laetare medal winner chosen

Speaker of the House Thomas J. (Tip) O'Neill, Jr., has been named as the 1980 recipient of the University's Laetare Medal, the oldest honor accorded American Catholics. The 67-year-old representative from Massachusetts' Eighth Congressional District is one of several public servants honored with the medal in its 97 years of existence but the first to receive it while an active member of Congress.

O'Neill was graduated from Boston College in 1936 and was elected on the Democratic ticket to the Massachusetts state legislature later that year. In 1948 he became the youngest majority leader in the history of the state. O'Neill ran successfully for a seat in the House of Representatives in 1952 and has remained there ever since.

The medal is expected to be presented to O'Neill at University commencement exercises May 18.

Association during the summer months should contact James R. Wruck, Room 105 Computing Center, prior to May 1, the deadline for team entries. League play begins May 14 and will continue each Wednesday afternoon until Aug. 20.

appointments

Joseph P. Mulligan, Los Angeles regional director of development for the University, has been appointed executive director of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, effective July 1. He succeeds John N. Cackley, who is retiring.

Warren J. Wong, professor of mathematics, has been named chairman of the Department of Mathematics, effective Sept. 1, succeeding John Derwent.

honors

Robert L. Amico, chairman and professor of architecture, was appointed by the Indiana Architectural Foundation to serve as a member of its board of directors for 1980-81.

Philip Gleason, professor of history, has been selected to be a member of the advisory board of the newly founded journal, Studies in Medievalism, published at Oxford, Ohio.

David J. Ladouceur, assistant professor of modern and classical languages, has been appointed Andrew W. Mellon Visiting Professor of Classics at Harvard University for the year 1980-81.

Gerhart Niemeyer, professor emeritus of government and international studies, has been invited to a visiting professorship at the National Defense Academy in Yokosuka, Japan, for the month of June 1980.

Donald E. Sporleder, professor of architecture, was elected vice chairman of the Indiana State Board of Registration for Architects at the January meeting of the board in Indianapolis and is serving as board coordinator for the Intern Development Program (IDP) in Indiana.

activities

Joseph P. Bauer, associate professor of law, was a guest on the Straight Talk program on Feb. 12, on WNIT-TV (channel 34, South Bend). He discussed "Problems of Censorship in the Public School System," with particular emphasis on litigation pending in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, involving the Warsaw, Ind., schools, in which he is counsel of record.

Thomas P. Cullinane, associate professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering, chaired a meeting of the advisory committee of the College Industry Council on Material Handling Education on Feb. 23, at the winter meeting of the Material Handling Institute held in New Orleans, La., Feb. 24-27. He also gave several presentations on council activities.

Linda C. Ferguson, assistant professor in the General Program of Liberal Studies, served as piano accompanist for a presentation by members of the Michiana Opera Guild to the Women's College Club of South Bend, on March 4.

Donald P. Costello, professor of English and professor and chairman of American studies, directed a college-wide seminar on "God's Silence and Bergman's Response" at Goshen College, March 5-11.

Richard J. Field, visiting associate professor of chemistry and scientist in the Radiation Laboratory, presented a seminar, "Catalyzed and Uncatalyzed Bromate Oscillators," at West Virginia University, Morgantown, on March 3.

Philip Gleason, professor of history, was an invited commentator at a colloquium dealing with Mexican-American immigration held at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., on Feb. 27.

Denis Goulet, O'Neill Professor of Education for Justice, gave a convocation address on "Appropriate Technology" for Ujaama Week at Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, on Feb. 27. Goulet also participated in other activities surrounding Ujaama Week, which was sponsored by Self-Help, a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping developing countries. Goulet lectured on "The Quest for Wisdom in a Technological Age" at a prospective seminar on "Models of Scientific and Technological Development in the Educational Sector" sponsored by Fundacion Javier Barros Sierra, held in Cocoyoc, Mexico, March 3-6.

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., University President, was one of four conveners of a National Cambodia Crisis Committee (NCCC) meeting with Rosalynn Carter Jan. 29 in the White House in order to launch a $100 million fundraising effort in the private sector for Cambodian relief.

Edward W. Jerger, associate dean of the College of Engineering and professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering, gave the annual Frank Bromilow Lecture at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, on Feb. 29. The topic: "Technology and Society, an Historical Perspective."

Bernard J. Kilbride, professor of finance, testified before the Indiana Senate Finance Committee in support of Senate Bill 329, Legislation to Permit Multibank Holding Companies, on Jan. 16 in Indianapolis.

Edward A. Kline, associate professor of English and director of Freshman Writing Programs, delivered a paper, "Microcomputers in Education," at the Third Canadian Symposium on Instructional Technology in Vancouver, B.C., on Feb. 29.

David J. Ladouceur, assistant professor of modern and classical languages, delivered a paper, "The Death of Herod the Great," at the annual meeting of the American Philological Association, in Boston, Dec. 29, 1979.

Gilburt D. Loescher, assistant professor of government and international studies, was an invited participant in a faculty forum sponsored by Chevron, U.S.A., Inc., in San Francisco, Jan. 13-16.

Eugene R. Marshalek, professor of physics, lectured on "How Microscopic Boson Expansions Work" at the International Conference on Band Structure and Nuclear Dynamics in New Orleans, Feb. 28-March 1.

Carl O'Nell, associate professor of sociology and anthropology, co-authored a paper (with Rolando Collado Ardon and Arthur J. Rubel) that was presented at the Jornades Anuales del Centro Medico Universitario de la UNAM, on Dec. 7, 1979. The title: "Algunas diferencias enpre enfermos con susto."

Kenneth F. Ripple, director of the White Center for Law, Government and Human Rights and associate professor of law, presented a lecture, "The Selection of Supreme Court Justices," at Windmoor House, South Bend, on March 7.

Ellen Bouchard Ryan, chairman and associate professor of psychology, presented a paper, "Development of Linguistic Awareness During the Early School Years," at the annual meeting of the Eastern Educational Research Association in Norfolk, Va., on March 6.

Thomas J. Schlereth, associate professor of American studies, delivered a paper, "Public Murals as Historical Documents: The WPA Evidence," at the Art Institute of Chicago Conference on Urban Design and Civic Aesthetics, Chicago, on Feb. 16.

James P. Sterba, associate professor of philosophy, presented a paper, "Welfare Rights: Their Moral Inescapability and Practical Applications," at the Center for the Study of Human Rights, Columbia University, New York City, on March 4.

- * Prof. Reginald F. Bain, Dept. of Speech and Drama. Models of directing for the theatre. $5,630.
- * Prof. John G. Duman and Prof. Frederick W. Goetz, Jr., Dept. of Biology. Isolation and purification of yellow perch (Perca flaverscena) gonadotropin(s). $4,830.
- * Prof. Nathan O. Hatch, Dept. of History. "Everyman His Own Physician:" The democratic revolt against the medical profession in America: 1800-1820. $2,737.
- * Prof. S. Graham Kelly, Dept. of Aerospace and Mechanical Engineering. Variational formulations of the vortex-lattice method and the method of continuous vorticity distributions. $2,574.
- * Prof. Charles F. Kulpa, Jr., Dept. of Microbiology. Isolation of mutants of thiobacilli and bacteriophage infective for thiobacilli. $2,750.
- * Prof. Robert E. Pitts, Prof. James R. Stock and Prof. Willbann D. Terpening, Dept. of Marketing Management and Dept. of Management. Trade off analysis of energy options. $6,157.

There were 23 proposals submitted for consideration for this year's competition.

notes for principal investigators

NASA Cost Sharing by Educational Institutions

In implementing the statutory requirement, appearing in various NASA appropriations acts, for cost sharing of research resultant from unsolicited proposals, NASA has, over the years, generally required that educational institutions share in the cost of such research. This requirement was derived from their understanding that there was generally extant a "mutality of interest" in such relationships thereby bringing into play the cost sharing requirement.

NASA has reassessed its cost sharing practices as they pertain to agreements with educational institutions and believe new direction is desirable and consistent with legislative intent. Since the activities of educational institutions under NASA research grants, cooperative agreements and contracts do not generally produce benefits that can be measured as having significance apart from the benefit intrinsic in conducting research for NASA, such agreements should, in such instances, not be subject to the cost sharing requirement.

Until further notice, cost sharing is to be omitted in unsolicited proposals to NASA.

The Center for Field Research Volunteers for Field Research

No. FY80-164

Program:

The Center for Field Research in Belmont, MA offers private funds and volunteer staff to scientists and humanists conducting field research. The center is cooperating with Earthwatch, a national volunteer organization, to provide sponsorship of field research and to improve the public's understanding of science.

Areas of Interest:

Both basic and applied research projects are considered, providing there is space available on the field research team for participating nonspecialists. Eligible disciplines include, but are not limited to: Anthropology, archaeology, art history, astronomy, biology, botany, cartography, conservation, ethology, folklore, geography, geology, historic preservation, marine sciences, medicine, meteorology, musicology, ornithology, public health, sociology and zoology. Interdisciplinary proposals are invited.

Deadlines:

Preliminary proposals may be submitted any time. Formal proposals must precede field work by nine months. The selection committee meets on May 15 and $0ct.\ 1$ each year.

Eligibility:

To qualify, the research must be able to utilize volunteers in the field work. The center favors field research directed by Ph.D.s; however, inclusion of graduate students as staff is encouraged.

Size of Grants:

Past awards ranged from $1,500 to $50,000 per project, depending on the number of volunteers involved.

Application Process:

For details, contact the Office of Advanced Studies, Division of Research and Sponsored Programs, Extension 7433.

National Research Council Transportation Research Board National Cooperative Highway Research Program

No. FY80-165

Research Project Title:

Partial Lighting of Interchanges.

Specific Problem Area:

Illumination and visibility.

Research Problem Statement:

As a means of facilitating the driving task and reducing the potential for accidents, partial lighting of interchanges has been used for areas where complete or continuous lighting was not deemed to be justified. Use of partial lighting is based on the premise that it will provide, at lower costs, many of the benefits attributable to complete interchange lighting. This premise is for the most part unsubstantiated and is subject to doubts concerning the effectiveness of partial lighting. Information is urgently needed to provide guidance concerning the effectiveness and conditions favoring the use of partial lighting of interchanges.

Objective:

The objective of this research is to determine the effectiveness of partial lighting of interchanges and to develop recommendations for its use. For purposes of this research, partial lighting is defined as lighting that consists of a few luminaries located in the general areas where entrance and exit ramps connect with the through traffic lanes of the freeway. This research will concentrate on the benefits of lighting rather than on the costs. Specifically, the cost of installing and maintaining lighting and the amount of energy used are excluded. Also, crossroad lighting at the ramp terminals is not to be included.

Deadline:

Proposals are due not later than 4:00 p.m., on April 14, 1980.

Proposal Guidelines:

For detailed proposal guidelines, contact the Office of Advanced Studies, Division of Research and Sponsored Programs, Extension 7433.

National Research Council Transportation Research Board National Cooperative Highway Research Program

No. FY80-166

Research Project Title:

Low Cost TSM Projects -- Simplified Procedures for Evaluation and Setting Priorities.

Specific Problem Area:

Impact analysis.

Research Problem Statement:

Various reports have identified categories and types of low cost TSM actions. Traffic engineering, ride sharing, transit operations and traffic restraint actions are examples of broad categories of low cost TSM projects. Goals for these actions include increasing transportation efficiency with a minimum of expenditures, reducing energy consumption and improving environmental quality and safety. Data are available to determine, in a general sense, the feasibility and applicability of these actions. Because of deficiencies in estimating impacts, there is a need to assemble, refine and/or develop systematic analysis methods to estimate quickly and evaluate the direct travel impacts of proposed low cost TSM actions in each category. In turn, these travel impacts can be used as input into estimating the effects of the specific TSM actions on energy consumption, air quality and safety factors. These estimates of impacts are needed to set priorities objectively for proposed projects within each category and against projects in other categories. Simplified methods are needed where a quick response estimate of the impact of the action is required, and where technical resources are limited.

Objectives:

The general objective of this research is to improve the capability of transportation agencies to estimate quickly the impacts of, and to determine priorities for, proposed, low cost TSM actions so that decisions can be made on better information.

Deadline:

Proposals are due not later than 4:00 p.m., April 14, 1980.

Rain Hill Group Sources Sought

No. FY80-203

Sources are being sought for research in the following areas:

Linear Transducer SS-00-1

Sources are sought for the design of a linear transducer having a zero to 16 inch stroke (±1/32 inch), and capable of operating in an environment in which the device will encounter dirt, dust, corrosive chemicals, high humidity, a temperature range form -40°F to 180°F and mechanical shock. The device is to be attached to a hydraulic cylinder which raises and lowers a heavy load. It must fit into the confined spaces on existing machinery and its output display should be capable of being read by an operator located at least 10 meters away from the transducer. The device must be adaptable to mass production and calibration at the time of assembly, and cost approximately $20 to manufacture.

Ozone Generator SS-00-02

Sources are sought for 2 prototype ozone generators having the same basic design. The two models should have output capacities of 1-10 lbs. ozone/day and 10-100 lbs. ozone/day respectively. Controls incorporated into the design should regulate airflow, ozone flow, cooling water, electrical power and safety interlocks. These controls should be capable of both automatic and manual operation. Cabinet enclosed and skid mounted units must be derived from the same design. Reliability and cost are major considerations.

Chemical Pump SS-00-03

A design or prototype for a canned chemical pump is needed for such applications as missile fueling, mercury handling and circulating radioactive water in atomic power plants. The specifications call for a leakproof, canned, sealless motorized pump to handle such fluids at operating temperatures from $-300^{\rm OF}$ to $+1000^{\rm OF}$. The pump should have capacities to 2000 gallons per minute, system pressures to 5000 pounds per square inch with motor sizes to 150 HP and heads to 1000 ft. total dynamic head. The client would consider components for such a pump, manufactured from new, higher technology materials and new motor/electrical systems as well as a complete pump to fit the specifications.

National Science Foundation U.S.-Latin America Cooperative Science Program

No. FY80-204

A new program announcement in NSF's Division of International Programs describes opportunities for support of international cooperative science activities involving developing countries of Africa, Asia, Latin America and the independent nations of the Caribbean. The Science in Developing Countries program will consider proposals for three categories of awards: 1) dissertation improvement grants for research to be performed by a student in one of the developing countries on a problem within that country; 2) conference grants for the support of travel and other expenses associated with bilateral seminars, workshops and colloquia; and 3) grants for the support of research participationeither by a U.S. scientist in an institution within a developing country or a scientist from a developing country in a U.S. institution. The program will operate on a continuing basis, subject to the availability of

The next deadline for the submission of proposals is Sept. 1, 1980.

National Science Foundation Antarctic Research Projects

No. FY80-205

The next target date for receipt of proposals for Antarctic research projects is June 1, 1980. Proposals received by that date will be considered for support using fiscal 1981 funds. While research projects not involving activities in Antarctica might start as early as Dec. 1980, projects involving work in Antarctica may not begin until the Antarctic summer season of 1981-1982 (Sept. 1981 through March 1982). This 15 month or longer delay between receipt of proposals and fielding of project is necessary to plan logistics and support in the field.

An information kit has been prepared containing description of Antarctic research opportunities and of facilities and support available in and near Antarctica. The kit contains logistics and field suport forms that must be filled out and submitted with the proposal. Kits may be obtained from the Division of Polar Programs' Polar Information Service.

National Science Foundation Science in Developing Countries Program

No. FY80-206

The U.S.-Latin America Cooperative Science program seeks to foster and support mutually beneficial cooperation in scientific research between scientists of the U.S. and Latin America and the independent nations of the Caribbean. U.S. investigators may request supplemental funding to extend ongoing research into cooperative efforts with qualified Latin American scientists. Workshops and short term scientific visits to carry out or complete the planning of cooperative research projects are also supported. Cooperating foreign scientists must obtain support from other sources, and must submit a matching proposal to their own national science council. Proposals should be prepared according to standard NSF guidelines, but must also describe in detail the cooperative aspects of the workplan and the mutual benefits to be obtained.

The next target date for submission of proposals is Nov. 1, 1980.

National Science Foundation Cooperative Convective Precipitation Equipment

No. FY80-207

The Atmospheric Sciences Division will consider proposals for research participation in the Cooperative Convective Precipitation Experiment (CCOPE). CCOPE, a field experiment, will be conducted in eastern Montana in cooperation with the NCAR Convective Storms Division and the Water and Power Resources Service HIPLEX program during the summer of 1981. Proposals for participating research should be received in NSF by May 1, 1980.

memo on award recommendations

Faculty Award

Dear Faculty Colleagues:

A popular and prestigious annual award given within the University is the Faculty Award. Established in the 1927-28 academic year by the Alumni Association, this Faculty Award singles out that faculty member who, in the opinion of his or her colleagues, has contributed outstanding service to the University of Notre Dame.

Each year a selection committee composed of prior winners and representing the undergraduate colleges and the Law School studies the recommendations submitted by former recipients of this award, by the deans, and by individual faculty members. The 1979-80 Faculty Award winner will be honored at the President's Dinner in May.

I cordially invite the faculty to participate in the selection process to honor one of our colleagues. I suggest that you address such recommendations to me giving reasons in two or three paragraphs why you feel that your candidate is worthy of this award. Such correspondence should reach me on or before 5 p.m. Friday, April 18. The selection committee will meet shortly thereafter to study all recommendations and select the 1980 winner.

Sincerely,

M. Katherine Tillman Assistant Provost

Faculty Award Winners Since 1960

Grenville Clark Award

Dear Faculty Colleagues:

On Oct. 20, 1978, Father Hesburgh was one of three recipients of the Grenville Clark Prize, an award given every three years by the Grenville Clark Fund at Dartmouth College.

Following the procedure established when he won the Reinhold Niebuhr award in 1972, Father Hesburgh donated the $5,000 Clark stipend to the Notre Dame endowment to underwrite a cash prize of $250 to be awarded each year. This award is made to a faculty member, administrator or student whose voluntary activities serve to advance the causes of peace and human rights to which Grenville Clark devoted his extraordinary life of public service. The 1979 first winner of this award was Prof. A. Peter Walshe.

The faculty is urged to participate in selecting the 1980 winner of the Clark prize. Nominations are due in my office before 5 p.m. Friday, April 18. The University selection committee will welcome your comments as to why your candidate is eligible for this award. The 1980 winner will be announced at the President's Dinner in May.

Sincerely,

M. Katherine Tillman Assistant Provost

Reinhold Niebuhr Award

Dear Faculty Colleagues:

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., and Chancellor Willy Brandt were the first recipients of Reinhold Niebuhr awards sponsored by friends of the Protestant theologian and author. Receiving this award in September 1972 at ceremonies at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, Father Hesburgh announced the establishment of a Reinhold Niebuhr award at the University of Notre Dame. This award is made annually to a student, faculty member, or administrator whose life or writings promote or exemplify the lifelong theological and philosophical concerns of Reinhold Niebuhr, particularly in the area of social justice in modern life. The initial award to Father Hesburgh was $5,000. This he turned over to the Notre Dame endowment to underwrite an annual cash award of $250 for the winner of this campus honor. Msgr. John Egan was the first recipient of the Reinhold Niebuhr award given at the President's Dinner in May 1973. Other winners have been CILA, 1974; George N. Shuster, 1975; Rev. Louis Putz, C.S.C., 1976; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Quigley, 1977; Thomas P. Broden, 1978; and Rev. William Toohey, C.S.C., 1979.

The selection committee invites written nominations for the 1980 award. These nominations are due in my office by 5 p.m. Friday, April 18. Please write two or three paragraphs stating the reasons why you feel your nominee should be considered for this award. The 1979-80 Reinhold Niebuhr Award winner will be honored at the President's Dinner in May.

Sincerely,

M. Katherine Tillman Assistant Provost

faculty committee for university libraries minutes january 28, 1980

Present:

Harvey A. Bender, Vincent P. DeSantis, Gerald L. Jones, John W. Lucey (chairman), Robert C. Miller, James E. Robinson, Herbert E. Sim (temporary replacement for John R. Malone).

The minutes of the Dec. 18, 1979 meeting were unanimously approved for publication.

Miller made the following announcements:

- (1) A Preservation Officer for the University Libraries has been appointed from existing staff effective Feb. 1, 1980. Major responsibilities of this position include general supervision of all library binding operations, the development of appropriate policies and procedures relating to binding of materials, the development of broader library policies relating to preservation of the collections, and the development of a systematic program for preservation review of the existing library holdings.
- (2) The retirements of L. Franklin Long, assistant director for science and engineering libraries, and Palmer E. Cone, chemistry/physics librarian, were announced, as well as the resignation of Charles Early, engineering librarian. The concurrence of these vacancies has provided an opportunity to reevaluate the administrative structure of the science and engineering libraries. Robert J. Havlik, assistant director for technical services, has been appointed University engineering librarian effective May 1, 1980. Search committees have been established to fill the position of University science librarian and assistant director for technical services.
 - (3) The Development Program has been sent to the provost and has been acknowledged.

A report of to-date encumbrances, expenditures and some special materials received from the NEH funds was submitted to the committee. Progress in expending these funds has been somewhat slow, but the libraries have been given additional insights to strengths and weaknesses of the collections. To avoid losing any of these funds, all orders must be placed by October 1981. In response to a question of obtaining additional NEH funds, it was indicated that in all probability another general purpose proposal would not be successful, but perhaps a special purpose application would be considered.

Several questions were raised about the effectiveness of the approval plan. Some faculty feel that the books are coming in slowly, there seems to be so few of them, and that the books they are looking for do not seem to be appearing on the shelves. Miller said that the libraries have been regularly claiming material that has not come in, and that the return rate (approximately 12 per cent) is really quite low for a new program. Miller also asked committee members to inform their colleagues that if there is a book they want, send an order in; the cost of the book will not be charged to the respective departmental allocation if it is within the scope of the approval plan. It was agreed that a good time to begin forming a reasonable judgment on how the approval plan is working will be April 1980.

Future agenda items include a review of the approval plan, a presentation of the general budget overview, and guidelines and the process for developing the acquisitions budget for the next fiscal year.

The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, March 3, at 3:30 p.m.
