The Vigil.

Tomorrow, vigil of the Feast of All Saints, is a day of fast and abstinence. As you know, a dispensation granted by the Most Reverend Bishop of Fort Wayne dispenses faculty members, students, and employees of the University from the obligation of the fast and abstinence so long as they do the work required of them by the University.

This dispensation does not, however, free you from observing the spirit of the vigil, which is a spirit of penance and of self-purification in preparation for the great feast.

Take upon yourself tomorrow some act of self-denial that you may be worthy of a large share in the blessings and joys of the feast of All Saints the day following the vigil.

The Feast.

All Saints, feast of the highest rank, holy day of obligation, is instituted to honor all the saints, including members of your own family, intimate friends, and Notre Dame students and alumni who are enjoying their reward in Heaven.

The liturgy of the Church for the day gives the picture in Heaven: a vast multitude from every nation and people and tongue under the sun--apostles and prophets and confessors, martyrs crimsoned in their blood, the chaste choir of virgins--standing, clothed in white robes with palms of victory in their hands, before the throne of God.

These are the strong army of God, the elect, who have come triumphantly through the temptations of the world to their eternal resting place.

In their honor the Church on earth lifts an inspiring prayer of homage and petition. Join your hearts to the collect of the Mass of All Saints:

O Almighty and everlasting God, by whose gracious favor we on this single festival-day render solemn homage to the merits of all Thy Saints: most humbly we pray, that since so great is the number of Thine elect pleading in our behalf, we may partake, in all their fullness, of Thine abounding mercies. Through Our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee world without end. Amen.

Masses will be at 6:00, 7:00, 8:00, and 9:00. No later parish Mass on the Feast.

End of October Adoration.

Tomorrow is your last opportunity to take part in October adoration this year. Many gaps are still unfilled. Fill out cards at the Pamphlet Rack, Dillon Hall.

Because Friday, All Souls Day falls on the First Friday of the month, there will be no First-Friday adoration in the Church. Make a half-hour of adoration on Wednesday in honor of the Sacred Heart.

PRAYERS: Ill, father of Tom Halley (Badin) injured in an accident; mother of Father Hugh O'Donnell, Vice President; cousin of Bill Costello (Dillon); Don Allen (Badin); Gilbert Bohrens (Dillon); aunt of Joseph Nowak (Off-Campus). Light special intentions.
