

Send the Bouquet Today.

The Spiritual Bouquet for Fathers' Day should reach home Wednesday. You can get the card at the pamphlet rack in Sorin Hall.

Prayers.

Robert Beck is quite sick at St. Joseph's Hospital. Wm. Sheehan's uncle died Saturday. Five special intentions are commended to your charity.

Don't Be a Boob.

The place is full of amateur theologians since Saturday's Bulletin resurrected the Saturday night danced question. Your Catholicity is only skin-deep if you can't stand a regulation that goes counter to your passions and prejudices. The Klan should be able to get going again in this district if the rebels are good enough sports to stake ten dollars on their bad theology.

Questions From the Questionnaire.

94. What books should a Catholic boy read during vacation?

Ans. A wise combination of spiritual and profane literature will keep your mind alive during the summer. Get a Catholic Reading List at the pamphlet rack and select books you have heard your professors recommend during your course. If you do nothing more, take a copy of the Following of Christ and read a chapter a day. If you want to do any modern reading, select such books as are recommended in the reviews in America, Ave Maria, Columbia or The Catholic World. Summer offers a good chance to catch up on books recommended during the year. No Catholic college man should fail to read, during one summer vacation, the trilogy of Sienkiewicz: With Fire and Sword, The Deluge, and Pan Michael.

95. Why have girls taken to drinking and swearing and wild life?

Ans. Because they have no friends.

96. Why is immorality so prevalent nowadays?

Ans. Because Money is god. It buys respectability, and no one needs virtue when he is respectable.

97. Is it really sinful to sit through an indecent show?

Ans. Yes; a sin of scandal, if not of impurity.

98. Explain the use of medals.

Ans. Like the Masonic pin, a medal shows dedication to certain principles; like a locket it shows special veneration for a friend of ours; like both of these, it brings us special protection from mutual friends. In addition, medals have indulgences attached to them, and they bring us the spiritual protection of those whom they represent, provided our actions are in conformity with the ideals which the medals represent.

99. Has one a moral obligation to attend a Catholic university rather than a state school?

Ans. One has an obligation on the negative side not to endanger his faith; on the positive side, he is bound to use his talents for God according to his station in life. Read Your Son's Education, by Frank Spearman.

100. What is the panacea for the scrupulous mind?

Ans. Humble obedience.

101. What is the best way to prevent daily Communion from becoming a habit?

Ans. Let it be accompanied by daily Mass and regular mortification. Read Perseverance.
