

The Observer

VOL. XXI, NO. 115

MONDAY, MARCH 30, 1987

the independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

Flanner fire had electrical cause: Security

By JIM RILEY
News Editor

The origin of a fire in a Flanner Hall room Friday night was electrical, said Assistant Director of Security Phil Johnson Sunday.

The fire was noticed by a Flanner resident at approximately 10 p.m. in Room 620.

No one was in the room at the time and no one was injured in the incident, according to Flanner rector Brother Michael Smith.

The fire was contained to one room, Johnson said.

The damage to the room and its contents was estimated at under $2,000.

Smith said the dorm was evacuated when he ordered a resident assistant to pull the dorm's fire alarm. Residents returned to the building about 30 minutes after the alarm went off.

Johnson said that when firemen arrived, an upholstered couch was on fire.

Firemen broke out the room's bay window and threw the couch outside. He said this was standard procedure in such a situation because it is difficult to get upholstered furniture to stop burning and smoking.

Gary Gamino, a sixth-floor resident, said he discovered the fire when returning to his room that evening.

"I got off the elevator and was walking into the section when I saw smoke around the ceiling," said Gamino. "I heard the smoke detector going off in 620," he added.

Gamino said he notified the rector. The two returned with resident assistants and a master key, Gamino said.

When they opened the door,

see FIRE, page 4

A fire in Flanner Hall on Friday resulted in extensive damage to one room. The cause of the fire is believed to be electrical. Story at left.

The Observer/Zoltan Ury

Bookstore tourney bans 'unfit' names

By CHRIS BEDNARSKI
News Editor

Approximately 100 names of the 662 teams competing in this year's Bookstore Basketball tournament were struck from the tournament schedule by a student committee and altered or replaced with numbers this past weekend.

"(The names) were unfit for publishing and they were terribly gross," said Assistant Vice President for Student Services Father Peter Rocca.

According to tournament commissioner Steve Wenc, members of the the Office of Student Activities approached him concerning the names of the teams.

Wenc said some team names were replaced with numbers, and an attempt was made to contact the teams whose names were changed.

No teams were eliminated from the tournament, said Wenc, who declined further comment.

In a letter to the editor in today's Observer, however, Wenc said team names were "reconsidered by a student committee, ultimately working in agreement with the Office of Student Activities."

Many team names in the past have been terrible, said Rocca.

At one point a couple of years ago, University President Father Theodore Hesburgh considered cancelling the tournament, said Father David Tyson, vice president for Student Affairs.

"It was clearly in the president's mind," to eliminate the tournament, said Tyson, who was Hesburgh's executive assistant at the time.

That year every team name was eliminated and replaced with a number, Tyson said. "The entire schedule was done with numbers," he said. "The entire schedule was deleted."

After that year, team names were better, according to Rocca.

see NAMES, page 4

Hesburgh to be honored with Laetare Medal

By BETH CORNWELL
Staff Reporter

The University of Notre Dame will give the 1987 Laetare Medal to its retiring president, Father Theodore Hesburgh.

In making the announcement, Notre Dame Board of Trustees Chairman Donald Keough said, "Conferring on Ted Hesburgh the oldest and most prestigious award given to American Catholics affirms his dedicated and unparalleled service to church, country and higher education."

Hesburgh responded to the news of his award by saying, "I'm flabbergasted, amazed, astounded, and staggered."

The medal, the University's highest honor, is the oldest award given to American Catholics. It is awarded annually to honor an American Catholic or Catholic husband and wife for extraordinary service to their church and to the nation.

The committee to choose the medal recipient is usually headed by Hesburgh, but this year a secret session was organized by retiring vice-president, Father Edmund Joyce. Hesburgh noted that "the secret was a hard one for the committee to keep. The real problem was this, I kept asking why we didn't get going on the meetings. So the secret had to come out . . . This was the first time in thirty-five years I didn't get in on it."

"You know you don't expect to get awards from your own group-- they mean more, but you don't expect them. You can get awards from all over the world but when your own take time to honor you, that's extra-special . . . but don't ever take these things too seriously."

"One thing you should always remember 'sic transit gloria mundi' (so passes the glory of the world). The cemeteries of the world are filled with indispensable people. This place--it'll get on swimmingly without me."

Hesburgh is in his thirty-fifth year as president of Notre Dame, the longest tenure among active presidents of American institutions of higher learning. He will step down following University Commencement Exercises May 17.

North Dining Hall to be expanded and given 'classier' look

By CHRIS JULKA
Assistant News Editor

The North Dining Hall may have a new look within the next two years.

Director of Food Services William Hickey said plans for the renovation of the cafeteria are currently under consideration because of the shift in population to the North Quad occurring with the addition of the two new dormitories near the Pasquerillas.

Blue prints have already been drawn for the construction of a two-story structure with a capacity of 300 seats to be added to the front of the dining hall. The proposed mezzanine would include a high overarching roof of the kind found in the South Dining Hall. The cafeteria's taller look is intended to make the dining hall "fit in better with Breen Phillips, Farley and other architecture in the North Quad," said Don Dedrick, director of the physical plant.

It is also proposed that the north and south ends of the dining hall be expanded. Each of the new wings would serve as additional dining sections with capacities of 100 seats. Each could be reserved for special club functions when not being used for the purposes of daily student meals.

Not only does the University plan on increasing the cafeteria's dining space, but also foresees radical restyling of the hall's interior.

Among the proposals, separate deli, dessert, and entree stations may replace the current linear buffet displays.

With this set-up, which would resemble that of South Dining Hall, Hickey said, "scramble lines" would replace the current single files. With diners going only to those stations which specifically suit their preferences instead of passing through an entire buffet line. People would have to wait much less time before obtaining their meals, Hickey said.

In addition, dirty dishes may be returned to seven-deck, "merry-go-round" soil-tray returners, instead of conveyor belts or bus carts, according to Hickey. Also, carpeting may replace tiles to "reduce the overall noise level," Hickey said.

Finally, round tables and booth seats, as already exist in the dining section entered through F-Line, would replace the current long tables. The effect would make the dining hall seem "less like a high school cafeteria" and would better benefit the atmosphere of the University, Hickey said. To further rid the dining hall of the "institutional" "linear effect," round salad bars are also planned to replace the current long rectangular ones, Hickey added.

All of the renovations will combine to give an effect similar to that of the Faculty Lounge in the South Dining Hall, according to Hickey. In general this would make the North Dining Hall look "classier," Hickey said.

Hickey said the completion of the renovations will hopefully coincide with the completion of the two new dorms currently under construction near the Pasquerillas. Whereas it is expected that the new dorms will be finished by June 1, 1988, according to Dedrick, the North Dining Hall will have its new look by the fall of 1988 "at the earliest."

Said Dedrick, "Building the dorms is relatively simple because you're starting from scratch. But the renovations will be rather complicated because you are modifying an already existing structure."

Dedrick emphasized, "All of this is still in the early planning stages." He said no projected cost for the renovations had yet been calculated.

Beyond the renovations listed above, Hickey has also agreed to a request from Stu-

see DINING, page 3

In Brief

Maria von Trapp died Saturday at Copley Hospital in Morrisville, Vt. at the age of 82. Von Trapp's marriage to a baron and their escape from the Nazis with their children inspired the Academy Award winning movie, "The Sound of Music." She had been hospitalized Wednesday with intestinal, heart and diabetic problems, said Johannes von Trapp, one of her 10 children and stepchildren. - Associated Press

Of Interest

Bacchus will conduct an alcohol awareness week beginning today. Tonight at 10 in the Lewis hall lobby, Indiana State Police and Notre Dame Security will sponsor a drunk driving awareness program which will include a field test. Tuesday, the director of student activities at Dartmouth College will give a different perspective on the alcohol policy. Other events are scheduled throughout the week. - The Observer

The English Department announces its annual writing contests. Awards will be given in the areas of poetry, fiction, playwriting, and essay. Deadline for admission is this Thursday and requirements are available in Room 309 of O'Shaughnessy Hall. - The Observer

Special parking restrictions due to bookstore basketball will go into effect beginning tomorrow at the bookstore, Lyons Courts, and Stepan Courts lots. Parking is prohibited in the bookstore lot after 3:30 p.m. on weekdays and after 1 p.m. on weekends. The Lyons and Stepan lots will be closed to parking at all times between tomorrow and April 24. Violators will have cars towed at their expense. - The Observer

Glee Club Spring Concert Ticket vouchers will be distributed tomorrow from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Washington Hall manager's office. Limit 2 vouchers per person. The concert is this Friday night. - The Observer

Jesuit Volunteer Corps: Midwest will have a representative, Kris Berggren, at the Center for Social Concerns from 2 to 5 p.m. today to meet with students interested in learning more about the opportunity of spending a year or more working with the poor and living in community with other volunteers throughout the country. - The Observer

Rev. Malusi Mpumlwana will present a lecture titled "The Search for Peace and Justice in South Africa" today at 4:30 p.m. in Room 120 of the Law School. The lecture is sponsored by the Institute for International Peace Studies as part of its Peacemakers Lecture Series Program. - The Observer

"Proficiency Testing and Some Implications for the Classroom" is the title of a workshop by Dr. Heidi Byrnes. Sponsored by the Department of Modern and Classical Languages, the workshop is tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Room 303 Cushing. - The Observer

Weather

Brrr. Can you believe it? There is a winter storm watch today and tonight. Snow, heavy at times, and windy today. Cold with near steady temperatures in the 30s or slowly falling. Wind becoming east to northeast 15 to 25 mph and gusty. Chance of precipitation near 100 percent. Snow gradually tapering off to light snow Monday night. Cold with lows in the mid 20s. Becoming partly cloudy Tuesday. Cold, with highs in the low 30s. Spring is very far away folks. - Associated Press

The Observer

Design Editor	Mark McLaughlin	Viewpoint Layout	Heather Hypes
Design Assistants	The whole crew	Accent Copy Editor	Matt Sitzer
Typesetters	Mark McLaughlin	Accent Layout	Heather Hypes
.....	Daniel Cahill	Special Section Layout	Mark McLaughlin
News Editor	Ann Marie Durning	Typists	Colleen Foy
Copy Editor	Rob Hennig	ND Day Editor	Laurine Megna
Sports Copy Editor	Pete Gegen	SMC Day Editor	Theresa Harrington
Viewpoint Copy Editor	Caroline Gillespie	Ad Design	Mary C. Creadon
		Photographer	Zoltan Ury

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $40 per year ($25 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Man continues to build cubes while striving for classy look

After learning of the details of the proposed renovations on the North Dining Hall, I had one reaction, even if it is naive and absurdly romantic: go further. Much further.

It appears the "classy" look is back. The neatly utilitarian North Dining Hall will probably soon look more like the South Dining Hall, all in the name of harmonizing it with the more "traditional" architecture on campus.

But really how "classy" is the architecture of the South Dining Hall? As far as I am concerned, none of the proposals are classy or traditional enough.

Perhaps because we live in a country barely 200 years old, we have come to accept cramped historical horizons. That we now regard buildings less than a century old as somehow old, traditional or classical says something in itself.

By no means am I suggesting that we abandon innovation in architecture. Whatever we do, however, one thing is clear: the structures of this century which we call examples of architecture have simply got to cease being the rule.

For starters, let's look at the most obvious target for denunciation: big cities.

The beginning and end of every break is for me an incredibly depressing experience. This is because to reach my home or to return to Notre Dame I have to pass through Chicago. If there is an argument for a nuclear war, downtown Chicago is it.

Driving through Chicago is not like entering the flower of civilization. Rather it is like getting lost in the Valley of the Dinosaurs. Stark, grimy concrete and glass high-rises and other modernistic monoliths hem you in from every side like canyon walls of some barren prehistoric epoch.

All one finds these days is monotony and grayness. Mies van der Rohe's adage that "Less is more" continues to reign despotically in modern architectural thinking. The saying may indeed be true enough, but if it is, then in my opinion the skyscrapers in Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, and so on are simply too much.

Consider it this way: civilized man has been around for at least ten thousand years, can hold conversations over distances of thousands of miles and has even managed to land a man on the moon. Yet in all of this, with regard to shelter in our big cities he has found himself capable only of endlessly producing immense cubes.

No better are the Fisher Price sets, like the Huddle, which most people have accustomed themselves to dine in these days. When I was in Europe, it seemed the only thought which crossed the mind of a hungry American was to find a McDonald's. At least as far as I am concerned, however, eating at one of the burger chains is like eating in a hospital or a psych ward. Every one of these palaces of plastic are perfectly antiseptic and perfectly efficient in their operation, but that's all you can say.

Chris Julka

Assistant News Editor

Of course, architects tell us incessantly that they are bucking this trend. Despite this, however, all they seem to come up with are edifices that look invariably like extraterrestrial egg cartons of the kind typically found in low-budget science fiction movies, without a trace of down-to-earth human warmth about them.

Contrast this to what you can still find in Europe. In the old days, people were not satisfied with blank walls. They doodled like crazy, carving crosses, swirls and flowers into doors, pillars, window sills, and anything they could find. No wonder one finds so much graffiti in this age. It is only natural to relieve emptiness with some human details. By comparison to what there once was, most of our houses and restaurants and a lot of our churches and universities are barren prisons.

I suppose, though, we are too practical these days and therefore, know that building anything other than cubes or plastic burger joints is simply a waste of time. But I still have at least one request: let's not build another Huddle.

Sobering Advice can save a life

FINANCE CLUB

presents

Case Korman

Controller of Ford Motor Co.-Truck Op.
"Competitive Strategy in the Auto Industry"

Monday, March 30

5:00 pm

Room 221 Hayes-Healy

Applications are now being accepted for

1988 DOME Editor-in-Chief

- Applications available in Student Activities Office.
- Must be returned to Student Activities by 4:30 on Wednesday, April 1.
- Everyone encouraged to apply.

Storm moves into Midwest leaving travelers stranded

Associated Press

Travelers spent the night snowbound in motels, armories and a stalled bus as blowing snow from the second blizzard in less than a week closed hundreds of miles of highways across the Plains and cancelled Sunday morning church services.

"If you can imagine holding a piece of white paper up to your face and driving, that's what it looked like," Bill Hendrick of Des Moines, Iowa, said of driving in hard-hit eastern Nebraska.

The storm plastered eastern Colorado on Friday, then on Saturday shut down hundreds of miles of interstates and other highways there and in western Kansas and central Nebraska.

On Sunday, it moved into Iowa, dumping more than a foot of snow on the western two-thirds of the state, with 30 to 45 mph wind piling it into drifts up to 8 feet high around the community of Carroll. Snow also blew across Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

To the south, freeze warnings were issued into southeastern Texas and Alabama peach growers were warned of lows in the 20s late Monday. A tornado watch was issued for parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, and a second storm spread snow over southern New Mexico and southwestern Texas.

Blizzard conditions abated Sunday in Kansas, and the sun shone in Nebraska although high winds still whipped snow on the ground.

One Colorado traffic death was blamed on the storm, and a Kansas man died of a heart attack while shoveling snow, authorities said.

Eighteen people spent about 23 hours trapped in a Trailways bus that got stuck Saturday near Holdrege in south-central Nebraska. They were joined by two stranded truck drivers, who raided their cargoes of pizza ingredients and produce to feed their companions, and three Phelps County road workers who went to check on the bus and got stuck.

Iowa radio stations said they were bombarded with telephone calls announcing the cancellation of church services because of the treacherous driving conditions.

Sailing away

While the temperature was not quite right, the breeze was perfect for the Notre Dame Sailing Club's Regatta on St. Joseph's Lake. The Regatta was held this weekend.

The Observer/David Fischer

Reagan: Support highway bill veto

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - President Reagan on Saturday appealed for public support of his veto of an $88 billion highway bill, accusing the Democratic-controlled Congress of going back on its promise to cut spending and reduce the deficit.

But Democrats responded that the measure meets deficit-reduction targets and said there is a surplus in the highway trust fund subsidized by the 9-cent-per-gallon tax on gasoline.

"Now look," Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y., said in the Democratic radio address. "The president isn't supposed to do the bookkeeping in the White House. But must he allow himself to be misled so?"

Delivering his weekly radio address from the Oval Office, Reagan said passage of the Gramm-Rudman bill by Congress in 1985, setting deficit limits including one of $108 billion for the coming fiscal year, was "a solemn pledge to you, the American people."

"You could feel the planet shaking," he said. "And many were hopeful Congress would keep its promise and hold to the deficit targets."

"But you know Congress and spending," the president said. "Only this week Congress sent me a highway construction bill that was loaded with pork barrel projects. I haven't seen so much lard since I handed out blue ribbons at the Iowa State Fair."

Reagan vetoed the bill on Friday and is mounting a major campaign for the necessary Democratic and Republican votes to prevent the Congress from overriding his veto this week.

Moynihan, who headed the House-Senate conference committee that ironed out differences in the two versions of the bill, said the construction season may be lost if Congress fails to override Reagan's veto.

"If we don't get on with the highway program, we are very likely going to throw this economy into a hair-curling recession," Moynihan said, adding that a halt to highway construction would cost 700,000 jobs.

Student Activities Board is now accepting applications for

IRISH GARDENS

Store Manager

AND

ADWORKS

President &
Executive Vice President

Pick up at 2nd floor
LaFortune

Application Deadline: April 3

Dining

continued from page 1

dent Senator Steve Viz that heaters be installed in each of the entrances of the dining hall as is already the case of St. Michael's Laundry. The tables near the exits are rarely occupied during the winter because of the cold, said Viz. The new blowers would not only eliminate the discomfort of those standing in the entrance ways but also restore dining space typically lost during cold days, Viz argued.

Some of Viz's proposals which have already, or are about to take effect, include the extension of breakfast times to 9:15 a.m. to accommodate students with 8 a.m. courses, the introduction of labelled silverware containers and labelled salad dressing ladles, according to Viz. In addition, Viz's suggestion that "Weekenders," weekend dining passes which offer 20 percent discounts to guests, has already been adopted, Viz said.

Viz said he also plans to propose a resolution to the Student Senate which would restrict students from each quad to their respective dining halls. Although Viz conceded that "this is going to be controversial," he argued that such a measure would eliminate the crowding of North Dining Hall which occurs during finals weeks caused by the "influx of South Quad students" who have been studying at the Memorial Library. He added, "Ideally this will be in force by this year's spring finals—at least on a trial basis."

GO FROM COLLEGE TO THE ARMY WITHOUT MISSING A BEAT.

The hardest thing about breaking into professional music is — well, breaking into professional music. So if you're looking for an opportunity to turn your musical talent into a full-time performing career, take a good look at the Army.

It's not all parades and John Philip Sousa. Army bands rock, waltz and boogie as well as march, and they perform before concert audiences as well as spectators. With an average of 40 performances a month, there's also the opportunity for travel — not only across America, but possibly abroad.

Most important, you can expect a first-rate professional environment from your instructors, facilities and fellow musicians. The Army has educational programs that can help you pay for off-duty instruction, and if you qualify, even help you repay your federally-insured student loans. If you can sight-read music, performing in the Army could be your big break. Write: Chief, Army Bands Office, Fort Benjamin Harrison, IN 46216-5005. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY.

ARMY BAND.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Comfy at Cushwa

Sophomore Peggy Kramer relaxes while outlining a book at the Cushwa-Leighton library at Saint Mary's. As the semester heats up, more and more students might find themselves snuggling up with some important reading.

The Observer/Zoltan Ury

British party accuses White House of distorting talks to help Thatcher

Associated Press

LONDON - The opposition Labor Party on Sunday accused the White House of distorting its talks with President Reagan to help Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's re-election chances.

Labor deputy leader Denis Healey, a former foreign secretary, also said Reagan was badly briefed and muddled during Friday's meeting at the White House. He said Reagan was incapable of responding to some questions and that he mistook Healey for the British ambassador.

"What does seem to be the case is that some of President Reagan's advisers thought it would be a good idea to try and help Thatcher in her election battle by being unkind to the Labor Party," Healey said in a TV interview.

Thatcher is widely expected to call an election this summer or autumn, ahead of the June 1988 deadline.

Healey attacked as his socialist party, sliding in opinion polls, took a new hammering in the British press, which for the most part supports Thatcher's Conservative Party.

Thatcher meanwhile began an official visit to Moscow on Saturday and her red-carpet welcome from Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev dominated television newscasts and the front pages.

Healey, who accompanied Labor leader Neil Kinnock to the meeting with Reagan, told reporters in London: "He (Reagan) did not understand this area (Labor's defense policy). He was not capable of making a response. He just nodded his head."

Healey said Reagan also greeted him with the words, "Nice to see you again, Mr. Ambassador," while British ambassador Sir Antony Acland stood by.

Fire

continued from page 1

they were engulfed by a cloud of smoke, according to Gamino. "The door wasn't hot, but we weren't prepared for the huge cloud of smoke," said Gamino.

He said they then closed the door and pulled the alarm.

Gamino said that most residents returned within a half an hour, but sixth-floor residents had to wait until about 11:30 p.m. before they could return.

Gamino said Security personnel, the Notre Dame Fire Department and the South Bend Fire Department all responded. After extinguishing the fire, they used large fans to blow the smoke out of the room, Gamino said.

Most of the damage to the room was caused by smoke rather than fire, said Smith.

The damage was extensive, according to Gamino. He said most of the furniture was still usable, although the couch, bedcovers, and ceiling tiles were badly smoke-damaged and the carpet was water-damaged.

Smith said the room's residents are staying with friends in the dorm until the cleanup of the room is completed.

Names

continued from page 1

ca, but they have gotten worse in recent years.

"This year, things had deteriorated to a point where we would rather (eliminate some team names) than do away with the whole tournament," Rocca said.

"There had been some concern (Hesburgh) would have reacted."

This was a factor in the decision to approach Wenc, Rocca said.

In addition, there has been "a general concern (in the Administration) over the last couple of years" about the names of the teams, he said.

Although Tyson said he has not seen the names of this year's teams, he said some names he has seen in the past were "strong with reverse meanings and double meanings that were hardly double."

Some also contained harassment of individuals, he added.

If the name changes had not been made, Tyson said his office may have cancelled the tournament. "I'm not going to tolerate harassment," he said. "The issue is basketball, not names."

Security Beat

Thursday

7:40 p.m. - A resident from Pangborn Hall reported the theft of a jacket from the Rockne Memorial. The jacket was taken from outside one of the racquetball courts. The jacket was valued at $90.

7:45 p.m. - Two vehicles were involved in a property damage/non-injury traffic accident in the C-1 lot. One car was in the process of backing up when the accident occurred. No estimate of damages has been set at this time.

9:22 p.m. - A LaPorte, Ind. resident reported that vandalism had been done to his car. The vehicle was parked in the C-1 lot when apparently an unknown person threw a piece of cement through one of the car windows. Damage is estimated at $50.

Friday

1:58 p.m. - A resident of Pangborn Hall reported the theft of a textbook from the lobby of the South Dining Hall. The victim stated he left the book on one of the shelves in the lobby and upon return found that the book was gone. Loss is estimated at $45.

3:35 p.m. - A resident of Flanner Hall was the victim of a bike theft. A friend had borrowed the bike and locked it in front of Walsh Hall. Upon his return, the bike was gone. There are no suspects. Loss is estimated at $300.

3:35 p.m. - A Morrissey Hall resident reported the theft of his bookbag. The bag and its contents were taken from the lobby of the South Dining Hall between 11 a.m. and noon. Loss is estimated at $120.

4:15 p.m. - An off-campus resident reported the theft of his gym bag and its contents from the lobby of the South Dining Hall. The theft occurred at approximately 1:30 p.m. There are no suspects at this time.

4:30 p.m. - Another bookbag was reported stolen from the South Dining Hall lobby. A Morrissey Hall resident had his bag taken sometime during the lunch hour. Loss is estimated at $50.

11:15 p.m. - Two students were apprehended for a violation of the University alcohol policy and for urinating on the Director of Security's vehicle in the Stepan lot.

Saturday

1:20 a.m. - Building Services employee reported the theft of two "Wet Floor" signs from the main lobby of LaFortune Student Center. The signs are approximately 3 feet tall by 2 feet wide and are valued at $50 a piece.

2:30 a.m. - Again at LaFortune, a custodian reported that a women's restroom sign was taken from the wall. The sign was valued at $15.

11:15 a.m. - A student/employee of the South Dining Hall reported that her coat and sweatshirt were taken from an employee coat rack in the lower level of the dining hall. Loss is estimated at $50.

9 p.m. - A resident of Badin Hall reported the theft of her bike. The bike had been left unsecured in front of Badin for approximately 24 hours. The bike was valued at $150.

REO Speedwagon Concert: While working in and around the ACC, security officers caught several people illegally selling t-shirts. One subject was arrested on a charge of criminal trespassing, a Class A misdemeanor. The subject was detained at the St. Joseph County Jail. Also, 7 people were found to be in possession of marijuana by security officers. Each of the five cases will be turned over to the St. Joseph County Prosecutors Office for further action.

Wish your friends a Happy Birthday through Observer advertising. Call 239-5303 for details.

ND AVE APTS. Early Bird Special

Now renting for Fall
2 Bedrooms completely furnished

Sign up before break and receive a 10% discount

Call 234-6647

Protected by Pinkerton Security Agency

THE IMPACT OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY ON SOCIETY

A Series of Lectures by Distinguished Visiting Scholars to Inaugurate the PROGRAM IN SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND VALUES at the
UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

HARVEY BROOKS

Benjamin Pierce Professor of Technology and Public Policy
Harvard University

"WHAT TO DO WHEN THE EXPERTS DISAGREE?
TECHNOLOGICAL DECISION MAKING IN A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY"

7:30 P.M.
Tuesday, March 31, 1987
Memorial Library Auditorium

Professor Brooks, an influential government adviser on science and technology policy, played a major role in establishing the Congressional Office of Technology Assessment. Among his books are The Government of Science and Science for Public Policy.

*In the beginning,
The one grand beginning,
The beginning to begin all beginnings,
God created all to sustain beginnings.
Since then, the Universe has never stopped beginning.*

*The endings began to begin.
Ending began soon after beginning,
And the Universe has never stopped ending.
Life-the continuous whole-
Filled with beginnings and endings.*

Happy birthday to Colleen
Who began 21 years ago.
May all your beginnings
Be blessed with happy endings
Much love from your family!
XXXXXX

-Colleen Cushnie

Prosecutor clarifies Pre-trial Diversion Program

I read Chris Murphy's Feb. 26 inside column and believe several things need to be said in order that the Notre Dame community fully understands both the consequences of alleged violations of the Indiana criminal law and the manner in which the Office of the St. Joseph County Prosecuting Attorney attempts to deal with first-time misdemeanor offenders.

Michael Barnes

guest column

It is a fact that a person who is under 21 years of age and who is on the premises of a tavern commits a criminal offense, that being minor in a tavern, I.C.7-15-7-10, which is a Class C misdemeanor offense. The maximum penalties for a Class C Misdemeanor are a fine of $500 and a 60 day jail term.

It has always been an office policy that when it is appropriate and possible, area police agencies and the State Excise Police have been instructed to simply "ticket" those who may be guilty of this type offense so that the alleged defendants can be spared the formal arrest process - which would include photographs being taken of the defendants and a formal fingerprinting at the County jail, and the posting of bond to be released from the jail. We think that is a wise policy, and thus "tickets" have become the norm in St. Joseph County to address the conduct Mr. Murphy speaks of in his editorial.

What information that officers communicate at the scene is always a subject of debate, but there can be no mistake that the crimes alleged against Mr. Murphy and others who were arrested at Lee's Barbeque are, in fact, Class C Misdemeanors.

Our Pre-trial Diversion Program offers first time misdemeanor offenders the opportunity to do community-service work, and given the specific circumstances of a particular case, enter into any other sort of condition, in order that the person charged not take the risk of having a formal criminal conviction on his or her record if that person either pleads guilty or is found guilty of having committed an offense. If you have no concern with regard to a criminal conviction being entered into a permanent criminal history, then the Pre-trial Diversion Program has little, if any inducement.

No one is forced to opt for the program. One who is charged with a criminal offense has several alternatives to pursue. They include pleading guilty to the offense, or pleading not guilty and having the Court of jury determine whether or not there is sufficient evidence to find that person guilty of the offense charged.

The raids on Lee's and subsequent raids on some homes around the Notre Dame area resulted in the ticketing of many who were under the age of 21 years. Some of these offenses alleged being a minor in a tavern, a minor in possession of alcohol, a minor consuming alcohol, or other offenses. All who were so cited may explore every alternative available to them under the law.

In Mr. Murphy's specific case, he was notified that our Pre-Trial Diversion Program was such an alternative. He chose to avail himself of that option. He signed an agreement with this Office which outlined his responsibilities and obligations.

A complete explanation of that agreement was given, and we presume that a Notre Dame student can read and comprehend a document which is purposely geared to be read and understood by one with an elementary school education.

The Pre-Trial Diversion Program was not formulated specifically for Notre Dame students. It is a program available to all in our community who qualify and choose to participate. Notre Dame students comprise about 15 per cent of the total persons who have enrolled in this specific program.

No one can answer as to how a future employer may react to a misdemeanor conviction. We believe that the choice to enroll in the Program is one which should be offered and that choice should be made by an individual after carefully exploring all of the legal options available.

Mr. Murphy also questions whether or not there are records kept of such convictions. These records are kept, they are reported to the Indiana State Police to be made part of the permanent criminal history of an individual, and that information is available to those authorized to seek and secure such information.

We are proud of our Pre-Trial Diversion Program and consider it one which is both beneficial to our community and to the individuals who enroll in it. It makes sense to us, and we do not have an interest in whether one enrolls in the Program or not. We simply are proud that such an alternative exists for those who wish to take advantage of it.

I suspect that the problem with Mr. Murphy is that he did not like the answers to his questions - not that his questions were not answered.

Michael P. Barnes is the Prosecuting Attorney of St. Joseph County.

P.O.Box Q

Schedule distribution delayed due to names

Dear Editor:

As Commissioner of Bookstore Basketball XVI, I would like to offer an apology to all of the team captains who conscientiously attended the Bookstore Captain's Meeting on Wednesday, March 25th. The schedules for the Tournament were completed and ready for distribution that night, but distribution was delayed by the action of the Student Activities Office, due to their objections to the publication of certain names contained in the schedule. This decision was out of my hands and there were no measures which I could take to make distribution possible on the night of the Captain's Meeting. I did not give the specific reason for the schedules not being available at the meeting because I did not want to make the problem public issue while I was in the process of negotiating with Student Activities. My primary concern was to insure that the tournament could and will still run despite the difficulties.

I am also forced to extend apologies to the members of the teams who have had their team names deleted or altered. There was no time in which to contact you for an alternate name. The names were altered in order to make the final copy of the schedule acceptable to all concerned. Failure to alter the schedule could have resulted, at worst, in the possible end of the Bookstore Basketball tournament. Therefore, names were reconsidered by a student committee, ultimately working in agreement with the Office of Student Activities. A large number of names have been replaced by team numbers. Those teams will be notified of the changes made. If you have a question over the fate of your team name or your place in the final schedule, please contact a member of the Bookstore staff. The only other alternative given to us was to use numbers and the names of the team captains to identify all of the teams. This route was taken with the schedule a number of years ago and we felt it was better to preserve the majority of the team names than to sacrifice them all.

My staff and I have done our best to insure that the schedules will be ready for distribution on Monday, March 30th in the SAB office in LaFortune between 3 and 6 pm. Regardless, the tournament will begin on March 31st with the annual Hall of Fame game and the first 30 games of the 1st round.

My thanks to all of the team captains for their cooperation and to my staff for their poise during these difficulties. I would also like to thank Fr. Malloy for his moral support and calm and rational responses to my anxieties and problems, and to Fr. Rocca and Fr. Tyson for taking the time to listen to my position and for offering their aid to assure that the schedule could be published with team names.

*Steve Wenc
Tournament Commissioner
Bookstore Basketball XVI*

Viewpoint welcomes quotes from its readers

Quote of the day

"Morality is its own advocate: it is not necessary to apologize for it."

Edith L. Harrell

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

General Board

Editor-in-Chief.....Kevin Becker
Managing Editor.....Mark Pankowski
News Editor.....Chris Bednarski
News Editor.....Jim Riley
Viewpoint Editor.....Chris Murphy
Sports Editor.....Dennis Corrigan
Accent Editor.....Michael Naughton
Saint Mary's Editor.....Marilyn Benchik
Photo Editor.....Jim Carroll

Business Manager.....Brian P. Murray
Advertising Design Manager.....Michael Whitton
Advertising Manager.....Melinda Chapleau
Production Manager.....Melissa Warnke
Projects Manager.....Mark McLaughlin
Systems Manager.....Shawn Sexton
Controller.....Tracy Schindele
Graphic Arts Manager.....Laura Stanton
Development Manager.....Michael Shannon

Founded November 3, 1966

REO rocks the ACC

Georgia Satellites open for main act

TOM BEATTY
features copy editor

REO Speedwagon pulled into the ACC Saturday evening, with special guests the Georgia Satellites, and the 6,000 plus screaming fans were treated to a night of solid rock 'n' roll.

The Georgia Satellites opened the evening with two sets of southern-fried rock that had special appeal for the flannel shirt and chewing tobacco crowd. They had plenty of audience participation on a few numbers, especially when the crowd thundered, "Don't give me no lines, and keep your hands to yourself." The gentlemen from Georgia delivered well-written tunes with a freight train rhythm, and had the crowd fired up for the main act.

After a lengthy intermission, REO Speedwagon emerged from the depths of their imaginative set, with dry ice fog surrounding the band as they took the stage. They immediately broke into "That Ain't Love," a catchy release from their new album, and followed with a set of material that was a mix of the old and new REO, with vintage tunes like "Take it on the Run" and "Time For Me to Fly," blended with recent releases, like "One Too Many Girlfriends."

Lead singer and rhythm guitar player Kevin Cronin was in prime form, belting out melodies and hitting the high notes without a break. Lead guitarist Gary Richrath had several screaming guitar runs, and it appears he has truly sweetened with age. Keyboardist Neal Doughty has streamlined his act in the past few years, and now sticks to a single synthesizer. As in years past, he provided a clean background sound, with a few interesting solos. Drummer Alan

The Observer/Jim Carroll

Kevin Cronin, lead singer of REO Speedwagon

Gratzner worked his Ludwig set for all it was worth, and bassist Bruce Hall laid down a catchy tempo for all the songs.

The stage and the light show were both terrific, adding a new dimension to the concert. The stage consisted of two Egyptian pyramids, with various levels and platforms for the musicians to wander on while playing. The light show was itself a spectacle, made up of shifting panels and banks of lights that drenched the stage in an ever changing array of hues.

REO is currently midway through their "Life As We Know It" tour, and this new album is their latest in a series of discs from Epic Records. The same band members have been playing together as REO since their first album, which was released in early 1971. They hung together through the lean years of the '70s and finally connected with "You Get What You Play For," a 1977 live release that went double platinum. In 1980 they released "Hi-Fidelity," an album which sold nearly 8 million copies worldwide, and established the band as a staple of American pop music. "Life As We Know It" is the band's 14th album in 16 years, and according to lead singer and songwriter Kevin Cronin, "We've worked harder than ever before on this album. We left no stone unturned as far as packing every song with every idea we had." Cronin continues, "All the songs are about the things that have happened to us in the past two years. It really is about life as we know it."

Gary Richrath and Alan Gratzner of REO Speedwagon The Observer/Jim Carroll

Before and after in this week's soaps

All My Children: The mystery shooter took aim and grazed Travis. Jeremy now believes his premonition was directed at Travis, not Erica. Erica reassured Travis she was over Jeremy. Natalie was upset at Ross' confession of love. Coming: Palmer insists he'll make Natalie his wife.

Another World: Adam had a nightmare about the killer and woke with his hands around M.J.'s throat. Michael got emotional when he looked at the picture and saw the man who looked like John. He left for Mexico to pursue leads and was nearly killed by a scorpion he believed had been planted in his bed. Coming: Cheryl begins to fall for Chad's lies.

As The World Turns: Iva was shocked to learn about Sierra's plans and feared she was losing Craig forever. Earl had a lead that might give more information about the Falcon. Sabrina's plans upset Bob and Kim. Coming: Duncan is forced to deal with an unpleasant fact of life.

The Bold and the Beautiful: Eric began his new power play. Coming: Surprising developments cause him to rethink his plans.

Dallas: J.R. and Bobby moved closer to the goal of acquiring the 10 percent of Ewing oil. Sue Ellen made her decision regarding J.R.'s request that she move back in with him. Pam was still furious at Cliff after learning more about the Jeremy deal. Coming: Bobby and J.R. risk a dangerous move.

Days of Our Lives: Shane warned Kimberly that moving in with him could be dangerous for her and Andrew. Orpheus tormented Roman with a tape of Mariena and refused to acknowledge if she's dead or still alive. Shane began to believe Julian was the murderer. Coming: New medical tests reveal another problem for Maggie.

Falcon Crest: Angela's promise to help Lance is broken when she realizes it's more important to protect her grandson than his father. Richard finally got his revenge on Angela. Melissa's debut was a smash hit. Coming: Dan reconsiders a difficult decision.

General Hospital: Jake and Bobbie reconciled. Sean and Don Shuler totalled up their investors and realized they needed $2 million more. They lured Edward into the deal. Cory, the suicidal teenager became violent after waking from a nightmare. Greta told Connie someone was out to kill her. Coming: Anna worries about the charges that she covered up Angus' death.

Guiding Light: Reva fretted that Josh might become too demanding after their baby is born and wasn't being sensitive enough to her needs. Roxy was unsure about how to relate to Johnny. Henry's health remained precarious. Coming: Phillip has a surprise for Allen.

Knots Landing: Karen insisted she won't allow Anne to keep living next door, but Anne made it plain she intended to stay close to Mac, her ex-lover. Ben still feared for his family's safety. Abbie got Peter to take Olivia as his youth adviser on the anti-drug commission. Coming: Anne begins her plan to counter Karen's moves.

Loving: Cecilia warned Steve he'll pay for trying to leave her for Trisha. A second gun was found. Shana was upset at the business decision Clay made without consulting her. Trisha confessed to killing Rick, but Steve insisted he was the killer. Coming: New evidence points to a surprise suspect.

One Life To Live: Vickie underwent brain surgery and began to see a bright light. Someone named Virgil beckoned to her. She followed him and met Meredith, Joe and Tony. She also thought she heard her father, Victor, calling to her. She held on out of concern for her loved ones on earth, although Virgil told her to let go. Meanwhile, she was put on life support but was failing rapidly. Pat noticed how Maria clung to Clint. Coming: Vickie gives Virgil her decision.

Ryan's Hope: Melinda underwent surgery and had an out-of-body experience. Pat insisted they do more tests but Melinda refused to be anesthetized again. Jon told Lizzie he was falling in love with her. Once again, Maggie tried to humiliate Delia and once again she caused Delia to become a sensation instead. Coming: Ryan may not fulfill.

Santa Barbara: Keith insisted that Tori tell him what she said to stop the rapist from completing the crime. Julia felt Jake's alibi for the night of the rape was not strong enough. Warren left town to start a new life. Santana urged Ted to join Hayley and Sharon, her rape counselor, to talk things out together. Coming: Tori worries that Mason is holding something back that could change their relationship.

The Young & The Restless: Andy was afraid Faren might fall into Evan's emotional trap and he would lose her forever. Julia continued to deny to Nikki that she would be the one to take her place now that Casey bowed out. Nikki was upset at the possibility that Victor really might turn to Ashley instead. Coming: Ashley makes a startling statement to Steve.

1987, McNaught Syndicate

Sports Briefs

John Olmstead scored the winning goal in overtime to give the Irish lacrosse team an 11-10 victory over Colgate. Details will appear in tomorrow's issue. -The Observer

The ND golf finished eighth out of 17 teams at the Eastern Kentucky Invitational in Richmond, Ky. John Connelly led the Irish with a three-round total of 227. Details will appear in tomorrow's issue. -The Observer

Dick Motta, head coach of the Dallas Mavericks, notched his 800th career victory when his Mavericks defeated the Washington Bullets 114-107 Saturday night. In 19 seasons and 1,548 games in the National Basketball Association, Motta is third on the all-time victory list. The retired Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics tops the list with 938 victories, followed by Indiana's Jack Ramsay, who won his 821st NBA game Saturday night. -Associated Press

Bookstore Basketball XVI schedules can be picked up team captains today at the SAB office on the second floor of LaFortune between 3-6 p.m. For more information contact Steve Wenc at 283-4074. -The Observer

Bookstore Basketball referees will have an organizational meeting Thursday, April 2, at 7 p.m. at the Little Theatre in LaFortune. Anyone interested in officiating is encouraged to attend. For more information or to sign up before the meeting, contact Warren Berry at 283-1206. -The Observer

Women's Bookstore Basketball late sign-ups will be held today and Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the An Tostal office in LaFortune. A $5 entry fee is needed to sign-up. -The Observer

In the NHL last night, Buffalo threatened its own extinction from the playoffs by losing to Edmonton 3-2. Toronto kept things exciting in the Norris Division race, beating Winnipeg 6-2 while Chicago fell to Boston 8-6 and Washington upended Minnesota 4-2. St. Louis handled New Jersey 4-1 and Montreal beat Pittsburgh 4-1. -Associated Press

In the NBA last night, Boston beat Philadelphia 118-100, Chicago downed New York 115-96, Portland romped on San Antonio 135-113, Dallas beat Cleveland 101-98 and Detroit edged Seattle 108-107. -Associated Press

The ND judo club edged Purdue for the team championship at the Lafayette Judo Tournament Saturday. The team took the top two spots in individual competition in the women's lightweight, men's under-156 pounds and men's under 172-pounds divisions. -The Observer

The An Tostal ultimate frisbee tournament will have an organizational meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at 123 Nieuwland for those interested in forming teams. For more information contact Pat Dunne at 283-1562. -The Observer

Sports Briefs are accepted Sunday through Friday in writing at The Observer offices on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center on the day prior to publication. -The Observer

Title

continued from page 12

tier belted a grand slam over the right field fence, and when Ray Szajko stole home later in the inning, the Irish were ahead, 9-8.

But just when it looked as if the Irish were about to cure their acute case of "Hoosieritis" that had saddled them with four losses this year, the game was called because of darkness. Since the game had not yet reached the five-inning requirement for a full game, the game was canceled and erased from the record books.

Saturday the Irish split a pair of games at Ball State. In the first game, the Irish could manage just four hits, and Kevin Chenail was saddled with the tough loss in a 4-2 score.

Notre Dame won the second game in extra innings, 3-2, as the Irish received strong pitching from Brian Piotrowicz, Mike Harmon and John Gleeson, who got the win. Ball State appeared to have scored the go-ahead run in the sixth inning of the nightcap, but Paul Whitesell of the Cardinals missed a base on his way home from teammate Tye Allen's double, and was ruled out.

Notre Dame will next face Bethel Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Jake Kline Field.

Classifieds

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Haggard College Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per five characters per day.

NOTICES

SUMMER IN EUROPE FROM $319
Lowest Scheduled Airfares to all of Europe. Call 1(800) 325-2222 dept. 518.

Wordprocessing-Typing
272-8827

Typing
Free Pickup and Delivery
277-7406

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE CALL
MRS. COKER, 233-7009.

Wordprocessing
277-8131

ENDAD

TYPING AVAILABLE
287-4082

LOST/FOUND

LOST: GOLD CHAIN BRACELET. IF FOUND CALL 2905

Found-shoes in ND Golf Course lot last Friday. Call 239-6767.

LOST-Sun, 322 on campus in or near Sacred Heart Church or in South Dining Hall Cafe. 18k. gold circular lapel pin. Intrinsic/ Sentimental value. CALL WARREN AT 283-1206 TO CLAIM.

FOUND --SET OF KEYS ON STEPAN INTERHALL FOOTBALL FIELDS. IF YOU LIVE IN ROOM 236 OF SOME DORM, THESE KEYS ARE YOURS!! CALL WARREN AT 283-1206 TO CLAIM.

LOST: One pearl earring somewhere in or between Lyons and LaFortune the first week of March. If you found it could you please call P.J. at x3023 or x2999. Thanks.

Lost-Maroon, National Gallery POSTER TUBE with Utrillo print inside. Left between Grace and the East Gate Security house on the Friday before break. Great sentimental value. Call Ann 2595

HELP! I LOST MY BOOKBAG IN THE BOOKSTORE. I REALLY NEED THE GLASSES THAT WERE IN THERE. CALL ERIC REINKOBER 23528.

LOST: TWO GOLD CHAINS IN RM219 OF ROCKNE WED. MARCH 11 BEFORE BREAK GOLD TEDDYBEAR PENDENT ON ONE. PLEASE HELP. NO QUESTIONS ASKED. KATHY WALSH 109 2699.

Lost: Levi's Jeans Jacket
My Levi's jeans jacket disappeared from 2nd floor Lewis during a party on Sat. night. A laundry tag sewn on the inside back of the jacket reads P.E.Oeschger. If found please call Paul at 2287. No questions asked.
In the last two years I've worn that jacket to 10 countries and washed it just three times. The accumulated dirt on it has a great deal of sentimental value.

FOR RENT

6 bedroom 4-6 students $400/500 & utilities. Security system 234 6688

SUM STOR all belongings (incl fur) safe/secure Bill M.2327416

SHARE LARGE HOUSE WITH ND GRAD THIS SUMMER. $112 MO. & UTIL. 289-8792. PAUL

WANTED

GOVERNMENT JOBS! Now hiring in your area, both skilled and unskilled. For list of jobs and application, Call (615) 383-2627 Ext J316.

SUMMER JOBS
ALL LANDWATER SPORTS
PRESTIGE CAMPS ADIRONDACK MOUNTAINS
CALL COLLECT FOR JERRY AM 914 381-4224

ADOPTION: We're a happily married couple (physician/psychologist) who deeply wish to adopt a newborn. We can provide lots of love, opportunities, and a warm welcome from family and friends. Expenses paid. Legal. Confidential. Call Ellie/Alan collect (212)-724-7942.

RIDE NEEDED: To New York City ASAP. Please call David Hennekes at 3670.

RIDE NEEDED To Toledo, Ohio on 403 and return 405. Will pay $. Call John 3559

FOR SALE

Compact Disk Player for sale. Audiophile quality NAKAMICHI OMS-7. Programable. Remote. Lists for $1,295.00 but will sell for $600.00. Call evenings before 10 pm at 277-5912 or days at 239-7133.

Round trip ticket to D.C. for Easter $100. If interested call Tash at 277 5626

Great golf clubs for sale! Cheap! 21-PW, 1,3,5W, putt, bag. Call Eric at 1758.

PERSONALS

OUR HOUSE: COLD BEER & LIQUOR, CARRY OUT TO 3 A.M. U.S. 31 N., ONE BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN.

1ST SOURCE BANK
Buy or lease a car. 236-2200. Financing available for all US states.

 Spring Break Travel to New York? **
 Buy Now & Save **
 $90 RT Tix to Newark **
 Leave 3/12. Return 3/21 **
 Call X3586 NOW **

Need GRADUATION TIX. Call Kim at 2687.

LARGEST selection of Cliff/Monarch Notes in Michiana! Buy/Sell--textbooks $$$ PANDORA'S BOOKS, 808 Howard St. just off of N.D. Ave. ph. 233-2342

N.D. GLEE CLUB SPRING CONCERT 8:15 p.m.-Fri., April 3 Washington Hall Ticket voucher distribution Tues., Mar. 31--1 p.m. -3 p.m. Washington Hall Manager's Office

PRODUCTION PEOPLE: If you don't show up for the staff meeting mentioned elsewhere in the classifieds, you will be locked in the production closet and beaten with pica poles until you are dead, dead, dead.

PLANT LOVERS OF THE WORLD BEWARE!

That madman from El Salvador, Giancarlo Miranda, has been spotted in California christening plants with his own special fertilizer. His most common victims are large, potted plants in public places. To avoid losing your precious plant to this crazed plant killer, lock your liquor cabinet and keep plants indoors. This has been a message from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Potted Plants

David Niven, Sean Connery, George Lazenby, Roger Moore, Timothy Dalton and the best Bond of them all, B. David Lennert --all coming soon to a DRAIN near you. Stay tuned for more details.

WVFI-AM 64 GIVEAWAYS!
WVFI-AM 64 GIVEAWAYS!
HUEY LEWIS AND THE NEWS TIX, PIZ-ZA, TANNING SALON VISITS, HAIR-CUTS, DINNERS FOR TWO AT LOCAL RESTAURANTS, CAKES AND PIES,
AND MORE!!!! TUNE IN TO WVFI-AM
64 FOR GIVEAWAYS

Captain, Party, Kristen, A.C., and Crazy, Thanks for a GREAT vacation. The Doctor

FABULOUS
GORGEOUS
BEAUTIFUL BLONDE BABES FROM CALIFORNIA WE CAN'T GIVE YOU BUT WE CAN GIVE YOU ND'S BEST LIVE ROCK SEE
MONARCH-MONSR.BAR
LATE,TUECHIP'S,FRI'THEO'S NAZZ
COMP

THE TRIBE
This is their year.
Opening day is fast approaching

Beav, The muffin found no gold this weekend Glad you're back When I look at you, I see stars and supernovas Cahonous flows Tummy want wubbed? Lovey-poo Chantal

Are you going to be here for SUMMER SCHOOL???

If so, The Observer needs your help in producing some summer issues of the newspaper. The jobs are varied and, if you are interested in newspaper training in your spare time, call The Observer offices and ask for Mark Pankowski or Kevin Becker.

The Observer and Special Olympics NEEDS YOU!!!

Hey, Stanford Studs! Elect "Mr. BIG" for the job Marc Gianzero for President

: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
SIGN UPS FRI 326 & MON 330 1-5 PM IN LAFORTUNE
MAIN LOUNGE. DONT MISS IT!!!!
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS

: SOPHOMORE SIBS SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS SOPHOMORE SIBS
SIGN UPS FRI 327 & 330 1-5 PM IN LAFORTUNE MAIN
: LOUNGE. DONT MISS IT!!!!
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS
: SOPHOMORE SIBS

: SOPHOMORESIBS
: SOPHOMORESIBS
SIGN UPS FRI 327 & MON 330 1-5 PM LA FORTUNE
: MAIN LOUNGE. DONT MISS IT!!!!
: SOPHOMORESIBS
: SOPHOMORESIBS

ANTI-REAGAN PEACE LOVERS UNITE!!
YOUR LEADER IS COMING OF AGE!!!
JOIN HER IN HER QUEST FOR HETEROGENEITY AT N.D.
ONLY SKILLED SHOTGUNNERS AND DICE ROLLERS NEED APPLY.
HAPPY 20TH TO OUR LITTLE LIBERAL!
LOVE, R.A.D.

Captain Vanity,
: Would you like sour cream on de taco?
Yes, and a large Squirt.
Doctor, Antichrist, and Party

SIMPLE MEAL!

SIMPLE MEAL!

SIMPLE MEAL!

Farfa :Your brown celestial bodies floating about your voluptuous cream colored, heavenly sphere turns me on. COME PUMP ME UP BABY!! jack

On Tuesday, March 31, both Dining Halls will be serving a Simple Meal. Please make the sacrifice and feel how the other two-thirds of the world live. This event is sponsored by the Charity Ball and the World Hunger Coalition.

007 is back in his latest adventure -- DRAINRAKER
Stay tuned, Her Majesty's Secret Service depends on it.

TO THE NEW NEWS STAFF:
Great job on the papers this week. Thanks for all your hard work.
-JR and CB

ESOPHAGUS CONSTRICTOR FEVER--CONTRACT IT!

MR. HALL, BIG BOY IS BEGGING FOR YOUR COOPERATION. WE ADVISE YOU TO COMPLY BEFORE FURTHER PAIN IS INFLICTED. STAY ADVISED. THE "NAPPERS"

Attention all BOBS:
: NANCY LAUEN
: turns 20 today! She would love it if you would call x2865 and wish her Happy Birthday! : HAPPY BIRTHDAY NANCE!

DEAR JOEL: IT'S BEEN 9 1/2 WEEKS. LET'S ADD ON WHERE THE SCRIPT LEFT OFF.

DRUIDS will rule the known universe. Watch for this weekend's ceremonies - time and place TBA.
Stonehenge lives

Mr. Hickey-
Thank you for bringing back CIRCUS LUNCH!
Paul & Joe

Bill Hickey-
This Bud's for you.
The guys from Circus Lunch

A dream has come true. CIRCUS LUNCH has returned.

365 days to CIRCUS LUNCH III

"I feel like a five year old at Disney World for the first time. CIRCUS LUNCH has returned."

CIRCUS LUNCH - who cares!

TO THE TALL GUY WHO ATE MY CAR-ROTS AT LUNCH FRI IN SDH: THE LEAST YOU COULD HAVE DONE IS INTRODUCE YOURSELF!

Mike and Frank, HAPPY 21st! Welcome to the club. We beat you there! See you at the Club tonight? : Love your Lyons B-day pals

DOGS OF ALUMNI
THE TIME IS NOW FOR REAL LEAD-ERSHIP. VOTE FOR WINKS AND NAPES. WE WANT YOUR IDEAS, AND YOUR HELP. VOTE WINKS AND NAPES.

GRACE HALL
VOTE WED
DOYLE/LESE
PRESVICE PRES

SOME CALL HER ALALICE AND SOME
CALL HER MARIO:WHATEVER HER
NAME IS WE LOVE HER! DOREEN
MURPHY IS 19! HAVE A GREAT ONE!
US

GREG
I was going to wish you
HAPPY BIRTHDAY
but seeing as how you forgot MY birthday I decided to clip my toenails instead.
ANITA

Center Dean Garrett has added strength to Indiana's front line, contributing 11.4 points and 8.4 rebounds a game.

AP Photo

Indiana

continued from page 12

standpoints.

"The only significance at this point for me is what it means to our players," Knight said "I wanted it badly for the kids to have the opportunity."

"I tend to think of things in terms of our program, and not things where I am concerned," Boeheim said.

For the record, the odds-makers say Knight will be the winner, that his third-ranked Hoosiers are 3-point favorites for the Superdome contest which gets under way at 8:12 p.m. EST.

While the two teams have never met before, they are not all that different. Both have balanced scoring and both are highly selective about using the 3-point shot. Indiana made two of four Saturday, while Syracuse hit three of eight.

Both shared their conference championships, 29-4 Indiana with Purdue in the Big Ten and 31-6 Syracuse with Georgetown and Pitt in the Big East.

The 10th-ranked Orangemen must first and foremost stop Steve Alford, a two-time All-American guard and the leading scorer in Indiana history. But he won't be the only focus for Boeheim's defense.

"With Indiana," Boeheim said Sunday, "I don't think there is anyone you can leave open at any time. Alford's a great shooter and he can do a lot of things to hurt you."

"Any one of the other four players has scored 20 points in a game and can do it again."

He was talking about the Hoosiers' front line of 6-foot-10 Dean Garrett, 6-7 Daryl Thomas and 6-6 Rick Calloway and point guard Keith Smart.

Garrett averages 11.4 points and 8.4 rebounds and has 90 blocks. Thomas averages 15.6 points and 5.7 rebounds. Calloway is good for 13 points a game and Smart 10.9.

Syracuse also presents a multi-faceted offense with 6-10 Rony Seikaly, 6-9 Derrick Coleman, 6-6 Howard Triche and guards Sherman Douglas and Greg Monroe.

Like Indiana, Syracuse has five starters averaging in double figures: Douglas at 17.3, Seikaly at 15.0, Monroe 12.9, Coleman 12.0 and Triche at 11.9. Seikaly also averages 8.3 rebounds and has 75 blocks.

"It's a team that will be difficult to play against," said Knight, who previously won national titles in 1976 and 1981.

Alford, who scored 33 points in Indiana's 97-93 semifinal victory over top-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas Saturday, is averaging 22 points and has 2,415 in his career.

Boeheim, whose team beat Providence 77-63 in the other semifinal, said he watched Indiana's semifinal win and the tape of it.

"When Alford played the way he did yesterday, I don't know if they are beatable," he said. "The games they've played well, they just seem to beat anybody."

Douglas, a sophomore point guard, said Syracuse doesn't expect to stop Alford and just hopes to contain him.

Alford

continued from page 12

mine. It has been financially and physically a very exhausting year."

The younger Alford, averaging 22 points this season for the 29-4 Hoosiers with a career total of 2,415 points, said his biggest disappointment in basketball was not taking his father's team into the Final Four of the Indiana high school tournament as a senior. New Castle lost to eventual state champion Connersville in the title game of their semistate despite a 37-point performance by Alford.

Alford had a record 94 points for the two semistate games, including 57 in the semifinals.

The elder Alford proudly rattles off the accomplishments of his son, who needs 25 points against Syracuse to become the Big Ten Conference's career-scoring leader.

"Steve has made it to the NCAA final, but I know he won't be satisfied unless he gets that championship," his father said. "But, he's had a remarkable career so far and it's nice. He was named Indiana's Mr. Basketball, played on the winning team in the 1983 National Sports Festival, won an Olympic gold medal, a Big Ten championship and became the career-scoring leader at Indiana, a school with one of the best basketball traditions in the country."

As a coach, the elder Alford respects the way Knight conducts his program and says his son never has complained about his treatment by the temperamental Indiana coach.

"Knight is tough. He's a disciplinarian, but he's up front right from the start," Alford said. "When he recruited Steve, he warned, 'I'm going to work you the hardest you ever have.' He knew the skills that Steve had, but he also knew there was work ahead."

The Indiana senior guard is expected to be a first-round pick in this year's NBA draft and his father plans on being his son's agent.

"I never expected him to reach the level he's achieved," the elder Alford said.

He also anticipates that Alford may surprise a few people in the NBA.

The Matchup

	Ind	Syr
Record	29-4	31-6
Home Record	19-0	17-2
Road Record	7-4	7-3
Neutral Sites	3-0	7-1
Overtime Games	1-0	0-1
3 Points and Under	7-1	1-4
10 Points or More	14-2	18-2
Average Points	82.3	83.0
Opponent's Avg. Pts.	70.9	72.7
Margin	11.4	10.3
Field Goal Percent	51.4	51.7
Opponent's FG Pct.	45.0	43.1
3-Point FG Pct.	50.2	40.3
Opp. 3-Pt. FG Pct.	38.4	35.0
3-Pt. FG Avg.	3.7	2.6
Opp. 3-Pt. FG Avg.	3.5	4.0
Free Throw Percent	77.0	65.2
Rebound Average	35.0	40.2
Opponent's Reb. Avg.	34.6	36.3
Rebound Margin	4	3.9
Assist Average	15.8	18.5
Opponent's Ast. Avg.	13.2	15.9
Turnover Average	13.3	13.7
Opponent's Tnvr. Avg.	15.5	15.4
Blocks Average	4.0	5.1
Opponent's Blks. Avg.	2.3	2.8
Steals Average	6.3	7.3
Opponent's Stls. Avg.	5.3	6.9

Summer STORAGE RESERVATION

CALL NOW 683-1959

- VERY CLOSE TO CAMPUS
- APPROX 2½ MILES NORTH US 31-33
- GATES OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

Master Mini Warehouses

P.O. BOX 100 NILES, MICHIGAN 49120

"BEST LITTLE STORE-HOUSE IN MICHIANA"

Anti-Violence Activist

Center for Teaching Non-Violence & NCTV full-time staff. Lodging & $6000/yr. Research on aggression, clearinghouse, publishing & lobbying against violence including TV, film, war toys, sports, erotica. Next to U Illinois. Student loans deferable. 217-384-1920. P.O. Box 2157, Champaign IL 61820

Rocco's Hair Styling

531 N. Michigan St.,

Phone 233-4957

The Observer

the independent student newspaper serving every class and every major's

The Sports Department is now accepting applications for the following position:

Assistant Sports Editor (1)

A one-page personal statement is due Tuesday, March 31, at 5 p.m. at the Observer office, third floor LaFortune. Questions should be directed to Dennis Corrigan at 239-5303.

Sunshine Promotions Presents

HUEY LEWIS and The News

Sunday April 5
7:30 pm Notre Dame ACC
Reserved seats: $16.50

Tickets available at the ACC Gate 10
Box Office or charge by phone
(219) 239-7356

Hoosier head coach Bobby Knight, who is known for his antics on the sidelines, will be aiming for his third NCAA title tonight.

AP Photo

Tenn. routs La. Tech for first NCAA title

Associated Press

AUSTIN, Texas - Sheila Frost came off the bench to score 13 points Sunday, igniting the Tennessee Lady Volunteers to their first NCAA women's basketball championship with a 67-44 rout of favored Louisiana Tech.

It was the first time Tennessee Coach Pat Head Summitt had earned the national title although she's had eight teams in the Final Four.

The victory came easier than expected over the Lady Techsters, 30-3, who had beaten the Lady Vols, 28-6, nine straight times, including a 72-60 triumph in February.

It was sweet revenge for the Lady Vols, who had been defeated three times in the Final Four by Louisiana Tech. Tennessee is 2-11 against Tech.

Tonya Edwards and Bridgette Gordon also had 13 points apiece for the Lady Vols.

Tough rebounding and a tenacious, overplaying defense that denied the passing lanes won the game for the Southeastern Conference champions.

Tennessee held high-scoring Tori Harrison to eight points and All-American Teresa Weatherspoon had only 11 points. Nora Lewis was high for the losers with 12.

Tennessee took advantage of a seven-minute cold spell by the Lady Techsters to run off a 13-5 spurt and a 33-24 halftime lead.

Paulette Stall tied the score at 19 with a basket at 7:11, but the Lady Techsters couldn't score again until Lewis hit a shot with 11 seconds left in the half.

The Lady Vols steadily built the lead in the second half as Gordon scored seven points.

The victory snapped a 19-game Louisiana Tech winning streak, longest in the nation.

All 15,615 tickets were sold for the championship game, but attendance was only 9,823. There were numerous empty seats because Texas was eliminated on Friday night by Louisiana Tech.

Crowds celebrate in Bloomington without severe problems

Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - Police reported few problems resulting from the celebration after Indiana's victory in the NCAA national basketball semifinal, but were bracing for large downtown crowds in the event of a championship victory Monday night.

"All and all it was pretty quiet," Bloomington police Lt. Stan Easton said of the tumult that followed Indiana's 97-93 victory over Nevada-Las Vegas in New Orleans Saturday night.

Crowds gathered at Showalter Fountain at the heart of IU, and at the corner of Dunn Street and Kirkwood Avenue, a block west of the campus. The few cars attempting to drive through the intersection were pounded, rocked and used as impromptu parade floats by some of the rowdiest celebrants.

But records at the Monroe County Jail's booking desk Sunday morning showed just 13 arrests apparently related to the post-game exuberance. Four people were arrested on drunken driving charges, two for public drunkenness, five for disorderly conduct and one each for interfering with a police officer and criminal recklessness.

Police at the university and from the city department said there were assorted minor injuries from people falling off vehicles, but no reports of major accidents or crimes.

"You don't want anything to happen," Easton said. "But with that many people, you know it's going to. We didn't do too bad last night and, knock on wood, hopefully it'll be the same when we win Monday."

For the championship the Hoosiers will battle Syracuse, which defeated Providence 77-63 Saturday.

One person was arrested at IU for public intoxication and two for drunken driving, said Lt. Robert Schutte of the campus police department.

Syracuse Celebrates

SYRACUSE, N.Y. - Syracuse University basketball fans poured out into the streets Saturday afternoon, popping open champagne bottles, throwing oranges and climbing on cars and utility poles.

And there's still a game to go.

They were celebrating the Syracuse Orangemen's 77-63 victory Saturday over the Providence Friars in the national basketball semifinals. Syracuse will play in its first national championship game ever Monday night, against Indiana University.

"This is for the city," said fan Mike Read, who led chants at Mrs. O'Leary's bar on Burnet Avenue. "This isn't just the university. This is the thing that brought everybody together."

At the university's commercial hub on Marshall Street, a plate glass window was shattered at the Varsity Restaurant. Street signs were torn out of the concrete and two people were hurt when a mob destroyed a bus shelter.

Mounted police, armed with bullhorns, urged fans to restore order, even coercing some to climb down from telephone poles.

Still, there were no arrests, said Syracuse police officer Michael DeFio.

"It was just a lot of celebrating," DeFio said.

The Syracuse Herald-Journal published its first extra edition in almost a quarter-century, sending hawkers to University Hill and other locations to tell the story of the win.

The Cellar

SAB RECORD STORE

This Week Only!

Beatles CD's: $11⁹⁹
College Music Special
Dollar off all REGGAE
$2 OFF IMPORT CD'S

Hours: 11:30 - 5:00 Basement of LaFortune

When Date Becomes A Rape

Film Presentation and Discussion for Men and Women
March 31 6:30-8:30 Haggar 117

1987 Notre Dame Annual Fund Spring Phone-a-thon

Notre Dame Student Volunteer Workers Needed

March 24, 25, 26, 30, 31 April 1, 6, 7, 8

6:00 - 9:30 each evening

You're an automatic winner!

For one evening's work you earn:

- a stipend for your dorm or favorite organization
- a free long distance phone call home or to a friend anywhere in the U.S.
- the chance to win one of several gift certificates awarded each night
- a complimentary 1987 Phone-a-thon T-shirt
- and more...

For more information call 239-5340 between 9 am - 4:30 pm

Sisters Office Services TYPING

*Term Papers
Reports

Resume Preparation

Grammar and Spelling Corrected

282-8593

425 N. Michigan

Suite 202

South Bend, IN 46601

Special Rates For Students

The Observer / David Fisher
Shot putter Tom Kraus (above) and distance runner Tom O'Rourke (right) had the top performances for the Irish track team at the Notre Dame Invitational Saturday.

ND takes 6 firsts

Kraus, O'Rourke power Irish

By MOLLY MAHONEY
Sports Writer

The score may not have been kept at Saturday's Notre Dame Invitational, but if it had been the Irish would not have minded.

The Notre Dame track team collected six first place finishes out of a possible 19, led by strong performances from freshmen Tom Kraus and Tom O'Rourke.

Once again Kraus dominated the field of shot putters, with his first-place toss setting a meet record and qualifying him for the IC4A championships. Kraus also won the discus competition.

Running in his first steeplechase for the Irish, O'Rourke outran his competition to take first place as well with a time of 9:30.7.

"Both did very well," said Irish head coach Joe Plane, "I was impressed by their performances."

Junior Mike Burns placed second in the steeplechase for the Irish with a time of 9:37.4.

Juniors Brian Driscoll and Tom Mick won the javelin and hammer competitions with throws of 189-8 and 150-2, respectively, to complete a sold Irish performance in the field events. Chuck Curley added a second-place finish with a throw of 185-10.

Sophomore David Warth, taking advantage of the opportunity to experiment in the non-scoring invitational, won the 400-meter intermediate hurdles. Freshman Glenn Watson finished fourth.

"Non-scoring meets let the guys experiment in different events," said Plane, "and give guys opportunities to compete who might not normally get the chance. They also give those with injuries the chance to rest."

The Irish now prepare to take on the Hoosiers in Bloomington next weekend.

Nettles shows Braves that 42 is not too old

Associated Press

third.

Graig Nettles says he came to the Atlanta Braves' spring camp hoping to win a job and impress some people. It's still not official that he's on the roster but has impressed a few people.

Nettles hit three homers and a double Sunday as the Braves beat the Baltimore Orioles 12-1 at West Palm Beach.

Nettles, 42, hit a solo homer off Scott McGregor in the second inning and a two-run homer in the sixth after drawing a walk on his second at-bat. In the eighth, Ted Simmons and Nettles greeted reliever Don Aase with back-to-back homers. Nettles, who has been playing first and third, also doubled later in the inning.

"I've never been much of a spring player and I've always been a streaky home run hitter," said Nettles who has six homers and another in a B game this spring.

Indians 10, Cubs 6

In Tucson, Rick Dempsey doubled and singled, driving in two runs and scoring twice, and Tony Bernazard, Julio Franco and Pat Tabler each drove in two runs as Cleveland defeated Chicago. Cleveland starter Greg Swindell got the win, allowing five runs, four of them earned, on five hits in seven innings. He struck out nine and retired 14 of the final 15 batters he faced.

Brewers 3, Giants 2

In Chandler, Robin Yount doubled in the go-ahead run in a two-run sixth inning as Milwaukee defeated San Francisco to snap a five-game exhibition losing streak. Rick Manning began the sixth with a pop-fly double off Giant loser Kelly Downs as shortstop Jose Uribe lost the wind-blown ball in the sun behind third base. Yount followed with a hard hop double to right center, scoring Manning. Yount moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Jim Paciorek's hard smash to

Dodgers 6, Expos 3

In Vero Beach, rookie outfielder Chris Gwynn's two-run single highlighted a three-run eighth inning that carried Los Angeles over Montreal. The eighth-inning rally against Montreal right-hander Tim Burke broke a 3-3 tie. Los Angeles reliever Tom Niedenfuer recored his second straight save of the spring. Fernando Valenzuela went eight innings for the Dodgers in his longest spring outing, allowing three runs on seven hits, while issuing four walks and striking out six.

Mariners 6, A's 5

In Tempe, Harold Reynolds drove in the go-ahead run with a suicide squeeze bunt and hit a two-run, inside-the-park home as Seattle nipped Oakland. Reynolds' perfectly placed bunt scored Dave Valle to cap a three-run second inning that erased a 2-0 Oakland lead. His homer off loser Chris Codiroli made it 6-2 in the fourth inning.

Jamison Inn

Bed and Breakfast

We cater to weddings and rehearsal dinners.

Within walking distance to the University of Notre Dame.

1404 North Ivy Road
South Bend, IN 46637

For reservations call:
(219) 277-9682

Class of 1988

Senior Portrait

Sign-Ups

Dining Halls

4:30-6:30 pm

Monday, March 30

Thursday, April 2

IRISH
EYES ARE SMILING
BECAUSE OF...

MAPLE LANE APARTMENTS

Private suburban settings just 10 minutes from campus.

You don't have to be Irish to enjoy life at Maple Lane Apartments. Our beautiful setting is reminiscent of the Emerald Isle. Maple Lane provides professors, employees, graduate students, and administrators a retreat from campus.

In addition we offer you a special discount.

☘ New apartments being built through Spring '87

☘ Pool, Clubhouse,
Community Activities

☘ Washer & Dryer in each apartment

☘ Intercom entrances

☘ Reasonably priced gas/heat

☘ Earthtone Interiors

☘ Country Kitchens

*call for details about your discount
277-3731

models and clubhouse
open daily

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

Far Side

Gary Larson

Beer Nuts

Mark Williams

Campus

11 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.: University Food Services presents a Circus Lunch North and South Dining Halls and the Oakroom Cafeteria

11:45 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.: Economics Department Development Workshop, "A Model of Agrarian Class Structure in Latin America," by Michael Carter, 131 Decio

2 p.m.: SMC Varsity Softball: SMC vs. Huntington College, SMC Softball Field

3:30 p.m. Aerospace/Mechanical Engineering Seminar, "Experimental Studies on Vortex Developments and Interactions in Unsteady Separated Flows," by Fathi Finaish, University of Colorado, 356 Fitzpatrick Hall

4 p.m.: Exxon Distinguished Visiting Scholar Series, College of Arts and Letters and the Department of Sociology Lecture, presents a lecture on the advances in sociological research entitled, "The Wind and the Sun: Conflict and Paternalism in Intergroup Relations," by Prof. Mary Jackman of the University of Michigan, 283 Galvin Life Sciences Center

4:30 p.m.: Institute for International Peace Studies Peacemakers Series Lecture, "The Search for Peace and Justice in South Africa," by Rev. Malusi Mpumlwana, Capetown, South Africa, 120 Law School

4:30 p.m.: Mathematical Colloquium, "Mennicke Symbols and Cohomotopy Theory," by Prof. Wilbred van der Kallen, Universities of Cornell and Utrecht, 226 Computer Math Building

7 p.m.: Monday Night Film Series I, "The Big Sleep," 1946, B/W, 114 minutes, directed by Howard Hawks, U.S., Annenberg Auditorium

7 - 9:30 p.m.: Shakespearean Club Film, "Romeo and Juliet," Engineering Auditorium

8 p.m.: African Studies Program Film, "Nambia: Africa's Last Colony," a 1984 B.B.C. documentary, Multipurpose Room of the Center for Social Concerns

9 p.m.: Monday Night Film Series II, "Dangerous," 1935, B/W, 72 minutes, directed by Alfred Green, U.S., Annenberg Auditorium

9 p.m. - 1 a.m.: Charity Ball Night at Theodore's, featuring "Blank Generation" and DJ Rick Reuter, $1.50 with proceeds benefitting the Charity Ball

Dinner Menus

Notre Dame

Veal Parmesan with Red Mushroom Sauce
Stir Fried Chicken & Vegetables
Poached Sole with Guerenne Vegetables
Sloppy Joe Sandwiches

Saint Mary's

Roast Beef
Chicken Supreme Crepes
Spinach Lasagna
Deli Bar

The Daily Crossword

- ACROSS
- 1 Speechless
 - 5 Post
 - 9 Platter
 - 13 Unusual person
 - 14 Author of "Divine Comedy"
 - 15 Melville opus
 - 16 Not yet final in law
 - 17 Mystery award
 - 18 Church section
 - 19 Moorish drum
 - 21 Arm bone
 - 23 Wand
 - 24 Exudes
 - 26 Sea eagle
 - 28 Rubdown
 - 31 Clergyman
 - 33 Vase with a pedestal
 - 34 Pare
 - 36 Item of property
 - 38 — Spee
 - 40 Autocrats
 - 42 Bore
 - 43 Goes to sea
 - 45 Follow
 - 47 WWII org.
 - 48 Snoozes
 - 50 Singing birds
 - 52 Stamp
 - 53 Chekhov
 - 54 Faucet
 - 56 River duck
 - 58 Heavenly inhabitants
 - 62 Chinese gelatin
 - 64 Excuse
 - 66 Egg-shaped
 - 67 Nuts
 - 68 Sign
 - 69 Yugoslav leader
 - 70 Site of a patella
 - 71 Tore
 - 72 Killed
- DOWN
- 1 Sp. title
 - 2 One
 - 3 Flat-topped hill

©1987 Tribune Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved

3/30/87

Saturday's Puzzle Solved:

3/30/87

- 46 Col. subj.
- 49 Dress folds
- 51 Metal molds
- 53 Similar
- 54 Sermon
- 55 Conflict in literature
- 57 Cockeyed
- 59 Vile
- 60 Behind time
- 61 Traffic sign
- 63 Caviar base
- 65 Day or flower follower

Focus On America's Future

Tired of getting 8 hours of sleep?
Even if you're not, we have a place for you

The Observer

Notre Dame and Saint Mary's newspaper
Be a part of it.

Sports

Monday, March 30, 1987 - page 12

Hoosier hex continues over Irish at IU dumps ND in 8 innings, 11-5

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Sports Writer

"Hoosier hysteria" may be spreading across the rest of the country, but it is not catching on too well at Notre Dame's Jake Kline Field.

After a doubleheader split at Ball State on Saturday, the Irish baseball team was scheduled to have a doubleheader with the Indiana Hoosiers yesterday. Hoping to avenge three season-opening losses to Indiana, Notre Dame instead lost one game in extra innings and had the second game called for darkness under unusual circumstances. The Irish now stand at 7-9.

"Indiana's been a frustrating series for us the past couple of years," said Irish head coach Larry Gallo. "We've lost to them six times in either the last inning or in extra innings."

The Irish opened their home schedule yesterday hoping to raise their record above .500 for the first time this season. Freshman sensation Dan Peltier got the Irish started in the first inning with a home run over the centerfield wall, and Mike Moshier's second-inning double drove in two runs and gave Notre Dame an early 3-0 lead over the Hoosiers.

Sophomore Irish hurler Mike Passilla was in control for the first three innings, but Indiana rallied for a run in the fourth, and the Hoosiers exploded for three runs in the fifth inning, giving Indiana a 4-3 lead.

"Passilla was just cruising, and he lost it," said Gallo. "They just really drove the ball, and we couldn't get anybody out."

Hoosier shortstop Mickey Morandini, who started Indiana's fifth-inning rally with a single, provided insurance with a homer to right off Irish reliever Mike Harmon that made the score 5-3.

Notre Dame rallied in its last bat of the seven-inning game. After Moshier led off with a single, Steve Skupien hit a homer over the left field fence to tie the score at five, sending the game into extra innings.

Morandini started a rally in the eighth, walking and stealing second on a close call with one out, and the Hoosiers pounded out six runs off Irish relievers John Gleeson and Paul Mauk to win the game, 11-5. The win raised Indiana's record to 22-4.

"We thought we had him (Morandini) out at second, but it's the umpire's call and it's a judgment call," said Gallo. "11-5 was in no way indicative of the game. It was an extra-inning ballgame, and they got six runs. We didn't get any breaks."

The suspended second game of the doubleheader was what drew the ire of the Irish the most, however. Notre Dame rallied from a 2-0 deficit to take a first-inning 3-2 lead before a ten-minute rain delay.

Indiana went back in control and took an 8-4 lead when the Irish mounted another comeback. In the fourth inning, Pel-

see INDIANA, page 7

The Observer / Greg Kohs
Mike Passilla had little trouble with the Indiana lineup until the fifth inning, when the Hoosiers struck for three runs. The Irish eventually lost the game in extra innings 11-5.

Kelly-Schmidt tandem pulls out Irish upset over Michigan

By SHEILA HOROX
Sports Writer

Vindication for an earlier singles loss was what was on the line for freshman Resa Kelly.

The rest of the Notre Dame women's tennis team stood on the sidelines watching Kelly and partner Tammy Schmidt finish their doubles match, knowing the match against Michigan rested on the outcome of the last doubles match.

The eruption of cheers from the sidelines told the outcome. Kelly and Schmidt pulled out a thrilling three set victory against Susie Patlovich and Cathy Schmidt, 7-6 (7-4 tiebreaker), 0-6, 6-4, to give the Irish the victory over the Wolverines.

"Despite the score, all the games in the second set were close," said Kelly. "We just weren't able to win any of the three-all shots. The pace really got away from us in that second set."

According to Head Coach Michele Gelfman, with Michigan picking up the pace, the Irish were getting caught at the net at inopportune times.

"I told Resa and Tammy to slow the pace of the match, and keep in control," said Gelfman. "We couldn't let Michigan get into any kind of rhythm."

After dropping the opening game, Kelly and Schmidt swept the next two and were able to gain the advantage in the evenly fought third set.

"In the last set, I just tried to hit the ball low and in places that cut off Michigan's time to react," said Kelly.

The Irish held an early 4-2 lead after singles action. Freshman Stephanie Tolstedt maintained her composure in the third set against Leslie Mackey and won, 6-2, 3-6, 7-6 (7-1 tiebreaker). Alice Lohrer defeated Tricia Horn, 6-3, 6-1, Natalie Illig beat Anne Marie Floreno, 6-3, 6-3 and Schmidt took care of Susie Patlovich, 7-5, 6-3.

The Irish dropped two close matches, Michelle Dasso yielding to Tina Basle, 6-4, 6-4 and Kelly succumbing to Alison Miller, 3-6, 7-6 (11-9 tiebreaker), 6-3.

In doubles, Dasso and Lohrer fell to Basle and Horn, 6-2, 6-3, while Tolstedt and Illig lost to Mackey and Floreno, 6-4, 6-4.

Aside from clinching the match against Michigan, Kelly and Schmidt's victory is only one example of the overall progress for the tennis program.

"The win against Michigan is the turning point in our season," said Gelfman. "This team finally realizes that they can win as a team, not just as individuals. It's a big boost for our confidence, knowing that we can compete with the teams in the Big Ten."

On Saturday, the Irish defeated Indiana State, 7-2. That and the win against Michigan raised Notre Dame's spring season record to 4-5.

Indiana, Syracuse to fight it out for NCAA Championship

Coaches play down hype

Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS -If Bob Knight and Jim Boeheim were actors, they might well pass up Monday night's Academy Awards and go to the NCAA basketball championship game instead.

That's because neither of the opposing coaches in the title game between Indiana and Syracuse admits to any special personal significance.

No one would blame them if they did, mind you.

It would be Knight's third title, putting him in the select company of UCLA's John Wooden and Kentucky's Adolph Rupp as coaches who won more than two NCAA crowns.

It would be Boeheim's first crown and would serve to answer his critics.

But neither seems concerned about it from those

AP Photo
Indiana guard Steve Alford has used the teachings of his father and his coach to become one of the top guards in the country. He now finds himself playing for the NCAA title tonight.

Basketball upbringing puts Alford within one of title

Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS -His father provided the ignition, Indiana coach Bob Knight did the fine tuning and both say it was Steve Alford who provided the fuel that has powered him to within one game of an NCAA basketball championship.

"Steve has driven himself by the desire to be the best basketball player he possibly can," said Sam Alford, who coached the two-time All-American at New Castle High School in eastern Indiana. "He works hard at his game and at his image. He wants to be a leader, on and off the court."

"It goes back to my upbringing. I was brought up in a basketball home, and my father taught me how to play," the younger Alford said Sunday. "I have lived basketball ever since I can remember."

"I think through the association that he had with his dad," added Knight at a Sunday news conference, "Steve learned to shoot the ball and learned to shoot it well. I think his dad was a stickler for shooting mechanics and made sure that Steve had the proper approach to shooting. Steve obviously liked shooting a basketball. I think he's really enjoyed just the simple act of shooting and making shots."

"I think Steve has progressed tremendously as a player able to see the game and do those things that he sees developing in the game from possession to possession. I think that's taken a little work on his part."

A long basketball season ends for both Alford's with Monday night's title game at the Louisiana Superdome where the No. 3 Hoosiers face No. 10 Syracuse.

"I'm very tired," the elder Alford said. "I've been to 31 of Indiana's 33 games, plus all of

see ALFORD, page 8

see TITLE, page 8

An Observer Special Section

MARCH 30, 1987

4,500 to participate in International Games

A Special Olympics athlete shows her feelings at a prior Special Olympic games

Observer Staff Report

Thousands of people will descend upon the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community this summer for the Seventh International Summer Special Olympics Games. Over 4,500 athletes, along with coaches, families, and friends will be attending the nine-day event.

The International Games, scheduled every four years, are the showcase of the Special Olympics effort, a program of athletic training and competition involving over one million mentally handicapped athletes every year. The Games were started by Eunice Kennedy Shriver and the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation in 1968 as a way to test the skills, and provide encouragement for, the mentally handicapped.

The Games are being organized by the International Summer Special Olympics Committee (ISSOC), a non-

"Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

Special Olympics Oath

profit organization made up primarily of volunteer workers.

The purpose of the Games, and of the Special Olympics organization as well, is "to offer special training and skill development to mentally retarded people of all ages," according to Pat Foster, a volunteer worker for ISSOC. The Games emphasize competition not with each other but with the odds facing the mentally handicapped, according to Foster.

The Games are scheduled from July 31 through August 8, which is between the end of Summer Session and the start of fall football practice.

15,000 volunteers necessary for Games

By TRIPP BALTZ
Senior Staff Reporter

Referees, decorators, entertainers, track rakers, computer assistants, drivers, interpreters, guides and janitors.

These and many other jobs are waiting to be filled by volunteers for the 1987 International Games to be held at the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's campuses this summer.

Martha Bolyard, director of the Human Services Division for the summer games, said the Games will employ the talents and time of roughly 15,000 volunteers.

Bolyard, whose division primarily handles recruitment of volunteers, said the response from individuals willing to work the games has been "excellent."

As Human Services receives the last registration forms, Bolyard estimated close to 10,000 have volunteered already.

Because the athletes are the reason for the Games, most of the volunteer spots will be geared to assist them. "There will be very few (positions) where a volunteer will not come in contact with an athlete," Bolyard said.

One of the important jobs will be that of "most needed hero," said Student Commissioner Eric Hickey, who is directing the student volunteer effort at Notre Dame. These special volunteers will be on call to help deal with any unforeseen jobs that arise during the course of the Games. They will need to be resourceful and be able to roll with the punches, according to Hickey.

Although much emphasis has been placed on local civic groups because of the problems students will have getting here for the Games, students are especially needed as volunteers. Because the students know the two campuses well, their aid is especially needed. "Students who know the campus would be a great help, especially since they tend to get very involved" in volunteer activities like the International Games, said Hickey.

Student volunteers would probably be asked to act as drivers and guides around campus, and also to help out with various sales and security tasks, according to Hickey.

Workers will serve food and clean up after the opening ceremony. People who can operate a computer

see VOLUNTEER, page 4

How you too can volunteer

The Special Olympics is counting on 15,000 volunteers to make the 1987 International Games a success.

Volunteers will come from across the nation to be a part of the special event. Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students have been invited to join Michiana residents in becoming involved in the world-wide recognition of the skills of mentally-handicapped people.

Interested students should go to the Notre Dame Student Government offices, where volunteer forms are available. Students who live in the Michiana area are especially encouraged to apply. If you cannot work the entire nine days of the Games, any time you can give would be greatly appreciated. Forms will be available until April 1.

If you have any questions, or wish to volunteer after the April 1 deadline, contact the following people: Eric Hickey (ND students) - 283-1868 Mary Beth Wilkin (SMC students) - 284-5150 Father Don McNeil (faculty and staff) - 239-5319

Interested individuals can also call 232-1987 or write ISSOC, P.O. Box 1987, South Bend, Ind. 46634-1987 to volunteer.

Events promise fun

athletics
(track & field)

basketball

bowling

gymnastics

weightlifting

Observer Staff Report

A plethora of sporting events, entertainment, and educational activities await the participants in the 1987 International Games in South Bend this summer.

One of the highlights of the nine days of events will be the Opening Ceremonies on Aug. 2. Set in Notre Dame Stadium, almost 60,000 spectators are expected to attend the show, including a parade of athletes and a torch lighting ceremony.

The actual sports competitions will be split into two categories. The first, the Official Sports Competition category, includes Aquatics, Athletics (track and field events), Basketball, Bowling, Gymnastics, Soccer, Softball, and Volleyball. Teams will be comprised of athletes of approximately equal ability, and medals will be awarded.

The second category, Demonstration Sports Competition, will include Table Tennis, Equestrian events, Roller Skating, Cycling, Tennis, and Weightlifting. This year, for the first time, medals will be awarded to athletes in demonstration sports as well.

Five more sports will be covered in Exhibition/Clinics as an educational experience for the athletes. Canoeing, Rowing, Sailing, Synchronized Swimming, and Team Handball will all be demonstrated, providing an opportunity for athletes and coaches to learn more about these new Special Olympics sports.

Besides the athletic events themselves, many other activities will be set up on campus. The EXPO Center, held at O'Laughlin Auditorium, will feature demonstrations, clinics, and discussions on family support, health and nutrition, beauty and exercise, technology, recreation, and the arts.

An International Dance, an evening at St. Patrick's Park, and a 4-H Fair will also be held as part of the festivities.

The action will all come to an end on Aug. 7 with the closing ceremonies at the Notre Dame Athletic and Convocation Center.

International Games History

* indicates participating countries

INTERNATIONAL 1987 SUMMER SPECIAL OLYMPICS a World

The athletes for the 1987 International Games come from a wide range of cultures and backgrounds. Over 4,700 mentally handicapped athletes are coming to South Bend from all 50 states and from over 60 other countries. Some come from as far as New Zealand, Nepal, and Taiwan. Many come from countries that are Father Theodore Hesburgh receives a check for $14.11 from the 1984 South Bend Junior Olympics baseball team. The check was the first of many to be signed as a donation to this year's International Games.

Photo courtesy of Special Olympics

Notre Dame an perfect spot for

By SANDY CERIMELE
Staff Reporter

The honor of hosting the 1987 International Summer Special Olympics Games has been given to South Bend and the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community. The dedication of four groups in the South Bend community, the athletic tradition of heroism and the proximity of the world class facilities have all contributed to making the schools an ideal site for this prestigious event.

The drive to bring the Games to South Bend began with a bid submitted to the Special Olympics headquarters in Washington in November of 1983 by the director of recreation for the Council for the Retarded of St. Joseph County. The bid was compiled with an enormous effort from the Indiana Special Olympics, Notre Dame, Saint Mary's, and the South Bend/Mishawaka area Chamber of Commerce. These groups all contributed to the 300 page manuscript reviewed by the Kennedy Foundation and Special Olympics International, containing an enormous amount of detail on housing, financing and transportation.

"The proximity of the facilities takes the strain off the athletes, many of whom are

Volunteers, kids make Special Olympics work

By MARK MCLAUGHLIN
Projects Manager

With the 1987 International Games coming to South Bend this summer, some people may be asking, "What are the Special Olympics?"

Special Olympics was started as a day-care camp for mentally handicapped individuals by Eunice Kennedy Shriver in 1963.

As the idea of helping the mentally handicapped through sports gained acceptance, summer day camps were formed throughout the country, with the help of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation.

Today, Special Olympics helps more than one million athletes in more than 20,000 communities throughout the world.

"Special Olympics was set up not just for special training and competition, but also to offer the opportunity to develop and improve skills in sports," said Sue Kaufman, the Special Olympics area coordinator responsible for five Indiana counties, including St. Joseph's County.

Special Olympics is a privately-funded project. "We receive no funds or grants from the government, no United Way money, nothing like that. We are totally funded by private contributions," Kaufman said.

While Logan Center helps Special Olympics by supplying gym facilities, office space and equipment, they are "entirely separate entities," she said.

The St. Joseph County branch of Special Olympics, in order to support training for 592 mentally-handicapped athletes in sports like basketball, softball, swimming, and gymnastics, required more than $74,000 last year simply to pay expenses.

This does not include any funds spent on labor, as all Special Olympics workers at the county level are volunteers. "I put in an awful lot of hours, but I get an awful lot back," said Kaufman.

"A lot of people think (Special Olympics) is just the big track events, but we offer activities year-round," she added.

Finding people willing to put in five or six hours a week working with the mentally handicapped can be a problem, but people who start to give their time find themselves hooked, Kaufman said.

"Our kids are just like everybody else," she said. "They may look a little funny, or talk a little funny, but kids are kids, no matter where they are."

"Our kids don't get a break," Kaufman said. "This is not a recreational activity; it's a sports competition."

Special Olympics athletes are given training and practice in many sports throughout the year. Competition is held at the county and area levels, with winners from these areas selected for further competition at the state level.

Each area is also allotted a number of slots to fill with athletes for the International Games.

"(The athletes) get a lot of satisfaction and good times even though they may be runners-up," said Kaufman. "The feeling of competitiveness, of trying to achieve a new goal each year, makes (the athletes) well-rounded, good kids."

"For some kids it never really happens, but there's always some improvement."

The Special Olympics movement has changed a great deal in the past few years, with the addition of new sports, new techniques, and more athletes. But, according to Kaufman, "the one thing that stays constant is the commitment the volunteers have to make sure the program is maintained. There's a do-or-die attitude."

Notre Dame and Saint Mary's involvement in local Special Olympics activities has been good, according to Kaufman. Because of the difficulty in working around student schedules, more students tend to get involved in Logan Center activities, but students have made a big difference on a one-on-one basis, as coaches and in other positions.

The upcoming 1987 International Games will also be a big help. "I'm really enthused about the International Games. Through their new techniques, we're learning things that will help our local program," said Kaufman.

"It will help us in our goal: producing mentally handicapped athletes that will become productive citizens and will take their place in our community."

Worldwide Affair

relatively unknown: places like Macao, Malami, and Suriname. Five are even from St. Joseph County. Over 1,500 coaches and 10,000 friends and family members will accompany them. They all come for one purpose: to share in the joy and the excitement of the International Summer Special Olympics Games.

and Saint Mary's for all involved experiencing life outside institutions for the first time," according to Mike Minich, chairman of Public Relations for the 1987 International Summer Special Olympics Committee. He said that the former sites were split by distances of greater than 100 miles, which makes the two campuses and their facilities ideal for the Games.

Because all the necessary facilities for the sporting events and cultural and educational presentations are almost all located on one or the other of the two campuses, Notre Dame and Saint Mary's provide an ideal site for the Games. The large amount of on-campus housing was also a factor in the site selection.

Indiana's long-standing commitment to amateur sports also contributed to the choice of South Bend. The White River Park State Games, the Indiana Summer Special Olympics Games, and the upcoming Pan American Games in Indianapolis all illustrate Indiana's status as a first-rate site for amateur athletics.

The site of the Games was announced on June 22, 1984, by Special Olympics International. The community has been working ever since to accomodate more than 4,700 mentally handicapped athletes in the largest sporting event in South Bend's history.

Photo courtesy of Special Olympics

Eunice Kennedy Shriver (right), founder of the International Games and the Special Olympics along with the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, congratulates two athletes in a recent International Games.

Games fund-raising 'an absolute success'

By JIM WINKLER
Staff Reporter

At its outset, the 1987 International Summer Games faced a fund-raising goal of $4.8 million. With 80 percent of that already collected, fund-raising has been, in the words of the director of Financial Development, "an absolute success."

The Fund-Raising Committee of the International Summer Special Olympic Committee (ISSOC) set its budget three and a half years ago, Director Bill Scholl explained.

The Board of Directors, chaired by Ervin Derda, calculated the amount of money needed to run the games successfully. More than 90 percent of the funds collected will finance the nine days of actual events this summer.

The amount collected so far is enough to enable the games to go on, according to Scholl. The remainder of the $4.8 million will be used to make the 1987 International Games an even better production.

The majority of the finances have come from corporate and civic sponsors. Scholl said, "We don't want to drain money from South Bend; we want to bring Coca-Cola from Atlanta and IBM from New York and have them spend their money here."

The largest donor so far has been Civitan International, a 55,000 member service organization, whose gift of $1.6 million comprises more than a quarter of the ISSOC's goal.

Scholl mentioned that the primary method of securing corporate sponsorship is to concentrate on cause-related marketing. "By giving us money, AT&T can advertise that they support a worthy cause. This makes them look good, and we benefit as well."

Scholl said that since the Games are a world-class sporting event and a good cause, many corporations and civic groups have jumped at the opportunity to help.

Although the ISSOC has not actively sought financial help from the South Bend area, many local corporations and civic groups have helped.

St. Joseph Bank, by organizing three charity golf tournaments, has raised over $250,000. Also contributing is Gates Chevy World and Town and Country Chevrolet, who will donate 200 vehicles for use during the Games.

Scholl noted, "Although we didn't seek it, support here in South Bend has been tremendous."

The Notre Dame and Saint Mary's communities have also been a great help to the games.

Scholl pointed out that University President Father Theodore Hesburgh is honorary chairman of the games, and the Notre Dame athletic department has been an integral part of the promotion of the Games.

In particular, Lou Holtz, Digger Phelps, and Lefty Smith have all participated in celebrity golf events and promotional tours for the Games.

The largest contribution by the Notre Dame community was the $230,000 generated by the Chicago Bears vs. Buffalo Bills exhibition football game held last fall in Notre Dame Stadium. The money raised there helped defray the costs of upgrading Cartier Field and the outdoor track.

Scholl pointed out that the entire financial realm of the Games is a give-and-take proposition. "We will benefit from being in South Bend and at Notre Dame. Likewise, they will benefit from our being here."

John Peck, an economist at Indiana University at South Bend, estimates hosting the Games will bring $20 million in new funds to the South Bend area. Also, Notre Dame will benefit from a general upgrading of facilities.

Volunteer

continued from page 1

or just answer a phone are invited to apply. According to Bolyard, there isn't a volunteer for which Human Services can't find a job.

Bolyard clarified that some volunteers may do extra work to fulfil the 15,000 jobs needed to pull off the summer games. "Many (volunteers) will do the same job seven days a week," Bolyard says. "The longer they can

The Observer/Jim Carroll

Several staff members of the International Summer Special Olympic Committee (ISSOC) make plans for the upcoming events at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

Bill Bankhead, Executive Director of the ISSOC, declared, "There isn't much to be done at Notre Dame, except some painting and groundskeeping. We chose Notre Dame because it is in such good shape."

One area that Notre Dame will benefit from is Stepan Center, the roof of which will be repaired at the ISSOC's expense.

Scholl said the fund-raising aspects of the Games would not be so successful if it weren't for the work of the four-man Fund-Raising Committee, chaired by Bill Haehnel of Civitan International.

In addition to Haehnel, Art Decio,

Jerry Hammes, and Dan Harshman have volunteered their time and expertise to fund-raising. Of particular interest is the fact that as director of the Logan Center, Harshman has hands-on knowledge about fund-raising and handicapped people.

Although the fund-raising for the Games has gone well so far, Scholl stresses his group is far from finished. "We are not done. We have already raised more than any other International Games in the past, but we still want to add to it."

We want the 4700 athletes to get the world class event they deserve."

How you too can contribute

Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students can help the International Summer Special Olympics Committee reach its $4.8 million goal.

According to Bill Scholl, Director of Financial Development, "Every amount is significant." Scholl noted that although no student is going to donate $500,000, there are many ways students can help the ISSOC raise money.

The best way for students at Notre Dame or Saint Mary's to contribute is to organize and attend fund-raisers. For example, the Trident Naval Society, a relatively small group on campus, raised $6000 by soliciting sponsors for its 24-hour run. Some of that money also came from the sale of Special Olympics T-shirts.

Scholl also noted that a campus-wide event would be great for the Games. "Having the two campuses working together would be neat. It would create dollars, publicity, and interest." In addition to large scale fund-raiser events, individual contributions are also welcomed. Money can be sent to:

Bill Scholl
P.O. Box 1987
South Bend, IN 46634
Contributions of any size would be greatly appreciated.

The Observer/Jim Carroll

Two banners portraying the logos of the International Games and the Special Olympics hang outside the International Games offices in downtown South Bend.