which children will be encouraged to read, to study, to develop curiosity, to accept new ideas.

Poor motivation: Students drop out of college "not only because they lack ability but because they do not have the motivation for serious study," say persons who have studied the attrition problem. This aspect of students' failure to finish college is attracting attention from educators and administrators both in colleges and in secondary schools.

FUTURE OUTLOOK: Extensive research is under way to determine whether motivation can be measured. The "Personal Values Inventory," developed by scholars at Colgate University, is one promising yardstick, providing information about a student's long-range persistence, personal self-control, and deliberateness (as opposed to rashness). Many colleges and universities are participating in the study, in an effort to establish the efficacy of the tests. Thus far, report the Colgate researchers, "the tests have successfully differentiated between over- and under-achievers in every college included in the sample."

Parents can help by their own attitudes toward scholastic achievement and by encouraging their children to develop independence from adults. "This, coupled with the reflected image that a person acquires from his parents—an image relating to persistence and other traits and values—may have much to do with his orientation toward academic success," the Colgate investigators say.

Money: Most parents think they know the cost of sending a child to college. But, a recent survey shows, relatively few of them actually do. The average parent, the survey disclosed, underestimates college costs by roughly 40 per cent. In such a situation, parental savings for college purposes often run out quickly—and, unless the student can fill the gap with scholarship aid, a loan, or earnings from part-time employment, he drops out.

FUTURE OUTLOOK: A surprisingly high proportion of financial dropouts are children of middle-income, not low-income, families. If parents would inform themselves fully about current college costs—and reinform themselves periodically, since prices tend to go up—a substantial part of this problem could be solved in the future by realistic family savings programs.

Other probabilities: growing federal and state (as well as private) scholarship programs; growing private and governmental loan programs.

Jobs: Some students, anxious to strike out on their own, are lured from college by jobs requiring little skill but offering attractive starting salaries. Many such students may have hesitated about going to college in the first place and drop out at the first opportunity.

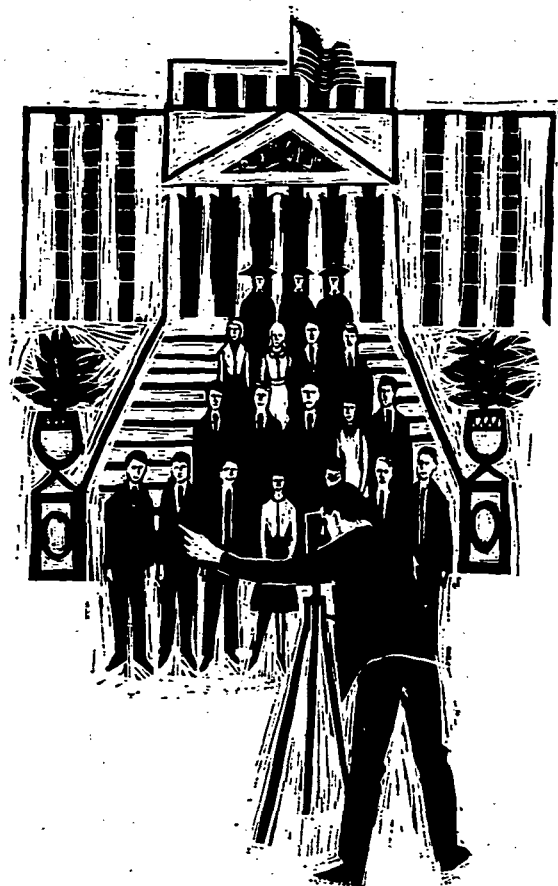

FUTURE OUTLOOK: The lure of jobs will always tempt some students, but awareness of the value of completing college—for lifelong financial gain, if for no other reason—is increasing.

Emotional problems: Some students find themselves unable to adjust to college life and drop out as a result. Often such problems begin when a student chooses a college that's "wrong" for him. It may accord him too much or too little freedom; its pace may be too swift for him, resulting in frustration, or too slow, resulting in boredom; it may be "too social" or "not social enough."

FUTURE OUTLOOK: With expanding and more skillful guidance counseling and psychological testing, more students can expect to be steered to the "right" college environment. This won't entirely eliminate the emotional-maladjustment problem, but it should ease it substantially.

Marriage: Many students marry while still in college but fully expect to continue their education. A number do go on (sometimes wives withdraw from college to earn money to pay their husbands' educational expenses). Others have children before graduating and must drop out of college in order to support their family.

FUTURE OUTLOOK: The trend toward early marriage shows no signs of abating. Large numbers of parents openly or tacitly encourage children to go steady and to marry at an early age. More and more colleges are providing living quarters for married undergraduate students. Some even have day-care facilities for students' young children. Attitudes and customs in their "peer groups" will continue to influence young people on the question of marrying early; in some groups, it's frowned upon; in others, it's the thing to do.

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES are deeply interested in finding solutions to the attrition problem in all its aspects. Today, at many institutions, enrollment resembles a pyramid: the freshman class, at the bottom, is big; the sophomore class is smaller, the junior class still smaller, and the senior class a mere fraction of the freshman group. Such pyramids are wasteful, expensive, inefficient. They represent hundreds, sometimes thousands, of personal tragedies: young people who didn't make it.

The goal of the colleges is to change the pyramid into a straight-sided figure, with as many people graduating as enter the freshman class. In the college of tomorrow, the sides will not yet have attained the perfect vertical, but—as a result of improved placement, admissions, and academic practices—they should slope considerably less than they do now.

What will college have done for them?

IF YOUR CHILDREN are like about 33 per cent of today's college graduates, they will not end their formal education when they get their bachelor's degrees. On they'll go—to graduate school, to a professional school, or to an advanced technological institution.

There are good reasons for their continuing:

- ▶ In four years, nowadays, one can only begin to scratch the surface of the body of knowledge in his specialty. To teach, or to hold down a high-ranking job in industry or government, graduate study is becoming more and more useful and necessary.

- ▶ Automation, in addition to eliminating jobs in unskilled categories, will have an increasingly strong effect on persons holding jobs in middle management and middle technology. Competition for survival will be intense. Many students will decide that one way of competing advantageously is to take as much formal education beyond the baccalaureate as they can get.

- ▶ One way in which women can compete successfully with men for high-level positions is to be equipped with a graduate degree when they enter the job market.

- ▶ Students heading for school-teaching careers will increasingly be urged to concentrate on substantive studies in their undergraduate years and to take methodology courses in a postgraduate schooling period. The same will be true in many other fields.

- ▶ Shortages are developing in some professions, e.g., medicine. Intensive efforts will be made to woo more top undergraduates into professional schools, and opportunities in short-supplied professions will become increasingly attractive.

- ▶ "Skills," predicts a Presidential committee, "may become obsolete in our fast-moving industrial society. Sound education provides a basis for adjustment to constant and abrupt change—a base on which new skills may be built." The moral will not be lost on tomorrow's students.

In addition to having such practical motives, tomorrow's students will be influenced by a growing tendency to expose them to graduate-level work while they are still undergraduates. Independent study will give them a taste of the intellectual satisfaction to be derived from learning on their own. Graduate-style seminars, with their stimulating give-and-take of fact and opinion, will exert a strong appeal. As a result, for able students the distinction between undergraduate and graduate work will become blurred and meaningless. Instead of arbitrary insistence upon learning in two-year or four-year units, there will be more attention paid to the length of time a student requires—and desires—to immerse himself in the specialty that interests him.

AND EVEN with graduate or professional study, education is not likely to end for your children.

Administrators in the field of adult education—or, more accurately, "continuing education"—expect that within a decade the number of students under their wing will exceed the number of undergraduates in American colleges and universities.

"Continuing education," says Paul A. McGhee, dean of New York University's Division of General Education (where annually some 17,000 persons enroll in around 1,200 non-credit courses) "is primarily the education of the already educated." The more education you have, the more you are likely to want. Since more and more people will go to college, it follows that more and more people will seek knowledge throughout their lives.

We are, say adult-education leaders, departing from the old notion that one works to live. In this day of automation and urbanization, a new concept is emerging: "time," not "work," is the paramount factor in people's lives. Leisure takes on a new meaning: along with golf, boating, and partying, it now includes study. And he who forsakes gardening for studying is less and less likely to be regarded as the neighborhood oddball.

Certain to vanish are the last vestiges of the stigma that has long attached to "night school." Although the concept of night school as a place for educating only the illiterate has changed, many who have studied at night—either for credit or for fun and intellectual stimulation—have felt out of step, somehow. But such views are obsolescent and soon will be obsolete.

Thus far, American colleges and universities—with notable exceptions—have not led the way in providing continuing education for their alumni. Most alumni have been forced to rely on local boards of education and other civic and social groups to provide lectures, classes, discussion groups. These have been inadequate, and institutions of higher education can be expected to assume unprecedented roles in the continuing-education field.

Alumni and alumnae are certain to demand that they take such leadership. Wrote Clarence B. Randall in The New York Times Magazine: "At institution after institution there has come into being an organized and articulate group of devoted graduates who earnestly believe . . . that the college still has much to offer them."

When colleges and universities respond on a large scale to the growing demand for continuing education, the variety of courses is likely to be enormous. Already, in institutions where continuing education is an accepted role, the range is from space technology to existentialism to funeral direction. (When the University of California offered non-credit courses in the first-named subject to engineers and physicists, the combined enrollment reached 4,643.) "From the world of astronauts, to the highest of ivory towers, to six feet under," is how one wag has described the phenomenon.

SOME OTHER LIKELY FEATURES of your children, after they are graduated from tomorrow's colleges:

- They'll have considerably more political sophistication than did the average person who marched up to get a diploma in their parents' day. Political parties now have active student groups on many campuses and publish material beamed specifically at undergraduates. Student-government organizations are developing sophisticated procedures. Nonpartisan as well as partisan groups, operating on a national scale, are fanning student interest in current political affairs.

- They'll have an international orientation that many of their parents lacked when they left the campuses. The presence of more foreign students in their classes, the emphasis on courses dealing with global affairs, the front pages of their daily newspapers will all contribute to this change. They will find their international outlook useful: a recent government report predicts that "25 years from now, one college graduate in four will find at least part of his career abroad in such places as Rio de Janeiro, Dakar, Beirut, Leopoldville, Sydney, Melbourne, or Toronto."

- They'll have an awareness of unanswered questions, to an extent that their parents probably did not have. Principles that once were regarded (and taught) as incontrovertible fact are now regarded (and taught) as subject to constant alteration, thanks to the frequent toppling of long-held ideas in today's explosive sciences and technologies. Says one observer: "My student generation, if it looked at the world, didn't know it was 'loaded'. Today's student has no such ignorance."

- They'll possess a broad-based liberal education, but in their jobs many of them are likely to specialize more narrowly than did their elders. "It is a rare bird today who knows all about contemporary physics and all about modern mathematics," said one of the world's most distinguished scientists not long ago, "and if he exists, I haven't found him. Because of the rapid growth of science it has become impossible for one man to master any large part of it; therefore, we have the necessity of specialization."

- Your daughters are likely to be impatient with the prospect of devoting their lives solely to unskilled labor as housewives. Not only will more of tomorrow's women graduates embark upon careers when they receive their diplomas, but more of them will keep up their contacts with vocational interests even during their period of child-rearing. And even before the children are grown, more of them will return to the working force, either as paid employees or as highly skilled volunteers.

DEPENDING UPON THEIR OWN OUTLOOK, parents of tomorrow's graduates will find some of the prospects good, some of them deplorable. In essence, however, the likely trends of tomorrow are only continuations of trends that are clearly established today, and moving inexorably.

Who will pay—and how?

WILL YOU BE ABLE to afford a college education for your children? The tuition? The travel expense? The room rent? The board?

In addition:

Will you be able to pay considerably more than is written on the price-tags for these items?

The stark truth is that you—or somebody—must pay, if your children are to go to college and get an education as good as the education you received.

HERE is where colleges and universities get their money:

From taxes paid to governments at all levels: city, state, and federal. Governments now appropriate an estimated $2.9 billion in support of higher education every year. By 1970 government support will have grown to roughly $4 billion.

From private gifts and grants. These now provide nearly $1 billion annually. By 1970 they must provide about $2.019 billion. Here is where this money is likely to come from:

Alumni.....	$ 505,000,000 (25%)
Non-alumni individuals	505,000,000 (25%)
Business corporations	505,000,000 (25%)
Foundations	262,000,000 (13%)
Religious denominations	242,000,000 (12%)
Total voluntary support, 1970..	$2,019,000,000

From endowment earnings. These now provide around $210 million a year. By 1970 endowment will produce around $333 million a year.

From tuition and fees. These now provide around $1.2 billion (about 21 per cent of college and university funds). By 1970 they must produce about $2.1 billion (about 23.5 per cent of all funds).

From other sources. Miscellaneous income now provides around $410 million annually. By 1970 the figure is expected to be around $585 million.

These estimates, made by the independent Council for Financial Aid to Education*, are based on the "best available" estimates of the expected growth in enrollment in America's colleges and universities: from slightly less than 4 million this year to about 6.4 million in the academic year 1969-70. The total income that the colleges and universities will require in 1970 to handle this enrollment will be on the order of $9 billion—compared with the $5.6 billion that they received and spent in 1959-60.

WHO PAYS?

VIRTUALLY EVERY SOURCE of funds, of course—however it is labeled—boils down to you. Some of the money, you pay directly: tuition, fees, gifts to the colleges and universities that you support. Other funds pass, in a sense, through channels—your church, the several levels of government to which you pay taxes, the business corporations with which you deal or in which you own stock. But, in the last analysis, individual persons are the source of them all.

Hence, if you wished to reduce your support of higher education, you could do so. Conversely (as is presumably the case with most enlightened parents and with most college alumni and alumnae), if you wished to increase it, you could do that, also—with your vote and your check-book. As is clearly evident in the figures above, it is essential that you substantially increase both your direct and your indirect support of higher education between now and 1970, if tomorrow's colleges and universities are to give your children the education that you would wish for them.

THE MONEY YOU'LL NEED

SINCE IT REQUIRES long-range planning and long-range voluntary saving, for most families the most difficult part of financing their children's education is paying the direct costs: tuition, fees, room, board, travel expenses.

These costs vary widely from institution to institution. At government-subsidized colleges and universities, for example, tuition fees for state residents may be non-existent or quite low. At community colleges, located within commuting distance of their students' homes, room and board expenses may consist only of what parents are already paying for housing and food. At independent (non-governmental) colleges and universities, the costs may be considerably higher.

*To whose research staff the editors are indebted for most of the financial projections cited in this section of their report. CFAE statisticians, using and comparing three methods of projection, built their estimates on available hard figures and carefully reasoned assumptions about the future.

In 1960-61, here is what the average male student spent at the average institution of higher education, including junior colleges, in each of the two categories (public and private):

	Public Institutions	Private Institutions
Tuition.....	$179	$ 676
Board.....	383	404
Room.....	187	216
Total.....	$749	$1,296

These, of course, are "hard-core" costs only, representing only part of the expense. The average annual bill for an unmarried student is around $1,550. This conservative figure, provided by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan for the U.S. Office of Education, does not include such items as clothing. And, as we have attempted to stress by italicizing the word "average" wherever it appears, the bill can be considerably higher, as well as somewhat lower. At a private college for women (which is likely to get relatively little money from other sources and must therefore depend heavily upon tuition income) the hard-core costs alone may now run as high as $2,600 per year.

Every parent must remember that costs will inevitably rise, not fall, in the years ahead. In 1970, according to one estimate, the cost of four years at the average state university will be $5,800; at the average private college, $11,684.

HOW TO AFFORD IT?

SUCH SUMS represent a healthy part of most families' resources. Hard-core costs alone equal, at public institutions, about 13 per cent of the average American family's annual income; at private institutions, about 23 per cent of average annual income.

How do families afford it? How can you afford it?

Here is how the typical family pays the current average bill of $1,550 per year:

Parents contribute.....	$950
Scholarships defray.....	130
The student earns.....	360
Other sources yield.....	110

Nearly half of all parents begin saving money for their children's college education well before their children are ready to enroll. Fourteen per cent report that they borrow money to help meet college costs. Some 27 per cent take on extra work, to earn more money. One in five mothers does additional work in order to help out.

Financing the education of one's children is obviously, for many families, a scramble—a piecing-together of many sources of funds.

Is such scrambling necessary? The question can be answered only on a family-by-family basis. But these generalizations do seem valid:

► Many parents think they are putting aside enough money to pay most of the costs of sending their children to college. But most parents seriously underestimate what these costs will be. The only solution: Keep posted, by checking college costs periodically. What was true of college costs yesterday (and even of the figures in this report, as nearly current as they are) is not necessarily true of college costs today. It will be even less true of college costs tomorrow.

► If they knew what college costs really were, and what they are likely to be in the years when their children are likely to enroll, many parents could save enough money. They would start saving earlier and more persistently. They would gear their family budgets to the need. They would revise their savings programs from time to time, as they obtained new information about cost changes.

► Many parents count on scholarships to pay their children's way. For upper-middle-income families, this reliance can be disastrous. By far the greatest number of scholarships are now awarded on the basis of financial need, largely determined by level of family income. (Colleges and other scholarship sources are seriously concerned about the fact, indicated by several studies, that at least 100,000 of the country's high-school graduates each year are unable to attend college, primarily for financial reasons.) Upper-middle-income families are among those most seriously affected by the sudden realization that they have failed to save enough for their children's education.

► Loan programs make sense. Since going to college sometimes costs as much as buying a house (which most families finance through long-term borrowing), long-term repayment of college costs, by students or their parents, strikes many people as highly logical.

Loans can be obtained from government and from private bankers. Just last spring, the most ambitious private loan program yet developed was put into operation: United Student Aid Funds, Inc., is the backer, with headquarters at 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N.Y. It is raising sufficient capital to underwrite a reserve fund to endorse $500 million worth of long-term, low-interest bank loans to students. Affiliated state committees, established by citizen groups, will act as the direct contact agencies for students.

In the 1957-58 academic year, loans for educational purposes totaled only $115 million. Last year they totaled an estimated $430 million. By comparison, scholarships from all sources last year amounted to only $160 million.

IS THE COST TOO HIGH?

HIGH AS THEY SEEM, tuition rates are bargains, in this sense: They do not begin to pay the cost of providing a college education.

On the national average, colleges and universities must receive between three and four additional dollars for every one dollar that they collect from students, in order to provide their services. At public institutions, the ratio of non-tuition money to tuition money is greater than the average: the states typically spend more than $700 for every student enrolled.

Even the gross cost of higher education is low, when put in perspective. In terms of America's total production of goods and services, the proportion of the gross national product spent for higher education is only 1.3 per cent, according to government statistics.

To put salaries and physical plant on a sound footing, colleges must spend more money, in relation to the gross national product, than they have been spending in the past. Before they can spend it, they must get it. From what sources?

Using the current and the 1970 figures that were cited earlier, tuition will probably have to carry, on the average, about 2 per cent more of the share of total educational costs than it now carries. Governmental support, although increasing by about a billion dollars, will actually carry about 7 per cent less of the total cost than it now does. Endowment income's share will remain about the same as at present. Revenues in the category of "other sources" can be expected to decline by about .8 per cent, in terms of their share of the total load. Private gifts and grants—from alumni, non-alumni individuals, businesses and unions, philanthropic foundations, and religious denominations—must carry about 6 per cent more of the total cost in 1970, if higher education is not to founder.

Alumnae and alumni, to whom colleges and universities must look for an estimated 25 per cent ($505 million) of such gifts: please note.

CAN COLLEGES BE MORE EFFICIENT?

INDUSTRIAL COST ACCOUNTANTS—and, not infrequently, other business men—sometimes tear their hair over the "inefficiencies" they see in higher education. Physical facilities—classrooms, for example—are in use for only part of the 24-hour day, and sometimes they stand idle for three months in summertime. Teachers "work"—i.e., actually stand in the front of their classes—for only a fraction of industry's 40-hour week. (The hours devoted to preparation and research, without which a teacher would soon become a purveyor of dangerously outdated misinformation, don't show on formal teaching schedules and are thus sometimes overlooked by persons making a judgment in terms of business efficiency.) Some courses are given for only a handful of students. (What a waste of space and personnel, some cost analysts say.)

A few of these "inefficiencies" are capable of being curbed, at least partially. The use of physical facilities is being increased at some institutions through the provision of night lectures and lab courses. Summer schools and year-round schedules are raising the rate of plant utilization. But not all schools are so situated that they can avail themselves of even these economies.

The president of the Rochester (N.Y.) Chamber of Commerce observed not long ago:

"The heart of the matter is simply this: To a great extent, the very thing which is often referred to as the 'inefficient' or 'unbusinesslike' phase of a liberal arts college's operation is really but an accurate reflection of its true essential nature . . . [American business and industry] have to understand that much of liberal education which is urgently worth saving cannot be justified on a dollars-and-cents basis."

In short, although educators have as much of an obligation as anyone else to use money wisely, you just can't run a college like a railroad. Your children would be cheated, if anybody tried.

In sum:

WHEN YOUR CHILDREN go to college, what will college be like? Their college will, in short, be ready for them. Its teaching staff will be competent and complete. Its courses will be good and, as you would wish them to be, demanding of the best talents that your children possess. Its physical facilities will surpass those you knew in your college years. The opportunities it will offer your children will be limitless.

If.

That is the important word.

Between now and 1970 (a date that the editors arbitrarily selected for most of their projections, although the date for your children may come sooner or it may come later), much must be done to build the strength of America's colleges and universities. For, between now and 1970, they will be carrying an increasingly heavy load in behalf of the nation.

They will need more money—considerably more than is now available to them—and they will need to obtain much of it from you.

They will need, as always, the understanding by thoughtful portions of the citizenry (particularly their own alumni and alumnae) of the subtleties, the sensitiveness, the fine balances of freedom and responsibility without which the mechanism of higher education cannot function.

They will need, if they are to be of highest service to your children, the best aid which you are capable of giving as a parent: the preparation of your children to value things of the mind, to know the joy of meeting and overcoming obstacles, and to develop their own personal independence.

Your children are members of the most promising American generation. (Every new generation, properly, is so regarded.) To help them realize their promise is a job to which the colleges and universities are dedicated. It is their supreme function. It is the job to which you, as parent, are also dedicated. It is your supreme function.

With your efforts and the efforts of the college of tomorrow, your children's future can be brilliant. If.

“The College of Tomorrow”

Washington 6, D.C. All rights reserved; no part of this supplement may be reproduced without express permission of the editors. Printed in U.S.A.

JAMES E. ARMSTRONG
The University of Notre Dame

RANDOLPH L. FORT
Emory University

WALDO C. M. JOHNSTON
Yale University

ROBERT M. RHODES
The University of Pennsylvania

CHARLES E. WIDMAYER
Dartmouth College

DENTON BEAL
Carnegie Institute of Technology

MARALYN O. GILLESPIE
Swarthmore College

JEAN D. LINEHAN
American Alumni Council

STANLEY SAPLIN
New York University

REBA WILCOXON
The University of Arkansas

CHESLEY WORTHINGTON
Brown University

DAVID A. BURR
The University of Oklahoma

L. FRANKLIN HEALD
The University of New Hampshire

JOHN W. PATON
Wesleyan University

VERNE A. STADTMAN
The University of California

RONALD A. WOLK
The Johns Hopkins University

CORBIN GWALTNEY
Executive Editor

DANIEL S. ENDSLEY
Stanford University

CHARLES M. HELMKEN
American Alumni Council

ROBERT L. PAYTON
Washington University

FRANK J. TATE
The Ohio State University

ELIZABETH BOND WOOD
Sweet Briar College

FRANCES PROVENCE
Baylor University

• Notre Dame Image

Continued from page 32

As an added personal observation, I prefer to have a blend of the genius and the long-hair and the egghead with the normal and the common-sense, on the campus, so that the benefits and handicaps of each become a matter of acquaintance and analysis before they meet in the more rigid and prejudiced areas of adult differences.

There are other areas of discussion. Is Notre Dame less religious than when Father O'Hara (the late Cardinal) was prefect of religion? The target of that era was the practicing Catholic, and Notre Dame graduates stood out in later life as pillars of practicing Catholicity. Today's students not only have facilities for the practice of their Faith which exceed those of any previous era, but their religious life is augmented by the teaching and the activity which prepares them for the increasing social intensity of Catholic lay action and apologetics. So the religious image too has altered with the times, but without essential change, certainly without essential loss.

Conclusion

The conclusion I have drawn is simply this — when we hold the mirror up to nature, in this case Notre Dame, make sure it is not a fun-house mirror, which gives us a distorted reflection.

Actually, the true secondary image of Notre Dame is a great and growing image with complex but constructive sides. It will never overshadow the primary golden image, but it will continue to grow and we should let our understanding match this growth.

The traditional Notre Dame is here; the athletic Notre Dame is here; the welcome for qualified applicants is here; the personal Notre Dame is here; the intellectual Notre Dame is here; and the religious Notre Dame is here.

If we see that this image is not solely the one we prefer, or if we see that the image has not really lost the one we want, then we will be on our way back to what really made Notre Dame great through all the years, the ability of the University to be all of these great things, in an outstanding way, with strength supplementing strength, with interest complementing interest.

The real spirit of Notre Dame is an appreciation of the whole purpose and spirit of Notre Dame. It is that complete image under which the administrator understands faculty, students understand administration, alumni understand campus problems, athletes are inspired by study and students are inspired by athletics.

I believe that our spirit has been temporarily fragmented to the extent we have allowed our changing image of Notre Dame to be fragmented. But these are only surface fragmentations. Underneath, I have complete faith and confidence that the unity of image and the unity of spirit remain. And when we remove the surface confusions that rapid growth and transition have produced, we will find the true secondary image, bigger and better. We will find increased intellectual stature, renewed athletic success, stronger spiritual force, an even more intense fraternal spirit among students and alumni.

As you approach Notre Dame today, from almost any direction, you may be impressed by the outer circle of magnificent new buildings. But as you come closer to its heart, you are conscious of the graceful golden figure on the Dome, and you find yourself standing between Sacred Heart Church, Washington Hall, and the still imposing Main Building — conscious that Notre Dame, in spite of its growth, has retained its central strengths.

This is what I believe. This is what the Alumni Association program works for. This is what I am sure everyone on the campus desires. This, I am sure, is the explanation for the success of the $18,000,000 Challenge Program. Constructive effort, continuing faith will produce success. Adverse criticism, insisting on the exclusion of this total recognition, and pushing the various panic buttons, will only delay Notre Dame's destiny. Now is the time for Notre Dame men to bring to the restored and multiple image of the University all the vigor and co-operation and distinction that marked its earlier years. This is our first and greatest responsibility. Other responsibilities will grow and flourish as we discharge this one.

NEW YORK — Universal Notre Dame Night at the Park Lane Hotel in May featured (l.-r.): James C. MacDevitt, recipient of the Man of the Year award; A.V. Lesmez, retiring president of the Notre Dame Club of New York; Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of the University; Hon. Nelson A. Rockefeller, governor of the State of New York; Edward B. Fitzpatrick, Jr., newly elected president of the New York Club; and William V. Cuddy, chairman of Universal Notre Dame Night.

Classes

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. William R. Wilmering and HENRY L. DAHM, JR., '42.
Miss Katherine Kenney and PETER C. GREEN, '51.
Miss Kathleen Anne Lobo and JOHN B. MAGILL, JR., '54.
Miss Joan Martha Gillen and BERNARD J. TRACEY, '55.
Miss Mary A. Longarzo and DONALD H. PIZZUTELLO, '56.
Miss Mary Margaret Scanlon and LOUIS C. BOSCO, '58.
Miss Gloria J. Bartolozzi and LAWRENCE A. ELEUTERI, '58.
Miss Sophia Adele Roberts and JAMES A. GOETHALS, '58.
Miss Karen Celeste Wilke and TIMOTHY P. GALVIN, II, '59.
Miss Sharon Ann Biebuyck and ROBERT J. YOUNG, '59.
Miss Barbara Ann Azzaretti and ANTHONY P. BORRELLO, '60.
Miss Beverly Jean Sweeney and PFC. WILLIAM J. CLANCY, JR., '60.
Miss Susan Ellen Lawrence and LEON J. KINDT, '60.
Miss Marilyn Miller and DAVID F. MALONE, '60.
Miss Marjorie Ann Tagliente and HERBERT R. MOELLER, '60.
Miss Barbara Joan Millwater and GERALD M. O'MARA, '60.
Miss Maureen Patricia Dougherty and JAMES P. RUSSOMANO, '60.
Miss Patricia A. Michael and RICHARD W. BALLOT, '61.
Miss Lynda Helen Davis and RICHARD M. BARRETT, '61.
Miss Diane Virginia Dickerson and MICHAEL D. BIRD, '61.
Miss Carol Amatelli and JOHN F. JULIANO, '61.

MARRIAGES

Miss Barbara Somers and JAMES J. FITZSIMMONS, JR., '50. Jersey City, New Jersey, May 19.
Miss Joan Sutton and RONALD P. MEALEY, '54. Ridgewood, New Jersey, February 24.
Miss Helen-Marie O'Neill and WILLIAM J. STOUTENBURGH, JR., '55. Orange, New Jersey, April 28.
Miss Marie Leonie Marzo and DR. RICHARD JAMES LYNCH, '56. Port Washington, L.I., New York, May 19.
Miss Helen Strauss and JOHN J. PHELAN, '56. St. Louis, Missouri, February 13.
Miss Helen M. Smith and CHARLES H. SIMPSON, '56. Harrington Park, New Jersey.
Miss Virginia Lynn Windhorst and RONALD W. HEINZ, '57. Peoria, Illinois, February 24.
Miss Eleanor Campbell and LT. RICHARD S. THOMAS, USN, '58. San Antonio, Texas, February 14.
Miss Mary Ann Nabicht and WILLIAM S. BOWMAN, '60. South Bend, Ind., June 16.
Miss Colleen Plunkett and JOSEPH W. DORRYCOTT, JR., '60. Notre Dame, Ind., June 30.
Miss Mary Judith Robrecht and LT. THOMAS J. MCCAREY, '60. Short Hills, New Jersey, March 3.
Miss Glenda Jane Norris and ENS. JAMES H. TANSEY, '60. Washington, D.C., March 17.
Miss Mayte Elizabeth Goodell and JOSEPH JAMES MARTINO, '61. Garden City, L.I., New York, May 26.
Miss Irene Elizabeth Sarich and ENS. EUGENE W. O'NEILL, JR., '61. Leonia, New Jersey, February 10.
Miss Charlene Sue Reid and THEODORE E. SARPHIE, '61. South Bend, Ind., June 30.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN CAREY, '39, a daughter, Mary Michele, January, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. C. JAMES PARIS, '45, a son, Patrick Kimo, April 14, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. GERALD J. CORRIGAN, '49, a daughter, Donna Marie, May 15, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS S. RIORDAN, '50, a son, David Joseph, May 7, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD J. CONWAY, '53, a daughter, Mary Ann Patricia, March 31, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. JOSEPH D. MADIGAN, JR., '54, a son, John Emmett, May 8, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. JOHN F. SAND, JR., '54, a son, Stephen Joseph, April 1, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. TIPTON N. PATTON, JR., '55, a daughter, Mary Brigid, March 3, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. RICHARD DENIS BERRY, '56, a son, Patrick, April 7, 1962.
Capt. and Mrs. THOMAS C. BLUBAUGH, '56, a daughter, Michelle Marie, April 4, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM H. STOTZER, '56, a son, William George, November 5, 1961.
Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES F. VANDEGRIFT, '56, a daughter, Linda Ann, March 28, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT W. BOGG, '57, a daughter, Karen Marie, March 21, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES L. GRACE, '57, a daughter, Kathleen Ann, January 30, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT J. FORSBERG, '58, a son, Jon Carl, March 10, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. BERNARD G. LYONS, '58, a daughter, Jean Marie, April 22, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS P. MOORE, '58, a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, April 6, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT E. MURPHY, '59, a son, Robert E., Jr., March 13, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. RICHARD C. BENKENDORF, JR., '60, a daughter, Mary Carol, February 7, 1962.
Lt. and Mrs. EDWARD F. KNESS, '60, a son, Shawn Timothy, February 26, 1962.
Mr. and Mrs. RONALD COMO, '62, a daughter, Melanie Perri Roselle, February 24, 1962.

SYMPATHY

AUGUST VON BOECKLIN, '34, on the death of his mother.
ELI SHAHEEN, '35, on the death of his mother, May 13, 1962.
JOHN PARISH, '36, on the death of his father, April 26, 1962.
EDMUND F. GOLDSMITH, '37, on the death of his father, March 10, 1962.
PHILIP J. MALONEY, '39, on the death of his mother, March 18, 1962.
FRANK J. GILLIGAN, '45, on the death of his wife, March 31, 1962.
JOSEPH F. ACKERMAN, '47, on the death of his father.
Z. P. CZAROBSKI, '48, on the death of his mother, May 11, 1962.
THOMAS F. HEALY, JR., '49, on the death of his father.
REV. THOMAS F. McNALLY, C.S.C., '49, on the death of his father, May 15, 1962.
ROBERT L. PFEIL, '49, on the death of his father, October 18, 1960.
RONALD E. RAMIREZ, '50, on the death of his father.
MAURICE F. NOONAN, '51, on the death of his father.
JOSEPH S. BOWLING, '52, on the death of his mother, January 7, 1962.
JOHN D., '53 and CHARLES MANIX, '61, on the death of their father, March 5, 1962.
JOHN A. VUONO, '53, on the death of his father, January 22, 1962.
WILLIAM T., JR., '54 and JAMES B. CARSON, '56 on the death of their father, May 7, 1962.
PETER M. KELLY, '54, on the death of his father.

EUGENE T. CRALLEY, '55, on the death of his father.

PETER J., '55 and COLIN T. SUTHERLAND, '61, on the death of their father.

PAUL A. RENSTROM, '56, on the death of his mother, March 23, 1962.

ROBERT J. PLEUS, JR., '57, on the death of his mother, February 21, 1962.

FRANK E. O'BRIEN, '58, on the death of his father.

JERRY P. ROEMER, '60, on the death of his father, February 21, 1962.

TIMOTHY J. McALOON, '61, on the death of his father.

DEATHS

RAYMOND J. BURNS, '06, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, died in 1959 according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

FRANK H. VOGEL, '06, died March 20, 1962, in Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Vogel, a pioneer in the vending machine industry, was president and owner of the Columbus Vending Co. He is survived by his wife, six sons and a daughter.

VARNUM A. PARISH, '08, died April 26, 1962 in Mokense, Illinois, according to information received in the Alumni Office. He is survived by a son.

ALBERT L. METCALF, '11, died in Chicago, Illinois, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

REV. WILLIAM J. FINN, C.S.P., LLD '14, died in New York City according to information received in the Alumni Office. No details.

SIMON R. RUDOLPH, '17, died March 19, 1962 in Akron, Ohio. At the time of his death Mr. Rudolph was sales representative of the A. M. Byers Co. of Pittsburgh. He had formerly been associated with the DuKane Coffee Co. of Pittsburgh, Hamlin Metal Products Co. and the Sun Rubber Co. of Barborton. Survivors include his wife, a son, three daughters and a brother.

JOSEPH A. CRAVEN, '18, attorney for the Archdiocese of Denver since 1931, died May 8, 1962. Mr. Craven was a member of the Board of directors of the Colorado Blue Cross, served on the budget committee of the Community Chest and was a member of the finance committee of the Denver Area Welfare council. He is survived by his wife and four children.

DR. KEVIN E. CURRAN, '23, died April 9, 1962 in Kansas City, Missouri, according to word received in the Alumni Office. He is survived by a brother.

HAARVEL A. GRINAGER, '23, of Walker, Minnesota, died March 26, 1962, according to word received from his daughter. His wife died March 9, 1962.

THOMAS J. LIEB, '23, '26, of Los Angeles, California, died April 30, 1962. Mr. Lieb was a former head football coach at Loyola of Los Angeles and the University of Florida. He was a star tackle at Notre Dame in 1920, '21 and '22. National collegiate discus champion in 1924, he placed third for the U.S. in the Paris Olympics that year. Surviving are his widow, a son, a daughter, five brothers and two sisters.

JOSEPH J. HEMPHLING, '26, '29, of South Bend, Indiana, died March 16, 1962. A South Bend attorney for thirty years, Mr. Hemphling was a former president of the St. Joseph County Bar Assn. He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters.

URBAN A. SIMON, '26, of Las Vegas, Nevada, died July 2, 1961, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. His wife survives.

JOHN O. TUOHY, '26, of Oak Park, Illinois, died May 10, 1962. He is survived by his wife.

EDWARD MORIARTY, '27, died in Ann Arbor, Michigan, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

WILLIAM F. SULLIVAN, '27, of Waterbury, Connecticut, died April 30, 1962, according to word received from his wife.

GEORGE B. WALSH, '27, died in Washington, D.C., April 17, 1962, according to word received in the Alumni Office.

DR. WILLIAM J. MCGEE, '28, of Daly City, California, died March 12, 1962. Survivors include his wife, a daughter, son, sister and four brothers.

WILLIAM H. PLUCHEL, '28, director for Mail and Express for TWA, died April 20, 1962 in Douglass, L.I., New York. He is survived by his wife and a son.

EDWARD P. RAFTER, '28, died in Chicago, Illinois, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

FREDERICK RUIZ, '28, of LaJolla, California, died February 12, 1962. After receiving his doctorate in Law he was an assistant professor at Notre Dame and spent the last seventeen years teaching at LaJolla High School. His wife, son, three daughters and three brothers survive.

MOTHER MARY VERA, S.N.D., '29, of Rome, Italy, died April 15, 1962, according to information received in the Alumni Office. No details.

BERNARD W. CONROY, '30, personnel manager of the Vandergrift plant of United Engineering and Foundry Co., died March 12, 1962, in New Kensington, Pa. Besides being personnel manager, he was the local public relations representative and wrote a column for the company's employee magazine. His survivors include his wife, a son and daughter.

JOSEPH E. CANNY, '31, of Corning, New York, died March 18, 1962 according to word received in the Alumni Office. He is survived by his brother.

RAYMOND T. McNALLY, '32, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, died November 22, 1959, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

WILLIAM T. SLADER, '32, of East Williston Park, LI, New York, died April 11, 1962, according to word received in the Alumni Office.

MICHAEL R. KOKEN, '33, who starred at halfback in 1930 on Knute Rockne's last football team, died April 15, 1962 in South Bend, Indiana. At the time of his death, Mr. Koken was vice-president in charge of sales for Tucker Freight Lines, Inc. After playing a year with the Chicago Cardinals in 1933, he coached basketball, was assistant football coach at John Carroll University and was also assistant to Hunk Anderson at North Carolina State. His survivors include his wife, two children, two brothers and seven sisters.

THOMAS C. BYRNE, '37, of Lakewood, Ohio, died March 12, 1962, according to information received from his wife.

FRANKLIN J. FOX, '37, a public relations executive and former Associated Press staff writer, died April 21, 1962. His wife survives.

BROTHER SEVERIN SMITH, C.S.C., '37, died April 26, 1962 in St. Joseph's Hospital, South Bend, Indiana. Brother Severin taught for nine years in foreign mission schools in East Pakistan. For ten years before his death he was on the staff of Boysville School in Clinton, Michigan.

LEO R. BOYLE, '38, '41, of Munster, Indiana, died May 20, 1962. Surviving are his widow, a son, a daughter and three brothers.

JOSEPH J. KELLY, '38, died in Chicago, Illinois, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

FRANCIS B. KELLY, '39, of Jacksonville, Florida, died December 25, 1961, according to word received from his mother.

JOHN J. REDDY, '40, of Brooklyn, New York, died April 12, 1962, according to information received from his mother.

DR. ROBERT P. FLYNN, '43, a dentist in Washington, D.C., died April 20, 1962. Survivors include his wife, parents, three children and two sisters.

ROBERT P. HURLEY, '49, died in Chicago, Illinois, according to mail returned to the Alumni Office. No details.

WILLIAM A. HOVEY, '52, of Lake Placid, New York, died April 6, 1962, in an automobile accident. Mr. Hovey, a former halfback for Notre Dame, was a motel operator, president of the Lake Placid Chamber of Commerce and a member of the executive board of the Eastern Amateur Ski Association. He is survived by his wife.

JAMES S. HURLEY, '53, of Cincinnati, Ohio, died in an automobile accident in LaGrange, Kentucky, May 14, 1962. At the time of his death, Mr. Hurley was a law instructor at the Salmon T. Chase College. Survivors include his parents and a sister.

CHARLES J. STAFF, JR., '58, of Toledo, Ohio, died May 11, 1962. He was with the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Co., Wilmington, Delaware from 1958 to 1961 and with the Maumee Chemical Co. at the time of his death. His wife, two sons, parents and two sisters survive.

HAROLD C. CONICK, Minims, died April 26, 1962 in New York City, according to information received in the Alumni Office.

JOSEPH J. WUERTH, Minims, electrician for the town of Bellevue, Iowa, died February 26, 1962. Until his retirement in 1960, Mr. Wuerth was sales manager for Murray Iron Works of Burlington. Surviving are his wife and a daughter.

PROFESSOR FRANCIS W. KERVICK, professor emeritus and longtime head of the department of architecture at Notre Dame, died May 8, 1962. He became head of the Notre Dame architecture department in 1914 and held that post until his retirement in 1950. He collaborated in the design of five major buildings on campus.

JAMES SANFORD, 1915 Secretary, crashed the 1917 Class Reunion in order to present a book to the Law Library, inscribed by the author, famed Chicago attorney Palmer Edmunds, in memory of a friendship that began in France with the American Expeditionary Force.

50-YEAR CLUB

REUNION REGISTRANTS

DANIEL O'CONNOR, CLAUDE A. SORG.

Diamond Jubilee congratulations to WILLIAM J. BLAKE, JR., '87, 73 Dubois St., Newburgh, N.Y., whom the Mid-Hudson Valley N.D. Club honored on Notre Dame Night for 75 years as an alumnus. JIM ARMSTRONG, FATHER JOHN WALSH and BILL MURPHY were present to give him a section from the original Dome.

According to LAWRENCE J. WELCH and JOHN STARK, '17, the talented young man whom PAUL MARTIN-DILLON, '09, recalled as having died during World War I training at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., was ARTHUR HAYES, '15, of Chisholm, Minn. Appropriate notes in the 1915 and 1917 columns might restore to "Bish" Hayes, who might have written the Great American Novel, a portion of the immortality denied him by omniscient Providence.

Martin-Dillon sent thanks for "identifying the young writer who died at Camp Grant. Yes, it was Arthur Hayes. As soon as I saw the name it clicked. Time was when I had an impeccable memory for names but it is slipping, which is only to be expected.

"It was a surprise to find myself again quoted at length in the last issue. . . . One of my younger relatives in Hartford — the mother of those famous children whose N.D.-St. Mary's heritage is second to none (Mrs. BOB DALTON, '49, Aug.-Sept., 1958. Ed.) — wrote me to tell me how proud she was that you should nominate me as the 'elder statesman' of the newspaper business. Well, I may be the oldest N.D. alumnus still active in newspaper work, but I saw the name of a San Diego editor who was recently awarded the Pulitzer Prize who is 85 years old. I am not that yet. We had an alumnus named Murphy with the Minneapolis Tribune who was in harness when, I am sure, he was older than I am now. He's dead long since. (Any classmates to confirm, Semi-centennarians? Ed.)

"It is just too bad ARTHUR HAYES didn't live to mature a bit more and to fulfill the prediction made of him by FR. JOHN W. CAVANAUGH. I recall his Scholastic stories, for in those days I received the Scholastic regularly. They were fine. I am so proud that EDWIN O'CONNOR ('39) has been given the Pulitzer Prize for fiction. Strange, though, that he got it this year for his 'Edge of Sadness' and not for 'The Last Hurrah.' I haven't read his new novel, but the young cousin referred to above (St. Mary's '50), who is a good critic, says it cannot touch 'Hurrah.' I must read it."

Paul also mentioned a lot of correspondence with old roommate DENNY HAYES, '09, former Saturday Evening Post and Hollywood writer, Liberty Magazine fiction editor, etc., who now heads his own publicity firm in Los Angeles. Apparently no relation to the late Art Hayes.

The news that President Kennedy had nominated the former governor of Virginia as Judge of the U.S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals signalled the retirement of the HON. AMBROSE O'CONNELL, '07, whom Gov. Almond replaces after 17 years in the court. Congratulations to Judge O'Connell, former national president of the Alumni Association, for his distinguished service in Customs Court since 1944.

The toll of alumni emeriti in the obituaries has thinned out considerably after recent issues in which the reporting of previously unreported deaths made this column look like a disaster list. Quite a few semicentennarians have passed away, however, in recent months.

Two "Minims" from days since the turn of the century have died in this time. HAROLD C. CONICK of New York City died last April 26. He was an executive of the Royal Globe Insurance Co., U.S. manager of the Royal-Liverpool Insurance Group and a member of Notre Dame's New York President's Committee. JOSEPH J. WUERTH died last Feb. 26 in Decorah, Iowa. He had been town electrician in his native Bellevue, Iowa, district manager for Interstate Power Co., and retired as sales manager for Murray Iron Works, Burlington. Surviving are his widow Alice, a daughter, granddaughter and two great-grandchildren.

Two deaths were reported in the Class of '06. Somehow the death of RAYMOND J. BURNS, a very loyal alumnus and a member of the Monogram Club, went unreported till now. Ray was said to have passed away in Pittsburgh in 1959. FRANK H. VOGEL, SR., another member of the Class, died March 20 in Columbus, O., where he had been a manufacturer of vending machines for 50 years. He was a leader of the Retreat League, K. of C. and other religious activities in Columbus. Surviving, besides his wife Charlotte, are six sons, a daughter and 16 grandchildren.

Also reported but not confirmed was the death of ALBERT L. METCALF, '11, in Chicago. Chicago committeemen returned a pledge card marked "deceased" with no information on survivors or date of death.

To these and any other emeriti we may have missed go the prayers of the Notre Dame Family, and to their survivors our sincere sympathy.

Best wishes to REV. PETER FORRESTAL, '11, in his retirement from the modern languages faculty. We know Father Forrestal will continue to be spiritual director for Spanish-speaking farm workers in the area, among many other activities.

1912

B. J. "Ben" Kaiser
604 East Tenth St.
Berwick, Pa.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

E. W. BRUCE, WALTER DUNCAN, WILLIAM G. HINTZ, B. J. KAISER, JAY L. LEE, JOHN F. McCAGUE, FRED H. MEIFELD, JAMES O'LEARY.

WILLIAM J. PARISH of Mokenca, Ill. informed me that he had a slight heart attack just after last Christmas and also that he lost his right arm in October of 1959 but in spite of it all he would try to make the GOLDEN JUBILEE.

GEORGE PHILBROOK wrote to JAY L. LEE (Lee is my assistant secretary): "I am sure elated to receive your nice letter of February 4. Yes, the years are rolling by and Grandpa Philbrook (7 times) age 78 is beginning to stub his toes. It is out of the question for me to attend the Golden Reunion. A few years ago I had a heart attack and the Doc says no traveling."

WILLIAM B. HAYDEN of Shullsburg, Wis., admitted that after 72 years he is not as good as he used to be in walking downhill to South Bend but he might just make it for the Golden Jubilee.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all Class members who responded to my letters and to those who did not I send my unconditional "Absolution." In the next issue of the Alumnus you will find my full report on the GOLDEN JUBILEE activities and some interesting statistics on the activities of the Class for its first fifty years.

1913

Paul R. Byrne
360 Warner Ave.
Syracuse 5, N. Y.

REUNION REGISTRANT
JAMES W. O'HARA.

From the Alumni Office:

It was brought to our attention that in the last issue PAUL BYRNE unaccountably unseated TED RADEMAKER as Secretary of the Class of '19, while '13 was missing from the roster. This explains the lack of news in recent months; all of Paul Byrne's mail was going to Peru, Indiana. Secretary Byrne is back at his old Class of '13 stand in Syracuse, N.Y., and reminds you to check in — the Golden Reunion is less than a year away.

Five years ago BILL COTTER crashed the Class of '12 reunion in preparation for a 45th reunion of '13 which death prevented the next year. But 1958 brought FRANK BRESLIN, CLYDE BROUSARD, C. BYRON HAYES, JESSE HERR, JIM O'BRIEN, JIM O'HARA, ED ROACH, and FRED (CY) WILLIAMS. A much bigger attendance is expected for the Jubilee next June.

1914

Walter Clements
623 Park Avenue
South Bend, Indiana

REUNION REGISTRANT
POYNTELLE DOWNING.

A welcome letter from Dr. John R. Dundon, '14, 5355 N. Diversey Blvd., Whitefish Bay, Wis., reaches our desk. Doc is now a physician and surgeon in Milwaukee where he located shortly after graduating from Rush Medical.

When we were classmates and while he was getting his LL.B. at N.D. he was from Ishpeming. Now he gives us news of himself and wife and their nine children. One of the sons is to be ordained a priest of the Discalced Carmelites on Aug. 15, the other a Jesuit later on. A daughter is a nun of the Sisters of Notre Dame.

Dr. Dundon encloses a vivid account by his daughter, Frances, 22, of her survival of the two-hundred-mile-an-hour Hurricane Hattie in British Honduras where she is teaching at a Jesuit Mission. She writes of the beautiful early hours of a night that were calm — too calm — bringing eerie sounds from the bush, drums from the jungle and the cawing of birds from the sea. Before morning their building was blown from around them. When light came they could see houses, roofs, trees, boats and animals hurtling through the wind. Then came the tidal wave washing into the openings where windows had been and inundating what was left of floors.

Doc writes that he doesn't intend to retire because if he did his family would starve. Characteristically he adds: "We general practitioners don't accumulate wealth, and it's a good thing, because of the responsibility of sharing with the underprivileged which might be difficult if one were rich."

In similar vein his daughter, Frances, concludes her letter from Honduras, thus: "Don't worry because all is O.K. Just do me a favor—as you always do—pray that I give generously of myself for my people here, and help and teach them extra well."

Their other two daughters are married. Jim, Peter and Jane are still in school in Milwaukee. Frances had graduated from Marquette last June. Doctor and Mrs. Dundon find time from their busy life for recreation, he in sculling at the Rowing Club, she in bowling.

From the Alumni Office:

Best wishes for JOHN F. HYNES, chairman of the board of Employers Mutual Casualty Co., in his retirement after 44 years with the company, the longest service record of any employee. His story will probably appear in the "Spotlight." John lives at 4927 Grand Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

Among those who can be relied on to keep us informed through clippings from local papers is GEORGE T. HANLON, JR., Sp. 50, 1973 Newport, Costa Mesa, California.

The Paulist Fathers in New York City have notified the office that a famed honorary classmate is deceased, but we have no date on the death. REV. WILLIAM JOSEPH FINN, C.S.P., was a famed musician and the guiding spirit of the renowned Paulist Choristers. Requiescat in pace. Other news of the Choristers in a picture this issue.

1915

James E. Sanford
1429 W. Farragut Av.
Chicago 40, Illinois

REUNION REGISTRANTS
OWEN MURPHY, JAMES SANFORD.

From the Alumni Office:

"He Hands Out Billions, but Won't Get Cent" — "Social Security Cash Not for Official." The Chicago Tribune, in an article on ALBERT A. KUHLE, announced his retirement May 31 after 25 years of government service: "The man charged with giving social security benefits to more than 1,600,000 persons in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana will not be eligible for the payments when he retires. . . . But he plans to begin a new writing and consulting career through which, as a self-employed person paying social security taxes, he hopes some day to be entitled to its benefits."

"He is Albert A. Kuhle, 117 Sunset Ave., La Grange, who has been head of the Social Security Administration's regional office in Chicago since August, 1936, when it was established five months before the social security law became effective Jan. 1, 1937. . . . When he was hired by the government he was the social security administration's first and only employee in Chicago."

"His staff when the law went into effect was less than 20 persons, split up among the regional office and three district offices. . . . Today he is in charge of 1,760 employees working in 70 district offices. . . . In 1961 more than $1-1/2 billion flowed through his office. . . . Nearly 475,000 Cook County persons receive the payments at the rate of one million dollars a day."

"After a trip to Europe with his wife Katherine, Kuhle plans 'to do some writing and speaking' and to provide consulting services to industry and government. His favorite subjects are the problems of the aged and preparation for retirement."

"I think forcing a man to retire at 65 is the silliest thing in the world," he said. "He loses all the social contacts he had on his job, and then he starts rocking on the porch. And, brother, he just won't rock very long. Activity is what keeps life going." . . .

"Mr. and Mrs. Kuhle have two daughters . . . and five grandchildren."

GEORGE N. SHUSTER, assistant to FATHER HESBURGH and former president of New York's Hunter College, can be seen discussing education with actor Hans Conried on the latter's television series "Great Voices from the Great Books," sponsored by Encyclopaedia Britannica and recently released to local commercial television stations.

In the 50-Year Club column of the last issue, PAUL MARTIN-DILLON wondered aloud about a young soldier who died in World War I training at Camp Grant in 1917 — "a lad just graduated who during his college course had shown such promise as a story writer that FATHER JOHN CAVANAUGH the elder predicted that he would become one of the great American novelists. . . . Sorry I can't recall his name."

Two members of the Class of '17 did remember that it was a contemporary named ARTHUR HAYES, Ph.B. '15. Wrote JOHN T. STARK: "His name was ART HAYES, Chisholm, Minnesota. A master of words, and all-round outstanding student, a tremendous brain and a fine gentleman. May he rest in peace."

LAWRENCE J. WELCH wrote: "I was reading the . . . ALUNXUS and noticed a request for information on page 23 about a certain W.W. I soldier. The man referred to was undoubtedly ARTHUR HAYES, commonly called 'Bish.' . . . He was from Chisholm, Minn. Came back for graduate work and taught some prep classes. He had been Colonel of the Cadet Battalion. Was editor of the magazine section of the Chicago Record-Herald while in school. Had a terrific vocabulary. FATHER CARRICO moved from class to class, year by year, to work on Hayes and Bish resented it deeply. Had unusual promise. Went into service, was put to drilling recruits, got overheated, pneumonia and died. P.S. JAKE KLEIN should know him."

HON. RAYMOND J. KELLY advised of "plans to finish my work here in Washington (D.C.) in the near future and to move back to our home in Detroit by the 1st of June. . . . I am looking forward to June of 1963, which will be the 50th anniversary of our class, and I do expect to be down for commencement in June of 1963, which will be the 25th anniversary of my son, RAYMOND J. KELLY, JR., '38, and the graduation from Notre Dame of my grandson, RAYMOND J. KELLY, III." Ray, who was Class of '15 repre-representative for Universal Notre Dame Night in Washington, added that this "should serve to give you the dope about the Kellys, especially the 'return of the wanderers' (after 10 years — Chicago, Alaska, Washington) to the old homestead which we have kept as our anchorage since we built it 33 years ago." Ray can be reached at 18073 Fairfield Ave., Detroit, Mich.

SAN DIEGO — Notre Dame Man of the Year Carlos Tavares (second from left), is shown receiving certificate from Jerry Bill at recent annual Universal N.D. Night dinner of the San Diego Club. Rev. Philip S. Moore, C.S.C. (left), assistant to the president of the University for academic affairs, and John Cawley, right, club president, smile their approval. Father Moore, featured speaker at the dinner, is a long-time friend of Tavares, a prominent San Diego businessman.

FATHER HESBURGH announced recently that the FATHER KERNDT HEALY Scholarship has been assigned to Notre Dame High School, Park Ridge, Ill., for a period of five years. Named in honor of the late REV. KERNDT M. HEALY, C.S.C., the scholarship will be awarded to the top senior for the period of his undergraduate education. "Young men who will hold this scholarship should be proud of its name. Father Healy showed the ideal qualities of the educated Christian: wit and humor, taste, tact, a deep sympathy with all kinds of men, loyalty and dedication, intelligence, ability to carry responsibility gracefully and wisely."

A recognition dinner was held in Chicago on May 21 to honor AL KUHLE on his retirement, with 360 bureau employees and guests attending. Several federal officials gave spoken tributes to Al, including the director of the Social Security Bureau, the regional director of the I.E.W. Department and the former director, who flew in from Florida to pay his respects. Also present was Mrs. Kuhle, their daughters and sons-in-law. Mrs. Kuhle's brother, Rev. Denis Donovan, and their pastor in LaGrange, Msgr. William O'Brien. The district offices gave him a cash gift to furnish his office and study. His professional staff in the regional office presented him with a radio, and he received a set of cuff links and the clasp from his clerical staff. Finally, Al's Congressman Roman Pucinski put a lengthy tribute to "Albert A. Kuhle, a Dedicated Public Servant," in the Congressional Record. Excerpts: "It has been my firm judgment that Mr. Kuhle epitomizes the highest standards of our Federal employees. . . . I am sure his services and his counsel will be missed at the Chicago Social Security office. However, we can find encouragement in the fact that in his retirement, Mr. Kuhle plans to devote his time to writing about the many experiences and lessons he has learned as a high-ranking administrator of the Federal Government."

Secretary JIM SANFORD, very much in evidence as an off-year celebrator with the Class of '17, got a very pleasant recognition for his efforts in "Breaking the Age Barrier" that same week at Chicago's "Adventures in Living" Exposition at Navy Pier, sponsored by the Mayor's Commission for Senior Citizens. Among the impressive exhibits was the Hall of Fame, an aggregation of photographs and citations of those seniors who have "performed distinguished service to Chicago." Jim, of course, was selected as a Hall of Famer on the basis of his work for the employment of men and women over 65.

1916

Grover F. Miller
220 — 9th St.
Racine, Wisconsin

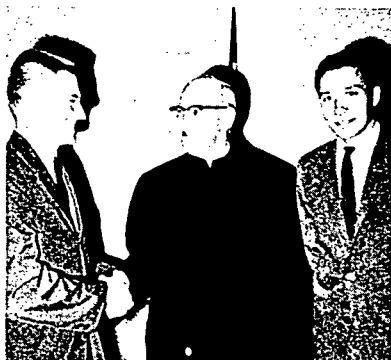

REUNION REGISTRANTS

RAY HUMPHREYS, WALTER McCOURT, SR., PATRICK MALONEY, REV. VINCENT MOONEY.

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM E. BRADBURY was sworn in as assistant state's attorney of Crawford County, Ill., in April shortly after his selection had been announced by his brother, State's Attorney J. STANLEY BRADBURY, '23, who had suffered a heart attack shortly before. A special meeting of the County Board of Supervisors authorized the job so that action can be taken in criminal complaints during Stan's convalescence. Bill, who has practiced law and led in veterans' affairs for many years in Robinson, Ill., indicated he had not sought the appointment, had never felt any great desire to hold public office and hoped his brother would soon be able to resume his regular duties.

Bill wrote asking the prayers of FATHER EDWARD FINNEGAN, FATHER CHARLES DOREMUS and FATHER JOHN CAVANAUGH. All the Class will surely join them in wishes to Bill and hopes for Stan's quick recovery.

UTAH — Guest for U.N.D. Night at Salt Lake City's University Club, Rev. Philip S. Moore, C.S.C. (center), academic assistant to Father Hesburgh, is welcomed by Pres. Don Roney (left) and Vice-Pres. Len Di Giacomo.

If GROVER MILLER has been a little short of correspondence in recent months, it may be because the office failed to note a change of address. Grover sent a couple of years ago. Your Secretary can be reached for sure at the address above.

1917

Edward J. McOsker
525 N. Melrose Ave.
Elgin, Illinois

REUNION REGISTRANTS

HARRY C. BAUIAN, CARLTON D. BEH, LEO S. BERNER, JOHN E. CASSIDY, CHARLES G. CORCORAN, SHERWOOD DIXON, OSCAR DORWIN, JOSEPH F. FLYNN, PAUL FOGARTY, JOHN GARRY, RAYMOND J. GRAHAM, JAMES D. HAYES, DANIEL E. HILGARTNER, JR., ANDREW J. HUBER, WILLIAM E. KENNEDY, JAMES T. McMAHON, EDWARD J. McOSKER, FRED MAHAFFEY, PAUL MEIFFEL, JOHN MILLER, DR. D. M. NIGRO, WILLIAM C. O'BRIAN, LEO D. O'DONNELL, JOHN RILEY, LEON RUSSELL, HARRY E. SCOTT, GEORGE W. SHANAHAN, ELMER P. TOBIN, MATTHEW E. TRUDELE, LEO J. VOGEL, BERNARD J. VOLL, LAWRENCE J. WELCH.

From the Alumni Office:

ARTHUR (DUTCH) BERGMAN got an interesting profile recently in the Washington (D.C.) Sunday Star under the headline: "Turning Point of a Career: Frustrated Animal Trainer." Excerpts: "Any teen-ager, whose great ambitions have been frustrated by parental intervention, knows how ARTHUR J. BERGMAN felt 50 years ago.

"After all, parents can be unreasonable. All 'Dutch' wanted was to get into the cages with lions and tigers. And he did, on a number of occasions, until word filtered back to the folks, who saw no resemblance between their 15-year-old son and the biblical Daniel.

"I lived in Peru, Ind.," recalls Bergman, who is manager of the D. C. Stadium and Armory. "That was the big winter quarters for the American Circus Corp. I saw the animal trainers and that was my big ambition — to be a wild animal trainer. . . . They started to train me. My parents didn't know it but I was going into the cages with the lions and tigers. Of course, they were trained, but I still remember the veterinarian-surgeon of the show telling me that you can never trust a four-footed animal. . . . What was it like? Well, you have that same nervousness you get going into a football game or a boxing match.

You are on guard and you know you can't take chances. . . . But then my parents found out about it, and that was the end of my career as an animal trainer. My father thought it would be an excellent idea to send me out of town for school — so they sent me to Notre Dame Prep, 75 miles to the North."

That was life's turning point for Bergman. He prepped there three years, was a star football player and naturally continued his education at the University. . . . Bergman, who has a law degree, almost went into the mining business. He was working as a foreman for the Main Island Creek Coal Co. in Omar, W. Va., when he received a call from Knute Rockne telling him of a coaching job at New Mexico A&M. After much deliberation, Dutch took the job. "I ended up coaching football, baseball, track, basketball and girls' basketball, was head of the physical education department, taught history and English and in my spare time worked for a law firm."

He went on to coach football at the University of Dayton, Minnesota and Catholic University. He coached at CU for 10 years, compiling a 33-17-2 record, which included a victory over Mississippi in the 1936 Orange Bowl game.

He coached the Redskins to the Eastern Division title in 1943 and then quit coaching to devote his time to business and a job as a radio and television sportscaster. . . . Dutch married his hometown sweetheart, Florence Scheerer. They have two children. Daughter Nancy is married to Navy Cmdr. Robert Monahan and (recently) turned her parents into grandparents. Arthur, Jr., is assistant trust officer at Riggs National Bank. Neither young Arthur nor Nancy wanted to be wild animal trainers. It's just as well. Their father wouldn't have permitted it.

Thanks to LAWRENCE J. WELCH and JOHN T. STARK for their memoirs of ART HAYES, '15, to be found in the 1915 column.

Sympathy to the widow and children of SIMON R. RUDOLPH, Akron, O., whom death prevented from attending the reunion.

Look for a story on the reunionists above in the next column.

1918

Charles W. Call
225 Paterson Ave.
Hasbrouck Heights,
New Jersey

REUNION REGISTRANTS

ALLAN W. FRITZSCHE, J. L. SWEENEY.

Don't look now but 45 years have elapsed by June, 1963, since our 1918 Class members mounted the rostrum to receive degrees. Many were to hurry off to war, and all were to have the opportunity to face the vagaries of the years with at least pretty good educations. So classmates start right now to plan to be on hand for the 45th reunion; you are sure to enjoy meeting those whom you have not seen for many years, perhaps not at all since you were the big men on the campus. President JOHN A. LEMMER has named a committee on preparations as follows: REV. GEORGE HOLDERITH, C.S.C., and REV. RAYMOND MURRAY, C.S.C., both of Notre Dame; REV. CHARLES WILLIAMS, Rantoul, Ill.; JOHN REUSS, Fort Wayne, Ind.; HON. VINCENT GIBLIN, Miami, Fla.; GEORGE HERBERT, Rock Island, Ill.; EDWARD McLAUGHLIN, New York City; E. MORRIS STARRETT, Olympia, Wash.; TOM KING, East Lansing, Mich.; and CHARLES W. CALL, Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.

REV. WILLIAM S. HARBERT was ordained a priest by The Most Rev. John Baptist Franz, D.D., Bishop of Peoria, on June 3rd, and celebrated his first solemn high mass at St. Pius X Church, Rock Island, Ill., on June 10. Father Harbert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE E. HARBERT, of Rock Island, and George acted as secretary of our Class for many years prior to 1958.

GEORGE WAAGE is authority for the information that BIG FRANK RYDEWSKI, once the terror of opposing football teams when they were so stupid as to try to get through center, is no longer quite as reliable physically as he used to be. George had the big fellow down to the campus to visit some of the more mature priests, recently, and he informs Frank's "dogs" just can't take too much walking. See what 45 years will do to a fellow.

CHICAGO — Gathered at the Conrad Hilton Hotel for the annual Club Communion Breakfast after Mass at Old St. Mary's Church last spring were (l.-r.) Joseph Pagliari, president; Father Tom Brennan, guest speaker; Burt Korzen, toastmaster; and Bill Kearney, chairman. Shown making arrangements for the successful St. Patrick's Day Party sponsored by Chicago's Ladies Auxiliary are (l.-r.) Mrs. Cyrus Friedheim, chairman of the affair; Mrs. Thomas Sexton, president of the auxiliary; and Irish mascot, little Tim Geary. Benefit was the Scholarship Fund.

NEIL J. WHALEN, M.D., who was for four years a premedical student at Notre Dame, has been named "Physician on the Consulting Staff" of Harper Hospital, Detroit, Michigan. Neil for a long period of time has been associated with the hospital.

From the Alumni Office:

Sympathy to Mrs. Elinor Craven, widow of classmate JOSEPH A. CRAVEN who died in May. Joe was a lawyer, attorney for the Denver Archdiocese for the past 31 years, a leader of the K. of C., St. Vincent de Paul, N.C.C.M., Retreat League and other Catholic laymen's activities. A former chairman for the Notre Dame Foundation, he was prominent in such civic affairs as Blue Cross, the Community Chest and Welfare Council. His contribution to the Church in the West as one of its "first citizens," particularly in the field of Catholic education, was told in an editorial, "A Champion Dies," in the Denver Register. Requiescat in pace.

WILLIAM B. WALKER (Route 2, Box 1, Parkville, Mo.) sent to the campus for "a list of books authored by Notre Dame men, particularly by those men I might have known, such as FATHERS O'DONNELL, CAVANAUGH, CARRICO, SCHUMACHER, the BURKE'S, BOLGER, etc." Since no such current list exists, perhaps Bill's classmates could help him out.

1919

Theo. C. Rademaker
Peru Foundry Co.
Peru, Indiana

From the Alumni Office:

The Class may have been a little confused by the presence of PAUL BYRNE, '13, in the Secretary's seat at the top of this column in a recent issue. TED RADEMAKER is still in control out of Peru, Indiana, and Byrne has been moved back to Syracuse, N.Y., and the 1913 column, whence he came by typographical error. It was probably a typesetter's compensation for putting MAURICE CARROLL in the Class of '12 in the Alumni Board Roster of the same issue. Maurie appreciated the chance to make a Golden Jubilee reunion seven years ahead of schedule, but he proved his loyalty to the Class of '19 by insisting on a retraction at the May board meetings in New York.

Best wishes go to PAUL FENLON, the Sage of Sorin Tower, in his announced retirement to a less rigorous schedule after more than 40 years as a shining light of the English department faculty.

Paul looks good for another 40 years and is probably still mistaken for a graduate student on the campus.

1920

James H. Ryan
170 Maybrook Rd.
Rochester 18, N. Y.

From the Alumni Office:

It was good to hear that LEO B. WARD was again one of the shining lights of Universal Notre Dame Night in Los Angeles, his health having rallied. It is to be presumed that MARCE VERBIEST, as Michigan's Foundation Governor, had good news on the progress of the Challenge Drive at the gala N.D. Night in Detroit.

1921

Dan W. Duffy
1101 Superior Bldg.
Cleveland 14, Ohio

From the Alumni Office:

Sympathy to WALTER A. SWEENEY of South Bend and to his family on the death of Walt's sister, Mary, last February, recently reported by another sister, Mrs. Helen Mulrey.

Best wishes of the Class and the University go to RAY SCHUBMEHL on his retirement from the Notre Dame faculty after many years as assistant dean of the College of Engineering.

1922

G. A. "Kid" Ashe
175 Landing Rd. No.
Rochester 25, N. Y.

FRANK B. BLOEMER, JR., JAMES A. CARMODY, ALBERT CARROLL, T. PIERRE CHAMPION, J. RALPH CORYN, JOHN P. CULLEN, JEROME F. DIXON, FRED B. DRESSSEL, WILFRED DWYER, JOSEPH H. FARLEY, C. B. FITES, JAMES S. FOREN, ROBERT GALLOWAY, VINCENT J. HANRAHAN, JOHN P. HART, JOHN T. HIGGINS, JAMES V. JONES, RAYMOND J. KEARNS, GEORGE C. KERVER, LEO J. LOVETT, JAMES R. McCABE, THOMAS S. McCABE, B. J. McCAFFERY, WALTER J. MATTHES, J. FRANK MILES, WILLIAM J. MURPHY, DANIEL J. O'CONNELL, THOMAS E. OWENS, PAUL PADEN, EDWARD H. PFEIFFER, ROBERT R. PHELAN, JOHN B. REARDON, ROMAIN R. REICHERT, CARLOS J. SAWYER, PAUL J. SCHWERTLEY, ALFONSO A. SCOTT, DANIEL L. SEXTON, JOSEPH B. SHAUGHNESSY, JAMES C. SHAW, LAWRENCE T. SHAW, ARTHUR C. SHEA, MORGAN F. SHEEDY, CLARENCE R. SMITH, EUGENE A. SMOGOR, A. HAROLD WEBER, MATTHEW W. WEIS, CHESTER A. WYNNE, DANIEL H. YOUNG.

As these notes are written, our 40th Reunion is still one month away, but when you read them our reunion will be history. We direct our grateful thanks to all who made the journey to Notre Dame to be active participants. The very same to our wonderful classmates of the St. Joseph Valley, who under the leadership of FRED DRESSSEL, made the necessary arrangements to prepare another outstanding reunion—for which the Class of '22 is now justly famed. We do owe much to Fred and his stalwart lieutenants—RANGY MILES, PAUL SCHWERTLEY, and HAROLD WEBER, who prepared the way for us. We doubt if any class ever graduated from Notre Dame has had more cooperation and help from their St. Joe affiliates than we have received. Lastly, we extend our sympathy to all of '22 who would have been in attendance at Notre Dame, except that poor health, or some emergency like a family wedding or graduation prevented him from being on the campus. FATHER GEORGE FISCHER, C.S.C., sent his regrets—he had to give retreats to priests and seminarians in his home city of Rochester, N. Y., and RICARD McARTY has been hospitalized of late in Canton, O., and could not attend.

We deeply regret news of the death of our classmate, DR. JOHN MOHARDT, as reported in the daily press. Johnny Mohardt was right halfback in the same backfield that had GEORGE GIPP and CHET WYNN. He was rated as an excellent ball carrier and blocker, and tossed passes like Lefty Grove threw baseballs. Dr. Mohardt was in the high echelon of the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C. before retiring to live in the southern California coastal region. Our deep sympathy to the family of the deceased. Please remember them and John in your prayers.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

HEARTLEY W. ANDERSON, GERALD A. ASHE, JOSEPH B. BEHAN, FRANK C. BLASIUS,

For many years FRITZ BAUMER was the sole representative of our Class in the state of Florida. Recently two of his classmates have moved into that state—FRANK BLOEMER, JR., whose address is P.O. Box 79, Aripeka, Florida, and PAUL McDERMOTT, c/o The Southlake Apartments, 315 South Lake Drive, Palm Beach. Fritz, of course, still resides in Jacksonville. Winter visitors in Florida included the CHARLES CROWLEYS, of Weston, Massachusetts and Mrs. HENRY ATKINSON of Green Bay, Wisconsin.

A great honor was conferred upon a classmate—DR. DANIEL SEXTON—last November in Miami Beach, Florida, when he was elected president of the Southern Medical Association at its 56th annual meeting. The SMA has 15,000 members.

The TOM McCABES of Elmhurst, Ill., were vacationing in California around Easter. They contacted or tried to communicate with '22 men in that state—FRANK CONNELLY and JERRY JONES in the San Francisco area and JUDGE AL SCOTT and GENE KENNEDY in Los Angeles.

The University of Santa Clara has announced that an 8,000-seat stadium to be built in Santa Clara, California, this summer will be named for LAWRENCE T. (BUCK) SHAW, who coached so successfully at Santa Clara from 1936 to 1942 in football. This will be the second athletic field named for a member of our Class. The first one was on Guadalcanal in World War II to honor LT. ARNOLD McGRATH, who was killed on an ammunition ship destroyed in an explosion while anchored off shore.

From the Alumni Office:

JUDGE ROGER KILEY wrote JIM ARMSTRONG that he arranged a memorial Mass for JOHN MOHARDT at St. Peter's Church in Chicago. Present were CHET WYNNE, HUNK ANDERSON, OJAY LARSON, GUS DESCH, PAUL PFOHL, JUDGE NORMAN BARRY and JOHN MONTAGUE.

PAUL PFOHL, by the way, has been appointed a vice-president of Radio Corporation of America. Congratulations, Paul.

WALTER SHILTS, besides his labors in the civil engineering department, continues as one of the leaders of the Tri-Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Walter's son, FATHER JIM SHILTS, C.S.C. said a special Mass for the faculty in May. Father Jim, a physicist and hi-fi expert, is rector of Zahm Hall.

1923

Louis V. Bruggner
2165 Riverside Dr.
South Bend, Indiana

REUNION REGISTRANTS

REV. JOSEPH BRANNIGAN, C.S.C., LOUIS BRUGGNER, JOHN P. CHAPLA, JAMES MARTIN, THOMAS PLOUFF.

Willy-nilly, deaths crowd happier news out of this column again. But we are now almost forty years out of school, and the tempo of deaths sometimes seems to quicken.

MR. AND MRS. HAAVEL A. GRINAGER died within three weeks of each other in March; DR. KEVIN E. CURRAN died suddenly April 9 on a vacation in Mexico about a month after the death of his father; and THOMAS J. LIEB again made national headlines with his passing on April 30.

All these obituaries have unusual facets in their telling. "HOLLY" GRINAGER'S life was despaired of a year ago following a heart attack and Mrs. Grinager took over his care and that of their business. A brain hemorrhage killed her within hours on March 9 and a week later Holly was taken to the hospital for treatment of his heart condition. He improved rapidly, was released after a week or so, and was found dead in his home at noon of the morning he went home. Five hours before his funeral, Holly's daughter, Mrs. Richard K. Frisch, went to the hospital for delivery of her child. Mrs. Frisch's letter did not indicate whether a son or daughter was born, but I inferred that all went well on that score. Classmates may address her at Box 93, Walker, Minn.

SENIOR CITIZEN CENTER, project of Holy Cross Parish Christian Family Movement under chairmanship of Ruth and Ralph Myers, '53, this summer in South Bend, is inspected (l.-r.) by the director, Mrs. Agnes Monahan; the pastor, Rev. Walter Higgins, C.S.C.; and the first president couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Niebauer. Ralph kibitzes below.

DR. CURRAN and I had an enjoyable visit on campus on the Sunday morning of the 1961 Commencement which he attended to see his nephew and namesake, KEVIN CURRAN, '61, graduate. This was the first and only time we saw each other since our own graduation, and I think it was his only visit on campus since 1923. I heard from him a few times thereafter by mail, and Acapulco, Mexico, seemed to be his favorite spot. In March of this year, DR. E. J. CURRAN, father of KEVIN E. '23, an internationally-known ophthalmologist, died in Kansas City. On our visit last year much was said of the family heritage of ophthalmology which included E. J., the founder, our own Kevin, and the nephew Kevin, who has entered into medical school on a career in the same specialty. On April 9, Kevin of '23, while again vacationing in Acapulco, died after a heart attack. He was 60 years old.

TOM LIEB, internationally known discus-thrower in the Paris Olympics of 1924, nationally-famous assistant to Rockne, and later head coach at Loyola of Los Angeles, had retired to a more private life in recent years, and at the time of his death, was teaching in a L.A. high school as recently as December. At that time he wrote to me: "I spent a month in the hospital here with a 'coronary something' but am fine now and back on the job teaching science and math. . . . It's easier than coaching." Four months later the "coronary something" finished him off. At this writing I have only the newspaper clippings from which to draw my information, but I am writing his bereaved family. His last address was 4922 West Blvd., Los Angeles 43, California.

Mrs. Gertrude Dacy, wife of MAURICE J. DACY, whose illness was previously reported, died a few weeks ago. Maurice was in town recently and we had lunch with LEO P. RIEDER, South Bend barrister. Maurice has no children and has been doing a bit of traveling during his difficult period of adjustment.

Speaking of traveling, our champion traveler of the moment is JOHN P. CHAPLA, who with his wife, journeyed to Japan in April on an extended business trip. John is one of a group of four security analysts of the Cleveland area making up a national group of 80 similar specialists from this country, who are the guests of Japanese industrialists seeking an economic rapport with American capital. Japanese economy, it appears, is mushrooming and needs foreign support. John was in to see me before taking off for Nippon and showed me several clippings from papers in Lorain and Cleveland, in which John was extolled for his projected trip and his Chamber of Commerce activities in behalf of the Lake Erie port of Lorain, of which he is Port Commission Chairman. John has a daughter at St. Mary's Academy here, and when he was here, I met his wife and daughter. He's a fireball when he talks about Lorain and the Japanese junket. The keynote of his Japanese thesis is: The U.S. needs Japan as its Far East bastion against Communism, and we'd better help them along in every way possible, John's way being financial analysis and security-selling.

From the Alumni Office:

REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president of the University, attended the funeral of TOM LIEB in Los Angeles. The press reaction to Lieb's death was so overwhelming that very little of it could be reprinted here. The Alumni Office is turning over a particularly beautiful sportswriter's eulogy of Tom to LOUIS BRUGGNER so that Lou can send it to the Class in one of his '23 newsletters.

HARRY FLANNERY is getting some very fine reviews on his book, "Patterns for Peace." The Secretary's offer to provide autographed copies to classmates at the regular retail price apparently still stands.

Columnist Westbrook Pegler recently devoted an entire column to quotes from remarks by CLIFF WARD, editor of the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel, in his column, "Good Evening." The column dealt with attacks on Barry Goldwater, Herbert Hoover and other famous conservatives.

FATHER JOHN CAVANAUGH got a lot of newspaper space when he celebrated a private Easter Mass for President Kennedy's family in Palm Beach, Fla. Congratulations to Father John on his new obedience as director of religious affairs at the University.

STAN BRADBURY suffered a heart attack early in the year, and his brother, BILL BRADBURY, '16, took over his duties as state's attorney of Crawford County, Ill., by special appointment as assistant state's attorney. Best wishes to Stan for a quick recovery from the heart condition. Apparently his celebrated criminal cases in Robinson, Ill., have taken their toll.

Speaking of the law, JUDGE JOSEPH NYIKOS has had some tough cases in St. Joseph County, Ind., including the committal of a boy indicted for the slaying of his mother.

Best wishes of the class to REV. LEO R. WARD, C.S.C., on his retirement from the philosophy faculty of the University. Father Leo looks as if he could teach for another 40 years, and Notre Dame will probably have much for him to do.

1924

James R. Meehan
301 S. Lafayette Blvd.
South Bend 10, Ind.

From the Alumni Office:

JUDGE MARK NOLAN of Duluth, Minn., got a glowing profile entitled "Color in Court" from the Duluth News-Tribune on the occasion of his 25th anniversary on the bench. Excerpts: "A murder trial marks a silver anniversary . . . for one of Minnesota's more colorful jurists. . . . When Judge Nolan bangs his gavel . . . he will be observing his 25th anniversary. . . . Interestingly, one of the first cases he tried when he became a judge in 1937 was a murder trial. . . . (This case) will be much calmer, a fact which is all right with Judge Nolan, who has had his share of the sensational ones. . . . Looking back over the years, Judge Nolan recently reminisced about his days as a representative in the state legislature. . . .

CLEVELAND — Among the head table personalities for the Cleveland Club's annual Rockne Communion Breakfast in April were (l.-r.): Leo Burby, '42, chairman; Rev. Thomas Brennan, C.S.C., guest speaker; Dan Duffy, '21, toastmaster; Rev. Bernard A. Blatt, '31, chaplain and pastor of Immaculate Conception Parish; and Robert E. Dowd, '41, president; (at right) 1961 Man of the Year Jim Collieran and 1962 winner Frank Payne.

"I guess I was what you would call a flaming liberal in those days," he commented. "I'm still liberal, but being in a non-partisan post has strictly limited my political activity." . . . He was on the Notre Dame faculty for a year after graduation, then returned to the Iron Range to practice law and run for the state legislature—of which he was the youngest member—in 1928. . . . By 1936 Judge Nolan had achieved sufficient stature as a politician and legislator to be offered the lieutenant governorship. . . . He turned it down, however, in favor of running for a district court judgeship "because one hadn't been elected here since 1898, before I was born."

"The practice," he noted, "had been for judges to resign or die in office so that the governor—who somehow always seemed to be a conservative—could appoint a successor. I decided it was about time the people elected a judge." He led the ticket in the 1936 race—as he has in every election since then—and became the youngest district court judge in the state.

"Judge Nolan had another opportunity to return to the political wars in 1944 when the Democratic National Committee tried to interest him in running for Congress. . . . 'The assistant national chairman was on the phone and my wife was in the kitchen crying. I turned it down,' he commented. 'I had four children and the security of a two year position didn't appeal to me.' . . . Over the years Judge Nolan has become a favorite among district court jurors because of his easy-going manner and his unexpected bluntness and witty comments. . . . Author Sinclair Lewis, who became an intimate friend of the judge while residing in Duluth during World War II, wrote of him: 'He is almost a fictional Irishman, lovable, a fighter, a dreamer, a hell-raiser . . . yet a learned and good judge . . . called by his first name by almost everyone from clerk of court to the man running the beer truck up the North Shore . . . witty, blasphemous, frightfully on to everything; completely a Good Fellow and, I rather suspect, completely honest and rigidly just.' . . . Judge Nolan said, 'I think the reason I got along with Lewis is that I never catered to him.' . . . As for the fact that he is called 'Mark' more often than 'Judge,' he disagrees with the theory that familiarity breeds contempt. 'I like to think people call me by my first name because they like me, and besides when I am off the bench I am just another human being.'

"Those who work with him day in and day out say one of his main attributes is a keen sense of fairness and a high level of tolerance for the mistakes of others. . . . It probably was this concern with being fair and not making a mistake in sentencing a man which prompted him some years ago to start the practice of having the county probation office make pre-sentence investigations.

. . . Today the pre-sentence investigation is widely used by all judges."

Congratulations to MARK NOLAN for such testimonials to his judicial career. Congratulations also to a summer school classmate, SISTER M. ANN ELIZABETH, C.S.C., of Dunbarton College, Washington, D.C., (Ph.B. '24, M.S. '30) for her appearance as a leading teacher of chemistry on the ABC-TV series, "Meet the Professor," last April 29. Sister is chairman of the chemistry department at Dunbarton, a former high school principal and one of the few women admitted to the AEC Institute of Nuclear Studies at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Her list of academic pedigrees would put most male contemporaries to shame.

1925

John P. Hurley
2085 Brookdale Road
Toledo 6, Ohio

Just bits of news from here and there about the class of 1925. While visiting my daughter and son-in-law, the Mike Underwoods, in Davenport I had a chance to talk to "HANK" WURZER. "Hank" is in good health and was having a grand time at Easter with his family all home from school and the married ones there with their children.

The WALTER HALLS of Minneapolis, who usually spend some time in Arizona, are heading West this year and will take in the Fair in Seattle.

I told some friends of mine from Toledo who had been transferred to Manila to look up TONY GONZALES, but for the moment Tony is on the move. He and his wife are in San Francisco visiting their son for a few weeks, and then they are flying to Europe the first of May and will be returning to Manila in July.

When the JOHN HURLEYS were coming home from Davenport we got off the "beaten path" and were in Dixon, Illinois, but I was unable to contact BOB DIXON. Bob has been with the legal dept. of FDIC in Washington for 25 years, and I hear that he is taking things easy and moving out to Tucson this summer. He spent a few months out there last year and got to like it. Speaking of Tucson, PAUL DUFAUD "The Job of our class," went into the hospital for something minor and ended up with a major, removing three ribs, a kidney and some trimmings. He writes that recovery was slow but is doing all right and feels quite good. He is having a six-month checkup. Say a prayer for Paul that this last operation will have cleared things up for many years to come. He has experienced more illness than the entire class, and he always comes up with a smile and a thankful prayer for his blessings . . . his wonderful wife and family. PAUL DUFAUD would like the address of JUSTIN "GAM" TOOMEY of St. Paul. I have 1406 W. California St., St. Paul, but I understand he was transferred. He is with the Butler Bros. Construction Co., of St. Paul & U.S.A. If any of you 25ers have his address drop PAUL DUFAUD a line at 1911 East Second St., Tucson, Arizona. Even if you don't have Toomey's address . . . drop Paul a line. Paul has been on the sidelines since the winter of '37-'38, but he and his wife have done an inspirational job with their family, one son having received seven offers for college scholarships . . . for brains not brawn. He was quite an athlete also . . . a swimmer and basketball star. The Dufauds' other child, a daughter, was a nurse for a short time and is now the mother of five or more, because as of this moment Paul has nine and by the time you read this, there will be eleven. It must be that climate out there, Paul. I started this with Wurzer and I will end with Wurzer. Remember the Mass Fund and the Foundation. GIL SCHAEFER pays $20,000 if we raise $30,000!

From the Alumni Office:

HARRY STUHLREHER was more welcome than ever at the Monogram Club and Class Reunions in June, for Harry was an official representative of U.S. Steel's Roger Blough in bringing tidings of a $100,000 grant in recognition of the Notre Dame effort to become a great university.

Congratulations to CLARENCE W. HARDING, public relations director of the South Bend Tribune, on his appointment as chairman of the newspaper information service committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

1926

Frank A. Deitle
1763 Kessler Blvd.
South Bend 16, Ind.

REUNION REGISTRANT
REV. THOMAS J. MORRISON.

The deadline is here but my best source of information is not. RUDY GOEPFRICH has been in Japan since the first of April representing the Automotive Division of the Bendix Corporation. I am sure that when he returns if there are any of our class between here and the far borders of Japan, they will have been contacted.

A note from Rudy before he left saying he had talked to BILL DEFFERARI in Dallas. Bill is the Hiram Walker distributor there.

FATHER ED MASSERT, C.S.C., is assisting at Holy Cross parish in South Bend after over 20 years as a missionary in East Pakistan.

DENNIS O'NEILL has opened his own advertising agency in Cleveland. Thought I would see him in Cleveland before this writing but time has no respect for intentions.

Another member of our class has departed from our ranks. JOE HEMPHLING died March 16 of this year.

From the Alumni Office:

Death's toll has been heavy in recent months. Besides the reported passing of South Bend's JOE HEMPHLING, Chicago's JOHN O'HERN TUOHY and (announced a year late) Las Vegas' URBAN SIMON, there came the death of coach TOM LIEB, '23, who took his M.A. with the Class. Prayers are requested for these men.

Continuing prayers would also be appreciated by Professor JIM WITHEY, whom illness prevented from attending a faculty dinner held by FATHER HESBURGH honoring Jim's retirement after a distinguished career as a teacher of English, journalism and communication arts.

A card from Tokyo depicting the Great Buddha at Kamakura told us that RUDY GOEPFRICH had visited Ueno Park, "where 100,000 Japanese were celebrating the Cherry Blossom Festival. They celebrate that here like we do New Year at home. Plenty of sake (rice wine) is consumed." We hope Rudy watches the sake for his own sake.

JAMES M. PEARSON has a new law firm name, Pearson and Tatham, in the Citizens Bank Bldg., Flint, Mich., and a new home address, 3501 Mackin Road, Flint 4. For the benefit of classmates the telephone is CE 5-0202.

Finally, congratulations to J. VINCENT SOISSON on his election as vice president of West Penn Power company in charge of marketing. Vince continues to administer West Penn's advertising, promotion, development, market research and sales, as he had as director of marketing. In Greensburg, Pa., he also continues his activity in the Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest, Boy Scouts, Rotary, Kiwanis and hospital boards. And to Judge and Mrs. JOSEPH PETER FRISKE on the ordination and First Mass of their son, Rev. Joseph P. Friske, on the first week end of June in Saginaw, Mich.

1927

Clarence J. Ruddy
32 S. River Street
Aurora, Illinois

REUNION REGISTRANTS

EMMETT I. BARRON, EDWIN A. BERKERY, SEBASTIAN T. BERNER, ELMER W. BESTEN, HARRY M. BIEDKA, WILLIAM O. BRANDENBURG, EUGENE F. BRENNAN, JOHN P. BUTLER, WILLIAM S. CATE, PHILIP J. CLARKE, WILLIAM R. CLARKE, JR., MAURICE COHEN, LAWRENCE E. CROWLEY, JOSEPH CUTTS, JOHN A. DAILEY, WILLIAM J. DEGENEN, SR., JOSEPH P. DELLA MARIA, GEORGE W. DOHERTY, WILLIAM DOTTERWEICH, ALBERT L. DOYLE, ROBERT P. DOYLE, THOMAS B. DUNN, BERNARD EPSTEIN, VICTOR H. FALL, MARC A. FIEHRER, ANDREW N. GALONE, JOSEPH A. GARTLAND, JR., JOHN D. GEARY, JOHN M. GLASKA, JOHN E. GRUNING, JOHN J. HALPIN, RICHARD L. HALPIN, M. ALBERT HENRY, LEO J. HERBERT, WILLIAM M. HOLLAND, JR., JOHN HOWARD, ROBERT IRMIGER, WILLIAM D. KAVANAUGH, THOMAS F. KENNY, JR., EUGENE C. KNOBLOCK, REGIS LAVELLE, STANLEY J. LECHOWICK, CLAYTON LEROUX, HENRY G. LESTRANGE, RICHARD J. LYNCH, HAROLD T. McCABE, WILLIAM McCULLOUGH, JAMES P. McFARLANE, EDWARD F. McKENNA, EDWARD J. McLAUGHLIN, VINCENT A. McNALLY, CHARLES W. MARTIN, CARL A. MATTHES, EDWARD J. MAYER, ALOYSIUS MILLER, FRANCIS E. MORAN, REV. JAMES J. MORAN, ED J. MULLEN, GEORGE C. MULLEN, THOMAS E. NASH, JOHN J. NYIKOS, FRANK B. OBARRSKI, HARRY W. O'BOYLE, THOMAS E. O'CONNOR, JAMES T. QUINN, JOHN REIDY, C. F. REGAN, JR., ERMIN E. REICHERT, STEPHEN H. RONAY, CLARENCE J. RUDDY, EDWIN L. RYAN, REV. HARRY RYAN, JEROME J. SECHOWSKI, JAMES L. SHEERIN, PATRICK

F. SIZE, M. ALBAN SMITH, RICHARD SMITH, HORACE SPILLER, ROBERT D. STEPHAN, LUTHER SWYGERT, GEORGE THOMAS, WILLIAM TRAVIS, JOHN J. WALLACE, VAN WALLACE, ERNEST J. WILHELM, DONALD J. WILKINS, JAMES G. WING.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary CLARENCE RUDDY will have a complete rundown on the highly successful Class of '27 reunion in the next issue. Meanwhile, besides mourning the recently reported deaths of ED MORIARTY, BILL SULLIVAN and BAILEY WALSH (sympathy to their survivors), the Class could exult that CARL MATTHES, comptroller of the Bendix Products Division of Bendix Corp. since 1942, has been appointed executive assistant for financial affairs in charge of several Bendix divisions and subsidiaries.

NORB SKELLEY, who is "listed with the Class of 1925 but really a member of the Class of '27," sent his regrets from Salina, Kansas, at not being able to be aboard at the reunion. And WILLIAM D. KAVANAUGH, Washington manager of American Cyanamid and the D.C. Foundation chairman, won a second N.D. Man of the Year citation from the N.D. Club of Washington. Bill took his first award in 1934. The Kavanaghs have four sons, the oldest, Dick, being a student at Notre Dame.

1928

Louis F. Buckley
68-10 108th Street
Forest Hills 75, N. Y.

REUNION REGISTRANTS WILLIAM DAILY, C. G. TOPPING.

Two of our medics, DR. RICHARD WEHS and DR. WILLIAM MCGEE, and FRED RUZZI died since I submitted class notes for the last issue.

HENRY DAVIS and DR. FRANK HEGARTY advised me of the death of DR. DICK J. WEHS on February 19 in veterans Hospital at Birmingham, Alabama, where he was on the medical staff. Dick was graduated from Johns Hopkins Medical School. From 1946 until 1960, he was a physician for the Dupont Company in Aiken, South Carolina. Dick was always interested in the Class and returned for our 25th reunion. He is survived by his mother. JOHN BERSCHIED visited Dick several months ago when he was ill.

DR. BILL MCGEE died March 19, 1962 in Daly City, California after a long illness. Bill was a graduate of St. Louis Medical School. He practiced medicine in North Dakota for a number of years. He is survived by his wife, a son and a daughter. Bill and his wife attended our '28 cocktail party in 1960.

FRED RUIZ died February 7 in La Jolla, New Mexico, where he had taught English and Spanish at La Jolla High School. Fred received his law degree in 1928 and taught at Notre Dame for three years. He is survived by his wife and three children.

FATHER ANDY MULREANY, C.S.C., has offered Masses for these classmates at the request of the Class. Please remember them in your prayers. I will miss their prompt responses to my requests for news. Each was a devoted member of the Class.

April 4th was Class of '28 day before the Senate Judiciary Committee. The Presidential appointments were approved that day of BILL JONES to the U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., and GEORGE BEAMER to the U.S. District Court for Northern Indiana where he will join another '28 man, JUDGE ROBERT A. GRANT, on the District Court bench. Although GEORGE BEAMER received his law degree in 1929, he started with us in 1924 and is always active in the '28 reunions. BILL JONES was praised at the hearing by two old friends from his days in Montana in the 1930's, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Senator Lee Metcalf, both of Montana. BILL JONES had been a trial attorney and a partner for 16 years in Hamilton & Hamilton law firm in D.C. GEORGE BEAMER had served as Indiana attorney general and as Chairman of the Public Service Commission of Indiana. Congratulations Bill and George.

Your Class Secretary has been appointed Regional Administrator, Bureau of Employment Security, U.S. Department of Labor, for New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands with headquarters in New York City.

I was pleased to see DR. DAN BRADLEY at a meeting of the Notre Dame Club, Long Island Division, where I spoke on interracial justice in March. Dan is active in our Catholic Interracial Council in New York.

In reading the January 15, 1962 issue of the magazine "Steel," I noticed a picture of FRANK J. DONOVAN, president, Kayden Engineering Corporation, Muskegon, Michigan. It was an excellent account of how Frank resolved, with the aid of union leaders, a problem of low productivity and high costs. Frank has three children and three grandchildren. A friend from Muskegon reports that Frank is also very active in Muskegon groups including the Board of Mercy Hospital of which he is Chairman.

I had a number of letters from classmates referring to a quotation of mine in the March Reader's Digest including one from VINCE CARNEY from the law office of DENNY DALY in St. Paul where Vince has been visiting his daughter at St. Catherine College.

While on speaking assignments in Buffalo, I talked to MARTY RYAN and BILL DOWDALL and GUS JENKINS. Marty is still single. Gus is semi-retired and teaches a few high school classes.

TRI-CITIES — Principals of the Tri- (or Quad-) City Notre Dame Night in Davenport, Iowa, included (from left) Jerry Culligan, retiring president of the Club; Jack Bush, newly elected president; Rev. Francis O. Nealy, O.P., Notre Dame professor of theology, guest speaker; and Notre Dame Man of the Year J. Ralph Coryn, '22.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JOHN V. HINKEL, '29
For an Old Soldier, a Busy Retirement

Early this year John Hinkel, veteran Washington public relations consultant, was appointed director of the newly opened office of Kelly-Sanders, Inc., St. Louis public relations firm, in the National Press Bldg., Washington, D.C.

Col. Hinkel capped his N.D. degree with graduate work at the Columbia School of Journalism. Prominent in Washington's military, civic and patriotic groups, he retired mandatorily as colonel in Military Intelligence in 1960, having started as a private more than 30 years ago, before action on a recommended promotion to reserve brigadier. Last September he was honored at its

He has a daughter at D'Youville College, and married sons in South Bend and Kalamazoo. Gus saw LEO MCINTYRE at the Syracuse-Notre Dame game. BILL DOWDALL, of the Federal Market Company, advised that he expected to see MERV AGGELER (Superior Court Judge) and Doctor JOHN GOCKE in Los Angeles in May.

Our Treasurer, TOM HART, has been ill with a serious case of pneumonia.

FATHER ANDY MULREANY, C.S.C., St. Pius X Rectory, 52553 Fir Road, Granger, Indiana, celebrated his 25th anniversary of ordination in June. Congratulations, Father Andy. We appreciate the good work Father has done as Chairman of our recent reunions and the interest he has shown in the Class for many years. Many widows of '28 men have told me how much they appreciated the letters received from Father Andy at the time of the deaths of their husbands. If you haven't already done so, please drop Father Andy a note on this happy occasion.

I was pleased to participate in two very successful Notre Dame University conferences arranged by FATHER MARK FITZGERALD, C.S.C., the Labor-Management Conference in February and the Symposium on "Mater et Magistra" in May. Our classmate, BILL BROWN, Assistant General Attorney, Allis-Chalmers Company, Milwaukee, spoke on the same panel with me at the May meeting.

On Universal Notre Dame Night in New York, I joined the following '28 men at a table: JOHN ANTUS, BERNIE GARBER, LARRY CULLINEY and DR. DAN BRADLEY. You should have seen JOHN ANTUS do the "twist." John and Bernie have sons at Notre Dame. LARRY CULLINEY, who came in from North Haven, Connecticut, mentions that in his travels as a Federal bank annual convention by the Association of the U.S. Army for his "outstanding contributions to the Army." The citation said that "as a recognized historian whose articles in magazines and newspapers have received wide circulation" he had been "tireless in informing the public of the aims, ideals and desire for service which have motivated the Army." At retirement his certificate of achievement from the Department of the Army stated that he "unhesitatingly gave his knowledge and sacrificed time" for projects enhancing Army prestige, and "as a special advisor to successive Chiefs of Information . . . assisted in solving problems of a most sensitive nature."

John has been president since 1959 of the Society of Natives of the District of Columbia; vice-president of the Washington chapter, Association of the U.S. Army; past president of the D. C. Dept., Reserve Officers Assn. Chairmanships include: Armed Forces Committee, Metropolitan Washington Board of Trade; Defense Strategy Seminars, A.U.S.A., Washington; Citizenship Day, D.C., 1960-61; former chairman, Armed Forces Reserve Training Committee; former vice-chairman, National Public Relations, VFW. He is a trustee of Washington's CYO and Religious Heritage of America; director of N.C.C.J. in Washington, and a former director of the Urban League and Bureau of Rehabilitation. A lecturer on public relations since 1951, he is active in the Columbia Historical Society, National Press Club, Overseas Press Club and the Public Relations Society of America.

A former reporter on the news staffs of the Washington Post and New York Times, John was a foreign correspondent for the Times and other papers in 1938, covering the Spanish Civil War, the Austrian Anschluss and other European news events. During World War II he served in Africa, Italy and Austria in Military Intelligence. He was director of public information at Notre Dame from 1945 to 1948.

examiner, he sees CLINTON RYAN '26 who is in the feed store business in Milton, Vermont and FRANCIS CANNON '27, an attorney in Rutland, Vermont.

Plan to attend our seventh '28 Class cocktail party with your wife, children and friends after the Michigan State game on October 20, 1962, in the basement of O'Shaughnessy Hall on the campus.

From the Alumni Office:

The office has been swamped with letters, press releases and newspaper clippings about two members of the Class of '28 and their new federal appointments.

Secretary LOUIS F. BUCKLEY, since his appointment as Regional Director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, has seemed to increase the breakneck tempo of speeches, conferences and publications that he has kept for the past year or two as New York Regional Director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Including New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, Lou's region is the largest of all, both in population and labor force covered by the department. Since this latest promotion he has presented a paper on "Social Insurance" at Notre Dame's May 5 symposium on the encyclical "Mater et Magistra" of Pope John XXIII; addressed the May 11 closing exercises of the Poppenhusen Institute, College Point, N. Y., on "Education and Training—The Key to the Job Frontiers of the 1960's" (adult education); been quoted on his N.D. presentation in the May 12 America magazine; published a comprehensive article on "Jobs and Industry growth in the Current Decade" in the May 17 Commercial and Financial Chronicle; been quoted in turn by Sylvia Porter in her syndicated

"Your Dollar" column of May 23 ("Don't drop out of school, kid!") and by Wisconsin's Senator Alexander Wiley in the Congressional Record of June 5.

The other subject of the mail deluge was the Honorable WILLIAM BLAKELY JONES, whose appointment to the Federal Bench of the District of Columbia and subsequent confirmation coincided with similar appointments and confirmations for GEORGE BEAMER, '29, and STEPHEN ROTH, '31.

Des Moines Banker HAROLD KLEIN, '26, wrote his classmate ART HALEY about a "letter from LAURENCE WINGERTER, whom you may remember. Larry at one time was with the Des Moines Transit Company, and until three years ago was president of the San Antonio Transit Company. When that operation was sold to the City of San Antonio he became president of Red Arrow Freight Lines, a common carrier in the state of Texas. He seems to be getting along quite well."

1929

Larry Stauder
Engineering Bldg.
Notre Dame, Indiana

REUNION REGISTRANT GAYLORD P. HAAS.

J. TERRY PLUNKETT, AB '59, AM '62, son of DON PLUNKETT, illustrious past secretary of our Class, will be at the University of Minnesota next fall as a teaching fellow. He will be continuing work for a doctorate in English. Terry will be remembered for, among other reasons, his able assistance at our 25th and other Class reunions. His sister Coleen and JOSEPH DORRYCOTT, '62, an M.S. graduate in Engineering, have selected June 30 as their wedding day. Younger sister Patsy will be a senior at St. Joseph's High School, South Bend, where she is a strong candidate for top class offices and responsibilities. One of her close friends and classmates is the daughter of JOE LAUBER. We compliment Dorothy, who is at present employed in the Courthouse, on her fine family and we share her pride in their progress.

JOSEPH P. McNAMARA, also a former secretary of the Class of '29, was recently elected vice president of the National Distillers and Chemical Corp. This firm merged with Bridgeport Brass in July, 1961. Joe joined the legal department of Bridgeport Brass in 1946 and had advanced to vice president of personnel (1959) and now vice president of labor relations for National. Prior to 1946 Joe spent four years with Army Ordnance Corps where he held the rank of colonel. A native of Indianapolis, he served as deputy attorney general for Indiana from 1933 to 1942. Joe is a Fourth Degree K. of C., is a director of the New England Council, the Notre Dame Law Association and is otherwise active in civic affairs. He and his wife reside at Pine Tree Corner, Monroe, Connecticut.

Another illustrious LL.B., '29 is GEORGE N. BEAMER, SR., of South Bend, recently installed federal district judge for Northern Indiana. George took the oath of office from his attorney son, George N. Beamer, Jr., in the presence of the judge's wife.

HARLEY L. McDEVITT has been named advertising manager of the National Geographic Magazine. Harley joined the magazine in 1934. He became automotive manager in 1953, and Eastern advertising manager in 1959. His headquarters will be at 630 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Harley, a graduate of the College of Commerce, served in World War II as a Navy Lieutenant Commander. He lives in Montclair, New Jersey.

A fellow pupil of Brother Cyp, BILL SIDENFADEN, of Los Angeles, is now a director of Pendleton Tool Industries, Inc. "Sid" is president, a director and a founder of Suburban Gas, one of the nation's leading and largest distributors of LP Gas. A native of Boise, Idaho, "Sid" and family live in Arcadia, California. If they are reading this and haven't heard recently from nephew OSCAR SIDENFADEN, a present sophomore at Notre Dame, your secretary informs them that Oscar is a recent convert to electrical engineering. He is transferring from chemistry. Oscar's dad, also Oscar, deceased, was, according to RAY SCHUBMEHL, '21, the genius of the E.E. class of 1921.

Another E.E. who has made the news releases is EDMUND C. DeBAENE, who has been promoted at the Detroit Edison Co. to the post of underground standards engineer. Ed joined Edison upon graduation in '29 and has held a variety of positions in research, employee relations and in general engineering. He is a Registered Professional Engineer, as well as AIEE, the Engineering Society of Detroit and ASA. His committee work with the International Electro-technical Commission and Edison Electric Institute has been extensive. He and wife Eleanor reside at 14384 Stahlin. Son TED DeBAENE, '61, is beginning his career in civil engineering.

Your secretary, Mrs. Stauder and son Larry, who will be a Notre Dame freshman in September, recently attended the establishment ceremonies of Eta Kappa Nu, the honor society for electrical engineers. Notre Dame is now the Delta Sigma chapter, and the E.E. seniors and alumni who qualify are eligible for membership. We are gratified that this privilege is no longer denied our alumni. Among the 37 who have already availed themselves of membership are ART DIEDRICH, '23; LARRY STAUDER, '29; and BOB HOLMES, '30. Our College of Engineering also has a chapter of Tau Beta Pi, the honor society of engineering. Inquiries are welcomed with regard to membership of '29ers or others, in these two societies.

From the Alumni Office:

Pray for MOTHER MARY VERA, S.N.D., a grad school classmate who died in Rome last April 13.

Following is a delayed news story from NCWC News on a Cleveland classmate:

SAGINAW, Mich., April 14 (NC) — Accent on positive measures to strengthen the nation was recommended as the best way to halt communism by an engineer who spent two years in Russia supervising construction of a steel plant.

"Concentrate less on denunciation and more on giving active leadership. Do your part in making this a better nation and we need not fear what communism can do to us," declared KARL MARTERSTECK of Cleveland in an address here.

Martersteck is an executive of a dredge and dock company and one of the national directors of the Notre Dame Foundation. He worked in Russia in the 1930's.

In his talk to the local Serra Club, Martersteck urged as a basic philosophy for the Western world the commandment of Christ on love of neighbor. He warned against judging the appeal of communism by the character of the actions of its leaders.

"Go to the young communists," he said. "They see in communism a means of bringing the better things of life to the people who have been denied them for centuries."

Martersteck strongly recommended the reading of the new booklet "Communism: Threat to Freedom," by Father John F. Cronin, S.S., of the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

JIM McQUAID, '31, Vincennes University bookstore proprietor (right), presents the 10th annual McQuaid Trophy to varsity athlete Ron Russell at the annual Civitan Club dinner for the Trailblazers. The trophy honors the athlete with highest scholastic record. Jim coached before a disabling sports accident.

Advertising Club at the Morris Inn to a history and portrait of the O'Brien Corp., one of South Bend's oldest manufacturers and practically an alumni-operated business. Among representatives of the famed paint manufacturer were: president JERRY CROWLEY, '31; Advertising Manager HARRY KOEHLER, '37; and Basic Research Director TOM MIRANDA, '59.

Lt. Col. LEO V. SCHIAVONE put in his active duty in the spring with the information section at Fifth Army headquarters. Leo is in his 20th year with the army and attached to a Chicago Reserve Information unit. A P.O.W. intelligence officer during W. W. II, he is now a claims attorney for Chicago's Zurich-American Insurance Co. Leo and Gertrude have a son, David, at N.D. and a daughter in prep school.

PHILIP DiGIORGIO, executive vice-president of California's prospering DiGiorgio Fruit Co., is now president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Phil was the subject of an extensive "Bay Area Profile" in the Daily Commercial News, called to our attention by FATHER ED KELLER, which we'd like to quote extensively in a forthcoming feature.

Lucky are the classmates who are getting "Langford's lines" in El Piscorino, Santiago newsletter of the Chilean Peace Corps under the direction of WALTER LANGFORD. It's a warm and witty compendium of chatter covering everything from agricultural techniques to baseball roundups, and it should keep the young Peace Corps volunteers feeling very much at home.

FRANCIS P. CREADON, Sr., '28, and Francis "Pat" Creadon, '60, both of Riverside, Ill., sing side by side with Chicago's Paulist Choristers, famed choir founded in 1904 by the late Rev. William Finn, C.S.P., L.L.D., '14. (See obituaries.)

1931

James T. Doyle
902 Oakton Street
Evanston, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

Election of RAY CONNORS, West Coast public relations director of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., as chairman of the Advisory Board of Mount St. Mary's College for 1962-63 has been announced by Sister Mary Rebecca, president.

His Eminence JAMES FRANCIS CARDINAL McINTYRE, Archbishop of Los Angeles, (L.L.D. '53), is honorary chairman of the Mount's Advisory Board.

Ray had previously been appointed to the board of trustees of Mount St. Mary's to assist in the development of the college.

Marie, wife of JIM McQUAID, the genial coach-turned-bookseller and Foundation chairman in Southern Indiana, wrote in April to report: "This past week Jim presented his 10th Annual Trophy to an outstanding member of the varsity at Vincennes University. This year it was won by Ron Russell, of Vincennes, and was given at a banquet sponsored by the local Civitan Club for the team, known as the Trailblazers.

"Jim started the award to prompt interest in the club when it was in its infancy in 1952, and through the years the boy has been selected who has shown outstanding scholastic ability first, and then athletic ability. Some of the boys are doctors, lawyers and coaches and, as Jim said the other evening at this presentation, 'these boys have made a name for themselves, not because they won the McQuaid Trophy, but because they had the qualities necessary to win.'"

Pray for the repose of the soul of JOSEPH E. CANNY of Corning, New York, who died in the spring. Sincere sympathy to Joe's family, including his brother, PAT CANNY, '28, of Cleveland.

1932

James K. Collins
2982 Torrington Rd.
Shaker Heights, Ohio

REUNION REGISTRANTS

NATHAN D. ALTMAN, GEORGE A. AREHART, GILBERT AUGUSTINE, HUGH E. BALL, JOHN W. BANNON, HARRY B. BEHRMAN, PAUL B. BELDEN, JR., LOYD C. BELLAMY, JOHN J. BOGNAR, HARRY C. BURGER, RICHARD G. CANNON, JOSEPH H. CAREY, PAUL D. CLARK, JAMES K. COLLINS, JOHN J. COLLINS, EUGENE T. CONNELLY, ANTHONY J. CONTI, JOHN E. COX, EUGENE J. COYNE, NORBERT J. CROWE, GEORGE E. CULLINAN, JR., CHARLES DOERR, WILLIAM P. DONNINO, VINCENT J. DONOHUE, JOSEPH J. DUNN, LEONARD J. DUNN, FRANCIS R. ERNST, RICHARD E. FABRYCKI, JOHN J. GEDDES, RAY GEIGER, HERBERT P. GIORGIO, ANTHONY J. GIUFFRE, J. EMMET GORMAN, ROBERT E. GORMAN, WILLIAM J. GORMAN, FRANCIS X. GRAHAM, MOST REV. PAUL J. HALLINAN, D.D., EDWARD J. HART, ERNEST C. HECHINGER, WILLIAM L. HOGAN, PAUL A. HOWE, JOHN M. KEANEY, HARRY F. KILBURGER, WILLIAM T. KIRBY, WALTER A. KOLBY, EDWIN T. KOLSKI, JOHN C. LITCHER, REV. CHARLES MC-CARRAGHER, C.S.C., FLORENCE J. MCCARTHY, JR., ANDREW F. MCGUIN, THOMAS L. MCKEVITT, FRANCIS M. MARLEY, JOHN H. MULHERN, D. FRANK MURNANE, FRANK L. MURRAY, CHARLES B. NASH, WILLIAM NEWBOLD, LEO NEWMAN, FRANCIS A. NORTON, JR., FRANCIS J. OELERICH, BARRY O'KEEFE, COLMAN O'SHAUGHNESSY, EDWARD V. O'SULLIVAN, PAUL A. O'TOOLE, CHARLES J. PETRETIC, JOSEPH PETRITZ, MARNS POPE, CLIFFORD E. PRODEHL, CLAUDE L. ROSSITER, CORNELIUS J. RUFFING, ALBERT J. RUSSO, DONALD T. RYAN, BENJAMIN B. SALVATY, LEO V. SCHIAVONE, RICHARD G. SCHNEIDER, 1930

Devere Plunkett
O'Shaughnessy Hall
Notre Dame, Indiana

From the Alumni Office:

The New York Athlete Club recently honored JOSEPH J. LORDI with a testimonial dinner after three terms as president of that venerable institution, during which time it was almost taken over by the Irish as a campus away from home. Among the alumni in attendance were: FRANK KIVLAN, '04; GENE T. CONNELLY, '32; ROBERT J. FINK and DON RILEY, '32; JOHN P. MOONEY, THOMAS G. RYDER and BERNARD J. McDERMOTT, JR., '53; and WILLIAM SHEA, '59.

The office received an announcement of the April marriage of Pat Winkler and Richard Browne from Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE F. WINKLER, Rockville Centre, N. Y.

President FRAN MESSICK devoted the 23rd annual meeting of his St. Joseph Valley Sales and

JAMES W. SIMMONS, JOHN J. STAUNTON, ROBERT C. STREB, WALTER E. TERRY, G. CLEMENS THEISEN, JOSEPH A. VASSALO, JOHN VOSS, CLINTON H. WATSON, REV. JEROME WILSON, C.S.C., REV. JOHN H. WILSON, C.S.C., ABRAHAM ZOSS.

These notes are being written before the Class Reunion, so a complete report on the festivities of it will have to wait for the next issue of the ALUMNUS. However, for the very few of you who did not get there, here is a few items of note.

ARCHBISHOP PAUL HALLINAN was selected by the University to say the Mass and give the sermon for the Baccalaureate ceremonies of the graduating class. It is our understanding that this is the first time that an alumnus, who is a member of the Hierarchy of the Church, has been so honored. The Archbishop was also an early registrant for the reunion.

Among others who wrote that they were coming were: TONY CONTI, CLEM THEISEN, BILL HOGAN, IKE TERRY, JOHN MULHERN, TED HALPIN, EMMET GORMAN, RAY GEIGER, CLIFF PRODEHL, JOHN KEANEY, TEX SIMMONS, JOHN COX, MIKE MOORE, HERB GIORGIO, FRAN OELRICH, JOHN LITCHER, GENE CONNELLY, RICH SCHNEIDER, ED KOLSKI, BILL KIRBY, PAUL DAILEY, WALT KOLBY, FRANK MARLEY, FRANK NORTON, JOE PETRITZ, ANDY MCGUANE, LEN DUNN, CHUCK DOERR, JOE DUNN, TERRY DILLON, CLINT WATSON, CLAUDE ROSSITER, PETE STREB, REV. CHARLES MCCARRAGHER, C.S.C., CHARLEY PETRETIC, REV. JOHN WILSON, C.S.C., REV. JERRY WILSON, C.S.C., LEO SCHIAVONE, PAUL HOWE, FRANK MILLER, SMOKY COYNE, PAUL BELDEN, JOE KENNY, GABE MORAN, and HANK ASMAN.

JIM WARD wrote that he could not be with us since his daughter was being married on the 19th but promised to be at the 35th Reunion. ED RHATIGAN also was unable to attend since his daughter was in the same wedding party.

TOM DUFFY'S daughter Mary graduated from the University of California on June 7 and was married to Mike Callahan on June 9 in San Francisco. These happy events prevented Tom from returning this year.

FRANCIS ANDRAY writes from Arlington, Va., that two of his boys were graduating on June 8 which kept him from the Reunion. He sent his best regards to the Class, and particularly to PAUL BELDEN, JOHN HOCKWALT and FRANK O'MALLEY.

JACK WITTLIFF also has a son graduating that week end, so missed the Reunion on that account. His son is entered in the University for the fall term.

We very much regret that AL CULVER could not attend because of illness, as he would have added so much by his presence. Kindly remember him in your prayers for a speedy recovery.

We were very sorry to learn of the death of two members of the Class through one of the mailings, and these were not previously reported. RAY McNALLY died on November 22, 1959 according to his sister. TOM GALBREATH died Nov. 14, 1960, according to Mrs. Galbreath. Tom's son, Tom, Jr., was a member of the graduating class on the campus this year.

AL McEACHERN has left the Goetz Brewery to become Vice President of the Pearl Brewing Co. He may be reached at Box 1661, San Antonio, Texas.

JACK HAMILTON, who has lived in almost every part of the world, is off again on another mission. This time he gives his present address as Nake Spasic No. 2, Dedinje, Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

FRANK IUEN is now with the Missouri Public Service Commission in Jefferson City. He was formerly in the office of the Governor of Missouri.

Although all the votes are not in, we feel certain that the Class should give a tremendous round of applause to CLIFF PRODEHL and his helpers for all the time, energy and money they expended to put the Reunion over as they did. A special thanks must go to RAY GEIGER whose ideas and generous giving of almanacs, pens, etc., supplied so much of the mailings to generate enthusiasm for the big 30th Reunion.

CAPT. BOB LEE writes that his Navy duties as Legal Officer for the Iceland Defense Force prevented him from coming to the Reunion. He missed the 25th Reunion as he was in Formosa, and really regretted missing this one. Bob and his wife made a quick trip to the east coast this spring to report to the Pentagon and, more important, to visit their first granddaughter in Orlando, Fla. She is one-year-old, and is the daughter of Roberta who is one of their twins. Bob can be assured that he was missed too.

STEPAN CENTER was formally dedicated on the occasion of the 1962 Senior Prom in May, when the recreation building rocked to the music of Billy May's band. Officiating (from left) are Father Hesburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stepan, donors of the Center, and Student Body President Chris Buckley.

From the Alumni Office:

NEIL HURLEY, named chairman of the National Export Expansion Committee, launched into the job of increasing American exports with a vigor that averted official Washington, according to the clippings. Even more clippings came in on Archbishop PAUL J. HALLINAN, who in a few months became first Archbishop of Atlanta and Metropolitan of the Atlanta province, first alumni Archbishop to be baccalaureate celebrant and speaker at a Notre Dame Commencement, and first such exalted member of the hierarchy to spend a reunion week end with his classmates at Notre Dame. Condolences to His Excellency on the loss of some key members of his Atlanta flock in the tragic European air disaster of June. Lt. Col. REMI RENIER finished a course at the Army Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, last May. EDWARD J. KELLY is now a general partner as well as manager of the trading department of Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades & Co., New York securities firm. MARTIN F. KENNEDY is now manager of the Washington, D.C.,

REUNION IN MIAMI typifies many such vacation meetings by Notre Dame men: (from left) Earl Brown, '39, and Seymour Weisberger, '28, discuss Irish affairs with an ardent subway alumnus, Judge Cornelius Harrington of Chicago's Cook County Circuit Court.

district of Humble Oil. He and his wife Ethel have seven sons and two daughters. DOM NAPOLITANO presided over another great series of Bengal Bouts on campus last spring and also addressed a city-wide K. of C. breakfast in South Bend as an advocate of physical fitness for the nation's youth.

JERRY CONWAY advised that he joined Garrett and Associates, Hollywood public relations firm, in January. The head of the firm "secured his start in the p.r. business through JOHN NANOVIC, whom I knew as editor of the Juggler. Garrett knew John through the Kudner Adv. Agency." Jerry was with CBS Television and various communications media since moving from public relations in the Twin Cities in 1950.

1933

John A. Hoyt, Jr.
Gillespie & O'Connor
342 Madison Ave.
New York 17, N.Y.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

MURRAY J. BOOTH, REV. LAWRENCE G. BROESTL, C.S.C., DANIEL J. CASEY, JAMES DOWNS, REV. FRANCIS E. GARTLAND, C.S.C., JOSEPH HOLBACH, W. LAWRENCE SEXTON.

Considerable interest is developing among members of our Class with respect to our 30th Reunion, scheduled for June, 1963. In the months to come, more details will be published in this column and by the Alumni office. JOHN O'SHAUGHNESSY suggests that early plans and arrangements be made so that we will have a good turnout.

In Paradisum Deducant Te Angeli (May the Angels lead thee into Paradise).

From the University and from his many friends, the sad word has come in that MIKE KOKEN died on April 15, as a result of a coronary. We shall always remember Mike as a colorful campus personality, a brilliant athlete, honored by the Monogram Club as its President and a successful businessman. On behalf of the Class, we extend deep sympathy to his wife.

The sympathy of the Class is also extended to JOE DEMPSEY, who recently lost his wife.

Navy Comdr. CHUCK HAFRON is in sick bay at Great Lakes. He suffered a heart attack in February.

The State Capital (Albany) is still talking about the recent engagement party given by ED ECKERT and his wife for their daughter, Sally.

From BILL LYNCH, who is with Sterling Drug Company in New York, we learn that T. C. PINCKLEY visits ART RUPPUS frequently during the football season and that he sees ROLAND DAMES when he passes through St. Louis.

BERNIE (MIKE) DE LAY, past President of Nebraska Elks Assn., was recently elected the President of the De Lay First National Bank of Norfolk, Nebraska. Mike recently saw MAURY LEE in Chicago at the National Elks Convention.

LARRY SEXTON, still engaged in the real estate business in Indianapolis, is now a Director of The Peoples National Bank and Trust Company. Larry visits ND for all home games—has missed only 3 home games since 1928.

JOHN ENGLISH still active in Alumni circles in Tacoma—hopes that anyone visiting the fair in Seattle will contact him.

Congratulations to CHARLIE FARRIS. That was a fascinating story about him in the St. Louis papers in connection with the land clearance and housing program that he has been directing in that area. In a public testimonial, the Mayor of St. Louis recently said, "Charles L. Farris is a big man in a big job. We give him credit for changing the face of our City." Surely he is our "Distinguished Class Member" for this edition of the column.

ED GOUGH, recently thumbing through banking magazines, discovered that his classmate MIKE DE LAY had been elected President of his local bank. It was Ed who sent good wishes to Mike.

DON HERRON, '34, on a recent visit to New York, reported that he saw JACK BREEN and JERRY ASHLEY at a party at the Detroit A.C.

GEORGE H. ROHRS, President of Tappan Tanker Terminal, Inc., Hastings-on-Hudson, awaiting the arrival of the first deep water overseas fuel tanker to open his new type water fuel terminal — biggest in Metropolitan area.

FRANK KELLOGG is now Manager of Investment Department of Cuna Mutual Ins. Society, Madison, Wisconsin. Frank writes he has been unsuccessful in efforts to reach CHARLIE PRESTON, Fairbanks, Alaska, his next-door neighbor in Morrissey Hall.

VINCE BURKE and FRANK FALLON are presently serving as Directors of the Notre Dame Law Association. Frank suffered a series of heart attacks last fall, but writes he is now doing well. That's important news for his (8) children.

JOHN DONNELLY — President of Donnelly Mirrors, Inc., in Holland, Michigan, sends regards from Europe — where he is vacationing with his wife and (3) children.

PAUL CALLAGHAN proudly writes from Bellevue, Ohio, that one of his boys is starting at ND this fall.

From Houston, TOM HUGHEN inquires about his former bridge partners, Don Draper, John Poynton and Tom O'Meara.

JACK JAEGER now with cosmetic division of Genesco Inc., spends considerable of his time in travel. Jack lives in Riverdale, N. Y. and has two daughters in high school and a younger son in grade school.

BOB HEITGER reports from Bedford, Indiana, that he is looking forward to the '63 Reunion.

Seeing Capt. BILL HAWKES (USN) in the last edition of the ALUMNUS inspecting North Atlantic Naval Installations reminded us that we haven't heard from either BILL or from FATHER (LT. COL.) MAURICE POWERS, our distinguished Army Chaplains, in some time.

Missing Addresses Bureau

The alumni list — mail returned unclaimed — continues to grow. Periodically we shall make inquiries — your assistance will be helpful. Many of us would like to learn of the whereabouts of GEORGE BEAUDIN, ED GLEESON, JOHN HARVEST, NORB SCHWARTZ and CHARLIE PRESTON — (Fairbanks, Alaska).

To those who have answered our request for news — thanks! To those who misplaced our inquiry we can be reached at the address noted in the column.

From the Alumni Office:

ROGER BRENNAN has been succeeded as chairman of Cleveland's Gilmour Academy board of trustees by WILLIAM COLEMAN, '40, but he remains on the board. In May EUGENE RAU was elected president of The Moles, an association of heavy construction engineers. He is vice-president and chief engineer of J. Rich Steers, Inc., and lives in Westfield N.J. F. GRANGER WEILL, publisher of the Port Huron (Mich.) Times Herald, joined other Michigan editors as a luncheon guest of President Kennedy. Lt. Col. JOHN HURLEY left Edith at home in Staten Island last spring to participate in logistics exercises at Ft. Lee, Va. John teaches at St. John's in Brooklyn. SISTER FIDELIA LAUGHLIN, who won her master's degree in Spanish with the Class, is professor of Spanish and chairman of her department at Marygrove College, Detroit, but she's spending the summer studying Spanish literature at the University of Madrid, Spain. She is a former pupil of SISTER MARY JEROME SANFORD, M.A., '22.

1934

T. Edward Carey
223 Elmwood Rd.
Rocky River 16, Ohio

Upon our recent return from a meeting at N.D. we were filled with all kinds of zeal, good resolutions, in fact, the old pepper, for there just ain't no other place like Notre Dame in the spring. Came then, however, a deadline notice from the Magazine, and a quick peek into the folder marked "1934-Current." Mother Hubbard should be my partner.

At this dismal juncture, one Mansfield of San Francisco, erstwhile secretary of this organization, came through with a lengthy epistle, reprinted herewith. (The editor of the ALUMNUS is constantly urging Class Secretaries to be brief in their reports. Inasmuch, as we have been on occasion so brief as to be undiscernible, we must have a credit due for a little space.)

ED MANSFIELD reports: "Guilt of the guild" often afflicts retired class secretaries. At the end of a five year span of cajoling brothers of the broken fist to take up quills, they exhale and pontificate: "That's that. Now let good ol' — worry about that column from now on." Then they envision the latest compiler booty-owing into an empty mailbox week after week, and pining: "Ghee, they liked me in school." Then sympathy sets in like fog creeping under the Golden Gate Bridge, and volunteer stuff like this booms in on T. Edward and his ilk.

FATHER JOHN ANTON, '38, rejoices with his family after ordination and First Mass in Rome, Italy: (from left) John J. Anton, Sr.; Dwight McKay, Chicago; Father Anton; his mother and two brothers, Bill and Dick Anton, '39. (Italnews photo)

"GEORGE MENARD is rumored to have done a good job as Chicago club president; still in TV, but probably keeps a crystal radio job open back in Sergeant's Bluff, Iowa, just in case TV is a flash in the panning. Saw HUGHIE DEVORE briefly when a campus Foundation meeting came off — and old age hit me fast: near him in Cartier was Manager JAMES SCHWARTZ, handsome carbon copy of a halfbacking father, on striding Marchmont. Is WALT KENNEDY still mayor of Stamford, Conn.? BLISH, EUGENE, is still a suitcase man out of Denver for lamb promotion for the American Wool Council; young Bucky is an N.D. junior, and should make a good catcher for Coach Kline.

"Not many '34 men out here in the West. CLAUDE MULLEAGUE, who came back to finish after we left, is in Oakland; BOB KELLEY, ex-manager, is bringing up his own young athletes in L.A.; ED SPORL came to San Mateo for United Fruit, and when they promoted him back to native New Orleans, thousands of his friends here quit bananas for kumquats. JOHN CONLEY, journalist who went from pungent prose to spicy McCormick & Co., came here to head the Schilling division but was transferred before he got settled. Local Dictaphone friends say that DON BRICE is no longer v-p there, but couldn't tell me where now. In the retreat picture in the last ALUMNUS, he looked content, so the new deal must be a good deal.

"JIM KEARNS is due here in May for son Tom's exit with honors from Santa Clara, and then into Illinois on a math fellowship. Denver's Blish reports Atlanta contacts with MIKE WIEDL, and non-Atlanta talk with inventor HARVEY ROCKWELL. Thanks to Carey's computer for STEW OSBORN'S move from Shreveport to Houston (I'll call you in Houston, Stev). LAURIE VEJAR is still with Disney Studios, and CHAPPIE CHAPMAN is still smiling in L.A. The late JOHN (Kansas City) O'CONNOR'S fine scholastic heritage is being maintained by Kathy of SMC, now a Peace Corps girl with Walter Langford's team in South America. Mrs. John (Loretta) and brother Edward and wife visited us here in San Mateo. We're sure that the eight young O'Connors remember easy John as we do: scholar, friend, Christian gentleman.

"Do any of you foggy-memoried characters remember a EDWARD KRAUSE in '34? I want to remind you that we probably don't appreciate the good job he does for N.D. in his travels. I've watched him work out here, and I can testify. His No. 1 pride right now? Surely his tall son in the soutane of a C.S.C. seminarian.

"That's the news. If I can opiumize stuff like this away out here, you depression victims who lie to each other face to face, can sit down and help Carey earn his stipend. If you come west, try me at San Mateo, or Crown Zellerbach's headquarters building in 'The City.'"

— Ed Mansfield

From the Alumni Office:

T.C. MOYNIHAN is manufacturing manager for the Bendix Products Aerospace Division of the Bendix Corp., in charge of all fabrication and assembly of aircraft and space products. Formerly program director of propulsion controls, he has lived in South Bend since 1935 and has been with Bendix since 1940. SISTER RENATA DALY, C.S.C., who gained her master's degree with the Class, has had her public relations troubles since succeeding SISTER MADALEVA as president of St. Mary's College (including a much publicized quarrel with an English artist over the propriety of displaying his drawings while he was a temporary faculty member), but her classmates hope she will attain the academic stature of her great predecessor.

1935

Franklyn Hochreiter
702 Scarlet Dr.
Towson 4, Maryland

REUNION REGISTRANTS

FRANCIS DUNN, JAMES MacDEVITT.

From the Alumni Office:

New York's voluble Congressman WILLIAM E. MILLER has been making a lot of headlines since becoming Republican national chairman. He's well on the way to becoming as fiery and controversial a figure as his former Democratic counterpart, the late PAUL M. BUTLER, '27. Bill scored heavily against the Kennedy administration in criticism of administration tactics against the steel industry, but he has not been afraid to indulge in intra-party sniping, criticizing Richard Nixon's campaign tactics, setting up party councils opposed by old-timers, etc. Just the kind of individualism you could expect from a Notre Dame man. Bill's travels have not kept him from affairs of Notre Dame. He was a guest of the Terre Haute Club during a trip to that city, and the St. Joseph Valley Club brought him to South Bend for a nonpartisan address on Universal Notre Dame Night. (See Clubs.) F.T. McGUIRE, former foundry manager for South Bend's Sibley Machine & Foundry, is now vice-president of research for Deere & Co., Moline, Ill., farm machinery manufacturer with which he has been associated since 1948. Finally, some notes on Class President DANIEL J. YOUNGERMAN, who was appointed director of purchasing of Raytheon Company, Lexington, Mass., last December. Dan is responsible for the coordination and administration of purchasing policy and procedure of all the company's operating divisions and plants. Dan was formerly director of procurement for Bendix Corporation's Mishawaka missile division and a purchaser for Studebaker-Packard Corp. Writes Dan: "I started here with Raytheon as of December 1, 1961, and lived a bachelor's life until March 8 when I moved my family into a new home here in Lexington—that is my wife, youngest daughter Kathie and our French poodle. My oldest daughter Peggy was a sophomore at Purdue. . . . Middle daughter Marilee was a senior at St. Mary's Academy and has been living with the PAT MANIONS. She and Pat's youngest daughter Diane have been very close friends for years." The family returned for graduation in June. Dan continues: "Although I am now out here, I fully intend to give as much effort as always to the Class of 1935 and am looking forward to our 30th in 1965. . . . I had lunch last week with ART McMANMON. . . . All local contacts relative to the Class should be directed to ED SMITH, treasurer. Eventually, after things become a little less hectic, I hope to track down '35ers in this area. . . . P.S. If you want to check up on CHARLIE CALLAHAN's early days, I am sure in a good position to do so. This is his home town, you know." Dan can be reached at 193 Grant St., Lexington 73, Mass.

1936

Joseph J. Waldron
70 Black Rock Road
Yardley, Pennsylvania

From the Alumni Office:

Since last December ROBERT F. COOK, 409 N. Victoria St., Mishawaka, Ind., has been assistant secretary of Emmeo Insurance Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of South Bend's Associates Investment Co. Bob was previously manager of the underwriting and filing departments. He is a member of the Tri-Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America, the Fellowship Club and the Scottish Rite. The Cooks have two children.

1937

Joseph P. Quinn
P.O. Box 275
Lake Lenape
Andover, New Jersey

REUNION REGISTRANTS

LOUIS J. ALAMAN, HARRY A. BALDWIN, GEORGE BATES, RALPH L. BERNARD, GIRARD E. BESANCENEY, JOHN E. BRASSELL, ENRIQUE J. BRIAS, ALLAN F. BRIDE, ROBERT C. BURKE, JAMES CALDWELL, MERLIN J. CALDWELL, RALPH CARDINAL, PETER CASSONE, REV. RAYMOND F. COUR, C.S.C., JERRY CLAEYS, JR., JOHN J. COYLE, ROBERT J. CRONIN, JOHN P. DALEY, LARRY DANBOM, RICHARD H. DELANEY, SENATOR DILEO, BERNARD P. DONNELLY, PAUL T. DORAN, JOSEPH T. DORGAN, JAMES W. DOWNEY, F. JOSEPH DROLLA, CHARLES W. DUFFY, ALFRED T. ERSKINE, LOUIS C. FEHLIG, ROBERT B. FILSON, RICHARD E. FLOOD, WILLIAM R. FOLEY, EDWARD A. FOX, EDWARD GARVEY, FRED GAST, JEROME H. GOHMAN, ARCH F. GOTT, WILLIAM H. GRAHAM, PAUL A. GUARNIERI, DONALD HANNING, HAROLD E. HEINEMANN, DONALD A. HENNESSY, FRANCIS J. HERB, THOMAS J. HIGGINS, ARTHUR F. HOFFMAN, LOUIS H. HOLLENBACH, EDWARD P. HUISKING, PETER J. JOHNNEN, CHARLES B. JORDAN, REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., C. JOSEPH KALMAN, PAUL H. KANE, MILTON A. KATZ, BERNARD KEFFLER, WILLIAM J. KENNEDY, CARL KING, RICHARD W. KING, WILFRED KIRK, HARRY F. KOEHLER, REV. WILLIAM

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JAMES P. COLLERAN, '35
Tops in Firm, Family, Club, Community

James Colleran is a partner in Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, one of the top three certified public accounting firms in the nation. A former president of the Notre Dame and Serra Clubs of Cleveland, he has been elected chairman of the Serra International Convention to be held in Cleveland in 1964. But these are only incidentally mentioned in the four-page recitation of his devotion to Church, his business, community affairs and family life that made him Notre Dame Man of the Year at last year's Universal Notre Dame Night in Cleveland.

Jim's involvement in a business devoted to untangling a welter of federal, state and local taxes was detailed in a recent profile by columnist Bob Seltzer in the Cleveland Press. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery has 22 offices in the U.S. and 76 more abroad under the firm name of Coopers & Lybrand. But Jim's citation as a Notre Dame man began with his youth in Youngstown, O.

Descendent of four Irish grandparents, he was an honor student at Youngstown's Rayen high and a star athlete in football, basketball and track. Halfback on the undefeated Rayen football team of 1929, he dreamed of going on to football stardom at Notre Dame until osteomyelitis infected his hip joint and left him with a limp. Resigned, he completed his senior year as class president and went on to academic stardom in the College of Commerce. Joining Lybrand after graduation, he soon passed his C.P.A. exam and worked himself up to a partnership in 1958.

Meanwhile he had plunged into the affairs of the Notre Dame Club and championed the interests of younger graduates. Elected president in 1952, he has been chairman of many Club functions. Jim was elected president of Serra in 1958, working tirelessly to promote vocations to the priesthood. He has also taught religion to public high school students, served as director and treasurer of the Catholic Youth Service Bureau (aiding emotionally disturbed youngsters), held chairmanships in various other branches of Catholic Action, in addition to his work with the Cleveland Welfare Federation, Chamber of Commerce and various professional societies.

With his wife, the former Helen Connor, Jim is devoted to his two sons, Jim and Dennis, and two daughters, Mary Anne and Catherine. His all-N.D. family includes brother Lou, '46, and three Irish brothers-in-law: Chet Rice, '28; Jack Hagen, '34; and Dave Connor, '39.

C. KUNSCH, NELSON LAMPERT, JR., BROTHER ERIC LANDERS, C.S.C., JOHN P. LAUTAR, HARRY LINN, REV. ROBERT J. LOCHNER, C.S.C., THOMAS LUCKEY, WILLIAM J. LYNCH, JR., REV. WILLIAM J. McAULIFFE, C.S.C., FRANCIS T. McDONALD, CLEMENT L. McGOWAN, JR., RAYMOND E. McGRATH, ROBERT J. McKEATING, JOHN F. McKENNA, JOHN J. MANNING, FRANCIS A. MARINO, CHARLES F. MEYERS, CHARLES F. MILES, VERN MOONEY, REGINALD MORRISON, JAMES A. MOULDER, FREDERICK MULCAHY, ART MULHOLLAND, PAUL MULLER, WILLIAM F. MULDREAN, FRED W. MUNDEE, CHARLES J. NAU, EDWARD R. NEAHER, WALTER NIENABER, JAMES F. O'HARA, JAMES L. PARSONS, THOMAS PENDERGAST, HARRY POULIN, JOHN M. POWERS, III, FRANCIS QUINLAN, JOSEPH P. QUINN, JR., BERNARD F. REILLY, JOHN A. RILEY, PAUL ROARK, JOSEPH P. SANCULIUS, JOSEPH V. SCHILLING, ALBERT J. SCHWARTZ, WILLIAM J. SHARP, JR., J. PAUL SHEEDY, ALBERT J. SMITH, WILLIAM STEINKEMPER, CYRIL STROKER, MITCHELL C. TACKLEY, FRANCIS TRAYNOR, ROBERT V. TROUSDALE, ANTHONY VALVO, LOUIS W. VETTEL, PETER VIVIANO, HARRY T. WAITE, JR., ROBERT WALDECK, JAMES A. WALDRON, ROBERT C. WEAVER, PHILIP L. WELSH, THOMAS J. WHITE, EDWARD T. WILSON, VICTOR WOODS, JOSEPH ZVERS.

Before reunion some of the '37 gang made the news headlines. Letters were nil as the men I know were saving all their talking for the 25th.

DR. CHAS. HUFNAGEL was pictured with a patient who had been shot, and our man had removed a part of the slug from his heart.

JIM BACON was shown nationally interviewing actress Jayne Mansfield when she was discussing one of her problems. Jim looked well tanned and also well fed.

The third item is a real sleeper. TOM CASIDY is pictured with about 15 beauty queens, swim suits, and featured as the "Most Popular Professor" at Southern Illinois University. After Tom received his degrees and service, he taught at ND until 1932, then to Columbia for research, Wisconsin State from 1935 then joined Southern Illinois faculty in 1938 and ends up with his own popular party at the "Annual Spring Assembly." These bachelors really get around.

Letter from JERRY BESANCENEY states he would attend with his Ohio license plate ND. 37 which he has maintained over the years. Jerry reported that Frank Fox, formerly of Newark, Ohio, passed away and had been living in Florida. Remember Frank in your prayers.

AL SCHWARTZ was working on the southwest boys. BOB TROUSDALE reported from Mott, N. D., that he was picking up VERN MOONEY (first time we had a line on Vern), and CHUCK MILES in Chicago, and they would see the gang at the 25th. The big traveler was certainly MIKE BRIAS all the way from Manila, via the World's Fair, Honolulu and Chicago.

Let's report in for the next issue in August. . . .

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM J. O'SULLIVAN, JR., developer of Echo I, Explorer IX, etc., was commencement speaker for Bellarmine College's graduation exercises in his native Louisville in June, receiving an honorary doctorate. The perennial JOHN M.

POWERS III, Humble Oil's Baytown, Tex., developer, took out another Canadian petroleum patent in March. PARKER SULLIVAN, by becoming president of General Telephone of California, lived up to his billing in a Spotlight Alumnus feature of a year or so back, but watch for a similar treatment of TOM CASSIDY since he was named most popular prof in a poll of students at Southern Illinois U. FATHER PAT PEYTON continues to rival Billy Graham in attendance at his Rosary Crusade rallies. Enthusiastic police in Bogota, Colombia, last spring estimated Father Pat's crowd at 1,000,000, but more conservative estimates of 400,000 to 500,000 would break all records. VINCENT G. PROBST, former midwestern sales manager for Hydromatics, Inc., is now midwestern regional sales manager for Snap-Tite, Inc., coupling manufacturer, operating out of Bellwood, Ill.

1938

Burnie Bauer
1139 Western Avenue
South Bend 25, Ind.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

JOHN PLOUFF, JOHN F. TANGNEY, T. WILLIAM TUNNEY.

Now on deck for the next big Silver Anniversary Reunion at Notre Dame is—you guessed it—the class of 1938! In less than a year the one big week end remaining in our Notre Dame lives will be open to us. Next to our graduation this will be the one Notre Dame event we will regret missing the most in years to come if we don't make it—and recall with happiest memories if we do make it. Start your plans now to be with us next June.

The lives and souls of many people will be influenced by the actions of two of our classmates because of two big recent events. JACK ANTON, the "Deacon" became Father Jack Anton in Rome April 7th. "T-Bone" WILLIAM MAHONEY, our Alumni President, was named Ambassador to Ghana, Africa, by President Kennedy in May. It will be worth coming to the 25th reunion next June just to visit with Father Jack and Bill.

To make sure that the class of '38 is mentioned in other vital areas HUB KIRCHMAN writes from Orange Cove (near Fresno) California that they are now seven with Kathleen's arrival, and that FRANCIS "MONK" MEYER in nearby Glendale, Calif., did something about the absence of '38ers in the Birth Announcement column in recent ALUMNUS issues by welcoming No. 8, John, to their family. Hub says he and Monk hope to see everyone at the 25th reunion where they will hold a clinic for the benefit of you lads who have given up.

BILL McNAMARA sent me a tip off note on T-Bone Mahoney's impending ambassadorial appointment from his law office in Oak Park, Illinois. Bill has been on the Holy Name Speakers' Bureau of the Chicago Archdiocese for 12 years and also teaches one night a week in the adult education program on Estate Planning and Probate Procedures which is his law speciality.

CHARLIE CALLAHAN in his sports publicity travels talked to CLIFF TALLMAN, who lives at 105 Southfield Road in Fairfield, Conn., with wife and seven children, two girls and five boys, one of whom was all-state halfback at Roger Ludlowe High School last year. Cliff, who was the Commerce School's voice on the Glee Club and University radio, is in the fuel brokerage business.

Charlie also visited with JOHNNY O'CONNOR and JIM CARSON at Indianapolis at the Butler basketball game, and saw FRANK O'LAUGHLIN at Mass in Evanston. TOM JORDAN made a couple of the games at N.D. the past year and I thought several times I saw coach-brother John start to send Tom into the game.

FAT CAREY left his Sterling beer card at my office several times when I was out. Hope he comes again, with or without samples.

Made a Chamber of Commerce inspection trip to Pensacola, Fla., in May and met a JUDGE J. G. PRENDERGAST, Class of '29 from Baltimore, who knew HAROLD WILLIAMS.

Alumni office sends word that TOM RADIGAN,

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

VINCENT W. HARTNETT, '37

He Looked at Entertainment and Saw Red

Co-author of Red Channels, editor-publisher of File 13 and Hartnett "Reports," Vincent Hartnett is regarded as a top expert on Communist infiltration of entertainment media, particularly TV. He has testified before the U.S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and the House Un-American Activities Committee and has been a professional consultant to TV sponsors, networks, advertising agencies, etc.

As a radio-TV program supervisor ("Gangbusters," "The Black Robe") in 1948-49, Vince saw Communist efforts to "colonize" the New York entertainment industry and began assembling files on Communist activities in entertainment-communications. His research was directed at identifying not merely those involved in pro-Communist activities and infiltration but those who were not. Thus, of some 15,000 subject cards in his index file, the great majority represents individuals respecting whom no evidence of pro-Communist affiliations has been found.

To give the American public the facts, Vince began lecturing and writing magazine articles. In 1950 he co-authored Red Channels ("The Report of Communist Influence in Radio and Television"), edited and published by the publishers of the anti-Communist newsletter, Counterattack. Red Channels became the object of sustained and violent attack by Communists. The book's accuracy has been demonstrated, however, by the fact that no substantive error has been shown and none of the half-dozen libel actions against its publishers was successful. In 1956, the accuracy, fairness and public-serving aspect of Red Channels were upheld by New York State's Court of Appeals. A founder of AWARE, Inc., a non-profit membership organization under the laws of the State of New York, incorporated in 1953, to combat the Communist conspiracy in entertainment-communications and the fine arts, he is a member of the board of directors and vice-president.

After graduation (maxima cum laude) Vince was awarded a two-year Walsh-Cunningham scholarship for his M.A. (maxima cum laude) in 1939. Under the late Waldemar Gurian he studied Bolshevism in theory and in practice. He was a U.S. Naval Reserve officer in World War II: as an Intelligence officer on the staff of the Commander, Third Fleet, Admiral Halsey; in the Joint Intelligence Center, Pacific Ocean Area, Pearl Harbor; and in Washington on the staff of the Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral King; received several commendations, and was honorably discharged with the rank of Lieutenant Commander. Vince was in magazine and publicity work, before going into radio-TV. His articles or short stories have appeared in This Week Magazine, N.Y. Times Magazine, The Sign, America, Saturday Evening Post, American Legion Magazine, American Mercury, Argosy, etc.

Vince is married to the former Doris-Anne Rehm, of Pelham, N.Y. Parents of six children, the Hartnetts live in Crestwood, N.Y.

ye. olde. Dome editor, has moved from Orlando to 1641 E. Horatio Ave., Maitland, Fla., and that Dr. BILL MATHEY has moved from Cornell University to Whitmore Laboratory, Myerstown, Pa. Fellow Minnesotan ED BOYLE has moved from El Paso, Texas, to Phoenix, Arizona, probably to fill the void in Arizona left by fellow lawyer and trackman T-Bone Mahoney's assignment to Africa. Old Sorin sub neighbor TOM MAHER has moved from "Baa'stin" to one of its subs, 42 Bailey Road, Watertown, Mass., and I'm looking forward to hearing him pronounce his new address at the reunion. FRANCIS MCCARTHY, of the scientific McCarthys of Cleveland moved out of the city also, to 2629 Dover Center Rd., Westlake, Ohio. PHIL GALLETTA, the old ballerina of the Gym team, has changed addresses in Rahway, N. J., to 826 Madison. Dr. BILL DIBRIENZA's new address in Brooklyn, N. Y., is 416-74th St. LARRY STEWART has left his native Chicago for 223 Royal Ave., Ferguson 35, Mo. Old sidekick JERRY KANE whom I expect to see at the Seattle Fair in July sends in a new address of P.O. Box 707 Renton, Washington. Another of the old university radio men, DICK MOLLER, has moved across town to 50 Country Road P.O. Box 216, Remsenberg, L.I., N. Y.

From the Alumni Office:

The big news of "T-BONE" MAHONEY joining the ambassadorial ranks (in Ghana he's "the Honorable T-Bone") didn't eclipse the manifold exploits of his distinguished classmates. FATHER HESBURGH and JOE KUCHARICH continued to get headlines wherever they went, from Chile to Chillicothe. WILLIAM J. RILEY, already president of the First National Bank of East Chicago, was elected a director of Northern Indiana Public Service Co., replacing his uncle, Col. Walter Riley, who resigned after 20 years. Bill is also board chairman of the Riley Co., president of O.F. Jordan Co., and vice-president of the Indiana Harbor Homes division of Inland Steel. A veteran of civil, fraternal and Notre Dame activities in the Calumet Region, he lives in Munster, Ind., with wife Charlotte, four sons—William III, Charles, Robert and Michael—and a daughter, Kathryn. JOHN B. O'DONNELL, manager of highway sales for Alcoa, has been named to the joint committee of the state highway officials and American road builders' organizations. With Alcoa since 1949, he lives in his native Pittsburgh. Brig. Gen. (ret.) JOHN A. SCOTT became publisher of the Lafayette, Ind., Journal and Courier earlier this year, and has just been elected a director of Federated Publications, Inc., which owns and operates several other newspapers. FRANK E. LARWOOD, a transportation rate analyst for the Public Utility Commissioner of the State of Oregon, left Salem for his first visit to the campus since graduation. Frank was a journalist of the Cooney days.

1939

James N. Motschall
Singer-Motschall Crp.
10090 West Chicago
Detroit 4, Michigan

From the Alumni Office:

ROBERT L. SCALLY of Closter, N.J., has been named regional group insurance manager for Mutual of New York's ten-state eastern sales region. Bob will continue as regional group manager for the insurance company's three-state Greater New York region. CHARLES F. ROGERS has been elected to the board of directors and been made vice-president and general manager of Kramer Bros. Freight Lines, Detroit. J.W. SNYDER, former director of purchasing for Studebaker-Packard, has joined the sales staff of Howell Industries, Detroit automobile suppliers. WALTER J. SHORT has been elected a director of the Financial Executives Institute. Walt is senior vice-president for finance and administration for Allegheny Airlines, Inc. EDWIN D. O'LEARY, former director of organization and executive personnel planning for Ford Motor Company, has been named vice-president of the company for personnel and organization. PAUL R. WHITLOCK, a law school classmate, has been prosecuting attorney of Sullivan County and is seeking re-election to that post in Sullivan, Ind.

1940

James G. Brown
144 East 44th Street
New York, N. Y.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary JIM BROWN missed the joint meeting of N.D. Alumni Board, class and club officers in New York last May because of a sudden trip to Florida. ROBERT H. LAMBERT became vice-president for advertising sales at the New York Herald Tribune on May 21, having been executive veep of a newspaper representative firm. Responsible for all ads in the Herald Trib, Bob lives in Port Chester, N.Y., with wife Helen and two children, Mary and Michael. Congratulations to BROTHER JEREMIAS MYSLIEWICZ, C.S.C., librarian at Holy Cross School, New Orleans, on the 25th anniversary of his religious profession. Brother Jerry hails from Chicago. Col. LEO A. SANTINI, vice-president of New York's Santini Bros., kept wife Ruthann in Ardsley, N.Y., while he participated in logistics exercises of his reserve unit at Fort Lee, Va., in May. WILLIAM COLEMAN is now chairman of the board of trustees at the Holy Cross Brothers' Gilmour Academy in Cleveland.

1941

James F. Spellman
7 East 42nd Street
New York 17, N. Y.

Your scribe is on active duty with the Air Force. However, I took time out to attend the eastern meeting of the national alumni board, the club presidents, and the class secretaries at the Commodore Hotel in little old Gotham, May 17, 18 and 19. As usual, it was most pleasant to greet other N.D. men. The general discussions which comprised most of the agenda produced the common plea — how can we get our classmates to write to us? I guess there is no simple answer. We just live on hope! Suffice to say, none of you good fliers has dropped me a crumb of a note since the last time. I have received two calls from JOHN O'LOUGHLIN, in Chicago, but each time I have been away from the office. John is worried because I threatened to double his dues. And speaking of dues, you can start sending your agreed-upon stipend of either the total amount, $25, or $5 for the year about to end June 30. I am using last June 30 as the starting point in our drive to build up our expected Class Fund. For each of the five years, if you good classmates will send your checks to me made out to the "University of Notre Dame, Class of '41," I can hope to present to you at reunion time a report on what is planned for the use of the Fund. As I stated in previous editions, there are several worthy ideas. Just as soon as I get back from active duty, I shall devise a simple dues invoice to help stimulate your memory. Please co-operate so that we can make our 25th the BIG one. In addition, I intend to designate individuals from various sections of the U.S. as members of a board to come up with some ideas about the 25th. You may think that it is a little early to start thinking about 1966, but time slips by: with a year already gone since our 20th. So, it is NOT too soon — the time is NOW. Even though you may not be a member of the above-mentioned board, if you have any ideas, communicate them to your secretary, along with some personal data about you or another classmate.

That's all for this session. I await your responses.

From the Alumni Office:

JOE BROUSSARD II was in Rome for the Notre Dame Club's last St. Patrick's Day and added his testimonial to the many received about the genial host of the Rome alumni, VINCE McALOON, '34. Joe represented the rice industry in a study of the European Common Market. Via CHARLIE CALLAHAN, '38, and Purdue's JOE DIENHART, '26, we have this picture of Patrick Ready O'Connor, son of GEORGE O'CONNOR and wife Mary Jo. Patrick tipped the scales at 55 pounds on his third birthday, and Joe thinks the athletic office should keep an eye on him. Congratulations to WILLIAM C. MCGOWAN, appointed vice-president of Bankers Mortgage Co. of California. Grad school alumnus ALEXANDER CRAW recently got his doctorate in math from the American University while working at the Army Chemical Corps Biological Laboratories, Fort Detrick, Frederick, Md. Alex and Mrs. Craw have four children. Congratulations to BROTHERS ROMUALD SAHM and EAMON SCHAFFER, C.S.C., both of the Southwest Province, on the 25th anniversary of their religious profession.

1942

William M. Hickey
3333 West 47th Place
Chicago 32, Illinois

REUNION REGISTRANTS

ERWIN C. ARANOWSKI, LAWRENCE J. AUBREY, CAMILLE E. AUCREMANNE, JOHN W. BERGEN, JOHN C. BIRMINGHAM, CAMIEL F. BRACKE, BERNARD F. BREHL, JR., H. CLIFFORD BROSEY, JOHN F. BROWN, JR., MICHAEL J. CARR, JOSEPH P. CHAMPLEY, ANDREW W. CHERNEY, JOHN H. CLIFFORD, THOMAS P. CODY, ROBERT F. COLEMAN, FRANCIS J. CONCANNON, CHARLES E. CONGER, JAMES F. CONWAY, BERNARD A. CRIMINS, WARREN A. DAVIS, THOMAS F. DEGAN, DAVID W. DEVINS, JOSEPH H. DI-MOND, REV. JAMES P. DOLL, C.S.C., JAMES P. DOYLE, EDWARD J. DUNLAVY, DONALD J. FIGEL, JAMES J. GALT, EDWARD P. GERAGHTY, JOHN W. GILBERT, EDWARD J. GLASER, ANDREW J. GORKA, STEPHEN G. GRALIKER, DONALD R. GRANT, EDWARD J. GRIESEDIACK, VICTOR J. GULYASSY, DONALD F. GUYETTE, DAVID HACK, ROBERT W. HARGRAVE, JOHN C. HART, THOMAS A. HENNIGAN, JR., LAWRENCE F. HICKEY, WILLIAM M. HICKEY, DANIEL E. HILGARTNER, THOMAS HOBAN, JOHN L. HOELSCHER, DONALD J. HOGAN, STEPHEN R. JUZWIK, BYRON V. KANALEY, JR., EMMETT KEANAN, FAMILY OF FRANK E. O'DOWD, '42, finally shown after being named "Catholic Family of the Year" last winter, has increased from ten to eleven since winning the award. Here they are (roughly, l.-r.): young Frank, 15; Mrs. O'Dowd (Margaret or Peggy); Tricia, 4; Kathleen, 10; Maureen, 7; young Peggy, 16; Frank O'Dowd; Gerald, 6; Thomas, 12; and John, 9. Another son, Michael Joseph, was born to the Wilmette, Ill., couple on May 2, 1962, shortly after this picture was taken.

MAURICE S. KELLY, THOMAS B. KENEDY, WILLIAM E. KENNEDY, JR., JAMES W. LEISING, PAUL B. LILLIS, CHARLES B. LOHR, PHILIP J. LUCIER, WALTER P. McCOURT, COLEMAN R. McGUIRE, JR., RICHARD E. McHUGH, JAMES E. McINTYRE, EDWARD J. McLAUGHLIN, CHARLES E. McNEILL, JAMES F. McNULTY, JR., HARRISON T. MacDonald, CHARLES MacFarlane, WILLIAM B. MADDEN, RODERICK H. MAGUIRE, JOHN R. MALONE, EDWARD F. MANGELSDORF, WILLIAM A. MARSHALL, DONALD J. MARTIN, WALTER J. MINDER, OTTO B. MOLITOR, JAMES D. MORAN, ROY E. MURRAY, JR., THOMAS D. NASH, FRANK E. O'DOWD, ROBERT W. O'HARA, JAMES J. O'NEAL, RICHARD K. OWENS, CARROLL P. PITKIN, WILLIAM R. PLATT, FRANCIS J. POLLNOW, JR., THOMAS V. POWERS, JOSEPH M. PROKOP, FRANCIS B. QUINN, WILLIAM O. REGAN, EDWARD P. REIDY, JR., JOSEPH A. RORICK, UGO D. ROSSI, K. JOSEPH SHEEDY, DANIEL R. SHOUVLIN, JR., ROBERT J. SIBILSKY, E. PAUL SLICK, JOSEPH C. SPOHR, JR., JOHN H. STAUBER, PAUL J. TAFEL, JR., FRANCIS A. VEIT, THOMAS J. WALKER, ERNEST E. ZIMMER, GILBERT A. ZIMMERMAN.

Recently I visited with FRED HOOVER in Seattle where he is practicing law. He is president of the Notre Dame Club of Western Washington.

PHIL LUCIER now lives in St. Louis and had hoped that his eleven children — 7 girls and 4 boys, the oldest 13 and the youngest 2 with no twins — would keep him in front in the "Offspring Race," however, EFFIE QUINN has just become the proud father of No. 14. Phil is president of the Continental Telephone Company which is a holding company of small independent telephone businesses throughout the country.

From the Alumni Office:

Not quite as prolific as Lucier and Quinn yet, FRANK E. O'DOWD still has the "Catholic Family of the Year" according to the NCWC Family Life Conference. And we finally have a picture of ten of the eleven O'Dowds in this issue after being scooped by (horrors!) the University of Chicago Magazine. At least this picture is different from the musical poses shown in all the Chicago and diocesan papers; friends were beginning to ask whether they ever stopped singing. A final salute to Frank and Peggy, coupled with congratulations on the birth of their ninth, Michael Joseph, last May 2. PAUL TAFEL, JR., has been elected president of Louisville's Tafel Electric and Supply Co., succeeding his father, who was elected chairman of the board. ANGELO B. AMATO of Cresskill, N.J., addressed Poughkeepsie's Harding Club last May on "The Challenge of Foreign Competition." Supervisor of accounting for Ford International Staff, overseas distributors and export supply, Jersey City, and is in charge of prep school interviewing for Notre Dame in the North Jersey area. Last issue's "Spotlight" on JAMES F. PURCELL, named public relations vice-president of Northern Indiana Public Service Co., said that Nipco was a gas company; not so, says Jim. The company also deals in electricity in some areas. Buffalo editor PAUL NEVILLE took wife Lil to Acapulco for a spring vacation, but had to cope with a lot of children's injuries after returning. ROBERT C. UHL was made manager of Hertz Rent-A-Car operations in Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo., last March. And congratulations to BROTHER DUNSTAN BOWLES, St. Edward's University, on the 25th anniversary of his religious profession.

1943

Jack Wiggins
5125 Briggs Avenue
La Crescenta, Calif.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

G. J. CONVY, GEORGE PFLANTZ, MELVILLE RUMMEL, WILLIAM SPANGLER.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

DONALD C. TIEDEMANN, '41
B.M.O.C. Now Top Lawyer for N.Y.L.I.C.

Since last October Donald C. Tiedemann has been serving as assistant general counsel with the New York Life Insurance Company.

Don has been counsel since 1958 and was appointed assistant counsel in 1955. He joined the Office of the General Counsel of New York Life in 1949 and was previously associated with Messrs. Milbank, Tweed, Hope and Hadley in New York City.

Raised and educated in the public schools of Westfield, New York, Don was a popular Glee Club soloist and BMOC before graduation from Notre Dame and subsequent degrees from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration and the Harvard Law School. For the past 12 years he has been a member of the Board of Education of Eastchester, New York, and served as president of the Board for two years. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Public Health Nursing Organization of Eastchester.

Mr. Tiedemann is married to the former Jean Welch of Westfield, New York. They have four children, aged six to 16.

From the Alumni Office:

JOSEPH C. KREMER was recently appointed general manager of Dodge Steel Co., Philadelphia, coming from metallurgical positions in the foundry divisions of Ford and General Motors. The Kremers have three children. WILLIAM M. O'HERN, an erstwhile classmate who eventually finished at St. Ed's in Texas, is corporate director of public relations and advertising for Lear, Inc., Santa Monica, Calif. Bill has also been director of publicity for United Air Lines. WALTER C. IVANCEVIC was elected president of The Equity Corp., New York, as well as a director and member of the executive committee. Walter, who had previously been serving as executive vice-president of the investment company, lives in Rowayton, Conn. JOHN T. DUNLAVY is manager of corporate publicity in the public relations department of Allied Chemical Corp. The Dunlavs live in Riverdale, N.Y., with their three children. Best of luck to former Buffalo Bills coach BOB DOVE in his coming trials as head football coach at Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio. Bob has already had a great career as a lineman with the Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions.

1944

George Bariscillo, Jr.
416 Burlington Ave.
Bradley Beach, N.J.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

JOSEPH O'KEEFE, GEORGE WUENDT.

JOE SIMONS was recently transferred from New York to Houston when the Humble Oil main office was moved to Texas. He is in the controller's department coordinating data processing and systems work.

Another Texas classmate is FRANK CROWLEY, county commissioner in Dallas. Prior to being elected, Frank served as administrative assistant to Bruce Alger, Texas' lone Republican congressman.

JOHN F. COLLINS writes from Pittsburgh that he was transferred from the Chicago office of Union Carbide Metals Company to the Pittsburgh office where he is the new region manager for the company. He is in contact with JIM RETTER, sales manager for Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Company in Boston.

Another recent transferee is "BUZZ" HASSETT, who moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta with Storer Broadcasting Company. "Buzz" is general sales manager for WAGA Television in Atlanta, and assures us he will be on hand for our 20th Reunion in '64.

ED DRINKARD had a recent visit in Farmingdale, Long Island, with JOHN MORRISON, who is one of Republic Aviation's top mathematicians in the research and development group. On his Long Island business trip, Ed 'phoned DICK HAHN at Sperry Gyroscope in Syosset and learned the Hahns were expecting their seventh momentarily.

A recent report from BILL McNAMARA brought us up to date on his activities since our halcyon days. After a stint with the FBI, the Treasury Department and the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, Bill became manager of the Cleveland office of William J. Burns International Detective Agency. He is in contact with "BLACK JOHN" MURPHY and sees JACK DOYLE in Cleveland.

We received a brochure from FARRELL QUINLAN, announcing the opening of his newest Quinlan resort, The Loomarwick, on Lake Waramaug in New Preston, Connecticut. Color photographs in the circular point up the beauties of the place, and the rates are equally attractive.

BILL WALDRON, our eastern vice-president, is able to answer CESAR MUNECAS' question about JOE KEARNEY. Joe was at the Universal Notre Dame night in Newark last spring and can be reached at 26 Oakwood Drive, Packonac Lake, New Jersey, where he and his wife are raising six little ones. Bill also informs us JACK WHITELY made the New York Times recently when he was elected vice-president and president of Amerace Corporation in quick succession. And Waldron also reports on MYLES KELLY, who is operating a roofing material supply business in Newark, and JOE GALL who has moved back to Nashua, New Hampshire, practicing law.

It is with deep regret that we record the passing of PAUL L. LALLY, who died at his home in Milford, Massachusetts, last February 3, 1962, after a short illness. Paul leaves a wife Virginia and four daughters — Patricia, Mary, Margaret and Joan — and we need not be reminded to remember him and all other deceased members of our class in our daily prayers.

The closing dates for succeeding issues of the ALUMNUS are August 1st and October 15th. Please let me hear from you.

From the Alumni Office:

JOSEPH F. GALL of Nashua, N.H., requested prayers and requested the Class be notified of the death of his brother Andrew in Superior, Wis., last April. Please include Joe's brother in your intentions. THEODORE T. TOOLE has been made vice-president and assistant to the president of Singer-Fidelity, Inc., manufacturer of knitting machinery. Finally, congratulations to N.Y. Supreme Court Justice WILLIAM B. LAWLESS, JR., on a double triumph. Bill was named N.D. Man of the Year in Buffalo and returned to the campus in June to direct a very successful pre-reunion Trial Lawyers Conference of the N.D. Law Assn.

1945

Frank M. Linchan
29 Burr Drive
Dalton, Massachusetts

Thanks to BOB RIORDAN, we have some news from South of the Border. On one of his recent trips to South America, Bob spent some time with ENRIQUE LULLI in Lima, Peru. "Coco" is in the textbook publishing business and also has an office equipment distributorship. He had just returned from a trip around the world. Bob, Coco and his wife "Gaby," had quite a time at the track on Saturday afternoon and, according to Bob, "Gaby" picked the winners with her uncanny system.

The former Scholastic editor also saw WALTER LANGFORD who is doing an outstanding job as director of the Peace Corps in Chile. Bob is serving notice on LARRY ROMAGOZA and JOE CARDENOS that he will be contacting them the next time through Panama.

To FRANK GILLIGAN, we express the sympathy and prayers of his classmates on the recent death of his wife. Frank's address is 3045 Erie Avenue, Cincinnati 8, Ohio.

A short note from FATHER HAROLD ZINK, C.S.C., '47, who is stationed at St. Mary's Cathedral, Austin, Texas, endorsing GEORGE "THE BEAK" KEEGAN's suggestion of trying to get a reunion together of the "boys" that started in '42. Father Harold started out as a "civic" and then entered the sem.

Your secretary is a glutton for punishment or some may say "trying to keep up with his predecessor" in that I have taken on another alumni job, president of the N.D. Club of the Berkshires. With a new daughter arriving last February, I can attest that I keep mighty busy.

Our class treasurer JIM DONNELLY, trying to break into Broadway or off-Broadway shows after gaining theatrical experience with his "Parish Players," reported in twice this year. He has appeared in a couple of productions but never reported that he has a speaking part. Jim and Mary Lou just celebrated their 6th wedding anniversary.

They are looking at St. Mary's catalogs for they have three daughters. Jim also teaches high school boys in the Fraternity program. I guess he figures he has to get out of the house and see some boys. He heard from ED MULCAIR who is Branch Manager of Montreal Life Insurance Company in Ottawa.

HANK PISANKO is a Commander with the 7th Fleet and makes his headquarters at Guam. He is planning on making our 20th reunion in '65.

Those paying dues as of May 7th were: RUDY ANDERSON, ED BALL, TOM BERGIN, BILL BLAKE, JOHN BRESNAHAN, JOHN CARON, JULES CATTIE, DON CISLE, DON CLAEYS, JIM CLYNES, BOB CRONIN, VINCE CUSHING, BILL DAVIS, GEORGE DESPOT, JIM DONNELLY, OWEN DOYLE, JIM DUGAN, BOB ERKINS, BILL FANIZZI, ED FAUST, FRANK FITZGIBBONS, MIKE GARRY, ELMER GILLESPIE, BOB GORSKI, JOHN GUTHRIE, JOE HAGGAR, JIM HINES, JOHN HOSBEIN, JACK KEARNEY, RAY KOPITUK, JOHN LAVERY, CHARLES LESLIE, AL LESMEZ, FRANK LINEHAN, DICK MARTIN, FRANK MARTIN, JOHN McGRANE, ED MULCAIR, DAVE MURPHY, JIM O'CONNOR, BOB O'TOOLE, HENRY PAYNE, BOB PHILPOTT, HENRY PISANKO, ANTHONY PIZZARELLI, ERNIE RAUSCHER, BILL RAWLINS, ANTHONY RENZE, JIM RETTER, JOHN RINELLA, BOB RIORDAN, LARRY ROMAGOZA, BILL ROSANELLI, LEO RUAF, HARRY RYAN, JOHN RYAN, DICK SADOWSKI, CHARLES SCHWINN, EMMET SHEERAN, BRYCE SMITH, REM TONER, and HARRY WALTERS.

MORTON R. GOODMAN, '30, was honored as Los Angeles' Notre Dame Man of the Year in joint U.N.D. Night ceremonies of four Southern California Clubs. In first picture Goodman (right) accepts plaque from Leo Ward, '20, as toastmaster Walter O'Keefe, '21 (standing), and chairman Dwain Spencer, '56, beam approval. At right are retiring presidents of the four sponsoring Clubs (l.-r.): Jack Leonard, San Fernando Valley; Goodman, Los Angeles; Benjamin B. Salvaty, Jr., San Gabriel Valley; and Edward Sheeran, Greater Long Beach. Dinner was held last April 30 in Los Angeles, Calif.

If you haven't sent your dues in yet, how about doing so TODAY?

1946

Peter P. Richiski
6 Robin Place
Old Greenwich, Conn.

From the Alumni Office:

C. JAMES PARIS, supervisor of station services at Lockheed Missiles and Space Hawaiian Tracking Station, writes from Honolulu: "The vaunted 'romantic tropical nights' of Hawaii have produced a fourth heir to the Paris 'fortune.' He was named Patrick Kimo Paris, the Kimo being Hawaiian for James. He was born on April 14 at the Queen's Hospital. The others are Suzanne, 7; Cynthia, 4; and Kevin, 3, all born in California. Gloria and I like Hawaii very well. We have a beautiful home, with the Pacific Ocean as back boundary of the lot on which it's located. The pounding surf lulls us to sleep at night." Jim has been 10 years with Lockheed and remains in the satellite field. "My present position is a notch below the station manager title I held at Kodiak, Alaska, but I consider the trade-off of title for location a fair one. . . . My new home address is 87-681 Farrington Highway, Maili, Wai'anae, Hawaii."

ARTHUR B. CONNORS, former assistant district sales manager in Boston, is now distribution manager of the Lincoln-Mercury division of Ford Motor Co. A B.N.S., Art has been marketing for Ford in Boston since 1949.

1947

Jack Miles
3218 Bentley Lane
South Bend, Indiana

REUNION REGISTRANTS
JAMES J. ATKINSON, MARK J. BANNON, JOHN L. BEAU, LUIS BELTRANENA, WILLIAM D. CLARK, FRANCIS S. COLEMAN, DONALD W. FISHER, JAMES FITZGERALD, JOHN R. GALLOWAY, FRANCIS P. GILHOOLEY, ROBERT J. KELLY, JOHN F. LILL, JAMES E. MCCLINTOCK, WILLIAM A. MCCORMICK, JR., THOMAS M. MCGUIRE, DONALD J. MCGRATH, JACK MILES, RALPH MORTENSON, JOHN J. MULLEN, JAMES E. MURPHY, THOMAS E. NIQUETTE, JOHN C. NOONAN, JR., PETER G. RUCANO, THOMAS E. SCHREIBER, EDWARD J. SWEENEY, FRANK S. SZYMSANSKI, HOMER WALTERS, JEROME W. WAYNE, J. L. "BUD" WILLENBRINK.

CRAZY SCHEDULE

Since deadline for this column comes a month before the reunion, whatever news it figures to contain will be old hat in the wake of the June 8-10 week end; however, there are a few interesting bits of blurb to pass along, and questionnaire replies have yielded a number of cogent comments and relevant revelations.

SPOTLIGHT CLASSMATE

The "most generous individual private donor in the University's history" is a member of our class . . . IGNATIUS A. O'SHAUGHNESSY, known to us all during undergrad days as "Good ol' I. A." Actually, Mr. O'Shaughnessy received an honorary degree in 1947; since that time, he has donated the $2½ million Hall of Liberal and Fine Arts which bears his name, the Mestrovic Sculpture Studio, and just recently a cool million toward the Library drive. In your behalf I thank Mr. O'Shaughnessy and express pride in his association with our class.

GLEANINGS

Peggy and ELMER MAURICE MATTHEWS welcomed 8 lb., 10 oz. Elmer Maurice Matthews, Jr., March 21; he has been entered in the future book as a solid bet to matriculate at Notre Dame in September, 1980.

When FRANK CIZON spoke to the Catholic Charities folks in South Bend recently, we learned via newspaper publicity that he is married and the father of two children; has been a sociology teacher at Loyola of Chicago since 1955, also a lecturer in the university's School of Social Work; and is considered a research expert in such fields as the family, social psychiatry, industrial sociology, and parish sociology.

An early spring edition of Human Events, the weekly Washington newsletter, praised the role played by one of our number in the G.O.P. resurgence which captured a Supreme Court seat in Pennsylvania last fall. The story read, in part: "The task of holding down the Democrats in Philadelphia fell largely to WILLIAM MEEHAN, son and heir of the late Republican chieftain, Austin Meehan, and a power in his own right. . . . In Philadelphia . . . (the Democrat nominee) was held down to 85,000 votes (30,000 ahead of the city ticket, but far under what he hoped for) . . ."

EPISTOLARY EXCERPTS

From SAM ADELO, who enclosed a newspaper review saluting the Notre Dame Band's concert in Fort Worth: " . . . finally back in the states after a three months absence... enjoyed a nice visit with PROFESSOR PAUL BARTHOLOMEW at the Institute for the Oil and Gas Industry Management on Public Relations and Public Affairs held at the SMU Law School. . . . Paul delivered an excellent talk on 'Management and Practical Politics.'

BROTHER IVAN DOLAN, C.S.C.: "Still working away at my school house. Sometimes wonder if I will ever get it finished. Have been using some of the classrooms since January and hope to use all of them from the next academic session beginning in July."

JOHN F. MAHER: "Terrible illness in family . . . wife seriously injured by automobile: Pray for us!"

DONALD R. HAINES, Lcdr, USN: "Am stationed at Naval Supply Center, San Diego, as director of data processing department. Wife, Phyllis, and sons Mike, 9, and Bruce, 8."

BOB MERZ: "Taking over the general agency for Manhattan Life of N.Y. in Portland, Ore., and will be moving at reunion time."

JACK McLAUGHLIN: "Am practicing surgery in Birmingham, Mich.; family numbers five children."

DR. BILL RUEVE: "I am completing my residency in obstetrics at the University of Oklahoma this July."

JIM SHEA reports he's a teacher in Pearl River, N.Y.; E. A. WOZNICKI ditto in Bedford, Ohio.

PHIL REITTER: "With seven children and time spent out of town, it's impossible to do everything you would like. Even though I spent only a year during the war in the Marine Corps at Notre Dame, I've appreciated the many Alumni mailings."

JOE McNAMARA: "I'd love to be with you but will be in the process of moving to Florida."

DR. ART WAGNER: "Hello to all my long lost good friends and a special hello to roommates GRANT THORESON and JED PAUL—where are you?"

THURMAN COSS: "I am now enjoying my first sabbatical leave from Hamline University and working on a manuscript which I hope will be published in the near future. My special area of research is the Dead Sea Scrolls."

PHIL DELINCKE: "Have added tax consulting and bookkeeping to my 'free-time' schedule. Hope the 15th is the biggest and best yet!"

JOHN NABER is with the 68-year-old family enterprise, Naber & Co., lands and securities dealers in Shawano, Wis.

LYNN BRYAN: "After 13 years with the Beverly Hills Citizen (only daily newspaper in B.H.), my publisher bought the Hollywood Citizen-News. At the same time, two Los Angeles metropolitan newspapers quit publication; so with our merger we became the third newspaper in L. A." Lynn is advertising manager of the paper.

JOHN AGNONE: "I really want to make it and will try to very much. It would be great to see all the fellows. I miss the campus more than I ever imagined . . . the greatest place on this earth."

The mail also has brought a complimentary copy of The Unfinished Reformation, with foreword to the English translation written by FATHER PAT DOLAN, C.S.C.; the book—"squarely in the spirit of the ecumenical movement . . . from the Protestant side"—is the work of five German Lutheran ministers.

ADDRESS CHANGES . . .

. . . have been received for DON KANE, JOHN GLAAB, MAX SARFF, ED CROWE, JOE THIE, CARL ERICKSON, MONTA HOLZWORTH, JOE GUION, ED DESLOGE, DR. JOE FINNEY, BILL NOLTE, ALFREDO SMITH, REV. WALTER O. BOZEK, DR. GERALD RIORDAN, GEORGE SCHNEIDER, DR. JOHN GLANVILLE, THEODORE HAVELY, JOHN LYNCH, BILL McCORMICK, JIM O'BRIEN, CAMIEL VANDER VOORT, BOB WATERBURY, HARRY MERCER, JOHN O'CONNOR, and LEN EISENMEN.

From the Alumni Office:

JACK MILES authorized a few post-deadline items from the mail and other quarters. ROBERT F. MERZ, formerly general agent for Spokane office, Manhattan Life Insurance Co. of N.Y., has been moved up the ladder to take charge of their Portland, Oregon office. Bob was president of the N.D. Club of Spokane in 1960. He also served as president of The Serra Club this past year. BILL JANN continues to rise with Hertz Rent-A-Car. Already assistant vice-president, he is also director of sales and advertising. Bill, Jo Anne and two children, Mary Gayle and William, now live in Rye, N.Y. Since 1960 FATHER CLETUS DIRKSON has been associate professor of political

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

SAMUEL J. HAZO, '48
In Pittsburgh, Poet and Pedagogue

Duquesne University has had a young Notre Dame poet, Dr. Samuel Hazo, as associate dean of its College of Arts and Sciences for the past academic year.

The post was newly created in view of the "steadily increasing enrollment in the College" according to a university statement.

Dr. Hazo, Duquesne faculty member since 1955, is associate professor of English and director of Freshman English. He continues in these posts concurrently with the recently assigned duties.

Widely known as a poet and contributor to scholarly journals, he has been devoting his efforts to the humanities departments of the College—classics, English, journalism, history, modern languages, and philosophy.

The new associate dean, who published poetry and plays in the Juggler during his undergraduate days at Notre Dame, received his master's degree from Duquesne and the doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh. Prior to coming to Duquesne he taught at Shadyside Academy and from 1950 through 1953 served as a captain with the U.S. Marine Corps.

His poetry has appeared in such publications as The Commonweal, The Fiddlehead, New World Writing, and Folio. A collection of his verse was published last year in Discovery and Other Poems to widespread critical approval.

As associate dean, Sam is responsible to Rev. Joseph P. Moroney, dean of the College.

science at Indiana's St. Joseph College. Capt. PAUL A. DEHMER, JR., is a flight commander at Pope Air Force Base, North Carolina, and participated in joint service maneuvers at Yakima, Wash., in May. Paul and Mary have four children. JIM GRIFFIN sent clips from Vend, the coin machine journal, with more info on FRANK B. O'BRIEN as new president of Seeborg Corp., the jukebox makers. Frank's home and favorite recreation are the same, Golf (Ill.). LAWRENCE A. REISTER is an advanced underwriting assistant at John Hancock in Boston. JOHN MAHER, studying at the Institute of Lay Theology, U. of San Francisco, writes: "Although I'm one of the gray-beards of the class, I'm staying with the bright young men" from other schools. John's February note, delayed somewhere in forwarding, requested prayers "for the spiritual comfort and recovery of my wife, Harriett, who was struck by an automobile . . . in serious condition in St. Mary's Hospital with a fractured skull, brain concussion and multiple fracture of hip and pelvis." Retroactive prayers for Harriett and for the mother of JIM MAZAR. Jim lost her early this year.

1948

John Defant
George A. Pfau,
Publisher, Inc.
38 West Fifth Street
Dayton 2, Ohio

From the Alumni Office:

Not a word from Secretary JOHN DEFANT since he began handling the affairs of the Dayton N.D. Club, but he's probably discouraged by a lack of response to the first and only Class of '48 newsletter when he started out in this office a couple of years ago. Why not drop him a line at the address above? Just a post card might shock the scribe into violent activity. Meanwhile, some random notes from the office mail.

JOHN E. COSGROVE wrote that he enjoyed the outstanding speeches of FATHER HESBURGH and Senator Dodd at Washington's Universal Notre Dame Night. John is assistant director for federal-state relations with the Office of Emergency Planning, changed recently in title and mistakenly called OEDM in last issue's Spotlight on John. JACK TITUS got his Ph.D. in pathology from the University of Minnesota in June. Jack, or rather Dr. Titus, was appointed a member of the medical staff at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., last fall, assigned to the pathology anatomy section. He attended Washington U. medical school in St. Louis and got his medical degree in 1952, served his internship at Wayne County General Hospital, Elise, Mich., and practiced medicine in Rensselaer, Ind., until 1957 when he joined the Mayo Foundation. Dr. Jack and his wife Beverly are both South Bend natives. JOHN A. O'CONNOR, editor of the Monitor since 1960, still edits the archdiocesan newspaper in San Francisco but under an editor in chief named Father Francis Quinn. ROBERT D. WALSH, after nine years in Washington, D.C., the last four of them with the U.S. Information Agency, has been appointed director of membership services with the Direct Mail Advertising Association in New York City. Bob's wife, the former Jean McDonald, was on the staff of Vogue Magazine in the fifties. They have two sons and a daughter. LOUIS L. SINGER is assistant Cleveland district manager for Dictaphone Corp. after five years as district manager in Akron. The Singers have four sons. J. ROBERT CROWLEY of New England Telephone has joined the EDP planning and administration matters group of the operations division, general departments of American Telephone & Telegraph. Bob had been with the New England company since graduation. The Crowleys at last notice were planning to locate in the metropolitan New York area with their daughter and three sons. A classmate who took his Ph.D. in chemistry in '48, Dr. N. PAUL KLAAS has become research and development manager for "Scotch-brite" abrasives manufactured by Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., St. Paul, Minn. He has been with 3M since 1952, supervising in the new products and abrasives divisions.

1949

John Walker
Wayne, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM G. LEONARD, JR., former N.D. track captain and Olympic miler, now coaching track and cross country at Linton high school, Schenectady, N.Y., is reportedly a hot property on the Communion breakfast circuit in the Schenectady area. Bill and the missus have three children. J. A. WILLETT has been appointed general sales manager of Concrete Products, building material division of Martin Marietta Corp., in charge of 17 district offices marketing pre-cast concrete products. He operates out of the national office in Chicago, where he and his wife Gerry are parents of Ann, 18 months old. DR. JOHN F. O'DONNELL is now director of the Kordite Company's international operations department, in charge of exports and overseas operations. A former instructor at M.I.T., where he got his doctorate. John worked with DuPont for several years. He and wife Mary have three children. J. PATRICK DOYLE is controller of the industrial division of Joy Mfg. Co., Michigan City, Ind., moving wife Mary Ellen and their three daughters from Houston, Tex., where he had been controller of a Joy division. His mother, Mrs. Ruth Doyle, is one of the gals in the N.D. Alumni Foundation offices. JOHN J. WALSH has been appointed municipal department manager at the Chicago head office of Cruttenford, Podesta & Miller, national investment firm. That perennial award winner, FRANK SULLIVAN, won a Brotherhood Award from the South Bend Round Table of N.C.C.J. ALLAN S. MILLER is now a development physicist with the IBM Components Division in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., in charge of semi-conductor device development. Dr. and Mrs. Miller have three daughters. JAMES A. WUELLNER has been appointed senior project chemist with American Oil Company's research and development staff in the Whiting, Ind., lab. Dr. and Mrs. Wuellner live in Gary. WILLIAM PFAFF has joined the staff of the Hudson Institute, a nonprofit "think" organization subsidized by various government and private groups for research on politics and national defense. Bill is co-author of "The New Politics," which somehow missed mention in the ALUMNUS last year but got fine reviews for its treatment of international affairs. A former editor-correspondent for Commonweal, he is already on leave from the Hudson Institute this summer working in Europe and Asia on a Rockefeller Foundation grant for a book and with an appointment as a research fellow of the Columbia University Russian Institute. It's a little late to mention it, but journalist CARL APONE did the story on FATHER HESBURGH in the April Catholic Digest. Carl took his master's at Boston U., taught at St. Mary's and now does music criticism and Sunday magazine features for the Pittsburgh Press. Finally, FATHER JOHN H. MILLER has made the Perspectives Book Club with his Yearbook of Liturgical Studies.

1950

Richard F. Hahn
47 Emerson Rd.
Glen Rock, N. J.

From the Alumni Office:

An earlier issue reported erroneously that BOB RUETZ was teaching in the public schools in Springfield, Mo. Actually Bob is an associate professor of music at Southwest Missouri State College. Sorry, Bob. JOHN C. MCGRODER is now manager of the Cleveland brokerage office of Connecticut General Life. Jack and his wife Georgiana live in Cleveland Heights with their daughter Karen, 10, and son Patrick, 9. DONALD J. KLEE has been made a district sales manager for General Electric's computer department in Denver, handling sales in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and part of Montana. Don and wife Arlene live in Lakewood, Colo., with sons David and Kevin. R. JOHN CUNNINGHAM is president of the Midwest Stock Exchange's two operating subsidiaries, the Clearing Corporation and the Service Corporation.

1951

Robert Klingenberg
2634 Marcy Lane
Ft. Wayne, Indiana

From the Alumni Office:

Capt. JOHN H. SULLIVAN was reassigned to Griffiss Air Force Base after logistics school at Wright-Patterson, Ohio. He and wife Virginia have two children. Twins of the Law Class, HAROLD G. VAN TASSEL of Palatine, Ill., and EDWARD J. VAN TASSEL of Ridgewood, N.J., were pictured by UPI Telephoto when they were admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court. BERNARD J. LAVINS is now manager of manufacturing for Moline, Ill., operations of the Herman Nelson division of American Air Filter Co. The Lavinses have two sons and two daughters, ages 2 to 7. L. WARD McCABE, JR., is New England Life district manager in Riverhead, L.I., N.Y., and recently took an intensive refresher at the Boston home office. He lives in Mattituck with wife Pat and four children, Cathleen, Cheryl, Larry and Mary Martha. Capt. THOMAS J. REAGAN received the Air Force Commendation Medal at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, for his work at Wright-Patterson AFB before as a personnel officer. Tom and his wife JoAnn (daughter of the late BILL CERNEY, '25) have a son, Timothy. RICHARD L. TOWNER is now administrative assistant to the vice-president of sales, Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc., South Bend. A former driver safety expert with Studebaker-Packard, Dick is married and has two children. Since late February WILLIAM F. ANHUT has been president of the Detroit Hotel Assn. Bill, secretary-treasurer of Anhut Hotels (Botsford Inn, Clifford and Imperial) follows his father and his brother John, '44, in the presidency. He is general manager of the Clifford and Imperial Hotels. If memory serves DAN CONNELL is the slated Democratic candidate for Portage Township Justice of the Peace in coming St. Joseph County elections.

1952

Harry L. Buch
600 Board of Trade
Bldg.
Wheeling, W. Va.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

A. JOSEPH ADAMS, EUGENE H. ALBERS, JOSEPH F. ALBERS, CARL F. BACHLE, JR., EDWARD V. BALL, JOHN D. BALLAS, HENRY J. BALLING, JR., FRED F. BANICKI, JOHN M. BARNON, JOSEPH H. BARRON, JOHN E. BARRY, RICHARD J. BASGALL, JOSEPH A. BAUTERS, WILLIAM T. BEARGIE, DONALD W. BEBENEK, J. ALLAN BLOUNT, THOMAS J. BOEMER, BYRON B. BOJI, HARRY B. BORNHOFFEN, FRANK J. BOUSKA, JOSEPH S. BOWLING, JOHN I. BRADSHAW, JAMES H. BRENNAN, THOMAS BRITT, GEORGE W. BROWN, SOMMERS T. BROWN, WENDELL F. BUECHE, JOSEPH W. BYRNE, JOHN J. CAREY, CARL L. CARLSSON, JOSEPH S. CELENTO, JOHN J. CHAVANNE, CHARLES L. CHRISTEN, RICHARD L. CLANCY, JOHN M. COMERFORD, ROBERT C. CORYN, ROBERT E. COSSABOON, JOHN R. COURTNEY, ANTHONY M. CRITELLI, GEORGE H. CROSETT, PATRICK J. CROWE, JR., HENRY F. CROWLEY, REV. THOMAS CUNNINGHAM, RUSSELL C. DAGES, JR., EDWARD D. D'ARCY, PAUL I. DAVIS, JOHN R. DEGAN, DENNIS B. DELANAY, WILLIAM F. DELANEY, MICHAEL DENTINO, PATRICK H. DOHERTY, ROBERT E. DOLMETSCH, LEO J. DONDAVILLE, JR., RICHARD C. DONOVAN, ROBERT A. DOUGHERTY, L. MATTHEW DUGGAN, JR., JAMES C. ETLING, PAUL W. EWING, CHARLES V. FALKENBERG, JR., T. J. FANNON, SALVATORE A. FIORELLA, EDWARD F. FOLEY, J. THOMAS FOLEY, LLOYD J. FORRESTALL, RICHARD O. GAECKLE, LOUIS B. GARIPPO, EUGENE F. GERWE, A. ROBERT GILDNER, LOUIS E. GLEASON, JAMES E. GOOD, JR., JAMES R. GRAHAM, JOHN H. GUISE, JAMES D. HAGGERTY, GEORGE M. HALEY, THOMAS L. HAMPTON, FRED J. HARTMAN, ROBERT F. HASSE, PATRICK W. HAWLEY, GEORGE L. HEIDKAMP, GEORGE F. HEIMEL, GEORGE F. HERO, JOHN P. HIPSKIND, GERARD F. JIRKA, JAMES R. KELLY, MICHAEL F. KELLY, M. JAMES KENNEDY, ROBERT KIENSTRA, ROBERT H. KING, THOMAS R. KING, JOHN D. KINVILLE, REV. THOMAS M. KIRBY, ROLAND A. KOHLBECK, DAVID E. LAJOIE, JOSEPH D. LAUFERSWEILER, JOHN P. LONG, LAWRENCE P. McDONNELL, JOHN F. McGLINN, RICHARD W. McKENNA, FRANCIS J. McMANUS, JAMES P. MANNING, JOHN G. MARHOFFER, WILLIAM J. MARTIN, FRAN-

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

PAUL C. GORDON, '49

From Weave and Dribble to Wire and Cable

Last fall Paul C. Gordon was appointed director of employee relations for Surprenant Mfg. Co., a recently acquired subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation. In the new position, he has been responsible for all phases of personnel relations for the Surprenant company, one of the world's largest independent producers of insulated wire and cable.

Prior to coming to Surprenant, Paul had served as director of employee relations for the ITT Components Division at Clifton, N.J. He joined the ITT System in 1957 as manager of the wage and salary administration at Federal Electric Corporation in Paramus, N.J., the world-wide service division of ITT. He had been a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York City.

Paul was graduated from the University with a bachelor of science degree (cum laude) in business administration. Later he was awarded a master's degree in business administration from New York University. He also attended St. John's University School of Law in Brooklyn, N.Y. At Notre Dame he was captain of the basketball team and selected on several All-American squads. Following graduation, he played professional basketball with the Baltimore Bullets in the former Basketball Association of America.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Paul now makes his family home with his wife, the former Maureen Cadogan of New York City, and two children at Northhara, Mass.

CIS A. MARZOLF, JACK J. MAYL, JOHN F. MEANEY, LOUIS H. MEECE, ROBERT H. MOONEY, JR., NEAL P. MOORE, JOHN P. MORAN, JOHN R. MORAN, JR., JOSEPH A. MORIARTY, MATTHEW J. MORRIS, L. NICHOLAS MUELHAUPT, JOHN E. MUELLER, JR., DONALD T. MULLANEY, J. WILLIAM MURPHY, MAURICE MURPHY, JAMES F. MUTSCHELLER, HARRY C. NESTER, PATRICK G. NEVILLE, JOHN E. O'BRIEN, JOSEPH C. O'CONNOR, TERRENCE E. O'LOUGHLIN, JOHN F. O'NEILL, EDMUND "BUD" ORR, JAMES P. O'SHEA, ROBERT M. PECKELS, REV. ARTHUR R. PERRY, E. JOSEPH PFAFF, DONALD B. PIERSON, RICHARD PILGER, JOHN K. PLOUFF, RUDOLPH E. POVSE, JOHN J. POWERS, FRANCIS P. QUINLAN, DAVID L. RICHARD, RALPH M. RICHARD, JAMES G. RICHESON, DONALD G. RILEY, FRANCIS X. ROCHE, PETER RILEY, ROBERT H. RUBERY, ANTHONY L. RUSSO, EDWIN "NED" RYAN, JR., WILLIAM A. SANTINI, JR., ALVIN J. SAVINELL, CHARLES E. SCHAEFFER, ROBERT A. SCHAMPIER, JEROME SCHAUB, JOHN J. SCHICKEL, A. JAMES SCHMIDT, FRANCIS J. SEMETKO, RAYMOND A. SLYMAN, J. KEVIN SMITH, WILLIAM G. SOOS, REV. JOHN SQUILLER, JOSEPH M. STANICHAK, LEE J. STEIDEN, LEO M. STEPANIAN, RICHARD A. STUBBING, EDWARD F. SULLIVAN, JOHN F. SWEENEY, GEORGE R. SWEET, JOHN E. TILLIS, REV. WILLIAM A. TOOHEY, C.S.C., PHILIP B. TOOLE, JAMES E. TWEEDY, RUDOLPH M. UNGER, JOHN P. URBAIN, FRANCIS J. VI-TELLI, MALHAM WAKIN, JAMES J. WALSH, HENRY J. WANNER, JR., ROBERT E. WEIGAND, CLARENCE D. WEILAND, RICHARD WEILER, ROBERT J. WHITE, WILLIAM F. WHITE, RAYMOND W. WIDMAR, DAVID H. WILL, C. ROBERT WRAY, JOHN F. ZIEL, LEO R. ZMUDZINSKI.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

WILLIAM W. HOBAN, '48
In California, an Incandescent Prexy

The Board of Directors of Incandescent Supply Company of California elected William Hoban, as president and chief executive officer late last year. Incandescent Supply Company serves as management company for twelve electrical supply, fixture, appliance and houseware corporations doing business in Northern California as Incandescent Supply Company of Phillips & Edwards Electric Corporation.

In announcing the election, R. D. Colburn, Chicago industrialist and board chairman of Incandescent and affiliated companies, stated that Bill would bring long term management continuity during the company's period of dynamic expansion.

Formerly Northern California District Manager for the Toastmaster Division of McGraw Edison Company, Bill was born in Elgin, Illinois. He attended schools in Elgin before matriculating and playing varsity basketball at Notre Dame. He served in the Navy as a Supply Corps officer, attaining the rank of Lieutenant. In 1954 he joined McGraw Edison Co. as Denver district manager. In 1955 he was transferred to the San Francisco position.

Bill and his wife, the former Jane Desmond of Pasadena, live in San Mateo. An ardent golfer and swimmer, he is a member of the Olympic and World Trade Clubs and past president of the N.D. Club of Northern California, San Francisco Chapter of the Notre Dame Alumni Association.

Bill's father was the late Judge Thomas J. Hoban, '18, and his brother is Dr. Thomas J. Hoban, '45, of Dundee, Illinois.

seramble a few abbreviations and finish some unfinished sentences. Here goes:

MIKE McKINSTRA will be ordained to the Holy Priesthood on May 19, and will offer his first Mass the following day in Freeport, Illinois. JOHN FISH sent a very newsworthy letter, which I quote in part: "PAUL TAGLIA was admitted to the Michigan Bar recently. JERRY KELLY is a stockbroker with Kenower, MacArthur & Associates and is expecting No. 5 which will tie him with yours truly. LOU BASSO is practicing law in Detroit. JIM KLINK is a lawyer, CPA, and hell of a poor loser in a bridge game; also has four children. LARRY EATON is working for a bank in Eaton, Colo." I failed to mention that John is an attorney in Dearborn with the firm of Fish & Fish. Many thanks for the news, John.

DICK PETRARCA is city attorney of Chicago Heights and has a law office there. Dick served as assistant state's attorney in Cook County from 1957 until 1960, when he moved to his present position. Dick is the father of two boys. FRANK WOIDAT is regional sales manager of the midwest office of Spring Mills, Inc. He and his wife Marilyn reside in Oak Park, Ill., and have a daughter born last February 6th.

J.J. O'TOOLE is assistant corporation Counsel for the City of Chicago, has two children. RENE ORILLAC is a civil engineer and partner in a construction firm in Panama, and has three offspring. FRANK O'CONNOR taught business for three years at N.D., and is now a data processing sales representative for National Cash Register in Dayton. Frank is well up in the production statistics with six children. DICK NIXON has given up politics, turned to medicine, and is in residency at Cook County Hospital in Chicago.

DICK NAULT relates that he had a fabulous week-end visit with BUD MASSMAN in Kansas City recently. Dick is senior sales engineer with Minneapolis Honeywell's military products group, and lives in Woodland Hills, Calif., with his wife and four children. MIKE PETRICK is associate chemical engineer with Argonne National Labs., lives in Joliet and has two children. EUGENE PONGRATZ is a CPA and works for Aerojet in Sacramento. FRANK PAVALKO has a setup that's hard to beat: English instructor at the Chaminade College of Honolulu! CHUCK PITCHFORD, another father of six, is a captain in the USMC stationed at Jacksonville. STEVE PALKO is a draftsman with the Phelps Dodge Corporation.

REG PHILBIN is another of our number who has made a splash in show business on the West Coast. Reg is a television newscaster on KOGO-TV in San Diego, and recently interviewed Frank Leahy. GUY PRISCO recently opened his architectural office in Aurora, Illinois. JOHN PETERS is prosecuting attorney for Kalamazoo County, Mich. ED O'CONNOR is assistant cashier and manager of a branch of the Indiana National Bank in Indianapolis. Ed has five children. Which brings to mind that I ran into CHARLIE STIMMING at the IBM Test Center in Chicago a few weeks back. Charlie is with Indiana Bell Telephone, and was married last year. BERT PROBST is a research metallurgist with NASA in Cleveland. JOHN PECK is contract administrator with the Bendix Missile Division in Mishawaka. TOM O'BRIEN is a Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in Indianapolis, and takes the family man honors for this issue with 7½ children. Can anyone top that?

That's the extent of my gossip for this issue. We'd like to hear from all of you so jot a quick note on a post card and send it along.

From the Alumni Office:

In June ROBERT K. WAGNER became public relations manager of Koppers Co., Inc. Bob has been assistant manager of advertising and public relations since 1960 and with Koppers since graduation. Based in Pittsburgh, Bob and his wife have three children and live in Bethel Park, Pa. JOHN T. ELSON is now religion editor of Time Magazine. He first came to prominence in April with his cover story on Protestant theologian Karl Barth. John is the son of Robert T. Elson, chief of Time's London Bureau. BERNARD ALFORD WOOD and wife are parents of their second, Mary Ruth Kathleen, the first two names borrowed from her mother. Their son, B.A. Wood III, is called Angus. The Woods live in Eau Gallie, Fla., and Al is associated with the Orlando Sentinel papers. In April TIMOTHY J. KETT was a candidate for the Palatine (Ill.) High School Board, but we don't know how he fared. Tim is a training writer for the Chicago home office of Allstate Insurance. He got his M.A. at N.D. in 1955 on a Rockefeller grant, was an educational specialist at the Tokyo Army Education Center, is now a Jaycee and Junior Achievement advisor. Tim and Nancy are parents of Michael, Catherine and Julie-Marie.

1953

David A. McElvain
2328 Alexander Terr.
Homewood, Illinois

REUNION REGISTRANTS

JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM, BRIAN B. DUFF, EDWARD NOONAN, RICHARD I. SCHOENFELDER.

Your reporter has been directed to edit and delete all unnecessary trivia from the column in the interest of brevity, so be prepared to un-

1954

Milton J. Beaudine
76 East Court Dr.
Decatur, Illinois

REUNION REGISTRANT
RICHARD F. McNAMARA.

The power of the press is amazing! After the last article at least one bachelor, realizing he was 30 and over the hill, rushed out and popped the big question. Miss Sheila Brick has accepted the proposal of ED "NED" SEIM, both from Wausau, Wisc., and as of July 14, 1962 Ned will no longer be over the hill. (He'll be under it.) Thanks, Ned, but you didn't have to go that far just to make this writer look good. In answer to another question I received a reply from DON HICKS, who is the proud father of seven (our leader at the clubhouse turn). Don and weary spouse have four boys and three girls. The oldest is 8 and the youngest 6 months. Don runs and owns, I might add, the "Mayan Dude Ranch" in the scenic countryside of Bandera, Texas. The brochure enclosed with Don's letter was most interesting and I'm sure Don would be glad to hear from any of you concerning a Texas vacation. (For this I get half rates.) Just received a note from FRED MANGIALARDI, 2235 23rd Ave., Rockford, Ill. Fred is in charge of sales of Consolidated Freightways for the N. Ill., S. Wis. area. Glad to hear you're planning to make the reunion party after the Purdue game, Fred. JIM BUCKENMYER writes that he has been accepted at Washington U. in St. Louis, where he will lecture and work towards his D.B.A. in the fall. Jim has a boy and a girl and one on the way. MANNY SEQUEIRA reports the birth of his third son, Peter Anthony, on Jan. 22, weighing in at 7 lbs. 4 oz. Manny is specializing in admiralty law since graduation from N.D.'s Law School and is with the law firm of Hill, Rivkins, Louis & Waburton, 96 Fulton St., New York 38, N.Y. (Manny's looking for VAL CHUN's address, so give it to him, Val.) ROCKNE MORRISSEY is in the construction industry in "Pflaumville" (Dayton, Ohio, 4824 Harlow Dr.). Rock has two sons launched by the former Gail Lonneman of Cincinnati. He also expects to make the Purdue game. A question: "Is PAUL KELLY really married?" RON MAZZOLI, 415 Eastern Pkwy., Louisville 17, Kentucky, wrote a real nice letter—thanks, Ron. After graduation, Ron served a two-yr. hitch in the Army, spending part of the time in Alaska where he ran into FRED BRAND and various Eskimos. Upon his return to Derbytown Ron studied at, and graduated from, U. of Louisville Law School in '60. He then joined the legal dept. of the Louisville & Nashville R.R. Co., headquartered in Louisville. He married Helen Dillon in August, 1959, and was blessed with a boy, Michael, on Sept. 5, 1961. Ron reports that: WALT WAGNER owns Louisville and a real estate co. Walt was married with BILL MORLEY, GENE HOWLEY, BILL REYNOLDS and ED MADIGAN in attendance. MIKE McGRATH finished his law training at U. of L. and is now a banker. DON DAWDEN now lives in Brooklyn and is associated with a N.Y. law firm specializing in patent work. I understand Don still wears his ear muffs. PAT CARRICO (Class V.P.) is working for the Denver Post and living at 4103 Montview Blvd., Denver 7, Colo. TOM VIVIANO and his wife Ruth have four children and live in Florida, where Tom owns his own radio, hi-fi and stereo shop. BOB FROLICHER is with T.V. station WLW in Cincinnati, and he and his wife Bernie have four children.

Latest reports indicate that JOHN "ALL-AMERICAN" LATTNER is back in Chi town at 4935 West End, Chi 44, Ill. John, what ever happened to your fat friend from Toledo?

For 3 cents and a 10-minute expenditure you can help me out by dropping me a post card with some material to keep these articles going. For instance, what's new with you: HAL REILLY, M.D., BILL MIGLAS, GEORGE HEWSON?, FRANK SHEAHAN?, JOHN "DEBBIE" REY-

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

ROBERT LAWTON JONES, '49
All-Out Architect and Lay Apostle

In Tulsa, Okla., Bob Jones is well known as a Notre Dame Club officer, family man and community leader, but he is perhaps more widely known for two passionate interests, total commitments to the profession of architecture and the Christian lay apostolate. The first has brought his firm many prizes and commissions, plus mention among "New Talent of the 60's" shaping American architecture; the second has brought him an equal measure of personal and family satisfaction.

Licensed for Illinois in 1950, Bob enhanced his degree in architecture (cum laude) with an M.S. in city planning from Illinois Tech and won a Fulbright grant for European study in 1953-54. Returning from Germany in 1954, he came to Tulsa as manager of a civic center project and in the next two years took his Oklahoma architect's license and a certificate of the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards. In 1957 he became a partner with Lee and David Murray in Murray-Jones-Murray Architects as the partner responsible for design.

Bob's craftsmanship, exhibited nationally and abroad in such designs as the Tulsa Municipal Airport Terminal, Sts. Peter and Paul and other churches, in schools, professional and commercial buildings, and the Jones "House in the Pecan Orchard," has helped M.-J.-M. to international honors and plaudits in Architectural Forum, Aviation Week, Progressive Architecture, Arts and Architecture, Zurich's Bauen und Wohnen, Liturgical Arts, Architectural Record and other journals.

Children (Jayme, Mark, Paul, Gregory and Laure) have kept Bob and his wife Lynn busy since their marriage in Chicago in 1950, deepening their concern for Christian education and lay apostolate: Christian Family Movement (Tulsa Federation program couple); Young Christian Students (parish contact couple); National Conference of Christians and Jews (Inter-Faith Dialogue, Tulsa Board of Directors, chairmanship of "Operation Metropolitan"); the social action committee, Tulsa Council of Churches (Catholic representative); and Benedictine Heights College (Board of Trustees).

Bob's professional affiliations include the American Institute of Architects and its affiliated Institute of Planners. Professional and personal interests blend in such assignments as the Mayor's Committee on Urban Renewal, technical advisory committees for urban studies of the Tulsa Metropolitan Planning Commission, Oklahoma Council for Community Development, Tulsa Community Relations Commission, Urban League Housing Committee, and other civic activities.

NOLDS?, LOU TABIT?, SYL SMALDONE (room)?, DUKE "DIRTY DOZENS" DORMENT?, LEN DURY?, BOB BURNS?, BILL SPIES?, GEORGE BRONX O'CONNELL?, LEO LANCIAULT?, BOBBY JOSEPH?, DAVE DEVLIN?, GEORGE BELLIS?

Now if you'll all get tickets to the Purdue game and come to the reunion party afterwards I can guarantee a good time. We're lining up some live entertainment, such as BOB WRIGHT singing the Broadway musicals; JAKE NOONAN has a flashy trick he does with a scissors; JIM BERNHART will recap the game and JACK PITTAS and I will do the fandango. You all come.

From the Alumni Office:

JOHN P. MERTENS, former manager of the County Trust Co. office in Katonah, N.Y., joined the administrative staff of the auditing department in White Plains. With wife and five children he lives in Katonah, where he's a volunteer fireman. JAMES McCOMB opened a Chevy agency in Peoria, Ill., May 1. JOHN W. HOUCK, assistant professor of business organization and management at the University, got a Danforth grant for 1962-63 and will work for a doctorate at Harvard Law School. John got his law degree at N.D. in 1955 and is married to the former Mary Dooley, daughter of the late BILL DOOLEY of Notre Dame. SISTER ALPHONSUS MARIE CHARBONNE, associate professor of history at Detroit's Marygrove College, who got her M.A. as a summer school co-ed with the Class, is studying in England this summer under a program of European study for religious faculty.

1955

Paul Fullmer
7344 N. Ridge Blvd.
Chicago 45, Illinois

Well, it's just about time to get hit with the football bug again. As a long-time Chicago Cub fan, I don't get discouraged very easily. So I'm planning on hitting the old campus for a couple of games, and I hope to see many of you there, too.

Before many more moons pass, I think I'm going to throw in the sponge and admit that my A.D. classmates expended all their writing talents at school, and that the more scientific boys have developed these skills since graduation. This issue's "letter of the cycle" award goes to STEVE PREVOZNIK, one of those hard-working pre-meds during his South Bend tenure. Steve reports that he and his wife Rita have three boys and a girl and are expecting the fourth member of the backfield in November.

Steve is finishing his residency in anesthesiology at the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, and has been asked to stay on as a junior staff member. This, I understand, is quite an honor in the medical field. Incidentally, his address is 207 p. Chester Rd., Swarthmore, Pa. Here is some more interesting dope Steve passed along.

FORST BROWN now is a captain in the Army Medical Corps, and is stationed outside Paris. Some guys have all the luck. Me—I just get “frozen” in the Army reserve! His wife Joan and two children are there, too, which will further affect our gold supply.

BILL TUNELL is still “slaving away” at Bellevue Hospital as a surgical resident. JOHN O'BRIEN and his wife Barbara are living in Hartford, Conn., where John is a psychiatric resident at the Institute of the Living. (Now that's some name, isn't it?) DICK CAPKA is married and living in California. Steve thinks Dick is with Douglas Aircraft.

RANDALL CARLL is a captain in the Marines and has just returned from a 3½-year tour of duty in Taipei, Formosa. He served as a Chinese interpreter there. (I'd like to go to a Chinese restaurant with him and really foul up the waiter.) He now is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Randall and his wife Marilyn are living in Vista, Calif.

What ever happened to VINOD AGARWAL, DICK ALFES, JOE BALOBECK, EMIL BANAS, BOB CAFFARELLI, JIM CAHILL, GENE DALEY, KERRY DALTON, MIKE ELLIS, GREG ESCH, BOB FARNBAUCH, JOE FARRELL, SYD GALE, FRED GALIONE, JIM HAERING, DAVE HAGANS, JOHN JAHODA, LEO JANKOWSKI, WALT KAVANAUGH, WAYNE KENT, BOB KERBY, DICK LANGE, WALT LANGFORD, JOHN McCALL, and PAT McCANN???

Received a nice letter from MIKE O'TOOLE the other day. Mike and his wife Mary have a boy and girl. Their address is 41 Governor Belcher Lane, Milton, Mass. Except for two years in the Army, Mike has been with the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. He is in the group annuity sales department. (Some day I'm going to get a job with an insurance company dreaming up names for departments. They really have some lu-lus.)

Mike says he got a call recently from PETE SUTHERLAND, who welcomed a baby daughter a few days previously. Pete is stationed in Rhode Island. Incidentally, Mike received his M.B.A. from Boston College in June.

The “what happened to” line got through to JACK RICKLING, who wrote to tell me that he joined Westinghouse as a consulting and application engineer after graduation. In '59 he transferred to the aircraft equipment department, and last year became a design engineer for base activation of the Atlas missile in the astronautics division of General Dynamics. (Col. Glenn may have a passenger next time if Jack doesn't get out before they close the hatch.) Jack was a test conductor at Forbes AFB in Topeka, and now is a senior design engineer at Lincoln (Neb.) AFB.

Jack would like to hear from BILL McCOUL.

PROF. ALBERT AE, '57, of Nanzan University, Nagoya, Japan, and his wife, the former Agnes Yoshida, show their son, Michael Shigeki, 3 months old on New Year's Day, one of the reasons preventing the father from attending his Class Reunion in June.

LOUGH, BOB MUTH, JIM HERRING, JOHN MALLOY and TOM SUTHERLAND. Jack's address is 24 Trenridge Rd., Lincoln 5, Neb.

DON LANSPA's wife, Barbara, finally got tired of waiting for the “old man” to sit down and write, so she did the honors. She reports that they have a son. Don now is a supervisor in an electronics section of a Western Electric plant. Their address is 7510 Maple Lane, Raytown 38, Mo.

JIM SCHAEFFER has left the chemistry dept. at Northwestern and now lives at 51 Belleclaire Dr., Rochester 17, N.Y. MURIL VINCELETTE went from what I considered the last frontier, Billings, Mont. (DAVE COHEN, please note), to Jeffrey City, Wyo., which sounds like something out of Gunsmoke. Kitty, I'll take a beer, like the ones they used to serve at Joer's.

LES KEWLEY also has gone west — from Chicago to 4921 Sparks Ave., San Diego 10. JIM MURPHY now can be reached at 4009 Morrison Dr., Lynchburg, Va. ED OCHWAT now lives at 309 Tower Place, Anaheim, Calif. . . RALPH SMITH at 2804 Bixby Ave., Bemidji, Minn. . . BILL BRONDER at 1904 Maryland Parkway, Las Vegas. They'd better investigate him right away. Talked to BERT METZGER's dad at UND Night, and he says that Bert is taking all classmates at reduced rates during the World's Fair. The address is 15767 Palatine Dr., Seattle 33. JOHN KEANE should be a candidate for the Chicago Club now that he's moved to 1437 Gloria Dr., Palatine, Ill., from Pittsburgh.

BILL JACKSON gets his mail at 333 E. 17th St., New York 3. . . CHUCK LAIRD at 712 Ridgeland Pl., Tullahoma, Tenn. . . PAT SWEENEY at 1921 Fulton St., San Francisco. . . TOM SCHREITMUELLER at 211 Chicago Blvd., Sea Girt, N.J. . . TOM PRENDERGAST at 6870 Foxcroft Dr., St. Louis. . . and BILL KREPS at 522 Cottonwood, Ardmore, Okla.

BOB BURNS is back in service and can be reached at BOQ Building 89, McClellan AFB, Calif. BILL GLASS lives at The Gallery in Starkville, Miss. (As Mel Allen would say, “How about that!”)

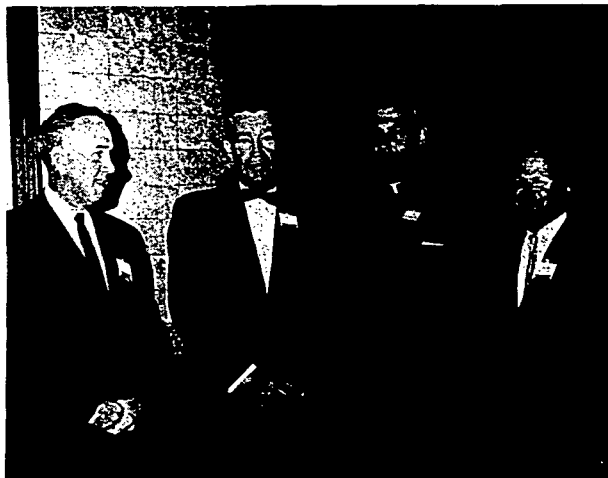

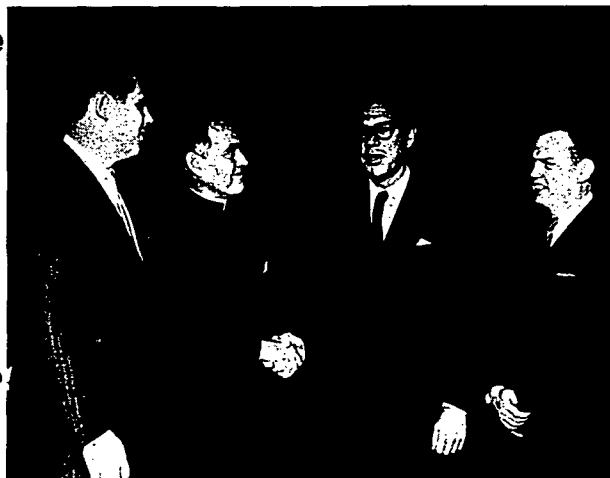

NED RYAN sent an announcement of the opening of his law office in Hollywood, Calif. Sounds real tough, Ned. You probably wear sun glasses and a beret now. DON SHANLEY is working for a foundry here in Chicago. BOB DAHLEN married the former Nannine Louise Knoetzer in March, and the couple resides at 1022 Loyola St., Chicago. JOE CONNOLLY married the former Susan Vanis on June 9 in University Heights, Ohio. In case you missed it in the last issue, DICK GLENNON married the former Susan Rankin on Feb. 3 at Plattsburgh, N.Y.

GEORGE LAWLER got his wife, Deann, to write the news. The Lawlers just welcomed a little girl to their house. They already have George, Jr. George is an analytical chemist for Shell Oil Co. They live at 408 Hadley, Edwardsville, Ill. (Write him, Big John and Little John.)

And what ever happened to AL NARDINE, JOE NASSIF, CHARLIE O'BRIEN, DENNIS O'BRIAN, DICK PADON, FRANK PAIRITZ, BOB QUIMBY, BILL QUIRK, JOE RAFFERTY, MICHEL RAMOS, LEON ST. PIERRE, GENE SALEM, RON TAGLER, ROCCO TANNONE, ED TOOMEY, CLEM URBANSKI, DICK USCHOLD, JIM VACHRIS, ANTHONY WALLACE, JOHN WACK, GENE WAGNER, ED YOHON, JIM YONKE, BOB ZALE and FRANK ZANARDI???

Yours truly had a busy and eventful spring. On UND Night I was elected second vice president of the Chicago Club. A few days earlier I had been named assistant to the president of the Lawrence H. Selz Organization (which, after that move, I'm more convinced than ever is the best public relations firm in the country!).

I know I speak for the whole class when I extend sympathy to JOHN RYAN and to his sister, Ginny, the wife of Frank Maier, on the death of their father, John Ryan, Sr. He was a wonderful man and a friend of many in our class. Also our condolences to GENE CRALLEY on the death of his father, John T. Cralley.

PHOENIX — Campus guests were present at two successful Phoenix events last spring. At left Father Hesburgh attends a February Communion breakfast with (l.-r.) Ed Murphy, retiring president; William P. Mahoney, national alumni president, later named ambassador to Ghana; and Dr. William Dunn, president-elect of the Club. At right Father John Walsh of the N.D. Foundation appeared with (l.-r.) toastmaster Ed Boyle, director of the F.B.I. in Arizona; Frank Leahy, former head football coach; and Rabbi Albert L. Plotkin, Notre Dame Foundation general chairman for Phoenix, at Universal Notre Dame Night observance.

From the Alumni Office:

TOM NEVILLE and wife Marilyn just welcomed their fourth child this month, Timothy Justin, born in Canoga Park, Calif. They have two girls and a boy also. Tom no longer works for the Los Angeles Times — he is now with Interior Design and Forbes magazine in advertising. (21920 Strathern, Canoga Park, Calif.) Mrs. CHRISTOPHER T. FLYNN says her husband is working as auditor with U.S. Steel in Chicago after two years as an accountant for the National Tube division in Elwood City, Pa. Chris is doing well, she says, and on April 5 they had a daughter, Roxanne Teresa. The Flynn's are at 151 Lester, Park Forest, Ill. PAUL A. MILLER is now manager of communications for the Evansville, Ind., division of Whirlpool Corp. and lives there with his wife and two children. CHARLES H. MINGES, formerly with Union Carbide, has joined Allied Chemical's research organization at the National Aniline Development department, Chesterfield, Va. Capt. WALTER K. GABRAL finished transportation training at Ft. Eustis, Va., in March and apparently remains there with his wife Clarice. BERT METZGER, JR., whose address is noted above, finished at U. of Chicago Law School last June, passed the Washington bar and joined the Seattle law firm of Bogle, Bogle & Gates. The Metzgers have two boys and a girl. RALPH GUGLIEMI will be backstopping the N.Y. Giants' Y.A. Tittle this next pro football season. "Goog" got a very nice profile from the N.Y. Times' Arthur Daley in May. Two classmates, FATHERS ROLAND STAIR and RALPH FISHER, C.S.C., starred in a Lenten mission for teen-agers in South Bend last spring.

1956

John P. Deasy
5697 N. Lincoln Ave.
Chicago 45, Illinois

From a report by Mrs. Gerald Trafficanda, '57: "Heard from GEORGE EDGINGTON in February. His father was killed by a gun crazed man who shot up a restaurant where his dad worked on January 11, 1962 in Ogden, Utah. George was previously in the seminary in St. Benedict, Oregon. He is now a salesman in Montana and Wyoming for the Kendall Company, Bauer and Black Div. DAN LIDDY and wife Priscilla live at 2838 Elmwood Dr., Rochester 18, N.Y." Capt. JON L. KONZEN left his wife Claudette with his parents in Toledo, O., until he finished orientation at medical field service school, Brook Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., in April. Jon had been working at City Hospital in Akron. First Lt. FREDERIC A. DEVOE, JR., now on a four month European mission, is a navigator with the Tactical Air Command at Sewart AFB, Tenn., and was a crew member in exercises staged in South Carolina for the visiting Shah of Iran in April. Fred's wife is the former Doris Peterson of Amityville, N.Y. JOHN J. O'CONNOR of Andover, Mass., joined Texaco's sales force in April. HUBERT J. KUZMICH is somewhat of a celebrity. Hugh's name and face were used in ads for McGann Securities Co., Inc., South Bend stock-brokers with which he's associated. BROTHER WILLIAM SCHUBMEHL, C.S.C., was given a Shell Oil Co. fellowship for advanced summer training in math at Cornell. Brother Bill already has his M.S. from N.D. He's the son of RAY SCHUBMEHL, '21, retiring assistant dean of engineering at the University. VIC McFADDEN (LL.B. '39) resigned as attorney for the St. Joseph County Legal Aid Bureau and was appointed a public defender to succeed ALEX CHOLIS, '41. JOSEPH W. HENNESSY, JR., South Bend district agent for Jefferson National Life, recently qualified as a chartered life underwriter. From Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, JUAN RAFAEL PACHECO, JR., wrote: "Upon my graduation I went to New York City for an eight months training program at the Chase Manhattan Bank. After I came home I started working for my Ph.D. in Law, which I have just finished at the University of Santo Domingo. . . . In April of last year I started a company called Compania Central de Creditos, C. por A., to handle property administration, collections and credit information. We are the correspondents in the Dominican Republic for Dun & Bradstreet, the National Assn. of Credit Management, Arthur Young & Co., etc. Right now we have taken out of our company the credit information department and have formed a new company, Asociacion de Creditos, C. por A., to handle this phase. . . . Last August I got married to Maria Isabel de Marchena. We have our apartment in town and the address is Franklin D. Roosevelt 18, Apt. 3, Santo Domingo. . . . Things have been pretty hectic around here for the past year, as I am sure you have all heard; but lately, thank God, everything is starting to simmer down and we are all getting back to business in order to rebuild the country after 31 years of dictatorship."

NEW JERSEY — Head table at annual New Jersey Alumni Club dinner in observance of "Universal ND Night" includes: (seated, l.-r.) Mrs. R. Bruce Dold; William L. Kirchner, Jr., dinner chairman; Father Hesburgh, honored guest; R. Bruce Dold, club president, and Mrs. Kirchner. (Standing, l.-r.) Peter Regan, secretary; Mrs. Regan; Henry Borda, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Hall, John F. Sand, vice president, and Mrs. Sand. The dinner was held at the Bow and Arrow Manor, West Orange, and was attended by approximately 350 alumni and friends of the University.

1957

Donald J. Barr
463 Briar Place
Chicago 14, Illinois

Jack E. Casey
Chicago Show
Printing Co.
555 Fifth Ave.
New York 17, N. Y.

REUNION REGISTRANTS

JULES P. AUGSDORFER, EDWARD J. AYERS, JOHN BARANY, DONALD J. BARR, JOHN W. BEDAN, LAURENCE O. BEDFORD, DANIEL J. BEGGY, HAROLD C. BLAKESLEE, JR., ROBERT W. BOGG, JOHN F. BOVERI, JAMES J. BOYD, RAYMOND M. BRENNAN, FRANK R. BROPHY, RICHARD W. BROWN, ROBERT A. CALABRESE, JAMES P. CANNY, JR., JAMES E. CHESTNUT, JR., JAY E. CLARK, HARRY B. CONLON, JR., FRANCIS S. "MIKE" CONNELLY, BARRY J. CORONA, GERALD F. CROWE, JAMES D. CUSACK, JOHN W. DAIBER, R. AUSTIN DAILY, GEORGE S. D'AMORE, DONALD S. DOHERTY, PHILLIP J. DONAHUE, THOMAS O. DOYLE, REV. JOHN J. DUNNIGAN, ROBERT H. DUNSEATH, WILLIAM J. ECHARD, RICHARD J. EGAN, LEE L. ELSEY, ROBERT F. EMENS, ROBERT D. EP-

PINK, R. T. "JOE" FISCHER, DONALD H. FELDMANN, THOMAS J. FIUMARA, FRANCIS A. FOLEY, JR., ROBERT E. FRUIN, WILLIAM J. FULTZ, RICHARD C. GALLE, DONALD W. GERTH, JOHN D. GIBBS, ROBERT A. GIUNCO, LEON C. GLOVER, MICHAEL J. GLYNN, EDWIN E. GORDON, JR., WILLIAM F. GRANT, JOHN W. GRAVES, GEORGE GROBLE, ALBERT GUSTAINIS, JOHN B. HAMMETT, DONALD L. HANEY, J. NORRIS HARDING, JAMES L. HARRIS, CONNOR F. HAUGH, MICHAEL R. HAYES, PAUL E. HEER, RONALD W. HEINZ, JAMES B. HENEGHAN, RONALD E. HENNE, FRANK W. HENNESSEY, REV. JOHN C. HENRICK, THOMAS R. HERMAN, MARVIN E. HOFFMAN, THOMAS V. HUGUELET, MICHAEL J. HVLAND, RICHARD P. JACOB, ARTHUR C. JOHNSON, MANSOUR A. JOWID, JR., THOMAS E. KANE, THOMAS J. KANE, ROBERT E. KAUFMAN, DANIEL J. KELLY, JAMES L. KINNANE, DAVID E. KLOCKE, RICHARD J. KOPITUK, EUGENE P. KOPP, PAUL J. KRAPP, ROBERT N. KUHN, STANLEY T. KUSPER, JR., ROBERT A. LACASSE, DONALD L. LEONE, RICHARD M. LEWIS, PATRICK C. LOGAN, JOHN W. LUCEY, HENRY F. LUEPKE, ALBERT LUM, F. G. "JERRY" LUNDEN, FRANCIS T. LUTZ, EDWARD A. LYNCH, JR., BERNARD G. LYONS, ANDREW M. LYSACK, EDWIN "DON" MCGRORY, THOMAS P. McDONALD, JAMES M. McDONOUGH, JR., WILLIAM K. MCGOWAN, JR., WILLIAM H. MCGUIRE, DOUGLAS E. MCKAY, JOHN McMEEL, THOMAS J. McNULTY, DONALD E. MACHENBERG, WILLIAM D. MADDOX, MARK A. MALEY, EMMETT P. MALLOY, DONALD J. MASINI, THOMAS B. MAUS, JOHN C. MICHNO, WILLIAM J. MOONEY, JR., JAMES C. MORTON, JOHN D. MOYNAHAN, THOMAS L. MULCAHY, JR., DAVID B. MURPHY, JEREMIAH E. MURPHY, JR., JOHN F. MURPHY, DONALD J. MURRAY, JOHN C. MURRAY, RAYMOND V. NELSON, JR., JOHN T. NITKA, JOHN O. NOLAND, THOMAS R. O'BRYAN, DESMOND H. O'CONNELL, JR., STEPHEN C. O'DONNELL, GEORGE E. O'LEARY, MAX R. OLINGER, ROBERT S. O'NEIL, JOSEPH D. PANZARELLA, JEROME F. PARMER, THOMAS B. PENDERGAST, KIERAN J. PHELAN, JR., LOUIS PILLIOD, JOSEPH E. POLICASTRO, REV. E. ROBERT PREMO, JAMES J. QUINN, JOHN R. REARDON, JOSEPH A. REICH, JR., FRANK K. REILLY, LEMONT RENTERGHEM, STUART W. RICHARDSON, WILLIAM C. RIGALI, THOMAS H. RILEY, JR., JOSEPH J. RINK, JOSEPH H. ROHS, JAMES E. ROSE, RAYMOND F. ROTH, JR., THOMAS J. RYAN, RONALD J. SABLES, AMBROSE F. SALANSKY, JOSEPH A. SANTOS, ARTHUR L. SAVOIE, JOHN M. SCRIBA, PATRICK S. SHEERIN, PETER SIGONA, JOSEPH P. SILK, JOHN J. SIMMERLING, JEROME O. SLAWIK, JOHN A. SLEVIN, GERALD D. SMITH, REV. JOHN F. SMYTH, PATRICK L. SNYDER, ROBERT J. STEVENSON, MARK STOREN, JR., GEORGE W. STRAKE, JR., DONALD J. STUHLREHER, GREGORY W. SULLIVAN, RICHARD F. SWIFT, JOHN C. TEHAN, WILLIAM M. TOLLE, JR., RICHARD J. TORDA, DENNIS F. TROESTER, JAMES R. ULLRICH, J. DAVID VALAIK, WILLIAM A. WADDICK, RICHARD T. WALSH, MATTHEW W. WEIS, JR., STEPHEN J. WIEWIORA, GENE P. WILSON, RICHARD M. WING, THEODORE J. WOLFE, SILAS G. WOODY, HENRY "BUZZ" WURZER, EUGENE W. YURGEALITIS, JOHN N. ZUFELT.

From Mrs. Gerald Trafficanda: "I'm writing on behalf of my husband, GERRY TRAFFICANDA, '57, who is just too busy these days to take pen in hand. I am a '59 graduate of St. Mary's College and knew Gerry's classmates as well as others. Gerry moved to a new studio in October in Los Angeles and numbers Saul Bass, the well-known designer, among his clients. Advertising photography is his business and he has received a number of awards in the last couple of years. Award of excellence in 1961 from Commercial Art Magazine (CA) for his photography of the film title for the motion picture 'Spartacus.' In 1960 he received another award from the same magazine for his photography for the trade ad for 'Exodus.' He received honorable mention from Western Advertising for the above trade ad and also a trade ad for KMPC radio here in Los Angeles. We formerly lived in Chatsworth but now reside in North Hollywood and have two children, Dolores Maria and Christian Anthony.

"JOSEPH BELFIORE, my brother-in-law, and his wife Sandy lost their first baby, a girl, Marie Mercedes, who was born on January 23 and died on January 26 — it was due to a congenital heart condition. Joe (1605 Connecticut Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C.) is now taking pre-med courses at Catholic University. Joe's younger brother William, a soph at Creighton University, was killed last June, 1961, while vacationing in Spain. He was involved in a motorcycle accident.

"RON FRANCIS was visiting here and stayed with us a month or so while looking over the job prospects here in Southern California after leaving McCarthy Brothers. He left here for San Francisco where he is now employed by U.S. Leasing Corp. His home address is: 263 - 29th Ave., San Francisco 21, Calif. While Ron was here we got together with DON RANIER (1630 Edgemont, Los Angeles, Calif.). Don is still working for Continental Casualty and became engaged over the Christmas holidays.

"BILL BAPST and his wife Sue are expecting their fourth baby in October. They have two boys and a girl now: David, Karen and John Matthew, the last born July 19, 1961. Bill is with Hankins Co. in Cleveland and they have a new address: 15605 Montrose Ave., Cleveland 11, Ohio.

"We heard from ORLANDO T. MAIONE,

AMONG NOTRE DAME MEN employed by General Motor's Milwaukee AC Spark Plug division (from left), Robert G. Brown, '46, associate Titan missile director, distributes copies of a G.M. rocket pamphlet adapted from his writings to John A. Laureman, '57; Harry F. Kelly, Jr., '53; and Taylor G. Benson, '54. Other AC Irish (not shown) include W.E. Binet, '43; J.F. Carr, '34; J.A. Chaniga, '51; R.L. Ehr, '54; J.J. Frediani, '52; D.L. Gothard, '56; T.R. Herman, '57; J.J. Karr, '40; F.A. Knopf, Jr., '57; M.J. McGuire, '50; A.R. Maas, '50; and J.M. Nielsen, '59.

in February (58 Plainfield Rd., Albertson, L.I., N.Y.). He wrote of moving to Palo Alto, Calif., and trying to get back in Notre Dame. At the time, he was working for Eggers and Higgins, architects in New York. He met a gal with Special Services while serving Uncle Sam in Italy.

"REG BAIN received his masters in Speech and Drama from the University of Arizona and is now teaching at Regis College, Denver, Colorado. He is getting married in September.

"JACK KENT is now traveling in this area as Western regional director in fund raising for the Sisters of the Holy Cross.

"GEORGE O'DONNELL and his wife Rita have one child, a boy. George is working for Motorola, and they reside at 3223 Rocky River Dr., Cleveland 11, Ohio.

"TOM MULCAHY and wife Sarah are expecting their third baby.

"BILL JACKMAN, 5400 - 56th Pl., Number 102, East Riverdale, Maryland, is technical editor at Vitro Laboratory near Washington, D.C. Bill and wife have one boy Tommy. Bill writes that T. GORDON BENNETT called him while he was in Boston and says that he writes a weekly advertising column and is assistant promotion manager for the Buffalo Courier.

"A Christmas note from Jan and MIKE THOMPSON. Mike Zeus is keeping Mike T. busy in New Jersey. They have one boy and a baby on the way. Their address is 100 Franklin St., Apt. 7C11, Morristown, N.J."

From the Alumni Office:

Thanks to Mrs. Trafficanda for the notes above and items on other classes, included in the appropriate columns. REV. JOHN P. SMYTH, ordained by Cardinal Meyer on April 28, celebrated his First Solemn Mass on April 29 at St. Genevieve's in Chicago and celebrated the Class Memorial Mass in Dillon Chapel for the Fifth Anniversary Reunion. PAUL HORNUNG sat out the Reunion at Fort Riley, Kansas, recuperating from an emergency appendectomy in late May, but got his discharge in July. Paul got an admiring profile from Arthur Daley recently in the N.Y. Times. PATRICK C. LOGAN, former student body president, won the Pitman-Moore award (and $100) for his pharmacological know-how in the third year at Indiana U. School of Medicine, where he's vice-president of his class. Staff Sgt. WILLIAM J. BARTLING put in his reserve duty at Fort Eustis, Va., and returned to work for Monarch Metal Co. in St. Louis. JOHN ROCKNE GUINN sent out a detailed personal report for Christmas, just recently received, describing an occupational three-ring circus: homeroom adviser-English-sociology, etc., teacher at St. Clement High, Centerline, Mich.; lecturer in music at the U. of Detroit evening session; choirmaster-organist, St. Agatha's Church in Detroit. Residence: 720 Gronow St., Centerline, Mich. He's happily single and comfortable, he reports. BURTON A. LESH wrote to the Men of '57: "Sorry I won't be able to attend the big 5th, however, I'll be there in spirit. Hope to attend next year's celebration as I'll be in between military assignments. To bring you all up to date on the happenings here, I'm a captain and command this unit (Co. B, 1st Battle Group, 85th Infantry, the Cacti) at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. This is the home of the 25th Division, the Army's experts on jungle fighting. Ann (St. Mary's '57) and I have a son, John, born Oct. 30, 1960. The only other '57 I have pinpointed is JOE G. CONRATH (Army captain also), flying helicopters in France. My best wishes for a successful reunion." JOHN A. SLEVIN has formed a law partnership in Peoria, Ill., leaving a firm in Taylorville. He taught accounting at N.D. before getting his LL.B. in '60. John and wife Mary have three children. JAMES M. MEEHAN and wife Ila have moved from Stevensville to Birmingham, Mich. (1616 Bobolink Lane) with their three children (Michael Patrick, 4; Margaret Catherine, 2; Mary Kathleen, 1) when Jim was transferred to Whirlpool's Birmingham branch. LAWRENCE V. HAMMEL has just commenced employment as a highway research engineer with the Washington, D.C., Department of Highways and Traffic, assigned to the metropolitan transportation study. He and Marianne have a daughter, Susan, and expected a second child around May. ALBERT S. AE now lives at 37 Yamazatocho, Showaku, Nagoya, Japan, where he is an assistant professor of biology at Nanzan, the Catholic university of Nagoya. In 1960 he married Agnes Hisa Yoshida at the Nanzan Church, and son Michael Shigeki was born Sept. 27, 1961. He enclosed a picture taken on New Year's Day. First Lt. ALBERT C. REICHERT III has been sworn in as a regular in the Air Force at Orlando AFB, Fla. He and wife Marilyn have three children. AL WIEDERKEHR, Altus, Ark., has a scholarship under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program for study in France. He left in April and should return in November. Besides law at the U. of Arkansas, Al took up viticulture at the U. of California while working in the family vineyards and winery, doing a lot of experimental work with hybrid grape strains. Before the trip to France he was on active duty with the 184th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron at Fort Smith. His address until November will be Centre National des Jeunes Agriculteurs, 14 Rue la Boetie, Paris 8E. Sp./4 JOSEPH H. ROHS kept his wife Claire home in Brentwood, Mo., while he put in his annual active duty at Fort Eustis, Va. And PFC JOHN R. SUTTNER, whose 54th Ordnance Co. was reactivated, weathered maneuvers in Louisiana, taking his wife Carole along. REV. JOHN C. HENRICK, III was ordained by Bishop Adrian of Nashville on May 26 and celebrated his First Solemn Mass at Christ the King Church, Nashville, May 27. THOMAS P. SHEHAN is now a brokerage consultant with Connecticut General Life in Kansas City. Tom and wife Pat live in K.C., Mo., with daughter Jennifer, 3, and son Thomas, 1. The only Ph.D. to be reported on is DR. JAMES E. STURM, who will be promoted to associate professor of chemistry at Lehigh U. on Sept. 1.

LOS ANGELES — Actress Dolores Hart (left) was a guest speaker at the 39th annual Universal Notre Dame Night dinner at the Hollywood-Roosevelt Hotel, jointly sponsored by the four N.D. Clubs whose new presidents appear at right with Father Joyce, guest speaker from the campus: (l. - r.) John Frampton, San Gabriel Valley; Thomas W. Dunlay, San Fernando Valley; Fr. Joyce; Robert Gervais, Los Angeles; and Frank Conaty, Long Beach.

1958

Arthur L. Roule, Jr.
1709 Indiana Avenue
LaPorte, Indiana

It's press time again, and as these lines reach you we will be commencing the fifth year of this column's publication. If I wished to be trite, I could remark about "How time flies!" but I am sure that you are all well aware that tempus does fugit, so we'll let it go at that.

In our last column, we reported the death of VINCE CARROLL of Laguna Beach, Calif. We have since received some information on the circumstances of Vince's passing which are as follows. Vince was attending the California College of Medicine, where he was in his final year. He had been extremely interested in research work while in school and had done quite a bit of work in the pathology department of the Los Angeles County Hospital in conjunction with his studies. Vince had been invited to be listed in "Who's Who in American Science" and on January 23rd was on his way to present a paper to a conference of the Association of American Science at Carmel, California, when he died in an automobile accident. At the request of the class, FATHER BOARMAN offered a Mass for Vince last January.

The passing of VINCE CARROLL brings the number of our departed classmates to eight. In case you have missed any of the previous announcements the names of these eight men are: ROGER KENNEY, THOMAS SULLIVAN, WILLIAM RACHAC, ROBERT CUNNINGHAM, THOMAS BARTLEY, ROBERT WOJCIK, JOHN DOYLE, and VINCENT CARROLL. On June 1, the anniversary of our graduation, a Memorial High Mass was offered all of these deceased brethren, and we would ask you to remember them in your own prayers. We intend to continue the

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JOHN H. ROSS, '52
Ringmaster for the Bulls and Bears

Particularly concerned about recent fluctuations (most downward) of the U.S. stock market, a young five-year veteran of the New York Stock Exchange has been urging Americans to "own your own share of American business" since Keith Funston, president of the Exchange, announced his executive appointment. John H. Ross has been serving as secretary of the nation's largest exchange since November of last year.

Jack Ross hails from Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y., where his father, Dr. Rowland H. Ross, is principal of Hastings High School. Forming a taste for finance as a student in the College of Commerce (now the College of Business Administration), he decided to supplement his bachelor of science degree with study at Georgetown Law School.

With an LL.B. from Georgetown, Jack applied at Eleven Wall Street and joined the New York Exchange in 1957. He was named administrative assistant to the secretary in 1958, and assistant secretary in March, 1960. He had attained the ripe age of 30 at the time of his promotion to secretary last year.

Jack, his wife, the former Nancy Anne Gibbon (St. Mary's '54) of Oak Park, Illinois, and their six children live in Huntington Station, Long Island, N.Y.

practice of offering an annual Memorial Mass on the anniversary of graduation.

The correspondence reaching your secretary since our last edition has not been exactly overwhelming. With a word of thanks to our contributors and a reminder to the rest that we depend chiefly on your cards and letters, we now proceed to relay our news to you. CHARLES ADIE reports that he was married on April 15, 1961, to Joanne F. Jean of Nashua, N.H. The first addition to their family was due in April of this year. Charles is teaching math in Lowell, Massachusetts, and is working towards his master's degree from Boston College. He relates further that DICK PADZIESKI was last known to be at the University of Detroit Law School.

JOE BREIDENSTEIN, the owner of the Masters Oil Company of Mount Pleasant, Mich., extends invitations to any classmates visiting the resort areas of Northern Michigan to drop in on him at Walloon Lake. Joe has recently been drilling in the vicinity of Niles, and would be very happy to talk over old times over a beer or two with anyone able to stop by. BILL QUINLAN, another Mount Pleasant native, is still with the Marines in California, where he may decide to stay upon completion of his stint. Joe B. passes on the following rumors — PAT KILEY has moved to Texas where he is in the commercial laundry business; MIKE UNDERWOOD and family are still in the Davenport, Iowa, area; and FRANK FOX was reportedly one of those reservists called back into service last fall.

A letter under the head of Baxter Laboratories, Inc., recently arrived from MARTY ALLEN who received his master's degree from Michigan State in March and is now working as staff assistant to the director of marketing of Baxter Laboratories. Marty is living in Glencoe, Illinois and working near Evanston. He is, in addition, still single.

JOHN HIGGINS has come to our assistance with the following news from the Detroit area. John is secretary-treasurer of Steamship Agencies, Inc., of Detroit, a firm which handles the export traffic for eight steamship lines in the Michigan-Ohio-Ontario region. The Higgins family, consisting of wife Pat, daughters Joan Marie and Kathleen Marie, moved into a new house last July in suburban Detroit. DON KEATING is regional sales director for Chevrolet Parts, living in Caro, Michigan. Don and his wife, Elaine, were expecting their first child last February. TOM HERRMANN is finishing up internship at the University of Oregon Hospital in Portland. He will return to the University of Michigan Hospital this summer where he will begin his residency in surgery. He is engaged to be married next fall. TOM MOORE is with Detroit Ball Bearing Company's sales division. His third child was due in March. PHIL CONWAY married Valerie Finnie (Joe's sister) and is a C.P.A. with Price Waterhouse. JOE FINNIE is married and is handling computer system sales for I.B.M. JOE GRACE is also a C.P.A. and is employed by Touche, Ross, Bailey & Smart. HUGH MCGUIRE is still single and is practicing law in Detroit. He is associated with Mayor Cavanagh's firm in that city. LOU BOSCO graduated from the University of Detroit Law School last year and is now doing graduate work at C.C.N.Y.

BILL ISHAM'S mother sent us a note relating that Bill entered Navy O.C.S. after graduation and subsequently spent two years in the Naval Intelligence Office at Sanford, Florida, after which he served seven months aboard the U.S.S. Forrestal in the Mediterranean. Currently Bill is serving aboard the new carrier, U.S.S. Constellation. On May 19th, he was married to Susan Greenleaf of Evanston, Illinois. Future plans include taking a position with the Ramada Inns of America in Phoenix.

GERRY McCABE writes from Berlin that he expects to finish his overseas military tour in the fall and to return to the States in October, at which time he hopes to be able to attend our fall after-game reunion (see announcement below).

The award for furthest travelled correspondence for this issue goes to Mrs. LEO SCHLOTFELDT of Fairbanks, Alaska. (Gerry McCabe's letter doesn't count — it was post-marked A.P.O. New York) Leo and his wife, Barbara, returned to Fairbanks immediately after graduation and were greeted with orders for Leo's induction into the Army. He was stationed at Oakland Army Terminal (California) as a chaplain's assistant, and Barbara was able to join him. Having now returned to Alaska, Leo is working in the family business, Sourdough Express, Inc., a fuel and transfer corporation.

GENE TRIANO and his wife, Claudette, now have two daughters and are living in Elizabeth, N.J. BOB DEEB now has two sons and a daughter and is finishing med school in Miami. DICK MERCY is in the Jesuit novitiate at Sheridan, Oregon. JOHN KRAUSE, has one more year of med school at Washington U. of St. Louis.

JACK WORKMAN was released from the Army last April and is working with United States Steel in Chicago. He has been engaged for a year and will be married, as of July 28, to Miss Diane S. Welcome of Haverhill, Mass. ROY MARTINELLO is also serving time in the Army; he is stationed in Germany but expects his release this summer.

LARRY ELEUTERI graduated from Georgetown Law School in June and will practice law in New Jersey. He is engaged to Miss Gloria Bartolozzi of Trenton. ROY WILLIAMS and his wife, Joy, are celebrating the arrival of Roy, III.

ED BRODERICK is another recent law graduate, having finished Villanova Law School this past June. He has secured a position with La Brum & Doak of Philadelphia. On October 13, Ed will marry Miss Anne Lindstrom, and he is currently trying to convince her that South Bend would be a wonderful place for a honeymoon during the football season. Ed also reports that CHARLIE SUSANO is first in his class at Tennessee Law School, and that LOU KONOWAL has just finished his first year in law at Villanova. PAT KITTREDGE and his wife are expecting their first child. GEORGE MITCHELL is married to the former Miss Mary Lou Hoban.

MIKE MADDEN was married on March 3, 1962, to Miss Chris Golonka of Buffalo, N.Y. Mike graduated from the University of Buffalo medical school in June, and is hoping to intern in Ohio. OWEN BOSSMAN was also a June graduate of the Buffalo med school, and JIM "SPECKS" ROGERS got his degree in dentistry at the same time from the Buffalo dental school.

From Mishawaka comes news that STEVE DRAGOS is senior urban renewal planner with City Planning Associates, Inc., where he has been engaged for the past two years. Prior to joining said firm, Steve spent six months in the Army Corps of Engineers. He and his wife, Donna, are living at Eagle Lake, Michigan. BILL SCHAFER is also with City Planning Associates in Mishawaka in the position of head of the urban renewal technical staff. PAT KANE and IVAN OSORIO head the firm's branch office at High Point, North Carolina.

Finally, just as we prepared to put this column together, a letter arrived from Mrs. JOE EMMITE (the former Glee Maher). The Emmites were wed on November 23, 1961, and were living in St. Louis, where Joe was finishing medical school at St. Louis University. He began his internship on July 1 at San Joaquin General Hospital, Stockton, California. DAVE KRAMP was also finishing St. Louis med school and planned to intern at Firmin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis. Dave was married in June to Miss Ann Swan of Canada.

That takes care of the news, but before closing we have . . .

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Annual Class-of-1958 After-Game Reunion will be held on October 20, following the Notre Dame-Michigan State game. This will be the fourth game of the season — still early enough to avoid the rigors of the South Bend winter; and if you are able to attend only one game during the season this would be the natural choice. So make your plans now (tickets, etc.) and look forward to an enjoyable couple of hours with your friends. The location will be announced later by means of a special mailing.

ST. JOSEPH VALLEY — Joseph E. Hannan, '33 (right), named South Bend area Man of the Year at Valley Club U.N.D. Night ceremony in the Morris Inn, accepts award and congratulations from retiring President Bob Cahill, '34. Applauding (foreground) is U.S. Congressman, speaker of the evening and chairman of the Republican National Committee Hon. William E. Miller, '35. Gerald Hammes (not shown) was installed as the Club's 1962-63 president.

Reported by Mrs. GERALD TRAFFICANDA, '57: "GENE LEYVAL visited us recently. Following graduation from Loyola Law School Gene was working for the state legislation in Sacramento until he was drafted around February and he completed his basic training at Ft. Ord. His next assignment is Ft. Gordon, Ga., for special training. Gene just returned from Seattle's World Fair which he toured with JOHN MACK. John, who is teaching at Maryland University Extension School in Argentina, Newfoundland, flew in and met Gene in Seattle. (C. John Mack, II, resident lecturer, Univ. of Md., BOQ, c/o Education Officer Navy Number 103, FPO, New York, N.Y.) DAVE SHANAHAN is stationed there too.

"Received a note from BERNIE LYONS. He and his wife Joan just had their second daughter, Jean Marie, born April 22, 1962, in Las Vegas, Nevada. They have another daughter, Patricia. Bernie is a first lieutenant in the Air Force with a regular commission and flies jets. They received orders for Homestead Air Force Base, Florida, as of the end of May.

"GEP DURENBERGER works for Yeakel and Field Firm in Laguna Beach, Calif. This firm deals in 17th and 18th century furnishings and art. They sent him as a buyer to Europe. He does interior decorating on the side. (1099 Coast Blvd. South, Laguna Beach, Calif.)

"GERRY DODGE danced in 'Bye-Bye Birdie' on Broadway, has done extensive summer stock work and recently worked with Dan Dailey in San Francisco in 'Take Me Along.'

"DAVE McMAHON and wife Colleen have two children, Cammy and Dave, Jr. They also have a new address: 56 Jefferson Ave., Rockville Centre, N.J.

"ED THOMAS is the buyer and manager of his father's shirt factory but he is still writing music on the side. He resides at 4115 N. Honeysuckle Lane, Jackson, Miss.

"MIKE KOCH is out of the Army and living in Chicago at 629 W. Deming Place, Apt. 1001, Chicago 14, Illinois.

"Gerry and I drove to San Diego to visit with my former roommate Vicki Bapst Henzy (BILL BAPST, '57 sister) and her Navy husband, CHUCK HENZY (3257 Anraae St., San Diego 11, Calif.), who is stationed aboard the submarine Queenfish there. Chuck and Vicki have three boys, Bryan Charles, Karl William and their newest, Eric Alexander, born February 23, 1962, in San Diego. Vic's brother Bill and his wife Sue are expecting their fourth baby in October.

"JOHN CARLIN is in the seminary at Immaculate Conception Seminary, Conception, Missouri."

From the Alumni Office:

DANTE FULIGNI wrote from Syracuse, N.Y.: "This is to advise of the birth and death of my second child and second son, Mark Andrew Fuligni. He was born Feb. 1, 1962, and died suddenly and without warning on March 9, 1962. We thank God that he was baptised and has achieved his ultimate destiny. The main purpose of requesting the announcement is for the benefit of my friends who know that he had been born or was expected. More important, it is a reminder of the profound significance of baptism, for the living as well as the dead." MARTIN J. ALLEN, JR., is a marketing staff assistant for Baxter-Travenol division of Baxter Laboratories, Inc. Marty has an M.B.A. from Michigan State and now lives in Glencoe, Ill. ROBERT B. CAIRA is an account supervisor at Milburn McCarty Associates, Inc., New York public relations firm. Bob had been a reporter for the South Bend Trib and a staffer on Printers' Ink. He lives with his wife and three children in Madison, N.J. GERALD F. MEYER has an opportunity to found the Notre Dame Club of Ghana. He was assigned to the American Embassy (P.O. Box 194, Accra, Ghana) as executive officer for the National Institutes of Health, West Africa Research Unit, planning a program of medical research in a variety of disciplines ranging from epidemiology to hematology. Since Ambassador WILLIAM MAHONEY, '38, is stationed in Accra too, the Club would have at least two members. GERALD D. BURNS of Milburn, N.J., is engaged to Miss Pat Ryan of Newark. He's with Allied Chemical Corp., New York EDWARD W. HARDIG has joined the law firm of Feeney and Stratigos in South Bend, having won his LL.B. at N.D. last year and served his six months with Uncle Sam. CHARLES L. ADIE now lives at 6 Miami St., Nashua, N.H. He and the former Joanne F. Jean, whom he married April 15, 1961, expected their first child long since. DR. JOHN DALEY, a classmate of the Graduate School, is now chairman of the chemistry department at Bellarmine College, Louisville. Congratulations to FATHERS LEO FLANIGAN, JOACHIM ROZARIO, CHESTER PRUSYNSKI, EDWARD ABSTETAR, GREGORY GREEN, HARRY CRONIN, JOHN CROSTON, EDWARD KENNEDY and RON TRIPI, ordained as priests of the Holy Cross Indiana Province this year. Military notices: EDWARD P. WEINMANN, living with Mrs. Weinmann in Leavenworth, Kansas, was made a reserve 1st Lt. while assigned to XVI Corps Control Group at Omaha, Neb.; 1st Lt. GERALD S. WELLS, whose wife Gail remains in New York City, has been with the activated 244th Quartermaster Battalion, training at Camp Pickett and Fort Lee, Va.; 1st Lt. CHARLES J. KILB won an Air Defense Command expert's certificate in weapons handling at McGuire AFB, New Jersey; and 2nd Lt. JOHN W. GLAVIN, with a law degree from Fordham, underwent officer orientation at Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., while his wife Joan lived with his parents in Scottsville, N.Y. From BILL HOHMANN, 7065 Benson Ave., San Diego 14, Calif.: "Some news about myself and some 'have sees' throughout the Pacific Fleet in the past year. (The ALUMNUS already noted the death of JIM ARSENAULT as radar observer aboard a plane that crashed in the South China Sea. Ed.) Have seen: BILL GEARY and Nancy at Pearl Harbor, also BUD ENRIGHT; Joan and JACK SHEELY called as they passed through San Diego on their way to San Francisco, Jack on an ammunition ship homeported at Port Chicago; TOM KEHOE and "MICK" HURLEY both on destroyers homeported in San Diego. . . I have augmented to the regular Navy and decided to make it a career. Have been gunnery officer of the destroyer Taussig for the past 18 months and will be until transfer time rolls around this coming December. My wife Nikki and I expect our second child in July. Billy is now 2."

CALUMET REGION — U.N.D. Night Chairman Lawrence F. Gallagher (left) and guest speaker Rev. John Reedy, C.S.C., editor of Ave Maria Magazine, assist the retiring President, Benedict Danko (right), in presenting a scroll to Austin Boyle, director and former officer, as N.D. Man of the Year. In the picture on the right are principals of Calumet's annual sports stag in Hammond, Ind. (clockwise from upper left): co-chairman Tony Kuharich, Irish backfield coach Brad Lynn, local sportscaster Jack Naimo, Irish kicker Joe Perkowski, Notre Dame halfback Angelo Dabiero, Irish athletic director Edward W. (Moose) Krause and event co-chairman Dave Ogren.

1959

Dennis M. Nead
6121 Robison Rd.
Cincinnati, Ohio

Here goes the news and it will be very brief this time: JOHN HART graduated from Fordham Law School in June, but his future endeavors are impaired at the moment by Army physicals. HARRY KOENIG has decided to devote his full time to writing novels after two years of employment with the H. E. W. Department in Chicago. JOHN MONTAGUE, JR., is employed with the Frank Briscoe Construction Company in Bloomfield, New Jersey.

HOLY CROSS PRIESTS of the Indiana Province, members of the N.D. Class of 1958 and Holy Cross College Ordination Class of 1962: (1st row, l.-r.) Fathers James Francis Flanigan, Joachim J. Rozario, Chester S. Prusynski, Edward Frederick Abstetar; (2nd row, l.-r.) Fathers Gregory Green, Harry C. Cronin, John Joseph Croston, Edward Joseph Kennedy, and Ronald R. Tripi, C.S.C.—shown in Washington, D.C.

CHARLES CARAVATI was reactivated last October and is now at Ft. Lewis in Washington; he recently passed his C.P.A. exams and last March his wife Eileen presented him with their first child, Kevin Charles.

MIKE TRESSEL was presented his first addition to the family this past St. Patrick's Day — his name is Jimmy Gerard. Mike is employed with the Sinclair Refinery in East Chicago. JIM COLLASSIMO is working out of Detroit (firm unknown) and plans to be married in August.

STEVE DORNBACK received his master's degree in correctional administration at N.D. in August of 1960 and began work at the Lucas County Juvenile Court in Toledo, Ohio, as a probation counselor. Steve married Miss Nancy Anderson in Lincoln Park on December 29, 1960 and now has one daughter born in October of 1961.

BILL QUINN and MILT McANGUS were also in the correctional administration program at N.D. — the latter now resides in Toledo also and is employed with the Lucas County Adult Probation Department. BILL CASEY (not Ben) is teaching and coaching at Notre Dame High School in Niles, Illinois.

JOHN CORTESIO was married to Miss Barbara Bradley of Centerville, Iowa, on December 27, 1960. This past February they had a baby girl, Maria; John is presently wrapping up his final semester at the University of Iowa Law School.

I received a welcomed letter from BOB FOX about his endeavors since graduation and about many others in the class, so I'll merely quote the letter:

"Following graduation I went to work for the Kaiser Steel Corporation in Fontana, California. JOHN ELDER and DICK MANDILLE also started at Kaiser at the same time. John is now married and has a baby girl and is still with Kaiser. However, Dick has gone back to New York and at last report was going to Columbia and working for his MBA. During my stay in California I ran into many of our '39ers. BOB MCKENZIE worked for Convair in Pomona and then transferred over to North American at Santa Monica and was still there last September. I also ran into DAVE WEILAND at one of the Laker games; he is employed with Lockheed out in Burbank.

"At the N.D.-S.C. game in 1960 I ran into STEVE SMITH, LARRY MCKIBBON and JOHN KEIFER, who were all stationed at various naval bases in the area. Speaking of the Navy, I also ran into ROGER LAUR while I was touring the aircraft carrier in Yorktown. Roger was just about ready to be discharged and was planning to return to Milwaukee to a job in an accounting firm there. That about wraps it up for California, so now I'll start in on Pittsburgh. I'm on a leave of absence from Kaiser and will be returning there this summer after receiving my M.S. in industrial administration at Carnegie Tech. There are a great number of '39ers around here. PAUL ANDERSON is in the same program as myself and is fresh from his tour of duty in the service which was spent primarily on the Texas desert. CHARLIE BOWEN and JOE MCARDLE are also here. Charlie is teaching English and is planning on going to Harvard to get his doctorate while receiving his M.S. from Yale; Joe is in drama school here. DICK ZAPPALA is in his third year of law school here at Duquesne while spending the first two years at Georgetown working in the patent office for the Government. PHIL KILKEARY was in town for the Pitt-N.D. game and is presently flying jets out of Dover, Delaware, for the Air Force; he is married to the former Catherine Conti. JACK McGRATH received his M.S. from Tech last June and is now a 2nd Lt. with the Army stationed in Detroit at the Chrysler Tank Division. JOE SHAW is stationed at Quonset Pt., Rhode Island, and is flying jets from a carrier for the Navy."

Reported by Mrs. GERALD TRAFFICANDA, '37: "DAVE BARRETT is still a Navy man stationed aboard the USS Fremont—he is hoping to attend Georgetown Law School as of next September.

CAPT. THOMAS REAGAN, '51, son-in-law of the late Bill Cerney, '25, receives the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal from the personnel staff officer at Hickam AFB, Hawaii, for meritorious service as the personnel officer at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, before his present assignment with Headquarters, Pacific Air Forces, Hawaii.

"BOB GOLDSCHMIDT and wife Karen just had their first baby, Diane Frances, on March 9 in Ft. Lee, N.J. Bob is working in New York City as a managerial consultant for an accounting firm. (2430 Eighth, Apt. D.B., Ft. Lee, N.J.)

"JOHN GLOCKNER and wife Eleanor are having a new baby, Alexander John III, born on April 2. John is working for a masters in Business Administration at Marquette. (3031 W. Ruskin Ct., Apt. 12, Milwaukee 15, Wisc.)

"JIM COONEY and wife Ann had their second girl on November 24, 1961, Colleen Anne. They have another daughter Kathleen Agnes. Jim is currently assistant director assigned to Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico and Oklahoma with the Notre Dame Foundation staff. (5134 Ford St., South Bend, Ind.)

"GREG ROGERS is currently stationed in Berlin. ART DI SABATINO and DON ZEIFANG reside at 2807 27th St., N.W., Washington, D.C., where they attend Law School at Georgetown. TOM BERG and wife Jackie have two children, Michele, Marie and their new son, Thomas Joseph born April 11, 1962 in San Bernardino, Calif. (1426 Oakhurst Dr.)

"FRANK ZUEKE is working on his doctorate in Sociology at the University of Chicago. (1413 E. 60th St., Chicago 37, Ill.) JOE McARDLE is at the Pittsburgh Playhouse teaching, plus working on his master's in set design. BOB BURNS is back in the Army again—Fort Knox, Kentucky.

"RUDY HORNISH and wife Mary Adele are expecting this summer. They were married last September. Rudy is working towards his master's in speech and drama at Seton Hall University, where he also teaches. (171 S. Orange Ave., No. 307, South Orange, N.J.) JOHN TOTH is doing graduate work at Catholic University."

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM F. BARRETT, mentioned above, got in touch from Fairchild AFB, Washington (P.O. Box 1093): "Following graduation I spent six months working in the family business in Albany, Oregon. I then reported to active duty with the Army and spent six months in training at Fort Benning, Ga., and Fort Holabird, Md. Upon completion of this training period I was assigned to Army Intelligence duty in Korea. Despite predictions of misery and unhappiness, I found my tour there most rewarding in experience and education. Since October of last year I have been working here in the Spokane area, still with the U.S. Army. . . . I almost forgot to mention that BUD ROBBINS is also stationed here at Fairchild with the Air Force. PAT CHAMBERS, '60, is presently in Korea and was doing quite well when I last saw him." Other soldiers: 2nd Lt. NEIL J. SEAMAN finished officer embarkation orientation at the Fort Eustis, Va., transportation school; 2nd Lt. NICHOLAS F. QUINTARELLI finished 82nd Airborne Division Jump School at Fort Bragg, N.C. Air Force 2nd Lt. LEONARD LEROSE and THOMAS V. STEFFEL both won their gold bars at Lackland AFB, Texas; Leonard went on to pilot training at Laredo AFB, Texas, while Tom went to the Technical Training Center, Air Training

WEST VIRGINIA—N.D. athletic head Ed Krause (left) pauses with Club officers after storming Charleston on Universal Notre Dame Night in May. (Charleston Gazette photo)

Command. Sheppard AFB, Tex., for intelligence photo-radar training. And WILLIAM V. BAULT has made 1st Lt. as a supply officer with the 649th Radar Squadron at Bedford Air Force Station, Va. TOM HAWKINS is a big man in Los Angeles, much bigger than his 6 feet 4½ inches, even when a jump makes it 6 feet 8. The Hawk has come up from defensive "sixth man" position in the L.A. Lakers' attack to fill in while the great Elgin Baylor fulfills his Army obligation. Tom, who was Notre Dame's first Negro Methodist captain, is hedging on basketball with grad study in sociology at Southern Cal and hopes to buttress this with a law degree, with an eye to "the exalted work of mediation"—perhaps even in the international field. He and wife Doris have an N.D. prospect in two-year-old son Kevin. Spending the summer in India is DAVID M. COOK, assigned to Jamshedpur on a $1470 grant from Smith Kline & French Laboratories, Philadelphia drug manufacturer, to gain clinical experience in another land and to bring American medical techniques to an underdeveloped area. Dave, after three years at St. Louis U. Medical School, is one of 33 medical students chosen for fellowships by the Assn. of American Medical Colleges. JAMES L. BENNETT is a data processing sales representative at the Brooklyn, N.Y., office of Royal McBee business machines; he lives in Baldwin, N.Y. HERBERT S. RIBAND, JR., of Philadelphia was elected managing editor of the U. of Pennsylvania's Law Review. Among grad students, FATHER JUSTIN JERRY RICHARD of St. Bernard's Abbey, Ala., with an M.A. in liturgy, created somewhat of a stir when he received his bachelor of music degree from Oberlin College this summer, majoring in voice at the Ohio school; and BROTHER MARION BELKA, S.M. (Ph.D. in education), chairman of the department of education at St. Mary's University, Austin, Tex., was named president-elect of the National Catholic Guidance Conference for 1962-64 and program coordinator of the 9th annual meeting to be held next April.

1960

John F. Geier
715 La Crosse Avenue
Wilmette, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

With silence from JACK GEIER, we have a couple of notes reported by Mrs. GERALD TRAFICANDA, '57: "FR. LEO GORMAN is in Germany in a small Bavarian town. He loves it! And WALLY JONES is in the Army now." ARTHUR FRANZ joyously announced his engagement to Angela Agnello of Chicago, Ill., and was making arrangements to have it solemnized at N.D. Art is a municipal bond underwriter with A.C. Allyn & Co., Chicago. He was discharged after six months active Army duty at Fort Eustis, Va., and plans to be married August 25. BILL MOLLIHAN was among the June grads at Stritch School of Medicine, Loyola. WILLIAM G. ROTH is with the Trane Co. CenTraVac sales department in LaCrosse, Wis., having received an M.S. in industrial management from Purdue last year and taken the Trane orientation course for graduate engineers. GEORGE H. REEBER finished his active duty and got married last Nov. 23 to Brenda Erikson of Detroit. He's working in cost estimating at the Fisher Body plant of General Motors. George reports that TERENCE E. KEATING has been attending the U. of Detroit Law School and working in a local law office.

The only Graduate School item is that SISTER M. ALPHONSUS (M.S. in math education) was awarded a National Science Foundation grant for doctoral work in math at the U. of Georgia.

All the rest of the news is military, so we'll start with the Army. GEORGE IZO reported to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., to get his six months obligation over in time to report for fall football duty with the Washington Redskins. Judge Advocate General 1st Lt. JIM COKER, as already reported in the '61 Law column, was appointed to defend a PFC accused of writing a letter which criticized President Kennedy. JFK must have feared Jim's legal proficiency, since he "settled out of court" with a presidential amnesty. PAUL B. KUSBACH, executive officer of Headquarters Company, II Corps, Camp Kilmer, N.J., got his silver 1st Lt. bars pinned on by his wife Mary (daughter of retired philosophy Prof. WILLIAM ROEMER) last spring. The Kusbachs should be reporting a blessed event any time now. At Fort Eustis, Va., 2nd Lt. CHARLES L. LADNER (formerly with IBM at White Plains, N.Y.) finished officer orientation at transportation school (he has an M.B.A. from Columbia); Reserve Pts. THOMAS L. BONN and ALFRED J. OWINGS, also at Eustis' transport school, finished driver training and transport control courses respectively (Tom had been with National Book Service, Stamford, Conn., and Al with Virginia Electric Power, Richmond). At Fort Benning, Ga., 2nd Lts. JAMES E. DEIBIG, Gallion, O., and EDWARD J. PAULSEN, Flushing, N.Y., finished infantry officer orientation and qualified as platoon leaders. Jim had attended Ohio State, and Ed was formerly employed by Paul Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison in New York. At Fort Knox, Ky., 2nd Lt. RON BLUBAUGH of Portland, Ore., finished training as an armored officer (armor benefits a former Scholastic editor), while Reserve Pvt. JOHN W. McCANN of Detroit completed a clerical course, attached to the 70th Infantry Division, a Reserve unit out of Fort Wayne, Ind. At Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., Reserve Pvt. PIERCE E. DeGROSS finished a field artillery repair course and was assigned to the 24th Infantry Division in Germany. His wife Eleanor stayed home at Mountain Lakes, N.J., where Pierce used to commute to General Foods in White Plains, N.Y. At Fort Lee, Va., Reserve PFC TRACY J. DOUGLASS participated in logistical exercises in May. He's assigned to 333rd Civil Affairs Headquarters, a N.Y. Reserve unit. At Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Pvt. WALLACE H. JONES was recently assigned to the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks' 1st Guard Company. Formerly with A.C. Neilson in Chicago, Wally is assistant band director with the company.

DENVER — At the head table for Denver's Universal Notre Dame Night celebration were (l.-r.): Kay Hughes, vice-president, Colorado University Alumni Assn.; Msgr. William Jones, Archdiocesan superintendent of schools; Bob Zeis, incoming president; Father Philip Moore, academic assistant to Father Hesburgh; Carl Eiberger, retiring president; Francis VanDerbur, general fund chairman for Denver University, a Ford Foundation co-beneficiary; Marguerite Eiberger and Lois Zeis, wives of the retiring and incoming presidents.

Air Force news is sparser. At Laredo AFB, Tex., 2nd Lt. DONALD L. PRAIRIE won his pilot's wings. He was to report to Rhine-Mein AB, Germany, after training at Seward AFB, Tenn. Don's wife is the former Mary Grenelle, whose parents Col. and Mrs. EDWIN GRENELLE (former ROTC chief at N.D.) are now on Okinawa. At Moody AFB, Ga., 2nd Lt. CHARLES G. GILLIES of Greenwich, Conn., won his wings, was assigned to survival training at Stead AFB, Nev., thence to Evreux AB, France. And 2nd Lt. ROBERT T. PIGORS of Elkhart got his wings at Williams AFB, Ariz. After school at Randolph AFB, Tex., he will return to Williams as a pilot instructor. Bob's wife is the former Peggy Berger of Elkhart.

Finally, one Navy item from Commander Amphibious Squadron Ten, U.S. Atlantic Fleet: Lt. (j.g.) ROBERT A. CENNAME, USNR, is serving aboard the USS Chilton (APA-38) as combat information officer. The Chilton, an amphibious attack transport capable of landing 1,000 troops in 23 landing craft, is participating in amphibious operations in the Caribbean but is home-ported in Norfolk, Va.

PALM BEACH — Father Joyce (left) represented the University at the U.N.D. Night of the Notre Dame Club of Palm Beach County, climax of the 1962 Florida State Convention, greets the family of the late Frank J. Lewis, Chicago, whose Lewis Foundation granted one million dollars for a graduate residence hall on the campus. They are (from left) Mrs. Julia Lewis, widow of the late philanthropist; son Ed, president of the Palm Beach County Club; and son Philip. (Walter Dorsey photo) mate by marrying a South Bend girl, Jean Burkhardt, on March 3, also in Sacred Heart Church. MIKE ESPOSITO became engaged to Ellen Lyons of Hackensack, New Jersey, on April 7. Mike is now a 2nd Lt. in the Marines and is stationed at Camp La Jeune, North Carolina. The couple will be married on September 2. TOM CUBBAGE married Linda Perkins, a home town girl, on January 20, and is now studying law at the University of Oklahoma. DON BADER, 2nd Lt. in the U.S.M.C. presently stationed at N.A.S. Pensacola in preflight school, was married last Dec. 30, in Sacred Heart Church, to Sharon Rose Starkweather of South Bend. BOB YOUNG, a '61 graduate, was an usher in the wedding. JOHN PONSOTTO, married last June (1961) to Elinor Hodder, is now near completion of his first year of law school at Georgetown University.

My close friend, TONY "HARRY" MUSA relates that he is teaching and head coach of football and baseball at Cardinal Newman High, in West Palm Beach, Florida. Tony's former roommate, JACK MURPHY is in the Seminary of the Oblate Order, in Tewksbury, Mass. After completion of a nine-month sales training program with Westinghouse Electric Corporation, ALAN MEYERL has accepted a permanent position in the Boston sales office. Last Sept., Al was married to Kathleen Zera, and the couple are now living in Boston, Mass. Last June (1961) BILL HUG entered Penn State Graduate School of Engineering on a research assistantship. He is now doing research work in the Naval Ordnance Laboratories, Silver Spring, Maryland. PAT GRAHAM is teaching and coaching at St. Michael's School, an Indian grade and high school on the Navaho Reservation in Arizona. RON HUNDMAN is presently working for Haskins and Sells, a public accounting firm in Chicago, Illinois. This past June he was married to the former Carol Ann McHenry. BILL POGUE and JIM VERDICK are living together on the North Side of the "Windy City." Bill is working at the First National Bank of Chicago and attending the Graduate School of Business at Northwestern during the nights. Jim is with Arthur Young and Co., a C.P.A. firm in Chicago. JIM SULLIVAN is a publishing representative in the southern district of Atlanta, Ga., for the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

JIM MULLIGAN expected to receive his master's degree in June, after completing a graduate fellowship at Johns Hopkins University. Jim was married last Sept. to Maria Guzzetti and they are now living in Baltimore, Md. FRED RALPH is near completion of studying for a master's degree in electrical engineering at Notre Dame. MIKE WHITE, looking forward to August when he will receive his M.B.A. at Ohio State. After this he intends to teach accounting at Oregon State University, in Corvallis, Oregon. Other Class of '61 graduates at Ohio State include TOM GLOW, J. J. MACEDONIA and TERRY FLYNN, graduate engineering; PAUL MAHAR and JIM GILBERT, medical school; and FRANK ISABELLE, graduate science. ED KOMPARE, DICK HENDRICKS and BOB YARIO are all enrolled in the College of Medicine at the University of Illinois. JOHN PALEN is currently attending the University of Wisconsin on a National Institute of Mental Health Fellowship (in sociology). On June 9 he was scheduled to marry Karen Ann Doodly in the Log Chapel, on the Notre Dame campus. Former classmate BRIAN SULLIVAN will serve as the best man in the ceremony. FRANK SCALISE is studying law at DePaul University in Chicago. MIKE GILBERT is attending Wayne University Medical School.

TIM HINCHEY, presently an ensign in the U.S. Navy, was engaged last Christmas to Nancy Walsh of Chicago. News from Quantico, Va., relates that Lt. BILL WELCH has been visited by a vivacious blonde from a women's college in Indiana. Lt. ROY REGAN ran into a door and picked up thirty stitches in his jaw. Lt. ART ARMENTO, in his spare time, is doing research on the activities of secretaries in the Washington, D.C., area. JOHN BAUERNSCHUB entered active duty with the Air Force on Dec. 26, 1961, with special duty assigned to N.A.S.'s Goddard Space Flight Center outside of Washington, D.C. On Feb. 28, 1962 John and his wife Betty were blessed with the birth of a baby girl, whom they named Mary Patricia. BRUCE JOHNSON received his commission in the Navy in Feb. of '62 and is now serving on the U.S.S. Bennington, an aircraft carrier, in San Francisco, Cal. JIM MARTIN, after passing his C.P.A. exam last November, was called into the Army for six months active duty. Prior to being called in, Jim was employed by Arthur Young and Co., in Chicago. BOB LORENZ, a former classmate of Jim's, has been stationed in the same company as Jim, at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

GEORGE O'CONNELL has joined the Congregation of the Holy Cross Fathers and is at their novitiate in Jordan, Minnesota, until August 15. GEORGE WEBER has also answered the call to the priesthood and is currently studying senior philosophy at St. John's Seminary, in Portland, Maine.

I received quite a bit of alumni news from TERRY SHEA, who is presently studying journalism at the University of Iowa. Terry informed me that JOHN CARELLA married Miss Maryanne O'Gara last June (1961) and is now at the University of San Francisco Law School. LEN DELOZIER is taking graduate studies in classics at the University of Michigan. VAN DIAMOND married Miss

1961

Nick Palihnich
34 Dartmouth Road
West Orange, N. J.

Before starting on the Alumni news for the summer issue of the ALUMNUS, I would first like to thank the area representatives for the excellent job they have been doing. As a result of their earnest participation in the class correspondence, I have been kept well supplied with class news. I would also like to thank the members of the Class of '62, and "their mothers" for their responses to the requests for Alumni news from these men.

The first item of alumni news came as such a shock to me that I had to read the letter over about ten times to make sure that my eyes were not deceiving me. That greatest of all lady's men, BERNARD DOBRANSKI, has fallen by the wayside. On April 23, he became engaged to Carroll Wood, a student nurse at the University of Virginia. The wedding is scheduled to take place in January of 1963, in Charlottesville, Virginia. I received a short note from FR. BOARMAN at Notre Dame informing me that RAY RATKOWSKI was married to Diane Crowley (S.M.C. '61) on Feb. 10, in Sacred Heart Church. Fr. Boarmann also mentioned that RED MACK would follow his former team-

Evagene Kennedy in Honolulu in June, '61, and for the past year he has been taking graduate courses in Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania. TIM HUGHES is a graduate student in English at the University of Iowa and on June 9, 1962 he expected to marry Miss Nancy Ely (S.M.C. '61). JIM SKAHAN is in Law School at Boston College and PAT HART entered Northwestern Law School last February. JACK CAHALAN and GUY POWERS are both doing graduate work in philosophy at the University of Toronto. BILL HANLEY is attending law school at the University of Chicago after spending last summer as a legislative intern under Indiana Senator Vance Hartke in Washington, D.C. JOHN BURNS is putting his Woodrow Wilson Fellowship to work for him at Johns Hopkins University, where he is doing graduate work in philosophy. Also using his Woodrow Wilson at Hopkins is KEN BROWN, doing graduate work in English. BILL JUNGELS, another '61 graduate at Johns Hopkins, is working in the graduate department of English. ART DECHENE is taking graduate courses in theology at Catholic University, in Washington, D.C. JIM O'ROURKE and his wife Carol are living in Freiburg, Germany, where he is attending grad school.

Ensigns TONY CRESSICK and JAY WHITNEY share an apartment in Arlington, Va., and commute daily to the Navy Department, where they assist "Patriot of the Year" Rickover in running our nuclear-powered fleet. Although both are leading a comfortable bachelor existence, there is a great deal of speculation as to just how long this condition will exist in reference to Jay. Ensign OLLIE WILLIAMS is currently fulfilling his active duty obligation with the Navy, aboard the U.S.S. Pokono.

JERRY KRIEGSHAUSER has entered the Benedictines at their St. Louis Priory, where he is currently completing his postulantship. Scholastic editor CHAS RIECK is now Brother Joel in the Dominicans and is spending his novitiate in Winona, Minnesota. MIKE SMITH is in St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester, New York, and is anticipating parish work in the diocese of Savannah, Ga., after ordination.

For those graduates living in the state of Pennsylvania your area representative, BERNIE DOBRANSKI, has had an address change. His present address is: 206 Mt. Lebanon Boulevard, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

From the Alumni Office:

Mrs. GERALD TRAFFICANDA, '57, reports that TOM KARATY is doing graduate work at Catholic University as well as JOHN TOTH, '59. JACK MURPHY entered the Oblate Novitiate last August and is now Brother John Murphy, N.O.M.I., Oblate Novitiate, Tewksbury, Mass. The rest of the reports are from the U.S. Armed Forces. Ensign THOMAS D. RYAN was among ten officers picked for the "Burke Program" to return to college under Navy auspices in September, after completing his sea duty, and undergo studies leading to a doctorate, either at Michigan or Penn State. Congratulations, Tom. At Fort Hood, Tex., 2nd Lt. PAUL G. HOLMAN, JR., joined the 1st Armored Division as a platoon leader of Company B, 46th Infantry. His wife Diane lives in nearby Temple, Tex. Also assigned to 1st Armored at Fort Hood is 2nd Lt. ROBERT C. BARRON of San Antonio, Tex. At Fort Benning, Ga., 2nd Lt. PATRICK S. HAGOOD finished infantry officer orientation.

At Fort Eustis, Va., two classmates finished officer orientation at the transportation school: 2nd Lt. STANLEY C. FEDEWA of Lansing, Mich., and 2nd Lt. FRANCIS X. O'CONNOR, JR., of Rumson, N.J. From Fort Holabird, Md., 2nd Lt. GERALD L. CARRIER reported that five classmates completed counterintelligence training at Army Intelligence School: 2nd Lts. JERRY CARRIER, EUGENE EPPERLY, JOSEPH LIBBY, FRANCIS GERARD McGRATH and JOHN ULLRICH. Jerry finished second in the class and Frank McGrath finished fifth. At Fort Lee, Va., Pvt. FRANK DOGNAUX, son of alumnus RENE DOGNAUX of Vincennes, Ind., took part in the Logex logistics exercises in May. A clerk-typist in the 2nd Logistical Command Headquarters Detachment, Frank served his basic at Fort Knox. With the U.S. Forces in Germany, 2nd Lt. CYRIL F. ROSE, JR., is platoon leader in Troop D, 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment's 1st Reconnaissance Squadron. Based in Fulda, Germany, he has a wife, Sharon, in South Bend. At Fort Knox, Ky., 2nd Lt. BRIAN W. BRADY finished officer orientation in the Armor School. At Fort Gordon, Ga., 2nd Lt. GERALD E. MATHEIS of Rochester, N.Y., finished officer orientation at the Signal Training Center. At Fort Sil, Okla., 2nd Lt. WILLIAM A. KNIPPER completed field artillery officer orientation at the Artillery and Missile Center, far from his Pensacola home. And at Fort Monmouth, N.J., Chicago's 2nd Lt. JOHN R. BOWLING, JR., completed the officer communication course at the Signal School. A lone Air Force report says 2nd Lt. JOHN L. RUPPEL, JR., is undergoing navigator training at James Connally AFB, Tex. The Coast Guard reports that ROBERT E. MYERS has been commissioned an ensign in the reserve and assigned to duty at the Second Coast Guard District Office, St. Louis, Mo.

TRIPLE CITIES — President Joseph P. Galloway addresses U.N.D. Night gathering in Binghamton, N.Y. At the head table (from left) are Rev. Leo Sullivan, C.S.C.; Mrs. Galloway, and guest Jim Armstrong from Notre Dame.

Law Class of 1961

John N. Moreland
Assistant County Attorney
Wapello County Court House
Ottumwa, Iowa

A letter from MIKE ROSE informs us of a successful N.Y. bar exam, and that fact that "Jewels" is working with State Senator T. Laverne. Mike's address is 473 Lyell Ave., Rochester 6. TOM SCHAEFFER is writing a news column about young lawyers in the Indiana State Bar Assn's publication "Res Gestae." RODERICK ALOYSIUS ALPHONUS METTE is with the Legal Aid Bureau in Chicago. MASON SULLIVAN is another bar successful in Illinois, according to JOHN DUNN. The latter's new address is 903 Clinton, Oak Park, Illinois.

A lengthy letter from BOB and SKIP SHOCKEY filled us in with a lot of news from Tennessee. Mary Erin arrived on the 16th of February, weighing 7 lbs. 4 oz. Bob is getting into Court quite a bit these days. Their address is 3616

Highland Terrace Drive, Chattanooga.

1st Lt. JIM COKER was appointed counsel for Pfc. Larry D. Chidester, who made the news for his activities criticizing President Kennedy's reserve call. Jim's picture appeared in the S.B. Tribune on the 17th of April, before JFK took him off the hook by granting a pardon.

Your reporter opened a private law office on 15 January of this year. Very modest beginning, but have been given a substantial library by other attorneys here and, at a dollar down and a dollar a year, have been adding to it. Address is 202 Fresh Bldg., 119 E. 2nd St.

So that the same names do not appear here in each edition, would like to hear from some more of you who can give us news of unheard of members of the class.

Terrence McCarthy
23420 Wellington
Mt. Clements, Mich.

From the Alumni Office:

TERRY MCCARTHY missed his first deadline, still lining up correspondents in various parts of the world, but he figures the 1962 Alumni Directory will keep everyone posted for a little while. Meanwhile, a few highlights from the wire services. CARL PHILIP HOUCK was doubly honored at graduation. The Denver, Colo., graduate was named recipient of the third annual Rev. Joseph H. Cavanaugh Award, named for the former theology department head who died in 1954, and awarded by the department under REV. ROBERT PELTON, C.S.C., to the graduating senior "who has evidenced high qualities of personal character and academic achievement, particularly in theological studies. Carl also received a second consecutive Society of American Military Engineers Award. Before graduation RAYMOND HEHMAN was one of 62 college reps at Inside Advertising Week, a five-day orientation program in New York sponsored by the Advertising Club and the Assn. of Advertising Men and Women. Ray was selected as an outstanding marketing major by the College of Business Administration. WILLIAM H. BEAVER of Hammond, Ind., was named to receive the Wall Street Journal Achievement Award, made annually to the finance major with the best academic record. THOMAS E. COLLETON, JR., was awarded a Root-Tilden Scholarship to the N.Y.U. Law School. Tom was one of two winners from the Chicago Circuit Court area. Hailing from South Orange, N.J., he was Student Body vice-president and a representative to the National Student Assn. A Ph.D. of the Class, JOHN R. ROBERTS was appointed to the faculty of chemistry at Louisville's Bellarmine College. John, a native of Bloomfield, Ky., was an AEC research assistant in the University's radiation laboratory.

NEW MEXICO — Universal Notre Dame Night principals in Albuquerque last May included (from left): Frank P. Hudson, New Mexico Club president; Rev. Richard Butler, O.P., chaplain; James W. Frick, executive director of the Notre Dame Foundation and guest speaker; and Richard R. Everroad, vice-president of the Club.

YOUR ALUMNI BOARD assembled in New York for a rare group photo last May: (seated, l-r.) Vice-President Roger Huter, Vice-President Maurice Carroll, President William Mahoney, Foundation Director Father John Walsh, Honorary President Walter Fleming, Secretary James Armstrong; (standing, l-r.) Directors Peter Kernan, John Dempsey, Adam Walsh, Oliver Hunter, Albert Castellini, William Fallon, Philip Faccenda, and Patrick Dougherty. Missing for reasons of illness was Vice-President Harry Mehre.

AT THE HOTEL COMMODORE the Board held the regular midyear meeting, then joined the presidents of Eastern Notre Dame clubs and class secretaries living on the East Coast in a two-day conference. They discussed problems of class and club organization, both separately and jointly. The Notre Dame Club of New York assisted with arrangements for the conference, an experiment with annual regional meetings with club presidents in their own areas.

