

April 14, 1928

Prayers.

Gerald Ludwig's brother George, a graduate of two years ago, was severely burned in an explosion a few days ago. F. J. Culhane asks prayers for his sick father and for a deceased relative. Gerald Desmond's brother Ralph is suffering from a severe attack of sinus trouble. Another student asks prayers for a friend who is quite ill. John Howard, of New York City, a former student, will appreciate prayers for his sister, who died a few days ago. Five special intentions and two acts of thanksgiving are recommended.

Financial.

A student lost a ten dollar bill the other day. Another student sent in five dollars for the tubercular patient in New Mexico; two more dollars came in for the same case. Remember that the collection tomorrow is for the Bengal Mission. And a week from next Wednesday the Metropolitan Club will stage a smoker for the benefit of this Mission.

Third Sunday.

The High Mass tomorrow is a Mass of Exposition, followed by Benediction. The Third Sunday also gives us the benefit of the Plenary Indulgence which the Holy See granted to Notre Dame students and faculty a few years ago in recognition of your devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. For gaining this indulgence you must receive Holy Communion tomorrow and offer prayers (five Our Fathers and Hail Marys, or something similar) for the intentions of the Holy Father.

New Prayer at Benediction.

By order of the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Fort Wayne three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys will be said henceforth at the end of Benediction for the Church in Mexico. Those following Mass with the Missal will also notice that the priests in saying Mass add a Collect, Secret, and Postcommunion to the prayers of the day. These prayers are for the Church in Mexico, and are found on Page 154 of the Daily Missal.

"Next!"

The 7:00 Mass tomorrow will be for the next one of us to die.

Questionnaires.

One hundred and fifty more questionnaires are needed to make this year's Survey fully representative. It is perfectly true that this questionnaire is harder to answer than any of the previous ones, but it is equally true that a little good will is all that is needed to get out satisfactory answers to the questions. The crabby questionnaires are all in -- the crabs seize upon the first opportunity to ease themselves of their supposed grievances. If there are any level-headed students who have not yet responded, now is their golden opportunity.

Questions.

28. What is the difference between love and passion?

Ans. Read the Bulletin "Lust is not Love," No VII in the marriage series (Pamphlet)

29. Who is a good Christian gentleman?

Ans. Newman will tell you in his "Idea of a University." That section of the book has been edited by Father Charles O'Donnell as a separate book, "Newman's Gentleman."