

Religious Bulletin.
October 25, 1923.

Georgia Tech Is No Set-Up.

Competent critics pronounce the Golden Tornadoes the strongest team we will meet this year. Our men will have to play hard. See that you pray hard. Last week you laid down on the team, and two men were hurt.

Your Part.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday should belong to the team. Remember them in Holy Communion on these three days and you will be showing the real Notre Dame spirit. Back up a team that deserves the best support you've got.

Clean Sportsmanship.

George Trevor, in the Brooklyn Eagle, has sensed Notre Dame football. In his account of the Princeton game he says:

In concluding we want to pay a tribute to the clean playing of the Notre Dame eleven. No member of the team forgot the code of the game in the heat of conflict. The glory of victory is fleeting, but good sportsmanship leaves an indelible mark on the pages of time."

St. Joseph This Week.

St. Joseph, a carpenter, is patron of technical trades. He will be Notre Dame's patron against a technical school. Pray to him that no one will get hurt.

The Catechism of Matrimony.

"Dear Father: My folks sent me to school to stop me from getting married. They made me take engineering so that I wouldn't have time to think about girls. I am trying to carry out their wishes to the best of my ability, but I hardly ever see a Religious Bulletin without some reference to marriage. Are you trying to marry us all off? Please explain.
-- M.E. '27."

That's the difference between the old and the new generation. The only way to stop a love-sick swain from mooning over marriage is to marry him off or send his love sick soul to Purgatory. They certainly picked a bird when they selected Engineering. About eighty percent of the students at Notre Dame are thinking about marriage, and 110% of these are Engineers.

We are not trying to get you married off. All the Religious Bulletin attempts is to catch the reflexions of student-life and bring them out into the sun where they will blind you.

Go ahead and think about marriage all you like. Read "Courtship and Marriage," "You and Yours" and the rest of the pamphlets on matrimony-- but don't get married until your wife is settled in a good job.

Prayers.

Two students ask prayers for relatives who are very sick.
