

THE DAILY SCHOLASTIC

DISCE QUASI SEMPER VICTURUS VIVE QUASI CRAS MORITURUS

VOL. I.

NOTRE DAME, INDIANA, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1898.

No. 3.

Old Glory In Cuba.

INSURGENTS WILL CO-OPERATE.

The Scholastic's Dispatch Column.

WASHINGTON, June 15. — The minister at Washington for Argentine Republic has written letters reflecting on the United States government. They have found way into print in Argentine's newspapers. The matter will be investigated.

KEY WEST, June 15.—British steamer Twickenham, captured off Kingston by Auxiliary Cruiser St. Louis, arrived here today in charge prize crew.

TAMPA, June 15.—Colonel Hernandez of Cuban army brought letter to Gen. Miles, announcing Garcia, with 9,000 men taken possession of points near Santiago and ready to co-operate in attack upon city.

Madrid, June 15.—Spain thinks she sees a ray of hope in the possible intervention of Germany in the Phillipines. The politicians want to make the concessions to Germany announced this morning, and they seem confident that the Kaizer will come to their aid. No word is known to have been received from Germany, and there is very little danger that Wilhelm will take any hand in the Hispano-American difficulties.

Weather Indications.

Auditorium tower, Chicago. — Weather forecast for twelve hours:

INDIANA. — Generally fair and cooler tonight; northwest winds

Rt. Rev. Bishop Burke will address the Graduates tonight.

The Boat Races.

The races started promptly at 11 o'clock. A stiff wind was blowing down the lake at the beginning of the races and prevented fast time. The Sorin crew started from the south flag, while the Brownson crew had the lucky north course. Sorin and Brownson first crews got away on even terms, but Sorin soon gained a length which it lost on the turn. On the last two lengths Sorin gained and won by two and one-half lengths in 4:15, which is very fast under the circumstances. Brownson rowed a very plucky race. A mistake was made in the arrangement of the crews in last evening's SCHOLASTIC. Edward Rahe, stroke of the Sorin crew, is also captain.

Brownson second won the next race by a half length in 4:33 4-5. The race was one of the prettiest of the day.

In the third race the crews were on even terms until the last hundred yards. At this point Brownson forged ahead and won by a length. Time, 4:42. During the last race the wind died down and the boys made nearly their best time. By mistake the name of T. Hoban was printed in place of F. J. Thacker who was coxswain of the Brownson. Miss Dreyer pinned the medals upon the jerseys of the winners.

Mr. Francis Earle Hering acted as starter. The judges were Bro. Leander, Hon. W. P. Breen, and Col. W. E. Hoynes.

Closing Exercises at St. Edward's Hall.

The closing exercises of St. Edward's Hall were held this afternoon at three o'clock. The program was varied, consisting of selections on the piano, guitar and mandolin as well as recitations and chorus singing, and we can say in all sincerity that the success of the entertainment was nothing short of remarkable. In elocution, Masters Weber and J. Abercrombie, and in music E. O'Connor deserve special mention, as, indeed, does everyone on the program, for they all bore themselves with the ease and grace of gentlemen and performed their parts in a manner worthy of much older amateurs. The excellence of the entertainment was proof—were proof needed—of the patient and thorough instruction given the students of St. Edward's Hall, for it is no easy task to fit boys of their age to give an entertainment such as that of this afternoon; and it must be a source of great pleasure to their parents to see the progress their sons have made; and a knowledge of how well they are cared for and instructed must be compensation for the few month's deprivation of their company. Rt. Rev. Bishop Rademacher who pre-ided the exercises, said that St. Edward's Hall was the best school for boys in the country, and certainly if the students follow on the lines laid down for them they should develop into cultured, Christian gentlemen.

The exercises today mark the close of a very successful year.

Chief Justice Howard Honored.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the President, faculty and guests of the University assembled in the St. Cecilian lecture room for the formal presentation of the Lætare Medal to Hon. Timothy E. Howard, chief justice of the supreme court of Indiana.

The Lætare Medal and its significance is familiar to our readers and it is unnecessary to comment on the fitness and wisdom of the selection of Justice Howard as this year's recipient. A cut of the presentation address appears in another page of this issue.

The Rev. President Morrissey, in the name of the University made the formal presentation in a few well chosen and appropriate remarks. Judge Howard in accepting this, his Alma Mater's highest honor spoke as follows:

When I consider the many eminent men and women to whom the Lætare Medal has been awarded—poets, artists, orators, warriors and statesmen; men of science, literature and philosophy; when I consider, too, that the custom of giving this medal is an American adaptation of the example of the August Father of Christendom in bestowing the golden rose annually upon some noble lady who has deserved well of the Church and of society; so that the recipients of the golden rose and the Lætare Medal are associated as kindred bands of superior men and women, set apart as marked by high attainments in Christian excellence; and when I realize that I have been invited by my Alma Mater to take my place as a member of so distinguished a company, I can but feel how great is the honor conferred and how unworthy the recipient.

Ever partial to whatever I have tried to do, since the first day I entered these sacred precincts, now nearly forty years ago, Notre Dame has added to all her favors this crown of honors.

One reason only can I find why I should be so selected for this distinction. I have seen this noble University grow from a struggling but ambitious academy to a great seat of learning. I have known as dear friends all the devoted men of God who have wrought the great work; it has been my great privilege to partake with them in the toils and trials which have under providence brought about so miraculous a growth; and now on my unworthy head this dear Alma Mater wishes to place this mark of her affection that I may before the world represent the many modest, untiring and devoted men, living and dead, who have here wrought so well and brought this to pass, that the tender plant that was set here in the wilderness in 1842 has developed into the magnificent tree of 1898 under whose branches so great a multitude of American youth has sought shelter. As representing those holy workers who have sought no honor for themselves, I accept this Lætare Medal and will wear it for them before the world.

May the great University of the West go from year to year, still doing the good work appointed to her from the beginning, sending forth her crowds of generous and trained Christian youth; that our beloved America may more and more be blessed in the higher, brighter and purer life of her citizenship, by the quiet studies and noble teachings of Notre Dame.

At the conclusion of the Judge's words his many friends gathered about to offer their congratulations.

The SCHOLASTIC joins in offering congratulations to Judge Howard upon this honor, and to Alma Mater upon having a son so worthy of her proudest crown.

At the last meeting of the executive committee of the Athletic Association, Mr. Paul J. Ragan, '97, was elected to the office of manager of the base ball team for the season of '99. The office was tendered to Mr. O'Shaughnessy, who in the work of the season, has been most successful in managing the Varsity of this year, but he declined to accept, on the plea that he would not be able to give the necessary time to the work. Mr. Eugene A. Delaney was elected manager of the basket-ball team for '98 and '99. Mr. J. J. Crowley, 1900, was chosen as alternate.

The accounts for the full season have not yet been balanced; but indications are that the year has been a successful one in finances.

The New Gymnasium.

The fall term of '98 will witness the opening of the new gymnasium. The building has been modelled after the plans of the most modern college and athletic club gymnasiums, and in its adaptability and equipment for all kinds of sports will be second to none.

The gymnasium proper has 100 x 35 feet of floor space, and the gymnastic furnishings are new and modern in every sense. The students will exercise under the supervision of an instructor.

The most important feature of the gymnasium is the athletic room on the first floor. This is the largest room—unobstructed by pillars and devoted entirely to athletics—of any gymnasium in the country. The room is 100 x 165 feet; the walls are 25 feet high and without windows, the light coming through skylights in the roof. This roof is circular and is supported by arches that span from wall to wall. The floor is ground, and the room is bounded by a running track which has eleven laps to the mile. The size of the room, it being much larger than a baseball diamond, will permit of basket-ball, tennis, baseball, hand-ball and track athletics.

A part of the building is used for a locker room, where each student may keep his gymnasium equipment. There are also bath rooms, half a dozen shower baths, dressing booths and rooms devoted to the necessities of the different kinds of athletics. All athletic work will be done under the immediate care of the physical director. The college physician will examine all students, to determine their fitness for physical work, and the exercise permitted will be in accordance with this examination.

During recent years careful attention has been given to all forms of outdoor sport, with the object of individual development rather than athletic prestige. The personnel of the teams is composed solely of students, and every position on the teams is secured by competition.

The football teams have all the necessary accoutrements for the games, in addition to a coach, men to train and keep the players in proper physical condition, and training tables. Most of the games are played at Notre Dame, but several trips are allowed to other colleges and Universities.

The baseball teams have all the advantages of the football teams.

ing, vaulting and hurdling. The new gymnasium was built with a special view to this branch of sport, and the track room is so large that all track events can be accommodated, including bicycle racing and putting the shot. All the facilities which the baseball and football teams have for training are shared by the students interested in track athletics. The University team is a member of several associations among the colleges, and the rivalry of these meets, keep alive an intense interest among the students.

St. Joseph's Lake permits of resent the student body as heretofore. The Faculty board will determine the amateur standing of the members of the athletic teams, and apportion the finances. The President of the University, who is chairman of the Faculty board, will keep in close touch with all departments of athletics through the physical director, who shall be responsible to the President only. By this means indiscreet and unconsidered actions of the students will be checked, and athletics will thereby be put on an equal footing with those of other western universities.

Equipment is furnished for those who desire to play, and inter-hall teams provide amusement for the students, and keep alive a healthy rivalry.

Basket-ball furnishes sport for a winter's evening. The games are played in the athletic room, which has a gallery overlooking it, able to seat 1000 persons. The best teams from the Chicago branches of the Y. M. C. A. insure close contests.

Many of the students devote their recreation hours to track athletics which include running, jumping, walking, weight throw-safe boating, and the boats of the University and seats in the crews are open to all students. The coaching of a well-known oarsman has been enjoyed, and much progress made in the technical knowledge of the sport.

All athletics will be governed by a Faculty board of control in conjunction with the students' committee. The President of the University and members of the Faculty will compose the administrative board, and reserve the right of a final determination of all questions concerning athletics. The students' committee will rep-

At Hotel d'Haney.

On Sunday afternoon the Varsity wended its way toward Hotel d'Haney. The occasion was a banquet which was tendered them by Professor Edwards in the south dining room of the hotel, and it was given because of the victory over Stagg's men. There were toasts, of course, and there was singing, too,—not artistic singing, but noise enough to show that everyone was happy. Prof. Edwards has the sincere thanks of all for his "spread" and also for Sunday evening's entertainment.

THE DAILY SCHOLASTIC.

Notre Dame, Wednesday, June 15, 1898.

Published daily during Commencement Week.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, Notre Dame, Indiana.

The Board of Editors.

ELMER J. MURPHY, '97;
PAUL J. RAGAN, '97; THOMAS A. MEDLEY, '98;
FRANK E. HERING, '98; RAYMOND O'MALLEY, '98;
WILLIAM SHEEHAN, '98; FRANK W. O'MALLEY, '99;
EDWARD J. MINGEY, '98; JOHN F. FENNESSEY, '99;
JOHN J. DOWD, '99; FRANK J. F. CONFER, '97;
LOUIS C. M. REED, {
FRANCIS O'SHAUGHNESSY, { Reporters.

THE SCHOLASTIC wishes to congratulate Judge Howard upon receiving the Lætare Medal of '98, and the regents of the University on their excellent selection of a candidate for the highest honor in the power of the University to confer.

biographical notes, however brief. The volume will not be published until the close of the War.

THE illuminated address presented with the Lætare Medal, a representation of which we give on the opposite page, was the work of the artists of St. Mary's Academy upon whom it reflects the highest credit. The design is of great beauty and every detail is worked out with exquisite care and skill. It is not too much to say of the coloring that it recalls the best specimens of illuminating. To present the Lætare Medal with an address like this must enhance its value in the eyes of the recipient.

A reliable weather prophet submits the following predictions for the next twelve hours. He lives on the spot, and he thinks he ought to know the atmospheric mutations here better than they do in Chicago. Occasional showers with alternate moonshine. A cool breeze toward morning.

THE Rev. D. Frederic George Lee, the distinguished Anglican divine of London, has presented an exceedingly rare and valuable work to the University library. It deals with the history and antiquities of Thame Church, Oxford, and consumed twenty years of labor. Only 210 copies were printed and there is only one other in the United States.

A COMPLETE list of all the Notre Dame boys in the Army and Navy is being compiled. There is a goodly number in each branch of the service. Information concerning them will be gratefully received by Rev. Father Moloney who is collecting data for a memorial volume. He is particularly desirous to have photographs and PROBABLY the next building to be erected at Notre Dame will be the new fire-proof library. Every one is so deeply interested in this structure that it would be no surprise to see ground broken for it any day. The best plans will be adopted and every detail of the structure carefully supervised. A fire-proof library building is certainly a great need at Notre Dame, where an invaluable collection of books, MSS., and literary material of all kinds has long existed. Professor Edwards has been an indefatigable collector, and has gathered a wondrous amount of the most precious material bearing upon the history of the New World. The library will absorb numerous private collections of books, etc., which have long been awaiting a permanent and safe abode. Here is a golden opportunity for some public-spirited man to distinguish himself and at the same time confer a lasting benefit on Notre Dame and the country at large.

A Curiosity.

NILES, MICH., June 14.—A meteor fell at Awntonio, Ohio last night, demolishing the residence of Mr. Mungo Pryor and causing the wildest excitement among the colored population of the place. The entire police force was called out to restore order. The estimated weight of the meteor was thirty tons.

This dispatch is a veritable curiosity. Deception could not possibly go further. We are in a position to deny every statement made. In the first place, if a meteor were to strike Awntonio, there would be nothing left of it. Mr. Pryor himself happens to be the only colored resident of the town, and he was never known to disturb its serenity in the slightest way. In fact, the peace of Awntonio was never disturbed but once, and that was when Coxey's army passed in the far vicinity. The entire police force of the place consists of only one man and he is seldom on duty, though always in readiness. There have been no arrests in Awntonio for forty years. Things have come to a sorry pass when unscrupulous press agents can find nothing to lie about but Awntonio. The dispatch we have commented upon is a curiosity, and its author we brand as a rare specimen of brazen mendacity.

O blessed Christ, to die for dreams,
Nor know that dreams would die!

—Zangwill.

© BLESSED CHRIST, who conquered
Death,

Whose three and thirty years
Have taught us Life's supremest breath
Is drawn through toils and tears!

Brighter the rays above Thee shine
As centuries go by;
Slain not for dreams, but Truth Divine—
The Truth that can not die!

HONORABLE F. M. HOWARD,
JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF INDIANA.

THE REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME have had especial pleasure in awarding to you the distinction of the LÆTARE MEDAL.

If at all times it is gratifying to recognize ability and to reward merit, it is peculiarly so when the candidate is one near and dear to us. Your personal worth as well as your public services, your devotion to country in war and in peace, would fully entitle you to preferment; but, more than this, you are a son of Notre Dame, endeared to her by ties that are tender and of long duration. Hence our happiness on this occasion. It can not be more gratifying to you to receive than for us to bestow upon you the

LÆTARE MEDAL FOR 1898.

You have set an example to the Catholic young men of America which it is a duty no less than a pleasure to point out. You have proved that industry and integrity are sure stepping-stones to success, that character is above wealth or social station, that fidelity to religion is not incompatible with the exactness of public life. At a time, too, when the high ideal of the judicial office is often lost sight of, you have shown how the snow-white ermine should be preserved from the slightest defilement. More than this need not be said. There is no one among your friends or associates that does not know how well you deserve the medal we now place on your breast. May you wear it for long years, and may it be one of many marks of recognized worth and acknowledged service to religion and country!

The Coming of the Chicago Alumni.

The Notre Dame Association of Chicago is represented at the Commencement by a large delegation. Chicago is a stronghold of Notre Dame men, and all of them that can get away visit Alma Mater at Commencement time. This year's delegation is large and it is very welcome. The members left Chicago this morning on a special train on the Lake Shore road, and arriving at South Bend at ten o'clock they repaired in a body to the College. At the entrance to the grounds they were met by the President, students and University Band, and were given a rousing reception. The line of march was taken up to the lake where the regattas were witnessed, and at their conclusion the members of the delegation circulated among their friends and talked of bygone days at Notre Dame and of the University's future.

Among those of the delegation were:

J. T. Healy, Miss Mary Fearon M. Fleischer, Mrs. Patrick Monahan, Jerry Gordon, Mrs. S. H. Regensburg, Clement Gordon, Miss Lizzie Padden, Miss E. Grady, Charles E. Ray, Miss Lucy Grady, Joseph Ray, Mrs. M. J. Shipley, Mr. R. Powers, M. Naughton, Mrs. M. McGeeney, Mrs. C. H. Bohanon, Mrs. Jas. H. Ward, Mrs. J. M. Dowling, Miss Nora Dowling, Miss Eveline Dowling, Mrs. W. S. Fowler, Miss M. J. O'Connor, Miss Katherine O'Gara, Miss Rose Hynes, Mrs. D. Lyns, Miss Lucy Conway, Miss Alice Krause, Rev. C. J. Eschmann, Cairo, Ill., Brother Pius, A. Hanagan, J. F. Kennedy, F. M. Keough, Charles Kearney, J. J. Abercrombie, Thos. Scanlan, N. D. Laughlin, Jerry Hart, David J. Wile, Mrs. J. S. Hummer, pres. Geo. S. Crilly, Frank W. Ingnoll, Miss Maud Garrity, Miss Nora Laughlin, Miss Anna Carney, Miss Agnes Burns, Mrs. E. J. McCarthy, Rev. J. F. Callaghan, P. Phillip, Mrs. N. Hunt, Miss Anna Hunt, Frank Savage, Miss G. W. Foley, M. F. Raftree, Miss Ruth Blair, Mrs. M. M. Keef, Miss Lilian Keef, F. M. Kehoe, E. J. Howard, Dr. Richard J. Tivnen, Ed M. Schaak, P. L. Garrity, D. J. Conway, J. Robbins and wife, J. Crowley, and wife, Miss Ella Crowley, Mrs. E. S. Dreyer, Miss M. Tuly, Miss Francis Burdick, K. G. Schmitt, Miss Kellner, Mrs. J. Keley, Miss Anna Schoenmacher, A. Freschl and wife, M. J. Brousfeld, Patrick H. Fleming, Wm. E. Fleming, P. J. Kasper, John Fitzgerald, and wife W. M. Devine, Rev. J. F. Clancy, Mrs. Geo. Schoonover, Miss M. A. McShane, Otto C. Eigholz, Dr. J. A. Hunsteger, J. F. Kennedy, J. S. Hummer, J. M. Burns, Arthur Koughie, H. V. Hayes, M. M. Fecte, Hugh O'Neill, P. T. O'Sullivan, David O'Leary, Judge Gibbons, Harry Fitzgibbons, L. P. Devine, J. J. Healy, Chas. T. Cavanagh, Fred While, Hugh R. Mason, Jeremiah Spilliard, Daniel P. Murphy, Ed. M. Roby, W. W. Marr.

The Veil of the Future Lifted.

[A Communication.]

DEAR EDITORS OF THE SCHOLASTIC:

All the girls are considerably worked up about a remarkable dream Nadine had two weeks ago. Nadine is the most spiritual of all your admirers, and ever since she saw your photographs in the Easter number she has dwelt long and lovingly on thoughts of you, so that I am inclined to put more faith in her dream than any of the other girls. As for Nadine herself, she relies absolutely on the truth of what she calls her vision. The others—well, they are amused at Nadine's seriousness, all except my sister, who thinks there is something in it. The girls met at our house last night and we discussed your future. Renée asked with a smile:

"In what form did Elmer Murphy appear to you?"

"He seemed careworn and sad and old. His remarkable success for thirty years as dramatic critic for The Chicago Leader had not dimmed his eyes to the thought that he had wilfully neglected poetry for a minor part in literature. I encouraged him and pointed with admiration to the stage, which he had found corrupt and which now, through his almost unaided efforts, had become the glory of twentieth century civilization; but he shook his head sadly." And Nadine's large, blue eyes looked contemplative.

"Go on, what of Paul Ragan?" suggested Alice.

"Paul Ragan,—a justice of the Supreme Bench of Ohio, later, and Attorney-General in President Sheehan's cabinet. A handsome, gray-bearded, hearty old gentleman, somewhat of a dandy and very particular about formality."

"President Sheehan! Good; but I always thought that William would be either a Doctor of Divinity or a tragedian," sighed Maud, somewhat disappointed.

"Tell us," ventured I, "What Earle Hering comes to."

"No bad end, I hope," laughed Grace.

"Frank"—she always speaks of him as Frank—"is the poet laureate of America. His stirring poems during the late Hispano-American war brought him quickly and permanently to the front and, Congress recognized his services by creating a new office for him, which he fills with all his simplicity—his real greatness—and his wonderful gifts of inspiration and expression."

We all laughed at Nadine's enthusiasm, but she seemed hurt thereby and murmured as though to herself:

"But there lies in the evening sky—
The evening sky that bounds my life—
A fairy face that guides my life,
That waits for me eternally."

"This is very interesting," remarked Blanche; "won't you cast Edward Mingey's horoscope for us? I'm dying to know how he fared amid so much of good fortune."

"Mr. Mingey," continued Nadine,—and we all bent eagerly forward to hear the verdict,— "Mr. Mingey is the Union Traction Co. of Philadelphia. He is a multi-millionaire with a large family of daughters and three dukes for prospective sons-in-law." For the first time since the recital began Nadine's eyes sparkled with mirth, but the rest of us were displeased.

"And John Fennessey," Nadine went on, is a soldier, a brigadier-general in the army. He is brave and fearless, and in the war he fought like Sheridan at the head of his soldiers by whom he was adored. I am proud of him." We all expressed our satisfaction.

Lydia, who is quite taken with John Dowd's stories, wondered what fortune should bring her hero, and Nadine answered that Professor Dowd still continued to write stories, it was true; but his chief work consisted in unearthing old Indian legends. His "The Sagamore and other Tales" and "Legends of the Six Nations," beautifully illustrated by Francis Ward O'Malley, received great praise from most of the archæologists.

"Francis O'Malley," she continued "is founder of a new school of art. His pictures in Falstaff are universally admired. He writes clever stories, too, in the vein of Mr. Kipling." Grace was visibly affected.

"O what about Raymond?" asked Renée breathlessly.

"He embraced a religious life and finds the happiness of the blessed in comforting the unhappy and praying for his vain and worldly classmates."

"Do you know? I always thought so," volunteered my sister, "and I'm glad Raymond's ideal was so high."

"Thomas Medley is a leading lawyer in Kentucky. During a term as circuit judge, he risked his life on more than one occasion by his fearlessness in denouncing and stamping out the ancient feuds of his native state. He is still, I am glad to say, hale and hearty and generally beloved. There is some talk among the party leaders to proposing him as successor of President Sheehan."

"The strangest thing of all," continued she, "is that I could not see Mr. Confer in my vision. I tried hard to find him, but he eluded me."

"Oh! we'll make Mr. Confer minister to Spain," ventured Madeleine.

"No," objected Blanche, "he has a heavenly voice, and I think we ought to make him a singer."

The successor of Jean de Reske," we all shouted in chorus. And that does not finish our observations about you, dear editors, but it is all I can possibly tell you of. I am sure we are very grateful to you and we are proud that you are all intended for such glorious careers.

Good-bye,

ONE OF THE BACHELOR SISTERS.

March Concert.

There was a new departure in the manner of conducting Notre Dame band concerts last evening. The Band marched from the band-room and played several stirring marches before the different buildings about the campus.

The novelty of the concert was thoroughly enjoyed last evening, and so long as the march concerts are few and far between they will be successful. The concert this evening will be given on the and the following selections will be played:

March—"Belle of Season".....Bratton
 "Poet and Peasant,"...Arr. by Meyrelles
 March—"Golden Dome,".....Preston
 Wartz—"Angel's Dream"....Kauptmann
 "Stars an Stripes Forever".....Sousa
 Inflammatus—"Stabat Mater."
 "March of the Marines,".....Hall

THE DAILY SCHOLASTIC congratulates Professor Preston and his musician. A hearty "goodbye and God-speed" are the parting words of all at Notre Dame.

Our Guests.

—Miss Agnes Curtis of Chicago is visiting her brother of Carroll Hall.

—Mrs. M. A. Swan and Miss Edna Shea of Elkhart were callers yesterday.

—Mr. A. J. Waggenman of St. Louis is the guest of his son, Mr. Eugene Waggenman of Brownson Hall.

Mrs. Brown of South Bend, and Miss Brown and Miss Schoolcraft of St. Mary's Academy attended the band concert last evening.

—The pleasure of a visit from Charles Warren Stoddard may be expected during the summer. We hope to see Dr. Egan also.

—Messrs. George and Albert Rahe and John Luffy, all of Pittsburg, are spending the week with Mr. Henry Rahe of Sorin Hall.

—The Hon. William P. Breen, (A. B. '77) of Ft. Wayne, Ind., is one of our most welcome guests. Mr. Breen will remain during the Commencement

—Mr. William Wilkins (student '94-'95) of Bay City, Mich., was welcomed by his old Notre Dame friends yesterday. Mr. Wilkins is accompanied by his brother, Mr. Fred Wilkins.

—Miss Katharine Powers, of Chicago, with her brother, Master John Powers, a former student of Carroll Hall, came to Notre Dame yesterday to attend the closing exercises.

—Mrs. James Marrison, her daughter, Miss Marguerite, Mrs. Francis Budde and Mrs. E. Falvey are among the representatives from St. Joseph, Mo., at the present commencement.

—Mr. Edward Hentges (student, '94-'95), of Sioux City, Iowa, will be at Notre Dame until Commencement Day. Mr. Hentges will be remembered by the older students as the short-stop on the '95 Varsity.

—The Abbé Hogan, whose services Dr. Zahm has secured for the annual retreat of the community, is one of the most eminent members of the Society of St. Sulpice. His reputation for learning and piety is widespread.

—Mr. Wm. E. Barrett, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is visiting his son,

Mr. Glenn Barrett of Carroll Hall.

—Mr. John Eggeman of Sorin Hall is entertaining Mr. Al Schöenbein (student '95-'96) of Fort Wayne.

—Miss Gray of Chicago, a member of the Class of '96 of St. Mary's, was a welcome visitor yesterday afternoon.

—Mr. Charles Sullivan (student '87-'90) has returned to his home in South Bend, after an absence of two years in Toledo, Ohio, where he was interested in the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Sullivan attended the concert last night.

—Mr. Charles W. Mercer, Traveling Passenger Agent of the Michigan Central, accompanied by Mr. Walter M. Weld, the South Bend passenger agent, visited Notre Dame friends yesterday afternoon.

—Mr. M. W. Dyer and Mrs. Dyer of Chicago with their daughter and son Miss Estelle Dyer and Mr. C. W. Dyer are spending the week with their Master Grant Dyer of St. Edward's Hall.

—Mr. C. F. MacDonald, of St. Cloud, Minn., Editor of the Times of that city, and commander of the St. Cloud Grand Army Post, is a visitor at the University. Mr. MacDonald hopes to enter his son here next year.

—Mr. Frank Dukette, of Mendon, Mich., has returned for the Commencement exercises. Mr. E. Rauch, of Indianapolis, another ex-student, managed to get away from his business for a week and he will also remain until Thursday. Mr. Dukette and Mr. Rauch were prominent in all the musical organizations of the University while here.

Presentation of Memorial.

This afternoon in the parlor Mr. John Hummer presented to the University a Memorial in behalf of the Alumni. The Memorial is beautifully decorated and is intended to commemorate the esteem in which the late Very Rev. William Corby was held. Father Morrissey accepted the Memorial in a few appropriate words.

RAILROAD GUIDE.LAKE SHORE.

GOING EAST.

No. 2.—Day Express	10:00 a. m.
" 6.—Limited Fast Mail	10:19 a. m.
" 10.—Chic. N. Y. and Boston Spec.	1:00 p. m.
" 14.—Eastern Express	6:18 p. m.
" 23.—N. Y. and Boston Express	11:12 p. m.
" 44.—Special Mail	4:43 a. m.

GOING WEST.

No. 37.—Pacific Express	4:17 a. m.
" 3.—Fast Mail, Limited	5:28 p. m.
" 175.—Elkhart and Chicago Accom.	7:26 a. m.
" 15.—N. Y., Boston and Chic. Spec.	12:33 p. m.
" 7.—Day Express	3:43 p. m.
" 23.—Western Express	6:10 p. m.
" 35.—Special Limited Mail	9:14 p. m.

Special Coaches on Trains No. 15, 7 and 23, June 16, 1898. Tickets to All Points, East and West, Can be Procured on the Grounds, or at the Ticket Office. Baggage Checked through to Destination.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL.

GOING NORTH.

Leave South Bend	9:20 a. m.
" " "	4:50 p. m.
Leave Notre Dame	9:29 a. m.
" " "	4:55 p. m.

GOING SOUTH.

Arrive South Bend	8:40 a. m.
" " "	4:20 p. m.

VANDALIA RAILWAY.

GOING NORTH.

No. 6.—Ex. Sunday, for St. Joseph	12:53 p. m.
" 14.—" " " "	8:20 a. m.
" 8.—To South Bend only	11:00 p. m.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 21.—To Terre Haute, daily ex. Sun.	4:45 a. m.
" 3.—" " " "	11:55 a. m.
" 15.—Ex. Sun., for Logansport	6:45 p. m.

GRAND TRUNK.

GOING EAST.

3:22 p. m.	11:52 p. m.	1:10 p. m.	6:15 p. m.
------------	-------------	------------	------------

GOING WEST.

3:02 a. m.	10:50 a. m.	2:35 p. m.	5:55 p. m.
------------	-------------	------------	------------

INDIANA, ILLINOIS & IOWA.

Depart, No. 1.—Mail and Express	7:00 a. m.
" " 9.—Local, Ex. Sunday	7:45 a. m.
" " 13.—Fast Freight	5:50 p. m.
Arrive, " 2.—Mail and Express	12:05 a. m.
" " 10.—Local, Ex. Sunday	5:30 p. m.

ALFRED KLINGEL'S SHOE STORE,

123 West Washington Street,
South Bend, Indiana.

Baker's Shoe Store,

108 S. Mich. St.,
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.

J. A. STOECKLEY, DENTIST,

111 West Washington Street,
SOUTH BEND, IND.

KELLY BROTHERS,

CONFECTIONERS,
206 S. MICHIGAN ST.,
SOUTH BEND, IND.

Within the Gates

—Hurrah for the St. Joe, Missouri, delegation!

—Our little friend Joe Abbott is very popular among the Carrollites.

—The first to subscribe for THE DAILY SCHOLASTIC was our old friend John.

—The Gym will be completed before September,—also the roof of the kitchen.

—The playgrounds of Carroll and St. Edward's Halls have been notably enlarged and improved.

—There is absolutely nothing the matter with Captain Greene and the military company. They are "all right."

—The prevailing weather of the past week was much appreciated, at least by the feathered denizens of the upper lake.

—The burning of the old ice house was not an unmixed evil. It is to be replaced by an improved system of cold storage.

—Our publisher desires to state that advertisements for THE DAILY SCHOLASTIC must be sent in not later than four o'clock, P. M.

—Make the acquisition of a copy of "Thoughts of a Recluse," and when you have read it you will say that you never invested half a dollar to better purpose.

—The evening walks around the picturesque St. Joseph's Lake, and the delightful bathing will be long remembered by the Carroll Hall boys.

—Orders for Prof. O'Malley's book may be left at the Students' Office, where it will be on sale within a few days. D. H. McBride & Co. are the publishers. Price, 50 cts.

—The next regular issue of THE NOTRE DAME SCHOLASTIC, which we may call our weekly edition, will contain matter of special interest hitherto appearing in the annual catalogue.

—The new fence on the road to Mt. St. Vincent has been painted in a color to harmonize with the landscape at the present season. The continuity of one's thought is no longer disturbed by absent boards and prostrate posts. Later on this inclosing structure is to be flanked by a lilac hedge.

Congratulations.

DEAR SIR:

I have just finished reading the first number of THE DAILY SCHOLASTIC, and hasten to offer you my heartiest congratulations. It reflects credit on all concerned in its production. Considering that it is the first daily paper ever published at a Catholic college, and that it is the forerunner of a Catholic daily newspaper, I feel proud of Notre Dame, and rejoice that this honor belongs to her. How it would have delighted Father Walsh and Prof. Lyons and many another of the old-time presidents and professors of the institution to see this paper! Send it far and wide, and let it reach every old student of Notre Dame. It will revive happy memories in them as it does in me.

Again I congratulate you, and wishing you and your paper and Notre Dame the fullest measure of success, I remain,

Very truly yours,

AN OLD-LINER.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY,

(One mile west of Notre Dame University.)

A SELECT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.

SPIRO,

CLOTHIER AND FURNISHER,

121 S. MICH. ST.,
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.

ADLER,

CLOTHIER AND FURNISHER,

107-109 S. MICH. ST., 108 W. WASH. ST.
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.

MOSES, S & J LIVINGSTON,
CLOTHIERS,

110 & 112 NORTH MICHIGAN STREET,
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.

McDONALD

PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO,

301 S. MICH. ST., COR. WASH. ST.

St. Joe Steam Laundry,

122 E. Jefferson St.,
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.

PATRICK SHEEKEY,

PROPRIETOR OF THE
NOTRE DAME & ST. MARY'S BUS LINE,

601 South Main St.,
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.

WINKLER BROS.,
WAGON MANUFACTURERS,
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA.