CHALLENGE III

extending the tradition of great teaching

Dear Alumnus:

What Notre Dame may become in the years that lie ahead depends largely on the vision and the resources at our command today. I can see a Notre Dame enjoying more than ever before the respect and regard of the academic community as one of America's leading institutions of higher learning. I can also see a Notre Dame whose scholarly application of theology and philosophy to twentieth century living makes it one of the truly great Catholic universities in all the world.

To wield such leadership tomorrow, there is much we must do today. First of all, we must further strengthen our faculty, retaining and attracting men who live to teach, whose names are associated with achievement and distinction in their fields. Secondly, we must develop new strength in the humanities and social sciences which receive scant support compared to science and technology. To this end, Notre Dame plans to establish a department of experimental psychology, create new programs in anthropology, demography, geography and religious sociology, and launch Latin American and African area programs. It is precisely in these areas that a Catholic university like Notre Dame can mediate with great influence and effectiveness.

To benefit from great teaching, to provide future leadership for a complex and sophisticated world, students with considerable intellectual capacity and moral stamina must be attracted to Notre Dame. Every great university seeks such young men. For those who need financial assistance, there must be resources for grants-in-aid, loans and campus employment. Because students must live on our campus to share completely in the life that is Notre Dame, we must build two additional undergraduate residence halls. And to help develop in them the vigor and spirit of competition which traditionally marks the Notre Dame man, we are planning to erect an Athletic and Convocation Center which, like the old Fieldhouse it replaces, will serve the University for decades.

These are some of the things Notre Dame must do now and in the immediate future. However great our success in the past, we dare not stand still. This University has a rendezvous with destiny, and it is our privilege — yours and mine — to help speed that day. Only when the University achieves that destiny will it be truly worthy of its name. Notre Dame, who has been its heavenly patron and protector for one hundred and twenty-two years.

Yours in Notre Dame,
Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., President

IN JANUARY the University announced a comprehensive $20,000,000 development plan focused on people and programs but also providing for the construction of three major buildings — including a long-awaited athletic facility.

Father Hesburgh announced that the new, national fundraising effort, to be known as Challenge II, will have as its theme, "Extending the Tradition of Great Teaching." He said 60% of the funds will be used to initiate new programs of study and research, further strengthen the faculty and provide financial assistance for students with the balance allocated to physical expansion.

He listed these major objectives of the two-and-a-half year Challenge II Program, which is a segment of a ten-year, $66 million development plan launched in 1958:

- $5,000,000—Construction of an Athletic and Convocation Center with a seating capacity of 10,500 for athletic, academic and civic events;
- $6,500,000—Faculty development and new academic programs with emphasis on the social sciences and the humanities;
- $5,500,000—Expansion of student-aid programs including scholarships, fellowships, loans and opportunities for campus employment;
- $3,000,000—Erection of two residence halls to provide housing for virtually all Notre Dame undergraduates.

Notre Dame's president pointed out that the Ford Foundation has already pledged $6 million, or 30% of the $20 million overall goal, provided the University double that amount in cash gifts and grants from its alumni, friends and other nongovernmental sources by June 30, 1966. In a three-year development program which ended in mid-1963, Notre Dame received $18,603,157 in financial support in addition to an earlier $6 million Ford Foundation matching grant.

Rev. John E. Walsh, C.S.C., the University's vice-president for public relations and development, said that the Challenge II program is geared to extend Notre Dame's tradition of great teaching "to new generations and into new fields." He said the funds it generates will enable Notre Dame to continue "to develop young men in mind, body and spirit and, at the same time, through its research make effective contributions to the solution of vexing human problems."

In a move to strengthen its educational programs and research in the social sciences and humanities, Notre Dame plans to establish a department of experimental psychology, it was announced. With funds emanating from Challenge II, the University will also create new programs in such people-oriented fields as anthropology, demography, geography and religious sociology. Planning is also under way for area study programs, first for Latin America and later Africa.

Noting that a university is only as strong as its faculty, Father Walsh said "a very substantial portion" of Challenge II funds is earmarked for faculty development. With Notre Dame's faculty budget increasing about a million dollars a year, he said "sustained financial support is vital if the University is to retain and attract men of achievement who will be devoted — in scholarship and research, in classroom and laboratory, in personal attention to individual students — to extending Notre Dame's tradition of great teaching."

Increased student aid resources are an urgent need, too, the Notre Dame vice-president said, in this day of rising educational costs and higher tuition. Notre Dame is seeking additional funds to create undergraduate scholarships or grants-in-aid and graduate fellowships. Funds are needed, too, he explained, to create and expand University-operated low-interest loan funds for qualified students requiring financial assistance. Often, he explained, it is a combination of a scholarship or fellowship, a loan and campus employment which enables a young man to enroll and remain at Notre Dame.

The Athletic and Convocation Center, replacing Fieldhouse, will be erected east of Notre Dame Stadium, Father Walsh said. The 400,000-square-foot facility will have twin arenas, one for basketball and assemblies requiring up to 10,500 seats, the other for fieldhouse activities and exhibitions. He described the new building as a center for intercollegiate sports — basketball, track, baseball (indoor practice), fencing, wrestling, boxing, et cetera — and a hub for intramural athletic activities. It will provide facilities for indoor student athletics, including a skating rink, and will be the headquarters for the Notre Dame athletic department. The Center will be used for major University convocations as well as for conventions of academic and religious organizations and civic events.

The two residence halls for undergraduates will be erected on the new east mall north of the Notre Dame Memorial Library, it was announced. These buildings, coupled with two graduate residence halls soon to be built, will swell to twenty-one the number of student dormitories on the Notre Dame campus. Construction of these two buildings, Father Walsh said, will make it possible for most of the 800 undergraduates currently forced to live off-campus to share fully in the intellectual, spiritual and social life of the campus.

ALUMNI-FOUNDATION-Public Relations staff, as it gathered for a higher education conference under Rev. John E. Walsh, CSC, public relations vice-president, on the eve of Challenge II, included: (seated, l.-r.) James Murphy '47, James Armstrong '25, Rev. Thomas O'Donnell CSC '41, Fr. Walsh '45, James Frick '51, J. Arthur Haley '26, Alfred Perrine '41; (standing, l.-r.) The conference was first of a series on college operations.

Editorial Comment

from your
Alumni Secretary

'NOT ANOTHER!'

I. Father Edward Sorin did not found the University of Notre Dame to wither and die. The prodigious efforts of his own fifty years of guidance indicate the contrary—a passion for progress.

II. A government educational agency representative is reported recently to have predicted that all private higher education will disappear in the next twenty-five years.

Notre Dame will not be one of those institutions. (And we seriously question the whole projection, as either myth or mistake.)

Why then the aggressive note in Items I and II?

It goes back to the title.

By the time you read this, you will know that the Ford Foundation has made another magnificent matching grant, on the same one-for-two basis that triggered the successful Challenge I campaign.

And you will know that, in order to achieve this second great benefaction, the University, through the Notre Dame Foundation, is embarked on its Challenge II program.

And in the complex of fund raising that we are all heir to, the inevitable cry in the night has to be "Not another!"

The simple, direct and dismaying answer is "Yes, another!"

But you need to think further than that, with its somewhat opposing and negative implications.

The first fundamental truth of our lifetime is that private higher education is engaged in a permanent, intensive, competitive, and large-scale supplementary fund-raising program if it is to survive; certainly if it is to grow and meet its increasing obligations and opportunities.

There are two significant words in the above statements—the Challenge I campaign, and the Challenge II program. This is more than a semantic exercise. In order to insure the first success, we did use the intensive and extensive methods of a capital campaign.

In Challenge II, we neither underestimate our goal, nor enjoy any overconfidence as a result of the $18,000,000 accomplishment. The difference in approach, however, is real, and for your good.

Alumni response to Challenge I—80% participation and more than $6,000,000—was heroic. University appreciation is deep and sincere. Consequently, there is none of the atmosphere in Challenge II of "hit them hard and often until they kick in."

Rather, the University believes that two things will result in continuing alumni support and enthusiasm, with a minimum of pressure and detail.

First is the unusual but obvious opportunity to accelerate Notre Dame's progress by a second $6,000,000 in unrestricted money from the Ford Foundation.

Second is the fact that the alumni are being asked primarily to contribute to the long-awaited and sorely needed athletic facility, the Athletic and Convocation Center.

This is more than a colorful and functional complex which will give all sports on the campus a tremendous physical asset. It is a forward-looking recommitment of the University to the education of the whole man, the integration of the sound body with the sound mind.

The new complex shatters the myth of the dominance of the egghead, without affecting in any way the continued advancement of academic excellence. It provides the campus—and the St. Joseph Valley area generally—a long-needed sports and convention facility. It brings to the campus the first and only area under a roof where the entire student body and faculty can be assembled in any type of convocation. And it is the only answer—other than prayer—to the security of the Commencement exercises.

So—"yes, it's another." But don't push the panic button. Notre Dame is going into this second, almost miraculous phase of its progress with the sublime faith that Father Sorin had when he embarked on the rebuilding of the Main Building; with the sense of destiny that has carried the University through two great wars, and through the internal problems of diverse nature that preceded and followed them.

We believe you share this faith. We believe you will share the program it dictates. And at the end of another three years we are confident you will again share with Notre Dame the same inspiring success.

Remember—the fund-raising effort is not the cause. It is only the necessary means to the success of the greater cause, Notre Dame.

KELLY JOINS FOUNDATION

Frank G. Kelly '50 of St. Joseph, Mich., has been named an assistant director of the Notre Dame Foundation.

He will administer a new Deferred Giving Program of the Foundation, coordinating volunteer and staff activity on estate planning, wills, bequests, etc.

A native of Bridgeport, Conn., Frank was graduated in economics after service in World War II. He was employed by the Union Central Life Insurance Co. in South Bend and the Gibson Art Co., Cincinnati, O. As services manager of Theisen-Clemens Co., St. Joseph, he directed marketing, advertising, promotion and merchandising activities of the petroleum firm for more than 10 years. Most recently he has been station manager of WHFB-AM-FM, St. Joseph.

Frank has been active in various civic activities in the St. Joseph area. He and his wife Donna have three children: Patty, 11; Kevin, 7; and Mary, 6.

NOTREDAMELAND IN TEXAS

By Rev. Harry P. Baker, C.S.C., '54

Irish Shine In Mission Teaching Apostolate

I MERELY WANT to paint a picture — a picture of a realistic thrust into Latin America that began with a need in the states. A Notre Dame man conceived the idea; another two collaborated to bring it into being. And today the picture includes enough Notre Dame men and St. Mary's girls to make one think he's at an Alumni meeting. Jim MacDonald, Dan Griffith, Tracy Osborne, Mike Terry (all of '61), Rosemary Hoefler, Rosemary Hughes (both SMC '61) and Caroline Quick ('60) are all reasons why the locale of a new missionary group called VTS might aptly be called "NotreDameLand, Texas."

What have they been doing here? They were all part of a grass roots apostolic movement which is one of the more promising lay apostolic groups in the Church, the Volunteer Teachers Service. It is the finest example of Catholic Action, a generous, buoyant, unaffectedly holy group which takes the talents and enthusiasm of college graduates and presses them into the service of Christ.

It all began with a need, and VTS was born and grew with the generosity of response to the need. A school here in the heart of Texas — Killeen by name (after a Catholic Irishman who worked on the Santa Fe Railroad) — needed to be staffed, and there was no one to staff it. The pastor and his assistant began with a shoestring and a few dedicated lay people. Through several turbulent years the few people have merged into a well-knit, confident group that has not only taken care of Killeen's needs but has branched out as well into the needy parishes of Dallas, Austin, South Carolina — even to Chile and Alaska! When the Notre Dame-St. Mary's contingent joined VTS they helped to take Texas by storm. Last year they moved into more needy areas — Devine, Texas (just south of San Antonio), Irving (near Dallas), Alamo and Laredo, closer to the Mexican border. All in all VTS hopes to staff some seven to ten schools in the heart of Texas area.

Papal VolunTeerS:

In 1963, for VTS, it was consolidation in Texas and a firm step into Latin America. Last May the Volunteer Teachers group began an intensive, long-planned move into Panama. At the request of Bishop McGrath ('45) the youthful organization sent several members to work in and around Panama City, people who have had "on-the-job training" in Texas and have proven themselves as missionaries. With the help of this really great authority on Latin America — who brought to the Notre Dame campus the enthusiasm and interest in Latin America he had already developed in himself — VTS hopes to move into Argentina (Buenos Aires) and Chile (Santiago de Chile) where already they have been warmly encouraged to come — the Cardinal Archbishop of Buenos Aires beckoning, and in Santiago at least three specific offers by the Precious Blood Fathers.

By sending qualified, trained teachers, trained in teams to work as teams, in nerve centers of student life, VTS hopes to be a bit of the heaven that may gradually transform Latin America. It hopes to disprove a statement of one of the Chilean Bishops to a VTS member working in Chile: "The question is not 'how are we going to overcome communism?' — the question is 'how are we going to live under communism within the next several years?'" Of course, it is in connection with PAVLA that VTS has initiated its South American program.

Here We Grow Again:

With the solid, well-planned growth of VTS, Fr. Fred Underwood ('52) and the lay director of the group, John Benson decided that a plane was next on the list of needs. The plane — a used four-place Piper Cub — was bought on faith and a few hundred down. It helps shrink Texas and Panama down to traveling size. Fr. Underwood himself is a seasoned pilot (1200 hours of flying time in the Pacific during World War II as a B-29 pilot) and does most of the flying himself. One other member of the group has a pilot's license.

Structure of VTS

The program of the Volunteer Teachers Service is "formation through action." At times one becomes leery of this slogan, but here it has worked. Certainly the teachers are intent upon their own holiness, but the consciousness of what this means grows with their involvement in the work at hand. The teachers become conscious that they are the Church, the "hands of Christ," and that if certain needs are to be filled then they have to fill them. But in their attempt to bring others to Christ something is quite obviously lacking if they themselves have not met Him. They can hardly lead others to Christ in the apostolate of Catholic education if they have not given themselves to Him.

FR. UNDERWOOD CSC '52, (clockwise) John Benson, Dorothy Thomas and Jo Anne Brelin are the present directors of VTS.

To help them the VTS'ers have a well-organized spiritual life which consists of daily Mass, spiritual reading, mental prayer, rosary and visits to the Blessed Sacrament. They have weekly spiritual conferences, and each member is expected to choose a spiritual adviser and see him at least once a month. For the most part the above is left to each one's sincerity and spirit of dedication. But great help is given by the mere fact that VTS is a community.

In fact this is what helps to explain the success of VTS in five short years of existence: the sense of teamwork and group solidarity, the leaning heavily on the example and encouragement of companions. There is individuality and spontaneity, to be sure, but for the most part VTS moves as a team and accepts the challenges and difficulties as a family. Here at Killeen the "family" has consisted of two married couples, four single girls, and six single men. They all have living quarters near or on the parish grounds.

The spontaneity and family spirit manifest themselves in different social activities: to Dallas for the state fair, Austin for the rodeo, cookouts, horseback riding, Mexico at Thanksgiving time. But all of these activities are in the larger context of service for Christ — first here in Texas, then in connection with PAVLA a channeling of our finest members into Latin America.

A late development in VTS is a catechetical program initiated in Austin last summer. This program used the facilities of the two universities in Austin as well as the "on-the-job training" afforded by actual catechetical teaching in Mexican parishes. All of this was structured around a solid catechetical-theological-apostolic formation. People trained in this summer program will be placed in already defined areas. Catechetical work in Panama, or will work in Austin prior to their eventual placement in Latin America. The author helped organize this pilot program.

I have simply tried to paint a picture. A picture of a movement that is succeeding because of a need . . . and because of a response to that need triggered by God's grace and fed by generous hard work. Notre Dame and St. Mary's students have helped this youthful apostolic movement to reach its present level of success. It is hoped that they are not the last ones to help.

ND FAMILY PICNIC TO HONOR 'ROCK' WEEK OF JULY 5 AT CEDAR POINT, O.

NOTRE DAME has two great traditions — the athletic tradition and the Notre Dame family.

These two cherished sources of Notre Dame spirit have been linked in the exciting proposal of a Notre Dame family picnic at the famed Cedar Point resort on Lake Erie where one of the greatest of the athletic traditions — the Dorais-to-Rockne forward pass — was developed.

The picnic — several days if you wish, or one great big glorious day for those whose time is more limited — is booked for July 5, 6 and 7, 1964.

The Notre Dame Club of Cleveland is acting as host club, with Don Miller and John Chapla acting as co-chairmen of the event, the First Annual Notre Dame Family-Rockne Picnic. Basic plan is low cost, nonprofit, with Cedar Point cooperative.

Cedar Point is a historical center of family fun, just north of Sandusky, accessible in one to several hours by turnpike and highways for most of the Notre Dame population in Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Indiana, Southeastern Michigan, and even the Chicagoland area.

But Cedar Point is much more than historical. Taking its cue from the successes of the great modern amusement parks in the East and Far West, Cedar Point is already outstanding in the most modern amusement facilities for children and adults, in the colorful tradition of Disneyland.

Its tremendous plus value lies in its literal miles of magnificent beach, its unlimited picnic facilities, its marina for boats of all kinds, its hotel and meal facilities within the confines of the Point.

The plan for the First Annual Picnic is to restore the old tradition, by erecting a new plaque commemorating Knute Rockne. (A previous one at the Point was removed before the present management began the rejuvenation of the Point.) Many famous heroes of the Notre Dame athletic tradition will be on hand. Already probable highlighters of the event are the Four Horsemen, Hunk Anderson, Hughie Devore and Bill Schmitt — the latter a member of the Champions of the West in 1909, who worked at Cedar Point as a Notre Dame student-athlete, as did the entire Notre Dame Miller family.

Rooms are available for those who wish to spend several days of family fun. (The new Cedar Point calls itself The Family Funderland.)

But there will be one major Day, featuring special programs, to which all alumni who can load up their wives and children and drive the hour or two or three it takes to reach Cedar Point, will be invited. (Clubs can consider chartering busses.)

The alumni family can bring its own picnic baskets, or can count on the various concessions at the Point — from hot dogs to chef's cuisine.

This may sound like a commercial for Cedar Point. In a sense it, of course, has to be. But I have never found a spot with so much current, attractive and accessible quality for modern activity and interest, that at the same time encompasses in its history the lore of several decades of famous athletes, with the drama and the romance that interwove themselves with the rise of Notre Dame's athletic tradition.

This is an event in which the rich memories of the older alumni can be teamed with the rich indoctrination of the young alumnus and his children, of whatever age.

Details will follow. But plan now to be there. Talk it up in your Club.

—Jim Armstrong

OUR MAN IN GHANA

AMBASSADOR MAHONEY walks away from his chancery office in the Ghanaian capital of Accra, his working day to be followed by a working evening at the embassy.

By Hon. William P. Mahoney, Jr., '38

Alumni Past President Tells About African Experiences

(Reprinted from Arizona Days and Ways magazine)

Completing a four-year term with the winter meeting of the Alumni Board, Past President William Mahoney is also nearing the close of his second year as American Ambassador to Ghana. Recently Bill and his wife Alice went to Ireland for a visit with Eamon De Valera and a look at the ancestral home in County Mayo. He also returned to his native Arizona to be honored by Governor Fannin, the State Supreme Court and the president of the American Bar Association. Daughter Gladys (15) now attends Marymount International School in Rome. Sons Bill III (16) and Dick (12) study at Ghana's Achimoto College, and the other five children are at home in Accra.

JUST OVER 19 MONTHS AGO, after an overnight flight from New York, our family arrived in Accra, Ghana, in the brilliant glare of a tropical day. From the beginning we were taken in by the Ghanaians who still recall the news photograph of our seven children coming down the gangway of the plane. Our life has been so full since that day it is difficult to realize we have been in Africa over a year.

A whirl of activity began immediately for all of us which has never let up.

Everything about our new life represented a change from more leisurely days in Phoenix and Chino Valley—the people, country, climate, social obligations and most of all in our family life. Perhaps the last category was the only difficult one for my wife, Alice, and the children.

On an average of five nights a week, we are involved in social affairs in Accra, a fourth of which occur in our residence. They take the form of diplomatic receptions (averaging eight to ten a week) and informal and formal dinners—mostly the latter. It is not uncommon to attend two or three receptions and a dinner in one evening. These are important affairs for a diplomat because at them one establishes and cultivates colleagues and other contacts who frequently contribute valuable information.

But this "socializing" blows a large hole in our family life. We had to learn to live with the situation. With the help of a sizeable household staff, aided by our older daughters, Gladys and Mary, Alice has instituted a routine that at least gives her peace of mind. Regardless of what is scheduled, the children are at the dinner table at 6 p.m. Although we seldom can dine with them, they take part in our receptions and pre-dinner maneuverings at home, usually helping with the entertaining and providing a wonderful source of conversation.

The reason for all this activity is that there are 45 fully accredited diplomatic missions in Ghana, making it the international hub of this part of Africa. Most of the world's important nations have ambassadors here, including a strong spread from the Bloc, or Communist, countries. I am on good terms with all of them, except Cuba and Communist China whom we don't recognize.

But to get back to our new life. We have a large and beautiful residence which just accommodates our numerous family. In many respects it resembles a hotel. There are constant comings and goings of diplomats, wives, visiting firemen from the United States (senators, congressmen, State Department officials), Ghanaians of every walk of life and others. At first, the constant interruptions of privacy bothered us; now we have learned to roll with the punch and enjoy the activity.

In a sense we lead compartmentalized lives according to a fairly tight schedule. The children are all here in school and dwell on the periphery of the public functions. Alice leads an existence of her own. Besides running a rather complex household, she regularly receives and visits the wives of other ambassadors and cabinet ministers; oversees the welfare and morale of the wives of my sizeable staff; heads up the active American Women's Association of Accra; and regularly works at several local charities. In my area, I am in the chancery during the day, at social functions in the evening, and usually get a breather in weekly jaunts over Ghana on speaking and hand-shaking tours.

The most interesting aspect of this fascinating country is the Ghanaians themselves. They are simple, humorous and charming. Their penchant for hospitality is known all over Africa. Although they retain some of the British formality and reserve, they have a warmth and naturalness that can only be described as native elegance; and this goes for the man in the bush as well as the Oxford and Cambridge graduates who abound here.

BILL AND ALICE are shown on their arrival in Ghana, and at right Alice in native dress carries new daughter Noel Fitzgerald Mahony on her back in African style. Ghanaians rejoiced at Noel's arrival, naming her "Akua Awotwi" (Wednesday's girl).

Ghanaians, too, are noted for their drive and ambition. They are impatient to get on with the job of nation-building. With its good roads, communications, buildings, extensive education system and educated elite, Ghana is years ahead of other sub-Saharan African nations and intends to stay ahead.

Ghanaians like simple things. If we have enjoyed any success here as the representatives of the greatest nation on earth (regarded as such by most Ghanaians), it is chiefly because of our children. From President Nkrumah on down, they are admired as the most interesting product of the American way of life. The advent of our new daughter, Noel, whom the Ghanaians have named Akua Awotwi (in the Twi language Akua stands for Wednesday's girl and Awotwi is number eight), has really capped the business of "personal diplomacy." We have been accepted by the people to an astonishing degree.

Probably the most important part of our Ghana experience will be the effect it has had on our children. I told President Kennedy the day I went to the White House to pay my respects before leaving Washington that the administration could talk about the New Frontier but the Mahoneys were going to live on it. How true that jesting remark has turned out to be.

Now that our tour is about half over, I feel the whole experience is worth the effort for no other reason than to give our family a love and understanding of another continent and people—a far-off continent, but a people amazingly like ourselves.

PRIVATE AUDIENCE with Pope John XXIII at Christmas in 1962 was probably the Mahoneys' most memorable experience.

JUDGE OBERMILLER of the City Court of Whiting, Ind., has become famous for what he calls "the family approach to justice." Here he is shown directing the cleaning of beaches by boys convicted of damaging public property. His sentences have also suggested cutting of hair, spankings and other humiliations as alternatives to jail or reform school, and his theories, translated into several languages, have brought testimonials from all over the world as well as several citizenship awards.

Reprinted from Guideposts magazine (copyright 1963 by Guideposts, Associates, Inc., published at Carmel, New York)

TIME AND AGAIN young rowdies appear before me in court—arrested for brawling, for stealing hubcaps, for vandalism. They stand there in their blue jeans and sport shirts, their astonishing crops of hair combed back meticulously into “duck-tails.”

On their faces they wear, too often, a kind of squashed-grin expression which I, after long experience with hidden smiles, have come to know as the look of arrogance. There is always a challenge in that expression. And whenever it comes my way I can see behind it the boys’ intimidated parents giving way to this glower of defiance.

Such a look I recall in particular on a boy whom I dismissed the first time with a lecture and a fine. There and then he strode up to the court clerk and drew forth an enormous wad of bills—all singles it turned out—and with dramatic flourish paid his way out of the courtroom. This “performance” was watched with obvious admiration by a group of followers who had come to see their pal have his moment in the lime-light.

No More a Hero

A month later the boy was back, this time pleading guilty to breaking windowpanes. At the outset I sensed that the word had gone out, “Al’s in court again. Let’s go down and get some kicks.”

Looking out at that audience of boys and girls, I couldn’t help but wonder just who was on the spot, Al or me. What was he expecting? Another chance to play a dramatic role, to turn the court into a stage? Most certainly a sentence to jail would give him the opportunity for a farewell scene. And when he came home after 30 days he would be the latest thing in toughness and worldliness, a hero.

My decision with Al was different: I sentenced him to a haircut no more than half an inch in length. Then I ordered him to appear every Saturday morning for a teenage work detail that I run here in Whiting, Indiana. We do odd jobs about the city, like pulling weeds, painting fences and mowing church lawns.

What I have been trying to do with these young repeaters—those who are not sick or the criminal type—is treat them as kids and not as sociological phenomena. I try to think of myself as their father, someone who is fair, but firm. With teen-agers these days a hair style is a status symbol. Shave off his lavish blondness and Al is too embarrassed to be a hero. And when he looks in the mirror he sees that he is a boyish 16 and not the 28 that he imagined himself. A haircut happened to be the pin that punctured Al’s ego. After that, he became a person again.

This was the type of punishment that I was trying to make fit the crime when, on a hot night last August, a group of boys, 17 to 19 years old, were brought before me charged with drinking and brawling at one of our public beaches on Lake Michigan. It was not the first time that they had appeared before me. On this occasion, their parents appeared with them. So did the usual cheering section. I noticed that three of the boys were especially cocky and that one of these turned on his weeping mother during the proceedings with a sassy “Dry up!”

This time my sentence was a fine and costs, plus 60 days in jail. But no sooner had I made the pronouncement than I changed it to a loud “Sentence suspended!”

The boys looked up at me in disbelief. In essence I then gave them the alternative of either going to jail or, as terms of probation, having their hair cut, plus getting out on Saturday to clean up the beach they had littered. They all chose the latter. For the cocky trio, however, I had an additional penalty in mind.

“Have these boys had a good spanking lately?” I asked their parents. After some confusion, their answer came back “No.” Then I asked the bewildered parents for permission as a further term of probation to let the police give their sons a spanking. They all agreed.

Thereupon, each of the three boys walked forward, leaned over a table, and let his arresting officer give him 15 fatherly whacks. The arrogance dissolved in my courtroom almost as quickly and quietly as the cheering section disappeared through a distant door.

What I have tried to do with those spankings is only what I believe parents should be doing. I have tried to restore in court the kind of authority that parents seem to have lost at home. And they have lost this at home, I believe, because they have let this modern thing called permissiveness take such a hold on their thinking that they are afraid of their children, afraid to discipline them lest they develop unnaturally, without proper “self-expression.”

Learn to Say No

We have coddled children to such an extent that when they do wrong, we find excuses for them. At a later age we say that they are not guilty of crime because they are victims of society, not responsible for their actions. In such a permissive world, it is not surprising that crime is tempting.

You might call it “old-fashioned,” but I insist that anything as necessary as discipline should never be allowed to go out of fashion. I believe that responsibility and morality and respect for one’s fellowman should be given an overhaul. I believe that it is time for parents to start fighting back in our PTAs and churches and discussion groups before our children take us over completely.

Let’s start by learning to say no. Parents have been running some kind of popularity contest in which the refusal of a request is like a lost vote. I have heard it said jokingly that parents should belong to a Protective Association. That is not such an impossible idea. Perhaps they could band together to establish hard and fast rules for teen-age conduct.

We also might reappraise our ideas as to just what children are. The important thing we adults overlook, I have come to realize, is that kids are kids. And yet, the race towards adulthood gets faster every year. Little boys just out of infancy are given long pants and fedoras so they can look precisely like tiny men.

Girls of 11 put on high heels and evening gowns and swirl shakily off to formal dances. In their teens, kids roar forth in their automobiles to do whatever comes naturally because their parents can’t really say no to their insistent demands. By the time they are 16 or 17 nowadays, young people are bored because they have done everything. And boredom makes for trouble.

We might clarify the lines of authority under which we place our children—and stick to the demarcation. A teacher, for instance, supposedly takes the place of the parent during the school hours. Yet, if that teacher severely reprimands our child for a misdeed, too often we rush to take the child’s side, even going so far as to seeing that the teacher is reprimanded. It’s easy for a parent to find an excuse for his pedestal-placed offspring, but how many of us stop to ponder if it isn’t an indulgence on our part?

What about church? Should we approach that permissively too? Should we let our children drift in and out of Sunday school at will? Should we stop exposing them to religion at all until they are “old enough to decide for themselves?”

I say no. I think children should know early and soon about God. They should be drenched with a sense of the authority which He has over all of us, and then perhaps they will comprehend something of the authority of parents and of the rightness of order and law in the community.

I believe in the awesome sense of morality, of humility before our Creator. It always has been risky, of course, to allow children to put their full trust in a father and mother who some day, in some way, must prove fallible. But God is rock-like in His firmness. It is He who is infallible and it is His pervading morality which can keep the juvenile hand from the hubcap when our own human disciplines fail.

If I have learned anything through my official dealings with teen-agers, it is that youth wants discipline; young people want to be told what to do. That is part of the answer to their aimlessness. They need to be guided personally, however, with imagination and with effort on our part.

I have gathered these things from the youngsters themselves on the Saturday work details when we go out to clean up beaches, paint fences, pull up weeds. I say “we” because I go out with the boys each Saturday.

Waiting for Us

When they see the sweat on my brow they are more inclined to understand that I am not being tough in court just for the sake of toughness. It’s then, in the work-breaks, that I can get across the idea that the real tough guy is the guy who stands up for his principles, who can swim against the tide and say no to something like drinking or brawling.

Sometimes I’ll look down from my bench at a teen-ager and I’ll ask him gently, “What’s bothering you?” The answer is usually a shrug. The youngsters simply do not know.

Actually, they are waiting for us adults to tell them what is wrong, the same way they are waiting for us to take charge of them, to lead. Parental leadership from my vantage point is a matter of being firm, but fair. It is loving them but not coddling them. It is making sure that they know God loves them, that they are His children too.

Perhaps the most important way for us to help our children grow up is for us to grow up first. It is for us to demonstrate that we are neither afraid of our responsibility—nor of our children.

MAN and the MOMENT

THE GROTTO (Continued from Last Issue)

TO SOME PEOPLE it may seem strange that a sick doctor in far-away Hong Kong should feel so strongly about Notre Dame and the Grotto. Sickness is a great thought provoker. Time hangs heavy and pain prevents the luxury of sleep. And when a person knows his disease or affliction is terminal he reaches back and grasps the great moments that helped him in the past and perhaps can help him now. As one edges to eternity he looks longingly at a life he is about to leave. This was the way with Doctor Dooley. With aching fingers he spoke his heart on a typewriter. These are fragments from the letter to Father Hesburgh. It is a meaningful meditation for all of us. "Two things prompt this note. . . . The first is that whenever my cancer acts up, and it is certainly acting up now, I turn inward a bit. Less do I think of my hospitals around the world, of 94 doctors, fund raising and the like.

More do I think of one divine Doctor, and my own personal fund of grace. But when the time comes, like now, then the storm around me does not matter. The winds within me do not matter. Nothing human or earthly can touch me. A wilder storm of peace gathers in my heart. What seems unpossessable I can possess. What seems unfathomable, I can fathom. What is unutterable, I can utter. Because I can pray. I can communicate. How do people endure anything on earth if they cannot have God?

"The second reason I write to you just now is that I have in front of me the Notre Dame ALUMNUS of September 1960. . . . So, Father Hesburgh, Notre Dame is twice on my mind . . . and always in my heart. That Grotto is the rock to which my life is anchored. Do the students ever appreciate what they have, while they have it? I know I never did. . . ." I suppose this is the way with most of us. We don't value things till later, and sometimes too late.

The Grotto at Notre Dame is beautiful and I dare say it is one of the treasures of every lad who came to school. How like a dream we remember the place when we are far away. While we were at school it was just a nice walk to say a quick prayer. Now we are in the rush of the speeding planet. How like a dream we remember now the peaceful afternoons of lazy spring. The ground was new, soft and soggy, but the sky was clear and fresh. May days were gay days. Then the autumn haze. Rifts of fading sunlight gave a bright touch to the gray rocks of the Grotto. How like a dream were the winter nights at the Grotto with the vigil lights doing shadow dances to keep warm. We remember these things now and we are glad that all this is part of us. The lovely Lady still looks down from her niche in the rock. She has not forgotten that we are hers — no matter where we are, no matter what has happened. Doctor Dooley said, "Cold prayers from a hospital bed are just as pleasing to God as were youthful prayers from a Grotto on the lid of night."

This is true. And this is the lesson we should carry with us. It does a soul good and it warms our hearts to pause in our haste and remember the unhastening hours and the sun that dialed its seasons on the aging stones of a Grotto.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS, 1964-66

New Look: Part Two

LAST ISSUE, in "A Look at the New Look," a brief survey was made of the functions of the Alumni Association to emphasize the importance of this body among the councils of the University.

The responsibilities of the Alumni Board, meeting three times a year as a committee of the whole, were explained in terms of their work on subcommittees dealing with various aspects of University and alumni life.

Those standing committees described as dealing principally with alumni organization included the Executive Committee, Committees on Club and Class Activities, and the Committee on Inter-Alumni Affairs. Also involving alumni but similarly concerned with the total life of the University, as described in the last issue, are the Committee on Preparatory Schools and Admissions, the Committee on Placement and Job Counseling, the Committee on Prestige and Public Relations, and the Committee on the Alumni Fund, Foundation and Gifts.

A comparable breakdown exists among the remaining committees to be considered. Primarily concerned with the operations of the Board and the Alumni Association are the Committees on Religion and Citizenship, Nominations, and Budget and Finance. More campus-centered are such new committees as those on Athletics, Academic Affairs and Student Affairs.

The first-named group comprises the older committees, having suited the traditional concept of service to alumni over the 40 years since the reorganization of the Alumni Association.

RESOLUTIONS. Like all the lay councils of the University, the Alumni Board is advisory rather than administrative. Therefore all motions dealing with matters other than the activities of the Board itself are in the form of resolutions of approval, disapproval or recommendation of particular courses of action by the University, the Notre Dame Clubs or the Notre Dame Classes. (Nowhere is the Jeffersonian principle of local self-government more in evidence than in the Notre Dame Alumni Association.) Until recently these resolutions were the work of a separate subcommittee assigned to this purpose, but the volume and multiplicity of the Board's considerations suggested the disbanding of this committee in the recent reorganization, subject to re-erection when the need is apparent. Currently the framing of resolutions is assigned to the appropriate study committees and resolutions adopted by the Board acting as a Committee of the Whole at the trimestrial meetings.

NOMINATIONS. Vice-Presidents William Fallon '37 and John Dempsey '49 headed two separate committees which submitted slates of candidates and alternates for the recent Board ballot. Candidates were selected from a pool of annual nominations by officers of the Notre Dame Clubs and Classes. Previous years' nominees are kept active, since the considerations of geography and class spread (to assure proportional representation) often prevent the immediate appearance on the ballot of worthy candidates from an era or area already well represented on the Board. The four candidates elected for 1964-67 represent a wide range of decades and regions.

RELIGION AND CITIZENSHIP.

Founded to enhance the influence of religion and patriotism in alumni life, the committee principally suggests the theme for Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday on the Sunday nearest to the Feast of the Immaculate Conception — this past December 8 the theme was "Federal Aid to Education" — but it works to promote spiritual and civic activity of all kinds among alumni and Notre Dame Clubs, including lawyers' Red Masses, retreats, days of recollection, etc. A recent project was the Alumni Field Mass at the Gettysburg Centennial under the direction of Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, C.S.C., Vice-President-elect Albert Castellini '24 has been chairman.

BUDGET AND FINANCE. A "watch-dog" committee for the budget and expenditures of the Alumni Office, the Committee on Budget and Finance was instituted to recommend increases or decreases in the annual operating budget. A continuing necessity in the years when the Association budget operated on alumni dues, it has become an emergency valve since Alumni Office operations became a part of the operating budget of the University.

The newer committees are concerned with bringing the alumni closer to faculty, students and administration in the University community that has come to be called the Notre Dame Family. They have been erected gradually since 1961, when Walter Fleming '40, having seen cracks developing in the hitherto unquestioned solidarity of that family, suggested them as a means of strengthening that solidarity and thereby preserving those elusive but essential qualities called "the Notre Dame Spirit" and "the Notre Dame Image."

STUDENT AFFAIRS. In the 10 years, roughly, since the last of the war generation was graduated, the Notre Dame students of the "cold war" or "beat" or "silent" generation have often been a riddle to administration, faculty and alumni alike — brighter by most criteria but certainly less docile. Academic, religious and disciplinary programs have undergone radical changes in an attempt to adjust to them. Merely to keep track of those changes (in grading, honor system, regulations, hall chaplains, all-night lights, the "stay-hall" system, elimination of morning checks and hall Masses, to name a few) demanded the immediate creation of a Student Affairs Committee. Subsequent development of town-and-gown and student-administration friction required close study of those changes and the conditions that engendered them. The committee, headed by Vice-President-elect Peter Kernan '49 over the past year, consulted regularly with the Vice-President for Student Affairs, the Student Chaplain, the Dean of Students and various elements of Student Government.

ATHLETICS. The demonstrated interest of all Notre Dame men in the University's athletic fortunes is concentrated and focused in the Board's Athletic Committee, which wasn't instituted until 1961. No committee has been more active than this one under indefatigable President-elect Philip Faccenda '51, aided by fellow Monogram Clubbers Bill Fallon '37 and Lancaster Smith '49, constantly consulting with Father Joyce, the Faculty Board in Control of Athletics, Ed Krause, Herb Jones and Bob Cahill in the Athletic Office, the coaches of the "major" and "minor" varsity sports, intramural athletics and such "club" sports as sailing, rugby, lacrosse, soccer and hockey. With the cooperation of all concerned, the committee is interested in finding and encouraging athletic talent in all these areas from all areas of the United States, both observing and demanding strict adherence to the rules of the NCAA and other athletic bodies with which the University is affiliated. A look at the overall records will show that the last few years have been the "winningest" (with some well-publicized exceptions) in the history of Notre Dame, with such new national laurels as the IC4A cross-country championship. Finally, the committee was a prime mover in establishing a $5 million Athletic and Convocation Center as the major alumni goal of the Challenge II program, replacing the antiquated field house, and recognizing athletics as an integral part of "the tradition of great teaching" to be extended.

ACADEMICS. The Committee on Academic Affairs is the newest subcommittee to be added to the Alumni Board roster, having been erected during the past year. Under the chairmanship of George Bariccillo '44, the committee consults with Academic Vice-President Rev. Chester Soleta, C.S.C., as a liaison with the deans and department heads of the four undergraduate colleges as well as the Law School and Graduate School. This should provide a sorely needed channel of communication between alumni and faculty — particularly timely in the light of the Challenge II theme.

President Oliver Hunter '43 and Secretary James Armstrong '25 have been ex officio members of all the Alumni Board's committees.

RED SMITH ON FISHING. by Red Smith (Doubleday, New York. 192 pp., $3.95).

Oscar Godbout wrote in the New York Times:

"Red Smith, the sports columnist, like most normal men, has a secret vice eating away at his soul. Some persons go the way of race tracks or foreign movies or slipping Canadian coins in vending machines. Smith is careering to a bad end through a weakness for fishing.

DIRECTORS GATHER FOR ANNIVERSARY

As this issue goes to press the past, present and future directors of the Notre Dame Alumni Association have gathered on the campus for the First General Reunion of National Directors elected since the Board was established on an annual election basis in 1924.

This Fortieth Anniversary, Reunion follows the Winter Board Meeting, Jan. 30-31, and nearly 100 directors were expected for the ceremonies concluding Feb. 2, saluting University and alumni development over the past 40 years and joint entry into the CHALLENGE II phase of a ten-year development program.

Future issues will contain a full report of the reunion.

about his angling misadventures in unlikely places around the world. Oddly, Smith is not an outdoors writer by trade. Most of his working time he is erudite about race horses with a weakness for goodies that make them go faster, the art of spiking first basemen without malice, and whether Casius Clay's verse can be parsed.

"Now he stands revealed as an authority on piscicide. Few can match his style. Witness this description: 'Once through the narrow waist of the bridge, the stream relaxes with a soft sigh, like a lady who has removed her girdle.'"

THE REVOLT OF THE COLLEGE INTELLECTUAL, by Everett Lee Hunt (Mental Health Materials Center, Inc., 104 E. 25 St., N.Y.C. $5.00).

This volume was described as treating the changes that "have taken place in the mores, attitudes, and temperaments of students since certain of the so-called prestige colleges have been able to select their students from among the top intellectuals."

Since in many ways Notre Dame is more like the prestige college than like the larger, segmented, impersonal and graduate university, it seemed a good book to read.

Not being an intellectual, I can only say that my personal reaction was that Dean

N.D. COLLECTION BOOKS TO BE LISTED

Since his article in the past issue about a proposed Notre Dame Collection of books by and about the University and her alumni in the new Memorial Library, Library Director Victor A. Schaefer has notified us that all books for the collection from alumni will be reported to us for listing on this page beginning next issue.

(Emeritus) Hunt, basing his thesis largely on Swarthmore, has described a complete capitulation in recent years of authority and control by institutions to the increasing demands of students.

These students, meeting I am sure an early and unanticipated surrender by administrations, have rejected tradition, respect, social conformity to even constructive standards, religious influence, community relations, in short most of the recommendations of experience. And having rejected all of the things that produce and imply security, they base their discontent with all that they have left on — you guessed it — their insecurity.

And at the risk of doing some injustice to Dean Hunt, I derived from the book that the mental and emotional problems of these new students are being met by mental hospitals and psychiatric offices, not by the campus that is their home.

Notre Dame's strong traditions of religion and discipline, and the all-male community, have tended to modify the revolt, but the results vividly evident at Swarthmore, and spreading nationally, are not without our local symptoms. It is good to have access to this map of the road ahead. JEA

THE SMALL RAIN, by Rev. Raymond Roseliep, Ph.D., '54. (Newman Press, Westminster, Md., 1963.)

"These are fresh and original poems," writes poet Paul Engle. "Raymond Roseliep's unique gift is the power to take the most ordinary details of anyone's daily life (a cold shower, crackerjack, an old watch, cans of tomato juice) and make a human vision out of them. He also brings to the forms of his

FOURTH PILGRIMAGE TRACES CRUSADES

A few vacancies may still exist for the Fourth Notre Dame Alumni Pilgrimage to Europe, April 17 to May 10, this time extending also to the Holy Land. The itinerary closely follows the route taken in the Crusades centuries ago and includes many of the sites visited by Pope Paul VI on his recent pilgrimage.

All-expense rate for the tour, including round-trip transportation by TWA jet, is $1,390, and there is an alternate trip to Europe alone for less than half the rate. The full Pilgrimage will depart New York for Athens, Rhodes, Cairo, Luxor, Beirut, Jerusalem (Jordan and Israel), Tel Aviv, Rome, Lisbon and back to New York.

Full information can be obtained from Ask Mr. Foster Travel Service offices in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles.

poems the same sort of invention in rhythm and line which he brought to their subject matter. Above all, the book is lively, squirming with life as a sympathetic but candid eye has seen it."

Notre Dame professor Harold Isbell (Gen. Program), reviewing Father Roseliep's new book in The Catholic Worker, speaks of "the triple loneliness of priesthood, teaching, and poetry," which figures in The Small Rain. "Though his song sanctifies the delicacy of 'hair which falls blackbird,' it never becomes his to touch. This finality of loving gives these poems a wide-ranging freedom, a freedom to love all things because they reflect the catholicity of goodness and beauty which is the poet's voluntary engagement."

The book has a variety of subjects. There are poems about family and friends, poems of human and divine love, and the renouncement of love. Others deal with birth, existence, death. Young people, students, poets and novelists also appear. A number treat of paintings, war, the priesthood, physical nature, the art of writing. "Love," this poet has said, "is at the centre of all my writing."

Father Roseliep teaches at Loras College in Dubuque, Iowa. He received his M.A. from the Catholic University before his doctorate from Notre Dame. The Linen Bands, his first book, appeared in 1961.

LIBRARY COUNCIL inaugural meeting was attended by these charter members: (clockwise from upper left) Lester W. Olson, Milwaukee; John B. Shaw '37, Tulsa, Okla.; Victor A. Schaefer, Library director; John T. Frederick Litt.D '62; Rev. Philip S. Moore CSC '24; and John P. Cullen '22, Milwaukee. Missing were novelist Paul Horgan LL.D. '58, Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Ralph G. Newman of Chicago, and political columnist Walter Trohan '26.

'Thunder' Brings a Shower!

(Since his last column and the close of the football season several things have happened to Clay Stephens. Most notably, he went home to California for Christmas vacation and returned a married man, tying the knot on Dec. 28. Also he was among 33 Notre Dame students selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Clay lives in South Bend with his bride, the former Millie Wynne of San Francisco.)

AMONG STUDENTS there is currently a controversy raging over the effect of losing football on the "Notre Dame spirit." Much of the feeling expressed in various student media, the Scholastic, the Voice, and the Senior Sentinel, is in reaction to an article written by Durkin Manning, an upperclassman, entitled "Shake Down the Thunder." Mr. Manning maintained that as a result of ten years of mediocre football teams the Notre Dame spirit is dying and the Notre Dame family is splitting into dissenting administration, student and faculty groups.

This article provoked a student response from every quarter and every angle. The situation is so complex and influenced by so many diverse factors that no letter, article or discussion has or could come up with a final conclusion. This controversy may yet prove to be a blessing in disguise because of the new awareness of the University and appreciation for the value of Notre Dame resulting from the constant rethinking and re-evaluation involved in the entire discussion.

Old Spirit Waning?

At this point I would like to quote three student letters printed in a recent issue of the Scholastic, but I must stress that these are only the views of three individuals and the entire discussion is far from over.

Arts and Letters sophomore Minch Lewis of Mt. Prospect, Ill., wrote: "... Notre Dame and Football are no longer synonymous. The applicant who needs this demonstrated to him has little chance of progressing beyond the application stage. Nor should they be synonymous. Football is clearly subordinate to the intellectual tradition and is justified by being a helpful outlet for an individualistic temperament. The emotionalism is good because man is part emotional. Football is also justified on pragmatic considerations. It makes money which supports much of the intellectual endeavor.

"But losing football makes it impossible to be proud of one's university. Yes, if that is all your university has to offer. . . .

"We have come back to Mr. Manning's most serious concern—that losing football is destroying the Notre Dame community. If the community is built on football to this extent, then I have to agree with the science profs quoted by Mr. Manning, "I couldn't be happier." Assuming that this is the case, I suggest that football could never serve the present student body as a unifying factor. It ceased to serve as such with the development of the "administration vs. student" complex. During the past ten years the quality of the student body has constantly increased. According to Father Hesburgh, standards will continue to rise. Something with much more meaning than watching our eleven representatives mangle eleven representatives of some traditional enemy is needed to unify this community — especially when Mr. Manning asserts, "It wasn't a matter of how you played the game—it was a matter of winning."

"The tension between the elements of the University exists because the institutions which served the old order, exemplified by Mr. Manning's N.D. spirit, have not been adapted to meet the potential of the New Order. I don't think that our attitude should be the bitterness which Durkin Manning finds in his existence at Notre Dame. We don't have time for bitterness. It is our responsibility to adjust to the institutions of Notre Dame, so that we will be members, not of a community dedicated to football, but of one dedicated to the true Christian spirit, which, it seems to me, ought to be synonymous with Notre Dame."

All Spirit Lacking?

Engineering junior Antone Perrone of Englewood, N.J., wrote: "I wish to congratulate Durkin Julian Manning for his unreserved, straight-tongued attack on the apparent University policy of denying that 'Notre Dame spirit' is rapidly being extinguished on the Notre Dame campus. His article was the first substantial contribution to true expression of student opinion and feeling this year, and it proved both meaty and undaunted. His obvious sincerity was a direct indication of a deep concern to confront and attempt to resolve this grave Notre Dame situation. . . .

"Regarding the substance of the article, I did some investigating of my own into this matter of the 'Notre Dame spirit,' and I found by conversing with one particular Notre Dame alumnus that this spirit was something very real. It was the inevitable fact of winning which constituted this spirit. It was this spirit which constantly drove the flocks of students to the Grotto. It was this spirit which truly made the whole Notre Dame man. It was this spirit which ultimately inspired the Notre Dame man to be successful in all facets of his later life. This particular alumnus to whom I am referring was to me the essence of the Notre Dame man. He admitted that it was this drive for victory instilled in him at Notre Dame which accounted for his success in life, and success truly was his being a significant business executive and fine Catholic and family man.

"I would like to feel this spirit before I graduate from Notre Dame, or at least know that it is returning to this University. I want to assure myself that there is something unique about Notre Dame and it is not just a good academic institution. There is one thing I now know for certain, however, and this is if the present situation continues into the future this University will become completely unbearable for any student; we are not going to attract those fine geniuses Fr. Hesburgh is after unless drastic changes are made in administrative attitude and policy to student life. . . . I am encouraged to see that the University has made initial steps to recapture this uniqueness, but full support has to be given and maintained. Ara Parseghian, you have full student support, of that you can be sure, but speaking for myself, and I'm sure many other students here, we are tired of yelling for nothing."

New Spirit Rising?

And finally, Science soph Richard Lepre of New York City wrote: "Mr. Manning feels that Notre Dame spirit was produced by winning football games. . . . His concern is over the fact that Notre Dame no longer produces winning football teams and that as a result the Notre Dame spirit is dying. I will agree with Mr. Manning that at one time a 'football-centered' spirit existed. However, if the true Notre Dame spirit is something which can die as the result of the outcome of several football games, it is better off dead. Every university should have a spirit. This spirit should be concerned primarily with the intellectual life of the university; it may be concerned . . . with, among other things, football. If a university's spirit is such that it falls apart for lack of a winning football team, something is wrong. Mr. Manning states that 'intellectual excellence and "The Spirit of Notre Dame" . . . can live side by side. . . .' This statement implies that the spirit of Notre Dame is not one of intellectual excellence. Such a spirit is therefore essentially misguided as it is not in keeping with the goal of a university.

"However, I would not sell the students of the University as short as Mr. Manning does. They are not so intellectually lacking that they applied to this University because it was best known . . . or because it possessed a spirit based on football. I believe that a new spirit based on intellectual excellence is rising within the University. The nature of the new buildings on the east campus is a physical manifestation of this spirit. . . ."

There's a sampling. This controversy, semester exams and the traditional Mardi Gras festivities seem to be the principal preoccupations until after Easter. I'll be back next time with a summary of the spring semester.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION:
APRIL 24-26, GRAND BAHAMA

LAST CALL to Grand Bahama Island, to the new Lucayan Beach Hotel for alumni attending the Second Annual Notre Dame International Convention in 1964. The convention is planned for April 24, 25 and 26.

The 1964 convention will be jointly sponsored by the Notre Dame Alumni Clubs of Miami, Fort Lauderdale and Palm Beach County. They offer an open invitation to every Notre Dame alumnus throughout the country.

Prices for the convention have been set at $118 per couple for three days and two nights at the smart resort hotel. This price includes round-trip air fare on Mackey Airlines from West Palm Beach.

The 252-room Lucayan Hotel is an ideal location for the 1964 convention, according to the committee. Every room and suite in the hotel will overlook the water after completion in December. In addition to its beach-front location, there are canal ways, a lake, and a yacht marina adjacent to the hotel. An 18-hole championship golf course adjoins the modern hotel for use by convention delegates.

For further information, write the Notre Dame Convention Headquarters, 100 East Las Olas Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Universal ND Night '64 To Hail 'Great Teaching'

THE 41ST ANNUAL Universal Notre Dame Night will be observed on April 6 in 1964, with the usual allowances for time adjustments to permit itineraries for speakers, community conflicts of dates or places, etc.

The proposed topic, "Extending the Tradition of Great Teaching," is the theme of the Challenge II phase of the Notre Dame's long-range development program for the University. It is a topic which reaches directly into the elementary, secondary, and higher educational institutions of every community.

By adopting this general theme, our Clubs can turn the spotlight on the great teaching at Notre Dame, and at the same time pay tribute to the teaching of the parochial and public schools of their own community, to the high schools and to the colleges and universities nearest them. Speakers will be easy to come by. And the Man-of-the-Year Award might well go this year to the Teacher of the Year, who could be from the Notre Dame campus (possibly returning to his home town for this honor), or he could be a local or nearby teacher of major identity in this field.

Here again, this theme would not only benefit the Clubs and Notre Dame, but would serve as a contribution to the stature of the teaching profession, which should multiply the publicity and public relations values of the 1964 Night.

ASSUMING that all readers of this bi-monthly periodical are also readers of daily papers around the nation, it is hardly an act of enlightenment to mention that the University of Notre Dame has a new football coach, Ara Parseghian, or that Johnny Jordan has resigned as basketball coach, effective at the conclusion of the current season.

As for up-to-date football information, that will be forthcoming in the June issue of the ALUMNUS when spring practice has been completed, and an end-of-the-season statistical report on basketball will then be available too.

So what else comes under the category of news on the athletic front?

Cross-Country and Track . . . Under the direction of Coach Alex Wilson, the cross-country team had an excellent campaign last fall. The high spot of the season was gaining first place in the IC4A meet in New York City, and in the NCAA meet the Irish finished a good third. With Captain Frank Carver leading the way most of the time, they were unbeaten in dual competition. The indoor track season began on

JOHN JORDAN leaves at season's end.

Feb. 1 with a triangular meet at home with Indiana and Purdue. Then came the Michigan State Relays, and ahead are dual meets with Michigan (away) and Pittsburgh (home). On Feb. 29 the Wilsonites will compete in the Central Collegiate Conference meet at Kalamazoo; on Mar. 7 in the IC4A meet in New York; and an appearance at the Knights of Columbus Relays in Cleveland, Mar. 14, will conclude the indoor campaign. Coach Wilson, in his 14th year, is just about always optimistic, and he particularly likes to talk about junior Bill Boyle, who last spring broke Alex's record in the 440 outdoors which had been on the books for 31 years. Boyle was timed in :46.5.

Basketball . . . At the halfway mark, the record was five wins and 10 losses, but Walt Sahn, 6-9 junior center, had missed several games because of a bad back. Larry Sheffield, junior guard, set a new ND one-game scoring record of 47 points as the Irish lost to Detroit in overtime, 114-104. As I said before, we'll have the final stats on basketball in the next issue.

Wrestling . . . In December, Coach Tom Fallon's wrestlers won one and lost one. Dick Arrington, football tackle, has become a crowd favorite while competing in the heavyweight division.

Swimming . . . Coach Dennis Stark's swimmers beat Ohio U. but lost close decisions to Wisconsin and Northwestern in first semester dual meets. Doing very well as expected in the early meets were distance free-stylers Charley Blanchard (senior) and Rory Culhane (junior). This is the sixth year of varsity swimming at Notre Dame.

Fencing . . . While Prof. Walter Langford was away for two years directing Peace Corps activities in Chile, Prof. Mike DeCicco took over as head fencing coach. Now that Prof. Langford has returned to the campus, fencing enjoys the distinction of having co-coaches. The season began for the swordsmen on Feb. 1, Indiana Tech at Fort Wayne, followed by a quadrangular meet with Indiana, Iowa and the Air Force, at Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 8. Co-Captains Jack Joyce and Sam Crimone, both seniors, are hoping to lead the team to a record comparable to last year's mark of 14 wins and but two defeats (best of any sport in 1962-63).

ALEX WILSON piloted cross-country champs.

ERA OF ARA began in December. More about that next issue.

Frosh Football Note . . . There were many familiar names working out with the freshmen football squad last fall . . . Mike Earley, halfback (son of Bill, halfback 1940-42 and later ass't coach under Frank Leahy; Mike is also the nephew of the Fred, place-kicking ace in 1943-1946-47) . . . Dan Gibbs, Jr., end (son of Dan, Sr., pole-vaulter, 1936-38) . . . Joe Kuharich, Jr., halfback (son of Joe, Sr., guard, 1935-37, and former head coach) . . . Angelo Schiralli, guard (son of Rocco, guard, 1933-34) . . . Chuck Vergara, guard (nephew of George, end 1922-23) . . . and you may remember the outstanding play of Tom Lynch, captain and center of Navy, in last fall's battle between the Middies and the Irish . . . well, his younger brother Jim earned his Notre Dame numerals as an end candidate.

Boston

The Annual Notre Dame Communion Breakfast was held at the Red Coach Grille on Dec. 8. Mass was celebrated at Holy Cross Cathedral by MSGR. CORNELIUS J. DONOVAN. Rev. Joseph E. Manton CSsR, famous radio-TV lecturer, delivered a stirring message well salted with his matchless wit.

Buffalo

PATRICK F. KANE '58, pres. of City Planning Assoc., East, presented an explanatory film, and gave a most interesting talk on urban renewal at our Nov. 7 meeting. FRANK FORGIONE '49 was Dir-in-Charge, and HARRY A. QUINN, JR. '49, was chairman of this meeting.

The Very Rev. James J. McGinley, pres. of Canisius College, addressed the Buffalo Club and their families at our annual Communion Breakfast at the Hotel Lafayette, on Universal Communion Sunday, Dec. 8. Mass was first celebrated by our Chaplain, REV. FRANCIS B. BAROTTO, assistant pastor of St. Louis Church. Chairman for this, our most important event of the year, was DAVID S. BRUCKER. JACK McMAHON '53 represented the board of directors.

The Annual Notre Dame Christmas Dance was again successfully sponsored by the alumni, the Campus Club, and the alumni wives. It was held at the Buffalo Trap & Field Club on Saturday, Dec. 28. Dr. and Mrs. RALPH J. ARGEN were co-chairmen. They were assisted by: Mr. and Mrs. PAUL D. BALLING '53, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN F. LA DUCA '36, Mr. and Mrs. FRANCIS J. GAGLIONE '39, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES F. CASEY '44, and THOMAS F. KENNY III '65.

Spring activities include an election meeting in February, a Foundation meeting, and our annual retreat in March.

Chicago

Certainly hope that you were among the 800 in the International Room of the Conrad Hilton last December to hail the 1963 Rockne Award nominees—the outstanding group of athlete-scholars in the Chicago area. This year three awards were given in order that a boy from the suburban area, as well as the Catholic and Public leagues in Chicago, could be honored.

The winners, as chosen by the Chicago prep writers, displayed outstanding athletic ability, above-average leadership qualities, and superior academic records. Al Koranda of Hinsdale won the first suburban Rockne Award. Royce Spencer was the winner of the Public League Rockne Award trophy. Dick Carmignani of St. Philip's, who led the Catholic League in pass receiving, followed in a long line of illustrious winners from the Catholic League.

One of the first to greet the Rockne Award winners of 1963 was BILL PFEIFFER, who was the 1959 award winner. Bill, DON HOGAN, TOM GOBERVILLE and Captain BOB LEHMANN were on hand for the big sports dinner.

JOHNNY LUJACK, who has been calling the signals over TV in recent years, was the main speaker at the Rockne dinner, and he had ample support from such former teammates as GEORGE CONNOR, ZIGGY CZAROSKI, MARTY WENDELL and BILL FISCHER, who presented the trophies to the award winners. Each of the winner's schools will receive a large trophy for display during the next year.

Co-Chairman ED MIESZKOWSKI and KEN SCHUSTER did a bang-up job in making arrangements for the Rockne dinner. JACK QUINLAN, the voice of the Chicago Cubs, had the crowd forgetting the team record with his rapid-fire gags. Other speakers included FATHER JOYCE, COACH HUGHIE DEVORE and ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE, who presented a monogram jacket to HUGH MULLIGAN SR. Others who worked long and hard on the Rockne dinner were PHIL FACCEMDA, former Club president and newly elected head of the national Alumni Association, JOE ARCHIBALD, TOM CAREY and DAN GIBBS.

We also hope you were among the several hundred who turned out for the Club's annual Communion Breakfast on Jan. 12 at Old St. Mary's Church and the Sheraton Blackstone Hotel. BISHOP ALFRED MENDEZ CSC of Arecibo, Puerto Rico, gave the Club members, their wives and guests a current report on the Church and her work in Central and South America. Bishop Mendez, one of the most active bishops in this section of the world, appealed to his Notre Dame family to take a deeper interest in the work of the Church to the South.

JACK CLARK was chairman of the Communion Breakfast and his well-planned effort helped attract one of the largest crowds in recent years.

Instead of its annual St. Patrick's Party, the Ladies Auxiliary worked long and hard on a special "kickoff" party. The committee secured the new Hotel Continental for March 2. One of the fastest moving programs of this or any other year was assembled for the gala dinner party. One nice thing about a Ladies Auxiliary party—it is always full of excitement and surprises—and this year was no exception! Many thanks, Girls, for promoting another successful party and donating the proceeds to the Club's scholarship fund.

All 1963 Rockne Award nominees received handsome certificates. Each boy and his coach were guests of the Club at the dinner. Nominees included: Tom Perna, Bremen; Lee Swank, Waukegan; Martin Berg, Riverside-Brookfield; Phil Major, Rich East; Tom Russian, Reavis; Cal Lewis, Maine West; Scott Simpson, Maine East; Renard Thomas, Vocational; Larry Sampson, Bogan; Ted O'Neill, Gage Park; Fred Simon, Tilden; Dan Stack, Lindblom; Bill Zielke, Harper; Bob Nakos, Kelly.

Looking forward to seeing you at Universal Notre Dame Night in April. Start talking up a table now so that we can make this year's an even bigger success than the 1963 dinner, which was the largest alumni get-together in the history of the University.
—PAUL FULLMER '55, 1st Vice-Pres.

Cincinnati

The University of Notre Dame Club of Greater Cincinnati held their annual Communion Breakfast on Dec. 8, 1963, at Our Lady of Cincinnati College. REES LA BAR '53 was the chairman of the event and the Club participation was very good.

The events that are being anxiously awaited are "MOOSE" KRAUSE'S visit in February and then the annual Spring Dinner-Dance with TOM ISPHORDING '57 as chairman.
—PAUL F. KELLEY '54, Secy.

Connecticut Valley

The club observed its annual Communion Sunday on Dec. 15 with a Communion supper at the Golf Club of Avon. The supper followed an evening Mass at the Cathedral of St. Joseph in Hartford.

The guest speaker was Msgr. James A. Connelly, superintendent of schools for the Archdiocese of Hartford, who outlined for the club members, their wives and guests the problems involved in federal aid to education with particular emphasis on the justice of the demand that Catholic schools be included in any such program adopted by the federal government.

Denver

The winner of our annual scholarship award, BILL DURLIN, turned down a $5,000 scholarship at Santa Clara to take our small one and the several others that we were able to obtain from the University administration.

BOSTON—Breakfast observance of Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday featured (l.-r.): Tim Toomey '30, national alumni director; Msgr. Cornelius Donovan '09, chaplain. William Stewart, guest; J. Harry Marr '37, chairman; Rev. Joseph P. Manton, guest; and Cornelius Fowler '47, Boston Club president.

TOM CURRIGAN, ND '41 was elected mayor for a four-year term of the City of Denver on June 21, 1963. We are all certainly proud of Tom, who has been a past president of our local Club and has worked very diligently in the last several years with me on our scholarship committee. I think he will be a terrific mayor as he is a terrific guy. This city will have much to gain by his election.

The Chief Justice of the Colorado Supreme Court is ALBERT T. FRANTZ '29. He is well known, especially in the South Bend area where he worked for some years after graduation. I believe that his wife is a native there. He worked in Denver as a lawyer for many years, was president of our Club, became a Denver district judge and then was elected to the Supreme Court.

We are quite proud of the activities of alumni in this state.

We are quite pleased to see that we now have the chief justice of the Supreme Court and the mayor of the largest city in which one-half of the state's population is concentrated. The new manager of parks and recreation is JOHNNY DEE '52 who is well known as a basketball coach and coached at Alabama as well as Notre Dame before coming here. Within the last two weeks JOHN MORAN Jr. '52 was appointed to the State Legislature.

We are most busy here with plans for next year's visit of the football team to the Air Force Academy—1st time in this area for the team. We hope to get some money for our scholarship through various activities such as a package bus trip, lunch, game ticket, etc.; perhaps the student trip may be here. A committee headed by JIM HELGER is busy on the arrangements; it includes JIM COUGHLIN, pres., JOHN DEE, V-P; GERRY SMITH, who went to ND on this trip alone and who is Foundation chairman, and myself.

JIM HELGER, the treasurer, is a comer—came here about four years ago and is most active. He and I arranged the Club Picnic at a community swim and recreation center I founded and he put on most of the golf outing with Coughlin and Dee. He was also in charge with Coughlin of the sports luncheon on Oct. 21, John Dee, toastmaster.

DON SEARS won our expense-paid trip from here to ND for the UCLA game on the Burlington RR special train.

We also held a Xmas dance which was for both the students and alumni.

The local sponsor of the ND radio games gave us free spot announcements several (3-4) times each game for our scholarship and ND in general. This plays up ND in our area. I hope to talk at Regis College to the Pre-Law Club about ND soon. JOHN COYNE, an alumnus of ND, is a dean at Regis College.

—CARL EIBERGER

Des Moines

The Notre Dame Club of Des Moines, in cooperation with local members of the press and radio fraternity of Des Moines, held an appreciation luncheon honoring Bert McGrane, veteran sports editor of the Des Moines Register & Tribune. The luncheon was held at the Kirkwood Hotel, Des Moines, on November 20, 1963. CHARLES CALLAHAN appeared in behalf of Notre Dame and presented Mr. McGrane with a monogrammed blanket. Members of the Club in attendance included:

MARK WONDERLIN, JIM BOESEN, BUD BEH, BOB BEH, LOU KURTZ, ED POSNER, JIM SHAW, GEORGE PFLANZ, JOE JOYCE, BOB VALESTIN, HAROLD KLINE, BILL KLINE, JOE ZUENDEL, CLEM SCHNOEBEL-EN, JOHN STARK, JOSEPH WHALEN, FRED NESBITT, JOE CASEY, TONY CRITELLI, and local President PAUL EIDE, who was the master of ceremonies.

Erie

The Annual Notre Dame Communion Breakfast was held Dec. 8, 1963. The ND group went to Communion at St. Peter's Cathedral and then journeyed to the Kalkwa Country Club for a tremendous breakfast. The main speaker for the affair was Father Louis Puscas of Gannon College here in Erie. The annual award for the best high school and grade school football player was given. Gary Dance of Erie East High School and Thomas Wisniski of St. Luke's Grade School were the recipients.

Among those who attended were: Messrs. & Mmes. JOE BARBER '36 (and three children), BOB BARBER '40, HERB KERN '54, RICH McCORMICK '55, JOHN McCORMICK Sr. (Honorary '17), JOHN McCORMICK Jr. '53, JERRY QUIRK (Honorary '17), BILL AMANN (and son Bill Jr.), H. L. SCULLY (Honorary '38), ROBERT WESCHLER (and two daughters), LOU SHIOLENO '49, ROBERT FARMER, LEO BRUGGER Sr. '34, TOM BATES '60 and JACK YOUNG '51.

Also present were: Judge & Mrs. JAMES DWYER '37, Dr. & Mrs. A. J. DeSANTIS and guests, TOM YOUNG, JOE BLAKE '61, LEO BRUGGER Jr. '61, JACK BERTGES (Honorary '17), AMADO CARANDANG, JOHN LOCHTE-FELD '55, JACK PALMISANO '55 and guest, MIKE McCORMICK '61, and DR. TIM ROCHE.
—LEO J. BRUGGER Jr., Secy.

Evansville

The annual summer picnic was held last August at a private recreation area north of Evansville, complete with fish-stocked lake, club house and various athletic facilities. The event was well attended. While the Club's vice-president, JOE HARRISON, was futilely attempting to attach a fish to the end of his fishing line, President PAT O'DANIEL and Secretary AL HARDING charcoal-grilled choice steaks. DON HALLER was crowned king of the washer-tossing contest while Mrs. BOB HARGRAVE displayed uncanny luck with the bingo card. Last year's secretary, CHARLES MANION, "took home the bacon" when his final bingo card won him the remaining unprepared steaks.

Due to some last minute scheduling problems the annual Communion Breakfast was held on Dec. 15 instead of Dec. 8. Once again the turnout was very good and those attending thoroughly enjoyed the program. Fr. James Deneen was the guest speaker and his subject was "Federal Aid To Education," starting with a history of court decisions followed by recent legislative enactments and proposals as well as an application of advantages and disadvantages of federal aid to our own diocesan school system. Fr. Deneen is currently the Superintendent of Diocesan Schools and subsequent to ordination at Innsbruck, Austria, in 1954 received a master's degree in education from Catholic U. There was an active question-and-answer period following the presentation.

An announcement of Jan. 18, 1964, as the date of the annual holiday dinner-dance was made.

Fort Lauderdale

Another fine year has ended for this club, and as we look back over the many activities we have had it is gratifying to note the wonderful co-operation given us not only by our members, but by the University also.

Nominations were held in November for the 1964 officers and directors. We were happy to see that over 90% of our regular members cast ballots. The following is the slate for the coming year: President, BOB McDONOUGH '52 (1963 secretary); Vice-President, BILL MOTSETT '34 (1963 director); Secretary, GEORGE PATTERSON L'58; Treasurer, TOM WALKER '42 (1961 president); Directors, FRANK McDONOUGH '41 (1958 president and Man of the Year); JOHN McGINN '54 (several years officer and director); Returning Directors, BOB GORE JR. '31 (president, 1948, 1951, 1955 and Man of the Year in 1948); CHARLIE QUINN JR '34 (1963 director); Ex-Officio Director, DON DORINI '53 (1963 president). As you can see we have a good deal of experience on our list and we are looking forward to another fine year.

Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday was very well attended and following Mass held at St. Pius X Church we gathered at the Coral Ridge Yacht Club for a wonderful breakfast. The speaker was C. Clyde Atkins, a prominent attorney, president of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Men and Chairman of Bishop Coleman F. Carroll's Committee on Catholic Education in America. Mr. Atkins gave a wonderful talk outlining the various views and needs on Federal Aid to Education.

Coming up is our January Installation of Officers and Directors. February will see our St. Valentine's dinner-dance, and March brings St. Patrick's Day (called by some the Irish New Year) — this is always a favorite of all our members and one of the best-attended functions held throughout the year.

The Second International Convention will be held April 24, 25 and 26 at the Lucayan Hotel at Freeport, Grand Bahamas. Already we have had overwhelming interest in this year's trip. BILL MAUS JR. '53 is chairman of the event in conjunction with the Palm Beach and Miami Clubs. Prices will be about $118.00 per couple for the three-day and two-night festival. Air transportation, hotel accommodations, most meals, cocktail party — all this and more are included in the initial cost. Last year more than twenty-five clubs from all over the country were in attendance — from the number of reservations we already have we feel that this year's Convention will surpass all expectations. Remember, anyone interested in attending write to BILL MAUS JR. '53, Chairman, Notre Dame Club Convention Headquarters, 100 E. Los Olas Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Reservations are limited, so write now and join the fun. DON DORINI '53, our Club president, has received word from FR. HESBURGH that either he or FR. JOYCE will be in attendance. Anyone in doubt as to how much enjoyment you will have just ask ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE! Moose said that he had never enjoyed a weekend like that in his life and said that if it were humanly possible he would be back with us this year. Welcome aboard, Moose, we are all looking forward to being with you again. Incidentally for those who would like to come early or stay longer Bill has arranged for the additional days at very reasonable rates. ALL CLUBS ARE INVITED TO JOIN US, so make up a party and have the time of your life. See you aboard the fishing boat — or on the first tee — or maybe at poolside.

— BOB McDONOUGH '52, Secy.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY—Communion supper in the Hartford area last Dec. 15 featured (l.-r.): Roger Tremblay, Club treasurer; Bob McGoldrick, president; Very Rev. Msgr. James A. Connelly, archdiocesan superintendent of schools and principal speaker; and Lou Colavecchio, vice-president.

Fort Wayne

On Sunday, Dec. 8, the Club met for Mass and Communion at the MacDougal Blessed Sacrament Chapel in Cathedral Square. FATHER HAMMOND said the Mass for the Club. The Mass was followed by breakfast at the Hotel Keenan.

— DAN CASTRO, chairman

Indianapolis

On December 8 the Indianapolis Club held the annual Communion Breakfast at the beautiful new Clowes Memorial Hall on the Butler U. campus. BILL SAHM '51 was chairman assisted by CHARLIE WAGNER '54 and BEN KOEBEL '48. The principal speaker was FR. PAUL WENDEL CSC, who gave an excellent talk on federal aid to education.

BILL SMITH '65 also spoke and extended an invitation to the alumni to attend the annual Christmas dance at the Indiana Roof Ballroom, sponsored by the Campus Club on Dec. 28.

Next project on the club calendar is the Universal Notre Dame Night observance, which will be in charge of BILL MCGOWAN '57.

In March, however, the Notre Dame Glee Club will be in town for a concert sponsored by the Latin School of Indianapolis, a high school for young men interested in a religious vocation. Many alumni will attend, since we all enjoyed the most recent appearance of the Glee Club here in 1962.

Finally, we are all pleased that our president, Judge JOHN RYAN '41, has thrown his hat in the ring for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor of Indiana in the 1964 election. This should be of special interest to the other ten alumni clubs in the State of Indiana.

— WILLIAM D. STUHLREHER '53, Secy.

Kansas City

In celebration of Universal Communion Sunday, the Notre Dame Club of Kansas City held its Mass and breakfast at Notre Dame De Sion French Institute on Dec. 8, 1963. With the co-chairmen, LARRY LEROY and BILL NOYES, there were fifty people in attendance for this family function. FATHER PAPIN, CSC of the Mission Band of Notre Dame was the chaplain for the event. A contribution to Notre Dame De Sion's building fund was presented to the Sisters of the Institute. DICK DUNN and TOM MCKEON, two new members of the Club, were present at the Mass and breakfast.

The Notre Dame Glee Club under sponsorship of a Rockhurst College student organization gave a concert at the College. Feb. 8, 1963.

HENRY J. "BUD" MASSMAN was recently appointed to the board of regents of Rockhurst College, Kansas City, Mo. JOHN MASSMAN was appointed to the executive committee of the honorary board of directors.

The new president of the Notre Dame Foundation in the Kansas City area is DICK PREZEBEL.

Committee chairman under Dick's direction are CHUCK O'NEILL, ED AYLWARD, MARTIN BUTSCH, BILL SHARP and CHARLES AYLWARD.

— CARL B. ERFFMEYER '51, Secy.

Kentucky

The year for the Kentucky Club is just about over. Nomination of a new slate of officers ought to be taking place this month, with elections to follow shortly. But before ushering in the new, let's recap the activities of the past few months.

At the October business meeting the membership was informed that the Club's donation to the recent challenge drive materialized as a book stack in the new library. Now that we've made our contribution to academic excellence, wonder if we can help out in that "other" department?

A new club function was unveiled last fall in the form of a football smoker during the regionally televised ND Michigan State game. BILL DOUGHERTY '55 handled the arrangements and provided a rousing afternoon for a good group of old and new faces at the Richmond Boat Club. It's amazing how much a few drinking buddies can add to the enjoyment of watching a televised game. JOHN GRAVES '57 should get some kind of award for distance traveled. He came all the way from Lexington to join the group. Another newcomer was BOB POWRIE. Although the crowd was a bit small, the enthusiasm was such that we'll try and make this an annual affair.

Our usual December 8 family Communion Supper had to be cancelled this year. Seems Sunday evening Masses are hard to find in Louisville. Religious activities chairman LEO BROWN '50 hopes to schedule a Communion breakfast early in 1964 as a replacement.

That pretty well brings us to the highlight of the social season, the Christmas Dance. BILL SHERMAN '58 organized a delightful evening of dancing and socializing at the Brown Hotel Crystal Ballroom. TOM MORAN '64, president of the student club, directed the decorating committee. Others contributing to the success of the evening were the reservations committee consisting of BOB WILLENBRINK '49, LOUIE HOLLENBACH '37, and GERRY BOLAND '63.

One final word of acknowledgment and thanks to ROG HUTER '40 for shouldering the unenviable job of distributing the block of tickets for the ND-UK basketball game. Seems every year Rog orders more tickets for the Club, and every year he still runs out! Before long, we'll be sporting a cheering section here to rival the ones in South Bend. (In size, anyway; nothing can beat the field house crowds in the noise department!) See you all UND night.

— JACK ZUFELT '57, Secy.

Milwaukee

COMMUNION BREAKFAST

The annual Communion breakfast of the Milwaukee Club was held on Sunday morning, Nov. 24, 1963, at St. Charles Boys' Home. Due to the death of PRESIDENT KENNEDY the affair was very somber and subdued. FR. THOMAS McDONAGH CSC, head of the economics department, gave a short message that was truly inspiring and gave us plenty of food for thought. BRO. JOSEPH BERG CSC was once again our gracious host.

Among those in attendance were: President TOM MULCAHY, Vice President JOHN SCHLOEGEL, NED BALDUS, HUGH BRAUN, MARK PFALLER, BILL DOUCETTE, CHARLIE O'NEILL, NICK GRASSBERGER, CHUCK O'BRIEN and FRANK EATON.

Bill Doucette won first prize with the largest family group in attendance — TEN! Keep up the good work Bill!

CHRISTMAS DANCE

On Friday, Dec. 20, Vice-President SCHLOEGEL chairmanned a successful Christmas Dance that was held in the Flying Carpet Lounge of the Red Carpet Inn. The decorations and music of Bobby Fisher produced a warm glow, in sharp contrast to the below zero temperatures outside. Even Santa dropped by with favors for all. Entertainment was exceptional in the person of Jimmy Mortell, as he gave forth with his impersonations of Jimmy Durante. Had it not been for the introduction given him, all would have thought he was the real "Schnozz."

The students present helped add to the gay touch as they did some "dancing" that made the grads think of the days when a nap on Saturday afternoon was unheard of.

Among the alumni present were: NICK GRAS-

Coming up on the schedule of events are: Sports Night Stag, St. Patrick's Day Party, Universal Notre Dame Night and the annual golf outing.

— DAVID L. ROEMER

New Jersey

The annual Communion Breakfast of the Notre Dame Alumni of New Jersey was held at Graulich's Restaurant in Orange, N. J., following the 10 o'clock Mass at St. John's Cathedral.

REV. JOHN E. WALSH CSC, Vice-President of Public Relations and Development at Notre Dame, was the guest speaker. Father Walsh reviewed the challenge program and future University plans for the 200 or more alumni who attended the affair.

Assistant Coach GUS CIFELLI reviewed the 1963 football season and discussed the outlook for next year. Following Coach Cifelli's talk he answered questions directed to him from the floor.

Other honored guests were Rev. Robert P. Egan, Director of New Jersey's Boystown and Richie Regan, Basketball Coach at Seton Hall.

Chairman ED BRODERICK '54 is to be congratulated for a fine affair.

— JAMES A. SEBOLD JR., Secy.

New York

An enthusiastic crowd filled the main ballroom of the Waldorf on Thanksgiving Eve for the Syracuse game rally. Peter Lind Hayes was toastmaster, and BILL CUDDY '52 was chairman. There was evident pride in welcoming a battle-scarred team, which week after jarring week, with never a lull, had done heroic battle with the very best in the nation. The day following the game a cocktail dance was held in the Waldorf's main ballroom.

On Sunday, Dec. 8, the Club's annual Communion breakfast was held at the Waldorf. Chairman, BILL TALBOT '44 had secured Governor Ribicoff as principal speaker. The highlight of the breakfast was the awarding of scrolls of recognition to five outstanding Club members who have long and faithfully labored for the Club and the University: TOM BRADLEY '30, JOHN BURNS '31, JIM SPELLMAN '41, GUS HARDART '42 and OWEN MURPHY '15.

— GEORGE P. KRUG '35, Secy.

Ohio Valley

Plans to hold a Communion Breakfast were outlined at a dinner meeting on Nov. 12 at Howard Johnson restaurant. BOB SINCAVICH '50 presided. BILL MITSCH '33 was named chairman of the arrangements committee consisting of GUS VARLAS '47, BILL HOGAN '51 and BOB SINCAVICH '50.

Attending the meeting were: BOB SINCAVICH '50, RUS RICKUS '34, GUS VARLAS '47, JIM DAILER '50, HARRY BUCH '52, BILL BUCH '39, BOB GRIFFITH '49, JIM HARANZO '52, FRANCIS WALLACE '23, JOHN NIEMIEC '29, BILL HOGAN '51, BILL MITSCH '33, CHUCK GREAMER and PAT DeMARCO.

The Ohio Valley Notre Dame Club held its Universal Communion Sunday on Dec. 8. Members and their wives attended Mass at Mt. Carmel Monastery at 9 a.m. Rev. Hilariion V. Cann celebrated the Mass and offered it for the intentions of Notre Dame alumni.

Breakfast was served at the Betty Zane Room of Wilson Lodge, Ogebay Park. The following attended: Rev. Hilariion V. Cann, Mrs. Edna M. Sincaovich (Bob's mother), Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT SINCAVICH '50, Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT GRIFFITH '49, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES HARANZO '52, Mr. and Mrs. FRANCIS WALLACE '23, Mr. and Mrs. SYLVESTER DOUGHERTY '29, Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM MITSCH '33, JOHN NIEMIEC '29, WILLIAM HOGAN '51, GUS VARLAS '47, HARRY BUCH '52 and GEORGE SARGUS '28.

A short business meeting followed the breakfast.

— BILL MITSCH '33, Secy-Treas.

Oklahoma City

Our picnic last June was held at a nearby amusement park, Wedgewood Park, which was in the national spotlight when it was picketed briefly several weeks following the picnic. We had over fifty people at the affair, and the caterer did everything up right. There were baseball, horse-shoes and the nearby amusements for entertaining the group. It was pretty hot, but as we look back from today when it is below freezing the hot weather seems a bit inviting. The final picnic arrangements were made by the two ex-bachelors GENE SCHMIT and JIM DASCHBACH.

Our next venture was a TV football party at a local motel, the Guest House. This was arranged by DAN KELEHER '56 and was held on the afternoon of the ND-Stanford game. It was well attended and there were several out-of-town guests including JACK SEXTON '54 from Dallas, Tex. The group had a very fine time.

The annual ND Communion Breakfast was held at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club on the Feast of Our Lady, Dec. 8. JACK NASHERT was chairman and master of ceremonies for the day and did a fine job. It was an unusually successful function. FR. DAVE MONAHAN of the local Catholic High School spoke on the established subject matter and gave it a very pleasant and informative treatment. All present were most enthusiastic about the whole affair. Father Monahan was made a member of the Notre Dame Club of Oklahoma City as he graduated from the old Alma Mater with a master's in education this past summer.

Our last event for the year 1963 was a Christmas Dance held on Friday, Dec. 27, at the Twin Hills Golf and Country Club. Music was played by a popular local band, and JIM DOWDLE '55 and J. T. PHILIPS '61 were the chairmen. With their well-known, locally anyhow, talents we all had a fine time.

A new slate of officers has been nominated for the next two-year period and they have been elected to office. JACK NASHERT, DAN KELEHER, JOHN HOBBS, and WAYNE CURRAN are the elected officers as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

The Oklahoma City Notre Dame Club is having very good attendance by the parents of Notre Dame students, and we would like to take this opportunity to say thanks for their support. We really enjoy their company and look forward to their continued joining-in at our functions.

— JAMES M. DASCHBACH JR., Secy.

Omaha-Council Bluffs

The annual Corporate Mass and Communion for members of the Notre Dame Club of Omaha and Council Bluffs was offered in Our Lady's Chapel of St. Cecilia's Cathedral on Saturday morning, Jan. 11, 1963. Guests at the breakfast following were Coach JOHNNY JORDAN and members of the University basketball squad, who played local Creighton U. in Omaha Saturday evening. A block of seats was reserved for Club members, their families and friends. Pres. JIM BUCKLEY made the arrangements.

— BOB DUNN, Secy.

Palm Beach County

The Notre Dame Club of Palm Beach County held its annual Christmas Party on Dec. 17, 1963. The members in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. DANIEL DOWNEY, Dr. and Mrs. JAMES COONEY, Dr. and Mrs. BERNARD O'HARA, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN DELL, PAUL McDERMOTT, Mr. and Mrs. ROME HARTMAN JR., Mr. and Mrs. JOHN HOWLEY, Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES F. QUINN JR., Mr. and Mrs. JOHN HOEY, JAMES DOWNEY, EDWARD D. LEWIS, JACK DE MARCO, and Mr. and Mrs. PHILIP D. LEWIS.

During the meeting an election of officers was held. DANIEL DOWNEY was elected president, and JOHN HOWLEY was elected secretary-treasurer for the forthcoming year.

— JOHN W. DELL, Secy.-Treas.

Peoria

Please remember in your prayers Colleen O'Hara, the wife of BILL O'HARA '50 and Joseph Kraft, the father of WILLIAM KRAFT '66.

The Peoria Notre Dame Club had a cozy little trip to Champaign to see the basketball loss to Illinois Dec. 14. Club Pres. JACK POWERS '53 led 25 quiet gentlemen and many of their ladies into the rowdy Illinois field house (a taxpayer's nightmare) filled with 14,500 Illini fans. Though we lost the game, we upheld the Notre Dame image in the best of tradition and spirits! The staid and steady performance of JIM SCHERER '52 was reassuring to the rest of us. Thanks to Tom Zoskey and Frank Murphy, good ND friends, for their help. JIM McCOMB '54 kindly provided ample parking for all of our cars. We hoped that revenge would be ours with a victory in the Chicago Stadium New Year's Eve, but it was not to be.

The successful Communion Breakfast was held again at Sacre Coeur Parish in Creve Coeur. Notably present were the CHUCK PERRIN '51 and BILL CLARK '47 families. Chairman JOHN SLEVIN '60 did his usual fine job. Why weren't you there?

Dues for the 1963-1964 year are now being accepted by Club Treasurer PAUL SCHWEICKERT '54. Look forward to a proposed trip to the Chicago Stadium for the Bradley game February 22.

Quad Cities

On Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. O. McAuliffe celebrated Mass for area families in the chapel of the Kahl Home for the Aged in Davenport.

Msgr. McAuliffe, superintendent of schools for the Diocese of Davenport, was the guest speaker at the breakfast served in the dining room of the Kahl Home after Mass. His talk gave us all a fresh insight on the position which Catholics may take on federal aid to education. ROGER NOLAN JR. was chairman and toastmaster.

LEO HERBERT '27, prominent Rock Island, Ill., attorney, passed away suddenly on Dec. 6th. His son Leo Herbert Jr. is a senior at ND. The ND men and their wives gathered for a special rosary at the Wheelan Funeral Home.

Rochester

On Sunday, Nov. 24, TOM KEEGAN '60, JACK DUFFEY '35, DON BOOTH '49 and PHIL YAWMAN '62 represented ND in the annual "College Day" programs at Aquinas Institute and McQuaid High School.

High salesman PAUL PARKER '49 chaired the annual scholarship ticket drive. The Downtowner Motel bar was the scene of the drawing made by Pres. JIM DOYLE '51 who at first read his own name. Upon cries of "fix," inspection showed that THOMAS J. MEAGHER '36 won the Syracuse game tickets and weekend in New York. GENE MYLER pleaded to be next year's chairman but was told he'd have to get in line for the job. Much talk and reminiscing followed. At 2 AM, DICK KLEE '47 and JIM DOYLE were the last to leave.

Cardinal Mooney High School was the site of the ND Communion Breakfast on Sunday, Dec. 8. Chairman was VIC DeSIMON '46.

DAVE MILLER '55 headed another gala Christmas Dinner-Dance held Saturday, Dec. 28, at the University Club. Again it proved to be the most popular event of the year and it was good to see so many undergraduates attending.

Scheduled events after this writing include the annual business meeting in February and a possible St. Patrick's Party. "MOOSE" KRAUSE appears here in March with JOHN CASEY '55 as chairman.

TOM FENLON '57 would like anyone who has a new "elephant joke" to give him a call. He wants a trunk full.

Spokane

Members of the Notre Dame Club of Spokane with wives and friends observed Universal Communion Sunday by attending Mass on Dec. 8 at Our Lady of Lourdes Cathedral. With a record-breaking turnout they breakfasted in the Arcade Room of the Ridpath Hotel and listened to a very interesting and informative talk by Patrick Kreiner, lay theologian.

The following members were present: ED BETHKE '28, REMI DUBUQUE '63, PIERRE HIROU '62, FRANK HAGENBARTH '27, FRANK HERRON '35, DR. CURRAN HIGGINS '49, ELMER JOHNSTON '23, TOM LALLY '06, DR. BOB MAHER '35, JOHN P. O'NEILL '29, DR. JIM ROTCHFORD '48, DICK ST. JOHN '56, RALPH SCHULLER '57, VINCE SLATT '43, BERNIE SMYTH '53, BILL WOLTER '35, and JOE WALSH '14.

After the Communion Breakfast plans were made for the annual Holiday Party, held at DICK ST. JOHN'S home on Dec. 27. Students home from the University for the holidays were guests of the Club.

—JOE WALSH, Secy-Treas.

Youngstown

We had our Universal Notre Dame Communion Breakfast on Sunday, Dec. 8, 1963. The topic, "Federal Aid to Education," was ably discussed by MSGR. WILLIAM A. HUGHES, who got his MA in 1957 from Notre Dame. Thirty-eight alumni and their sons were well informed by Msgr. Hughes who is the principal of Cardinal Mooney High School of Youngstown.

It was freely admitted afterwards that many of us had been afraid to discuss the subject because we were not informed of the whole situation and, more importantly, of the Church's position in the matter.

2/Lt. LEONARD J. LeROSE '59 was killed in a plane crash December 23. Survivors include his wife and parents.

50-YEAR CLUB

On Dec. 19 REV. MATTHEW SCHUMACHER CSC '99 celebrated an unusual jubilee at Holy Cross House on the campus—the 60th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. A native of Chicago, Father Matt got his AB degree before the turn of the century and was ordained by Cardinal Gibbons in 1903, the same year he won a degree in theology from Catholic U. Taking a Ph.D in 1905, he returned to ND where he taught philosophy for four years and served for 12 as director of studies during a period of great academic growth. Father Schumacher, among other things, installed a summer session and was elected president of the Catholic Education Association's college department. From 1919 to 1926 he was the first president of St. Edward's College in Austin, Tex., and he later served as president of St. Thomas College in St. Paul, Minn. For about 30 years before his retirement he had been chaplain at St. Mary's College across the highway.

Sadder news of other priests of Holy Cross. REV. JOHN A. DEVERS CSC '11 died last Nov. 5 in retirement at Holy Cross House after nearly 50 years as a priest at Notre Dame and chaplain for several institutions of the Holy Cross Brothers. REV. JAMES F. McELHONE CSC '11 died Nov. 25, having been an editor of the Annals of Our Lady of Lourdes, associate editor of Ave Maria, a teacher and author of several books since his ordination in 1916. And REV. FREDERICK GASSENSMITH CSC '17 died in December. Sympathy to their surviving relatives and many friends.

Harvest came for laymen among the semicentennarians too, including delayed word on A. P. MacDONALD '01, who died in Duluth in October, and JOSEPH A. O'NEIL, who died October 23 in East St. Louis. Sympathy to their loved ones too.

CLARENCE J. DERRICK, who fifty years ago resided in Oil City, Pa., is now a long-time resident of Los Angeles, Cal., where as a consulting structural engineer he specializes in aseismic design—that is, the construction of buildings so they can endure earthquakes without too much damage. From all reports he has reached the top in this unique profession, which is quite important for those who reside on the West Coast. He is a veteran of both the first and second World Wars.

Since 1955 he has been a lecturer at the U. of Southern California, but recently resigned from that as well as his membership in the American Geophysical Union because, as he says, he belonged to too many things and the area was becoming too broad.

He has been engaged in so much activity since the short time he worked for South Bend City Engineer Moore after graduating in '14 that, as a specimen of what one man can do in his chosen profession, we are copying a biographical sketch taken from a professional publication. Here it is: "American consulting Structural Engineering (Aseismic Design); Lecturer Aseismic Design, University of Southern California since 1955; b. 1893; educ. University of Notre Dame; C.E. 1914; m. 1924, Blanche Marie Dessmier. Private practice, Consulting Structural Engineer since 1924; served in World War I (1st Lieut. Corps of Engineers) 1917-18, and World War II (Captain, Air Force) 1942-45; Commissioner (and President), Los Angeles City Board of Public Works, 1946-50; Director: Los Angeles City Building Code (1940-42) and Territory of Guam Building Code (1953); Member: American Society of Civil Engineers, 1935; Seismological Society of America, 1929; American Geophysical Union, 1947; (Founder) Structural Engineering Association, 1929; Registered Civil and Structural Engineer, California, 1930; Hon. member, Chi Epsilon (Civil Engineering Fraternity) 1955. Publications: Damage Potential of Earth Shocks (1954); Elements of Aseismic Design (1955); Aseismic Design by Distortion Analysis (1956) and (1957). Address: 2021 Kenilworth Avenue, Los Angeles 39, Calif., U.S.A."

Clarence is the first one of the '14 Class to report his doubt of being able to make our fiftieth reunion in June. His only complaint is a slight deafness from working on 50 cal. machine guns in WWII, but he hasn't had time to apply for a pension.

From the Alumni Office:

Thanks to both CLYDE E. BROUSSARD '13 and JOHN RYAN '32 for their quick information on the death of WILLIAM M. (BILL) GALVIN at his Chevy Chase, Md., home in November. A retired Navy captain, Bill was born in Texas and supplemented his ND degree with a master's from Indiana U. and an LL.B. from Texas Law School in 1917. He was an Army officer in WWI, transferred to the Navy and served in WWII with the Escort Carrier Force, Pacific Fleet. Bill had been with the Social Security Administration since its establishment in 1935. Sympathy to his wife and sister, three children and 12 grandchildren.

'15 Albert A. Kuhle
117 South Sunset Ave.
La Grange, Ill.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary ALBERT KUHLE reported himself hospitalized and recuperating from surgery. We wish Al a speedy recovery, meanwhile presenting a digest of material he forwarded from replies to a recent mailing.

A note in the fall to "Friend Al" from ALVIN BERGER in Sturgis, Mich., reported that "the wind is blowing cold and soon we will go South again. In summer I keep busy on garden and lawn and of course do a little fishing and hunting."

"Will be looking forward to seeing you in June, 1965, and reviewing those fond memories of long ago—haven't played fan-tan since."

From ROBERT L. ROACH, formerly president of Roach & Musser Co., Muscatine, Iowa: "Have been wanting to write you for weeks but just have not been able to do so due to the illness of Mrs. Roach. . . . I spend practically all of my time with her. This ordeal, of course, has been quite trying on me too, as I have not been in the best of health." The prayers of all classmates are requested for Mrs. Roach's recovery.

Commenting on Al's fine reunion letter, Bob continued: "I sold out my insurance and investment business several years ago and have been on a semi-retirement basis since then. At the present time (to keep me out of mischief) I am chairman of the Board of Trustees of Muscatine General Hospital (a 130-bed deal). Am also a director of the Central State Bank of Muscatine. Until a few months ago I was ND Foundation governor for Iowa for about seven years. I resigned recently for health reasons. . . . We sold our Roach & Musser plant several years ago. At the time I was general manager. Regret to report that the buyers, Bruce Co. of Memphis, lost money on the purchase and have liquidated the business."

Bob requested a list of "what is left of the good old 1915 gang." We'll try to oblige with a list to everybody by next summer.

W. E. (BILL) KENNEDY wrote from Owensboro, Ky.: "I am well past retirement age but am still active as president of this company (Southern Tank & Mfg., Inc.) along with many civic activities. I Have a daughter and son both living in Indianapolis, Ind., six grandchildren ranging from 6 to 16 years of age. . . ."

JOE KENNEY, Berkley, Mich., was brief: "I am retired and plan to attend the 50th reunion." So was WILLARD V. HALLAM in Lakeland, Fla.: Working, Served in WWI & II as CPO, US Navy—trips to Europe, So. America & Caribbean Islands—US trips coast to coast—one child, married—three grandchildren."

From WILLIAM J. MOONEY, Jr. '57, carrying with the wholesale drug firm of Moore-Mueller-Ward in Indianapolis, came word of his father's death three years ago, noted here before but not on the list of Secretary Kuhl. Another son, Michael '56, is now Fr. Padraic OFM. Remember Bill in your prayers.

Finally, there was word from JOSEPH A. MEYER in Cincinnati that he feels he should be listed with the Class of '17. So be it.

GEORGE N. SHUSTER, assistant to the president at ND, received the 1963 Cardinal Newman award, has written a new book (Unesco: Assessment and Promise) and recently authored an article printed in all diocesan papers on problems of intellectual freedom within the Church confronting the Ecumenical Council.

From the Alumni Office:

Loretta McCaffery, widow of the late JOSEPH JAMES McCAFFERY, wrote in with some of the details of her husband's death last June. Joe died in his summer home at Diamond Lake, Cassopolis, Mich., of acute coronary thrombosis. A Navy ensign in WWI, he became owner and president of the McCaffery Co., a wholesale electric firm in South Bend. In 1919 he married Loretta Poulin of South Bend, who survives with four children; Joseph Jr., general mgr. of the McCaffery Co. in South Bend; James R., San Mateo, Calif.; Mrs. Donald Weaver, Tucson, Ariz.; and Mrs. Robert Ward of South Bend. The family was doubly bereaved with the death of Joe's brother BERNARD McCAFFERY '22 in December. Mrs. McCaffery lives at 1205 Foster in South Bend.

'17 Edward J. McOsker
525 N. Melrose Ave.
Elgin, Ill.

From the Alumni Office:

The '17 news is mostly sad this outing.

Funeral services were held on the campus Dec. 11 for REV. FREDERICK M. GASSENSMITH CSC, veteran rector, prefect and teacher of mathematics. With degrees in theology and math from Catholic U., Father Gassensmith was a parish priest in South Bend while getting his degree at ND and later taught at the U. of Portland, Ore. Except for a year of study at Catholic U. and two years of teaching at St. Edward's U., Austin, Tex., he taught at ND from 1919 until his retirement last fall. Sympathy to his six brothers and four sisters (two of them Dominican nuns) from his classmates and many friends.

FR. GASSENSMITH

REV. PHILIP MOORE CSC '24 represented FATHER HESBURGH at the funeral of EDWARD J. ROGERS in Milwaukee, Oct. 29. Founder-president of Layne-Northwest, a water well drilling firm, and a member of the Advisory Council for the Colleges of Science and Engineering, Ed died of a heart attack on the previous weekend. He was also a founder and former board chairman of Layne-Bowler Corp., Memphis, Tenn., drilling equipment mgr. affiliated with Layne-Northwest. Descendant of a pioneer Wisconsin family, he was a director of several companies, a WWI veteran, licensed philot—and a former president of the ND Club of Milwaukee. Sincere sympathy to his wife Wilma and his brother Leo.

Ye Old-Timers—if you really want the "red carpet" service visit the campus on just an ordinary day. Let JIM ARMSTRONG '25 and JOHN LAUGHLIN '48 know you are there; out will come the "carpet" and they will start selling you once again on how great the School is—taking you through the new buildings and making you wish that you could come back and live it all over again.

Then go over to Corby Hall and visit with FATHER DOREMUS. He'll be delighted to see you and walk your legs off going over the campus. Father will also let you know that you did not "pull" anything that he and "KING" FARLEY did not know about. Perhaps you never left the campus without permission, coming back through one of the "working" subway windows. Remember we called it "skiving."

Don't know how I missed writing that I had a grand bull session with JAMES P. LOGAN—another track man—who is living in Denver and looking great. Jim toured Europe bringing back a foreign car. He instructed me to be sure and remember him to REV. C. J. WILLIAMS, SHERWOOD DIXON and GEO. HARBERT.

I'll never forget what a kick Fr. Williams got from the remark I made at a bull session—when I stated that FRANK RYZDEWSKI was president of the Holy Ghost Society. "Big Frank" tells us he has been president of the Holy Name Society for the past 20 years.

It was at this reunion bull session that PETE RONCHETTI asked Frank on what Hall team did he play. That did it, the ceiling fell in.

Recall going to lunch at the school cafeteria with WALTER R. MILLER in his white hat and $75 shoes. Coming to the table with his tray I asked him what he was eating. You'd have to have him tell you to believe it—lamb stew. Walter, "Big Frank" and I were roommates for a term in Sorin Subway. Those were the days when Walter wouldn't say a dirty word even if he had a mouth full of muck. He still is one grand guy.

MAX KAZUS visited his sister in Chicago and gave me a buzz. We had a great time going over the old days. Max is retired and looking great and is not asking anyone for a benefit.

Have corresponded with JOHN J. VOELKERS, who was constantly at the reunion in WILLIAM J. ANDRES' company. We are going out for lunch after the holidays. Still have to contact such other 1918'ers in Chicago as EDWIN T. BREEN, CARL F. EIGELSBACH and THOMAS J. O'MEARA—will try and have a report on 'em next time.

Trust that Commander CHARLES CALL—who is now getting that Florida tan—contacts ERNIE "STUFFY" BURKE in Orlando. He's not hard to locate; ask anyone who owns the "Loop" in Orlando. Hope he has word from THOMAS H. KING and from the chairman of the board of the General Industries Co., ALLAN W. FRITZSCHE, also PETE NOONAN and JOHN A. LEMMER.

CARLETON BEH said when I saw him that I should be sure and contact VINCENT C. GIBLIN as he is a BIG man in Miami Beach. Trust that the Commander gets a chance to see V.C.G.

Sincerely hope that everyone is making plans to visit ND this summer and get tuned up and in the spirit for 1968.

With no recent word from JUDGE DUFFY, we presume he continues to be very busy as Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman since being named by the committee to succeed retiring RAY MILLER '14 last summer.

Rochester, N.Y.

From the Alumni Office:

Still "working on the railroad" and more on the move than ever, KID ASHE took time to send the office New Year's greetings which he obviously wished to have forwarded to the entire Class. With FRANK "RANGY" MILES as national president of the Monogram Club in the year of the big push for an Athletic Center, it's got to be a great year for '22.

Four men of the class of 1923 have died since our 40th reunion last June. Latest was JUDGE JOHN GLEASON of Cleveland and environs, who died November 14 of cancer. He leaves only a daughter, his wife having preceded him in death.

JAMES J. CLARK, Calumet City, Ind., died in Hines Veterans Hospital July 26 following a short illness after his suffering a fractured hip in his home. Complications were given as the cause of his death. He leaves a widow, Amaline, in Calumet City and his sister and mother in his birthplace, Lafayette, Ind.

THOMAS KEATING and VINCE CAVANAUGH are the other two decedent Classmates, whose deaths were previously reported.

REUNION ECHOES

At the Reunion we sent letters from various Classmate groups to absentee men. One to PIO NONO MONTENEGRO I sent by registered mail to Balayan Batangas, Philippine Islands. The return receipt was signed "Peter C. Montenegro" as agent.

"The list of signatures you sent me from our class dinner will always remain among my most prized possessions" said JOHN MONTAGUE in his reply to the mailing we sent him. ". . . my arms and hands are still shaky . . . but the news from the doctors was wonderful. They hope to get me back on the job in the fall. . . . It's a small world . . . had two of finest doctors in Chicago but they called in another doctor for consultation and it turned out to be JIM STACK, '26, the old ND quarter-miler."

MAIL FROM '23 MEN, A TO Z

CONNIE ALT: (July) On a postcard from Lake Louise, Canada, "Wholly by accident we met and are now travelling with PAT GRANFIELD, ND '23 and his wife through Alaska and Yellowstone."

GUS DESCH: (June) "Thanks very much for the greeting from our 40th reunion . . . greatly appreciated. . . . I must exercise discretion in its relation to my activities and health, which explains my absence from the reunion."

LOUIS deSMET: (September) word from JACK NORTON indicated Louis was grandpa again, his daughter having had a girl, her seventh child.

ARTHUR DIEDRICH: (July) sent me a letter he had received from a former South Bend man in the electrical industry who had moved to the Philip-pires. Before this man left town he and Art had discussed MARIANO DONATO, a Filipino classmate Art hadn't heard from in years. Art gave me a letter received from his friend and I quote in part: "I was able to contact your friend here. His address is 2326 Arellano Avenue, Manila. He called on me here at the hotel this morning and we had quite a visit. He said he would write you."

LOUIS NAVIN and JOSEPH W. NYIKOS (July) spent four cents and five minutes, (which they split 50-50) to send me a post card, postmarked Mitchell, S. Dakota: "Stopped here and had a nice visit with Louis Navin. Joe" "We did have a good visit, tho it was too short. Joe called me at 9 a.m. and I was due in court at 9:30. Going to the N.Y. Fair next year so hope to see you then. Lou Navin."

CLIFF WARD: "... In May I had a reunion of my own with at least one classmate. . . . On a visit to California to relatives we were met by FRANCIS NEITZEL and his wife . . . spent four happy days in that vicinity and then returned with the Neitzels for a week in Boise . . . fishing . . . Neitzel also hoped to attend the reunion but a wedding in his family conflicted. So it goes." Later, a note in July: "You may be interested in the flattering write-up of yours truly which is enclosed. A lot of it isn't true, but who cares. Sincerely, Cliff." The write-up was in the Indiana Publisher and devoted more than a column, with pictures of Cliff, to the thesis "Mr. Hooster Editor Is Apt Title for Fort Wayne's Cliff Ward." Forty years of association with the same newspaper . . . one of nation's best-known newspaper editors . . . forceful and fearless approach . . . middle of the road conservatism. . . .

From the Alumni Office:

ND's Religious Bulletin recently quoted an article on "Obscenity and the Supreme Court" in The Critic for Oct.-Nov., 1963, written by Judge ROGER J. KILEY of the US Court of Appeals of the 7th District. Roger also had a piece entitled "Obscenity and the Courts" in the Oct. 1 issue of New City.

Don't miss the pictures of Peruvian Ambassador FERNANDO BERCKEMEYER in this issue.

when he addressed the Belgian-American Businessmen's Assn. in Mishawaka's Broederenkring Club. His talk, very timely in the light of the Studebaker demise in South Bend, drew a parallel between athletic "de-emphasis" and business' public relations tendency to neglect those qualities which made it great.

DON MILLER and JERRY MILLER are shown with brothers Harry, Ray and Walter this issue in the first gathering of the clan captured on the campus in many years. And JIMMY CROWLEY got a choice column from RED SMITH '27 which we'll quote next time.

From the Alumni Office:

A shy visitor to Chicago recently allowed that it wasn't easy for "a 140-pound weakling" to become the world's greatest writer on sports. "I had an advantage," said WALTER WELLESLEY (RED) SMITH. "In addition to being little and nearsighted, I also was yellow. That's why I can appreciate what those big fellows do." Red was in Chicago for the kickoff dinner in a campaign for Mercy Hospital "because I went to Notre Dame at the wrong time," thus getting to know the general chairman, HOWARD V. PHALIN '28, who enticed him to speak. "What else could I do but say 'yes'?" said Red. "He knows all about my sins when I was young enough to have sins that were worth while." He blushed frequently during an interview with Sun-Times writer Lloyd Green, unaccustomed to talking about himself. "I have the greatest job in the world. If I write a clinker one day, which I frequently do, I can always try to do better the next day. If you write pieces for magazines, you can fret a bad one for a whole month." Once described by Ernest Hemingway as the nation's greatest newspaper writer, Red admitted it takes two or three hours to turn out his daily dozen paragraphs ("I'm a slow bleeder; nothing comes easy"), but he doesn't think of himself as an author, even though a collection of his fish stories was recently published. "I blinch whenever I see the word literature used in the same sentence with my name," he said. "I'm just a bum trying to make a living running a type-writer."

GORDON WALKER, long working out of general delivery in Hot Springs, Ark., recently purchased a home at Route 1, Box 118, DeLand, Fla., and expects to be reached there for some time to come.

Word from the Alumni office that EDDY FALON has joined the second hundred of that portion of our class that has passed on. Eddy had many friends and was well liked. May his soul rest in peace.

This note from RUDY GOEPRICH: "Last week when Nellie and I were in Chicago, we had dinner with the JOHN RYANS. We enjoyed it a lot. JOHN told us that early in October BOB CAREY'S wife was hurt in an auto accident.

"This week while passing through Cleveland, I called PAUL ABEL on the phone. He and his wife are well. PAUL is semi-retired; he dabbles in securities. He was sorry to have missed our last reunion, but was sick at the time, hopped to make the next one.

"In Washington, I talked to WALTER TROHAN on the phone. He was in Europe—Spain and Italy—this past summer. He is going to Mexico next week. He told me his daughter is going to Buenos Aires for two years to work in the Embassy there." R.A.G.

On Dec. 28 DENNIS J. O'NEILL escorted daughter Susan down the aisle of St. Luke's Church, Lakewood, Ohio. Susan returned as Mrs. Michael T. Conway.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary FRANK DEITLE also sent along this added bit of news on Class Pres. Goepfrich. The Technical Board of the Society of Automotive Engineers Inc. voted to award Rudy a certificate of appreciation for his "outstanding contribution to the work of the SAE Brake Committee." The award was presented to the Bendix engineering chief at a luncheon on Jan. 16 in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

In December RAY DURST represented FATHER HESBURGH and Alma Mater at St. Xavier College, Chicago, on the occasion of the inaugural convocation for the new president, a master's and doctoral coed from ND named SR. MARY OLIVIA BARRETT RSM. (See '53 notes.)

Also in December ARTHUR J. BIDWELL took a trip to Florida, apparently to escape a draft as Republican candidate for lieutenant governor of Illinois. According to the Chicago Trib Art preferred to complete his term as president pro tem

PAUL E. FALTER was stricken and died while returning from a Florida vacation en route to his home in Columbus, Ohio. Paul had been employed for many years as a bailiff in the Ohio Industrial Commission in Columbus. He is survived by three brothers and a sister. Our treasurer, JOE LANGTON, arranged with FATHER ANDY MULLER-REANEY to offer a Mass at the request of the Class for Paul. I want to thank JOHN FONTANA and HUD JEFFERYS for advising me of this sad news.

JACK CANIZARO, Class vice-president for the South, did a great job in rounding up news. Jack sees TROY BONNER once a week in Jackson, Miss., at a meeting for the church. Troy is with the Mississippi State Highway Dept. He recently visited GENE O'BRIEN in Hopkins, Minn., where he is in the newspaper business. Jack gave me the first report I have had on ED CUNNINGHAM in years. Ed is still interested in the mortuary founded by his father in 1898 in Los Angeles—although because of health he has given up active work. Cunningham & O'Connor funeral directors have most of the movie clientele such as burying Clark Gable and Gary Cooper. They also have a place in West Hollywood. Ed and his wife live in Beverly Hills. Jack also reported on JIM COWLES who practices law in Shreveport, La. Jim has three children, the oldest is at Newcomb College. JACK CANIZARO also gave us a report on CHRISTIE FLANAGAN who operates Christie Flanagan & Co., stevedores and steamship agents in the Sabine District of Texas. One of Christie's sons is with his firm and the other is practicing law in Houston. His two daughters are graduates of St. Mary's and married to ND men.

FRANCIS MEYER has presented me with a composite set of wonderful pictures of our reunion. JOHN DAVIS also sent some excellent pictures to be added to those previously received from GENE FARRELL, JOHN SEITER and AL DAVIS and to the great movie film made by JIM ALLAN and his son.

Our Class vice-president for the East, DR. DAN BRADLEY, and his wife are going to run a clinic in Huehutenango, Guatemala, for the month of Unlisted in the last issue was the death on Oct. 12 of BRO. MAXIMUS CZYZEWSKI CSC at Holy Cross House on the campus. Brother Maximus got his AB with the Class of '24 even though he had been with the Congregation of Holy Cross since 1897 and had started teaching at South Bend's St. Hedwig School in 1901. He had taught at Holy Trinity High in Chicago for 55 years when he retired last year. Born in Poland in 1881, Brother left several relatives in the South Bend area, including two Holy Cross nuns and a nephew, FRANK CZYZEWSKI '23 of the South Bend Tribune, with whom he wrote a history of South Bend's Polish community. Sympathy to Frank from Brother Max's junior classmates.

From the Alumni Office:

GEORGE VERGARA, former reform mayor of New Rochelle, N.Y., and now a member of the City Council, recently gave colorful testimony of his personal crusade against gambling in the New York suburb before the State Investigation Commission.

On the home front, Executive Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG has not only branched out family-wise (a couple of granddaughters added to the all-male roster in the past year or so) but also professionally. Long known as the Georgie Jessel of the Great Lakes area business and professional banquet circuit, Jim went international in Dec.

February for the Maryknoll Fathers. Dan mentioned that VIC FISCHER and his son had dinner at Dan's just before Vic took the boy out to start at Notre Dame. REV. HARRY RYAN '27 also visited Dan recently at Amityville, N.Y.

LES FLEWELLING, who received his M.A. with our Class, is with the Beneficial Standard Life Insurance Company and lives in Sunland, Cal. Les recently completed three years' presidency of the Sunland-Tujunga Democratic Club, a year as a director of the San Fernando Valley Notre Dame Club and five years as a member of the Trade Advisory Committee of the State Prison at San Quentin. Les has two children. Both Les and DON DAN BRADLEY have Chinese girls living at their homes.

JOHN BUSCHEMEYER, director, Louisville General Hospital, was unable to attend our reunion as he was recovering from a coronary. John has two daughters and a son who is at the U. of Louisville School of Dentistry. DAVE KREMBES teaches math in Stevens Point, Wis. He has three children. BILL HURLEY is in the insurance business in Springfield, Mass. He has four children. GERALD LUDWIG, who is sales engineer for Henry Upjohn Co. in Kalamazoo, Mich., joined us on Saturday of our reunion weekend. He said his bum ticker prevented a longer stay. Gerald has two children.

I talked to JOHN FORGE when I was in Omaha, Neb., in the fall. John has six children and fifteen grandchildren. He is still with Goodyear Tire Co. One of his daughters is an Ursuline nun who teaches in Cumberland, Md. He has a son a lawyer in Kansas City and another an engineer with Douglas Aircraft in California. DON RAU is deputy commissioner of the Michigan Department of Revenue in Lansing, Michigan. Don has three children and five grandchildren.

I note in the press where Federal District Judge GEORGE BEAMER was upheld and praised by the US Court of Appeals in a major decision holding the neighborhood schools policy of Gary, Ind., to be constitutional. An item came across my desk at the office reporting on a talk by ROY MOCK, St. Thomas College placement director, at a forum held on November 18 by the Minneapolis and St. Paul Chamber of Commerce. Ray is president of the Midwest College Placement Assn. GEORGE G. KELLEY had an excellent article on "Rights, Not Ratios" in America recently. I have found a number of JOE BRIGG'S articles in Ave Maria to be particularly helpful. His analysis of "The Bible and the Schools" in the September 14, 1963 issue, for example, is the clearest and most logical analysis I have seen on this subject. I note that Commonweal praised Joe recently for being one of the only two voices raised against what they considered one-sided reporting on Vietnam. My only godchild whose father is a '28 classmate was married recently. She is Virginia Gleason, daughter of ART GLEASON, who is practicing law and is in the insurance business with his son in Stow, O.

Thanks to Class President BERNIE GARBER, the Class of '28 had a good get-together at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City following the Syracuse game on Thanksgiving. In addition to Bernie and your Class secretary, the following were in attendance: GEORGE CRONGEYER, JOHN FONTANA, JOHN IGOE, JOHN ANTUS, ED BOURKE, JIM ALLAN, JOHN DAVIS, ED McKEOWN, TOM BOV, JUDGE BILL JONES, RODGER BRESLIN, ADRIAN LOPEZ and EUGENE FARRELL. The wives, and in some cases the children, of the classmates also attended. The son of DENNY DALY and the son and daughter of JOE HILGER were present for this affair although the parents did not make it. Barry Lopez, a student at Notre Dame and a son of Adrian, received the Chicago Tribune cadet award of the year in 1962. NEIL AMIOT wrote from Wyandotte, Mich., where he operates the Amiot Cleaners, that he regretted not being able to attend the '28 get-together as he had planned to be with us. Class Treasurer JOE LANGTON wrote from Ottawa, Ill., where he operates the Langton Auto Supply Co., advising that a prior commitment made it impossible for him to attend. Joe reported that BILL MURPHY and his sister stopped in for a good get-together in Ottawa.

BOB HAMILTON, JUDGE BILL JONES, BERNIE GARBER and PAT CANNY attended the Pre-Game rally in New York the night before the Syracuse game. ED F. BRENNAN expressed his regrets at not being able to attend our '28 get-together. I hope it wasn't because his daughter recently married a Syracuse man.

GEORGE CRONGEYER and your Class secretary represented the '28 Class at the annual Communion Breakfast of the Notre Dame Club of

New York on December 8, 1963. TOM BRADLEY '30, who sat with us at the breakfast, received an award for his work with the Club. Tom is with the New York Division of Employment. Tom was asking about JOE BRANNON, who has returned from Sears. JOHN Q. ADAMS '26 is a fellow committee member with your Class secretary on the Committee of Religious Leaders of the City of New York. John is President of the Manhattan Refrigerating Co. He makes frequent trips to Washington where he is an adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Freeman.

Our next '28 class get-together will be following the U.C.L.A. game on October 17, 1964 at Notre Dame. Plan to order tickets for this game so you will be able to attend our 9th Annual '28 Class post-game cocktail party.

From the Alumni Office:

In reporting the death of classmate PAUL FALTER on Nov. 24, JOHN C. FONTANA made a contribution to ND Foundation in Paul's memory while enclosing checks from a fellow lawyer in Columbus, O.

C. EDWARD DIRINGER, formerly Southwestern regional sales manager of the Lawyers Co-operative Publishing Co., lawbook publishers in Rochester, N.Y., has been appointed field sales manager of the firm, responsible for marketing activities of the field sales force. Formerly owner of Diringer Motors in Rochester, Ed joined the publisher in 1944 and has directed sales in various parts of the US. He and Mrs. Diringer live in Pompano Beach, Fla., and have five daughters, three of them married and living in Rochester.

Tentative arrangements for our 35th year reunion are as follows: Housing, Lyons Hall; Class dinner, Friday evening, June 12, Morris Inn; Class Mass, Saturday morning; Alumni Banquet, Saturday evening; Election of Class Officers — nominations for elections which may be held (by mail ballot before) (by mail ballot after) (during) the reunion are in order. We invite your suggestions. Local Committee — will meet soon. Publicity — are you willing to send a promotional mailing? Golf, photographs, caps, beer — as usual. Details . . . will follow.

ROCCO PERONE, formerly of Cincinnati, is now at 1 North Wacker Drive, Chicago — office of Long Lines Dept. of AT&T. If you are in the market for a house on Coralsea Drive, Cincinnati, Rock and Agnes are the ones to see. Their daughter Paulette will finish at Ohio State in June and Denise will graduate from Anderson High. Rocco Jr. and Perry are in grade school in Cincy.

Mary Elena is living at Pensacola, Fla., where her husband is a jet pilot in training with the Navy. They have a two-year-old daughter Michelle. Rocco tried to contact FRED WEISS while in Kansas City. They and many others of us are reminded of JACK DONAHUE'S untimely death a year ago.

RAYMOND M. HILLIARD of Chicago was re-elected chairman of the board of directors of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice at their Nov. meeting in Washington, D.C. More than 300 delegates from Catholic interracial groups throughout the country attended the four-day meeting.

FRANCIS JONES, our Class president and an attorney in South Bend, was elected to the board of directors of the American Bank & Trust Co. in mid-November. Francis has been active in civic enterprises and we are glad to have him on our local committee for the 35th reunion in June.

Robert Kennedy means one person to Jimmy Hoffa and another to the teacher of freshmen in the College of Liberal Arts at Notre Dame this fall. This freshman is the son of JIM KENNEDY and Elizabeth, the brother of eleven Kennedys (and the uncle of four lively youngsters). At home with him at 6534 Imlay St., Chicago, are Kathleen, Henry, Mary, Roman, Eileen and Kevin. The six children have four different school-day destinations and their mother still another — namely, St. Cornelius School where she teaches fifth grade. Jim is an advertising and business counselor. Son Tom is a senior at Loras College. The four eldest children are Jim Jr., a science teacher in Chicago; John, with IBM in Waukegan; Betty (wife of Michael LaGrue, Concho, Okla.), a teacher in an Indian school; and Patricia, LTJG, US Navy Nurse stationed in San Diego.

HUGH J. McMANIGAL, Box 205, Perrine, Fla., has assisted in promoting attendance at previous reunions and is looking forward to seeing most of you in June. JIM CURRY has suggested that

The Fifth Philom. (Farmer's Almanac editor), RAY GEIGER is entitled to the almanac editor's traditional title, which was popularized by Benjamin Franklin and derives from the Greek "philosopher," meaning "lover of learning," plus "mathematician." There have been only four other editors of the publication since it began in 1818. Ray has edited a new book, Best From the Farmer's Almanac, which was reviewed in the last issue of the ALUMNUS, and has been popping up with energetic "plugs" in every medium of communication.

Congratulations to MOST REV. PAUL HAL-LINAN, Archbishop of Atlanta, on the likelihood of his receiving a red hat at the next papal consistory after his work on the Ecumenical Council; and to ALEX WILSON for guiding the ND cross-country team to its first ICA national championship.

On Tuesday, December 31, 1963, a Memorial Mass was celebrated at the University in memory of all deceased members of our Class. As you were previously advised, a similar Mass is to be held on the last day of December of each year in accordance with arrangements made at our XXX Reunion.

Recent notes and good wishes were received from JACK BREEN and EDDIE GARGARO from Detroit; MARTY MORAN, whose new address is 322 Douglas Street, Park Forest, Ill.; from CHARLIE JASKWHICH, Kenosha, Wis.; MARION BLAKE of Tulsa, JOHN NICHOLS from Milwaukee and ROLAND DAMES from St. Louis.

LARRY SEXTON, who graciously acted as a master of ceremonies at our XXX Reunion, was in New York for the Notre Dame-Syracuse game and we visited with him at the Notre Dame party at the Waldorf. Larry told us that he was going to send autographed pictures of the Indianapolis Speedway Classic to all members of the Class of 1933, honoring the occasion of our XXX Reunion. Watch the mails!

Also seen in New York at the Notre Dame-

PETER J. WACKS '30, formerly of the FBI and twice spotlighted in 14 years in personnel and labor relations, has won new laurels since 1957 as vice-president for industrial relations of Textron's Bell Aerosystems Co. In a story on "Bell's Breakthrough in Labor Relations" Peter was credited by the Buffalo, N.Y., Chamber of Commerce as a key figure in the changed labor climate at the aerospace company.

Syracuse game were: FATHER FRANK GARTLAND, CSC, who is still stationed at North Easton, Mass.; REGIS McNAMARA, who is still city engineer for the City of Binghamton, N. Y.; and MSGR. FRANK HARRISON, who has recently been assigned a new parish in Binghamton.

A recent note from ED ECKERT from Pinehurst, No. Carolina—where he was enjoying a golfing holiday.

Recently saw BILL LYNCH in Grand Central Terminal and he said he had been in touch recently with ANDREW BOTTI and FRANK McGEE—all's well with both Andy and Frank.

Attended both the Giant-Eagle game and the Notre Dame-Syracuse game with GEORGE ROHRs and his family. George is busy with his oil terminal operations at Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., and reports that he frequently sees and talks to GENE RAU.

Our class certainly is highly complimented by the election of EDWARD STEPHAN to the Associate Board of Lay Trustees at the University. Despite his busy law practice he still finds time to be active in alumni affairs in the Chicago area and devotes considerable time to the affairs of the University.

On the afternoon of President Kennedy's tragic death, I ran into JIM SHEA at St. Joseph's Church in Bronxville. Jim recently moved to Bronxville, N. Y. and like thousands of others, he shared the grief of the country in typical Notre Dame fashion—by walking to his neighborhood parish to offer prayers for the President.

the NBC News Division, thus keeping in touch with the president of the National Basketball Assn.

THEODORE J. HIEGEL of Coaway, Ark., has been named president of the Catholic Knights of America. He and his wife Frances have five children.

Columnist DAVE CONDON '45 had the following in his favorite story dept.: "ED (MOOSE) KRAUSE, ND athletic director, reports that, several years ago, while he was basketball coach and a hospital patient, he received a telegram: 'The faculty board in control of athletics, by a vote of 3 to 2, wishes you a speedy recovery.'"

From the Alumni Office:

The last part of October we received the following letter: "It is with deep pain that I wish to inform you that my husband, CHARLES J. NOVAK passed away April 20 of this year.

"We were returning with our son Paul (15) from a Florida trip and stopped to visit our son Kurt (19) at Penn State, where he is a student. While waiting for Kurt to get through with his classes, the three of us went to play golf and while golfing, without a warning, he (Chuck) just dropped dead. It was a horrifying experience and a deep shock, as Chuck was in excellent health, and golf, next to his family and Notre Dame was his love.

"He had a deep, sincere respect and love for Notre Dame, a feeling he used to say, 'you just can't describe'. My only regret is that our son didn't choose Notre Dame for his college (he was accepted when he applied) but we felt it was his decision to make.

"Chuck was looking forward to this (35th anniversary) reunion as he enjoyed the silver one so much.

"Wishing you a successful reunion, I remain, Sincerely yours, Mrs. Chas. J. Novak."

From the Alumni Office:

JOHN BENNETT SHAW's interest in books began shortly after WWI when his uncle opened a charge account up to $5 a month in John's name. Books sold for 75 cents then. There was a large article about John in a Tulsa newspaper. It went on to say that two years ago Tulsa's libraries were in poor shape and they have now built, rebuilt or rehabilitated 19 libraries. A large portion of the work, the planning, design and influence in book selection, came from John, who is also a key advisor for the ND Memorial Library.

Area Veep AL SCHWARTZ wrote in to ask what happened to JOE QUINN, enclosing a Hedda Hopper clipping that said: "JIM BACON'S 20-year-old son Roger gets a part in 'Looking for Love' at M-G-M. Papa is AP's dashing representative here. And what a dancer!" Huh?

 Subject: Silver Jubilee
REUNION

Weekend — June 12-13-14
 1964

'39 James N. Motschall
 Singer-Motschall Corp.
 10090 West Chicago
 Detroit, Mich.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary-President JIM MOTSCHALL is apparently working very hard on some surprises for the Silver Jubilee Reunion of the Class next June 12-14. The fact that he forwarded no news for this issue is probably explained by the fact that he received no information from his classmates, who are perhaps so accustomed to receiving Jim's periodic questionnaires that the thought of volunteering some news has never occurred to them.

Motschall, however, has been on the job. During the past football season Jim got the jump on nine other reunion classes by scheduling the first planning meeting for the 1964 Reunions at the Morris Inn. Present were South Bend chairman-designate JOE HANNAN, the American Trust tycoon; Jim, taking the day off from his Detroit printing firm; Class Treasurer DAVE MESKILL and PAUL RICE, both down from Wilmette, Ill.; plus JIM ARMSTRONG '25 and JOHN LAUGHLIN '48 from the Alumni Office.

The meeting nailed down a tentative program for the reunion weekend: Class residence at Morris Hall, supplemented by a 19th hole at the Rockne Memorial; at least three big meals at the North Dining Hall, one of them with FR. HESBURGH as host, etc. A mailing will be out soon assessing the damages — modest in view of the plans.

Flash! The following came from Secretary Motschall at press time, having missed connections for an earlier issue:

As you well know our 25th reunion will take place on June 12-13-14 in 1964 . . . a few short months away.

In an effort to start things off properly DAVE MESKILL, our treasurer, JOE HANNAN, our campus representative, PAUL RICE, our district leader in Chicago, JIM ARMSTRONG and JOHN LAUGHLIN and I held a meeting at the Morris Inn on Friday, October 4. It was the intention of all present to make our reunion the biggest and best ever. However this success will depend upon your interest and participation. It was suggested at the meeting to appoint regional alumni whose responsibility will be to contact either by phone or letter all fellow classmates in his area. Some time ago I asked several people to help on this and they are listed herewith: J. B. CELLA II, Fresno, California; J. GREGORY RICE, New Jersey; WALTER H. JOHNSON, New York; VINCE DeCOURSEY, Kansas; JOSEPH P. SULLIVAN, Massachusetts; and PAUL RICE, Chicago.

We would appreciate hearing from other '39ers who would help us contact as many as possible of your classmates. We need help from alumni who are in Texas, Oregon, Virginia, Florida, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Ohio, Montana, etc., and who are really interested in making our reunion a tremendous success. Won't you please write me and volunteer.

A complete new roster of our class was sent out to you with up-to-date addresses. This will help you in finding the men who live nearby. Also we want you to contact your real close friends on campus and urge them to join you this coming June . . . JIM CLIFFORD, TOMMY McINTYRE, CHET SADOWSKI, JOHN CAREY, BRYAN CASEY, CHARLIE RODGERS, ART DAVES, PETE FLUGE, FRANK GEORGE, CHARLIE HAYES, DAVE HARRIS, BOB KIERNAN, PAUL KLUDING, JOE MacDONALD, TOM MAHER, JERRY NAUMAN, JOHN O'HARA, DAN SHEEDY, TOM SHEEHAN, JOHN SULLIVAN, JOE SULLIVAN, JOHN WINTERMEYER, TOM ZIEGLER . . . all of you I expect to see next June.

There is still one more issue of the ALUMNUS to be printed before our reunion. Please send me any new information you desire to divulge so we can be well represented in that issue. For the ones who have never sent me any of the four questionnaires this is the time to act — not tomorrow but today.

From the Alumni Office:

REV. MOTHER M. VINCENTIA SSJ, superior general of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Nazareth, Mich., is perhaps the most eminent of the Class' MA girl grads. With the number of SSJ nuns in her province approaching 1,000, Mother Vincentia had two almost simultaneous announcements of great importance last November: first, the appointment of SR. M. MICHAELINE SSJ '51 as director of vocations, the first full-time "professional" in this position; and secondly, the Diamond Jubilee of the Michigan teaching order.

Observed in 1964, the 75th anniversary recalls the establishment of the community in 1889 by 11 pioneer nuns invited from Watertown, N.Y., by a Kalamazoo pastor. Today there are nearly 800 sisters on active duty in five dioceses and 90 more in training at the motherhouse. Besides Nazareth College and six hospitals, the community operates 72 high schools, grade schools, nursing schools and orphanages in the Chicago, Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw and Grand Rapids areas. The congregation actually dates from 1650 in Le Puy, France, their habit deriving from widows' garb of the 17th century. Driven from France in 1836 by the aftermath of the French Revolution, the sisters first settled in St. Louis, Mo., with later offshoots in Watertown and Nazareth.

Congratulations to Mother Vincentia and her community, which has sent more than 200 sisters to ND and has at least 100 degree-holding alumnae in the ranks, besides using Holy Cross priests as chaplains at the Nazareth motherhouse from earliest years.

FRED HOOVER and his wife recently completed a trip from their home in Seattle all through the Orient. Fred reports the trip is well worthwhile with Tokyo a wonderful place for sight-seeing and Hong Kong for buying anything.

JIM O'NEAL reports from New York that JOHN KIRBY is now ass't advertising director of US News and World Report. In John's travels, he recently had dinner in Cincinnati with WALLY HEEKIN and ran into TOM CARROLL at the Biltmore. FRED PAULMANN is doing a yeoman job as head collection usher in his New Rochelle parish. FRANK POLLNOW was in NY on a big chemical deal. GUS HARDART is still catching the 5-23 to Larchmont. None of the NY '42ers want to recognize TOM FITZHARRIS, who looks exactly the same as the day he graduated. LARRY HICKEY still busy pouring cement, the construction business is extremely good. Larry is almost as busy as "RAPID ROBERT" BURKE who heads up one of the top food brokerage concerns in Metropolitan New York.

PAUL LILLIS, now of Chicago, LARRY KELLEN and BILL PADDED of Houston, DON HOGAN, TOM NASH, BILL MARSHALL, JIM CONWAY, and BILL HICKEY watched the Chicago Bears beat the Los Angeles Rams on their way to a very successful season.

JIM FAYETTE reports from Burlington, Vt., that CHARLIE CONGER of Poughkeepsie visits him frequently, and that TONY DONADIO of Baltimore also gets to that part of the country. In NY recently Jim visited with JIM McFADDEN, who is now the commissioner of labor. JACK CLIFFORD is with the FBI in Plattsburg, N.Y., just across the lake from Burlington. JOE RORICK, now an executive with IBM, selected Burlington, Vt., as the site of a new IBM plant. Jim was in Las Vegas with MIKE HYNES, who was in a

Most heartening was the response from those who have never returned for a reunion, plus the promises of some of those to make our 30th in 1968 — like from JOE DI MATTEO, now a grandfather of Joe III and still teacher and coach in Glenshaw, Pa. One who never made a reunion and never will had his questionnaire sent in; the wife and four children of HARRY BERNBROCK, who died last March 3, did it for him. Remember Harry in your prayers. From Ft. Smith, Ark. HUGH CORRELL protested the question of grandchildren with "Don't Rush Me" and then took up the argument we left off nearly 26 years ago by saying he's "still opposed to the New Deal, Fair Deal and Big Deal and looking forward to voting for Goldwater." So far questionnaires have been returned by 90 who never made a reunion — something to work on for our next encampment.

On the other end of the record 28 indicated they had attended all four of the reunions. HAL LANGTON said he was here for the 1943 reunion which we didn't have. ED SNEELL couldn't remember if he was here for our first one in 1948, but we gave him credit because there were quite a few others who were here who couldn't remember either. A total of 31 had made three reunions, 23 had made two reunions, and 37 had made just one, of which 14 were here at our Silver seance last June. That leaves still a lot of unanswered questionnaires. Come on, you quiet ones, send in your information so our Who's Who in the Class of 1938 can be up to date.

The neighbors of JACK THULIS and his wife Jane, who died within six weeks of each other last summer, have set up a memorial fund for the six children whom they left behind, ranging in age from 20 to five. If you haven't and want to help, send contributions to the Jack and Jane Thulis Memorial Fund, Christ the King Church, 9235 S. Hamilton Ave., Chicago.

In retrospect the best thing about the past football season was seeing you '38 lads at the game. CHARLIE CALLAHAN mentioned seeing MAURY KENNEDY, now at Lodi, Calif., at the Stanford game, also JIM ENGLISH, who lives in Palo Alto, and DR. OBIE O'BRIEN, COL. CHUCK MORRISON was here from Lynchburg, Va., to see Navy play and his freshman son at ND. Also saw GENE DOLAN and BOB McGRATH. JOHN O'CONNOR and BOB WHITECOTTON were shaking their heads after one of the games. John's son was quarterback and Jim Carson's boy a guard on the outstanding Indianapolis Cathedral H.S. team last fall.

Changes of address the past year included: EDDIE KILRAIN from N.J. to 6705 Farmleigh Dr., Indianapolis; JOHN KLISE from Cleveland to 904 Cambridge Ave., Marion, Ohio; DICK BOWES from South Bend to 102 Upland Rd., Houghton, Mich.; WALT LEWIECKI from So. Bend to 1892 Audubon Dr. NE, Atlanta 6, Ga.; DR. JOHN RIEDER from So. Bend to 3918 Country Club Dr., Long Beach, Cal.; JOE MEHRING from N.J. to 2111 W. 94th Terrace, Leawood, Kan.; FRANK LARWOOD from Salem to 4786 SW Elm Lane, Portland, Ore.; DR. JOHN TOBIN now at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.; JOE KUCHARICH's new address, 101 Grand Ave., Middletown, N.Y.; PAUL VAN WAGNER's new address, '49er Country Club, Tucson, Ariz. CAPT. JACK FOX, now at 1934 Columbia Pike, Arlington, Va.; BILL ARNOLD from N.Y. to 1942 Rosemary Hill Dr., Silver Spring, Md.

From the Alumni Office:

FR. HESBURGH received an honorary law degree from Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., and was named a trustee of the teachers' insurance and retirement group. Father was one of four recipients of the 1963 Bill of Rights Award in New York and was cited "for distinguished public service in the field of education." JIM DOYLE reports from Davenport, Iowa, that at the CPA convention in Minneapolis they visited with CLETUS CHIZEK, whom you will recall as our accounting professor. At the convention EMMETT KEENAN had a chance to visit with Prof. JIM DINCOLO.

TOM DEGNAN is now living at 205 Welwyn Road, Woodbrook, Wilmington, Del., and reports that WALT CORDES is back in Wilmington after assignments with DuPont in Houston and East Chicago as director of research for the Industrial & Biochemicals Dept. Both Tom and Walt have sons at St. Edmund's Academy, run by CSC.

PHIL LUCIER, president of Continental Telephone Company of St. Louis, is getting a lot of publicity in the financial papers recently for his activity in acquiring other businesses. Continental was formed in January 1961 and by various acquisitions continues to grow as an independent telephone company. They now have their service in 21 states.

My wife Susan and I wish to announce the arrival of George A. Bariscillo III on December 9, 1963. Now that we're increasing, it has been necessary to seek larger quarters and you will note your Secretary's new mailing address is 444 Golf Road, Deal Park, N.J.

Our 20th Anniversary Reunion next June has already generated considerable interest among members as more and more are reporting their intentions to be among those present and accounted for. Those who attended our 15th Reunion five years ago will surely return and those who missed that last gala event will certainly not want to be disappointed again this time.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

DR. RICHARD D. MURRAY '43
To the East, a Many-Talented Surgeon

A man of many and varied talents, Richard Murray, M.D., M.Sc., has left for the Orient to apply one of his skills. A plastic surgeon in Youngstown, Ohio, Dr. Murray left Jan. 26 for Hong Kong to work as a volunteer in a hospital operated by the Maryknoll Sisters. And recently he employed several talents in the construction and dedication of Youngstown's Medart Building which houses his office.

A native of Youngstown, Dr. Murray took his premedical training at Notre Dame, where he also developed hobbies of painting, sculpture and music. He received his M.D. at Georgetown, interned at local hospitals and, after service with the U.S. Navy as a medical officer and a surgical residency, took a master's degree in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, where he became an instructor in plastic surgery. In the past 12 years he has published a dozen papers in medical journals; most are on aspects of his specialty, but his writings range from the Bolognese Renaissance to Oliver Wendell Holmes. Licensed in three states and a diplomate of the American Board of Plastic Surgery, he belongs to well over a dozen medical and surgical societies, several civic and fraternal organizations and three art associations. He has been president of the Youngstown Symphony Society for the past two years.

The last avocation accounts for an unprecedented outdoor concert of the Youngstown Philharmonic Symphony at the dedication of his medical building, which he eventually intends to make the Symphony Society headquarters. Bolstered by the flute section of the Cleveland Symphony, the orchestra played a program of Weber, Berlioz and Bartok, winding up with a stirring rendition of Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture accompanied by rockets, bells and aerial bombs. (Richard, an accomplished pianist, was a volunteer percussionist.) The building, designed by the surgeon to celebrate the union of science and art in medicine, is a miniature Versailles in 17th-century classic style. The sculpture outside (representing great artist-surgeons of the past) and the paintings inside are all the work of Richard Murray. Bold allegorical murals, resembling the work of Orzoco, portray Dick's strong ideas about art, government, etc. One of his oils, "The Conquest of Incentive," won the first prize of the American Physician's Art Assn., and the building itself won the Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce civic improvement award for excellence of design and construction.

A bachelor and a parishioner of St. Dominic's in Youngstown, Dr. Murray feels that his February sojourn in Hong Kong may lead to regular visits to correct congenital deformities of refugee children. He also offered to set up a course in reconstructive surgery at the medical school of the University of Hong Kong. He expects to return in late March after a brief tour of Thailand, India and Egypt.

end and Class "Prexy" JOHN LYNCH reports plans are jelling for many surprises and a great time for all. BOB LEHMAN will again be local chairman; BOB SCHRAMM is contact man for Chem. E's, and Lynch would welcome any other volunteers to assist the reunion committee.

TOM ROLFS telephoned the other day en route to Europe for the International Trade Fair in Frankfurt.

Thanks are in order to KEN BROWN for translating DICK LEON's invitation which arrived recently from Mexico City. Dick was recently invested in the Noble Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem at the Mexico City Cathedral. Our historians advise this is an ancient papal society with roots in medieval Spain.

Next deadline date for column news is April 1, 1964, and I would appreciate hearing from as many as possible before that date who plan to attend the Reunion in June so we may report advance reservations in the last issue before we gather—as well as including the information in reunion newsletters.

From the Alumni Office:

The local chairman mentioned above, ROBERT L. LEHMAN, pres. of Indiana Engraving Co., recently announced the merger of his company and Pilot Engraving Co., making the Indiana Engraving the second largest photoengraving manufacturer in Northern Ind. and Southwestern Mich. As head of the merged company, Bob observed that plans are under consideration for the expansion of the plant. MATTHEW BOLGER JR. is baseball coach at Rutgers U. JAMES H. ANTON has joined the advertising dept. of the American Medical Assn. in Chicago. He is also public relations director of the Midwest Pharmaceutical Advertising Club of Chicago.

'45 Frank M. Linchan
General Electric Co.
600 Main St.
Johnson City, N.Y.

From the Alumni Office:

The Class Secretary is "in a state of confusion, more than usual," because of a recent transfer to Johnson City, N.Y. Frank will be responsible for the physical protection of the plant and security of classified information, as well as the safety and disaster control programs for the light military electronics dept. of GE. Frank sent in two notes about JIM RETTER, Class president, and JIM DONNELLY, Class treasurer. Jim and Jim met in NY Jan. 13 to initiate plans for the '65 reunion. Pres. Retter has also been transferred to North Carolina as southeast region manager for Union Carbide. . . . Frank says he will produce a much longer column for the next issue. . . .

JOHN P. SHANAHAN walked to the altar on Jan. 12, '63, at St. Ita, Chicago, with his "now lovely wife, Geraldine." They were looking forward to a Nov. 12 blessed event.

JOHN G. MACK JR., manager of bar sales (in-gots, that is) at Inland Steel, Chicago, was the subject of a full-page profile entitled "First and Last a Salesman" in his company's quarterly publication, Inland, detailing his rise through the company's organization since joining Inland in 1946 as a tender in the blast furnaces. Son of an executive in Clark Equipment Corp., with a degree in business administration and service as a Navy officer in the Pacific in WWII, he soon got a crack at sales work in Detroit and has been selling steel ever since. John, a native South Bender, and wife Catherine (a high-school sweetheart from Niles, Mich.) now live in Wilmette, Ill., with seven children — six girls and a boy. The biography lists several hobbies (John fishes, hunts, golfs and is an omnivorous reader) but doesn't mention that he recently took up bowling — and got himself hospitalized with a back injury after his first turn on the lanes.

'46 Peter P. Richiski
60 Robin Place
Old Greenwich, Conn.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary PETE RICHISKI declined to forward the meager list of classmates from whom he received Christmas cards, presumably for lack of messages thereon. Indeed, unless some of you stalwarts volunteer some "liard" news on classmates in your precinct, Pete may be forced to serialize the life and times of ELMER ANGSMAN.

THE JERSEY MOOSE

By now you know the sad tidings: Our own ELMER "MOOSE" MATTHEWS, not only bowed to a GOP tide in his race for the Jersey Senate but failed to win a spot on the Alumni Board of Directors in the end-of-year balloting. To those of you who supported him, his and our thanks; for those who didn't take the trouble to vote, a choice selection of muttered oaths.

We'll submit the name of a worthy '47'er this year again, so make it a point to back him — should he be nominated — all the way.

GLEANINGS . . .

The pickin's are slim this issue, but a few notes of interest are at hand:

When my father, FRANK MILES '22, president of the Notre Dame Monogram Club, was in Chicago in December for a football fete, he had a fine visit with KEN SCHUSTER, area representative for the Central Steel & Wire Co. Dad reports Ken remains in playing trim.

CHARLIE POINSATTE is on sabbatical leave from his history post at St. Mary's College; he and his wife, Anne Marie, and their children (John 6, Francoise 4½ and Laureen 2) are in her native Paris, France, having set sail on the Dutch Line the first of February. Charlie plans to take courses at the University of Paris or do research in the National Library, while Anne Marie pursues her chosen field of languages.

NOTE TO YOU

Three letters are on file, so permit me to share a few cogent excerpts with you.

PHIL DELINCKE's widow, Dot, writes: "On Oct. 27 I offered my Mass and Communion for Phil just as though I were at the Retreat House where the Mass was being said by the request of the 1947 class. You will never know how happy that made me. Phil's love for Notre Dame was something I cannot explain to you, but then maybe you understand better than anyone else. He always talked about returning someday for a visit. He really expected to do just that. . . ."

"Sharon is back in the swing of school again. She has been having some difficulty this year as she is taking Latin II, geometry, biology and English as her majors. Phil was such a big help to her but she is fully on her own now. . . ."

From BROTHER IVAN DOLAN CSC: "Sorry I haven't written sooner; I cannot say that illness has been the reason. . . so it must be attributed to a disease common enough among missionaries, scribe-phobia or something like that. A nice way to admit that I am lazy. . . . I have been down with the flu twice in the past four months, and being right here in Asia I had the undiluted type. Each time I fought it as long as I could but each time ended up in hospital for a few days. In the building line I have put up a couple more buildings, a new hostel building, new kitchens and store-rooms, new sanitary facilities for the students. I have a couple more buildings to get started during this present 16th one-year plan. Say a prayer that all goes well; materials are hard to get. . . ."

SIX MILLERS were gathered together on the campus recently for a rare photograph: (from left) Creighton '44, Walter '20, Harry '10 (father of Creighton), Don '25 of the Four Horsemen, Ray '14, and Jerry '25. Ray was a football teammate of Knute Rockne, and four others (Don, Walter, Harry and Creighton) had All-American mention.

A Michigan City, Ind., postmark adorns the Christmas card received from Harriett and BEV LIEBIG (he started with us in '44 and finished, I believe, at Indiana), to which this note is appended: "Just a few lines to inform you that I have resigned from Gardex and am now the chief industrial engineer over two plants for the John W. Hobbs Corp., a division of Stewart-Warner.

"We will be residing in Springfield, Ill., as soon as I can sell my current house and purchase a new one there. . . . We have five Indiana-born boys, as you know, so maybe Illinois will favor us with a girl. . . ."

CODA

If your name wasn't mentioned this issue, the guy you watch shavin' in your mirror is to blame.

From the Alumni Office:

C. D. FIRESTONE JR. was appointed manager of petroleum company sales for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. EDWARD A. FISCHER, assoc. prof. of communication arts at ND, spoke on "The Technique of a Documentary" at a meeting of public affairs directors of the broadcasting industry sponsored by Westinghouse Broadcasting Corp.

JOHN "TOMMY" BARRETT's sister, SR. MARY OLIVIA MS '53 and PhD '57 is the newly elected President of St. Xavier College, Chicago.

From BILL MAHONEY of Radio Free Europe: ". . . If any traveling alumni find themselves in the Vienna area, my address is: 8 Gloriettegasse, Vienna XIII, tel: 63041. We can discuss old times over new wine."

Finally, Secretary JACK MILES called in a cryptic message from globetrotter SAM ADELO, formerly the South American expert for Kendavis Industries, that he has become associated with the legal department, international division of Phillips Petroleum Corp., Bartlesville, Okla.

It's time again for another issue and your new secretary is finding that these edition deadlines roll around fast even though the issues are a few months apart. As I write this column the Christmas issue is being mailed to you so there will be a time lapse of about six months from the time I submitted my first column and its issue and your replies for an ensuing issue. Meanwhile we will still have enough to keep our class "representative."

Our former secretary JOHN DEFANT sent me the files that he had accumulated and I want you to know that writing a column isn't all there is to this position. I filled up two file drawers with all the information that John sent me. A real good record has been kept of all the members of the class, so we know where you are, all we have to do is hear from you.

At the class reunion in June there was a lot of hooting and hollering about the quantity of the column in the ALUMNUS for the class of 1948. You will recall that back in 1959 JOHN DEFANT sent a plea to all members of the class (1,035 of them) asking for information about themselves and others so that this information could be published. It was published early in 1960 and it was an outstanding job. It was also not a complete job because everyone was not heard from. I have looked through the files at the replies that were received and, you know, the guys that did all the hollering and hooting about the quantity of the column at the last reunion are by far the largest group that didn't send in any information. These are the same people that elected me as their secretary for the next five years and pledged their support. We are now going to see what happens and then we'll see who does the hollering at the next reunion.

I have recently received about 35 notices of changes of address for members of the class forwarded by the Alumni Office. Any changes that were other than cross-town or within the immediate area I noted, but of those that involved interstate moves I sent a letter to each one asking if the move was for a new job, promotion, transfer etc. You know what? I received one reply, and that was from LARRY RYAN.

Larry writes that his company, Motors Insurance Corp., transferred him to Dallas on August 1 and his new assignment is as regional claims manager. His territory reaches from Arizona to Louisiana and he hopes to be able to see some of the members of the Class of '48 in his travels "as friends, not claimants." Larry and his wife Marce have four children. In his new parish in Dallas, St. Monica's, Larry writes that he has met HAL TEHAN, who is a fellow parishioner. Hal is with the Haggar Company in Dallas and many of us in the Class of '48 who started in 1942 remember JOE HAGGAR, whose family owns the Haggar Company. We have lost contact with Joe over the years and would like to hear from him as he has many friends in the Class of '48. We think of him when we see the ads in Life.

It was nice to hear from Larry and know that he has the desire to cooperate with this column. We have to keep driving on this cooperation bit because that is what makes this column possible. If we do hear enough to fill the columns, we'll get them filled and we know you'll enjoy it all. Are we all going to be active members of the class of '48 from now on out? Let's hope so.

One of our very popular class members who served with me as a maitre d' in the Caf in years gone by, ED RECKER, has returned to the campus and is now associated with the Alumni and Foundation offices. We saw Ed at the reunion and he looks as good as ever. Ed says he would like to see fellow classmates as they return to the campus for visits during the year. BILL BONWICH who is at the College of Business Administration (formerly Commerce) is also a good man to contact on any visits to the campus. Bill is a good host and can tell you first hand of the many new programs going on at the campus. Bill is our standing reunion chairman, and we hope he keeps the job because he does an excellent bit on all the arrangements.

Since our recent reunion I have had the pleasure of reading all the books written by our very famous classmate, the late DR. TOM DOOLEY. These are excellent reading and I would recommend them to everyone. He was an outstanding and saintly man. His work in Southeast Asia has left an everlasting impression in the minds of these people and has been one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of contributions that the United States has made to these unfortunate people. We of the Class of '48 should be proud that we were in some way associated with him. Although I did not know him well, I recall working in the Dining Hall with him in 1947.

We hear that our class was represented at the Wisconsin game by a few local area men, namely EV SCHLECK, DICK NOLL and BILL ROBERTS. There were probably more there, but communication being what it is, we wanted to mention these three stalwarts of Badin Hall.

At the Touchdown Club luncheon in New York before the ND-Syracuse game we enjoyed the company of ANGELO BERTELLI and MARTY CROGHAM. Since the luncheon was the 50th Anniversary of the first Notre Dame-Army game, the program was in memory of KNUTE K. ROCKNE. Representing Notre Dame was ED "MOOSE" KRAUSE and FR. EDMUND JOYCE.

For the big game in the East on Thanksgiving Day, there were many pregame and postgame get-togethers. One of the big affairs before the game was the "rally" held by TONY MISTRETTE and BEN SHEERAN. We ran into countless ND men there and met them again at the postgame affair which JOE O'TOOLE and JACK COONEY had at their New York hotel suite. The latter affair outdrew the pregame rally although the spirit of victory was absent.

At Yankee Stadium during the course of the debacle we ran into TOM HERBERT and BOB TAYLOR who came down from the Syracuse area to see if it "would happen" and found out that it "did." Also down from the same area was HANK KOCHMAN. Among those sitting together and wondering if what they were seeing was true were the JACK KEARNEYS, GEORGE OLVANEYS, BILL BRACKENS and the JIM LEDWITHS. In the same general area of end zone seats we saw BUNNY REGAN, GENE DEAN, SHAUN MCDERMOTT, JACK MABEY, PHIL MUNNING, BOB MORAN, JOE O'REILLY, BILL GRIFFIN, LARRY WOODS, JIM MANSFIELD, BOB SATTI, BILL FITZHARRIS and BART JOHNSON.

JIM CORCORAN writes that he was at the Michigan State game and met quite a few members of the class who are residing in Michigan and able to make the game. Among those he saw, passing on the word to them about our reunion, were PAUL HUSSAR, TOM HIGGINS, JOE FLOOD, CHUCK HASTINGS, BILL GOMPERS, TOM LOOK, DOM MOFFO and the real "JOE WILCOX."

Our well-traveled classmate GENE DEAN, who covers the entire United States negotiating and arbitrating for American Cyanamid, tells me that on his recent trip through Ohio he ran into his old roommate BOB HOLLENKAMP, who is also a lawyer in Dayton. In the Columbus area he met another old roommate, BOB "ZEKE" ECHENRODE. Back in '42, when single rooms were like suites, one had countless roommates, and Gene and Zeke held forth in the dome of St. Ed's Hall. While in Dayton he also ran into DICK ELLIOTT, who is with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. as a local agent.

The Notre Dame Club of New Jersey had their annual Communion Breakfast on December 1, which was immediately after the Syracuse game. Sharing a table were ANGELO BERTELLI, GENE DEAN, ART STATUTO, FRANK TRIPUCKA, LEO COSTELLO and ME (GEORGE KEENAN). Also seen at the same affair were members of the Class of '48 from New Jersey, namely, HANK DI GIROLAMO, JACK COONEY, DR. PAUL REILLY, JACK REGAN, TOM GREEN, JOE O'TOOLE and JIM LEDWITH. One of the speakers was GUS CIFELLI, who gave us some of the background story on the team this year.

FRANK TRIPUCKA has just finished his 15th year of pro football, having spent this last year with the Denver Broncos and the Saskatchewan Rough Riders in the Canadian Football League. In the off season Frank has a retail package store (liquor store, that is) in Bloomfield, N.J. His 15 years of pro ball is probably without equal today. Each year has been Frank's last so we are waiting to hear about next year.

ART STATUTO is very proud these days since his son Mark has just earned his letter in football at Mahwah, N.J., High School. Art is district manager for the Globe Gear Co., and he lives at 4 Schuyler Road, Allendale, N.J. Art and his wife have three daughters in addition to their athlete son. We told Art that GASPAR URBAN and GEORGE TOBIN were asking about him at the reunion, and Art says he will be there the next time.

JACK QUINLAN '48, voice of the Chicago Cubs, was toastmaster for Chicago's 1963 Rockne Award Dinner with rapid-fire gags and a quick paced speaking program.

GEORGE CONNOR, also of ND football fame, has just been received into the Football Hall of Fame. Our congratulations to George, who joins many other ND greats in this honored group.

Our MAX LUDWIG of the MAX LUDWIG ADVERTISING CO. in New Castle, Pa., tells us that everything is going fine with the MAX LUDWIG family and MAX LUDWIG ADVERTISING CO. Max has five sons. (Adv.)

In the recent elections held in the State of New Jersey, ELMER "MOOSE" MATTHEWS who was serving as speaker of the Assembly became a victim of a "political situation" and very unfortunately so. Elmer was doing a great job in the Assembly and was highly respected in his very important position. As "Moose" was an exemplary Notre Dame man, his fellow alumni were very proud of him. Unfortunately in a bid for the State Senate seat from Essex County the political fortunes changed and went against him. We are sure that Elmer will be back again soon with the added strength that will place him in a position where he serves well for the benefit of many.

We have received word that ALBERT A. MASTERS has been assigned to the Accienciere Crucibile Vanzetti Plant near Milan, Italy, where he will serve as a consultant in the establishment of various business systems. His wife and four children accompanied him to Italy. Al is a past president of the Lions Club. He received a BS in Accounting on graduating from ND.

AL LaMERE, who is now living at 216 Gregory Street, Munster, Ind., is with the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Chicago. He is coordinator of electronic data processing. Al and his wife Dorothy have seven daughters. At least, Al, you don't have to worry about who is going to be wearing your ties. If you are the first or last one up you have no fear about who will be the best-dressed man in the house.

We received a nice letter from JULIAN MAHANY and enclosed with it was a picture of his family. He and his wife Dorothy have five beautiful children ranging from 10 to 4 years of age. After leaving ND he went for his MBA at Xavier in Cincinnati and then joined Armo Steel Corp., where he is now supervisor of accounting and statistics. Among his lost friends are PETER STUBLER, DON ROSENBAUGH, JACK SANTAMOUR and FRANK BAKER. The Mahanys reside at 2801 Milton Road, Middletown, Ohio.

BILL GOMPERS is living at 1602 West Houstonia in Royal Oak, Mich. Bill is a sales engineer with the Mine Safety Appliance Co. At fast count Bill and Nancy Gompers had seven descendants. Bill says he'd like to hear from JIM DAILER, ART BRADY, TOM CLEMENTE, JIM LEARY and GENE DEAN.

ART SWAIN is living at 5506 Amby Drive, San Jose, Cal. and he's with IBM as a staff engineer working on the "giant brains." Art and Margaret have six children. Any mechanical engineers of the Class of '48 who are not too engrossed to write, he'd like to hear from you.

We'd like to hear from some of our classmates out in the far west. How about it, DAN GENTILE, WALT KRONEBERGER and ELDON O'BRIEN?

BILL SWEARINGEN is still in Charleston, W. Va., where he is executive secretary of the West Virginia Bankers Assn.

RAY J. KENNEY is with the Plymouth-DeSoto-Volant division of Chrysler Motors in St. Louis. Ray and his wife Patricia are living at 255 St. Edward Lane, Florissant, Mo., and they have three sons and a daughter.

The last of the great baseball players, NEIL KELLY, is living in Allentown, Pa. Neil and his wife Pat have three sons. Neil says he'd like to hear from another pretty good ball player, JACK MAYO. (So would I.)

REV. JOHN E. MCCARTHY CSC is teaching at Notre Dame High School in Bridgeport, Conn. After leaving Notre Dame, but before beginning his studies for the priesthood in 1952, Father was associated with Marsh & McLennon Insurance Brokers in New York City. He was ordained in 1958.

PAT MULVIHILL just sent his questionnaire in and tells us about himself. He says "it is about four years late but it caught up with me through many addresses." Pat is with IBM in Kingston, N.Y. After leaving ND he picked up a MA in Psychology at the U. of Omaha. As a project manager of management development he conducts training programs with managers on operating problems. Pat married Marjorie Aldrich in 1950, and they have seven children, 2 girls and 5 boys.

We hear that JIM MELLO is at the Mansfield Training School in Mansfield, Conn. I'm sure Jim's many friends would like to know how Jim is doing and what he is doing.

Only recently word was forwarded to me through the Alumni Office that DON ALBRIGHT passed away on April 8, 1963. Don was a Commerce man and received his BSC in '48. Our sincere sympathy is extended to his wife and family. We are sure that his many friends will remember him in their prayers and Masses.

Until next time I'll be looking to hear from you and what you have to contribute to this Class column will be appreciated by all.

From the Alumni Office:

NOEL DIGBY has been elected a vice-president of Gardner Advertising Co. in St. Louis. He is now a creative supervisor and television writer-producer. ALDO A. MEROLLINI, technical asst. to the branch head of the communications satellite projects branch at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., is currently working on the Syncom satellite project. FRANK J. CULHANE, treas. of the Forinit Co., has been named pres. of Forinitern, a newly formed international div. of Genesco Inc., with his headquarters in Chicago. Forinitern will handle all the merchandising, marketing and manufacturing functions of Genesco's intimate-apparel firms in foreign countries.

GEORGE "MOOSE" CONNOR was the Toastmaster for the annual ND football banquet held Dec. 5 at the North Dining Hall. At the present time, "Moose" is an executive with the Hoerner Box Corp. in Chicago and assists on telecasts of Bears' games.

BILL BALL wrote a NCWG study entitled "The Constitutionality of the Inclusion of Church-Related Schools in Federal Aid to Education." This is the basic Catholic legal document in the field, and it has received very wide commendation. Walter Lippmann used it as the basis of his remarks on "CBS Reports" a few months ago, as did Senator Ribicoff and others.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

JAMES P. CARROLL '51
From Politics to P.R., a CCD Leader

After 13 years in the newspaper business, Jim Carroll has moved to the other side of the desk as the operator of his own public relations firm. Headquarters is in South Bend where Jim was political reporter for the South Bend Tribune.

A native of Woodstock, Ill., Jim joined the Tribune staff after Army service and while still a journalism student at Notre Dame. After graduation in 1951, Jim performed such newspaper chores as writing a local column and covering legislatures and national political conventions. During off duty hours, Jim found time to contribute to Catholic publications, make the banquet circuit as a speaker and toastmaster and teach writing courses at both St. Mary's College and Notre Dame.

A keen observer of local, state and national politics, he could entertain off duty with murderous mimicry and anecdote about leading public figures. His Tribune reports on such political minutiae as 4th of July picnics, the behavior of candidates, and Dyngus Day at the West Side Democratic Club (not to mention his Sunday column: on a mythical downstate legislator) became local classics of political satire.

Jim and his wife, the former Edna Putty, have been active in Confraternity of Christian Doctrine work in South Bend's liturgy-minded Little Flower Parish. They have six children, four boys and two girls, ranging in age from 13 years to 18 months. The children have watched the Carrolls take a leading part in a growing movement to encourage the teaching of religion in the home. This interest has led to speaking engagements in Midwestern cities and has limited the Carroll recreational activities to gardening and do-it-yourself construction projects.

fourth-year orthopedic resident at Cardinal Glennon Hospital for Children in St. Louis, where he resides with his new bride, Virginia. DR. JOHN F. CRONIN has announced the opening of his office for the practice of internal medicine in Long Beach, Cal.

CONRAD W. TETRAULT JR. has been appointed as specialist for consumer sales in the Los Angeles area for the GE Wiring Device Dept., Providence, R.I. He will make his home in the Los Angeles area with his wife and four children. JAMES J. DOWNS MS '52 has been appointed principal chemist of Midwest Research Institute and resides at the Ambassador Hotel, Kansas City, Mo. FRANK P. DOYLE is now industrial relations director for American-Standard's industrial div. in Dearborn, Mich.

JOSEPH L. ADLER spoke on "Interfaith Cooperation" at a weekly meeting of Protestant-Catholic dialogue. He is associated with the J. L. Adler Roofing Co. and is a member of the board of directors and vice-pres. of the George Werden Buck Boys Club. Joe and Joanne have five children and are active as members of the Christian Family Movement and as moderator-couple of the Young Christian Nurses.

LEE STEIDEN showed up in Louisville as chairman of the Kentucky ND Club's annual Notre Dame-Xavier outing. Lee wrote a hilarious announcement of the event, which included the traditional softball game (featuring a "million dollar infield") and "$1.50 outfield," with "winners to receive the Hallowed Jug Symbolic of Athletic Supremacy—the only time you'll see Notre Dame and Xavier men fighting over an empty jug") and dinner ("outstanding fork-jobs by Members of Both Organizations—See a cast of half-crazed, starved, screaming hundreds vie for the coveted Herman Hickman Award").

2328 Alexander Terrace
Homewood, Ill.

From the Alumni Office:

JOHN J. SULLIVAN has been elected vice-president of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. New York City.

JOHN R. MACINNES of LMH (Lay Mission Helpers) sent us a letter telling about his two months in the Uganda missions. Butiti is 40 miles south of the equator and 4,000 feet above sea level. It is too cool for insects, but there are warm days and two-wool-blanket nights. From the time of his arrival until Easter he is learning the native language "mpora mpora" (slowly). He asked for our prayers and said he would remember his friends at Christmas Mass. His address is Butiti Catholic Parish, P. O. Butiti, Uganda, East Africa.

JOHN F. BURKE was a Democratic candidate for District Attorney in Rochester, N. Y. No election report. DR. PANOS D. BARDIS' prolific pen is still turning articles out for the quarterly Social Science, as well as performing editorial chores.

SR. MARY OLIVIA BARRETT, RSM., MS '53 PhD '57, newly elected president of St. Xavier College, Chicago, welcoming guests at her inaugural convocation, was heard to refer emphatically to "our" alma mater, Notre Dame. She is a sister of TOMMY BARRETT '47, former ND monogrammer.

Congratulations to AL ABIOUNESS on the accomplishments of his sister, Gloria (Mrs. Francois) Pierre, as assistant to the president of Marianopolis College, Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

'54 Milton J. Beaudine
76 East Court Dr.
Decatur, Ill.

Now is the time for all good alumni to plan to attend their 10-year Reunion June 12-13-14. That means you, Buddy!

Can you believe this? My wife can't. When writing the last article I completely forgot to announce the birth of Michael Joseph Beaudine, born on July 24, 1963, and weighing in at 9 lbs., 15 oz. (which is sizable). BOB CRESFY and Maryann were blessed on Nov. 29 with an 8 lb., 7 oz. Thanksgiving package, Steven Andrew. The Crespys reside at 10410 Montrose Ave., Bethesda, Md. 20014. Haven't much mail for this article. Help! Heard from PAT "RED" BOLAND, No. 1 Chelsea, Houston, Tex. 77006. (Mr. Tux, there's your address.) News from Pat: BOB BURNS and wife Maureen live at 33 Omega Court, North Highlands, Cal. Last word was that they had one girl and were "expecting" again. JIM "ZUNTZ" ZAUTANE had worked a couple of years in Germany but more recently is back in the old USA and married, living at 182 Naples Rd., Brookline, Mass. Pat was wondering what ever happened to JIM "ZILCH" CANTY, last seen fat as ever in Hartford, Conn. KEN "WOODY" WOODFORD works for an electronic firm in N. Y. Woody remains single and active. BOB FOWLER is an artist living in Houston after touring around most parts of this country of ours first.

It is with deep regret that I must inform you of the passing away of RAY ONOFRIO. Ray died after a short illness on Oct. 14, 1963. Surviving Ray are his wife Barbara, two sons, Stephen M. and Patrick J., two brothers, four sisters and parents. Ray graduated with us in '54 with a BS in chem. engineering. He was residing at 129 Woodstock Dr., Cherry Hill, Pa. Your prayers, I'm sure, will be greatly appreciated.

JACK PITTAS and Elaine were blessed on Oct. 10 with David Bernard, who checked in at 9 lbs., 2 oz. That makes No. 6 for them, which is no small feat. With the Reunion coming up does anyone have 10 yet—well? How about 8?

As you may notice this article is short. No letters, I'm sorry. Everyone received an up-to-date Class Roster. Look up your ole buddies and drop them a line and then just a postcard to me. But above all, plan to attend your Reunion in June and DR. DICK PILGER's soiree after the Purdue game Oct. 3. See you then, O.K.?

From the Alumni Office:

When JOSEPH BERTRAND was allegedly "black-balled because he was a Negro" from membership in the Knights of Columbus in Chicago, the Grand the Morris Inn. So when you order football tickets, be sure to include the opener with Purdue.

Here is some of the info I picked up at the cocktail party. I think I have BOB HAIDINGER's wife, Mary Ann, to thank for these notes. (At least I think she handed me these cards. It was the crowd, not the drinks, folks!) Bob, Mary Ann and 2 children live at 39 Northridge Rd., Old Greenwich, Conn. He is with AMF. GEORGE ROONEY is right in the running in the baby derby after greeting twins recently. George, who lives at 154 Riverside Dr., Basking Ridge, N. J., is in sales with Deering Milliken in New York. JIM RENO and his wife, Pat, have three children now. Jim is Boston branch manager for Associates Finance Co. They live at 14 Island Rd., Franklin, Mass. My informant added that BOB BENSON in Plano, Tex., recently welcomed his first child, a boy. Bob's with Barizon Corp. in a sales capacity.

PETE RITTENHOUSE also was on hand. Pete has three girls and a boy. He's in sales with E. E. Houghton & Co. Pete lives at 550 W. 6th, Mishawaka. DICK GAUTHIER, who also is the proud papa of five, still was taking bows for his latest addition. DENNIS LAUGHLIN, who is art director for WNDU-TV, lent a little local flavor to the gathering. Dennis and his wife Joan, who have two children, reside at 3003 Salem Dr.

PETE RITEN, who is a broker in Minneapolis, reports that he has three boys now. The Rittens live at 5206 Hampshire Dr., Minneapolis. JIM BROUGHTON was the life of the party, and the reason soon became apparent—he's still a bachelor! Jim's in the Service Division of General Motors in Detroit, but the girls call him at 30 Emmons Ct., Wyandotte, Mich.

TOM PETERSCH is with the accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst in Grand Rapids (4430 Carrick SE). Tom has two children. ED PREIN, another Grand Rapids resident (4991 Bluff Drive NE), is a consulting engineer.

Back to the Detroit gang for a minute. BOB McCARREN is another GM executive. When we met in October, Bob had two offspring. The postman brings his mail to 18919 Mallina, Detroit. JIM KORTE is with Master Pneumatic in Detroit. Jim, wife, and two kids live at 1265 Beaconsfield Rd., Grosse Pointe.

It was good to see JIM CAHILL again, and I must admit he looked healthy. Jim, who has one boy, is controller for White Advertising. He lives at 444 Lake St., Crown Point, Ind. JOE KEARNEY, another guy I hadn't seen for some time, is a neighbor at 2335 Marcy, Evanston, Ill. He is with Northwestern Heating & Plumbing. Another Evanstonian is TOM POWERS, who is an educational textbook salesman with Scott, Foresman & Co. Tom has five children.

DICK GABERIK, who coached at Harrison High School here in Chicago, also was on deck. JACKSON FLYNN, who has four children, is an industrial engineer with General Foods Corp. I don't know how he finds time to work on his master's degree at the University of Chicago on the side. He and his wife, Jane, live at 2551 W. 109th Pl., Chicago.

Stop the presses! MARTY CULHANE just shot into the number one spot in the baby sweepstakes according to my files with another set of twins. Marty now is the proud father of seven frisky boys! As Mel Allen would say, How About That?

Big MIKE HEGARTY drove in from Detroit for the reunion. He's a barrister and finally is going to take the plunge into matrimony. BOB GERVAIS was in from LA and passed along regards from ED (OX) FOX.

Others from the Windy City were PAT SHEEHAN, RICK HICKS, TOM GRODEN, PHIL SHERIDAN, JOHN WEITHERS and ED KELLY.

Missed at the reunion, however, were such renowned organizers as TOM BOSSE, ROY BELKNAP, TOM WELLY, JOE MADIGAN and BUD LaLONDE. See you Oct. 3, Gentlemen!

Regulars from the Chicago area at the reunion included: FRANK MAIER, FRANK LOLL, MIKE KELLY, TIM DEVEREUX, MIKE WARD, STEVE REBORA, JERRY PRASSAS, DICK COOK, and GEORGE SHELTON. I must take time here to thank Neal Halloran for hustling around and picking up the information cards. So mark the Purdue game (Oct. 3) on your calendar right now and let's double the crowd next year.

The letter of the cycle award goes to BILL CLUSSERATH this time. Bill, who was in the Program for Administrators, checks in after eight years. He has enjoyed keeping up with guys like MARTY CULHANE, FRED GALIONE, ROY BELKNAP, TOM IGLESKI and JACK FLYNN through this column. Bill married his wife, Barbara, in 1958 and they now have four children. The couple moved from Detroit to Tacoma (8908 S. 41st St.) in 1962, and he now is credit manager for a clothing company.

Bill passes along these news notes. BOB MAL-LON is operating his family's Ford agency in Tacoma. He is married and has two kids. Bob is very active on Tacoma's Civic Appreciation Committee. JOHN VINCENT, who lives in Olympia, Wash., works for Uarco business forms company. He is the district salesman for Western Washington.

MIKE MOYER wrote Bill from Richardson, Tex., where he is selling multitypewriters for IBM. Mike has three boys. Bill also corresponds with PAUL HAUBNER in India. Paul is in the Indian government, and would like to receive magazines and books because his people want to know about the US. His address is Paul Z. Hahnauer, Kulkaw, Aijal, Mizo District, Assam, India. Incidentally, Paul has six children now.

Received a nice letter from JOE MCGRAW to say that he couldn't make it up from Tulsa (2431 E. 20th St.) for the Class reunion. Joe said he was planning a vacation in Europe in January. He said that he had visited his old roomie, CHARLEY FOLNLOW, in St. Louis. Charley has two children. While in St. Louis, Joe had dinner with AL VITT and lunch with JOE MCGLYNN. Joe, who was in BOB McGRATH's wedding party last year in New York, says that the long-legged bird is winging toward the McGrath household. MATT SCHUMACHER, who is a bank examiner in Oklahoma City, often drops in on Joe.

Knight and five other officers resigned. Joe, now sales director for a beauty products firm, was an All-Star basketballer.

JAMES F. KELLEHER has resigned his post as special asst. to the postmaster general in Washington, D.C. Jim said he was considering several job offers.

RICHARD A. ROSENTHAL, Pres. of the St. Joseph Bank & Trust Co., was the main speaker at a final report dinner meeting for the South Bend YMCA membership campaign.

Dr. EUGENE W. HENRY, assoc. prof. of EE, coordinated ND's participation in a three-day conference which included more than 200 technical papers, exhibits by 500 electronics firms and a wide range of seminars, symposia and refresher courses.

JOHNNY LATTNER was a hero in Chicago when he discovered a fire and helped 40 persons escape injury in the apartment building blaze on the way home from his steak house.

FR. FRANK ZAGORC CSC has returned to the U.S. from Uganda for a well-earned leave of absence. While in the States he will take a course of specialized studies for the sake of his work in the Fort Portal Diocese before returning to Africa.

ROM MAZZOLI wrote Dick Pilger that TOM STUBLER died of leukemia in December, leaving a widow and five children. Dick intended to have a Mass offered by the Class on the campus and requested that you add your prayers.

First, I want to thank all those who turned out for the Class reunion after the UCLA game. (Looking back, you must admit that my picking that game for a winner was pretty shrewd! Especially after the way things went from then on.) Many of those in attendance asked that the date for this affair, which was enthusiastically received by all those who bent elbows together, be announced well in advance. So here it is—the Purdue game on Oct. 3. We'll again have the Mahogany Room in Joe added that GAVIN KING'S father died Oct. 4 at the age of 86. For that reason, Gavin was unable to attend the class reunion, but he did send a telegram that arrived just an hour after the game ended. Sandra and I met Gavin later in the Morris Inn in the season after a game. Father O'Donnell said a special Mass on campus Dec. 7 for Mr. King and the mother of AL KAELIN, who died Oct. 26. Our deepest sympathy to both classmates.

Before I leave last fall's football season, I do want to type out a few notes that I found on a piece of paper in the corner of the desk. Saw RON MOTT, the greatest right-hander in the game, and WILLIE REALE, who would have been this country's greatest Davis Cup player if he hadn't been so modest, across the stands at the USC game. (That's the only game that I want to remember!)

JIM EHRET, who had just flown in from his teaching duties with the Navy at Memphis, sat right in front of us when the Midshipmen gave us the business. I must admit that he's the only guy I know who brings two coats to a game. After the first half, Jim went out to the car and came back in with a heavier overcoat. Those Navy guys are pretty smart, but they don't have to pay for excess baggage like the rest of us peasants. Jim mentioned that he ran into TOM DRISCOLL on his way into the stadium.

JERRY HUGHES should be about halfway through his MA work in international relations at San Francisco State College by the time this column appears. When he finishes at Frisco, Jerry will go into the intelligence field, although he may put in for air-attache work.

JIM LUOTTO, who had been teaching English at the seminary in Chicago, now is shaping up those rich suburban kids at Glenbrook North, or some such new million-dollar palace. He still has the guitar, though, and entertains friends and foes.

Incidentally, the next meeting of Organization '55, the Chicago area class clan, will be in Johnny Latner's Steak House on Madison Street March 24. The one after that will be May 19, according to MIKE KELLY.

ED RHOMBERG, who was in the engineering department at Iowa State, now is working and teaching at Albuquerque. DR. ED TOOMEY, who had been stationed in New York by the Air Force, now gets his mail at 814 Hartford Ave., Providence, R.I.

In fact, New York figures in quite a bit of shifting and shuffling by members of our class. JIM HESBURGH moved from Orchard Park, N. Y., to 118 Alden St., Sayre, Pa. BOB FARNBAUGH left Ft. Wayne for 607 Riverside Ave., Scotia, N. Y. DON SILEO, the man who always was one step ahead of the game, now lives at 10390 Main St., Buffalo.

DAVE WEIDMANN, on the other hand, left Syracuse for Melrose, Mass. (457 Pleasant St.) CHUCK LAIRD, who must have had enough of those grits in Tennessee, settled at 345 Woodward Ave., N. Tonawanda, N. Y. DONN DUFFY, the old redhead, pulled out of New York for a fancy address in Bethesda, Md. (6004 Greentree Rd.).

LEO CALLAGHAN, the friendliest morning checker in the business, moved from Clifton, N. J.,

DENVER—Presentation of the Denver ND Club's annual scholarship award was made by Scholarship Chairman Carl Eiberger '52 (center) to William Durlin (left) of Regis High School and 2nd place winner Roger Bartholomew of Strasburg, Colorado.

to 3025 Concord, Trenton, Mich. DR. JIM GANTRILL now kicks off his slippers at 20 Schermerhorn Pk., Lenox, Mass., after a stint in Covington, Ky. JOHN MUSOLINO left our fair state of Illinois (Quincy) for Dayton (1935 Riverside Dr.). JIM DUFFY, who left sunny California some months ago, also is in Dayton now (328 Ryburn Ave.). BILL GRADY now gets his mail at 10 Lansdowne Rd., Hamden, Conn.

The Mayo Clinic has figured in the lives of two of our classmates. DR. KEVIN O'DONNELL is up in Rochester now, and he can be reached at 899-C Homestead Village Lane, SE. DR. DON SANTSCHI is back in Chicago Heights (1307 Piacenti Lane) after a tour of duty in Rochester.

This column is being written well in advance of Christmas, but FRANK BURKE is in with his card already. All other Christmas cards (and I hope there are zillions) will be mentioned in the next column. Now I'm off to get my smallpox shot and a holiday vacation in Mexico City and Acapulco. A happy 1964 to you and yours!

From the Alumni Office:

JAMES S. IRWIN has accepted appointment as lecturer on law at the College of Law, U. of Cincinnati, and is teaching the subject of procedure. Jim received the highest grade in the state in the Ohio bar examination. In '61-'62 he held a teaching fellowship and was a graduate student at the School of Law, Northwestern U. Since June of '62 he has been law clerk to a U.S. Dist. Court Judge.

Congratulations to EUGENE CARRABINE for winning the 2nd dist. council seat in Gary.

DANIEL J. BURKE, formerly of Youngstown and East Orange, N. J., returned from Europe to the States to get married and then took his bride back to Lucerne, Switzerland, to live where he is employed as a salesman for Commercial Shearing & Stamping Co.

'56 Alvin D. Vitt
4 Windrush Creek W.
St. Louis, Mo.

From the Alumni Office:

AL SZEWCZYK of mechanical engineering has written a paper on "Combined Forced and Free-Convection Laminar Flow" for presentation at the national ASME meetings and reprinting in the society's journal.

DR. FREDERICK J. CROSSON PhD '56 is co-editor of a new book The Modeling of Mind, Computers and Intelligence (UNO Press).

Secretary ALVIN D. VITT has been appointed asst. real estate officer of Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis, Mo., and will continue his present duties as mortgage loan representative.

PAUL A. RENSTROM has been promoted to asst. cashier in the commercial banking div. at Wells Fargo Bank's San Francisco head office. Paul and Nancy have five children.

FRANK J. TONICK of Staten Island, N.Y., has been sworn in as a junior officer trainee for the US Information Agency. After a six-month training program at the headquarters in Washington, he will be given a 10-month period of "on the job training" at an overseas post before being assigned to a regular position with USIA. His mission is to help achieve US foreign policy objectives through the use of press, radio, TV, films, libraries, the arts and, most important, personal contact overseas.

'57 John P. McMeel
30 E. 42nd St.
New York, N.Y.

From the Alumni Office:

On November 23 KENNETH G. McCONNELL (theoretical and applied mechanics) and ALLEN C. KRYGER (organic chemistry) received their master's from Iowa State U.

Dr. JOSEPH A. McMAHON is now a resident in the Second Surgical Div. of Bellevue Hospital.

FRANK G. LUNDEN has been appointed a fluorocarbon salesman for Kaiser Chemicals, Div. of Kaiser Alum. & Chem. Corp. in the New York area, with offices in Hillside, N.J.

CHRISTIAN FAMILY Movement's South Bend-Mishawaka Federation held its seventh annual International Student Dinner on the ND campus, attended by 100 Notre Dame-St. Mary's students from overseas who entertained with an "international hootenanny." At left Burnie Bauer '38 and wife Helen confer with students from India, the Philippines and Latin America. At right Dick Connolly of the Student Commission is happily mobbed by senioritas from St. Mary's Academy. Founded by ND men after WW II, CFM has spread to 50 states and 30 countries with its international apostolate "for happier families."

FR. ROBERT MALONE CSC, Uganda, Africa, has been recruited by BISHOP McCauley '30 to serve temporarily as his secretary. They are hoping a lay missionary can be found soon because priests are too scarce in that part of the world to use them for secretaries—even bishop's secretaries.

DANIEL P. BERGEN is now asst. dean of the School of Library Science, Syracuse, U., Syracuse, N.Y.

Secretary JOHN McMEEL suffered from a lack of pre-Christmas mail, since the Alumni Office couldn't get a mailing out to classmates before this issue's deadline. How about volunteering some information to the address above?

Gentlemen, a crisis is at hand! Unless you begin to send news for this column, we may as well discard our column heading, forfeit our space to the classes of '57 and '59 and simply go out of business. You know, it doesn't take any more than five minutes of your time to sit down and scribble a few notes on a postcard. We don't ask for lengthy letters or news worthy of the pages of Time—just a line or two to let us know where you are and what you are doing. So how about it?

Here is the news we have. ED MEELL dropped a line from 4421 Country Club Dr., Pittsburgh 35, reported that he was married in 1960 to Miss Carole Delach and they now have two sons, David (2½) and Tim (1½). Ed is teaching at Mt. Lebanon High School in suburban Pittsburgh as well as coaching track. In addition he is working toward a master's degree in history at Duquesne. Ed was recently elected to Phi Alpha Theta, the national history honor society.

JIM KING who left ND after our Junior year to enter med school at St. Louis U., recently wrote with the following news. He graduated from med school in 1961, and then interned at St. Louis U. Hospital. He is presently in his second year of residency at University Hospital of Cleveland. Jim is married and has a three-year-old daughter. The Kings should have had their second child by the time of this reading.

Jim met PAT HOGAN in South Bend this fall after the Southern Cal game. Pat was married last June and is now in his second year of surgical residency in Milwaukee. Jim also reports that TOM THOMAS graduated from Georgetown Med School in 1962 and is now at Cleveland Metropolitan Hospital (residency); is married and has a ten-month-old daughter. Jim King's address: 6823 Krakow Ave., Cleveland 5.

Finally, JOHN DUNN wrote in October with the sad news of his father's passing. Your prayers would be appreciated. John also mentioned that he had seen MIKE SHANNON in November. Mike is with Gulf Oil in Houston.

That's all we have. Please take the time to help us do better in the future. The next deadline for copy is April 1, which means that your cards and letters should be in my hands at least a week before that date.

From the Alumni Office:

RICHARD E. BREUNER is presently attending the grad div. of Wharton School of finance and commerce, U. of Pa.

EDWARD J. CAREN JR. is now working for Dow Chemical Company's Rocky Flats div. near Denver as a design engineer in the Engineering Process Dept.

1/Lt RICHARD A. DICAMILLO has graduated from the USAF Squadron Officer School at the Air University at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

RICHARD T. COLGAN, PhD candidate at Southern Illinois U., was recently awarded a grant from the Willis E. and E. M. Clark Foundation for the statistical processing of his doctoral dissertation—"A Longitudinal Study of the Prognostic Value of Teacher Judgment Vs. Objective Test Data With Respect to College Success."

JOHN J. MERTES was elected asst. vice-pres. of the Fourth Natl. Bank & Trust Co., Wichita, Kan. He is one of the youngest members of the officer staff. He resides in Wichita with his wife, Mary, and three daughters: Teresa, 5; Patricia, 3; and Margaret Ann, 2.

CONFIDENTIAL MEMO

To: ND Class of 1959
Subject: 5th Anniversary
REUNION
Weekend — June 12-13-14
1964

'59 Dennis M. Nead
6121 Robison Rd.
Cincinnati, Ohio

Once again it is time for the Kilgallen special, and thanks to those of you who have sent me letters. I too must open the column at the risk of being tiresome in a much-too-familiar refrain—we need more news. Many of you have accepted new jobs, have new additions to the family, so how about letting us share your good news. To reiterate some class reunion facts to you, the dates are June 12-13-14; class dinners on Friday; Class Masses, photographs, and other programs on Saturday. The Halls available at this time are Alumni, Dillon, Howard, Lyons and Morrissey. The general reunion fee (covering room, most meals, beverages, etc.) will probably be around $25.00. Plans still are being made by the incumbent Class Officers as to the election of new Class Officers—this will either be done prior to or at the reunion. There will be more about reunion plans in the next column—I look forward to these three days, especially finding out what the new "era of Ara" will provide. Here is the news I have collected since the last issue:

GENE VIRTUOSO — Gene is the vice-pres. of Virtuoso Bldg. Co. Inc. and is also a 1st Lt. in the New York National Guard and Executive officer of Hq. Co., 174th Armor. He was married in the fall of 1962 to Elizabeth Apen—they recently had a first child, a daughter Maria Ann.

KARL MANGOLD — Karl is at Cornell University Medical College in New York City and will receive his MD next June. He was married in Decatur, Ill., in December, '62, to Janet Lee Unser and last October was presented with a son, Paul Christopher. He has seen many of our classmates including BARRY VOIGHT, NEAL LAMPING, ED PAULSON, RALPH DANGELMAIER, JACK DOLAN and LOU KEEGAN. AL HAVERKAMP and RICK GRIMLER came to the wedding last December.

LOU VON HAGEN — was recently married to Theresa Sultera at Fort Riley, Kan., and is now working for Price Waterhouse & Co. in Cleveland, Ohio.

JOE MAIER — Many thanks for your letter, Joe. Joe was married on August 3 to Colleen Coyle of Madison, Wis.; he is now residing in Oak Park, Ill., and is working for the Quaker Oats Co. in the advertising dept.

MIKE SEAMAN — married to the former Jerry Lauerman, sister of JOHN LAUERMAN of our Class; they are expecting their first child in the spring.

TOM McDONALD — is employed at Union Tank Car Corp. in Chicago. Both he and Mike Seaman are going to graduate school at Chicago U. at night.

BILL MORENCY — Bill is married, and he and his wife just had their second child—he is working for the Equitable Assurance Society of America, as is JOE GALVIN. Joe and his wife are expecting their second child in February. BOB JANOSKI is now a full-fledged lawyer, is married and now living in Oak Park.

WARREN DELANEY — is working for an advertising agency in Boston.

BOB BURNS — was married last Dec. and is now the public relations director for the St. Petersburg, Fla., Chamber of Commerce.

TOM MacLENNAN is in the Air Force and expects to receive his captain's bars in January; he and his wife have three children.

JOHN PETER MORAN is attending law school at Catholic U. in Washington and has one more year starting this Sept. They are proud parents of a boy and a girl.

TERRY LAMB is in a training program at Riggs National Bank of D.C.; has a lovely bache or flat in D.C.

JOHN HAYWARD is working for Senator Cannon of Nevada and going to Georgetown Law School at night. He and his wife Mary Beth just had a baby girl.

STEWART PAUL is married and has one child — he is working and living in Bethesda, Md.

MARTY MALONEY — working for Rickov's Atomic reactor program in Pennsylvania and, I understand, is doing extremely well.

JOE HARRISON — working for Republican National HQ; he got his master's in Political Science at the U. of Tenn.

JOE O'CONNOR is on a three-year grant at the U. of Va. in Russian studies. He spent last summer in Russia and finishes his MA thesis this fall. DAVE COSTELLO is his roommate at the U. of Va. and both are doing very well in the program.

TONY GRAHAM — working somewhere in D.C.; just finished Harvard Business School along with BILL MCCOLLOUGH.

HUGH MURPHY — as far as I know Hugh is still teaching school in Rome and traveling all over the globe in his spare time.

BOB JOHNSTON married a girl from Austria and now has two girls; works for a bank in Milwaukee in a public-relations capacity.

FRANK MOONEY just finished year No. 2 at Fordham Law School — recently attended JACK FOX's wedding at Georgetown Medical School.

SHANNON SMITH is now working for the Ditto Corp. here in Cincinnati and his bachelor days seem limited.

From the Alumni Office:

TERRANCE M. WILSEY, of Maywood, Ill., was the first priest to be ordained in Moreau Seminary, December 21. GERALD T. PAPPEN of Sheridan, Ore. was ordained in Portland on the same day. Several thousand miles away in Santiago, Chile, SERGIO CHONCHA (Grad Student '59) was also ordained. All three were classmates at the Holy Cross Fathers seminary in Santiago, Chile.

DR. ALBERT D. HAVERKAMP is now interning at Los Angeles County Hospital.

Presently attending the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, U. of Pa., are MARK F. KESSENICH and JOHN T. von LUHRTE. VICTOR H. MARAGNI is planning a May wedding to Dolores Annette Daniels. Vic has been studying at the NYU Management Institute, the Rutgers Graduate School of Modern Languages and the U. of Mexico.

WILLIAM H. McCULLOUGH JR. is with Talon Inc., N.Y., and is a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve. JOHN BUCK CONNELL JR. is with the General Foods Corp. in N.Y.

FR. JOHN A. O'BRIEN LLD '59, resident writer and research prof of theology at ND, has been elected to the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry. Fr. O'Brien has proposed a White House conference to discuss measures that would "help the underdeveloped nations deal effectively with their urgent population problems." He also called on the federal government "to conduct a crash research program on human reproduction in all its phases." Fr. O'Brien made the two proposals in an article, "Let's End the War Over Birth Control," which appeared simultaneously in recent issues of the Christian Century and the Ave Maria.

'60 John F. Geier
1045 Linden Ave.
Wilmette, Ill.

From the Alumni Office:

1/Lt. JOSEPH M. LUKITSCH received a citation for meritorious service in recognition of his outstanding work in family-housing administration at Fort Carson. He will attend Army schools before reporting to Viet Nam some time this year. 1/Lt. LAWRENCE H. KYTE JR. has completed a nine-week officer orientation course at the Transportation Center, Fort Eustis, Va. USMC Lt. JOSEPH F. COOPER tied the wedding knot with Judith Eva Sewell and is stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C., where the couple are living.

WILLIAM L. HERGENROTHER received his PhD in organic chemistry at ND last June and is now working for Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. JOSEPH P. MARTIN received a degree from the U. of Michigan Law School and is now at the London School of Economics under a Ford Foundation grant.

DR. LESTER H. LANGE, head of the San Jose State College math dept., recently had his methods and previous proofs of theorems published in a Soviet math journal. They were previously published in Japanese and French math journals.

A letter from PETER A. GENIESSE: "Since graduation in June, '60, I worked six months for the South Bend Tribune; put in six months of active duty in the Army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., as a private; and worked for about 20 months as news editor (among other titles) for a Catholic weekly—The Green Bay (Wis.) Register.

"Last June I joined an umbrella-type organization called PAVLA, Papal Volunteers for Latin America. After four months of intensive language and culture studies at the Center of Intercultural Formation, Cuernavaca, Mexico, I left (Oct. 11) for my mission assignment in Antofagasta, Chile.

"Here, in the 'largest dry area on earth,' I am scheduled to teach English and religion in a high school and do youth and social work. And there's much to be done in the northern end of this string-bean-shaped country."

JOSEPH M. KRUPP was married recently to a lass from Ireland and London, Miss Maureen Daly.

The supply of alumni news for the writing of the Dec. issue of the ALUMNUS was certainly not what one could term "an overabundance," however I feel that this was due mainly to the short period of time that had elapsed between the writing of this and the previous column.

The most outstanding item of alumni news for the fall season, and the major source of material for the writing of this column, came as a result of the first Class of '61 Alumni Reunion. The affair took place immediately following the Notre

REQUIEM MASS for President John F. Kennedy LLD '50 was celebrated Nov. 26 in Stepan Student Activities Center with ROTC honor guards and a eulogy by Fr. Joyce with its text the 129th psalm: "De profundis clamavi ad Te, Domine."

Dame-Syracuse football game at Yankee Stadium, New York City. The party was staged in the Wedgewood Room of the Grand Concourse Hotel and featured music, dancing, and an abundant supply of alcoholic beverages. The event was publicized through the distribution of postcards and an announcement during the course of the ball game. I would like to thank those members of the class who were able to attend the reunion (attendance numbered about 150), I am sure that if it meant seeing only one face out of the past, that was not expected, then the end result of the reunion was a worthwhile experience for all.

I would like at least to try and mention all of the class members present at the affair; if, as I know I will, I miss a few of the names, I assure you it is not through intent but only through a poor memory.

First to arrive on the scene was the delegation from Georgetown Law School: former SBP JOHN KEEGAN, BOB FISCHER, BERNIE CRAIG, and a few "subway alumni"; JIM O'MALLEY, now working in New York City; BOB COYLE, collecting the admission fees at the door and looking as though life at Catholic U. Law really agrees with him. DAVE McCANN, with the gray hair and the very beautiful date from the College of Steubenville, Ohio, is right at the top of his class at Fordham Law, the logical reason for the above-mentioned hair explained by the constant number of hours on the books. I think that last statement is worth at least five, Mac.

ART ARMENTO caught the only Thanksgiving Day stagecoach out of Alpine, N.J., and was a surprise visitor at the party. We never thought he would make it out of the hills. Art is currently selling up a storm for Door-O-Matic in the northern New Jersey area. Dorothy and GEORGE LESNIK, among the first to appear; DICK BALLOT, making a quick appearance; Mr. and Mrs. JOHN BERNAT (married life has really agreed with this guy).

MIKE "JUAN" BRENNAN made the trip into New York from West Point, where he is currently serving out a term in the Marines. Still the best-looking guy in the Class, he hasn't changed a bit. JIM BROGAN, a real surprise; PAT BURKE, someone I knew would be there.

TONY CHESSICK and DOUG KOCH, former roommates at ND, and KEN BROWN, whom I didn't even get a chance to speak with. FRANK DINGER and DICK FAVA; BILL GALVIN, who has temporarily foregone law school and is now learning a little about the New York consumer while at Macy's, New York. Mr. and Mrs. PAT HICKEY and JOHN HOEY, who just had time to say hello.

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN JULIANO talking over old times with the Alumni Hall crew. DAVE HUDSON currently working on his PhD at Columbia; TOM FAY and RAY TRANCE, Tom now studying law at Rutgers in New Jersey. DAN LUECKE came all the way into New York for the ball game; ANGE MANES, who I know enjoyed himself as much as anyone at the party; ED McANANEY, in his last year of graduate work at Harvard.

A real surprise to me, and a face out of the past that I spoke of earlier in the column, was NORM ORNELLAS, about the last person I ever expected to see at the reunion. Norm is originally from Honolulu and one of my first acquaintances at ND. DON VECKERELLI just about completes the list of names that I can recall at the affair. Once again I thank all who attended, and hope that we have the opportunity for a repeat performance in the not-to-distant future.

I have just a few items from the regular Class news. ALDO SALA is in his final year of Law School at Rutgers in New Jersey. JOHN SANFACON is teaching school in Summit, N.J. CHARLES BUCKLEY is in his third year of medical school at Georgetown. Last June he was married to Miss Peggy Ann Lyden in Youngstown, O. Pat and BILL HALL were blessed with the birth of a girl, Elizabeth Ann, on Oct. 17, 1963. GEORGE MAHAN was married to Miss Lois Bibby on Nov. 23, 1963, in Charleston, W. Va. George, having completed graduate work at West Virginia U., is now a general sales representative in Spencer for Humble Oil and Refining Co. MIKE ESPOSITO is working for Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City; recently Mike and his wife were blessed with the birth of a baby boy. Mike Jr., in Nov.

On Dec. 28, 1963, BOB FISHER was to be married to Miss Terry Lynn of Phoenix, Ariz. Bob has asked me to be an usher in the wedding, so I've planned to travel to Phoenix on the 27th. I wouldn't miss the Fish's wedding for the world.

As a final item in this current issue of the ALUMNUS, a special note of congratulations to MYRON "MO" POTTIOS on his selection by the players of the NFL as a first-team member of the All-Pro All-Stars. Quite a tribute when you consider the class the guy is traveling in. Also to BILL "RED" MACK, who starred for the Pittsburgh Steelers along with "MO" in their quest for the Eastern title of the NFL.

From the Alumni Office:

ROBERT M. BRADLEY and PHILIP F. SCHUSTER are presently attending the grad div. of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, U. of Pa.

LOUIS NEEB is a management intern for the General Services Administration of the Chicago Civil Service Region.

ERNEST S. ZAVODNYIK is now a third-year student at ND Law School and has announced his engagement to a graduate of St. Mary's College, ND. JAMES J. DWYER is now a student at Rutgers Law School and is engaged to Miss Nardine C. Tornambe.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year belatedly, to all of our Class and their families. No doubt this will again reach you a little late, but we are doing our best to keep on schedule.

A Christmas card from JACK HOFFER et al. announces that Jack is now with the trust dept. of the Security First National Bank of Los Angeles, and their new address is 14331 Francisquitt, Baldwin Park, Cal. JIM CASEY is now practicing with HARRY CONTOS '59 in Kalamazoo, Mich., according to GARY HUMBLE, whom I ran into in local lounge here in Ottumwa. Gary also said that LARRY HOWARD and Marilyn are the exhibitors of Nancy Ann, born on Oct. 16 last.

TONY BONNIWELL reports that he has been admitted to practice in Texas and plans to stay there. He will be with Fred G. Aurforth, Suite 38, Chicago Bldg., 3105 Leopard St., Corpus Christi. Tony, Lynn and family (including Chas. A. Bonniwell IV, born Oct. 26, '63), will be living at 318 Stages St., in that city. CAL ABOOD was married to Judith Marie Dettor at ND on June 29, 1963. I would like to find out something about the following gentlemen: BESKE, BYRNE, COFFEY (GASHER), FITZPATRICK, GUENTHER, HORVATH, LARK, MAYER, O'BRIEN (DAN), WHITE. Where are you? What are you doing?

Overheard in the courtroom: "Well, the jury didn't give me as much as I expected, and I didn't expect that they would." C'est la guerre.

TONY BILL stopped off en route to New York to visit with the dean, who married him and his wife Toni. He'll be a father in May.

WILLIAM O'CONNOR HARNISCH was married in the summer of '63 and is now attending Georgetown Law School.

USMC Lt. MICHAEL J. McDONALD is in group supply at Atsugi, Japan, for the next year after completing his training at Quantico, Va., in December. FREDERICK J. NEMEC recently completed 23 weeks of intensive training in tactics, leadership, logistics and administration at the Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., early in Sept. and was commissioned a 2/Lt. USAF 2/Lt. JOHN T. McGRATH received the Commander's Trophy at James Connally AFB, Tex., as the honor graduate of navigator training at the same time he received his silver wings. He is being sent to Mather AFB, Cal., for advanced training. At Olmstead AFB, Pa., 2/Lt. THOMAS F. NOONAN has completed a specialized course in IBM electronic computers, now being utilized by AF Logistics Command units. Army launcher platoon leader 2/Lt. HAROLD E. VERTIN JR. completed four weeks extensive field training—involving simulated combat operations including live firings, night maneuvers, road movements and defensive tactics—near Grafenwohr, Germany, where he is stationed. Four members of the class, all 2/Lts., have received their pilots' wings upon graduation from flight training and have flown in the newest jet trainers, as well as receiving special academic and military training during the course. CHARLES F. AUGUSTINE received his wings at Laredo AFB, Tex., and went to K. I. Sawyer AFB, Mich., to fly KC-135 aircraft. DENNIS P. MADDEN graduated at Moody AFB, Ga. and was assigned to Hill AFB, Utah. JOHN D. BUTLER's wings were received at Vance AFB, Okla., and he is now at Lincoln AFB, Neb., flying B-47 aircraft. At Laughlin AFB, Tex., JOHN M. BECKMAN received his wings and has been assigned to Barksdale AFB, La., to fly B-52 aircraft.

Ens. JAMES E. FITCH is stationed aboard the USS Plymouth Rock at Norfolk, Va. Jim has a wife, as of last Oct. 26, to wait at Virginia Beach for his ship to come home.

Discovered Ens. MIKE KELLY living about one mile away on Staten Island. To his fellow ensigns Mike is known as the Buddha, and the house is known as the Monastery. Mike, stationed at Bayonne, N.J., stated he recently helped Peg and BILL MURPHY move into their new home in Southern New Jersey.

Called to the forty-yard line of duty, many old faces appeared at the Notre Dame-Syracuse game on Thanksgiving Day. Seen at the rally held the night before at the Waldorf were JOHN COSTELLO, ED KEARSE, and TERRY TERRANOVA. John is completing his New Jersey clerkship, while Ed has commenced the practice of law in upstate New York. A PhD in psychology from Syracuse is only months away for Terry. Understand that several of the Feds from Washington—PAUL DRISCOLL, BUDDY MALONE, etc.—were up for the game, although I didn't get to see any of them.

Short circuit at the Sheraton Motor Inn: seated at the revolving bar after the game were BILL KELLY, who made the long trek from South Bend with his fiancée Sarah, and JOE BIRMINGHAM, who is now associated with United States Lines. Bill mentioned that Karen and TIM GALVIN and daughter have become homeowners in Muncie, Ind.

Received a note from STAN PECORA announcing the opening of his office in the Super Duper Plaza, 200 W. Washington Street, Bradford, Pa. First disbursement: check to ED MALAPIT covering loss sustained on Thanksgiving Day. Hope your Merry was very!

Old Greenwich, Conn.

An unofficial Class reunion was held in Yankee Stadium on Thanksgiving Day to see the Irish play Syracuse. Among those present were JIM LINK, BOB ALBERTINI, MAURICE CALLAHAN and HARRY FATH. Jim is at the U. of Maryland working on an advanced degree in comparative literature. Bob is at Georgetown Medical, while Maurice is studying the history of ideas at Brandeis. Harry has worked for N.Y. State since graduation but will soon report to Fort Knox for training at the Armor School, and then it is on to Germany. Also due to leave soon, 2nd Lt. KEVIN QUINN, who is bound for Korea.

Making the trip from Washington to New York were HAL SUNDERMANN, TOM KELLY and JIM WYRSCH. They are all at Georgetown Law. From Cambridge, Mass., and Harvard Law School came TOM VOLLMER, JOHN McCABE, and ED COLLINS. Seen wandering around the lobby of the Commodore Hotel after the game were JIM EIDE and J. J. CUNNINGHAM. Both are at Columbia U. Jim is in business school and J. J. is in the graduate school of education.

The football season, while not the most successful in campus history, saw the return of several of our classmates. Back for the UCLA weekend were TOM FAVLIC, EM WEISS, TONY BASCHE and JACK O'CONNELL. Tom is at Western Reserve Law School and Em is at St. Louis U. TONY BASCHE is a Root-Tilden Fellow at NYU Law School and Jack is working for the AFoL in New York City.

Area representative TERRY DESMOND sends news on several fellows in the Detroit area. BILL VASU has entered the graduate school of business at NYU. RON MASTEJ was recently elected vice-president of his class at U. of Detroit Law School with the aid of classmates DICK FELLRATH, PETE JASON, TOM BEJIN and BOB GESELL. Studying at nearby Wayne State U. are DAVE EVANS and JACK HILDEBRAND. Jack is enrolled in the medical school. CHUCK RIVARD has begun his tour of duty with the Army, while MATT MURPHY is serving with the National Guard. TOM BARKLEY is back at ND for graduate school and FRANK McDONALD is at the U. of Chicago. PAT O'BRIEN is teaching in the Detroit area. Thanks, Terry, for an interesting letter.

MIKE DELMONTE writes that he has met two of his classmates at Penn. BRUCE GRAMER is working on his MS in electrical engineering. JOE MORABITO is on a fellowship and is working for an MS degree.

Word has been received on several weddings and engagements. BILL ROGERS and Barbara Conley were married in Chicago in November. They were followed a few weeks later by ED FITZGERALD and Nancy Lynk. Those announcing engagements included CHUCK HARTMAN to Rosemary College senior Mary Lou Campbell and CLIFFORD THOMPSON to Mary Malo of Maplewood, N.J.

Class V-P JOSEPH "SCOTTY" MAXWELL, back at ND Law School, reports that he has heard from JOHN KANE and JOE TOLAND. John is working for Standard Press Steel in Gleanside, Pa., and Joe is doing graduate work in marketing at Northwestern. Not a word has been heard from Class Pres. ED ECK. Where have you been hiding, Eddie?

NICK VUCICH was back at ND recently visiting classmate RON VETTEL. Nick has joined the business world as a salesman in Chicago. Ron is studying law at ND.

A belated Happy New Year to all.

From the Alumni Office:

Bar results for the Class of '63 are coming in and seem to be running about par for Notre Dame classes of recent years. The latest available count indicates 33 bar passages against three failures, with some results not known. FRANK MAGGIO, CHICK McERLEAN, DENNIS POWELL, BILL SCHIRGER and JIM LEKIN were all successful on two bar exams, Jim Lekin in Iowa and Indiana, the others in Illinois and Indiana. At the time of going to press there was no word on results from California, Nevada or Michigan.

PAT CROOKS, currently at the Army Judge Advocate General School, Charlottesville, Va., is going to be married in February. His fiancée is Kris Madsen of Green Bay. Congratulations, Pat. After JAG school Pat will be stationed at the Pentagon in Washington. Also in Washington are DENNIS POWELL who is working for the Internal Revenue Service and PAUL DRISCOLL who is getting his LL.M. from Georgetown under a Prettyman fellowship while working as a public defender for the District of Columbia.

JIM WYSOCKI, who is clerking for US District Judge Frank Ellis of New Orleans, is studying civil law at Loyola U. of the South. He is also taking skin diving—you don't get law credit for that, do you Jim?

To anyone who hasn't heard from me yet: mea culpa, but my addresses are not all up to date. So if you have any news about yourself or anyone else in the Class, send it on, either to myself or to the Law School.

Office of the President of The University of Notre Dame Alumni Association

January 30, 1964

Dear Chosen Alumnus:

Initially, may I welcome Messrs. Tom Carney, Bert Coughlin, Bill Cuddy and Herb Sampson as the new members to our Alumni Board as a result of your vote?

As my reign rapidly nears the "gun lap," I must admit that it has been a great experience. During this time, I have grown to know the modern Notre Dame and to appreciate the endless efforts extended by the devoted clergy and laymen on campus who are devoting their lives to our cause. My thanks go out to Jack Dempsey, Pat Dougherty and Bill Fallon, the senior members of the Board, who will be attending their final meeting on campus this month, for their invaluable assistance.

Recollecting the events of 1963, the highlight, of course, was the successful attainment of the Foundation's $18 million Challenge program. An unprecedented 80% of lay-alumni participation made this a reality.

Athletically, we didn't fare so well. In our quest to return to winning ways on the gridiron, we saw three individual head football coaches at the helm during the past calendar year. We hope that Ara Parseghian and the able staff which he is formulating will be the answer. For us who were close to the football situation last fall, we sincerely "felt" for the devoted Hughie Devore. On paper he had a squad that appeared to be headed for supremacy, but for some unknown reason, the early lead was seldom retained. But then, during the latter half of the season, it didn't appear as though the "hungry-for-victory" student body stayed behind the team. The final blow came during a losing afternoon in Notre Dame Stadium when one of the seniors allegedly removed his class ring, held it high and said, "Notre Dame ring here . . . going cheap. Get it while you can!" And more recently, while our basketball team fell behind in a contest in our antiquated field house, the student body chant of "Jordan must go" prompted an established coach, namely Johnny Jordan, to suddenly resign from his post. Situations such as this we, the Alumni Board, have been unable to understand. Without trying to dramatize, may I say that I hope the progressive student movements of today are not forerunners of student reactions like those in Japan, Indonesia and recently, Panama?

On the more cheerful side, it was delightful to learn that the Ford Foundation has renewed our participation in its "Special Program in Education" when it was announced that Notre Dame will be awarded a $6 million grant contingent upon our raising an additional $12 million by June 30, 1966, prompting the $20 million Challenge II — another important and essential step toward international supremacy in the field of education.

As 1964 begins, it is felt that greater things are on the horizon for Notre Dame and perhaps we're about to "turn the corner."

My thanks to Father Hesburgh, the faculty, those in the athletic office, Jim Frick and the Foundation staff, Jim Armstrong and his fellow workers, and especially to the members of the Alumni Board for the splendid cooperation afforded me during my tenure of office.

The best of luck to Phil Faccenda '51 of Chicago, Ill., who takes over as President of the Alumni Association on February 1, 1964.

Happy New Year!

Respectfully submitted,
