NOTRE DAME

Reunion time, June 10-11-12!

Most of you know the enjoyable weekend the Class Reunion brings. The major factor in its success is your attendance. Remember this year the first Continuing Education program designed specially for Alumni, coming just before the Reunion Weekend, June 9-10. "The Population Problem" is one of the most urgent modern areas of discussion. You are expected to know the best opinions in the field.

Be sure to read in this issue about GRAD, the new alumni placement program established by the College Placement Association. This computerized central plan seems to us here at Notre Dame, and on your Alumni Board, to move the solution of the placement of alumni far ahead of any schedule an individual institution might set up. Rev. Louis Thornton CSC is equipped to give Notre Dame Alumni full cooperation in utilizing this new plan.

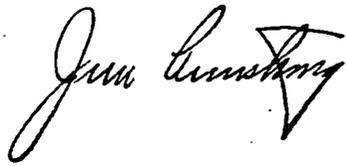

The 43rd Universal Notre Dame Night is history. It set new records for number of Clubs observing the occasion; and for campus speakers appearing nationally. Our sincere thanks go to the hundreds of Club officers and committees who made this one of the outstanding events in Notre Dame Alumni history. UND Night has grown since forty Clubs—most of them brand-new—met in 1924, into its present major public relations contribution to the University through some 125 meetings held throughout the US and abroad. With the strengthening of the Alumni Office staff, this occasion will take on even more significance in the immediate years ahead.

As we near the Alumni Association Centennial—1968—our major segments are beginning to show encouraging strength: Clubs, spearheaded by UND Night; the Classes, highlighted by the reunions and the "Class Notes"; the Annual Alumni Fund, focused now through the personal Class Agent Program; and the magazines, the ALUMNUS and INSIGHT: Notre Dame, which speak for themselves in enthusiastically received improvements of format and content. In addition, the new Continuing Education Program and the new Placement Program (GRAD) promise great service to Alumni of the future.

But most of all, the University of Notre Dame seems to be on the brink of its dreamed-of destiny. Its accelerating opportunities have already challenged the imagination and the support of all Alumni and friends. The indicated expansion of these opportunities will require every strength that every phase of the Alumni Association program can develop.

Tangible effort has already been marked by tangible reward. The realization of the imminent stature of Notre Dame in the educational world will increase the length and shadow of every Notre Dame man.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM:

An Examination

"Freedom is a very dangerous word. . . . Of all the words in almost all the languages today, 'freedom' surely evokes the strongest response." Thus spoke Rev. Ernan McMullin, head of the Notre Dame department of philosophy, at the University's symposium on "Academic Freedom and the Catholic University," April 22 and 23.

Jointly sponsored by the University's chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP), the Office of Academic Affairs and the academic commission of the Student Senate, the symposium heard eight speakers and a number of panelists consider this "very dangerous word" in the realm of academic life.

The possibilities of a conflict between complete academic freedom and the dogmatic rigors of the Catholic Church received immediate attention.

"There is some contradiction between the search for academic freedom . . . and the assurance to all religious groups of their full right to maintain universities committed to their own moral and religious principles," said Dr. David Fellman, retiring president of the AAUP and professor of political science at the University of Wisconsin. "If the theological commitments of the institution make it impossible to observe the basic principles of academic freedom . . . then whether such an institution has a right to be regarded seriously as a member of the family of higher learning becomes the essential issue," warned Fellman.

The possibility of such a conflict was not so apparent in the address of Rev. John E. Walsh CSC, Notre Dame's vice-president of academic affairs. "Genuine learning, valid even that is never fully realized." Father McMullin said that both student and academic freedoms are essential to the learning process, but care is needed to determine which freedoms are essential and which are extraneous to that purpose. Referring to an earlier remark by Sister Charles Borromeo CSC, assistant director of the graduate school of theology at St. Mary's with Callahan, responded with an "Amen" and the students in the audience offered a prolonged ovation.

"Students are badly disillusioned by being told they are mature and responsible on one hand and then being saddled with numerous restrictions," said Callahan. "If Catholic colleges don't follow this need for academic and student freedoms," added Callahan, "they will lose both scholarship, can only take place in an atmosphere of free and open inquiry," said Father Walsh. "All the demands of learning can be and must be adhered to in a Catholic university."

There were definite qualifications placed upon the concept of freedom by Father Walsh and other speakers, however. "Academic freedom, like all human freedoms," commented Walsh, "is a limited freedom and

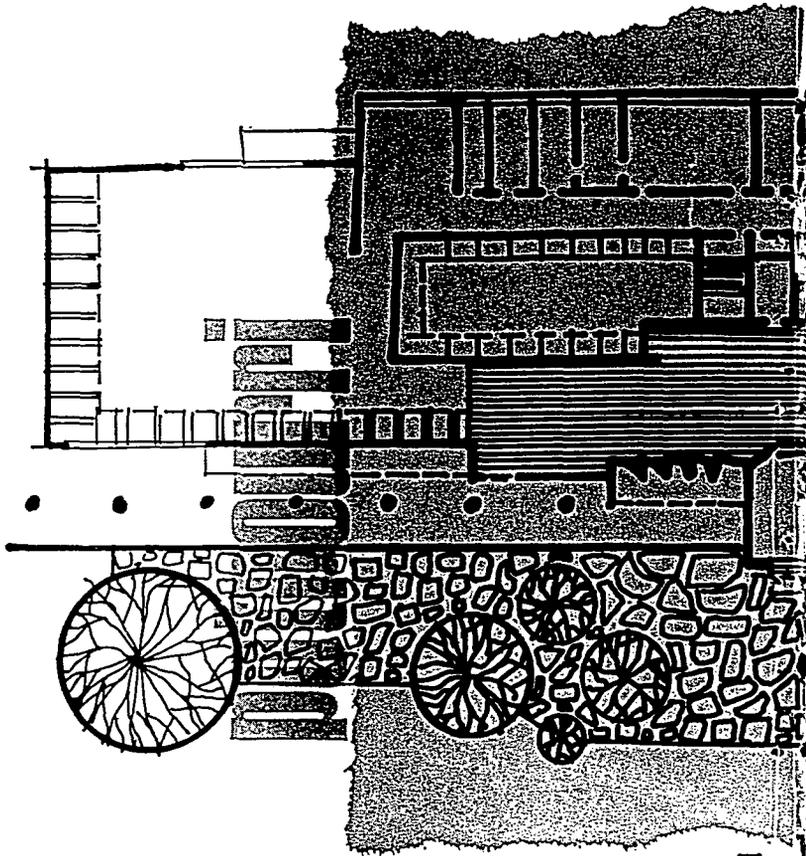

College, Father McMullin said that "students tend to confuse personal freedom and academic freedom."

Student freedoms — personal and academic—received resounding support from Commonweal associate editor Daniel Callahan who asserted that more academic freedom for students is essential to the very survival of Catholic universities. faculty and students of quality."

"Colleges do not collapse when students are given freedom," Minch Lewis asserted, "but there is a tremendous fear of this on the part of the administration." After the failure of the "piecemeal" relaxation of student regulations at Notre Dame during recent years, there is a need for a "radical" move for freedom, contended Lewis.

Crosson, head of the Notre Dame General Program, offered the position that the primary function of a university "is not instruction, but inquiry. Theology in college," continued Crosson, "ought not to be doctrinal instruction but reflective theorizing."

Much the same position was voiced by Father Walsh, who said that trouble arises when the Catholic university is regarded as an institution . . . "whose primary responsibility is to teach a given set of doctrines, values or attitudes. The University should never be confused with the other and ordinary means which the Church has for carrying out its teaching function."

Much conflict has centered around the priest-teacher combination and academic freedom. Rev. John L. McKenzie SJ, a visiting professor at the University of Chicago Divinity School who will join the Notre Dame faculty in September, asserted that "the authority which governs (the priest-teacher) as a priest is not competent to judge him as a scholar. As we all know," Father McKenzie admitted, "authority has destroyed priests as scholars."

The dilemma of modern education, concluded Father Walsh, is "not why there should be Catholic universities, but rather how any institution of higher education in which theology is not taught can call itself a university."

ND COMMUNITY:

A Criticism

In a lengthy letter Dec. 2, 1965, Ralph Martin Jr. '64 told the University's president, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC, that Notre Dame suffers from a "pastoral gap" that prohibits students from finding what it means to be a "real Christian" and allows "practical paganism" to pervade each graduating class. A magna cum laude graduate of the University and winner of the Dockweiler Award in philosophy, Martin received a Woodrow Wilson fellowship to study philosophy at Princeton. Now on leave from his studies, he is working with the National Secretariat of the Cursillo movement in Lansing, Mich.

"As I was exposed to the best that Notre Dame had to offer . . .," wrote Martin, "I grew farther and farther away from Christianity. Those who were thriving on the new Notre Dame, on academic excellence, seemed more and more to be focusing precisely on that; on the university part of Christian university."

For the former Juggler editor, "the vitality and honesty" of those "thriving on academic excellence seemed more attractive and alive than Christianity." This atmosphere spawns the "practical paganism" that "pervades each graduating class." But it goes even deeper, explains Martin: "The practical axis of most Notre Dame students' lives is 'getting ahead,' 'being a success' — not in giving witness to their Lord. . . ."

With this course set, the future of Notre Dame, in Martin's eyes, is a dismal one. "In the not too distant future, Notre Dame will no longer be a Christian university in any way other than Yale or Harvard are Christian universities. . . . Notre Dame is becoming more like the pagan and secular modern world rather than asking the world to become more and more like the Kingdom of God," he wrote.

The way out of this secular labyrinth is through a "Christian community where life is being lived in a serious and appropriate liturgy, in a common life of obedience and faith to God's Word. . . ." The Cursillo movement is one key to such a community, insists Martin, with the addition of two other elements: a pastoral plan to "coordinate the total apostolic effect in an area," and a movement of priests into communities in which they devote their main efforts to pastoral work, being "men growing in holiness" rather than "professional psychologists."

Although a pointed criticism of Notre Dame, the letter did not remain private — nor unanswered. Released by Father Hesburgh in the April 16 edition of Ave Maria magazine, the letter was accompanied by analyses of Father Hesburgh and the presidents of seven other leading Catholic universities: Rev. John R. Cortelyou CM, of De Paul in Chicago; Most Rev. John J. Dougherty, auxiliary bishop of Newark and president of Seton Hall; Rev. Paul C. Reinert SJ, St. Louis University; Rev. Gerard J. Campbell SJ, Georgetown; Rev. John P. Leary SJ, Gonzaga; Rev. Colman J. Barry OSB, St. John's, Collegeville, Minn.; and Sister Mary William, Immaculate Heart College, Los Angeles.

zine, the letter was accompanied by analyses of Father Hesburgh and the presidents of seven other leading Catholic universities: Rev. John R. Cortelyou CM, of De Paul in Chicago; Most Rev. John J. Dougherty, auxiliary bishop of Newark and president of Seton Hall; Rev. Paul C. Reinert SJ, St. Louis University; Rev. Gerard J. Campbell SJ, Georgetown; Rev. John P. Leary SJ, Gonzaga; Rev. Colman J. Barry OSB, St. John's, Collegeville, Minn.; and Sister Mary William, Immaculate Heart College, Los Angeles.

The primary observation made by many of the university presidents centered around the true purpose and aim of the Catholic university. Referring to Martin as a "contemporary Kierkegaard," Father Cortelyou felt that the most any Catholic college can do is "lead the student to the threshold" and provide him with the tools to meet and resolve the crisis. Martin fails to appreciate this, says Father Cortelyou, and insists that the Catholic university do more. To do this "is to confuse the purpose of a Catholic university with that of a seminary or a monastery."

Father Reinert extends much the same philosophy, explaining that the primary aim of a Catholic university is to continue the intellectual achievement, while the "spiritual growth must be shared with other basic influences in the student's life—his home, his parish church. . . ." "He overestimates what the role of a school is," comments Father Leary. "Its chief aim is to open the mind and the emotions to the real. It must eventually let the decider decide." To Father Leary, Martin is not unlike a Manichaeist supporting the doctrine "that material things are bad, getting ahead is bad, getting a fellowship is unbecoming;

Universities were often put in the same category as seminaries," Father Hesburgh explained. "But at the same time one has to always hold that the primary purpose of the university is intellectual formation. . . ."

Considering the overall problem, Sister Mary William writes, "I would maintain that Catholic campuses have never been noted for their pastoral vigor. 'Old grads' of Notre Dame and every other Catholic college may protest this assertion. If, indeed, the old days were better, it was because the students were more docile, not because the faculty was more zealous and holy."

STUDIES ABROAD:

Les Etudes en Angers

The French countryside, where great painters and distinguished authors have been inspired, will become the next site of Notre Dame's expanding overseas campuses. Two years ago sophomore students had the option of spending the year at the University of Innsbruck, Austria. This year they may also study in France—at the Catholic University of the West in Angers and with the unusual development that St. Mary's College students will also be enrolled in the program.

Dr. Thomas E. Stewart, associate vice-president for student affairs, spoke of the success of the Innsbruck program: "We are very much pleased with its development and we're convinced that a year of study abroad can be a significant factor in a student's educational development."

Taking advantage of just such an opportunity for development, the Angers-bound students will sail from New York August 26 and will spend their first week of the program engaged in an intensive language and orientation program on the Angers campus. The semester will begin about mid-October with the students expected to pursue a liberal arts program. Included among the courses to be offered are studies in French language and literature, the history of the arts, French history, Christian anthropology, philosophy in France and political and economic institutions.

To further the Notre Dame group's integration with the rest of the student body at Angers, the Notre Dame and St. Mary's students will take all their courses in the French language and will be taught by the faculty members of the Catholic University of the West. The group will be housed both in student only high, spiritual and sacred things matter."

Father Hesburgh commented, "I think that college experience itself has a lot to do with the problem. A university is a microcosm, a place where all the tensions of the time tend to focus. It is a lively place . . . you have all the ingredients for a kind of crisis."

"Maybe to talk about a pastoral vacuum might be to use the wrong word," continued Father Hesburgh. "We are in a time of pastoral change, certainly. New forms are evolving and new symbolism; the emphasis is on the Word as against the novenas."

"At an earlier age, there was an enormous emphasis in the Catholic universities on moral formation. . . ."

residences and with families in private homes. At midyear the students will exchange their types of residences so that each will be given the opportunity to live in both a dormitory and a private home. They will also dine in the student restaurant where the French students are accustomed to taking their meals.

Angers, located southwest of Paris, has a population of 130,000. Its history as a university city goes back to the fourteenth century when the University of Angers was founded. It ceased to exist during the French Revolution, but in 1875 the present University of the West was founded as a regional university representing the thirteen dioceses of Western France. The university has an enrollment of 3,200 students and is headed by Rev. Jean Honore.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE: Debut of a Medium

A spiritualist came to Notre Dame and brought with her not only ghosts and voices from the past, but a whole new dimension to Notre Dame's repertoire of drama.

Directed by Rev. Patrick H. Maloney CSC, the May production of Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Medium" proved that not only was opera a fit medium for the University Theatre, but that the Notre Dame players were more than capable of handling a tragic music-drama.

The opera, thought by many to be Menotti's finest work, is well-suited to college stage productions. It requires a small, but strong cast, a three-piece "orchestra," and set decoration and lighting that call for artistry rather than the pageantry of the more lavish theatre.

The leading role was played by Carolyn Jaskunas, a St. Mary's student whose previous appearances on the ND stage have more than prepared her for the difficult role of Madame Flora, the Medium. Carolyn displayed harshness of character in her role as Mrs. Peachum in last year's production of "Threepenny Opera"; and her ability to change emotion was demonstrated in her role as the flighty Mrs. Biedermann in "The Firebugs." Both of these qualities were called for in Madame Flora who carried the Medium from moments of sweetness through fits of anger and temper, to the final, tragic emotion of intense fear.

Terry Francke and Stephanie Black played the roles of the young lovers whose fate is tragically interwoven with that of Madame Flora. Francke, who was seen last year as Thomas More in "A Man For All Seasons," played the role of the young mute assistant to the fake spiritualist. Stephanie Black, who is only a sophomore at St. Mary's Academy, was cast in the role of Monica, the daughter of Madame Flora.

The play builds in intensity moving from a focus on the clients of Madame Flora—played by David A. Garrick, Jr., Patricia Culp and Joan Weber Tweedell — who seek communication with deceased family members to the tragic interplay between development of young love and the disillusionment and growing fear of the older woman. Supporting the building theme of the play is the recurrent tone of the music. The "orchestra" consists of two pianos, played by Thomas Nadar and Daniel Diggles, and percussion by Donald Koma.

The stage setting, done by Charles P. Lehman, presents a squalid flat—a suitable atmosphere for the chicanery of the Gypsy spiritualist. The lighting of the play is excellent—it heightens the mood of growing fear with a strong impact on the dramatic scene of Madame Flora's ironic belief in her own craft.

The successful presentation of "The Medium" by the University Theatre has debunked the notion that spring musicals are synonymous with light-headed comedies. The introduction of the tragic music-drama has offered a new dimension for future presentations.

CEDAR POINT, OHIO:

SITE OF ND MIDWEST FAMILY FESTIVAL

Each summer, Notre Dame students seek employment at Cedar Point, Ohio, a resort along the shores of Lake Erie. It was there during the summer of 1913 that two ND student lifeguards developed the forward pass and that fall used the new and revolutionary football strategy to defeat Army and gain national prominence for Notre Dame.

In the past three years, mainly through the efforts of the Alumni Club of Cleveland, Cedar Point has come to have another, more modern meaning for Notre Dame men. Cedar Point is the site of the annual Notre Dame Midwest Family Festival, an event filled with fun, excitement, entertainment, sports, or just simple relaxation.

Noon Friday, July 8, marks the opening of the 1966 event, a three-day affair that has grown each year from its beginnings in July, 1964.

As in the past, alumni and their families and friends, may stay at the "world's largest summer hotel," the 1,000-room Hotel Breakers, overlooking the lake shore. Because the festival is a weekend affair, the hotel requires reservations for both Friday and Saturday nights. In addition to accommodations, restaurants, cocktail lounges and gift shops, the hotel offers guests babysitting and nursery facilities.

Under the chairmanship of Richard H. Miller, the Notre Dame festival boasts fireworks, buffet dinner, dancing and a golf tournament, in addition to the mile-long beach facilities and the Disneyland-like amusement park surrounding the hotel.

With new rides added for 1966, the amusement area now includes antique train, automobile and pirate ship rides, a paddle wheel steamer tour of a frontier setting, a monorail train, an 80-foot-high roller coaster ride and many more attractions—all spanned by a Swiss cable car system and looked down upon by a "Space Spiral" which whisks passengers 300 feet into the air.

All these facilities await the alumnus and his family, with festival attenders receiving complimentary rides on the antique Cedar Point and Lake Erie Railroad and special discount prices on books of amusement ride tickets.

For those who enjoy divoting around a golf course, Saturday's events include a tournament at the Huron, Ohio, Thunderbird Golf Course. That evening, officials and personalities from the University will speak before a buffet dinner, followed by a fireworks display and band concert. As the evening progresses still further, a big name band will play for dancing, while a Dixieland band and a combo play in other areas around the hotel.

Among the other amusements on the park's Funway are a roller coaster, sky ride, space spiral and the Cedar Point and Lake Erie Railroad.

The festival will close Sunday after a memorial Mass and breakfast.

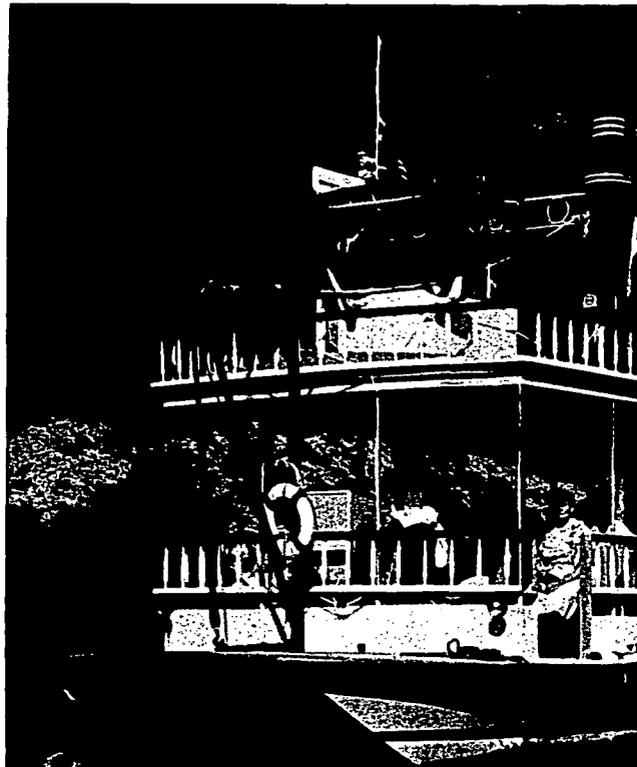

A hospitality room will be off the main lobby of the hotel on opening day, handling family registrations and handing out name tags, room rosters of alumni attending and schedules of events.

A welcoming open house is slated in the hospitality room from 6:00 to 8:30 p.m. Friday to get families introduced at the beginning of the weekend. Free soft drinks and snacks will be provided at this introductory meeting.

Last year, 57 families stayed throughout the festival, with more than 300 visiting during the days. A few families took advantage of the hotel's 1,000-boat marina and floated in, bringing their accommodations with them.

Whether you float, fly or drive, however, come for the weekend—or at least for a day—to the Notre Dame Midwest Family Festival at Cedar Point (Sandusky) Ohio, July 8, 9, 10.

THE HOTEL BREAKERS, a 1,000-room colonial hotel, will be the official residence for Notre Dame Alumni and friends during the Midwest Family Festival weekend, July 8-10.

FACULTY:

Professorial Promotions

Notre Dame's faculty was projected into the University limelight, May 10, when the annual President's Dinner honoring its retiring and promoted members was held in the North Dining Hall. In traditional fashion, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC hosted the entire faculty and professional staff of the University and their wives.

A standing ovation greeted the presentation of a special citation to retiring Rev. Phillip S. Moore CSC who has served the University for 33 years. Father Moore was cited for his "distinguished academic career" during which he "has greatly enriched the life and quickened the spirit of the University of Notre Dame." During his years at ND, Father Moore served as a professor, as dean of the Graduate School, as vice-president for academic affairs, and as academic assistant to the president.

Announcing the honors, Rev. John E. Walsh CSC, vice-president for academic affairs, also cited Prof. Milko Jeglic of the mathematics department who is retiring after having taught at Notre Dame since 1953. Rev. G. Carl Hager CSC, head of the department of music, Alexander A. Petrauskas, associate professor of physics, and Joseph C. Ryan, associate professor of English, were honored for their twenty-five years of service to the University.

Faculty members who were promoted to the rank of full professor: James J. Carberry, chemical engineering; Rev. Raymond F. Cour CSC, government and international studies; Robert E. Gordon, biology; Seymour L. Gross, English; V. Paul Kenney, physics; Ruey-wen Liu, electrical engineering; William T. Liu, sociology; James L. Massey, electrical engineering; Charles E. Parnell, modern languages; Francis H. Raven, mechanical engineering; Thomas L. Shaffer, law school; and Anthony H. P. Skelland, chemical engineering.

Named to the rank of associate professor: Donald N. Barrett, sociology; George A. Brinkley, government and international studies; Rev. Lawrence G. Broestl CSC, modern languages; Eugene R. Brzenk, English; Paul R. Chagnon, physics; Donald P. Costello, English; Brian A. Crumlish, architecture; Ivan Derado, physics; Ronald J. ### A Silver Celebration

The traditional ND blue and gold will take on a silver hue for 21 Holy Cross priests this summer when they return to campus to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their ordination. And for many it will be a double reunion—all but 7 graduated from Notre Dame in the Class of '37.

The jubilarians will offer a celebrated Mass of thanksgiving in the chapel of Moreau Seminary on June 15. They will be joined by another Moreau Seminary classmate, Chaplain (Brig. Gen.) Francis L. Sampson of the Continental Army Command, who was ordained a diocesan priest in 1941. After Mass the priests will be honored by the Holy Cross Community at a banquet given in their honor in the seminary dining room.

A number of the priests have served on the Notre Dame faculty and staff. Rev. James G. Anderson, now dean of the College of Science at the University of Portland was a member of the ND science faculty. Another member of the University of Portland staff, Rev. Joseph L. Powers, executive vice president, taught briefly in the 1940's in the AB school. A member of the philosophy faculty in the 1940's Rev. Gerald F. McMahon is now serving as a missionary in East Pakistan. Now at Notre Dame High School for Boys in Niles, Ill., Rev. William T. Morrison was a former K of C chaplain and on the admissions staff. Rev. John J. Haley, who is now assistant pastor of Holy Trinity parish in Chicago, was on the faculty of the biology department while his brother Rev. Joseph E. Haley served on the theology faculty and as a rector before assuming duties at the University of Portland. He will direct ND's foreign studies program in Salzburg next year. Also a former rector and later prefect of discipline Rev. William J. McAuliffe is now serving in the Office of Province Development at Notre Dame.

Serving in the Notre Dame-South Bend area are several members of the anniversary class although only two are currently on the faculty of the University. Rev. Lloyd W. Teske is an associate professor of English and Rev. Raymond F. Cour, Superior of Moreau Seminary, is professor of government and international studies. Formerly active on the Catholic Boy and now associate director of vocations for the Holy Cross Fathers is Rev. John H. Wilson. Rev. Charles R. Callahan is with the Office of Province Development and is Acting Assistant Provincial for the Indiana Province.

Priests engaged in pastoral duties in South Bend include Rev. Clement H. Funke, pastor at Christ the King parish, and Rev. Louis S. Furgal, the assistant pastor at St. Casimir's parish. Serving as assistant pastor at Sacred Heart parish in New Orleans is Rev. Joseph S. Miller and whose pastor is Rev. Thomas F. Peyton.

Father Peyton's brother, Rev. Patrick Peyton is director for the Family Rosary Crusade and Family Theater for the Eastern Province.

Rev. John Foley is now Superior for the Holy Cross Fathers' Mission Band in North Dartmouth, Mass. At the Sacred Heart Novitiate in Jordan, Minn., is Rev. George E. Schidel. Rev. Erwin W. Orkiszewski is now serving as head of the department of history at the University of Portland. Rev. Thomas Curran and Rev. Joseph M. Doherty are two of the anniversary class who are currently serving in the mission field. Father Curran, of the Eastern Province, is now in Peru while Father Doherty serves in Chile.

One member of the class will not be present at the celebration. Rev. William Ford, of the Notre Dame class of 1933, is no longer living.

STUDENT ELECTIONS: A Sign of the Times

At first, it ran along as many Student Body President campaigns had run in the past. There were the usual "promises" to do something about curfews, car permissions and the old bugaboo—paternalism. The entire social realm received its share of attacks, also. There were two official candidates who had platforms and who thought student govern-

To Help Thy Neighbor

Much like the Peace Corps and VISTA, Notre Dame's student-organized Council for the International Lay Apostolate (CILA) seeks to physically aid the depressed, both here and abroad. But more than that, those who participate in CILA projects endeavor to communicate as Christian citizens. Now numbering 28, the ND CILA group this summer plans six-week programs in Peru, Mexico, Colombia and Spanish Harlem. Formed on campus five years ago, CILA this year undertook more than summer projects when it arranged for 10 Colombian students to come to Notre Dame from November through January in a student exchange program. CILA volunteers also have been conducting recreation and education programs for the Spanish-speaking migrant workers in South Bend.

Sloan Names Two ND Men

Two Notre Dame faculty members are among 90 young scientists in the US and Canada to receive two-year, unrestricted grants for research from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation of New York. They are: Dr. Jeremiah P. Freeman '50, associate professor of chemistry; and Dr. Paul C. DeCelles '50, associate professor of physics. Freeman, a specialist in organic chemistry, will do research on oxidized nitrogen compounds, their preparation, structure and chemical properties. DeCelles is currently on leave from Notre Dame and engaged in elementary particles research in Geneva, Switzerland. He will return to ND in September.

Omnipresent Byword

More than 170 research or research-related projects are in progress at Notre Dame, 105 of which are government supported, the remainder being financed by corporations or philanthropic foundations. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1965, Notre Dame received 137 research awards totaling more than $5.35 million. Ninety-four projects are in the College of Science, 37 in the College of Engineering, 19 under the Graduate School. The College of Arts and Letters operates six projects; the College of Business Administration, six; Center for the Study of Man in Contemporary Society, six; Computing Center, two; and the Administration, one.

June Honoraries

At mid-May, this partial list of well-known dignitaries to receive honorary doctorates at the University's June 5 commencement was announced; Lady Barbara Ward Jackson, British economist; Juan Cardinal Landazuri Ricketts, archbishop of Lima, Peru; Rev. I. M. Bochenski, rector of the University of Fribourg, Switzerland; Rev. Godfrey Dieckmann OSB, noted liturgist from Collegeville, Minn.; William R. Daley, Cleveland industrialist and member of ND's Board of Lay Trustees; the Hon. Richard P. Rieves, federal judge from the US Court of Appeals in Montgomery, Ala.; David E. Bell, director of the Agency for International Development; Helmut Hatzfeld, professor of romance languages and literature at Catholic University; and Julius W. Pratt, visiting professor of history at Notre Dame.

NASA-Endowed Projects

More than $69,000 were received from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) recently to support two research projects in chemistry and aero-space engineering at Notre Dame. G. F. D'Allelio of the chemistry department received $54,460 to continue his research on heat-resistant plastics for another year. Working on the project since 1963, D'Allelio has discovered a family of plastics capable of withstanding temperatures as high as 2,026 degrees in nitrogen and 1,212 degrees in air. Vincent P. Goddard received $15,180 for research on "D-Region Turbulence Studies," to analyze the turbulent conditions encountered by rockets at altitudes above 45 miles.

ment could really "do something" if only there were more communication between students and their government, between students and administration.

It would have remained as sedate as the elections in the past if the final campaign only had been between the official candidates Jim Fish and Rick Dunn. Enter here the "protest" and write-in candidates.

Controversial junior Lenny Joyce entered the race as a write-in, titling his campaign "A Popular Front for Student Rights." Head of the Notre Dame chapter of the liberal Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), Joyce said he would run "in the expression of a popular repulsion of the mediocre 'platforms' of Mr. Fish and Mr. Dunn." The platform offered by Joyce was anything but mediocre: "the maximum liberty, responsibility and opportunity for the students and faculty. . . ." He offered the students "17 Theses" including: abolition of the curfew system; liberty to purchase and operate motor vehicles; elimination of the rotor system; integrating St. Mary's into Notre Dame; formation of a faculty senate; equal voice of students, faculty and administration in the formulation of University policies; and, ultimately, incorporation of student government as the autonomous, legally registered representative of the "Associated Students of the University of Notre Dame." Other candidates, lumped in the "protest" category, included a fictitious Sam I. (Irish) Green and a musical group, the Shaggs, running as a unit. Sam Green offered a liberal approach surpassed only by that of Joyce. The Green platform included abolition of the Student Senate in favor of the Hall Presidents' Council, with a five-member corporate commission electing a president and representing the student body. The five-man commission was the creator of Sam Green. The Shaggs, offering "an orgy of leadership by a pack of Machiavellians," vented even wilder, but more entertaining, possibilities.

When the balloting was over, many breathed easier knowing an "official" candidate had been elected. With more than 44 percent of the votes cast, Jim Fish was elected student body president. In second place, Rick Dunn had managed to collect 24.5 percent. The surprise, however, came when Lenny Joyce's "Popular Front" amassed more than 20 percent of the total vote—relying entirely on write-ins. It was a lot like the "issue-less" campaigns that had come before it, but, in many ways, this year's race was a sign of the times and possibly a sign of things to come.

101 More in the Fold

Sans the two planned residential halls, campus dormitory space will be expanded next fall to accommodate 101 more students. The additional space has been found in Dujarie Hall which will be vacated this summer by the Holy Cross Brothers when they move into their new community quarters on the Dixie Highway across from Notre Dame. Tentatively, a sophomore-junior-senior group, in keeping with the University's expanding "Stay-Hall System," will occupy the quarters. The additional room will not mean an enlarged enrollment, but rather, fewer students living off campus.

A Golden Colossus

A recent note in The Chicago Tribune announced, under a South Bend dateline, that "on May 31, a colossal statue of the Virgin Mary will be blessed and erected upon the dome of the university." Lest anyone have a doubt or two, the note appeared in the "Historical Scrapbook" column. The story originally was reported April 30, 1866.

Catalytic Environment

The academic futures of about 50 South Bend 10th graders are the targets of a new program this summer at Notre Dame. Sponsored by a $72,000 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity, operation "Upward Bound" will offer intelligent, motivated students from low-income families a six to eight-week residence on campus as an appetizer to college education. This, hopefully, will urge the students to prove themselves in their final years of high school, and, with federal and private financial aid, lead to eventual enrollment in college.

Mirage

It was a gem for publicity: a riot at Notre Dame. A banner headline in red on the front page of a Las Vegas newspaper declared, "Notre Dame Students Riot." Wire services carried the story telling how "More than 1,000 Notre Dame students and their dates rioted . . ." Unfortunately, this necessitated a later correction, for what did transpire was quite different. On several occasions in the past, there have been dances in the Stepan Center open to area teen-agers and any students wishing to attend, sponsored by the student social commission. At such a dance on April 23, several fights erupted and the center was closed. The crowd refused to disperse, and fighting continued outside. Eventually units from the sheriff's department, state and city police were summoned, with the last officials arriving with two dogs. Authorities generally agree the responsibility for the fracas rested with non-Notre Damers. All such future dances have been canceled.

Shades of Dow Jones

Yet another publication was added to the list of student magazines at Notre Dame when the first edition of the Notre Dame Business Review was published in late May. Father of the magazine, Bill Kane, conceived the idea more than a year ago. In contrast to the more widely known business reviews, such as Harvard and Chicago, the ND venture is entirely student-written. Only two other universities in the country have business magazines emanating from the student body.

The Overseas Government

With Notre Dame extending to Europe academically, it was only a matter of time before student politics reached outward also. This summer, beginning August 2, the Student Organizations Commission of ND's Student Government will sponsor a three-week excursion to Europe. Flying to the continent via Alitalia Airlines, the group will visit England, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, France, Holland and Austria. Further information is available from the Catholic Travel Office, Dupont Circle Building, Washington, D.C. 20036.

The winter meeting of the Alumni Association's Board of Directors was most favorably impressed with this new national placement program for alumni. The Board advances this additional recommendation—that the work of the Notre Dame Placement Office would be greatly augmented by a more effective approach to the placement problem by the local ND Alumni Clubs, especially those in larger population areas. The recommendation aims particularly at the establishment of a committee or chairman to serve as a channel of information and contact for the University Placement Office.—Editor ALUMNUS.

“NOW EVERY experienced graduate can put his qualifications before employers from coast to coast—with computer speed and at nominal cost.” So says Rev. Louis J. Thornton, C.S.C. '29, director of the University's Placement Office, who makes no effort to hide his enthusiasm for a new service his office is making available to Notre Dame men.

“Not since the advent of the COLLEGE PLACEMENT ANNUAL almost ten years ago has such a revolutionary concept come upon the college placement and recruitment scene,” Fr. Thornton continues. “And it is perhaps no surprise that the College Placement Council, publisher of the ANNUAL, is representing us in this new, non-profit program.”

Notre Dame graduates who have gone through the frustrating business of circulating resumes to employers and then awaiting results can appreciate what the new service—known as the GRAD system—can offer. Employers, for their part, will find it eye-opening to be able to search the qualifications of thousands of candidates in mere seconds—even “converse” with the electronic file until they get exactly what they want. The 21 major search items available to employers are teamed with a thesaurus of occupational skills so extensive that the Council believes it the most sophisticated means of selection yet devised.

Key to the dramatic new system is the College Placement Council's role as the corporation placement directors and employers formed a decade ago to assist themselves in doing a better job for the student and alumnus. In the CPC, as it is commonly known, over 1,000 colleges and universities together with more than 2,000 employers of the United States and Canada foster cooperation between campus and company through such projects as the GRAD program.

New Times, Better Equipment. Gone for candidates under the new service are such problems as how to make their qualifications known to a broad spectrum of employers or how to avoid the onerous and time-consuming business of mailing numerous resumes and then awaiting results. Employers, for their part, are finding that experienced college graduates may be located with remarkable selectivity, in record time, and at nominal cost. That the employer is in New Orleans, the placement office at Notre Dame, and the alumnus in Salt Lake City no longer matters.

In operation, the GRAD system is uncomplicated (the name, by the way, stemming from “Graduate Resume Accumulation and Distribution.”) An alumnus interested in finding new employment communicates directly with the Notre Dame placement office. If Father Thornton and his staff feel that the GRAD program will be of value to the individual in question, the candidate is given an instruction sheet and four-page resume form. The alumnus has the resume completed and neatly typed since it will be photocopied in its original form for distribution and sends it to the College Placement Council in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, with a $10 service fee.

At the data center of the Council, each resume forwarded by an alumnus is analyzed both in terms of present (or most recent) employment and of previous experience. Twenty-one key factors are extracted from the information and entered into an electronic file at a vast computer center some 60 miles from the Council offices in Bethlehem, Pa. The original resume is microfilmed to be retrieved almost immediately upon receipt of an employer order.

GRAD

the cooperative new effort bringing multiple opportunities to Notre Dame Alumni seeking new job placement.

All over the country, employers are beginning to call upon the GRAD system to assist their search for capable executive talent. They have at their disposal the thesaurus of GRAD terms which enables them to establish rapidly the best description of the position open. They may also call upon one or all of the 21 additional "descriptors" to further refine their search.

Easy, Immediate Access. Employers using a teletype unit to query the GRAD system have almost immediate access to the electronic file, can phrase their own questions, and obtain an equally prompt response. In many respects similar to the electronic systems which enable airline ticket offices to determine the availability of flight reservations, the GRAD system permits a search to be conducted in seconds. In a typical use, an employer may inquire for applicants on the basis of six or eight selectors—all in English since the system does not require codes. Hardly has his question been completed on the teletype when the machine begins to chatter in response, and he is told, for example, that 83 alumni whose qualifiers are in the system, meet his specifications. This is more than he bargained for, but no matter. The inquiry is restated with more stringent requirements and the number of qualifying applicants now drops to 17. Satisfied, he types the order to send resumes on the chosen candidates.

Here another sequence of events takes place with remarkable speed. The employer's order is electronically relayed to the Council data center where resumes corresponding to the chosen individuals are retrieved, duplicated and speeded on their way to the employer. From this point on, negotiations are traditional with the employer contacting those applicants whose experience, as amplified by the full resume, meets his needs. Before, during, or after the use of the GRAD system, alumni are free to call upon their placement office for counsel. With the previous load upon the placement directors lightened, at least in part, by the GRAD system, it is hoped that even more extensive counselling will now be available for alumni.

Certain Qualifications. Use of the GRAD system is not available to just anyone. Since its designers were aware that misuse of the system for "looking around" or job-hopping would detract from its value to employers, placement directors must endorse each resume and attest to the fact that the applicant has received a four-year degree or higher. The resume remains in the active search file for six months. If the alumnus has received a job while resident in the file he may not return to the GRAD system for a full year. Those deleted from the file at the end of six months are advised as to the number of times their resume has been referred. Especially in instances of alumni who have been resident in the electronic file for six months and have attracted no offers, it would appear desirable that they communicate with their placement office, either by mail or in person, for suggestions as to shortcomings which may be affecting their candidacy.

Alumni whose resumes result in their obtaining employment, share with the employer the responsibility of removing the individual's application from the active file. The placement director is then informed by the College Placement Council of the employment which has resulted. No further charges beyond the original $10 accrue to either the placement office or the individual.

The employer may approach the GRAD system either by the installation of teletype equipment or by direct mail. But in either instance he must survive a screening to participate. If the firm or agency is a member of a Regional College Placement Association, it may apply for GRAD service directly to the College Placement Council. If not, it may serve the same end by obtaining an application form from the Council and obtaining the endorsement of two placement directors on campuses where it normally recruits. Costs to the employer are nominal. A one-time connection charge for teletype users of $10, a $2 charge for each resume ordered, and 50c per minute during the time the computer is actually being searched are the basic costs. Since each job search is expected to require about three minutes, computer costs which, traditionally, have been heavy are now reduced to as little as $1.50.

Continuing Search. A special feature of the GRAD system makes it possible for employers using teletype to keep a job search continually in effect if desired. Thus, if the selectors chosen by the employer for the search fail to yield sufficient candidates, the question may, without additional charge, be designated as a "save question." When such a question is introduced to the GRAD system it is automatically searched each time a new group of candidates is added to the file. When one of the new candidates meets the "save" specifications, his resume is immediately ordered through the data center. The employer may remove the "save question" from the file at any time that his needs have been met.

Employers not utilizing teletype equipment may conduct their searches through the mails and with the use of a GRAD form which authorizes the Council to make the search in their behalf. Here the employer pays a service charge of $2 for each search (but is spared the $10 connection charge levied against the teletype user). Other charges are the same at 50c per minute of computer time and $2 for each resume ordered.

Special provisions have been programmed into the GRAD system whereby the applicant's current employer is blocked electronically from receiving resumes. In a similar precautionary measure, employers may make their electronic search of selector factors in terms of state of residence but not city. Thus the geographical selector does not reveal the present employer accidentally when the applicant is a resident of a "one-industry" town. Further confidentiality is provided by maintaining only in the CPC data center file the names and addresses of alumni applicants and the identity and addresses of participating employers. All communication with the remote storage file is on an identification number basis, meaningful only to the staff administering the GRAD program.

Careful Selection. The key to the effectiveness of the system is one of the most inclusive thesauruses yet to be devised. Because of the College Placement Council's representation of employers as well as colleges and universities, skills banks developed by major manufacturers and business firms were donated to the Council and combined into a source book of thousands of entries. In practice, each resume will be studied first to extract the most inclusive job "descriptor." It will then be further assessed to determine 21 additional selector elements. Major items among these include: state of residence, marital status, major fields studied in college and type of degree received, class rank by quintile, present and required salary, area of job interests, geographic preference, language proficiency, and several others of lesser importance. Any combination of these may be used by the employer in making his search.

Research data resulting from the operation of the GRAD system will be available to all participating placement offices. Some of the areas of study being considered are concentrations of employer interest in terms of specific qualifications, supply and demand by various classifications, salary trends, etc. All of these can be computed with ease and maintained on an up-to-date basis. Thus the project not only places opportunities of an unparalleled scope before the alumnus but promises to make his placement office a prime information center for real-time manpower statistics.

Perhaps equally important, higher education will have available and sensitive to its own needs a manpower tool made possible by the latest developments in electronic data processing.

MORE than 1,000 alumni from 10 Notre Dame classes will converge on the University June 10, 11 and 12 to enjoy present-day company and surroundings, and to relive the eras of bygone days.

This year's reunions will be marked by the return of the classes of 1916 and 1941 who will celebrate, respectively, their golden and silver anniversaries. Attending their first five-year reunion will be the Class of 1961; other classes include '21, '26, '31, '36, '46, '51 and '56.

A new dimension in Notre Dame reunions has been inserted in the traditional three-day program. Beginning Thursday morning and concluding a day later, the University's Center for Continuing Education will host the First Annual Alumni Seminar, an academic program designed to cultivate the alumnus' intellectual perspective through continuing education.

Its topic will be the "Problem of Population," and its scope will be multidisciplinary. Specialists—both from within and beyond the campus—will discuss the pressing international issue as it pertains to matters of theology, economics and sociology. (Alumni wishing to attend the seminar but who have not indicated their desires should contact immediately Dean Thomas P. Bergin, Center for Continuing Education.)

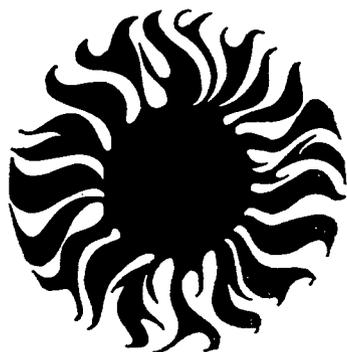

Saturday morning also will see the inauguration of a program to familiarize ND graduates with the University of today. For an hour in the Center for Continuing Education, faculty members of the four undergraduate colleges—who also are alumni of the reuniting classes — will sketch the direction their schools have taken in recent years in matters of curriculum and faculty. Preceding these formal presentations, Rev. Joseph B. Simons, the University's dean of students, will provide an overview of the University with particular emphasis on today's ND student.

Gaiety and merriment will be in evidence throughout a weekend that has been lined with a golf tournament, class pictures, campus tours and a congenial setting for extensive prattle and potation. Class officers and their local-arrangement counterparts long have been at work on the Friday evening class dinner, complete with program and class elections. This year's levy has been set at $25 per alumnus, a fee that will cover all weekend activity expenses excepting the Alumni Seminar. Registration will be held in the lobby of the Center for Continuing Education directly across from the Morris Inn.

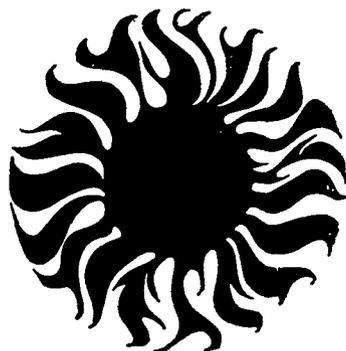

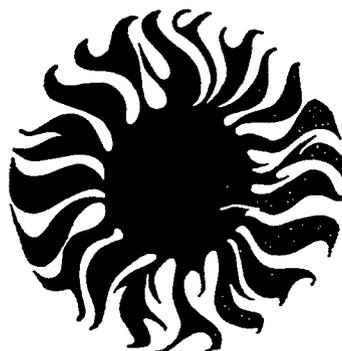

This year, the class officers and the Alumni Association reunion committee are making a special request of those returning to campus by car, asking that they park their cars at the entrance of the campus. Transportation to the halls and the baggage handling will be provided by several shuttle buses leaving from the Center.

Saturday's schedule will find Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC hosting the traditional President's Luncheon for the Silver Anniversary Class (1941) in the Morris Inn. Later in the day, he will join all reunion attendees in the North Dining Hall for evening dinner and a state of the University address.

Festivities will formally draw to a close on Sunday at 9:45 a.m. with the Alumni Mass in Sacred Heart Church. This year, for the first time, a concelebrated Mass will be offered by all priest-members of reunion classes.

Rev. Charles C. Miltner CSC '11, former head of the department of philosophy at the University of Notre Dame and former president of the University of Portland, passed away April 13, just four days after observing his 80th birthday. His death, while bringing sorrow into the lives of many ND men with whom he associated gives cause to recall memories of one of the most prominent educators of the Congregation of Holy Cross. University Archivist Rev. Thomas T. McAvoy CSC here tells of Fr. Miltner's work, perhaps that most familiar to ND Alumni. Editor.

TO MOST of the Alumni, Father Charles Miltner is remembered as the dean of the College of Arts and Letters. His appointment was one of the most important changes in the University.

The major problem facing the new dean arose from the fact that the traditional liberal arts program was a classical program concentrating on Latin and Greek; but the only students who could qualify then for the traditional bachelor of arts degree were some seminarians and a few lay students who had undergone the old classical program in high school and could continue that program in college. (To care for the majority of the students of the College of Arts and Letters, the University had drawn up substitute programs leading to bachelor's degrees of letters, philosophy, philosophy in journalism, history in education, music and library science.) In addition to a written thesis, there also was a total of 167 semester hours of credit required in each of the programs for the degree; and there were few electives.

Father Miltner with the consent of his faculty established one AB degree, offering majors either in one of the eight departments or those three schools that remained: Fine Arts, Education and Journalism.

MILTNER and HOGAN:

Further, he reduced the number of semester credits to 128. Most of the classes that had been taught four or five times a week were changed to three class hours, and the number of electives was greatly increased.

To those who impatiently held out for the old classical liberal arts degree, Father Miltner's program was a gross betrayal. But for the majority of the students of the College of Liberal Arts, his program was one of great common sense.

A few remnants from the old program remained. There were no electives in the first two years, and the student having a foundation in a language—ancient or modern—was expected to continue that language in college. This was an unwelcome handicap for students who had followed the old classical course in high school because the dean insisted that they continue Latin in their college programs.

The effects of the new dean's reform were too manifold to be listed here. The first was the rise of philosophy—especially under the headship of Father Miltner—one of the most respected programs in the College. Soon, the English major program became the curriculum for the literary students. Few besides the seminarians remained in the old classical program of Latin and Greek. Eventually, the departments of sociology, history and economics began to have their own majors; modern languages had a more difficult time attracting majors in the student body of the 1920's and 1930's. Patiently, the dean interviewed each student and directed him on the choice of his classes. A new administrator had arrived at Notre Dame.

His efforts brought about a vastly improved, intensified teaching in the departmental fields. The departments were better organized and developed distinctive qualities. Another result which might be attributed to the dean himself was the development in the College of a philosophy of liberal education, fostered chiefly in his lectures and in discussions in the meetings of the college faculty.

The College of Arts and Letters of today still bears the impression of the reform of Father Charles C. Miltner.

Harry G. Hogan '04, one of the University's most ardent supporters and finest friends, was killed April 5 in an auto accident in Fort Wayne, Ind. He was 84. He long will be remembered by the Notre Dame family as twice national president of the Alumni Association and founder of the University's Foundation in 1947—a department which has since received more than $92 million in gifts and grants. Following is the story, of that man and his university. Editor.

HE University's history is sprinkled with outstanding men created for outstanding moments.

The great doors of opportunity that opened on American campuses in the wake of World War II might have caught Notre Dame and the Alumni Association unprepared for this unprecedented challenge to higher education had it not been for such men.

In 1947, Harry Hogan was serving his second term as national ND

Alumni Association president. Prior to then and following his 1917-18 office, he had become a successful lawyer, businessman and political leader of national stature. His competence and maturity proved to be an invaluable contribution to ND.

With the cooperation of a University facing formidable but new demands on its resources — and sometimes overriding the conservative tendencies of the academic traditions of a century—Harry Hogan created the ND Foundation.

None of those involved — and especially Hogan — would say that ND's great growth came solely from the Foundation. But in justice, and in history, this farsighted provision for a foreseen crisis of resources created a climate and a mechanism within which ND has achieved vital, expanding and award-winning support, far in front of many of its less-prepared contemporaries.

There is a headstone for Harry Hogan. But his real monument will be the significant skyline of the University, and the record of the Foundation which has made ND the bridge and the beacon of our searching society. His goal was the continuation of a campus and a quality that could produce great men for great moments. His example was the greatest contribution to his goal. R.I.P.

FACULTY AND STAFF DEATHS

HERBERT J. BOTT, professor-emeritus of the College of Business Administration, died unexpectedly April 27 at the age of 68. He retired in 1960 after teaching at the University for 36 years. An undergraduate from the University of LaCrosse and a recipient of a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin, Prof. Bott was a past president of the Notre Dame Faculty and served as a judge at ND track events. He is survived by his wife, Blanche, a son and four daughters.

REV. ROBERT J. WAIDE CSC '33, a former mission worker at the University, died April 11 at the age of 60 at his St. Francis High School residence, Mountain View, Calif. REV. HUGH B. MACCAULEY CSC '06 died April 13 at Holy Cross House on the campus at the age of 85. In the March-April issue of the ALUMNUS, I mentioned that I had been appointed our Class Agent for the Annual Alumni Fund. A complete list of the appointees for all classes also appears in that same issue. It is suggested that all Alumni read carefully the article (pg. 16) on the new structure of the Fund.

The first meeting of Class Agents was held at the University on Feb. 26. I was pleased to be among the 42 of a possible 57 agents who attended the meeting. It was a very informative meeting and engendered much enthusiasm among those present. The tremendous growth and development of the University in the past decade is indeed inspiring; therefore, Alumni support is a more important factor than ever before. In this connection, Class Agents will be contacting the members of their respective classes to the end that the percentage of Class giving and the total amount of the Fund will be substantially increased. The percentage of Class giving is very important. While some of the reasons for this statement are self-evident, more will be said in a subsequent communication.

Please note the following change of address: Rev. JOHN MARGRAF CSC from St. Jude's Parish, South Bend, Ind. to Holy Cross House, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.

As you well know, the success of a Class secretary depends in large measure upon the cooperation he receives from fellow alumni. Your classmates will be interested in your whereabouts and of personal items about you. Of definite interest would be: whether you are still working or retired—or—special happenings and experiences such as hobbies, trips taken, and information about family, children and grandchildren. We are most anxious to learn of change of address. If you are not regularly receiving each issue of the ALUMNUS it is, no doubt, due to a faulty address. Surely every member of the Class of 1915 wants to receive the ALUMNUS and keep posted on the University's growth and development.

ROBERT "PETE" VAUGHAN '12 of Crawfordsville, Ind. was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in March. Pete won four letters in four major sports in high school and while at ND, 1908-1910, he was an All-American football player. He was head basketball coach at Purdue in 1912 and later, while at Wabash College, had two teams known as the "wonder fives."

EDWARD J. McOSKER

The January-February ALUMNUS solicitation has produced at least a couple of responses in the way of news from '17ers.

DAN HILGARTNER reports that answers to questions on the stub of the "request" card are "no" to all except "retired" and "travel." Writes Danny, "I am tired and retired, but can be revived on occasion with a brandy and soda; and, as for travel, we are thinking and talking about a trip to Ireland before it is too late. Any '17ers in the mood for such a trip to the tight little isle, or is that England?"

Any takers?
BILL GRADY from Carrollton, Tex. reports that he expects to be at Notre Dame for the reunion "this year." (Bill, did you belong to the Class of '16 or '17?) He writes, "We have a great excuse for the trip, having a daughter whose husband, DAN O'BRIEN, is with Bache and Co. in South Bend; also, not the least, four grandchildren—two boys and two girls." Under the circumstances, maybe every year is "reunion" year for Bill. Wouldn't blame him if such were the case.

Keep the news coming, boys. Maybe, we'll find something besides the name of your Class secretary in the '17 column now and then.

Another note urging you to remember an old classmate with whom you may have once shared "buns"—or—oblong shape "pie"—or—the "whale" in the dining hall of the Main Building. Perhaps you were the "Head" of one table. Remember? Why not send a birthday card? You know that it would be appreciated. NORBERT G. MONNING (June 12) Star Route, Carrabelle, Fla. 32322; Dr. EDWARD REYNOLDS (June 13) 497 Highland Ave., Malden, Mass. 02148; LAMBERT Q. Father CHARLES WILLIAMS managed to get a break and enjoy a short Florida vacation, missing some of the real cold Rantoul, Ill., weather. Sorry that Father could not have stayed a month or so longer to make up for missing out last year.

Sure pleased to hear from "Young Dutch." Perhaps, we should address Mr. ARTHUR J. BERGMAN '17 more correctly as the managing director of the District of Columbia Stadium and the National Guard Armory in Washington, D.C. Art's brother was my Corby Hall Subway roommate, "OLD DUTCH," whom we believe to be the only four-sport monogram man; a total of twelve monograms in football, track, baseball and basketball.

JAMES E. ARMSTRONG '25, Alumni Association secretary, heard from JIM SWEENEY '18 that JIM HANLON '18 had moved to a rest home at 1551 St. Paul St., Denver, Colo. 80206. As no other "guy" can, Armstrong wrote Hanlon a most interesting and sincere letter which, no doubt, was greatly appreciated by Jim. Sweeney reports, "Hanlon seems happy and has lots of company. He can hear Mass every day. It would please him very much to hear from you."

Attorney GEORGE E. HARBERT '18 wrote that he has sold the Rock Island County Abstract & Title Guaranty Co. of which he was president. He now has a law office for general practice but still remains chairman of the board of the abstract company. I'll bet there's where the "dough" is. George and his Margaret plan on taking more extended tours.

NORBERT G. MONNING '18 wrote "... you might also look up the Michigan Ave. night parade pictures after ND beat Army 7-2 (pg. 188, DOME-1918). Our quarterback, Brandy, weighed only 145 lbs. I made those signs in the rear of Hully and Mike's Cigar Store. A similar sign was made and used by Hollywood in the picture of ROCKNE." Monning was mailed a package of pictures. I hope he got 'em. I will pass 'em around when they are returned.

FRANK M. KIRKLAND '17, who also was mailed the pictures, wrote, "It was surely nice of you to give me the pleasure of looking at my old friends. It is also pleasing to know they all look well fed. Do you remember our old two-miler JOHNIE REYNOLDS? He is now a Trappist Monk out in the country about 20 miles from Portland. They are not much for visitors but I see him several times a year."

CHARLIE CALL is enjoying Winter Haven, Fla. However, he still is "popping up" here and there proving that Charlie and Mrs. are enjoying good health.

Wish we had Texas BILL GRADY's ND year and birthday. Here's one grand "guy" who you may be sure will return to the ND Campus come June.

Phoned JOHN VOELKERS who reports enjoying good health and who recently visited ND and the Morris Inn. "BIG" FRANK X. RYDZEWSKI is busy counting his money in his real estate office while enjoying good health. Big Frank also heard from "Young Dutch." LAMBERT Q. SENG is still interested in CYO fights. I'm sorry I could not be his guest. We still have not got around to having lunch with Ex-Lt. Gov. SHERWOOD DIXON. Believe it would prove to be a real good "bull session."

MORRIE STARRETT writes, "... am sending JIM ARMSTRONG my famous yellow-chamois gloves I wore when we had Fairbanks and Pickford as our bench guests for the first half of the 1925 Rose Bowl game and when Walter Camp picked me for All-American water boy for services beyond duties during second half, etc."

Alice and ALVIN "HEINIE" BERGER '15, as usual, have headed for Rio Grande Valley in Texas. They may return via Florida. Hope he gets to see CHARLIE BACHMAN '17. What a "bull session" if we three Corby Hall Subways could get together. Hope that "guy," MAX KAZUS, remembered to either send a card or phone Rt. Rev. Msgr. F. MONIGHAN on his birthday, May 24.

Sure wish that you "Ole Timers" would write and tell Jim Armstrong of any Class news relative to the stunts you were guilty of "pulling off" while on the campus. Someone of you must have been surprised by a pint of ice cream tossed through your transom window.

Remember our GOLDEN JUBILEE is coming up in 1968. See you then!

May you live to be a hundred.

JUNE 10 • 11 • 12

Dear Dan:

Hope to attend our 45th Reunion. Will contact LARRY "Red" MORGAN, WM. "Bill" ALLEN and NORRIS "Judge" BARRY. Somebody with influence should put the pressure on CHARLES "Jack" MOONEY of Memphis.

I have two boys, both teachers: George—ND Commerce '49, Northwestern JD Law '52, Chicago MBA '56, and now teaching U. of Missouri, St. Louis Branch. Peter—West Point '54 (Arty), Virginia MA in Political Science '64, Leavenworth's Staff and General Command School '65, and, presently, a major assigned to the US Air Force Academy.

362 Jones Ave. N.W.
Atlanta, Ga. 30313

Dear Dan:

I was very happy to receive your letter of February 16. Of course, I plan to be back to Notre Dame for homecoming. As I look back, 45 years is a long time. It will be wonderful to see some of the old timers. I hope that I shall be able to recognize some of the bald-headed, potbellied personalities of the Class of '21.

Looking forward to seeing you. With my best to all. Cordially yours.

Dear Dan:

Yes, I have been sorely remiss in the communication sphere for tons of time. But, being overtly candid, you have been in my thoughts repeatedly. I'll never forget the sobriquet of "Wild Horse Dan" that we pinned on you back in the "carboniferous days." No, I am NOT taxing my memory.

See PAUL PFOHL intermittently; also, CHARLIE "Kid" CROWLEY of Boston's crested gentry. The reminiscing must be mellow-plus when you fellows gather on the banks of the St. Joe. Kindly relay lusty and cordial greetings when you convene again. Imagine that Brandy fellow continues to banter with gusto.

This rambling compilation finds me still aware of "the tingling of the arteries" in this Sunkist Golden Strand beyond the High Sierras.

As the stock being utilized implies, I am in the customer-ingratiating sphere with this grand organization.

Before I exit, I must commend you for your unwearied industry in keeping our fossilized group in the ALUMNUS.

Dear Dan:

Glad to have your note of February 16, regarding the 45th Annual Class Reunion. I am planning to attend. Since you have put my name on the committee list, please let me know what I can do to help. It is true that I was officially retired Sept. 1, 1964, but I have been working part time, both for Warren-Gulf and for other oil companies. I am trying to taper off on these assignments, but will still be doing quite a bit of work, at least for the rest of the year.

—B. R. CARNEY

In addition to the above replies, I have heard from R. J. SCHUBMEHL, WALTER A. RICE and HAROLD S. FOLEY who have indicated they will attend the June 10, 11 and 12 Reunion. Regards and regrets have been received from PAUL BERGER, THOMAS "Cy" KASPER, JAMES F. GLOVER, GEORGE L. OTT, MICHAEL N. SCHWARZ, C. J. HARBEKE and A. L. Another wonderful classmate has gone to his reward. On Feb. 21, the summons came to EDWARD H. PFEIFFER in his native city of Louisville, Ky. Eddie, a graduate of the College of Commerce, had been affiliated with his cousin CORNELIUS J. PFEIFFER '23 in the insurance business on the Louisville scene ever since graduation. Eddie was a prime favorite with his classmates due to his mellow disposition and friendly ways. He was a tennis player of real ability, having been captain of the ND tennis team, and later winning the Kentucky State Championships. The Louisville Courier sports editor recently named him the all-time number one tennis player in Kentucky history. We extend loving sympathy to Mrs. Pfeiffer and the family, and ask that you remember the deceased in your prayers. The Pfeiffer address is 2509 Valley Vista Road, Louisville, Ky. 40205.

A most welcome letter was received from Mrs. AARON HUGUENARD of 1922 Portage Ave., South Bend 46616. Ruby gives us a family progress report, and indicates many family changes since the death of our beloved classmate, Aaron. The oldest son, named after his father, has eight children; the oldest, a girl of 13 years, and seven little boys. Aaron (Jr.) is with IBM. Ruby's daughter, Anne, is teaching in DeKalb, Ill. She enters Georgetown next year to work for a doctorate in French. Jane is married and has a three-year-old. Ruby was on a three-month Mediterranean cruise a year ago, visiting the French Riviera, Spain, Portugal, and Italy. The grand climax was spending Easter in Rome.

FRANK BLOEMER JR., who seems to divide his time between Louisville, Ky. and Aripaka, Fla., underwent a gall-bladder operation in Louisville last January. Thank the Lord, Frank made a fine recovery. We hope he suffered no damage when the tornado recently struck the Tampa area.

LAWRENCE "BUCK" SHAW has given up retirement and has returned to football in which he coached so successfully in colleges and, later, with topflight professional teams. But this time, Buck is not in the coaching end of football. His new connection with the National Football League is that of material assayer for the Central Eastern Personnel Organization. He will cover six states in the Southwest in a search for able manpower.

HEARTLEY "HUNK" ANDERSON of Glenview, Ill., and CHARLIE "RED" CROWLEY of Weston, Mass., teamed up for a lot of golfing at West Palm Beach, Fla. in the first quarter of the year. They reported occasional scores in the 70's—not bad for "crack" football linemen of the 1918-1921 era. Their wives, too, greatly enjoyed themselves in non-golfing activities.

In mid-April the DAN YOUNGS of Drexel Hill, Pa., completed a trip around the world. In the early stages the trip was a sea voyage across the Pacific: to New Zealand and Australia. En-route they had an unscheduled detour that meant coming back from the Pacific waters, through the Panama Canal again and into a Naval Base dry dock at Salina Cruz, Mexico—all because of propeller troubles. After an extended stay in dry dock, they made their third trip through the Canal and across the Pacific. They greatly enjoyed New Zealand's fjords, the Australian cities and the Great Barrier Reef. The remainder of the journey was by plane to Singapore, Bangkok, Rangoon, various places in India, the Holy Land, Athens, Rome for Holy Week, and across the Atlantic to the home base.

1922 BREVITIES

DANIEL SEXTON JR. is a freshman at ND. Mrs. GEORGE HENEGHAN, widow of our beloved classmate did Red Cross work for tornado victims in the South Bend area in April '65, and in Sept. '65 she was helping the New Orleans Red Cross with problems and work generated by hurricane "Betsy." Phyllis's son, Jim, is still very busy with his germ-free animals at the Medical College of Louisiana State University. His official title is assistant professor of surgery.

Doctor MATT WEIS moved to his country chateau on Mar. 18. He threatens wood-chopping, hoeing, grass-cutting, etc. to get in fine physical trim for our 45th-Year Class Reunion in 1967.

It is Easter Sunday and the April 15th deadline for our May-June issue is fast approaching. The great percentage of "news" is the deaths of our classmates. Let's hear from "the lively ones" . . . about your job or your retirement plans.

Two more of our pals have passed on. SEBASTIAN J. MILLER died Feb. 18. He was the father of ROBERT J. MILLER '65. Also, the Alumni Office just sent word of the death of RUSSELL H. ARNDT LLB who died Mar. 25. Have no details but believe Russ's death came after a prolonged illness. Our deepest sympathy to their widows and families. Their addresses are: Mrs. S. J. Miller, 3907 Park Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.; and Mrs. R. H. Arndt, 327 Miami Club Drive, Mishawaka, Ind. Remember to put Sebastian and Russell on your deceased prayer card list. If you have lost yours, drop me a note as we still have some. And besides, we might get a bit of news this way.

Had, finally, some pleasant news for a change. It is now April 17 and your secretary and his wife were with the GEORGE E. LUDWIGS celebrating the christening of their grandson, John Peter Hayward, son of JOHN HAYWARD '60. George's daughter, Mary Beth, graduated from St. Mary's College in '61. # REUNION

Plans for a bang-up Reunion are well under way and by June 10 a real welcome will be awaiting all of you that can get back to the campus, by foot or horseback.

RUDY GOEFRICH has sent letters to all his generals — east, west, north and south — enlisting their aid in urging all to attend. Early samplings indicate there will be a big turnout.

Just recently, Rudy has visited FOREST SWARTZ in Akron, MATT NOLAN in Pontiac and GAIL GURNETT in Peru, Ill. All intend to be back.

JOHN PROBST was in town from Wyandotte, Mich. for the funeral of his brother, Dr. Edmund Probst. Also on the sad side, ROGER NOLAN's son, ROGER JR., a patent attorney for Bendix-Pioneer-Central in Davenport, stopped at Rudy's office in South Bend and revealed that his mother had died late last year. Roger Jr. is a 1956 graduate of Notre Dame.

A card from Dr. BERT COUGHLIN from St. Louis discloses that he will be on hand in June.

See you all in June, the Good Lord Willing.

CLARENCE J. RUDDY
32 S. River St., Aurora, Ill. 60504

Of late there has been much discussion about "new frontiers," politically and geographically. Recently, all members of our Class must have crossed another kind of new frontier. We all have entered our 60's—and I don't mean the 1960's which began more than five years ago. In the golden days of 1927 the age of 60 seemed a comfortable distance away. The parents of most of us had not even attained that age, and it was not easy to visualize ourselves as they appeared at that time. We comfortably recognized that they were always standing behind us—proud, helpful and dependable. For most of us our parents are now gone. We have gradually taken their place. Whether we are as dependable or helpful as they were is not for us to judge. The fact is that most of us have already seen our children—or at least some of them—complete the education we had. Again, we are looking ahead even to the generation beyond our children's. We have, or are about to have, grandchildren and we look forward wistfully to the day when they, too, will enjoy the benefits of Notre Dame, or St. Mary's, or some other university. We realize that this day probably will not be ours to see, but we can, nevertheless, entertain the hope that it will come to pass.

A few months ago the ALUMNUS contained an insert requesting Alumni to pass along news to their respective secretaries. This notice brought results. I have since heard from several classmates. JACK REIDY of Cleveland reports that he has been asked to act as Class deferred-giving agent. The Foundation would like Alumni to be encouraged to remember ND in their wills. This is a laudable suggestion. Much of the success that we have achieved is, undoubtedly, due to the education we received, and great credit must be given to the University for this. It is only fair to return, at least in some small measure, what has been given to us.

Jack, also, calls attention to JOE BREIG, and sent me several clippings of his column. We, of course, have another very prominent journalist in our Class in the person of RED SMITH. He has already been acclaimed as one of the most literate and versatile sports writers. We are all proud of him. We are equally as proud of Joe Breig. He is in a different field of journalism, but, also, highly respected. He has published six or seven books and has a syndicated column in the Ave Maria magazine and in a score or more of diocesan newspapers. He has lived in Cleveland for many years and has a fine family, including one daughter who is a nun.

In the most recent issue of the ALUMNUS I mentioned that BOB SHIELDS has been ill. I wrote to Bob and have now received a newsy letter from his wife, Helen. She has been very ill herself, so Bob had to be moved temporarily to a nursing home. He would like to hear from his friends. His address is 28 Lexington Dr., Livingston, N.J. The Shieldses have a daughter who is a sophomore at Douglass College in New Jersey.

ERMIN E. REICHERT, Long Prairie, Minn., writes that he is looking forward to his return to campus for the 1967 Reunion. Ermin represents an advertising specialty firm and covers a fourth of the state. He occasionally sees JOE DUNN at Brainerd in his travels. Joe is postmaster of his city.

I have received a list of current addresses for Class members. You will receive notices in due course concerning the 1967 Reunion. Do your best to attend. —CLARENCE J. RUDDY, Secretary

68-10 108th St.,
Forest Hills, N.Y. 11375

JACK WINGERTER died on Mar. 10 of a massive blood clot in New York City where he was corporate business manager of Time, Inc. LOU CARR advised me that he had seen the following classmates at Jack's funeral: RUSS RILEY, HERB McCABE, JOHN WINBERRY and ROG BRESLIN. Jack is survived by his wife who is a sister of Rog Breslin. Jack was a regular attendant at our reunions and kept in touch with many classmates.

JOE E. MORRISSEY died of cancer on Jan. 30 in Oregon where he was a partner in the Coos Bay Iron Works. Joe is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son. DON CALLICRATE '08 wrote of Joe's interest in the Oregon ND Club. Joe often mentioned how much he enjoyed our 25-Year Reunion. The last time I heard from him he inquired about JACK FAGAN and BILL KELLY.

The Class' February mailing prompted notes from classmates that revealed several omissions in our "In Memoriam" card: CHARLES MURPHY and LEO MCINTYRE advised me of the death of JIM O'TOOLE '29 on Jan. 6 in San Diego. Leo McIntyre also mentioned that the names of TOM MADDEN and JERRY MOORE should be added. TOM WALSH indicated that MIKE FRANTZ had been dead 30 years. JOHN P. MURPHY sent a clipping regarding the death in December of OSKAR RUST '29. JOE ANGELINO reported that his roommate, SAMUEL PRIVITERA '27 of Silver Creek, N.Y., died in December, 1963, of heart trouble. LES FLEWELLING mentioned the death in January of STEVE MURRAY, Boy Guidance '27. You probably noted the recent deaths of our former professors, Rev. Edward Finnegan CSC and Gerald Cosgrove.

An excellent and enthusiastic response was received from over 200 classmates who participated in the "Class of 1928 Sunday" by remembering in Mass and Communion, Feb. 27, our living and deceased classmates. We are grateful to GERALD SHEIBLEY for suggesting this splendid idea and to HOWIE PHALIN for picking up the bill for getting the announcements to you. TOM HART, JOHN MURPHY, JOHN IGOE and wives attended Mass in Columbus, Ohio and had breakfast together that Sunday. FRANK McGARTHY was joined by ART MILLER, MIKE HOGAN, BERNIE SCHUH and JOE MADDEN at Mass at the Cathedral in Fort Wayne for the occasion. A number of priests in our Class offered Mass for the classmates on Feb. 27 including Fathers BENAGLIA, QUINN, FITZGERALD, HAMEL, McNEILL, MULREANY and McSHANE. Cards were received from classmates indicating participation in almost every state and in two foreign countries—VINCE CARNEY in Prague, Czechoslovakia and BILL DOWDALL in Auckland, New Zealand.

Our sympathy is extended to BILL DOWDALL on the death of his mother and BOB EVANS on the death of his father.

I was sorry to hear of the illness of PAUL BRADY (heart); and of surgery in the case of RAY DAHMAN, Dr. BERNIE CROWLEY, JOHN MURPHY and BERN BARBER.

JOE DOYLE has 16 grandchildren. He expects to retire from the Wisconsin State Employment Service in a year. PAUL BRADY, who practices law at 1404 E. 9th St., Cleveland, is chief trial counsel for the Cleveland Transit System. Rev. GEORGE BENAGLIA CSC is at the Newman Center of Arizona U. in Tucson. Rev. CHARLES HAMEL CSC is chaplain to the Brothers and teaches at Notre Dame High School, Sherman Oaks, Calif. PAUL BRUST is president of the Milwaukee Archdiocese Council of Catholic Men. DON RAU is president of the National Association of Deputy Tax Commissioners. TOM MAHON is president of the St. Paul Chapter of Chartered Life Underwriters. LEO ROEMER is president of the Wisconsin Public Service Corporation.

HAROLD RUPPEL sent me a clipping from Cleveland's The Plain Dealer for Dec. 20 which carried a picture of BILL O'NEILL, president of the Leaseway Transportation Corp., a worldwide transportation business.

The Class of '28 was represented at the ND Club of Chicago Communion Breakfast by JIM ALLAN, HOWARD PHALIN, ED McKEVIN, BILL MURPHY, BILL DWYER, JOHN CAVANAUGH and JOE HILGER.

F. X. JAMES O'BRIEN sent a clipping from the Mar. 28th Astoria Herald which quoted GEORGE LEPPIG, administrative assistant to the Dade County sheriff, at a Grand Jury Assoc. Confer., concerning the problem of phoney burglary reports. DICK QUINLAN visited LES HEGELE who is a widower and has eight grandchildren. Les is associate editor of the Southern Cross which is the diocesan paper in San Diego. Les has been suffering from arthritis. Dick also saw CARL IAVARES '27 in California. Carl is a member of the ND Advisory Council for Science and Engineering.

JOHN FONTANA advised me that JOE DIRE's address is 1101 S. Boulevard, Oak Park, Ill. AL GURY's new address is 609 E. McClure, Peoria, Ill. Both were on our mail unclaimed list.

As a result of a series of lectures I recently gave to graduate students at Danbury State College in Danbury, Conn., I had the opportunity of visiting Dr. CARL PETTERSCH, director of Graduate Studies and Extension Services there. Carl has done an excellent job in establishing graduate education programs in the four state colleges of Connecticut. On my return trip from Connecticut, I visited our Class president, BERN GARBER, who was recovering from surgery. Bern, GEORGE CRONGEYER and I had lunch with a representative of Fu-Jen Catholic U. in Formosa at the suggestion of HOWIE PHALIN who is a member of the board of directors of that university. ED McKEVIN, JIM ALLAN, JOHN O'SHAUGHNESSY and JOE GRIFFIN got together with Howie Phalin at his home in Winnetka, Ill. recently. Father JIM McSHANE SJ had lunch with KEN COOK '26 of the Boy Guidance program. Fr. Jim sent me a picture of PHIL CENEDELLA. In listing the bachelors in our Class recently, I forgot to include TROY BONNER.

Don't forget to order tickets for the Army game on Oct. 8 and plan to attend our 11th Annual 1928 Cocktail Party at ND immediately following the game. Since ED QUINN is again making the arrangements, we are assured of another successful and well-attended affair.

BERN GARBER visited JOE F. CANNON '27 in Rutland, Vt., where he is Rutland County clerk and active in civic affairs. Bern also reports that LARRY CULLINEY has good health again and is fully active with the FDIC once more.

An Army-ND after-game get-together is being planned for Oct. 8 for members of the Class of '29. Make your plans now!

ED GAYNOR of Gaynor Food Service, 250 N. St., White Plains, N.Y., relayed this information: "I regret to inform you that 'MARTIE' (MARTIN G.) FOLEY PhBC '29 passed away Feb. 19 at his home, 177 Davis Ave., White Plains, N.Y., the result of a sudden heart attack. Martie became associated with General Motors Corp. shortly after graduation from ND in 1929. At the time of his death, he was an executive in the overseas division of GM in New York City. He and his wife, Billie (Fitzgerald), his son Ken, and daughters Cindy (a student at Ripon College in Wisconsin) and Gerry spent several years in Bombay and in Argentina with GM. His wife and children survive him. Prior to the sudden heart attack, Martie had been in good health."

OSKAR D RUST '29, owner and manager of Rust and Sons Wholesale Supply Co., Greensburg, Ind. died Dec. 19. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Rust, her two daughters and four sons, two of whom, John a senior and Joseph a freshman, are now at Notre Dame.

The many friends of JIM GALLAGHER, 366 W. Mt. Airy Ave., Philadelphia, will be saddened by the contents of this note from him: "Eva Chittick Gallagher, my wife since Feb. 20, 1933, died unexpectedly in Philadelphia on Feb. 12. Not many of my classmates knew her, but she was very proud of ND and always a willing worker in its cause. Pray for her." Jim is with the Office of the Commissioner of Baseball, 680 Fifth Ave., New York.

Dr. TOM FERRITER, 86 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mass., has the sincere sympathy of his classmates on the recent death of his wife Claire. She, too, will be remembered in our prayers.

JOHN M. GILTINON and fellow attorneys of the Chicago Lawyers Guild made a retreat at the Fatima Retreat House recently. John took a few minutes to visit with friends on the campus including Father CHARLES DOREMUS, Corby Hall, PAUL BARTHOLOMEW and your secretary. John's office is at 30 N. LaSalle St.

GENE MILLIFF EE'29 writes from 21040 W. Lake Rd., Rocky River, Ohio: "On Sept. 26, 1964, I had a stroke and was confined to the hospital for about six weeks. Evidently the Good Lord was not ready for me. I went back to work at the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for 13 weeks but, on the advice of the company doctor, I retired on sickness disability and in July I will retire on pension. I still have a slight impairment in the little finger of my left hand. This has limited my hobbies but, it is gradually recovering. My son, James, is a junior at Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa. He is taking bus. adm. My daughter, Marilyn, is living in Albany, Ga. Her husband is at Turner Air Force Base and expects to be sent out soon." I'm sure Gene would enjoy a letter or a call from his classmates.

MARC KIRCHNER, Olivia and Marc II still reside in Winston-Salem. Since October '65 he has been commuting to Burlington, N.C., a round trip of 100 miles daily, where he is employed by the Defense Control Administration Services. You may recall that Marc suffered a minor heart attack in January 1965.

TOM MAHAFFY, 7 Wayside Lane, Scarsdale, N.Y., writes: "Larry, I was surprised to learn from the Class of '29 column in February of the death of 'DOC' Dougherty. He was my freshman-hall roommate (1925-26) along with JACK FLANAGAN and BILL BUTLER. Doc was the only healthy member of the foursome, but apparently the good die young. In the intervening 40 years I saw Doc only once, about 10 years ago when he visited friends in Scarsdale. Yet, I could never forget that he was the most honest and sincere person I have ever known. All the good things said about him in your column are surely true. Please forward the enclosed Mass card to his daughter." We have, and for the record, the address of Miss Louise Dougherty is 591 Lowell Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio 45220.

Tom continues, "I was on the campus this past June for the graduation of my godchild, WILLIAM M. WELCH. I'm sorry that we did not have time to see you and others of the Class, but we promise to do so on the next trip." How about coming to the Army game on Oct. 8 and the after-game get-together? "As you may recall, I left ND in June of '27 and later was graduated from Fordham Law School. However, I list myself in the Class of '29 at ND, contribute annually and try to keep in touch through the various publications." Tom, your Class secretary thanks you for your letter and is sorry that you came to the end of the page before you told your classmates something more about yourself and your family.

JOE MORRELL AB'29, attorney at law, 188 Montague St., Brooklyn, was the source of our information on the Jan. 31 death of Prof. PETER A. BEE BS'29, former dean of students and former chairman of the mathematics department of New York Community College, Brooklyn. The item was received in time for inclusion in the obituary column of the March-April 1966 ALUMNUS, but too late for this column. Pete who was an end on one of Roekne's teams went on to receive an MS from New York U. in 1944. In World War II, he was an Army Air Force captain in the European and African theaters. He was named chairman of the department of mathematics at Community when it opened 19 years ago. He was professor of mathematics at the time of his death at St. Vincent's Hospital, Staten Island, after a long illness. Pete's wife predeceased him Nov. 6, 1965. They had no children. A sister, Mrs. Margaret McInerney of Staten Island survives.

BILL WILBUR BSCE was a campus visitor on Feb. 22. Bill is still employed by the Northwestern Railroad, Chicago, where he is in charge of bridge design. His son Jim is in high school and is headed for ND in September 1967. It was a real pleasure to visit with Bill who had escaped our mailing list. His recollections of the late 1920's were unusually sharp.

ELMO MOYER of Saratoga Springs was a New York visitor the week of March 21 for the IEEE meeting. We made the most of attending the Tuesday sessions and having lunch together. Elmo is his youthful, fast walking, vibrant self. He reports that Sue and the three children are well and busy. Nancy is a nun in Erie, Pa.

Elmo has been a frequent visitor there to implement the equipment in the laboratories at her school.

LOUIS F. HANEY continues to practice law at 120 Madison St., Newark, N.Y. Last fall he was a candidate for a Supreme Court judgeship in his home town. He plans to return for a football game this fall.

Plan to attend the October 8 Army game and the Class of '29 get-together that follows.

REUNION

JUNE 10 • 11 • 12

The big date for our Class is the THIRTY-FIFTH REUNION in June. I have received many cards and letters which indicate a strong attendance. The importance of this Reunion is the constant reminder of attrition in our Class which I receive from the Alumni Office in the form of letters to families offering condolence in the loss of their husband. Among the most recent of our classmates to receive his eternal reward was GEORGE F. KAVANAUGH of Mansfield, Ohio, who died January 15. Sympathy of the Class is extended to Mrs. Kavanaugh and also, to JOHN F. SAUNDERS in the loss of his mother in February.

Many of you have enjoyed the vividly new ALUMNUS and some of you have taken advantage of the tear-out postcard to write information for the 1931 column. Among those I have heard from are NOEL M. GIES who recently moved to Pasadena, Calif., and more recently to Monterey Park, Calif., which is a bit closer to his friend ED SHEERAN of Long Beach. FRANK KOSKY, also, wrote saying how much he enjoys the ALUMNUS and extending his best to all the "muscle men of '31 PHY. ED." Frank has been busy at the books again, and recently was awarded an MA degree from NYU.

Since returning to Chicago, I have run into classmates and fellow Alumni. One day, coming down late, I was riding the Evanston elevated train and who should come aboard but PAUL FENLON '19, beloved by many of our era. We had a wonderful visit and after my ride I am well prepared for what will greet me on the campus after an absence of five years. Paul is well and sends his warmest greetings to all the men of '31. He had seen PHIL AGNSTEN in Crystal Lake who told of plans to be on hand in June with FRANK HOLLAND for early golf. Last week I had a visit from BILL BERGAN, brother of the late JOHN BERGAN '31, who was given my office address by

JOHN MOTZ '30: Canadian publisher

Experience is always a prime qualification when considering men for positions; and in the field of journalism few can match the history of John E. Motz '30. President and publisher of the Kitchener-Waterloo (Ontario) Record, he is the third generation of his family in the newspaper business.

Recently, this experience received recognition in his election as president of the Inland Daily Press Association, the largest and oldest regional organization of daily newspapers in North America. John is the first Canadian to serve as head of this 519-member group which covers 22 states and "our neighbor to the north."

In 1959, John also was the first Canadian member of the advisory board of the American Press Institute at Columbia University in New York.

His fellow Canadian newsmen twice named him president of the Canadian Press, in 1960 and again in 1962. He also served as president of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers Association in 1954-55.

A Kitchener, Ontario, native, he is married and has five children, three sons and two daughters. His oldest son, William, graduated from Notre Dame in 1958. John also is a member of the board of governors of the University of Waterloo (Ontario) and the Stratford Shakespearean Festival of Canada.

TOM ASHE, the travel man in Los Angeles. I had an interesting visit with Bill and he told me of his plans to be in Roswell, N.M. I asked him to be sure to visit my good friend, F. X. MURPHY. I hope to hear about this from Bill when he returns to Chicago.

I saw RAY COLLINS recently and also ran into GEORGE COSTELLO who is in the Bankers Bldg. with me. Both plan on making the Reunion. LEO KLETZLY has surprised both himself and me by sending another note. I hope he and many others will do the same. Leo has two sons, both ND Alumni. I also had a note from one of my favorite, yet errant correspondents, SPIKE SULLIVAN. He has been busy at various affairs and football games, and mentioned seeing PAUL DUNCAN, JOHNNY BURNS, ED CUNNINGHAM, DEON SUTTON and GEORGE JACK-OBOICE at the Army game in New York. Others mentioned who I am sure will also appear in June are: JERRY CROWLEY, JACK SAUNDERS, AUSTIN BOYLE, ART McMANON, BERT METZGER, TOM CANNON, BEN OAKES, BOB MASSEY, CARL CRONIN, ED MURRAY and TOM MONAHAN.

WOULD LIKE TO GET MORE NEWS IN, BUT WITH THE REUNION APPROACHING I HOPE THAT AS MANY AS POSSIBLE ARE MAKING PLANS TO BE ON HAND IN JUNE. See you then.

JAMES K. COLLINS
2982 Torrington Rd.,
Shaker Heights, Ohio 44122

The Very Reverend PAUL HALLINAN, archbishop of Atlanta, has virtually recovered from the serious illness he contracted in Rome, and is back on full-time duty. He recently spoke at the 50th Anniversary of Cathedral Latin High School in Cleveland which he had attended.

Capt. BOB LEE has been shifted by the Navy to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to become legal officer of the naval district. He and Gertrude recently welcomed a granddaughter in Florida. This is Bob's second tour of duty in Hawaii.

ED DeBARTOLO has broken ground on the largest shopping center in his chain, this one will represent a total investment of over $200,000,000. Ed has built more than 60 shopping centers in the past, and still controls them.

LEO SVETE is the operations manager of the United States Steel plant in Lorain, Ohio, where he recently moved into a new house at Oak Hill Manor. 5537 Beavercrest Dr.

BUD DYNIEWICZ is still in the oil business in the Chicago area, and has recently moved to 2616 Flossmoor Dr., Flossmoor, Ill.

Among other recent changes of address are ED RHATIGAN to Willmerry Lane, Greenwich, Conn.; BOB DAVIS to Box 157, Lowell, Ind.; and TED HALPIN to 5065 N. Woodruff Ave., Milwaukee.

It is with a great deal of sorrow that I must report the death of HUGH BALL who passed away in his Florida home on April 17. A resident of Lakewood, Ohio, Hugh is survived by his wife, Florence, and three boys. From all of the Class is extended heartfelt sympathy to Hugh's family.

LUCIEN KEMPF, visiting New York recently from Lindsay, Okla., had lunch with BILL LYNCH, MARSHAL McAVANEY, JIM ROSS and JACK HOYT. Lucien is now our Class representative on the Notre Dame Foundation. In his travels he recently ran into PAT BURNS while he was visiting in Natchez, Miss, and saw JERRY GREER while changing planes at O'Hara Airport in Chicago.

Dr. & Mrs. ROBERT DONOVAN of Arlington, Mass., recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Mary Donovan, to Ensign PHILIP A. DUR of Lafayette, La. Kathleen is being graduated from St. Mary's in June and Ensign Dur is a 1965 ND graduate. A June wedding is planned at Notre Dame.

ED ECKERT recently had Ara Parseghian and PAUL HORNUNG as guest speakers at a Church affair in Albany, N.Y.

BILL LYNCH called recently to say that a friend of his, traveling through the Philippines, called ED ROXAS while in Manila. Ed sends his best wishes to all of his classmates stateside. He has four children, ages 4 to 14. Bill also tells me that a representative of his company sees FERDINAND KRANTZ in or about Washington when he visits there frequently.

DAVE POWERS, who has been a professor at Queens College in New York since the late 1930's, has been fighting for some eight years anti-Catholic bias and discrimination on the staff at Queens College. Dave, along with three other professors, took the discrimination matter through all the courts in New York and recently, after an eight-year investigation, the State Commission for Human Rights made a finding that there is "... probable cause to credit allegations of anti-Catholic bias at Queens College." A public hearing on the matter is due in the near future. This is a great victory for Dave and the other members of the Queens College staff who have fought the matter so long and so successfully.

CHARLIE CONLEY of Havertown, Pa., wrote recently advising us that JOHN TOBIN is now a contact representative for the Veterans Administration at the VA Hospital in Tomah, Wis. John was a roommate of FRANK WERNER, our Senior Class president. Charlie also tells us that his namesake, PETE CONNELLY, is making arrangements to bring a large party to Philadelphia for the ND-Navy game scheduled there on Oct. 29.

We received a note recently from JIM GEREND of Milwaukee, thanking us for condolences sent to him on the recent death of his brother, Ray. Jim is still with the Social Security Board and, presently, is knee-deep in work concerning the new Medicare program.

JIM HAMILTON was honored recently by his home town of Racine, Wis., as its "Citizen of the Year." He was cited for his sustained community activity in such diverse fields as United Fund, Boy Scouts, Theatre Guild and financial campaigns for Dominican College and the Sisters of St. Dominic. Congratulations, Jim, from all of us.

BOB FORBES has been in San Juan, Puerto Rico, in the insurance business for 20-odd years. He sees some of the New York contingent on his trips there, while every once in a while, some get to San Juan. If you do, look him up. I can attest to his being a fine host.

On a recent trip to Caracas, Venezuela, I had the pleasure of having lunch with MIKE SHEEDY. He has some gray in the hair, but except for that, seems little changed from our college days together. He still has all the energy he always had at Notre Dame and, perhaps, this keeps him lean. His engineering work moves him into many diverse fields with one of the largest industrial groups of the country.

BOB ROGERS reports that even though the summer is his peak season, the fall and spring are demanding. So it must be since he didn't make it to the campus for any games.

BILL BERNBROCK is hosting us at the UND Night in the Quad Cities. I look forward to the reunion with my old Club and its fine members.

Had hoped to get to the St. Regis meeting place with the New York group and find out what gives with the world's problems, but ran into a conflict. Hope MIKE SANTULLI, PHIL HEINLE and BANJO MAFFEI will get them straightened out and soon.

Missed seeing CHARLIE MAHER in Miami but did see him on his last visit to the campus. He's active in hiding what's left of southern Florida with massive buildings.

JUNE 10 • 11 • 12

W. BAYER JR., 951 W. First St., Oil City, Pa., writes that his son has made him a proud grandpa. BILL BAYER III '63 is in the Army in Vietnam, however, and hasn't seen his young son as yet. Bill plans to attend the June Reunion and will give out more news of his doings.

HANK POJMAN will not be attending our Reunion due to a recent illness. However, he sends his best wishes to all the boys. He is in the savings and loan business and has ANDY PULIS helping him out.

Received a microscopic card from LEO MCFARLAND, Lansing, Mich. He sure can get a lot of news on a post card for which I had to get out my pocket magnifying glass in order to answer his card. Leo would like to know the whereabouts of JOHNNY FORD and MARTY PETERS. Marty is with an aviation company and travels all over the country. Have never received any news of Johnny Ford to date. Leo hopes to see BILL SAFFA at the Reunion and I would too. Saffa had better get the message. Leo has been 25 years with General Motors. Congratulations are in order. Looked up JIM SHERRY a couple of summers ago, but Jim was not at home although he left word that he stopped in to see him. Leo plans to attend the Reunion and will give out more news at that time.

In passing forgot to mention H. Pojman's address—2223 W. Roosevelt Rd., Broadview, Ill.—in case anyone wishes to write or pay Hank a friendly visit.

R. T. BURKE JR., Louisville, Ky., writes to tell of his visit to ND last fall to attend a meeting and see a football game. He mentions that the campus was so beautiful, even beyond his fondest hopes of 30 years ago. The raw bricks and mud fields that were Dillon and Alumni Halls have been covered by ivy and beautiful lawns. How he wishes the years had treated him the same way.

He calls the campus at ND the most beautiful in the country, but you will have to ask Bob what he calls some of the buildings on campus. He writes further that in June the campus will be much lovelier and recollections of the serenity of life on it while we were students are enough to bring us back for the 30-Year Reunion which Bob plans to attend. He said it would be wonderful to recall old and good times together. Also plans to send me any news that he might receive from any of our '36 classmates.

Received a nice long letter from ANDY HUFNAGLE, Farmingdale, L. I. Andy writes to say that he is planning to attend the Reunion. (At this writing, Andy, JOE MAHAR from Kingston, N.Y., JOHN KENNEDY from around Albany way and I are planning to drive out together. If anyone else is interested in going with us, he should notify any one of us immediately.) Andy and one of his sons attended the Navy-ND game, the Army-ND smoker at the Waldorf and the Army-ND game at Shea Stadium. At the Army game he ran into another J. KENNEDY, I believe, and they had quite a reunion during and after the game.

At this writing I wish to inform you this will conclude the last of my reports before Reunion time. I also wish to say that all secretaries have been asked to limit their reports to 1,000 words in the future so from now on my reports will have to be brief and concise. However, keep on writing and send the news along and I will do my best to write it up and forward it on.

News is mostly sad this time. JOHN G. "Jack" MCCARTHY, regular left half on the football team, died of a heart attack in Chicago, April 16, and was buried from St. Gregory's Church. His funeral was attended by many of his former teammates from his Chicago high school and Notre Dame days. Jack was in apparent good health and was planting hedges in his back yard with his wife, Lorraine, when stricken. He was a partner with his father at the Chicago Board of Trade. He leaves a son, John G. III, in high school and a daughter, Dolores, in grade school.

EDMUND S. KOWALSKI of South Bend, died of a heart attack while bowling on Jan. 23. He was in the seminary during school but health forced him to leave. He later worked for the New York Central and was ticket agent at the time of his death.

BOB HACKMAN, 123 Ridgewood Dr., Youngstown, Ohio, lost his wife, Jean, in February. Bob was in the College of Commerce and quite active in the French Club while at school; but, I haven't heard from him since. Our sincere sympathy to him and his family.

Also sad was the fact that no one wrote to yours truly. Do so!

JOSEPH E. HANNAN

1804 Greenwood Dr.,
South Bend, Ind. 46614

Those reactivated "Alumnus Cards" opened the door . . . so let's keep them coming!

From GERRY "Jud" M. FALLER, now of 403 Sunnyvale Dr., Healdsburg, Calif. 95448: ". . . moved from Fryburg, Pa.—my home town—after living there for the past ??? years. Business was furniture and funeral home. Now, furniture only. Our children, three boys and three girls, are with us. Bought the present business from the owner who was semi-retired. Would like to hear from "Spike" SIEGEL and all '39ers now on the West Coast. A great change from the East. Climate is excellent and the future looks good. ND men in the area—we have the finest in furniture." Thanks, Gerry. You ND men in the area, spruce up the ol' ranch with Jud's finest.

LARRY SUTTON writes from 30 Park View, Hatch End, Middlesex, England: "Have spent the past year here in London with a British organization called the Institute for Strategic Studies. Am in the suburbs with my wife and three children and 'go up to London' every day on the train. Still in the Air Force, however, and probably will be found at Headquarters, SHAPE, near Paris after July of this year. Haven't seen any classmates for a long time and, for the last year, not very many Americans." Larry, or Col. John L. Sutton hopes to turn up at the next reunion.

Also from the "card report," PAUL C. TULLY writes: "Eight members of our '39 Class convened at a relaxing luncheon at 'Club 60' in New York City, Dec. 28, consisting of HARVEY FOSTER, LARRY DOYLE, TOM GILLESPIE, DICK ANTON, JIM McGOLDRICK, AL SCHMITZ, ED VonHOENE, and PAUL TULLY. About 32 members of '39 were invited; a larger response is hoped for on the April 14th luncheon, same club." Nice to have seen you, Paul, and your lovely wife during Freshman Weekend, September 1965.

Saw Adelaide and DAVE MESKILL with daughter Kathleen SMC '67 and son Tim '69 at the Bengal Bouts finals.

All for now. Please remember deceased members of our Class in your daily prayers and Masses.

—JOSEPH E. HANNAN, Secretary

From the Alumni Office:

VINCE DeCOURSEY was honored with the South Bend B'nai B'rith 1965 Brotherhood Award in February.

1940

ROBERT G. SANFORD
117 S. Stewart Ave.,
Lombard, Ill. 60148

Establishing an April 15th deadline for the Class news when your secretary is involved with many tax returns at the very same time seems most unreasonable, but I am doing my best.

We have lost three more of our classmates—JOHN COLE, TOM O'BRIEN and CHRIS QUINN. Let us continue to remember our deceased classmates in our daily prayers, particularly these three and their families. I also extend the condolences of all the men of '40 to DICK STEFFANIAK upon the death of his wife, Joan, and to JOE HART upon the deaths of his mother and father.

Received the following card from EDWARD J. O'BRIEN '34 which reads as follows: "This is to report the death of THOMAS B. O'BRIEN on December 13 in Pittsburgh, Pa. He died unexpectedly of a heart condition that had prevailed since service in the Marine Corps. A practicing attorney, Tom is survived by Mrs. Dorothy Snyder O'Brien, Ens. Thomas B. Jr., Suzanne, and Edward F. The address is 1934 Clearview Rd., Glensham, Pa."

GERRY SAEGERT sent a most interesting letter and I hope many of you will follow his example. He starts by saying, "Judging from the last few issues of the ALUMNUS, I see you have not been receiving much help in the 'news' department. I feel just as guilty as the rest. Saw HUGH LAUGHNA at the So. Cal. game. He and CHARLEY KELLY were together, but because of room shortages had to stay in Culver, Ind. TOM FLAD and I were pleased to get reservations in Elkhart. Heard from MIKE CORGAN several times. Mike is Devaney's chief assistant at Nebraska and their success has been phenomenal. Mike and DON GILLILAND got together in Phoenix Ariz., when the Nebraska team stopped off en route to the Orange Bowl. Don sure loves his new home. His letters sent sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

"At the closed-circuit Mich. State game, I saw old reliable JIM ROGERS and JERRY SEXTON. I bawled Jerry out for missing the 25th Reunion, but he had a good excuse—his daughter was married that Saturday morning. Finally had JIM DANER and family visit N.Y. for the first time. We were joined by VIC VERGARA and Dr. JOE CARLUCCI for a get-together with Fr. TOM BRENNAN, our St. Edward's A.C. chaplain. Had a nice note from WILLIAM JOHN HOGAN, one of N.Y.'s leading attorneys, and am looking forward to a get-together with Bill soon." Thanks so very much, Gerry. You have set a very good example for all of us.

Why don't more of you use those cards in the ALUMNUS? Mrs. Mary WAHL took advantage of this and sent the following information: "WAYNE WAHL became a member of IBM's Quarter Century Club in '65 as a Tulsa account representative for the oil industry. Daughter Anne will graduate this May from Loretto Heights College in Denver. Son Tom is a freshman at ND. Daughters Nora and Gina are students at a local academy and parish school."

BILL O'HARE also used one of the ALUMNUS cards to tell us that he is now living at 3 Massachusetts Ave., Danvers, Mass., and is teaching at nearby Salem State College. His oldest boy, Bill, is now at St. John's Prep and is aiming for ND. His brother, Greg, will join him at the "prep" next year. The welcome mat is out for all the men of '40.

Received some change of address notices which will bring us up-to-date on some recent moves. JUAN ENRIQUE CINTRON has returned to South Bend from Mexico City, residing at 1202 Lincoln Way West. JOE W. LARKIN has moved from Evanston, Ill. to Marblehead, Mass. HAROLD MADDEN has moved from New Orleans, La. to 9601 Westview Dr., Houston, Tex. Col. DOUG BANGERT is back in Virginia at 910 Dale Brook Dr., Alexandria, Va., returning from Montgomery, Ala. HENRY ROGERS has stayed in the same general area, moving from Omaha, Neb., to 850 Saddle Dr., Florissant, Mo.

Well, men of '40, we are still short of news and I am looking forward to the issue when I will not have room to publish all of it. Please remember our deceased men of '40 and their families in your prayers.

—BOB "Shorty" SANFORD, Secretary

JOSEPH A. NEUFELD
P.O. Box 853, Green Bay, Wis. 54305

Questionnaires still are being received. It will take a while before all are acknowledged in this column, but it is a great feeling for your secretary to have this reserve backlog. Meanwhile, let everyone be patient and not hold his breath until his name appears in print.

From Panama, a letter came from Bishop MARK McGRATH CSC who is head of the Diocese of Santiago de Verguas. From Tegucigalpa, Honduras, MIGUEL FACUSSE wrote that he is president of a chemical specialties plant. From Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, CESAR MUNECA reported that he heads Ingersoll-Rand de P.R., Inc.; and for the past five years he has been a member of several Cuban exile organizations helping refugees.

A most welcome letter came from a long-lost buddy, BILL TALBOT, New York City, who is associated with Samuel French, Inc., play publishers and authors' representatives. A year ago, your secretary tried unsuccessfully to reach him via Western Union. Bill gets around because his firm has offices in London, Toronto, Hollywood and New York. He still reminisces over the 1941 student trip to the Navy game in Baltimore and the weekend in Washington.

Congratulations are in store for Dr. KEN FORBES, De Pere, Wis., who was awarded the Green Bay-De Pere area ND Club's 1966 Man of the Year Award. Perhaps for JOHN ANHUT there should be condolences because his appointment as Class representative to ND's newly reorganized Annual Alumni Fund is a rough assignment. However, we can be sure that he will do an excellent job. John was Detroit's ND Man of the Year in '64.

Recently, a phone call came from the international leather king, TOM ROLFS, beseeching your secretary to use influence (?) to obtain four fifty-yard line season tickets for all Green Bay Packer home games. Little does Tom know what an impossibility that is because those seats, should the holders die, are left as specific bequests in wills. Another request came from PAUL DOHR, owner of Dohr Hardware, Peshigo, Wis. He too should seek out a more influential Packer backer.

Our sympathy is extended to JACK WHITELY, Greenwich, Conn., upon the death of his mother earlier this year. VIC DE SIMON, Rochester, N.Y., attorney, finally recovered from his fractured arm (Dec. '64 ALUMNUS) and penned a note. He is a busy individual—practicing lawyer, deputy legal advisor for Monroe County, former grand knight of Rochester K. of C., district deputy of the 91st N.Y. District K. of C., prexy of his parish Holy Name, former Rochester ND Club president, president of Men's Guild of Cardinal Mooney High, and father of nine—ranging from a high school senior daughter down to a six-month-old son.

The first Class secretary, JOHN LYNCH ('45-'49), headquartered in Framingham, Mass., reported on his family and his activities. He is editor of PERINI NEWS and assists in publishing other materials for the Perini Corp. Perhaps, for the benefit of Milwaukee area NDers, he could shed some light on the Braves' move to Atlanta. If anyone desires fine food while in the Columbus, Ohio area, stop at GUIDO ALEXANDER'S Desert Inn Restaurant. Guido keeps in touch with his old infantry division, the 104th (also your secretary's), and plans to attend its 20th reunion in June. MAURICE "Moe" SMITH returned his questionnaire stating that two of his five children are in college. He is president of H. Platt Co. Builders, Erie, Pa. JIM LLOYD worried over the explanation given for his not meeting "Black John" MURPHY (Feb. '66 ALUMNUS). He arrived over New York in time, but landing was delayed several hours and finally made in Newark. By the time he reached his buddies, 10 hours had elapsed and they scarcely had missed him.

TOM CLEMENS returned recently from Beirut,

THOMAS GILLESPIE '39: attorney-chemist

Armed with a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering and a master's in chemistry from Notre Dame, as well as an LLB from the University of Indiana Law School, Thomas G. Gillespie Jr. '39 has risen to the office of president and director of the Scientific Design Co., Inc. of New York.

Tom joined the firm, a major international designer and builder of organic and petrochemical plants, in 1955 as a patent counsel. In 1958, he moved into the vice-presidency in charge of legal and contract matters and development activities.

Although he began his legal studies at Notre Dame Law School, Tom transferred to Indiana after a year in order to work as a research chemist with Reilly Tar & Chemical Co. After graduation in 1943, he was commissioned a naval ensign and served on destroyers in the Atlantic and Pacific during the war. During action at Normandy, Tom landed amid the fighting when his ship, the USS Glennon, was sunk.

After the war, he joined Sharp & Dohme as a patent attorney, but moved to Pittsburgh in 1951 to serve as assistant manager of the patent department of Koppers Co., Inc. A member of the bars of Pennsylvania and Indiana, he also has been admitted to practice before the US Patent Office, the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, and the US Supreme Court. A member of the American Bar Association, the American Patent Association, the New York Patent Law Association and the Advertising Club of New York, Tom also fits in time to work with the Washington Irving Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

A resident of White Plains, N.Y., Tom is a member of Our Lady of Sorrows parish where his two children, Michael and Margaret, attend school.

Lebanon, where he was editor of the USIA Arabic language magazine, News Review. Now after three years abroad, he lives in Vienna, Va., and is a journalist with the USIA in Washington. BILL JOHNSTON, New Orleans, plans a business trip north and hopes to see his ex-roommate, JOE FIEWEGER, who is a Green Bay-ite, too. Bill, a sales executive, is active in New Orleans C. of C. DICK BRYDGES—Virginia Beach, Va., lawyer—inadvertently sent his questionnaire to a New York law firm, and to your secretary came a report on an accident. It was confusing, probably more so for the law firm which found out that Dick has two children, Hugh and Margaret; enjoys boating and golf; and last fall, visited the campus for the first time in 23 years. Dr. JACK UTZ was perturbed somewhat over the comments about him in this column (Dec. '65 ALUMNUS). Your secretary suggests that, for a more accurate report on Jack's activities, one should refer to an earlier ALUMNUS when he was featured as a "Spotlight Alumnus."

EARL ENGLERT probably has seen more '4ers than any other individual. He travels extensively; in fact, his questionnaire and a long letter were posted from Mexico City. Just to mention some he has reported seeing recently—JOHN KUHN, ROGER FUETTER, ED MONAHAN, JACK WHITELEY, JIM FINNERAN, HENRY ADAM, JOHN GULDAN, GUS LEGEAY, DICK BENNING, DICK LEON, BERNIE BOWLING, JACK MCKENNA, OTTO MILETI, BOB SCHRAMM, JOE SIMONS, JIM MEAGHER, JOE CHRISTAN, BILL TALBOT, FRED EICHORN and TOM BRENNAN.

FRANK SANFILIPPO, Garden Grove, Calif., has volunteered to do whatever he can in his area to assist "Black John" MURPHY, TOM ROLFS and GEORGE BARISCILLO with plans for the Silver Jubilee Reunion in '69. Without a doubt, they will accept his generous offer. JIM TREACY of Ridgewood, N.J., an executive in the International Field of Bendix Corp., recently returned from a six-year European assignment for that firm. An announcement was received stating that JOE GALL, Nashua, N.H., barrister, has become a partner in the law firm of Harkaway, Barry & Gall.

May every '4er and his family have a fun-filled summer; a relaxing and safe time for all.
—JOSEPH A. NEUFELD, Secretary

South Bend, Ind. 46615

ONLY A YEAR AWAY

Only 12 months remain 'til our 20-Year Reunion under the Golden Dome. That is too short a time to let slip by without making concrete plans to be with us then. Without U, we just can't have a successful, fun-filled, meaningful reUnion.

REQUIESCANT . . .

Two of our classmates won't be back . . . ever. You read in the March/April ALUMNUS that GUS KELLY of Morristown, N.J. died Sept. 10, and now we are advised of the Mar. 26 death of PHIL COSTELLO, Monroe, Mich.

In your name, I have enrolled both men in the Association of the Providential Proposal on the Campus; thus, they are entitled to spiritual benefits as long as the world lasts. I have assured their widows of your continuing prayers for the repose of their souls and, for the strength and courage their survivors need to live life day by day without them.

Eighteen men of '47 have preceded them in death: PETER J. CASTELLI, WILLIAM P. DELANEY, PHILIP V. DELINGKE, WILLIAM B. DOUGHERTY, I. JOHN DUGATO, JOHN S. FORSTER, HERBERT M. FRIEND, NOEL H. GOTTESMAN, CLARE C. LESER, RAYMOND A. O'CONNELL JR., FRANK G. PETERS, WILLIAM A. PFISTER, DR. EDWARD J. SANDERS, GEORGE J. SCHOTT, RUSSELL S. UNDERWOOD, ROBERT J. VON HOENE, LEONARD A. WALL, and Rev. Mr. EDWARD B. WILLIAMS. Pray for them.

AT RANDOM

Lt. Col. JOHN F. CROWLEY has left the Marine Corps base in 29 Palms, Calif., in favor of an FPO San Francisco address; an educated guess suggests duty in Vietnam.

JACK HOUGHTLING is editor and publisher of The Basketball News in Coral Gables, Fla.; the publication appears twice a month during the hoop season and monthly the rest of the year.

Rev. WALTER O. BOZEK, whom we knew at ND as Brother Paul of the Cross CSC, writes to report he has moved within Connecticut from Fairfield to Danbury; he is stationed at St. Joseph Church and doubles as principal of the parish grade school and part-time religion teacher at Immaculate High School.

Identifying herself as corresponding secretary of the JAMES C. SHERIDAN family of Fort Washington, NY. Noren pens this cheery missive: "Here goes—an ND wife answering your plea. We have a group of 47'ers here on Long Island . . . JACK DILLON, attorney-at-law, wife Alice, and five little Dillons; JOE DITTRICH plus a girl named Mary equals five offspring; JOHN DUNLEAVY and Mary, his spouse, total six; DICK CORCORAN and Bette have just left us to enhance the population of Rockland Co. by five; and CHARLIE KOEGLER and Lillian, old L'ers, decided that Westchester was to their liking.

"Jim and I see TOM MANGAN and Lorraine and four results every once in a while. All ND'ers going nicely in this neck of the woods. Hope some interested frau will jot a few names down—it's fun to get that old, old yearbook out and match names to faces. Best regards. P.S. We are eight . . . five girls and one boy."

DACCA DATA

Still in enforced exile in Dacca, Brother IVAN DOLAN CSC wrote thus Feb. 10: ". . . I am here and want to be there, there in Garo Land. One good thing has come out of all of this—my ulcers are practically cleared up. Must be the good food here. Am still hopeful and will be able to pack my bag in one hour when the good word comes through.

"Things are slowly coming back to normal. Today, for the first time since the war began last September, commercial plane flights of Pakistan flew over India, going direct from Karachi to Dacca and back. And, Indian Air Lines flew over certain sections of Pakistan on their way from Calcutta to Gauhati in Assam. From the first of next month, air flights will be resumed between Indian and Pakistani cities. From East Pakistan to West Pakistan, a direct air flight is a little over 1000 miles. Since the war, the flight has had to bypass India by going from Dacca down to Ceylon, around the tip of India, and then up the west coast of India to Karachi, a distance of almost 3000 miles. It must be noted that Pakistan Air Lines was very generous during all this time; even though the distance to be covered was tripled, the fares were not increased at all.

"Somebody poisoned one of my watchdogs last night; that leaves me with only one. Whoever it is must be planning to steal something from the place.

"Have a couple of sick boys in the hostel; was up with them till after 2 a.m. last night and this morning. Thought I would catch a little shut-eye during the day, but never got around to it.

"It is now 10 p.m.; just checked the boys to see if they are all in bed—two missing. Will catch them tomorrow . . ."

OUR COUGHIN' COFFERS

Treasurer JOE SHARP reveals the expenditures for the two spiritual memorials mentioned earlier have reduced our anemic Class fund to $29. This gives us very little leeway for contingencies.

Will you consider this: Stick a buck in an envelope and send it to me. I'll see that Joe gets it. We know we're going to need some money for incidental expenses at next year's reunion, and we can expect an increasing ratio of deaths in the years ahead. Whatever you can spare will be put to proper use.

As Batman would say, "Holy Apostles!" The yellow cards are coming in! The ice has been broken and I have news to report!

JOHN CAEMMERER notified me that he was elected to the New York State Senate for the 1966 session from the Eighth Senatorial District representing part of Nassau and part of Queens County on Long Island. On his arrival in the Senate, he called on RAY ZASADA to renew old acquaintances. Ray will also be working with the Senate during this session.

A heart-throbbing card from ERIC REY de CASTRO living in Lima, Peru. He pleads for mail from any classmates—better yet—he welcomes any and all in the area to visit when such opportunities exist. He says he is "in real estate" in Lima. He was married in '59 and has two children. Drop him a line—please! Parque Centralmirante Mora 138, San Isidro, Lima, Peru.

RAY RUSEK writes from Camillus, N.Y., to tell us that he and his wife had a daughter, Jacqueline Ann, on Aug. 25. As Ray put it, ". . . late news, but since our other two children, Marilyn and Phil, are 16 and 14, the long span is new!" Ray had a pleasant visit with chemical engineering thesis-partner, JACK C. MURPHY of New Jersey, while attending ASTM meeting in Philadelphia during Northeast power blackout. Just like back on campus—lights out!

STEPHEN J. GALLA MD of Pittsburgh has harsh news to report. On Dec. 23, he underwent brain surgery for removal of the pituitary gland. There is hope that this will put a stop to the pre-retinal hemorrhages which have been plaguing him since last April. In May 1965, he spent a month taking a special course in radioisotopes at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. This coming August, he plans to start a six-week span of visits to several mission hospitals in Nigeria. Presently, however, he is just trying to recover from the surgery. You're in all our prayers, Steve.

A fine card from BOB CONNELLY in San Mateo, Calif. Married an ex-Pan Am stewardess in 1958 and boasts four "young-uns." Selling insurance and a repeat member in 1966 of the "million dollar roundtable." Reports this sad news—Fr. TOM CONLEY (Rev. Kieran Conley STD) of Badin—1948—died in an accident in early February. Bob sends greetings to MARTY LALLY, JOE FLOOD and BOB SKIPWORTH (Rochester, N.Y., gang). Bob signed his card, "Your paper boy"; shades of old Badin Hall days.

There are other cards on hand which will be covered in the next "write-up." Look up YOUR reply card and send me a quick note on what you're doing, where you've been, trails you've crossed. Any St. Louis Cardinal rooters in the crowd? I need help! Fr. WILLIAM NEIDHART says he still won't forgive the Cards for that 1946 series with the Red Sox.

Please look back in the January, 1966, issue of the ALUMNUS, find the yellow card inserted therein and fill it out (or a letter if you wish), sending it on to me with some personal history or news of yourself and your family.

Had a nice report from DICK "The Punch" MCGOLDRICK who has Handschumacher and Co., Inc., manufacturers of fine meat products in Boston. Dick and Marcie's oldest of four children, Biff, age 13, is a budding "Moose," lettering at offensive end and guard, and defensive linebacker. MIKE JUDGE, trust officer of the Toledo Trust Co., spent a splendid vacation in the Fort Lauderdale area. LEN COSTANTINI is with the Ohio State University School of Education, Educational Personnel Placement, 1945 N. High St., Columbus, Ohio. Conover-Mast Publications, Inc., 205 E. 42nd St., New York City, issued a press release concerning the appointment of TOM HANNON JR. as new administrative vice-president. He will be moving from the Chicago area to New York City in June. He had also been vice-president of the Chicago chapter of the Association of Industrial Advertisers. At present, Tom, his wife, Mary Jo, and their three children reside in River Forest, Ill.

Carolyn and BOB HOCHMAN will be visiting Europe in the next month. Bob is associate professor of metallurgy at Georgia Tech. He is obtaining his eight passports and visa pictures for a mid-May trip to Moscow where he will present a paper at the Third International Conference on Metallic Corrosion. GEORGE McCULLOUGH, happily married with four children in Flagstaff, Ariz. wrote: "I haven't seen anyone from ND for quite some time; any of them travelling Highway 66 should stop in to say hello. If Rev. BERNARD GREY sees this, I would like to have him drop me a line . . . same goes for JIM FRIEDSAM and BUCK O'KEEFE. Tell ART ARQUILLA that a doctor friend of his from the service lives in Flagstaff and has filled me in on the 'activities' of Art!"

BOB SLOCUM reports that he will marry Angela Laubach, July 2, and will have their honeymoon in Portugal, Spain and Morocco and then reside at 6109 Fifth Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. I like JACK MCGOLDRICK's esprit de corps in using the yellow cards in the January '66 ALUMNUS: "This card is a good idea . . . encourages non-correspondents like me . . . I am scribbling this on a commuter train going from Chatham, N.J., (where I live with my wife Peggy and six little ones—Robert, Kevin, Meg, Mary, Christopher and Anne) to New York City, where I work for American Can Co. as manager of employee information."

I also received a nice note from BILL KENEDY reporting that his youngest, Bridget Eileen, was born Jan. 6. He has one son, 11, and four daughters in a row—nine, seven, six and two months. He is now Chicago sales representative for Professional Products Co. of San Diego, Calif., and resides at 206 N. Washington St., Park Ridge, Ill. BILL "William J" MURPHY and his wife spent a week in Washington, D.C., for the A.R.A. Convention. They have eight children, six boys and two girls. He is president-treasurer of the Murphy Rubber and Supply Co. in Chicago. I have learned that Lee and PAUL RAPACH are in Wilmette, Ill. Paul has been involved with labor-management relations—from corporation staff representative through director of industrial relations—in liaison for professional employee associations. He is now with Hodge-Cronin and Associates, management consultants in Des Plaines, Ill. This firm provides services in executive search, location and relocation, general personnel management and industrial relations consulting. A nice note from FRANK McBRIDE JR., Dayton, Ohio, reads: "Certainly enjoyed reading the latest issue of our Alumni magazine and especially about FATHER BARRY, who is now in Akron, Ohio. How well I remember him as rector of Farley Hall in the spring of 1947. I enjoyed seeing you and our other classmates last summer at the reunion. I am in the steel warehouse business with my father in Dayton, Ohio. Have been ever since graduation in '50. I visited Fort Lauderdale last April. . . ."

JOHN HERR of Davenport, Iowa, reported on their ND Club's St. Patrick's Day party. LARRY WEBER now resides in Los Altos Hills, Calif.: "Enjoyed your Alumni cap—say hello to my good friend SCOOTER COUTRE. I hope to pass by some day to say hello. I would like to know the whereabouts of MATT ROMANO, FRANK MALZONE, JIM MAHER, DICK MAHER and JOHN FERRY. I saw GERRY BEGLEY several years ago in New York. However, you may have more recent info on him. Also, LEO BLABER now lives near Chicago. . . . AL ZMEICHSKI (now Al Adams) and GRANT THORNTON live here in the Bay Area. I have been in San Francisco area for eight years. Married—four offspring—two and two. Assistant manager of engineering for Arthur A. McKee and Co. (Cleveland home office). Hope to return to ND soon to recruit some good engineers. Best regards."

CHARLIE HICKMANN resides now at East North Port, L.I., and reports that after graduation received an LLB from Harvard in 1953, spent three years on active duty with the Navy, and from 1957 to 1963 was with the Office of the General Counsel of the Navy. In 1963 and 1964 he was with the RCA legal department and since 1965 he has been in private practice in Huntington, L.I., N.Y. He has two boys and two girls. JOHN BRAET, now living at Menlo Park, Calif., returned to ND in 1956 with his family to live in Vetsville while pursuing his master's in electrical engineering. He has two boys—Steve, 17, and Jack, 14—who loved the campus life. He is now in the Agena Program Office at Lockheed Missiles and Space Corporation. Dr. JIM CARRBERRY will remain at Cambridge U. (England) until this June. He has been lecturing at Technion in Israel, in Warsaw, Italy, Holland and Denmark, and will return home with both daughters who have developed a lovely British accent, correcting their father's speech. JACK NUSSKERN, now at 842 Thorn St., Sewickley, Pa., reports that he is still teaching physical education and coaching football and track at Quaker Valley High School at Leetsdale, Pa. (14 miles from Pittsburgh). His 1965 football team finished second in the eight-team conference and the track team won the conference last spring. He received a high honor, in my opinion, when the high school dedicated the 1965 yearbook in his honor. He and his wife, Joan, have four children—Mark, 16, Kevin, 12, Susan, 9, and Tammy, 4.

ROY DEEB is now at 5635 Seventh Ave. N. in St. Petersburg, Fla. TOM EGAN is in North Hollywood, Calif. VIC CHACHO is now in Phoenix, Ariz. RON SANFORD is in Northfield, N.J. DICK CUNNINGHAM is now in Portage, Ind., TOM SAGGAU in Avon Lake, Ohio. Ara's right arm, GENE PASZKIET, is now at 302 Peashway in South Bend. ART BOTTIE is in Middletown, N.J. RAY BYERSMITH in Westchester, Ill. BOB RUETZ is in Omaha, Neb., and DON LUECK has moved from Zurich, Switzerland, to Booz, Allen and Hamilton, 1-5 New Bond Street, London W-1, England.

Just a friendly reminder. Don't throw away the January-February 1966 issue of the ALUMNUS. Find the yellow card inserted therein and send it along with some news.

Best regards,
"Sparky"

Just recently, I received a card from LOU BASSO who passed on some most welcome news about himself and a couple of classmates. Not too long ago, Lou joined with three other attorneys to form the law firm of Wilson, Templin, Basso & Basso in Detroit and Birmingham, Mich. JERRY KELLEY recently added a baby girl to his family—number eight—which rounds out his distribution at four and four. ART PULTE is in the commercial construction business in Troy, Mich. Many thanks, Lou, for the most welcome news.

BERNIE WOOD now resides in Tampa, Fla., with his wife and four children, and is doing double-duty between his post with the Tampa Tribune and Stetson U. Law School. PAT MONTROY, TOM MORSCH and wives celebrated St. Patrick's Day in Acapulco, Mexico. I've learned, unofficially, that the city fathers are still trying to figure out how the center line on the main drag got painted green!

BILL REIDY recently accepted a position with Kraft Foods, and has moved to the New York area. JOE PAGLIARI has acquired an ownership interest in the mortgage banking firm of O'Brien and Payne in Chicago.

Once again, this column is in desperate need of contributors. How about 30 seconds to drop me a card about yourself and any classmates you may have seen recently?

Faced with a choice of meeting either the IRS tax deadline or the ALUMNUS deadline, I must shamefully admit I chose the former. So this is late and therefore short.

First, let me congratulate the Class of 1966 on their wisdom in selecting Senator Everett Dirksen as Notre Dame's Patriot of the Year for 1966. They couldn't have done any better.

Finally got some mail. You "hard guys" must be getting soft. Thanks much, and keep 'em coming. Maybe this would be a good time to put in a plug for a donation to Notre Dame (I make a pitch once every six or seven years, so bear with me). If you've been close to Notre Dame lately or have visited the campus you know what Webster meant when he defined "progress." ND is something special, "a foot above all the rest" and can use your support to keep moving. The whole idea is to achieve 100 PERCENT CLASS PARTICIPATION; no donation is too small. In 1963, four hundred and seven of our Class made a donation. We should be able to beat that easily. Do it now! (It's deductible.) That's it from me till 1973 or so, but you can expect to hear from our newly appointed Class Agent for Alumni Fund support—TOM NESSINGER. As you can imagine, Tom's new job is thankless, so make it easy, will ya? Tom earns his bread with Arthur Andersen & Co. in Chicago. He's married and has three children. This Class Agent bit is part of a new program that has been vastly successful for other prominent universities.

Received this news release last week: "The board of directors of MacManus, John & Adams has appointed JOHN K. GROSSPIETSCH a vice-president of the agency." "The Gross" lives at 232 N. Flake Dr., Palatine, Ill. Congratulations, Margo!

I saw some classmates in St. Louis recently. At an ND Club smoker, I ran into DICK ASH. Dick is a CPA and, on the side, is part owner of a Mississippi River Showboat. Our St. Patrick's Day Dance was really an affair. HERM KRIEGS-HAUSER and BOB CHICKEY can attest to it. JACK POWERS '53 was chairman and did a great job.

JIM FREMGEN is an associate prof. of management at the US Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, Calif. Jim was on the ND faculty till last year. In January, he published a text on cost analysis. Jim lives at 919 Petra Lane, Pacific Groves, Calif. Mary Don and ED SWEENEY now live at 1352 First Ave., Salinas, Calif. The Sweeneys were married in August of 1957 and have two boys and two girls. The latest addition, Ann Marie, arrived on Dec. 8. Ed works for the National Life and Accident Ins. Co.

Our man in Hawaii is NEIL MacFARLAN. Neil is a major in the Marines, currently at Ft. Smith. The MacFarlans have four little ones—three girls and Neil Jr. Mac would love to hear from BOB MARTIN, RON CAULEY, FERNANDO DeROMANA, JACK DONOHUE '53 and AL MARKS '53. Me, too, Mac! Write to Neil at 2140 Bancroft Dr., MCAS Kaneohe, c/o FPO San Francisco, Calif. Also had a card from Sister MARION HOSINSKI, an MA grad of '54 (PhD'64). The good sister is nearby at the St. Louis U. Medical School and is she active! The letter discusses something very interesting, a group guidance series recently put out by Bruce Publishing in Milwaukee. The editor is Br. MARION F. BELKA '59. The handbooks and manuals starting with the ninth grade are called "Encounter," "Identify," "Involvement" and "Commitment." Group dynamics and problem solving, etc. is finally getting into education which is another step forward.

JOHN O'HARA MD, 3583 Greenfield, Los Angeles, Calif., is completing a residency in orthopedic surgery, and will soon go into private practice although he's undecided as to where. Just before Christmas, John's wife, Karen, presented him with twin girls, Kirsten and Stacey, to join their two boys. Merry Christmas . . . Ho, ho, ho! John reports seeing GEORGE WELSH on TV. George is a Marine infantry captain in Vietnam and was interviewed on TV.

JACK REUBA, still a bachelor, lives at 730 S. Kingsley, Los Angeles, Calif. Jack has been in the investment business for six years since leaving Kalamazoo, Mich. He's now associated with the John Noven & Co., Inc., and is a tax-exempt bond fund expert. Jack reports that JIM LOONAM has just moved to Palo Alto. Jim and his wife, Joan, have two children. Jim is regional manager for Costello & Co.—3869 Grove Ct. Palo Alto, Calif.

Lastly, I received a long overdue letter from ED SEIM. "Ned" and Sheila have two children and live in Wausau, Wis., where Ned makes and sells etc., etc., etc., quality windows for Crestline Co.

I sure hope you have ordered your Purdue-ND tickets. We'll have our annual "Bigger & Better" Reunion Party immediately afterwards. Yes, they're playing football at ND again.

Oh! Spent a weekend at the GEORGE HUBBARD Ranch in Decatur, Ill. George is big in Apaloozas. (Horses—that is!) Sometime get George to tell you about the night his mares got loose on a neighboring golf course.

That's it, gang. Write.

As you know, the football ticket situation gets tougher each year. So, make it a point to send in for those Purdue tickets (the home opener) and attend the Class Reunion after the game in the Morris Inn. For those Easterners who are just coming in for the Army game, we'll have an impromptu gathering on the porch of the Morris Inn after the game.

Mucho thanks to those that used the little reply cards to check in. JOHN PIMENTA gets the long distance award, writing from Sao Paulo, Brazil. He's manager of Harza Engineering Company's operation there, but looks forward to heading back to the States next year. John's wife, Lira, came to the USA from India in 1959 and they were married by Father HESBURGH in the Log Chapel. John and Lira became citizens in 1963 and made their home in Chicago until the present assignment. His address: Avenida Paulista 2073, Sala 2201, Conjunto Nacional, Sao Paulo.

JIM PITCAGAVE reported in via the yellow card, too. Jim graduated from the U. of Pittsburgh medical school in 1960 and interned at Syracuse. He was an Air Force flight surgeon for two years, stationed at Las Vegas . . . hmmm??? He returned to Pittsburgh for a pediatric residency at Children's Hospital and finally opened a pediatric practice in Sewickley, Pa., last year. Jim has four children of his own. You can reach him at 447 Oliver Rd., Edgeworth, Sewickley, Pa.

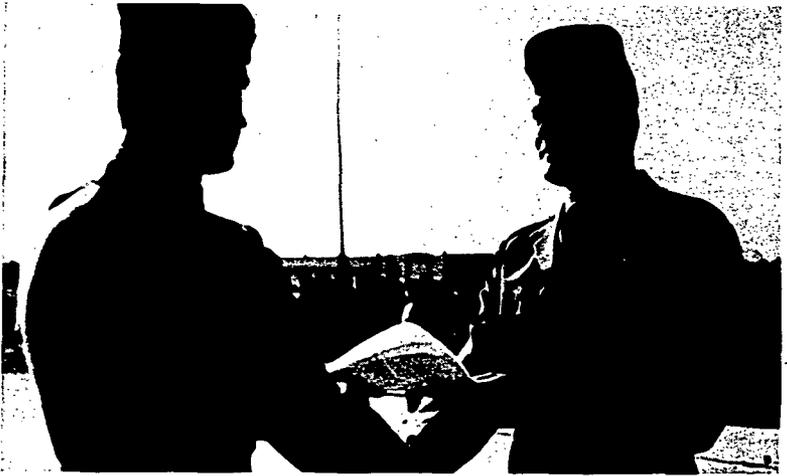

JOHN HOSINSKI wrote to say that after a coaching career in Chicago and Florida that he has retired to the "safe confines of the classroom." He currently is assistant professor of phy. ed. at Arkansas State College. John has three little gals. His mailing address is P. O. Box 957, State College, Ark. ALDO POTTETTI also is a teacher. He's working in the North Babylon district on Long Island. Al (9 Boxwood Rd., P. O. Box 187, Port Washington, N.Y.) is looking forward to seeing many old friends at the Army game in South Bend.

BOB DEBREY has established his own design and development firm in Minneapolis. Bob formerly was head of design at the Product Development Center of IIT Research Institute in Chicago. The Debreys now have two children. They live at 6928 Washburn South in Minneapolis. BOB DAHLEN's lovely wife, Nannine, wrote to say that he is manager for Kelly Technical Services in Chicago. They've been married four years and have two boys. The Dahlen mail is delivered at 2880 Weller, Northbrook.

Lt. Comdr. PAUL KRIENKE used the card to report his current address: Staff, Com Fair Alameda, NAS, Alameda, Calif. 94501. Capt. JOHN MURRAY's new address is: 1st Battalion, 7th Marines, H & S Company (Co. Hdqtrs) Mar No. 13, FPO, San Francisco, 96601. It sounds like a little Vietnam for tough "Little Jack." Lt. Comdr. JIM PHILLIPS can be reached at Navy Section, JUSMAG, APO, New York, N.Y., 09223.

Ran into Father JOE O'DONNELL at the retreat house on campus. After about 30 seconds, "Old Modesty" himself said: "Would you believe that I smashed Ara in handball?" No! "Well, would you believe that I nipped him?" So help me, he has witnesses. TOM WELLY and his wife were to be on hand for the same retreat, but all their kids came down with the chicken pox! Those are the breaks. Father Joe mentioned that he had a nice visit with TOM O'MALLEY in Kansas City. He added that JOHN McCULLOUGH is the Walter Cronkite of South Bend these days. Here's some current dope on a few others who abide within the shadows of the Dome—JIM HESBURGH, 1329 E. Washington Ave.; DAN KISZKA, 3717 St. John's Way; JOHN JENA, 110 W. Colfax; TIP PATTON, 1235 Portage Ave.; WALT ZOTTER, 29511 E. Jefferson, St. Clair Shores, Mich.; and RUDY CENDER, 1781 Sloan Rd., Portage, Ind.

DAVE METZ checked in with a new address—7 Kirless Rd., Pittsford, N.Y. Dave tipped a few with JERRY PRASSAS and JOHN WEITHERS—"the merry bachelors"—while in for the opening of a Kodak exhibit at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. Another reason to take your kids to the best museum in the country.

A TENTH AIR MEDAL was awarded to Captain Vincent L. Falzarano '56 in March at the US Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, S.C.

My old roomie, TOM DORWIN, couldn't resist writing: "We've got your weather in Austin (Tex.) today!!! . . . 8 inches of snow." Did I mention last time that I saw DICK HAIRSINE, now deputy comptroller for the Wilmington Trust Co.? Got a note from JOE MADIGAN, who already is getting ready for the football reunion. He hopes that DICK BURKE, FRANK MAIER and JIM NORTON are doing the same. Incidentally, Frank Maier just joined the editorial staff of the Chicago Daily News where he will specialize in political writing. Received a call from ROY BELKNAP who was general chairman for Detroit's UND Night. We swapped ideas and it looks like Roy has a real winning formula with Father Hesburgh as the key ingredient.

JIM BERGQUIST rolled thru town and passed his orals at Northwestern for his doctorate in history. He'll pick up the degree officially in June. Jim mentioned that his old history buddy, BOB KERBY, continues to dominate the "letters" column in the New York Times. Another scholar, ARNOLD STOKES, has joined the math department at Georgetown. Seeing that picture of RAY KENNEDY (the writer) and Artur Rubinstein (the cover subject in Time reminded me of Mad magazine's famous line—"Suck in that gut, America." Ray, that New York life is just too easy for a hard guy from Ohio.

Another '55er has joined the President's Club. TOM KEWLEY left Inland Steel earlier this year to accept a position as associate professor of finance at DePaul, having received his PhD in finance from MSU. (Why there, Tom?) He also has organized Toley Fabricated Products Co. to handle sales activity for several light metal fabricators in the Chicago area. FRANK CUNNINGHAM, 5025 Bruceston Road, S.W., Roanoke, Va., is with the Gorham Silver Co. He has two boys and a girl. Other new eastern residents are: VERN BISESE, 217 Quincy Dr., Levittown, Pa.; BILL KREPS, 61 Hills Point Rd., Westport, Conn, and TOM GALLAGHER, 142 Brompton Rd., Garden City, Long Island, N.Y. BILL GLASS is operating The Gift Gallery, 117 N. 5th St., Columbus, Miss. ND was "integrated" before this year. Sister GLADYS ANN GIVAN SL '55 wrote to say that she received her MFA degree from Colorado last summer and had a Huntington Hartford art award to the Pacific Palisades Art Colony. She is now teaching in Colorado Springs; hopes to have an art show at Aspen during the Design Institute. If any of you artists would like to contact Sister, her address is 14 W. Bijon, Colorado Springs.

AL COWLES' post card from Puerto Rico arrived the day I staggered home from work at midday with the virus to end all bugs. (I hated him!) He and Betty wrote: "What we won on the races we lost at the casino." Congratulations to HUGH SCHAEFER, whose engagement to Angela Gates was announced recently.

DON PETERS, formerly probate attorney for the superior court in Los Angeles, has moved into private practice under this shingle—Lawrence & Peters, 901 Whittier Blvd., Montebello, Calif. His home is at 140 N. 21st St. JERRY GROARK recently sent one of the most complex legal announcements that I have ever seen, and, if I read it correctly, he now is associated with the law firm of Hackbert, Rooks, Pitts, Fullagar and

Poust in Chicago. (He'll probably change his mind after I get it down on paper!)

1. Support your Class agent, GEORGE SHELTON.

2. See you at the Reunion after the Purdue game.

BOB SIMKINS, 400 S. Douglas Street, Appleton, Wis. 54912, assistant plant manager of the Humiston-Keeling Wholesale Drug Co., saw JIM FINNIGAN in Appleton in early February. Jim is a district manager for Bauer and Black, elastic goods division. Have you heard from either OTTO LIEBLE or PAUL ANSELM? If so, let Jim know where they are. Also in Appleton for the Christmas holidays, was PETE HANSEN who is stationed in St. Louis with the US Navy Intelligence Bureau.

Coincidentally, I received a card from another Appleton, Wis. alumnus, JOHN GSCHWIND. John is production manager of the Appleton Manufacturing Co. and lives at 319 E. Francis, 54914, with his wife, Regina SMC '57, and five children.

JIM PRICE has begun his 10th year of teaching in the public schools in Cleveland. Last August, Jim received a master's of education in special education from Kent State U. His first roommate on campus, JOE SIMONS, is a Holy Cross Father and Dean of Students at Notre Dame.

FRANK CICCARELLI is practicing medicine in Springfield, Ill. On Feb. 2, Frank and Terry had a son, Michael. Their address is 14 Longbow, Springfield, Ill. 62704.

It's hard for me to believe, but after ten years—a letter from JOE BILL! Shortly before writing, Joe along with MIKE KILEY, BOB CARRANE, BOB WELSH, PHIL KRAEMER, TOM DONOVAN and JACK CASEY attended MIKE NOONEY's first high Mass. Back to our Class vice president—Joe is married, and he and Grace, his wife, have three boys and a girl. 5895 Washington Blvd., Indianapolis, Ind. We'll see Joe at the Reunion.

JACK HAGAN was transferred by IBM to Birmingham, Ala.—3536 Spring Valley Terrace, 35223—from Evansville, Ind., with Joan and their two girls. While vacationing in Orlando, Fla., they saw KEN DAVIS and his wife, Martha.

Another surprise! PETE CANNON! Ellen Anne and Pete had their fourth on Jan. 1. They live at 1700 Red Oak Circle, Reston, Va. 22070. Pete has hurt my feelings for he, too, thinks that Father TOM CHAMBERS, CSC, should take over as our columnist. (O.K., Tom?)

Needham, Mass.—497 Greendale Ave., 02192—is the home of KEVIN JOYCE, his wife, Audrey, and three children. Kevin is the New England district manager of the Information Handlings Systems, Inc. of Denver.

Another overdue, but very welcomed letter arrived from the law office of DAN DEVINE of 114 South Woodward, Birmingham, Mich. 48011. Dan was admitted to the bar in 1962; then, an assistant county prosecutor for two years before beginning private practice. Dan and Barbara have five children, the oldest of whom is five!

Dan sees JERRY ROPERS frequently. Jerry is with General Motors, married and has two daughters. Another of Alfred Sloan's heirs, JERRY McPARTLAND, has five children and lives in Detroit with his wife and gang. JIM OLIN is a stockbroker with Merrill-Lynch in Detroit. JOHN BIRNEY, in Birmingham with Chance-Vought, is an engineer. PAT COGAN is with Minnesota Mining in Detroit. Dan's roommate in Dillon, CLEM O'NEILL, is practicing law in San Diego and living with his wife and three children.

On a leave of absence from the Xerox Corp. is JIM MASON who is seeking a master's in industrial engineering in September from Penn State. Jim and Mary have three children and live at 149 Hillview Ave., State College, Pa. Jim recently visited Lt. Comdr. ROBERT MILLEN, his wife and four children, in New England. Jim will be taking final exams during our Reunion—sorry he can't make it.

Can you believe that 10 years have passed since graduation? I know it's difficult for me to realize, but the proof of it all will be our 10th Year Reunion on June 10, 11 and 12. Hope you're planning on attending.

JOHN P. McMEEL

30 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017

LEN DI GIACOMO has been spending the last seven years in Salt Lake City and accomplishing much. He is the VP and gen. mgr. of the D.H. Overmyer Warehouse Co. The NY-based outfit leases industrial space. Len is also starting the long political climb by recently being elected president of the Salt Lake County Young Republicans. He reports that skiing is great and that all fellow classmates should make it a point to drop by . . . RON LORENZINI sends his greetings to all from sunny Italy where he is finishing his second year of a two-year obligation with Uncle Sam. Ron is chief of obstetrics and gynecology at the US Army Hospital in Vicenza. He is just 10 miles west of Venice and the welcome shingle is out from the Lorenzini family which is made up of four little ones which includes twin daughters . . . Along the medical line we hear from JIM EGGERS who is also serving the good Uncle at Ft. Benning, Ga. Jim finished his three-year residency at Georgetown Hospital in DC and passed the first part of his medical boards last July. They have two children. Jim is interested in any news of JIM FLUKE and Doctors J. QUINN and DON SCHRANDT. Let's hear fellows!

GREG CORRIGAN has been with J. C. Penney for the past seven years and is the sales and merchandise manager of the Wausau, Wis., store. The Corrigan number six tots split evenly with three of each sex. Greg, who moonlights as a coach for the local grade school, has enjoyed great success since he was instrumental in changing the school song to the tune of the Victory March . . . Will relate TOM NICKNISH's note exactly as received: "Drafted Jan. 12—Assigned to Turner AFB, Albany, Ga.—will be in charge of Internal Medicine—BIG DEAL—was in practice Iowa City in internal medicine—expecting number six in May—great planning!!" What more can I add except good luck, Tom . . .

He and his wife and number one are living in Fairfield, Conn.

TOM FORTUNE is still making great money with and for Champion Papers, Inc. in Omaha. He is now the sales supervisor and has been doing the same thing with four little ones . . . Recently saw STEVE PENNEY in Park Forest, Ill. . . Also received a card from JOHN DURBIN noting that he is being transferred to Charlotte, N.C. to head up a distributorship for Cummins Diesel (You know, the outfit made famous by a certain amount of Grace) John will be leaving Seattle . . . Good friend, PAUL HEER, is the administrative service manager for CPS Industries at their Franklin, Tenn. location. Paul was formerly with Arthur Andersen & Co. in Chicago but they just couldn't meet that demand of an annual $500,000 bills. Paul is fathering two and they do have a sweet mother . . . JOE RUSCH is working up in St. Paul for 3M with whom he has been since graduation. He heard from STAN KUSPER in Chicago and BILL BRANDON who is with Caterpillar in Peoria. JIM RICE received a fellowship at ITT in Chicago. Thanks for the news, Joe.

Faithful and loyal GEORGE GROBLE (wish we had many more like him) reports that GERALD GERMAI was in Chicago in January. Gerry has his own business in Lafayette, La. in the wholesale carpeting field (we know of another Armenian rug dealer who has done quite well). BOB O'NEIL has been transferred to Washington, D.C. to supervise the planning of a subway system. This is the engineer O'Neil. JOHN McDONNELL has left the public defender's office to join the US District Attorney's staff in Chicago. RINK, JOSEPH by name, keeps defying the Vatican Council and has become the father of No. 5. If we could change the hierarchy in Rome to the Republican Party we would have Joe in tow. TOM HUGULET has recently been promoted to head a regional IBM sales office in Chicago. Kay and Tom added No. 1 to the stable. Thanks George for your assistance.

It is now so easy for you classmates to use a little elbow grease and get off your fat fannies and tear the enclosed card out of the mag and mail it to me with info of yourself and those you have seen. Have a little Class spirit. Thanks to those who did. Please remember in your prayers the mother of ORLANDO MAIONE who died of cancer, Feb. 9. Orlando is still baching it in Palo Alto and is chairman of the board of the Palo Alto Community Players. He is a man of many talents for he is also chairman of the Palo Alto Festival of Arts while still being a junior architect. If this is not enough he is doing a little "mooning" on the side, designing sets for the West Bay Opera Assoc. You wonder why Orlando is still on the loose? What girl would be fast enough? DENNIS TURNOCK is now living in South Miami. Formerly he resided in Fort Wayne. Tough life . . .

THOMAS F. CONNEELY

Evanston, Ill. 60202

The presses roll again and for this edition my pleas for mail have been satisfied. Your loyal scribe at last has an abundance of information to pass along.

Word on the whereabouts of JIM CARROLL came from two sources, Jim's mother and DAVE PETRE (who gets an award for the most letters written to this column). Mrs. Carroll writes that after practicing for a short time in his beloved Concord, "Mr. Bridge" became associated with Uncle Sam's Navy and is now known as Lt. James E. Carroll. He is apparently enjoying his duties at his current station in Corpus Christi, Tex. (Full address: Staff Legal, CNAVANTRA, US Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Tex.) Dave, to whom Mrs. Carroll also wrote, seconds the above information.

RUSS BLEY writes from St. Louis that he is enthralled with his job in the legal department at Monsanto Co. He is still a bachelor and living at home, and reports that he has received visits from BOB FROST and BILL FLAHERTY. Russ, also, had some flattering things to say about this column for which he also will get an award (in addition to being mentioned). Speaking of Flaherty, he recently reported that Russ will attend the spring social event in the "Windy City," to wit: the April 23rd marriage of JIM ZMIGROCKI and Marilyn Wawak. I, too, plan to attend and will furnish a report to you avid readers in the next issue.

On June 18, in Des Moines, Iowa, wedding bells will ring for yet another of our classmates, one JOSEPH McDONALD. This news comes from two sources, also, namely, TOM KERN and MIKE RYAN. Tom is with the Indiana attorney general's office and is, also, engaged in private practice at 11 N. Pennsylvania St. in Indianapolis. Tom reports that CHARLIE O'MALLEY has suggested the Duke weekend of Nov. 11-12 as a reunion possibility, and further reports that ZARKO has reserved Howard Johnson's Green Room for Friday night. More on this as details become available. Tiring of the relative inactivity involved in reviewing files, MIKE RYAN asked for and got a transfer to an NLRB field office where he'll get some trial experience. He and Maria are now stationed in Peoria and, after April 15, will be living at 212 Oak Cliff Ct. in that city. Mike's lengthy, interesting, and informative letter also advises that JIM MERCURIO narrowly avoided being sent to Korea by the USA, and is presently out in FAKLER territory (Utah).

The latest from the "new additions department" is that the STEPANICKS have a daughter, and yours truly and wife have another young man, named William, in our house. If there are any more new arrivals please let me know so that you, too, can be in print.

Because of space limitations I will bid you "adieu" until next edition. Happy spring to everyone and don't forget to drop a note (even a post card will do) to your scribe so that I can put it in our little pipeline.

1050 Indiana Ave.
Glenwood, Ill. 60425

First things first. Please note the new address. We just bought a home here in Glenwood and at the risk of sounding proud, I must say it's beautiful! It is a four-bedroom, multi-level with all Janet and I ever wanted in a home. It is so spacious that our paltry furniture looks lost in it. Enough about us. . .

We must be part of the "in crowd" now! The KRUPNICKS called us on (wouldn't you know it) St. Patrick's Day. Unfortunately, I wasn't home but Janet tells me that Jon's "hot-line" is really working overtime. They've recently spoken to Sue and JIM LEONARD in Phoenix, Ariz., and Jackie and MIKE FARRAR who are supposedly displeased with New Orleans.

We received a letter from Jane and BILL BISH who tell us that Bill is in legal assistance at Ft.

Meade and that he's really busy drawing up wills, separation agreements, POA's, divorces, etc. They claim their life on the base is really exciting . . . always something big happening!

Via the Bish epistle we learn that "Tex" DUTILE is rarely home—gone for two and three weeks at a stretch. Last word was that he was in Mississippi.

We hear that BOB KENNEDY is working as defense counsel at Ft. Meade. No other info on him except that "Bobbie" is having great fun furnishing their "off the base" apartment.

What's with the nomadic BOTTELS? Does anyone know what the story is now? We can't locate the new address. How 'bout it, Henry?

We were informed that the LAWLERS are in love with New York. We always knew they were big-city material.

RICHARD ANGELOTTI
1404 Greenfield Dr.
Erie, Pa. 16512

The much anticipated day has nearly arrived, and anxious seniors are busily preparing for the wonderful day of June 5th. It certainly doesn't seem like four years since we entered the University as bewildered, stary-eyed freshmen.

The professions will claim a large part of the Class of '66. Those contemplating on balancing the scales of justice are: Pat Cashill, Pete Carey, Gordon Nash, Mike McKim, John Wetli, Jay McGowan, Ed Calior, Jerry O'Meara, John Philipps, Mike Donohue, Max Graham, Jamie Toohey, John Buck, Pat Linskey, Joe Sommers, Tony Rivizzigno, Bruce Vosburg, Paul Walker, Barry McNamara, Jim Murray, Harry Long and Cole Clark. Among those choosing the scalpel are: Andy Ippoliti, Jim Davey, Jim Murphy, Dick Fleming, Dick Sullivan, John Fry, Pete Budetti, John Schwartz, George Bernard, Jim Curran, Ed O'Connor, Mike Stoltz, Denny Gray, Jerry Herschfeld, Tom Hughes, Tom O'Connor, Pat Tedford and Terry Forrester.

The country's business schools will be augmented by the following students: Dave McSorley, Montel Brundage, Pat Danahy, Tom Gartner, Tom Beldon, Gene Tully, Bill Jamieson, Tom McManmon, George Rentschler, John Casvan and Ray Neihengen. The engineering field will be enriched with the following minds: Bud Edinger, Terry Golden, Mike Geist, Norm DeWitt, Ed Dean, Joe Famiglietti, Joe King, Kevin Daly, Paul Sessa, and John Wallerius.

Those classmates going on for master's degrees in their undergraduate fields of study include Paul Ahr, Jay McDonald, John Swamer, Bill Scanlan, Tim Gunn, Tony Andrea, Skip Myslenski and Keith Manville.

Returning to ND to continue their studies in a variety of fields are Bill O'Donnell, John Cheshire, Joe Spak, Dave Zangrelli, Pat Cooney, Harry McDonagh, Jim Starshak and John Bishko.

Those class stalwarts going to work for Uncle Sam include Bob Crotty, Tom Gorla, Paul Fieberg, Bob Ryan, Tico Foley, Bob Schmitt, Mike Boone, Norm Findlay, Mike Mooney, Dick McCarty and Chuck Steiner.

These are just some of the many futures originating from the Class of '66. Ours is a class of much promise and one, I'm sure, that will prove an outstanding asset to the University.

I would like to take this opportunity to ask all of you to stay in touch, even though after graduation we will be great distances apart. Area representatives have been chosen to find out information and to keep us all in touch with each other's activities. You can find your representative's name and address in the Alumni Directory, or you can send your information directly to me at 1404 Greenfield Dr., Erie, Pa.

Please let us know what has happened to you or to anyone else you know about who was a member of the Class of '66. By keeping in touch and relating these events, the friendships and memories we enjoyed while here as students can be shared in our roles as alumni. Let's keep the Class of '66 as united after graduation as it was before we entered the ranks of Alumni.

THE Law School's annual spring symposium, April 16, was devoted to "Poverty and Justice." Orison S. Marden of the New York Bar, president-elect of the American Bar Association, presided over the sessions. Assistant Dean Thomas F. Broden Jr., who is a consultant to the Office of Economic Opportunity, was chairman and addressed the symposium on the role of law schools in providing legal assistance to the poor. Other speakers included Senator Birch Bayh (D-Ind.); E. Clinton Bamberger, director of the OEO Legal Services Program; Mrs. Jean Cahn of the District of Columbia Bar, Associate Dean A. Kenneth

law school

Pye, Georgetown University Law Center; and William Pincus of the Ford Foundation.

The Symposium followed closely the announcement of the OEO that it would fund, in substantial part, a neighborhood law office in South Bend. The program will include the present South Bend Legal Aid Society office; also, two new attorneys will be hired. Professor Conrad L. Kellenberg will direct the program with the assistance of both attorneys and Edward Hilgendorf '60L, the present legal aid attorney. Prof. Kellenberg will also conduct a Law School program which will give students an opportunity to work in the neighborhood law office.

Mr. Bamberger noted in his address that the Notre Dame proposal to the OEO, which was drafted by Assistant Dean Broden and Professor Kellenberg, was a model of its kind and has been recommended by his office to other law schools throughout the nation.

Law Day Honors Banquet. The Law School's 13th Annual Honors Banquet was held May 1 at the South Bend Indiana Club. Speaker for the affair was Edward W. Kuhn, president of the American Bar Association, who talked about today's observance of Law Day as a direct counterbalance to the traditional Communist international celebration of May Day.

His appearance marked the ninth consecutive year an ABA president has addressed the local Law Day observance. Also present was Indiana Congressman John Brademas.

The banquet also served as the Law School Honors celebration at which both faculty and students indulged in the traditional roasting of Law School personalities.

1965-66 Bar Examinations. James J. Leonard Jr. '65L, winner of the Law School's 1964 Moot Court competition, received the highest grade in the February, 1966, Arizona Bar Examination. Leonard, who was admitted to the Arizona Bar shortly after the examination, is a law clerk in the Maricopa County Superior Court. Seventy-six law graduates took the examination; 41 passed it.

Leonard is one of 37 members of his class who passed bar examinations on their first try. In New Jersey, where 57 per cent of all applicants failed the examination, both ND graduates—Michael Bishko and Richard Catenacci—passed. All four ND men who took the Ohio examination passed, although 24 per cent of the applicants failed. In Indiana, all nine ND applicants passed and in Michigan all four ND applicants passed.

Employment Seminar. In March, the Law School and the Chicago Region of the US Civil Rights Commission sponsored a four-day executive seminar in the University's Center for Continuing Education on "Attraction and Employment of Minority Group Talent." Seventy-five government officials attended; speakers included ND President Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC; Joseph A. Conner, regional director of the Civil Service Commission; Dean Broden; Dr. Richard Lamanna of the University's Department of Sociology; Coach Ara Parseghian; and several local and national civil rights leaders.

Legal Aid and Defender Association. Thomas Farrell, a second-year student from Cambria Heights, N.Y.,

was elected 1966-67 director of the Legal Aid and Defender Association. Richard Muench, Wilmette, Ill., was elected assistant director and Gary Kaup, Hamilton, Ohio, associate director. The Association gave its first annual Michie Book awards, for outstanding participation in the program, to Messrs. Muench, Farrell, Kaup, John Fine—the outgoing director, and Arthur Swirtz.

Faculty. Professor G. Robert Blakey '57 & '60L has been appointed to the advisory board of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice. He also will act as a special consultant to the Commission on problems of organized crime. This summer he will join James Vorenberg, director of the Commission, for an investigation of organized crime. Prof. Blakey, an instructor of criminal law and procedure as well as courses on property, has for the past two years offered special seminar programs to both second and third-year students on criminal law problems.

Rev. William M. Lewers CSC has been appointed to the Indiana Advisory Committee to the US Commission on Civil Rights. By special request, he is also working with the Chicago Regional Office of the federal commission and will spend part of this summer—as he did last summer — in Mississippi. The ND affiliate of the Law Students Civil Rights Research Council which Father Lewers serves as advisor, has arranged for the placement of 10 ND law students in summer civil rights projects.

Prof. John T. Noonan Jr. spent April and May in Rome, working on his Guggenheim research study of Church procedure in matrimonial cases, and assisting the papal commission studying problems of population and birth control. At the invitation of Cardinal Suenens, he participated in the annual colloquy at Louvain (Belgium) in May. He expects to visit the University of Cracow (Poland) for talks there sometime in September.

Prof. Bernard J. Ward has been appointed visiting professor at the University of Texas School of Law for the coming summer session.

The promotion of Assoc. Prof. Thomas L. Shaffer '61L to full professor was announced in May.

Alumni Notes. Prof. John E. Kennedy '59L, who is now a member of the law faculty at the University of Kentucky, is the author of "Judge-Jury-Counsel Relations in Kentucky," in the current issue of the Kentucky Law Journal. Prof. Kennedy was a reporter in the Seminar of Kentucky Circuit Judges held in 1964.

State's Attorney J. Stanley Bradbury '23L of Robinson, Ill., died May 2 in St. Louis, Mo., where he had been a patient for three weeks. Mr. Bradbury, a long-time practitioner in Robinson was past president of the Illinois Attorney Association and former president of the Illinois Big Brothers and Sisters Association.

Pelletier is now serving as an instructor in the Army Judge Advocate General's School, Charlottesville, Va. He is a member of the Texas Bar and will begin teaching as assistant professor at the Southern Methodist University School of Law (Dallas) this fall.

UNIVERSAL Notre Dame Night 1966—believed by many to have reached unprecedented heights in alumni participation—was brought to a conclusion May 12 in Atlanta, one month after the year's inaugural observance in Pittsburgh, Erie and the Calumet Region.

The more than twelve thousand Notre Dame alumni and friends who gathered in 140 cities around the world heard guest speakers explore this year's theme, "The Role of the Catholic University in the Modern Age." University administrators, deans, professors and coaches' presence at most of the gatherings gave evidence of Notre Dame's commitment. Civic and Church leaders were also among those voicing their support.

In Pittsburgh, the Most Rev. Nicholas T. Elco DD, bishop of the Byzantine Rite, kindled the Notre Dame spirit and illuminated the evening's program when he intoned:

Almighty God, bless us. Though, today, many say that You no longer are, we of Notre Dame lift up our eyes and ask for a blessing in her name, Our Lady . . . a collective blessing for all the members of our Alma Mater: for those triumphant in athletic prowess, for those who will bask in theological and scientific glory in our Alma Mater's name. In the future in this ecumenical age, we pray that Notre Dame may triumph both as the Queen of Athletics and as the Queen of Theology and Science in order that more men will lift up their eyes to her wonderful accomplishments and believe in the power of Almighty God. The God who fortifies her and is very much alive in those who live under His blessings. Amen.

Other manifestations of support were extended through donations given the University by several clubs. In Detroit, Notre Dame President Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC accepted a $14,000 check from the motor city Club, proceeds attained, in large part, through the closed-circuit telecast last fall of the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game.

Universal Notre Dame Night was observed in still numerous other ways, times and locations, headlined with the presentation of assorted local and national awards.

From New England to the Gulf Coast. Near-record gatherings of Notre Dame alumni and friends attended Universal Notre Dame Night celebrations from the Berkshires to New Orleans. The Holiday Inn in suburban Newton provided the dinner setting for more than 170 Boston Club members and guests. William Stewart Jr. '42, three-sport coach at Boston English for 20 years and son of the late major league baseball umpire, was presented the Club's annual Man of the Year Award. On hand to report Notre Dame's athletic fortunes was Ed "Moose" Krause, who later was presented with a $1,000 check for the University's Athletic and Convocation Center by Club President Bob Marr.

DETROIT'S LATIN QUARTER, enshrined by a model of the Golden Dome, hosted 450 Alumni and guests, April 18. While in Omaha, below, presentation of the Man of the Year Award was made to SAC's commander-in-chief, General John D. Ryan, by ND Club President Thomas Walsh '42.

Elsewhere, two other Massachusetts clubs, the Pioneer Valley and the Berkshire, celebrated jointly, April 23, at the Yellow Aster in Pittsfield, and heard Dean William E. Burke of the Freshman Year of Studies tell of recent developments at Notre Dame. Further south, more than 75 members of the Rhode Island and Southeastern Massachusetts Club met at the Pawtucket Country Club, April 20, with "Moose" Krause as their guest. And in Connecticut, UND Night

And in Pittsburgh, where the celebrated invocation by Bishop Elco and a state-of-the-University message by Father Joyce shared the oratorical spotlight, two Centennial of Science Awards and the Man of the Year honors were made. Recipients of the former were Dr. Robert Schuler, head of radiation research lab at Mellon Institute; and Dr. Leo O'Donnell, Mercy Hospital physician. Peter F. Flaherty LLB '51, Pittsburgh attorney and city councilman, was presented the Man of the Year scroll.

In the "Land of the Bluegrass," Louisville Alumni and friends turned out, April 13, to hear guest speaker, Father Joyce, and to honor their Man of the Year, Louis J. Hollenbach Jr. '37. At Eric's Steak House in Wheeling, W. Va., the Ohio Valley Club presented Man of the Year honors to William H. Mitsch '33. Rev. Paul G. Wendel CSC, assistant vice-president for business affairs, spoke on behalf of the University, followed by the well-known retired sports writer, Frank Wallace '23, who gave his prognostication of Notre Dame's football fortunes this fall.

Eight Clubs in Ohio. Coach Ara Parseghian was the featured speaker April 12 at the Cincinnati stag dinner held in the Netherland Hilton. More than 350 were on hand when Club President Chuck Lima presented Ara with a $1,000 check to the University. In Dayton, it was a May 1 celebration of UND Night in the Kennedy Union at the University of Dayton. Jim Cooney, assistant Alumni Association secretary, was guest speaker and was followed by film highlights of the 1965 football season.

Six other Ohio clubs met in varied locations throughout the state. In Youngstown, the Holiday Inn provided the dinner setting for 80 Alumni and their wives who heard Jim Armstrong tell of recent developments at Notre Dame. The Canton Club, who honored Dr. Bernie Bonnot MD as their Man of the Year, turned out 100 strong, April 27, at Dick Dogan's restaurant. Special guests of the Canton evening included Most Rev. James W. Malone, bishop of Youngstown, and Bro. Thomas Farrell, president of Walsh College. April 27 was UND Night in Mansfield where the Man of the Year honor was awarded posthumously to George F. Kavanaugh '31. On hand at the Leland Hotel to accept the award was Dennis Kavanaugh, son of the deceased.

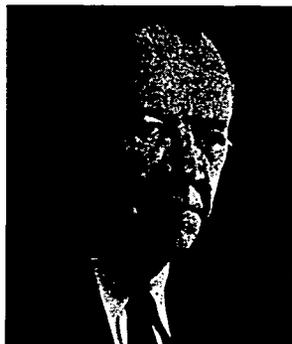

In Cleveland, William R. Daley, well-known city industrialist and chairman of the board of the Cleveland Indians, was named Man of the Year at the Club's annual dinner-dance held in the Statler Hilton. The Tangier Restaurant in Akron, April 26, was the scene of that Club's annual observance, addressed this year by Jim Armstrong. The Northwestern Ohio alumni held a dinner at the Milano Club in Lima, April 28, and were addressed by Jim Armstrong and Club member Fr. Donald Heintschel.

Coach Ara Parseghian was on hand at the K of C Home in Muncie, May 11, to welcome Alumni and friends; while in the Elkhart Country Club, April 18, the ND vice-president for student affairs, Rev. Charles C. McCarragher CSC, was the main speaker. Within the very shadow of the University, 180 members of the St. Joseph Valley Club, honoring Judge Robert A. ## SWEET SONG OF SPRING

THIS year's spring gridiron fashions, resplendent with new faces and budding talent, underwent their annual review against the Old-Timers in May. And the comment, from the more than 22,000 critics who saw the Varsity dress down its opposition 33-0, was that the pass is "in" once again at Notre Dame.

Concluding spring practice with the 43rd annual ball game against former Notre Dame football greats, Coach Ara Parseghian displayed a dynamic new aerial line modeled by the one-two freshman quarterback combination of Terry Hanratty and Coley O'Brien. On the receiving end of their pitches was another rookie team of Jim Seymour and Curt Heneghan. And providing an ominous backdrop to the offensive display was the presence of an unwavering Irish defensive eleven.

The response was unanimous following the May 7 classic: "This is a new and different ND team."

Little else could result from Parseghian's winter-long strategy meetings and the 25-day spring practice which had faced the task of:

—finding a quarterback who could provide an aerial attack, glaringly absent since the departure of John Huarte.

—replacing the almost unpenetrable defensive secondary of All-American Nick Rassas, Tom Longo and Tony Carey.

—building a forward offensive wall that this year would be minus All-American Dick Arrington, Phil Sheridan, Tom Talaga, Bob Meeker and Tom Sullivan.

Undaunted Pitching. In retrospect, the situation that confronted Parseghian and his staff in late March prior to spring drills, was not all that bleak. In both Hanratty and O'Brien, the Irish have two quarterbacks whose poise under an onrushing defensive would lead one to believe they had already seen the wars of big-time intercollegiate football.

Hanratty, a 6-1, 187 lb. freshman from Butler, Pa., who started for the varsity, dotted the airways with 30 passes, completing 13, two for touchdowns. He also was credited for two other scores, both coming on quarterback-keepers.

The 5-11, 168 lb. O'Brien, whose family lives in Washington, D.C., saw action with the Old-Timers for three quarters, recording three-for-12 completions before trading his white jersey for a blue varsity numeral. His average then took an upswing as he completed six for 13, throwing now to surer-fingered receivers.

A third contender, sophomore Tom Schoen, who many felt would figure prominently in the quarterback race after his showing last year, has come out of spring practice heir apparent to Nick Rassas' defensive safety slot. His credentials for the new post — a passer's split-second sense of timing and a full knowledge of pass patterns — were borne out during the Old-Timers Game as he repeatedly broke up aerials, intercepting one that took him on a 60-yard TD jaunt only to be nullified by a clipping penalty.

Unwavering Eleven. Joining Schoen in the defensive secondary are sophomores Tom O'Leary and Jim Smithberger, both of whom saw limited action last fall.

Parseghian's strength in returning lettermen rests in the "big four" defensive line of Alan Page, Pete Duranko, Tom Rhoads and Kevin Hardy. The 287 lb. Hardy, a junior tackle lost to the Irish for the entire season last year with a recurring back injury, appears in top physical condition and has turned in an outstanding spring performance.

Captain Jim Lynch will head the pack of returning linebackers that is a defensive coach's dream. Rounding out the foursome are Mike McGill, Dave Martin and John Pergine.

Not all was roses, however, insofar as Ara was concerned. Bemoaning the sluggish offensive blocking and concerned over the number of dropped passes, he remarked, "We'll have to do better."

Ara's remarks came after the spring game which saw the Varsity held to seven points the first half and repeatedly halted within the Old-Timers' 25-yard line.

Untried Front Wall. Only two lettermen return on the offensive line—center George Goeddeke and right guard Tom Regner. Filling the other holes at the conclusion of the spring practice were Dick Swatland at left guard, and Paul Seiler and Rudy Konieczny at tackles.

At the end positions, Ara has only one returning letterman, Don Gmitter, who missed the entire spring drill recovering from surgery. Beyond Gmitter, Parseghian is faced with an abundance of talented but untried underclassmen.

Two freshmen, Curt Heneghan from Redmond, Wash., and Jim Seymour from Berkley, Mich., presently have copped the two end slots. Both displayed good speed and excellent moves during the Old-Timers Game, but lacked the seasoned hands of veteran receivers. Seymour, 6-4 and 202 lb., was the favorite target, snagging 10 passes for 166 yards, including a 50-yard bomb from Hanratty on the fourth play of the game. Seymour also shapes up currently as the team's punter, succeeding Dan McGinn lost to the Irish through graduation.

With the quarterback chores apparently well-shouldered by Hanratty and O'Brien, the only remaining position to fill in the backfield is the right halfback slot vacated by senior Bill Wolski. His likely replacement is Robert "Rocky" Blier, a 5-11, 185 lb. sophomore from Appleton, Wis., who recorded 67 yards in 21 carries during the Old-Timers Game. Capably rounding out the backfield are veterans Larry Conjar at fullback and Nick Eddy at halfback.

Uninhabitable Running. Eddy, voted the nation's outstanding sophomore in 1964, led Notre Dame in rushing last season as a junior with 582 yards in 115 carries. Returning at fullback, Conjar finished his sophomore year with 535 yards in 137 carries for a 3.9 average.

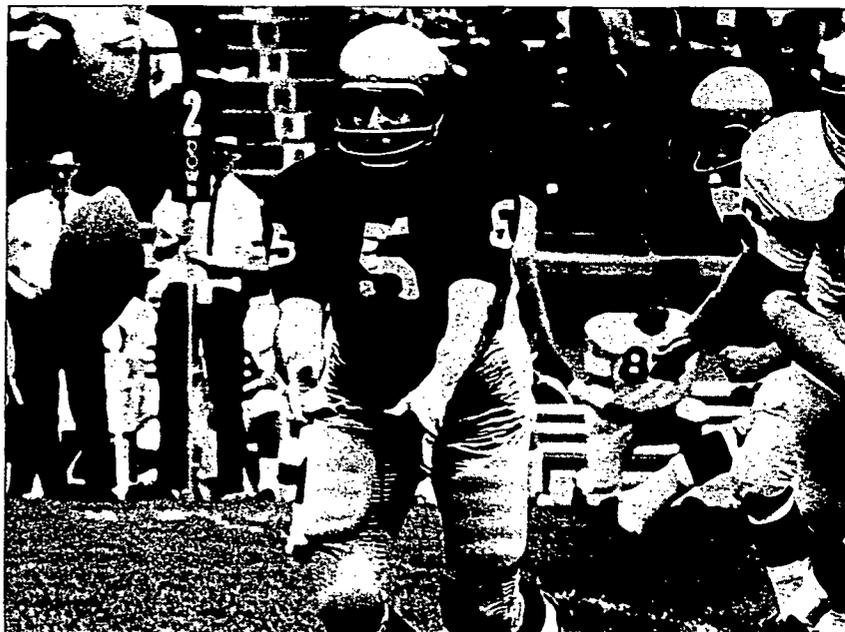

Spring practice which began the last week of March and brought forth almost 100 candidates for the team, also marked the appearance of two new coaches on Notre Dame's gridiron horizon. Jerry Wampfler, a 1954 Miami of Ohio graduate and later an assistant football coach there, now takes charge of the offensive line vacated by Dave Hurd who retired last fall to enter private business. Richard "Doc" Urich's departure for the head coaching position at State University of New York in Buffalo signaled the promotion of Freshman Coach George Sefcik to varsity end mentor. His replacement for the frosh team is Wally Moore, successful coach at South Bend's St. Joseph's High School.

The close of the spring drills also marked the announcement of the winners of the coaching staff's annual Hering Award. Named for Frank E. Hering, Notre Dame coach

VOICE IN THE CROWD:

Synthesis within "A Great University"

Thomas R. Bettag, an Arts and Letters senior from Rockford, Mich., and graduating sports editor of the Scholastic, filed the following editorial for his last column in "Voice in the Crowd." Editor.

IF IN THE course of life every blond gets tagged "dizzy," every teen-ager, "revolting," every professor, "absentminded," and every student, "apathetic," these people should consider themselves lucky to have to bear only one such epithet.

COACH ARA PARSEGHIAN

To be a sportswriter one must be simultaneously "gung-ho," "narrow-minded," "oblivious to the more important things in life," "uncultured," and, at times, "illiterate." A sportswriter just has to go around in his own little unreal world, speak an unintelligible jargon and never read further than the back page of the Sun Times. Because, after all, he is reflecting the world he is reporting. Or so the story goes.

Personal Reflection. As one looks back on four years of Notre Dame sports, there are the memories of great victories, outstanding performances and, also, of heart-breaking defeats. But even more than these, perhaps, one is struck by the people connected with Notre Dame sports. There are athletes like Bob Lehman, Gerry Grey, Jim Carroll, Bill Boyle and Ed Dean. There are the coaches of the major sports like Ara Parseghian and Johnny Dee; and minor sports coaches like Mike DeCicco. You think of the many people on the fringes upon whom the athletic program depends, men like Nappy Napolitano. The names are merely examples. The thing that strikes you is that these are not just average men. These are men remarkable for their energy, interest, intelligence and, above all, for a firm commitment.

You read a Sports Illustrated article from 1956 entitled "What Happens to Football Players?" The story is based upon a survey the Notre Dame Sociology Department did on the experiences of every living from 1896 to 1899, the awards this year were given to: Pete Duranko as the outstanding defensive lineman; Mike McGill as the outstanding defensive linebacker; Tom O'Leary as the outstanding defensive back; Dick Swatland as the outstanding offensive lineman; Nick Eddy as the outstanding offensive back; Curt Heneghan as the outstanding offensive receiver; Larry Conjar as the most consistent back; Jim Seymour as the outstanding freshman lineman; Terry Hanratty as the outstanding freshman back (offensive); and Ed Vuillemin as the outstanding freshman back (defensive).

The action on Cartier Field and in the stadium is not the only indication of Notre Dame's prospects this fall. Pouring in daily in record numbers are requests for season football tickets which went on sale May 2. Ticket manager Bob Cahill reported in mid-May that football season ticket sales reflect a 75 percent increase in total sales and a 3 to 1 increase in new orders. Last year's season ticket holders have only until June 1 to renew.

Fall 1966 will mark Ara's third year as head football coach of the Fighting Irish, and ND's 78th consecutive appearance on the gridiron.

Taking his 16-3-1 ND career slate into the forthcoming season, Parseghian will meet 10 teams that include Purdue (Sept. 24), at Northwestern (Oct. 1), Army (Oct. 8), North Carolina (Oct. 15), at Oklahoma (Oct. 22), at Navy (Oct. 29), Pittsburgh (Nov. 5), Duke (Nov. 12), at Michigan State (Nov. 19), and at Southern California (Nov. 26).

ROCKNE: Thirty-five Years

A plane was a rarity over the farmlands of Kansas in 1931. Several of the farmers looked up from their fields to watch the trimotor sputtering through the gray clouds. Moments later, it crashed into someone's muddy pasture, seven miles outside of Bazaar. All eight people aboard were killed. One was Knute Kenneth Rockne.

It's been 35 years since that day but still many persons recall what they were doing when they heard the news that March 31. As John Husar recently wrote in the Chicago Tribune: "To say nations were shocked and thousands were reduced to tears would be trite, but true. Today's generation can remember the impact of President Kennedy's death and, trusting history, sense how Rockne's passing was felt."

And if history is not sufficient, there are the events of today honoring the passing of a man that meant so much to Notre Dame, and helped make Notre Dame mean so much to the world. As they have for the past 35 years, the Notre Dame Club of St. Joseph Valley honored the man at the Knute Rockne Memorial Communion Breakfast, April 3.

Don Miller, one of three surviving members of the famed Four Horsemen backfield, spoke at the memorial breakfast following a Mass celebrated in Stanford-Keenan chapel on campus by Rev. Paul G. Wendel CSC, Club chaplain.

Miller, whom Rockne once described as the "greatest open-field runner I ever had," was but one in the procession of superstars Rockne molded from George "The Gipper" Gipp through the Four Horsemen to his final team, the undefeated 1930 squad featuring Frank Carideo, Marchy Schwartz, Marty Brill and Bert Metzger. Under his leadership the Fighting Irish lost but 12 games in 13 years and went through five winner of a Notre Dame monogram. The survey and story come to the conclusion that Notre Dame's football players, and athletes in general, have proven to be far more successful in business, in marriage and in public life than did the average college graduate. The monogram winners agree almost unanimously that they would go out for a sport if they had to do it over again. They credit sports primarily with the that requires more than a first-grade intelligence.

This University is striving vigorously for something, something that is at times very difficult to put one's finger on. In the broadest of terms, it is a striving to be a "great university." But that isn't much help to the definition. Perhaps the most we can say is that there is a desire to improve this University in whatever way becomes apparent at the time. This is a practical, but perhaps dangerous, method. While attempting to achieve the immediate goal, it is possible to lose sight of the end.

At the moment we seem to be striving to improve the academic atmosphere and are achieving some degree of success. But in thinking of the school's sports tradition as a link with the past, rather than part of the future, it is possible to view it merely as wins or losses rather than as a positive contribution. Because it is a positive contribution, it has been a great privilege to be a sportswriter. It is one of my greatest hopes that Notre Dame will achieve the final synthesis of academic and athletic, perhaps the biggest step towards being a great university.

formation of characteristics of teamwork, self-discipline, ability to accept adversity, and sportsmanship. A Greater Meaning. You see all this and you begin to think that sports is something more than wins and losses. Maybe there is a certain depth within it to which these men have become devoted. And maybe you as a sportswriter may be working with something seasons undefeated.

Head Football Coach Ara Parseghian told the guests at the Rockne Memorial Breakfast, "I am relatively new here, but ever since I have been here I have realized that the spirit of Rockne is still alive with all Notre Dame people."

Of the many things people remember of Rockne, perhaps most outstanding is his ability at making half-time speeches to Notre Dame teams. Best remembered is his "just one for the Gipper" talk during the Army-ND game of 1928. Notre Dame rallied to defeat the Cadets 12-6. Another time, after a disappointing first half, he just opened the locker room door, looked in, and said: "I beg your pardon. I thought this was the Notre Dame football team." He closed the door and walked away. Notre Dame rallied to win that contest, also.

Still another facet of Rockne's life was the physical hardships he endured. Suffering from a severe leg infection in 1929, he showed up for each game on a stretcher. His ailments and balding head made him seem far beyond his years. It is hard to recall that on that day in March, 1931, at the height of his career, Knute Kenneth Rockne was 43, only a few months older than present coach Ara Parseghian.

A CHARRED, MUDDY REMINDER: A letter that rode the trimotor into a Kansas field.

Dear Fellow Alumnus:

This letter is being written within hours of the adjournment of the spring Alumni Board meeting. Such meetings are always stimulating experiences. This one was doubly so because, by a happy coincidence, the Board was able to participate in the Senior Dinner, the traditional introduction of the senior class to the Alumni Association. It was, indeed, a rare honor for me to have been able to address this group.

It was also an occasion that stimulated in me mixed emotions. It is not given to many people outside the university administration to be able to have current and continuing contact with both the alumni and student viewpoints. Such a privilege comes in a limited way to those serving on the Alumni Board. Consequently, anything I said was tempered by an awareness that there might not be two different viewpoints, but rather two different conclusions reached when starting from the same facts.

There is at least one common interest—tradition. Most alumni are interested in preserving it, most students are interested in breaking it. For sheer excitement nothing can beat the shattering of a cherished tradition. Consequently, I must secretly be in sympathy with the students. However, the concern I expressed was not just with the elimination of an old custom, but rather with the idea that the elimination of any tradition was good. My concern is with a world that equates change with progress. Further, the more drastic the change the more desirable is the progress and, even worse, the more violent the methods used to effect the change the greater the progress. Heaven knows I am not a proponent of the status quo. But to indicate the belief that not all change is necessarily good, I asked the seniors how they decided which old customs and traditions to eliminate, and which customs and traditions to create.

Perhaps it now is time to ask the alumni a similar question. How do you decide which old customs and traditions to preserve? There is no more virtue in preserving a stifling or inhibitory concept than there is in the needless elimination of a useful tradition.

Which traditions are worth keeping? An easy answer is "... only those that help Notre Dame progress, or, at least, do not hinder progress." Who decides what encourages and what hinders progress? Each of us does—but the more we make an effort to understand what is taking place on the campus the better position we will be in to arrive at a rational conclusion.

There is an aliveness on the campus today that is impossible to describe. I think it comes about as the result of the fact that Notre Dame men are not being trained to respond to situations as Pavlov animals are trained, but rather are being educated to create the situations. In such an atmosphere change is inevitable.

The stereotyped picture of the alumnus is as the keeper of the traditions. The "visionary gleam in the eye" also sometimes causes the blind spots that prevent us from seeing obvious opportunities for advancement.

The student of today and the alumnus of the past have one thing in common. They are typical in that, almost invariably, they put progress ahead of peace. We shouldn't be surprised if there is less peace on the campus today than there was in the past. We should welcome it as a sign that present students recognize more opportunities for progress than we did.

I have implicit faith in the character of the present Notre Dame man. Whether we understand all his reactions or not, he is going to bring as much credit to Notre Dame in the future as have the illustrious graduates of the past. With a little effort I think we can understand him.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS P. CARNEY '37
President
