Father Donahue's Sermon.

Prayers.

Seven students ask prayers for sick relatives, three for deceased relatives and three for urgent special intentions.

Willard Robertson has been called home by the grave illness of his mother, and asks prayers for her recovery from a serious operation.

Father Burns, Chairman of the Drive Committee, wires from Cleaveland: "We greatly appreciate the prayers and Communions of the Novena. God's blessing has been with us in the work here. I am sure it is due to the prayers there."

Telling Fortunes From the Questionnaire.

1

"I have made several breaks to enter the confessional, etc." -- Sad.

My dear boy: You are suffering from a peculiar temptation of the devil (rare at Notre Dame, but common enough where there is less active devotion) brought on by cultivation the head at the expense of the heart -- the intellect at the expense of the will. Read less, think less about yourself, pray more -- especially for those in sorrow.

It is not conscious sin that is keeping you back from confession -- it is only a pride of which you have hitherto been unconscious. You shrink from humiliation -- and humiliation is the only thing that will cure you.

The rest of your analysis is too personal for the Bulletin. Please call.

"Really have someone ready in Walsh to distribute all the time; several times I have had to wait forty-five minutes."

If you can find a priest around the University without two or three jobs you ~~can~~ may be able to get your wish. At present the distribution is practically continuous from 8:15 till 9:15, and you should not blame a priest for trying to do a little work after that time. -- and don't ever wait forty*-five minutes. Look for a priest.

Anent Reveille.

A Freshman has a message for you on his questionnaire

"I have had a sad disappointment. I resorted to frequent Communion and only then did I find the burden much easier. I can welcome everyone with a big smile, whereas formerly I was often grouchy."

Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C.,
Prefect of Religion.
