

The Observer

VOL. XIV NO. 83

an independent student newspaper serving notre dame and saint mary's

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1980

Bani-Sadr drops Shah 'requirement'

(AP) Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr was quoted yesterday by a French newspaper as saying his government is no longer demanding return of the deposed shah before the release of the American hostages which could occur "perhaps even in the coming days."

In Tehran, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini marked the first anniversary of his Islamic revolution Iran by vowing to continue battle against "the ruthless devourer," the United States. He made no mention of the hostages, who marked their 100th day in captivity.

Masses of jubilant Iranians celebrated the revolution's anniversary with a victory parade through Tehran. The crush was so great a grandstand collapsed, killing one person and injuring 66 others, including four who were hospitalized, Tehran radio said. It said three other persons in the crowd were killed when they were hit by a tank during the parade of security forces.

According to the Paris newspaper Le Monde, Bani-Sadr said the release of the hostages was possible, "perhaps even in the coming days," if the U.S. government acknowledged its "crimes" in Iran over the past quarter century and pledged to stay out of Iranian affairs. It must also recognize Iran's right to "obtain the restitution of the shah and his fortunes," Bani-Sadr was quoted as saying. He said he was waiting for Khomeini to make a decision on the proposal, perhaps in the next few days. The militants' opinion on the proposal was not known.

The official Pars news agency said Bani-Sadr had been misquoted but did not say what the alleged misquote was.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said the United States will not "profess guilt" for its record in Iran as part of a deal to win release of the hostages. Carter ruled out that possibility when he was asked about the statement by Bani-Sadr. Carter had no further comment on the American efforts to release the hostages.

According to the newspaper, Bani-Sadr also said:

--He had made a separate proposal that the Americans be removed in the next few days from the guard of the Islamic militants to a third party. He said that, too, would have to be approved by the Revolutionary Council which he heads as well as by Khomeini.

--He would "never resort" to violence against the Islamic militants. "In the case of a divergence of views, I would eventually go the U.S. Embassy to convince them to fall in line with my view."

--He favored a compro-

[continued on page 5]

Proving why they are second to none, Domers do it upside down. [Photo by Greg Maurer]

Civiletti defends FBI investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Attorney General Benjamin R. Civiletti said yesterday he believes the FBI's undercover bribery investigation will go no further in Congress than the eight members already implicated.

Civiletti, also defended the FBI against suggestions of entrapment in its investigative methods, which involved use of agents posing as representatives of Arab investigators.

"Crimes were not created by the FBI at all," he said, while conceding that some judge might decide a middleman or informant might have engaged in entrapment.

"Other than the unfortunate, regrettable and inexcusable leaks that have endangered innocent persons by identifying them specifically, there are no other senators or congressmen to my knowledge in any way related to the Abscam investigation," he told a National Press Club luncheon.

Abscam is the FBI code name for the 16-month operation that resulted in allegations that about 20 public officials and 10 businessmen took part in bribery attempts by undercover agents in exchange for promises of political favors or other services.

So far, members of Congress implicated in the operation are Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., and Reps. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y.; Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J.; Michael O. Myers, D-Pa.; Raymond Lederer, D-Pa.; Richard Kelly, R-Fla.; John P. Murtha, D-Pa.,

and John W. Jenrette, D-S.C.

Last week a source close to the investigation had said a ninth member of Congress was in a gray area between being cleared and being a subject of the investigation. The source said yesterday the ninth man had since been cleared, but refused to identify him.

The ninth man had been approached by intermediaries in the investigation but had turned them down, and had never met with undercover FBI men, this source said. "He is not among those congressmen who have revealed their contacts with intermediaries," said the source, who asked not to be named.

Three New Jersey congressmen, Reps. James Howard, William Hughes and James Florid, all Democrats, have publicly said they turned down approaches from intermediaries.

A companion investigation, code-named "Brilab" for bribery-labor, involves alleged bribery attempts in connection with the award of state government and union health insurance contracts. Public officials in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana have been implicated, and a grand jury in New Orleans will begin taking testimony in the case on Thursday.

Civiletti said he could not guarantee that some judge might not decide that a middleman in the bribery investigation had crossed the line into en-

[continued on page 3]

Women profs opt out of landmark court case

by Mary Fran Callahan
Staff Reporter

Sixty-two out of 130 women eligible to sue in the Frese sex discrimination lawsuit pending against the University opted out of the case Friday, while four of the potential six plaintiffs in the Ford tenure case did the same.

The Frese case alleges discrimination against non-tenured faculty women while the Ford case involves tenured faculty. Originally planned to be tried as class action suits, the cases may no longer be tried as such because of Friday's announced withdrawals.

Charles Barnhill, a member of the Chicago based law firm Davis, Miner & Barnhill which is representing the faculty women, said yesterday he views the women's decisions in a positive light since 68 have opted to remain participants in the lawsuit.

"It depends on what perspective you take. I am extremely gratified that 68 women have opted to stay in," he commented.

Barnhill said he understood why the 62 faculty women withdrew from the Frese suit. "I would guess they are a little nervous. Notre Dame has yet to act on their tenure decisions. The University has life and death control over these women," he explained.

However, Barnhill confidently added that the case has a strong legal foundation which actual numbers cannot touch. "The statistics and evidence will speak for themselves," he said.

Yesterday, a spokesperson in the County Clerk's office said that a de-certification (a request to drop class action status from a lawsuit) has been filed for the Ford case by the University. Attorneys have not yet taken any such action on the Frese case.

At a Jan. 28 hearing, Federal District Court Judge Allan Sharp set Feb. 29 as the deadline for attorneys to file de-certifications. Though one for Ford has already been filed, the judge will not hand down a decision until after the deadline expires.

Timothy McDevitt, assistant general counsel for the University, justified the Ford de-certification. "There is not legal precedent for a class action suit when only two women are involved," he explained.

McDevitt said that the University Counsel has not yet made a decision on whether or not they will file a de-certification on the Frese case, commenting, "It's too early to tell."

According to county records, the Equal Opportunity Employment Commission (EEOC) has now officially declared itself as an interviewer in the Ford case. No other information regarding the EEOC's role is currently available.

The question then arises of whether legal precedents set by class action lawsuits carry more significance than those established by regular lawsuits.

Dempsey Cox, a South Bend attorney with Cox & Albright & Associates, commented, "There is no real difference." Cox explained that legal precedents are determined by decisions

[continued on page 5]

Cooling system cracks; krypton gas leaks

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP) - A cooling system containing highly radioactive water sprung a leak Monday at the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant, and Sen. John Heinz said he learned that it resulted in the escape of some radioactive krypton gas.

Plant officials and the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission had said there was no measurable release of radioactive material outside the damaged plant when the leak spilled as much as 1,000 gallons of water inside an auxiliary building.

But Heinz, R-Pa., said he toured the plant following the leak and was told of the krypton release by control room operator Dick Wilson.

"It appears there was a release of approximately 300 millicuries of krypton gas . . . It was released into the atmosphere," Heinz said.

Sandy Polon, head of the plant's public relations office, said he knew of no such discharge, but said the amount described by Heinz would be very small.

"Three hundred millicuries is about a third of a curie, and there's 53,000 curies in the containment building," Polon said, referring to the huge separate building that houses the plant's damaged reactor.

In Washington, NRC spokesman Frank Ingram said no krypton gas had been detected at various measuring stations outside the plant.

Authorities earlier said the leakage of contaminated water posed no health threat.

"The leak has been isolated and stopped. The water has been contained inside the auxiliary building," said John Collins, head of operations at the NRC's office here.

"There has been no indication of airborne activity off site. There was no danger to any of the workers on the island or off the island," he added.

However, the auxiliary building, which adjoins the building

[continued on page 5]

Police put the bite on man's mysterious reception of music

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP) - George Dillard called police twice to complain that although he had no radio on, he was somehow hearing a radio station playing hard rock in his head. The police dispatcher advised the 56-year-old carpenter to "just go take a couple of aspirin," Dillard said. "So I did that. But after I lay down, the music jive started up in my ear again." He called for a second time during the wee hours yesterday and Police Officer David Cheshire went to Dillard's home. Putting his ear next to Dillard's head, Cheshire heard the music too. Fiddling with a radio at the radio at the same time, the officer discovered it was WKCI-FM, across Long Island Sound in Hamden, Conn., that seemed to be playing through Dillard's skull. The next move was to ask Dillard to take out his brand new false teeth. That did the trick. The dentures evidently were picking up the radio transmission.

Tito's amputation runs into complications

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) - President Josip Broz Tito, who had been reported making a strong recovery from the amputation of his left leg, now has digestive and kidney troubles, his doctors say. A medical bulletin, issued Sunday by doctors at Ljubljana Hospital, said the 87-year-old ruler's recovery had slowed in the last few days because of a "digestive disturbance and the appearance of certain difficulties in connection with the function of his kidneys."

Doctor reports unnecessary premature births often fatal

PEORIA, Ill (AP) - Mistakes by physicians may cause more than one fourth of the cases of respiratory distress syndrome, the leading cause of illness and death among newborns, according to a new study. Dr. William F. Powers, associate director of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit of St. Francis Hospital, said doctors apparently are allowing unnecessary premature births - which increase the chances of respiratory distress syndrome, known as RDS.

IOC ban on ROC may cause Olympics to see Reds

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) - A middle-level appeals court upheld Thursday the International Olympic Committee rules requiring that Taiwan athletes who participate in the Winter Olympics in Lake Placid must not use the flag or anthem of the Republic of China. If upheld by higher courts, the decision could provoke a walkout by the Taiwanese. But it would clear the way to the first participation ever by the People's Republic of China, or communist China, in an Olympics.

Weather

Mostly sunny today with highs in the mid to upper 20s. Mostly clear tonight with lows 10 to 15. Increasing cloudiness tomorrow with highs in the upper 20s.

Campus

10 am - 4 pm ACADEMIC APPAREL SALE, for faculty, ND BOOKSTORE

4 pm POOL CLINIC, paul gerni, LAFORTUNE BASEMENT

4:30 pm SEMINAR, "popular science and its uses," dr. john sevier, iusb ND GLAVIN AUD, sponsored by biology dept.

6 pm MEETING college republicans ND LITTLE THEATRE LAFORTUNE

6-12 pm MARDI GRAS, STEPAN CENTER, entertainment nightly, continues feb 12-feb.16th. admission $1.50.

7 pm MEETING, faculty senate, 202 CCE.

8 pm POETRY READING, nikki giovanni, LIBRARY AUD., sponsored by suac and black cult. arts festival.

Phoenix House offers recovering women alcoholics a temporary home

by Molly Woulfe
Staff Reporter

The red brick, Georgian mansion is set on a hill behind dense woods on Miami Street in South Bend.

The interior of the home is magnificent, with high ceilings, exquisite paneling, and multi-paned windows. A staircase of imported Italian marble, with a solid brass railing, leads to the second floor.

But the billiards room has been converted to a chapel, and the furniture, all donated, is worn, though still serviceable. This is Phoenix House, an independent, temporary live-in home for recovering alcoholic women, primarily from Saint Joseph County.

Mary Donna Kriehbaum and Mary Alic "Pepper" Allen are co-directors of Phoenix House, both recovering alcoholics, as is the housekeeper, Verna H. In an informal, protected, home-like environment, women are encouraged "to obtain ongoing, lasting, sobriety," Allen explained.

Built in the 1920's, the former Erskin mansion was purchased by the Sisters of the Holy Cross and remodeled into a boarding school for girls. Last year the Sisters leased it to a 21-member board of directors, consisting of businessmen and women, priests, and recovering alcoholics, to set up "as spiritual, not religious" center for women with drinking problems.

According to Allen, alcoholism among women has risen sharply in the last few years, and there is a definite need for Phoenix House in South Bend.

At the moment there are six residents in the home; there is room for twelve. The women usually range for 18-year-olds to women in their sixties, of various backgrounds.

"We've had bankers' wives, doctors' wives, waitresses, truckdrivers, even nurses here," Verna H. stated. "We're a cross-section of humanity. Alcoholism is a compulsion, a disease, for which there is no cure, only abstinence."

"There's no medical explanation for it," Allen agreed. "It hits any age, any sex, any creed or race. They used to say you don't find Jewish alcoholics--its not true."

Phoenix House's three-month program for alcoholic women consists of one-to-one talk sessions, group conferences, six mandatory Alcoholics Anonymous meetings per week, and work therapy. After one week in the home, residents are encouraged to find a daytime job in the South Bend Community.

Board is $60 a week, if affordable, and the women are expected to help with house-keeping and chores. Curfew is 11 p.m., and visiting hours from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sundays. Toward the end of their stay, women may go home twice, on two one-night weekend passes, "to see if they can handle it," Allen explained.

Over 60 women have "graduated" from Phoenix House since its opening last April, and the center currently boasts an 80% success rate. Alumnae often keep in close contact with the home, and participate in fund drives and outings. Most continue to attend AA meetings.

According to Allen, "AA is a way of life. Its a program anyone would be better off with; its clean living without guilt, without dishonor.

"We learn to take on responsibilities, have honest relationships, and live in a drinking society without participating in the drinking."

"Total abstinence from alcohol is necessary; just one drink, one, and an alcoholic would keep on going," she added.

Allen emphasized that a candidate for Phoenix House must personally want to be there, and guarantee a 72-hour period of sobriety before applying at the center for residency. She must also complete a physical examination, and be interviewed before being accepted.

Once a resident, every woman must follow the home rules, continue sobriety, be willing to accept personal responsibility, and show concern for the other members of the house, and its overall spirit.

Phoenix House is one of 18 self-sufficient halfway houses in the United States, and one of the few exclusively for women. It is supported by private donations, fund drives, and Catholic Charities.

80-81 Dome seeks next editor

Anyone interested in running for the position of Editor-in-Chief of the DOME, Yearbook of the University of Notre Dame, should contact Al Dreyer at 3138, 7524, or 7308 by Monday, Feb. 18.

Send a Singing Valentine

20 DIFFERENT SONGS

50¢ for LOCAL CALLS

$2.50 for LONG DISTANCE

Proceeds go to St. Mary's Chamber Singers Tour Fund

ON SALE NOW AT ND-SMC DINING HALLS

HAVE A COMPLAINT? BE THERE!

ST. MARY'S PARKING REGULATIONS

LEMANS LOBBY 6:00pm

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13

ANYTHING GROWS

53600 N. Ironwood

Valentines Day is February 14

It's not too late to order!

272-8820

REMEMBER: ANYTHING GROWS Posy Van will be at Stepan Center on Thurs., Feb. 14 from 12-2

The Observer

Night Editor: Ryan "call a doctor!" Ver Berkmoes

Asst. Night Editor: Cindy Kliros

Copy Editor: Tom Jackman

Layout Staff: Sal Granata

News Editor: Mike Shields

Sports Layout: John Smith

Typists: Mary Beth Budd,

Kate Huffman, George Bi-

ron, Scoop Sullivan

EMT: S. Paul Selavko

Proofreader: Maryellen "Omar" Bradley

ND Day Editor: Lisa Stan-

czak

SMC Day Editor: Cece Ba-

liles

Ad Design: Joe Murphy

Photographer: Greg Maurer

Guest Appearances: NFO'B

Dave Wemhoff and his Texas

hydrant...Paper of the week goes to John Smith's crew.

Nice going John!

The Observer [USPS 598 920] is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $20 per year ($10 per semester) from The Observer, P.O. box 0, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Pollard opens Lecture Series with talk on cancer research

by Laura L. Larimore
Senior Staff Reporter

Morris Pollard, Professor of Microbiology, will be the first speaker in the newly established Notre Dame Distinguished Scientist Lecture Series, sponsored by the Student Council of the College of Science. The lecture is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 14, at 7:30 in the Library Auditorium, followed by a reception in the adjacent lounge. Admission is free.

Pollard's presentation is entitled "Perspectives in Cancer Research." His current research, according to Kathy Fisher, research assistant, focuses on tumor investigation, using rats as a model system. This includes the injection of tumor cells, observing metastasis; experimenting with drugs; and noting the effects these have on the cancer, both in injected animals and those with spontaneously formed tumors.

Germ-free rats are also used to study the role the immune system plays in the origins of cancer. The results obtained, in all phases of the research, are interpreted as to possible similar effects in man.

According to Jack McCarthy, President of the Student Council, the speaker series is designed to "draw on the talent of the science faculty at Notre Dame." He stated that the Council hopes to schedule two talks each semester; another lecture is tentatively planned for late March or April. No speaker has been definitely stated, however.

The Student Council is composed of the presidents of each of the science clubs, and the editor of the Science Quarterly. It is advised by the Asst. Dean of the College, Daniel H. Winicur. It was revived as an active organization this year, after an inactive period of several years. The group meets weekly to discuss problems concerning science students and to plan science-related activities.

Professor of Microbiology Morris Pollard is to deliver a lecture on cancer research on Thursday. Pollard will be the first speaker in the ND Distinguished Science Lecture Series. See story. [Photo by Greg Maurer]

Courts ponder questions concerning Olympics

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) - In politically disturbed Lake Placid on the eve of the 1980 Olympic Winter Olympics, there appeared no thawing of opposition yesterday to a U.S. plea to pull the Summer Games out of the Soviet Union.

The argument over whether the Summer Olympics should be held in Moscow continued before the International Olympic Committee, while courts dealt with another politically rooted issue in Albany, not far away.

The Appellate Division of state Supreme Court upheld the committee's rule barring Taiwan athletes from using the flag or anthem of the Republic of China.

If upheld by higher courts, the decision could provoke a walk-out by the Taiwanese. But it would clear the way for the first participation ever by the People's Republic of China, or communist China, in the Winter Olympics.

The unanimous decision reversed a ruling last Thursday by state Supreme Court Justice Norman L. Harvey of Plattsburgh. But lawyers for the Taiwanese immediately headed for the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court, to file an appeal.

With the Winter Games set to start Tuesday, Robert Kane, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, again presented President Carter's demand that the Summer Games be moved from Moscow, postponed or canceled if the Soviets do not withdraw their troops from Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

Carter has said he will ask that no U.S. team be sent to Moscow if his conditions are not met. U.S. officials abroad have lobbied other friendly governments to take the same stand.

But there were strong indications that the International Olympic Committee would reject Carter's plea before it concluded its special session in Lake Placid on Tuesday. Lord Killanin, president of the international committee, had said repeatedly the Summer Games could not be moved.

In the Albany courtroom, Taiwan pressed its challenge to the arrangements made by the International Olympic Committee to have China compete in the Winter Olympics for the first time since the Communist takeover in 1949.

Taiwan was trying to overturn rules that forbid it to compete as the Republic of China and require it to use a different flag and anthem than it currently uses.

In a concession to mainland China, which has refused to compete in international sport with any team that calls itself the Republic of China, the International Olympic Committee had told Taiwan to use the name Taipei Olympic Committee and to change its flag and anthem.

Taiwan won a lower-court order overturning the rule, but the international committee and the Lake Placid Olympic Organizing Committee appealed. The Taiwanese contended they were the victims of unfair discrimination since the Olympic committee did not dictate what names other countries use.

Iran power struggle continues

EDITOR'S NOTE - The writer, winner of a Pulitzer Prize for Vietnam war reporting, spent a month in Iran and left in late January after the government ordered the expulsion of correspondents for U.S. news organizations. This article is based on information gathered in Iran before his departure.

by Peter Arnett

by Peter Arnett
AP Special Correspondent

Iran's 36 million people, who either enthusiastically supported the overthrow of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi or did nothing to prevent it, now are witnessing a multi-sided power struggle among his successors.

The outcome will determine Iran's new place in the world. It also will either resolve or complicate one of the more bizarre acts of the revolution - the taking and holding of hostages at the American Embassy in Tehran, a siege now in its 100th day.

Millions marched triumphantly in the streets when the shah's 38-year reign was ended with his ouster a year ago, but the government was almost totally unglued in the riotous aftermath.

As authority collapsed behind fleeing officials, or was immobilized by the summary executions of many who stayed behind, problems such as these began shaking the faith of millions in the revolution.

Powerful minorities in three strategic border regions challenged the political underpinnings of the revolution, resulting in bloody clashes that averted becoming civil war only through continuing compromise.

The economy collapsed along with the government, and no

[continued on page 4]

... Bribery

[continued from page 1]

trapment. "Judges do not agree with the government's conduct in every such instance," he said.

But the attorney general said the question of entrapment was "carefully considered" by the FBI and the Justice Department's criminal division and "measured decisions were made."

In New Jersey, Gov. Brendan Byrne endorsed a bipartisan proposal to abolish the state's part-time Casino Control Commission, some of whose members have been implicated in the bribery investigation, and replace it with a full-time panel.

1980 CHEERLEADING

Tryout Information Night

7:00 pm Thursday, Feb. 14 in the A.C.C. Pit

A friend of a heavy drinker?

HELP!!

JOIN A
SUPPORT GROUP

8 pm every Sunday

Saint Mary's Student Govt. Offices

PREPARE FOR:
MCAT • DAT • LSAT • GMAT
GRE • GRE PSYCH • GRE BIO
PCAT • OCAT • VAT • MAT • SAT
NMB I, II, III • ECFMG • FLEX • VQE
NDB I, II • NPB I • NLE
Flexible Programs & Hours

Visit Any Center And See For Yourself
Why We Make The Difference

291-3150

Stanley H. KAPLAN
EDUCATIONAL CENTER
TEST PREPARATION
SPECIALISTS SINCE 1938

Outside N.Y. State Only CALL TOLL FREE: 800-223-1782

Centers in More Than 60 Major US Cities
Puerto Rico, Toronto, Canada & Lugano Switzerland

Send That Special Someone
a Valentine's Day Personal
in The Observer

1 dozen words - 1 dollar

(10¢ a word thereafter)

DEADLINE 1 pm TOMORROW

The nurse makes sure that this ND student gets the point as he awaits careful attention at the Student Health Center. Perhaps he is suffering a malady similar to that of Monday's Night Editor. [Photo by Phil Johnson]

deuce

Dance band now booking for spring formals
(616) 926-8882

SHARE ONE WITH SOME ONE!

DO IT
TOGETHER
ON VALENTINE'S DAY AT...

the
Sub Machine
US 31 N. 1 MILE NORTH OF CAMPUS

BUY 2
FOOT LONG SUBS

and

SAVE 50¢

FEBRUARY 14TH ONLY

SAVE

BUY 2 FOOT LONG
SUBS AND SAVE

50¢

WITH COUPON

BUY 2 FOOT LONG
SUBS AND SAVE

SAVE

Crime on increase

Students complain about parking

by Bridget Berry

Four incidents of vandalism have been reported to Security so far this month. One student, Tony Murphy, a freshman resident of Stanford Hall, said that he suffered a loss of over $450 last week because of Security's negligence.

"They go hang out in Flanner because of the weather while our cars are being vandalized," he said.

Glenn Terry, director of Security, said that there had been no rash of incidents this semester. He said that although no one is stationed in the lots, a motorized patrol circulates frequently. He added that Notre Dame students are employed over the weekend as an added precaution.

Rex Rakow, assistant director of Security, said that traffic flow should offer further protection, but that students too often allow suspicious incidents to go unreported.

He explained that although Security does question "Wanderers" and "loiterers," it is very difficult to catch vandals.

Murphy estimated that thieves must have been in his car with the light on for at least 25 minutes. He said that David Disabato, also a Stanford resident, and Bill Panny of Grace Hall had suffered similar losses.

Rakow said that vandalism in the parking lots was not considered to be a major problem, especially since many incidents reported as vandalism were actually minor accidents.

He said that most thefts on campus occur in the A.C.C. or in the dorms. Many students leave valuables unattended while playing raquetball, he explained.

"People have responsibility for their own goods," he said, adding that most of the students being victimized in the dorms do not have their doors locked. "It is very difficult for someone to break into a dorm room."

Terry also commented on anxiety expressed by women students about recent intrusions in their dorms.

He reported that two boys who had entered both Walsh and Breen-Philips, spying on girls in the showers, had been caught and handled through the Park View Detention Home and the Juvenile Probate Court. He said that occurrences of that sort were rare.

... Power struggle

[continued from page 3]

solutions so far have been offered for rapidly rising unemployment and unaccustomed food shortages.

Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the inheritor of shah-like authority in Iran, was suddenly stricken with heart problems, raising fears that the country would be a rudderless ship in increasingly rougher political seas.

"The goal of the current power struggle is to pick up enough of the pieces to effectively lead the country," said one of the few Western diplomats still residing on Tehran's Embassy Row.

At stake for the Iranian people is not only a new foreign policy but also the extent to which their lives will be rolled back to an era of austerity and Islam-inspired moral regulation. This already has resulted in the banishment of female vocalists from radio and television, the segregation of Caspian Sea beaches by sexes, and the banning of alcohol and dancing. Regional political chaos and economic decline are seen as a continuing consequence of fragmented leadership.

For the United States, a strong Iranian government able to dictate to the student-jailers holding the hostages seems the only way to resolve the issue without bloodshed. For the longer term, political stability is essential to assure Iran's place as a buffer to Soviet expansion through central Asia to the Persian Gulf oil fields, a possibility brought chillingly closer by the intervention in Afghanistan.

The main players in Iran's power game are:

Ayatollah Khomeini, 79, ailing but still the acknowledged father of the revolution, who through his Revolutionary Guards and loyal "peoples committees" rules the country. He brought home from 18 years in exile not only a fervent intention to return his nation to the ways of Islam, but also his version of a peoples' democracy to replace the monarchy of the shah. After nearly a year which saw his country wallowing in the drama of vengeance trials, political maneuver and economic disaster, Khomeini allowed the government structure to emerge.

Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, 46, a radical economist whose years of personal loyalty to Khomeini paid off in the recent presidential elections. The ayatollah saw the major political parties raising a serious challenge to his own dominance so he adroitly withheld his support from any special candidate, allowing the independent Bani-Sadr with his blend of nationalism, radicalism, and Islamic fervor to romp home the winner.

It was 15 years ago in France that Bani-Sadr is said to have told Jean-Paul Sartre, the French writer-philosopher: "I will be the first president of Iran." He is tackling head-on the issue that has once nearly destroyed his political career - the freeing of the American hostages.

The Peoples Committees - most notoriously "the students following the Imam" (Khomeini) now in residence at the U.S. Embassy - who grabbed grassroots power after the revolution and currently exercise duties once held by police and government regulatory agencies.

There are an estimated 15,000 of these locally formed committees, and they often work in conjunction with the Revolutionary Guards, the rag-tag warriors who are the armed instruments of the ayatollah's rule. The committees are ultimately responsive to the wishes of Khomeini, even the committee of student militants from four Tehran universities who invaded the U.S. Embassy last Nov. 4, taking the staff inside hostage.

The students' gained local acclaim and international notoriety for their brazen act, but individually they remain anonymous and are expected to sink into political oblivion if Bani-Sadr can convince the ayatollah to order the hostages freed.

The Revolutionary Council, like most Iranian post-revolutionary power centers is a shadowy organization whose full membership is still not known, even though it has officially functioned for months as the major decision-making body.

Members include Islamic revolutionaries such as Sadegh Ghotbzadeh who as foreign minister infuriated Americans with his stridently uncompromising stand over the hostages. Bani-Sadr already has won his first battle with the Revolutionary Council by winning its chairmanship and the authority to form a government before parliamentary elections next month.

Woman draft question up to courts

WASHINGTON (AP) - The courts likely will have the final word in draft registration for women, and legal scholars say that probably means women will be signing up for service.

Congress seems cool to the idea of registering women, a concept supported by President Carter and his advisers.

But Thomas Emerson, a professor of constitutional law at Yale University, says, "Whichever way it goes (in Congress), there will be a suit filed. There's no way that the courts can avoid it."

David Lanau, a staff attorney at the American Civil Liberties Union office here, vowed, "The day that the president signs (male-only registration), we will be in court."

Carter announced Friday he wants to register men and women 18 and 19 years of age, saying, "There is no distinction possible, on the basis of ability or performance."

White House officials said a major factor in his decision was the prospect of court challenges if women were excluded. The Supreme Court has yet to hear a draft case, but lower court decisions since 1974 have tended to open new avenues for women in the military.

Phyllis Schlafly, a leading opponent of the Equal Rights Amendment, said "There's no way Congress will register women."

She plans to focus on Congress in her battle against registration for women, although she does not rule out court action if she is unsuccessful.

"The doctrine of military necessity clearly requires the exclusion of women from the draft and combat," said Mrs. Schlafly, a lawyer.

At ND and SMC

Recent fires spark safety question

by Cece Baliles

The recent fires at Saint Mary's have raised questions over the fire safety procedures of both SMC and Notre Dame. Chief inspector Jack R. Bland, the director of fire safety at Notre Dame, wants to impress upon students the need for the observance of fire regulations and the participation in fire drills.

"Students should be aware of where the nearest fire alarm pull-station is located. If at anytime you feel endangered by even the smallest amount of heat, smoke, or flames pull the fire alarm," Bland said. Students should not take time to dress or collect possessions, as time is critical in a fire, he added. The longer the students wander around the more likely they are to be injured, Bland commented.

In recent years there have been very few false alarms at Saint Mary's, and the number is beginning to level off at Notre Dame, Bland said. For this reason when an alarm sounds it is necessary to respond immediately as it is likely to be a fire. Bland also added that students should know all of the exits in their hall, not just the ones they frequently use.

"The most important step a student should take when fire breaks out in a room is to leave and shut the door. This prevents the fire from spreading into the hall and adjoining rooms," Bland added.

He explained that most people have never been in a fire and, therefore, do not realize how serious it is. "A fire is the worst possible environment. The heat is stifling and the smoke, blinding and choking. Since most students have never experienced this they are unprepared for it," he added.

With the great number of fires in universities students now tend to take fire more seriously, Bland commented. He added that this was shown in the decline in the number of false alarms at Notre Dame.

When the Notre Dame fire department receives a call from either Saint Mary's or Notre Dame one truck is dispatched, Bland explained. The city of South Bend sends two engines, a truck, a squad, and a fire chief, he added.

The Notre Dame fire department is staffed by three brothers of the Holy Cross, Bro. Borromeo Malley, the fire chief; Bro. Bratus Schlenker, the deputy fire chief; and Bro. Frank Gorch, the fire inspector. It is also staffed by four students from Notre Dame, according to Bland. These student firefighters are trained through experience after being taught to operate the truck and pump, he added. There is also an experienced officer with them at all times he said.

Last year there were 155 calls to the station, including automobile and trashcan fires, Bland said. He added that there were two ways to call the fire department. The student may dial 6200 to reach the Notre Dame station or 9-911 to reach the South Bend station. The fastest and safest way to alert both fire departments is to use the pull station which sounds an alarm in the building, alerting the occupants and the fire stations at the same time, he explained.

The Notre Dame station is also involved in fire code enforcement and inspection. The buildings are inspected at least three times a year, the residence halls more frequently, Bland said. During these inspections, only minor violations are usually found, he added. He also said that there are no particular buildings at Notre Dame that are exceptionally hazardous. Saint Mary's is not inspected by the Notre Dame station.

"It is the contents of a room that make it flammable, not the room, itself. The more a room contains and the more appliances used, the more likely it is to catch on fire," Bland explained.

The station is also involved in fire prevention programs. Although the station is actually affiliated only with Notre Dame, these programs are also open to Saint Mary's if enough interest is shown, Bland said. These programs include movies and demonstrations on fire safety.

Bland concluded that "the awareness of the individual of the other individuals involved is a great step in fire safety. What you do in your room and your neighbors do in their rooms affects everyone. Students must take this responsibility seriously. There is no such thing as a fire-proof building. You shouldn't take the attitude that it can't happen to you or that someone is just kidding. Leave at once." He also added that students should be aware of the fire rules and take them seriously.

... Women profs

[continued from page 1]

alone--not the number of people behind a particular lawsuit.

However, Cox speculated that the University might benefit financially if the suits were not class action. "If you lose a class action suit, you've got to pay every member who has sued," Cox explained.

If the sex discrimination charge is brought into court via individual lawsuits, the University would not necessarily have to award damages to all the plaintiffs if it should lose a suit. The class action status then has a blanketing "all-or-none" effect.

No court date has been set for the trial, but the County Clerk's spokesperson said that a tentative notation on the case file called for the proceedings to begin no earlier than July. Judge Sharp will set a definite date within the next few weeks.

... Gas

[continued from page 1]

that houses the severely damaged reactor, was evacuated during what plant officials called the "local emergency."

Eleven workers, wearing protective clothing and breathing gear, were inside at the time.

"We don't have any indication at all that any of these workers received any radiation," said Polon, spokesman for Metropolitan Edison Co., operator of the plant that was shut down following an accident last March.

"We isolated the auxiliary building, evacuated it, so we could locate the leak and take care of it," he added.

A two-man crew wearing protective gear re-entered the building to assess the situation. Another crew stood by.

Polon estimated the amount of the leak at 1,000 gallons.

In Washington, Victor Stello, Jr. the NRC's director of inspection and enforcement, gave an estimate of 600 gallons.

Officials said water had leaked at a maximum rate of nine gallons per minute between 12:55 p.m. and 2:40 p.m. A sump pump hauled the spilled water to a storage tank.

Plant officials said the leak occurred during routine maintenance of three pumps that add water to the primary cooling system. They said that when one pump was turned on, a leak developed in a pressure switch feeding a three-eighths-inch line.

In Washington, NRC spokesman Frank Ingram said his agency's technical support team at the plant was investigating.

... Iran

[continued from page 1]

mise solution involving both some form of tribunal to investigate U.S. actions in Iran and U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim's proposal for an international commission to investigate the shah's rule.

Meanwhile, a U.N. spokesman said Waldheim's negotiations for release of the hostages "are at a very sensitive stage." Spokesman Rudolf Stajduhar said Waldheim "is very closely following all statements by President Bani-Sadr, including the statement given to Le Monde."

Both Tracy Jackson and Margaret McGlynn give their all against San Francisco. [Photos by Tim McKeogh]

Spring Breakout

South Bend to Ft. Lauderdale

Charter at $189.00

March 29-April 5

Hotel rooms available

First Bank Travel in Badin

Engineers
Sundstrand
on campus...

Feb. 26

As one of the world's leading suppliers of advanced systems and components for aerospace manufacturers, we play a vital role on craft such as the space shuttle, all U.S. commercial jets, current military programs, and a number of business jets. Sundstrand also is known for its products in energy systems, air comfort, power transmission, and fluid handling.

If you're interested in a creative engineering environment where you can work with outstanding professionals, investigate Sundstrand. We offer competitive salaries, strong benefits, and a generous educational reimbursement program. Our headquarters are in Rockford, Illinois, a medium-sized community with varied employment opportunities for spouses.

On-campus interviewer... Gene Roy

SUNDSTRAND

4751 Harrison Avenue

Rockford, IL 61101

An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

Committed to aerospace growth

The Observer

Box Q Notre Dame, IN 46556

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions and letters are the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorial Board and Department Managers

Editor-in-chief.....Rosemary Mills
Managing Editor.....Diane Wilson
Editorial Editor.....Ann Gales
Senior Copy Editor.....M. Onufrak
Executive News Editor.....Mike Lewis
News Editor.....Mark Rust
News Editor.....Mike Shields

SMC News Editor.....Margie Brassil

Sports Editor.....Mark Perry
Features Editor.....Kathleen Connelly
Photo Editor.....Doug Christian

Business Manager.....Steve Odland
Production Manager.....John McGrath
Advertising Manager.....M. Holsinger
Controller.....Kevin Manion
Circulation Manager.....Greg Hedges

Visitors to the O'Shag Art Gallery are bound to do a double-take when they see this finely detailed paper mache sculpture. (Photo by Greg Maurer)

[continued from page 8]

Nowalk, Mary Bayless and Malureen King, all assumed the duty of closing out Cook.

"We played really well tonight on defense," offered the only senior on Saint Mary's squad. "we stopped Cook and Freehill--that helped a lot. Cook really hurt us last year with those 33 points so we knew we had to stop her, and we did."

The onset of second half play saw Saint Mary's pull ahead and build a lead with credit due to the team's fastbreak offense. With a little more than three minutes remaining, the Belles had built a 67-59 margin and Saint Francis was forced to call a time out and regroup forces.

The break in action must have sparked the Cougars as they battled back and eventually gained the lead. That made it Saint Mary's turn for a timeout and strategical masterminding with just a minute remaining and the home club down by one.

King assumed the Tracy Jackson--save all--role for the Belles when she returned to the court and edged the Belles ahead 69-68 on a lay-up shot from Maureen O'Brian as the clock showed a scant :20 remaining.

In a sort of anti-climatic finish, sophomore Mary Zuehlke added the final two for Saint Mary's as she iced two free throws after being fouled at the buzzer. Last night's game marked the return of Zuehlke to the Belle line-up as the forward guard missed two games due to back injuries.

Saint Mary's hosts Nazareth College tonight in the Angela Athletic Facility. Tip-off time is set for 7 p.m.

Olympics

Opening Ceremonies - Wednesday, Feb. 13, 1980 : 2:30 p.m. E.S.T.

Weather - Light snow fell in Lake Placid yesterday and temperatures ranged from zero at night to 20 at midday.

Notes - The U.S. team hopes of its highest number of medals in Winter Games' history. The top was 12 when the Olympics were held 48 years ago in Lake Placid. They won 10 at Innsbruck in 1976, including three gold.

Molarity

by Michael Molinelli

Doonesbury by Garry Trudeau

The Daily Crossword

© 1980 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc. All Rights Reserved

2/12/80

- | | | | |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| ACROSS | 24 State treasury | 49 Irish sweetheart | 10 Custer, to Indians |
| 1 Like a rutted road ride | 26 Foreword | 50 Trespass | 11 Fragrance |
| 6 — Alamos | 28 Farmers | 52 Exterior | 12 Gin drink |
| 9 Tiffs | 32 High note | 56 From a point in time | 13 Stone marker |
| 14 Soap plant | 33 — jacet | 57 Met number | 18 Confronting |
| 15 Can. prov. | 34 Home of the "Jazz" | 58 Thrusting sword | 22 "Just another —" |
| 16 Fortune-telling card | 39 Infuriated | 61 Auto- (inquisition act) | 25 Actor Erwin |
| 17 U-turn | 41 Style of painting | 64 Color | 27 Culbertson |
| 19 Without help | 43 Fencing weapon | 66 Printed impressions | 28 Donahue |
| 20 Like a sad sack's face | 44 Went first | 68 Bright-faced | 29 Milan money |
| 21 Take — breath | 46 Martha of comedy | 69 — of Good Feeling | 30 Knock |
| 23 Actor Jannings | 48 Coastal bird | 70 Consumed | 31 A Lewis |
| | | 71 Underhanded | 36 Like some sandwiches |
| | | 72 Sun | 37 Ice mass |
| | | 73 — bear | 38 Part of n.b. |
| | | | 40 Very ugly |
| | | | 42 Operated |
| | | | 45 Brother |
| | | | 47 Ending for 76 |
| | | | 51 Treat with antiseptic |
| | | | 52 Quenches |
| | | | 53 Mr. Heep |
| | | | 54 — bell (register) |
| | | | 55 Kefauver |
| | | | 59 Beginner |
| | | | 60 Gern |
| | | | 62 Vendetta |
| | | | 63 Behold |
| | | | 65 Attempt |
| | | | 67 Portly |

Monday's results

RIVER CITY RECORDS

northern indiana's largest record and tape selection and concert ticket headquarters

$1.00 OFF any album or tape limit one coupon per person
(expires feb. 15, 1980)

18,000 albums and tapes in stock
ND/SMC student checks accepted for up to $20.00 over purchase amount

RIVER CITY RECORDS

50970 U.S. 31 NORTH
3 miles north of campus 277-4242

Corby's

TUESDAY
FEBRUARY 12, 1980

7pm-3am

Corby's Beach Party

MOLSON
GOLDEN ALE 75¢

BRING YOUR SUN TAN LOTION

DePaul stays atop AP

(AP) - Unbeaten DePaul was the unanimous choice for the top spot in the Associated Press college basketball poll for the fourth consecutive week yesterday as the top six teams remained the same and pre-season favorite Indiana fell out of the elite 20 for the first time this season.

The Blue Demons were tabbed No. 1 on all 58 first-place ballots and received a perfect score of 1,160 points in the voting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. In its only game last week, DePaul edged Dayton 65-63.

Syracuse, Louisville, Oregon State, Kentucky, and Louisiana State filled the next five positions, respectively.

The Orangemen collected 1,047 points in outdistancing Louisville for the No. 2 spot. The Cardinals, who posted victories over Cincinnati and Providence last week, garnered 1,012 points.

Oregon State, which nipped Arizona State in overtime last week was fourth with 959 points, followed by Kentucky, 898, and Louisiana State, 874.

St. John's moved up one spot this week and took over the No. 7 position from Maryland with 774 points. The Terps were next with 749 points while Ohio State and Clemson rounded out the Top 10.

The Buckeyes, ranked 13th last week, collected 628 points following triumphs over Michigan and Michigan State. Clemson, which jumped from No. 16 to the Top 10 after upsetting Maryland last week, got 462 points in edging North Carolina for the No. 10 spot.

North Carolina headed the Second 10 for the third consecutive week. Notre Dame, No. 9 last week but upset by North Carolina State, was 12th followed by Brigham Young, Missouri, Purdue, Duke, Weber State, Virginia, Arizona State and Indiana.

AP Top Twenty

The Top Twenty teams in the Associated Press college basketball poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records and total points. Points based on 20-19-18-17-16-15-14-13-12-11-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1. DePaul (58)	20-0	1,160
2. Syracuse	21-1	1,047
3. Louisville	21-2	1,012
4. Oregon State	22-2	959
5. Kentucky	21-4	898
6. Louisiana St.	18-4	874
7. St. John's, N.Y.	21-2	774
8. Maryland	17-4	749
9. Ohio State	16-5	628
10. Clemson	17-5	462
11. N. Carolina	16-5	451
12. Notre Dame	16-4	435
13. Brigham Young	18-4	409
14. Missouri	18-4	403
15. Purdue	15-6	332
16. Duke	17-6	298
17. Weber St.	21-2	275
18. Arizona St.	17-5	192
19. Kansas St.	18-4	126
20. Iowa	16-5	100

...Playoffs

[continued from page 8]

"We used Paxson as a nucleus in the second half, rotating the other guys out for short rests," said Irish coach Digger Phelps, whose club had lost to the Dons 67-59, a month ago.

"We were also taking a lot better shots out there than we had been. We fell flat for a few minutes in the second half, but we toughened up again in the last six minutes. We just came ready to play tonight."

Irish forward Kelly Tripucka came to play. He had 20 points, and matched Jackson's total of eight rebounds. Guard Rich Branning had 11 points, while center Orlando Woolridge had 10 points and nine rebounds.

Forwards Guy Williams and John Hegwood paced a balanced San Francisco scoring attack with 12 points each.

The Irish outrebounded the Dons, 36-32, and outshot the visitors from the foul line. While the Irish hit 18 of 25 free-throw attempts, for 72 percent, San Francisco could only muster 6 of 16 accuracy, for 38 percent.

The 12th-ranked Irish, now 17-4, hit the road for three games while the Ice Capades run at the ACC. Phelps and Company next meet Fordham on Thursday evening at Madison Square Garden.

Notre Dame--78
San Francisco--66

San Francisco (66) Williams 6 0-3 12, Hegwood 6 0-0 12, Bryant 5 0-1 10, Dailey 4 2-7 10, Reid 4 1-2 9, Harris 3 3-3 9, McCoy 0 0-0 0, Cornelious 0 0-0 0, Deloatch 1 0-0 2, Bowers 1 0-0 2. Totals 30 6-16 66.

Notre Dame (78) Jackson 9 5-7 23, Tripuka 9 2-4 20, Woolridge 3 4-6 10, Branning 4 3-4 11, Hanzlik 3 2-2 8, Mitchell 1 0-0 2, Paxson 1 2-2 4, Wilcox 0 0-0 0, Varner 0 0-0 0, Andree 0 0-0 0, Salinas 0 0-0 0, Healy 0 0-0 0, Hawkins 0 0-0 0. Kelly 0 0-0 0. Totals 30 18-25 78.

Halftime score--Notre Dame 47, San Francisco 33.

Fouled out--None.

Total Fouls--San Francisco 23, Notre Dame 19. Technical, San Francisco. Bowers.

Attendance--11,345.

Classifieds

All classified ads must be received by 5:00 p.m., two days prior to the issue in which the ad is run. The Observer office will accept classifieds Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All classifieds must be pre-paid, either in person or through the mail.

Notices

Custom made resumes from the Word processors get results. The one-time charge of $15 includes professional styling, wording your resume just right, and typing to make it look its best. Write today! The Word processors, 601 N. Walnut, Bloomington, In. 47401.

Spring break Daytona Trip - Bus Transportation w/ hotel $199, Drive'n Save for $99, Drive'n save to Ft. Lauderdale $109 only 6 rooms left 6 days - 5 nights for information. Call Ken 283-1387

Morrissey Loan Fund
N.D. Student loans $20-$200. Due in one month. One percent interest. Basement of Lafortune. 11:30-12:30 M-F. Last day for May grads to apply is March 14.

Typing done in my home. You deliver and pick up. Call 237-3732.

Lost & Found

Found: Green plaid scarf in Bus. Bldg. 8785.

Lost: My glasses. Highly attractive SMC sophomore cannot see herself in the mirror. They had a gold frame and square tinted lenses. If you have seen them please call Colleen at 4-1-4374, she'll make it worth your while.

Lost: Blue Backpack. Missing from North Dining Hall (Lunch) Feb. 4th. Frantic!! Need contents! Call 288-5465. No questions asked.

Lost between Stephan Parking Lot and Grace Hall a apir of glasses in a brown or green case. Reward offered. Please call Mike 1782.

Lost: One gold bracelet. Square with a clasp. Has engravings. Katie SMC 4519

Lost ring. If you found ND ring in Hayes-Healy please see Lost and Found or me at 005 Fisher. 283-1877

$ offered for return of books in blue backpack taken for bkstore 2-7-80. Lisa 1330

Found: Portable Pioneer Cassette tape player found at N.D. ice rink on Wednesday-Feb. 6th at about 11:00 p.m. Call Tim at 232-7314 to identify.

Lost: Wire-rimmed glasses in a brown case on 2/8/80. Probably near O'Shag. If found, please call Steve Striegel. 8986.

Lost: HP25 calculator in either room 303 or auditorium of engineering bldg. on Thursday-Feb. 7 morning. Please call Bob at 1166 or return my calculator to Den's office or to lost and found.

For Rent

We rent dependable cars from $7.95 a day and 7 cents a mile. Ugly Duckling Rent-A-Car. 921 E. Jefferson Blvd. Mish., Inc. 255-2323

Roommate wanted. Share house with private large bedroom and bath. Rec room with pooltable, laundry facilities, HBO, kitchen privileges. No area. Busline. $150 month. 233-5349 evenings.

Wanted

Anyone interested in cooking classes phone "Patsy's Pantry" 272-5640.

Overseas Jobs - Summer/year round. Europe, S. America, Australia, Asia. Etc. All fields $500-$1,200 monthly. Expenses paid. Sightseeing. Free info. Write I-JC Box 52-14. Corona Del Mar, Ca. 92625

Wanted: Need ride to Denver over spring break. Will share driving and expenses. Call dave 277-1742

Ride or Riders needed to Fordham game. Will leave on Feb. 13th - call Al

3625

Wanted: Lightweight, sturdy framed backpack for European travel. Call Gail at 237-1150

For Sale

Students ... Need an inexpensive sofa, love seat, kitchen set, chair, table, lamp at cost? Furniture at super savings. 5% discount. 2122 South Bend Ave. 277-7772

Acoustic Research 2aX speakers, 3 way, one year old. $100 pair. 4-1-5187

"Hey Iran" defiance T-shirts available $5 phone 1866 for details.

'79 Jeep CJ-7 Renegade PS, AT, closed body, excellent condition. Near wholesale price 272-6116.

Flash: Photographic equipment for sale--fantastic bargains--cameras, lenses. Call 232-4129

1969 Delta 88 Oldsmobile. Runs well. Asking $325.00. Call 272-9007 after 5 pm.

Used books at discount prices. The latest in new books. Frequent sales on new and used titles in categories from philosophy to popular fiction. Visit Pandora's Books, 937 S. Bend Ave., Between Eddy and Notre Dame.

Tickets

Need G.A. and student DePaul tickets. Call 232-7314. Thanks.

I need 2 Ga and 2 studnet tix to DePaul game will pay your price. Anna (SMC) 5322

Help! We are in dire straits. We need many GA or studnet tix for Marquette game. Call Dan 8998 or Mike 3406.

$ Desperately need 2 Dayton tickets $ Ron 8479

Must have Dayton (5) tix!! Please help. 41-5710

Need 4 GA's to N.C. State or Marquette. Will Pay Good $. Call Joe at 3439.

Need 2 GA and 2 student DePaul tickets. Call Larry Hau-1049

Will Pay Mega $$$ for 2 G.A. Marquette tickets. Karen 6798

Need tickets to the Marquette game on the 24th of Feb. Mike 8501

Dayton GA's
Dayton GA's
Dayton GA's
Dayton GA's
Dayton GA's
I need 'em - Mick 8212

Need 3 Marquette Ga tix. Any price. Call Dave 1133.

Big Bucks for Marquette tickets call Mary or Anne 6751

Need 2 GA tickets for Marquette - Call John 1840

Need 2 Marquette GA's. Will Pay well. Call George at 8543, from 10:00 to 12:00 p.m.

I need one Marquette GA. Chris 8545

Help! My brother is leading a band of warriors down for the Marquette game. I need many tickets. Call 8300.

Help! Need 2 student or G.A. tix to dePaul Call Kathy 6793 or Mike 3462

Need many DePaul GA tix call 8437 or 8436

Desperately need 3 Marquette tix please. Call Bill at 8288

Big Bucks: 2 or 4 DePaul Tickets. Call (312) 372-7399 collect. 9-5, Ask for Alex Deviance.

Need 2 GA Marquette tix for Jr. Parents weekend. Good $. Call 8437 or 8436.

Personals

DOCTOR LAURA*
THANKS SO MUCH FOR ALL YOUR HELP AND PUTTING UP WITH ALL MY XXXXXX!
MUCH LOVE
Mary Beth

Happy Birthday Bryan Lee Smith.
Love,
Your wife

Yo Hose, did you catch SWINE FLUE from that sow!

Hell hath no fury like that of a woman scorned.

Singing Valentines on Sale now at ND-SMC Dining Halls. Sponsored by St. Mary's Chamber Singers.

Is he not ugly? He is Zeto. Zeto for UMOC - '80'

Need ride to Greenbay, Wisconsin Friday February 15. Call 4-1-4427.

Dear J.D.
Thanks for my weekend. Wish it could have been more pleasant Sat. night.

Love,
MB

ZETO
...to see him is to retch.

Mom:
Happy ??th Birthday!
Love,
Joe

P.S. Marty: Congrats on the 3.29! I knew you could do it!

Attn. Anyone interested in working on the Floyd R. Turbo campaign for president please call 8776. Ask for Floyd of course.

Anyone interested in contributing some photos for a possible college life "Midpoint" should contact Kathy Connelly at 7471 or John McGrath at 3106

Love Is: A "Singing Valentine" sponsored by ND Chorale-Glee Club by phone: $.50 at door. $2 at supper, ND-SMC Dining Halls February 11-12.

Mark R.
In response to your recent misguided theological quips, the Bishop of Hippo and myself fraternally forgive you.
Bob B.

TO THE CAST & CREW OF "AN EVENING IN DANCE"
I WISH WE COULD DO IT ALL OVER AGAIN. SORRY ABOUT SAT. NIGHT.
MB

Al-anon support groups -8:00 pm every Sunday - Saint Mary's Student Government Office.

DEBRA SEDORE STAHL
I don't care what Kate Farrell writes. I think that your choreography this year was excellent. Thanks for all the time, effort, and patience.
Much love
the sickling

Paula-
Thanks for taking me for a ride. I'll put in a good word for you with the truckers.

John

Jazz lives at WSND. If you like jazz and want to get involved with radio. Call Tim. 7820

Tutor needed: Help high school student prepare for SAT test.

Interested in ministry and a career in the Church? The channel program might be for you. The Director will be here Feb. 11-15. Call Volunteer Services, 7308, to make an appointment.

dear Thursday Day-Editor -- It is a well known truth that the weekend Day-Editor is the best.

ATTENTION GODS:
AN AWESOME EVENT IS UN FOLDING. THE GODDESS OF TATAS* VENUS DE COOCHIE COO* IS ARRIVING THIS FRIDAY FROM THE COAST [THE EASE COAST* NERDS]. GET YOUR CAMERAS READY, AND STAY TUNED.
P.S. I TAPPA KEGGA IS A LEGEND IN ITS OWN TIME.

Today is Nancy J. Ryan's 21st birthday. I hope all her friends stop by room 419 to wish her a happy one. There'll be Dainty Maid of course... P.S. Happy B-day R.
Love R.

Tired of that limp, mousey hair color? This year do it right. Henna-lucent puts vibrant color, super softness, and electrifying shine into the hair, or ask for no color change super-gloss. Both add full body too. For men and women. Lasts for months! Call Armando's 277-0615. Ask for Kim.

The WSND "Action Jack" comes your way tonight at ten, 64 on your AM dial.

The White Whale can gain you entry into the Common wealth.

To 4th Stanford: (ie. Louie, Butch, Jim, David, Sean, Colin, Larry, & bob) The party was great! (So is the beer!) Marty, Teri, & Susette
P.S. Louis - my cheeks hurt!!
P.S.S. How do you guys look in shorts?

joel h.,
We love you. Why don't you call?
Chip and Dale

2-D Grace,
Friday night-boy, was it ever hot! Thanks.
Patty and Kerry

Patti-
Sorry about everything
MH

Irish trample Dons, begin drive to playoffs

by Paul Mullaney
Assistant Sports Editor

Father Hesburgh just might receive a formal invitation from Notre Dame basketball coach Digger Phelps to join the Irish on the bench for the rest of the season.

Notre Dame's President served as team chaplain for the first time ever last night, and the Irish recorded a 78-66 victory over visiting San Francisco in one of their most impressive showings to date.

"It was really nice to have Father Hesburgh on the bench with us," smiled Notre Dame forward Tracy Jackson, who led the hosts with a career-high of 23 points. "He even said mass before the game for us. It made the game kinda special."

What also made the game special for the Irish was an attempt to regroup following two losses in their last five contests.

"We had a meeting on Sunday," said Jackson. "The players and the coaches discussed the things we were doing wrong, and we brought everything out on the table. We admitted our faults, because we wanted to keep the team's unity."

"We looked at this game as kind of a turning point. We wanted it bad. This was going to be the beginning of our drive to the playoffs."

The Irish began their drive early. Leading by two, 10-8, early in the game, Notre Dame rattled off 12 straight points to ignite a throng of 11,345 at the ACC. And, before the first half was over, Phelps' squad found itself up by 20, 47-27, before taking a 47-33 margin into the intermission.

"We came out and just didn't play well in the first half," offered second-year San Francisco coach Dan Belluomini, whose Dons suffered their first setback in eight contests. "We gave 'em too many easy shots and rebounds."

They also watched Notre Dame connect on 56 percent of its first-half shooting - including seven-for-seven accuracy from Jackson.

"What can you do when he (Jackson) has one of his best performances against you?" asked Belluomini. "Maybe cut his arm off - but that's about it. No, he's just a great player."

The Irish maintained their intensity for most of the final stanza. However, a short surge by the Dons midway through the half cut Notre Dame's lead to six, 65-59.

"I'm proud of my team - they didn't quit," insisted Belluomini. "It's tough to come from behind when you're on the road. We had a decent comeback. It was the beginning of the game that killed us."

With freshman guard John Paxson quarterbacking the Irish in the game's waning minutes, Notre Dame was able to find enough open holes in Frisco's full-court press to build the lead back up to 14 points.

(continued on page 7)

Orlando Woolridge was hemmed in this time, but he and his teammates broke out last night to overwhelmingly defeat the San Francisco Dons, 78-66. [Photo by Tim McKeough]

K of C Meet

Two-mile relay team triumphs

by John Smith
Staff Writer

The Irish two-mile relay team rebounded from last weekend's performance by capturing first place in Saturday's Knight's of Columbus meet in Cleveland, Ohio. This came the day after the Notre Dame team put on a competitive performance at the Big State Meet in West Lafayette, Indiana. The team finished in fourth position behind the competition from Indiana, Purdue and Indiana State.

Chuck Aragon, Pete Burger, Tim Macauley and Jay Miranda brought the relay team home in a time of 7:36, their best this year, and only three seconds off the NCAA qualifying time. It seems an almost certainty that the team will qualify for post season competition once again this year. The Knights of Columbus meet is one of the most competitive indoor meets in the country. The Irish have taken first place in the two-mile relay event for two of the last three seasons.

At West Lafayette, the team impressed Coach Joe Piane, "We performed well, I was pleased. I saw a lot of really good performances by our guys. If we keep up the intensity we had this weekend, I see no reason why we should not keep on improving."

One of the finest performances was turned in by Jacques Eady. He finished third in the 440 yard dash, and won his heat in a time of :50.30. Dwight Williams of Indiana State won the competition at :49.81.

"Jacques ran extremely well in the quarter mile. He finished third overall, but I feel he could have won if he had been running in the same heat as the two runners that finished ahead of him," stated a pleased Piane afterwards.

Notre Dame did well in the 1000 yard run as they placed three runners among the top five. Miranda finished second with a 2:13.12 time, followed closely by Burger at 2:13.50. Jim Slattery finished in the fifth position with a 2:15.82 time.

Aragon and Macauley both placed high in the half mile run as Aragon grabbed second place with a 1:53.25 finish and Macauley ended in fourth position.

Steve Dziabis and Rick Rogers finished third and fourth respectively in the 600 yard run. Dziabis posted a 1:12.70 time while Rogers closed at 1:13.69.

Other Irish performers to place within the top five in their respective competition included Perry Stow in the pole vault and Bill Ribera in the 300 yard dash.

Despite coming off an injury, Stow managed a 14 foot 6 inch vault, while Ribera was clocked at :32.39.

Ahmad Kazimi finished in fifth place in the triple jump competition, with a leap of 47 feet 3 and 3/4 inches. Tony Hatherly placed fifth in the mile run with a 4:13.47 time.

Rounding out the scoring was the one-mile relay team who finished third with a 3:20.26 combined time.

The next competition for the Irish comes this weekend when the team travels to Ann Arbor, Michigan for the Central Collegiate Conference meet.

Belles win 71-68, snap losing streak

by Beth Huffman
Women's Sports Editor

Saint Mary's thwarted a come-from-behind effort by St. Francis College in the final seconds to top the Cougars 71-68. Last night's win snapped a three game losing streak for the Belles and elevated their win total to 10 as opposed to eight in the losing column. St. Francis boasts an 8-6 season mark after the narrow loss.

"We didn't box out-Saint Mary's got too many offensive rebounds (16)," offered Tom Schienbein, mentor for the Cougars. "We played about the best as we could and so did Saint Mary's. I was especially impressed with both teams' shooting in the first half."

First half shooting was indeed impressive, Saint Mary's hit a .530 clip from the field while Saint Francis offered a .487 percentage. Cindy Freehill, the Cougars middleman, put on quite a show of her own-pumping in 18 of her game's 19 points in the first half-to pace the visiting team.

Despite the impressive scoring of Freehill the Belle trio of Anne Armstrong, Nancy Nowalk, and Mary Pat Sirlington led its team to a 44-42 half-time edge. Armstrong-broke a 42-42 deadlock with just seconds remaining as the 5-5 freshman tossed in a 20-foot jumper from the baseline, a typical perimeter shot for the Ohio native. Armstrong ended the game with 17 points while Nowalk and Sirlington connected on 10 and 15 points respectively.

Jerry Dallessio, second-year coach of the Belles, switched from his first half strategy of a box-and-one defense to a denial man-to-man in the second to close out the hot hand of Freehill. Initially the Saint Mary's club concentrated on Deb Cook, who put 33 points in the bucket when the two squads met last year. Cook tallied 16 points for the Cougars against the Belles, but her looming presence was buffered by a strong defensive showing on the part of Saint Mary's.

The Belles' captain, Nancy Nowalk, pointed to her team's defense as a key to the win.

(continued on page 6)

Record at 4-12

Wrestlers drop pair

by Bill Marquard
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame wrestling team continued in its disappointing ways Saturday, dropping dual meets to Marquette 25-17 and Winona State 31-9.

"It is frustrating at this point in the season," conceded Irish head coach Ray Sepeta. "But I believe in this team and I know that they are capable of much more than they have done this year."

The Irish managed three wins and a tie against Marquette, although two of those wins were forfeits to Mark Fisher (118) and Dave DiSabato (134). The only match win was Chris Lavo's 10-4 decision over Jim Sitzberger at 142 pounds. Senior captain Mike Wilda fought to a 4-4 tie with Dan O'Neil at 150 pounds to close out the Irish scoring.

In the second half of the triangular meet, the Irish posted only two decisions against a stronger Winona State squad. Senior captain DiSabato extended his winning streak to 22 straight with a 3-2 win over Dave Rucinski. That streak is just one shy of Phil Gustafson's all-time standard of 23 wins in a row set in 1970-71. It is also three short of Mike Fanning's 25 consecutive matches without a loss in 1971-72. DiSabato is now 23-1 on the year heading into this weekend's Wheaton Invitational tourney.

The remaining Irish scorer was sophomore John Iglar, who pinned Winona's Ron Smith in 2:55. The win improved Iglar's season record to 11-12-1.

"Our record at this point (4-12) is not a true indication of our talent," explains Sepeta. "The Wheaton Invitational this weekend gives us another chance to redeem ourselves and show what we really do have."

Sports Briefs

Bench sparks Irish comeback

The Irish Women's Basketball team defeated Goshen on Saturday by a score of 52-49. Notre Dame came back from a 29-20 deficit at halftime. 35 of the Irish points came from their bench as Shari Matvey poured in 19; in addition, Missy Conboy contributed 12. The women now stand at 13-5. They travel to Huntington for a game tonight.

Winter Olympic coverage starts

NEW YORK (AP) - ABC will kick off its 51 hours of coverage of the 1980 Winter Olympics tonight from 9:30 p.m. EST to 11 p.m. with a preview of the Lake Placid Games and ice hockey highlights. Jim McKay, who will serve as host throughout the XIII Winter Olympics and also will handle figure skating commentary, and the rest of the network's crew of 800 in Lake Placid will get a jump on the opening ceremonies by showcasing the favorites in various disciplines.