in great hurry

My dear Judge

If that Chicago gentleman replies to your admirable letter, pray, do not raise a controversy; just now.

The question of education disturbs many minds. It is not settled, but open to free discussion on all sides. Bro Gilmore could prove your correspondence that he oversteps his rights in speaking as he does in the name of all our Cath, much more easily than he (the correspondent) could prove Bro Gilmore to speak for all the Bps. Castles should speak for himself alone for he is far from being sustained in his views by all; Bro G. speaks for no one else but for himself.

But the question is not of poor Parochial Schools; it is for a University. The question is Notre Dame & Father S. & of nobody else. Father S. never asked a cent but of his friends.
