

DAILY CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY

BOTH FLANNERY AND M'GUIRE
CONGRATULATE PAPER ON ANNIVERSARY

One year ago today, a new campus publication was born to the University of Notre Dame.

It was "The Notre Dame Daily," the product of a group of men who had the interest of the University at heart and who were eager to present Notre Dame news to the students and to others interested in it. Through the efforts of such men as Knute K. Rockne, Rev. Thomas A. Lahey, Prof. John M. Cooney and Prof. George N. Shuster and August Desch, "The Daily" became a reality. Incidentally the S. A. C., represented by John Cavanaugh, was also an important factor in securing its publication.

Flannery First Editor.

Under the direction of Harry W. Flannery, editor-in-chief, and James F. Hayes, business manager, "The Daily" made its first appearance on the campus May 20, 1923. Publication of the student newspaper was suspended in June, for during its trial its success was practically assured.

In September, 1923, Harry Flannery again resumed the task of putting out Notre Dame's campus publication, assisted by James Hayes, business manager. Headquarters for the paper were established in the rear of Corby hall. Under the management of these two men, The Daily became a publication of recognized merit. The editorials were its features, receiving much comment. By degrees the staff reached a state of efficiency, despite the frequent reverses encountered during the pioneer stage.

Paper Changes Hands.

In the latter part of November, several members of the staff, including the editor-in-chief and the business manager, were forced through lack of time for study, to surrender the campus newspaper to the hands of Harry A. McGuire and John N. Stanton, editor-in-chief and business manager respectively. Under the direction of these men several important changes were made. At this time the office of The Daily was moved to the basement of Walsh hall, its present location. Changes were again made in the staff in March when McGuire was compelled to resign because of ill health. Stanton retained his position as business manager.

Funk Becomes Editor.

To fill the vacancy made by the resignation of McGuire, Paul Funk, a law student at the University, was appointed by the S. A. C. to head the local news sheet. The Daily shortly afterwards included a sport page in its make-up. Tom Coman, sport editor since its first publication in June, being placed in charge of this department.

Birthday greetings are forthcoming, the first being given by Harry W. Flannery, first editor-in-chief of The Daily and the man to whom much of its success is due:

"Sincerely complimentary salutes are due The Daily on its first birthday. It has now arrived, I believe, at a condition of assured permanency, not only in its life itself, but in its matter and manner. The present style of The Daily is pleasantly dignified just like the approved college prof. Because of its gravity, its opinions and suggestions are, I think, listened to with greater seriousness, and when the time comes, with the growing university, that the paper has improved in every other possible way, improvements that can only come with experience, confidence, and time, it will be even a more important and greater influence in the student life at Notre Dame.

These two men, Harry Flannery, the first editor-in-chief, and James Hayes, the first business manager, were largely responsible for the early success of The Daily, which celebrates its anniversary today.

Pacific Coast Club Elects at Banquet

At a banquet of the Pacific Coast club in the Wedgewood room of the Oliver hotel last night, the following officers were elected: John Kilkeny, of Heppener, Ore., Hayes Tyee; Bernard Macnab, Texas Tyee; Tom Dempsey, Sachem; Gerald Holland, Tytas Tyee; Joseph Prelli, Chief Scout. Bert Dunne was appointed general chairman of the Powwow committees. Songs were given by Alfred Meyers and Joseph Prelli, in Spanish, French Italian and English.

M'CREADY HUSTON TO ADDRESS "CUBS"

FATHER CHARLES MILTNER
AND "BOB" McAULIFFE
ALSO TO SPEAK

McCreedy Huston, editorial and short-story writer, will be the principal speaker at the first dinner to be held by the "Cubs", an organization of freshman journalists, at the College Inn in the LaSalle hotel at 7:30 tonight.

Rev. Charles Miltner, C. S. C., dean of the department of Arts and Letters at the University, and Robert McAuliffe, foreign advertising manager of the News-Times and instructor at the University, will also speak.

Professor Cooney, dean of the journalism department of the University, will act as toastmaster.

Members of the club feel particularly fortunate in securing these three speakers, since the reputations of the men assure entertaining and instructive talks. Mr. Huston, the only outside speaker of the evening, is a regular contributor to several national magazines, among them being Life, Scribner and Harpers. One of Mr. Huston's stories will appear in this month's issue of Scribners.

Scribblers Hear Professor Shuster

Professor George N. Shuster was the principal speaker at the year's last meeting of the Scribblers, held last night. He gave a satirical address on "Qualifications for an Author."

A paper was read by Ray Cunningham and speeches were given by every member of the club. Preparations for a banquet to be held tomorrow were discussed.

A unique feature of the meeting was the fact that talks were heard from the editors of the 1923, 1924, and 1925 Domes, Harry Flannery, Jack Scallan, and Dennis O'Neill, respectively.

Band Will Play at Pep Meeting

At a meeting of the Students' Activities Council on Friday, it was decided that a pep meeting and parade, with music by the University band, will be held tomorrow for the purpose of stimulating interest in the Minnesota-Notre Dame baseball game.

A committee, with Raymond Brady, Norman Smith and Don Miller as members, was appointed to recommend to University authorities that all the trophies that the University has received be collected and placed on exhibition in a centrally located "Trophy Room."

It was recommended that before deciding on dedications of the Dome in the future, a list of members of the faculty be drawn up with their achievements and that a list of all those members who had received dedications in the past be read. Mark Nolan and Charles Molz were appointed to the committee in charge of this matter.

TO START SENIOR EVENTS TOMORROW

BASEBALL GAME, RECEPTION AND INFORMAL DANCE ON ON PROGRAM FOR DAY

Activities of Senior ball week will get under way tomorrow afternoon when seniors and their guests will attend the baseball game between the varsity and Minnesota on Cartier field at 4 o'clock.

This will be the first event of the four-day program. A reception for guests at the Elks' Temple where the "Big Five" orchestra will play for dancing will be another attraction of the afternoon and at night an informal dance at the Oliver hotel will provide entertainment. Harry Denny's orchestra will play for this dance.

Many Events on Program.

Other events of the week include the formal dinner dance at the Oliver on Thursday night, the ball proper at the Palais Royale on Friday night, the state track meet on Cartier field Saturday afternoon and the theater party at the Blackstone on Saturday night.

According to an announcement by members of the ticket committee there are still a large number of tickets not yet completely paid for and it will be necessary for settlement to be made on these tonight in order that dinner arrangements can be made at the Oliver for Thursday night. While several seniors have been permitted to make reservations without paying the balance on their tickets, the committee announces that embarrassment will be avoided by completing the payment before the events of the week commence.

Stags Are Taboo.

Owen Desmond, chairman of the dance committee, is in receipt of letters from Father Hugh O'Donnell, prefect of discipline, and Professor McCarthy, chairman of the faculty dance committee, prohibiting the attendance of stags at any of the ball functions.

A request that seniors do not provide their guests with corsage bouquets for any of the functions has been made by the committee, as it was decided to forego this practice.

Today.

3:45 P. M.—Notre Dame vs. Iowa, baseball, Cartier field.

7:30 P. M.—Freshman journalists' banquet, College Inn.

7:45 P. M.—K. of C. meeting, council chambers.

Tomorrow.

3:45 P. M.—Notre Dame vs. Minnesota, baseball, Cartier field.

K. OF C. INITIATION IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

THIRTY - FOUR CANDIDATES
GET FINAL DEGREES;
MILROY SPEAKS.

MEET TONIGHT

All newly initiated members must attend a meeting to be held at 7:45 tonight. Father Weiniger will speak on the "Mission of Knighthood," final instructions will be given, and traveling cards will be distributed. There will be smokes, refreshments and music.

One of the most successful initiations ever held under the auspices of the Notre Dame Council 1477, Knights of Columbus, took place Sunday afternoon at the Mishawaka council chambers. Thirty-four Notre Dame candidates who had received their first degree Friday night, together with a number of candidates from South Bend, received their final degrees. District Deputy Cullitan and Grand Knight M. J. Hutchinson of Cleveland, O., and their staff, assisted in performing the degrees.

A banquet in honor of the newly initiated members was held in the Rotary room of the Oliver Hotel at 7:30. After the dinner, entertainment was furnished in the form of a variegated program of music, humor, and speeches.

Milroy Gives Address.

The speaker of the evening, William J. Milroy, a former Notre Dame man and orator, gave a talk entitled "With the Passing of Years". Mr. Milroy was ably introduced by the toastmaster, Prof. G. N. Shuster, who classed him as one of the few men living who had found the lost art of oratory. Mr. Milroy stated that at such a meeting of Notre Dame men, it was more fitting that he bring out a few spots of Notre Dame life in the past, and to share the student's opinions, than to make any brilliant display of oratory.

In regard to the Ku Klux Klan, the speaker remarked that people compliment that organization with too much attention. The best method of attacking this class of people is to follow the example of the farmer, who, when criticized by his friends for allowing the Klan to use his field for a meeting place, replied that this would no longer be a free country if a band of fanatics wearing nightgowns could not meet in a pasture in the moonlight if they wanted to. Mr. Milroy also said that when Notre Dame men get out into the world, everyone is not prejudiced against them, but on the contrary, the fact that they are Notre Dame men is one of their greatest assets.

Butterworth Entertains.

Charles Butterworth, the inimitable local monologist and senior in the law school, gave a humorous skit entitled "The Metaphysics of the Ego". At its conclusion he was called back by prolonged applause and gave his original monologue entitled "A Day at the Rotary Club."

Harry Denny's Oliver Hotel orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. Dick Griffin and Vernon Rickard sang vocal solos which were so much appreciated as to require several encores. District Deputy Cullitan and Grand Knight Hutchinson each gave short talks in which they complimented the candidates on taking the degrees.

Rev. Paul Folk, chaplain of Notre Dame Council 1477, gave the invocation. Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., whose name appeared on the program, was unable to attend the banquet because of ill health.

THE DAILY'S STAND FOR NOTRE DAME

*A union building to be built as soon as possible.
 A well-organized student body, residing on the campus.
 True recognition of good scholarship and a better appreciation for the efforts of men in campus activities.*

THE FIRST YEAR.

The Daily is today one year old.

On a Sunday morning last May the first issue of the Daily, the Senior ball issue, made its appearance on the campus. Since then it has been guided along a perilous course to what now promises to be a successful destination.

The men who have had its interests in their charge have done their level best to make it a representative paper. It has not been easy, yet if the Daily has succeeded in becoming a part of Notre Dame they will all will feel well repaid.

The Daily has tried to "shoot square" with everybody—that is its policy. On this day, the anniversary of its beginning, it expresses its appreciation for all who have aided it through the uncertain days. And so that its readers will not forget its objective, it asks leave to repeat the "policy platform" as drafted by its first editor:

"The Notre Dame Daily exists for the student body and has for its sole purpose the promotion of the welfare of Notre Dame—institution, student and faculty. It aims to represent the University to mirror its life, to foster and protect its traditions, and to preserve a spirit of loyalty among the students. It shall make a sincere and courageous effort to print the truth, thoroughly, accurately, impartially, and charitably. It shall endeavor to be clean, to be cheerful, to respect the rights of individuals, of the student body, of the University, of civic and national units.

"The ideals of Notre Dame are those of the Daily. Christian culture and the development of character in students, even at the expense of the development of the technician, these are its ideals. The Daily itself shall always live up to the true spirit of Notre Dame, and shall insist that all men of Notre Dame likewise live up to this spirit. Fundamental democracy in campus life, fraternity and true Christian fellowship shall be insisted upon. Distinguished merit, in whatever field of endeavor, tradition and authority, shall be accorded due respect. A firm belief in the worth of all men of Notre Dame, their idealism and loyalty, shall be upheld, and the co-operation and mutual trust of students and University preserved.

"Progress shall be the watchword. Steady improvement in all academic and campus activities are the aims. Support and attention shall be given in the Daily news columns to all student activities, slighting or favoring none.

"The Daily will endeavor to be one with the University and with its students. It shall endeavor to keep to the course it has here laid out for itself, and shall always bear in mind the glory and honor of our common mother, Notre Dame."

SPRING HOUSECLEANING

During Senior ball week there will be many visitors at Notre Dame who will see the place for the first time. Of course we are anxious to make a good impression. We want to see Notre Dame as beautiful as the spring weather and a little effort will make it. It would be fine to see the grass cut, and the dandelions safely stored away some place where they can be of more practical use. The unadulterated green of the smooth cut lawn is more appropriate for Notre Dame anyhow. A fine step has been taken also in prohibiting the automobiles the use of the quadrangle. These two duties are in the hands of University officials.

Now there is still something we can do to help nature (and the officials) to dress up the place in its prettiest. For the next few days let us make an effort to see that the campus is kept clean of papers. Don't toss the cigarette stubs about so promiscuously, use the waste boxes more frequently. Two places in particular, the street car station, and immediately in front of the cafeteria, deserve special consideration.

These, and other considerations, are only little things, but they will help in the spring housecleaning now going on at Notre Dame and give the place those little touches that help make Homecoming and Commencement such glorious times. Then too, it will help the Seniors put over their ball with all the splendor that should be attached to such an affair at Notre Dame.

What Others Say

Who Makes the College Name.

Cleanliness is next to Godliness, spiritually and morally, mentally and physically. Such doctrine pertains to the individual and to the group which is composed of individuals. Although the standards set by the college authorities are in general terms and usually spoken of collectively, yet they aim at the individual and his characteristics and habits. Like a ball of yarn, being dropped, can in one second unwind what has taken perhaps hours to wind; so one heedless person can undo the good name of an institution, which has taken years to build with one unsocial action in an instant.

It is evident that some few do not realize the responsibility that is placed upon them in order to keep virtue at her best upon the campus. You may think that you are insignificant and that what you may do will not have any bearing upon the majority of students at the institution. What you do is going to affect the good name of the college if it be contrary to the present code of living. Seriously consider the outcome before you act and place your Fostering Mother above your own personal satisfactions.—Utah Student.

Campus Briefs

In order to provide members of the club with some distinctive mark which can be worn on all occasions, the Monogram club has arranged for the presentation of a small lapel button to each member. The button will be given in addition to the customary monogram and sweater.

John Stanton, president of the law club, is in receipt of a letter from Hon. Francis J. Vurpillat, assistant corporation counsel of the city of Chicago and former dean of the Hoynes College of Law, in which he acknowledges the presentation of a senior cane by the class of 1924. Mr. Vurpillat tells of the work in Chicago, and says that he has recently completed an exhaustive brief on the subject of telephone companies and their rights as related to the city.

Stanley Bradbury of the Class of 1923, who is now located in Chicago, was a visitor on the campus Sunday.

Daniel J. O'Connor, president of the Notre Dame club of Chicago spent the week-end on the campus.

MINNESOTA CLUB TRIES TO GET GIBBONS HERE

Tom Hodgson, president of the Minnesota club of Notre Dame, announces that the club is making efforts to procure the presence of Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavy-weight and idol of fight fans all over the country at a banquet here in the very near future.

BROOKINS SETS RECORD

Charlie Brookins, world's record holder over the 220-yard low hurdle route, broke his own record in the Iowa state meet when he crossed the barriers in 23 seconds.

Nine Old Classes to Hold Reunions

Commencement activities of 1924 will mark the reunions of nine classes: the classes of '79, '84, '89, '94, '99, '04, '09, '14 and '19.

The reunion chairman of these respective classes have made all the plans and have notified the members of the classes in regard to these plans. The class of '14, of which Knute K. Rockne, athletic director and football coach, is a member, has made unusual plans for the reunion.

The class of '04, of which Revs. Joseph Burke, director of studies, Thomas Irving, vice-president of the University, George MacNamara, and Ernest Davis are members is holding its twentieth anniversary reunion. Other prominent members of this class are Hon. Robert "Bob" Procter of Elkhart and Byron V. Kanaley of Chicago. The '04 class will probably be the largest reunited class on the campus at that date.

The Chicago representation will possibly be the most representative of recent years.

N.D. Men Invited to St. Mary's Play

It will be impossible for the St. Mary's Greek play, which will be held May 30 and 31, to come to Notre Dame this year, it was announced yesterday. Arrangements have been made, however, for Notre Dame men to attend the play at St. Mary's.

The play will be given in the St. Mary's open air theater. Tickets will be on sale in the public speaking rooms, Walsh hall, this week.

ROCHESTER MEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS TONIGHT

Annual elections for the offices in the Rochester club will be held tonight at the regular meeting in the Journalism room of the library. It will be the last meeting of the year, and the treasurer's report will be read and a discussion entered into regarding a summer dance. Eddie Woolensack, president of the club, is in receipt of a letter from Joseph Flynn, the former president, who seeks the co-operation of Rochester men at the University regarding a matter of importance.

ENGINEERS HEAR TWO INTERESTING PAPERS

The presentation of two very interesting papers, "Illumination Design," by R. C. Miller, and "Instruments," by J. H. Pierce, featured the year's last meeting of the Notre Dame branch of the A. I. E. E., held last night.

At Other Colleges

PURDUE—The 1925 convention of the Western Conference Editorial Association will be held at Purdue next May. Delegates from the Big Ten will be in attendance.

INDIANA—Resurrection day, the occasion for the annual cremation of the winter hats and the recall of the straw headgear, was observed at the Northwestern-Indiana baseball game on Friday afternoon.

MICHIGAN—Ten thousand people watched the Freshmen burn their caps at the annual Cap Night ceremonies in Sleepy Hollow. This occasion marks the climax of the year for the class of '27.

IOWA—At the national telegraphic track and field meet for women, Blanche Bailey broke the making the 100-yard low hurdles in 14 6-10 second.

An outing on the Notre Dame campus in June, is the treat promised boys of the parochial school baseball league of South Bend, according to Ray Hoyer who has charge of arrangements for the event. The outing will be held under the auspices of Notre Dame Council, Knights of Columbus.

A feature of the program will be a ball game between the champions of the league and a team representing Notre Dame Council. "Hot dogs" and pop will be the principal refreshments.

The following men who have been coaching and umpiring the games in the league are working on the arrangements committee with Mr. Hoyer: Jimmy Egan, Walter Bader, Tom O'Connor, Art Bidwell, Walter Cyr, Jimmy James, Al Foos, Joe Harmon, Duke Clancy, James Collins, Carl Schettle, Tim Callihan, Earl McCarron, Fred Shannon and Willard Jones.

Records Slated to Fall in State Meet

With the annual State track meet which is scheduled to be held at Notre Dame on Cartier field this year, but five days away, track teams in all the colleges of Indiana that have entered the Hoosier inter-collegiate classic are undergoing an intense training preparatory to the high class field that will face the starters gun next Saturday afternoon.

The state meet for Indiana colleges run off at Richmond last Saturday gave further indication that the advance dope slating Butler college to be the challenger of Notre Dame at the state classic this year was correct. Butler is the power in the track circles of Indiana, and coupled with Purdue and Indiana, the downstaters are going to make it an interesting afternoon for Coach Rockne's trackers. The conference schools can be figured on to press the competition in several events, notably the mile and half mile. Nay of Indiana is stepping the mile in a little better than 4:35. Spradling of Purdue won the 880-yard run against Northwestern in 1:57. The Boiler-maker flash is also a quarter miler, taking the oval in 0:51 5-10. The mile event will call out some exceptionally fast men when Kennedy of Notre Dame, Doolittle of Butler and Robins of Wabash take the mark. The Little Giant star is an all-around distance man, competing at different dual meets throughout the state in the half mile, mile and two mile. The other schools will not be able to place a man in this class with exception of Nay of Indiana who will fight for a place.

Doolittle of Wabash holds the state title in the two mile and from all indications there is little danger that he will lose it. Wendland of Nore Dame should be his closest competitor, the latter turning in a 9:41 victory on the indoor course Doolittle holds the state mark at 9:45. The conference schools and the other colleges will not be able to enter a two miler doing better than ten minutes flat. Robbins of Wabash, however, may do the unexpected in the distance run.

RAIN HOLDS UP INTER-HALL BASEBALL CARD

Rain halted all Interhall baseball contests of this week's schedule with the result that the games will have to be decided at a later date. There are also a number of past games which have not been played and the managers of the various teams are urged to arrange dates to play off the encounters.

At present Walsh, Badin and Brownson are leading the league, and this week's series will give them plenty of stiff opposition. Walsh meets Off-campus, Badin engages Freshman and Brownson plays Sorin. In the other combats Carroll will battle Cadillac and Sophomore will encounter Corby.

Varsity Faces Iowa; Minnesota Tomorrow

Victories over Iowa and Minnesota, two of the leading western conference nines, will be sought by the varsity baseball nine today and tomorrow, both games being scheduled to start at 3:45 o'clock.

Notre Dame, on the face of past performances, holds a slight edge over both teams, the result of victories over Illinois, Michigan, Northwestern and Indiana. It is an advantage on paper only, however, and may easily be dispelled.

With Iowa today will be a quartet of heavy sluggers, including Poepsel, King, Scantlebury and Barrett. These men have been banging the ball on the nose all season promise to give Irish pitchers trouble.

Coach Keogan's team will not be outclassed in this department, however, for the entire squad has been clouting during the last few games. This is a most encouraging condition, inasmuch as the strain on the pitching staff will be unusually heavy during the last half of the schedule, now entered into.

Tomorrow's game with Minnesota is attracting more than ordinary attention, as it is the first time in recent years that a Minnesota team has appeared at Notre Dame. The Gophers also possess a hard-hitting crew, Foote, Ascher and Eklund being the leaders, while Guzy, the hitting pitcher, rounds out the quartet.

President of Auto Company to Speak

Mr. Elwood Haynes, president of the Haynes Automobile Co., Kokomo, Indiana, who designed and constructed the first American automobile, will be one of the speakers at the joint meeting of the American Chemical Society, to be held at Notre Dame this week end. Mr. Haynes, who is said to be one of the foremost authorities on alloys, will address the group on Saturday morning, his subject being "Development Work on Alloys."

Besides being credited in "Who's Who" with having constructed the first automobile, Mr. Haynes is accorded the distinction of having discovered tungsten-chrome steel, alloy of chromium and nickel, alloy of cobalt and chromium, and alloys of cobalt, chromium and molybdenum, and cobalt, chromium and tungsten. Mr. Haynes was born in Portland, Indiana, in 1857, and was graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute and from John Hopkins University.

On the same program will be Professor E. G. Mahin, Purdue University, who will speak on "Hidden Diseases of Metals." Professor Mahin, as well as Mr. Haynes, is recognized universally as an authority on his subject, and the appearance of these two men assures a splendid program.

DAILY ONE YEAR OLD

"In the name of the past management of The Daily, I repeat my congratulations for the present and express hopes for the future."

From Harry A. McGuire, second editor-in-chief of The Daily, who helped to further the work of his colleagues and to improve upon their work comes the following greeting:

"So the infant is a year old! Surely the staff of men which has worked long hours on each issue of the paper and fought for the very existence of the little sheet, deserves the heartiest of congratulations. These I earnestly extend to The Daily men. It is a matter of credit to every reporter, every night editor, and to the present editor-in-chief, that a year so hazardous, so beset with pitfalls tricky and intriguing, has been successfully passed.

"I fervently hope that The Daily may continue its existence and its improvements. It has a mission to perform at Notre Dame. And with the increasing strength of body may there come an ever increasing strength of soul. My word of cheer is 'Fight on, and ever upward!'"

RECORDS MAY FALL

The state marks in the hurdles also look safe since the Hoosier timber toppers have not been coming very close to 0:15 in the tall barriers and 0:24.2 in the low hurdles. Desch of Notre Dame set the low barrier mark in 1922 and the Hoosiers who have been running in this event during the past season have seldom performed better than 0:27 flat. Griggs and Woods of Butler, and Cripe of Wabash appear to be the hurdle kings among the downstate schools. While Notre Dame is not overly secure in this event, Casey and Johnson should be able to make the run a fast one for the visitors.

Barr and Layden of Notre Dame will meet their hardest competition in the century and 220-yard run from Gray of Butler. In the state meet of 1923, the capital city flash tied the record set up by Bill Hayes of Notre Dame in 1920 at 0:9.4. In the season's meets, Gray has approached this mark very closely and experts are expecting to clock him in a record breaker next Saturday. The downstater has also shown remarkable speed in the 220 stretch, and Young of Purdue has clipped the run in 0:23 4-5. The state mark for the 220 run, also set by Bill Hayes, looks secure for this year. No Hoosier sprinter has shown the consistent speed this year that the Irish flash and Olympic competitor displayed four years ago.

The weight events will in all probability be featured by the work of Oberst of Notre Dame and Jones of DePaul. The latter set up new records in the college state meet last week in the broad jump and pole vault. The Tiger star cleared the bar at 12 feet, 11 inches and registered a leap in the broad jump at 23 feet, 4 inches. Oberst will have his favorite event all to himself, since the state has not produced a man this year who can heave the shaft with the ability of the giant Kentuckian.

Butler won the college state meet with a total of 60 points, 20 points over its nearest rival, DePaul. The capital city team is composed of a coterie of star performers who are being primed to wrest the title from Notre Dame next Saturday.

Golf Tourney Goes to the Third Round

Despite the interruptions of the week-end, the golf tournament has been moving along very nicely, and the third round has been reached in all divisions. In the championship flight the semi-finals have been reached, the four men who have survived the play thus far being Joe Dileo, Jack Adams, Tyrill Bulger and George Ward. Adams, captain of the Notre Dame golf team, advanced to the semi-final class by defeating Fred Link, 1 up, in the feature match of the day.

In class A, Furey defeated Thomas 2 and 1, Cahill won from Wittich, and in the next round was beaten by Prince, 2 up. O'Day advanced to the third round by defeating McGuire 3 and 2, Corboy won from John Barr 3-1, Shouse beat Creviston 4 and 3, Carfagno won from Carton 5-4, and Byrnes beat McPartland 2 up.

In class B, the results of the latest matches are: Johlle beat Dieninger, who was expected to win the flight, 3 and 2; DeGurse beat Carney 8 and 6, Kerwin won from Griffin 3 up, Fitzpatrick defeated Schwartz 2 and 1.

Seidinsticker won a place in the semi-finals in the duffers' flight by winning over Metzger, and Kuhl beat Ehinger for a place in the finals.

The remaining contestants are reminded that the scheduled matches must be played off within three days, or that otherwise they will be forfeited. The fact that the last rounds of the tournament have been reached does not mean that it is impossible for defaults to be given.

PRINCETON—Professor S. H. Weber declared that courses in the department of classics are vital to students of modern languages. Golf Team Prepares for Match with Culver

The golf team, after its successful invasion of the DePaul and Loyola camps, is settling down to hard practice in preparation for its next match with Culver Saturday. The last conference match will be played with Indiana on the local Chain O' Lakes course on May 29.

A tentative agreement has been reached with DePaul to play a match at the Chain o' Lakes course the first week in June. It is expected that Dave O'Connor, captain and star of the DePaul team, who was unable to play in last Friday's game, will have recovered by that time.

Ray O'Connor, a member of the DePaul team, is perhaps the most unique golfer in intercollegiate circles this year. He has only one arm, but this fact does not seem to alter his ability.
