On Vacationing.

God wants us to rest now and then. He gives us one day in seven for rest -- and worship. We take about four months from school for rest. We should not forget worship during this time.

God and Vacation.

Vacation time is a time of grace ☉ - if we use it properly. It is a time of damnation if we forget God. Remember that God doesn't take avacation.

The Perils of Vacation.

The Religious Survey shows that 40% of the students have better companionship at school than at home. Your religion teaches you that you must avoid any companion who is an occasion of sin for you. You cannot receive absolution if you refuse to give up such a companion.

A Cure for Midsummer Madness.

Look ahead now and map out you summer schedule. Act from principle: you're old enough now to have principles. Dont let any little devil kid you/.

1. Store up grace by daily Communion during the month of Our Blessed Virgin.
2. Go over your companionships and black-list all your friends who are dangerous;
3. Draw up a list of forbidden amusements: your own experience will guide you in this;
4. Pray for a job that will allow you to practice frequent Communion;
5. Resolve to seek the wise counsel of your father and mother in all doubtful matters;
6. Take a pledge if you feel that you need to protect yourself against collegiate ideas;
7. Go to the Grotto and promise the Blessed Virgin that you will defend Catholic ideals of womanhood.
