

Religious Bulletin.

March 21, 1923.

Roses Among Thorns.

The following extracts from survey papers will give you encouragement, and will show you the hundred-fold reward of the priest.

The Spirit of Our Notre Dame.

"When I returned to Notre Dame in September and realized that I was entering upon my senior year, I felt ashamed that I had not entered into the spirit of Our Notre Dame."

Does the Bulletin Do Any Good?

"The Religious Bulletin encouraged me to try the effect of daily Communion which had so evidently benefited others. I have tried for four years to break a sinful habit, but without success. I have been seldom tempted and have never fallen since I started daily Holy Communion. A year ago I hardly thought it possible that God Himself could break that habit."

"The Religious Bulletin has kept my ideals of N^vtre Dame almost intact, and the revelation of the weaknesses of others has helped me to find my own."

Before I became a daily communicant I fell into the sin of impurity, I have been fighting it by the practice of daily Communion. The fight isn't won, but with God's grace I will have conquered completely by June."

"The Bulletin has made me think -- and that is a spiritual benefit."

How to Broaden Your Mind.

"Frequent Communion has broadened my range of understanding and has made me not so ready to condemn others."

"I'll Say It Has."

This is an answer of a Freshman to the question: "Has Frequent Communion made you more careful to avoid sin?"
