REUNION '70

Changing times

It's almost impossible to talk about ND these days without talking about change. These are changing times, and times are changing the University. Even the class reunions. Ask any of the 989 graduates who attended Reunion '70.

It was rather unique for an ND reunion: "quiet and subdued" are the words most often used to describe it. The reason? Some say that the graduates—while back primarily to renew old friendships—were seriously interested in finding out what is going on at ND during this time of turmoil on many campuses. They wanted to talk with professors and students as well as their peers about University life today.

If he talked to students, the alumnus found that casual side-trips to the Grotto no longer serve fully the need for Christian witness. The changing Church, with its emphasis on the social implications of the Gospels, has brought them a new awareness of what it means to live the Christian life.

There are some who feel that this change in emphasis is eroding the unique character ND has as a Catholic university. That in the end it will be no more than a Purdue or a Princeton. However, if the words of student Guy DeSapio (pages 6-7) are any indication, the spirit of Notre Dame has not been buried yet—at least by its students. And he asks that we, as alumni, continually reexamine our lives in order to keep that spirit alive.

Basically, the ND spirit is a sense of family—of community. In the hip term of today, we are all together. (Although by some of the letters we get, there is some occasion to doubt that!) Keeping together, without the tremendous polarization of ideas and attitudes that is now adrift in the country, is the key problem. Communication is undoubtedly one of the answers. There must be a free exchange of ideas between alumni, students and administration. Traditionally, the lines have been open between alumni and administration. But the ground rules have been altered now. And students are being brought into the game. That's why this magazine has a student column and why we reprinted Guy DeSapio's speech. And many of you have had the chance to meet ND students personally either at the reunion or when student and faculty representatives have visited your area clubs.

These are just a few ways in which the University is trying to broaden communication between all the groups of the ND family. The story of one of the biggest steps it has taken in this direction since 1949 begins on the opposite page. The times, my friends, they are indeed a-changin'.

NOTRE DAME CHARTS NEW LEADERSHIP COURSE

Fr. Hesburgh

Fr. Burtchaell

Fr. Blantz

Faccenda

Fr. Shiltz

Fr. Brown

The ND administrative structure will undergo its biggest change in 21 years this Sept. 1 when the Rev. James J. Burtchaell CSC, chairman of the theology department, takes over the newly created post of provost of the University.

The appointment of Fr. Burtchaell and the naming of other personnel to administrative posts—including the vice presidency for student affairs—were announced in mid-July by the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC, University president. The changes and appointments were authorized at the June 22 meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The new office of provost replaces the vice presidency for academic affairs.

In a letter to the Notre Dame Family, Fr. Hesburgh said that the new administrative arrangement reduces to two the number of persons reporting directly to him: the provost and the executive vice president. The Rev. Edmund P. Joyce CSC will continue as executive VP, a post he has held for 18 years.

Fr. Hesburgh said Fr. Burtchaell will be directly in charge of the total academic enterprise and indirectly supervise student affairs. He will become a fellow and trustee of the University and be acting president in the absence of the president.

Fr. Joyce will, as treasurer of the University, give special attention to all financial affairs. He will also continue as a fellow and trustee and as chairman of several key ND committees, including the budget committee, the building committee and the faculty board in control of athletics.

The new assignment of the Rev. John E. Walsh CSC, vice president for academic affairs since 1965, will be announced later, Fr. Hesburgh said. The Rev. Ferdinand Brown CSC, who has been serving as acting vice president for academic affairs while Fr. Walsh is in residence at the U. of Hawaii's East-West Center on a Danforth Foundation grant, will become associate provost.

Fr. McCarragher

"If this dual subdivision of presidential responsibility works, the office of the presidency should be relieved of some of the present pressures," Fr. Hesburgh commented in his letter.

The Rev. Thomas E. Blantz CSC, University archivist and assistant professor of history, was named vice president for student affairs. He succeeds the Rev. Charles I. McCarragher CSC, who held the post since 1961. Fr. Hesburgh also appointed his special assistant, Philip J. Facenda, to the newly created post of vice president and general counsel.

In other appointments, the Rev. James L. Shilts CSC was named assistant vice president for student affairs, and the Rev. Thomas E. Chambers CSC is the new director of student residence, replacing the Rev. Edgar J. Whelan CSC. The Rev. Lawrence G. Broestl CSC, former assistant to the vice president for student affairs, continues as director of the ND foreign studies program and associate professor of modern languages.

Fr. McCarragher has been named director of financial aid and scholarships. He replaces Brother Kieran Ryan CSC, who was named assistant vice president for business affairs.

Noting Fr. McCarragher's contribution to the University, Fr. Hesburgh expressed "the deep gratitude of the University and myself to Fr. McCarragher for his 31 years of dedicated, priestly service to Notre Dame as a teacher, rector, dean of students and vice president of student affairs."

"During years of turbulent change on campuses everywhere and in the Church, too, his has been the most difficult area of University administration. It is to Fr. McCarragher's credit that the overwhelming number of Notre Dame students have reacted responsibly to the problems of our time and that new mechanisms have been created for their deeper involvement in the affairs of the University."

During his tenure as student affairs vice president, Fr. McCarragher coordinated facilities and programs dealing with student religious life, discipline, physical welfare and social and recreational activities. Since 1961 the Stepan Center, primarily a student facility, was erected and Sacred Heart Church was renovated. The University's health service expanded to include a Psychological Services Center and the campus security force achieved a greater degree of professional standing. In recent years, as religious activity on campus became oriented to the theology of Vatican II, thousands of students became involved in activities aiding the sick or disadvantaged in the community. Meantime, student government flourished, and two new organizations were created: the tripartite Student Life Council and the All-University Forum, which includes trustees and alumni as well as students, faculty and administrators.

A member of Fr. Hesburgh's administration for 18 years, Fr. McCarragher has served as a fellow and trustee of the University since 1967. He will continue as provincial steward of the Holy Cross Fathers Indiana Province, a post he has held since 1957.

Fr. Burtchaell is a native of Portland, Ore. He was ordained a priest in 1960 and did his undergraduate work at ND in philosophy. He holds theology degrees from Rome's Gregorian U. and the Catholic U. of America. He received his bachelor's degree and licentiate in Sacred Scripture from the Pontifical Biblical Commission following research at the Ecole Biblique et Archeologique Francaise in Jerusalem. From 1963 to 1966, he studied at Cambridge U. in England, earning a Ph.D. in Divinity.

Fr. Blantz holds BA and MA degrees from ND and two theology degrees from the Gregorian U. in Rome. His Ph.D. in American history was received in 1968 from Columbia U. He was ordained in 1960 and joined the ND faculty in 1966. Appointed archivist in 1969, he most recently has served as rector of Zahm Hall.

Fr. Walsh

Faccenda was named special assistant to Fr. Hesburgh and assistant secretary of the Board of Trustees and of the Fellows of the University shortly after ND governance was reorganized in July, 1967. He is a 1952 graduate of ND, with a degree in mechanical engineering. He received his law degree from Loyola U., Chicago, in 1957. He had his own law firm in Chicago and was prominent in ND alumni affairs.

Faccenda served as president of the ND alumni association in 1964. He was also president of the ND Club of Chicago in 1959 and was president of the ND Law Association in 1967.

The new vice president and general counsel is also chairman of the board of directors of four domestic corporations and is a member of the Illinois, Indiana and American bar associations.

Fr. Shilts is a native of South Bend who entered the Holy Cross

Order in 1943 and was ordained in 1953. He received his Ph.D. from ND in 1961. He has served as prefect and rector in various campus residences and most recently was rector of Farley Hall. He served on the tripartite Student Life Council.

Fr. Brown was appointed associate vice president for academic affairs in June 1968. He had been religious superior at ND since 1960. A native of Portsmouth, Ohio, Fr. Brown holds AB, MS and Ph.D. degrees from ND. He joined the mathematics department in 1946, four years after his ordination. With the exception of a year as a post-doctoral fellow at Yale in 1951-52, he taught mathematics at the University until going on leave in 1963 to devote full time to his duties as religious superior.

Bro. Kieran has a degree in accounting from ND and an MA in business administration from NYU. From 1953 until his appointment in 1967 as director of financial aid, he served as treasurer of the CSC Brothers Midwest Province and was instrumental in the planning and construction of Holy Cross Junior College at ND. He succeeds the Rev. Paul G. Wendel CSC, who will become assistant superior of Moreau Seminary.

In closing his letter, Fr. Hesburgh remarked: "I suspect there will be further changes by this time next year, but, for the moment, these changes in structure and personnel should respond effectively to some of the real questions raised by the Chancellor-President discussion in recent months. At least the trustees thought so and thus authorized the changes and made new provost and vice presidential appointments."

Mr. Notre Dame

Art Haley sat watching the Indiana summer squall lash against the tall windows of the Main Building office he had occupied for 30 years as director of public relations at ND. When the sun shines, the view is good—overlooking the tree-clustered main quadrangle.

From this vantage-point he had seen the University grow to a size undreamed of even by the most prophetic in 1926, the year Art came to ND as the first full-time business manager for athletics. Forty-four years later, he was in a reflective mood.

There was a good reason. It was his last day on the job for the University (although he will be available as a consultant). The last of the paperwork was being cleared away and his desk was piled high with mementos he had accumulated over the years.

There were photos of the campus and the prelates, presidents and industrial leaders who visited here. There were plaques and paperweights commemorating the hundreds of banquets and building dedications he had arranged. And there were still photos of the 1940 movie, "Knut Rockne All American," once required viewing during freshman orientation week. Art served as technical director for the film.

"Let me show you this," Art said as he plucked a yellowing pamphlet from the pile on his desk. "This got lost in the back of a file and I just found it." Called "A World View of Notre Dame," it was published in 1922, about the time he enrolled at ND as a full-time student. An artists view of the campus showed 13 buildings. Today, there are more than 90. Art played the leading role in the dedication of more than 20 of these built since 1940.

The 14 years previous, he had served as business manager for athletics. Knute Rockne appointed him to the post shortly after his graduation. During his student days, he had been business manager of the ND Glee Club and he had the unique ability to keep the club's financial affairs in the black. In searching for an explanation why Rockne gave him the job, he jokes, "I guess it was because we had something left in the Glee Club treasury at the end of the year!"

Art got to know the man who brought ND to national prominence in football about as well as anybody. His face brightened as he recalled the kind of man he was. "Rockne was a genius. Not only at football, but in chemistry, business or whatever he attempted."

One of Art's vivid recollections about Rockne is an incident when the NCAA legislated against the famous ND Shift. "In the old days, the Ivy League and the East dominated the rules making. When they outlawed the shift, they did so without allowing Rockne to make a defense of it. He was writing a sports column for the papers at this time and he wrote that the decision by the rules committee would take the spirit of inventiveness out of football. The result was that the next year, the rules committee sent him an advance copy of the rules changes they intended to make. It was the first time the Midwest was recognized as having a voice in policy decisions."

What impressed Art most about the incident was the style that Rockne displayed. "He said what had to be said firmly, but nicely."

And that, too, is Art Haley's style. "I don't think I ever heard Art raise his voice to anyone," says a friend who has known him many years. "He was the kind of man ND needed during those years of tremendous growth."

Many times Art Haley was an important visitors' first contact with what is ND. He has arranged visits of presidents and presidential candidates, Princes of the Church and prominent men and women from virtually every field of endeavor. Besides his role in building dedications, he has figured in every commencement since 1940. He was a member of a small group which organized the ND Foundation in 1947 and he organized the President's Committees in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and South Bend.

Art is credited with originating the Junior Parents-Son Weekend on the campus. For many years he has been a member of the ND Faculty Board in Control of Athletics.

These are but a few of the reasons J. Arthur Haley has been called, "Mr. Notre Dame."

A native of Chillicothe, Ohio, Art first came to ND in 1918 as a member of the Student Army Training Corps. Shortly afterwards, the Armistice was declared and he returned home to work for the Norfolk & Western Railroad. Five years later, after a younger brother came to ND, he returned to complete his education. And here he stayed to serve under six University presidents: Fathers Matthew Walsh, Charles O'Donnell, John O'Hara, Hugh O'Donnell, John Cavanaugh and Theodore Hesburgh.

In 1928, Art married the former Mary Virginia Matson of Ogden, Utah, who had been a student at St. Mary's of the Woods College. And if anyone qualified as "Mrs. Notre Dame," Mary Haley would. Many of the world-renowned persons that visited ND, were also entertained at the Haley home. She never prepared a formal guest list when she entertained. "If they were coming to the game we just told them to come over and bring any guests they had with them," she says.

Mrs. Haley has also been active in University and community affairs. She has served as secretary to the Women's Advisory Council at the University since it was founded in 1952. She is also on the lay advisory board of St. Joseph's Hospital in South Bend.

The Haleys have three sons and a daughter. The boys are all ND graduates: John Jr. '51, George '52 and Tom '57. The family includes 15 grandchildren (the 16th is expected soon).

These words, spoken at a dinner honoring the Haleys, sum up what the Notre Dame family feels about them: "In whatever they have done—on campus, in the community, throughout the country or around the world—Art and Mary Haley have reflected great credit on the University of Our Lady who has ever been their life, their sweetness and their hope."

STUDENT VIEW

WHAT SHOULD NOTRE DAME ALUMNI BE?

The following is an excerpt from a speech delivered by Guy DeSapio, ND student, at a luncheon of the ND Alumni Board and Senate last May. DeSapio edited The Observer, a campus newspaper, last year. This coming academic year he will be its publisher.

A student and alumni in the midst of dialogue during the recent Reunion '70.

An alumnus worthy of Our Lady's University must have a deep social concern. It must be an everyday concern and must run deeper than words. It must be substantiated in action. Now every one of you cannot spend every moment of your time directly involved in saving a starving child's life (and I think that most of my peers will soon have to realize that); but each one of you can contribute in some measure to that effort. Analyze your work and your life style. Is it Christian? Does it reach out beyond yourself to help other people? Ask yourself the following questions: Am I ethical in my business affairs?—Do I participate in my local government or encourage government officials to move toward social progress? And if I don't have the time to do that, do I encourage other people to do so? Do I encourage my son to do so? Do I understand and sympathize with him when we don't see things eye to eye? Do I support his efforts anyway?

I imagine that many of you are businessmen—most of you successful. Right now I am skipping a marketing class to be here. We are learning the marvels of advertising and public relations. Funny thing—advertising and public relations—those two things that may have contributed more than anything to the growth of business over the last few years. Probably most of you are familiar with the best techniques—you have used them, and you have been successful.

Ever wonder why many of your generation have such a bad public relations image with your own children? Have you made them feel close to you and your work? If each one of us can't be a statesman or at least a social worker, we can contribute to the world's development through our own particular fields. Have you ever shown your children what makes your work important? Did you ever ask yourself if you could? If you think you can't, then maybe isn't it time that you cease your "business as usual" and ask yourself where you are going?

For the most part, a good alumnus must be a good father. Do you remember Woodstock—that crazy upper New York State "rock" festival? The young people there were looking for fraternity. I wonder how many of them couldn't find it at home because their parents were out working hard so that their children wouldn't have to have it as bad. A lot of parents are probably indignant about children whom they send off to college and for whom they pay the way, only to find that they seem ungrateful. When are parents going to realize that young people don't want money—they want love!

What this country needs is for people to become a little more human in their relations to one another . . . a little more compassionate . . . a little more understanding . . . a little more loving! If the country is to become unified again, then that basis must be in understanding, respect, and love.

The same could be said for Notre Dame. The alumni of the University have had a very bad name with the general student body, at least since I came here three years ago. Students have been very critical of your actions. I wouldn't say that they have singled out you particularly, because they have been very critical of almost everyone's actions.

But they accuse the alumni of a lot of things. Some of them are true—others not so. But it is up to each one of you to search your own soul to see whether you have made the kind of commitment that the times demand; to see that you haven't allowed yourself to get wrapped up in a world that tends to categorize people and that, in the name of "progress," asks you to give up time that should be spent with your children and your loved ones. For the only true progress is the progress of the human heart—and that can't be measured by how high they make the World Trade Center in New York or whether the stock market is up or down.

This concept of progress of the spirit is something that I felt Notre Dame has always stood for. There was always something unique about a Notre Dame Man—he had a commitment to the spiritual—to making his life something special.

The life of a Notre Dame alumnus should typify that commitment. A person who does not seek to grow spiritually is not a Notre Dame alumnus. A person who does not seek to act morally is not a Notre Dame alumnus. A man who is afraid to confront old problems with new ideas, who is afraid to confront himself, has wasted four years at Notre Dame.

Notre Dame should teach people that life is much more than what it appears to be at first glance. Behind all the hustle and bustle, there is an underlying motive for it all—that the only true human value is love—that there is a God, whose Son's life of love is not only extolled as a model, but is accepted and practiced as a way of life.

I guess all that I am actually saying is that a good alumnus is actually a good human being. Now I know that you can say: "Well, that's nothing very new; I've known that all along." Then I will counter by saying that there is a scarcity of good men in the world today, or we wouldn't be facing the depression and despair that we are.

Live the Notre Dame ideal to the fullest. Be men of faith as well as of action. Be mindful that there are human values that stand above all, and that there is a God who somehow, if we have the faith, can help us to accomplish the impossible and to raise in spirit above this world—its gloom and the persistent

PUBLICATIONS WIN AWARDS

Several ND publications received awards at the national convention of the American College Public Relations Assoc., in Denver this summer.

ND won first place in the "Total Publications Program" category. The University's entry included descriptive material on the publications operations as well as copies of publications.

The University also received an award for "Publication Program Improvement." This involved comparison of four publications with previous counterparts.

Individual publications receiving awards included the new series of catalogues; "This Is Notre Dame," an admissions office publication; "The Lab," which deals with the Social Science Training Laboratory, and last year's issues of "Insight."

The awards were accepted by James W. Frick, ND vice president for public relations and development, who also was elected president of the association. He will serve as president in 1971-72. Frick has been a frequent speaker at meetings of the association.

FR. THORNTON RETIRES AUG. 1

Rev. Louis J. Thornton CSC retired as ND placement director Aug. 1, completing 25 years of service to the University. He had headed the placement bureau since 1956, and during the previous 11 years he served as the school's registrar and admissions officer. His successor as well as his own new assignment will be announced later.

In announcing Fr. Thornton's retirement, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC, University president, praised his "priestly concern and expertise in business" which enabled him to serve ND "and the young men who come here with great effectiveness." He noted that Fr. Thornton, as admissions director, "bore the brunt of the post-war enrollment surge" and, as placement director, "interested a record 500 companies, organizations and government agencies" in interviewing Notre Dame seniors and graduate students for employment.

Following his ordination in 1944 and prior to his work at ND, Fr. Thornton served as secretary to the late John Cardinal O'Hara CSC, former ND president, when he was head of the Military Ordinariate in New York City. He had entered the novitiate of the Congregation of Holy Cross in 1939 and from 1940 to 1944 studied theology at Holy Cross College in Washington, D. C.

A 1929 ND graduate, Fr. Thornton worked as a layman in a New York bank for 10 years before beginning his studies for the priesthood. In addition to his placement office work, he has served since 1962 as chaplain of the Student Infirmary on campus.

TUITION UP $200 TO MEET RISING COSTS

Increases in tuition as well as room, board and laundry rates at ND have been announced by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh CSC, president.

Father Hesburgh said the trustees had mandated a tuition increase of $100 per semester for a new total of $2,100 for the academic year. The increase for room, board and laundry will be $25 per semester. Students living on campus thus will have increased annual costs of $250 with the exact amount of their total bill depending on the hall and type of room in which they live.

Cash losses exceeding $900,000 in each of the past two years led to the decision for the increases, Father Hesburgh said.

In making the announcement he noted that concerted efforts are being made to arrive at a balanced budget for ND. Even so, it is the expectation of the administration that for the foreseeable future tuition and fees will increase an average of $150 annually.

"Lest you think that Notre Dame's situation is unique," Fr. Hesburgh wrote in a letter to parents of ND undergraduates, "published reports indicate that MIT has a $2 million annual deficit; Stanford's amounts to $1.8 million and St. Louis U. has a deficit of $1.4 million. As for tuition increases, scores of colleges and universities, private and public, have taken similar action, among them all eight members of the Ivy League."

Fr. Hesburgh continued: "Not only is ND's tuition considerably less than that of other leading independent institutions next year; our tuition for 1970-71 will be a lot lower—as much as $300 less—than that charged by at least 11 major institutions in the school year just ended!"

LIBRARY GIVEN RARE BOOKS OF W.B. TROHAN '26

The Rare Book Room of the ND Memorial Library has received a gift of final items from the collection of Walter B. Trohan, who was a 1926 graduate of the University. Victor A. Schaefer, curator of the Rare Book Room, said the Trohan collection given to ND from 1956 to the present includes 500 titles of first editions, special editions and unique copies. Trohan was for many years chief of the Washington bureau of the Chicago Tribune.

The greater part of the collection is in Americana and Lincolniana with some items valued at upwards of $1,500, according to Schaefer. The books will be on record on the public catalogue for the use of research students.

First editions of "Moby Dick" by Herman Melville, "Elmer Gantry" by Sinclair Lewis, "The Bravo" by James Fenimore Cooper and "Monsieur Beaucaire" by Booth Tarkington are among some of the earlier gifts.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, Charles Dickens, Arthur Conan Doyle, Henry Fielding, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, Tobias Smollet, Francis Bacon, Ben Jonson and Henry Cardinal Newman are among the other authors. Some are represented by complete collections.

JUSTICE STUDY GETS U.S. FUND OF $191,917

The U. S. Department of Justice has given the University a grant of $191,917 to study ways of speeding up the administration of criminal justice without sacrificing Constitutional rights.

The proposal, funded by the Justice Department's National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice was prepared jointly by ND's Law School, headed by Dean William B. Lawless, and the College of Engineering, under Dean Joseph C. Hogan.

Third District Congressman John Brademas announced the grant and hailed it as "a significant and encouraging step toward remedying judicial delay and inefficiency which have caused postponement of rehabilitation of offenders and permitted suspects to commit additional crimes while awaiting trial."

Lawless said the study flowed from a remark by Chief Justice Warren Burger that "justice delayed is justice denied" and from a suggestion in a report to former President Lyndon B. Johnson that systems analysis be employed to make the courts more effective.

Hogan explained that systems analysis had been used successfully in helping businesses, hospitals and other organizations streamline their operations.

The project, funded for one year, will compare delays in non-federal court trials in two Indiana cities—South Bend and Indianapolis—chosen for their convenient location and because they are in the average medium and large population bracket. Eight other cities are to be studied.

Lawless also is consulting with the U. of Birmingham in England for a similar study of the English system.

Director of the Criminal Justice Research operation is Leslie G. Foschio, assistant professor and assistant dean of the Law School. David T. Link, professor of law, will oversee the legal analysis of the computer model and Dr. John J. Uhran, associate professor of electrical engineering and a specialist in statistical communication theory, will supervise the engineering analysis of the computer model. Dr. Raymond M. Brach, associate professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering, will head the data acquisition and reduction team.

FR. KENNA IS ELECTED

Rev. Howard J. Kenna CSC, who was graduated in the Class of '26 and ordained at ND on June 24, 1930 has been elected to a three-year term as provincial superior of the Indiana Province of Holy Cross. He has served in that office since 1962.

Father Kenna was chosen at the triennial Provincial Chapter session at ND. Until this year provincials have been appointed by the general administration of the Congregation of Holy Cross in Rome.

The Indiana Province covers the United States with the exception of nine states in the east and 12 in the south. It also is active in East Pakistan, Uganda and Chile.

Earlier, Father Kenna was superior of Moreau Seminary at ND and of Holy Cross College, Washington, D.C.; director of studies and first vice-president for academic affairs at ND; assistant superior general of the Congregation and president of the U. of Portland in Oregon.

The academic pulse

By Richard W. Conklin, Director of Information Services

While faculty members are fond of taking the pulse of any part of society on any subject likely to support a monograph, they very seldom put a watch to their wrist. They did recently, however, when the Kerr-Carnegie Commission on Higher Education (whose membership includes Father Hesburgh) surveyed 60,500 faculty members.

Among the more interesting results was the fact that professors generally are politically liberal but educationally conservative. Some 61 per cent favor immediate withdrawal from Vietnam or a coalition government there, but more than half thought most undergraduates were satisfied with their education, disapproved of the "emergence of radical student activities," and believed campus demonstrations are a threat to academic freedom.

Other survey revelations:

—Faculty members are overwhelmingly against an all-elective, no-grades system of undergraduate education, but believe a year of community service should be required of all students.

—Two of three professors endorse black studies, but a majority opposes control of such programs by black people, rejects the lowering of academic requirements for minority students, and does not feel "most American colleges and universities are racist . . ."

—The most liberal professors are found in sociology, anthropology, and psychology; the most conservative are in the fields of engineering, business, and physical education. The disciplines with the most Catholics are theology, philosophy and languages.

—Present methods of graduate education are endorsed by most professors, and the traditional value of scholarly research, supported by private foundations and the federal government, is upheld.

—While more than 80 per cent upheld classroom freedom, it was plain their endorsement had limits as 75 per cent disagreed with the statement, "Faculty members should be free on campus to advocate violent resistance to public authority."

—A strong majority of professors believe that "more attention ought to be paid to emotional growth of students," but when faced with the proposition, "A man can be an effective teacher without personally involving himself with his students," a scant majority (54 per cent) disagreed.

ALUMNI SPEAK

Arrivals and departures

By James D. Cooney, Executive Secretary, Alumni Assoc.

While yours truly retains the post of editor, this issue of the ALUMNUS magazine marks the departure of its managing editor of two year's vintage, Tom Sullivan '66, and the debut of Tim Hughes '61. To Tom we express our deepest thanks for a job well done. Under his direction the magazine prospered in depth perception and dialogue. But he is not lost to us completely. Tom assumes new responsibilities as regional director of development for the Notre Dame Foundation, representing the University in the Southeastern U.S. We're confident of his continued effectiveness in the new role, and with much gratitude for past services rendered, wish him every success.

Tim Hughes, who introduces himself elsewhere in this issue, is eminently qualified to manage the magazine's fortunes. Tim has racked up nearly eight years experience in the field, including a stint with an Iowa daily, three years as an editor with Geo. A. Pflaum, Publisher in Dayton and most recently held the editorship of the Delaware River Port Authority's Log magazine. Tim is married to the former Nancy Ely of Niles, Michigan. So the trek back to the Bend with the four little ones was a homecoming in more ways than one. We're delighted to have you with us, Tim.

A tragic note was sounded on Saturday morning of Reunion '70 with the discovery of a body floating in St. Joseph Lake on campus. For a time it was feared in this corner that the deceased might have been a returning alumnus. But the County Coroner indicated time of drowning was four or five days earlier which virtually ruled out that possibility. Campus security officials and county police launched an exhaustive investigation to no avail. The body was interred, unidentified, two weeks later in Cedar Grove Cemetery on Notre Dame Avenue.

When ND's modern history is written, the summer of '70 should comprise a significant chapter. Not since 1949 has such sweeping functional reorganization affected Notre Dame's top administration. The changes are reported on page 1. One point to be made here, lest the casual reader dub the whole matter a sinister shakeup, is that the incredible pressures inherent in running an organization as complex as a major university today take their toll. The two major figures relinquishing top posts this summer, Rev. John C. Walsh CSC, Academic Affairs VP, and Rev. Charles I. McCarragher CSC, Student Affairs VP, have served ND eminently well over the years. One need only glance at the enormous accomplishments in both spheres to verify that statement. But it wasn't easy. The energies expended, the crises endured, the pressures absorbed, all make their marks on administration today. These two men fought the good fight exceptionally well and deserve to turn in their office keys as we imagine they will—in good health, good spirits, and not without a little glee. ND men everywhere should feel deeply in their debt.

Those were the days

They came from far and near for the happening that was REUNION '70, June 10, 11, 12 on the ND campus. From Japan, Australia, Hawaii and Peru. From LaPorte, Michigan City, Chicago and South Bend. And from many places in between.

To hear them talk and see their faces, it was an exhilarating experience . . . . coming back to campus for the first time in five, ten, or possibly even 30 years. Gazing at the Dome, visiting Sacred Heart and the Grotto, strolling among the elms and around the lakes, meeting old friends.

There was much to do during the three-day conclave and the 989 alumni who returned to partake experienced

great or small, there shall be no "Gimmies"
during Reunion golf

On Thursday it was the Monogram Golf Tournament in which some 175 former athletes birdied, parred, bogeyed (and then some) their way around the Burke Golf Course. There were Fritz Wilson, Leon Hart, Moose Krause, Christie Flanagan and numerous others who once donned the Blue and Gold in athletic competition.

Later that evening the National Monogram Club held its annual soiree featuring cocktails and dinner in the handsome Monogram Lounge of the Athletic and Convocation Center. The affair occasioned lively anecdotes and stories concerning many of those in attendance, as well as remarks and progress reports by Coaches Dee and Parseghian.

With Friday sunrise came the first real influx of the members of the classes of '20, '25, '30, '35, '40, '45, '50, '55, '60, '65 and the 50 Year Club. The campus was a panorama of darting shuttle buses on runs to North Quad dorms, golfers teeing off, and old roommates searching for one another among a sea of vaguely familiar faces.

Unique on the Reunion agenda this year was the Friday noon Presidential Welcome Luncheon presided over by Fr. Hesburgh. In addressing the assembled alums, the president said that universities today cannot become victims of political partisanship, but that the people who make them up cannot remain neutral in times of great moral crises. He defended the "deep moral concern" of the younger generation and praised ND students and faculty for their "nonviolent and constructive" response to events triggered by American intervention in Cambodia and the death of four Kent State U. students.

Following the welcome festivities the refreshment tents opened and fellowship began to flow from the kegs housed in three large open tents on the quad.

Friday evening ushered in the Class Dinners and each group retired to a private dining room for cuisine and more remembering.

Saturday was a day of warm sunshine, deep blue skies and much activity. Class Masses alternated with class pictures for each group in the morning and they say there were a few from each class who, for some strange reason, were reluctant to participate in either activity. As the golfers continued to play, campus tours resumed, new arrivals marched in and the series of seminars entitled "Notre Dame and Its People" continued. Showings of the football highlight films from the years corresponding with the various classes also spiced the afternoon.

In the wake of more libation and the festive REUNION '70 Parade led by the Caledonia Kilty Band, the Reunion Banquet was held in the North Dining Hall.

Remarks by Fr. Hesburgh and a talk by Ara Parseghian highlighted the evening. Some 1000 alumni, faculty and staff gathered to celebrate and pay tribute to J. Arthur Haley, who after more than 40 years of service to the University retired July 1. Members of the Golden Jubilee Class, 1920, were inducted into the hallowed 50 Year Club and presented with diplomas so indicating by the ND president.

Following a brief shower Saturday evening the cordialities continued until the wee hours of another day when even the toughest reunion-goers surrendered for some well-earned shuteye. The concelebrated Sunday Reunion Mass concluded the get-together for another year and the last cry heard in the cloud of dust that remained in the wake of 989 rapid departures was "SEE YOU ALL IN FIVE YEARS!"

'15 REFLECTIONS

"Death has taken another old schoolmate and valued friend from me. I was fortunate that JOSEPH J. COLLINS LLB '11 spent so much of his life near me while I lived in Michigan and kept in close touch after I moved to Arizona. He was a wonderful fellow and a great ND man." So reported JAMES F. O'BRIEN CE '13, who resides at 1835 Calletranquila, Tucson, Ariz. Jim continued, "He was an outstanding football player on the famous championship team of 1909 at right end along with VAUGHN, PHILBROOK, DIMMICK, ROSEY, DOLAN, EDWARDS, RED MILLER, MATHEWS and others. Those were the days of 30 minute halves, no huddles and few substitutions." Jim closed, "I am mindful of an old saying—that 'God gave us friends and memories so that we might have roses in December.'" JOSEPH COLLINS died in Ann Arbor and was buried from the church of St. Francis of Assisi there, Fr. Frank Sreberneck officiating. He was the former first VP and general sales mgr. of Standard Products Corp., Detroit and Cleveland. Survivors include: his wife; a daughter, Mrs. George Huntzicker, Ann Arbor; a brother, George Collins, Old Bridge, N.J.; a sister, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, Belmont, Mass.; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

And death has taken another member of the Holy Cross Fathers, Rev. PATRICK H. DOLAN AB-MA '15, who died April 12. He resided at Holy Cross House at ND for a number of years prior to his death. Fr. Pat's youngest brother, Edward M. Dolan, who lives at 16589 Lawton St., Detroit, Mich. 48221 sent me the following news: "The funeral services for Pat were beautiful—50 priests, all in white, were on the altar and five said the Mass together. It was at 3:30 p.m. and we all walked behind the casket to the burial ground where he was placed among his fellow priests with whom he worked, prayed and lived. There were 47 relatives at his funeral. There were seven boys and three girls in our family—now only five of us are left. All are in the 80's except me, I am 78. We miss Pat—I wrote a letter to him every Sunday for years and always got one in return each Wednesday. He would have completed 50 years as a priest this month (June)." Eternal rest grant to these fine ND men, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them.

A note from our good friend ROBERT L. ROACH '15, Muscatine, Iowa, brings the following news: "The local Junior Chamber of Commerce lads gave me the shock of my life by presenting me with their Distinguished Citizen & Good Government Award. This was their first presentation of this type of award. I understand that 20 names and records were submitted so I guess I had reason to feel pretty good about the whole affair. The script that went along with the award went back over about 50 years of various civic jobs I had held. I felt well repaid for all the time and effort that had been devoted to a great variety of projects including membership on boards of trustees of Municipal Water & Light Plants, Muscatine General Hospital Public Library, YMCA, Chamber of Commerce, War Bond Chairman of our County, Community Chest and a few others." Bob sincerely regrets being unable to attend the class reunion. And Bob let me assure you, you were sorely missed, as were many others.

I was most agreeably surprised about ten days ago to receive a long-distance call from JOHN F. BOYLE CI '15, Coalgate, Oklahoma, relative to his plans for attending the 1970 Reunion. My pleasure was dampened by his failure to attend. I hope and trust that his absence was not due to sudden illness or some other unfortunate cause. A note from LD. KESSLAR CHE '15, W. Palm Beach, Fla., expressed his regret—he had wanted so much to be there with his classmates and friends of other years. It is my understanding that the Alumni Office will prepare a list of attendees at the 1970 reunion for inclusion in this issue of the ALUMNUS. This will be of special interest to those who were unable to attend.

For me it was an unforgettable experience—to meet and talk with men with whom you were associated more than 50 years ago—for this the 55th anniversary of the graduates of the class of 1915. Men who have not been on campus in a number of years would look with awe upon the change and to see the tremendous growth and academic progress of ND. You will have little reason to doubt that your alma mater ranks high among the top universities of the world.

I would be remiss if I did not report the pleasure I had in seeing and chatting with members of the faculty of our day—Rev. Cornelius Hagerty CSC and Rev. Charles L. Doremus, CSC.

'16 SHUTTERBUG

Dear Folks—here I am back in Northern Wisconsin after a swell time at ND last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Had just unearthed a book of pictures I took in 1913-1916 of ND. Hundreds of them with remarks about Rockne, old coaches, old priests. Fr. DOREMUS, etc. AL KUHLE said there are lots of stories to be written about that time from the pictures. I'll try to send a few samples. In those days I was the photographer for the Dome. Sorry not to have a report for the July-August issue.

'17 NO NEWS

No news this time because you didn't send any. It is just as simple as that. Perhaps the time has come to give up our own class news column and merge (everybody else is doing it) with the 50 Year Club. Then you could mail any news about another great-grandchild or of a classmate to the managing editor of the ALUMNUS and specify that it is for the 50 Year Club column.

So, let's put it to a vote and be governed by the majority. The question is, shall we surrender our entity or shall we keep going. Just spend a nickel for what used to be a penny post card and write on it, "I surrender" or "Let's keep it going." You do not even have to sign your name but it would be good to know who is interested enough to declare himself about this vital issue, since month after month goes by and we never hear from a '17er. Are you tired of the prep school anecdotes used to stimulate the Lifers and the stories about our college life? Our column would be a blank without this kind of fluff; maybe that's the way you would like it but please tell us.

By the way, were you at the 40th reunion when good old HARRY SCOTT said to the REV. IVO McELROY, OFM, "Say, Red, why don't you take off that brown bathrobe and have some fun?" Sure enough, the next time around, Red was in slacks and a sport shirt. The prize reunion wise crack was made on a sweltering week-end during prohibition when, some local classmates drove some of us out to a Polish beer bust in the west end. After three or four rounds of high powered brew in 20-ounce steins, PAUL FOGARTY remarked casually, "Say, you know, this is the coolest spot on the campus." Why not make it a contest? Do you have any reunion wise cracks to top these? Once upon a time, there was a one chair barber shop on the ground floor of Washington Hall conducted by Jimmy HaHa; no, not a Potawatomi, HaHa was his nickname because he laughed at any joke a student told him. One beautiful spring morning with the window wide open, a large corpus relaxed on his back in the chair, with rich, foamy lather all over his face and about to enjoy the luxury of a shave. Price 25 cents or perhaps gratis in this instance, when suddenly a youth from Carroll Hall stuck his head thru the open window and almost shouted down the neck of the customer, "Cut his throat, Jimmy!" The corpus threw off the haircloth, pulled up his cassock and leaped—well, scrambled out of the chair to give chase with his pink chubby face covered with the equivalent of a pint of whipped cream but the youthful Carrollite was too agile and around the corner and out of sight before the late occupant of the chair could identify the brash student, who had offended the pompous dignity of Fr. JOHN CAVANAUGH, the president of the University. Who was this naughty boy and where was he from? Well, his first and last name began with the same letter and he was from either Philadelphia or Pittsburgh, so if you say Pennsylvania you are right.

Do you have your dance program from our Senior Ball in the Gold Room of the good old Oliver? The first musical number is listed as a one-step and entitled "Go Get 'Em." How's that again? The fourth dance was a fox trot, "Poor Butterfly." The ninth, a one-step, "When You Are Turning 21." The 13th, a one-step, "Beware of Pink Pajamas." HOW'S that again? and the last one, the 16th dance, a one-step, entitled "Cheer for Old Notre Dame." Could they mean the Notre Dame Victory March? The date, April 23, 1917. Were you there Mac? There were lots of interesting aftermaths—a polite name for them and it was indeed a busy night for good old Jimmy Sweeney, the house detective.

We switched from another cataract operation to two in the lower region. Likewise, Paul Fogarty recovered successfully and promptly in May from a prostate operation. Your correspondent was not as fortunate and was in St. Joseph Hospital for about a month, including the reunion week-end, when such great and good friends as BERNIE VOLL, BILL GRADY and LEO VOGEL called on him and gave us a big lift. The following address is correct; we checked out of Michigan to be closer to our only son, DAN III, '42 and his family.

'18 GREETINGS

Birthday Greetings to: Aug. 8th, ALVIN H. BERGER, R.R. #2, Sturgis, Mich. 49091; STEPHEN H. HERR, CE '10, 214 E. Hickory St. Chatsworth, Ill. 60921; Aug. 12th, JOHN P. DANT, Jr. SEE '11, 1618 San Helen Dr. Dunedin, Fla. 33528; Aug. 13th, '12 RICHARD NASH 2800 Jackson St. Sioux City, Ia. 51104; Sept. 3rd, LOUIS H. FOLLET. B.COM. '18, 1303 W. Oak St. Norristown, Pa. 19401; Sept. 8th, WALTER RILEY MILLER, 14015 Superior Rd. Cleveland, Ohio. 44118; Sept. 29th, EDWARD F. RIELEY, LL.B. '15, Minonk, Ill. 61760. WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES: July 1st, THOMAS H. KING; July 7th, HARRY C. BAUMAN; July 19th, ARTHUR J. "Dutch" BERGMAN; July 28th, JAMES E. "Jim" ARMSTRONG; Aug. 1st, PAUL J. "Betty Boop" FOGARTY; Aug. 1st, CHARLES W. "Coach" BACHMAN. ORDINATION DAY: Aug. 4th, Fr. C. L. DOREMUS. Corby Hall, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.

What makes the reunion most interesting—returning to ND and seeing how BIG it has grown. Meeting with classmates and "tall story" about the "good ole days." Calling on Fr. Doremus who is enjoying good health—"holding down" CAP. FARLEY'S—throne on the porch of Corby Hall. You will recognize at once—FR. HAGERTY. And FR. WILLIAMS just like you saw him last. You who could not make it this year—remember—we will be looking forward to seeing you next year—the Good Lord willing. Even tho he is back in Robinson—BILL BRADBURY could not make it—neither JIM LOGAN, both on sick list. Understand that DANNY HILGARTNER is in hospital. The wives of MAX KAZUS, "BIG FRANK" RYDZEWSKI and BERT SENG, kept 'em home. Wondering how come "DOC" NIGRO, LEMMER and RONCHETT missed out—hope they are in good health. Attended monogram dinner—about 150 there—shared table with BILL ANDRES, JOHN VOELKERS and WALTER R. MILLER.

"Ye Mgr. Ed," directed—please don't include list of attendees. Regret it cuts out a lot of our "chitchat." Honestly it's great to meet nice "guys" like—PAT MALONEY and son FR. MALONEY (boy can he sing) COONEY (not bad) GROVER MILLER—LEO VOGEL with his stories—JIM SWEENEY—PAUL FENLON (Big Campus man) "TEXAS" GRADY—JIM WALLACE (book author) and ALL AMERICAN BOY—JAKE KLINE, baseball coach. Nice meeting and talking with "ole Timers" who have made their "Pot of Gold"—Chairman of Boards, Big Men now whom you knew "way back when"—they too did not have "the Pot or Window to throw it out of." That's what makes the reunion great—reliving memories—now history of 50 and more years ago. Some of us have only a million dollars in good health. Our sincere wish is that you too—enjoy the best of health. May we all be granted the privilege and have the good fortune to return to ND 50 Year Club reunion 1971. May You Live To Be 100. PEACE.

'20 GRAND TIME

The setting for the 50th Anniversary of our 1920 Class was beautiful beyond compare. The sprinkled lawns, bushes, ivy clad buildings and beautiful trees added to the many new buildings, filled us with pride and wonderment that our class of 175 members who first attended 54 years ago has become so large and important as it is today. Our stately JOHN CAVANAUGH who thrilled us during our time and now Fr. Hesburgh talked to us to give added admiration for the great ND of today. Twenty-four of our class with five wives attended our class dinner and again our Alumni Banquet. It was the first occasion for wives to be present and they added greatly to our 1920 reunion. JIM COONEY did an impressive introduction at our dinner. He will see that pictures of our class and list of members will be in the ALUMNUS. Fr. Hesburgh presented 50-year certificates to all present and wives were given ribbons the night before to commemorate their attendance. A large corner room in the Morris Inn was provided with drinks where we gathered to talk over old times and stories. Fr. CORNELIUS HAGERTY spoke at dinner and we all loved him. WALTER O'KEEFE inspired us at the dinner and in our room with his inspiring and beautiful talk and many stories of his long experience in the entertainment world and travels. WALTER MILLER brought four white hats from home and his white hat and cheerfulness are a permanent mark at ND. SHERWOOD DIXON and PAUL CONNAGAN told of experiences worthy of being printed if space would allow. The ALUMNUS made our reunion a special occasion on our 50th reunion and with the largest number of members of our class in attendance of previous reunions, everyone left expecting to return in 1975 and many before to feel the grand experience of being on the campus. Msgr. TOM TOBAN came from Portland to join us for his first reunion and Mass for our class. He has retired and will leave shortly to live at the American College in Rome.

JOHN BALFE will now be president of our class. The following will be VP's: Sherwood Dixon, Dixon, Ill.; Edward Doran, South Bend; Humphrey Leslie, Waverly, Ia.; Clement B. Mulholland, Chicago; Harry Nester, Columbus, O.; Dan C. Roberts, Greenbank, Wash. All are requested to assist in securing information from our class members and pass it on.

'22 HALL OF FAME

JOHN F. HEFFERNAN, 28 Riverside Avenue, Red Bank, N.J. 07701 died Feb. 16 of a stroke, suffered three days prior. For many years, John was a highly regarded law assistant in the appellate division of the N.Y. State Supreme Court, Brooklyn, from which position he recently retired. In his campus days, John was a fine student—was well liked by his fellow students and by professors who taught him. We do believe that John won a monogram in track. He is survived by his wife, Agnes; a son, Dr. John T. Heffernan, 31 Seven Bridge Road, Little Silver, N.J. 07739; and a grandson, John F. Heffernan III. We of '22 extend our solace to the widow of the deceased, and other family members. Also, we extend our grateful thanks to GERALD J. CRAUGH '21, who so thoughtfully and kindly wrote us in this particular matter. Gerald resides at 111 Old Mill Road, Great Neck, N.Y. 11023. It is our sad duty to report the death of still another beloved classmate, T. PIERRE CHAMPION, 13415 Shaker Boulevard, Mareland Courts, Cleveland, Ohio 44120, who died May 31. Pete, as he was known to every classmate, had a lung operation in late Feb. and subsequently was given cobalt treatments. Pete was a retired president of the Champion Rivet Co., Cleveland, having joined them in '22 immediately after being graduated from ND. The firm was founded by his father in 1895 and was expanded with additional plants in East Chicago, Indiana, Mexico and Peru. Pete is affectionately remembered by Cleveland area friends for his interest and work in civic affairs and projects, and for being so active in the charities. He received official commemoration by resolution of the City Council of Cleveland and the Catholic Charities Corp. He dearly loved ND and was intensely loyal to his class and classmates. We are reasonably certain that he never missed a single 5 year class reunion. We extend our very deep sympathy to all members of the Champion family—to the widow, Agnes; 3 ND graduate sons; DAVID '45, PETER '60, and WILLIAM '61; one daughter Mrs. Patricia Maria; 16 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild. We gratefully thank son David '45 for his kindness in writing us at the very time he was hurrying to attend his 25th class reunion on the campus. David is district sales manager for Republic Steel Corp., Cleveland. Our classmate, GEORGE KERVER, officially represented our class at the funeral service, and we thank him for following through with a written report. Also, we express our gratitude to NELSON CALLAHAN '23.

DR. EDDIE ANDERSON was inducted into the Holy Cross College Hall of Fame at Worcester, Mass. on April 25 in recognition of his wonderful record as head coach of football at Holy Cross over a period of 21 years. We are indebted to Boston Globe sports columnist, Jerry Nason, for writing these lines in the April 25 edition: "Dr. Eddie Anderson gets inducted into the Holy Cross Hall of Fame this eve, and there was some football coach, baby! (I will never forget the afternoon he raced on the field, snatched the ref's whistle, pried open the clenched jaws of a stricken opposing player—and saved his life. The kid had swallowed his tongue and was choking to death)." ND teammate and classmate CHARLIE CROWLEY of Weston, Mass., with Mrs. Crowley attended the testimonial dinner for Dr. Eddie. Mrs. Edward B. (Joan) Bailey has been elected president of the Ladies of Charity of the Philadelphia Diocese.

'23 GREAT ACTING

Congratulations are in order to HARRY W. FLANNERY and his bride of last fall, Mary Heineman (nee Moriarity). They are living in the Hills near UCLA where she directs labor programs for the university's Institute of Industrial Relations, while he works on the sun-drenched patio in almost smog-free Beverly. In his letter, Harry neglected to say whether his work is mental or physical, but in acquiring Bill, his instant teen-age son in the deal, one might expect the Old Pro will again be turning to inspiration rather than perspiration. Something like Journalistic ESP must have prompted LOUIE to tell us at the USC game last year that he kinda thought Flan was again a Benedict!

At long last, good news that HI HUNT has (in his own words) again "out-foxed the devil" by surviving a second major operation in the space of 4 months time, as we all prayed he would do. Having once prescribed for him my cure for bursitis that actually helped him, or so he says, he thinks me qualified to inquire of the class if there are any other '23ers with a plastic aorta. (Anyone with an aneurysm repair job?) Says he will be driving a '70 Chrysler to the reunion in '73, but since he plans to UN-retire again before then, may need to ask for time off to even attend same. Will put him down for a physical when he arrives.

Also a note from His Honor ROGE KILEY commenting on the "burdensome job" I fell heir to, and how my shoulders were "amply broad to accommodate it." Little does he realize there is not enough literacy above those shoulders to make a go of it. In that regard Pres. SHEA on June 12th at Morris Inn called a meeting of the executive board B.C. (Before Cocktails). In attendance were NORTON & WAL-LACE, past-presidents, plus KREIMER, wearing his Spiro hat, but Judge NYIKOS could not be present due to a full calendar in the Circuit Court. A list of possible replacements for the job of secretary was discussed at considerable length, and the class will be informed when agreement is reached with the selectee.

Elsewhere in this issue, provided the ALUMNUS staff is on its toes, you will note the June 17th death of F. LESLIE LOGAN JR. '51, at age 44. He was president of Vim Sporting Goods Store in Fort Wayne, which our LES was connected with for many years. Called at Mungovan's new mortuary to extend sympathy of the class to his widow and his mother.

Another casualty! Don't be surprised if now after 40 years in business, you no longer can find a BRUGGNER'S Downtown Store in South Bend. Due to a heavy fire loss in late spring it had to be closed for several months, and only now the contents and fixtures are being auctioned off. Lou's widow and son Bill will continue to operate the nine-year-old branch in Town & Country Shopping Center on US 20 at the eastern city limits, plus a possible second store in a new Shoppers Mall south of town, when necessary backing is found. Interested, anyone?

'24 EDITORIALIZING

This column is forced to editorialize a little because of lack of specific news about our classmates. It was assumed that there would be no publication during the summer months. But TOM SULLIVAN in his parting advice as managing editor revealed that another deadline for copy is June 22. You will probably be reading it at your summer home if you have reached that state of affluence, or during your summer vacation if you still are actively engaged in gainful employment. I presume most of us are just simply "retired."

A very interesting column could be composed if a number of classmates would simply drop me a note with the information of how and when they progressed from active status to retired; what they do now to keep busy. It would be most interesting and perhaps helpful like a "sensitivity session," or the bull sessions back in the good old days of '20 to '24. This is how we learned about each other and how class and school spirit was nurtured. I'll start it and hope you will excuse the use of first-person personal pronoun. That sounds like I'm still a "square" doesn't it? Retired two years ago as Northwest div. mgr. for the Construction Materials Div. of W. R. Grace & Co. . . . went back to school for refreshers in philosophy and found they now refer more to specifics such as "behavioral studies" . . . received my A.B. degree with a major in psychology . . . and incidentally fell into a professional counselor job. It keeps me active mentally like a model "T" in a present-day patriotic parade. (Now, let's have more of these thumbnail autobiographical notes.)

Some random addresses and reminders of old friends we may have lost track of over the years. Say "hello" to them, neighbors: DR. KELVIN A. KASPER CL '24 is attached to Wills Eye Hospital, Phila., Pa., 19104; E. NEWELL DeGURSE LLB '24 1324 Porter St., Apt. No. 13, Detroit, Mich. 48226; PAUL FRANCIS DePAOLIS Che '24, 1549 Western Ave., Glendale, Calif. 91201. G. DON SULLIVAN '24 of Lorton, Va. has been appointed to the President's Air Quality Advisory Board. He is a consultant to the American Mining Congress, specializing in environmental control problems of the mining industry (my first opportunity to use the word ecologist since learning what it means).

'25 IT'S ALL OVER

It just doesn't seem possible our 45th reunion is a thing of the past and our 50th is next. JAMES ELLIOT ARMSTRONG suggested and the idea was approved by the crowd assembled after the Alumni Banquet that our class get together at the Purdue game Sept. 26th. You will be advised of the location in plenty of time before the game . . . BUT ORDER YOUR TICKETS.

It will be O.K. to have guests join us. Our reunion attendance was approximately 65 out of 150 still with us.

The class banquet speakers had a few changes because BISHOP MUSSIO was unable to be with us as he was celebrating his Silver Jubilee. EDWARD KRAUSE, Athletic Director and ELMER LAYDEN talked and Circuit Judge JOHN J. KILKENNY gave a well-prepared talk on "Crime in the streets and unrest on the campus." JIM ARMSTRONG gave an excellent report on happenings on our Campus. Before the formal part of the program HANK WURZER gave an account of his Mass Fund. Your secretary presented Hank with a set of cuff links and key ring in behalf of the class for his dedicated work as treasurer. Thanks to LEO POWERS and JIM ARMSTRONG for their help to make the reunion such a success. We had it deluxe in Flanner Hall . . . air-conditioned and a beautiful hospitality room. Since the reunion JIM ARMSTRONG sent some class notes: "BRO. HYACINTH SNIATECKI informed me his reunion plans were cancelled by a call to the Brothers School in Rome, where he will be all summer, possibly all year. FRANK STEEL may have told you that JOHN KANE'S wife was scheduled for an operation which kept John away. DAN O'NEIL'S reunion was missed because of a round-the-world tour." Congratulations to DR. CYRIL CALDWELL who was made "Man of the Year" for the Cleveland area last month. HANK WURZER gave out and mailed the list of deceased members of the class. CHARLES L. BAUMGARTNER, 1155 E. Donald, South Bend, died last month and EVERARD KOHL, 16920 Edgewater Dr., Cleveland, Ohio, died May 24th. Add these two classmates to your list. Class prayers are asked for MIKE ADRIAN, Scott Circle, White Plains, who is seriously ill.

'27 MARKINGS

By chance, these notes are being written on your secretary's birthday—his 65th. This is one which in its way is as significant as was the 21st. Undoubtedly most of us will observe similar birthdays during the current year. For many, it marks the year in which retirement begins—for all it at least brings the opportunity to qualify for Medicare, a status which I am sure everybody meets with mixed emotions. In any

OLD FACES NEW PLACES

The Buckleys at home.

Louis F. Buckley '28, teacher of economics at ND from 1929 until 1941 and class secretary since his graduation in 1928, has been professor of economics at Chicago's Loyola U. since 1967, teaching in the Graduate Institute of Industrial Relations. Between 1941 and 1967 most of his time was spent in government service, chiefly in the areas of labor and social security. Among the agencies which have profited from his many talents are the Social Security Board, the War Production Board during World War II and various offices of the Department of Labor. Even while so employed he frequently managed to continue evening teaching, at Catholic U., Western Reserve, Loyola and Fordham. In connection with his Labor Dept. work he has traveled extensively in Western Europe, in Iron Curtain countries, including Russia, and in the Middle East, including Israel. During 1945-46 he taught at American U., Biarritz, France. Pictured with him in his Chicago home is his wife, Pauline, who has been typing his class-of-1928 notes for almost 40 years. The picture of Martin Luther King Jr. is evidence of Prof. Buckley's admiration for the black leader, and the ND beer mug, he says, "is indicative of two of my hobbies, beer and ND." Others include reading, foreign travel and the writing of articles and book reviews. A recent project has been a study of unemployment in Chicago under a grant.

Rev. William Craddick CSC '30 was a prefect of religion from 1939 to 1949, a span which included the war years when he was also chaplain to the midshipmen in training and the Navy personnel on campus. For the next 12 years he was master of novices at the Holy Cross Fathers' novitiate, first in South Bend and then in Jordan, Minn., when the novitiate was moved there. Since 1961 he has been assistant provincial of the CSC Indiana Province. He takes care of many of the administrative details that arise in dealing with some 500 priests and Brothers and 90 student-candidates in schools, parishes, missions, seminaries and other institutions and activities of the Province. He is acting provincial when the provincial, Fr. Howard Kenna, is away visiting the personnel and establishments of the Community in this country and abroad. Last winter Fr. Craddick himself had an "inspection-tour" type visit to these priests and brothers and institutions in East Pakistan, Uganda and Europe.

Rev. William J. McAuliffe CSC '37, assistant dean of students 1952-56, rector of St. Edward's Hall 1956-58 and of Cavanaugh 1958-60, then pastor of Sacred Heart parish on the campus for two years, is now in charge of direct-mail fund-raising for the support and education of CSC candidates for the priesthood and brotherhood. His operation, an arm of "Province Development," is located in St. Joseph Hall, the old Moreau Seminary.

The following former members of the faculty are still active elsewhere: Rev. Philip L. Hanley OP teaches at Aquinas College, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Rev. Lawrence T. Murphy MM is attached to the Maryknoll Fathers' public relations and fund-raising operation on East 39th St. in New York; Mr. H. Lee Hope (who followed Joe Casasanta as director of the band) operates his own music store in Evansville, Ind.; Mr. Cecil Birder is in Minneapolis, Minn.

event, the attainment of the mature age of 65 is another milestone. When we were graduated in 1927 we looked confidently ahead to the future. The exercises at the conferring of degrees were truly a commencement. Later, as we turned 35 or so, we realized that we had a past as well as a future. Now we are obliged to note that the past has taken on formidable proportions and the future is dwindling indeed. For the most part, our families are grown and we find that we bestow upon our grandchildren exactly the same affection that we do upon our children. We view the changing scene in the world with some misgivings, but we must admit that our role is becoming more that of spectators than participants. Whether the changes will be good or bad I hope that we all can stay around for many more years.

JOE NULTY, BILL DEGNAN and ART MONACO were guests of JIM QUINN at the Colonia Country Club for lunch during the merry month of May. Art Monaco reports that they had a ball, enjoying food and libations and exchanging stories from the old days at ND. He adds that Jim is doing a great job for Summa and feels and looks good.

Regretfully I must report the deaths of two classmates: EDWARD E. O'BRIEN died on Feb. 16th and JULIUS C. MCCOY passed away on Feb. 27th. A Mass is being said for each of them, and I have extended the sympathy of their classmates to their respective families.

'28 PLENTY HERE

JOHN S. CULLEN died in Buffalo, N.Y. on April 15, 1970 after an illness of three months. Jack was district mgr. in Western New York for the International Appraisal Co. of Pittsburgh. He is survived by his wife and four children. PEARL L. MOORE suffered a heart attack and died while working in his garden in Wharton, N.J. JOHN LEITZINGER represented the class at the funeral services for Pearl in Grampian, Pa. Surviving are his wife and five children. Pearl was employed by the Picatinny Arsenal of the US Army at Dover, N.J. Pearl attended our 25th-year reunion. Our sincere sympathy to ORVILLE MURCH on the death of his wife and to SWEDE SCHROEDER who lost both parents recently.

Congrats to FRITZ WILSON who is the new National Monogram Club President; to Judge GEORGE BEAMER who was selected as the Man of the Year by the Calumet ND Club; to GEORGE CORY who was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Commercial Science by Biscayne College and whose daughter was chosen "Bride of the Year" in Miami. Incidentally, it is unfortunate that we are not having a class reunion this year to again obtain advice from George, who continues to successfully time the turn in the market and was referred to recently in the press as one of Miami's shrewdest stock market investors. Add the following to the list of 30 retirees whom I have already mentioned: JOE DOYLE, FRANCIS DAVID, HAROLD CANAVAN, MARTIN KIRWAN, BUCKY DAHMAN, JOE DORAN, JOHN BRANNON, ED DIRINGER, JIM HURLBERT. Add the following as semi-retired: EUGENE FARRELL (see March-April ALUMNUS, p. 20), GENE O'BRIEN, JOHN RODGERS, BOB NICKELLS, JOHN POLISKY, JOE HILGER, GEORGE SCHEUER, who incidentally after retiring from the South Bend Tribune is now chief copy editor in the Department of Information Services at ND.

We are now reaching the great-grandfather stage. JOHN FORGE is the first to report, with three great-grandchildren. Incidentally, John also has 26 grandchildren. Let's hear from others on this subject. GEORGE KELLEY, while having breakfast near Ennis, Ireland, found JOE McNAMARA seated at a nearby table. This reminded me that I met BILL BROWN a few years ago at the Shannon Airport. BILL JONES met JACK MCSORLEY last summer at an audience with the Pope. How about some other '28 meetings throughout the world? FRED SOLMAN was with FRANCIS MEYER and PHIL CENEDELLA on the Italy-ND tour. Other recent travelers include HENRY MASSMAN (Scandinavia and Leningrad), DICK GREENE (Japan and Hawaii), JIM CONMEY (Eastern Europe), SWEDE SCHROEDER (Mexico), GENE FARRELL (Iceland, Finland), JIM HURLBERT (London), BILL DOWDALL (Balkans, South Africa, Europe), and VINCE CARNEY explored the excavations at the Vatican. Remember to drop me a card on your next trip.

TOM BYRNE is home after eight months in the hospital. Dr. Nowacek, the son of one of my closest friends, performed surgery on Tom's hip. MIKE HOGAN is recovering after cataract surgery. FRANCIS DAVID has recovered from heart surgery. BILL KEARNEY and Father GEORGE BENAGLIA are recovering from heart attacks. DENNY DALY suffered a broken hip and CARL PETTERSCH had abdominal surgery recently. Judge JOE KINNEARY is back on the bench after an emergency appendectomy. It looks as if we will have a record turnout again at our 15th annual post-game '28 class cocktail party after the Purdue game on Sept. 26th. Early returns include the following who plan to attend: G. SHEIBLEY, J. SHEEDY, J. MORRISSEY, A. MILLER, A. GRAMS, J. CONMEY, V. WALSH, P. CANNY, F. SCHROEDER, F. MCCARTHY, M. HOGAN, W. BUSHMAN, T. MAHON, W. MURPHY, BUCKY DAHMAN. ED QUINN has arranged for us to have this affair again in the Monogram Room of the Athletic and Convocation Center just east of the stadium. A buffet will be served. Plan to be with us.

JIM SHOCKNESSY has been making news regularly as one of the trustees of the well-publicized Ohio State University. GEORGE CORY is a trustee at Biscayne College and Barry College. Your class secretary represented the class at a reception in honor of BERT KORZEN, Democratic candidate for Treasurer of Cook County. I am aware of the sons of the following classmates receiving degrees at ND in June: TOM MAHON, JOHN ANTUS, FRITZ WILSON, and VIC FISCHER. Are there others to be added to this list? BILL DWYER's son received his law degree at our Loyola University commencement.

It was good to hear from CHILE WALSH. I was very sorry, however, to be advised of the sad news of the death of his wife on May 17, 1969. Many of you will remember Chile's wife as Mary Grace Crockett, who was queen of the Monogram Ball, 1927.

Thanks for your many letters received in June. I regret that my space limitation makes it impossible to include reference to all of them in this column. Keep the news coming and I will get the rest of it to you in the next issue.

'29 FROM ROME, WITH LOVE

We ask your prayers for the soul of HILMAR HEVER, AB '29, who died Feb. 19, 1970. His survivors are his sisters Miss Marie and Miss Leone of 6422 N. Magnolia, Chicago, Ill. We send them our condolence and assurance of remembrance of their intentions in our prayers. We have this news from LOUIE REGAN, 5101 Lake Ridge Rd., Edina, Minn. 55436, "I retired from Sears at the end of January after 32 busy and rewarding years. Fran and I will have more time to travel and catch up with old friends around the country. I may be able to get back to ND more often too. A year has now passed since our 40th class reunion. It was a grand get-together—hope we can all make our 45th!"

Our sincere thanks to a good friend of ILLE (BILL) BYRNE, who recently visited Ille in the hospital. Ille is afflicted with emphysema and a serious heart and lung condition. He enjoys the few cards and letters he receives from his classmates of '29. This is an appeal to you to give a few minutes of your time to a truly loyal ND man, one who on the campus and later in Northern Calif., where he kept the ND Club alive (as president as well as a worker), gave generously of himself. His address is 414 DORCY, APTOS, CALIFORNIA 95003. Your secretary, and wife Margaret, are in Florence, Italy, this Sunday night in mid-June as a direct result of your generosity 12 short months ago at the time of the 40th Reunion. The past few days, our first ever in Rome, Assisi and Florence, have been so full that it seems impossible that five days ago we were still at O'Hare in Chicago. Prof. JAMES DANEHY '33 and wife Margaret were here nine years ago and have been our companions and competent guides. If one must leave the wonders of the Vatican and all that is Rome we recommend Assisi. St. Francis is buried above and behind the altar of the crypt of the cathedral there. We attended Mass at his tomb. It seems utterly impossible that he could have accomplished what he has for us. He didn't look for the easy way to do what many profess to be doing now. His brand of love has a base and a depth and a faith that is an inspiration. Here humble folk still pray with fervid conviction. Religion and moral values seem to become inseparable from aesthetic values, a kind of beauty. The example of the invisible inhabitants of Assisi seems ever present . . . it follows one.

(Two days later, again in Rome.) We have come to the conclusion already, that the greatest thing we have seen is what we have seen most recently, it's like "liking the girl I'm with." Today that would be St. John Lateran, the Cathedral of Rome, where the heads of both St. Peter and St. Paul are over the main altar. And the dark piece of wood behind the Chapel of Repose is that of the table of the Last Supper, . . . and around the corner are the 28 marble steps from the House of Pilate in Jerusalem, up which Christ walked to be condemned. It seems that there will be no end to things one wants to see. Many of you have been here and know exactly what I mean.

We trust that many of you will be watching the Purdue-ND game and that all will, even if for only a very short time, stop by at the after game get-together in the Engineering Building immediately after the game.

'30 REUNION NOTES

The fortieth reunion attracted a very good turnout of the class. About 25 members arrived as early as Thursday, but the greater number pulled in on Friday. Some late comers such as BO RICHARDS and TOM LANTRY made it only for the Alumni Banquet and the late Saturday features. And the latest arrival of all was BOB JACKSON from Columbia, Mo. on Sunday morning. TOMMY SHEA (Conn.) of the Class of 1929 came out from the East with FATHER JIM RIZER and TIM TOOMEY, Reunion Chairman. This was Tommy's first visit to ND in 41 years, and he toured the whole campus. Other alumni joining the 1930 class were CHRISTY FLANIGAN '28, CLETE SCHNEIDER '29, JIM CURRY '29, PHIL CENEDELLA '28, and FRANK FLYNN '29.

DAN CANNON headed a delegation of reunionites to the seminar conducted on university problems and student power. He and GEORGE O'MALLEY kept everyone abreast of the more serious discussions on the reunion program. KARL BRENNAN brought his son to the reunion. This young man, a recent graduate of ND, is now a Jesuit scholastic and two years away from ordination. The memorial Mass for deceased members of the Class was said in Stanford chapel, and concelebrated by FATHER LEONARD COLLINS, CSC, and Father Jim Rizer. Memorial folders listing the names of 128 deceased class members had been distributed beforehand. I will send you a copy if you drop me a note requesting it. The 25 early arrivals had dinner Thursday evening in the rathskeller of the University Club. Several speeches were attempted, but were terminated at the end of the one sentence by the reception given them.

Letters from GEORGE WINKLER, TOM McDUGAL, PAT GOGGIN, BOB McDONALD, and BILL BAMBRICK expressed deep regret at having to miss the 40th conclave. George had been ill and his doc wants him to take it easy for a while. BOB HOLMES and PAUL FARMER of South Bend did an able job in setting up arrangements for the reunion. Bob, as local chairman, conducted a class election at the Friday night dinner in the University Club. The Holmes organization withstood a fierce floor attack by DON SULLIVAN and ED REDMOND, and the Regulars turned back the Rebels. Tim Toomey was chosen class president for the next five years, unless impeached during that period.

We were pleased to have the following guests join the class at the Friday night cocktail party and buffet: Father Leo R. Ward of the philosophy department (now retired), Ray Schubmehl, assistant dean of Engineering and Professor Andrew Smithberger of the English department.

Since reunion time, we have learned of the death of FRANCIS DUNN, June 13, 1970. Also, the information just reached Notre Dame that JAMES WILLIAMSON had died back on January 8, 1965. Class members will, I am sure, remember both of them and their families in prayer.

'31 BRING THE TROOPS HOME

Immediately following the Army-Notre Dame game our class will hold a reunion cocktail party in the Monogram Lounge of the Convocation Center. This same affair last year was enjoyed by 50 classmates and it is hoped that it will be a greater success this year. As usual, some indication of the number attending is necessary for proper arrangements. A note indicating your intention to be present, PLUS SOME NEWS, will be most helpful. BOB KENDALL's son Robert, a member of the Society of Jesus, was ordained June 6th at Phoenix, Ariz. FRANK HOLLAND phoned to say that he had seen his brother JERRY and several of the 1930 class who attended their 40th reunion this June. Which brings up our own class reunion next June. We will have been alumni for 40 years. I trust that attendance next year will better our previous records. It is not too early to make plans and your letters to classmates will help generate enthusiasm necessary to a successful reunion. I hope that all of you have a wonderful summer and that many will plan on attending the cocktail party following the Army-Notre Dame game October 10th.

'32 A GOOD FEAST

It's usually feast or famine. This time you have been generous. Let's start with my trip to Chicago in May. FRANK OELERICH met me at the airport

Saturday and I stayed overnight with him and Helen—my favorite. They had a Sunday brunch for me with DICK and BABE OELERICH and JIM and Olive (nee Oelerich) IGOE. We had a blast. We also figured out that FRANK OELERICH SR. '06 has 20 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren. Fran's JOHNNY '65 married Kate DUFFECY, she being the daughter of MIKE '28 and Josephine of Indianapolis. Out of the blue a welcome letter from TERRY DILLON saying nice things about my column. Terry saw ED MELCHIONE and GENE CALHOUN in California and both are well. He mentioned, jealously, that Igoe had a 74 in a Chicago golf tournament and got his name in the Chicago Daily News. Haven't seen our good friend JOHNNY COLVILLE lately but his son Bob works next door to me and daughter-in-law, Judy—as cute as they come—is down the block with United Airlines.

PAUL O'TOOLE reports he feels great and relates his son Rev. Paul O'Toole officiated at the marriage of PAUL HOST'S daughter, Karen. Also married Nancy O'TOOLE, daughter of DON '31 and Marian Geddes, St. Mary's '31. If I get anyone mixed up forgive me but Father Paul also tied the knot for Paul's daughter Mary Ann, St. Mary's '68 and TOM McKENNA '68 and later baptized their son. Whose son? Oh, forget it. Thanks Paul. FRANK A. CONSOLATI, 55 Meredith Circle, Milton, Conn., has been named technical services engineer-customer products for New England Telephone. VERNE W. HUBER C.L.U. has retired from Northwestern Mutual after 38 years. On June 1, 1954, he became general manager of the Oshkosh district. The agency now has a total insurance in force of $179 million.

Sorrowfully, we record the passing of ART HIMBERT. I wish there were space to print the entire obit that appeared in the Herald. I have never read a more eloquent, sincere tribute. Its opening sentence said, "Times changed, but time never changed Art Himbert." It closed, two columns later with "He had no worries about his own future, for his faith in life everlasting was complete. And indeed he had no reason to worry, for if heaven isn't for people like Art Himbert, then what's a heaven for?"

'33 BROTHERLY LOVE

Our friend, RAY BRODERICK '35, has been nominated as the Republican candidate for Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Ray is a former president of the Notre Dame Law Association and has been active in our alumni affairs for 35 years. His wife, Marjorie, is the daughter of PAT BEACOM, the captain of the '05 ND football team. His address for congratulatory notes is: Hon. Raymond J. Broderick, 6408 Church Road, Philadelphia, Pa. 19151.

The Navy-ND game will be in Philadelphia for Halloween (Oct. 31). PETE CONNELLY, LARRY SEXTON, and I will be suitably costumed to greet classmates. Perhaps SAM HYDE will agree to lead a group of "trick or treaters" from NYC and environs. The hotel hosting the Irish will be the BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, 9th and Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19105 (215 922-8600).

As of this writing nothing has been accomplished toward a reunion on the Purdue game weekend; however, any of us attending that fray may appear at the Morris Inn before the event and pretend to be in the throes of a get-together. Just two years ago I started on this job as class secretary. Thanks to all of you who were kind enough to write. Any news you send will be included. Sometimes the editors of the ALUMNUS cut the material because of lack of space. I send it right back! Although the secretary job is lowest ranking on the alumni totem pole, I do get an advance copy of the ALUMNUS. As I have mentioned, it has been pleasant to hear from old classmates but shocking to receive the death notices.

PHIL FAHERTY saw GEORGE ROHRS and JACK HOYT at the NYU game in the Garden. In addition to judicial duties, Judge MAURICE W. LEE is active in the national and state affairs of the BPO Elks and just returned from a Peoria, Ill., meeting with the brothers. See the Elks Magazine for details. ROBERT J. FLINT died in his sleep, January 13, 1970. For many years he had practiced law in Coudersport, Pa., but recently served as a hearing examiner for the Social Security Administration in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. JACK KENNEY, who went to Penn Law School with him and kept in touch over the years, said there were no surviving relatives. His mother, who lived to a great age, predeceased him. A friend of mine, who knew him in the SSA, said Bob had had a heart condition and was planning a transfer to the milder climate of Puerto Rico. I remember him as a very serious student at ND who had a great love for Irish culture and tradition. May his soul be quickly on its way to God!

DR. JAMES P. DANEHY received the Brotherhood Award from the South Bend-Mishawaka Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at the 42nd anniversary Brotherhood Dinner on May 21. Jim, a chemistry professor, has been on the ND faculty since 1951. He is a founder of the Catholic Interracial Council of South Bend. In the 1940's he was a pioneer in PAT CROWLEY'S Christian Family Movement. Originally from Fort Wayne, Jim received a master of science degree in '34 and a doctorate in organic chemistry in '36.

FRANK O'MALLEY '32 won the 1970 Award for excellence in teaching in the College of Arts and Letters. The award is named in honor of our classmate, Rev. CHARLES E. SHEEDY CSC, the former dean of the college. The $1,000 award was established by an anonymous donor. Very sad news from THOMAS A. "KITTY" GORMAN. He is on medical leave due to the adverse effects of another recent coronary difficulty, following which the surgeon had to insert a pacemaker. At the end of the year, Kitty will be placed on total and permanent disability retirement. I sent him a brief note and said the '33 Class was still rooting for him, just as it did 35 years ago. Our prayers are for your speedy and complete recovery, Kitty.

The Alumni Office just notified me that JOSEPH H. WOODKA died April 19, 1970. A remembrance Mass was offered for Joe on the campus, April 26. Condolences may be sent to his widow at 3002 Miami St., South Bend, Ind.

PHILIP J. RYAN died March 8, 1970. A remembrance Mass was said for Phil on May 31. The Alumni Office had no information as to survivors but his address was 4555 Van Noord Avenue, North Hollywood, Calif. 91604. Our classmate, FR. JIM DONNELLY, will offer Masses for Bob, Joe, and Phil. Thank you, Father!

We extend our deepest sympathy to NORM DUKE, whose wife, Pat, died suddenly May 21. As many of you will remember, Norm brought his wife and little daughter with him to our 35th Reunion in '68. His present address is 1340 Oxford Road, Maitland, Fla. 32751. Before his unexpected loss, Norm had been on the campus as a member of the alumni senate. He met MAURIE DeWALD from Fort Wayne and his son, MAURICE DeWALD JR., an alumni senator from San Jose, Calif. Norm says he is trying to pick up the loose pieces and plan for the future without Pat. As you attend the football games this fall, please keep me informed as to the classmates you may see. From the address changes, I see that MARTY MORAN has moved to Oklahoma—the team can't be that bad, Marty. My home phone is (215) 446-5672. My office phone is (215) 438-5200, extension 461. For you government people my FTS phone is (215) 438-5461.

'34 CHICAGO

I drove my son, Ed Jr., to ND on June 14 for the summer sports program. This session will last for two weeks. Ed enjoyed his two weeks on the campus last year and wanted to return again this year. Attendance tripled over the number of boys who attended last year. Talked to BOB CAHILL and he informed me that he was returning to work on June 17. Bob had a mild heart attack on May 25. VINCENT J. REISHMAN passed away on May 12. I remember the phone call we put through to Vince during our reunion last year. I was certainly sorry to receive the sad news of his death. Only two changes of address since our last report. JOHN JOSEPH HENRY moved to 4329 Lawrence Street, Alexandria, Va. 22309. PAUL ANTHONY MANOSKI can now be reached at R. No. 9, Huntington, Ind. 46750. ### '35 THE RECORD BREAKERS

Another ALUMNUS deadline requires me to write this column only two days after the big reunion weekend, so it will be a condensed report of one of the most successful in 35 years. It was made so primarily by the return of 119 '35ers (per my records). This is just short of 30 per cent of living graduates and should come pretty close to establishing a record for all classes. A few of the fellows arrived on Wednesday and by Thursday afternoon there were 18 registered, as compared to the usual average of five at past reunions. Our terrific chairman, JIM McCRALEY and his super-terrific wife, Phyl, did some fast planning and had all of them at their home for a cocktail party, along with the South Bend committee members and their wives. A welcome innovation this time was the appearance of several wives, so the patient and understanding wives of the committee quickly organized and entertained them Friday noon and Saturday night. Understand they had a ball, and unanimously decided to organize for a concerted effort to get the gals back in 1975. They even came up with a corny but catchy slogan: "Come forty, we oughta"—Ugh! After considerable coaxing ANDY MAFFEI agreed to serve as toastmaster for the class dinner and did a masterful job. He steered the election of class officers during the dinner very adroitly, and with perfect timing—just as the fellows had polished off a bottle of wine, after cocktails a half hour earlier on the 50-yard line in the stadium, and were ready for their first bite of succulent steak. I always thought Andy had the makings of a politician!

Your officers for the ensuing five years: ED VanHUISSELING, president; ED SMITH, treasurer; BILL RYAN, secretary. Area vice presidents: JOE CONLON, East; CAMILLE GRAVEL, South; SID PETTINGILL, Southeast; JIM JENNINGS, Southwest; PHIL PURCELL, Rocky Mountains; GEORGE MELINKOVICH, Pacific; BOB SHANAHAN, Midwest; VINCENT HOGAN, VP at Large.

All of them attended the reunion, and we were particularly happy to see Bob Shanahan. As related in a previous column, Bob is blind, but that didn't stop him from coming. Neither did a broken leg suffered by ED CULLEN, which occurred the Monday before the reunion, keep him from coming. We were pleased to have Professors Lee Flatley and Rufus Rauch with us as our guests. Both of them spoke at the class dinner, as well as Moose Krause. In the next issue I will expand further on the festivities, and relate information picked up at the "bull sessions" about some of the returnees. It would be a big help to me if the reunionites who didn't give us a note about themselves at the desk in the Rock would send me a short note about themselves to help keep this column going. As noted, my resignation in the previous issue didn't "take." On behalf of the committee, our profound thanks to all who returned. Jim McCraley was positive we would have over a hundred, and he sure was right. Also, to the many who offered to "bail us out" if we went into the red, sincere thanks. It won't be necessary because we made it.

From the Alumni Office we learned that ED LeJEUNE died on April 19, 1970, in Glenview, Ill. Ed's two sons graduated from ND. JIM MacDEVITT sent me a note just prior to the reunion with a newspaper clipping announcing the sudden death of BILL SCHRODER. He passed away on May 26 of a heart attack in Atlanta. Bill leaves his wife, two sons and two daughters. I also received a note from GEORGE KRUG too late for the previous issue stating that BOB ALBERT died in December, 1968, and Martin Hendele died in the summer of 1969. We extend the sincere sympathy of the class to their families.

'37 WHERE ARE THE REGULARS?

I'm hopeful that on vacation you will write to the secretary. TOM HIGGINS starts off beating the drums for Missouri as soon as they appear on our schedule and he has a real interest there now that his daughter is a grad in special education. Also from Kansas City, EDDIE REARDON will have a big season at the U. of Iowa this fall with two sons Kerry and Jerry playing varsity. Kerry was the top pass catcher for Iowa last season and did most of the punting, averaging 36.9 yds. Ara could have used him. VINCE MCCOLA is the director of the Office for Aid to Nonpublic Education in Penna., and this is the first state to set up same. VINCE has a son at ND. Foreign correspondent is DON HENNESSY living in Ontario for 14 years, now secretary-treasurer of Wahl Clipper Corp. of Canada, family of seven and DON visits the U quite often. Lawyer ED NEAHER has been named attorney for NY Eastern Dist. by Pres. Nixon. ED was a member of the big firm in NYC: Chadbourne, Darke, etc. Report has J. F. FRONING, Kennett Sq., Pa., sending all his clan back to ND and St. Mary's for education. JUDGE JOHN MARBACH made the Westchester City news and also NY Daily News on rendering of a legal opinion. BOB WILKE, the old halfback and fine golfer, has undergone some surgery and could use a few extras from the class. Note from the office shows that LOU PURCELL is still in California and setting up for a good class reunion. Also from Cal. we find GENE LING now in Santa Monica. DICK DICE passed away in March, please remember him in your prayers. Try to write, times are tough, the secretary hasn't heard from the regulars, GILLESPIE, SCHWARTZ, SHEEDY, NIENABER or SIEGFRIED in a long time. I keep in touch with CLAEYS and KARL KING since No. 1 son is still able to remain in Zahm Hall. Would you believe wall-to-wall carpeting in the corridors?

'38 WIN SOME, LOSE SOME

It must have been quite a celebration—Father ADRIAN "JOE" RACE's 25th anniversary of ordination at St. Stephen's in Milwaukee on June 7th, because I haven't heard from anyone yet concerning the details. A nephew's graduation kept me from attending.

Incidentally, besides my son Matt, we had five nieces and nephews graduating from high school this spring, probably some sort of record—mentioned to provoke comment from you lads as I've had only one letter for this issue. It was a first, however, from JOE CALLAHAN from 32 Manfield St., Merrick, L.I. 11566 who is planning a trip across country in July with wife Mary and 14-year-old son, David, to visit the log chapel where they were married by Fr. Frank Cavanaugh in '49, and various classmates along the way. Joe hopes to get as far west as California to visit his old roomie, "BUNNY" MCCORMICK. We've invited him to stay and visit with us and other South Benders. Joe is still coaching high school football and teaching history and government, which he has been doing since WW II in Georgia, Florida, Connecticut and now in Long Island.

Visited with JOE KUCHARICH when he was here for the funeral of his mother. Joe is in charge of developing new franchises for the NFL, and looked trim enough to go out for one of the teams. At the annual monogram golf tourney TOM JORDAN won low net, which must have been correct because he had such outstanding accountants as LEN SKOGLUND, TOMMY WUKOVITS and ANDY PUPLIS auditing the score. (One added, another subtracted and the third divided according to JOE ZWERS.) Low calorie scores at the banquet were turned in by CHUCK SWEENEY, JOHN MURPHY, DON FISHER, but not by me.

A few classmates have moved per Alumni Office. CLARK REYNOLDS to 95 Laurel Hill Rd., Mountain Lakes, N.J.; JOHN HEAD from Plainfield to P.O. Box 130, Rockville, Ind.; DICK GERMANN to 14 Greenmount Blvd., Dayton, Ohio; JOHN FOLEY to 4392 Chateau De Ville Dr., St. Louis, Mo.; HANK MACKIN to 804 So. Greenwood, Kankakee, Ill.; STAN MACDUFF to Box 427, Daytona Beach, Fla.; DAN COCHRAN to 1330 Lincoln, San Rafael, Cal.; DICK MOLLER to Rogers Lane, Ramsenburg, N.Y.; DON SMITH to Rt. 1, Cambridge, Wisc. I too was moved from the legislature by the voters in the recent primary when I lost my bid for the State Senate by less than 200 votes. My son PAT, class of '66, however, won nomination for my House seat. Before the generation gap (!) is bridged, however, Helene and I will attend the National Legislative Leaders convention in Salt Lake City the last week of August—in case any of you want to invite us to drop in on the way! In the meantime, don't be afraid to write—I'll have more time to decipher, embellish, enhance, etc., your missives if need be.

'39 "BIG E"

Is hereby awarded to DAVE MESKILL, JIM MOTSCHALL and J. R. "PAT" GORMAN. Dave writes "pretty well involved with four in college. Katie at Northwestern for her master's in teaching, Patty, a freshman and Susan, a junior at Illinois. Tim will finish his master's in transportation at Michigan State this summer and thence two years of Army duty. Have seen PAUL RICE a couple of times. JULIE TONSMEIRE has gone to Arizona with wife Betty (for her health). JOE SULLIVAN called from Littleton, Mass., requesting Adelaide to file her annual report on apples (Note: He reputedly produces the finest apples since Adolph of the old fieldhouse—any samples, Joe?)."

Sincerest congratulations to class prexy JIM MOTSCHALL upon his "Man of the Year" award by the Detroit Club at its UND night. Not mentioned was his thoughtful remembrance of the colorful brochures covering the 25th and 30th class reunions to all of us. Ditto to PAT GORMAN, honored for many years of dedication by the Washington, D.C. Club as its "Man of the Year." A talented gentleman with an ever present smile. We extend a sincere apology to the families of FRANCIS E. POWERS and JOHN F. JAEGER for the delay in expressing their classmates' sympathy and condolences upon the loss of husband and father and to TED '39 and AL '41 FRERICKS upon the death of their father. From the Alumni Office we learn that TOM KALMAN, state senator from Uniontown, Pa. since 1956 is off and running again. 30 'til '74 . . . unless someone comes forth. Who will win the "Big E" next? Special recognition will be a highlight of our next reunion. Promises, promises, alas and alack.

'40 MEN OF '40

Reunion on the Notre Dame campus, especially when the men of '40 are involved, is an experience which challenges any reporter to capture with mere words. Before relating any specific incidents let me mention the atmosphere of loyalty, camaraderie, nostalgia and sincere friendship which enveloped all present. Although the campus has expanded and new buildings are all around, the security and peace of mind connected with the old surroundings remains for everyone who turns to Our Good Lord and Our Lady of Notre Dame. It is a sensation which is common to all when returning to this campus.

The ears of you who were unable to attend must have been ringing loud and long because as we were enjoying each other's company the most common phrase was either, "Where is ??????" or, "Wonder why . . . didn't make it this year?" Without question there was as much conversation about our missing classmates and friends as there was about those present. The turnout was good (could have been better) and the ALUMNUS staff has promised to list all registrants so it is not necessary to rely on my "accurate" records.

Probably the most disappointed man of '40 was JOHN "Mac" McINTYRE. He had been planning on this reunion longer than the committee, and CLIFF LETCHER explained that John was suddenly involved in special work at the very last moment, could not get away and was miserable. Others who forwarded advance registration, intended coming, but just couldn't make it, included: JOE ARMSTRONG, WALT FLEMING, BILL GEIS, JOHN HENEERY, TOM LISTON, COLEMAN J. O'NEILL and BILL SMALL. Four classmates knew

Congrats

DONALD C. TIEDMAN '41 of Scarsdale, N.Y., has been promoted to associate general counsel of the New York Life Insurance Co. He has been with the firm since 1949 and is the father of four children.

LYNDSAY R. deMANBEY '44 has been appointed secretary in the commercial lines, special accounts marketing, of the casualty-property department at the Travelers Insurance Companies in Hartford, Conn.

CONALL J. KINGREY '49 has been named vice president and western zone manager of the Modern America Companies in Dallas. Formerly vice president and regional manager of a five-state sales territory, Kingrey joined the financial planning organization in 1964.

JOSEPH P. HALLER '49 has been promoted to vice president of sales for the Stran-Steel Corp., a Houston-based manufacturer of pre-engineered steel buildings. He joined the company in 1959 and has served in various capacities until his promotion.

GEORGE J. CHOPP '51 has been appointed assistant director of labor relations for General Dynamics Corp. in New York. In his new position he will be responsible for various labor relations activities for the parent company and its divisions and subsidiaries.

RICHARD J. WOLLENSAK '52 has been named manager of Itek Corporation's newly created project department within the Optical Systems Division in Lexington, Mass. After joining the firm in 1965 he last served as manager of the optics engineering department.

they would be unable to attend but forwarded a donation to help with the refreshments and general needs of the class. Thanks for a very good time to GENE BICHON, TOM BRENNAN, Rev. PAUL HACKMAN and WAYNE WAHL.

Once again our class was well represented at the Monogram Club banquet on Thursday evening. As usual JOHN KELLEHER was the first arrival for the weekend. BOB LAWRENCE came from Japan for the festivities accompanied by his handsome son, Bruce. CHUCK SWEENEY '38 was around taking care of JOE THESING, STEVE COUGHLIN and CHET SULLIVAN. Two of our athletes, FRANK BOODIE ALBERT and TOM O'REILLY, made the 30th as their first reunion. This was also the first for LEO FACTEAU and JAMES PENROSE.

The huge pink elephant was the largest single item on campus, indicating that the class of '40 does everything in a big way. It was in position in front of Keenan Hall early Friday and the "MEN OF '40" banner spread across the elephant served as a guiding path between the refreshment tent and the hall both night and day. Frank Steffaniak, father of DICK STEFFANIAK who served as chairman of our 25th, was our most honored guest at the class dinner. CHET GRANT was with us and recalled many interesting experiences. It is only proper that I repeat the wholehearted appreciation of all present to the local committee which once again did an outstanding job for the reunion that was greater than the last. DICK BURKE, JIM DELAHANTY, JOHN (Doc) CURRAN and yours truly really enjoyed the opportunity to work on this reunion.

JIM DONOGHUE filled in for outgoing president JACK HENEERY and finalized the election of the following officers: DICK BURKE, chairman and treasurer, JIM DELAHANTY, president, BOB SANFORD, secretary, and JOE CUMMINGS, HYMIE CRANE, AL KESSING, GERRY DONOVAN and DON GILLILAND, regional vice presidents. There is so much more I want to tell you about reunion and our class, but we do have space limitations these days. In the future issues I will continue with "reunion reminiscing" until 1975. Please remember the father of HANK ROGERS in your prayers. I wish I could have done something to help Henry get away from reunion when he received the news, but we know this is the will of God.

Please take special note of my new address at the close of the column. Kay and I have moved to Dayton where I will be teaching at the University of Dayton in the fall. Keep your promises and send all those news items you neglected to send in the past. It was a great 30th, the 35th will be greater.

'43 BACK ON CAMPUS

Your secretary visited the campus on graduation weekend to return No. 1 sophomore-to-be son, Mike, home after his participation in the ND Glee Club's commencement concert and singing at the Baccalaureate Mass in the Athletic and Convocation Center. "Dean" Peditke who directed the glee club in our student days has completed his 32nd successful year as director. No. 2 son, Pat, will also be at ND, come September. The Kaisers would appreciate hearing from any sons or daughters of '43ers who will be at ND or St. Mary's.

I visited with the JACK WIETHOFFS, JOE KEENANS, and BILL MIDDEN-DORFS who were on campus for their sons' graduation. Bill has just been elected to the ND Alumni Senate by the ND Washington, D.C. Club. Also chatted with the JACK GRIFFINS who were there for the graduation of their son-in-law. The Alumni Office reports that Nashville, Tenn., business man, KENNETH B. SCHOEN, a partner in the investment firm of J. C. Bradford & Co. has been named to Who's Who in American Politics.

'44 GET OFF YOUR DUFFS!

Fifteen months ago the Class of '44 held its 25th Silver Jubilee Reunion. Everyone there agreed it was great. Many who were unable to attend have commented on how they wished they could have been present. All that is history. The present and the future are what is important. There were approximately 600 members of the class of '44. Time has taken its toll so today perhaps 500 are living. In comparison with the classes of recent years, the number seems small. Yet, there should be enough interested members who occasionally would contribute news items for this column. During the past two months two individuals were thoughtful enough to drop notes. To them, a sincere thank you! The percentage of participation is lousy, downright terrible. Get off your duffs! A year ago good criticism of the column was made to your secretary. Most frequently the comments were about his complaining in the column on the poor cooperation of fellow classmates in sending news. For eight issues that subject has been eliminated but there were times when it was most difficult to prepare the column. In the future either there is help from fellow classmates or the Class of '44 column will appear blank. Take your pick! It's your decision. Enough said!

Congratulations are in order for two old but young men. GEORGE BARISCILLO is the proud father of a new daughter while VINCE DUNCAN is the beaming sire of twin daughters. There still is spark in '44ers. New Hampshire's gift to ND—JOE GALL—was on campus recently and sent a card. Earlier in the year he vacationed in Puerto Rico and regretted he missed seeing BILL WALDRON who was there at the same time. TONY "Boom Boom" BILLOTTI, Queens Village, N.Y., wrote that his new nephew Steve Tony McNulty will be the MIKE MCCOY of the Class of '91. From the picture he sent of the kid, it seems like a good prediction. Tony hears from JOE McMANUS occasionally and reported that all is well with the latter who lives in Charleston, S.C.

'45 ONE IN A MILLION

The 25th was a tremendous success—all of us had a great time reminiscing, socializing, bragging a little, touring the campus, checking over the new High Rises, the Athletic and Convocation Center, the University Club and visiting the refurbished Sacred Heart Church. The boys made the daily trips to the Grotto. The committee under the chairmanship of HARRY WALTERS and local help from BILL KLEM, DON CLAEYS and TOM BERGIN did a tremendous job and our sincere thanks for a job well done. One of the highlights of the weekend was the class dinner and cocktail hour at Tom Bergin's Continuing Education Center, where we had the opportunity to visit with many of the profs we had in our time and are still on the staff or are in the South Bend area. Another highlight was the 25th Anniversary Luncheon at which time BUD GOTTA presented Fr. Hesburgh the class bequest of over a million dollars—a GREAT JOB. It was a real pleasure to have Fr. Hesburgh with us at lunch and we're sorry that his stay with us was cut short because of the funeral of Msgr. McGrath, St. Mary's President.

Bill Klem, on behalf of the retiring officers, expressed his thanks for the cooperation given to them over the past five years and wishes the new officers success in the years to come. The new Officers are: president, HARRY WALTERS; vice presidents, East—JOHN CARON; Midwest—BERNARD GOTTA, Far-West—JOHN BROZO, South—GERARD J. O'BRIEN; treasurer, JIM DUGAN; secretary—AL LESMEZ. As I finish my tour as secretary, many thanks for everything.

'46 BROTHER'S BEAT

A very pleasing letter was received from BRO. EDUARDO MICHALIK, CSC informing me that he is currently teaching at St. Augustine Training College in Bogosa, Ghana. Prior to this Brother devoted a great deal of time and effort teaching at various Catholic Schools in the U.S. as well as putting in a stint at St. John's, Sekondi, Ghana, West Africa. He hopes to revisit the U.S. this summer and also extends his best wishes to the Class of '46. For TOM BURNS' information—at a recent fund raising reception I had the pleasure of meeting the HON. MANUEL LUJAN JR., Congressman from Tom's voting district in New Mexico. He certainly filled me in about many of Tom's extracurricular activities.

Hope to have more next time!

'48 SCRIBE RETURNS

Your scribe has missed the last couple of issues not so much for the lack of news but from other assorted reasons that have kept me from making publication deadlines. We have received a number of newsy items via the Alumni Office which seems to be our best source of information as to what is happening with fellow classmates.

After making the long haul back and forth from Miami to Fort Lauderdale, BILL HUNTLEY has moved back to the Miami office of Goodbody and Company. Bill has four children with his oldest daughter in college at Palm Beach Atlantic and his youngest son is in the second grade. LEN HART went to the Cotton Bowl and spent some time with JIM McCONN and says he was looking for me there too. Unfortunately I did not have the "cotton" to make the trip. ANDY STEFFEN is now VP of Public Affairs for the Indiana Bell Telephone Company. BILL WEILER has been appointed Asst. VP of Marsh & McLennan insurance brokers. PAUL COREY has been named Catholic Man of the Year by the Greater Cleveland chapter of the Knights of Columbus. He is also clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Cuyahoga County. DAN HUNTOON has been appointed president of Grand Rent-A-Car Corp. operators of the Avis licensee operations in Southern California and Las Vegas. JOHN HOUSTON has been elected resident VP of The Industrial Indemnity Co. at Pasadena, California. He has spent his entire insurance career with the company. A long letter from TOM HIGGINS tells of seeing many classmates in the Miami area and also that GEORGE KENNARD is still the able president of the ND Miami Club. Attending the Navy-Miami game in Miami was TOM BROGAN of Green Bay who is a public relations man for the lumber industry out that-a-way. Tom tried to cruise to the Bahamas but his boat went aground for five days which wouldn't happen on Lake Michigan. LOU SINGER's oldest son is a freshman at ND and DAN BARLOW also has a son out there. I am told that Dan and his wife now have 14 children which is somewhat of a class record with JOE FLOOD reportedly with 13 running in second position. Joe is hockey coach at St. Thomas College in Minnesota. On behalf of the class, condolences are extended to: AL SOMMER on the death of his father; PAUL SCHIRMAYER on the death of his son, Mark, a junior at ND, who was killed in an auto accident in May; JOHN McSHANE on the death of his mother; the family of DR. BILL WELCH; JOHN BRUNKE on the death of his father. BERNIE POPHAM, M.D. is President of the Medical Staff at St. Joseph Infirmary in Louisville and president-elect of the Louisville Society of Internists. GEORGE SCHNURLE is controller at the First Federal S&L Assoc. in Michigan City. His oldest daughter is a senior at George Washington U. and his oldest son is a freshman at Stanford and there are three more at home. CORNIE STYERS heads up computer design applications for Air Traffic Control Navigation Computers at Collins Radio, Cedar Rapids, Ia. LARRY RYAN is now in Edina, Minn., via Orange, Calif.; REV. CHARLES SCHLECK is on the move again and is now at the College of Our Lady of Mercy, Burlington, N.J.; NORM RUSCH has moved from Hillsdale, N.J. to Houston, Texas; BROTHER RAPHAEL WILSON CSC who was director of Admissions and non-admissions at ND for many years, is now at Universitat Ulm, Abteilung fur Klinische Microbiologie, 79 Ulm (Donau) Parkstrasse 10/11, Deutschland, which is a mouthful no matter how you say it. This is it for now. For the next issue we can look forward to a lot of change of addresses not included in this column. Let's hear from you.

'49 SOME EXPOSURE

Last month I threatened to expose certain class members who dared to be different—a special few who wrote to this corner with a bit of news data. The blessed "guilty" are these: FRANK SCHULTZ sent a fine letter saying that he recently joined the management advisory services of Price Waterhouse & Co. in NYC as a management consultant after spending six years in marketing management positions with General Foods. A recent assignment for the American Bank Note Co. found him working with JOE WHITE, who is asst. mgr. of security sales for American Bank Note. Frank mentions crossing paths with Joe in Pensacola, Fla. several years after graduation when Joe was in training to become a Naval aviator. He stayed with flying, as a "weekend warrior" and is now in charge of a squadron of multi-engine aircraft P2-V's. Joe still enjoys bachelorhood, though his position is weakening. Frank also tells of seeing JOHN CAEMMERER frequently. We in New York State know what an excellent job he is doing in the State Legislature, (evidenced by his re-election) and as Nassau County Republican Leader.

On May 27 the Rochester, N.Y. credit bureau sent us a news letter referring to one of John's projects in this fashion—The Caemmerer bill to regulate credit bureaus which is looked upon as a model piece of legislation, will become effective on Nov. 1, 1970. After two years of exhaustive study, hearings, reviews etc., Gov. Rockefeller was present to congratulate Senator Caemmerer at the signing of the measure. From the opposite side of the country came a most welcome note from WALT YOUNGER who is on the prime management team for the Federal Housing Administration in Helena, Mont. A proud June for the Youngers—all eleven of them—as son Jim, graduated from ND in June and another son, Tom, transfers to ND in Sept. Mike is a frosh engineer at Carroll College in Helena, two girls are in high school and four more sons are in the grades. Sounds like a severe attack of tuitionitis. JIM McLAUGHLIN sent me a memo noting that he has been elected the first president of the newly-created Marian High School Board of Education. And to fill his evening hours even more, he tells he has also been made Secretary-Treasurer of the Newspaper Personnel Relations Assoc. of the South Bend District. BILL BREEN wrote me from the colorful address of 209 Mockingbird Rd., Nashville, Tenn. to say that he has a weighty assignment facing him—"My three boys (8-25) have already decided to attend ND if daddy can afford it!" Many members in that club. WALTER MARUT took time out to inform us that he is a sales engineer with Plasticrete Corp. of Hamden, Conn. and that he & his wife have five children. The eldest, Michael, just completed his first year at ND. Walt expects to visit the campus in September—doesn't know which game as yet. A brief note (and that's all it takes, men) from GENE BARTLEY mentioning that he and Laurene were guests of ED BALLS '52 for the Cotton Bowl game. Gene is branch mgr. for Burroughs Corp. in Lexington, Ky.

The final note for this column concerns LEONARD DENTE who typed out a "quickie" to say that for the last five years he has been an asst. professor at Western Connecticut State College, and is currently developing a complete new economics program (might send a copy to Washington, Len). Len and Mary just celebrated 20 years of peaceful coexistence (you might tell Washington about that, also!). I must ready another column, in fact, two columns before the summer runs its course. And I'm out of material; please help keep 1949 in print. Meantime—have a cool, enjoyable summer.

'50 SILVER LINING AHEAD

We had a wonderful 20th reunion on campus, with the largest turnout of any class, June 12-14. I wish to thank FRANK KELLY, TOM KIRSCHNER, DAN OSBERGER, GENE CAMPANALE and GENE PASZKIET for their help, as well as

Congrats

DAVID G. BUDINGER '52 has been appointed assistant manager of sales in U.S. Steel's Detroit district. He moves to the post after serving as assistant to the manager of sales in Boston. He joined the firm in 1952 and held several sales posts prior to his promotion.

A. MICHAEL TURCO '53 has been appointed vice president of marketing for Uni-Tech Chemical, affiliated with the Bristol-Meyers Company. He joined the Los Angeles-based firm in 1966 and also holds the position of national sales manager.

WALTER J. GILL '56 has been appointed vice president of the engineering and development division of Advanced Information Systems, Inc. of Palo Alto, Calif. He was formerly a department manager at Philco-Ford and has more than 14 years of experience in communication equipment design.

THOMAS A. MELFE '53 has been promoted to senior vice president of the U.S. Trust Company of New York. He joined the firm in 1960 and is the co-author of a book entitled Life Insurance and Estate Planning.

JAMES K. DEGNAN '56 has been appointed vice president of the U.S. Trust Company of New York. He earned an MBA at New York U. and prior to joining U.S. Trust was with the firm of Salmon Brothers and Hutzler.

RICHARD L. SINNOTT '58 has been named deputy assistant secretary for policy coordination in the U.S. Department of Commerce. He will be an adviser to the head of the Economic Development Admin. and direct programs applying EDA experience to operations of other agencies. Before joining the Government in April 1969, he was VP and director of marketing for Beverly Bank, Chicago.

all the returning classmates, for making this the best reunion yet, with plenty of hospitality, food, refreshments and reminiscences. FR. BOB GRAY of Louisville, celebrated Mass Saturday night after the banquet in Zahn Hall, and Father Pat Mahoney, CSC, celebrated Mass that morning, our Class Mass. People talk about Arnie's Army and Ara's Army, but I am convinced that the returning members of the Class of '50 are not only fine men but are also staunch members of Christ's Army. I never realized so many of us were in agreement on student life on campus being implemented with some solid rules and regulations concerning parietal hours, lights-out, campus hours and beverages. Some with sons at ND this fall will be: BOB SCHLOSSER, BILL O'CONNELL, ED FOLEY, CHARLIE NEFF, LEON HART (671-295; 651-225), HARVEY NEDEAU and myself; some with daughters at S.M.C.: DAN OSBERGER and ARMAND D'AGOSTINO.

Friday night we had a great time with a cocktail hour, music, ROLAND KELLY as MC, prizes (BOB LALLY won over 100 boxes of cereal to last his family a couple of days); BILL WIGHTKIN has developed into a second ZIGGY ZAROBSKI at the microphone. LEON HART was elected second VP of the Monogram Club, a real honor for us.

FRED FRIEND and JOE FALLON won golf prizes. The weather was perfect. Fr. Hesburgh spoke of the principles, aims and path of the University. Ara Par-seghian spoke of the need for discipline among students, just as is needed on a football team. (It looks like a good team and a good reorganized coaching staff for the fall with the hope of a bowl game by everyone.) As explained at the reunion, we asked everyone to send in $25.00 to FRANK KELLY payable to "Class of 1950," and we will put it in our savings account to accumulate interest now for our Silver Anniversary special program. Do it before you forget it, please.

Please give me some information for the column—DICK LEOS took the first step toward this aim at the reunion—he promised. I hope the rest of you will sit down and jot me a page or so on what's cooking with you, your family and your life. We'll print who was at the reunion shortly. Meanwhile, God bless all of you.

'51 NOMINATIONS PLEASE!

Sorry to report that Bryan Brice, father of FRED BRICE, died early in June. He is survived by Fred and his mother. Fred can be contacted at St. Rose of Lima Parish at 418 NE 105th, Miami Shores, Florida 33138. Our condolences and we hope to see Fred—saying the class Mass—in June of '71. JACK BECKER forwarded a nomination for class president next June. He recalled that BILL WHITESIDE was in the running as an undergraduate and should make a good president. Bill has done favors for at least two people I know of in our area, and he has also been active in many church and ND causes in the Philadelphia area. Let's hear any seconds, or other nominations.

JACK BECKER is currently in disfavor in the poker club as he is the one who shoots as low as 42 in our summer golf meetings. The rest of us are up there a little higher but everyone plans to sharpen up before our twentieth-year reunion. JOCKO MULDOON reports that TOM CARROLL was visiting last week and he will also make every effort to be on hand next summer. JACK DUFFY married the former Barbara Trilla and they have four children: John, Janice, Terry (boy-type) and Barb. Jack is president of the J. J. Duffy Floral Co., Chicago. Another president is CHARLES MURPHY—C. F. Murphy Associates, Architects. Presently he holds the Illinois State Squash Racquets Championships for both singles and doubles, and has recently been elected a trustee of the Field Museum of Natural History.

LARRY GALLAGHER, who lives in Highland, Ind., was recently promoted from general foreman to management in the Product Improvement Division at Inland Steel (Indiana Harbor Works). Another promotion is that of JOHN ROHRBACH. You may recall John started here in advertising in our area, and is now general manager of KYW-TV, the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. outlet in Philadelphia. Congratulations, John.

Check this issue and see how many reunion classes elect new officers. Then send in your own comments or nominations or both—particularly for a new secretary.

'52 A FIRST FOR '52

So you think you're not getting old. Well, Mrs. Susan D. Fannon writes from Alexandria, Va. that Thomas J. Fannon Jr., son of T. J. FANNON SR., will be enrolling at ND in the fall. It looks like he's the first son of a '52er to start at ND as far as my information goes. T. J. has been offered a Ford merit scholarship to the University. He graduated from Ascension Academy where he was student council president, class president, and a member of the basketball team for four years. We all wish him good luck in his new undertaking. Incidentally, JACK MUELLER, our beloved classmate, is his Godfather. JOHN P. MORAN has been named field sales manager for the Devco Paint Division of Celanese Coatings Company. He will be headquartered in Louisville, Ky. JOSEPH STENGELE, vice president of the Joliet Warehouse and Transfer Co., was elected president of the Illinois Movers and Warehousemen's Association at the annual business meeting in Peoria, Ill. He lives at 1005 Western Ave., Joliet, Ill., with his wife and seven children. JOSEPH MORIARTY, in his pursuit of higher education, has been promoted to assistant principal at Jefferson School in South Bend. Joe has his picture in the paper as regularly as some of our political candidates. Maybe that's the next career he will pursue after he has solved the problems in the educational field. We are attempting to organize a class reunion after the Army-ND game on Oct. 23. We hope to gather together somewhere on campus and bend a few elbows and enjoy a little conversation. If you're at the game, pay attention to the half-time announcements which will direct you to our meeting place, hopefully somewhere at the Morris Inn.

'53 SOGGY BREAD

The bread cast upon the waters requesting information is commencing to do whatever it is wet bread is supposed to do. The cards, letters and telephone calls have produced splendid help from JIM GIBBONS, JERRY O'CONNER, ED MCCARTHY and AL KOHANOWICH. If the response continues, that threatening supplemental mailing will become a reality in early fall. AL KOHANOWICH is a Lt. Col. in the Marines and took over a copter squadron in Okinawa. Writes that it is his third overseas tour and also saw "TEX" McMONAGLE at Pendleton as "Tex" was on his way to Vietnam. Give us the word, "Tex." TOM SEAMAN sold $2 million of Mass. Mutual's insurance last year, and I understand he has a houseful of kids. JOHN LUX reports he is again in Chicago (Glen Ellyn) selling newspaper to publishers in the Midwest. He and his family of three children recently returning from California.

Faithful JIM GIBBONS reports that: HARRY DURKIN is practicing law in Livingston, N.J. and moonlighting by running a bar and catering service. Keep swinging, Harry. GEARY BECKER is on Wall Street with Dean Witter, has six children. AL DeCRANE JR. is asst. to the board chairman of Texaco in New York. Say, Al, whatever happened to that rock-busting JACK "BEAR" SULLIK? He was with your organization . . . JOHN ELSON is senior editor of Time. JIM BLACKBURN is office services mgr. for Hoerner Waldorf in Chicago. His eldest of eight children will be at St. Mary's next fall as a freshman. No more openings at Studebaker, "Blackie." PAT "MOOSE" MONTROY is president of the Notre Dame Club of Chicago, which along with Mayor Daley's job is one of the most powerful in the Middle West. JACK MANIX works for Max Factor and lives with his wife and three kids in Seal Beach, Calif. BILL KELLY is running the family asphalt and blacktop business in Terre Haute, Ind., has three boys and one girl. JOHN SELICK has his MA in law and specializes in estate planning in Peekskill, N.Y. HOWIE SCRIBNER is still running the Chase Manhattan Bank in NYC, while JOHN PORTA is with the First National Bank of N.Y. DICK O'LEARY is a periodontist in Cos Cob, Conn. JIM REID is selling real estate in Haworth, N.J. B. ALFORD WOOD is practicing law in Clewiston, Fla. and has been since receiving his degree from Stetson U. DAN MARSALEK is a dentist in Bay Village, Ohio and recently married Jan Alice Voeker. DON "DORSCH" DORINI reports that he saw JIM CELANO in the lobby of the Hotel George V in Paris while both were on ski weekends, Swiss style. (If I get to Niles, it is a big weekend for me . . .). He also reports that at the ND-Tulane game of last October he saw the ghost from Greeley, Col., LARRY EATON, as well as BOB "RED" MULLEN from Tampa, Fla. He indicated that BILL and Jane Ann MAUS would be swinging by this way in a house-bus that he and Bill bought as partners a year ago. (My rate on campus tours is most reasonable.) Saw JOHN HOUCK at Mass this morning. John was recently elevated to assoc. professor at ND and also elected president of the local Mental Health Chapter. JERRY O'CONNER reports that BRIAN DUFF was nominated for the Illinois House and should be a shoo-in and will join PHIL COLLINS, who is also a Rep. He saw HARVEY LUNG in Honolulu where he is designing and engineering for Alfred Lee and Associates. FRED TADROWSKI is leaving his job with the State of Illinois highway department and going on his own in Chicago, doing appraisal work. Good luck, Fred, and thanks Jerry.

ED MCCARTHY reports all is fine and that he is going to go to Washington on vacation and hopefully see PAT DREW. He recently bought some luggage with which to carry his toothbrush, so look out Pat. CHUCK ROEMER is practicing law in South Bend. JOHN PAIRITZ is an established South Bend CPA as is GEORGE ARANOWSKI. BILL SAUM, I discovered, is selling IBM here in South Bend and lives near JOHN HOUCK. JERRY HAMMES is selling Fords and making a vast contribution of time and effort to the South Bend community. Keep the news coming. We have a lot of ground to cover. It is so much easier to struggle through this column when you good people supply the information. Since the last column was on the phys. ed. majors, how about the pre-meds? "HARPO" MARKS, JACK MADDEN, JOHN DWYER, TED GARLAND, and RALPH ARGENT, where are you? Pull out the yearbook and give me a "rundown" on all your fellow doctors, will you. . . .

'54 IT WAS PROCRASTINATION

While trying to overcome the mental inertia to get this article started, the phone rang. Good ole JOE MESEC was on the other end and provided a good excuse to "put off till tomorrow." But as usual, yesterday's tomorrow is today and Joe Mesec is on his

A bridge is born

Ed Janes with his favorite kind of people—students. Trying out the footbridge (top) and in the classroom (below).

In Philadelphia they named bridges after Walt Whitman and Benjamin Franklin. In New York, they have the George Washington Bridge. But in Joliet, Ill., there is a bridge named after Edward V. Janes, MA '56, a school principal.

It is not a very big bridge by metropolitan standards—just a small footbridge used by elementary students going to and from McKinley Park School. On a practical level, the bridge saves the students a walk of more than a mile to get to school. More importantly, however, it is a symbol of how a community can work together.

Ed returned to his home town shortly after he received his MA in school administration at ND. As a graduate student, he attended summer sessions here from 1952 to 1955.

One of his first tasks was to investigate the possibility of building a footbridge across Hickory Creek near the school. The old bridge had been washed away nine years earlier during a flood. There were problems. The biggest was that the creek served as the boundary between the city and the rural part of the township. Who would pay for the building of a new bridge became the important question.

It was not until 1964, when the Joliet Park District became involved in a Park-School project that the hope of building the bridge seemed realistic. Eventually the township agreed to pay the $27,000 cost of the structure.

That same year, Janes transferred to Parks School in Joliet as principal.

"Even though my new work in an integrated school coupled with (continued) graduate work kept me busy, I assisted groups in the McKinley Park area with continued support of the footbridge," he recalls.

The bridge finally was dedicated on Nov. 14, 1969. Soon a movement grew with all those who knew Ed to have the bridge named for him. So on Jan. 15, it was rededicated and marked with a plaque.

But it was an honor for more than his efforts to get the bridge built. One woman wrote in a letter to the editor of the Joliet Herald-News:

"Before Mr. Janes became principal, discipline in the school was deplorable. Communication between teacher and pupil was almost nil. There was very little rapport between home and school. . . . He spent many hours after school visiting in homes, discussing the school situation . . ."

Perhaps one of the finest tributes came from his old boss, the former superintendent of schools in Joliet, and now the superintendent of schools in Arlington Heights, Ill.

"Ed Janes," he wrote, "is one of those rare people who love and practice the ideals of humanity about which we all too often only talk. He really cares about people. He is never too busy to listen, never too busy to talk and above all, never too busy to care. As a principal, he helped to build a very special kind of 'feel' in the building. Faculty, students and parents alike all seem to relate to each other in especially warm and understanding ways. . . . He cares. It shows and it is contagious."

Janes has been the recipient of other honors during his career as an educator. The PTA has given him state and national life memberships; in 1963 the Royal Task Masters—a black organization—named him "Grade School Teacher of the Year" and in 1964 the League of United Latin American Citizens presented him an award "for promoting better education for the Mexican-American child through bilingual programs."

He credits his studies at Notre Dame as an influence in his choice to work in a school in a poverty area.

At Notre Dame, he observes, "One could develop an intellectual curiosity in subject matter areas and at the same time feel that simplicity and resourcefulness can permeate one's thinking outside of the classroom."

Administrators and teachers, he believes, "must list as a high priority or aim to involve parents and agencies in the community to improve not only the climate of the school, but to reevaluate the aims, goals and objectives of the school."

The Edward V. Janes footbridge is one bit of evidence that a community appreciates concern about its problems.

way home, both of us a little weary from the short reunion. Joe's living in Milwaukee and is marketing for the Merritt Co. there. He also had a visit with WALLY CASHMAN while on this tour. Ida and Eddie, I mean Ro-Ro and Bob Poden are to be congratulated on the birth of their 5th child, and 5th girl, on March 6, 1970. The CASTELLINIS, Dick and Madeline had their 7th child, also a girl on Christmas Day last. Some guys just never grow old. JOHN COYNE is president of Coyne-Kangesser Co. in Cleveland. He owns and operates 33 honor parking lots. RON SMITH was recently elected executive VP of the advertising club of Wilmington, Del. He is Director of Client Services of Di-Martin, Marona and Associates, Inc. JIM KELLEHER of Silver Spring, Md. has been appointed VP for Public Affairs of Dudley-Anderson-Yutzy Public Relations, Inc. CHARLIE COOK after teaching English to delinquent boys at the state school at Industry, New York, in these many years, was promoted to head of the department.

DOUG TALBOT has his own sales representative business in Chicago, selling plastic extrusion, injection molding and thermo forming. JOE CAMPBELL moved to Tucker Ga. in 1966 and has one child, a boy—Patrick (that's all my information had). BOB RICH was promoted to plant mgr. with Westinghouse Electric Corp. at Bellefontaine, Ohio. JOHN FALLON is heating, ventilation air conditioning engineer in the Central Engineering Dept. of Atlas Chemical Industries, Inc. JIM HAMLIN has joined G.E.'s new business development operations as an applications specialist. PAT LERNIHAN has been appointed general agent for the American United Life Ins. Co. in San Jose Calif. The Lernihans have four children. For outstanding airmanship and courage in Southeast Asia Major M. H. HACKETT has won the 1st through 10th Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal. Let's take a beer break. Doesn't it amaze you how I come up with all these informational tidbits? Rolling right along—MIKE NEVILLE of Weston Connecticut has been named TWA Mgr. of Cargo sales for the company's N.Y. region. JOE MORIARTY was elected VP of Synthane-Taylor corporation, Valley Forge, Pa. He joined Synthane in Feb. '69 after working 13 years for Spaulding Fibre Corp. Your prayers are requested for classmate GEORGE HADYKE who died Jan. 18 and also for LARRY McNALLY's mother and JIM CORCORAN's father who also passed away recently. I'm sure your prayers will be sincerely appreciated.

Well, gang, I hope you've ordered your Purdue-ND tickets and get lucky in the ticket lottery so we can all get together after the game at our Annual Reunion Party. If not, come to the party anyway. Oh, by the way, it's been almost six months since I've received a letter or card from any of you. Break down! Time's precious, but you really can't be so busy that one letter every 16 years is an impossibility.

'55 AWARDED EXPERIENCE
Our class was singularly honored at the reunion by having FATHER JOE

O'DONNELL celebrate a most stirring memorial Mass on Saturday and FATHER JIM SHERER being chosen as celebrant of the alumni Mass on Sunday.

Before leaving the CSC scene, want to mention that Jim Sherer moved on to Chicago after the reunion to baptize JOHN HARTIGAN's new offspring. Also, GEORGE ROONEY took the "Billy Graham" award for his song leading at the memorial Mass.

The Committee has met to determine the winner of the coveted reunion awards and there were several repeat winners. For instance, after a slow start, TIM DRISCOLL came through to take the "Endurance" award. Also, BERNIE McCLOREY retained his laurels as the "Ogre."

With his corset for a bad back, MAX ROESLER was a cinch for the "Maiden Form" award. Speaking of bodies beautiful, BILL KILBURG and JOE KEARNEY shared the "Least Changed Since '55" award. WALT CABRAL, who certainly would have shared that award, also was nominated for the "Entertainer" award. Walt came all the way from Hawaii with his ukulele, where he is a Lt. Col. in the Army, while DAN MOORE brought in Alaska's colors. PHELAN THOMPSON, however, took the "Long Distance" award by flying in from Australia, where he handles distribution for a power saw company. GEORGE VOSMIK took home the "Izaak Walton" award for taking the time to bring a rod, reel and two boxes of lures to the reunion. Probably knew what the food was going to be like over the weekend. That leads up to LEE CREAN's "Victor Borge" award for providing those dandy Cornish game hens Friday night. As NEAL HALLORAN pointed out, we have heftier pigeons in Chicago. DAVE METZ copped the "Avis" trophy for coming in second in the golf tournament. Wonder why his game fell off so badly Saturday. While on the sporting scene, ED "OX" FOX and ROY BELKNAP shared the "Vic Tanny Body Beautiful" award for being in better shape than they were 15 years ago. On the other hand, guys like ART SULLIVAN, JOHN CASEY, LARRY BUCKLEY, BILL MCCLAIN, and DAN BURKE shared the "Bay Window" award. MIKE WARD, showing no strain from his family of nine, won the "Jackie Gleason" honors. He's a real double and just as funny around the striped tent. Speaking of those front and center in the entertainment sweepstakes, RAY KENNEDY picked up the "Oh Calcutta" award for his blowtorch-sculptured beard and JOE DALEY the "Martha Mitchell" Emmy for continuing ad-libs over an extended weekend. Other repeat winners from previous reunions include DICK BURKE and TOM MAGILL deadlocked for the "Duke Snider" award for those most in need of a dye job for their gray locks. JOHN BENDEL did not appear to challenge JOHN WEITHERS for the "Dome" award. While PHELAN THOMPSON sported a handsome upper lip, PAT KEARNS came off with the "Terry Thomas" award for the unusual trimming of his moustache. JACK FLYNN took home the "Bill Buckley" award for his critique of the weekend, which will lead to an even better show five years hence. CHUCK DOHERTY roared home with the "Short Timer" award for taking off even before the reunion opened officially.

GEORGE SHELTON, who some felt could not keep up his former pace, picked up the "Culligan" award for most showers in one day. Something about trying to keep up and going without showing the strain. MIKE KELLY wrapped up the "Tortoise" plaque by somehow failing to get the football applications of the Chicago contingent to the ticket office by Saturday noon. LOU ZEFRAN was honored with the "Club 228" citation, but failed in his bid for the "Dixie Highway" oak leaf cluster. JERRY HUGHES got the "Curtis LeMay" award for jetting in for the weekend with his own Air Force craft, complete with navigator. TOM CAREY, now vice president of Suburban Downs sulky track in Chicago, blitzed our Navy chaplain on the handball courts to share the "Letterman" title with JUNIOR STEPHENS, who manfully braved the heat and humidity to play 36 holes of golf Friday and Saturday.

Here are a couple of non-reunion notes. JOHN WANCHOW is the proud Dad of his first son after three girls. John is a field engineer with RCA, residing at 3020 Rolling Springs Dr., Carmel, Ind. ART EGGERS has been named national ad mgr. for Boise Cascade Mobile Homes. LARRY BREHL has been appointed mgr. of communications for the Westinghouse-Electro-Mechanical Div., Cheswick, LT. COL. CHARLIE MEARS is commanding the 2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry at Ft. Carson, Col. DAVE COHEN has been appointed acting director of the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race.

'56 BEAT PURDUE

Plan to be at our class reunion in the basement of the Center for Continuing Education (across from the Morris Inn) following the Purdue game.

Our belated deepest sympathy to CHARLIE SIMPSON, whose wife died last year. DICK RUST is teaching philosophy at Ladycliffe College in Highland Falls, N.Y., which is adjacent to West Point. BERNIE KOSSE is president of the Louisville Chapter of the Tax Executives Institute. JOEL A. MESECAR is general mgr. of Crystal Ice & Fuel, Inc. of Elkhart, Ind. TONY GUIDO is a partner in the law firm of Gleason, Cherry and Guido in DuBois, Pa. ROY LUCKETT is president of the Nashville Engraving & Electrotype Co. in Nashville, Tenn. SAM GLORIOSO, with NASA in Houston, reports that BILL WERNER is at Oak Ridge Nat'l. Lab, TOM MCCLUHAN is in North Tonawanda, N.Y., CHARLIE ANTROBUS with Esso at Baton Rouge, La., and JIM RYTHIER in Chicago. Where are his other metallurgy classmates, ED WILSON and DAVE HUBER?

BILL GORHAN is supervisor, Speech and Hearing Dept., Dixon State School, Dixon, Ill. JOE DENNISTON is at Maxwell AFB, Ala. as an economics instructor at the Air U. GEORGE NKUWA is with Dura-Container, Inc. in Indianapolis, Ind. and at last report was a bachelor. PAUL NOLAND, a lawyer, was made a partner in the firm of Hachbert, Rooks, Pitts, Fullgar and Poust in Chicago. BILL SULLIVAN, also a lawyer, is on the legal staff of a chemical co. in the NYC area. PAT SNYDER is still with Cummins Engine in Columbus, Ind. and vows to return for our 1970 WIN over Purdue! There is the true ND spirit. ED JOYCE is superintendent of communications for Peoples Gas Co. of Chicago. CHET MITCHELL is director of marketing for the DuKane Corp's Communications System Div. DAVE BRUCKER is mgr. of pulp and paper section of ASEA, INC. BOB SIMKINS is in Mauldin, S. Carolina with Fiber Industries, a division of Celanese Corp. JOHN STUHLREHER is with the Nat'l Transportation Safety Board in Washington, D.C.

My wife Gretchen and I had the pleasure of spending an evening with FRANK BEYTAGH and his wife, Diane in Washington, D.C. in May. Frank will become a professor at the Law School in September. His specialty will be constitutional law. Frank gave me a full report on the Washington group—JOHN CHOMEAU is at the CIA, TOM FALCINELLI, practicing law in Silver Spring, Md., BILL JACKMAN is PR director for the Air Transportation Assn., JOHN MURRAY is with the Justice Dept., PETE CANNON is 1970 president of the ND Club, TONY CASTRINA and JIM GAMMON are practicing law and WALT ARNOLD and JIM SWIFT are also busily engaged in their respective fields in the D.C. area.

'57 REAL SPIRITS

Our hours spent at Joers have not been wasted, at least not for EMMETT (BUD) MALLOY, who was elected the VP of the Wine and Spirits Guild of America. Emmett is VP of EM Enterprises, Inc., Chicago. JOHN HAMMETT, labor relations director for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, is celebrating passing the Ohio Bar Exam this past spring. Class president JOHN McMEEL visits Cleveland periodically and spends a cocktail hour with John from time to time. NORM HEYING is president of Control Industries, Inc., a computer service firm in Kansas City. One of the hot shot sales reps for the company is EARL HOGAN. Norm is pretty proud of the business which he founded two years back. It services TWA and a division of ITT. Norm invites all who pass through Kansas City to stop by and get a deluxe tour.

STEVE O'DONNELL is living in Rockford, Ill. and is a sales rep for National Car Corp. GEORGE O'LEARY also lives there and is with the Clark Corp. JOE RINK reports receiving word from FATHER GENE BURKE who was a freshman prefect in Farley Hall in '53. Father Burke is with CSC missions in Pakistan. My wife Marilyn and I, plus the four children made our biennial pilgrimage to Washington, D.C. this past May and had the good fortune of spending a Saturday night with the BOB O'NEILS and BILL MCGUIRES. We solved and unsolved most of the world problems that night and I am sure the Wine and Spirits Guild of America would have rejoiced over the empties we left behind. BILL MCGUIRE is a division sales mgr. for Control Data out of D.C. Bill has not lost his touch on the golf course since leaving ND. JOHN BRENNAN reports the addition of new son, Daniel, born to him and Dorothy in May. That's No. four for the Brennan Clan. TOM REILY has joined the Chicago law firm of Gordan, Reicin & West. DAVE THOMPSON is covering city hall in Omaha, Neb., for the Omaha World-Herald. Remember the Class Reunion will be after the LSU game on November 21, 1970. All you guys from below the Dixie better show.

'59 JIM'S RETURN

JIM MASTERSON did make it back to the campus for our reunion last summer, but was only on campus a few hours. Upon returning to Europe, Jim and JoAnn and their daughter, Kathleen, stopped in Amsterdam to look up LOU KIGIN, who at that time was working in Rotterdam for Mobil Oil, and whose next assignment took him to Oslo, Norway for a six-week stay. After returning to Geneva, Jim was promoted to finance mgr., Caterpillar Far East Ltd., Hong Kong. If you're traveling in the San Jose area this summer, look up CARL EDMUNDSON, who has an insurance agency there, and was married in April, 1969, and JIM GARRITY, who is asst. VP and mgr. of Crocker-Citizens National Bank in Palo Alto. The Garritys now number five, with Shauna Lynn joining Jim and Andrea (and her two brothers) last summer.

TOM TRINLEY has been promoted from patent advisor to patent attorney in the Chicago office of AMOCO Chemicals Corp. (American Oil Co.), Research and Development Dept. Tom recently received his law degree from DePaul and has successfully passed both the Patent Bar Illinois Bar exams. Tom and Maureen and their five children live in the Beverly Hills suburb of Chicago. EDWARD M. COLLINS recently received his MBA from Memphis State. B. ROBERT KILL is now the executive VP and general mgr. of Switzer's Licorice C. division of Beatrice Foods, and will establish headquarters in St. Louis. Peter Paul, Inc. has named JIM HANLON (Robinson, III.) to the newly created position of director of advertising and sales promotion. This will necessitate a move to Connecticut for Jim, June and their four children. RUDY HORNISH is still involved in the theatre, and is currently studying and writing musical comedy under the tutelage of Lehman Engel. This is a scholarship which Rudy won last summer. He is still handling the TIME-LIFE books and the Save the Children Federation accounts, as his "full-time" employment.

LaVerne and ROGER LAUR are now in New Berlin, Wis. (12470 W. Burdick Court) and report the birth of their first child, Mary. DAVID M. AMIDON was transferred from Patrol Squadron 23 in Brunswick, Me. to Washington, D.C. (Naval Air Systems Command). D. H. STRAIGHT is presently teaching and coaching at Robbinsdale Senior High School, Minneapolis and received his MA from Ohio State in June, 1968. BOB WETOSKA reports that they had their third child, Matthew John, last August. MaryAnn claims that this one could be the ballplayer in the Wetoska family! JOHN UEBBING is finally reporting from Palo Alto, Calif., where he is working for Varian on III-V semiconductor photocathodes. John married Roberta Flynn in Nov., 1966, received his Ph.D. in E.E. from Stanford in June, 1967, and was presented his first child, Mary Frances, in March, 1969. SCOTT BRADSHAW is a major in the Army (Infantry) and is now attending the Foreign Service Institute in Washington for subsequent service in South Vietnam (his second tour there). Emily and four sons will remain in Tulsa, Okla. while Scott is in the Far East. NICK DEMPSEY, who is already anticipating Reunion '74, had his own reunion last fall at the Army game with WARREN ALBRIGHT, PAT GELSON, BILL McCAFFREY, TOM GILL, JOHN MADDEN, GEORGE ROSS and JIM COORSEN. JAMES V. GARGIULO is president of Paper Wholesale and Janitorial Supplies in Amsterdam, N.Y., and he and Fran have five children (Anne, Amy, Alicia, Anita and Jimmy). The Gargiulos usually make it back for a game or two every fall, and spend some time with LEON DARGIS and his wife, Sally, who live in Michigan City.

For those '59ers lucky enough to be winners in the Purdue game lottery, we hope you will save an hour or two after the game to share your analysis of the game with classmates, when we hold our annual football reunion. Beat Purdue!

'62 WESTWARD, HO!

Two very sad notes to start with. DENNIS MADDEN passed away in Manchester, Conn. Feb. 8 and DICK MORRISSEY was killed in Vietnam the latter part of last year. I know you join with me in expressing your sympathies to members of both families. Quite often someone expresses curiosity as to the whereabouts of a classmate. The Alumni Office periodically provides me with change of address information. This will be my source as I pass on to you in the next few columns just who your neighbor might be. Any information you could relay to me about guys I omit in certain areas would be appreciated.

GO WEST YOUNG MAN: Over 70 have established residence in California. The Los Angeles area has attracted a quorum. CHARLIE AUGUSTINE, AL BLAZ, DICK BRILLIOTT, CHRIS FOLEY, BRIAN O'NEILL, DAVE ROMANO, JACK WERNER, WALT OSGOOD, VIC GRABOWSKI, BILL ZIEGLER, Dr. BOB CHIAK, KEN FILETTI, TIM TAYLOR, MIKE GREELEY, MIKE WOODS, GARY HORDEMAN, LOUIS IRIBARNE, GEORGE KANE, BARRY LEONE, DICK LIPPINCOTT, BROTHER JAMES McDONNELL CSC, TED MIDDENDORF, JOHN MONTGOMERY, TOM WALSH, DAVE ONTIVERO, BEN SALVATY and HAL SCHAEFGEN. Among the residents of the San Francisco area number: BOB GALDABINI, GERRY MARTIN, DON BOVIN, JOE BRACCO, Dr. JIM "Cocky Kid" GRAYDON, BOB HOFFMAN, TOM HOGAN, MIKE JOYCE, GEORGE MITCHELL, DON PATLA, MIKE HARTNETT, DENNY BURAN, LARRY GAGGERO, PAT McMAHON, LINZIE KRAMER, BROTHER BARNABAS NAJAR and JIM MIKACICH. San Diego's two leading citizens are JOHN BRADLEY and "H" ORTHMEYER while HAROLD HOWELL and BILL WALSH live close by. At Berkeley are JOHN SHANAHAN and MIKE ZWETTLER. DAN ODOHERTY, TOM WEBER, PAUL ROBB and EZIO SANSONI apparently found the way to San Jose.

BILL CLEARY lives in Monte Sereno, JOE MARTELLA in Salinas, REX BRUMBACH and LOUIS PADBERG in Santa Barbara, JOE CAMARATA in El Segundo, ED SPORI in Arcadia, JOHN WILKINSON in Duarte. MIKE COUGHLIN is at Stanford, Dr. TOM DINA and BILL REAGAN in Monterey Park, TOM McMURRAY in Sacramento and JULIO VALERA in El Cerrito. Would you believe TERRY JONES lives in East Lebanon, Me., CRAIG VOLLMER in Mahtomedi, Minn. and KEN "Bone" ISPHORDING is a happy inhabitant of Washington Court House, Ohio.

All for now. Will head East next time. You have no doubt noticed the dearth of '62 news in the past couple of issues. I had forwarded a column and it was misplaced by the magazine staff. They have apologized to me and asked that I forward that apology to you.

'66 BACK IN THE LINEUP

I'd like to thank TOM SULLIVAN for pinch-hitting for me last month. I was really pressed for time and it was really appreciated. I'd like to reiterate what Tom said about our class reunion following the Army game on Oct. 10 in the Mohagony Room of the Morris Inn. The weather will still be nice and tickets will be relatively easy to obtain. So please try to make it to this affair which promises to be a really enjoyable time. I'd also like to remind you all that our five-year reunion is less than a year away (June 10, 11 and 12) and that long range planning should be initiated now.

I heard from ED AUSTIN recently who is located here in Chicago working with the Midwest Stock Exchange as a marketing consultant after getting an MBA from DePaul. He and his lovely wife, Kath, are the proud parents of two children, one boy and one girl. Ed visited with '66er TOM ANDERSON, in Cleveland. Tom is working in VISTA's legal program. Ed said he heard from PAUL O'BRIEN and MIKE GILMAN who are living in East Orange, N.J. Paul is working on an MBA at NYU and Mike, who is a captain in the USMC, is a recruiter working out of NYC (which isn't a very safe job lately). MIKE MALLOY and Ed have been exchanging opinions on the stock market. Mike is a registered representative with Dean Witter and Co. JOHN "J.B." McGOWAN was married on March 30 in Chestnut Hill, Pa. J.B. is a commodity broker with Laird, Bissell and Meads in Wilmington, Del. Classmates PAUL C. RIEBENACKER, TOM BEGLEY, JOHN WALTERS and COLE CLARK attended.

JOE JOHN has completed his four years in med school at Case Western Reserve and has started his internship at Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital here in Chicago. Classmate TOM DONOVAN will also be at St. Luke's as an intern. JAMES "PAT" COONEY is a law clerk in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit in Newmann, Ga., and is the happy dad of a daughter, Elena. RICHARD WENDT is an actuary for the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D.C. LARRY DWYER had a fascinating tour of the USSR from Nov. 10, 1969 to Dec. 22, 1969 with the Illini Jazz Band. He was married last August and is currently working on his Ph.D. in music education at the U. of Illinois. TOM LOFTIS was married last August to Mary Louise Hellmuth (SMC '66) and is currently at the U. of Michigan grad school. Tom spent 13 months in Vietnam as civil affairs officer north of DaNang. MARTY BRUECKER has also completed his active duty and was married in January. Marty is working with American Airlines in Dallas, Tex. JOE KING writes from Rio de Janeiro where he is working with USAID, United States Agency for International Development. He would love to hear from anyone traveling in South America. TOM RAEER was married in Evansville in December. He is a CPA and is Comptroller of Canteen Service Co. Inc. in Indianapolis. FRANK FOLEY is here in the Windy City where he is a stockbroker for Hornblower and Weeks and the father of a daughter and son. TONY ROZUM is teaching at Detroit Engineering Institute while getting a degree at Lawrence Institute of Technology. Tony also has a son and a daughter. I was deeply grieved to receive the news of the deaths of two of our classmates in May, PAUL R. BERNARD and ROBERT K. RYAN. My deepest sympathy goes out to their families and I'm sure I speak for the entire class when I say they will both be remembered in our thoughts and prayers. MIKE HANNIGAN writes from South Bend where he is working as a district sales mgr. for Wheel Horse Company. Mike was married at Sacred Heart Church in November. He currently addressed 1200 members of Junior Achievement in St. Louis. BERNARD BREHL received his MBA from the U. of Pittsburgh in 1967 and now lives in Wilmington, Del. with his wife, Virginia. Bernie is a technical representative for the Fluorocarbons Division of E. I. duPont de Nemours. LARRY HOEDEK works in the production and inventory control dept. of Wells Lamont Corporation in Niles, Ill. Larry had a daughter, Lynn Mary in February of 1969. DON OHLMEYER, JR. is associate director of ABC-TV's "Wide World of Sports," a frequent Emmy winner. Don is the proud father of a son.

I've been announcing births of classmates' children for the last four years and now it is with great pride that I announce the birth of my first child, Kimberly Ann, on April 10, 1970. Both Kimmy and my lovely wife, Carol, are doing well. I never knew a child could bring so much joy into someone's life.

Keep October 10th in mind and keep the info cards coming. I hope you're all having a great summer.

'66L NAMES AND ADDRESSES

Donna and MIKE DELFRA sent a note from Richmond, Va., that Louis Anthony was born on April 6, 1970, and weighed in at 7 lbs. 9 oz. JAY DOUGHERTY wrote that he and Monica had a son, James F. Dougherty III, on March 5th. Their other child, Elizabeth, was 3 in June. Jay is with Salley, Barns, Pajon & Immer, Suite 700 — 100 Biscayne Tower, 100 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, Fla. 33132. The POLKINGS are now settled in Charlotte, N.C., at 5921 F Quail Hollow Road, Charlotte, N.C. 28211 (Telephone: (704) 364-6479). While in Chicago on business I spent a very pleasant evening with JOHN GOTTLICK who entertained me at the Illinois Athletic Club. MIKE SULLIVAN's new address is 807 Sharon Dr., Woodstock, Ill. 60098. TOM WARD's address is 12134 Stirrup Road, Reston, Va. 22070.

BOB MURPHY has been promoted to assistant section chief of the Criminal Section of the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice. Bob's time has been heavily committed to the Kent State investigation.

'67L PICKY, PICKY

My column for the last issue was returned by the editor because he received it two days after deadline. PICKY, PICKY, PICKY.

In one of JOHN HARGROVE's recent (and frequent) letters, he mentioned he was defending a Marine charged with murder. Since then, two articles in the Long Island (N.Y.) Daily Press have filled me in on the details. The clippings were forwarded by my sister. In one, John's father was being interviewed on his feelings after learning his son had been selected to defend one of five Marines accused of murdering 16 Vietnamese civilians in the hamlet of Son Thang. Mr. Hargrove said: "I'm sure the Marine Corps would not have given him the case if they didn't have confidence. I would certainly put confidence in him." Those of us who know him would have to agree. An AP Wirephoto accompanying another article showed John, dressed in fatigues, accompanying his client to a pretrial hearing in Da Nang.

Change of Address: TOM McDONOUGH, 11025 South Hale, Chicago, Ill. 60643. Received a letter from GARY KAUP on the stationery Crist & Kaup, 1605 First Ave., Middletown, Ohio. Gary's Pat is teaching and expecting their first child in August. KUDOS: Mr. William Francis Lawler announces the marriage of his daughter Rose Mary to Mr. JAMES SEAN KEENAN on Thursday, the 28th of May, 1970, Saint Louis, Mo.

'68 COMING HOME

Your class secretary is doing such a good job on this column that part of the last issue was deleted and will be included in this issue.

At MIKE CRUTCHER's open house during the Cotton Bowl, were DAVE MARTIN, a member of the Chicago Bears, STEVE ANDERSON, from Cincinnati Medical School, MIKE CAFFEY, who was on leave from the seminary at ND, and ROCKY BLEIER, home on leave from the Army, recovering from wounds received in Vietnam. I received a letter from Lt. GERRY MOORE who is stationed at Ft. Lee, Va. and is attending a Supply Management Officers course. Congratulations to Gerry on his marriage to the former Miss Bette Puljord on Feb. 20, 1970. Gerry expects his first assignment to be Germany. On behalf of the members of the Class of '68, I would like to extend my sincere sympathies and prayers to the parents and wife of ARTHUR J. RAMBO who was killed in action on Nov. 26, 1969. The honors which Art received were the Silver Star, Bronze Star, Purple Heart, and Good Conduct Medal.

Let's keep that mail coming, and if you're in the area of Quang Tri stop in and visit. I will be leaving Vietnam the last week in August, therefore any correspondence after the 15th of August should be sent to my home address. 259 N. 17th Street, Bloomfield, New Jersey 07003

'68L PASSING TIME

You can tell that time is passing rapidly from the fact that our classmates in Vietnam are beginning to return home. I received a call from BOB WILCZEK a few days ago. Bob has been back in the States for about a month and is now working in the Washington, D.C. area teaching a class on the interrogation of prisoners of war. He, Molly and Meg are living in Maryland and have taken up sailing on the Chesapeake. Before coming back home Bob got to see Hawaii and Japan and loved both. He enjoyed his tour in Vietnam and even recommended that I volunteer. I am beginning to wonder about that. I also spoke to JOHN SCRIPP not long ago, who reports that he, Sue and the kids are doing fine. John's year of legal assistance work in Milwaukee is coming to a close and he is now faced with the important decision of what he wants to do next. He has a fine offer from a firm in that city but still has strong feelings about heading back to Chicago. Although some of our classmates are coming home from the Far East, others are heading out there. John informed me that Kathy and BILL TEPE are now in Taiwan.

It looks like the class will be having its first elected official before long. LANNY BONENBERGER won the primary for the Democratic nomination for the West Virginia House of Delegates in his district. He led the field of eight candidates and will now run unopposed in November. It looks like Lanny's famous handshake did him well after all. Lanny and TOM CURTIN took a trip to St. Louis to visit CHARLIE WEISS. Charlie is working with a litigation firm there and doing a good bit of trial work. The word I receive is that he is highly regarded by the members of the firm. Kathie, Erin and LARRY MILLER are doing well in New Jersey. Larry is now working for the state Attorney General. DICK HIRSCH is now working for the National Lawyers' Guild. PETE KING continues his adventurous association with the amazing Roy Cohn. One of his first assignments was as Cohn's attorney in a civil suit in which Cohn was the defendant. Pete came away victorious. Pete and Rosemary are expecting the baby any day now (at the time of this writing). I was hoping to make the announcement now, but it will have to wait until the next issue.

I cannot remember what I wrote last month, so at the risk of repeating myself, I'll report some more news from Vietnam. JOHN COYLE took FRANK SMITH's advice and went to Australia on his "R & R." He too has nothing but praise about the people there. In addition to his infantry duties, JC is getting a good deal of trial experience as well as doing legal assistance work. I am pleased to report that JC has been appointed as Clerk to Judge Robert Shaw of the Federal District Court in Newark and will assume his duties in September. He will be working with HANK CATENACCI of the Class of '69.

That's it for now—please keep in touch.

'69L HAPPY DAYS

In opening, I am pleased to state that June 27 was the happy occasion of my marriage to Patsy Plunkett in South Bend. We had the pleasure of seeing many friends at the wedding.

My special thanks are directed to JIM MACKIN whose contact with our fellow

'69ers these last few months has provided almost all of the following information. Jim has completed his Court of Appeals clerkship in Chicago and has accepted a position with a Syracuse law firm. In his wanderings he had occasion to visit Joyce and BOB NEIRYNCK who have moved their family from Champaign to Bloomington where Bob has taken a new position. Jim also spent time in D.C. visiting with JOHN MACLEOD, DAVE LARIMER, and MERLE WILBERDING. John remains associated with Reavis, Pogue, Neal & Rose. Dave is winding up his clerkship and is joining the office of the U.S. Attorney in D.C. The "Bear," according to Jim, is now an Army JAG officer and is cranking out three or four briefs a day. Jim's further encounters included RUSS HEIPLE who is stationed with the Army Finance Corps in Chicago, and who seems to have stopped studying. Also getting some military experience was BRYAN HUGHES. Bryan spent the spring traveling with the Reserves, first to Georgia, where he was stationed near TOM BONNER, and thence to San Antonio. He has now returned to his practice in Malone. A letter to Jim from Patty and JOHN RITTINGER indicates that John will be stationed at Fort Bragg until August, at which time he will go to Korea.

Finally, Jim indicates that RALPH LITZENBERGER, currently engaged in the defense of our country, will be married this summer. MIKE RUNDE, who taught this last winter in Milwaukee, has taken Miss Anne Mc Dermott for his bride. I have been in frequent communication with Terry and MATT DWYER who are spending this summer in an ocean-front cottage near Providence, R.I. Matt and his neighbor, AL REED, are finishing Naval Justice School there. I was pleased to hear from ZEP KENNEDY who writes that he and Sue have settled for the time being in Kingston, N.Y. Zep, who was admitted to the N.Y. Bar in April together with ZEP FRANTIN and TOM McCUSKER, staffs half of the two-man office which handles all of the legal problems arising at the IBM Plant in Kingston. Frantin and TIM "PUMA" McLAUGHLIN are working in a NYC defendant's firm. TONY SEIMER made it to Denver this spring for about a week and scouted out Legal Aid opportunities in the Rocky Mountain area. He is hoping to join other Domers similarly engaged in Denver, to-wit: JIM SECKINGER, RICH HENNESSEY and TERRY KELLY. JEFF CAVANAUGH called while passing through Denver to say that he and LEO O'BRIEN have had a tremendously successful year at Loyola Law School in L.A. Jeff is spending his summer attending a series of conferences in numerous states, including Hawaii.

'69 MBA DOUBLE TROUBLE

It seems that most of the recent news has come from military installations. RICK YARBOROUGH writes from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Rick is fulfilling a 24-month tour as a corpsman with the Navy Reserve. He expects to be in Cuba until January 1971, so if anyone makes an unscheduled trip to Havana, be sure to give Rick a call. TOM JOHNSON enlisted in the Army OCS program last June and received his commission on May 22, 1970 at Fort Belvoir, Va. He is now stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds near Baltimore.

Now to the news of the remaining civilian members of the class. JACK O'BRIEN is nearing the completion of his management training program with Ford in Detroit. JOHN NESTOR is preparing for a permanent assignment with the Continental Illinois Bank in Chicago. Rumor has it that KEVIN SULLIVAN is considering returning to the ivory towers of academia, possibly at the ND Law School. Another member of the class of 1969 left the ranks of bachelorhood when RON JERUTIS and Susan Coury were married May 23, 1970.

It's hard to believe more than a year has passed since the first class of ND MBA's were set loose on the business world. With the graduation of the second class in June, our ranks are now doubled. I hope that all of you will continue to keep us posted on your whereabouts and activities.

70L TAPPED AGAIN

It seems that, prior to his departure, JOE LEAHY elected me to serve as class news reporter to the ALUMNUS. However, the success of the column is entirely up to you since your class news depends on you. I can only pass on news that each of you sends me. Please take a couple of minutes every other month to send me a short letter or even just a post card. Include not only news about yourself, but also news about other members of our class. Such events as weddings, engagements, births, promotions, changes of address, and regional gatherings of class members are always of interest. Help others to answer the question "I wonder what he is doing" by sending in news about yourself.

Nancy and I are slowly getting settled in our new apartment. Like most of you, I am working and taking a bar review course. I see TOM DELUCA quite often as we are taking the same review course. Nancy and I were paid a visit last week by GEOFF MYNETT from London. Geoff had just finished his bar finals and was on holiday in the States. He had been to the Twin Cities to visit DICK BLUMBERG. On his way to Cincinnati he stopped at ND where he saw JAMES DOYLE and DICK TUOHY. Dick was home for the weekend, and then he and Jean were leaving for Quantico where he would continue training. Congratulations are in order for KEN IVERSON and Marie Zwach who were married June 7. I will await further word as to whether DAN RYBAK made it to the wedding, and more importantly whether he made it back.

means it seems to find to keep man from accomplishing all that his heart seeks to. I know that a lot of you live those sorts of lives now; and I, as one, can only say, thank you.

But the times call for more men of that stature, and I say that we cannot afford to sit by and rest on the myth of the Notre Dame man. We have to remind ourselves to live it every day. To turn outward and to meet the problems of our times.

In closing, I would like to bring it a little closer to home. Whatever your feelings are about what is happening on college campuses today, remember that there are concerned young men and women seeking to build a better world. And if at times they don't live up to your expectations, look and see whether you have lived up to theirs. If you say they've got crazy ideas, ask yourself how many times you have taken the time to really talk to them about yours—even to talk to your own sons and daughters.

Communication is the key. . . . But remember, it must be a communication of the spirit, one that transcends every petty political question that mankind has been able to create to keep people from growing close to one another. Notre Dame's unique spirit, grounded upon love and trust in God, can lead us to greater heights of truly human accomplishment—if we believe in it, trust our hearts and live it to the fullest.

Lowe, chairman of the board of ITT Sheraton Hotels. More than 150 realtors, bankers and investors attended the recent seminar on franchising in Newton, Mass., sponsored by the ND Club of Boston and the Mass. Association. Gorman, who lives in Needham, Mass., was general chairman of the event. He is president of Gorman & Associates, Realtors. Committee members from the ND Club were: John P. Karle '56, Charles J. Patterson '47, George F. Cronin Jr. '59 and Arthur P. Murphy '59.

BOSTON

On June 4, the Annual Golf Outing was held at Wollaston Golf Club. DON COTE '52 chaired the event which had the largest turnout in its history. Low gross was won by BOB MARR '58 and low net by TOM ROURKE '60. Father JACK FITZGERALD '55 edged out GEORGE WILLIAMS '62 by one stroke for high gross. On June 19, UND Night at the Pops was held. JAY CURLY '53 and JACK CURTIN '62 deserve a big pat on the back for a fine event.

The ND Man of the Year award was presented to the KINNEALEY brothers, JOE '39 and TOM '37. The committee could make no better selection of two men who truly represent the ND spirit. The Scholarship Committee presented scholarships of $500 each to Robert Germaine '74 of Milton and John Flynn '74 from Brockton. These young men were selected by the committee from a large group of fine applicants. We wish them luck in their freshman year at ND. The next club event is the Freshman Send-off Dinner in late August. At that time the winners of the Junior Achievement Award will be presented.

BUFFALO

President HENRY BURNS JR. held a luncheon meeting hosted by former club president JOHN DeLUCA at the Buffalo Savings Bank dining room. It was attended by the club officers, directors, and advisors to the president to plan the year's activities.

President Burns attended the Alumni Wives Installation Banquet on May 21 at which he was presented by President Mary Ann Donius a $150 check for the club's Scholarship Fund.

The June 10 general meeting was a lively one. Three students currently attending the University gave their views on the spring happenings on campus and answered questions put to them by club members. A stimulating dialogue developed that helped to educate both sides.

CHICAGO

The Annual Testimonial Dinner for the retiring officers and directors of the club was held on June 4 at Johnny Lattner's Marina City Restaurant. President PAT MONTROY '53, presented plaques to the retiring directors: JOSEPH J. ARCHIBALD JR. '50, DR. RICHARD M. CRONIN '46, HARVEY G. FOSTER '39, JUDGE LOUIS B. GARIPPO '52, ARCH F. GOTT '37, JOHN P. HEALY '69, GERALD C. SPECHT '49 and DONALD E. STEPHAN '64. A special plaque and award were given to the immediate past president KEN SCHUSTER '49, for the outstanding job he did during the past year. The club's Annual Golf Outing is set for Monday, Aug. 3, at the Elmhurst Country Club. Ara Parnagian, along with some of his staff, will brief us on this year's prospects following the steak dinner. The committee, headed by DAN GIBBS Jr. '67, and BILL MADDUX '57, promises, in addition to good weather, the usual fine array of golf and door prizes, that the film highlights of the 1969 ND football season will be shown and that two traveling beer wagons will patrol the course. It is hoped that everyone will be able to make this always popular event.

Bill Cahill '58

CINCINNATI

The club held its annual election meeting June 29 at the Stadium Club. New officers chosen to lead the club were MICHAEL BRADY '59, president; HAL SUNDERMAN '63, VP; THOMAS EAGEN '66, secretary; and ROBERT HOFACRE '56, treasurer.

The annual Golf Outing and also UND Night will take place on July 22 at the Hyde Park Golf and Country Club. The 1970 Man of the Year award will be presented at the dinner that evening. The 1969 Notre Dame Football Highlights were shown at the spring meeting at the Burger Brewery. Plans are being made for the annual "Meet the Freshmen" picnic to be held in early September.

Tom Eagen '66

CLEVELAND

On April 20 we held UND Night at the Cleveland Hotel. Chairman FRED W. FRIEND '50 took the reins this year and ran a most interesting show with much reciprocal eulogizing and impromptu digs from one board member to the other. At this banquet, we try to stimulate the Friars Club affair and turn it into an event where we get to roast everybody that will stand the heat for the year's past administration's performance, or non-performance, whichever comes to mind first. Implementing our own Rowan and Martin skit was an address by our fine friend over the years—SLEEPY JIM CROWLEY. Another All-American from the Four Horsemen era—DON MILLER '25 nostalgically introduced Jim, who had us laughing, crying and singing the Fight Song with a truly eloquent and humorous address. We truly appreciated his appearance. The evening also combined our Man of the Year Award, with the recipient this year being C. J. CALDWELL '25, long-time active member in our club, practicing orthodontist and truly worthy of our Man of the Year Award. Hats off to Dr. Caldwell and congratulations to a fine guy. Congratulations are also in store for Fred Friend, who worked long and hard in making the evening a success.

Our next function took place May 27—an evening in the Flats put together by our Women's Club. It turned out to be highly successful also as our local papers agreed.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY

On May 14 the Connecticut Valley Club, in conjunction with the New Haven and the Naugatuck Valley Clubs, held UND Night at the Holiday Inn in Meriden, Conn. Co-chairmen of the event once again were MIKE CARROLL '55 and BILL McCAFFREY '60 who did a fine job in making UND Night the success it was. At the dinner the newly elected officers of the Conn. Valley Club were installed. FLOYD RICHARDS '42 becomes the new president, Bill McCaffrey, VP, Mike Carroll, treasurer, and I will remain as secretary.

The Man-of-the-Year Award was presented to JOHN McGUIRE '62 for his outstanding contributions to the club over the past few years. The highlight of the evening was, of course, our speaker, the Rev. John C. Walsh, VP for Academic Affairs. I think I can speak for all who attended the dinner by saying that we all enjoyed his talk on "ND and the 70's" and were most impressed by Father's candid answers to all questions.

Paul Sanner '62

DALLAS

The ND Club of Dallas held its annual picnic June 20. BILL MARKEY '51 was chairman of the function. He was ably assisted by HUGH BRAY '54 and PAT DWYER '52. JIM JUST '59 and AL GLEASON '58 organized games for the youngsters and adults and as usual Jim Just turned out to be the "ringer" in the horseshoe contest.

Club President JOHN RONAN '56 has been most gratified by the interest in the club this year. Our next event will be the "Back to School Bash" on August 29.

New officers to lead the club in 1970-71 are: John Ronan, president; LARRY BEDFORD '57 and JOE BRASSARD '53, VPs; CHICK MARTIN '59, secretary; and Hugh Bray '54, treasurer.

Chick Martin '59

DAYTON-SPRINGFIELD

The club's Annual Golf Outing and Steak-Fry will be held on Aug. 27 at the Walnut Grove Country Club. Information concerning tee-off times and arrangements for the dinner will be sent to club members in the mail. This year's outing will follow the same format that proved to be so successful last year. Nomination and election of club officers for the 1970-71 term will take place at the business meeting following the golf outing dinner. Also on the agenda of this important meeting is a discussion of, and action upon, a proposal to adopt a revised set of by-laws for the club. Copies of the proposed by-laws are being prepared by the By-Laws Revision Committee and will be mailed to the members for their consideration prior to the golf outing and meeting. All members are urged to attend this meeting and express their views concerning these significant issues concerning the club.

Plans are also being made for the club's Annual Freshman Send-Off. Freshman students at both Notre Dame and Saint Mary's and their parents will be the guests of honor at this function. It is anticipated that the Send-Off will be held in the early part of September and will feature a speaker from ND. Further information will be mailed to members and the guests of honor.

DECATUR

The local Irish were invaded from Springfield (ART SAVOIE '57, DAVE SCHINNEER '67, and JOHN GARVEY '67), Arcola (TOM '31, PAT '62, and TIM '61 MONOHAN), and Virginia (AL LANDOLT '50) for our annual Golf Outing. JOHN SHIEL presented first- and second-place prizes to Schinneer and Landolt, respectively. JERRY McNAMARA '61 won the driving contest, weighing in at 272 pounds, but he thinks it's in his hands.

Steve Graliker '42

FAIRFIELD COUNTY, CONN.

"Modesty and unselfishness—these are virtues which men praise—and pass by." For 59 years—true to the aphorism of Andre Maurois—this distinguished son of ND has lived these virtues and enjoyed a successful career in his profession and in his private life as husband and father. He can no longer, however, elude the off-campus ND watchman of Fairfield County. He can no longer be passed by."

Thus, in part, read the citation honoring JOHN M. WILSON '11, of Rowayton. It was presented by Dennis O'Neill '51, chairman of the board of directors, at the Alumni Club's annual observance of the University's 47th UND Night Dinner-Dance at the Belle Haven Club, Greenwich. Present with the alumni to witness the award were Mr. Wilson's wife, Mary; his son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John M. Wilson Jr.; and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Tharp of Darien. A second daughter, Sister Mary Stephanie, is at the Ursuline Generalate in Rome. Honored as the ND Club of Fairfield County Man of the Year was Judge JAMES E. MURPHY '22 of Bridgeport for his distinguished career as a jurist and continuing support of the University and its alumni activities.

PITTSBURGH

The ND alumni of Western Pennsylvania gathered in Pittsburgh's William Penn Hotel for UND Night on March 31. The principal speaker was Ara Parseghian, who delighted the crowd with his sundry stories. In addition, Ara made the presentation of the "Man of the Year" award on behalf of the Pittsburgh Club to WILLIAM E. COTTER Jr. '41. Bill was general chairman in a very successful SUMMA Campaign, which was one of the many reasons this transplant from Minnesota was so honored. FRANK CONTE '56, retiring president of the club acted as toastmaster and got in some good digs at the Honorable PETER F. FLAHERTY '51L, mayor of the City of Pittsburgh. The young mayor got back at Frank in good style, thanks largely to some material given him by the club's next president, JIM SMITH III '53. The invocation and benediction were handled with expertise by our chaplain, Rev. THOMAS M. KIRBY '52.

HAWAII

The ND Club of Hawaii has been reactivated in 1970, with newly elected officers and directors. On May 6 the UND Night Dinner was held at the Tripler Officers' Club. WALTER CABRAL, the newly elected club president, gave a brief speech on the future plans of the club.

On June 26 an informal meeting and cocktail party were held at the Green Turtle Restaurant. Father JOHN WALSH CSC, currently on leave at the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, spoke on the challenges currently facing ND. After the meeting, the 1969 ND football highlights film was shown. The newly elected club officers are WALTER CABRAL '55, president; RONALD WONG '53, VP; DENNIS KEATING '62, secretary, and KENNETH KWAK '62, treasurer. The board of directors consists of the above officers and JOSEPH BORGES '52, THOMAS FLYNN '35, ANDREW LUM '56, JOHN McAULIFFE '37 and RICHARD MURATA '57. Currently, there are more than 100 alumni residing in the 50th state. Members of the ND family who are planning on residing in Hawaii can obtain information concerning the club by writing to the Notre Dame Club of Hawaii, 1319 Kina Street, Kailua, Hawaii 96734.

Dennis M. Keating '62

INDIANAPOLIS

The officers and directors of the ND Club of Indianapolis met May 12 at the Essex House. Our president, TOM O'BRIEN, reported on the activities of the Alumni Senate meeting. His discussion was both interesting and informative. We also discussed increasing the amount of money for the annual scholarship fund, because of the increase in cost of tuition at the University. Plans were also made to help the students with their summer tutoring program. Our VP, JOSEPH DESAUTELS, reported that the annual golf tournament is to be held on July 16 at the Country Club of Indianapolis.

On June 11 we had our annual stag party at Moynahan's Shack. Although attendance was somewhat less than in previous years, those who attended had an excellent time. Once again BILL SAHM did an excellent job of preparing the hamburgers.

James Crossin

JERSEY SHORE

President BOB GIUNCO '57 is firming plans for the annual Freshman Send-off to be held on Friday, Aug. 28, with JIM GIBBONS as the guest speaker. With the help of DICK CORDASCO '50, Bob hopes to hold the affair at the Red Bank Catholic High School as last year.

In late July, Bob will hold a planning meeting of the officers, board of directors, and prospective project chairmen. Interested members who have not been contacted are encouraged to contact Bob at 223-3864.

Charlie Keller '54

LANSING

Approximately 60 club members and guests attended the annual summer potluck picnic at the home of Dr. JERRY CORDES. An added feature this year was a program of student-alumni dialogue on student strikes.

Once again we'd like to remind our friends of our traditional pre-game dance party scheduled for Oct. 2, the eve of the ND-MSU game. Plan to stop by the Jack Tar Hotel for an evening of festivity and friendship!

Bill Dotterweich '58

McHENRY COUNTY, ILL.

The ND Club of McHenry County elected two directors, honored a founder of the club and continued the terms of present officers at the annual UND Night festivities on May 26 in Crystal Lake. GEORGE COSTELLO '40, Crystal Lake realtor, was named "ND Man of the Year" by the club. Costello was presented with an award by last year's winner, Judge WILLIAM M. CARROLL '15.

Costello, who was a varsity golfer at ND, has been active in community service in Crystal Lake, his native community. He is a charter member of the Jaycees and a founder and past president of the ND Club of McHenry County. He has served nine years on the Crystal Lake Community High School board, two years as its president. He and his wife, Rita, have seven children; their son, MIKE, graduated from ND in June.

Elected directors for three-year terms were JOHN CORRIGAN '35, Crystal Lake, and JAMES KENTON, McHenry. Continuing as officers are JOHN ORSO '50, Crystal Lake, as president; JOHN CORRIGAN '35, Crystal Lake, as VP; JOSEPH CONERTY Jr. '44, Woodstock, as secy-treas.; and the Rev. Thomas Dempsey, Woodstock, as chaplain.

DON FREUND '55, chairman for the dinner, said four county high school graduates are among those accepted at ND for the coming year: Pat Niesen, Craig Ludford, Charles Flood and Rick Frett. Special guests included JAMES COONEY, executive secretary, ND Alumni Assn., and JOHN MACHECA, regional director of development for the Notre Dame Foundation. Committee members included Freund, Conerty, Corrigan, Powers, THOMAS PARSLEY '54, CLAIR LAMBERT '43 and THOMAS HARDING '65.

Joe Conerty '44

MILWAUKEE

All-American MIKE McCOY and the '69 ND football highlights were the main attractions at our May Family Sports Night. Those in attendance were particularly pleased with the question and answer session wherein Mike not only discussed ND and Packer football, but the current campus situation as well. July 22 is the date for the Annual Golf Outing. This year it will be held at the Port Washington Country Club. In addition to the usual festivities, the '70-'71 club officers will be elected.

Dave Roemer '69

NEW ORLEANS

The ND Club of New Orleans gathered at the Smoke House Restaurant on May 20 to review the highlights of the 1969 football season. After cocktails and dinner, the club elected officers for the forthcoming year and honored outgoing president, J. PATRICK BOOKER, with a plaque in appreciation of his leadership.

New Orleans Alumni elected to office for 1970-1971 were: F. JOSEPH DROLLA Jr., president; LESTER J. BOUDREAUX Jr., vice president; LEON J. REYMOND Jr., secretary; ROBERT M. JOHNSTON, treasurer.

Future events on the club's calendar include a cocktail party in August to welcome the New Orleans freshmen entering Notre Dame this year and a pilgrimage to South Bend in November to attend the LSU-ND game.

Leon J. Raymond Jr.

NEW YORK

Plans are under way, under the leadership of GORDON FORESTER '47 and TOM CONROY '63, for the Kick-Off Smoker, scheduled for September 16, 1970.

Among the luminaries in attendance will be EDWARD W. (MOOSE) KRAUSE, director of athletics, and JOHNNY DEE, head basketball coach. Admission is free to dues-paid members.

The club recently mailed to all its alumni a report of the proceedings during the recent Alumni Board and Senate meetings. The report, written by club president JIM SLATTERY '50, director GORDON FORESTER '47, and JIM MacDEVITT '35, was designed to keep our New York area alumni fully informed on campus developments.

Planning for our Navy game trip to Philadelphia, October 31, 1970, is well under way. We will once again provide round trip bus service from various locations in the metropolitan area direct to stadium gates. This is an exciting event, and enjoyed in the past by a great number of our members. Make your plans now! A club mailing on this event (and the Kick-Off Smoker) will be made in the early fall. Chairman of the trip is STEPHEN W. "BUD" MULVEY '51.

Many of the members were missed at the gala UND Night at the Garden City Hotel, May 15. After a cocktail hour in the Colonial Room, the party moved to the Regency Room for a sumptuous dinner, dancing and entertainment. Ray Heatherton, of television renown, regaled the guests with song and story. Fr. John E. Walsh CSC represented the University. A job well done by GERRY SAEGERT '40 and DEON SUTTON '31.

The club will be running two Freshman Send-Offs this year for incoming freshmen (expected to total over 100) and their parents with JAMES V. GIBBONS representing Notre Dame. The first will be at the Westchester Country Club on August 25; and the second at the Garden City Hotel on August 26.

Paul Smith '60

NORTH FLORIDA

The ND Club of North Florida held its annual UND Night on Wednesday, May 20, at the Top of the Mayflower Hotel in Jacksonville, Fla. We were delighted to have Alumni Secretary JIM COONEY and TOM SULLIVAN of the Development Office with us for the occasion. The affair was attended by 50 alumni and wives all of whom had a wonderful time.

The club held its annual picnic in July and is working up plans for the club golf tournament to be held later in the summer.

Raphael (Ray) M. Kelly

NORTHEAST NEW YORK

The Northeastern New York ND Club held a dinner April 10 at the Golden Fox Restaurant. JOHN F. CAMPBELL '26, was awarded a plaque as "the Man of the Decade." Making the presentation was LAWRENCE T. O'NEILL '34. Mr. Campbell is a retired senior VP of the First Trust Company of Albany and continues as a member of its board. He was chairman of the Albany area SUMMA campaign. As of March, Albany had reached 120.8 per cent of its quota to rank among the nation in exceeding its goal. Campbell was an original member of the Albany ND Club when it was formed in 1929 and has served twice as its president. He has been vitally interested in ND students over the years and has been responsible in furthering the careers of many in other areas as well as in Albany. JAMES D. COONEY, secretary of the Alumni Association, was guest speaker. RICHARD B. CUNNINGHAM, president, presided.

OHIO VALLEY

On May 27, Dr. THOMAS G. WACK, BA '50, MA '53, Ph.D. '61, professor of English at Wheeling College was appointed acting dean for the 1970-71 academic year, replacing Rev. Joseph A. Burke, who accepted a position as dean of St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia. Tom's brother, Dr. JOHN T. WACK, BA '55, MA '57, Ph.D. '67, is also on the faculty of the Department of History at Wheeling College.

Local alumni were gratified at the conduct of ND students during those trying days this spring. Everyone is sorry that confrontations on other college campuses ended in needless violent deaths. It was our privilege to attend graduation exercises at ND this June (our son, ROBERT, received his BS degree). I particularly enjoyed the addresses by JAMES E. ALLEN '70, commissioner of education and JOHN F. CRAWFORD '70, senior class pres. Their expressions did much to narrow the gap between the older and younger generations. Often it is only a communication gap which prevents them from working together for their common good. However, we wonder how much longer ND can avoid campus troubles when it hosts controversial speakers and organizations under the pretext of academic freedom. Sponsoring such speakers and organizations is often interpreted by students, faculty and alumni as approval of their ideas and recommendations.

Bill Mitsch '33

ROCHESTER

The Rochester Club celebrated UND Night in April at the University Club of Rochester. An excellent turnout listened to JIM COONEY, Alumni Association Secretary, parallel the campus unrest of today with the spirit of Fr. Sorin in the beginnings of Notre Dame. The Rochester Man of the Year award was presented to JOHN CASEY. Congratulations, John, on receiving this coveted honor. JERRY

CURRAN, outgoing president of the club, introduced the new officers for 1970. JOHN GLAVIN assumes the post of president. He will be assisted by DICK DELMONTE as VP, MIKE WEIDNER, treasurer, and JIM MCGUIRE, secretary.

Newly elected members of the Board of Directors were LEO WESLEY, JOHN CASEY and GERRY SCHOENHERR.

Jim McGuire '58

ROME

We mourn the sudden passing of Msgr. McGrath, Pres. of St. Mary's. We were privileged to assist him here while he was seeking a location for SMC's forthcoming academic program in Rome. Prof. RALPH MCINERNEY and family will soon depart Rome after a research-novel-writing year with us. Buon Viaggio. ND architect seniors have also departed after a year here, but will be replaced by another group in the fall. Doorbell-telephone bell ringers from ND: LARRY and Virginia Wolf DOYLE '39 (SMC '40); VINCE and Mrs. CARNEY '28; JOHN SCHWARTZ '66; LEO and Connie LINBECK Jr. '56 (SMC '59); JOE and Mary HICKEY '50; JOHN and Mrs. ENGLISH '33; JOHN and Mrs. RIDER, '30; Fr. DAVID MAX '56; ROBERT and Mrs. REAL '48; PAUL HELLMUTH '40, Sec. ND Board of Trustees, with family of his deceased brother, ANDREW; parents of JOSEPH HAMMES '68; PAT and Mrs. McMAHON '62; grandmother of PHIL '71 and GREG '72 CANNATA; parents of the above-mentioned LINBECKS; PETER and Mrs. DOYLE '63; grandson of CLYDE BROUSSARD '13; son of GERRY DOYLE '35; daughter of LOU BERARDI '30; parents of FRED '58, BILL '61 THON; ROBERT and Mrs. BYRNE, who is nephew of JOHN NIESON, founder of UND Night; JOSEPH O'KEEFE '44 with wife, SMC '45, and daughter '71, brother, DAVID '72; ANNETTE WEIDHAAS '69 (Angers); daughters-sisters of CHARLES QUINN '34, CHARLES Jr. '61, mother SMC '33, sister '62; parents-in-law of ANTHONY BRUNO '61 L, magna cum laude!

Papal Point: PAUL VI '60 holds public audience each Wednesday forenoon. He gives a public blessing each Sunday at noon. ND HOSPITALITY CENTER, 82 LARGO BRANCACCIO Tel: 730.002. All comers welcome!

Vince McAloon '34

ST. JOSEPH VALLEY, IND.

The St. Joe Valley Club inaugurated honorary memberships with ceremonies at UND Night on April 21. The first recipient was Julius Tucker, prominent South Bend businessman and long-time friend of Notre Dame. The second honorary membership to Richard Wroblewski was presented at dinner following the Blue-Gold football game. Last September's First Annual Golf Outing was a large success, although of modest attendance. Rod Johnson will handle arrangements again and as last year, the outing will be for husbands and wives in the evening at John & Pete Redden's Playland Park course. More on the date later.

The 1970 officers for the St. Joe Valley Club are: BILL KILLILEA, president;

DAN O'BRIEN, VP; FRANK (ROD) JOHNSON, treasurer; NORM COOK, secretary.

Norm Cook '57

ST. LOUIS

As we start a new club year, we want to thank the retired members of our board of directors: ROBERT J. HELLRUNG '63 and JOHN R. BOYCE '59 for their efforts on behalf of ND and the St. Louis alumni. Bob is moving to Kansas City and we wish him much success in his new job as director of Kansas City's Legal Aid Society.

RONALD J. SZWEDA '61, VP-Activities, has announced the following activities for the coming year: a combination Golf Outing-Freshman Night late in August; a bus trip to the Missouri-ND football game Oct. 17, with a buffet dinner party in St. Louis after the game; an activity built around the St. Louis U.-ND basketball game on Dec. 12; Communion Breakfast, St. Patrick's Day Parade and party on March 17; and the traditional UND Night next spring. Anyone on our mailing list will receive notices of these activities as the dates and plans firm up. Have you just moved into St. Louis? If you will drop us a note at Notre Dame Alumni in St. Louis, 7750 Clayton Road, St. Louis, Mo. 63117. We'll put you on our mailing list. Some of the least publicized of our activities are those of our admissions and scholarships committees headed by HERMAN L. KREIGSHAUSER '54 and WILLIAM L. OTTEN '62 who spend a great deal of time with prospective students, their parents and high school counselors.

You say you've been waiting all these years for the Missouri-ND game, that you've made enough friendly, one-drink bets to keep the breweries in town going full blast for the next six months, that you were very careful to get your ticket request in the mail in time to be included in the first-day lottery, that you have even started on a little project to memorize all the words to the Alma Mater and Victory March and then, after all this, you received your check back because yours wasn't one of the requests picked; is that what's troubling you, brother? Well, move over; it happened to me, too!

Paul J. Gund '63

SAN DIEGO

The ND Club of San Diego held a business-social meeting on June 12. Some 25 grads gathered at the Islandia Hotel to hear a revealing report on the controversial Alumni Senate meeting, presented by DOUG GIMBER. All present exhibited great interest, with many questions and considerable discussion. President TIM HINCHEY presented the schedule of events for the coming club year. On June 17, the club president attended the Lincoln High School Senior Awards Night. Lincoln is a predominantly minority attended high school in the San Diego metropolitan area. It was the president's great pleasure to have the honor of presenting, on behalf of the club and the University, the following awards: (1) To Willy J. Kilbourne, Jr., a black student, a $1,200 ND Achievement Scholarship Award, renewable each year of his undergraduate study, and without repayment obligation. Also, a $1,000 Educational Opportunity Grant. (2) To Francisco Estrada, a $1,000 Educational Opportunity Grant and also a $1,000 unrestricted scholarship grant from the ND Club of SD, made available through the generosity of a club member who has requested he remain anonymous. This was a unique and especially rewarding honor for the club.

Bruce Lancaster '57

SAN JOSE

UND Night was celebrated on April 8 at the Brave Bull Restaurant. The evening was an unqualified success. A very spirited discussion followed the stimulating ideas presented by the speakers for the evening: Rev. Edgar Whelan, Prof. Donald Kommers of the Government Department, and Dennis Clark, the student representative.

The UND Night was also the occasion for the presentation of the club's ND Man of the Year Award. The honor went to DAVE HICKEY '27 for his many years of dedicated service to the University. MAURY DeWALD '62 and DOUG ZILLIOX '62 returned to ND for the Alumni Senate meeting in early May. The San Francisco and San Jose clubs had a joint spaghetti dinner on June 12 at the Moreau High School, Hayward. The dinner was followed by the ND football highlights of 1969. Remember our monthly luncheons on the second Tuesday of each month held at the Howard Johnson Restaurant on North First Street.

TULSA

The Notre Dame Club of Tulsa held election of officers last month and results are as follows: JACK CHARON, president; JOHN JOYCE, VP; RAY SIGFRIED II, treasurer; GEORGE K. MILLER, secretary.

Congratulations are in order for FARRIS SAFFA, outgoing president, for a most successful and enjoyable two-year term of office. A champagne breakfast was held June 28 at the Oaks Country Club in Tulsa. Plans are being made for an October bus trip to Columbia, Mo., for the ND-Missouri football game.

George K. Miller '58

UTAH

UND Night was held April 22 at the Ramada Inn, Ogden, Utah. Our guest speaker was MIKE JORDAN, assistant alumni secretary. We wish to thank Mike for his fine presentation and insights of ND life on the campus today. The ND Club of Utah also wants to thank CHUCK BENNETT '55 for the outstanding job he did while president of our club. Due to military obligations, Chuck had to move on. Assuming the duties of president is Dr. JOHN D. SCHIRACK '50. Our next event will be the Annual Student Send-off which will be held in August.

John D. Schirack '50

VIRGINIA

The University rowing team paid a visit to Richmond over the Easter holidays to engage the Virginia Commonwealth team. We are happy to report a clean sweep by the Irish in all levels of competition.

Both teams were feted by our club at the Virginia Boat Club on Mayo's Island. The VCU team operates out of the Virginia Boat Club and the races originated on the James River below Mayo's Island. A buffet and refreshments were provided by the ND Club.

Freshman send-off will be held sometime in mid-August. This year, Richmond will be sending more than her usual share of new students. The last unofficial count showed six headed for the Golden Dome. ND alumnus SHAUN FITZMAURICE, originally signed by the New York Mets, is now playing outfield for the Richmond Braves of the AAA International League. The Richmond Club is a farm affiliate of Atlanta. Club President FRANK WALLMEYER represented our club at the recent Alumni Meeting at the University. His report to the officers and members of the club indicated such meetings were helpful in keeping the alumni apprised of the direction the University is heading.

Frank Carpin '62

WESTERN WASHINGTON

A very enthusiastic board of directors gathered at the home of JIM LYONS '54 on June 13, 1970, to plan and discuss the business and events of the ND Club of Western Washington. New directors BEN LENOUE '31 and MIKE HERB '58 were on hand with new ideas and enthusiasm. DENNIS RYAN '59 reported a treasury that could stand enrichment; Dennis has a few $5.00 membership cards remaining, his address is 1758 Dexter No., Seattle, Washington 98109.

JEFF KOCH '66, chairman of the selection committee, reported that 13 new students had been accepted at ND from our area, and that the selection committee program would contact 325 schools in Western Washington. Jeff has set the date of Aug. 26, 1970, for the freshman send-off. A 35-mm slide presentation is being prepared for students interested in ND; club members with slides of interest should forward them to Jeff Koch, 2227 11th Ave., West Seattle 98119, for duplication and return. Jim Lyons will serve as chairman of the board of directors and JOHN GAGLIARDINI was nominated and elected to the position of senator succeeding JIM DAILEY '58. A pilot program to bring together classmates of '58 in the Bellevue-Kirkland-Redmond area is being initiated by Jim Dailey (check in with Jim at 885-7116). BOB MORTENSEN '52 and MIKE HERB responded to a ND student request to discuss campus situations and difficulties encountered at Notre Dame. TOM MAY '55 reported that SUMMA has been a successful undertaking in the Northwest and the nation and that all participants and leaders should feel satisfied and proud. OLIVER FLOR '60 and DENNY RYAN '59 reported the births of new sons and TOM MAY has a new daughter. Mike Herb is planning a super picnic at one of the Northwest parks in mid-July or early August. A separate mailing will follow with specifics; but set aside some time for a lot of fun with a good group.

The club would like to welcome the following alumni to the area: PETER O'CONNOR, LCDR-BSCE '58; JOSEPH HAAGA BS '40; ROBERT URSO AB '64, MA '66; DONALD DEDA BA '66, MA '67; ED MCCRIMMON PhBFC '30; and SISTER ERNSDORFF AB '37, MA '58 to Our Lady of Lourdes School in Vancouver and Rev. GEORGE MORRIS MA '69 to Seattle U.

YOUNGSTOWN-WARREN

Youngstown-Warren alumni are back in the swing again with a new set of officers and a much-looked-forward-to golf outing on Aug. 13. (Friday the 13th falls on Thursday that month.) Atty. ROBERT DINEEN is our new fearless leader with PHILIP PROSSER as VP, WILLIAM W. CUSHWA, secretary, and Dr. DONALD R. GRANETO, keeper of the purse.

The golf outing will be at Avalon Lakes, a new spa renowned for its water holes and watering hole. EUGENE J. GASE of Continental Baking Co. in Youngstown is chairman. The 47th annual UND Night was a highlight of the spring. Kenneth Featherstone, associate professor of architecture, joined Rick Leibowitz, senior English major, and the Rev. Tom Blantz '57, university archivist, in a discussion of "What is happening at Notre Dame in 1970?" Times have changed since we've been there, but then again, so have we.

GRAD SCHOOLS

BUSINESS

The MBA program graduated its second class on June 7 with 40 receiving their Master's degree. The Graduation Dinner was held on June 5 in the Mahogany Room of the Morris Inn following cocktails on the patio overlooking the golf course. Approximately 135 people attended this dinner which featured the granting of diplomas by PROF. F. W. DOW to the loyal and hard working MBA wives and the announcement of the winners of the two student award plaques. The Outstanding Academic Achievement Award went to RICHARD RUSSELL while the Dean's Award for the student contributing most to the class went to RICHARD JOHNSON. (The latter award was decided by a ballot among students and the instructors of the MBA program.) The evening was topped off with a series of "special" awards to faculty and students alike by the class comedian, AL MAILLOUX.

All of the members of the faculty were particularly pleased by the announcement of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation of the choice of RICHARD JOHNSON and MIKE STELMACKI as administrative interns. These administrative internships are designed to provide managerial talent to emerging Southern colleges. Nineteen such awards were made to MBA's across the country this spring — 7 to Harvard, 5 to Wharton, 2 to Notre Dame, and 1 to 5 other graduate business schools. JIM MILLIKIN of 1519 Miles Avenue, Mishawaka, Ind., has been appointed secretary for the Class of 1970 while JOE CAVATO of 4360 Maryland Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., continues as secretary for the Class of 1969. Get your notes and news to them about your activities regularly throughout the year so that the MBA program will be well represented in the seven issues of the ALUMNUS Magazine.

CHEMISTRY

Dr. E. Martin Fielden from the Institute of Cancer Research, Royal Cancer Hospital, Surrey, England, is lecturing on pulse radiolysis during July and August. Dr. J. Kerry Thomas, a radiation chemist at Argonne Laboratory, has been appointed professor of physical chemistry effective in September. Dr. Walter L. Hahn from the Bengier Research Laboratory, Du Pont, will be a visiting associate research professor in chemistry during the fall semester. Dr. Arye Weinreb, Hebrew University, Jerusalem, will be a NSF senior foreign scientist in the Radiation Laboratory during the '70-'71 academic year.

Among the eighteen who received the Ph.D. in chemistry at the June commencement were CATHY MICHUDA KOZAK, biochemistry division, South Bend Medical Foundation; TOM MAGEE, who taught at St. Joseph College in Philadelphia this past year; and ROGER SCHNEGGENBURGER, with Dow Chemical in Midland, Mich. Those who recently completed the requirements for the Ph.D. include MICHAEL HOARE, postdoctoring at Guelph U. in Ontario, Canada; PAUL RIVERS, Reilly Tar and Chemical Co., Indianapolis; and ELSIE SCHRAWDER, Miles Laboratories, Elkhart. May lecturers in the Radiation Laboratory included FRANK HUDSON '54, Sandia Corp., Albuquerque, N.M., and JUAN YGUERABIDE '62, now with the department of molecular biophysics and biochemistry, Yale U. Among the visitors to the campus this spring were DAVE BALLANTINE '52, with the Division of Isotopes Development, AEC, in Washington, D.C., and Sr. HELEN JOSEPH COERVER '52, who teaches chemistry at Fontbonne College in St. Louis. Dave lives in Frederick, Md.; his oldest son is a sophomore at ND. JAY YOUNG '50 has been appointed a professor of chemistry at Auburn U. in Alabama.

ENGLISH

With June graduation our alumni were increased by nine. Doctorates were awarded Sr. EILEEN ALLISON (M.A. '66), Sr. EVA MARY COX, EDWARD J. GALLAGHER, PAUL H. JOHNSON, KENNETH D. SMITH, and ROBERT C. WESS. There were also three master's candidates: STEPHEN J. DREHER, ELLEN M. MOORE, and Mrs. CYNTHIA D. MURRAY. Graduates on campus will be departing for jobs far and near. Sr. Eileen has already returned to Canada to teach summer school. Sr. EVA MARY will be teaching American literature

South of the border

When two scientists from ND's Biology Department headed in the general direction of Acapulco last winter, they were seeking more than sun and surf. And they found what they were looking for—amphibians—in the forests of Cerra Teotepec, a snow-covered peak northwest of the popular resort.

The two men are Kraig Adler, ND biology professor, and David Snyder, a graduate biology student. A third biologist, from Ohio State U., also made the trip.

They packed their gear and supplies into the Biology Department van and drove for six days to reach San Luis Potosi, Mexico. There they explored a cave that Adler had visited in 1964 when he was a graduate student at the U. of Michigan.

Inside the cave they found a peculiar species of salamander almost half a foot long. Its webbed feet enabled it to walk across the ceiling. These "twilight zone" salamanders were so numerous that it took the trio only three hours to collect all the specimens needed.

From there the scientists ventured on to Guerro, Mexico, where paved roads and modern society end. Ahead lay thick uninhabited forests visited mostly by Mexican bandits and crawling with tarantulas and poisonous snakes.

All three carried pistols for protection. When they bedded down for the night, one would sleep in the van and the others in sleeping bags out in the woods so that their guns would not be in the same place if they were attacked.

Although only 60 miles from sunny Acapulco, they were more than 10,000 feet above sea level and the temperature hovered at the freezing mark during the night. They felt, however, that what they discovered was well worth all the discomfort.

They were the first to biologically explore the Cerro Teotepec. It took them five days and 25 gallons of gasoline to go 65 rugged miles up into the mountain range.

Since they arrived in the dry season, the amphibians they were looking for could be found only in streams and in clusters of plants called bromeliads that grew in the trees. During the day the three climbed trees and cut down the bromeliads with machetes and then searched the moist center of the plants for the amphibians. At night the amphibians would come down from the trees and crawl toward the streams. The trio was ready and waiting in the dark to collect these also. Once they captured the creatures they administered an anesthetic and put the specimens in a preservative to be studied upon return to the campus.

The party also brought back 600 frogs, snakes, butterflies and insects. After studying and X-raying them it was found that several new species of amphibians had been discovered.

Upon further study it was concluded that these new species are related to animals that inhabit the far side of another mountain range around Pueblo and Veracruz rather than the nearby range of Oaxaca.

This is very interesting to specialists of animal distribution since it suggests a rather unusual feature in the history of animal life in Mexico.

Now zoogeographers must find how these amphibians got there.

As a result of their trip the three plan to publish papers on the various aspects of their discoveries. They also have suggested that such a trip be made an annual event to give students a new perspective on areas unfamiliar to them.

Up a tree in Cerra Teotepec

Comparative Literature Assoc. meeting in Bordeaux and the International Society for 18th-Century Studies in Nancy. In June JOSEPH MILLICHAP M.A. '62, visited the campus to "defend" his dissertation for August graduation. Part of his study of Carson McCullers has been accepted for publication, and he has also placed articles on Thoreau and Mark Twain in journals, as well as a short story. In October he will read a paper on Chaucer at the Rocky Mountain MLA meeting in Sun Valley. He is currently on the faculty at the U. of Montana. Promotions in the department this spring were—to the rank of professor: Robert J. Lordi; and to the rank of associate professor: Thomas Jemielity, Donald Sniegowski and A. L. Soens. In May, Professor Leon Edel, eminent scholar and biographer, delivered a lecture on Thoreau. Congratulations to our new alumni and best wishes for the summer to all of you.

HISTORY

At June Commencement Ph.D.'s in history were awarded to Sr. DOROTHY ANN KELLY; Sr. LONAN REILLY; FRANK ORLANDO, now at Loyola in Baltimore; PHILIP GALLAGHER, now at Brooklyn College; and DAVID GARIBALDI, who plans to return to England. Capt. JUAN FLOREZ, now an Air Force chaplain in Vietnam, writes that he has been spending some of his spare time there teaching a Western Civilization course to pilots who have managed to evade enemy bullets and still preserve an interest in study. Fr. Juan hopes to be back in the USA by the time football season begins. Prof. VINCENT DE SANTIS, chairman of the History Department, received a Distinguished Alumnus award this spring from his alma mater, West Chester State College of Pennsylvania. Duke University Press has published a book by Prof. LEON BERNARD—The Emerging City: Paris in the Age of Louis XIV ($10.). Prof. BOLESŁAW SZCZESNIAK was stricken with a heart attack early in May. Though he was in the hospital for some six weeks his many friends and former students will be happy to know that he is now well on his way to a full recovery. He had been scheduled to take a leave of absence in the fall semester in any case. He now expects to return to teaching in January, 1971. The department will add one new man to our staff in the fall, EDWARD MENARD, presently nearing completion of his Ph.D. at Rice University. He will offer courses in U.S. Constitutional History, an area left open for some years since DEVERE PLUNKETT became associate dean.

Early in June, I spent some pleasant days in Dubuque visiting JIM WHITE and family, and RICHARD PANTEL, both of Loras College; and in Milwaukee with RALPH WEBER and family (Marquette). Ralph had just returned from three weeks of research in Mexico City. CHARLES POINSATTE and ANTHONY BLACK of St. Mary's spent a week at Princeton in June grading Advanced Placement Tests. They pronounced the food splendid even if the examinations were not always so. All history alumni should be proud of the departmental softball team which chalked up a 6-2 at St. Mary's College, ND, in the fall. Dr. Gallagher is at Lehigh U., Bethlehem, Pa.; Dr. Johnson at Old Dominion U., Norfolk, Va.; and Dr. Wess is teaching at Ohio Dominican College in Columbus. In September Dr. Smith will join the faculty at the Catholic U. of Puerto Rico.

At the end of the spring semester, Prof. ANDREW SMITHBERGER M.A. '27, after 45 years at ND, was promoted to Professor Emeritus. While his many former students would want to wish him a serene and happy retirement, it appears that Prof. Smithberger has very "active" plans indeed. This summer he is acting head of the department, while Prof. Robinson is in California, and director of the summer session. During the next academic year he will teach a course and continue as assistant chairman. Besides many years of distinguished teaching and administration, he has been managing editor of The American Journal of Jurisprudence and was active in the Indiana College English Assoc., having served as president.

Two local alumnae have departed for summers in Europe. Sr. VICTORIA MARIE FORDE M.A. '69, who has received an international study grant, will spend the summer in London, studying modern British literature. In September she will continue her doctoral studies at ND. Sr. M. FRANZITA KANE CSC Ph.D. '58, professor at St. Mary's College, will do scholarly research in England, Portugal, France and Italy. In addition she has been invited to participate in the International record in an abbreviated spring league. Especially remarkable was the manner in which these stirring victories were scored: in every case but one our intrepid warriors came from behind with a last-inning rally. Many personal honors were gained. LESLIE RUDNYANZKY was named Manager of the Year. Your correspondent received the Dick Stuart Iron Glove award for imaginative play in the vicinity of first base. At present, unhappily, the twin scourges of job-hunting and signing by major league teams have so depleted our ranks that it appears unlikely that we will be able to field a team this summer.

LAW SCHOOL

The ND summer session at Faculty of Laws, University College, University of London commenced on June 29, 1970, with approximately 93 enrollees for the six-week course. Professor Emeritus ROGER P. PETERS was honored at graduation as the Law School's candidate for an honorary Doctor of Laws. Seventy-nine graduates received their J.D. degree at graduation. FRANCIS X. WRIGHT of Maryland was the only honors graduate and received the Dean Joseph O'Meara and Hoynes awards. Other prizes and recipients were: The Farabaugh Prize for high scholarship—THOMAS DeLUCA of Pennsylvania; The Law Week Award for scholastic progress—RICHARD JORDAN of Illinois; Lawyers Title Award for excellence in real property law—Thomas DeLuca; Weber Moot Court Award for first and second place in the annual moot court competition to ROBERT LARUSSO of New York, and ROBERT QUINLAN of Wisconsin, respectively; The Weber Senior Research paper award to STEPHAN DeSALES of California and JOHN L'ESTRANGE of California, jointly; Trial Lawyer's Plaque for moot court to LaRusso; First National Bank of Chicago Estate-Planning prize to RUDOLF GERBER of Indiana; Prentice-Hall Award for excellence in federal taxation to GERALD EAGAN of Connecticut.

Most of the graduates have already been placed in their first position according to the following profile: Private practice, 35; government agencies, 7; judicial clerkships, 5; graduate study, 4; legal aid and poverty law, 1; corporations, 2; military, 16; information not available, 9.

Father Bill Lewers CSC, professor of law at the Law School, was just elected by the Holy Cross Province to the Indiana Provincial Council. Father Bill will be teaching torts in the absence of Professor Frank Booker, who is leaving ND to enter private practice in Palm Beach, Florida. Professor Ed Murphy has completed a new casebook, Studies in Contract Law, Foundation Press, with Professor Richard Spiedel of Virginia Law School. Prof. Bud Murdock is writing a treatise on the Illinois Business Corporation Act. Prof. Tom Shaffer, who will be at UCLA Law School next year, is completing work on his book, The Psychology of Testation, to be published by University Press of Cambridge. Tom also reviewed Andrew Watson's Psychiatry for Lawyers in the winter issue of the Notre Dame Lawyer. Asst. Dean Les Foschio reviewed Davis' Discretionary Justice in Lawyer's spring issue. Prof. Godfrey Henry addressed the Chicago alumni on legal education for minority students. Prof. Henry is currently teaching at the Wayne State Law School Midwest Summer Institute of the Council on Legal Education Opportunity. Prof. Bob Rodes will replace Prof. Conrad Kellenberg as supervisor of the London program beginning in September. Prof. Kellenberg is returning to ND to teach in the fields of property law and family law and to direct the Law School's clinical programs. The "Chief" is a grandfather! Prof. Jack Broderick's daughter, Mary Louise, presented a grandson, Sean David Kennedy, last month in Nashville, Tennessee.

J. ROBERT GEIMAN L'56, was reelected secretary of the Illinois State Bar Association. The Law School's classrooms are being repainted and a new catalogue printed.

PHYSICS

According to the June Commencement Exercises Bulletin, the ranks of our Physics Ph.D. alumni have been increased by 11 new members, making our official "head count" 156 as of this date. The latest additions are MICHAEL J. AMORUSSO (theoretical physics), WILLIAM C. DAMERT (theoretical physics), KENNARD M. DAVIES (theoretical physics), BRIAN J. DEERY (elementary particle physics), ALEXANDER R. DZIERBA (elementary particle physics), RONALD J. FOUST (nuclear physics), MICHAEL J. HONES (elementary particle physics), JOSEPH T. MCGAHAN (elementary particle physics), JAMES M. PLOWATY (nuclear physics), DENNIS F.

POLIS (theoretical physics), and UDO W. POOCH (theoretical physics). All finished this past year, and all secured employment. Mike Amoruso went to Rock Island Arsenal, Bill Damert to Villanova U., Mike Davies to Creighton U., Brian Deery to Nijmegen, Holland, as a Postdoctoral Research Associate, Alex Dzierba to California Institute of Technology as a Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Ron Foust to St. Mary's College (Notre Dame), Mike Hones to Villanova, Joe McGahan to Research Corporation (Washington, D.C.), Jim PLOWATY to DePaul U., Dennis Polis to Lockheed (Burbank, California) and Udo Pooch to Texas A. & M.

And now having brought you up to date on the new additions to your ranks, and also on the employment picture, back again to the main business of this column, namely, names, addresses, and activities of a few more of our older Ph.D. alumni.

MICHAEL F. SHEA '60 (nuclear physics), wife Sherrol, and four children, Tom, Kathryn, Marie, and Don, live at 4512 Cornell Ave., Downers Grove, Ill. 60515. Mike joined the Midwestern Universities Research Lab (MURA) as a physicist, after completing requirements for his Ph.D. at Notre Dame. He left MURA in 1964 to accept a position as a Research Scientist at Lockheed Palo Alto Research Lab. In 1967 Mike returned to the Midwest, to Argonne National Lab, where he currently holds the position of associate physicist. RICHARD L. WALTER '60 (nuclear physics), wife Carol, and two children, Timothy and Susan, live at 1614 Woodburn Rd., Durham, N.C. 27705. After finishing work for his Ph.D. at Notre Dame, Dick accepted a position as a postdoctoral research associate at the U. of Wisconsin in December of 1959. From Sept. 1961, to Aug. 1962, he held the rank of instructor in physics at Wisconsin. In Sept. 1962, Dick joined the faculty of the Department of Physics at Duke U., where he now holds the rank of associate professor. MEYER SILVER '60 (physical electronics), wife Vivian, and three children, Robin, Barbara, and Bonnie, live at 5762 Ravenspur Dr., Palos Verdes, Calif. 90274. I should add that the address is as of my last report from Meyer (April 1968). After leaving Notre Dame, Meyer served from 1960 to 1962 as a research physicist in the Solid State Branch of the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, Calif. From 1962 to 1967, he was a member of the technical staff (research physicist) of TRW Systems, Inc., in Redondo Beach, Calif. In 1967 he left TRW to join Aerospace Corporation, El Segundo, Calif., as a research physicist and member of the technical staff.

The editor says that's all for this time.

SOCIOLOGY AND ANTHROPOLOGY

The Summer Session is better than ever. At least we like to think that's the case. The courses, each taught by a full-time staff member, have never been more varied; the proportion of students from the regular academic year remains high; and the program is more integrated with the program for the fall and spring semesters. And yet enrollment has tailed off, mainly, it seems, because of the decreasing number of applicants from religious communities. It would help to have more qualified students interested in summer graduate work referred to us by our loyal degree-holders out there. Next year the department might provide summer institutes in one or more specialized areas.

Promotions in rank were bestowed upon two members of the staff at the annual President's Dinner. Dr. Richard A. Kurtz was made a full professor, while Dr. Irwin Press achieved an associate professorship and tenure. Professor Kurtz and family recently departed for London where they will spend the summer prior to his assumption of a one-year visiting professorship at the University of Kenya. Dr. Press and his family entourage just returned from a year in Spain.

The staff's itinerancy has not been restricted to Kurtz and Press. Dr. Kane is off to Ireland for another close look at the "troubles"; Dr. Weigert and spouse will do summer research in Germany; Dr. DaSilva is already in Paris; and Dr. Lamanna will spend most of July at an Institute in Urban Studies at Ohio State.

We hear, belatedly, that Rev. ROBERT H. BROOKS, O.PRAEM. (Ph.D.) has been on leave from the departmental chairmanship at St. Norbert's for a year of postdoctoral work at the U. of Chicago. AL JAVUREK (M.A.), according to the grapevine, is headed for what is reputedly the most beautiful of all American campuses, that of the U. of California, Santa Cruz. When he's not publishing works of anthropological erudition, LEO DESPRES (M.A.) chairs the prestigious Department of Anthropology at Case-Western Reserve U. JIM MCKENNA, presently at Villanova, is putting the finishing touches to an extensive study on criminal typologies. Finally, for those who have not already gotten the word from Mrs. Lawrence, MARY JEANNE (M.A. '70) and ROBERT H. VASOLI (Ph.D. '63) are expecting on or about Halloween.

ALUMNI ASK

RADICAL RAG

ND ALUMNUS is now a negative, pseudo-intellectual, and radical rag.

Eric Hoffer says it's easy to "problem state" but very difficult to "problem-solve." Please minimize your lengthy "problem-stating" articles and let us hear from some of the creative and constructive men in science, business, engineering and religion at Notre Dame. Give the social "scientists" and "engineers" a much needed rest. They have been over-achieving.

NOT AFRAID TO LISTEN

I am a member of the class of 1928. Regularly I read the ALUMNUS including the letters from alumni concerning the present state of the University. I thought my classmate, Lou Buckley wrote a splendid letter recently in which he expressed satisfaction with present-day ND.

Why is it that the opposition (at least as shown by the letters I read) seems to come from those who were graduated in the 1940's and 1950's? Obviously they refuse to try to seek out and understand the real questions that are being raised by students today. They don't want to listen.

Certainly I do not condone student violence or the disruption of the University community. Nor do I think immoral speech and action is a proper exercise of freedom. But what I am interested in and concerned about is the indifference that older grads show in casting aside and refusing to listen, to and analyze and dig into intellectually the fundamental questions which the great majority of students are raising and are deeply concerned about and want to discuss.

Sure, we don't think that in order to show concern and to desire action, the student needs to have long hair, beards, beads and all that, but why dismiss what they are trying to say just because we think they ought to look like we did years ago (heaven forbid).

A lot of the older grads are apparently afraid to listen because they might have to admit that the whole structure under which they grew up has some serious defects that need drastic remedies. This fear and indifference are wrong and we had better start listening and thinking and doing with youth.

I think Notre Dame is listening and is trying to lead and work with the students in a serious way, and while everything isn't one-hundred percent satisfactory on campus, I think Father Hesburgh, the Holy Cross Fathers, the administrative staff and the faculty are doing a great job. They deserve our support, because they are thoughtful, intelligent and dedicated to our University.

20 YEARS LATER

At the recent reunion of the Class of 1950, I was pleasantly surprised to find so many of my classmates in agreement on subjects concerning student life today at ND. Many asked me, as their president, to formulate a resolution to submit through the proper channels, conveying their feelings on these matters. Before doing that in any formal form, the following is my summary of their sentiments, upon which I solicit comment:

Those at the reunion felt that the students on campus during the May "Cambodian upset" should be congratulated for their handling of the situation (prayers, Masses and non-violence). Those same alumni also felt, however, that the day-to-day non-academic activities of the students should be more regulated and would urge the administration to revive a few of the older regulations (that we didn't like either, but worked well for us and kept us out of trouble in the main while there and since), having the aim of an uninterrupted basic Christian education, imbuedment of Christian values, with faith, hope and charity, the moral virtues, and Mass being stressed, in order to have the opportunity to get into or keep the habit of leading a Christian life, and minimizing the distracting harms which lead one astray, while at the same time allowing the greatest freedom within these concepts, all permitting a sane balance while experiencing upsets and turbulences (claimed by present students to be unique to them) because of our basic ship's rudder of God, country and Notre Dame.

As we know, many despair in life because of no hope here and no belief in a hereafter. We have an edge on non-believers and if such is not taught and stressed at ND, then its value and leadership are no better than at any other university. What is the use of stating and re-stating the principles and posing the problems of college (and high school) students as to frustration, tension, upset and turmoil, if these are not implemented by a life-style on and off campus we know has worked in our life but which the administrators say does not work for the present generation, yet have not tried on the present generation. Certainly human nature has not changed and Christ's teachings have not changed. Why be so wishy-washy? We are willing to recruit applicants for ND who and whose parents are willing to follow the rules and regulations. End of summary of 20th-reunion class of 1950 feelings. Any comments?

BLESS US ALL

I write as a member of the class of '45 (47 Law). I like the layout of Notre Dame ALUMNUS. I have been excited and thrilled as I read the magazine. It sounds like ND is really keeping "pace" with the times.

Bless you all.
