

Notre DAME Coll.
LD 4118
.014
v. 23, # 15

The Observer

VOL. XXIII NO. 115

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1990

THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER SERVING NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY'S

Student participation in the census is important to city

By JANICE O'LEARY
News Writer

Sunday, April 1, is the bicentennial anniversary of the United States census; census questionnaires will be distributed in the Notre Dame dorms on April 2 through April 19.

Not everyone will receive the same form, according to Assistant Director of Residence Life for Student Affairs Pat Doran. Every sixth student will receive a "long form" and it is very important that these be filled out, he said.

The different forms will have a specific and definite time period during which they must be completed and turned in, said Doran.

Doran and John Keane, dean of the College of Business Administration and ex-director of the Census Bureau, stressed that it is very important for students to fill out these census questionnaires. Students are counted in the census at school, not at home, said Keane.

If Notre Dame students do not complete the forms it will be detrimental to the entire South Bend community since the number of people in a city determines the amount of money allocated to that area. This money includes federal, state and local funds, Keane said.

Foreign students should also fill out the questionnaires even if they are not U.S. citizens since the census is an account of the "usual place of residence" of people in the U.S., he said.

Keane also emphasized that the questionnaire is "absolutely confidential. Neither President Bush, the HUD, nor anyone else can get your questionnaire."

see CENSUS/ page 4

Observer file photo

Springtime is for romance

A couple enjoys some quiet time together near St. Joseph's Lake. The beautiful scenery in the area makes it a perfect place for those who want to spend time alone with somebody they love.

Kohl asks Poles to admit to injustice to Germans after war

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl asked Poland on Thursday to acknowledge that it inflicted "an injustice" on innocent Germans who came under Polish rule after World War II.

"We Germans are not entitled to such words, and even less must we try to balance accounts in one way or another," Kohl said at a dinner with Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

The occasion in this English university town marked the 40th anniversary of the Koenigswinter Conference, set up to foster Anglo-German relations five years after the Allied defeat of Nazi Germany.

Kohl recalled that one of Vaclav Havel's first acts as president of Czechoslovakia was to express his country's remorse at the expulsion and persecution of its German population after the war. He suggested Poland could follow Havel's example.

Thatcher declared in her own speech that German unification should not weaken security and said that U.S. and British troops and NATO nuclear missiles must remain in a united Germany.

She also unveiled a plan to turn a 35-nation East-West summit this year into a newly enlarged alliance of democracies across Europe.

In the aftermath of World War II, about 13 million Germans were expelled from pre-war German territories that now are part of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Germany also became divided into Communist East and capitalist West Germany, but with the reforms that swept Eastern Europe last fall also came the present drive toward German unification.

Kohl said Thursday that he had "time and again ... recalled the untold suffering inflicted on the Polish people by Germans" during the Nazi occupation of Poland.

But, departing from his prepared text, Kohl toned down his remarks to refrain from directly accusing Poland of mistreating Germans.

The prepared text said:

Margaret Thatcher

"It would no doubt be beneficial for the relationship between our two people if Poland were to refer with equally clear and noble words, as President Vaclav Havel did for Czechoslovakia, to the injustice committed by Poles against innocent Germans."

When he spoke, Kohl noted that Havel had mentioned "the injustice that was also inflicted on innocent Germans," and said "it would be good" if such words "were also possible now between German and Polish people."

He said "such a word, such a gesture, would point the way to a future in which the relationship between the Polish and German peoples is marked by a spirit of good-neighborliness in a common Europe."

One-third of Poland was German territory before the war, and Kohl indicated he was not making a Polish apology a condition of honoring his pledge to respect Poland's borders.

Kohl said a united Germany will enshrine Polish borders in "an internationally binding treaty" with Poland after German unification.

He finally made a forthright pledge last month about Poland's borders after months in which his position on the issue appeared equivocal, upset Poland and worried officials in other European countries, particularly Britain.

Kohl said the West German government and the new democratically elected East German government should both quickly issue identical declarations reaffirming the inviolability of the Polish borders.

"This declaration should unequivocally express the idea that immediately after unification of the two German states the all-German government and Parliament will definitively settle the border question along these lines in an internationally binding treaty with the Republic of Poland," he said.

Days before Kohl's arrival in London, the Polish issue became a source of friction when the Hamburg magazine Der Spiegel said Thatcher claimed Kohl was still saying he did not recognize Poland's western border.

A Kohl spokesman denied it, saying the prime minister misinterpreted Kohl's comments. A Thatcher spokesman would say only that Der Spiegel accurately reported the interview with her.

Thatcher suggested Thursday that the 35-nation Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE) should stipulate conditions for free elections, hold formal meetings of foreign ministers twice yearly and call emergency sessions in times of crisis. The summit is expected to take place this fall.

Former prime minister of Cuba calls for constitution to guarantee human rights

By COLLEEN GANNON
News Writer

Although he does not advocate entirely duplicating the constitution, the Constitution of 1940 should be the basis for any code established in Cuba after Castro, said Rogelio de la Torre, former chief counsel to the Cuban Prime Minister's Office under Fidel Castro.

The Constitution of 1940 guaranteed human rights and the dignity of human beings, Torre said yesterday in a lecture titled, "The Cuban Constitutional Ideal." For example, it included freedom of expression, protection from child exploitation, and prohibition of property confiscation.

A problem Torre found in the Constitution was its inability to limit the power of the president while making the system actually work. The government officials enforcing the text proved to be more problematic than this deficiency according to Torre.

"Failing Cuba was the human element, not the text," he said.

Torre traced Cuban constitutional history to make his basic point that Cubans' desire for a Constitution is not something new.

"Cubans had a long standing love affair with the Constitution," said Torre.

Father Felix Varela served as a key figure in the country's ongoing desire for a successful Constitution, Torre said.

"Varela created and developed the ideas of freedom and independence in the Cuban people," he said. Varela wrote the first Constitutional Law textbook published in Latin America.

The Platt Amendment to the 1901 Constitution was also discussed by Torre. The amendment basically gave the United States power to intervene in

SMC Junior Mother/Daughter Weekend

Friday

8-10 p.m. Wine and cheese reception, Hagar Parlor

Saturday

8:30-9 a.m. Aerobics, Angela Athletic Facility
10-11 a.m. Ann Loux, assistant professor of English "Mothers as writers"
11:15 a.m. Buses leave for Michigan City Lighthouse Mall
6-7 p.m. Cocktails, South Bend Marriot Hotel
7-7:30 p.m. Welcome
7:30-8:30 p.m. Dinner
8:30-9:30 p.m. Slide Show/Fashion Show

Sunday

9:30 a.m. Continental Breakfast, Clubhouse
10:30 a.m. Mass, Church of Loretto

see CUBA / page 4

INSIDE COLUMN

Registration still has flaws, despite DART

It's spring. Almost. Bookstore Basketball is starting, snow has (hopefully) left the forecast, and DART has once again invaded our lives.

Colleen Cronin
Accent Editor

I shouldn't complain about DART though. It actually is a good system. No more waiting for hours in checkmarking lines, no more of that pre-registration annoyance, and everyone has an equal chance of getting the classes they want.

Or at least that's how it is supposed to be. I am going to be a senior. By now I should be able to get into most of the classes I want. I have gone through three years of alternatives, and that is to be expected. But I am almost a senior, have worked (relatively) hard to get to there, and so should be rewarded by finally getting some of my first choices.

For three semesters I have been trying to get into one of the Fiction Writing courses. I am a concentrating in journalism and this would be of great benefit to me. But no dice. I inquired about the status of the course in the middle of the first DART day and all three sections were closed already. I didn't think that was statistically possible.

It seems that English majors, and anyone who may have heard through the English grapevine, were able to pre-register for this course (and a few others) at 8 a.m. Monday morning.

Why? Why didn't anyone else know about this, like American Studies majors who have many English courses open to them for credit towards their major?

Doesn't this sound like checkmarking, something that DART was supposed to eliminate? Doesn't this sound like a shady deal on behalf of the English department, like some top-secret information that goes out to only English majors and a few other privileged people?

"English majors should have preference over other majors." That is a valid reason, but if it is a course open for credit to American Studies majors, can't the classes be divided evenly between the two majors? Or maybe those who were closed out in one semester can have first crack at it for the next semester. There are many viable alternatives to secret pre-registration at dawn.

In talking to other students, it is obvious that other departments are at fault for the exact same thing. I can see no reason for there to be this unfairness to the students. Either all departments should go through the registration system in the same manner or trash the whole thing and regress to the checkmarking hell of two years ago.

Nothing, unfortunately, can be done about this now for the upcoming fall semester. I must stick to my alternative schedule once again. All I can do is cross my fingers and hope that in my very last semester of my college career I can get some of my first-choice classes.

WEATHER
Forecast for noon, Friday, March 30.
Lines show high temperatures.

FRONTS:
COLD WARM STATIONARY

Pressure: HIGH (H) LOW (L)
SHOWERS RAIN T-STORMS FLURRIES SNOW ICE SUNNY PT. CLOUDY CLOUDY

Yesterday's high: 43
Yesterday's low: 37
Nation's high: 88 (Lakeland, Fla.)
Nation's low: 2 (Caribou and Houlton, Maine)

Forecast:
Cloudy and warmer today with a 60 percent chance of light rain. Highs in the middle 50s. Cloudy and warmer tonight and tomorrow with a 70 percent chance of rain and a few thundershowers. Low tonight in the middle 40s. Highs tomorrow around 60.

©1990 Accu-Weather, Inc.
Via Associated Press GraphicsNet

OF INTEREST

A violin recital will be given by faculty members. Carolyn Plummer and pianist William Cerny will perform April 1, at 2 p.m. in the Annenberg Auditorium of the Snite Museum of Art. They will perform pieces by Mozart, Brahms, Saint-Saëns and Notre Dame professor Ethan Haimo.

Engineer's Week will be held April 2-6. A week full of activities has been planned. Be sure to look for notices announcing dates, times, places, and descriptions.

The Native American Student Association is having a Pow Wow on April 1, at the JACC from noon until 7 p.m. Admission is free with a ND or Saint Mary's ID.

Applications and job descriptions for positions on Student Union Board for next year are now available at the 2nd floor secretary's desk in Lafortune. Positions available are in relations, marketing, campus entertainment, and assistant controllers. Applications are due April 6.

SafeWalk will change its hours effective April 1. New hours will be Sunday - Thursday 7:30 p.m. - 1:30 a.m., Friday and Saturday 7:30 p.m. - 2 a.m.

NATIONAL

After 20 years of playing his violin in New York subways, James Graseck had nowhere to go but up. The underground artist surfaced last night in Lincoln Center, trading the A train for Alice Tully Hall. The show for Graseck's fans was a new experience for the violinist, who usually plays Beethoven over screeching brakes or performs Paganini on a platform. "It is a dream come true in a way," Graseck said before his performance.

Aviation pioneer Lester Maitland, who in 1927 became the first pilot to fly from the U.S. mainland to Hawaii, has died in Arizona at the age of 91. The cause of death was not immediately known. As an Army pilot, Maitland and copilot-navigator Albert Hegenberger flew a three-engine Fokker dubbed the "Bird of Paradise" from Oakland, Calif., to Wheeler Field on Oahu in 1927.

WORLD

The National Assembly of Nicaragua, still dominated by Sandinistas, yesterday legalized the confiscation of thousands of houses during a decade of leftist rule, including the residences of party leaders. Property ownership has been one of the touchiest aspects of the transition talks between the outgoing Sandinistas and the United National Opposition, which won February elections. The Sandinistas have armed thousands of people and urged them to "defend conquests of the revolution."

Vietnam's Communist leaders have expelled a champion of democratic change from their ruling body and declared that the reforms elsewhere in the world do not threaten socialism. The number nine man on the 13-member Politburo, was removed "for his grave violations of the party's organizational and disciplinary principles which had caused many bad consequences." A communique did not specify Bach's alleged mistakes, but it was clear they involved disagreeing with the party's attempt to avoid substantial political liberalization, while easing other controls on the society and economy.

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
(219)-239-7471
Today's Staff:

News Peter Yob Joe Moody Janice O'Leary Kelly Tuthill	Production Chris Labaree Kristin Costello	Viewpoint Lisa Eaton
Mike Muldoon	Ad Design Kristie Rolke Kelly McHugh Amy Eckert Quinn Satepauhoodle	Systems Mark Sloan Tim Quinn
Sports Chris Cooney		Accent Paige A. Smoron Barbara Bryn

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

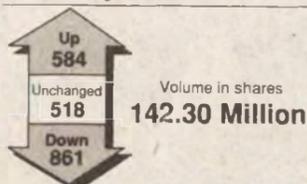

INDIANA

In Chandler, Ind., yesterday a 17-month-old foster child and a wheelchair-bound teenager died in a fire that also injured four other people, authorities said. Investigators had not determined the cause of the blaze that began about 12:30 a.m. An autopsy was performed yesterday afternoon on the deceased. All four of the injured were taken to St. Mary's Medical Center in Evansville.

The Bloomington Public Transportation Corp. will use a $464,412 grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation to fund its public bus system and to operate a transportation service for the disabled, officials said. The grant was announced in Washington by Reps. Frank McCloskey and Lee Hamilton.

MARKET UPDATE

Closings for March 29, 1990

NYSE Index	187.17	↓ .60
S&P Composite	340.79	↓ 1.21
Dow Jones Industrials	2,727.70	↓ 15.99

Precious Metals

Gold	↑ $1.70 to $370.80/ oz.
Silver	↑ 2.8¢ to $4.983/ oz.

Source: AP

ALMANAC

On March 30:

- In 1903: In the Dominican Republic, revolutionary outbreak brings U.S. troops to Santo Domingo to protect American interests.
- In 1915: U.S. protests English blockade as interference with legitimate trade.
- In 1945: Russian forces take Danzig, Poland and invade Austria.
- In 1972: Leftists in Turkey slay three foreign hostages as police storm building, killing ten.
- In 1977: National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) reports Uranus is encircled by at least five rings.

Bush advocates compassion, not discrimination, for AIDS victims

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush declared his administration "on a wartime footing" against AIDS Thursday and called for compassion, not discrimination, toward people infected with the virus.

"Our goal is to turn irrational fear into rational acts," he said in his first major presidential address on AIDS. For Bush, it was an unusually personal speech.

Addressing the National Leadership Coalition on AIDS, he said that education is the key to curbing the spread of the deadly disease.

"Every American must learn what AIDS is and what AIDS is not," he said.

Bush presented no new policy initiatives, instead spotlighting as unprecedented his proposed $3.5 billion in federal spending on AIDS research, treatment and education.

AIDS activists dismiss the proposal — although it would drastically escalate the federal commitment to the fight against AIDS — as a small fraction of what is needed to find a cure and to treat victims.

Bush vowed to press further research at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., and the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta.

"We're on a wartime footing at NIH and CDC. Tonight, like every night, the lights will burn late in Bethesda and Atlanta, as a group of American pioneers work to solve this problem."

Bush urged business executives in his audience not to fire employees infected with HIV, the human immunodeficiency virus that causes AIDS. These people, he said, deserve the same compassion as others who are sick.

"There is only one way to deal with an individual who is sick — with dignity, compassion, care, confidentiality and without discrimination," he said.

"Once disease strikes, we don't blame those who are suffering. We don't spurn the accident victim who didn't wear a seat belt. We don't reject the cancer patient who didn't quit smoking. We try to love them and care for them and comfort them. We do not fire them or evict them or cancel their insurance."

Bush urged Congress "to get on with the job of passing a law" to prohibit discrimination against people infected with AIDS or HIV.

"We're in a fight against a disease, not a fight against people," he said.

Sociology professor spends 18 months with

By JOHN CRONIN
News Writer

After spending eighteen months posed as a street person, Professor Daniel McMurry gave the keynote address at a conference at Notre Dame concerning the homeless.

McMurry, a professor of sociology at Middle Tennessee State University, concentrated on the daily routine of the many homeless which he followed and imitated. From the huddled evenings spent on the tile floor of the missionary, with the moaning and mumbling of the countless other bodies, to the continual search for a meal, McMurry lived every aspect of the down and out.

"Every time I went out into the streets I drifted towards and picked up a 'Willy' and I was 'Willy's' shadow. I tried to pick someone who was appealing and non-violent," said McMurry.

Never once did anyone suspect him of being an imposter. "I had to keep reminding myself to walk the characteristic street shuffle, especially when I was feeling good," added McMurry. "You can tell a street-nick from a straight as far as you can see them; just watch how they walk."

During one academic year and two summers McMurry spent periods of up to eighteen days living on the streets. He would take breaks to spend time with his wife before getting back out to the pavement. "After eighteen days it begins to wear on you. I couldn't tolerate much longer," said McMurry. "If I was going to find out what street life was really like, not someone else's opinion of what it was like, I must finish what I started."

McMurry observed the many problems with the homeless and determined the three most prevalent causes. Family breakup was the number one cause of homelessness, said McMurry.

"The dissolution of the family structure has pathetic consequences far beyond our middle class comprehension. For these people family and friends have always meant not camaraderie and friendship, but survival," he added.

Secondly, McMurry thought that the deinstitutionalization of the mentally unbalanced has seriously contributed to the increasing number of homeless. He said he opposes the release of the vast majority of the mentally unstable and stated, "It is these human castoffs who are portrayed as the hungry on the street, when the reality is that they are incapable of even finding the end of the food line."

Alcoholism is the third major problem of street people according to McMurry. "Thunderbird" fortified wine at $1.25 a pint and twenty percent alcohol is the favorite of the down and out drunkards.

"The problem of the homeless are almost always a tangle of personal pathology combined with fractured relationships. It is not alcoholism alone or mental illness alone or even poverty alone that produces homelessness," he said.

The solution to the problem is complex, but essentially it involves helping the homeless help themselves, said McMurry.

Photo courtesy of Jack Ross
Professor Daniel McMurry of Middle Tennessee State University, as he appeared while posing as a street person. He spent 18 months living with the homeless to find out firsthand what street life is like.

DART COURSE EXCHANGE OPTION

A new DART Course Exchange Option is now available. After you have dialed DART, you will be able to add one course (call number AAAA) in exchange for another (call number DDDD), even if you have a full course load or the new course has a time conflict with the old one. You can also exchange sections of the same course. DART will check to see if the new course is open, that you meet all its requirements, and whether it conflicts with any other course on your schedule. The option works as follows:

The new course does not require permission

Enter the course you might like to drop (DDDD) and the course you might like to add (AAAA) as follows: DDDDAAAA * 0 #. DART will respond with the following message:

This call number, DDDD, will be dropped from your fall 1990 schedule. This call number, AAAA, will be added to your fall 1990 schedule. If you wish to cancel, press "1", if you wish to change, press "#".

If you pressed #, and the new course is accessible to you, DART will respond with the following statement:

This call number, DDDD, has been dropped from your fall 1990 schedule. This call number, AAAA, has been added to your fall 1990 schedule.

The new course requires permission

Enter the course you might like to drop (DDDD) and the course you might like to add (AAAA), along with its permission number (NNNNNN), as follows: DDDDAAAA * NNNNNN #. DART will respond with the following message:

This call number, DDDD, will be dropped from your fall 1990 schedule. This call number, AAAA, will be added to your fall 1990 schedule. If you wish to cancel, press "1", if you wish to change, press "#".

If you pressed #, and the new course is accessible to you, DART will respond with the following statement:

This call number, DDDD, has been dropped from your fall 1990 schedule. This call number, AAAA, has been added to your fall 1990 schedule.

DART CLOSED COURSES AS OF 7:00 P.M. 3/29/90

ACCT 231 10 0010	ENGL 485C 01 1208	RLST 200 20 9520
ACCT 231 11 0011	ENGL 491S 01 6540	RLST 200 24 9524
ACCT 231 16 0016	ENGL 492A 01 1210	RLST 200 26 9526
ACCT 475 03 0037	ENGL 495A 01 6541	RLST 200 28 9528
ACCT 475 04 0038	ENGL 495C 01 6542	RLST 213 32 9532
ACCT 476 02 0040	FIN 231 01 1267	RLST 240 38 9538
ACCT 479 01 0044	FIN 231 02 1268	RLST 240 40 9540
AERO 444L 01 0053	FIN 473 01 1299	RLST 240 44 9544
AERO 444L 02 0054	GOVT 342T 03 7036	RLST 240 46 9546
AERO 444L 03 0055	GOVT 343 01 1402	RLST 251 52 9552
AERO 444L 04 0056	GOVT 447 01 1412	RLST 312 03 9503
AERO 446L 01 0059	HIST 305 01 1477	RLST 362 04 9504
AERO 446L 02 0060	HIST 326 01 1482	RLST 491 54 9554
AERO 446L 03 0061	HIST 393 01 1485	RLST 491 55 9555
AERO 446L 04 0062	HIST 417 01 6826	RLST 491 56 9556
AMST 333 01 6868	HIST 459 01 6828	RLST 491 57 9557
AMST 384 01 0129	IIPS 410 01 6904	RLST 491 58 9558
AMST 440 01 0132	IIPS 412 01 1584	RLST 491 59 9559
ANTH 388 01 6672	MARK 231 02 1688	RLST 491 60 9560
BA 362 01 0332	MARK 231 03 1689	RLST 491 61 9561
BA 490 01 0339	MARK 231 04 1690	RLST 497 62 9562
BLST 232 02 6661	MARK 231 05 1691	RLST 497 64 9564
BLST 371 01 0501	MARK 231 06 1692	RLST 497 66 9566
BLST 444 01 6663	MARK 231 07 1693	RLST 497 68 9568
CHEG 459 02 0594	MARK 231 08 1694	RLST 497 69 9569
EE 340L 02 0983	MARK 231 09 1695	RLST 497 70 9570
EE 361L 02 1003	MUS 220D 01 2114	RLST 497 71 9571
ENGL 305B 01 1167	MUS 226 01 2120	RLST 497 72 9572
ENGL 306 01 6505	PHIL 235 01 2313	SOC 232 02 6685
ENGL 314A 01 6507	PHIL 246 01 2317	STV 247 01 6609
ENGL 318D 01 6511	PHIL 247 01 6587	STV 453 01 6614
ENGL 319A 01 1174	PHIL 255 01 6588	STV 454 01 3024
ENGL 319A 02 1175	PHIL 265 01 2327	THEO 237 01 3066
ENGL 328 01 6512	PLS 481 02 2545	THEO 246 01 6878
ENGL 386 01 1188	PSY 452 01 6759	THEO 253 01 6799
ENGL 389A 01 6520	PSY 472 01 6760	THEO 260 01 6800
ENGL 412A 01 6524	RLST 200 06 9506
ENGL 413C 01 6527	RLST 200 08 9508
ENGL 440 01 6529	RLST 200 10 9510
ENGL 450 01 6530	RLST 200 12 9512
ENGL 453 01 6532	RLST 200 14 9514
ENGL 461C 01 6533	RLST 200 18 9518

Misc. changes

CE 550 01	0578 I H 09:30-10:45 time change
BLST 385C 01	7023 I H 11:00-12:15 time change
ARST 293 01	0220 I H 12:30-03:15 time change
THEO 679 01	6817 M W 11:15-12:30 time change
GOVT 440 01	6632 is NOT a University elective
CHEG 510 01	5021 has been cancelled
HIST 307 01	6821 has been cancelled

Addition of courses

LAW 620 01	7055 Comparative Constitutional Law time to be announced 3.0 cr. hrs.
	LAW students only

DART WEEKEND HOURS

DART will be available between 9:00 a.m., Saturday and 4:00 p.m., Sunday

Ban on the Palestinian Press Service is lifted

JERUSALEM (AP) — Workers hooked up telexes and cleared away debris in the Palestine Press Service on Thursday after police lifted a two-year closure of the agency that once served as the main source of news on the Palestinian uprising.

The reopening of the Arab-run service was one of the first easings of the tough restrictions that Israel imposed on Palestinian journalists at the height of the uprising.

Yossi Olmert, head of Israel's Government Press Office, said there was decreased international interest in the 27-month revolt, so authorities adopted a more liberal attitude.

"The uprising is declining, and some of the pressure is off," Olmert told The Associated Press. "We can live with the press and the uprising at the same time."

Arab newspapers still must submit all articles to the Israeli military censor. The army also continues to block foreign journalists from entering trouble spots by declaring them closed military areas.

Two weeks ago, the army gave a hint of easing restrictions when its spokesman's office issued a directive ordering its employees to respond to queries by Arab journalists.

Such a practice was unthinkable early in the uprising, when Palestinian journalists often put the spokesman's office on the defensive with up-to-the-minute reports of troops firing on Palestinian stone-throwers.

At the time, the Palestine Press Service was the main liaison between Palestinians and the foreign press. It distributed information from a network of dozens of stringers, accompanying foreign journalists to trouble spots and providing translation services.

"In the beginning of the uprising, hundreds of journalists would come here. We were the main source of information," said the agency's co-owner, Ibrahim Karaeen, speaking in his office in Israeli-annexed Arab east Jerusalem.

On March 30, 1988, four months into the uprising, police ordered the agency closed. Karaeen said army officials told him the office was shut because of suspicions it was funded by Yasser Arafat's PLO.

For the next two years, the four-room office stood vacant, its door sealed by a police lock. Pigeons sneaked through an open window, leaving behind piles of droppings and three nests of eggs on a table in Karaeen's corner office.

Karaeen said he was given no explanation why the ban was lifted.

Cuba

continued from page 1

Cuba at any moment of turmoil in the country. According to Torre, "we were all the time complaining about the Platt Amendment." In 1933, this amendment was eliminated.

When Fidel Castro came to power in 1959, work on a new constitution began. Although based on its 1940 predecessor, the new constitution eliminated the word "God" from the preamble. Cubans complained a lot about this, and Torre said it caused the first suspicion that something was not going very well with Castro.

Eventually, Castro drafted an entirely different socialist constitution.

"They now control the life of Cuban people to the most minute detail," said Torre, "To me, there is no legality to anything they are doing."

The newly formed Cuban American Union of Student Advocates (C.A.U.S.A.) sponsored the lecture. Currently, Torre is the assistant chairman of the School of Arts and Sciences at Indiana University at South Bend. C.A.U.S.A. formed this year after some Notre Dame Law students realized there were a number of Cuban Americans in the Notre Dame community.

"We believe Notre Dame is an ideal staging ground for our activity because of Notre Dame's history for strong sup-

Census

continued from page 1

Also, according to a press release, South Bend residents who need help filling out the census forms due to illiteracy will receive help from the Indiana Complete Census Count Committee.

They will be "providing a free telephone help line, walk-in help centers and follow-up visits from census representatives," said Judy Peak, the coordinator for the group.

The number for the help line is 1-800-999-1990.

Albums will be labeled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Six major record companies plan to create an album labeling system so retailers and purchasers can identify explicit recordings.

The label—reading "Parental advisory, explicit lyrics"—does not mean that the music industry is buckling to pressure groups complaining about sexual and violent songs, officials said at a recent convention here of the National Association of Recording Industry Merchandisers (NARIM).

"This will absolutely remain a voluntary decision to be determined solely by the label," said Trish Heimers, vice president of the Recording Industry Association of America.

More than a dozen states are considering record censorship bills, said executives at the NARIM meeting.

The labeling decision may not solve the controversy, some retailers said, adding they were fearful that legislation won't be derailed.

"This legislation will put an impossible burden on us, and the record manufacturers have ducked the problem," said Stanley Gold of Shamrock Holdings, which owns Music Plus stores.

Happy 20th Laura

Love,
Mom & Dad
Stephen, Paula and Teresa

Express Press
OF INDIANA INCORPORATED

QUALITY PRINTING

325 DIXIEWAY NORTH • SOUTH BEND
(219) 277-3355
215 S. 11TH STREET • NILES
(616) 684-2080

ROCCO'S
HAIRSTYLING FOR MEN & WOMEN

531 N. Michigan St.
Phone 233-4957

you The Graduate Student Union

is currently looking for interested graduate, law, and MBA students or spouses to fill the following position:

GRAD CLUB MANAGER

Applications, job description, and stipend information are available in the GSU Office (307 LaFortune) Tuesday thru Friday between 11:30 am and 1:30 pm.

Deadline for applications is April 6.

Happy 19th BO KURTZ!!!

We Love You,
Bird, Leedle,
Liacombe, and Jock

Maple Lane
DISTINCTIVE APARTMENT HOMES

ATTENTION: Grad Students
Professors Employees

- *flexible leases
- *washer & dryer each apt.
- *locked intercom entrances
- *spacious floor plans w/country kitchens

Less than 10 minutes from campus

The Holiday Corporation
2909 Sugar Maple North
South Bend, Indiana 46228
219 • 277 • 3731

Chicago Hair Cutting Co.

M • A • R • C • H

M • H
M • H
M • H
M • H
M • A • R • C • H

PERM SALE

29⁵⁰ REG $34.50
SAVE $5

INCLUDES PRECISION CUT & SHAMPOO

REDKEN
PROFESSIONAL PRODUCTS

INDIAN RIDGE PLAZA
NEXT TO VENTURE
GRAPE RD., MISHAWAKA
277-7946

HOURS: Daily 9-8
Sat. 9-6 Sun. 11-5

* Hair longer than shoulder length $10 additional. ©Copyright of Chicago Hair Cutting Co. 1990

Senate refuses aid to coal miners despite long debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate by a razor-thin margin turned back pleas for special aid to coal miners Thursday, rejecting a measure Senate leaders and the White House said could have jeopardized broader clean air legislation.

The $500 million assistance amendment was voted down 50 to 49 after five hours of debate during which supporters argued the miners needed help because they would be adversely affected by tougher air pollution controls.

The measure was seen as the biggest remaining obstacle to passage of major air pollution control legislation that is scheduled for a final vote next Tuesday. A similar bill is pending in a House committee.

The government has estimated more than 5,000 miners of high-sulfur coal are likely to lose their jobs as Midwest utilities switch to other fuels to meet new pollution requirements in the coming years.

The narrow vote was a victory for Senate leaders of both parties — George Mitchell, D-Maine, and Bob Dole, R-Kan. — as well as the Bush administration which had opposed the assistance proposal as too expensive and discriminatory against other workers.

The White House had threatened to withdraw support from any bill that exceeded the current estimated $21 billion-a-year cost, and Mitchell said the amendment pressed by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., probably would have pushed the total beyond that level.

The vote came after days of intense lobbying from both sides, including last minute telephone calls from the White House to key senators — some calls coming even as the vote was under way. Byrd, whose power as chairman of the Appropriations Committee is widely respected, had visited dozens of senators in search of support.

He got the votes of 38 of the Senate's 55 Democrats and 11 of its 45 Republicans.

Byrd said later that under intense White House pressure "three of my votes took wings." Among those voting with Byrd was Sen. Spark Matsunaga, D-Hawaii, who suffers from cancer and was brought into the chamber in a wheelchair.

Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., said he voted against the proposal in the last minutes after a telephone call from White House Chief of Staff John Sununu, who told him President Bush would veto the clean air bill if the assistance proposal were included.

Senate leaders also had feared that if the measure were approved other senators would seek similar financial aid for workers in other industries. Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Tex., promised to do just that.

"This amendment discriminates against all workers who are not coal miners," declared Mitchell minutes before the vote.

Mitchell and other senators said thousands of workers in other fields, including the steel and petrochemical industries, also could suffer job losses and would not have such benefits.

Byrd, who has been a staunch advocate for miners for years, argued that the issue was a matter of "fairness ... and justice" because of the severe impact that new acid rain controls would have on Midwest utilities and, in turn, on miners in high-sulfur coal fields.

The main clean air bill, which is scheduled for a vote in the Senate next week, calls for sweeping pollution controls on industry, automobiles and utility plants.

New controls on sulfur dioxide emissions from Midwest electric power plants — an effort to combat acid rain — are expected to cause utilities to shift away from high-sulfur coal to cleaner fuels, causing mines in Appalachia and the Midwest to close and miners to lose their jobs.

Calling on senators to "hear the cries of people" and respond to them, Byrd said help for the miners is no different than the federal assistance given to victims of a hurricane or earthquake, who suffer because of no fault of their own.

"We're not asking for welfare," he declared.

For nearly two weeks, Byrd, a former Senate majority leader who still wields considerable power as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has cajoled, pressured and pleaded with senators to line up in support of his proposal.

Child-care bill rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House rejected the White House's version of major child-care legislation Thursday in a vote that cleared the way for a more ambitious Democratic plan.

The House defeated the conservative alternative on child care on a largely party line vote, 225-195, before turning to the competing and more expensive plan to help families find and afford day care.

The vote came despite a renewed threat of a veto from presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater. The House first turned back amendments aimed at limiting federal aid for church-run day care centers.

The vote followed eight hours of sometimes emotional debate that masked the fact that there was actually bipartisan agreement on major portions of the competing versions.

"What we're talking about here may be the most important issue we're going to deal with this year," said Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo.

Amnesty for Lithuanian deserters who return is possible step toward compromise

VILNIUS, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The Soviet army offered amnesty Thursday to Lithuanian deserters who return to their units in what appeared to be a first step toward compromise in the crisis over Lithuania's independence drive.

The decision announced by the Defense Ministry General Staff came a day after Lithuania offered two compromises: it suspended a plan to institute its own border guard, and it told citizens not to resist Soviet attempts to seize their firearms.

Both sides seemed to be yielding in the war of wills over Lithuania's March 11 declaration of independence, the strongest defiance of Mikhail Gorbachev in his five years as Soviet leader.

"I think Lithuania is seeking a way out, and I think Gorbachev is seeking a way out," said Algirdas Brazauskas, head of the Lithuanian Communist Party, which split with Moscow in December.

But the war of words did not die down entirely.

Lithuanian President Vytautas Landsbergis, asked about the Defense Ministry's offer, said: "I don't have much trust in this promise. There have been instances where very high military officials have lied."

Lithuanian leaders are angry that the military said nothing before arresting 23 deserters Tuesday. They said the military had agreed to discuss any such move in advance.

Defense Ministry officials told Tass that Lithuanians who left the Soviet armed forces when their republic declared independence would not be punished if they resumed their military service.

However, those who continue to hide will be "searched out, detained and be subject to criminal punishment in accordance with current law," they said.

Red Army soldiers on Tuesday stormed two psychiatric hospitals in Lithuania to apprehend deserters. Witnesses said some of the deserters and a policeman who tried to stop the detentions were beaten.

The Lithuanian prosecutor's office said Thursday it had opened a criminal investigation into the beating of the police officer. The republic's Interior Ministry said the policeman sustained a concussion.

Lt. Gen. Frants Markovsky of the military General Staff told Tass a special military commission had been set up to track down deserters.

Soviet officers visited the families of 97 soldiers who deserted, and in 40 cases were told the soldiers would return, Markovsky told Tass. In 42 other cases, parents said they were willing to help the military but did not know where their sons were, Markovsky said.

"No reasoning and appeals for common sense and for parental wisdom, however, worked with the parents of the other 15 deserters," he said.

Markovsky said 51 soldiers already had returned to their units.

Soviet officials estimate 250 Lithuanian soldiers have deserted. Lithuanian figures put the number at about 900.

Wednesday was the deadline for Lithuanians to comply with Gorbachev's order issued last week to turn in their firearms or have them seized.

Deputy Interior Minister Valdas Zabarauskas said Thursday that only 1,500 of the 30,000 registered guns had been turned in. Local officials have said they will not cooperate with Moscow to collect them.

Week-end Liturgies at Stepan Center:
Saturday, March 31
 5:00 PM Rev. James King, C.S.C., presider

Sunday, April 1, 1990
 10:00 AM Rev. Daniel Jenky, C.S.C., presider
 Notre Dame Chapel Choir

11:45 AM Rev. David Tyson, C.S.C., presider
 Notre Dame Folk Choir

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

SARAH

Love,

Shana
 Alison
 Terra
 Kelly
 Pam Mary Anne

BEAUX ARTS BALL

with THE "GROOVE"
 SATURDAY, MARCH 31
 9:00 pm - 2:00 am
-UNDERGROUND-
 WEAR A COSTUME!!!

TICKETS AVAILABLE AT LAFORTUNE
 $6.00

GREAT WALL

Chinese-American Restaurant & Cocktail Lounge
 Authentic Szechuan, Mandarin & Hunan Cuisine

Lunches starting at $3.45
 Dinners starting at $4.95

Bar & Restaurant open 7 days
 Mon. - Thurs. 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Fri. - Sat. 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.
 Sun. & Holidays 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m.

130 Dixie Way S., South Bend (next to Randall's Inn) 272-7376

Banquet rooms available for up to 200

ASK ABOUT OUR

COLLEGE GRADUATE FINANCE PLAN

Jordan's Auto Mall
 609 E. Jefferson
 Mishawaka
 (219) 259-1981

YOU DESERVE SOME CREDIT. . . YOU'VE EARNED IT.

Ford Motor Credit Company

FAMOUS LAST WORDS FROM FRIENDS.

"Are you OK to drive?"
 "What's a few beers?"

"Did you have too much to drink?"
 "I'm perfectly fine."

"Are you in any shape to drive?"
 "I've never felt better."

"I think you've had a few too many."
 "You kiddin', I can drive with my eyes closed."

"You've had too much to drink, let me drive."
 "Nobody drives my car but me."

"Are you OK to drive?"
 "What's a few beers?"

DRINKING AND DRIVING CAN KILL A FRIENDSHIP

U.S. Department of Transportation

Idaho governor expresses doubt about prudence of supporting state abortion law

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Cecil Andrus on Thursday expressed his first public doubts about signing what would be the nation's most restrictive state abortion law.

"I am concerned that this bill may narrow it to the point where a woman who has suffered incest or the mother's life is in danger might not be able to receive an abortion," Andrus said at an impromptu news conference.

"I'm looking at that," he said. "I'm agonizing over it."

But the Democratic governor quickly cautioned against interpreting his remarks to mean he has decided to veto the bill.

"Don't read anything into it," Andrus said. "My views being pro-life haven't changed. ... But I am concerned about the bill."

Pro-choice forces, meanwhile, staged another rally on the Capitol steps, dumping 10,000 potatoes in a show of support for the campaign to launch a national boycott of Idaho's biggest cash crop should the bill become law.

To counter that threat symbolically Thursday, Wisconsin Right to Life Inc. delivered a half ton of potatoes to the Salvation Army office in Milwaukee. And a group called Concerned Women for America, which claims 600,000 members, said it will increase potato purchases to offset any boycott by the National Organization for Women.

"This is a long-term commitment," said Beverly LaHate, president of Concerned Women. "Our membership ... is committed to this cause out of respect for the courageous men and women in the Idaho Legislature."

A day earlier, the governor said business leaders in key Idaho industries told him they were already losing sales because of the evolving boycott.

But while expressing concern, he said economic considerations would not be the crucial factor in his decision.

Later in the day, a major buyer of Idaho potatoes, McDonald's Corp., said it had no plans to participate in any boycott over the abortion controversy.

Andrus promised earlier in the week he would act by Saturday on the legislation that would ban abortion as a method of birth control. Both sides in the debate agree it would make more than 90 percent of the abortions performed in Idaho illegal. If signed, it would take effect July 1.

The bill makes abortion illegal except in cases of non-statutory rape reported within seven days, incest if the victim is under age 18, severe fetal deformity or a threat to the mother's life or physical health.

Abortion controversy

AP file photo

Pro-choice advocates like those pictured here hope that a bill passed recently by the Idaho State Legislature will be signed into law by the state's governor, Cecil Andrus.

ND professor will go to South Africa to study mosquito genetics

Special to The Observer

Karamjit Rai, professor of biological sciences at Notre Dame, has been awarded the Ernest Oppenheimer Memorial Trust W.D. Wilson Visiting Fellowship in South Africa for 1990.

Rai, a specialist in mosquito genetics, will visit South Africa in May and June, delivering seminars and interacting with faculty and research scholars at the Universities of Durban, Witwatersrand, Pretoria, Potchestroom, Orange Free State, Rhodes, Port Elizabeth, Transkei and Nataol.

In addition, arrangements have been made for him to visit the South African Institutes of Medical Research, the Research Institute for Disease in the Tropical Environment, and the Tropical Diseases Research Institute at Tzaneen, all of which have a strong mosquito research component associated with them.

He also will deliver the keynote lecture at the Biannual Congress of the South African Genetics Society.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Summer Jobs
Over 50,000 summer job openings at Resorts, Camps, Amusement Parks, Businesses, Cruise Lines, Ranches, and more in the U.S., Canada, Australia, and 20 other countries. Complete directory only $19.95. Don't wait till after finals. Send to Summer Jobs, Drawer 38039, Colorado Springs, CO 80937

Express Press
OF INDIANA INCORPORATED

RESUMES TYPESET AND PRINTED
325 DIXIEWAY NORTH • SOUTH BEND (219) 277-3355
215 S. 11TH STREET • NILES (616) 684-2080

Welcome Back
SKIP!
Love, Your lil' Sis', Lizzard

The Graduate Student Union is currently looking for interested graduate students to fill the following positions:

Secretary
Treasurer (VPA)
Information Officer
Graduate Orientation Executive Chair

Applications, job description, and stipend information are available in the GSU Office (307 LaFortune) Tuesday thru Friday between 11:30 am and 1:30 pm

Deadline for applications is April 6

Notre Dame Communication and Theatre

C.A.T.S.
CINEMA AT THE SNITE

"SUSPENSEFUL, SEDUCTIVE AND WILDLY EROTIC. AL PACINO ELECTRIFIES IN A RIVETING PERFORMANCE."
— Peter Travers, ROLLING STONE MAGAZINE

"TERRIFIC"
— Rex Reed, AT THE MOVIES

"IRRESISTIBLE"
— David Ansen, NEWSWEEK MAGAZINE

"A SCORCHER"
— Gene Shalit, THE TODAY SHOW

PACINO
SEA OF LOVE

MARTIN BREGMAN PROD. HAROLD BECKER DIR.
AL PACINO ELLEN BARKIN JOHN GOODMAN
"SEA OF LOVE" BY TREVOR JONES COSTUME DESIGNER MICHAEL SCOTT BREGMAN EDITOR RICHARD PRICE
R. MUSIC BY MARTIN BREGMAN. LOUIS A. STROLLER PROD. HAROLD BECKER

TONIGHT and SATURDAY 7:30, 9:45

Irish Gardens

now has a wide selection of
EASTER CARDS

Get your Mother's Day and Graduation Cards early, too.

Basement of LaFortune Student Center
12:30 - 5:30 • Mon - Sat
We deliver daily to ND, SMC and Holy Cross

ADWORKS

Attempt to smuggle nuclear devices into Iraq discovered

LONDON (AP) — Customs officials said Wednesday they foiled an attempt to supply Iraq with 40 American-made devices for triggering nuclear weapons, and they arrested five people after an 18-month investigation by U.S. and British authorities.

The probe climaxed in a freight shed at London's Heathrow Airport as an attempt was made to put the devices — which may have been dummies — aboard an Iraqi Airways flight to Baghdad, British customs officials said.

Of those arrested in and around London, one was an Iraqi national who was immediately served with a deportation order, authorities said. Iraqi diplomats in London refused to comment on the affair.

In Washington, the U.S. Customs Service said sealed indictments had been returned at a U.S. District Court in San Diego.

Customs officials in London, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the devices were capacitors, electrical components of the detonation chain of a nuclear bomb.

Defense experts said it demonstrated Iraq's determination to become a nuclear power, even at the risk of being caught violating Western bans on the export of strategic high technology.

"There are only a very few countries in the world capable of manufacturing this type of technology, and there is no other use for a nuclear triggering device than to trigger a nuclear weapon," said Tony Banks, a Middle East expert at the respected Jane's Defense Weekly.

White House spokesman Martin Fitzwater said: "This issue raises once again our concern for the nuclear proliferation in the Middle East. It continues to pose a serious risk to U.S. interests, and it continues to exacerbate regional problems."

There were indications the devices deposited at Heathrow were dummies, substituted for the real hardware as part of the U.S. Customs investigation.

British Broadcasting Corp. TV said customs officers made the switch after the packages arrived from the United States this week. Channel 4 TV News carried an interview with the manufacturer of the so-called Krytrons, who said his company turned over dummies to U.S. Customs late last year.

"We provided about 40 devices ... to the Customs Service and they were deliberately made to be inoperative," said Don Kerr, president of EG & G in Wellesley, Mass.

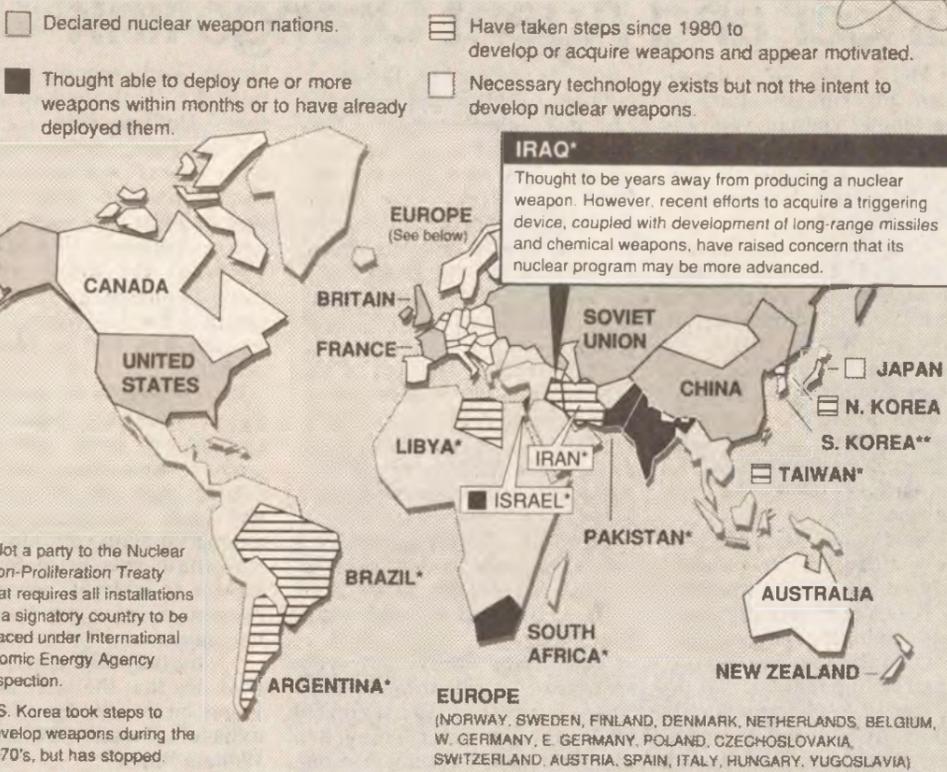

He indicated he did not know whether these were the devices that reached London.

The Iraqi, arrested along with three Britons and a Lebanese, was ordered deported because of "attempted breaches of legislation governing the export of strategic goods from the United Kingdom," the Home Office said.

BBC-TV showed footage of the operation which it said was shot by an NBC crew that was in on the investigation.

NBC reported that Scotland Yard detectives raided the headquarters "of what is being described as a secret Iraqi nuclear procurement network," and removed documents and other evidence.

Nations with Nuclear Weapon Capabilities

Source: Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

AP/T. Dean Caple

It quoted authorities as saying that "the man at the top of the Iraqi operations is Ali Dagher, who was sent to London from Baghdad almost two years ago."

Dagher was arrested at his office shortly after the Iraqi flight took off, NBC said.

British officials declined to name any of those detained or make any formal statements directly confirming the affair.

"They're sensitive about Iraq and the number of British citizens there," U.S. Customs spokesman Ed Kittredge said. He mentioned Iraq's execution March 15 of Farzad Bazoft, an Iranian-born reporter who was working for a British newspaper.

Iraq accused Bazoft of spying. Britain reacted by withdrawing its ambassador from Iraq and expelling some Iraqis, but it has been reluctant to let relations with Baghdad worsen further. More than 10,000 Britons work in Iraq.

The Foreign Office summoned the Iraqi ambassador to inform him of the expulsion but refused to link the action to the alleged smuggling operation.

Military experts said the devices are available only to a handful of major powers, and their export is strictly controlled. They recalled two previous smuggling attempts, one involving Israel and the other Pakistan, both of which have nuclear weapons ambitions.

Iraqi President Saddam Hussein is known to harbor ambitions of eclipsing Egypt and Syria as the premier military power of the Arab world.

WARNING: THE ENVIRONMENT IS DANGEROUS TO YOUR HEALTH

"CONSPIRACY AGAINST AMERICA: TOXIC WASTE"

Lecture by investigative journalist Karl Grossman
Monday, April 2
8 pm, Library Auditorium

"SOVIET CATASTROPHE: DEATH OF THE ARAL SEA"

Lecture by Philip Micklin, Professor of Geology at Western Michigan
Thursday, April 5
7:30 pm, Niewland Science Building, Rm.127

"IN DEFENSE OF THE WILD"

Lecture by eco-warrior Dave Foreman, founder of the radical Earth First!
Wednesday, April 4
8 pm, Cushing Auditorium

You can make a difference!

Study shows no evidence of a cancer and Agent Orange link

ATLANTA (AP) — A long-awaited government study of cancer among Vietnam veterans found no evidence linking the disease with exposure to the herbicide Agent Orange, officials said Thursday.

The study by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC), which looked only indirectly at Agent Orange, did find veterans at increased risk of a relatively rare cancer called non-Hodgkin's lymphoma. But researchers noted the risk was greater among veterans who served on ships than those who served on land, where the herbicide was used.

In Washington, Veterans Secretary Edward Derwinski quickly said he would order the Department of Veterans Affairs to pay disability compensation to vets suffering from non-Hodgkin's lymphoma.

The study was immediately attacked by veterans groups, which complained it failed to sufficiently examine the cancer risks among the thousands of soldiers who actually worked with the dangerous herbicide during the war.

"It is not an Agent Orange study," objected Mary Stout, president of the Vietnam Veterans of America.

"This is only a look at Vietnam veterans" who had cancer, added John Hansen, spokesman for the American Legion.

Sen. Tom Daschle, D-S.D., a member of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, said: "This action has been a long time coming. However, it is not the final word. We cannot forget the many other veterans who are also suffering and dying from Agent Orange-related diseases and who have just as much evidence supporting their claims."

Agent Orange, sprayed by the U.S. military to remove jungle cover and crops in Vietnam, contained dioxin, a highly toxic chemical which some studies have found to increase cancer risks.

Criticism of the study focused on its methods, which involved comparing cancer patients of Vietnam-veteran age to healthy counterparts.

The study "only indirectly evaluated" Agent Orange exposure, because of the technical difficulties in determining two decades later how much a patient may have been exposed to the herbicide, the CDC said.

Specific analysis of dioxin exposure was impractical, partly because researchers don't know how cancer may skew the results of blood tests for dioxin levels, said Daniel Hoffman, assistant director for science at the CDC's Center for Environmental Health.

"Our study was designed to look at Vietnam experience and history, and secondly to ascertain the likelihood of exposure," Hoffman said.

The study, conducted over five years, surveyed 2,067 cancer patients who were of approximate Vietnam service age — between 15 and 39 in 1968, at the height of U.S. troop involvement. They were compared to 1,776 men of similar age who had no history of cancer.

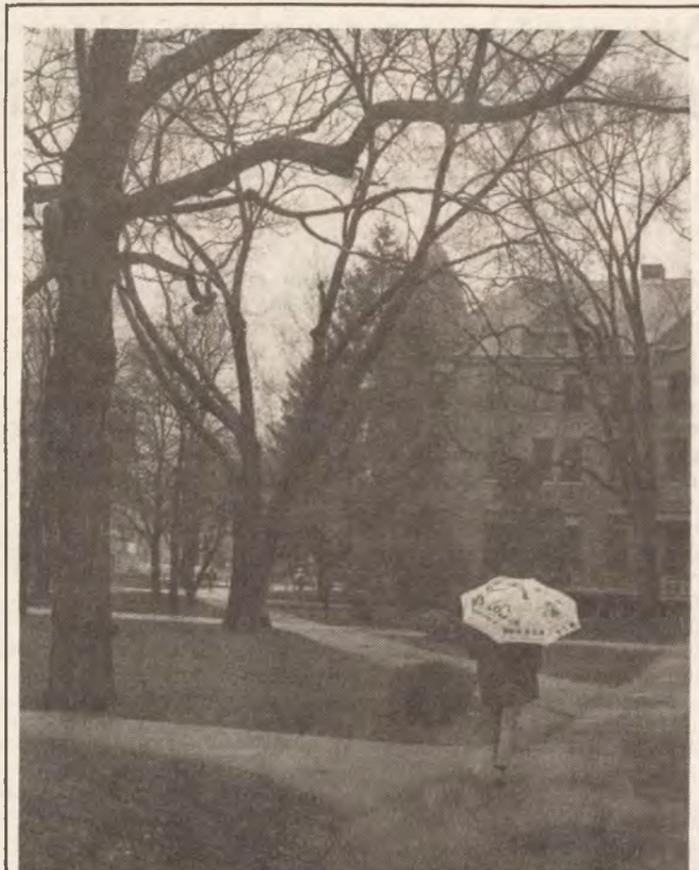

Both groups were studied for risk of six kinds of cancer, including soft tissue cancer and similar sarcomas, a group of cancers that the CDC concedes has been "of great concern among Vietnam veterans."

Vietnam vets were found to have a roughly 50 percent increased risk for non-Hodgkin's lymphoma.

"The study did not find any evidence that the increased risk might be due to Agent Orange exposure," said CDC Director William Roper.

That conclusion, the CDC said, came in part because the cancer risk among Vietnam veterans "seemed to be the opposite of the pattern for use of Agent Orange."

Vets from the Navy's ocean ships had somewhat higher cancer risks than those who served on land. And veterans from the region of heaviest Agent Orange use were at "somewhat lower risk" than

Sorin into spring

The Observer/Steve Moskop

An umbrella carrying student walks near Sorin Hall yesterday. The last several weeks have brought bleak weather for the most part, and many hope that warm spring weather will come soon.

others, the CDC said.

Specifically, the yearly risk of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma is about one in 10,000 for men 35-59, the age group of most Vietnam vets. The risk for Vietnam vets overall is about 1.5 per 10,000, Roper said.

The risk nearly doubled — 90 percent higher — for Navy veterans stationed on ocean ships.

National life-expectancy reaches a record high of 75, researchers say

ATLANTA (AP) — The nation's death rate has dipped to an all-time low, and life expectancy has reached a record 75 years, federal health researchers reported Thursday.

According to 1987 mortality data, overall life expectancy was up by 0.2 year — or about 73 days — from the record set in 1986, said Ken Kochanek, a statistician with the Center for Disease Control (CDC)'s National Center for Health Statistics in Hyattsville, Md.

That means that someone born in 1987 would live, on the average, 75 years. The life expectancy for whites was 75.6 years — up slightly from '86 — and the life expectancy for blacks was 69.4 years, same as the year before.

Overall, Americans can now expect to live about 12 years longer than they could expect 50 years ago; the life expectancy in 1940 was 62.9.

Women, on average, outlive men by 6.9 years.

The nation's mortality rate in 1987 — the latest year for which analysis is available — fell to a record low of 535.5 deaths per 100,000 Americans. That's down one percent from the record set in 1986, and down seven percent from 1979.

A total of 2,123,323 U.S. deaths were reported in 1987

— the highest number ever, as the nation's population has grown.

The decline in the overall rate came as fatality rates dropped for 13 of the 15 leading causes of death, including the big four: heart disease, cancer, stroke and unintentional injuries.

The death rate from heart disease, the nation's leading killer, dropped 3.1 percent. The rate for cancer fell 0.2 percent, the rate for stroke and cerebrovascular disease fell 2.3 percent, and the rate for accidents dropped 1.7 percent.

Among the 15 leading causes of death, the only increases were among diabetes, up 2.1 percent, and septicemia, or blood infections, up 4.7 percent.

The largest racial difference in death rates was for death by homicide; the black homicide rate in 1987 was six times higher than that for whites, the CDC reported.

Overall, annual black death rates were 50 percent higher than for whites.

Year-by-year comparisons were not available for deaths due to HIV infection, or the AIDS virus, because of 1987 coding changes in the mortality study, the CDC said.

But CDC surveillance data for AIDS reported a 32 percent increase in deaths between 1986 and 1987, and "mortality from AIDS appears to be increasing more rapidly than mortality from other conditions," the Atlanta-based agency said.

AIDS replaced birth defects as the 15th leading cause of death.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

THE CLUB
ALUMNI SENIOR

You're Missing Lunch!!

Fri Nite - Live
SMOKE Taxi
Long Islanders Welcome
Sat Nite Guest DJ
Norris Harding
Baseball Night
Come see who's on the mound!

HAPPY 21st,

MEGAN NOONE!

Bark like the dog that you are!

The Observer

is currently accepting applications for the following position:

Advertising Clerk

For more information contact Beth at 239-6900 or 283-2722

GET ACTIVE!!

RECYCLE

a planet is a terrible thing to waste

● Aluminum ● Newspapers ● Glass

For more information contact Paul Ruesch 277-6172, or call 239-7668

New Romanian regime accused of similarity to rule of Ceausescu

GENEVA (AP) — The Rev. Laszlo Toekes, an ethnic Hungarian whose resistance ignited Romania's December revolution, accused the new regime Thursday of abuses reminiscent of ousted Communist dictator Nicolae Ceausescu.

Toekes, 37, an outspoken Ceausescu critic, has been elected bishop in the Reformed Church. An announcement Thursday by state Bucharest radio said he will serve in the northwestern city of Oradea, near the Hungarian border.

In comments Thursday in Geneva, Toekes said extreme nationalist Romanian groups were to blame for deadly clashes between ethnic Hungarians and Romanians last week in Tirgu Mures, a Transylvania city about 250 miles northwest of Bucharest.

Toekes, who was traveling in the United States during the ethnic unrest, accused the interim Romanian government of failing to intervene and of spreading "false information" that ethnic Hungarians provoked the clashes.

He questioned the value of a proposed official inquiry, saying authorities blamed the Hungarian population from the outset.

Many Romanians believe ethnic Hungarians in Transylvania want to secede and join Hungary. The ethnic Hungarians say they only want more cultural autonomy. Last week's unrest in Tirgu Mures reportedly killed six people and left 300 injured.

In a statement distributed to a meeting at the Geneva-based World Council of Churches, Toekes said "misinformation" from the interim government and the Romanian media "reminds one of the practices of the Ceausescu-era."

"Ceausescu argued in the same way, in keeping with his long-standing policy of dividing the nationalities and playing ... the Hungarian minority, as if the 'Jews' of the country, against the Romanian nation," he said.

Ceausescu was executed during the revolution, which broke out in the western city of Timisoara when demonstrators tried to evict Toekes from his church.

Toekes had run afoul of authorities by championing Hungarian rights. After the outbreak of the revolution, Ceausescu loyalists tried to assassinate Toekes, but he escaped without injury.

In his statement Thursday, he said allegations that ethnic Hungarians in Transylvania want unification with neighboring Hungary are unfounded and intended to incite hatred.

"What happened in Tirgu Mures was something like a pogrom; its perpetrators came exclusively from among Romanians stirred up in the spirit of Ceausescuism. ..." he said.

At a press conference in Thursday in Geneva, Toekes said former Reform Church leaders had collaborated with Ceausescu and his hated secret police.

Umbrella weather

The Observer/Steve Moskop

Spring rain brought out umbrellas around the Saint Mary's and ND campuses yesterday. Unfortunately, light rain is likely today and should continue through the weekend.

"My Macintosh won't help me predict my future. But it's going to help me shape it."

Matt Kosterman

Third Year Economics Major, University of Wisconsin, Madison
President, Solutions Marketing (a marketing consulting firm)

I don't know where I'll be in five years. But if I'm in the business world, I know I'll have my Apple® Macintosh® computer with me. I've seen people in business change their attitudes about computers the minute they get their hands on a Macintosh. They get this look on their faces like,

"Now I get it. That's what computers are for."

I think that's what attracted me to a Macintosh in the first place. It lets you take control. You start out working the way you want to work. And it just keeps getting better.

NOTRE DAME
COMPUTER STORE

Office of University Computing
Computing Center/Math Building

Phone: 239-7477

Hours: Mon. - Fri., 9:00 - 5:00

Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc.

Support the March of Dimes
BIRTH-DEFECTS FOUNDATION

The Observer

ATTENTION PHOTOGRAPHERS

There will be a mandatory meeting for all News, Sports, and Accent photographers, and anyone wishing to join the staff on Tuesday, April 3rd at 7:30 pm at the Observer office.

All are welcome!

Best of Misfits
in Disguise

COMEDY IMPROV COMPANY

Tickets available at LaFortune Information Desk
SHOW BEGINS AT 8:30PM
APRIL 5, 1990
Washington Hall
University of Notre Dame

A BRAD PERRY PRODUCTION

The Observer/Steve Moskop

Open courts

These basketball courts, located behind the bookstore and next to Walsh Hall, were used in the original bookstore basketball tournament. This year's tournament will pit 703 teams against each other.

Deadliest Navy missile deployed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's newest and deadliest missile — the Trident 2 — has passed all its tests and has been deployed aboard the submarine USS Tennessee, the Navy said Thursday.

The Trident 2 is considered by experts to be the nation's most accurate ballistic missile.

"This marks the start of an era," said Navy spokesman Lt. Cmdr. Craig Quigley. "This missile will serve as one-third of the nation's strategic triad for many years to come."

The program encountered problems last year after two of the first three submarine-launched missiles self-destructed. The program was declared on track in January after a $125 million fix of the missile's nozzle system.

The program, which has cost $35 billion to date, "was delivered two years early and was 12 percent below the budget originally provided," the Navy boasted.

On Thursday, the program formally achieved what is called the Initial Operational Capability. That marks the end of its land-based and submarine-based flight tests, as well as all readiness checks for missiles, crew and equipment aboard the Tennessee, the statement said.

That means, said Navy spokesman Cmdr. Craig Quigley, "that it is declared ready for use."

Quigley declined to confirm whether the Tennessee had put to sea for its first operational patrol from its base at King's Bay, Ga. A military source, however, confirmed that the submarine had done so early Thursday.

"It went out around 7:30 a.m.," said the source, who spoke on the condition he not be named.

Greyhound and union will return to bargaining table

DALLAS (AP) — Four weeks into a violent strike by its bus drivers, Greyhound Lines Inc. says it is losing hundreds of thousands of dollars a day but considers the walkout effectively finished in much of the country.

Nevertheless, the company and union agreed Thursday to return to the bargaining table next week, said Bernard DeLury, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The agency did not say why talks were resuming, and company and union officials were not immediately available.

Greyhound said it plans an expansion Sunday that will put it at 54.1 percent of its total pre-strike miles, adding 112 round trips that will increase service to some cities and add 50 destinations.

But President Frank Schmieder also says Greyhound has no near-term plans to add some 205,000 unprofitable miles that constitute about 32 percent of the total Greyhound system.

The decision could leave numerous areas without any intercity bus transportation, although Greyhound spokeswoman Elizabeth Hale said Thursday the company would attempt to subcontract some of the routes.

"In no way are we abandoning that 32 percent forever," she said.

Greyhound is the only nationwide bus company, serving about 9,500 pre-strike destinations. In about 9,000 of those areas, the company provides the only intercity transportation.

The strike began March 2 when Greyhound and the Amalgamated Council of Greyhound Local Unions failed to reach agreement on a new, three-year contract. Negotiations resumed briefly, but broke off amid company complaints the union was doing little to discourage violence against its buses.

There have been more than 200 incidents of violence, the company says, including 25 shootings, 69 bomb threats and more than 100 less serious attacks.

The union has said it opposes the violence and has called for prosecution of law breakers.

Schmieder said Greyhound would like to end the "open warfare" with the union, but contended "we're beginning to have plenty of drivers. ... In certain areas, yes, it's over."

"Essentially through the Southeast and Southwest, I think it's over," Schmieder said in an interview Wednesday. "Chicago, Minneapolis, it's over," although "it's still tight" in the Northeast and West, he said.

Greyhound says ridership has increased steadily, although the 1.3 million riders it has had since the strike began is only 34.6 percent of the amount for the same period last year.

"If the company were being as successful as it's claimed to be, I think you would have seen some kind of rush back to work," said union spokesman Jeff Nelson.

SafeWalk

Call 283-BLUE
2 5 8 3

New and Improved Hours

Sunday - Thursday 7:30 - 1:30

Friday - Saturday 7:30 - 2:00

effective Sunday, April 1

STUDENT Government
1989 - 1990

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556 (219) 239-5303

1990-91 General Board

Editor-in-Chief
Alison Cocks

Managing Editor
John O'Brien

Business Manager
Kathleen O'Connor

News Editor.....Kelley Tuthill	Advertising Manager.....Beth Bolger
Viewpoint Editor.....Michelle Dall	Ad Design Manager.....Amy Eckert
Sports Editor.....Greg Guffey	Production Manager.....Joe Zadrozny
Accent Editor.....Colleen Cronin	Systems Mgr.....Bernard Brenninkmeyer
Photo Editor.....Eric Bailey	OTS Director.....Dan Shinnick
Saint Mary's Editor.....Corinne Pavlis	Controller.....Chris Anderson

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editor in Chief, Managing Editor, News Editor, Viewpoint Editor, Accent Editor, Photo Editor, and Saint Mary's Editor. Commentaries, letters and Inside Column present the views of the authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus through letters is encouraged.

Williams' rape remark intolerable

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my outrage at gubernatorial nominee Clayton Williams for his remark comparing bad weather to rape. As quoted in The Observer (March 26), he said, "If it's inevitable, just relax and enjoy it." For raising this issue, some may label me yet another angry feminist (perhaps not enough estrogen in my system today!); for others, this is just another letter complaining about the intolerable attitude towards rape in our society.

Well, it is another letter about that attitude — because the attitude still exists, and Williams' comment is proof of that fact. That he could even jokingly suggest that a woman: 1) should accept rape, that it is an inevitable reality, that it is not something to be fought against; and 2) that somehow the violent abuse and forced domination of a woman's body and mind should be looked at as a pleasure, something for a woman to enjoy, Williams, by getting away with expressing these thoughts, demonstrates the existence and toleration of such attitudes. What I find even more horrifying is the fact that Williams, by his chosen candidacy, believes he best represents the values of the people of Texas!

Is it not enough that 284 rapes occurred and were reported in South Bend alone last year, and that it is estimated nine times that many went unreported? How many women are we willing to continue suffering? How many of our friends do we think should have to bear this pain? Is not one victim too many?

Granted, there are many problems in this world, and we all wonder just which ones and how many we are called to address, but we do have an obligation to address at least a few. In this particular case, my personal convictions and my personal conscience would not let me remain silent. The insensitivity of Williams' remark is something, I believe, that has to be more fully understood. It is a time to call attention to an injustice — the toleration and encouragement of rape — in the hopes that we, who have the power to make a difference, will bring an end to this destructive attitude of condoning violent crimes against humanity, by silence or by verbal agreement.

Maeve O'Donovan
Howard Hall
March 27, 1990

Breslin, Kinkopf say thanks

Dear Editor:

Tomorrow, March 31, is our last official day as student body president and vice-president. It has been a truly rewarding experience, and we feel it is only appropriate to recognize all of those who have helped make this year a success. We would like to thank everyone in our cabinet for their dedication to the goals that we outlined at the beginning of the year. When we were first elected, we stressed the importance of improving student services and promoting intellectual life on campus. Our cabinet helped us to realize these goals, with events such as the successful Iceberg Debates, ND Safewalk, the Parents' Weekend dessert buffet and the World Awareness Series. We all worked really well as a team this year. Furthermore, there has been a great working relationship with the other departments within student government, such as Student Union Board, the classes and the Hall Presidents' Council. The fact that we have been able to work so well together has helped us all be more effective leaders.

Student government has also enjoyed a strong relationship with The Observer and Scholastic this year. In the past, this has not always been the case, but we do recognize this relationship has contributed to our success this year. These publications have made ardent efforts to cover student government events and issues throughout the year. This has helped increase awareness as to what student government actually does and what it can accomplish. We thank these publications for their support.

We have also developed a good working relationship with the administration. The Office of Student Activities has been very helpful this year. Furthermore, we have worked well with the Office of Student Affairs. For example, with regards to the matching funds issue, Father Tyson was willing to sit down and reevaluate the situation, taking into consideration student input. This shows that the efforts of student leadership are recognized.

Finally, we would like to express our pleasure in serving as student body president and vice-president this year. It has been an invaluable experience, one we will remember for a long time. We have learned a little more about ourselves and about others. Thank you for the opportunity to serve you and make a difference at Notre Dame.

Matt Breslin
Student Body President

Dave Kinkopf
Student Body Vice-president

Profanity was not used in discussion

Dear Editor:

In his article, "Spike Lee accurately depicts life in New York inner cities" (The Observer, March 21), Mr. Russell Jones misquoted me. I asked the Director of Minority Student Affairs, "What have you been smoking?" There was no profanity at all (as I was quoted in The Observer).

Sean O'Brien
Off-campus
March 22

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

'Oh, dear Lord, three things I pray. To see thee more clearly, love thee more dearly, follow thee more nearly, day by day.'

Stephen Schwartz
Godspell

DOONESBURY

1990

1990 COLLEGIATE JAZZ FESTIVAL

MELISSA COMER
accent writer

jazz /'jaz/ vb. 1. a. ENLIVEN
When the nation's oldest Collegiate Jazz Festival hits campus this weekend, that's what they're bound to do. Enliven the campus with talent from all over the country to share their music and to compete with some of the best jazz ensembles.

This weekend, at the 32nd annual Collegiate Jazz Festival, the University of Notre Dame will host jazz bands of varying sizes and a number of distinguished judges. With a total of 15 groups participating in the competition throughout the weekend, it is truly a nationwide festival. Competitors hail from Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Iowa, Kentucky, Indiana, Texas, and New Jersey.

The talent that will perform in the festival is guaranteed to be among the best in the nation. It is an honor to be chosen to participate. According to student Jerry Ford, the off-campus publicity director for the event, "The bands went through a competitive application process. The festival is a prestigious event to come and play at."

The committee selected the bands based on tapes submitted by those interested. The music promises to be excellent and the competition close.

In addition to the quality of the participating bands, the judges for the festival are also highly respected members of the jazz community. Their talent will be displayed in a traditional Judges Jam, which is scheduled to take place at 11:30 tonight following the evening session.

The Jam will feature Donald Harrison, alto sax; Carl Allen, drums; Steve Turre (from the "Saturday Night Live" band), trombone; Marc Johnson, bass; and Allen Broadbent, piano.

The 32nd annual Collegiate Jazz Festival will bring together some of the nation's best jazz bands at the JACC. Featured performers include the nationally-renowned University of Notre Dame Combo and Steve Turre, a trombonist from the "Saturday Night Live" band.

Among the panel of judges, but not slated to perform, is composer and director Gerald Wilson.

Scheduled to compete tonight at 7:30 p.m. are the Notre Dame Jazz Band, the Eastern Illinois Contemporary Jazz Combo, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Festival Jazz Ensemble, the University of Massachusetts Jazz Sextet and the Emporia State University Jazz Ensemble.

Tomorrow at 1 p.m. the Western Michigan University Jazz Orchestra, the Acoustic Outlet (a jazz combo from the University of Northern Iowa), the University of Kentucky Jazz Ensemble, the University of Notre Dame Combo, and the University of Northern Iowa

Jazz Ensemble will all perform.

At 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, the final session will be held with performances by the Southwest Texas State University Jazz Ensemble, the Brooks Giles Quartet from the New School Program of Jazz and Contemporary Music, the Michigan State University Jazz Band I, the New Jazz Ensemble from the William Paterson College of New Jersey, and the University of Massachusetts Jazz Ensemble I.

In addition, a special guest appearance will be made by the University of North Texas One O'Clock Lab Band shortly before the awards ceremony Saturday night.

The Jazz Festival is a student run event which involves ap-

friday	MUSIC Flesh Burrito, Grace Coffehouse, 9 p.m. Duke Tomato and the Power Street, Center Street Blues Cafe, 9:30 Smoke Taxi, Alumni-Senior Club, 10 p.m. Corvallis Calling, McCormick's, 10 p.m. Mr. E., Bridget's, 10 p.m. CAMPUS Collegiate Jazz Festival, JACC, 7:30, 11:30 p.m. "Godspell," Washington Hall, 8 p.m. "Up the Down Staircase," Library Auditorium, 8:10 p.m. donations accepted. MUSIC The Foggy Nights, Center Street Blues Cafe, 9:30 p.m. Ed's Painting Company, Grace Coffehouse, 9:30 p.m. Mr. E., Bridget's, 10 p.m. CAMPUS Collegiate Jazz Festival, JACC, 1, 7:30 p.m. "Godspell," Washington Hall, 8 p.m. "Up the Down Staircase," Library Auditorium, 8:10 p.m. donations accepted.
saturday	NOTRE DAME Friday "The Package," Cushing Auditorium, 8 and 10:15 p.m. "Sea of Love," Annenburg Auditorium, 7:30, 9:45 p.m. Saturday "True Believer," Cushing Auditorium, 8 and 10:15 p.m. "Sea of Love," Annenburg Auditorium, 7:30, 9:45 p.m. UNIVERSITY PARK EAST "Born on the Fourth of July," 5 and 8 p.m. "Driving Miss Daisy," 7:40 and 9:40 p.m. "Opportunity Knocks," 7:15 and 9:30 p.m. "Love at Large," 7:20 p.m. "My Left Foot," 7:15 and 9:15 p.m. "The 4th War," 7 and 9 p.m. "Glory," 7:20 and 9:50 p.m. UNIVERSITY PARK WEST "Pretty Woman," 7 and 9:45 p.m. "Lord of the Flies," 7:20 and 9:20 p.m. FORUM "Joe vs. The Volcano," 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. "Hard To Kill," 9:45 p.m. "Stella," 7 p.m. "House Party," 8 and 10 p.m. TOWN AND COUNTRY "The War of the Roses," 7:15 and 9:45 p.m. "The Hunt For Red October," 7 and 9:45 p.m. "Henry V," 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. films

GODSPELL

'Stunningly good makes the music'

REGIS COCCIA
accent writer

Good singing tends to make for successful musicals, and Farley Hall Players' production of "Godspell" proves it.

"Godspell," which opened Thursday night in Washington Hall, retells the teaching ministry of Jesus in modern terms. Instead of a solemn, serious portrayal of the Son of God and the apostles, the show celebrates the gospels in a light-hearted, upbeat way.

Although "Godspell" is nearly 20 years old, its music and message are remarkably entertaining. The show is unusual in that it uses no sets, no fancy costumes, few props and relies almost solely on the acting and singing talents of its cast.

review

O'Connor fans get record they want

COLLEEN CRONIN
accent editor

I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got, the new album by Sinead O'Connor, is a record brimming with emotion. It does not boast many dance songs—only one actually—but does boast her singing talents, and her songwriting talents as well.

Her debut album last year, The Lion and the Cobra, was a fast-paced danceable release that reflected the passion and desire of the 20-year-old singer. This second album is the result of those same emotions.

O'Connor wrote or co-wrote all but one of the songs, so the album became largely autobiographical. Though only 21 now, O'Connor proves she has experienced a lifetime of emotions. Her songs range from pregnancy to discrimination, and all have more substance and concreteness than those from her debut album.

O'Connor plays the acoustic guitar on most of the songs and contributes keyboards, electric guitar and percussion on many of the others.

One of the more catchy songs on the album is "I Am Stretched on Your Grave." The music has a heavy bass pulse and sounds almost tribal. When paired with O'Connor's distinct voice, the song that comes together is completely different from anything else I have heard. O'Connor reveals she was very affected by a ruined relationship: "I still love you my love and you're dead/ and with you in your cold grave I cannot sleep warm."

"You Cause as Much Sorrow" better portrays her frustration and anger. "Why must you always be around?/ Why can't you just leave it be?/ It's done nothing so far but destroy my life." This is one of the most emotional songs on the album—you can practically feel what she feels.

O'Connor attacks England and racial discrimination in "Black Boys on Mopeds." This is one of two songs not about love, or the lack thereof, but it is not at all out of place. It has a great deal of emotion and awareness driving it, and she manages to make a definitive political statement: "Margaret Thatcher on TV/ shocked by the deaths that took place in Beijing/ it seems strange that she should be offended/ the same orders are given by her."

The one track that has made it to the radio airwaves is "Nothing Can Compare 2 U," written by Prince. I would like to think it is being played because it is the song that best shows off her incredible voice, but I am more inclined to think it is due to the Prince factor.

The album ends with an a cappella rendition of the title song. It is almost prayer-like: "I have water for my journey/ I have bread and I have wine/ No longer will I be hungry/ For the bread of life is mine."

Though it may take a few listenings to get used to, I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got is well worth the time. O'Connor has grown up within the past year, and has used that experience to fuel this album, which is masterful from any aspect.

JAZZ FESTIVAL

n's premier ensembles this weekend
North Texas One O'Clock Lab Band,
The Observer/Colin McAteer

proximately 30 people in the direct planning and an additional 60 in the setup and weekend preparations. Senior band member Kevin Keane is chairperson of the event, and Father George Wiskirchen, assistant director of bands at Notre Dame, serves as advisor to the students.

All sessions will be held at the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center today and tomorrow. Tickets can be purchased for each event individually or as a whole at the LaFortune Student Center box office or at the door. There will be no reserved seating.

The Collegiate Jazz Festival will enliven the campus this weekend with talent, music, competition, and all that jazz.

'God singing' in 'Godspell' musical a must-hear, must-see Farley's production, directed by Robin Maher, combines some stunningly good singing with simple but effective choreography.

"Godspell's" only major flaw is the soft-spokenness of several cast members, who don't use microphones. At times, especially in dialogue and occasionally in the songs, the voices are difficult to hear.

Overall, however, "Godspell" is well-acted and a load of fun to see. Acting out Jesus' parables, the cast draws laughs by harmonizing like a '50s group, rapping about the man who didn't forgive his debtor and playing a comical game of charades to show how to treat others.

Some of the show's best singing occurs in "Turn Back, O Man," a cabaret-style number about repentance, and "All for the Best," a soft-shoe routine with straw hats and canes.

Other memorable songs include "Day by Day" and "Learn Your Lessons Well."

Despite the happy, casual mood through most of the show, Farley Hall Players' treatment of Christ's passion and death is reverential and deeply moving.

The apostles chant the sorrowful song "Long Live God" as they carry Jesus from the cross and off the stage. When he returns, alive, the same words signal their joy.

The cast of Diana Barnes, Margaret Haugh, Joshua Henderson, Theodore Leo, Chris Norborg, Aimee Pernicano, Mary Pozar, Matt Roscoe, Timmy Sullivan and Laura Williams earns applause for an energetic, entertaining performance.

"Godspell" is playing at Washington Hall tonight and Saturday at 8 p.m. Don't miss it.

A lament to mourn the death of St. Michael's

At age 64, I think I should be allowed to write a dirge, lament, or elegy in honor of the late, great St. Michael's laundry, connecting it to my crisis of aging and of being tested by Doubts.

Fellows as old as I am were never intended by God or their mothers to take in their own washing. Some 64-year-olds will tell you they've always done their own laundry, and, by God, they show it as they wander around town looking like Spanish-American War veterans.

As a member of the Holy Cross Community, I was given a laundry number in 1947 that I've kept ever since; the number is +848.

'The letters to the Observer have been asking a foolish question: why should Notre Dame men be spoiled by having their laundry done for them? Isn't the answer obvious? The males of the race tend to be slob.'

Once you became Father +848, St. Michael's would deliver miracles to your door on a weekly basis. You could send them the crotch, or merely the fly, from a worn-out pair of boxer shorts, and that surviving patch of Fruit-of-the-Looms would come back with a new pair of legs sewn on to it. Once I sent the drawstring

Father Robert Griffin

Letters to a Lonely God

from my p.j.'s to the laundry, and it came back as a leisure suit.

The letters to the Observer have been asking a foolish question: why should Notre Dame men be spoiled by having their laundry done for them? Isn't the answer obvious? The males of the race tend to be slob.

If you don't believe it, take a look at their rooms. When Darby O'Gill starts to growl at the hills of trash on the dorm floors, it is probably because the hills are alive, though not with the sound of Muzak.

In an off-campus house on Notre Dame Avenue, the dishes from Thanksgiving dinner still haven't been washed, and I'm not even talking about last Thanksgiving. Who can remember the year those plates were packed in a box, shoved under the kitchen sink, and then forgotten, like the little tin soldier all covered with rust?

For years, I put the laundry bag outside my door on Thursday night, and the following Tuesday it came back with number tags neatly sewn to the socks. The shirts were stuffed with cardboard to prevent wrinkling, and they were wrapped around with paper strips bearing the ND monogram, like the sanitized ones you find on toilet seats in a motel.

Now when the laundry comes back, it's folded, but not ironed. How can you NOT feel like an orphan when you're using a handkerchief that has never felt the weight of an iron? The shirts come back on hangers, which you can't pack in a suitcase. Who has room to hang three dozen shirts in his closet?

When I start to wonder what has made the winter seem so long, I realize that part of the reason is the loss of St. Michael's.

In addition, Sacred Heart Church is torn up. That makes it unthinkable to dream of dying, because I don't want to be buried from the chapel at Moreau. Over there, I would never get the send-off I'm expecting my friends to throw for me. Even if Darby O'Gill is my only mourner, I hope to be wheeled down the aisle where Notre Dame immortals have been wheeled down before me.

But for many months, alas! We've been deprived of Sacred Heart Church and the Notre Dame laundry. See how we suffer for the Faith, as the archbishop said when he burned his hand on the roast.

This madness of Lent keeps dragging on. I started Lent well, but once it was ruined by the semester break, the heart went out of me. For two weeks or more, the holy season hasn't furnished me with an ounce of grace, and I can't be sure that I'm not back-sliding. As a matter of fact, I'm in the mood for a new religion. Next time, it may be Jewish, if God's Chosen People will take me in as a Catholic dropout.

The story is told of a Hasidic rabbi who stood before the ark on the Day of Atonement. "Dear God," he said, "we come before you this year, as we do every year, to ask Your forgiveness. But in this past year, I have caused no death. I have brought no plagues upon the world, no earthquakes, no floods. I have made no women widows, no children orphans. God, You have done these things, not me! Perhaps You should be asking forgiveness from me."

Here he paused before, saying softly, "But since You are God, and I am only Your humble servant..." and intoning the "Kol Nidre," he started the service.

Perhaps at the end of this winter of our discontent, God should keep Lent, though not really.

Is it spring fever that makes me digress in such a silly way? Since I will still be in the same mood when the high noon of spring is long past, perhaps I could allow Virginia Woolf to speak for both of us. "I have some restless searcher in me. Why is there not a discovery in life? Something one can lay hands on and say 'This is it?'"

"My depression is a harassed feeling. I'm looking, but that's not it--that's not it. What is it? And shall I die before I find it? Then...I see the mountains in the sky, the great clouds and the moon which is risen over Persia. I have a great and astonishing sense of something there, which is 'it.'

"It is not exactly beauty that I mean. It is that the thing is in itself enough: satisfactory; achieved. A sense of my own strangeness, walking on the earth is there too: of the infinite oddity of the human position; trotting along Russell Square with the moon up there and those mountain clouds.

"Who am I, what am I, and so on: these questions are always floating about in me: and then I bump against some exact fact--a letter, a person--and come to them again with a great sense of freshness. And so it goes on. But on this showing, which is true, I think, I do fairly frequently come upon this 'it,' then feel quite at rest." (from "A Writer's Diary")

Virginia Woolf suffered from periodic bouts of acute depression, and eventually committed suicide. Poor genius! Did she lose a laundry, and did the loss give her the feeling that she was camping out?

I should go to Fanny May's to shop for jellybeans. Jellybeans would be enjoyable as the first fruits of Easter. Will the Easter Bunny see his shadow on the feast day he shares with Jesus? If he does see his shadow, will there be six more weeks of Lent?

Here endeth my dirge for the laundry.

STUDENT Government 1989 - 1990

At the March 26 meeting, Student Senate awarded 4 members of the Notre Dame Community the IRISH CLOVER AWARD for "outstanding Service to the students of the Notre Dame community."

The 4 recipients are:

MELISSA SMITH Junior

- Executive Assistant for Student Government
- Assistant Judicial Council Coordinator
- Chair of University Academic Honor Code Committee

GUY WEISMANTEL Senior

- Student Body Treasurer

VICTOR KREBS

- Assistant Rector, Grace Hall
- Former Graduate Student Union President

DR. PETER LOMBARDO

- Assoc. Director, Center for Continuing Education
- College Bowl Advisor
- C.L.C. Member

Other nominees:

Ken Schore

Matt Thiel

Gina Mahoney

Student Government Legal Department

Vinny Sanchez

Bubba Cunningham

Dr. Emil Hofman

Rex Rakow

Phil Johnson

Jim Lyphout

Tony Lang

Karen Leonard

Olajuwon records quadruple double in victory over Bucks

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Akeem Olajuwon became the third player in NBA history to record a quadruple-double — 18 points, 16 rebounds, 10 assists and 11 blocked shots — in leading the Rockets to a 120-94 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks on Thursday night.

With 2:50 left, Olajuwon got his 10th assist when he passed to Lewis Lloyd, who hit a jump shot.

Olajuwon's performance came less than four weeks after he was credited with a quadruple-double in a game against Golden State on March 3 only to have it withdrawn by the NBA. Olajuwon had been given a 10th assist when the Rockets' staff looked at the game film.

After the league ruling, Olajuwon wound up with 29 points, 18 rebounds and 11 blocked shots but only nine assists.

The other two players to record quadruple-doubles were Nate Thurmond of Chicago with 22 points, 14 rebounds, 13 assists and 12 blocked shots on

Oct. 18, 1974, and Alvin Robertson, then of San Antonio, with 20 points, 11 rebounds, 10 assists and 10 steals on Feb. 18, 1986.

The victory pulled the Rockets within one-half game of Seattle for the final playoff berth in the Western Conference.

Pacers 111, Kings 101
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) -- Detlef Schrempf powered a fourth-period surge with 14 of his 25 points as the Indiana Pacers downed the Sacramento Kings 111-101 Thursday night for their fifth consecutive victory. The five-game run matches the Pacers' longest of the season, a feat they accomplished twice earlier, while the Kings ended a five-game road trip with their fourth loss.

Sacramento trailed by as many as 12 points in the first half, but had whittled the margin to seven after three periods. And when Wayman Tisdale and Antoine Carr combined to score six straight points, Sacramento had closed to 83-80 with just under 10 minutes to play.

Chuck Person also scored 25 points for Indiana, including a 3-for-6 effort from 3-point range. Reggie Miller added 21, and Vern Fleming contributed 17. LaSalle Thompson topped the Pacers with 11 rebounds.

Wayman Tisdale, making his first appearance at Market Square Arena since being traded last season to the Kings for Thompson and Randy Wittman, scored just two points in the first half and finished with 13, well under his team-leading average of 22.5.

Classifieds

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 314 LaFortune, and from 12:30 to 3 p.m. at the Saint Mary's office, Haggard College Center. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character per day, including spaces.

NOTICES

WORDPROCESSING
272-1837

Typing
Pickup & Delivery
277-7406

MAIL BOXES ETC.
Shipping, Packaging, Copies.
Resumes from $15.00.
277-MAIL

INSTATAX: Get Your Tax Refund
in 3 Days to 2 Weeks!

MAIL BOXES ETC. 277-6245

$$$ FOR TEXTBOOKS!
PANDORA'S BOOKS
Corner of ND ave and Howard
233-2342

Responsible, adult male, non-smoker, non-drinker will house sit June thru Aug. References. Call after 7pm 1-616-465-6292

STUDENTS! Do you dread putting your resume together? This is the easiest resume you'll ever do. Just send $10 today for Resume's Made Easy! P.O. Box 41064, Fort Wayne, Indiana 46804

KNUTE ROCKNE'S HOUSE
Summer Rental
4/5 bdrm, 2bth, furnished
913 Leland
X4420

MAKE $50 THE EASY WAY sign up for the TRACKS POOL TOURNAMENT in the Gorch Games Room-tourney play begins Monday, April 2 First Place- $50 Second & Third-Tracks Gift Certificates

LOST/FOUND

LOST: KEYS ON A 1988 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP KEYCHAIN. IF FOUND, PLEASE CALL CATHY AT 4841. THANKS.

LOST: Canon Snappy 35mm camera - lost Sat. Mar. 24 at the linebacker. Blackmail pictures on roll inside. You can share in profits if returned! Please call Melissa at x4117 or x3735! Help!

LOST: H.S. CLASS RING. ON NORTH QUAD BY NDH. REWARD. SEAN 2073

LOST: Black and gold Seiko dress watch on the second floor of the library. Please call Pat x2479 or give to library security at the front desk.

LOST AT FARLEY/STANFORD FORMAL

A navy blue Brooks Brothers Blazer. Another blazer was found. It might be yours. Call John x3779

Lost: Green Notre Dame Rugby Jacket - name Tom on it. Taken from coat room in senior bar, if found please call 287-8648.

WANTED

CAMP STAFF: 21+, Coed, sleepaway camp, Massachusetts. Some key positions avail. Also: WSI, lifeguard, arts & crafts, all land and water sports, fitness, gymnastics, piano/play for shows, drama, judo, dance, tennis, archery, photography, computers, model rocketry, guitar, radio, video, yearbook, newspaper, wilderness, woodwork, RN typist. 6/18-8/20. CAMP EMERSON, 5 Brassie Rd. Eastchester, NY 10707. 800/955-CAMP.

NEEDED: A ride to BALL STATE any weekend-ext 1938

I Need a Rider to help me drive home to Southern California after Graduation (May 21). If you can help, please call Angie at x3958.

CRUISE SHIPS now hiring all positions. Both skilled and unskilled. For information Call (615) 779-5507 Ext. R-200.

WANTED:
1 or 2 girls to live at Lafayette Square townhouses next year. If interested please call Beth or Jill at #2722 or #2723

ATTENTION SENIORS

Moving to So. California? Need a roommate? '89 ND grad seeking roommate in Redondo Beach area. For more info call Debbie G. at (213)813-8607 (days) or (213)379-1505 (eve).

Need RIDE to Annapolis or Baltimore MD April 5 or 6-8 Call Melissa #4431

WANTED:

Ride to D.C. Area for Easter Break. Will share expenses and driving. Lv. 4/11 or 4/12 back by 4/17.

Alex X1580

NEEDED: Ride to Pittsburgh on 4/12 and back on 4/16. Am flexible. Will help with $$$. CALL ALIX x4845

FOR RENT

STAYING FOR THE SUMMER??

Sublet a townhouse at Turtle Creek... (2 bdrm., 1 1/2 bathrm, kitchen, etc.) Call Amy at x2702

SUMMER SUBLET CHEAP
Walk to campus, pool etc., 2bdrms, call 277-7496

Two (2) houses available for rent. Close to Notre Dame. Call 232-5411 for more information.

4 OR 5 BEDROOM HOUSE AVAILABLE 1990-91 SCHOOL YEAR. FURNISHED, W/D. CLOSE TO CAMPUS. COMPETITIVE RENT. 277-0959.

SUMMER RENTAL TURTLE CREEK TOWNHSE. POOL, CLOSE TO ND 272-7449

STAYING FOR THE SUMMER??
2 bedroom furnished apt. for subleasing
CALL NOW!! 284-4070

FOR SALE

72 DODOGE POLARA. Stereo, Alarm, runs great, $575 obo call John 1665

FOR SALE: One Uniden RD-9 radar detector. In good shape. Pays for itself when it saves you speeding tickets and insurance hikes. Best offer. Call Bill at x1777.

WALK TO ND - 1989 CONDO - 2 BEDROOMS, 2 BATHS, FIREPLACE, CENTRAL AIR, BASEMENT. RE/MAX 255-5858 JO MYERS 234-1747.

1980 Pinto, Runs Well, $600, 277-4269, Kathi or Steve SCUBA GEAR! Cylinder, mask, fins, regulator, etc. Great condition. Barely used. 232-9938.

PLANE TICKET
mdtrp SB to Wash, DC
Estr wknd April 12, 16
BEST OFFER! X2646

MICHIGAN WATERFRONT

5 Acres-2500 sqft. home, 4 ponds, barn, On Dowagiac River Front. Niles-M-51 N.

St. Joseph River Front-2700 SqFt brick home, 4-1/2 acres, 225 ft. on River. N.Red Bud-Buchanan.

UNIQUE-4500 SqFt on 17 acres, 2 barns-pasture, fenced, pond, inground pool, indoor hot tub room! A luxury home! Niles.

Over 5000 sqft in this contemporary luxury! On 5 Acres-security system, intercom, every feature you could want. Servants quarters with private entrance. Redfield Rd Near State Line.

Call Leona Proud 616-695-6933 for info. ERA Day.

Two 100-watt speakers. I bought them in August and need more power for my 10x10 room. Paid $200, want $150 or b/o. Joe, x2041 or late at x1838.

OPPORTUNITY!
1978 CHEVROLET CAPRICE CLASSIC. 100,000 MI. RUNS GREAT. VERY DEPENDABLE. $1,000. WILL BARGAIN. CALL 288-7929.

86 Plymouth Horizon w/ 1 yr. warranty. $2800 but will negotiate. X4200 or 232-9938.

TICKETS

Hey Seniors, I need 4 extra graduation tickets and will pay CASH for any seat anywhere. So call me at 256-9374 and get your mula.

What do you get after 4 years and $50,000? Only 4 grad. tix!! Will Pay HEFTY BUCKS for one more. Call Ben @272-7313

SR FORMAL TIX 4 SALE #1727

SENIORS !! HAVE EXTRA GRAD TICKETS? I WILL PAY BIG $ 271-8245 LEAVE MESSAGE

SENIORS !! HAVE EXTRA GRAD TICKETS? I WILL PAY BIG $ 271-8245 LEAVE MESSAGE

NEED GRADUATION TIX
CALL KEVIN 277-7167

PERSONALS

Parrot Heads Forever !!!

RAMADA INN of Elkhart has rooms for Graduation weekend. Located at Toll Road Exit #92, Elkhart (12 miles from South Bend). Minimum stay 2 nights with $100 deposit per room. Send letter with deposit to 3011 Belvedere Rd., Elkhart, IN 46514.

CARING, CHILDLESS COUPLE DESPERATELY WISHES TO SHARE OUR LIFE, HOME AND MUCH LOVE WITH YOUR WHITE NEWBORN. LET US HELP EACH OTHER REALIZE OUR DREAMS. EXPENSES PAID. PLEASE CALL KATHY AND LARRY COLLECT AT (201) 635-1307.

MEGAN HINES
Good luck in Italy!!
Notre Dame should be proud to have you representing them!!
We'll miss you! Love, CKlein, D2, ET, Cubi, Karen, KT, and 2B Siegfried!!

Parts is parts...The Hall of Fame Game. Friday. Be there.

stev.stuff.liza

Valentines

"It's obviously a monster...a force that cannot be stopped or reasoned with." -Georgetown coach John Thompson commenting on...Parts Unknown, Weight Unknown. Bookstore. Today.

22 MORE DAYS UNTIL DIANE RICKER IS 22!!

PITTSBURGH
Anyone driving there
Wed 4/11
Please call X1232

Dennis "I'm Mr. Florida" Wolfe is peeling. That hot tan will soon be gone. Please give him your sympathies. . . .

Yo! Yo!

MEGAN NOONE

Yeah, we're talkin' to you:

Have a great 21st B-day!!!

How 'bout it?!

Luv,
Dave and Steve

P.S. Larry Bowa hopes you get his package!

To Rachel Lovejoy,
Hope your 21st was a blast, because in the light of all eternity...well, you know how it goes!
Love, flat 7

The rest of camp is in heat, too. Except maybe Jose.

THE BOATHOUSE BLUES BAND!!!!

THE BOATHOUSE BLUES BAND!!!!

at CLUB 23 ---- TONIGHT!!!!!!!

Come join us.
THE BOATHOUSE BLUES BAND...
at CLUB 23 -----TONIGHT!!!!

.....THE.....
BOATHOUSE
.....BLUES.....
.....BAND.....
TONIGHT AT CLUB 23 ? Yes.

To the beautiful goddess in Godspell (i.e. Margaret Haugh): your sweet voice sounds so much like angels from above, that I can't help but feel guilty for the passion I have for you. I'll be the one with the virgin white roses for you after Friday's show. See you then.

STACEY TURNER
CONGRATULATIONS BABE !!

Easter Baskets
Easter Bunnies
Easter Candy

Visit the Country Harvester for a great selection in unique gifts for ND/SMC dances, birthdays or just to say "I LOVE YOU!"
Lower Level LaFortune

Live Performances
At the COFFEEHOUSE
Fri. 9:30pm
Flesh Burrito
Sat. 9:30pm
Ed's Painting Company
At the Grace COFFEEHOUSE

hi ag

Go home to MOMMY ag!

GATHER AGAINST APARTHEID
every Friday 12:15
Administration Building steps
Be There!

UNDERGROUND

CLUB 23

GOOD MUSIC
DIFFERENT FOOD
LIVE PEOPLE

GOOD FOOD
DIFFERENT PEOPLE LIVE MUSIC

GOOD PEOPLE
DIFFERENT MUSIC
LIVE FOOD

Farley Hall Players present GODSPELL, March 29, 30, 31 at Washington Hall at 8:00. Tickets are $2.00 and are on sale at the Information Desk LaFortune or at the door.

HEADING FOR EUROPE THIS SUMMER? Jet there from Chicago, Detroit or Cleveland for no more than $229, or from the East Coast for no more than $160 with AIRHITCH (R) (as reported in NY Times. Let's Go! & Consumer Reports.) For info: AIRHITCH (R) 212-864-2000.

PANGBORN CUP
PANGBORN CUP
PANGBORN CUP
Entries are still being accepted for the 1990 Pangborn Cup Charity Golf Interhall Championship. Talk to your dorm president or call Pat x2479 for info. All dorms are eligible but entry space is limited. Tournament day is Sunday, April 8, 1990.

PANGBORN CUP
PANGBORN CUP
PANGBORN CUP

POW-WOW on April 1 at the JACC from noon-7p.m. Admission free with an ND/SMC I.D. There will be Native American dancing, outfits, jewelry and other goods. Come out to experience the culture of your Native American peers!

Come see a Mr.E become reality tonight and Sat. at BRIDGET'S MRE @10:00

HEY DAYS FANS!!!!!!!
Jack's HOT!
Jen's HOT!
Who thinks they should be hot together????
I do. My roommates do. And so do 8 other callers. What do you think?????
Call Molly at 3885 to place your vote.

WANTED:

Ride to D.C. Area for Easter Break. Will share expenses and driving. Lv. 4/11 or 4/12 back by 4/17.

Alex X1580

Happy Bday BOOParoo
We're sure you'll have tons o'tun
The London Oops really miss you
And wish we were there for the big 21
On your way home from the bars look out for the Twee-s
And be careful of your name-sake-those walls!
Remember not to eat cake off the floor-PLEASE
But most importantly just have a ball!
Love-Loop&Coop

Jeff-ish Thanks Silver-ish

ENGINEER'S WEEK!
ENGINEER'S WEEK!
ENGINEER'S WEEK!
APRIL 2-6

Joe-
Next time try LAMBSKIN! It might work better. Have fun in DC and stay away from 14th Street!

Mom's Top 15 for her EARNEST STUMBLERS:
15. How many packs of gum tonight?

14. Watch out for that tree!
13. Socrates & the farm animals
12. Anal Retentive
11. Bulls--t. Don't bother!
10. Leave a message w/ Moe & he'll call you back
9. What was that ripping sound?
8. Your fly is down & you're hung like a mouse
7. Wait! These aren't mini hamburgers
6. Was there anyone else in the room w/ Gretchen & Jeff?
5. 32 Across: Hindu Ascetic
4. Kevin-Did you remember the milk?
3. WHO was that spot on the window?

2. Mom has a foot fetish!
1. There was potato salad, everywhere!
3-31-90 Family Reunion. Attendance mandatory-that means you Jules. Bring your secrets, scruples & FEET! Love, Mom

More of those wild and crazy quotes from BILL, MIKE, FRANK, COLLEEN, and MELISSA'S EXCELLANT ADVENTURE IN FLORIDA:
•LEZ DO IT!
•Mike, why do we have two balls?
•What was I just poked with?
•Milk me baby!
•Well, I didn't know you were a cop.
•Big Bone Lick
•Please secure all loose packages.
•Please pay after pumping
•Hey Derk
•Don't force it--it will come.
•Ease up New York!
•14 beers, 4 people, half an hour: no problem!
•I'm up for anything involving beer!

Tonight is the debut performance of THE GENERICS!

The campus music scene from now on will not be the same. Good luck Dennis, Brian, Damian, Aras, and Dave. You will leave the Flanner folks simply amazed.
From one of your first groupies

TONIGHT ONLY!
MAYORAL COMMAND PERFORM.
MAD DOG PETRILL
JONI MARTIN
ITS: CORVALLIS CALLING
MCCORMICK'S FRI. 10-2

Far Side Cards now available!
Great selection of cards, books, and mugs in The Country Harvester. Lower Level LaFortune 12-5 M-F

COMMITTEE ON TRUTH AND REALITY

COTAR

THE PUMP DON'T WORK

Happy Birthday Mom Giiii!! I know your birthday isn't for 3 days-but you know how late you get these papers!!!

ATTN. SENIORS
Anyone who is going to U. of Mich. for grad. or prof. school and needs place to live 2 SMC '89 grads looking for roommate. call 313-663-6440

Oops!
Who are you?
I am quite curious!
Red Headed Whiskey

NHL STANDINGS

WALES CONFERENCE

Patrick Division

	W	L	T	Pts	GF	GA
x-NY Rangers	36	29	13	85	276	262
y-New Jersey	36	34	8	80	287	284
y-Washington	34	38	6	74	279	272
Pittsburgh	32	38	8	72	312	351
NY Islanders	30	38	11	71	275	286
Philadelphia	30	38	10	70	285	288

Adams Division

x-Boston	46	25	7	99	284	227
y-Buffalo	43	27	8	94	278	244
y-Montreal	41	28	9	91	285	231
y-Hartford	37	33	8	82	271	265
Quebec	12	59	7	31	236	399

CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

Norris Division

	W	L	T	Pts	GF	GA
y-Chicago	39	32	6	84	304	285
y-St. Louis	36	33	9	81	287	269
y-Toronto	37	37	4	78	329	350
y-Minnesota	35	39	4	74	277	284
Detroit	28	37	13	69	284	315

Smythe Division

x-Calgary	40	23	15	95	334	259
y-Edmonton	37	27	14	88	309	275
y-Winnipeg	36	31	11	83	295	286
y-Los Angeles	34	36	7	75	331	322
Vancouver	24	41	14	62	239	303

x-clinched division title
y-clinched playoff berth

Wednesday's Game

New York Islanders 6, Toronto 3

Thursday's Games

Late Games Not Included
Boston 3, Hartford 2
Buffalo 4, Minnesota 2
Montreal 5, Quebec 2
Washington 2, Philadelphia 2, tie
New Jersey 6, New York Rangers 4
Pittsburgh at St. Louis, (n)
Toronto at Chicago, (n)
Winnipeg at Los Angeles, (n)

Friday's Game

Edmonton at Calgary, 9:35 p.m.

Saturday's Games

Detroit at New Jersey, 1:35 p.m.
Hartford at Quebec, 7:35 p.m.
Buffalo at Pittsburgh, 7:35 p.m.
Philadelphia at New York Islanders, 7:35 p.m.
New York Rangers at Washington, 7:35 p.m.
Chicago at Toronto, 8 p.m.
Los Angeles at Vancouver, 8:05 p.m.
Boston at Montreal, 8:05 p.m.
Minnesota at St. Louis, 8:35 p.m.

NBA STANDINGS

EASTERN CONFERENCE

Atlantic Division

	W	L	Pct	GB	Streak
Philadelphia	45	26	.634	—	Won 5
Boston	41	28	.594	3	Lost 2
New York	40	29	.580	4	Lost 1
Washington	26	44	.371	18 1/2	Won 1
Miami	17	54	.239	28	Won 2
New Jersey	16	54	.229	28 1/2	Won 1

Central Division

x-Detroit	52	18	.743	—	Won 1
x-Chicago	46	23	.667	5 1/2	Won 2
Milwaukee	37	33	.529	15	Lost 1
Indiana	36	34	.514	16	Won 5
Atlanta	33	36	.478	18 1/2	Won 2
Cleveland	32	37	.464	19 1/2	Lost 1
Orlando	17	52	.246	34 1/2	Lost 3

WESTERN CONFERENCE

Midwest Division

	W	L	Pct	GB	Streak
x-Utah	50	19	.725	—	Won 4
x-San Antonio	47	23	.671	3 1/2	Lost 1
Dallas	40	29	.580	10	Won 6
Denver	36	34	.514	14 1/2	Lost 4
Houston	34	36	.486	16 1/2	Won 2
Minnesota	19	51	.271	31 1/2	Won 1
Charlotte	14	56	.200	36 1/2	Lost 2

Pacific Division

x-L.A. Lakers	52	17	.754	—	Won 1
x-Portland	50	20	.714	2 1/2	Won 1
x-Phoenix	47	23	.671	5 1/2	Won 1
Seattle	34	35	.493	18	Lost 3
Golden State	31	37	.456	20 1/2	Lost 1
L.A. Clippers	27	44	.380	26	Lost 1
Sacramento	22	49	.310	31	Lost 3

x-clinched playoff berth

Wednesday's Games

New Jersey 106, New York 101

Philadelphia 122, Boston 104

Washington 113, Denver 99

Miami 109, Orlando 104

Detroit 106, Charlotte 97

Chicago 117, Cleveland 113, OT

Minnesota 93, Sacramento 88

Los Angeles Lakers 106, Los Angeles Clippers 99

Thursday's Games

Late Games Not Included

Phoenix 105, Charlotte 92

Indiana 111, Sacramento 101

Houston 120, Milwaukee 94

Dallas 109, San Antonio 105

Utah at Golden State, (n)

Atlanta at Portland, (n)

Friday's Games

Detroit at Boston, 7:30 p.m.

Phoenix at New Jersey, 7:30 p.m.

Denver at Philadelphia, 7:30 p.m.

Cleveland at Miami, 7:30 p.m.

Orlando at Washington, 8 p.m.

New York at Chicago, 8 p.m.

Minnesota at Dallas, 8:30 p.m.

Golden State at Seattle, 10 p.m.

Portland at Los Angeles Lakers, 10:30 p.m.

Atlanta at Los Angeles Clippers, 10:30 p.m.

BOOKSTORE BASKETBALL

Saturday's Games, March 31

Stepan 1

1:30 - Parts Unknown... Weight Unknown vs. Team # 36

2:15 - Four F Club vs. Dam Slunkers

3:00 - Team # 487 vs. One Game & Out

4:00 - Take It Easy vs. Ceauscescu, Noriega, Digger & Two Other Guys Who Dug Their Own Graves

4:45 - Heated Jello vs. EMA Posse

5:30 - The Gothards vs. 3 Guys On a Dog Pile

Stepan 2

1:30 - V's Revenge vs. Big Bad Boris & The Radical Eclectics

2:15 - Mom Always Said Don't Play Ball in the House vs. The Plummers II

3:00 - At Least We Ain't the Cubs vs. The Blues Brothers

4:00 - Holy Sorell vs. Pangborn Express

4:45 - Get Out, Get Out Now vs. 4 Dudes Yorst

5:30 - Shoot The Rock vs. Pittsburgh Is Weak

Stepan 3

1:30 - OFORS vs. The Dockworkers

2:15 - Mission Impossible vs. Fish Killers

3:00 - The Slammmin' Simpsons... vs. 3 on 2

4:00 - JEPDG vs. The Travelin' Dingleberries

4:45 - Salous vs. Eddie and the Cruisers

5:30 - Long Shots vs. Bay Patrol Ready For Action

Stepan 4

1:30 - Sport Death vs. Call Us a Bye

2:15 - Numb Chucks vs. Drew a Blank

3:00 - The Hardware Store vs. Stick It You, Muthas

4:00 - 5 Guys w/a Prayer vs. We Heard This Is The Best Chance To Score At ND

4:45 - By vs. Team Trump

5:30 - Grand vs. Marilyn Chambers' Fantasy

Stepan 5

1:30 - Demon Tortfeasers From Hell vs. Shirts

2:15 - Holy Cross Boogey Down vs. Rat Pack

3:00 - Gonna vs. Scarlet Pumpernickels

4:00 - 4 Sprockets & Their Monkey vs. Fish Don't Use Ambesol

4:45 - 288-STOP vs. Don't Jerk Our Chains

5:30 - Irish Wiskey Runners vs. Team Lithuania

Stepan 6

1:30 - Digger's Offense, Pete's Logic, & 3 Other Things That Don't Work vs. Return of the Horny Harlots From Hell

2:15 - Hennessy's Washington Bar vs. 5 Under 55

3:00 - Diatomaceous Ooze vs. Come Play With Us, We Will Let You Score

4:00 - The Board Bangers vs. Lethal Weapons

4:45 - Team # 626 vs. Pangborn's Third Floor Free Fallin' Five

5:30 - Mutant Domers vs. Tequila Mockingbird

Bookstore 9

1:30 - The Teeth vs. Team No. 192

2:15 - 4 Dogs & a Scared Fire Hydrant vs. We Give Good Video

3:00 - Minnie Nights From Hell vs. Fightin' Cajun Codwedges

4:00 - Innkeepers vs. Toothnt's

4:45 - The Losers vs. The Rods

5:30 - Weadened Warriors 1 vs. Weakened Warriors II

Bookstore 10

1:30 - Jeff Douglas Doesn't Score But We Will vs. A Teapot, A Ratling, Hoover & 2 Other Things That Leave a Mark on Sips' Body

2:15 - Gangster Disciples vs. Manifest Destiny

3:00 - Pepe & The 4 Gringos vs. Club Meerschmaw

4:00 - Total Ale - 190 vs. The Old & The Injured

4:45 - Faculty Jokes vs. The German Express

5:30 - First Round Miracle vs. Investment Office Option Without a Future

SPORTS CALENDAR

Friday, March 30

Men's golf at Kentucky Invitational, Lexington, Ky.

Lacrosse at San Diego State Tournament, Notre Dame vs. Air Force.

Saturday, March 31

Baseball vs. SAINT LOUIS, Coveleski Stadium, 1 p.m.

Baseball vs. ILLINOIS, Coveleski Stadium (ESPN), 7:30 p.m.

Men's tennis at Miami (Ohio), 11 a.m.

Women's tennis at Michigan State, 1:30 p.m.

Lacrosse at San Diego State Tournament, Championship/Consolation.

Men's golf at Kentucky Invitational, Lexington, Ky. Softball at Bradley (2), 2 p.m.

Men's track at 'Meeting of the Minds' meet at Rice University, Tx. versus Rice, Drake and Harvard.

Sunday, April 1

Baseball vs. SAINT LOUIS (2), Coveleski Stadium, 1 p.m.

Men's tennis vs. WISCONSIN, 12 p.m.

Women's tennis at Eastern Michigan, 10 a.m.

TRANSACTIONS

BASKETBALL

National Basketball Association

NEW JERSEY NETS—Signed Sam Bowie, center, to a five-year contract.

FOOTBALL

National Football League

DALLAS COWBOYS—Signed Louis Cheek, offensive tackle.

LOS ANGELES RAMS—Signed Jerry Leggett, linebacker, and Rodney Lussow, center.

MINNESOTA VIKINGS—Signed Ira Hillary, wide receiver.

TAMPA BAY BUCCANERS—Signed Adam Bob, linebacker.

WASHINGTON REDSKINS—Signed Mark Adickes, guard, and Tom Brown, running back.

COLLEGE

NCAA—Placed the Plattsburgh State ice hockey program on two-year probation for major rules violations.

SPRING TRAINING

Thursday's Exhibition Linescores

At St. Petersburg, Fla.

Philadelphia 000 100 030—4 5 0
St. Louis 300 000 004—7 7 2

Carman, Malone (4), McDowell (6), Gray (8) and Lake, Gibbons (8); Tudor, Mathews (4), Horton (7), Perez (9) and Zeile, Stephens (7). W—Perez, 1-0. L—Gray, 0-1. HRs—St. Louis, Zeile (1), Brunansky (1), Stephens (1), Thompson (1).

At West Palm Beach, Fla.

New York (N) 000 100 000—1 6 3
Atlanta 000 001 01x—2 9 2

Ojeda, Whitehurst (4), Musselman (7) and Lyons, Sasser (7); Luecken, Castillo (4), Henry (7), Boever (9) and Davis, Mizerock (7). W—Henry, 1-1. L—Musselman, 0-1. Sv—Boever (1).

At Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Baltimore 001 100 001—3 9 4
New York (A) 100 430 11x—10 16 1

Ballard, Schilling (3), E. Bell (5), Aldreich (5), Holton (8) and Melvin, Hoiles (6); Leary, Burns (6), W. Smith (8) and Cerone, Geren (6). W—Leary, 1-0. L—Schilling, 0-1. HR—New York, Mattingly (1).

At Plant City, Fla.

Minnesota 100 000 001—2 6 1
Cincinnati 210 010 00x—4 8 1

Smith, Cook (4), Candelaria (7) and Harper, Robinson, Sebra (3), Lazor (6), Allen (8), Dibble (9) and Oliver, McGriff (5). W—Robinson, 1-0. L—Smith, 0-1. Sv—Dibble (2).

At Port St. Lucie, Fla.

Los Angeles 000 112 010—5 11 3
New York (N) 001 001 001—4 10 0

Neidinger, Crews (3), Hartley (5), Gott (7), Searage (8), Mayberry (9) and Scioscia, Dempsey (6); Darling, M. Miller (5), Valera (7), Schourak (9) and Mercado, Hundley (5). W—Hartley, 1-0. L—M. Miller, 0-1. Sv—Mayberry (1).

At Bradenton, Fla.

Toronto 002 020 102—7 14 0
Pittsburgh 002 026 22x—14 15 4

Flanagan, Stottlemyre (4), Henke (5), Blair (6), Cummings (7) and Myers, Borders (6); Walk, Reed (4), Bair (6), Kipper (7), Ruskin (8), Power (9) and LaValliere, Ortiz (7). W—Bair, 1-0. L—Blair, 0-1. HRs—Toronto, Myers (1), Pittsburgh, J. Bell (1), Ortiz (1).

At Winter Haven, Fla.

Names

continued from page 24

the Meaning of Michael the Deerhunter Parts I and II and the cube of the meaning? We've Got To Do This You See" takes much longer.

There are those with names after their heroes in Michelle Hamrick Is a Fabulous Babe and a Certified Meteorologist, Wave You're Dick Addis, Pete Gillen Fan Club, The Beaver Cleavers, Simpsons, The Clydesdales, We Support Dolly Parton and Westhead's Warriors.

Teams 20, 36, 92, 192, 201, 206, 248, 260, 340, 357, 361, 481, 487, 493, 497, 520, 539, 566, 624, 630, 641, 643 and 664 either didn't come up with names or had good ones that were censored.

Some teams are honest about their chances - Forfeit, One Game and Out, Five Guys Without a Prayer, You Gonna Beat the Heck Out of Us - while others are boastful - You Are Gonna Lose and Eleven Games for Five Bucks.

The all-vain name goes to Raul Gonzalez, Raul Gonzalez, Raul Gonzalez, oh Raul, while Kristin better be hot for Four Guys Who Can't Shoot and Kristin.

As usual, Notre Dame basketball coach Digger Phelps received the most references in the name game. Fifteen teams have some variation of his name in theirs, ranging from Digger's Offense, Pete's Logic and Three Other Things That Don't Work to Digger, Elway and Three Others Done in Denver.

But not all of those references to Phelps are negative.

Members of Digger's NIT Express are already on the bandwagon for this fall's pre-season tournament.

...

Bookstore action begins with the Hall of Fame game today, and the players on Parts Unknown Weight Unknown put out a lengthy press release to tout themselves.

Mr. X1: deadly 97 percent hook shot from three-point land and has scored 50 points on 16 occasions.

Mr. X2: 16 high school letters, MVP of 1989 McDonald's High School Classic, "could be another Michael Jordan."

Mr. X3: Wisconsin native chosen for "expertise in cheese," averaged 43.6 points in high school.

Mr. X4: former JUCO Athlete of the Year, chose current team over UNLV, Michigan, Georgetown and Potsdam.

Mr. X5: won spelling bee in first grade.

AP Photo

The New York Rangers, who have already clinched first place in the Patrick Division, lost to the New Jersey Devils by a score of 6-4 last night. In other NHL action, the Boston Bruins clinched the Adams Division title by edging Hartford 3-2 and the Buffalo Sabres beat the Minnesota North Stars 4-2.

Tennis

continued from page 24

"Basically, they are the same team that beat us last year 5-4," said Assistant Coach Brian Kalbas. "They are really excited because this is the first time we have played down there. Miami is a talented group of players. It is important for us to take each match one at a time. Also, it is critical for us to get off to a fast start and establish dominance in a hostile environment."

Yes, the Miami contest is critical, but the match in the back of Notre Dame tennis team's mind is the Wisconsin battle. In what could well decide the Midwestern NCAA tournament representative, the Irish will face a very solid, deep Badger team that owns a six-year winning streak against Notre Dame dating back to the 1983 season.

The 12-5 Badgers possess the credentials and the talent to dash the hopes of the 18-3 Irish. To date, Wisconsin has notched victories against Kansas, Minnesota and No. 5 Cal-Irvine.

"Wisconsin is a very deep squad with three excellent doubles teams," explained Kalbas. "In singles, they are solid one through six. Their number three doubles team is ranked nationally and that tells how deep they are. It is important for us to concentrate on each individual match and if we do that we will be in good shape."

This weekend could accelerate the fortune of the Notre Dame tennis program that unquestionably did not expect to be in this position so soon in a rebuilding year. It could also squash the hopes of young, aspiring team. the Irish won't be the only ones interested in the outcome of the weekend action; the NCAA selection committee will keep a close eye on the Midwest.

"We are in competition with three or four teams, including Wisconsin, for the Midwest regional bid," said Kalbas. "This weekend is extremely important as far as the NCAA goes. The Wisconsin match is one more step that we have to take. Our win against Indiana was the first key, and the match against Wisconsin is the second key. In order to go, we have to beat Wisconsin."

© 1990 AT&T

IMPROVE YOUR COMMUNICATION SKILLS.

An AT&T Card helps you communicate better, because you can use it to call from all kinds of places. Like a friend's, or a pay phone, or out on the road. You don't even need to have a phone in your name to get one. And every month you get an itemized bill stating where and when you used the card.

To apply for the AT&T Card, call us at 1 800 525-7955, Ext. 630.

Now, if only it were that easy to improve your grade point average.

AT&T

The right choice.

Tark looks to capture elusive title

DENVER (AP) — First is the look, the hounddog eyes, the hands-behind-the-neck slouch on the bench.

Then there's the nickname, Tark the Shark.

Next is the city, where books don't necessarily relate to classes and The Strip has nothing to do with stealing a basketball.

And finally is the philosophy that the rules are ridiculous, an outlook embodied by the quip — maybe only half in jest — that it's better to accept transfer players because their cars are already paid for.

Could anything be more appropriate than Jerry Tarkanian coaching a team nicknamed the Rebels?

Lest there be any doubt, though, that the 59-year-old Tarkanian is a real, live basketball coach, not just a Las Vegas act, look at the record:

Wins 563, Losses 119 in 22 seasons, an 83 percent winning percentage, tops among active coaches. At UNLV alone, it's 447-102 over 17 seasons.

Still, something is missing: an NCAA championship. Tark's Runnin' Rebels have made it to the Final Four twice, but never as far as the final game, a failing that even the usually pessimistic Tarkanian is hopeful of correcting this time.

UNLV is a 7-5 favorite to win it all, starting with Saturday's semifinal against Georgia Tech and then in Monday night's championship game against the Arkansas-Duke winner.

"If we play well, we can beat any team in the country," Tarkanian says.

If they do, though, Tarkanian insists it will only be sweet victory, not sweet revenge for his long-running fight with the NCAA.

"This has nothing to do with vindication," he says. "I'm not even thinking about that."

Only a day before the Rebels arrived in Denver, Tarkanian signed an agreement bringing to an end the NCAA's 13-year effort to suspend him from coaching — an effort Tarkanian claims was part of a vendetta by NCAA officials to run him out of college basketball that began in the early 1970s.

For all his success, Tarkanian is still viewed by many as an outlaw coach, a renegade who takes inner-city players unfit for college and casts them off when their usefulness expires.

And controversy seems to follow the doleful coach, even in a year when his team began the season ranked No. 1 and won 33 of 38 games to reach the Final Four.

Tark swears it's all undeserved.

"This group has overcome more adversity than any I've had, and kept winning," he says. "There were other teams in the country who would have packed it in."

It's quite a litany, to be sure. David Butler and Moses Scurry were suspended the first six games of the season for academic reasons, Scurry after flunking physical education.

Anderson Hunt was suspended one game for falling two months behind on student loan payments.

Eight other players were suspended one game for failing to repay incidental hotel charges run up on road trips during the 1988-89 season.

On top of all that came a brawl after a game with Utah State in which Scurry punched Utah State Coach Kohn Smith. Scurry was suspended for one game, reserve forward Chris Jeter for three games for triggering the melee by throwing an elbow that cut an opposing player in the closing seconds.

AP Photo

Greg Anthony, the UNLV guard who proved his toughness earlier this season by playing with a broken jaw and a sore nose, will lead the Rebels against Georgia Tech Saturday.

Oliver's injury slows Tech's Lethal Weapon

DENVER (AP) — Bobby Cremins says Lethal Weapon 3 is more like Lethal Weapon 2.7.

Georgia Tech's high-caliber offensive trio — Dennis Scott, Kenny Anderson and Brian Oliver — has lost some of its firepower due to Oliver's nagging ankle injury.

Through much of the season, Georgia Tech has won although Oliver has been slowed by a stress fracture in his left ankle. Now that his team has reached the Final Four, however, Cremins isn't so sure the ankle can outlast UNLV.

In the NCAA tournament, Anderson, Scott and Oliver have scored 297 of Tech's 367 points, including 89 of 93 in Sunday's two-point victory over Minnesota in the Southeast Regional final.

Oliver is still averaging more than 21 points per game, even though he's been at less than 100 percent. But scoring hasn't been the problem, and won't be the problem Saturday against UNLV.

"We are a poor rebounding team," Cremins said, "and believe it or not, Brian Oliver is one of our best rebounders. His injury has disabled us from being a great rebounding team."

Averaging 6.1 rebounds per game — third on the Yellow Jackets — the 6-foot-4 senior guard pulled down an average 4.25 rebounds during the NCAA tournament.

"I've been amazed at the way we've been able to get by, but we've been getting by by the skin of our teeth," Cremins said. "Against LSU, Michigan State, Minnesota, a basket here or there and you've got another team here."

Cremins was so troubled by Oliver's play against Louisiana State in the second round that he came close to resting him. Oliver knows that only rest will get him back to full strength — but that would come too late for the Yellow Jackets.

"It's still sore, but the more opportunity I get to stay off it the better it's getting," Oliver said. "The biggest thing is to rest so I can get more strength in it."

He's trying to take it easy and using a special electrode bone-healing system to hasten the recovery.

"This time of year, I can't afford to sit out because I can't take a chance of getting rusty or lose my timing," he said. "If it starts really bothering me then I'll sit down."

Oliver reinjured the ankle during the first half of a January game against N.C. State. He came back in the second half and ended up scoring 27 points.

But following a win over Temple, the Yellow Jackets dropped their next three games, including an overtime loss to Virginia.

"Against the Runnin' Rebels' strong inside game, Tech's rebounding will be crucial.

UNLV's front line grabs more than 26 rebounds per game, and the Rebels pulled down 56 in a 131-101 win over Loyola Marymount in the Western Regional final.

AP Photo

Danny Ferry (32), Bobby Hurley (11) and the rest of the Duke Devils will be very comfortable within the cozy confines of McNichols Arena, where they will meet Arkansas on Saturday.

Duke will be comfortable in Denver

DENVER (AP) — Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski, who knows a thing or two about playing in small arenas, says the Blue Devils should feel right at home in the Final Four.

The Blue Devils play their home games at Cameron Indoor Stadium, a 9,314-seat facility where boisterous Duke students jam together and sit within a few feet of the playing floor.

The NCAA tournament's final three games are at Denver's McNichols Sports Arena, whose seating capacity of about 17,000 makes it comparatively small by Final Four standards. The next three Final Fours are in the Indiana Hoosier Dome, the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome and the Louisiana Superdome.

"McNichols is a great arena," Krzyzewski said. "A small arena is louder and you feel the emotions more in a small arena."

Duke has yet to win a national title under Krzyzewski, but its semifinal Saturday against Arkansas will mark the Blue Devils' third Final Four appearance in as many years and their fourth in five seasons.

Now in his 10th season at Duke and the school's winningest coach, Krzyzewski said there is no magic formula for his ability to lead teams deep into the NCAA tournament.

"We've had good players and basically our good players have been healthy in March," he said.

As was the case following their arrival in Denver on Wednesday night, the Blue Devils held a closed-door workout Thursday at Cherry Creek High School. At the sessions was Duke captain Robert Brickey, who has been nursing a hamstring injury suffered last weekend at the East Regionals.

"I'm hoping by Saturday I'll be ready to go, because this is my last shot," the senior forward said.

Duke and the rest of the Final Four participants are to conduct open practices Friday afternoon at McNichols.

Krzyzewski is not on completely unfamiliar turf in Colorado. He spent 18 months stationed at Fort Carson after his graduation from Army in 1969. While at Fort Carson, Krzyzewski was player-coach for the post's basketball team.

"We won the 5th Army championship," Krzyzewski said. "But I'll tell you, it was more for my playing than my coaching."

Krzyzewski's latest team dropped three of its last four regular-season games and was a semifinal loser in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

But the Blue Devils came back strong in the NCAA tournament, using a 35-point rout of Richmond as a springboard to the East Regional title.

Huery wins out over alcohol, looks to win for Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Credit Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson with an assist in saving Ron Huery's career.

As a freshman, Huery was the Southwest Conference Newcomer of the Year. As a sophomore, he was Arkansas' leading scorer. Last year, he was off the team and in an alcohol abuse treatment program.

And then there's this season.

Last Saturday, after the Razorbacks' lead over Texas had dwindled to three points, Huery was Coach Nolan Richardson's choice to replace an injured Arlyn Bowers at the free throw line. Huery made both ends of the one-and-one with 16 seconds left and the Razorbacks advanced to the Final Four with an 88-85 victory.

"I may have bailed him out of the last one," Huery said. "But he bailed me out of the tight spots. If it was another coach, I wouldn't be here. I'd be somewhere out on the streets."

It was Richardson who suspended Huery last year after problems involving alcohol. Huery was arrested in December, 1988, on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He eventually pleaded no contest to the charge and paid a fine.

He was also arrested July 23, 1988, by Memphis police, who stopped a car that was traveling at a high rate of speed with a flat tire.

Illini

continued from page 24

However, Murphy knows they have a number of other players that can play.

"With Dave Christiansen (at shortstop), (pitcher/first baseman) Bubba Smith, and (catcher) Brian Mulligan, they have three players as good as any three on any team in the country," says Murphy. "They have tremendous balance, speed and power."

In addition to all the talent on the field, the Illini have one of the elite field generals in college baseball in Augie Garrido. Garrido was a legendary coach at Cal State-Fullerton, where he won a national championship and consistently produced College World Series participants.

The key combination to stopping the potent Illini attack will be seniors Brian Piotrowicz and captain Ed Lund. Piotrowicz, who is 3-2 with a 2.43 ERA and has issued only 8 walks in 33 1/3 innings, is a veteran of big games against Miami and Texas. Lund, a master at handling the isn't pitching staff, knows there isn't much room for error against Illinois.

"Our pitching is going to have to be on," comments Lund. "We're going to have to spot the ball well and make big pitches."

Piotrowicz is the key to the game for the Irish. If he has yet another good performance in a big game, the Irish will be successful.

"Brian's going to have to get all three of his pitches over," adds Murphy. "He'll have to open with strikes, but not throw too many good strikes. He must field his position and stay composed."

If he does get in trouble, Murphy will call on Chad Hartvigson in the early innings, Tony Livorsi in the middle, and Dave Sinnes or Chris Mihalak late in the game.

Offensively, the Irish need to keep getting the consistent play from Eric Danapilis, Cory Mee and Dan Bautch. Freshman Danapilis leads the regulars in hitting with an astounding .406 average. Mee (.295) is steady with glove at second and at the plate. Bautch provides speed, a great on base % (.460) and a steady average (.267). The Irish need to get big games from some of their big guns though, especially Joe Binkiewicz.

"Bink has to improve greatly," Murphy said. "I'm disappointed in his performance so far, but he's a great kid and I know he can come out of it and help us this weekend."

If pitching takes over the game as the Irish hope, look for the team that runs the bases better to come out on top. The Irish handle the bat well and have players up and down the lineup who can move the runner over or lay down a sacrifice. Bautch leads the team with 13 steals followed by Danapilis with nine and Lund with six. The Illini are not slouches at running the bases either.

"They have good speed and they run a lot," says Lund whose rocket arm will go a long way toward discouraging the Illini toward running. "They like to mix it up, using a lot of bunt and hit and run."

One thing the Irish must put behind them is Wednesday's 10-8 loss to Purdue, a game which they led 6-2 in the 7th inning.

"We have a better ballclub than Purdue," observed Murphy. "We let things like the umpires and the weather get to us. That's not a good sign for the mental makeup of a team but I have every confidence we'll bounce back."

When a team has a game like that, it has to go back and find the things that made it successful.

"Tonight (Thursday) we stressed the fundamentals, got back to basics," commented Lund. "You just want to pound the wall because you know you're better than that. We just got back to doing the little things right."

Besides the Illinois game, the Irish have three big games against St. Louis at Covaleski at 1:00 on Saturday and Sunday (two games).

"St. Louis would be to beat us," Murphy claims.

These games are just as important to the Irish and Murphy as the Illinois game. Just don't tell ESPN that.

Umpires reach agreement

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Major league umpires now say they will return to work Sunday under a new agreement that reimburses them for games canceled during the 32-day lockout and gives them three more vacation days during the regular season.

Lawyers for the umpires' union and the leagues reached the out-of-court settlement Thursday, after U.S. District Judge Norma L. Shapiro reopened a hearing on baseball's request for an order forcing the umpires back to work.

The agreement also calls for umpires to receive regular-season per diem payments beginning Saturday, and for the leagues to repay them for travel deposits made before January 31, but forfeited because of the lockout.

The American and National Leagues will divide a $48,500 payment among all umpires.

Shapiro thought both sides had resolved the dispute Tuesday and announced in court that umpires would end a weeklong boycott and return to work Friday. Management and the union agreed to settle left-over differences by arbitration, and Shapiro appointed retired Common Pleas Judge Stanley Greenberg to do the job.

But that fell through Wednesday when the owners' rejected Greenberg for undisclosed reasons. That brought both sides back to Shapiro's courtroom.

And this time, the stumbling block was scheduling umpires for six regular-season games that were postponed from the first week of the season, American League president Bobby Brown said.

"We were very anxious to get a schedule they could work with and we could work with, and that's what took the time," he said.

The union agreed to drop an unfair labor practice complaint it had filed with the National Labor Relations Board; the leagues agreed to drop their suit aimed at forcing the umpires back to work.

"Fans are sick of squabbles, they're sick of legal terms," Brown said. "Now opening day can take place without any clouds on the horizon."

In addition to Brown, those working on the final agreement included union chief Richie Phillips, National League president Bill White and their lawyers.

"I think it's terrific," Phillips said. "It addresses all the problems we had — it increased the expenses for what's left of spring training, it compensates them for games lost in the lockout and it gives them an extra three-game vacation during the season."

The umpires boycotted the spring games, which started Monday, to protest not being consulted when regular-season games were rescheduled after the lockout ended. Minor league umpires have been working the exhibition games.

Shapiro, expressing impatience with both sides, opened the hearing Thursday by saying, "The parties have had ample time to resolve this. It is not complicated, it is not difficult."

During testimony, management contended that umpires needed to work spring training to get ready for the regular season, while seven umpires testified that spring training wasn't necessary.

STEP TO WEEKEND DANCE PARTY
Theodore's
 10 p.m. - 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday

STEAKS PRIME RIB SEAFOOD

 100 CENTER • MISHAWAKA
 Featuring Friday night seafood buffet and Sunday brunch 219-259-9925

HAPPY APRIL 1ST BIRTHDAY
TERI NIEDERSTADT
Love, Mom

ISO
I'm So Optimistic
 April 9th 8pm
 Washington Hall

Daniel Ezralow, Morleigh Steinberg, Ashley Roland, Jamey Hampton

"ISO...blurs the line between modern dance, acrobatic spectacle and new vaudeville in ways that are consistently clever." — The New York Times

"They are dancers of exceptional force, jugglers, illusionists, athletes: they create dance with a very young spirit. Everything was perfection on stage. This was the pleasure of dance." — Carriere della Sera

"It's hard to imagine anything more engagingly playful, humane and spontaneous...To see them at work is to believe in the true collaborative process — one defined by these madcap, dancing daredevils as artistic anarchy." — The Los Angeles Times

Hot, witty, and gorgeous. These four gifted dancers hypnotize the audience with their silencingly rhythmic and thrillingly agile choreography. What impresses is that none of the choreography is derivative: It is wildly original and breathtakingly seductive." — The Hollywood Reporter Ticket sales: LaFortune Information Desk starting March 28th. $5 students $8 non-students.

Summer STORAGE RESERVATION

CALL NOW 683-1959

- VERY CLOSE TO CAMPUS
- APPROX 2 1/2 MILES NORTH US 31-33
- GATES OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

Master Mini Warehouses

Crum's Cardinals captured the crown at 1980 Final Four

Darrell 'Dr. Dunkenstein' Griffith led Louisville to championship over UCLA in dream season

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The early part of the 1979-80 season was a cakewalk for the Louisville Cardinals. They sailed through six straight victories, five of them in Freedom Hall. The only downer was the third game, a 77-75 win at Tennessee when Scooter McCray tore up his knee.

Then it was on to Hawaii for the Rainbow Classic. There was a pit stop in Utah where the Cards lost for the first time, dropping a two-point decision, 71-69, and then another loss in the second round at Honolulu, 77-64 to Illinois.

Jerry Eaves remembers how disgusted he was with the slump. "I was on the beach," he said. "I saw the coach coming and I thought he'd be furious. I buried myself in sand."

Denny Crum never lost his cool. He said hello to his point guard and kept right on walking.

When the Cardinals beat Nebraska 65-58 in a consolation game in Hawaii, it touched off an 18-game winning streak. Some of the wins were close calls — 64-60 over Tulane at home, 56-54 in overtime at Virginia Tech, 76-71 on the road at St. John's and 61-57 at Cincinnati. In the end, it seemed Louisville's pressure defense always paid off.

"We were very organized," Darrell Griffith said. "We didn't just run and shoot. We were an up-tempo team. If you went to a half-court game, we'd pressure you. You'd get behind and then you were in our game."

It all worked very well, until the Cardinals came to Madison Square Garden for a February date with Jeff Ruland and little Iona College. "A good team," remembered Rodney McCray, "but not better than us."

The Gaels were 17 points better that night, though, 77-60. The Cardinals were embarrassed in the next to last game of the regular season and their coach thought it was a good thing.

"The kids were so preoccupied with being in New York for the first time, out pounding the pavement," he said. "It was a difficult atmosphere. Their minds were not on basketball. Iona killed us."

Crum said he could see that disaster coming.

"They had too casual an attitude. They weren't concentrating in practice. That loss changed them, though. It got their attention. The difference was night and day. If that was the only way to get better, then it was good to lose when we did."

The Cardinals bounced back, beating Florida State in the final regular season game and then taking the Metro Conference Tournament at Freedom Hall with decisive victories over Memphis State and Florida State, again.

Now it was on to the NCAA Tournament. First stop, Lincoln Neb. for the Midwest Regional against Kansas State.

The Big Eight champs forced the Cardinals into overtime. Griffith fouled out in the extra session and when the game came down to one last shot, it went to his replacement, co-captain Tony Branch, a forgotten man in his senior season after losing his starting job to Eaves. Branch unloaded and then held his breath as the ball caromed high off the rim and then dropped neatly through the net.

Denny Crum

Final score: Louisville 71, Kansas State 69.

"I don't know how we ever won that game," Wiley Brown said. "After that, I was sure we'd win the national championship. I remember thinking we'd been tapped on the shoulder that night, that this was our year."

A week later, the Cardinals were in Houston for the next tournament stop. Again they struggled into overtime, this time against Texas A&M, but they pulled away in the extra session for a 66-55 victory.

That earned them a date with LSU with the winner headed for Indianapolis and the Final Four. Griffith was thrilled because it meant a game against a longtime friend, Louisville native Rudy Macklin. But the matchup never came off. Griffith was foiled by foul trouble and forced to the bench early. Meanwhile, Brown shut down Macklin and the Cards won by 20 points. Poncho Wright's season-long slogan was achieved. "Ville was goin' to the Nap."

The semifinal game would be against Iowa, a team that prided itself on defense. But Griffith shredded the Hawkeyes on a blistering 13-for-21 from the field and 34 points as Louisville shot nearly 60 percent from the field and won, 80-72.

Louisville's first two Final Four appearances came in 1972 and 1975 and both times it was eliminated in the semifinals by Crum's old school, UCLA. It was ironic then that when the Cards got to the championship game in 1980, there was UCLA, waiting for them again.

"You don't need additional pressure when you're playing for all the marbles," Crum said, "but UCLA was the team that beat us in the two previous Final Fours. Our teams were similar — not big but with good defense. I remember there was a stretch where neither team let the other one score. We were horrible in the first half."

After 20 minutes of the championship game, Louisville was losing by a bucket and Crum was furious. In the dressing room, he used words like chokers and rum-dums.

"We were horrible in the first half," he said. "I had never gotten on them before. I got on them then. I just told them it was a shame to have come that far and then to not play with intensity. If they got beat because the other team was better, that's fine. But not to lose that way. It was rare that I got on them. That time I had to."

The Cardinals responded. They stayed close throughout the second half and then, with time evaporating, they pounced. Trailing by five with 6 1/2 minutes to play, Griffith converted an alley-oop pass from Brown and nailed the accompanying foul. "That took us from five to two real quick," Crum said.

Louisville was still down by four with under four minutes to play, when UCLA's Kiki Vandeweghe stole a pass and went the other way for what seemed an easy layup. Eaves set out in what seemed futile pursuit. Somehow, though, he overtook Vandeweghe and cut in front of him, disrupting the layup, forcing a miss. UCLA never scored another point. The Cards went on a 9-0 run to win the game and the championship, 59-54.

It was a gratifying victory for Crum and his 33-3 team. "Nobody expected us to do anything," he said. "But there was great chemistry on that team. They were the most competitive people I've ever coached. They just didn't like to lose."

American Red Cross

Look Bill, Adworks is looking for some new talent for next year!

Some changes are occurring at Adworks and we'd like you to be a part of them.

Adworks is looking for people interested in the following areas:

- Production Manager
- Directors of Client Relations
- Account Executives
- Artists
- Typesetters
- Resumé Consultants
- Novelty Artists
- Director of Finance
- Accountant

Adworks is where you can get REAL experience in a business setting. We are an Advertising and Promotional Agency serving the Notre Dame community. Adworks is going places. Let us bring you along with us.

ADWORKS

301 LaFortune • 2:30-5:00 pm • (219) ADW-ORKS

SPORTS BRIEFS

Free shuttle buses will be provided to the Notre Dame vs. Illinois baseball game at Coveleski Stadium on Saturday. The game will be televised by ESPN. The shuttle will leave the main circle at 6:30 and 7 p.m. and depart immediately following the game.

The first 500 fans at Saturday night's Notre Dame baseball home opener vs. Illinois will receive a free Notre Dame baseball. The game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. at Coveleski.

The Annual Hall of Fame Game will be held today at 4:30 on the bookstore courts. The Bookstore Tournament will then start on Saturday the 31st.

Mud Volleyball schedules may be picked up in the SUB office.

Reebok Supershot Contest sign-ups will be Monday, April 2 from 6-8 p.m. in the SUB office.

The NROTC Basketball team, after a recent first place finish at the University of Dayton tournament, heads to the Great Lakes Naval Training Center to participate in a tournament this weekend. The field consists of teams from 12 midwest NROTC units.

The Water Polo Club will host its Spring Invitational this weekend at Rolfs Aquatic Center. On Friday Notre Dame "A" will meet Eastern Michigan at 8:30 p.m. and Notre Dame "B" plays Penn State at 9:30 p.m. Games Saturday will run from 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

The Notre Dame women's softball team's doubleheader with Loyola was rained out yesterday. The Irish will travel to Bradley Saturday for a doubleheader.

ND lax travels west for tournament

By PETE LAFLEUR

Sports Writer

The Notre Dame lacrosse team will be looking to soar past the Air Force Academy this evening in a pivotal game to be held at the San Diego State Tournament. The Irish will then take on either the host team or Texas Tech tomorrow in the second round of the four-team tournament.

Notre Dame (3-3) will be looking to take a crucial first step toward an elusive NCAA bid in battling the Falcons (2-2), a team that captured the NCAA berth in 1988. The series stands at 1-1, as the Irish prevailing last year 10-7 at home while the Falcons won 14-8 two years ago in Colorado Springs.

"I think every player on our team wants to play in the NCAA tournament and that's a very important goal for our program," said Irish second-year coach Kevin Corrigan. "We feel that if we do what we should, then the bid will take care of itself. It's something that we're not going to talk about everyday."

The first thing the Irish have to do is beat Air Force, and then wait until the season-ending clashes with Michigan State and Ohio State to see where they stand. All four teams are again considered to be the main contenders for the western bid, which was introduced in 1987 to increase interest in the traditionally eastern sport and has twice been captured by the

Brian McHugh

Spartans (in 1987 and 1989).

The Irish have been in contention for the bid every year including 1988, when they lost to Air Force early but beat Michigan State late in the year. But a win over the Falcons tonight is viewed as a must if the Irish are to make their first trip to the NCAA's.

"We really need to get this win, especially since it's on a neutral field," said senior co-captain Mike Quigley. "If we can get past Air Force, then we will be in the driver's seat when Michigan State and Ohio State come here to play us. We've been too close in the past to not play our best now."

Air Force will field a typically fast and athletic squad which should challenge the speed of the Irish to create a fast-paced, high-scoring game. And, as usual, the game between the growing rivals should be quite physical and emotional.

"Every time we play them it seems to be a really fast-paced and intense game," said Quigley, who went to high school with several of the Air Force players, including his younger brother, Paul. "But if we play like we are capable of, there shouldn't be many problems."

The Irish again will be looking for the one-two scoring punch of their starting attackmen, senior Brian McHugh and sophomore Mike Sullivan. Sullivan leads the Irish with 16 points (7 goals, 9 assists) while McHugh has chipped in 14 points (9 goals, 5 assists).

Sophomore Brian Schirf, who had made four straight starts on the crease, did not travel with the team after suffering a separated shoulder in last week's win over Wooster. Junior Mike Sennett is expected to return to the starting lineup for Schirf.

Middie John Capano, meanwhile, is expected to return to the starting lineup after missing the Wooster game with a lacerated forearm. Freshman goalie Chris Parent will be starting his seventh game, having already established an Irish record 29 saves in one game while carrying a .578 save percentage into tonight's contest.

McHugh currently ranks seventh on the Irish all-time scoring list with 85 career points. He needs only seven more points to move into the sixth spot. Quigley currently stands 13th with 49 career points and needs nine more points to move into the twelfth spot.

which will be begin Friday at 4:30 on the Bookstore courts, will pit the Bookstore Celebrity All-Stars against Parts Unknown Weight Unknown.

Tony Rice, Keith Robinson, Tim Crawford, Derrick Johnson

and Kathy Cunningham will take the court for the All-Stars, who will be coached by Athletic Director Richard Rosenthal. Mr. X1, Mr. X2, Mr. X3, Mr. X4 and Mr. X5 will play for Parts Unknown, Weight Unknown.

"They're talented, but we've gone up against people like The Bushwackers and Demolition," said Mr. X3, who claims to have averaged 43.6 points for Our Lady of the Sacred Foot in high school.

Begin

continued from page 24

have been installed where needed, and maintenance has installed pads where needed on the backboard poles.

Bookstore's governing committee has changed the wording in some of its eligibility rules because of past problems with differing interpretations of the rules. McGee said that the committee's decision on interpretation of the rules of the tourney will be final in all cases.

Bookstore has also had problems in the past with people who illegally play for two different teams. McGee says he and his committee will do what they can to spot players who cheat in this way, but the size of the tournament precludes the exhaustive review of rosters which would be necessary to catch every infraction.

"The only thing we can do is check up on it if somebody comes up and reports it to us. With a tournament this big you can't have a sure system," said McGee.

The Hall of Fame game,

ENGINEER'S WEEK
APRIL 2 - 6

MONDAY

- * Donuts and Hot Chocolate
- * Crossword Puzzle Contest
- * Movie Night with Popcorn

TUESDAY

- * Ice Cream Social
- * Egg Drop
- * Billiards Tournament

WEDNESDAY

- * Dining Hall Lunch
- * Pine Wood Derby
- * Dating Game/Pizza Party
- * Senior Bar Night

THURSDAY

- * Calculator Toss
- * Pie Eating Contest
- * Beacon Bowl

FRIDAY

- * Picnic with Volleyball

 BE SURE TO CONSULT YOUR "OFFICIAL GUIDE TO ENGINEER'S WEEK" FOR IMPORTANT TIMES, PLACES AND DESCRIPTIONS

Coach

continued from page 24

dle. "C'mon, c'mon, hustle!" he shouted, when he beat the defensive backs to the huddle. "Don't be walking back in here!"

During the 1988 and 1989 seasons Darnell served as defensive coordinator at Florida, and for seven weeks of the latter he acted as head coach. On October 8 Gator Head Coach Galen Hall resigned, and Darnell guided Florida to a 3-4 record as interim coach before being replaced by the new permanent head coach, Steve Spurrier. During Darnell's two years at Florida the Gators ranked third in the nation in total defense.

"When you come to Notre Dame, number one, it's a great honor, and number two, it's a great responsibility," said Darnell at the press conference on Jan. 18 when he accepted the position on the Notre Dame staff. "When we take the field, people expect to see the pinnacle of collegiate preparation and the very best that can be done."

Now Darnell finds himself all over the field for Notre Dame, trying to bring his defense to a type of pinnacle he discussed only two months ago. And the problems of which he and Holtz complain?

Irish striders journey to Houston

By MICHAEL MALODY
Sports Writer

To open the outdoor season, the Notre Dame track team will travel to Houston this Saturday to face Drake, Harvard and Rice in a meet annually nicknamed "The Meeting of the Minds."

Irish coach Joe Piane is approaching this meet in perspective. "I have one goal," he maintained, "for the team to compete aggressively." Some 10 to 12 runners, he contends, are capable of joining teammates Ryan Mihalko and Matt DeAngelis, both javelin throwers, in qualifying for the IC4A Championships in New Haven this May.

At the top of the list of hopefuls are senior captains Mike O'Connor and Yan Searcy, both returning this season from injury-plagued junior campaigns.

O'Connor, who was sidelined last spring with a stress fracture, placed fifth in the NCAA indoor championships in the 3000 meters earlier this month. His times in the indoor mile and outdoor 5000 meters each rank among the top four

"There's a higher level that we're going to reach," said Darnell. "Lately we've tried to get the fundamentals, but there's so much to be done. There are a few basic things in Lou Holtz's defensive philosophy and we're not there yet."

"The talent is there—we've just got to get that blend where the defense moves easily. We're getting there, some are nearly there, and some are a step away, but we're going to get there."

After 21 years of coaching, Darnell has not had many problems integrating himself into the Notre Dame scheme.

"Notre Dame as a place, the Notre Dame people, they give you a chance," he said. "They're open-minded, receptive, and I appreciate that. If things aren't working right, the problem will be right in front of your nose."

But for now, with spring football only one week old, much work is left to be done. With so much coaching and instruction ahead of him, Darnell is guardedly optimistic. One might say his optimism, like spring football, is in its rudimentary stages.

"Right now the optimism stands because I know it (the defense) is going to work itself out. Right now we have things that we have to do. In time, the expectations are that somehow, some way, we've got to have an outstanding defense."

marks, at those distances, in Notre Dame history. This weekend, he will compete in the 1500 meters.

Searcy, one of the best quarter milers in Notre Dame history, will compete in a star studded 400 meters field. In this event, he will face Rice star Gabriel Luke, the NCAA indoor 400 meter champion, and Drake standout Kevin Little, who finished third in the World Indoors at the 200 meters. Searcy will also run both relays.

According to Piane, the meet will be very competitive. The Drake Ducks are strong in field events (in particular, the shot put and long jump) and middle distances, while Harvard is armed with seven talented distance runners and Rice, which will host the tournament, is strong in the sprints and distances. He is optimistic, but contends, "It's anyone's guess who will win."

Women's tennis squad travels northward to face Eastern Michigan, Michigan State

By BARBARA MORAN
Sports Writer

The women's tennis team will attempt to improve its 10-6 record when it heads north this weekend to face Michigan State on Saturday and Eastern Michigan on Sunday.

The Irish snatched a close 5-4 win from Michigan State last year, but Notre Dame coach Jay Louderback expects a wider margin of victory against the team tomorrow.

"I've heard that they're down a little this year from last year," said Louderback. "They've lost to a couple of teams that we've beaten and they're ranked thirteenth in the region."

Louderback expects a stronger challenge to come from the Eastern Michigan squad, which is currently ranked tenth in the region. The Irish, who are ranked fifth, scored an impressive 7-1 victory over Eastern Michigan last season, but Louderback predicts a closer contest this year.

"They were at the Eck Doubles Classic this year and they have good doubles teams," said the coach. "Their doubles teams make them a little stronger than Michigan State. It should be close."

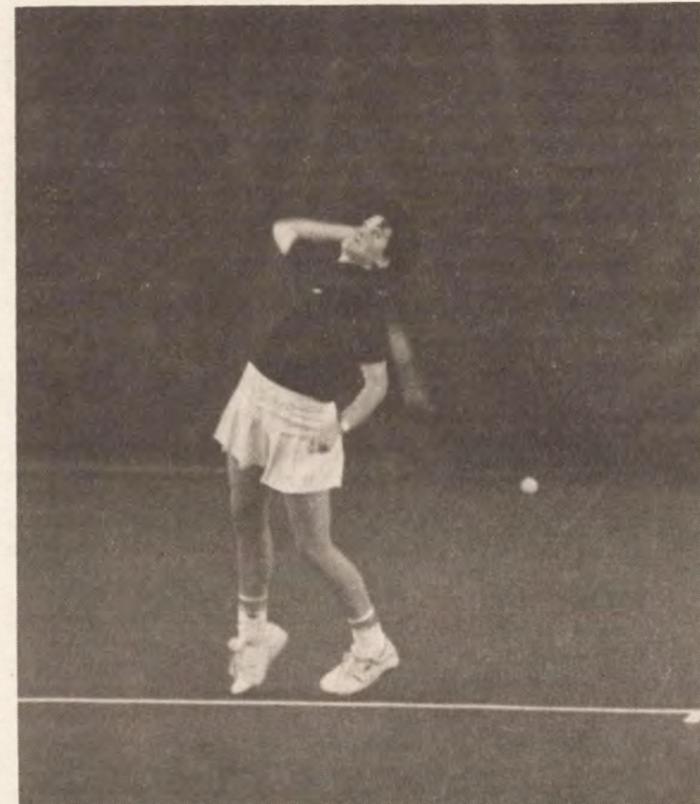

Injuries suffered by the Irish squad may make the matches even tougher. Tracy Barton, Notre Dame's top singles player, will not play in either match due to an injured elbow. Notre Dame's Kristy Doran is suffering from a wrist injury and is questionable for the weekend.

NCAA considers changing 3-point distance

DENVER (AP) — The father of college basketball's 3-point shot doesn't want any alterations to his child.

But the National Association of Basketball Coaches is considering lengthening the 3-point line, as well as allowing officials to consult television replays in the last minute of a game.

"I feel right now there is very little justification for moving the line back," Ed Steitz said. "The rules committee always intended the 3-point shot to become an integral part of the game and not a last second, desperation effort, and it's proved to be that."

The Observer/Trey Reymond

The Irish women's tennis team will have to survive this weekend's road matches at Eastern Michigan and Michigan State without star first singles performer Tracy Barton.

Although these are the only two serious injuries on the team, fatigue may be a factor this weekend for the rest of the road-weary Irish. The squad made it through a four-day, four-game stretch last weekend, but the tough schedule may be taking its toll. Although the team had a few days off at the start of the week, several team members are suffering from colds which may hinder their performance.

Louderback, however, is confident of his team's strength and their ability to end the season with a string of victories.

"We have nine matches left," said the coach, "and we could easily win all nine of them."

Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps, chairman of the NABC board of directors, said the board is in favor of moving the 3-point line back nine inches — from 19 feet, 9 inches to 20 feet, 6 inches, which would correspond with the international line.

"The 3-point line was put in because there was too much post play and not enough outside shooting," he said. "The board now feels it's overbalanced the other way. Nine inches would, we feel, be a way to balance the game so inside play is as important as outside play."

According to Steitz' annual survey of 2,421 coaches, referees, administrators, and basketball writers, 53 percent of the NCAA coaches and 55 of all those responding to the survey want to leave the 3-point line at 19-9.

But the results have been close enough to provoke debate. This year, 46 percent of Division I coaches supported the status quo and 44 percent suggested the line be moved back to the Olympic distance. Coaches at the Division II and III level were more satisfied with the current distance, supporting it by margins of 60 and 57 percent.

FREE TANNING

• Buy 4* sessions at the regular price and get 4 FREE • Buy 5 and get 5 FREE • Buy 6 and Get 6 FREE GET THE IDEA?

INDIAN RIDGE PLAZA HOURS:
NEXT TO VENTURE Daily 9-6
GRAPE RD., MISHAWAKA Sat. 9-6
277-7946 Sun. 11-5

Chicago Hair Cutting Co.

WANNA BE ON TV!

Help IRISH INSANITY support
ND BASEBALL

in the season home opener against ILLINOIS.

The game starts at 7:30 pm on Saturday March 31 at Coveleski.

It will be broadcast LIVE on ESPN.

The ATHLETIC DEPT. is sponsoring

FREE SHUTTLE BUSES

at 6:30 and 7 (More if needed).

FREE ND BASEBALLS

to the FIRST 500 fans, as well as a BANNER CONTEST.

Admission for students is $1.00, $2.00 for adults, and box seats are $4.00 or FREE with BLUE & GOLD card.

GO IRISH!!!

LECTURE CIRCUIT

Friday

4 p.m. Lecture by Charles Moore. Annenburg Auditorium. Snite Museum of Art. Sponsored by School of Architecture.

4:30 p.m. Lecture, "Diophantine Approximation and the Theory of Holomorphic Curves," Professor Pit-Mann Wong, Notre Dame. Room 226 Math Building, Coffee 4 p.m. Room 201. Sponsored by the department of mathematics.

CAMPUS

Friday

7:30 p.m. Collegiate Jazz Festival. JACC Arena.

7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Film, "Sea of Love," Annenburg Auditorium, Snite Museum of Art. Sponsored by ND Communication and Theatre.

MENUS

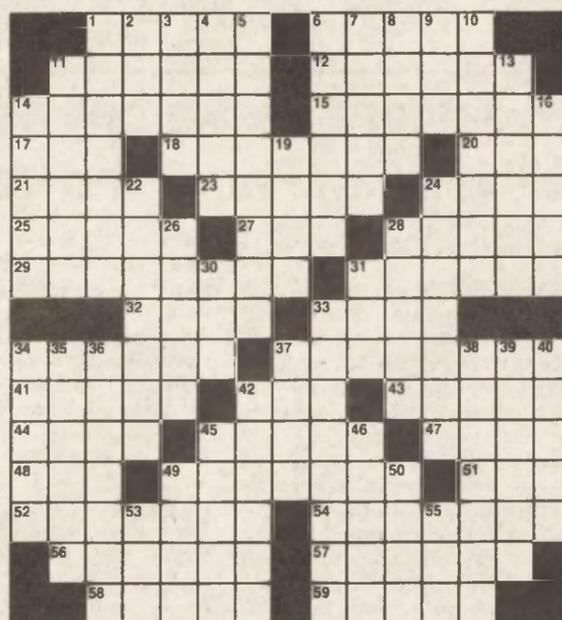

Notre Dame

Baked Pollock Sesame
Cheese Lasagna
Cheese Stuffed Pepper
Cod Cakes w/Sauce

ACROSS

- 1 Staff of life
- 6 Used a besom
- 11 Crate content
- 12 Answer to a lieutenant
- 14 Cassowary and ostrich
- 15 Calm
- 17 Superlative ending
- 18 Screen from view
- 20 Govt. agency
- 21 Capital of Calvados
- 23 Oozing
- 24 Stag or buck
- 25 President James — Garfield
- 27 Napoleonic marshal
- 28 Civet's African cousin
- 29 Monetary rewards
- 31 Golden: Comb. form
- 32 Tavern quaffs
- 33 Bangkok native
- 34 Talk indistinctly
- 37 Wins
- 41 "The Story of — H.," 1975 film
- 42 " — walks in beauty Byron
- 43 Hat worn for sun protection

CROSSWORD

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

DOWN

- 1 Grossly flattering
- 2 Baseball stat
- 3 Diner sign
- 4 Family of U.S. author James
- 5 Thrills for sky divers
- 6 Mawkish
- 7 Lean and lanky
- 8 Being: Lat.
- 9 Sibilant signal
- 10 Famous jeweler
- 11 Winter melon
- 13 Russian money
- 14 Newscaster's summary
- 16 Be stationary in the water
- 19 Dregs
- 22 Noteworthy
- 24 Carmen's creator
- 26 Free-for-all
- 28 Indian mountain chain
- 30 Saul's grandfather
- 31 Greek letter
- 33 W. W. I battle sites
- 34 Tricks
- 35 Doted on
- 36 Juicy fruits
- 37 Thunder god
- 38 Kind of dog or schooner
- 39 Hurried, to Shakespeare
- 40 Located
- 42 Dugong
- 45 Loos or O'Day
- 46 Holler
- 49 Roman god
- 50 A hit song of 1979
- 53 Concorde, e.g.
- 55 Wapiti

CALVIN AND HOBBS

BILL WATTERSON

THE FAR SIDE

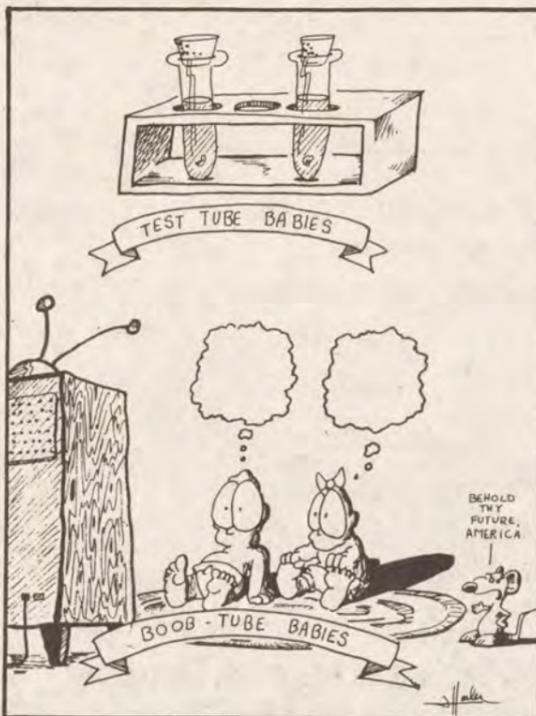

GARY LARSON

"OK, Zukutu -- that does it! Remember, those who live in grass houses shouldn't throw spears."

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

T.G.I.F.

MOVIES

Friday: The Package
Saturday: True Believer

8:00 and 10:15
Cushing Auditorium
$2.00

Hall of Fame Game

Friday, March 30
4:30 p.m.

See Famous Domers, such as Tony Rice and Tim Crawford show their stuff when the celebrity team takes on Parts Unknown-Weights Unknown on the Basketball Courts.

Collegiate Jazz Festival

2:00 Jazz Symposium
7:30 Evening Session with ND Jazz Band
11:30 Judge's Jam

Bookstore Basketball begins with Hall of Fame showcase

By KEN TYSIAC
Associate Sports Editor

The Hall of Fame game this afternoon will kick off the 19th annual Bookstore Basketball tournament, which will quickly spiral into action when the preliminary round begins Saturday and continues Sunday.

This year's edition of Bookstore features a record-sized 703-team field. The favorites include some familiar names as well as some fresh faces, and the courts are freshly swept for action, which will begin Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Malicious Prostitution, the defending champion, returns shot-blocking specialist Pete Van Dyke, slick point guard Joe Scott, Jim Flynn and John Bergmann and has added John Mundo to its roster. Adworks All-Stars, which lost to Prostitution in last year's finals, should also challenge for the title with a team featuring Kevin Keyes, former Irish basketball captain Jim Dolan and Derrick Johnson.

Graduating Notre Dame senior centers Keith Robinson and Scott Paddock could also challenge as they will tip off action for Nubian Pharaohs and Sweet Scotty P. and the Dwarfs respectively. Former Irish walk-on Tim Crawford will star for a Senior Bar team which also boasts the skills of Ray Flannery and Ed Cosgrove.

"It's going to be a very competitive tournament," Bookstore Commissioner Kevin McGee promises. "You have to look at Malicious Prostitution as a number-one seed, and Adworks will certainly be really tough."

Espresso Pizza, Tequila White Lightning and C.J.'s Pub could also make a run at the Bookstore Final Four, which will be held on Saturday, April 28th. The Finals will be played on April 29th.

Although the weather, of course, is out of McGee's control, he has done what he can to ensure that playing conditions will be good. New nets

see BEGIN / page 21

The Observer/Pat Kusek

Tom Sessi looks to pass off as students prepare for the Bookstore Basketball tournament. Bookstore will officially begin with the Hall of Fame game at 4:30 this afternoon when Parts Unknown Weight Unknown meets the Celebrity All-Stars. The rest of the tournament will get under way Saturday at 1:30.

On the road

Irish lacrosse travels to San Diego, page 21

Meeting Michigans

Women's tennis journeys north, page 22

Drama in Denver

Final Four previews, profiles, page 18

Darnell fits in well with Irish

By SCOTT BRUTOCAO
Assistant Sports Editor

"What we have to achieve on defense is a comfort zone—to be fundamentally sound. There is nothing more important than that. To be fundamentally sound is the basis of football."

If you guessed that these words came from a Notre Dame football coach observing spring drills, you are correct. If you guessed these sentiments came from Head Coach Lou Holtz, you're only half right.

Though the indispensability of having a solid command of the basics is central in Holtz's philosophy, he did not utter these words. The above quote comes from Gary Darnell, new defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach.

The fact is that the philosophies of Darnell and Holtz cohere to such an extent that you can almost interchange the names with the words.

Consider Holtz: "The defense should come on. I just want to see us get better fundamentally and get to where we have to be."

The inclination to panic about this mutual concern is still a long way off. In fact, such question marks on a team is only natural in spring football, especially when there are four coaches who are acclimating themselves to a new football team.

Darnell, former assistant coach at Florida, is only the most visible of the new coaches. New on the Irish crew are defensive line coach Dick Bumpas, running back coach Peter Vaas, and receivers coach Skip Holtz, son of Lou.

Darnell has taken to the Irish program with vigor. At practice on Wednesday, Darnell was jogging back and forth from watching his defensive platoon to instructing them in the hud-

see COACH / page 22

Names are the name of the game in Bookstore's celebration of creativity

In this tourney, the game is the name or the name is the game, whichever you prefer.

There are Viva la Gip, Paradise Jam, the Blue Brothers and Just Plain Ugly. Mix those with Unmarried With Children, We Can Do Some Good Things, Peaches' Latenight All-Stars.

Complement those with 693 other names and you have Bookstore Basketball XIX, maybe the most consistent event in the world. The hoops count one like always, the three-pointer is uninvented and roman numerals are still in style.

But it's the name that counts, and this tourney has its share of good ones.

Five Girls Without a Name Who Just Want to Play probably won't play long, while the Jimmy Johnson Fan Club and Five Other Guys reflect that times change slowly.

Five PW Girls Who Just Want to Play With Boys might help teams like ND Guys That Can't Score and Five Guys Lookin' To Score This Spring advance to the second round.

Some teams like Earwax, Bye and On get to the point, but a team like "Prof. Houck asks 'What's the Story and What's

see NAMES / page 17

Greg Guffey
Sports Editor

ND hosts Badgers Saturday after match at Miami of Ohio

By BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

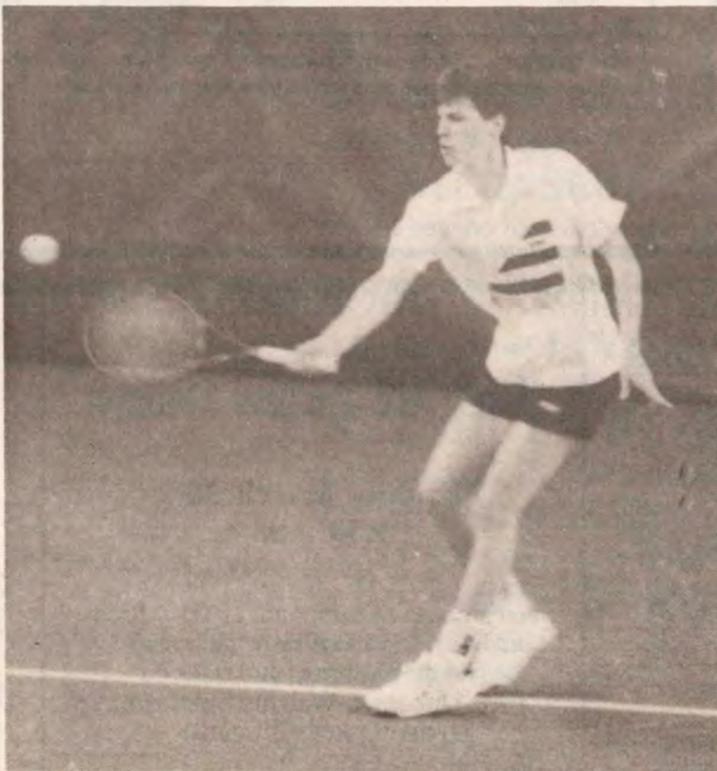

For the majority of the past three years, an invitation to the NCAA Collegiate Tennis Championships was a product of the Notre Dame players' imagination. But as March winds to a close it is reality.

With the focus of the Irish eyes on obtaining a regional bid, one of four that are given nationally, Head Coach Bob Bayliss's squad is putting it all on the line this weekend as his team travels to Miami of Ohio on Saturday and then makes a quick return home to take on Wisconsin, the top-ranked team in the Midwest.

All that Notre Dame has accomplished this season, i.e. its first ever national ranking, wins over No. 8 TCU, No. 20 Duke, then 24th-ranked West Virginia and No. 25 Minnesota, could become an exercise in futility the Irish fall prey to two of their most competitive Midwestern foes.

On Saturday, the Irish will travel to Miami of Ohio to take on a very experienced, senior-oriented squad. Under the reign of Bayliss, the Irish have never knocked off Miami. And this year's journey could prove to be a measurable task.

see TENNIS / page 17

The Observer/Trey Raymond

David DiLucia and the Notre Dame tennis team will host the Wisconsin Badgers at noon on Saturday and travel to Miami of Ohio this afternoon for big matches with an NCAA bid at stake.

Irish baseball ready for ESPN spotlight

By MIKE KAMRADT
Sports Writer

This week, you can't mention Notre Dame baseball without saying ESPN in the same breath.

"The stuff with ESPN, that's over," states Irish head coach Pat Murphy. "It's time to take one more step. We're preparing for this game the same way we prepare for every game."

It's not that Murphy isn't happy with the fact his ballclub will be playing before a national TV audience Saturday night. On the contrary, he couldn't be happier, but now it's time to face the task at hand. That next step is not only facing the Illinois Fighting Illini (7:30 at Covaleski), but beating them. That will prove to be a formidable task.

"This is the most explosive team we'll face all year," explains Murphy. "They're a senior-junior dominated team with a lot of maturity. We'll have our work cut out for us."

Illinois has beaten Texas and Oklahoma twice, as well as other national powers Cal State-Fullerton, New Orleans, and Michigan. The Illini have two Team USA players in third baseman Mark Dalesandro (.317) and centerfielder Kevin O'Connor. However, see ILLINI / page 19