A Condition Needing Correction.

When the 7:30 Mass for students was inaugurated it was announced that attendance would be left optional at the 7:30 and 8:30 Masses as long as the students showed good faith by reporting promptly for the first Mass and by leaving the parish Masses to the parishoners.

Abuses have grown rapidly.

Yesterday more than two hundred students crowded into the basement, at eight o'clock, stifling the parishoners, and rendering devotion difficult. Fifty more attended the 10:15 Mass.

The faculty may be forced to act to correct abuses.
This should not be necessary in a school for men.

The Sermon.

Great care has been taken to provide the students' Masses sermons suited to the congregation. Those who attended the parish Masses yesterday missed a very fine sermon on "The Catholic Business Man."

Confessions Sunday Morning.

Fr. Scheir is kept busy with his parishoners on Sunday morning, and his flock should not be crowded out by students, for whose convenience ten priests ordinarily spend a total of 53 hours a week in the confessionals. Fr. Scheier will be glad to accomodate students who wish to choose him for their confessor-- any time but Sunday morning.

Profanity.

It is useless, unnecessary, unbecoming, childish and sinful.

The Remedy.

Watch Yourself.

How to Watch Yourself.

Use pennies as counters. After they have done service once (not twice) give them to the foreign missions.
