BEGIN CAMPUS DECORATION

Halls Will Compete for Cup for Best Decorated Hall During Homecoming.

The decorations committees of the halls will start today to decorate the campus buildings for Homecoming. Collections have been taken up in many of the halls to purchase materials for decorations, and many novel decorations are expected. Gold and blue streamers and the Purdue colors will be the main features.

Sophomore hall will have bunting forming a large N. D. on one wing and a large P. in the Purdue colors on the opposite wing. Flags and pennants will be used to decorate the center of the building. Badin hall, which won the pennant for the best decorated hall last year, will have substantially the same decoration plans, with monograms, hall and university colors set off by electric lighting effects. Charles Mouch, chairman of the Badin decorations committee, started work last Monday.

Sorin hall, the runner-up of last year's contest, will have many novelty decorations, and work will start today. The Main building will be decorated by the men of Brownson and Carroll halls.

The students are requested to keep the campus as clean as possible and not to scatter papers about.

The Toledo Jewelry Company has donated a beautiful silver loving cup to be presented to the best decorated hall, through its representative, Ray Cunningham.

A large pennant, which was made by Father Lange, will be presented to "Purdue" by Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, president of the University, and will be one of the features of Homecoming.

Dante Club Will Have Special Talks

The Dante club held a special business meeting in the North room of the Library at 7:30 Tuesday night to change the form of the organization, and to consider some innovations. The members were unanimous in changing from a formal to an informal circle.

All forms of Italian literature will be studied, especially the works of Dante. A series of lectures, to be given in the Italian language, is being prepared; these will be from both faculty members and students. Mr. Pirchio has been chosen to complete the arrangements for these talks.

EXPECT MANY AT S.A.C. DANCE

James Swift, Chairman, Comments On Admission Fee; Tickets Selling Well Is Report.

"Every indication points toward a successful Homecoming dance."

So said Norm Smith, chairman of the Student Activities dance committee last night. Don Gallagher, who is in charge of the ticket sales, reports that this work is progressing satisfactorily, and that a large crowd will be present at the Palais Royale Saturday night. Several novelties and features have been added to the program to entertain the alumni, their friends, and students. Jack Warr's orchestra will play special numbers.

James Swift, chairman of the S. A. C., yesterday issued the following statement in regard to the $2 admission fee:

"There has been some comment on the campus relative to the matter of a two-dollar charge for the S. A. C. Homecoming Celebration Dance. In explanation of this charge, it may be said that this dance provides the only source of revenue possessed by the S. A. C., and that throughout each year that organization finds itself obligated to a rather great extent for matters beneficial and necessary to the undergraduate body. This fact, in conjunction with that of added expense of the Palais Royale as compared to other halls, has made the measure necessary. It is hoped that the individuals will cheerfully accept this immaterial additional expense in view of the above."

MICHIGAN COUNCIL MEETS.

The council of the Michigan club met Tuesday noon in the Journalism room of the Library. Plans were discussed for the smoker which will be given soon. The date will be selected at a meeting which will be held next week.

The council is composed of a number of men from certain districts of the state. These men will promote the activities of the club. Arrangements also will be made at the next meeting for the club's Dome picture.

Juggler Awards Men; Associates to Meet

Announcement that The Juggler has awarded Wilber J. McElroy $5, and Norbert Engels, $5, for their work in the Freshman issue of The Juggler was made yesterday. McElroy drew the cover.

Similar prizes for art and form manuscript contributions will be made for other issues.

The associate editors of The Juggler are called to a meeting in the Journalism room of the Library at 10:30 today.

BARBECUE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

K. of C. Quartet to Sing; Rocky Mountain Club Has Charge of Arrangements.

The second annual barbecue at Notre Dame will start at 10:30 Friday night, after the entertainments in Washington hall and the gymnasium. The Notre Dame band will play, and the Knights of Columbus quartet, in cowboy costume, will sing.

After a short ceremony the meat will be put over the fire and left roasting all night in the care of Mr. Bristol, manager of barbecues, and his assistant. A big pit has been dug directly south of the gymnasium, and the fire will be started early Friday morning.

The menu for the barbecue will consist of roast beef, pickles, and hot coffee. Four 300-pound young heaves have been secured to be sandwiched in 4000 Notre Dame buns.

O. A. Clark has donated 275 gallons of coffee, as well as the use of 1300 cups and 1000 spoons, and the services of the carvers.

Two bands will play during the serving, which will start at 10:30 a. m. and stop promptly at 1:45 p. m. The Studebaker band and the Notre Dame band will give several selections.

The Rocky Mountain club, dressed in cowboy costume, will take charge of the serving.

The Blue Circle committee, which is in charge of the barbecue, is composed of Harry McGuire, chairman, John P. Lynch, Ralph Hager, Maurice McNulty, Vincent Schneider, John Elliott, and Thomas O'Connor.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB MEETING

James Hayes and Paul Martin Are Elected to Club Offices; New Members Admitted.

At the first meeting of the year, Tuesday night, the Shakespeare club of Notre Dame unanimously elected James Hayes president and Paul Martin secretary-treasurer.

Retiring, President Harry McGuire, in a few short remarks, outlined the work of the past year and expressed the hope that the club would enjoy even more success during the coming season.

Honorary President Hines, the founder of the club, spoke of his deep interest in the work, saying that "Shakespeare must be made popular by university men." It is to the efforts of Professor Hines that the club owes its present and future success.

The club admitted to membership Joseph C. Ryan, J. L. McNamee, Pat Buell and Joseph Burke.

The retiring officers are Harry McGuire, president, and Thomas H. Hodgson, secretary-treasurer.

This year's Homecoming is the fourth in the history of Notre Dame, the custom having been inaugurated in 1920.

BLUE CIRCLE HAS MEETING

THE BROWN JUG

With Homecoming and its welcome inflow of happy and enthusiastic old boys, the brown jug is apt to be in evidence. Notre Dame is no different from any other university in this respect; it is no different from any other group anywhere in the supposedly arid United States.

But the excuse that "others do it" is no excuse. The Student Activities Committee and the University officials will do all they can, in those few days to prevent drinking from the little brown jug. All of us should back the S. A. C. and the University officials; all of us, whether we believe in prohibition or not, recognize the evil of excessive drinking, of drunkenness, and denounce it.

At Homecoming it is especially desirable that Notre Dame take a decided stand against drinking by college men. The country about will be watching Notre Dame on Friday and Saturday, and Notre Dame should be proud of all she does on those days—as she stands under the glass of the curious.

Other schools, Dartmouth in the lead, have begun decisive war on drinking of intoxicants. Illinois and others, through their student councils, have suggested to the men of their schools, that they stay at a rational distance from the flowing bowl particularly at Homecoming time. Notre Dame should follow that excellent lead. She can begin with a Homecoming unmarred by disgusting exhibitions of drunkenness.

WATCH YOUR REP

"Notre Dame! Notre Dame!" Those words are blazing before the eyes of the nation, in the greatest burst of publicity our school has ever been accorded. On the streets, in the restaurant and dining room, in the Pullman and in the frat house, our football team is the subject for conversation. Naturally the people are wondering what kind of a school it is that breeds such a type of athlete.

Mr. Lawrence Perry, prominent sports writer, is one of those who have promptly conceded to the public's wish to have information about us. In an article sent to leading papers all over the country, Mr. Perry opens the subject of Notre Dame with the following sentence: "Notre Dame professors accompanied the football eleven to Princeton and conducted recitations throughout the trip. This is the usual practice here."

Of course it is possible that this was the case. But if there were professors accompanying the team, they must have slept in that rather unprofessorial space between the berths and the Pullman floor. And the only recitations of which there is any record were those panegyrics delivered by one James Crowley, who is probably better known as a football player than as a professor. Mr. Perry's opening statement is very interesting as a dream phenomenon; but pleasing as such a prospect would be to the professors, this dream has not as yet become the "usual practice."

Mr. Perry states some facts about us that we might never have discovered without his help: Thirty-nine per cent of the student body is non-Catholic. Rock's mien on the practice field is "always quiet." And further, you people of the world who would have the facts about Notre Dame from a man who knows the facts, the renowned Rockne, besides attending to the trivial matter of a football team, "coaches track, baseball and hockey."

Ye shades of Castner!—The Dome would give $3,000 for a picture of Rock on ice skates, taken after a characteristic remark such as, "Jolly well, Milbauer, old fellow—right well done. But gracious, old bean—you simply must be careful not to allow our new puck to become all slushy!"

Some of this may appear to be nonsensical. It is. But it is not half as nonsensical as the world's notions of Notre Dame may soon be. With the passing of the years, Notre Dame is becoming more and more known. It is the duty of all of us to assist in making her known correctly and favorably. Due to the peculiarities of some journalism misrepresentation is common. Mr. Perry, for example, surely had the best of intentions. But he was ruthlessly misinformed. It behooves us at this time to be most careful, lest the nation, which also has the best of intentions, be misinformed regarding us. Let us as individuals do nothing which might be misconstrued. Let us as a student body be diligent in the minding of our P's and Q's, lest we wake some morning and discover the newspapers' headlines to be, "The True Facts About Notre Dame! Startling, Sensational Revelations, as Reported by the Third Assistant Reporter of Our Correspondent's Assistant Reporter."

FORUM MEETS.

The members of the Forum were entertained Thursday night by a debate on the question: "Resolved that the United States should enter a World Court."

The negative, supported by M. Welsh and C. Ruddy were adjudged the winners over C. Sollo and J. McNamee.

The club will soon begin a series of eliminating debates among its members. The winning team will be given an opportunity to debate other campus talent or, if possible, an outside team.

Through the Looking Glass

The cry of
 The day
 Is for something Serious.
 Consider then,
 In any Line:
 A Sixty.

f. t. k.

About that Last Line. I have given it thought. I have decided to help you. But I have decided also that there must be a promise on your part. It is this. You must not divulge my name. And you must vow that it, the Last Line, will be the veryest. Sum Wun.

In a room across the campus
 There lies a book of verse
 It is the Oxford book, and that
 Is bad enough, but worse
 That this is that the pages
 Of it are hardly mussed
 Except the ones entitled
 With this, "Anonymous."

And thinking of phonograph records since we were not speaking of them, might I tell you of the Jewish person who received his first shipment of them and sold them at half price because they had holes in them? Doc.

Certainly, Doc, you might, but we wouldn't believe it. The Jewish person would have sold them at full price with plasters over the holes.

"Oh wad some power
 The giftie gie us,
 To see ourselves
 As ithers see us."

Inspired by seeing a freshman smoke his first Bobby Burns.

And we wonder, when the public and the humorists and the conversationalists, and the colymnists, and the monologists, and the parlorists are going to have done with that hunch crack of Notre Dame.

A little contrib.
 Now and then
 Is relished by
 All colymn men.

Although there may be nothing to it, some one claims to have seen a freshman praying for an earthquake, said earthquake desired along the Hill street car track so that compositions might be easier again.

Lines

We have our cafeteria line:
 The registrar's long line.
 Girls vouch for N. D. fellows' line.
 We also have the Hill street line:
 The social lion; "Sweet (hie) Ade-line."
 And don't forget the football line.
 Our publication's dead line
 We have, and with it headline;
 And guys who though they're top line
 Get very near the bread line,
 And have to write their dad a line.
 In spring, the campus dandeline
 In winter, twist halls, bee line.
 Oh, we have lines and lines and lines,
 Fat, lean, short, tall, slow, fast,
 lines
 But though we've lines and lines and lines
 We never, never, get some
 Last lines.

AT THE BLACKSTONE.

It is more likely than not that Charles Jones will wake up some bright morning to find himself an extremely popular actor if he continues the pace at which he has been going. He no longer goes by the name of "Buck," and he appears to have been successful in breaking away from the western pictures which first brought him before the public.

His most recent vehicle, "Big Dan," concerns a young man, who, wearying of coaching prize fighters, turns his training quarters into a camp for boys. He meets a girl, of course, a girl who has neither a relative nor a cent in the world, whom he befriends, and with whom he eventually falls in love.

The picture is somewhat out of the ordinary; the plot is by no means new, but the author treated it in an original manner, and his method of telling it is fresh and new.

The leading lady, Marion Nixon, is a comparative newcomer to the screen, or, at least is a newcomer to the type of role which she plays in "Big Dan." You will not care for her when she first appears, perhaps, but as the story moves on, she gets better and better, until, at the climax, she gives a praiseworthy performance.

Army Captain Praises the Notre Dame Team

Denis Mulligan, captain of the West Point football team, wrote to Harvey Brown, the Notre Dame football captain, recently, speaking enthusiastically of the Notre Dame team, and expressing a hope that its success would continue. The letter follows:

Dear Brown: Though my congratulations are belated they are none the less heartfelt.

A week has elapsed since the Irish population of Brooklyn was lifted to the zenith of Celtic jubilation by your great win and although our disappointment at losing has lessened somewhat, our admiration for Notre Dame, Knute Rockne, yourself and your teammates, has increased a thousandfold. Personally, I've lain awake nights paying silent tribute in my own heart to what I consider the most polished football eleven it has been my fortune—sad though it were—to witness in action. To the school represented by that team I have no small word of praise because I appreciate the fact that such an aggregation is not the product of mere flesh and blood.

In the light of what transpired in Tigertown on Saturday I believe we would not be far amiss if we were to present you chaps with the palm as the country's best even if the season is not yet half done. Do continue the fine work; don't lose your edge. As loyal a body of supporters as you have anywhere—the West Point team—will be sorely disappointed if you crack. We are just as eager as your own student body to see you crash through unbeaten.

This is my leave-taking of Notre Dame. In the four years that I've won an Army jersey it was not my lot to enjoy a victory over Rock's charges, or even approach that lofty height. As I say good-bye to you and through you to all that is Notre Dame in a football sense, I want to assure you that notwithstanding four such barren years I have nothing but a profound feeling of pride in having met on the field of play, men of such dash and spirit, who played the game only as you fellows from South Bend know how to play it.

My warm personal regards and the well wishes of the Army squad, to you and to the members of the Notre Dame squad.

Very sincerely,
Denis Mulligan,
Army Captain, 1923.

Say hello to George Vergara for me, won't you? We played back-lot ball together as kids.

Brownson is Ready to Decorate Hall

The Brownson Hall Homecoming decorations committee has made extensive plans to lift the cup won last year by Badin.

The old home of so many of the alumni will be decorated with the hall's own colors, purple, together with blue and gold. Brother Julian heads the committee on which John Waters, William O'Keefe, Wilbur McElroy and Joe Masenich will serve.

PURDUE LINE OUTWEIGHS N.D.

Phelan's Charges Make Good Showing in Big Ten Games; Plays Game Similar to Rockmen.

The Homecoming crowd, which will hover close to the 25,000 mark, will not be disappointed in expecting Jim Phelan's proteges from Purdue to put up a hard struggle against the Rockmen in next Saturday's clash on Cartier field.

With such a steady player as Captain Claypool at center, Wellman, last season's brilliant fullback, on the left flank and Carlson, a plunging demon, in the back field, the Lafayette school will come to South Bend this week, hoping to do what three great football machines failed to do; hold the Irish to a low score, if it is not possible to defeat them.

Against Iowa, the Engineers made a remarkable showing, and retained the same fighting qualities for the Moroon tilt in Chicago last week. Considering that Staggs' charges are among the leading title contenders this fall, the team from Purdue did well in having the better of a 6-0 score at the end of the first half against Chicago. Purdue scored first in the Midway encounter and then during the rest of the game held down the terrific Maroon drives.

In Worth, Phelan has a consistent punter at right half, whose kicks average 45 yards in the Chicago game. Spradling, at left half, is shifty and fast and fully capable of following an interference. In the game Saturday, the Purdue backs from the second half till the final whistle, did not have much opportunity to show their wares, since they were forced to punt on nearly every attempted march down the field, after finding they could not make their first downs.

Purdue has an attack very similar to that used by Notre Dame, with the exception that they have built up a spread formation in which the half-back and full-back take their position far to the side of the team and just a little back of the line of scrimmage, in order that they can not be called for more than eleven men on the line. From this formation may result either a pass or a running attack.

Purdue gave a demonstration last Saturday of bracing, when Chicago with within scoring distance. Several times the Engineers' forward wall held while the Maroon backs bucked the line for no gain.

Badin in Scrimmage with South Bend High

Badin hall scrimmaged South Bend high yesterday afternoon on Brownson field. Badin scored three touchdowns against the Benders; two by regular formations and a third by a 40-yard run by Callahan through a broken field.

The Badin lineup was changed by the injury of Capt. Haecker, who received a broken hand in last Sunday's game. McQuern was brought from fullback to center. Deveraux was placed at full from an end position and Kizer will take Deveraux's place at end. Ben Kesting, who received a wrenched knee Sunday, is back in the game at tackle.

Badin will play Freshman hall and Sophomore hall will take on Brownson. The Day Dogs, who have been the surprise of the season, will play a professional team in Goshen next Sunday. Father O'Donnell, who has been coaching the Day Dogs, ran the team through a light signal practice yesterday afternoon.

BACK AGAIN.

Francis McQuiggan, of Trenton, New Jersey, who broke his leg several weeks ago during Brownson hall football practice, returned to his home last week. He will be back to school again next term.

GAME FILMS.

Films of the Army and Princeton football games have been secured for the vaudeville program Friday night.

Clever Boxers Will Battle Tomorrow

As one of the features of the Homecoming program the finals of the boxing tournament will be held Friday night at 9 o'clock in the gym, immediately following the parade in South Bend. The winners of the bouts will be the acknowledged champions of the University in their respective classes, and will represent Notre Dame in the inter-collegiate contests this winter.

Over five hundred watched Cahill's pupils in the preliminary bouts at the gym last Friday night. Of the fourteen fights on the program, five resulted in knockouts, one in a draw, and the other eight were won on points.

*A New Banded Black Pen
A Special Pen for Students*

Has large ring that links it to your note-book or a pocket-clip—Free

THE idea of a super-smooth medium priced pen with good ink-capacity and a large ring-end to link to the ring of your note-book originated with students themselves. We acknowledge our indebtedness, and we know their idea is a winner for wherever this new Parker D. Q. has been introduced it has stepped right off in the lead of the medium-priced class.

Moreover, this Parker D. Q. is produced by the makers of the Parker Duofold—everywhere acknowledged as the fountain pen classic. Not only in craftsmanship, but in all mechanical features save the color and point, it is like the Parker Duofold. Yet even the point of this $3 Parker D. Q. is 14k gold, tipped with NATIVE Iridium and polished to the super-smoothness of a costly jewel bearing. The cap is reinforced by a strong metal girdle—the only pen we know of, of equal size, at less than $5 with a banded cap.

Try this new Parker D. Q. at any near-by pen counter. It is your idea of a pen—made to the students' own specifications.
