Co-education slated to begin in fall

by Jim Raley

The University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College announced Saturday that initial steps have begun which will eventually make the two schools substantially coeducational with each other. Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, and Msgr. John McGrath, president of St. Mary's, announced the appointment of Rev. Charles Sheedy as Special Assistant to the Presidents of Notre Dame and St. Mary's. Father Sheedy will have the authority to establish both the principles and the operational details of the coeducational program. This coeducational effort will be inaugurated in September, 1969.

Sharing classes in four freshman liberal arts courses will be 245 freshmen from each college. These classes are The Humanities Seminar, World Civilization, Political Science or Government, and Introductory Sociology.

The present co-exchange program, which had been confined this year largely to junior and senior students, will be expanded at both levels as well as introducing the program to the sophomore classes.

"A total of 348 St. Mary's students are taking courses at Notre Dame and 367 Notre Dame students are enrolled in classes at St. Mary's under the plan this semester. These figures will either double or triple next year," stated Father Sheedy.

Regarding the initiation of the freshman coeducational program, Father Sheedy said, "Notices will be sent to the parents of all freshmen planning to attend at both campuses to acquaint the students with the coeducation program, giving the students themselves an option of whether or not they wish to participate in this program. The students that will then participate will be chosen randomly from the group that desired to participate."

According to Father Hesburgh and Msgr. McGrath, Notre Dame and St. Mary's will seek to develop a men to women ratio of 3-1 eventually in classes on both campuses. To make such a ratio attainable, St. Mary's will expand its freshman class to between 450 and 500 students this fall, anticipating an overall enrollment of 1,700 by 1971. Notre Dame's freshman enrollment will be maintained at its present 1,500 level.

For the initial phase of the coeducational program, students will still receive their diplomas from their own institution. However, Father Sheedy said, "If a student from St. Mary's becomes actively involved in her academic program at Notre Dame, therefore, it would be logical that she would receive her degree from Notre Dame rather than St. Mary's."

While Notre Dame and St. Mary's are committed to become

TMH announces University forum to begin next year

by Marty Graham

Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of the University, announced plans for future forums between members of the University community at last Friday's student-Board of Trustees meeting in the Engineering Auditorium. This meeting, which had not been announced until early Friday afternoon, was the result of student protest to the decision that Friday's Board of Trustees meeting be closed to students.

Hesburgh stated that starting next fall, several open forums, led by student, faculty, administration, and trustee heads, will meet to discuss important issues facing the country as well as the University.

The plans for Friday's 5:00 meeting between nine trustee members and students had not been made known to the student body until about 12:45 p.m. that afternoon. Originally student body president Phil

McKenna, vice-president Fred Dedrick, Ron Mastriana, and student union director Denny Clark were scheduled to meet with Hesburgh and several board members after Friday afternoon's trustee meeting. Hesburgh, however, decided to open the meeting to students and faculty members after he learned of the gathering of about 100 students on the South Quad.

The students were protesting the closed board meeting, the refusal of the board to print the minutes of this meeting, and the decision of board leaders to hold the meeting between the Education and Student Affairs Committee and student representatives this summer.

The students were not satisfied when Dedrick told them of Hesburgh's concession, however, and proceeded to move their meeting to the lawn in front of the Center for Continuing Education, in which the board was to hold their afternoon session.

Throughout the entire discussion, many students voiced the opinion that the body should perform some action which would show the "conservative policy makers" that they were dissatisfied with the board's decisions. Off-campus commissioner Bernie Ryan, McKenna, and Dedrick did all they could to keep the students from any violent confrontation with board members.

McKenna stated, "Militant action at this time would be harmful to all our attempts at opening the board of trustees meeting to delegates of the student body and establishing a dialogue between students and these officials."

The students then decided to move their meeting into Morris Inn where they hoped to confront members of the board.

ND student killed and three injured

One Notre Dame student was killed and another seriously injured about five o'clock yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were riding overturned just north of Buchanan, Michigan. Two others were injured in the one car accident.

Dead is Michael Rosick, a sophomore engineering student from Silver Spring, Md., who lived on campus in Farley Hall.

In critical condition is Michael Buzas, a third year business student from Glenside, Pa. He was taken to Memorial Hospital in South Bend, where he is under intensive care. Hospital personnel said Buzas is suffering from a severe head injury and facial lacerations.

Michigan State Police at Niles said that the driver and owner of the car was William J. Carter, a junior business student from Los Altos, Cal. Carter was treated for abrasions and released at Pawating Hospital in Niles, Michigan.

Admitted at Pawating Hospital and described as being in fair condition is former Student Body Treasurer Richard Roderick, also a junior in business, from Silver Spring, Md. A doctor caring for Roderick said that he suffered multiple abrasions, but was conscious and able to walk. Roderick was being examined for possible internal injuries last night; it is expected that he will be released today.

The four students were returning from a Naval ROTC Battalion picnic along Red Bud Trail, which was described by a Michigan State Trooper as "a road with several bad curves."

The car, a 1964 Pontiac convertible, apparently went out of control on a curve approximately one mile north of Buchanan, slid momentarily along a guardrail, and then flipped over the rail. The car was totally demolished.

State Police said that the car at the time of the accident was traveling at an excessive speed.

Rosick's exact injuries were not immediately available, pending a coroner's release. The body was taken to Memorial Hospital in South Bend, and will be removed to a funeral home in Maryland upon completion of the coroner's report.

Police said that both Rosick and Buzas were thrown from the car. It was not known whether the other two were thrown clear of the automobile.

Lloyd Bucher, commander of the U.S.S. Pueblo, visited the campus last Friday. He made the trip especially to meet University President Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, CSC, and football coach Ara Parseghian.

Bucher appeared in Chicago the previous night and participated in the festivities surrounding a Universal Notre Dame Night celebration.

Photographer John McDermott caught Parseghian and Bucher during the afternoon's football practice, evidently seriously discussing some strategic intricacy of the game.

Seventeen nominated for SLC

Seventeen of the twenty-one Student Life Council nomination petitions taken by hopeful candidates Thursday night were signed and returned to the student government office last night. The deadline was 11 p.m.

The candidates from the South Quad are: juniors—Larry Landry, Rich Meckel, Pete Nesson, Bob Rigney, Jerry O'Shaugnessy, Peter Kelly, Kevin Smith, and Ron Mastriana; sophomores Chris Wolfe, Mike Shaugnessy, and Stephen Ahern.

Three SLC representatives will be elected from the South Quad.

Three of four candidates from the North Quad returned their petitions: junior Ted Jones and sophomores Guy DeSapio and Rich Hunter.

Two representatives will be elected from the North Quad.

Off-campus candidates are juniors Pat Barbolla and Ed Roickle, and senior Brian Moore.

Off-campus will elect one representative to the SLC.

HPC hears ombudsman

President Jim Smith of St. Ed's, newly appointed ombudsman by the McKenna administration, explained the function of his office at a HPC meeting last night in the student center amphitheater.

He said that he was to serve as a liaison between the student body and student government by knowing whom to see and what steps to follow when dealing with certain problems.

He requested the hall presidents to serve as "ombudsmen" in their respective halls and asked that they call on him when personal or hall problems arise which they themselves cannot solve.

"I'll handle anything at all," Smith said.

Also during the meeting, Ron Mastriana said that he has received fifteen applications for An Tostal Queen. But his committee will eliminate ten girls, leaving only five finalists whose pictures will be published in the Observer on Wednesday.

Voting by the student body for the queen will then take place that night in the dining halls. The selected queen will be crowned at Friday night's beach party and will reign for the entire weekend. One of her functions will be to award trophies and ribbons to the winners of the various events.

THE WORLD TODAY

Life reports Fortas given check

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Life Magazine reported Sunday that Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas accepted, then later returned, a check for $2,000 from a family foundation involving financier Louis Wolfson, now imprisoned on federal stock manipulation charges. The Justice Department said it "is aware of the contents of the article... and currently has the matter under consideration". There was no elaboration of this by a department spokesman.

The magazine noted that Fortas had written that "there has been no impropriety or anything approaching it" in his dealings with the Wolfson Family Foundation and that the associate justice had abstained when the Supreme Court rejected Wolfson's appeal for a hearing in April.

Abernathy marches on hospital

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, fresh out of jail and vowing to open "part two in the poor people's campaign," headed up a march through Charleston Sunday by 2,000 Negroes.

Some 800 National Guardsmen and a force of 400 state patrolmen were on hand for the second massed march in less than a week to the South Carolina Medical College Hospital in efforts to win collective bargaining rights for hospital workers.

Mrs. Coretta King, widow of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, led a similar march to the hospital Wednesday when Abernathy, now president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in jail.

Senate may reject AWACS

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate Armed Services Committee, while almost certain to approve the controversial Anti Ballistic Missile System, is toying with the idea of rejecting another multimillion dollar program for U.S. strategic defense.

The program is called AWACS, which stands for Airborne Warning and Control System. It would consist of large aircraft equipped with powerful radar and radios which would patrol the periphery of North America and direct advanced fighter interceptors to attacking bombers.

The need for air defenses has been a peripheral issue around the committee ever since the missile age was inaugurated. But this year, sources say it is reaching a climax as the Pentagon prepares to select a contractor later this year to develop the AWACS.

Eight die in Viet copter crash

SAIGON (UPI) - Two U.S. Army helicopters collided in flight near Saigon Sunday, killing all eight Americans aboard the two craft in the second such disaster in three days.

Elsewhere, U.S. Marine gunners opened fire in against North Vietnamese positions inside the supposedly neutral Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and allied communiques listed 141 Communists killed in widely scattered fighting.

The Two Army UH1 helicopters smashed into each other at 8:30 a.m. Sunday near Bien Hoa, 18 miles northeast of Saigon, and American spokesmen said there were no survivors.

who were eating lunch. Upon entering, however, the students were told that the board had already gone back to the CCE building to reconvene their meeting.

Before leaving Morris Inn, however, Hesburgh told Dedrick that, in their morning session the board had decided to hold an open meeting between the Education and Student Affairs Committee and student leaders later this month.

This second concession did not appease the students. They had come to the agreement that it was imperative that Hesburgh address them before 5 p.m. so that he could relate their opinions to the board. The body decided, therefore, to send a telegram to him through the sealed doors of the CCE building. The telegram, which was drawn up by Craig Fenech, stated, "150 members of the student body, who are gathered outside, request that the board meeting be recorded and put on WSND later today, the minutes be published, and that an immediate response to our demands be sent out."

The students moved from the Morris Inn to the lawn in front of the CCE building in order to wait for the reply to the letter. Before receiving this reply, however, the gathering dissolved when most students decided to wait until 5 p.m. in order to talk to Hesburgh and other board members. The few students who remained did not receive an answer to the letter.

The ten board members who took part in Friday evening's meeting included Hesburgh,

Chairman of the Board Edmund Stephan, Board Secretary Paul Hellmuth, Doctor Meredith Wilson, and President of the Alumni Association Eric Stobright. Hesburgh's Special Assistant, Philip Faccenda, was also present.

The primary question addressed to these representatives was "Why did the Board of Trustees refuse both to allow students to sit in on their meeting, and publish the printed minutes for distribution among the students?"

In answer to the question concerning the publication of minutes, Stephan stated that many of the things that occurred at the meeting was confidential and not available for release. He also stated, however, that everything that was important and available for release was given to the press as soon as possible.

Wilson stated that students are not admitted to take part in Trustees meetings because, "There isn't any way to give students full leverage in the management of the University and still take care of its corporate obligations. There isn't any way in which students can better affect their lives in front of the board and then to provide a kind of communication so that we can try to understand how you live and what grieves you. But if you sat students with the board, two members with thirty-eight, the two members would be powerless and you would soon be calling them 'Uncle Toms.'"

Hesburgh stated that the only way to begin this communication, which Wilson had been talking about, was through a University forum. He stated four proposals for the structure of this forum, "First, the leaders will be made up of one member each of the top organizations in the University community, such as the Student Body President, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, the President of the Alumni Association, President of the Faculty Senate, and myself. Therefore, you will have responsible members from each of these five groups. Second, elected members from all five organizations will also lead the forum.

ND, SMC merger begins substantially coeducational with each other, the necessarily limited extent of the program commencing in September must be stressed.

Adjustments to provide for an identical academic calendar, an integrated class schedule permitting a greater lapse of time between classes to provide for commuting between campuses, a common grading system and a harmonized examination schedule must be made at both institutions. These and other matters must be settled before the coeducational program can be fully implemented.

Father Sheedy explained that it was decided that it would benefit both institutions by exploiting what was here rather than going in another direction. The physical proximity and the historical connections between the two campuses influenced this decision.

In addition to the central academic phase of the coeducational effort, special efforts will be made to enrich extra-

"Third, the forum will be made up of regularly constituted meetings with agendas aimed at serious questions which affect the entire University community. The fourth proposal is that no group will have legislative powers per se; but that group which has the most authorization in the area being considered at the time, will act as the main power.

"The object of the forum's formation is that there must be some better way of communicating than what we have done in the past. This will be an experimental attempt in order to find a new mechanism which exists at other Universities and is more effective than what presently exists at Notre Dame. This could be the most meaningful thing we could do at this time."

Hesburgh stated that it will take time for the board to finally consider whether students will become members of the board or not. He felt that until that time, the forum will be the most effective way in voicing the opinions of the students.

In commenting on Hesburgh's proposed forum, McKenna stated, "It's a good idea to have dialogue between members of the University community, but it is also important that the students have power in deciding the policies of the University."

Stickmen fall after comeback

by Don Kennedy
Observer Sports Writer

They say that to win the big game in any sport, a team must perform consistently, capitalizing on their opponents errors while committing none themselves. The Notre Dame Lacrosse Club provided evidence for this rule last Saturday, as they were able to mount only one good period of attack in losing to a rugged Ohio State team, 6-5.

Cashing in early on sloppy Notre Dame clears, Buckeye attackman Tom Sheehan (a soph in his first year of lacrosse play) scored two quick goals on a totally disorganized Irish defense. The only bright spot in the first period was the hard-hitting performance of middle Kenny Lund, whose vicious checks helped contain the Buckeye attack.

The second stanza opened with a quick Irish thrust, but after turning back Notre Dame's offense, Ohio State again began hammering away at the Irish cage. The defense, plagued all day by clearing problems, was pierced again by Sheehan, whose third goal put the Buckeyes in front 3-0. Late in the period, working off a combination of passes, OSU's top scorer, Skakmary, broke through to make it 4-0 at the half.

During the first half, the Buckeyes not only out-finessed the Irish, but beat them at Notre Dame's own game—they out-hit them and beat them bad. But the game was far from over. . .

The third period began all Buckeye as creaseman Galvin scored for them with the Irish two men down. But with OSU down a man, attackman Bobby Morin (who leads the Mid-West Lacrosse Association club division in goals-per-game with a 2.5 average) ignited the seemingly listless Irish attack with Notre Dame's first score of the game. Right away the Irish began to hit harder; taking the faceoffs and pressuring Buckeye goalie Ted Abeles, whose brilliant play kept the score at 5-1 after three periods.

as Morin drove through two Buckeye defensemen to score his third goal of the day. Before the Ohioans could reorganize, Mike Satarino, taking a driving pass from middle Jim Laffey, scored the fifth straight Irish goal, capping a thrilling comeback from a 5-0 deficit.

But Notre Dame's inconsistency dominated, as they reverted to their first-half form. With three minutes left, State's Bell put the Buckeyes in front to stay, scoring on a fast break that caught the Irish asleep. A great last-minute save by OSU's Abeles halted the last Irish thrust, and the game went into the books reading 6-5, Buckeyes.

The fourth period was comeback city for the Irish. First it was Tommy Kress, who clicked on a picture pass from Pete Metzger. Then Metzger set up Morin whose marker lowered the deficit to 5-3 with nine minutes remaining in the game. In less than a minute it was 5-4,

On Sunday, the JV team kept its undefeated string going with a 3-2 win over Defiance (Ohio) College in overtime. Outstanding in the contest were hustling defenseman Timmy Baker and Captain Kenny Lund, who led the Irish B's with two goals, including the game winner.

Pitching propels Kline's nine

The Irish baseball team finally got their record even this past weekend as they defeated Toledo on Friday afternoon and then split a double header on Saturday with the same Toledo nine. The season record now stands at 8-8.

The Irish accepted a gift victory in the first game of the weekend as they trounced the Rockets 16-3 with the help of 10 Toledo errors. In this game Bob Arnzen finally got back to his sophomore year standards as he fired a nifty two-hitter. Besides the errors, ND used some power hitting by Jim Geiselman who had a homer and two other hits in five trips to the plate.

He was supported in the hit department by Nick Scarpelli, Tom Lux, Dick Lucke and John Rogers who had two hits each. Everyone hit safely in the Notre Dame lineup. Arnzen was in trouble in the second inning when Toledo took a 3-1 lead but it was smooth sailing after than as ND came through with six big run in the next inning to help give Arnie his first victory against two defeats. Toledo third baseman Bud Cranston won the Marv Throneberry fielding award as he committed five errors in this single contest.

The following day the Rockets came back to whip the Irish 8-4 and in the process handed Jim Phelps his first setback of the season. Phelps is now 3-1. Two round trippers paved the way for Toledo as Andy Toth hit a two-run clout in the first and John Gephart hit a three-run blast in the fifth. The Irish came back in the last inning with three runs but it was too little and far too late.

In the nightcap Nick Furlong overcame Don Wieland in a tight 1-0 pitchers duel. The lone run of the ball game came in the ninth inning as soph shortstop Phil Krill opened the inning with a triple and was brought home by a timely base hit by Chuck Horan. Furlong gave up only three hits in evening his record at 1-1.

The next game for the Irish is tomorrow against tough Michigan State. The game is at Cartier Field.

Nick Furlong gave ND the edge in the three game Toledo series with a three-hit, 1-0 victory.

Soccer

The Irish booters spent a profitable weekend in Wisconsin, taking a pair of games from St. Norbert's College, 4-1 and 7-1.

On Friday, freshman Max Bunster scored three second half goals to break a 1-1 tie and give ND the victory. John Amato got the Irish even with a first half score. Captain Tim Patton blitzed St. Norbert's on Saturday with an amazing five-goal performance, the finest in ND soccer history, in the Irish romp.

The booters return home this week to face Goshen.

Football Scrimmage

From the results of Saturday's scrimmage, the Gold has nothing pleasant to look forward to in next week's Blue-Gold contest. The No. 1 Blue defense stifled the second and third string offenses in a 39-0 triumph.

The defensive performance in the scrimmage (held in the stadium and closed to the public) was that much more encouraging because the front four were all freshmen. Walt Patulski and Fred Swendsen have won jobs at defensive end, while Mike Zikas and Greg Marx replaced the injured Mike McCoy and Pat Mudron at tackle.

Freshman Andy Huff turned in another solid performance, scoring one touchdown on a 24-yard run and setting up another with a 17-yard jaunt. Quarterback Joe Theismann scored twice himself from short distances and hit Ed Ziegler with a 1-yard TD pass. Fullback Jeff Zimmerman went in to score from three yards out, while Brian Lewallen provided the longest run of the day, a 70-yard TD punt return.
