

Religious Bulletin.

Jan. 17, 1923.

Hands Off!

Don't begrudge the dying man his straw. Leave the Bulletin in place till all the knockers have read it. The first man up in the morning gets yesterdays copy.

Time Makes Funny Faces at People.

Time was when Harvard had a sign: "No Irish need apply."

Time went on and Eliot boasted that he had the largest Catholic college in America.

Time went on and Harvard got an Irish football team.

Time went on and some statisticians showed that three-fifths of all the Catholic students who had attended Harvard lost their faith, at least for a time.

Time went on and Harvard put Scholastic Philosophy into the Curriculum to silence Cardinal O'Connell.

~~Time goes on and Harvard still turns out naturalists.~~

Church Unity Octave.

It begins tomorrow. Receive Holy Communion and recite one decade of the beads every day. Send your friend a copy of "God and Myself."

The Miserable Freshman .

The miserable freshman is the self-conscious freshman. It is not so bad a condition as mental poise, but the remedy is the same: learn humility at the foot of the crucifix. You will learn there that God loves you in spite of everything, and that if God loves you nothing else matters.

As Others See You.

Speaking of the student who answered the Religious Survey, the Catholic Messenger, of Worcester, Massachusetts, says: "The revelation of their spiritual conditions was reassuring in these days when the complaint of 'blasting at the rock of ages' is too often laid at the doors of institutions of higher learning, and the example of Notre Dame is one that well might find imitation among all our Catholic colleges."

Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C.,
Prefect of Religion.
