Half-Baked.

You don't like the designation? Then don't lay yourself open to it.

If you are a Catholic, be a whole-hearted one. Don't half-know your religion; don't half-practice it; don't try to serve both God and Mammon.

The Catholic who spends most of his time in mortal sin is a half-baked Catholic.

Ember Days.

Wednesday, Friday, Saturday. Your dispensation permits the use of meat on Wednesday and Saturday - provided you do the work you are supposed to do.

The Novena for Vocations.

As you were informed Sunday, we have this Novena every year during the Ember Days of Lent. If you did not begin Sunday, make a start now and carry over for nine days. Offer Holy Communion daily and pray for the following intentions:

1. That God will give the grace of vocation to enough priests and religious to provide amply for the needs of His people;
2. That God's grace may enlighten you on the problem of how best to save your soul.

The Lenten Sermons.

Father Miltner will give the Lenten series this year. He will preach Wednesday evening at 7:00 and 7:45. Note that the distribution of students at the services is as follows:

- 7:00 - All junior and senior halls, plus Lyons.
- 7:45 - All freshman halls, plus St. Edward's and Morrissey.

Your Seats Will be Held for the Game.

The Prefect of Discipline has made provision for holding your seats for the basketball game Wednesday evening at 8:30, so that excuse for missing Lenten devotions is out! Freshmen who miss the 7:45 devotions in order to secure a seat may find themselves excluded from the game. Holding these seats is real service - show your appreciation!

Thursday Morning Mass at 8:00.

On Washington's Birthday breakfast will be delayed till 8:30, and there will be a Mass in the church at 8:00, with priests to hear confessions during the Mass. Rectors may make special arrangements for Masses in their hall chapels - ask them about it.

The Mass will be offered (by request of the Academy of Science) for the repose of the soul of Ed Quinn's father. Keep that intention in your Holy Communion that day.

For Late Sleepers - if Any.

Since the seniors will have to be up on Washington's Birthday in order to take part in the Washington Hall exercises, it is not likely that there will be any late sleepers that morning. However, if there are any, the Dillon Hall chapel will be attended all morning as usual for their convenience in receiving the Sacraments.

PRAYERS: Deceased - the father of John Eggeman, '00; the brother of Murt Cullinane, '28; Marohy Schwartz's grandmother; three friends (killed in an auto accident). Seven other persons injured in the same auto accident. Three special intentions.
