-----
Caution! Short Masses.

The Masses tomorrow are at 6:00, 6:45, 7:30, and 8:15. Observe that they are on a 45-minute schedule. This subtracts 15 minutes each Mass from the time allowed for confessions; it also makes it imperative that you come on time. The last Mass will last two hours, including the time for the blessing and distribution of the Palms, and the subsequent procession. The music at this last Mass is especially beautiful; you will find the ceremony very stimulating spiritually if you follow it with a Missal. The singing of the Passion is one of the most dramatic effects ever realized in the field of music.

250,000.

The number of Holy Communions for the year will pass that figure tomorrow. Last year it was reached on April 13.

From 28% to 22% in 12 Days.

The number of off-campus students who have not yet checked in on their Easter Duty is now down to 22% (of the number of Catholic off-campus students, not Villagers). The alphabetical list of those still out is now as follows:

A - 1	G - 4	M - 12	S - 16
B - 5	H - 4	Mc - 5	T - 1
C - 4	I - 1	N - 2	V - 1
D - 9	J - 2	O' - 6	W - 5
E - 2	K - 6	P - 3	Z - 2
F - 2	L - 3	R - 7

Many of these men will be on hand tomorrow, for the lure of a clean heart for greeting one's mother is too strong for many students to resist. It's too bad the number can not be 100% -- but that's too much to expect. As soon as the off-campus situation is sufficiently cleared up, campus students may expect more attention -- and they will get it after Easter.

The Wheat And The Chaff.

This is a most interesting time of year for the seniors -- job time. The personnel representative of several large corporations with opportunities for college graduates have come to the campus to interview prospective employes -- and how they winnow the wheat from the chaff! In several instances recently these men have given the results of their interviews to faculty representatives, and the latter have been amazed at the accuracy with which they have been able to pick out salient points of character in the students with whom they have talked for only a few moments.

They go strong on character, and they spot it without anyone telling them about it. "Extra-curricular activities" are not the biggest thing in life any more than they are in college. A man may learn a lot of tricks of leadership and overlook the secret of character; he may not have a chance to practice his tricks on the personnel manager -- and he may fail to impress if he does get a chance to practice them. Character is another matter however, and people in the world who handle many men get the ability to recognize it.

PRAYERS: Mr. Paff, of the Biology Department, asks prayers for his mother, who has suffered a stroke. Tom Gately's brother is dangerously ill. Tom Keeffe, an alumnus of a few years ago, is not expected to live. Four special intentions. Fr. Kohl, past of St. Monica's, Mishawaka, has just had an operation. Harold Reynolds' grandfather died this week. Hobart Shean has lost a second brother in three weeks.
