

The Novena of Grace.

The Novena of Grace, a popular novena to St. Francis Xavier, should begin tomorrow. The prayers of the novena will be found in a pamphlet in the Sorin Hall pamphlet rack. This novena can be made concurrently with the one for vacations.

Lost and Found.

A sum of money was found in the Faculty Room a few days ago. The loser may apply to the Prefect of Religion. For the third time announcement is made of the finding of another sum of money. A student has lost a relic of the Little Flower ((second announcement)).

Prayers.

Lawrence Motter, of Corby Hall, lost his mother yesterday.
Edward Fallon asks prayers for an aunt who died a few days ago.
Dean McCarthy, of the College of Commerce, has a brother ill with pneumonia.
Francis Schreeder's mother is very sick.
Edward Haggerty's father continues very low.
Three other sick persons and a special intention are recommended to your prayers.

Guard Your Health.

This is a dangerous time for colds and other ills. Don't try to doctor yourself; you may find out too late that you are a better blacksmith than physician. Visit the infirmary or call a doctor if you don't feel well.

Church Tonight.

At 7:30 this evening Father Carrico will preach on Judgment. Benediction will follow.

Two Thousand Communions Friday.

There is no reason on earth why every Catholic student in the University cannot receive Holy Communion next Friday morning. Any student who feels that he cannot go should read the Religious Survey and find his difficulty analyzed and solved by some other student who has gone through the same problem.

The general intention recommended for your Holy Communion next Friday is the help of God in choosing your proper state of life. As an additional intention your attention is called to the fact that the Eucharistic Congress of the World will meet in Chicago this summer, and that the prayers of all Catholics have been requested for the success of this public act of devotion to the Blessed Sacrament.

Take care of your confession early - today or tomorrow. Facilities Friday morning are necessarily limited by the number of confessionals in the church.

Cellar Championships.

Not that anyone cares particularly, the number of Communions received in three hall chapels during February was as follows:

Sophomore Hall.....738
Howard Hall.....1087
Freshman Hall.....1618

Off-campus students during the same month received 3606 Communions on week days and 1027 additional on Sundays. The figures are separated because the hall chapel figures do not include the Sundays, when the campus students receive in the church.
