V. Kindly Dear Sir

In setting to right my drawers for the beginning of the year I find to my mortification that I have so long neglected to forward you the enclosed letter from my brother Charles -

Though after all,
if he is content in the opinion that no adverse result can arise until such time as the lakes are entirely dried up, there is no need of haste as that event is not likely to occur very soon if ever -

Mrs Stanton is in her usual health & the evening and all the household are blissful in the enjoyment of uninterrupted health - all join me in hearty congratulations; with sincere prayers that the new year has opened auspiciously for you and that it may bring in its course every good that you can wish

With much regard and esteem

Your friend & most

R. H. Living
