"I do not believe ND has digressed as far as some are led to believe."

ABOUT CHANGES AT ND

It is with mixed emotions that I report the (lack of) activities of the Ohio Valley ND Club. Recent changes at ND and the adverse publicity they have generated have caused most of the local Alumni to become disinterested to the extent that our ND Club has had no activities since last fall.

When questioned about lack of interest, some of the answers are—ND is no longer a Catholic University; Material wealth has spoiled ND; Religion is being neglected at ND; It is not the same school we attended; and I would not send my son to ND.

As the father of two sons at ND I have had the opportunity to visit the Campus and talk with some of the students. I am sorry to say there are some reasons for the above criticism, but I do not believe ND has digressed as far as some are led to believe.

In the first place the students have not changed appreciably in the past 35 years. It is the discipline and leadership that has changed. The students of yesterday were as confused about the future as those of today. Then it was the depression; today it is the war. Not much to look forward to. Then students looked to their instructors and the school administration for guidance; today they are led by their elected classmates who have to be controversial to maintain their positions.

Yesterday it was the Scholastic and the Daily Religious Bulletin that guided the students. Today it is the Scholastic and Observer. The Scholastic of yesterday was also edited by students but the administration must have been consulted more about its contents because it did not receive the adverse publicity it is now receiving.

Most of the older Alumni of the valley are concerned about the article "Religion on the Campus" in the March-April issue of the ALUMNUS. It evidently was not written by someone who lived there during the "old times" described, at least not during the years 1929-1933. I do not remember any demands that students attend daily Mass and receive holy Communion. They were encouraged to receive daily and opportunities for the sacraments were more available.

I also do not remember the whole student body assembling at the Grotto during May. That too was voluntary and was attended by fewer than 500 students.

It is true that lights were out at midnight (10 pm for freshmen) but that was an advantage. Everyone knew he would have to plan his day so he had his work done by midnight. There was no studying all night and sleeping through or in class the next day.

It may be too early to judge the results of the changes that are taking place but what was so wrong with the "old time religion" that produced such men as Cardinal O'Hara, Tom Dooley, Knute Rockne, Father Nieuwland and Pat Crowley?

To refute the statement that students of yesterday did not care about their fellow man, one only has to examine the works of the above men and the many others who carried on their work without fanfare or protest marches.

Because the present-day student does not have leaders to turn to, radical groups seize upon the opportunity to promote their ideologies. Many radicals have found ND a good place to expound their ideas. Many are led to believe all of the ideas expressed at ND are approved by the administration. Would it not be better if their ideas were expressed elsewhere? I am thinking of the Father Kavanaugh incident. We still have a hard time proving he was not president of ND.

MORE ABOUT PEACE AND WAR

This time last year I was there . . . commanding a Marine rifle company. For 13 months, I lived through the hell of heat often in excess of 120 degrees, flood-causing rains, treacherous rivers, mud, rats, ants, flies, mosquitos and (lest I forget) "Vietnamese Nationalists" . . . shooting, mining, shelling . . . maiming and killing the cream of American youth.

Believe me, my young conscientious objectors, it is not a Vietnamese Nationalist that we US occupation forces are fighting in Vietnam. It is a ruthless, calculating, unscrupulous, totally unethical Communist who will stop at nothing to further his aim. I saw him kidnap innocent civilians, terrorize peaceful communities with assassinations, use civilians as human shields while he fired upon US and South Vietnamese men, blow up his bridges, blow up civilian buses and other civilian vehicles . . . his own countrymen, if your reasoning is valid. This is the enemy we are fighting in Vietnam, the Vietnamese Nationalist you claim to support!

Yes, I saw civilians that we killed! I saw my men pinned hopelessly in open rice paddies, casualties mounting from the relentless fire we were receiving. I issued orders for artillery fire to be delivered on the village, the source of the enemy fire. Afterwards, we moved through the village and my men searched for the enemy. I saw the dead women and children lying there. And I watched as a photographer snapped a picture of my Marines moving past the dead civilians, sending it for you to see. So now you can form your accurate conclusions about how immoral our actions are in Vietnam. And don't forget to gather your statistics! And by all means, go on believing the half-truths of the press.

You may say what you like (I was one of many thousands who fought over there to ensure you of that privilege). But I respond to your statements as one who has been there, who knows that your words are not true. Of course, if you doubt my word, I have an excellent suggestion. Why don't you go over there and see for yourself? Then let me hear from you!

—Ed Banks '58

Capt. Jack Gleason III does not speak "for all ND men who have served as members of the Armed Forces" in feeling the pious and patriotic privilege he experiences in committing murder in Vietnam.

I am a former Marine Corps officer—I resigned from the reserve in 1966, having served on active duty from 1957 through 1960—who does not "sincerely believe that seldom has a man been able to live more fully according to the ideal of God, Country and Notre Dame than as a member of the Armed Forces participating in the defense of the Republic of Vietnam against an enemy seldom equalled in cruelty or in complete disregard of basic human and individual rights." Such disgusting stupidity!

—Bert G. Hornback '57, '61, '64

Congratulations to the 3000-plus brave and patriotic student "freedom fighters" who signed the ROTC-inspired petition condemning demonstrators who show a "basic disregard of human freedom" by non-violent direct action against the Presidential Review.

Signing such petitions is an ND tradition. Back in January, 1939, 600 undergraduates heroically went on public record as opposing the lifting of the US embargo on arms shipments to Spain, thereby demonstrating the ND man's devotion to the cause of human freedom as represented by the Fascist Franco and his reactionary allies (Hitler, the Catholic Church, the Army and the landowners).

More recently, in 1965, 3000 students blindly signed a petition supporting the US adventure in South Vietnam—like Spain, a "defense of freedom" from "Communism" which has produced more than its share of Guernicas.

An ND student petition is comparable in weight and honor to a HUAC citation. To borrow from a famous comment on the latter, I think it may be fairly observed that any ND demonstrator who is not at one time or another, for one reason or another, condemned by a student petition may be regarded as having wasted his time there and its opportunities for progressive citizenship and service to god(s), country and Earth Mother University.

GLADLY WE ACCEPT

Just as sure as April brings showers and May blossoms forth in newborn flowers, June (for Notre Dame Alumni) means only one thing: Class Reunions.

This year ten classes represented by more than 1,300 Alumni made the five-year rendezvous and this issue of the ALUMNUS, under the guidance of a gal whose name is June (June Shassere, our loyal assistant editor for the past year) recalls the old-fashioned three-day jam session for all to enjoy. The fun begins on page 10.

For the magazine staff and myself, this time of the year also signals a reunion of another sort, the annual meeting of alumni editors. Convening this year under Miami's air-conditioned palms at the American Alumni Council convention, the editors blew their own minds for three days—in this case on the old and the new of alumni publishing. What gave it special flavor was the presence of staffers from national magazines like Time, The Saturday Review and the Atlantic Monthly. And before the meeting was over, we alumnors had a pretty good idea of what our commercial counterparts thought about our magazines.

On the one hand they were pleased to see new life in what used to be tired old alumni journals. They felt that not only were these reprobates beginning to look the part but they were also coming up with the timely in-depth stories of campus life today.

Notre Dame magazines were on the receiving end of several awards. Newsweek presented the ALUMNUS with one of its top national publications awards, citing it for achievement "in alumni publication content relating the institution to public affairs." They had specific praise for the magazine's special feature on "Has Change Run Away with the Church?" (July-August, 1967) and "STUDENT POWER: An Inevitable Issue Takes Its Turn at Notre Dame," (November-December, 1967). Our sister publication, INSIGHT: Notre Dame, drew favorable reaction in the appearance category, being cited by Sports

Illustrated, and also was given national recognition for its photography, faculty sketches and institutional promotion.

After they were finished praising, the visiting firemen expressed certain misgivings about alumni publishing. They wanted to know—and I believe rightfully so—why so many of our publications don't interpret national problems from their own institution's perspective. Why aren't more alumni magazines addressing themselves—through their alumni, faculty, their research projects, their educational programs—to the problems of social inequity, the big-city ghetto, the Vietnam war, student unrest, water and air pollution, etc.?

Quite frankly, these national magazines are envious of our position. They believe alumni magazines have—or could have—a distinct advantage since our publications have a tremendously large—and captive—audience that represents this nation's intellectual and material wealth. And with that advantage, they also see the undeniable responsibility for us to mobilize that resource for the good of our society as well as for the cause of education. I, as well as my staff, accept that responsibility just as willingly and just as eagerly as I accepted the accolades that came our way last month. The need to express ourselves in such a manner has always existed and now, for us, the incentive has been renewed. We're proud to be publishing your Notre Dame magazines and we hope that in return we will merit your pride—and support.

The Time Is Now

By RICHARD A. ROSENTHAL

THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, celebrated this year, was also the first birthday of the National Notre Dame Alumni Senate. The Senate concept evolved some two and a half years ago when Dr. Thomas P. Carney, president of the Alumni Association, recognized an organizational gap in the structure of the Association.

For many years dedicated boards of directors of the Association had been frustrated in their attempts to converse with equally dedicated and interested Alumni-in-the-field on vital University problems. The tapping of the reservoir of talent (40,000-plus members) was a tremendous challenge the Association could ill afford not to meet.

The national character of the University of Notre Dame and its Alumni body provides many inherent strengths. But the diverse location of Alumni adds to the communications problem. Therefore the organizational structure of the Senate demanded a keen attention to geographical spread, with weighting given to population densities.

The structure of the Senate, formalized at the Alumni Board-Senate joint session at Notre Dame last May, provided for representation from each of the 159 active Alumni Clubs in the continental United States (the Club president, by virtue of his office, automatically becoming a member of the Senate). Additionally Clubs whose membership is greater than 199 will elect a second Senator, and those with membership greater than 749 will elect a third Senator.

The final organizational structure was adopted upon the recommendation of Club presidents, officers and directors around the country, as well as interested Alumni.

Senate members are charged with the prime responsibility of interpreting Notre Dame as it is today for their Alumni constituency and to bring back to the University the ideas, thoughts and desires of the Notre Dame family. The Alumni organization, as stated in its charter, finds its justification for existence in serving the University and its Alumni.

No longer will Alumni groups located 100 to 3000 miles apart be forced to operate without the common bond of the University. The Senate will tie together the Notre Dame family in the charter responsibilities of "serving the University and its Alumni." This is not to say that individual Club initiative will be frustrated. Quite the contrary, the best of Club innovation will be shared.

Newly established Alumni programs that received strong support at the joint Alumni Board-Senate meeting in May were broadly categorized into 1) Closer Alumni-student relations, 2) Deeper Alumni and faculty cooperation and 3) Alumni participation in an imaginative admissions program.

At the 1967 fall meeting of the Alumni Board a representative group of students was invited to visit with the Board so both groups might come to know and understand each other better. The success of this meeting was so great it was suggested such efforts be duplicated between Alumni groups and students across the country.

The idealism of today's student will unquestionably stimulate the Alumni and the practical seasoning of Alumni will undoubtedly be of value to the students. Such meetings are presently being organized.

Understandably today's Notre Dame faculty is the most sophisticated, vital and diverse group ever assembled at the University. Faculty representatives have expressed a desire to know better the Notre Dame Alumnus and recognize the void that exists between Alumni and faculty. Faculty members have volunteered to join in Club meetings for an evening of discussion and/or to present papers on subjects of topical interest.

The Admissions Office has authored a student recruitment program which would cover substantially every high school in metropolitan areas. Notre Dame Alumni will be assigned the responsibility of carrying admissions information to the high schools and to become so well-acquainted with counselors, principals and teachers that no student of Notre Dame calibre will be lost due to a lack of information about Notre Dame programs and facilities.

Additionally Clubs across the country are establishing a Notre Dame Scholar award as a vehicle highlighting Notre Dame's academic excellence.

The Senate is clearly a vehicle through which the contributions of individual Alumni can be concentrated in a synergistic phenomenon where the sum of the parts is greater than the whole. Notre Dame men are continually looking for ways to better their University. And now the opportunity is at hand.

The Century's Legacy

By JAMES D. COONEY

AS INDICATED by Association President Richard Rosenthal in this issue, the Notre Dame Alumni Senate is now a reality. The realization of the concept comes at a significant moment — the 100th Anniversary of the Alumni Association.

Creation of the Senate, an exciting and unprecedented entity in Alumni organization, is a fitting capstone to a century of unparalleled Alumni devotion and involvement in the life of a dynamic University. As we close the 1868-1968 books, the axiom "The past is but prologue" emerges meaningfully.

While our 100th is not marked with pealing bells, institutional extravaganza, or even modest hula-balloo, there is nevertheless cause for personal rejoicing. Anniversaries are, after all, personal kinds of things. And, each Notre Dame Alumnus should take a hiatus and savor the accomplishments that have been ours, and our University's.

The century has seen kaleidoscopic change within the institution which is our common experience and within all of us who have passed this way. Change is often a wrenching process and our experience has not been without concern and anguish on occasion.

But retrospect should show that nothing of value is ever really created, built or nourished without discomfort, sacrifice and often pain. It's also axiomatic that creation can be an intensely satisfying act. And we have participated in the creation of a great University, which is one of the most noble works of which man is capable.

There are, however, great liabilities associated with what we have done, for a university is a vibrant, living thing and as it achieves new levels of perfection, its needs irrevocably increase.

And this means that our responsibilities, our liabilities proportionately multiply. This is why the Alumni Senate is not just an unexpected arrival on the Notre Dame horizon. It's an imperative.

This is also why the century's legacy should not woo us into euphoric reminiscence, but should stir our inclinations, fire our imaginations, set new directions.

The Alumni Clubs, always among our greatest strengths, are accepting this challenge. The concept of continued (but substantially increased) service to the University is realized in new programs of faculty relations, student relations, student recruitment, public relations and development.

The concept of service to the Alumni is bearing new fruit in programs of placement, continuing education, community service and more effective and direct communication with the University. The Clubs through Senate influence and guidance are investigating every means at hand to heighten their effectiveness.

A most exciting aspect of these efforts is Club involvement in community service or social action programs, ranging from work with the retarded, the underprivileged, the diseased, to sponsorship of cultural events. The spirit of Christianity, a hallmark of Notre Dame since 1842 and long a distinguishing mark of its Alumni, is now found realized in multi-faceted Club effort and program. The possibilities here are unlimited. The needs are constantly apparent. The Clubs are answering the call.

But the Clubs' effectiveness is directly proportionate to the interest and participation of the members. Newly launched, relevant programs shall require a greater degree of involvement. As we look forward to the next 100 years, that's one of our challenges.

RICHARD ROSENTHAL '54 is president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association.

JAMES COONEY '59 is executive secretary of the Notre Dame Alumni Association.

ACC DIRECTOR PLOUFF and NEW AIDE, JOE SASSANO
And just think how it will look then!

Anticipating Isn't Half the Fun

JUST two years ago the first spadeful of dirt was turned, the first truck moved into the area across from the stadium on Juniper Road and the Athletic and Convocation Center was on its way.

Now the massive double-domed building is almost complete, yet it shields from the view of the casual observer the tremendous variety of equipment being installed. What will it offer once its doors are opened?

Beneath the south dome are just under 12,000 multicolored seats surrounding, coliseum-style, the basketball floor. When the Notre Dame five aren't facing opponents, a portable stage can cover the court and make space for personalities appearing on Campus. In the event of sell-out crowds, 1,000 chairs can be set up to bring the grand total of big dome seating to a little less than 13,000.

A variety of activities can progress at one time in the massive area under the north dome. An ice rink, 200 feet by 85 feet, bordered by permanent seats for 1200, has been constructed for hockey practice and play and recreational skating. A shop for sales and service on skates and equipment will be available.

Runners will have no need to worry about their shoes damaging the indoor track because it is covered with a new rubberized material which is resistant to spike damage. The ten laps to the mile can be run any time without disturbance from baseball practice in the track infield. With the installation of nets which can be raised and lowered, there should be no fear of tracksters being beamed by a pop fly. Also accommodated under this dome are a pole vault area and a high jump area where the traditional pits are replaced by mats.

Still More. All these things don't fill up that floor and a great deal of it is to be left open and considered part of the 203,000 square feet of display space available for conventions and trade shows.

Scattered throughout the rest of the complex are four other gyms with basketball and volleyball courts and room for free play. Weight-lifting rooms, with weights and other exercise apparatus, are being constructed. There is also an area designated for faculty workouts; it is complete with sauna baths. It is rumored this may occasionally be used for ladies' nights, too.

Adding elegance to the building is the Monogram Room, a paneled expanse which can be divided into smaller areas for meetings. It has its own kitchen, too.

As if all this doesn't seem enough to fill a building, the Athletic and Convocation Center also is home for most of the sports offices and offers such niceties as private interview rooms for the press.

Among those who will be enjoying the brand-spanking newness is Joseph Sassano '55, '59, former head football coach at Chicago's Weber HS. Sassano has been appointed assistant director of the ACC and will lend his helping hands to John Plouff, managing director, in overseeing all facets of the operations in the $8.6 million facility.

When will all this magnificence be ready for public viewing? The grand opening is scheduled for Dec. 1-8 and a variety of activities is being planned to spotlight the occasion. Dr. Thomas P. Bergin '45 is chairman of a campus-community committee planning the dedication.

Big Times Ahead. Some of the possible events are the appearance of a well-known star (this would be broadcast from the Center on national television); an all-city band, choral and orchestra concert led by a famous conductor; the annual football banquet (which this year will be open to women for the first time); a medley of sports events including an ice skating exhibition by Miss Indiana of 1968, Lynn Haglund; and a display of South Bend industry.

Dec. 7 the ND quintet will meet UCLA in the opening game in the new arena and the official ceremonies will be Sunday, Dec. 8, with the dedication Mass following a luncheon at the Center.

It is a week which promises something for everyone as Notre Dame marks the beginning of the age of the Athletic and Convocation Center.

Meanwhile, Over There . . .

A new age begins and people are apt to forget quickly what went before—for example, the Fieldhouse. Built in 1898, it served ND well in a variety of roles, the primary one being sheltering of ND basketball teams, their opponents and the spectators who came to cheer.

It was presumed that, with the completion of the Athletic and Convocation Center, the old Fieldhouse would be razed and a grassy mall planted where once Irish cagers trod.

The demolition was scheduled to begin early in June but has been delayed, probably permanently. Instead the building may be turned over to the student body for conversion into a place for social gatherings. The students are excited about the idea since it has been a standard complaint for years that there isn't any place you can take a date, especially if you aren't 21.

FIELDHOUSE OF THE FUTURE?
What's this world coming to?

So, in behalf of the minors and oldsters alike, architecture students undertook the job of exploring possibilities. One plan, which combines a number of ideas, calls for a student center area. The design includes a miniature mall typical of many suburban shopping centers. Also included are shops such as a small bookstore and shoe repair, meeting places, a restaurant or two and, of course, lounging space for those perennial complainers.

The idea of making the old structure into South Bend's own Fun City has been voiced around and fairly well received. Conversion into stores, boutiques and cafes is appealing and would certainly add a new dimension to Campus life; but no final decision has been made on exactly how the Fieldhouse will serve the ND family for the next few generations.

We Never Had It So Good

Dormitory living will take on a new air when students occupy the new accommodations now being constructed behind Memorial Library. The 11-story dormitories are a far cry from anything ND has seen before.

The rooms will all be doubles and color coordinated by the interior decorator who works for the architectural firm. Each room will contain dual-type beds which can be used as couches during the day and for sleep come nighttime.

The wardrobes will stand seven feet high and measure four feet wide and two feet deep. Each one will contain a number of drawers for folded storage as well as a bar for hanging clothes. To minimize space problems the wardrobes will have sliding doors. For studying, each student will be provided with a desk which will contain bookshelves and a light.

Perhaps the biggest furniture feature is its mobility, allowing not only varying arrangements within the room but also for conversion of two connecting rooms into suites, with all bed furniture in one room and the study area in the other.

One feature of the new dorms which will entice students is the air-conditioning.

Another luxury item is carpeting in the corridors. Originally it was scheduled for the entire buildings but costs forced cutting carpet from the dorm rooms. It is possible room carpeting may be reinstated in later plans, but one area definitely slated for the treatment is the lounge which will connect the towers. Couches, chairs, coffee tables and television will make this section of the building an attractive one in which to entertain visitors.

Life, Student Style, Goes On

"This gives the Board the highest hopes for the future of an increasingly significant and meaningful society at Notre Dame, provided that the many, often apathetic, are willing to join the presently active few and to work together, intelligently and responsibly, for the ultimate good of the whole community."

This quote from Edmund Stephan, chairman of the ND Board of Trustees, in his statement of policy on student life, gives hope to the students, too. As a result of a meeting between the board and faculty, administration and student representatives, ND students have been given a voice which was not heard before.

At April's end, the Board approved the principle of "equal representation of faculty, administration and students on a legislative University Student Life Council, with a comparable structure for adjudication and review in serious disciplinary matters."

The type, number and powers have been defined. Now all that remains are elections and the real work. July 18 Student Body Pres. Richard Rossi, Rev. Charles McCarragher CSC, Edward Murphy, Phil Faccenda (assistant to the president) and Edmund Stephan worked out final plans for the Student Life Council.

The Council will be made up of eight students, eight faculty members and eight administrators, with two from each group acting as ex-officio members. These will be the student body president and vice-president; Ed Murphy, chairman of the Faculty Senate, and Gerald Jones, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs; Father McCarragher, vice-president for student affairs, and Rev. James Riehle CSC, dean of students.

The role of this new council is primarily legislative, setting up rules which the undergraduates must observe. Any Student Senate resolutions or petitions bearing the signatures of 500 students will be taken up immediately.

The first meeting of the Student Life Council will be Oct. 14, shortly after the remaining six members of each division have been chosen. The election of student members will be on a Campus-wide basis. "We want to get away from the class system and make this a united University," Rossi said. "We feel that freshmen and seniors should be treated alike."

Also in the making is a Student Judiciary. This committee will take up all infractions by the students either on a hall or Campus-wide level.

Rossi has not let the summertime disrupt his duties as student body president. Since the beginning of June he has remained on the Campus, making ready his year as No. 1 leader. In addition to his work on the Student Life Council, Rossi has been making plans for another group of 20 students—the Student Academic Council.

"Although the Student Life Council is very important because we want to see it work, academic reform is my real pet," he claims. "The big question now is 'How can we improve academics on this Campus?' To answer this, we must first ask ourselves these questions: What exactly is the nature of education? How is our educational system geared here? What are we trying to produce? What is a good teacher and how do you determine this?"

One of the projects the Academic Council hopes to initiate is a "Freshman-Sophomore Year of Studies" which would be an integrated study of the humanities. Presently there is only a Freshman Year of Studies division in the University. The new division would attempt to put more emphasis on the undergraduate school.

ON

THE MOREAU MASS---and MONEY

IT BEGAN in the fall of 1966 when a small group of nuns walked around the lake to comprise most of the congregation at Moreau Seminary's first public 11 am Sunday Mass. Opening up the traditionally closed Mass to the whole People of God was one of the innovations of the Rev. Louis J. Putz CSC, Moreau's rector, and today's worshippers come 20 minutes early in hopes of a seat.

The attraction? Simple. The Moreau Mass has what every pastor and liturgist is looking for — that elusive quality called "community." And contrary to what might be expected, it is not as homogeneous as the average parish. Looking around, one spots teenage girls from town, the head of the psychology department, one of the leading Pentecostal movement proponents on the theology faculty, Saint Mary's women, a beard on a man here, a hat on a woman there, and so on.

The liturgy is folk, but not radical. Spoken petitions are invited from the congregation, and there is a "handshake of peace" at the Agnus Dei. Otherwise, it's rather much the same liturgy the ordinary parish advertises somewhat disparagingly as its "Teenage Mass." The music is mainly Ray Repp and Missa Bossa Nova, well executed by seminarians.

The sermons are unquestionably superior, especially when Rev. John Dunne CSC, a quiet-spoken theologian who preaches as though he is leading a seminar, or Father Henri Nouwen, a Dutch priest-psychologist whose approach is more histrionic, are in the pulpit.

The popularity of Moreau has not been lost on those across the lake. Sacred Heart this year initiated a folk liturgy at 12:15 pm Mass, and (although it might be coincidental) more South Bend parishes seem to be allowing a folk liturgy option.

While no one would argue that every parish ought to be a Moreau, it would be a channel-visioned person indeed who would not admit that Moreau — with its unusual sense of community — might not have something to offer a pastor seeking a liturgy which is relevant without being unorthodox.

The real tragedy of the Vatican's turn-down of the American Bishops' request to set up liturgical experimentation centers at such universities as Notre Dame is that successful experiments such as the Moreau Mass might remain "outside of town and on the other side of the lake."

CRU-UN . . CH! SNAP! THUD! What's that you hear? That's the tread of the efficiency expert in academe. He doesn't want to be called an "efficiency expert." His foot is slippered and his pace measured, but sensitive faculty ears are attuned to his every step. What has brought him to the Campus? A money squeeze.

From 1910 to 1950, the nation's per capita gross national product rose faster than college expenditures per student, but between 1949-50 and 1963-64 (virtually co-extensive with the Father Hesburgh era at ND) the real increase in the educational cost-per-student was 79 percent versus an increase of only 34 percent in per capita GNP.

As one observer summarized the situation, "If we extrapolated current trends sufficiently far into the future, the entire GNP would be devoted to higher education. This is plainly impossible: hence the much discussed 'crisis in college finance.'"

A sign of the times came recently with the installation of Charles Hitch as the president of the U. of California, replacing Clark Kerr. Gone was the academically trained economist and in was the experienced comptroller who successfully applied systems analysis to McNamara's Pentagon programs.

The appointment of Dr. Thomas E. Stewart, former associate vice-president for academic affairs, to head a new Office for Planning and Analysis and to direct a comprehensive institutional study is local evidence of the national trend.

The basic analytic tool of this new breed of campus planner is "PPBS"—policy, programming, budgeting systems. It sounds complicated, but it is really nothing more than a highly systematic, more complicated and longer range version of what we all go through when we sit down with our checkbook and try to figure out how to buy that badly needed new car. We establish goals and priorities (policy), figure out how we are going to achieve them (programs), especially in view of limited resources (budgeting).

Few persons quarrel with attempts to apply PPBS to the business office (or even to the development office), but there are many who are disturbed at the thought of this approach being used on the academic side—in determining, for example, the optimum size of an academic department in order to accomplish set teaching and research objectives.

"The search for new knowledge is extremely difficult to program," Kingman Brewster, president of Yale, remarked at an education writers' symposium this spring, succinctly voicing the skeptics' case.

On the other hand, PPBS proponents argue the academic side of education is not so mystical it cannot be submitted to rational analysis and, furthermore, such analysis should be welcomed in the avowed House of Reason.

One thing is certain—unless some kind of systematic matching of resources to goals is accomplished in academe, the next footfalls heard might be the pallbearers for private higher education.

What About Those Gals?

Foundations will soon take an active role in promoting the affiliation of liberal arts colleges and universities, according to Dr. George N. Shuster '15, assistant to ND's president.

Speaking to summer school students and the public in July, Dr. Shuster said small college faculties are increasing pressure for access to the research facilities of a university. He added, however, that future technological developments might permit affiliation without geographical relocation of schools.

He declined to detail the possibilities of collaboration being discussed by faculty-administration committees of ND and neighboring Saint Mary's Col. But he noted SMC's recent elimination of graduate programs means she is going to remain a liberal arts college while ND "seems more and more a university."

The possible relocation of Barat Col. of Lake Forest, Ill. puts the discussion in the "cluster college" concept stage. Barat is an "experimental case," Dr. Shuster said, which points up the difficulties of affiliation and also its opportunities.

He implied the future might see several colleges clustered around ND and also said the University had been approached about affiliation by still another college, a non-sectarian one. "Something of the vitality of Notre Dame can be seen in the fact that it can, by its own nature, attract non-Catholic institutions," he commented.

In answer to a question following the talk, Dr. Shuster said he felt ND was "big enough" already and had no intention of "gobbling up" smaller institutions. The trend, he pointed out, is in the opposite direction, with large state university systems attempting to "break up the colossus" in a variety of smaller educational units.

He predicted South Bend would be the center of two major university complexes with Indiana U. having at least 25,000 students and probably a medical school. The private complement to this public institution, he said, would be a Notre Dame around which other colleges will cluster to form "one of the great private universities of the United States and possibly of the world."

Dr. Shuster's attitude toward the collaboration between SMC, Barat and ND was cautiously optimistic. "We're getting there very slowly, but we will get there," he said.

The joint committee for ND and SMC is scheduled to report to University trustees this fall. Barat's plans are expected to be announced yet this summer.

DR. STEWART

A comprehensive study of all facets of the University and the creation of a new Office for Planning and Analysis have been announced by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC, president. In a letter to the faculty, Father Hesburgh said, "We must go into a truly comprehensive study of every aspect of our present operation and future planning . . . and use this self-knowledge to organize and manage our situation in the most reasonable, economic and efficient way." He noted this broad-gauged institutional study would parallel a complete study of the curriculum which was announced in April.

Dr. Thomas E. Stewart '57, '59, associate vice-president for academic affairs, was named to the new post of assistant to the president for planning and analysis. Dr. Stewart will work with a steering committee headed by Rev. Edmund P. Joyce CSC, executive vice-president, in carrying out the study. The NYC management consulting firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget, earlier retained to study business operations, will act in an advisory capacity.

You Can't Tell the Players Without Their Hats

MAN, THERE WERE HATS galore. All over the place. Dome busters as well as mini toppers. And chapeaux of more different colors than even the rainbow. In all a record 1,327 were handed out to Alumni June 7-9 at "Reunion '68."

Gold colored for 1918ers, silver hats for the Class of '43 and in between there were red, green, blue and purple caps for the other returning grads whose class years end in 3 or 8. And then there were the chaps wearing the white hats — the "good guys" from 1928, so they said.

Ten classes returned for the three-day rendezvous. And back in Dome-land they found plenty of fun and frolic, football films, familiar faces, a full-blown campus and even a frank, forthright afternoon of discussion of change in the Church. In-between-times there were the hours just for easygoing talk under the canvas. It was indeed a full weekend.

There also were the sobering moments, one in particular that pervaded the entire weekend. That was the death of Senator Robert Kennedy and his burial Saturday of the Reunion. In his memory numerous Masses were said on the Campus while the Notre Dame family nationwide joined in prayer.

Despite the tragedy, the festivities went on. They officially began — Thursday morning under clear skies and moderate temperatures that prevailed throughout the weekend — with the arrival of Notre Dame monogramers. Their traditional golf outing attracted 180 old-time coaches and athletic heroes of bygone days. Among them were Don Miller, Creighton Miller, Pat Filley and Corwin Clatt. John Murphy '38 was elected president of the Monogram Club and Bill Earley '43 was chosen secretary-treasurer.

From Every Direction. The onslaught came Friday when the majority of returning grads began filling up Alumni, Dillon, Morrissey, Howard, Lyons and Walsh Halls. The 50-Year Clubbers along with the Class of 1918 received the VIP treatment as they — together with wives — were housed in the Morris Inn.

Class dinners and all the accompanying shenanigans highlighted the Friday evening programs. Nationally known Alumni took the platform at their respective Class gatherings and teamed with University officials to present perspectives on various topics from within as well as beyond the Campus.

Issues — bordering on the controversial — also were given an airing Saturday when the annual Alumni Seminar convened in the Center for Continuing Education. For three hours faculty panelists presented papers on the question, "Has Change Run Away with the Church?" Floor debate followed and Alumni soon found themselves in the spirit of challenge and answer so characteristic of today's University.

Hours earlier at an unprecedented Reunion-wide luncheon in the North Dining Hall, Notre Dame's president, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC, delivered his annual "State of the University" address. Normally the president addresses the Reunioners at the Saturday evening banquet while box lunches on the lawn have customarily been the noon menu. This year the president's prior commitments necessitated the shift.

Felicitations. At the luncheon Alumni Assoc. Pres. Richard A. Rosenthal '54 presented Father Hesburgh with a special citation commemorating the 25th anniversary of his ordination. The antique-framed plaque read:

"We admire you as our president, perpetuating and elevating during your administration the values of this place, always cherished by us. But, we honor you especially now for never losing your sense of priesthood in the midst of the overwhelming pressures of your presidency. You continue every day, in Christ with love, to experience the joy and to manifest the humility of your calling.

"It is with deep gratitude that we, as sons of the University you have so well served, commemorate your priesthood and offer each month for perpetuity the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for your specific intentions. In this way we thank you, and we praise you as a priest forever, according to the Ancient Order."

Father Hesburgh, a member of the Class of 1938 which had its 30-year Reunion that weekend, was ordained June 24, 1943. Seated at the head table and participating in the presentation were six past presidents of the Alumni Association: Thomas F. Byrne '28, Francis Wallace '23, J. Patrick Canny '28, John C. O'Connor '38, Oliver H. Hunter '43 and Philip J. Faccenda '51.

Other Tributes. Special honors also were a part of the Saturday evening banquet. Members of the Class of 1918 attending their golden anniversary Reunion received special miniature diplomas from Rev. Edmund P. Joyce CSC, executive vice-president of the University.

Presented to the 24 members of the Class who attended, the diplomas recognized their status as loyal Alumni in their service "to God, country and fellow man. . ." Adding their congratulations to this year's 50-year group were the evening's guest speakers, Coaches Johnny Dee and Ara Parseghian.

Duffers had their moment, too, when awards were made to winners of the Annual Alumni Golf Tournament. Gene Fehlig '43 took home top prize in the 36-hole tournament with his 141 gross score. In the senior 18-hole tournament Tom Jordan '38 won honors with a 74 while in the junior class Joe Gaucher '48 was also low with a 74.

Sunday morning Mass in Sacred Heart Church concluded the three-day holiday. Rev. Joseph Fey CSC, University chaplain, joined eight other Alumni priests for the concelebrated Mass and delivered the homily to the late Senator Kennedy.

The Campus then emptied and the players left . . . not one of the 1327 hats remained . . . big, little, red or blue . . . Besides, what's one without the other?

Golden Class of '18 Joins the Ranks of the 50-Year Club

By GEORGE WAAGE '18

This is the toughest report I have had to submit. The reason is that I'm supposed to report on the Golden Jubilee Reunion in 700-1000 words. It would take that many and more to report on the wives that attended! The lovely ladies must have been Miss Americas 50 years ago. The Morris Inn was loaded with charm and it was a first for the ladies to be invited to a Class Dinner.

Rev. C. J. WILLIAMS invited Head Coach Ara Parseghian, Ticket Mgr. ROBERT CAHILL '34 and JAMES E. ARMSTRONG '25 who addressed us after dinner.

Our first event was Thursday night, the Monogram Club cocktail party, dinner and meeting at Morris Inn. Those attending were Father Williams, BILL ANDRES, CHARLIE CALL, JIM LOGAN, PETE NOONAN, PETE RONCHETTI, FRANK RYDZEWSKI, JOHN VOELKER and WAAGE.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were all planned out—"go here be there at such a time"—and all had a real good time. Our Class stayed at the Morris Inn where our Class Dinner was. Those present included Ruth Call, Margaret Harbert, Marie Kazus, Phyllis Lemmer, Jeannette Logan, Justine Rodrigues, Anne Ronchetti and Marie Seng.

Saturday the big event was the Annual Alumni Banquet at 6:30 pm. After dinner Rev. EDMUND P. JOYCE CSC called the Class of 1918 to the head table and presented each one of us with an honorary diploma which, beyond a doubt, will be cherished by all of us. This was another first by our Class and I believe it will become an annual award for the Golden Jubilee Class.

After dinner we returned to Morris Inn and joined the ladies and Pete Ronchetti brought out his "squeeze box"—the same he had while in school—and you can believe me from then on the air was filled with old songs.

Gotta give thanks to your Class committee and especially Rev. Charles J. Williams for time and effort spent to make our Reunion successful and most interesting. Gotta thank MAX G. KAZUS for his great idea of honorary diplomas. Max also brought with him two 1914 huge panorama pictures which will be turned over to ND.

Honestly a lot of you guys were missed. We express our thanks for a wire and letter from Dr. EDWARD J. REYNOLDS who wrote "I enclose a token payment on the interest of my debt to the University and I hope that you enjoy a very happy reunion." I know that Reynolds would have enjoyed seeing classmates Dr. RENE RODRIGUES and Dr. NEIL "WHITEY" WHALEN and their wives. Both couples have made world tours.

Thanks also have to go to JAMES D. COONEY '59, executive secretary of the Alumni Assoc., and to JOHN P. THURIN '59, editor of the ALUMNUS. Now that you have been welcomed into the 50-Year Club I hope to see you on Campus in June, 1969. May you live to be 100 with health, contentedness and peace.

Both the Long and the Short of It for '23: Great!

By LOUIS BRUGGNER '23

Never have '23 men met in closer camaraderie than at our 45th Reunion. The attrition of the years on our roster was fully accounted for by the deaths in the intervening five years.

Friday night's Class Dinner at the South Bend Country Club (as it was in 1963 and 1958) was a huge success and was attended by 48 of our 52 registrants. (Four men did not check in until Saturday). Outgoing Pres. FRANCIS WALLACE presided at the meeting and at the installation of our new officers: W. EDMUND SHEA, president; EDWARD P. KREIMER, vice-president; LOUIS V. BRUGGNER, secretary; and JOSEPH W. NYIKOS, treasurer.

A full turnout attended the Class Mass in Howard Hall chapel Saturday morning, celebrated by REV. LEO WARD CSC.

So enthusiastic were the reunionists of '23 that already plans were being laid for our Golden Anniversary Reunion in 1973. Then we will be quartered in Morris Inn, with special attention planned for wives wishing to attend. At the 1968 gathering, six of the distaff "classmates" spent a convivial Friday evening at dinner at Morris Inn. Joining the South Bend hostesses, Mrs. Arthur Diedrich, Mrs. Louis V. Bruggner and Mrs. Edward P. Kreimer, were Mrs. Daniel D. Lynch, Mrs. Cyril Neff and Mrs. Dan Nolan. These six say they'll be back in five years. Deo volente.

The 52 reunionists of record are FRANCIS BREEN, MARTIN BRENNAN, LOUIS V. BRUGGNER, GLEN CARBERRY, PAUL CASTNER, RICHARD E. CORDRAY, J. DANIEL CULHANE, LOUIS A. DeSMET, ARTHUR

Bill Dwyer Describes the Reunion Atmosphere Aptly

By LOUIS BUCKLEY '28

The corridors and the basement of Walsh Hall again are still. The trampled grass on the Walsh Hall lawn is outgrowing its bruises. And miles away in all directions from Honduras, Central America, to Minnesota and from Florida and New York to California, the men of '28 carry the memories of another great Reunion.

BILL DWYER expressed the views of each of the 180 men of '28 who were present when he observed, "The '28 Reunion of 1968 was again a phenomenon of human relationships. Where else could you possibly find such a delightful kaleidoscopic conglomeration of conviviality, thoughtful talk, mature good humor and sheer sophomoric fun? The threads of spirituality so strongly woven through the fabric of festiveness gave it balance and set it apart. Every hour, even the wee small ones in the Walsh Hall basement Saturday and Sunday am, brought fun and happy memories."

The close-knit fellowship which characterizes the '28 Class was evident from the early arrival Thursday of more than 50 classmates to late Saturday when the last of the 180 joined us, thus swelling attendance to over 56 percent of the living classmates who were graduated 40 years before. I believe this breaks all records of Reunion attendance at Notre Dame. Although we had 10 more classmates at our 25th Reunion, the percentage attendance is much greater because 63 classmates have died since 1953.

The '28 Reunion opened officially with a Mass for early arrivers Friday morning offered by REV. ANDY MULREANY CSC and served by VINCE CARNEY. As additional classmates arrived Friday, each joined the superb gathering of old friends at our old home, where each relaxed and resumed his old place with the companions of 40 years ago.

Friday evening we joined together at the Class Dinner in the beautiful Center for Continuing Education. JOHN IGOE did his usual superb job as toastmaster. The report by Treas. JOE LANGTON indicated an excellent response to his efforts in securing funds for keeping the Class on the road and in building up our Mass fund.

The classmates selected by JIM ALLAN's nominating committee were elected Class officers for the next five years as follows: Pres. EDWARD R. QUINN; Treas. J. JOSEPH LANGTON; Sec. LOUIS F. BUCKLEY; and vice-presidents GEORGE E. LEPPIG (South), WILLIAM B. JONES (East), WILLIAM K. DWYER (Midwest) and CHRISTIE FLANAGAN (West). We were pleased to have GEORGE COURRY announce at the '28 Class Dinner that he planned to donate $40,000 to the University in honor of the 40th anniversary of the Class of '28.

Your secretary was surprised and deeply moved when he was given a most generous gift with a card carrying the notation "The entire Class of '28 loves you much." My wife Pauline and I want to thank the thoughtful classmates who were responsible for this wonderful present to us. We will remember you when we use the funds for a trip to Eastern Europe this summer.

The visit to the Grotto after the good time at the Class Dinner was a spiritual highlight. The rosary led by Fathers MULREANY and McSHANE with each of us holding a lighted candle was very impressive.

The large turnout, including some 20 wives of classmates, Saturday morning at Sacred Heart Church at the Mass for our deceased classmates was most gratifying. We joined in the concelebrated Mass by Fathers Mulreany, McShane and FITZGERALD, with one of JOHN LITZINGER's 11 children as one of the servers, and with TONY REILLY as the other, GEORGE SCHEUER as lector, FRANK CREADON leading the group in singing and VINCE CARNEY as organist.

Saturday evening we joined the Reunion Parade, 180 strong, with a Class banner and each classmate wearing his gold tie, blue shirt and '28 plaque to the Alumni banquet where we let the returning Alumni of all Classes know we were there. Following the banquet, we saw pictures taken at previous Reunions which brought back fond memories of classmates who are no longer with us—such as JOHN RICKARD who died in April.

We were honored and impressed by the 1928 exhibit in the Memorial Library which included copies of books written by '28 men, our Class surveys and the newspaper articles from the Chicago Sun-Times and the South Bend Tribune regarding our survey. Incidentally, a few days before our Reunion, the Chicago Sun-Times devoted the cover and most of their Midwest Magazine section to BILL DWYER and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch carried a long article on ED DEAN. Both of these articles related these men to our Class survey, to the Class of '28 and to our approaching Reunion.

It was a pleasure to have sons of classmates attending Reunions of younger Classes visit us during the weekend. These included sons of JOHN CARLIN, JIM ALLAN, VINCE WALSH, MAX GAUTHIER, LEO MCINTYRE and our deceased classmates RON RICH and JOHN McMAHON.

Space does not permit the acknowledgment of all who were responsible for another perfect production—our 40th. To mention a few, our thanks go to BERN GARBER for a master job in directing over-all plans; to ED QUINN for handling local arrangement in a superb manner; to BILL DWYER for an outstanding publicity campaign with the excellent co-operation of the following from whom you received mailings: JOHN FREDERICK, GEORGE KELLEY, JOE BRANNON, JOHN IGOE, GENE FARRELL, BERN GARBER, and ED BRENNAN.

Thanks also to HERB McCABE, GEORGE SCHEUER, HOWIE PHALIN, CYP SPORL, SEYMOUR WEIS-

HERGER, GEORGE BEAMER, JOHN SHEEDY and FRANK HEGARTY for arranging special Saturday noon luncheons for the engineers, journalists, commerce, '28 LLB, '29 LLB, insurance men and medics respectively; to JOHN R. MURPHY for arranging a '28 Class golf tournament; to JOHN WOULFE for the impressive "In Memoriam" cards; to JOE LANGTON for a great job as treasurer; to FRANK MEYER and JIM ALLAN and his son and all others who took pictures of the affair who will make them available for showing at future Reunions; and to VINCE CARNEY and BERN GARBER for obtaining the ties and insignias for our shirts.

Also to the many classmates including LES FLEWELLING, TOM MAHON, BILLY WOOD, CHARLES MURPHY and ART DENCHFIELD who wired or wrote us at ND extending their best wishes and regrets for not being able to attend; to the three classmates who financed the Class survey; and to JOHN THURIN and his staff in the Alumni Office who did an outstanding job in helping us make this the greatest of all of our Reunions.

May we hear from those who couldn't make the Reunion? I had many inquiries about these absent '28 men from classmates who had looked forward to seeing them. These included ED CUNNINGHAM of Los Angeles, who was among the dozen or more who returned for the first time—he was hoping to see his old roommate ED McGAULEY.

Like Graduation in '33:

By JOHN HOYT '33

Although the death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy put a somber note on our 35th Reunion, we, in good numbers, did gather together to renew old friendships that commenced in 1929.

Morrissey Hall was filled with more than 100 balding and greying heads of men of 1933. We shared the hall with the more sprightly Class of 1938.

EDDIE ECKERT, JACK HOYT and JUDGE MAURIE LEE arrived early Thursday to make the preliminary arrangements. Several of the Monogram men, including RAY BRANCHEAU, NORM GREENEY and STEVE BANAS, were on Campus Thursday for their activities. Most of our forces arrived Friday morning.

The planning committee, which included Eckert, Hoyt, Lee, CHUCK JASK-WHICH, CHARLIE FARRIS, LUCIEN KEMPF, JACK O'SHAUGHNESSY and JIM DANEHY, did a splendid job of arranging our many activities.

A Time for Joy and a Time for Tears

The toastmaster at our Class Dinner Friday night was CHARLIE FARRIS. The speakers included ED KRAUSE, EDDIE STEPHAN and REV. CHICK SHEEDY. The new officers as well as the retiring Class officers spoke.

Judge Maurice W. Lee, 8309 Loomis Blvd., Chicago 60620, was elected by your classmates to be our president for the next five years. He delivered a splendid acceptance address.

Class Masses were arranged and conducted Friday, Saturday and Sunday by Fathers JIM DONNELLY and LLOYD TESKE, MSGR. FRANK HARRISON and Fathers Chick Sheedy and MAURICE POWERS participated.

At Sunday's Mass the seemingly endless list of our dead was read in a highly emotional ceremony. The latest name to be added was that of big ED VYZRAL, who was gunned down in his office by a crazed client. Judge Lee represented our Class at the funeral.

The weather was extremely hot and humid but our tender skulls were protected by a tent erected in front of Morrissey Hall. PETE CONNELLY and JACK NEUBAUER acted as genial hosts.

Our turnout should have been better; however, it was an unusual weekend. Our classmates who did not attend missed a wonderful experience.

Many individuals worked long and hard to make our affair a success. Among them were CHUCK HAFRON and SAM HYDE. Undoubtedly there are many others that I do not know about. My thanks to all of these unsung heroes.

We must have news to fill your column. ED ACKERMAN, JOE DAVEY, ED DAILEY and others have volunteered to help. We would be grateful for your continuing news contributions so you may hear about all of your classmates and not just a few.

Judge Lee and I pledge our best efforts on your behalf for the next five years. We, in turn, ask for your help. Please communicate with the Class of 1933 through this, your column.

'38 Says: Everyone Ought to Come Back at Least Once

By BURNIE BAUER '38

It is now TAPS—meaning Tops Anything Previous—for our 30th Reunion! One hundred twenty-two actually showed up though 21 more sent in reservations. Despite Pres. CHUCK SWEENEY being confined at home recuperating from his heart attack of a month previous and Chairman JOHN PLOUFF suddenly going into the hospital for a hernia operation Friday morning, all libations disappeared and all reminiscences were properly inflated.

No bones were broken and no one taken sick—not that Dr. AL SHERROD didn't bring his satchel from Texas or that psychiatrist DAN BOYLE didn't reach for his notebook as he passed the couches in Morrissey toward early morn.

But it was truly a serene group guilty only of an occasional understatement. There were numerous philosophical gems uttered as you would naturally expect when such demure lads get together. Among them were PAUL NOWAK, slimmed down to a Florida retirement weight of 277; TOMMY WUKOVITS, happy that his oldest son has just returned safely from his second tour in Vietnam where he flew over 200 missions; JOE RUETZ, making his first Reunion all the way from Stanford where he is their foundation director but looks like he should be their quarterback.

Fathers JOE RACE and JACK ANTON concelebrated two Masses for us at which our departed classmates were especially remembered. Also here were JOHNNY MOIR, who got his start in life selling peanuts at basketball games; basketball captain RAY MEYER, who helped said sales by calling frequent time outs; NEVIN "BUNNY" McCORMICK, still the Livermore, California philosopher; and PAUL PSIK who started the first protest movement by demanding a fur-lined jock from Mac—just once!

It was the first time, according to CHARLIE CALLAHAN who dug out the information from among his Miami Dolphin brochures, that all the members of our National champion basketball team had been together since school. TOM JORDAN, JIM CARSON and JOHNNY O'CONNORS of that same squad were also there. Jordan winning the golf tourney to boot. JOHN MURPHY, on Ara's staff, was elected national president of the Monogram club and his former boss, JOE KUCHARICH, was back to congratulate him as were teammates DANNY SUL-LIVAN, BILL HORAN, LEN SKOGLUND, CHUCK BOROWSKI, JOE ZWERS, HARVEY FOSTER, ANDY PUPLIS and JOE DeMATTEO.

First time back was Class Vice-pres. GEORGE FITZPATRICK, whose second son just graduated from ND as did DICK CARRIGAN's second son and the sons of TOM MULLIGAN, DENNY EMANUEL, PAUL NOWAK, JOHN O'CONNOR and TEX HAGGAR. JOHN JEHLE's daughter graduated from St. Mary's as did ED McDONOUGH's and my daughter, Terry.

Other first timers were ERNIE KLING, aeronautical engineer from Cape Kennedy, Brownson Hall philosopher JOE DINEEN from Herkimer, NY who said I could quote him that "everyone ought to come back at least once every 30 years" and LEN TOBIN from Barrington, RI who contributed $25 to start a Mass fund for our deceased classmates. PAUL ANDERSON has suggested this fund several times. His idea is just a dollar from each, so if you want to send a buck along with some news I'll handle it. DICK GERL and RAY LONGSTRETH also contributed and any balance left over from the Reunion will be added to give us a good start.

Longest travelers were from California: BUNNY McCORMICK, JOE RUETZ, PHIL KIRCH, TOM BOND (whose brother JOHN from Franklin, Ohio made it, too), TOM SHEILS and GENE VASLETT. JOHN COLLINS came from Missoula, Mont. None from the five foreign countries made it.

ED BRENNAN of Paw Paw, Mich. made us feel young by announcing they expect their seventh child soon and JACK SCOTT has a six-month-old son. DAVE CROOKS from Kansas City was the only nonclergy bachelor present.

Among the old-timers who sent in their checks but didn't show were CHUCK BEASLEY, ED BERNARD, JOHN CLIFFORD, CHARLEY DUKES, BOB DOYLE, LARRY EBY, Denny Emanuel, JIM SWEEDYK, HARRY WEAKLEY, JIM FOLEY, JOHN FRANCIS, PHIL GALLETTA, ED HAGGAR, MARTIN HUSUNG, TOM MAHER (who phoned me from Boston that he was coming), JACK MAHONEY, JOE MANIX, WALT MARSHALL and JIM DRISLANE. Wot happened?

Continuing their record of making every Reunion were JOE MOORE, JOHN BOURKE, HAL LANGTON (now a racehorse owner), DON CURRIER, TOM HUGHES (who supervised my emceeing at the Friday Nite dinner), TONY SULESKI and WALT MONACELLI.

Other faithful who returned again include Kokomo's PAT CAREY, Brooklyn's ED CONDON, DAVE CONNOR, JOHN COTTINGHAM, BUB CROWLEY (also a racehorse owner), FRANK DELANEY (Cookie King), JIM DAUGHERTY (Bristol, Tenn. real estate scion), REGGIE DE BRIENZA, JAY DUTMERS, Michigan solicitor general BOB DERENGO-

SKI, TOM ELDER, BUD SHERWOOD, JOHN THOMAS, JOE THORNBURG, upper New York's ED UNIACKE, Florida's NED FISHWIEK, TED FLANAGAN, TOM FOY, DAN GIBBS, DICK HENNESSY, FRANK HIGGINS, JOHN KANE, OWEN KANE, ED KAVANAUGH, JACK LEADBETTER, JERRY LEDVINA, RUSS LONGON, JOHN LYNCH, FRANK MAYS, Texans JOHN POORE, FRANK PRUSHA, CLARK REYNOLDS, KEN ROWE, FRANK RUSSELL, BOB REILLY (who stopped in for one hour on his way through), BOB SHAY and Hoosiers TED SWEENEY, Bob Whitecotton and Vern Ruge.

Great credit for the success of the Reunion should go to BOB DuBOIS and his wife Rita and local committee heads. Bob set up contacts in every state and handled registration all the way through. Rita hosted the wives at a cocktail party and dinner Friday night. DON FISHER, BILL GIBBONS, JIM LAHEY and JAKE BURKE took care of the cocktail hour arrangements and breakfasts. DON HICKEY prepared the memorials and ED CRONIN drove the sight-seeing bus. CELLY BALL, LOUIS ANDERSON, JOHN MONAGHAN and DON SMITH were on the reception committee.

Maybe it's our age, but probably it's the times and Notre Dame's great growth that caused the academic scene to attract almost as much play as the golf course. Father Hesburgh's eulogy at a Mass for Robert Kennedy Friday night and his talk on ND at a Saturday brunch were worth the trip alone according to such men of letters as NICK LAMBERTO, Iowa's greatest journalist; LARRY DILLON of Florida; CAS VANCE of NY; and JOE TIMMERMAN of Worcester, Mass. So said SCOTT REARDON, DICK SCAN-NELL and BILL MURPHY who were among those who attended the Saturday afternoon panel on "Changes in the Church, World and Notre Dame."

As we said our long good-byes, I sensed a new pride in many, not only for the part that ND has played in their lives but for the part ND now is playing in molding the changing world of today. Some expressed doubts, but more fascination at the headlong bold plunge our school has taken into the arena of modern life and thought.

Rev. Joe Race, in his homily, hit the key when he said men of ND and especially the Class of '38, though older in years, are just as young in spirit and as eager to meet the challenges of the world today as when we first said "what though the odds be great or small, Notre Dame's spirit will win over all!"

See you all—God willing—in 1973.

Secretary Kaiser's Wife Reports on Sleeping Sickness;

By THE KAISERS

The Class of 1943 has been had. When my husband, FRANK KAISER, was named corresponding secretary, little did they realize his strong motivation toward procrastination. In fact, Frank is still addressing his 1950 Christmas cards. I must admit that at times he does display extreme vigor—a few weeks ago in a sudden burst of energy he managed to discard his Wilkie buttons. I hope HEINIE SCHRENKER '42 isn't disappointed in him.

Frank has been sleeping since Reunion time and copy deadline is near so I will have to cover Reunion events as he muttered them in his sleep.

Lyons Hall served as the headquarters and Thursday arrivals numbered about 30. BILL EARLEY led choir practice till the early am. Friday morning many toured the new athletic center which is to be completed in time for the ND-UCLA basketball opener. The balance of the day was spent with a never-ending flow of choice liquid refreshments amidst a never-ending flow of reminiscing.

Friday evening's activities started with a trek to the North Dining Hall for a wonderful cocktail hour—complete with orchestra. Class Dinner followed, an especially fine one, as the local chairmen didn't spare the buck.

Class Pres. OLLIE HUNTER (or is it Hubbard?) paid welcome to the group and introduced JOHN "MAC" McALLISTER who is retiring after 40 years as athletic equipment manager. Mac received a terrific ovation and was presented a suitable gift.

JOHN J. GILLIGAN, our US Senator-to-be from Ohio, and EDWARD V. HANRAHAN, former US Attorney and Cook County State's Attorney-to-be, wired that they were forced to cancel their Reunion attendance to attend the funeral of Senator Robert Kennedy.

JOHN McHALE, assistant to the commissioner of major league baseball, sent a telegram stating he would miss the Reunion because of the Major League Free Agent Player Draft in New York. FBI Agent TONY MALONEY, San Diego, wired he had been subpoenaed by the government to appear in US District Court and was forced to cancel Reunion plans.

A card from BILL BONYAI stated he could not attend because of illness. A later report to the Alumni Office tells of Bill's death April 20. He is survived by his wife, Kathryn, 120 W. River St., Milford, Conn. 06460, a son and five daughters.

The June issue also reported the death of Dr. JAMES F. HARRINGTON April 22. Jim is survived by his wife, 2613

Rolling Ridge Dr., Logansport, Ind. 46947, four daughters and two sons.

Also listed in the June issue was the death of FRANK M. "MOE" HERBERT JR., '47, May 16. He was publisher and treasurer of the Atlantic Monthly. The sympathy and prayers of their classmates are extended to the families of these fine men.

WALT McNAMARA wrote from 338 Gordon Way, Los Altos, Calif. 94022 that he sends his greetings and regrets he couldn't make the 25th. ROBERT MORRILL, 89 Malvern Rd., Stamford, Conn., reported urgent business precluded his attending. Maj. ROBERT CARVER's reserve unit had been called up and he sent regrets. (121st Combat Support Sqdn, Lockbourne AFB, Ohio 43217.)

FRANK STEWART planned to be in Europe at that time. Lt. Col. GEORGE BARRETT's wife wrote he would be in Vietnam at Reunion time. THOM FARMER of 205 Wellington Rd., DeWitt, NY sent his regrets. DUTCH HOFSTETTER moved from Ohio to California and was unable to attend.

Business interests did not permit ROBERT BAKER to attend. CARL COCO wrote from Lake Charles, La. that he could not make it.

Thanks for a job well done went to retiring Class officers Ollie Hunter (or Hubbard—Frank's still asleep), president; JIM MADIGAN, treasurer; JACK WIGGINS, secretary; and area vice-presidents BILL MIDDENDORF, Bill Earley, HERB MELTON and TOM COONEY.

JACK BERRY, the genial barrister from Chicago, was elected president of the incredible Class of '43. JACK BREHMER, South Bend Foundry president, will serve as its treasurer. And poor old Frank Kaiser, Chatsworth, Ill., population 1304—eight are Kaisers—will try to serve as secretary. As a former teacher I feel it my duty to inspire you with a few words: "The only way he can get information to put in the column is from YOU. Pass on any news—marriages, births, jobs, job changes and advancements, new addresses, ND games you attend and those you meet, etc. At least drop a line and tell him that you are still operating."

The Class Dinner was followed by a lawn party at the Lyons arch where refreshments, music and conversation prevailed until the wee hours.

Saturday morning (8 o'clock—oh, what a short night) members of the Silver Anniversary Class of 1943 were honored guests at the President's Breakfast. At that time Father Hesburgh was presented a portrait and a commemorative clock.

After breakfast the Class assembled at the Grotto for Mass offered for its deceased members. Mass Concelebrants were Fathers ROBERT HOFFMAN, KEVIN O'DOUGHERTY, TOM FINUCANE, BEDE FITZPATRICK and GEORGE BERNARD—all members of the Class of '43. Tom Cooney served as lector.

Next on the agenda was the Class picture taken on the steps of the old library. A brunch for all Alumni was held in the North Dining Hall with Father Hesburgh delivering his annual "State of the University" address.

Your new secretary, '43's own Rip Van Winkle, has awakened enough to carry on, so I shall say adieu, but no doubt I shall be acting secretary again from time to time.

Jane, Wife of the Secretary

First, thanks to my spouse for beginning my first ALUMNUS report. I find the Reunion difficult to describe. You who were there don't give a damn to have it repeated and those of you who were unfortunate enough to miss our Silver Anniversary just won't believe it.

Saturday afternoon Lyons arch served as the outdoor theater for presentation of Oscars. JOHN WOOD, a civie now working under contract with Uncle Sam, came from Saigon and received our travel award. This was closely contested by Rev. Bede Fitzpatrick who journeyed from Tokyo. Zeke plans to return to Saigon in July and Father Bede will resume his teaching duties in Japan by September.

Bill Earley, short-distance award winner (412 yards), has also attended the most Reunions. Dome award, not to be confused with our yearbook, went to RAY SCHOONHOVEN with ED HOLLAND in close pursuit. Prolific award was a tie between BLAIR MCGOWAN and Bill Middendorf—12 each. Judge FRANK CONFORTI ruled that only one prize was available and the winner will be determined upon first notification of any change in number.

Reunion parade to the Alumni Banquet, led by Color Guard and Scottish Band, was the beginning of a long-to-be-remembered evening.

Ara Parseghian briefed us on the football squad's potential and introduced his aides. JOHN DEE paid tribute to his basketball squad of the past season and is quite optimistic about his 1968-69 team with the possibility of three sophomores in the starting line-up. Congratulations to our own GENE FEHLIG, winner over 508 entrants in the golf tourney.

Sunday was a day for Mass, farewells, promises to return in '73 and a race to the airport. GEORGE MCQUISON and I made a check of the Campus to find if any of our group had become lost. While on tour we found the Michiana Kennel Club holding a dog show in Stepan Center, but found no '43ers. Too bad the show could not have been in front of Lyons Saturday when BILL MCCAUGHEY, CORNEY JOHNSON and BUCK MUELLMAN, to mention a few, could have given the canine fanciers a little variety with a song and dance act.

Congratulations to the 167 men who were able to return for our Silver Anniversary; 212 indicated their intentions to return. Your being there was what made it a success. The program was excellent, weather was good and the price was right. In fact, CHARLIE BUTLER, ROGER CUMMINGS, Bill Middendorf and LEO LEWIS agreed that the price was the greatest bargain since Kaiser's Place sold 12 ounces of Michelob for 10 cents. Our only disappointment was that there were so many unable to attend. Someone asked about everyone from Abaldo to Zimik.

We are interested in each and every one of you, what you are doing, your family, your business, etc. Dr. SAM ROWBOTOM, GEORGE HUTH and BILL BRADY were among those attending their first Reunion. I know that I must have missed some others; write your correspondent and give him hell for omitting you.

The Class of '43 can be proud of the estimated total value of the silver anniversary request program for our class—$244,300.00.

The following men deserve thanks and commendation for their work in connection with the reunion: Jack Brehmer, Bud Dudley, Ed Murray, Frank Conforti, Bill Earley, Dick Diltz, Bob LeMense, Bill Middendorf, Herb Melton, Tom Cooney, Tony Maloney, Walt Ziemba and Hans Helland.

Keep the mail coming! Keep the Class in mind! And meet outside Gate 5 before and after home games.

'48 Secretary Reports It Was 'Our Finest Performance'

By GEORGE KEENAN '48

Within the Octave of the Reunion, it is time to get a column in to give all the 20-Year Reunion news to those who did not make it and to review it for those who did.

This was without a doubt our finest performance as far as turnout and overall good weekend. We had 102 register and many were the old standbys but there were some who were at their first reunion. From the looks of things our 25-Year Reunion should be great and we are going to shoot for a turnout of 500. All we have to do is get everyone enthused about it. We have too many who have never showed up; probably the time of the year is rough but it shouldn't be that way every year.

For the past five years I have been writing this column, reporting on what has been going on and gearing it toward Reunion time. Well, it worked out that I will be doing it again for the next five years, although someone mentioned "for life." I have not determined whether or not someone is drawing a bead on me, but I do appreciate the confidence placed in me by the electoral college and I hope to keep the pace going—but, as always, I'll need your help.

Our 20-Year Reunion was successful because we kept writing about it and because of the two local chairmen who volunteered to help out. JOHN DIGANN and DON PATRICK did a terrific job with the local arrangements. This was noticed and appreciated by everyone.

Our Class was not one of the bigger classes at the Reunion as far as representation but we were one of the largest classes to graduate. The Classes of '28 and '58 smothered everyone (see their sections for turnout) but the next time we want to be right up there and it can be done. While not the biggest, we did get to have the lead position behind the band and antique cars to the All-Classes Dinner Saturday night so our presence was noted and especially so because everyone had his Sunday suit on.

We had terrific weather. The Indiana heat was on full blast but we had plenty of cooling refreshment. Our cocktail party and Class Dinner Friday night was the highlight of the weekend and was well attended and enjoyed. The humidity of the weekend, the flowing golden nectar, the light shower, were all nothing when compared to the wetness suffered by JOHNNY LUJACK when JOE LYNCH was carrying a 12-quart bucket of water towards ZIG CZAROBSKI and Zig faked to the right and the bucket went to the left and there stood John. It just shows how unsafe it is to be in a crowd today because Zig had just finished being interviewed by John Lujack on matters of general interest.

The entertainment at our Class Dinner was highlighted by the "Go-Go" dancers, Lou Gasper and Gasper Urban. This pair, which grossed about 500 pounds, had the makings of a great team, "Gasper and Urban." Zig Czarobski, in his address to the class in size 56 shorts (extra long), love beads, sombrero, thermos, appetizers, etc., directed his remarks to the current domestic situation and stressed greater love for and with your neighbor.

GEORGE CONNOR told some interesting stories of the Class of '48 football players who played in various postseason bowl games, all-star games and pro ball.

The first to arrive on Campus were GEORGE KENNARD and JOE FLOOD. George came all the way from Florida by car and Joe drove from St. Paul to get in some early golf. Soon afterward NEIL KELLY, JIM MELLO and LEONARD HART arrived. Arrivals were coming in at all times from all directions in all modes of transportation. BILL GRIFFY came the farthest as he now lives in Pasadena, Calif. BURT APKER brought his son with him all the way from Phoenix. RUSS FARREL brought his sons also to take in the sights of the beautiful and growing Campus. BOB MORAN, our ex-officio class photographer, was all over the place taking pictures. LEO COSTELLO and BUNKY REGAN led all chow lines.

JOE O'TOOLE came a long way, too; Hollywood, Calif. is his new home town. Joe never misses and can always be counted on to be leading in the activity department. JACK COONEY, FRANK DEBITTETO, TONY MISTRETTA, FRENCHY CORRELL, PAUL CARTRIGHT, JACK CARVIL, WALT HUTCHENS, BEN KOEBEL and a host of others did an excellent job of being night watchmen. They watched every night go by until it became a morning. CORNIE CLATT, JACK and LOU AMBERG served as prefects of the second floor at Howard Hall only to be sure that no one got any sleep.

JIM MELLO, who thinks he is the successor to Dean Martin, was voted the best dressed. JIM McCONN and his rainbow wardrobe as bright as the stars of Texas was only a runner-up in the fashion parade. TOM HERBERT drove in with BOB TAYLOR.

Space does not allow me to cover everyone and everything but we'll tell you more about it all soon again. Oh yes, HANK DIGIROLAMO made it this year again. The rest of you, think about what you missed!

230 Fun Lovers from the Class of '53

By W. F. STUHLBREHER '53

Well, the 15th has come and gone, and what a swell one it was! For those of you who missed it, how can I tell you just how much you missed? For a short time some 230 of the Class of '53 shed families, jobs and creditors and returned to the days of the Campus and the small-size worries of yesteryear. It was really a strange experience in certain ways, almost like entering a time machine; but I can tell you this: All who made it had a grand time and hated to see it end.

First of all, I would like to single out those who did so much to make this Reunion such a great one. JOE DESAUTELS, ED MCCARTHY and JERRY MULVIHILL really carried the ball for the weekend. Joe, of course, was our chairman and was much in presence, doing a good job and making sure the rest of us kept moving. Ed and Jerry shouldered much of the burden of planning the weekend and took care of the many duties that can put you under. The Class of '53 is extremely lucky to have two good men in the South Bend area who are willing to pitch in like Ed and Jerry.

I'm only allotted 1000 words, and with 200 plus returnees, that only works out to five per man. So I'll cover what I can and continue in the next column. But don't think this lets you off the hook and you don't have to write in—keep 'em coming.

A few of us landed Thursday night, I, myself, arriving from Alabama via New York. I thought this might set a weekend travel distance record but it didn't hold a candle to CARLOS CROWLEY who made it in from Mexico City via Chicago. Some of us headed down to the Grotto and others to the Indiana Club. DORTCH DORINI, BOB MULLEN and others were greeted at the airport by GERRY HAMMES, JOE DESAUTELS and gang, complete with several, no, many, six packs. To be perfectly truthful, room 116 in Alumni hasn't gotten any better with age. I had forgotten how humid Indiana can get in the summer, how small those bunk beds were and what a long jaunt it was to the bathroom.

Friday morning opened with golf and the beer started flowing at 10 am. The golf course was in great shape; I got in 18, playing with JOHN SELICK, John Jr and DR. JOE SULLIVAN '28. Back to the beer and the planners did a good job with nice, large name cards which everyone wore; without them it would have been a tough deal. The hair is getting thinner, grayer; the belt lines are growing and the rear ends are keeping up! The faces would look vaguely familiar but it's been a long time, so three cheers for the name cards. The names of those who made it are printed elsewhere so I'll merely try to relate some of the happenings. Anyone who was there and wishes to add some lines, please send them in; I'm sure there are some good stories out there I didn't hear about.

The Class Dinner was Friday night; Joe had a tough time getting us started over there (North Dining Hall), but we finally made it. The speeches were mercifully short with JERRY MULVIHILL bringing down the house with his dry wit.

Were Observed 'Bucking Up' Remarkably Well

It was decided we would try to get together after the Pitt game. The time of the season and the availability of a location contributed to selecting this particular game. You'll be hearing more on this.

After the dinner, we trooped back to Alumni and the beer, bridge games, poker games and the nonstop game called "Buck-up" (I think), a form of Russian roulette. Some of our Detroit brethren kept it going the clock round: JIM KLINK, JOHN FISH, LOU BASSO, JERRY KELLY, and others who dropped in including DICK McCONNELL, BILL DECRICK and JACK MASON. There's a rumor that Fish actually saw the sun once over the weekend but I personally doubt it; there's a man who came to play cards and succeeded. JIM PATTERSON and LES ZACZEK were in several bridge games, as well as my brother Bill and CHUCK STIMMING from Indianapolis.

The big percentage of the troops sat out under the awning and swapped stories. You either found out you hadn't changed much, like AL DECRANE, DAVE McELVAIN, TOM REEDY, JIM HUTCHINSON, ED O'CONNOR and others—and therefore were considered bums by those of us who had like myself, BLACKIE BLACKBURN, JIM PATTERSON, DICK McCONNELL, TOM NOURIE, DAN COLLINS and others. LARRY PRIDMORE told some wonderful stories and never did go to bed. JOHN WATHEN offered to take on all the northerners as usual and JIM FOLEY slipped off a kneeler (he says!) and gave himself a bad cut.

RALPH ARGEN looked like a successful doctor should (is there any other kind?) and where in the world were guys like BOB BERNER, RAY SMITH, TOM BAKER and my old roomie DON SULLIVAN? DAVE SPONSELLER sounded like a PhD (which he just got) and STAN STASCH sounded like Stan Stasch.

Saturday morning brought the Class picture and a Mass celebrated by ERNIE BARTELL. Golf took over once again, along with some educational activities; "GOOTCH" LEWINSKI couldn't find JOE DESAUTELS for our golf match so we split up, with me joining DICK ADLER, BLACKIE BLACKBURN and VIC SNYDER. PAT MONTROY played with GOOTCH, along with a couple of other '53ers I can't remember. Either the heat, old age or the beer got to us as we all quit after nine.

Some more beer and our Class Cocktail Party at 4:30 was a crowded cabin. This set the stage for the big banquet that night. Father Hesburgh had to leave town early so he addressed us at 11 am instead of at the dinner; gave a darned good speech, too. The main speakers at the dinner were Father Joyce, Ara and JOHN DEE. There seems to be little doubt: next year's basketball team might be No. 1 in the country. We'll know more in December; we take on UCLA then when the new Convocation Center opens. And let me tell you, gents, those of you who haven't been back, that hall is really something! Man, it's BIG. Not done yet by a long shot, but you won't believe it when it is. The school has waited a long time for this facility and it truly staggers the imagination. I heard eight million bucks mentioned, with more needed; you can see it's going to be a little different from the old joint.

Saturday night meant more beer, more card games and more talking over the old times. A good many, like myself, didn't make it to bed until the sun was up; I suppose everyone was trying to make all the hours count. There were so many to talk to and fellow classmates to discuss.

Sunday morning BOB McKINSTRA said Mass for us in the Alumni chapel. It was a nice idea and almost everyone attended. Many farewells after that and perhaps you guys that missed making it will get a better idea of how everyone else felt about the Reunion hearing this tidbit: better than half the Class wants the next one to start Thursday night instead of Friday morning. They just felt it only comes by once every five years and let's make the travel count. What do you think?

We finally have a Class treasury, maybe. I think so but it depends on how the finances for the Class Cocktail Party turned out. Anyway, we need one badly for Masses, etc. JERRY MULVIHILL has offered to assume responsibility for this effort and his being located in South Bend will be a plus for this activity. If any of you can slip Jerry anything (address: 645 1st Bank Bldg., South Bend, Ind. 46601), it will be a big help. You'll be hearing more of this in future issues.

That's it for now, more next column.

Weekend Temperatures Helped the

By ARTHUR ROULE '58

As you can see from the list of those who attended, we had a very representative turnout for the 10-Year Reunion June 7, 8 and 9. The heat was stifling but no adverse conditions could have dimmed the enthusiasm.

The surge of 1958 returnees began Friday morning with registration at the excellently equipped Center for Continuing Education.

The brilliant sunshine and sweltering temperatures lured some of the athletically inclined to Burke Memorial for the Reunion Golf Tournament. The more passively inclined reported to the beer tent adjoining Dillon Hall where, in joint effort with the Class of 1963, a Reunion record was established for beer consumption.

Many men took advantage of the tours of the expanded Campus, including the spectacular new Athletic and Convocation Center scheduled for completion this fall. Friday evening was the occasion of our Class Dinner, preceded by cocktail hour.

Your secretary did not attempt to take detailed notes of the items reported to him during the course of the weekend since this would require practically full-time stenographic help. We can report that the Class of 1958 was very well represented and acquitted itself well in the events of the weekend.

Saturday morning a memorial Mass for the deceased members of the Class of 1958 was concelebrated in the Dillon Hall Chapel by Fathers JOHN CARLIN, ED NASH and BOB WILLIAMSON, all members of our Class. The balance of the day was spent at seminars, tours, golf again (by those hearty enough to stand the heat) and in general relaxation.

The 1958 forces massed splendidly for the parade to the North Dining Hall Saturday evening for the Alumni Banquet. Our Class again showed its distinction by carrying away a lion's share of the prizes of the Golf Tournament, the results of which were announced at the banquet.

The final major event for the weekend was the Alumni Mass Sunday morning at Sacred Heart Church, concelebrated by priests of all the Reunion Classes, which at this time included Fathers Carlin, Nash and Williamson, as well as Rev. JOHN MCCARTHY.

In spite of the rapid passing of ten years since graduation and the obvious changes wrought by time in the physical appearance of many of the returnees, it was remarkable how little everyone seemed to have changed from the days we spent together under the dome. The comment frequently heard was that anyone who was at all able to attend one of these Reunions was crazy to miss the opportunity.

As part of the business transacted at the Friday night Class Dinner, the incumbent Class officers were reelected for another term of five years. In case you

Youngest Old Grads Relived the Long Ago

By FRANK DICELLO '63

The weather was great, the beer plentiful (29 kegs) and the stories unbelievable at Reunion headquarters for the Class of '63 in Dillon Hall. Over 200 fellows put in an appearance.

TOM O'DEA and BRIAN BOULAC were there. They both spent the past year at the Dome. Tom is teaching Spanish and holding conferences in the South Caf and Brian was working on a doctorate and serving as a member of Ara's staff. FATHER McCARRAGHER attended the Class Dinner Friday. Saturday morning many took to the links for the final 18 in the Alumni Golf Tournament. Low man in our Class was DICK PEPLINSKI.

At 11 am Saturday Father Hesburgh addressed a brunch at the North Dining Hall. He is celebrating the 25th anniversary of his ordination and received a gift from all the Alumni.

Among those visiting the old haunts and the new buildings Saturday afternoon were MYRON BUSBY and CHARLIE ATEN. Both are living in Indiana. Myron is director of admissions at St. Mary of the Woods. TOM BISHOP and DICK JAMES came out. Dick is working in Chicago and Tom is in Washington. JIM WEBER came down from Minneapolis; he is with General Mills.

REGIS CAMPFIELD drove out from his law office in Cleveland. TERRY DESMOND came in from Detroit. JIM

HUGHES and CHARLIE DRISCOLL from Chicago. TOM HOTOPP and his wife came in from Atlanta. Tom recently left the Army and has a job as a salesman in the South.

Much of the planning and credit for the weekend must go to Class Treas. TY DEMETRIO and local Chairman PHIL RYAN. Ty did most of the advance planning and Phil, who received his PhD three days before the Reunion began, handled the arrangements in South Bend.

The new Athletic and Convocation Center was open for inspection during the weekend. It is due for completion this fall. Among the fellows I met inspecting the new facilities were MIKE O'DONNELL, REV. ED MALLOY, ED KENNEDY, TOM FABISH and KEVIN HUNT.

Saturday night all classes gathered in the North Dining Hall for the Alumni Dinner. Among the several speakers were Ara and JOHN DEE. Both gave cautious but confident reports on the outlook for next season. After the dinner it was back to the beer tent for a few more stories and laughs before the weekend closed.

For many, too, there was one more trip around the Campus or down to the Grotto or the lake. Sunday morning, after Mass in Sacred Heart and a continental breakfast in Dillon, the weekend closed with the familiar words "See you in five years."

RON REED AT ND

He bounced off the hardcourt to a Braves' new world.

AND NOW

Former Two-Timer Finds Right Pitch

SIX-FOOT-SIX Ron Reed '65, who won his first six games as an Atlanta Braves rookie, knows now he made the right decision two years ago.

The tall Hoosier gave up a career in professional basketball after the 1966-'67 season with the Detroit Pistons. He would, he decided, devote all his energies and time to becoming a big league baseball pitcher.

During the 1967 season, Reed pitched in more innings—222—than any other International league hurler. He won 14 games and lost 10 for Richmond and Manager Luman Harris, now his skipper at Atlanta.

This season he stepped up to the major league team and polished off six straight NL opponents before his streak was broken May 30 by the Astros.

Ron was not even a member of Atlanta's starting rotation until the 17th game, April 29 at San Francisco. But what an impression he made that day! He pitched perfect-game baseball for 6.2 innings (Willie Mays reached him for a hit at last) and eventually won a three-hitter, 7-2.

Houston, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, then New York twice, were Reed's next victims in order. The first Reed victory over the Mets was a two-hitter at Shea May 19. Since then his name has become familiar to sports fans around the country. One of his last appearances before press time was in the All-Star game.

A star in baseball and basketball at ND, Reed was signed to a Braves' contract by another Alumnus, John McHale '43, then Braves' general manager. The date was July 17, 1965. McHale has since moved on to become an aide to Commissioner William Eckert.

Reed, a native of LaPorte, Ind., spent two seasons doubling in both pro sports, as a farm team pitcher for the Braves and a reserve forward for the Pistons in the National Basketball Association, before giving up basketball.

The Braves are happy to have him all to themselves.

Here Come de Judge

State Senator Thomas L. Judge '57 surprised almost everyone in Montana by winning the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor by a landslide. In the five-man field for the Democratic nomination, Judge led with 36,743.

The 33-year-old Judge has served three terms in the House of Representatives and one term in the State Senate, but few people gave the young senator much chance when he entered the race. The polls showed him a weak third.

With the help of young people around the state, Judge put on a bandwagon campaign. He spoke to hundreds of service clubs and other groups all over the state. Every Saturday the Judge supporters traveled to a different city in a caravan, parading the streets and campaigning supermarkets.

Judge used as his slogan a line from the Rowan and Martin TV show: "Here Comes the Judge!" The slogan was effectively carried out in newspaper, radio and TV ads.

Judge has an excellent record in labor, education and farm legislation and has led the fight for the state support to local government, moderniza-

At ND Judge's major was journalism. He served as a 2nd lieutenant in the Army Adjutant General Corps. Then he worked two and a half years as an advertising salesman for the Courier-Journal in Louisville and attended graduate school at the U. of Louisville. In May of 1960 he returned to Helena and started what has been a successful advertising and public relations firm. He filed for the House of Representatives at the age of 25. He was elected and re-elected in 1963 and 1965 by the highest majority. In 1966 he was elected to the State Senate and was the first Democrat elected to the Senate from his county in 26 years.

He has served as chairman of the Natural Resources Committee, chairman of the Business and Industry Committee and secretary of the Montana Legislative Council.

Judge was one of the initiators of a $400,000 federal-state recreational development, started a local community action agency and chairnated a hospital building program.

In 1966 Judge married Carol Anderson of Helena and they now have a 14-month-old son, Tommy.

In community activities Judge was cited as "Montana's Outstanding Young Man of 1967" by the Jaycees. He was Montana's representative in "America's Ten Outstanding Young Men Congress." In 1966 he received the ND Man of the Year Award from the Montana ND Alumni Association. In 1963 he received the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award.

This fall a fighting Irishman in Montana will be campaigning hard for the state's second highest office.

There He Goes Again

How does a man who did his undergraduate work in philosophy and wanted to be a lawyer wind up going to Rome this September on a Fulbright professorship in sociology?

For Dr. Gordon DiRenzo '56, '57, '63, now an associate professor at Indiana U. in South Bend, the path to Rome has been a twisted one. He graduated from ND with a philosophy major and every intention of heading for law school. He detoured long enough to take a master's in sociology, assuming the next step was an LL.B.

However, the second detour was a couple years of teaching. Then, although he still wasn't completely convinced sociology was his field, a tempting offer to return for his PhD at ND, again in sociology, was too much to resist.

Dr. DiRenzo gave in. He returned long enough to complete a required year of residency and then fulfilled a dream and took off for Europe. While in Italy on scholarship, he began doctoral research. The area he chose was the study of personality structure of Italian politicians—and that really hooked him. He has been a sociologist ever since.

GORDON DIRENZO

The opportunity to be a Fulbright professor in residence at the U. of Rome comes not by accident but as a recognition of Dr. DiRenzo's talent and accomplishments in the social sciences. He is an expert linguist fluent in Italian, French and Spanish and he is well known through his books: Personality, Power, and Politics; Personalita' e Politica; and Concepts, Theory and Explanation in the Behavioral Sciences.

Though he was initially offered the Fulbright position in research, it was partially his fluent knowledge of Italian which led him to request a teaching job instead.

What will the professorship consist of? Though the required duties are light—one seminar a week for approximately 16 weeks beginning in December—his plans are extensive.

"I'm going to offer one course in the relationship of conceptual and methodological problems to research in behavioral sciences. I'm also going to lecture on the research I did in 1960 and 1961 and the rest of the time I hope to carry out extensions of research I did there previously. It has to do with the relation of personality to social systems."

Of his non-working hours he says, "We'll be on the go every weekend." The "we" refers to his bride Mary whom he married July 6. Dr. DiRenzo is anxious to introduce her to Italy and to get in a little casual research on his own. "I'd like to get into the villages as much as possible, off the tourist path. Here is where I get the background of the people."

Dr. DiRenzo no doubt plans to get a book out of his year in Italy to supplement not only the three already in print but one which is currently being published and one which is in the writing stage.

Though he is anxious to see Rome again, Dr. DiRenzo calls his feelings "ambivalent" because he hates to leave the ND area. Long and closely tied with the University, he is sure he's going to miss a great deal of ND's activities while he is away. As he says, "There is so much happening on Campus that any time you go away you'll miss something."

But come September, 1969 he'll be back in South Bend, close to the Dome, teaching sociology with the intensity of a man who—regardless of the circuitous route—has found the work he loves.

Talk About a Party!

Pearl Mesta, watch out! Your reputation as THE partygiver on the eastern seaboard is being challenged—and by a man, yet. An invitation from Al Schulte '65, public relations man for the Boston Globe, is a treasured item these days—and with good reason. Right now his main claim to fame is "The Great Gatsby Ball," a magnificent black tie affair for 400 which he threw in the ballroom of one of Boston's famous townhouses.

Why did he choose to honor Jay Gatsby of F. Scott Fitzgerald fame? "Because any excuse is a good excuse to throw a party." But also to celebrate the silk and feathers era of Prohibition with French champagne (23 cases) and bathtub gin (made from a genuine Prohibition recipe and served from a bathtub).

White wigged, liveried footmen were out in force to assist the guests, the food and liquor were plentiful in the true Gatsby tradition. Schulte says, "For nourishment we had special fish which was flown in from the Yukon, a rare fish caught by the Eskimos called Arctic char. Also we served queen crab—something very delicious that the US has only been able to import in very small quantities."

From all over the country people came to dance in the glittering replica of the Louis Sieze ballroom in the palace of Fontainebleau. They included some of Schulte's ND classmates and their girl friends, St. Mary's grads. Both Scottie Lanahan and Bobbi Lanahan (Fitzgerald's daughter and granddaughter) were invited but neither was able to join in the festivities, though both gave their approval and wished they could be there.

Substituting for the family was Scott Fitzgerald III, a fictitious character whose name appeared on the engraved invitation along with Schulte's. In the receiving line Fitzgerald was played by Mark Fitzgerald Thiel '67.

Of the impersonation Schulte says, "I asked Mike to come up from Washington for the party and stand in the receiving line as Fitz III. Everyone knew it was a joke, but they enjoyed it. Mike was tremendous—he spoke fluid Princetonese all night."

To insure against damage in the magnificent townhouse, once owned by Walter Cabot Baylies and now used as an adult education center by the city of Boston, Schulte was well insured by Lloyds of London. "It cost me an arm and a leg but it was worth it," he says. Fortunately, though the guests danced and rambled through the whole house and the gardens, there was no damage except 710 broken champagne glasses.

The affair was such a wild success that Schulte is planning another one, in late summer or early fall, and it is going to be just as big a bash. And the great partygivers of the world had best prepare to welcome into their ranks a new star.

An interesting letter was received from HARRY J. KIRK, Carroll Manor, 4922 LaSalle Road, Hyattsville, Md. 20782 who among others bears the titles, K.S.G., Treasurer National Conference of Catholic Charities, and deferred giving Class agent for the Class of 1913.

Following are quotes from his letter: "Since retiring 10 years ago, with no 'deadlines' and weight down to what it was when I was 16 years old, I have been 'living the life of Riley.' Mrs. Kirk and I are residents of Carroll Manor, the Archdiocesan Home for the Aged. Of course being nearly as spry as I ever was, I don't really need to be in a home for the aged. (Whom am I kidding?)

"Only recently there moved across the hall from us at Carroll Manor a widow, Mrs. Margaret Mensing. She is a sister of the brothers, HARRY and 'DE' NEWNING originally of Houston, Tex. In my day at UND the Newnings lived with the lace curtain Irish in Walsh Hall."

Among the fond memories he mentioned was the time St. Joe Hall's football squad beat Walsh for the Interhall Championship in 1912. "That year no team crossed St. Joe Hall's goal line." On the team of 14 monogram men (from a listing on the program) was HUGH "PEPPER" O'DONNELL, later President of ND. In telling of the activities of the Class crew of 1913 he spoke of the "crew headed by stroke oar BERNARD 'The Terrible' LANG—Father Lang of later fame."

Harry added some family news items. "The third generation of our family is presently represented at Notre Dame by one of our 22 grandsons, the son of our daughter Gertrude, Patrick L. Meehan. He is a graduate student in the physics dept. He received his bachelor's degree in 1967 at Holy Cross Col., Worcester, Mass. It looks like the draft will cut short his student days at Notre Dame."

"Our son, PATRICK J. KIRK, was at Notre Dame in 1941-1942, until he transferred to CU of A to begin his studies for the priesthood. He was ordained DOM DANIEL OSB in 1949, and is a member of the Community of St. Anselm's Abbey and on the Abbey School faculty in Washington DC."

Harry recently received a citation presented by the Hon. Walter E. Washington, mayor of the District of Columbia. It reads "HARRY J. KIRK - - has been acknowledged by fellow club members as an outstanding member and citizen, which honor not only emphasizes the commendable qualities of the individual senior citizen but also the contribution of senior clubs to the welfare of our city." The Brookland Friendly Senior Neighbors, to which Harry belongs, is an ecumenical group embracing the older members of five congregations in the area near Catholic U. in Washington, DC namely: Brookland Methodist, Church of Our Savior (Episcopal), 14th Street Baptist, Brookland Baptist, and St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Harry was one of the co-founders and was the first president.

Harry continues: "Some time ago I wrote to my old friend CHUBBY CORCORAN, of Chicago, that in the event he got into trouble, he might look up one of our sons-in-law, Joseph I. Woods, sheriff of Cook Co., Ill., husband of our daughter Lucille."

"The last time that I was in attendance at a ND Alumni Reunion, Dr. Corcoran, BILL MILROY, CLYDE BROUSSARD and I, unable to find many old friends about, strolled over to the community cemetery. There on the grave markers we read the names and recalled memories of many beloved departed of the Congregation of Holy Cross."

A yellow postcard, supplied by ALUMNUS was received from WILLARD V. HALLAM, who resides at 1061 So. Success Ave., Belair Apt. B, Lakeland, Fla. 33803 with an article on the history of Florida attached. The Hallams, parents, Willard and his sister are natives of Illinois, migrated to Harpers Ferry, W.Va. and later moved to Florida. Willard's father was engaged for some years in the publishing business.

He was associated with Success magazine and later Britannica. "He conceived the idea of publishing 'The Messages and Papers of the Presidents,' one of the most notable publication enterprises ever undertaken and successfully carried out."

The family purchased 10,000 acres of land in Florida in 1910 and much energy has been devoted to its development; 3000 acres now comprise the Lakeland Highlands, including a country club and numerous beautiful homes; 5000 acres are now a plantation of citrus fruits with 2000 acres of land still remaining to be developed.

Willard V. Hallam left Dickinson seminary at Williamsport, Pa. to join the Navy during World War I in 1917 even though he was under age. He served on the USS Henderson and crossed the ocean 26 times during the war.

"I joined the Armed Forces again in 1942, was discharged in 1944, with service connected disability (honorable medical discharge as a Chief Petty Officer USN).

"My serial number in both World Wars was 1702983. I am now 100% service connected disability—and I undergo surgery again May 1 or 2 at Lakewood General Hosp."

I am sure Willard will be happy to hear from his classmates. Willard is a life member of BPOE 1291 Lakeland Elks, also life member DA Veterans, Lakeland Post and a 47-year member of the American Legion.

A post card was received from SIMEON T. FLANAGAN from London. The note on the card said—"When at ND at our 50th anniversary we mustered 15 of our Class but a few have dropped since then. I'm lucky to be here trying a Billion $ case in this claim court house. Best to you and all."

Sim graduated in law with the class of 1914. When at home he can be reached at Madison Sq. Hotel, 37 Madison Ave., NY, NY. We urge Sim to fill us in on the success of his venture and more about himself when he returns.

On a recent trip to South Dakota and Iowa, I had the pleasure of visiting with two good old ND friends. In South Dakota Mrs. Kuhle and I were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. THEODORE N. FEYDER at 800 W. 4 St., Sioux Falls, SD 57104. Ted of the 1914 law class is not too well and is confined to his home most of the time. He does enjoy loving companionship with his dear wife and a devoted daughter. He too would be happy to hear from members of his Class.

In Sioux City, Iowa we had the pleasure of meeting EDWARD LALLEY. We attended the same Mass and found him waiting for us outside after services. He informed me that he hopes to retire from newspaper work in the very near future.

A letter from EMMETT G. LENIHAN brings the following news: "I had a very enjoyable birthday. All the members of the family were over with the grandchildren and we enjoyed a good swim and buffet supper afterwards. I am getting so now that the only one of the grandchildren that I can beat swimming is the seven-year-old and he will probably have me outstripped before the end of the summer. My youngest, a daughter who lives in Baltimore, of course couldn't be there but telephoned so everyone got a chance to talk to her."

"I shall not be back at Reunion this year, but will try to keep my schedule of going back every fifth year which, the Lord willing, will be in 1970. Please give my best wishes to all members of the Class." Emmett's address—1114 Norton Bldg., Seattle, Wash. 98100.

Through the thoughtfulness of JOSEPH J. HEALY, I received the sad news of the death of JOHN O'DONNELL, in Williams, Calif. His address was P.O. Box 222. He is said to have been in failing health since Thanksgiving. John was a retired attorney, former state assemblyman, one-time speaker of the lower house, and a former Yolo Co. Superior Court judge, appointed to that post by Gov. Culbert L. Olson. He was a native of New York. Survivors include his wife Molly, of Williams; daughter Mrs. Agnes Lederer of Pacific Palisades; brother, Dr. Francis O'Donnell of Stockton; sister Mrs. Mary Coombs of New York; stepdaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Tara of Los Angeles, and seven grandchildren."

May his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God rest in peace. During the past winter season the following "old grads" and their wives frequently met socially at Pompano Beach and Fort Lauderdale: Mr. and Mrs. Hunk Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. CHAS. JOHN BALFE was in Phoenix on vacation in May and visited with LEONARD CALL's son who is running the General Electric establishment there. He also saw JERRY CROUGH '21 who many of us knew.

John is renowned as a golfer and a tree is being dedicated to him at the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester. He plays in several senior golf tournaments. His insurance business, while under his able control, is aided by his son-in-law.

Leonard Call is continuing his long career with the Hunt magazines in New York City. He commutes daily from Hasbrouck Heights NJ, very much on the ball and looking forward to our 50th Reunion. He is very proud that his son is a priest.

SHERWOOD DIXON, after a political career leading to lieutenant governor of Illinois while Gov. Stevenson held power, reported long ago he was returning to practicing law in Dixon, Ill. to support his family. His law practice, with his personality and family background, has prospered but now he reports turning it over to his younger generation. He will retain his bankruptcy court business. His seven children and ten grandchildren would give any smart man our age with lessening of responsibility, great enjoyment.

He enjoyed some legal business with our ex-Congressman, JOE O'HARA, now living in Washington. We should all pressure Joe to come to our next Reunion, in spite of his arthritis and added weight.

I wish our members would send us information that I can pass on in our letters. The response from the few reports that I have had is very gratifying and I am sure everyone would welcome more information.

One more '22 classmate has been called to his reward. This time the summons came to EDMUND B. COMYNS who resided at 888 Cambridge Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio 44121. Please do remember in your prayers the soul of the aforementioned, and these others: Mrs. Loretta M. Juerjens, mother of HAROLD E. MCKEE of happy memory, who died last October 28, and a sister (Mary) of Mrs. Charles Crowley of Weston, Massachusetts on Holy Thursday last.

We are highly pleased to report that JOHN PAUL CULLEN, who was immobilized for a few days in Misericordia Hosp., Milwaukee, is active again. His last reported location was Washington, DC on June 7. Too, JAMES VINCENT JONES of Rochester, NY is on the mend after a mild illness, and that is happy news.

On May 4 in Honolulu, Mrs. George (Phyllis) Heneghan writes: "My sister and I are having our first vacation in nine years. Our mother passed away this last Christmas Eve. From here we go to New Orleans for little Jimmy's first Communion, and then back to South Bend."

JUSTIN E. HYLAND now resides at 1830 West Sunset Ave., Decatur, Illinois 62522. For many years he lived in the New York area, where he was busy on engineering projects.

Under date of June 2, FRANCIS OTT of 559 East Providencia Ave., Burbank, California writes: "What is so rare as a day in June? I'll tell you what! VINCE HANRAHAN just telephoned me from Los Angeles. That makes me feel very good—having an old classmate call me who has been in the state of oblivion so long. It is nice to know you are not forgotten."

Presently in June, Vince has another convoy assignment for the US Department of State in the company of the minister of education of Swaziland visiting New Orleans, Houston, Phoenix, California, and Illinois at Wheaton, where the guest of honor had earned two college degrees and this year received an additional honorary degree. Vince had a chance to visit the RALPH CORYNs in Moline, where he had stopped 40 years ago to welcome Ralph and Ann returning from their honeymoon. Also Vince reports he helped our neighboring Class of '23 celebrate their 45th Reunion at ND, as did RANGY MILES and GEORGE KERVER of '22. Then, there was a motor drive to Chicago with JIM MARTIN; a luncheon visit in Chicago with our own JERRY DIXON; a hospital visit with JOE CASSA-SANTA, but location of last mentioned visit was not identified.

Congratulations to a few of your classmates for the most news I have received for many a year—letters from EDDIE BAKER, JIM ARMSTRONG, GEORGE VERGARA and MORRIE BOLAND.

Eddie Baker writes "another change of address for you—R.R. 2, Box 274, Syracuse, Ind." He said in part—"I retired from Peter Eckrich & Sons last November after nearly 38 years. We have had a summer home at Lake Wawasee since 1948. It was built as a year-round home but we are adding rooms and installing air-conditioning. After returning from Florida we got into our new project because Mrs. B. and I love it here. Another real advantage, I can see practically all ND football games on WNDU . . . beats fighting cold, snow and rain as I did many times. Our children are married and we have two grandsons and two granddaughters. It is too bad that the members of the Class (including yours truly) don't communicate with you more often. I like to read the little excerpts from their letters to you and also get a little nostalgic once in a while and wonder about some of the fellows I knew on the campus." Eddie, thanks for the news.

George Vergara, 271 North Ave., New Rochelle, NY writes: "The picture in the current ALUMNUS captioned, 'Who are these fresh faced lads with Father DOREMUS?' has set the wheels of memory churning. The black shirted youth on Father's left has to be ART HALEY. Behind Father to his right are RIP MILLER's sombre looking features. The fellow on the left hand corner could be your correspondent.

"About Art Haley . . . when I was badly in need of a couple of ducats for an Army-ND game, I received them with a friendly note from Art, 'the reason you are getting the last two tickets available,' he wrote, 'was because you gave me two tickets to the last Army-ND game played on the plains at West Point in '22.' Believe it or not, in those days there was no admission charge to this game. You did have to have a white pass. I had two such passes as I ran out to the field with the team. I don't know whether it was Rockne's pep talk to his sophomore teams or the non-appearance of someone I knew—I handed the tickets to a young fellow I thought was a student. Sure enough it was Art (then a freshman). That game at West Point ended 0-0 tie. DON MILLER and I played every minute of it—the hardest game we were ever in."

This comes from James Armstrong, 1049 N. Johnson St. South Bend, Ind. "Welcome to the grandfathers' group. And I say this with renewal, to borrow a current term. Marion and I enjoyed our trip abroad and our three weeks with Brother Philip, as I have written previously, and I hope the happy fallout from that experience has permeated the whole Class of '25."

"Acting on the strength of another memorable highlight of June, 1967, Marion and I launched Dreamboat (the Ninety-Eight) on a two-month trip to the west coast, for a real get-acquainted visit with sons John (wife, two sons and a daughter) in Canoga Park, Richard (wife, two sons and a daughter) in Whittier, and Gregory (wife and two sons) in Fresno. We left here Feb. 15 and got back Apr. 15.

"Heretofore the contacts out there have been business-oriented, and the actual get-togethers few and usually everybody on best behavior. This time, by hovering close, we enjoyed the day-to-day routines which get right down to the real kids (and the real grandparents!) We really enjoyed every minute of it.

"We found the family program left out a lot of friendly contacts among Alumni and other friends. And we didn't visit a lot of the attractions of the Chamber of Commerce. So we are planning to make this an annual and probably longer visit. It gets away from the Indiana winter—a goal all by itself but produces an alternative of great attraction.

"I keep looking for those hours and days of unrest that retirements are supposed to bring. Actually, up to now, I haven't even begun to find time for the things I want time for. I think this may stem partly from my long-time claim that I love leisure. At the moment I would say that my cup runneth over, except that a fairly successful diet from a good doctor takes a dim view of the cup.

"Sometime soon, I hope to get into a less orbital life, and to practice some of the virtues I preached for Alumni."

MORRIE BOLAND sent me the sad news of the death of EDDIE POLHAUS' wife on April 4. Eddie, in the name of your class I would like to extend our deepest sympathy to you in your great loss.

Let's continue to keep our Class news heavy!

1929 LARRY STAUDER ENGINEERING BLDG. NOTRE DAME, IND. 46556

September 28, immediately after the Purdue football game, the Class of '29 and their guests will have a get-together in the Engineering bldg. JIM CURRY, CLETE SCHNEIDER, GENE MILLIFF, FRANCIS FLYNN, BILL NEFF, and Rev. THORNTON, who were back for Reunion weekend in June, and your class secretary are looking forward to the September date and June of '69. Each year we have had a few new faces at the fall party to join with the "regulars." Will you be with us? We have welcomed the '28ers to stop by and to join with us if they wish. This will give you the opportunity to visit with fellows that you have not seen for (perhaps forty) years.

The Class of '28 has scheduled an after-game get-together for October 19, the date of the Illinois game. You are welcome to join with them and visit.

It makes no difference whether it is I, or Fr. Thornton or others of our Class, or of the Alumni office, each is overwhelmed by the performance, the depth, the "class" of the Class of '28. They deserve the label "The Greatest" and need not do a public relations job to maintain it. Their actions, some widely publicized, like their Class survey; some obvious, like their attendance of 180 at the Reunion; some known to a few, like works of charity; and some to God alone.

It is sobering to look forward toward the year of preparation and planning that will precede our fortieth in '69. Our Class organization needs more individual involvement to make our Reunion the memorable weekend it can be. Our attendance, measure of our success, depends in final analysis on the individual, on you. Will we have one more? Or will it be one less? Perhaps, it could be three more, ten more? Promotional mailings, and personal contact paid off big for '28. Perhaps we cannot rival them in that role, but we can show them that '29 can match them in response. More wives than in former years were seen in the city and on the campus during Reunion weekend.

You will be hearing from me and from others. If you would like to step forward and volunteer to make a mailing to all or part of the Class, consider this an open invitation. If we can promise you the office vice-pres. of the south, will you attend for first time? I'm not saying that GEORGE LEPPIG '28 was here for that reason but he and about four others were back for the first time, if my information is fact.

GENE MILLIFF now resides in a smaller home, 3167 Linden Road, Suite 303, Rocky River, Ohio. On June 29 his son, Jimmy, will be married in Chicago. Jimmy is with Glidden Co. in Cleveland and will enroll in law school at Western Reserve. His daughter, Marilyn, is a teacher in Rye, NH and an MS candidate of U. of New Hampshire. Her husband Perrine Parkhurst, is crew chief flying out of Guam. He is due back in July.

NORMAN J. McLEOD, also has a new address, Hillcreek Lane, Gates Mills, Ohio. Norm has five married children and 14½ grandchildren. One son, who recently finished a stint in the Coast Guard, is still single. Norman was recently appointed as loan team leader at Cleveland US Small Business Administration. He was the recipient of two recent honors, the "Public Contract Award" Mid-Atlantic Area (9 states) and also a scroll for top "Procurement and Management Assistance to Small Business" for the same area. He has been a frequent speaker for business majors at Cleveland State U. and at Kent State. He will "See you in '69."

OLLIE SCHELL, in public practice as a CPA in Tyrone, Pa., plans to attend the '69 Reunion. JIM CURRY's address is now Shadblow Hill Rd., Ridgefield, Conn.

BILL NEFF and his wife returned on schedule from a Grace Lines trip to selected ports in Lima, Peru, Guayaquil, Ecuador, Colombia and Panama. Their trip was most enjoyable and informative. They are grateful for the generous cooperation given them. His new history text will reflect the candid, firsthand information made available to him. He will be back in '69.

The following is the content of a May 28 letter from JIM KENNEDY, 6554 W. Imlay St., Chicago, Ill. "My son Tom is now in Wesley Memorial Hosp. in Chicago, where two brain-tumor specialists are trying their best to cure him. He has lost 60 lbs. during his illness. Only by the grace of God and the prayers of our friends can we expect him to recover.

"I am nearly ready to go back to my consulting engineering practice, following the stroke and heart attack of January 29. I am taking voice therapy at Mundelein Col. from a wonderful nun who is helping me very much. Some of the 't' and 'ph' sounds come out alike . . . she is correcting them. I do my 'home work' on a tape recorder and she checks it at her leisure on her tape recorder.

"To pass the time, I sometimes write just for the sheer joy of expressing my thoughts. The Chicago Daily News publishes about 60% of my vignettes, one of which is enclosed . . . they had their own cartoonist illustrate and my family feels sure he must have seen me at some graduation ceremony, head in hand, bored to death."

The following are excerpts from a June 5 letter from JIM KENNEDY addressed to "Friends of our son, Tom Kennedy." "This is offered as prayer of thanksgiving: Tom was operated upon for the second time, June 3, for removal of a brain tumor. In the initial operation, inaccessible roots of the tumor could not be removed for fear of damage to the brain, but it was hoped that the growth of another tumor would take several years and allow the wound to heal sufficient for a more thorough attack upon it. However, it grew rapidly after bringing Tom from the U. of Iowa Hosp. to a rest home in Chicago. Tom was failing fast. This necessitated a second operation at Wesley Memorial Hosp.

"Dr. Bucy and his assistants, Drs. Jelsona and Siqueria, performed the operation, going into the cranium from a different direction, making it possible to remove the tumor and presumably its roots, although the membrane that surrounds such a growth (comparable to the membrane that separates an eggshell from its contents) was so intimately attached to the brain, it could not be removed. If there are no cells of the tumor attached to this membrane, and the doctors believe they have removed them all, there is a good chance of a complete cure.

"Tom came out of the operation in good shape. With the pressure removed from the brain he could hear and respond to commands of the doctors. He is having a little difficulty breathing and is using a 'pump' carrying oxygen and air to regain the natural rhythm of his lungs.

"Through letters from Tom's students and associate faculty members, his will to survive was strengthened. For the return of our son, we thank God and trust that in his service as a teacher he will be a valuable aid to society."

REUNION REGISTRANTS: James M. Curry, Francis Flynn, Eugene Milliff, Bill Neff, Cletus Schneider.

1930 DEVERE PLUNKETT O'SHAUGHNESSY HALL NOTRE DAME, IND. 46536

MARTIN J. TRAVERS, pres. of Liberty National Bank and Trust Co., Buffalo, has been named general chairman of the Western New York division of ND's $52 million development fund campaign.

WALTER M. LANGFORD, prof. of modern languages at ND, is one of four ND graduates who has been elected to three-year terms on the board of directors of the ND Alumni Assn. Walter was also elected to represent the College of Arts and Letters on the Faculty Board in control of athletics.

Long Island Lighting Co. has elected EDWARD C. DUFFY its president. "Charlie" Duffy began his utility career in 1942 as a design engineer at LILCO. In 1953 he was elected vice-pres., and in 1957 advanced to senior vice-pres. He was elected a director in 1958.

JACK CASSIDY sent us an ALUMNUS card to report that things were going well, although his recent travels have not uncovered any classmates for news.

"BO" RICHARDS wrote an interesting account of his family: "Please pardon the delay in sending you this report on the family that I promised you some time ago. Here goes . . . My oldest son Dave has joined the ranks of the Benedictines. Although he has been out of law school only 5 years, he is faring better than his senior, and I am happy about it. He has his own private practice but gives me a hand when I need him in my little private practice, in which I am engaged besides my Government duties as a claims officer.

"My two daughters, Suzanne and Kathleen, after graduating from college worked until they saved enough money to tour Europe, which they did last year. They were away about six months, during which time they visited every country and capital in Europe. Besides they worked in London and Augsburg, Germany, to supplement their funds, which enabled them to make more extensive sight-seeing trips. They got back home at Christmas, and were we happy to see them, especially the undersigned since Alice made a trip to Paris to see them, and made several trips with them during her visit of 2 weeks.

"Don, my youngest son, had the good fortune to attend Maur Hill Prep School, in Atchison, Kan., for four years. It is operated by the Benedictines, who do a masterful job in developing young men. You will recall Knute, Jr. and Bill Rockne attended school there one year. Don had a great season in his last year, playing full-back on the third team in Maur Hill's history (1919) to go undefeated. The team was fabulous! They competed against schools that had enrollments from 600 to 1900 students, which speaks well for the 287 boys at Maur Hill. Don had several offers, two of which were from top flight schools (one plays ND regularly), but I persuaded him to pass them up and go all out on his studies if he wanted to get somewhere in this competitive era. He appreciates it now since he has discovered that it takes a lot of time for homework in order to keep up in his lessons. He's attending Missouri U. here in KC, and it is a treat to have him home after being away four years at Maur Hill.

"Like all parents, I am mighty thankful that my kids are receiving and have the benefit of a college education, because without it they are unable to compete.

"Dev, I am sorry to have burdened you with such a lengthy letter. My very best wishes to you and all our classmates. Pray this finds you all well and thriving."

Dr. ED YORKE is going into a residency in psychiatry at Camarillo State Hosp. in July which will qualify him as a psychiatrist. He has been with the California department of mental hygiene since 1957. He sends a note of welcome to all 1930 Alumni traveling in California to come to see him—a social visit of course—not professional.

GUS BONDI stopped by recently for a visit. He was in South Bend to handle some business affairs for his wife's family. Gus is still with Metropolitan in Cincinnati, but has greatly curtailed his business efforts. He has one son who is now a senior in high school and who likely will be coming to Notre Dame.

JOE DRINANE wrote us a note from out in Malaysia: "Your letter finally caught up with me out here in Malaysia. I'm sorry I don't have any Class news as I never seem to run into many members of our Class. I do see quite a few ND men but most of them from later classes. I have been getting out to a game almost every fall and always stop in at the '29 get-together in the engineering building to have a talk with my good friend Rev. LOU THORNTON.

"As for myself, I have been in engineering and construction since graduation. The past twenty-five years, time certainly flies, about 50% on overseas work and 50% domestic. I spent the first few months of this year in Ireland on a large oil terminal project and then had to come out here for a couple of months to write a report and estimate the cost of a proposed highway plan.

"My daughter still goes back to ND every summer to continue her studies. As she is teaching and has the summer off it is a good way to spend the time.

"On my next trip back to ND I would like very much to see you and will look you up."

The Class will be sorry to learn of the death of WALT ROSSELLIT of Dayton, Ohio. His family can be assured of the prayers of the 1930 group.

If no news is good news, then you fellows are all well. I received not a line from anyone. JIM DUBBS, however, sent me a wonderful snapshot taken at our Reunion last year of myself and the late Archbishop PAUL HALLINAN. I shall treasure this. Otherwise I didn't even receive a good "change of address." ROBERT "BOB" HARTMAN moved from Walnut Street to 1105 North Highland Avenue, both in Pittsburgh. He didn't even leave town.

I know you all have received a letter from NICK RUFFING regarding donations in Paul Hallinan's name for the "Village of St. Joseph" in Atlanta, a project close to Paul's heart. It would be wonderful if 100% of us participate as a great tribute to our revered classmate.

I think it might be fun if, using me as a clearinghouse, those of us going to the Navy game next fall pick a gate number to meet at before game time. Let me know.

Dr. BOB MAHER, whose home is in Spokane, Wash., wrote from Da Nang, South Vietnam that he landed there the end of January as a volunteer physician to staff an eye clinic. He was stationed about 60 miles southwest of Saigon and had quite an experience during the Viet Cong offensive in mid-February, when his area was overrun and had to be evacuated. He is now back in business in the northern section of Vietnam.

BILL TOUMEY wrote with the surprising information that all these years he has never been officially listed with the Class of '35. This oversight was corrected with the Alumni Office. Bill responded again with news of himself and other classmates which I will quote: "In response to your request for news for the Class notes, it just happens that I was talking by phone today with AL LAWTON in Atlanta. Al is now president of Georgia International Corp. and his new address is 615 Peachtree Street, Atlanta 30398. To quote Al directly: 'I now have six and two-thirds grandsons.' Al didn't tell me how to distribute these between his two married daughters. Al's son, George, a recent graduate of Gonzaga is now in Chile on a Fulbright Scholarship. As for my family, my oldest, Priscilla, is a junior at Marymount Col. in Tarrytown, NY. Christopher is a sophomore at Colgate and Richard, the youngest, graduates this June from Loyola Prep in NYC.

I see BILL MURTHA frequently. He is still one of the top investigative reporters on the New York Daily News. ANDY MAFFEI tells me that he, PHIL HEINLE and MIKE SANTULI have "the oldest established floating lunch club" of all ND alumni. They are occasionally joined by others in this area and Andy would like you to know they have moved from the St. Regis King Cole Room to the Barberry Room. Any visiting classmates who want to find out when the club is meeting next can phone PHIL HEINLE here in New York at his office, 765-4890. Bill is vice-pres. of Carl Byoir & Assoc., Inc., 800 Second Ave., New York 10017.

I am in touch now and then with ART O'NEIL. On a very recent trip to Chicago, Art told me that he and Mary have taken up skiing in a big way and try to get at least two weeks of skiing in every winter out in Colorado.

Several pleasant hours were spent with Alice and JOE KNAPP during commencement week end. I haven't seen Joe since graduation but would have recognized him anywhere. Their son, Bill, graduated and for the occasion five of their eight children were also in attendance and we had the pleasure of meeting them. We are expecting Joe to keep his promise to be at the next Reunion a few years hence.

Louise and FRANK HOLAHAN were in town that weekend to attend the ceremonies. Their second son, Bill, also graduated this year and will attend Brown U. next fall on a scholarship.

Too late to make the last issue, we received a note from Mrs. BILL RENNEKAMP with the sad news that Bill passed away November 7, 1967. On behalf of the Class, we extend our sympathy to her and the family. Her address is 20 Crawford Street, McKees Rocks, Pa. in the event you wish to drop her a note.

It seems most appropriate to open this column with a special thanks to our long-remembered FRANK O'MALLEY, the professor's professor, for his eulogizing of our late classmate EDWIN O'CONNOR (ALUMNUS May-June 1968). No one else could have said it so well.

Col. BOB KENNEDY USMC (Ret'd) completed 27 years in the Corps, retiring July, 1967. Now in Thomaston, Maine, he is currently Deputy Warden, Maine State Prison.

UND night in New York saw a minor reunion of TOM GILLESPIE, JACK MCGOVERN, HANK BORDA, CAS VANCE, JIM MCGOLDRICK, FRANK BRIGHT, ED VON HOENE, PETE REPPETTI and their reporter, PAUL TULLY. Thanx, Paul. FRANCIS J. MASTROPIETRO was recently reelected to Auburn, NY Board of Education for a third term. He is also a member of Cayuga County Catholic School Board. DICK ANTON, GE manager, International Employee Relations, SUMMAing Alumni employees—Saw your letter, Dick, simply great!

"Gold Star" correspondent DAVE MESKILL writes the following: Betty and JULIAN TONSMIERE at ND for son Julian Kelly Tonsmieri's graduation; Jean Ann Rice, daughter of PAUL RICE, married April 20, 1968; MOTTS TONELLI was main speaker at recent ND Chicago Club meeting—an excellent job. Dave also reports seeing ED O'DONNELL in Bridgeport, Conn. Ed's older son graduated from Boston Col. in 1967. FRANK TOYNE is with TWA in New York. Dave and Adelaide Meskill's Kathleen is with VISTA in Shreveport, La.; Susan at Illinois U.; and Patty will graduate from high school in June, 1969. TIM MESKILL '69 announced he will leave the benedict's ranks in January, 1969. Haven't cleared with Dave so cannot announce name of the lucky gal.

From this end of the pen, son PAT will enter Indiana U. Medical School in September, completing all requirements at end of his junior year. While at ND he found time to participate in the Neighborhood Study Help Program as tutor and section leader, served on Honor Council and was one of eight juniors elected to membership in Alpha Epsilon Delta, International Scholastic Honor Society for premedical students.

Let's use those yellow cards Ye Editor so kindly provided. Would like to hear from more of you. Thanx—30.

This column must begin with my expression of sincere thanks and appreciation to all of you who have heeded my frantic pleas for news. Starting the day after I forwarded my last article for the ALUMNUS, letters and cards arrived almost daily for more than a week. Thanks to this new Class activity we will be able to renew many friendships and recall numerous pleasant associations. Just keep the news coming and I predict our next Reunion, only two years away, will be the greatest we have ever had.

Please remember all of our deceased classmates in your prayers and also those who have had deaths in their families. JAMES A. MLYNSKI '65-'66 son of JOHN J. MLYNSKI and brother of DAVID '66 was in a fatal accident. The mother of ED HUFF, and the father of JIM CASPER recently died. In the name of all men of '40 I extend our condolences to them.

GERRY DONOVAN started the flow of news by writing: "When we graduated I was the only Class member from Tulsa, but things have changed. After the war, FARRIS SAFFA moved to Tulsa and lives across the street. A year or so ago WAYNE WAHL left the hallowed confines of South Bend and moved nearby. Our most recent addition is Col. JOE RYAN, formerly of Denver who has retired from the Air Force and is now a wheel with American Airlines. We used the occasion to celebrate our newfound Class strength at a ND meeting to introduce Joe."

Rev. JOHN T. PAYNE CSC sent a card from St. Ignatius, Martyr, 2309 Euclid, Austin, Tex. 78704 saying: "Saw JOHN DARROUZET of Dallas several months ago after Sunday Mass here in Austin where I have been stationed for 17 years. JOHN MEANEY is an asst. to the pres. of Texas U. and doing a great job. Rev. BILL TOBIN of the Paracletes was here for a few days. Looks great, and a most interesting speaker."

Our senior class pres., HARRY BOISVERT, writes: "For the past 10 years I've been located in LA. Just completed five years' service as a superior court commissioner, sitting continuously as a judge pro tempore. Married, with a son Tom and a daughter Patricia who both attend UCLA. Anyone passing through should drop in at the Superior Court at 111 N. Hill St., Dept. 7." Harry's home address is 4955 Mammouth Ave., Sherman Oaks, Calif. 91403.

MATT GONRING, our good German friend from West Bend, Wis. has been with B. C. Ziegler & Co., institutional investments for 23 years. He celebrated 25 years of wedded bliss on April 3. His oldest of four daughters is married and Matt became a "Grandpa" on Dec. 11. It was a boy.

CURT HESTER retired from the FBI last August to accept a position with American Oil Co. in Chicago as chief of their fraud investigations. Because of the travel involved Curt reports on many visits: "Had a very enjoyable visit with KEN COLLINS and family in Fargo. Talked to JACK MACK and REX ELLIS in California, both happily displaced Midwesterners. JOHN MARTIN is always the genial host on LI. His five and my five pretty well neutralize each other. Had lunch with GREG RICE '39 in NYC recently."

HANK DOWD was thoughtful enough to collect news at the Universal ND Night in NY and reports: "GERRY SAEGERT was the chairman of the NY Universal Dinner and is to be congratulated as we had the largest attendance in the last decade plus a gay time. The men of '40 were well represented and time is catching up, as JIM ROGERS advised us that he just recently retired from the FBI after 26 years and is now in charge of security as vice pres. for a computer and electronic corp."

"LEO SANTINI, a successful trucking executive, looks fit and has been nominated by the Senate to be a Brigadier General in the reserve. JOHN KELLY traveled in from NJ, where he is directing his own private investigation service. KEN BEH is with a public relations firm."

"A recent arrival in NYC is ENRIQUE ARIAS, a mechanical engineer who escaped Cuba as a refugee after a successful career in Havana since graduating from ND. He proves the fighting spirit of ND men, as he arrived in Miami with his wife and three children but little else, has now developed a second successful career traveling around the country proving his worth during the last five years. Last January he was appointed vice-pres. of National Sugar Co., proving that good men do win."

"Personally, the shipping industry has been hectic but interesting, as our American vessel, the U.S. Observer, has been detained in the Suez Canal since 6-5-67 and I can almost speak Arabic and Yiddish after many trips abroad, but not very well, as the ship is not moving. We all promised to meet at the Reunion in 1970."

Most issues would not be complete without a word from GERRY SAEGERT, so here is the news from his most recent letter. "Saw some of the men of '40 at the Mich. State game. LARRY

DEVEREUX, my roommate for 3 years, was there with his family. Larry's son Bill is finishing his junior year at ND and is living in Lyons sub just across from the room Larry and I had in 1939-40. Also saw Rosemary and JOHN KELLER and the seemingly ever-present JACK FINDER. MIKE CORGAN wrote and advised he saw JIM DANER while on a scouting trip for Nebraska U. in the Detroit area. Jim has recuperated well from recent surgery and is back on the job as a leading trial attorney in the area.

"Met Jim Casper of Milwaukee at a convention. Jim's son was accepted at ND for this fall, and his oldest son graduated two years ago and is now doing well in med. school. DON GILLILAND will be leaving Dallas soon and hopes to be in the Midwest this fall to see a couple ball games."

Gerry then forwarded some very sad news. JOE MANGANO was killed in an automobile accident. All of us wish to extend our condolences to Joe's family and assure them that he will be remembered in our daily prayers.

Now some news from Dubuque and TOM SCHMID who writes: "I've pretty much lost track of most of the fellows, and have always had a conflict of dates in Reunion years. After leaving school I went East to Bridgeport, Conn. to GE Business Training course. I roomed with DAVE MESKILL '39 until I was drafted in 1941."

"I see BILL SCHALLER a few times each year, and DICK MCKAY MD '39 practices medicine here so we see each other regularly. I was married after the war and our family consists of two boys, 16 and 14, and twin girls, 12."

Tom was recently elected pres. of Nat'l Ass'n of Electrical Distributors. This association is one of the oldest and largest hard goods trade associations. Its membership numbers over 1200 electrical wholesale distribution houses.

Gentlemen, this is one of our best columns and we can keep it up if you will keep sending news to Shorty.

It is just about a year ago this time JOE CHAMPLEY flew from Chicago to Washington, DC for an interview with Air Cargo, Inc. With typical Irish luck, which he justly deserves. Joe was the successful applicant out of some half a hundred applicants who were being considered. Joe joined Air Cargo, Inc. as director of pick-up and delivery service on Oct. 11, 1967, headquarters in Washington. He moved his wonderful family into a delightful home midway between Washington and Baltimore—and twelve miles from Annapolis.

Joe tells us his duties take him to all parts of the country at some time or other. However, he is in Washington much of the time, and tells us he would be delighted to hear from members of the Class of '42 whenever business or pleasure brings them to the Nation's capital. His telephone number is 293-2222. Thanks, Joe, and happy flying!

Even though it is vacation time, don't forget to send us your news. May the fish bite better and our column grow bigger!!

Not looking a day over 47 or so, the Class of '43 posed for the Reunion photographer.

To give the exact dates of our silver jubilee Reunion is impossible at this time because, up to now, the University has not released them. Probably they will be either the days at the end of the first week in June or similar ones one week later. Therefore, sons and daughters of '44ers (wives, too, if one dare say so), do not select either of those weekends for any special demanding time-consuming events to keep Dad away from his 25th at ND. It's his turn to "Rise and Shine in '69."

Already plans are being formulated. TOM ROLFS, co-chairman, scheduled a meeting recently with BOB LEHMAN who so ably organized the 20th and with JOE DILLON. Yours truly was to have attended but had to cancel out at the last moment. Within due time you will be hearing from Tom or "BLACK" JOHN MURPHY or a member of their committee. It is none too early to make plans.

Some '44ers already have stated they would be on hand a year from now (at least they hope to make it). Since the last column went to press, cards were received from GUIDO ALEXANDER, Columbus, Ohio restaurant entrepreneur and from JOHN CLYNE, Lincoln, Neb. physician and surgeon. '44ers in the Lincoln area should contact John re travel plans. Guido has been drumming up enthusiasm and has tentative commitments from BOB MCBRIDE, JOHN JOHNSON and JOHN KANE to be present a year hence.

JOE KEARNEY reported a change of address to 40 Kathleen Court, Packanack Lake, Wayne, NJ. Joe, the father of four sons and four daughters, is employed at IIT in nearby Nutley, NJ. A fellow employee and also a neighbor is another '44er ARNOLD NUNNICK. Both these men plan to trek to the Midwest in early June, 1969.

TONY BILOTTI, Queens Village, NY has volunteered to contact '44ers in his area regarding Reunion plans. He begs sons and daughters to plan no weddings for the probable Reunion time. It would be tragic if Dad were at his 25th jubilee — or would it?

Greetings came from Bishop Lynch High, Dallas, Tex. from Rev. JOHN REARDON O.P. Father, an original '44er, left ND in 1942 for the white and black robes of the Dominican Fathers. Since his ordination in 1949 he has had various assignments — Newman chaplain at the U. of New Mexico, prof. of philosophy at the Col. of St. Catherine, St. Paul, dean of boys at Fenwick HS, Oak Park, and now principal of the boys' div. at Bishop Lynch HS. Father reports that JOE RUD is prexy of the Men's Club and has a couple of daughters in the girls' div. of the school.

A very welcome letter was received from Col. BILL KELLY who presently is on duty in Korea. His wife and three sons live in Omaha, the scene of his last stateside assignment. Naturally he misses his family but he said that he would not have passed up his present tour of duty, a most interesting and challenging job, for anything. He hasn't seen a '44er in years and with the exception of TOM ROLFS' annual holiday greeting seldom hears from one. Previously he had occasional contacts with KELLY COOK whose "missing in Vietnam" still remains unsolved. Bill's address is—Col. W. J. Kelly, 314 Air Division, CMR 2004, APO San Francisco 96570.

Another fine letter came from DICK BRYDGES who with his wife Anne, son Hugh and daughter Margaret lives in Virginia Beach, Va. where for the past twenty years he has been practicing law specializing in trial work. His home is on the water so Dick has become an avid boatman and offshore fisherman.

Let us hope and pray that the summertime has been, still is and will continue to be a happy safe time for everyone.

Recently PETER F. GAYDOS and his family returned to Dallas, Tex. after having lived for five years in Maitland, Fla. Peter and his lovely wife Norma, whose maiden name was Lambert and was from South Bend, have two children. Their daughter Vicki is a junior at the U. of Tallahassee and their son Kent, six foot six and one-half, 200 lbs., is a freshman at Florida State U., on a football scholarship. Peter is Asst. director, data management for Vought Aeronautics div., LTV Aerospace Corp., and both he and his wife wish to be remembered to their many friends in South Bend.

A short time ago I had the distinct pleasure of meeting up with ANTHONY (TONY) ROCCO whom I hadn't seen in 22 years. Tony was a member of the Notre Dame football squad before transferring to Canisius Col. in Buffalo, from which he graduated. He is director of sales, sports programs for Channel 7 in New York, and on many occasions meets up with ELMER ANGSMAN on his visits to Chicago. Tony, his pretty wife Julia and their three children now make their home in Cos Cob, Conn.

I regret that's all for this issue. Why not jot down a few notes on the yellow card and mail it to me?

1947 JOHN MUELLER, after three years as assistant manager of the Houston Anheuser-Busch plant, has been named plant manager for the Jacksonville, Fla. A-B brewery. The $40 million facility is now under construction with an opening anticipated in May of 1969. A memorial scholarship has been established in the name of JOHN F. MILES by the St. Joseph Valley Club of Notre Dame. The scholarship will pay four years' tuition at ND.

Many interesting things have been going on at the University and in the Church due to Vatican II. My second Alumni Senate Meeting this past May on campus was rewarding. I was in contact with many students this past visit and can report that I would feel both honored and safe in sending my boys to Notre Dame today. Somehow, students all over the country are so interested in individual rights that they and their universities and their parents forget to teach them that there is a hierarchy of values and that individual rights are sacred and inviolate in the absence of some overriding common good or paramount rights of others. You may find that universities and administrators have abrogated their duties to teach that there is a hierarchy of values and that there is a lawful authority.

I know with the good moral, philosophical and theological training our Class got at Notre Dame we will fill the gap for our children and also insist that administrators teach more than individual rights. What is your reaction to the students petitioning to reduce the quantity of courses in philosophy and theology at Notre Dame? We are all different, but I find these courses develop for me a rudder of direction.

Last May on Campus I saw ROY DEEB, St. Petersburg, Fla.; RUSSELL SKALL, Fox River Valley; JOE ARCHIBALD; DICK CORDASCO; JOE JUDGE; BOB KANE; RAY MARTIN; HENRY PLETCHER. DICK SOISSON was at the Old-Timers Game. JOE HARRINGTON is with the New York Times. Joe Feeney of the Lawrence Welk Show has a brother in the Class of '48 from Appleton in the Holy Cross Order who keeps an eye on RUSS SKALL for me.

BOB KANE reports as a sales engineer in the Indianapolis area that he has seen ROGER HOSBEIN in Chicago and that BOB WELCH is state commander of the American Legion in Indiana.

We discussed a slight change since we were in school, such as the beautiful lakefront view with sailboats and the new library and the dome in the background; a senior bar off campus owned and operated by the seniors and well supervised by policemen; refrigerators and telephones in the rooms; females, including nuns, lounging on all banks of the lakes; No Playboy magazines in sight; the most articulate and well-mannered and pleasant students.

Jim Carberry had us as guests at the faculty lounge. Frank O'Malley this past June will have been at Notre Dame 33 years. TOM CASSIDY is teaching in southern Illinois. All in all the visit was inspiring. The student leaders are aware of working within a Christian framework.

Also rewarding is the fact that in addition to a Hanratty-to-Seymour combination you may see a sophomore Theismann-to-Poskon-or-Eaton combination, with Coley O'Brien taking TOM SCHOEN's place as safety.

GENE CAMPANELE has been appointed assoc. director of the office for education research at ND. JIM TANSEY, football and basketball coach at Beiger Junior HS in Mishawaka, has been named coordinator of athletics at the South Bend regional campus of Indiana U. JOEL BULLARD, South Bend real estate and mortgage company executive, filed for Republican nomination for state senator.

BUD ROMANO reports their seventh child, Donald Jr. His wholesale liquor business moved into a new modern one-story warehouse in Chicago. He saw TOM McHALE and talked with his old roommate, TOM SAGGAU, now living in Fort Wayne. EMIL CITKO is in all of our prayers for his recovery from a heart attack.

MARK MARQUELING, in Moraga, Calif., reports being transferred to the San Francisco office of Otis Elevator Co. His oldest started San Jose State last fall, namely, Chuck, 19, and Jean Marie, 16, Steve, 11, Richard, 10, and Eileen Marie, one, are enjoying the California climate.

BOB KRAEMER (SMC's Sisters Pat and Jan) has moved with his wife Anne and children Kathy, 11, Joan, nine, Stephen, eight, Anita, six, Tim, four, to Washington DC where he is working at NASA headquarters as mgr. of advanced planetary programs. JIM MARTIN is working there as mgr. of the aeronautical flight systems. Bob occasionally sees WALT GEUDTNER (head of Cleveland office for General Dynamics), DON DOOLEY and TIM HANRAHAN (launches the USAF Atlas and Titan III at Cape Kennedy).

JOE GERARDI has left Grumman as chief reliability engineer on Apollo Lunar Module, to manage his deceased father's estate. PETE ESPENAN, MD and Isabelle, Pete, Don, Anne, Kathy, Gregory, Paul and Janine get as far as Pensacola beach on the way to see the Ramsburgers in St. Petersburg but never farther. He is looking forward to the Notre Dame-Tulane game October 25, 1969 in New Orleans and hopes all of his old friends will pay him a visit at the remodeled Old Homestead. He has heard from DON HOLLAND MD in Vegas and JACK ARGUE MD in Pittsfield, Mass.

BOB WAGNER in Chicago reports that the ART ARQUILLAS have moved to Encino, Calif. Bob congratulates—and we join in—Class Agent GUS CIFELLI for our contribution record. JIM FITZSIMMONS JR has his insurance agency in Newark. TOM FARLEY was elected freeholder in Essex County (Newark).

May you all have a good summer. There are six issues of this magazine a year. Please write, or ask your lovely wife to run a contest to see which of your children can write me the best.

Two issues ago we erroneously placed ANDY McKENNA and Schwarz Paper Company on LaSalle Street rather than at their correct address, 1430 S. Canal in Chicago. Sorry, Andy. Thanks to JOE RIGALI for the correct address. Joe should know, as he is now selling industrial paper packaging and specialty items for Schwarz.

Another recent job change was made by JACK BECKER, who is now Midwest regional mgr for Chandler Leasing, at 1301 W. 22nd St., Suite 501, Oakbrook, Ill. Jack promises to lease anything so give him a call.

DAVE GUSHURST dropped a note from 901 Edison, La Junta, Colo. 81050 where he has been an attorney for some eight years. At that time Dave married a widow with two children; Cindy is 13, and Don is 11. They also have a little girl, Kelly, five. The Gushurst family enjoys the western geography and invite any classmate travelling US 50 to stop in. Letters from classmates would also be appreciated.

Another attorney is DAN MINAHAN, vice-pres and labor counsel for Phillips-Van Heusen. Dan married the former Jean Gaffney in 1953 and their two children are Daniel, Jr., 13, and John, 11. The Minahans live at 46 Round Hill Dr., Fairfield, Conn. 06430. Dan was recently named one of twelve directors to serve three-year terms on the board of the American Apparel Manufacturers Assoc.

In our own back yard BILL PRINDIVILLE works in Chicago for Amoco Chemicals, a subsidiary of Standard of Indiana. Bill married Jane Wilder in 1956 and they live at 1335 Chapel Ct., Deerfield, Ill. 60015. Their three children are Sharon, 11; Sheila, seven; and Eileen, five. An old (that is, erstwhile) roommate of Bill's, ART GOLDKAMP, is a research chemist with G. D. Searle in Skokie. Art went on in biochemistry at Loyola and the U. of Illinois where he received his PhD. He married Virginia Stewart in 1952 and they live at 1182 Chatfield Rd., Winnetka, Ill. 60093 with their seven children: Bob, Steve, Julie, Amy, Brian, Tim and Jeffrey.

Here is a report on three of our classmates from a correspondent who insists on anonymity:

CHUCK COHN, who was popular even before ecumenism, is the father of five children, including twins. He recently retired as a leading manager in the Gary Little League when it was discovered he could no longer bend over to field ground balls.

BILL HARTY, a bigwig with Keebler Cookies, is kept busy selling cookies and attending meetings. He spends his spare time helping to develop dropkickers among the neighborhood boys.

HOBE TAYLOR of Lombard is a neighbor of JIM "Tiger" O'TOOLE. Hobe is helping "The Tiger" get in shape for the Alumni Bengal Bouts.

We can amplify the news of Jim O'Toole, who is with Amphenol in Broadview, Ill. Jim and the former Rita Grogan were married in 1957. They live at 810 E. Madison St., Lombard, Ill. with their six children: Jimmy, nine; Tom, eight; Maureen, seven; Larry, six; Kathleen, four; and Michael, two.

BOB RAYMOND and Donna have moved into their new home in Jacksonville and were seen vacationing in Nassau. Bob had just shot an 86 and is working diligently to take on JACK MULDOON at the Reunion. In addition to those lines Bob was already handling as a distributor, he has recently taken on Concord Tape Recorders and the Waste King product line. Business in and around Jacksonville appears to be good and is expanding.

Also had an engraved note from JACK MULDOON expressing his thanks for not being mentioned in this column. Glad to oblige, Jack.

After some 13 years away from this area DAN BAGLEY returned about a year ago and lives at 413 Benton, LaGrange Park, Ill. 60525. Dan travels extensively for Powerlock Floors. He married the former Nancy Schimich and their six children range in age from 14 to four: Daniel, Jr., Joseph, Beth, Jean, Trish and Mike.

DICK HERRLE and family live at 2358 Wiloway, Yorktown Hts., NY 10598. Dick married Gladys Schlehlein and their four children are Richard, Jr., Donna Marie, Robert Louis and Tara Marie. Congratulations are in order for Dick who recently left Nestles to become corporate director of new product development for the Continental Baking Co. When not travelling Dick is at their research laboratory in Rye, NY. After they have solved the problem of dehydrating a young lady they will have a great packaged cake mix suitable for stag parties, smokers, etc.

A last reminder for our get-together after the Northwestern game on October 12. Please listen for an announcement at the game of where the Class will meet.

1952 WILLIAM B. KING
613 E. DONMOYER AVE.
SOUTH BEND, IND. 46614

From Littleton, Colo. comes word of the adventures of L. H. "LOU" RIPP. Lou is the father of three kids, Kathleen (14), Michael (12) and Debra (8). In 1964 he joined Samsonite Corp. as mgr.-chem. eng. In Jan., 1968 he was promoted to corporate mgr. of R and D. He made Wh's Who in the West in 1967. Works real closely with the Scouts, having attained a Silver Beaver Award. Lou still sweats the handball around and when things get dull, he climbs mountains.

ROBERT G. "BOB" TREHEARNE moved to Connecticut in June, 1966. Bob went into business for himself in Dec., 1967. He is the owner-mgr. of the Arnold Palmer Cleaning Center in Norwalk, Conn. All 1952 Grads are entitled to one year's free laundry and cleaning by merely flying in duty clothes—No orders under twenty suits, please. Bob now has three children—Anne Marie (1), Michael (3), and Mary (4).

DON KOTOSKE is returning to South Bend as an osteopathic physician and surgeon. He graduated in June from Chicago school of osteopathic medicine and will begin internship here in July. Don is anxious to bring his wife and five youngsters back to his old home town. Hmmm—free medical advice!!!

Rev. WILLIAM TOOHEY CSC is also heading back to the Bend. After 69 years, the House of Theology for Holy Cross Fathers in Washington DC is being closed. Fr. Bill is being reassigned to teach in the profession program at ND and will join the theology dept. faculty. In addition, he will continue preaching around the country while living at the Holy Cross Mission House on Dixie. Fr. Bill also was elected pres. of the Christian Preaching Conference formerly the Catholic Homiletic Society.

PHIL TOOLE writes from Providence, RI that business with the advertising and public relations firm of Fitzgerald and Toole is booming. With a name like that, it's only natural the largest clients are Poles and Hungarians. Phil and his wife live just over the line in Mass. They have two daughters—Martha Mary (7) and Maura Mulholland (1). Be on the lookout for Phil this fall at the Navy game. Please, sir, a full report on the happenings. Phil also mentioned that he sees BERNIE McSALLY (of Huddle fame) quite often. Bernie is now practicing successfully on both sides of the bar.

JOHN FRANCIS KENNY received his MA in secondary school adm. and supervisor from Western Mich. U.

A year ago our classmate FRANK J. HAENDLER moved from Chicago to Sao Paulo, Brazil. By now, Frank ought to have all the coffee beans pretty well counted. That address—c/o US Consulate, Sao Paulo is right out of 007.

By the way, TOM CHISHOLM, stop moving, you'll never escape us. Tom is back in Odessa after a short fling in Franklin, La.

From reports in the ALUMNUS magazine, the first annual all class reunion will be held after the Northwestern game on Oct. 12 in O'Shaughnessy Hall. So as many as possible, be there for "fun and games." See you all Oct. 12.

MILTON J. BEAUDINE
21 SIGNAL HILL BLVD.
E. ST. LOUIS, ILL. 62203

What a year! What a week! Umpiring boys' baseball I got hit in the ear with a high fast one and tonight the girls' softball team I manage lost its third game 29 to 7. About the only thing I have to look forward to is teaming up with BOB PODEN to beat BOB WRIGHT and DICK CASTELLINI prior to the ND-Oklahoma game and our yearly Reunion party. And don't forget next June in our 15th (would you believe it?) Reunion. Plan for it now!

I must admit you guys are hanging in there. Thanks for all the cards. DON ZECH, wife Carol and their four boys and two girls have made a move. Don has left the U. of Washington to take over as head basketball coach at the U. of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Wash. Don invites us all to visit him in "God's" country. LARRY MORAN's better half Peg writes that Larry is with United Aircraft in East Hartford. He's goalie on the company hockey team (toothless?). Larry and Peg have two little ones, the latest Kevin being born on Jan. 1.

Another New Englander is ANDY CORRAO who's kept busy looking after his six boys and one girl. Andy and Marie live in Greenville, RI where he's a communications market mgr. for the Ampex Electronic Corp. He's run into BILL OFFUTT, a systems engineer for the Mitre Co., who lives outside Washington, DC with his wife and five kids. He's also run into JOHN SCHLOEGEL from Milwaukee. That's not news, most everyone runs into John somewhere or other.

Even RAY TIERNER wrote. Ray and Kathy have five little ones and Ray is now a partner in the Newark, NJ. law firm of Shanley and Fisher. One comment needs clarification, Ray. Is your expertise in pneumothorax personal or professional? If professional — write!!

TOM RYDER, 2278 Country Club Dr., Pittsburgh, Pa. summarized the past 14 years in 11 lines. He completed law school at ND in 1957 and toured with Uncle Sam for two and one-half years before starting private practice in New York. He switched to the patent dept. of Gulf Oil in 1963 and married the former Pat Peters (College of Mt. St. Vincent).

BOB BALLANGEE married Connie Schubert also of the Mt. Tom and Pat have three little ones, the latest coming up is Jimmy in October, 1967.

Rev. RAY ROSELIEP of Holy Family Hall, Dubuque, Iowa received the Kenneth F. Montgomery Poetry Award for 1968 in Chicago on April 6 for his book Love Makes the Air Light (W. W. Norton, 1965).

PAUL ROHMAN was appointed Eastern financial sales mgr. of the Ford Motor Credit Co. in Stamford, Conn. ROGER NOLAN has been named one of the two divisional attorneys for the Bendix Corp. life support div. in Davenport, Iowa. That's all the news. I need material, gang. Write!

Lastly — in just a few days Marie and I will celebrate No. 10. That's a long time for anyone to put up with me. It occurred to me that many of us June bridegrooms are celebrating our anniversaries at this time and would all like to use this medium to thank our brides. So girls, thanks for all these wonderful years and thanks for getting us to the games and Reunions, and everything. We love you all.

PAUL FULLMER
GLENVIEW, ILL. 60025

There are times when it's no fun to be Class secretary. One time is when you serve as bearer of tragic news. This is one of those times. On behalf of the entire class, I wish to extend our deepest sympathies to JIM CAHILL, one of the nicest and most popular guys in the class, on the death of his wife, Barbara, who succumbed to cancer on May 12. A special Mass was said in her memory on campus on May 18. Jim, who seldom missed a Class Reunion or gathering, has two children.

Condolences, too, to JOHN WEITHERS, on the death of his mother. A Mass also was said for her at Notre Dame.

Many thanks to all those who pulled out the yellow card and dropped me a note. Why don't you try it sometime? It's painless. DICK REAMER sent the following bulletin: "After a baker's dozen years, leaving Vienna, (with MD and Diplomate in Neurology-Psychiatry), to 'set up shop' in Honolulu and shift from the Notre Dame Club of Rome to the one in Hawaii. Auf Wiedersehen . . . Aloha."

TOM PRENDERGAST received his PhD in philosophy this June from St. Louis U. and will begin teaching at Marquette in September. He spent six weeks at ND this summer at the Carnegie Summer Institute on analytic philosophy. While on the subject of ND, Rev. JOE O'DONNELL, who has been at the retreat house on campus preaching that old-time religion, expects to be heading for Vietnam in September as a Navy chaplain. He has been in the reserve for four years and spent considerable time on the West Coast last summer with Marines leaving for the Far East.

Father Joe reports that he talked to Lcdr. ROCCO TANNONE in January while in San Francisco. He continues as a career officer in the Navy and is in charge of seven large commissaries in the Bay area. Rocco and family live in Alameda. The good cleric also spoke to JOHN O'MEARA while on the circuit in Detroit. John now is "moonlighting" as treasurer of the Democratic State Committee for Michigan.

LEE CREAN and his grass roots approach to the poverty program in South Bend has finally been fully recognized and he no longer has to depend on Big Brother in Washington for funds. The local Chamber of Commerce has stepped in to sponsor the entire project, which may be the first time a city group took over a federal program.

BILL McLAIN (2770 Dartmoor Dr. NE, Warren, Ohio) checks in with the information that he welcomed Bridget Ann in January, the first girl in six generations in his family! He also has an 18-month-old boy, Patrick. Bill was reelected to his third term as city solicitor in Warren. He would like me to publicly ask ED FOX to discontinue calling from LA at 5 a.m., disregarding the time zones. Bill adds that RAY SCHRYVER is back in Warren, working in the district attorney's office.

DON LANSPA (7510 Maple Lane, Raytown, Mo.) used one of the yellow cards to let me know that his second son, Paul, arrived on Feb. 19. Don also has a little girl Patricia.

GEORGE VOSMIK (1128 Brainard Rd., Lyndhurst, Ohio) brought me up to date on his activities during the past several years. He now has two boys and two girls. George is general supervisor of the industrial sales department at the Illuminating Co. (electric private utility) in Cleveland. He and his bride look forward to seeing one and all at the Class cocktail party in the Shamrock Room in the basement of the Morris Inn after the Purdue game.

Rev. JIM SHERER should be in East Pakistan by the time you read this. He is teaching political science at Notre Dame College there and using the vacation periods for community development activity in Dacca with its 500,000 people. Those of you who would like to help Father Jim in his work can send checks (made payable to Holy Cross Missions) to Holy Cross Missions, 4301 Harewood Road, N.E., Washington, DC 20017, noting that the funds should go to him. His mailing address is Notre Dame College, P.O. Box 5, Dacca 2, East Pakistan. For those who would still like to help classmate PAUL HAUHNAR in his efforts to bring a better life to his people, write him at Ave Maria Cottage, Madanrying, Happy Valley, Shillong 7, Assam, India.

Here's the latest on troops who have moved recently: PAT McAWARD, 11 Terrace Park, Garden City, LI, NY; CHUCK DEGER, 3512 Allison Way, Louisville, Ky.; FRED WHITFIELD, 5024 Dickens Ave., Tampa; ED KELLY, 2311 N. Brighton Pl., Arlington Heights, Ill.; JIM DUFFY, 711 Hobart Dr., Florence, SC; CHUCK HANLEY, 22 Saratoga Way, Short Hills, NJ; DICK SCHERER, 410 Shermer Rd., Glenview, Ill. (welcome to the neighborhood, Dick!); and FRED GALIONE, 8345 Queen Elizabeth Blvd., Annandale, Va.

TOM JAMES has been named business manager for Nazareth Col. in Rochester, NY. JIM DELINE has been promoted to district sales manager for Mead Containers in Denver. Congratulations to JOE SASSANO, who has been named asst. director of the new sports complex at ND. Joe had been head football coach at Weber High School in Chicago for nine years. BERT METZGER has helped establish a highly successful legal aid office for low income groups in the state of Washington and recently won a case in the Supreme Court.

Don't forget to round up the gang, form a car pool, and head for the Purdue game to swap lies with the rest of the gang. See you then!

Sunday, May 26, a Mass was offered by Rev. Joseph Fey CSC, chaplain at ND, for JIM WALLACE who died May 11. Please remember Jim in your prayers.

JIM FISHER, who is practicing law in Kingston, NY, advises that he is most interested in learning of the proposals of the committee formed to study the possibility of establishing a scholarship fund at ND for sons of deceased members of our Class. Jim has offered his services to assist in the work of the committee.

JOHN DWYER MD dropped a line from the 12th Evacuation Hosp. in Cu Chi, Vietnam. It seems, among other activities, they play softball over there and he and ANDY McROBERTS MD were looking forward to the start of the season.

THOMAS C. OBENCHAIN, field supervisor for Chicago film office of the DuPont Co., has just returned from five years in Europe. JOHN J. CLEMENCY has been named an associate of the Perkins & Will Partnership, architectural firm, with offices in Chicago, New York and Washington, DC.

The Midwest contingent was well represented in a letter I received the other day from BOB COSTELLO who is now in Neenah, Wis. and will soon open a new claims office of Insurance Company of North America for northeastern Wisconsin. While skiing in Aspen last year, Bob and his wife Linda discovered that the local Italian restaurant was owned by DICK FITZGERALD. At that time, Dick was planning to sell the restaurant and get into the real estate development field in Aspen.

JIM ROSENHEIMER and his wife were also in Aspen at the time Bob was there. Jim is president of the bank in Fredonia, Wis. More recently, Bob got together with JOHN GSCHWIND who, with his wife and children, resides in Appleton, Wis. John was recently promoted to an executive position with an Appleton manufacturing company. At last report HARRY LOCKWOOD was working as an advisor for a LaJolla, Calif. bank and JOHN O'CONNOR was operating the Manchester (NH) Explosives Co.

MORE '56 NEWS

TOM KERSCHISNIK spent a spring weekend with the JOHN MANIONS in LaGrange Park, Ill. en route home (Rock Springs, Wyo.) from a business trip with International Harvester Co. in Dayton and Toledo, Ohio. It was Tom's first venture east of the Rockies since he and Mary Jo tied the knot in the Log Chapel on June 7, 1956. Tom is prospering well as the leading citizen and businessman in his home town; his family enterprise includes the Chrysler automobile line dealership as well as International Trucks and varied real estate activities.

They are building a new home from which he is able to continue his Cub Scout and Little League activities. His brother DON is apparently successful in the aeronautics industry in Los Angeles—although the nature of his work is so secretive Tom is really not sure.

During his visit to the Midwest we showed the new Notre Dame (Athletic and Convocation Center, and the Library and its thirteenth-floor miniskirt inhabitants) to Tom and enjoyed a luncheon visit with class vice-pres. JIM MASSEY. Jim is spending the summer on some more research projects and reported that JERRY MASSEY has been made a full professor in the philosophy dept. at Michigan State.

The Class of '56—Chicago area division—met on July 10 at the Showboat Saris in Chicago. I hope that those who were not in attendance have heard sufficient reports to regret not being there.

I must open this column with another cry for help — our Class informants are not supplying the news we need to keep the column going — H E L P !

First to be heard from is JOHN WOULEFE from South Holland. John advises that BILL GERARD's license plate is a little late as John has had ND1957 since 1964.

The following '57 grads were at the Chicago U.N.D. nite in April: ART JOHNSON MD is completing his fellowship at Northwestern in gas-trology and will shortly begin private practice in San Diego, specializing in internal medicine.

RON LORENZINI MD is practicing in Downers Grove, Ill. in OB and associated with the Hinsdale Hosp. Atty. BILL MADDUX is still known as Judd for the Defense in the Chicago courts.

PATRICK SHEERIN, American Bank Note's top sales rep. appeared and kept the party going. Pat advises that he is still a very eligible bachelor. Mr. Sports Fan is now organizing a Midwest pilgrimage to So Cal this fall. STU RICHARDSON made his first appearance and we are hoping to get him back again. Stu is heading up many an audit for the firm of Haskin & Sells in Chi.

Rev. Paschal Baute OSB '57

BENGAL BOUTS LEAD TO MARRIAGE COUNSELING CAREER

A MAN of many talents is Rev. Paschal Baute OSB. ("It rhymes," he says, "with rascal, howdy.") He left Notre Dame in 1957 with a cum laude degree, trailing a sparkling string of honors and achievements. Besides distinguishing himself in his studies he was able to find time to serve with Blue Circle, to fight his way to Bengal Bouts champion, to be a top Campus wrestler and a member of the swimming and gymnastics teams as well as acting as cadet colonel in the Air Force ROTC.

After graduation he didn't slow down at all, studying at Catholic U. and St. Louis U. before picking up a master's degree in psychology at Loyola in 1965. In the midst of everything else, he also was ordained a Benedictine priest.

Now perhaps it is possible to say that Father Paschal's pace is slacking a bit. He is putting in only 75-80 hours a week as pastoral psychologist on the staff of the Comprehensive Care Center in Lexington, Ky. The Center is the core agency providing mental health and mental retardation services to a 14-county area in central Kentucky. It was set up under the John F. Kennedy Mental Health Act and, being the first organized and the farthest advanced, is serving as a model for other regions.

Father Paschal's area of specialization at the Center is marriage and family life. Within this field he has a fantastic number of duties. A few he mentions: "I am consultant to several sex education programs under way in the local schools. I conduct groups for couples with marital conflict and offer help also on a preventive level, as well as being a member of the Lexington Family Life Education Committee and participating in panel presentations to PTA heads."

His labors are not limited to the laity. He comments on his work with the clergy and religious "... mostly consultation and referral, as well as several long presentations in current research in marriage and marital satisfaction."

To the community at large he gives presentations on mental health of children, on religion and on sex education.

In 1965 Father Paschal earned a certificate in marriage counseling from the department of psychiatry of the U. of Pennsylvania's School of Medicine and then with an added grant he stretched into special areas of anthropology, sociology and social work. He interviewed 150 Catholic couples in CFM groups in Pennsylvania and Kentucky to complete his doctoral study, "Intimacy in the conjugal relationship: a descriptive analysis of the felt experience." His doctorate was awarded in January.

What is coming up for Father Paschal? As of March 15 he has assumed two new responsibilities at the Center, that of acting coordinator of the alcohol program and also coordinator of community education and consultation. These duties will, no doubt, fill his time for the foreseeable future with perhaps only a moment or two to earn another degree, or take on a new facet of the Center's work. Nothing more. After all, Father Paschal Baute is a busy man.

Another bachelor, BOB COYNE, representing the stock brokers' interests, graced the scene. Bob has uprooted himself from Joliet and maintains his bachelor quarters in the Old Town area.

We smuggled JACK O'DROBINAK in as a representative from the Calumet area Alumni. Jack's wife Rita will be happy to know he behaved himself and promised to go home right after the speeches were over.

Deposed east coast Vice-Pres. BILL RIGALI returned to his old place and advises he heads up Comfort Systems, Inc., located in Addison, Ill. Bill's firm specializes in heating and air conditioning. EMMETT "BUDD" MALLOY reported in and is looking in great form.

Congratulations to DENNY TROESTER for his recent promotion by the Alumni Assoc. to head up the LA office in Calif. as of July. Good luck, Denny and we'll certainly miss your help on the Campus.

JIM EGGERS MD is the proud father of a new son and daughter, born in March. The twins make four for the Eggers. Jim is coming into the Chicago area in July as asst. prof in Ob-Gyn at the Stritch school of medicine. Jim has just completed a year at Duke as an NIH fellow. Welcome to Chicagoland, Jim.

From Alexandria, Va., Mrs. JOE BLAZINA writes that Joe is now Lt. Com in the US Navy and stationed at supply hqrs. in DC. Joe met Carolyn when both were in the Navy. She is a former Lt. nurse. Both spent time in the East in Vietnam. Welcome home folks.

Word from JAKE KIEFER has been received from Cincinnati. Jake and family, five children, recently moved from Pittsburgh. He is branch mgr. for Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. Thanks for the note, Jake.

BOB BOGG, secretary of the Notre Dame Club of Detroit reports that the Class of '57 has overwhelmed the Club. Board of directors has JOHN MURRAY and BOB RONEY; DAN KELLY is the new pres. succeeding LOU BOSCO; MIKE

HAGERTY is second vice-pres. Bob Roney was general chairman of a recent successful Club seminar and John Murray and WALT FISHER were co-chairmen for the SUMMA dinner held. Detroit promises a good turnout for the October 19 reunion.

DICK REUSCHER and wife report the birth of number six, a son, in May. Saint Mary's, Pa. has to order a new highway population sign.

KEN BORKOVEC MD is practicing urology in Berwyn, Ill., and advises TED LESCHER MD has set up his practice on Michigan Ave. in Chicago.

RICK SMITH is commuting between Chicago and Miami regularly representing some booze vending machine interest, which Ken claims fits into our Class traditions.

ED CHOTT is moving his dental instrument factory to Lyons, Ill. DICK LEWIS reports an error in our latest Class directory, his home and law office are in Fayetteville, NC and not in Maryland. Dick reports he is on the main auto route from the New England states to Florida and wants the travelers to stop in and say hello.

Major JIM SWEENEY received a Bronze Star medal with Combat "V" for meritorious service in Vietnam, also he was awarded a special Vietnamese decoration. JIM FLUHR was recently promoted to Major in the Air Force. He completed his 100th mission as an F-4 aircraft commander in the Vietnam area. On behalf of the Class, I would like to congratulate and thank both these fine men for their service to our country and the sacrifices they have made for all of us.

DICK EGAN was recently appointed as accounting officer for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. JOHN BEGGAN has joined the Chicago law firm of Gardner, Carton, Douglas, Chilgren & Ward as a tax attorney. He formerly was with the Justice dept. in DC.

In May, Jack O'Drobinak and I went on a fishing trip into the Ozarks area and I ask all who see Jack to inquire as to who is the Champ. Be honest, Jack.

Our sympathy and prayers to RAY ANDRE-JASICK for the April death of his father, Frank.

Word received is that PAUL HORNUNG has recently signed an agreement with WBBM, a Chicago TV station, to be one of their sports broadcasters. We're looking forward to seeing Paul on local TV and wish him the best in his new venture.

Remember the fall reunion, immediately following the Illinois game. It will be held in the courtyard behind the sculpture studio and O'Shaughnessy Hall. Pray for good weather.

1959 JOSEPH P. MULLIGAN ADMISSIONS OFFICE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME NOTRE DAME, INDIANA 46556

The Class is deeply grieved to receive the news of the death of JOHN S. RIZNER (BSChem; died June 7). Fr. Joseph Fey, the University chaplain offered a Mass for John here on campus on Sunday, June 23. John's wife lives at 540 Echo La., Palatine, Ill. 60067. Our sympathy is also extended to LEN TROTTA (17180 Madison Avenue, Southfield, Michigan) on the occasion of the death of his father.

BILL McFARLAND has been elected vice-pres. of Ogilvy and Mather, Inc. Anne and DAN CROSSEN became parents for the first time Jan. 18 (a boy, Christopher Trahey Crossen). JOHN McFADDEN was the godfather. John is living in Cleveland and is with Gen. Amer. Trans. Corp. (GATX). Dan and Anne are living in Bethlehem, Pa. (721 Chestnut St.) where Dan heads up the sale of Ferromanganese for Bethlehem Steel.

TONY MEROLA is now living at 660 Cabot Road, Rochester, NY, where he is a member of the faculty of Cardinal Mooney HS. ERNIE WOOD, married and the father of two boys, is finishing his Ob-Gyn residency in the Navy at Balboa Hosp., San Diego. Come September, he'll be transferred to Cherry Point, NC as a staff member in Ob.

After marrying the former Catherine M. Leech (May 14, 1966), a '64 Col. of New Rochelle grad, BERNIE FLIGER moved to Detroit from Washington (with wife, of course!) Ernie works as the Midwest regional training dir. for the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel, Inc. He will soon be moving back to their headquarters in Washington, DC. Ernie would like to know the whereabouts of TOM HALLIGAN (and so would we!) The Fligers met ANDY SULLIVAN in Detroit, and

Andy promptly moved to Racine, Wis. (2200 Washington Ave., Apt. 206) as marketing research mgr. for S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc. Before he left, Andy did say he's still single and still looking.

JIM GARRITY has already made arrangements for our Reunion next summer. He especially wants to see JOHN MURRAY because he can't quite believe "honest" John as a priest. Since his airplane crash (4-19-67), Jim has recovered and has returned to work at the San Jose main office of Citizens Nat'l Bank as a commercial lending officer, specializing in professional loans. Jim has two sons and is living at 123 Anne Way, Los Gatos, Calif. (95030).

Jim saw JIM GILCHRIST and PAUL DAUGHERTY in New York a few months back, and reports that Jim looks great, is teaching and coaching at Somers High in Somers, NY. No report furnished to us about Paul. Finally, Jim recently visited PAUL CHESTNUT who lives in Los Gatos, and is almost finished with his PhD in mathematics.

Capt. ANTHONY J. INDENCE JR is still in the Air Force and is stationed at Travis AFB, Calif. He was recently married to the former Helen Corcoran of Gallup, NM. Tony has his law degree from St. John's U., Brooklyn, NY. GERALD J. BECHAMPS MD (1533 10th St., SE, Rochester, Minn. 55901) sends the Class the Mayo Clinic report. JACK FOX, wife Marie, and sons Michael (4) and Tommy (2), are in Jack's last year of clinical pathology and he has probably entered the US Army by the time you read this.

NORM ODYNEC, wife Mary, daughters Lis (3½) and Karen (2½) has finished his last year of surgical residency and has entered the Army. Norm had been the chief resident associate. "DUKE" COOK, wife Marie with their daughter and son, are in their second year of internal medicine residency after finishing a tour courtesy of the Army.

The Bechamps are parents of two daughters, Therese (2½) and Suzanne (1). In addition to the above news, Jerry told us that BOB GIARRANTO and family are in San Diego where Bob is taking an Ob-Gyn residency after his Navy duty, and finally BOB KAERCHER, wife and two daughters, are stationed at Fort Ord, Calif., where Bob answers to the title, Major Kaercher! Many thanks to Jerry for these items.

The response to the insert in the spring issue of the ALUMNUS was not as great as I had hoped. However, I did hear from TONY BRUNO, who reports that he now has two children, was appointed to the town council in Redbank, NJ, and is pres. of the Monmouth County Mental Health Assoc.

I saw a number of our classmates at the '58 Class Reunion in June in South Bend, including ROULE, DUNN, HIRSCHFELD and HARDIG. I also saw ROSIE SCHIERL who was attending her ten-year St. Mary's Reunion, and we decided it would be fun, if, in June of 1971, our Law Class had a ten-year Reunion at the same time as the regular alumni Reunion was held, which is the weekend after graduation. If there is sufficient response, we will get to work on making the arrangements through the Alumni office.

The Alumni office reports that DICK BESKE's address is now PO Box 324, Belleville, Ill. 62222. As you no doubt know, there is a get-together in the lounge after each of the football games, and I hope to see some of you there in the fall.

Norman Odyniec '59

NOT-SO-NORMAL PROGRESSION: PASSING PIGSKINS TO SKILLFUL SCALPELING

It's one long pass from scrimmages to surgery, but Norman Odyniec '59 has successfully completed it. After a starring career as a Notre Dame half-back, he chose medical school rather than accepting a pro ball offer. Father Tom Brennan says that was "because he learned to think while he was here, too."

After graduation from med school, he went to the Mayo Clinic in July, 1964 to begin his training in general surgery. He says he chose Mayo's for its high caliber of clinical surgery "and its real opportunity for a learning experience because of the great patient population which visits the clinic yearly."

It's tough to get information from doctors sometimes and Dr. Odyniec would only report modestly that "the daily activities of a surgeon don't make good reading." But after some urging, he goes on to tell that the residents make daily rounds of patients and then operate every other day.

But Dr. Odyniec had additional surgical responsibilities after being chosen chief resident in general surgery a year ago. His "other days" became devoted to emergency operations. The chief resident is chosen from the fourth-year senior residents and is a coveted position because of the opportunity it affords a young surgeon for independent operating.

"The Mayo Clinic is a unique institution," Dr. Odyniec relates, "in that it straddles quite nicely the best of both medical worlds, namely clinical practice and research. Efforts are directed proportionately into both endeavors and the results fortunately pay off in the best possible patient care."

Dr. Odyniec's residency ended in July and Uncle Sam whisked him off with the Army to Korea for a year. Then it's Destination Unknown for the second year of service and next there'll be a Dr. Odyniec somewhere who is a resident in thoracic and cardiovascular surgery.

dren in addition to his regular duties. It's quite an article and I wish I could share it with all of you.

Also received another newspaper article sent by BOB GALOABINI sent to him by JOE BROCCO and LARRY SOLETTI. I'll quote the clipping verbatim from Herb Coen's column in the San Francisco Chronicle. "MIKE HARTNETT, Hotel St. Francis' good-looking young sales manager, made his most successful pitch this week. Had dates three nights running with Miss Universe (maiden name Sylvia Hitchcock). If I were a big-time columnist I would have to say they ignited, but actually, it was more like a smog alert." No comment!

BOB BARTHOLOMEW writes that he has accepted a position as asst. prof. in the art dept. at Northern Illinois U. beginning fall, 1968. Bob, wife Rhoda and son Pat will reside in Sycamore, Ill. DAN ZAVADA is a partner in a land planning and landscape architecture office in Utica, Mich., residing there with wife Sue and son, Dean. After receiving his master's degree from ND in 1964 JULIO VALERA has now a PhD in civil engineering from U. of California, Berkeley. Julio is presently working at Cal., studying the effects of earthquakes on earth structures.

BOB NORMANT is working for GE's nuclear energy div. in San Jose, Calif. and studying for an MS in mechanical engineering at Santa Clara. PAT MORAN is presently serving a Southeast Asia combat tour with the USAF as a navigator-bombardier in the back seat of a F-4D. TED TESKE and new family are at Dugway proving ground in the Great Salt Lake desert where he is a medical instructor. Ted hopes to pursue a residency in radiology.

JOE CULLIGAN sends a report from St. Paul where he works for UNIVAC. Joe writes that he sees JOHN TRACY, FRANK SCHLICK and "NORTHWOODS GOLDIE" off and on. He also plans a 6-year reunion with "WILD WHIRL" HURLEY. TOM FARLEY is a corporate commercial sales mgr. for the Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) and was granted a MBA from the U. of Akron this June.

GEORGE MURPHY is at the U. of Washington taking an intensive Japanese language program as part of his work towards a PhD in Japanese drama and theater. During the past year his work has been supported by an NDEA Title VI fellowship. George has also received a National Defense fellowship to Stanford this summer and to Washington for the 1968-69 academic year.

MIKE JOYCE is in San Francisco working for Standard Oil of Calif. as an operating assistant. Mike said not to confuse him with the other MIKE JOYCE from Toledo. JACK GREEN is living in DuBois, Pa. where he is a petroleum distributor. Jack spent two years in the Philippines with the Peace Corps and was assigned to the same island as DON YATES. JIM LOWE is in Allen Park, Mich. working for the Great Lakes Div. of National Steel Corp. as combustion and instrumentation engineer.

MIKE BISHKO lives in NYC and is working for Arthur Young and Co. and attending NYU law school. Dr. JACK GEREND is in the Air Force and stationed at Westoon Air Force Base in Chicopee Falls, Mass. MIKE WOODS is a public relations mgr. for Pacific Mutual Life Insurance and lives in Westlake Village, Calif.

BILL KLEIN is doing residency in psychiatry at Ohio State Hosp. BOB POWRIE is in Louisville and employed by Ford as a senior mechanical engineer. Eight young men have been ordained priests in the Holy Cross order this spring. They come from a variety of backgrounds and from all over the United States. Seven of them were ordained at Sacred Heart church on Campus; one was ordained in Texas.

Rev. George A. Rozum CSC was ordained May 5 in the church of St. Ignatius Martyr, Austin, Texas. He offered his first Mass in his home parish, Holy Family, Mitchell, SD, on May 31. In Texas he has been doing pastoral work among the deaf.

Rev. Andrew R. Guljas CSC is a South Bend native. He entered Holy Cross Seminary in 1955. He is a 1962 graduate of the University and has studied theology at Holy Cross College, Washington, D.C. His first Mass was June 9 at Little Flower church in South Bend.

Rev. L. Peter Logsdon CSC was born in Cleveland and came to ND in 1958. After transferring to Sacred Heart Novitiate, Jordan, Minn., and pronouncing his first vows he returned to ND to complete his college work and was graduated in 1964. He offered his first Mass in Gesu church, University Heights, Ohio, June 15.

Rev. C. Richard Nowery CSC, from Shreveport, La., attended Notre Dame and graduated in 1960. After service in the Army he returned to Holy Cross Seminary. Besides his studies for the priesthood, he has worked in a mental hospital, taught religion and assisted a Christian Family Movement group.

I am pleased to tell you that the address at the head of this column should change in one of the next two issues. Cookie and I have purchased a new home in Annandale, Va., and we'll move in as soon as the builder makes it possible. It looks like we are in Washington for good. Since writing last I have left my job with Mr. Justice Brennan and am now in private practice in Washington. The change has been interesting and educational.

Cookie, the children and I spent our vacation in St. Louis visiting my parents. Cookie and the children spent the better part of the day at the pool with my mother while my dad and I tried to solve the ancient and honorable riddle of golf. We had a better time than my scores would indicate. Prior to this Cookie spent two weeks in New York, attending her college reunion and just getting a change of scene.

STEVE SEALL called on business and reported that things are indeed well. He told me that DICK STEINBRONN will take a position with the Elkhart office of the Oare, Thornburg firm. The firm is about to open a Washington office so we hope to see more of Steve. TOM READY hosted BOB MURPHY and BOB KRAUSE to a round of golf at his home course in Monroe, Mich. Murph presented the Government's case to the grand jury which returned the indictments in the Detroit riots case.

ROSS PETERSON was at Fort Belvoir, Va., for a conference on Army transportation problems. He is a lieutenant in the transportation corps. He drove to DC on an afternoon for a short visit, a tour of the Court, and a chance to hear oral argument. He is still at Fort Hood, Tex., and was handball champion of the fort (40,000 men). He represented the Army at the Rocky Mountain Regionals of the National AAU Handball Championships.

Ross is teaching accounting at Mary Hardin-Baylor Col. and told me that MARTY IDZIK will teach economics there next term. Marty has extended the necessary time so that he and Pat will be given a tour in Germany. They cavort regularly with NORM MANDEL. Ross said his brother TOM is now at Würzburg in Germany where he will finish out his tour of duty. Ross received a card postmarked Miami Beach from "FOX" CONWAY who has received walking papers for Vietnam.

AL McKENNA called and told me that all is well in Columbus and he has started work as an assist. United States attorney. His duties will give him complete exposure to all the work in the office. He tried his first case four hours after he was officially sworn in. MIKE SULLIVAN, '65L, said that he heard from "RABBIT" DEL FRA who is completing two years of teaching at Northern Illinois U. and intends to return to Philly.

PAUL POLKING married Joan Yaeger on June 15 in Carlisle, Pa. BOB MURPHY was best man. Paul and Joan honeymooned in Bermuda, and are now residing in Oxon Hill, Md. Paul's apartment faces on a popular race course. I received a "yellow card" from BILL SAN-NEMAN's dad. He said Bill was admitted to the New York Bar in Oct., 1966. His present address is Headquarters Co. — 8th Army (G4), APO San Francisco, Calif. 96301.

JOHN HAUGH sent the belated news that Phyllis "had a baby girl, Bryn Marie (pronounced 'Brin') on February 23. She does not look at all like me (i.e., she is beautiful) and is a little doll (of course). First girl in the family in over 70 years, so everyone is pretty excited." John moved his family into a new home in Portland. He is renting with an option to buy.

TOM KENNEY has moved into town from the suburbs and now lives at 2 Charles Center, 8 Charles Plaza, Baltimore, Md. 21201. Tom has two weeks of summer duty behind him but he is still awaiting orders to go on six months' active duty. JOHN GOTTLICK informs me that he took a "quickie vacation down to the Playboy Hotel in Ocho Rios, Jamaica." Oh, the life of the swinging bachelor! JOE DELLA MARIA, Navy lawyer, is stationed in Philly.

Speaking of leaving the country, Professor Blakey had lunch with me recently (he was in town shepherding the wiretapping bill through Congress) and told me that the law school has instituted a "second year in London" program. We old men got out too soon. Keep the good word coming.

I must admit that I've been pleasantly surprised at the number of our Class who are sending in information — by no means a majority — but enough to fill this month's column. Still waiting to hear reports from DOM MONTEROSSO, "KIP" ROE, GERRY SANDWEG, MIKE SENG and TONY KOWALS.

Roseanne and H. GREGORY NASKY are now in Ft. Polk, La. Greg has just finished JAG school at Charlottesville, Va. He did manage several months of private practice in Warren, Pa. before being called and looks forward to getting back to it. Greg also reports that he, JACK WINGERTER, PAT O'CONNOR and FRANK VERTERANO had no trouble with the Pennsylvania bar. That's another 100% for ND. O'Connor's current address is 111 W. Maple Ave., Langhorne, Pa. 19047.

JIM MOLLISON, ex-civilian, is in the finance corps and is stationed in Ft. Knox, Ky. MIKE MANZI's new address is 114 East St., Methuen, Mass. 01844. JOHN BLASI and LARRY FLEMING are in the naval justice school at Newport, RI.

Prof. Boynton told me that on a recent trip to Indianapolis to attend a Labor Board hearing, the chief hearing officer looked familiar but that he could not place the face. It was none other than MICHAEL J. FOGARTY doing very well for himself. Gailanne, Mike and their seven-month-old son live at 28 Brenda Ct., Apt. 9, Greenfield, Ind.

JACK "SNOOPY" COUCH, at time of publication, will have joined his ship, the USS Taylor, DD 467, at Pearl Harbor. The Snooper graduated from OCS in Newport. While there he ran into FRANK CAREY who apparently was quite peeved because the Navy wouldn't let him bring his TV to basic training. The Snooper's long-term plans include returning to NY and joining an attorney in his home town.

GARY KAUP married Pat Ward on Aug. 2, in Wilmington, Del. STEVE "JEAN CLAUDE" LAMANTIA stood up (on one leg) for Gary and SEAN KEENAN (naturally) made the affair. Sean hasn't missed a party in the past six years. Close on the heels of the Kaups are the BARKLEYS. Bob will be married Aug. 10, in New Orleans.

Ens. Keenan, completed his training in Florida and is presently stationed in Washington, DC. Sean seems pleased since he is somewhat centrally located and does not have to travel too far to make all the weddings. He did ask that I pass on the fact that his schedule for September is unusually light and would appreciate it if any of our classmates, who are contemplating marriage, would schedule it for that month. Actually, it doesn't have to be a wedding, any excuse will do.

LENNY "THE DUKE" BONFANTI has finished his time with the National Guard and is working for the Mass. Attorney General. MURRAY CAMPBELL has been notified that he has passed the Florida bar. Murray was admitted to practice in Michigan last year.

The stork report is rather light for this edition, the only return coming from the BOB KONOPAS. Maryanne gave birth to their second child and second girl, in May.

EDWIN FREDERICKSON '20, May 20, South Bend. A retired ND professor of law, he and his brother Arthur were well known for their home-made films. They also played in several bands in the '20s and '30s. He attended the U. of Michigan and the U. of Wisconsin and was graduated magna cum laude from ND.

Law School Undertakes Year-Abroad Program in England

DEAN WILLIAM B. LAWLESS assumed his duties as head of the Law School July 1 and two immediate changes in legal education at ND began to be implemented under his regime.

The most dramatic is a year-abroad program for second-year students. Thirty students and Prof. Conrad Kellenberg will leave in September for a year of legal study at University Col., U. of London. They will take courses with English law students in areas traditionally taught at ND and in other elective areas of comparative and international law. Professor Kellenberg will work with them on American aspects of their English courses.

The English program enjoys the support and assistance of prominent English judges, barristers, solicitors and teachers of law and of American supporters too. In the latter category, Judge Charles Desmond, former chief judge of the New York Court of Appeals, will join the ND contingent for its end-of-the-year evaluation period.

The students plan two weeks of review and evaluation next May at Cumberland Lodge on the grounds of Windsor Castle after they complete their regular class study in London.

Another immediate development under Dean Lawless is a move toward elective courses in the second and third years of law study. New courses to be offered in the fall semester, for instance, include seminars in several areas and courses in comparative law, community property and admiralty. Prof. Edward F. Barrett's practice court program, which remains a required course, will expand into both semesters to accommodate the electives and to handle an increased third-year class of 81 students.

The war in Vietnam directly affected the lives of about half of this year's graduating class. Nine of the graduates have an uncertain future because of the possibility of military service; another eight are already assigned to military duties—most of them as legal officers.

Nine of the graduates will be law clerks. STEVE J. MADONNA will clerk in the New Jersey Superior Court (for Judge Joseph Stamler). Four graduates will clerk for federal district judges—ROBERT J. SIDMAN for Judge Joseph Kenneary, Columbus; JOHN SCRIPP for Judge John F. Kilkenny, Portland; JAMES H. SECKINGER for Judge William Doyle, Denver; and JOHN A. BURGESS for Judge Robert A. Grant, South Bend.

Four will clerk for the judges of the US Courts of Appeals—CHARLES A. WEISS for Judge M. C. Matthes and DENNIS M. KELLY for Judge Charles J. Vogel, both of St. Louis; WILLIAM T. COLEMAN for Judge Roger J. Kiley, Chicago; and OWEN M. LOPEZ for Judge Oliver Seth, Santa Fe.

Two graduates will go into large metropolitan law firms and 19 into smaller firms, most of them in smaller cities. Four will go into legal-services programs (three of them with Reginald Heber Smith Fellowships); two plan to work for corporations, one will enter government service, and two will become teachers (THOMAS J. KAPACINSKAS, who was appointed an instructor in the General Program at ND, and THOMAS M. WARD, who will be a teaching fellow at the U. of Illinois School of Law).

Seckinger, a St. John's graduate from North Dakota, was first in the class and received the Hoynes, Lawyers' Title, Prentice-Hall and Dean Joseph O'Meara awards. He was one of three members of his class, with Weiss and JOHN E. AMMERMAN (Detroit, Mich. State), to graduate cum laude. Ammermann won the Farabaugh and Weber Research Paper awards.

The Weber Moot Court awards went to JOHN F. SANDNER (Illinois, So. Ill. U.) and RICHARD L. MANNING (Chicago, ND). The Law Week Award, for the greatest scholastic improvement in the third year, was given to PAUL A. GORE (Florida, ND). TIMOTHY O. KRISTL (Indiana, ND) won the First National Bank estate planning prize.

Prof. G. Robert Blakey headed the faculty on "Wiretapping and Electronic Eavesdropping" for the institute on Criminal Law and the Constitution at the U. of Michigan in July. Professor Blakey is a nationally-recognized expert on criminal law, particularly on the use of modern technology in criminal investigation. He worked closely this past spring with Senate sponsors of the 1968 "anti-crime" Act, particularly on Title III of the Act, which deals with electronic surveillance.

Prof. John J. Broderick addressed the ND Club of McHenry County, Ill. UND Night. The Club's man of the year was JOSEPH A. CONERTY JR '44, '47, '50L, who was one of Professor Broderick's "V-7" naval officer students at ND in 1943.

Rev. William Lewers, who is on leave from the faculty in Santiago, Chile, reports he is both studying and teaching international law there, in addition to working with seminarians, with university students, and with the poor of that large Latin American city.

Prof. Bernard J. Ward has been appointed reporter of the Committee on Rules of Practice and Procedure of the US Supreme Court. The appointment was made by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Professor Ward, whose specialty is civil procedure, has been reporter for the Court's Advisory Committee on Appellate Rules which recently promulgated uniform rules of procedure for the 11 federal courts of appeal. He is also the author of a forthcoming treatise on federal appellate procedure.

Chief Justice Warren, in announcing the new assignment, acknowledged Professor Ward's contribution to the Court and expressed to him "deep gratitude for your distinguished service to the bench and Bar."

Professor Ward has been at ND since 1956. He was educated at Loyola U., New Orleans, and at Yale. He is a member of the Louisiana Bar. He will be on leave from ND during the 1968-69 academic year to serve as visiting professor of law at the U. of Texas.

Mechanical Engineering

The department presently offers graduate work in three programs: systems and controls, nuclear and thermal sciences (heat transfer, fluid mechanics, thermodynamics).

The heat transfer and thermodynamics group is studying various aspects of free convection phenomena. Dr. K. T. Yang and Dr. Jerome Novotny are investigating analytically free convection behaviors in temperature or density stratified environments with possible applications in deep ocean and under-sea habitats. These same phenomena are being studied experimentally by Dr. Stuart McComas in a specially designed environmental chamber.

In another project, Dr. Yang and Dr. Albin Szweczyk are investigating free convection about plates and disks at low Grashof numbers to gain insight to the coupling process between the energy and momentum fields and also to the development of boundary layer behaviors. With the collaboration of Dr. Victor Nee they are also studying turbulent free convection with a view to developing a more rational phenomenological theory.

Dr. McComas is investigating the effects of secondary flows generated by free convection as well as direct free convection effects on flow and heat transfer in horizontal and vertical channels and pipes. Dr. Novotny is also researching the effects of various radiation-interaction parameters on heat transfer in free convection stagnation flow with emphasis on the role of the optically thin and optically thick limits in boundary layer behavior.

In the area of thermal radiation, Dr. Novotny is directing research on the influence of gaseous radiation in the heat transfer in conducting gas layers and an experimental determination of the radiative properties of painted surfaces, while Dr.

Advice from the chairman for the new PhDs.

Robert Manning is studying the interaction of thermal conduction and radiation in partially transparent solids.

Dr. Edward Jerger is working on projects dealing with supersonic condensing injector performance and Dr. Manning is studying nonequilibrium processes in electric and magnetic polarized solids.

Dr. Jerger continues serving as a consultant on engineering education to the Dominican Republic and was recently elected vice-president (central region) of the Pi Tau Sigma mechanical engineering honorary. Dr. Jerger has been designated by the Department of the Army, Office of Civil Defense, as director of the Indiana State CD professional advisory center. Dr. Novotny has been selected by the ASME to serve on the national committee on thermophysical properties.

In subsequent issues the activities of our other groups will be described. A copy of the department's 1967 Annual Research Summary may be obtained by writing the department chairman.

DANIEL J. TOWERS (MS '67) has been promoted to 1st Lt. in the USAF. TOM MARCINIAK, CHARLES LOVAS and JOHN BRENNER have completed their PhD requirements. ARTHUR FRIGO (MS '68) is now a research engineer at Argonne.

Prof. George Rohrbach has retired after 37 years of dedicated service on the University faculty.

We ask graduates to send us news of their activities for subsequent publication in this column.

Philosophy Department

At the annual meeting of the American Catholic Philosophical Assoc. in April at New Orleans, three members of the department gave papers or comments: A. R. CAPONIGRI on "Seneca: Reason and Death," A. E. MANIER on "Man's Responsibility for Future Human Evolution" H. S. Johnston on "The Order of Teaching and Learning."

Also attending this meeting as members of the executive council of the Association were Professors Ralph McInerny, John Oesterle and Ernan McMullin. A luncheon for department members and Alumni at the Court of the Two Sisters was hosted by Bahram Jamalpur (Teheran, Iran) and Ernest Briones, nonresident advanced graduates who served on the committee for arrangements of the convention.

Rev. Ernan McMullin, department chairman, was elected to the four-man executive council of the Metaphysical Society of America. April 5-6 he presented three lectures on "Stages in the Development of Galileo's Mechanics" to the Council of College Teachers of Physics, an NSF-sponsored study group at the U. of Wisconsin in Milwaukee.

Graduate student Rafael T. Caldera, Caracas, Venezuela, in graduate philosophy at ND under the auspices of the International Institute of Education, was selected as a delegate to the First World Conference on Mankind at the Center for Intercultural Studies of the U. of Chicago April 5-11.

The department was also represented at the Western Division meeting of the American Philosophical Assoc. in St. Louis May 2-4. Dr. Guido Küng presented a paper entitled "The Role of Language in Phenomenological Analysis." Father McMullin presented a paper in the philosophy of science section, "The Significance of the Use of Models in Theoretical Physics." Rev. DAVID BURRELL commented on T. Patterson Brown's paper, "Logical Mysticism." In St. Louis, over the same weekend, Father Burrell and Dr. FREDERICK CROSSON, the new dean of arts and letters, spoke at the annual meeting of the Catholic Commission on Cultural and Intellectual Affairs. The theme this year was "Secular Theology."

Father McMullin attended the meeting in Chicago April 26 of the six US consultants of the Vatican Secretariate for Non-Believers with Bishop Wright of Pittsburgh, newly appointed chairman of their group. It was decided to hold a major conference at ND in September, 1969 on the theme "The Sources of Unbelief in the United States." Participants will represent such fields as psychology, cultural anthropology, science, technology, literature and theater.

May 14 Father McMullin lectured at Tufts U., Boston, on "Reductionism and Anti-reductionism: Where Does Virtue Lie?" May 15 he was a commentator on a paper by Prof. John Murdoch (Harvard) entitled "Mathematics in the Resolution of Philosophical Problems in 14th Century Mechanics" and delivered to the Boston Colloquium in Philosophy of Science at Boston U.

In June Dr. Manier commented on "Teleology and History as Unique Factors in Biological Explanation" at the Asilomar, Calif. meeting of the Council on Undergraduate Education in the Biological Sciences.

Dr. Robert Caponigri, assisted by Dr. Neil Delaney, organized and chaired the ND Humanities Workshop, sponsored jointly by the ND Committee on the Humanities and the office of the vice-president for academic affairs. For two weeks in June the Workshop of ten representatives of the humanities at ND explored with the two invited leaders, Dr. Richard McKeon of Chicago U. and Dr. Albert Levi of Washington U., St. Louis, ways of improving the teaching of the humanities.

Two new appointments to the regular staff are Michael Loux, PhD, U. of Chicago, and William D. Solomon, PhD U. of Texas.

Two visiting professors in the '68-'69 academic year will be Prof. Maxwell J. Charlesworth, U. of Melbourne, Australia (fall semester), and, for the spring semester, Prof. Vere Chappell of Chicago U.

The department will be represented at the International Congress of Philosophy at Vienna, Austria, by Professors Ballestrem, Caponigri, Hund, McMullin and Küng. In 1968 the department will have graduated 11 MAs and eight PhDs.

Metallurgical Engineering

The usual author of this column, Prof. B. D. Cullity, is enjoying a well-deserved Mexican holiday, but let me fill in where I can. First I would like to extend again Prof. Cullity's hopeful invitation to all of you to keep him posted on your whereabouts, promotions and transfers and what you are doing. I think you will agree that it is interesting and pleasant to keep track of old friends and acquaintances. And you are our most reliable source of information.

One of the people whom both the Alumni Association and we have lost track of is DILIP K. DAS PhD '54 who, according to a recent article, is co-inventor of a process for producing copper with good strength and dimensional stability at elevated temperatures, important in high-powered electron tubes and similar devices.

HUGH McQUEEN PhD '61 has been working and publishing extensively in the field of hot working of metals for the past two years at the Mines Branch of Canada's Bureau of Energy, Mines and Resources in Ottawa. In the fall he will be accepting an appointment as associate professor of metallurgy at Sir George Williams U. in Montreal.

Enjoying the southern hospitality and beautiful magnolias of the Aiken, SC area are JAMES A. DONOVAN MS '61, PhD '66, M. R. LOUTHAN JR PhD '67, SHELDON P. RIDEOUT MS '51 and M. L. HOLZWORTH MS '49. They are all with the Savannah River Laboratory, E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co.

The problem of attracting students into the little-known field of metallurgy is a perennial one. One of the most common questions we are asked by prospective students is what kind of work do our graduates really do? I have been wondering if this question could not be answered more easily, and perhaps quite impressively in many cases, if the graduate and undergraduate Alumni would supply us with some small products, parts of products or photographs of products in whose design or manufacture they have taken part.

Or perhaps enlarged photomicrographs such as those we are presently displaying (electron micrographs of several high-temperature nickel-base alloys) which were donated by JAMES E. COYNE BS '53. One or two of the fine optical micrographs of dislocations in niobium, which appeared in last fall's ASM International Metallographic Exhibit, would surely spruce up our lab or corridor. They are the work of RONALD G. VARDIMAN PhD '61 of the US Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, DC. We have a glass display case available and lots of wall space.

If you could help us out in any of these ways, please include a descriptive caption and your name, degree and year and present title and company affiliation; 8 x 10 or so is a good size for individual photomicrographs.

Physics Department

Our official "head count" of Physics PhD Alumni is now 138, an increase of seven over the figure given in column No. 1 (March-1968-April). The 7 new members, as listed in the June 1968 Commencement Exercises Bulletin, are JOHN HALL DINAN, Feb. 1, '68 (physical electronics); RICHARD J. FORTNER, June 2, '68 (physical electronics); ALBERT JOSEPH FROELICH, Feb. 1, '68 (nuclear physics); Lt. GRANT R. GARRITSON USN, Feb. 1, '68 (nuclear physics); JERRY W.

LAMSA, Feb. 1, '68 (elementary particle physics); WILLIAM C. NIEHAUS, June 2, '68 (physical electronics); Hock Kee Sim, June 2, '68 (theoretical physics).

Jack Dinan completed requirements for his PhD degree late last summer and has been at Yale this past year on a postdoctoral appointment. Dick Fortner is now at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Livermore, Calif. Al Froelich stayed on at ND on a postdoctoral appointment. Lt. Grant Garritson, who is a graduate of the US Naval Academy, is now at the Navy's Reactor School in Bainbridge, Md. Jerry Lamsa is a research associate at Purdue. Bill Niehaus has joined Bell Telephone Laboratories at Murray Hill, NJ. Hock Kee Sim will be at Northwestern this next academic year on a postdoctoral appointment.

A very considerable expansion of our research programs in solid state physics is well under way, with the formation of a new research group in this area. The new group will be headed by Dr. WALTER J.

TOMASCH who has recently joined our faculty. Dr. Tomasch was formerly with Atomics International.

Our new 15 MeV Tandem Accelerator is now officially "on the air," the first proton beam from the machine having been obtained this past week (week of June 16). A great deal of work still remains to be done before the new accelerator can actually be used for research.

In the 1968-69 academic year we will have approximately 80 full-time graduate students and approximately 95 undergraduate physics majors (sophomores, juniors and seniors). The estimated number of freshman physics intents is about 60. Our teaching faculty will consist of approximately 30 members, supported by an estimated 8 to 10 additional members of the research staff.

The first two physics PhD Alumni columns (see issues for March-April and May-June) contained brief "write-ups" on our first 13 PhD Alumni, namely those who received their degrees in the 1940s. A fast count reveals that 52 PhD degrees in physics were awarded in the 1950s so my job is expanding rapidly. In fact it appears it will require several columns to bring you up to date on the present whereabouts and activities of our PhD recipients of the 1950s. Since two of these Alumni have recently been in the news, I'll start with them.

DONALD J. ANTHONY '53 (nuclear physics) has recently been named to head the newly formed Operating Nuclear Plants Component at General Electric Company's Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory. As head of the new component, Don will have the responsibility for all currently operating KAPL-designed nuclear systems. Don and wife, Norma, live at 228 Spring Ave., Troy, NY 12180. They have five children, Donna, Mark (who just completed his first year at ND), Donald, Norma and Susan.

WALTER B. LABERGE '51 (physical electronics) was recently named vice-president of Philco-Ford Corporation's Electronics Group, after having served as general manager of their Western Development Laboratories Division. Walt, who will have offices in Philadelphia, will supervise Philco-Ford's six defense, space and industrial divisions. Since Walt has not yet "checked in," I am unable to supply further details as to home address, children, etc.

The information about Walt LaBerge was supplied by ERNEST G. BROCK '51 (physical electronics). Many thanks, Ernie, for the information and the accompanying letter. Ernie is head of the Quantum Electronics Division, Aerospace Corporation, El Segundo, Calif. Ernie and wife, Alice, live at 2607 Pinalo Lane, PO Box 1045, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif. 90274. They have three children, Ernest, Philip and Cynthia.

Since this column is already too long, I had better end it. In the next one I will endeavor to provide up-to-date information on more of our PhD recipients of the 1950s.

Music Department

It is being designed for teachers in self-contained classrooms teaching in disadvantaged and/or rural areas. Complete

Sister Mary Arthen SSND '54

MUSICAL NUN GOES INTERNATIONAL

A LOT of people in Quincy, Ill. had never talked to a nun until Sister Mary Arthen SSND '54 tuned them in. But talk she did and it all came out like music.

She calls herself "just an ordinary music teacher" but she is really something else. According to her Quincy is a very musical city and she "loving music and having a good musical background, made stronger by about 51 graduate credits from the ND music department, just happened to hit upon a good thing."

Her good thing is a "one-man" show in Notre Dame High School's music department which includes chorus classes, a special chorus, concert choir, orchestra, string ensemble and private students. When she was assigned to the full schedule, she found her master's degree in voice didn't help her cope with the orchestra, so back she came to Notre Dame for more summer work in strings.

Now she and her students enter all the state contests and panoramas and play in the all-district and all-state music organizations. It was because of this active participation that she was considered by the Illinois State Music Association as a chaperone for the all-state chorus and orchestra which would be traveling to Europe this summer. The group performed at the International Society for Music Education conference in Dijon, France in July.

"I signed up for it, thinking I would never make it out of all those public school teachers in Illinois," she says. More than 350 volunteered and, after investigation and interviews, only 30 were chosen. To add other feathers to her wimple, she was selected as one of 14 among the 30 to be teaching-chaperones and she is the only nun. She says there must have been a special ecumenical reason for her selection and, even before the trip, it paid off—ecumenically speaking.

The folks in Quincy know Sister Mary isn't just an ordinary teacher. When they found out she needed some cash to get to Europe they organized a successful "Sister Mary Appreciation Day" bake sale that netted $435 plus $300 in contributions.

But then nothing was being done to help the public school students raise money for their trips, so Sister organized a city-wide rummage sale. Because it was sponsored by a nun, it received great publicity and Sister found herself on the front pages, in editorials, on newscasts and TV interviews for several days.

The sale raised $2000 and the mothers and dads of those going became real buddies with Sister Mary Arthen. "Many had never talked to a nun before and there is much better understanding now," she says. And that can't be measured in auctioneer's language.

FACULTY NEWSMAKERS—Dr. Milton Burton (right), director of the ND Radiation Lab, has been named recipient of New York U's first Graduate School Alumni Association Award in Chemistry. Dr. Lawrence H. Baldinger (left) was honored when the first annual award for a graduating preprofessional student was formally presented to David Ward '68 at commencement. The award plaque, which bears Dr. Baldinger's name, also lists the names of Kenneth A. Khoury '66 and Patrick O'Dea '67 for their efforts in establishing the award which honors the department chairman.

criterion for selection of participants to the institute has not yet been established; however, the educational personnel involved will have little or no training in music and prospective participants must adhere to the minimum entrance requirements as established by the Graduate School.

This institute will be directed to those conditions which compound an already insufficient and increasingly critical program in basic music education for the following reasons: (1) the subject matter ordinarily preempts teaching time within the established curriculum of a particular institution; (2) unless given the opportunity of in-service training with a music specialist or music consultant, the teacher is completely unqualified to present an adequate program of a sustained and worthwhile nature; (3) without a basic knowledge and background of music, the teacher lacks confidence and, in most instances, becomes disinterested in the presentation of the music program; (4) in cases of extreme incompetence and lack of interest, the program may be ignored completely.

This institute will consider, through its curriculum, an approach directed to three areas which have an important effect on the student: (1) the administrator—in an effort to create a proper and efficient educational and structural atmosphere; (2) the resource teacher, music specialist and/or resource agency—to provide the actual training of the educational personnel and who provides an active reference for continued information; and (3) the classroom teacher—who must teach the daily classes. Further information will be made available upon implementation of this program.

The department will also offer (for the academic year 1968-69) a new curriculum of music education on the undergraduate level. The continued acquisitions to the graduate library have been outstanding and have rapidly made this one of the finest collections in the country.

Our congratulations to DUDLEY BIRDER '52, recipient of the 1968 Man of the Year Award by the ND Club of Green Bay.

Sociology Department

Six of the department's staff, studiously ignoring South Bend's reputation as summer Fun City of Northern Indiana, are spending all or part of the summer of 1968 abroad. Dr. William V. D'Antonio, wife and children in tow, is among a contingent of ND professors teaching in Germany. Dr. Arthur J. Rubel will not wind up his 15-month sojourn in Mexico as population program advisor for the Ford Foundation until September.

An AID-sponsored research project will keep Dr. WILLIAM T. LIU MA '52 in the Philippines and Dr. John P. Koval will be in England to do research on changing occupational structures. Anthropologists Irwin J. Press and Carl O'Neill are headed for summer research sites in Mexico.

Meanwhile the department is being run by its indispensable administrative assistant, Mrs. Florence Lawrence, with minimal assistance from Acting Chairman ROBERT H. VASOLI MA '53, PhD '63. Current Summer Session courses are being taught by Dr. John J. Kane (Race and Minorities), Dr. Frank J. Fahey BA '49, MA '51, PhD '59 (Methods of Research) and Dr. Press (Advanced Review of Anthropology and Social Stratification). Projections based on this year's heavy enrollment indicate an increase in the number of courses that will be offered during the summer of 1969.

Dr. GORDON J. DiRENZO MA '56, MA '57, PhD '63, now a mainstay at Indiana University's South Bend-Mishawaka Campus, renounced bachelorhood July 6 in Sacred Heart Church. Mary Kay Ryan of South Bend is the winsome, persuasive bride. Sister RUTH WALLACE, IHM MA '61—formerly Sister JEAN BAPTIST WALLACE—received her PhD this June from the U. of California, Berkeley.

A replication of LOUIS BUCKLEY's well-known study of ND's Class of '28 will be conducted on Loras Col. graduates by Rev. PHILIP A. HAMILTON PhD '61. Former Loretto Heights Col. department chairman ROBERT H. AMUNDSON MA '52, PhD '56 was awarded an MA in anthropology by the U. of Colorado. JOSEPH DORAN '48, MS '49, PhD '63 is presently affiliated with the department of preventive medicine of the State U. of New York at Buffalo.

Sophomores Beat the Summer Slump

SUMMER employment or the lack of it has been one of the biggest gripes of college students this year. So, to ease the "looking longer than working" problem, ND's sophomore class officers decided to beat the problem to the punch.

Calling in the aid of the ND Alumni Association, Vice-Pres. Kevin Donovan set up a pilot summer placement program with Alumni Secretary Jim Cooney and the Alumni Club presidents throughout the country.

Establishment of job placement committees within the Alumni Clubs has long been a recommendation of the ND Alumni Office and the National Alumni Board. So the sophomore proposal was a good opportunity to activate a new dimension in Club programming.

With the needed cooperation at hand, the class officers then took the middle step—a referendum of the class in all of the halls on Campus. The tally showed approximately 50 students who wanted to enlist the services of the local Alumni in their home towns. The areas ranged from Seattle and San Diego to Boston and Fort Lauderdale.

Letters were sent, appeals made and the search began. The various Club presidents or their representatives contacted employers in the kinds of businesses students were interested in. In some cases the student's job preference was not always available but a job usually was.

"With the rising cost of higher education, a supplementary income is a necessity," Cooney remarked, "and I am glad we can help the students out. This program is also as important to the Clubs as it is to the students. If the student can be assisted by us, then he becomes a much better potential Club member. So there are mutual benefits involved here."

After the response the sophomore class received, the program may be expanded to the freshmen, juniors and seniors in coming years.

It's a Small World

Some of them had to come 5000 miles to do it, but they said it was worth it to meet Ed "Moose" Krause '34, ND athletic director. The occasion was the thirteenth annual Military Council of Catholic Men in Berchtesgaden, Germany.

Krause was the chief lay speaker at the spring council and one of the bonuses of his trip was meeting Alumni who belong to ND Clubs in Europe.

BUFFALO

We are presently updating our western New York directory and have happily learned that there are now about 500 ND graduates in our area. In our survey we are learning individual occupations, family status, and the like. This should prove valuable to the success of our program for this year and the future.

Our steering committee has already set up chairmanships for a Night At The Races, basket picnic, Golf Outing, and the Christmas dance. Plans for a Communion Breakfast, retreat, and annual highlights meetings will follow soon. We have also initiated a speaker's bureau to lead discussions on various timely or informative subjects at our meetings.

CLEVELAND

The honorable Mr. COYNE has retired from the job as Alumni secretary. We presented him with an engraved plaque epitomizing the 10 years of meritorious service put forth so unselfishly and devotedly by John. He's so busy in so many diverse interests now that he was compelled to relinquish the reins to me. The new President didn't let him off the hook completely however since he now has chairmanship of all-important placement committee for graduates, job relocation, summer help, etc. As a matter of fact, we have even retired his title as a gesture of gratitude. My position is kind of a "feto" job. I see that everybody has enough martinis, dance partners and all that kind of fun stuff.

Newly elected officers are: VICTOR J. GULYASSY '42, pres.; THOS. A. CORRIGAN '57, vice-pres.; FRED W. FRIEND '50, sec.; F. MICHAEL O'NEILL '61, treas.

These officers were formally installed at a board of governors meeting on June 4 at Kiefer's Restaurant attended by about 55 members and their wives. JOHN J. REIDY SR. LLB '27, a national board member, conducted the formal swearing in of the officers.

Some of those in attendance, such as PAT CANNY, FRED NAEGELE and GEORGE KERVER left directly from the party for this year's Reunion up at school. In all it was a very successful event with emphasis on increasing our numbers, advancing our causes, and enhancing our name and the University in the entire Northern Ohio area.

Mike Mathis '65, '67. This Board held a luncheon meeting on June 4. The by-laws of the Scholarship Fund were explained by their author Pat Foley. Plans were made to send out a mailing as soon as the by-laws received approval from the Internal Revenue Service.

There was much discussion on new ways to get more Alumni involved in the affairs of the Club. Suggestions for changing the emphasis and activities of the Club were presented.

All prospective Notre Dame students, regardless of their grade in school, are invited to attend the Picnic with their parents. This should afford all an excellent opportunity to talk with present and past students. What better way to find out what Notre Dame is all about . . .

Also scrambling to the winners' circle were JOHN DUNN '58 LLB '61, NICK NEIERS '58 LLB '61, JOHN LANIGAN '62; and G. Sheehan.

Our chaplain Rev. ROBERT STEWART '45 maintained his composure even when DAN CAREY '61 would let fly "fore" iron shots. Michael Dougherty, David Ward, John Shiel Jr, John Couter, Paul Hagenback, and John Grap received student membership cards from Dr. ED KOVAL '50. "The 1967 Notre Dame Football Highlights" shown by JOHN DUNN stimulated on-the-spot organization of our alumni bus trip this fall.

MUSKEGON, MICH.

July 2, though the day was cold, we had a warm and friendly time at our annual (9th) Golf Stag at Pontaluna Country Club. Fr. Durbin along with coaches Ray, Schultz & Brown created a fine image for the University and it was a joy to show them off to our many Michigan State friends who always attend and look forward to this affair. They know that it is a good cause because we use the money to help some boy from the Muskegon area get a start at Notre Dame.

This year the scholarship went to Mark Witucki (his father RALPH is an ND grad) who will be coming down in the fall. STAN TYLER, along with JIM MORSE, BILL TARDANI and the CANNON boys (BILL and GEORGE) are to be credited with making this year's stag a fine affair (there were over 150).

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.

With Universal Notre Dame night comes the traditional change-over of club officers. For the coming year the officials of the Club are: CLEM O'NEIL '56, pres.; TERRY CAREY '53, vice-pres.; DICK HESSLING '49, treas.; CLASSEN GRAMM '63L, corres. sec.; TIM HINCHY '61, membership sec.; Monsignor OTT '15, second chaplain.

The 30 members and wives who attended the show joined with some 52,000 other spectators to give Hope a rousing "well done."

The comedian, who received Notre Dame's "Patriot of the Year" award in 1962 was joined by dozens of top-name stars in this charitable effort.

TULSA

The Club has gone into a slight hibernation for the summer months, vacations being the tempo of activity for our members; however, the officers of the Club meet frequently to plan our summer picnic and the various different activities that will come about in the winter months. The Club has tentatively planned, depending upon the ticket situation, a Sept. 21 jaunt to Notre Dame when the "Fighting Irish" will whip the Oklahoma "Big Red"! As one can imagine, this is the biggest fall festivity that the Club has, and we will attempt to make the best of this opportunity.

TWIN CITIES, MINN.

The SUMMA kickoff dinner May 13 was attended by over 200 Alumni and friends of Notre Dame who heard Rev. Edmund Joyce, Drs. Carney, Shuster, and Stewart spell out the goals of Notre Dame in this five-year drive to help Notre Dame. The goal for the Twin Cities is a modest $140,000 compared to the goals set for other large cities. I'm sure that general chairman Judge JOHN CONNELLY LLB '53 has high hopes that if we all get behind this program we can exceed our goal. WE NEED EVERYONE'S HELP! HELP! HELP!

June 9 16 couples met for cocktails, dinner, and the hilarious comedy "THE GIRL IN THE FREUDIAN SLIP" at the Old Log Theater. I'd like to let the 416 couples who received invitations but did NOT attend know that they missed a very enjoyable event that did not last late (10 PM). Due to the very poor turnout YOUR Club LOST $. One more couple and we would have put $ into the treasury. It is very discouraging for me to spend considerable time and effort planning, arranging, mailing etc. etc. and then have only 16 couples out of 432. I realize there are many good excuses but I cannot believe there are 416 of them.

I'd like to hear from anyone planning to go to the Iowa game this fall. If there are enough of us, let's charter a bus and forget about the driving and the parking problems. Please drop me a note or give me a call (474-7500). My final thought, if YOU want a Club THEN PLEASE SUPPORT IT!

Passing the Ball to the Community

There is a big difference between rubbing shoulders with an All-American and just reading about him in newspapers and sports magazines. This difference is what hundreds of young boys experienced in South Bend this summer.

With the help of the city's recreation department, ND's basketball team developed Reach-Up, a unique athletic program which helps youngsters have a more constructive summer. Twice a day, four days a week for five weeks, ND's assistant basketball coach Gene Sullivan and his eight-man squad made the rounds of the playgrounds and junior and senior high schools in the area. They advised boys and girls alike on the correct form of shooting, dribbling, team formation and other court techniques.

Each week of activities began with a Monday clinic session at which Mike O'Connell, Bob Whitmore, Bob Arnzen, Collis Jones, Austin Carr, Tom Sinnott, John Pleick and Sid Catlett demonstrated the various basketball skills which were then taught in greater detail the following four days. The players also collaborated on a 22-page notebook which was mimeographed and distributed to all of the participants.

The 75-100 who turned out for the daily meetings acquired more than good left-hand hooks. "We tried to impress upon these kids the necessity of teamwork and the value of an education," team captain and All-American Arnzen remarked. "We knew some of them couldn't care less about school and so we wanted to point out to them that we aren't just basketball players and we didn't just play basketball when we were younger."

ND is the first college in the country to perform this type of service using a varsity team. Other programs are being conducted in Chicago, Ann Arbor and Columbus, but on an individual basis. "South Bend has needed something like this for a long time and I'm very glad that Notre Dame took the first step," a member of the recreation department commented. "You can see how worthwhile it is by its success."

Aiming higher than the backboard.

Reach-Up started as a program conducted by the freshman team alone. ND coaches encourage their freshmen to attend summer school to lighten academic loads so they are in the South Bend area in the summertime.

But the varsity didn't want to be left out of the action. Bob Whitmore, for example, dropped a good-paying job so he could participate. Mike O'Connell interrupted a telephone conversation with Johnny Dee before he finished explaining the program and asked when they wanted him back.

The attitude of the young athletes is as good as their attendance (one session included 250). Their eagerness to help was demonstrated not only in their response to the program but in all the back slapping, morale building and personal attention given in every afternoon and evening session.

As one recreation department worker remarked, "What's really great is the attitude of these players. You can tell they really want to give these kids something to remember and they're not just showboating around. I'm really glad these youngsters can get the chance to see they are real guys and not just headline names."

One of the major factors in originating Reach-Up was the present unrest throughout the country. "The assassination of Martin Luther King and the aftermath helped to concentrate our attention," Gene Sullivan commented. "Then came the troubles on many campuses which we naturally wanted to avoid. We wanted to come up with something positive and so we talked it over with our players. The terrific cooperation of all concerned has made it a success."

"With all this unrest we needed something and I think this is a good start," Whitmore said. "I also think there is a gap between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's and the South Bend community. I think perhaps this might close that gap." Austin Carr agrees with the need for a program like "Reach-Up" and feels it should be promoted in more cities. "If this program were in my neighborhood, I know I would want to participate in it and I'm sure my friends would too," he said.

Hall of Fame Taps Kline

Clarence "Jake" Kline '17 is a Notre Dame tradition. After 35 seasons as head baseball coach, he's not lolling in the dugout yet. In tribute to his years of work in the sport, Kline has been named the 31st member of the College Baseball Hall of Fame and is now awaiting his formal induction in January.

Kline's diamond career at ND began when he was a student. In 1915, 1916 and 1917 he won monograms playing third base and hitting well above .300 in all three varsity campaigns. His varsity fame continued when he captained the 1917 team which won ten games while losing four. But 1916 was the high point of Kline's beginning baseball days — he slammed three home runs to lead the Irish to a 14-6 victory over Michigan.

After graduation the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League made Kline an offer. Although the American pirates couldn't get him, the foreign pirates did; he turned down the bid for overseas duty in the US Infantry. He returned with bat in hand as director of prep athletics at ND for two years.

In 1922 he played and managed a team in the Southern Minnesota League, moving on to California for the 1923-24 seasons. He spent the 1925-30 seasons playing and managing for various clubs in the Utah State League.

"Jake" finally landed where his real baseball action began. In 1931 he returned to ND as freshman coach and in 1934 succeeded the late George Keogan as head coach. The baseball field is not the only scene of Jake Kline in action. As a professor in the mathematics department, the students say he can really make figures move, too.

Skippers Find Smooth Sailing

Although the ground sports of football, basketball and baseball have taken the lead in the headlines, the ND Sailing Club is giving these land fighters a little competition. ND, along with the U. of Michigan, represented the Midwest at the North American Intercollegiate Dinghy championships. The Olympic-qualifying event was hosted by Yale at Branford, Conn. June 17-21.

In the first two days of the regatta weekend, team races were the main event. Skipped by ND sophomores Rich Doyle, Marblehead, Mass., and Bill McElroy, Cranston, RI, and with the help of the ND and Michigan crew members, the Midwest placed second to the Pacific Coast. They defeated New England, Northwest and Southeast to win this honor.

The second part of the collegiate championships saw the Midwest come up with only a 10th place. But All-American and team captain Rich Doyle wouldn't let ND sailing fame stop there. At the single-handed championships at Branford June 24, Doyle took fifth place and became the first alternate for the July 24 and 25 Olympic semifinals.

The ND crew members who participated in vying for the team championship were Mike Morrissey of Fitchberg, Mass.; Mark Brown, St. Louis; Gerry Mehm, Bridgeport, Conn.; and Gary Ticus, Chicago.

NDers Aim for Olympics

When Notre Damers talk about the Olympics, it's not generally, but specifically. The specifics are American indoor record holder (for the 300-yard dash) Bill Hurd and trapshooter James DeFilippi. Both these Notre Damers have worked their way to the Olympic semi-finals, hoping to gain a few honors for the home country in Mexico in October.

Hurd sees going to the Olympic games as the greatest goal he can achieve as a trackman. The sprinter already owns eight ND records and recently was named his team's most improved player. At the Central Collegiate Conference championships Hurd won the 100- and 220-yard races, the latter in a time of :21.0, breaking his ND record by three-tenths of a second, establishing a new Cartier Field record and equaling the meet record held by Kansas' Charlie Tidwell.

Hurd's accomplishments do not stop there, however. He was named the 1968 Athlete of the Year at ND—the first time the award went to a non-football player since its birth in 1964. Captain-elect of next year's team, he is a dean's-list student in electrical engineering and an expert jazz saxophonist.

James DeFilippi, a '68 graduate in marketing, has qualified for the finals in the Olympic trapshooting eliminations. As a freshman at ND four years ago, DeFilippi also qualified for the Olympic air sport, but his talent was sidetracked for three years due to shoulder surgery. He is off to a good start again, just waiting for the results of the finals to select a three-man US team.

Hockey Gets Status and Coaches

Hockey has finally reached the varsity status at ND after making its way the past five years as a club sport. The 1968 team will not only begin the season with a new ranking but it also will herald the arrival of two new coaches.

Charles "Lefty" Smith, a ten-year veteran hockey coach at South St. Paul HS in St. Paul, Minn., will act as head coach of the "Irish Icers." Smith comes to ND with a successful record in all areas of hockey play, from pee wee teams to senior amateur.

His ten-year record at South St. Paul is proof of that. His teams won 197 games, lost 68 and tied 11, competing in state high school tournaments seven times.

A graduate of the College of St. Thomas, Smith played collegiate hockey from 1947 to 1951. For 12 years he played as an amateur and on semi-pro teams. His coaching experience also includes teams in the senior amateur hockey league and a junior "A" team for the St. Paul Saints pro team.

A fellow college alumnus of Lefty Smith will serve as assistant hockey coach. Tim McNeill has a three-year record at St. Mary's Col. (Minn.) of 39 wins and 18 losses. Prior to his coaching position at St. Mary's, he was assistant coach at Cretin HS in St. Paul and Cooper HS in Robbinsdale.
