

The Soldiers of The Cross

Heroism of The Cross
or Nuns and Guests on The Battlefield

of

in the War

American
in the War

Heroism of The Cross

or

Nuns and Guests on The Battlefield

Contents

Rev. J. H. Lacey

Chaplain 4th U. S. Cavalry

His early life - Adventures among the Indians -
The Garryowen Settlement - The Wights of The Golden Circle - Born in Dixie - His first adventures with Federals and Congress.

Chapter II.

Father Lacey's arrival at General Rosen's Headquarters - His reception and mission - General Stanley's Commission - Father Lacey - Menacing to the Army and wounded - Stone River - Mass on the battle field - The wounded captive.

Chapter III.

Father Lacey commissioned as Chaplain in the Regulars - The poor penitent - Enjoying Morgan's breakfast - A large family - The battle of Chancellorsville - His services under Sherman and Thomas - His assignment - He returns to his old mission at Huntsville.

Chapter IV.

Rev. Joseph C. Larrow to S. C.

page 61) Chapter 6th Missouri family, ~~and~~ ~~of the~~ family.

The order of the Holy Cross - what it has done - Sketch of Father Larrow, ^{early} life - The joins front army in front of Beckburg - The capture of General Grant, Chesman and Ewing - His visit to the camps and hospitals.

Chapter V.

page 78

Few Catholics and a number of refugees in hospitals - Pious soldiers saving their temporary church from destruction - The house The Red Cross - His captivity and services there
- Celebrating mass under fire.

page 95)

Chapter VI.

He visits Father Larrow visits a black priest
His labors and services among the soldiers Moralizing over a dead soldier - The explosion of a mine - A negro surprise - A surgeon brought to his services - An important event.

Chapter VII.

107

Foster carries away —

Welcome intelligence — Surrender of bunking —
This letter to the Foster Promised — Foster carries and his family of ^{ladies} ~~ladies~~ — A following March the conclusion —

124

Chapter VIII.

Rev. R. C. Christy

Chaplain of the 98th Penn. Vol.

The Chaplains entitled to their share of the glory of victory — Father Gallitzien — Father Christy's early life and missionary labors as a priest — Selected Chaplain of the 98th Pen — His services to the sick and wounded in and around Louisville — His ^{brave} ~~captivity~~ in the dugout — The happenings at Stone River —

The influence of the Chaplains on Protestant Officers and Soldiers — A ^{belong} ~~belonging~~ conversion — Complementary notices — An involuntary letter
— He returns with his regiment and is Master and of Service.

Chapter IX.

Rev. Thomas Sully

Chaplain 9th Mass. Vet. Col.

A pen picture of Catholic persecutions in Massachusetts — Grand attitude of the Catholic Church and people of Massachusetts — Colonel Fass and the 9th Mass. — Father Sully volunteers to be their Chaplain — Father Sully, birth, education and ordination — At Arlington Heights — Governor Andrews' visit — The Chapel test.

Chapter X

164

Wagers and Confessions in camp — Burial of Sergeant Pagan — Praying under difficulties — Hearing the confessions of the men under fire — Service on the Peninsula — His address to the "Home Guard" — His capture and escape — Caught in the trenches — A prisoner again — A bold officer — Taken to ^{London} ~~Prisoner in Prison~~ — His release and return to army life — Amusing incidents — His failing health — He leaves the army and returns to Boston.

Chapter XI.Rev. Peter Lisort. S. J.Professor of St. Johns College, ~~Terre Haute, Ind.~~Chaplain 37th N. Y. Vol.

The application to Archbishop Hughes for a Chaplain to the 37th - Father Lisort appointed -
 His zeal in the Service and obedience to orders - His narrow escape at Fair Oaks - His Capture - His duties in camp and service in the field - Raising a new flag - Father Lisort's prayer and address - His exertions to raise money to send to Ireland. Now the Soldier's home and answered him.

Chapter XII.Rev. Thomas Willett. S. J.Chaplain 69th N. Y. Vol.

His reception by the Officers and men - How he cheered the men on board the transport - Pass to Alexandria - ^{to be} solemnity of the scene - His stand against gambling, drinking & smoking
 - Sending the Soldiers money home - Father Willett in the field - Repairing the men before Antietam - His Service under Foster - A length Compliment - He returns to the 69th again - His zeal and Service - Leaves the army at the close of the war

25

Chapter XIII.

Rev. C. L. Egan. V.D.

His mission to the army - ~~Aggravates~~ men under sentence of death - He is appointed Chaplain to ~~the~~ - His school of logic -
- He visits the Fifth Corps and exhorts the men to ~~do~~ attend to their duty - Father Egan at the Wilderness - The Ninth suffered a dreadful loss. The soldiers grieve at his post - He ministered to the wounded -

44

Chapter XIV.

Rev. Paul G. Gillen

He joins the army at the commencement of the war - His services in and around Washington - His services in the field - His attention to the sick and wounded - Mass in camp -
The 42 Tammam - The Prisoner Legion - Dr. Surges sketches of Fathers fallen Gillen and Mooney. Chaplains life in camp. Men's endurance and endurance

Chapter XV.Rev. Innocent L. Bergs

Born in ~~Prussia~~ ^{Prussia} - His parents emigrate to America - His early career - His desire to go as a Chaplain inspired by his bishop - His mission among the Federal and Confederate Soldiers - He is cut of from communion with his bishop - The celebration of Mass in the little Church of S. Peter and Paul in Chattanooga the morning of battle - His services given to Federals and Confederates alike

Chapter XVI.Rev. Peter P. Cooney C. S. C.

His birth and early education - His Cooney joins with Noble Barnes Indiana - The order of the Holy Cross - He joins the 35th Indiana as Chaplain - His popularity with the troops - He saves a man from being shot - His mission of mercy - Carrying funds for the soldiers under difficulties - A perilous trip to Nashville - Irish wit and humor - The March - Its trials, dangers and hardships - Gallant charges of the 35th Indiana - Father Cooney located in the large the hospital on the field.

Chapter XVII.

Rev. John Brady

255.

Chaplain 15 Michigan Vol.

At the request of a detachment from the Regiment he becomes their Chaplain - His services in the field a night and day - A war of words - His services in Vicksburg and Chattanooga - After the battle of North Carolina his Regiment proceeds to North Carolina. The Regiment disbanded at the close of the war. Father Brady's death from disease contracted in the field service

Chapter XVIII.

258 -

Rev. William Early b. 186

His connection with the Irish Brigade - A rustic Chapel in the field - The service - How faithfully the men attended to their spiritual duties - The quest as the soldiers Luther and Ammannensis - Father Early at the battle of Fredericksburg - The wounded Chaplain - The officers magnanimity regarding Father Early in action the point of battle - His failing health - He resigns and returns to his university in Indiana

Chapter X/V

278

The Confederate Chaplains

Rev. Henry Gache, S. J.

This service in and around Richmond —
He attends the Federal prisoners — At the desire of Dr. Polier he joins the army as Chaplain of the 10th Louisiana
— He visits the camps on the Peninsula —
His forbearance, meekness and kindness subdue his enemies — A grateful penitent Father Gache's account of scenes around Richmond — Interesting incidents and anecdotes — A folder says soon to be crystallized in the "Sisters' Religion" — His account of the treatment of the Federal prisoners in Richmond and Lynchburg —

Chapter X/X

298 —

Rev. Charles C. Henze

This mission in Vicksburg — His account of the siege and of the sufferings and hardships accompanying it — The horrors at Vicksburg surpassing those of Sebastopol
— A hell ~~to~~ among the worshippers at mass Heart-rending scenes on the field and hospital — Sad pictures of want and suffering —

Rev. James Sheran.

Chaplain, 14th Louisiana Vol.

This regiment joins Euclid's Corps - The day of the First experience in European battles - Stone wall Jackson - A night scene on a battle field - Jackson's marches - Sufferings and hardships of army life - Father Hubert - at Manassas - The second battle of Bull's Run - Scenes and incidents in Fredericksh burg - How the Father of the Society of Jesus and the Sisters acted - The battle of Antietam and its horrors -

Father Sheran falls back with Lee's army - his visit to Richmond - His return to the army - cavalry in the army - A surprise - His services in Winchester - On route to Fredericksburg - brought in a snow storm - The battle of Fredericksburg - Scenes and sufferings in the field and hospitals - A generous donation - A day of fasting and prayer - Easter days in camp - The poetry of the poor soldiers - The laughter and of the Irish Brigade.

Chapter XXIII.

Father Sherman's account of Stonewall Jackson's death - The battle of Chancellorsville - Jackson's Council adopted - The attack on Hooker's right - Jackson wounded - His terrible sufferings - His last orders on the field - "You must hold your ground, General Ruder" - Jackson's last words - "Let us cross over the river and rest under the shadow of the trees!" - His death -

Chapter XXIV.

Father Sherman celebrates Mass in Camp - March of the army - The latter charge of the hospitals around Winchester - Father Smolders - The march to Gettysburg - The battle - The retreat and its hardships - Father Sherman goes to Mobile - The United States army in Tennessee in order to attend the Catholic soldiers there - His visit to Savannah and Charleston - A terrible siege - Shells on all sides - He returns to the Army of Virginia

Chapter XXV.

Father Sheridan's missionary labors continued —
 An important Council — An officious officer — Harvest of a battle field — A visit to the grave of Stonewall Jackson — The March upon Washington — Notice of Winchester — General Meade's death — Father Sheridan in Sheridan — His arrest and imprisonment — His release — He leaves the army and returns to Richmond and witnesses its surrender

Chapter XXVI.

The Sisters in the Army

Now their services were at first denied —
 All prejudices soon disappeared —
 True Charity knows neither sex, Creed, Nation or persons — The charity that teaches us to love our neighbors as ourselves — What the sisters have done and how gratefully their services have been appreciated

The Sisters of Mercy, Charleston.

Their attendance on the Federal prisoners - Their best donors - Their influence on the soldiers - Ambulances and meddents in hospital - The sisters provided with a general press - Letters from Federal officers and soldiers - Their generous testimony to their services and kindness - Protestants and Catholics alike bear testimony in their behalf -
 Their Christian charity and necessary labors.

The Sisters of Mount St. Vincent, Cincinnati.

The Sisters at Camp Denison - Sister Sophia and her assistants - With the Army of the Cumberland - Their services in Virginia - Their devotion and attention the Indiana soldiers - The sisters forced upon - Their return to Cincinnati - They attend the wounded after Shiloh and Millburg Landing - Honorable testimonials of services - The sisters not subject to the general orders issued to nurses, &c. &c.

436

Chapter X X 1 XMount St VincentSt Joseph's Military HospitalCentral Park Grounds

Resolution of tomorrow Council - The services of Mother Jerome and the Sisters of Charity accepted - Our sick and wounded Soldiers - E.M. Stanton on the Sisters Service - The Chaplains of Mount St Vincent - Dr Mc Glynn's attention - Death and mourning obsequies of Sister M. Penultima Parachley - The benefactors of the establishment - Thanksgiving day at the hospital - Taking letters to the Sisters - The fruits of the good Sisters labor - Mount St Vincent of 6 day

437

Chapter X X XThe Sisters of Mercy, St Louis

How convent and school - The hospitals crowded with sick and wounded during the war - Prisoners and fugitives - One priest baptized over five hundred prisoners - Liberality of the Citizens - Instructing Soldiers in the principles of religion - Soldiers asking to be baptized in the "Sisters Religion" - How they supplied the Soldiers with books - Physicians anxious to secure the services of the Sisters - The Soldiers grateful to the Sisters - Their humility and obedience - An interesting patient - 444 - Chapter XXXI.

The Sisters of Mercy, New York.

The Sisters of the Houston Street Convent in the hospitals - Their services in New Bern - Sufferings of the patients before the arrival of the Sisters - Strong religious prejudices against them at first - The Sisters offer themselves - Strange surmises as to who and what they were -

Things soon changed - Touching instances of love and confidence - The grief of the patients and Surgeons at the departure of the Sisters -

Chapter XXXII.

445 -

Sisters of Mercy Continued

A Unitarian Minister's tribute to the Sisters - The life of Christ exemplified - Writing letters for the Soldiers - What a dying man wanted - Prejudice and Religion at variance - Presents of the ladies of Gettysburg - How Sadary became the Chaplain - A Soldier's faith - How Mackey lost his leg - The story of a dead Soldier - A father's gratitude - St. Ursin's thanks - The grief of a loved one for her betrothed - 493 Chapter XXXIII.

The Sisters of the Holy Cross

Their response to the call of suffering humanity -
Their devotion their services and sacrifices - Governor Abbott of Indiana gratefully accepts the offer of the Sisters' services - The Sisters, under charge of Mother Mary Angela in care of the hospitals at Samaritan - Their zeal not abated by their hardships and suffering - Scenes and sufferings in the hospitals - The Sisters' trials and triumphs - How they overcame prejudice by meekness, charity and good works - Touching incidents - Mother Angela at Mound City.

Chapter XXXIV.

492 Sisters of the Holy Cross Continued

Removing from the hospital - gratitude to the Sisters - Incidents and scenes - Fort Charles and the Mound City affair - The men in hospitals going to fill Colonel Fay - The Sisters interfere - ~~Colonel Fay~~ ^{Colonel Fay} vindicated by Captain Mitty fully exonerates Colonel Fay from all blame relative to the firing on the crew blown up with the Mound City - Close of the hospital labors of the Sisters of the Holy Cross.

(512 pages)

The Soldiers of the Cross
or the Services of the Catholic Chaplains and Sisters in the American War.

By
D. P. Conyngham D.D.

Author of:
"The O'Donnells of Glen Cottage"
"Germans March Through the South" "The Irish Rapparees and its Campaigns" "Dessfield, or The Last great Struggle for Ireland"
"Lines of the Irish Bards and Martyrs"

This work embraces a full account of the Services rendered, both on the Field and in the Hospital, by the Catholic Chaplains and Sisters, in both the Federal and Confederate Armies, during the late Civil War.

The Soldiers of the Cross or The heroism
of the Catholic Chaplains & Sisters in the American War.

Contents.

Introduction

The Chaplains of the Federal & Confederate Armies. - Testimony to their work & services by leading officers of both armies. -

Contents

Rev. J. F. Treacy,

Chaplain Fourth U. S. Cavalry

His Early life - Adventures among the Indians -
The Garryowen Settlement - The Knights of the Golden Circle - Down in Dixie - His first adventures with Federals and Confederates.

Chap. II.

Father Treacy's arrival at General Rosencrans
Headquarters - His reception and mission.
General Stanley's commission - Father Ireland
- Attending the dying and wounded - Stone River & Mass on the battle field - The wounded Confederates.

Chap. III.

Father Treacy Commissioned as Chaplain in the Regulars - The pious penitent - Enjoying Morgans breakfast - A large family - The battle of Chickamauga - His services under Sherman and Thomas - His resignation - Returns to his old mission at Huntville.

Chap IV

Rev Joseph C. Carrier

page 61

Chaplain 6th Missouri Cavalry

The order of the Holy Cross - What it has done - Sketch of Father Carrier's early life - He joins Grant's Army in front of Vicksburg - His reception by Generals Grant Sherman and Tennyson - His visits to the Camps and Hospitals -

Chap V

page 78

Two Catholics and a number of infidels in hospital, The soldiers saving their temporary Church from destruction, - On Board the Red Rover -
His reception and services there - Celebrating Mass under fire,

page 95

Chap. VI

Father Carrier visits a sick priest - His labors and services among the soldiers - Moralizing on a dead soldier - The explosion of a mine - A Negroes surprise - A Surgeon brought to his senses,

Chap VIII

127 Father Carrico's Diary - Welcomed Intelligence - Surrender of Weisklung - His letter to the Father Provincial - Father Carrico and his "witnesses" A March The Conclusion.

124 Chap VIII

Father P. L. Christy

Chaplain of the 78th Penns. Col.

The Chaplains entitled to their share of the glory of victory - Father Galletzen - Father Christy's early life and missionary labors as a priest - Selected Chaplain of the 78th Pa - His services to the sick and wounded in and around Louisville, His voyage in the Amazon - Sufferings at Stone River - The influence of the Catholic Chaplains on Protestant officers and soldiers - A peering conversation - Complementary notices - An involuntary death - He returns with his regiment and is mustered out of service.

Chap IX

44

Rev. Thomas Scully

Chaplain 9th Mass. Vet. Col.

A pen picture of Catholic persecution in Massachusetts - Grand attitude of the Church Catholic Church and people of Massachusetts - Colonel Cass and the 9th Mass. - Father Scully volunteers to be their chaplain - Father Scully's birth education and ordination - At Arlington Heights - Governor Andrews visit. The Chapel tent,

Chap X

44

Veppers an Confession in Camp - Burial of Sergeant Regan - Praying under difficulties - Hearing the confessions of the men under fire - Services on the Peninsula - His address to the "home guards" - His capture and escape - A fight in the swamps - A prisoner again - A brutal officer Taken to Richmond - His release and return to army life - Amusing incidents - His failing health - He leaves the army and returns to Boston -

Chap XI

96 Rev Peter Tissot S.J.

Chaplain 37th N. Y. Vol.

The application to Archbishop Hughes for a Chaplaincy in the Thirty seventh - The application granted - Father Tissot's zeal in the service and obedience to orders - His narrow escape at Fair Oaks - His capture - His duties in camp and services in the field - Raising a new flag - Father Tissot's prayer and address - His exertions to raise money to send to Ireland - How the home and revered him,

96 Chap XII

Rev Thomas Willett S.J.
Chaplain 69th N. Y. Vol.

His reception by the officers and men - How he cheered the men on board the transport, - Mass at Alexandria Va - Solemnity of the scene - His raids against gambling, cursing & drinking - Sending the soldier's money home - Father Willett in the field - Preparing the men before battle - His services under Foster - A high compliment - He returns to the 69th again - His zeal and services - Leaves the Army at the close of the war,

6

Chap. XIII
Rev. L. E. Egan

5
His mission to the army - Prepares men under sentence of death - He is appointed Chaplain - His School of Ego - He visits the Fifth corps and exhorts the men to attend to their duty. Father Egan at the Wilderness - The North suffered dreadful loss. - The soldier Priest at his post Mustered out with the regiment -

Chap. XIV

14
Rev. Paul C. Dillon

He joins the army at the commencement of the war. His services in and around Washington. - His services in the field - His attention to the sick and wounded Negroes in camp - The Forty Second Massachusetts - The Louisiana Legion - Dr. Sumner's sketches of Fathers Dillon Dillon and a Mosony - Chaplain's life in camp, - Heroic endurance and forbearance

Chap XV

(7)

37

Rev Innocent A. Bergrath,

Born in Prussia - His parents emigrate to America - His Early career - His desire to go as a chaplain opposed by his bishop - His mission among the Federal and Confederate soldiers - He is cut off from communication with his bishop - The celebration of Mass in the little church of St. Peter and Paul in Chattanooga the morning of battle, - His services given to Federals and Confederates alike -

242

Chap XVI

Rev Peter J. Rooney, C.S.C.,

His birth and early education - His connection with Notre Dame, Indiana - The order of the Holy Cross - He joins the 35th Indiana Vol as a chaplain - His popularity with the troops - He saves a man from being shot - His mission of Mercy - carrying funds for the soldiers under difficulties, a perilous trip to Nashville - Much wit and humor - The March - Its trials dangers and hardships - Gallant charge of the 35th Indiana - Father Rooney's conduct in the hospital and the field,

8

Chap XVII

55

Rev John Brady

Chaplain 15th Michigan Vols,

At the request of a deputation from the regiment he becomes their chaplain - His services in the field night and day - A war of words - His services in Vicksburg and Chattanooga - After the battle of Nashville his regiment proceeds to North Carolina - The regiment disbanded at the close of the war - Father Brady's death from disease contracted in the service, -

Chap XVIII

258

Revd William Corby C. S. C,

His connection with the Irish Brigade - A Pocket Chapel in the field - The Cornice - How faithfully the men attended to their spiritual duties - The priest as the soldier's banker and amanuensis - Father Corby at the battle of Fredericksburg - The wounded chaplain - The officers' indignation at finding Father Corby in the front of the battle, His failing health - He resigns and returns to his university in Indiana,

9

Chap XIX
The Confederate Chaplains

278

Rev Henry Gache D.D.

His services in and around Richmond - He attends the Federal Prisoners - At the desire of Dr Odum he joins the army as chaplain of the 10th Louisiana - He visits the camps on the Peninsula - His forbearance, meekness and kindness subdue his enemies - A grateful penitent - Father Gache's account of the scenes around Richmond - Interesting incidents and anecdotes - A soldier anxious to be baptized in the Sisters religion - His account of the treatment of the Federal Prisoners in Richmond and Lynchburg.

Chapter XX

Rev Charles P George,

298

His mission in Vicksburg - His account of the siege and of the sufferings and hardships accompanying it - The horrors at Vicksburg surpassing those at Sebastopol - A shell among the worshippers at Mass - Heart rending scenes in the field and hospitals - Sad picture of want and sufferings.

Chap XXI

510

304

Rev James Sheeran

Chaplain 14th Louisiana Colo,

This regiment joins Euells Corps - This reception -
First experience in Virginia battles - Stonewall Jackson -
A night scene on a battle field - Jackson's Marches - Sufferings and hardships of army life - Father Sherbert - At Manassas - The second battle of Bull's Run - Scenes and incidents in Frederick City - How the Father of the Society of Jesus and the sisters acted - The battle of Antietam and its horrors -

331

Chap XXII

Father Sheeran falls back with Lee's army -
His visit to Richmond - His return to the army - Gambling in the army - a surprise - His services in Winchester - En route to Fredericksburg - Caught in a snow storm - The battle of Fredericksburg - Scenes and sufferings in the field and hospitals - A generous donation - A day of fasting and prayer - Coaster day in camp - The piety of the poor soldiers - The slaughter pen of the Irish Brigade -

11

Chap XXIII

347

Father Sherman's account of Stonewall Jackson's death - The battle of Chancellorsville - Jackson's command adopted - The attack on Hooker's right - Jackson wounded - His terrible sufferings - His last orders in the field - "You must hold your ground General Bunder" - Jackson's last words - "Let us cross over the river and rest under the shade of the trees - His death -"

366,

Chapter XXIV

Father Sherman celebrates Mass in Camp - March of the army - He takes charge of the hospitals around Winchester - Father Shmolders the march to Gettysburg - The battle - The retreat and its hardships - Father Sherman goes to Mobile - He visits Bragg's army in Tennessee in order to attend the Catholic Soldiers there - His visit to Savannah and Charleston - A terrible scene - Shells on all sides - He returns to the Army of Virginia,

388) Father Sheridan's missionary labors continued -
 An important council - An efficient officer - The horrors of a battle field - A visit to the grave of Stonewall Jackson - The march towards Washington - Battle of Winchester - General
 Mulligan's death - Father Sheridan and General Sheridan - The Father's arrest and imprisonment - Hunt - His release - He leaves the army and returns to Richmond and witnesses its surrender

Chap XXVI

413)

The Sisters in the army

How their services were at first received -
 All prejudices soon disappeared, True charity knows no creed -

The charity that teaches us to love our neighbors as ourselves - What the sisters have done and how gratefully their services have been appreciated

418

The Sisters of Mercy, Charleston,

Their attendance on the Federal Prisoners - Their best honors - Their influence on the soldiers - Anecdotes and incidents in hospital - The Sisters provided with a General Pass - Letters from Federal officers and soldiers - Their generous testimony to their services and kindness - Protestants and Catholics alike bear testimony in their behalf - Their Christian Charity and incessant labors

433

- Chap XXVIIIThe Sisters of Mount St Vincent, Cincinnati

The Soldiers at Camp Donison - Sister Sophia and her assistants - With the Army of the Cumberland - Their services in Virginia - Their devotion and attention to the Indiana Soldiers - Their Sisters fore and upon - Their return to Cincinnati - They attend the wounded after Shiloh and Pittsburg Landing - Honorable testimonial of services, - The Sisters not subject to the General orders issued to Nurses &c &c &c,

Chapter XXIX

14

Mount St Vincent

136

St Joseph's Military Hospitals,

Central Park Ground,

Resolution of Common Council - The services of Mother Jerome and the Sisters of Charity accepted - Sick and wounded soldiers - C. M. Stanton on the Sisters' services - The chaplains of Mount St Vincent - Dr McPherson's attention - Death and imposing obsequies of Sister M. Pudentia Bradley - The benefactors of the establishment Thanksgiving day at the hospital - Feeling letter to the Sisters - The fruits of the good Sisters' labor - Mount St Vincent of today - Chap XXX

432

The Sisters of Mercy St Louis

Their home and school - The hospitals crowded with sick and wounded during the war - Prisoners and refugees - One priest baptized over five hundred persons - Liberality of the citizens - Instructing soldiers in the principles of religion - Soldiers asking to be baptized in the Sisters' religion - How they supplied the soldiers with books - Physicians anxious to secure the services of the Sisters - The soldiers' gratitude to the Sisters - Their humility and obedience - An interesting patient,

44 The Sisters of Mercy New York,

The Sisters of the Houston Street Convent in the hospitals - Their services in New Rome - Sufferings of the patients before the arrival of the Sisters - Strong religious prejudices against them at first - The Sisters after landing - Strange surmises as to who and what they were - Things soon change - Touching instances of love and confidence - The grief of the patients and regrets at the departure of the Sisters, 453 Chap. XXXIISisters of Mercy continued.

at Unitarian Ministers tribute to the Sisters - The life of Christ exemplified - Writing letters for the soldiers - What a dying man wanted - Prejudice and religion at variance - Anecdote of the battle of Gettysburg - Glen - Paddy buried the chaplain - A soldier's faith, - Glen & Meacham lost his leg - The story of a dead soldier - A father's gratitude - A wife's thanks - The grief of a loved one for her betrothed,

473

The Sisters of the Holy Cross

Their response to the call of suffering humanity - Their devotion their services and their sacrifices - Governor Morton of Indiana gratefully accepts the offer of the Sisters Services - The sister under charge of Mother Mary Angelo in care of the hospitals at Paducah - Their zeal not abated by their hardships - Scenes and sufferings in the hospitals - The sisters trials and triumphs - How they conquered prejudice by meekness charity and good works - Touching incidents - Mother Angelo at Mound City.

Chap. XXXIV

472. Sisters of the Holy Cross Continued

Reminding from the hospital - Gratitude to the Sisters - Incidents and scenes - Fort Charles and the Mound City affair - The men in hospital going to kill Colonel Fry - The sisters interfere - Colonel Fry vindicated - Captain Mitty fully exonerates Colonel Fry from all blame relative to the firing on the men blown up with the ground city - Close of the hospital labors of the Sisters of the Holy Cross,