

N. D. VICTORIOUS OVER IOWA NINE

HOME RUN BY NOLAN AND NINE ERRORS BY IOWA
HELP 9-6 WIN

IOWA CITY, Iowa., May 24 (Special).—Home runs and errors figured prominently in Notre Dame's win over Iowa, 9 to 6, here this afternoon. Nolan of Notre Dame and Hicks of Iowa connected with a four bagger each, and Dunne of Notre Dame got a two base hit. Iowa made nine errors which Notre Dame took advantage of, pushing four runs in the second frame. Fabricious drew the mound assignment for Iowa and twirled a good game but bobbled several infield rollers. Magevney, Dwyer and McGrath alternated on the hill for Notre Dame.

"Santa Maria" to Be Delivered Soon

The "Santa Maria," the official annual publication of the Notre Dame Council, Knights of Columbus, is already in the hands of the printers, and will soon be ready for distribution. The magazine contains a very satisfactory resume of the various happenings of the past year, summed up briefly from the minutes of the meetings.

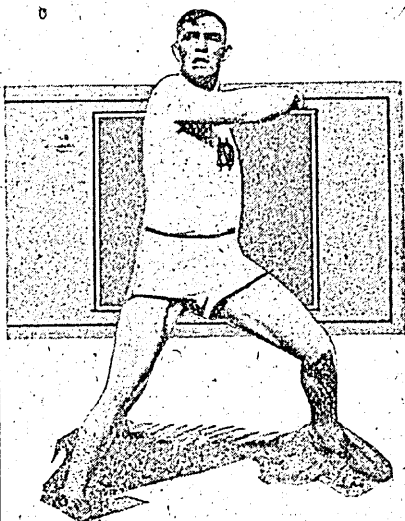

Other articles of note are those on "The Boy Movement," by Brother Barnabas, F. C. S., and Mr. Ray Hoyer, director of the boy movement at Notre Dame; "Notre Dame's Greatest Need" by Grand Knight Nolan; and "The Problem of Guidance" by Father William Cunningham, C. S. C. The volume also contains very good personal notes—serious and otherwise.

An athletic review aptly taken care of by Tom Coman and an excellent book department conclude the publication.

LIKE "TRASH" LITERATURE

Co-eds of the University of Chicago are more inclined toward "trash" literature than are the men, according to figures announced recently by Prof. Robert M. Lovett, of the English department.

Discus Champion

Tom Lieb, Notre Dame's great track star and national discus champion at 151 feet, 4 inches, gave a discus exhibition at the state meet yesterday in which he tossed the weight 158 feet, 10 inches.

CHEMISTS BRING MEETING TO END

FATHER WALSH AND MAYOR
SEEBIRT ARE SPEAKERS
AT NOON LUNCHEON

The joint meeting of the Northern Indiana, Purdue and Indianapolis sections of the American Chemical society came to a close here yesterday with attendance at the State track meet by the local section and its hundred guests.

Yesterday morning the members divided into groups for the various activities scheduled. At the group meeting of the Industrial Chemistry-Metallurgical group under the direction of Mr. C. B. Edwards of the Republic Creosoting Company of Indianapolis, Mr. Elwood Haynes spoke on "My Experiences With Interesting Alloys." Mr. Haynes is an authority on alloys, and his talk was a practical discussion of the subject. Professor E. G. Mahin of Purdue University gave the theoretical side of the same subject in his paper, "Hidden Diseases of Metals," illustrating his lecture with lantern slides.

Five papers were read at the meeting of the Organic-Medicinal-Pharmaceutical group. Professor W. F. Gidley of Purdue University addressed the assembly on "Internal Antiseptics;" Messrs. H. W. Rhodehamel and C. B. Walden of Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, "The Production and Use of Insulin;" Dr. R. H. Carr, Purdue University, "The Efficiency of Protein from Different Sources in Nutrition;" Mr. E. E. Swanson of Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, "Standardization of Pituitary Extract;" Dr. R. R. Vogt, Mr. H. H. Wenske, and Professor Joseph Reichert of the University of Notre Dame, "Some Reactions of Acetylene." All papers were well presented and highly interesting, since the speakers were well informed on their subjects.

At noon luncheon was served in the library on the campus. Professor H. B. Froning acted as toastmaster, and introduced the Reverend Matthew Walsh, C. S. C., president of the University, and the Honorable Eli F. Seebirt, Mayor of South Bend.

150 REPUBLICAN CLUBS

The movement to arouse undergraduate interest in national affairs and party principals has extended to such an extent as to include 150 clubs in colleges and universities and it is probable that the organization will be extended to approximately 500 other colleges and secondary schools, according to an announcement of the College Bureau of the Republican National Committee, Washington.

Senior Ball Week Activities Come to a Successful Close

One of the most successful Senior Ball weeks in the history of the university was brought to a close with attendance at the state track meet yesterday afternoon and at the theater party in the Blackstone last night.

Much of the success of the affair is due to the efforts of Donald Gallagher, Ogdensburg, N. NOTRE DAME PILES UP 53½
POINTS; BUTLER IS CLOSE SECOND

Three shattered field records coupled with thrilling races attended Notre Dame's winning for the tenth consecutive time of the Indiana intercollegiate track and field meet on Cartier field yesterday. The Irish colors finished with a total of 53 3-4 points while Butler, the popular challenger of Rockne's team, piled up 45 points. The high wind that blew down on the field aided the runners in the century, 220-yard dash and 120-yard high hurdles to tie the state records.

Butler Comes Close.

The Butler squad treated Notre Dame to a nip and tuck encounter all the way and might have copped the title had not Johnson of Wabash won the mile and two mile events with Doolittle of Butler placing second in each. Johnson's work in the distance runs featured the track events, his finish in the two mile being one of the most desperate runs that was ever witnessed on an Indiana track. The field traveled in a bunch for the greater part of the course until the last half mile started and Johnson and Doolittle began to fight for the lead. The Little Giant star who won the mile event in fast time against a strong wind, displayed remarkable endurance power. After being passed by the Butler runner on the back stretch, opened a wonderful sprint as the runners came into the last turn and exhausted from the long fast grind sped down the home stretch toward the tape fighting desperately to keep ahead of the Butler star who put up a battle to overtake the Wabash man. Johnson won the mile run in 4:24.6 after following a terrific pace set by Captain Paul Kennedy of Notre Dame. The Irish leader led for the greater part of the last half mile closely pursued by Johnson and Doolittle. In the home stretch, Kennedy was forced into third place by the Butler runner.

Layden and Barr Lead.

Notre Dame got away to a flying start when Layden and Barr took the first two places in the century in 0:09 4-5. Gray of Butler who equaled the record last year placed third. The quarter mile race was another speed thrill in the track events. McTiernan of Notre Dame led the field for the greater part of the way until within a few hundred feet of the finish. With downstate opponents pressing him hard, Luke Walsh drove through with a flash of speed and finished in 0:49.2. Gray returned in the 220-yard dash and managed to equal the state mark, although the wind favored the runners all the way. Notre Dame placed second and fourth in this event, Barr finishing within a few inches of the winner.

Griggs High Point Man.

Spradling of Purdue gave a brilliant exhibition of speed in the half mile run, winning several yards ahead of his nearest competitor. The Purdue flash drew the pole but mingled with the field around the oval for a lap and a half till the home stretch was entered and he brought out his reserve to win easily in 1:57.8. Robbins of Wabash flashed by Cox for second place within a few feet of the finish.

Griggs of Butler, high point man of the meet with two firsts and a second, won his heat in the high hurdles in 0:16. Johnson of Notre Dame won the second heat in 0:15 4-5, but failed to place in the finals which the Butler star copped in 0:15 2-5. Woods of Butler came in for second place while (Continued on page four.)

THE CHEMISTS.

Notre Dame has just been host to the chemists of Indiana. Hundreds of men in that line were in attendance at the first joint meeting of the society in the state.

In this way Notre Dame has taken a place in the front ranks along another line. Notre Dame chemists were instrumental in bringing some of the biggest men in the field, such as Dr. Gerald L. Wendt, chairman of the Chicago section of the American Chemical society, and Mrs. Lee F. Supple, also of Chicago, and were in charge of all details of the program.

They have done a great work. It is pleasing to note the healthy interest in their life work. The chemists have a difficult course and a difficult work, and they realize it. In order to get the most possible out of their college education they worked for the convention and got it. Thus they reaped the benefits of their labor.

Good work chemists! Keep it up.

A SMALL CAUSE AND BIG EFFECT.

Termites, or "white ants," are often blamed for the backwardness of the tropics. The little insects have an insatiable appetite for woodhouses, furniture; stores and fences fall to dust altho a few days before they appeared perfectly sound on the surface. Railroads through tropical forests can not use wooden ties, but must import, at a great cost, steel and iron ties which are not food for the ants.

The insects, it is reported, are not fooled when the wood is made into books, and they work their way through a 12-volume set in a short time.

The tropics are naturally a backward region, and many causes for this have been advanced, the chief one being that the climate is such that it causes laziness. The "white ant" theory is one of the late ones. It is a plausible one, and illustrates that small causes often have big effects.

This does not excuse the inhabitants of tropical regions for their backwardness. A people is progressive only when it overcomes obstacles. They need more steel ties in the tropics.

MAYBE; PERHAPS.

The pendulum of our national life is, perhaps, on a returning oscillation, or is, at least, at the point of poise. It seems that we have become surfeited of ultra-intellectualism, intelligensia, foolosophy, and flappers. Now that almost all youth agrees with the conventions of unconventionality; now that the magazine with the largest circulation is one of a type that is intended for these youths; now that these youths have created about all the havoc in recognized standards that they can; it seems that we may have a return to normalcy.

And yet; maybe not. If it is true that all life moves in rather regular pendulum swings, that movements, economic, political, and sociological, can be definitely traced by them; and it seems they can, we are in for yet more of this chaoticism. We are not yet as depraved as the ninnies who listened to Boccacio, nor do our society gatherings all delight in the stories that made the Good Queen Bess guffaw, and pirouet in merry glee.

Perhaps, this seeming halt in the swing pendulum is illusory, because seen from a post-Lenten angle. To some of us, however, too much is enough.

The height of usefulness is to keep out of other people's way.

Never buy anything you don't need; and don't need anything you haven't the cash to pay for.

A girl inquired of a "heart adviser" whether it was improper for her to wink at her boy fiends. She must have been tongue-tied.

What Others Say

CREATIVE ART

Romance, much as it is abused by the realists, is the great creative force in art. As man lets his fancies go and creates life in the glowing colors that he would like to see, rather in the drab shadings that really exist, he builds for himself an ideal. Gradually this ideal is made familiar and acceptable to his readers until they unconsciously begin to incorporate it into their own character.

Realism, on the other hand, has not this creative power. The quiet colors of life as they appear are all too familiar to us. We may be ready to read a realistic description of some past age for the historical background of that period, but there is little incentive to dabble in the realistic productions of the present age. They seem trite and trivial when compared with the great examples that are painted by men who have the vision to look ahead and create new racial ideals.

Taking an idealistic view of the things of life as the romanticist does, he gives his readers something to strive after. They gain in vision of the perfection of character and physical being that they seldom if ever see in life. Perceiving an ideal of architectural beauty which an artist has produced upon canvas, the citizen is subtly influenced towards making his own home more artistic. In the same he may be moved in the direction of higher intellectual attainments and more perfect physical ideals.—Daily Iowan.

THE PENALTY FOR THINKING

A short time ago the son of the president of Rochester University was put out of a class in ethics at that institution for having "too far advanced ideas." The young man is reported to have said that he was an anarchist, that he did not believe in law because law meant forcing people to do what they ought to do of their own accord, that he was an atheist, an iconoclast; he was put out for arguing with the instructor on everything which the wise man taught. What else the man in question may have said or done is not generally known. He may have solved problems which the sages have never solved and which the instructor was afraid to give out, he may have been disagreeably blatant, said things which may have shocked any good and fearful New Englander who might be teaching in an institution in New York. Yet he was put out of the class for having ideas which were too far advanced, for endeavoring to get at the fundamentals of life, for trying to rise above the lowly plane of American thought to the lofty level of Greek philosophy. And this in an institution of learning!

Again we say, in the name of heaven, what is this thing which men call education?—Daily Cardinal.

THE OPEN FORUM

Editor, Notre Dame Daily:

Next Thursday being a holy day of obligation, and the Friday following being a national holiday, there will be no classes held at the University to our knowledge. Now it happens that there are many students who have no classes on Saturday, May 31, and as a result of good fortune will enjoy a four day vacation. But it also happens, that there are some who will have classes on Saturday. We are among these unfortunates who will be unable to take a four day recess unless we resort to cutting classes. Now it sure would bring joy to many hearts if an official bulletin should be issued stating that "There will be no classes on Saturday morning, May 31." Wouldn't we give a big "U. N. D." for the author of such a bulletin?

Optimistically,

New Offerings on Stage and Screen

ORPHEUM—"Why Men Leave Home."

PALACE—"Those Who Dance."
BLACKSTONE — "Between Friends."

OLIVER—"Foolish Wives."

The Palace bill this week assays high in comedy content. Mullen and Francis in "Take a Chance," Millia-Bart Co. in "The Baggage Smashers," and Tabor and Greene as "Two Dark Knights," are all laugh-provokers. In addition we have the Chalfonte Sisters in a song and dance act, and the muscular Kronos, who bends iron bars with ridiculous ease. The picture is called "Those Who Dance," starring Blanche Sweet.

At the Blackstone we have Lou Tellegen, Norman Kerry and Anna Q. Nilsson in "Between Friends." The vaudeville includes "Bohemian Nights," Kraft and Lamont in "Put Up the Lights," and "The Mounters."

Helene Chadwick and Lewis Stone invite you to the Orpheum to see "Why Men Leave Home." The picture, which is billed as the solution to the domestic problem, will fulfill a long felt need.

The Oliver returns to the movies with a short run of "Foolish Wives," featuring Erich von Stroheim.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY—More than 60 freshmen numeral men will be tended a banquet by the Athletic Association. An out of town speaker has been secured to deliver the address. This is an annual fete for th freshmen numeral men.

At Other Colleges

OHIO STATE UNIVRESITY—

A new organization known as the Bucket and Dipper club has assumed the responsibility for seeing that freshmen wear the headgear that is traditionally assigned to them at Ohio State University. Some of the yearlings who were bold enough to disregard this rule were speedily shown their mistake by means of Mirror Lake, the time honored institution of correction at Ohio State.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE—When Chester Bump receives his degree in pharmacy next June at O. A. C., his mother, too, will receive a sheepskin from the same college. Mrs. Bump keeps house for her husband and two sons and takes a full course at the college besides. She was first a student at O. A. C. in 1896 but left to be married, and until now has not been able to find time to complete her course in home economics.

PENN COLLEGE—Sixteen freshmen were given the head clip by a vigilance committee for violating college traditions.

COE COLLEGE—What is belived to be the first manhating sorority, Nu Omega Nu, has been organized. It is said that the sorority may become national, with chapters on many campuses. Co-eds in California, Massachusetts, and Wisconsin have petitioned for membership.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY—Deposits of quicksand discovered on the site of the new bowl recently, made it necessary to discontinue the work. Consulting engineers decided that the site of the bowl must be moved.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA —There will be a big all-college circus, with between 500 and 700 people participating.

D-A-R-T-M-O-U-T-H—"The Dartmouth" is the oldest college paper in the United States. It was founded in 1800, and had Daniel Webster as one of its first editors.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE—A total of 1,122 out of the 1,870 men students enrolled or more than 60 per cent, declare that they are self-supporting, according to Dr. A. A. Holtz, men's adviser.

EUREKA COLLEGE—The old custom of burying a fruit cake at the beginning of the senior year and unearthing it at commencement time has been revived by the senior class. It is customary for the junior class, provided they found the cake, to change the hiding place. There it would remain until their senior year.

Notre Dame Meets Badgers Tomorrow

The last big home game of the 1924 baseball card will be played on Cartier field tomorrow afternoon when Notre Dame clashes with the Wisconsin Badgers in the first of a home and home series. The only other game remaining on the schedule for the home diamonds is the engagement with the Michigan Aggies.

A triumph over Wisconsin will complete what may easily be called one of the most successful baseball seasons run off at Notre Dame in several years. The Badgers have a powerful club this year that will tax every department of the Notre Dame nine. The Badger mentor carries a coterie of dependable pitchers. Who his choice will be for the encounter with Notre Dame has not yet been announced, but he will probably select one of the following three: Luther, Johnson or Christiansen.

On two occasions, the Cardinals have found Purdue club a special jinx, the second meeting resulting disastrously for the Badgers. The first meeting required twelve innings to complete the slug fest which Wisconsin won, 10 to 9. The second game went to the Boiler-makers and on both occasions, the Hoosiers found little difficulty in hitting the Cardinal twirlers. Wisconsin's meeting with Illinois gave the Badgers a big boost in the conference ranks, since Illinois was leading the Big Ten with a perfect record. Wisconsin stepped on the Illinois field and handed the title hopes of Coach Lundgren a cutting defeat, the final total being 3 to 1. Notre Dame defeated Illinois the day previous by a score of 7 to 0. Dugan in the right garden for Wisconsin has proven to be a prominent factor in the Badger's work this season. Among his teammates who have also made their presence felt at bat are Luther, Goos and Christiansen. The probable line-up for Wisconsin will be: Tangen, 3b.; Elligson, ss.; Ascherner, c.; Emanuel, cf.; Goos, 2b.; Servatius, lf., and Steer, 1b.

FALVEY TWIRLS

Dick Falvey, former Notre Dame star twirler, will be on the mound this afternoon for Nappanee when the Syracuse-Milford nine opposes the Nappanee diamond dusters in the latter's ball park. Falvey began his pro-ball career with Nappanee and went from there to the White Sox. An injury to his arm forced him out of the big circuit after he had gone to play in Beaumont, Texas.

NEW STRIKE-OUT RECORD

Walter Johnson, veteran American league pitcher, broke his own strike-out record Friday afternoon when he fanned fourteen men while shutting out the White Sox, 4 to 0. He surpassed his former record by two strike-outs. In the second, third and fifth frames, he fanned every batter.

Many questions will be raised and left unanswered between now and the day of the Gibbons-Carpentier fight at Michigan City. After the battle is over there will be a great many "ifs" in the air, and ring followers all over the country will fight the battle over again. The pre-dope, as dope goes, says that the outcome of the fistic engagement will be decided on the relative speed of the two fighters.

Gibbons has the edge in the matter of a consistent past. The St. Paul battler ever since he mixed it with Dempsey at Shelby, has been hitting along at a normal pace in comparison with the course followed by the idol of France. Carpentier has fought some rather hectic fights since he last appeared in America. There is a big possibility that he will not be able to show that flash of speed which came so near to giving him the title belt in the Dempsey mixer. After his argument with Siki, he lost interest in the ring game and has not given so much time to training since then as he has since he signed to box Gibbons.

Gibbons is to the ring what a confident batter is at the plate—a picture. He is like a well oiled machine, his temper seldom varying with the strain of the fight. Carpentier represents a bundle of nerves that are strung to the limit when the opening gong sounds. Within a few days it will be decided whether or not the fastest man in the ring is able to come back and offer a representative showing against his American antagonist. The Freshman was truly the fastest human in the ring when he fought Dempsey.

Time will have its relentless effects on both men. Courage is an incidental. Physical stamina is the king pin of the game. Gibbons will soon know whether or not Georges still holds that beautiful long range cannon that came so close to being Dempsey's Waterloo.

Last Lap of Inter-Hall Season Opens

Interhall baseball teams will begin the semi-final games of the schedule today, weather conditions permitting. The Off-campus aggregation is the only team in the league to have its full number of games played up to date. Badin has played all but one of its contests, while Walsh, Brownson, Corby and Sorin have met all but two of their scheduled opponents. Carroll and Freshman still have three postponed contests to decide, while Cadillac and Sophomore have played but three games each all season.

The teams will take the field today with the same standing as last week with the exception of Walsh and Day who played last week. Walsh will have a strong opponent in Corby this week. As the season has progressed Corby has developed into one of the strongest squads in the league. In view of the fact that the Off-campus team came so near to defeating Walsh, the Badin crew is expecting a hard tussle when it meets Day this week. Carroll and Freshman will take the field against each other with the same percentage. Both nines got off to a winning start, but in their last engagements have lost mainly through errors. Either Ronay or Besten will take the mound for the Carrollites, while Eirk will probably do the hurling for the Freshmen.

Both Cadillac and Sorin are tied in last place, and when the two aggregations meet it promises to be a hard fought battle. Sorin has five defeats and the Exiles three. Sophomore will attempt to push Brownson out of third place when

N. D. TRACKMEN WIN

Casey of Notre Dame scored third. Frank Milbauer of Notre Dame started the field events with a win in the shot put with a mark of 43 feet, 1 inch, just one inch short of the state record. Griggs of Butler who was doped to win the shot earned second place while Jones of Purdue and Thorn of Wabash placed in order.

Oberst in the javelin and Harrington in the pole vault, provided the big thrills of the field events by shattering state marks. Oberst broke his own mark of 181 feet, 2 inches, which he set in the state classic last year. Harrington tumbled the state record in the pole vault which had stood since 1914. Notre Dame's javelin star registered in the vicinity of 188 feet when he made his first few throws. With the rest of the competition fallen far behind him, the Kentucky giant sent the spear off with a mighty heave to register the winning mark, 202 feet, 7 inches.

Vaults 12 Feet, 7 1-2 Inches.

In the pole vault, Harrington upset the dope that was most certain to come true when he won over Jones, DePauw's Olympic hope with a vault of 12 feet, 7 1-2 inches. This is the best mark the Irish star has made both in competition and in practice. The field fell out when the bar began to go over 12 feet and Jones and Harrington began a duel for the Indiana pole vault title. Harrington, clearing the bar at 12 feet, 7 inches, had an inch of two to spare.

Jones came up to expectations in the broad jump after tying with the field in the high jump at 5 feet, 11 inches. Pence of Purdue who set the state mark in the broad jump in the state meet at Purdue last year failed to land a place. The DePauw star bettered the mark by one inch while Northam of Butler came in second and Livergood third for Notre Dame.

The mile relay race which completed the eleventh annual classic went to Butler by several yards with Notre Dame in second place and Purdue coming in for third. Kilgore leading off for the Butlers secured a huge lead over DeHooe of Notre Dame but Hamling and McTiernan running in order for Notre Dame cut down the distance by brilliant running. Luke Walsh, running anchor, took the baton in third place and caught the Purdue runner on the back stretch. An even break on the start of the last quarter probably would have given Notre Dame the relay.

The order in which they finished is as follows: Notre Dame, 53 3-4; Butler, 45; Wabash, 23; DePauw, 17 3-4; Purdue, 16 3-4; Indiana, 4 3-4.

UTAH AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE—The annual "A" day was celebrated recently. A general clean-up of the campus, in which all students participate and a celebration after the work was finished, made up the program. Class rushes and contests were held and meals were served by the college. Everyone participated; and it is said that a large sum of money is thus saved by student labor.

The Cadillac team will play at Roanoke, Indiana, this afternoon.
