Prospectus.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME,

For many years favorably known, and liberally patronized, has passed through the present eventful year without injury from sources which have proved so highly detrimental to many educational establishments.

The different Departments have been more fully developed, both in reference to Classes and to Discipline. A new building has been erected for the further accommodation of the students of each department.

The health of the students has been remarkably good.

As heretofore, especial attention will be paid to the religious instruction of Catholic students.

The Faculty will be as full and efficient as ever; but owing to the expected arrival of the Visitor from the Principal House in France, no complete organization can be made, and it has been thought better to omit the names of the members of the Faculty until September, when they will be made known.

All letters should be addressed to

VERY REV. E. SORIN, President,
Notre Dame, Ind.

The Minim Department.

Great attention is paid to the welfare of the young inmates of this Department; female teachers, fully competent to guide and instruct the young children, have charge of the Department. Separate rooms and recreation yards are allotted to the Minims, and the Sisters have charge of their wardrobe.

A class of Deaf Mutes will be opened next September.
