

The Observer Irish Extra

VOL. XIX, NO. 44

a sports supplement

October 20, 1984

Reeling Irish take on undefeated Gamecocks

ND must stop veer in order to break two-game losing streak

By THERON ROBERTS
Sports Writer

The Gamecocks of South Carolina are the next team to invade Notre Dame Stadium, and they will be trying to extend their five-game winning streak over a team that has seen its brighter moments reduced to only a dim glimmer of hope that the tide will turn around. Notre Dame is in the midst of a two-game slide at home. The last time the Irish lost three games in a row in Notre Dame Stadium was in 1960 under Joe Kuharich, when the Irish lost four in a row and finished 2-8 for the season.

South Carolina is in its second year of rebuilding under head coach Jim Morrison. The team did not have a lot of experience last season, as the Gamecock roster was packed with underclassmen. Last year the Irish travelled down to Columbia, S.C., and handed the Gamecocks a 30-6 defeat. But this year, the South Carolina players have come back and appear to be using last season as a building block towards their 5-0 record.

"I think last year's outcome will help us in this game. We got so far behind in the first half that we were playing catch-up after Notre Dame's first five possessions," says Morrison. "The second half was an improvement, however. I think last year's outcome will help us in this game."

So far this season, the Gamecocks have beaten Georgia and Pittsburgh, and are well-deserving of their 11th-place national ranking. Even though it is already halfway through the season, however, South Carolina will be playing its first game away from home.

"I'm not concerned about playing away from Columbia," offers Morrison. "I think sometimes you play a little better on the road than you do at home."

If you happen to be on the other side of the fence, though, it is hard not to notice that the two consecutive losses have devastated the morale of the fans and caused the Notre Dame players to lose at least a little confidence in their own talents and in the abilities of the coaches.

"We are playing a team with a lot of momentum and we don't have that," says Irish head coach Gerry Faust. "But that doesn't mean that things won't change."

Another thing that remains the same for Notre Dame this week is that it must overcome some key injuries in order to perform well on Saturday.

South Carolina's offense against Notre Dame's defense:

The Irish will have another chance this Saturday to prove themselves against an option offense after the Air Force destroyed Notre Dame with its wishbone attack last week as the Gamecocks will bring with them their veer offense.

Morrison has used this offensive formation to become the successful coach that he is and has the talent at South Carolina this season to run it very effectively. Carolina is eighth in the nation in scoring with an average of 32.6 points per game and 12th in total offense with 425 yards per outing. The Gamecocks have an incredible amount of depth in the offensive backfield and have been able to utilize a lot of players, keeping fresh people on the field at all times.

Allen Mitchell
SC quarterback

Morrison has had success using a dual-quarterback system, doubling the effectiveness of juniors Allen Mitchell and Mike Hold. This will be the second time this season that the Irish will have faced the problem of the opponent having two good signal-callers to choose from. Notre Dame was able to contain Missouri's combination of Marlon Adler and Warren Seitz in its last victory.

Mitchell is the starter, and has proven that he can run as well as throw. The 6-0, 175-pounder has completed 37 of 65 passes for 559 yards and five touchdowns, while giving up only four interceptions. He poses a threat to run with the football also. He has accumulated 209 rushing yards, but his actual figure is less because of yardage lost in quarterback sacks.

Hold has performed well in a backup role. Although he throws less frequently, he is still a threat running with the ball. Hold has connected on 14 of 20 passes for just under 300 yards, well over 20 yards per completion. At 5-11, 195 pounds, Hold is well-suited to run the football and has gained six yards a carry, again neglecting yardage lost via sacks.

South Carolina has a quartet of running backs to choose from when running the veer option, and has balanced the number of times each one carries the ball very well.

The top two rushers from '83 return, juniors Thomas Dendy and Kent Hagood, but are only in second and fourth positions in rushing yardage this season although they have over 1,700 and 1,200 career rushing yards, respectively. Hagood has 236 yards (6.9 yards per carry average) and Dendy has rushed for 186 yards (6.2 average). Both are compact, but possess strength as well as speed.

Even though injuries in the beginning of the season got both Dendy and Hagood off to a slow start, the Carolina running offense did not suffer. Quinton Lewis and Raynard Brown capably filled the voids, and now are the number one and three ground-gainers for the team. Lewis, at 6-0, 198 pounds, is not an overpowering runner, but has picked up 316 yards and has an impressive 7.3 average. Brown has contributed 199 yards (5.1 average).

Although South Carolina has not passed a lot so far this season, when it does it rolls up yardage in huge tracts. The main target for Mitchell and Hold is senior flanker Ira Hillary. Hillary led Carolina with 30 receptions in 1983 and has 12 catches so far this year,

see GAMECOCKS, page 2

Back in Action

Injury-plagued Mike Larkin finally will get his chance to take field once again

By JERRY MELLIA
Sports Writer

Many things haven't gone right for the Notre Dame football team the last two weeks. Not only did it lose important games to both Miami and Air Force, but the team also has lost many key players in starting positions because of injuries.

Although the Irish have many starters and other important players on the injury list, there is one player returning from the disabled list who could turn this team around both in the physical and the psychological sense. This athlete is Mike Larkin.

Larkin, a 6-1, 221-pound senior, will return to the lineup for the first time since the conclusion of the 1982 season. Two major injuries have kept him out for the last year-and-a-half. He did not play a single minute last season because he broke his arm during preseason drills. The unfortunate coincidence about this injury was that he broke it in exactly the same place he did just prior to the end of the 1983 spring drills. He will receive an extra year of eligibility because of the injury.

The Cincinnati native is one of four current Notre Dame players to play under Gerry Faust at Moeller High School. The others are Mark Brooks, Hiawatha

Francisco and Jon Askin. Larkin, like his team, had a very successful career while he attended Moeller. His individual honors include being a consensus prep all-American after being mentioned in the Parade, Adidas, National High School Athletic Association, and Catholic All-America squads. Larkin was also a three-year starter at the linebacker position where he earned all-city, all-state, and all-Greater Cincinnati League recognition. His efforts also helped the Crusaders to unbeaten seasons and state titles in his junior and senior years.

Obviously, this American Studies major holds fond memories of his high school years. "At Moeller we never worried about winning or losing," says Larkin, "it was taken for granted."

Larkin came to Notre Dame the same year as Faust with similar ideas of success. However, these hopes have not materialized as yet.

In his freshman season, Larkin played in all 12 games while seeing a great deal of time in the latter part of the year. He played mostly behind Mark Zavagnin at weakside linebacker during the 1981 campaign.

In 1982, the Howard Hall resident had a great

see LARKIN, page 2

Mike Larkin
ND linebacker

The Builder of Programs

SC's Morrison has turned around Gamecocks

By THERON ROBERTS
Sports Writer

Joe Morrison's coaching career has thus far mirrored the success he enjoyed playing professional football for the New York Giants. He thought he would give it a shot, but who would have ever dreamed that it would turn out this well?

Morrison, in his second year as head coach at South Carolina, is a no-nonsense type of person who goes about his business in a quiet, professional manner. In his first year, he went about the business of turning the Gamecock football program into a winner. His youthful team, faced with the second-toughest schedule in the country, finished with a respectable 5-6 record.

But this year has been the season that many South Carolina football fans have been waiting for. The Gamecocks have won their first five games, providing another example of Morrison's ability to turn a team's fortunes around. Carolina was 4-7 in 1982 before Morrison appeared on the scene.

The 14-year veteran of the Giants earned the nickname "Old Dependable" in his days as a tight end, but also deserves it for his won-loss record in his young career as a head coach.

Morrison began his coaching career at Tennessee-Chattanooga in 1973. After two straight 4-7 campaigns and a 5-5-1 slate the following year, Morrison guided UT-Chattanooga to a 31-10-3 record over the next four years, including two nine-victory seasons.

In 1980, he was challenged again to put a program back on its feet — this time New Mexico's. His first two seasons at UNM ended with identical 4-7 records. But, in his third year in Albuquerque, the Lobos enjoyed an outstanding 10-1 record — capping an incredible turn-around.

"The job that Coach Morrison accomplished at New Mexico was recognized by football people all over the country as truly outstanding," says Gamecock athletic director Bob Marcum. "Joe Morrison has proven himself as a head coach — he's a winner."

Morrison knows how to turn a team around. While he will say that there is no secret formula to guarantee success, those who have been associated with him during his three head coaching jobs attribute a lot of the good results to his coaching knowledge and the positive attitude that he passes down to his players.

Frank Sadler is entering his sixth year as an offensive coordinator under Morrison. Sadler spent three years with Morrison at Tennessee-Chattanooga and stayed there for two more years before rejoining Morrison at New Mexico for one season. When Morrison switched to South Carolina, he brought Sadler and four other assistants with him for his third college football rescue effort. "Coach Morrison has taken teams from their lowest point and turned them completely around," says Sadler. "New Mexico was coming off of that big scandal (many coaches and athletic officials were fired because of payoffs to basketball players) and the young people just got tired of losing. They had the right attitude to turn things around."

"We would have liked to turn the program around here the first year," Sadler continues. "But some injuries prohibited us from doing that. This season, the kids have responded well, and we're 5-0."

Even though Morrison has seen such good results at South Carolina, few people expected the Gamecocks to have an outstanding season so soon after the rebuilding started. "I'm not sure how we turned it around," Morrison says modestly. "The team has experienced and devoted football players. The players have had a lot to do with it."

What is even more impressive about his accomplishments at South Carolina is that he has done it with essentially the same players that went things before the season. We're very happy to be where we are."

A lot of his successes have come about because he has used an offense that he knows very well and has found the right coaches and players to coach and execute it. "We've run the veer offense for nine years now," Morrison explains. "It's a very tough offense to attack defensively and gives you a better passing dimension than the wishbone, but is similar in concept."

Morrison is slow to accept some of the credit he deserves for his accomplishments, but Sadler, a close associate of Morrison, knows the man's value to rebuilding a program. "There are three things about Coach Morrison that I have noticed since I've known him that make him successful," says Sadler. "First, he knows how to interview assistant coaches and which ones are going to be right for his staff. Second, he is intelligent himself, so he knows what kinds of things in the game of football are successful. Third, he's a great administrator. He lets good coaches do the coaching and he handles the team at team meetings."

"He is very thorough in his preparation, knows what he wants to do, and goes out and does it. He rarely makes mistakes. But if he does, he'll take it and learn from it. He doesn't make the same mistakes twice."

A mistake Morrison will never make is to under-emphasize the team concept. "Most of the men are now used to doing things the way we do them after being here for more than a year," Morrison says. "We want them to be able to work together under our system and for them to recognize the importance of working together."

"Being a professional player gives you insights to attitude and how players will react to certain things you might try," he expands. "I think I've used that knowledge to get to our players."

Morrison has the insights and the knowledge to explain his success in college football coaching. Some of the things he does can already be seen appearing at other universities. But whatever techniques Morrison uses deserve to be examined. After all, it is difficult to find fault with his success.

Joe Morrison's Coaching Record

UT-Chattanooga

1973-1979

44-29-4

.597

New Mexico

1980 — 4-7-0

1981 — 4-7-1

1982 — 10-1-0

South Carolina

1983 — 5-6-0

1984 — 5-0-0

4-7 two seasons ago. While Mike White has built a team at Illinois with a flood of junior college transfers, Morrison has brought in only two: quarterback Mike Hold and substitute free safety Rick Rabune.

"We're doing essentially the same kind of things as coaches," Morrison states. "Our coaches try to follow the guidelines that have been successful in the past. In no way did we ever envision being 5-0 at this point, but we, as coaches, don't look at those

continued from page 1

averaging nearly 22 yards per grab. Hillary has outstanding speed and has burned more than his share of defensive backs in his career. His longest reception this year was a 62-yarder.

Junior split end Eric Poole has seven receptions and also averages 22 yards per catch. The tight end is Chris Corley, a hulk-like 6-3, 252-pound senior. Corley has made only six catches this year, but has to be respected for his size and ability to run after catching the ball. Morrison has not thrown to his running backs very much yet this year, but indicated that he might try it more often if the Irish defense can stop the run.

One of the major strengths of the South Carolina offense, according to Morrison is having an all-senior offensive line. The Gamecocks are big up front, but also have decent speed, making their linemen well-equipped to block for the veer.

Four starters return from 1983, with only senior Tom Garner at center new to the lineup. Carl Womble and Bill Barnhill return at the tackle positions and guards Jim Walsh and Del Wilkes are also back. The success Carolina has had on the ground this season, averaging 246 yards per game, has been a result of the blocking and execution of the offensive line.

"Offensively, they present a lot of problems to you," Faust says of the multi-threat attack of South Carolina. "They're also playing with a lot of enthusiasm, a lot of intensity, and they've got a lot of momentum going."

As if Notre Dame did not have enough problems already, a significant portion of the Irish defense is keeping the sports medicine staff very busy. Strong safety Joe Johnson is listed as doubtful with an ankle sprain sustained in the Air Force game. Add to that the loss of free safety Steve Lawrence, who suffered a bruised shoulder against Miami, and the Notre Dame secondary will be a little thin. Hiawatha Francisco will probably play, but is not expected to be at full speed.

"Anytime you're up against a big, strong football team, you're going to have to put the ball in the air a little more," Morrison says, seemingly noticing the weakness in the Irish defense.

Also expected to be out are cornerback Mike Haywood and tackle Eric Dorsey. Tony Furjanic's knee may not be healed before the season ends, but Mike Larkin will have the chance to play for the first time this season after straining knee ligaments before the season.

Notre Dame's offense against South Carolina's defense:

In the past three weeks, the Irish offensive unit has moved no faster than molasses, and has scored at a lethargic one-touchdown-per-game rate.

At least part of the problem will be addressed this week, as quarterback Steve Beuerlein will return to the starting lineup after sitting out the Air Force game with a shoulder problem.

In the past few games, Notre Dame has been stuck with completing the short passes, while the deep threat has been combatted well by opposing secondaries. Look for Joe Howard and

Milt Jackson to utilize the deep Carolina has had difficulty de-

The other major stumbling absence of the running game. for Allen Pinkett and company those problems or resort to o more successful with the pass "I wish I knew what the ans has had such difficulty," says I the line of scrimmage at all."

The injury list for the Irish c been recently, with Larry Will suffering various knee and ank slated to play after missing the South Carolina will counter named because of its all-out, s season, the Gamecocks have a the ground and just 268 total

"South Carolina is as impres defense," says Faust. "They're speed and their ability to have pursue well and make it tough

The Carolina secondary is a returning with considerable e have been impressive so far th free safety, leads the secondar tions. Sophomores Chris Major nads at the cornerback positio Hilton Tayloe started in those sophomore, gets the nod a str

The Gamecock linebacking defense, with seniors Paul Vog team in tackles. Vogel has 49 t while Seawright adds 47. The y by freshman Carl Hill.

Maybe the biggest weakness

John Carney

Field Goals
6-of-6

Gerry Faust
ND head coach

continued from page 1

season. He finished second among all Irish players with a total of 110 tackles, only three behind leader Zavagnin, while starting in every game. He also led the team in tackles for losses with 13. This ability to trap the opposition behind the line of scrimmage is attributed to his quickness and capability of reading an offense.

The entire 1983 season and the first half of this one have been very frustrating for Larkin. It has been a time period plagued with injury on top of injury. A broken forearm caused his absence during the '83 campaign, and a knee injury prevented him from participating in the first six games this year. The latest injury occurred during fall practice exactly one year and a day after his previous injury. It was a freak accident on a practice day where the players weren't supposed to hit hard. Larkin pulled the running back over his leg and it twisted in such a way to cause torn ligaments in his knee.

Larkin admits that his knee has not yet fully recovered. "I don't have full movement yet," he says. "My north to south motion is good, but when I move laterally, it bothers me." To protect the injury from re-occurring, Larkin has been wearing a double brace. "It's sturdy and doesn't allow much movement."

The coaches are going to work the hard-hitting linebacker back into the system gradually. Larkin, himself, doesn't feel that he deserves to come right in and start because John McCabe has been doing a good job. "Although he (Larkin) has been a great player for us in the past," says Faust, "he must prove himself and earn his spot back."

Whether he starts or not, Larkin can hardly wait to get back out on the field again. "I am ready to give it my all," says Larkin, "I have been cheerleading for too long."

This potentially dominant player on the defense isn't the only one pleased with his return. "Just having him back is a great boost," says Faust, "he is a leader, a competitor, and an inspirator."

Now that Larkin is back on the field, he wants to do all he can to help the team. He has his sights on South Carolina in particular. The Gamecocks come to Notre Dame Stadium Saturday boasting a 5-0 record. They are a team that has a well-balanced attack as they use both the run and pass effectively. "To shut them (South Carolina) down, we must stop their quarterback," says Larkin, "It's going to be tough, but I think we can do it."

This week has been a rather eventful week for the Irish football team. The team been working hard to find and solve the problems that have hurt it in recent weeks, but, at least, with Larkin's return, there is some good news.

... Larkin

The Observer

VOL XIX, NO. 44

the independent student newspaper serving notre dame and saint mary's

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1984

Hesburgh answers students' questions

By ANDRE THEISEN
News Staff

Head Football Coach Gerry Faust can relax.

If the alcohol policy doesn't work, it will get tougher.

And coed dormitories have no place at Notre Dame.

All three statements are according to Father Theodore Hesburgh, University president, who spoke at a question-and-answer session at the Library Auditorium Thursday night.

When asked whether the football team's performance called for action on his part, Hesburgh stated that ND was a place of integrity and that he would not dishonor Faust's contract. "Five-year contracts are standard for new coaches," Hesburgh said, "and coaches deserve that period to establish themselves."

Hesburgh is more concerned about the student body's reaction to the team's performance. "I think it's bush when ND students boo their own team," he said, in response to the students' negative reaction after last Saturday's loss to Air Force. "That's not what ND is about."

Hesburgh said he completely supported the alcohol policy. When asked if he foresaw further restrictions, he said the policy would get tougher only if the current policy didn't work. Hesburgh reminded the audience it was he who had first allowed alcohol on campus and said ND is a place where students can learn responsible drinking.

Hesburgh admitted liability was part of the reason for the formation of the alcohol policy, but declared the unacceptability of public drunkenness was the primary reason for the formation of the policy.

Hesburgh declared there will never be coed dorms at ND as long as he is president. In defense of this he cited the need for privacy for both men and women, the ample opportunities for interaction already available and the fact other universities are returning to unisex dorms.

Other topics discussed included the male-female ratio at Notre Dame, the renovation of LaFortune Student Center and the student body's ability to be involved in world issues.

Hesburgh, when asked whether ND would ever reach an equal male-female ratio, emphasized the Saint Mary's community had to be considered when discussing the male-female ratio. While he said more women can and will be admitted to ND in the future, Hesburgh stated that he would not want the combined ND-SMC male-female ratio to exceed equality.

Saying he sympathized with those students who are eager to become directly involved in world problems, he said the best thing to do is "to get the best education you can. Learn all you can to prepare yourself and then decide what you're going to do - you can make a difference in life."

Board of Regents open fall session with orientation of new members

By THERESA GUARINO
Assistant News Editor

Orientation for new members was one item on the agenda as Saint Mary's Board of Regents met yesterday and Thursday for their annual fall meeting. The board meets in full twice a year, once each semester.

The four new regents include this year's student regent, senior Sue Simonaitis. Having a student on the board each year is a requirement.

The approval of the College's new governance manual, the report of each standing committee, proposed guidelines for the 1985-86 budget, a review of last year's audit, and a presentation on the proposed addition and renovation to the science hall were other topics to be discussed this session.

Thursday the new regents attended meetings giving them an overview of College administration, including a presentation on student government by Student Body President LeAnn Franks and Vice President for Student Affairs Ann Marie Kollman.

Also Thursday, the different committees of the board met to discuss and hear presentations, including the investment, student life, education, and development committees. The entire board was invited to sit in on the finance and budget committee meeting.

Yesterday the board met from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in LeMans Hall.

The board of regents consists of 30 members. As a rule, one-third of the regents must be members of the Holy Cross Congregation, one must be a faculty member, one is the student regent, and one must be the president of the alumni board. College President John Duggan participates as an ex officio member.

The Board of Regents is the official governing body of the College. They are responsible for and must approve new departments and degree programs, the capital and operating budgets of the College, tenure policies, salary and wage programs, academic honorary degrees, new senior officers, and all major College policies.

The senior officers of the College are Duggan; William Hickey, vice president and dean of faculty; Sister Karol Jackowski, dean of students; Jason Lindower, controller and Lawrence Durance, vice president for college relations. Only Duggan is a regent and has a vote in board decision-making.

New regents are selected each year by the administrative members of the corporation—seven sisters of the Holy Cross Congregation's Midwest order.

The Observer/Johannes Hacker

Law Addition

Work has begun on the new addition to Notre Dame's Law School. Father Theodore Hesburgh, University president, was one participant in a ground-breaking ceremony for the new building. See Kathleen Dias' story.

Ceremony opens work on addition, construction set to begin in March

By KATHLEEN DIAS
News Staff

A ground-breaking ceremony last week marked the beginning of work on the new addition to Notre Dame Law School. University President Father Theodore Hesburgh, Dean of the Law School, David T. Link, and the Law School Advisory Council all participated in marking the planned extension.

Major construction is not scheduled to begin until March 1, 1985, but already preliminary utility work has begun. To insure student safety, the entire area has been sectioned off by fencing which will remain in place until fall, 1986 when work is scheduled for completion.

The new facilities will include a four-story addition to the main building featuring classrooms, a courtroom, a research center, faculty offices and a five story addition to the library.

The Kresge Law Library which had been enlarged in 1973, will be added to, doubling the library stack area, with room for up to 300,000 volumes. Present plans will enable the School to provide every law student with their own carrel or at least a place at a table.

Assistant Dean William McLain is very positive about the new work and he feels the University's decision to commit an estimated $4 million is being done "at the right time, at the right place." According to McLain, these timely developments at the oldest Catholic law school in the country will keep Notre Dame on a par with peer schools like Duke and Vanderbilt, and help the Law School to keep growing.

Lil' Sibs passes CLC, await Tyson's decision

By BRIAN RAK
News Staff

A proposal to hold Lil' Sibs Weekend again this spring passed by a narrow margin at Wednesday night's meeting of the Campus Life Council.

A vote of 11 to 5 gave the proposal the two-thirds plus one majority needed to pass. The proposal had been tabled at a Sept. 26 CLC meeting pending presentation to a group of rectors.

On Oct. 8, 10 rectors met to listen to a presentation of the proposal by committee chairmen Joanne Madden and Steve Taeyarts.

Student Body President Rob Bertino will now notify Tyson, who will have seven days to approve or reject the proposal.

It is now up to Vice President of Student Affairs Father David Tyson to approve or reject the proposal.

"Tyson has already stated that he will not approve the proposal if it does not have the approval of the rectors," said Bertino.

Bertino said many rectors had "bad impressions" of the Lil' Sibs

Weekend held two years ago. He said, however, as a result of letters and information sent to the rectors, as well as the Oct. 8 presentation, many rectors are now open to the possibility of Lil' Sibs Weekend.

Bertino said posting more security guards in the residence halls for that weekend and adhering to careful registration procedures are two ways of rectifying problems that occurred during the last Lil' Sibs Weekend.

"I hope that in making his decision Father Tyson will seek input from many of the rectors. We've changed a lot of attitudes," Bertino said.

see SIBLINGS, page 4

The Observer/Johannes Hacker

Here we go Irish

Notre Dame cheerleaders try to excite the crowd at last night's pep rally in Stepan Center. Attendance was down a bit, since October break officially began yesterday with the end of classes. However, some hardy fans decided to stick around for the Irish-Gamecock battle.

This will be the last issue of the Observer before October Break. We will resume publishing on Tuesday, October 30, 1984. Have an enjoyable and safe break!

In Brief

The U.S. economy suffered a pronounced slump during the summer with growth declining to a sluggish 2.7 percent rate from July through September - less than one-third the torrid pace set in the first half of the year, the government said yesterday. The Reagan administration, facing an election in less than three weeks, declared that the "slowdown is already behind us" and pointed to encouraging signs that the economy has perked up from its summer doldrums. Most private economists agreed that business activity will pick up in the final three months of the year, but many said the administration's growth forecast of 4 percent was too optimistic. Both the administration and private forecasters agreed that the news on inflation remained upbeat. The department reported that an inflation index tied to the GNP rose at a modest rate of 3.8 percent from July through September, the slowest pace this year. - AP

The nation's first handgun ban was upheld yesterday by a divided Illinois Supreme Court in the Chicago suburb of Morton Grove, and the village's mayor said the ruling "sends the green light" to communities considering similar laws. The 4-3 decision came on a challenge by four village residents who contended that the 1981 law barring the sale and possession of handguns violated state constitutional guarantees of the right to bear arms and was not within the scope of local officials' authority. The high court said that such a ban is constitutional as long as not all guns are outlawed and that village officials had the power to impose the ban to reduce weapons-related injuries and accidents. - AP

Of Interest

Renaissance Drawings from the Abrosiana in the Print, is the title of the new art exhibition at the Snite Museum of Art, beginning tomorrow. The Snite will be open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. - The Observer

The Board of Regents of Saint Mary's met yesterday and Thursday for their annual fall meeting. Among topics discussed was a proposed new sexuality program for students. The Student Life Committee which includes the student regent, presented their ideas for the program to the entire Board yesterday. The regents also heard a further presentation on the new science hall renovations. There was no discussion on changes in the parietals policy at the College. - The Observer

Weather

The sun might hold out for today's game, but keep your umbrella handy. Showers and thunderstorms are expected later this afternoon and tonight. Highs should be in the high 60s to low 70s, with lows in the 50s to 60. - The Observer

Notre Dame professor is member of Challenger shuttle ground crew

By MAUREEN WELTER
News Staff

When the space shuttle Challenger flew over the South Bend area last week, Notre Dame Professor Father Ronald Wasowski was part of the crew.

Wasowski didn't orbit the earth with the astronauts, but as part of the mission's ground crew participated in an experiment using NASA's orbital imaging radar system. He describes radar imaging as "a pictorial recording using radar wavelengths," as opposed to photography which uses visible light to record images.

With the help of undergraduate researcher Kevin Corbley, Wasowski aided the mission by measuring the soil of 45 local fields and videotaping the surrounding landscape.

"The radar was able to pick up the physical geometry as well as the electrical property of a scene," said Wasowski, an assistant professor of earth science.

The Challenger passed over this area Oct. 6 and Oct. 10. But because of technical problems, Oct. 6's radar images did not turn out, and there is a possibility that Oct. 10's were not successful either. "We're still waiting to find out," said Wasowski.

Data from the Challenger will serve many purposes, said Wasowski. "We hope to be able to draw a numerical content of the brightness of a soil as shown on the radar in relationship to the moisture content of the soil. This will be valuable for studying agricultural areas in terms of what types of crops are growing and what treatment they will need. This will ultimately help the farmers in the area."

Data from this experiment could also lead to the discovery of petroleum reserves, buried streams in dry areas, and fault lines that geologists have not yet charted.

Wasowski plans to work with the space shuttle program in the future. He said, "There is a good possibility NASA will fly this experiment again and I definitely expect to expand on it."

Wasowski gained much of his experience for this mission while pursuing his Ph.D. at U.C.L.A. and working at the NASA Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif.

Fine South American Imports
Natural Fiber apparel and accessories
Indigenous Art and exotic antique jewelry

step into the Richness of the Andes at:
Orchid Lane

100 Center
Mishawaka

Open til 9:00
12-5 Sunday

Sibling

continued from page 3

"This is a good opportunity for the administration to show confidence in the student decision-making process," said Bertino. "If Tyson turns it down I'll be extremely disappointed."

The Observer

Today's issue was produced by:

Design Editor.....Tom Small
Typesetters.....M.E. Harrington
News Editor.....Tess Guarino
Copy Editor.....Amy Stephan
Sports Copy Editor.....Theron Roberts
Sports Special Layout.....Chris Bowler
ND Day Editor.....Miriam Hill
SMC Day Editor.....Shirley Ore
Photographer.....Johannes Hacker

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday and on home football Saturdays, except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $30 per year ($20 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

EASY RIDER

TO AND FROM CHICAGO'S O'HARE
EVERY 2 HOURS EVERY DAY

United Limo

10844 McKinley Hwy. Osceola
674-6993
255-3068
or call your Travel Agent

LAWYER'S ASSISTANT:

A GROWTH CAREER FOR THE 80's

Training as a Lawyer's Assistant can give today's college graduate a valuable edge in the job market.

Entry-level positions in the Chicago area pay as much as $12,000 to $15,000-- and some paralegals are now earning as much as $32,000.

It takes just three months of daytime study (six months in the evening) to prepare for a career as a Lawyer's Assistant. The program at Roosevelt University is the largest A.B.A. approved program in Illinois, and its record of graduate employment assistance is the best there is.

Recruiter will be on campus
November 7, 1984

FOR INFORMATION AND A FREE BROCHURE CALL (312) 341-3882 OR MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY!

In my job at the First National Bank of Chicago, I am constantly using the knowledge acquired through my paralegal training at Roosevelt.
Amy Brill - Estates, Wills and Trusts Graduate

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY
Lawyer's Assistant Program
430 S. Michigan Ave.
Chicago, Ill. 60605

In cooperation with
The National Center for Paralegal Training
Please send me a copy of the Roosevelt
Lawyer's Assistant Program catalog.
I am interested in the ☐ Chicago or ☐ Arlington Heights location.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____
State _____ Zip _____
Home Phone _____
Business Phone _____
Approved for VA and Ill. State
Guaranteed Loans 9
Roosevelt University admits all students on the basis of individual merit and without regard to race, color, sex or age.

Mondale says Casey should go

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Walter F. Mondale demanded yesterday President Reagan fire CIA director William Casey before Sunday's presidential debate because of the distribution of a CIA document that encourages terrorism against the leftist Sandinista government in Nicaragua.

Five days after the existence of the document first became known, the Democratic challenger also called on the president to immediately explain if he plans U.S. military action against the government in Managua.

The disclosure that the CIA produced the document "is a profound embarrassment to our country," he said.

Mondale interrupted his debate preparations to speak to reporters outside his Washington home. Reagan devoted much of the day to studying for Sunday's debate on foreign policy.

Chris' Ice Cream

MADE THE OLD FASHIONED WAY

GRAND OPENING

Saturday, 10 a.m. - 10 p.m.

THIS FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND SUNDAY ONLY
BUY ONE SUNDAY AND GET THE 2ND FOR HALF-PRICE!

1723 So. Bend Ave. - next to Turtle Creek Apt.

Student Activities Board RECORD STORE

In LaFortune

Stop by and check it out!!

Coupon

Clippers

PIZZERIA AND PUB

130 Dixie Way North
Roseland, Indiana
(across from Big C Lumber)

277-4519

FREE DELIVERY

Monday	Wednesday	Sunday
16", 1 item $6.95 Call before 11 EXPIRES 10/15/84	16", 1 item $6.95 Call before 11 EXPIRES 10/17/84	16", 1 item $6.95 Call before 9:30 EXPIRES 10/21/84

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYPING AVAILABLE. 287-4082.

TYPING
Jackie Boggs
684-8793

TYPING AVAILABLE. 287-4082.

TYPING CALL CHRIS 234-8997

EXPERIENCED TYPIST WILL DO
TYPING. CALL 287-5162.

$5 CASH FOR TEXTBOOKS $5 PAN-
DORA'S BOOKS 937 SOUTH BEND
AVE. 233-2342

LOST/FOUND

LOST: WHITE MEMBERS ONLY
JACKET. IF FOUND CALL STEVE 3527.
LOST FRIDAY, OCT. 12, ROOM 101
HURLEY.

LOST: LEVI'S BLUE DENIM JACKET IN SOUTH DINING HALL (RIGHT/LEFT)
DURING LUNCH ON 10/16. IF FOUND,
PLEASE CALL DOT 3803 OR RETURN TO RACK IN SDH. THANKS!

LOST! LOST! LOST!
16' GOLD HERRING-BONE NECKLACE
EXTREME SENTIMENTAL VALUE!
REWARD IF FOUND
CALL 1647
PLEASE!

WANTED

Boston area families seek quality childcare in exchange for room, board, and a competitive salary. Please contact Kate Goldfield at 617-332-6056 or Beth Ingram at 617-877-7739 or write to The Family Exchange, Inc., 25 Lakeview Ave.,
Newton, MA. 02160.

F ROOMMATES WANTED 277-2367

NEEDED!!! Part-time retail sales personnel for CORNERSTONE. Seeking warm, gregarious individuals who enjoy selling family active-wear. Hourly wage $4.00.
Apply in person at Buyer's Marketplace,
5901 North Grape Rd.

WANTED: EDDY GRANT
MEMORABILIA. WILL PAY TOP DOL-LAR FOR ANY EDDY STUFF. DESPERATE
AND WILLING TO PAY THROUGH
THE NOSE. CONTACT: TICO, c/o EDDY
INTERNATIONAL, RFD 1, JAMAICA OR
TICO, c/o SCAMS INC., BARBADOS.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST.
EDDY LIVES!!!!

FOR SALE

1976 Chevy Caprice, 9-passenger wagon. Full Power, A/C, Automatic 350
V-8, 57,000 miles. $1,000. 277-0047
(After 5:00 p.m.)

TICKETS

MY PARENTS DON'T LOVE ME
ANYMORE!!!
So I have two South Carolina G.A.'s for sale.
Call Sheila at 2810.
Oh, by the way, while I have your attention,
I just turned 21 on Monday, and I'm still looking for my prince.
If you're good-looking and available, gimme a call -- who knows what could happen?

FOR SALE: 4 S.C. GA'S CALL MARY at 1363

DESPERATELY need 2 Penn State tix!!!
Will pay $$$$ call Beth 239-6328

NEED 5 GA & 2 student tix for South
Carolina, Chris 3055

FOR SALE: Two South Carolina GA's.
I'll take the best offer, even if it's under face value. Call Mike at 239-5323.

HEY!! You don't wanna see those guys play Penn State! I don't either-- but my friend from PSU wants to go to PSU now. You'll feel better for it. Call Keith 3345.

For Sale
2 SOUTH CAROLINA GA's
Pick up the phone, gimme a call
The BADLANDS. ask for Dan 1184

DEAR DOMERS:
I need 4 PENN STATE GA'S. CALL JOE
1933. PLEAAASE!!

Hard to believe, but I still have 2 GA tickets to the S.C. game which are very close to the 50 YARD-LINE. I'm sure you've been trying to call, but I haven't been there. Please call Murph at 283-1933 before Saturday. I'd hate to see you miss the game.

PERSONALS

OAR HOUSE: COLD BEER & LIQUOR.
CARRY OUT TIL 3 A.M., US 31 N., ONE BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN.

SAFE TO THRASH!!!

UNDERWEAR REJECTORS UNITE

'DiBest Gnome is a Dead Gnome'
SVEN SUBOTAI

Reymann's, Ehrenfried's, & other assocated people:
Welcome to Notre Dame!

NOTRE DAME HOCKEY!
NOTRE DAME HOCKEY!
NOTRE DAME HOCKEY!

Penn State
Penn State
PENN STATE!
All I ever wanted were 3 G.A. tickets to
Penn State.
If you have them, call Mary at 1333.

HUNGRY? CALL FOR DELIVERY
FROM THE YELLOW SUB 272-4453
MO-TH 8-11pm FR-SA 8pm-1am

Believe It or Not...
I actually saw Father Heeburgh walking on the quad last Friday!

NEED TICKETS to Penn State. Parents want to see first ND football game. Hey, they're my parents, what can I say. Please sell me 2 GAs, or I am in the dog's house.
Call Maureen at 1333.

THE STONYBURKS ARE HERE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

JUDY, JUDY, JUDY AND RAZOR-
RRRRRRRR, SPAWDAGW AND KIM
THE FISH, DAN AND BUG, QUEEN
KELLY AND EPPY THE CINDERMAN

WHY SHOULD I FLIP???? ITS MY HOUSE

Join the Keenan 3-Week METAL CLUB.
Bang your head and eat your dead.
Take lots of cool drugs and score with every chick that you even look at. Be a devil worshipper, and generally lose your hearing. Call Frank for info-- but don't be alarmed if he doesn't answer.
He's just frying his brain with the latest
Ozzy album: '101 Ways to Serve Rabid
Bats.'

Join the Anne Ferry Club. Go to an expensive SYR, spend two hours in the bathroom, and then bag your date before midnight. Hey, Anne, how was that party at Stanford, anyway?

ZOID: I'LL FIXX YOU. PSYCHED FOR
THE FURS! LET'S TAKE THE WHOLE
DAY OFF! HOW ABOUT A
WEEK? STATE STREET AWAITS!! LUV,
W3

ZOID: I'LL FIXX YOU. PSYCHED FOR
THE FURS! LET'S TAKE THE WHOLE
DAY OFF! HOW ABOUT A
WEEK? STATE STREET AWAITS!! LUV,
W3

WATCH OUT for a meeting after Break!
Great Ski trips to Steamboat Springs,
Col. Ski & Party with hundreds of other college students this X-Mas! BE THERE!!
RENE 1190

The Badlands welcomes the 'RENTS and company
Have a great weekend

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A MA-TURE RESPONSE

MERCY IS FOR THE WEAK

ROSEMARY ROSEMARY ROSEMARY
ROSEMARY Does she know what Wed.
was? I think she should. Aren't you nostalgic for freshman year? We could arrange it so you could live it over. "I just responded."

Bring In This Coupon And Save

Service Optical

50% Off Frames

Choose any style from our entire frame selection including Halston, Pierre Cardin and Yves St Laurent. Then take 50% off the regular price. Offer good with this coupon and student/faculty identification when ordering a complete pair of prescription glasses only. Broken glasses replaced or repaired at no charge for one year. No other discounts apply.

South Bend: Scottsdale Mall 291-2222
Elkhart: Concord Mall 875-7472

Offices throughout Indiana
Open All Day Saturday and Sunday Mall Hours
PROFESSIONAL EYE EXAMINATION AVAILABLE
BY OPTOMETRIST WITH OFFICE ON PREMISES

MR. D's
1516 N. Ironwood
South Bend
233-7747

Mr. D's Canning Factory and Ron Delaere
"Class of 64" announces a special discount to ND and SMC students and faculty

Present your I.D. and Mr. D's will give you a 10% Discount in the restaurant area on the Food Menu of the Bill

This offer is good through December 31, 1984.
Special Deals can be made for Special Parties or Banquets
Specializing in Prime Rib, Hand Cut Steaks, and Seafood with a Great Salad Bar

Paul, I hope you make it to the golf course, not just the putting green on your next try. I heard you handled your clubs well out there.

Kim says, my hair is falling out.

This one's for you:
"Go ahead, abuse me, I like it."

This one's for you:
I think you just lost a bet.

John - (Pork-u-pine)- HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!!!!!

'ROCK DOWN TO ELECTRIC AVENUE.'
-- Eddy Grant, 1983

'I'M ROMANCING THE STONE, NEVER
LEAVING YOUR POOR HEART ALONE.'
-- Eddy Grant, 1984

MEPS MEPS MEPS MEPS MEPS MEPS
MEPS MEPS MEPS MEPS

Dearest Kelly Ann, Thank you kindly for finally rescuing me from this desolation and MAKING ME REAL!
Now, I'm happy.
Luv, JB
PS Happy Sweetest Day

WELCOME TO NOTRE DAME DON PARDO AND LORSFISH. GLAD TO HAVE YOU HERE, TOO, RON AND PAT
AND CLINT. SORRY I CAN'T STICK
AROUND AND PLAY, BUT D.C. BE-CKONS. THANKS FOR COMING! --
LITTLE BRO

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, FAST FREDDIE NELSON!

Correction

Because of an editing error in yesterday's Observer, Saint Mary's sophomore Patty Williams' photo was inserted in place of senior Ann Boutton's.
The Observer regrets any inconvenience or confusion that this error may have caused.

A SPIRIT... and a Deep Sense of PRIDE That Grows With the Passage of Time!

NOTRE DAME FANS
Share in the Pride! Join the Team!
NATIONAL FIGHTING IRISH SUBWAY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, Inc.
'The World's Most Loyal Fans'

To promote excellence in Notre Dame academics and athletics!
To provide scholarships for Notre Dame students in need!
To promote integrity in intercollegiate athletics!
To provide tangible recognition, at long last, for the Fighting Irish faithful, the Subway Alumni!

For FREE brochure and application, write:
National Fighting Irish Subway Alumni Association
P.O. Box 211 Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
(A non-profit organization)

Weinle
continued from page 6
the position I play."

Against South Carolina, Weinle believes that the Irish must take away the big play if they are to upset the 11th-ranked Gamecocks.

For the rest of the season, Weinle believes that the Irish can still regain some respect. He accredits Lantz with good ability to call good schemes, and he has faith in his fellow teammates.

"I'm happy with the guys," says Weinle. "Obviously, we haven't performed as well as we are capable of.
We're going through a tough time and we're going to have to regroup and get back on track Saturday. With the caliber of teams that we play coming up on our schedule, it gives us an opportunity to gain some respect back and show people what we're capable of doing."

Sports

Saturday, October 20, 1984 — page 6

Irish cross-country team wins Indiana Intercollegiate Meet

By NICK SCHRANTZ
Sports Writer

The 16th-ranked Notre Dame cross country team scored an impressive victory in the Indiana Intercollegiate Meet held yesterday at the Burke Memorial Golf Course.

The Irish amassed only 36 points (lowest score wins) in defeating a tough 23-team field. Purdue, the 13th-ranked team in the country, captured second-place honors with 47 points. A strong Indiana team finished third and totaled 60 points.

The undefeated Irish won their fourth meet because of their incredible consistency. Tim Cannon, the leading Notre Dame runner, finished second overall in the 161-runner field.

Freshman Dan Garrett placed fourth overall, and was directly followed by senior co-captain Bill

Courtney. Sophomore Mike Collins finished in 10th place, while senior Ed Willenbrink rounded out the scoring for Notre Dame by placing 15th.

Co-captain Jim Tyler, while not counting in the scoring, helped the Irish by displacing a Purdue runner with a strong finishing kick to finish 18th. Junior John Magill ran with the pack the entire race and ended with a fine 24th-place finish.

Purdue's Terry Brahn, the Big Ten record-holder in the mile with a 3:54 mark, took the individual honors for the meet. He was up with the lead group of runners the entire race, and at the finish he was about 20 yards ahead of Cannon.

Notre Dame head coach Joe Piane was pleased with all seven runners, but singled out Garrett and Courtney for special praise.

"Tim Cannon ran a super race and finished second, and the rest of the team did real well. However, Dan Garrett and Bill Courtney won the meet for us," Piane described. "With a mile-and-a-quarter to go, they passed three Purdue runners and stayed ahead of them the rest of the race, which really helped us out."

The Irish have proven that they have a national caliber team, but will be heavily challenged by traditional powerhouse Oral Roberts next Saturday at the Midwestern City Conference Championships in Indianapolis at the Butler University Golf Course.

However, if the Irish continue to run as well as they have so far this year, they have a very good chance to win the conference championship and can look forward to the NCAA District IV qualifying meet on November 10.

Record stands at 16-5

Saint Mary's volleyball wins two

By KELLY PORTOLESE
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's volleyball team raised its record to 16-5 Thursday night as it defeated fellow NAIA member Huntington College, 15-7, 15-11, and NCAA Division III school DePauw University, 15-4, 15-7, in Huntington, Ind.

In the first game against the host team, Saint Mary's benefitted from the fine play of freshman Kara Tekulve. "Kara really came through," commented Saint Mary's coach Brian Goralski. "Her hitting and serving were on target all night and she put the ball away when we needed it."

Freshman Mary Carole Feldman finished up the game almost singlehandedly, as she gave the Belles the final three points with a block, a kill and a service ace.

Feldman's excellent play carried over into game two, as she and senior Ann Boutton combined their efforts for eight kills. "Mary Carole and Ann were consistent in the clutch situations," said Goralski.

The coach also credited sophomore Mary Reidy with a great game. In addition, sophomore Ann Brown also aided in the Belles cause with an ace, two blocks and three kills for six Saint Mary's points in the second game.

In the second match of the night, the Belles quickly disposed of DePauw. The Greencastle, Ind., team was not at full strength because of illness, but Goralski feels the opponents simply lacked the talent they possessed when the two teams have met in the past.

The victory over Huntington secured a place for the Belles in the NAIA District tournament which is slated to begin on November 1.

Currently Saint Mary's ranks third in blocking percentages in the conference. The Belles also feature the top NAIA passers in Feldman, Brown, sophomores Patty Williams and Mary Dilenschneider and freshman Anne Williard.

Saint Mary's final conference and regular season game is scheduled at home against Marion College on October 30. A victory against Marion would result in a three-way first place finish among Goshen, Marion and Saint Mary's.

Injuries still plague Irish

Weinle may fill in at defensive spot

By MICHAEL J. CHMIEL
Sports Writer

The injury-plagued nose tackle position for the Irish may see still another different starter on Saturday as senior Jerry Weinle may get the nod to replace ailing Mike Griffin on the defensive line when Notre Dame takes the field against the undefeated South Carolina Gamecocks.

Weinle, a 6-3, 251-pound defensive tackle, was switched back to the defensive unit after playing a backup role at the offensive guard position during the spring and first five weeks of this season. The Cincinnati, Ohio, native had been shifted to the offense due to injuries on the offensive line and started last year's Miami game in the quick guard spot in place of an injured Tim Scannell.

In last year's Army game, Weinle earned a game ball for being the first Irish player to play both on offense and defense since Dave Casper who played both ways against Michigan State in 1973.

With junior Eric Dorsey injured and sophomore starter Mike Griffin listed as questionable, defensive line coach Rick Lantz sees the strong possibility of Weinle getting his first start on defense.

"There's a pretty good chance that Jerry is going to start," says Lantz. "If not, he'll play at least 50 percent of the time."

"He had the ability to compete for this position last spring, but we moved him to offensive guard because we felt that we needed him there," continues Lantz. "I was very pleased with him this spring. We did not move him to offense because we didn't think he could play. We just thought that it would be for the betterment of the team if we moved him there."

Weinle, who majored in mechanical engineering, received an undergraduate degree from the College of Engineering with a 3.08 grade point average last May. Returning for his final year of eligibility, the graduate is currently working towards a Master's degree in Business Administration.

The 1982 monogram winner believes that he is ready for a start on defense and sees little trouble in shifting to the nose tackle spot.

"I've been here a long time and I've paid my dues," says Weinle. "I think I could do very well. Switching back to defense isn't that tough because I played defense for three years and offense for one. Last year, I switched back and forth a lot."

"You always want to do your best and you always want to be a starter - that's what I'm striving for. I'd love to be a starter, either on offense or defense. I'm happy with the playing time that I've received in the last couple of weeks, but I won't be satisfied until I'm starting."

The condition of Griffin is the factor that will determine how much Weinle plays. If Griffin practices and looks good, he will probably start. However, Lantz believes that the Irish will not be hurt in his absence because of Weinle's abilities.

"He is a sound, fundamental football player who is a movable player against the running game," says Lantz. "He's not an over-powering pass rusher because he missed too much time when he was on offense and we were working on pass rush techniques. He has good quickness as a pass rusher. If he gets into a one-on-one situation, he is very effective."

Overall, Weinle has a good deal of confidence in his defensive game and actually prefers it to the offensive side of the ball.

"I feel more comfortable on defense," Weinle states. "Offensively, I think that I do some things well, but I think my weight and size hurt me in other aspects of the game. On defense, I think that I'm big enough and tall enough for

see WEINLE, page 5

Senior co-captain Jim Tyler prepares to finish the distance on the Burke Memorial Golf Course in the Indiana Intercollegiate Meet yesterday. Nick Schrantz details the impressive Notre Dame victory at left.

Solves fumble problem

Finnegan gets chance at center

By MARK S. PANKOWSKI
Sports Writer

With Mike Kelley starting at center, the person who is playing behind him probably does not think that the opportunity to play will come around very often.

But when Robbie Finnegan was called into action during the second half of last Saturday's Air Force game, he was ready to take that chance and make the most of it.

Finnegan's chance to play came after Mike Kelley and quarterback Scott Grooms had four mishandled exchanges in the first half. Because Finnegan and Grooms had practiced together on the second team all season, the 6-0, 246-pound senior was confident that the problem of fumbled snaps could be corrected.

"Scott and I have played well all year together," Finnegan says. "I worked with Scott (Grooms) while Mike Kelly had worked with Steve (Beuerlein), so the coaches put me in the game to cut down on the number of fumbled snaps."

One need not go any farther than the second half statistics to see that the move was successful, as there were no problems with the exchange between the center and quarterback after Finnegan entered the lineup.

Carl Selmer, the head offensive line coach, was pleased with Finnegan's play.

"I think Finnegan did a good job getting the ball to the quarterback, which was the thing he had to do," Selmer says. "He also carried out his blocking assignments like he was supposed to."

Even though Finnegan was frustrated with the outcome of the game, he was encouraged with his play.

"What can I say, I don't want to sound happy but I think I played pretty well filling in for Mike," says the second-string center.

Centering the ball without dropping it was a lot easier said than done Saturday, as rain soaked the field throughout the game. As a result, Finnegan had a hard time keeping his hands dry.

"The refs kept the ball pretty dry, but my hands kept getting wet from the grass," Finnegan says. "They had towels all over the field, but those were wet too."

Centering the ball was not the only problem the foul weather caused for Finnegan. The rain made it especially difficult to block the quicker Air Force linemen. However, Finnegan refused to blame the weather.

"When the field is wet, it's hard to get off the ball. You've got to play cautiously because you're not sure which way the defensive man's going and you don't want to slip," Finnegan points out. "We were slipping a lot, but I don't want that to sound like an excuse."

Like everyone else, Finnegan could not explain the troubles the offense had moving the football.

"Any time the offense doesn't move the ball the reason is that the team is not executing well together," Finnegan states. "I hate to point a finger at any one person."

Being a former Parade prep All-American, it has not been easy for Finnegan to wait to play with Mike Kelley ahead of him. But Finnegan has his reasons to come to Notre Dame.

"I came to Notre Dame to be part of the best. My father went here, and he instilled in me a desire to come here," Finnegan says. "So, when I had the chance, I grabbed it."

Selmer feels that Finnegan had done a good job in his role as a reserve center.

"He's done well," comments Selmer. "He's a fine team player, works hard and cooperates."

Finnegan has been disappointed in the season so far, but is generally optimistic about the remainder of the year.

"I want to make the best of the rest of this season," the senior says.

"I think we can pull things together. We still have some chances to knock off some pretty good teams. We have a great chance in the South Carolina game to get back on the right track."

ocks season. We're very happy to be esses have come about because ense that he knows very well and t coaches and players to coach /e've run the veer offense for nine e explains. "It's a very tough ensively and gives you a better than the wishbone, but is similar v to accept some of the credit he omplishments, but Sadler, a Morrison, knows the man's value

ogram. "There are three things ison that I have noticed since I've ake him successful," says Sadler.
ow to interview assistant coaches
e going to be right for his staff.
lignant himself, so he knows what he game of football are success-reat administrator. He lets good aching and he handles the team at ough in his preparation, knows do, and goes out and does it. He likes. But if he does, he'll take it
He doesn't make the same son will never make is to under-m concept. "Most of the men are ; things the way we do them after re than a year," Morrison says.
be able to work together under them to recognize the impor-together.
ional player gives you insights to players will react to certain things expands. "I think I've used that to our players."
e insights and the knowledge to is in college football coaching.
he does can already been seen universities. But whatever on uses deserve to be examined.
ult to find fault with his success.

Joe Morrison
SC head coach

Lifetime Record
72-50-5

Chris Smith

Senior fullback takes events in stride

By TRISH SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

It is said that adversity builds character. If this is true, then any athlete that plays for Notre Dame should expect to build some character after four years. Simply by donning a Notre Dame uniform, an athlete is taking on the challenge of representing the university for football, and with this task comes an awful lot of pressure. But one competitor who has taken this challenge and done well is senior fullback Chris Smith.

"There is a lot of pressure at this place," says Smith. "Once opponents see those gold helmets, they get just as charged up as we are wearing them. They want to upset Notre Dame."

Smith, a 6-2, 231-pound Cincinnati, Ohio, native, is one Ohio football player who did not attend that famed high school. Rather, he played out his high school career at a rival institution, LaSalle High School. "It wasn't an intense rivalry, but we were overshadowed by Moeller," recalls Smith. "My freshman, sophomore and junior years, we never beat them on the varsity level. Finally, my senior year, we felt a little more optimistic. We had beaten their seniors a few years earlier in junior high play. But I guess it just wasn't to be. We lost again. In fact, in the history of my school, we had never beaten Moeller. So when Coach Faust went to Notre Dame and recruited me, I thought, if I can't beat him, I'll join him."

Smith completed his senior year as a consensus prep all-America choice following mention on Parade and Adidas/Scholastic Coach. A three-time letter-winner at running back, Smith totaled 2,110 career rushing yards at LaSalle and was named captain of an all-Greater Cincinnati League squad as a senior. But Smith was not satisfied. He set high goals for himself upon entering Notre Dame as a freshman. "When I came to Notre Dame, I wanted to contribute to the team as much as possible," explains Smith. "In fact, I wanted to letter. And I felt it was within reach for me."

As extra incentive toward accomplishing this goal, Smith was rooming with fellow Ohio native and rival fullback, Mark Brooks. "Mark is like a brother to me," Smith says. "So it was a little hard to be so competitive with him. We had our few, rare occasions that were trying, but nothing real serious. In fact, the competition really helped us in a way. The better he got, the more I was pushed, and vice versa, both on and off the field."

In the 1981 season opener against Louisiana State, Smith came out strong, gaining 61 yards on eight carries. He continued to contribute, playing in eight games as a freshman and finishing fourth in rushing with 161 yards and one touchdown. Smith didn't letter at the fullback position, though. Instead, he made his contribution at the tailback slot. But after the successful rookie campaign, a new kid arrived on the block by the name of Allen Pinkett, and some position juggling was required. The coaches knew the athletic ability and potential of Smith, and felt a talent like his didn't belong on the bench.

Smith was tried with the linebacking corps at the beginning of the 1982 season. But despite his hard work and dedication, it was decided that linebacker was not the position where Smith's talent would be best utilized. So midway through the season, Smith found himself back at the more comfortable position of fullback. Because of all the movement, his sophomore year was not the most productive statistically. But he kept plugging away.

By 1983, it seemed as if Smith was settled in at fullback, as he split playing time with Brooks. But the '83 offense wasn't geared all that much toward Smith. "It was very frustrating not to be used more in the season," Smith recalls. "Our offense just wasn't geared for incorporating the fullback frequently. I knew what I could do to help the team and I just wanted to go out there and do it. It was really an incentive, though, to play with an Allen Pinkett. It inspired me to watch him because I realized, here was a talented runner who has accomplished so much. He got where he is today because of hard work and team work. He needs the linemen and the backs to do what he does, so I feel that I am some small part of his success, too."

A bruising runner and blocker, Smith carried more than his share of responsibility for the Irish in '83. He racked up 421 yards on 77 carries while starting 11 games. But Smith's time to shine came in post-season action when the Irish took on Boston College in the Liberty Bowl. He carried the ball 18 times for 104 yards, his best game as a collegian. Many eyes stood up and took notice of this new force emerging from the backfield... especially the coaches. "I think the Liberty Bowl opened the coaches' eyes more to see how my position could be better utilized," says Smith. "Now their philosophy is to get the fullback into the scheme of things and intergrate the position into the offense. You won't hear any complaints from me about that."

And if Smith continues to produce, you certainly won't hear any complaints from Irish fans either. But when the negative comments do flow, Smith can understand why. "Whether it's deserved or not, the fans will comment," Smith says. "When we win, we get credit for the win. When we lose, we should get credit for the loss. And I think the team has matured because of it. I feel I have in my four years. Our maturity and growth, however, isn't measured in the tangles, in the win-loss column. But it's there."

Chris Smith
ND fullback

... Gamecocks

Milt Jackson to utilize the deep patterns more on Saturday as Carolina has had difficulty defending against the bomb.

The other major stumbling block for the offense has been the absence of the running game. The holes just have not been there for Allen Pinkett and company. Notre Dame will have to solve those problems or resort to opening up the ground game by being more successful with the passing game.

"I wish I knew what the answer is as far as why our running game has had such difficulty," says Faust. "We're just not controlling the line of scrimmage at all."

The injury list for the Irish on offense is less extensive than it has been recently, with Larry Williams finally back to full strength after suffering various knee and ankle ailments. Alonzo Jefferson is also slated to play after missing the Air Force game with a foot injury.

South Carolina will counter with its reknown "Fire Ant" defense, named because of its all-out, swarming style of play. So far this season, the Gamecocks have allowed only 112 yards per game on the ground and just 268 total yards per game.

"South Carolina is as impressive as anyone we've seen on defense," says Faust. "They're a lot like Miami in terms of their team speed and their ability to have people around all the time. They pursue well and make it tough to move the football."

The Carolina secondary is a veteran group, with three players returning with considerable experience, and two sophomores who have been impressive so far this season. Bryant Gilliard, a senior free safety, leads the secondary with 44 tackles and two interceptions. Sophomores Chris Major and Otis Morris will get the starting nods at the cornerback positions, even though seniors Gilliard and Hilton Tayloe started in those spots last season. Joe Brooks, another sophomore, gets the nod a strong safety.

The Gamecock linebacking corps is also a strength of the defense, with seniors Paul Vogel and James Seawright leading the team in tackles. Vogel has 49 tackles and six stops for lost yardage, while Seawright adds 47. The weakside linebacker position is filled by freshman Carl Hill.

Maybe the biggest weakness of the South Carolina defense is in its line positions. "We have a small defensive line," says Morrison. "We hope we will be able to contain Notre Dame's size."

Carolina's defensive ends are small, but have been able to handle anything they have confronted so far this season. Tony Guyton, a 6-0, 210-pound junior, and sophomore Willie McIntee, at 6-2, 222 pounds, are major reasons for the low rushing figures for Gamecock opponents.

The balance of the defensive line has some experience, with tackles Frank Wright and Glenn Woodley having respectable size and returning as starters. Backup Fitzgerald Davis leads the team in stops for lost yardage with seven.

The kicking game and specialty teams:

The Gamecocks lost career record-holding kicker Mark Fleetwood after last season. Fleetwood was 39-of-53 in field goals in his career. Sophomore Scott Hagler has taken his place, but has connected on only three-of-five attempts, (one-of-three over 40 yards), but has proved to be solid in the extra-point department, hitting on all 22 of his attempts.

Junior Tom O'Connor handles the punting duties for South Carolina, averaging 41.4 yards per effort. O'Connor is also replacing a record-setter in Chris Norman, who holds the single-season punting record.

Returning punts will be sophomore Terry Dunlap, who is averaging 9.6 yards per return. The team as a whole is rated 18th in the country with a 9.5 average.

Probably the most consistent part of the Notre Dame football squad has been the punting and placekicking. Mike Viracola, although he had a sub-par performance last week, is averaging 40.3 yards per boot. John Carney, although the offense has not been getting the ball within his field-goal range, has come through on all six of his field goal tries and 13 PAT's.

Keys to the game:

It is no secret that Notre Dame is not at an emotional peak at this point in the season, and a loss to South Carolina would seemingly doom the Irish to feelings of despair.

There is no doubt that Notre Dame should be able to stay in the game, and could pull it out if some breaks go its way. The Irish have to regain their composure, and a win would do that.

"This is a good football team that will be out to prove something after losing their last two games at home," states Morrison. "We don't have a whole lot to say whether Notre Dame losing two games in a row is going to work for or against them. That will be up to them."

Faust is calling Saturday's game "a chance for redemption." He may be right. There is no reason why his team should be stagnating on a losing trend.

Notre Dame still has five games left in the season, and now is no time to give up on this team. However, the Irish need a win, and they need one badly. A victory over the Gamecocks would be as good as gold for Notre Dame fortunes.

John Carney's Kicking Stats

Field Goals
6-of-6

PAT's
13-of-13

NOTRE DAME VS. SOUTH CAROLINA

THE GAME

GAME: Fighting Irish vs. South Carolina Gamecocks
SITE: Notre Dame Stadium (59,075)
TIME: 11:20 EST; Saturday, Oct. 20, 1984
TV-RADIO: ESPN Live National Telecast
Jim Thacker and Ed Biles

WNDU-TV (Ch. 16)
Jeff Jeffers and Jack Nolan

TCS/Metrosports/ESPN Replay Network
Harry Kalas and George Connor

Notre Dame Mutual Radio Network
Tony Roberts, Pat Sheridan, Luther Bradley
WNDU-AM 1500

SERIES: Notre Dame 3, South Carolina 0
LAST MEETING: October 8, 1983
Notre Dame 30, South Carolina 6

RANKINGS: (AP) Notre Dame unranked, South Carolina 11th
TICKETS: Game is sold out

Last Year's Game

October 8, 1983

Notre Dame	13	10	0	7	—	30
South Carolina	0	0	6	0	—	6

Scoring

ND — Johnston 49 FG
ND — Smith 26 pass from Beuerlein (Johnston kick)
ND — Johnston 27 FG
ND — Johnston 41 FG
ND — Pinkett 59 pass from Beuerlein (Johnston kick)
SC — Hagood 1 run (pass failed)
ND — Pinkett 2 run (Johnston kick)

ND	SC
First downs	17 16
Rushing attempts	48 48
Net Yards Rushing	199 157
Net Yards Passing	163 82
Passes comp-attempted	9-14 10-25
Had intercepted	0 2
Total Net Yards	362 239
Fumbles-lost	1-1 5-1
Penalties-yards	9-105 8-90
Punts-average	4-49.5 5-38.6

Individual Leaders

RUSHING — Notre Dame: Pinkett 23-110; Smith 11-75; Brooks 5-24; Francisco 5-12; Beuerlein 3-(-8); Kiel 1-(-14); South Carolina: Hagood 14-79; Dendy 9-33; Lewis 7-23; Hillary 1-10; Mitchell 9-5; Desmond 8-7;
PASSING — Notre Dame: Beuerlein 9-13-0; Kiel 0-1-0; South Carolina: Mitchell 4-14-2; Desmond 6-11-0
RECEIVING — Notre Dame: Smith 3-45; Pinkett 2-61; Howard 2-20; Bavaro 1-21; Favorite 1-16; South Carolina: Dendy 4-41; Poole 2-37; Hagood 1-6; Hillary 1-4; Lewis 1-2; Berry 1-8;

Attendance — 74,500

THE STATISTICS

TEAM STATISTICS	ND	OPP	RUSHING	G	NO	YDS	AVG	TD	LG
TOTAL OFFENSE YARDS	1737	2112	Pinkett	6	112	391	3.5	6	20
Total Plays	394	439	Jefferson	6	29	93	3.2	2	10
Yards per Play	4.4	4.8	Brooks	6	22	89	4.0	2	12
Yards per Game	289.5	352.0	Smith	6	24	80	3.3	0	15
PENALTIES-YARDS	31-226	32-301	Flemmons	1	10	31	3.1	0	15
FUMBLES-LOST	19-7	16-11	Monahan	3	2	17	8.5	0	10
TOTAL FIRST DOWNS	107	122	Miller	2	1	13	13.0	0	13
By Rushing	48	68	DeHueck	1	3	11	3.7	0	6
By Passing	51	49	Stams	3	1	5	5.0	0	5
By Penalty	8	5	Machtolf	1	2	3	1.5	0	2
THIRD DOWNS-CONV	84-36	85-37	Carter	1	2	1	0.5	0	1
Percentage	.429	.435	Jackson	6	1	-4	-4.0	0	-4
POSSESSION TIME	166:56	193:04	Grooms	2	13	-21	-1.6	0	7
Minutes per Game	27:49	32:11	Beuerlein	5	27	-24	-0.9	0	18

SCORING	GTD	PA	R-PA	S	FG	TP	NOTRE DAME	OPPONENTS
Pinkett	6	7	0-0	0-0	0-0	42	6	249
Carney	6	0	13-13	0-0	0-0	31	6	312
Jackson	6	4	0-0	0-0	0-0	24	6	1151
Jefferson	6	2	0-0	1-0	0-0	14	6	685
Brooks	6	2	0-0	0-0	0-0	12	6	249
Ward	5	1	0-0	0-0	0-0	6	6	685
Chura	1	0	1-1	0-0	0-0	4	6	1151
Ballage	6	0	0-0	0-0	0-0	2	6	685
Von Wyl	1	0	1-1	0-0	0-0	1	6	1151

RECEIVING	G	NO	YDS	AVG	TD	LG	NOTRE DAME	OPPONENTS
Bavaro	6	20	247	12.3	0	24	6	82
Jackson	6	17	189	11.1	4	31	6	1052
Brown	6	15	164	10.9	0	19	6	961
Pinkett	6	11	138	12.5	1	40	6	126
Howard	6	6	99	16.5	0	26	6	961
Smith	6	4	45	11.2	0	18	6	1052
Jefferson	6	3	40	13.3	0	27	6	76
Ward	5	2	84	42.0	1	74	6	961
Miller	2	1	15	15.0	0	15	6	1052
Brooks	6	1	13	13.0	0	13	6	76
Gray	6	1	11	11.0	0	11	6	961
Cusack	6	1	7	7.0	0	7	6	1052

DEFENSE	TMTL	YDS	PBU	FR	BR
Kovaleski	74	2-4	2	0	0
Furjanic	48	0-0	1	0	0
McCabe	40	1-1	0	1	0
Johnson	39	0-0	1	0	0
Banks	39	3-6	0	0	0
Ballage	39	0-0	3	1	0
Gann	31	11-79	0	3	0
Kleine	31	6-20	0	2	0
Wilson	30	0-0	2	1	0
Lawrence	22	0-0	3	2	0
Francisco	22	0-0	0	0	0
Griffin	20	2-5	0	0	1
Golic	17	1-4	0	0	0
DiBernardo	17	0-0	2	0	0
Haywood	15	0-0	0	0	2
Dingens	13	2-12	0	1	0
Figaro	13	0-0	0	0	0
Dorsey	12	0-0	1	0	0

THE SCHEDULE

NOTRE DAME	SOUTH CAROLINA
SEPT. 8 lost to Purdue, 23-21	SEPT. 8 def. The Citadel, 31-24
SEPT. 15 def. Mich. St., 24-20	SEPT. 15 def. Duke, 21-0
SEPT. 22 def. Colorado, 55-14	SEPT. 29 def. Georgia, 17-10
SEPT. 29 def. Missouri, 16-14	OCT. 6 def. Kansas State, 49-17
OCT. 6 lost to Miami, 31-13	OCT. 13 def. Pittsburgh, 45-21
OCT. 13 lost to Air Force, 21-7	OCT. 20 at Notre Dame
OCT. 20 SOUTH CAROLINA	OCT. 27 EAST CAROLINA
OCT. 27 at L.S.U.	NOV. 3 at N.C. State
NOV. 3 Navy at Meadowlands	NOV. 10 FLORIDA STATE
NOV. 17 PENN STATE	NOV. 17 at Navy
NOV. 24 at Southern Cal	NOV. 24 at Clemson

PEERLESS PROGNOSTICATORS (?)

Each week, the Observer sports staff, a random student picked at the discretion of the sports editor and some well-known figure in the Notre Dame community predict the outcome of the week's major college football games. Records are compiled as to how each person does against the spread. In other words, it isn't enough to pick the winner of a given game. The person must pick the winner and give the underdog points. Home team is in CAPS.

Larry Burke
Sports Writer
39-40-2
.493

Jeff Blumb
Asst. Sports Editor
32-47-2
.418

Theron Roberts
Sports Writer
32-47-2
.418

Ed Domansky
Sports Writer
32-47-2
.418

Mike Sullivan
Sports Editor
31-48-2
.395

Darby II
Guest Celebrity
33-46-2
.420
(last week — 4-8-2)

Mary Ann Raeker
Random Student
41-38-2
.519
(last week — 7-5-2)

IOWA over Michigan by 6.5
Boston College over WEST VIRGINIA by 2.5
MIAMI over Pittsburgh by 14
Ohio State over MICHIGAN STATE by 7
PENN STATE over Syracuse by 6.5
GEORGIA over Vanderbilt by 6.5
Alabama over TENNESSEE by 2.5
Wisconsin over INDIANA by 7
AUBURN over Georgia Tech by 9.5
Brigham Young over AIR FORCE by 6
ILLINOIS over Purdue by 7
Louisiana State over KENTUCKY by 2.5
MINNESOTA over Northwestern by 10
South Carolina over NOTRE DAME by 1.5

Wolverines
Mountaineers
Hurricanes
Buckeyes
Orangemen
Commodores
Tide
Badgers
Tigers
Cougars
Illini
Tigers
Wildcats
Gamecocks

Wolverines
Eagles
Hurricanes
Buckeyes
Lions
Bulldogs
Volunteers
Badgers
Jackets
Falcons
Illini
Tigers
Wildcats
Gamecocks

Hawkeyes
Eagles
Hurricanes
Spartans
Lions
Bulldogs
Tide
Badgers
Jackets
Falcons
Illini
Wildcats
Gophers
Gamecocks

Hawkeyes
Eagles
Panthers
Buckeyes
Lions
Bulldogs
Volunteers
Badgers
Jackets
Falcons
Illini
Tigers
Wildcats
Gamecocks

Hawkeyes
Eagles
Hurricanes
Buckeyes
Orangemen
Commodores
Tide
Hoosiers
Jackets
Falcons
Illini
Wildcats
Wildcats
Gamecocks

Wolverines
Mountaineers
Panthers
Spartans
Orangemen
Commodores
Volunteers
Hoosiers
Jackets
Falcons
Boilers
Wildcats
Wildcats
Irish

Hawkeyes
Mountaineers
Hurricanes
Spartans
Lions
Bulldogs
Tide
Badgers
Tigers
Falcons
Illini
Wildcats
Wildcats
Gamecocks