Crime Stoppers - page 4

The Observer

the independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1986

Moments of Reflection

VOL. XXI, NO. 66

Father Hesburgh receives the offerings from four of the many students who attended the Mass at Sacred Heart Church held in memory of the Zahm Hall junior Michael Cogswell on Wednesday at 5 p.m. Students were reminded to reflect upon the fragility of life in the homily given by Father Thomas King, rector of Zahm Hall.

Approval given for extending parietals on Sunday nights

By CHRIS BEDNARSKI Assisstant News Editor

Parietals hours may be extended until 12:30 a.m. on Sundays only, beginning next semester, although hall rectors retain the "discretion to withhold this extension," according to a letter from Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs Father David Tyson.

The letter, addressed to Student Body President Mike Switek, announced Tyson's decision to extend Sunday parietal hours, and explained Tyson's decision to reword a proposed policy statement concerning overnight parietals violations.

Proposals to extend Sunday parietal hours and clarify the penalty for overnight parietals violations were given to Tyson for approval after they were passed by the Campus Life Council on November 20.

Tyson's decision accepted the first three parts of the proposed policy statement that say an overnight parietals violation will still be considered "a serious violation of the University Rules and Regulations, although "not as grievous an offense" as the sale of drugs or the engagement of premarital intercourse. These first parts also classify overnight parietals violations and violations of the Sexuality Code as separate offenses.

Tyson objected, however, to the final part of the statement that says, "The penalty for an overnight parietals violation, by itself does not normally constitute suspension or dismissal."

In the letter, Tyson said this part of the statement "could easily be miscontrued by some to mean that an overnight parietal violation would not constitute grounds for suspension or dismissal."

Tyson's letter said no decision on the punishment for an overnight parietal violation is made without "consideration of the circumstances in-

see PARIETALS, page 5

Americana renovations to alter graduation plans

By BUD LUEPKE Copy Editor

Families of 1987 graduates planning to stay in the Americana Inn during commencement weekend will have to search elsewhere for overnight accomodations because of a six-month renovation project scheduled for that building by new ownership. The Americana Inn, 213 W. Washington St., has been sold to Inns America Corp., of Braintree, Mass., and will become a Holiday Inn after renovations are completed, according to a press release issued by Americana general manager John Wilson.

Wilson said that the hotel will close until the end of July due to renovations. Reservations set for days of the renovation period will be cancelled, Wilson added.

The renovation period will include the May 17 commencement excercises.

CIA chief denies knowledge about arms sale profits sent to Nicaragua

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - CIA Director William Casey, in five hours of secret, sworn congressional testimony, denied Wednesday that he knew the profits from U.S. arms sales to Iran were being transferred to Nicaraguan Contra rebels, lawmakers reported.

The Observer/Mike Ury

But Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said Casey did offer specifics "with regard to a lot of information which we did not have on the record before" concerning the unraveling scandal that has engulfed the Reagan administration.

Fascell added, "When all of the dots are eventually linked on this, it will be, I won't use the word incredible, but it certainly will be extraordinary." He added that he hopes the whole story will be uncovered soon.

Rep. William S. Broomfield of Michigan, the senior Republican on the committee, said, "The good news is that Mr. Casey was pretty candid with us and none of what he had to say in any way indicates that the president knew or should have known of any wro. doing. "The bad news is that what Mr. Casey told us indicates serious errors of judgment by senior CIA personnel," Broomfield said, adding, "That needs to be corrected."

Casey testified as Republicans and Democrats sparred over whether congressional committees investigating the Iran-Contra connection should grant immunity from prosecution to key witnesses who have refused to discuss what they know.

Wilson did not say the Americana would try to find alternate accomodations for those whose commencement reservations will be cancelled.

One of those witnesses, Vice Adm. John Poindexter, Presi-

see ARMS, page 3

Student aid qualifications could be tightened by new law

By MIRIAM HILL Senior Staff Reporter

A change in federal laws could make it tougher to qualify for student aid, according to Notre Dame Financial Aid Counselors Tina Cunningham and Kathy Keener-Han.

Cunningham said students applying for Guaranteed Student Loans will be most affected by the new law, called the Higher Education Amendment of 1986.

For some students, the 1987-

88 Guaranteed Student Loan could be less than the amount received in previous years, she said.

The new law requires all students hoping to receive financial aid to file a Financial Aid Form with the College Scholarship Service. This represents a change for Guaranteed Student Loan applicants, who previously had to complete a form called the Simple Needs Test. "Many students at Notre Dame have only the Guaranteed Student Loan, and for those students, the big change is going to be that they can't do it the way they used to before," Keener-Han said.

In general, the new method of determining need is more rigorous than that used by the Simple Needs Test. As a result, some students' Guaranteed Student Loan eligibility may be more restricted.

The new law also raises the amount of money a student can receive through the

see AID, page 4

FINANCIAL AID GUIDELINES

No Financial Aid Form, no money. It's that simple.
Financial need is based on financial status and family circumstances. Both change on an annual basis.
Don't assume your eligibility or ineligibility.
The Financial Aid Form should be filed as soon as possible after Jan. 1, 1987. It must reach the College Scholarship by Feb. 28, 1987.

A completed 1986 tax return is not necessarily needed in order to file.

If the Financial Aid Form is filed after Feb. 28, 1987, it will be considered a late application.

Send signed copies of both your and your parents' 1986 federal tax returns to the Financial Aid Office.

In Brief

A sniper dressed in a black martial arts costume and carrying a Samurai sword was subdued by a blast from a water hose Wednesday, 11 hours after he began firing a rifle at random from a building at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, Ky. Two men were wounded during the standoff with the gunman, Ulysses S. Davis III, who had been fired by the university last summer for fighting. Davis wanted to air some grievances about the university. - Associated Press

Bill Breeden says he's more likely to serve jail time for taking a "John Poindexter" street sign than Poindexter is for any role the former national security adviser may have played in U.S. weapons sales to Iran and secret aid to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua. Like Poindexter, Breeden is a native of Odon, Ind. Police want to question Breeden about the theft of Odon's "John Poindexter" street sign, which was erected one day after Poindexter's Nov. 25 resignation as national security advisor. The sign was stolen the day after it went up. - Associated Press

Of Interest

University President Father Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., will be the guest on tonight's WVFI-AM 640's weekly talkshow, "Campus Perspectives." From 10 to 11, Host Lynne Strand will interview Hesburgh on Notre Dame's past and future, and key Notre Dame and Catholic issues. The Hesburgh interview will be the last segment of "Campus Perspectives" this semester. - The Observer

A mock videotape interview program will allow seniors to be interviewed by professional recruiters from Jan. 16 to 23. Seniors must sign up in Career And Placement Services before Dec. 19. - The Observer

Volunteers for next summer's Special Olympics may register today at noon in the ISO Lounge on LaFortune's second floor. - The Observer

Summer Service Project applications for students who are studying abroad spring semester are available at the Center For Social Concerns. Applications and interviews must be completed before Christmas break.- The Observer

Indianapolis Shakespeare Festival auditions will be held Saturday, Feb. 7, 1987. The project will tour five Indiana communities in August, 1987. Applicants should send a coverletter, resume, and photo to the Indianapolis Shakespeare Festival P.O. Box 30316, Indianapolis, Ind. 46230. For more information, call 782-0088. - The Observer

Applications for R.A. selection may be picked up in the Student Affairs office by interested students who will study abroad next semester. No applications will be given to any interested students after January 16, 1987. Completed applications, three recommendations and, where required, letters of approval, must be on file in the Office of Student Affairs. - The Observer

Observer Of Interests and In Briefs can be submitted to the Day Editor at Observer office on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center until 1 p.m. prior to the date of publication. Of Interests announce free campus-wide events of general interest. The Observer reserves the right to edit all Of Interests. -The Observer

Weather

Thoughts of finals roll in with the clouds this afternoon. Sunny this morning but becoming partly cloudy in the afternoon. High in the upper 20s to about 30. Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, with lows in upper teens and lower 20s and highs in the upper 20s and lower 30s.

Journalists in limbo over whose rights to protect

The ethics of journalism.

Does a newspaper have the duty, ability and basic right to print everything that is news in its pages? I ask myself this question in regards to printing the names of victims, the names of those arrested for crimes, those people, students rather, who are living among us on our campus.

Some people say it is our duty, as a newspaper to print and report all news regardless of its harshness, or its probable effects on the lives of students, and others in our small community. In addition to this, some ask, "where does a newspaper get the power not to print the names, facts or content of stories?" They may say the newspaper has a duty, a responsibility to the public.

This duty can be abused, however, and the results are ugly. Journalism sometimes attracts a certain breed of people, and they exist all over the United States, who are news-mongers: people who only want the facts, now. If it's news, it's news, no questions asked. These people do not consider the news value in relation to other factors: like people's feelings or the effects the article might have on an entire community.

I feel a human factor must be considered. One must ask, by printing this story, or name, is the story any more credible? Do the positive effects of printing this story, on the public, outweigh the negative effects? A newspaper is not here to exploit, or sensationalize the news; instead it is here to report, as objectively as possible, the news as it exists.

Writing should be considered a privilege. It should be handled responsibly. It is sad to see someone use the power of the pen in a destructive manner-possibly only to advance one's personal goals or promote a personal vendetta.

I then consider something that would alleviate these problems, something that other professions have used for years. I wonder why accountants are required to take the certified public accountant's exam in order to become CPA's; or why lawyers, in order to become practicing attorney's, have to take the bar exam. With this in mind, journalists should be required to take an exam too. Ethics should be the main thrust of the test, as well as other basic rules of journalism reviewed.

Not that a newspaper can play God and keep important information from the public, but there is a line when it comes to what information, and how much of it, a newspaper should print. For instance, in the three drunk driving articles The Observer has run, the names of the students driving the car were not printed. This was truly an editorial opinion and a difficult decision just the same. No doubt, the name is spouted on T.V., on the radio and in other area newspapers. So, what makes The Observer, any different? The Observer is run by students, for students. Is the news content worth as much, or more than the possible anguish it might cause those people involved? If so, the decision is made.

KWEIMHOLT 12-11

However, if the negative effects of the story, or a particular content of the story might outweigh the news content, it must be reconsidered. What if, by printing a person's name who was charged with drunk driving and had hit another Saint Mary's or Notre Dame student, he or she was "sent over the edge?" One must remember the small community we all live in. The Observer is the only news source of several students.

On the other hand, "It's a hard, cold world out there," "That's life some people say." You don't have the power, as a newspaper, not to print the names. It's the public's right to know. I say to myself, yes this makes sense, but does it make any difference that The Observer is a student newspaper, serving Catholic institutions? I am left with a dilemma: whether or not to protect the innocent, the guilty, or the public?

The Observer

Design Editor	Rob "Lux" Luxem
Design Assistant
Typesetter
News Editor	Ann Kaltenbach
Copy Editor
Sports Copy Editor	Pete Gegen
Viewpoint Copy Editor	Maura Mandvek

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $40 per year ($25 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

A THREE YEAR SCHOLARSHIP ($27,000) MAY BE EARNED BY JOINING THE NROTC UNIT IN YOUR FRESHMEN YEAR! FOR DETAILS CALL LT WACHTL AT 239-6063!

The Observer

Elie Wiesel gets Nobel Peace Prize

Associated Press

OSLO, Norway - Holocaust survivor Elie Wiesel, an American writer and human rights advocate, received the 1986 Nobel Peace Prize Wednesday and said the honor belonged to all survivors of the Nazi death camps and their children.

Norwegian Nobel Committee Chairman Egil Aarvik gave Wiesel the gold medal and diploma at ceremonies in Oslo University's Aula Festival Hall attended by 800 people, including King Olaf V and government leaders. The prize also includes $290,000.

The award was "in recognition of this particular human spirit's victory over the powers of death and degradation, and as a support to the rebellion against evil in the world . . . " Aarvik said.

The Nobel prizes for physics, chemistry, medicine, economics and literature were presented Wednesday in Stockholm, Sweden.

In a departure from tradition, Wiesel's teen-age son, Shlomo Elisha, was invited to join his father on the podium for the awarding of the prize.

Obviously moved, the 58year-old Wiesel asked the king's permission to say a brief blessing. "Thank you, oh Lord, for giving us this day," he said.

In an emotional acceptance speech, Wiesel said: "Do I have the right to represent the multitudes who have perished? Do I have the right to accept this great honor on their behalf? I do not. No one may speak for the dead, no one may interpret their mutilated dreams and visions . . .

"This honor belongs to all the survivors and their children, and through us, to the Jewish people with whose destiny I have always identified..."

Wiesel said it "would be unnatural for me not to make Jewish priorities my own: Israel, Soviet Jewery, Jews in Arab lands ... but there are others as important to me."

He said Palestinians were a people "to whose plight I am sensitive but whose methods I deplore when they lead to violence."

"Both the Jewish people and the Palestinian people have lost too many sons and shed too much blood. This must stop, and all attempts to stop it must be encouraged," he said. Aarvik noted it has been 50

Aarvik noted it has been 50 years since the peace prize was awarded to Carl von Ossietzky, the German pacifist who, prior to World War II, warned of the Nazi threat to democracy.

Fit to dance in

Scott Selig sports his boxer shorts in the North Dining Hall on Wednesday. The Dancing Irish are selling Notre Dame boxer shorts in the North and South Dining Halls this week.

Arms

continued from page 1

dent Reagan's former national security adviser, met for only about 10 minutes behind closed doors with the House Intelligence Committee. Previously, Poindexter has cited his Fifth Amendment right against selfincrimination in refusing to testify before the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Intelligence Committee.

Rep. Robert Roe, D-N.J., said Poindexter again invoked the Fifth Amendment in his brief appearance before the House Intelligence Committee.

That panel also heard secret testimony from Robert M. Gates, the deputy CIA Director, whom Roe described as "very open."

Robert McFarlane, Poindexter's predecessor as Reagan's national security adviser, also testified.

Roe agreed with other legislators on various committees that as the amount of testimony being collected grows, new questions arise.

"I think a lot of the issues ... are beginning to be cleared up," he said. "But other issues are being exacerbated and beginning to unfold."

On the other side of Capitol

The Observer News Department is accepting applications for the paid positions of:

Day Editors

Those interested may come to or call The Observer offices on the third floor of LaFortune or call Lynne Strand at 283-3861 or Kim Yuratovac at 272-9361.

Give your parents & friends The University of Notre Dame

The Observer/Mike Ury

We don't have your answers. But we'll listen to your questions, share some of our own about who we want to become and where we want to journey. For anyone who has considered the path of priesthood, the Holy Cross Fathers' One-Year Candidate Program provides an opportunity to ask and explore the possibilities in community.

Contact: Father Couhig & Father Doyle Vocation Director Box 541 Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-6385 Hill, the Senate Intelligence Committee met briefly as yet another witness declined to testify.

Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., the committee chairman, said Robert Dutton, an associate of retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard Secord, invoked his Fifth Amendment rights. Secord, now a private businessman, has been identified as a key contact in the arms deal and with the Nicaraguan rebels.

Durenberger said his panel still cannot determine what happened to all the profits from the Iranian arms sales. Asked if he was sure any of the money actually went to the Contras, he said, "I couldn't prove it."

> BUY OBSERVER CLASSIFIEDS

Weekly Crime Stoppers segment to feature robbery of ND students

By MIRIAM HILL Senior Staff Reporter

This is Lt. Sam Walsh for Crime Stoppers. The robbery of Notre Dame students in South Bend is the Crime of the Week.

Those words will be broadcast on area radio and television stations next week, as Crime Stoppers turns its attention to crimes committed against Notre Dame students.

The segment will depict the robbery of two Notre Dame students that occurred at 11:30 p.m. Oct. 17 in the parking lot of The Commons, a bar at 800 N. Eddy St.

The students were getting out of their car when three men approached them, said Walsh. One man displayed a knife while another man pulled a sawed-off shotgun and demanded the victim's wallet and money.

The suspects grabbed one of the students, took his wallet, and left the area. The suspects escaped with $150 and some credit cards, Walsh said. Walsh said two of the

Walsh said two of the suspects are black males between 25 and 30 years old, standing 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing 160 pounds. The third suspect was described as a 30year-old black male of medium build wearing dark clothing.

Maura Barille, a 21-year-old senior from Saint Mary's, and Pat Tickle, a 21-year-old senior from Notre Dame, starred as the victims of the crime in the reenactment.

Cpl. Eddie Vann of the South Bend Police Department and Randy Washington and Tony Williams, students at LaSalle High School portrayed the criminals.

Notre Dame senior Rafael Benavente, 25, produced the segment, which will be shown for the first time Monday during the 5:30 p.m. news on WSBT, Channel 22.

Barille and Benavente are interns with WSBT, the television station that produced this week's segment of Crime Stoppers.

"If there's been a crime against a Notre Dame student, or against anyone, that's of concern to us," said Walsh, who is in charge of Crime Stoppers in the South Bend area.

"Notre Dame students are easy prey, because the thugs know they're not armed and that they're carrying money," he said.

As the holiday season approaches, robberies tend to increase because people need more money, Walsh said. He said he hopes next week's segment of Crime Stoppers "will act as a deterrent to the guys who are doing the robberies up here."

To prevent robberies, Walsh advised students to walk in groups in well-lit areas. In addition, he said students should keep wallets out of sight and be suspicious of activity around them.

"The most important thing to remember is that if a robbery does take place, don't resist. Give them what they want," he said.

Crime Stoppers is an international not-for-profit organization that solicits information on unsolved crimes. The South Bend Area Crime Stoppers program began in May of 1983 and has since received information that helped solve 850 felony cases and led to the arrest of 800 felons, Walsh said.

Information on the crimes also appears in five area newspapers and on 12 radio stations. Walsh said Channels 16, 22 and 28 film the segments for free as a public service.

If you call Crime Stoppers this week with information leading to an arrest or indictment you could receive a $1,000 reward. South Bend callers call 288-STOP. You will be assigned a code number and we won't ask your name.

The Observer/Mike Ury

Randy Washington, Pat Tickle and Cpl. Eddie Vann reenact this week's 'crime of the week' in the parking lot of The Commons. Story at left.

Aid

continued from page 1

't Guaranteed Student Loan program every year. The annual loan limits have been raised from $2,500 to $2,625 for freshman and sophomores and to $4,000 for juniors and seniors. For graduate students, the limit has been raised from $5,000 to $7,500.

ZIP 104 and Sunshine Promotions Welcome

Tuesday, January 13 7:30 p.m. Notre Dame ACC All Seats Reserved $14.50

Tickets at the ACC box office, Sears, St. Joe Bank (Main Office), Night Winds, Just For The Record, Elkhart Truth, Super Sounds, JR's Music Shop and Music Magic.

Charge by phone 239-7460.

Tickets go on sale Fri., Dec. 12

Logan Center to get toys

By JOHN SCHMIT News Staff

The last of the toys collected by the Marine-sponsored Toys for Tots program will be delivered today to the children at Logan Center and the Memorial Hospital in hopes of bringing the less fortunate some added Christmas cheer, according to Marine Corps representatives Brian Dean and Pat Kelleher.

Through fundraisers at Theodore's and Senior Bar, the club has raised almost $2,000 used to buy toys at Children's Palace, said Kellener. New toys were also collected on campus and at the Credit Union, he said.

The Semper Fidelus Marine Club has been sponsoring the program this year with Dean heading the drive. Corps "The Marine Reserves have annually sponsored the nationwide charity drive to collect toys underprivileged for children," Kelleher said.

Air strike on Nicaragua confirmed

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Reagan administration officials confirmed Wednesday that Honduran jets struck targets inside Nicaraguan territory last weekend.

But they denied charges by Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega that Honduras carried out the raids at the request of the United States.

The Los Angeles Times quoted sources in Honduras on Wednesday as saying U.S. officials were not told the Hondurans planned to attack positions inside Nicaragua and that the Americans were distressed to learn of the bombing runs.

But U.S. officials, who asked not to be identified, said the administration had not taken a position on the propriety of the Honduran action.

The Honduran government denied again Wednesday that it had undertaken any raids inside Nicaragua but Sandinista military officials showed reporters craters and shrapnel in the town of Wiwili that they attributed to Honduran bombing runs.

The Sandinistas said that the air strikes left seven soldiers killed and 12 wounded. The town is located about 16 miles from the border. Nicaragua said an army post at Murra, 11 miles northwest of Wiwili, also was attacked.

The raids apparently were in response to recent border crossings by Nicaraguan crossings troops into Honduran territory.

An administration official said U.S. intelligence agencies had confirmed the crossborder attacks, but added he did not know what damage had been inflicted.

Meanwhile, another U.S. official described a report that the Honduran government has reached an understanding with Nicaraguan rebels that they would withdraw from Honduran territory by next spring as "exaggerated."

The reports said the rebels had pledged to Honduras they would carry out their fight against the Sandinistas from Nicaraguan territory. Rebel use of Honduran territory has been a sore point with that government for years.

Asked about the report, State Department deputy spokes-woman Phyllis Oakley said, "It is the view of the United States that the Nicaraguan resistance belongs in Nicaragua. The government of Honduras has ex-

Parietals

continued from page 1

volved."

"Thus, I am directing the Residence Life staff to reword the statement in such a way that an overnight parietal violation will not automatically result in suspension or dismissal but that the penalty assessed will be dependent on the circumstances of the case which could include suspension or dismissal," the letter said. Student senator and chairman of the Student Senate Committee on Parietals Brian Holst said he is pleased with the decision to extend Sunday parietals.

"It's a good sign. It shows that the administration is receptive to student input when it is well formulated," he said.

Grace Hall Rector Father Gerald Lardner said the decision to extend Sunday parietals is not of major importance. "It's not that big a deal. I think it's a common sense type thing.

Lardner said he will probably extend parietals until 12:30 a.m. in Grace Hall, al-

THINK THICK	Thick Crust	12" thick crust pepperoni or sausage with double cheese only $6.50.
FRIDAY FEAST	2 Topping Pizza	any 16" 2 topping pizza and 4 cokes only only $11.00. (value 2.55)
SUPER SATURDAY	FREE COKE	2 FREE cokes with any 12'' pizza 4 FREE cokes with any 16'' pizza
SUNDAY STUDY BREAK	799	12" pepperoni pizza with double cheese and 2 cokes only $7.99

though he said he will talk it over with the Resident Assistants and Hall Staff first.

"I would rather have had parietals stay the same," said Father George Rozum, Alumni Hall rector. He also said he will consult with his hall staff before deciding whether or not to extend Sunday parietals in Alumni Hall.

At the time the proposal was passed by the CLC, Holst said the reason for extending Sunday parietals an extra halfhour is to accommodate "co-ed receptions" after hall masses. "It allows students to relax and socialize after mass in one another's rooms," he said.

Holst, however, said he is disappointed with Tyson's decision to reject the final part of the proposed policy statement. "We were looking for a con-crete lessening of the penalty and the penalty was only redefined," he said.

Let the music flow

Bass guitarist Bill Merkel and Brian Doherty, Jazz concert presented Wednesday night in drummer, jam together at the Dimensions in Washington Hall.

Study shows hormone could increase life span

Associated Press

BOSTON - High levels of a mysterious hormone have been linked for the first time with longevity, and finding ways to increase this natural chemical might someday be a key to helping people live longer, researchers say.

The hormone, produced by the adrenal gland, is called dehydroepiandrosterone sulfate, or DHEAS. No one knows precisely what it does, al-though it's the most abundant steroid hormone in humans.

Researchers at the University of California at San Diego found that older men who had high levels of the hormone were far less likely to die, especially of heart disease, than were people with low levels of the substance.

"There is no way to either raise or lower DHEAS levels with medicine or behavior, although it is conceivable that we could develop a therapy to alter levels of the hormone," said Dr. Elizabeth Barrett-Connor, who directed the study.

In their report in Thursday's New England Journal of Medicine, the researchers cautioned that DHEAS could merely be a marker for some other attribute that truly helps people survive longer. But they added, "It is also plausible that DHEAS confers protection against death in general and against death from cardiovascular disease in particular.'

In the early 1970s, the researchers drew blood samples from 242 San Diego men who ranged in age from 50 to 79. After 12 years, the doctors compared the levels of DHEAS in the men's blood with their survival. The initial DHEAS levels among the 76 who had died were lower than those of the men who were still alive.

Although no one knows how DHEAS works, the researchers speculated that it might prevent obesity and hardening of the arteries.

TABLET

1022

Debate heard over teaching creationism in schools

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Teaching creationism alongside evolution in public schools was attacked as an attempt to "give God equal time" and defended as true academic freedom in a lively Supreme Court debate Wednesday.

The court is to decide by July whether lower courts were right in striking down a Louisiana law that required the teaching of evolution to be "balanced" by teaching creation-science.

The lower courts said the law violates the constitutionally required separation of church and state by disguising religion as science.

But Atlanta lawyer Wendell Bird defended the law, telling the justices, "Creation-science is scientific material, nonreligious material."

He said the law mainly promotes "basic concepts of Iairness and academic freedom . . . and gives students all the scientific evidence."

WHEN IS THE RIGHT TIME TO CALL HOME BEFORE THE HOLIDAYS?

- When another hour of cramming for the a) stats exam isn't going to help anyway.
- When that Xmas Club money is almost b) gone, and you haven't even started buying presents.
- When you just keep thinking about unwind-C) ing after finals with the whole family together again.

Okay, maybe exam time 'tisn't the season to be jolly. But a call home might be just the thing to bring a little early holiday cheer.

602

And there's no more reliable way to call than using AT&T. You can count on AT&T's high quality service all year round. STATISTICAL CONCEPTS AND MET

But there's no time like those weeks before vacation to talk to your parents. It's a time to make plans. A time to talk about gifts you're thinking of buying. A time to reminisce about other years when the family came together. And a time to warn them that bombing out in statistics is, well, a probability.

Bird's portrayal of the law and its purpose was attacked by Jay Topkis, a New York City lawyer.

"Oh sure, academic freedom -we've got to give God equal time.' That's their idea of acafreedom," demic Topkis argued.

The Louisiana Legislature enacted the Balanced Treatment for Creation-Science and Evolution-Science Act in 1981 but it was struck down before ever being enforced.

Creation-Science parallels a literal translation of the biblical version in Genesis, stating that Earth and most life forms came into existence suddenly about 6,000 years ago.

1986 AT&T

The right choice

Viewpoint Thursday, December 11, 1986 - page 7 Separation of duties is a possible solution

Picture this scene in your mind: The year is 1953. The place is Westminster Abbey, London. A young woman of 26 years is dressed in the robes of State. The Archbishop of Canterbury has placed the crown on her head, and she has become Elizabeth II, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. Hundreds Northern of thousands of Britons line the streets to view the royal procession to and from the coronation. In so doing they demonstrate their loyalty to the institution of the monarchy and to the nation as a whole.

David Koyzis

guest column

Now picture this scene: The year is 1993. The place is Washington, D.C. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court has placed the crown on the head of John Doe, first King of the United States of America. Millions of Americans view this event either in person or via television. In so doing they demonstrate their loyalty to the office of the monarch and what it stands for.

The first scene we all either remember or have read about. But what about the second? Absurd, no? On one level it is absurd. We do not now have a king, we have never had one, and we will almost certainly not have on in the future. Nor am I suggesting (except perhaps tongue-in-cheek that we ought to revive the ancient institution of the hereditary monarchy. But I would suggest that the role played by the monarch in such countries as Britain, and the Scandinavian and Low Countries is an essential one and one that we ought to think of incorporating more explicitly into our constitutional framework.

In Britain the prime minister functions as head of government. She is directly responsible for the day-to-day governing of the country and for the formulation of domestic and foreign policy. She is politically accountable to the Parliament, to the Conservative Party, and ultimately to the British people as a whole. Should she lose an election or lose a vote of confidence in the House of Commons, she will be replaced with no damage to the nation. The queen, on the other hand, functions as head of state. As such she is removed from the fray of both electoral politics and policy-making. She is a symbol of the unity of the British nation and embodies all that is thought best of the nation's ideals and aspirations. She further provides a sense of continuity that serves to guarantee the nation's identity throughout the various changes in government over the years. There are very few true monarchies left in the world. But the separation of the offices of head of government and head of state is not peculiar to constitutional monarchies. In most republican regimes a state president serves as head of state, while a prime minister, premier or chancellor serves as head of government. In West Germany, for example, Richard von Weizsacker is the state president and Helmut Kohl is chancellor. Naturally we hear much more about the latter since he is responsible for day-to-day policy making. This arrangement is not so very different from that of Great Britain, where the monarchy has evolved into little more than an hereditary state presidency

What about the U.S.? We have a president who functions as both head of government and head of state. He is both "king" and "prime minister." After nearly 200 years we Americans are rather used to this arrangement. But there are definite drawbacks in this fusion of the two offices, and these have become particularly pronounced in recent decades. Rarely is a president able to perform both functions well. To be an effective policy-maker and to unite the nation around shared ideals and aspirations is a most difficult task, particularly during periods of national crisis and controversy.

For example, John Kennedy was very effective in appealing to the nation's ideals, but he was not effective as a policy-maker. He was a good "king" but not a good "prime minister." Lyndon Johnson, on the other hand, was an effective "prime minister" during the early part of his term, but he failed as "king." He left office with the nation bitterly divided over an unwinable war in Southeast Asia.

If any president has been skillful at being both "king" and "prime mini-' it has been Ronald Reagan, esster, pecially in his first term. Now his administration is in trouble as well. From the beginning of his tenure his policies have been controversial, and there have been reverses in both foreign and domestic realms. But throughout most of this time he has been able skillfully to weather the political storms by retreating into his role as head of state, a role he performs magnificently. Even when he has failed as "prime minister," he has succeeded as "king," and it is on this basis that he has been able to maintain his popularity at such unprecedented levels.

Yet the reverses of recent months may spell the end of Reagan's ability to function in either of these roles. His party's loss of the Senate will make it more difficult for him to perform his "prime-ministerial" function. And the current Iranian-Contra scandal may make it impossible for him to perform both his "prime-ministerial" and "kingly" roles. During times of political crisis our constitution makes no provision for someone to preside over the nation as head of state and to provide badly needed continuity. If the "prime-minister" is tossed out or incapacitated, the "king" goes with him in our system.

What is the answer? Yves R. Simon once wrote that in order for a democracy to survive it needs the operation of nondemocratic (i.e., monarchical, aristocratic) elements as internal checks on the system. The revival of a full-fledged monarchy is unrealistic and undesirable in our context. But we ought seriously to consider the establishment of a separate state president to undertake those functions essential to the stability of the nation.

David T. Koyzis is a graduate student in government and international studies

P.O. Box Q

Alcohol situation on campus must be faced

Dear Editor:

It was with infinite sadness that I read of the death of Notre Dame Junior Michael Cogswell. Nothing will ever assuage the pain which his family must feel over his loss. Nor will the person responsible for his death ever be the same.

Don't misunderstand. I do not presume to point a judgmental finger at the driver whose car struck Cogswell. It is only by the grace of God that more alcohol-impaired drivers don't have accidents like this-me, for example, when I was still drinking. None of us who has driven impaired (and I suspect that many people who both drink and have drivers' licenses of us can resolve the nightmare of any driver whose impaired condition has caused a death. The only good that can come out of such a a tragedy is preventive. All of us must learn to care enough for our friends to be tough with them-taking their car keys if we think they are impaired. This is a step in the right direction. But we have to go beyond this; we have to start with the source of this needless suffering: alcohol itself. Given the pervasiveness of alcohol use in our society, and the high incidence of its abuse, we have to start treating alcohol as what it is-a drug.

As a recovering alcoholic, I would like to affirm that life is not only possible, but better without alcohol. It is common to use alcohol in order to "relax" in social situations, to "calm down" in tense periods or to "celebrate" the achievement of a goal. These are some of the reasons I drank. But isn't it undeniably better to be enough at ease with oneself so that strangers are not threatening, to learn how to resolve rather than medicate stress, to congratulate oneself in a healthy way rather than by ingesting a depressant, a killer of brain cells, a killer of innocent pedestrians? Achieving (or striving for) emotional health to the extent of choosing life rather thatn alcohol is much harder than medicating against the uncertainty (or as I've come to perceive it, the adventure) of life. I have lived both ways and I find sobriety infinitely more rewarding.

Admitting to oneself that alcohol is a personal problem is one of the hardest things one can do (believe me!). For those who are unsure whether it is or not, there are several warning signs and symptoms which can be guidelines for determination. Anyone who has more than one blackout (complete loss of memory of waking actions) ought to talk to someone about it. Anyone who notices an increased tolerance to alcohol (that is, who needs an increasing amount of alcohol to achieve the same "effect") ought to consider that this is exactly what happens to drug addicts. Being a "good drinker" or "being able to hold liquor" is often a sign of trouble. Anyone who notices behavioral or personality changes ought to remember that alcohol is a depressant. Anyone who is consistently not able to control alcohol intake-that is, who drinks more than he wants or plans to drink-should consider this a sign of trouble.

There are countless resources on campus for those who feel alcohol may be a problem for them. The University Counseling Center is open 9:00-5:00 Monday through Friday (239-7336), and is staffed with caring, compassionate people, some of whom are expecially equipped to help people with substance abuse problems. There are also several Alcoholics Anonymous meetings on campus through the week, and daily meetings around town for those who (needlessly) fear that seeking oncampus help would compromise their anonymity.

I have often heard (and said) that there is nothing worse than a reformed anything, and so I would like to close this letter by assuring the reader that I do not consider myself superior to anybody--just a lot luckier than some. aconor is a drug that too many people become addicted to; alcoholism is a spiritual, emotional, and physical disease that is pervasive and (unless it is arrested), terminal-for the drinker himself, and all too often for innocent bystanders.

have done so), is in a position to cast the first stone.

The alcohol problem in general, and the problem which exists on this campus must be addressed. The drug alcohol is too pervasive to be ignored any longer. I know that nothing any of us can do or say can comfort the grieving family of Michael Cogswell; none

James M. Leger Notre Dame Graduate Student

Doonesbury

Campus Quote

"Dear God,

Help us to appreciate those around us because we never know when you will take them away from us into your presence."

> Andrew Souder Opening prayer Zahm Hall Council December 9, 1986

Viewpoint Thursday, December 11, 1986 - page 8 The art of listening should be appreciated

Listening is a virtue rather than an art because it lies in both the human and spiritual dimensions. Taking time out to listen with sensitivity and compassion to someone who wishes to talk about themselves or their concerns takes, as I have indicated, much sensitivity and compassion. We must be more available to whomever crosses our path each day.

Edward Courtney

guest column

Listening is a ministry - one of great value. It is a ministry to which we are called. How often have we ourselves sought in vain for a special someone not just anyone - to listen to our heartbreak, our past history, or the obstacles we face in our lives? How many times were there successes, joys, and personal good news that we longed to share with "a person," not just anyone or everyone. Would that more of us responded to the quiet call to be ministers of a healing listening!

By being listeners, we aren't going to be solvers of people's problems. They will solve their own. Simply put, as compassionate listeners we allow others to lay it all out where they can see it. (It is sad indeed that such healing rarely takes place because our mouths ordinarily receive more exercise than our ears.) Healing begins from the inside out and that is why crying is so beneficial.

I understand that hairdressers and bartenders are now being offered courses in the art of listening. Bartenders, barbers and hairdressers must be excellent listeners. God bless these unsung heroes and heroines although it may be good for business. Christians and people of other religious persuasions would do well to remember that it helps the business of the Gospel to also be compassionate listeners. It is somewhat of a sad commentary that often people frequent a bar to seek out someone who will listen to them instead of a religious place, because no one ever seems to be available or at home or one must secure an appointment. Maybe that's too late. Suffering doesn't have office hours.

I once met a hairdresser who related to me that two of her customers on different occasions had been contemplating taking their lives. Fortunately, after hearing them out, she was able to persuade them that other options were available. I submit that such persuasion was made much easier since compassionate listening allowed her distressed clients the opportunity to unburden their hearts.

It is pretty well established that many people check into a hospital because they are lonely and need someone to whom they can talk. The most effective balm that hospitals dispense is often compassionate listening. Ask any experiencing. Without this experience of the other, I doubt very much the ability to relate to a troubled brother or sister.

We are all responsible before God for the happiness of our brothers and sisters in the Lord. Jesus didn't designate. Some people were to be excluded. All are brothers and sisters. Equally. No double standard with the Lord. The prayer of the compassionate listener will be undoubtedly be heard much sooner than the one who can't be brother with a troubled brother or sister. Make no mistake about that, my friends.

The fact of the matter is that we are so wrapped up in our own little paradises, in our fashionable careers and self-image that we forget to care for our many troubled brothers and sisters. Oftentimes, the people who should be the most caring are not. And I have some candidates in mind. Ego, important as it is in perspective, has become an idol to the exclusion of others.

The principal of one eastern school once sent a questionnaire to each member of the 800 member student body. One of the questions was: "If you were experiencing a difficulty in your life, whom would you approach for assistance?" The vast majority of the students chose the janitor or sexton. Why? He would care, he would listen, he would understand. He would take time. He would bear a confidence. He probably had the same experiences when he was a youth. So you see, friends, no matter what our background, social standing or educational qualifications happen to be, we can all do so much good. So just look around and for goodness sakes be available!

Try to avoid the ministry of listening out of a sense of duty. Go beyond that. That is where a real loving concern is apparent. Most people do their duty each day. How many will walk with a brother or sister that extra mile that the Lord emphasized? I do believe that there are generous folks who are going that extra mile for a brother or sister. There are also those who aren't. And maybe some of them are committed religious folks.

Our own blessed Brother Andre, C.S.C., whom Pope John Paul the II beatified in 1983 in Rome, was one who went far beyond the call of duty because there were brothers and sisters who needed desperately just one word of consolation, just one word of sympathy. This loving and caring French Canadian Holy Cross Brother would receive one to 300 people a day at St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal for over 30 years, from 1904 to 1937. If that wasn't enough service, he would travel by car in the evening to visit the homes of the shut-in and the patients in the hospital. This is to me love personified. We can certainly imitate his spirit of zeal for others.

Permit me to touch on another area them, that they are good and worthwhile persons. Praise them for a task well done. Correct them when they are wrong. Talk things out. Hear them out. Listen. If we as adults are wrong assessment sometimes, our in apologize and admit our mistake. Our children are our greatest investment; they are God's gift to us. Someone once said that we educate our children by listening to them, by playing with them, talking to them, by reading to them and by taking them to parks and to museums. We must leave them grow at their own pace and with their own God given talents.

Finally, whenever anyone writes something to be read by others, it is like submitting to an examination. It will be given a grade, a mark. I hope that what I have written will be of some assistance and motivation to someone somewhere, sometime. That was my sole intention.

Brother Edward Courtney, C.S.C. is a resident of Columba Hall.

P.O. Box Q

Solution needed now for drunk driving

Dear Editor:

In Tuesday's Observer, Bacchus club President John Sheehy declared: "We want to create an awareness and educate people to what drinking and driving can do." This statement simply represents another useless effort to curb the problem of drunk driving. Awareness is not the problem, drunk driving is. We no longer need to increase awareness, we need to find a solution to drunk driving. We believe that the alcohol policy is the root of this problem. Because of the policy, students go off to campus to socialize and to drink, which leads to drunk driving.

The solution is not to ban alcohol from the Notre Dame campus. Alcohol has always been, and always will be, a social catylyst. While some may contend that alcohol is not necessary for effective socialization, the fact remains that people find it to be effective and useful for the promotion of necessary social intercourse. People will find ways to consume alcohol, regardless of any imposed restrictions. The alcohol policy is one such restriction, and students have circumvented this restriction by drinking off campus, for which driving is often necessary.

The solution is not tighter restrictions on alcohol, but rather, to remove the alcohol policy and to allow open alcohol consumption on campus. This would encourage people to stay on campus rather than leaving the campus to drink, which endangers the lives of others.

In order to prevent students from driving off campus while intoxicated, becuase of an open alcohol policy, security could monitor the students as they left the parking lots. Gates could be erected and manned on Friday and Saturday nights at the parking lot exits. To avoid inconvenience for those who have not indulged in alcohol, the exits should be manned only during those hours in which alcohol conumption is most likely to occur.

Drunk driving obviously leads to tragic consequences. We are already aware of the problem, which is enhanced by the alcohol policy, so let's find a solution.

> Kevin Trautner Sean O'Brien Flanner Hall

More civility needed at talks, in lectures

Dear Editor:

We are once more treated to Adolfo Calero's "inside story" on Nicaragua in Viewpoint (December 2). I cannot forget his disruptive "interventions" when Edgar Chamorro spoke here last year, and if his antics were similar during Vice President Ramirez' talk last week, he should have been told to "sit down and shut up." Civility is a precondition for the free interchange of a university and those who abuse it only show that they need to be reminded of that fact. Moreover, his breezy libel of liberation theology (in his December 2 letter) should alert students to the reliability of this particular "insider's" view of matters in Central America. I can only hope his work as a graduate student is more responsible than his letters or his behavior in lectures.

> David Burrell Professor, Philosophy/Theology

nurse.

Pope Pius the XII said: "To be a Christian is to be a missionary." To whom, and where? Wherever we meet our burdened brothers and sisters. There is so much unhappiness in the world. We could bring so much happiness to others if we would only take the time to be good listeners. The time that we give isn't the important thing. The quality of that time is: to really feel the hurt and the pain that the other is of the virtue of listening. It's about listening to our children. Children, like anyone else, enjoy talking at times: their fears, hopes, doubts, good things and the unpleasant. Child abuse is certainly on the increase today. It is especially important that we make ourselves available to listen to them, or we may never know what is happening in their lives until it's too late. They need encouragement. They need to be affirmed as persons, to know that we love

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

General Board

Editor-in-Chief	Joe Murphy
Managing Editor	Kevin Becker
News Editor	Tripp Baltz
Viewpoint Editor	Scott Bearby
Sports Editor	Dennis Corrigan
Accent Editor	Mary Jacoby
Saint Mary's Editor	Margie Kersten
News Editor	Mark Pankowski

Production Manager	Chris Bowler
Photography Editor	James Carroll
Advertising Design Manager.	Mary Carol Creadon
Advertsing Manager	Anne M. Culligan
OCN Manager	Francis X. Malone
Business Manager	Eric Scheuermann
Systems Manager	Shawn Sexton
Controller	Alex VonderHaar
Graphic Arts Manager	Mark Weimholt

Founded November 3, 1966

Accent In search of . . . the perfect gift

Thursday, December 11, 1986 - page 9

ANDY SAAL features writer

Well it's December again. And if you're like most college students, you haven't even thought of Christmas shopping yet. But don't despair. We're all going to have to do our shopping during those four hours between the end of finals and the start of the big day

Finding the right gift for a person has always been a challenge. Of course, if you're like me, all of your friends will be receiving a McDonald's Gift Certificate this year, maybe even two. They make very economical gifts; when you buy a book of 10, they also give you a cute little Christmas stocking decorated with Flevel Mousekewitz. Who's Fievel? Well, he's the animated rodent starring in An American Tale. The story is all about a little, poor, Jewish immigrant mouse who. . . Jewish? On a Christmas stocking? Forgive me, oh, great hamburger mecca, but I'm confused.

Shopping for a domer is perhaps the hardest task of all. Everyone already has a Notre Dame sweatshirt, as well as most everything else in the bookstore. As a veteran of the Cabbage Patch Wars of 1985, I would like to offer a few unique suggestions for some ideal domer gifts.

Do you know someone in the College of Arts and Letters? Then you know how long they slave over their typewriter. "Sorry, I can't go out tonight. . . I've got a 30-page paper on Keats due tomorrow." Have you ever felt sorry for them? Me neither. But If you need a partner to go to the bars, you know what a pain those papers can be. Well, this doesn't have to be a problem anymore. Now there's the A plus L Word Processor. All you do is insert one page of facts or ideas, and the machine will water it down with redundant statements, ambiguity, repeated ideas and thoughts you've already expressed elsewhere. And with a jargon:fact ratio of 10:1, you and your friends can be in the bars by 9 p.m. Imagine, being able to say in 10 pages what you could have said clearly in one!

If a lonely domer guy is on your shopping list, you may have to search a long time to find him something morally upright and decent with which to decorate his room. A lifesize inflatable doll of Cybill Shepherd or Vanna White should fill the niche quite nicely. It can not only be used as a decoration but also as an SYR date

Did you ever want to be the center of conversation at every table in the dining hall? What you need is the Letter to the Editor Generator. With this classy, caustic computer, you too can create complete cacophony on any conservative Catholic college campus :

Dear Editor,

I believe that (a. abortion, b. nuclear weapons, c. Nicaragua, d. abusing gerbils) is morally justiflable. Anyone who disagrees with me is (a. a communist, b. damned to hell for eternity, c. a Hoosier).

Sincerely, (a. your real name, b. your roommate's name, c. Ann Pettifer, d. Theodore Hesburgh,

C.S.C.)

Just think how popular you'll be on campus. And of course, for the next three weeks, every letter in the newspaper will be aimed at you. Just leave your phone off the hook. . .

Have you ever wondered just how acidic the orange juice was in the dining hall? Just what part of what animal constituted that thing reputed to be meat on your plate? Now you can answer these questions and many others with the Dining Hall Chemistry Kit. It includes acid/base titration equipment so you can figure out the pH of any dining hall secretions, a protein assay test to identify any piece of meat and a direct phone link to the Poison Control Center.

Another dining hall device is also sure to be a big hit this Christmas. Have you ever noticed how people try to scoop out more marshmallows than cereal when they get a bowl of Lucky Charms? No matter how much effort is involved, it just cannot be done efficiently. . . at least until now. Just off the drawing boards of a crackpot druid, it's the Lucky Charms Marshmallow Magnet. Operating on the Zen principle of selective ionization, the magnet attracts all of those yellow moons, orange stars and green clovers out of the bland cat food part and deposits them into your bowl. So if you're tired of picking through a tub of dry cereal looking for the good stuff, the Lucky Charms Marshmallow Magnet is for you.

Of course, if none of these gift ideas suits your tastes, you can always give a domer the universal gift of domer fashion. Oriental sweaters? European designer jeans? Nope. This is Notre Dame where your social status is determined by your wardrobe. . . and that wardrobe consists of sweatpants.

Personal approach to University

KATHY BEHRMANN features writer

"University of Notre Dame: a Comtemporary Portrait" is not only a book new to Notre Dame. It is, according to its author Robert Schmuhl, the first time any university has tried anything like it.

and emphasizes the underlying philosophies of the colleges.

Schmuhl calls his volume a "book of parts." He says the reader gets "narrative and pictures and profiles about and from the people." The people inlight what Schmuhl calls "crosscurrents" at Notre Dame. These issues include the questions such as whether the University can remain an excellent teaching institution while becoming a center of research and whether the

E DAME NTEMPORARY ORTRA

ROBERT P. SCHMUHL

terviewed in the book include University Provost Timothy O'Meara, who originally had the Published this year by the University of Notre Dame Press, Schmuhl's book is not simply a chronicle of Notre Dame's past, and you'll find nothing of the Gipper here. Instead "University of Notre Dame: a Comtemporary Portrait" focuses on the intellectual life of Notre Dame at the moment.

After a chapter describing the origins of the University, Schmuhl addresses each college, the law school and the graduate school. The book explores the various programs of study and research endeavors idea for such a book; Father Theodore Hesburgh and the deans of all the colleges. There are also comments from numerous professors.

The 72 photographs by alumnus Stephen Moriarty are well chosen. They illustrate information about the University's facilities and its people. The pictures also help to make the book a truly comprehensive portrait of Notre Dame.

"University of Notre Dame: a Contemporary Portrait" portrays the school in a very favorable light but still manages to high-

Catholic character of Notre Dame helps or hinders its academics.

A combination of facts and opinions addresses these issues effectively. This is not a book that throws out isolated fun facts about Notre Dame. Instead, it is a portrait of the character and goals of the University, with a definite emphasis on academics.

Schmuhl, an assistant professor of American Studies, spent three years researching, conducting interviews, and writing this book. "Provost Timothy O'Meara wanted to see a volume to bring together the history of the University with a focus on what is happening now and plans for the future," he explained.

"University of Notre Dame: a Contemporary Portr it" is just that, and the abundance of interviews and photographs make it an enjoyable as well as an informative book.

The Observer

Classifieds

NOTICES

WORDPROCESSING 277-8131

SELL YOUR TEXT-BOOKS FOR $$$$$ PANDORA'S BOOKS, at our NEW loca-tion: 808 Howard St. just off of N.D. Ave. ph. 233-2342 OPEN 7 days a week, 10-530

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE. CALL MRS. COKER, 233-7009.

Dan atili types paperal Only $.90/page 233-1988

PITTSBURGH CLUB BUS SIGNUPS

SEATS STILL AVAILABLE Signups at Lafortune 7:00 p.m. on Thursday December 11. Any questions call Red x1612 or Mike x3402

UNDERWATER ARCHAEOLOGY SEM INAR: FEB 13-15, Lecture,Seminar,In-pool training-PADI Cert;INFO at Anthro Off,3rd fl O'Shag;O.W. Cert req.

LOST/FOUND

HELPII I lost my eye-glasses on Nov. 26 just before break. If you found them please call me at 287-4831. They were in a black case and were an amber men's

LOST: a GUCCI KEY RING with keys numbered 243. If found please call x3736. Please return.

LOST: THICK GOLD BANGLE BRACELET WITH ENGRAVED DESIGN. POSSIBLY LOST AT BRIDGET'S OR MORRISSEY. IF FOUND PLEASE CALL 284-4351.

LOST; WED. NIGHT,11/4, AT BRIDGETS, A LARGE BLACK SCARF WWHITE FLECKS. PLEASE CALL MEGAN 1242 TO RETURN IT AND I WILL LOVE YOU FOREVER.

FOUND: Walkman in O'Shag Computer Lab before Turkey break.To claim, call 233-2235.

FOUND: CAMERA ON VENDING MAC-HINES IN NIEUWLAND SCIENCE. CALL NIKKI IN CHEMISTRY DEPT. 239-

LOST: Two sets of Arena b-ball tix, sec LOS 11 two sets of Arena o-Dail thx, sec-tion 4, row 4, seats 8 and 9... They weren't even minell Please save my Christmas, my friendships, my wallet If found call Linda x43551111

HELPI I LOST MY BASKETBALL TICK ETS (SECTION 106, ROW 7, SEAT 6) AT OR ON CAMPUS AFTER THE BYU GAME. IF FOUND, PLEASE CALL SUSAN AT 3435.

Keys on an ND keyring left in Observer office. See Shirley to claim

Whoever took my black scart from Bridgets 11/4, If you don't want to call, please drop it off at the lost&found in LaFortune. It means a lot to me.

FOUND: BASKETBALL TIX IN ACC. SECTION 104 ROW 11 SEAT 23. CALL MIKE 2371 TO CLAIM

LOST: brown WALLET between 331 Nieuwland and 208 Cushing on Wed. moming (the sunny day). If found, please call Jeff at 277-8940 soon. I'm getting hungry without It.

LOST:Gold add-a-pearl necklace, small graduated pearls, if found call Tara at 1242

LOST: down ski jacket. Navy, wted&white stripes across chest. If found, call 288-2853 or return to lost and found LeFortune

SEX -IS HARD TO GET SINCE I'M

2 DUDES NEED RIDES TO THE TWIN CITIES- WOULD LIKE TO LEAVE THURS NITE CALL GREG x4334

WE NEED 2 RIDES TO NYC FOR XMAS. CALL BOB X 2354 OR DAN X 2329.

Need ride No. NJ for Xmas Janet 284-4346

LNEED A RIDE TO BUFFALO.N.Y. CAN LEAVE FRIDAY NIGHT.MONEY NO PROBLEM. CALL TONY AT 234 3250 STAYING HERE FOR BREAK? LIKE CATS? WANT TO MAKE SOME EASY $7 WE NEED SOMEONE TO CAT-SIT 1224-1/4. ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS VISIT OUR TWO CATS DAILY TO FEED AND PET THEM. TERMS NEGOTI-ABLE. IF YOU CAN HELP US OUT, CALL 239-5799 (DAYS) OR 233-9106

Campus travel representative needed to promote Spring Break tour to Florida. Earn money, free travel, and outstanding marketing experience. Call Inter-Campus Programs at 1-800-433-7747 for details and information mailer.

(EVES.)

Need ride to New York. Am graduating and have much luggage so would like to be only rider. Will PAY ALL GAS and bake DELICIOUS COOKIES. Call Tracy 233-9806

Wanted: Swim Instructors for Red Cross Beginners Classes. Saturday Morninga and/or Weekday Evenings. Start in January. Volunteers please call LOGAN Recreation: Bill Thomas -289-4831

Helpi I need rides to and from Davtor for break. If you can help either way, ca Mark X2072. Will payshare expenses.

I need ride to MPLS. Can leave 18th or 19th will share expenses. Call Phil 4056

Need someone who has access to var to drive me eastward. Call Motel 6 and ask for Harriett Howells, Room 166.

NEEDED: TWO ONE-WAY RIDES TO D.C., NORTHERN VA. AREA --share expenses, rental car if necessary. LEAVE SAT. 12/20 pref. CALL Tim £3488 or Mick

FOR SALE

FUTONS: 100% cotton sleep mattresses, hardwood convertible frames and accessories. FUTONS NATURALLY 232 South Michigan St. 233-8176.

FOR SALE: CABER SKI BOOTS(71/2) CALL PAT 1581

1 way air ticket SB to BALTO. Jan.5. $45. 272-4321.

COMPUTER, MAC 128, printer, Access. Chris 289-3499

FOR SALE: 1982 CHEVETTE. 4 speed, AM/FM, sunroof. $1895. Call Dan: 239-7943 or 234-8984.

A REAL CHRISTMAS PRESENT: 35 Toyota Fiesta Van Conversion with EFI, auto, overdrive (25mpg), ps, pb, pw, pl, am/m ster. cass, dual ai/heat, refrig, si/vbrgndy. Only 11k miles, warranty, 1 owner. Top quality conversion in perfect condition. An $18k value but will accept reasonable offer around $13k by Mon. reasonable offer around $13k by Mon., Dec. 15. Financing available. See and drive at ND Credit Union 8:30-4:30. Eveninge 233-1950. A BEST BUY. ACT NOW

FOR SALE -ROUND TRIP AIRLINE TICKET CHICAGO O'HARE TO PORTLAND OREGON. DEPARTS 1222 O'HARE, RETURNS 1/12, $225. INTER-ESTED CALL £3028 OR £3468

Do Communiam and Christianity mix? Come find out at the last meeting of the Little Stevie Worland fan club, Friday Dec. 12 at 3:25 p.m. Workers (and Worland fans) of the world unite!

to all who put up with me during the last two months THANK YOU. You helped me so much

Ger

SENIORS -SENIORS -SENIORS SIGN UPS FOR FIRST WEEK OF SPRING SEMESTER INVITATIONAL

DEADLINE: DECEMBER 19, 1980. CAREER AND PLACEMENT SER-VICES.

SENIORS -SENIORS -SENIORS SIGN UPS FOR FIRST WEEK OF SPRING SEMESTER INVITATIONAL

INTERVIEWS DEADLINE: DECEMBER 19, 1986. CAREER AND PLACEMENT SER-VICES.

SENIORS -SENIORS -SENIORS SIGN UPS FOR FIRST WEEK OF SPRING SEMESTER INVITATIONAL INTERVIEWS DEADLINE: DECEMBER 19, 1986. CAREER AND PLACEMENT SER-VICES.

CAMERATA SINGERS of N.D. fame DEBUT... A CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC This Sunday at 8:00 p.m. Moreau Seminary Chapel

Gaye, the lady in the Saint Mary's dining hall

Cheer up! You're wonderful, and aiways have been. Merry Christmas!!!

SMC OBSERVER STAFF

need a ride to CONNECTICUTI referably Fairfield County or /estchester, N.Y. area. Can leave FRI. CALL TOM 1945

Long live the DAK. Forever immortal.

HELP! Need ride to and from D.C. area for break can leave as early as 7pm Wed.17 Please call Karen 284-4011

Going to MPLS Dec. 18 or 197 I need ridel Will pay expenses LeeAnn 284-5439

Hi Panl Season's Greetings from NJ. How's the weather in Texas? Miss ya, MB

YOUTH IN ASIA opening for IN MY SHRUBBERY Thuraday night at Lee's. Y'all Comel

> DOME-OPOLY A Great Christmas Gift!

> > DOME-OPOLY

An ND/SMC Board Game... for alumni who have "everything"

DOME-OPOLY It's new, It's fun, and It's available for Christmas at the ND/SMC Bookstores

DOME-OPOLY A Great Christmas Giftl

ANDY, That's right, YOU slob. Happy 21still Your Bro, JOE

The Amazing. The Awesome. The Ultraharmonic... NOTRE DAME CAMERATA SINGERS live at the Moreau Seminary Chapel one engagement only, Sunday, December 14, 8 p.m. Free admission. Be there or DAMSEL IN DISTRESSI I NEED A RIDE FOR CHRISTMAS BREAK ANYWHERE IN THE VICINITY OF BINGHAMTON, SYRACUSE, OR

ELMIRA, NY. CAN LEAVE FRIDAY, DEC. 19, AFTER 1:00 PM. WILL SHARE EXPENSES. PLEASE CALL ERIN AT 3706.

SKIS FOR SALE ROSSIGNAL SM, 195 CM, WITH BIN-DINGS, GREAT COND $115 CALL JOE

HAPPY 22nd, SPONGE! Sock up a good time today! ODE Courlesy Christmas Dinner at Chi Chi's

Lib. Circle -5:30 Dec. 11

PLEASE, HELP MELL NEED A RIDE TO PHILA. OVER BREAK. WILLING TO SHARE USUAL EXPENSES. CALL KIM AT 1264

GOING EAST FOR X-MAS & NEED A RIDE TO CT? I'M LEAVING DEC. 16 AFTER 10AM OR EARLY AM DEC. 17. CALL CARRIE AT SMC 4288 ASAP.

NEED RIDE TO NHABOSTON FOR BREAK CAN LEAVE 12/19 PM. WILL HELP WITH DRIVING AND $$. CALL GOING EAST FOR X-MAS & NEED A RIDE TO CT? I'M LEAVING DEC. 16 AFTER 10AM OR EARLY AM DEC 17. PAT, 277-6451. CALL CARRIE AT SMC4288 ASAP I need to borrow a 12-string guitar to play at the CHRISTMAS NAZZ on Sat. Please call Jeff at 232-5478 or Mike at

Grape Jello?

"A little ditty 'bout Jack and Diane--two American kida doin' best they can." No, I won't lose that innocent laughter; time won't take that away! Gotta love Johnny!

Merry Christmas to M.J. Meeks

Merry Christmas to Noreen O'Connorl

Merry Christmas to Ramzi Bualuani Merry Christmas to Kelly Townsendl

Marry Christmas to Chris Edwardal

Dear MARK POTTER, Have a really marve Christmas!!

Merry Christmas to Colleen Foy!

Marry Christmas to Esther Ivory!

Yes Santa, there is a Mary Heilmann (but we won't tell our kids!)

BRUCE G. WE STUDY IN BRARE ON FRIDAYS NAME BEGINS W/ J, BUT ISN'T JAY Please call x45¢jersey no.

FLANNER 5A-Thanx for a DAK good timel Love, your BP dates PS-Mad nibbler--the other three of us

ZUMA--Your KK loves you!!!

And Merry Christmas to Dawn Meyer!

NJ CLUB BUS $90 SIGNUPS THURS & FRI LAFOR-TUNE LOBBY

6-7 PM QUESTIONS CALL JOHN 2215 OR DEB 284-5147

HARD ROCK CAFE FINAL NOTICE!!! SWEATSHIRTS FOR ND/SMC NOW INI AVAILABLE IN L&XL. CALL 277-2766 OR AT SMC X-MAS BAZAAR IN LEMANS

Need ride East!!! I need a ride to Pittsburgh over break. If you are going east on the turnpike and can offer me a ride, call Mary at 3726. Share usual expenses.

> D FUN FUN FUN THEODORES STUDY BREAK C SATURDAY

RALLY VERMINI Our way-boss home has just been snatched by a brick move by our cheesy administration. RALLY VERMINI characters per day.

Thursday, December 11, 1986 - page 10

Jacquie Benchik -Happy finalling!! Study hard, Stay off those streets. Have a great week if I don't see ya before break! --Your BETTER Half

MARGIE KERSTEN

Sorry about pigging up the personals I can't help it--I love this place. Have fun on finals -Thanks for all your

heipil Love Ya, Your Heipful Assistant

To two soon to be evicted Howard SYR dates; Thanks for a great Friday night Have fun with finals. What will you guys do next year? Bryn.

BILL KENNEDYII You Stanford Godi What is your REAL phone number?? JUDY

Stud, Here's to new beginnings.

BEWARE ALL MALE DORMS AT NOIL

THE boys OF howard WILL BE POS-SESSING YOU ALL TOO SOON...(beware of the ones from the second floor...) R.C.SMC'S (Really Con-cerned SMC's)

Happy Birthday JANE WELDON & MARY BUDDE Sorry that this message is late.

In a bathtub?

Hey Dabbiel Want some ICE Cream?

Thanks for coming to my SYR.

Call Jim at 1913 for info.

BAHAMASII

BAHAMASII BAHAMASII

5 days/4 nights R/T airfare from Ft. Laud.

OBSERVER PERSONALS

A battlefield for verbal wars, a chesa-board for strategic controntations, a bed for intimate lovers (those not wishing to violate Du-Lac), a chainaaw for emmense cut-downs, and best of all, a breath of hope in a world filled with desolation and despair that chokes each one of us and attempts to swallow our souls, the very part of us which crys out in vain...(a shovel to toss BS).

Good Luck on Finals & Merry Christmas Katie E., Suzie M., Kathleen M., Amy F., Ann B., Angle C., Ann Marie F., Colleen

Best of Luck in Washington- Best of Luck

Going to St. Louis on the 19th?

Well, how about giving me a ride? Willing to pay $$$ Call me day or night at x3333

Sarah M.(my boss?): Stop by 323 sometime! Life does exist on the third floor! I'll even break out the

on the third noon one. good stuff in your honor. Tuesday Worker

H.

H.

Tressa S., Maureen A.

and all who need it!

Washington! Bye Suziel

D.

Anne

$124

Love ya

Love Tom

Love Rob

Maria

All my love, Ace.

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Stu-dent Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Haggar Collge Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per five

Krista, Kellie, Ann, Donna Killeen, Andrea, Marl, Jimmy, Brian, John, Andy, Al, Danny, and all "THE QUINT" partiers: You're the best friends anyone could ask for! Have a great vacation, I'll miss you all very much. Merry Christmas and stay safell Love, Anne-Marie

Bruce G. £15, Love of my life-,"Out of sight, out of mind"? Did you forget about ME ?!? Your HTH

ANDY FENOGLIO, JIM GALLAGHER, CAREY GELS, KATHLEEN HOGAN, MATT HONKANEN, NARCISO JARAMILLO, MICHAEL NAUGHTON, KHALIL SHALABI, ANNE WALTON -

See Shirley in The Observer office.

STEVE AUERBACH IF I PROMISE TO LOCK UP THE DAG-GERS, WILL YOU COME VISIT AGAIN? A SURPRISE WILL BE WAITING.

JENNY Even though you're not here, it's you i think of! PACO

2511 if you can LEND one. Please help me out.

MARY HEILMANN -- Let me first say that

1 enjoyed your article in yesterday's Ob-server...BUT DID YOU HAVE TO RUIN

IT FOR THOSE OF US WHO STILL BELIEVED IN SANTA CLAUSI?

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS ALL WHO RECEIVED COLOR PORTRAITS FROM DOGBOOK PICTURES IF YOU RECEIVED A PIC-TURE THAT IS INCORRECT PLEASE RETURN IT TO THE JUNIOR CLASS OFFICE WE WILL SORT IT OUT AND DETURDING MATTER BEACH WE'RE

RETURN THEM AFTER BREAK, WE'RE SORRY FOR THE MISTAKE. THE PIC-TURE MAN HAS BEEN WORKING MUCH TOO HARDI JUNIORS JUNIORS

JUNIORS JUNIORS JUNIORS

JUNIORS

How would you like to spend an hour

with

Father Ted?

You can

Listen to WVFI-AM 640's

weekiy talkshow "Campus Perspectives"

University President Father Theodore Heaburgh

is the special guest.

ARTS & LETTERS OFF-CAMPUS STU

DENTS

Fish-eating, game-playing, yet CHILD-BEARING alime of America--GUNITEI! WE ARE SUPERIORII Questions? Call 3677. Ask for JP.

THANKS FOR THE CALL TERESA AND BRIDGET ITS GREAT TO KNOW THERE ARE FUN LOVING FRIENDLY

ANDY "SPECK" -THANKS FOR RES

MERRY CHRISTMAS Moira Jen Chris

LET'S MUD WRESTLE

GIRLS ON CAMPUS ANDY

PONDING.

SOON. TH & BM

Mary Kris

Newsletters available in 101 O'Shag

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS JUNIORS

HELPIII

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

JUNIORS

RING W/ 420 AND OS KEYS. PLEASE CALL 3468 IF FOUNDIII	TICKETS	When Father Ted Hesburgh talke You can listen		breaki I'll miss yall Love, Elleen	Why do all ND/SMC girls want only to your best friend? Remember Liqu
FOR RENT	Need GAs for N. Carolina and Duke. Call Bill,2008	Tune in WVFI-AM 640's weekly talkshow "Campus Perspectives" Thursday night from 10 to 11 and listen to Notre Dame President	D FREE FOOD FREE FOOD THEODORES STUDY BREAK C SATURDAY	TOM SWAYKUS: Not only did you BREAK my heart, but you STEPPED on the pieces!! Why didn't you call back? If it's another	helpsi White B
APARTMENT FOR RENT FROM	NEED 3-4 NC TIXS. Please call Todd 2551	Father Theodore M. Hesburgh.	8-11	girl I would have understood, but you COULD have said so. But if it's NOT	Elizabeth: (The Starving musician in Lyons) How about another real date sometim
DECEMBER TO FIRST OF MARCH. CALL 1-882-6483 FOR DETAILS. ASK FOR CHAD.	PERSONALS	Notre Dame Encounter Retreat Weekend coming Feb 6-8 Applications Available Wed Jan 14 due Fri Jan 23	D DJDANCING THEODORES STUDY BREAK C SATURDAY	Rider wanted to Central Jersey (Woodbridge area) call Frank at	That last meeting was too excitingli Gi me a call. We gotta break out the Kow Ald again and take a long stroll arou the lake before X-mas.
FURNISHED HOUSES FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR 6838889	PERSONALS	Campus Ministry Office Badin Hall	8-11	x1692 after 11 pm	The Bir
Roommate needed to share house. $165/month. Private room. Grad. student welcome. Call 289-8203 latenites.	OAR HOUSE: COLD BEER & LIQUOR, CARRY OUT TO 3 A.M. U.S. 31 N., ONE BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN.	Questions? Contact Br. Bonaventure 239-7353, Sr. Jo Giarrante 239-5740 or Jim Wimbiacus 283-2091	To Beth, Mark, Pat, Yolle, Laurie, Mike, Paula, Megan, Diane, Ted, Mish and all of you	Get wild, get psyched ANN KALTEN- BACH it's YOUR 22nd B-DAY!! Now you REALLY	Katy K.(fopa): Stop by sometime and we'll see if works. it's 323, just in case you forg
Looking for Apt in Chitown '86 Grad has fumished apt for sublease jan '87 to may '87 cail 2002	SELL YOUR TEXT-BOOKS FOR $$$$11 PANDORA'S BOOKS, at our NEW loca- tion: 808 Howard St. just off of N.D. Ave. ph. 233-2342 OPEN 7 days a week, 10-	DON'T YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF? ND Encounter Weekend Fri, Feb 6 – Sat, Feb 8 Queetions? Br. Bonaventure 239-7353 or	"My heart is warm with the friends I make And better friends I'll not be knowing." Merry Christmas JFM	have to be responsible. (FOR WHAT??) Your fellow SMC Observer Conspirato (Goddess)	Bring your SMC friendal We'll show y a good time! Co-Work
3-4 Bdrm., 2 bath, newly decorated house. Monitored security system. 922 Allen St. Call 234-6688.	530 Available 2nd semester & fall '87 4Br	Jim Wimbiscus 283-2091	A. Benet Sure, I'll stop talking to my lamp as soon as you stop saying "totally" every five seconds or watching game	RACHEL SCHUSTER is 19 todayil Live before finals babel OR live after finals in Boston with	No Bob W , you don't sound too de perate -Katy
WANTED	house furnished, secure 4-5 stu- dents,$440.00/month You pay utilities, call Geoff or Mary 288-7276 TWO RIDERS GOING EAST ALONG I-	Saturday, December 13th. 7:00 -? Center for Social Concerns THE GRINCH, ORIGINAL MUSIC, FREE COOKIES & HOT COCOA Become part of the tradition.	showsuh, yeah. Just remember, every revolution becomes an orthodoxy sconer or later but we'll always have Paris. Yer Pal, The Ten Foot Teddy Bear with Charile Brown Eves	You Know Who??	Need ride returning from St. Louis Aft Christmas break Cell Greg x3233
PREGNANT? Or know someone who is?	90 FROM CLEVELAND TO BUFFALO AGAIN. IF YOU CAN BRING US ALONG PLEASE CALL KEVIN X2590. CAN	"Christmas Music, Christmas Magic"	NEED A RIDE TO PHILLY. WILLING TO SHARE EXPENSES. I DON'T TAKE UP	MARGARET DEVINECheer up! I know it's tough but you've done it before, you'll do it again.	Hay everyons at St. Mary's (especia the ones I know like Anne, Landry, Alis Triah, Molly, Moira, Ann, Mo, Elle
Warm, well-educated, happy couple, married 11 years, unable to have children of our own, want to share our loving home with a baby. Confidentiality assured:	LEAVE ANYTIME AFTER 4 PM FRIDAY AND MONEY NO PROBLEM	How were all the men with their puckered lips at Bridgets. A true blue friend OUGHT TO RETURN THE FAVOR TO A WON-	MUCH ROOM. CALL AMY, 2779. CLOSE CORBY NOT CARROLLIII	In quite the positive wayll (Maybe I won't starve, I can be a poet.)	Bridget, Kathy, Mary, Mary, Carri Angle, Marcle, Lorie, Patty, Natille, Ev Elleen, Karen, Michele), have a Gre
medical expenses paid. Call 317-257- 3669.	PART TIME GRAPHIC ARTIST WANTED CALL 259-8822 OR 259- 3187.	DERFULL BUDDY LIKE PATTI TRIPATHI. SOUND THE ALARM BEFORE. HAPPY BIRTHDAYII	CARROLL HALL-How much further off- campus do they want us?	Hey Clyde, I care!!!	(Red) Christmasi Love Re

B flat.

The Observer

Lineup

continued from page 16

Phelps is looking for another solid outing from Scott Hicks. The senior co-captain has been on a tear, pouring in 14.3 points and 3.8 rebounds a game. Joining Hicks in the backline average.

will be David Rivers, whose comeback seems complete if the BYU game is the measuring stick.

Rivers fired in 22 points against the Cougars and his average stands at 13.8 points per game. He also leads the team with 5.5 rebounding

SENIORS

1987 is less than a month away --What next? Look at an alternative to High Tech, Big Bus., and Corp. Exec. Consider HOLY CROSS ASSOCIATES --A 1 YEAR-LAY-VOLUNTEER-SERVICE PROGRAM.

Contact: Mary Ann Roemer Center for Social Concerns (7949) n Jane Pitz Moreau (5521)

Dodger Manager Tom Lasorda, a guest speaker at the Irish football banquet last week, was the center of attention once again at the baseball

Baseball meetings

Dawson, Morris to leave teams trades. See story below.

Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. - Jack Morris will not play for the Detroit Tigers next season and Andre Dawson will leave the Montreal Expos, their agent promised Wednesday.

The declaration that Morris and Dawson would challenge the free-agent system came minutes before the first major trades of baseball's winter meetings.

Seattle made two deals, sending outfielder baseman

Danny Tartabull to Kansas City for pitchers Scott Bankhead and Steve Shields, and trading reliever Matt Young to Los Angeles for pitcher Dennis Powell.

The Dodgers also acquired pitcher Tim Leary from Milwaukee for first baseman Greg Brock.

But the big news concerned the big free agents, Morris and Dawson.

Agent Dick Moss, who successfully argued the Andy Messersmith case that essen-meetings as his Dodgers were involved in two tially created free agency, said Morris and Dawson were committed to leaving. Morris and Dawson have both been offered salary arbitration by their teams. The All-Stars have until Dec. 19 to accept or reject the proposal, and if they say no, their teams must sign them by Jan. 8 or lose that right until May 1.

Moss said Morris, a 21-game winner, gave him a list of four teams he would like to pitch for -the New York Yankees, Cali fornia, Philadelphia and Minnesota - and would try to sign a new contract within a week.

Morris, who made $950,000 last season, rejected Detroit's lone offer since the season ended, a two-year contract for $2.5 million. Moss said the Tigers "have indicated no change" and that Morris turned down Detroit's offer to meet again Thursday.

Dawson, who batted .284 with 20 home runs and 78 runs batted in, has rejected the Expos' contract offer of $2 million for two vears.

Later in the day, as several teams - including Detroit began leaving the meetings, Seattle sent Young to the Dodgers for pitcher Dennis Powell and a minor-league player.

Young, 28, led the Mariners with 13 saves and went 8-6 with

At last year's winter meetings, Los Angeles acquired lefty reliever Ed Vande Berg from Seattle for catcher Steve Yeager. Vande Berg did not do well, going 1-5 with no saves, as the Dodgers' bullpen Powell went 2-7 for Los Angeles, his first year spent mostly in the majors. Powell, 23, is a hard thrower who enjoyed considerable success in

The Mariners also received second baseman Mike Watters, who hit .285 in Class AAA.

Brock, who didn't attain the numbers the Dodgers expected, has hit 71 home runs in parts of five seasons with the Dodgers, but has had trouble making contact.

Women's IH basketball begins with Farley edging B.P.

By SHEILA HOROX Sports Writer

The 1986-87 women's interhall basketball season began in dramatic fashion this past Sunday with Farley A edging Breen-Phillips A, 51-50.

Good teams always find a way to win and no other team typified that notion more so than Farley. Although trailing throughout most of the game (Farley managed to take the lead on only four occassions), it seized a lead when it counted most-at the buzzer.

Breen-Phillips jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead until an Ann Marie Reilly basket sparked a Farley rally that cut the deficit to 7-6. Farley took the lead 16-15, but Breen-Phillips reasserted its inside game to resume command.

With the inside scoring of Ann Curoe and Cynthia Guckwant players that way; I want coaches around me that way. I want everyone to know what to

Highly regarded freshman

Burtnett's

quarterback Jeff George,

passing-oriented offense, has said any decision to remain at

Purdue would depend on the new coach. Asked about that,

Akers said, "I think that's natural when you have a situation like you have here. I'm sure I would have suggested to him to keep an open mind. "I hope he is satisfied here.

I hope nothing is changed. He has the potential to be a great player. I'd like (to build) an offense around him," Akers said

He called the Purdue coach-for kers

expect.'

recruited

of George.

continued from page 16

ien, and the outside shooting of Carolyn Burke, B.P. surged to a 23-19 halftime advantage.

Farley, however, made several key adjustments. Marilu Almeida, who led all scorers with 19 points, was moved from guard to forward in the second quarter. The scenario then went as follows; Almedia grabbed an offensive rebound, was fouled on the follow-up and went to the foul line. After missing her first free-throw attempt, Almeida made 11 straight.

B.P. coach Jeff Peters conceded that the game was decided at the foul line.

"Foul shots definitely made the difference in the game," said Peters. "We missed a few one-and-one's late in the second half."

Still trailing by a point, Farley opened the fourth quarter with a trap defense that ing job "a great challenge. I felt I'd like to take it and meet

if if we can. You always have something to prove. The day you don't feel that, you'd better

Akers, 48, signed a five-year contract with a starting base

salary of $100,000, about $10,000 more than Burtnett received.

Akers, who was fired two weeks ago after the Longhorns finished 5-6, their worst mark

in 30 years, said the past season

"was not one of my favorites.

That's only the second time

I've been involved in a losing season. But that's history. That's a chapter in my life I'm wiling to close."

He is the 31st head coach at

"I'm not here to examine

what they did in the past,'

Akers said. "It makes all the.

difference what we do from this

Purdue.

day forward."

get out of coaching.

resulted in several turnovers by Breen-Phillips. Farley breifly led 37-36 but B.P.'s Vicki Buth and Curoe combined to put their team up, 48-41, with three minutes left.

In an attempt to pressure the ball, Farley abandoned its 2-3 zone for a man-to-man defense. Farley then made the most of every scoring opportunity, relying on Almeida and point guard Mary Beth Borkowski (18 points).

Finding themselves down 49-48, B.P. called a time out with 40 seconds remaining. Following this break, Guckien's jumpshot with 20 seconds left put B.P. back in the lead.

"I probably should have told my team to hold the ball a little longer," said Peters "We shot with 20 seconds left and that gave Farley a chance to score."

Boilermakers went 1-8 in 1942.

Purdue had only one winning season under Burtnett - 1984 when the Boilermakers were 7-5 with a Peach Bowl loss to Virginia, and Burtnett was named Big Ten Conference coach of the year.

Akers coached the past 10 years at Texas, where his teams compiled an 86-31-2 record and appeared in nine straight bowl games before this past season. Former Texas Tech Coach David McWilliams was hired last Friday as Akers' successor.

Akers played defensive back, quarterback and placekicker at the University of Arkansas from 1957-59. He coached high school football in Texas before joining the Longhorns' staff in 1966 as an assistant to Darrell Royal.

Burtnett compiled a 21-34-1 record in five years.

Farley did exactly that. Borkowski got the ball into the hands of Kertin White, who sank a 14-foot jumpshot with eight seconds remaining to give Farley the win.

With the victory Farley takes the early lead in the women's race. There may not be much of a race after Christmas break, however, if Farley continues to pull out the big wins. "There's no reason to complain," said one Farley coach, "when you're coaching a team that always finds a way to win."

The season has just begun, however, and Farley will have nine other teams fighting it for the chance to go the playoffs in February. The top four teams at the end of the season, as determined by record, will advance into the playoff tournament.

Several other teams also began their seasons on Sunday, among the more notable being defending champion Lewis A, which crushed Badin, 50-14.

In other action, Lyons trounced Breen-Phillips, 85-12, Walsh defeated Farley B, 51-14, and P.E. registered a win via a Lewis B forfeit.

The teams will resume play after the semester break.

Faculty Course Evaluations Are Here !!

- These are not the same as Teacher Course Evaluations.
- Your chance to evaluate the ND Faculty and see the results !
- Results will be available to you prior to Advance Registration for Fall Classes.
- You should have received your forms in your mailbox.
- To return ~ place in your respective dorm box.
- Your input is of extreme value !!
- Off-Campus students: please pick up forms in your class office.

Irish swim teams get schedule break after winning weekend

By PAT KEARNS Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's and women's swimming teams are looking forward to their next meets, but they'll have to wait a while.

Both squads will be traveling to Philadelphia to practice and to compete in the meets, which will take place on Jan. 9 vs. LaSalle and on Jan. 10 vs. Villanova.

"We expect to have our work cut out for us in both meets," said Irish swimming coach Tim Welsh. "Both schools are very well-coached, and we expect them to be very, very fast.'

Both the men's and women's teams are 2-1 and are coming off particularly strong individual and team performances last weekend.

The men's team scored an impressive victory over Mankato State last Friday and took the Irish Invitational on Saturday.

Roger Miro, Charles Neidhoffer, and Eric Bohdan keyed the Irish wins with impressive outings in both meets. The men's squad is especially deep, leading to first-place showings in several events, including the 100-yard breaststroke, the 200yard backstroke and the 100yard freestyle.

The women's swimming team also had quite a weekend, breaking three school records in the process of beating Mankato State on Friday and winning their Irish Invitational on Saturday.

Senior Monica Walker, freshman Kathy Quirk and junior Nancy O'Brien, among others, are swimming quite well, leading the Irish to victory in their events.

But coach Welsh is not overconfident heading into Christmas break. Both the men's and women's teams can count on hard practices, beginning December 28 in Philadelphia, in order to stay in shape for their upcoming meets.

"The team is in very good shape now," said Welsh. "I think both teams are stronger, faster, and more capable than last week, but we need to maintain a good level of conditioning over the exam and Christmas period."

Both teams are looking at the championships as their final and most important goal, and coach Welsh expects them to improve steadily until the team can bring forth its best effort at that time.

"The progression of improvement for both teams has been parallel," said Welsh. ~~~~~~

"The January schedule is almost like beginning a second season, and we expect to get wrestled with a lot of confi-

The big decisions made the difference in the meet, in which both teams won four matches.

The two technical falls and one major decision by the Irish accounted for the four-point vic-

At the beginning of the meet,

it looked as if the Rangers might pull out a win on the road over the Irish. Freshman 118-pounder Andy Radenbaugh

struggled before winning the only lead in the following

Wisconsin-Parkside took its opening match, 6-4.

Parkside

continued from page 16

dence," said McCann.

tory margin.

progressively faster. Our main objective is to go as fast as we can in the championship.'

match when Ranger freshman Dennis DuChene scored an 11-2 major decision over 126-pound senior Greg Fleming. The win made the team score 4-3 in favor of the Rangers.

That's when Durso, Boyd, and Wisniewski went to work. Durso and Boyd's technical falls gave Notre Dame a 15-4 lead, and Wisniewski's major decision raised the score to 19-

Injuries had much to do with the results of the late matches. The loss of junior Dan Carrigan for the season, and maybe longer, with a knee injury forced freshman Michael Sheets into his first collegiate match. Other injuries in the heavyweight divisions caused Sheets and seniors Tom Ryan and Dave Helmer to fight out of their weight classes.

"Mike Sheets did a respectable job, but he was out of his weight class and he just found out the day before that he'd be wrestling," said McCann. "Ryan actually weighs 158 and he wrestled at 177, and Helmer weighs 177 and he went at 190. You hope for the best, but it's awfully difficult, you just hope for the best kids to come through.

"We've got to get big efforts from our weaker people, and we've got to get some kids back from injuries."

please leave your name, home address, campus address and campus phone number at the Student Activities Office by Thurs, Dec. 11 at 4:30 p.m. If we do not get your name and address, your information over Thanksgiving Break,

If your parents DID NOT receive JPW

ATTENTION ALL JUNIORS:

UNIVERSITY FOOD SERVICE Cordially Invites You To

"A Feast of Christmas"

Thursday December 11, 1986 in North Dining Hall

please join us for this meal filled with Holiday Specialties and featuring a Madrigal Procession of the Comestibles

Apple Walnut Stuffed Chicken Breast Poached Sole

Cabinet Pudding Long Grain & Wild Rice Asparagus Spears & Glazed Carrots

Salad Bar of Select Toppings

DESSERTS Peppermint Ice Cream with Warmed Chocolate Sauce Plum Pudding Yule Logs Fresh Fruit Bowl

To accomodate this event, MEALCARDS will be designated for One Dining Hall Only for Dinner Wednesday, December 10th, and Thursday, December 11th, according to your residence hall.

North Dining Hall

Breen Phillips Farley Flanner Grace Keenan Pasquerilla East Pasquerilla West

Stanford

South Dining Hall

Alumni Holy Cross Badin Howard Carroll Lewis Cavanaugh Lyons Dillon Morrissey Fisher Pangborn St. Edward's Zahm Sorin Off Campus meal plan Walsh

Ditka names Tomczak starting QB

Associated Press

LAKE FOREST, Ill. -Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka said Wednesday that Mike Tomczak will start at quarterback Monday Night against the Detroit Lions in the Pontiac Silverdome.

Ditka said Doug Flutie also will see considerable action in the game as the Bears, 12-2, hope to nail down home-field advantage for their first playoff game, either Saturday, Jan. 3, or Sunday, Jan. 4th.

"I feel like I've got three good quarterbacks. The situation right now is I'm going with the younger two," said Ditka, who also has veteran Steve Fuller as backup to Tomczak and Flutie.

"I'm not saying I wouldn't play Steve but I just want to find out right where we are so we'll be okay when that first weekend in January rolls around," Ditka said in a telephone interview with Detroit sportswriters and sportscasters.

AP Photo

Quarterback Doug Flutie may be looking forward to starting for the Bears, but Head Coach Mike Ditka has decided to keep Mike Tomczak as his starter.

Sports Briefs

The ND-SMC ski team will have tryouts for the team on Tuesday, Jan. 13 at Swiss Valley. Meet at the main circle at noon, with a car if possible. Cost is $20. Everyone must turn in proof of insurance and sign eligibility forms before Dec. 18. Also, turtleneck money is due this week. For more information contact Kathy Skendzel at 4029. -The Observer

Joe Krivak, an assistant coach at the University of Maryland, was named Wednesday to head the university's football program. - Associated Press

The ND rowing club's men's varsity and novice teams will have practice today at 5 p.m. on the ACC concourse. -The Observer

Hockey

continued from page 16

score. Trailing 1-0, Paul Ray evened things up when his wrist shot from a tough angle found a home in the net. After falling behind again in the secondhalf, Cavanaugh/Howard's Clay Hamlin tied it up when he took a Jim Meija pass, skated down the ice and he sent his wrist shot into the upper corner of the goal.

With less than a couple of minutes to play, Chris Sullivan got the game winner. After taking a rink-long pass off a face-off, he was able to outskate the defense, and his slapshot beat the St. Ed's/Holy Cross goalie.

Cavanaugh coach Mike Jennings was happy with his team's performance.

"We had no outstanding achievers out there tonight, but it was a team effort," he said.

In other opening action, Carrol/Keenan (1-0) skated past St. Ed's/Holy Cross by a score of 4-1. Cavanaugh/Howard defeated Flanner (0-1), 3-0, and Sorin (0-2) was shell-shocked twice as they suffered embarrasing losses to Morrissey(1-0) 9-1, and to Fisher (2-0) 9-0. Fisher in its first game squeaked by Stanford to win 4-3. In the week's lone tie, Pangborn (0-0-1) and Alumni held each other scoreless.

Video cameras catch cheaters at marathon

Associated Press

NEW YORK - The 24 people who took shortcuts in last month's New York City marathon probably didn't think about the video cameras recording the race.

They were caught, and officials from the three biggest marathons said Wednesday that cameras and vigilance are increasingly needed to combat the cheaters.

It was the disqualification of Hoosier John Bell, winner of the Master Division for runners over 40, that led New York race officials to review their videotape from the race and disqualify 23 other runners. Officials estimate that the 44year-old Bell, of Marion, Ind., took a 10-mile shortcut for his time of 2:25:15.

Three of the 24 runners were among the top 100 finishers. Bell was the 69th runner to cross the finish line out of 19,689 people who finished the 26.2"I ran into him a couple of days before the race and he said he had just done the Ironman Triathlon and was confident of breaking 2:30 in New York," Glover said. "I said, 'no way.' He said, 'Oh, yeah.' That definitely registered."

The triathlon includes a 100mile bike ride, a two-mile swim and a marathon.

When Glover heard Bell won the Master Division, he asked marathon officials to check their videotapes, which were recorded by cameras along the route. Bell and the others hadn't passed some checkpoints, and race director Fred Lebow announced the disqualifications Tuesday.

"Bell probably did pretty much what Rosie Ruiz did," Lebow said. "We don't knowsubway or car, or he may have run all the way into Manhattan and cut across 59th street."

Ruiz was the apparent winner of the women's division of the 1980 Boston Marathon but was disqualified for cheating. It was also determined that Ruiz had taken the subway in the 1979 New York City race. The cameras, which have been used in New York since 1980, "were inspired by Rosie Ruiz," said Lebow.

mile race on Nov. 2.

The Master Division winner gets $3,000 and a trophy. The check was never issued, and marathon officials want the trophy back. Bell, the owner and president

Bell, the owner and president of Bell Fibers, was not returning calls from reporters, said Bettie Hurt, a secretary at the company.

"It appears that the people who cheat most are the masters runners," said Bob Bright, executive director of the America's Marathon-Chicago. "The people over 40 and 50 are very competitive, it's a dog-eat-dog area. You find a lot of these people get into running and it becomes an obsession."

It was Bob Glover, a fitness coach and author of "The Runner's Handbook," who originally raised questions about Bell's time. He had been giving Bell training advice for seven years, he said. NEED GIFT IDEAS THE SNITE MUSEUM SHOP HAS THE ANSWER Engagement Calendars Pottery T-Shirts Christmas cards

Open Mon.-Sat. 10:00-4:00

Sun. 1:00-4:00

Ter Trestites Thest test of

Today

Campus

7:00 p.m.: St. Mary's College Swimming and Diving SMC, Albion, and Valparaiso, Rockne Pool

7:30 p.m: Basketball ND vs. Eastern Michigan, ACC

7:30 p.m.: The Alice Tully Endowment for the Fine Arts Lecture "Churches of Por-tugal," by Chester Brummel, photog-O'Shaughnessy Hall rapher, East Galleries, Snite Museum of Art 10:00 - 11:00 p.m.: Talkshow, University President Father Theodore Hesburgh,

C.S.C., "Campus Perspectives," WVFI-

AM 640, Host Lynne Strand

Dinner Menus Notre Dame

Feast of Christmas

Saint Mary's

Turkey Cutlet and Gravy Pork Chow Mein Swedish Pancakes Deli Bar

Weekly Mass Schedule

Sunday Main Chunch
Main Church
· ·	6:00 a.m.
•••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••
	12.13 p.m.
Weekday Mass

Main Church11:3	30 :	a.m.	(\mathbf{N})
-----------------	-------------	------	----------------

The Daily Crossword

Thursday, December 11, 1986 - page 15

Main Church
Crypt	7:15 p.m.	(MonFri.) (MonFri.)

0.0	05 4-41
2 Becker of tennis	35 Anthropologist Margaret		12/11/86
3 Make into law	37 Assn.
4 Sri —	38 Olla podrida	51 Israeli	56 Scorch
5 East Indies	41 Fish-eating	native	57 A crowd?
island	bird	52 Pooped	58 Marbles
6 Arthurian	42 Impresario	54 Verso's	59 Warm up
lady	Sol	opposite	60 Exhort
7 "- a Stranger"	47 Glowing coals	55 Merman of	61 Bearing
8 Hang loosely	49 Rate	the stage	62 Biography

Decorate-a-tree

at the CSC

ip the NSHP kids, little brothers/little sisters & foculty's

4:30-6:30 pm

Friday, Dec. 12

1.10

Sports

E. Michigan next test for 2-2 Irish tonight

By RICK RIETBROCK Sports Writer

Notre Dame's basketball team has gotten back to even and now looks to move another step ahead in tonight's game against Eastern Michigan. The 2-2 Irish will be trying for their third straight victory against the 3-3 Hurons.

The Irish played three games last week, playing well in a loss to Indiana and a win against Brigham Young, while taking on a lackluster look in a 60-56 squeaker over Cornell.

Sean Conner

Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps indicated that he doesn't want another flat performance, like the one the Irish put together against Cornell, against the underdog Hurons.

"This is a game where we need to concentrate early and come out and take control," he says. "If we let them come in and play well early the way Cornell did last week, it could be a long night for us. We've got to play our game and do the things we want to do."

Leading the way for Ben Braun's squad will be 6-4 senior forward Mike McCaskill and 6-8 junior center Grant Long. McCaskill, one of the team's cocaptains, averages 13.2 points and 7.4 rebounds to lead the Hurons in both categories, while Long chips in 12 points and 7.2 rebounds per contest.

Completing the frontline is 6-6 junior Chuck King, who sports a 9.4 scoring average.

The backcourt features the other co-captain, 6-5 senior Lewis Scott (11.6 pts., 3.2 rebs.) and 5-11 sophomore juniorcollege transfer Rick Hardesty who contributes 8.2 points per game and leads the team with 22 assists. Brad Soucie, a 6-5 freshman, provides some scoring punch from the bench with a 10.2 average.

In quelling the Huron upset bid, the Irish will most likely return to the smaller of their starting lineups. That means 6-7 sophomore Sean Conner returns to the starting five, and the timing appears to be perfect. Conner has hit nine of his last ten shots from the field in the last two contests.

Mark Stevenson will start at the other forward spot and carries a 9.3 average. Gary Voce gets the nod in the pivot averaging 1.5 points and 2.8 rebounds.

The strength of the squad has been in the backcourt and

see LINEUP, page 11

Scott "Air" Hicks will try to prevent the Irish from taking Eastern Michigan too lightly at the ACC tonight.

IH hockey season starts with Alumni win, tie

By ORLANDO RUBIANO Sports Writer

Interhall hockey began its initial week of play with a partial slate of games. As expected, there were some blowouts which came at the expense of Sorin. But several nail-biters produced two one-goal decisions and a tie.

This year season's edition of Stanford's power play time and again.

After Stanford's Jim Roll tied the match on a three-on-one break, Alumni put it all together in the second half. Vairo struck again as he picked up a loose puck in Stanford's end and fired it into the short side of the goal. Minutes later after an Alumni penalty, Nick Penna scored short-handed when he beat a defender one-on-one. faked the goalie to his left and went around him right for the score With a 3-1 lead, Alumni continued its attack and scored number four when a scramble in front of the Stanford goal resulted in a goal by Alumni's Scott Kahney. The final goal was beautifully set up as Bill Harrington took a nice feed from a teammate racing into the slot area, and flipped it into the upper left corner. "We hustled well after the puck, and I thought all the lines played well," said Aquadro, who was quite pleased with the effort given.

Akers agrees to coach at Purdue

Associated Press

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. -Former Texas football coach Fred Akers, hired at Purdue on Wednesday, said he expected to assemble a staff within a week and immediately begin recruiting "the very best athletes possible."

Akers was hired five weeks after Leon Burtnett resigned under pressure amid the Boilermakers' worst record in 44 years. "I've known Leon for some

"I've known Leon for some time, and he did discuss some of the strengths and weaknesses," Akers said at an afternoon news conference at Mackey Arena. "We're always looking for skilled people, but until we can get a staff settled, I'm not going to say this is our No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 priority."

Akers said he might bring some of his former staff from Texas.

He said he met with a group of about 25 Purdue players before taking the job and that he would meet again with the players to "assure them they're going to have a staff ready to roll up its sleeves and work with them.

"I want them to know we are in the process of assembling what I hope will be a great staff," Akers said.

Akers described himself as "demanding, committed, a great competitor ... yet fair. I see AKERS, page 12

Despite getting off to a slow start, the Irish wrestling team defeated Wisconsin-Parkside for the first time since the two teams started facing each other.

Wrestling downs Wis.-Parkside

By STEVE MEGARGEE Sports Writer

After two-plus weeks of competing in tournaments against some of the top schools in the country, three Notre Dame wrestlers last night showed the home folks just what they'd learned while they were away.

Notre Dame coach Fran McCann was more than grateful to see the exhibitions by Jerry Durso, Pat Boyd, and Ron Wisniewski, as they keyed the Irish win over Wisconsin-Parkside, 25-21.

"We had to get those (decisions) to win. We had so many adjustments to make that we needed to get the big decisions from our strong people," said McCann.

Durso, Boyd, and Wisniewski all responded to the challenge. Durso and Boyd got consecutive technical falls, with respective scores of 20-5 and 24-9. Wisniewski followed with a 14-4 win for a major decision.

McCann said that their experiences against top-ranked teams in the Las Vegas Invitational and St. Louis Open helped the three wrestlers prepare for Wisconsin-Parkside.

"That kind of competition really helps our better kids, and you could tell tonight they have more of the latter, which should prove to be very entertaining.

see PARKSIDE, page 13

On Tuesday night, the night's lone game pitted Alumni and Stanford. Alumni (1-0), a final four participant last year, was too much for outmanned Stanford (0-2). Alumni had several good scoring opportunities in the first-half but could not find the net until Steve Vairo picked up a loose puck inside the blue line. With his back to the goal, he turned and shot, surprising the Stanford goalie as the puck went past him.

While there was no further scoring in the half, Stanford blew several golden opportunities as they twice wasted twoman advantages.

Goalie Matt Roy, who according to Alumni coach Brian Aquadro played tough in the net, came up big as he thwarted On Monday night, Cavanaugh/Howard (2-0) twice had to come from a goal down to beat a tough St. Ed's/Holy Cross (0-2) squad by a 3-2

see HOCKEY, page 14