-----
Easter Duty.

The day set for Easter Duty this year is Saturday, March 25, the feast of the Annunciation. While it is not necessary for students to make their Easter Duty on any particular day within the Season, it is hoped that all the students will join in making this a magnificent act of faith and devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. There should be one day in the year when every student of the University ought to receive Holy Communion. This feast is particularly fitted for this purpose since it is the day on which the Son of God assumed the flesh and blood which he gives to us in Holy Communion.

-----
A Standard for Reading.

There are still some books circulating on the campus which are a menace to Christian ideals of faith and conduct. In order that students may have a standard by which to judge reading matter and plays, a printed guide, giving the standards of worldly wisdom and Divine wisdom, will be distributed during the next few days. If you are interested in developing Catholic ideals you will place this on your wall or on your desk where it will serve as a warning against useless or bad reading and an incentive of good reading.
