APPOINT DEAN OF LAW SCHOOL AT UNIVERSITY

The Hon. Thomas F. Konop, Prominent in Law of Wisconsin and Nebraska, Here Tomorrow.

Hon. Thomas F. Konop, former U. S. Congressman and prominent attorney in practice in Wisconsin and Nebraska, has been appointed dean of the Law School of the University. This was announced yesterday by Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, president of the University.

Mr. Konop will arrive at Notre Dame tomorrow and will take up the duties of his new position immediately.

He was recommended to the University as a far-seeing administrator and executive of large affairs, and was named in preference to several other prominent barristers of the country.

Mr. Konop was born on a farm in Franklin township, Wisconsin, August 17, 1879, and received his high school and normal school training at Oshkosh, Wisconsin. He attended the Northern Illinois College of Law at Dixon, Illinois, and was graduated from the State University of Nebraska, LL. B., in 1904, and was then admitted to practice in all the courts of Wisconsin and Nebraska, and in the Supreme Court of the United States.

For six years he was prosecuting attorney of Keweenaw county, Wisconsin, and served as a member of the Sixty-second, Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth Congress (1911-1917). In July, 1917, he was appointed a member of the State Industrial Commission of Wisconsin and served in that capacity until November, 1921. The scope of this commission is broader than that of any other commission in the United States administering labor laws.

A letter of recommendation from this commission was received by the University recently. It praised the work of Mr. Konop very highly.

He also was associate counsel for the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company for one year.

He was married in 1895 to Miss Madge Lucile Nolan at Keweenaw, Wisconsin.

Mr. Konop delivered special lectures at the University of Wisconsin and at Marquette University.

Mr. Konop takes the place of Judge Francis J. Vurpillat, former dean of the Law school, who is now assistant to the Corporation Counsel of Chicago. He will relieve Professor E. A. Fredrickson, who has been acting dean since the beginning of the present term.

The marriage of Miss Julia Lootens, of Sacred Heart parish, and Leo Mahoney, Civil Engineer, '22, will take place October 17, it was announced yesterday. The ceremony will be performed at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Thomas Steiner, of the School of Engineering, officiating.

Reserves Tie, 13-13 With St. Viators

Coach Rockne's varsity reserves played St. Viators to a 13-13 tie, at Chicago, yesterday afternoon.

St. Viators led 6-0 at the end of the first half but early in the third quarter, Joe Rigali scored for the Irish, on a forward pass. Before the end of the quarter, Bernie Coughline broke away for a 25-yard run and crossed the goal for the second score. St. Viators succeeded in tying the count before the final whistle blew.

Dan Lamont at end and Sullivan at half, starred for the Rockmen, before a crowd of 500.

SPEND $55,000 ON NEW BOILERS

More Extensive Heating System of University Requires Some Expenditures.

Improvements are being made in the boiler room of the University. The improvements will cost $55,000.

Three water-tube boilers, manufactured by the Brunswick-Kroeschell Company, of Chicago, are being installed. Each boiler has 2,500 square feet of heating surface and is of 250 horse power. These boilers will be equipped with Laclede-Christy chair grade stokers which will be operated by 4x4 vertical engines made by the E. H. Wachs Company, of Chicago.

The new boilers will be placed in the north section of the boiler room. Four of the fire-tube boilers will be retained and these are to occupy the southern half of the boiler room. Five old boilers have been removed to make way for those of the new type.

A modern coal conveyor of the monorail type, manufactured by the Godfrey Conveyor Company, of Elkhart, Ind., also will be installed.

URGE MEMBERS TO BE PRESENT FOR MEETING

Clubs of University to Take Part in South Bend Centennial Celebration; Meeting Today.

Members of the Blue Circle, the Dramatic club, and the Glee club, will meet this morning at 10:30 in Washington hall to make preparations for Notre Dame's participation in the South Bend Centennial pageant this week. It is imperative that the members of these organizations be present.

The Notre Dame episode in the historical tableaux to be presented in Leeper Park Thursday and Friday evenings, September 4 and 5, will be performed chiefly by men from these clubs, but other men are not barred and are requested to come to this meeting.

Two hundred men are wanted to help Notre Dame do her part in the South Bend Centennial pageant. The realization of the close relationship and the twin growth of South Bend and Notre Dame cannot help but elicit a hundred per cent response to show how Notre Dame in history grew up beside South Bend and how each has helped the other to be what it is today.

The Dramatic club will take active part in the presentation of the Notre Dame episodes and the president, Ray Cunningham, requests that all members of the club be present at the meeting today. Tom Hodgson, president of the Glee club, and Matt Rotherth, chairman of the Blue Circle, urges the men or their respective organizations to report at Washington hall at 10:30 this morning.

George Dever, Edward Kelly, Lester Brown, Louis de Smet, Jim Young and Jack Norton, all of the class of '23, and all from Chicago, were at Notre Dame yesterday for the Kalamazoo game.

Clifford B. Ward, Journalism, '23, is now special writer for the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

The only student member will be the chairman of the Student Activities Committee, although he will serve in a representative capacity. He will have no voting power. He may be present by proxy.

The board will have the power to interview any member of any publication, and have certain direct bearing upon what shall appear in the publications.

The board will exercise control over the DAILY, the Dome, the Scholastic, the Santa Maria, the Juggler and any other publication that appears on the campus.

The plans for the formation of the board were worked out by Rev. Hugh O'Donnell.

Students Trip Rate to St. Louis Game, Too

The rate for the student football trip to Pittsburg for the Carnegie Tech game will be $13.92 and not $12.92 for the round trip. This rate was secured from the New York Central Railway Co. by the S. A. C., under whose auspices the trip will be made.

A second student trip, to St. Louis Louis University game, Thanksgiving day, is also planned. This trip, however, is merely pending and nothing definite has been settled.

ALBERTO SALVI HERE OCT. 8

Artist of the Harp Is a Phenomenal Artist Says DAILY Critic.

Alberto Salvi, who will give a recital in Washington hall on October 8, has been heard in over 200 American cities and in each has been acclaimed a phenomenal artist.

Mr. Salvi is a young virtuoso not yet in his thirties, but still his record of achievements is astounding. When a child, he played for the Italian court, and since then has amazed the concert audiences of both Europe and America.

Salvi's playing is really a revelation to his hearers. In addition to his wonderful technique, he has discovered new effects and hitherto unthought of beauties in the harp. With his immense gold harp, built for him by Wurlitzer, Salvi is creating a sensation and one critic has said, "What Bach was to the organ, what Paganini was to the violin, Salvi is to the harp."—N. IRISH DEFEAT KAZOO ELEVEN; SCORE, 74 TO 0

Visitors Outplayed in One-Sided Game; Maher Scores on Opening Kick-Off, on 90-Yd. Run.

BY THOMAS COMAN.

William "Red" Maher, emblazoned his name in Notre Dame's football history as one of the most deceptive and shifty half-backs that ever played with the "Fighting" Irish, when Notre Dame easily defeated Kalamazoo College, 74-0, on Cartier field, yesterday afternoon.

Kalamazoo, while not providing any great amount of competition for the Rockmen, gave them a chance to display some of the best open field running that has ever been seen on the local gridiron. Beginning with Maher's snake dance from the 10-yard line through a broken field to the Kazoo goal, for which almost perfect interference was provided, the fleet Irish backs continued to set the stands wild with excitement by long end runs and line smashes that completely broke down the resistance of the opposing eleven.

No First Dodns.

Not once during the entire game did the Kalamazoo team make their first downs and of the three forward passes that they tried, not one of them was completed. The Irish backfield, masters of the passing game, are almost sure destruction to an opposing aerial attack.

One of the big factors in the success of the line-smashing and end-running game as played yesterday by the Rockmen, was the perfect cooperation of the linesmen in holding out the opposing line, thereby protecting their backfield men on punting, off-tackle smashes and ends runs. The backfield's defense of the runner was a brilliant revelation, when time after time, the opposing ends and tackles were brushed aside to clear the path for the balltoters.

Cerney Hits Center.

Crowley, Bergman, Miller, Connell and Hauser followed the pace set by Willie Maher, in turning the game into a track meet, with long runs of 50 to 60 yards. Enright at full, scored a touchdown in the second quarter, that was the direct result of an effective line charge. Cerney, opening the game at full-back, fairly destroyed the center of the Kalamazoo line by terrific plunging.

A fumble on the one yard cost Notre Dame another touchdown, but it left Kalamazoo in a bad way for a few minutes, because the goal post was so close to the ball that the Kazoo backs did a circle dance around the post in order to buck the line for two yards.

Scout Enjoys Game.

Another Notre Dame touchdown was momentarily impeded, when the Kazoo safety man stopped Livergood, who had made a fast, hard drive through the center of the line and broke away from the secondary defense for 30 yards.

The Lombard scout, who attended the game, had something to think about before the final whistle blew. The plays were reeled off so fast that it was with difficulty that he kept track of the names of the loose-jointed backs that so easily wove their way through the Kalamazoo defense.

The exceptionally fine weather brought a large crowd of spectators, estimated at 3,500. The Kalamazoo eleven were the first on the field and proceeded to run signals. A wild outburst of cheering greeted the appearance of the Notre Dame team, who followed closely upon the field after the Celery City aggregation.

ACTIVITY AND THE STUDENT

One marvelously beautiful September morning a young student awakened with an idea. Like a typhoon suddenly challenging a ship on a fair sea, he had been inspired with the thought that participation to any extent in student activity is a capricious bon-mot, a treacherous boomerang. Now, in many respects this young student was right. An uncontrollable participation in purposeless activity is a waste of time. Student activity without a purpose is like a ship without a rudder—aimless, deviating, delirious.

Most student activity has a very definite purpose. An extensive interest in this is healthful. The undergraduate must possess the virtue of self-restraint. For want of a restraining factor some men are engaged during the greater part of four years in combating difficulties of their own making. There are plenty of campus activities to keep all interested. No man or group of men should attempt to monopolize them.

Four years of University life are given a student for action. Action demands thought and speculation. If the busy student organizes the effort he expends and keeps at a reasonable distance the proverbial bull which rambles in many of the china shops on the campus, he has time for work—and more work. Genius is no more than the willingness and ability to do hard work. In life man is known by his activity rather than by the fine emotions he feels. Action is no less necessary than thought. Action is putting the theoretical to a practical use. Since our chief business should be not to ponder too much upon what lies dimly in the future, but rather to do well what lies clearly at hand, we are dutiful and at the same time preparing for a successful future by sharing actively the multiple works of the campus.

Through the Looking Glass

When Oscar De Snugglesnitz came to N. D.
He stated, "Oh, Baby! they can't resist me."
He dated the queen of the whole varsities—
He drew huge insurance—but he's NOT at N. D.

The mystery of Hooda's missing "W" thickens. It is now getting really thick, and is more in keeping with our hero. The mystery at last is taking on the hue of a success. Ima Lyre, Smuggle Hints column editor, again states that she has washed her hands of the whole thing. Palmolive speaking, we are glad. A. Sharpe Knows, star reporter, has added very little to solving the problem of the stolen "W." He said, "I find this man Hooda an idiot of the first water." Beyond this he has said nothing.

A cataract of letters has been pouring in. All of them were suggestive, that is, of the possible thief. Some names given are: Wotta Itch, Heeza Under, Fuller Ham, and Mister Ooing.

Mr. Ooing is especially watched because of the time of the year. Hooda himself said, "I don't miss the 'W' so much as though I would miss it if I wasn't looking to lose it when I missed it if I could but get a substitute, and forget about it."

It is very trying.
Hooda's uncle, I Mita Knownut, wrote Hooda about the affair. He wrote:

"Dear Hooda:
"So some one has stolen your 'W.' I heard at first that this might make you leave school, but have since heard that it will not. I want you to know that I am sorry."
"I MITA KNOWNUT."

It was announced late today that Hooda is willing to trade the dollar sign on his typewriter for another "W." Old stuff. They don't put dollar signs on college typewriters anymore.

Have you a little cane in your home?

Seniors are now wearing their crooked sticks.

The one Jimmy Swift bought holds a quart. We know.

Of course, these last two statements are lies: Tom doesn't want to keep the girls away and Jimmy's cane really doesn't hold a quart—it's a gallon.

Danny McGowan has dropped the gloves in favor of his walking stick. He says it's great sport to take it down town afternoons, and trip old gentlemen under trucks with it.

That's a lie too. Danny thinks too much of the cane to risk nicking it that way.

O'Donnel says he's not going to use his until he rates a three-gallon plug, iron hat with a spigot in it.

That's another lie: O'Donnel got the cane stuck in a garbage can and hasn't recovered it yet.

Anyhow, fellas, we're all with you and we think they look great.

COMMITTEE TO RAISE FUNDS

Junior Football Dance to Be Held on October 6, the Evening of the Lombard Game.

The junior class met in the Lemmonier Library Friday noon. A committee on Ways and Means was appointed, and announcement was made of the junior football dance to be held on October 6. The committee will have charge of the raising of funds for the prom.

John Moran, president of the class, talked on the necessity of raising money for prom activities. He appointed a committee to make arrangements for the dance on October 6, the date of the Lombard game. The committee consists of George Sheehe, chairman, Robert Flynn, Howard Spencer and Clinton Gleason. Features and novelties are planned.

The committee on Ways and Means is composed of Paul Rahe, chairman, Jack Scallan, John Stoeckley, Adam Walsh, Jack Kane, Everard Kohl, Paul Kohout and John Snakard. The class officers will work with the committee, in planning a series of class activities to raise funds.

The first meeting of the committee will be held in the Journalism room of the Library at 7:30 on Tuesday evening. Suggestions are asked from all the members of the class.

From Off Stage

The coming week gives indication of being one of the most promising of the theatrical season. The current production at the Oliver, "The Wicked House of David," will be held over until Monday night, when it will be followed by one of America's favorite actor-singers, Chauncey Olcott, in a revival of his former success, "The Heart of Paddy Whack." On Tuesday evening, Ed. Wynn, whose "Perfect Fool" of other years is well known in these parts, will hold forth for the entertainment of all and sundry, and on Friday and Saturday, "The Bat" will mystify those who have not as yet seen that mystery play.

The motion picture houses present their usual grade of attractions. To the LaSalle comes "Rustle of Silk," with the capable Conway Tearle and Betty Compson playing the leading roles. Tom Mix will be at the Blackstone in the cinema version of Zane Grey's "Lone Star Ranger." Keeper and Mischinko in a dancing act are also billed at this theatre for the first part of the week. Mae Murray's latest production, "The French Doll," will be the drawing card at the Orpheum, succeeding Fred Niblo's excellent "Captain Applejack."

The Palace, as you know, has made official announcement of an unusual line of attractions in the way of vaudeville, and, in addition; they will continue to run feature pictures as well as the customary five acts.

FROSH LOSE, 15-0.

The Notre Dame Freshmen eleven lost to Western State Normal, 15-0, at Kalamazoo yesterday afternoon. The Irish Frosh, though several suffered injuries, put up a masterly defense against a team that was more experienced and far outweighed them.

HOLE IN ONE.

W. H. Brown, of Notre Dame, made the fifth, a creek hole at the Municipal Golf Links, in one late Thursday afternoon. He was playing a twosome with Roy Olinger. A foursome, consisting of John Shouse, Frank Breslin, Paul Fleming and Russell McClure had just holed out. Shouse saw the ball coming and jerked the pin. The ball rolled in. The ball would not have gone three inches farther.

It is the first hole-in-one on record at the Studebaker course.
