The Social Season.

The calendar of Holy Communion for the month of May follows:

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
						1097
1210	1122	1162	1127	1100	1357	1103
1233	856	869	914	1111	783	768
896	727	773	784	836	826	827
1024	843	860	781	843	885	857
891	646

May 9, the second Sunday in May, was Mothers' Day. The following Thursday was the feast of the Ascension. Then came the senior ball and the lesser activities of the small fry. Last Wednesday was rainy, and the number of Communion dropped 79.

Corpus Christi.

Tomorrow is the greatest of the feasts of the Blessed Sacrament. The Church recalls the institution of the Blessed Sacrament on Holy Thursday, but since the mourning of Holy Week prevents the full external solemnity due this great mystery, the feast is renewed after the Easter season, when an octave can be given to its celebration.

There will be a solemn high Mass at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow morning, followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament. The procession will take place in the quadrangle if the weather permits. Every lover of the Blessed Sacrament should make it a point to receive Holy Communion tomorrow.

First Friday.

Day after tomorrow is the First Friday of the month of June, the Month of the Sacred Heart, which is especially honored on the First Friday. It is, therefore, the great First Friday of the year. Adoration will be held as usual throughout the day, and the sanctuary should be well filled at all hours.

Going to the Congress?

A belated invitation for Notre Dame students to take part in the Eucharistic Congress has just reached the University. Students who expect to be in Chicago during that week should hand their names to the Prefect of Religion, so that they may secure accommodations in the stadium for the Pontifical Mass on Education Day. After this Mass the assembled students will be addressed by the Hon. Joseph Scott, of Los Angeles, a Laetare Medallist and Doctor of Laws from Notre Dame, and father of three former Notre Dame students. Hand in your name at once.

Your Jubilee Confession.

As stated before, it is helpful for you to make your Jubilee confession a general confession. Additional facilities for such confessions are provided in the church at 12:30 and 5:00 every afternoon. Do not ask to make a general confession during the morning Masses, when the confessionals are crowded.

Prayers.

A student's mother is suffering considerable pain from an illness that may have serious consequences. Two students ask prayers for the improvement of their own health. Three deceased persons, a special intention and an act of thanksgiving are brought to your attention.
