First Friday Report.

Sixty-six lay students received Holy Communion on the First Friday, 44 from the campus, and 22 from town. Twenty-nine campus students failed to receive. They may make their Duty Sunday.

Poor John Byrne!

They have been cutting John Byrne to pieces, bit by bit, trying to save enough below the ankle for a walking appendage. And he is not getting the prayers he should! There are a lot of fellows here, some of them friends of his, who have not offered Holy Communion for him once since he was hurt. That is not Christian charity! It is not Notre Dame spirit!

Van Wallace's Anniversary.

Van Wallace has spent just a year in bed. It was on the Fourth of last July that he broke his neck. During that time he has developed a fascinating spiritual nature. Not a word of complaint has ever escaped his lips; no one has ever seen him without a smile and a wise-crack for his sympathizers. He deserves a remembrance in Holy Communion on the anniversary.

Another Accident.

One of the Sisters of Charity asks prayers for her brother, who was badly broken to pieces in an automobile accident two days ago. See what you can do for him.

Another Father Sick.

Elmer Wynn was called home Wednesday night by his father's serious illness. Roland Menou went home on a similar mission Wednesday morning. God is giving us enough to pray for -- and there will be more if we do not learn to love Him in vacation as we do during the year.

Look Out for the Fire Crackers.

Many a little boy from the sticks has had his eye poked out by too much curiosity about what makes the fire cracker crack. Restrain your curiosity about the fixings of the glorious fourth, or John Byrne will have to move over and make room.

Sunday Masses.

The Masses up stairs on Sunday are at 6:00, 6:30 and 8:00. They are all low Masses, which means that you should come on time.
