
The Last Home Game.

Last Saturday, thanks to your cooperation and that of the rectors and prefects and the student athletic managers, you finally made the Mass for the team look as if you meant it.

Nearly 900 received Holy Communion at Mass in the church. It was nothing like a record, but it was good, very good compared with previous Saturdays this year.

Next Saturday should be better. It is the last game at home and your last chance to show the team that you are behind them in the way that counts most of all. The impression you give next Saturday will be with them for the rest of the year.

For K. K. Rockne, Sunday.

The 8 o'clock Mass Sunday is for K. K. Rockne. Visiting friends of Notre Dame and the students, who realize what "Rock" did for Notre Dame, will welcome this chance of paying honor to his memory and of expressing their gratitude by hearing Mass and receiving Holy Communion for the repose of his soul.

Cure for Rash Judgments.

Someone has left on the desk, without identification, the following clipping, very helpful for those inclined to make snap judgments:

"People are always surprising me. Just when I have made up my mind that someone is thoroughly unlikeable I discover that she is the sole prop and support of an aged relative, or devoted to some very self-denying charitable work, and, almost reluctantly sometimes, I am obliged to revise my first estimate and admit that she is a thoroughly admirable character.

"Sometimes, of course, the surprise is the other way round, but not, I think, quite so frequently. I am coming to the conclusion that Jacques Miller was right when he wrote:

"In men whom men condemn as ill
"I find so much of goodness still,
"In men whom men pronounce divine
"I find so much of sin and blot
"I do not dare to draw a line
"Between the two, where God has not."

Attention!

Earlier in the month, after your attention had been called to the neglect, attendance picked up at the 5:00 Benediction and Rosary service that closes daily adoration during the month of October. But there is a big fall-off again. And after dinner on Saturdays there are hardly a dozen on hand.

Just seven days of October are left. Make them the best of the month set aside to honor the Holy Rosary.
