

QUADRANGLE NOW CLOSED TO AUTOS

AUTHORITIES MAKE STRICT REGULATIONS; TO BE EN-FORCED BY CONSTABLES.

The quadrangle has been closed to all traffic. Machines must park off the campus or at such places as have been designated on the campus and they will not be allowed on any of the roads in the vicinity of Sacred Heart Church or on those that lead up to the main building.

This order was issued yesterday by the university administration officials. It was decided that this order would be permanent, the only exception being the President's car.

It is hoped by the administration that the traffic problem on the campus will be taken care of by this action. During the past few years various traffic regulations have been of little avail. The present order will be enforced by officers.

Violators to Be Arrested.

The administration has secured constables to enforce this ordinance during all hours of the day and night. Violators will be arrested, and their cases will be tried in South Bend.

The campus has been closed at the main entrance at the postoffice and at a point fifty feet west of Sacred Heart church. Police signs have been placed at these points to give due warning.

Parking Space Provided.

Parking space has been provided as follows: The Dore road, which runs east and west past the Notre Dame postoffice to the Niles road; the space between the old Agriculture building and Science hall. There will be absolutely no parking by the Law building but cars may park east of the road running in the rear of this building. These regulations go into effect immediately.

Prof. Reynolds Gives Interesting Reading

Before a fair-sized and appreciative audience Professor Reynolds, of the public speaking department, gave a most interesting rendition of "A Tailor Made Man" in Washington hall last night. The play was in four acts, and Mr. Reynolds received much applause following each act, particularly the first.

Most remarkable and entertaining was the way in which Professor Reynolds displayed his mastery of characterization and simulation of parts. In interpreting John Paul Bart and Dr. Sonpag he was at his best. The way in which he rendered the two rather difficult dialect parts was also noteworthy.

The reading was without doubt among the best that has been heard in Washington hall this season, and the play itself proved to be a worthy vehicle for the talents of the reader. It was indeed well-chosen. Professor Reynolds is a graduate of the Leland Powers school of expression, as is Professor Sullivan, head of the department of public speaking. Mr. Reynolds well displayed the technique and theory of reading acquired at Leland Powers, last night in Washington hall.

CAP AND GOWN RENTAL EXTENDED TO MAY 15

A number of seniors have not yet been measured for a cap and gown for the commencement exercises in June. Because of the shortness of time remaining, it is necessary for all graduating seniors to attend to this before May 15, in order to insure delivery for commencement. Measurements will be taken in 110 Corby up until this date.

Senior Ball Plans Nearing Completion

The second order for favors for the Senior ball has been sent but there still remains time for an additional order. O. E. Desmond, ball chairman, stated yesterday. This will accommodate a number of seniors who have signified their intention of attending the ball, but as yet have made no deposit on their tickets. As soon as the first payment is made an engraved invitation will be sent to the ball guest. Because of the favors it is practically necessary that seniors attending the ball see one of the ticket committee this week.

Tickets may be purchased from O'Boyle, Dore, Smith, and Maher, in Sorin; Gallegher and Desmond, Corby; and Piser, and Kevill, downtown. The Senior ball advisory committee will meet Wednesday noon at 12:30 in 110 Corby.

Seniors who plan to attend the ball should make arrangements immediately for reservations at the dinner dance. There will be about thirty tables, accommodating four couples each. Those who have not reserved places at these tables will be assigned places in larger groups. These arrangements may be made with Bob Reagan, Joe Sheehan, Al Birmingham, Eddie Wollensock or Bill Gallagan.

The price of the leather invitations is fifty cents, total deposit with the order. Seniors are asked to see DePaolis, 319 Corby, Bailey, Corby, Ryan, Corby, Londo, 215 Badin, Emmett Miller, Sorin.

INDIANA NINE TO MEET IRISH TODAY

CRIMSON SQUAD COMPLETES THREE GAME TRIP ON CARTIER FIELD.

Marking the third and last game of their northern trip, the Indiana baseball players will arrive on Cartier field this afternoon to meet the Notre Dame varsity nine in the first game of a home and home series at 4 o'clock.

The Keoganites, although having copped a special game with the Crimson ball tossers, 4 to 1 in Indianapolis last week, are looking forward to anything but an easy game with the downstaters. The Irish mentor may possibly change his line-up to some extent in order to further the batting power of the Blue and Gold squad. Past games have indicated plenty of hitting material on the team and a new order may strengthen the offensive power of the nine.

Lose to Minnesota.

The visitors opened their northern jaunt with a game at Minnesota which the Bloomington batsmen lost, 7 to 5. Reports from the game indicate the fact that the Crimson nine had the situation in hand several times and were in a fair way to win had not the infield wavered on a two base hit with the sacks filled.

Moomaw, Knight and Diller are regarded as the premier sluggers on the Indiana nine. Moomaw is Indiana's great backstop and major league scouts have been watching him in action. Diller is the bambino of the Crimson club and is a dangerous man at the plate.

Woodward to Pitch.

Les Mann is carrying a twirler this year who does not use a curve ball but who uses a fast ball and a changing pace with remarkable effectiveness. Woodward was experiencing a slight ailment with his arm when he took the mound in the Gopher game and was touched for 10 hits, struck out 6 men and sent 4 men to first base with four balls. With Woodward resting since the Gopher game in order to have his arm in the best possible shape for the Notre Dame game, the Irish will have to be primed for a swift offensive game this afternoon.

Gus Stange or Frank McGrath will draw the pitching assignment against Indiana and while possible changes in the line-up for today's game have not been announced, the rest over the week end is certain to have the Irish squad in fighting trim.

Scribblers Hold Regular Meeting

Members of the Scribblers' club held their regular business meeting last night, plans for a farewell banquet to Senior members being discussed. No date for this affair has yet been decided upon. Harry McGuire, former president of the club, read a one-act play which he has just finished writing. The play is a story of the sea.

Glee Club Completes 'Plans for Concert

Plans for the annual South Bend concert of the Glee club, to be held Friday evening at the Palais Royale, are nearing completion, according to Frank Howland, chairman of the arrangements regarding the South Bend affair. A number of prominent South Bend people will be patrons for the concert and ball following.

A partial list of the patrons and patronesses includes:

Rev. William A. Moloney, C. S. C., Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Erskine, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, Mayor and Mrs. Eli F. Seebirt, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Stoeckley, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Olney, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Lent, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Bertling, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Christman, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bonds, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wills, Mrs. Marjorie Berteling Galloway, Miss Maude Weber, and Miss Josephine Decker.

Single tickets will be placed on sale downtown Wednesday noon. Following the concert a ball will be given for those attending the affair. The music will be by Harry Denny's Collegians. The dance has been announced as formal or informal. The concert will begin at 8:15 under the direction of Dr. J. Lewis Browne. The program will be announced later.

CONNELL BETTER AFTER OPERATION

FOOTBALL STAR HAS SERIOUS
ATTACK OF APPENDI-CITIS.

BELOIT, Wis., May 5.—Ward "Doc" Connell, one of the famous group of halfbacks playing with the Notre Dame football team last fall, is resting easily following an operation for appendicitis performed here. The operation was of a serious nature but the gridiron player is doing very well.

"Doc" Connell, who starred in several games last fall because of his slashing off tackle drives has been a resident in Corby hall until recently. News of his operation reached the university Sunday, and the above message is the first since that time.

Connell is expected to be back next fall and unless the operation weakens him he will undoubtedly again be with the varsity.

He is the second member of the football team to leave school, Adam Walsh, captain-elect of the team, having gone to his home at Hollywood, Calif., several months ago to recover from an injury. In letters to friends on the campus the captain-elect reports that he is feeling much better.

FOURTEEN MORE GAMES ON BASEBALL SCHEDULE

The following games remained to be played on the 1924 Notre Dame baseball schedule:

May 6—Indiana here, May 9—Indiana there, May 12—Northwestern here, May 16—Illinois there, May 17—St. Viators there, May 20—Iowa here, May 21—Minnesota here, May 24—Iowa there, May 26—Wisconsin here, May 30—Michigan there, June 3—Wisconsin there, June 6—M. A. C. there, June 7—Western State there, June 14—M. A. C. here.

James P. Logan, Litt. B. '17, of Chicago, is visiting friends at the university and in South Bend.

O'NEIL ELECTED 1925 DOME EDITOR

LESTER HEGELE TO BE NEW BUSINESS MANAGER; MEET-ING WELL ATTENDED.

Dennis J. O'Neil, Litt. B., '25, of Mishawaka, Ind., was elected editor-in-chief of the 1925 Dome over his opponent Jay Fleming, at a well attended meeting of the Sophomore class yesterday noon. Lester G. Hegele, Commerce '25, Maywood, Ill., defeated Maurice McNulty, Brownson Hall, for the position of business manager of next year's edition of the annual. Wilbur McElroy, Architecture '25, was elected art editor at a previous meeting. McElroy had no opposition.

O'Neil Well Qualified.

O'Neil, a member of the Scribblers, was formerly on the DAILY staff, having conducted for a time, the literary column known as the "Ink-Well." He was also a member of the board of publications which produced the Scribblers' Book of Notre Dame Verse. He has contributed a number of articles to the 1924 Dome, O'Neil succeeds Jack Scallan, this year's Dome editor.

Much interest was manifested in the selection of the business manager, Hegele winning out by a close margin.

McElroy, the new art editor, has been a member of the art staff of the Juggler for the past two years, and his frequent contributions have met with much favorable comment.

The nomination of Sophomore class officers will be held in the library on Thursday at 12:30. Every member is urged to be present.

L. J. Murphy Heads Disabled Soldiers

Lewis J. Murphy, a member of the graduating class of 1923, and at present a post-graduate student in the Law school, was elected state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War at the annual convention of that organization, held in Kokomo, Ind., last Saturday.

At the time the United States entered the war, Murphy, then a student at Notre Dame, was one of the first to enlist, joining the marine corps. He was sent to France almost immediately, and after distinguishing himself in the Argonne he was commissioned a first lieutenant.

Murphy was seriously wounded in action, and returned to Notre Dame to complete his course. He has been active in veterans' organizations here, and during the year 1921-22 he was president of the off-campus men.

Joe McKeown, Corby, 1; Tom Green, Freshmen, 1; "Red" Smith, Walsh, 1; Dick Hanousek, Corby, 1; Walter Wilcox, Carroll, 1. CONCERNING THE LAUNDRY CASE

Because public interest has been so constantly centered upon the soldiers' bonus, tax reduction and political developments recently, the publicity, now being vended by an agency devised for that very purpose, in favor of better pay for postal clerks, has not won the attention which it deserves. Nearly everyone is indeed in favor of better pay for the postoffice employees—so long as the increase is paid by someone else; but such indifferent support is not very likely to be of much value.

Whatever opposition there may be to the movement, then, may be said to be contained in difference of opinion as to the best method of raising the increased revenue which would be necessary. Thus the proposition that has been made to make the newspapers pay much higher postage rates resulted in antagonizing the press to some extent. The editors regard such a proposition as practically prohibitive, since it would make the general circulation of newspapers over a wide territory much too costly. They believe that it would consequently advance the segregation of knowledge, which is certainly not desirable.

In order to enlist the wholehearted support of the press, therefore, the friends of the higher postal pay movement will have to evolve some plan of providing for the additional revenue. Perhaps the solution lies in the possibility of increasing parcel post rates. Thus the contents of the postal clerk's pay envelope may be of direct concern to each student who sends or receives a parcel. But those sending or receiving these boxes would hardly begrudge the few additional cents of postage if they could aid in maintaining a happier and more efficient postoffice personnel. If increased parcel post rates can bring about justice in wage paying and increase the efficiency in a service in which we are all interested, by all means let us accept them cheerfully.

AUTOS OR A HOME

A survey, in Monroe county, Indiana, shows that the value of autos in the county averaged $230, while the value of household furniture averaged only $130 to each home.

This should be a most interesting bit of news to many. The trend of the times is clearly toward an auto rather than a home. Take, for example, the people in your home town and consider the number of them who have machines and yet do not own a home. And of those who do own homes, are not many of them owners of automobiles which they secured by mortgaging the home?

It is not a very good indication when the auto takes precedence over the home. That condition of affairs is undoubtedly the cause of much unrest of the present day. It may even extend to the cause for so much divorce. The family cannot be kept together unless there is a home. And a home is quite different from a house, or a flat, or an apartment. It is what is inside the house, or the flat, or the apartment.

THE COMING ELECTIONS

Within the next two weeks, the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes will choose officers and S. A. C. representatives for 1924-25. No doubt the usual political machines will appear as is the custom at Notre Dame but it is to be hoped that care and conscientious endeavor to elect wisely will govern the voters in the various classes.

The men who have administered class affairs and served as members of the S. A. C., in the past have established a precedent by the capable manner in which they have carried on their work. It is most important then that the classes of the present elect men who will continue the work of the their predecessors and at the same time, keep pace with the progressing Notre Dame.

The qualifications of a candidate are very evident to everyone; they do not include, however, the ability to dodge decisions or the absolute lack of enemies. Too many candidates are strong merely because they have never raised their voices loud enough to make an enemy. College men, choosing officers to administer their affairs, spend their money, and represent them as their leader, should find many things to take into consideration beyond affability and a likeable personality.

It is hoped that in the approaching elections the voters in our little world of campus politics will look beyond the shimmering garb of popularity for the gold of common sense beneath.

Chicago Club to Elect New Officers Tonight

The Chicago club will hold its elections for next year's officers this evening at 8 o'clock in the Carroll "rec" room. The officers to be elected will take office on July 1, because of the summer activities of the club.

Only active members will be eligible to vote in this election, O. E. Desmond, president of the club announced. In accordance with the club's constitution, active members must be registered at the university as from Chicago, and not in arrears in dues. The list of eligible voters must be strictly followed. "Chuck" Collins, the secretary, will be in Carroll "rec" before the meeting to collect dues, and compile the eligibility list.

Chicago club elections have excited much interest in the past, and the strictness of the regulations governing tonight's elections should attract voters and attention.

At Other Colleges

PURDUE—The entire student body marched in a parade before the delegates to the Semi-Centennial celebration on last Saturday. Following this demonstration a special Purdue Convocation was held in the Memorial gymnasium as a close to the university's mid-century celebration.

NEBRASKA—The College of Agriculture began its sixth annual Farmer's Fair last Saturday. It included a varied program, starting with a mammoth street parade. Following this was a baseball game, a broncho-riding contest, dancing, and carnival shows on the midway. Large crowds attended.

MINNESOTA—Selection of the "May Queen" to lead the grand-march at the All-Junior May Frolic was begun last week among the holders of tickets. Twenty-five contestants are entered.

WABASH—The uniforms used by the college band have been sold to the Crawfordsville band. They were sold because it was the general opinion that the band looked too much like a military school organization.

Co-eds at Chicago University are forsaking the dance floor for the baseball diamond. Every day behind the library, on a grassy field hemmed in from public view by the surrounding buildings, bobbed-haired girls, clad in middies and bloomers, are learning the rudiments of the national pastime under the direction of an able physical instructor.

What Others Say

FOR MICHIGAN.

There are a great many promising youngsters in the old high school "back home" who will graduate this June. A large percentage of them are going to college and a surprisingly large number of these know absolutely nothing about colleges. They simply recognize the names, and usually are well informed as to the standing of the football teams. Of the real issues of college life they are ignorant.

During the summer vacations the men at Michigan will be back once more in the old home town. While there they will be doing a service to Michigan and a greater service to their high school friends if they take a few minutes of their valuable time to explain colleges, their aims, ideals, and relative merits in the fields in which the prospective university students are interested.

It is not necessary to coax men to come to Michigan. If it is to their greater advantage to attend some other section of the country, there is no reason why they should come to Ann Arbor. The difficulty lies in the fact that the high school boy does not know where his interest lies. He will be glad to know what Michigan offers, whether he decides to accept her advantages or not.

A better understanding between the universities and the high schools would be of great benefit to both, and the most natural and practical way to insure this understanding is through the medium of the high school alumni who are the present Michigan men.—The Michigan Daily.

Irish Tennis Team Returns from Trip

The Notre Dame tennis team engaging its first intercollegiate competition of the year returned Sunday from a three game trip through central Indiana where Butler, Indiana and Wabash were met on successive days.

The squad under the leadership of Captain Herm Centlivre, experienced a varied trip insofar as the results of the tennis matches were concerned. Butler and Indiana triumphed over the Irish court performers only after putting up a hard fight. Wabash, lost to Notre Dame when Donovan and Velasco scored wins in the singles.

The squad invaded the Butler courts last Thursday morning and lost to the Capital city team, 4 to 1. The doubles featured the Butler engagement with Lutz and Gonzalez of Notre Dame defending their colors against Loglowsky and Richards of Butler. The downstaters copped the match, 7-5, 4-6, 8-6. In the second doubles, the victory again went to Butler, 6-2, 6-1. Donovan and Centlivre playing for the Irish and Schroder and Kerzrock for Butler. Loglowsky used a chop stroke on the wet courts to good advantage and had little difficulty in defeating Donovan who was making his first appearance of the year on the outdoor courts. Kerzrock won over Velasco, 9-7, 6-3, while Centlivre took advantage of Richards wildness and copped one of the singles for the Irish, 6-3, 6-2.

The Blue and Gold net team journeyed to Bloomington the following day and lost the match to Indiana, 5 to 2. Donovan's consistent and at times flashy game was

TOURNEY SUCCESS ASSURED WITH LARGE ENTRY LIST

The annual Notre Dame tournament will be held up for one more day in order to allow all the entries to be received and filed. Although no specific figures were given out by the association the flood of entrants into the University tourney has exceeded all expectations of the club officials.

The entries for the tourney will close today and play will begin tomorrow on the South Bend Municipal links. Large numbers of the entrants in the tournament have spent the past several weeks of golfing weather out on the links preparing for the contest. The numerous valuable prizes which have been donated by local merchants for the winners in the various classes and which are on display in the windows of the Krauss Jewelry store in the Palace Theater building, have attracted a large number of aspirant golfers.

Among the several prominent university golfers who will compete in the tournament and who were instrumental in the success of the tournament last year are: Jack Adams, Joe Foglia, Jim Corbett, Joe DeLeo and Charley Mouch. The officers of the golf association expect that on the list of entrants will be many men of unknown calibre who will hang-up good scores.

The officers of the club wish to acknowledge the receipt of prizes from the following: Notre Dame athletic association, Krauss Jewelry store, Meyer Hardware and Jewelry store, Berman's Sport store, Stover's Sport store, and Clauser's Sport store.

Walsh Retains Lead in Interhall League

Walsh, Badin, and Brownson pushed ahead in the Interhall league as a result of their victories Sunday. In the only other contest staged, Off-campus won over Sorin aggregation, 14 to 6.

The Walsh-Sophomore contest was one of the best exhibitions of baseball that has been seen between interhall teams this season, the Walsh crew winning a seven inning game, 10 to 6. After getting a two run lead the first inning, Walsh allowed the Soph batters to pound across four runs in four innings, and tie the score. Both teams scored twice in the fifth, and the score stood six all. Walsh batters hit for a pair of runs in the sixth and added two more the last frame, giving them a four run lead, which was too much for Sophomore to overcome.

Walsh 2 2 0 0 2 2 2—10
Sophomore 1 2 0 1 2 0 0—6

Badin won a decisive contest from Cadillac on the Brownson skin diamond Sunday morning, 24 to 5. Badin scored in every inning with the exception of the third, 16 hits plus five errors by the Exiles accounting for the runs. McCarron on the mound for Badin held the Cadillac squad to four hits in seven innings.

Loose handling of the ball on the part of the Exiles accounted for a large number of the Badin runs.

Republican Primaries
May 6, 1924

The Notre Dame University Republican Club asks the support of every Notre Dame voter in favor of Mr. Funk, who is being vigorously opposed by an organization of so-called "100% Americans." Funk, if elected, will take part in naming the Republican candidate for the Governorship of Indiana. All voters in Portage, Harris and Clay Townships vote for this office, and if Anti-Funk vote in outlying districts is to be overcome, he must receive a large vote at Notre Dame.

for your summer session. Get your summer credits where excessive temperatures are rare. Where you can top off a half-day of brain work with a cool plunge in sparkling waters.

Thousands of students, these modern days, are combining their summer study with a change of scene—and getting a glorious vacation to boot. Marquette's summer courses are practically all in the morning. Study at night or in the afternoon. Play in the afternoon or night. Splendid beach bathing, boating, yachting, on Lake Michigan. Steamer trips to near-by lake cities. Swimming and canoeing on the lovely Upper Milwaukee River. Good golf and tennis. A new stunt every day if you wish—and a mind keen and refreshed for each morning's work.

Courses are offered in the College of Liberal Arts, leading to graduate and undergraduate degrees. Courses in the Department of Education. Special courses in music-teaching methods and public school music. Instruction in athletic coaching by the Marquette Coaching Staff.

The Summer Session begins June 23rd and ends August 2nd. There's a beautifully illustrated booklet waiting for you—send for it now. Write to the Secretary.
