Matthew Ashley, associate professor of theology, was elected to the governing board of the College Theology Society.

W. Martin Bloomer, associate professor and chairman of the Classics Department, was awarded an ACLS sabbatical grant for his project, The School of Rome; and has received a visiting research fellowship at the Beinecke Library, Yale Univ. for his project "Contemporary Readers and Responses to Erasmus's Adagia."

Michael Coppedge, associate professor of political science, and Anthony Messina, associate professor of political science, were chosen to coedit the newsletter Newsletter of Comparative Politics, a publication of the comparative politics section of the American Political Science Association.

Richard Economakis, assistant professor of Architecture, has been appointed project architect for the design of the new Whitman College in Princeton Univ., by Porphyrios Associates, London. He will supervise schematic and design development phases of the project beginning in June, resuming his academic duties in fall 2003.

Fr. Virgilio P. Elizondo, visiting professor of theology, visiting professor of Latino Studies, Kellogg fellow, and associate director of Latino Theology and Pastoral Concerns, received the EMMAUS Award for Excellence from the National Association of Parish Catechetical Directors, Atlantic City, April 3; and was selected by the Hispanic Heritage Awards Foundation as the 2002 Hispanic Heritage Awards Honoree for Education, to be honored on Sept. 20, during a formal ceremony in the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Mary Catherine Hilkert, O.P., associate professor of theology, was appointed to the advisory council of Word and World.

Rev. John P. Meier, professor of theology, was appointed to the editorial board of Dead Sea Discoveries.

Thomas Nowak, professor of chemistry and biochemistry, was appointed to a second five-year term on the editorial board of Biological Chemistry, the official publication of the American Society of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.

Activities

Asma Afsaruddin, assistant professor of classics and fellow in the Kroc Peace Institute, presented "Medieval Islamic Discourse on Legitimate Leadership and Its Modern Implications" at the annual conference of the Center for the Study of Islam and Democracy, in Arlington, Va., April 6-7; and chaired the panel "Changing Views of Violence within Islam" at the conference on Islam and Peacebuilding after September 11, held at the Kroc Institute, Notre Dame, April 12-13.

Matthew Ashley, associate professor of theology, presented "The Wound of Love; The Wound of the World: A Spirituality of University Work" in the visiting scholars series of Rockhurst Univ., Kansas City, Mo., April 8.

Brian Baker, assistant professor of chemistry and biochemistry, gave an invited seminar entitled "The Physical and Functional Focus of Viral Peptide Specific T Cell Receptors on the Class I MHC HLA-A2" at the Indiana Univ. School of Medicine, Dept. of Microbiology and Immunology, April 18.

Gary H. Bernstein, professor of electrical engineering, was awarded U.S. patent number 6,364,889 B1, "Electronic Lancing Device," April 2, with M.A. Kheiri and J.E. Ruggiero; and was session chair at the IL/IN ASEE 2002 regional conference and presented "From Bits to Chips: A Multidisciplinary Curriculum for Microelectronics System Design Education, coauthored by Jay B. Brockman, associate professor of computer science and engineering and concurrent associate professor of electrical engineering; Peter M. Kogge, associate dean for research in the College of Engineering and McCourtney Professor of Computer Science and Engineering; Gregory L. Snider, associate professor of electrical engineering; and Barbara E. Walvoord, director and special professional specialist in the Kaneb Center for Teaching and Learning and concurrent professor of English.

Jianguo Cao, professor of mathematics, presented "Rigidity of Higher Dimensional Graph-Manifolds" at the second Bloomington Geometry Workshop, Indiana Univ., April 14.

Lawrence Cunningham, O'Brien Professor of Theology, presented a seminar on Augustine's Confessions for Teachers as Scholars on April 10 and 17 at Notre Dame; presented "Speech and Silence in Contemporary Prayer" to the board of the Institute For Church Life at Notre Dame; provided interviews and/or background information on current church scandals to newspapers in Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Phoenix, Omaha, Chicago, Indianapolis, Baltimore, New York City, Boston, Fort Worth, Jacksonville (Florida), Fort Lauderdale, and Miami and was interviewed and/or gave background information for BBC and BBC (world service), CNBC, and CBC (Canada).

Elizondo, visiting professor of theology, visiting professor of Latino Studies, Kellogg fellow, and associate director of Latino Theology and Pastoral Concerns, delivered a keynote at the National Convocation of Parish Catechetical Directors, on April 3, entitled "Welcoming the Stranger Among Us"; delivered a keynote entitled "Catholicity and Diversity as Contributions to the Future" at the Christian Theological Seminary's annual Petticrew "Faith in Action" Seminar, April 8.

Richard W. Garnett, assistant professor of law, presented "Law and the Humanity of the Death Row Inmate" at the Third Annual Collegiate Youth Conference, Notre Dame, April 12.

Denis Goulet, O'Neill Professor in Education for Justice, presented "Inequalities in the Light of Globalization" at a colloquium on globalization and inequalities, Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences, The Vatican, April 8.

Rev. Daniel Groody, C.S.C., assistant professor of theology and Institute for Latino Studies fellow, presented "Undocumented Migration as a Way of the Cross," Oaxaca Seminar, Notre Dame, April 25; acted as executive producer of "Desperado: the Deadly Journey of Undocumented Migration" (a video production), April 25; and received a grant for the Henkels Lecture Series Grant and from the Institute for Latino Studies, both for the Option for the Poor in Christian Theology conference he is planning for November 2002.

Eugene Halton, professor of sociology, presented an invited paper on "The Cosmic Fantasia of Life" at a symposium on Myths of Creativity between Innovation and Hybris: Anthropological Aspects of Creation, Univ. of Heidelberg, Germany, Nov. 7-10.

Mary Catherine Hilkert, O.P., associate professor of theology, presented keynote reflections "Itinerant Preachers on the Road to Emmaus" for the General Chapter of the Columbus Dominican Sisters on April 1; and delivered the Santa Clara Lecture, "Imago Dei: Does the Symbol Have a Future?" at Santa Clara Univ., April 14.

Prashant V. Kamat, professional specialist in the Radiation Laboratory, presented "Semiconductor Nanosensors for the Simultaneous Detection and Degradation of Organic Contaminants in Water," coauthored with R. Huehn and R. Nicolaescu, at the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society, April 7-11.

Gary A. Lamberti, assistant chair and professor of biological sciences, presented the invited seminar "Linkages among Aquatic Ecosystems: From Bacteria to Bears" to the Swiss Federal Institute for Environmental Science and Technology in Zurich, on April 8.

Martha Merritt, assistant professor of political science, gave an invited lecture "Presidential Politics in Putin's Russia" at Miami Univ. of Ohio, Mar. 18.

Liviu Nicolaescu, assistant professor of mathematics, presented the invited talk

"Seiberg-Witten Invariants and Surface Singularities" at the Texas Geometry and Topology conference, Texas Tech Univ., Lubbock, April 5-7; and gave a seminar talk on the same topic at the Geometry Seminar, Univ. of Texas at Austin on April 9.

Emily Osborn, assistant professor of history and Kellogg fellow, presented "Circles of Iron, Cloaks of Power: Mediating Colonial Rule in French West Africa, 1890-1910" at the Univ. of Michigan's Center for Afroamerican and African Studies, on Mar. 20; and "Middlemen in Colonial Guinea" at the 8th Annual Law in Africa Symposium at Stanford Univ., May 2-4.

Rev. Robert Pelton, C.S.C., director emeritus of the Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry and Kellogg fellow, directed a faculty seminar at Columbia Univ. on "Liberation Theology at the Crossroads?" on May 1; and participated in a panel discussion on the same subject in a Symposium on Religion and Politics at Knox College in Grand Rapids, Mich., May 2.

Morris Pollard, Coleman Director of the Lobund Laboratory and professor emeritus of biological sciences, presented an invited lecture on "Prevention of Prostate Cancer" at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center, Seattle, April 16.

G. Margaret Porter, librarian, presented "Commitment, Cooperation, and Coordination: The Librarian-In-Residence Program at the University of Notre Dame" with Laura Bayard, associate librarian, at the ARL/CIC Diversity Conference, Univ. of Iowa, April 4-6.

Hon. Kenneth F. Ripple, professor of law, presided at the final argument of the annual Orison S. Marden Moot Court Competition at New York Univ. School of Law, April 16.

Mark W. Roche, I. A. O'Shaughnessy Dean and Joyce Professor of German Language and Literature, spoke on "Religion and Intellectuals" at Furman University, Greenville, South Carolina, April 23, 2002.

Charles M. Rosenberg, professor of art history, presented "The Kindness of Princes: Ercole II D'Este and the Case of Gian Paolo Manfrone" at the annual meetings of the Renaissance Society of America in Scottsdale, Ariz. on April 11.

Sanford, assistant professor of anthropology, and Kroc and Kellogg fellow, presented "Buried Secrets: Truth and Human Rights in Guatemala" at the Virginia Foundation for the Humanities Fellows' Colloquium Series, Charlottesville, Va., April 16; and "Excavations of the Heart: Reflections on Truth, Memory and Structures of Understanding" at New School Univ.'s Janey Conference on Globalization and Violence in Latin America, New York, April 19.

Valerie Sayers, professor of English and director of Creative Writing, presented a fiction reading at the Univ. of Illinois-Chicago, Oct. 23.

Slavi Sevov, associate professor of chemistry and biochemistry gave the department colloquia at Cornell and Syracuse universities with "Solution and Solid-State Chemistry of Metals and Semimetals in Negative Oxidation State" on April 18-19.

Rabbi Michael Signer, Abrams Professor of Jewish Thought and Culture and Nanovic fellow, presented "Remembering for the Future: Jewish-Catholic Relations Since the Shoah" for the Holocaust Memorial Day Address, Jewish Studies Program, Univ. of Pennsylvania, April 8; and "Reading the Prophetic Books: Jewish and Christian Exegesis in the 12th Century" at the annual conference, Center for Judaic Studies, Univ. of Pennsylvania, April 30.

Carol A. Szambelan, associate librarian, engineering librarian, presented a technical paper entitled "Electronic Collections—Delivery of Library Resources to the Desktop" at the 2002 ASEE IL/IN Sectional Conference, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, April 12.

Julia Adeney Thomas, associate professor of history, organized a panel called "From Science to Society: Social Darwinism in East Asia" and presented "Social Darwinism's Progressive Posture in Early Meiji Japan" for the Association of Asian Studies' annual meeting, April 4-7.

Dominic Vachon, adjunct professor of psychology and theology, presented two talks for the Hesburgh Lecture Series for the Notre Dame Club of Boca Raton and St. Joan's Parish in Boca Raton, Fla.: on March 3, "Plucking the Tiger's Whisker: Finding the Way to Keep Caring for Others When They Make it Difficult" and on March 4, "Drive-Thru Spirituality: The Challenges and Possibility of Cultivating Spirituality While Driving on I-95." He conducted an all-day retreat with Sr. Mary Ellen Vaughan, C.S.C., for the staff of St. Joseph Health Center, South Bend, Indiana on Mar. 15; presented "Human Caring and Navigating the Personality Highway" for the Residency Administrative Development meeting, Mar. 6, in Kansas City, Mo.; was the keynote speaker for the Association of Family Practice Administrators for their Professional Development Series in Kansas City, Mo., April 6, where he presented "Stress Awareness for Medical Residency Management—An Interactive Workshop."

John P. Welle, associate professor of Romance languages and literatures, and Nanovic fellow, presented "The Last Letters of Jacopo Ortis: Anglophone Translations and Reception of an Italian Epistolary Novel" at the American Society for 18th-Century Studies Conference in Colorado Springs, April 3-7.

Rev. Oliver F. Williams, C.S.C., director, Center for Ethics and Religious Values in Business, presented "The United Nations Global Compact: an Ethical Vision for World Trade" to the Student International Business Council, Notre Dame, Mar. 26; and presented "Maintaining an Ethical Corporate Culture in a Time of Transition" to the Sandia Leadership Forum at Sandia National Laboratories, Albuquerque, April 2-4.

Publications

Francis J. Castellino, dean of Science, Kleiderer-Pezold Professor of Chemistry and Biochemistry, and director of the Center for Transgene Research, coauthored "γ-Glutamate and β-Hydroxyaspartate in Proteins" with Victoria A. Ploplis, research associate professor of chemistry and biochemistry, and L. Zhang, published in Post-translational Modifications of Proteins: Tools for Functional Proteomics 17 C. Kannicht, ed. (Totowa, N.J.: Humana Press Inc.: 2002): 259-268.

Patricia L. Clark, Luce Professor of Chemistry and Biochemistry, coauthored "Characterization of the Protrimer Intermediate in the Folding Pathway of the Interdigitated β-Helix Tailspike Protein" with C.B. Benton and J. Kingh, published in Biochemistry 41 (2002): 5093-5103.

Lawrence Cunningham, O'Brien Professor of Theology, published "Thomas Merton" in Great Spirits: 1000-2000, S. O'Grady and J. Wilkins, eds. (New York: Paulist, 2002): 195-198.

Über Ethik und Literatur* (Münich: Beck, 2002); and "The Intellectual Appeal of Catholicism and the Idea of a Catholic University" in The Future of Religious Colleges, P.J. Dobre, ed. (Grand Rapids: Eedermans, 2002): 163-184.

Valerie Sayers, professor of English and director of Creative Writing, published "My First Execution," a short story, in Image, no. 33; reviews of Claire Marvel by J. Burnham Schwartz, in The New York Times Book Review (Mar. 17); The Bridge by D. Marlette, in Washington Post Book World (Jan. 6); and The Corrections by J. Franzen, in Commonweal (Dec. 21).

W. Robert Scheidt, Warren Professor of Chemistry and Biochemistry, coauthored "Structure of the Deoxymyoglobin Model [Fe(TPP)(2-MeHIm)] Reveals Unusual Porphyrin Core Distortions" with M.K. Ellison and C. E. Schulz, published in Inorganic Chemistry 41 (2002): 2173-2181.

Mark R. Schurr, assistant professor of anthropology, published a review of

"From Quarry to Cornfield: The Political Economy of Mississippian Hoe Production" by C.R. Cobb (Tuscaloosa: Univ. of Alabama Press, 2000) in Arkansas Review: A Journal of Delta Studies 33, no. 1: 69.

Slavi C. Sevov, associate professor of chemistry and biochemistry, coauthored "Isolated Deltahedral Clusters of Lead in the Solid State: Synthesis and Characterization of RB_4Pb_9 and $\text{Cs}_{10}\text{K}_6\text{PB}_{36}$ with Pb_9^{4-} , and $\text{A}_3\text{A}'\text{Pb}_4$ ($\text{A} = \text{Cs, Rb, K}$; $\text{A}' = \text{Na, Li}$) with Pb_4^{4-} " with S. Bobev, published in Polyhedron 211 (2002): 641-649; " $\text{KBa}_2\text{InAs}_3$ with Coexisting Monomer of $[\text{In}_2\text{As}_7]^{13-}$ and Their One-Dimensional Polymers" with F. Gascoin, published in Inorganic Chemistry 41 (2002): 2292-2295; and "Synthesis, Characterization and Bonding of $\text{Ba}_3\text{Li}_4\text{Sn}_8$ " with S. Bobev, published in Journal of Alloys and Compounds 338 (2002): 87-92.

Thomas L. Shaffer, Short Professor Emeritus of Law, published a review essay on J.H. Yoder, reviewing Stanley Hauerwas, et al., The Wisdom of the Cross (Eerdmans, 1999) and J.H. Yoder, For the Nations (Eerdmans, 1997) in the Journal of Law and Religion 16 (2001): 981-997.

Bradley D. Smith, professor of chemistry and biochemistry, coauthored "Structure/Activity Study of Tris(2-aminoethyl)amine-Derived Translocases for Phosphatidylcholine" with J.M. Boon, T.N. Lambert, Alicia M. Beatty, associate research professor of chemistry and biochemistry, V. Ugrinova, and Seth N. Brown, associate professor of chemistry and biochemistry, published in The Journal of Organic Chemistry 67 (2002): 2168-2174.

Carol A. Szambelan, associate librarian, engineering librarian, authored "Electronic Collections—Delivery of Library Resources to the Desktop," published in Proceedings, Indiana/Illinois Sectional Conference, "Engineering Education in a Changing Economy" (Chicago: 2002): 169-171.

Samir Younés, associate professor of architecture and director of Rome Studies, edited Ara Pacis. Contro-progetti, Counter-Projects (Florence: Alinea Editrice, 2002).

Administrators' Notes

Appointments

Shannon Cullinan has been appointed assistant vice president for Public Affairs and Communication.

Dennis K. Moore was appointed associate vice president for Public Affairs and Communication.

Activities

Alan S. Bigger, director of Building Services, participated in an eight-site video conference sponsored by the Plant Operations Support Consortium, Dept. of General Administration, State of Washington, on April 23, and presented "Enhancing Stewardship in Spite of Budget Woes."

Minutes

In issue 15 of the Notre Dame Report, the February 18, 2002 minutes of the University Committee on Women Faculty and Students misquoted Maura Ryan. The entire third paragraph on page 15-356 should be stricken and this paragraph inserted in its place.

Prof. Ryan said she doesn't know that any studies have been published, but it seems that, among teaching-and-research faculty, length of service would be more significant than gender.
