Notre Dame Archives: Alumnus

IN MEMORIAM: JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, LL.D. 1950, 35th PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES "IN PARADISUM DEDUCANT TE ANGELI."

NOTRE DAME ALUMNUS

On the Cover:

Father Norton (left) and Father Cavanaugh adjust the doctoral gown of Congressman John F. Kennedy (D.-Mass.) after conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at midyear commencement exercises in January, 1950. Father Cavanaugh was requested to offer Mass before the coffin of President Kennedy in the East Room of the White House on November 23, 1963.

The back cover illustrates the dead Presiident's many honorary and familial ties to the University of Notre Dame: as an honorary alumnus and member of the Advisory Council for the College of Liberal and Fine Arts; as recipient of both the Laetare Medal and the Patriotism Award of the senior class; and through similar honors conferred on his brother, father and grandfather over the past fifty years.

As we went to press on November 22, the cover was to depict the ringing down of the curtain on the happy "Drama of Challenge 1." But that day saw the curtain drawn on the tragic drama of a man intimately involved with the University, whose years of greatness and challenge to America, 1960-63, corresponded to the years of Notre Dame's greatest development to date, the period of Challenge 1.

"I do not shrink from this responsibility — I welcome it." Thus President Kennedy began the career that ended at the hands of an assassin in Dallas. As Father Hesburgh has written, "May this sad day be not one of darkness, no triumph for the powers of evil, but the birth of a great new light that will for years to come inspire others to great deeds, come what may." To the memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy this issue is prayerfully dedicated.

The DRAMA of CHALLENGE I 1960-1963

by REV. JOHN E. WALSH, C.S.C., '45 Vice-President of Public Relations and Development

THE CLOSING CURTAIN, formally ending Challenge I, has been rung down. This thrilling Notre Dame drama in real life officially ended on June 30, 1963. The meeting of the $18,000,000 Challenge target was a soul-stirring performance on the part of many devoted men in many different roles. The approving applause of all those interested in private higher education, especially of all our Notre Dame faculty and students, still thunders throughout the land and across the campus.

The purpose of this brief report in the ALUMNUS is to call certain persons and certain categories of people out into the spotlight for a special curtain call and then to take a quick look in review behind the scenes of this remarkable drama.

Like every successful production, Challenge I required the best efforts and the most loyal dedication of the entire cast. Each person connected with Challenge I played his part well. There were few missed cues and the timing was without major flaw. Those in leading roles and those in supporting parts each contributed the full measure of their good talent. Older players and younger players accepted together the weight and the burden of the job to be done.

First, a special curtain call for Mr. I. A. O'Shaughnessy, the Honorary National Chairman of Challenge I. His concern for the campaign and his interest in its success were never far from his heart.

Second, a very special curtain call for the National Chairmen for Challenge I: Mr. J. Peter Grace of New York, Special Gifts Chairman, and Mr. Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., the General Appeal Chairman! Both deserve special credit for the inspiring leadership, the wise direction, and the boundless enthusiasm they brought to the Campaign. It is not too much to say that the Campaign might not have been a success at all if they had not interpreted their roles so convincingly.

Next, the City Chairmen, both Special Gifts and General Appeal, in some 170 cities! To assemble all of these men on any real stage for a curtain call would be an impossibility, but the stage of human gratitude and appreciation is a large one. Our City Chairmen occupy that stage in all Notre Dame hearts. Their performance was intense and thorough. They captured the spirit of the drama well, and they gave great depth of meaning to the roles they played. Because of our City Chairmen, Challenge I was a play with a happy ending, a comedy, rather than the play with an unhappy ending, a tragedy, it might otherwise have been.

Next on stage, the 3,500 Committeemen who so well and so willingly became, during this dramatic period, salesmen and ambassadors for Notre Dame. They were persuasive, indeed, as the results clearly show. Over 80% of Notre Dame's alumni responded to the appeal of Challenge I. This is a near record, if it is not in fact a record, for percentage of alumni participation in any university capital gifts campaign.

And finally on the vast stage of our imagination, the 23,500 who contributed from their own means and resources to Challenge I. Each has been thanked and each knows of Notre Dame's lasting gratitude. But the best thanks of all is each one's own realization that he is helping in the noble work of building a great university, Notre Dame. Each one, too, realizes that he will share in the prayers and the gratitude of all future generations of Notre Dame men. To one and all Notre Dame's thanks and Notre Dame's congratulations.

But now to move backstage, behind the scenes! With the theater emptied and in the full light of day, how do we assess the drama and the value of Challenge I? How do we get at the facts and the spirit behind the statistics?

As is true of all drama, whether in real life or on the stage, Challenge I was a tense and difficult drama all the way. Its outcome — the conflict or the action it demanded — would be unresolved until the play's very end. At the beginning, many people knew the attaining of this goal — the meeting of the challenge — would strain all talents and all energies, if it were not actually impossible. As the curtain went up, both those on stage and those in the wings were, perhaps, a bit stage-frightened. But as the drama started to unfold, as all in the theater of this Campaign became more swept up in the impulse of the developing plot, and as the reality of the drama became more apparent to everyone, a sense of confidence, of poise, and of assurance seemed to give new vividness and force to the performance.

The play's end carried with it a wave of deep and genuine enthusiasm and a joyful sense of accomplishment. As Notre Dame men everywhere saw what they could do for the University, they felt an even greater pride in their University and in themselves and they shared gladly and gratefully in the momentum of the success. Challenge I has been called the greatest outpouring of Notre Dame spirit, loyalty, and cooperation in the entire history of the University. The magnificent new Notre Dame Memorial Library, the largest university library in the world, now almost finished and already completely paid for, is one evidence of this — but only one.

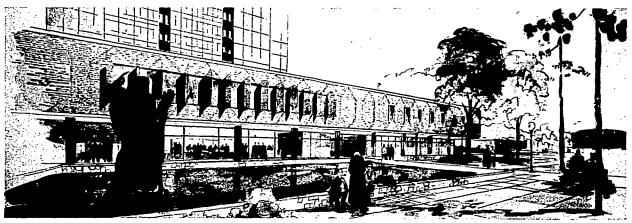

The first act of the drama of Challenge I called for setting the stage, planning the strategy, developing materials, explaining the case, and enlisting the ideas and the assistance of the men who were to carry the Challenge Campaign to the front lines. Meetings of the Special Gifts Chairmen and later the General Appeal Chairmen were held on the Notre Dame campus in the fall of 1960 and 1961. It was explained that the Ford Foundation had selected Notre Dame as one of five universities to participate in its Special Program in Education and had challenged Notre Dame to raise $12,000,000 in cash in three years by offering to match that amount by an unrestricted $6,000,000. The Chairmen, who attended these meetings, were delighted with the honor implied for Notre Dame and they were sure that with hard work the Challenge could be met. A nationwide telephone network linked together Notre Dame alumni and friends in 140 cities to explain, to inspire, and to launch the General Appeal phase of Challenge I.

But Act II, forwarding the action and the involvement of the dramatis personae, meant actually mobilizing the strength and the immense good will of all Notre Dame alumni and friends. If the challenge was to be successfully met, Notre Dame would have to raise, in each of three years, not twice but triple the amount it had raised in any previous year. This message had to be clearly understood by all members of the Notre Dame family. It would be necessary to highlight its urgency and its priority. The University Administration and the Assistant Directors of the Notre Dame Foundation had to take this message to every corner of the country. Thirty-five hundred volunteers, Notre Dame men all, worked with them and assisted them in every way.

Act III, the climax — the moment of decision and the denouement! Act III required that every Notre Dame alumnus and Notre Dame friend wherever humanly possible, be personally contacted and urged to contribute. The scene shifts away from the Notre Dame campus to thousands of homes and hundreds of offices across the country where the crucial moment of the drama would be enacted. It is easy to imagine the hundreds of different settings in which Notre Dame men gathered in small groups and in large groups to discuss Notre Dame and to decide how actively they would share in its future.

The alumni volunteers began their calls. The Assistant Directors of the Notre Dame Foundation kept their bags packed ready to catch early morning and late night planes. The lights burned throughout the night in the Notre Dame Foundation Offices. How would it go? How would the Challenge be received and answered by the Notre Dame family? Now we would know whether we were ready, whether we had been overly optimistic, whether Notre Dame alumni and friends, whose loyalty was never in question, could rally in such dollar amounts to the Challenge Program at this time in Notre Dame's history.

The drama of Challenge I is now played out to its amazing and thrilling and highly successful conclusion. The answer is now well known and fully recorded. Into it went the great love of many people. No university and no person could ask for more than that. But love is not to be measured in dollars and cents important as these are to the growth of any great university. Notre Dame, like every great private university, will face, we can be sure, further challenges and further dramas in the future.

This is not a light statement. By this time you know the details of the magnificent story of the alumni response to the University's $18,000,-000 Challenge I Program. You know that the $18,000,000 goal was exceeded, and that the Ford Foundation matching gift of $6,000,000 for a corresponding $12,000,000 was also achieved.

"The Notre Dame Science Quarterly" was initiated in the fall of 1962 to fill the need for a medium of student expression in the natural sciences. The annual subscription drive is now being conducted. Subscriptions start with the February issue and are $2.75 per year. Please address all subscriptions to: Circulation Manager, "Science Quarterly," Box 563, Notre Dame, Indiana.

? But the new chapter in Alumni history is naturally foremost in my thinking.

You know that more than 18,000 alumni — 80% of those contacted set an all time high record of participation. [We are still not a large body. A substantial number of religious could not be involved. A substantial number of young alumni away from their home addresses could not be contacted. The Classes just graduated were a year behind the program in any form of solicitation. And there is always that substantial percentage whose addresses are not currently available for contact.]

You know that alumni gave or pledged $6,209,855 — a third of the Program total, and twice what the professional fund-raising counsel had projected from this source. We are still a relatively young alumni. This showing was truly magnificent.

You know that $255,000 came from 13 alumni-owned or controlled foundations. Here is the dawn of an even greater future for Notre Dame, as our alumni assume the stature formerly indicative of older associations than ours.

Similarly, $442,000 from 236 alumni-owned or controlled corporations indicates the tangible leadership of Notre Dame men in business and industry, which has long been a hope and a prediction, and which now assumes substance.

But in the $5,513,000 from 17,764

THE SCOPE OF YOUR ACHIEVEMENT

individual alumni donors lies the force and the forecast of the new era which Challenge I has brought to Notre Dame men.

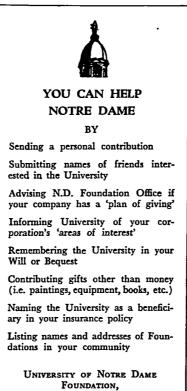

The Challenge Program, the Ford Foundation matching grant incentive, the New Library and other phases of the immediate success are well known.

I would like to pay tribute, at this point, to factors which contributed to this success, which might escape the appreciation due them if they are not mentioned in its relating.

The alumni who, in 1868, created the first Alumni Association, recognized the integral part of the graduate in the life of his alma mater.

Father John W. Cavanaugh, and a group of cooperative lay alumni, saw in 1908 that the Alumni Association needed the stimulus of constitutional control, regular meetings, an active program, and active leadership.

It is to this program and leadership, during its 55 continuous years of building, that a part of today's success story must be attributed.

To Fathers James Burns and Matthew Walsh, who found in the University's first fund-raising effort the essential relationship of organized alumni, and who immediately in 1923, established an Alumni Office, an Alumni Secretary, and an ALUMNUS magazine, must be given a segment of the success we are now heralding.

And to the succession of officers and directors of the Alumni Association, through the Alumni Boards, who have guided and directed and expanded the Office, the staff, and the magazine, through war, depression, and progress, a very substantial amount of the accomplishment must be attributed.

This is no small progress. As late as 1940, the Alumni Association was struggling with a scattered membership of 10,000, an obsolete system of annual dues, an independent and limited fiscal structure that approximated a total annual expenditure — office, staff, and magazine — of $15,000. Our Clubs were heroic but haphazard. Our Reunions were a frequently embarrassing appendage to the growing dignity of Commencement weekends.

Now, in the bright reflected glow of Challenge I, the Alumni Association of the University of Notre Dame is demonstrated to be a mature, integral, substantial part of the University and its life.

Our broad programs are rapidly achieving the proper goals of a distinct part of University life, an essential part of the Notre Dame pattern.

We need not put away or even regret the joys, the fraternal instincts, the enthusiasms of our past. Even then, a close look finds them surging around a maturity and a purpose that circumstances could not until now implement. Rather, we should mellow all these good and desirable qualities in the new plateau of a stature we will never again lose, a new breadth and depth that is in itself a new basis of promise.

Needed, among 1,500,000 books, a Notre Dame Collection

 $\mathbf{D}_{\mathrm{ber}}^{\mathrm{URING}}$ THE past several years, a number of alumni have voluntarily presented copies of books written by themselves to your Alumni Secretary or to the Director of Libraries. As the gifts were received, the thought kept recurring that someday when the University of Notre Dame had adequate facilities, a determined and purposeful effort ought to be made to begin a collection of books written by alumni of the University. The benefits of such a collection would be numerous, and one of the most meaningful would be the educational impact of this collection on the students of the University. Undoubtedly, it would also be a source of pride to the former teachers of the alumni authors

One of the most delightful facilities of the new Memorial Library is the Treasure Room. It is beautifully and distinctively furnished. It has walnut paneling and wall to wall carpeting. It is quite proper that the Treasure Room is decorated in this manner because it will house the most rare and beautiful books and collections of the University libraries. The Treasure Room will also house the books of the Notre Dame collection. This collection will comprise books written by alumni authors, books writ by VICTOR A. SCHAEFER, Director of Libraries ten about the University of Notre Dame, and biographies of alumni. The books desired for this collection are not only books of fiction, but professional books and technical works, pamphlets, as well as manuscripts, correspondence, research notes or anything that was concerned with the writing of the particular work.

The efforts of the alumni are also solicited to bring other desirable library materials to the Memorial Library. Great libraries are the result of the attention and support of many. Perhaps, among the friends of the alumni, there are book collectors who could be persuaded to donate their collections to the Memorial Library. Furthermore, alumni who are attorneys can frequently counsel clients who have book collections to donate them to the University and take advantage of the tax angle. On the other hand, book collections can be donated to the libraries as a deposit and given to the library as an outright gift on the death of the donor, thus enabling heirs to claim a charitable deduction in the settlement of the estate.

The University libraries at Notre Dame are interested in books of all special fields regardless of age, because books in all areas are needed to build up the research collections of the University libraries. At the moment, the field of local Catholic history is of special collecting interest, and this would include all types of material such as anniversary histories of churches, parishes, religious establishments, jubilees, etc. Nothing should be overlooked because the rarest book is sometimes found in a seemingly unimportant collection of books.

If potential donors cannot be approached directly, the administration of the library will be happy to make the contacts. Please contact, Mr. Victor A. Schaefer, Director of Libraries, for any further information about the Program of Collections.

CONVENTION WILL RETURN TO GRAND BAHAMA

IT WILL BE off again to Grand Bahama Island, to the new Lucayan Beach Hotel next year for alumni attending the Second Annual Notre Dame International Convention in 1964.

The convention is planned for April 24, 25 and 26. Plans have progressed to a point where convention officials expect to follow in the footsteps of last year's successful convention, held at West End, Grand Bahama Island.

The 1964 convention will be jointly sponsored by the Notre Dame Alumni Clubs of Miami, Fort Lauderdale and Palm Beach County. They offer an open invitation to every Notre Dame alumnus throughout the country.

Prices for the convention have been set at $118 per couple for three days and two nights at the smart resort hotel. This price includes round-trip air fare on Mackey Airlines from West Palm Beach.

Convention planners are pointing to an attendance of 500 for the weekend. They base their projections on the turnout of more than 250 last year, and the great success of the first international convention.

The committee has been assured by the 1963 University representative, Ed "Moose" Krause, that he and his lovely wife, Elise, will return in 1964 with a large contingent of Notre Dame alumni from the Midwest.

The 252-room Lucayan Hotel is an ideal location for the 1964 convention, according to the committee. Every room and suite in the hotel will overlook the water after completion in December. In addition to its beach-front location, there are canal ways, a lake, and a yacht marina adjacent to the hotel. An 18-hole championship golf course adjoins the modern hotel for use by convention delegates.

For further information on the upcoming international convention, write the Notre Dame Convention Headquarters, 100 East Las Olas Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

A Look at the 'New Look'

of the Board of Directors of Your Alumni Association

A S ballots are being tabulated for the election of four new members to the Alumni Association Board of Directors, it would be well to review the organizational changes and accomplishments of that dynamic-but-little-heralded body over the past few years.

The Alumni Board has become such an all-pervading influence in the affairs of the University and the Alumni Association that its presence is seldom noticed - an invisible force behind a tremendous mobilization of men, money and ideas in 50 scattered classes and nearly 200 alumni communities around the world. It is mentioned often enough - in the usual president's letter on the back cover of the ALUMNUS, in the roster on the inside front cover, in editorials and columns and countless memos to club and class officers - but the work of its committees and the fantastic variety of activities in their purview are seldom apparent in dry accounts of meetings."

For many years the Board met to consider the reports and recommendations of standing committees concerned only with problems of "housekeeping" or the internal organization of the Association. Even in recent years — in the administrations of Pat Canny '28, Mike Layden '36, John O'Connor '38, etc. — organizational matters were the principal consideration, although the problems were mounting astronomically with the "population explosion" in alumni membership and the alumni clubs.

In these years, however, the Board took increasing cognizance of the identification of alumni with the University in the field, the need for the alumni to be informed of administrative policies and problems, and for the campus to be aware of alumni opinion and problems.

This awareness led to the creation of new committee areas and enlargement of the study areas of existing committees under Walter Fleming '40 and Ambassador William Mahoney '38.

Perhaps the best way to explain these changes is to call the roll of the committees:

EXECUTIVE. The Executive Committee reports on all matters of the Board's membership, organization and policy, appointing the other committees and recommending candidates for interim appointments to the Board. Its members are the honorary president (currently Ambassador Mahoney), the president (Oliver H. Hunter '43), three vice-presidents (John Dempsey '49, Patrick Dougherty '50, and William Fallon '37) and Executive Secretary James Armstrong. It was this committee that recommended the changes recently adopted and described below.

CLUB ACTIVITIES. Under the Club Vice-President, now Mr. Fallon, this committee is concerned with the organization and activities of the alumni clubs, including the admission of new clubs to the system. The chairman also presides at Club Presidents Councils held at the University or regionally. He works closely with the Alumni Office staff and particularly with the Alumni Field Secretary, Thomas Kernan '55, whose appointment last year was the result of a Board recommendation.

CLASS ACTIVITIES. The Class Vice-President, Mr. Dougherty, is chairman of a committee studying the officers and activity of alumni classes, especially class columns in the ALUMNUS and class reunions. He presides at conferences of the class officers.

FOUNDATION. A third vice-president, currently Mr. Dempsey, is chairman of the Committee on Fund, Foundation and Gifts. He works closely with the Notre Dame Foundation staff and alumni volunteers on policies and procedures for the Annual Fund and capital campaigns for the University's development, such as the recently completed, fantastically successful Challenge I Program. His committee regularly reports to the Board on the progress of these fund appeals.

ADMISSIONS. The Committee on Preparatory Schools and Admissions has functioned for many years, since alumni have long been concerned with standards of selection and the admission of as many qualified students as possible. But with the increasing activity of alumni in interviewing and scholarship committees of the Notre Dame Clubs, the committee has steadily increased in importance. The current chairman, Philip Faccenda '51, regularly consults with the University's Director of Admissions, Rev. James Moran, C.S.C., and reports to the board on the activities and problems of the Admissions Office.

PLACEMENT. Placement and Job Counseling, once the creation and sole responsibility of the Alumni Association, is now a separate University department administering job contacts for all students and alumni under Rev. Louis Thornton, C.S.C. The current chairman, Peter Kernan, Jr., himself a specialist in job recruiting for the Ford Motor Company, consults with the director on the policies and needs of the department, which deals with representatives of corporations all over the U.S. Graduate and professional school placement, the responsibility of the deans and department heads, is also a subject of study.

INTER-ALUMNI AFFAIRS. A committee under the chairmanship of Vice-President Dougherty reviews opportunities for contact and cooperation with the alumni of other institutions, usually social, civic or intellectual activities on the alumni club level.

PUBLIC RELATIONS. One of the original standing committees, the Committee on Prestige and Public Relations was once principally concerned with the "image" presented to the public through the spotlighting of distinguished alumni and the high academic purpose of the University in such events as Universal Notre Dame Night. It underwent a "face-lifting" in the Fleming administration to catch up with current concepts of public relations, involving all facets of the University's operation - administrative, athletic, fund raising, etc. This involved consultation with many departments - the Foundation, Public Relations, Public Information and Athletic Publicity Offices - as well as with the Executive Vice-President. The recommendations of this committee were instrumental in a reorganization of the public relations apparatus under a new Vice-President of Public Relations and Development, Rev. John Walsh, C.S.C. The committee, now under Mr. Kernan, continues to oversee the public relations potential of U.N.D. Night, prominent alumni, etc.

A later report will detail the work of other committees — Religion and Citizenship, Nominations, Budget and Finance, and such new committees as those on Athletics, Academics and Student Affairs.

Three Notre Dame Men Cited at Convention For Their Contribution to Newman Apostolate

AT THE RECENT national convention of the Newman Clubs of America, it is interesting to note that three Notre Dame men were singled out for their influence on religion in public higher education and made a prominent part of the program: Dr. George N. Shuster '15, not only for his service at Notre Dame but also for previous work as an author, administrator and college president; Archbishop Paul Hallinan '32, of Atlanta, long a Newman Club booster and now a leading voice of the 21st Ecumenical Council; and Rev. Richard Butler, O.P. '42, present leader of the Newman chaplains and author of a recent highly acclaimed book about religion on the campus.

Declaring that the Index of Forbidden Books has "little relation to the student mind today," Archbishop Hallinan told delegates that the Index "may be changed, updated, modified or abolished altogether.

"Whatever the outcome," he said, "it is to be earnestly hoped" that the decision will be taken in the spirit of Pope John's opening address to the Ecumenical Council, in which he said that the Church today "prefers to make use of the medicine of mercy rather than that of severity" in dealing with error.

Archbishop Hallinan said the Index today "does not touch the university library on an intellectual plane. In fact, it does not touch anything at all on that level.

Archbishop Hallinan

"The list of named authors and named books is largely unknown to today's student, only the French novelists, certain English philosophers and a few other authors ever appearing on any college reading list," he said.

"Even the proscription by categories does not concern the student as he looks over the highly pornographic content of the average paperback bookrack," he commented.

Archbishop Hallinan said that if the Index "disappears tomorrow," the duty to teach and foster truth will remain for Catholics.

"We must honor the scholar who honestly seeks truth in his field, whether he is on our side or not, whether we like him or not, whether he likes us or not," he said. "Anything else is intellectual dishonesty.

"Our students must imbibe this respect for a scholarship from us," he continued. "The Church did not suffer when St. Paul walked among the intellectuals of Athens, when Augustine urged his pupils to love intelligence, when Aquinas investigated the philosophy of the Arabian, or when Father Montini read the works of Thomas Mann and Bergson with his students.

"This is the vast burden that is ours, the task of consecrating the intellect to God," he declared. "It is difficult " today because, although there are more educated minds than a century ago, they are not educated in the things that pertain to God.

"The good news of salvation has not had a good press. It would be a mistake to assume that all Catholic students have Catholic minds."

Archbishop Hallinan spoke of the need of awakening in the minds of students a "gaudium de veritate, the joy of finding truth."

"This will be a far more effective tool than the Index, because the Index did not touch sins against the mind, which is God's own created instrument for truth," he said.

He warned of a current tendency to "simony of the intellect." This form of simony, he said, is "the temptation of the educated man to sell one's mind for sordid gain or for popularity or for the coin of mediocre achievement or the perversion of other minds."

The 1963 John Henry Cardinal Newman Honor Society Award was presented to George Shuster, assistant to the president of the University, for "excellence in Christian education."

In accepting the award Shuster, a former president of Hunter College, New York, said the Newman apostolate is "the most important in the United States."

Father Richard Butler, O.P., of Chicago, president of the chaplains' association, said the group will scek to emphasize unified action by the various groups within the Newman apostolate.

Father Butler voiced optimism in an interview over indications during the convention of "a marked transition from a past tendency of these Catholic students to isolate themselves and merely organize themselves as a mutual protection club.

editors. Geiger evidently revels in putting the "Best From The Farmers' Almanac" together. We are convinced that you will revel in the reading of it.

-VINCENT MCALOON '34

BRIAN KELLY '53 sent this in to introduce his wife, the former Mary Louise Briley of Brian's native Detroit. Under the stage name Laura Devon she has been stealing the "Richard Boone Show" as the femme fatale of the critically acclaimed repertory company on NBC-TV. Brian appeared with her on stage in "Toys in the Attic" and recently shot the pilot film of a new TV series entitled "Flipper,' having starred in two "private eye" thrill-ers and some ill-fated pilots. He also corrected three misstatements in a recent article based on network publicity: his Class is '53, not '57; he had only one year of law school at the University of Michigan; and his only football career was on the Farley Hall intramural team.

"There has been more anxious discussion and almost impatient impulse to enlarge the scope of this apostolic work and take positive steps toward the restoration of Christian culture on our college and university campuses," Father Butler said.

He said the convention delegates manifested "a restless sense of urgency to go beyond the confinement of petty concerns toward a truly Catholic concern for the campus community, the civic community and the world community."

The Dominican predicted that the next 20 years will see a tremendous growth of the Newman apostolate. He said the Church in America "must face and deal with" the fact of half a million Catholic students now on secular campuses and the expectation that this number will rise to two million in the next two decades.

THE REVIEW OF POLITICS, Twentyfifth Anniversary Issue. Edited by M. A. Fitzsimons. University of Notre Dame. 173 pp., $1.50.

The October issue of Notre Dame's quarterly political review contains some articles of special interest to alumni. In "Profile of Crisis: The Review of Politics, 1939-1963," Professor Fitzsimons writes:

"The first issue of The Review of Politics was published in 1939, the year of Hitler's attack on Poland. (The Review was established and edited, until his death in 1954, by Waldemar Gurian, a distinguished scholar of Bolshevism and politics. His principal Notre Dame collaborators in editing The Review are Professor Frank O'Malley, who has served as an editor since 1939, an inspiring student and teacher of the philosophy of literature; Rev. Leo R. Ward, C.S.C., a professor of philosophy with farranging social interests; F. A. Hermens, professor of politics and an authority on proportional representation and constitutional government; and the eminent American Church historian, Rev. Thomas T. McAvoy, C.S.C., who has served as managing editor for twenty years. The author of this article, M. A. Fitzsimons, professor of histroy, asso-ciated with The Review since 1942, was appointed editor in 1955) The new magazine, thus, appeared at the end of one historical period, the interwar years, and at the beginning of the new age initiated by the Second World War. . .

"In this situation the editors resolved upon certain features and policies of The Review. First of all, the journal was to be directed to composing 'a new, clear worldorder,' in effect, to the unfolding of a culture, drawing on the past but extending to new and deeper reaches. In this endeavor The Review's work would be focused on two vital centers: the personality of man, and the communal life of mankind, each facing a formidable array of destroyers. From this arose the emphasis on 'the image of man,' man as composed of body, mind, and spirit, man as a person and man the social animal."

NOTRE DAME BOOKS

BEST FROM THE FARMERS' AL-MANAC. Edited by Ray Geiger '32. Doubleday, Garden City, N. Y. 286 pp., $3.50.

Here is something that some of you have not seen in years and likely most of you have never seen: The ancient and honorable bible of Americana, The Farmers' Almanac.

Don't dismiss this book of wisdom simply because you are not a farmer. This present volume is not the Almanac as such, but Ray Geiger of Lewiston, Maine, present editor of The Almanac, has edited this "Best From The Farmers' Almanac" with discerning hoc, spade, and rake.

If anyone remembers the old Almanacs hanging on a string near the kitchen stove out at Grandpa's on the farm, he will remember the battery of information, and the bits of wisdom, humor, poetry and verse. In many a snowbound home, ye olde almanac took the place of nonexistent movies, radio and television.

Mr. Geiger here serves farmers and city slickers, not weatherizing information, but what he captions Capsules of Wisdom, Terse Verse, Potpourri, Bits of Humor, and Beloved Poems. All these at one time or another, from 1818 when David Young started The Farmers' Almanac, have appeared on its characteristic newsprint pages.

There are in this "speaker's handbook, or bedside anthology" unique definitions of such delicate items as boys and of gossip. There is sage advice on smoking in bed. You will be thrice rewarded too in learning how to bake a cake and roast a dozen birds one inside the other.

The "Philom" following Ray Geiger's name is a term popularized by Ben Franklin and means philosopher and mathematician. It has become a traditional title of almanac

WHY DO I TRAVEL?

by FRANK J. McGINNIS, '24

The author, recently retired as an executive of the Ford Motor Company, has a new career as founder of "Words & Pictures," 3802 Crestlake Drive, Birmingham, Mich. He now tours the world producing color films and lecturing on his travels. He is now making bookings for the 1964-65 lecture season on two of his productions, "Glorious Greece Today" and "Europe's Fabulous Rivieras."

HAT ARE the profits of travel? I think Daniel, the ancient prophet, put it in a capsule when he said, "Many shall run to and fro and knowledge shall be increased."

FRANK McGINNIS and his wife Mary photograph the ruins of the magnificent Parthenon in Athens' famed Acropolis.

To me, knowledge is the great reward of travel; many kinds of knowledge. Travel gives you knowledge to check your dreams by, knowledge of the many beauties man has created.

For instance, in Athens from the top of your hotel in Syntagma square, in one sweep of your eyes, you can see both today's modern buildings and the incomparable Parthenon, built in 438 B.C., atop the famed Acropolis. For enduring beauty I'm sure you'll buy the Parthenon.

You will gain knowledge that makes the very rocks come alive when you find yourself sitting in the seat-prints of history. When we were in the Agora, meeting place of the ancients, our guide said, "You are sitting on the rock where they say Socrates drank the fatal hemlock." We arose with alacrity and a new respect for these rocks.

You learn of the origin of great ideas and how they came into being. . . .

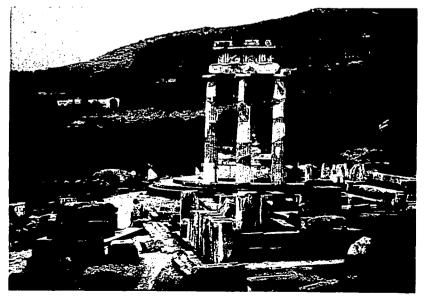

For instance, when we were in Olympia, site of the legendary statue of Zeus, they told us it was an ancient Greek named Philo who created the concept of the seven wonders of the ancient world. He created the idea because he was a publicity man and he was given the job of stimulating tourism in the eastern Mediterranean.

In Rhodes, that lush, semitropical, tourist's paradise, you see the beautiful medieval castle of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem whose story gives you knowledge of the violent sweeps of history and the vicissitudes of men and nations. This "strongest fort in the world" was built by the Crusaders in 1389, successfully defended against the Turks for 133 years, lost to them through treachery in 1522, grabbed by the Italians in 1912 and completely restored at tremendous expense by Mussolini who wanted to make it a summer villa and tourist attraction, finally in 1948 awarded to the Greeks with 5 the other Dodecanese islands.

Most of all, I've confirmed my belief that this is still a big, wide, wonderful world we live in and I am a very fortunate refugee from the rat race now able to seek out the interesting sights and sounds of the world and bring them back for the information and entertainment of my fellow Americans.

THE GROTTO at Notre Dame is a place of memories and prayers. The canopy of trees, digging their roots into the unhewn rock, is the proudest grove on the campus. And rightly so. These trees are a garland of green on a crown of rocks. They have lived up to all the beauty of Kilmer's poem . . . as all trees must. But these have done more. They have listened to May songs; they have watched flickering vigil lights; they have stood as silent sentinels while anxious prayers and burdened hearts lifted hopeful eyes to a Lady. The trees of the Grotto-if they could speakwould speak only in a whisper.

It's been a long time since that day in 1876 when old Father Sorin began work on the Grotto. The bearded blackrobe had visited Lourdes in 1873. It was there he got the idea to build a facsimile of that famous shrine. In those days it was a small campus. Father Sorin chose for the Grotto one of the Ruins of the Temple of Athena at Delphi.

MAN and the MOMENT

By Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, C.S.C., '41

most beautiful spots, a wooded dell within the shadow of the Church and the Dome. A natural mound leans down from the Church and leads to the lake. This mound was the spot chosen. That the choosing of the site of the Grotto was not a haphazard matter is shown by this excerpt from the Scholastic of August 20, 1896: "Just behind the Presbytery is a little wooded dell which has always been regarded as one of the charming spots of Notre Dame. For past years the pilgrims from Kalamazoo and Jackson have chosen it as a resting place after their long journey; it has been a favorite walk with visitors at all times; and during the spring and autumn those who live at Notre Dame seek it instinctively for the coolness and attractiveness."

Even though work on the edifice was begun in 1876 it was not completed until 20 years later. The delay was caused by lack of funds. It was largely through the contribution of Father Thomas Carroll of Oil City, Pennsylvania, that the work was completed. The Grotto was blessed on August 5, 1896 by the genial giant of Gettysburg, Father Corby, who was Provincial Superior.

Much has been written of this wonderful spot at Notre Dame because the Grotto is very much a part of every Notre Dame man. What comes to mind now is Doctor Tom Dooley's last letter to Notre Dame. It was written in Hong Kong in early December of 1960. His cancer was acting up. They had him flat on his back with plaster, sand bags, and hot water bottles. The entire letter, written in pain, is worth repeating but I will quote only a few paragraphs:

"I realize the external symbols that surround one when he prays are not important. The stark wooden cross on an altar of boxes in Haiphong with a tortured priest . . . the magnificence of the Sacred Heart Bernini altar . . . they are essentially the same. Both are symbols. It is the Something else there that counts.

"But just now . . . and just so many times, how I long for the Grotto. Away from the Grotto, Dooley just prays. But at the Grotto, especially now when there must be snow everywhere and the lake is ice glass and that triangular fountain on the left is frozen solid and all the priests are bundled in their too-large, too-long black coats and the students wear snow boots . . . if I could go to the Grotto now, then I think I could sing inside. I could be full of faith and poetry and loveliness and know more beauty, tenderness and compassion. This is soggy sentimentalism, I know. Cold prayers from a hospital bed are just as pleasing to God as more youthful prayers from a Grotto on the lid of night.

"But like telling a mother in labor, 'It's okay, millions have endured the labor pains and survived happy . . . you will too.' It's consoling . . . but doesn't lessen the pain. Accordingly, knowing prayers from here are just as good as from the Grotto doesn't lessen my gnawing, yearning passion to be there."

FAMILIAR NAMES?

Our Alumni Office has just received the new Directory of the Indiana Priests Province, C.S.C.

One vivid reaction comes to me as I read it. On the site of the old Novitiate, north of the old Boat House, adjoining the new Moreau Seminary, is Holy Cross House, attractive sanctuary for those Holy Cross priests who have contributed their life-work span to the Congregation, or whose further work indicates a need for temporary retirement.

Alumni frequently remark about the absence of familiar faces and names on the campus. Holy Cross House contains many men who are away from the beaten path, but whose footsteps shaped it, who are away from the pressures of their vocation, but never away from the traditions.

Among the men now living in Holy Cross House, you may find old friends who would add much to your Christmas remembrance, for example:

SUMMER LATIN AMERICAN APOSTOLATE CONTINUES: GRADING CHANGES. VARIED EVENTS MARK FALL TERM

THE COUNCIL of the International Lay Apostolate is primarily concerned with the role of the lay apostolate in the Church. For the second summer in a row members of Notre Dame's CILA spent the summer working in Peru and Mexico.

The work in these countries was very diversified as it ranged from such elementary chores as passing out bread and milk to the building of homes. Some of the boys taught classes, premedical students worked in clinics, and one student was even called upon to deliver a baby.

While spending most of their time working with the common people, the members of CILA had the opportunity to talk with political leaders, businessmen, and priests. It was generally agreed that this trip gave our boys a better insight into the problems of the area.

Measuring the success of such an adventure is an impossible task, but the members of the trip concede that it awoke in them a greater comprehension of our role and duties in society as Christians.

The academic council has at long last adopted the 4-point system conventional at most colleges and universities throughout the country. It was realized that as hard and as often as the University tried to explain our 6-point system to other schools there was still a great deal of confusion and misunderstanding. Graduate schools tended to read their own interpretations into our old system. To avoid confusion in the future the 4-point system is now in effect. Under this system a 4 is an A; 3 a B; 2 a C; 1 a D. To graduate a student needs a cumulative average of 2. The dean's list level is now 3.25, and to graduate with honors you must maintain this average. To graduate magna cum laude a student must have a 3.5, and to graduate maxima cum laude he must have a 3.75.

Under the auspices of Professor Paul C. Bartholomew of the political science department, a mock Republican convention will be held on the campus. Since it is a foregone conclusion that President Johnson will be renominated by the Democratic Party, only the Young Republicans will have a chance to voice their preferences. Delegates from each of the 50 states will demonstrate as if this were the real convention. Of course, some of the states will come up with their favorite son candidates, but the leading contenders, on campus as in the papers, are Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona. With an air of conservatism on the campus, especially among the Young Republicans, it looks like Barry will be the choice of the Republicans on campus.

The weekend of Nov. 3 was Homecoming. On Friday night Father Hesburgh kicked off the festivities as principal speaker at the pep rally. Coach Hugh Devore and All-American end Jim Kelly also spoke. Later the Homecoming Dance, with the crowning of the Queen, initiated social activities. The traditional hall decoration contest, a pre-game parade and a concert by the popular New Christy Minstrels took place on Saturday. All these social events, together with the Navy game, had interest at a fever pitch as the big weekend drew near. Captain Bob Lehman, Tom McDonald and sidelined Don Hogan were among the other pep rally speakers keeping up the spirit and enthusiasm through a gruelling football season.

The Senior Trip this year was scheduled to take us to Michigan State, where for the last time in our four years we would challenge the Spartans. The senior class arranged transportation, accommodations, and a party with some of the coeds from MSU. From all indications almost the entire senior class planned on invading East Lansing, and it should have been a weekend that no one will soon forget.

And speaking of trips, over 100,000 college students were expected in New York over the Thanksgiving vacation, about 3,000 of these from N.D., as this was the student trip. Everywhere on campus you heard students asking one another if they planned on hitting New York for the big weekend. Of course, of primary importance was the game with Syracuse on Thanksgiving Day. But there was also the fascination of the big city. Hope all you alumni in the New York area remembered that the game begins at noon. See you there.

Clay Stephens is a senior economics major from Burlingame, California, and has won three football monograms. at end. For his first column, written during intensive football drills, Clay acknowledges the help of Jack Stanley, a classmate from Binghamton, N. Y.

In April of this year I was elected president of the Notre Dame Club; JOSEPH A. REICH, JR. was elected vice-president; JOHN B. BRANDT was elected secretary-treasurer, and REV. MICHAEL HARRINGTON, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Broadmoor, was elected Club chaplain. The officers were installed in conjunction with Universal Notre Dame Night on April 22, 1963. At that meeting the Reverend JOHN A. O'BRIEN addressed the Club.

During the summer the Club had a general pic-nic at Rainbow Falls Park, deep in the Rocky Mountains. Further, early in September the Club conducted an honor event for the present students from Colorado Springs at Notre Dame and their others. The tudents however ware Relief fathers. The students honored were Ed Price, re-lathers. The students honored were Ed Price, re-turning junior; Scott Atwell, sophomore; Thomas Buhl, junior, whose father FRANCIS R. BUHL is an alumnus; David F. Cusack, junior, whose father FRANK J. CUSACK is also a graduate; Michael S. Fischer, freshman; James H. Haney, sophomore; and JOHN MORRIS, who is a freshman entering the Seminary.

Here in the Springs, we are talking about the Notre Dame-Air Academy football game to be played in October of 1964. It appears, however, that the current football team is, justifiably, more concerned with the present than the future, so that we will try not to generate too much enthusiasm interest in the Gub and its activities. Since our last report to the ALUMNUS, the Denver Notre Dame Club has held its annual draw-ing for the "Denver-South Bend and Return and All Expenses Paid" football trip. The lucky winner of this year's trip to the ND-UCLA game was DR. ROBERT SEARS '46.

The Club was honored in September with a visit from FATHER THOMAS O'DONNELL, C.S.C. He was in Denver doing some missionary work for the Notre Dame Library Association and to help the wives of Denver alumni in organizing a chapter of the association. Elected as the first co-chairmen were Jeanette SHEEHAN (JIM '50) and Mary KLENE (DON '49, '55).

Big news from Denver is that TOM CURRIGAN ²41 was elected mayor of Denver and took office on July 1, 1963 for a four-year term. Tom's election came after he was the forerunner in a hotly contested primary election and a landslide victor in a general election held in June. One of the Denver Notre Dame Club's annual features is its sports luncheon, held this year in October, FRANK LEAHY addressed the members of the club and their guests and gave them a few reminders on the significance of sports and the meaning behind the spirit of Our Lady's School. Jim gave an inspirational talk to the new men and received a tremendous ovation from the many members and parents DON DORINI '53, our president, has already asked Jim to be with us next year. We are all looking forward to his next visit.

Looking forward, we had our annual TV party on the 26th of October-Notre Dame vs. Stanford. This is always one of the outstanding events of the year and a chance for us all to cheer the boys on. From the cheers that are heard when the Fighting Irish score I sometimes wonder if they can't be heard Irish score I sometimes wonder if they can't be heard (1300 miles away, that is!!). This was followed by our Sweepstakes Dinner on Oct. 30th. the main money-raising event of the year for the Notre Dame Foundation. Arriving Wednesday, the winners receive hotel accommodations, dinners, tickets to two leading plays, AND three hundred dollars emenger arist the new setting is insoluded of dollars expenses; air transportation is included, of course. They will be hosted by the local Notre Dame Club before and after the game. We are all proud of the job attempted by HUGH DEVORE and wish him future success. Our winners expect to see a good team and a fine coach.

Earlier this year our club initiated the FIRST INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION, and plans are being firmed up for next year. Under the guidance of this club and in conjunction with the Palm Beach and Miami Clubs, we have another wonderful three-day (or more) Convention set up: On April 24, 25, 26, 1964 at the Lucayan Beach Hotel, near Freeport, Grand Bahama. In attendance were approximately fifty alumni, their families, and friends. The attendance is indeed remarkable in that the guests must journey over some very rugged western roads in order to gather at this historic locale.

For a while it appeared this column might have to be written in the shadow of defeat (although mighty close ones), but Louisville's own BOB LEH-MANN brought smiles back to the faces of all Kentucky Clubbers as he led the Fighting Irish back southern California. Maine

The annual Notre Dame alumni family picnic for the State of Maine was held on Saturday, August 31, at the wonderful Camp Sebaik, situated in North Sebago, Maine. This is the camp run by the Holy Cross Fathers, which has a beautiful assortment of camping buildings, main building, pavilion, infirmary, as well as a modern and up-to-date baseball field and waterfront swimming facilities and many boats. These facilities were turned over to the Notre Dame Club of Maine by FATHER HANNA, the director of the camp. He and his assistant FATHER TOSTE, plus a dozen seminarians from the North Easton Seminary, were most gracious hosts to the Notre Dame Club.

Although our State is widely scattered, we did manage to have out for the picnic the following alumni and students. Among the alumni were DON GRIEVES '51, PAUL SCULLY '41, TONY SILVA '56, RAY GEIGER '32, JOE DOYLE '42, MIKE SALTER '49; and the students attending from the University at the present were NORMAN LAURENDAU, PETER THORNTON, STANLEY LIBERTY, ERNEST AUSTIN; and in addition to these we had with us REV. LEONARD COLLINS, C.S.C., dcan of students at Norte Dame, and JIM DAY '32, a long-time friend of the Maine Club, and FATHER LUCE, C.S.C., as well as 27 assorted parents, brothers and children of the alumni. This was our first attempt at a family picnic and it proved most successful, although two of our most prolific alumni, JESS DELOIS with six children and JACK WILKINSON with eight, were unable at the last minute to join us. However, for those who were on hand it was a delightful day with the Farmers' Almanac weather being just exactly right —beautiful, clear and delightful.

New officers were elected for the year 1963-1964 as follows: PAUL SCULLY '41, president; AN-THONY SILVA '56, vice-president; RAY GEIGER '32, secretary; and DON GRIEVES '51, treasurer.

Ray Geiger, reporting for the Scholarship Fund, announced that up to date $2,950 had been disbursed to help needy boys from the State of Maine. An additional fund of $500 is on hand to help a new boy who will require it for the coming year. This money is loaned, to be returned when it can be with no interest, and up to the present time we have been fortunate to help four different boys in their need for money to educate themselves.

Former treasurer JOE DOYLE turned over our rather modest treasury to DON GRIEVES, the incoming treasurer.

We announced a Notre Dame-Syracuse football ticket raffle, with which we will try to add to ourtreasury. It seems the Notre Dame Band will be coming to Maine next Eastertime and this will help us with our scholarship monies. We are also privileged to have the Notre Dame debating team come to Lewiston, Maine, to debate with our Bates College. JIM COONEY, the new assistant director of the Notre Dame Foundation for the State of Maine, wired us that he could not be with us at our picnic. RAY GEIGER is to continue as the Maine Foundation Governor at the appointment of FATHER HESBURGH, C.S.C. As continuing secretary, may I invite any Notre Dame folks passing by the Geiger Bros. plant at Exit 13 on the Maine turnpike to come off for a visit. We are always delighted to have friends drop in and sincerely hope that you will put this information where it can be found easily and plan to come to visit us some time.

The annual Family Picnic was held on July 21st at the Therm-O-Disc Recreation Grounds. A fine turnout was on hand; Chairman M. E. PRUNTY, JR. '50, and committee members FRANCIS S. President LEO J. SCANLON '30 invited all of the officers of the Club and the past presidents for lunch at the Mansfield-Leland Hotel in August to meet TOM KERNAN of the Alumni Office who was in town to pay us a visit. It was good to meet Tom, to get first hand news from N.D. and to learn about plans for the future.

Forty-one partisan fans traveled to see the Notre Dame-Wisconsin game on September 28th; we hated to see them lose, but everyone was pleased with the fine play of the Irish. Chairman, C. J. KOZAK '30, with committee members RICHARD L. WALT-ER '41, JAMES F. EHALT '48, GEORGE F. KAV-ANAUGH '31, and M. E. PRUNTY, JR. '50, did a fine job in making the annual bus trip so enjoyable.

NEW OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

The new officers for the '63-'64 year of the University of Notre Dame Alumni Club of Milwaukee were announced last summer as follows: THOMAS L. MULCAHY, JR., president; JOHN A. SCHLOE-GEL, vice-president; THOMAS J. McNULTY, treasurer; RONALD M. BUKOWSKI, secretary; and DAVID L. ROEMER, director of public relations.

THOMAS MULCAHY is a 1957 graduate with a finance major and is currently a salesman with Bache & Co. JOHN SCHLOEGEL was an accounting major and graduated in 1954. He is currently employed as a securities analyst with Tamarack Petroleum Co. From the class of 1957 and a business administration major is THOMAS J. McNUL-TY, who is working as a salesman for Minnesota Mining Co. RON BUKOWSKI is the operations manager for the Milwaukee office of Bache & Co. and graduated in 1960 with accounting as his major. DAVE ROEMER majored in business administration and graduated in 1959. He is currently employed by the First Wisconsin National Bank as a branch assistant.

It was also reported that the June 24th golf outing at Tuckaway Country Club was a great success. Sixty-nine of the eighty-five dues-paying members were present to play golf, dine, and hear Notre Dame's football mentor HUGH DEVORE promise that if the faculty appreciated the boys he has at summer school the troops could be pretty rough in the fall. The first dates set for the new year's program were the Braves baseball outing on August 13th and the Wisconsin Football Game Smoker at the Pabst Brewery on September 26th.

FALL SMOKER AND MEMBERSHIP DRIVE A SUCCESS

Nine members of the Club rolled up their sleeves and conducted the most successful membership drive in the group's history.

Under a plan outlined by President TOM MUL-CAHY, the nine monopolized their home phones as they never have before (since being married) to accomplish two primary results: (1) substantially increase the number of dues paying members and (2) cut the cost of the club's mailings by eliminating those from the mailing list who were not interested in the club's activities. By September 26th, five days ahead of the deadline, 384 calls were made with the following results: (1) $5.00 memberships were increased from 82 in 1962 to 144; (2) six $2.00 correspondent memberships were received (this entitles the holder only to receive the club's mailings); and (3) 234 individuals were cut from the mailing list. The last amounts to a $250.00 annual savings in postage alone.

As part of the program the callers made corrections in the addresses and telephone numbers of members. This information will be used to compile a club directory which will be mailed to each "full" member in place of a membership card.

member in place of a membership card. The nine stalwarts were: RON BUKOWSKI, DENNIS LANDRY, ROGER LAUR, TOM MUL-CAHY, TOM MCNULTY, DAVE MURPHY, DAVE ROEMER, JOHN SCHLOEGEL and PHIL VOGEL. On September 26th the club held its annual Fall Smoker at the Pabst Brewery hospitality room. If there was ever a more collegiate "atmosphere" it is unknown to us.

Featured on the program were 1953 Heismann Trophy winner JOHN LATTNER and his All-American tcammate DON PENZA. The latter had the platform first, and John wound up the talks with an inspiring monologue that was reminiscent of the Friday night pep rally. The 82 members present were then shown the 1962 Fighting Irish highlights. -DAVID L ROEMER Parkle Bel Die

New Mexico

August 4, 1963, was the date of the annual Club picnic. The site was again the Benedictine Monastery in the Sangre de Cristo Mountains near Pecos, New Mexico. Chairman PAUL FARMER did an excellent job in making arrangements for the outing; approximately fifty members and their families enjoyed a pleasant afternoon in the mountains.

To raise money for our Club's scholarship fund, a drawing for an all expense paid trip for two to the N.D.-Stanford game at Palo Alto, Calif., was held on October 18, 1963. The proceeds from this drawing will go towards a partial scholarship grant which will be awarded to a deserving student from New Mexico who is attending Notre Dame. All of our members are to be commended for supporting this project which will apparently be a financial success.

On October 26 our club gathered for a telecast party to see the Fighting Irish outfought by Stan-ford. PAUL FARMER was host to a crowd of about thirty sufferers.

The Club's outstanding fall function will be the Syracuse game rally and dance to be held in the Waldorf Astoria Main Ballroom on the evening before the game. There will be a cocktail party and dance after the game, with music by Frank Walther's orchestra. Chairman BILL CUDDY and President ED FITZPATRICK have left nothing undone to make this a gala occasion. The Waldorf has set aside a Notre Dame registration and meeting room, where out-of-town alumni may list their temporary addresses and phone numbers and arrange for get-togethers with classmates. Special consideration will be given to all alumni who wish to stay over at the Waldorf. Peter Lind Hayes will M.C. the rally.

The club held a very successful fall outing on Thursday, September 5th, beginning with 18 holes of golf on an ideal sun-filled afternoon. On July 15, 1963, the Club held its annual Summer Pienie and Swimming Party at the Community Swimming Club. LEE TADDONIO and DON BEBENEK, our pres., made the arrangements. Many of the couples who attended planned combined meals ahead of time, which helped take the load off the wives who took the children to the pool in the afternoon and waited there for hubby to arrive from work. It was a well planned, well attended affair which provided a relaxing and refreshing change on a hot July evening. I have my doubts, however, that those who engaged in the long-to-beremembered touch football game will agree with the last; that game was reminiscent of the old Notre Dame vs. Army series.

Rhode Island & Southeastern Mass.

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of Rhode Island and Southeastern Mass. held its Annual Going-Away Party for new Freshmen on September 5, 1963 in Seekonk, Mass. Eight new students were guests of our Alumni Club and all of these young men brought their parents with them.

The cocktail hour preceding dinner was a very enjoyable part of the evening as the new students and their parents met the alumni, their wives, and the upperclassmen who were present. This gave the freshmen a chance to discuss with the upperclassmen some of the questions they had regarding their first year at Notre Dame.

After diamer, Club President PHIL TOOLE '52 introduced FATHER ROBERT NEWBOLD, our chaplain, from Our Lady of Providence Seminary. Father Newbold congratulated the new students and told them of the very high scholastic standards they would find at Notre Dame. ANDY McMAHON '35 spoke of how fortunate these new students were to be attending Notre Dame. He cautioned them to accept what the University required of them with the proper attitude and they would get the most out of their four years at Notre Dame.

Dinner chairman DICK DELMONTE '54 introduced each new freshman to the alumni and wished them luck in their years at Notre Dame.

President Phil Toole announced the new officers for the coming year: ED DENNING '50, president; AL GRZEBIEN '49, vice-president; DICK DEL-MONTE '54, treasurer; and FRANK CONFORTI '43, secretary.

San Gabriel Valley

On July 4, 1963, we held an old fashioned fourth of July family picnic. We had a marvelous crowd of Note Dame families with everyone extremely enthusiastic and deeply interested in our patriotic theme.

Everyone enjoyed picnic lunches, swimming (including swimming games for the children), band music, and speeches given by the San Gabriel Valley Notre Dame officers, which included the Constitution of the United States, Gettysburg Address, and

Declaration of Independence. A very special thank you and deep appreciation goes to SID SIDENFADEN for the use of his spacious grounds, which played a big part in the success of this event. We are looking forward to other equally successful functions.

Triple Cities The University of Notre Dame Alumni Club of the Triple Cities held an Alumin — Father — Stu-dent Mixer on September 4 at Lou's Restaurant in Johnson City, Over 50 attended and enjoyed the Football Highlights of 1949 movie. The group was disappointed that the scheduled featured speaker, PAT FILLEY, assistant athletic director at Cornell University, who captained the 1943 National Cham-pionship and 1944 Notre Dame football teams, was unable to be with us due to illness. Pat has assured us, however, that he will join us for a future event.

Highlight of the affair was the unexpected pres-ence of the REV. FRANCIS J. HARRISON, Class of 1933. Father Harrison had just arrived in Bing-hamon that day to assume his duties as pastor hamion that day to assume his outlies as pastor of St. Patrick's Church and head of the Catholic Deaneries of Broome, Chenango and Corthand counties. 50-YEAR CLUB

Fifty-five years ago, GEORGE CUTSHAW was playing with an ND baseball team that wound up with a 20-1 record. Forty years ago a ruptured appendix forced George into retirement from Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers after service with the Brooklyn Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates as an infielder. A retired grapefruit rancher in California's Imperial Valley, he spent the summer touring the U.S. with Mrs. Cutshaw, visiting former (and famed) baseball buddies and also the ND campus. "I've been back many times, but I've never seen it changed so much. All those new buildings are really something," he said. "And Sorin Hall — we must have made it a holy place. They've even got nuns staying there for summer school." The visit was capped by a return powwow with Coach JAKE KLINE, '17.

Since locking up the August-September column back in June, we have had sad tidings of some grave losses on the semicentenarian roster. Probably the first and oldest alumnus in Butte, Mont., DR. RICHARD C. MONAHAN, '98, died in August. First practicing as a physician and surgeon in Chicago, Dr. Monahan moved to Butte in 1903, was a colounder and early president of the ND Club of Montana and State Republican Chairman for many years. Sympathy to his family, especially DR. JOHN MONAHAN, '35, his son. In Ekalaka, Mont., nearby, ROBERT JACOB PRICE died in July. A Carroll Hall resident (1898-1901), Mr. Price was born in Wyoming, where he was a cattle rancher and public servant until 1946 when he opened a general store. To his family and many friends goes the sympathy of the ND family.

pathy of the ND family. One of the saddest losses was that in September of WILLIAM (BILL) JAMIESON '05, a perennial visitor from Chicago at reunion time until he became too ill a couple of years ago. Retired president of an institutional supply company and a former teacher at St. Edward's College in Texas, Bill had nine children, including R. ALAN JAMIESON '50 and 23 grandchildren.

We'd also like to console JAMES A. DUBBS, '06, on the death of his brother JOHN W. DUBBS, LL.B. '03, in Mendota, III, back in April. Reported to the office months ago, it was delayed somehow in reaching this department. Besides his brother, his widow and a daughter, Mr. Dubbs left four alumni sons (JAMES '32, JOHN JR. '39, JOE '40, JERRY '48) and one graduated grandson. PAT '60.

A third lawyer, JAMES D. JORDAN '07, died in late August in Scranton, Pa., where he had been named the ND Club Man of the Year in 1948, We share the sorrow of his widow and daughter and his son, RICHARD J. JORDAN '51, also an attorney. The following from the typewriter of PAUL MARTIN-DILLON of the "Evening Times," Cumberland, Md., whose ND president forbear was among the Civil War chaplains memorialized at the Gettysburg Field Mass on June 29:

Gettysburg Field Mass on June 29: "Word has just reached me of the death on Sept. 12, at San Diego, Calif., of SAM H. NUSS-BAUM '87, who was an ND student during the presidency of FATHER THOMAS WALSH. He was a native of LaPorte, Ind., and Sam's father was for many years an intimate friend of FATHER SORIN. The Nusbaums were also friends of the Wile family (early Jewish friends of the University. Ed.) and I am inclined to believe they were related. The late EUGENE WILE '85 was a contemporary.

"At the time Sam was at ND. his brother, BERTRAM EDWARD SORIN NUSSBAUM, was in the Minims. Sam was prominent as a track athlete and also as a pianist. He left ND to enter the University of Leipzig, Germany, where he spent 10 years as a piano student in the conservatory. While there he married a fellow student, Miss Harriet Smith, of New Haven, Conn. "Completing his studies at Leipzig, Sam, with his wife and two small children, returned to the United States and for a time resided in Chicago.

"Completing his studies at Leipzig, Sam, with his wife and two small children, returned to the United States and for a time resided in Chicago. They then went to Marion, Ind., where Sam and an older brother, Percy L., founded the Marion Conservatory of Music. In a few years this institution ranked as one of the leading music schools of the Middle West and numbered the now famous Cole Porter among its students.

Cole Porter among its students. "Shortly before W.W.I. Sam's eyes became affected to such an extent that blindness was narrowly averted. He and his brother gave up their conservatory at Marion and Sam went to live on a farm he owned near LaPorte. Eventually his sight was restored and he went to Chicago where he opened a private piano studio. Despite the fact that he had spent the greater part of his life in the pursuit of music, it suddenly palled on him; he closed his piano and entered the insurance business, in which he became highly successful.

JIM WHITE '28 and his wife Mary were privileged to have one of the last private audiences with ailing Pope John XXIII before his death and were much impressed by the Poniff's warmth and kindliness. Standing beside His Holiness is the famed Msgr. Ryan who taught him English with a brogue and later became an Irish bishop. The Whites said Notre Dame men should feel at home in the Vatican, since 85 per cent of administrative personnel are reported to be of Irish extraction.

"He was always loyal to ND and could spend hours telling younger men of the University as he had known it. From early boyhood he was a favorite of the late PROF, JAMES F. EDWARDS and was a close friend of the late BROTHERS ALENANDER, LAWRENCE and ALPHONSUS, C.S.C. He had known the last as PAUL SWEET, a fellow student in Carroll Hall.

"Mrs. Nussbaum died four years ago. Sam is survived by his daughter. Mrs. Dayton Brown of San Diego, and a son, Hamilton Jr. He was 95 years old."

JOHN T. KEARNS '29, shown with wife Ruth and daughter Rosemary at the Class party after the Wisconsin game, has a son, James, as a sophomore member of Alex Wilson's IC4A championship crosscountry team. Another son, John '58, and daughter Ann both intended to be married before the end of this year. The Kearnses live in Champaign, Ill., where Ruth teaches. The passing of a prep schooler of the Nineties was recently reported to FR. CHARLES CAREY by his son. A. J. RUMELY SR., an Academy grad of '94, died in September in LaPorte, Ind. His son, who succeeded him upon his retirement as president of LaPorte Foundry Co., reported his age as 87.

RED SMITH '27, in his national column following the ND-Wisconsin game, coupled tributes to Coach HUGH DEVORE '34 and parent STAN MUSIAL with a story on two other Irish baseball players: "Without even venturing into the cozy confines of Boston's Fenway Park, where it was raining, CARL MICHAEL YASTRZEMSKI, left field, completed his third big league season with an overlapping grip on the batting crown of the American League. . . The Boston strong boy may be the first player ever to win a big league batting championship while still attending college. . . . The big leagues have had a couple of pretty handy batsmen before Yastrzemski who earned their letters on the campus. One was ADRIAN CON-STANTINE ANSON (circa 1870), first baseman and manager of the Chicago Nationals for 19 years. . . Cap Anson won the batting championship four times . . and still holds the National League record of hitting .300 or better for 20 years. . . CY WILLIAMS, B.S. in architecture, Class of '12, twice led the National League in home runs and twice tied for the lead. . . ."

WILLIAM J. CUSACK, who since 1923 has been practicing law in Los Angeles, California, writes that he expects to be on hand for the 50th reunion of the Class in June of next year, though if the football team this year had not played Stanford in California we should not have been surprised to find him at one of the "Cal." games here this part fall.

Bill and Miss Elizabeth Gentle were married in Washington, D.C. in 1922. Now they live in Beverly Hills. It doesn't take too long for him to reach his law office, where he is still on the job, though his law office, where he is still on the job, though he understandably reports he is growing lazier and lazier each day. He and his good wife have three daughters, six grandsons and two granddaughters.

The above photo of him was taken from a passport of last July, but Bill doesn't tell us how much trotting around the globe he has done.

Recently, when we heard from FRED GUS-HURST who wrote from his home in Denver, he was too much of his old quiet self to tell about the part he had in the '14 football team when he played on the "first string" as one end while Knute Rockne held down the other end. So when Dorais made one of his famous passes it might have been Fred Gushurst doing the receiving instead of Rockne. But Fred does modestly remark that "after all it was our Class which put Notre Dame in the national athletic spotlight."

After graduating from Notre Dame he returned to his home town of Lead, S. D., and not too long after that, married Teresa Garlock of Custer, S. D. For a while he helped in his father's mercantile business and then following his service in the army was athletic director for the South Dakota School of Mines for a few years.

In 1921 he moved to Denver where he was engaged for several years in the manufacturing business and finally ended up by operating a bowling center.

for Several years in the manufactures, because the finally ended up by operating a bowling center. Their eldest son, Clarence, who is a graduate of West Point, has three grown sons. Their daughter, Mary Teresa, a graduate of Denver Univ., has two teen-age boys while FRED, JR., a member of the Class of '46, has a master's from Columbia and two young daughters. All the family live now in Denver. Fred, Sr., writes that he is coming back for our fiftieth next June and wants to see again all the old gang who are left.

From the Alumni Office:

In Cleveland at the end of August, RAY T. MILLER exploded a bombshell when he resigned abruptly after more than a quarter century as chairman of the Cuyahoga County Democratic Party. Nettled by criticism of his appointments from one wing of the party, Ray (who had resigned thrice before and been talked out of it) resisted pleas and resolutions that he reconsider, and the temporary chairmanship went to DAN W. DUFFY '21, Ray's loyal vice-chairman of many years, who was chairman last year of Ray's gala Silver Jubilee testimonial.

I addressed a letter to all known living members of the Class of 1915 at Notre Dame. One purpose of the letter was to establish contact, if possible, with all living members. Another purpose was to attempt to arouse some interest among my fellow alumni in the forthcoming Golden Anniversary of our graduation-June 12-13-14, 1965. The address list I used was dated July, 1959, so

The address list I used was dated July, 1959, so as might be expected, some of the letters were returned unclaimed for want of a current address. One was marked "Deceased." This letter was addressed to REV. STANISLAUS KUSZYNSKI, C.S.C. It is possible that this information may have come to you from some other source. (Reported in 1960. Ed.) I had addressed a letter to RAYMOND JOHN

I had addressed a letter to RAYMOND JOHN SULLIVAN at New Hampton, Iova. His son, T. J. Sullivan at New Hampton informed me that his father had passed away in November, 1961. I was agreeably surprised to receive a letter from

I was agreeably surprised to receive a letter from HAROLD D. MADDEN who lives at 7123 Silvercrest Drive., Cincinnati 36, Ohio. He brought to my attention that despite the fact that he has always been known as Harold D. Madden, the records at Notre Dame carry him as Daniel H. Madden.

Harold informed me that he has five children, 26 grandchildren. His youngest son Bill has a Ph.D. from Michigan and received an AB at Notre Dame with the Class of 1947. He now teaches at Indiana University and recently lectured at Notre Dame. Harold is looking forward to seeing me and as many of his classmates as possible at ND in June, 1965.

I appreciated also receiving a letter from GEORGE N. SHUSTER, assistant to the president, extending an invitation to call on him on my next visit to the campus. That will be a real pleasure indeed—George is one of our most distinguished alumni—a credit to the Class of 1915. All, I am sure, know that he is back at Notre Dame. A note from LENNOX F. ARMSTRONG states

A note from LENNOX F. ARMSTRONG states that his residence address has been changed from 1122 Forest Avenue, River Forest, Illinois, to 203 So. Emerald Drive, McHenry, Illinois. He stated further that he is "still active in business, not retired."

A cheerful note from JOHN A. WELCH, Circle Tower, Indianapolis indicated that he is "proud of the tremendous growth, physical, moral and in learnin" of Notre Dame. "I will see you in June, 1965."

Our good friend and fellow alumnus, JUDGE RAYMOND J. KELLY sends word that he is retired from the practice of law for over a year but even so he did handle one real big case which was completed last March. Since then he and his good wife "spent three months vacationing in Europe and Africa (10 days in Ireland)." He assured me that he would try and contact members of the 1915 Law Class and encourage them to join their classmates on the Campus in June of 1965. Judge Kelly now resides at 18073 Fairfield, Detroit, Michigan.

Letters addressed to the following members of the Class of 1915 were returned unclaimed: EDWARD G. GUSHURST, M.D., JOSEPH J. HEALY and DAVID M. LIPPEATT. Will anyone knowing the current address or having information about these men, please communicate with the Class Sccretary. All alumni should keep in close touch with the University-to be aware of its tremendous growth and development. These are exciting days in the history of Notre Dame and every alumnus will want to share them in full measure.

From the Alumni Office:

Since he's resigned as chief U.S. delegate to UNESCO in order to devote all his time to the future academic development of Notre Dame, GEORGE SHUSTER still finds it difficult to avoid the national spotlight. Recent bonors include the national Newman Club Man of the Year award and praise from (of all people) Planned Parentbood Federation Chairman Donald Straus for his hosting the University's population symposium last year and inviting Planned Parenthood spokesmen.

SCHENECTADY — Principals for Universal Notre Dame Night included (from left): John F. Hurley '37, president of the Schenectady ND Club; Rev. Louis Thornton C.S.C., '29, guest from the campus; ND Man of Year and Mrs. D. Vincent Cerrito.

THOMAS A. HAYES, one of the "Hayes boys" mentioned in the 1917 column among the Fort Wayne Central Catholic Class of 1913, has more story than his law practice and Internal Revenue Service work in Grand Rapids, including an alumnus son, THOMAS A. HAYES, JR. '54.

1917 Edward J. McOsker 525 N. Melrose Ave. Elgin, Illinois

From the Alumni Office:

The Fort Wayne, Ind., edition of Our Sunday Visitor recently carried a nostalgic story on the 50th anniversary of the first graduating class of Fort Wayne's Central Catholic High School, seven boys who debated the question of women's suffrage in Indiana: "Women in the state can be ever grateful for the outcome. It was affirmative and a Constitutional Amendment followed some years later. . . Though relatively few normally went on to college after high school in those days, Central Catholie's first class must be considered unusual. . . . JIM HAYES, TOM HAYES, JEROME MIL-LER and EUGENE O'CONNELL all went to the University of Notre Dame. Both Hayes boys became lawyers. Jim was connected with the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C., and at one time took care of Franklin D. Roosevelt's tax papers, among other things. Tom Hayes ('16) was with the Internal Revenue Service at Grand Rapids. Jerry Miller, who was in sales work here for many years, is now deceased. He was a close friend of lootball star GEORGE GIPP while at Notre Dame. Eugene O'Connell was a professor at Notre Dame at the time of his death a number of years ago."

We owe thanks to CHARLIE CALL for Golden Jubilee Class stationery. As yet I have not thanked him for it.

As for my trip west, I'll try to mention all those whom I contacted. Let's admit that I personally got more out of it than I put in it.

Going west, I missed Minneapolis-therefore did not contact JAMES A. STARK at 5436 Columbus Ave. At Spokane I tried to reach THOMAS D. MOTT, Jr., 511 Summer Ave.; had no luck via phone, but left word requesting him to write. At San Mateo, California, with the aid of the police, I reached BREEN McDONALD via phone, as he is not listed in phone books at the given address.

In Giympia, Wash., I contacted the old Hurdler himself-E. M. STARRETT. Had a very interesting couple of hours. He is looking great and enjoying the best of health. He promised that he would write and I imagine you have heard from him.

Must have overlooked LOUIS HELLERT at Portland. I'll blame Starrett for that—as he should have had me call Hellert. In Denver I contacted quite a few of the fellows. Missed DR. RENE RODRIGUEZ, as it was a holiday, but I left word for him to write you.

JAMES F. HANLON, noted for his getting special train loads of Denver fans to ND during the good old days, is still looking and hoping for a successful football team. Sweeney drove me over to Jim's home and we had a very nice visit. Hanlon is not as active as he once was, but he sure is looking good. This guy JAMES L. SWEENEV—maybe a little older—is the same genial guy he always was. Phoned him and had to wait so that he might pick me up and drive me around Denver to see its night lights. In the morning he called for me and we went over to Hanlon and from there to his home to meet his charming wife and family. It's a holiday, but come two o'clock Jim has a funeral (he has the reputation of burying 'em) and they are not Norwegians. Beh and Dixon asked me if he was still burying 'em and I'll state that he still is. Sweeney came out west to overcome an illness and he sure has—looks great and has a family and grandchildren.

At Council Bluffs I phoned ED McDONNELL. He stated that all that he was noted for around school was that he stayed at Corby and his roommate was a quarterback named Larkin. Promised he'd write. Had to phone the javelin thrower CARLETON D. BEH. You do and you'll get a command to come right over to the Beh Building, center of town. You may have to get fingerprinted before they'll let you in to see Mr. Big B., but once in-the place is yours. We had a very nice and interesting bull session. With coffee right in the office, Carleton looks great and his two sons working with him are real chips off the "Old Man."

In Rock Island, Ill., I called GEORGE E. HAR-BERT and that was a command to stay where I was until he picked me up. That was the start of an enjoyable evening with him and his wife and dinner out on the town. He told me to be sure and call SHERWOOD DIXON as I had to go through Dixon to reach home. I called his office but he was out. I have a nice letter from Sherwood, sent to me via BILL BRADBURY as Dixon did not have my address, and I have yet to answer it. However I'll be dropping in on him on my way to see George Harbert—who I have learned is another camera nut.

That's about all that I have to write about my trip west—other than that I made over six thousand miles getting around twenty-seven miles per gallon of gas with no tire trouble. I did replace a clutch first day out. Other than that no trouble with the car (Falcon).

The Washington Star and other D.C. newspapers The Washington Star and other D.C. newspapers devoted scores of column inches to the death of CHARLES M. One eulogy ran: "Charles Michael Egan, who has just left us to fill in his old friend KNUTE ROCKNE on recent developments, was the kind of newspaperman that people in the business aren't likely to forget in a hurry. He barked at and chewed on his reporters-cityside or sports-but he was the editor who banged his big fist on the desks of higher editors, and even owners, in defense of the same entors, and even owners, in defense of the same personnel. . . . Once a cub sports writer answered a telephone call from a subscriber who answered a telephone call from a subscriber who wanted to know when the Senators last won a pennant. 'Brokers Tip's year!' letters from my fellow classmates. Let's "give" a little, boys!

BEN KESTING called this week and mentioned that PAUL HARTMAN of Pittsburgh died. I am sure that like those who felt a great loss, this same feeling will be shared by many of Paul's classmates. Paul was at the last reunion and he had a great time reminiscing with all his fellow engineers. Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Hartman and, of course, our Class Mass will be said for Paul as well as the Mass by the Alumni Association.

I was also sorry to hear from the Alumni office that HERMAN CENTLIVRE's wife passed away. I would like to extend the sympathy of the class to Herm and his family.

This beginning is being dictated on my tape hile traveling on the Ohio Turnpike between while traveling on the Ohio Turnpike between Cleveland and Toledo. In a few days (at this point of the writing) we will have our first football "picnic" for the class of '25 and from the reports I get from Jim Armstrong as to those who have indicated they will be there and have asked for tickets for the parking lot, it looks like a real "Hootenanny."

Last week, while in Canton, I paid a visit to the professional football "Hall of Fame." I can recommend your paying a visit to this wonderful memorial to many football immortals, living and dead. You '25ers would be particularly proud and interested in the fact that the following classmates were here in pictures or represented in some way in the "Hall of Fame": ELMER LAYDEN, DON MILLER, HARRY STUHLDREHER and "RIP" MILLER, HARRY STUHLDREHER and "RIP" MILLER. These fellows were on hand, of course, when they had the dedication, and I know Stuhl-dreher and, I believe, "Rip" Miller attended when they lifted the first shovel of ground. All the "Four. Horsemen" Horsemen" were there, as well as that famous "seventh mule," "Rip." Naturally, Rockne, Gus Dorais, Milner and many, many other Notre Dame notables are shown in pictures in this beautiful (both inside and out) building on a lovely landscaped hillside on the outskirts of Canton, Ohio. If you are ever passing by, stop in and take a "look." With the football season coming up, again, at this writing, I hope to see many of our classmates at the games at Notre Dame, Lansing and New York, as my "better half" and I plan to take in these games, "God willing." BEN KESTING and I were senior citizen golfers at a recent golf tournament the Toledo Notre Dame Club held at Heatherdowns Country Club. We won't talk about our score, but we did have a good time.

I understand that DON MILLER is going to be "father of the bride" in a very short time for the third time in the last few years. The "father of the bride" for Don is old stuff. Speaking of brides and grooms, Mr. and Mrs. RAY TILLMAN are building a new home on the River Road in Mau-mee, Ohio, and they will have been "at home" to their classmates in October. I ran into Ray and Mar-garet when they were busy shopping for "goodies" in the line of furniture for their new home. . . . Our "Parking Picnic" was a lot of fun. Among those present, including their families, were LEO POWERS, GEORGE LAUGHLIN, TOM GOSS; WARD McCARRON from Fort Lauderdale, Florida; FRANK HOWLAND, DON MILLER, JIM ARMSTRONG, RAY TILLMAN, JACK COURT-NEY, CY CALDWELL, HERMAN CENTLIVRE, and JUDGE CASEY from Batavia. I brought George Hahn, my brother-in-law. George was at Notre Dame during our year and has three sons who went to Notre Dame. Mike Dufficey and Steve Ronay joined our fun as they passed by. i'm sure I could have missed someone. I under-stand WALTER CYR, HARRY STUHLDREHER and PAUL ROMWEBER, and I'm sure some others, "got lost." I hope they find "the lot" in 1964.

As you might expect, with the mounting toll of deaths of our classmates the last few months, might be well to send a few dollars in to HANK WURZER for our Mass fund because we want to keep those spiritual benefits coming to our classmatcs and we can better afford to give to this fund now than we could a few years back. So, don't forget to write HENRY WURZER, c/o Black Hawk Hotel, Davenport, Iowa, and let's get a few letters off to your secretary so that he knows you are still on earth.

JOE LENIHAN, our V-P for the East, is en route to the South and an anticipated visit with MICKEY McMAHON, another vice-president of the Class of ²29. Would you care to bet that the June 12-13-14 Class Reunion was not a topic of discussion?

the permanent property of the Class. FATHER JOE BARRY, C.S.C. has not been on the TV screen with the football team this fall, but his press agent keeps him in the public eye. Inadvertently, Father's name erroneously appeared in a recently mailed roster of the Class on the page alive. He wrote recently "I'm sorry that I have a meeting to attend which conflicts with your Oct. 12 alter-game reunion. FATHER (THOMAS) LANE'S (C.S.C.) death was a real shock. I offered Mass for him after I received the word."

COL. JOHN HINKEL tipped the office on a story in the National Observer about JOHN KIM, former student from Korea who left to work with the late DR. The Colonel re-cently returned from a five-week visit to Europe with Mrs. Hinkel, including two weeks in Spain for the first time since he covered the Civil War there for the N. Y. Times, plus Lourdes and a week in Berlin, where he took more than 300 pictures of the infamous Wall, returning to lecture reservists in Washington on the situation. John is Washing-ton chief for Kelly-Sanders-Hinkel, Inc., public relations.

Finally, erstwhile '29er GERALD BILL should be proud of his two sons, Tony '62 starring in "Come Blow Your Horn" and "Soldier in the Rain," and John, a senior and already a professional singer with N.D.'s "Four Winds." Tony, incidentally, recently married a girl named Toni. If they are doubly blessed, Grandpa Bill may have to worry about "which Tony has the twins."

One of my faithful correspondents is JIM McQUAID, who always sends a report on his return to the campus for the annual retreat. He spent an hour with JIM ARMSTRONG and indicated we will be hearing many interesting things from him. Jim and his wife, Marie, in addition to running the bookstores at Vincennes University, are cooperating with their local Chamber of Commerce in getting out a new Guidebook on Historic Vin-cennes. Jim, still in the magazine subscription business, thanks all those good classmates who have taken the time to route their gift and renewal sub-scriptions through him. Be sure to remember him on any of those late Christmas gift changes or emergencies.

I had a letter from DON O'TOOLE concerning BILL TAYLOR, who had moved to Flossmoor, Ill. After living there about three months, Don advises, Bill was suddenly taken with a heart attack and died within a few minutes. This occurred about a year ago. I have had no previous news of Bill's a year ago. I have had no previous news of bits death from the Alumani Office. I have received a notice from the University telling of the death of WILLIAM B. DR. RICHARD R. BAKER, '31, '34, '41 "Three-Time Loser" Explodes a Myth

It is an academic truism that a scholar who takes all three degrees from one university is not only persona non grata at his own alma mater but has three strikes against him at other institutions; hence today's mad scramble to "mix" one's scholastic pedigree with degrees from two or three top schools. But Dick Baker, with bachelor's, master's and doctorate from Notre Dame, has gone far toward exploding that myth as one of the most respected like he did during school days. This is very interesting, that Frank should turn up again, as 1 had put out a feeler as to his whereabouts in the ALUMNUS previously. During my visit east, I had lunch with EDDIE RYAN and he had asked me if I had ever had any trace of Frank on the West Coast. Today being the 12th of October, the RAYMOND F. COLLINSES are celebrating their welding anniversary in Kalamazoo visiting the JERRY DESMONDS, whose second daughter is being married today. My wife and I had dinner with the GIL SEAMANS who have moved from Oak Park to the Carl Sandburg Terrace Apartments on the near north side of Chicago. This will mean no more climbing steps for Gil, who has made wonderful recovery from his heart attack of a year ago. I also talked to BILL LEAHY, who reports seeing BEN OAKES in Chicago on business re-cently. WALTER CAHILL's daughter will be married in November. While in the Loop I made good my promise to visit GENE COYLE, Director of Internal Revenue for the Northern Illinois Dis-trict. Gene has returned to Chicago after an absence of 15 years. His son is now a student at Notre Dame. Due to business I had to miss the Wisconsin-Notre Dame pre-game luncheon at Wie-boldt's on Friday the 27th. I had hoped to see many of my friends there.

I also visited the Notre Dame Club of Chicago Office and had a chance to say farewell to Marian Korrell, one of the girls who handled club office activities for many years. I particularly appreciated her assistance during my five-year tenure of office as club treasurer and I am sure every affair chairman is grateful for her help in making their tasks easier. Marian, thanks from those '31 men who held office or ran affairs when you were there to help them. I am sure the present regime properly remembered and thanked you for your many years of service to the club.

The TOM ASHE Travel Agency trip to the Stanford-Notre Dame game has been sold out for some time. Please remember to send a report of the various games you may attend and visits with other classmates. This has been written on a warm sunny faculty members at the University of Dayton and a celebrity of educational radio and television.

In October Dr. Baker, professor of philosophy at Dayton, was named to the toplevel Academic Council, the only layman below the rank of dean or director ever appointed. Also in October he began a series of educational telecasts on "Great Philosophers of the Western World," a 13-week series covering philosophers from Plato to Hegel. And he has gained a measure of nationwide fame as official pronouncer for the annual National Spelling Bee, held each spring in Washington, D.C.

A native of Dayton, Dick also went to school in Toledo, Lima, Detroit and Cleveland before getting his A.B. and M.A. at Notre Dame. He taught at Nazareth College, Mich., from 1937 to 1945, becoming assistant professor of philosophy when he won his Ph.D. and subsequently teaching at that rank for two years at St. Mary's College, Calif., and at Dayton for another year before appointments as associate professor in 1948 and full professor in 1958. At Dayton he has served as chairman of the Lay Faculty Council, vice-chairman of the Faculty Forum and commencement speaker, winning the coveted Alumni Faculty Award this year before his unprecedented ad personam appointment.

A frequent contributor to educational journals with articles on philosophy, religion and international law, he was East Central Conference chairman for the American Catholic Philosophical Assn. and is a popular panelist and moderator on educational TV. In 1937 he married Martha Jane Foose, and the Bakers now live in Dayton with a son and four daughters, two of them Dayton students.

EUGENE G. RAU, '33 After the Moles, Back Digging Holes

Winding up his term this year as president of The Moles, association of the outstanding heavy construction contractors and engineers in the U.S., Gene Rau of Westfield, N.J., has gone back with a vengeance to his first love — heavy excavation and construction — as executive vice-president and chief engineer for J. Rich Steers, Inc.

Born in the heart of New York — East 55th Street — Gene has been a resident of New Jersey since he was eight years old. In 1929 he matriculated at Notre Dame, and four years later, with a degree in civil engineering, found employment with the Steers organization on railroad and subway construction for the Pennsylvania Railroad in Newark. Starting as a material checker, he worked into engineering within a year and in 1936 was made field engineer for another Pennsylvania R.R. job in Linden, N.J.

In 1940, after a couple of years of desk work in the New York office, he went to the Brooklyn Navy Yard as design engineer for dock construction and supervised construction until the summer of 1943, when he enlisted as a Lieut. (j.g.) in the Navy Civil Engineer Corps. After a year of drydock construction in California, he shipped out to the South Pacific for 19 months as executive officer of a Seabee detachment assembling floating sectional battleship drydocks in various advance bases. Rejoining Steers after V.J. Day, he was a designing engineer in the New York office. In 1948 he was named vice-president and chief engineer. He has supervised bridge, dock and plant construction all along the East Coast, in South America, Europe, Africa and Greenland.

Gene is married and has two children, Carol Ann, 16, and William, 15. His moving and touching letter to the president of our Class was read at our Class Dinner. It bears repetition here, especially for those who did not have the good fortune of returning for the Reunion. Father Coughlin wrote: "In the intervening years maturity and success have come to most of us, together with an immeasurable fund of grace which, I trust, all of us will acquire from holding fast to the principles taught to us by our parents and our spiritual guides at Notre Dame.

Patty, the youngest child (14) and the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. JAMES J. O'BRIEN, is becoming Pittsfield's most promising feminine golfer. In her first try for the Allied junior championship of Berkshire County in July, Patty walked away with the top honors, shooting an 84. Patty has played in two national amateur junior tournaments—last year at Buffalo, N. Y., she lost her match on the 17th hole to a 17-year-old. In February she won the Catholic Youth Center's junior Ping-Pong championship without losing a single game in four matches, defeating a field of 22 boys --the first time a girl had won. One complaint, one check, one notice, one reservation for the 30th reunion and a lot of happy words followed in the wake of our 25th reunion. Plus bundles of returned questionnaires, hooray! The complaint was from BILL McNAMARA whose name The was omitted from the reunion list and now has lost weekend to explain to his wife. Bill, BOB DERENGOSKI and other lawyers who got their degrees a year later are victims of an alumni filing system that is done with the eye and not the heart, but is being corrected whenever possible. The check was from BILL MAHONEY, O.P., from his Domini-can House of Studies in River Forest, to help the reunion committee balance the books or a glassas the situation dictates, he indicated. The reservation for the next reunion came from CHUCK BEASLEY, who missed the reunion because of a bum back. The notice is from DON HICKEY, who says he has extra reunion memoriam programs if you want.

CHUCK BEASLEY reported that his son is a reshman at N.D. this year. He also sent the sad news of ED BARTNEIT's death June 23rd as a result of an ulcer and ruptured esophagus. Ed's father later sent me his obituary and included a freshman composition excerpt about Notre Dame which said: "I have never regretted it (choosing Notre Dame); it seems to me to be perfect in every way. It was very good for me to get far away from home and associate with fellows from all parts of the country. From them I have learned many viewpoints, types of fellows, ways of doing things, opinions on many subjects, and even dialects, that would be impossible to discover in any other way. I fully expect my next three years here to educate me in every way far more than 1 had dreamed pos-sible last summer." Ed worked as a reporter for the N. Y. Times almost ever since leaving N.D. and left two daughters whom Ed's father asks that we remember in our prayers. His father concluded: "It brings us some measure of consolation to re-

There he visited with TOM HEALY and HANK LEADER. Carleton also mentioned that JIM McCARTHY, the New Haven lad who mar-ried Mary Agnes Crepeau of South Bend, wrote the introduction to one of Chet Huntley's programs called "Mobilization for Youth."

Which reminds me that on a trip to Washington, D.C., in October with the Chamber of Commerce, wherein I had a chance to shake hands with that Harvard boy who keeps asking about the Victory March on records all the time, I had dinner with DR. JIM CORCORAN and JOHNNY BRAD-DOCK.

This column will be a short one for the simple reason that you '41ers have not furnished your old and balding secretary with any news; nor has any-body contributed dues since the last list published. You might say our status is static!

However, there are a couple of tidbits of informa tion that the class might enjoy reading. One of them concerns RICHIE MEAD, who like your scribe is an Air Force Reservist, and who works in the Big City, also. Richie phoned me in July to tell me that he believed he would be the latest and perhaps the oldest member of the class to become a father again; his daughter, Sheila, made her debut into this weary world on July 9. Now, it would have been magnanimous and charitable on my part to accept that event without further ado. However, to accept that event without further ado. However, since I am the oldest member of the class (is that right, AL Del ZOPPO?) I had to maintain my seniority in all matters. So, your scribe and his lovely new wife, Eve, became parents of a brand new son, James F., Jr., on September 9th. Maybe he will be N.D. of 1985!! Sorry, Richie!! The class extends congratulations to Rich, his wife and their newast. Incidentally Rich is creasited with W B.

JOHN SOONG, '41 Mei Foo for the Lamps of Hong Kong

More than 25 years ago John Soong boarded a slow boat from China for Notre Dame. Last summer he jetted back to Hong Kong as general manager of Mei Foo or "Beautiful Confidence," local name for the Hong Kong branch of Socony Mobil Petroleum Co. Back in the U.S. for a three-month training tour, he was interviewed by the New York Times and other papers on his important assignment and colorful personal history.

Born in Husan province and reared in Peiping, John left Hong Kong in 1937 with a scholarship at Notre Dame. He won a B.S. in accounting and an M.B.A. from the U. of Chicago (supporting himself as a bus boy, waiter, even mowing lawns and digging ditches) and was inducted into the U.S. Army before he became a citizen. Naturalized during basic training at Keesler Field, he entered officer training and was assigned as a lieutenant to Air Force intelligence. His knowledge of the Far East led to being stationed in the China-Burma-India theater.

Based in Kunming, at the China end of the Burma Road, he met and married a lovely refugee from Shanghai in 1944. A major at war's end, he became aide and interpreter for Gen. George C. Marshall on his mission to negotiate a coalition government in China.

In 1947 John became an accountant for Stanvac in Shanghai. When the city fell to the Communists in 1949, he stayed on to protect the Stanvac interests. After the outbreak of the Korean conflict it became impossible to do business in China, and John was forced to liquidate. Transferred to Hong Kong in 1953, he became accounting manager in 1956. Last year he was named general sales manager for Mobilpet in Hong Kong.

Now, as general manager, John has accepted the formidable challenge of the teeming crown colony, quadrupled in size in 20 years, with mainland refugees swelling the population to nearly four million in less than 400 square miles. Mobil's 24 stations supply thousands of gallons of fuel to the island's 60,000 land vehicles, countless fishing craft in the harbor, and the lamps and stoves of its citizens.

REOUIEM FOR NO. 17 It is not yet 17 years since we graduated, and already we have lost the 17th of our number to untimely death: PHIL DELINCKE died Aug. 1, according to word received here from his widow, Dot.

A polio victim in the early '50's, Phil really made the most of his sedentary existence by travelling to and from his engineering work each day, holding down a few on-the-side chores for extra income, and still finding the time to take additional studies to keep abreast of changing developments. He loved Notre Dame and one of his great regrets

He loved Notre Dame and one of his great regrets was his inability to return for a visit in the inter-vening years. He was with us in spirit, though, during our 1962 reunion since it was he who named our mascot ThorNDuck. And he treasured the black-and-gold N.D. drinking mug we sent him as prize, along with the revised edition of RICHARD SULLIVAN'S Notre Dame.

SUPPORT THE MOOSE

As you probably know by this time, our own ELMER "MOOSE" MATTHEWS has been nomi-nated for director of the Alumni Association and we urge your unanimous support of his bid for the post. No '47-er has ever served on the board and we have an opportunity to help one of our own represent us among the policy makers of the alumni organization.

As this is written, the Moose is running a hard race for state senator in his native Jersey; I hope we can report success for him in both campaigns in our next issue.

WILLIAM G. MAHONEY, '47 Big City Beat for RFE Bureau Chief

Bill Mahoney, shown above as chief of Radio Free Europe's Berlin news bureau, taping interviews at the Berlin "wall of shame" for broadcast behind the Iron Curtain, was recently named to head the organization's bureau in Vienna, effective November 15.

A native of Millbrook, New York, Bill joined the private, anti-Communist radio network in its Munich headquarters in July, 1962. Before moving to the Berlin post last June, he covered NATO conferences in Paris and later served in the RFE Rome bureau. Like his namesake in the Class of '38 who is U.S. ambassador to Ghana, Bill seems to thrive on travel. Prior news service, before joining RFE, includes reporting work on daily papers in Binghamton, Schenectady and Buffalo; bureau chief in the Munich and Frankfurt bureaus of Stars & Stripes; and reporter for UPI and the Paris edition of the New York Times.

Since graduation from Notre Dame, he has also studied at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland. Mrs. Mahoney is the former Elizabeth Meyer of Munich, Germany.

The Berlin and Vienna news bureaus are part of Radio Free Europe's news-gathering network, which includes other bureaus in London, Paris, Stockholm, Brussels, Bonn, Athens and Rome as well as in New York City and Washington, D.C.

RFE programs are on the air 18 hours a day to Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and five hours daily to Rumania and Bulgaria. Total news input from all sources handled by the central newsroom in Munich averages more than a million words a day.

Few of us are, or have been, closer to the Commu-nist menace than LUIS BELTRANENA in Guatemala; as general manager of his country's National Coffee Assn., he is coffee ambassador-at-large and qualified to comment on the broad picture in Latin Âmerica.

He writes of the March coup which ended the fivereceived of the March coup which ended the hyp-year term of President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes: "It was no surprise to me, although from my observations during the Costa Rica Conference of Presidents I had gathered the impression he could last at least until the elections scheduled for November. I had assumed, however, that the meet-ing of Presidents should have included a number of ing of Presidents should have included a number of secret agreements for the following purposes: a) effective measures to stop Communist infiltration in Central America; b) some concerted, courageous action to oust the Reds from Cuba and eliminate altogether their influence in this hemisphere; c) effec-tions the secret of the theorem of the secret of the secret of the secret in the secret of the secret of the secret of the secret of the secret and the secret of the secret tive measures to adjust the price structure of raw materials and agricultural products in order to give a real boost to our economics, largely affected by the decline in coffee prices and the increase in the cost of finished products we must buy. In this situation you may find more reasons for the economic slump in Latin America rather than in any other area.³

He sizes up Ydigoras: "His administration was characterized by disorder, leniency toward internal Communism while he boasted of his anti-Commu-nism for foreign consumption, disrespect for authority, and overall a lack of seriousness and consistency in the resolution of the vital problems of govern-ment. On the other hand, he proved to be the great promoter of the Central American market ...folksy and foxy...courageous beyond be-lief, a good family man, and a shrewd businessman lief, a good family man, and a shrewd businessman who apparently took enough money in percentages to make your Washington five percenters look like apprentices. In short, I personally think Ydigoras was the greatest thing that ever could happen to a Graustarkian country. . ." though the coup had more popular support than any election for "any election under him would have ended in civil strife ord a let of blowdebad. and a lot of bloodshed. . ."

'Communism is one thing and poverty and misery another. The latter must be fought as a matter of principle, as Christians by all possible means, regardless of the former, which is a political conspiracy directed from outside this hemisphere. All worthy projects to raise the standard of living of our people should be given a try and we are endeavoring to further several, seriously planned; and for that we need honest administrations. The old criteria of dictatorship to topple Latin-American governments should be disposed of, and the alliance should try to work with the best people available, with the people who have the knowledge and training and not to fight the ablest people of Latin America as if they still were feudal lords or cattle and coffee barons.

"The majority of the useful young people of Latin America are scions of the families who have contributed to the creation of wealth and are the ones who have the education; they are the ones who know how to work effectively . . . the executives, the potential organizers. Also, you have take into consideration the riotous emerging middle class and get the best out of it. Otherwise, take the young Indian kids, ship them in droves to school abroad and get rid of the wealthy classes, exactly as Castro did; and then, in another hundred years, have a new or different Latin America. you may "I shall keep you posted about anything im-rtant." FIFTEENTH YEAR REUNION REGISTRANTS: (in case you missed 'em last time)

All the above had a terrific time at the 15th Reunion of the Class of 1948 and our thanks go out to BILL BONWICH, who was the chairman on Campus and who did such an outstanding job in arranging for our appetite and comfort. We hope that we have not omitted anyone who may have told his better half that he was reunion bound and now his name is conspicuous by its absence. It could have happened, you know, that a name was missed, and we'll confirm attendance if necessary.

The Class of 1948, which was one of the largest graduating classes in this era, was very poorly represented at this reunion. Our attendance was outnumbered by all reunion classes except the 35th and 50th Reunion groups. We had about 7.55¢ of our class on hand and we missed everyone who was not there because they missed a good weekend of fellowship. A Reunion Weekend is something that all the Class should do all they can to attend. Once they do, they will look forward to each such gathering. A wonderful way to reminisce about the old days, talk about today and think about the future! All as informal as can be!

You will note that as of now you have a new Class Secretary. At the reunion word was received from JOHN DEFANT that he was unable to continue in this position because of many demands made upon his time for personal and business reasons. It was with regret that we heard this, because John had done a very good job in a very difficult position. It is not easy to have news of interest to the class if news is not forthcoming, and a column like this is as successful as the members of the class want it to be, that is, by funneling information in for publication. Recalling how much you personally have submitted in the last 15 years will give you an idea of how much information is obtainable. The April 1960 Newsletter was a very comprehensive work that John did and was most commendable. This did not receive 100% cooperation, but everyone who received it certainly must have read every bit of it. We look forward to your help in keeping this column interesting. Don't be afraid to blow your own horm, because that is the only way we know what you are doing so we can tell the others.

It might be interesting to tell you how I got this Class Secretary hot seat, those of you who did not attend the reunion. Well, before the Alumni Dinner at the North Dining Hall, word leaked out that John was resigning. A few representatives of the Class from the East met in the smoke-filled corridors of Howard Hall, and that caucus set up the nomination of yours truly, the seconding of the nomination and the closing of the nominations. The chairman, DR. BILL BONWICH, was in the delegation's hip pocket and was all set up to ramrod the election through. At the meeting, when the announcement was made of the need to replace your Class Secretary, a delegation led by LARRY RYAN, which was not aware of the setup, placed the name of "JOE WILCOX" in nomination for the position. This seemed like a phoney name, and when it was requested that "the real Joe Wilcox stand up" be could not be found. This paved the way for the swinging of the convention to the Keenan Bandwagon. It was a little nip-and-tuck as some outspoken insurgents tried to seize the floor, but they were subdued by the Sergeants-at-Arms led by HANK DIGIROLAMO, RUSS FARRELL, BRUIS-ER KENNARD, TOM HIGGINS, BUNKY RE-GAN, etc.

We are pleased to report that a great time was had by all and that in the past 15 years the campus as we knew it has undergone some real changes. It is prettier than ever and to really see it would take the better part of a day. The new Memorial Library is rising into the clouds, and for the want of a better description it was commonly referred to as "the grain elevator with an air conditioner on top." Of course, the Class of 1948 is not much of a judge of libraries, because when it came time for our Class picture to be taken on the steps of the group did not know where the Library was, since they were not ever required to take departmental history exams and stand in line to get a copy of one of the required readings. The same group had no trouble finding the Jolly Spot, Sweeney's Shamrock, Indiana Cafe, etc. We also found too that the Dining Hall has maintained its reputation and can still do to roast bef what no other dining establishment would ever do—the one area in which change has not taken place in 15 years.

The gross tonnage of the Class reunionites is about par with other years. Some of the real heavyweights were missed, fellows like HERB COLEMAN, TONY MISTRETTA, DICK ELLIOTT, FRANK DEBITETTO, etc. One member of the class who really carries a lot of weight these days is GENE DEAN. He started at N.D. as a 90 lb. weaking who was ashamed to wear gym shorts and then took the course and is now a trim 240. Gene is manager of labor relations with the American Gyanamid Company. In this same category but eligible for the award as the most improved is NEIL KELLY.

Conspicuous by their absence at our class reunions have been our class officers. LARRY RYAN has been on hand and, to make his presence known, ran off with about all the golf honors in the Alumni Tournament. Larry had the longest drive of 264 yards and the low gross. Our Class Treasurer, GEORGE BURNS, writes that he is in Paris at least until 1964. Anyone wanting to reach him: his address is 18 Avenue Mozart, Paris, 16, France. Also missed have been most of our award-winning classmates—the outstanding men of the class. We hope that for our 20th Reunion we will have more on hand. The activities of the days and evenings were en-

The activities of the days and evenings were enlivened by one of the most loved men of our class ZYGMONT PIERRE CZAROBSKI. Since leaving N.D. Zig has covered a lot of ground and still does. He has seriously taken up Karate and, attired in his ceremonial robes, he demonstrated many of the techniques of the ancient art. In addition to ability in this art he has also become an Honorary Polish Buddhist Monk. Zig told us many stories of the great football era that he was associated withstories previously untold which gave the insight as to what went on in the locker room before the crucial games and between the halves: his experiences after his last game against Southern California; his All-Ziggy, All-American football teams of Notre Dame '42 to '48. Zig had many a teary-eyed listener as he told these stories of the past with emotion (they came from his "pectoral cavity") and Zig twle.

and Zig style. LARRY TURNER brought along with him two very handsome aspiring Notre Damers, his two boys, Fred and Larry III. CORNY STYERS had his boy with him, and Corny proved he could still put in good time in the two mile run. He ran all the way from the North Dining Hall to Howard to get his car and ferry the cold cuts back, and this was after dinner. Also able to cover a lot of ground in little time is DICK STACK, who came to the reunion in his own Beechcraft airplane. Dick is in the insurance business in Appleton, Wis. Coming a long distance and taking longer to do it but also an insurance man is GEORGE KENNARD, now residing in Miami. LEO COSTELLO and JACK "BUNKY" REGAN drove out from New Jersey together. Leo is the proud father of three boys and four girls. In his spare time he is vice-president of the Lakeview Savings and Loan Association in Paterson, N. J. "Bunky" is a production manager for MGeTegor Sportswear. JIM LEDWITH left the FBI and is now selling

JIM LEDWITH left the FBI and is now selling Catholic literature to parochial schools. In these days it would be pretty tough selling it to the public schools, and Jim seems quite happy dealing with the good Sisters instead of chasing the lawbreakers. LARRY WOODS is now in his own business in New Britain, Conn., and another classmate from Connecticut of Bengal Bout fame, BOB SATTI from New London, looks as trim as when he was tossing the leather around. Our creat football era was represented by

Our great football era was represented by GASPAR URBAN, ZIGGIE CZAROBSKI and GEORGE TOBIN. Not a member of any of the great ND teams, but showing form that surely could have been used, was JOHN PATTERSON. He gave an example of a flying wedge the likes of which hasn't been seen at ND in many a year and this was after a full evening and a tough day. JACK COONEY and JOE OTTOOLE had headquarters in their room for the all night revelry. There are reunion activities by day and night, and it is always necessary to have someone keep it going in the off hours. The burden on Jack and Joe was extremely hard this year because they were without their capable cohorts, PAUL HUSSAR and BEN SHEERAN. Last minute business matters kept this committee from completing its entire program, but it was successful in every effort. The absence of TOM HERBERT left us without a soloist to lead our choral group.

Acknowledging but unable to attend the Reunion were DAN GENTILE, who is with RCA in California, and LT. CMDR. M. J. DEUTCH who is at the Naval Supply Center at Pearl Harbor. Also unable to attend but wishing they could be on hand were AARON SEAMSTER, who is dean of pure and applied sciences at Northeast State College, Monroe, La., and LOU TWARDZIK who is in the department of resource development at Michigan State ment of resource development at Michigan State University. Unable to attend because of distance and good cause was REV. F. J. BUCKLEY, S.J. who is at the Gregorian University finishing a doctorate in theology. He sends his best regards to all classmates and can be reached at Via del Seminario 120, Rome.

Your Secretary is now with Westinghouse Electric International Co., in the Pan Am. Building in New York City. Television-Radio-Phonographs for the world markets are now my line. I have been in this business since leaving ND and this is my 10th year with Westinghouse. Export is something entirely new and very interesting. Prior to this I was with RCA and worked with DAN GENTILE out Iowa way.

Your reunion weekend broke up with many plans and ideas for our 20th get-together. Perhaps the 15th is an off year, but the 20th should be a big one. We have five years to plan it and, with the good Lord willing, we want to see as many on hand as can possibly make it. Anyone who has taken upon himself a reunion weekend has everything good to say about it. Its a wonderful time, and for $20 or so. its cheaper than staying home. It is not a retreat but a chance to get together with those you don't see often but whom you are glad to see. We'll be writing more about this as we go on, but the 5-year repeats come around fast so we like to keep by call repeats come around rate so we me to steep it in mind. Meanwhile, let me hear from you-about you and what else is new. There were a lot of beefs about the coverage of the Class of '48, but you members of the Class are what we have to talk and write about-it's up to you too.

CHARLES J. KALER, JR., '49 Texan, Twice Knighted, Now State Deputy

It has been a busy year in a busy decade for Charles Kaler. Recently named to the top office in the Texas Knights of Columbus, he got his first glimpse of the campus after 11 years in late August, on his return to Corpus Christi from representing his state at the K. of C. Supreme Convention in Milwaukee.

Last summer he was also selected as commencement speaker at Corpus Christi Academy, where he had been salutatorian of the Class of 1943. After W.W. II Navy service he was inducted in the Notre Dame K. of C. Council before taking his B.S. cum laude in Commerce. In 1950 he joined Carroll Jones Company, a Corpus Christi mortgage banking firm, and a year later married Martha Merritt.

As on the campus, leadership in business and lay religious activity seemed to go hand in hand. Now senior vice-president of Carroll Jones, in 1960 Pope John XXIII acknowledged his work for the Church by conferring the title K.S.G.-knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great.

Papal recognition followed such achievements as: encouraging vocations as a charter member and president of the Serra Club of Corpus Christi; ecumenical service as chairman of Brotherhood Week and Catholic chairman of the Corpus Christi Conference of Christians and Jews; philanthropy as a director of the Incarnate Word of Corpus Christi, a nonprofit foundation; and K. of C. work as Grand Knight of Council 1202, general program chairman of the State Council, district deputy and for two years secretary of the Texas Council. As deputy for Texas, he is also president and board chairman of the R. Conroy Scoggins Educational Foundation, chartered by the state for charitable activity.

As Carroll Jones vice-president he is also a partner in a general agency and a real estate investment company. A member of various insurance and mortgage banking associations, he remains an ardent hunter and football fan.

Bouquets are in order for ED McCARTHY, who so ally engineered the festivities for our ten-year reunion. I am still at a loss to understand how a couple of bucks per man provided an inexhaustible supply of booze and snacks for the cocktail party, but whatever the miracle we're all much indebted to Ed for his efforts.

A few of the brethren, heretofore long silent, have been heard from in recent weeks, and we report as follows: JOHN WATHEN owns and operates a grain and feed business in Madisonville, Kentucky, numbers six children in his family with an even split of boys and girls. ANDY WALSH is a C.P.A. with Haskins & Sells, and makes his home in New Monmouth, N. J., with wife and four. BILL WUETCHER is a dentist in Louisville, Ky. BUZZ WAGNER is director of public relations for Koppers in Pittsburgh. Buzz is married and has three children. DON VAN VOOREN is a physical therapist in Houston and, despite a household of five kids, has time to be a professional bowler. DR. BOB WARNER is a dentist practicing in Hamden. Connecticut. VIC WAGNER, whom I have had occasion to consult rather frequently, is a regional systems representative with IBM in Chicago. Vie lives in Palatine and has three small girls.

I recently ran into JIM GALLAGHER and we discovered that we are now practically neighbors. Jim and his two brothers operate Gallagher Asphalt in Thornton, Ill., and are busy building and rebuilding streets and highways in northern Illinois and Indiana. Jim has four children, and unhappily their only son is stricken with acute leukenia and not expected to live. I'm sure that our prayers for the little fellow would be most appreciated by Gal and his family.

Down where the sun shines all the time, JACK WHELAN is assistant to the president of Meekins-Bamman Prestressed Concrete Corp. in Miami, and has four children. Overseas, DON SENICH is a captain with the U. S. Army Construction Agency in Frankfort, having earned his MSCE at Jowa State. TOM VANDERBOSCH is chief of contract administration for Bendix Aerospace in South Bend. FRANK WOIDAT is a salesman with Pepperell Manufacturing Co. and lives in Elmhurst, Ill.

Among 60,000 fans at the So. Cal.—N.D. game we found ourselves seated near a number of familiar faces. Among them: ED CONDON, MARTY WEINER, JERRY O'CONNOR, DAVE McBRIDE, JACK MANNIX, JOE PACLIARI, CHARLIE STIMMING, PAT MONTROY, DAN HARDIN, and LOU BASSO.

Let's hear from you!!!

Milton J. Beaudine 76 East Court Dr. Decatur, Illinois

This article is directed to the 800 or so unfortunate '54 graduates who didn't make the June '59 fracas. Well, anyone can make a mistake (and 1 mean mistake), but come June 12-13-14 of '64 you'll get a 2nd chance at our 10-year reunion. There are good times and then there are good times, but class reunions cannot be described by mere words. If you're lucky you may get to 10 reunions in your lifetime. If you're already missed the first one, plan now to attend our ten-year reunion in June before 20% of the good times available have slipped by. Full details will be forthcoming. But by no means believe me—ask one of the 200 or so who attended the reunion in '59. See you in June! What would you think if I told you that BOB WRIGHT, BILL BURKE and BOB PODEN are valuation with a way and PAP (due yuire).

What would you think if I told you that BOB WRIGHT, BILL BURKE and BOB PODEN are planning to bring Jane, Lea and RoRo (their wives) to the reunion? Yes-our Notre Dame Reunion. Nah! They wouldn't-would they? Please send letters of indignation (post cards will do) to BOB WRIGHT, 1374 Rambling Hills Dr., Cincinnati 30, Ohio.

WRIGHT, 1374 Rambling Hills Dr., Cincinnati 30, Ohio. Our Class party after the Wisconsin game was really well attended. It could only have been better if DICK PILGER had picked the U.S.C. game instead. Many thanks again to Dick, and the E.E. Dept. Talked with JERRY TOOMEY and Margaret. It was Jerty's first time lack since graduation but he hopes to be back again in June. Off in the corner JOE BERTRAND and JERRY DIXON were talking Chicago politics. First time I'd seen Joe since '34 and he looked like he was still in pretty good shape. I shouldn't even mention JOE MESEC. He couldn't remember reading about himself after our '62 party. Joe has recently entered the life insurance business in Milwaukee. PAT ROONEY from Pittsburgh Town was there and getting a little pudgy. ART DEICKMAN was North on business from New Orleans and managed to make the game and party. Also MARTY VIETH, who's coaching still in Toledo. Marty says he's looking forward to seeing DON ZECH in June. JERRY "SEARS" KEATING made it up from Chi. DICK CASTELLINI and Madelane came up from Cincinnati with Wright and Burke although he doesn't plan on bringing Madelane to the June Reunion. ROCK MORRISEY was there as usual, DR. JOE JOYCE and Donna were there-missed JACK PIT-TAS, who was also looking around for the Greek.

JOHN SCHLOEGEL, in the security investments field in Milwaukee was there as well as to the U.S.C. game. Ruth and GEORGE PFLAUM (and George's sister and Hard Guy's brother-in-law) came over from Dayton. George is going to help with a class questionnaire which we'll get out after Christmas. JOHN LANDIG of chem. engineer fame and DICK EHR were also among the crowd. Among the regulars were Jane and JIM BERN-HART, Karen and BILL MOREY, Pat and BILL REYNOLDS, WALT WAGNER, CENE HOWLEY, DAN MUNSON, BOB ETTFLBRICK, Sally and PAUL KELLEY, Mary Ann and BILL CAVA-NAUGH and Sheila and NED SEIM. Sheila is a Wisconsin grad so you can imagine how hard the loss was for Ned. Faces in the crowd: BOB RICH, TOM MCDERMOTT, DICK SULLIVAN, TOM GODFREY, JOHN DARAGO and JOE D'ANTONI. RON MAZZOLI was getting thin, and DANA WEITHERS getting chubby (yes, fat). FRED MANGIALARDI (trucking exce) was up from Rockford. Good ole PAUL KRAUS came from Toledo, and PHIL BREHM asked that I give Green Bay a plug. (What's a green bay?) WALT NASHERT enjoyed the game after a diet of Southwest football in Oltahoma. Walt looked great, so did TOM MURPHY and newly promoted associate PROF. GENE HENRY. As I wandered around through the crowd at the party, I made all sorts of mental notes for this article but six martinis erased the whole works. (Some of the blanks filed in by DICK PIL-GER below.) Next time, Huh? Better you write.

GEK below.) Next time, Huh? Better you write. Jonathan Taylor Raith, May 30, born to the proud parents—Pat and FRANK RAITH. PAUL A. KELLY, M.D., 326 N. Ingalls, Ann Arbor, Mich. is practicing orthopedic surgery. With two boys and two girls, Paul and spouse were expecting No. 5 in August. Paul's planning on our June reunion. NORM McLEOD ('29) advised me of a BooBoo. "ACE" MCLAUGHLIN is long gone from Kroger Corp. Since graduation cum laude from Cleveland Marshall Law School, he's a master F.B.I. agent working out of Oklahoma City. A moment of silence and a tear or two for BILL

GUILFOILE and the New York Yankees. Received a nice letter from DICK "TINY" Received a nice fetter from DIGN "INY" MORAN's wife Mary (Bless you). Tiny remains his tiny self and is casework supervisor at the juve-nile court of Dade County (5031 S.W. 104th Ave., Miami 55, Fla. – home). Mary and Tiny claim Peggy 6, John 4, Kathleen 2 and Eileen 3 months as their contribution to the population boom. Tiny hasn't managed to get out of the Marine Reserves yet (see you at Gitmo).

FATHER DICK PAPEN C.S.C. '54, ordained in ⁷⁵⁸ dropped a line from the Holy Cross Mission House at N.D. where he's been on the Mission Band, House at N.D. where he's occur on the MISMON DAMA. ED PRUD'HOMME, Texarkana, Texas, is this the "PEPIN" you asked about? Prayers are requested for the father of THOMAS J. CAMPBELL, who died on August 2nd.

Remember June 12, 13, 14, 1963. See you there: in the meantime-write.

From DICK PILGER, Local Representative:

Third annual post-football gathering was a smashing success (one of our classmates-who shall remain nameless-dropped one glass and had another knocked from his hand). About 145 people at-tended and had a fine time (at least it SOUNDED like a good time!)

(Note to MILT BEAUDINE-Last year we voted to quit trying to pick a winning game but to pick good weather instead!)

The following members of the Class signed in. The following members of the Class signed in, most with wife and a number with other guests as well: CHARLIE ALLEN, DICK ASH, JAMES BAIRD, MILT BEAUDINE, JIM BERNHART, JOE BERTRAND, JOHN BIERGUSSE, LEON BLANK, BOB BLOOM, GEORGE BOEHM, PHIL BREHM, PETE BUCHEIT, BILL BURKE, DICK CASTELLINI, BILL CAVANAUGH, BILL CLARK, PHIL DALY, INF PUNTON' GOVIN-URACO. My apologies to anyone else I missed. GENE HENRY was a great help with the arrangements; I thank also all the people who let me know in advance that they were coming-the advance count was much closer to the actual this year (so we had plenty of supplies—except beer, on which we will do better next year). Let's plan on the opening home game (Purdue, Oct. 3) again next year; in the meantime, plan now for the 10th REUNION in June.

Some very sad news just reached me: RAY ONOFRIO died on October 15th of complications arising from a ruptured disc. Ray was with General Electric Company, Missile and Space Vehicle Division, in Philadelphia. He wrote a long letter on the back of the party reminder in which he mentioned two sons (6 and $1/_{2}$) and that he and Barbara were expecting a third child in October. I am having a Mass said in the name of the Class; the proceeds from the parties, while not large. have been enough to provide a fund for Masses for members of the Class-inform me of a death and I will make the arrangements.

Happier news came from JOE CAMPBELL, JR., who finally decided to bring us up-to-date on his whereabouts. Joe is living in Tampa, Fla., as southeast sales manager for Protex Industries, (concrete) and has had to buy a plane and get a private pilot's license to cover the territory. About the family, he writes, "I've been married since October 19, 1955 and 19, 1997 13, 1956 to Celeste Ann and our son Patrick was born on March 17, 1961-a true 'Fighting Irishman' born on March 17, 1961—a true 'rigning Irisiman born on St. Patrick's Day. He should be quarter-back about 1980 on the N.D. National Champion-ship Team." I'm glad Joe didn't say "the next N.D. National Champs"; I'm still optimistic! Joe closed by writing, "Hope to see you all next summer for the Tenth." On that note, I will close, too.

In October Tom McHugh started his eighth year as head football coach at Toledo's Central Catholic High, honored as Ohio's best coach, the first to win a state title for a Catholic school and, unofficially, as one of the best in the U.S.

At season's opening Tom had compiled a record of 50 wins, 16 losses and three ties. His teams have never finished lower than third place in the City League. In 1959 and 1961 they finished third; in 1956-57-58, second; and in 1960 and 1962, they took first place. In 1957 and 1960 Tom's teams were rated among the top ten in the state, and last year they were crowned Ohio's finest high-school football team and rated number two in the nation according to the National Sports News Service.

In 1962 Tom was named Ohio Coach of the Year and was selected to coach the North All-Stars in the annual North-South high-school game in Canton. O.

First, a note of thanks to all those who turned out first, a note of thanks to all those who turned but for the class cocktail party at the Morris Inn after the UCLA game. If all goes well, we hope to have a similar event each year after a game. We'll give you plenty of notice. In fact, watch the next issue of the ALUMNUS.

Letter of the cycle goes to FATHER JOE O'DONNELL. (In case of ties, all decisions go to the C.S.C.'s!) Father Joe reports that he spent the first year after ordination as a prefect and coun-sellor in a freshman hall while picking up his settor in a treshman nati white picking up its master's degree. Jerry Hughes made life difficult by threatening to write a letter to the freshmen in the hall, opening with this refrain—"I remember when Father O'Donnell. ..."

Father Joe now is in his third year as a member of the Holy Cross Mission Band, so you may run into him at your local parish. He covers the Midwest and West. He also preaches retreats at the Fatima Retreat House on campus and you can send any correspondence there.

While in the Cleveland area in June, Father Joe attended FATHER JIM SHERER'S first solemn Mass in Bowling Green. They had a reunion with TOM WELLY, JIM STEVENS and JOHN CON-NAUGHTON. He also had dinner in Cleveland with the late BILL BYRNE'S folks, who always are happy to see any of Bill's friends.

He added that MIKE KELLY also stops in periodically to sell a little oil. Mike probably a few prayers for a cold winter! LEE CREAN is with Universal Match in South Bend (besides CFM, civil rights committees and Republican politics) and stops in with his wife, Mary, to see Father Joe. LEM JOYNER, who started with us but finished alter us, lives with his wife and five boys in South Bend. He works at St. Christopher Workshop in Bremen, Ind., and Father Joe reports that he is an excellent designer and manufacturer of ecclesiastical art.

Many thanks, BERNIE SMYTH, for the kind words about this column. So far it's been a ball. When it gets to be a chore, Bernie, I'll send you the files! Ex-quarterback JIM BIGELOW is living in the Seattle area and gets paid by General Motors, a fairly reliable automotive firm. JIM TOOHEY, who works for General ĥrm. Here are a couple of notes from the academic front. JOHN WACK is back for another year in the history department at Wheeling College (W. Va.). His history classmate, JIM BERQUIST, has tackled the eastern scaboard with his Iowa wit through a post in Philadelphia's Villanova University history department. JOHN DERWENT, who picked up his doctorate in mathematics at the University this June, now is a math prof. back at school. BILL WALSH, one of the many '55ers still wearing Uncle Sam's finest woolens, can be reached at 1212 Norvell St., El Cerrito, Calif. Bill's a Navy lieutenant and recently received his "master of science in management-with distinction" from the Navy's postgraduate school in Monterey. He placed fifth in a class of 103. The Air Force and wife, Joan, has JERRY HUGHES studying international relations in California.

JIM PHILLIPS, according to Bill, got married in June at New London, Conn. Jim is a career submariner. Incidentally, Bill would like to hear from ROD CYRIER and JOE SMITH.

I hope he doesn't drink! Well, which one do you yote for? The winner will get my two ticket stubs from the Wisconsin game.

WALT CLEMENS, our professional foreign student, dropped me a note from the Center For International Studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He's doing research on Soviet arms control policy for the government. (Whose, Walt?) Walt has one child. Walt's old buddy, RAY KEN-NEDY, now is in Time's Boston bureau.

HARRY NIEMANN, who learned to prop a press card in his battered fedora with me in the journalism department, reports that he has finished his sixth year with Allstate Insurance. He's a member of the Underwriting Department. Harry is attending night school at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School for a Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter designation. (You've got me snowed, Harry.) Although he hasn't seen his old buddy, TOM O'HARA, since graduation, Harry has heard through the grapevine that Tom is a pilot in the Air Force and plans to make it a career. PAT Di PAS-QUALE is married and living in Pittsburgh, according to Harry.

Incidentally, Harry has three children. Since Allstate's home office is in Skokie, only a few miles from my apartment, I hope to see Harry when he comes in to accept a vice-presidency at about 100 grand a year. Harry's address is 3903 Patrician Drive, Philadelphia.

There's been quite a bit of traffic in and out of South Bend recently. (I don't blame those getting away from the "garden spot of America.") away from the "garden spot of America.") HOWARD HART moved over our way-32 W. Westfield, Des Plaines, Ill. TONY EVERS now can be reached at 539 Telford Ave., Dayton. DICK GAUTHIER sent along a cute clipping from the local paper. It seems that the neighbors put up a large sign on his front lawn (Guess What? It's after Marjorie presented Dick with his Boy!) fifth child, but first candidate for the N.D. varsity. Later Dick appeared in front of the house (9027 Parrish Ave., Highland, Ind.) to pass out cigars. Dick, who is vice-president and cashier for a local bank, can't quite believe it yet. It seems that the nurses kidded him after the birth and asked him what he was going to name his new "daughter." Finally the doctor came out and told Dick that he indeed finally had a boy. DICK BEEMAN and his wife, Sue, welcomed their fifth child in July. That should put them right up there in the stork race. Let's hear from the other contenders! Dick got the message and bought a larger house. Their new address is 546 Keystone, River Forest, Ill. Dick and his father are in the wholesale paper business. CHUCK COLLINS, who left the Chicago scene several years ago, is practicing law in Newark, N. J., these days. At last report he had two children.

TIM DEVEREUX, another of my journalism advertising agency-Marshall John & Associates. Tim also bought a big house for his brood in a western suburb-735 S. Wesley, Oak Park, Ill. JOE DALEY, who dropped from the face of the earth for a few years (you've got to write, Joe!), popped up in Chicago for a visit this summer. He's still out east. According to my bird dog, Joe is a legal eagle with the Securities Exchange Commis-sion with offices in New York.

That old smoothie, GEORGE SHELTON, decided to turn his southern charm on our Windy City. George drove his wife and three boys up from New Orleans. He's with the A. L. Jackson construction company-in finance, of course!

in California this year, George ran into DON PETERS in Los Angeles. Don has three boys. He also had a big evening with MIKE JACKMAN, who is teaching high school and coaching basketball in LA.

I saw MIKE WARD on the street the other day, and he said that JOE HAYDEN now has two boys and a girl. Joe lives in Philadelphia.

While at the Chicago Club's golf outing, I couldn't believe my eyes when I spotted DAN "ESKIMO" MOORE across the room. (OK, it was the bar, but it was still early!) Dan was in for the bar association (no pun intended) meeting and his sister's wedding. A gay bachelor, Dan then jetted down to Mexico City for a little vacation. If you want to get the lowdown on Alaska, you can contact Dan at Box 4820, Anchorage. He says the legal business is good. It must be. Who else could afford to fly around North America on vacation?

Speaking of flying vacations, JERRY BRANS-FIELD just popped off for a European jaunt. Oh yes, he took Maureen! JIM GRIFFIN and wife, Bunni, went to Rome for her brother's ordination. They spent about three weeks in Europe.

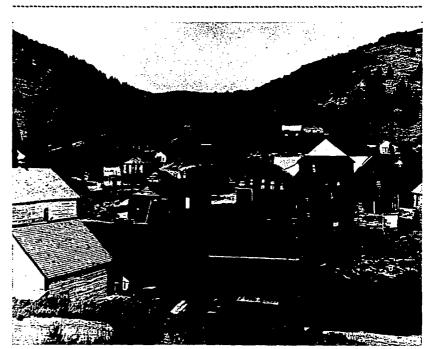

While on our European kick, I just received a letter from JOHN SLAVICK, who is with the U.S. Information Service at the American (what else?) Embassy in Bern, Switzerland. Right off you can see that he has a pretty tough life. John's letter made me feel good, though, for he arranged a meeting with FRANK TONINI in Milan through an address we provided in a recent column. Ann Landers-watch out!

Frank, too, is with the U.S. Information Service and John had a chance to meet his charming wife. John started his European service in Stuttgart, Germany, and then moved on to Heidelberg and Bonn. That stint of 10 months completed his training (after six months in Washington) and he moved on to Bern in March, just in time to go skiing and sprain his ankle. (Stay at the typewriter, John, and you won't break an ankle.)

I'll give him one free plug for the Switzerland hamber of Commerce. "I would just like to Chamber of Commerce. mention that Bern is an hour away from the best skiing in the world, that I can take three guests (cramped) in the apartment, that one can eat extremely well in Bern, and that I would enjoy playing host to anyone who is willing to split the price of a cheese fondue." If you don't accept his invitation, "Slav" says he'll see one and all at the reunion in '65.

A salute to MIKE KELLY, LOU ZEFRAN, RUSS TOOHEY, JACK FLYNN, DICK COOK and CHARLIE GOMEZ. for putting together "Organization "55"—an informal class group here in Chicago. After the initial meeting in September, the guys have decided to meet at JOHNNY LAT-TNER'S (remember him?) Steak House downtown on Madison Street the third Tuesday of the oddnumbered months. So mark Nov. 19, Jan. 21 and March 17 on your calendar right now. Meetings start at 5:30 (drinking, that is) and everyone is on his own. All members of the class are welcome. Contact me or MIKE KELLY (WA2-7400) on Mon-Others attending the first meeting were: davs.

My thanks to those of you who responded with news for our column. Apparently Europe, Illinois, has more appeal than I realized.

has more appeal than I realized. JIM McCaRTHY, who describes himself and his family as "gypsies with U. S. Gypsum Company," has settled at 2355 Hillandale Road, Davenport, Iowa, after being transferred from Chicago. After three years in the Marine Corps, Jim, Barbara (St. Mary's '56) and their children-currently four boys and a girl-started civilian life with U. S. Gypsum Company in Chicago. While in the Marines, Jim and DENNY POWERS served in sister squadrons. Jim sees BILL WIEMAN (in person and in print) in Davenport. Bill is with the Davenport Times-Democrat. I also heard from Jim that GENE BRENNAN, selling Xerox at 25 and Litton at 10 back a few years ago, is monopolizing the brokerage business in Chicago; JIM MITCHELL is with an architectural firm in Nashua, New Hampshire, with his wife, Ann, children and cats.

I was happily surprised one day when I received a letter from St. Mary's Seminary, Roland Park, Baltimore 10, Maryland, signed by a classmate whom many will remember from Zahm, Morrissey, Dillon and off-campus—MARTY DEVEREAUX. After graduation Marty was seen for two years as the only person in an army uniform at Fairchild Air Force Base, Spokane, Washington. From Spokane Marty headed to St. Henry's Preparatory Seminary, Belleville, Illinois, for Latin; St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore for philosophy and theology; and in 1966 the diocese of Miami, Florida, will have a new priest. Marty has heard from BOB HURD, who with his wife, Liz, and sons, Peter and Joe, lives at 6533 Strouda Road, Houston, Texas; TOM COONAN living at 429 Standard Street, El Segundo, California; JACK McCARTAN living at 937 Bridgewater Drive, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and PHIL CINNEDELLA on Central Avenue, Fredonia, New York, only a block from Marty's home address at 33 Forbes Street, Fredonia.

JIM HURLEY, who wrote a grand letter from 78 Montclair Avenue in Montclair, New Jersey, has included news about everyone but himself. PAUL

JOHN R. MacINNES '53 joined 26 other Lay-Mission Helpers of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles in Labor Day ceremonies presided over by Cardinal McIntyre before leaving for Uganda, East Africa, to do social work in the Diocese of Fort Portal, entrusted to the Holy Cross Fathers under Bishop McCauley, C.S.C. Rev. George MacInnes, C.S.C., John's brother, has been in Uganda for three years. TED LUM, our 50th State's most illustrious Notre Dame alumnus, is a member of the Trappist Community at the Abbey of Gethsemani, Trappist, Kentucky-Those of you north of the Mason-Dixon Line should head south to see this inspiring Kentucky town and retreat house. TOM "WEBB" SEXTON was last seen leaving the vault of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company with a briefcase on his way to his wile and home in Evanston-by the way, Tom is a loan officer there.

Evanston, Illinois, is also the home of DON CARLIN, his wife, son and daughter--1148 Oak Avenue. After a honeymoon Sid will return to the budget section of Eastman Kodak's Advertising Department.

The "Fighting Irish" would lose their famous name if it were not for an occasional Kelly or O'Brien, but what about TOM HUBBARD, 39 Park Drive, Torrington, Connecticut-who married Anne Farley and now has 5 Hubbards: Erin, Meghan, Farley, Deirdre, and Tara! Tom is president of the Naugatuck Valley Notre Dame Alumni Club and also is associated with his father in the Gity Bus Lines, Inc., & Yellow Cab of Torrington. At the risk of being tiresome, I must open this column with a much-too-familiar refrain-we need more news. Surely many of you have items of interest such as additions to the family, new jobs, promotions, changes in locale, postgraduate degrees, or some similar matter. How about letting us share your good news?

Just prior to this writing, our annual alter-game reunion was held at the Morris Inn (following the Southern-Cal game). I regret very much that I was unable to get away from Duluth for the weekend and attend the affair, since these events have always been very enjoyable. As yet I have received no reports from persons who did attend, so I can only say that I hope you all enjoyed the get-together.

BLL POTTER, who happily paid & postage to receive the latest issue of the ALUMNUS, claims this was the first copy he'd seen since graduation. I suspect his two and some years of nomadic existence with the Navy can explain it. At any rate, Bill will be a regular subscriber to our magazine now that he has a permanent address in Washington, D. C. Besides working for the Department of Labor there, Bill spends his evenings in the stacks of the Georgetown Law Library. . . The middle of October at this writing, and I am still trying to recover from the "great Los Angeles tragedy" that befell my team from the Bronx. However, the events of the past twenty-four hours have done much to soothe my condition. After the great victory over Southern California I can't help but wonder if, but for just six very small points, this might have been the year we had all been waiting for so long.

Over Labor Day weekend I took a trip to Char-lottesville, Va., to participate as an usher in the wedding of BERNIE DOBRANSKI and Miss Carol Wood. The couple honeymooned in Washington, D.C., and then returned to Charlottesville, where Bernie will complete his final year at the University of Virginia Law School.
