

All Souls' Day.

Quench the fires of Purgatory for your friends. The Church puts it in your power to do so today. A plenary indulgence may be gained today for each visit made to the church, provided you received the Sacraments this morning.

Novena for Exams.

If you did not start your novena this morning, you should do so tomorrow at the latest. A novena begun tomorrow morning will end on the first day of examinations. In your prayers and Communions during these nine days, you should remember the following intentions:

- Fr. Cavanaugh, Van Wallace, and other sick persons.
- Edmund Glade and other deceased relatives and friends of students.
- The conversion of three persons.
- Ten special intentions.

The virtue of Perseverance should be the principal personal aim of the novena. You will find a pamphlet on this virtue at the rack. If you are not convinced of the general need of perseverance, study the graphs at the entrance to the basement chapel. You storm heaven just before exams, and hell just after them. There's something wrong.

Lost and Found.

Found - a gold watch chain, with Sacred Heart badge attached;
a meal ticket;
a relic of the Little Flower.

Lost - a pair of beads, made from rose leaves.

Have you A Crucifix?

A selection of wall crucifixes has been added to the collection of religious articles in the stock of the Prefect of Religion. Prices range from $.50 to $1.40. Other articles to be obtained are medals, prayer books, pamphlets, and extra copies of the Religious Bulletin (mule, question mark, and Palais Royale Bulletins still in stock).

Would a Crucifix Fit?

A crucifix would be decidedly out of place on some of the walls here. If you are a Catholic, there should be nothing incongruous in having the symbol of your redemption hanging on the wall; and the rest of the decorations can be made to harmonize.

Are You Confirmed?

The Bishop of Fort Wayne will be here for Confirmation on November 21. If you have not been confirmed you should not delay receiving this Sacrament. Hand in your name at once.

Ten Cents' Worth of Faith.

Any student who really believes that the Only-Begotten Son of God is really and truly present in the Blessed Sacrament should be willing to spend ten cents for breakfast when his late rising makes him choose between Holy Communion and breakfast in the refectory. There is something radically wrong if the graces of Holy Communion are despised and a slippery dime is cherished.

Students in Brownson, Carroll and Freshman Halls are especially notified that they may receive Holy Communion before the refectory breakfast without attending the 6:30 Mass. Holy Communion is distributed continuously from the Communion of the 6:30 Mass till 8:15. They can get breakfast and return for the 8:15 Mass.
