

Let's Have More Quarters.

Three donations of two dollars each, nine dollars and nine half-dollars swelled the Finner Fund yesterday, but not enough quarters were in evidence; in other words, the call is not having a wide enough appeal. The score:

| | |
|------------------------------|-----------------|
| Previously acknowledged..... | $530.91 |
| Yesterday's gifts..... | 21.32 |
| | $552.23 |

Why Don't You Hear Mass?

Can you give yourself any valid reason for not hearing Mass when you receive Holy Communion? The last Mass is in the basement chapel each morning at 6:50.

Bad Books.

Every once in a while a communication is received stating that such-and-such a book is enjoying a certain amount of circulation on the campus. Cases of that kind are not as a rule handled by the Bulletin. Such books are read only by two classes of people: moral degenerates and retarded-development cases. The first are the newspaper morons, the others are the real morons. The Bulletin is not intended for either class.

Who Wrote the Poem?

The authorship of "Just Facts" has been a matter of much discussion. The author concealed his identity. The poem came in a plain envelope bearing the postmark of a nearby city and was accompanied by an anonymous letter in which the writer stated that he hoped his advice would do some good to some one not quite so sullen-headed as he was when he attended Notre Dame! You can do all the guessing you want, but if you ever happen to come across the author, please urge him to drop in for a visit, as he needs consolation.

How Much Money Have You Wasted?

If you have been reading the appeals for Father Finner it should have become increasingly harder day by day for you to waste money. If you are afraid you will waste what you have left in your pocket dump it into the box at the pamphlet rack without delay.

The Survey Is Under Way.

On Wednesday the last chapter of the Survey report went to the printer, and the same day the first batch of proof arrived. The book should be out by the middle of February, if all goes well. Please pray that it will.

An Urgent Case.

Prayers are requested for the conversion of a man who is on his death bed. For the fifty years of their married life his Catholic wife -- and many other Catholic relatives -- have prayed and had Masses said for his conversion, and he has never shown the slightest desire to become a Catholic. Perhaps God is waiting for your prayers to give him the grace of faith. You wouldn't refuse the request of this faithful wife.

Prayers.

Hurt Cullinan, who was to leave for home Saturday for an appendicitis operation, was called home yesterday morning by the death of his father. Frank Keefe's mother is quite ill.
