

RELIGIOUS BULLETIN

January 5, 1924.

A Letter to Leo.

Dear Leo:

Please hurry back or else send us the key to the bulletin boards. They're stealing the Bulletin again. Poor Jim Donahue lost some prayers yesterday because the boys didn't get a chance to read it. The trouble was that it said something about the girls. Even the nice boys in Walsh Hall want to steal it when it makes them out shieks. The key, Leo, the key.

Who Knows Good Whiskey?

The smell of "Happy New Year" breath convinces one that although poison liquor carried off 8000 in Philadelphia last year, there are some who can get away with it. The students who know good whiskey are requested to wear a white rose in the buttonhole all day Sunday. There are enough roses blooming on the lawn in front of the Main Building to supply all who have learned to know good whiskey since the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect three years ago.

Tell This To Your Pastor.

The number of Communions during the fall months was 77,200 an average of 813 a day for the 95 class days, and an increase of 176 a day over the previous year.

The Religious Survey

The Survey for 1922-23 went to press yesterday, and will be ready for distribution in about two weeks. It won't cost you anything, but it is worth five dollars a copy. For the benefit of the Freshmen it should be stated that the Survey is a little book of 64 pages that ~~to~~ tells all the secrets of the boys. Twelve thousand copies will be printed for secret distribution.

Forewarned.

The Notre Dame clubs that were forced by competition to hold dances on holydays of obligation should understand that the Church does not dispense from her laws just because the tuxedos are all engaged for the other nights. Arrange your date now.

P.S. Please don't drop any more dance programs into the collection box at the five o'clock mass on New Year's morning.

The Feast Tomorrow.

Epiphany, or "Little Christmas" commemorates the visit of the three kings to Bethlehem. It represents the manifestation of Our Lord to the Gentiles -- to us.

John F. O'Hara C.S.C.,
Prefect of Religion.
