Obituary.

Father Kirsh died this morning. His whole life was devoted to Notre Dame. The Mass for Bernie Kirk will be said at 6:30 Tuesday morning.

What I Saw Today.

Wrigley's ad in the Scholastic -- The Gum-Chewing Sorin Haller."

Here is Charity Indeed.

The church Unity Octave begins Thursday. "God and myself" is the book recommended for reading during the Octave.

"Our Sunday Visitor."

Those who were cheated out of a copy Sunday will find an extra supply at the entrance to the basement chapel.

Human Respect.

There are just four classes of people in the world besides yourself: high-brows, low-brows, fools and knaves. Human respect makes you lose your self respect and do what one of these classes wants you to do. And we are such funny little cowards. The devil must have a great laugh when he sees one of us take our first little drink of shellac.

Self-Respect.

Self-respect is the virtue that keeps you what you are. If you are one of the world's afflicted, if you have let human respect drive out self-respect, the only thing that will save you is a sense of humor. The man with a sense of humor watches the show (the high-brow-low-brow-fool-and knave combination) and gets a great kick out of it, but he doesn't get up on the stage.

A Logical Argument (With Apologies.)

You are going to live a long time with yourself. Learn to make yourself decent, happy company. Learn to appreciate yourself. You can learn this at the foot of the cross. And when you have learned this you can start now and laugh on through all eternity at the high-brow, low-brow, fool and knave.
