

Mass in the church at 6:25 University of Notre Dame tomorrow morning for the team. Religious Bulletin Confessions will be heard as November 22, 1935.
usual.

Thanks to Villanova.

"Ask the boys to continue their prayers. I need them badly." That was Dick Sullivan's message to you last night. A sore throat is still further troubling him. There are certainly no signs of improvement in his condition.

An inspiring telegram came yesterday to the Bulletin through the kindness of Tom Murphy, President of the S.A.C. It will help you keep at your novena.

"The Students Council of Villanova College extend to the student body of Notre Dame University sincere sympathy because of the serious injury sustained by Richard Sullivan in the intramural football game on last Sunday. Prayers for his spiritual and temporal welfare are being offered by the Villanova students.

"James J. Downs, Chairman, Student Council."

To the students of Villanova heartiest thanks for their thoughtful expression of sympathy and, above all, for their promise of prayer. Such evidence of genuine Catholic fellowship is not soon forgotten at Notre Dame.

Heart Hunger And A Cure.

From a reader in the East:

"This sentence in one of the recent Bulletins--'Of ourselves, without the invisible grace of God, we are powerless to resist even mortal sin for any length of time'--brings home the necessity of daily Communion--not weekly or monthly, but daily.

"For a long time I had the opportunity of attending Mass daily before my business day; I also had the privilege of receiving Holy Communion. During the past six months my assignment has been changed. I've lost the opportunity of hearing Mass daily. In the week I go only on First Fridays and Holydays.

"There is something lacking--a vast, empty feeling in my heart. I miss that daily Communion O so much! There is some compensation when Sunday comes around again, but it seems so long from one Sunday to the next.

"A friend questioned me one day--'I can't understand why you go to the rail every Sunday. What on earth do you have to confess?' It was a silly question and for a moment I was dumb. An answer came filtering through my brain in another moment--the practice of Daily Communion at Notre Dame. I told my inquisitive friend about the boys at Notre Dame who approach the rail daily. I also answered simply, 'Because I need it.'

"The main reason (which I did not mention) is this: to obtain Purity, Peace, Patience, and Perseverance. Now that I am unable to receive daily I can see how much harder it is to resist temptation. How true are the words of St. Theresa: 'This is the best means of reaching perfection, Frequent Communion.' Please pray to the Blessed Virgin Mary for me that she may assist me to attain the degree of P.P.P.P."
